Voters to Elect New Commissioner Tuesday

By Linda Telesco

Belleville voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to select a new commissioner to fill the vacant fifth seat on the local governing body.

The five contenders will vie for the remaining three years of the four-year term won by former Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica in last May's regular commissioner election.

Pica resigned last February for personal reasons.

The field of candidates includes a former commissioner seeking to return to the panel, two officials of local municipal committees, and two activist citizens.

Vincent Strumolo, defeated last May in his attempt to retain his 19-year career in local government, is a strong favorite to win next week.

Formerly head of the public affairs department, Strumolo's terms in office saw several controversies, including repeated disputes over whether Belleville should withdraw from the Community Mental Health Services — a move Strumolo favored — to last year's major toxic chemical leak on Main Street.

Although the former commissioner had lost his seat at the time of last May's actual toxic problem, it was his administration that oversaw site inspections prior to the accident.

"I gave the information my department found to the fire authorities," Strumolo has said in past weeks, insisting he did all he could to correct the problem.

Serving Belleville in public office since 1962, Strumolo lost his bid for re-election last May, holding sixth place in the balloting, an outcome many observers attributed to his low-key campaign.

More aggressive this time around, the Silver Lake resident promotes himself as an official who gets things done, pointing to expanded nursing services, establishment of the senior citizens bus service, and a transportation advisory board as hallmarks of his tenure.

Another strong contender, and a person many feel will upset Strumolo, is Ralph DiRuggiero, a lifelong township resident and member of the local Zoning Board.

DiRuggiero, 33, is an assistant administrator for general service in the Essex County government and has stressed his professional experience during his campaign.

"I know how government works and I know how to get things done," said DiRuggiero, who has won the support of key figures such as Matt Pica, Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, School Board President Grace Purdue, and trustee John DiStasi.

Declaring himself a proponent of tenants' rights, particularly with respect to condo conversion projects, DiRuggiero also favors a revamped code enforcement system for Belleville.

"It's not a matter of Town Hall getting tougher," he said in recent announcements, although many residents who frequent commission meetings beg for that kind of "crackdown" approach.

DiRuggiero outlined a plan of neighborhood cooperation where residents who take pride in their streets would oversee and regulate their own blocks.

The county employee also proposed expanding service to senior citizens by making them more aware of existing services provided by the county and by using the services of youth volunteers to provide escorts, shopping, homemaking and auto maintenance to seniors.

A graduate of the University of Scranton, DiRuggiero is studying for his master's degree in public administration from Baruch College.

In a recent debate among candidates, DiRuggiero fought criticism that he would, if elected, vote on the Belleville panel with county interests at heart.

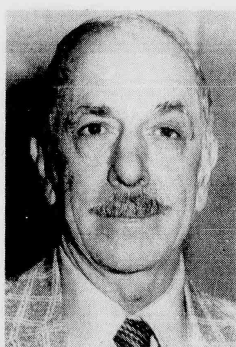

"I'll vote for what's best for Belleville," he said, insisting that his county experience is an asset rather than a liability for the commission post.

Like DiRuggiero, local businessman Joseph Dasaro is making his first bid for elected office next week.

Teacher Contract Negotiations Stall

The Belleville Education Association expressed its dissatisfaction with the Belleville Board of Education regarding its attitude in contract negotiations and its formulation of the 1984-85 budget regarding the instructional account, according to Thomas Testa, president of the B.E.A.

After 30 hours of negotiations, both sides reached impasse on April 19, and have filed a notice of such with Public Employment Relations Committee.

"The Board of Education has purposely kept the increase at a very low figure and now claims that it hasn't sufficient funds to settle a fair contract with the teachers," said Testa.

"The B.E.A. has heard for years that funds were not available and now finds that the teaching staff is falling further behind its counterparts in other communities in the surrounding counties," he continued. "The present budget cuts us even further and doesn't even close to a fair settlement."

"The attitude of the board has been negative to date and it seems as if they have been stalling for the past four months. The association is considering filing an unfair labor practice with the Public Employment Relations Committee," he concluded.

Says Fire Department Was Negligent

Strumolo Claims Officials Knew Of Toxic Chemical Plant in 1980

By Ed Capparucci

Vincent Strumolo, who is seeking re-election to the Board of Commissioners, announced this week he informed township officials back in 1980 of the chemical situation at the Organic-Inorganic Plant on Main Street. The former public affairs commissioner also faulted the Belleville Fire Department and Chief George Sharra for "not taking charge and clearing up the situation earlier."

The plant was the site of a toxic chemical scare in May of 1983 when students were forced to evacuate School 9 and the clean-up operation cost the township over $500,000. "I recall when I was a commissioner in 1980, the problem at the Main Street plant was brought up to my health officer, Tom Longo, and was referred to Chief George Sharra," said Strumolo during an interview last week. "After receiving our report, there was an inspection by the deputy fire chief and several violations were found. They had to do with marking, labeling and storage of the chemicals. I know it was there, my health officer was on top of it and the problem should have been taken care of by Chief Sharra and his department immediately."

Records provided to the Times by the health department and fire officials, confirm that a report was filed by the health officer on April 24, 1980 to Chief Sharra requesting that an investigation take place at the plant concerning "possible fire violations involving extremely flammable liquids located at the rear of the property."

"That is exactly what the problem dealt with — fire violations," said Chief Sharra this week, answering the charges by Strumolo that the fire department was negligent in its actions. "There was no mention in the report by Tom Longo of a possible toxic chemical problem. It was a fire

Commissioners Considering Program to Attract Business

As the Belleville Redevelopment Agency and Planning Board get ready for tonight's controversial public hearing on Washington Avenue's blight conditions, commissioners are studying a program designed to help communities retain and expand their already successful businesses.

The Business Retention and Expansion program is a dual public-private sector partnership of the State of New Jersey and New Jersey Bell, the state's largest private employer.

Representatives of NJ Bell recently presented the program during a commissioners' caucus session, at the invitation of Mayor Michael Marotti.

Steve Heller, a public affairs official of NJ Bell in Newark, noted in his address that the company's studies on business in the state revealed that most economic development projects focused on business attraction or luring merchants in from other areas.

"What we are presenting here," Heller said, "is the other side of development. Business retention helps to stabilize commerce in a community by strengthening businesses already here and worth keeping."

The plan is timely for Belleville which is presently in the midst of a redevelopment study designed to revitalize Washington Avenue.

The present redevelopment project may call for some sections of the Avenue to be declared blighted. Those properties may then be acquired by the local BRDA, demolished, and sold to developers.

While public reaction has been mixed to date, some merchants fear they may be displaced from their locations and suffer serious losses.

According to Heller and Charles P. Seelinger, NJ Bell's manager of community relations, municipal redevelopment efforts frequently fail to consider already existing small businesses and may even drive them away to seek a new location in a municipality more "sympathetic" to their needs.

Outlining the findings of studies used by NJ Bell, Heller noted that small independent firms provide 52 percent of all jobs, generate 66 per-

Blight Hearing Tonight

A public hearing on the township's controversial Washington Avenue blight study plan will be held tonight, May 3, in the Belleville High School auditorium by the Belleville Redevelopment Agency and Planning Board. The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. and a large turnout is expected.

The Blight Investigation Study, prepared by the private firm, Townplan Associates, will be formally presented. Following the presentation, the public will be invited to comment or register objections to the plan.

The study concerns the area of Washington Avenue from Joramemon Street to the Newark border, reaching east to the Central Railroad branch line and west to the rear of property lines of properties on Washington Avenue.

According to BRDA secretary, Joseph Dasaro, the Planning Board has authority to make the final recommendations concerning properties to be blighted to the Board of Commissioners, while the Commissioners have the final word to either approve or disapprove any recommendation.

Tvedt Urges Legislation On U.S. Federal Deficit

Henrik Tvedt, president of First DeWitt Savings in letters to President Reagan, Senators Bradley and Lautenberg and the area Congressmen, has urged prompt action on legislation to reduce the rapidly escalating federal deficit.

According to Tvedt, meaningful steps in this direction must be taken now. They cannot wait until after the November election. His letter urged Congress and the Administration to put aside differences and act to bring the budget under control. Concerns about the deficit, Tvedt said, are creating upward pressures on interest rates, and the economy will not be able to tolerate any significant rate increases now.

Tvedt pointed out that massive government borrowing to fund the mounting federal budget deficit threatens to soak up capital needed for housing, industry and private sector investment, triggering a repeat of the hyper-inflation and high interest rates of 1981 and 1982. If that happens, Tvedt predicted that everyone's savings and other investments would once again come under severe strain as inflation erodes the purchasing value of the dollar. The financial well-being of all Americans would be threatened, the economic recovery would be reversed, jobs would be at stake and unemployment would be on the rise again.

In a statement to this paper, Tvedt said that the annual federal deficit is now nearly $200 billion a year and rising. That's almost $3,000 for every family in these United States. And because of past deficits, our national debt is already more than $1.4 trillion which converts to over $20,000 per family. This is a critical matter to everyone, and concerned citizens should contact their Congressmen requesting action to resolve the trend.

A continuation in this direction, Tvedt concluded, will lead to national chaos.

The status of a drug can change. Sometimes a drug originally classified as prescription only is reclassified after experience has determined that it satisfies the over-the-counter requirements. Among the drugs that have been switched to over-the-counter (OTC) status in the last decade is topical hydrocortisone, a skin medication. Topical hydrocortisone, available in creams, lotions and sprays, used to be prescribed, before attaining OTC status, for irritation, itching and rashes due to eczema, poison ivy and other minor skin ailments. It is now available to an estimated 25 million Americans afflicted with skin ailments, who can now treat themselves at lower cost and greater convenience with this OTC remedy.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
I have a problem and I hope you can help me. My boyfriend used to have long hair which he kept very nice. Then he got it cut around shoulder length and now he has a crew cut. It looks horrible. It started to grow in but to keep his hair happy, he got it cut again. My prom is in 4 months and I don't want his hair to look like that on such a special occasion to me. Is there any way, or anything to help his hair grow? I am desperate for his hair to grow.

Signed
Worried and Hopeless

Dear Worried and Hopeless:
Don't worry. If I were you, I wouldn't worry because in 2 months if he doesn't cut it again, the hair will grow 4 inches. There are many products on the market to make hair grow, but I don't recommend them. It's a waste of money. Jogging, running or gymnastics are the best things to do for longer hair and to help it grow in good and healthy. PS. Those girls asked me if I ran into money. I didn't. It's only the result of the seeds that I planted in the past years. Giving my best to whoever patronized my full concern and knowledge.

School Board to Approve Dress Code at High School

By Ed Capparucci

The Belleville Board of Education will approve next Monday night, a new dress code for the senior high school students, which will take effect September 1984.

According to a report given to members of the board by Michael Lally, assistant superintendent of schools, the purpose of the dress code is "to promulgate a positive self-image and pride in school among students. Their health, safety and educational well-being are the primary objectives of this code, which bears a reasonable relationship to the goal of fostering an environment conducive to discipline and to education."

According to the dress code, "clothing which is ripped, holey and/or soiled is inappropriate school attire. Undergarments (bras and/or camisoles for females and under-pants for males and females) are required. Shirts must be buttoned, and shoes which grip the toe and heel must be worn at all times."

The code also cites the following as inappropriate school attire: clothing that is too tight so as to inhibit movement and/or cause classroom distraction; off-the-shoulder, strapless and spaghetti-strap tops, dressess or jumpsuits; mid-riff (cut-off) shirts that expose the chest and/or abdominal area of the body; garments with pornographic messages; skirts shorter than mid-thigh or longer than mid-calf lengths, and shorts of any description or style.

The new dress code was developed by a committee of 21 students, parents and faculty members, under the direction of high school Vice Principal Marilyn McGrath.

"I believe this dress code will enhance the existing discipline and attendance code as appropriate dress and acceptable behavior are more often than not interrelated," said Lally in his report.

According to Joseph Ciccone, the dress code will go into effect in September to enable the administration to make sure that all the students are aware of the changes.

"I would have liked to see the code go into effect immediately, since this is the time of year when the most infractions would take place," he told the trustees during their Monday night meeting, "but we felt it is better to wait until next year. I do not want any parents to use the excuse that they did not know about the new code. It is better to wait and inform the public first about the changes."

Ciccone said administrators will start immediately on preparing the students about the new dress changes.

"A copy of the code will be sent to each child's home. The code will be televised on WBHS for a two-week period. There will be an orientation about the code given to the eighth grade students at the Middle School. It will be incorporated in the student handbook and finally the vice principal will discuss the dress code with students during English classes during the next two months," he said.

A dress code appeals committee, comprised of parents, faculty, students and administrative representatives, will be formed and meet several times during the school year to review specific garments presented by students for approval as appropriate attire. However, administrative decisions will prevail pending all appeals committee rulings.

Grace Purdue, president of the School Board, was delighted with the dress code, but questioned whether one should be established for members of the faculty.

"I am very happy to see this dress code being presented to the board," said Mrs. Purdue, "but I would like to know if the administration has considered doing the same for our faculty members as well. I have for a long time been seeking a dress code for faculty members, but each time I bring up the subject I am told the time is not right. Is it fair for one, but not the other?"

Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, board vice president, also expressed his approval of the proposal, but expressed concern over possible legal problems which could arise.

"I see coming down the road some problems concerning this proposal," Dr. D'Agostino said.

"We are implementing something which is for the high school, and not for the middle school, for students, but not for staff members, and not district wide, but instead placed in only one building. I will swing with you and vote for this plan, but I must voice my concern at this time."

Commission Election

Five days from today the electorate of Belleville will go to the polls to elect a man to fill the unexpired three-year term of Commissioner Matt Pica who resigned because of business pressure. This will have been the first time such a vacancy on the Board of Commissioners will have been filled by the vote of the people of Belleville pursuant to the provisions of a recently enacted state law.

From a limited field of five aspirants, the most likely winner will be found from among the foursome of Vincent Strumolo, who ran sixth in last May's town election; Joseph Dasaro, an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Redevelopment Agency; Joe Fornarotto, who came in seventh last May; and a newcomer candidate, Ralph DiRuggiero.

From the standpoint of popularity and experience, it would appear that Strumolo, with his 19 years as both councilman and commissioner for the community, holds the frontrunner position with Joe Fornarotto, the wild-card choice, closing in fast as they come down the stretch to the winner's post. Ralph DiRuggiero, scion of admired former School Board President Dr. DiRuggiero, looms as a strong contender who has been gaining considerable support from local educational sources. He is a county employee who seemingly enjoys the blessings of County Executive Peter Shapiro and many local Democratic Party committee members. Meanwhile Dasaro has caught the attention of many throughout the community with his hard campaigning, amiable personality and businesslike acumen. He cannot be counted out at this time.

The remaining candidate, Sam Papa, is both competent and knowledgeable, but only given outside consideration as a possible winner in the star-studded field of heavyweights. He has played a major role in fighting for tenants' rights in Belleville and will continue to be visible throughout the community in years to come.

The outcome of elections always contains a certain amount of uncertainty, especially so in a contest such as this, where there can be but one winner from a field of five. The staid, mature conservative vote logically should gravitate toward Strumolo, especially among the senior citizen group in view of the many services his administration has provided throughout the years in the way of senior citizen bus transportation and health clinic services along with dog care shots and local assistance.

The "voice of the people" candidate, Joe Fornarotto, who speaks the language homeowners understand, should garner strong support from beleaguered taxpayers disgruntled by this year's tax increase and those suspicious of questionable dealings in local affairs, which he brings out in the manner of a town critic at public meetings and in the press.

Dasaro, while seeking office for the first time, is certainly not a newcomer to the community. A successful business owner for 20 years on Washington Avenue, he has displayed a sincere interest in the future of Belleville. His involvement in the local Chamber of Commerce has been one consisting of many long hours. If elected he will prove to be a valuable asset to the community.

Ralph DiRuggiero is a candidate without any track record in any local political contest. He is obviously well educated and qualified to discharge the responsibilities of the office to which he aspires. His cause is being championed by many surrogates well versed in the realm of Belleville town politics who have produced winners in the past.

Much of his support emanates from employees of the local school system in which his mother is employed in a responsible position. Grace Purdue, the School Board president, is an avid sponsor of DiRuggiero's candidacy. She frequently attends political gatherings and is often suspected of harboring thoughts of becoming a commissioner herself at some future date.

Understandably, as a candidate one seeks support from any responsible source possible. Little fault can be found in that approach; all the votes count when the tally is totaled. Unfortunately, there exists a conservative element in the community that clings tenaciously to the concept that school matters should be completely divorced from politics...it frowns upon the blending of the two forces. There, likewise, is another formidable town body which views with disdain the fact that so many of Belleville's elected public officials are employees of the county government. They hold that just that, presents the possibility of their serving two masters with the contingency of possible conflict of interest.

To the extent to which such outmoded reasoning might affect the outcome of an election is debatable, however, politics does make strange bedfellows. Sometimes the set of a man's job determines whether he wins or not.

Don't forget to vote for a Belleville commissioner Tuesday, May 8! May the best man win. — By James Golden

A Favorable Opinion For Rent Decontrol

To the editor:

(An open letter to Mayor Marotti and the Board of Commissioners):

It was with disbelief that I read about a dispute among the Commissioners regarding the wording of a proposed vacancy decontrol measure in the April 5th issue of The Belleville Times. I was always under the impression that it was the sworn duty of our elected officials to work for the welfare of Belleville and its residents, both homeowners and tenants.

Complete vacancy decontrol is a painless method of increasing the income of rental property without in any way affecting the rentals of present tenants. By providing additional income, the landlords will better be able to maintain and improve his property. The tenants will benefit by having a more desirable apartment in which to live. The township would then be justified in increasing the tax assessments on rental properties and relieve some of the tax burden from the shoulders of the homeowners.

Commissioner Joseph Grande's concern that a vacated apartment could be re-rented at a total of a 21 percent increase does a disservice to the citizens of Belleville. North Arlington's rent ordinance permits a 30 percent increase on a vacant apartment plus a possible 7 percent annual increase for a total of 37 percent. The result in that town has been improved maintenance of apartment complexes and a radical reduction in landlord tax appeals. With the safeguards written into their ordinance there has been no case of a landlord harassing a tenant into vacating so the apartment could be re-rented at a higher rent.

Instead of the Board of Commissioners agonizing for another year about what changes to make in the Belleville ordinance, I suggest that they can obtain a copy of the North Arlington ordinance at no cost. They would have a ready to operate ordinance which has withstood the test of a year's operation. They will find tenants living under improved living conditions and homeowners no longer concerned about landlord tax appeals which in the past resulted in higher real estate taxes on their homes.

In addition, it should be noted that the Consumer Price Index has been steadily rising for the past five months. So, instead of thinking about lowering the presently permitted 6 percent annual rental increase, the Commissioners would further justify higher apartment tax assessments by increasing that number to 7 percent.

Very truly yours,
Samuel Geltman

What Really Happened To Citizens Tax Union?

To the editor:

Hey Jackie Rega. Do you remember a few years back when you came to my house and picked me and a few of my friends up, and brought us to the junior high school cafeteria, where there was a meeting of the Citizens Tax Union? I remember quite vividly how we sat for three hours and heard three different men get up and talk incessantly about how we had to do something about taxes being high in Belleville. Also how we have to go down to the Town Hall and do something about this, and if they (the Commissioners) did not respond, we will recall them from office.

A week later at the same meeting, I heard the same three men repeat the same story again. At this the people were aroused. The third time the crowd started to diminish. I attribute the diminishment of people to the fact that these three men talked about the same thing. I don't remember their names, however. These men promised the citizens that they would demand to find out what we, the citizens, can do about these high taxes. By that time the people were starting to feel disgusted.

Jackie — You introduced me to these men. At first I was impressed with their promises as a taxpayer. I even donated money as they passed the hat around. With deep sincerity, they made the citizens feel that someone cared about the Belleville taxpayers. I've known you for years and I've patronized your business. I feel that you owe me and the irate citizens an explanation. What happened to these men, the organization, and the money they collected?

Can I make a suggestion? I know you meant well, but next time you should check these men out before you persuade your friends to get involved with these characters.

Respectfully yours,
(Mrs.) Marilyn Welgos

Reader Defends Work By Rev. James Swaggert

To the editor:

I was very shocked, disturbed, and angry to read Mr. Ed Capparucci's recent article attacking the Rev. Jimmy Swaggert (who Mr. Capparucci mockingly referred to as "Rev. Jim" throughout his article). The Rev. Swaggert is a man of integrity who is respected by millions of people throughout the world. His "jabbawocky" and appeals for money are responsible for feeding and clothing thousands of poor children the world over.

It is because of his great love for children that Rev. Swaggert comes down so harshly on rock and roll music. He has seen and heard the tragic results that are occurring daily in children's lives and he cannot keep quiet on something that he feels is a contributing factor.

There are so many terrible, immoral shows on television that deserve to be ridiculed and why you pick on a program that is trying to save children's lives is beyond my comprehension. I would suggest that next time you have nothing to do on a Sunday and are bored, just go to bed, go to sleep and do some more dreaming because that is where your "statistics" concerning youth must be coming from.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. June Lordi

Grossman Not Surprised By School Board Election

To the editor:

It is with deep regret that I read in last week's Belleville Times that the defeated incumbent in the School Board election, Mr. Spillane, had been surprised about my "showing." His "showing" may have been a disappointment to him because usually an incumbent is generally successful if his or her past record received passing grades by the people.

Mr. Spillane, I was elected by the people whose lives I have touched as a teacher, principal, assistant superintendent, and just being myself. No present or former member of the Board of Education wrote a letter endorsing me. I did not need them. It was my committee and the good people of Belleville, knowledgeable of my accomplishments for the Township of Belleville, who elected me.

Please do not admit your surprise at my "showing" and I will not admit my surprise at your "showing."

Sincerely,
Seymour Grossman

Hurry — He's Coming

By Rev. Robert Paul

The other day as I was going over some of my reading material on my desk, I came across this interesting article:

"Sometime ago, I remember one particular day when the telephone rang and one of the ladies went to answer it. She put down the phone like it was hot and yelled, 'He's coming.' I wondered what in the world is going on? The ladies ran for their hair nets and men ran for clean aprons and clean caps. The boss told me to sweep the floor and cover the containers. There was a wild and excited look in his eyes. Everyone was running around like chickens with their heads cut off. I thought to myself, who is coming?"

"Suddenly through the front doors entered a man with a case under his arm. As I observed him, he began to walk around and check the bakery for health hazards. I then realized that he was the state inspector for the Board of Health. After he left, everyone breathed a sigh of relief and went back to work. One of the ladies then told me that all the places of business always watched out for the other. The first one to see the inspector coming would then call the other business. They had a system of warning."

I couldn't help but think that in one way or another the Bible speaks of the return of Christ many, many times. When He returns He will be as a thief in the night, because no one will be expecting Him. Christ will come without warning. He will come literally as He went away. "This same Jesus." There won't be any telephone call to get us ready. The only warning we receive is through the Bible, the word of God. (1st Thess. 4:13-18.)

When Jesus Christ comes again (at any moment), we won't have time to run around and put our homes in order, replace literature with the Bible. "Be ye also ready: for in such an hour as you think not the Son of Man cometh." "And behold, I come quickly..."

How do you get ready? "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." (Acts 16:31.) Believe God loves you and Jesus Christ died for your sins, and arose again, and invite Him to be your Saviour and Lord today. Hurry! He is coming!

Use Your Voting Rights

Word about town has it that a very tight turnout can be expected for Tuesday's commission election. And that would be a shame, especially since it is the taxpayers who are shelling out the bucks for this special election. The present Board of Commissioners could have chosen someone else to take Matt Pica's post, but instead decided to let the people have the opportunity to vote for their new elected leader. So since you have an opportunity to make a choice, and you are the ones spending the money, head out to the polls Tuesday. Let's show the rest of the state that apathy is dying in Belleville.

You have to be very impressed with Phil Linfante and the job he is doing on the Board of Education. In a short time, Phil has demonstrated himself as a take-care trustee, who is always well informed. While he seems to have a comment about each issue which is presented to the board, he is direct, brief and extremely accurate. During the last meeting, there was a long and drawn out discussion about a recreation program which the board feels sponsors along with the township. The conversation was redundant and time consuming. But there was Phil stepping in and telling his fellow trustees that they were spending too much time dealing with this one topic. I just keep having this recurring dream in which the seven members of the board are clones of Linfante. It is very strange. The board is very, very productive and yet I still get home by 9 p.m. on Monday nights.

A gentleman who lives in the School 5 area called me Tuesday morning to express his disgust with the increasing vandalism taking place at the school. Although I did not have an opportunity to inspect the building before writing this, he informed me that the doors in front of the school have been the target of rock throwing, some windows have been broken recently and bushes have been pulled out of the ground. He said that neighbors have called the police repeatedly to chase away kids (who says are 18 and older) but little is being done about the matter.

He also disagreed with Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello's comments in a recent edition of The Times concerning apathy among residents in not responding to vandals to have cost the school district a record amount of money thus far this year. "People are concerned and do call when vandals are hanging around that building," the gentleman said. "But we are tired of calling and not getting proper response. The fault cannot be blamed on the police. They have a lot of work already to do. The fault is with the School Board, which should take the steps necessary to correct the vandalism problem we face." He is also upset that his children and kids who attend the school cannot play there because the older kids are "hogging the basketball court." To tell the truth I do not know what the answer is without costing the taxpayer something. If the board were to try and form a watch patrol of some kind, I doubt there could be much response, but perhaps it is worth a try.

I saw an ugly sight at the high school two weeks ago when I went to take a picture. A teacher who was monitoring the halls confronted a student asking him where he belonged. The student told the teacher in a not-so-polite term it was none of his business and bug off. The teacher then proceeded to instruct the student to get back to his classroom when the kid bled up. He started threatening the teacher, saying, "Don't try and tell me what to do. Don't think you can pull that stuff with me. I'll do what I want, when I want. So back off." And that is exactly what the teacher did — backed off and the student left the building. Some kids today are just unbelievable.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMalo D.C.

Chiropractic examination of the neck of a headache sufferer usually reveals the cause of the condition: A pinched nerve in the neck. Misalignment of vertebrae permits nerves to be pinched, irritated and rendered incapable of performing efficiently.

When these nerves fail to control the circulation of blood to the head, headaches result. Muscular tension in the neck increases the pinching on the nerve and the condition grows worse.

Chiropractic adjustments correct the misalignment and ease the pinch on the nerve. Don't rely on pain killers. Correct the cause of headache with chiropractic.

Play Continues This Weekend and Next

Little Theatre's 'Table Settings' Offer An Over Abundance of Soul Food

By Michael Olohan
Though the characters in Nutley Little Theatre's new play, "Table Settings," were often seen sitting at a table, they rarely ate. That was because this family's skewed relationships served as the main course for consumption.

This well-acted — though at first disjointed play — focused on a Jewish family, although its situations and characterizations prevail in families of every ethnic background.

As is the case in many homes, each member seemed to think that nobody else in the family understands them. In one classic scene in act one, all family members were quiet at the same time, began talking at the same time, stopped talking at the same time, then responded to each other with the same social nicety at the same time.

But the play also showed some of the comedy, caring and problems that make up family life.

Josh Herman was brilliant as the drugged-out, spaced-out younger son who can't decide what to do with his life. At several points, he takes on his bong pipe and attempts to illuminate us with pseudo-intellectual revelations. In real life, Herman is a professional clown, and appears to revel in this role as a chemically-dependent dropout. He also made his mark as a burned-out member of the sixties generation in last season's production of "Fifth of July."

His flippant, attractive girlfriend was played by Melanie Mitrano. She portrayed an irreverent psychiatric social worker, who thankfully realizes she is almost as screwed up as most of her patients. "If they can survive me, they can survive anything," she said sarcastically. Mitrano gave an exquisite performance as the off-beat soulmate for Herman.

Merrill Montgomery "was" the clichéd Jewish mother who's always match-making, job-pushing and busy-bodvying into her sons' affairs. She played this cultural stereotype with such aplomb that you actually think she is a walking, talking stereotype — trying so hard not to be a stereotype.

Both Kenneth Schactman and Lily Ann Reynolds were excellent as the beleaguered mother and father. Schactman plays a lawyer who has a fondness for martinis, money ("Money is freedom," he said), and harmonious family life. Schactman played the ever-calm, always under control father like a true pro.

Reynolds was unsurpassed as the eternally-optimistic wife, whose infectious though simplistic optimism is not always well received. "I don't make things complex...if those half-empties won't let us half-fulls be happy, bleep 'em," she said in a casual tone. Reynolds' sincere and simple-minded characterization was charming. Always an effective NLT performer, her understated acting was a sheer pleasure to watch.

Both Donna Marie Mennona and Glenn Dolcemascolo played the roles of the misunderstood children perfectly. Their on-target portrayals revealed the conflicting tugs of sibling rivalry, parental alienation and adolescent rebellion that wreak so much familial havoc.

The play's rhythm was punctuated by an off-stage, courtroom-like narration that allows each character to present his or her case to the audience. It was an interesting audio technique that, if nothing else, kept the audience on its toes.

The sparse set design by Jay Montgomery enabled all seven actors to move freely. The design put each "table setting" throughout the play into sharp focus. The light-handed, thoughtful direction of William Perry Morgan permitted the actors to breathe new life and originality into their roles.

Although the players in "Table Settings" didn't eat much, their audience was the recipient of much food for thought in this enjoyable, successful, multi-dimensional look at family relationships.

The play continues tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the Nutley Little Theatre Barn, 49 Erie Place. The Sunday performance is a 3 p.m. matinee, while curtain time for tomorrow and Saturday nights is at 8 p.m. The final performances will be held May 11 and 12, also at 8 p.m. Call the theater at 667-0374 for ticket reservations. The NLT Barn is located on Erie Place, just off Brookfield Avenue and adjacent to Yantacaw School.

VOTE 4A

Voters Head to Polls This Tuesday To Elect New Commission Member

Owner of the successful Belleville Travel Service, Dasaro is a member of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency and a passionate advocate of redevelopment projects on Washington Avenue.

"Belleville needs fresh blood and independent thinkers," Dasaro said when explaining his motive for seeking office.

Declaring himself "a novice" at politics, the outspoken businessman is critical of rent control measures that penalize the one-family homeowner.

Activist citizen Joseph Fornarotto is making his third bid to capture a commission seat as the "people's candidate."

A Union Avenue resident, the 60-year-old Fornarotto works as an inspector for the Essex County Housing Department.

Of all the contenders, Fornarotto holds the best record for regularly attending commission meetings and speaking publicly on major issues.

A strong advocate of "100 percent police and fire department forces," Fornarotto urges holding the tax line in Belleville by streamlining municipal employment.

"I'm not for laying off anybody," he repeatedly announced. "I just want to see a limit to the hiring of more personnel."

Another activist citizen, Sam Papa also seeks office for the first time Tuesday.

"I believe Belleville needs more progressive thinkers and leaders in its government," said Papa, a lifelong resident of the township.

A strong proponent of tenants' rights, Papa is the president of the Bridgebrook Tenants Association at the Bridgebrook Garden Apartment Complex on Joramelon Street.

In that capacity, Papa has been at the forefront of tenants' issues regarding conversions of apartments into condominiums, a project currently under way at the complex where he lives.

has repeatedly commented.

A former manager for Electrical Industries, Papa is now a representative of the New York Stock Exchange, having been trained at the New York Institute of Finance.

Drawing upon his financial background, the candidate attributes Belleville's lack of progression to its balanced budget.

"I know of no community that has a balanced budget and is moving forward," he said.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Chief Sbarra Denies Charges

violation and my department took care of the matter.

"Our job is to prevent fires from happening in this community, and that is exactly what we did," Sbarra continued. "This department had no one qualified back in 1980 to deal with hazardous materials. We went down there and instructed the company to clean up the mess. And they did. We did our job."

According to fire reports, an inspection was made of the premises on April 29 and three violations were found: flammable materials were stored improperly, unidentified industrial waste were also stored improperly and a mixed storage of hazardous materials were founded.

Mrs. Marion Pratter, owner of the company, was given 10 days to correct the violations. On June 6 an update report by Deputy Chief Dawson Bloom, one of the three inspectors of the plant, was issued stating the plant had been cleaned up to specifications.

"Since April 29, 1980 when the premises were inspected at the request of Health Officer Longo, and in his company, improvements have been made. This inspection reveals the fact that the recommended operations have ceased," Bloom wrote in his report. "I highly recommend that yourself (Chief Sbarra) and Mrs. Longo confer with Mrs. Pratter, the owner to determine what enforcement procedures will be necessary if the present situation continues."

According to Chief Sbarra, no conferences were held with the plant owner, since the problem "of possible fire violations on the premises" was never faced again.

"Mr. Strumolo is just trying to hide his failure as public affairs director in this matter by placing the blame elsewhere," said Sbarra. "We were responsible for the fire prevention stage of the operation and we handled it, we cannot get involved in the health aspect. During the situation which took place on Main Street last year, fire department officials were constantly on the scene, including myself, making sure the fire prevention was handled correctly. I never once saw Mr. Strumolo at the site. And he cannot use the excuse that he was no longer a commissioner, the election was only two weeks old at the time. He still should have been involved."

But according to Strumolo it was Chief Sbarra and the fire department which should have done more to correct the problem at the Organic-Inorganic plant before it got out of hand.

"The report was issued by the health department to the fire officials, and Chief Sbarra has been sitting on ever since," Strumolo said. "The fire department should have taken the steps necessary to see that the problem did not get worse."

"I want the people of the Valley and School 9 area to know the truth behind this. The health department was not at fault. We went in there and made the necessary inspection. We then handed it over to the fire department and it was Chief Sbarra's duty to take the proper steps," he continued.

According to Longo, 300 to 400 barrels were found improperly stored in the backyard of the Main Street plant, and township officials "worked a good part of the year to get them removed from the premises."

"There were 55-gallon drums piled up all over the yard of the plant," said Longo. "And it was a definite fire hazard."

When asked why he waited almost a year before telling the public that a clean-up operation had taken place once before at the chemical site, Strumolo said, "I had been out of office at the time of the scare and did not have access to my records.

Kucinski Selected By Democrats As Ticket's Freeholder Candidate

Charles Kucinski of Nutley, the vice president of the local school board and executive officer for the Fire Department, has been selected as the Democrat Party's candidate to oppose Republican Freeholder Arthur Clay of Glen Ridge this fall.

The formal announcement of Kucinski's nomination was made last week by Essex County Democratic Chairman Ray Durkin.

The selection, made by polling Democratic Party municipal chairmen, was made easier when Bloomfield's Robert Russo told Durkin on Monday that he preferred to stay on as Essex County Director of Consumer Services.

"It was a difficult decision but we have begun several important programs for the county in the area of consumer services and protection," Russo said.

"I'm not ruling out running for public office but right now is not the time. We have too many projects and programs that we've initiated that are too important to leave unfinished," he continued.

Russo said he was confident that he had decided to run for the district freeholder seat, "there's no doubt I would have been a winner." Durkin agreed totally and said he would encourage Russo to seek public office at a later date. For the moment, Durkin has endorsed Russo's reelection as Bloomfield's Democratic Town Chairman, a position which may be challenged.

With Russo deciding against a run for the seat now held by Arthur Clay, the field was left alone to Kucinski, who also had strong support from Senate President Carmen Orechio and Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio, both of Nutley. D'Alessio is also Nutley's Democratic municipal chairman.

"The district is strong for our party and if a candidate gets out like I intend to and works hard, knocks on a lot of doors, he'll win," Kucinski said, who is a popular

The challenge could be unusually difficult, however, because ever since charter reform in Essex County, the fifth district freeholder seat has been held by a Republican.

Nutley attorney James Piro was first elected as the district freeholder in the same year that Peter Shapiro was elected Essex County Executive. Ironically, Piro's Democratic opponent was Robert Russo, who at that time had resided in Nutley. Russo's parents still live here, but he moved to Bloomfield four years ago where he has successfully revitalized the town's Democratic Club and county committee. Under his leadership, Bloomfield's municipal government this past November left Democrats in control for the first time in 20 years.

Kucinski admits he finds no major fault with the representation given the district by Freeholder Clay.

But as a Democrat, Kucinski feels he can better succeed in gaining benefits for the suburban towns that make up the fifth freeholder district.

"I'd also give Peter Shapiro an excellent rating in his office as county executive," Kucinski said. "In fact, I'd give him a rating of 8 on a scale of 10. Why not a 10? Because only my wife gets a 10," Kucinski said with a smile.

With U.S. Senator Bill Bradley heading the ticket, Kucinski believes this is the year the Democrats will capture the freeholder seat which has always been held by a Republican.

Kucinski points to the large pluralities in the recent legislative election by Senator Orechio and assemblymen Buddy Fortunato and Steve Aduabato. All three won to deprive this legislative district of any Republican representation for the first time in history.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Best April in Team's History

Softball Squad Continues To Roll With 11-1 Mark

By Mark Foley

Wrapping up the best April of its history with a whirl, Belleville ran its current winning streak to seven and its record for the season to 11-1 with victories over Immaculate Conception, Paterson Kennedy, Clifton, and Paterson Eastside last week.

The girls have also received the number one seeding in the Essex County Coaches' Association Tournament, which is scheduled to begin this weekend.

Although the Buccanettes defeated Immaculate by the score of 10-4, it took a six-run outburst in the bottom of the sixth inning to put the outcome out of doubt. Donna Brooks provided the big hit with a three-run triple off loser Jami Messina, and Desiree Johansen and Dina DeAquino added RBI-singles to break open what had been a tight, 4-4 contest. The game also featured several outstanding defensive efforts, especially shortstop Johansen, whose unassisted double play got Belleville out of a bases-loaded jam, and two extraordinary blocks of home plate by catcher Tracy Buono to rob the Montclair club of a pair of runs. DeAquino pitched her fifth complete game of the season, striking out six and walking five, to get the victory.

Coach Carl Coripo's squad had another tough victory last week, this coming against Clifton, 2-1. Despite being out-hit by the Mustangs, the Buccanettes were able to capitalize on a key Clifton error for the winning run. With Laura Caruso on second following a walk and a stolen base, fellow freshman Tricia Tramutola laid down a sacrifice bunt which was thrown away by pitcher Renee Orlovski, allowing Caruso to score.

Buono's hitting performances were the story in the drubbings of Kennedy (20-5) and Eastside (10-5). The senior co-captain, who has been on a tear for the entire season, went six-for-eight with eight runs batted in, two triples, a home run, and five runs scored. Two juniors, Brooks and Cheryl Marion, also put together excellent hitting days against Kennedy. Brooks, who had only one hit in five previous games, broke out of her slump with five hits in five tries, a double, a triple, three stolen bases, and a run batted in. Second baseman Marion contributed four RBIs while collecting two singles in three at-bats.

Coach Coripo was pleased with his team's performance through the first half of the 1984 season. "We've played a pretty tough schedule so far, and we've come through with only one loss (to Union, 1-0). We've played four Top 20 teams already, and we've got a real big one on Wednesday against Ridgewood. They'll be tough, real tough, but if we play our game and don't make any crucial mistakes, I think that we've got a shot at them. Things are starting to come together; we've been scoring some runs lately, and we've been winning, 'winning ugly,' but a win is still a win."

EXTRA BASES: Upcoming games include Hackensack tomorrow (BHS, 4 p.m.), another night game, this one at Caldwell, on Saturday at 7:30 p.m., away matches against Teaneck on Monday and Nutley on Tuesday, and on Wednesday, the first doubleheader in BHS history. The Buccanettes will travel to Passaic for a 4 p.m. game, return home, and then go to Lyndhurst for an 8 p.m. start at the Little League

Baseball Squad Wins Five As Offense Leads the Way

Since the outset of the 1984 season, head coach Ralph La Conte felt his squad was on the verge of breaking loose in the offensive category. Last week, La Conte's team did what its coach felt it would do, and the results were devastating for the opposition.

Belleville, now sporting a 7-3-2 record, was in Ridgewood yesterday and will visit Hillside this afternoon at 4 p.m. Tomorrow afternoon, the Bucs battle Hackensack and next Monday, will host Teaneck, also at 4 p.m.

Last week, the Buccanettes broke their offensive doldrums in a big way, outscoring the opposition by a 52-6 count and winning five games in five attempts. The 7-3-2 record that Belleville now sports is the best start for a Buccanette squad since the fall of 1981 season when George Zanfini led the team to a GNT championship. This season, it's been a team effort that has turned it around for Belleville and that type of effort led to victories over Paterson Kennedy, 11-2, Paterson Eastside, 15-0, Clifton, 12-1, Colonia, 10-0, and Montclair, 4-3 in 10 innings.

"Those were the best five games I've seen a varsity team play in a long time," said La Conte last Monday. "Everyone is taking part in the victories. It is a total team effort."

Indeed, Belleville has received offensive punch from Dean Sternik, Turst, John Guarino, Joe Mullaney, Anthony Lombardi, Brian Cook, Mario Silvestri, John Auriemma—the list can go on and on. In the victories over Clifton last week, the Bucs started quickly, scoring three runs in the second inning and finishing with a flurry, tallying eight times in the sixth frame.

The second inning saw Joe Mullaney single, Auriemma and Sternik walk to load the bases and Guarino doubling home two runs and Borrello singling home another for the 3-0 lead. In the third inning, the Bucs boosted the count to 4-0 when Mullaney doubled and scored on a single by Auriemma. In the sixth, the Bucs opened the flood gates when Sternik singled, advanced to second on a single by Guarino and went to third when Borrello drew a bases-loaded walk.

Lombardi drew a walk to drive in a run, Turst doubled home two runs, Mullaney walked home a run, Long singled home a run and Auriemma doubled in the final two runs.

Turst went the distance to earn the victory. He allowed just one run on three hits, struck out 10 and walked just one. He was aided by two

Netmen Fall Short Against P. Kennedy

What almost turned out to be the finest moment in Belleville tennis history, instead developed into a heartbreaking loss that sent the Bucs home with determination that next time, the results might be different.

The Bucs, now 4-3 on the season, battled Orange on Tuesday and will be in Hackensack tomorrow afternoon. Next Monday, the Bucs host Teaneck in a 4 p.m. start.

Last week, Belleville battled one of the better teams in Passaic County, Paterson Kennedy, and lost by a 3-2 count. "It was a tough loss," lamented coach Len D'Armiotto.

"We were close to beating one of the stronger teams in Passaic County. Our kids tasted it, we just came up a little short."

Belleville's three-match winning streak was snapped by the Knights after a back and forth match that had the local fans pulled to the fence for the finale. At first singles, David Boyd lost a tough, 5-7, 4-6 match. At second singles, Jim Petrat, a sophomore, continued his marvelous play with a 6-0, 4-6, 6-4 victory that tied the match at one apiece.

"Jimmy has been playing very well," said D'Armiotto. "Match by match, he is getting stronger and his confidence is building all the time."

Kennedy took the lead back when its third singles player stopped Pat Tortoriello, 5-7, 4-6, in another tough match. The doubles play was just as exciting. At first doubles, Herb Petrat, who has been bothered by a sore arm and is seeing action at doubles, teamed with Joon Hwang and defeated the Kennedy combo, 6-4, 6-2.

The second doubles team of Ron Cha and Hayne Alwig battled hard in the final match of the day, but fell short by the closest of counts, 1-6, 6-4, 5-7.

"It was a great match," said D'Armiotto. "Our kids battled hard, they gave everything they had. I was very happy with the effort."

Belleville won a big match, defeating Paterson Eastside, 5-0. The Bucs' singles players of David Boyd, Jim Petrat and Pat Tortoriello were all on track, with all winning in two sets. The doubles squad of Herb Petrat and Joon Hwang and Ron Cha and Hayne Alwig also won easily, giving Belleville its fourth win of the young season.

"I'm trying some different combinations," said D'Armiotto. "We're moving kids around, trying to balance them out. The attitude is good, every one is getting a chance to play. I think everyone is optimistic about the season."

About the only negative aspect of last week's action was the match

Youth and Experience Blending Well For Diamondmen

For many years, the stands at Belleville High School would be full on a spring afternoon to watch the local baseball team compete on the diamond. For the most part, the results were usually successful. There were some great games at BHS, most notably, the 14-inning marathon with number one ranked Irvington in 1975, the thriller with Livingston in the mid to late '70s, the heat with Bloomfield in 1981 in the semifinals of the Greater Newark Tournament and the game on May 31, 1981 when Belleville stopped Glen Ridge, 10-4 to win the Greater Newark Tourney.

Following that eventful 22-7 season in 1981, the fortunes of the Buccanette diamondmen began to fall somewhat. In 1982, Belleville got off to a 6-0 start, but star catcher Frank Fazzini went down with a pulled hamstring and the fortunes of the team seemed to go with it. The Bucs ended the campaign with a 12-11 record, losing, ironically, to Glen Ridge in the Greater Newark Tournament quarterfinals and later to Elizabeth in the state tourney.

At the conclusion of the 1982 season, George Zanfini, the varsity coach at Belleville High for eight seasons, said goodbye. He stepped down from his post and was replaced by longtime javayee coach, Ralph La Conte. A new era was on the horizon at Belleville High School and 1983 would be La Conte's baptism on the diamond for the BHS varsity.

The new era did not start in very strong fashion. La Conte inherited a team that wanted to win, but lacked experience, made some costly errors and didn't have consistent pitching. The end result was an 8-17-1 season for the Buccanettes and a severe drop in the ratings. No longer was Belleville baseball respected as one of the powerhouse teams in Essex County. That title now belonged to teams like Nutley, Caldwell and Columbia.

"Last year was a learning experience, both for me and the team," said La Conte last week. "It was a transition year. I didn't know what to expect from the underclassmen because they did not have a lot of varsity experience entering last year, which showed we were competitive, but we lacked the play that got us over the top."

La Conte took his lumps last season. He fielded a young squad, knew they were going to make mistakes and realized that he had a lot of optimism. His optimism was not shared by many in the area, however, because none of the newspapers felt the Bucs deserved a place in the county ratings. The team started slow, playing hard, but just missed a few big victories. The early season saw a victory over Barringer, two hard luck draws with Bloomfield and Bergenfield, a 6-4 setback to West Essex, an 11-7 loss to Essex Catholic and a tough loss to Paramus Catholic. The Bucs won a 2-1 contest over Paramus and entering last week, were struggling at 2-3-2.

"I told the kids that they were better than a 2-3-2 team," said La Conte. "The team has an excellent attitude, they believed in themselves and now, it's their time to come together."

It has come together in a big way. This past week, the Bucs won five games, in unbelievable fashion. They outscored the opposition, 52-6. They wiped out Eastside, 15-0, ripped Colonia, 10-0, shattered Kennedy, 11-2, blew away Clifton, 12-1, and squeezed by Montclair, 4-3 in 10 innings. It was done as a team. The pitching was masterful, the team ERA is now 1.00. The hitting, well that speaks for itself. In every game last week, the Bucs had at least 10 hits. As a team, they're hitting .330, a far cry from last year's .212 team batting average. And suddenly, Belleville has turned from a struggling 2-3-2 team needing a boost of confidence to a 7-3-2 squad thinking it can play with just about anybody in the area.

"There was a lot of work involved," said La Conte. "We worked on physical fitness during the season. Exercises, weight training, warming up before we start throwing the ball. I invested in a batting machine and the kids have been practicing their hitting over and over again. During all the bad weather we had, we worked on the machine in the gym, and now we're beginning to reap the harvest from that work."

La Conte credits the success to the team. That's what it's all about, the teamwork that has led to success. The infield consists of Brian Cook at first, Dean Sternik and Bill Baber sharing time at second, Joe Borrello at shortstop and Joe Mullaney at third base. The outfield is Dave Long in left, John Guarino in center field and Frank Turst, when he's not pitching, in right. Catching is Anthony Lombardi, along with John Auriemma and Mario Silvestri is the designated hitter. When Auriemma isn't catching, he can be found at the designated hitter position as well.

At first, Cook is hitting .240, but has been a gem defensively. A fine all around athlete, Cook is new to the squad this year and has fit in very well. Sternik, a junior and Baber, a senior, both do an excellent job at second. Baber adds speed to the base path and Sternik has an excellent glove. Both men can hit, as well. Sternik has an average around .250 and Baber is hitting over .300.

Borrello, who hit .304 last year, is on a torrid pace this spring. The senior, a three-year starter, is hitting .400 and is an excellent defensive player. Mullaney, a junior, started the season on javayee and he's been red hot since his arrival on the varsity. Mullaney is hitting .520, has driven in eight runs, three of which were game winners. He has a slugging percentage of .941.

Lombardi, a senior, earned second team NNJIL honors last year. Now, he's hitting .320 and has 11 RBIs and five doubles to his credit as May arrives. In the outfield, Guarino is batting a solid .275 as a lead-off hitter, Turst is hitting .400 with a team-leading 14 runs batted in. Long is also hitting very well, with two homers, 10 runs batted in and a .378 average.

At designated hitter, Silvestri continues the hot pace with a .375 average and Auriemma, who came through with some big hits in the victories last week, has a .300 mark.

It's all beginning to come together for a team that struggled a great deal in 1983. The pitching has also been solid. Turst leads the squad with a 3-1 record and 2.82

ERA. He leads the squad with 33 strikeouts in 27 innings and has allowed just 11 earned runs.

Joe Trabucco, a senior, is 2-0 with a 1.10 earned run average. Thus far, Trabucco has pitched 13 innings and has been very sharp. The same can be said of sophomore Mark Palumbo and junior Tommy Reid. Palumbo is 1-0 with a 4.00 ERA, 13 strikeouts and five walks. He has a solid future on the mound. Reid is 1-1 with a 3.50 ERA, 19 strikeouts and 10 walks. Sophomore Allan Ruopp, a hard luck hurler this year, is 0-0, but was very sharp in the Montclair game, pitching six and one-third innings of shutout ball before retiring in the seventh inning.

It's a nice combination of upper and lower classmen that have combined to make the 1984 season a very enjoyable experience for the Belleville baseball team. There is still a lot of time left and a lot of baseball still to go, but the early signs are the Belleville baseball team has returned, make no mistake about it.

Next week, the Belleville High School athlete of the month for May will be profiled. The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Joe Mullaney of the baseball team. He's having a super season at third base and is one of the reasons for the Buccanettes' success this spring.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, in 1976, name the Yankees' starting infield, the pitcher that Chris Chambliss hit the winning homer off of in the playoff series that year and the Kansas City Royal second baseman. The answer: The infield consisted of Chambliss at first, Willie Randolph at second, Fred Stanley at shortstop and Graig Nettles at third. The catcher was the late Thurman Munson. Chambliss hit the game winner off of Mark Littel of Kansas City and the Royal second baseman was Cookie Rojas.

Promoter Bob Arum says he has a partner with promoter Cedric Kushner to promote Gerrie Coetzee's fights in the U.S. before Kushner joined with promoter Don King. Arum wants a $0/50 cut from Kushner of the Coetzee purse for fighting Larry Holmes or he'll sue.

With Larry Holmes to receive $8 million, Gerrie Coetzee $3.5 million, Mike Cohen, promoters JPD Sports, Murad Muhammad and Cedric Kushner, and Don King and Bob Arum all getting a piece of the action. Not forgetting Bob Lee's IBF sanction fee it could be a costly title tiff, winding up in the red. Insiders say if the WBC okays to sanction the bout, it could be saved from the drain.

Nino La Rocca (Tijuan Sidibe) of Italy with a 56-1 record is challenging the winner of the bout between Don Curry of Fort Worth, Texas, and Elio Diaz of Venezuela for Curry's WBC welterweight title. Curry and Diaz are earmarked for an April 21 mitt-slinger.

On the undercard to the Mustafa Hamsho-Alexis Shakespere bout won by Hamsho by a fifth round TKO; featherweight Leny Valdez of Hawthorne, Calif., stopped Steve Cruz of Fort Worth, Texas, in round one and middleweight Robbie Simms of Brockton, Mass., outpointed Curtis Ramsey of Atlanta in a 10-rounder. Simms fought one of the best fights of his career against Ramsey. The bouts were fought in Las Vegas, Thursday.

Promoters Don Elbaum and Ted Menas has lined up a pair of outstanding heavyweights to slug-it-out at Atlantic City's Tropicana, Tuesday, April 24. Jose Rodriguez Sao Paulo of Brazil will go against Mike "The Giant" White of Bay City, Michigan. The Brazilian is advertised as the South American champion. They are scheduled for 10 rounds or less.

Hector "The Grabber" Camacho is a good fighter who has speed and can hit, but his quick flurries, grabbing tactics and fouling (with sucker shots), we don't buy.

"Motor Mouth" Jeff Chandler of Philadelphia usually successful at disconcerting an opponent with his constant string of chatter, had no effect on Ricardo "Rachie" Sandoval of Pomona, Calif., Saturday, April 7 in Atlantic City. Chandler then turned on veteran, of 60 championship fights, referee Arthur Mercante. Fans who came to cheer the Philadelphia disliked their idol's verbal attacks and booed the champion from the sixth round through the end. In the meantime Sandoval was beating a tattoo on Chandler's head and body until Mercante stopped the bout at 1:20 of the 15th round before Chandler was injured. Sandoval is now the newly crowned WBC bantamweight champion. At the end a beat up "Motor Mouth" finally stopped complaining and admitted, "The real champion in the ring was Sandoval." His co-managers Willie and Becky O'Neil were stunned by Chandler's defeat and his friends' booing.

Another crown changed heads when former WBC bantamweight titleholder Wilfredo Gomez of Puerto Rico punched a near shutout in an impressive 12-round unanimous decision over Juan La Porte after a 12-round unanimous decision over Juan La Porte who captured the WBC featherweight title Sunday in their home town. La Porte, who is known for his solid punching, couldn't do anything right to overcome the masterful boxing combined with sharp punching of Gomez.

John F.X. Condon, president of Madison Square Garden Boxing and undisputed world middleweight champ Marvelous Marvin Hagler, two deserving people of the boxing fraternity, were honored by the New York Boxing Writers at the Vista International Hotel in New York City, Thursday, April 12.

Eddie Mustafa Muhammad, who was known as Eddie Gregory, said he has signed to make his comeback in the punch-for-pay business in Georgetown, Cayman Islands. The ex-WBA light heavyweight champion last fought July 18, 1981, when he lost his title to Michael Spinks.

Bobby Connelly promoted another well-balanced, exciting fight card last Thursday at the R & A Caterers. The bouts were: Anibal Perez, 154/4, Camden, WTKO in third round over Willie Gamble, 152, Troy, N.Y.; Greg Hackett, 154, Chester, Pa., W (unan.) Dec. in four rounds over Everett Moore, 159, Philadelphia; Edwin (E.T.) Thomas, 139, Philadelphia W (unan.) Dec. in four rounds over Tony Burroughs, 135, Philadelphia; Kenny Reese, 157, Philadelphia W (maj.) Dec. in four rounds over Lou Owens, 156, Wilmington, Del.; Alfonso Mitchell, 129, Philadelphia W (maj.) Dec. in six rounds over Luis Diaz, 128.

Kearny captures Goodwill Regatta; Crew Squad Heads For City Contest

After two years of championship performances in the Goodwill Regatta, the Belleville crew team handed over its team trophy to Kearny High School after the Kards defeated Belleville and Nutley for the championship.

This weekend, the Bucs take part in the City Championships in Philadelphia. The race is set for Sunday in Philadelphia and will match a number of fine teams from the Philadelphia, New York and New Jersey areas.

"It was disappointing," said head coach Sam Giuffrida last week. "We just didn't row well. The girls won't let their events, but we weren't consistent in some of the other races. I don't think we rowed to our capabilities and I think the team knows that too. Maybe this setback will get the team back in gear. We've been rowing very well for the early part of the season and now we're looking to get back on track."

Giuffrida noted that the big races are coming up in the month of May. In addition to the City Championships this weekend, there is the Mid-Hudson Regatta, the Stotesbury Regatta and the National Championships on the final weekend in May.

Last weekend, the Bucs took second place in the senior eight, junior eight and freshman boats. The varsity eight lost by four seconds to Kearny and the junior eight suffered a five-second setback to the Kards. Giuffrida was very happy with the performance of the freshman boats, both for the boys and girls. "Bobby Cassin and Chris Ritchel (freshman coaches) have done a great job with the freshman team," said Giuffrida. "Those boats were a month late in starting to practice and yet, the girls' freshman won its race and the boys' freshman was second by one second to Nutley. They both did a very good job."

Giuffrida felt his squad might have been a bit too overconfident last weekend. "A lot of it is mental," said Giuffrida. "We've been working hard, but sometimes if you don't have the right frame of mind, it could be costly. We just have to put it together next weekend in Philly."

Although the final outcome was a bit disappointing for the Bucs, Giuffrida is very happy with his team's determination. "We're not a very big team as far as quantity. We're working hard, sometimes kids are rowing a double practice if someone else is sick or hurt. Everyone is pulling for each other and that's all you can ask for in an athlete."

NOTES: In the City Championships this weekend, Giuffrida looking at the boats of the junior four boys, the lightweight four boys and junior four girls to do well. All three have been strong in the Manny Flick races thus far this spring.

Busy Week For Soccer

Division I

Randall Lorig's team won convincingly 8-2, against the Randolph Royals, moving its record to 2-0-1 in league play. This team, who will be traveling to Scotland in August, totally dominated the play.

Division II

Jose Chafar's team also dominated play, also moving its record to 2-1-0. You could say "Cruzed" to victory as Fred Cruz had six goals, Rich Bejarano, John Luciano, Joey Christ, Joe Chafar and the Ferry brothers, Dom and Frank, had two assists apiece.

Division III

Vincente Farina's team won 8-0 over Bridgewater Olympians. Roger Real scored four goals. Steve Mauro and Marlon Acosta had two apiece, Vincent Farina had three assists. Boris Bejarano played excellent on defense. Farina's team is now 2-0 in league play.

Division IV

Bob Travers filled in for Steve Rallis as coach and in play against the league leading Parsippany Blue. Belleville led at half, 2-0. Brian Travers opened the scoring with assist going to Kevin Ernst and James Malek and Frank Crocco scored with assists by Daren Lewis and Greg Groeling. Then Parsippany scored three straight goals ahead, 3-2. David Radziejewicz scored with 10 minutes left in play, knotting the score, 3-3. Sandeep Lal Daren Zullo played excellent and Omar Bejarano started his first game in goal and played well.

with Clifton. Belleville was in over their heads there, losing by a 5-0 count to the number one team in Passaic County. "They were tough," the coach said, "there isn't much more I can say besides that. Jim Petrat played well (losing 5-7, 3-6), but other than that, Clifton was loaded."

The Bucs are gearing for that first winning season in school history. Their conference play started this week and teams such as Teaneck and Ridgewood will pose a big threat. "They will be tough," D'Ammiento said in conclusion, "but we'll give it our best. The kids are working hard."

Interview responses will be compiled and analyzed in order to target significant issues of importance to the existing business community in a municipality.

The public and private officials can then begin to seek immediate and long-term solutions to problems. Some of the ways suggested by NJ Bell's program for local government to respond to its business community's needs are: improved promotion of local industry, assistance in securing and maintaining adequate labor, assistance with any public works or public service problems that may interfere with smooth business operation, helping to obtain funding of adequate space for desired expansion.

The NJ Bell program claims such communities as Elizabeth, Hoboken, Jersey City, and Newark as participants who benefitted by retaining businesses that planned to move or shut down and by developing new programs that improved the economic health of waning areas.

"This is something I want to consider," said Mayor Marotti after the Bell presentation. The mayor said commissioners will decide sometime this month if they want to use the program.

cent of all new jobs, are more likely to expand than contract.

By contrast, he said, larger firms tend to shrink and seldom generate many new jobs.

Those finding, said Heller, indicate that the best job-producing businesses a community will ever have are already there, operating and paying taxes.

"Business retention is also the best method of business attraction," noted Heller. "If a community acquires a reputation as a place that cares about protecting its merchants, word-of-mouth recommendations will attract more new businesses than any slick brochure will."

A first step toward implementing the Bell program is to obtain support from the local governing body, particularly the mayor.

The program urges the mayor to send each business owner a survey to determine the merchant's view of the community's economy, plans to expand or relocate and special needs for better operation.

The participating community must also establish a Business Retention and Expansion task force which should include: members of the municipal administration, representatives of private businesses, chamber of commerce executives, representatives of the educational community and from any other sector of community functioning that should have input.

The task force will enlist the services of volunteers who will then follow up each returned survey with a personal interview with the firm's chief executive.

Volunteers should be drawn from the private sector — the chamber of commerce, service organizations, religious groups, and major corporate employers — and will undergo a special training session prior to conducting interviews.

Interview responses will be compiled and analyzed in order to target significant issues of importance to the existing business community in a municipality.

The public and private officials can then begin to seek immediate and long-term solutions to problems. Some of the ways suggested by NJ Bell's program for local government to respond to its business community's needs are: improved promotion of local industry, assistance in securing and maintaining adequate labor, assistance with any public works or public service problems that may interfere with smooth business operation, helping to obtain funding of adequate space for desired expansion.

Big Bats and Stingy Pitching Leads Diamondmen to a Five-Win Week hits from Guarino, Borrello, Mullaney, Aurimma and Sternik. Overall, the Bucs pounded out 14 hits against the Mustangs.

Against Kennedy, the bats were back to work in strong fashion. Actually, the game was tight through four innings. Entering the bottom of the fifth, the two teams were deadlocked in a 1-1 tie. That's where Belleville opened things up, tallying five runs in the fifth and another five in the sixth to pull away to an easy win. The day started with a solo homer by Long in the second inning. Kennedy tallied a run in the third to tie the game and in the fifth, Belleville pulled away.

Guarino walked, was sacrificed to second by Borrello and scored when Tursi slapped a single up the middle. Mullaney singled home another two runs and two Kennedy errors accounted for the final two Buccaneer runs. In the sixth, Brian Cook, a fine defensive first baseman, singled, advanced to second on a Borrello single and after Tursi was hit by a pitch, scored when Mullaney reached safely on an error. With the count 6-1 and the bases loaded, Long stepped up to the plate and settled matters once and for all, cracking a grand slam home run to put the contest out of reach.

Sophomore Mark Palumbo hurled the complete game. He allowed two runs on four hits, was aided by 14 Buccaneer hits and struck out eight Kennedy batters. The sophomore only allowed two walks.

Long's two home runs on the day highlighted the Belleville attack. Borrello also came through with two hits in two at bats.

Moving along to the doubleheader with Colonia and Montclair, Belleville continued its hot streak. The Bucs had a morning game with Colonia and an afternoon contest with the Mounties. In the first game, the Bucs tallied twice in the first inning and added seven more runs in the fourth frame to wrap things up.

In the first, Borrello reached safely on an error and went to second when Lombardi walked. Frank Tursi sacrificed both men one base and Mullaney and Long hit RBI singles to account for the runs. In the fourth inning, Long doubled and with two outs, Cook reached safely on an error, driving home a run. Guarino singled, Borrello singled Cook home, Lombardi singled home two more runs, Tursi singled and Mullaney cracked a three-run homer to make it academic.

In the fifth inning, the Bucs added a final run when Mario Silvestri hit a round tripper, closing out the score at 10-0. Junior Tom Reid earned the victory with a strong performance. He struck out eight, walked one and was aided by a four-RBI performance by Mullaney, a homer by Silvestri, two hits by Tursi and two from Long.

Against Montclair, the Bucs were up against a solid ball club. For five innings, it was a scoreless pitching duel with Belleville's Allan Ruopp, a sophomore, matching the Mounties' hurler pitch for pitch. In the bottom of the sixth, Belleville erupted for three runs. With one out, Tursi singled, and advanced to third on a double by Long. Mullaney was intentionally walked to fill the bases and Lombardi hit a bases-clearing double to give Belleville a 3-0 lead.

Montclair came back in its half of the seventh to tie matters. The first two batters reached safely and La Conte removed Ruopp and inserted Tursi. Tursi gave up a run-scoring single to cut the Buc lead to 3-1. After two outs, a Montclair pinch-hitter stroked a game-tying single to send in two runs and force extra innings.

The game went 10 tough innings before Belleville pulled it out. In the bottom of the 10th, Borrello singled, went to second on a single by Tursi and scored when Joe Mullaney hit the game-winning single to ice a Belleville win.

Finally, the Bucs avenged two losses to Paterson Eastside last year by whipping the Ghosts, 15-0, last Monday. The Buccaneers pounded out 14 hits to help winning pitcher Joe Trabucco. The senior went the distance to earn the shutout and the Buccaneer bats continued its torrid pace. Belleville tallied six runs in the first inning, aided by a three-run homer by Tursi and scored twice in the second, three times in the fourth and three times in the sixth. The hitting barrage ended with a run in the seventh inning.

"Our fielding was excellent," said

Girls' Track Squad Struggling Against Some Tough Schools

The Belleville girls' track team is having a tough season battling some of the best teams in the NNJIL. Last week, the girls faced another strong foe, Nutley, and lost by a 69-43 count. Also, the team battled Mountaintop in an independent match and lost, 79-33. On the season, Karen Fuccello's girls are 0-5 and will face some stiff competition from NNJIL Division II rivals as the season progresses.

Versus Nutley, the girls saw Doreen Sente take a pair of second place finishes in the 100 and 200 meters. Senior Patty Bliss, by far the team's most consistent performer, was first in the mile and two mile. Bliss's time for the mile was 5:54.3 while her two-mile time was 13:25.6. Nancy Cocco was second in the 400 meters and second in the high jump. Debbie Sim was third in the 400 meters and Darcel Jackson placed second in the 800 meters.

In the field events, Tammy McQueen was a double winner, taking a first place in the shot put at 26'9 3/4", and a first in the discus with a throw of 67'5". Jeanne DiPasquale was third in the discus and Sandy Cotter closed the scoring with a third in the shot put.

Against Mountain, Fuccello was a little disappointed with the outcome. "I thought we could do better in that race," the coach said. "We were hoping to score a lot more consistently than we did."

Bliss was strong once again, taking a second in the mile and placing first in the two mile in a time of 13:12, some 13 seconds better than her effort in the Nutley race. Sente took a second in the 200 meters and was a winner in the 100-meter hurdles.

Jackson was second in the 800 meters, DiPasquale took third in the discus and second in the shot put. Lisette Rodriguez placed third in the long jump. Sheri DiPiro was second in the javelin and Cocco finished with a first place finish in the high jump with a leap of 4'2".

"At this stage," said Fuccello, "we're hoping that the kids can fulfill their potential. If the times improve and the kids show improvement over the course of the season, then something has been accomplished."

field on River Road. Also having good days at bat against Kennedy were Cheri Tillman and Debbie Patierno, who each went two-for-three. In her first varsity appearance, sophomore Karen Fulda picked up the win with four innings of one-hit relief. Ridgewood was rated as the top team in New Jersey by the Star-

Ledger going into yesterday's game. Belleville was ranked sixth. As number one seed in ECT, Belleville draws bye in first round, along with second-seeded Livingston. Remaining pairings in first round are, Shabazz at number three Cedar Grove, Verona at number four Bloomfield, West Essex at number five Caldwell, Columbia at number six Montclair Immaculate, Newark West Side at number seven Montclair and Nutley and number eight Millburn. Belleville has won past two county championships. Other winners have been Cedar Grove (1979-1980), Caldwell (1978 and 1981), and Columbia (1977). First round completed this Saturday. Quarterfinals on May 12 with Belleville playing winner of Millburn-Nutley. Semifinals and finals are at Pulaski Park, Bloomfield, on May 19 and 26, respectively.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. B. asks, "I've heard that my headaches can be related to my bite. Is this true?"

Yes, Mrs. B., this is true. Some headaches are caused by muscle spasms very similar to "charley horses" that you get in your legs. What happens to a muscle after extended use is that lactic acids build up inside the muscle, preventing it from functioning properly and then it begins to hurt.

When something causes the bite to change, either loss of teeth, a fractured jaw, or arthritis in the joint, the teeth begin shifting to adapt to the change. When the teeth shift, some may strike before others. To compensate, the muscle remains tight, always under stress, to avoid hitting the premature teeth. These muscles begin to hurt, and the pain is felt as a headache.

If you are experiencing headaches that you cannot explain, check with your dentist. Perhaps he can help you.
