Administrators Happy With Results

Students are Scoring Well On State-Mandated Test

According to school administrators, students in the Belleville school district have demonstrated steady increases in the state's Minimum Basic Skills Test over the past five years.

"We are very happy with the growth we have seen in the test scores since 1980," said Michael Lally, assistant superintendent of schools. "We feel comfortable with the gain we have made over the years in the MBS scores. And much of the success must be contributed to the fact that we have placed an emphasis on instruction."

The MBS test, which the members of the Class of 1985 will have to pass in order to receive their diplomas, concentrates basically on reading and math. In 1980 74.5 percent of the students in the Belleville school system passed the reading portion of the MBS, while in 1984 a total of 92.7 percent passed. In the math department, 85.7 students passed in 1980, and 93.3 earned a passing grade in 1984.

"Needless to say the administrators and teachers are extremely pleased with the results we have seen in the scores," said Lally, "but we plan on taking even greater steps to make sure that we continue along the right road."

One area current school officials will be concentrating their efforts on is writing skills, which will be emphasized in the upcoming High School Proficiency Test — the statewide examination that will eventually replace the current MBS test.

"The creation of a writing skills program is currently our major goal," said Lally. "The curriculum for seventh and eighth graders has just been completed. We are now targeting the third through sixth graders. We have also been holding a number of workshops on writing for teachers, and we feel that we are moving in the right direction."

"The high school proficiency test is indeed more difficult than the current Minimum Basic Skills Test, but we feel we will score in representative fashion, since the school system has demonstrated enough skills in the MBS over the years," he continued. "That is not to say that the students will do as well on the new test as they have on the MBS, but we expect Belleville to be comparable to the similar school districts."

Other areas which the Belleville school district is expanding into includes curriculum development.

"We have made a strong push in the areas of developing curriculum," said Lally. "We have a K-7 grades reading committee and a K-6 grades language-arts committee, both meeting daily for three weeks in an effort to develop a curriculum guide."

"In grades nine through 12 every major subject area has been reviewed in preparation for the 1985 Middle States evaluation," he continued. "We are also in the process of developing a K-6 grades computer literacy guide. And we also want to take a hard look at the science and math curriculum in the K-6 areas."

While Lally declined to release the scores Belleville students achieved on this year's High School Proficiency Test, until he could show the figures to School Board members, he did say that Belleville kids "did not do poorly."

"I would say that our students did as well as other schools system similar to us. We are right in the middle," said Lally. "Right now the Class of 1985 members will have to pass the MBS test to graduate, while the Class of 1989 will have to master the High School Proficiency Test in order to receive their diplomas. And believe me, the new test is more difficult. That's why we are moving to strengthen our instructional programs, as are other school districts."

The new test will be administered to ninth graders starting next year.

A Short Break — Members of the Belleville Activities Center take a short break from their job of cleaning the front of the Provident Savings Bank located on Washington Avenue. With the center's clients is Anthony Lucibello, the program's director.

Earning Their Own Way Important to These Folks

By Linda Telesco

Another day another dollar. Most often those words are spoken with a sigh of resignation by people who consider their jobs necessary evils.

One group of local workers, though, can shout those words with eager anticipation of being able to work for the reward of wages and personal satisfaction.

Some 38 retarded adults come every weekday to the Belleville Activities Center and industriously tackle whatever jobs await them.

"They come here to work and to learn to function as normally as possible in a real working situation," said Anthony Lucibello, the young director of the center.

Located at 234 Washington Ave., the Belleville Center is one of several such activity facilities established for retarded adults by the New Jersey Association for Retarded Citizens, Essex County unit.

Each center, Lucibello explained, is geared toward a specific functioning level. Clients are placed in a center that best suits their capacities by the state Division of Mental Retardation (DMR).

According to the director, the Belleville center serves clients who range from severely to profoundly retarded and are from 21 up to 70 years old.

About half of the clients, he said, live at home with their families and the others live in group homes for the retarded, or in state-sponsored homes.

Each workday, the clients are transported by the center vans to the center where they work, eat, and socialize a little from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

They spend most of the day working on what they refer to as a "contract," an allotment of piece work supplied by area companies.

A recent tour of the facility found the clients busy at work on their newest contract, stuffing colored cloths in plastic bags for commercial sale as household utility cloths.

In one workroom seven men and women sat around worktables stuffing the bags. At a separate desk, Julie weighed each bag to be sure none was over- or under-filled.

Steve Kirk, a center staff technician, monitored the group and explained their job assignments.

"The higher functioning clients do more complex work," he said. "Julie is able to read a scale so that is her job. Clients perform whatever their capabilities permit. Some cannot count or distinguish colors, so they would be given different assignments," he explained.

In another workroom, clients followed the same procedure under the eye of staff member Martha Casano.

At the scale, Ava displayed the eager attitude of someone who disapproves of chattering on the job. "Are you going to take our picture?" she asked her visitor.

When she learned the photography session would be later, Ava replied, "Well, I can't talk now. I have to get back to work."

Two other clients, Kevin and David occupied a separate room where they heat sealed the stuffed bags, as Jocelyn Doucette supervised.

Lucibello said the clients prefer contract work above all other activities. "They are employed, they receive a paycheck, which they really look forward to," he said, noting that an average week's pay for a higher functioning client might amount to $15.

The contract work is actively solicited by the director who expressed gratitude for companies that provide employment such as Wallace & Tiernan and Vinyl Graphics — both of Belleville — and Cardinal Glove Co. of Clifton.

"When these companies provide retarded adults with work, they're helping them to be productive, contribute to the economy, and make the public aware of the value these people have," said Lucibello.

He also noted the more capable and ambitious clients sometime earn extra money by performing janitorial duties for neighboring Provident Savings Bank and for the various offices located upstairs from the center.

One industrious man, Mark, described his custodial work cleaning restrooms and offices. "I work hard," he said with a smile. But he likes his paycheck and said he uses it to buy a favorite, "coffee."

Local Woman Files Law Suit Over Drug

A Belleville woman who became unconscious after taking a painkiller no longer on the market, is suing the company that produced the drug.

Kathleen Donnelly, along with her husband Patrick and their three children, filed a lawsuit in Newark against McNeil Pharmaceutical, a division of Johnson and Johnson. Zomax, the painkiller named in the suit, was voluntarily withdrawn from the market by the firm in March 1983.

The suit claims the company failed to warn the public and the medical professional of the possible side effects in taking Zomax.

The suit also states that McNeil Pharmaceutical knew of other reported incidents on allergic reactions to the drug and failed to disclose the information to the medical profession and general public.

Further, the suit contends the company failed to conduct proper and sufficient testing for possible side effects.

Mrs. Donnelly claims she took the drug several times in 1981 and 1982 and became violently ill and was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Robert Kniffen, the director of public relations for Johnson and Johnson, said its subsidiary company voluntarily removed Zomax from the market following an increase in reported allergic reactions.

The Donnelly family is seeking damages, interest, and legal costs in the suit.

Township Will Flush Hydrants

In an effort to clean up the township's drinking water problem, the Department of Public Works will start flushing fire hydrants beginning Monday, July 16.

The first section of Belleville which will be maintained according to Commissioner Joseph Grande will be Union Avenue west to the Bloomfield border line and Joralemon Street to the Nutley border.

The flushing will take place from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. as a convenience to residents.

"By flushing out the hydrants we are hoping to clean up the water for the residents," said Grande, who also said he would be announcing the next flushing sites in the near future.

WARNING: What you're about to read can cause severe hunger pangs.

We have many good restaurants in Belleville, but there are only a few great ones. Among the great ones is the Stoned Crab Seafood House, 14 Belmont Ave. You may want to start with the hot antipasto appetizer (my favorite), stuffed peppers, clams casino, clams oreganato, stuffed mushrooms, and shrimp. Then onto the entree specialty, Lobster Bianco. A whole lobster chopped in pieces and left in the shell — sauteed in white wine sauce, fresh garlic and red pepper. (Pardon my drooling.) Along with your entree you may choose a salad or pasta dish. The Stoned Crab also has an excellent wine list. Besides managing the restaurant, Judy Dowd is especially proud of her own homemade canoli for dessert. On June 27, owner Art Angelo celebrated his eighth year at the restaurant. Lunch is from 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m., dinner from 5-11 p.m. Reservations are a must on Fridays and Saturdays, which feature a strolling guitar and mandolin. Call 759-8132.

Accreditation Received At CM Nursing School

The School of Nursing at Clara Maass Medical Center received notice of its continued accreditation through 1992 by the National League of Nursing. "This is the official accrediting agency for nursing education which is recognized by the United States Department of Education," stated Anne C. Knox, director of the school.

The nursing program was evaluated in relation to its stated purposes and the established criteria for accreditation. Knox stated, "This achievement indicates to the general public and to the educational community at large that the school program demonstrates educational quality and contributes to the improvement of nursing practice."

This co-ed program, which may be completed on a full-time (two-year) or part-time (three- to four-year) basis, prepares qualified candidates to provide nursing care in hospitals and similar health care settings. Graduates are eligible to take the state licensing exam as registered professional nurses. Limited openings are still available for September 1984. Interested applicants should call 450-2250 for further information.

The information needed by consumers to correctly use non-prescription medicines without professional supervision is on their labels. The labels on non-prescription medicines should be read before the first use and again before each separate period of use. Be especially alert for the appearance of label "Rags." These are notices that many non-prescription manufacturers use to tell you of some significant product change. For example, they can include: "See side panel for new ingredients" or "See new warnings on back label." Some information on labels is important to people with special health problems. For example, some labels now show the sodium content per dose to those who must limit their sodium intake.

If you need additional information please feel free to ask our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Handicapped Adults Earn Their Own Way

Although the primary emphasis is work at the center, the director noted that sometimes contracts are not readily available so the clients work on crafts.

Ceramics and stained glass window decorations lined a table in the vestibule, displaying the wares produced for a recent crafts sale, one of the measures the center turns to for fund raising when in between contracts.

On a tour of the pleasant center, Lucibello pointed out a hygiene room where clients in need of grooming skills are coached.

Mirrors, combs, shaving utensils, and other personal products stood in neat rows until needed for a session.

Near the leisure room, a table was laden with brown paper bags. "The clients bring their own lunches four days a week and have kitchen duty the fifth day," the director noted.

Clients are divided into groups according to functioning level. Each group rotates taking kitchen duty and preparing their own lunches one day a week.

That morning, a lower functioning group was preparing lunches of cheese sandwiches and milk with the help of staffer Valerie Mitchell.

"The higher functioning clients usually make more complicated, cooked meals," said Lucibello.

Director of the Belleville Center since it was established in December 1980, Lucibello is proud of the progress his clients have made.

"Our goal is toward normalization," he said. "We hope someday to extend the experiences of these clients from normal work situations to more normal social lives and emotional relationships," he said.

The director praised the centers — which are almost entirely state funded — as much needed alternatives to merely institutionalizing people who are capable of more productive work.

"They can be like employees anywhere," he laughed. "Some work hard and others get a little lazy or personality conflicts might arise on the job," he said.

He also noted one of the reasons for the success of the Belleville center is the quality of the six-member staff which also includes Margaret Hines and Carlos Torres.

"A program is only as good as the staff, and mine is motivated, enthusiastic, and involved with the clients," said Lucibello.

The director, who holds a degree in psychology, said four of the staffers hold degrees in special education on related fields, and one has an associate degree in psychology.

Salaried by the Association for Retarded Citizens, the staffers have what the director calls "a lot of heart for the job."

With many aspirations for the future, Lucibello said for now, he and his staff hope to forge a closer, "more productive relationship between the clients and the community around them."

We specialize in the treatment of:
Anxiety, Depression, Marital and Sexual Problems, Phobias and Panic Disorders, Drug and Alcohol-related Disorders, and Disorders of Impulse Control (such as Eating Disorders)

Our Treatment Approach involves:
Psychotherapy, PsychoEndocrine Pharmacotherapy (Medical treatment of Psychiatrically-related Hormonal Imbalance), Behavioral-oriented Therapy, Family-oriented Therapy, Hypnotherapy and Biofeedback, and Nutritional Therapy.

Our Philosophy?

1. We have found that underlying many emotional disturbances are subtle but significant medical and biological disorders. In order to identify such disorders, our patients undergo a thorough physical examination and extensive laboratory investigations. Following a review of the examination, we rigorously treat any physical disorder which may be present.
2. During their period of emotional distress, many patients develop a maladaptive way of dealing with people and life. In order to identify these maladaptive personality traits, patients undergo a comprehensive Computer-Assisted Psychological Scan Profile. After having been evaluated both objectively and subjectively, patients are then offered the benefits of intensive Psychotherapy in order to allow them to live happier and more productive lives.
3. Despite our emphasis on computerized Biomedical tests and Psychological profiles, we realize that nothing can ever fully replace the Human element in the treatment of patients.
4. Above all, we always strive to treat our patients as we would wish to be treated if we were in their position.

Adubato's False Alarm

In a recent issue of the Sunday New York Times, Assemblyman Steve Adubato recklessly sounded a false alarm for Nutley residents, and carelessly raised a question of the security of the township's water supply.

In a statement of opinion appearing in the New York Times, Adubato commented on the proposed Passaic Valley flood control tunnel. For reasons best known to him, Mr. Adubato brought the Township of Nutley's water supply into the picture. He raised a question about the security of Nutley's water supply which could have been easily answered by the appropriate authority were he sincerely looking for an answer. Adubato's question was, "If the proposed tunnel is constructed as currently planned above the Wanauque South intake area, will this not decrease the flow and possibly affect the security of Nutley's water supply?" The answer is an emphatic "no."

The 30th Legislative District is represented in Trenton by Senate President Carmen Orechio, Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato, and Adubato. Senator Orechio has been in the forefront with efforts to develop adequate water resources for the area during his 11-year service in the N.J. Senate. Through his efforts, Nutley, Belleville and Cedar Grove will own their own water supply. Assemblyman Fortunato has been consistently supportive of Orechio's efforts.

The district includes Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Montclair, Glen Ridge and Verona. Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield are partners in the Wanauque South water project. Belleville adopted an ordinance for participation as a partner in the project, and the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission approved Belleville's application for participation as a partner. The only step left for Belleville to be a full partner in the project is a hearing before the Department Environmental Protection.

One wonders why Mr. Adubato abandoned Belleville, Bloomfield and Cedar Grove when he expressed concern for "the security of Nutley's water supply." We think we know why, but we'll leave that judgment to the reader.

Equally important, the proposed tunnel poses absolutely no threat to the security of Nutley's water supply. This was a false alarm by a legislator who should have acted with more responsibility.

Adubato further stated, Nutley, for example, gets its water from the Wanauque South system, which is part of the North Jersey Water District. Now there he goes again.

Wrong again. Nutley currently receives its water from the Passaic Valley Water Commission. It can't receive its water from the Wanauque South system because the project will not be completed until June or July of 1987 — three years into the future.

The purpose of a flood control tunnel is to redirect the water flow at the flood level. At the intake of the proposed tunnel, a "glory hole" will be constructed leading into the tunnel. A "glory hole" is essentially a big round spillway, unlike the shape of conventional spillways that are visible at various dams in the region. It makes no difference where the flood control tunnel is located since the water diversion will occur only at flood level.

In an implied support of the flood tunnel, Mr. Adubato emphatically stated, "I want to emphasize that I am not urging opposition to the Army Corps' plan, only an extension in time for local consideration and input." Again, Mr. Adubato is wrong. He should urge opposition to the tunnel concept, which includes the construction of levees along the banks of the Passaic River in Nutley.

Building levees along the banks of the Passaic River through Nutley, Belleville, Newark, Arlington and Lyndhurst is no guarantee that those areas would not someday be under a flood. We remind you of the 1972 debacle in Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania, where flood waters overtopped so-called flood-proof levees, and wiped out a large part of the city. If it happened in Wilkes Barre, why can't it happen in Nutley, Belleville or Newark? Two weeks ago, according to the Army Corps of Engineers, "40 to 50 levees along the Grand River in Missouri failed or had been overtopped by flood waters." Levees failed in Missouri, why should we think they can't fail in Nutley or Belleville, New Jersey?

We believe construction of the flood tunnel is the wrong answer. Buying the homes of the residents in the flood plain would be our priority.

History records there is no fail-proof flood control system that could apply to the Passaic Valley flood area except the actual removal of homes. The buy-out approach remains the cheapest, fastest, and safest answer to the flood problems of the Passaic Valley residents.

Frank A. Orechio

Negative Attitude Upsetting

To the editor:

As the appointee of the state Department of Community Affairs to the Belleville Redevelopment Agency (B.R.A.), I am somewhat dismayed and disappointed by the negative approach being reported in The Belleville Times as the "plan" of the Planning Board with respect to their considerations on the determination of blight on the lower part of Washington Avenue. I say negative approach because they seem to be operating from the same attitude of reluctance to act affirmatively for the positive benefit of all of the people of our town. An attitude that has apparently been the order of the day for most of our local politicians and their political appointees for the past 15 or 20 years.

Although the B.R.A. was created in September of 1981, and my services to that agency (without remuneration) began in December 1982, in retrospect it is my opinion that the agency was created by the Belleville Board of Commissioners simply to take the heat off them for their indecisiveness and failure to act over the past 15 or 20 years to stop the slow cancerous deterioration taking place on the southern end of Washington Avenue. It has become painfully obvious to me as a member of the B.R.A. that they never intended for us to actually do anything concrete about the problem. Proof of this is the financial support delays they have used as stumbling blocks to the B.R.A.'s progress when they saw us actually moving and acting to bring about positive change. It would benefit the entire tax-paying populace of our town. It should also be pointed out that it was the Planning Board who at the urging of a Belleville commissioner, suggested the extension of the initial blight study area up to Joramelon Street, not the B.R.A. I am in my opinion they either did this to create twice the amount of anticipated negative objection to redevelopment as would normally take place to the prospect of change or perhaps to respond to some vested interests in the extended area. The B.R.A.'s concept plan as developed by TownPlan Associates had the initial project area number one as being from Mill Street to William Street. This would have given us a model initial project area with which to demonstrate to the entire town what could be done when some imaginative and creative thinking was put into action.

Based on the interaction between the Planning Board and the B.R.A. to date, I have noted a kind of unspoken competitive adversary relationship in that some members of the Planning Board seem to display an attitude that they are annoyed about this new young agency (B.R.A.) with new fresh innovative ideas, doing the job that it (Planning Board) should have at least begun 15 or 20 years ago.

I would hasten to point out that there are, in my opinion, three or four young, objective, intelligent and open-minded members of the Planning Board whose thinking parallels that of the B.R.A. in trying to bring about change that will benefit the entire town. Unfortunately, they have been "outgunned" by the older political pawns whose archaic 19th century thinking stifles any positive action.

According to your front page article, Mr. Hudson of the Planning Board suggests we shouldn't call in "hordes of redevelopment experts." We should all fire department (Code Inspector, the health department (inspector) to identify the run down properties and get the owners to make the properties habitable. With all due respect to those offices of our municipal departments, if they had been doing exactly what Mr. Hudson suggests for the past 15 or 20 years, we would not have the problem now! Hence, Mr. Hudson, after only God knows how many years on the Planning Board, is suggesting an out-moded and patently unsuccessful approach which he has had a front seat to watching it fail all these years!

For the record, the B.R.A. has called in one redevelopment expert, TownPlan Associates, to do the detailed blight investigation to date. We did this because, like the Planning Board, the B.R.A. is composed of layman appointees; although our collective professional backgrounds in the fields of law, architecture, real estate, insurance and community business organization leadership certainly lend some positive credibility to our understanding of the problem and its possible workable solutions.

The Planning Board seeks input from the residents, merchants and businesses in what it refers to as the "affected area" according to your reporter. While this approach appears obviously intended to garner only negative comment, only by those immediately affected by the blight determination, I must strongly disagree with what they view as the "affected area."

Truly, those owners and tenants of the properties that lie within the initial proposed blighted area which are either dilapidated, in run down, unmaintained or out-moded use conditions (that is about 67 or the 199 structures) will be immediately affected by the proposed redevelopment and should be expected to respond only negatively when asked.

But what is the true "affected area" and who will truly be "affected persons"? The true "affected area" involves every tax-paying property in Belleville. How is that true, you might ask? Very simply, when viewed from the potential affect of redevelopment on taxes, it becomes immediately clear.

If the B.R.A. is successful in its redevelopment plan (which includes fair and reasonable treatment of any displaced person or business as required by state law) and replaces the total assessed values of approximately $8 million from Mill Street to Joramelon Street along Washington Avenue in the currently proposed initial blighted area, with properties totalling some 25 million in assessed values then every one of the over 7,000 individual homeowners, the multi-unit property owners, all the merchants, and all the businesses in the town will benefit by the tax relief. Instead of penalizing the entire town through oppressive taxation to maintain a deteriorating status quo for the owners of about one-third of the properties in the area to be redeveloped, the Planning Board should be asking the entire tax-paying community of Belleville if declaring blight as a necessary step to redevelopment on all or part of Washington Avenue could result in major tax relief and very possibly tax reduction...would they support it!

As a taxpayer of both private residence and multi-unit property, I am convinced and committed to the redevelopment concept as the only realistically viable way to achieve tax relief in our town. If the Board of Commissioners and/or the Planning Board, or any of the other agencies Mr. Hudson refers to had a better method of achieving tax relief or tax reduction and at the same time to prevent our town from becoming another Newark over the past 15 or 20 years; they either haven't tried it out yet. Or they have tried it and we haven't seen or felt its effect yet. Or they have tried it and it failed badly...so badly, we didn't even know they had tried it!

Hopefully, the avant garde thinkers on the Planning Board will win out and give the go ahead on what could be the best thing to happen to our town in many, many years for the benefit of every single taxpayer in Belleville. Let me close with a simple equation to remember: Redevelopment, through blight deterioration equals a more beautiful "beautiful village" and lower taxes for everyone.

Respectfully submitted,
Gabriel A. Nazzola
B.R.A. Commissioner

Pizzi Doesn't Reply

To the editor:

The May 31 issue of The Belleville Times carried Ed Capparucci's thoughts on Carol Russo's appointment as director of welfare. I am partially in agreement with you that the anger is not directed to Mrs. Russo as much as Commissioner Michael Pizzi. And, why not?

Two letters were written to Commissioner Michael Pizzi concerning the garbage pickups in the Silver Lake area...one in April and a follow-up (with more complaints) in May. To date, no reply. When someone in office, or anywhere for that matter, does not give the courtesy of a reply, one can only assume: he cannot read, he cannot write, or worse, he does not have a "caring" personality.

I have since learned that the garbage people "pick and choose" whose garbage to pick up. Instead of taking all of Belmont Avenue, they invariably take Honiss Street, turn left on Belmont, pick up three houses and then turn around and go the opposite way. Bad enough we get more than our share of holiday no pickups, but two Thursdays in March besides! It's too bad our projectors are not like the Girl Scouts, "Be Prepared." We should have had our own disposal department by now.

Very truly yours,
Ann M. Donatiello

Fire Department Receives Praise

To the editor:

You know I'm sure and am aware that people are constantly moaning, griping and always talking "negative" about all what's wrong with today's living and that the younger generation is not caring. The fact that most people don't care about other people, so that's what you constantly hear about today. It's so bad they say.

Now to tell you about my reason for sounding off with positive reasons, with praise instead for the younger generation today, the good that no one seems to write about or talk or find it not important enough to take time out to mention.

If I were giving out awards, I would be giving one to our Belleville Fire Department, Captain George Sbarra, and the ambulance drivers located at the station on Franklin Avenue.

Praise God and thanks to God for these men.

On April 26, 1984 at 6:30 a.m., I fell down my stairs and in emergency had to be transported to Clara Maass by the ambulance drivers, and was admitted for eight days with a compound broken leg.

Not being able to stand, walk and being on the second floor, I had to be transported several times back and forth to Clara Maass Hospital and to the doctor's office in Bloomfield and then to my home, by the ambulance drivers and I met them all.

My reason for praise as follows: I found each and every one courteous, kind, gentle, compassionate, caring, consoling and very respectful and helpful in relieving the hurt and discomfort I was experiencing all the time. These young gentlemen deserve recognition and praise for their "God caring good" that they are performing and living proof that all are not bad and not caring. These are caring, loving young human beings that are all heart for young and old and helpful always.

Their police captain is to be congratulated with praise, thanks and appreciation for these young men and to say "thank you men, a job well done."

I pray God to bless each one and their precious families and to all of you, too.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Anne Rinaldi

Mondo Family Says Thanks

To the editor:

On Monday, June 4, a fashion show/fund raiser was held at The Chandelier in Belleville for Jackie Mondo, a 20-year-old Bloomfield resident undergoing treatment for cancer.

It is at this time that the Mondo Family would like to express their profound deep appreciation to all friends, family members, and donors who made the evening a huge success.

Our deepest thanks to the following committee members for their hard work in organizing and running the entire affair: Mary Anne Lopreato, Angela Zarra, Grace Constantino, JoAnn Christian, Debbie Cincotta, Rochell Cuzzo, Kathy Constantino, Kathy Dondarski, Leslie Delaney, Geraldine Pravata, and Grace Dondarski.

A special thank you is in order for Tommy Apicella and The Chandelier for a fantastic dinner and all of their help.

Also, thank you to Fashion Unique and Charles Daniels of Nutley for supplying the fashions for the evening, to Kondreck Studios in Belleville, and finally, to Dr. James Orsini whose endless encouragement has been a great inspiration to Jackie and the entire family.

Again, the Mondos would like to thank everyone for making the evening a most memorable occasion.

Sincerely,
The Mondo Family

Golden Comments

By James Golden

It's more than a bit belated, however, we'd be remiss were we not to comment upon Mayor Michael V. Marotti's eighth annual breakfast held Sunday morning, May 27 at the popular Belleville reformatory, The Chandelier on Franklin Avenue.

In customary fashion, the weather gods smiled graciously upon this stellar spring event which brings together old and trusted loyal friends of our township's popular first-ranking citizen. Old timers like Jackie Franz and Bob Dominick were among the 363 people who jammed Tommy Apicella's popular spot where many lingered after the ceremonies to slake their thirst at the well appointed bistro bar.

Lebro Charles welcomed the group with Vinnie Cosenzo leading the Pledge of Allegiance followed by a beautiful rendition of the National Anthem by Susan Santiglia. Deacon Louis Accocella gave the invocation, in a deviation from past affairs at which the mayor's friend and mentor, the Rev. Pascale performed this service, due to the demise of this venerated cleric.

Frank Zinna, Belleville township attorney, did a sterling performance as master of ceremonies introducing Congressman Joe Minish, whom we'll be losing through redistricting, Grace Purdue, president of the Belleville Board of Education, and a brother member of the bar, Frank Pomaco of the Belleville law firm of Gaccione, Pomaco, Patton, Zampino and Jackson, who acquitted himself in an impressive professional manner with just enough aside comments to amuse his audience...even telling a tale "out of school" about the mayor's sportive younger years in celebrating a Belleville High football victory over Nutley.

The mayor in his usual modest manner explained the workings of his organization in supporting youth programs and care of needy families while thanking the guests for their attendance and support, many of whom were local business people and town employees as well as Commissioners McGreevy and Pizzi and Board of Education personnel who were introduced.

The piece de resistance of the program came with the mayor's presentation of Sam Lombardi with his mirth rendered Italian spiced stories that provided entertainment that had them chuckling with tears in their eyes...he is really a crowd pleaser. A pleasant morning among friends.

Hey Jackie Regal! What's all this letter writing bit in the town paper? What's going on, are you having a feud over something? All these letters coming in telling you to stick to lemon ice and hot dogs from people, raising questions over where some contributions they gave are. What's the beef? How are you involved in this?

People reading all this controversial gobbledegook can't head nor tail to it. Who is saying what? Come on Jackie, you've always been an up front, friendly guy who never hesitated to spill out whatever you had to say...so say it...if you know what it's all about.

Frankly, like almost everyone else reading these cryptic letters, we're curious what in hell it's all about. How this exchange got started appears to be a riddle inside an enigma wrapped up in a puzzle. Now you're trying to "burn up" the fire chief. Why?

What's in the wind Jackie...something big? What with the Primary elections over and a lull in political activity until the San Francisco Democratic Convention, we'll wait to observe if you have anything to say about this puzzling letter writing activity.

With graduation behind them and a summer of sun and fun awaiting them we extend our congratulations to all graduates and their happy parents.

With the worried concern of Belleville and Nutley officials over the flood plans of the Army Corps of Engineers that will subject both towns to flooding, it is encouraging to find Assemblyman Steve Aduato throwing in his lot to prevent the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection from "shoving their foolish plan down the throats" of the people of both these towns. This young man is right on the ball and has his ear close to the ground in serving his constituents' best interests. The state Legislature's approval is required before implementation of any plan can be started. That's why we need friends down in Trenton.

Adopt Firm Attitude In Dealing With Father

Dear CMHS:

Just when my husband and I thought we could settle into "a second honeymoon," with our youngest child moving out of the house, we find we have to begin taking care of my husband's father. He's a widower who had been managing on his own for sometime. But lately, he's gotten terribly forgetful. We've found empty pots on the stove with the burner on. He complains of pain but refuses to go to a doctor, cursing them out. We've asked him to come live with us, but he refuses. We're terribly afraid of his starting a fire and hurting himself and others in his building. We're worried about his health but don't know how to get him to cooperate. Can you tell us what to do?

A Worried Daughter-in-law

Dear Daughter-in-law:

It must be difficult to have "freedom" within your grasp and to feel as if your opportunity has been lost. Nevertheless, you do seem very concerned about your father-in-law and ready to help him. His rejections must be especially painful and upsetting.

It sounds as though he is developing some of the common problems of old age. If you have a family doctor, perhaps he would be willing to make a home visit to check out your father-in-law's physical condition. A home visit may be less threatening as well.

It may be helpful to have a trusted and respected person talk with your father-in-law about his current situation. One must be supportive but also firm about the need to establish basic safety for him and those nearby. Sometimes professional counseling is needed to help ALL the family members deal with the reality and make whatever changes are necessary.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. Z. of Belleville asks, "When I brush, the fronts of some of my teeth hurt. What could be wrong?" I suspect, Mrs. Z., that some of your teeth could have "V" grooves near your gum line. This area becomes "V" shaped or grooved after years of brushing in a horizontal stroke, rather than up and down. Also, frequently, a hard brush has been used, which when applied across the tooth acts much like sandpaper on wood. The thinnest part of the tooth (near the gum), erodes, leaving a sensitive part of the tooth without its protective covering (enamel).

My suggestion, then, is to use a medium soft brush; brush vertically, not horizontally, and try some of the commercial toothpastes for sensitive teeth. If your situation gets worse, the nerve may need to be removed. Discuss this situation then with your dentist. Thank you.

Belleville's Summer Basketball Team Starts New Season With High Hopes

Sporting a new look, the Belleville boys basketball team begins play in the Bloomfield Summer Basketball League, the third straight summer in which the Bucs have taken part in the action.

Belleville began its summer campaign with a game against Glen Ridge on Tuesday. Next Tuesday, the team will battle Bloomfield's 'B' squad, starting at 6:15 p.m. Next Thursday, the team will face Nutley, starting at 7:30 p.m. All games will take place at Pulaski Park, Bloomfield.

The head coach of the squad is David Boyd, a recent graduate of Belleville High School and the captain of the 1983-84 squad. Boyd, a top defensive player and a man very knowledgeable with the game of basketball, expects his team to show a new look.

"I think we'll be pretty competitive," the rookie coach said. "We'll be doing a lot of running this year and should fare pretty well on the boards. I think we'll be right in the thick of the competition during the summer."

Belleville has been pretty successful in the past two summers. In 1982, they made it to the semi-finals of the tourney, losing a heartbreaker to Bloomfield at the buzzer. Last year, the team started slowly, then rebounded in the latter stages to post a winning record. Unfortunately, they missed out on the playoffs on the basis of a tie-breaking system.

This year, the names are not as familiar as in past seasons. The talent, however, is formidable and the club should do well. The center will probably be Donald Boyd, Washington. The 6-4 pivotman, who has good leaping ability and should handle himself on the boards quite well. "Washington has good talent," said Boyd. "He will definitely help us during the summer."

At forward will be seniors Mike Sochaski and Steve Kimble. At these positions, Belleville boasts both size and experience. Sochaski, at 6-3, is a tough rebounder. He showed signs of promise last winter, but a broken ankle late in the season, along with a sore back, put an end to any of his hopes.

There is no question of Kimble's ability. Playing with Boyd last winter at forward, Kimble showed a great deal of heart and will mix it up with anyone for a rebound. He is 6-2, strong and has two years varsity experience.

The guards will also be veterans of varsity competition. Nick Sotomayor and Danny Riordan, both upcoming seniors this fall, have been playing together for two summers now and should form a solid backcourt, both this summer and next winter.

Coming off the bench will be some inexperienced but very talented

Braves Breeze By Millburn; Record Reaches 7-9 Mark

It was supposed to be a critical week of action for the Belleville Braves, however, the weather was an even more critical factor and the team was limited to just one game. Luckily, the team won that battle against Millburn and boosted the record to 7-9 on the season.

Once again, this week poses as a crucial week in the team's playoff hopes. On Monday, the Braves hosted Millburn in a make-up game. Yesterday the team was in Montclair and tonight at 6, Belleville will host Verona in a very big contest. The Braves have lost to Verona in three tough games earlier this season and head coach Sal Garilli is looking forward to that game. On Saturday, the Braves will host the Union Rams at 5 p.m. and next Tuesday, the team is in Union for an 8 p.m. start. All home games, as usual, will be played at Belleville High School.

The Braves defeated Millburn, 7-3, last Sunday afternoon in a contest that Garilli was very pleased with. "We're starting to come around," the coach said. "I really believe that this team will be one of the best in the league. I have a tough job this year, keeping all the players happy.

We have a lot of talent. The relief pitching is the key. If that holds up, we're in good shape."

In the Millburn victory, Belleville was aided by the strong play of shortstop Mark Roll. A 230 hitter entering the contest, Roll hit a key single, drove home three runs and led the way to victory. Jeff Prunau picked up his second victory of the season with a complete game performance. "Jeff has been a tough-luck pitcher for us," said Garilli. "He has pitched very well in all of his starts. It's just we haven't given him much offensive support."

Third baseman Joe Corbalis, a 1981 Belleville High School grad, was two-for-four with a run batted in to help the cause. Greg Weber also came through with a run batted in.

With the half-way point rapidly approaching, the Braves have received excellent hitting but have been lacking in the pitching department. First baseman Dominick Vaziano leads the club with a robust 46 batting average, two homers and 16 RBIs. At second base, Mike Cavaluzzi is coming up with key hits and plays a solid defensive game. Over at shortstop, Mark Roll is not hitting for a high average, but his defense has been solid. "I couldn't ask for anything more from Mark," said Garilli. "He's been a very good leader."

Third baseman Corbalis is hitting at .368, with one homer and 11 RBIs. Corbalis also plays a solid defensive game and should be a stalwart down the stretch.

Catcher and outfielder Greg Weber has a 420 average, a team-leading six homers and 15 RBIs. Right fielder and designated hitter Steve Karlick has a .365 average, left field Bill Feehan has smacked three homers, as has catcher Jim Tensfeldt. The Braves have also received strong play from Mike Nicosisia and Danny Gardner. "Gardner gives it everything," said Garilli. "He doesn't play much, but he always comes to give it his best. He's a great team player."

The coach also announced that Pete Artega, a possible professional prospect next year, has been added to the roster. Artega will play shortstop and should bolster the infield.

The pitching staff is where Belleville has been hurting. Anthony Coco is struggling with a 1-3 record, however, Coco won his first game of the season last week and might be on the verge of turning it around. Garilli makes no secrets of the importance that Coco has toward the Braves' success.

Scott Wohlrab has a sore arm and has not been 100 percent through the first 16 games. Scott Lutz started the season off very well, but he's grown a bit arm weary lately and might have to miss a few starts. Prunau is 2-1 and might be the team's most effective pitcher to date. Rich Kiernan and Jerry Weardeann are being used in relief.

"We have a lot of talented players," Garilli said once more. "The problem is some of the players play in other leagues and sometimes we can't use their services. The key is developing some consistency with the players who normally play for us."

Despite some shaky pitching, the Braves are hovering around the .500 mark. They have defeated defending champion West Orange and Irvington thus far this year. They have shown they can play with the best. Now if the pitching can stick together, the Braves might, indeed, make a strong run in the Essex County Baseball League.

NOTES: In tonight's game with Verona, Lutz will probably get the call. In Saturday's contest with the Union Rams, Coco should get the nod. There are no clear-cut leaders in the ECBL at this point and Garilli feels the Braves could make a big move as the season winds down. There are 40 games scheduled for the regular season and with the bad weather lately, a number of make-up games will fill the schedule the last month of the campaign.

Soccer Team Try Outs Scheduled

Excitement is Expected in Summer League

The weather outside may indicate baseball, but a group of determined athletes from Belleville would rather spend their energies on basketball. For the third straight summer, the Belleville boys basketball team will take part in the Bloomfield Summer Basketball League. The competition features a number of local teams and should be good experience for the varsity hopefuls this November.

The coach of this team is David Boyd, a 1984 Belleville High graduate who will attend Bentley University this fall. Boyd was the captain of the 1983-84 Buccaneers and was a stalwart defensive player. Also, Boyd was a team player from the word go. He played with pain, never missed a practice and should be a super coach for the "new" generation of Belleville basketball players.

It seems like the names Borrello, Healy, Colalillo, Zampari, Grant, Kimble and Ward have dominated the scene at BHS for the last three years. They have all graduated, and now a new group of players have emerged, hoping to turn Belleville's fortunes, and bring a consistent winner to the school.

The head coach of the team during the winter months, Joe Papisidero, first entered his team in the summer league back in 1982. Young players like Phil Colalillo, Joe Borrello, Danny Ward and John Healy first got a shot to play on the organized level during the summer months. The team came through with excellent results. In their first season, the Bucs posted a 6-2 record and advanced to the semi-finals of the league championships.

In the semis, they met a good team from Bloomfield in a pressure-packed game. The lead seesawed back and forth and it appeared the team with the ball last would win the game. With 10 seconds left, Colalillo hit a jumpshot to give Belleville a 40-39 lead. Quickly, Bloomfield called time out and Papisidero set his defense.

With seven seconds showing on the game clock, Bloomfield raced quickly upcourt, and as the buzzer sounded, the Bengal point guard tossed in a layup and sent Belleville home a disgruntled, 41-40 loser. Although the Bucs had lost, they had gained some excellent experience. The following winter, with both Belleville and Bloomfield playing in the new NJJHL conference, the two engaged in three tight ball games, with Belleville coming out victorious in two of the games, one of which came in the Nutley Holiday Tournament.

The league gave the two neighboring towns a chance to reinforce a once proud rivalry and was the beginning of a tough series.

Last season, with Colalillo and Borrello, along with Danny Ward leading the way, Belleville finished 5-3, but lost out on the playoffs in a tie-breaking method. Once again, Belleville had battled some good teams and gave a very impressive account of themselves.

This year, the Bucs enter the summer's competition with new faces. The center is junior Donald Washington, a 6-4 leaper who will be tough to contend with on the boards. The Bucs need a legitimate center this winter because they will battle the likes of Paterson Eastside, Kennedy, Passaic, Bloomfield and Nutley. Washington could give them the lift they will need.

The Buccaneers forwards can both be classified as power forwards. Seniors Mike Sochaski and Steve Kimble have played varsity ball and both men are not afraid to battle for loose balls and rebounds. If they all stay healthy, the Bucs could boast a very tough front line.

In the back court, Nick Sotomayor and Danny Riordan are expected to see a good deal of the action. Both men are seniors and both have played together for the past three summers. In addition to running the offense, both Riordan and Sotomayor will be expected to lend a degree of team leadership to the 1984-85 team.

Last winter, the Buccaneers' Suburban Basketball team posted an 18-1 record under the tutelage of Rocco Colucci. The team won the championship and gave basketball fans at Belleville new hope for the coming years. Now, these former eighth graders are set to give the high school game a try. Leon Puentes, a natural talent, should be a legitimate varsity threat, maybe this season, if not then look for him to come on strong next year. The same can be said of Jay Marchese and Ted Sochaski. All three athletes have a great deal of athletic ability and know how to win.

Rich Conklin and Brian Tice, both upcoming seniors at BHS, have experience and team leadership to contribute to the program. They practice hard and should give a great deal to the team.

As usual, the league is made up of teams from this area. Joining Belleville will be Glen Ridge, Immaculate, Essex Catholic, Bloomfield A & B, Parsippany and Nutley. Boyd, in his first summer of coaching, feels his club will be up to the challenge. He's looking for a playoff spot and the development of his athletes during the summer months.

Although the record didn't show it last year, Belleville had a number of hungry ball players. Papisidero has done a good job of putting together athletes who want to win and will give everything they have toward that goal. When Phil Colalillo, the Bucs' big scorer and rebounder, went down with an appendectomy, Belleville was 4-3 and starting to perk. Without him, along with the loss of Mike Sochaski, the Bucs tumbled to 6-18. However, Papisidero had nothing but good things to say about his athletes. They always gave a good account of themselves, quite often against some tough competition, such as Ridgewood, Teanc, Hackensack and St. Joseph's.

The program seemed to be reaching high gear after the 11-16 record of 1982-83 that included a victory in the state tourney against Weequahic and a near miss against the eventual state champion, Plainfield. After last season's 6-18 mark, Belleville will begin with new faces, a fresh start and renewed optimism that a winning season, that has eluded the school since 1975, can once again find its way to the proud halls of BHS. The summer league is the first step toward that goal. Good luck to the Buccaneers as they embark on a new era. The team opened play last Tuesday against Glen Ridge and will battle Bloomfield's "B" squad this Tuesday and Nutley on Thursday night. All games are played at Pulaski Park. Game time for the Bloomfield game is set for 6:15 p.m. and the Nutley game, on July 19 will start at 7:30 p.m. If you have the time, stop over and cheer the team on.

Finally, look for our first "Flashback" series in next week's edition, something to wet the appetites of Belleville trivia buffs.

Cook and Buono Head Bucs' Honor Roll

Tillman, Boyd, Huamani and Gilday Also Named

By Michael Lamberti

Twenty-four athletes were selected to the Buccaneer Honor Roll for the spring semester, topping the number of athletes who made up the winter and fall teams. The Buccaneer Honor Roll is a list of the top athletes at Belleville High School. In order to be selected, the student must post a "B" or better average in the classroom and show leadership potential on the field. In the fall, 22 athletes made the list, and in the winter, another 22 were listed. It's always nice to see the student-athlete do so well because the person who can perform both in the classroom and on the field deserves special recognition.

This semester's nominees are led by Patty Bliss, Desiree Johansen, Dina DeAquino, Tracy Ann Buono, Michael Giuffrida, Jimmy Apple, Frank Tursi and Joe Borrello. Bliss, Johansen, De Aquino and Buono were selected to the honor roll for all three semesters.

This semester's student-athletes begin with:

Tracy Buono (softball): A four-year star in softball, a fine volleyball and basketball player, Buono was a coach's delight. She set 18 hitting records during her softball career and was an exceptional student. She will attend Rutgers University in the fall and will leave a legacy of class and team pride for others to follow at BHS.

Joe Borrello (baseball): The senior finished a fine career with a .330 average, a super fielding percentage and a sharp eye for the baseball. A fine point guard for the boys' basketball team, Borrello compiled a 3.8 grade point average for his four years and should be a very successful collegian next fall.

Dennis Bogden (track): A senior with a great deal of potential, Bogden threw the shot put and discus for John Tosato this year. Competing in both indoors and outdoors, Bogden showed marked improvement during his career and was an excellent team leader.

Patty Bliss (track): What more can you say about Patty? An exceptional athlete, Bliss will go down as one of the best runners in school history. She was a very dedicated athlete who put in a great deal of time and effort to her running. Only good things can be wished to her in future years.

David Boyd (tennis): The senior had a marvelous year on the court. He finished with 13 wins, five losses at first singles and defeated some very good opponents. In the classroom, Boyd has a near straight "A" average and will be attending college in Massachusetts next fall. A fine leader and dedicated athlete, Boyd should do very well in the college ranks.

Elena Gilday (crew): The senior was the coxswain of the championship girls' junior four boat. She possesses a near straight "A" average and was a solid performer during her four years at BHS. Winning the National Championship last month in Delaware was the final feather in the hat of a very versatile athlete.

Jim Apple (golf): Rocco Colucci has nothing but raves about this young man. The Upsala-bound student was the leader of a young team that posted an 11-5 record. Apple was a very consistent performer throughout his career and Colucci feels his best golfing days are ahead of him. Needless to say, Apple is also a fine student.

Dina DeAquino (softball): It will seem strange to be covering Belleville sports next fall and not hear Dina's name. She was practically an institution during her four years here. A fine all-around athlete and excellent student, DeAquino won 54 games during her softball pitching career. College is in her plans, although Dina has not made a final decision yet.

John Auriemma (baseball): The junior had a big game when Belleville edged Ridgewood, 7-6, in an NNJIL contest. He powered two homers and was named to the first team, NNJIL Division II for his work as designated hitter. Auriemma hit .354, with two homers and 11 runs batted in.

Bill Huamani (track): The second time around for this improving junior, Huamani first made the scene during cross country and showed continued improvement during track. Next season, he should team with Craig Burden and Bob Hutchinson to form a good cross country squad. His times improved drastically during the season and with that trend, Huamani should be a very big asset next year.

Herb Petrat (tennis): Another student with a near straight "A" average, Petrat played second singles and teamed with Boyd to form the smartest one-two punch in the area,

BHS are over.

Joe Mullaney (baseball): When the Bucs started off 2-3-2, head coach Ralph La Conte made a few changes. One of them was to bring up Mullaney from the jayvee. It was a move that paid instant dividends.

honors student, Hwang played first doubles with Pat Tortoriello and finished with a 13-7 record. Hwang and Tortoriello won some very exciting matches and helped the Bucs to a 9-11 campaign. He will attend NJIT next fall.

standing athlete, Cook played soccer, basketball, golf and baseball during his career. This season, playing varsity baseball for the first time in two years, he won a starting role at first base and did a marvelous job defensively. At bat, Cook hit .245 with one homer and 11 RBIs. In addition, Cook was a standout goalie for the soccer team and a guard with the basketball team. Brian comes from a very big sports family and should do very well in college.

Mike Siletti (track): Siletti set school records in the triple jump and 400-meter hurdles this season. The junior impressed head coach John Tosato with his athletic ability and determination. Next year, Siletti should be the leader of an improving track team that is looking to make an impact in the NNJIL.

Mario Silvestri (baseball): Silvestri hit .353 this season, with one homer, 20 RBIs and 18 hits. The senior did a fine job, either as the designated hitter or pinch hitter.

"Mario was our Rusty Staub," said Ralph La Conte in praising Silvestri's pinch-hitting abilities.

Craig Burden (track): Only a freshman, this young man has a world of talent. Before he is through, he could break the mile and two-mile records at BHS and might challenge the cross country marks. He is a natural long distance runner and will only improve with age.

Dave Long (baseball): Long rounds out our honor roll for the spring. The sophomore hit .350 playing third base, pounding out 29 hits in 83 at bats. Long hit three homers, drove in 13 runs and should be one of the team leaders next spring. He started the season at third base and would not be denied the rest of the year.

Once again, congratulations to all the members of the Buccaneer Honor Roll for the 1984 spring semester. In the July 4 issue, we'll salute the top student-athletes for the entire school year.

Herb will attend NJIT next fall after completing a tennis career of .500 for four years. This year, he compiled a 10-9 record.

Andrew Colaninno (crew): Another student with a near perfect average, Colaninno competed for the boys' crew team for three years. The senior was praised by his coach Sam Giuffrida, for his all-out ability and team leadership. The crew teams at Belleville have been very impressive and Colaninno is one of the reasons why they have posted such a strong record.

Desiree Johansen (softball): Only a sophomore, Desiree made the honor roll for all three semesters. A fine tennis, basketball and softball player, the sky is the limit for this young lady. During the softball season, Johansen played shortstop and did not strike out during the entire season. She has tremendous range and a sure arm. On top of her athletic abilities, she is an excellent student and should receive a great deal of recognition before her days at

The junior was a red hot hitter, finishing with a .338 average and three homers. Next year, Joe should be one of the most feared hitters in the NNJIL.

Frank Tursi (baseball): Tursi led the Bucs in pitching and hitting this spring. He had two homers, drove in 30 runs and hit .424. Playing right field, he had a perfect 1,000 fielding percentage. On the mound, his record was 5-5, but he led the Bucs in strikeouts and innings pitched. Tursi was one of the keys to the Bucs' 16-9-2 season.

Tim Daudelin (track): The second time for Daudelin, who excelled for the indoor track team. Daudelin and Dennis Bogden were the only seniors on this year's track team and both did a super job in the weight events. The senior was a team leader and excellent competitor. His throws improved steadily during the season and his leadership helped the younger athletes improve their throws.

Joon Hwang (tennis): A high

Michael Giuffrida (crew): Giuffrida started the season late after a tremendous wrestling season. He was the coxswain for the crew team, dropping weight in order to keep that post this year. Giuffrida was recognized as one of the best wrestlers on the Buccaneer lineup last season. He won 17 matches and competed for the wrestling and crew teams for four years.

Cheri Tillman (softball): Tillman played jayvee ball last year for Carl Corino, but this season, she was with the varsity and did an exceptional job. The junior, who is known as a tremendous tennis player, came through with some key hits and will be one of the leaders next season when the girls look to win back the county crown.
