Trustees Voice Outrage Over Late Report Cards

By Ed Capparucci

Outraged with the delay in the sending of the high school report cards, School Board members once again demanded an explanation from administration officials.

"I know that we were told once before the reasons for the delay in the mailing of the report cards to the senior high school students," said trustee Phil Linfante, "but I would like the administration to read off the reasons given, so that the public is aware. There are many people in this community who I have spoken to in the past few weeks who are very upset about the delay, and I believe they deserve an explanation to the reasons why."

The high school report cards were finally mailed to parents on July 5, even though the last day of school was June 22. In a report to Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, the head of the Belleville High School guidance department, Dr. Richard Benninger, listed seven reasons for the delay in the mailing of the final school grades.

- A change in the state regulations mandates that each student have 180 days of instruction. As a result, finals did not conclude until the end of school.

- The report cards were not delivered to the guidance office until June 22. All of the counselors had left, according to their contract on June 20.

- Much of the high school staff, actually most of the staff, attended the computer training program during the week of June 25.

- Dr. Benninger excused himself to proofread the report cards. He had several corrections.

- Mrs. Michelli, the computer operator, was ill at the end of the week of June 25.

- Mrs. Michelli made the corrections on July 2 and 3.

- July 4 was a legal holiday.

- Today, July 5, the report cards are being prepared for mailing.

Michael Lally, assistant superintendent of schools, told the trustees that while the issuing of report cards this late in the Belleville school system was quite unique, it is common practice in surrounding communities.

"As you have come to realize there are a number of circumstances as indicated for the delay and we don't expect it to be duplicated in 1985," he said. "But I would like to add that some surrounding communities don't mail report cards until mid-July. This is not an unheard of practice, and more districts are moving in the direction of mailing report cards."

But board Vice President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino didn't like the administration's explanation for the delay.

"I simply refuse to buy this explanation for the late mailing of report cards," he told the audience at Monday night's School Board meeting. "We are on a computer system and should have had the report cards ready in no time."

"There is a motivation factor involved here," he continued. "These children work hard all year and want to see the results, but instead they are forced to wait several weeks after the closing of school before seeing what their final grades are. Administration said one reason for the mailing system being put in place was to check the addresses of the kids. What are we fools? That is for the birds. Our objective in this situation is to inform the parents and children about the progress, or lack of it, during the course of the school year, not find out correct addresses. I just do not buy the explanation."

Only One Bidder Shows Up

Commissioners Reject Garbage Contract Bid

By Linda Telesco

Competition was not exactly fierce to obtain the township's scavenger contract for next year.

In fact, when only one bidder arrived with a proposed fee in a sealed envelope at the July 10 township meeting, commissioners agreed to reject the bid, unopened, and re-advertise.

"I don't think we advertised in enough papers," said Mayor Michael Marotti this week. "I want to run this again in more papers, maybe New York papers, to get a variety of figures."

The long bidder last week was, in fact, Belleville's current scavenger, Browning-Ferris Waste Industries, Inc. (BFI) of North Jersey.

Anticipating substantial hikes in garbage collection costs for the coming year, Marotti said commissioners hope to attract more bidders at a special July 30 meeting slated to accept new bids.

Belleville's one-year, $598,425 contract with BFI expires on Sept. 10 of this year.

The current contract was awarded to the Fairfield-based firm last year following a legal dispute over Belleville's first decision to hire BFI last January.

At the close of 1983, commissioners awarded BFI a five-year, $2,778,992 contract to collect Belleville's garbage. The Fairfield firm won out over only one other contender, L. Pucillo & Sons, a local firm that had been the township's scavenger for over 20 years.

Soon after, Pucillo took legal action against Belleville and BFI charging both with irregularities in the bid award.

The courts declared the five-year contract invalid and ordered the township to rebid its contract.

In a second round of bids July 11, 1983, BFI and Pucillo were again the only competitors with the Fairfield firm submitting the lower bid once more.

However, commissioners were enraged that BFI's new quotes were substantially higher than the prices named in its original contract, citing a one-year cost of $599,000 and a five-year cost of $3,685,742.

The firm defended the higher prices by saying it failed to show profit collecting at the rates established the preceding January.

Angered, commissioners decided to reject both July bids and rebid again.

The third round of proposals was received last Aug. 18 with only BFI and Pucillo seeking the contract.

Although proposing the lower bid, BFI's rates were still higher than they had quoted in January when first hired by Belleville.

Commissioners agreed to go with the Fairfield firm for only one year. Mayor Michael Marotti expressed the hope and possibility that after a year of study, Belleville might begin its own scavenger collection and avoid these bidding sessions.

This week, however, Mayor Marotti said that alternative was still vague. "We'll have to study it further. Not many towns are doing it."

He noted that overhead costs of obtaining trucks and adequate personnel to do the job locally could be prohibitive.

Although the mayor said if only one bid comes in on July 30 commissioners will open it anyway, he noted that BFI's service this past year has not been entirely satisfactory.

"We've had some complaints from taxpayers about the hours BFI comes," said Marotti, noting that garbage is sometimes not collected until afternoon hours in some areas of town although the scavenger contract specifies it should be done in the morning.

"I just hope we have more to choose from next time," Marotti added.

Gas Station Hours May Be Restricted

A plan to prohibit township gas stations from operating after midnight is under study by commissioners and may be introduced at the Aug. 14 town meeting.

Mayor Michael Marotti said this week that he directed township Attorney Frank Zinna to draw up an ordinance to restrict the business hours following a recent request by a service station owner.

The businessman, who asked not to be named, urged commissioners to establish such an ordinance in order to offset a recent decision by Shell Oil Company to convert two of its stations to 24-hour operations.

"We're being forced into adding hours we don't want," the station owner said at a recent town meeting. He predicted such an action would attract more crime, hangouts, noise, and other problems.

"We don't want this. It's not worth it to keep our business open and pay an employee for the kind of business we'll do on that shift," said the merchant.

Marotti told The Times this week he agreed that 24-hour stations would be a nuisance and a disturbance to surrounding residential areas.

"Based on what we already see with other 24-hour stores in town, we don't need this too," said Marotti.

The mayor noted that only two stations in town would be affected by the Shell Company's decision.

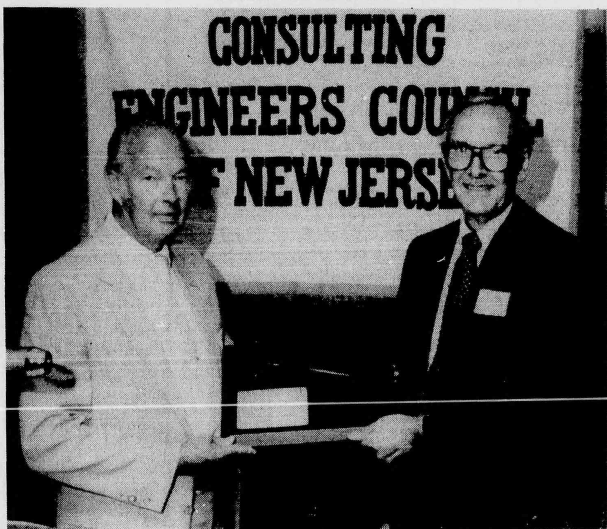

Presently, the only local service station that is open 24 hours is the Hess station on Franklin Avenue.

Marotti said he is not yet sure if the proposed ordinance will affect all township stations or only those which border on residential properties.

"I'm asking the town attorney to study the legality of the restrictions and we'll study it from there," he added.

Heavy Debris Is Upsetting Mr. Grande

The Department of Public Works is not responsible for removing rubbish and debris caused by contracting work, such as house renovations and landscaping, according to Commissioner Joseph Grande.

"People have been expecting us to remove anything they put on the curb and we just cannot do it," Grande said. "When a sidewalk is removed, or major renovations are done in a home, the contractor is responsible for removing the debris, not the Department of Public Works. We will not remove concrete, lumber, piping or other materials a contractor leaves behind."

Grande said summons would be issued to anyone who continues to leave heavy debris on the curb.

Belleville Business Bureau

By Howard Halpern

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is proud of its industrial members. There are many prominent industries in Belleville that directly or indirectly affect our daily lives. Gordon Engineering Company, 13 Essex St., is one of these companies. Company President James Gordon has been in Belleville for eight years manufacturing pipeline strainers. Having just merged with Hayward Industrial of Elizabeth on July 5, it will be making swimming pool products and water strainers which will increase its product line. Gordon Engineering had gained prominence by manufacturing pipeline strainers for the Alaskan Oil Pipeline project and for Saudi Petro Chem., one of the largest refining projects in the world. Gordon also supplies nuclear and fossil strainers for cooling systems at every major power plant in the country. We sincerely wish Jim Gordon success with the new merge.

Another prominent industry in town is Hanlon and Goodman Company, known as H & G Industries at 6 Main St. Mr. Hanlon and Mr. Goodman founded the company over 115 years ago, in 1867. Company President Lee Stuart informed me that H & G is a major manufacturing of paint brushes and paint rollers such as nylon, polyester, and bristle. There are currently about 100 employees on the payroll. H & G manufactures brushes and rollers for many department stores and paint and hardware retailers all over the country. The next time you're shopping at Sears for paint supplies, that paint brush or roller you buy was more than likely made in Belleville.

One of our dearest and longtime members of the Chamber of Commerce and currently vice president of retail division is Shirlee Sherman. Shirlee and her husband Sol own Sherman's Children's Wear, 155 Washington Ave. They have been clothing tiny tots in Belleville for the last 22 years. Some of the young mothers can even remember having their clothes bought at Sherman's when they were children. Even then Shirlee greeted them with a big warm smile as she still does today. Shirlee's many credits include: past president of PTA, past president of the West Orange Chapter of B'nai Brith, organized two Brownie troops, involved in charity organizations such as Danny Thomas's St. Jude Hospital, was first and only woman elected to the Board of Trustees planning committee at Clara Maass Hospital. The Shermans have three children and two grandchildren. Their son Marc is a radio announcer in Oklahoma. Their daughter Dayle is married with two children living in Rochester, N.Y., and another daughter, Debbie, is assistant buyer for Gimble's Department Store. Besides the Belleville store, the Shermans have another location in Nutley. Shirlee will be organizing our sidewalk sale in September.

K-Mart is Offering Vanderbilt Products

K-mart discount department stores in the New York and New Jersey areas will begin later this month to sell home furnishings designed by Gloria Vanderbilt. K-mart executive vice president of merchandising, Norman G. Milley, announced today.

The designer line of merchandise will include sheets, comforters, kitchen textiles, rugs, towel ensembles, shower curtains and tabletop fashions.

The K-mart stores scheduled to launch the Vanderbilt program in New Jersey include the Belleville store located at 371-411 Main St.

The Gloria Vanderbilt products sales were kicked off at the domestic centers inside 28 Detroit-area and two Savannah, Georgia, K-mart stores. Milley projected that several hundred K-marts slated to have domestic centers by year-end would offer Gloria Vanderbilt merchandise.

A typical K-mart price for a twin sheet from the Gloria Vanderbilt collection would be $10.97, according to Milley. He noted that K-mart would continue to sell sets of sheets from other makers for about $19.97 a set. The Vanderbilt bath towels will retail for $7.97 at K-mart, he added.

The new domestic centers are part of a chain-wide effort by K-mart Corporation to align its stores with the dynamic tastes of American consumers.

If anyone should be familiar with the strength of the sun at the beach and its effect on the skin, it is a lifeguard. When you see one at the beach with a white cream on his nose and lips, you may not know what it is but you suspect it must be good. Your suspicions are correct. Generally, that white cream is titanium dioxide. This astringent, when combined with an opaque substance such as red veterinary petroleum, blocks the sun's rays. What is more, unlike most other sun-blocking preparations, it will stay on the skin even after swimming. Another related compound, with much the same effect, available at most pharmacies, is zinc oxide.

There are many different commercial brands of sun tan lotion and screening compounds. When you have a question on any of them give us a call at RUSSELL'S PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We have a complete prescription department and provide free delivery. Rabbi Students Receive Awards

Three students at the Rabbinical College of America in Morristown received the Robert C. Gruhin Academic Excellence Award for memorizing the entire Talmudic Tractate of Bava Basra with Commentaries. This tractate, the largest in the entire Talmud, deals with the intricate Jewish civil laws of property ownership and contains 352 pages. The three awardees are: Eli Barber, Yosef Shanowitz and Menachem Scheinberger.

Gruhin, an attorney in Belleville, has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the college since 1967 when the college was housed in a one-family frame house in Newark. He was instrumental in the purchase of the 15.2-acre tract in Morristown in 1971. In November 1982 he was honored at the Mortgage Repayment Dinner of the college. Gruhin's children initiated this Academic Excellence Award in honor of their father and his many years of active leadership at the Rabbinical College.

Rabbi Moshe Herson, dean of the Rabbinical College, introduced Gruhin as "one of the pioneers toiling for the dissemination of Torah and Judaism and as one who was successful in transmitting this spirit to his children who are also active at the Rabbinical College." Gruhin's son, Stephen, a Belleville attorney, is a member of the Board of Trustees alongside his father.

Rabbi Yisroel Y. Piekarski, Rosh Haveshiva of Central Lubavitch Yeshiva in Brooklyn, conducted the examinations. He expressed his delight at the proficiency of these young men.

As Gruhin was about to distribute the awards, Rabbi Piekarski expressed his blessing and hope that next year, God willing, 20 young men should receive awards for memorizing a Talmudic tractate. Gruhin turned to his children that were present and lovingly admonished them to "work hard" so that we can award the Academic Excellence Award to 20 students.

The Rabbinical College is an affiliate of the worldwide Lubavitch movement and serves as headquarters for all Lubavitch activities in the state.

Weight Care Seminar Set For Clara Maass

Health Management Resources in association with Venkat Gandhi, M.D., Endocrinologist of Clara Maass Medical Center, will be holding a free educational seminar on Weight and Risk Factor Management at the School of Nursing auditorium, Clara Maass Medical Center, on Wednesday, July 25, at 7 p.m. to introduce a comprehensive medically supervised weight management program.

The two key speakers will be Venkat Gandhi, M.D., the medical director for Health Management Resources, who will be speaking on the risk factors associated with being overweight and the medical safety and effectiveness of low calorie diets, and Lawrence T.P. Stiller, Ph.D., the director of HMR and the founder of the program, who will examine why dieting fails over the long term and what the average person should and should not do to lose and maintain weight.

"Weight loss is not the cure the obesity," according to Dr. Gandhi. "Weight reduction is only the first step. Weight maintenance and long-term risk factor reduction requires a time intensive educational program." Dr. Stiller adds, "Weight management is a learned skill. People need to be re-educated in terms of learning facts and individual procedures for total calorie balancing."

Gas Stations

Belleville Township Commissioners have been requested by a group of gasoline service station operators to adopt an ordinance restricting the business hours of the stations.

They want stations to be open from 6 a.m. to midnight.

The station operators were provoked into this action because of Shell Oil Company's decision to convert two of its stations to 24-hour operations.

The Township of Belleville residents do not need 24-hour gas station service.

Whether or not a 24-hour station is economically feasible is not important — the commissioners should address themselves to who would be using this service from midnight to 6 a.m. Certainly an overwhelming number of Belleville residents do not need this service. We can only conjecture that the midnight to 6 a.m. gas station hours would be a convenience for out-of-towners. Obviously, such a circumstance would lead to a needed increase in police patrol — disturbance of Belleville people during the night hours in quiet residential neighborhoods.

Indeed, the commissioners should move on the requested ordinance at the earliest possible moment.

Geraldine Ferraro

Former Vice President Walter Mondale shocked the political establishment by choosing Congresswoman Geraldine Ferraro of New York as the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee.

Ferraro's selection is a first in more ways than one. She is the first female and the first Italo-American of either major party to be a nominee for the second highest office in the land.

The Congresswoman is well qualified to be Vice President of the United States. Of humble origins, at an early age, Geraldine Ferraro was obliged to share the burden of maintaining a household since her father died when she was 8 years old.

We can well imagine the trials and tribulations of an 8-year-old child denied the right to a father's love, to grow up in a home where overnight a child becomes an adult, sharing the burdens with a caring mother, an Italian immigrant.

It is with ethnic pride that we salute the selection of Geraldine Ferraro as a candidate for one of the two major offices the American people determine the occupancy every four years.

The question in November is whether the nation has grown up enough to admit that a woman can be one heartbeat away from the presidency. We think so. Based upon her personal and public record, Geraldine Ferraro is qualified not only to be Vice President of the United States, but also President.

Critics complain that she lacks experience in foreign affairs. This also could have been said of President Ronald Reagan, the former actor. True, millions of Americans think Reagan has been a failure in foreign affairs. But no matter — whether it be Geraldine Ferraro or someone else, the critics would lodge the same complaint. Fortunately, it is not valid. As a member of the United States Congress, Geraldine Ferraro has voted on a number of bills relating to the conduct of our foreign affairs. This lady is no dope. She is a learned woman — and very perceptive. Is there more that Geraldine Ferraro could learn about foreign affairs? Of course there is. But that could also be said of President Ronald Reagan. Judging from the problems in the Mid East, Central America, Latin America, there is much more for Reagan to learn.

We thought Mondale would have gone to Gary Hart to solidify his party base. The Ferraro selection was a surprise to us — a pleasant one at that.

Of one thing we can be sure, Geraldine Ferraro's candidacy in 1984 insures the election of a female Vice President in 1988. The Democratic Party cannot repeal history — in 1988, it must continue to select a female as its Vice Presidential nominee. The Republican Party can do no less. So — if Ferraro doesn't make it in November, be assured she or another female will make it in 1988.

God bless the ladies — their time has come. America is ready.

It Just Can't Be Worse

To the editor:

On June 13 at approximately 10 a.m., my apartment in Belleville was burglarized. Fortunately, nothing was taken that cannot be replaced. My privacy was invaded, my personal property taken, and I had an unwanted visitor in my home. Was I angry? You bet I was! When others heard of my situation, their famous words were "it could have been worse."

On June 21 at 1:45 a.m., my car (which was parked in front of my home) was totally destroyed by another vehicle which plowed right into the rear of it. My car hit the car in front of it, which in turn hit the car in front of him. In a matter of minutes, Belleville's finest arrived on the scene, as did half the neighborhood. Fortunately, no one was injured. I was told by one of the police officers that the young lady who was driving "did not mean to do it." After looking at my Pontiac Ventura, which now was the size of a Toyota, I found this to be of little consolation. By the driver's, and her passengers' admission, they had just come from two establishments, both of which serve liquor. When I asked one of the officers if the driver was going to be given a breathalyzer test, I was informed she was not. Throughout this entire incident, it seemed to me the officers were more concerned with the three young ladies than with those of us who had suffered a loss (through no fault of our own) because of this incident. The next day I received a copy of the police report. In my opinion this too left much to be desired.

My niece will be driving soon, and this car had been given extra tender loving care because it was to be given to her. Needless to say, she was very upset to find out the car is a total wreck.

Am I angry? That's putting it mildly, and I apologize to no one for feeling as I do. I vehemently resent the destruction of my property, not to mention the expense and inconvenience which has been forced upon me by this incident. Once again the great philosophers of the world had their words of wisdom for me. "It could have been worse." To all you insensitive clods who offered me no solace, let me say this. You're right, you're absolutely right, it could have been much worse, it could have happened to you.

Sincerely,
Josephine Della Vecchia

Sorry, No Times Today

To the editor:

I am a subscriber of The Belleville Times and a senior citizen. I want to tell you I didn't get The Belleville Times the week of June 14. One other time I didn't receive the paper and I called up about it and was told if I didn't get the paper on Thursday or Friday, to forget it. What kind of help do you have that tells a person that? I pay for my subscription every year. You don't forget to send the bill. I also subscribe to The Belleville Times for my son, and I should pay the senior citizen price. It is out of state. In other words, it is 3:4 per year. The senior citizen price should be $9 out of state. In other words, I pay a total of $21 for subscriptions. I am owed two weeks of papers. You can print this in your paper. I'm sure there are other people who miss some issues and also pay for their own and out-of-state subscriptions.

Just wanted you to know I didn't get the June 14 paper.

Yours truly, ploited the fears of a large portion of our society — senior citizens. Readers of the June 21 issue of The Belleville Times were treated to a litany of twisted quotes, and hysterical speculation concerning the present and future of the Social Security System. It is not difficult to obscure and pervert the facts concerning such a highly charged issue especially during an election year. Mr. Golden has taken the opportunity to deride the President, and the Republicans in Congress, through a campaign of scare tactics and blatant bias.

The well informed reader already knows that a bipartisan commission consisting of both Democrats and Republicans was formed in an attempt to make the Social Security System solvent, and sustaining. Committee members from the Democratic Party were appointed by House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, and together with their Republican counterparts, they arrived at a temporary solution that will preserve the system into the near future. The commission's findings were enacted into law only after they were endorsed by the Democratic leadership, and approved by the Democratically-controlled House of Representatives. I think it ludicrous to treat a wholly American problem in such a partisan manner, but I realize this is Mr. Golden's style, and I've learned to accept it. I urge the management of The Belleville Times to re-examine the opinions of its readers, and possibly retire Mr. Golden and his unyielding partisan ideology. As Americans, we have to deal effectively with national problems by encompassing all beliefs, and making decisions that will not always be pleasant or appealing.

Respectfully,
Richard Yanuzzi

Send Reagan Back To Hollywood

To the editor:

President Reagan is a good actor, and a clever politician. He knows his way around, and how to use his words hoping the people would be stupid enough to believe him and forget the hardships he has created for millions of people.

It is too bad Jesse Jackson is a black man with a white man's heart. He has done more good for the people as an outside candidate than any president with the exception of Abe Lincoln and F.D.R. It is being said we never had a war under a Republican president. The truth is Abe Lincoln, the greatest of all presidents in this country, had no enemies to fight, so we had the Civil War. He was a Republican, not an actor.

President Reagan is the leading actor in this script. He is fighting an undeclared war without the approval of Congress, and Americans are being murdered by our enemies. The billions of dollars we are sending across the ocean cannot buy that peaceful solution. Mr. Reagan must be defeated at the polls. Before he became a famous actor, he came from a poor family. His father was laid off from his job, and they also suffered the same hardships we are facing today because of his policy, and the cutting of programs which has created this mess, and could lead to more serious problems in everybody's backyard here at home. So don't be afraid to rock the boat. Go to the polls, and make your vote count. Vote the Democratic ticket. It is our only hope to survive. If the people in Belleville love me as much as I love them, they can show it at the polls in November. And send actor Reagan back to Hollywood where he belongs.

Sincerely yours,
Albert Guadagni

Where are the Officials?

To the editor:

A few weeks ago I was going through cable television when I came to cable 36 also known as OBC-TV. It had a telenovela for a little girl who needs money for another kidney. As I watched the show, all of a sudden I saw former commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo give a check for $100 and he sat there to answer the phones. After the last election, he said he was going to stay active. But I didn't think he would. I saw people in active government from Passaic, Bloomfield, Clifton and even Senate President Carmen Orechio was even there. I didn't see anyone from Belleville's Commission Board or Board of Education trustees. Mr. Strumolo, stay active in town and I'll be there to support you in 1987. You'll be back on the commission then. Also Mr. Frank Orechio, keep up the great work! God bless you all.

A Cute Story About Six Ducks

To the editor:

Early in the afternoon of June 20, six ducklings found their way to Mitchell Street. Obviously lost, they waddled up and down the street, in and out of driveways.

Although our neighborhood was delighted with these little visitors, we were concerned for their safety (cats and cars).

My neighbors and I were able to round up five little ducks, but the sixth fell into a sewer. We took the five ducklings to Booth Park and they nervously hopped into the river.

The sixth duck swam around in the sewer for about three hours. I decided to call the Belleville Fire Department and Deputy Chief Santaglia and Fireman Carmen A. Vicari responded almost immediately.

Their speedy action saved the day! Fireman Vicari removed the sewer grate and the little duck was lifted to safety with a fishing net. Belleville's finest then took the duck to join his siblings at Booth Park.

Our entire neighborhood thanks Deputy Chief Santaglia and Fireman Vicari. They are truly heroes on our block!

Sincerely,
Lynn S. Falduto

Golden Comments

By James Golden

There being many aphoristic clichés, none more inevitable than the ogre of eternal taxes to plague us, to the property owner who receives and individually pays his taxes, the mailman has already delivered the bad news of higher Belleville taxes, 48 points higher than the last tax bill.

The property owner who has a mortgage where the lending institution from which he borrowed to acquire the property pays the taxes thereon, will probably not feel the increased impact upon his monthly payments until the lending agency informs the mortgagor of the increases required to compensate for the higher tax levy payment upon the property...this will commence with the August payment.

There are many contributing factors responsible for these tax increases including the penny-pinching policies of the Reagan administration's cutting of federal grants to state, local governments and local school districts which must be passed on to state and local taxpayers. Likewise, salary increases are negotiated, often by binding arbitration required by PERC statutes that are made retroactive. Fuel and power bill increases along with higher telephone service charges compound the increases as scavenger contract costs soar...all, with few exceptions, beyond the control of local officials.

The local tax rate also reflects the increased costs of both the county and local school board budget increases both of which added 12-point increases to the township tax rate which with the township's 24-point rise produced the 48-point increase.

There can be little doubt but that the average wage earner and retired person on a fixed income is badly hurt by these property tax increases. Especially is this so, since the worker in private industry gets scant, if any, earning improvement while those in government employment and school employees continually clamor for and get salary increases...that these poorly paid workers must pay for. The officials that grant these generous raises to win friends and garner votes should remember that generously spending other people's money, who can't afford it, can backfire. It is about time the average citizen "wake up" and call a halt to this madness. How long can it continue?

There is no deception in the local tax bill, however, it can be misleading unless the taxpayer attune his calculations to fiscal computation of his tax payments as does the township.

Let's use an illustration as follows: Mr. X owns a home on Y street in Belleville assessed at $40,300. His 1983-84 tax bill, $4.90 rate called for payment of $1,974.70. This year's new 1984-85 tax bill, $5.38 rate calls for payment of $2,168.14. This reflects a speciously plausible, but misleading, increase of $193.44 over the previous 1983-84 tax bill, unless it is computed on a fiscal basis.

Comparison of 1983-84 tax bill with 1984-85 tax bill on fiscal basis: 1983-84, Aug. 1, $501.74; Nov. 1, $501.73; Feb. 1, $493.68; May 1, $493.67; total, $1,990.82; 1984-85, Aug. 1, $590.40; Nov. 1, $590.39; Feb. 1, $542.04; May 1, $542.03; total, $2,264.86. Total amount is $274.04 greater than in previous fiscal year.

This will indicate that on an overall fiscal year payment of taxes, the new 1984-85 tax bill will represent not a $193.44 increase on a fiscal basis, but a $274.04 increase...$80.60 more than the assumed $193.44 increase.

We'd suggest that this formula be computed to get a truer picture of what your local tax increase will actually be when the comparison is made on a dollar and cents output of quarterly tax payments in contrast with the total quarterly tax payments made in the 1983-84 previous tax bill.

It is shameful the cringing hardships these harrowing tax bills impose upon our elderly citizens bereft of other than meager income that barely provides subsistence to keep body and soul together must put up with, while fearing the loss of the very house they dwell in at the threat of a tax sale for delinquent payment of taxes.

They can expect no compassion nor help from President Reagan, he's going to increase their Medicare costs to add to their problems, perhaps it would be wise for them to analyze their poor position in life and assert their collective power as voters to improve their lot.

The Italians are Coming

Vice President Ferraro.

It has a nice ring to it, not because she's a woman, but instead because she's Italian. Never in the history of this great nation of ours has a person of Italian ethnic background served at the post of president or vice president, and it is truly a time for change.

Take a moment to think about all the great Italians who would have made great presidents or vice presidential candidates. There was the great explorer Christopher Columbus, although his age would have been a negative factor. How about Al Capone — no, he was a little too colorful. There is always that Good Seasons dressing lady, Anna Maria what's-her-name. Nah, it's too long anyway. Of course, there is my favorite choice — the Marx Brothers. Imagine the White House receptions they could have held! How about Sylvester Stallone — no thanks, many of us wish he wasn't Italian. All that Adrienne stuff is simply too much to handle.

Well now I have it, the perfect choice. A man who has charm and sophistication. A man of man words and catchy phrases. He is a gentleman whose looks have captured the attention of many over the years. Yes, the only Italian who would win as vice president during the November election is Yogi Berra.

Now I know there are many who are saying at this very moment, "If he can't win with the Yankees, how can he win the presidency of the United States?" Well, I say to you, my fellow Americans, stranger things have happened.

I can see it now, billboards which read: "Yoo-Hoo, America's drink." Buttons with catchy slogans, "Forget About October, We're Concentrating on November" or "It Ain't Over 'Til Yogi Wins."

But since Yogi is busy with his so-called baseball team in the South Bronx these days, I guess we will have to rely on Representative Geraldine Ferraro to lead the charge for Italians this November.

But on the serious side, Walter Mondale really boosted his chances of winning by selecting the New York congresswoman as a running mate, while at the same time may have brought some type of unity to the Democratic Party.

which was on the verge of self-destruction.

Is Geraldine Ferraro a strong enough force to carry Mondale to Pennsylvania Avenue in January? I don't know and only time will tell if anyone can defeat Ronald Reagan this fall. But the choice is an excellent one for women and Italians throughout this country.

In case any of you parents are not aware, it is against the law to have children under the age of 5 ride in a car without proper seat belt protection. The legislation, which was enacted in April of 1983, requires all children under 18 months of age and children under 5 years of age in the front seat to be properly buckled up in a child restraining seat when traveling in a motor vehicle. As back seat passengers, children ages 2-5 may be buckled in a seat belt. Violators are subjected to a fine of up to $25 per offense.

The reason I mention this state law is that I have noticed many young children standing up in the front seats of cars as mommy speeds down the street. It makes me sick to think what would happen if the car stops short for any reason. So think twice and buckle your kids up.

Hello, Japan — Carol White, art assistant at the Newark Junior Museum, brought a far away land to the children in the Clara Maass Medical Center pediatrics unit with the Museum's "Hello, Japan" outreach program. Pictured with White are Kenneth Arata and Tammy Stager. The program was one of a series of activities conducted by the museum to aid young patients at Clara Maass.

Newark Junior Museum Is Reaching Out to Kids

"Hello Japan" is just one of a series of outreach programs that the Newark Junior Museum will be presenting to the children who are patients in the Clara Maass Medical Center Pediatrics Unit during 1984. Robert Califano, director of recreation therapy at the Medical Center, has arranged for the museum's visit. The program includes a slide show, clothing, music and art activities, including origami and calligraphy scrolls.

"It's a program for children of all ages," said Califano. "The younger children enjoy putting on the robes and holding the dolls and the teens enjoy working with the crafts, such as origami."

The Museum's programs will vary throughout the year. Some of the topics include "Plant Life and Flower Talk," "Japanese Fan Making," "Puppetry" and "American Indian Crafts and Folk Tales."

"The most important part of the program," Califano revealed, "is that it breaks up the monotony for the children and it helps to make their hospital stay a positive experience."

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Majo

Ms. Linda Pascale asks, "How do I choose a good dentist?" When looking for a good dentist, the single most important item is good communication between patient and dentist. After a thorough examination, which includes a full-mouth series of x-rays, the dentist should take the time to go over the x-rays and explain his clinical findings, present problems and any that may arise in the future. Any resulting questions should then be answered to your satisfaction.

At this point, a "course of action" should be established, with the focus of attention being on your present problem. To avoid any further problems, proper home care and techniques should be addressed.

Be aware of how thoroughly your examination was administered. A complete dental exam consists of the following: inspection of mouth and facial tissue, jaw movement, gums and underlying bone tissue, throat, neck, glands, and of course, all teeth for decay and looseness. Thank you.

Belleville's Past

Prior to 1800 the American demand for ship sheathing was limited to the copping of a few ships. Acknowledgement of the effectiveness of sheathing spread, the use of copper for American ships increased. To obtain the necessary copper for the shipwright and the coppersmith, Americans continued to import it from England. Copper mining in the United States was still a minor industry, and where it was pursued — in Connecticut, New Jersey and Maryland — its production was insignificant. A limited knowledge of metallurgy restricted attempts at copper refining and kept those industries dependent upon nonferrous metals from expanding. The craftsmen and the metalsmiths also depended upon the English manufacturer. This was the advantage of the British smelters and rolling mills, who enjoyed the ready market in the former colonies for pig lead, copper, tin and spelter and for the articles manufactured from these metals, which could not be produced in the United States. By guarding her knowledge of technology, Britain was in a unique position to protect her manufacture of brass and copper utensils, the drawing of iron wire, the rolling of sheet and plate copper and the preparation of spelter or commercial zinc.

Between 1784 and 1798 because of the rapid growth of English industry, Americans were given a greater opportunity to purchase a wide range of goods of such excellent quality and price that they were dissuaded from launching a program to develop their own manufactures. No thought was given to the production of copper when it could be freely imported from the Bristol mills in pigs or sheets.

Dependence upon English manufacture was precisely what public-spirited Americans feared. Although they were more concerned with establishing the production of cotton and woolen fabrics, the dressing of skins and leather, the manufacture of paper, and the preparation of flax and hemp than with the production of nonferrous metals, they recognized the obstacles confronting the metal trade. Americans became major consumers of English manufactures, and the shipping trade that encouraged foreign goods to pour into the United States weakened the pleas for domestic manufacture.

Fully aware of English technological superiority, foresighted Americans attempted to change this situation. Among the few in the metal trade who stepped forward to apply their mechanical genius and business skills to industry, and who had the courage to invest in manufacture, were Nicholas J. Roosevelt, Paul Revere, and Harmon Hendricks. During the first decade of the 19th century, their efforts helped release the forces of technology and invention dependent upon nonferrous metals.

You Can See The Times Has Changed

Today's issue of The Belleville Times is the first published to conform to a new nationwide Standard Advertising Unit (SAU) system.

Although not all weekly newspapers are adopting the new format, more than 96 percent of the nation's larger dailies are now part of the standardization which officially went into effect July 1.

The Times was one of the first newspapers in the United States to adopt a six-column news format which today has evolved into the SAU system. In recent years, larger papers including the Star-Ledger and New York Times also adopted the six-column news format.

"Back when The Times first changed, it was difficult explaining to advertisers what we were doing, and why we were adopting the six-column format," recalls A. Richard de Antoni, director of marketing at Orechio Communications.

With increasing competition for advertising, especially from television, large companies and advertising agencies found it increasingly difficult to "size" advertising repros for the newspaper industry.

An ad appearing in the Star-Ledger, for example, was slightly different than the same ad run in the Herald News or The Belleville Times.

The new SAU system is designed to end that confusion. As of today, an advertising repro for The Times will "fit" exactly into the column widths of The Ledger, Herald News and more than 3,000 other newspapers around the country.

The Times also will convert legal advertising to a wider column width this month. The new format will make reading those small-type legal notices from Town Hall, Essex County and other institutions easier.

Although the cost of an ad in the SAU system has not changed, the formula for determining the billing price is being converted to inches rather than advertising lines.

Throughout the industry, the traditional measurement using picas and points is being dropped for inches. That agreement came after several years' research by the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

At The Times, the conversion with today's issue required extensive computer changes not only for billing advertising, but for those computers which drive phototypesetting units.

The width of a page in The Times has also been reduced by three-quarters of an inch and each of the six news columns are now slightly more narrow.

Advertising agencies already have received extensive literature explaining the new system. Pertinent information as it applies to local advertisers is being explained by sales account executives on an individual basis.

There are 56 standard advertising units that are now acceptable to The Times and other broadsheet publications (non-tabloid).

Classified advertising is the one area not affected by the conversion to the SAU system.

Nutley Savings Has 'Interest' In Conducting New Survey

More than 1,000 patrons of Nutley Savings Loan Assn. in recent days have been telling the firm's management what they like and dislike about the local financial institution.

"The feedback has been enlightening, to say the least," reports John V. Kelly, president of Nutley Savings.

He already has learned that the number one complaint of his customers are the long lines frequently encountered at teller windows.

"We won't have the final results of our marketing survey until Labor Day, but already we're preparing to adjust our schedules to cut down on those lines," Kelly said this week.

The marketing survey he refers to was designed by the Nutley public relations firm headed by Tom Barret and Tony Mattola.

More than 4,600 survey forms, accompanied by a personal letter from John Kelly, were mailed to selected patrons of Nutley Savings. The selection was made to coincide with the geographical makeup of the institution's patrons.

"What we were trying to do was give our customers and opportunity to tell us how we can better serve them," Kelly continued.

The survey questioned, for example, a customer's use of automatic teller machines ("MAC Banking"), their financial goals such as providing for college education or retirement and the reasons why they chose Nutley Savings in the first place.

The responses are being fed into a computer over the summer and will be ready for a detailed analysis by Labor Day. But Kelly says he knows already some changes will be made such as altering the lunch hour schedules at the bank to help reduce the time a customer must wait before seeing a teller.

Besides evaluating the bank's service, Kelly also wanted Barret and Mattola to develop a profile of the Nutley Savings' patron — who he or she is, where they live and how best can the bank reach them through advertising.

"Once we know who's banking here, then we'll know who is not and we'll go out and get them," Kelly smiles.

Another early result of the marketing survey is a positive reaction to Nutley Savings' overall effort to promote community spirit and activities.

"The results appear to fortify the bank's image that community service is a most important investment," notes Thomas Barret of the local public relations firm. "The survey shows that people are not only aware of the bank's support of community activities, but that the concern expressed by Nutley Savings means something special to local residents."

Kelly says the marketing survey is chalking up a better than 25 percent return which is remarkable considering the national average return for direct mail is about one percent.

But the high rate of response, says Barret, "is probably directly attributable to the fact that Mr. Kelly addressed a hand-signed letter to each person receiving the survey. A lot of people therefore were responding to a personal query from John Kelly himself."

After the results are tabulated, Kelly says he'll release the information both to the bank's board of directors and the public.

Besides questions involving family finances, likes and dislikes, the survey asks which daily and weekly newspapers are read, and how much attention is paid to national and local newscasts on television, including cable.

Nutley Savings for more than four years has advertised daily on the local newscasts originated by OBC cable in Nutley which are now seen in all surrounding communities.

Braves Even Mark at 11-11 With Excellent Week

There It Goes — Greg Weber, who leads the league in home runs, connects on a grand slam against Verona. The Braves won six games last week to boost their record to the .500 mark.

Weber's Bat and Outstanding Pitching Leads the Way to Four Big Victories

Benefitting from solid pitching, the Belleville Braves enjoyed a successful week, winning four games in six tries and boosting their team record to 11-11 on the year.

On Tuesday, the Braves were in Union and will host Irvington tonight, starting at 6 p.m. from Belleville High School. Tomorrow, the Union Jays come to Belleville High for a 6 p.m. start. On Saturday, the Braves travel to Union for a doubleheader with the Jays, starting at 2 p.m. On Sunday, Montclair State College comes to Belleville for a 5 p.m. start and next Tuesday, it's Parsippany at Belleville, starting at 6 p.m.

Last Sunday the Braves won a doubleheader, defeating Millburn, 4-2, in the opening game and then stopping Verona, 5-2, in the nightcap. "Although we had a good week record wise, we're still playing inconsistently," said head coach Sal Garilli. "We have a good team. The thing that will hurt is the inconsistent play."

In the doubleheader victory, Mike Cavaluzzi pitched the distance in the opener against Millburn. Greg Weber, who leads league in home runs with 10, had an RBI. Bill Feehan had an RBI single and Jim Tensfeldt had two hits and a RBI.

In the nightcap, Belleville stopped Verona for the second time in a week. Anthony Coco, who started the season slowly, is now throwing very well. Coco pitched the full seven innings in picking up his third win of the summer against one loss. "He's back on track," Garilli said of Coco. "He gave us a second complete game in a week and has become a pitcher rather than a thrower. His control is good and he doesn't try and throw pitches by batters. He's become a smart player."

Coco had ample help from his teammates. Greg Weber, who Garilli classifies as the best hitter in the Essex County baseball league, drilled two home runs to lead the way. Weber tallied four RBIs on the game and has been practically unstoppable of late. Mark Roll, who is playing a solid defensive game at shortstop, tallied two hits and Dave Starr had a single and RBI on the day.

Last Saturday the Braves lost to Union, 11-5. This was a contest in which Belleville and Union were tied at five entering the seventh inning. However, some questionable fielding by the Braves in the last frame, along with some key hitting by Union, broke the contest open. Glen Colatella pitched for Belleville, but he was hurt by the Braves' defense. Dominick Vazzano and Tom Foster hit homers for Belleville.

Against West Orange, the Braves lost, 8-1. As the summer heat increases, the feelings of warmth between these two clubs continues to dwindle. "There's no love lost between us," said Garilli. "They have a good club, but we feel we can beat them. They didn't see us play our game, but we'll be playing them again this summer."

West Orange, the defending champions and currently the team with the best record in the league, received some solid pitching and limited the Braves' bats to one extra base hit. Pete Artega drove home the only Belleville run with a single. Scott Lutz lost it for Belleville. Rick Kiernan, a Belleville native, pitched four strong innings of relief to give Garilli a positive note in the bullpen.

Earlier last week, the Braves stopped Verona for the first time this season, 6-5. "That might have been the most exciting game of the year for us," said Garilli. "Everyone played well and we needed to beat Verona to get back in the chase."

The big hit of the game was a grand slam homer by, who else, Weber. "Aan College product is specializing in the long ball and could be drafted next spring in the major league draft."

Scott Wohlrab was the winning pitcher, hurling on "Sheer guts and determination," according to Garilli. Wohlrab boosted his record to 2-2 with the win. Jim Tensfeldt also powered a homer and Cavaluzzi had two hits.

Finally, the Braves started things off with a 5-0 whitewash victory over Millburn. Coco pitched the entire game to earn the victory. He struck out four, allowed just four hits and, as mentioned earlier, appears to have his game in high gear.

After a slow start, Belleville appears to have things going in a positive direction. They have never been above the .500 mark this late in a season and Garilli is hoping the squad can continue the winning ways. Entering this week's action, Belleville had 18 games left on the regular season. "Every game is important now," the coach said. "It's money time. There are a lot of teams battling for a playoff spot and we're right in the middle. It should be a very interesting second half of the season."

Sochaski's Last-Second Shot Helps Boys Stun Glen Ridge

A hook shot by senior Mike Sochaski at five seconds lifted the error-prone Belleville basketball team to a 58-56 victory over a stubborn Glen Ridge squad in the opening game of the Bloomfield Summer Basketball League.

Dave Boyd's team battled the Bloomfield "B" squad on Tuesday. Tonight, in what is viewed as a critical contest, the Buccaneers will face arch rival Nutley and the Maroon's tough guard, Pat Higgins. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Tuesday the Bucs take on Parsippany, starting at 7:30 p.m. All games are played at Paluski Park, Bloomfield.

"We played well on the boards, but our shooting was poor," said Boyd. "Our defense was good. I think we forced at least 30 turnovers. I was happy with the running game, but we weren't finishing the breaks. We missed a lot of shots and weren't too impressive from the foul line."

The statistics will bear that out. From the free throw line, Belleville shot just 33 percent. From the field, the Bucs hit just 45 percent. For Glen Ridge, Bill Kennedy tallied 35 points with a solid outside shooting game.

The Bucs trailed by a field goal at half time, having missed 11 foul shots. In the second half, Belleville missed 11 more free throws, but the play of Ted and Mike Sochaski on the offensive and defensive boards kept the Bucs close enough to pull out a victory.

Senior Nick Sotomayor led the way with 15 points. The guard will be relied on this winter to help with points and ball control. His backcourt partner, Danny Riordan, came through with nine points. Mauricio Puentes tallied 13 points in his first start against varsity competition. Puentes will be a freshman this fall and was a main contributor to the championship of the seventh and eighth grade team last winter.

Senesky's Troops Facing Tough Schedule

Working with the slogan, "We're going after the best," the Belleville football team recently completed the annual lift-a-thon, with extraordinary success. Head coach John Senesky, entering his eighth year at the reigns of the program, expressed pleasure with the results and is looking forward to the 1984 campaign.

"We will be facing the toughest schedule this program has seen in a long, long time," the coach said. "There isn't one break the entire season. I think the NNJHL might be the toughest conference in the state this year."

Senesky's troops are indeed in for a tough and challenging season. On opening day, the Bucs will be on the road, in their "lucky" white uniforms to battle Don Bosco Prep. In 1983, Don Bosco won the state parochial A title, downing Bergen Catholic for those honors. The game is set for Sept. 22 and a 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Week number two sees Belleville at home, for a rare night game, against Bergen Catholic. This will be the first meeting between these two schools and it promises to be an exciting game. Bergen Catholic, which won the 1982 state championship, boasts a solid program once more and will be no picnic. The game kicks off at 7:30 p.m. from Municipal Stadium.

The third week of the season, Belleville travels to Paterson to face the Ghosts of Eastside. Although the Paterson school has not had much success in the past few seasons, the team is under a new coach and Senesky feels the Ghosts will be a formidable team. That game is set for Oct. 6, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Week number four and an old nemesis to battle in the Bengals of Bloomfield at Belleville. This game is a 7:30 p.m. kickoff on Oct. 13 and once more, will be a difficult test. Belleville has defeated the Bengals the past two seasons, winning 21-6 in 1982 and 14-0 last year. However, Bloomfield's program is improving and should challenge the Buccaneers.

The team will not need much motivation for its opponent on Oct. 20. Week number five welcomes the Indians of Passaic, the 1983 state champions and a very bitter rival. Last year, the Indians rallied in the second half to defeat Belleville, 28-7. In 1982, the Bucs won, 3-2, in what might have been the biggest victory in school history. In 1981, it was Passaic, 7-0, in 1980, Belleville won, 13-9, and in 1979, it was Belleville once more, 26-14.

Passaic will be without the familiar Hayward brothers, but the program is a solid one and will offer no breaks. Kickoff time for that classic will be 1:30 p.m. from the friendly confines of Municipal Stadium.

Following that war, the competition is just as rugged. In week six, on Oct. 27, the Bucs will take on Clifton High School, in Clifton. These two teams did not play in 1983, but Belleville breezed past the Mustangs, 37-0 in 1982. The Mustangs are a much improved team since that last meeting. In 1983, they earned a state playoff berth, losing to North Bergen in the closing seconds.

Week number seven will see Belleville in Paterson once more, this time taking on a good team in Kennedy High School. Kennedy is now coached by Frank Bonadies, who enjoyed excellent success at East Orange High School. Kennedy, which usually boasts a solid defensive team, lost to Belleville, 14-0 in 1982, the last meeting between these two teams.

After the "breather" with Kennedy, the mighty Mounties of Montclair invade BHS for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff on Nov. 10. The Bucs have not enjoyed success with the Mounties in previous years. Last season, the Bucs were on the short end of a 14-6 count, and over the years, Belleville has just one victory over Montclair, 7-6 in 1980.

Finally, the Thanksgiving Day game will truly be a classic. The opponent there will be the arch rival Nutley Maroon Raiders at what should be a jam-packed Municipal Stadium. "Throw away the records for that game," Senesky said. "It should be a tremendous battle. The game will not influence playoff chances for either team because the bids will already have been extended. This will be a fun game, with a lot of intensity."

Belleville has owned the rivalry since 1978. Last year, these two met on opening day at Nutley and the Bucs won its sixth straight from the Maroon, 12-6. Nutley's last victory in this series came in 1977, 7-0. The Raiders are coming off a 7-3 season last year that included a playoff appearance opposite Union. It should be a super game.

In order to prepare for such a difficult schedule, the Bucs players have been working hard on the weights. At the lift-a-thon, held in late June, four players bench pressed over 300 pounds for three repetitions. The leader of that group was senior Mark Walsh, a quarterback and all-county safety. Walsh cleared 345 pounds.

Anthony Capaccio was second with 300 pounds, Dom Di Paolo was third at 315 and Bob Moezika finished at 300 pounds. Capaccio, Di Paolo and Moezika are linemen and should bolster a solid Buccaneer line. Another strong lineman, John Apicella, was unable to compete in the lift-a-thon, but he'll be there come September.

Of the 50 athletes who took part in the lift-a-thon, 25 of them cleared 200 pounds on the bench. Leading the way was another lineman, Anthony Torromedo, at 295 pounds. John Oliveri came in at 285. Ed Stangl placed at 280, Steve Tribuna bench pressed 275, Steve Kimble finished at 270, Todd Conforti finished at 265, John Gonnella placed at 250, as did Anthony Gizzo and James Capon.

All told, the lift-a-thon netted some $2,500 and the funds will be put toward the coaches' scholarship fund. In 1984, Frank Zangari was the winner of the scholarship for excellence on the field and in the classroom. Zangari will attend Seton Hall University this fall. Other winners of the award have been Robert Cancelliere (1983), Frank Fazio (1982), Ken Constantino (1981), Edward Aulisio (1980), Angelo Santinelli (1979) and Ted Zangari in 1978.

"Our entire staff was very happy with the results," said Senesky. "We will be facing a tough schedule this fall and the kids are working hard toward that goal."

The Buccaneer decathlon will be held in late August, as the prospective players are tested in endurance, strength and speed. The regular workouts will commence in early September.

Senior Dominick Cerreto took second place in the AAU-USA Junior Olympic National Wrestling tournament, held in Indianapolis, Indiana on July 13 and 14. Cerreto competed in the elite division (17-18-year-old) at 123 pounds. Last winter, Cerreto was a main contributor toward the Buccaneers' undefeated grappling season. Competing at 108 pounds, Cerreto posted a 23-3 record and should be very tough this year.

Cerreto's younger brother, Joseph, placed sixth in the intermediate division (12-13-year-old) at 100 pounds. Other Belleville wrestlers who competed in the tournament were Emilio Nardone (fourth place, midget division, 65 pounds) and Armando Nardone, who competed in the advanced division (14-15-year-old) at 121 pounds, but had to drop out because of injury.

The wrestlers advanced to the National Tournament as a result of their participation in the qualifying tournaments held in Newark, Delaware and Richmond, Va. Future plans include competition in the Ohio State Fair Tournament and the All Sports Festival in Jacksonville, Fla. Certainly congratulations go out to the Bellevillites who did such a splendid job in the tournament.

Rotary Captures Little League Title

The Rotary Club defeated Knights of Columbus to win the Belleville Little League World Series. They captured the championship by winning two games 11-3 and 3-2. Rotary had ended the regular season play by winning 18 straight games and then added the two world series games to finish the season with an unprecedented 20 wins and no losses.

FIRST GAME

Rotary 11, Knights of Columbus 3. John Sternick and John Clenaghan blasted home runs and Stacey Johansen hit two doubles to lead the Rotary Club over Knights of Columbus to win the first game in the Belleville Little League World Series. Ray Caruso had three hits with two RBIs and Robby Ricci added three hits, with a double and three RBIs, to help the Rotary attack.

Artie Zaccchia went all the way for Rotary, giving up four hits and striking out fifteen K of C batters. Frank Orrie led K of C with two hits.

Yankees Captures Second Straight Senior League Championship Title

The Senior/Intermediate League Yankees captured the league's first place title this season for the second straight year. This year's record was 11-3-1.

Leading the team's offense was Teddy Sochaski with 25 hits. Jeff Spilsbury and Vinnie Orrie added 19 steals to the team effort.

Eugene Danchak did an outstanding job as the Yankees' fireball pitcher. Danchak finished with a record of 4-1-1. He tallied up a total of 59 strikeouts, 19 of which were in one game. Ted Sochaski also did a fine job of pitching for five games with a record of 4-1 and 36 strikeouts. Jeff Spilsbury pitched in three games, had three wins and 17 strikeouts. Additional assets to the Yankee defense were Sal Calandra, the Yankee catcher, and center fielder Donald Tusno.

Each member of the team will receive a trophy for the league title.

The Yankees' 1984 roster included: Eugene Danchak, Ray Backe, Sal Calandra, Mike DiBiasi, John Hromok, Chad Lennon, Mike Mackey, Vincent Orrie, Don Tuosto, Teddy Sochaski, Jeff Spilsbury, Tom Wolfe, Brian Scherer and Antonio Llamas.

The Yankees were coached by Charles View and Earl Wake.

The Giants won their final game by holding off the frisky Cubs, 9-7. Jay Marchese scattered six hits while his Giants' teammates hammered out 10 hits led by Ernie Brodie who had four hits and scored three runs. Dawson Bloom ripped three hits to help his Giants' teammates win their final game of the season. They lost four games and tied two. Coach Paul Bowles' Giants wound up in second place with a 9-4-2 mark.

The Action Really Starting to Heat Up As Rec Softball Season Nears a Close

It was make-up week in the Belleville Recreation Wednesday "A" Softball League. Because of rain through the season, July 9 and 10 were needed for a doubleheader action. The DeBacco Brothers (9-4) remained in first place by sweeping four games, smashing Charles Daniels, 15-3 and Mr. Dee's Rock Arena, 19-3, and squeezing by DeLorenzo Construction and Rossmore/Hess, 4-2 and 10-9, respectively. Burger King also fared well, winning three of four. It stopped Charles Daniels, 5-2, Rossmore/Hess, 4-3, Mr. Dee's, 3-1, and lost to DeLorenzo Construction, 7-4, to raise its record to 5-7. Dropping another game, Charles Daniels (5-8) lost 15-3 to Rossmore/Hess (8-5) before shelling Mr. Dee's (6-7), 9-3. Finishing the week, DeLorenzo Construction (5-8) lost to Mr. Dee's, 5-2, and Rossmore/Hess, 7-5.

Head to head results during the season determined the final standings. After dropping its 13th straight contest, Suburban Cable won the last game of the season over J & R Insulation (4-11) by a score of 8-7. Champion Bumpers finished in fourth place (6-9) by splitting two games.

Sochaski's Shot Wins Opener For Belleville

All in all, it wasn't a bad way to start the summer competition. Despite not playing a very impressive game, Belleville managed to pull the game out. Now the attention focuses to the Nutley and Parsippany contests that will be crucial if Belleville hopes to make the playoffs in August.

NUTLEY: Belleville has not defeated Nutley in summer play. Ted Sochaski, who improves with each game, will be a freshman this fall. If older brother Mike stays healthy this winter, the Bucs' front line should be very formidable. Belleville is hoping to come out of the Parsippany game with a 4-0 mark.

Religious Viewpoint

A strange enemy invaded the fields of North and South Carolina a decade ago. Known in South Africa as the little red flower, this unwelcome visitor, a delicate bright green plant, grows to be 9 or 10 inches high. It is a pretty plant with gay red and orange flowers shaped something like a violet. It has never before been found in the Western Hemisphere.

Known as Witchweed in the United States, its way of life is one of the strangest in nature. The plants produce vast numbers of barely visible seeds, sometimes as many as half a million from a single plant. The seeds fall to the ground and mix with the soil, where they can lie for 20 years or more without losing vitality.

A seed does not normally germinate until the rootlet of a suitable plant creeps close to it through the soil. Influenced by a mysterious substance that the root secretes, the seed wakes up. Out of it pokes a root that makes through the soil, attaches itself to the host and thrusts sucking tubes into its juicy tissues. Then life begins for the parasite; it quickly generates a network of roots and underground stems. Sometimes hundreds of Witchweeds compete to strangle a single host plant.

As I thought of this interesting story, I wondered what Witchweeds are working in lives to keep people from genuine Christianity?

Witchweeds that blind one to the reality of the new life in Jesus Christ are numerous. For instance, there is the Witchweed of professing Christians who live a double life; who go to church on Sunday and then do questionable things the rest of the week.

Perhaps Witchweeds, dormant from younger days that have now grown into a hatred for Christ and the Bible. Parasites of all descriptions, can keep individuals from the new birth. "You must be born again" (St. John 3).
