Scavenger Bids Rejected Again

By Linda Tetesco

Finding a garbage collector for Belleville is a matter not easily disposed of.

Commissioners voted Tuesday to reject the two bids received July 30 for the township's new scavenger contract.

It was the second time this summer Commissioners received and rejected bids for a contract to replace the current one which expires Sept. 10.

In this week's special session, Commissioners Joseph McGreevy, Joseph Grande and Ralph DiRuggiero voted to reject widely-varying proposals from the township's present scavenger, Browning-Ferris Waste Industries (BFI) and a Hoboken competitor, Haul Away, Inc.

BFI quoted prices of $844,874 for a one-year contract, $2,654,382 for three years and $4,732,460 for five years.

Lower bids were offered by Haul Away with a one-year quote of $604,000, three years at $1,927,000 or five years at $3,444,400.

Though Commissioners had determined the low bidder could do the job at the named price, they followed the advice of township attorney Frank Zinna and rejected even the Hoboken firm's bid because the company failed to submit all required documents at the time of bidding.

In delivering his opinion, Zinna reminded the board of the legal action taken against Belleville last year for awarding, originally, a five-year contract to BFI, even though that company did not submit necessary documents at the time of bidding.

According to Zinna, Haul Away failed to include an affidavit of non-collusion at the July 30 bidding, but submitted the document the following day when informed of the requirement.

Similarly, BFI had failed to submit both an affidavit of non-collusion and a financial statement during bids in December 1982, but supplied the required documents several days later.

A competing bidder at the time brought a lawsuit against Belleville and BFI when the township decided to award the Fairfield firm a five-year contract commencing January 1983.

In March 1983, Newark Superior Court Judge Richard Newman voided the contract and ordered Belleville to rebid.

Despite appeals, Belleville was forced to rebid and ended up awarding a one-year contract to BFI at a higher cost than the firm originally quoted for the same period.

"Belleville must reject these bids and rebid the contract," advised Zinna Tuesday in an effort to avoid a replay of the past.

Haul Away's president, Joseph Scagorza, attended the session and protested the decision through his attorney Patrick

St. Bartolomeo Annual Feast Is Scheduled Aug. 14-19

The annual feast in honor of St. Bartolomeo will be celebrated Tuesday, Aug. 14 through Sunday, Aug. 19 on the school grounds of St. Anthony's Church, 25 North 7th St.

This week-long feast will consist of food, games and rides, starting every evening at 6:30 p.m., Saturday at 4:30 p.m., and Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

A procession with the statue of St. Bartolomeo begins at St. Anthony's Church on Sunday at 2 p.m. going through the streets of Belleville. There will also be music provided by the Dick Perry Band.

All proceeds from the feast will go to the church.

Rev. Joseph J. Cestaro, pastor of St. Anthony's, and his committee are hard at work to ensure that all who come will have an enjoyable time. People from all over come to the feast.

School Board Trustees Annoyed By Stadium Locker Room Cost

Members of the Belleville Board of Education are totally confused and upset with the results of a simple renovation project at the Municipal Stadium locker rooms, which has turned into a total modernization effort — all without board approval.

Back in May the trustees agreed to join with the township commissioners in "simple renovations" of the locker rooms at the Belleville High School Municipal Stadium at a cost of $4,000, which was to be split between the two boards. But three weeks ago, thanks to an inspection of the project by board President Grace Purdue and trustee Phil Linfante, the one-time $4,000

"No one has been given approval to spend more than $2,000 worth of board money to renovate the locker rooms at the municipal stadium," said trustee Gabe Nazzola, who was the most vocal of all the members. "How does a project, which we are told will cost $4,000, get so out of whack that it now cost as much as $25,000? And what is worse is that the board had absolutely no idea of what was going on and the increase in the cost of the project. I want to know who gave the maintenance people approval to go ahead and spend taxpayers' money."

The maintenance work originally planned for the stadium included painting and repairing the piping in the locker rooms and showers. The job has included installation of water coolers and the repairing of the public restrooms.

"The stadium is owned by the town, why should we put the money to pay for the repairs needed there?" said Nazzola. "Here the School Board is being the nice guy by agreeing to split the cost of repairs in the locker rooms with the town, but in no way should we split the cost of repairing the public restrooms."

"This is town property and we got suckered into paying for a major remodeling project," he continued at the board's weekly meeting. "Someone had to take it upon themselves to expand this project without board approval. I believe that both the mayor and

Mr. (Joseph) Grande (maintenance supervisor for the Board of Education) knew well in advance that this project would cost more than $4,000. We were suckered."

But Mrs. Purdue disagreed. "I don't believe that we have been had by the town in this matter," she said. "Because I don't think they really knew what was going on themselves. It's not fair to blame the town. We started the

Modern Technology Aids Taxidermist Procedure

When people think about a taxidermist, they envision works of deer, bears, fish and other forms of wildlife, which some happy hunter wants to preserve as a memory of one of his finest moments.

But thanks to modern technology, owners of domestic animals, such as cats, dogs and birds, can also have their pets preserved.

"With this freeze-dry machine I can take care of anything as small as a fly to as large as a human being," said Orlando Mutica, owner of a taxidermist shop at 501 Washington Ave. "I can do small animals which other taxidermists don't want to be bothered with at all." The freeze-dry machine is relatively new and Orlando is one of the lucky taxidermists in the tristate area who can perform such a process. What the machine does is freeze the animal and remove all the fluids and moisture.

The conventional way a taxidermist preserves an animal is by taking it apart, cleaning it out, and then putting it back together again.

"Quality is the major point behind this process," said Orlando, who has been doing taxidermist work for the past 14 years, including the past five for the public. "By not having to take the animal apart, a taxidermist can make sure that the final product is that much better. It is a little more expensive than the conventional method, but the results are much more satisfying."

"Another benefit of this machine is that we can do small animals which most other taxidermists would not take, including household pets," he continued. "I can do cats, dogs, turtles, frogs, snakes and birds. It is truly a remarkable method of preserving animals."

Orlando also pointed out that conventional taxidermists cannot do any salt water fish. "What they do is get a model of your fish and paint it," he said. "With this freeze-dry machine, you get your original fish back."

Orlando's wife, Fran, is also active in the business, but not with animals. She makes floral arrangements "which last forever."

"Having a freeze-dry floral arrangement is perfect for a bride who wants to keep her flowers after the wedding," Fran said. "What I do is very different than what a florist does and the price is very reasonable. A florist will charge someone $12 to $15 for a silk rose, while for $12 I give them two real flowers which will last forever."

Orlando's shop is open Monday through Friday from 6-10 p.m. For more information call 759-7853.

Freeze Dried — Orlando Mutica, owner of a taxidermist shop at 501 Washington Ave., stands before a freeze-dry machine which he uses in this business. With the aid of freeze drying, a taxidermist can service a wide variety of animals, including domestic pets.

Belleville Business Bureau

By Howard Halpern

There are many categories of gifted artists including painters, sculptors, singers, actors, etc. The general consensus is that artists are born with these attributes. Michael Corino of Fountain Flowers, 340 Belleville Ave., is definitely in that elite category. Mike has been in Belleville for six years. Some of his accomplishments include designing the floral arrangements for the Annual Senior Citizens Awards Luncheon held at the Town and Campus Caterers in West Orange. He is in charge of the floral decorations at the famous Nanina's Restaurant in Belleville. Fountain of Flowers have recently added balloons to their arrangements for birthdays, new babies, and get well wishes, a nice idea for those special occasions. Mike and Denise Corino have one son, Michael Ryan, 2 years old.

To educate a child properly, he or she should be enrolled in a pre-school program at about the age of 2. This training will be extremely beneficial throughout all of his school years.

Sylvia View's Magic Cottage Pre-School, 37 Montgomery Place, prepares children for elementary school. The New Jersey state-certified Magic Cottage features three classes. The first class consists of children 2-3 years old, learning how to share with others, music appreciation, songs, small muscle coordination with puzzles, pegs, and exercise. The second class has 4-5-year-olds, learning how to read, write, draw, read the calendar and clock, plus exercising, dancing and music. The third class is elementary school kindergarten for 6-year-olds. Since public school kindergartens are only half-day sessions, working parents can leave their 6-year-olds at the Magic Cottage kindergarten as late as 6 p.m. without worrying about early pick-up. Each class has a certified teacher and a teacher's aide. Hot lunches are prepared along with snacks during the day. The children also go on field trips such as the library, post office, fire department, etc. Health services are available for booster shots and hearing tests. For further information call Sylvia at 759-8758.

In the past few years, street organ grinders have become obsolete. If you miss watching these organ grinders, you can always go to Sylvestro's Meat Market, 166 Garden Ave., and watch Vito grind his own homemade sausage. Vito is very proud of his sausage, using only the leanest pork butts and the perfect blend of ingredients. Vito and his son Steve have other specialties including well trimmed veal cutlets, always fresh Purdue chickens, and three-week freezer order programs categorically designed for your specific needs. Sylvestro's Meat Market stocks their shelves with Italian specialty items which includes imported Asti Pasta. Last Thanksgiving he distributed free turkeys to the winners of the annual Belleville Chamber of Commerce turkey drawing.

First DeWitt Reports Good Figures Again

First DeWitt Savings and Loan of Belleville, in the middle of its 99th year, is reporting excellent figures in earnings, reserves, liquidity, and assets according to Henrik Tvedt, president and chief executive officer of the association.

"Particularly, our earnings were at a record level and a cause for celebration as we approach our centennial," Tvedt stated. "Things are much brighter for our industry and especially so for our association. First DeWitt has reserves of over $11 million — way in excess of minimum federal regulations, and assets of over $244 million. In addition, the association's liquidity is now over $40 million or 16 percent of total savings on deposits...way above most institutions our size. So far this year we have paid almost $10 million in dividends, another indication of our strength, growth, and the continuing confidence of our depositors," Tvedt said.

According to Tvedt, the field is undergoing basic changes that portend improvements in operations and profitability for savings and loans. "We at First DeWitt are especially prepared to take advantage of these changes due to our size and conservative philosophy. At First DeWitt we can now work with new financial tools and services, and we are now offering commercial loans, and auto loans in addition to fulfilling the savings and loans' historic role of being the nation's main provider of home mortgages and financing the housing industry. And, in addition, we are now competing with money market funds giving us new flexibility and the opportunity to prevent draining of funds to outside sources," Tvedt continued.

"The healthy showing midway in our 99th year is a matter of great pride and satisfaction to all the officers, directors, and the staff at First DeWitt," Tvedt observed.

First DeWitt has seven offices located in Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, and Hopatcong.

Clara Maass Hospital's Oncology Wing Grows

Clara Maass Medical Center's oncology wing, designed especially for the care of cancer patients, is a comfortable place for both patients and their families due to the generous efforts of the nursing staff.

Last September, the Clara Maass staff got together and put on a benefit fashion show that raised more than $4,000 for the unit. A color television, microwave oven, piped in stereo music, recliners, fold-out chairs, and a hoist were purchased with the money, and have finally arrived.

"We wanted to make our unit a more comfortable place," said Dorothy Downey, nursing unit assistant and chairperson of the show. "Since our unit is for oncology patients, their families are granted unlimited visiting hours. We wanted to give them the opportunity to cook their own dinners or just relax in front of the television."

The success of the benefit can also be credited to the 365 guests who purchased tickets to the show. Held at the Chandelier Restaurant in Belleville, guests received dinner, a chance to win one of 60 door prizes, and were treated to a show of 38 fashions handmade by Ms. Downey.

"Once it was known what we wanted to do, many of the patients' families donated to the cause with gifts of their own to the unit," added Ms. Downey.

Today, because of the dedication of the oncology staff and community, the unit does have many of the comforts of home. If you are interested in making a tax-deductible contribution to the Clara Maass Medical Center oncology unit, or for any other department, please call the Clara Maass Development Foundation at 450-2279.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. L. of Nutley asks, "How long should fillings last?"

Let's see if we can generalize for you Mrs. L. because how well you take care of your mouth can either shorten or extend the life of fillings.

White fillings (composite) which are usually used on front teeth can last 2 to 6 years on the average.

Silver fillings (amalgams) depending on how many surfaces of your teeth are covered can last 7 to 12 years on the average.

Metal castings (inlays, onlays, crowns) can last 15 to 30 years.

There are so many factors involved Mrs. L. that we can only give you a ballpark range. Remember chewing exerts the equivalent of 40,000 lbs. of pressure per square inch a tooth. And we probably chew 1000 times a day. Knowing this and the types of food we eat and the thoroughness we brush & floss all affect the longevity of fillings.

Thank you.

POISON IVY

Poison ivy usually runs its course in about 10 to 14 days and there is little that can be done to stop it. However, the symptoms can be treated. They usually consist of severe itching and a rash, accompanied by little blisters that ooze a liquid when scratched. Years ago, it was thought that the liquid caused the rash to spread. This is not so. It is the poisonous substance from the plant that causes the rash. Rid it from your clothes and body. Preparations containing tannic acid will help dry up the rash and cortisone products play an important role in wound healing. Antihistamines will help reduce the itching. The old standby is calamine lotion. It dries on the skin to form a protective coating to minimize scratching and possible infection.

When your doctor gives you a prescription medication to help in the treatment of poison ivy bring it to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. "Your Doctor Knows Us" Your Doctor Trusts Us! Timex watches, transistor radios, baby needs and cosmetics are handled. Open 9am-10pm daily, 9am-6pm Sundays.

HANDY HINT:

If you have poison ivy near your eyes or genitals, see a doctor.

Local Communities Still Fighting Tunnel Proposal

By Phil White

A legislative hearing in Nutley this week may have given birth to a new coalition which opposes construction of a giant flood-control tunnel as proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Significant is the fact that the coalition includes both flood victims from the Wayne area as well as residents from downstream communities like Belleville and Nutley.

"What we're seeing is opposition to the tunnel from both groups, but for two completely different reasons," observed Assemblyman Stephen Aduato who presided at the hearings here Monday afternoon.

Upstream residents presented a petition already signed by 10,000 persons opposing the tunnel and calling for implementation of a properly buy-out option in flood prone areas.

"We are tired of studies upon studies and we don't think this tunnel will ever be built," said Marion Detko, co-chairman of a Wayne citizens group supporting a voluntary buy out plan. Instead of spending 1 billion dollars for the tunnel plan, she and 10,000 others are urging the money be used to acquire flooded properties instead.

Representing downstream communities, Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth of Nutley expressed fears the tunnel plan could lead to serious flooding here and in neighboring Belleville.

Chenoweth said his fears have been confirmed by officials within the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection who have conceded that a break in one of the planned levees along the Third River here would mean instantaneous flooding for large areas of Nutley and Belleville.

"If we had a blowout in the levee along the Third River, Gen. Whipple tells me that because of Route 21, the flood waters would flow all the way to Newark before they could get back into the Passaic River," Chenoweth said.

Evidence that upstream and downstream residents might be uniting in opposition to the tunnel — even though for different reasons — could lead to a re-thinking of the project, according to one official from the Department of Environmental Protection.

If the petition drive grew to include a hypothetical 100,000 signatures, as suggested by Aduato, "we would naturally do some re-thinking and consider our options," reacted Richard E. Bellis of the Department of Administrative Enforcement, DEP, during his remarks at the Nutley hearing Monday.

Although opposition to the tunnel play was expected from Nutley speakers and others from the lower basin communities, a

WOR-TV

We New Jersey residents have had a couple year's experience viewing Channel 9, now operating in Secaucus, New Jersey, and presenting the evening news about and for the people of New Jersey.

WOR-TV has done an outstanding job with its objective of broadening its coverage of New Jersey affairs. Through cable television, we are able to view WOR-TV in Palm Beach County, Florida. And believe us, it is a great feeling to be in Florida and tune on New Jersey news. For this, we owe a debt of gratitude to the management of WOR-TV. They are performing their job, and doing it well.

Kenneth D. Merin

Recently, Gov. Thomas Kean nominated his former associate counsel Kenneth D. Merin, to become the state's new insurance commissioner.

Merin, a 36-year-old attorney, has been serving as acting commissioner since former State Commissioner Joseph F. Murphy resigned last year.

Although his tenure as acting commissioner is brief, Mr. Merin has performed a commendable job in modernizing the insurance department, and moving to prepare revisions and reforms dictated by the new auto insurance system adopted last year by the Legislature.

For the past two-and-a-half years, Mr. Merin has worked with the Legislature in drafting the new insurance laws.

Merin is currently acquiring computer equipment necessary to modernize the department's day-to-day operations.

In selecting Merin as the state's Insurance Commissioner, Gov. Kean has once again performed a public service for the State of New Jersey.

Harry Lerner

Former Essex County Democratic Chairman Harry Lerner will be celebrating his 80th birthday on August 14. As Democratic Chairman of the largest county in New Jersey, Harry Lerner was a gifted political pro. He was "of the old school." With Lerner, a commitment didn't require a handshake. An agreement in a telephone conversation was a moral commitment for Harry Lerner.

During his years of public service, which also included a period as treasurer of Essex County, Harry Lerner became respected and loved by many. Over the years, we developed a personal affection for Harry. We found Harry to be a warm, decent, loyal, respectable human being.

Neither a hypocrite or demagogue, Harry Lerner embodied the best traits of political leadership. He rewarded his friends, never penalized his enemies, and always remembered the debt of gratitude he incurred when people favored him with their help.

We are pleased to salute Harry on his 80th birthday, and wish for him a continued happy and healthy life.

Rev. Sun Myung Moon

Rev. Sun Myung Moon, head of the Unification Church, is a resident of a federal prison.

The Reverend has been found guilty of violating the federal income tax laws. His defense, supported by most church groups in America, involved a representation that the money the government charges he collected as interest was, in fact, church income.

The government did not buy his defense — and neither did the federal grand jury.

We are impressed with the support given Rev. Moon by various religious leaders. If there was a question as to whether or not the funds were church property, the benefit of the doubt should have been in favor of Rev. Moon.

One can love or hate the Unification Church. The church philosophy was not at stake or an issue. The question was whether or not interest earned on church money was taxable income to Rev. Moon.

In the public's mind the Unification Church and Rev. Moon are one and the same. Given that frame of reference, we tend to tilt toward Rev. Moon's argument.

Letters in Print Albanese Responds to Rega

To the Publisher:

I feel it's time to discontinue these many articles printed in your paper, between Mr. Jim Golden and his bossman, Jack Rega. The insults, distorted facts, lies and the degrading of the BIACA and its members. It's an attempt to split and destroy the organization, which Mr. Rega has not been able to control.

People of Belleville and members of BIACA are tired reading news that is not backed by facts, as I will do to settle this, and to continue, will serve no useful purpose.

The heading "Rega Responds to Golden." The title is ridiculous. They have been responding to each other since the middle of 1983, either in letters to the editor or Jim Golden's column.

Mr. Golden started reporting distorted facts November 1983, December 1983, February 1983, and March, July and August 1984. I always believed a writer of a column checked out his facts before reporting. Mr. Golden has written articles, using your paper as a tool to hammer away at BIACA and its members, that have done good deeds for our town.

Mr. Orechio, this has been acknowledged in one of your editorials.

Two weeks ago, Jim Golden, in his column, hinted on things to come. Then the answer came by Rega. It's annoying because I've been informed that Golden also writes for Rega. A couple of months ago in Golden's column, he spent half the article trying to convince everybody that Rega can write letters. Who cares if Rega can write — the public's not interested. The fact is, Mr. Golden told me Rega didn't write the previous letter insulting me, however gave me a name that possibly did. That makes two ghost writers. The citizens Mr. Rega insults need no introduction to you, Mr. Orechio.

We were with you at a meeting in your apartment a couple of years ago discussing ways and means for a better Belleville. Mr. Calabro, Mr. Veneziano and myself. You gave us your full support. Could these be the same people that are now viciously attacking Mr. Rega?

Mr. Rega says he is a longtime member of BIACA, admits he did not attend many meetings. He also has never done anything for the organization. In 1983 he attended more meetings than he has in over 10 years. That's when the trouble started.

February and March of 1983, I was in Florida. An application for membership was submitted by a town public official. Mr. Rega took part in successfully blocking out this person.

October 1983, Commissioner Grande was nominated for president. Again Mr. Rega tried to recruit members to block the nomination. Commissioner Grande, who has a lot of respect for BIACA, withdrew his name rather than create more problems. This disappointed the majority of the members. The result, 52 for Albanese, to 17. Mr. Rega says the trouble with him started when I became president.

I took office Jan. 1, 1984. At this point I have already given facts to prove Mr. Rega distorted his facts.

The first two meetings in 1984, I went strictly by our Constitution and Roberts Rule. Mr. Rega doesn't believe in rules. While I tried to run a meeting, Mr. Rega would walk around, talk out of turn, etc. I'm sure he was not happy to have to take orders from the chair. He had no respect for rules and protocol.

The majority of the members came to me and said they would no longer come to meetings. Something that never happened before March 1983. As president, I had no other choice. The Constitution has in its by laws, a review board. It's the president's obligation to appoint five members. Its primary purpose is to have a member or members face the board. If their actions are detrimental to the best interest of BIACA. I picked five of the oldest members to serve — Mr. Calabro, Fire Chief Sharra, Mr. Vincent, Carlo, Mr. Veneziano, and DiChiara. All decent, hard-working members in good standing — Mr. Rega only mentioned four.

When Mr. Rega faced the board, he insulted them, refused to cooperate, went into a rage, took out a roll of bills, threw them on the table and said, "Bet you can't throw me out of the BIACA."

The review board reported to the general body this action — it was the general membership that voted to expel Mr. Rega and others. The vote, 47-7.

A registered letter was sent by the secretary and a signed receipt is on file.

The rules are simple. The general membership votes a new member in the organization. It also has the right to expel. We do not need a judge to figure that out.

His next paragraph — Albanese owns a knife grinding business, he operates in his garage behind his house — what is he insinuating? Is it illegal?

My dad started in 1931. I took over in 1950. My son, Chris Jr., is president. It is a registered corporation in New Jersey 61 years, member of N.J. Manufacturers Association 30 years, listed with D & B, employs three secretaries, three truck drivers, six tool and die tech. graduates, all listed with the N.J. Employment, pay state and federal taxes. No under the table reporting. Can Mr. Rega say the same?

If we want to compare businessmen, Mr. Rega, I am a professional, not a high-priced hot dog salesman. Mr. Rega also hits below the belt. In this paragraph he claims Albanese submits vouchers to the Town of Belleville. He claims I'm mad. We've never had any conversation regarding this and no real explanation is necessary. Again this is another insult. He didn't finish the sentence, however, left it to seem I have done something illegal. My answer to that is very simple. Mr. Orechio, I invite you to send a reporter to investigate this. Also as a citizen, Mr. Rega, you have the prerogative to check vouchers without fear of reprisals. If there was anything illegal, Mr. Rega, you would be screaming in front of Town Hall.

Let me conclude with — Mayor Marotti has appointed me to many committees, including seven years on the Planning Board. I have never personally submitted vouchers to the Town of Belleville. I served Belleville with dignity and honesty and time, with no cost to taxpayers. I was entitled to go to the convention. The record will show Albanese has never attended conventions at the taxpayers' expense.

In conclusion, Mr. Orechio, I'm sure I have given you real facts and I am sorry if I have taken much of your time, however, mine is also very valuable. If you allow this to continue, it will be a sad day for Belleville. No honest citizens will be willing to devote their time to serve on anything if the insults, distorted facts and reporting in your newspaper continue.

Italian-American Club Supported

To the editor:

This is not the first time that I have been physically, spiritually and morally motivated to rebut the unfounded, ridiculous, denigrating and perhaps politically motivated accusations of Mr. Jack Rega. His latest letter, and I hope the last, appeared in The Belleville Times on Aug. 2, 1984.

Recently, I had written a letter of explanation concerning the disposition of funds of the Citizen's Union of Belleville. This was in answer to a public inquiry which seemed to allude suspicion toward the leaders of that organization. I had answered all questions in detail and thought that this matter had been put to rest. However, Mr. Rega, while attending a meeting of the board of review of the Belleville Italian-American Association to respond to charges brought against him by various members, ranted and raved for many minutes and then pointed an accusing finger at me, demanding to know what I had done with the funds of the Citizen's Union.

First of all, this issue had nothing whatsoever to do with the BIACA organization or the issue at hand. Secondly, anyone who attempts to impugn my honesty and integrity without justification, proof or substantiating evidence is, in my opinion, asking for what I was ready to give him. I am extremely proud of my reputation and would react similarly toward any attempt to stain my character.

Mr. Rega gave the five-member panel no reason to render a favorable report to the membership. The review board did not expel Mr. Rega. It has no power or authority to do so. It was the overwhelming vote of the general membership in attendance that caused his expulsion from the Belleville Italian-American Civic Association.

Let it be known that BIACA is primarily interested in doing good things for the community. We have donated monies to the earthquake victims in Italy, the repair of the Statue of Liberty, scholarships to deserving graduates of Belleville High School, a dialysis machine to a Belleville kidney disease patient, civic awards, sponsored a little league baseball team, and on and on. We are not interested in publicity, especially the unfavorable publicity recently generated. I hope that this issue is finally terminated and that this is the last time I must defend people whose character is beyond reproach and whose primary intent is selfless, to be left to continue their work for the good of the community.

One More Letter About Rega

To the editor:

In his diatribe Mr. Rega says he speaks the truth and invites a challenge. He states that I wrote him a letter advising him that he no longer is a member of the Belleville Italian-American Civic Association. I never wrote such a letter since as committee chairman, I did not have this authority.

I therefore challenge Mr. Regato publish the letter to prove his veracity.

I sincerely believe that Mr. Rega needs psychiatric attention because he appears to be suffering from "delusions" of grandeur. I did not recommend his dismissal from the club, but the review committee simply reported on his behavior when he was invited for an objective discussion.

Mr. Rega stormed into the room and threw a roll of money on the table stating that he was a well-to-do businessman and would hire a lawyer to prevent the club from expelling him. He was loud and unreasonable. I explained or tried to explain between his tirades, that this was not a legal matter but rather one of membership decision.

At the next general meeting, the committee simply reported to the membership but left the decision to its vote. The result was that 47 members voted for expulsion and seven were in favor of retention. Out of these five, two were members that were also expelled. This type of vote is not supportive of your claim of having hundreds of friends, Mr. Rega.

Speaking as an individual, Jackie, in the past we always had a good relationship and I am sorry that your attitudes have destroyed it. Sincerely, I believe you do need psychiatric help because your actions so prescribe. You would like to be an influential individual whom everybody would look up to and respect. This is not achieved with money which you always boast of having, but rather it is realized by a pleasing personality, understanding and unselfish dedication to goals which are for the common good. Someday we are all going to face our maker, so let us try to the best of our ability, as human beings, to adhere to his teachings.

Golden Comments

By James Golden,

On arriving home from a very pleasant trip to shore with the group participating in the 19 Belleville Senior Citizens Day, we were amused to read the comments of Richard Yanzuzi, the man who declines to give his street name, in the local paper as delineated in his personal intimation that views expressed in this column, especially those concerning President Reagan's policies concerning Social Security, were predicated upon "hysterical speculation concerning the present and future of the Social Security System."

Amused, beyond belief, because obviously his letter to the editor had been written before the Democratic Nominating Convention, at which all the principal speakers denounced President Reagan's fiscal and social policies, especially, as they apply to his projected scheme to reduce Social Security to a "means test" poverty level.

The Republican majority in the U.S. Senate has consistently sided with Mr. Reagan's policies to cut social programs and increase Medicare payments...both Treasury Secretary Regan and the President have spoken out in saying that, notwithstanding, the fact that the Congress has passed the 1983 revised Social Security Act that is reputed to preserve the integrity and financial stability of Social Security well into the 21st century, they both proclaim that it (Social Security) will have to be looked into again and that some now paying into it, will never collect it.

Presidential candidate Walter F. Mondale has publicly stated that President Reagan has been trying to eliminate Social Security benefits for 20 years...his running-mate, Mrs. Ferraro, also denounces his (Reagan's) determination to put a stop to these payments that the senior citizens had paid into for...they're not gifts.

For Mr. Yanzuzi's edification, we'd like to advise him that we are registered as a Republican and voted for Mr. Reagan when he won in 1980 and sacredly pledged that he would never alter or threaten Social Security, but he did...and we, and many others, believe that he and Mr. David Stockman, should he be re-elected, will again, despite his pledges not to, attempt to emasculate and destroy Social Security as it functions presently.

The letter writer accepts that a commission appointed to arrive at a solution to preserve the social security system had recommended a solution adopted by the Congress to effectuate this objective...why then does Treasury Secretary Regan and President Reagan still keep "hacking away" at Social Security?

Social Security was the "gift" of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Is it the aim and objective of Republican President Ronald Reagan to take these paid for benefits from all the American citizens, Democrats and Republicans alike, in a sinister scheme to scuttle Social Security by abrogation and breach of contract solemnly given those who paid into it?

Scare tactics! You're damn right, Mr. Yanzuzi. These unfortunate senior citizens, many of whom little know, nor much suspect the devious plans that are often conjured up in the minds of subtle personages of power who would impose their will upon our huddled masses who would become their pawns, reduced to abject poverty and obliged to spend their twilight years in penury. We're not biased...we're indignant at an administration, Democratic or Republican, that would even contemplate such hardship and punishment that would call for such things as stripping them of their paid for benefits...that's like ruthlessly taking candy from a baby.

Apparently Richard Yanzuzi, who dispassionately writes "we have to deal effectively with national problems by encompassing all beliefs, and making decisions that will not always be pleasant or appealing" is a casualist and an insensate, callous individual more concerned with his own comforts than the plight of those caught in the throes of self-preservation.

As we viewed the Democratic Convention and listened to the speakers "rake" President Reagan "over the coals" we entertained the strong hope that Richard, the letter writer, had the good fortune to see and hear others, who share our views and opinions, blast the hell out of the great communicator...much as in the way Mr. Guglicelli did in his letter which was published beneath Richard's.

Vienna Keeps Waiting

Getting sidetracked during the course of everyday living is pretty easy for anyone to do. In fact, there is not a single person who can say they have never gotten so caught up in the day-to-day pressures of life, that they forgot what living is all about. And it usually takes the unfortunate things in life to bring us back to reality and enables us to start enjoying the simpler and finer things which this world has to offer to us.

Perhaps there are many of you reading this right now who are wondering just what I am leading up to, or perhaps a majority of you just don't care and are only reading this because you have nothing better to do.

Well, let me put it this way. Sometimes people just move to fast in this world of ours. So fast in fact, that they don't allow anyone else to catch up with them. There is so much pressure put on people nowadays, especially the younger ones. You must grow up to be successful. Success and money are the two most important elements a person can possess in today's world.

Well, there is no doubt that we all like money and we do want to be successful, but there must be a time when people must stop and see the other aspects of life which are worth living.

How many men come home at night and put their arms around their wives and tell them that they love them and miss them? How many teenagers share their feelings with their parents? How many wives are willing to demonstrate to their husbands that they are the most important person in their lives? And how many friends can truly turn to one another and say I love you without being ashamed? In fact, think back to the last time you told your parents you loved them. There are many people in this world who have lost both parents and would give anything for a chance to do that one more time.

Over the years I have sat down and written several columns based on this subject. I guess it always comes up after I realize that I have been sidetracked for a while, and that I have let time pass me by without taking full advantage of its potential.

I have always considered myself a fairly solitary person who doesn't have a great deal of need for people (with the exception of a handful). But sometimes I realize that this is not entirely true.

I have taken some very big steps in recent weeks. Steps which have been frightening and often lonely, but during that time I have learned a great many things. I have learned who my true friends are and I have learned that the love a couple shares for one another can pull you through the toughest of times. I have also learned that parents can be very comforting.

But most importantly, I have learned that while you should continue to strive for your goals in life, you must also take the time to enjoy yourself. The cliché, "life is short," is so very true and unfortunately, many people do not come to realize that until it is too late.

On the wall near my desk at work I have posted the words of a classic Billy Joel song, "Vienna." And each time I find myself getting a little out of line and lost in the shuffle, I need only to read over it once.

"Slow down you crazy child, You're so ambitious for a juvenile.

But then if you're so smart, tell me why are you still so afraid?

"Where's the fire, what's the hurry about, You better cool it off before you burn it out.

You got so much to do and only so many hours in a day.

But you know that when the truth is told that you can get what you want Or you can just get old, You're gonna kick off before you even get halfway through.

When will you realize...Vienna waits for you.

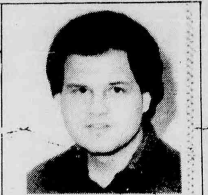

"Slow down you're doing fine, You can't be everything you want to be before your time.

Although it's so romantic On the borderline tonight, tonight, Too bad but it's the life you lead, You're so ahead of yourself That you forget what you need.

Though you can see when you're wrong, You know you can't always see when you're right, You got your passion, you got your pride, But don't you know that only fools are satisfied? Dream on, but don't image they'll all come true.

When will you realize...Vienna waits for you.

Georgiana Fratella — Michael Dambra

Fratella-Dambra Troth Told; Wedding in June

Mr. and Mrs. George Fratella of 26 Suzanne Court announce the engagement of their daughter, Georgiana, to Michael Dambra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dambra of Delray, Fla., formerly of Belleville.

The troth was made known May 25 at Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove. The wedding will be held next June.

Miss Fratella, an alumna of Belleville High School and Rutgers University, Newark, will attend the University of Miami Law School this fall.

Mr. Dambra, a graduate of Belleville High School and Florida Atlantic University, is self-employed in Delray.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Crowe — nee Laura Buck

Laura L. Buck Wed To Dennis R. Crowe

Laura Lee Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buck of Belleville and Dennis Reid Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Winter of Kearny, were married July 7 at First Baptist Church of Arlington, Kearny.

The Rev. Dorcas Diaz Shaner performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at San Carlo Restaurant, Lyndhurst.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a tissue taffeta gown with a Queen Ann neckline, Alencon lace bodice with scattered beading; dropped waistline and cathedral train. A matching lace and beading hat held her veil and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Sandra Buck of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor. Beverly Crigin of Kearny and Joanne Torsello of Belleville were bridesmaids.

The honor attendant wore a lavender tissue taffeta gown with a short sleeved jacket. Lavender silk flowers were worn in her hair and she carried a cascade of silk tiger lilies, pom-poms, daisies, lily of the valley and babies breath in shades of lavender. The others were similarly attired in violet.

Kevin McCann of Kearny was best man. Larry Latka of Jersey City and Daniel Montgomery of Kearny ushered.

Mr. Crowe chose a cornflower blue cocktail dress and had a cymbidium orchid wristlet. The groom's mother, in a bright rose pink cocktail dress, wore a shoulder corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Crowe, a graduate of Belleville High School and The Berkeley School, Little Falls, is with Hoffmann-LaRoche, Nutley.

Mr. Crowe, an alumnus of Kearny High School and the University of Wisconsin, is with The Northern Co., Linden.

After a honeymoon in St. Maarten, the couple have made their home in Belleville.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

All parts of the body, including the organs and glands, are controlled by the flow of nerve-energy impulses from the brain, carried by the nerve system. These impulses are involuntary; no one consciously tells his kidneys, heart or liver what to do.

In a healthy body, the nerve are unobstructed and able to carry all impulses to and from the brain without interference. A spinal misalignment which restricts an opening and thus interferes with any nerve may result in pain or disease.

Belleville's Past

To reactivate the deserted mill and use its facilities for reconvertng old and raw copper, Hendricks had first to assure himself that he could overcome the difficulty of obtaining experienced mechanics, meeting the high cost of labor, and finding a man qualified to operate the mill. He chose Solomon I. Isaacs as the mill overseer. Isaacs, raised to the copper trade, was a natural choice. He understood the methods of refining and rolling copper and was familiar with every aspect of copper from the time it was mined to the time it was nailed to the hull of a ship. He was the most perfectly suited person to tackle the problem of bringing together a force of trained mechanics and skilled mill hands at a time when the conditions of war had absorbed most of the trained men in the New York area. At the age of 29, Isaacs was probably the best informed person on brazier copper in New York City. In choosing Isaacs, Hendricks solved a problem that might have stymied other entrepreneurs.

Once Hendricks had decided on Isaacs, he opened negotiations for the purchase of the Soho mill and the estate at Belleville. This gave him the distinction of being the first copper merchant in the United States to step outside of the mercantile role to explore the path of industry.

The Soho tract, with all of its improvements, was appraised by Roosevelt in 1801 for $65,000. When negotiations for the mill were completed on May 1, 1814, Hendricks purchased it for slightly less than $41,000. Isaacs, the mill overseer, was admitted to terms of equal partnership, and though he advanced no funds of his own, he compensated by his knowledge of experience. Hendricks' new firm adopted the name of Solomon I. Isaacs and Soho Copper Works. Isaacs, in addition to being overseer, was also given full authority over the mill at Belleville. It was also agreed that the contract between the two men was to be for a four-year term and was to operate independently of any other branch of Hendricks' business.

Plans for the construction of a new smelting house and a fully equipped rolling mill were immediately put into operation. To facilitate ready transportation, a private road was built from the mill to Second River, and to further guarantee access to the mill road, a bridge was built by the United Hackensack and Passaic Bridge Company. Forty shares of stock were bought of Elisha Boudinot's newly organized York and Jersey Steam Boat Company, which would eventually ferry the manufactured copper down the Passaic River. All shares of the bridge and steamboat ferry stock were divided equally between Hendricks and Isaacs, Hendricks assigning his shares to his young sons as an investment in their names and as an inducement for their future entry into the business. The total expenditure reached $122,305. This investment outstripped Revere whose investment was $25,000 in the Canton rolling mill. In May 1814, the mill was opened for business.

Friends of Library Planning NY Trip

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library have announced an upcoming bus trip to the New York Public Library. The trip will take place Wednesday, Sept. 5. The bus will depart from the Belleville Public Library at 221 Washington Ave., at 9:45 a.m.

A 90-minute tour of the New York Public Library will begin at 10:30 a.m. Special emphasis will be given to the important exhibit, "Censorship: 500 Years of Conflict," housed in the newly restored Gottesman Exhibition Hall of the New York Public Library.

Following the stimulating and informative tour, the Friends' chartered bus will take participants to the Binghamton Ferry Boat Restaurant in Edgewater, where lunch will be ordered from this fine restaurant's varied luncheon menu.

The bus will return to the Belleville Public Library at approximately 3 p.m.

Tickets for this Friends of the Library trip sell for $7.50 and are available at the main library, the library's Silver Lake branch, and by mail. Ticket price includes all transportation and the New York Public Library tour. Lunch will be ordered and paid for individually at the Binghamton Ferry Boat Restaurant.

Please call the Belleville Public Library at 759-9200 for more information.

Local Resident Awarded Pica Club Scholarship

The Pica Club, North Jersey's oldest journalists' association, now in its 89th year, has awarded its 1984 journalism scholarships to Jo Ann Rizzolo of Belleville and Donna Lannelli of Hawthorne.

The $750 annual awards were presented to the students at the club's annual picnic, July 28 at ITT Clubhouse in Nutley by Steven H. Solomon, club president.

Rizzolo, 21, graduated summa cum laude from St. Peter's College with a double degree in English and classical languages/literature. She will begin a master's program at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism in September.

In addition to having been managing editor of her high school newspaper and a staff writer on her college newspaper, Rizzolo is a staff writer for NJ Transit's Department of Corporate Communications, and is editor of her parish newsletter. While attending Columbia, she will work as an editorial assistant with author Peggy Mann.

Lannelli and Rizzolo were selected from among juniors, seniors and graduate students with a permanent residence in Passaic, Bergen, Essex, Morris and Sussex counties in New Jersey.

Flood-Control Tunnel Drawing Opposition

stating, "I don't think we're going to solve the problem by building a tunnel that's going to dump the water on some other town." He was applauded by the nearly 200 persons in the audience.

The tunnel as proposed would scoop up flood waters in Wayne Township and carry them underground through 40-foot tubes to the confluence of the Third River and Passaic River in Nutley on the Clifton boundary.

"Based on the Corps of Engineers study, the discharge from this tunnel would double the existing storm water flow at the mouth of the Third River and would amount to 21 thousand additional cubic feet per second," Peter Scarpelli, director of Nutley's Public Works Department said.

Translating those figures into "laymen's terms, that would be equivalent to 560 million gallons of water every hour, or 13.5 billion gallons in a 24 hour period. This in turn, could create a wall of water approximately 400 feet long, 50 feet high, and one foot high every second."

Scarpelli said he opposed the tunnel construction and said he believes "an immediate solution would be to buy the homes in the central region basin and not to put this tunnel in the Township of Nutley."

ASSEMBLYMAN Dean Gallo, the Republican's minority leader, was one of the few testifying here who favored the tunnel construction.

"The tunnel promises to draw the most federal dollars that the state has to put up," Gallo said.

He was referring to the federal formula that will provide funds for construction, but not for property acquisition. Thus, were $930 million to be spent on property buy-out, the funding would have to be borne by New Jersey taxpayers. The U.S. Government, however, would pay 80 percent of the tunnel plan being advanced by the Army Corps of Engineers, and "conceptionally accepted" by the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection.

Gallo also took exception to media reports that many in the flooded communities were ready to sell their properties to the state. "These people are not anxious to leave their homes," the Assemblyman said.

But when asked by Aduabato whether he would feel differently were Gallo representing Nutley in the Assembly, Gallo responded, "I'd feel more comfortable when the design phase progresses."

EUGENE THOMPSON, Assemblyman representing two large areas of Newark that border the Passaic River, went on record Monday as opposed to the DEP and Army Corps tunnel plan.

"Eleven years is too long to wait," Thompson said.

"Moreover, even with a tunnel, we're asking that they put the pipe into in Newark Bay so the river won't be raised and Newark and other towns flooded."

He said a major developer exploring construction of a new "Hilton-type hotel near the Gateway area read about the pipeline plan and then, everyone backed out. I'm opposed."

You get your teeth checked regularly. And without fail, remember to get your kids' vision checked. Yet, most people don't stop to take care of their family's vision and there's a problem.

The truth is, our eyes can change in a matter of months. That's why a regular eye exam is so important. It helps keep your vision sharp. And it can correct a little problem before it becomes a big one.

August Is Family Eye Care Month At Pearle.

At Pearle we care enough about your eyes to get inside every August as Family Eye Care Month. It's not just to remind you and your family of the importance of regular eye exams. And to help you remember your kids' eyes, we'll give you The Family Health Record booklet.

So you'll always be on top of your dental appointments, physicals, and from now on, your family's eye exams.

After all, there are so many beautiful things to look at every day. Make sure you're seeing them the way they're meant to be seen.

Gearing For Playoffs Braves Sweep 5 Games In Unforgettable Style

There is a certain time in every man's life that will go down as "unforgettable." For head coach Sal Garilli, the Belleville Braves mentor, last week had a double importance and the results were perfect.

The Braves were in Union on Tuesday to face the Jays. Tonight, yet another critical contest, this time with Montclair State College, in Montclair, starting at 6 p.m. Tomorrow night, it's Montclair again, with the same time and location. The Braves will close out the regular season with a battle against Irvington, however that contest is undecided in regard to date and time at press time.

Garilli's "dream week" started with a victory over the scrappy Parsippany team, a new baby from his wife, Carol, and then four more wins to boost the team record to 19-15-2. Just one week ago, the Braves were slumping at 14-15-1 and Garilli was very unhappy with his team's lackadaisical play. Now, the club is playing solid baseball and looking toward a playoff berth.

The Garilli family welcomed a baby girl into the world last week, the couple's first child, Genna Rose. Garilli has been a good luck charm to the Braves because they haven't lost since she was born.

"It was a super week all around," said the new father. "The team played very well and I have a daughter. You can't ask for much more than that."

The Braves faced a must win situation with Parsippany, a club that had defeated them, 15-1 two weeks ago. In back to back meetings, the Braves won, 5-2 and tied 5-5. Scott Wohrab picked up the victory in the 5-2 win. He pitched the full seven innings, allowing five hits and striking out ten. He was helped by a homer and double from Bill Feehan and a key two run triple from the always tough Greg Weber.

"Weber is amazing," Garilli said. "He has the knack for getting the big hit at the right time. He has done a great job for us all season long."

Weber's two run triple came in the sixth inning, with Belleville trailing, 2-1. It enabled the Braves to snap out of a slump and put them in the right direction for the playoffs.

In the five all tie, Jerry Waudan pitched for Belleville, relieving starter Jeff Prunau. Dominick Vazzano had a double, single and two ribbies on the night and Joe Corbalis continued his solid play with two more hits.

"Joe (Corbalis) has been hitting very well," said Garilli. "He along with Dominick (Vazzano) have been consistent all season long."

The Braves won a game via the forfeit route when they stopped Irvington, 7-0. It was a game that Garilli wanted badly because he felt his team was cheated in an earlier tie with the Irvington club. "It's still a win," the coach said, "but I would have liked to play them."

The Braves continued along victory trail with double victories over the Union Jays. First, the team won, 6-5 with Scott Lutz winning the game. Danny Gardner contributed with three hits and a run batted in, Mike Cavaluzzi had three hits and Corbalis finished with two hits. The key play of the game was a diving catch by centerfielder Tommy Foster that saved the game for Belleville. Foster has also been doing the job at the plate. In 44 at bats, entering this week, he has 11 hits and has scored 21 runs.

The next day, the Braves defeated the Jays, 12-10 with Rick Kiernan winning in relief of Anthony Coco. Trailing 9-5 entering the seventh inning, the Braves scored seven runs. Joe Corbalis, and Cavaluzzi both walked and scored when Steve Karlick singled a three run homer. Foster walked, stole second and scored on a Weber double. Weber advanced to third on a Wohrab single and scored when Feehan singled. Feehan came around to score on a Vazzano single.

Finally, the Braves were 6-4 victors over the Milburn club. Cavaluzzi was the winning pitcher and the Braves did it again in the final inning, scoring four times to erase a 4-2 deficit. Weber, as usual, had a big ribbie in the seventh inning. Feehan hit the sacrifice fly to score a run and Corbalis the same to win the game. The Braves also received a good offensive game from Wohrab, who in addition to pitching, has been a big help at the plate.

Off and Flying — That is exactly what the Belleville Braves have been doing lately as the Essex County Baseball League season draws to a close. The Braves had an excellent week, winning all five of their games, and are playing exciting baseball. Their record as of Tuesday afternoon stood at 19-15-2.

Boys Basketball Squad Still Undefeated as Playoffs Near

Continuing its marvelous success, the Belleville boys' basketball team defeated arch rival Bloomfield, 69-54 and took a forfeit victory against Clifton to boost its record to a perfect 6-0.

The Bucs battled Essex Catholic for the divisional title last Tuesday. The playoffs are slated to begin on August 13 and Dave Boyd's team appears to be in the drivers seat, regardless of the game with Essex.

"We should get the number one seed," Boyd said of the upcoming playoffs. "Because we have a game in hand against Essex Catholic because they had a double forfeit against Clifton. A double forfeit means no points and so we have an extra game."

Boyd pointed out that the game meaning now, but the team should be in top form for the contest. Many associated with the Bloomfield Summer basketball league feel the contest will be a preview of the championship game.

In what was a key battle, the Bucs downed Bloomfield by 15 points. "It was the first game all summer that we got a raw deal from the officials," Boyd said.

"The result, we Mike Sochaski hurt his knee and Nick Sotomayer had a bruised arm. I don't feel the refs had control of the game. It didn't reflect the league because they have been super all summer. It was just one of those things."

Despite the officiating, the Bucs were on top of their game, playing a sizzling second half after floundering in the first. "We were lucky to be in the game in the first half," Boyd said. "If Bloomfield had hit their shots, we might have been in big trouble."

The Bucs led by five points at halftime and poured it on the second half to win convincingly. Danny Riordan and Nick Sotomayer, the heart of the Bucs backcourt, tallied ten points each. Ted Sochaski, the Bucs high scorer, led the way with 12 points

Nicosia is Named to All-American Squad

From 1977 through 1980, he gave the fans of Belleville a lot to cheer about with his sizzling runs on the football field and long balls on the baseball field. Now, four years after he graduated from Belleville High, Michael Nicosia is still in the news, concentrating his efforts in baseball and doing a marvelous job at Montclair State College.

Nicosia was named to the All-American squad, Division III for his play as a centerfielder for Montclair State this past spring. Michael hit .392, was credited with six homers and drove home 55 runs. His play helped the team to a 33-12 record, good for third in the nation on the Division III level. Montclair State advanced to the College World Series in Marietta, Ohio for the second straight season.

During his stay at Belleville High, Nicosia was a star running back and outfielder for the Buccaneers. As a junior, he led the Bucs in rushing and helped that team to a 6-3 record in John Senesky's second year as coach. As a baseball player, Nicosia won a starting job in the spring of 1978, his sophomore year, and never lost it. As a lead off hitter, Nicosia was a marvelous student, leading the club in a number of offensive categories and also did a fine job on the pitching mound.

His career was thrown a nasty curve in the fall of 1979. While playing for the Buccaneers football team, Michael injured a knee in a 26-14 Buc victory over Passaic. His teammates picked up the slack, advancing to the Group IV, Section II playoffs and finishing with an 8-2 record overall. Nicosia underwent microsurgery and was team captain for the Buc playoff game at the Meadowlands against Union High School.

His courage and all-around determination brought him back for the final game of the season. Nicosia played a few minutes in the defensive secondary before head coach John Senesky took him out of the game to avoid a possible second injury. It was Nicosia's contribution to the team during his injury which really gave a good indication of the class that this young man possessed.

Michael was an integral part of the ball club. He would cheer his team on every week, leading the team in prayer before each game and doing everything he could to help the ball club. Michael was down, but certainly not out.

Nicosia's attitude toward athletics and his fine baseball season in the spring of 1980 led him to the first ever Belleville High School athlete of the year award. Upon graduation, Michael chose Montclair State College and has been a stalwart on the diamond.

"I was hoping to make the All American team this year," said Nicosia. "But I was not thinking about the first team. Last year, our number three hitter made the third team and I was just hoping to be selected."

Nicosia's talents have also drawn the attention of a number of major league scouts. "I've heard from a lot of teams during the course of the season. There were no promises made, just that they were very interested and I could be picked up in the draft."

Last spring, in the amateur draft, Nicosia was disappointed when he was not selected. "It was a difficult thing to handle, not being selected after I figured I had a good shot." His future is far from over, however. First, there are a few "obstacles" to clear in regard to his being eligible to play next year for Montclair State College.

It seems that Michael played four games in his first year at Montclair State College in the fall season before coming down with an injury. He did not play during the spring season of 1981, however he is considered to have played the 1980-81 season and thus, will not have eligibility for next year. "I'm hoping to appeal the decision," Nicosia said. "I didn't play at all during the spring in my first year and saw action in only four games during that fall season. They're saying that counts as a year of eligibility."

If Nicosia loses his appeal to play another season at Montclair State, then he will be eligible for the January major league draft. Should he be victorious in his appeal proceedings, then he will be eligible for the June, 1985 draft. Either way, he stands a good chance at being selected.

"I've done everything I can to merit a shot in the draft," Nicosia said. "I had a game winning hit off of Terry Mulhulen in the World Series and he was selected in the first round of the draft. I've been up against some of the best pitchers in the system and have done well against them. I love this game and am really hoping for a chance."

While Michael was pleased with his excellent numbers this past spring, he realizes there is work to do. "I was a bit disappointed with my home run total, but the pitchers worked around me this year a little more. I had 30 walks in the first twenty games."

His .392 average is a school record and he now has 20 career homers at MSC, just eight shy of the school record in that department. Although he has no preference on what team drafts him, Nicosia has a lot of respect for the minor league systems of the Dodgers and Mets.

His first shot, however, is to be drafted. As far as talent is concerned, there should be no question of his ability. As far as heart is concerned, all you have to do is go back to the fall of 1979 and watch a young man limp down the sidelines, cheering his teammates in the good times and bad, never giving up

Okay, Mets fans, are you ready for the rise of my team, the St. Louis Cardinals. After a poor start, the Redbirds are on the rise and will make the greatest comeback since the 1978 Yankees when they win the NL East. For local baseball fans, the Belleville Braves could certainly use your support down the stretch. The team is in solid playoff contention and will begin post season play next week.

It's August 9 already and the fall sports at BHS will soon begin another exciting season of competition. If anyone is interested in doing some stories on the jayvee sports at BHS this fall, please feel free to give me a call at the Belleville Times.

If you have a chance, stop by the Garage Sale, being held at 26-32 Grove Street on August 18, starting at 9 a.m., and lasting until 4 p.m.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the starting infield for the Chicago Cubs in 1969. The answer: Randy Hundley was the catcher, Ernie Banks at first, Glenn Beckert at second, Don Kessinger at shortstop and Ron Santo at third base.

Referring to the 1969 season, name the starting Mets infield and their starting pitching rotation.

Scavenger Bids Rejected Again

McAndrew of North Brunswick. "This is not a decision in the public interest," argued the attorney, who noted the vast difference in costs cited by the bidders and the potential savings for taxpayers if Haul Away won the contract.

McAndrew called the mistake of not immediately submitting an affidavit "insignificant and easily cured."

He also argued the matter was not the same as the BFI case since that firm's failure to give a financial statement might have prevented Commissioners from determining if the job could be done at stated price.

"That's not the case here," he added.

Scagozza said afterward that the bid package he picked up from Belleville's purchasing office did not make clear the need for the affidavit.

"They're acting like they just want to throw this away," said the firm's president, of what he called "a great price."

Scagozza, whose firm collects in Butler and Upper Saddle River, declined comment on future action.

Commissioners decided to rebid noting they are close to the Sept. 10 expiration of their contract with BFI.

Earlier this summer, the board held a bid session, but received only one proposal, that from BFI. They then rejected unopened that bid and held the July 30 session hoping to attract more takers and lower prices.

In related business this week, the panel agreed to modify the job specifications for the next round of bids by including recommendations from Essex County recycling officials designed to hold down ever increasing dumpsite costs.

The county's recycling coordinator Steven Fass presented a series of proposals including provisions that would reimburse the township for all collected garbage that was recycled rather than dumped.

Acting in the presence of Mayor Michael Marotti, who was vacationing this week, McGreevy favored accepting Fass' modifications.

Joining him in the affirmative vote were Grande, DiRuggiero, and Commissioner Michael Pizzi who arrived late at the session and missed the earlier vote to reject bids.

Flashback: November 13, 1980

BHS Gridiron Squad Decks The Hall

The snowball started rolling after the tough football game with Nutley in early October. The following week, the Belleville Bucs beat the previously undefeated Indians of Passaic, 13-9 in Passaic. The week after, the Bucs romped over the previously undefeated Royal Knights of Marist, 35-7. Two weeks ago, the Bucs defeated Essex Catholic, 34-0 in an "off" game for the team.

Last week, another undefeated team tasted the sour fruits of defeat at the hands of Belleville. This time, the opposition was the tough Pony Pirates of Seton Hall. This time, the score was a whopping 34-8.

Even head coach John Seneky is beginning to believe that this team might be the best ever in Belleville. Seneky, never one to be overly enthused, praised this victory as "the best win ever," shortly after the final gun sounded. Perhaps another Belleville coach put things into perspective following the game. "If this isn't the best team in the state, I don't know who is."

This win was indeed, a sweet one. After last year's big 14-1 victory, Belleville led no doubt as to who the better team was this year with a total display of superiority on both sides of the field. The victory also puts to sleep the ghosts of that 63-0 Belleville loss at the hands of Seton Hall in 1977. Even though the Bucs did not win by as big a margin as that, they very well could have run up a bigger score if Seneky were not such a decent man.

Seton Hall won the opening kickoff, its only victory of the afternoon, but could not move the ball on offense. Vin Aulisi punted to the Bucs who started on the Pirate 38. Frank Fazzini ran for two yards and Mike Dalla Riva two before quarterback John Melillo hit big Bill Walsh with a 14 yard pass to the Pirate 21. Two plays later, Melillo ran around right end, was tackled at the 13 and fumbled. However, Dalla Riva recovered at the ten for a first down.

From the ten, Dalla Riva gained three yards for the seven, Fazzini gained another four to the three before Fazzini finished the job with a three yard drive on fourth down, right through the Pirate defense. Robbie Cancelleri added the conversion and Belleville led, 7-0.

The Pirates started a drive from their own 28, but it stalled at the 46 and Aulisi punted.

Belleville quickly returned the favor when Pirate quarterback Pete Reavy had his pass intercepted by Phil Cerza who raced all the way to the Pirate five yard line. Two plays later, Paul Scheppin ran it in and Belleville led, 14-0 after Cancelleri's conversion.

Once again, Seton Hall was unable to move the ball and Belleville started scoring drive number three from its own 30. Without benefit of one pass, the Bucs charged downhill against the vaunted Seton Hall defense, one that had shutout its first five opponents and held Bergen Catholic to eight points the week before. Fazzini picked up 52 yards in the drive, including a four yard run to boost the Bucs lead to 20-0. Cancelleri's kick was again good and Belleville was on top, 21-0.

Seton Hall scored on its last play of the first half when Reavy hit Jack Condon with a 13 yard pass. Reavy ran for the two point conversion and the Hall was back in it, 21-8 at halftime.

Being that it was a windy day, Belleville elected to kickoff for the third quarter so they would have the wind advantage. The idea worked like a charm. Two plays in, Reavy had his pass intercepted by Cerza who returned it to the Pirate 30. Once again, the Buc offense, which has accounted for 15 touchdowns in the last three games, went to work. Fazzini and Dalla Riva did the job on the drive, but the score came in the air when Melillo hit his favorite target, Ken Constantino. It was Constantino's fifth touchdown of the season on the eight yard strike.

The closest the Pirates came to the Buc end zone was the Belleville 30 yard line. Meanwhile, the Buc offense put the final points on the board in the fourth quarter when Fazzini scored from five yards out to give Belleville a 33-8 lead. Cancelleri added the final conversion, giving Belleville a 34-8 lead which later was a 34-8 victory.

As for Clark, the Bucs will have no picnic. Once again, the opposition is quite formidable with the Crusaders holding a 6-1 record. Belleville will need this game to make the playoffs. Clark also needs the victory for playoff recognition in Group III, so the game should be quite interesting. Clark is a strong offensive team, but is not as big as Seton Hall, making many wonder if the Crusaders can move against the strong Buccaneers defense, one that has allowed just five touchdowns in its last six games and has posted a shutout.

NOTES: Fazzini had some game against Seton Hall. He rushed for 134 yards and scored three touchdowns. The 1980 season was a very special one for BHS football. The team finished the regular season with an 8-1 record and defeated Morris Knolls in the first round of the Group IV, Section II playoffs, 14-7. The team lost the championship to West Essex, 22-7. The Seton Hall game was also dedicated to Craig Mack, a sophomore linebacker who suffered a ruptured spleen in practice earlier that week. Mack, of course, did recover quite well and went on to become one of the best linebackers in BHS history. Belleville defeated Clark, 20-12 the week after the Seton Hall game, clinching the playoff berth for the second straight year. In that win, Fazzini rushed for over 200 yards.

Rec Department Offers Pre School

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9:15 a.m.-11:15 a.m. five days a week with class limited to 25 students. The cost of the 15-week session is $45. The mothers of the children accepted will serve one duty day about every eight or nine days according to a published schedule.

School will begin again in September under the leadership of Mrs. Susanne Iannini.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 759-3121 as soon as possible. Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching in its 7-14-year-old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions, according to specific age groups. The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games. Games are played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, beginning in late September.

Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 759-3142 or contact Bob Travers, league director, at 759-6781.

Basketball Squad Wins Two More Contests

and his older brother, Mike, hit for seven points. All told, everyone scored in the Buccanier arsenal and as Boyd said, "it was a total team effort once again. It's been that way all summer."

The playoff format is the top seed against the number four club and the number two squad facing number three. Right now, it looks like Belleville and Bloomfield in one semi final while Essex Catholic and Immaculate would play the other game. Boyd was a member of the 1982 summer basketball team that lost to Bloomfield at the buzzer of the semi final game. He also played on last summer's team that finished 5-3 but missed out on the playoffs. He would certainly enjoy the opportunity to lead the club into the finals.

Religious Viewpoint

Is God Dead?

By Rev. Robert Paul

Captain Johnson was serving as chaplain on an island in the South Pacific during World War II. He prepared to go on a bombing raid on enemy-occupied islands several hundred miles away. The mission was a complete success, but on the home-ward course, the plane began to lose altitude and the engines faded out. A safe landing was made on a strange island. It was learned later that the enemy was just one-half mile in each direction, yet the landing had gone undetected.

The staff sergeant came to the chaplain and said, "Chaplain, you have been telling us for months of the need of praying and believing God answers prayer in time of trouble, and that He does it right away. We're out of gas, the base is several hundred miles away and we're almost surrounded by the enemy."

Johnson began to pray and lay hold of the promises and believed that God would work a miracle. Night came and the chaplain continued his intense prayer. About 2 a.m. the sergeant awakened and felt compelled to walk to the water's edge. He discovered a metal float which had drifted up on the beach — an octane gas barge. In a few hours the crew reached their home base safely.

An investigation revealed that the shipper of a U.S. tanker, finding his ship in sub-infested waters, had his gasoline cargo removed so as to minimize the danger in case of a torpedo hit. Barrels were placed on barges and put adrift 600 miles from where Johnson and the plane crew were forced down. God had navigated one of these barges through wind and current and beached it 50 steps from the stranded men.

This same God still works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. His message to all who are on the sea of life, stranded, hopeless and helpless, is found in St. Matthew 11:28.

"Come unto me, all you that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." God still answers prayer, and He will surely answer this prayer. "God be merciful to me a sinner, and save me now for Jesus's sake." God is not dead!

Trustees are Upset Over Project Cost

project and we must take the blame for not overseeing it closely."

Trustee Ernest Zoppi made a proposal to make sure that this type of situation doesn't occur again.

"I have had a major problem viewing the work which is done by the Board of Education for sometime," the former board president said. "Most jobs we undertake there is nothing put down in writing. We just approve something to be done and that's it, until complaints start about the cost of time being spent. Before we start any other major projects, I think they should be placed in writing and that includes the cost, the estimated starting time and finishing time, and the amount of men needed to do the work."

"We have been working at the stadium for the entire summer and there are other jobs which should have taken a top priority over that," he continued. "No child should enter a school building in September and see and ceiling down. No child should enter school in September and find a window broken. But come this September that is just what will happen because other more important jobs have been pushed aside. It is not fair to the children or the parents."

After debating the issue for nearly 30 minutes, the trustees agreed to figure out what work had to be done for the least amount of money in order to make the building "livable."

"I would like to see Mr. (Michael) Nardiello, meet with Mr. (Larry) Schwartz, Mr. (Eddie) Appleton, and Mr. Grande, to determine just what we can do for the least amount of bucks. There is no question that improvements must be made at the site, we all agree on that, but we cannot afford to do a complete modernization."

The four men were scheduled to meet Tuesday in September and report back to the board Monday night with their findings.

NUTLEY MANOR

Back in 1972, Frank Orechio purchased an old warehouse in Nutley, N.J., to store newspaper for his newspaper operations. Over the years, the warehouse, built in 1894, had been used as a plant for the manufacture of hats, shoe polish, aircraft parts, chemicals, electrical contracting and even a distillery.

Today we are the Nutley Manor where fine dining and entertainment is at its best. In this setting enjoy our marvelous food and creative atmosphere.
