Haul-Away Wins The Bidding

Commissioners Award New 5-Year Scavenger Contract

By Linda Telesco

By Superior Court decision, Belleville awarded a five-year $3.4 million scavenger contract to Haul-Away, Inc., a Hoboken firm.

The contract, which becomes effective September 10, was awarded at a special meeting August 22, three weeks after commissioners voted to reject the bid first made August 6 by the firm.

The Wednesday meeting was originally slated to accept new bids, the third time this summer commissioners would have rebid the contract.

However, only the day before, Superior Court Judge Paul Murphy ruled in Newark that Belleville could neither accept or reject the Hoboken firm's August 6 offer.

Although impressed with the firm's prices, commissioners had agreed to reject the original bid because the company failed to include an affidavit of non-collusion with the package at the time of bidding.

Although the document was submitted by Haul-Away the next day, commissioners feared legal action from the only other bidder present August 6, Browning-Ferris Waste Industries (BFI) — Belleville's current scavenger and the high bidder at the session.

According to Public Works Commissioner Joseph Grande, three bids were submitted last Wednesday, but were automatically rejected unopened when the board learned of the court's decision to permit them to go with Haul-Away.

"It was a unanimous vote," said Grande. "We liked the prices they gave us."

The court decision resulted from a lawsuit filed by Haul-Away charging it was unfair of Belleville to reject the company's bid on a technicality.

In fact, commissioners followed advice of township attorney Frank Zinna who reminded them of a similar incident in December 1982 when Belleville first awarded a contract to BFI although that firm failed to submit necessary documents at the original bidding sessions.

The commissioners, township, and BFI became the targets of a lawsuit filed by the only competing bidder at the time and Belleville was ordered by the courts to rebid the contract which eventually went to BFI.

Belleville's present one-year $598,425 contract with BFI expires September 10.

Haul-Away performs scavenger service for Upper Saddle River and Butler.

Mayor Michael Marotti, who was unavailable for comment this week, said earlier in the month commissioners were satisfied the Hoboken company could do a good job at the stated fees.

Locker Renovations Priced at $14,000

In the controversial renovation of the municipal stadium's locker and shower rooms, the School Board voted Monday to spend another $10,000 to complete the job which had been halted midstream when cost estimates skyrocketed.

"I've heard figures from $4,000 to $25,000 on this project," said Board President Grace Purdie who set the record straight by announcing the total cost as $14,000.

"The township will pay $2,000 and the school board will pay $12,000," said Purdie.

It all began as an apparently simple repair job to fix the stadium's showers, but grew into an apparently unauthorized full-blown renovation project.

Original estimates of $4,000 for the repairs ballooned to over $25,000 for complete modernization and led the School Board and township officials into bickering about who should foot the bill. The township is responsible for the stadium and agreed to pay a portion of the original quoted costs, but Mayor Michael Marotti objected to the inflated sums later produced and defended Commissioners against accusations from some school trustees that the township tried to get the renovations done and sneak the bills to the School Board.

When school officials learned from their maintenance department how much work was being done and at what expense, Purdie called a halt to all labor until the mystery of who proved such extensive work was solved.

Maintenance supervisor Joseph Grande said at previous sessions he assumed responsibility

School Opens September 5

Belleville Public Schools will officially open Sept. 5 according to Michael Nardiello, superintendent of schools.

Kindergarten classes will have one-hour sessions on Sept. 5 and 6. The morning class will meet from 8:35-9:35 a.m., while the afternoon session will be conducted 12:35-1:35 p.m.

All schools will be open for registration and transfers Sept. 4.

School Board Denies Chirico's Withheld Salary Increment

In a divided vote Monday, the School Board voted against a measure to restore a salary increment withheld from a district administrator as a disciplinary measure.

The board voted 6-1 not to restore the 1983-84 increase denied Dr. Anthony Chirico, director of special services in Belleville, for selling products from his own company to the school district at a personal profit.

When the controversy first came to light in August of 1983, school trustees decided to withhold Chirico's increment for the year as punishment, permitting the administrator to retain his job.

The board decided to maintain that position Monday, though Chirico may be entitled to a 1984-85 salary increase to be established through negotiations, according to the resolution.

Board president Grace Purdie, and Trustees Gabe Nazzola, Phil Linfante, Sy Grossman, and Anthony D'Agostino voted against restoring the increment.

Only trustee John DiStasi opposed the majority. "I thought the action was only to be for one year," said DiStasi of his vote.

The action was taken against Chirico August 15, 1983 when the board discovered he was supplying the district with supplies from his own firm, Creative Production.

The administrator's action was at odds with state education laws which prohibits public school employees from conducting business for profit with the school districts.

Belleville Little League Squad Wins Annual Tournament

They're Winners — Members of the Belleville National and American Little Leagues did very well as they won the third annual Rick Cerone Tournament. It marked the second straight year the boys have defended their title.

A group of combined all-stars from the American and National Leagues merged their talents recently in quest of defending Belleville's 1983 championship in the third annual Rick Cerone Tournament. All tournament games were held at the Rick Cerone Field in Branch Brook Park, Newark.

On Aug. 5, Belleville's first opponent was East Orange. In this game, Belleville experienced sporadic team hitting, however superb pitching and fielding made it a winner. The pitching proved to be the difference as Frank Orrei pitched a two hitter, striking out 14 batters. Exceptional fielding plays were made by Jason Nardachone and Steve Iannuzzi. The winning run was scored by George Villano in the top of the sixth after a bases loaded walk to Eric Faragi. Final score: 3-2. The win advanced Belleville to the quarter finals against Glen Ridge.

On Aug. 9, Belleville suffered a 5-3 defeat against Glen Ridge in the double elimination tournament. The team's only bright spot was a three-hit performance by catcher Eric Faragi. This loss inspired the team to fight back the following evening against Roberto Clemente, a game which proved to be no contest. Final score: 19-0. Belleville. The hitting barrage was led by Keith Bucher's three-run homer. Winning pitcher was Frank Orrei. The victory advanced the all-stars into a meeting with Newark's South Ward on Aug. 13 and Belleville was victorious by a score of 4-0. Dennis Davitt baffled the South Ward team with a magnificent curve ball, allowing only one base hit. Belleville's runs were driven in by Chris Fallon and Keith Bucher. The win advanced the team to the championship of the loser's bracket against the Orange All-Stars.

The Belleville team was given a big boost when 11 year old Joe Thompson pitched a two-hit complete game. The offense was given a lift by a new face in the starting line-up. Richard Searls' crucial two run double in the top of the fifth proved to be the margin of victory. Final score: 6-2, Belleville.

With their backs to the wall, the all-stars next task was to defeat Jersey City two consecutive games for the tournament championship. Coach Stanco gave the task of defeating Jersey City to curve baller Dennis Davitt. The all-stars responded with a fine effort by the entire team. The winning run was scored by pitcher, Dennis Davitt in the top of the sixth. He was driven in by Richard Searls' two out clutch single. Belleville's 3-2 victory forced a final showdown the following evening.

On Friday, Aug. 17, Belleville and Jersey City played a truly exciting Little League game. Belleville came out swinging in the top of the first, scoring a run which was driven in by Eric Faragi. Jersey City's Anthony Callandri hit a two-run blast off Belleville's pitcher, Frank Orrei, in the bottom of the first. The all-stars re-grouped in the second inning scoring four runs to take a 5-2 lead. Jersey City tied the game in the bottom of the third.

Belleville regained the lead, 6-5 in the top of the fourth on a walk, singled by Faragi and error. Donald Michael in the last of the fifth gave Jersey City the lead again with a two run homer making the score 7-6.

In the top of the sixth, Belleville tied the game. Jason Nardachone led off with a single, advanced to third on a fielders choice hit by Keith Bucher and scored on a Faragi single.

The Jersey City stars appeared to have Belleville on the ropes in the last of the sixth. The first batter singled, then after the next batter struck out, James Beam hit a line drive which appeared to be a sure hit but shortstop, Steve Iannuzzi, made an exceptional play, starting a line drive double play, killing the Jersey City attempt to win the game and force extra innings.

Inspired by Iannuzzi's defensive play, Belleville rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh. Dennis Davitt doubled, Richard Searls singled him home. Iannuzzi doubled driving in Searls. Bucher doubled in Iannuzzi.

Belleville Business Bureau

By Howard Halpern

In 1970 Hoffmann La Roche added to its pharmaceutical and chemical divisions a third business group called Roche Diagnostics, located at Franklin Ave., Belleville. The business dedicated itself to the development of reliable, efficient, convenient and cost effective health testing products and services designed to meet the specific needs of the health care community. Today Roche Diagnostics is a leader in providing health testing kits to hospitals, physicians, and clinical laboratories. One major Roche product is the Cobas-Bio blood analyzer. It can be programmed to perform 40 different tests and can analyze batches of up to 29 patient specimens in as little as five minutes. In the field of reproductive health, Roche provides an accurate and reliable pregnancy testing kit. Their pregnancy tests have outperformed those of every other manufacturer in the industry over the last three years. A drug abuse testing kit called Abauscreen can detect trace amounts of morphine, barbiturates, cocaine, and other drugs in urine, and is used by the military as well as hospitals and rehabilitation clinics.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is proud to have both Hoffman La Roche and Roche Diagnostics in its family of distinguished members.

On Sept. 18 at 11:30 a.m., the Chamber of Commerce will hold a luncheon meeting at Tarantino's Ristorante, 140 Washington Ave. The guest speaker will be the distinguished Herbert E. Spiegel, Ph.D., MBA, director of Clinical Laboratory Research at Hoffman La Roche. The topic will be Cancer Research. Admission for the luncheon is $12.50 — call 759-4848 or 751-3935.

On the lighter side, do you remember Grandma's or Aunt Muffie's home made fettucini noodles, ravioli or cavatelli? Well there is a restaurant in Belleville that actually makes its own pasta. Cerchio's, 501 Washington Ave., prides itself in good old fashioned Italian cooking. Owners Robert Mendolla and Greg Caruso are following a family tradition dating back to 1900. In Belleville just two years Bob and Greg have earned quite a reputation using only fresh vegetables and the freshest of meats which are cut on the premises. Frozen vegetables, meats, or fish are not used at Cerchio's. For a delicious dinner you can start with your favorite cocktail. Then next a hearty soup like escarole and bean, or the home made Fettucini Alfredo which is amongst 12 other pasta dishes. A very popular entree is Shrimp Cerchio — Large shrimp sautéed in wine, butter, and garlic or the one inch thick veal chops either broiled or melanes. All entrees are served with a fresh vegetable. For dessert, Cerchio's features home made Italian cheese cake. A cup of espresso and a cordial of Sambucca should round off your dinner perfectly, not to mention making you very well rounded also.

The Chamber of Commerce will represent Belleville in welcoming the Jets to New Jersey at a Welcome Luncheon in the Meadowlands Hilton on Sept. 5.

H&R Block Offers New Opportunities

Thousands of people are saving money at tax time and earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers.

H&R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 6 and 7 with morning, afternoon and evening classes available.

During the 14-week course, experienced Block personnel will teach students all phases of income tax preparation including actual experience in preparing individual returns. Instruction topics include current tax laws and tax theory and their application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture and practice problems on each subject. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both practical and challenging and will also be able to use their new skills directly to save money on their own tax returns.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge or anyone who files a tax return.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H&R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates and seven-and-a-half continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H&R Block Registration Center at 155 Franklin Ave., Nutley, N.J. 07110, or calling 235-1000.

Construction Starting On New Condominiums

River Mill West, a 130-unit luxury condominium complex, is scheduled to begin construction in Belleville this month.

Modeled after the highly-successful condominium community of River Mill, River Mill West will feature two-bedroom, one-and-a-half bath contemporary condominiums at moderate prices.

The condominiums of River Mill West will be similar in design and style to those of River Mill," notes Nicholas Gisondi, executive marketing director of Govel Realtors.

Govel Realtors, a full-service real estate organization based in Belleville, has been appointed exclusive sales and marketing agent for the new condominium development by the developer, River Mill West Associates.

"Considering the pricing and amenities of the River Mill West condominiums, we anticipate a similar success with this new condominium community," Gisondi predicts.

The new condominiums will sell at prices ranging from the mid-$70,000s to the mid-$80,000s.

Designed to take full advantage of the aesthetics of Belleville's Third River, the River Mill West condominiums are being built on the river bank not far from the original River Mill condominium community.

Each of the condominiums will feature a long list of standard features, including private exterior balcony, wall-to-wall carpeting, all modern appliances, air conditioning and spacious interiors.

LAXATIVE ABUSE

Laxatives should be used only to relieve constipation not to speed up elimination after a binge. For occasional constipation, caused by poor diet, inactivity, stress or travel, a few days is ample time for a mild laxative to work. Do not use a laxative any longer unless specifically prescribed by a physician. The best cure for constipation is to increase the intake of fluids and fiber and by regular exercise. Prolonged use or abuse of laxatives can lead to dependency. It will then be difficult to do without one. Laxative abuse can lead to damaged bowel function. Many laxatives will also irritate the lining of the bowel while others will impair its normal contractions. Most lead to dehydration, imbalances in body minerals and faulty absorption of nutrients.

It's not difficult to find needed information on medications. Just give us a call or stop by and talk to our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Registration Starts For Fall Preschool

The Children's Room of the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., is now taking registrations for its fall series of pre-school story times.

The pre-school program, which will run for 10 consecutive weeks, is open to all Belleville 3- and 4-year-olds. Because group size is limited, advance registration is required. Interested parents should call The Children's Room at the branch, 759-2010 or register their children in person as soon as possible. Storytelling, nursery rhymes, finger plays, filmstrips and simple sign language and creative dramatics will be featured.

Two separate groups will be formed at the Children's Room of the main branch. One session will meet Tuesdays beginning Sept. 11 through Nov. 13, the other Thursday, Sept. 13 through Nov. 15. Each session runs from 10-11 a.m.

A parent or guardian is required to be in the building during the program and is invited to join a series of lecture, film and discussion programs in the adult department, conducted concurrently with the pre-school program.

A 10-week winter story hour session and a 10-week spring story session will be held in 1985.

Freeholders Increase Summer Program Funds

The Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders this week approved a resolution increasing its funding of the Belleville Board of Education's successful Summer Youth Employment Training Program.

Passed on a motion by Freeholder Arthur Clay the county lawmaking body appropriated an additional $15,071 for the program to run through Sept. 30. The program, funded through the County Division of Employment Training, is aimed at equipping students with useful job skills to prepare them for employment after graduation.

Clay is known as a forceful advocate of student employment training programs as a way to come to grips with the joblessness problem.

Child Abuse

There was a disclosure this week the state has compiled a list of more than 4,000 people found guilty of child abuse. Both television and newspapers inform us daily of the crimes committed by adults against helpless children.

Especially galling is the number of times that counselors at youth shelters have sexually abused both male and female children from ages 7 through 16 — children who are in their care and custody.

For example, a former counselor at the Monmouth County Juvenile Shelter in Wall Township recently was charged with sexually abusing two teenage girls. Another — at the same shelter faces charges of aggravated assault on nine boys ages 13-16 over a period of six months.

Another employee of the shelter is free on $50,000 bail on charges of two assaults on two 13 year old boys and distributing marijuana, apparently in return for sexual favors according to Monmouth County Prosecutor John Kaye.

Persons convicted of sexually abusing children should be given a minimum stiff penalty — like 15-25 years in jail without any possibility for a reduced sentence because of good behavior.

There are few crimes committed in this world that are worse than a crime against a child — especially those involving sex. Some among us may take the position an adult in his or her right mind would not commit such a crime — that these persons lost their senses or are temporarily insane to commit crimes of this nature.

There is no defense for an adult charged with a sexual crime against a youngster. The judge should throw the book at the criminal — and jail wardens should throw away the key.

We hear much about people being tough on crime. In our book — when it comes to crime against children, society has been too lenient and unconcerned.

Last Speech Not Heard

By Rev. Robert Paul

Last year a 50-year-old tradition was quietly dropped by the U.S. House of Representatives. The tradition involved the annual reading of George Washington's farewell address on the occasion of his birthday. Democratic and Republican leaders decided it was useless to continue to read the lengthy address to a mostly empty chamber. "It's too bad," said a GOP side, "but it's time for this to be consigned to the dustbin."

Stated The Calgary Herald: "In the past years, it was almost holy writ that the address must be read. Through war and storm for half a century, a member of each chamber has been chosen to read the address." Declared the newspaper heading, "Nobody listens to Washington's farewell address."

We are afraid that something parallel to this is taking place in the Christian church. Fewer and fewer professed believers in Christ are listening to Christ's farewell address. To His disciples, Christ gave clear instructions. "Go into all the world and preach the gospel."

Thank God for those who have read Christ's last command and who have obeyed it. The roster of obedient believers includes William Carey, David Livingston, Alexander Duff, and hundreds of other missionaries to the nations.

Let us determine that the Great Commission will not be consigned to the dustbin of centuries. Whether war or peace, whether times of adversity or prosperity, let us give the Great Commission its proper priority.

In some churches the words of Christ's Great Commission are indeed read from time to time, but unless there is an obedient response to Christ's words, the reading of them simply adds more guilt on us for our refusal and rebellion.

Perhaps you have no desire to tell others about the Lord Jesus Christ because you have never been born again. Believe God loves you and Christ died just for your sins, and rose again for your justification, and crown Him Lord of your life. Then go quickly and tell others how He has changed your life. If you fail in doing this, your last speech will not be read. (Romans 10:9, 10.)

A Woman Can Do the Job

To The Editor:
There is a new day dawning for the U.S.A. This new day is for women coming into the stream of big time politics more and more. The day is around the corner that we will have a woman as president as well as a vice-president. However, at the time of this writing, I don't think it will happen this year. I do believe, though, she will come close.

I know there are a lot of men out there that believe "a woman's place is in the home," and that's all. Taking care of husband, children and house is an awesome responsibility. I agree a woman should be in the house when the children are young and come home after school. Being a parent is also a father's job, even though he works eight hours a day. He still should take time out to talk to kids and be there when they need a daddy. Everything should not be put on the mother, even though she is second in command. Children need both mother and father in their proper roles to be raised properly.

I see from Mrs. Ferraro's biography she has three wonderful kids and they are all grown now. She did a fine job along with her husband in raising them. Since the kids are fully grown, she has every right to pursue a career of her own as long as it doesn't take away from her husband. This would be wrong. I'm sure she won't forget this. She doesn't appear to be that kind of woman.

I'd now like to address the concern relating to would she be able to handle the government in times of war? This I'm a little hesitant to say yes to. I would rather see a man in that position during war time. I guess she would come through O.K. if she had a male Secretary of State. During peace time, I'd be willing to give her a chance.

We have had some great women world leaders in the past. To name a few: Queen Victoria (although she had Prime Minister Gladstone), then there's Mrs. Gandhi, Catherine the Great, and at present, Mrs. Thatcher of England. I have a relative that says "a woman can easily run England but the U.S., I doubt it!" I think he's wrong. Actually, the Presidency is too big and complex for one man to handle and I think it's about time to look into the idea of a Prime Minister or a Chancellor. This will be discussed in another article.

Gentlemen, like it or not, women are here in politics to stay and in just about every other profession. Let's give them a chance. I assure you, they'll do a good job. Oh yes, you'll have weak ones as well as strong, same as men. After all, we are all human beings together!

Upset Over Board's Selection

To The Editor:
Recently I attended my first Board of Education meeting. At this meeting, I addressed a question to the board. My question was, what criteria does the board use when hiring a teacher, and what qualifications and abilities must the candidate have in order to be appointed as a teacher in Belleville. Mr. Michael Lally, assistant superintendent of schools, stated that they based their decision on the candidates experience, college transcripts, professional recommendations and their opinion of the candidates skill, perceived through interviewing process.

I was content with his answer and believed the process to be adequate and fair.

Last week, on the Board of Education agenda, there was a vote to choose a new physical education teacher for the Middle School. There were a number of candidates vying for the job. Based on Mr. Lally's statement, I expected the board's decision to be just, however, I have come to find this is not so.

How is it that the candidate who had the most professional experience plus the recommendations of all three interviewers failed to be offered the job? He obviously fulfilled the criteria stipulated by the board. Could it be that this appointment was politically motivated?

I am at a loss to understand the board's appointment and would appreciate an explanation of their hiring process — again.

Sincerely,
Sharon E. Brady

Thanks is Given

To the editor:
Once again, let's hear it for those fabulous Belleville firefighters!

Thanks to the quick thinking of my two youngsters, Gerald (6) and Jeffrey (5) and their little friend Colleen Mannion (8), they notified me right away that a little bunny had hopped into a sewer.

I called Belleville's finest and Capt. Reem arrived with firefighters T. La Minn and Angelo Rotundo.

They rescued a bunny, smarter than the palm of your hand, from the dark, wet sewer.

The kids were so excited that the firefighters had responded so quickly... a few more minutes and the rabbit would surely have drowned.

Thanks again to our fire department!

Sincerely,
Lynn Falduto

Golden Comments

By James Golden

Shaken by the reality that copy must be prepared to meet that inexorable dead-line for publication, compellingly bestirs this aestivating (to pass the summer in a torpid state) scribe to the galvanizing activity of putting together a column on the lighter side which may prove more appealing to the ladies, although, many males do avail themselves of this novel and bizarre personal shopping for hire service offered by several large department stores, such as Neiman-Marcus.

Many competent individuals suffer from image problems. They come across a little flaky and worry that people weren't taking them seriously. After some soul searching and looking into a mirror they conclude that their wearing apparel might be improved. Inquiries in the right places inform them about their service of personal shopping service guidance by smart shoppers for hire could be helpful.

One high school teacher spent one afternoon — and nearly $600 — selecting a few outfits under the guidance of a personal shopper; acquiring a new sophisticated look — and much more. Alone in the dressing room, she saw herself, for the first time, as a person who could do anything she wanted to, saying "If I had had $1,000 of therapy, I wouldn't have felt anywhere near as good. It was like a religious experience."

Years ago, women who were "down in the dumps" bought a new hat to lift their spirits. Today shopping has become just one more burdensome step on the ladder to prominence. These days, every man or woman with money to spend but no time to spend it, there are personal shoppers ready to lend a hand.

Major department stores across America have staffs that, free of charge, keep files on clients' sizes and preferences, cull clothes off the racks and present them — sometimes accompanied by wine and cheese or sushi and saki — in private rooms. And free-lance shoppers and wardrobe consultants, who charge up to several hundred dollars, will come to your home, ruthlessly purge through your closet of accumulated bad buys and then comb through every store in town to create a new, improved you.

While the majority of personal shopper's tend to be women, but not surprisingly, more and more men are seeking help too. One reason, women don't have enough time to do their own shopping, let alone their husbands'.

Women lawyers, bankers and executives who are fed with the mannish dress-for-success uniform but feel insecure about changing it, make up the most loyal clientele. Many professional women cry "Get me out of this suit, I want my dress."

Some consultants will perform a daylong head-to-toe makeover for a flat fee of $300. Others charge annual membership dues; for $225 a year (not including shopping time, which costs $45 an hour), they will devise and help execute a "strategic game plan" for their clients. These consultants function on the principal that "A professional woman should dress at least two steps above her current position," claiming, "You don't dress where you are but where you want to be."

Wardrobe consultants and personal shoppers offer more than convenience. Some people don't have time to shop, others put their confidence in the consultants knowledge of fashion trends. The prime essential quality of discretion is the indispensable requirement of the trustworthy personal shopper or consultant.

In fact, in high-powered, political cities like Washington, a personal shopper who dresses and tells may well lose her customer. As one well-dressed Atlanta woman put it, "My friends think I have fabulous taste. I'm certainly not going to tell them I paid someone to teach me how to look this way."

State Driving Regulations

How long has it been since you sat down and reviewed the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Division's point system? I bet it hasn't been since your junior year in high school and driver education class. But knowing the driving laws in the state are important, so let's run down a few. And I promise no surprise quizzes for next week.

As every driver in this state is aware — or at least they should be — you are allowed 12 points for various driving violations. Once you surpass that amount, you can lose your license. Motorists who incur six or more points are also subjected to an insurance surcharge of $100 for six points and $25 for each additional point. This surcharge is also payable for three years. The point surcharge remains operational as long as a motorist has six or more points on his record for the immediate past three-year period.

Let's run down a few offenses which can accumulate points.

- * Failure to yield to pedestrian in crosswalk, or passing a vehicle yielding to pedestrian in crosswalk — two points.
- * Racing on highway — five points.
- * Failure to observe direction of officer — two points.
- * Failure to stop vehicle before crossing sidewalk — two points.
- * Improper passing on right or off roadway — four points.
- * Reckless driving — five points.

- * Careless driving — two points.
- * Exceeding maximum speed 1-4 mph over limit — two points.
- * Exceeding maximum speed 15-29 mph over limit — four points.
- * Exceeding maximum speed 30 mph or more over limit — five points.
- * Improper right or left turn — three points.
- * Failure to stop for traffic light — three points.
- * Failure to give proper signal — two points.
- * Improper U-turn — three points.
- * Improper passing of school bus — five points.
- * Improper passing of frozen dessert truck — four points.

- * Leaving scene of an accident with no injuries — two points. With personal injury involved it is eight points.
- * Failure to observe stop or yield sign — two points.

Now these are just a few of the many violations for which a New Jersey motorist can be given points. If you want more information you can write to the Bureau of Driver Improvement, Division of Motor Vehicles, 25 South Montgomery St., Trenton, N.J. 08666.

Debra Lynn Perry Bride Of Richard McGoldrick

Debra Lynn Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry Jr. of 5 Hill St., was married recently to Richard McGoldrick Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGoldrick Sr. of Bloomfield.

The Rev. Joseph Bragotti of Cincinnati, Ohio, performed the ceremony in St. Peter's Church. A reception followed at The Chandelier, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with lace accented illusion neckline, fitted bodice and sleeves trimmed with lace and pearls and a cathedral train. A matching hat held her veil and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid.

Barbara Perry of Bloomfield was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the groom's sister, Susan McGoldrick of Bloomfield, the bride's sister-in-law, Bernadette Perry of Bloomfield and Barbara Matson of West Caldwell. Ariana Perry of Bloomfield, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The honor attendant was attired in a violet chiffon over taffeta gown with puff sleeves, fitted bodice and illusion lace neckline. She carried a nosegay of carnations, roses, statice and baby's breath and wore matching flowers in her hair. The others were similarly attired in lilac and carried carnations, babies breath and statice. The flower girl wore a violet chiffon gown and had a basket of carnations and babies breath with a wreath of babies breath in her hair.

Robert McGoldrick of Bloomfield was his brother's best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Frank Perry, III of Belleville, Peter Tighe and Richard Szubany of Bloomfield. Ringbearer was Philip Perry of Bloomfield, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Perry chose a mauve chiffon gown with a sheer cape and beaded neckline while the groom's mother was in an aqua pleated gown with sequined neckline. Flowers were pink cymbidiums.

Mrs. McGoldrick, a graduate of Bloomfield High School and Essex County Police Academy, is a police officer in Bloomfield.

The couple honeymooned in St. Maarten following the May 27 nuptials and have made their home in Bloomfield.

The college, founded in 1899 by the Sisters of Charity, is located on 400 acres in Convent Station off route 24 between Morrisstown and Madison.

Petracca is a 1984 graduate of Belleville High School.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

A whiplash injury, suffered in an auto accident, is serious. Whiplash can cause headache, dizziness, nervousness, arthritis and other illnesses.

For some victims, whiplash has proven to be a blessing in disguise. After realizing that whiplash is best understood and treated by chiropractic, they visit a chiropractor for the first time. There, the whiplash responds to chiropractic adjustment and the chiropractor often provides effective treatment for other stubborn health problems caused by displacement of vertebrae. These might never have been properly diagnosed elsewhere.

Don't wait for a whiplash. Make an appointment now for chiropractic treatment of YOUR health problems.

Belleville's past

Yellow fever which plagued America annually once again blighted New York and Philadelphia in the summer of 1798. When the fever subsided in the fall it had taken a toll of more than two thousand lives. The New Yorks were as baffled by the disease as the Philadelphians, and the medical profession held different opinions about the causes of its origin, and the procedures for its treatment. Harmon Hendricks linked the start of the disease to the suspension of trade with the French Islands, a large consumer of American beef. "Many stores and cellars containing from 500 to 5000 barrels beef for want in a Market Putrefied and rendered the air contagious in the environs of those stores, the people thereabout fell the first victims of the fever." The beef was thrown into the North River.

Many fled the city and took refuge in the suburban village of Greenwich a few miles to the north. In mid-September Uriah Hendricks was attacked by the fever and died on September 27, 1798. "With scarce a gray hair, nor wrinkle, without ever using spectacles, with a heart usually light and gay as youth, esteemed by every one and his word of equal security to those who held it as his bond," was laid to rest in the Chatham Square cemetery at the age of sixty-one.

Harmon took over his father's business and notified all the copper merchants of his intentions and each without question, extended the same credit and shipping terms that had been allowed his father. It was at this time that the United States government made its first major purchase of copper from Harmon consisting of 485 sheets weighing 5,680 pounds.

In June 1800, Harmon married Frances, the daughter of Joshua Isaacs. He continued to live in the Pearl St. home along with his two sisters Hetty and Sally. In 1801 the house was sold and another was purchased close by and Uriah Hendricks' estate of $56,000 was settled.

Copper sheathing was an accepted part of English shipbuilding after the American Revolution. When sheathing was fastened to the submerged portion of a ship's hull, it prevented wood rot and worminess. Copper nails and spikes replaced those made of cast iron and were used to secure the seams of sheathing. The nails penetrated the toughest oak and fir bottoms and blended smoothly with the surface of the sheathing. This technique repelled barnacles from clustering to the seams and spreading along the ship's bottom. Such advantages liberated ship of war from impediments that reduced her speed; enabled her to be repaired more quickly and permitted her to stay longer at sea. Vessels that plowed the West Indies or made the long voyage to the China seas or went on sealing and whaling expeditions, were especially vulnerable to the deterioration that could be reduced or prevented by the use of copper sheathing.

In addition to the metal trade, Hendricks conducted a large business in fine English leather, choice Dutch linens and woolsens made in Leeds. Huge bales of white duck and diaper cloth, known as Russian goods, were shipped to New York from St. Petersburg by way of London. In addition to these major importations there was an interest in minor enterprises such as obtaining the proper ingredients for the manufacture of kosher cheese. The steady rise of importations into the United States at this time was astounding. From $29 million in 1790 importations soared to $111 million in 1801. Uriah Hendricks was an integral part of the transatlantic commerce that challenged the English hegemony in the first years of American Independence.

County Sheriff Offering Speakers on Child Abuse

Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio has announced the availability of speakers from his department dealing with the subject of child abuse.

"In light of the recent shocking disclosures," D'Alessio said, "I wish to remind our citizens that we have been offering a program concerning child safety for over a year. Members of our department, who are specially trained in advice and counseling, have been speaking to concerned groups throughout Essex County.

"While the headline figures are shocking, the problem is by no means a new one. Statistics show that child abuse in their United States is nearing epidemic proportions and as concerned parents we should do all we can to protect our children," he continued.

The sheriff pointed out that the best way to prepare and protect our children is to educate them. The Sheriff's Department has prepared a brochure that points out many ways in which to do this. Produced by Sheriff's Personnel, the brochure entitled "Children — Be Safe — Be Alert" is a message to both children and parents which openly discusses the dangers which children may encounter, how they may avoid them and how parents can deal with them.

"Our speakers are available to any interested group, and the brochure will be sent to anyone who requests it. While these are useful tools, and I urge every parent to take advantage of them, the most important thing we can do is trust our own instincts. No one knows our own kids as well as we do. Be open in all communication with your children and listen to them, very often they are trying to tell us something and we don't listen. Let them know that we do care, that we are there when they need us, and most of all that we love them and are on their side. Hopefully with increased communication and education, we can prepare our children and ourselves to cope with this most serious problem," D'Alessio said.

Residents interested in arranging speaking engagements or obtaining a brochure are asked to call the Essex County Sheriff's Department at 961-8316.

Little Theatre Now Preparing For 50th Season Gala Sept. 15

Theatrical Dance Studio, 226 Franklin Ave., is entering its fourth year of professional training in dance education.

The Nutley studio's original concept was to introduce a fresh approach to the dance world. Michele Ferrara, owner of the studio, insists on a professional attitude in all classes offered.

Trained and certified by Dance Educators of America, Ferrara has taught professionally in the performing arts for eight years. Her theatrical background includes leading roles in "Oliver," "Desert Song," and "Company." Jodi Sperduto has studied dance since she was three years old. Her studies were rewarded in 1979 when she won the Garden State Arts Center Talent Expo as a soloist in the jazz dance category.

The studio currently offers classes in ballet, tap, jazz, sim-nastics, body boogie, and the latest New York City street craze, breaking.

Registration dates for Theatrical Dance Studio are Sept. 4, 5 and 6, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Call the studio at 667-4469 for more information.

'New Nurses' Find Health Field More Challenging

By Nancy A. Harper

The changing role of the nursing profession across the country has led to a "new nurse" who has received more advanced education and possesses more sophisticated technical skills. Nurses have become more active members of the health care team, taking pride in their ability to independently assess, plan, implement and evaluate nursing care needs and actions. In this decade of the '80s, the "new nurses" are finding their professional options more challenging and varied than ever before, and as a result, hospital nursing care is changing for the better.

"At Clara Maass Medical Center we are setting new goals and a new direction for the Department of Nursing," said Mary Tonges, R.N., M.S.N., Director of Nursing. "Our priority is to enhance the quality of nursing care by enhancing nurses' practice."

To help the nursing staff better define its role and strive toward new goals, four task forces comprised of assistant directors, head nurses, and staff nurse representatives, have been formed.

The first one, under the direction of Diane Worthington, R.N., B.A., assistant director of nursing, deals with the utilization of the nursing staff. According to Mrs. Worthington, "Our purpose is to approach and carry out nursing care to patients in the most efficient and effective manner. Currently, the staff of 2 North Annex, 3 South, 6 South, and CC-2, are piloting a 'district' approach to the delivery of nursing care, which will eventually be implemented throughout the hospital."

Under the new 'district' approach, nurses focus on the wholeness of care for a patient. In the past, each nurse was responsible for one aspect of nursing care for a large number of patients during her shift. Today, the 'district' approach means every nurse is a bedside nurse responsible for all phases of care for a select number of patients. This restores the ideal one-on-one, nurse-patient relationship.

"These are very challenging times for the health care industry, but I think the future is bright for professional nursing" — Mary Tonges, Clara Maass nursing director.

The task force dealing with documentation is under the direction of Marilyn Zuluetta, R.N., B.S.N., staff development instructor. "We are looking into upgrading the present system by providing nurses the tool for a more meaningful and comprehensive approach to documenting patient care," said Ms. Zuluetta.

Success of the program will allow nurses to put more emphasis on documenting pertinent information regarding patient problems and the nursing intervention provided, and cutting down unnecessary charting time.

Gail Macrae, R.N., M.A., assistant director of nursing, leads the task force on staffing and scheduling. Through the proposed decentralization of staffing and scheduling procedures from the nursing department to the head nurse of each unit, more efficient and consistent staffing patterns can be formed.

"We are proposing many new policies regarding things such as vacation and sick time, as well as offering alternatives to problems such as 'pulling' nurses between units," state Ms. Macrae.

By establishing the head nurse as the first-line manager of the unit with 24-hour responsibility, there is a proper channel in which the nursing staff can directly report and solve its scheduling problems. As a member of the management team, the head nurse can work with other head nurses and the staffing coordinator to avoid staffing problems before they occur. The result of this task force's work will reinforce consistent policies and procedures and facilitate optimal utilization of available staffing resources.

Lastly, job descriptions are being examined under the direction of Diane Mayo, R.N., head nurse, One South Annex.

"Because previous job descriptions have become out-dated and ineffectual as the practice of nursing changes, there is a need for revision," stated Ms. Mayo. "We used the guidelines as articulated in the Nursing Process, and the New Jersey Nursing Practice Act to describe the registered nurse. We then added the qualifications required for the job."

So far, proposed job descriptions for R.N.'s and L.P.N.'s have been approved by nursing administration. From there, the task force will use the job descriptions as a basis for performance appraisal tools. All nurses will be shown the new descriptions and appraisals when they are complete so that they will have a clear understanding of what is expected of them.

Besides the formulation of the four task forces, a stronger emphasis on 'staff development' is helping to attain the new goals of the Clara Maass Nursing Department. Beginning with all new employees, and extensive four-week orientation program is required of nursing personnel. The first week of the program is structured in a classroom setting. Nursing skill is evaluated, policies and procedures are reviewed, and department directors throughout the hospital are introduced stressing their interdepartmental relationships. Among their different activities, all orientees complete requirements for CPR certification.

The following three weeks of orientation are spent learning directly on the nursing units. Orientees perform learned tasks under the direct supervision of the head nurse and the unit nursing staff.

This communication of knowledge and the development of skills will, in turn, lead to quality care for the patient and job satisfaction for the employee.

"Orientation is a planned program to assist employees in their adjustment to the new work setting," explained Maria Mannelli, R.N., staff development coordinator. "The orientee is gradually introduced to new information, becomes familiar with the hospital environment, staff, policies and procedures, specific work rules, and performance expectations. Through skills training, the employee is given the opportunity to enhance previous learning, or learn new skills. Continuing education programs are offered to maintain competence in the delivery of nursing care."

As an ongoing program for the staff, the nursing department has initiated the concept of "Nursing Grand Rounds." Each month a nursing unit selects a topic of nursing interest and presents an educational program to its peers. Each unit is able to demonstrate its unique areas of expertise and creativity in presenting its program.

"It's a chance for nurses to teach nurses," stated Mrs. Tonges. They are gaining the experience of presenting relevant information to a group who wants to learn."

Staff development programs at Clara Maass are now expanding to include the entire hospital community. More than 75 health care professionals from hospitals such as Mountsinclair, Hospital Center at Orange, Beth Israel, and United, recently attended an educational program entitled, "Understanding the Implications of Medical Examiners Cases."

This program, co-sponsored by the Clara Maass Nursing Department and the Essex County Medical Examiners Office, presented guest speakers Dr. Robert Goode, state medical examiner, and Ms. Wendy Mattoo, R.N., in a forum to better educate physicians and nurses alike regarding the legal framework and concerns on related prominent issues.

Just as it is important that the Clara Maass nursing staff be recognized as an educational resource within our own and other hospitals, it is also important that it be recognized in the general community. Through its participation at local health fairs and through Medical Center's Speaker's Bureau, the Clara Maass nursing staff has taken an assertive posture as health care professionals and educators, emphasizing preventive health care.

With the recent creation of the Clara Maass C.P.R. Training Center, the nursing staff has become part of an active part of an interdisciplinary team teaching life-saving techniques. The CPR certification programs are offered to hospital staff (including nurses and physicians), as well as the community on a scheduled basis.

"These are very challenging times for the health care industry, but I think the future for professional nursing is bright," asserts Nursing Director Mary Tonges. "Often one of the primary reasons a patient is hospitalized is the need for 24-hour nursing care. As changes in health care law and reimbursement continue to decrease the length of time patients can spend in the hospital, the implications for nursing are obvious."

Mrs. Tonges concluded, "We must use all of our knowledge and skills to assist patients and families to learn to manage their own care needs as quickly as possible and to maintain their health after discharge. As the practice of medicine and the delivery of health care changes, I think you will see more and more nurses practicing in ambulatory settings and in patients' homes. A great deal of a nurse's education relates to helping people learn to adapt to changes in their health and maintain as high a level of health as possible. Thus the type of health care environment we are beginning to experience will present many new opportunities for nurses, and I think we'll be ready for the challenge here at Clara Maass."

Braves Showed Improvement During Course of 1984 Season

Improvement was the name of the game for the Belleville Braves this summer. The club improved from a sub-.500 campaign in 1983 to a .21-19-2 record that included a playoff victory in the first semi round and a tough two game loss to West Orange in the semi finals.

Sal Garilli's squad showed marvelous ability at times this year but at other times, the Braves handed games to its opponent. Garilli cited a lack of consistency on his teams part during the 1984 season, but none the less happy with his teams play.

"I think we're close to being a top notch team," the coach said.

"I think we need a strikeout pitcher next season, a proven outfielder with a good power and a stopper out of the bullpen. With our ball park, we need a pitcher who can strike people out because a finesse pitcher just doesn't make it. Our park is just too short, I think it's too short for high school ball, much less semi pro ball with college players."

The Braves were led by first baseman Dominick Vazzano. The Belleville High School grad batted .360 and will be playing his college ball at Kean again this year. Third baseman Joe Corbalis, another BHS man, was second in hitting at .340. "Corbalis had an excellent season," Garilli said. "He came to play every day. He was a super third baseman and a clutch hitter." Corbalis hit .441 during the playoffs this year and will be playing at Rutgers this season.

In left field, Bill Feehan, a Kean product, hit .340 and was a solid entry all year long. Feehan had a good power and was once again, a clutch hitter. The catcher, Greg Weber, was voted the Most Valuable Player of the team, by his teammates last week. When you talk of consistent players, with the knack for getting a big hit, then you're speaking of Weber. He had

39 runs batted in, hit .333 and clubbed eleven homers. "I think Weber can play on the minor league level," Garilli said. "He wasn't drafted this year, but I feel he is good enough to play on that level."

The pitching staff was paced by Anthony Coco. The BHS product and current Kean College hurler posted a 6-2 record after a slow start. He pitched some of his best games in the latter stages of the season, including the season finale 3-2 loss to West Orange in which Coco pitched a complete game on just two days rest.

Coco had a 3.16 earned run average and possesses a good fast ball. Scott Wohlrab, who came back from a serious knee injury to make a major contribution in the playoffs, was 6-3 on the pitchers mound and hit .480. Wohlrab was seriously hurt in the final week of the regular season, but he came back to save the Parsippany game in the first round of the playoffs and was an inspiration to his entire team. Wohlrab, like Coco and many of the Braves, will be playing at Kean College.

Scott Lutz was 3-7 this year, but Garilli felt that Lutz was the victim of the small BHS ball park. "That park will destroy a pitcher like Lutz," Garilli said. "He is not overpowering, so a fly ball off of him can turn into a homer." Lutz plays his college ball at University of Vermont.

Shortstop Mark Roll did a fine job defensively, as did his partner at second base, Mike Cavalluzzi. Both men were responsible for the excellent defensive play by the infield, which featured Vazzano at first and Corbalis at third.

Tommy Foster played well in centerfield and Steve Karlick was solid in right. Garilli was also pleased with the play of reserve man Danny Gardner. In 50 at bats, Gardner had 15 ribbies. He saw time at designated hitter and in the outfield.

Irrington, to Garilli's surprise, won the championship of the Essex County Baseball league, stopping defending champ West Orange in two straight games. Last year, West Orange defeated Irrington to take the crown. Ironically, the Braves were very good against Irrington this year. "I didn't expect Irrington to win," Garilli said. "I didn't think they would have the pitching, especially with their injuries. We played very well against Irrington (Belleville won three of four games) but they came through in the clutch."

The Irrington A's were led by former Belleville H.S. pitcher Dan Borgo, who won the decisive contest. The A's also picked up Weber for the tournament of champions that started last week. West Orange, which also is competing in the statewide tourney, added Coco and Feehan to the roster.

NOTES: Garilli expressed thanks to the Belleville Times, Dennis Buckley and "the citizens and merchants of Belleville who gave us their financial and moral support." Also, Garilli expressed thanks to all his players for the fine 1984 season.

Boys Suffer Defeat During Playoffs

The Belleville boys' basketball team closed out its summer basketball season on a somewhat low note, losing to Immaculate, 65-60 in the semi finals of the Bloomfield Summer Basketball league.

The defeat closed the books on the Buccaneers 6-2 season. Essex Catholic captured its third straight title when they stopped Immaculate last Thursday evening. Essex had defeated Bloomfield to gain the finals.

Head Coach David Boyd, who will be leaving for his freshman year of college this weekend, was disappointed with the Immaculate game, not so much with his teams effort, rather the poor officiating that marred the important contest. "It was a farce," Boyd said. "The first couple of weeks, the officiating was excellent. Suddenly, in the last half of the season, the calls have been very inconsistent. In a game of this importance, you would think the officials would have a better handle on the game."

Boyd was particularly incensed by the ejection of guard Nick Sotomayer in a crucial part of the game. Sotomayer's ejection, in the third quarter of a tight contest, seemed to throw the momentum toward Immaculate, which took full advantage. Merlin Hackett, one in a long line of Hackett brothers who have excelled at Immaculate, and Mike Esposito were unstoppable in the second half.

"Both those guys played super," said Boyd. "Everything that they threw up went in. It was just one of those nights. We played a good game, they just played a little better."

The Buccaneers led by three at halftime and were leading by one in the third when Sotomayer received an early shower. Boyd's contention was if the officials were keeping a stronger watch on the game, the ejection might not have come to pass. Sotomayer and his Immaculate opponent were involved in some elbow throwing when the official hit the Bucs with a two shot technical foul, ejecting Sotomayer and also assessing the Buccaneer bench with a technical foul. When the smoke cleared, the Bucs were without its solid guard and were on the short end of a four point swing.

Boyd also claimed there were some "phantom fouls" on the officials parts and cited a lack of consistency. For the most part, the Bucs received a steady performance from freshman-to-be, Ted Sochaski who led the way with 15 points. Mike Sochaski tallied ten points, but he was in foul trouble for most of the game. Ditto for Mauricio Puentes who fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Boyd had praise for Essex Catholic, stating, "three years in a row they have won the title. They had a tough team, with an excellent point guard and good forwards. They should be very good this winter."

As for the Bucs, the summer was a successful one. Ted Sochaski appears injury free, Mauricio Puentes has good speed and can play guard or forward, while Sotomayer and backcourt mace, Danny Riordan will add consistency this winter. All in all, the Bucs will take a confident team into practice come November. It was a good learning experience and will be a good head start for the team as they battle a tough schedule.

NOTES: In the Bloomfield-Essex game, a Bloomfield player was seriously hurt and the game was postponed until the following evening. No word yet on the new BUC basketball coach this winter, although a number of candidates appear interested. Bucs are 17-8 in summer play spanning three years.

Hoopsters Win First Contest Of Year Against the Raiders

The Blue-Gold basketball squad conquered the Maroon Raiders last week, 61-53 for the first Bellboy basketball victory of the 1976-77 season. The win was followed by a contest with Orange cagers, the top ranked team in the Big 10. While the BHS hoopsters fought valiantly, they finished on the short end of an 85-61 count to the highly regarded Tornados.

The Belleville schedule provides no pit stops. The Bellboys host Montclair tomorrow afternoon and will battle East Orange for the second time this year early next week.

Nutley dominated the first half of the cross town confrontation last week. The Raiders were without a win for the season but played the first two quarters like they never lost. Belleville coach Dan Grasso said the Nutley cagers hit 17 of 19 shots in the first half to explode to a big lead. The Raiders blazing pace gave them a 35-21 lead heading into the intermission.

The Bellboys doused the Nutley blaze in the second half by coming back into the game fired up themselves. The Blue Gold bombed the basket for 40 second half points and held the Raiders to just 18. Rich Baker, who started shooting well in the second half, led the way with 28 points. "The entire squad played tremendous defense," coach Grasso said. "They kept Nutley from scoring for over six minutes at the beginning of the second half."

Maroon Raider head coach Bob O'Brien credited Grasso for providing the key to the Belleville rally. "Coach Dan Grasso did a fine job at halftime coaching his kids so when they came out at halftime, they were pretty fired up."

Grasso did make some defensive changes in the second half. He assigned Ron Krych to Raider Tom Barry and also switched the men that Rick Thomas and Paul Donohue were guarding. "I figured in the second half they wouldn't be able to maintain that shooting percentage," Grasso said. The BHS coach cited all of his players for playing a critical part in their first win. "We're a real good team when we're not at a physical disadvantage," Grasso said.

The Bellboys took the hot shooting into the first half of the Orange game. While the Bellboys lost, 85-61, they gave the top ranked Tornados a run for the money in the first half. The BHS coach said, "The kids played a great first half."

Apicella Heads Off For College Career

Last Sunday, a very good friend of mine, Jennifer Apicella, packed her bags and embarked to Holy Cross University to commence her college career. While that may seem rather insignificant to most of you, I marked the end of an era for me and to many who watched her play high school basketball for Belleville from the period of Dec., 1980 through March, 1984.

When I think of Jenny, I wonder what happened to these last four years. They seemed to have come and gone so quickly, that the years are more like blurs than actual reality. However, when you look back on those four years, the blur starts to clear and what we see is the life of a young lady who overcame every obstacle in the books to become the greatest woman's high school basketball player in the State of New Jersey. If you know the excellent talent that this state produces year in and year out, then you will know that being the best of them all is no easy project.

It all started on Dec. 12, 1980. It seems a light year ago. Jimmy Carter was completing his term in the White House, the hostages were still in Iran, the Giants and Jets were lousy back then too, and the Pittsburgh Steeler dynasty was coming to an end. In between all the big news, the Belleville girls' basketball team opened its season against Verona High School. It was a veteran team that Karen Fuccello had on the court. Carol Ann Salerno, Barbara Gundry, Dawn Ritaceo, Rose Leonidis, and a freshman named Jennifer Apicella, whom Fuccello described in the eighth grade as being a tremendous talent. Nonsense, I thought, how could a freshman be dominant on the varsity level so quickly. Easy, Jennifer answered, just score 28 points in your varsity debut and lead your team to a 22 point victory.

Since I missed that opening game (I was covering the boys opener with Weehawken) I decided to see just how good this freshman was the next day at practice. Watching her shoot, it was easy to see that Jennifer was no ordinary player. I challenged her to a game of O-U-T and quickly found out that she was an extraordinary shooter.

We became good friends from that point and watching her get better and better throughout that freshman year made me feel good. Jenny wanted nothing more than to be a damn good basketball player and worked long and hard at that trade. After an ankle operation I had in late December, 1980, I started to recuperate by playing one on one basketball with this super athlete until God knows what time of night. She has a basketball hoop in her backyard and we got plenty of use from it.

After a freshman year of 457 points, Jenny embarked to her sophomore season, shooting to score her 1,000 career point by the end of that season. Before the basketball season, Jennifer competed for the Buccaneer cross country team, something that many of you people don't know. Cross country is not your typical glamour sport. It takes a lot of dedication and a certain amount of heart. Although she had never tried the sport before, Jennifer made herself into a good runner. It also put her in good physical shape for the upcoming basketball season.

As Jennifer came closer and closer to that 1,000 point plateau, people started coming to the gym to see Belleville Jenny play. While her new fans, many of which Jennifer never met, flocked around her game after game, Apicella was a story of class. She said hello to everyone, kissed the little kids who came to see her and always was respectful of her coaches and family. Truly, a special athlete was in the making here.

She scored point number 1,000 in a game against Nutley and helped her team to a 17-6 season. The following year, Apicella was on fire once again, leading Belleville to a 20-7 season. The first time a Belleville girls basketball team had won 20 games. Along the way, Apicella continued to pour on the points. In a county semifinal contest with Shabazz, she scored her 2,000 point before a packed house at Belleville High. Only a junior, she was in good shape to break the state scoring record of Kate Larkin. The number 2,745 became etched in the minds of fans throughout the state.

Her senior season was certainly memorable. Perhaps the word "circus" would best describe it. Jennifer was on her way to breaking the state scoring record, but Lord knows it wasn't going to be easy. First, there was a broken finger early in the season. Next, the ankle, which I consider the worst part of one's body, acted up to the point where Jennifer wore air casts on both her ankles to prevent them from twisting. No problem, was the general consensus, Jenny was the next best thing to Superman. Nothing was going to stop her.

Well, almost nothing. Tuesday, January 18, 1984. The place was Belleville High School, the opponent Paterson Eastside. It was a game that had started so well. The girls were playing like a well oiled machine. Jenny was racing down court with the grace of a deer. Everything was right on the money. Suddenly, late in the third quarter, Jennifer raced down court with what appeared to be an easy layup. An Eastside player had a different idea. One wall later, Jennifer was on the floor, a broken wrist the end result. It seemed her career was cut short. It was over, her quest for the record was history. Miss Apicella had a much different plan. The plan called for her to miss just two games and then she would return to play against Ridgewood.

The plan worked like magic. Jenny returned for the Ridgewood game, wearing a special soft cast. She scored 41 points, many of which came in the spectacular manner. Jenny was back. Well, almost back. Late in that game, she suffered another major ankle sprain and spent the afternoon at Mountain Side Hospital. Despite all her ailments, Jennifer didn't miss another game. Just two days later, she tallied 51 points as Belleville stopped Passaic.

You didn't have to question her heart, that's for sure. Her carisma and class, that need not be questioned either. As she neared the record, the fans came in record numbers. People who never saw a game until 1984 were here in earnest. They all crowded around Jenny after a game. The college scouts, the coaches, the people, it's little wonder she didn't go bonkers. Instead, she smiled to everyone, kept her poise and broke that state scoring record of 2,745 points in Bayonne by scoring 38 points.

A month later, she hit the 3,000 point mark in a game against Morris Knolls. Two games later, against Plainfield, Belleville lost and her career was over. 3,105 points and four memorable seasons were finally history.

A few months after the Plainfield game, Jenny decided on Holy Cross, a top athletic and academic school. Don't forget, Jennifer was also a near straight A student. And now, she is off to start a new chapter in the life and times of Jennifer Apicella. This November, a new team will take the court at BHS. It's not going to be the same without Jennifer around, but time goes on. To my good friend, Jennifer Apicella, best of luck to you on your college career. You were a class act at all times, a very special person with nothing but good things ahead of you. Thanks for the tremendous memories and marvelous games. You were truly, something special.

For this weeks quiz, name the seven teams in the NFC who have not been to the Super Bowl.

Heard At Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Atlantic City, N.J. Resorts International, last Tuesday: Light Heavyweight Grady Smith of Jacksonville, Fla. W(maj.) Dec. in six rounds over Billy Saunders of Vineland, N.J.; Welterweight Mark Petroski of North Philadelphia and Tony Arnaud of Trinidad fighting out of Brooklyn, N.Y. fought to a six-round draw. Lightweight Chris Calvin of Nashville, Tenn. WTKO in third round. An otherwise good card, Gary Lightbourne of Long Island, WKO at 2:10 of second round over Leo Rogers of Dominican Republic, now out of Brooklyn. In the main bout, welterweight "Lightning" Lonnie Smith of Long Island, WTKO at end of eighth round over Tom Baker of Washington, D.C. Baker was a last hour replacement for Glen Smith of Bay City, Mich., who had been named replacement for Frank Montgomery of Philadelphia. Tony Orlando and Joe Cortez did a commendable job of refereeing. This good card of action was a Top Rank promotion, Bob Arum promoter. It was broadcast by ESPN Cablevision.

The International Boxing Federation/United States Boxing Association (IBF/ABC) medical and legal staff met in Chicago, Illinois, Aug. 1 and 2, according to president Robert W. Lee. "Of particular concern is our prohibition against one boxing who has suffered a detached retina or other serious eye injury," Lee said. "Of paramount importance is the safety and well being of the boxer. This organization and its commission members have an obligation, in some cases, to protect a boxer from his own devices. We must accomplish that from a progressive and not punitive standpoint," said the president.

New York promoter Butch Lewis said Sierra Productions of Reno, Nevada posted a letter of credit for the site rights Monday for the go ahead to have light heavyweight king Michael Spinks defend his WBA-WBC titles in a 15-round bout in Reno on Sept. 7. Spinks will defend against Dwight Muhammad Qawi. Qawi, as Dwight Braxton, formerly held the WBC part of the title.

CBS-TV Channel 2 showed one of its best fights on Sunday, July 22, that featured Charlie "White Lightning" Brown of North Haledon, N.J., defeating Louis Burke in his hometown of La Cruce, N.M., by a 10-round split decision. Brown earned a unanimous duke and would have gotten it if one judge didn't cop out and score the fight a draw. Brown fought a skillful, intelligent fight against a rough, strong brawler. The Jersey youth was smart not to mix it with Burke. When Burke got inside, where he does his damage, Brown danced away or tied him up to nullify the attack. Joey Curtis handled the referee chore commendably. Don Turner, Charlie's trainer, deserves much credit for the New Jerseyan's condition and fight strategy.

Two American fighters traveled outside of the United States, in different directions to be TKO'd. Middleweight Murray Sutherland of Bay City, Mich., flew to Seoul, South Korea and lost to Park Chong-pal of South Korea in the 11th round. Sutherland now has a record of 47-10-1. Chong-pal, after surviving a second-round knockdown, increased his record to 33-3-1. The other bout saw England's Heral Graham stop Detroit's Lindell Holmes in the fifth round at Sheffield, England in a middleweight scrap. The referee stopped the bout when Holmes was cut over his left eye. Billy Gutz, Holmes' manager, says the stopping of the bout was unsatisfactory. He insisted the cut was caused by a butt. Graham's manager, Brendan Ingle, said, "Holmes' eye was damaged by a left hook." The referee concurred with Ingle.

James Broad, heavyweight of Wildwood, N.J., was scheduled to fight Eddie Gregg of Brooklyn, N.Y., at Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum last Thursday until it was discovered Gregg had an eardrum punctured while boxing in the gym. Broad fought Bashir Ali Waddud (Wadud who?). Bashir originally was known as Darryl Anthony. He didn't do good as Anthony, only winning four of 10. As Wadud, he reversed that number, 6-4 and one draw.

Applications Available For Recreation Sports

Coaches are Needed For Rec Fall Sports

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently looking for adult males interested in volunteering as football coaches for boys ages 10-14. The full-contact league will play its games on Sunday afternoons, beginning in late September. For further information, please contact the Recreation office at 759-3142.

Volunteers are also needed to help with the Peanut League Touch Football program for boys, 8-10, which plays its games on Saturday mornings at the Little League field beginning in early October.

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching in its 7-14-year-old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions, according to specific age groups. The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games. Games are played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, beginning in late September.

Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 759-3142 or contact Bob Travers, league director, at 759-6781.

Rec Department Offers Pre School For Children This Fall

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9:15 a.m.-11:15 a.m. five days a week with class limited to 25 students. The cost of the 15-week session is $45.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 759-3121 as soon as possible, Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

for the error, but blamed a poor communication system for the problems.

"I thought at first I was being asked just to fix the showers," Grande had said. However he said he later received a memo from a school administrator telling him to "do what has to be done," and he went ahead to make the major repairs he judged necessary, including installation of electric rather than gas heating system in the shower rooms.

With half a job finished, Purdue decided at an earlier session the school board should assume expenses to see the project through.

Grande, who attended this week's meeting, predicted work would be finished within two weeks, at which time a Purdue-added - there would be a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Rec Department Holds Carnival

The Belleville Recreation Department's annual carnival was held Thursday, August 16 and as always, proved to be a big success. The carnival marked the closing of the summer playground and saw the culmination of weeks of effort by Belleville children.

Each of the seven playground groups constructed its own game and secured prizes and donations from local merchants and citizens to support individual stands.

The Friendly House sponsored the gold fish stand. School 10 held a dart game. The Stadium had a wheel. Fairway Park ran a football toss. Clearman field occupied the dice throw. Kelly's Court held the bean bag toss, and the Recreation House had a dunking machine.

This year's carnival netted $851.50 which will be presented to the Association of Blind Athletes of New Jersey represented by Rich Ruffalo, a Belleville resident.

Special thanks is given to all children for their charitable cause. Contributing to the success of this year's carnival was the talented summer recreation playground staff under the direction of Dennis Buckley. This year's supervisors were: John Pravata and Sharon Brady. Playground directors were Robert Cassin, Nancy Coffey, Tracyanne Buono, Donna Campana, Ricky Kiernan, Michael Murphy, Ralph Casale, Dave Boyd, Don Roll, Dina D' Aquino, Jennifer Wolf, Kathy Woods, Phil Linfante, Christine Fusaro, Maureen Monahan and Runda Esposito. Much appreciation is also extended to office staff Chipper Verian, Lorraine Salzano, Den noen Nufrio, Mike Dowd, and Mrs. Narucki.

The Theatrical Dance Studio Entering 4th Year of Service

Nutley Little Theatre, which will celebrate its 50th anniversary this fall, is seeking old playbills, news articles, pictures, ticket stubs, props, costumes or mementos from past seasons to be included in a special exhibit at the Nutley Museum.

The theater history exhibit will be on display this September at the Nutley Museum, sponsored by the Historical Society. The exhibit will depict 50 years of live theater in Nutley.

A grand opening 50th season cocktail gala will be held at the NLT Barn, 43 Erie Place Sept. 15 at 6 p.m. NLT will open its special anniversary production of "Detective Story" at 8 p.m. later that same night. Call 667-0374 for ticket reservations.

NLT is also interested in making contact with past members and actors who participated in shows during the past five decades. Former NLT members can contact Lee Guest Moore at 748-5327 or Joyce Getting at 667-5492 for information. The theater group plans various events to celebrate its golden anniversary this fall and hopes to attract as many former members as possible.

The first NLT production opened Nov. 23, 1934 with a comedy entitled "Up Pops the Devil," written by Nutley resident Frances Goodrich and directed by Robert Winternitz. The performance was held in the Franklin School auditorium, as were most plays during the group's early years. The Little Theatre held its first organizational meeting Oct. 1, 1934 in the Public Safety Building on Chestnut Street. Ivor Watts, a former Nutley resident now living in New Hampshire, was elected president while Alfred Eville, a resident of Rutgers Place, was chosen as vice president.

The group purchased a former jam factory on Erie Place, known as "The Barn," in 1936. After presenting plays in various school auditoriums for 32 years, NLT decided to renovate the facility and make it a theater. The first "barn" production was held in November of 1976 with the play "Six Rms Riv Vu." Since then, the group has run its entire season state of productions from the Erie Place barn, as well as maintaining it as its headquarters.

There was a proposal before the Nutley Planning Board in the summer of 1931 to convert the barn into a garage for garbage trucks, but this request was turned down. The event was significant, not only in the preservation and history of the NLT Barn, but also in the career of the late Commissioner John H. Lucy. The Planning Board verdict was the first act of municipal service by Lucy and set forth a distinguished career in local government which lasted over 50 years. Lucy had been named to the Board on July 28, 1931 by Mayor Ernest P. Cook specifically to help decide this issue, following the death of planner Ernest G. Weischdel.

"Detective Story," the production which will mark the group's 50th anniversary on Sept. 15, is the same play which celebrated the theater's 25th anniversary with Nutley Commissioners to have The Barn designated as a state historical landmark.

Lawn Gone?

Time to call Lawn King

All lawns need an annual program of lawn care and every program must contain both granular and spray. Some chemicals work better when applied in a granular form, and others, like weed control, and post emergent crab grass control, work better in a liquid form. All lawns also require periodic aeration and seed, but only Lawn King gives all these via LAWN COMBINE & SPRAY — THE BETTER WAY! WE KNOW IT'S THE ONLY WAY!!!

LAWN KING ANNUAL PROGRAM

1 Power Aeration Power Rolling Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Grub Control Crabgrass Control Patented Lime	2 Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Grub Control Grub Control (Liquid) Grub Control (Liquid)	3 Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Grub Control Grub Control (Liquid) Grub Control (Liquid)	4 Power Aeration & Rolling Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Grub Control Grub Control (Liquid) Grub Control (Liquid)	5 Balanced Fertilization (Extra Heavy Rate) Patented Lime

We are chemical applicators, not miracle workers. We know what your lawn needs and when it needs it. What you see in the program, is what you get. Top quality chemicals and seed — only the best — that's all we use. There's no such thing as a specially formulated drought.

Aeration, seed and time are part of our program. Fungus controls and grub controls have always been part of our program — not options at extra cost when you need them. By the time you know you need them it's too late anyway. No slopes please. If we can't service twice a year we can't help you.

OPTIONAL PREPARATORY SERVICE

Double Power Aeration Double Power Rolling Double Weed Control 1" PER SQUARE FOOT (min. 3,000 sq. ft.)	Balanced Fertilization Fungus Control Grub Control (Granular)
---	---

Someone will call to discuss the lawn with you. There's a one time charge if you need any extras like a preparatory service, extra seed or additional time. We'll tell you what you need. We may not be the cheapest lawn service around but we are the only ones who give you lawn everything it needs at a price you can afford to pay. You can figure your costs from the chart below. No contracts to sign, no guarantees, no promises, no slopes, and no nonsense. Pay from service to service or prepay for the year and we'll give you a 5% discount too!

If you compare our program and prices with any other company, you'll find that either they are charging too much, or we are not charging enough! Look at it real close and you may even arrive at the conclusion that not only is it better to go business with us — it's cheaper too!

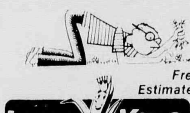

SQUARE FOOTAGE	COST PER SERVICE	TOTAL ANNUAL COST
2,000	27.80	138.00

Importance of learning to study

For all those students who wish they could retain what they learned in class until final exams... they can. Not by working harder, but by working smarter.

It's a matter of using the learning process and the laws of forgetting to our advantage. Just knowing what happens and why, can help students do things to retain the information received in class for an indefinite time, certainly long enough to pass their exams.

For instance, we know that, for the student, the average span of concentration on a single subject is 50 minutes (that's why most classes are scheduled for 50 minutes).

The continuous influx of new material speeds up forgetting, so we can expect that, after several hours of concentration on new material, we'll forget most of what we learned during the first hour. Study habits should be scheduled with that in mind.

We know that most forgetting occurs immediately after learning. On the other hand, if steps are taken to remember something the day after it's been learned, chances are it will stick with us.

We know that cramming is re-learning. Realizing this, the student can prepare a more productive cram session.

If done, properly, the mind will retain the material... in some cases indefinitely. Knowledge of this process can serve well in school and will be a lifelong asset in other areas.

A report published by a college studies unit details these and other factors we know about learning and forgetting.

It is a step-by-step plan designed to help students retain classwork and pass their exams. (A comforting thought that all students returning to school would like to take with them.)

A copy of the complete report in a handy student format may be obtained by writing College Studies, P.O. Box 9, Orangeburg, NY 10962. They ask that you enclose $2.00 and a self-addressed stamped (long) envelope to cover the cost.

Unfinished basement and attic OK. But must be in move-in condition. Principles only. Offering $90,000-$100,000 with nothing lost to brokers fee. 20-25% down payment. Call (212) 831-7229. (Keep trying)

H * R Block will begin tax school

H * R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service is offering a basic income tax course beginning September 6 and 7 with morning, afternoon and evening classes available. 14-week course will teach anyone wanting to increase their knowledge about income tax returns or anyone who files a return all phases of income tax preparation. There will be experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block personnel will instruct. There is classroom lecture and practice problems on all subjects. The course is practical and challenging and students will be able to use their new skills to save money on tax returns. Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews with Block. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under obligation to accept employment. Course fee includes textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Registration and brochure can be obtained from H * R Block Registration Center, 155 Franklin Ave., Nutley or phone 235-1600.

Dentists support Adubato's medical bill

Assemblyman Stephen Adubato has sponsored the "Medically Needy Bill" (A608). It has received support and endorsement from the New Jersey Dental Association representing more than 5,000 dentists, and the association's president. Dr. Harrison Katz said the bill legislation represents Adubato's "commitment to a prevention-oriented public policy which holds great promise for the future through intelligent allocation and efficient use of available resources." He estimates about 200,000 senior citizens, disabled people, children and working poor live at the poverty line. Medically needy would mean changing income eligibility criteria for state Welfare Medicaid which holds
