Municipal Engineer Proposes Plan For Rebuilding Township Structure

By Linda Telesco

A proposal to rebuild Belleville's fire damaged public works building may cost between $250,000 and $500,000, according to Neil Siciliano, municipal engineer.

Siciliano presented the information during an emergency meeting of the Commissioners last Friday.

Commissioners authorized the engineer's Wood-Ridge firm of Siciliano and Geronimo to represent the township at insurance negotiations.

A Nov. 12 fire destroyed the Cortlandt Street facility, department records, and equipment. Public Works Commissioner Joseph Grande had estimated damages at close to half a million dollars, which includes losses of two new dump trucks, street sweepers and salting equipment.

Siciliano said Friday he prepared a proposal for reconstruction at the request of township treasurer Isadore Padula for insurance requirements.

The engineer's estimates are based on the assumption that the existing foundation of the facility is usable.

One of the problems the engineer anticipates in the reconstruction are that no existing plans of the building, constructed in 1946, can be found.

"The facility was privately built and no records are available telling when the town bought it," Siciliano explained.

To complicate matters further, no records are available, he said, regarding the 1970 addition to the structure.

The facility was a two-story building with a basement and a maintenance garage in the rear. Commissioner Grande suggested the original owner, whom he has telephoned, may have a set of prints for the building.

Otherwise, the engineer predicts putting in "a lot of legwork on this one," by observing the site, talking to people familiar with the building, and relying on the recollection of municipal employees for certification of the plans.

Siciliano asked for a fee based on 10 percent of the construction costs. He said the fee is reimbursable through the insurance company.

Taking costs into consideration, Commissioner Ralph DiRuggiero asked the engineer why the municipality should hire his firm rather than obtain the services of a fire adjuster.

"We would provide the same services as an adjuster," said Siciliano, "but a adjuster is not a licensed architect or engineer and does not know the building codes or understand public buildings."

DiRuggiero requested the fee be kept in the range of 7.5 to 10 percent. The higher figure, according to the engineer, would be charged if Belleville decides to adopt the plans designed by Siciliano.

The preliminary plan will be drawn in two weeks, he said, and then submitted to James Soldo, the superintendent of public works in the township for approval of the appearance.

Both Padula and Soldo attended the session. According to Padula, Belleville is insured by the Hartford Company for autos and vehicles and by the Insurance Company of North America for the building and contents.

Padula said there were no estimates yet available on the losses but added Soldo was in the process of listing the contents of the destroyed facility for the insurance carriers.

For the present, the department's 43 employees will call the public affairs building at 383 Washington Ave. their workplace.

Police Arrest Suspect In Cat Burglar Case

A suspect in the Belleville cat burglar case was arrested last week, according to Police Chief George Lister.

Angel Colon, 20, was arrested Nov. 16 in the South Bronx by a team that included Det. Carmine Russo of the Newark Police Department and New York City Police.

Now being held in the Belleville jail, Colon is accused of 20 burglaries and thefts committed in the township since June 1983.

"He was difficult to track down because he had no known home address," said Lister. Colon listed Second Avenue in Newark as the last verifiable place of residence.

According to Lister, the man was found through fingerprints and with the aid of the FBI in Washington.

"We worked on a tip that led us to the address in New York where he was arrested," said Lister.

Known as a "cat burglar" who worked in the night, Colon has been accused of robbing cash and jewelry from numerous homes in the area.

According to Lister, Colon has a history of arrests for similar crimes in North Arlington, Newark and Kearny.

"We're recommending to the prosecutor that he be tried as a career criminal," said the chief, who predicted the man, if convicted, would serve "a very lengthy sentence for these crimes."

Lister said he and Public Safety Commissioner Ralph DiRuggiero commended the Belleville detective team which included Captain Raymond Kimmle, Lt. Michael Perrillo, Sgt. William Escott, and detectives Joseph Rotunda, Joseph Totorella and Harry Lanno.

"This team worked over 60 hours a week, putting in overtime without pay to solve this case," said Lister.

The chief said police are certain the cat burglar worked alone and assured Belleville residents they can now "rest easier thanks to the hard work of the detective team."

Board of Education Ratifies Contracts; Middle School Now a Secondary Facility

The School Board voted Monday to ratify the 1984-85 contracts for the Belleville schools office personnel and for the Belleville Supervisors Association.

The district's 31 secretaries will receive an 8 percent pay raise and the supervisors get 6 percent across the board, according to Superintendent Michael Nardiello.

The secretaries are divided into three groups. Group one new salaries range from base of $12,616 to $20,000 on a scale of 23 pay steps.

The rate for group two secretaries starts at $12,171 with a top pay of $19,780 also in 23 steps.

According to Nardiello, the group one employees are secretaries to the chief school administrators and the group two workers are assistants to the top secretaries.

In the category of 10-month secretaries, the pay scale is set from $8,914 to $15,520 in 20 steps.

In other business, the board agreed in a 6-1 vote to designate the middle school officially as a secondary rather than elementary facility.

The single dissenter on the seven-member panel was trustee Ernest Zoppi who at first attempted unsuccessfully to have the entire resolution tabled for further study.

"I don't like the idea of the middle school being designated as a secondary school," Zoppi said. "We'll have the same problems there as we had with the junior high school," he added.

Zoppi's remark referred to the change made by the school board three years ago to convert the Washington Avenue facility from a junior high school housing grades seven through nine to a middle school with a population of only grades seven and eight.

The change was made then by proponents who felt the ninth grade belonged in terms of academic and emotional maturity in the senior high school.

Complaints from parents and the School Board at the time that the junior high school underclass students were exposed to negative influences from having high school level pupils in the same facility sparked the movement for change.

According to Superintendent Nardiello, the New Jersey Department of Education mandated that by July 1 all state middle schools declare officially whether they are elementary or secondary in their approach.

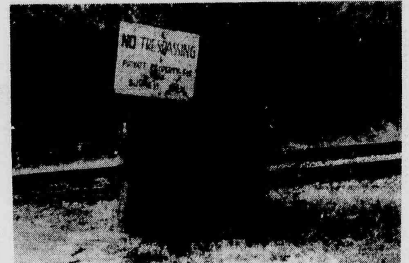

Nardiello said a main factor in the Belleville decision is that over 95 percent of the middle school's staff is already secondary certified.

"Many of them were on the staff when it was a junior high school," he explained. "The teachers are subject certified as most teachers on the secondary level are. If we classified this as an elementary school, teachers would have to obtain the elementary certification as well."

In general operation, however, the administrator said the school is conducted as an elementary facility. "We have team teaching methods and an intimacy between guidance counselor and the students. The counselors know each student in a personal way which is typical of elementary education."

He also noted the students are less mobile than those in a regular high school. "For the most part, they stay in a classroom and the teachers are the ones who change rooms throughout the day. The stability of the students is also typical of elementary schools."

Nardiello said the official designation would not change the teaching or educational approach at the school.

Scene of Accident — A tractor trailer flatbed was struck by a train at this railroad crossing at Laverne Street and Smallwood Avenue last week. One man was injured. Accident has prompted officials to look into better safety measures.

Train Strikes Truck At Railroad Crossing

A railroad accident last week prompted Belleville officials and state authorities to seek better safety measures for a dangerous rail crossing.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. on Nov. 21 when a tractor trailer flatbed driven by a Belleville man was struck by an east-bound N.J. Transit commuter train at Laverne Street and Smallwood Avenue.

The driver of the truck, 22-year-old Pasquale Genarelli of Mary Street, was taken to Clara Maess Medical Center and treated for minor injuries before being released, according to police.

Genarelli told police he heard no warning signals and started to cross the tracks but caught sight of the approaching train. He was able to shift his vehicle into reverse and back up enough to avoid a broadside hit.

Police Chief George Lister said the engineer of the train saw the truck and locked the brakes, but the train still hit the front end of the truck.

"It could have been much worse," said Chief Lister. "If the flatbed portion of the truck was on the tracks the train could have derailed and there were over 200 passengers on it at the time."

The crossing in question is notoriously dangerous officials said because there are no gates or warning lights.

The crossing is on private property owned by Ricca Brothers Food Corp. The railroad tracks are owned by Conrail.

According to Belleville's Public Safety Commissioner Ralph DiRuggiero, the township has ordinances on the books only applicable to crossings on municipal property.

"We have no laws governing private property. That's been the problem there," said DiRuggiero, who noted that attempts by the railroad to erect a barrier on the property some years back failed when the fuel company fought the efforts.

Chief Lister said the crossing has been the site of several accidents and one in which a young girl was seriously injured.

Lister said this week the police are working with the Bureau of Traffic Engineering at the state Department of Transportation to seek a solution.

"We're trying to get a federal grant to put automatic warning lights in the area," said Lister.

He noted that most of the accidents occur when vehicles attempt to enter the private property. "There's a curve at that point and shrubbery that prevents a clear view. It's not so bad when entering the property from the street. The view of coming trains is better."

A spokesman for the DOT said Tuesday the state had sent a diagnostic team out to the site and recommended several improvements including a gate and lights.

Estimating the cost at $150,000, Randy Linthurst said the DOT would pay for the improvements if the railroad agreed to make them.

MEDICATING A SLEEP ATTACK

Narcoleptics may experience "sleep attacks" several times a day. These attacks can last anywhere from two to fifteen minutes. Upon awakening, they feel as refreshed as if they had had a whole night's sleep. This is because, during the brief naps, they enter REM (rapid eye movement) sleep, the dreaming stage that usually does not occur until a person has been asleep for an hour. What medication would you expect to have prescribed for people who cannot stay awake? Logic would suggest amphetamines, stimulants that keep people alert. However, for 200,000 Americans who have narcolepsy, caffeine may be more effective. This drug, which is related to the body's natural opiates, may help regulate abnormal REM sleep episodes.

Focus On: Belleville Community Inter-Agency Council

By Alice Ried
Director of Community
Mental Health Services

The Belleville Inter-Agency Council held its first meeting Nov. 15, 1982 at the offices of Community Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield, and Nutley. With me on that day were Tony Cutitta from Belleville Family Service, the Rev. Howard Day, Dr. John Greed and Bob Stepany from the Belleville Public Schools, and the Rev. Al Stone.

We had come together with the idea of improving the delivery of human services to the citizens of Belleville. We quickly realized that the providers of services needed first to improve their knowledge of each other. The group continued to meet informally over the next months with new members who represented a broad spectrum of Belleville agencies and associations.

In September of 1983 with the addition of David Bryant who had recently been appointed Director of the Belleville Public Library, the council decided to sponsor a project that would provide the community with easy access to information regarding available social services. This project came to fruition on March 22, 1984 when Mayor Michael V. Marotti presided at the opening ceremonies of the Belleville Community Information Center. This permanent resource center is housed at the library where it is easily accessible to the public and is staffed and maintained by reference librarians.

Another goal the Belleville Inter-Agency Council set for itself was to offer the community educational experiences that address the common problems that arise in today's fast paced and ever changing society in order to prevent the development of serious personal or family difficulties and to foster well-being and sound mental health. To this end the council sponsored a series of free seminars during the spring of 1984 at the Belleville Library which focused on parenting issues at various stages of development. A program concerning the needs of families with aging and infirm parents was also presented. These seminars were well received by the community and another series will be offered in the spring of 1985.

At the present time the council is exploring new ways of presenting important human issues to the community via the media. Our purpose, to educate and inform the public continues. We welcome the membership of groups and associations which share the council's interest in the provision of human services.

Anyone interested in joining the council or in seeking further information should contact me at 450-3100 or David Bryant at 759-9200.

(Editor's note: "Focus on:" is a series of articles about human services available to township residents.)

Clara Maass Now Offers Loan for Nursing School

Clara Maass Medical Center has announced the establishment of a nursing unit loan fund in the name of Claudia Corriden, R.N., a retired nurse who passed away last year.

The fund was established by a former patient who credits her with saving his life when she was in charge of a medical floor at the hospital in 1955.

A very popular and respected nurse, Corriden joined the staff of Clara Maass, then in Newark, in 1929, and held several prominent positions. Upon the hospital's move to Belleville in 1957, she was placed in charge of the Emergency Room and continued to oversee the health program for student nurses and employees until she retired in 1972.

For further information call

Anne Knox, Director of the Clara Maass Medical Center School of Nursing, 450-2250.

Knights of Columbus Blood Bank Dec. 7

The Eugene "Cappy Barnett" Blood Bank, sponsored by Belleville Council No. 835 Knights of Columbus, will be held Friday, Dec. 7, 3-7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 94 Bridge St.

All persons between the ages of 17 and 66 are encouraged to donate a pint of blood. Consent forms for minors will be provided. All persons donating blood will have the right to call upon the Blood Bank should a need for blood arise.

The blood, which will be collected by a mobile unit of the North Jersey Blood Center, will fulfill the needs of the donors and their families, members of the Belleville Council and their families as well as serving needs of hemophiles, leukemia patients and other large blood users.

The Belleville Council No. 835 blood bank was named for the former town clerk and past Grand Knight following his death in 1980. Eugene Barnett was the founder and chairman of the Blood Bank for over 30 years.

Persons interested in giving blood can call Herry Hickey, Blood Bank Chairman, at 667-2263 for further information.

Grace Ann Purdue

Last Saturday, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce covered itself with glory by honoring School Board President, Grace Ann Purdue for her contributions to the welfare of our community.

Grace Purdue is a unique individual. She is the first woman since 1960 to serve as President of the Belleville Board of Education; and since 1966, she is the first two-term President — a recognition by her colleagues of her ability to get things done.

A list of organizations to which she contributed her lifetime of civic involvement would take more space than this page permits. Her broad civic involvement includes activities with Boy Scouts of America, PTAS's, Music Parents Association, Belleville Master Plan Committee, Belleville Drug Committee, Citizens Advisory Budget Committee, Belleville Public Library Capital Campaign and the list goes on and on.

In 1973, Grace received the Belleville High School Special

Award for Outstanding Service for the Students of the School Community. Elected to the School Board in 1982, Grace's term expires next year.

There is no doubt in the minds of students of Belleville government Grace has the ability and maybe the interest — to serve at higher levels of government. Professional politicians say that Grace would be a shoe-in as a candidate for the next Township Commission election. We agree.

We join the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and the community in expressing grateful appreciation to Grace Purdue for the enormous contributions which she has made and is making to make Belleville a better town in which to live and work.

Religious Viewpoint

Phony Christians

In these days when many are so good at role-playing, it's sometimes difficult to tell the difference between the impostor and the real thing. Even within the church of Jesus Christ there are those who feel that if they can skillfully act out the part God will be satisfied.

People like this remind me of the goat who wanted to be a lion. He told himself that if he could learn to walk like a lion, talk like a lion and prowl where lions prowl, he would be a lion. So he practiced walking through the jungle and tried to swish his stubby tail majestically. Then he worked and worked to turn his pitiful little bleat into the deep, awesome roar of the king of beasts. Finally, he convinced himself that he really looked and sounded like a lion. "Now," he said, "all I have to do to be a lion is to roam where lions roam." So he marched into the lion territory one day about lunchtime. You can imagine what happened! He was indeed quickly turned "into" a lion.

Sometimes people think that just because they learned to walk, talk, and act like Christians, they really are Christians. And by all outward appearance, perhaps they are. But if they have never personally placed their trust in the Lord Jesus Christ, they are not real Christians, just imitators.

The writer of this article, like the goat, tried to be a lion. He went to church for many years, owned a Bible, took an active part in church work, but never realized he was a lost sinner. "...All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." He was relying on his church membership and good works to get to heaven. "Then one day I heard the good news that Jesus Christ died on the cross just for my sins, and was buried and raised for my justification. After a long struggle, I finally said, Lord, I can't make it on my own, I want you to come into my life. He did, and now I have real purpose in living, and a bright hope for the future.

But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." (St. John 1:12) "I know I have eternal life in Christ." (1st John 5:13)

Nazziola Receives Credit For Republican Win Here

To the editor:

Congratulations to Camille Nazziola in her initial campaign as Republican coordinator for the township of Belleville. The results speak for itself — a resounding Republican victory in Belleville.

I believe that's what the Republican party needed, new faces with new ideas and much dedication, as Nazziola and Richard Yanuzzi, president of the Young Republicans, along with Tom Fuscaldo, Anthony Stefanelli, Tina Zecca and Joe Scaperotta, who helped to make this campaign a success.

I sincerely believe and hope that this trend will continue in the future elections, especially in Belleville where in the past the voter turnout wasn't what it should have been especially in the Republican party. This I attribute to the fact that some of the Republican leaders did absolutely nothing to help perpetuate the Republican party.

The real victory in the last election is not only that the Republican party won, but more importantly that you brought out the Independent vote. You brought Republicans and Democrats and equally as important the tremendous job you people did in rolling in new voters to vote. Keep up the good work and God speed to all of you and if you ever need any help, please do not hesitate to phone me, I am listed in the book. Incidentally, I'm a Democrat and for a while I thought that I might sit it out, but it was you and your newly formed Republican team that inspired me.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Lillian Gagliardo

Residents Should Decide Washington Avenue's Fate

To the editor:

Some time ago Silver Lake and the Valley were considered blighted areas by some politicians who wanted to build high rise buildings controlled by the government and are tax exempt. The idea was to relocate 2,000 families from the slum areas of Newark so they could elect a white mayor. Belleville was picked as the dumping ground.

Mr. Strumolo, a man with a heart, was a member of the Board of Commissioners at that time. He refused to go along with the plan and it was defeated.

I wonder who came up with the bright idea that Washington Avenue was a blighted area. Millions of dollars are being spent by businessmen and homeowners to improve their properties. Some have been on the Avenue for many years. There are no blight areas in Belleville. If that plan is approved by the commissioners, whose reputation is on the line! It will create a serious problem. No taxpayers will benefit from it. Under that plan there will be tax-exempt buildings and abatements. Our taxes will go sky high. All of us will feel the sting of the whip.

I am appealing to the commissioners to rebut that plan. They have the power to do so and let the people decide that issue on the voting machine by a referendum. They are strongly against that plan and it could lead to a change in our form of government.

Sincerely yours,
Albert Guglielmi

Adrienne Davis Re-elected With Township's Support

To the editor:

I would like to thank the people of Belleville for their overwhelming support of my re-election bid as Freeholder-at-Large Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Now that the rigor of the campaign is over, we can get back to the job of governing for the people of Essex County. What we witnessed in this past election was a recognition by the voters of Essex County of the positive role our county government can play in the further development of Belleville. Essex County residents are certainly not in favor of excessive government; however, as seen through this election, they support the role county government has curved while maintaining a stable tax rate.

In the next three years, we still have many issues to address — toxic waste and solid waste disposal, crime, job training and retraining, and economic development. I look forward to continue our work with County Executive Peter Shapiro and I pledge to work with all of the members of the Freeholder Board regardless of party affiliation.

Once again, I thank the residents of Belleville for giving me this opportunity to continue serving in county government and expressing their confidence in me.

Sincerely,
Adrienne Davis
Freeholder-at-Large

Crecco Thanks Supporters

To the editor:

I wish to extend my deepest appreciation to all those who supported my candidacy for Essex County Freeholder At-Large on Nov. 6, and those who worked so hard for the Republican Candidates.

I entered the campaign late in September to fill an unexpected vacancy on the GOP line and believe — in that short time we had to campaign — we did a great job. With more time, I am sure we would have done better.

I am very happy that freeholders Arthur L. Clay, District 5, and Monroe Jay Lustbader, District 4, were re-elected. Their independent voices at the Hall of Records will continue to be heard to the benefit of not only Suburban Essex, but the entire county.

Special thanks goes to my running mates Andrew Cirio for county Register, Anthony Imperiale, District 1, Bernice Davis, District 3, Clay, Lustbader, and at-large candidates Sam Angelo, John Collins and Chuck Cummings for their help.

I wish to thank and praise my committee for their dedicated service and fantastic performance on short notice against the Democratic Machine.

Sincerely,
Marion Crecco
Bloomfield

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The devastating Nov. 12 morning holocaust which totally wiped out Belleville's Public Works garage and most of the equipment there, overshadowed and dimmed the usual conviviality attendant at the annual State League of Municipalities convention staged at Atlantic City with only Mayor Marotti in attendance.

The underlining theme stressed at this 69th session of the body concerned revitalizing "main streets" throughout the state with experts outlining their strategy... this coming at a crucial climactic period in the determination of Belleville's Washington Avenue future growth.

Planners acknowledge the conflict confronting municipal officials who must mediate between market demands for growth and resident and business pressures against it. The old pattern of the city being the place where people went to work, to play, to shop, and suburbia was where you came home to sleep and cut the lawn have changed.

The transition has been painful for the center cities left with abandoned plants and high unemployment, but it has made suburbia and exurbia the most desirable location for the new types of business available to improve and realize New Jersey's most desirable real estate which is presently undervalued.

Caution, however is given that the market must be allowed to grow where it wants to grow, which is in the suburbs, where residents don't always encourage its expansion. Transition must mean decline for business districts in suburban communities, but rather revivification of depressed business areas throughout the elixir product mix of good merchandizing, adequate and convenient parking, easy access to the shopping area and the appealing aesthetics to draw people.

The effort to implement such a revitalization plan must be established as valid, rational, and able to succeed, which will require the help of the retailers who rent the stores, the landlords who own them, the shoppers, the bankers and the municipal agencies.

The controversial issue, proposed by the Belleville Redevelopment Board Agency, to buy the portion of Washington Avenue between Joramemon Street and Mill Street, both sides, declared a blighted area has created a raucous furor among the property owners and retail merchants in the affected area. They don't "buy it" and challenge the effrontery and impulsive drive of that agency to foist its unilateral, unimperial plans upon the owners of the highest ratio assessed properties in the community. Many of whom have invested substantial sums in the refurbishment and renovation improvement of their properties.

Universally, the cry for revitalization of Washington Avenue has had long calling for, but never has it been observed as "blighted" to the extent of being leveled and razed. The sad aftermath of Newark's blight redevelopment back in the '50s and '60s, when generous federal funding programs were available, but no longer are, is the extant eyesore of gutted and or torn down building and rubble from the disaster... something we don't want in Belleville.

Who's going to provide the sources of funding and plans for relocation of families and businesses? Once an area is designated blighted, its depreciated value will prevent the payment of taxes or improvements. Before even considering redevelopment it must be determined, in advance, if available funding, relocation resources and the market for the cleared property and who will pay to clear the property?

What available funding is to be obtained from federal funds, municipal funds and private financing? Then a budget prepared which will cover the cost of acquisitions, clearance, relocation and administration. A marketability study is needed for the cleared land to see if a developer is interested. It indeed looks like an expensive undertaking that could prove abortive.

Laurie Anne Nitti Wed to Mark Avino

Wedding vows were exchanged Sept. 2 by Laurie Anne Nitti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nitti of Belleville and Mark Avino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Avino of Belleville.

The Rev. Gerald Sudol performed the ceremony in Holy Family Church, Nutley. A reception followed at The Fiesta, Woodridge.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza accented with Alençon lace and fashioned with a Sabrina neckline of moline illusion and seed pearls, leg of mutton sleeves trimmed with a taffeta rose, dropped waist and cathedral train. Her hair and pearl small brimmed hat had an illusion puff in back and an underlay of taffeta roses. She carried a cascade of tiger lilies, white parrot roses, pink flowering almond and stephanotis.

Laura Lisante of Bloomfield was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the groom's sister, Lisa Avino, the bride's cousins, Tracy DeStefano and Lia Ritacco and Doreen Bosco and Maryan Auriemma.

They were in fuchsia silk organza cocktail dresses in the '20s style accented with lace. They carried arm bouquets of pink blush regal lilies, azaleas, pink apple blossoms and plum blossoms.

Anthony Avino of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushers included Joe Nitti, brother of the bride, Larry Rosello, cousin of the groom, Jude Albanese, Robert Busco and Craig Decker. Mrs. Nitti chose a mauve taffeta gown with illusion sleeves and embroidered bodice. Her wristlet was of baby violets. The groom's mother, in a champagne peau de soie gown with lace bodice, had an apricot parrot rose wristlet.

The couple honeymooned in Hawaii and have made their home in Nutley.

CMHS HOTLINE

Retraining May Be Answer to Problem

Dear CMHS:

Five years ago, I was in a car accident and injured my back but was able to return to my job as a construction worker. Then, this summer, I was hurt on the job and since then have been unable to work. I don't want to get hooked on painkillers but I can't go back to my old job and I just sit around worrying all day. I'm a changed man — I'm angry, irritable, fighting with my wife and kids and I don't even feel like a man and a good provider anymore. It looks like it's all downhill from here.

Bad Back

Dear Bad Back:

You've certainly had some difficult changes to adjust to, but it isn't necessarily "all down hill." These changes have undoubtedly affected your family as well. If you can all share your feelings about the adjustments you've had to make, then you may improve family communications and defuse some of the anger and disappointment. If it's hard to do this on your own, brief marital or family counseling may be helpful.

Finally, although you don't give your age, you may want to look into job retraining. Your letter suggests that your self-image has taken a bad beating. It may take some time to consider doing other work, but a new occupation may also prove satisfying and help you to feel like a productive and responsible man again. The State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (648-2882) offers job counseling and assistance towards actual retraining if you qualify. Check it out. Good luck!

(The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley is a non-profit agency serving the communities. For information, call 450-3100. Send letters to CMHS Hotline, c/o Irving W. Hahn, Community Mental Health Services, 570 Belleville Ave., Belleville, N.J., 07109.)

DENTALLY SPEAKING By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. Y. of Calforn asks: "My teeth have large fillings that my dentist wants to replace, but they don't bother me. Why should he replace them?"

Mrs. Y., assuming you are talking about a large amalgam filling, your dentist probably saw a space developing between the filling and your tooth (the margin area). After 10 years a silver filling can mechanically break down from being stressed and chemically breakdown from the action of saliva.

Once a space in the margin area is noted a new restoration is needed to avoid tooth fracture and/or nerve damage.

The fact that it doesn't hurt is a sign that the nerve hasn't been damaged yet. If you should wait until that happens then the nerve would need to be treated first before a new restoration is made.

Grand Union Cook's Harvest Offers Holiday Prune Cake

From Grand Union and its Cook's Harvest specialty department comes this holiday recipe for prune cake. At Cook's Harvest, you'll find hundreds of varieties of grains, flours, beans, seeds, nuts, dried fruits and herbs and spices sold in bulk. The fresh grains have been subjected to minimal processing and the flours retain at least some of the bran or the germ of the grain for naturally nutritious baking.

- Prune Cake
- 1 cup pitted prunes
  - 2 cups all purpose wheat flour
  - 2 tsp. baking powder
  - 1/2 tsp. baking soda
  - 1/2 tsp. mace
  - 1/4 tsp. ground cardamom
  - 1/2 cup butter at room temp.
  - 1 1/3 cups sugar
  - 2 eggs

- 1 cup milk
- 3 tbs. Armagnac or Cognac
- 1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees (F). Butter and flour an 8-inch springform pan.
- 2. Quarter the prunes and toss with 1 tablespoon of the flour. Set aside.
- 3. Sift remaining flour with baking powder, baking soda, mace and cardamom.
- 4. Cream butter. Add one cup of the sugar and beat until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing just until ingredients are blended. Lightly fold in prunes.
- 5. Spread batter in prepared pan and bake until a cake test comes out clean, about 1 hour and 10 minutes.
- 6. Dissolve remaining sugar in Armagnac or Cognac and simmer for a couple of minutes in a small saucepan. Spoon glaze over warm cake. Allow cake to cool completely before removing from pan. Makes 8 servings.

Umberto's Corner

Harry and answer me please! My mother is walking around with gray hair. For the last three months I have been coloring my mother's gray hair. This time I made a New York I used 2 oz. of No. 12 and 1 oz. of No. 42 (to make a little gray). My mother called me all kinds of names. This is the same formula I've been using all along with no mishaps. I simply can't figure out what happened this time. Tell me and cover the gray hair. I put dark brown red on it.

Why did this happen? And what should I do?

Waiting impatiently for your answer.

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Rheumatoid arthritis can strike anyone, regardless of age. It is not limited to the elderly alone. Once rheumatoid arthritis gets started, it rapidly becomes worse. Occasionally there may be a "remission" — symptoms disappear for a time. But unless treated effectively, the disease can be expected to return and grow worse.

Painful muscles and joints are "early warning signals". Knuckles, wrists, knees, hips and shoulder joints, among others, may be affected.

Arthritis is a constitutional systemic disease which may respond to chiropractic treatment. For a chiropractic examination, phone today.

Bucs Lose to Raiders in Thanksgiving Day Matchup First Loss to Nutley Since '77; Buccaneers Finish Season, 6-4

Do you remember the last time Nutley defeated Belleville on the varsity gridiron? To give you a clue, the last time the Maroon Raiders won, disco was the hottest item in town, a peanut farmer from Georgia was our nation's president, the country was shocked by the death of Elvis Presley and John Senesky was just starting out on his varsity coaching career.

In other words, the last time Nutley had defeated Belleville was in October, 1977 by a 7-0 count on a steady downpour at Nutley High. The Raiders broke a six year drought last Thanksgiving Day with a 19-6 stunner over the Buccaneers, dropping Belleville's season record to 6-4. (6-3 in the regular season, 5-2 in the NNJIL). The loss also cost the Bucs the NNJIL title because Passaic was upsetting Montclair on Thanksgiving Day, 13-6.

"Nutley didn't do anything different," said head coach John Senesky. "It was a tough game, especially coming off the Union contest the previous Saturday. I think the Thanksgiving Day game will soon be a thing of the past. It's tough coming back after three days rest. Montclair, Seton Hall and Morris Knolls all played on the previous Saturday and lost on Thanksgiving Day. I'm not trying to make excuses, but it is tough to get up for a game on Thursday morning after playing the likes of Union the previous weekend."

Senesky did praise the Maroon Raider effort, saying, "they wanted a winning season more than we wanted seven wins."

The Buccaneers scored first in the game, taking advantage of a Maroon fumble when quarterback Mark Walsh found Steve Kimble with a beautiful 37-yard scoring strike to make the score, 6-0. The conversion was wide, but Belleville seemed to have the early momentum.

Nutley came right back, however. Following Belleville's kickoff, workhorse Paul Aloia drove 5 yards to his 48 and another five to the Buccaneer 47. Three plays later, running back Palmisano stunned the Buc defense when he took a handoff from quarterback Leon Kisowski and ran 38 yards for the Maroon Raider touchdown. With the conversion added, Nutley was ahead of Belleville for the first time since the 1977 game. Perhaps destiny was taking its course, because Belleville had never trailed six straight victories over Nutley from 1978-83.

Before halftime, Nutley would score again. This time, it was the hard running of D'Aloia and a key 17-yard strike from Kisowski (Palmisano that set up the score. D'Aloia scored the second touchdown on a one yard plunge and the Raiders went into the lockerroom with a 13-6 advantage.

Belleville came out fired up to start the second half. With its season on the line and a shot at a conference crown, the Buccaneers were inspired. Linebacker John Apicella made a big tackle on the Raiders' first series, but Kisowski seemed to find the right passes at the night time. On a critical third and six situation, he hit Kurt Kanizer with an eighteen yard strike to the Buccaneer 49. From there, Nutley gained some big yardage and came as close as the Buccaneer seven before the drive stalled.

With their backs to the wall, Belleville started what seemed to be a strong drive. From its own seven, Anthony La Bruzza churned up some big yardage to the Belleville 38. Two plays later, the first of a number of controversial plays occurred. Walsh hit Kimble with a big 15 yard screen pass, good for an apparent first down at the Nutley 45.

The official, however, ruled that Belleville had an ineligible man down field and nullified the play. "I wasn't too sure on that call," said Senesky in a classic understatement. "From looking at the films, it looked to be a regular screen pass. He (Kimble) was behind the line of scrimmage when he caught the ball. It was a very costly call, because we had a strong drive going."

Instead of a first down, Belleville was moved back to its own

30 yard line and lost a down because of the penalty. The two teams then exchanged personal foul penalties and the end result was Nutley taking over following a Dave Long punt.

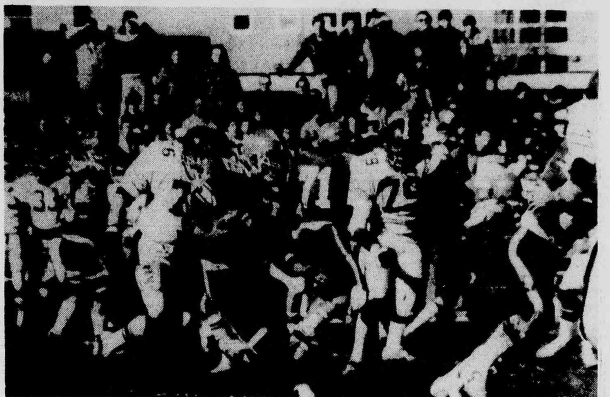

The rest of the game saw the Belleville offense sputter against a fired up Nutley defense and the Raiders scoring one more touchdown late in the third quarter when D'Aloia rambled 37 yards for the insurance touchdown that gave Nutley its first victory over the Bucs in seven years and assured a winning season at 5-4.

"It was disturbing because we had a chance to win the conference," said Senesky last weekend. "The schedule finally caught up with us. Playing the tough week in and week out was a big challenge for this team. We didn't have two platoons and against clubs with tremendous size, it's difficult to keep up."

What also hurt the Bucs was the loss of two key players, Dominick Di Paolo (linebacker and offensive tackle) and Jim Caputo (defensive end). "We were really hit by some bad injuries in the Kennedy game," Senesky said. "You can't replace experience and when we lost some key individuals, it made it extra tough to catch up."

Belleville did have some big victories this year. There was the 7-0 and 7-3 victories over Passaic and Clifton on successive weeks. Belleville qualified for the Group 1V, Section 11 playoffs for the fourth time in the last six years and second time over the last three seasons. They played a schedule that featured six teams with winning records, four of which went to the playoffs of the respective groups. And, most importantly, the Bucs posted a winning record for the seventh straight season.

When it's all said and done, Belleville did have a fine football season. The Bucs finished in a tie for second place in the NNJIL, losing the conference title by one half game to co-winners Clifton and Montclair. Next week, The Times will review the 1984 season on the gridiron at BHS.

Looking for Room — Running back Anthony Gizzo is in a sea of maroon and is going to be stopped for no gain on this play. The Raider defense was stubborn all day long, holding the Buccaneer offense to six points.

Volleyballers' Winning Season Highlighted by State Semifinals

Developing a flare for the unexpected, the Belleville volleyball team finished a marvelous campaign with a 16-8 record, a season highlighted by advancement to the semifinals of the state championships.

Grace Worley, completing her fifth season as varsity coach, was very impressed with the final outcome. "At the beginning of the season," Worley said, "I didn't think we would do this well. We had a lot of inexperience and some open positions. There were a lot of question marks."

One question mark which had a perfect answer was senior Debbie Worley. The coach's daughter concluded a brilliant career with a solid senior campaign. "She was a four-year player and did a solid job for us," said the elder Worley. "She had to adjust to a number of different offenses during her four years here and did a good job of it."

Debbie was praised for her hard work ethic and her magnificent serving the entire season. "I think she missed two serves the entire season," coach Worley said.

Debbie is a top student and will have a number of major colleges desiring her services next season. Replacing a person of Worley's calibre is not easy to do. Best of luck to her as she pursues future goals.

Another athlete under the category of "hard to replace" is senior Donna Brooks. Playing her second year of varsity volleyball, Brooks was a terror at the net. "You cannot replace a player of Donna's potential," said Worley. "She was unstoppable. She was the best hitter we have ever had at Belleville High School. She is quick on her feet and has tremendous overall ability and desire."

Brooks and Debbie Worley formed a nice combination on the floor. "I received a number of nice compliments about the way the two girls played," said Grace Worley. "Both complimented each other nicely."

Brooks, with extraordinary leaping ability, was a demon at the net. She led the team in "spikes" and would often frustrate the opponent with her athletic ability. The senior will now take her talents to the basketball court, where once again, a number of college scouts will be watching with keen interest. The sky is the limit for this young lady.

Senior Liz Goldrick did a solid job for the wizards this year. "She developed into a very good player," praised Worley. "I just wish she would have come out earlier than her junior year. She was very good defensively."

Goldrick filled a number of needs. She was an excellent platoon player and did a very good job on the backline, a position that Worley called critical to the team's success.

The future of the team looks fairly secure. The 1985 team will be led by junior Sheri Phelps, sophomore Christine Melillo, sophomore Renee Petino, junior Lisette Rodriguez and a host of jayvee players.

"We have four good players to (Please see 'Volleyballers' on page 14).

Wujciak and Davies Named to NNJIL Second Team

The accolades continue to pour in for senior gymnast Wujciak. Last week, at a meeting of the coaches of the NNJIL conference, Wujciak was named to the second team, all conference, for her work on the floor exercise.

By now, most fans are aware of the tremendous versatility of the senior acrobat. She did a solid job in all four events and was the leader of a young team that should improve with experience. While Wujciak represents an athlete at the prime of her high school career, another young Belleville lady, sophomore Alise Davies, is just at the beginning of her career.

Davies was also named to the second team, this for her work on the uneven parallel bars. "I was really happy about both selections," said head coach Ray Iannuzzi, the first year coach. "I was going to wait until about the following day to tell them about the selections, but I was so happy that night that I called them the moment I got home."

Wujciak and Davies are the first two Belleville gymnasts ever to be named to post season accolades. For Davies, the accomplishment comes after hours of hard work and determination.

Alise started the season with a score of 1.7 out of a possible ten and Iannuzzi knew she needed a new routine if she hoped to be competitive on the high school level. After hours of hard work and some frustration, Davies improved her score by over six points. Now, entering her junior campaign, Alise will be an athlete to watch. Starting of athletes with that work hard, never say die ethic, let's hear it for Dana Caruso. The 1981 graduate of Belleville High School is in her senior year of college at Montclair State and she continues to improve her running skills. Last weekend, Caruso competed in the Philadelphia Marathon, running the grueling course in a sizzling time of 3:31.5. "I was really nervous at the beginning," Caruso said during an interview on OBC-TV last week. "But once I reached the 13 mile mark, it seemed to get easier. I paced myself for the first half and actually improved my time as the race got longer."

It has been a long time goal for Dana to compete in a marathon. Now that she has completed this goal, what could be next? For Dana, the next step is also a big one, but in a different way. She will travel to Australia this spring as an exchange student and will complete her studies in the land down under. Then, next fall, she will start graduate school in the area of recreational therapy and genetics. She has worked many hours at Clara Maass Hospital with cancer patients and has done work with the elderly at the Essex County Geriatric Center in Belleville. A very young lady, Caruso puts her heart and soul into everything she does. Her hard work certainly shows on the track and also in the classroom, where she maintains a grade point ratio of 3.30. It certainly is a pleasure to say that Dana is a graduate of Belleville High School

The Kings, sponsored by De Bacco

Bros. were on the winning side of a 13-0 count over Harrison. It was a game which saw nine Kings score goals, including goalie John O'Callaghan. John Calvi had three goals, Alex Arya and Bill Bastamonte had two goals to pace the attack. Oscar Valera, Manny Matos, Anthony Matos, Nelson tosa and Carlos Tabares each had a goal for the Kings.

The Young Bandits ended its first half of the season by losing to a tough Bayonne squad, 5-1. It was Tim Trotta's first goal of the season which narrowed the gap to one goal before Bayonne, a very experienced team, took control down the stretch.

Congratulations goes out to all the young athletes that make up the Belleville Soccer Association and their excellent play this season. Special thanks to Ed Albanese for providing the information on the teams.

The football season came to an end on Thanksgiving Day with Belleville losing to Nutley, 19-6 and ending its regular season with a 6-4 record. Before we write off this team for having a "bad" season, let's not forget that the team was named 6-1, had qualified for the playoffs and was riding high before that terrible game with Kennedy that produced so many key injuries. The Bucs finished in a second place tie with Passaic for the NNJIL crown and could have won the title outright had it defeated Nutley. Let's also not forget the big wins over Clifton and Passaic and the tough schedule this team had to endure this kl. Despite losing its last three games of the season, Belleville finished with a winning record for the seventh straight season, a tribute to the fine athletes that make up our township. Congratulations to everyone associated with the Buccaneer football program, and for that matter, everyone associated with the fall sport program. It was a rousing success and next Thursday, the athletes will receive their just due at the varsity club dinner at the Wayne Manor, Wayne, New Jersey. It should be a very nice affair.

Next week, the Belleville High School athlete of the month for November will be profiled.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Steve Kimble of the football team. The senior tight end and defensive end played perhaps his best game ever against Nutley, hauling in a touchdown pass and playing a stellar game on defense. Kimble will now take his talents to the basketball court where he will play forward.

The answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the participants in the 1984 Cotton Bowl. The answer: Texas played Georgia and the Bulldogs won, 10-9.

For this week's quiz, let's stay with the Bowl games. Who were the participants in the 1981 Sugar and Rose Bowls and name the MVP's of both games.

Bucs End Season With Loss to Nutley Raiders, 19-6

Get Him — Steve Kimble (84) and Michael Gibbons (33) converge on a Nutley ball carrier during the Thanksgiving Day game with the Maroon last Thursday. Nutley broke a long dry spell by stopping Belleville, 19-6 at Municipal Stadium.

Post-game Honors — Mark Walsh and Dave D'Aloia were chosen the most valuable players of the game by the Optimist Club of Belleville. With D'Aloia is Dr. Anthony D'Agostino and with Walsh is Ted Rajnes, president of the Optimist Club. — All football photos by Michelle Jeannotte.

His Final Game — Gerald Kraus has a keen eye on the action during the Belleville-Nutley game. For Kraus, a senior, the contest ends his fine varsity career. Kraus was an excellent receiver and did a good job in the defensive secondary.

Option Pass — Running back Jim Dunphy (26) is looking to throw the option pass with a Nutley Raider lined up against him. Dunphy, only a sophomore, should see plenty of action next fall.

Clear Sailing — John Olivieri (43) has the ball and is getting some help from Steve Tribuna. Olivieri, coming off a bad shoulder injury, played hard, but his team was stopped by Nutley, 19-6.

Careers Ended — These two senior members of the Belleville High School twirling squad were presented with flowers during halftime, marking their final performance on the football field.

Release — Quarterback Mark Walsh, with Michael Gibbons throwing a block, releases a pass during the Belleville-Nutley game on Thanksgiving Day. Walsh was voted the MVP of the game for the Bucs.

Hold That Pose — Running back John Olivieri is hit at the line of scrimmage while John Apicella (62) can only watch. The Buc running game was stopped by an inspired Maroon defense.

The Wall is Formed — Led by blockers Ralph Chimento (75) and John Apicella (62), John Olivieri is off and running against Nutley. Mark Walsh, the quarterback is heading the other way, trying to fool the defense.

Quarterback Sack — Buc quarterback Mark Walsh gets hit by a Nutley Raider before the release of the ball in last Thursday's game. Raiders won, 19-6.

Checking the Signals — Anthony Gizzo (28) and Steve Kimble check with defensive coordinator Joe D'Ambola for signals during the Nutley game. Joe Feith (42) is getting set for the next play. The Bucs will lose 23 seniors to graduation this spring.

Young and Talented Freshman Squad Finishes Season (3-6)

The Belleville freshman football team completed the 1984 season with a 3-6 record under the direction of Carl Lodi and Russell Cirillo.

The young Bucs displayed some good talent, but were hurt by a lack of depth. Just 25 athletes finished the season, a very low number considering the large turnouts that usually accompany freshman football.

"We had a lot of good athletes," said Cirillo. "We had the physical capabilities, but we didn't have the numbers. We were also hurt by injuries, when we lost someone it wasn't easy to replace them."

Belleville's three victories came against Don Bosco (28-0), Bloomfield (20-8) and Paterson Kennedy, (9-0). The Buccaneer offense was led by quarterback Jeff Spillsbury. The runners were Bill Sypher, Danny Opizzi and Paul Grander. On the offensive line, Jerry Ibelli and Frank Pacheco were the starting guards, Dominick Tucci and Mike Auriemma played tackle and the center position was shared by Dawson Bloom, Donald Tuosto and Matt Hochstul.

Jerry Padula and Mario Lemongello also saw time at the guard position. At tight end was Gary Villano, the split ends were Mike Di Biazzi, Charley Gerris, Craig Clinton and John Berry.

On defense, Cirillo was very happy with the team's hard hitting and spirit. At anchor end was Frank Pacheco, the linebackers were Craig Jakowski and Dawson Bloom. The defensive backs were led by Spillsbury, P.J. Olivio and Jay Marchese. When not playing in the secondary, Marchese saw time at rover back and linebacker.

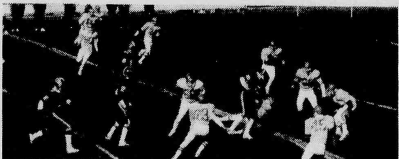

At defensive tackle was Mike Auriemma, Dominick Tucci, John Groome and Eugene Dancheck. The nose guards were Ed Occhipinti, Peter Carlo and Anthony Auriemma.

"Because so many players were going both ways," Cirillo said, "we wore down in the second half. We were right in there for the first half, but like the varsity team this year, we were hurt in the second half."

Cirillo feels that the freshman team of 1984 will develop into a good varsity club in the next two or three years. As for the best team the coach saw this season, the coach did not hesitate. "Paterson Eastside was the strongest team that I saw. They were big, quick and executed very well. They had the knack for the big play and always stopped us when we tried to start a drive."

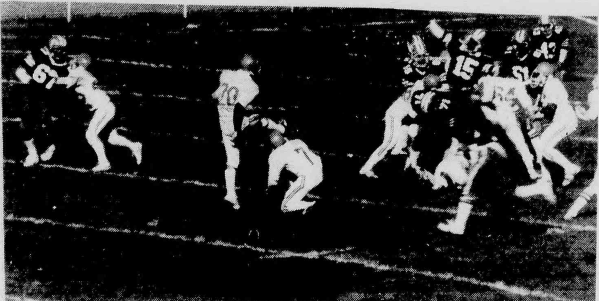

The coach also expressed thanks to the parents of the players for their excellent support throughout the campaign and also gave his thanks to Dino Ibelli for taping the players. Danielle Salazar and Nicole Mariani, the teams managers for the season.

Tough Defense — Buccaneer freshman players converge on a Paterson Kennedy player during a Buc win earlier in the season. Belleville showed a lot of promise on the freshman level and should be a solid unit on the varsity plateau.

Moving in for the Tackle — Anthony Auriemma (40) looks for the ball carrier as teammate Craig Jakowski (29) looks on. The Belleville defense posted a shutout in this game and had two for the season.

Point After — Jay Marchese, a jack of all trades, kicks the point after touchdown in the Kennedy game. Marchese played on both offense and defense and has a world of potential. — Photos by Tedd Ellis.

fill six spots," said Worley. "I will need two more players to round out the varsity squad next year. I know we have some good talent on the jayvee this year and perhaps one or two of them can come up and help us next season."

Phelps has excellent athletic ability. She has good size to be effective on the front line and is a very coachable athlete. Rodriguez was playing time this year and platooned with Petineo on a number of occasions. Rodriguez was a good front line performer and Petineo would best help the club on the backline.

Petineo showed tremendous improvement during the course of the campaign. Perhaps her best outing came in the final game of the season, the heartbreaking loss to Fair Lawn in the state semis. "She will get stronger," said

Worley of Petineo. "Renee came around very well in the second half of the season."

Mellillo, a sophomore, has good size (5'9") and good athletic ability. Her coordination was improving as the season progressed and Mellillo could be a key to next year's squad.

Finally, Worley received good news from the NNJHL when she learned that Debbie and Brooks were named to the first team, NNJHL. Essex-Passaic Division and Liz Goldrick was named honorable mention, NNJHL. The honors close the books on a tremendous season for the volleyball wizards of BHS. Let's hope next year can bring continued success.

Religious Viewpoint

Is Abortion Murder?

By Rev. Robert Paul

A mother stepped into a doctor's office carrying a bright and beautiful baby 1-year-old. Seating herself near her family physician, she said, "Doctor, I want you to help me. My baby is only one, and I have conceived again. I do not want to have children so close together."

"What do you expect me to do?," asked her physician.

"Oh, anything to get rid of it for me," she replied.

After thinking seriously for a moment the doctor said, "I think I can suggest a method of helping you out. If you object to having two children so near together, the best way would be to kill the one on your lap, as it makes no difference to me which one I kill for you. Besides, it might be dangerous for you if I undertook to kill the younger one." As the doctor finished speaking, he reached for a knife, and continued by asking the mother to lay the baby out on her lap and to turn her head the other way. The woman almost fainted away as she jumped from her chair and uttered one word, murder."

A few words of explanation from the doctor soon convinced the young mother that his offer to commit murder was no worse than her request for the destruction of her unborn child. In either case it would have been murder. The only difference is in the age of the child.

Human life is sacred from the beginning of life to the grave. We don't need to answer every heavy theological question about it to establish a practical policy about abortion. A developing embryo in a woman's womb is human, not animal.

A society that produces an "easy out" through abortion is cultivating an irresponsible attitude about personal accountability.

The root of the problem is found in the Holy Scriptures: "But fornication, and all uncleanness or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints..." (Ephesians 5:3) "Abstain from fornication."

There is a sin that is greater than murder, and that is to reject the Lord Jesus Christ as your own Saviour from sin. Open your heart and invite Him to come into your life today. (Romans 10:13)

'FIST' Strike Team Joins Law Agencies

Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio announced details of his department's recent participation in the "FIST" successful mass fugitive apprehension effort in recent American history.

Code named "Operation FIST," this unprecedented cooperative effort combined personnel from federal, state, county and municipal law enforcement agencies in seeking fugitive felons in an eight state region including New Jersey.

Detectives Anthony Paduto and Keith Cummings of the Essex County Sheriff's Department were teamed with federal marshals in the "FIST" (Fugitive Investigative Strike Team) operation which employed several "sting" operations to apprehend targeted fugitives. Among the stings utilized in the Newark based operation were letters sent out announcing that the fugitive had won lottery prizes or letters offering the fugitive employment opportunities.

Under the sponsorship of the United States Marshal Service "Operation FIST" worked on 350 fugitive cases supplied by the Essex County Sheriff's Department during the nine-week program. Spending over 90 percent of their work time in the streets, the combined county/federal units made 64 arrests and filed detainers on another 21 fugitives who were located in custody in other jurisdictions.

Sheriff D'Alessio, a Nutley resident, expressed his pride in the work of his detectives and in the high rate of apprehensions. "Many county and local law enforcement agencies are unable to actively seek fugitives due to lack of resources," he said. "Fugitives are major contributors to the high crime rate in this country. Joint operations like FIST demonstrate the value of combining our law enforcement power. Our Essex County officers were empowered to cross jurisdictional lines to effect the arrest of fugitives who know no boundaries."

Besides the high rate of arrests made, Sheriff D'Alessio added that cooperative efforts of all the various law enforcement agencies involved had resulted in a lower cost per arrest.

This most recent operation is the seventh such operation conducted by the United States Marshal Service and brings the total number of arrests to over 7,000 in the last two-and-a-half years.

Hallam is Named Top Leader In School's Century III Program

Christina Hallam, a senior at Belleville High School, has been named the school's top Century III leader according to Principal Joseph Ciccone.

The 18-year-old student is now eligible to compete with other local winners from around the state for one of two $1,500 scholarships and an all-expense-paid trip to the Century III Leaders National Conference, March 15-18, 1985, in Colonial Williamsburg, Va. State winners will compete for the national winner's prize of an additional $10,000 scholarship.

The Century III Leaders Program is designed to bring together and recognize student leaders who show both strong leadership abilities and an interest in the future of America. Hallam was judged on the basis of leadership skills, school and community involvement, and a current event examination. She also wrote a short essay on a particular issue that challenges America in its third century.

She has set an exceptional record of service and achievement in school and in this community, serving in various committees of the student government organization, all four class senates, the chorus and several sports teams. She takes an interest in the Civil Air Patrol and has served as an officer with this organization.

Runners-up in the competition at BHS were Valerie Cardillo and Brian Tice.

This is the 10th year of the Century III Leaders Program, which awards a total of $218,000 in scholarships to 204 young leaders. Century III is sponsored and administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, and funded by the Shell Companies Foundation, Inc.

The Williamsburg meeting will be highlighted by major speakers and seminars, along with discussions among students and leaders from the worlds of business, education, and government. Speakers at past conferences have included former President Gerald Ford; newsmen Harry Reasoner, Howard K. Smith, Tom Brokaw, and Charles Kuralt; philosopher, and futurist Buckminster Fuller; and the Librarian of Congress, Daniel Boorstin.

Century III Leaders Program — Christine Wallace, a senior at Belleville High School, is recognized by Richard Graves, Century III administrator, as the winner of the school's Century III Leaders Program competition. She is now eligible to compete with other local winners for one of two $1,500 scholarships. Runners-up in the competition were Valerie Cardillo and Brian Tice.

New Staff Members Join Related Arts Department

Three new staff members have been appointed to the teaching staff of the Related Arts Department at Belleville High School.

Russell Pagano will fill the position created by the retirement of Ted Gabry after 38 years of teaching in the Belleville school system. Pagano will be teaching architectural drawing, mechanical drawing, and general shop. A former Belleville High School student, he graduated from Montclair State College in May with a degree in industrial education. In addition to his teaching assignment, he is also an assistant football coach at the high school.

Mrs. Lucille Cerreto has been hired to replace a cosmetology theory teacher who resigned last year. Cerreto has vocational certification in cosmetology and is working toward her college degree with an additional certification in English. She is a licensed hair dresser and holds a N.J. Barber's license.

Mrs. Barbara Di Lea is new to the school as she has taught art in the high school for the past two years. She has been transferred from the fine arts to the commercial art photography program in the vocational area of the Related Arts Department. She has a Fine Arts degree and certification, a master's degree and is vocationally certified in the areas of commercial art and photography. Di Lea will continue as a advisor to the high school twirling squad.

State vocational funding has been received in the amount of $2,248.11 thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Sandie Burke, Nick Grande and Victor De Pauw. Burke applied for and received $6,181 for her C.H.E. program. These funds will be used to pay her summer salary and purchase educational materials for her program. Grande, C.I.E. coordinator, received $6,300 through his application. This money will be used in the areas of summer salary and classroom supplies for his C.I.E. program. De Pauw submitted an application, which has been approved by the state, for $10,000 for the purchase of a Hunter computerized four-wheel alignment machine. This machine will be used by the students in the vocational auto program at the high school.

Dedication Ceremony — Members of the Board of Education attended the dedication of the new guidance wing and two additional classrooms at Belleville High School in October. The new guidance wing contains a data entry room for scheduling and modification of student schedules. Additional classrooms will serve the entire student population including special education students. Attending the ceremony were (back, l-r) Edward Appleton, business administrator, members Seymour Grossman, Gabe Nazliola, President Grade Purdue, Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, Ernest Zoppi, Phil Linfante and Joseph Grande, superintendent of grounds and buildings. Kneeling are Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally and member John DiStasi.

Computer Courses Offered at Secondary Schools

Computers are the face of the future and Belleville secondary schools are building toward that future now.

The high school offers three computer courses — Basic Computers, Advanced Basic Computers and Pascal. The curriculum guides for these courses were recently written by Mrs. Josephine Montemurro and Ms. Kathy Partus, who also teach the courses.

Twelve Commodore Pet microcomputers, six Commodore

Superset microcomputers, three printers, three disc drives, and three network systems are available to both students and teachers. All are located in the computer lab.

Two computer courses — Computer Literacy for seventh graders and Computer Literacy for eighth graders — are presently being offered at the Middle School.

The curriculum guides for these two courses were recently written by Mrs. Florence Conway and Mrs. Natalie Milano. Mr. Louis Scanzillo teaches both courses.

The computer lab at the middle school consists of 14 Apple II C microcomputers, 12 disc drives, six printers and six switches. A computer and disc drive is also available for mathematics classes.

Distributive Education Offers Work Experience

Distributive Education (DECA), a course at Belleville High School, includes work and study in the areas of merchandising, marketing and management and provides a Cooperative Work Experience Program.

The course, which is available to all 10th and 11th grade students, offers students 15 credits for classroom activities as well as on-the-job training. The second level, Distributive Education II, is completed in the senior year at which time a student attends school in the morning and receives supervised work experience in the afternoon.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America supplements the Cooperative Work Experience Program. It provides the student with an opportunity to gain practical experience on a formal and informal level. Students have the chance to develop leadership and realistic knowledge on a local, state and national level. While in DECA, students will visit and observe local high school programs and become involved with county conferences and the state convention.

According to Mr. Ralph LaConte, teacher-coordinator of DECA, accounting, business law and consumer education are good background elective courses for entering the distributive education field.

BHS Guidance Office Open Extra Hours

The Belleville High School Guidance Office will be open over the dinner hour during December.

The schedule is as follows: Wednesday, Dec. 5, Ms. Williamson and Mr. Cafone; Tuesday, Dec. 11, Ms. Cardillo, Ms. Herdick and Dr. Berninger; and Wednesday, Dec. 12, Mr. Esposito and Mr. Kenigly.

The last appointment may be made at 7 p.m. For appointments, call the office at 759-4338.

A program for parents of incoming ninth graders will be also conducted Dec. 11.

Way of the Future — Computer courses such as computer literacy and basic computers are now being taught in the secondary schools. Both the middle school and high school have computer labs available to students and faculty.

Heard at Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Former WBA heavyweight boss Mike Weaver claims promoter Don King promised him a go at WBC champion title that is now in the possession of Pinklon Thomas if he (Weaver) beat Tony Anthony. Weaver said, "I beat Anthony, I signed a promotional contract with King. Let's have Thomas."

A newcomer to the fight-promotion racket Pete Scalzo, Jr., promoted his first boxing card, seven-bouts in the War Memorial Auditorium. Young Scalzo is the son of former featherweight champion Pete Scalzo. The champ is a native of New York City. He fought from June 29, 1936 to Oct. 25, 1943. Now retired to Hollywood, Florida. The promoter plans on putting together at least two more shows to be staged in the Memorial building.

Panama's Fuschio Pedroza will defend his World Boxing Association featherweight title against fellow Panamanian Jorge Lujan. WBA announced last Monday. The bout will go off in January. It will be Pedroza's 19th title defense. No site has been selected, but New York City, Miami and Panama City, Panama are considered. American Broadcasting Company (ABC) is reported to be paying $10 million for a five-event package involving four gold medal winners Tyrell Biggs, Meldrick Taylor, Mark Breland and Pernell Whitaker, also bronze medalist Evander Holyfield. For the first the boxers are to have been paid, Breland $100,000; Biggs, Whitaker and Holyfield $75,000 and Taylor $50,000. Their opponents were said from $3,500 to $5,000.

Inocencio "Mac" De La Rosa of Miami has decided to tang than on after a 14-year-career in the punch-for-pay business. The 34-year-old, middleweight fought the best including Thomas Hearns, Nino La Rocca, Marlon Starling, Pete Ranzany and Kevin Howard.

Not many months back there was a lot of noise from promoter Don King stating he would never promote a fight in South Africa. WBA heavyweight champion Gerie Coetzee and challenger Greg Page of Louisville, Ky. are signed to fight in Sun City, South Africa. The promoter is Don King. Mooney changed his mind. He will receive $1 million.

WBA heavyweight champion Gerry Coetzee will defend his title against Greg Page of Louisville, Ky. Dec. 1 as scheduled despite Coetzee's sprained right thumb. Coetzee had injured the hand in a sparring session with Marty Monroe.

Cut eyes, wobbly legs and busted thumb was the picture of a once great champion Larry Holmes as a result of his recent fight against journeyman James Smith in Las Vegas, Nev. We suggested after he narrowly missed defeat by Tim Witherspoon for Holmes to retire. The question about his wobbly legs was ignored. He claimed the thumb was broken in July. If it was injured four months before, Holmes must be superman to train, spar, shake hands and slap friends with the high-fives without it bothering him before the fight.

Home Box Office (HBO) producer Ross Greenburg said his cable network will make every attempt to televise the Marvellous Marvin Hagler-Thomas championship fight. Bob Arum of Top Rank, promoter of the proposed glove duel predicted the purse for this bout will bigger than Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns.

Dwight Muhammad Qawi (Dwight Braxton) the "Camden Buzzsaw" was the ruler of the WBC light heavyweights from Dec. 16, 1981 to March 18, 1983. Qawi now unable to make 175-pounds has moved up to the cruiserweight class. He has issued a challenge to the champion of the division Carlos "Sugar" De Leon.

New York's Downtown Athletic Club honored Muhammad Ali with the "Rocky Marciano Award" and Rocky Graziano was presented the "Boxing Greats Award." Downtown Athletic Club's sports director, arranged the Monday night event. Previous Tuesday a group of friends threw Riska a surprise dinner.

World Boxing Council President Jose Sulaiman said last Saturday he will recommend to the 23-member executive committee to reinstate midweight Marvelous Marvin Hagler as champion. Hagler, recognized as champion by WBA and IBF, was stripped of the WBC portion of the title in October for refusing to obey WBC's 12-pound limit rule on championship fights. Sulaiman said Hagler has now agreed to abide by WBC rules in future fights.

Juan Arroyo, lightweight out of Miami, Florida, sends word he is signed to fight Australian lightweight champion Barry Mitchell in Melbourne, Australia Friday, Nov. 30.
