Township's First New Year Baby Arrives January 5

A lucky star shone on a Belleville family this holiday season. Yoon Suh and his wife, Ku Ck Suh, became the parents of the first Belleville baby born in 1985.

Born Jan. 5, little Dong Ok Suh made his earthly debut at Clara Maass Medical Center at 12:50 p.m.

Dong Ok, whose Korean name means "eastern star," weighed in at 7 pounds, 11 ounces, and, according to his mother has black hair and black eyes.

Though the newest addition to the Suh family was the first baby born in Belleville this year, Little Dong Ok was actually born three days later than expected.

Ku Ck said she and her husband are "very happy and surprised" over celebrity Dong Ok who joins a 2-year-old brother.

The Korean born parents have been living in Belleville since last June. Mr. Suh is employed by an electrical firm in Lyndhurst.

The new year's baby will receive assorted gifts and prizes courtesy of Belleville merchants. Participating are: Harry French, former Chamber of Commerce president, the Belleville Times, Branch Brook Manor, K-Mart, Fountain of Flowers, Spencer Savings, Belleville Shoes, First DeWitt Savings, People's Bank, First New Jersey Bank, Jovial Card and Gift Shop, Flowerama, Pathmark, Sherman's, School Board President Grace Purdie, Towne Deli, Junior Women's Club, Charles Jewelers, Mansol, Clara Maass Medical Center, Flemings Food Supply, Carvel, Kondrich Studios, Mills Photo and an anonymous donor.

70th Anniversary Celebration — Eugene Reilly (left) and his son, Jack, pose for a picture in front of their business, Eugene J. Reilly Real Estate on Washington Avenue. The business was started in 1915 by Thomas W. Reilly and then by his wife, Rose M. Reilly, after his death in 1931. Eugene Reilly took the business over in 1960 and added insurance to its services in 1971. Eugene J. Reilly Real Estate is a member of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Nutley, Glen Ridge, and Belleville. The elder Reilly has been president of the board in 1968, 1975 and in 1984 while the younger Reilly was recently honored as Realtor-Associate of the Year by the board. The business is located at 394 Washington Ave.

Shining Star — Dong Ok Suh, being held by his mother, Ku Ck Suh, was the first Belleville baby born in 1985. With the happy mother and newborn baby are Shirlee Sherman and Chamber of Commerce President Howie Halpern, representatives of the Chamber's annual "First Baby of the Year Contest."

Approved Measure Will Curb Graffiti

In an attempt to blot out local graffiti, commissioners last week adopted a measure to prohibit the sale or transfer of spray paint containers and other indecible markers to minors.

The measure, which will hold merchants responsible, is the second ordinance to win approval aimed at curbing graffiti.

Commissioners adopted a measure Dec. 27 prohibiting the sale or transfer of spray paint containers and other indecible markers to minors. The accompanying ordinance to prohibit the sale of spray paints to minors was tabled that evening for further study.

"We think it will work," said Mayor Michael Marotti after last week's meeting where the ordinance was removed from the table and given unanimous 5-0 vote.

Marotti said the governing body was at first concerned whether the companion piece might be unduly restrictive to merchants. "We saw that many other communities had an ordinance like that in addition to an ordinance against the graffiti itself, so we decided to go ahead with it."

He added, "If it doesn't work out, we can always change it." Marotti said there had been no comments from merchants on the matter.

According to the new ordinance, selling indecible marking devices to minors not accompanied by a parent or guardian carries a penalty of a $50 fine or prison sentence of 90 days or both.

As with the purchase of alcoholic beverages, customers suspected of being underage, in this case 18 years old, must show proof of age to purchase the markers, which are targeted by the ordinance as instruments of graffiti violators.

Citing the defacement of public property as contributing to "the blight and degradation of neighborhoods and public places," the ordinance holds transferring object of graffiti to minors.

Times' Contributor Succumbs

Rundle Overcame Disability To Speak Out on Many Issues

William H. Rundle, a patient at Essex County Geriatric Center, Belleville, and a frequent contributor to The Belleville Times' "Letters in Print" column, died Jan. 7 in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark.

A Mass for Mr. Rundle, 49, was offered Jan. 10 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

Born in Newark, Mr. Rundle was afflicted with cerebral palsy and was disabled most of his life. Despite being bedridden and forced to live under institutional care, his spirit, determination and faith in God enabled him to educate himself and write.

"His handicaps are at an end. Thank you, God, for taking Bill home and making him whole," Ruth Keenan, a close friend of Mr. Rundle and a member of Franklin Reformed Church, said in a recent letter to The Sun following his death.

"All the beautiful qualities that made Bill what he was live on in the hearts of those who loved and admired him. He was an inspiration to many people. Good natured, optimistic, gentle yet firm, he had a drive to make something worthwhile of his life in spite of the burdens with which he lived," Keenan continued in her letter. She was a frequent "secretary" for Mr. Rundle, sitting at his bedside and writing out the letters he dictated for publication in The Sun.

"Bill's death isn't a sad thing," Keenan said. "We should be happy for his life and the time we had to know him. He was a special person. He accomplished more than he ever thought he could."

Mr. Rundle was forced to live

High School Student In Group's History

By Michelle Jeannotte

The Belleville High School Student Government Organization (SGO), which was instituted into the extracurriculum five years ago, was formed with the main purpose of being a representative of the student body. Over the years it has achieved this goal as well as many others, mainly because of the students who actively participate.

The SGO has received many awards in the few years it has existed, including its fourth Honor School award and the Standards of Excellence award for the fifth consecutive year. However, never before has one of its members been elected to the executive board of the New Jersey Association of Student Councils.

Claudia Hartmann, a junior and third-year member of the SGO, was recently elected a member of the executive board at the NJASC's annual convention held last week at Trenton State College. She was chosen by the presidents of member schools and will represent all junior and senior high schools throughout the state.

According to Hartmann, who is the daughter of Andre and Margaret Hartmann of Division Avenue, SGO members filled out applications to the board for review and were allowed campaign time between Dec. 6-10. However, she did not campaign until the day of the convention when she delivered a two-minute speech to the approximate 240 members present.

Frank Orechio Named Director of Dundee Co.; Will Represent Jersey

Frank A. Orechio of Nutley today was named to represent the State of New Jersey's interest as a director of the Dundee Water Power and Land Co. based in Harrington Park.

Orechio is former chairman of the North Jersey Water Supply Commission which has purchased 50 percent of the Dundee Water Co. stock as part of a $600,000 court settlement with United Water Resources Inc. which retains half the company stock.

The Dundee Water Power and Land Co., under Colonial Grants confirmed by the N.J. General Assembly in 1928, historically has claimed that it alone has rights to the full and unimpeded flow of all Passaic River water. Asserting that claim, Dundee threatened to sue the state for more than $2 million when plans were announced to pump Passaic River water from Wayne Township into North Jersey's Wanauque Reservoir.

"The threat of the court challenge ended when the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission acquired 50 percent of the stock and control of the

Nursing Administrator Lectures at Seminar

Mary C. Tonges, R.N., M.S.N., Vice President of Nursing at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville, and faculty member of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) Department of Education, recently taught a JCAH nursing seminar entitled, "Managing Quality Nursing Services in a Changing Environment," in Denver, Colo.

The seminar confronted the task of controlling costs while maintaining a safe, effective level of nursing service. During Tonges' presentation, trends in health care, patient classification as a management tool, and JCAH nursing standards were discussed. As a result, creative management strategies for reducing the perceived margin of incompatibility between cost of care and quality of care were identified.

Since her appointment to Clara Maass in June 1983, Tonges has been in implementing these nursing principles at the Medical Center through new programs such as alternative scheduling, district nursing care delivery, and problem-oriented documentation systems.

Tonges received her B.S.N. degree from the University of Iowa and her M.S.N. degree from the University of Illinois. She is certified in Nursing Administration by the American Nurses Association and has been published in several journals including the Journal of Nursing Administration and Nursing Administration Quarterly. She is a member of the American Society for Nursing Service Administration, Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Society, and the Women Health Executives Network.

C. Silvestri Is Certified Technician

Carmine Silvestri of Belleville has recently been certified as a "Master Technician" by the Fuel Merchants Association of New Jersey. Silvestri is employed by Liberty Fuel Oil Company as a service technician.

For certification as a "Master Technician," oil heat equipment service technicians must successfully attain a passing grade in an established series of tests and attend various approved courses of training conducted by the oil heat industry trade association. Maintenance of the "Master Technician" certification requires completion of courses or retesting every three years to keep pace with the "state of art" for oil heat equipment.

DO NOT SHARE

If you are like most people, you probably have a medicine chest lined with half-used bottles or various medicines. The temptation is great, considering the high cost of some drugs, to give such "wasted" medicines to friends and relatives who seem to be having the same symptoms for which the original drugs were prescribed. This is a temptation that should be resisted. Two sets of similar symptoms do not necessarily stem from the same illness. Sharing prescription drugs is neither economical nor intelligent. A physician writes a prescription based not only on condition, but also on the sex, weight and age of the patient. Do not think that you would make the same educated decision.

Medicine chests should be cleaned out periodically and medication disposed of. If you have any questions on the expiration date or safety of a drug bring it in and let our pharmacist check it at ROS-SHORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Handicapped Scouts Receive Merit Badges

Last month provided a special moment for handicapped Boy Scouts from Troop 364. For the hard work they put in to complete an assigned fingerprinting project, each was awarded a merit badge at a Court of Honor held in the Elks Hall, Dec. 8.

The project required the boys to learn those fingerprinting techniques used by law enforcement officials in criminal investigations. Detective Maci of the Belleville Police Department assisted by demonstrating the different techniques mastered by the boys, and certified their accomplishments. The project took approximately three months to complete.

The following boys were awarded badges: Thomas Dur- (25th merit badge) serves as an assistant scoutmaster with the troop, and holds the rank of Life Scout. A graduate of Bloomfield High School, Tom is employed by Automatic Data Processing in Clifton; Bob Graham (16th merit badge) is also an assistant scoutmaster, and holds the rank of 2nd Class. Don Stefanello (fourth merit badge) serves as an assistant patrol leader, and holds the rank of 2nd Class. Don will graduate from the Essex County Vocational School in West Caldwell this June; John Bergamini (fourth merit badge) is a troop scribe, and holds the rank of 2nd Class. John is a graduate of Forest Glen School in Bloomfield, and works for the West Essex Rehabilitation Center in Montclair.

Also Michael Dowd (fourth merit badge) holds the rank of Tenderfoot, and is an eighth grad student at Belleville Middle School; Anthony Visel holds the rank of Tenderfoot, and works part-time in his father's coffee shop; Michael Cox (fourth merit badge) also holds the rank of Tenderfoot. Cox's favorite hobbies are bowling and rock collecting.

The scouts were also presented gifts by Belleville Elks Lodge 1123, which sponsors the troops. Dinner for the Court of Honor was prepared by the mothers of the boys, and was coordinated by Mrs. Bergamini. Scoutmaster for Troop 364 is Mr. Larry Dempsey.

Religious Viewpoint

By The Rev. Robert Paul

Have you ever stopped to look, really look, at a snowflake? Each time I do I am filled with an ever deepening sense of wonder and awe as I contemplate their pristine beauty and perfect crystalline symmetry.

The accumulative effect of millions of these tiny white wonders from the sky is a dazzling spectacle which must be experienced to be fully appreciated. It is the private knowledge of those who on a bright still wintry morning, have broken trails through a pine forest freshly blanketed in snow, or who have had the privileged occasion of "stopping by woods on a snowy evening," and felt the muffled silence amidst downy discs falling lazily out of the winter night sky. How many men, beside myself, in ages past have pondered the Almighty's challenge to God's servant job... "Have you entered the storehouses of the snow?"

In a recent National Geographic article, "Snow to Keep," it was said that during a single 10-inch fall of snow, more than a million flakes may gather on a 2-foot square. Given this magnitude of possibilities it is easy to find crystals which may appear similar, yet as with human fingerprints, no two are identical.

Snowflakes have six sides, yet all are hexagonal in shape. An eminent scientist devoted his life to the study of snowflakes. He photographed over 10,000 flakes. He found no two exactly alike, though all had six sides. He claims that the entire countryside from Maine to California might be covered with snow a foot deep, yet no flakes would be exactly alike.

From the snowflakes also arises several contemplative insights to ponder, for we share remarkable similarities. We originate from the same artistic Creator who had made each of us unique in our own way. We both consist primarily of water and share a common momentary existence on earth. "For what is your life, you are a mist what appears for a little time and then vanishes away."

The worth of snowflakes and our own personal worth cannot be determined by the elements of which we consist, nor by the duration of our existence, but rather by what we do while we exist. The snowflake brings life, beauty and grace into the death and drab bleakness of winter. So may we fulfill our destiny, and as the snowflake, bring life, beauty and grace into our world. (Genesis 1:26, 27. Ephesians 2:8,9)

Local Hospital Joins Military System Drill

Clara Maass Medical Center of Belleville one of 40 N.J. hospitals to participate in the Civilian Military Contingency Hospital System drill.

The program is a nationwide system coordinated by the Department of Defense and the United States Army. It is designated to mobilize civilian hospitals in the event of a national emergency involving U.S. combat forces overseas.

During the drill, Clara Maass Medical Center received 15 simulated military casualties. Processing and evaluation was coordinated by the Emergency Room and Admitting Department. As a member of the program, Clara Maass has designated a limited number of beds for this purpose, and also participates in periodic training exercises.

Budget Time

The School Board, the Township Commission, the Essex County Executives and the County Board of Freeholders are all involved in putting together figures for 1985 budgets. At this writing, it is clear the School Board budget will reflect a modest increase. The Township Commission budget, which is the most visible but the budget that least affects taxpayers, also is expected to reflect a modest increase. We have no idea where the County is going with its budget, although we can look upon the past record of the Board of Freeholders for an insight into the future. With the Freeholders Director Jerome Grecco keeping a tight rein on costs, it is quite likely the County budget will also be kept to a minimum increase.

In putting all the budgets together, it appears the increase for the Belleville property tax rate should be no more than 15 to 20 points. If the end result is close to our projection, we can start now to count our blessings.

Sheriff D'Alessio

As part of Sheriff Tom D'Alessio's program to fight drug and child abuse, his ace detective, Toni Morgan, appeared at School Four recently to address the subject of child abuse. Through the use of lectures and films, students are made aware of situations to be avoided to protect themselves against abuse by their elders.

Detective Morgan's lecture was the last in a three-part series directed to parents, teachers and students. Concurrent with his child abuse program, Sheriff D'Alessio has a similar effort county-wide to educate students at every level on the problems of drug usage. Sheriff D'Alessio is to be admired and commended for his initiative in these two areas of student problems that profoundly affect American's future leaders.

School Seven

School Seven's fourth graders were praised last week for their championship performance in a televised Academic Bowl Competition. Also commended were Ms. Elizabeth Follansee their teacher, and Principal Marilyn Hawthorne.

The youngsters competed against a fourth grade class from Sparta in a contest involving knowledge of educational, health and safety subjects. Excellence in anything in to be admired and applauded. Excellence in competition makes champions out of the winners. We join the Belleville Board of Education in congratulating the youngsters who brought the honor to School Seven, as well as the teacher and principal who were responsible for the school program and discipline that were very much a part of the learning process that made Belleville's School Seven's fourth graders superior.

Belleville Pack 301

Belleville Boy Scout Pack 301 boasts of three members who recently were presented with the Eagle Award — the highest rank in scouting — at a Court of Honor held recently at St. Peter's School auditorium. The Scouts of Honor were Christopher Goldrick, Jason Haines and Jay Meglio.

Pack 301 is sponsored by the Wesley Methodist Church of Belleville. All three honorees attend Belleville High School and have been active with the Boy Scouts for the past eight years. Even President Reagan and Vice President Bush sent congratulations. What was unusual about this occasion is that three youngsters from the same troop received the award — and this is to be viewed in connection with the fact that only one to two percent of all Boy Scouts in America ever achieve the honor.

Each scout was required to perform community services after accumulating 21 merit badges.

The youngsters ought to be admired for their achievements and on behalf of the community we proudly hail the work of Belleville Boy Scouts Pack 301 for developing these three outstanding youngsters.

Police Officer's Motive For Arrest is Questioned

To the editor:

I was quite amazed but not surprised after reading the article charging police harassment by Mr. Montagna. If I read the article correctly, Mr. Montagna was alleged to be on the revoked list for a violation that occurred in 1962. He had in his possession three driver's licenses; two which had expired and one valid license which was renewed November 1984 and it is to expire November 1986.

Let me ask the officer several questions. Did he ever wonder how Mr. Montagna obtained and possessed all those driver's licenses? Did he ever wonder what motor vehicle violation carries a penalty of 12 years? The only one I know of is a third conviction for drunken driving.

Did the officer ever wonder when reading Mr. Montagna's printout which carried one motor vehicle violation that occurred in 1969 and if he was on the revoked list in 1962, why there wasn't another entry against his name on the print out?

Finally, was the jailing of Mr. Montagna necessary? Did the officer do his duty or is the charge of harassment a valid one? I think the latter is correct. It must be clear, to anyone who read the article, something is not kosher. I believe the officer had a motive. I believe the officer, police department and the governing body owes Mr. Montagna a public apology.

Who's Keeping an Eye On Our Police Officers?

To the editor:

This past week on your front page, a story appeared about a citizen being harassed by a policeman which was the same as the Gestapo in Germany in 1939.

A question to the police commissioner who said with all his college background the last election he will help the taxpayers of Belleville. How if the policemen have control of his department?

A few months ago a person was stopped during an accident without his registration. The police knew he lived in Belleville but excused him until he went home and got the same next day. Why?

Commissioner DiRuggiero, take a good look at your department. Are they good policemen? After 11 p.m.

where are they? From 5-7 p.m., only one policeman in a patrol car. Why? One is home eating, evenings on coffee breaks. Check Nutley and North Arlington. They have two or three cars. Who is watching the taxpayers?

In many cases the police in Belleville, most of whom don't live here, don't care. The older policemen don't care because in a few years they will retire. The younger policeman has a chip on his shoulder that should be knocked off. When?

Mr. DiRuggiero, if you can't do the job, why don't you quit like the other commissioner did with too much pressure by his men — another man who was pushed around by Belleville Gestapo.

Italian-American Foundation Receives Praise for Its Goals

To the editor:

The latest issue of "Italy Italy," a two-year old Italian magazine in English and published in Rome, has been dedicated to the National Italian-American Foundation.

The entire issue of 50 pages contains 21 beautiful pictures, in color, and remarks by President Reagan, Walter Mondale, Geraldine Ferraro and of Jeno Paulucci and Frank Stella, chairman of the Board and President of the N.I.A.F., respectively.

It also covers the evening of Saturday, Sept. 15, a great event of the Foundation at the Washington Hilton Hotel. No other Italo-American organization ever had a coverage of their dinner or assemblage as "Italy Italy" did to N.I.A.F.

No other Italo-American organization has ever had in America such a grandiose dinner, with 2,200 guests attending, all in formal attire, 330 persons from the media and with the four candidates for president and vice president present and remaining for the entire two-and-a-half hours of the dinner, speeches and the giving of the awards.

The entire event was televised and broadcast that Saturday evening and during the entire day of Sunday. It was heard and seen not only in the United States, but also in Italy.

I was seated in the second tier of the dais, right behind the President. The dinner was of great importance as to attract the attention of the world press.

In his address, President Reagan said: "Sono contento di essere qui. The Italian-American experience was never an easy one, but it was one of great triumph. Italians, of course, made their mark on this country early on. An Italian found it, it was named for an Italian and it was explored by Italians. But after that came the immigrants and it wasn't easy for them. The Italians did it by hard work. These immigrants were guided by habits, principles and traditions that they took from the old country and transplanted here. They believed in a central importance of the family, the dignity of hard work and faith in a just God who would reward effort and encourage virtue. They stayed in America and worked hard. They became the backbone of the American middle class."

Candidate Walter Mondale also praised the Italians in America, saying: "I am honored to speak again to a body I have worked with since its inception. If you want to find one organization in our country where the spirit of patriotism, of social justice, and of family values are all so fully alive, come to the National Italian-American Foundation."

Mondale concluded by saying: "What Italy symbolizes on this side of the Atlantic is the summing up of the values that this evening is all about. Let me close by quoting them: 'The love of country, and the love of freedom, kept pure by the one thing that can tame and yet not weaken them — the tenderest humanity for all mankind.'"

Geraldine Ferraro said: "As a member of the Board of Directors of the National Italian-American Foundation, it gives me great pride to be here tonight and I am especially proud that the President of the United States is here. By his very presence this evening, the President pays tribute to Italian-Americans."

Jeno Paulucci said: "Our purpose is not for political power but rather, at long last, to work together for a better world — a world of peace, devoid of discrimination, devoid of hunger, poverty and deprivation. That will be the Foundation's dedication for the years to come. We will devote our time and energy to make America a family of one, and thus try to abolish any semblance of discrimination."

Frank Stella, N.I.A.F.'s President said: "The Foundation held its first Congressional Awards dinner in October, 1976. It was a proud beginning to what has become an important movement in Italian-American history. In less than 10 years, and with the help of many, the N.I.A.F. has grown from what was only an idea to an ongoing program with a fully staffed Washington office and supported associates around the nation. We now operate projects in education, provide educational and cultural grants to Italian American individuals and organizations, serve a liaison role for Italian and American organizations, work with the media to provide a realistic portrayal of Italian Americans and conduct conferences on topics of importance to all Americans. We serve as a Washington presence for Italian American interests on a broad scope."

Yes, it was a memorable evening, a wonderful culmination of a two-day conference in Washington.

Yours truly,
Vincent Viscig

Golden Comments

by James R. Golden

The most unpardonable sin of journalism is misrepresentation of distortion of fact, many capable writers unaffiliated with the fourth state arrogate the liberty of abusing this sacred obligated trust.

The flagrant delict manifestation of this lofty principle is often found in newspapers. "Letters to the Editor" which while not condoning many distortions appearing therein, publishes such letters with the recognition that the letter writer is not bound by the established hard, fast rules of journalistic rigidity which frowns upon sage inuendos which may pervert or prove misleading; therefore often imparting false misleading information by the utilization of half-truths.

We find that the recent published letter to the editor captioned "Senior Citizens' Benefits Continue to Increase" appearing in the Dec. 20, 1984 issue of this publication, which was authored by Mr. Cornelius P. Vander Zwan, constitutes a misleading epistle fraught with discrepancies and replete with what appear to be flagrant errors in the computation of payroll taxes as he alludes to 1985 paychecks being $400 less than those in 1984.

Omitted from Mr. Vander Zwan's tabulation of increased Social Security hospital deductibles for Medicare's coverage is the increase in a skilled nursing facility for the 21st through 100th day from $44.50 top $50 a day. Likewise, Mr. Vander Zwan neglects to point out that the monthly basic premium for Medicare medical insurance is deducted from the Social Security check which reduces the slight Cost of Living increases... something he accepts may have been an election year gimmick to enhance a Reagan victory. Wait until you see how much the Medicare medical insurance premium is scheduled to go up next year.

The supplemental medical insurance available from several Insurance Co. carriers, which has become a prerequisite to the insolvency for those on Social Security who can afford the average individual monthly $24.00 premium, places it beyond the ability to afford it for multitudes of Social Security payees.

For the individual, paying $15.50 monthly deducted from his Social Security live on paying rent or taxes, paying for food, clothing, gas and electric bills, telephone, newspapers, etc. along with doctor bills, which supplemental insurance does not pay for nor prescriptions, doesn't leave much out of a $400 monthly Social Security check, double the figures for a family of two, sometimes less if the wife hadn't worked and only gets half of the husband's monthly Social Security. Few can afford the cost of supplemental insurance coverage.

No Mr. Vander Zwan you can't delude nor fool people into believing Social Security benefits continue to increase, that would be the biggest of all lies.

Furthermore, Mr. Vander Zwan unless there has been an overzealous oversight on your part to stress what you call the tremendous financial burden to keep Social Security going, we must challenge your figures which suggest a $400 monthly payroll tax withholding increase starting January 1985.

The salaried employee's tax increase for withholding will only be .3 percent. The self-employment tax rate will rise 2.7 percent. Assuming the arbitrary monthly income of $1,800, the average monthly withholding tax increase for the salaried worker would be $5.40. For the self-employed individual the monthly withholding tax increase would be $48.60, a far cry from the $400 suggested tax "bite" inferred by Mr. Vander Zwan.

Of course, were one with monthly income of $2,850 self-employed. That individual, indeed, would be subject to the equivalent of a $400 monthly tax liability. True, there are those with such family incomes, that would subject that couple to a $800 tax obligation. However, there are few individuals earning or receiving $712 a week or couples garnering $1424 a week.

Should that be the good fortune of Mr. and Mrs. Vander Zwan more power to them. Few are so financially fortunate. Taxes are paid according to income.

Doctors Discuss Breast Cancer At Clara Maass Lecture Series

"Cancer of the Breast" was the featured topic at the second of the Clara Maass Medical Center's lecture series entitled, "Cancer: Early Detection and Prevention."

Guest speakers, Dr. Edward Mercogliano, Attending physician in the Department of Surgery at Clara Maass, and Dr. James Orsini, Associate Attending Physician in the Department of Medicine at Clara Maass, discussed various treatments involving surgery and chemotherapy, as well as recent advances in research.

Dr. Mercogliano, focusing on diagnosis and surgery, said that one of the major causes of death from breast cancer is not detecting the disease early. As a result, he pointed out, 35-40 percent of all patients have advanced cancer by the time it is discovered, and also noted that for the last 40 years, the death rate for breast cancer has not changed.

Regarding diagnosis, the surgeon claimed that self-examination is as reliable as any modern diagnostic method. He emphasized that the chances for survival depend upon detection, as well as how many axillary nodes under the arm become involved.

Dr. Mercogliano discussed the two types of surgery which have been performed since 1894: radical mastectomy and moderate radical mastectomy. He pointed out that the original mastectomy, a procedure involving removal of the breast and its surrounding tissues, was an emotionally devastating and painful experience for the patient.

According to Dr. Mercogliano, removal of the muscles made artificial breast reconstruction impossible, and left large amounts of scar tissue over the affected area. However, by the mid-1970s, he noted this situation changed with the introduction of the moderate radical mastectomy, which removed the breast and affected area under the arm, but left muscles intact. He explained that this newer procedure was vastly superior because it made breast reconstruction possible and breast surgery much less painful.

Both doctors were optimistic about the future of breast cancer treatment because of chemotherapy, and the development of new medicines and treatment methods to fight disease. Dr. Mercogliano said that he expects to see more five-year survivors (persons who have had their cancer in remission for a period of five years, and are considered cured), due to recent developments in chemotherapy.

Dr. Orsini, an oncologist, elaborated on chemotherapy and discussed several studies which have enabled doctors to better treat breast cancer. He cited two 1973 studies, one cited done in the United States using an oral drug when nodes were involved under the arm, and a similar study in Italy which used several drugs in combination. He indicated that both these studies were important in that they enabled doctors to conclude that the single most important prognosis factor was the status of the axillary nodes under the arm.

According to Dr. Orsini, both studies showed that if no nodes were involved, there was an 80-85 percent cure rate. However, he noted that the study also found that even if one node was affected, the cure rate dramatically reduced to 40 percent, and if three or more nodes were involved, it went down to only 20 percent.

Dr. Orsini also cited several other studies, including a study on the use of hormonal drugs on women, and claimed that the data gathered from such studies has enabled doctors to attack and treat breast cancer more effectively.

Future lectures in this series will be "Cancer of the Lymph System and Leukemia," Tuesday, Feb. 12; "Cancer of the Feminine Reproductive Organs," Tuesday, March 5; and "Cancer Treatment Modalities," on Tuesday, March 26. All programs begin at 7 p.m.

The Cancer Series is also televised on Suburban Cablevision's Community Access Channel 32, every Friday at 5:35 p.m. For information on this program, contact the Public Relations Department at Clara Maass Medical center at 450-2267.

Exhibit Commemorates Martin King's Birthday

On exhibit at the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., is a display of books and newspaper articles in commemoration of the birthday of black civil rights leader Martin Luther King, Jr.

A recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964, Martin Luther King was born in Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15, 1929, and was assassinated in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, 1968. During the years after his death, no less than seven states and territories acted to observe his birthday as a holiday.

In 1983, the Congress approved HR 3706, a bill to amend title 5 of the United States Code, to make his birthday a legal public holiday. This bill was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan Nov. 2, 1983, to become Public Law 98-144. The law stipulates that after the two-year period following the date of enactment of the act, the third Monday in January, namely Jan. 20, 1986, would be the first Martin Luther King legal public holiday.

On exhibit at the library are the following: "An American Dream;" "The True Story of the Assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.;" "The Assassinations;" "Dallas and Beyond;" by Peter Scott; "Code Name Zorro" by Mark Lane and Dick Gregory; "The Days of Martin Luther King Jr." by Jim Bishop; "Let the Trumpet Sound;" "The Life of Martin Luther King Jr.;" by Stephen Oates; "Martin Luther King Jr., His Life, Martyrdom, and Meaning of the World;" by William Miller; "Martin Luther King Jr.;" by Jacqueline I. Harris; and "Strength in Love" by Martin Luther King, Jr.

Weight Control Program Feb. 5 at Mountainside

If you have difficulty controlling your eating, the Mountainside Hospital in Montclair offers a solution. Beginning Feb. 5, the hospital is sponsoring a ten week Behavioral Weight Control program. This program has been successful in the past in helping many frustrated dieters gain control of their eating habits.

The program emphasizes changing bad eating habits and does not rely on diet pills, special protein formulas or will power alone. Under the direction of a registered clinical dietitian, participants will learn how to gradually change their eating patterns which in turn will lead to long-term weight control. The weekly group meetings provide support, encouragement and an opportunity for interaction. The Behavioral Weight Control program is open to Mountainside Hospital employees and the general public. Enrollment is limited to 12. A free information session about the program will be held Jan. 29 at 7 p.m. in the living room of Mountainside's School of Nursing located on Bay Avenue in Montclair. For more information, contact Anne Carter, R.D., at 429-6055.

Teenage Suicide Rates Rising Sharply; Why?

By George F. Wilson, M.D.
The Carrier Foundation

There is no doubt that teenage suicide rates have risen sharply in the past 15 years. But why? What has been happening to account for it?

To answer this question, we start with the fact that in the very great majority of cases, the teenager who commits suicide has been suffering from a depression. This is a very painful condition. The victim is overwhelmed by feelings of guilt, shame and failure which are vastly out of proportion to any real difficulties he may have been having — problems in school, conflict with parents, non-acceptance by the group or by a girl friend or boy friend. Everything looks hopeless. There does not appear to be any way out of this painful state, and for some, the truly desperate ones, death by suicide seems to be the only way to find relief.

Since more teenagers are committing suicide than before, it means more of them are depressed than before. Again we ask the question — Why?

Teenagers (and adults too) become depressed when they are cut off from sources of emotional support, affection and recognition. These used to come freely from aunts, uncles, grandparents, and mainly from parents who had time and freedom from pressures of their own to be able to devote themselves to their children. Now, many mothers are working and both working parents are harassed by the pressures of the business world, by waves of recession and economic insecurity. The extended family of cousins, aunts and uncles, etc. is a thing of the past. The church and organizations such as the Scouts no longer play the role they used to in the lives of children. Families are having to move so frequently that there is just no opportunity to form lasting, meaningful, supportive attachments to a community and its institutions.

Another reason for the alienation of youngsters, and hence for increased rates of depression, is the youth "counterculture" which has developed since the 1960's. Youngsters are opposed to everything in the life of their parents that stands for tradition. The children reject the parents' ideals and values; the parents ridicule and reject the children's values, music, "rock" heroes. In the rift, the children are cut off from their primary source of emotional support, their parents.

Third is the widespread use of drugs. A teenager who buys or uses drugs is breaking the law. This alienates him further from society and from sources of emotional sustenance. In addition, repeated use of drugs undermines the teenager's coping capacity to deal with the problems of life — leading to a sense of hopelessness and failure and hence to depression. In addition, the extended use of some drugs creates depression, in and of itself, simply as a side-effect of the drugs.

While we may not be able to do very much right away to remedy the social conditions producing higher rates of depression among teenagers, we should at least be able to intervene when a teenager becomes depressed and see to it that he gets psychiatric help.

This too has its problems. There is so much sullenness, withdrawal, sadness and pain in the ordinary turmoil of adolescence that we are apt to ignore evidences of depression when they show up, mistaking them for "a passing phase of adolescence."

Parents need to be especially on the alert these days, to confer with teachers and school counselors when there are indications the teenager may be depressed and to seek psychiatric help when a child's "low" or "down" mood persists or when there are other warning signs of trouble.

(The Carrier Foundation is a psychiatric facility in Belle Mead.)

Mr. and Mrs. Michael S. Borgo — nee Jeannie Fanelli

Jeannie Fanelli Wed To Michael S. Borgo

Jeannie V. Fanelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Charles Fanelli of 304 Nutley Ave., became the bride Oct. 14 of Michael S. Borgo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borgo of 180 Cedar Hill Ave., Belleville.

The Rev. Genovese performed the ceremony in Holy Family Church. A reception followed at The Fiesta, Woodbridge.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an off the shoulder taffeta gown accented with Alencon lace and fashioned with a full cathedral train edged in a double tulle. As a satin and lace veil, she carried white carnations, mums and babies breath.

Debbie Fanelli of Nutley was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Lola Fanelli of Nutley, Vicki Calvito of Belleville and Kathy Faranda of Verona.

They wore red short sleeved taffeta gowns with tulip bodices and small tulle trains with face veils. The honor attendant carried white carnations, pink roses and red babies breath while the others had red mums, white carnations and red babies breath.

Steve Borgo of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushering were Charles, Al. Frank and Rich Fanelli of Nutley and Joe Faranda of Verona.

Mrs. Fanelli chose a huckleberry two piece outfit featuring a sequin top and satin skirt. Her wristlet was a white orchid. The groom's mother, in a beige chiffon gown trimmed in sequins, had a corsage of pale yellow carnations.

Mrs. Borgo, a graduate of Nutley High School, is a data processor with New Jersey Manufacturers Insurance Co., Roseland.

Mr. Borgo, an alumnus of Bloomfield Tech, is an insurance adjuster with M. Miller & Son, Hillside.

The couple have made their home in Nutley after honeymooning in Acapulco.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Ms. Laurie of Nutley asks: "What are impacted wisdom teeth?"

Well Laurie, wisdom teeth are the last set of molars we get. Throughout our lives, we get three sets of molars, the first at age six, the second at age twelve, and the last set between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one.

Due to the timing of large teeth and a small jaw, there sometimes isn't enough room for the last set of molars, the wisdom teeth, to fully erupt. The wisdom teeth then get locked into the jaw below the second molar. When this happens, there is a possibility of pain, abscess or a cyst developing around the unerupted tooth. This tooth should therefore be extracted.

Thank you.

Pinched nerves, the result of spinal misalignments, may be the cause of vertigo or dizziness. Pressure on nerves at the point where they exit the spine in the neck area, may interfere with the normal nervous control of the arteries carrying blood to the brain.

This condition is often accompanied by small spasms in the muscles around the arteries, compounding the problem. Chiropractic adjustment correcting the spinal misalignment allows nerves to function more normally and relaxes the muscle spasms.

A chiropractic examination will determine if chiropractic could help YOU!

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

My daughter is 15 years old. She is a nice girl with one big problem. She does not leave her house until every hair on her head is in place. She spends hours after hour combing and brushing it and cannot understand why her hair splits even though she uses every hair conditioner on the market. And she is full of every imaginable conditioner — cans, pumps. Everytime a new hair product is advertised, she runs out and buys it.

Which hair conditioner would you recommend?

Dear Mother,

Ha, ha, ha! Shame on you! You believe all those girls on TV look so nice because they use the conditioner they are promoting. Not so. The advertisers use girls with naturally beautiful hair. Most likely, she may not even use the product. All the conditioners on the market are good, but the best suggestion I can give you is not to brush or comb your hair too much. This is what causes split and broken ends. And don't put the hot hair dryer close to your hair.

A Mass for George Lebeda was offered Jan. 5 in Holy Family Church, Newark, 62, died Jan. 3 in Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

A resident of Belleville, Mr. Lebeda was a lift truck operator with Igoe Brothers, Newark, for 40 years. He was a member of Elks Lodge 1290 of Nutley.

Born in Taylor, Pa., he lived in Newark before moving to Belleville 17 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Theresa; a daughter, Miss Nancy; two brothers, Michael and Paul and a sister, Mrs. Helen Podolak. Interment was in Glendale Cemetery, Bloomfield.

R. Delsandro, Retired Baker

George R. Delsandro, 75, of Belleville died Jan. 4 in the Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Mr. Delsandro was a baker for the Ward Baking Co., East Orange, for 15 years before retiring 10 years ago.

Born in Brooklyn, he lived in Newark and moved to Belleville 24 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mrs. Doris Gaven and Mrs. Judith Felipe; a brother, Frank; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

A Mass was offered in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Nutley. Entombment was in Holy Cross Cemetery Mausoleum, North Arlington.

St. Anthony's Mass For Lena Veneziano

Mrs. Lena P. Veneziano, 67, of Long Valley, died Jan. 7 in the Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Born Lena Zarro in Newark, she lived in Belleville before moving to Long Valley two years ago.

Mrs. Veneziano taught religious classes and was a member of the Rosarians and the Fund Raising Committee, all of St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, and also a member of the Columbianettes of Bloomfield, the Board of Elections of Belleville and the Altar Care Committee of St. Luke's Church, Long Valley.

Mrs. Veneziano was past president of the Parent Teachers Association of the James G. Shawger School 4 and was treasurer of the Zarro Civic and Welfare Organization, both of Belleville.

Surviving are two sons, Anthony and Gerald; two daughters, Mrs. Rosemarie Yurkanin and Mrs. Joanne Constantino; a sister, Mrs. Rose Nervine; a brother, Joseph Zarro; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A Mass was offered in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville.

Ralph Greco; Army Veteran

A Mass for Ralph A. Greco, Sr. was offered Jan. 4 in Holy Family Church. Mr. Greco, 60, died Dec. 31 in St. Clare's Hospital, Denville.

Mr. Greco was the president of Greco Brothers, Inc. of Nutley, a general contracting firm. He was head of that company for many years.

An Army veteran, Mr. Greco served during World War II. Born in Belleville, he moved to Nutley 22 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Rose Marie; three sons, Ralph A. Jr., Steven and Thomas; two daughters, Mrs. Gloria Smith and Mrs. Diane Siale; three brothers, Peter, Benjamin and Anthony; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Rieffolo and Mrs. Mildred Evers and eight grandchildren.

American Cancer Society Volunteers Honored — Belleville residents Angie Chirico (l-r), Joan Deluca and Chloe Datto were recently honored for their service to the cancer society at an appreciation party held at Nutley Savings and Loan, Franklin Avenue. With them are John V. Kelly, Chairman of the Essex American Cancer Society Drive.

Sen. Carmen Orechio Sworn in as President Of N.J. Legislature

Sen. Carmen A. Orechio was sworn in as Senate President for the second year of his current legislative session.

"As we resume our legislative tasks this year, we can truly say that 1984 was a year of accomplishment. We now have a transportation trust fund which will ensure a functioning mass transit system and improved roads and bridges," the Democrat said.

"The casino reinvestment program forged will incur a renaissance in Atlantic City and improvements throughout the state," he continued.

"Together with labor and business, we reformed the State's unemployment compensation system. We also moved to expand the functions of the N.J. Sports Authority and will soon have Major League Baseball in our state. "Serious business lies ahead in several critical areas. We must all work with the conviction that we share a common goal — to serve the best interests of the people we represent."

"The solid waste crisis has every county in a quandry. The Federal government continues to slash funds for states to clean up toxic wastes — but the problem is buried contaminants endangering water supplies and air pollution problems remain to be dealt with. "With a surplus in the area of $800 million this year, we must return some of those funds to the people who supply some relief to our overburdened property taxpayers."

"There is an election this November, but we must not let that fact deter our best efforts to do the business of the state."

"We in the Legislature are an equal branch of government with the Executive and the Judiciary. We must continue to represent the best interests of nearly 8 million people and we owe it to those who elected us to do the best job we possible can," he said.

A Nutley resident, Orechio is a commissioner and the director of the Public Safety Department.

Bank President John V. Kelly Hosts Party For American Cancer Society Volunteers

An appreciation party for the Essex County volunteers of the American Cancer Society was held last month at Nutley Savings and Loan Association, 171 Franklin Ave. John V. Kelly, president of Nutley Savings and the 1984 cancer crusade chairman for Essex County, hosted the affair.

Belleville resident honored included Angie Chirico, Joan Deluca and Chloe Datto. David J. Lyons, executive director of the society's Essex County Unit, said the 1984 goal of $465,000 was surpassed by over $7,000.

"John Kelly was a very supportive and enthusiastic crusade chairman for the '84 campaign.

Through his tireless dedication, John set an example for all our volunteers to follow which allowed Essex County to exceed the goal we set for this past year," Lyons, who has been director of the Essex Unit for three years, said.

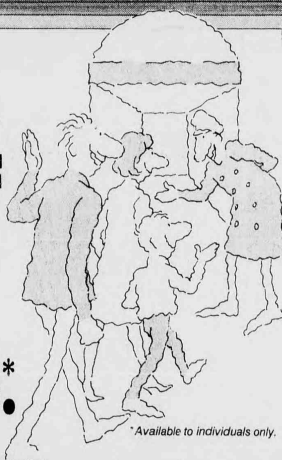

Kelly said the funds raised by the volunteers of the Essex Unit during the past year enables the group to conduct smoking cessation classes, transport cancer patients to and from medical facilities for therapy and treatment and stage programs for early detection and prevention of cancer.

He pointed out that the volunteers also distribute literature to the public during meetings of social clubs and organizations, schools and businesses and are engaged in numerous other activities related to educating people on the effects of cancer.

"The volunteers of the American Cancer Society devote a tremendous amount of time, effort and resources to assist cancer patients and inform the citizens of Essex County on all the facts concerning this dreaded disease," Kelly said. "It was my honor and pleasure to be a small part of this worthwhile organization."

F. Orechio A Director At Dundee

Dundee Co.," Orechio said.

Orechio, who was first appointed by former Gov. William Cahill to the N.J. Water Supply Commission, presently serves as chief coordinator of the Wanakee South reservoir project, the largest water facility construction project currently underway in the county. He is publisher of The Nutley Sun and president of OBC-TV cable operations.

He joins Thomas Gaylor of Jersey City as the state's second member on Dundee's new four-person board of directors. Gaylor, also a member of the N.J. Water Supply Commission, is also chairman of the Jersey City Incinerator Authority.

Orechio's election as one of the four Dundee Water Co. directors was confirmed by an unanimous vote by members of the N.J. District Water Supply Commission.

The Dundee Water Power and Land Co. serves industrial customers in Paterson, Clifton, Passaic, Elmwood Park and Garfield.

The One That Got Away — The Belleville Girls' Varsity Basketball team has given quite a showing this season, winning three consecutive games against Clifton, Passaic and Wayne Valley. Nu Plas and Rocky's Raiders Lead Men's Basketball League

In the battle for first place in Division A of the Belleville Recreation Department's Thursday Men's Basketball League, Nu Plas (4-1), led by Cecil Stetsons 21 points and Mike Bjokowski's 19, slipped past Club 36 East, 61-56. Ed Jernigan and Kerry Dobson combined for 34 points in the loss.

Despite a sluggish second half, Nutley Pub held on to defeat the Martucci Brothers, 62-55. The winners were sparked by Todd McDougal's 19 and Steve Car-riove's 14 points in raising their record to 3-2. John Latka hit for 20 and Bruce Gardner 15 for the losers.

Jill Hill and Gary Soldo combined for 29 points as For Pete's Sake ran by De Lorenzo Construction, 68-43. In the loss De Lorenzo received 21 points from Wayne Baber. Baber was a standout performer during his years on the Belleville High School varsity basketball team.

In Division B, Bill Cook exploded for 37 points leading RLM

Graphics to its second win, 56-39, over Allan's Place. The losers got 10 points apiece from Mike Nicotia and Dom Vazzano.

Corbo Marbach's Caterers lifted their record to 4-1 as they soared by Rosebud's Pub, 63-45. For the winners, Rufus Johnson pumped in 26 and Greg Bevere added 17 points. Twenty-five points by Doug Jackson was not enough as Rosebud's record slipped to 1-4.

Brooks Leads Girls' Team

Varsity Basketball Squad Wins Three Tough Victories

Behind a balanced scoring attack, the Belleville girls' basketball team came through with three big victories last week, boosting its team record to 5-4 in the process.

The girls battled Nutley yesterday and will be in Patterson tomorrow afternoon for a 4 p.m. tip with Kennedy High School. Next Tuesday, the girls will travel to Paramus for a 7:30 p.m. start.

The week did not start very well for Karen Fucello's young team. Belleville was blitzed by Immaculate Heart, 39-23 and were 2-4 when a tough Clifton team arrived last Thursday. In what was easily the team's most impressive victory of the season, the Lady Bucs stopped Clifton, 50-44, then defeated Passaic, 42-36 and Wayne Valley, 33-23. After an 0-3 start this season, Belleville has won three straight and five of its last six games.

"The team is picking up some confidence," said Fucello. "Even when we were 0-3, I could see the team maturing a little. We're getting a good scoring attack and our defense has improved. The Clifton game was especially big, because they are in NNJL rival and never an easy game."

In that Clifton contest, Belleville went to work quickly, taking a 10-8 lead after one quarter and extending the margin to 27-20 at intermission.

The Lady Bucs boosted the lead to 42-34 after three quarters, then used a strong defense to hold off a late Mustang rally. Senior Donna Brooks led the way with 15 points, followed by a career high 13 from Cheryl Marion, 10 from Desiree Johansen and Angel Greco and two from Sherri Sorrentino.

Dori Brown had 20 points for Clifton, which fell to 3-5 with the setback.

In the Passaic game, Belleville had to rally from an early deficit to win. The Indians took a 14-8 lead after one frame and were in command, 22-14 at intermission. The second half was all Belleville, as the locals outscored Passaic, 13-8 in the third quarter and 15-6 in the critical fourth frame to take a big NNJL victory.

Brooks led the way once more, scoring 15 points. Johansen, who has been very steady over the last two weeks, hit for 11. Marion finished with 10. Greco had four and Sheri Phelps closed with two. Kim Rover had 16 points to aid Passaic.

The third win of the week came at the expense of Wayne Valley. In this game, Belleville used a strong defense and a career high 19 points from Johansen to pull away to an independent victory.

Johansen, a junior, is second on the team in scoring, averaging nearly 10 points an outing. She has been the most impressive scorer in the winning spree, hitting for 40 points over the last three contests, an average of over 13 points a game.

"Desiree is coming around very well," said Fucello. "We are also receiving some good games from Cheryl Marion. We will need some good offensive performances from those two to take the pressure off of Brookdale."

In the lone setback of last week, Immaculate Heart used a tenacious defense and took advantage of poor Belleville shooting to post a 16-point victory. Marion and Greco led the way for Belleville with six points. Phelps and freshman Judy Nehlia had four points while Johansen was limited to just three. Brooks was held scoreless in the game.

Belleville was anticipating a difficult contest with Nutley. The Raiders possess a solid front line and have some experience that could prove troublesome for the Lady Bucs. It has been an impressive showing for Belleville over the last week. The hope is that the team can continue the trend in the weeks to come.

Notes: Brooks is the leading scorer thus far with a 10.3 points per game average. The senior is also the leading rebounder.

Boys' Basketball Team Loses; Season Record Drops to 1-11

By Mike Lamberti

Citing a lack of experience and poor execution, head boys' basketball coach Rocco Collicci continues to work overtime in the hope of turning around the Belleville hoops who fell to 1-11 last week after three losses.

The Bucs were in Nutley yesterday and will be host to Kennedy High School tomorrow night, starting at 8 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Bucs will host Paramus High School, starting at four.

It hasn't been easy for the Bucs this season. Collicci is working on a youth movement as well as playing his seniors that have been a part of the program for four years. To make matters more difficult, forward Steve Kimble has been sidelined with a badly sprained ankle and he will miss a few more games.

Last week, the Bucs were stopped by Clifton, 66-42, Passaic, 78-39 and St. Aloysius of Jersey City, 68-55. The tri-losses extended the Buccaneer losing streak to five games.

"Our lack of experience hurt us," Collicci said. "We were up against teams that were senior oriented last week. This is a very young team and we're up against some very good competition."

In the Clifton game, the Mus-

Former BHS Student Possesses Zest for Life

From the period 1979-82, this young lady could be seen running on the cross country course, sprinting down the basketball floor or taking the handoff on the mile relay team during track season.

Her zeal and enthusiasm, her cute looks and never-say-die attitude made her a popular and well respected young lady at Belleville High School. When she graduated in 1982, Montclair State College was the next step. Currently a junior there, she is active in teaching children the fundamentals of sports and is well on her way to achieving a degree.

On the surface, this would appear to be a bright young lady, with not a care in the world, enjoying these precious years of her life as a college student with a bright future in store. All the cards seemed to be in perfect order.

For Barbara Ann Gundry, the 20-year-old college student whom I was referring to at the outset of this story, just about everything is true. In her case, however, a nasty curve was thrown her about a year ago, a curve that drastically altered the life and day to day routine of Barbara Gundry.

During a routine operation last year, Barbara was detected to have cancer. The thought of cancer in anyone is devastating and to see someone with a tremendous love of life fall prey to its effects can humble any man. "It was scary, but attitude was the thing that helped me the most," Gundry said. "The thing is you cannot give up. You have to believe that you will get better and have the attitude that you can defeat something."

The last year was certainly a trying one. Chemotherapy became a part of Barbara's life. "That part was really rough," she remembered. "It really made me sick at times and definitely was something I'm glad is over."

With the chemotherapy came the constant question of whether Barbara was getting better. It is a long and drawn-out process. Some might tell you that the chemotherapy is worse than the actual disease. After nearly a year of therapy, a second mass was found in Barbara and one day after Christmas, a second operation was ordered to clear that up.

"I went in the day after Christmas," Barbara remembered, "and I went through the operation and the tests to determine if there was more cancer. In the end, the news was terrific."

Although the second mass was found to be cancerous, further tests revealed that the cancer had been removed with no further spreading. Thus, after one year of near hell, Barbara Gundry received the clean bill of health from Sloan Kettering in New York and is now in the process of continuing her life.

"There's so much that I want to do," the personable young lady said. "I'd like to get back into shape and maybe try out for the track team. Just getting back into the routine of day to day life is something special. You take it for granted, but I'm glad to be a part of it."

Her former coaches and current friends are also ecstatic about the news. "Barbara handled this as she did an-athletic event," said Karen Fucello. "She would not let it beat her. That intensity, drive, that fire in her that would not let her quit. That's what makes her such a very special person."

"You couldn't ask for better news," proclaimed Rocco Collicci, the boys' basketball coach. "I mean, this is a girl who did everything by the book. She is a good student, she never did anything wrong. It's good to see a good person like that given the opportunity to life a healthy life."

Barbara's former track coach, Rich Ruffalo, kept a constant watch on her condition throughout the past year. "It's just good to see her back," Ruffalo said. "You couldn't ask for anything better of the girl."

While Ruffalo shared his concern for Barbara, the same concern was shared by Barbara for Ruffalo. "All that he is going through, with his blindness and everything, my problems don't seem to be anything next to his. Yet he took the time to ask and was always supportive. I can't thank him enough, along with the other people that were there."

The praise and sighs of relief can be heard throughout town. Thankfully, this story had a happy ending. Barbara Gundry is going to be just fine, thank you. To Barbara, keep running, there are a lot of miles out there for you to conquer. We are all grateful that you were able to defeat your illness and that you may continue to find your dreams. God bless you always.

The Belleville girls basketball team is flying high after an 0-3 start. Karen Fucello's troops have been very impressive over the last two weeks, winning five of their last six games and three straight. The team is receiving some good offensive performances from Donna Brooks, Desiree Johansen and Cheryl Marion. "The team is really attentive," Fucello said. "They are anxious to try new things and are picking up well after the slow start."

Despite losing some talented seniors from last year, Fucello is regrouping with a good blend of youth and experience. Brooks and Marion are seniors, Johansen and Sheri Phelps are juniors, Sherri Sorrentino is a junior and Judy Nehlia, a freshman has been good off the bench. Sophomore Angel Greco has looked good at a guard position and the team seems to have found unity behind their seniors.

Congratulations to the Belleville wrestling team on its continued success. The Bucs were 5-0 entering this weeks action and have been very impressive since the Bloomfield Holiday tournament.

Okay Super Bowl fans, this is your weekend. It's the time to pull down the shades, disconnect the telephones and make sure that plenty of beer and pizza are in the house. Just about every "expert" has given his or her assessment of the outcome, so this resident "expert" might as well guess wrong and join the club. The feeling here is that San Francisco plays better when the competition gets better. In their victories over the Giants and Chicago, the Niners were not very strong, but then again, they were playing teams that do not boast a very good offense and rely heavily on the defense.

A lesser team, playing less than 100 percent effective, could have lost to the Giants or Chicago, but the Niners are so good that they can win by scores of 21-10 and 23-0 and say they weren't very good. San Francisco is due for a big game. They have the offense to beat anyone, Miami included, and have the defense to stop anyone, Miami included.

Marino has not seen a secondary like the one he'll face on Sunday. Carlton Williamson, Dwight Hicks, Ronnie Lott and Eric Wright form the best secondary in professional football today. This isn't to say that Marino cannot score on them, but I don't think he will be able to penetrate the Niner defense as he did the Seattle and Pittsburgh defense. Don't underestimate the Niner offense, led by Montana, Solomon and Wendell Tyler. This team put up some intimidating statistics this season, the best of which was a 15-1 record, the finest record in pro football since the 14-0 Miami Dolphins of 1972. Our fearless prediction: San Francisco 31 Miami 27.

For this week's quiz, name the participants in Super Bowl XIV, the starting quarterbacks, the head coaches and the final score.

Wrestling Team Defeats Passaic And Montclair by Wide Margins

By Joe Picgaro

Montclair and Passaic, both statewide wrestling powers as recently as 10 years ago, showed how far their respective programs have plummeted as they were shellacked by Belleville's undefeated matmen.

The Mounties of Montclair were beaten in each individual match, their only team points coming via forfeit, in the 140-pound weight class. The final score was 61-6.

Passaic was humiliated even further, suffering through a 65-2 embarrassment. The only victory for Passaic came in the 169-pound weight class, a 9-7 decision for George Rosemond over the Blues' Sean Mulachy. Even that victory was tainted as Rosemond used the full two-minute injury time period to catch his breath. It was obvious to all who attended that Rosemond's only injury was a lack of physical conditioning.

To add insult to injury, Passaic's three team points were reduced by one-third as it was penalized for unsportsmanlike conduct toward referee Dick Matarante.

However, give credit where it is due. Although the program of the three schools is miles apart, the Blues did what a winning team should do. Of the 24 matches held, Belleville won 22. The stats appear more impressive considering 17 were decided by a fall, three by forfeit and one by a major decision. Additionally, in each of the 20 bouts actually wrestled, Belleville scored the first takedown of the match.

At 100 pounds, freshman Joe Cerreto improved his record to 10-1 with a 14-4 major decision versus Montclair and a pin over Passaic's John Retula.

Tan Buckley, wrestling at 107 pounds, padded his stats with a fall over Montclair's Ivan Schneider and a forfeit victory versus Passaic. He is now at 7-2 for the season and is noticeably getting better with each match.

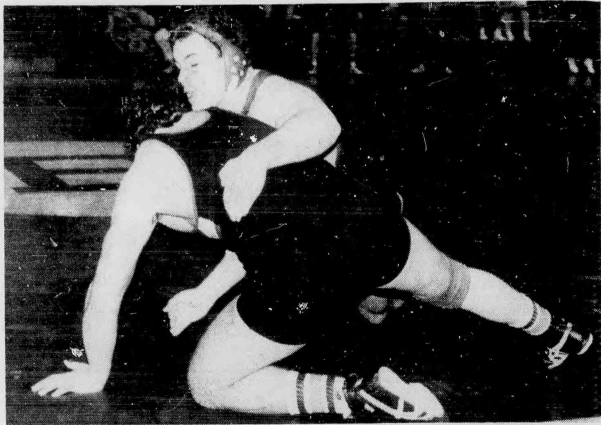

Next up for the Blues was the first half of Belleville's superstar tandem, Dom Cerreto. After pinning Eric Schneider of Montclair and winning a forfeit over Passaic, Cerreto's record for the season grew to a perfect 11-0. For his career, he is now 68-18 and has tied Chris Musmanno for the all-time lead on Belleville's varsity win list.

The other half Mike Gibbons, also improved his slate for the season to 11-0. "Iron Mike" pinned Nate Irving of Passaic after running up a score of 26-2 and received a forfeit victory against Montclair. His career record is now 54-6-1, and if he continues at his current pace, would also pass Musmanno by the end of the season. Gibbons is currently in sixth place for career victories.

Phil Zamloot made his first varsity appearance this year by pinning Passaic's 114-pound entry in only 30 seconds of the first period. Only a sophomore, Zamloot could possibly be a starter next year if he continues to improve at his present pace.

Another youngster, freshmen Mondo Nardone, won two easy matches last week by pinning both foes, running his season log to 4-2. Against Passaic, Mondo moved up to the 134-pound class. Currently at 4-3, Padula seems to be eliminating some early season mistakes and has been wrestling much tighter in recent matches.

Cam Rispoli also registered two falls at different weight classes, neither match getting out of the first period. Rispoli may be permanently stationed at 140 pounds depending on Luke Silletti's injury and the possible return of sophomore strongman Vince Caprigliano.

Tough Man on the Mat — Michael Gibbons, wrestling now with a season record of 11-0, continues toward a career high record. He is now in sixth place for career victories. The wrestling squad is led by Gibbons as well as the Cerreto brothers, Dom and Joe, and Ralph Zarro.

Subs 'N Stuff and Sylvestro's Lead Men's Volleyball League

Remaining in a tie for first place, Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market (4-1) turned back Mystery (3-2), 15-6, 15-13, in the fifth week of the Belleville Recreation Department's Men's Volleyball League.

Subs-N-Stuff (4-1) rebounded from the previous week as it defeated the Belleville Political and Social Club, 5-15, 15-5, 15-13.

In a very tight contest, M.D.A. and Co. stopped Mystery (3-2), 15-7, 16-14, to raise their record to 2-3.

Perfection Knife (1-4) fell short to De Lorenzo Construction (Heat) (3-2), 15-12, 15-12.

In the sixth week of action, Mystery lifted its record to 4-2 by stopping the Belleville Political and Social Club, 16-14, 13-15, 15-12.

Winning its fifth match of the season, Subs-N-Stuff turned back M.D.A. and Co., 15-2, 15-8.

Coming back to win its final two games, Perfection Knife nipped "The Slams," 13-15, 15-12, 15-12.

Vito Sylvestro's Garden Market continued its winning ways as it stormed De Lorenzo Co. (Heat), 15-6, 15-7.

Standings in the Men's Volleyball League are as follows:

Subs-N-Stuff	5-1
Vito Sylvestro's Mkt.	5-1
Mystery	4-2
De Lorenzo Co.	3-3
B.P.S.C.	3-3
M.D.A. & Co.	2-4
Perfection Knife	2-4
The Slams	0-6

Suburban Girls Open Season With a Victory

The Belleville Suburban Girls' Basketball team opened its 1985 campaign on a winning note as it defeated Verona last week, 27-12.

Stacey Johansen led the seventh-eighth grade Buccanettes with 15 points.

The Belleville squad will travel to Springfield today before returning to its home opener Saturday, Jan. 19 against Madison at 1:15 p.m. in the Belleville High School gym.

tangs hit quickly, building a 14-4 lead after one frame and extending the margin to 12 points (28-16) at intermission. The Clifton onslaught continued in the third quarter with a 20-12 advantage and culminated with an 18-14 fourth quarter victory. The final count of 66-42 left Collucci impressed with his NNJL rival. "They are a senior dominated team. They are good on the boards and have a good defense. They wore us out with their play."

Donald Washington led Belleville with 18 points. The junior forward has been playing very well lately and Collucci is optimistic about the young man's future.

The Passaic game was one sided from the start. The Indians jumped out to a 19-11 first quarter advantage and led, 36-23 at halftime. The second half was blowout city for the Indians, with the final count, 78-39. Ted Sochaski had 11 points for Belleville, sophomore Bob Hutchinson had ten and freshman Leon Puentes finished with eight.

In the St. Al's game, it was Belleville who took the early lead, 16-10 after one quarter. St. Al's came back with a 19-12 second quarter to lead, 29-28 at halftime. The second half saw the Jersey City based squad pull away, outscoring Belleville by six in the third and final frame to win by 13.

Washington led the way for Belleville again, finishing for 24 points. Leon Puentes finished with 13 and Ted Sochaski had five. "That was a game we could have won," remembered Collucci. "Donald Washington had 24 and could have scored 34. Ted Sochaski had five and could have had 15. If we had executed our inside game a little better, we could have won that game."

Teams Fight for Lead In Rec Basketball League

defeated team in the men's league, Rocky's Raiders fired by 16 points apiece from Gerald Sumpkins and the O'Keefe shot by Ten-Two 73-42. In the loss J. Thompson scored 15 points.

In week six in Division A, Roschud's Pub's comeback elli short to Rocky's Raiders, 76-72. Down by 14 points at halftime, Roschud's led by Steve Dondarski's 20 points and Al Amiano's 15 drew within a basket before Rocky's prevailed. The winners received 22 points from Ken Bodi and 18 from Fran O'Keefe.

Holding on to gain its second victory of the year, Ten-Two, sparked by Jack Seura with 15 points and Bill Nankervis with 11, nipped Allan's Place, 48-47. Jerry Digori's 15 points were wasted in the loss.

Greg Bevere's 24 points and 18 by Lester Johnson propelled Corbo, Marbach's Caterers to a 66-49 victory over RLM Graphics. The losers received 25 points from Bill Cook.

Crusing to its fifth victory of the year, Nu Plas, ignited by Tim Rannom (20 points) and T.K. Tripucka (18 points), stopped De Lorenzo Construction, 68-58 in Division A. Wayne Bubet poured in 25 points and Joe Troise added 13 for the losers.

Club 36 East remained in second place as it stopped Nutley Pub, 65-44. The winners were paced by Kim Fisher with 22 and Robert Johnson with 15. Nutley Pub's Tom Reilly scored 22 points.

John Laika hit for 17 points, Vinnie Chianca scored 16, Rich Garriga totaled 15 and Gary Bell added 14 to lead the Martucci Brothers to a 73-59 victory over For Pete's Sake. Game-high scoring honors went to Jack Hill with 26 points for the losers.

Newark Beverage Undeclared In Rec Men's Over 30 League

Leading the Way in Scoring — Donna Brooks (43) of the Belleville Girls' Basketball team takes a shot during a game against the Montclair Mounties. She leads the team in scoring with 10.3 points per game.

In the fourth week of action in the Belleville Recreation Department Men's Over-30 League the Belleville Knights, sparked by Fred Kurash (18 points) and Earl Wake (16 points), raised their record to 3-1 as they defeated Sally's Auto Parts, 55-46. Mike Pedalino pumped in 26 points in the loss.

Lifting its record to 3-1, Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market, led by Bob Byer's 19 points and Bruce Kaufman's 13, overwhelmed Megaro Memorial, 62-30.

Fired by Ernie Edwards' 15 points, Newark Beverage remained undefeated as it turned back Radio Shack 39-32. In the loss, Radio Shack received 12 points from Frank Carraccia and nine from J. Murphy.

Marty Higgins hit for 20 points and Mike Lillian added 16 as Tobler evened its record at 2-2 by stopping the Italian Fiorente Society 47-42. The losers were paced by George Abate with 17 points and Richie Dell Terza with 11.

Remaining undefeated through five games, Newark Beverage (paved by 18 points apiece from Paul Wruzel and Ernie Edwards) stopped the Italian Fiorente Society in overtime, 55-47. The losers were guided by Carl Corino with 14 points and George Abate with 13.

Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market (4-1), sparked by 13 points apiece by Alex Herrera and Bob Byers, cruised by the Belleville Knights (3-2), 50-38. In the loss, the Knights received 14 points by Ed Sagers and 12 from Fred Kurash.

Pat Megaro pumped in 18 points and teammate Bob Bruno added 11 to lead Megaro Memorial Home to a 44-38 triumph over Sally's Auto Parts. Doug Hollywood scored 13 and Mike Pedalino totaled 11 in the loss.

Tobler, fueled by Jim Nisovic's 16 points and Red Higgins' 13, exploded by Radio Shack, 44-32. Frank Carraccia scored nine points for the losers.

League standings are as follows:
Newark Beverage	5-0
Vito Sylvestro's Market	4-1
Tobler	3-2
Belleville Knights	3-2
Italian Fiorente Society	2-3
Megaro Memorial Home	2-3
Sally's Auto Parts	1-4
Radio Shack	0-5

A-A Club and Walker Lead Senior Boys' League

In week three of the Belleville Recreation Department's Senior Boys' Basketball League, Mario Puentes and Mike Silletti scored 16 points apiece and teammate Jim Demgard added 14 to lead the A-A Club (3-0) to a 64-21 rout of Village Video. The losers received six points apiece from Chris Fitch and Russ Zamlot.

Twenty-six points by Ray Ruggiero and 10 by John Vito enabled the latter to gain their first win, 51-38 over the Scrub Club. In the loss, A. El-Hew hit for 19 points and Anthony Labruzzo totalled 13.

ONES Gather For Luncheon

William Turner will be the featured speaker at the luncheon. Turner will discuss various issues concerning insurance needs for mature singles.

The public, especially single adults, are invited to attend the ONES luncheon. Contact Bethany Church at 338-8737 for more information. Rev. James D. Henkel is the pastor of Bethany United.

Money Voted Will Equip County Nutrition Site

The Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders voted for a money measure to finance the purchase of equipment for the Essex County nutrition site in Nutley as announced by Freeholder Arthur L. Clay.

The county legislator said the $4,095 will be used specifically to make purchases ranging from 10 tables to a coffee-maker.

The site, located in the Nutley Parks and Recreation building at 44 Park Ave., provides approximately 2500 meals a month under the auspices of the Suburban Essex Nutrition Project.

Library Trustees at Work — Belleville Public Library Trustees Mrs. Richard A. Shafter (l-r), Joseph T. Casale, and Dr. Frederick Long discuss the objectives for library improvements in 1985. Topping the list of priorities in the new year are a completely redesigned children's room and a fully carpeted and more comfortable reference room, featuring public access to an IBM PC computer.

Under institutional care at an early age in New Lisbon, according to Keenan, he was believed to be retarded as a youth. But he continued to educate himself and learned to communicate his thoughts and opinions. He came to the Belleville center 18 years ago to the month. He would have turned 50 Jan. 14.

"He was very aware of his 50th birthday during the last few weeks when he was very ill," Mrs. Jacqueline Wojtak, a Rutheford resident and Mr. Rundle's sister, recalled. "He would always ask me the date when he was in the hospital. I think turning 50 was a big milestone in his life, especially after all he had lived through."

Wojtak expressed her thanks to all those local residents who had aided and befriended Bill during recent years. Besides Wojtak, Mr. Rundle is survived by a brother, John, of Lake Hiawatha.

"I have a message which I always give to people," Mr. Rundle said during an OBC-TV interview aired in June, 1983. "Everyone has two choices in life. You can accept your life and its many conditions, or you can reject it and die. I made my decision to live a long time ago."

"Everybody has a dream and I'm no different," Mr. Rundle continued. "I'm a dreamer, but I try to have my dreams carry through and become real. With God's help, I've been able to accept my own condition and reach out to help other people."

He was a member of DIAL (Disabled Information Awareness and Living) of Clifton, the Friendly Visitors of Essex County and Community Mental Health of Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield. He was president of the Resident Council in the Belleville geriatric center and was editor of the institution's house organ "Dignity."

Mr. Rundle frequently called local congressmen about issues of the day, especially those which concerned disabled people.

"Bill loved to communicate with people," Keenan recalled. "He loved to become involved in issues and stir up interest. If things he said created controversy, he enjoyed it even more."

Keenan said he frequently sought out young people in need of counseling. Mr. Rundle also was a close associate of Bill Scott, the director of the Essex County Office on the Handicapped.

"I admired Bill for his spirit and persistence," Scott said two years ago. "His feelings symbolize what so many disabled people face every day. There aren't many with his drive and determination."

"When I first came to the center here in Belleville I was more dead than alive," Mr. Rundle recalled in June, 1983. "A doctor asked me why I always kept myself so active. I told him it was the best way to keep my mind off my problems." An interview with Mr. Rundle appeared in the June 9, 1983 issue of The Sun.

Mr. Rundle will be buried with his parents, the late William and Mary Rundle, in Fairmount Cemetery, Newark.

United Way Chairman Planning to Reach Goal

Robert Shapiro, the 1984-85 campaign chairman for United Way of Essex and West Hudson, announced he anticipates meeting the organization's $9.2 million goal in early 1985.

The 9.2 million figure will constitute the largest dollar amount ever raised by a United Way group in New Jersey. "We're currently at 77 percent of the goal and we plan to campaign vigorously until we reach 100 percent," Shapiro said.

Library Offers Videocassettes For Small Fee

The following collection of circulating videocassettes will be available at the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave. until Feb. 8; American Graffiti, Aresenic and Old Lace, Black Stallion, Diner, Dracula, 48 hours, Elephant Man, Gandhi, Great Muppet Caper, The Horse Soldiers, The In-Laws, Norma Rae, Picture Book Parade, Rear Window, Rebel Without a Cause, The Right Stuff, Scrooge, and Take the Money and Run.

To take out videocassettes, one must have a Belleville Library card. The fee for circulation is $1 per night and $2 on weekends. There are charges for overdue. For further information or booking, call the library's information desk at 759-9200.

"The movement of firms out of our area, cutbacks among many of those remaining, mergers and other developments within the business community have made our fund-raising task a more challenging one in recent years," Shapiro continued. "But the enthusiastic support of the remaining businesses has helped us continue raising record dollar amounts."

"Last year, some six out of every 10 residents of Essex and West Hudson received services from United Way beneficiary agencies," he added. "The successful completion of our campaign will assure the continued operation of those vital programs."

Under the leadership of Shapiro, a senior vice president for Mutual Benefit Life, an all volunteer force assumed the responsibility for United Way's annual fund drive.

Student Makes Mark In Group's History

Previous funds have been raised for arthritis, hemophilia and leukemia. According to SGO adviser, Mrs. Patricia Pughless, the state association pledged and raised $50,000 for last year's charitable organization.

Hartmann, who this year is vice president of the SGO, is also an honor student, basketball and track manager, Key Club and Future Physicians Club member and flag twirler. She is also a candidate for Governor's School which is a five-week summer program which involves students with the operations of the state's government.

How does she manage to do all these things and still maintain her academic excellence in school? "It's not easy," she said. "But it all seems to work out."

With the drive and ambition she possesses, Hartmann is sure to successfully tackle even more challenging and rewarding endeavors in the future.

By virtue of the above stated writ of Execution, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by Public Auction, in SHERIFF'S OFFICE, Essex County Courts Building in Newark, on Tuesday, the 12th day of February next, at one thirty P.M. (Prevaling Time), the following:
