Kindergarten teacher has resigned

At last week's meeting, the Belleville Board of Education accepted the resignation of Estelle Kugel Siegel, School 10 kindergarten teacher who will retire after this school year. Siegel has been teaching in the Belleville school system since March of 1960.

Post office jeep to be purchased

The school board also approved the $1,500 purchase of a 1973 AMC Jeep from the United States Post Office, Kearny depot, which will be used for school board business.

Robbery suspects are caught

Two robbery suspects were arrested by Belleville police last Friday only minutes after they allegedly attacked a woman on Washington Street.

According to Police Chief George Lister, a woman was robbed by two black men in their 20's after she got out of her parked car. The woman was knocked down in a struggle for her pocketbook and briefcase and the men fled south on Washington Street.

She chased her assailants to William Street where she hailed down a car and was taken to police headquarters. Within five minutes, Detectives Tortorello and Rotonda apprehended one male. Officers Mailot and Romandetto apprehended the other shortly after. As a result of the arrest, some credentials were found on the men which led to the discovery of a stolen car. Both men who were identified, were detained and charged with robbery and stolen property.

Teenage girl struck by automobile

A 14-year old girl was struck by a car at the intersection of Joralemon Street and Washington Avenue last Friday morning. She suffered minor injuries and was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center for treatment.

The driver was summoned for failure to yield the right of way in the process of making a left hand turn.

Certificates awarded — Retired police officer Harold O'Reilly received a thank you certificate from Police Chief George Lister at an awards night ceremony last week for alerting police to a burglary in progress. Police officers Joseph Simonnetti and John Mailot received certificates of appreciation from Lister for helping save lives at a fire last summer.

Top cops are given department awards

Awards were presented to Belleville police officers Joseph Simonnetti, John Mailot, Thomas Rossi, Robert Klein, Leonard Burrell and Kevin Smith at the Belleville Department of Public Safety's annual commendation awards ceremonies last week. Belleville resident Harold O'Reilly also received a commendation.

"This is a happy occasion and we should be proud to have people like this in our town," said Police Chief George Lister who presented the residents with the awards.

Officers Simonnetti and Mailot were commended for their work during an apartment fire Aug. 3.

Simonnetti and Mailot were assigned with other officers to a fire at 580 Washington Ave. All officers were able to get people from the first and second floor of the burning building.

Simonnetti and Mailot were "finally able to get to the third floor, from which they carried and led three people including children to safety."

Police officers Rossi and Klein were patrolling near Franklin Street near the Newark Line Jan. 5, 1984. They were approached by a woman who told them another woman was being held up across the street. Lister said the officers knew at the time the area across the street was over the Newark line.

However, they checked and found three men trying to hold up a woman. Officers gave chase and arrested the three for possession of weapons and drugs.

Officers Burrell and Smith were detailed to Rutgers and Corlandis streets on a report that a woman was being beaten by a man. When Burrell and Smith arrived, they found nothing.

But the officers got out of their patrol car and found a woman's handbag in the street. Burrell and Smith heard a scream. Investigating, they found a man holding a woman to the ground. The suspect was taken into custody and charged with aggravated sexual assault and possession of drugs.

O'Reilly was commended for taking prompt action during a burglary.

O'Reilly saw two men acting suspicious near a King Street address. Being a retired police officer and having served Belleville for 29 years, O'Reilly took action and phoned the police department. He stayed on the phone and the two men were arrested for burglary.

Firefighters, cops get 3-year contract

Last minute requests from Belleville firemen for the Board of Commissioners to reopen contract talks were turned down by the board last week.

The town commissioners approved a three-year salary agreement for firemen and policemen Jan. 22.

Ken Taras, president of Belleville's Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association (FMBA Local 29), said the firemen were looking for equality with policemen "down the line." The contract approved by Belleville commissioners will make town firemen salaries 6 to 10 percent less than policemen's salaries, he said.

"I feel an inequity exists," said Taras. However, Taras told the commissioners, "regardless of the outcome of this appeal, we will continue to give Belleville the best service." About 40 firemen attended last week's commissioners meeting to ask for renegotiations.

FMBA 29 negotiated from October to December over the contract.

The union negotiated with a committee which included Mayor Michael Marotti and Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph DiRuggiero. Policemen's Benevolent Association (PBA Local 28) negotiated over a contract during the same time FMBA members did.

"We don't feel the fire department is any less important than the police department," said DiRuggiero. He said the contract went through a bargaining period and was agreed upon by FMBA negotiators.

DiRuggiero said if the FMBA contract negotiations were reopened, it could be a precedent for policemen and other town employees to request contract negotiations.

Under the contract, the police chief would be paid $60,000 and the fire chief would be paid $48,958. Taras said traditionally, salaries for similar ranks in police and fire departments varied by about $400.

Firemen complained about

"inequities" in other ranks also. The deputy fire chief will receive $37,606 this year while the deputy police chief will receive $42,317. However, firemen are starting at slightly more than a policeman. Starting salary for a firman is $18,038. Starting salary for a policeman is $17,826.

Taras had said the new contract leaves a $2,000 a year gap between third-year firefighters and third-year patrolmen. He said policemen have three pay steps to climb while new firefighters have five.

DiRuggiero has recommended Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti and fellow commissioners look at ordinances prohibiting street games in neighboring communities and consider possible effectiveness in Belleville.

DiRuggiero's recommendation came after a Wilber Street resident asked the Belleville commissioners to initiate an ordinance prohibiting children from playing on Belleville streets.

Susan Cafone of Wilber Street said there are 23 children who live on her street. Fourteen of these children play on the street.

"Our main concern is the safety of the kids," said Cafone, who attended last week's commissioners' meeting with some of her neighbors.

She said children would not be seen if they are sitting or running between parked cars on the street.

Cafone said there have also been problems with children playing on lawns and burning leaves that have been raked. "An ordinance is the only solution I can think of," she said.

A Wilber Street man who said his children are two of the 14 who play on Wilber Street, asked commissioners where neighborhood children can play. He said his children will continue to play where they want to until, and if, an ordinance is passed.

DiRuggiero said Nutley and Bloomfield have ordinances that can be checked.

Rev. G. Diez dies in Newark Abbey

The Rev. Genadius Diez of the Order of St. Benedict died January 22 in the Newark Abbey. Father Diez had assisted six days a week over the past 30 years at St. Peter's Church in Belleville.

Father Diez, who was born Sept. 24, 1898 in the village of San Roman de los Caballeros, Spain, received his primary education in the village school and his secondary in the monastery of El Pueyo in the province of Huesca, Aragon, and in the abbey of Montserrat.

On Dec. 8, 1916, Father Diez made his vows as a Benedictine monk, the simple monastic vows of Chastity, Poverty, and Obedience. In March of 1917 he came to the United States and studied at St. Vincent Archabbey in Latrobe, Pa.

Father Diez was ordained a priest June 25, 1922, in the Archabbey. After his ordination, he exercised his priestly ministry as temporary assistant in the Most Holy Name Parish, Troy Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa.

In April of 1923 Father Diez left Pittsburgh for Vancouver, British Columbia, where he embarked on the steamship "Empress of Russia" for the Far East. He arrived in Manila, Philippines, in June where he began to teach various subjects in San Beda College, Manila. In addition to teaching, he enrolled in education courses at the Pontifical University of Santo Tomas where he earned a master's degree in education.

In June of 1930 Father Diez joined the faculty of the Catholic University of Peking, China, and taught history and ethics for three years. He returned to St. Vincent Archabbey in the summer of 1933 and taught in the prep school and college there for 14 years. He also did pastoral work in several parishes on weekends, including St. Mary's Church, Uniontown, Pa., where he assisted every weekend for 12 years.

He returned to Spain for two years and then back to the United States where he joined the faculty of St. Benedict's Prep School, Newark, and taught history and Latin until 1967.

Matters in Brief

School board reviews contract

The school board has renewed the contract for the school year 1985-86 with the Essex County Educational Services Commission and the Board of Education. This contract enables the board to provide mandated services to non-public school children who reside in Belleville. This resolution appears before the board annually.

Trustees settle on coaches

The following coaches for the 1984-85 school year have also been approved by the school board. They are Anthony DeAquino, assistant softball coach; Donald Roll, assistant softball coach; Daniel Borgo, assistant baseball coach and Russell Pagano, assistant track coach. They will receive $1,370 for the school year.

Several hurt in accidents

A number of car accidents occurred last week. Two cars were involved in an accident on Franklin Street and Naples Avenue last Wednesday afternoon. Two were injured and taken to Clara Maass Medical Center for treatment. A tow truck was required at the scene.

An accident at the intersection of Mill Street and Union Avenue last Monday required an ambulance and tow truck. The injured was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center.

A two car accident at the intersection of Overlook and Linden avenues last Sunday night injured one.

Bomb threat at middle school

A bomb threat was called into the Belleville Middle School at 10:29 a.m. last Friday. Students were evacuated and the building was checked. Police found the building safe.

Tax changes don't have to mystify

Flat tax, fair tax, modified flat tax — the words leap from the headlines, and we wonder just how the action being discussed will affect our personal tax picture. At this point, we do not know what final changes in this direction will be implemented by the President and Congress, but we do know of some changes already approved which take effect in 1985.

One major change is that exemptions, zero bracket amounts and tax brackets will be indexed — that is, adjusted for inflation. The inflation factor for 1984 was 4.08%. Therefore, each exemption will be worth $1041.00 in 1985, up from $1000.00 in 1984. The zero bracket amounts will be $2390.00 for a single person or head of household, $3540.00 for married filing jointly, and $1770.00 for married filing separately, up from $2300.00, $3400.00 and $1700.00 respectively.

Divorce and alimony rules have been substantially revised. Alimony need no longer be periodic in order to be tax deductible to the payer and taxable to the recipient. A person who receives alimony can consider it compensation for purposes of determining his or her IRA contribution. If one spouse transfers property to the other as part of a divorce settlement, the transaction is considered a gift, not a sale. No gift tax liability is incurred and no gain or loss is recognized.

If there are children involved, the parent given custody is automatically entitled to claim the exemptions unless he or she waives the right to claim it. Even if the exemption is waived, the custodial parent may claim a child care credit if that applies. Either parent may claim any medical expenses they paid for their child.

Taxpayers who do not itemize may now deduct 50% of their charitable contributions for 1985 with no top limit. Anyone who uses his car for charitable purposes may take a deduction of 12 cents a mile, up from 9 cents.

The news is not all good for persons who take deductions for business expenses. Adequate, contemporaneous records must be kept in order for a deduction for business expenses to be taken. If property is used partly for business and partly for personal reasons and the percentage of business use drops below what it was the first year the property was put in service, then a portion of investment credit and depreciation will have to be recaptured (taxed) in the later year. There will be a "lookback" rule which limits capital gains taken this year on business property if there were business losses in any of the 5 preceding years beginning January 1, 1982.

The earned income credit is being adjusted in 1985 so that it is available to taxpayers who have earnings and adjusted gross income of up to $11,000.00 in 1985 from $10,000.00 in 1984. Furthermore, according to Bert Tobia, District Manager for H&R Block, a single person may be eligible for head of household filing status if he or she provided a home for qualifying family member for more than six months of the year, instead of the entire year required under the old rules.

Smile, Belleville... — 11 year old Billy Bruce of Belleville shows off his great smile to Dr. Vincent Castellano, Chairman of Children's Dental Health Month, and Dr. Peter Liliois, Belleville chairman. The event, sponsored by the Essex County Dental Society, takes place in February.

STOP HACKING AROUND

Some cough syrups have an ingredient called "diethylmorphine", which is a cough suppressant that is sometimes effective in stopping a hacking, aggravating cough. However, this ingredient can cause drowsiness and an upset stomach. Another ingredient sometimes found in cough syrups is "guaiacolin." It does not actually stop the cough reflex. It is most useful for congestion in the chest from thick mucus. This is because it breaks up the mucus and allows one to bring it up when coughing. If one has both a hacking cough and congestion, however, choose a medication with both ingredients. In any case, if a cough persists more than three days, consult a doctor.

Prescription, as well as over the counter medications for coughs and other problems related to a cold are available at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1908, 759-1956. ## Prayer for Today

O Lord, I praise You this morning and sing songs of joy because of the peace, the love, and the hope that You have given me.

I look expectantly to the new dreams You want me to dream, the new goals You want me to reach, and the new mountains You want me to climb.

As I scale the mountain trail, I pray that You will refresh me with unexpected meadows along the way, that You will shelter me when I am beset by storms. And that You will give me the grace to look for the gold mines in the detours.

I have within me the capacity to be a gem, a jewel, and a light to those who are struggling around me.

So help me Lord, to discover the possibilities that you have put in each new day.

Help me to see the face that needs Your smile, open my ears to the cries of our hurting world, and give me the courage to touch the lives that so desperately need You.

I praise You, and I trust you, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer. Amen.

Public Safety Parity

Recently, township commissioners turned down firemen's request to reopen contract discussions in order to preserve parity with the police department. The township commissioners rejected the request.

The facts are simple — the firemen concluded an employment contract with the township providing for raises over a three-year period which subsequently turned out to be less than raises negotiated for the police department. As a result, a long-standing parity between the two departments was shattered — and thus, begins the demoralization of the fire department.

The damage done to the Belleville Fire Department's morale is incalculable. It may well be permanent. The new contract will be paying firemen six to ten percent less than policemen will be receiving. Maybe, this is the time when the township fathers should be seeking a third title for both departments — in the economically popular "public safety officer". A public safety officer performs in the dual role of policeman-fireman, thus permitting the township to get more bang for the buck.

A public safety officer title is not popular with either department. We would think that two skills are better than one — the title should pay more than the policeman's or fireman's salary.

At any rate, it is regrettable that negotiators for the Township of Belleville knowingly negotiated contracts that destroyed parity. The consequences of lower fire department morale is a problem for the future to which township fathers must address themselves.

Deceptive Advertising

Kellogg Cereal Company has practiced deceptive advertising. Is there anyone among us who doesn't believe that the "Special K" cereal doesn't have less calories than the other Kellogg packed cereals? Well, if you read the fine print, you will make a startling discovery. Corn Pops (ready-sweetened popped-up corn) has less calories than Special K. Raisin Bran has less calories than Special K. Rice Krispies and Frosted Flakes have the same calories as Special K. Kellogg's 40 percent Bran Flakes has less calories than Special K. Now, where the deception enters is to be found in the weight for each look-alike box. Special K comes in 5/8 ounce packages representing 70 calories. Kellogg's 40 percent Bran Flakes is packaged in the same size box but weighs one ounce and represents 90 calories. Frosted Flakes are packaged in one-ounce boxes, representing 110 calories. Corn Pops are packaged in 3/4-ounce boxes with a value of 80 calories — and so the count goes.

For decades, we were under the impression that Special K was indeed the lowest calorie cereal available. Recently, upon reading the fine print, we were stunned to learn otherwise. It is time the big boys stopped their deceptive advertising.

Scouting

Achieving rank in the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts is a goal that every good Scout seeks. Recently, an eighth grader from Mesa, Arizona visited the Florida Disneyland, and as luck would have it, because he was the 300,000th customer, he won a new Buick SENTRY. In accepting the award, the youngster was asked by the press when would he expect to use his new toy.

His response was "I have to wait until I get my Eagle Scout award. It's a family rule that we must get our Eagle before we can drive."

It seems like a good family idea to make the achievement of a Scout award an occasion for a family reward. In this case, the 13-year-old has additional reason to be a Scout achiever.

Vander Zwan sticks to his guns in print

To the editor:

The Jan. 17 edition of The Belleville Times carried the usual "Golden Comments"...Jim Golden took advantage of that opportunity to refute (he called them lies), some facts and figures I presented to the readers of The Belleville Times in a Letter to the Editor, published Dec. 12, 1984.

Apparently Jim Golden does not agree with my opinion that these benefits are a generous and most welcome supplement to other retirement income. And I don't mind that, it is his prerogative.

While there are also individuals who do not have the benefit of other retirement income besides their Social Security (if even that), they are by far in the minority. However, Jim Golden invariably attempts to convey the impression that they are the rule rather than the exception, and continually uses them as an example, explaining as he did in the course of his comments that: "after paying rent or taxes, paying for food, clothing, gas and electric bills, telephone, newspapers, etc. along with doctor bills, doesn't leave much out of a $400 monthly Social Security check"... (incidentally, the AVERAGE individual Social Security currently is $500).

In truth, most retirees are rather in a class with Jim Golden who, I am sure, is also receiving a well deserved pension, his as earned during his productive years as a busdriver for Public Service.

Long ago I came to the conclusion that Jim Golden is not capable of putting a sentence together which would make some sense...Jim Golden himself proves my point...With your indulgence I am going to quote word for word and letter for letter the "lead in" sentence of his "Golden" Comments of the Jan. 17 issue, wherein he proceeds to accuse me of misrepresentation of the facts...

Here goes: "The most unpardonable sin of journalism is misrepresentation or distortion of fact, many unfilled with the fourth state arrogate the liberty of abusing this sacred obligated trust" (I am sorry for having to let you go through this again). While that is really enough proof of his incompetence, here is more... "The flagrant delicto manifestation of this lofty principal is often found in newspaper 'Letters to the Editor' which...publishes such letters with the recognition that the letter writer is not bound by the established hard, fact rules of journalistic rigidity"... Is Jim Golden implying that he himself (not being a Letter to the Editor writer) is "bound by the established hard, fact rules of journalistic rigidity" and his product is it??? But let Jim continue: "We (Jim Golden and who else...certainly not the editor and/or publisher of the Times) find that the recent published letter...constitutes a misleading epistle (my letter) fraught with discrepancies and replete with what appear to be flagrant errors in the computation of payroll taxes as he alluded to 1985 paychecks being $400 — less than those in 1984."

Jim Golden has also proven to me that he cannot read either or comprehend "every day" English as practiced by me in my letter.

For the benefit of those who may not have read my letter and also to refresh the memory of everyone else, (the letter appeared over a month ago), here follows word for word that paragraph containing what I said regarding 1985 paychecks: "We do well to remember that the financial burden to keep Social Security going is tremendous. Currently, wage earning Americans are obliged to cough up some $181 billion to cover our checks. Millions of these fine people will look at their Jan. 1985 monthly paycheck and find that it is some $400 less than the checks they were getting the latter part of 1984. And for those with two paychecks, the difference could be as much as $800 a month less to spend for themselves and their families, and all this only for Social Security taxes!"

My statement that "millions" will find their paycheck reduced by $400 as compared with the latter part of 1984 is due to the following: maximum Social Security taxes for a wage earner in 1985 is $2,791.80. This is deducted from paychecks at the rate of 7.05 percent. There are indeed millions earning between $50,000 and $60,000 a year (taken as an example), therefore kicking in at the rate of some $400 a month. It is therefore easy to figure that many wage earners are "fully paid up" long before the year is out (in my example in about seven months). For those in the "upper brackets" it is much earlier of course. At that point they will start bringing home their pay, not reduced by Social Security taxes, only to experience "rat3 shock" again in Jan. of the following year. The only individuals this phenomenon does not apply to are those earning less than $39,600 a year, of which there are still millions.

Next Jim Golden takes exception to the headline over my letter, which stated: Senior Citizens' Benefits Continue to Increase," stating that this "would be the biggest of all lies..." While I did not author the headline, it appeared compliments of the editor of The Belleville Times, nevertheless is 100 percent true. This is what happened to our benefits on Jan. 1, 1985...While our Medicare premium increased by 90 cents a month, Social Security increased by 3.5 percent. Taking the average monthly check of $500 for an individual, it means a net increase of $17.50 less the 90 cents is $16.60! Jim Golden can't add and subtract either it seems!

In the course of his tirade, he also mentions that I "omitted the increased deductible in a skilled nursing facility for the 21st through the 100th day from $44.50 to $50 a day." Why should I have mentioned this, when the increased deductible was fully picked up without increases in premium for the Supplemental Medical Insurance as offered through A.A.R.P. (American Association of Retired Persons) for $19.50 for an individual, and not $24.50 as Jim would have you believe!!! Also this plan even pays $100 per day from the 101st through the 365th day!!! Jim tells you that "few can afford the cost of this supplemental insurance coverage..." That statement does not square with the tremendous number of Medicare covered seniors enrolled with the A.A.R.P.

Finally, Mr. Golden, since you by inuendo seem to consider yourself "a cut above" the ordinary "Letter to the Editor" writer, even though you cannot write proper English nor apparently read and comprehend same, I should want to know, how you can be allowed by the editor and publisher of The Belleville Times to twist my authentic facts, figures and presentation around and have them published to serve your purpose, which I (not "we") believe is a flagrant attempt to defame my established reputation as a financial counselor and advisor, especially when these services involve integration and coordination with Social Security Benefits.

Sincerely,
Cornelis P. Vander Zwan

Letters to the Editor

Remembering the heroic

To the editor:

As the 40th anniversary of the invasion of Iwo Jima nears on Feb. 19 — let us recall the valor and sacrifice of a truly great New Jersey hero, United States Marine Corps Sgt. John Basilone of Raritan. The son of an Italian immigrant, Basilone was one of 10 children. His father, born near Naples, came to the United States at an early age as so many immigrants did and became the operator of a one-man tailor shop near Raritan where he married and settled down.

John Basilone enlisted in the Army for three years at the age of 18. During service in the Philippines, he received the nickname Manila John. At this time he won a Golden Gloves Championship as a light-heavyweight. Upon discharge, Basilone returned home and drove a laundry truck. He enlisted in the Marine Corps just before our entry into World War II and was very inspirational and popular to those who served with him.

In 1942 on Guadalcanal his actions contributed to the defeat of an entire Japanese regiment. He was in charge of two sections of heavy machine guns. Under almost continuous attack for three days with no sleep or food, fighting against terrific odds, he helped to successfully defend Lunga Ridge blocking Japanese access to the vital Henderson Airfield.

During the battle, Basilone repaired machine guns, crossed hostile lines for badly-needed ammunition and held his position as others fell until replacements arrived. He killed at least 38 Japanese soldiers.

For the uncommon valor, the 26-year-old Basilone was the first enlisted Marine in World War II awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. He returned home to a hero's welcome. A parade in his hometown attracted 20,000 people.

John Basilone then toured 10 states on a successful War Bond drive. He had certainly fought his share of the war. Yet, remembering his buddies still in the Pacific Theater, he chose to return to battle alongside them.

Landing on Iwo Jima with the first assault wave, Basilone, under intense fire, destroyed a blockhouse and its Japanese defenders. He also guided a trapped Marine tank safely through a mine field.

Later that day Basilone was killed by a mortar shell. He was posthumously awarded the Navy Cross for valor on Iwo Jima.

Let us never forget John Basilone whose memory serves as an inspiration for patriotism and a reminder of the sacrifices made to preserve our precious freedom. The Axis powers with their master race philosophy lacked respect for the United States as a foe.

Little did they realize that given a cause, America would rally to the challenge of evil. Our gas station attendants, clerks, mechanics, soda jerks, truck drivers, students, lawyers, actors, athletes, etc. would develop into the best soldiers in the world and defeat the Axis powers who had years of advanced war preparation and standing armies.

Americans at home rationed goods and worked for the war effort. Our industries produced at record levels the best equipment and supplies for the allies in the war effort.

It is my hope that high school students are made aware of John Basilone, a great World War II hero from New Jersey. He was a young man who, like scores of others, chose to serve his country during that time of need. As we recognize his memory, let us also salute our veterans of that less-publicized Pacific Theater who faced a unique enemy.

The Japanese, due to religious fanaticism, rarely surrendered. The island encounters were literally a fight to the death. God triumphed over evil with the help of God and Americans like John Basilone.

Sincerely,
Joseph Monti

Suggests writing to your local congressmen

To the editor:

I wrote a similar letter to the House of Representatives to protest President Reagan's proposal to freeze Social Security Cost of Living Increases and against taxing our Municipal Bonds.

All seniors and taxpayers should do so.

They have no right to keep cutting and punishing the most vulnerable and defenseless, and cater to the rich like they always do. They can lower the budget deficit so many other ways like cutting out the fat in the administration, the big corporations that Reagan allows them to raise our rates so often, the doctors, etc. It is shameful, to say the least.

I'm sure Reagan will allow the politicians in Congress to get their increases every year, in spite of their high salaries just so they go along with his proposals.

I do hope the people realize how foolish and unwise it was to vote for Ronald Reagan again, and put him in for a second term. Now they'll just have to grin and bear whatever he tries to dish out to us, or else fight it.

Write to your Representatives Frank Lautenberg and Bill Bradley, House of Representatives, Washington D.C. (today, do not delay).

Sincerely,
Stella Drazich
Belleville, NJ

Osteoporosis is not inevitable with good habits

By Thomas Cavalieri, D.O.
Everyone is familiar with the term "little old lady." Some aging women and men actually seem to shrink in stature. Many develop a so-called "dowager's hump," a spine deformity which contributes to their gnomish appearance. Thinning, and a 12 to 15 percent reduction in bone mass during the aging process, is called osteoporosis. Loss of height, spinal deformity, pain and tendency to fractures are all symptoms of the disorder. While osteoporosis afflicts the elderly, thinning and weakening of bones actually begins as early as age 30. Preventive measures should be taken before actual changes in the bones take place. Osteoporosis is not inevitable, if young adults adopt good health habits early.

As we get older, our digestive system's ability to absorb calcium from the foods we eat becomes less efficient. Loss of estrogen compounds the problem in older women.

A well-balanced diet, rich in calcium, phosphorus and protein, is vital in adults. Calcium is needed by most of our body cells. If our bloodstream contains insufficient calcium to meet the needs of the cells, it is taken from the bones where it is stored. The bones can then become brittle and fragile and lose strength and thickness.

Women's bones, thinner to begin with, make females particularly susceptible to osteoporosis. On the other hand, black people, whose bone mass is much heavier than whites, rarely develop osteoporosis, even though they lose the same percentage of bone mass. After menopause, estrogen production in women is dramatically reduced, so their ability to absorb calcium is significantly changed.

While preventive measures were once thought ineffective, now they are strongly recommended from early adulthood to prevent osteoporosis in middle age and old age. A well-balanced diet should be supplemented with calcium (800 to 1,400 milligrams of calcium are needed each day. Those dieting for weight loss should be particularly careful to insure adequate calcium supplies.

Calcium-rich foods include milk, cheese, yogurt, sardines, salmon, oysters, and dark green, leafy vegetables. Although calcium can be taken in tablet form, many experts report this is not as good as absorbing calcium gradually throughout the day from natural foods.

Tobacco, alcohol, salt and caffeine are shown to deplete the body of calcium. If you smoke, stop. Drink very moderately, or not at all. Switch to decaffeinated coffee and soft drinks, and cut down on salt.

A sensible exercise program can actually build bone size and increase their density, preventing osteoporosis or slowing its process. Have your doctor prescribe an exercise regime for you to keep your bones in peak condition. Some women benefit by estrogen therapy for osteoporosis, but reports associating it with endometrial cancer limit use. Calcium, Vitamin D and fluoride are also used to treat osteoporosis. Changing habits now will improve your chances of escaping osteoporosis later.

(Editor's Note: Dr. Cavalieri is clinical assistant professor of medicine at the School of Osteopathic Medicine of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, and chairman of the school's geriatric task force.)

Area College Conducts Early Admissions at BHS

Seventeen seniors in Belleville High School can rest a little easier because an area of uncertainty in their lives has been removed. The area of uncertainty was whether or not they would be accepted by a college for next year.

The indecision was removed by Ms. Maria Entzinger-Moreno, a representative from the Office of Admissions, William Paterson College, who conducted on-site admissions interviews at Belleville High School in December. Entzinger-Moreno commented favorably on the high quality of the students from Belleville High School who applied.

William Paterson's on-site admissions program is an innovative approach to the college admissions process, moving the interviews to the high school where the students' records and people who work with the students are readily available.

Buccaneers are nearly perfect

Twelve points, just six baskets. That's all that separated the Belleville boys basketball team from a perfect week of action. The Buccaneers defeated Clifton by two points in overtime, but finished on the short end of a 69-66 count versus Paramus and a 55-34 game against Bloomfield. Belleville entered this week's competition with a 2-15 record.

The Bucs were in Paterson last Tuesday to face Eastside and will host Ridgewood tomorrow evening, starting at 8 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Bucs will host Montclair starting at 4 p.m.

The week started with a three point setback to Paramus. In this contest, Belleville jumped out to a 20-16 first quarter lead and held the four point lead at intermission, 36-32.

The third quarter syndrome hit once more, as Paramus outscored the Bucs, 20-14, in the third quarter to assume a 52-50 lead entering the fourth quarter.

"We had our chances to win the game," head coach Rocco Colucci said. "The difference was at the foul line. They (Paramus) were excellent, especially down the stretch."

Paramus was 13 of 18 from the foul line, which helped to offset a brilliant 22 point performance by sophomore Bob Hutchinson of Belleville. Hutchinson has been improving steadily since his insertion to the starting lineup and the young man has a good future in store.

Senior Mike Sochaski, whom Colucci is very happy with, scored twelve points, freshman Leon Puentes also had twelve and junior Donald Washington finished with ten to aid the Belleville cause.

Last Thursday, the Bucs won a thriller over Clifton, avenging an earlier 22 point loss to the Mustangs at Clifton. In this game, the two teams were deadlocked at twelve after one quarter, but Belleville outscored the Mustangs by seven, 16-9, to take a 28-21 halftime advantage.

The two teams battled to a ten all draw in the third quarter, but Clifton came out smoking in the final frame, making up all seven points and sending the contest into overtime with the score tied at 46.

The overtime featured some clutch shooting by Puentes, who atoned himself after missing a critical shot in a two point loss to West Morris back in December. "He remembered that game," Colucci said of Puentes. "Leon had a pair of foul shots in the West Morris game and he missed them. I told him that the opportunity would come up to hit some critical foul shots and he came through."

Puentes hit a jumper and finished the scoring with two foul shots to ice a Belleville victory. The final score was 54-52, with the freshman scoring six of the eight Belleville points.

In the game, Mike Sochaski scored twelve points, Puentes finished with twelve and freshman Ted Sochaski had ten. "I can't say enough about the play of Mike (Sochaski)," said Colucci. "He's giving us a solid game every time out. His work under the board and his key shooting has been a big help to this team."

Against Bloomfield, Colucci was on the sidelines, confined to bed with a bad flu virus. Thus, assistant coach Don Roll assumed the reins, and his team responded with a good performance. The Bucs led the Bengals by two after one quarter, 12-10, and the game was tied at 22 at halftime.

Belleville played a surprisingly strong third quarter to pull ahead by two points, 36-34, but Bloomfield, behind the play of Mike (Sochaski), behind the play of 6-10 center Ala Abdelnaby, (27 points) took control in the final eight minutes to outscore Belleville, 19-8, and win by nine points, 53-44.

"Ala was the difference," Roll said afterwards. "They hit their foul shots (13 of 15 in the fourth quarter alone) and Ala was tough underneath. It was one of those games that we could have won."

Once again, Mike Sochaski led the way for Belleville, this time with 11 points. Hutchinson scored ten, Ted Sochaski finished with eight, Nick Sotomayer, a senior, scored seven, Puentes had four and Donald Washington, who played in foul trouble, finished with two points.

Colucci hopes to return to the bench this week as his team faces more rigid competition. While the coach is excited about his future ballclubs, it's the present which has his immediate attention.

Reaching for the Hoop — Junior Donald Washington (24) reaches for two points during the Clifton game. Washington has been impressive on the boards and is capable of some good offense games. Belleville battles Ridgewood tomorrow evening at 8.

Tosato will field a girls and boys team this weekend when his troops travel to Rockland for the invitational. All tolled, his troops appear to be in good shape for the outdoor season, which commences practice in early March.

Let It Fly — Senior Mike Sochaski (40), who has been playing excellent basketball for the boys' hoopers, takes a jumpshot during the Clifton game last week. The senior finished with 12 points as the Bucs won in overtime, 54-52.

Going for a Pin — Senior Ralph Zarro almost has his opponent pinned during last Wednesday's match against Ridgewood. Zarro, who wrestles in the 147-pound weight class, improved his record to 15-2.

Lady Buccaneers win two of three

Strong defense and some good individual performances propelled the Belleville girls basketball team to win two victories last week, with the only loss coming to a strong Bloomfield squad last Friday evening. On the season, Belleville stands at 7-7.

The Lady Bucs hosted Eastside on Tuesday and will be in Ridgewood tomorrow evening for an 8 p.m. start. Next Tuesday, the girls travel to Montclair for a 7:30 p.m. start.

The week started with an impressive 55-25 win over Paramus, in Paramus. Belleville started the game a little sluggish, but came on strong in the second half. "It takes us a little while to get started offensively," said head coach Karen Fucello. "They (Paramus) were 0-9 coming in, so the team wasn't as fired up as they would be as Nutley or Clifton. The team picked up in the second half."

The first quarter ended in a 4-4 deadlock, but Belleville began to pull away with an 18-10 second quarter. Holding a 22-14 halftime advantage, the girls pulled away in the second half, outscoring the host 13-5 in the third frame and 20-6 in the final quarter to win by 30 points.

Sophomore Angel Greco was the leader offensively for Belleville. The spunky point guard scored a career high 23 points, hitting on eleven field goals. Senior Donna Brooks finished with 11, Desiree

Johansen, a junior, closed with eight, senior Cheryl Marion had seven, freshman Judy Nehlia scored four and junior Sherri Sorrentino closed with a field goal for two points.

Two nights later, Belleville was on the road again, this time against NNJL rival Clifton. There was a large contingent of Clifton supporters on hand, rooting on local favorite Dori Breen, who was just 12 points shy of the 1,000 point career mark.

Breen, who averages nearly 20 points an outing, had her difficulties with the tough Belleville defense but scored the magical points in the third quarter to the delight of the Mustang crowd. The game was stopped for seven minutes and the crowd gave her a loud and enthusiastic ovation. Belleville, taking a page from the Morris Knolls playbook, presented Breen with a bouquet of flowers on her accomplishment. You might remember that last March, when Jennifer Apicella scored her 3,000 career point, the Morris Knolls team presented the All American with a bouquet. It was a class gesture and makes sports that much more enjoyable.

In any event, Belleville defied the Clifton crowd by rallying in the second half behind the clutch scoring of Johansen, who finished with 17 points. The junior was deadly in the late stages of the third and fourth quarters, hitting critical baskets that kept the Mustangs at bay.

Belleville led, 12-10 after one quarter, but found themselves on the short end of a 22-16 count late in the first half. The Lady Bucs rallied to tie the game at halftime and came out strong in the third quarter. With Johansen and Brooks doing the offensive work, Belleville outscored Clifton, 10-6 and led, 32-28 entering the final quarter.

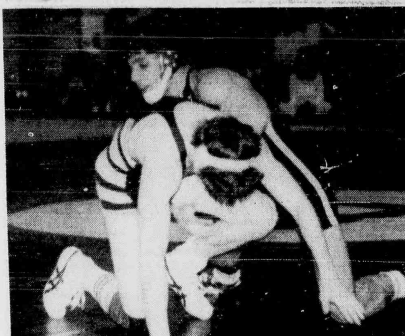

Although Clifton came as close as a field goal, the Lady Bucs would not relinquish the lead and at the final buzzer, Belleville was a 44-39 winner.

In addition to Johansen, Brooks scored 14 points, Marion closed with eight, Greco, who was in foul trouble throughout the game, had three and Sheri Phelps closed the scoring with two points. Breen led the Clifton scorers with 16 points.

The following evening, noticeably flat Belleville team traveled to Bloomfield and lost by a 56-38 count. "Three night games in four nights caught up to us," Fucello said. "They are draining and are much more difficult to come back from. Bloomfield played a nice game and we just weren't into it."

The Lady Bengals jumped out to an 18-5 first quarter lead which ballooned to 29-16 at intermission. The score was 51-26 after three frames before Belleville made a small dent in the lead in the fourth quarter.

Brooks was high scorer for Belleville with 14 points, Johansen and Greco finished with seven each, Phelps had five, Marion, four and Sorrentino, one. For Bloomfield, Mary Jane Skinner was the leading scorer with 22 points.

In Control — Buc wrestler Vin Padula (129 lbs.) has the upper against his opponent during last Wednesday's night match against Ridgewood. The Bucs won by a large margin and have improved their record to 23 victories over the past two years.

Kareem, Move Over — Mike Sochaski (40) does his Kareem Abdul-Jabbar hook shot imitation during the victory over Clifton last week at BHS. The Bucs took a 2-15 record into Eastside last Tuesday and will battle Montclair next Tuesday at BHS, starting at 4 p.m.

Driving in snow is serious

Snow is beautiful to see, but not when left on a motor vehicle about to take to the road, says Clifford W. Snedeker, Director of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

Just two years ago, a truck driver was killed on the Tappan Zee Bridge over the Hudson River when snow blew off the roof of another truck. The snow blinded the driver, he lost control of his vehicle and it crashed through the railing into the river, Snedeker reminded motorists.

"You should never start out on a trip, even a short one around the corner to the store, with snow remaining on your vehicle," Snedeker said. "It is a hazard that can kill you or someone else."

Snow left on the hood of the car can blow back onto the windshield. This can both startle and blind the driver and cause a serious accident.

Snow left on the roof can slip down over the rear window obstructing the driver's view. It can also blow off into the faces of other drivers causing an even more hazardous situation, such as the one on the Tappan Zee Bridge two years ago, Snedeker said.

The most dangerous driver on the road during bad weather is the lazy one who only clears a small peephole on the windshield just in front of him. "You can't avoid hazards you can't see. Visibility is difficult during the winter and you need all the help you can get. So make sure you clear the entire windshield and all of the other windows so you have unobstructed vision in all directions," Snedeker said. "You never know in which direction a problem will come."

While you are working on the snow and ice, run your heater and defroster so the windows inside the car won't suddenly fog up when you finally take to the road.

Road spatter can cut visibility down to almost nothing. Use your wipers and washer often. Your outside lights and mirrors are not self-cleaning, so stop and give them a wipe from time to time.

If you must drive in fog or during a heavy snowfall, keep your lights on and set at low beam. New Jersey requires the use of headlights whenever visibility is less than 500 feet.

Once you have all the snow and ice removed from the car and are ready to take to the road, remember that driving on ice and snow calls for a special brand of skill and caution, Snedeker said.

Here are a few suggestions on how to stay out of accidents and keep from "spinning your wheels" for the rest of the winter:

- Leave early, expect any trip to take twice as long as normal.

- Plan your route to avoid steep grades and lightly-travelled roads where deep drifts have a chance to form.

- Increase following distance. It can take from three to ten times further to stop on winter-slick pavements than on a dry road. Obviously, that means you must allow a much greater gap between yourself and the car ahead.
- Stop gradually by pumping your brakes and using your transmission to slow the car. Never try to slam on your brakes on ice or snow.

- Remember that an icy road is twice as slippery when the temperature is just at the freezing point than when it is at zero, because there is water on top of the ice.

- Wet surfaces on bridges and overpasses freeze before and remain frozen longer than other road surfaces. Shaded areas, like underpasses, can also hold treacherous ice patches.

If you do get stuck while travelling in a winter storm, the following items carried in your vehicle will be invaluable should an emergency develop: tire chains, small snow shovel, extra clothing, traction mats, ice scraper, booster cables, warning devices such as flare or reflective triangles, small bag of abrasive material such as sand, salt or kitty litter, snow brush, flashlight, cloth or roll of paper towels, and blanket.

To minimize the hazards associated with winter driving, both the vehicle and the driver must be prepared in advance, Snedeker said.

Minish is lauded by Peter Shapiro

County Executive Peter Shapiro honored U.S. Rep. Joseph G. Minish (D-11th Dist.) with a proclamation in his honor on the Congressman's last day in office.

Shapiro proclaimed Monday, Dec. 31, 1984 as "Joseph G. Minish Day in Essex County," during a brief ceremony at the Hall of Records, Newark.

"Joe Minish has represented the people of the 11th Congressional District with distinction for 22 years," Shapiro said. "He has a record of constituent service that is without par and his legislative accomplishments are many and significant. I'm pleased to add my voice to those who have saluted Joe Minish as an example of what public service is all about."

Shapiro cited Minish's sponsorship of the conquest of cancer bill which has made $1.2 billion available for cancer research and his sponsorship of the mass transit bill of 1974 which made more than $1.5 billion in mass transit available to New Jersey as among Minish's most significant accomplishments in Congress.

Shapiro also praised him for his role in the development of credit unions for American servicemen, obtaining Section 8 housing subsidies for senior citizen housing and hearings he chaired which led to the federal government's Operation Greenback program.

Shapiro said the Essex County government was pleased to have worked with Congressman Minish to secure a new post office for the township of Livingston. "The county government was able to make a county-owned building available as the new post office but it took Joe Minish's untiring efforts in lobbying postal and government authorities to make the new post office a reality," Shapiro said.

Commended — Former U.S. Representative Joseph G. Minish (left) received commendations from Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro (right) and Freeholder president Jerome Greco (center) Dec. 31, the Congressman's last day in office. Shapiro and Greco praised Minish for his 22 years of service to the people of the 11th Congressional District, especially his role in obtaining a new post office for Livingston.

Fortunato bill is proposed

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato (Dem-30th District) has introduced legislation that would reimburse specific municipalities in the state, including Belleville, for 100 percent of the cost of medical and surgical treatment provided on or after July 1, 1984.

Fortunato said municipalities in Essex and Bergen counties would save more than $3.1 million. Under the state law, these municipalities must pay for expenditures on behalf of recipients of General Assistance.

"This bill would not increase local, county or state taxes in any way but would be financed by revenues already collected by the state and which will continue to be collected," said Fortunato. "My bill, A-2967, would save money for the municipalities like Belleville. Local property owners would benefit from the savings and the needy would receive proper medical and surgical care."

Fortunato asked local residents to write or to call him at his district office in Montclair at 744-5441 if they wanted to comment on his bill.

Boy Scouts celebrate 75th anniversary

Belleville scouts and leaders will be celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during February. Cub scout pack Blue & Gold Dinners, scout troop Courts of Honor and Parents' Nights for over 700 units within the Essex Council, B.S.A. will be held during the month, especially during "Scout Week," Feb. 3-9.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Malo

Q. Mrs. K. asks: "What is fluoride and how does it work?"

A. Fluoride is a chemical which in some areas is naturally in the drinking water. Fluoride is like calcium in its chemical structure so sometimes it takes the place of calcium in molecules. When teeth are formed they are mostly made up of molecules containing calcium. If the child has fluoride either naturally or in their vitamins the fluoride is substituted for some of the calcium as the tooth grows. Fluoride is incorporated into the tooth making it part calcium and part fluoride.

Teeth that have fluoride in their makeup are stronger chemically and decay cannot penetrate as quickly. Therefore when plaque lays on the teeth it is harder for the bacteria to eat into the enamel.

Professional Speakers Visit Cosmetology Classes

The Cosmetology Department at Belleville High School is constantly featuring the most innovative trends in the world of beauty and fashion in its course of study. Just one example of this is the presentation of the latest hair-coloring techniques and skin care and makeup artistry by one of the industry's most popular companies, Sebastian, Inc. of Fairlawn.

During the month of November, the cosmetology classes were fortunate to receive first-hand information and instructions from Joe Attanasio of Sebastian on the latest methods of adding "clear" color highlights along with conditioning treatments to alleviate hair problems and highlight the hair — sometimes in one step. Many high-fashion colors and techniques were demonstrated.

The students were able to learn and apply these techniques under the skillful supervision of the highly trained professionals.

Makeup and skin care were also a highlight of the month and the students were especially delighted with the "make-overs" and skin care techniques which were demonstrated by Suzanne Page also of Sebastian, Inc.

Sebastian, Inc. is a 10-year-old company, which re-educates its staff and brings experience and learning to our school to help keep the cosmetology program as one of the finest and most updated programs available in Vocational Education.

BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY
RESOLVED, BY THE PLANNING BOARD OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF ESSEX, STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
WHEREAS, an application was made by F & P Associates, Inc. 04784 to add a retail store to a lot on which there is a fair food store. An approval for a similar retail store was granted in approximately 1979 or 1980 but only a foundation was built.

WHEREAS, across the street from a proposed lot is a restaurant which received permission in 1978 to expand to 200 seats contained on a verbal parking agreement, signed in testimony under oath, between applicant and restaurant owner.
WHEREAS, the 1980 approval for a retail operation was conditioned on execution of a written agreement for parking between restaurant and applicant.
WHEREAS, the terms of the written agreement were breached by the restaurant in 1981 and applicant notified restaurant to discontinue parking and restaurant continues to park with applicant's knowledge.
WHEREAS, in 1981, applicant gave Channel Lumber an easement to park on some property owned by restaurant and leased by the retail owner.
WHEREAS, testimony indicates that restaurant has expanded to 425 seats, apparently without zoning or planning board approval.
