Man charged with possession

A 30-year-old Newark man was charged last week with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana and an open container of alcohol while driving a car.

He was released on his own recognizance pending a March 6 court date.

Cash stolen from service station

Police arrested a 22-year-old Bloomfield man 4:40 p.m. last Friday and charged him with allegedly stealing $203 worth of cash receipts from Ricky's Shell on Belleville Avenue Feb. 4.

He was released on $500 bail pending a February court date.

Shoplifters at K-Mart charged

Two Newark women were arrested by police 5:56 p.m. last Wednesday at the K-Mart store on Jorammon Street and charged with shoplifting.

The women, ages 31 and 29, were allegedly seen by K-Mart security concealing merchandise. Items totaling $118.20 were reportedly found in their possession.

They were released pending a March 21 court date.

West New York man arrested

Police arrested a 24-year-old West New York man at the Pathmark on Washington Avenue on shoplifting charges last Thursday afternoon.

He was charged with allegedly taking two cartons of cigarettes. A court date is set for March 21.

Renewal of dog licenses overdue

Residents can renew their dog licenses at the tax office at Town Hall, Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m., or mail a check and the license to Town Hall, 152 Washington ave. for the convenience of residents, the tax office is open Monday nights, 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

Matters in Brief

Franklin Avenue bomb threat

Police were called to a Franklin Avenue apartment building last Thursday afternoon on a bomb threat.

Officers McGinn, Mann and Alves and Sgt. Oese reported to the building, which was checked and found to be safe.

'Adam' father is going to speak

John Walsh from the National Association for Missing and Exploited Children will be guest speaker at a presentation sponsored by the School 5 Parent-Teacher's Association 7:30 p.m., March 14 at the Belleville High School.

Walsh, father of a 6-year-old boy whose disappearance and murder was dramatized in the television movie, "Adam," became involved with the association as a result of his own experience.

Man attempts abduction of boy

Police are investigating an attempted abduction of a 9-year-old boy 5:49 p.m. last Thursday.

According to a police report, one white male approached the boy at the intersection of Washington and Overlook avenues saying he was taking him to the police station. When they reached a brown van, being driven by another white male, the boy ran off unharmed.

Redevelopment hearing slated

A public hearing on the redevelopment of Washington Avenue will be held 7 p.m., March 19. A few weeks ago, commissioners received recommendations from Grace Harris, consultant to the township's planning board, on what steps should be taken. They are now in the process of studying the report, but according to Mayor Michael Marotti, the public hearing gives citizens the chance to voice their opinions of the project.

Blighted areas include Washington Avenue from Mill to Williams streets, east to the railroad and west to the property fronting Washington Avenue.

Commissioners have not decided whether the hearing will take place at the high school or the board of education complex on Cortlandt Street.

Drug use increasing says county official

By Michelle Jeannotte

Drug use and abuse among young people in society is increasing at an alarming rate. Who is to blame?

According to Joseph Pariso of the Essex County Prosecutor's Office, "There is a widespread tendency on all our parts to blame the other guy. However, we are all part of this problem — government, family, teachers, and students."

Pariso, who has been a member of the Juvenile Drug Deterrent Unit for two-and-a-half years, lectures to parents, students and service groups about the dangers of drugs and alcohol. The Essex County Prosecutor's Office, under the supervision of George Schneider, established the unit with that type of program in mind. Pariso, however, has been lecturing at Belleville schools for the past 10 years.

"The first important thing is parent education," said Pariso, who is also the author of a booklet, "Not My Kid." "Parents should be educated themselves so they can educate their children."

Pariso said the biggest problem right now is alcohol.

"If a guy starts drinking at 21, he's got a 13 percent chance of being an alcoholic," he said. "A kid who starts at 13 has an 80 percent chance of becoming an alcoholic."

Pariso said the drinking pat-

Judge says toxic waste site owner may sue for damages

By Michelle Jeannotte

A Superior court judge ruled last week that the president of the Research Organic-Inorganic Chemical Corp. of Belleville may file another suit against the township for damages allegedly done to the property while in its custody.

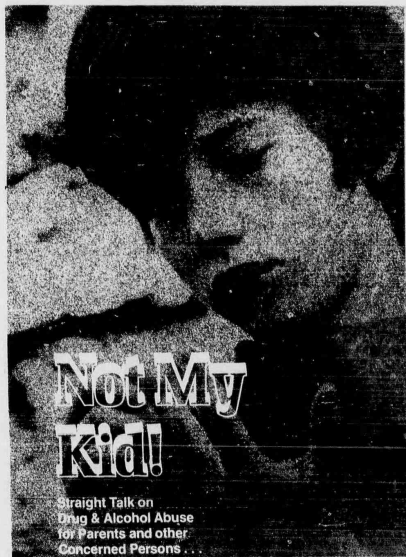

Judge Murray J. Simon decided that Marianne Pratter may sue the township a second time, claiming that damages to the Main Street plant were the result of the township's negligence during its custodial period.

The township gained control of the plant in May 1983 after leaking toxic substances were discovered. Fumes from the leaks resulted in the closing of School 9 and loss of business to some merchants in the Valley area. Many residents also complained about burning eyes and skin irritations.

Last December, Judge Simon denied Pratter permission to regain control of the plant which manufactured food flavorings. He turned control of the plant over to the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).

In the suit, Pratter claims her

Police and firefighter layoffs discussed with commissioners

By Michelle Jeannotte

Citing a lack of public safety funds and a problem with flood waters, Assemblyman Stephen Aduabato, D-30, pointed out solutions to these local problems as he spoke before the board of commissioners last week.

Referring to public safety funds, Aduabato reported that Gov. Kean recently vetoed a bill which would have added $65,000 in state aid for safety programs.

"Without this aid, Belleville is faced with the possibility of laying off police or fire personnel, or possibly reducing other vital services," he said.

Aduabato said these monies could provide approximately four police and firefighters.

Last year Belleville fought for a grant of emergency police and fire aid and was the only community in the state to get that money back, he said.

On an environmental matter, Aduabato spoke about a flood tunnel issue which would divert water from the central Passaic River to the lower basin area at the Clifton-Nutley border.

Making a plea to commissioners, he stressed a continuance of opposition to the Passaic River flood tunnel.

"My concern, and I know it's shared by many of you, is that the tunnel will divert flooding, not just water, to the Belleville and Nutley area," he said.

The 13-and-a-half mile tunnel, proposed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, would divert water from the central river area to the lower basin at the Clifton-Nutley border alleviating flooding in the areas surrounding Wayne.

Aduabato said he is working on alternatives to this project, including a state buyout of homes along the flood zone. He said the buyout bill is currently awaiting a vote in the assembly.

He also discussed the problem of dirty water which has plagued Belleville and surrounding communities. Aduabato, along with State Sen. Carmen Orechio, D-30, and Assemblyman Buddy Fortugno, D-30, have introduced legislation to deal with the problem.

Aduabato said that Gov. Kean signed a bill known as the Privatization Bill which would allow Newark to enter into a contract with a private company to help build and operate a filtration plant in the Pequannock Water System.

He said, however, the governor vetoed an $8-million-grant bill which would have been funded for the initial work on the filtration plant.

Speaking About the Issues — Assemblyman Stephen Aduabato, D-30, recently spoke before the board of commissioners about some of the issues facing Belleville. He stressed opposition to the flood tunnel project which would divert water from the central Passaic River area to the lower basin at the Nutley-Clifton border. Flooding in the Belleville area may be a result, he said.

Aduabato also expressed his concern about other issues, including the redevelopment of Washington Avenue, saying he is prepared to help in any way possible.

"One area I am looking into is whether or not the recently passed Urban Development Corporation Act can provide some help to Belleville," he said.

Aduabato said he can be contacted at his office, 260 Liberty St., Bloomfield, or by calling 743-6235.

Belleville Library has books about getting back to basics

If you are interested in becoming a better manager in business, or learning more about the field of management, the Belleville Public Library has many books in the field. "Back to Basics Management," the "Last Craft of Leadership" by Matthew J. Culligan, Suzanne Deakins, and Arthur H. Young, "Facts on File, 1983," is an explanation of the difference between business administration and business management and offers concise and comprehensive guidelines for developing and refining primary leadership skills. Including creative listening, management change, managing motivation and time, managing delegation, and managerial goal setting. In "Communicating: How to Organize Meetings and Presentation" by Joseph A. Callanan, Franklin Watts, 1984 the author in the first half of the book shows the reader from A to Z how to organize meetings from one-to-one discussions to company-wide conferences, while the second half of the book covers practical advice to analyze, prepare, and deliver compelling speeches.

"Creating Excellence: Managing Corporate Culture, Strategy, and Change in the New Age" by Craig H. Hickman and Michael A. Silva New American Library, 1984, proposes a rational, yet visionary blend of both approaches for a winning strategy driven culture that can take you and your company into the 21st century with results, while "Further Up the Organization" by Robert Townsend, Knoff, 1984, looks at how American companies are doing now, casts an admonishing glance at the things we have done wrong, and offers a host of fresh irreverent commonsensical advice.

"Leadership: The Key To Management Success" by Lester Bittel, Franklin Watts, 1984

covers definitions of leadership, qualities of effective leaders, existing leadership within an organization, diagnosing different leadership situations, mastering of fundamental leadership techniques, how to apply appropriate leadership techniques, choosing a personal leadership style and techniques for projecting a leadership style. In "Management for the 1980s," by William F. Christopher, American Management Association, 1980, the author identifies and deals with danger signs that can mean that your business is not operating at the most efficient level. Christopher offers suggestions and guidelines for implementing change, motivating and working with employees, and identifying and developing growth opportunities for yourself and the company. In "Moral and Motivation: How To Measure Morale and Increase Productivity" by Eugene Bengt and John Hickey, Franklin Watts, 1984, part I is a straightforward system for surveying the contours of workplace morale, while part II deals with keys to motivation.

These are only a few management titles that you may want to request on your next library visit. For a further listing, consult the library's information desk and the card catalog.

Bellevue Court, new condominiums located on the site of the former Parillo's Restaurant, are expected to be ready for occupancy by the end of March, according to Govel Realtors, a full-service real estate organization that is the exclusive sales representative for the condominiums.

"We predict a complete sell-out," said Herb Greenhalgh, vice president of Govel. "At present, 30 percent of the project is now under reservation and each day we receive more inquiries."

The units are priced between $87,900 and $94,900 and have features such as balconies or patios; wall-to-wall carpeting; air-conditioning; brand-name appliances, and energy efficient construction. Approximately half of the units also offer game rooms.

The condominiums are at the intersection of Harrison, Brighton and Bellevue Avenues.

Sciatica Hip and Leg Pain

Sciatica is a frequently misunderstood and under-rated disease condition. Actually sciatica is a painful inflammation of the sciatic nerve which supplies the tissues of the thigh, lower leg and foot. It is most often caused by a pinching of one or more spinal nerve roots between spinal vertebrae of the lower back.

The sciatic nerve is the large nerve in the body—about as big around as the thumb. Interference or irritation along its course can cause crippling pain. Sciatica pain may be tearing and sharp, or it may be a numbness, burning, tingling, prickling, or crawling sensation. Foot and leg pain along with thigh tingling or numbness may be the only symptoms. It is almost impossible to find a comfortable position.

Sciatica most often starts with a long period of intermittent mild-to-moderate pain. I've had a weak back for years," is a common complaint among sciatica victims.

Rarely do misaligned vertebrae correct themselves spontaneously and permanently. The answer lies in the experience, training, and skill of a doctor of chiropractic. Only rarely is it necessary for a patient to undergo surgery. The chiropractor uses no pain-killing drugs so when pain is relieved, the patient can be sure the doctor is working on the underlying cause and not just the pain symptoms. If you have a weak back or sciatic nerve pain seek chiropractic care immediately. It may be the only treatment that will help.

Getting a fair shake

It is sometimes hard for a student to imagine, but teachers also go back into the classroom on occasion to learn new ways of doing things. Such was the case when four elementary school teachers and one principal recently attended a five-day workshop which promoted excellence in education.

"We are very proud to have had Belleville represented in the Academy's first session," said Asst. School Supt. Michael Lally, who received word in November that Belleville was one of 60 districts in the state that were invited to participate.

Sponsored by the state Department of Education, the Academy for the Advancement of Teaching and Management, is the brainchild of Gov. Kean. He envisioned a place where successful teaching techniques could be taught by experts.

"It was the most educational workshop I have ever attended," said Marilyn Hawthorne, School 7 principal who attended along with four teachers.

According to those involved, the seminar consisted of lectures and practical ap-

Look at the options

Hartford of Connecticut canceled its insurance with the township recently, leaving officials with so little time to react that municipal vehicles are now going to be covered by a state plan. It is more expensive.

Insurance is one of those subjects that few people like to talk about. On a personal level it means gambling with an insurance company that for so many dollars a year you will or won't be injured or killed. People tend to put off such discussion.

On a public level, insurance companies fall within an area usually reserved by lawyers and accountants. That is, that when officials need insurance coverage, it is not required that bids be received.

Instead, officials may award an insurance contract to an agency operated by a friend, at one end of the spectrum, or may invite several companies to furnish quotes, which is at the other end of the scale. What happens in actual practice, however, is often somewhere in between.

In Belleville's case, no mat-

Looking back in the past

By Maureen Langan
One year ago...
Howard Halpern, owner of Towne Deli, was sworn-in as president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce as the chamber's annual officer's installation held at Naniina's in the Park Restaurant. Halpern, a member of the chamber since 1975, replaced Jave Tarantino.

Congressman Joseph Minish, who had served 21 years in the U.S. House of Representatives, was "ordered" to plications, followed by backup assignments. The participants were therefore exposed to textbook theory, its application to real-life situations, and an opportunity to work out problems on their own.

Officials are so pleased with the renewed enthusiasm of the teachers and principals who took part in the workshop that plans are already underway for the district to apply again. Officials would like more local educators to have a chance to attend the seminar.

The public often has an unrealistic attitude about school teachers, putting too much unfair emphasis on the protection of tenure and the basic 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. hours. What is often overlooked are the long hours working on lesson plans and homework papers, and the prospect of getting little appreciation.

We are not only optimistic about the future of education in Belleville because its officials seek out such programs for its teachers, but also because there are teachers here who want to participate. As long as the teachers care about their jobs, the children will be getting a fair shake at a decent education.

ter how the coverage was obtained, it would have made no difference in the cancellation. According to Hartford's official explanation, it canceled because the township paid $89,500 last year for coverage, while the company paid out more than $100,000 in claims.

It has no bearing on the matter as a whole to discuss why Hartford had to pay for so many claims in Belleville. Editor Michelle Jeannotte explained in a page one feature in last week's Belleville Times how the community had a run of bad luck in 1984.

What does matter is that a mechanism be instituted so that coverage in the future cannot be interrupted by an insurance company without more notice to local officials. We think Belleville's premium is large enough that it can require such consideration.

In the meantime, it might be wise for Belleville to discuss self insurance. It works in some places, while it has been rejected in others. In view of what has just happened, it would make sense to explore other options.

give up towns such as Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Montclair, and instead extend his 11th District into heavily-dominated Republican area.

A proposal to establish an alcoholic rehabilitation clinic in Belleville was presented to commissioners for review at their caucus meeting. Officials of Mountsinai Hospital in Montclair described plans to use two floors of the Essex County Geriatrics Center to house the rehabilitation program presently located at the hospital.

A response to all the bickering

To the editor:

In response to all the bickering concerning the future of Washington Avenue, between the BRA and town officials, the taxpayers are confused as to what is really at stake here on this issue.

The BRA contends that Washington Avenue should be a bright area thus making land available for investors for new business. What they all fail to realize, however, is that investors don't need a good business site to be vacated to realize its potential.

Perfect example: when Westinghouse closed their plant on the avenue, Pathmark, Howard's Bank, didn't wait for the town to demolish the land, they bulldozed it and built at their own expense. McDonald's Corp. followed suit. DeWitt Savings needed more parking. They purchased the property across the street from them, demolished the building at their own expense. Provident Bank also invested on Washington Avenue at their own expense. Belleville Motel demolished several homes in order to build this beautiful motel and restaurant, enhancing the town of Belleville. K-Mart Inc. spent thousands of dollars, also demolished several buildings at no expense to taxpayers.

Listed below and following suit are: Grand Union, Flowerama, Charles Jewelers, Honda Motorcycles, Fleming Equipment, Karls Appliances, Mead Ford, Leonard Chevrolet, Pro Hardware, Belleville Building Supplies, Newark Lighting, Bigelow Motors, Oldsmobile Supreme, Branchbrook Manor, R & S Auto, Pariso Furniture, Irvine Cozzarelli Funeral Home, Rossmore Drugs and Loverde's Tobacco.

In addition to the above listed we have five major banks currently thriving on Washington Avenue, which is a good indicator for business to follow. All of these businesses listed have expanded and have survived Washington Avenue in expanding their business with no expense to the taxpayer.

In talking to many businessmen in town, I find that they seem very happy as things are. Some of the officials who are trying to demolish Washington Avenue will have you believe that big business will come in while in the meantime we'll be losing the present ratables with no guarantee that business will follow and also what type, if any.

Unless they (BRA & town officials) have some guarantees and contracts with up front money (better known as seed money), it would be unwise for the Town of Belleville to go into this costly project without any assurance of what the future might bring. True, there seems to be a few dilapidated properties on Washington Avenue that can be easily remedied.

*Belleville has (or should have) an ordinance in town compelling landlords to upgrade their property. In business, we do not give up current ratables unless there's reassurance. "A bird in the hand is worth 2 in the bush." Forget federal funding because that's not free. Washington Avenue has been a scapegoat for any politician who wants to run for office, promising to do something about Washington Avenue and after being elected, completely forgetting about it.

Let's keep the politicians out of business because they have no business being in business.

Jackie Rega
214 Belleville Ave.

Letters to the Editor

Special thanks to the parents

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people and organizations who helped to make the ECJWL (Recreation) Wrestling Tournament Feb. 10 at Belleville High School a success. Fortunately, with all the assistance we had, everything ran smoothly.

Special thanks is given to the Wrestling Parents Association for their help in the gym set-up and clean-up, as well as for the fine food concession they ran; to the high school administration and custodial staff for the use of the facilities; to the parents and coaches of the recreation wrestlers for their help in the set-up and clean-up details; to the Belleville Police Department for providing the auxiliary police to help with crowd control and first aid; and, of course, to the many volunteer workers who helped keep time, score and run the results from the mats to the head table.

Needless to say, a great deal of work and planning goes into an event like this and I am grateful for their assistance, as it would not have been possible to accomplish everything without it.

Golden Comments

by James R. Golden

Senior citizens heed the news in the daily newspapers, study the words of Senator Dole and President Reagan... study them deeply. They're fixing to set up a "means test" for Social Security benefits or we'll have missed our guess.

Not satisfied that they have set a threshold over which recipients must pay taxes on half of their social security benefits, which were supposed to have been tax free, now they are looking into fixing a limit over which there will be no more cost-of-living adjustments... apparently the Republicans never heard of discrimination nor breach of contract when it comes to observing sacred covenants. Why in hell don't the Congress cut out armament cost overruns, and reduce their own high salaries and cut out the costly junkies. Every time Reagan flies to California it costs the taxpayers a million dollars. Let's forget about "Star Wars" and get down to earth.

The leader of the state Industrial Union Security Council, President Archer Cole has wired congressional representatives from New Jersey, as well as Speaker of the House "Tip" O'Neill and Senate Majority Leader Dole to hold firm against changes in the Social Security program.

He said he was responding to an "avalanche" of telephone calls from union members following a statement last week by President Reagan that he would consider freezing cost-of-living adjustment payments for Social Security recipients should a bipartisan majority in the Congress call for such action.

"The American people are looking to the Congress to convince the President that he live up to his campaign promise that Social Security and cost-of-living adjustments would be off-limits in any budget reduction program," Cole said.

The President had pointed out that the Social Security budget was separate and apart from the federal budget and that it was self-sustaining because it is funded from Social Security taxes withheld from employees wages, therefore, having no affect upon the federal budget.

The union leader maintained that Reagan's campaign assurances that the federal deficit would not top the $200 billion mark and would be steeply reduced by a pick-up in the economy have failed to materialize.

"Now that the election is over, people are learning some bitter truth: That the deficit will be more than $210 billion, while economic indicators show an actual downturn in the economy, which will not ease the budget crunch," Mr. Cole said, claiming he was "deeply disturbed" by indications that the White House and some members of Congress are "once again engaging in a mad dash to place the burden on the people and the states." He called for cuts in "waste and profiteering" in the defense budget, and closing individual and corporate tax loopholes to close the deficit gap.

Read some fancy double-talk from Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole's statement in which he acknowledged he was sensitive about studies showing that millions of Americans would become poverty statistics if the Social Security COLA, or cost-of-living adjustment, is frozen. He said several options are under study.

"You can make certain nobody is dragged below the poverty line," he said. "You don't have to take it away from everyone, or you don't have to take it all away. But if you do nothing, then how do you treat the next group differently?"

That reduced to plain talk amounts to a "means test" where anyone above a threshold poverty level won't qualify for a cost-of-living adjustment increase which is clearly discriminatory emasculation and destruction of the Social Security system that those now receiving Social Security benefits entered into in a binding contract that the Republicans are attempting to by-pass and ignore...which is unprincipled and unethical.

Don't sit back "old timers" get those letters out to the Congress people, let them know how you feel about his atrocious Republican planned "rip-off."

Local dentists using Dental Health Month to offer advice

Once upon a time, dentists wore necklaces of extracted teeth to advertise their profession. Times have changed, though, and today's dentist would frown upon such a practice. "We've got plenty of other work to keep us busy. We do extractions only when they're absolutely necessary," stated Dr. Peter Lilioia, Belleville chairman for Children's Dental Health Month, an annual dental prevention campaign that gets underway each February.

Sponsored by the Essex County Dental Society, the aim of Children's Dental Health Month is to make children, and adults as well, aware of good dental health techniques and of recent discoveries in the dental field.

What do today's dentists do? They prevent dental disease, restore teeth, perform root canal therapy, replace missing teeth, do gum surgery, straighten teeth, improve the appearance of teeth, and deal with their patients' special problems.

"It's important to get an early start in caring for teeth. Primary teeth (baby teeth) are the only teeth children will have for the first six years of life, and some of those teeth will remain in the child's mouth until about age 12," commented Dr. Lilioia. Primary teeth are used not only for chewing, speaking and smiling, but also for reserving space in the jaw for permanent teeth. Primary teeth which are lost too early allow for other teeth to drift into the empty space. Problems may then occur when the permanent teeth are ready to come in.

It is a good practice to take children for their first dental visit before age two. Make an appointment with the family dentist or a pedodontist, a dentist who specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of children. If any problems are developing they can be detected early, and treated before any serious damage is done. Dentists can advise parents on the best way to care for their children's teeth; use of fluorides, brushing techniques, how to floss. Early visits to the dentist allow children and dentists to establish friendly relationships that can help lead to a lifetime of good dental habits.

"The bottle itself isn't harmful," commented Dr. Peter Lilioia, Belleville chairman of Children's Dental Health Month. "The sugary contents of the bottle are the problem. This is because as liquids containing sugar are consumed, they combine with the plaque that constantly grows on the surface of the teeth. The sugar and plaque form acids that eat away at tooth enamel. The result — Nursing Bottle Mouth."

Normal bottle feeding doesn't add to this condition because the baby who takes a bottle while awake swallows the fluids quickly. But when a baby is sleepy his normal swallowing process decreases.

Sugar remains around the top front teeth and decay is likely to begin, especially if the liquid stays in the mouth for an extended period of time.

"If you feel that the baby needs the bottle for security, fill it only with plain water," Dr. Lilioia remarked. These are two other hints for caring for your baby's teeth.

1. Look for foods that don't contain sugar.
2. Cleanse your baby's mouth and teeth with a clean cloth or gauze pad after each feeding.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

My husband became bald so he combs the hair from the cranium to the front. I told him he looks funny, and he tells me to "Keep quiet, you're the one that made me nervous which made me gain weight and lose my hair."

Umberto, two years ago he gained a lot of weight and then he went on his own diet. He lost weight after a year or more. Can you lose your hair by getting nervous or by dieting? Also, are there other ways to comb his hair? Please answer.

The Lady with the Bald Husband

Dear Lady?

You can lose hair over getting nervous, but it will grow back. If you go on your own diet without your physician's advice, you can lose your hair faster and it will not grow back, especially if baldness runs in the family.

Yes, there is a way to comb his hair differently. He can let his hair grow longer on one side of his head and comb it to the other side. I assure you, it will not look funny.

To The Belleville Italian Americans: I thank you for the delicious fruit basket you sent.

Yours,
Umberto

Some new tax changes will affect most Americans this year

Flat tax, fair tax, modified flat tax — the words leap from the headlines, and we wonder just how the action being discussed will affect our personal tax picture. At this point, we do not know what final changes in this direction will be implemented by the President and Congress, but we do know of some changes already approved which take effect in 1985.

One major change is that exemptions, zero bracket amounts and tax brackets will be indexed — that is, adjusted for inflation. The inflation factor for 1984 was 4.08%. Therefore, each exemption will be worth $1041.00 in 1985, up from $1000.00 in 1984. The zero bracket amounts will be $2390.00 for a single person or head of household, $3540.00 for married filing jointly, and $1770.00 for married filing separately, up from $2300.00, $3400.00 and $1700.00 respectively.

Divorce and alimony rules have been substantially revised. Alimony need no longer be periodic in order to be tax deductible to the payer and taxable to the recipient. A person who receives alimony can consider it compensation for purposes of determining his or her IRA contribution. If one spouse transfers property to the other as part of a divorce settlement, the transaction is considered a gift, not a sale. No gift tax liability is incurred and no gain or loss is recognized.

If there are children involved, the parent given custody is automatically entitled to claim the exemptions unless he or she waives the right to claim it. Even if the exemption is waived, the custodial parent may claim a child care credit if that applies. Either parent may claim any medical expenses they paid for their child.

Taxpayers who do not itemize may now deduct 50% of their charitable contributions for 1985 with no top limit. Anyone who uses his car for charitable purposes may take a deduction of 12 cents a mile, up from 9 cents.

The news is not all good for persons who take deductions for business expenses. Adequate, contemporaneous records must be kept in order for a deduction for business expenses to be taken. If property is used partly for business and partly for personal reasons and the percentage of business use drops below what it was the first year the property was put in service, then a portion of investment credit and depreciation will have to be recaptured (taxed) in the later year. There will be a "lookback" rule which limits capital gains taken this year on business property if there were business income in any of the 5 preceding years beginning January 1, 1982.

The earned income credit is being adjusted in 1985 so that it is available to taxpayers who have earnings and adjusted gross income of up to $11,000.00 in 1985 from $10,000.00 in 1984. Furthermore, according to Bert Tobia, District Manager for H&R Block, a single person may be eligible for head of household filing status if he or she provided a home for qualifying family member for more than six months of the year, instead of the entire year required under the old rules.

Clay will help review county police status

Essex County Freeholder Arthur L. Clay (R-Dist. 5) was selected as a member of a special 4-member freeholder committee charged with reviewing the status of the Essex County Police Department.

The panel will look into the department's present role in the county's overall law enforcement picture and recommend any needed changes.

Clay stressed that the county's municipal police department would be solicited for participation in the study. Among the areas the panel will review will be ways to improve county park safety, a controversial subject.

Freeholder President Jerome D. Greco said Clay was selected for the panel because of his law enforcement background and interest in public safety issues. The county legislator served as Essex County Undersheriff from 1980-1982.

"I'm gratified to have the opportunity to serve on this committee," said Clay. "Public safety in our county parks must be a top priority."

Clay represents District 5 encompassing Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair and Nutley.

Fundraising campaign set to pay for woman's transplant

A campaign to raise funds for Anna Palmisano Squartino, a Union resident, whose life depends on a liver transplant, has been undertaken by the Phil Portnoy Humanitarian Association.

Mrs. Squartino was found to have post necrotic cirrhosis of the liver two years ago. This liver condition is one that is non-alcohol related and its origin is unknown. When she was first seen by her liver specialist two years ago, it was felt that she didn't have more than five years to live. Her condition has since worsened. She is in desperate need of a liver transplant in order to live.

Anna Palmisano Squartino was evaluated at the Liver Transplant Unit of the University of Tennessee Medical Center and was diagnosed as a candidate for a liver transplant. However, in order to be placed on a donor list, the family would have to come up with a guarantee of $80,000 minimum. The liver transplant procedure is not, at the present time, covered by any insurance.

Mrs. Squartino is employed by the Irvington Public Library and is presently on medical leave due to her serious liver condition. Her husband, John, has been employed as a construction worker for the past 34 years and is a member of Local No. 13, Construction Workers Union. The Squartino family has three adult children. Her oldest daughter, Mrs. Patricia Dempsey, is presently employed as a special education teacher at Franklin School in Union. She has a married son, Frank, who lives at home so that he and his wife could help Mrs. Squartino. Their youngest daughter, who is mentally retarded, attends a Sheltered Workshop and lives at home.

The entire proceeds of the 13th Annual Dinner Dance and Humanitarian Award honoring the Rev. Nancy E. Forsberg will go to the Anna Squartino Fund. Anyone interested in helping with this fund drive please call Phil Portnoy at 688-4708 after 5 p.m. or Rhoda Fried at 686-8123 after 3 p.m.

This woman desperately needs our help. Won't you please open your hearts and send a contribution to the Ann Squartino Fund. Please mail your checks to the Phil Portnoy Humanitarian Association, P.O. Box 22, Union, New Jersey 07083.

Anna Palmisano Squartino deserves the right to life. Please help us to help Ann Palmisano Squartino.

Orechio sponsors bill to help 88,000 disabled

Legislation sponsored by Senate President Carmen A. Orechio establishing a Division of Developmental Disabilities in the Department of Human Services has been approved by the Assembly Revenue, Finance and Appropriations Committee.

Orechio explained that the new division would incorporate the existing Division of Mental Retardation and would expand the population served by the division to include all developmentally disabled persons.

"Presently, the State Division of Mental Retardation is authorized to provide services only to persons who are mentally retarded or autistic although many other developmentally disabled persons have similar functional service needs," said Orechio.

The Senate president noted that the transfer of powers and duties of the Division of Mental Retardation to the newly established Division of Developmental Disabilities would preserve all the entitlements that the mentally retarded are granted under existing law. The new division would be given three years to develop plans and programs which will fully serve all developmentally disabled persons.

The bill would also upgrade the definitions of mental retardation and developmental disability to conform with the current law and present standards and usage. Orechio pointed out that of the approximately 88,000 developmentally disabled persons in the state, the vast majority do not receive services from the Division of Mental Retardation.

"If this new division is established to replace the Division of Mental Retardation, many more individuals with various developmental disabilities would be able to apply for and be eligible for services," he stated.

Lung Association urges citizen input

If you would like to shop at your favorite supermarket, enjoy an evening at a special restaurant or work in an environment not contaminated by smoke from cigarettes, pipes or cigars, the American Lung Association of New Jersey urges you to do your part to have smoking banned or restricted in most public places in New Jersey.

Six bills to limit smoking in public places have been introduced in the New Jersey Senate by Sen. Frank Graves, (D-Passaic), and are awaiting action by the senate.

The association suggests that you write or call your state senator and ask him to support the pending legislation. The bills are (S-548) places of employment; (S-639) restaurants; (S-488) Government Buildings; (S-484) certain food stores; (S-485) certain indoor public places, and (S-489) buses, trains or other public conveyances.

Dr. Lee B. Reichman, professor of medicine, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey and president of the American Lung Association of New Jersey, says that the purpose of the legislation is to protect and preserve in a reasonable manner the health and comfort of the people of New Jersey by establishing areas that are free from the toxic and annoying effects of tobacco smoke.

Non-smokers chronically exposed to tobacco smoke evidence a measurable loss of lung function, equivalent to that observed in persons who smoke one half pack of cigarettes each day.

For more information about second-hand smoke, you may contact the American Lung Association of New Jersey, at 2441 Route 22 West, Union, N.J.

Judging will be done on the basis of form and content by David Bryant, library director; Cindy LaRue, reference and young peoples librarian; and Andrea Cohen, assistant library director.

First, second, and third prize winners from each library will receive book prizes, certificates, and ribbons. The first place winners only will have their essays submitted to a team of judges from Libraries in Focus. The first grand prize winner will receive a $25 check. The second grand prize winner a $15 check, and the third grand prize winner a $10 check.

Bucs drop two more contests, team record now at tough 2-21

The Belleville boys' basketball team dropped two more games last week, lowering the team record to 2-21 on the season.

The Buccaneers traveled to Paterson yesterday for the final game of the 1984-85 season.

Rocco Colucci's team finished on the short end of a 62-49 count versus Nutley and a 58-46 final at Teaneck. In both games, Belleville gave a strong effort, but fell short.

"We played perhaps our best game of the year against Teaneck," Colucci said. "They were number one in Bergen County and ranked in the states. I thought we gave a good account of ourselves in that game. Nutley is a tough team. We always have a tough go with them. This year, they battle for every loose ball and take advantage of every mistake."

In the Maroon Raider game, Belleville fell behind, 16-10 after one quarter and saw the deficit extended to 31-20 at intermission. Nutley continued to excel in the second half, outscoring Belleville, 15-8 in the third quarter to take a 46-28 lead entering the final frame.

Although Belleville managed to come back in the final eight minutes, they couldn't overcome the deficit and lost by 13 points.

Nutley girl hoopsters add some spice to the high school sports scene

By Mike Lamberti

Just when it seemed that a lull had surrounded high school sports at Belleville High, along came the Belleville-Nutley girls basketball game last Tuesday at Nutley High that will go down in the record books as a Belleville loss, but will be remembered by those who saw it as one of the best high school games this season in the area.

When I think of this game, I also remember a contest played at the Belleville High School five years earlier. In February 1980, the Belleville girls basketball team battled the states number one ranked team, East Orange, at Belleville High. It was a game that East Orange was supposed to win easily, but the Belleville girls rose to the occasion, losing by one point on some very questionable officiating down the stretch. Although last week's Belleville-Nutley game was not controversial, it was a fun game to view, as two local rivals battled to the end. At first glance, it appeared the game would be a Nutley laughter. The Maroon Raiders, winners of ten straight, were playing flawless Mike and Ted Sochaski led the way for Belleville with 11 points each. Leon Puentes, a freshman, scored nine. Nick Sotomayer finished with six. Donald Washington had four and Steve Kimble, just returned from a bad ankle sprain, finished with four points.

Last Friday evening, the Bucs traveled down Route 4 to Teaneck, battling the Highwaymen. Teaneck boasts one of the better teams in the area and is a favorite to take the Bergen County jamboree and advance in the Group IV, Section I tourney. They didn't disappoint their fans in this game as the Highwaymen started quickly and then held on. Teaneck jumped out to a 19-9 first quarter lead and led, 31-20 at intermission. The second half was nip and tuck, with Teaneck holding off a few Buccaneer spurts to win by 12, 58-46.

Freshman Ted Sochaski led the way for Belleville with 12 points. Junior Washington finished with eight points, Mike Sochaski had seven, Bob Hutchinson had six and Dom Mastro closed with three points.

With the season just about over, the thought turns to the future of the basketball program. Colucci used a good deal of younger players this winter, looking to build for the future. His plan seems to be paying dividends.

Ted Sochaski and Leon Puentes, both freshmen, have been very impressive in the starting lineup. Sochaski should be a stalwart at forward for the next three years and Puentes, a fine ball handler and shooter, could have the point guard position locked up for the next three years.

Juniors Dominick Mastro and Donald Washington both have the talent to have a big impact next year. Sophomores Robert Hutchinson, Lou Ba La and Craig Burden have also seen extended playing time and will have experience on their side next year.

NOTES: In the Essex County tournament, Montclair and Burlington are set in one semi while Seton Hall Prep and Clifford Scott are the favorites to play in the other semi. Could be a rematch of the 1983 ECT final when Montclair beat Seton Hall Prep in two overtimes. Kennedy, whom Belleville played last Tuesday, was upset in the semi final round of the Passaic County tourney by Don Bosco Tech, thus avoiding another classic Kennedy-Eastside championship match.

With just :06 left, the Lady Bucs had cut the deficit to 50-49 and fouled Debbie Cullen on the inbound. The cool Raider went to the line and all but ended the Lady Buccaneers dream of a big upset by sinking two free throws to boost Nutley's lead to three points, 52-49.

Brooks hit a layup at the buzzer, but Nutley had won a game it almost let go, 52-51. While there was some disappointment among the Belleville faithful that the final result was not a win, there was a good feeling that the Lady Bucs have the potential to be a winner once again. It was probably one of the most exciting games played in a number of years. It was significant because the game was against Nutley, once again showing the importance of this cross town rivalry.

As the season winds down for the girls, it seems time to reflect back on a senior that played her last game last Tuesday at home. Four years ago, Donna Brooks made her varsity debut in the Essex County Holiday Tournament at Livingston. It was a game in

Lady hoopsters come close but bow to Maroon Raiders

By Michael Lamberti

The situation looked hopeless. The game clock read 6:03. It was the fourth quarter. The Belleville girls basketball team was trailing powerful Nutley by 22 points on the Maroon Raiders home court. Nutley had won 10 straight coming into the game. Belleville couldn't mount an offense and were on the verge of suffering its worst defeat of the 1984-85 season. Then, suddenly...

The girls closed out the 1984-85 season with a game against Kennedy last Tuesday. Entering that game, the Lady Buccaneers held a 9-12 record.

When we last left the Lady Bucs, they were trailing Nutley by 22 points with 6:03 left in the contest. Then, suddenly, a comeback of near historic proportions took place. It suddenly became apparent to Belleville that in order to beat Nutley, they would have to score baskets. In order to score, the offense would have to be run properly. Head coach Karen Fucello, looking to light a spark in her fading team, inserted freshman Judy Nehlia to a guard position. Teamed with Angel Greco and combining with a front court of Donna Brooks, Desiree Johansen and Sheri Phelps, Belleville cut the Maroon Raider lead from 22 to one point with seconds remaining.

Only two foul shots by sure handed Debbie Cullen with :06 left prevented an upset of gigantic measures, as Nutley won 52-51. During the frantic six minute pace, Belleville had put together a 16-0 spurt, highlighted by some fantastic Brooks baskets, some clutch shooting by Johansen and four crucial points by freshman Nehlia.

On the day, Brooks was the higher scorer with 16 points for Belleville. Greco, a sophomore, finished with 13. Johansen closed with 12. Nehlia and Phelps had four points each and Sheri Sorrentino, the best sixth person Belleville has had in many years, closed with a field goal for two points. Janet Serio finished with 16 points and Cullen closed with 14 to pace Nutley.

"If only we had started that run a little sooner," Fucello mused after the game. "It goes to show that we can play with the better teams when we put our best effort forward. It was a nice comeback."

Nutley led, 14-6 after one quarter and boosted the lead to 30-16 at intermission. It was 42-22 after three quarters, but Belleville outscored Nutley by an astounding 29-10 margin in the final eight minutes to lose by one.

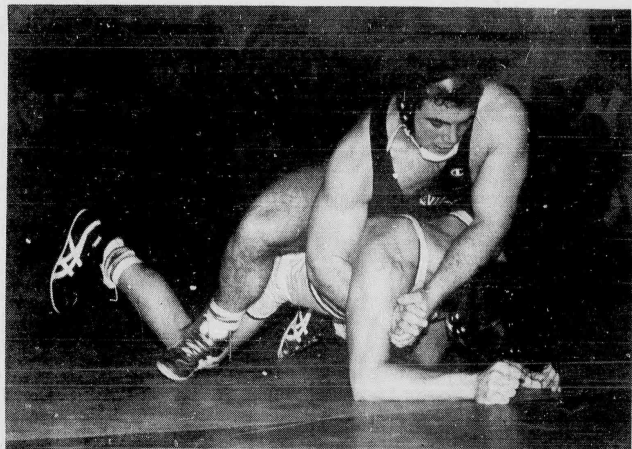

Last Friday night, the Lady Bucs did not have the same magic. The opponent was powerful Teaneck and the result was a 55-30 loss. The women from Teaneck had too much speed and firepower for the locals and outscored Belleville in every frame.

The Belleville offense, which looked so promising in the latter stages at Nutley, was held to seven field goals on the night by a potent Teaneck defense. Brooks, closing out a marvelous varsity career, had 13 points. Greco closed with eight points, Johansen, playing with a sore foot, was limited to six points, Phelps closed with two and Laura Caruso had a foul shot for one point. Tabatha Long and Landra Harris had 14 points while Diane Waspy finished with 12 points to aid Teaneck.

The Lady Bucs have the potential to be a solid entry in 1985-86. While the team loses two strong athletes in Brooks and Cheryl Marion, they do return a solid nucleus. Greco is developing into a very exciting playmaking guard. Nehlia has gained varsity experience, as has Caruso. Phelps and Johansen will add stability to the front court and Sorrentino will be a big factor in the teams success next winter.

NOTES: Johansen is the team's leading scorer with an 11.1 ppg avg. Brooks is second with 10.6 ppg. Belleville having a horrendous season at the foul line, shooting just 48.5 percent as a team. Marion the top free throw shooter with a 63 percent efficiency. The girls have missed 290 foul shots this season, a statistic that bears even more reflection when you consider that the Lady Bucs have been outscored by just 48 points the entire season. "We lost at least five games because of our foul shooting," Fucello said. Included in those near misses were the two games with Nutley. The Essex County tournament semi finals were held at Belleville last night with Montclair-Immaculate playing Shabazz and Irvington battling Nutley. Shabazz and Irvington are the favorites to advance to the finals, tomorrow night at Seton Hall University, although Immaculate and Nutley will be difficult opponents.

Gibbons Does It again — Michael Gibbons (21-0) picked up a victory against Phillipsburg despite the Bucs 54-8 loss. Belleville lost to Clifton Monday 35-19.

which Belleville lost, 64-48, but it marked the beginning of a very promising career. Brooks made her presence known in that game, pulling down some rebounds and giving Fucello optimism for the future. Although Donna stood 5'6", her leaping ability more than compensated for her lack of height in the pivot. Teamed with Jennifer Apicella, Barbara Gurely, Dina DeAquino and Lorel Wells, Belleville possessed a talented team with the ingredients to be a consistent winner.

This season, with the graduation of some top players, Brooks found herself rebuilding with a group of younger players. She was now the team leader and did her job in excellent fashion. A very talented athlete, Donna excelled for the volleyball team and will move over to the softball diamond on March 8 to conclude a brilliant career as a centerfielder. Colleges are more than interested in Donna Brooks. She gave Belleville High School four tremendous years and replacing someone of her character and ability will be difficult, to say the least. To Donna, thanks for all the good memories and tremendous games. Good luck with the softball team and continued success on the collegiate level.

Staying on the line of basketball, have you noticed all the New Jersey athletes that have made their marks on Division I programs? Syracuse is led by Rafael Addison of Jersey City. Notre Dame boasts Tim Dolan of South Jersey and David Rivers, a freshman from Jersey City. St. John's features Willie Glass, a sophomore from Atlantic City while Villanova has an excellent guard from Don Bosco named Dwight Wilbur. Let's not forget Louisville, which features three All Americans from Camden named Kevin Walls, Billy Thompson and Milt Wagner. You can look all around the U.S.A. and find some very talented athletes that excelled at New Jersey High Schools.

Congratulations to the Belleville wrestling team on advancing to the Group IV, Section II tournament. Although the team lost to P-Burg, they did advance to the tournament and still possess an 11-1 record and are unbeaten in regular season play over the last two years. Special congratulations goes to Michael Gibbons, who kept his perfect record in tact at P-Burg by posting the only Buccaneer victory.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Angel Greco of the girls basketball team. Greco, a sophomore, has been very impressive at the point guard position and should be a vital link to the future of the girls program.

Next week, I'll start a feature on the NNJHL and the code of conduct expected by the fans of the teams in the conference. The article will also touch on the responsibility of the coaches, athletes and cheerleaders. I think you'll find it interesting.

For this weeks quiz, name the participants in the 1967 World Series, the Series MVP and the amount of games the Series went. Also, name the team records that year.

HEALTH WISE

Certainly one of the most common health problems is the headache. Where the pain is in the head, the causes of the pain are many and varied.

Chiropractors, when treating a patient who suffers from headache, look first for two related conditions...pinched nerves in the neck and impaired blood circulation to the head. The neck of a headache patient frequently reveals evidence of spinal misalignment which is probably causing the trouble.

When chiropractic adjustment removes the cause of trouble, the headache disappears. Let chiropractic help you; phone now.

HEAD LICE

Lice are parasites that commonly affect humans. They can exist in people of all ages and social levels. No one is immune. Infestation by head lice is more common among children. As a matter of fact, schools are sometimes closed because of an outbreak of lice that spreads in epidemic proportions. Any part of the scalp can be affected. The itching is not severe. Pustules, bleeding areas on the scalp and matting of the hair may be noticed. It is important to periodically check your children's hair. The lice can be seen on the scalp and small, white sticky eggs on the hair itself may be observed. Lice can be treated with a variety of over-the-counter products. Consult your pharmacist about application procedures.

If you have any questions concerning medications consult your doctor or our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mr. G. of Belleville asks: "I had a root canal done and my dentist wants to crown it. Why can't I have him just fill it?"

Mr. G. the fact that you decided to keep your tooth and have a root canal rather than extract it shows that you are concerned about good oral health. Well done! In many instances, especially a back tooth, a root canal tooth will fracture if only a filling is put in. That's because a root canal tooth cannot resist shearing forces during chewing as well as a non-root canal tooth. A crown affords the tooth 360 degrees of protection - the kind of protection that's required during chewing. We've seen too often root canal teeth that just had a filling and subsequently within 1 or 2 years cracked so badly that it needed to be extracted.

If you make the decision to keep your tooth in the first place (the right choice) then follow your dentist's advice to maintain oral health.

Scouts honor Belleville school teacher

Two veteran Scouters from Tamarack Council, Boy Scouts of America, were honored with the Silver Beaver Award in ceremonies at the Council's annual Recognition Dinner, held recently at the Nutley Elks Club. The Silver Beaver, the highest award a Scout Council can give, is presented for distinguished service to youth. This year's recipients were Robert Bochantin and Richard Graves, both residents of Bloomfield.

Robert Bochantin began his Scouting career as an active Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer in the St. Louis, Missouri, area, going through the ranks in each program, enjoying two summers at a Ranger Camp for Explorers at the Beaumont Scout Reservation in Eureka, Mo., and serving as a Co-Advisor of an Explorer Post. He particularly recalls the "Historical Journey in Time" he made as a Scout, floating Huck Finn-style down the Merrimack River on handmade craft of logs, inner tubes, and oil drums.

Serving in the United States Marine Corps, Bochantin was affiliated with a Scout Troop on Okinawa for several months, a group representing many services known as "The Misfits." His wife, Diana, an Essex county native, was a fellow Marine whom he met and married while stationed in California 21 years ago. The pair moved to Bloomfield 16 years ago.

The entire Bochantin family is active in Scouting. Mrs. Bochantin is Cub Scout Roundtable Commissioner for Tamarack Council, and shares responsibility for Cub Scout Activities with her husband, as well as taking a very active role in Girl Scouting. Mrs. Bochantin received the Silver Beaver Award in 1983. Sons Roman, 20, David, 19, and Kevin, 18, are all Eagle Scouts and Assistant Scoutmasters in Bloomfield units, while Brian, 12, is a second class Scout, and daughter Catherine, 16, is a youth member of the Executive Board of the Greater Essex Girl Scout Council.

Robert Bochantin re-joined active Scouting when his oldest son entered Cub Scouting. He began as Quartermaster for Pack 26 Bloomfield, moving up to Assistant Webelos Leader, Webelos Leader, and Cubmaster, a position he held for 7 years. He followed the same upward path in Boy Scout Troop 7, and is now in his seventh year as Scoutmaster. He has continued to take training courses along the way, earning the Training Award and the Scouters' Key.

Bochantin also serves Tamarack Council as Cub Scout Activities Chairman, running the annual Chuckwagon Derby and Cub Scout Field Day. He is a familiar figure at the Council's Camp Tamarack, hammer in hand, working on repair and construction projects. He is a Merit Badge Counselor for ten different badges, and has hiked many Historical Trails with his Scout Troop. He is a Vigil Honor member of Wakanda Lodge, Order of the Arrow, and received the District Award of Merit in 1983.

Bochantin is a parishioner of Sacred Heart R.C. Church, Bloomfield, who sings in the choir. He has also served as a Little League coach, and as a member of various school parent associations and has helped by chaperoning school trips and running school carnivals.

Richard Graves began scouting as a Cub Scout and attained the rank of Eagle Scout in Troop 388, Belleville. He and his wife, Shirley, a registered nurse, have two sons, Steven, 24, of Norfolk, Va., and Ronald, 21, a senior at West Virginia Wesleyan, both of whom also attained the rank of Eagle.

Graves has been a teacher in the Belleville School system since 1957, and has headed the Social Studies Department for more than twenty years. For many years he was Senior Class Advisor, and has taken an active role in the Century III Leaders contest, VFW Speakers contest, and many other activities.

Graves joined the Pack Committee of Pack 10 Bloomfield when his older son entered Cubbing, and soon moved up to be Committee Chairman, Assistant Cubmaster, and Cubmaster. He then joined the Committee of Boy Scout Troop 6, and later served as Scoutmaster of the Troop for two years. He is a Merit Badge Counselor for five badges, and serves on the Training staff for Roundtable staff for Tamarack Council. Since 1981 he has served as Council Commissioner, and as a member of the Council Executive Board. He assists at Council Activities and in many ways works quietly and determinedly behind the scenes. He received the District Award of Merit in 1983.

While in high school in Belleville, Graves was a member of the Order of DeMolay, and was Master Counselor of the Belleville Chapter, receiving the Chevalier Award. He is currently a member of Belleville Lodge no. 108, F. & A.M.

County division protects consumers

The Essex County Division of Consumer Services, part of the Essex County Department of Citizen Services, was established to protect consumers against fraudulent business practices. The division, directed by Robert J. Russo, was created nearly six years ago by Essex County Executive Peopor Shapiro and the board of freeholders.

Each year the division investigates and mediates over 1,000 written consumer complaints about Essex businesses and provides educational information to the public on its rights and responsibilities under the N.J. Consumer Fraud Act. Workshops, speakers, and educational pamphlets are available. The staff also provides telephone counseling to over 4,000 consumers annually with preventive tips and self-help information to avoid problems before they occur.

A file is kept on all complaints about Essex County's businesses. Information of the nature of the complaint and how it was resolved is on record and is available to consumers as a guideline to when selecting a business.

"When a pattern of complaints involving fraud develops, our office looks into the possibility of legal action," said Russo.

The office of weights and measures, also part of the division of consumer services, inspects packages for short-weight, checks supermarket scales and weighing devices, fuel oil trucks, and gas station pumps for accuracy.

"During the last five years," stated Russo, "the weights and measures office has collected over $50,000 in fines for violations of weights and measures laws. More importantly, the weights and measures staff made sure that consumers got exactly what they paid for by checking scales throughout the county..."

In 1984, the Essex County Extension Service of Rutgers University was placed under the Essex County Division of Consumer Services. The extension service is comprised of agriculture, home economics and 4-H youth programs.

The Essex County Division of Consumer Services, which includes interment of indigent veterans, and purchase and placement of American flags on Essex veteran's graves, also includes the sponsorship of "veteran roundtables" which give Essex veterans the opportunity to share common problems and concerns.

Buckling up is widespread

Last year, over 40,000 people were killed on our highways. Over the past 10 years, nearly one-half million lives were claimed in automotive accidents. Many of these lives could have been saved, says the Automotive Information Council (AIC), if drivers and their passengers had buckled-up their safety belts.

Department of Transportation statistics show nearly 9,200 lives could be saved each year if 70 percent of vehicle occupants buckled up; in addition, some 327,000 injuries could be prevented or reduced. A sad fact is that less than 20 percent of Americans buckle-up voluntarily even though virtually every car on the road is equipped with safety belts.

The U.S. is the only major industrial nation that doesn't require its citizens to wear safety belts. Thirty-one countries, Puerto Rico and most of Canada and Australia have passed mandatory seat belt laws. France, Great Britain, West Germany and Japan are among the nations with mandatory seatbelt laws.

In Victoria, Australia, traffic fatalities dropped 37 percent and injuries dropped 41 percent over the first four years the law was in place. Britain's belt law resulted in a 20 percent decline in auto accident deaths and 25 percent reduction in injuries during the first year the law was in effect. Belt use in four Canadian provinces with safety belt laws increased dramatically during the first year after the laws went into effect. In Ontario, the seat belt usage rate went from 24 to 77 percent. As a comparison, belt usage in provinces without seatbelt laws averaged from 10 to 15 percent.

Last year, New York and New Jersey passed the nation's first mandatory belt use laws. New York's law took effect Jan. 1 and required drivers and front seat passengers as well as back-seat passengers under 10 years old to buckle-up or face a $50 fine. New York State officials predict that for each one percent increase in safety belt use in the state, 200 deaths and serious injuries will be prevented annually.

Drugs...

tern in Essex County begins at 13 and that most parents are not aware of this.

"Parents can't be friends to their children," he said. "For instance, they must learn to say no when a child asks for beer at a party. You can have close family ties and still have a high risk child if there's no discipline. Parents must provide that discipline along with love."

When Pariso talks to students, as he did recently at the Belleville Middle School, he is not a parent.

"I can't be a parent and tell them no," he said. "I have to relate to them, understand their problem and try to give the best answers."

"I never lie to kids," he continued. "I answer questions with what I know. If I don't know, I'll tell them. All I do is give them the facts. The decision is left up to them. Some make the right decision, others don't."

In his student lectures, Pariso details various drugs and their short- and long-term affects. He also discusses the two kinds of addiction, physical and psychological.

"The biggest problem is the psychological addiction, which is 95 percent," he said. "Once a person's body is cleaned out of all drugs, they have to talk about what's going on."

Pariso also incorporates a film in his lectures which shows real-life overdose situations.

"You can talk all you want to students about drugs and their dangers, but when they see this film, the reality hits them," he said.

At the middle school, Pariso's lectures and those of other knowledgeable speakers are followed up by two weeks of classwork by the school's six science teachers. The drug awareness program, which began in Belleville 10 years ago, involves discussion of personality and the affects of drugs and alcohol and role playing among both seventh and eighth graders.

"We just lay out the facts for them," said Nick Masso, science teacher. "We don't use scare tactics. They have to make the final decision."

Both Pariso and Masso believe children today are easier to talk to and more willing to sit back and listen.

"The only difference is the way I talk to fifth and sixth graders," Pariso said. "I talk a little differently to them than I do to the seventh and eighth graders because a sixth grader tells you everything, but an eighth grader doesn't because it's not cool."

At the end of the two weeks, Masso said students' responses on a questionnaire were favorable and showed they were interested in learning more.

However, even with all the awareness programs conducted today, the problem still exists.

"Denying that a problem exists will not make it go away," Pariso said in his booklet. "Face the truth no matter how painful it may be. Admitting that a problem exists is the first step to dealing effectively with the problem."

Institute names its dean's list

New Jersey Institute of Technology has named 488 students to the Dean's List for the recently concluded fall semester.

The list includes students who have achieved an academic average of 3.0 or better, with 4.0 being the highest attainable.

codes one month prior to the leak, said Township Attorney Frank Zinna. He said that Belleville is both a plaintiff and defendant in this case.

At the last board of commissioner's meeting, Joralemon Street resident Henry Chazewski asked if the township legally took control of the plant.

'Done nothing wrong'

"We secured a court order which provided us custody of the plant," Zinna said. "We believe we've done nothing wrong."

Since the cleanup began, the township has appropriated close to $600,000 in emergency funds. Two weeks ago the DEP began the second phase of cleanup, which includes sampling for identification and the removal of underground tanks and more than 1,000 drums and chemical containers. The cleanup also will cost the state an estimated $1 million funded by the New Jersey Spill Compensation Fund.

The cleanup, which is being conducted by OH Materials Co., will be completed within the next two months. Until then, the one-acre site is restricted to normal daytime working hours. Drivers are instructed to detour at the intersections of Little and Main streets and Greylock Avenue and Main Street, using Route 21 or traveling west on Little Street and Greylock Avenue.

The third and final phase of the cleanup project will include the decontamination of the building and possibly the soil if toxic substances are found to have seeped through. Scheduling for this phase has not been set.

Getting a report card has good and bad points
By Chaz Repak
This is it. You've been waiting all day. You cautiously enter your homeroom at 2:30 and get your report card. The teacher calls out names in alphabetical order. Your breath grows shorter as you wait.
Finally he calls your name.
You shuffle to the front of the room. The teacher looks at your grades and bursts out laughing.
What's so funny? you ask yourself
as you slink back to your seat

Over the Edge
amidst amused looks from your fellow students. You scan down your grades: A's, B's, A's, B's...
F in science! You pick backwards in your chair, lying senseless on the floor in a dead faint.

You regain consciousness in a few seconds, as a friend pours a glass of water over your head.
You snatch up your soggy report card and stalk out of the room to seek your science teacher. You present him with the wet piece of paper and point to the runny F.
There must be some mistake.

"Some mistake?" he asks, and opens his grade book, and reads your grades aloud: "76, 44, 58, 15, 6, 20, 81, and 4. That averages out to a 38. You're right, there must be some mistake. You deserve a G or an H!" he screams, motioning angrily for you to leave his room and throwing your semi-dry report card after you. A G or an H? How can you explain this to your parents?

Your first thought is to write on the F and change it to a B. No, that wouldn't work. Your parents could see through that. You could turn the report card. No, it's too stilted. Yet you could go inside your house and see your mom. "Why are you all wet?" she asks worriedly.

"I...uh...fainted in school
today."
"Your mind races for a reason."
"Why? Well, I...we had a really ugly substitute teacher today, and I just couldn't stand to look at her..."

"Sure. What really happened?
Did you get your report card
today?"

How does she know? "All right, I'll lay it to you straight.

I've got good news and bad news.
The good news is, I got five A's and two B's."
"That's fine. And the bad news?"
"Uh...my report card is all wet. No, really I got an F in science. But look on the bright side, I didn't get a G or an H."

"Bright side! You'd better look on the bright side! Wait until your father gets home!"
Eventually, your father gets home, and the only bright side of the matter is that he doesn't break both your legs. You get the usual punishment (no TV, no playing with the computer, no going out on weekends, no after school activities), and you have to go see your guidance counselor.
Guidance counselor? What's he going to do for you? You are assured that he will help you.

You walk into the guidance counselor's office and shut the door. You sit in a chair and stare blankly across at your counselor and see him staring blankly across at you. You shift uncomfortably in your chair as he growls: "What do you want?"

"You tell me. I was told to come see you because I failed a class."

"Oh yeah, your parents called about you. They told me to do this." He pulls out a 38 with a silencer on it. You jump out of your chair and rush to the door.
You pull frantically at the doorknob, but the door is locked.
As he cocks and aims the gun, you tell yourself, so guidance counselors do have a purpose after all.

One Plus One Equals Three

New Math? No! This is simply a way of describing a drug-drug interaction. Since most drugs can cause side effects of varying degrees, it's not surprising that one person may be using two drugs with similar side-effects, such as a cold remedy and a cough syrup, each with the capability of causing drowsiness. Instead of a simple additive effect, each may intensify the other so that the two together are more than twice as potent as either alone.
