Two tourists killed in Brussels

Two tourists from Belleville were killed last Saturday when their taxi hit a car and crashed into a concrete column in Brussels.

Leslie Davey, 68, was declared dead at scene while Maria Beldowicz, 66, died in a hospital several hours after the accident, police said.

Beldowicz' husband, Herman, 67, remained in the intensive care unit of the Saint Pierre hospital while Davey's wife, Margaret, 63, was reported in good condition.

The couples were planning to leave their hotel the next morning.

Girl hit by car remains critical

A 3-year-old girl hit by a car remained in critical condition Friday in St. Joseph's Hospital, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

Cara Bini of 134 Adelaide St. was struck when she ran out from behind a parked near her home last Saturday afternoon.

No charges have been filed against the driver of the car, Frederick Faria of DeWitt Avenue, said Police Deputy Chief Frank Haight.

Man convicted of motel murder

A 25-year-old Little Ferry man was convicted of the stabbing death of a Lyndhurst man at the Belleville Motor Lodge.

The five-woman, seven-man Superior Court jury found Emil Ruscigno guilty of murdering Thomas Gentile, 27, at the Washington Avenue motel last Sept. 7.

Police, who arrested Ruscigno as he was trying to escape through a room window, found Gentile stabbed to death. He had been stabbed eight times in the chest, legs and back.

An FBI fugitive warrant has been issued for the arrest of another defendant, Dennis Settembrino of Lyndhurst, who was also reported in the room at the time of the murder.

Ruscigno faces a maximum life prison term. Sentencing is scheduled for April 4.

Matters in Brief

Township owed $365,000 lien

The township is still waiting to be paid $365,000 plus interest owed by the former yeast factory on Mill Street.

A substantial water lien was accumulated by Universal Foods which received its water supply from the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission (PVSC). The township paid PVSC's bill and then billed Universal Foods. However, the company refuses to pay the bill until ordered by the court.

A suit against Universal Foods is now pending Frank Zinna, township attorney, said.

Universal Foods sold the factory and property to Cerami Construction last year with the water lien attached. Zinna said the township could not prohibit Cerami from buying the property which is being used for condominiums.

He said once certificates of occupancy are issued the township "can begin collecting tax ratables while waiting to be paid the $365,000."

Chemical plant owes back taxes

The Research Organic-Inorganic Chemical Plant on Main Street will be sold March 19 to cover a $10,216 lien for unpaid 1983 taxes.

Marianne Pratter, owner of the plant, has not paid taxes since 1983 when the township took control of the building after a series of chemical leaks. The second phase of cleanup is now being conducted by OH Materials under the state's supervision.

Meanwhile, Pratter is suing the township and state for damages she claims were done to the building as the result of neglect.

Man charged with sexual assault

Police arrested a Kearny man last Wednesday morning and charged him with sexual assault.

Detectives Vincent Cappetta and Edgar Panier arrested the 34-year-old man 15 minutes after it was reported he sexually assaulted a 22-year-old Bloomfield woman at the Belleville Motor Lodge, Deputy Chief Frank Haight said.

He was held in lieu of $2,000 bail.

Two charged in stabbing incident

Two men were arrested early last Sunday morning and charged with two counts of aggravated assault.

The men, both of Bloomfield, were charged with the attempted stabbing of two men with whom they were arguing. Both were held pending bail.

Library speaker insists:

Crime victims have some basic rights

By Michelle Jeannotte

As United States citizens, we all have certain rights. But when we become victims of violent crimes, these rights seem to all but disappear.

"Victims' rights are not protected," Robert Grayson, founder and chairman of the N.J. Council on Crime Victims, said. "Many times victims are blamed for crimes. As long as we blame the victims, we have a problem in our criminal justice system. When a case is brought before the courts, victims become witnesses.

They are forced to relive a crime in greater detail than when it actually happened."

As chairman of the Council of Crime Victims, Grayson was instrumental in establishing the Crime Victim's Bill of Rights in 1978. These Bill of Rights set certain guidelines which are designed to protect the victim, Grayson said as he spoke before the Friends of the Library.

Keep victims informed

One of the rights makes its mandatory for law enforcement agencies to keep victims informed of an investigation, he said. Victims would be informed of sentencing dates so they can be present.

"It is harder for a judge to be lenient when victims and their families are present," Grayson said. "If they cannot attend the sentencing, word is forwarded to them."

"Victims will also be allowed to send letters to a judge prior to sentencing letting him know how the crime affected them emotionally, financially and medically," he added. "The Bill of Rights would also allow victims to appear before a parole board for review before it makes a decision. This gives the board a chance to talk to the victim and family and see how vicious the crime was."

New talent

Sara Mellinger, Michele Clarizio and Kristina Bonacorsa, all eighth graders, recently participated in the Essex County Creative Dramatic Expo held at West Essex Junior High School. This program was designed to give highly talented and creative students a chance to use their skills and abilities to produce an artistic and dramatic offering. The presentations were created and performed with no adult coaching.

Roche meeting rates progress of the blacks

By Michelle Jeannotte

Integrated colleges, or those predominantly white, many not be providing an atmosphere that encourages black students' fullest intellectual and personal growth.

In a study conducted among black and white students in the North and South, Dr. Jacqueline Fleming, author of Blacks in College, found this statement to be true. Her study revealed that black students in predominantly black colleges show more intellectual development and greater performance than their counterparts who attend white colleges.

"Black colleges provide more competition for students," Fleming said. "There is a significant improvement in their cognitive performance because black colleges are equipped to care for the individual. They give more attention to the students and more personal input."

Fleming, who is adjunct psychology professor at Barnard College, N.Y., and consulting psychologist for the United Negro College Fund (UNCF), shared her results with members of the UNCF Corporations Committee at a breakfast meeting held at Hoffmann-La Roche in Nutley.

Fleming's study involved 3,000 students of 15 institutions in four states. She found that it is important for students who attend black

Three candidates run for vacant school seats

By Michelle Jeannotte

With the school board election less than a month away, time is moving quickly for the three candidates whose campaigns have just begun.

Running for the two three-year seats on the board of education are incumbent Ernest Zoppi, Kevin Kennedy and Dr. Joseph Cappello. Board president Grace Purdue declined to run for reelection.

Zoppi, who is completing the three-year term of retired trustee Charles Miele, will be entering his fifth year on the board if reelected. A resident for 22 years, Zoppi has had three children graduate the Belleville school system, including one who is a teacher in the system. He now has four grandchildren in the school system.

"There once was an image of Belleville that was not the best and it bothered me," Zoppi said. "The school system was just standing still. We had a system of old buildings and there was no action being taken."

Zoppi said that when he first became a board member in 1978,

Buckling up now is new state law

By Lisa Grimaldi

A new state law says that if a person is caught without his seat belt on, he will be fined $20, but police in several area towns have varying interpretations of the week-old law.

"I sure don't want anyone crying to me if they're caught without seatbelts on. They have had enough warnings in the press and media," said Salvatore Dimichino, Nutley police chief.

According to Dimichino, as of March 5, no violators had been caught in Nutley since the law went into effect March 1.

Frank Haight, Belleville's deputy police chief, said that his department has been enforcing the law since last Friday. He noted that the Belleville police department issued eight summonses for failure to use seatbelts last weekend.

Bloomfield more lenient

Offenders caught in Bloomfield are luckier than those who are apprehended in its two neighboring communities.

"We can't come down with the law like a ton of bricks," said Anthony Castagno, Bloomfield police chief. "When people are used to one thing, it's hard to change."

IT'S THE LAW

Beginning March 1, 1985 all front seat drivers in New Jersey must wear a safety belt system or face a $20 fine. The driver will be held responsible for any front seat passenger under the age of 18 who disobeys the law.

FOR SAFETY SAKE... WEAR YOUR SEAT BELT!

REMEMBER... IT'S THE LAW!

This safety reminder is brought to you as a public service by the New Jersey Highway Authority.

He said that the police officers in his department are issuing warnings to violators and would continue to do so through the month of March. After that warning period, the $20 penalty will be enforced.

"I'd prefer people to be educated about the seatbelt law. Hopefully, this law will reduce automobile injuries. I think it's a very good law," Castagno said.

New Jersey is now the second state in the nation to require the use of seatbelts for drivers and front-seat occupants of passenger cars.

Shapiro and Gibson announce candidacies in governor's race

By Bill Gruver
Essex County may not be able to exercise greater influence in state politics in the days to come. That could be the result of the announcement last week by Newark's Mayor Kenneth Gibson and Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro that they were running for governor this year.

Shapiro, who had been rumored as a possible statewide candidate in recent years, started his campaign for the Democratic party's gubernatorial nomination in Belleville. That, as Shapiro pointed out, was a first. He noted that Belleville had never before been used as an announcement site by candidates for statewide or national office.

The 32-year old county official said if elected he would "head a state government that has a heart but knows how to use its head. There is not a Republican or a Democrat way to solve our problems. Our needs do not have a political label. People need to be involved in the whole process. That would be at the heart of a Shapiro administration.

The Essex County Executive carried his announcement of candidacy to Trenton and Cherry Hill following his appearance at the old Children's Shelter in Belleville. Nearly 500 stood in a pouring rain to cheer Shapiro on in his first bid for statewide office.

Two days later, Newark Mayor Gibson started his second try, in four years, for his party's nomination for governor. Gibson ran in the 1981 primary and came in a strong third following Congressman James Florio and Robert Roe. Gibson made 10 stops on his campaign's opening day.

The chief executive of the state's largest city, in his stop in this area at the Paterson City Hall, said that "too many have cited our problems but haven't offered any real solutions to them. They tell us that garbage disposal, toxic waste, and the homeless are major problem areas. But I have yet to hear what they would do to solve them. I intend to carry this campaign into all areas of the state, to every city, town and village. This is not a campaign for one group. I am concerned about blacks, hispanics and whites. I want this effort to be statewide in every sense."

Gibson was referring to the fact that his 1981 campaign was backed primarily by the black community. He also said he was the only candidate who knew the problems of running a city, having been the mayor of Newark for the past 14 years. Gibson is an engineer, a fact he noted as being helpful in solving infrastructural problems.

The Gibson and Shapiro announcements followed the stated candidacies of former Senator Steven Wiley and former U.S. Attorney Robert DeLuca, party leaders expect that Florio and Senator John Russo, Majority leader of the legislative upper house, will announce their candidacies before the end of March.

Orechio sponsors court takeover legislation

A bill sponsored by Senate President Carmen A. Orechio to have the state assume the cost of county judicial expenses has been approved by the New Jersey Senate.

"This endorsement by my colleagues sends an encouraging message to every county in this state that we want to do what we can to lighten the burden of local property taxes," said the Essex County Democrat.

The measure, which will phase-in the state takeover of county court costs, will require $22.5 million in its first year and will carry an annual expenditure of $99 million when the assumption is complete in five years.

The bill passed 34-0 and now goes to the Assembly.

"Every dollar saved by each county must be applied to property tax relief," Orechio said.

"It's a proper expenditure for the state which controls virtually every aspect of the county judicial system."

The measure will expedite the unification of the state's judicial system of which nearly all aspects involve mandated programs beyond the scope of county government.

"The bill will make the court system more cost effective administratively based on the recommendations of the state Supreme Court," Orechio said.

HEALTH WISE

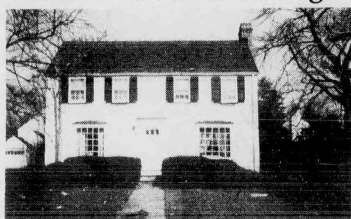

Not only back trouble but also headache, intestinal, kidney or liver disorders, dizziness, nervousness, arthritis, sinusitis and many other forms of ill health may respond to chiropractic treatment if the cause is a pinching or irritation of nerves as they leave the spinal column.

The type of health problem tells the chiropractor where to look for vertebral misalignment. Once found, chiropractic adjustment treats the cause of illness.

If you suffer from ill health, why not give chiropractic a chance to restore normal good health without surgery or drugs? Phone for an appointment.

RELIEF
Millions of people use over-the-counter antacids to relieve the symptoms of upper gastrointestinal distress. An antacid neutralizes hydrochloric acid. When one smells, tastes, chews or swallows food, hydrochloric acid is produced. This potent gastric acid is secreted by glands in the lining of the stomach to aid in food digestion. Why the same amount of acid secretion plagues some people but not others remains unclear. The only symptoms that can be safely and effectively self-diagnosed and self-treated with non-prescription antacids are those that are caused by excess stomach acid. These symptoms have been described as a burning distress that is felt in the upper abdomen, behind the chest, and as high up as the throat.

When your physician gives you a prescription, to relieve the symptoms of an infection or other problem, you can have it filled promptly at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1688, 759-1956. We carry baby needs, cosmetics, toiletries, transistor radios and Times watches. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HANDY HINT:
Antacids do not act by forming a physical "coating" in the digestive tract.

New chamber logo is a colorful symbol

The key to the city — a gift usually given to visiting personalities. Now with its new logo design, the chamber of commerce can give any one of its members the key to the township.

Thomas Lupo, a high school student, recently won first place in the chamber's logo contest, designing a gold key with the slogan "It's Better in Belleville."

The slogan, developed in 1983 by then chamber president Jay Tarantino, became a recognizable symbol for the chamber. Rita Troise, chamber member, suggested the idea of the logo contest.

Approximately 50 students from the middle and high schools entered the contest, said Troise, who has been a member for the past three years. She said each student will receive a certificate of recognition for their participation.

As the winner, Lupo received a $100 U.S. savings bond. He was presented the bond on Howie Halpern's cable show, "Belleville in Person," this past week.

The logo will be used for letterheads, decals, membership cards, and member certificates.

Busing is too costly unless safety at stake

Busing has certainly been in the news many times in the last decade, but when 20 parents appeared before the school board recently it had nothing to do with desegregation by a court order. These parents wanted to know why their children were not able to take a bus to school.

As explained by Editor Michelle Jeannotte in last week's edition of the Belleville Times, some parents in the Soho area of the township are angry because students are not bused after the second grade. They wanted to know why something cannot be done.

From the viewpoint of a parent, this could look like a cut-and-dried matter. If first and second-graders are bused, what is so magical about the third grade that makes these young students not need the service?

Indeed, it may even more frustrating for these parents if they see older students that are being bused, because trustees are legally required to do so by the state if a high school student, for example, lives more than 2½ miles from school.

But there are two sides to every story, and this one is no different. As trustee Gabe Nazziola pointedly told the assembled parents, the school board cannot do something unless it has the funds to pay for it. He said residents defeat a school budget 20 out of 21 times, and with that kind of message, there isn't any room for trustees to provide busing not required by state law.

The parents are motivated by wanting to insure that their children have as much safety as possible, and probably prefer busing to knowing their children are crossing busy intersections. It is hard to fault concern based on safety fears, but the bottom line is an important consideration, and in Belleville we hear no horror stories about children being injured because they are not bused.

This being the case, it seems that trustees must choose between what boils down to a luxury versus using the money for more meaningful services. Given a choice, we would prefer that the board not enter an area of "courtesy" busing that will set a precedent for busing every student in the district.

The taxpayers of Belleville are a frugal body, and their wishes must be respected. In the absence of any conclusive data that third graders are in a dangerous situation, we suggest the proposal of the parents be rejected.

Handling it correctly is greatly appreciated

It may seem like small potatoes to the 1,000 employees who were recently laid off by Hoffman LaRoche, but we find it somewhat comforting to learn that the large pharmaceutical company has made arrangements to provide these former workers with additional assistance.

According to a story in last week's newspaper by reporter Lisa Grimaldi, a so-called "career center" has been opened at 1255 Broad St. in Bloomfield to help with job searches, benefits, severance packages, and credit union questions.

Roche announced in August that big changes would be made, and a few weeks ago delivered the bad news. Of course, company officials did not make such a decision lightly, and believe that the $50 million a year that will be saved by a reduction in staff will benefit the entire operation.

All this aside, it might have been relatively easy for Roche officials to wash their hands of the fate of the former employees and leave them to fend for themselves. We are glad that they did not.

According to a Roche spokeswoman, attendance at the center has been excellent, and some 250 companies in the metropolitan area are on a list of possible employment opportunities. There are also reports that 100 companies, some as far away as California, have inquired about potential hirings.

That Roche is committed to doing its best to ease the burden placed on its former employees is evident by the fact that it also established a second career center for employees in the Belvidere area of the state. This was also a wise move.

And for those who were employed so long at Roche that they have forgotten how to prepare for a new job, the centers will type resumes and even mail them. With this kind of extra effort it is easy to see why Roche has a good reputation for employee relations.

All remaining Roche employees face a compensation and benefits review in the spring, at which time there could possibly be pay cuts. We hope for no such news, but remain confident that whatever happens, Roche will be fair and humane.

Letters to the Editor

Teaching of children stressed

To the editor:

And the educational standards continue to decline.

Saul Cooperman, the gung-ho education commissioner who was supposed to raise the excellence of the state's educational system, has announced that the test scores for new teachers will be lowered.

Mr. Cooperman said the determination for the lower scores was influenced by "consideration of fairness, teacher supply problems and concerns that higher scores might initially create affirmative action problems."

Nowhere does Mr. Cooperman indicate any concerns over what effect the lowering of standards will have on the most important element of the educational system, the students. He just wants to make sure the 80 percent of those who take the test will pass. This is the same line that has been pursued since the '60s. And if one can follow a graph, the line will show a steady decline in educational excellence concomitant with the lowering of teacher qualifications.

One of the main culprits has been affirmative action. This simply means to put unqualified people into positions for which they are not as capable as others to fill based on the color of their skin.

The educational commissioner acts as though affirmative action is new. It has been in vogue for 20 years. When do we say enough already? Are we more interested in minority employments than teaching our children?

Golden Comments

by James R. Golden

Many local merchants and businessmen are more than concerned and are exercised over the Planning Board's sanction that permits the possible declaring of the areas between William Street and Mill Street as a "Blighted Area." Final approval by the Belleville Commissioners is required before the recently created Belleville Redevelopment Agency (BRDA) and implement their proposal.

Several established businesses that have functioned successfully for many years in the affected area are made anxious by the uncertainty and lack of definitive proposals planned. Even merchants on Washington Ave. north of William St. have become restive and concerned over future plans that could affect their business location.

It has become known that several parcels of property in the town hall business section are in the process of changing owners in the anticipation of increasing land and property values in possible redevelopment plans for that area.

This community has long been recognized as being oriented to the concept that it's elected governing officials tenured incumbency is predicated upon their response to the wishes and desire of its citizenry, a conservative element little bent upon radical change and perhaps with a nostalgic penchant for the memorabilia of more placid times.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that final judgments of what's best for Belleville's development should dwell within the province of our elected town officials, not those of appointees, some of whom need not be made by our local township officials. Drastic change that would "strip" our local commissioners ultimate power over municipal land development might prove unwise.

Indeed the BRDA serves a valuable purpose and the dedication and competency of its members is recognized and appreciated, however, while their recommendations should be sought, the final decision power should not be theirs.

Looks like Joe Minish, our long time Congressman who did so much for the people of this district, is not likely to roll-over and play dead because of the judicial gerrymandering decision of the federal Third District Circuit Court that took him out of his strongly held district and placed him up among the Morris County republican voters who defeated Minish's election effort.

Reports indicate that the long-time Congressman will "throw his hat into the ring" in seeking election for Governor of New Jersey. That could entail a primary race with the winner taking on Governor Tom Kean in November. Joe is a fighter whose candidacy could make it quite a race...he has a score to settle with the GOPers after the redistricting decision.

Why the big hullabaloo about a female police officer getting a ride to work in a police car and then a few days later, the same fellow who griped about it, also accepted a "lift" in a police car...come on gus...people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

More than a few, on learning about the prospects of having eight story buildings on the east side of Washington Ave. from Mill St. to Rutgers St., are worried about the aesthetic effect such structures would produce by, what they call a "Chinese Wall" barrier that stand between the Valley section and the section west of Washington Ave. They frown upon what they consider segregation by edifices that will block them into a claustrophobic compound.

Those on the other side, west of the tall proposed structures, fear that their TV reception will be destroyed or distorted...changes don't come without problems. Truly the heads that wear the crown carry a heavy burden and, likewise, Too many cooks spoil the broth.

Fabulum for thought for our commissioners...Do we need hisdraheaded monsters to run Belleville? Horses pulling in different direction don't get very far. Authority relinquished is seldom recovered.

A Look Back In Time

By Maureen Langan

This week 3 years ago:

The Walter Kidde Co. announced that it was phasing out its manufacturing operation in Belleville and moving it to a new plant purchased in Wilson, N.C. The move by Kidde cost an estimated 400 employees their jobs and the township of Belleville tens-of-thousands in property taxes.

Prompted by an irate citizen's persistent complaints, commissioners voted to crack down on reported abuse of township-owned cars by municipal employees. The unanimous agreement, which affected a dozen vehicles, required employees authorized to operate municipal cars to return them to the designated township area at the close of business on working days.

The Belleville wrestling team, behind the strength of its heavyweights, captured its second straight District VII title. Eight grapplers made it to the finals of the districts, including the Bucs' four big men. Dan Palumbo, George Ritacco, John Bucciarelli and heavyweight Ben Dominguez.

Library accepts spring pre-school sign-up

The Children's Room of the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., is taking registrations for its spring series of pre-school story times.

The program, which will run for ten consecutive weeks, is open to all Belleville three and four-year olds.

Group size is limited. To register call 759-9200.

Storytelling, nursery rhymes, finger crafts, filmstrips and simple sign language, as well as creative dramatics, will be featured. In both the Tuesday session, which will run April 2-June 3, and the Thursday session, April 4-June 6. A parent or guardian is required to be in the building during the program and is invited to join a series of lectures, films, and discussion programs in the adult department, conducted concurrently with the pre-school sessions.

A bedtime story hour will be held Monday evenings June 3 through June 24 from 7-7:30 p.m. Children ages 2-7 are welcome to attend. Pajama wearers are welcome. No registration will be necessary.

'Rascals' show to aid Easter Seals

"Rascals," the largest comedy club on the east coast, will donate all door proceeds to Easter Seals March 24.

The show will start at 9 p.m. with seating available at $30. Tickets for the entire show are $7 and can be obtained in advance by sending a check or money order to Easter Seals, 554 Bloomfield Ave., Suite 14, Bloomfield, New Jersey, 07003 or call Catherine Orsini 429-9080.

In the past, Rascals has featured Billy Crystal, Howie Mandel, Soupy Sales, Jackie Mason, and Jay Leno. Already on the bill for March 24 are Larry Amoros, who was the M.C. on the HBO special "Catch a Rising Star," HBO-7th annual young comedians show from N.Y. City; Dave Kelly, a regular at the Improvisation and Catch a Rising Star in New York; and Mitch

Walter a comedian out of Los Angeles.

Rascals is located at 425 Pleasant Valley, West Orange. Easter Seals is one of the oldest and largest voluntary health agencies in the nation.

In New Jersey, the Easter Seal community service for handicapped people is dedicated to providing service programs which improve the quality of life of disabled persons.

Buckling...

pass a seatbelt law, effective since January.

State laws vary

The two states' laws are not identical, though. Offenders in New York can be pulled over by police solely for the failure of passengers to buckle up and can face a fine of up to $50.

The enforcement of the New Jersey law, on the other hand, can be accomplished only as a secondary action when a driver of a passenger automobile has been stopped for a motor vehicle violation, or some other offense, according to Colonel Clinton L. Pagano, State Police superintendent.

"The sole purpose of the seatbelt law is to save lives and reduce the severity of injuries in accidents which are bound to occur," Pagano said.

Who is affected?

He explained that the driver of an automobile is responsible for any front-seat passenger under the age of 18, while front-seat passengers 18 and over are responsible for themselves and are subject to receive a summons for the seatbelt violation.

In addition, Pagano said that any children under 18 months of age must be in an infant-restraining device when riding in the vehicle. Children under 5-years old must be in an infant-restraint device when riding in the front seat, or be secured by a safety belt if riding in the back seat.

The only persons exempt from the $20 penalty are occupants of cars manufactured before July 1, 1966, rural mail carriers employed by the U.S. postal service and persons with verifiable physical or medical conditions that make seatbelt use impractical.

Library essay entries due Saturday

Entries are due Saturday in the Libraries in Focus essay contest on the theme, "Careers 2000."

The purpose of the contest, sponsored by the cable groups for the Essex County Library Directors Inc., the Hillsdale, Kenilworth, Metuchen, Roselle, Roselle Park, South Brunswick, South River, and Woodbridge Libraries, is to focus on the importance of career planning and preparation for jobs of the future.

First, second and third prize winners from each library will receive book prizes, certificates and ribbons. First place winners will have their essays submitted to a team of judges from Libraries in Focus.

The first grand prize winner will receive a $25 check, the second grand prize winner a $15 check, and the third grand prize winner a $10 check.

AARP meeting scheduled tonight

Belleville Chapter 2051 American Association of Retired Persons, will meet 1 p.m., March 7 at Fawcett Presbyterian Church, at 444 Union Ave.

James DeVine, a certified public accountant will speak on "Preparation of Tax Returns." Dues of $3 are payable at the meeting. Hostesses will be Adelaide Fisher and Lillian Metcalfe.

The next official board meeting will be March 15.

CHIRO NEWS

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT WHIPLASH!!

Every year one and a half million people are involved in motor accidents causing whiplash injury to the head or neck. Actually any blow to the head or sudden jerking can result in sprain, strain, subluxation or dislocation to the upper, lower, thoracic and lumbar vertebrae. Whiplash injuries may involve the nerves, arteries, spinal discs, spinal cord, ligaments, muscles, tendons, cartilage, nerve plexus and brain. The degree of injury depends mostly on the forces and direction involved. For example a car weighing 3000 pounds traveling only twenty feet MPH causes a force equal to 1400 pounds. This means several tons of force are exerted on the victim's neck at the moment of impact. The crash report of the USAF has demonstrated that a backward emergency acceleration of only 5 times the force of gravity can be tolerated.

The spinal muscles and ligaments of the spine hold with great tension resulting in a distorted spinal arch. This was proven in one of the most common complications of whiplash. Unfortunately, ordinary doctors seldom understand the threat that whiplash holds for the victim. Too often they only treat the victim for muscle spasm. Characteristic signs are the impairment of the nerve root is one of the most common complications of whiplash. Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

My husband became bald so he combs the hair from the cranium to the front. I told him he looks funny and he tells me to "Keep quiet, you're the one that made me nervous which made me gain weight and lose my hair!" (Umberto, two years ago he gained a lot of weight and then he went on his own diet. He lost weight after a year or more. Can you lose your hair by getting nervous or by dieting? Also, are there other ways to comb his hair? Please answer.)

The Lady with the Bald Husband
Deart Lady!

You can lose hair over getting nervous, but it will grow back. If you go on your own diet without your physician's advice, you can lose your hair faster and it will not grow back, especially if baldness runs in the family. Yes, there is a way to comb his hair differently. He can let his hair grow longer on one side of his head and comb it to the other side. I assure you, it will not look funny.

To the Belleville Italian Americans
I thank you for the delicious fruit basket you sent.

Yours,
Umberto

IT ALL ADDS UP

Financial security. Planning for your future. Getting a break on your taxes. It all adds up.

If you're interested in saving for your retirement and putting off your tax bite up to $2000 a year, now is the time to open an IRA account at Nutley Savings.

You can defer up to $2,250 if either you or your spouse works and up to $4,000 for working couples.

And the earlier you contribute to your IRA, the harder your money will work for you. When you deposit your IRA savings early in the year, you get the benefit of having time to earn more interest. Over the years your savings advantage will grow substantially.

Make your IRA contribution as early as possible to get the most for your retirement savings. And between now and April 15 you still have time to make last year's deposit and deduct your savings from your gross income for 1984.

So don't waste time and money. Stop in today and start making plans for tomorrow. It's that simple. EASY AS IRA.

EASY AS IRA

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for withdrawals from certificates before maturity. Withdrawals from an IRA plan are taxable as ordinary income in the year of withdrawal and before age 59½ are also subject to tax penalty.

Heidelberg College Choir will perform this Sunday

St. Paul's Congregational Church, Nutley, is one of six churches sponsoring a concert by the Heidelberg College Choir, Tiffin, Ohio, 4 p.m. Sunday at Union Congregational Church, 176 Cooper Ave., Upper Montclair. There is no admission charge but an offering will be received to defray the choir's expenses.

Dr. Jay Mann, an associate professor of voice and choir at the college, conducts the 80-voice choir which has toured extensively in the United States and Europe and is currently on its annual spring concert tour.

Other sponsors include Community Church of Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge Congregational Church, First Congregational Church of Montclair and First Congregational Church of Verona.

Consumer education expert to address sisterhood March 18

Sisterhood of Temple Ner Tamid, 936 Broad St., Bloomfield, will hear consumer education specialist Esther Chernofsky discuss "Justice in the Marketplace" 8 p.m. March 18. Chernofsky is associated with the Essex County Division of Consumer Services and has been involved in the field of consumer law enforcement for over 12 years. Her presentation will deal with procedures for handling consumer problems, the correct format for a letter of complaint and an overview of consumers' rights under the law.

Co-presidents Shirley Sapir and Mildred Donahue invite members and husbands to attend. Refreshments will be served. Belle Sweetwood is program vice-president.

Cookies, anyone?

Bloomfield is expecting almost 30,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies which will be delivered by local scouts including (front) Theresa Montanaro and Susanne Lomonta from Brownie Troop 30 and (rear) Nicole Bush, Junior Troop 620, Elizabeth Ciccone, Brownie Troop 30, Allyson Caggiano, Brownie Troop 30 and Danielle Morgart, Junior Troop 81. Abuse committee sets a new policy

The Belleville Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee met Feb. 27 to agree on a reorganization plan to develop new strategies for combating substance abuse by young people in the township.

Doug Cantarella was elected chairperson; Joseph Cappello, vice chairperson; Joseph Ciccone, honorary vice chairperson and Eileen Brown, secretary.

Four new sub-committees to address specific objectives in confronting drug and alcohol abuse were created. The sub-committees

- and their chairpersons are:
- To educate parents and the community at large and to stimulate community involvement in this committee William Adelhelm and Judy Cantarella.
 - To collect and disseminate information relating to the committee's work David Bryant.
 - To encourage and support the continuation of drug and alcohol abuse curricula in the Belleville School System Barbara Ciccone.
 - To develop counseling referral programs. To establish working relationships with community resources/treatment programs Mike Harvey.

The Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee thanked the Belleville Board of Education, represented at this meeting by Grace Purdue, for 1985 funding to help the committee to do its work.

The Committee requested that a week in May be declared for drug and alcohol awareness in Belleville.

Statue of Liberty is program topic

The Statue of Liberty was the focus of a presentation given at School 4 by Adrea Cohen, assistant library director, honoring American History Month.

President Reagan announced the formation of the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission with Lee Iacocca as its chairman on May 18, 1982. The goal of the commission and its operating affiliate, the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, is the raising of $230 million for the restoration and preservation of the statue, Cohen said. The money will also fund the establishment of a memorial to the millions of immigrants who came to the United States through Ellis Island.

A filmstrip shown by Cohen explained how the Statue of Liberty became a symbol of friendship between France and the United States in 1884. It has been standing on Liberty Island in New York harbor for nearly 100 years, serving as a welcoming beacon and inspiration, Cohen said.

Assemblymen meet seventh graders

Assemblyman Stephen Aduato and attorney Thomas P. Zampino addressed 7th graders recently at Belleville Middle School.

Aduato spoke on the duties of a state assemblyman and asked for the students' reactions on school prayer. Zampino spoke on the legal problems of divorce and its effects on family members. A former English teacher, Zampino is with the firm of Jackson and Zampino.

Other activities at the school include after school roller skating trips to United Skates, Wilwoodbrook and weekly skiing trips to Vernon Valley. Special skiing trips are held during Christmas and February vacations and lessons for beginners and equipment rental is available.

Peggy Liberti, an advanced skier, spent three weeks in Zermatt, Switzerland, last summer where she placed 9th in the slalom and 4th in the giant slalom.

Three wrestlers make history

By Joe Piegaro

Cerreto, Zarro, Gibbons. All year, these three names have been good news to BHS fans and trouble for the opposition.

Last week at the Region 2 championships, all three boys made school history. In a year which saw dozens of records shattered, it was only fitting for the "Big 3" to go out as champions, breaking records along the way.

Dom Cerreto, after heartbreaking frustrations his first three varsity campaigns, won the gold medal at 116 pounds in his senior year. With a season record of 25-2 (80-20 lifetime), Dom was easily the most dominant of the three Buc champions.

The senior tri-captain had his toughest match in the quarterfinals, a close 4-2 triumph over Robert Morales of Paterson Kennedy. In the semis, Dom trounced third seeded Dom Romeo of Cliffside Park, 15-4. Once the snowball had started to roll, it became an avalanche. Dom smothered top seeded Steve Jennerich of Rutherford in the finals, 16-4.

For his career, Cerreto has left an indelible mark in the record books. With matches will be to wrestle in the states (four more, we hope) Dom is the all time BHS victory leader, with 82 wins.

The second tri-captain, Ralph Zarro, carved his own niche into BHS sports history by defeating perennial rival Rick Moskowitz of Glen Ridge in the finals. "Junior" had defeated Moskowitz in the District 7 final only last week, a close 6-5, last second victory. Zarro's season mark now stands at 25-3, with a 40-12-1 lifetime state. That 40th victory pushed him ahead of Jim Meyler and Brian Banda on Belleville's all time victory list. Ralph is now tied with Ron Grolimond for spot number 17.

Emotionally, "Junior"

probably had the most difficult match of our three champs. Moskowitz is one of Zarro's close friends, and while it is wonderful to be a winner, a victory over a friend can sometimes be bittersweet. Showing his championship mettle, Zarro did what needed to be done and breezed into the states next week with an 8-3 decision. Earlier, he had beaten John Avelletta of Cedar Grove 7-4 in the quarterfinals, then went into overtime before deciding Andy Chermak of Hasbrouck Heights in the semis.

Belleville's third tri-captain, Mike Gibbons, had only one true challenger for his title, Rich Ceynowa of Clifton. After "Iron Mike" beat Nick Pallotta of Palisades Park, 21-2 and pinned Robert Mack of Eastside, there was Ceynowa, waiting to meet Gibbons for the fifth time in two years.

Earlier in the season, Gibbons beat out Ceynowa for the Bloomfield Christmas Tourney title by earning an 11-8 decision. In the season's dual meet, "Iron Mike" caught Ceynowa in a cradle and decided him late in the third period.

Of course, everyone in Belleville and Clifton already knew Ceynowa beat Gibbons last year for the Region 2 championship, a 4-3 decision in overtime. Additionally, there were ill feelings between the two titans, fueled by this year's 7-0 victory in football by the Bucs over the Mustangs.

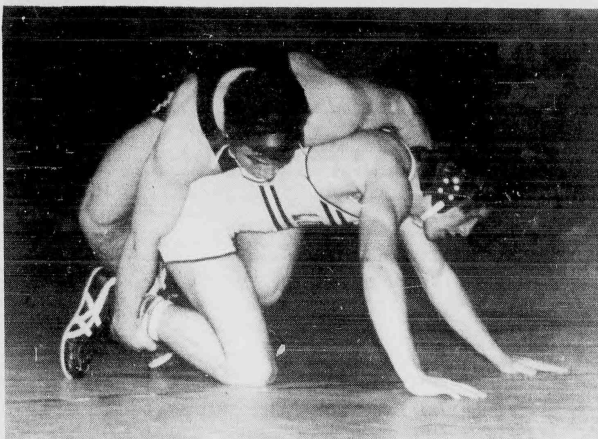

So the stage was set. Unfortunately, the match was exciting only for what was at stake, not for what went on during the bout. Both boys wrestled cautiously, but Ceynowa stalled almost an entire four minutes before mat judge Ernie Zuberer penalized Rich one point. Gibbons added icing to the cake by using an escape and a takedown to forge the final margin of victory, 4-0.

It is probably the end of a terrific high school rivalry as both boys have been placed in different brackets in the state tournament. While it is improbable, they could meet again, but only as finalists for the state championship. Who knows?

Gibbons now owns a 27-0 mark for the year and has moved into second place on BHS' victory list with a lifetime mark of 70-6-1.

Tilts & Stacks: A few observations...The regionals bring out the most peculiar behavior in people! For instance: Cerreto's mom Lucille and Zarro's mother Linda rocking to and fro in stereo while their boys competed; or Mrs. Gibbons leaving the gym altogether as a superstition while Mike was on the mat; or Coach D'Alessandro, normally a reserved, expressionless observer, grinning so broadly fluorescent bulbs paled in comparison; or 25 anonymous boosters controlling the goings-on of a prominent local restaurant for almost two and one half hours...strange indeed! The answer to last week's Quiz Question...Only two wrestlers have ever won the Essex County Wrestling Tournament and they proceeded to win the State Tournament in the same year. They were Milburn's Paul Finn in 1977-78 and Belleville's own Chris Musmanno in 1979-80...no Quiz Question this week, but just to start an argument, here is my all-time BHS wrestling team: 101 Carl Arli...108 Vince Mustacchio...115 Dom Cerreto...122 Tied Mark D'Amico and Gerard Minichini...129 John "Boff" Mustacchio...135 Chris Tremel...141 Dan Bivona...148 Tied Rob Villano and Ralph Zarro...158 Jim Meyler...170 Chris Musmanno...188 "Iron Mike" Gibbons...HWT George D'Alessandro...See you at the states.

Belleville wrestlers dominated The Regionals this past week as they have opponents all year long.

Bucs track team waits for warmer weather

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville indoor track team closed out its abbreviated 1984-85 season with competition in the Essex County championships. The team will now wait until March 8 when the outdoor season commences.

Head coach John Tosato was happy with his teams performance in the winter months, although the team did miss three scheduled meets. "The weather played a part in the season," Tosato said. "We missed three matches because of the snow storms this year. We did get in a lot of work, though. We spent a lot of time lifting and got the chance to throw indoors thanks to the cooperation of the basketball coaches."

The weight team was led by senior Frank Trupia, junior Larry Boiscano and sophomore Jon Paul Lenczuk. Both Trupia and Boiscano achieved personal bests in throwing the shot put during competition this winter. "We were a little hampered in the throwing department," said Tosato. "We did get some gym time, but when there is just one gym to go around, time is limited."

The girl runners were paced by freshman Joyce Luongo. Having just completed a fine cross country season, Luongo was very effective in the indoor sport and should be a solid competitor this spring.

and freshman DiAnne Lenczuk also did a good job running this winter. Luongo, Daudelein and Herschel will be training for the distance events this spring. Look for Lima and Herschel to see time in the middle distance and sprinting events.

The boy runners saw the Hutchinson achieved personal best performances of 5:10 in the mile and 11:03 in the two mile. Huamani came through with a 5:23 mile and should be a big help in the 800 and mile runs this spring. Schenck should see time in the sprinting events, as should Di Vincenzo and Speer. Akain will take part in the 400 meters, while Ruzzano, Zurlo and Scheible will vary in the middle to long distance events.

Perhaps the best performance of the indoor season was turned in by senior Mike Siletti. He set no less than three school indoor records, running a 7.2 in the 50 yard hurdles, a 59.2 in the 440 and 1:28.8 in the 600. Tosato hopes to use him in the 400 meter hurdles this spring and possibly in the 800.

Tosato also emphasized the need for more athletes to come out for the spring term. "We emergence of Bob Scheible, along with the continued improvement of John Zurlo, Tom Ruzzano and Berj Akain. J.R. Di Vincenzo, Joseph Speer, Dave Schenck, Bill Huamani and Bob Hutchinson turned in another solid campaign and should be stalwart performers in the spring.

could really use help in the shot put and high jumping events. The more athletes that are willing to come out and compete, the better off the team will be."

The 1985 spring season will mark the tenth anniversary of the last winning track team at Belleville High School. Back in 1975, the Belbolls finished with an 8-6 record. That team was led by Mike Fortino, Jim Beck, Doug Wamsley and Nelson Seda. Four of the six losses that year were by a total of 27 points, included in those setbacks was a 62-60 loss at Bloomfield when a sophomore named Kelly Tripuka won the long jump on his final attempt. It has been quite some time since Belleville has been in the company of a winning season, maybe this year will be the start of something new at BHS.

The B.H.S. Boys Basketball team will hold their annual dinner on Sunday, March 24 at 3 p.m.

If you are interested in attending, contact Tito and Marie Finetti at 429-8227.

Dom Cerreto, Mike Gibbons, and Ralph Zarro all will take part in the state championships at Princeton.

NNJIL athletic rules are part of the Bucs sports philosophy

By Mike Lamberti

Since joining the NNJIL in the fall of 1982, Belleville athletics has been judged by more than just wins and losses. The conference is very strict on the manner of fans and athletes alike. Every season, the NNJIL awards the school with the best sportsmanship and all-around attitude toward the respective games. In 1982-83, Belleville was a winner, cited for their fine sportsmanship and excellent athletic program.

For those who are not familiar with the rules employed by the NNJIL, here are some of the things expected of both the athletes, cheerleaders and fans of the school that compete in the NNJIL.

Players are expected to use good sportsmanship. Do not swear or fight. Use self control. Do nothing which will bring discredit to the school. Win graciously; lose without alibi. Accept officials' judgment without question. Give the best that is in you for your team and school. Avoid any reference to color, creed, or nationality of the opponent.

The NNJIL code of conduct for athletic events has eight parts. Number one reads, "Enthusiastically encourage your own team." Number two: "Refrain from abusive or irritating remarks and booing." Number three: "Accept the decisions of officials with good grace." Number four: "Don't endanger the safety and comfort of the players or other spectators, for example, by throwing objects." Number five: "All trouble provoking noisemakers, signs, and banners should be avoided." Number six: "Present your student identification when requesting student privilege." Number seven: "At basketball games, silence is requested while a player is shooting." Finally, number eight reads: "Any person obviously and intentionally violating the code will be subject to ejection from the event."

There is a section devoted to the conduct of the cheerleaders. The girls are expected to keep off the playing field or court during the course of a game, cheer the opposing team before the contest starts, show courtesy toward each other and in basketball, to alternate during a time out. The visiting team should cheer first and except when cheering, the girls should be seated in the designated area.

Belleville has had an excellent cheerleading crew for a number of years and has always adhered to policy.

For coaches, the NNJIL dictates that a coach should teach good sportsmanship, including the proper attitude to officials and a respectful attitude toward the opponent. The supervision of athletics in buses, lockerrooms and during contests. Meeting with opposing coaches before and after contests and having players meet with opponents after contests to congratulate one another. Demonstrate proper bench and coaching conduct during a contest as it applies to the particular sport.

The reason for the NNJIL posting these rules is that everyone associated with a team in the conference will be aware of what is expected. The fans play a very important part in this. Although you do not directly affect the final score, you are a very significant contributor. The average Belleville sports fan, in my opinion, is a very knowledgeable person. He has followed sports at BHS for many years and knows the ins and outs of a particular sport. The athletes very much value your opinion and get an extra "lift" when the fans are behind them.

What people sometimes forget is that the coaches at Belleville High are teachers in the school system who are involved in the coaching aspect for just one reason: to teach our young men and women the fine points of a particular sport. The spectator should respect the judgement and strategy of a coach, and not criticize the player or coach for a loss of a game. When a fan, particularly a parent, gets disgruntled with a coach because of a bad game, that is additional pressure that is cast upon the young men or women that are trying their best on the athletic field. They very much want to please their parents, but in the same aspect, they want to contribute to the team and make their coach proud of them. The high school level is for a young man or woman to have fun while taking part in sports, whether it be varsity or junior varsity. There will certainly be enough pressures in every day life for these people to endure when the high school days are behind them. Enjoyment and good memories should be the goal in high school sports.

There were some excellent high school basketball games played last weekend at Seton Hall University. The Essex County championship for the boys and girls took center stage as Shabazz won an unprecedented fourth straight girls championship and Montclair took the boys title for the third time over the last four seasons.

The Shabazz-Irvington game was marred by a fracas following the final buzzer as the Lady Campers were defeated by a 59-58 count. It seems the official awarded a foul to Irvington as the buzzer sounded, but then disallowed the foul, much to the chagrin of camper coach Vin Smith and his teammates. The altercation at center court following the game took away from a sprited game in which Shabazz rallied from a 20 point deficit to win its fourth straight crown. The Montclair-Seton Hall Prep contest wasn't as physical, but the game had plenty of excitement as Seton Hall Prep, ranked number one in the State of New Jersey, made a strong bid to win its first county title since 1956. Only the magic of Bob Lester, the Mountie coach, and the clutch shooting of Mountie Fred Jennings down the stretch denied the Hall the title and handed the Prep its first loss of the season.

Once again, special accolades go out to our Belleville wrestling team. The Buccaneers captured the District 7 championship last weekend, with Michael Gibbons, Ralph Zarro and Dominic Cerreto leading the way. The win was especially sweet for the Bucs considering the team had lost its last two dual matches of the year to P-Burg and Clifton.

The 'Big Three' of Gibbons, Cerreto and Zarro were at it again last weekend as the regionals took center stage. The three seniors took top honors in their respective weight classes and will advance to the state tournament at Princeton. For Gibbons, the victory extended his record to 27-0 and avenged a controversial loss to Cliftons Rich Ceynowa in last years regional championship. He enters the states as the number two seed in the 189 pound class and has a chance to become the first Belleville wrestler since Chris Musmanno in 1980 to win a state wrestling title and finish undefeated. Certainly good luck is extended to all three men in their endeavors this week.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is everyone involved with the BHS wrestling program. Congratulations on another fine accomplishment.

The answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the participants in the '67 Series, the series MVP and the amount of games the series went. The answer: St. Louis defeated Boston in seven games as Bob Gibson was named the MVP for his three victories on the mound. The Cards were 101-60 in 1967 while Boston was 92-70.

For this week, the quiz comes from Paul and Raymond Harmon, two Belleville natives. The question is what two American light heavyweights won the Olympic gold medal between 1960 and 1976 and later won the heavyweight title on the professional level. Happy Birthday to Paul Harmon and the answer will appear next week.

Finally, the Belleville High School athlete of the month for February will be profiled in next week's edition.

Boys' team finishes with credible mark

Last season, the Belleville boys suburban basketball team won it all, taking the championship of the league and posting an 18-1 record. This year, the Bucs were a successful entry once more, finishing with an 8-5 mark and advancing to the playoffs under coach Joe Papasidero.

Papasidero, who coached the varsity from 1979-84 before resigning, was back in his familiar coaching position, but this time on a younger level. "We started slowly this year," Papasidero said, looking back on the 1-3 start. "They were a good group of kids. We had no exceptional height, but a good blend of players who played well together."

The Bucs posted a seven game winning streak at one stretch of the season, turning a 1-3 mark into an 8-3 record and clinching a playoff berth. The Bucs were ousted in the semifinals by West Caldwell, 64-59. "That game showed how much we improved," Papasidero said. "Earlier in the season, we lost to them by five touchdowns."

For those fans who do not follow football, Belleville was defeated by Caldwell early in the season by 35 or so points, thus the performance in the semifinals was quite an improvement.

The Bucs were also ripped by Maplewood early in the campaign, losing by 40 points. Later in the season, Belleville was defeated again, but this time by 15 points in a game that Belleville trailed by just three points in the early stages of the fourth quarter.

The Suburban Bucs employed a three forward offense. The starting lineup for most of the season consisted of Dominick Straface, Vito D'Allesio and Kevin Marion at forward with Anthony Rodriguez and Raymond Zamlot at the guard positions.

The remainder of the squad consists of Tim Cook, Nick Torano, Tim Witt, Mike Feinan, Tony Narcheso, Steven Tice, Mike Pucci, Chris Cantorella, Jim Krupka, Bill Phelps and

Doug Hougindike. Jerry D'Allesio was the scorekeeper. Krupka, Phelps and Hougindike are seventh graders that should be back next season. The remainder of the team is eighth graders that probably will try out for the freshman team next winter.

The leading scorer on this year's team was Straface, with a 20 ppg average. He tallied 23 in the loss to West Caldwell, while Rodriguez finished with 17.

It was a very promising winter for the future Belleville High School basketball players. Next season, and the years to follow, fans who follow BHS athletics should hear a great deal about these young men.

Endorsement

Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Allesio has received support of Belleville Democratic Town Chairman Chester Prosperi. D'Allesio formally announced his candidacy for re-election to a second term as sheriff before a crowd of about 750 friends and supporters at Blase's Restaurant in Newark.

Religious viewpoint:

George Washington, our first president, who prayed in the snow at Valley Forge said, "The event is in the hands of God." "When the tide of battle was unfavorable, Washington was asked, "How will it end?" His decisive answer was, "God will direct."

But this whole nation must be moved to prayer. So great are the dangers, so grave the perils, so tremendous the political problems, no important the election issues, that it is imperative that we lay hold upon the Lord God in prayer for His will.

Crime victims...

There is no parole for victims." Grayson said that many times parole was denied when victims were given the chance to speak before a parole board.

Recovered property

Within the Bill of Rights, a victim would be informed of recovered property. Victims are never informed of this unless they pursue the investigation, Grayson said. When property is recovered, police auction it off. It is never given back to the victim, he said.

To see that the victim is reimbursed for whatever losses he suffers, a Victim's Compensation Board was established. This board appropriates money to victims for out-of-pocket expenses such as medical bills, he said. New Jersey is one of 39 states in which this board exists.

Most insurance companies do not cover "victim's insurance."

Grayson said. If they do, it is at an additional cost to the policyholder.

With the establishment of the compensation board, criminals, if found guilty, must pay at least $25 into the fund. Grayson said that $2.5 million was accumulated in 1981. The crime victim's council is also fighting for mandatory restitution in which the criminal, if found guilty, must pay the victim back for whatever losses are suffered.

Little consideration

To emphasize how little the victim is sometimes considered when it comes to the justice system, Grayson told the audience a story of a Paterson man whose car was stolen.

He said the car was finally found in New York and was being held at a police headquarters. When Grayson and the man arrived to pick up the car, they encountered a problem. When the car was abandoned, it was parked illegally and received a ticket. The main concern of the police was not that they had recovered a stolen vehicle, but rather who was going to pay the parking ticket. Eventually the policeman who wrote up the summons was found and the ticket was waived.

Grayson also told the story of his own experience as a crime victim. In January of 1975, he was riding home from work through Parsippany when his car was hit by another car passing by. After driving a little further, Grayson saw the car pulled over to the side of the road. When he got out of the car, he was mugged by four men.

No medical treatment

He was brought into police headquarters for four-and-a-half hours without receiving treatment. He was also not allowed to make a phone call. When the police brought in the four men who attacked him, each was allowed a phone call. Grayson was also held in the same room as his attackers while police sorted out their reports.

As a result of the incident, Grayson was blinded in his right eye and suffered nerve damage. He soon learned that his insurance company would not cover his medical bills and if it weren't for his family, he said, he would be lost.

His attackers received three years' probation.

Grayson said that criminals only spend one-fifth of their sentencing time in jail, a nationwide figure. Only 15 percent of criminals are ever appearing to trial. He said 6 percent receive a prison term.

Referring to the Bernhard Goetz case in New York, Grayson said that this is what will happen if police don't put criminals away. He also said that judges are more at fault for the way the justice system is because they have the power to do something.

Grayson is also the author of a directory, "Crime Victim's Aid," which lists crime victims services for the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania area.

colleges to have someone to talk to in times of stress.

"Having someone to talk to keeps students' energies from being drained from their academic work," she said. "Black students have people to assist their internal drives and motivational energies. They need a mentor relationship which is greater on the black college campus."

The study revealed that black students on black college campuses are encouraged to participate more in campus life than on white college campuses. There is also greater cross-pollination of friendships and academics, she said. Black students have a sense of having belonged to something greater and they appreciate their educational experience, she added.

Although black students in predominantly white colleges are more advanced than their counterparts, demonstrating higher test scores and possessing higher socioeconomic backgrounds, many of them experience more developmental problems.

"These students begin to feel alienated and abandoned by the institution," she said. "There are fewer people to talk to and students have a hard time getting along with their teachers. They begin to feel like failures. By senior year, they suffer motivational losses."

Fleming said that educational facilities are not enough and that a challenging interaction is important to the educational process. This interaction, she added, results in what Americans call "success."

Challenging interaction

One such success story is that of Robert Ross, a marketing specialist for Merrill Lynch, who shared his experience with UNCF members.

Ross, a native of East Orange, told how he left his hometown to pursue his secondary education at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga. The school, a predominantly black all-male college, graduated such men as Martin Luther King Jr. and track star Edwin Moses.

Ross described his years at Morehouse as ones of growth and maturity. He said that those who meet a Morehouse graduate for the first time and are not familiar with the school will be sure to remember it the next time.

The United Negro College

Fund, founded in 1944, supports 42 private and fully accredited predominantly black colleges and universities like Morehouse. Eighty-five percent of all black physicians and 75 percent of black Ph.D.s receive their undergraduate degrees at UNCF member institutions, said Verdell Roundtree, supervisor of the UNCF state campaign.

The annual corporate campaign kickoff meeting is designed to review the fundraising activities of the previous year while encouraging the support of state corporations for the current year.

Fundraising campaign

Contributions from state firms to the 1984 UNCF fundraising campaign totaled $608,000, exceeding its campaign goal by $8,000. Roundtree said this year's UNCF goal is $660,000.

school repairs became his main priority. In 1980 repair work on school buildings, including new windows and paint, began. School 4, which is now being repaired, is the last elementary school to be completed, Zoppi said.

"I believe our board turned things around," he said. "We turned around an image from very negative to very positive. I want to continue this. I believe our school system is very progressive and that we are moving in the right direction."

Zoppi said that the board was recently certified by the state board of education which is something to be proud of. "We've come a long way," he said. "Our board is one that worked together on the issues."

Lack of communication

Although Zoppi said the board responds to issues quickly, he still believes the communication between the board and parent groups could be improved.

"The lack of communication with people is not a new problem," he said. "I believe we respond to the issues that people bring before us, but our decisions do not reach the parents. We are not communicating back properly. Parents have to be informed. It's a shame that they only come to board meetings when they have an issue."

Ernest Zoppi

As far as issues are concerned, Zoppi has a few of his own. Continued attention to the special education program and curriculum development are his main concerns, as well as the computer program recently incorporated into the school curriculum.

"In 1980 we had one computer in the system and that wasn't even ours," he said. "That one was owned by a teacher. Today we have 70 computers in the elementary schools, 16 in the middle school, and I don't know how many in the high school. This program is one that has to be developed."

New concept

Developing programs is not new to Zoppi. In fact, he was the architect behind the magnet school concept which specializes some of the elementary schools in various programs. School 10, for example is a magnet school for the basic skills program, while School 7 focuses on the academically talented program.

"These programs are constantly expanding," he said. "The academically talented program now involves fourth, fifth and sixth graders, and the basic skills program continues to grow."

"Our board is definitely on line and doing the job," he said. Zoppi, president of the Michael Marotti Civic Organization and Optimist Club member, was an original member of the Vocational-Education Advisory Council which oversees the vocational programs at the high school.

Zoppi said he will have a kickoff campaign party March 12 at the Amvets hall on Newark Avenue and that the public is invited.

Opposing candidate, Kevin Kennedy, is not unfamiliar with the election process. He was a candidate for the school board in the last election and was also a candidate for the board of commissioners in 1979 and 1983.

Although he does not have children himself, Kennedy shares his concerns with friends who have children in the school system. One of Kennedy's main concerns is the lack of financial responsibility.

"There is just too much money being spent," he said. "Just last week the school board budget was published in The Star-Ledger for $2,600 and The Times for $600. The budget should not have been published for that amount of money. It was unnecessary."

'Too much money'

Kennedy disagreed with the $1 million budget increase saying that too much money is spent on administrative costs.

"Our educational system has improved, but the most expensive doesn't mean it is the best," he said. "Paying someone $20-$30,000 does not guarantee he is the best teacher. Skills tests should be the basis of teacher selection. You have to get the best for your money."

Kennedy also said he would like to look into personnel and see how people were hired.

"The board is wasting the taxpayer's money," he said. "You can't have politicking on the board. If I am elected, I am not going to give out any jobs to people who the campaigner for me."

"I know I have the political machines against me, but I'm not afraid," he continued. "I'm my own person. If there is any wheeling and dealing on the board, I intend to bring it out in the open. We should have new board members who care for our children and the taxpayers."

Business sense

Kennedy, who believes his "common business sense" makes him just as qualified as any other candidate or board member, also stressed his concern for the lack of communication between parents and the board. He suggested a bi-weekly newsletter which would be sent to working parents, informing them of board happenings.

A resident since 1960, Kennedy is an active member of the Knights of Columbus, Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Deborah Hospital, John V. Kelly Association and the Vincent T. Strumolo Association.

The school board election is April 2. Polls will be open from 2-9 p.m.

One Plus One Equals Three

New Math? No! This is simply a way of describing a drug-drug interaction. Since most drugs can cause side effects of varying degrees, it's not surprising that one person may be using two drugs with similar side-effects, such as a cold remedy and a cough syrup, each with the capability of causing drowsiness. Instead of a simple additive effect, each may intensify the other so that the two together are more than twice as potent as either alone. Call us at ... 235-0821
