Campaigns coming to a close for candidates running for seats on the board of education

By Michelle Jeannotte

School board candidates are finishing up their campaigns this week as election day quickly approaches. Township residents will be given a chance Tuesday, April 2, to vote for two of three school board candidates as well as the fate of a $17.7 million school budget.

Topics discussed by the candidates included teacher salaries, school enrollment, curriculum and their qualifications. Zoppi, who is completing the term of Charles Miele, believes in giving continued attention to the special education program and curriculum development.

"I have three goals for that is pleasurable to the students, and thirdly, we have to keep the system in the reach of the people who pay for it. We have increased the academic standards over the years and I'm proud of it."

Zoppi said that the present board has been one of the best in the last few years. It is a board,

One of the questions Zoppi was asked on the taped debate dealt with the decrease in student enrollment over the years. Howard Halpern asked the incumbent whether he believed there would be school closings as a result.

"I don't see the reason for any closings," he said. "The schools you're talking about were built for small enrollments. School 10 is at capacity and schools 4 and 10 are a little below or above capacity. Down the road there may be a possibility of consolidated principals of the small schools, but that is a possibility the board will have to look at in the future. I would rather have one principal in each building."

Zoppi believes that his experience in business qualifies him as a candidate. He is the director of sales and marketing for the third largest paint company in the country and believes his business management would be a benefit to the board.

Joseph Cappello, a second school board candidate, believes his experience in education qualifies him as a candidate. He has been an educator for the past 14 years and has a master's degree in education and a doc-

Morning fire destroys auto station

A one-alarm fire destroyed a Belleville auto service station yesterday morning.

The fire at Guaranteed Tune Up, 485 Washington Ave., started at 10:46 a.m. and was brought under control in about an hour, a fire official said.

Deputy Fire Chief Killen was injured with burns. Fire officials believe a short circuit might have been the cause of the fire.

Ernest Zoppi

Joseph Cappello

Kevin Kennedy

The school board candidates, incumbent Ernest Zoppi, Dr. Joseph Cappello and Kevin Kennedy, have come face to face a few times to discuss the topics. This week they answered questions on OBC's cable show, "Belleville in Person" with host Howard Halpern, which can be seen tonight at 9:30.

becoming a school board member," he said. "One of them is to make this system the best educationally. The board has been updating the curriculum over the past few years. By and large, we've taken a great step forward."

"The second goal is to provide a learning environment

he said, that has worked well together."

"Unless board members are working together, nothing moves," he said. "We established a vocational wing a few years ago and now provisions have been made for the special education students. This is extremely important and

Revitalization committee formed to fight blight proposal for Washington Avenue

Opponents of the blight declaration for Washington Avenue are fighting the proposal by organizing their own committee.

The Belleville Revitalization Committee, consisting of merchants and residents, was formed to protest the proposal of blighting certain areas of Washington Avenue.

The group's existence became known when Vincent Frantantoni, director of the group, spoke before the board of commissioners and a concerned audience at the public meeting at School 7 last week. At that time, Frantantoni urged members of the audience to join them in the group's fight against the blight declaration.

Members of the group traveled around the township last week in efforts to get people to join. The membership has reached 400, Frantantoni said. "People don't really know what they support," he said. "After I talk to people awhile, they realize certain things they hear aren't true."

"People don't seem to understand what is happening down here," Louis Cicenia, chairman, said. "We are all for redeveloping Washington Avenue, but only if it is without blight. Many people do not even realize what the word blight means. It's a very serious situation down here."

The group has outlined a number of proposals for the redevelopment of Washington Avenue and presented them to the board of commissioners at its Tuesday meeting. One of the first objectives of the committee is to enlarge town hall to accommodate all public agencies in one building along with a new police station and a two- or three-level municipal parking lot.

This proposal is in agreement with the proposal made by Townsplan, the private firm hired by the township to study Washington Avenue, said Cicenia.

As stated on the committee's sign up sheet, "We support the efforts of our commissioners and the Belleville Redevelopment Agency. We desire to redevelop our town as per the goals set forth in the Townsplan report."

The statement goes on to say that the committee does not support a blight declaration because it would create a stigma and burden upon the township.

Teacher's aide denies school arson

A suspended teacher's aide pleaded innocent last week to charges she set fire to a school for emotionally disturbed children at the Community Mental Health Services building in Belleville.

The 28-year-old Caldwell woman was charged with aggravated arson after a week-long investigation by the arson squad of the county prosecutor's office, the county police, and the Belleville Fire Department, Essex County Assistant Prosecutor Fred Franco said.

The March 14 fire caused damage to the first floor of the three-story building. Belleville Fire Captain Robert Reed and firefighter Thomas LaMin were treated for injuries.

Policemen's Ball - Past presidents of the Belleville Patrons' Benevolent Association received awards at the group's 75th annual ball held last week at Nanna's Restaurant. Those honored included (l-r) Arthur Connolly, Bill Escotti, State Delegate Edgar

Purdue, who decided not to run for reelection, became a board member in 1982 and had been president of the board since 1983. She had planned to run for reelection, but injuries sustained from a car accident a few months ago have prevented her from running.

Members of the audience as well as fellow board members wished the president a speedy recovery and continued success. Many praised her for her accomplishments as a board member as well as her role as president.

"There aren't words that can express our appreciation," Barbara Cicalese said. "You have brought a new meaning to the word communication. For the first time the gap between the board and parents has been opened."

Cicalese is the chairperson of the Consolidated Association of Recognized Organizations of Parents and Teachers of the Belleville Schools.

Viola Spray, Purdue's elementary school teacher, described her former student as methodical, analytical, and most of all, loving.

"We know it's true that love conquers all," she said, "and her (Continued on page 16)

Elizabeth Goldrick, William Hauman, and Karen Morrison, all Belleville High School seniors, have been selected to participate in the 1984-85 High School Scholars Program in Computer Education which is sponsored by the Westinghouse Foundation and sponsored by the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

Students had to receive two recommendations, one from a mathematics teacher and one from a science teacher, in the areas of mathematics and science skills, leadership qualities, and creative thinking in order to be qualified.

Belleville Business Bureau

By Howard Halpern

From time to time we all get into that proverbial rut. The hum drum of daily routine often gets the best of us. We use diversions like jogging, body building, or getting involved with community affairs, and so on.

A great way to take to divert one's attention from the daily rigors of life is to take up archery. Butts and Bows, 468 Washington Ave., might very well have the answer. Lenny Cardinale opened Butts and Bows 21 years ago and has developed a great source of relaxation and entertainment. Butts and Bows features a 60-foot archery range, the same dimension as a bowling alley. Here Lenny can teach anyone to shoot a bow and arrow.

There are only about 150 indoor archery ranges in the country, which makes Butts and Bows unique to this area. Lenny is an internationally acclaimed archery coach and has a Junior Olympic program set up for children 8 to 18 years of age. He organizes contests and tournaments for young and old on a weekly, monthly, and yearly basis.

Butts and Bows carries a complete line of archery equipment and accessories. So the next time you can't find anything to do and want to get out of the house, take the family to Butts and Bows, they'll set you straight as an arrow.

Harriet's Stationery, 233 Union Ave., has been on the corner of Joralemon Street for many years and has never been a member of the chamber. Its new owner, Danielle Kazista, has changed that by joining the chamber + a smart move indeed. June 1 will mark Danielle's first year in business ever.

Harriet's Stationery carries one of the largest greeting card selections in the area. The international selection includes Polish and Italian greeting cards. School Budget

What's with our school budget? And if you already haven't heard or been told about it, let us refresh your recollection.

The budget as proposed will enable the school board you have elected and will elect to provide an educationally sound, fiscally responsible school system. It continues programs that have made the Belleville school system one of the most outstanding in the State of New Jersey. The budget will permit the school board to make available to students the ability to improve their writing skills, expand their computer programs, provide adequate nursing care in the elementary schools and an expanded language department at the Middle School/High School.

Equally important, it must be remembered by homeowners that the value of their homes is directly related to the quality of our school system. The better the school system quality, the higher income family is attracted to our community. The higher income of newcomers, the faster it is to resell a home at a higher value. Yes, the very cornerstone of Belleville's quality of life is the quality of education available to the student body.

We believe the school board you elect is presenting you with a very frugal budget. A "Yes" vote on the budget will insure for Belleville the continuance of a sound, efficient, economical school system. You deserve no less — and our students, too, deserve no less.

Zoppi and Cappello

Two members of our community will be elected to the Belleville School Board on Tuesday. Running for re-election is incumbent Ernest Zoppi. Board President Grace Purdue declined re-election because of health reasons. Seeking election along with Zoppi are Dr. Joseph Cappella and Kevin Kennedy.

Zoppi already has served four years on the school board. He has served well and with distinction. He has earned re-election. Kevin Kennedy has sought a seat on the school board in the last election and also was a candidate for membership on the Township Commission in 1979 and 1983. Kennedy has demonstrated his civic interest by involving himself in the campaign process. However, we think the third candidate Dr. Joseph Cappella, a professional educator has more to offer as a member of the school board. As a parent, educator and taxpayer, Dr. Cappella covers all bases involving the educational system. Who can better evaluate the worth of a school system than one so involved as Dr. Cappella. Because of his superior credentials, we believe, the better interests of our students and taxpayers would be served by the election of Dr. Joseph Cappella and the re-election of Ernest Zoppi.

James Florio

Congressman James Florio has decided not to seek the Democrat nomination for governor this year.

Florio made his run for the roses four years ago and lost in a narrow election to incumbent Republican Governor Thomas Kean. All current polls indicate that Governor Kean would be a 2 - 1 favorite over Congressman Jim Florio were he to be Kean's opponent. The other five Democratic candidates just about register on the scale of preference. There is little doubt in the minds of most political experts that the Democratic nomination was Jim Florio's for the asking. Florio decided not to run because of financial considerations. Implied in his announcement was a suggestion that he would be unable to raise enough money to win the election. His action reminds us of an event 32 years ago when the late U.S. Senator Clifford Case and this writer drove up and down the State of New Jersey in a quest for financial support to finance a bid for the gubernatorial nomination. After eight weeks of door knocking to raise funds, we came up emptyhanded. In his announcement that he quit seeking the Republican nomination, Clifford Case stated, "I can't raise the money needed to win a campaign; and, therefore, I quit." Florio did not use such simple words, but the meaning of his action is evident. In 1985, Florio would be required over $5 Million in an effort to wrest the Governor's chair from Tom Kean. Apparently, Florio saw this as an impossible task. And so, he says to the world — and to New Jersey in particular — "Look, I'm not running this year, but I'm saving myself to fight another year."

Florio is one of America's outstanding congressmen. In the present circumstances, he is right when he states that his best service to the people of the State of New Jersey is in Washington, D.C. Florio is acclaimed nationwide as "Mr. Environment". God knows we need a congressman dedicated to cleaning up the environment.

We respect Congressman Florio's decision and trust in the long run it will serve New Jersey's best interests.

Florio's departure from the Democratic field leaves the Democratic gubernatorial race wide open. Essex has two candidates to offer — Newark's Mayor Kenneth Gibson and Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro. The record indicates they will make terrific candidates. No doubt, they will conduct a vigorous campaign, making both of them formidable opponents. It will take six weeks for the Democratic dust to settle. At that time, it should be clear who the Democratic nominee will be. It will be interesting to follow what now will be a very exciting campaign.

Chamber favors redeveloping, not blighting area of town

To the editor:

On Tuesday, March 19 a townwide meeting was held at Schoof 7 for the purpose of hearing the public's viewpoint regarding redeveloping Washington Avenue in blighting it.

I personally take offense to the statement made that the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is in favor of blighting the area! Let me put you all to rest as the executive vice president of the chamber of which I am also a 23-year member. I was present when a letter went out to our entire membership regarding this issue.

Yes, we are in favor of redeveloping and our 30 members that signed the letter for blighting was under a misunderstanding as the letter was ambiguous. Might I add that out of 200 members, 30 took the time to answer. Does that justify the entire membership? Can we be used as a tool for the public to believe that the chamber's in favor? Come now, let's stop hiding behind the skirt of the chamber.

We have worked for years to improve this town - where were these guys 20 years ago when we needed them? We are a vibrant, "hot" chamber and are all pulling together to make this town the talk of all towns. Let's pull together guys - let's all work for developing this town as there is much potential here. Clean up your properties, repair them and you will see how your property will skyrocket.

The people in this town deserve the right to remain here and live their lives peacefully without the headaches of their property depreciating.

Might I also add a thank you to Mayor Marotti and the commissioners for allowing this meeting to take place.

Parent organizations endorse passage of school budget

To the editor:

The members of the parent organizations in the Belleville Public Schools work closely and harmoniously with both the school board members and the members of the professional staff. Not only is this relationship effective but it allows us to be a part of the operation of the school district.

We are concerned about quality education and, of course, sound and prudent fiscal management.

We have attended two board meetings at which time the 1985-86 proposed school budget discussed by the board of education and questioned by members of our community.

We want the presently high level of education in Belleville to continue. This can only be done if you the voters and we the members of school parents groups give our educators the instructional tools they need.

We ask you for the passage of the budget. We intend to do just that. Thank you for helping our children.

Revitalization group urges citizens to join organization

To the editor:

In response to your editorial of March 21, the Belleville Revitalization Committee welcomes your interest in a development program without blight. We not only have been fighting for residents and businesses directly involved but all of Belleville.

The focus you have made will help to enlighten our town with some of the problems that will be encountered by placing the stigma of blight on the community. We who are directly affected by this have been trying to put this message across since its inception.

As you know we have retained William Brach, a noted redevelopment attorney in this state. He has much experience in surrounding communities. His message was for us to pursue a "Relabeling Declaration Code," 40-55C-17. This eliminates the power of eminent domain and provides us with all the necessary development entitlements and funding. No displacement would be necessary and redevelopment would be seen immediately.

We welcome all citizens to join our grass roots committee, the Belleville Revitalization Committee, to help pursue our objectives.

Golden Comments

by James R. Galden

The Belleville School Board election will be held Tuesday, April 2, 2-9 p.m. in the usual poll locations for school elections. Three candidates are competing for two three-year offices on the board and a budget of $17,713,600, which will, if approved, cause a five-point increase in town taxes will have its fate decided.

Likewise, the township budget will go up five points. In both instances salary increases are chiefly responsible for tax hike increases; with the county yet to be heard from. Nulley Finance Director Amiano has indicated an expected 10-point county increase for his community, should Belleville get "whacked" by the same amount we could expect a 20-point tax increase this year and comparable amounts on top of that for two more years in the future. How far can we go.

The President cuts down on wages and gifts to states, cities and towns, yet, our governing officials and school board members grant huge wage increases of 19 percent for township employees and 25.5 percent for board of education employees that are pyramided over three years while workers in private industry take cutbacks for job security or settle for meager 3 percent raises for the duration of a long term contract.

We are not against qualified and well trained people getting decent income for their services; we accept the criterion of the "catch up" theme of bringing comparable occupations into line. However, those who make the determination of these salary increases should consider the "stockholders," in this case the town taxpayer's ability to pay...it's no longer "smart" to count votes on the basis of generosity that the little fellow has to pay for.

You have a choice to vote for or against the school budget, but, with the town's budget, you can voice your views and ask questions at the public hearing at town hall April 9, at 8 p.m., but there is little likelihood it will be changed...on our county budget, just forget it...we get what they give us.

As a bit of advice, don't spend too much on the Easter bunny; the tax man will have a new and bigger bill for you on Aug. 1...that applies to tenants and property owners alike.

For our elected officials, take heed, you can't burn the candle on both ends without being burnt, like too many of the local citizenry are with these looming tax increases. It's time to reappraise the direction we're going tax-wise. Don't overlook the law of diminishing returns. It's something to think about.

Question of The Week

By Stacy Wolf

Question: What types of programs should be added or improved to better prepare a student for the job market?

Kathy Shandra
computer consultant
197 Adelaide St.

"I guess to enhance the computer programs, because the job market in the future is going to be all computers. My husband is a software consultant and our children are learning how to use computers. The companies we work for are constantly advancing their programs."

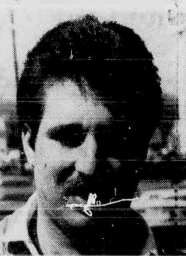

Frank LaMarte
carpenter
216 Joralemon St.

"I think they should expand the carpentry department. I mean getting more in depth instead of just concentrating on cabinets. Teach the students about internal building structures and design engineering so that they are better prepared for it in college."

Ann Calleja
bookkeeper 175 Gold St.

"I think computers are very big now, everything seems to be run by them. At my job we use them quite a bit. Students should be started in the lower grades so that they are already familiar with them when they encounter them in high school. Computer courses should also concentrate on problem solving because a computer is only as good as the programmer."

Ron Citarella
computer analyst
7 Smith St.

"I think they should have an educational experience center where business men and women come to the school on a weekly basis to enlighten and instruct graduating seniors. They can tell the students first hand what to expect in the business world. The guidance counselors should be kept up to date and inform their students about the pitfalls they can avoid."

Who makes those crosses of palm at Holy Family?

An annual custom, a quarter of a century old, is being played out again this year at Holy Family Church in Nutley.

Members of the Home-School Association and the Holy Name Society, along with other volunteers, are busily engaged in making crosses of palm in anticipation of Palm Sunday. Constructed of wood frames and circles of palm, they will be available for purchase by parishioners and others Saturday evening and Sunday.

The crosses, usually about 24 inches tall and 12 inches wide, are made in advance. The palm, which grows uncultivated in a wild state in the Florida Everglades, is purchased through a Nutley florist.

It comes in sprays or "heads" and must be stripped into fronds. Yellow or light green in color, it is then cut into 6- or 8-inch pieces, twisted and stapled to the crosses. A purple plastic flower is affixed to the center.

Robert Landolfi, president of the Parish Council, estimates that close to 800 crosses will be made, all by hand.

Palm has long been a Christian symbol. In itself, it is a sign of victory, its image frequently being found on the embossed medals of winning athletes and warriors. To the Christians, it is a reminder of the triumphant procession of Christ into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday. Exchanging pieces of palm with a neighbor is a sign of friendship.

Palm placed on the graves of the faithful departed is a symbol of Christ's resurrection on Easter Sunday and also of the Christian belief in the ultimate resurrection of the soul.

Kiwanis Club members discuss body building

The Kiwanis Club program for its March 14 meeting was especially designed to coincide with the club's father-son night meeting.

Thomas Cairo of Belleville presented a program of body building exercises that can be followed by anyone. The results of faithful attention to the schedule could be seen in Cairo who does compete in body building events and will compete for the "Mr. America" title.

The American Red Cross Society presented a program to the Kiwanis Club at its following meeting. The speakers cited the statistics and certain case histories of cancer patients as examples of some of the services the society performs.

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville was complimented by the Cancer Society for its annual participation in the Essex County drive. This year, as in the past, the club will handle the townwide distribution of the kits used by the neighborhood volunteers to contact and record their neighbors' participation.

A Generous Donation - Archibald Gallombardo, right, School 5 principal, presents a $500 check to Morris Pesin, a member of the National Commission for the Restoration and Preservation of the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. Students of School 5 participated in many fund-raising events for the Statue of Liberty, including a garage and cake sale by sixth graders and a collection of more than 500 Kellogg's cereal box tops (worth $50) by Mrs. Brennan's second graders. Classroom projects involving the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island have also been incorporated into the school curriculum.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia
and Paul N. De Malo

Mrs. F. asks, "Is there fluoride in the water in the Nutley/Belleville area?" No, Mrs. F. there isn't any fluoride in the water in Nutley or Belleville. However, it is very important that children ages 1-12 have daily supplements of fluoride to help prevent tooth decay.

The way fluoride works is to be incorporated in the tooth as the tooth is forming. This creates a harder tooth surface making decay that much more difficult. Since there isn't any fluoride in the area, it is advisable for your child to have fluoride by a pediatrician in a daily vitamin or your family dentist in a fluoride supplement.

Republicans gather for Marion Crecco

Over 150 Republican officials and party members gathered at a $25 a plate fundraising breakfast Sunday to honor Marion Crecco of Bloomfield. The event was held to help Crecco retire a campaign debt from the November 1984 election, when she placed highest of the GOP freeholder-at-large candidates in her first run for public office.

Secretary of State Jane Burgio keynoted the speakers at the breakfast, held at Mayfair Farms, West Orange. Toastmaster was James A. Piro, Nutley Republican municipal chairman and a former county chairman.

Officials attending included Essex County Republican Chairman Michael Francis, State Senators Donald DeFrancesco and Joseph Bubba, Assemblyman Robert Franks, Assemblyman Maureen Ogden, Freeholder Arthur Clay, Bloomfield Councilmen Robert Fetterly, John Crecco and Michael Casale, Nutley Commissioner Frank Cocchiola and Short Hills Committeewoman Cindy Fuller. John V. Kelly of Nutley, former assemblyman, was a dais guest.

Burgio's keynote speech was preceded by talks by Bloomfield

Mayor John Kinder and State Commissioner of Community Affairs John Renna. A common theme in all the talks was the hope that Crecco would consider running for office again.

In her remarks, Burgio praised Crecco as a person whose civic, charitable and party activities are a record of quality community service which won her bi-partisan voter recognition on her first try for public office.

She characterized Crecco as "a woman who is very conscious of the situations and issues of special interest to women, who did not seek to exploit those issues for personal benefit in the November election. In politics as well as in business, Marion believes in progress on the merits of one's own capabilities." Crecco operates an independent advertising sales organization with seven employees selling advertising space for a prestigious national business directory.

Current talk among Essex County Republicans concerns the possibility of fielding a slate teaming Crecco and former assemblyman Kelly to run for the 20th district assembly seats open in the November election.

Valvano, Akian win Optimist Club contest

Veronica Valvano and Berje Akian of Belleville High School have won the Optimist International Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Optimist Club of Belleville.

Each student will now progress to the Zone Competition, from which winners will vie for $1,000 in scholarships at the district competition.

Both students delivered outstanding orations on the topic, "I think the best; I expect the best." Akian approached the topic from a philosophical view, referring to such great philosophers as Descartes, while Valvano addressed the topic from an historical viewpoint, mentioning such great Americans as Thomas Jefferson, Susan B. Anthony and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Three students from Belleville Middle School placed in the competition: Margaret Akian, second place in the girls' division; Michael Gummelt, second place in the boys' division; and Herbert Ingram, runner-up in this division.

This is the eighth year the Optimist Club of Belleville has sponsored an oratorical contest. A total of $88,000 in scholarship prize money is awarded annually to oratorical contest winners by Optimist International.

Contest Winners - Veronica Valvano and Berje Akian (center, 1-2) were the winners of an oratorical contest sponsored by the Optimist Club of Belleville. With them are Belleville High School teachers Mrs. Lori LaCorte and Mrs. Lucy Cappello.

Orechio signs legislation to raise bidding threshold

Senate President Carmen Orechio has signed legislation to increase the threshold for bidding on local public contracts from $4,500 to $7,500.

"This legislation reflects a reasonable increase in the minimum level for bidding requirements based on the inflation rate since 1979," Senator Orechio said Thursday.

The measure, A-1659, sponsored by Assemblyman Anthony Vainieri, D-Hudson, amends the Local Public Contracts Law for local governing bodies to increase the threshold level for the first time since 1979.

The new law places the bidding threshold for local governing bodies at the same level as authorities, school boards and community and state colleges.

The senate president also signed three other bills into law late Wednesday when he was serving as acting governor while Governor Thomas Kean was in Washington. They are S-536, A-1775 and A-2409.

A measure, S-536, sponsored by Sen. Wayne Dumont, R-Warren, requires a motorist stopping at a flashing red light to proceed only after yielding the right of way to any traffic at the intersection.

The new law imposes the same obligation for a motorist stopping at a flashing red light as that of a motorist halted by a stop sign.

Senator Orechio also signed bill A-2409 which appropriates $40,000 to the Noise Technical Assistance Center at Rutgers University.

The measure, sponsored by Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, R-Union, replaces money which had been supplied by the federal government to help fund community noise control programs and provide services for the state Noise Control Council.

A fourth measure signed by Senator Orechio, A-1775, sponsored by Assemblywoman Barbara Faith Kalik, D-Burlington, directs the Department of Transportation to place reflectors as lane markers in roads being built or repaired.

The Kalik measure is designed to increase highway safety wherever the department is undertaking repairs, new construction or resurfacing.

Senate President Carmen Orechio presents Father Richard Carlson of St. Mary's, Nutley with a resolution at a recent Senate Session in appreciation for offering the invocation.

Crew team has 'high hopes'

High expectations, but low numbers. That pretty much summarizes the plight of the Belleville crew team as the squad busily prepares for the 1985 season under coach Sam Giuffrida.

"We have some good rowers coming back," the coach reported, "however we don't have the usual numbers that come out for crew. Our freshman team is strong, our sophomores have some talent, but we're green in between and lack the large turnout we normally receive."

The Bucs do have some quality boats returning to the waters this year, most notably the girls' defending national championship boat.

"They're hungrier than ever," Giuffrida said of the senior oriented boat. "Winning that title last year only gave them more incentive to win it again this season. They want to do it again in their final year of high school."

Back in 1982, a boat comprised of mostly freshman took the hearts and imagination of Belleville by winning a national championship. That junior eight shell consisted of six freshman, a sophomore and junior. Entering the 1983 campaign, this young team faced the rigorous challenge of repeating the title. The girls came through with a courageous effort, taking third in the nationals.

"That season only served to fire the team up for 1984," said Giuffrida of the near miss in '83. "They wanted more and were determined to get it back in 1984."

The girls did not disappoint their fans or themselves. Rowing with a new found intensity, the team came back to win a second national title. "They are our leaders now," Giuffrida said of the boat. "Those freshman of 1982 are now the girls that will lead this years team and help to mold future teams."

The four remaining members of that history making boat are Maureen Russo, Diane Black, Jackie Mele and Stephanie Aiello. The team is somewhat hampered in the early going because Russo is hobbled with a knee injury. "I don't know how long she will be out," Giuffrida said. "Indications are that she will be ready to go, but with a knee injury, it's a day to day thing."

Not to be outdone, the boys' four boat has the earmarks to be a solid crew in 1985. That team took second in the always tough "lick" races that are held in Philadelphia and attract a strong group of rowers. Returning this season are John Apicella, Bobby Charles, John Linfante and Mark

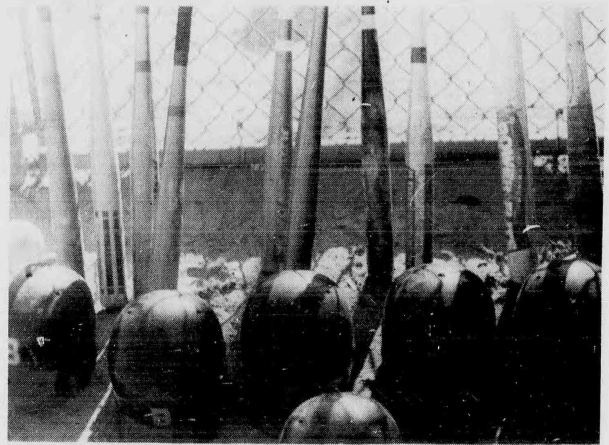

Walden. Mike Giuffrida, the coxswain of the 84 team, was graduated last spring and Dennis Ives and Jeff Conklin are vying for that important position.

Giuffrida is not taking any shortcuts in his preparation to the season. The Bucs open the campaign on March 31 by racing in the flocks. "The flicks get us in better shape for the regattas in May," the coach said. "We're trying to pull away from duel matches and take part more in the flicks. I think it really helped us last season."

The team will take part in the annual Goodwill Regatta with boathouse mates Nutley and Kearny and has scheduled a duel match with always tough Poughkeepsie.

Assisting Giuffrida this season are Robert Cassin and Scott Fabian. Former Belleville High rower Tom Apicella, a 1982 grad, is volunteering his time to the program. "It is always nice to have former athletes help out," Giuffrida said. "It's good to have them a part of the program."

The challenge has been presented and the Bucs now prepare for the rigors of the 1985 campaign along the banks of the Passaic River.

Play ball - Bats, balls, and helmets can only mean one thing, it's baseball and softball season again for the area high schools. The Lady Bucs look forward to another fine season as they Host Queen of Peace at Clearman field in their home opener 4 p.m. Monday.

Bucs seek repeat of '84 golf season as four lettermen return to links

Every year, around mid-March, head golf coach Rocco Colucci does his John Senesky imitation. You know the one, the "we're not going to do so well" speech that Senesky has made famous during the football season and the same line that Colucci has been using with marvelous success during his reign as golf coach.

Since becoming head coach of the Buccaneer linksters back in 1981, Colucci has led his team to a 36-15 record. Last year, Colucci predicted a near horror show for his young team, citing its lack of experience and playing time. The result: an 11-5 record, good for second place in the NNJIL, division II. "The other teams in the NNJIL were rebuilding too," Colucci said, "we were lucky to do as well as we did."

Entering 1985, the Bucs return four lettermen in the hopes of repeating the '84 success. Back for their senior seasons are Frank Riker and Greg Simone. Junior Brian De Furia figures to earn a starting berth, as does Joe Tower, a sophomore. Senior Andy Palermo and freshmen Joe Ceretto and Sean Paul are also vying for time on the varsity roster.

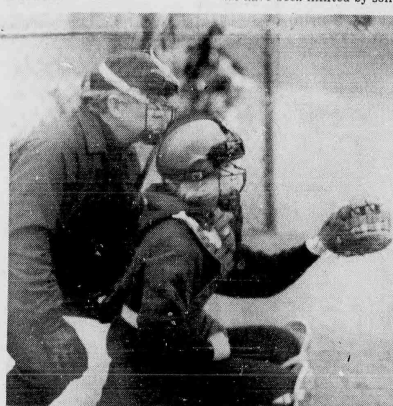

The big difference between this years version of the golf team and past clubs is the lack of a solid number one player. In 1984, it was Jimmy Apple. Back in 1983, Joe Pontrella did a stand-out job. Before him, Jack Malack was the big man in 1982 and '81. This season, there are some consistent performers, but none have impressed Colucci to the point of locking up the number one spot. Losing a player of Apple's ability will be difficult to say the least.

"It is hard to say how good our opponents will be," Colucci said. "Last year, Nutley won everything, but this season they have graduated that entire team. Montclair seems to be a very good team, I think they might be the team to beat at this stage."

The Bucs will get an idea of where they stand on April 1 when the regular season commences at Forest Hills Country Club. The opposition will be a formidable foe from Caldwell. "I don't know what to expect at this stage," Colucci said of his own troops. "We have some players with ability, but I won't know anything until we start playing."

The stage has been set for another Colucci miracle.

NOTES: Bucs were 10-5 in 1983, 9-4 in 1982 and 8-2 back in Colucci's rookie season of 1981. Team has been practicing about four days a week, taking advantage of the seasonable weather in March.

Spring sports? - Softball is here, but is it really spring? Not by the looks of this umpire who has his winter gloves on at this recent girls softball scrimmage. The Lady Bucs will play their first three games at home facing Queen of Peace, Bopine, and Westside of Newark.

Experience key to boys' track

Taking advantage of some good weather, the Belleville track team has been pounding the cinders, working hard for its opening match of the 1985 season on April 2 against Bloomfield. The race will start at 3:45 p.m. from Belleville High School.

Third year coach John Tosato returns an experienced squad, many of which took part in the indoor track program and the cross country campaign last fall. "The weather has been better than normal," the coach said. "We have been limited by some drizzle and cool weather, but it is a lot better than previous seasons."

Tosato will look to senior Mike Siletti to handle the 120 high hurdles and the 880 run. Siletti had a banner indoor season and seems ready for a big outdoor campaign. Sophomore Mark Huamani will handle the low hurdles. The 100 yard sprint will be led by junior Joseph Di Vincenzo. Freshman Leon Puentes, a good basketball player, should see time in the sprinting events. Over in the 400, Di Vincenzo is the top candidate. Joining Siletti in the 880 will be senior Bill Huamani and possibly Craig Burden, a sophomore.

"Burden will see time in the 880, mile and two mile," Tosato said. A fine athlete, Burden has been a very impressive runner since his freshman season of cross country. The mile and two mile runs will also see senior

Robert Hutchinson, closing out a fine track career at BHS. Huamani could see time in the mile event as well.

The weight team is led by seniors Frank Trupia, with juniors Larry Boiscano and Pat Morano expected to score some points. Sophomore Jon-Paul Lemczuk has the potential to be a fine thrower.

Tosato does not expect his team to throw the javelin too much this spring. "Maybe just one or two meets," the coach said. "It will be the shot and disc mostly this spring."

Assisting Tosato for the boys team is Russell Pagano and former head coach Richard Ruffalo, who will be working with the weight team once again. All told, 36 boys came out for the squad this spring, a good turnout for the Buccaneers, seeking its first winning season since the 1975 team of Mike Fortino, Jim Beck and Walt Siubus.

Junior girl hoopsters finish with season record of 9-3

The Belleville Recreation Department's entry in the Suburban Junior Girls' Basketball League recently completed its 1985 campaign, finishing with an impressive 9-3 mark and ending up in fourth place behind Nutley, Millburn and Maplewood.

The seventh-eighth grade

Buccanettes rallied for two season-ending victories, defeating Cedar Grove, 76-34, and South Orange, 56-4. Laurie Dondarski led the scoring attack in the Cedar Grove game with 26 points, while Stacey Johans paced Belleville with 22 points in the South Orange contest.

Buc shots: Georgetown Hoyas favored by most coaches to win 'final four'

It's tourney time, the basketball fans time of year. The NCAA basketball tourney will reach the fabled "Final Four" this weekend and the teams that will comprise the group has a strong eastern flavor, so strong that the team furthest west hails from Tennessee.

St. John's-Georgetown, Villanova-Memphis State. It has come down to those four teams on Saturday, with the winners advancing to the championship Monday night in George Zantini's "second home," Lexington, Ky. With the exception of Memphis State, this final four could be the second coming of the Big East tourney. With last weekend's regional finals throughout the country, a new king was crowned with the old king taking the brunt of the defeat. The Big East is now number one in the country with the ACC, long the powerhouse of the college basketball world, taking a backseat, at least this year. Villanova, St. John's and Georgetown all defeated ACC teams in their respective regional championship and all indications point to a long reign for the Big East.

Who do you like in the chamampionship game this Monday evening?

At the outset of the tournament, I picked Georgetown and Memphis State to end up in Lexington so that possibility still exists. I asked some of our varsity coaches last weekend for their fearless predictions and came up with these responses. From John Tosato, "I like Villanova and Georgetown. I think that (Ed) Pinckney of Villanova will be the difference. If he plays well, Villanova could win the entire thing."

George Zantini, our resident genius, came up with this prediction: "Villanova-Georgetown, with Georgetown winning. The Hoyas are too deep. If (Patrick) Ewing has a bad game, then someone else picks up for him. They have so much talent and can turn it on so many ways. I like Villanova over Memphis State because Villanova is much more disciplined. Memphis State would be no better than a second division team in the Big East."

Carl Corino, the softball coach and a big basketball fan, agrees with Zantini. "Georgetown should win because they're so fierce. They do so many things well and can beat you so many ways."

Grace Worley, our volleyball coach, went the other way, picking Memphis State and St. John's. "I'll take a stab in the dark. I like St. John's all the way. I don't think that Villanova can handle Memphis State in the semi finals because Memphis State has too much size and speed for Villanova."

As for Rocco Colucci, the basketball and golf mentor at BHS, "I'd like to see St. John's-Villanova. If St. John's loses to Georgetown, then Villanova all the way. As long as Georgetown doesn't win, I'll be happy. I like Rolfe's (Massomino, Villanova's head coach) style. He's got those kids playing with such intensity. It was nice to see them celebrating after the win over North Carolina. That kind of enthusiasm is good for the game."

The prediction that people throughout the country wait for comes from Joe Papasidero. "Realistically, Georgetown and Villanova. I'd like to see St. John's, but let's face it, Georgetown is too much."

Upon further explanation, Papasidero said, "man for man, they (Georgetown) are the best team in the whole thing. Ewing is the difference. This is one of the best teams in the history of the game. If I were a betting man, I'd go with Georgetown."

The pick here is Georgetown to win a second straight title and become the first team since the 1973 UCLA squad to win back to back titles. Over the last 11 years, there have been some Cinderella teams that have made the Final Four, a few of which won the title. The 1983 N.C. State team of Jim Valvano, the '77 Marquette team of Al McGuire's swan song and the '75 UCLA squad in John Wooden's farewell are teams that weren't expected to win the title but overcame the odds. The most consistent visitors to the Final Four since 1975 are Louisville (four times), Houston (three straight from 1982-84, but never the title), Georgetown (three times since 1982), Kentucky (three times), UCLA (three times, but not since 1980) and North Carolina (three times, the last in 1982).

The Atlantic Coast Conference has been well represented in the Final Four. Since 1977, seven ACC clubs have been to the Final Four, with North Carolina (1982) and N.C. State (1983) winning the ultimate prize. With the absence of an ACC club this year, it marks the first time since 1980 that a team from the elite conference has failed to make the final quarter.

With the arrival of St. John's, a metropolitan area team has entered its name in the Final Four for only the second time in nine years. The Rutgers team of 1978 won its first 31 games, taking the Eastern Regional and squaring off with Michigan in the semi finals at Philadelphia. Rutgers lost the game, 86-70 and were stopped by UCLA in the consolation game to finish 31-2. That team featured former Belleville All-American Abdel Anderson, James Bailey, Phil Sellers and Ed Jordan.

There have been some memorable squads in the Final Four. A team that comes to mind right away was the 1983 Houston PHI SLAMA JAMA team, featuring Akeem 'The Dream' Clyde Drexler and Larry Micheaux. This was a club that put new meaning into the dunk and electrified the fans with an aerial show game in and game out. Houston was upset by N.C. State in the finals, 54-52, but it didn't take away from the Cougars memorable play. My dream game would be Houston against a Camden High school team, either the 1981 or 1984 version. Those are two clubs that find it insulting to hit a layup unless it looks like a flying dunk from the foul line. I think the fans enjoy that kind of action in college and high school games.

Please see "Hoyas" on page 14

Hoyas picked by local coaches; Dina DeAquino enjoying success at Montclair State

Another thought on college hoops. ESPN gets better every year with its coverage of college ball. Lord knows there is enough basketball to whet even the hungriest of fans appetites. You could turn on a game at 3 a.m. The coverage is nation wide and gives the fan a good variety. However, where in the world did ESPN find Dick Vitale? This guy either knows someone very high in the system or has more fans than is realized. If he would stop mind reading the players and coaches during a game and quit telling the audience about his success and coaching career, he could be a bit more tolerable.

The coaching job at Kentucky's open and the candidates list is a who's-who of coaches. Joe Rose, Hugh Durham and Laker coach Pat Riley are just three names that have come up. An inside story, given solely to Buc Shots, says that George Zantini will be named to the Kentucky search committee and could be the head coach if he wants the job.

Moving over the local news, Dina De Aquino, the former BHS softball terror is taking her act to Montclair State with similar success. The MSC freshman threw a shutout against Kean College last weekend and was 3-0 entering this weeks action. Dina joins Jackie Vitiello of Bloomfield High School on the MSC roster and should enjoy a very successful career. Dina and Jackie were big rivals during their high school days. The two opposed each other four times in the 1983 season.

Debbie Worley, one of the finest volleyball players in BHS history, will attend Caldwell College next fall. Worley, an honors student, was cited for her outstanding athletic ability, not to mention her fine academic background. Good luck to this talented young lady in her future plans.

All season long, the names Cerreto, Zarro and Gibbons made headlines for their marvelous wrestling prowess. All three men advanced to the state tournament, with Gibbons making it to the state semis before losing his first match. The Hearld News has recognized the three athletes by naming Cerreto and Gibbons to the first team, All Area and Zarro to the second team, All Area. Tomorrow evening, the entire wrestling program will be honored at its annual dinner to be held at the Branch Brook Manor. It should be a fine tribute to the many people that contributed to this marvelous program. This season, the Bucs lost just one dual match and captured the District 7 title, not to mention earning a berth in the Group IV, Section II tournament. It was another fine season for head coach Gene D'Allesandro, the consummate professional. Year in and year out, the man does his job with a great deal of class and professionalism.

Next week, we'll take a look at a young lady that is finishing her undergraduate work at a university in Australia. She is a 1981 graduate of Belleville High School and a former standout athlete.

The Belleville soccer association is holding a candy drive. The young athletes will be around town, selling candy bars at $1.00 per. The Association has made tremendous strides in the soccer field at Belleville and could use your support. Also, if anyone is interested in helping with the Association, they can contact Joe Colucci at 751-4622. I'm sure anything you can do to assist this organization would be of great appreciation.

Here is the answer to last weeks quiz. The question was, name the last team to defeat Georgetown in the month of March. The answer: Georgetown was defeated by Memphis State in a second round, NCAA game in March, 1983. Maybe Deja Vu will strike again if Georgetown and Memphis State play for the national title next Monday.

For this week, name the last time an Ivy League school made it to the Final Four and the year it happened. That same season, the other three teams that went to the Final Four produced players that went on to big NBA careers. Name those teams and the players.

Boys' tennis team is facing difficult NNJIL schedule

After just missing its first 500 season in team history last spring, the Belleville tennis team returns to the drawing board for the 1985 campaign.

Third year coach Len D'Armiendo has a young team coming out this spring. The coach was happy with the turnout and expects a competitive team this season. "The key is for the players to get playing time," the coach said. "It's going to be a rough season. We have a lot of young players that will be competing on the varsity for the first time. It's the best turnout the program has ever had, so that has to be a good sign for the future."

All tolled, 13 athletes came out for the tennis team, the highest turnout since the teams inception in the spring of 1977. However, the Buccaneers, who were 9-11 last season, lost its two top players in Dave Boyd and Herb Petrat. Returning to lead the 1985 squad will be Junior Jim Petrat. He should be the number one man this year after handling the number three position last spring.

At number two, Jeff Tyther, a junior, should be the starter. He could be challenged by freshman Andy Cueva, a talented young man whom D'Armiendo plans to use at third singles.

"We're still looking for more players to come out," D'Armiendo said. "The more the better. We're looking to develop interest in the sport and possibly start a junior varsity program." The coaches team has not been decided as yet, although senior Tim Buckley and freshman Don Benedetto could be on the first doubles team. "I'll know more in a week," the coach said.

The Bucs expect a difficult time in the rugged NNJIL conference. The opening match will be versus Don Bosco of Ramsey on April 4 at Belleville. D'Armiendo expects Montclair and Clifton to be the teams to look out for in the NNJIL, Essex-Passaic division.

The Buccaneers will compete in 22 matches this spring and will have its work cut out. In addition to the "usual" teams from the NNJIL, the team will face some awesome squads from Ridgewood, Teaneck and Don Bosco. When D'Armiendo referred to the season as a learning experience, he certainly knew what he was talking about.

Rec wrestlers finish third behind Maplewood, Caldwell

The Belleville Recreation Wrestling team, a member of the Essex County Junior Wrestling League, finished their 1985 season with a 5-2-1 record. The sixteen member Belleville team, coached by Joseph Nisivocia and Lou Riccardi, also placed third in team standings below the powerful Maplewood and Caldwell teams.

The Belleville grapplers won their first five E.C.J.W.L. matches this season, defeating Cedar Grove 42-39, West Orange 66-25, Bloomfield 59-36, Glen Ridge 48-42, and Livingston 45-33. The match against West Essex ended in a 42-42 tie while the last two matches of the season ended with losses to Caldwell 58-27 and Maplewood 41-36.

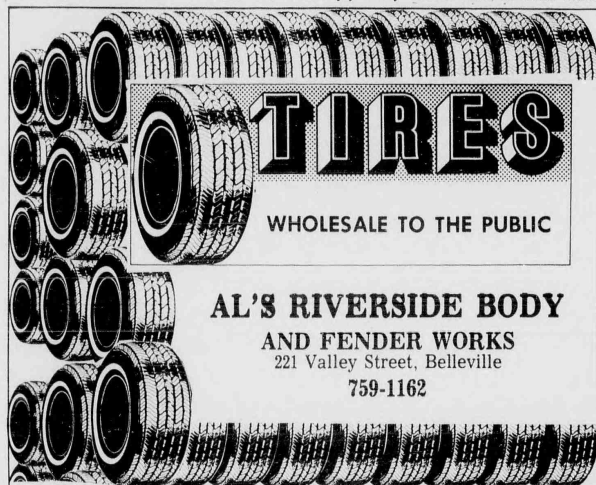

"Besides five returning wrestlers, we had a young and inexperienced team. I feel our success this season came mainly due to hard work and dedication of our Recreation Wrestlers. Their attitude was very enthusiastic all season long," said coach Joe Nisivocia.

The E.C.J.W.L. Championship Tournament, held this year at Belleville High School, brought three area residents into the final championship round.

Two Belleville grapplers were crowned with the highest honors — a first place gold medal as a league champion in a particular weight class.

Emilio Nardone, a fifth grader, at Holy Family School, captured the 65 pound championship when he decided his first round Caldwell opponent 4-1 and pinned his Milburn opponent in 3:58 in the championship round. Nardone was the only Belleville wrestler this year to remain undefeated with an 11-0-0 record. Last year Nardone was a fourth place finisher in the League Tournament after defaulting due to injury.

Angelo Torromeo, a sixth grader from the Belleville Public School system, captured first place honors in the 70 pound class. On his way to the championship, Angelo pinned his first round West Orange opponent in 20 seconds, superiorly dethroned his semi-final round Milburn opponent 16-2 and out-scored his Caldwell opponent 5-4 in the final championship round. Last year Angelo lost his first round tournament match, 5-4, to the eventual 75 pound league champ.

PENTOXIFYLINE

A new drug has been introduced to the market that is designed to treat the arm and leg pains associated with hardening of the arteries. Pentoxifyline apparently works by increasing the flexibility of red blood cells so that blood can flow more easily to the extremities. When arteries harden, the flow of blood to the leg and arm muscles is restricted. Pain occurs because this restriction causes a restriction of oxygen. The condition can make walking even short distances painful. In clinical terms of the drug, some patients suffered nausea, dizziness and headaches. However, the Food and Drug Administration has indicated that the side effects appear to be related only to the size of the dose.

When taking medication you should always let your doctor know of any unusual reaction. We have a complete description department at ROSMARE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Gifts, Times watches and transistor radios are available for Easter. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

SPRING HOME IMPROVEMENT

KITCHEN, BATH & HOME INTERIOR IDEAS

Revitalize Your Kitchen Without Buying a New One
Brought To You By
John P. Castrovina C.K.D.

Even great kitchens sometimes begin to look a little old to you, after you have spent a lot of years at work in them. At such times, there are several solutions to brightening up an entire new one.

One of the simplest ways is to select and install a new countertop, one entirely different from the one you have been living with all these years.

If you are very handy, this is something you might be able to do yourself, but it can be very tricky. Besides, there are a lot of customizing techniques a countertop expert can help you with that can really create change.

For example, you can drop a section of it a few inches to make it easier for some tasks, or raise a section for taller persons. You can put in an infra-red section for food-warming. Or you can add an angle or curve here or there, or add an "office" section to keep recipes, cookbooks, etc.

So there are little ways to help an aging kitchen. But, of course, there is no substitute for the real thing, a fully redesigned and remodeled gleaming new kitchen. Come in and let us show you.

New windows can trim those mounting fuel bills

If a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love in the spring, what does he think about in the fall? If he's a homeowner saddled with old, drafty windows, he probably ponders the mounting fuel bills he'll be facing as the heating season approaches.

Anderson Corporation of Bayport, Minn., says the best way to prevent the costly air infiltration and excessive heat loss associated with worn out windows is to replace them.

The best replacement window, adds the leading manufacturer of windows and gliding patio doors, is the best window you can buy.

Anderson's Perma-Shield windows and gliding patio doors, for example, are precision-engineered and have preservative-treated wood core sash and frames. Wood is used because it's a natural insulator.

Double-pane insulating glass is standard. It provides the same ability to reduce heat loss through the glass as separate storm sash, but without the seasonal bother of putting them up and taking them down.

In especially cold climates, triple glazing is recommended. This is available as an option with the entire line of Perma-Shield windows.

A weathertight fit also affects the energy efficiency of windows. Perma-Shield windows and gliding doors are manufactured with factory-installed vinyl weatherstripping that makes them at least twice as weathertight as accepted industry standards for allowable air infiltration.

Sheathed in durable rigid vinyl, Perma-Shield windows and gliding patio doors offer long-lasting, low maintenance protection in addition to good looks and energy conservation.

For more information on the entire line of windows and gliding patio doors, write to Anderson Corporation, Bayport, Minn. 55003.

Lawn Gone?

Time to call Lawn King

All lawns need an annual program of lawn care and every program must contain both granular and spray. Some chemicals work better when applied in a granular form, and others, like weed co-killers and post emergent crab grass controls, work better in a liquid form. All lawns also require periodic aeration and seed, but only Lawn King gives all these via LAWN COMBINE & SPRAY — THE BETTER WAY! WE KNOW IT'S THE ONLY WAY!!!

LAWN KING ANNUAL PROGRAM

Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Mow Nutrients Chick Weed Control Crab Grass Control	4. We are chemical applicators, not miracle workers. We know what your lawn needs and when it needs it. What you see in the program, is what you get. Top quality chemicals and seed — only the best — that's all we use. There's no such thing as specially formulated for drought. Aeration, seed and lime are part of our program. Tangas controls and grub controls have also been part of our program. No options at extra cost when you need them. By the time you know you need them it's too late anyway.

Someone will call to discuss the lawn with you. There's a one time charge if you need any extras like a preparatory service, extra seed or additional time. We'll tell you what you need. We may not be the cheapest lawn service around but we are the only one who gives you figure your costs from the chart below. No contracts to sign, no guarantees, no promises, and no nonsense. Pay from service to service or prepay for the year and we'll give you a 5% discount too!

If you compare our program and prices with any other company, you'll find that either they are charging too much, or we are not charging enough. Look at it real close and you may even arrive at the conclusion that not only is it better to do business with us — it's cheaper, too!

Campaigns ending for candidates vying for board of education seats

torate in administration and supervision.

"I decided to run as a school board candidate because I have two children in the school system," he said. "I am running as a concerned parent and a concerned citizen. I have a strong interest in my children and the children of others in the community."

One of Cappello's main focus has been improved curriculum.

"Curriculum should be an ongoing process," he said. "Curriculum is the grass roots of education. It changes as society changes."

Cappello also believes that special education students should be involved in vocational courses, particularly in the high school's vocational program.

"The special education students can learn a skill and be a part of the employment market," he said. "A job placement program and a counselor should be implemented into the high school's program so that these students can find jobs when they graduate."

When asked about Gov. Thomas Kean's proposal of a minimum teacher salary of $18,500, Cappello said that this would attract better candidates into the profession as well as into the Belleville school system.

Teacher salaries have been one of the issues that third candidate Kevin Kennedy focuses on. He believes that the board of education spends too much money unnecessarily in administrative and instructional costs.

"The school board budget, the town budget, and the county budget all went up," he said. "The teacher salaries are going to kill us. If a teacher makes $20,000 the first year and gets a 9 percent increase, that's an $1,800 increase. If in the second year the teacher makes $21,800 with an 8 percent increase, that's an increase of $1,744. In the third year if a teacher makes $23,544 and gets an 8 percent increase, that's $1,882. In three years that is an increase of 25 percent. The way the economy is going, that type of increase is outrageous."

Kennedy also said that if elected he will look into the maintenance of schools.

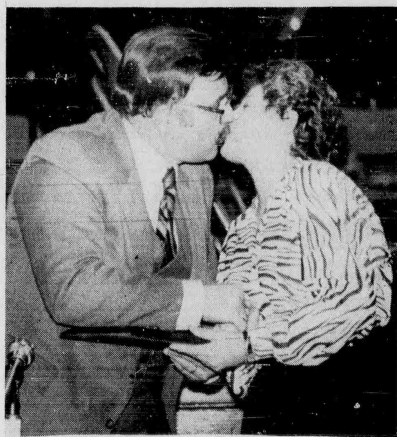

"We have to maintain the schools to the proper aspect of capability," he said. "There's no reason why it's taken eight to nine years to repair these schools. If bond monies are going to be appropriated, these monies should go inside the buildings."

Kennedy said that he is running to fight what he believes is nepotism and double standards on the board. He compared two teachers who were fired for misappropriating football monies to an administrator who became his own agent and only had a salary decrease imposed.

"I believe I can bring common sense to the board and serve as a watchdog for the people of this town," he said. "I have friends with children in this town and I am concerned. The budget has been defeated 20 times. The taxpayers are saying something. I believe I can help the board straighten out its finances."

The polls will be open election day from 2-9 p.m.

"Inspiring Leadership" - School board vice president Dr. Anthony D'Agostino presents a kiss and a plaque to Grace Purdue in recognition of her leadership as the board's president. Purdue, a board member since 1982, became the first female president in 1983.

declaration do believe that once blight is declared, Belleville will always be referred to as a blighted town. They believe the word "blight" will never be taken away.

The committee has been formed to offer input and cooperation to the board of commissioners, the redevelopment agency, and other township boards, committee officials said.

In the statement presented to commissioners, alternative proposals were submitted. Some of them are as follows:

1. Extend town hall to the rear and incorporate new police headquarters and all other township agencies. The plan can be implemented immediately because the township owns all the property to the railroad tracks. As a result, there would be no displacement of people or purchasing of land;

2. Sell the present health department building, realize cash for new construction, and return property to the tax rolls;

3. Seek to acquire existing vacant land or poor structures to provide more municipal parking along the avenue;

4. Get involved with the Economic Development Corporation of Essex County (EDC). This agency provides funds, services, and assistance for homeowners, businesses, private investors, and local governments;

5. Consider entering a Main Street America Program which is dedicated to reworking downtown areas.

These proposals can be implemented immediately and they would create an atmosphere that would attract developers, businesses, and investors to our township, Frantantoni said.

"Once the word blight was mentioned," he added, "all redevelopment along the avenue stopped. Why should these people invest money into their property if they're not sure what is going to happen?"

Frantantoni said that when he and others pose questions to the board of commissioners they either get no answers at all or only vague responses.

"This has been going on for more than two years," he said. "For me it is even longer than that. We only want to know what is going to be done. New people won't come into the township if they hear p is going to be blighted."

Many of the facts townspeople are told are misrepresentations, said Louis Cincia. In fact, much of the confusion has come from the endorsement of blight from the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber sent out notices to its members and asked them whether they wanted redevelopment or not. However, said Cincia, they put the words redevelopment k blight together. So when members voted for redevelopment, they were in a sense voting for blight even though they didn't realize it.

"Out of all the members of the chamber, only a few answered," Cincia said. "After talking to merchants on the avenue, we can see that many do not want the blight proposal." To help fight their cause, the revitalization committee has hired an attorney, William L. Brach of Roselaf. Brach is educated in the field of redevelopment without blight. He cited many alternatives at last week's public meeting, including a rehabilitation program.

Brach said that funds can be appropriated to townships who plan to rehabilitate certain areas, not blight them. He said that the funding does exist and that Montclair is an example of a successful rehabilitation program.

Some of the funding can be obtained from Urban Development Action Grants (UDAG), said Brach. Blight doesn't have to be declared to get funding, he added.

When people on the avenue discussed the future of Washington Avenue a few years ago," Frantantoni said, "many of them were willing to make the repairs themselves. We didn't even need the funding because we were willing to invest in Washington Avenue. Now no one knows what is going on. Redevelopment has stopped altogether."

Board president leaves two-year post

heart is so big and full of love that she can't help but be successful."

Successful has been the word used to describe Purdue. She became a part of the school system more than 15 years ago when her son went to school. She was president of the Parent-Teacher's Association (P.T.A.) at School 7, vice president of the P.T.A. at the former Junior High school, and was the first president of the high school's home and school association.

"Being president of the board was something that I've wanted so long," Purdue said. "Deciding to leave it now has been a very difficult thing to do, but I had an obstacle thrown in my way."

Being the only female on the board, and president at that, proposed a challenging situation to Purdue. It is one that she nor her fellow members took too lightly.

"You are quite a listener," vice president Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said. "It is quite exceptional for leaders today to be listeners."

In recognition of her "inspiring and exemplary leadership," D'Agostino presented Purdue with a plaque and a gavel to remind her of her days as president.

"You have emulated leadership qualities," trustee Gabe Nazziola said. "You have shown impartiality, objectiveness and honesty."

Trustee Phil Linfante said that Purdue's greatest accomplishment has been showing people there are still those who care and will listen.

Board attorney Lawrence Schwartz praised Purdue for her dedication.

"In my 15 years of service to the board, I have never come across a board member as dedicated to the community and students as you," he said. "I believe this board is the finest one this community has ever had."

Purdue has many achievements to include in her portfolio, but for her personally, opening the lines of communication has been the most rewarding.

"I believe in leaving the education to the educators," she said, "but the board has to have open lines of communication with teachers and parents to be aware of what's going on. The board has accomplished this as well as many other things, including bringing back credibility to the board."

"I am leaving this position with mixed emotions," she added. "I will miss it very much."

Purdue said only time will tell if she will run again in 1988.

If you still believe in me, save me.

For nearly a hundred years, the Statue of Liberty has stood on the edge of the New World, America's most powerful symbol of freedom and hope. Today the ravages of almost a century of weather and pollution have left their marks. Corrosion has eaten away at the iron framework. New holes continue to appear in the copper sheets that form the exterior.

Less than a mile away, on Ellis Island where the ancestors of nearly half of all Americans first stepped onto American soil, the Great Hall of the Immigration Center is a hollow ruin. Rooms are vandalized, passageways overgrown with vegetation, walls crumbling in decay.

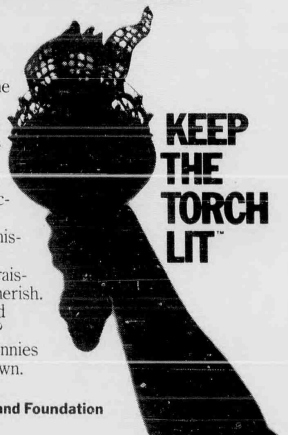

Inspiring plans have been developed to restore the Statue and to create at Ellis Island a living monument to the ethnic diversity of this country of immigrants. But unless restoration is begun now, ceremonies marking the hundredth anniversaries of these two landmarks in America's heritage could be held in commemoration of national treasures that no longer exist. Sections of the statue have already been declared unsafe and closed to visitors. The 230 million dollars needed to carry out the work is needed now.

All of the money must come from private donations; the federal government is not raising the funds. This is consistent with the origins of the Statue. The French people themselves paid for its creation. And thousands of American school children contributed to its construction and to the pedestal.

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission appointed by President Reagan is asking every American business, every American citizen to join in raising these funds. The torch of liberty is everyone's to cherish. Could we hold up our heads as Americans if we allowed the time to come when she can no longer hold up hers?

One hundred years ago school children gave their pennies to put her up. Your dollars can keep her from falling down.

Send your tax deductible donations to THE LADY, Box 1986, N.Y.C. 10018. Or call 1-800-USA-LADY toll free. ©1984 The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation

"A tree out of her grave"

By The Rev. Robert Paul

In Twin churchyard, a short distance from King's cross station in England, stands a great four-trunked tree growing out of a grave. Its presence there has given rise to much speculation among the residents of that section, for the grave from which it grows is that of Lady Anne Grimston, and the question arises, is the tree a monument to a woman's disbelief, or did it happen to grow there merely by chance?

Lady Anne Grimston did not believe in life after death. When she lay dying in her palatial home, she scornfully said to a friend, "I shall live again as surely as a tree will grow from my body."

She was buried in a marble tomb. The grave was marked by a large marble slab and surrounded by an iron railing. Years later the marble slab was found to be moved a little. Then it cracked, and through the crack a small tree grew.

The tree continued to grow, tilting the stone and breaking the marble masonry until today it has surrounded the tomb with its roots, and has torn the railing out of the ground with its massive trunks. The tree of Lady Anne Grimston's grave is one of the largest in England.

Was it mere chance that caused the tree to grow there? Perhaps God the Almighty took her challenge.

But we can be sure of this, the Lord Jesus Christ arose from the dead. The Saviour who was "made sin for us that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him," was accepted by his heavenly father. The Lamb of God that took away the sin of the world has fulfilled the work of redemption by his one complete sacrifice on the cross of calvary (Hebrews 10:12).

Because of Christ's resurrection you can receive God's salvation as a free gift. You can be assured that Jesus Christ is living for you, and as the living Saviour, "he is able to save them to the uttermost that come to God by him, seeing he ever liveth..."

Because Jesus Christ lives in heaven today, those who personally invite him into their lives for salvation from sin will one day be with him. "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live" (St. John 11:25).

Friend make sure today you have Christ, and his free gift of eternal life. "The just shall live by faith (Romans 1:17).

New bus company adds more trips to No. 22 line

Several new trips have been added to the No. 22 (Bloomfield-Belleville-Kearny-Jersey City) bus line, now operated by Friendly Service Bus Lines of Glen Ridge, according to general manager Patti Morehead.

Local buses leave Bloomfield (Broad and Liberty streets) at 5:55 and 8:30 a.m., and Belleville about five minutes later. The line currently operates on weekdays only, excluding major holidays, she said, but the feasibility of Saturday service will be investigated if there is sufficient demand.

County scouts plan jubilee for May 3-4

Fares are: Bloomfield-Jersey City, $1.50; Bloomfield-Kearny/North Arlington, $1.30; Bloomfield-Belleville, $1.15; local fare within Bloomfield, 90 cents; Belleville-Kearny/North Arlington, $1.15; Belleville-Jersey City, $1.30; local fares within Belleville, 90 cents.

The Essex Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its Diamond Jubilee Scout Show May 3-4 at South Mountain Arena in West Orange, announced Council President Walter W. Hislop.

Scout units from Belleville will be among the 200 various packs, troops and explorer posts who will participate in the booth exhibition and action show which celebrates the 75th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA).

Traditional handicrafts and scout skills will be featured along with aviation and medical sciences. A highlight of the show will be displays of scouting's history in Essex County.

The Essex Council, BSA, is responsible for the scouting program in 21 Essex County Communities. In 1984, 27,000 young people took part in Essex Council programs.
