Annual decathlon set for Aug. 12

The fourth annual decathlon, sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department, will be held Monday, Aug. 12, at Belleville Municipal Stadium.

All Belleville youngsters, ages 6-16, are invited to participate.

Participants will be divided into three age groups. Winners will be awarded prizes.

For information, call the recreation department at 450-3422, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. or stop by any of the following playgrounds: Friendly House, schools 8 and 10, municipal stadium or Fairway Park.

Matters in Brief

Fall sports exams are scheduled

Physical examinations for fall sports at Belleville High School will be conducted at the Clara Maass Medical Center Professional Building, 5 Franklin Ave., room 609.

Sports candidates must bring a physical card, completed and signed by both parents, on the date a sport is assigned. The physical exam dates are as follows:

- Football: Tuesday, Aug. 20, 5:30 p.m. for grade 12; 6:30 p.m. for grade 11; and 7:30 p.m. for grade 10;
- Cross Country (boys): Wednesday, Aug. 21, 5:30 p.m.;
- Soccer: Wednesday, Aug. 21, 6 p.m. for grades 11 and 12; and 7 p.m. for grades nine and 10;
- Football: Wednesday, Aug. 21, 8 p.m. for grade nine;
- Gymnastics: Thursday, Aug. 22, 5:30 p.m.;
- Volleyball: Thursday, Aug. 22, 6:30 p.m.;
- Cheerleaders: Thursday, Aug. 22, 7:30 p.m.;
- Cross Country (girls): Tuesday, Aug. 27, 5:30 p.m. and;
- Girls' Tennis: Tuesday, Aug. 27, 6 p.m.

All make-ups will be conducted Tuesday, Aug. 27, 7 p.m.

Belleville fugitive apprehended

A Belleville man, wanted for weapons and parole violations, was arrested at the Puerto Rico home of his wife this past Saturday.

Alan David Wasserman, 33, identified as a Pagan motorcycle gang member, was recently added to New Jersey State Police's list of the 12 most wanted fugitives. Although considered dangerous, Wasserman was unarmed and offered no resistance, an FBI spokesman said.

Wasserman, who was arrested on a federal warrant for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, is wanted by the state Department of Corrections on a parole violation stemming from a 1976 armed robbery conviction in Plainfield.

He is being held in Puerto Rico pending extradition.

Rec Dept. forms cheerleading squad

The Belleville Recreation Department is forming a traveling cheerleading squad.

Anyone attending fourth through sixth grade is eligible.

If interested, please report to the high school parking lot Thursday, Aug. 15, at 6:30 p.m. For further information, call the recreation department at 450-3422, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Two accused of selling stun guns

Two men, one of them a Belleville man, were arrested Thursday for selling stun guns.

Anthony Formato, 23, of Harrison Street, and Alan S. Harris, 46, of Pine Brook, were arrested and arraigned on weapons charges.

Bergen County authorities seized 230 illegal stun guns and arrested the men in a parking lot of a restaurant on Route 46 in Hackensack. The arrest stemmed from an undercover agent's "chance meeting" with Formato this past July. After the agent bought a stun gun from Formato two days after their meeting, agents then made plans to buy 200 stun guns from him for $11,000 or $55 each, a Bergen County prosecutor said.

Formato was charged with two counts of selling dangerous weapons and conspiracy. Harris, who is considered the supplier, was charged with selling dangerous weapons, conspiracy and the possession of a stun gun he was carrying. He was freed after posting $1,000.

Word processing training offered

The Urban League of Essex County will be accepting applications for training in word processing.

Classes will begin in September.

To be eligible for consideration, all candidates must:

- Be an Essex County resident, 17-and-a-half or older;
- Have a high school diploma or G.E.D. and;
- Have been unemployed or under-employed for the past three months.

Apply in person at the Ultra Center, 744 Broad St., Suite 307, Newark, Monday-Friday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

'Where do we go from here?'

Belleville Redevelopment Agency asks for re-evaluation of direction

By Michelle Jeannotte

The Belleville Redevelopment Agency (BRA), whose recommendation for blight of Washington Avenue was recently rejected by the board of commissioners, asked for a re-evaluation of the group's direction at the board's meeting Tuesday night.

"Our success has been limited," BRDA member Joseph Dasaro said. "We created a high level of excitement in the township and made people aware of a bad problem that was getting worse. Back in May, the town commissioners elected at that time not to accept our recommendation. We took a back seat and went along with the focus of revitalization."

Mr. Dasaro said that although there are improvements being made to business properties on the avenue, it will not be sufficient enough. He cited one property owner who has applied for a business loan to build a second story addition. That type of addition, Mr. Dasaro said, was part of a plan developed by the BRDA.

Mr. Dasaro said that most of the improvements being made are in the area where it is not of the utmost importance. He said that minimal improvements are being made in a two-block area south of town hall - an area, he said, where improvement is most needed.

"We were happy to see businesspeople taking advantage of the business day set up with EDC (Economic Development Corporation)," Mr. Dasaro said, "but out of the 20-25 applications, only three were from that area, and they were only facade improvements. That hardly deems a major revitalization. Where do we go from here?"

Mr. Dasaro, in his presentation to the board of commissioners, said that at a meeting in June, experts made it clear that Belleville's marketability was at a very high point. One reason, he said, is Belleville's proximity to major points.

Routine Day - Business was as usual along Washington Avenue this past Tuesday. However, a blight declaration of some areas of the avenue are still being considered as a possible solution to rejuvenate the once-prosperous business center.

Parents support administrative post and part-time principal at School 9

By Michelle Jeannotte

A group of parents once again appeared before the Belleville Board of Education Monday night asking members to reconsider creating a position of part-time principal/assistant superintendent of elementary education.

At the board's last meeting, parents asked the board to create the position of assistant superintendent of schools - a position members rejected only a few weeks ago. The school board approved a resolution posting for a replacement of retired School 9 principal Joseph Grosch. Interviews for that position were being conducted the past two weeks.

Mrs. Barbara Cicalese, president of the Consolidated Parents' Association, once again asked the board to reconsider the position, saying that the amount of money it would cost for a new assistant superintendent would be minimal compared to the $10,000-plus price for a new copying machine discussed earlier in the meeting.

"What is $5,000 or $6,000 when it comes to our children's education," Mrs. Cicalese said. The estimated figure of $5,000-$6,000 was discussed at the board's last meeting and was once again questioned.

School board member Gabriel Nazzola said that it would cost $58,000 for a new assistant superintendent based on new salary figures for school administrators.

He said that with the new

Water mains and playground funded through $380,000 community grant

Major work involving water mains in the Valley and a new playground for Silver Lake were funded as part of a $380,000 Community Block approved for Belleville this week.

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro called a press conference to announce the award which was accepted by Public Safety Director Ralph DiRuggiero in behalf of the town.

The funds will go a long way toward improving the quality of life for Belleville citizens," Commissioner DiRuggiero said.

The playground proposed for Acme Street will be the first municipal recreational complex for the Silver Lake area. Shapiro said $100,000 was approved for construction of the playground including brick court paving, grading, play equipment, game tables, wooden benches and landscaping.

"This is a happy occasion for me and for all of us in county government to be able to present these funds to Belleville," Shapiro said in opening his press conference Tuesday in Newark.

Belleville's allocation is part of a $6.1 million program county-wide announced by Shapiro. Belleville's appropriation was one of the largest among the 16 affected municipalities.

Besides the Silver Lake Playground, which DiRuggiero expects to be completed in 1986, the county also is funding a $280,000 water main project for several streets in the Valley section.

Township's revenue cut by federal budget

By Kara Laczynski

More than $260,000 will be slashed from Belleville's budget when the revenue sharing program is eliminated in fiscal 1987. Congress included the cut in the 1986 federal budget which was approved last week.

The $262,409.62 cut is equivalent to 6 tax points or 2 percent of Belleville's more than $15,500,000 budget this year.

"We have to raise taxes," Belleville Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy said Tuesday.

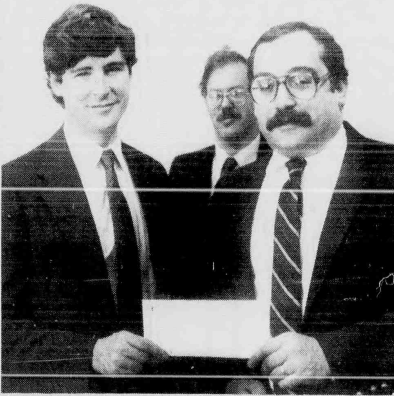

"Belleville uses these funds for municipal wages - fire, public works and public property all get a share," he said. "Salaries cannot be cut and Belleville cannot afford to lose these employees."

The $967.6 billion 1986 federal budget was passed by the Senate 67-32. The House had approved it earlier, 309-119.

The Republican-led Senate passed the budget after Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia won a public assurance from Majority Leader Robert Dole (R-Kan.) that President Ronald Reagan

TREATING ACNE

Benzoyl peroxide is one of the strongest and best medications for treating acne. It is an irritant which is designed to cause mild peeling of the surface layers of skin. Pores that have become plugged with sebum and dead cells are opened and this unwanted plug is eliminated. Benzoyl peroxide is available in five percent and ten percent concentrations. Treatment should be started with the five percent dosage. The ten percent concentration is reserved for those cases that are resistant to the five percent dosage. Many patients are unable to tolerate the added irritant effect of the more potent ten percent dosage.

Treatment of acne and other skin problems sometimes requires an examination by a physician before using medication. For prescription medications, come to ROSMARE PHARMACY, 138 Washington Ave. 759-1988, 759-1986. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Texts, watches, transistor radios, cameras and film are handled. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-5pm Sundays.

HANDY HINT:

Studies have not proved that there is a link between diet and acne.

Liaison helps Clara Maass Emergency Room run efficiently

By Kathryn Cramer

You have a sick child, a spouse with chest pains or an injured friend and you're waiting ... not very patiently ... in the Emergency Room at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville.

"May I help you?" asks a stately, soft-spoken woman. She brings you a cup of coffee, checks on the patient, finds out that the blood tests being run in the lab down the hall are nearly done. Now you know why you're waiting, and you can relax a little. Because Carol Ward, the new ER Liaison at Clara Maass, is doing her job with quiet efficiency.

"I'm here to answer questions, help with phone calls, arrange for a social worker or a chaplain or do whatever I can to make the wait shorter and easier," she says. "I try to follow each case from the moment they come through the door until they go home or are admitted."

That kind of personal concern has been a hallmark of Ward's career since she began working at Clara Maass in 1982 as a nurse's aide on the oncology floor where, she says, "they called me the social director because I was always in talking with the patients. I still stop by to say hello to them."

This past March, Ward became an ER orderly and continued her caring ways, so much so that one patient, a woman from Nutley, wrote a letter to Robert S. Curtis, president of the Medical Center, singling her out for praise. By mid-April, Ward stepped into the newly created post of ER Liaison.

"I've always wanted a job like this, dealing with people," she says with quiet pride, "and I'm glad to have it." Though she comments that "you don't need a college degree for this job, you just need to know how to mingle with people." The Bloomfield resident also speaks proudly of her oldest daughter, who will enter Seton Hall University this fall to study "something in the medical field," and of her three younger children, who are 10, 11 and 13.

Carol Ward may be one of the most visible new features of the Emergency Room at Clara Maass, but she's not the only one. Children are now seen in a newly decorated Teddy Bear Room, where intimidating medical equipment takes second place to cheery surroundings and a crib overflowing with everyone's favorite toy.

A friend of the Medical Center, who donated many of the room's cuddly stuffed inhabitants, calls it "a more comfortable setting for everyone. I helps children and their parent feel at ease, and gives the nurse, calmer patients."

Down the hall are two cushioned recliners donated by the Ciccolini Brothers of Nutley, where asthmatic and ambulatory patients can be treated without having to lie on stretchers. And a new casting sink, equipped to handle plaster drainage, saves time for patients and physicians alike.

The most obvious change in the Clara Maass Emergency Room is right inside the front door—the Triage Desk, the first stop for each new patient. "A nurse takes your temperature, pulse and blood pressure and evaluates your problem," explains Head Nurse Bobbi-Jean Plummer, MSN. "If you need immediate attention, you get it. And we worry about your medical insurance numbers later."

The concept of triage, a French term meaning to sort out, is familiar to the medical profession but may be new to the public, since Clara Maass is one of the first hospitals in this area to use it. Plummer, a resident of Nutley who began her nursing training at Clara Maass and recently received her master's degree from Hunter College, is confident that its benefits will soon become apparent.

"It gives each patient immediate nursing attention and assessment, and helps us adapt our services to meet the needs of our community," she says. Other new ER services at the Medical Center include a free meal program for volunteer ambulance squads, a back-up Mobile Intensive Care Unit and Lifeline, an emergency telephone system for senior citizens or anyone who might need medical assistance in a hurry.

Scandal at the Courthouse?

Watchdog Clay

In last week's issue of this newspaper, Freeholder Arthur L. Clay wrote a letter to the editor in which he openly expressed opposition to the clever scheme of some people to take three Essex County golf courses and make them the private domain of Newark's North Ward.

At issue is a proposal that the North Ward Cultural Center privately operate the three public golf courses for the Center's profit and obviously at the great expense of golf enthusiasts, who have nowhere else to play but a public course.

To label the obscene effort to grab public property as scandalous does not do justice to the crafty effort to appropriate hundreds of millions of dollars of public property for private and political gain.

There are three golf courses involved, all of which are now run very efficiently and bring great happiness to area golfers — there is the Weequahic course in Newark, the Hendricks course in Belleville, and the Byrne course in West Orange. For the Democratically-controlled Board of Freeholders to even give the scheme a moment's consideration is a failure to recognize the terrible consequences of this nightmare.

Freeholder Clay stumbled across this plot when the Freeholders voted a $70 thousand Discretionary Grant to the North Newark Cultural center. Discretionary Grants permit the organization receiving the money to spend it at its own discretion. By the way, this year the Board of Freeholders spent an estimated one million dollars of Discretionary Grants. We wonder how the Board of Freeholders can tax us at the local level — to ostensibly operate Essex County government — and then take part of our money and give it away as a gift. Is that legal?

Anyway — back at the three golf courses — we urge the paying public to raise you-know-what before this unconscionable grab to convert public property for private use goes too far.

Watchdog Clay is no stranger to blowing the whistle. Not too long ago, he blew the whistle on a transaction identified as 449 Central Avenue, Newark. But that's another story. It involved the county purchase of a building for $300,000, several hundred thousand dollars of rehabilitation costs, new office equipment including computers — and today, the building is closed — locked up — and declared unsafe! That's another scandal in the making, presently under review by the Essex County Prosecutor's Office. Clay's resolution to rescind the purchase of 449 Central Avenue was unanimously adopted but not carried out, because counsel to the Freeholders appropriated the authority of the judiciary and made a questionable decision not to sue. Mr. Clay — keep up the good work — the public is listening.

Dominic Lally

Recently, former Belleville School Board President Dominic A. Lally answered the last call. At 77 — despite the Biblical three score and 10 — Dominic Lally was too young to die. If ever Belleville claimed a self-made man, Dominic A. Lally was that person. A gold card-carrying member of Newark's Local 3, Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union of America, Dominic Lally became an excellent craftsman. But then, if you have had the privilege of calling Dominic "friend," one would expect no less than the best from him.

He was a dedicated civic leader of his adopted town. Over the years Mr. Lally served with distinction as chairman of the Belleville United Fund and chairman of the Belleville Zoning Board.

In his chosen profession — education — Mr. Lally achieved high honors. A Newark State Teachers College graduate, with a Bachelor of Science degree in industrial arts and mathematics, he earned a Master of Arts degree in administration and supervision at the Montclair State Teachers College.

Before his retirement 11 years ago, Mr. Lally held the prestigious post of supervisor of Middlesex County Vocational and Technical High Schools for more than 15 years. Prior to assuming this responsibility, he had been a mathematics teacher for the Middlesex County Board of Education for another 15 years.

A kind and gentle soul, Mr. Lally was a man of integrity and courage. With Mr. Lally, what you saw was what you got. He was a warm-hearted, compassionate human being. His concerns for his fellow man were upmost in his mind. Mr. Lally was a man of noble bearing, but he never lost the common touch. It was our privilege to call him friend. Sadly, we observe his passing, and wherever he is, and we think we know, we ask God to bless his soul.

Frank A. Orechio

To the editor:

A recent newspaper article in the Newark Star-Ledger created much concern and confusion among parent organizations and parents of school children in the Belleville School District. The article included a chart of test results (Minimum Basic Skills - MBS and High School Proficiency Test - HSPT) for 17 school districts in Essex County.

The chart indicated that of the Belleville ninth grade students who took the MBS reading test, 92.8 percent met or exceeded the minimum level of proficiency; and this was a 21.1 percent improvement over our 1978 percentile (71.7 percent) when the MBS testing began. Likewise, of the ninth grade Belleville students, 94.7 percent met or exceeded the minimum level of proficiency in the MBS math test which represented a 27.1 percent improvement over our 1978 percentile of 67.6 percent.

The chart showed nine of 17 school districts in the county with higher MBS reading and math scores than Belleville and five of 17 school districts with scores lower than Belleville.

On the High School Proficiency Test (HSPT), a new and more difficult test which began in 1984, the percentiles of Belleville's ninth graders who met or exceeded the minimum proficiency level in reading was 77.8 percent, in math 58.6 percent and in writing 78.5 percent. Again, there were nine of 17 districts who scored higher than Belleville and five of 17 who scored lower than Belleville.

Notwithstanding the tremendous MBS score improvements mentioned above, instead of the Belleville Board of Education responding with facts about the affirmative actions already in progress, certain board members, with other socio-political motives allowed and helped the parents' genuine concerns to fester and become misdirected. The board should have publicly admitted that for more than 15 years there had been no major program of curriculum revision. Whose job responsibility it was becomes academic at this point. The board should have pointed out that Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally took on the responsibility of curriculum development K-12 and over the past three years has coordinated and directed the revision, updating and creation of over 180 curriculum guides at the high school level. While a few of these 180-plus guides have already been implemented, the great majority of them are still in the printing stage and will be implemented for the first time in September of 1985.

In the opinion of this writer, it will be the classroom implementation of these 180 updated guides by the same dedicated faculty members who were responsible for the tremendous test grade improvements over the last eight years and the constant monitoring by supervisors, directors and front office administration to see that they are implemented, which will bring about even more improved test grade results in the newer and more difficult High School Proficiency Test.

There have also been numerous curriculum guide revisions at the middle school level during the past three years. At the elementary level, from 1983 through 1985 there has also been much curriculum development. Some of the elementary guides include: language arts K-6 approved 3-12-84; reading and writing K-7 approved 3-12-84; computers K-6 approved 3-26-84; reading K-7 approved 9-24-84; reading scope and sequence approved 2-25-85 and language arts exposure approved 7-22-85.

Instead of forgetting who didn't do what or what didn't get done in the 15 or more years while we had two assistant superintendents and giving Mr. Lally credit for the fantastic job he has done over the past three years in coordinating curriculum development, certain board members tried to use the genuine concerns of the parents over the ninth grade HSPT results to justify the re-creation of a second assistant superintendent position. Not for educational reasons, but for socio-political reasons and at the taxpayers' expense.

Could Mr. Lally use some help in the task of elementary curriculum revisions which have already begun? Certainly he could and that is why the superintendent of schools asked for that help. Do we need to re-create a second assistant superintendent's position at a proposed salary of $57,000 or $58,000 to do it? I think not, especially when the board of education and administration eliminated that position just two years ago! Since this is the same school system it was two years ago, with the exception of declined enrollment, either the board and the administration made a mistake two years ago or this current board and administration could make a $57,000 or $58,000 mistake now.

This brings us to the socio-political motives of certain board members. At the same time the genuine concerns over the ninth grade test scores were occurring, the board of education was "privately" discussing the replacement alternatives for the School 9 principal who had announced his retirement. While the board was still "privately" discussing some five alternatives being suggested to the board by the superintendent of schools, the word was out on the street that there was going to be a re-created second assistant superintendent and the name of a certain elementary principal was mentioned as though the job was already "in the bag." And further, the name of the person to replace that principal was almost a certain "shoo-in." If that does not puzzle you, then you fully understand socio-political motivations!

To satisfy these socio-political motivations, certain board members apparently convinced those parents who were genuinely concerned about the ninth grade test results that the only answer to improving those test scores was to create a second assistant superintendent's position whose primary responsibility would be elementary (K-6) curriculum development and among other reassigned front office duties. That person's secondary responsibility would be to function as a principal for School 9.

After the board's deliberations resulted in the good common sense decision to simply post for the position of principal of School 9 with current expertise in elementary curriculum development, certain board members are still trying to re-create the $57,000 or $58,000 assistant superintendent position.

The posting for School 9 principal as noted above would not only provide the students of School 9 with a full-time principal, but would also give Mr. Lally the help he needs in elementary curriculum development. This posting parallels with the existing position of the principal of School 10 who has the additional responsibility of coordinating the entire Basic Skills Program. And, I think it is apropos at this time to point out in relation to those parents concerned about the ninth grade test results and the need for elementary curriculum development, that it should have been pointed out by somebody that the Iowa Test results in School 10 in both math and reading were the best in the entire school district and were matched only by the academically talented classes (4-6) at School 7. I think this tells us two things. One, that we do have elementary curriculum already in place in School 10 (and I presume it is the Basic Skills Program curriculum) that has resulted in fantastic test results in the elementary testing medium, the Iowa Test, and perhaps we ought to take a good hard look at implementing some of that Basic Skills curriculum in the rest of our elementary schools. And second, that a full-time elementary principal could handle an additional assignment of duties and excel at that as well.

At least one board member has tried to sell this re-creation of a second assistant superintendent by saying that it is yet another promotion from within which has been the board's direction since 1977. The fact of the matter is that both before, during and after that board member's previous term on the board, the morale of our faculty was at an all-time low (don't take my word for it, ask the teachers) because all the board did was to hire from outside the system and demoralized any faculty member who aspired to an internal promotion. Just a few examples of those key promotions from outside the system were: the prior superintendent of schools; a prior high school principal; the director of guidance; and the high school librarian.

This writer's recollection of promotions from within the system which drastically improved the overall morale of the faculty and took place since April 1983 include: the superintendent of schools; assistant superintendent of schools; high school principal; high school vice principal (female); middle school vice principal; and elementary principal (female).

There has also been much discussion and distortion about the costs of a second assistant superintendent to the taxpayers of Belleville. Some of the distortion was contributed to by one of the elements of the board's negotiations with the administrators negotiating team. Beginning in 1985-86 school year, there will be a four-step guide for elementary principals wherein, at the rate of approximately $2,000 per step, it will take a new principal four years to get to the top of the guide.

Hence, the posting for a new principal at School 9, who will have the additional duties of elementary curriculum development, will be saving the taxpayers approximately $8,000 this year and $6,000 next year. This is the difference between the bottom of the principal's guide and the top of the guide which will be approximately $48,300 for the '85-'86 school year and $51,700 for the '86-'87 school year.

If a new assistant superintendent position is created at the $58,000 salary that was suggested for '85-'86 and $65,000 for '86-'87 (parity with the other assistant superintendent), one can readily see that the difference is an additional $17,700 in '85-'86 and $19,800 in '86-'87 between these two alternatives. Of course, depending on whether you have assumed in advance that either of these alternative positions was going to be filled by someone already in an administrative position or whether some qualified member of our faculty is going to fill the position and/or a second level promotion would be necessitated and ameliorate the costs noted above; only then when all the cards are turned up can the true cost to the taxpayer be known.

It is my fervent hope that this white paper will serve in some small way to help the taxpayers and parents of our students know what is happening with that portion of their tax dollars that support our system of education in Belleville.

Times' classified helps owner locate his lost tropical bird

To the editor:

I wish to publicly acknowledge the Belleville Times which played a key role in locating my parrot.

The advertisement I placed in your classifieds on July 18, 1985 inundated me with calls from concerned residents who had spotted my tropical bird. On July 22, my prayers were answered when a woman phoned to say she had placed some birdseed on her windmill and caught the bird!

My 8-year-old son, Victor, is thrilled with the return of Tiffany.

Again, many thanks to all of my good neighbors for helping me locate Tiffany.

School district's goals focus on improvements

By Michelle Jeannotte

A proposed list of the Belleville School District's 1985-86 goals and objectives were introduced by Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello at the school board's meeting Monday night.

The three proposed goals and their objectives, which were formulated by an instructional council, principals supervisors and the Consolidated Parents' Association, will be up for approval at the school board's next meeting, Monday, Aug. 19, at the school board complex, 190 Cortland St.

One of the goals proposed for the 1985-86 school year concerns the continuance of computer literacy for grades K-8. A plan for upward expansion of a microcomputer program to include students in grades 9 and 10 is also included in the proposed goal.

"Our goal is to provide the district's student population with an articulated program, grades K-12, in computer awareness literacy through a combination of direct instruction and hands-on application," Nardiello said as he read the goals aloud.

Objectives for Goal 1 include hands-on experience for students in grades 9 and 10 by June 30, 1986 and additional computer instruction for the district's professional staff by June 30, 1986.

Nardiello said that Goal 2 for the upcoming school year concerns the improvement of reading and mathematics skills of students in grades K-12 through the implementation of sequenced objectives and suggested activities in the Developmental Reading Scope and Sequence Guide and a proposed mathematics curriculum project for grades K-6.

By June 30, 1986, 90 percent of the student in grades K-12 will equal or exceed state prescribed percentile scores in reading and mathematics on standardized commercial test," he said.

Goal 3 for 1985-86 concerns the improvement of communication skills with specific emphasis on written expression and composition. Nardiello said this goal will be a continuation of a 1984-85 goal and will continue to stress clear written expression as a vital form of communication for a variety of purposes.

By June 30, 1986, students in grades 3, 6 and 9 will demonstrate growth in clear written expression as a vital form of communication for a variety of purposes as demonstrated by writing samples which are holistically scored," Nardiello said. "These grade levels will be in conformance with the state's suggested benchmarks for grades 3, 6 and 9 and equal or exceed the state's prescribed standards."

Three residents entered in lottery drawing

Three Belleville residents will be competing for a top prize of $1 million when the New Jersey Lottery holds a "Pick-6 Lotto" bonus drawing at the Garden State Park Race Track in Cherry Hill Thursday, Aug. 8. The finalists, Anthony Amato, Connie M. Bonomo and Angela N. Ferruggia, won their way into the drawing by matching, in exact order, the five-digit bonus numbers picked Thursday evenings as part of the televised drawings for the "Pick-6 Lotto" weekly game.

Fire Safety Tips

Babysitters - Keep Your Eyes Open

Babysitting can be a great way to earn money. With the job come responsibilities and the need to follow fire and burn safety rules. Babysitting can be a rewarding job, if you are prepared to handle any fire emergency.

Determine in advance if there is a smoke detector in the house and if a home fire escape plan has been prepared. If there is no smoke detector, bring one and hang it from a door on a bent coat hanger. Check the exits before parents leave. Learn how to lock and unlock windows and doors. Plan your way out, in case of fire.

Keep the following phone numbers and house address with you: fire department, police department, rescue, poison control, family physician and where the parents can be reached.

If a fire occurs, get the child and yourself out at the first sound of the smoke detector. Do not investigate. Crawl with the child to the nearest exit (stay low to avoid the poisonous gases) and get out as quickly as possible).

Call the fire department from a neighbor's phone. Give the complete address and advise if everyone is out safely. Watch children so they don't go back in for toys or pets. Once in, they can become trapped.

Stay alert. Keep children's play out of the kitchen. When cooking, keep children in view in the next room and never hold a child while carrying hot food or drinks. A spill can seriously burn their sensitive skin. Keep matches, lighters, sharp objects, poisons and pot handles out of their reach.

Test the bath water before bathing a child. Hot water to you is too hot for them. If the phone rings or you need to leave the room, take the child with you. It takes only a second for a child to slip under the water or turn on scalding hot water.

If a child is burned, pour cool water on the burn. Cover with a clean cloth and call the rescue squad (911). If the child's clothing has caught fire, make him/her lie down and roll him/her back and forth to smother the fire. Roll him/her in a blanket or coat, if available. Cool with water, but do not remove burned clothing if it is stuck to the skin.

Babysitting requires constant watching. Stay off the phone and avoid distractions. Check on the children periodically after they have gone to bed. Keep your eyes open. A child can grab an electrical cord, or play with matches in a matter of seconds. Don't let tragedy happen. Be a fire-safe and happy babysitter.

Your sex may determine how illness is viewed

By Violet Franks, Ph.D.
The Carrier Foundation

Whether a person is a man or a woman may very well make a difference in the kind of help he or she gets in case of a psychological illness such as a depression or a psychosomatic illness such as high blood pressure, an ulcer or sexual dysfunction.

Let us take this illustration. A man comes into a doctor's office and complains of the following: He is feeling "blue" or "down" a good deal of the time. He is sleeping poorly and doesn't have much appetite. He is weary and without energy from the time he gets up in the morning. He can't get up much interest in going out with his wife, the children, friends. He can't concentrate at the office.

These are some of the classic presenting symptoms of depression. But depression is often a psychological rather than a physical illness, and there is still considerable prejudice - even among physicians - about someone having a psychological illness. To many people, psychological illnesses still mean that "there is something wrong with a person's mind," also that it indicates "a weakness in character and personality" - prejudices which are absurd.

Hence, when a man comes in with the symptoms of depression, the doctor - especially if it is a male doctor - may be disinclined to see it for what it probably is: an emotional illness. He is much more likely to see it as being a case of "overwork," of "too much pressure on the job," and to prescribe an energizing drug and recommend to the man that he "take it easy for a while," or take a vacation, or even change his job. This course of action, while positive and helpful, may only be superficial and may not deal with the basic depression and the emotional factors which are producing it.

In most cases, the male patient may himself be "setting up" the misconception. People who are depressed - whether they be male or female - generally have a feeling of helplessness, failure, defeat, despair. Such feelings are not however consistent with the male image of being strong, in charge, in command. Hence, men are less likely to recognize that this is what they are feeling, and even if they do recognize it, less likely to be able or willing to express it and communicate it. It is "too emotional" and "men aren't supposed to be emotional."

Even when he is having severe physical symptoms, a man is likely to see them purely as that and to reject the idea that they may have something to do with an underlying psychological difficulty. Hence, when he comes to the doctor, he will be likely to talk only about backaches, or stomach disorders, or dizziness - or whatever the case may be - and ask the doctor to prescribe something for that condition, not even letting on that he is also feeling miserable, unhappy, agitated, anxious, depressed - symptoms which could give the doctor a clue that there is also an emotional problem there.

With women patients, it is different. To start with, male doctors, according to the stereotype, are more apt to see a woman as being weaker, more helpless, more emotional, more likely to have psychological problems. Hence when a woman comes in with symptoms of depression, the doctor is more likely to perceive "depression" rather than "pressure" or "overwork" and to refer her to a psychiatrist for further evaluation.

Colloquium started for scholars at NJIT

A colloquium for Institute Scholars at New Jersey Institute of Technology has been established with a gift of $5,000 from the family of the late Lloyd Felmy.

Chief editor of the Newark Evening News, where he worked for 43 years, Felmy was also a president of the Associated Press of New Jersey and belonged to the Managing Editors Association and the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Following his retirement in 1959, he became a professor of English and humanities at NJIT and was the first acting chairman of the humanities department.

"My father felt strongly that engineering students need courses in English, history, writing and communication," said Felmy's daughter, Janice. "He started working for 10 cents an hour, graduated as valedictorian of his high school class and was able to win a scholarship to college. Because his association with the students at NJIT was the highlight of his life, it is important that this contribution be used to illuminate the world of other young people."

The colloquium established in Felmy's name will be directed toward providing a broad and stimulating series of speakers in the humanities for students enrolled in the Institute Honors Program at NJIT. This program, which will begin formally in September with 27 incoming freshmen, seeks to provide outstanding students with an education that prepares them for leadership roles in their professions and communities.

Hospital programs educate the public

Medicine, as a science and an art, is constantly changing. New methods of treatment, new techniques in surgery, new approaches to caring for and healing patients are everyday realities in a hospital setting. In order to meet the demands made by these new procedures, a hospital must be an educational institution, as well as a place of healing. The General Hospital Center at Passaic has met those demands and, in turn, shares its educational resources with the communities it serves.

In an emergency, the first person on the scene is often a member of the local ambulance, emergency, or rescue squad. The job of the emergency squad team is to stabilize the endangered person and transport him or her to a hospital for treatment. Trained in first-aid methods, the emergency squad are constantly refining their skills in the field. In order to help these squads keep abreast of the latest developments in both emergency treatment and equipment, The General Hospital Center holds regularly scheduled Squad Nights. Physicians specializing in Emergency Medicine give lectures on new life-saving techniques and demonstrations of new emergency equipment. At the hospital's most recent Squad Night, there was a lecture-demonstration on Military Anti-Shock Trousers. These "inflatable trousers" can prevent or slow internal hemorrhage while an accident victim is being transported to the hospital.

"Squad Nights" are open to all members of Emergency, Rescue, or Ambulance Squads in New Jersey. For information on Squad Nights and other programs available for Emergency Squads, contact Dr. Michael Cali, director of Emergency Services at The General, at 365-4569.

For the pregnant woman, The General Hospital Center offers a series of education programs on pregnancy, birth, and early parenting. Entitled "Miracle in the Making," the programs include the Maternity and Motherhood Fitness Club. The Club is a weekly exercise class, specifically designed for expectant mothers. The Fitness Club also offers relaxation exercises and group discussions on maternity. It meets on Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A Prepared Childbirth Program helps both parents prepare for their child's birth. Classes include exercises and training in breathing techniques for use during actual labor, delivery, and birth. There are several classes available, but it is important to register early for the course. For information on all maternity and parenting programs at The General, contact Lynn Knapp, R.N., at 365-4576.

For both the cardiac patient and persons concerned with proper care and maintenance of their heart muscle, The General has begun its "Heart to Heart Club." This support and information group meets regularly at the hospital, offering recommendations on diet, exercise, and heart care. For information on the "Heart to Heart Club," contact Rose Szved, director of Cardiac Services, at 365-4323.

The General Hospital Center at Passaic has also developed an off-site Wellness Program. The program is available for schools, local organizations, and businesses. Through the Wellness Program, The General offers free health screenings, which include blood pressure, pulse, blood typing and tests for anemia, and pulmonary function. In addition, experts from different health fields are available for lectures, demonstrations, and question-answer sessions. Topics offered in this series include Diet and Nutrition, Cardiac Care, Emergency Medicine and home first-aid courses, Parenting Programs, and Social Work Services programs. For information on any of these programs or to schedule a Wellness Program, contact the Community Relations Department of The General Hospital Center at Passaic at 365-4652.

Mary Ross is honored for secretarial service

More than 150 Essex County bowlers, friends and family members were on hand recently to honor Mary Ross of Belleville who resigned as secretary of the Essex County Association of the Young American Bowling Alliance.

Ross, who stepped down after 18 years in office, was recognized for her many years of service to Junior Bowling on the county, state and national levels. Representatives from the New Jersey State Young American Bowling Alliance and both the Essex County Women's and Men's Bowling Associations presented Ross with plaques.

Although she vacated the post of secretary, Ross will continue to be involved with the YABA, in addition to being secretary to several adult bowling leagues. She is also secretary of the more than 6,000-member Essex County Women's Bowling Association.

Ross, a well-known activist in Essex County bowling circles, was rewarded for her service with induction in the Essex County WBA Hall of Fame.

Is the Bible Trustworthy?

By The Rev. Robert Paul
Grace Baptist Church

Two men of great ability once met to discuss the claims of Christianity.

One was Lord Lyttleton, who afterwards became Chancellor of the Exchequer (1756); the other was his friend, Gilbert West, a lawyer of good standing. West was an avowed Deist and Lyttleton himself a skeptic.

They both agreed in rejecting the Christian Revelation and also agreed that the two strongest pillars of the Christian Church were the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ and the conversion of St. Paul, formerly Saul of Tarsus.

Determining that if these could be both disproved, Christianity would soon fall to the ground. So, they each decided to write a book. Lyttleton to show that St. Paul's conversion as recorded in the book of Acts, Chapter 9 was a made-up story and West, to prove that our Lord's resurrection was a pious myth.

After a while they met again. "Well," Lord Lyttleton said, "How are you getting on with your book?"

"The more I examine the evidence for the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ," West said, "the more convinced I become that the Gospel story is true and that Christ actually did rise from the dead. My book must now be written to prove that."

"And I," Lord Lyttleton said, "have come to the same conclusion that the narrative in the book of Acts is absolutely true and I shall write a book to show that the conversion and Apostleship of St. Paul is of itself sufficient to prove Christianity to be a Divine Revelation."

Consider the words of Revelation: "I am he that liveth and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen: and have the keys of death." (Revelation 1:18.) "To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs being seen of them 40 days and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." (Acts 1:3.)

Can you say with the Apostle Paul, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first and also to the Greek." (See Romans 1:16.)

Dr. Orsini honored at cancer convention

Dr. James Orsini, an associate specializing in Oncology at Clara Maass Medical Center, was recently honored as a distinguished speaker at the Third Rome International Cancer Symposium in Vatican City, Italy.

During the symposium's "Breast Cancer Series," Dr. Orsini discussed his findings on a new six-month treatment program for breast cancer now successfully being implemented at Clara Maass Medical Center. He presented a paper co-authored by Dr. Michael Scopetulo, also of Clara Maass, entitled, "Adjuvant Treatment for Stage II Breast Cancer with Six Cycles of Intravenous CMF" which described the treatment and its benefits. According to their findings, the agony of chemotherapy traditionally used in fighting breast cancer can be cut in half, hair loss can be minimized and women can still be treated safely and successfully.

After completing the symposium, Dr. Orsini was honored by his alma mater, The University of Bologna, where he addressed the faculty and students on the latest advances in fighting cancer of the lung.

Dr. Orsini and Dr. Scopetulo have offices in Belleville and Bloomfield and have hospital affiliations with Mt. Sinai Hospital and Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York.

Registration open for pre-school program

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for its September pre-schoolplay program for 4-year-old children.

A session is from 9:15-11:15 a.m., five days a week with class limited to 25 students. Cost of the 15-week session, directed by Mrs. Susanne Iannini, is $45.

The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A parent of a child accepted will serve one duty about every eight or nine days according to a published schedule.

For information or enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422.

How can you tell if a supermarket is low priced?

You can look at their specials. But you buy three times as much at regular prices. Only Grand Union publishes thousands of regular prices every single week in the Price Finder; you can easily check on them. Nobody, but nobody would publish thousands of regular prices every single week unless they knew their prices were low.

That's how you can tell a supermarket is low priced; you can check on them.

Grand Union also shows you all the specials in the Price Finder for Specials; here's just a few of them:

Softball: Hot Sport

Question: What's the hottest sport in town during the hot summer days and nights? Answer: Softball, what else.

Drive through the township during a weeknight or a Saturday and Sunday morning and you'll see plenty of softball games on the local diamonds. Softball is a game that attracts a number of athletes. It can be fast pitch, slow pitch, high arc or low arc. The participants can be tall, short, skinny or heavy. They can be young or old, male or female. It's a game that everyone can enjoy and one that attracts a lot of attention from the local townspeople.

Last week, I did a piece on the Belleville Police and their success this past season in the P.B.A. The Pride of Belleville were at it again, defeating Montclair this past weekend by counts of 13-3 and 5-4, negating an earlier one run loss to Montclair and advancing to the semi final round of the playoffs. Belleville will now take on a tough team from Jersey City, with the first game set at Belleville High this Saturday morning, starting at 9:30 a.m. The second game is at Jersey City on Sunday morning, with the third, if necessary, to be played the following Saturday at Belleville High. All games start at 9:30 a.m.

After losing its first game by a 5-4 count to Montclair, the Belleville Police defeated the Mounties, 13-3 last Saturday morning. The following day, Belleville had a tougher outing, engaging the talented Montclair squad, 5-4. Jim Guiliano powered a two run homer and Scott Sim made a nice catch for the final out of the game. Sim's catch was crucial, because Montclair had two runners on base and could have taken the lead had Sim not caught the ball.

The Police now concentrate on Jersey City, a team that Sgt. Bill Escott expects a difficult time with. "They have a tough team," Escott said. "Montclair had a tough ball club, also. They had some good pitching. Usually, 5-4 games are uncommon in the league. The scores are generally a lot higher than that, but they had some very good pitching."

Looking ahead to the championship game, should Belleville get by Jersey City, the competition will be either East Orange or Newark.

"Both of those teams had better records than we did," Escott said. "Either way, it's going to be tough."

Another softball team that had a tremendous season was All-Guard Insurance, that won the "B" Division tournament for the second straight year in the Tuesday Night league.

All-Guard finished with a 16-3 record, stopping Campbell Tool in the first round of the playoffs, Garden State Pet in round two and sweeping past Capital Tavern in the championship round.

Because the team did so well this year, All-Guard must now switch to the "A" division for the 1986 season. It is a tougher division, but the team members look forward to the challenge.

"We'll be playing teams like De Bacco's, who are really good," said third baseman Phil Agosta of the schedule next year. "But, I think it will be a good challenge for our team. I think we have a team that can be real strong for many years."

Last season, All-Guard won the tournament after finishing fourth in the regular season standings. This season, the team was not back, taking first place in the division.

The team roster is made up of Toby Tobin at first base, Frank Ameo and Ken Constantino playing second, Pat Barbone, the manager, playing shortstop and Agosta at third.

The pitcher is Jim Ucci, a first year member of the team who pitched very well.

Mark Restivo did a good job coming off the bench. He contributed some key hits down the stretch and was very important in the championship effort.

Many of the men who play for All-Guard have their own businesses in Belleville. Agosta is the owner of Plaza Travel on Franklin Avenue. Barbone is the owner of an auto repair shop in Belleville and Racipipi owns a few insurance agencies throughout Essex County. Many of the men were graduates of Belleville High and it's always nice to see the products of Belleville upbringing remaining in town and making nice contributions to the future of the town. It just goes to show that our town is a pretty nice place in which to live.

Agosta has also issued a "challenge" to the Belleville Police department's softball team. He would like All-Guard to play the P.B.A. in a charity softball game before the end of the summer. Proceeds would go to charity and it would be a popular event throughout town. For example, Agosta's brother, Tom, plays leftfield for the P.B.A. It would be an all Belleville event and should generate a good deal of excitement.

Last weeks quiz

Other than Toronto and Seattle, who broke in the major leagues in 1977, name the other teams in the major leagues that have not been to a World Series in team history. The answer: Montreal and Houston in the National League while Texas (once the Washington Senators) and California in the A.L. have never been to the Series.

This Weeks Quiz

While California, Texas, Montreal and Houston have never been to a World Series, they have had winning teams in the past. Name the closest the teams have come to the Series and the year it happened. Remember, Texas was once the Washington Senators.

Don't Look Now

Just four more weeks before the start of another school year. Pretty soon, we'll be talking about the football, soccer, cross country, tennis, gymnastics and volleyball teams. Where did the summer go? Enjoy what's left of this nice weather.

Forfeit brings 21-18-1 season to an end

Essex County League eliminates Belleville Braves from season play

A very disappointing season ended a week prematurely for the Belleville Braves when the team was dismissed from the Essex County baseball league for forfeiting a game with Verona last week.

Thus ends a season of frustration for Anthony Coco, Sal Garilli and Company. The record of 4-31 reflects the disappointment the team suffered in a season that started with so much anticipation.

"I'm very disappointed," Coco said last Monday night. "We expected so much this season, especially after last year (a 21-18-1 mark and playoff berth) but it wasn't meant to be."

The Braves lost some key hitters that led last years team. Players like Dom Vazzano, Bill Feehan, Steve Karlick, Greg Weber and Joe Corbalis could not play for the Braves this season for various reasons. Corbalis was hampered by a bad knee, Feehan played with another team in the Essex County baseball league and work schedules created conflicts for some other players.

The Braves closed the 1985 summer with losses to the Union Rams, 5-4, Millburn, 12-3 and Parsippany, 7-5. As was the case most of the summer, the Braves played some pretty good games, but didn't have enough mustard to pull off the victory.

Against the first place Union Rams, Belleville took a 4-3 lead into the bottom of the sixth and had Ed Grzybowski pitching a three hitter. Unfortunately, disaster struck in the sixth. Grzybowski twisted a knee and had to be carried off the mound. Mike Forte entered the game without ample time to warm up and he was met with a two run homer to give the Rams a 5-4 lead.

Mike Caliendo helped the Braves with three hits, a single, double and triple while Dan O'Grady had two hits and Mark Roll, a solo homer.

Versus Millburn, Belleville grabbed an early 3-1 lead when Mike Cavaluzzi singled and went to second on a single by Coco. Both men stole a base on a double steal and Scott Wohlrab cracked a three run homer to give the Braves a 3-1 lead.

Calvin Fisher started for Belleville, but he didn't have his best stuff and exited after three innings with Millburn holding a 7-3 lead. Rich Michaels came in to finish the game, yielding five runs over the last three innings as Millburn won, 12-3.

Against Parsippany, the first place team in Belleville's division, the Braves scored first when Wohlrab singled, went to second on a single by Grzybowski and scored on a hit by Caliendo.

Steve Symczak started for Belleville and he was met with seven Parsippany runs in the bottom of the first. Symczak came back, however, hurling five scoreless innings and the Braves came back with four runs over the last three innings to cut the deficit.

Roll had a double for one run and Rob Panullo drove in two runs with a double and single. Grzybowski, returning from the sore knee, was 3-3 and O'Grady had two hits.

The forfeit against Verona last Monday eliminated the team from the Essex County baseball league for the remainder of the summer. League rules say that two forfeits disqualifies a team from league play and Belleville forfeited a game earlier this year. Next week, the Times will wrap up the Braves season.

Belleville Boys' Basketball team loses two games in summer action

The Belleville boys' basketball team ran into some tall competition last week and lost two ball games to East Orange and Weequahic.

Don Roll's team finished the regular season last Monday with a contest against Don Bosco Tech. Tonight, the team is scheduled to begin play in the playoffs from Dunn Arena in Elizabeth. Game time and opponent were not known at press time. The most probable opponents are Elizabeth or Columbia, depending upon Belleville's game with Don Bosco. In either case, the first round opponent will be quite difficult.

"You can teach many things," said head coach Don Roll, "however, you can not coach height. In the last two games, the other team was just too tall. We were without Don (Washington), the teams power forward) and against teams like Weequahic and East Orange, with 6-7 and 6-8 forwards, we don't have a very good shot."

Despite the size disadvantage, Belleville played quite well, bowing by 18 to E.O., 68-50 and falling by nine points to first place Weequahic, 58-49. In both games, the Bucs were led offensively by Ted Sochaski and Leon Puentes.

Versus East Orange, Puentes led the way for Belleville with 15 points. He was followed by Sochaski with 13, Don Mastro with 10, Loung La with 10 and Mark Goldrick with two.

The Weequahic game saw Sochaski score 18 and Puentes, 15 to lead the way.

"Both of those guys have been strong all summer," Roll said. "The league has been good experience for the entire team. We have been up against some of the best teams in the state and that has to help when the season starts in November."

But, Roll warned, this is just the summer time.

"The kids can not forget what they have learned from now through November. Our defense has improved steadily all summer long. The team is boxing out much better and is working harder on the boards."

"Offensively, we now have four players looking to score, where as in the past, there was one, maybe two. That's the difference between the team of last year (1984-85) and now. But we have to keep the intensity until November, or it will be back to the drawing board again."

The Bucs have won two games in the summer league, defeating St. Patrick's of Elizabeth and Irvington. In some of the other games, the team has played very impressive ball, losing to defending state champ Elizabeth, by two points and battling some of the other teams, including top ranked Weequahic, down to the wire.

As Roll mentioned, the key to the success of the league will not be determined until late November, when the Bucs begin practicing for what should be a very difficult schedule in the NNJL. Teams like Paterson Eastside, Paterson Kennedy, Nutley, Bloomfield and Montclair will offer the Bucs more than their monies worth. Whether the team has made any strides toward improvement over the 1984-85 season won't really be known for another three months.

By Mike Lamberti

For Jim Landon, it wasn't whether the team won or lost, it was just a lot of fun to coach the players.

The record will show that Belleville posted a 12-8 mark in legion play, advancing to the semi final round of the legion playoffs before losing to Bloomfield. The record will also show that the game with Bloomfield will go down as one of the most exciting games of the summer, with Bloomfield winning, 9-8, by scoring three times in the bottom of the ninth.

"It was an honor coaching these kids," Landon said last Monday night. "There is some good talent in this town coming up. These kids were just great. I couldn't have asked for a nicer bunch of athletes. Everyone pulled for everyone. If only we had a little more pitching, we could have gone further."

Pitching, the Achilles heel of so many teams, hurt Belleville this past season. The club was awesome on the offense, posting a team batting average of .328 and putting up some very impressive numbers.

Dave Long led the team in hitting with a .431 average, cracking five homers and driving in 18 runs. Long also posted a .538 on base percentage. He will be a senior at Belleville High School this fall and surely, will be a closely watched athlete by many college scouts next spring.

Nelson Landon, entering his sophomore year at Fairleigh Dickinson University, posted some very impressive numbers. Landon hit .400, stole 13 bases, drove home 23 runs, cracked three homers, led the team with seven triples and had an on base percentage of .614.

John Aurierma, also an upcoming senior at Belleville High, batted .377, with 17 ribbies, four homers, two of which were grand slams, and an on base percentage of .658.

Steve Mulhearn, recently graduated from BHS, hit .344 with three homers, 19 runs batted in, six doubles and an on base percentage of .516.

Tom Reid hit .328, with 12 stolen bases, 11 ribbies and a .500 on base percentage. Allan Ruopp, like Reid a recent graduate of BHS, hit .311 with 18 stolen bases, 12 ribbies and a .500 on base percentage.

Jeff Spillsbury and Jaime Galito, future sophomores at BHS, batted .333 each. Jim Dunphy, an upcoming junior at the high school with a world of talent, hit .303 with 20 ribbies and three homers. Al Best finished with a .280 average and Jim Caponi finished with a .265 clip.

All told, the Belleville offense contributed 20 homers, 33 doubles and an amazing 75 stolen bases.

"We had a very good defense, too," said Landon. "Our shortstop (Landon), second baseman (Ruopp) and first base combination (Mulhearn) did a very good job all season long. Our team was feared throughout the county. You had to score a lot of runs to defeat Belleville. The kids never quit, they were a very special group of athletes."

The pitching was paced by Reid and Dunphy, both of whom finished with 4-3 marks. Mulhearn posted a 2-1 mark while Dan Ruggiero finished 2-1.

Ruopp, who pitched so effectively for Belleville High this past spring, could not hurl that much during the summer months due to a sore arm.

The team on base percentage was a robust .452. Belleville averaged 6.9 runs per game.

"You always hear about the negative things in town," Landon said. "When things are right, you never hear too much. Well, I'd like to say that these kids are a great bunch of people who gave everyone in Belleville reason to be proud. They are fine young men and I was very proud to coach them."

Somewhat after hearing comments like that, you really don't care whether the team was 12-8 or 0-20.

Applications are now available for recreation sports leagues

Applications for the 1985 Recreation Soccer Leagues are now available at the Recreation Department Office, 407 Joralemon Street. Boys and girls 7 through 14 years of age who are residents of Belleville are eligible to take part in this program, which is conducted in the fall. Participants must be at least seven years old on December 1, 1985 and cannot be 14 years old before September 1, 1985. All persons interested in playing must apply even if they played last year. Ninth graders are not eligible.

Registration will be accepted in person only, Monday - Friday, between 8:30 a.m. - noon and 1-4 p.m. Parental permission and birth certificates are required for all applicants. No applications will be accepted by mail, by phone or through the schools. Deadline for applications is Friday, September 6, 1985. Ninth graders are not eligible.

Applications for the 1985 Belleville Recreation Touch Football League are also available at the Recreation Department office, 407 Joralemon Street. Boys ages 8-12 are eligible for this program, which is conducted in the fall. Prospective participants must be at least 8 years old before December 1, 1985 and cannot be 13 years old before December 1, 1985. All returning players must re-apply.

Registration for football can be picked up at the Recreation Department on Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. - noon and 1-4 p.m. Parental permission and birth certificates are required for each and every boy before the September 13 deadline at the Rec House.

Applications for the newly formed Belleville Recreation "Junior Bucs" Tackle football program for boys 8-14 will also be available at the Recreation Department office Call 450-3422 for further information.

Applications available for traveling team

The Belleville Recreation Department's 1985 Tackle Football program will be one of a traveling nature. This year's football program will provide good competition for the youths involved as well as supplementing the high school football program as an effective feeder system. Belleville's "JUNIOR BUCS" will compete in the Metropolitan Junior Football League, which also includes teams from Bloomfield, Clifton, Kearny and Nutley.

The program will be open to boys ages 8-14 who weigh a minimum of 60 pounds and a maximum of 140 pounds.

Tryouts will begin in mid-to-late August. Boys interested in playing must register by filling out an application form which must be signed by a parent. All applications must be accompanied by a recent passport-size photo and a copy of his birth certificate baptismal paper.

Applications can be picked up and returned with a copy of birth certificate and passport photo to the Rec House at 407 Joralemon Street by Friday, August 9, 1985. Tryouts will begin on Monday, August 19 at 6:00 at the Municipal Stadium.

Variety of playground activities keep township children busy

A variety of activities continue to take place at the township's playgrounds.

Fairway Park was entertained last week by some people who acted out being professional wrestlers. The Piper's Pit television program was acted out along with "steel cage" matches.

The stars were Frank Van Syckle as Rowdy Roddy Piper; Mike Cappadaro as Paul Orndorff; and Mike Liliola as Cowboy Bob Orton. Van Syckle also appeared as Rick Flair.

The junior league softball team finished its season 6-6-1. The team's top players were Bill Nehila, Frank Orrei and Bill Prosperi. The team had five home runs this year: Orrei (two); Nehila (two) and Mike Prosperi (one).

Box ball was the game of the week at School 8. Christine and Jocelyn Sansano, Bruce Melson and Alan and Paul Delleis all enjoyed participating in the activity.

At School 10, Kevin and Jeff Vogel, Kevin and Kenny Johansen and Mark Della Volpe and Mike Danduone enjoyed playing wiffleball at School 10 last week.

The week at School 10 was culminated by a bike race in which Mark "Goonies" Della Volpe was the first place winner with Mike Danduone and Kevin Johansen taking second and third place, respectively.

At the stadium, a new game was developed in which a person with the best insult was awarded a prize. Linda Wujciak pulled out the narrow victory over Jim De Ambrose.

Kristen Galito was the winner of the marble game last week. Bobby Roselli was crowned the nok-hockey tournament champion.

At the Friendly House last week, the pool was the main event.

Many tournaments were conducted and winners are as follows: Jessica Llamas, the watermelon feed; Vinnie "Take Off Your Shirt" Nucci, the most improved swimmer; and Billy Cocotti, most likely to become a fish award.

Kelly names Fetterly campaign manager

Bloomfield Councilman Robert E. Fetterly has been named campaign manager for John V. Kelly in his bid for the State Assembly in the 30th legislative district.

Fetterly, twice elected township councilman, the second time with more than 60 percent of the vote, is a local businessman. Married and the father of two children, he is 31 years old.

Kelly is using his second term in the state legislature. He was elected for one term in 1981.

"I was only too glad to accept this post as campaign manager for John Kelly," Fetterly said. "It's a privilege and a great opportunity for the people of our area to elect John and his running mate, Marion Crecco, to the Assembly."

"We share the same views that the hardworking taxpayers of our area need relief and one sure way to help that cause is to elect state officials who are committed to property tax relief and less government spending," Fetterly said.

"John Kelly and Marion Crecco are committed to putting the tax issues on the front burner and to less spending, not excessive spending," he continued.

area gets strong representation in the State House in Trenton."

John Kelly, active for many years in community and charitable affairs has been a resident of the district for 22 years. He is the president of Nutley Savings and Loan Association.

While a member of the state legislature from 1981 to 1983, Kelly was a member of the Insurance and Banking Committee. He authored the original 1983 Jobs Training Act officially known as the Governor's Employment and Training Initiative, which provided training for the state's economically disadvantaged and displaced workers.

He sponsored legislation calling for the establishment of a fund to aid families with children suffering from catastrophic illnesses and major disabilities and legislation aimed at eliminating nuisance suits and lowering auto insurance rates.

He was the author of one of New Jersey's strongest pieces of legislation requiring mandatory jail terms for those convicted of disposing of hazardous waste illegally into the environment and a bill providing for specialized training for municipal health officials to help them identify and secure sites affected by hazardous chemical discharges.

The 30th Legislative District is made up of seven towns: Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Nutley and Verona.

'Meet Cockatoo Birds' offered Aug. 12 at library

The Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., will be offering an unusual program entitled "Meet Cockatoo Birds" Monday, Aug. 12, at 7 p.m.

Kathleen Mollica, Silver Lake Branch librarian, will present her cockatoo birds, Henry, whom she purchased in Singapore, and Mata, whom she purchased in the Philippines in 1981.

The birds do some talking, but they enjoy doing tricks the best.

Children enjoy arts and crafts at library

Creative Program - These children recently enjoyed an arts and crafts program conducted at the Belleville Public Library. The arts and crafts program is only one of the many programs the library offers to township children. During the summer months, the library conducts a lunch hour film series and reading program, as well as other craft programs. Programs are offered at both the main library, 221 Washington Ave., and the Silver Lake Branch library, 30 Magnolia St. For information on library programs, call 759-9200. - Photos by Michelle Jeannotte.

Free Self Help Group for persons with anorexia nervosa, bulimia and compulsive eating problems will begin Monday, Aug. 19, in Livingston. For free information, call eating disorders hotline: 1-800-624-2268.

Miss Mollica, who has been with the library for the past 12 years, is president of the Garden State Film Circuit, a past president of the Children's Section New Jersey Library Association (NJLA) and a board member of the Administration Section of NJLA.

For tickets, call the library at 759-9200.

Sen. Orechio protests remarks about N.J.

N.J. Senate President Carmen A. Orechio has written to South Dakota Attorney General Mark Meierhenry, protesting remarks Meierhenry made regarding New Jersey Sicilians and all Italian-Americans.

Meierhenry made his comments after U.S. Sen. Bill Bradley introduced legislation to return 1.3 million acres of land in South Dakota's Black Hills to the Sioux Indians. Meierhenry told reporters he would ask the South Dakota congressional delegation to introduce legislation giving New Jersey to the Italian region of Sicily.

"I think most of us recognize that Sicilians run and own New Jersey anyway and I think it would be in everybody's best interest that New Jersey become a Sicilian outpost here under their laws," speaking their language," he is quoted as saying.

A spokesman for the attorney general's office said his remarks were made in jest and "I think he'd just as soon let the matter die a peaceful death."

Orechio's letter to Meierhenry stated: "Dear Attorney General Meierhenry:

Your recent slur against Italians demonstrates your insensitivity to the ethnic diversity which is the bedrock of this country.

A simple apology is inadequate to appease the insult you decided to levy on the millions of Italian-Americans who have built this nation from the ground up and who have reached the highest levels of leadership and achievement.

You have betrayed a trust from the people by using your access to the media to insult generations of an ethnic culture you obviously do not understand.

Your disagreement on policy with Senator Bradley hardly entitles you to degrade the State of New Jersey, Italian-Americans and the legions of proud Sicilians who overcame discrimination through hard work.

An apology by you should be directed to those who do not have a voice to respond to your insult directly. But there is a lot more you should do.

Think of the workers who built the bridges and the highways and who labored on the docks of this nation to make it the greatest country in the world today.

Then read about their sons and daughters who pursued higher education and branched out into virtually every area of science, business and public leadership while defending this nation from those who would destroy the American way of life.

I do not know if you have been to New Jersey. But I would like to invite you. In fact, allow me to invite you after you have done your research on contributions made to this country by Italian-Americans and how New Jersey became a multi-ethnic state with a great deal of pride in its people.

Your comments must be condemned and repudiated. But they also must serve as a reminder to all those concerned with equality that there are people in high places who are all too ready to malign our hard-earned freedom to live without oppression.

Once you have done your research, I would be very interested to see if you are willing to repeat your initial comments to the faces of the people you have so crudely slurred."

Selling of Herald-News may bring changes; rumors say change in name is possibility

By Bill Gruver

Although the new owners of the Herald-News contend that there will not be any major changes in administration or management of the newspaper, rumors persist that changes will take place. One that is large on the rumor list is a change of name. And some top level management changes are also expected.

The announcement of the sale of the Herald-News to Garden State Newspapers culminated nearly two years of rumors that the newspaper was on the selling block. The then owner and publisher Austin Drukker always denied such rumors and at one point threatened the editor of another area newspaper with a law suit if he didn't retract his story of a pending sale.

But in the last month, those rumors re-emerged. Even some of the Herald-News reporters who talk to their colleagues said those rumors filled the conversation in the news room, but they couldn't confirm if a sale was eminent.

The new owners, Garden State Newspapers, is an association of prominent New Jersey newspaper managers. The principals of the three-year-old company are Richard Scudder, former publisher of The Newark News, and William Dean Singleton, former publisher of the Paterson News. Singleton had taken over direction of the Paterson News when it was purchased by Washington, D.C. financier Joseph Albritton in 1981. At that time Albritton owned the Washington Star, now defunct.

The announcement statement was terse, only saying that no major changes will take place but that present policies would remain in effect. Immediately following that announcement, the new owners placed a news blackout on any further information about the sale.

Reportedly, all employees of the Herald-News were told to talk to any outside reporters or answer any inquiries about the sale. The new management decided that Singleton would be the company's spokesperson. As a result, a steady procession of reporters were turned away from the newspaper office at 988 Main Avenue. The Herald-News main office is on the border line of Clifton and Passaic.

The newspaper was bought from Austin Drukker, last in a long line of his family members who owned and managed the newspaper for successive generations. At one time, the Herald-News had been a dominant force in the political and civic life of northern New Jersey. But that influence had waned over the years and was especially pronounced within the last five years.

The Herald-News circulation had steadily diminished. There were several spurts of renewed circulation-boosting campaigns, but they did not stop the slide downwards. The biggest drop in coverage took place in zoned area editions in Essex and outlying areas of Passaic County. The decline became evident during the protracted dispute between management and the editorial writing staffs two years ago. The Herald-News had been accused by some of the union officials of trying to break the union. One result of that strike was the firing of more than 15 percent of the newspaper's writing and editorial personnel, most of whom were not replaced.

Singleton found himself in a similar position when he took over control at the Paterson News five years ago. That newspaper, once a dominant force, was limping to what seemed to be its demise. Singleton cut costs and staff, fought off a bitter strike which ended with the disintegration of the union. All of the union employees were either dismissed or resigned.

Known as a bright, tough-minded manager, Singleton's partner in running The Paterson News to its resurgence was John Buzzetta. Buzzetta left The News when Singleton did and joined with Scudder in the newly formed Garden State Newspapers. The new company already owns newspapers in California, Ohio and in Southern New Jersey.

The coming weeks will show what changes will take place at The Herald-News but most believe the new look will not take long to emerge.

The sale of the Herald-News also included the Dover Advance, another newspaper in Morris County owned by the Drukker family.

Water mains and playgrounds will be funded through grant

tion of Belleville.

The Belleville Times learned that the project will involve cleaning and cement-lining of 12-inch watermain beneath Main Street, Bayard, Williams, Belleville Ave., Rutgers and Academy streets.

"That particular area is one of the oldest sections of Belleville with an infrastructure that is badly in need of repair," DiRuggiero said. The deteriorated water mains are largely responsible, he said, for discolored drinking water in parts of the community.

"Besides the funds announced today by the county, Belleville is also financing water improvements through recently approved bond issues," DiRuggiero notes.

DiRuggiero commended Public Works Commissioner Joseph Grande's efforts in developing an all-encompassing improvement plan involving streets, water lines and the sewage system for Belleville.

"We are especially pleased with County Executive Shapiro's announcement today because we realize that funds this year are limited," DiRuggiero told The Belleville Times.

"We would have liked additional monies to assist us with our redevelopment project involving Washington Avenue, but we realize we couldn't have everything we wanted. But on a whole, all of us in Belleville are very, very pleased," DiRuggiero said.

Shapiro said the county this year contributed $136,000 in surplus revenues unused from block grants announced during the past nine years. A total of $6.1 million in awards was approved this week for 16 Essex County municipalities.

Shapiro said that the federal budget adopted by Congress last week will result in approximately a 15 percent cut for the county grant program next year.

GREEN APPLE Cafe

By Lisa Grimaldi

A new restaurant has opened in the area, which has perfect blend of atmosphere, food, drink and quality service. The Green Apple, located in the Pathmark Center on the Nutley/Belleville border, is, in one word, a delight.

The interior has been completely transformed from the previous restaurant's (The Ground Round) decor. Now, it is fresh, airy and spacious. The prevalent color is, obviously, green, but my favorite aspect of the restaurant is a model train that runs on track around the restaurant, high up on the wall.

The waiters and hostesses are all attractive, friendly, young people (mainly college students) who wear a uniform of green polo shirts and khaki slacks. Our waiter was a very personable student from the University of Delaware, working here for the summer. He had a thorough knowledge of all menu items, had many suggestions, and he graciously fulfilled all our requests.

The menu of The Green Apple is small, but everything on it is made to order, and there is enough variety for many appetites. The potpourri from the appetizer list was a delicious, generous platter of delicately deep-fried mushrooms, zucchini, potato skins, and my favorite, an onion ring loaf which was made of fresh red onions. Chris, one of the capable managers of the restaurant, had us sample something from each section of the menu. He cooked the Crabmeat stuffed Sole to "a succulent perfection." The portion was generous and was served over an intriguing rice. The Stuffed Chicken Breast was also delicious, and both entrees were served with either a baked potato or freshly cut french fries.

There are many salads to choose from, with some interesting variations to the usual iceberg and chef salads. The spinach salad was fresh and delicious, and was served with a great hot bacon dressing.

The Burgers here are incredible! They are made of a one-half pound fresh ground beef, and they are huge. There are many types of the Pub Burgers on the menu. The menu also features Croissant Sandwiches, The Turkey, Bacon, and Swiss Sandwich was fantastic, the croissant was overstuffed, and was served with a slice of sweet watermelon, and chips.

A special of the day was the Three Cheese Quiche. I am not usually a fan of the dish, but this quiche was extraordinary. It was light, fluffy, and tasty, and was served with a big slice of home-made cornbread. There is also a special Mexican section on the menu, which has some interesting dishes.

For dessert, there are several home-made confections which are out of this world. The Chocolate Chocolate... Cake was so rich and delicious, that it must be shared with someone. In fact, each generous slice is served with two forks! There is also a sinfully delicious Chocolate Chocolate Chip Ice Cream, which was the ultimate indulgence to end the meal with.

The menu is the same for both dinner and lunch, although there are daily specials. The restaurant is open from 11 AM until 2 AM daily, except on Sunday, when it closes at midnight.

The Green Apple is located at 720 Washington Avenue in Belleville, right on the Nutley border, an ideal spot for lunches, after work drinks and appetizers, dinner, and late night snacks, with a full bar list also. I highly recommend it.

Parents support administrative post and part-time principal contract (which has not yet been signed) will start a new principal from outside the system at a salary of $40,300. In 1985-86, a top salary for an elementary school principal (within the system) would be $48,300.

If a principal from within the system is reassigned to an assistant superintendent's position and an elementary school principal hired from within the system, it would cost the taxpayers approximately $9,600 a year, not $5,000, he said.

Two parents in the audience voiced their support of an assistant superintendent part-time principal at School 9.

"People are worried about having a principal from 8:30-11:30 a.m.," Mrs. Kathy Watkowski said. "We are not for sharing a principal with another school in the district. I believe it worked when Michael Rosamilia was a part-time principal and assistant superintendent at School 9."

Cora Boice, another parent in the audience, also supported the position of part-time principal.

"Don't entertain the thought of splitting School 9's principal with any other school in this town," Mrs. Boice said. "If you have someone of Mr. Rosamilia's caliber and wish to make him principal and assistant superintendent, there will be no problem. But he better be of Mr. Rosamilia's caliber. Every taxpayer in this town has a right to quality education for their children."

What most parents in the audience were concerned about was the recent High School Proficiency Test results for Belleville students. Test scores, which were lower than other Essex County school districts, have been the main focus of those supporting the position of assistant superintendent of schools.

"We are at the bottom of the suburban barrel," Mrs. Cicalese said. "Who did we beat out - Newark, Irvington and East Orange? If we are not proficient in these areas, we'll be in trouble. We feel that if you start articulating equally among the elementary schools and then continue onto the middle school and upward to the high school, this continuity and dialogue between the schools will be improved with elementary curriculum."

Board member Nazzola, however, said that curriculum in the elementary schools is not responsible for the low test scores at the high school level.

"There has been no major emphasis on curriculum within the past 15 years," Mr. Nazzola said. "However, in the past three years, there has been a widespread revision program under the director of Mr. Lally (assistant superintendent of schools). We have developed better than 180 curriculum guides that will be used in September. If you ask Mr. Lally for test scores of the lowas in the elementary schools, that testing criteria shows where we stand in elementary curriculum."

School Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said that a possible excuse for low test scores at the high school level is that the proficiencies being tested on are far from those being taught.

"If we have to start teaching how to take a test," Dr. D'Agostino said, "I have a big problem with that."

Dr. D'Agostino said that a plan attacking this problem will be addressed by the board administration. On the matter of an assistant superintendent of elementary curriculum part-time principal, Dr. D'Agostino said the board will have to make that decision at the group's next meeting which is Aug. 19.

Township's revenues cut by budget

supports the package and "will not criticize those who vote for it."

Reagan and congressional leaders had set a goal in the beginning of the year to cut deficits in half, to $100 billion or less by 1988. But even with projected savings of $276.2 billion over three years, the spending plan would leave a shortfall of more than $112 billion in that year.

Redevelopment Agency asks for re-evaluation of direction

"There is developer interest," Mr. Dasaro said. "It is out there. We are just looking for the highest and best use of the land."

He said that if more businesses were given the opportunity to build in Belleville, more jobs would be created as well as more tax ratables.

"American Insurance Group moved out of New York City and went right over us to East Orange," Mr. Dasaro said. "Of course, the reason being we didn't have the land."

"Relocating is a difficult barrier," Mr. Dasaro said, referring to blight declaration. "We have talked with Belleville School Board members about their interest in moving their offices to the new municipal complex. We asked them to consider selling the land to the BRA, which we would use for relocation. It is a solid plan, one that could be made to work."

"We can have a rejuvenation of a comatose, but potential slum area by using EDC loans and UDAG grants as incentives now," Mr. Dasaro continued.

"We need to have an idea from commissioners of their concepts of land use. We must move in unison. The BRA is nothing but an instrumentality of the township - all decisions lie with the township."

Mr. Dasaro said that the BRA had said it would never lose sight of those people who would be involved - what they would have to do and where they would go.

"If anybody fears change, look at the alternative, it's not very attractive," he said.

In closing, Mr. Dasaro asked the commissioners for an update on developer interest concerning the property next to town hall.

"We are at a standstill now," Mayor Michael Marotti said. "Someone does want to build north of town hall, but we haven't heard from him in quite some time. We would like to see that project go up and build our building in the back."

"We're not going to wait for him," Marotti continued. "We'll give him a deadline. Hopefully by September we will pick our architect and have plans in the works. We also had a developer looking over the avenue for 10 acres to building a shopping area. But what route we're going to take, we don't know yet."

Gabriel Nazzola, a member of the BRA, said that the concept of the BRA is to bring in newer and higher tax assessable properties with larger tax bases. Those buildings, he said, will benefit the town as a result.

"The BRA has to tell a developer it has the land," Mr. Nazzola said. "The commissioners will then have to spot blight the area. If they do not, each property individually and try to negotiate buying the land. Without a declaration of blight, that is an impossible feat."

Mr. Nazzola also said that if spot blight is put into affect, property owners, particularly businesses, can possibly be relocated to other areas along the avenue. He said once the blighted area is redeveloped, those property owners who were relocated can have a first chance at moving back into the area.

"Of course they'll have higher rents," Mr. Nazzola said, "but look at the facilities they'll then have. They'll also have three times the business."

No definite conclusion was reached at the meeting, but Joseph Dasaro did ask the commissioners to consider designating one member to be a liaison between the board and the BRA.

Peace group holds prayer service to commemorate Hiroshima bombing

By Kara Laczynski

With prayer and song, the nuclear bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki were commemorated by more than 100 people at Saint Peter's Church on William Street this past Sunday. Nuclear disarmament was stressed in the interdenominational service.

The Rev. John Denny, who led the service, "A lot of money goes into making things that kill people, but the Lord's way is not destruction."

"We have to put faith not in a metal God, but in the spiritual God," he said.

"We prayed for peace and remembered the people of Hiroshima and Nagasaki," Mrs. Carol Vacca of Mill Street said. "The service was beautiful."

More than 130,000 people died either immediately or in the aftermath of the American attack on Hiroshima, August 6 marks the 40th anniversary of this first use of nuclear weapons. Nagasaki was bombed three days later and 70,000 people perished there.

To galvanize support for nuclear disarmament, Father Denny founded the Peace Team. The group meets every second Tuesday at 8 p.m. in St. Peter's Rectory and is open to people of any denomination.

Negative influences are hurting the emotional growth of youths

By Stefan Lerner, M.D.

The Carrier Foundation
The longer I treat young people with psychiatric ailments, the more impressed I am that the youth of today is exposed to greater negative and detrimental influences on emotional growth than were the young people of previous generations.

What I have in mind specifically is the failure of society - and by society I mean parents, the schools and especially the media - to convey to our youth the importance of commitment, responsibility, caring, compassion, decency, respect, industry and doing something worthwhile with one's life.

Instead, youth is being exposed to a constant barrage of messages which say: "Have a good time. Enjoy yourself. Take care of 'Number 1.' Forget about everybody else. Do your thing. Live for the moment. Let the other fellow worry about himself."

This sort of message is not only destructive to character and to moral and ethical standards, it is also destructive to mental and emotional health.

Human beings have a need for a sense of purpose, usefulness, of achieving something worthwhile with one's life, benefitting not only oneself, but contributing also to the improvement of the life of others, the community, the rest of humanity. Basically, that sort of a life rewards the individual with a positive moral and ethical fulfillment. But also, beyond that, it provides him or her with a strong foundation for healthy emotional growth, serving as a deterrent to the onset of emotional disorder.

As one pursues these positive goals, there is a growth-enhancing feedback. When a person knows he is doing something good and worthwhile, it makes him feel good about himself. He has a sense of maturity, of being a giver and a provider, of being in charge of his own life and directing it toward constructive purposes. We know, from psychiatric experience and research, that this is an integrating force, that it gives a young person a much better chance to emerge as an emotionally healthy person, that it gives him better protection against those factors in himself and in his surroundings which might push him toward alcohol or drugs or make him vulnerable to other psychiatric illnesses.

Throughout modern human history, the family has been the anchor for the children, the place where they learned the important positive values, made these part of their own lives and then passed them on to their children, in a continuous line. But, unfortunately, the family of today is subject to intense disorganizing forces. The economic and social pressures are such that many parents do not have the time, the opportunity, the energy, the patience and the emotional endurance for sustained, warm, supportive contact with their children. Not only that, many parents are themselves caught up in the whirl of self-gratification and have little of a positive nature to transmit to their children.

That throws the responsibility on other institutions in society - the schools, the government and the media. Unfortunately, they are not taking up the burden as they should. The consequences are that our people as a whole are being weakened, with an ever increasing toll in social and psychological ills.

It is certainly a tall order - but what we need is a collective effort by all the institutions in our society to turn things around. I don't think it is impossible. We have seen, over the past 40 years since the end of World War II, how the government, business, industry and community leaders have undertaken the responsibility to improve the economic well-being of our people; to give us all a more prosperous life, with improved medical treatment and facilities for our physical well-being. I see the need for a similar collective effort, to buttress up and strengthen our social and psychological well-being, starting with our children and our youth.

College costs out of reach?

Quiz determines aid eligibility

The traditional route to the American dream — a good college education — is increasingly blocked by soaring tuition costs. It took an average of $4,900 last year to put a student through public colleges . . . and a whopping $9,570 through private institutions. And that figure will rise as much as six percent this fall. Facing this, many families are compromising, sending their kids to cheaper second or third-choice schools.

Ironically, even as many students and parents feel the economic pinch, $2.5 billion in student aid is available. Millions of it go unclaimed.

Why does available financial aid go begging? "Mainly, not enough students apply for it," says M.A. Maxin, Research Director of Student Assistance Council of America.

"Many parents and students think scholarships are based only on financial need or exceptional academic excellence, so they rule themselves out and never apply for available scholarships."

That, she adds, is a mistake. "Millions of dollars in grants are based on such factors as geographical residence, religious or fraternal membership, ethnic background, and career goals," Maxin explains. "The chances of finding financial aid are really quite good for many students."

The Council has developed a short quiz to help students determine if they might be eligible for educational grants. "Even one YES answer on the quiz," Maxin points out, "means a student is eligible to apply for many sources of financial aid."

The Student Assistance Council of America has developed a Student Profile Application form, which provides "keys" to finding multiple sources of financial aid. A copy of this form, plus a "How to" 5-part Scholarship Search Information Kit, is available by writing directly to the Council. Enclose $1.00 to cover First Class postage and handling. Caldwell College sets Instant Decision Day

Caldwell College will be holding an Instant Decision Day in their Admissions Office in the Administration Building on Wednesday evening, August 14, 1985.

Instant Decision Day is a special, one-day assessment of student transcripts and S.A.T. scores made by Caldwell's Director of Admissions that enables each student to receive an Instant Decision on acceptance to Caldwell College. Before leaving, each participating student will know if she will be attending Caldwell College for the 1985 fall semester.

Also on hand will be Caldwell's Director of Financial Aid to answer your financial aid questions. A Preliminary Financial Aid Analysis will be prepared, on request, to give an idea of how much aid may be available to prospective students.

This special day is designed for recent high school graduates and college transfer students who want to attend college this fall. Students and their parents will be able to meet with Caldwell's Directors, as outlined above, from 4-8 p.m. in Caldwell's Admissions Office.

In order for the college to make an Instant Admissions Decision, students must bring their S.A.T. scores, high school transcript, and college transcript (if transferring) with them. Parents interested in receiving a Preliminary Financial Aid Analysis must bring a copy of their 1984 Income Tax Return.

Instant Decision Day is open to all interested students and parents. Located just 20 miles from New York City in Caldwell, New Jersey, Caldwell College is a four-year, liberal arts college for women, offering the B.A., B.S., and B.F.A. degrees. For more information contact Caldwell's Director of Admissions (201) 228-4424, ext. 301.

ADN program at Felician is accredited

Felician College's Associate Degree in Nursing Program (ADN) recently received accreditation from the National League for Nursing (NLN).

Accreditation renewal for the two-year nursing program was granted by the league's Council for Associate Degree Programs, which represents 556 colleges and universities offering the associate degree in nursing. The league also represents 1,632 individual members.

"We're all very pleased with the renewal of accreditation," said Caryle Wolahan, Ed.D., director of the Division of Nursing at Felician. "The league's review board commended us for our program's broad-based curriculum. The renewal of accreditation establishes the continued excellence of our program."

Renewal of accreditation by the NLN for the eight year maximum, through 1993, recognized the quality and excellence of Felician College's ADN Program. The ADN curriculum is a carefully designed two-year sequence of professional and general education. From their first semester at Felician College, students are prepared to give safe, effective and direct patient care through the clinical component of the program. Area hospitals participate in the "hands-on" experience so necessary for the competent, highly educated nurse of today.

Felician College is proud that its graduates, women and men from the Bergen-Passaic area, continue to serve their community by seeking positions within the area after graduation. Graduates of Felician College's ADN Program are found in hospitals throughout the state of New Jersey, with the highest concentration in northern New Jersey.

Felician College is a four-year Catholic liberal arts college for women which offers degrees in the arts and sciences, medical laboratory technology, elementary and special education as well as nursing. All nursing, Continuing Education, evening and Saturday courses are co-educational.

NJIT freshmen will be using microcomputers next semester

Two new programs will greet incoming freshmen at New Jersey Institute of Technology this fall. One of them will provide all full-time freshmen with microcomputers for their own use. The other will provide 15 to 25 outstanding students with the opportunity to become Institute Scholars.

The microcomputers will be provided to each full-time freshman for use at home during the course of the student's studies, and those who transfer into the class at a later time also will be furnished with them. Upon graduation, students will be able to purchase the machines at nominal cost. Those who do not complete their studies at NJIT may purchase them on a prorated basis. Available software provided as part of the package will include a high level language, spreadsheet and word processing capability.

On campus, laboratories using the same microcomputers as well as necessary printers and memory devices will be available to all students. Students other than incoming full-time freshmen will be able to benefit from significant enhancements to the university's current computing facilities, particularly with respect to main and disc memory, higher speed peripherals, networking, clustering, and additional work stations.

"Computers are becoming an integral part of the curriculum throughout the Institute," Dr. Saul Fenster, president of NJIT, said. "As the state's technological university, we are continually extending and upgrading our distributive interactive computing environment, and the decision to provide freshmen with computers is one major element in that process."

In the past years, NJIT has added 7 VAX computers and more than 200 microcomputers and 100 terminals, and these will be substantially enhanced in the 1985-86 academic year. Greater access will be provided through network-

NURSING

The choice to dedicate yourself to a career in Nursing is an important one. So is the choice of a school to prepare you for this career.

If you want to be the BEST we have the college for you —

FELICIAN COLLEGE — a four year college fully accredited by the National League for Nursing and the New Jersey Board of Nursing.

FELICIAN COLLEGE offers you the Associate Degree in Nursing Program, a two year program preparing you to become a technical nurse. Graduates who pass the NCLEX Exam qualify for the title Registered.

Felician College offers you a second two-year course, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program, should you choose to advance your career even further.

The Associate Degree in Nursing Program offers basic nursing to qualified women and men which prepares them to give safe, effective, direct, technical patient care. Upon completion of the course the student earns an Associate in Applied Science Degree in Nursing.

Clinical experiences are provided under the direction of the faculty of the Nursing Program. Clinical experience begins during the first semester and continues throughout both years.

ing or clustering, additional main and disc memory will be acquired, three higher speed printers and a laser printer will be networked to the VAX equipment, and higher speed tape drives will be provided. Priority access to these facilities will be given to upper classmen.

The Institute Honors Program will designate from 15 to 25 entering freshmen each year as Institute Scholars. The students will receive merit awards of $1000 a year, participate in special programs, and, if they complete the program successfully, receive their degrees with Institute Honors.

"The program will provide an enriched educational experience for academically qualified students," explained Richard Sher, assistant dean of Third College at NJIT and director of the program. "Students will not be required to take extra credits of coursework, but they will have the opportunity to explore their required subject matter in greater depth."

Freshmen and sophomores in the program will take honors courses as well as a biweekly, noncredit "Colloquium for Institute Scholars," which will feature talks by outstanding NJIT faculty members and distinguished visiting lecturers.

Upper-level Institute Scholars will complete honors requirements set by their specific departments and will also fulfill their humanities and social science requirements by taking special Institute Honors Seminars.

The social science seminar, to be offered jointly by the Department of Organizational and Social Sciences and the Man and Technology program, will explore topics relating to science, technology and society.

New Jersey Bell will support ten of the honors students through a $40,000 four-year grant. In addition, the corporation is providing for the Institute Honors Program.

"New Jersey Bell is proud to take a leadership role in this new venture aimed at providing a superior education for our state's most outstanding students," said John W. Seasholtz, a graduate of NJIT and vice president-sales at New Jersey Bell.

The New Jersey Bell gift of $40,000 will be used to support ten students during their four undergraduate years at NJIT, Seasholtz said. These students will be known as New Jersey Bell Scholars, and it is expected that a close relationship will develop between them and their corporate sponsor. The additional $24,500 will be used toward the purchase of microcomputers and related equipment for the use of the students in the specially designated Institute Honors Center.

NJIT is currently seeking similar support from other corporations in New Jersey to provide four-year merit awards for Institute Scholars entering NJIT.

Those who are interest in further information about the Institute Honors Program may contact Dr. Richard Sher, Director, Institute Honors Program, New Jersey Institute of Technology, Newark, 07102. The phone number is (201) 596-3216.

Kean students are interning in accounting

Accounting students at Kean College of New Jersey of Union will participate in the accounting internship program conducted by the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants for the first time this fall.

Accounting majors with exceptional academic and personal credentials will have an opportunity to work as paid staff members of prestigious public accounting firms for a four- to six-week period between the fall and spring semesters, Dr. Eric Carlsen of Staten Island, N.Y., coordinator of the accounting program, said.

Although students do not receive academic credit for the internship, it is considered an honors program.

Elissa Cogan of Verona, associate professor of accounting, has been appointed coordinator of the internship program.

Deadline for applications is Monday, Sept. 9.

Personal approach at Capri

At Capri Institute of Hair Design, the nationally accredited school of cosmetology, you'll find a personalized approach to education. The administration, curriculum director and faculty function as one team, under one roof, to provide a progressive, one-to-one learning environment. This proximity allows them to be in constant touch with your needs, abilities and future.

There are differences between beauty schools, and because they are not all alike in the quality of education they offer, you should look hard and carefully at the facts before you decide which one is right for you. Some of the differences are obvious...size, facilities and equipment. Others are more subtle - techniques, teacher professionalism, accreditation. As a nationally accredited cosmetology school, Capri Institute of Hair Design has built an enviable reputation for producing competent cosmetologists whose skills are in demand in beauty salons around the country.

At Capri, their goal is to make you more than a beautician, more than a hair stylist or salon operator - their aim is to provide you with the education and experience you'll need to be a creative cosmetology professional.

They start by providing the most sought after teachers in the profession. Capri instructors are involved in continuous in-service training programs to keep them abreast of the latest techniques as well as the most up-to-date materials, styles and educational advances. Theirs is the largest staff of professional, state licensed teachers in the northeast. As an independent school, they can cater to the individual as well as provide teaching aids, materials and products from a variety of sources. Theirs is a person-to-person relationship, not a franchise. They build confidence that assures professionalism in their graduates.

As an approved Redken Scientific School of Cosmetology, their techniques and materials are the most sophisticated and advanced methods in the beauty culture field. Using microscopic analysis and a host of Redken scientific equipment, you'll learn more than styling hair, you'll become an expert in beauty from the inside out. You'll not only know how...you'll know why.

Their training program includes macro-optical procedures, as well as a wide variety of audio-visual training aids, reference journals and educational materials. Theirs are perhaps the best equipped teaching institutions in the field with the ability to cater to individual areas of specialization.

Their broad scope accreditation by federal, state and private national organizations is your assurance that as a graduate of Capri Institute of Hair Design you have achieved the highest competency needed. Not only will you receive a certificate of completion from Capri Institute of Hair Design, but also a certificate from the Redken Scientific School of Cosmetology with whom they are affiliated. Because of their reputation and high standards, Capri Institute of Hair Design has always qualified for various financial aid programs for their students.

Come in, call, or write to any of their five locations - Clifton, North Haledon, Paramus, Kenilworth and Bricktown. They can answer any questions you may have about cosmetology, put together a financial aid package to meet your personal needs and give you the education to make you the best in your chosen profession.

Education important at Passaic

Medicine, as a science and an art, is constantly changing. New methods of treatment, new techniques in surgery, new approaches to caring for and healing patients are everyday realities in a hospital setting. In order to meet the demands made by these new procedures, a hospital must be an educational institution, as well as a place of healing. The General Hospital Center at Passaic has met those demands and, in turn, shares its educational resources with the communities it serves.

In an emergency, the first person on the scene is often a member of the local ambulance, emergency, or rescue squad. The job of the emergency squad team is to stabilize the endangered person and transport him or her to a hospital for treatment. Trained in first-aid methods, the emergency squad are constantly refining their skills in the field. In order to help these squads keep abreast of the latest developments in both emergency treatment and equipment, The

General Hospital Center educates the community

General Hospital Center holds regularly scheduled Squad Nights. Physicians specializing in Emergency Medicine give lectures on new life-saving techniques and demonstrations of new emergency equipment. At the hospital's most recent Squad Night, there was a lecture-demonstration on Military Anti-Shock Trousers. These "inflatable trousers" can prevent or slow internal hemorrhage while an accident victim is being transported to the hospital.

"Squad Nights" are open to all members of Emergency, Rescue, or Ambulance Squads in New Jersey. For information on Squad Nights and other programs available for Emergency Squads, contact Dr. Michael Cali, director of Emergency Services at The General, at 365-4569.

For the pregnant woman, The General Hospital Center offers a series of education programs on pregnancy, birth, and early parenting. Entitled "Miracle in the Making," the programs include the Maternity and Motherhood Fitness Club. The Club is a weekly exercise class, specifically designed for expectant mothers. The Fitness Club also offers relaxation exercises and group discussions on maternity. It meets on Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A Prepared Childbirth Program helps both parents prepare for their child's birth. Classes include exercises and training in breathing techniques for use during actual labor, delivery, and birth. There are several classes available, but it is important to register early for the course. For information on all maternity and parenting programs at The General, contact Lynn Knapp, R.N., at 365-4576.

For both the cardiac patient and persons concerned with proper care and maintenance of their heart muscle, The General has begun its "Heart to Heart Club." This support and information group meets regularly at the hospital, offering recommendations on diet, exercise, and heart care. For information on the "Heart to Heart Club," contact Rose Szwed, director of Cardiac Services, at 365-4323.

The General Hospital Center

at Passaic has also developed an off-site Wellness Program. The program is available for schools, local organizations, and businesses. Through the Wellness Program, The General offers free health screenings, which include blood pressure, pulse, blood typing and tests for anemia, and pulmonary function. In addition, experts from different health fields are available for lectures, demonstrations, and question-answer sessions. Topics offered in this series include Diet and Nutrition, Cardiac Care, Emergency Medicine and home first-aid courses, Parenting Programs, and Social Work Services programs. For information on any of these programs or to schedule a Wellness Program, contact the Community Relations Department of The General Hospital Center at Passaic at 365-4652.
