Meeting the Stars

School 3 newspaper staff interviews circus celebrities

By Kara Laczynski
School 3's Musketeer newspaper reporters are on top of a story sure to please their readers.

Seven reporters and two adult editors interviewed the stars of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

The junior journalists "researched" their subjects by attending the Nov. 22 morning performance of the circus. Tickets were provided to the Musketeers staff free by the media relations department of Ringling Brothers as a "professional" courtesy.

Musketeer photographers snapped pictures of their subjects during the show, and even managed to squeeze a box lunch into their hectic schedule.

After the show, they went to work. Armed with notebooks, tape recorders and even a video camera, they interviewed ringmaster Dinny McGuire and a trio of clowns - Coleen Linehan, Donna Isalde and Chris Shelton. The cub reporters grilled the tired circus employees with a battery of tough questions.

"What do you think your contribution to society is?" asked sixth grader Jennifer Tower of the ringmaster.

"Did you laugh?" he countered, obviously at ease with the press. "I entertain people, make them forget their problems for a little while."

Always in a hurry, the reporters took a quick tour of the backstage facilities, meeting elephants, leopards and even Lance, the controversial unicorn. Media representative Joe Lewi then rounded up the subjects that the Musketeer reporters had come to see - the child stars.

Uncharacteristically shy at first, they all hesitated to ask the first question of Neecha Braun, who with her brother Ricky, is a major star of the circus, standing with the ringmaster throughout the performance.

Two-year newspaper veteran Crista "Scoop" Trippodi broke the silence with the question, "Do you go to school in the circus?"

"Two hours a day," Neecha said. Reporters entertaining thoughts of running away to the circus to avoid both newspaper and class were discouraged.

James Guarino, a first-year newspaperman in the fifth grade, pushed Neecha for personal information.

"Where do you live when you're not performing?" he asked. "Florida," she said, but that did not satisfy his journalistic curiosity.

"How many weeks of the year are you there?" he asked. The star answered that she was only home five or six weeks of the year.

His colleague, Elaine Narciso, dug deep. "What job would you like to have in the future if you are not in the circus?" she asked.

Neecha, whose parents perform the Ringling Brothers dog act, has never known any world but that of the circus. She replied, "I don't know what else I'd do."

Another child circus star joined the interview, Irwin Urias of Mexico, age 15, who with his father and uncle rides a

Forum opens discussion on middle school's future

By Michelle Jeannotte
The Belleville Board of Education conducted its public forum on the future of the middle school Monday night with only a handful of residents voicing their opinions.

Although not all of the 40 residents present spoke on the subject, those that did seemed to be in favor of renovating the existing building rather than constructing a new one.

According to a report presented to the board by Edward Appleton, school business administrator, the areas in need of renovations include: sitework (paving); exterior walls; interior (fire safety, finishes and toilets); mechanical (boiler); plumbing (supply/waste); electrical (emergency lighting and fire detection); and handicapped facilities (building entry, interior access and elevators).

The total estimated cost is $2,950,000.

"This type of work is beyond our maintenance department," Appleton said. "It would easily take five to six years if it was undertaken in-house. If that were to be the case, it would occupy the entire staff and take away from the other schools."

Appleton gave two suggestions to the board: 1) put the matter in the form of a capital outlay budget earmarked for $500,000-$1 million a year depending on how long the project would take; or 2) a bond referendum in which the voters would decide.

"After talking with the architect (Becker, Bendixen, Murphy and Herbst) and Mr. DiMaggio (principal), the board is well advised to consider a bonding referendum," Appleton said, adding that the work would be completed in 18 months to two years. He also reminded board members to consider the constant disruption to students and staff if the project was done in a piecemeal fashion.

Although Appleton said the project was too big for the district's maintenance department, Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello noted that some other repair work could be completed in-house.

Nardiello was referring to repairs earmarked by Dr. William Block, county school business administrator, who inspected the building Nov. 21. Block was ordered to inspect the school by Essex County Superintendent Dr. Elena Scambio, who received a letter from Belleville parents expressing their concern about the school's condition.

The repairs which were noted

Redevelopment Agency's actions toward blight cause dissension

By Kara Laczynski
Public debate on the controversial blight proposals by the Belleville Redevelopment Agency (BRA) heated up at the board of commissioners' Nov. 26 meeting when several members of the Belleville Revitalization Committee, an independent organization, called for the dissolution of the BRA.

Joseph Cameron, Vincent Frantantoni, Lou Cicenia and Ed Torti all asked that the agency be disbanded, following a legal notice listed by the BRA in the Belleville Times as well as in other newspapers. The notice invited developers to make proposals to develop tracts of land on Washington Avenue.

Included in the notice was a statement that the BRA "does not own or have title to any parcels of land located in said area...The BRA will assist in procuring those tracts of land necessary to conform to the proposal which is accepted by the commissioners of the Township of Belleville."

"The BRA is pursuing blight," Cameron said. "They have a one-track mind. I would like to suggest that we abolish the BRA."

Frantantoni voiced similar protests.

"Blight was rejected last year and the revitalization process has been introduced," he said. "There was a need for the BRA at one time, but now there's a need for it to be abolished."

"They have been in existence for four or five years and have nothing to their credit," Henry Chazewski of Joram Street said. "They've done nothing for the community."

Mayor Marotti defended the BRA's record.

"They came up with a plan," he said, recalling the BRA's proposal of last year that all properties on Washington Avenue between Mill Street and Joram Street be blighted.

"It was rejected, but they did put a lot of hard work into it," Marotti said.

Chazewski questioned Marotti's defense.

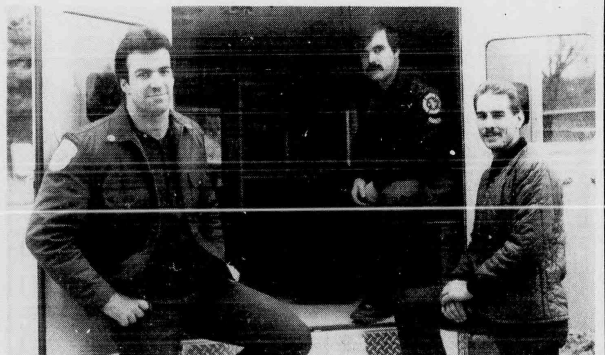

"If they suggested that a railroad line be put right down the center of Washington Avenue, that would be a plan too," he said. "They have done nothing but antagonize the merchants and spend my tax dollars."

DiRuggiero attends conference to discuss public administration

Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph DiRuggiero recently attended an American Society for Public Administration conference in Boston.

DiRuggiero, who is also Essex County's Assistant County Administrator for General Services and Purchasing Agent, participated in a roundtable discussion on "the art of contracting for governmental services."

The roundtable, which included DiRuggiero and five other top government managers and academicians, was designed to allow the participants to share experiences in contracting services for governmental agencies.

The four-day meeting attracted administrators from throughout the northeast and was chaired by Massachusetts Gov. Michael S. Dukakis. The conference, entitled, "A New Spirit in the Northeast: Public Service in the Mid-80s," included seminars, lectures and discussions on a variety of issues facing public managers in this decade.

Sessions of the conference were held at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government.

DiRuggiero attended the conference in his capacity as Essex County's Assistant County Administrator and Purchasing Agent.

Robert Jackson never took a sick day in 45 years of service at N.J. Transit

By Kara Laczynski

Robert Jackson has a cold, and for the first time in his life he's taking it easy.

The 66-year-old Belleville just retired from his accountancy position at New Jersey Transit, where he worked for 45 years. And in all those years, he never took a sick day.

"I always felt that if I was able to get out of bed, I was able to go to work," he says. And though no serious illness or injury ever kept him from working, he admits having suffered through many an autumn cold and winter flu.

My co-workers sometimes blame me for giving them colds," he says.

Jackson's no-nonsense attitude helped him rise through the ranks of N.J. Transit. His first job with the company in 1940 was as a messenger or "hall boy," as they called it then, for which he was paid $50 per week.

"That was a good starting salary then," Jackson remembers. "You didn't have to worry too much about income tax."

After serving in army during World War II for two years, Jackson returned to his old job, but saw a great opportunity to advance through the G.I. Bill. Working day and night, Jackson went to Rutgers Evening School for accountancy, and by 1961 had earned his degree. He was promoted to the payroll department, where he worked thereafter.

"I loved my job and the people I worked with, so it was easy to come to work," Jackson says.

Santa Claus visits Dec. 14

Santa Claus and friends will be visiting Belleville on Saturday, Dec. 14, 12 p.m., at Town Hall on Washington Avenue.

Santa Claus will be accompanied by carolers who will entertain residents as they ride aboard a train through the streets of Belleville.

Jackson was ultimately named Assistant Controller of Payroll, which meant he was responsible for the livelihoods of the more than 5,500 N.J. Transit employees.

"The bus drivers' pay had to be figured every day, and they got paid to the 1,000th of an hour, so I put in a lot of overtime," Jackson says. "If there was a bad traffic jam, we were in trouble."

The heavy workload often prevented Jackson from taking vacations, and he accumulated months of vacation time. In fact, he is not officially in retirement, but on vacation. He will remain so until March 1986.

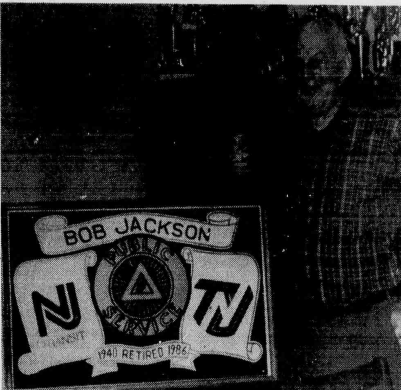

And though not compelled to retire, Jackson felt that he deserved a break.

"I want to enjoy my health while I have it," he says. Next spring he plans an extended visit to his birthplace, Scotland, from whence he emigrated at age 3. He plans to stay with cousins who still live there.

Many other activities promise to keep this energetic man busy. He has been an officer of the Belleville Little League since his now-grown sons Doug and Scott were junior sluggers, and is a member of the Belleville Chapter of the American Legion.

But for now, Jackson will take care of that cold. After waiting almost half a century, Jackson is taking a "time out."

Board of education approves discipline/attendance policy

By Michelle Jeannotte
The Belleville Board of Education approved a discipline and attendance policy for elementary schools at its meeting Nov. 25.

The policy, which offers guidelines to parents on the district's expectations of student behavior, was established by a committee consisting of three elementary school principals, five teachers and three parents.

According to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael A. Lally, the policy will take effect January of 1986.

"The policy for elementary schools only provides guidelines," Lally said. "For every violation, there is a guideline or disciplinary response."

"At the high school level, we have specific disciplinary actions," he continued. "The students at that level are more mature and can handle the greater consequences (such as suspension). It doesn't make sense to have a 7-year-old sitting home for three days. Specific punishment is not applicable to an elementary school child."

Disciplinary action on the elementary grade level will be based on the discretion of the individual principal, Lally said. It will also depend on the age of the child and the frequency of the act.

"A principal should do what he sees fit," he said.

The guidelines in the discipline and attendance policy include those for the following: classroom, corridor, lunchroom, playground and fire drill situations; bus student policy (bus rules); attendance; absence; illness and early leaving of school; truancy; and tardiness.

Each of the areas has specific guidelines for appropriate student behavior.

Disciplinary procedures which may be exercised by an elementary school administrator include: parental/guardian telephone contact; detention (15 minutes); written report prepared by a student and signed by a parent; parental/guardian conference; or suspension (followed by a parent/guardian conference).

Copies of the policy will be printed and sent to each student's parents, Lally said. Parents will be asked to send a reply to the school upon receiving a copy.

Santa mailboxes set up

Belleville children are encouraged to get out their pens, pencils and crayons and start writing their lists to Santa Claus.

Special bright red mailboxes, which read Santa's Mail, have been set up at Town Hall on Washington Avenue and in front of the Silver Lake Firehouse on Franklin Street.

Through a special arrangement made between Santa Claus and the Belleville Recreation Department, all letter writers are guaranteed an answer.

If children are too young to write, they are urged to draw a picture and Santa will get the message. Be sure to have someone print the child's name and address so that Santa can answer the letters. (No stamp is necessary.)

Redevelopment Agency

The BRA, the Belleville Redevelopment Agency, is the center of controversy once again.

An independent citizens' group, the Belleville Revitalization Committee is asking the township commission to dissolve the Belleville Redevelopment Agency. Spokesmen for the citizens' group take the position that the BRA "has done nothing for the community during its existence over the past four or five years."

The Belleville Redevelopment Agency has done a great service for Belleville. If nothing else, it has made citizens aware, interested, and concerned over the future of Washington Avenue. But the group has done more than that. It has offered plans for redevelopment. The BRA laid no claim for perfection. Its plans were too ambitious — but on the right track.

We believe Belleville would be better served if the Belleville Revitalization Committee and the Belleville Redevelopment Agency held joint meetings and merged their ideas to reflect the best interests of the community — taking from the proposals of each group the best ideas.

We cannot have too many unsalaried public officials involved in planning the future of the Township of Belleville. BRA members should be praised and not put down. They have performed well for Belleville.

Robert Mulcahey III

The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, which operates the Meadowlands complex, has as its Chief Executive Officer, Robert Mulcahey III.

Mulcahey served as Chief of Staff and policy adviser to former Governor Brendan Byrne, Democrat. It is to the credit of Republican Governor Thomas Kean, that Bob Mulcahey continues as executive director of one of the most important independent state agencies.

It's accepted political practice for an incoming governor to take a political plumb, like the job of executive director, and give it to one of the party faithful. During his first term, Tom Kean changed the ground rules for "politics as usual." If an appointed public official performed well in office, and reflected credit upon the board or agency which he served, Tom Kean cast aside political considerations and either reappointed the public official or urged the agency or board to continue the individual in the job.

Mulcahey's track record is superb. The Meadowlands Sports Complex is New Jersey's most precious jewel. To keep it so, we need to retain in office the best caliber public official. In this case, that man is Bob Mulcahey.

Voter Apathy

Only 54% of registered voters bothered to cast their votes at the recent election which saw Republican Governor Tom Kean re-elected, Democrat Sheriff Tom D'Alessio re-elected, and John Kelly of Nutley and Marion Crecio of Bloomfield winning upset victories over two Democrat Assembly incumbents, Stephen Aduhato, Jr. and Buddy Fortunato.

Essex County Clerk Nicholas Caputo also won re-election.

The professional speculation is that the low vote was due to a belief among a large percentage of voters that Governor Tom Kean was a sure shot — the absentee voters approved his election — so, why go out and vote? Well, those absentee voters may very well have made a difference when voting for candidates for other offices. It is sad to note that one of the freedoms enjoyed most in a democracy — the freedom to vote — is demeaned by an "I don't give a damn" attitude.

In Belleville, Governor Kean shellacked his Democrat opponent, Peter Shapiro, 6,625 to 1,950, while at the same time, Democrat incumbent Sheriff Tom D'Alessio, beat his opponent by a vote of 4,928 to 2,951. These numbers say a lot about Peter Shapiro, and are more revealing regarding the popularity of Nutley's Tom D'Alessio.

Hopefully, in the next election, more Belleville citizens with the right to vote, not only register, but take the time and trouble to go out and exercise one of the most precious American rights.

W. Carey Edwards

Governor Thomas Kean this week announced his intention to nominate his Chief Counsel, W. Carey Edwards, to be the State Attorney General.

Edwards would take office at the beginning of Kean's second term — January 21, 1986.

As Chief Counsel to the Governor for the past four years, Carey's basic responsibility was getting Kean's legislative agenda approved by a legislature of the opposite party. The proof that he did his work well is the landslide victory which Kean scored last month. The overwhelming vote which Tom Kean received was an expression of approval of the job he performed over the past four years.

The substance of Kean's job was legislation that advanced the progress of the State of New Jersey. The quarterback for that effort was W. Carey Edwards. In the process, Republican Carey Edwards acquired the respect and admiration of Senate and Assembly Democrats.

The Governor couldn't find a more qualified person to serve him as Attorney General.

Raking leaves can be a bother; so let the kids do it for you

To the editor:

With our Essex County Golf course, the magnificent cherry blossom trees in Branch Brook Park, and most of the streets lined with shade trees, Belleville is aptly named "Beautiful Town"... Of course all of this is not without cost to the citizens as homeowners and taxpayers. Storms at times knock down trees or the roots invade a sewer line, needing the Rotorovator, etc. etc. Last but not least, the trees have the habit of shedding their leaves in the fall.

This is the time, the Public Works Department gets very, very busy, to pick those leaves up before they wind up in the storm sewers, which could result in severe flooding during a heavy rain-storm, which also frequently occur in the fall.

Belleville's method of coping is with a large truck with a driver, a bucket-loader with an operator and two men to shove the piles of leaves in the bucket. It sure gets the job done and very well indeed, but one can imagine all that equipment and manpower is a considerable expense. Spotting a driver on the truck the other day, who is a friend, I greeted him, saying: "How are we doing, Jack?" "Okay I guess, but we would do a whole lot better if some people would stop sabotaging our job, by dumping the leaves from their backyard trees in front of their homes, the day after we went done cleaning their street," he said.

Jack also explained to me, that since this homeowners' street has been cleaned and off the list, those leaves will stay there quite a while. Besides, if they have the time to come back a second time, to clean up after that homeowner, it will cost the taxpayers that much more...

How true, and how sad, because in addition to the cleanup drive for the shade trees, the commissioner also offers, free of charge, 10 extra large, ultra-light plastic bags to a homeowner. The bags are intended to bag your leaves from the back yard, so that the garbage truck can pick those up.

Now I am not too lazy, nor too old or disabled, that I could not rake and bag my backyard leaves. I just don't care for it, even if my wife suggested, becoming aware of my lack of activity in other areas, that it even may be good exercise for me... the leaves are light, and should not cause too much of a strain on me, she said... Fortunately, at this time of the year, with no laws to cut, or snow to be shoveled, youngsters are solicited to do this job to earn a few bucks. The kids who did the job for me, one 13, the other 14, confided that they did it to earn their own money to buy Christmas presents for their parents. When I asked them why, they said: "Because we love them so much."

I promised myself, never to rake another leaf.

Veteran's Council invites residents to Dec. 7 service

To the editor:

The Belleville Veteran's Council each year works hard to hold services on Memorial Day, Veteran's Day and Pearl Harbor Day to keep reminding the American people that our veterans are number one in our country.

I'm sure all of us have lost a loved one in one of the wars or conflicts; but as years go by, the memory fades away. We seem to forget the men that died on the battlefields or the men that still lay in the V.A. hospitals across the country. We all seem to be too busy to take time out to remember our veterans, and this is the purpose of our work as the Veteran's Council.

Let us never forget our men who fought to keep our country the land of the free.

On behalf of the Belleville Veteran's Council, I would like to invite residents to attend our services at the Veteran's Monument on Union Avenue on Saturday, Dec. 7. Our assembly will be at Washington Avenue and Greylock Parkway where we will march to the monument. Our services will correspond with Hawaii time of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Assembly will be at 1:15 p.m.

There will be refreshments following services at the V.F.W. on Belleville Avenue.

Clara Maass employee thanked for returning two lost rings

To the editor:

On Monday, Oct. 28, I lost two diamond rings in the ladies room near the front desk at Clara Maass Medical Center. I had taken them off to wash my hands and left them on the sink. They were found and turned in to the switchboard operator by an employee of Clara Maass.

I was informed that Mrs. Elizabeth

Dorcelly, a housekeeping employee at Clara Maass, had turned them in. I would like to thank Mrs. Dorcelly and commend her for her honesty and thoughtfulness. Her good character speaks highly for Clara Maass Medical Center and its employees.

Can I Preach What You Practice?

By The Rev. Gerald Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

"Practice what you preach" is a well-known phrase to us and it remains a timely admonition. It is biblical (Romans 2:21, 22, Matthew 23:2, 3).

We should not have a "practice gap"; our actions should be in harmony with our words. But even a casual observation shows that we do not always practice what we preach and the world sees the difference.

Since it is important for our words and actions to be harmonious and since it seems that some are not going to practice what we preach, suppose preachers started preaching what we practice. How would sermons sound?

How would it sound if the preacher told you that reading the Bible daily is not important? Read your newspaper every day and read the Bible once a week?

How would it sound if the preacher told you to attend Bible classes and worship if you want to, but go ahead and take a trip or attend a ball game instead if you want to?

What if he said, "Now we want to worship Sunday, but if company comes in or if you do not get enough rest Saturday night, just stay home. After all, regular Bible study and worship are just optional."

What would you think if the preacher told you, "Now, God wants you to talk to your friends about Jesus, but your friends are sensitive about religion and you might offend someone. You might even lose a friend. So, just keep the Gospel to yourself. Maybe someone else will tell your friends about Jesus."

And, how would it sound if the preacher told you that immorality and cursing, etc. are worldly and evil, but you must be popular, so go ahead and do these things. Just be sure you do them in "moderation."

How long would you stand still if the preacher started preaching what you practice? Pastors, remember that the world sees what we practice a lot more than it hears what we preach!

Rev. G. Fortunato

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Minimum quarterly water rates for consumption of 1,000 cubic feet or less is $10 in Belleville; that should equate to four equal quarters in a time frame consisting of three-month periods.

While most public utilities read and compute billings on a monthly basis, it is not unusual for a municipality to resort to quarterly readings since it reduces the requirement of more meter readers, however, unlike other public utilities which read their meters with routine consistency as to the uniform monthly date of readings within a day or so, in Belleville this doesn't always occur. In fact, too often, there are inequitable disparities that are costly to the consumer, especially residential households.

A factual illustration is herewith offered: On July 10, 1985 the water meter in a Belleville home was read and posted at 841; on Oct. 2, 1985, that same meter was read and recorded at 847, (eight days prior to the Oct. 10, 1985 date that would have constituted an actual three-month period) meaning that the consumer was being billed for eight days of water which he hadn't yet consumed, but, which would be charged for on his next quarterly water bill.

The resident on Oct. 10 read the water meter himself finding a 848 reading which indicated 100 cubic feet of water consumption, since the early Oct. 2 premature reading by the town, water that he or she would be billed for on their next quarterly water bill.

This individual called town hall and spoke to Mr. Vogel, the tax collector, explaining this unfair discrepancy... they did the right thing.

With goodness knows how many such incidents of this nature occur within a year, one can only imagine the water overcharges that might have taken place down through the years. We've even heard of homeowners receiving five water bills in a one-year period... fantastic!

We would strongly advise all homeowners to keep a close watch upon their water bills and the dates of the readings which should be shown on their bills.

In all fairness, we are not implying that these dates of reading of water meter discrepancies are designed nor deliberate, in fact, they are often read later than the previous reading, but that is not the quarterly water consumption is under the 1,000 cubic feet of consumption amount, entails an additional charge based upon the excess of consumption above the 1,000 cubic foot minimum.

Indifference to these "little" matters can cost money and with the liberal generosity of our school trustees and town officials in giving out salary increases in thousands of dollars, that few average taxpayers would even dream about, we can well anticipate burdensome and staggering tax bills in the years ahead, with angry township people struggling to pay these bills.

Transportation board hosts open meeting

Belleville residents with questions concerning road congestion, bus service and potentially dangerous traffic intersections are invited to attend a public meeting sponsored by the Essex County Transportation Advisory Board on Wednesday, Dec. 11, 7 p.m. in the Nutley Municipal Building, Kennedy Drive.

"The Transportation Advisory Board is a forum for citizens in Essex County to discuss their concerns and generate input into transportation planning programs," Lorryne Lane, chairman of the board, said. "Residents are encouraged to advise the board about transportation concerns and provide recommendations on possible improvements for county roadways or public transportation routes in Belleville and Nutley."

For information, contact Martin Hotler, transportation manager, Essex County Division of Planning, at 751-7300.

School 3's Musketeer staff reporters interview Ringling Bros. circus stars

"Aren't you ever scared?" asked Jeff Rambaldi of the brave teenager.

"Only when I fall," he said. Ivan Espanas, an 18-year-old trapeze artist, joined the group. "How did you get involved in the circus?" Laura Nenninger asked. "My family has always been on the trapeze," he said. "My father, my grandfather, on back to my great-great-grandfather, they were all in the circus." The reporters had a "deadline" to meet with their school bus driver so time for questions was gone. Laura Nenninger managed to squeeze in one last query, asking all of the stars for an autograph. The reporters' programs were signed, and the assignment was over. For the staff of the Musketeer, Ringling Brothers is truly the greatest show on earth.

Anthony Mercogliano exhibits artwork at Caldwell College

By Michelle Jeannotte
Anthony Mercogliano of Belleville has painted everything from a portrait to abstract drawings in his 27 years as an artist.

Mercogliano began painting at the ripe old age of 10 when he discovered an interest in trees.

"I was painting and drawing before I could write my name," he said. "I was inspired by the cherry blossoms in Branch Brook Park in Newark. I started from doodling and progressively worked into landscapes."

Although there are no other artists in the family, Mercogliano credits his father for his support. Born in Newark, he lived in Nutley before moving to Belleville four years ago.

Mercogliano's distinction from other artists is that he enjoys working with large paintings. Most of his works, which stretch 4 feet across, are painted in his apartment on Cedar Hill Avenue where he has turned a potential dining room into a studio.

Despite the size of his paintings, Mercogliano has finished works in the time frame of one hour to nine years. The idea for one of his projects, the Italian-American Unity Flag, took nine years to design. The painting, which has been transformed into bumper stickers and t-shirts, remains in his private collection. Other works, however, have been sold to art collectors.

Mercogliano's artwork ranges from realistic to impressionistic drawings.

"I enjoy painting country sceneries," he said, "a lot of which comes from Sussex County. Sometimes, though, I see something and change it until it pleases the eye."

Most of the artwork that he has done in the past five years is being exhibited this month at the Vincent Visceglia Art Gallery at Caldwell College. The gallery will feature Mercogliano's artwork daily, including Saturday and Sunday, from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. through Dec. 20.

The exhibit, entitled "Exhibition 1985," features 28 pieces of work ranging from portraits to impressionistic work. Other works include landscapes and thematic works such as "Inferno."

"A lot of my work is not taken from realism but impressionized from realism," Mercogliano said. "It gives the emphasis of what it is but the impression of something else."

"I do not paint and lean toward conformity," he continued. "I paint the opposition of nearly every rule and regulation I know."

TIMED RELEASE

Cold-cough drugs and other medicines taken orally are dissolved in the stomach and intestine. They then are absorbed through the stomach and intestine walls into the bloodstream which carries them to the head, lungs, nose and other target organs. This action generally occurs within an hour or two. A drug's peak activity as defined by its maximal levels in the bloodstream typically occurs about one to two hours after ingestion. However, a drug may continue to be present and active for several more hours after it is taken. Timed release products spread out and delay absorption from the gastrointestinal tract. Their objective is to provide effective drug action for up to 8 to 12 hours.

Mountainside's Hospitality Shop celebrates five decades of service

When the Mountainside Hospital Auxiliary's Hospitality Shop first opened its doors in 1935, it sold sandwiches for 10 cents at a counter that seated seven and it offered a small selection of flowers and handmade gifts. Since then, the Hospitality Shop has fed hundreds of hungry employees and visitors every day and provided a room service hospitality cart, hairdressing, TV's and radios in patient rooms, plus dozens of supplies and services from newspapers, books, writing paper and stamps to new-baby pictures, toys, flowers and gifts of every description.

The Hospitality Shop was the brainchild of Mrs. Wilfred J. (Eleanor) Funk (now Mrs. Ralph R. Lounsbury), and has been known ever since 1935 as "The House that Eleanor Built." It still reflects her devotion to the idea that an island of warmth, gaiety and service could and should exist in the often confusing and frightening world of a large hospital. Mrs. Lounsbury was chairman of the Hospitality Shop for 38 years and a member of the Hospital Auxiliary for 41 years. She served on the hospital Board of Trustees for 15 years. As she explains, "I was brought up to do something. My parents told me, 'Just don't waste your life.' She followed their advice well. At age 90, she takes a continuing interest in the Shop that she helped to found.

A pink marble counter top. In a recent interview, she reminisced about the early days. "The Shop was very small, all decorated in pink organza, we used a piece of pink marble from a hospital shower room to create the counter-top! There were only two tables...it was very homey. We made a great deal out of every holiday, with special things to buy and special items on the menu. I was always thinking of what to do next to interest people and make them come back...I was there every day; I gave up everything but the opera. But I loved it, and my husband never complained. He always encouraged me. He came up with the name 'Hospitality' for the shop. Now that name has been used all over the country." (The late Mr. Funk was a well-known lexicographer and president of Funk & Wagnalls Company, publishers.)

Mountainside's shop was the first of its kind in this area, and soon became a model upon which other hospitality shops were created. But there were doubts at the beginning. As Mrs. Lounsbury told a newspaper reporter some 22 years after the shop began, "Hospital officials thought the Shop was just a plaything that we'd mismanage. They thought they would probably have to pay the bills for us...We borrowed $1600 to start and within a year, every cent was paid back. We've never been in the red."

Profits return to hospital. That early success was due not only to her work, but also to the devotion of many Auxiliary volunteers who put in long days in the Shop's first years. Shop and Auxiliary have continued to expand and to put all profits back into the hospital. In the Hospitality Shop's first month of operation in 1935, the Auxiliary made a total profit of about $350. According to current Auxiliary president Ruth Eager, Auxiliary profits from projects including the Shop total about a quarter of a million dollars over the past 15 years.

On the Shop's 10th anniversary in 1945, it was serving tea and substantial meals to as many as 40 people at a time and remaining open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. In addition to serving food and selling gifts, the Shop provided room service, supplying patients with malted milks, candy and cosmetics. Volunteer Auxiliaries took on special tasks like watching children while parents visited patients. Eleanor Funk commented at that time that she thought the Shop had won a permanent place in the hospital. Others obviously agreed. Notes of appreciation from patients and their relatives poured in and articles on Mountainside's Shop in magazines such as "Literary Digest" and "American Magazine" continued to stimulate national interest in similar ventures.

"Grandma's" Moyer's pies Many of the Hospitality Shop's individual volunteers and Auxiliaries (those volunteers who agree to work a certain number of hours a year and to pay annual dues to the Auxiliary) have given hundreds and thousands of hours over 10, 20 or 30 years of service to Mountainside. Among them is Mrs. Joseph T. Walsmsley, who managed the Shop from its beginning, planning menus, buying supplies and instituting new services such as Christmas shopping for doctors and a late night snack delivery to student nurses. She started a consulting institute which held meetings with other hospitals to discuss the planning and problems of hospitality shops and she represented The Mountainside Auxiliary with the Montclair Business and Professional Women's Club.

In 1942, another volunteer, Mrs. Bessie "Grandma" Moyer, began baking cakes and pies as substitutions for shortages in the Hospitality Shop dessert menu and then took on the task full time when the Shop's regular baker retired. The Auxiliary supplied the ingredients and Mrs. Moyer the time and "know how." She and her pies became an institution for the next 15 years. She baked a daily gift of three apple pies, a devil's food layer cake and one or two other cakes. She did her baking at home, beginning at 6:30 a.m. and had everything ready to deliver to the hospital before the 10 o'clock coffee break. She once estimated that she turned out over 150,000 cakes and pies in her volunteer years. When she was hospitalized briefly in 1956, a minor rebellion broke out among pie devotees who couldn't get their daily rations. Mrs. Moyer hung up her apron in 1957 and is remembered with love by all who knew her at Mountainside.

More ideas were born as the post-war years changed the hospital and the community it served. A hairdressing service with an experienced operator started giving permanent waves and sets to patients in a room near the shop. The service was also taken to non-ambulatory patients' bedsides. Doctors got their own private porch dining room and relaxation area separate from the Shop in 1955. Pediatrics and maternity patients benefited from photo services, baby alumni registration clubs and special buying services, while flower stands, peddler carts and vending machines added to the hospital's convenience. TV rentals were added when the age of television hit. In 1965, the "Little Shop" appeared as a holiday gift shop in the lobby.

Volunteers always welcome Today, Mrs. Eager estimates that Mountainside has over 600 volunteers including quite a few men and many teen-aged Junior Volunteers. Mrs. Nora Nowicki, Director of Volunteers, notes that the hospital welcomes volunteers of all ages and interests. "We need not only people who want to work with patients, but also those who would enjoy giving a few hours a week to other jobs in the hospital. Right now, we're looking for someone who would enjoy working one or two evenings a week in the social center of Mountainside - our Hospitality Shop."

Hall of Fame dinner was 1st class event

On Friday, November 22, 1985, a dinner was held at the Chandelier, a dinner to honor the newest inductees to the Belleville High School Hall of Fame. It was a night to remember, not only for the inductees, but the parents and fans who were in attendance for a very nice evening.

The entire night was handled in a first class manner. I have been to a lot of dinners that have paid homage to Belleville athletes before, but there was something very special about this one. Perhaps having covered most of them, or having gone to school with them, brought back some special memories. However, what was most special about the evening was the excellent speeches given by each inductee of the Hall. Listening to the young men speak about their days at Belleville High, and seeing how successful they are now, goes to show that our township has a great deal to be proud of.

One man who really enjoyed the evening was crew coach, Sam Giuffrida. Coach 'G' has been coaching the rugged sport of crew at BHS for 20 years now. For those who do not follow it, crew is a team sport from the word go. There are no individual heroes. Everyone must row together, work together, sweat together and enjoy the good times, and bad times, together. At the Hall of Fame dinner, the 1976 senior eight shell was inducted. This marked the first time that a team was inducted together and coach Giuffrida couldn't have been prouder of his former troops.

It was tremendous," he said. "Seeing those guys ten years later, and knowing they are doing very well in their respective jobs, means a lot to me. Some of those guys haven't seen each other since graduation, so I know it was a special night for them, as well. It certainly was a big night for me."

The ten members of that championship boat were Pat Barbone, Michael O'Connor, Donald Paterno, Michael Davis, Paul Denning, Keith Waddell, Richard Budrick, Doug Dorival, Paul Melchionne and Michael Barbone.

The '76 boat won the Stotesbury Regatta and finished third in the National Championships. Upon their presentation to the large audience, Mike Davis spoke for the team and gave a rousing and emotional speech about the sport of crew and the lasting relationships that can come from it. It was just the start of a tremendous evening.

In the fall of 1979, a young man injured his knee on the football field during a Belleville-Pasadena game. He would miss the remainder of the season, but never left the sidelines during the season. He cheered his team on, inspired them to victory and was named team captain for the '79 playoff game with Union. By now, you all know that I refer to Michael Nicosia, a 1980 grad, who was inducted for his baseball prowess. What people might forget is that Nicosia was a fine football player before that knee injury in 1979. His work off the field that season is worth noting. That fall, we learned something about Mike Nicosia, the man, as opposed to Mike Nicosia, the athlete. He was an inspiration to all who were around him.

Nicosia expressed thanks to his coaches, George Zanfini, Carl Corino and John Senesky. He also expressed thanks to his family, which seemed to be the general feeling of all the inductees. Without their families, they would not have achieved their success today.

Dennis Buckley was graduated from BHS in 1975 and was inducted for his managerial skills for the football, wrestling and basketball teams. Having known Dennis during his high school years, I can say first hand that he was a deserving recipient. Dennis had a tremendous amount of responsibilities and handled them professionally. Today, Buckley is the Director of Recreation in Belleville and resides in Belleville with his family.

Alan Cervasio is doing very well today, working as a sales director in Rhode Island. He was also a fine football player, leading the 1975 Belleville team in rushing and scoring. Cervasio gave thanks to his coach, Tom Testa, and spoke once again of his family. He reflected on his mother, who passed away in 1970, before Alan became involved in football. Allan joins his older brother, Joe, in the Hall of Fame. He certainly is a deserving recipient.

Russ Pagano, like Nicosia, was graduated in 1980 from BHS. He was an outstanding lineman and currently is a coach for the varsity football team. Pagano, who was presented his award by his father, spoke of the Belleville athletic department and the fine facilities provided the young athletes of today.

Another '80 grad, Chris Musmanno, was an outstanding wrestler for Gene D'Allesandro. He won a state title in 1980, the only Belleville wrestler in the long and proud history of BHS grappling to do so. Musmanno went on to the University of Virginia and is currently attending the Seton Hall University School of Law. Musmanno graduated in the top ten at BHS.

Chris thanked his family and coaches for his success at Belleville High. Once again, family and success were synonymous.

Vin Mustacchio, a 1976 grad, was one of the best wrestlers ever to take the mat for BHS. He wrestled in the 108, 115 and 122 pound class. Vin expressed thanks to his coach, Jim Silvestri, and the athletic council for giving him this honor.

Finally, Donald Smith Jr., a 1947 graduate of Belleville High, was inducted. The chairman of the athletic committee, Bob Cassin, said the Smith was long overdue. After hearing his accomplishments, it was easy to see why Cassin made that statement. Smith was an outstanding football, basketball and baseball player for the Bellboys. He currently is a lieutenant for the Essex County Police force.

The guest speaker of the evening was Al Rotella, the Bloomfield High School head football coach. Rotella, who has over 200 victories to his credit on the high school level, retired last year from Verona, but was lured out of retirement by Bloomfield. He is an excellent speaker and a fine man to speak with. He certainly was an excellent choice for the guest speaker.

Congratulations also go out to Bob Cassin, Vinnie Sorrentino, the President of the Athletic Council, and everyone associated with the planning of the evening. It was truly, a night to remember.

Bucs lose to Raiders, 14-0

Head First - Jim Dunphy picks up some hard earned yardage during the Belleville-Nutley game last Saturday. Dunphy picked up 27 yards overall during the Bucs' 14-0 loss.

Tennis team finishes season with 8-9 mark

The Belleville tennis team concluded a good season, finishing 8-6 in the conference and 8-9 overall.

Karen Fuccello's team battled some stiff competition all season long and came away with a good record. The highlight of the season series with Nutley, something the girls have never accomplished before.

The leader of the team was first singles player Desiree Johansen. The senior was 11-3 in conference play at the difficult position, 11-4 overall. Johansen follows a fine group of Belleville players that have occupied the number one position in the past. Among those names are Cheri Tillman, Dina De Aquino, Kim Indiero, Rose Leonidis, Denise Giuliano and Carolann Salerno.

Junior Janet Reiman had a good year at second singles, posting a 7-8 mark. Reiman could be the number one singles player next year for BHS and has shown marked improvement over the course of the year.

At third singles was sophomore Jackie Tillman. She finished with an 8-8 mark and will probably battle Reiman for the number one spot next fall.

Renee and Darlene Giuliano played first doubles for Belleville. The girls had a combined record of 10-20, with each player posting a 5-10 mark. Both girls are just freshmen and appear to have a very good future in store.

Lori Tirell and Dena Di Medici played second doubles, along with Sara Mellinger. De Medici will graduate this spring from BHS, while Mellinger and Tirell will be back next fall.

"I was happy with our performance this year," Fuccello said. "The girls showed a lot of improvement this season. We played pretty well in the conference and should have finished above .500. There were a couple of conference matches that the girls know they should have won."

As has been the case with the other varsity sports this fall, the tennis team was young, with a majority of the athletes set to return in 1986. It should be a good year on the courts next season for the team.

The season ended with the same frustration that has plagued the Belleville football team for five weeks now. The inability to get the ball into the end zone proved to be the down fall once again for the Buccaners. John Senesky's crew was stopped by Nutley, 14-0, on a cold, drizzly Saturday afternoon in Nutley.

The loss closed the books on a tough 2-7 campaign. Belleville was shut out in its last five games and finished the season with six shutout losses. For Nutley, the victory concludes a 6-2-1 season and marked the first time since 1976 and '77 that the Maroon has defeated Belleville in two consecutive seasons. Nutley won last years game, 19-6, breaking a six year drought.

The Bucs certainly had its chances, especially in the first half. On four different occasions, the Bucs were within the Maroon ten yard line, but could not break the end zone. Credit a tough Raider defense and some Belleville turnovers as the difference in the game.

"The kids learned a lot this season," said assistant coach Gennaro Russo following the game. "I think they will come back a lot stronger next year."

The Bucs lose just 15 seniors to graduation, one of the smallest senior classes in quite some time. Thus, Belleville will have experience on its side next fall, something it lacked this season.

After a scoreless first half, Nutley struck quickly in the second half. After taking the third quarter kickoff, the Raiders mounted a 70 yard drive, mostly on the ground.

Kurt Kanzler, the Raiders fine running back, gained 31 yards on the drive, 15 by running and another 16 by way of the pass. Tom Pomponio also helped in the drive, gaining 31 yards on three carries. The series was culminated by an eight yard TD pass from Joe Verga to Marty Higgins.

Lou Lucante fumbled the ensuing kickoff for the Bucs and Nutley recovered on the Bucs 30 yard line. Sensing a chance to put the game on ice, Nutley worked quickly, driving 30 yards on seven plays, highlighted by a two yard run by Kanzler for the second TD. The Raiders attempted a two point conversion, but the pass failed and the lead was 14-0.

Kanzler, who was Nutley's MVP of the game, rushed for 96 yards on 23 carries. Jim Dunphy led the Belleville attack with 27 yards on nine carries while Jaime Gaiotto, the Bucs fine receiver, gained 23 yards on two.

In the passing department, Verga threw for 48 yards and a TD while Jeff Spillsbury passed for 52 yards on 6 of 13.

Spillsbury drove the Bucs on their first possession. On a third down from the Raider 40, he hit Jay Marchese with a perfect pass down the side line, good for 35 yards and a first and goal from the five. Nutley stiffened up at that point and held the Bucs on downs.

In the second quarter, with the Bucs threatening on the Raider five, Spillsbury threw what appeared to be a TD pass to Lucante, but the play was called back for an illegal motion penalty. Once again, the Raiders held on downs and Belleville was denied a score.

As usual, the contest was very intense. Both teams wanted to win badly and it showed with a great deal of hard hitting, some of which came after the officials whistle blew. A minor fracas erupted late in the game, resulting in the disqualification of a Belleville and Nutley player, but overall, the officials did a good job in controlling the emotional contest.

Next week, the Times will review the 1985 season for Belleville High.

NOTE: Belleville lost its last five games by scores of 21-0, 6-0, 7-0, 20-0 and 14-0. The other losses were by 8-2 to Don Bosco Prep and 3-0 against Bergen Catholic. Needless to say the Belleville defense certainly did a fine job this year. The offense, at times, showed potential and considering that players like Jay Marchese, Frank Montagna, Lucante, Al Best, Spillsbury, Dan Senesky and Jim Dunphy return next season, the prognosis could be good for the Bucs of 1986.

Glunk & Veltre lead Belleville gymnasts

About the only thing that can burst Ray Iannuzzi's bubble now is one of the following conditions. A Kelli Glunk decides to go out for cross country next fall. B. Joell Veltre decides to go with her. C. Both girls earn all conference honors in cross country.

By now, everyone knows that the Belleville gymnastics team put together a fantastic season. The girls posted a 6-4 record and sent two athletes to the state sectionals, one of which made it all the way to the state finals. As Iannuzzi would say, "it was a season of firsts."

"We accomplished a lot this year," the coach continued. "We had our first winning season, we broke the 80 point mark in a meet and almost hit 90, we sent two girls to the sectionals and one to the finals, we had our first conference champion, it was the first time that three girls made conference honors and it was our highest finish in the NNJIL (third place overall)."

Quite a list for a team that returns all but one athlete next fall. Needless to say, Iannuzzi is quite optimistic about the future.

The only senior on the '85 team was Jill Lillis, a four year athlete who received some high praise from her coach.

"Jill was a super team leader," Iannuzzi said. "She held things together. She was such a hard worker. Nothing came easy for Jill, but she was a big help to her teammates, especially Alise (Davies)."

Lillis was the team captain for the '85 team and leaves having captured the first winning team in BHS history.

The big news on the team came from junior Kelli Glunk. Needless to say, the 1985 season was a marvelous one for this tremendous talent. She won the conference all around championship, she finished fifth in the state sectionals and made it to the state finals. Glunk was voted the top all around gymnast in the NNJIL for 1985. And, of course, she will be back for 1986.

"She is a super kid," Iannuzzi said of Glunk. "What I really admired about her was her leadership qualities. She helps out with the equipment and is always willing to help one of the girls. It doesn't go to her head and that's very important. I can't say enough about her."

Junior Alise Davies is quickly developing into a fine all around talent. As a sophomore in 1984, she showed steady improvement in the uneven parallel bars. In 1985, her talents expanded to the balance beam and in '86, Iannuzzi feels she will be one of the best athletes in the conference.

"She is an up and coming talent. Her skills are getting

Girls' volleyball team scores 17 wins and reaches second state semifinals

It was supposed to be a rebuilding season for Grace Worley and the Belleville volleyball team, but the girls came through with 17 wins, a team record, and made it to the state semi-finals for the second straight year.

Belleville's season ended with a two set loss to Fair Lawn, 15-5, 15-5 at Fair Lawn. It was the second straight year that the Belleville had lost to Fair Lawn in the semis.

"We did well against them," Worley said of her team against Fair Lawn. "Fair Lawn won the state championship (against Hackensack). They were a very strong team. I was happy with our girls effort against them."

Belleville loses just two seniors to graduation this spring. Worley is happy with the depth returning next year and feels her team can reach the 20 victory plateau in '86.

Senior captain Sheri Phelps had a tremendous year. She earned first team NNJIL honors after a second team performance in '84. Phelps was a fine server, a good hitter and blocker and according to her coach, a fine all around player.

"Sheri had a good year for us," the coach said. "She was a dependable player, always there. Her prospects are good for college. She was a three year letter winner and a fine player."

The other senior on the team is Lisette Rodriguez. She also earned first team NNJIL honors. Rodriguez was the co captain of the team and earned her second varsity letter.

"Her service was good and she was a good morale booster," Worley said of Rodriguez. "Lisette was a very good team leader."

Tramutola filled the bill quite admirably.

"She did very well in a very tough position," Worley said of Tramutola. "She should be a good net player next season."

Sophomore Quynh Mai entered Belleville High School this year and immediately stepped into a varsity position.

"Quynh did a very good job," Worley said. "Her defense was very good, as was her service. I'm looking forward to having her back next year."

A freshman, Simone Edwards, displayed good leaping ability and has a world of potential.

Juniors Christine Melillo, Renee Petineo and Trish Tramutola figure to lead the '86 team. Melillo, who earned second team NNJIL honors, is a good net player and a fine defensive performer.

"Chris needs to work on her offense," said Worley. "Her net play and defensive work is very good."

Petineo is a quiet performer who does her job very well.

"Renee receives no press," said Worley. "You never hear from her, but she does a very consistent job. She is a very good backline player. She plays a tough position and has to move around a lot."

Tramutola did an excellent job at setter this season. From 1981-84, Debbie Worley played that position and did an outstanding job. This year, there. Her top events are the uneven parallel bars and balance beam. Just a little more polish and she'll be there."

Davies earned NNJIL honors for her effort this year.

Freshman Joell Veltre is quite a story. In her first year of high school competition, Veltre made it to the state sectionals, competing in the floor exercise. She earned NNJIL honors for her work and needless to say, has a world of potential.

"She really works at it," Iannuzzi said. "She is an excellent worker. She puts a lot of time into her routines. The potential is certainly there. I was mildly surprised by her progress this season. Next year, she will get involved with all four events and should be a very good gymnast."

Junior Danielle Lyman should also be a big plus to the 1986 team. Lyman had a good season this year. competing in the floor exercise and balance beam.

"She is very coachable and pleasant to be around," the coach said. "She is a future leader of this team."

Another junior, Tina Charles, has shown marked improvement this year and could be a big help to next years team. Iannuzzi noted that Charles is making progress in her routines and will be strong next year.

Sophomore Anne Carlucci is starting to jell on the floor exercise.

"When she puts her mind to it," Iannuzzi said, "she can be a very good gymnast. In addition to the floor exercise, she is a good vaulter, too."

Another sophomore, Dina Cardinale, has shown ability in the floor exercise. Sophomore Renee Baron is good on the balance beam.

The 1985 team is rounded out by sophomores Erica Townes, Toni Ann Santoli and Dotty Gripl. The freshman are Angela Belhome, Andrea Lemongello, Roseann Miele, Georgina Marano, Michele Quick and Melissa Muscara.

With the '85 season a rousing success and a majority of the team returning next year, the future is certainly rosey for coach Iannuzzi and his excellent group of athletes.

Both the first and second periods were defensive battles. The Aztecs made one defensive error and Frank Koch scored the only goal of the game from 16 yards out.

In the second half, both teams played defensively with Brian and Robert Dena and Herman Gonzales playing strong on the Comets' defense. Kevin Ernest, Nicole Gibbons, Paul Aiello and Dan Marino played strong for the Aztecs.

Lijo wrestles for Stevens

Bucs suffer tough loss to Nutley, 14-0

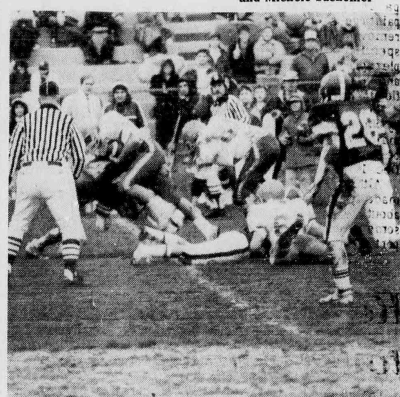

Photos by Michelle Jeannotte and Michele Suchomel

Punt - Dave Long gets away a punt despite the efforts of two Nutley defenders. Long finished with an outstanding season for the Buccaneers in 1985.

Sneaking Through - Jay Marchese gets through the Nutley defense for a short gain last Saturday. Marchese, a sophomore, showed good potential this year and will be a force next season.

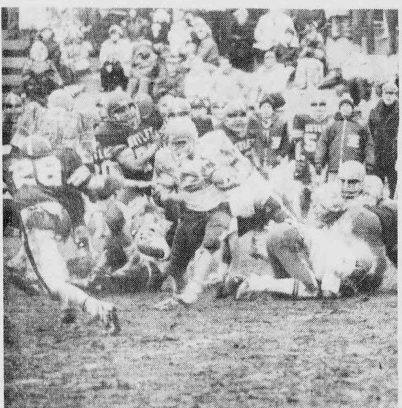

Charge - A Belleville runner plows into a Nutley defender for a short gain last Saturday. The yardage was not easy for either team as the wet field slowed down the action.

The Gang's All Here - The senior members of the Belleville High School Marching Band, rifle squad, twirling squad and flag twirling squad pose for a picture after performing at their last football game last Saturday. The seniors were honored with flowers and "Best Wishes" balloons by the younger squad members.

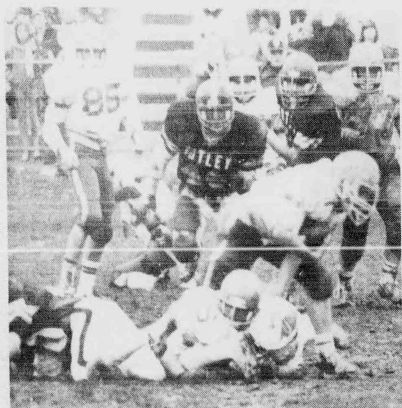

Cutting Loose - Jim Dunphy looks for some ground on the wet field at Nutley last Saturday. Steady rain and cold air hindered the game somewhat and made for sloppy uniforms afterward.

Touchdown? - Al Best appears to have a touchdown pass for Belleville, but the play is called back for illegal motion against the Bucs in the second quarter. Looking on is Jay Marchese (27).

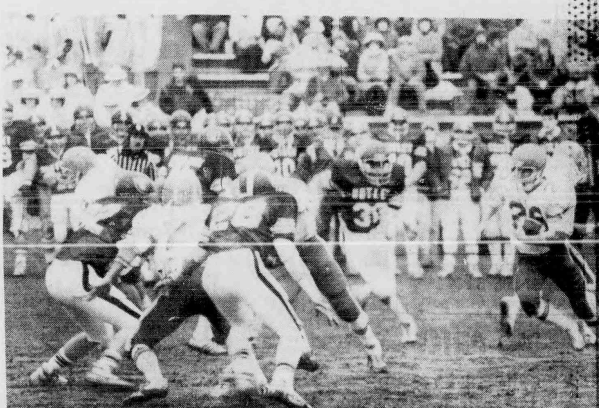

Dejection - Gennaro Russo, the Bucs' assistant coach, looks down at the ground while the remainder of the Buc coaching staff thinks back to what might have been. Coach John Senesky has the winter cap on while Mike Welsh, Joe D'Ambola and Russ Pagano look on.

Tripped Up - A Belleville runner is tripped up for a short gain on a kickoff return last Saturday. Belleville suffered its fifth straight shutout against Nutley and finished 2-7 on the year.

MVP - Dave Long was voted the Most Valuable Player for Belleville in last Saturday's game. The senior earned first team, NNJIL linebacker for his outstanding play. Here, Long carries the trophy to the team bus after the Bucs' 14-0 loss to Nutley.

Looking for Room - Jim Dunphy takes the handoff from Jeff Spillsbury and looks to gain ground again at Nutley. Dunphy, a junior, will be back next season to lead the Buccaneer attack.

Plans discussed for school's future

by Dr. Block included minor electrical work, general patching, plastering and painting throughout the building, removal of dead bolts from specific rooms, removal of plexi-glass from specific doors and replacement of missing floor tiles.

"According to the report sent by Nardiello to Dr. Scambio, the majority of the repair work will be completed in-house before the Dec. 16 date set.

Although efforts were being made to set the public at ease about the safety of the building, some parents continued to support the idea of a new building.

"Can't we locate property for a new school and make repairs in the school to make it safe until a new school is built," Mr. Cirone of Jannarone Street said, noting the $3 million figure for a new school quoted at previous school board meetings.

"You couldn't build a new school for $3 million," Richard Becker of the architectural firm said. "You're talking $6-7 million for a new building."

Becker continued to respond to questions from the audience as well as board members, noting that the most important changes that would be made to the school would be what he called educational changes.

"The middle school is a little behind the times," he said, noting the space available for science labs and art and music rooms. "We have to bring them up to 1985-1990 standards."

Becker noted that the major renovations earmarked for the school include tearing out existing classrooms and replacing them with new finishes such as lab tables for each student in a science class.

"You (the public) have to decide how much money to spend in the educational area," he said. "You can spend the money on repairs for a building that may last satisfactorily for 20 years or spend the money for a new building that may last 40 years."

Becker also told members of the audience and the school board that approximately $1 million worth of renovations could be made while students are in school, however, other work would become difficult in that situation.

"It takes a lot of cooperation and patience to do the work while students are in the building during a three- to four-year period," Becker said. "Anything can be done," Mario DiMaggio, principal added. "You can vacate a certain section at a time, but this type of renovation is something that must be carefully planned."

"It seems you have a Catch 22 situation here," Ed Torti of Hornblower Avenue said. "No matter which way you go, you still have the kids to think of. There is nothing wrong with this school. Do the $1 million worth of work while the kids are here and the other work during the summer."

Although the meeting was held in order for the board to hear residents' views, some board members did voice their opinions on the matter.

"I don't think we can afford the luxury of a new school," Gabe Nazzola said. "We should deal with things that need to be immediately done, work that can be done through capital outlay."

Nazzola's colleague, Seymour Grossman, expressed a similar opinion.

"I am in favor of keeping this building as is - as a middle school," he said.

Although no decisions were made on either suggestion, both Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, school board president, and Superintendent of Schools Nardiello said an updated report would be made sometime in January.

School secretary retires

Incoming and Outgoing - Mrs. Henrietta McCumber, sitting, secretary at School 7 retired last week after 17 years of service. Replacing Mrs. McCumber will be Mrs. Anna Marie Perna, standing. Both are residents of Belleville. - Photo by Michelle Jeannotte.

Redevelopment Agency's actions toward blight cause dissension

as being opposed to the use of blight in Belleville.

Blight is a legal declaration that makes federal, state and county-funded low-interest loans available to developers for capital improvements of the area. Existing buildings on blighted land may be bought by the township at market value. The township may then sell the parcels to developers.

To qualify for a blight declaration, properties must meet requirements of dilapidation, noncompliance with health and safety codes, and the like. The Belleville Revitalization Committee fought last year's blight proposal on the grounds that a blight declaration stigmatizes an area.

Gabe Nazzola, a BRA commissioner, defended the legal notice.

"We are not throwing out the idea of spot blight," he said. "It's working with Bigelow Motors, which has asked to be blighted and is now doing some major redevelopment."

Nazzola also noted that state statute requires that a redevelopment agency must exist in municipalities seeking government-funded loans for redevelopment.

"People were afraid that we would raze whole lots and then no building would go on, like in Newark," Nazzola said. "These fears were totally unfounded, but now we have to get developers first and then go through the time-consuming process of applying for blighting only that area to be developed."

In other business, a study of space needs of all municipal departments is currently being completed by the architectural firm contracted by the township to build the new municipal complex, according to Mayor Michael Marotti. A report from the appraiser contracted to assess values of two properties immediately north of Town Hall is also expected this week.

"We should be wrapping the whole thing up by the end of this week or the beginning of next week," Marotti said.

The board of commissioners has informally agreed to approve the building of a structure next to Town Hall on Washington Avenue, just north of the present building.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Miss R. of Newark asks: "My teeth have no cavities but are grayish brown and I don't like the way they look. Is there any kind of cosmetic point that can be put on?"

At present Miss R. the only cosmetic coverings are either crowns (caps) or bonding. Since you mentioned you have no decay we would suggest porcelain veneers as a possible solution. Porcelain veneers are fingernail-like casings made of a porcelain color of your choice that goes on the front side surface of your teeth. Very little removal of tooth structure is needed. After the laboratory makes the covering under the direction of your dentist they are then fitted to your teeth. Upon your approval a special bonding procedure then adheres them to your teeth and the cosmetics you desired are achieved. Some care must be taken to keep the bond intact but its minimal. Consult your dentist for further information.
