Must meet requirements

Saturday 'AT' program offered to third graders

A Saturday Academically-Talented (AT) Program will once again be offered to third graders in the Belleville school system.

The Saturday AT program which will be conducted in the spring, was approved by the Belleville Board of Education for the second year at its meeting Jan. 13.

The 10-week program will consist of two one-hour courses: Mathematics/Computers and Language Arts/Writing. Both courses were offered last year and were continued because of their success. Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally said Tuesday.

The Saturday program will be offered to township third graders who meet certain requirements, Lally said. An Academically-Talented Screening Committee, consisting of administrators, supervisors, counselors and academically talented staff, will meet and review all third graders' Cognitive Ability Test (CAT) and Iowa Basic Skills Test scores.

Those students invited to participate in the Saturday AT Program must have test scores in the 85th percentile (and above), Lally said.

Students will also be selected on the basis of principal and teacher recommendations. According to Lally, there are approximately 56 potential third graders for two Saturday classes.

The concept of a Saturday Academically-Talented Program for third graders derived from a similar program offered to fourth graders before they joined fifth and sixth graders in the daily AT program at School 7, Lally said.

The program for third graders was developed last year for the purpose of providing those students with an enrichment-type program, Lally said.

"Too many districts ignore the brighter child," he said. "For the past five years, through the AT program, we

Electroplating firm sued by government

By Kara Laczynski
The federal government is suing a Belleville firm for allegedly flushing untreated waste water into the sewerage system.

Miller and Son Inc., 24 Belleville Ave., was cited for discharging chemicals in excess of levels allowed by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Cyanide, cadmium, chromium, zinc, copper, nickel, and silver were among the untreated chemicals discharged, according to an EPA spokesman.

Charges were brought after tests taken in October of 1985 by the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commissioners indicated that Miller and Son Inc. violated federal pollution standards. The EPA then conducted its own testing, according to a Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission spokesman.

No court date has been set in the case against Miller and Son, and a schedule for installing a pollution-control system may be set up instead, the EPA spokesman said.

The case against Miller and Son was part of a region-wide crackdown on waste discharge by electroplating firms. Twelve other companies in New York and New Jersey were also listed in the suit filed Dec. 11.

The owner of Miller and Son Inc. said Tuesday that his firm has already begun installing a pollution control system. He said that doing so is placing a financial hardship on his firm but declined further comment, saying that the case was still in litigation.

Magnet school emphasizes students' individual needs

By Michelle Jeannotte

A magnet school, one that stresses highly structured programs, was developed at School 10 five years ago. Since that time, students at School 10 have been learning to master basic skills through individualized work shops.

According to Nicholas R. Petti, principal of School 10, the magnet school provides for a highly structured program, dedicated to the sequential mastery of the basic subjects, such as reading, writing, speaking, spelling, mathematics and application of these in social studies and science.

"Because many children learn best in a structured atmosphere, the classroom in the magnet school is teacher directed," Petti said in a presentation made before the Belleville Board of Education. "Although drill and recitation are an integral part of the program, individual needs are dealt with through individualized workshops/activities."

"One of the individualized workshops is the Individualized Criterion Referenced Testing (ICRT) program which is designed to measure student achievement against a specific set of math objectives."

The purpose of ICRT matches basic skills to strengthen the relationship between teaching and learning by improving the quality of information about the instructional needs of students," Petti said.

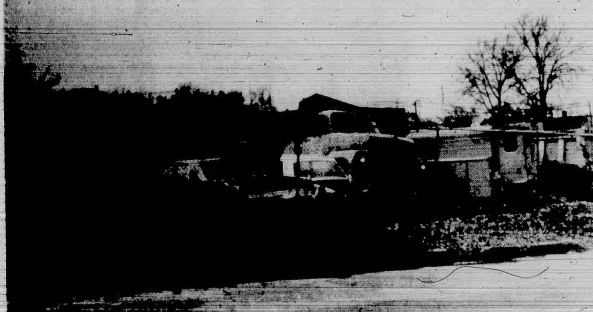

The results of these tests, along with homework and classroom assignments, reflect a student's progress, he added. Although a student's strengths are recognized, a student's weaknesses are also determined. As a result of these individualized tests and workshops, a student's weaknesses can be worked on through further individualized programs, he said.

According to Petti, the atmosphere in which a student learns can either enhance or hinder his or her progress. School 10, he said, is dedicated to the concepts of scholarship, courtesy, respect, patriotism, responsibility and citizenship. Some of the goals based on this are: helping children reach the highest competence in fundamental basic skills; developing responsibility for personal behavior; developing a spirit of individual achievement and appropriate competition; and teaching the values of team work, cooperation and social competence.

"My personal philosophy is 'Yes, you can,'" he added. "I'm a motivator. I can motivate anyone. You can feel the learning that is taking place at School 10." A positive attitude will add to a student's learning, Petti said. That positive attitude is stressed in his philosophy and that of the philosophy of a good elementary school. This philosophy includes four requirements: programs that respond to each child's individual needs; a faculty concerned with developing youngsters who de-

New Site - The new Public Works building will be built facing Stephens Street where these disabled cars and trucks remain. The original Public Works building, which faced Cortlandt Street, was destroyed by a fire in November of 1984.

Architectural plans completed for new Public Works building

By Kara Laczynski
Belleville should have a new Public Works building by the end of the year, Township Engineer Neil Siciliano said Tuesday.

Architectural plans for the building have been completed and bids for the job will be accepted at the Feb. 11 meeting of the Belleville Board of Commissioners.

The building will replace the old Public Works headquarters at 560 Cortlandt St., which was razed in November of 1984.

Only one story is specified for the new building, while the old one had two. This is due primarily to the decreased need for office space now, Siciliano said. While the old building housed the 40-member staff of the Public Works Department, the new building will have offices only for a dispatcher and a supervisor.

Public Works administrators, including Commissioner Joseph Grande, will be housed in the new Town Hall complex, scheduled for completion in 1988. These employees are now temporarily headquartered in the Public Affairs building at 383 Washington Ave.

The building will be prefabricated and will consist mainly of storage space for Public Works equipment. Its placement on the Public Works lot will differ from that of the old building.

"We're going to face it on Stevens Street instead of Cortlandt Street to alleviate traffic problems," Siciliano said. "Putting it in the new spot will also enable us to expand later."

Construction could begin in March if the bidding goes as planned, Siciliano said. A projected cost of $400,000 for the building was estimated in the specifications drawn up by Siciliano.

While Atlantic City's streets were made famous in the game of the capitalists' dream, Monopoly, Belleville businesses will capitalize on the game with its own version, called Townopoly.

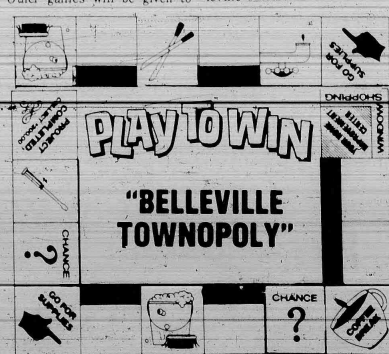

Townopoly will use names of local businesses in place of color-coded properties. The center space will bear the logo of the Belleville Recreation Department, which is organizing Townopoly with Creative Services Inc., a private advertising firm.

Proceeds from advertising sales will go to Creative Services to partially offset the cost of producing 6,000 game posters, "business cards" and playing pieces.

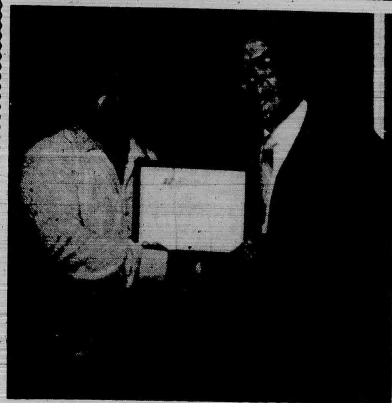

"We're trying to stimulate interest in local business," Dennis Buckley, superintendent of Parks and Public Property, said. "Who cares about Park Place and Boardwalk when you can land on Joe's Pizza?"

The recreation department will charge nothing for the hundreds of games that will be available at its 407 Joralemon St. headquarters in February. Anybody who wants to buy the Belleville Times will be given to participating businesses, which will distribute them to customers.

"Townopoly" - This board, similar to that of Monopoly, will advertise Belleville businesses instead place of color-coded properties.

Independent Businessmen
George Wescott and Joseph Lombardi of Belleville recently purchased delivery routes from Tastykake, Inc. to become independent businessmen under the company's new owner-operator route distribution program. Wescott (above), a one-year employee, and Lombardi (left), a 28-year employee, will continue to deliver fresh Tastykake cakes, pies, cookies and other products to convenience stores, grocers and other outlets throughout the Eastern area. Wescott, with his wife, and Lombardi are pictured with Philip J. Baur, president of Tastykake, Inc.

Pharmacy Footnotes

FROM RX TO OTC
As a result of an agreement between pharmaceutical firms, consumer groups and the Food and Drug Administration, we can expect to see more prescription drugs switched to over-the-counter status. Even some antibiotics and mild diuretics will be candidates for OTC status. Consumers will begin to enjoy a wider selection and lower prices. OTC drug labels will be required to include instructions for use, warnings and recommended dosages. A study by the OTC drug industry trade group, however, indicates that consumers already are cautious in their use of non-prescription drugs. They are more likely to use home remedies or not to treat everyday health problems at all than to use OTC medications.

When your physician gives you a prescription to treat your health problem, you can be sure of getting prompt service at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. 759-1968, 759-1956. light in learning, a pleasant atmosphere in which every child feels valued and successful, and the importance of attitudes.

According to Pettit, a student's success or failure often depends upon attitude, as well as how he or she is perceiving the world around him.

"Positive thinking creates an atmosphere of success," he said.

"Yes, you can prevent failures, a good feeling about oneself and self confidence. Attitudes are mental and emotional habits which are learned as opposed to inherited.

Research in human growth and development indicate that attitudes are formed no later than the age of four to five, he continued.

The responsibility to help a child learn to choose positive attitudes must be a priority for elementary schools.

"My responsibility as an elementary school principal is to assist teachers, custodians, secretaries, students and parents to believe in themselves, to think positively, and to offer my assistance and expertise in developing their into positive people," he said.

According to Pettit, the faculty of School 10 attended three in-service workshops addressing basic skills during the last three months of 1985. Since that time, teachers have attended a variety of workshops, including "An Individualized Language Arts Approach to the Teaching of Writing Workshop" conducted by the Educational Improvement Center in West Orange, a reading workshop entitled "Seminar on Learning Centers" conducted by Dr. Bill Decow, a communication workshop which addressed "Creative Writing" and its various workshop model, "How to Use Writing ICR - Learning Program" conducted by Mr. Dick Xiang.

An implementation plan, which includes activity was addressed in workshops discussing the areas of teaching, information, problem solving, diagnostic, prescriptive instruction, teaching, addition, teaching subtraction, using the hand-held calculator in the classroom, and developing teacher-made instructional materials.

During these workshops, teachers were taught how to incorporate these subjects into every learning activity. Every minute of each school day is accounted for and utilized. The learning atmosphere is developed in high school time, he said.

Peter Shapiro - a phenomenon

Webster describes a phenomenon as "the appearance of something as distinguished from the thing in itself... very unusual. Well, calling Shapiro a phenomenon is a view today, probably shared by all in New Jersey.

It was on primary election night when former Assembly Speaker Alan Karcher appeared before television cameras with both hands held high above his head proclaiming to the world that "Peter Shapiro is a modern-day phenomenon." Of course, Karcher meant that Shapiro is the new messiah, appearing on the state scene to save the people from the ravages of a Kean Administration.

That the election proved that Shapiro is a phenomenon is now history. He became a phenomenon because he established a new record for a defeated gubernatorial candidate. Nobody in this state can ever remember when Assembly candidates refused to mention their party candidate for governor. No Assembly candidate, to our knowledge, was willing to have Shapiro's name linked to theirs in any printed matter—in any place in New Jersey. This is truly a phenomenon in New Jersey politics.

Now we hear that friends of Peter Shapiro are conducting a research poll to determine his standing among the people of Essex County.

Shapiro has signaled his campaign for re-election as county executive, and to bolster his claim for renomination, his friends are now going among the people of our county asking their attitude toward Peter. They are also seeking to learn the level of Peter's name recognition.

There are pertinent questions that current pollsters will never ask the people of Essex County. The true record of Peter Shapiro has never been challenged. In the gubernatorial campaign, Tom Kean did not make Peter Shapiro's record as county executive an issue.

Tom Kean ran a positive campaign, based upon his four year record as governor.

It remains now for others among us to address Peter Shapiro's eight year record as county executive. In the next issue of this newspaper, we will review some of the questions that pollsters probably aren't asking voters today. They will be questions required to evaluate Shapiro's entire eight year record.

This week, the nation and the world celebrated the birthday of slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

History will record that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will rightfully take his place alongside men like Christopher Columbus, George Washington, Abe Lincoln and World War II military leader, Dwight Eisenhower.

The goals that became Martin Luther King's agenda have yet to be achieved, although it's been 18 years since an assassin's bullet killed Dr. King. Dr. King's dream and vision for a just society remain on the nation's agenda.

It is for a new generation of Americans — of every color and creed — to begin anew the efforts sparked by Dr. King to bring to America the fulfillment of the dreams enunciated in his memorable speech at the Lincoln Memorial in 1963.

All members of the human race want personal dignity, self-esteem and self-respect.

We must continue to strive for the dream Martin Luther King—the flame he lit must never be extinguished or forgotten.

The torch of freedom, justice and liberty has been handed down to another generation of Americans of all colors and creeds. It is for this generation to move onward and upward in the never ending struggle to bring peace and justice to the human race beginning with America.

Senator Bubba vs. Governor Kean

News reports indicate that State Senator Joseph Bubba of Wayne is disenchanted with the Kean administration. Bubba claims that the Kean administration promised it would end its political relationship with Democratic State Senator Frank Graves who also happens to be mayor of the city of Paterson. Republican Senator Bubba thinks the Kean administration should deal with Bubba to the exclusion of Senator Graves.

A state senator could not be more wrong than Senator Bubba is. Tom Kean and his administration believe they serve all the people. Governor Kean is not governor of New Jersey republicans—he is the governor of democrats, republicans and independents. As governor, he must serve, with justice, all people — and respect for all people — regardless of their politics. Governor Kean and his executive staff cannot ignore Senator Graves simply because he is a Democrat — as Senator Bubba would have it. The realities of life and simple justice require the governor of our great state to treat all senators with equal respect since each senator represents a segment of New Jersey residents.

Bubba's complaint is over the handling of patronage matters. Governor Kean has demonstrated time and again that his sole interest is in serving the needs of the people rather than in serving the needs of the political machine.

Letters to the Editor

Recycling programs save neighboring towns money

To the editor:

A year-long study of recycling waste in Verona showed that if separation and sale of recyclable materials was put into operation, it could save that 27 square mile community from $24,300 to $114,000 in disposal fees per year. Verona has less than half the population of Belleville.

Let us say Verona now throws twice the amount of waste into the garbage than Belleville does because there is less packrat syndrome among Verona residents. That would still mean Belleville can save the same amount in its hauling fees. Depending on what kind of great deal Belleville has gotten:

In order to do its recycling, Verona will construct a material recovery facility. Now let us say that they throw only half as much as shown by the studies and that the recovery facility is only half utilized. Here is the problem: it be solved what percent of Belleville's garbage could they process in addition to their own?

The answer is probably none. That is why our township should immediately, when the appropriate of fee fees up to it, begin to set up a committee, a council to study disposal savings. The related landfill problem should be considered. Or they might just assume there will be savings of around $20,000 annually which comes off the budget of the next fiscal year and finally begin a recycling program as have Caldwell, Millburn, Montclair, South and West Orange and Nutley.

Religious Viewpoint

An age of change

By The Rev. Robert Paul

University of Texas Baptist Church

We are in the beginning, the beginning of an age of change. Rapid changes. Perhaps the very fact that changes are occurring so quickly dulls one's sense to realize actually what is happening in the world.

Most of the changes are not for the better and many changes are an indication that the return of the Lord Jesus Christ is near, as to prepare us for Christ's second coming, which will include the rapture of the church. These 41 and the awesome judgments in the Bible as noted in the books of Daniel and Revelation.

Whether or not one accepts the Bible as the infallible word of God does not alter the fact that the world is facing impendable problems. We are on an irreversible course for world disaster.

In the Old Testament book of Daniel we learn that a world leader known as the Anti-Christ will be successful in making vast world changes. He will be able to change laws and to change customs. Among the changes will be a shift from individual freedom to a world state. One will no longer be able to go to a supermarket and make purchases freely. It will be necessary for any individual first to swear his loyalty to Anti-Christ and bear his mark of allegiance either on his right hand or forehead.

Changes in our world are not only taking place, but are taking place in a rapid tempo, leading to a time when the tribulation period and direct further allegiance to his leader, the Anti-Christ. This man will be known as the false prophet.

We are in a crisis hour — an hour in our most critical condition ecologically, then in the days of St. Paul the Apostle. We have polluted our atmosphere, poisoned our bodies with the drugs of sophisticated living, and have become prone to wars and more capable of causing our own destruction. The mention of Star Wars is frightening.

The nation of Israel, if God's time pleases and they are now back in the land on their own, and have the property in which to rebuild the temple. Biblical scholars point out that the nation of Palestine from the north by the nation of Russia, clearly taught in the book of Ezekiel chapters 40 and 42, is very likely movements has Russia. Palestine is a matter of much concern. Rand claims are taking place.

Since the Lord Jesus Christ could return at any moment, how important it is to be sure that you have been born again by the Holy Spirit of God. (1 Thim. 4:8) "May not the Lord and Jesus Christ be born again."

Man's greatest fear

By The Rev. Gerald A. Fortunato

Silver Lake Baptist Church

The fourth edition of the "Psychiatric Dictionary" identifies and labels more than 200 different human fears common in our society.

A few of them are, teratophobia the fear of giving birth to a monster; phagophobia, the fear of eating; gamophobia, the fear of marriage; belonephobia, the fear of needles; xenophobia, the fear of strangers; taenophobia, the fear of tapeworms; and phobophobia, the fear of work.

I was surprised to discover that the list did not include man's greatest fear — the fear of the unknown. This is the one fear which is universal to all mankind. As you travel through Mammoth Cave, you will find a plaque at the depth of 100 feet which marks the point beyond which the Indians would not go. The area beyond it represented the unexplored, the unseen and the unknown. For 2,500 years, no man would pass this point.

All of us fear new and uncharted experiences. An air pilot in the U.S. Navy was involved in much enemy action during World War II. Again and again he risked his life with unusual courage in aerial combat. Nor did he fear to motorcycle across the continent at high speed to visit his home on furlough. But one winter, when invited by a friend to go skiing, he said with a shudder, "You wouldn't catch me on skis. They're too dangerous."

How could he get hurt on them?

A fearless pilot afraid of skiing? Actually, he was afraid of the unknown, as we all are.

Are we all helpless victims of fear? Only if we choose to be. When the 12 Apostles were unable to escape the onslaughts of a deadly hurricane, Jesus walked upon the sea and when he approached their frail vessel he declared, "I am here, be not afraid." (John 6:20)

Nearly 60 years later, still remembering those words, the Apostle John wrote "perfect love" casteth out fear... (1 John 4:18)

The only safe way of traveling through unfamiliar territory is to follow an experienced guide. This is what David was thinking when he announced, "The Lord is my shepherd... though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me." (Psalms 23)

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In comparative contrast, the front page stories relating to the proposed school budgets of the neighboring communities of Belleville and Nutley for the 1986-87 school year, manifests a glaring disparity upon the projected increases in local taxes of the property owners of each town ship.

In Nutley, Board of Education President Charles Kucinski called the budget "one of the best ever presented for the Nutley school system." Business Administrator Secretary Arnold Ramsland said the increase is the smallest he's seen during his 14 years in Nutley and determined the overall increase of $2,769,968 works out to 6 tax points while Kucinski called the cost to the owner of a $50,000 home would be $16 more.

The Nutley School Board is presently negotiating with the local teachers union for a new wage contract. The budget as proposed has included an overall increase of 4.5 percent for local secretarial and other salaries now being negotiated by the Education Association of Nutley.

Board President Kucinski said, "Obviously we must continue giving the teachers an adequate increase in salary."

The total Nutley School Board budget proposed is $20,719,176 compared with last year's $19,000,000.

The Belleville Board of Education has approved a $1,400,000 budget for the 1986-87 school year, which is an anticipated $1,593,444 over last year's school year of $1,100,000.

School trustee Gary Nazzari, a member of the county's budget committee, says that the school budget reflects a 25.4 tax point increase which, if accurate, would tend to indicate a $15,800 tax increase on a $50,000 home valued at $60,000.

However, in some quarters conversant with Belleville fiscal affairs, their observations being that the $1,400,000 budget increase, the $1,593,444 school board budget increase, and the $1,400,000 school budget increase, would be closer to a 15.4 tax point increase that would reflect a $12,400 tax increase on a home valued at $60,000.

That greatest predicament upon the budgetary decision point of increasing the tax rate by 25.4 percent, or 15.4 percent. Thus $1,593,444 divided by $45,000 should have closely produced a 35.4 tax point resulting increase.

With this staggering tax increase, the rate price as a reality, the effect would be devastating upon all Belleville property owners, a home valued at $50,000 would be hit by a $12,400 increase from the school budget alone, not taking into account the municipal budget tax increase and that of the county.

The budgets of both Nutley and Belleville will be published in both town newspapers, get both and compare the figures — they don't lie.

The final budget approval awaits a decision of the voters of Belleville and Nutley at the annual fiscal decision and referendum scheduled for April 1. Belleville voters will elect a new home value assessor.

While we can expect county and local municipal tax increases of modest amounts, it becomes obvious that the cumbersome school budgets are crippling the economy of the modest income family and those with fixed income.

Education is a noble and treasured profession that stresses educational proficiency with less importance upon expensive frills and embellishments, of ancillary nature, that provide little in basic fundamental educational indoctrination; must be excised from public school budgets in a dedicated effort to keep school disbursements within parameters of the average property owners of the community at large.

Many a good thing has preceded itself in our society — perhaps it's time to start thinking about getting rid of elected school trustees and go back to an appointed school board that is devoid of politics.

Saturday 'AT' program offered to third graders

have been recognizing the brighter student. Why should we restrict it to just the fourth, fifth and sixth graders?"

Although fourth graders were added to the daily AT program following their Saturday program, Lally believed that third graders would benefit more if they remained in their home schools.

"Other districts that we have modeled don't go below grade 3," Lally said. "I think it would be premature to remove a third grader from his home school, so we attempt to reach a third grader's creative spirit in his own school through individualized programs."

Lally also stressed the point that third graders invited to participate in the Saturday program are not automatically selected for the fourth grade program at School 7.

"We're a little more selective with fourth graders because they are older," he said. "Requirements for the fourth grade program are more stringent."

Students' test scores, both ability (CAT) and achievement (IOWA), must be in the 90th percentile and students must submit an essay for review.

Approximately 100 students are being taught daily in a self-contained atmosphere at School 7, Lally said.

These students are being taught in a centralized location with a departmentalized structure, he said. "They're going beyond normal curriculum."

Applications now available for police officers' exam

Applications for the Civil Service police officers' exam are available at the Belleville Police Department in Town Hall on Washington Avenue.

Filing deadline is Friday, Feb. 14.

Belleville residents who are high school graduates may apply.

Four high school students to attend workshops in Washington, D.C.

Three Belleville High School students will be attending workshops in Washington, D.C. this school year through partial funding from the board of education, while Hoffmann-La Roche of Nutley sponsors a fourth.

Frank Morrell, a junior, will attend a workshop in Washington free of cost thanks to the sponsorship of Hoffmann-La Roche. The costs incurred by the three other students—Maria Garcia, grade 12, and Meru Mathai and Tim Nielsen, grade 11—will be partially funded by the Belleville Board of Education. The students will be attending one workshop in either April or June.

The school board has awarded three students, $295 each, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally, who added that monies are awarded yearly to students attending the Washington Workshops.

Belleville High School students have been attending the Washington Workshops since 1978, Lally said.

"Ann Schneider, a history teacher at the high school, recommended the program to the board," he said. "She found out about the program through her associations and acted as an initiator. She is the one responsible for generating the students' interest in this program."

The Washington Workshops, according to Belleville High School Principal Joseph Greene, are a citizen education program for students who have expressed interest in learning about national and international issues. During the workshops, students are able to view their respective senators, representatives and departmental government personnel and engage in role playing situations which reflect the traits of our democracy, he said.

To be eligible for the program, students must have earned above average grades, a teacher's recommendation and parental consent. According to Michael Lally, one requirement of the board of education is that students submit an essay on why they want to attend the workshops and their importance.

"If a student takes the time out to put his or her thoughts on paper," Lally said, "then they are truly demonstrating their wishes to attend to the workshops."

"The Washington Workshops provide our students with the opportunity to actually see firsthand what they have been taught in class," he added. "They are literally seeing government at work."

"The most stimulating factor of the workshops is that our students have the opportunity to meet with students from other states and share information about their schools and themselves," Lally said. "It is a truly well-rounded experience."

Belleville man charged with drunken driving

A 23-year-old Belleville man was arrested by Bloomfield police early Saturday morning and charged with drunken driving and possession of cocaine.

Police said they stopped a speeding driver at 1:54 a.m. on Bloomfield Avenue near North 11th Street in Bloomfield. The driver, said he was unlicensed and admitted he had been drinking, police said. The officers observed a strong alcohol odor on the driver's breath, bloodshot, watery eyes and slurred speech, according to department reports.

When the driver was searched at Bloomfield headquarters, police found a gold-colored spoon bearing a white residue, which testing determined was cocaine.

Enilio Cornier was charged with driving while intoxicated and possession of a controlled dangerous substance. A check also revealed three contempt-of-court warrants outstanding against him, one from Bloomfield and two from West Paterson, according to police.

Bail was set at $400 and a court date set for Feb. 5.

Peter Shapiro - a phenomenon

Webster describes a phenomenon as "the appearance of something as distinguished from the thing in itself... very unusual. Well, calling Shapiro a phenomenon is a view today probably shared by all in New Jersey.

It was on primary election night when former Assembly Speaker Alan Karcher appeared before television cameras with both hands held high above his head proclaiming to the world that "Peter Shapiro is a modern-day phenomenon." Of course, Karcher meant that Shapiro is the new messiah, appearing on the state scene to save the people from the ravages of a Kean Administration.

That the election proved that Shapiro is a phenomenon is now history. He became a phenomenon because he established a new record for a defeated gubernatorial candidate. Nobody in this state can ever remember when Assembly candidates refused to mention their party candidate for governor. No Assembly candidate, to our knowledge, was willing to have Shapiro's name linked to theirs in any printed matter — in any place in New Jersey. This is truly a phenomenon in New Jersey politics.

Now we hear that friends of Peter Shapiro are conducting a research poll to determine his standing among the people of Essex County.

Shapiro has signalled his campaign for re-election as county executive, and to bolster his claim for renomination, his friends are now going among the people of our county asking their attitude toward Peter. They are also seeking to learn the level of Peter's name recognition.

There are pertinent questions that current pollsters will never ask the people of Essex County. The true record of Peter Shapiro has never been challenged. In the gubernatorial campaign, Tom Kean did not make Peter Shapiro's record as county executive an issue.

Tom Kean ran a positive campaign, based upon his four year record as governor.

It remains now for others among us to address Peter Shapiro's eight-year record as county executive. In the next issue of this newspaper, we will review some of the questions that pollsters probably aren't asking voters today. They will be questions required to evaluate Shapiro's entire eight-year record.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

This year, the nation and the world celebrated the birthday of slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

History will record that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will rightfully take his place alongside men like Christopher Columbus, George Washington, Abe Lincoln and World War II military leader, Dwight Eisenhower.

The goals that became Martin Luther King's agenda have yet to be achieved, although it's been 18 years since an assassin's bullet killed Dr. King. Dr. King's dream and vision for a just society remain on the nation's agenda.

It is for a new generation of Americans — of every color and creed — to begin anew the efforts sparked by Dr. King to bring to America the fulfillment of the dreams enunciated in his memorable speech at the Lincoln Memorial in 1963.

All members of the human race want personal dignity, self-esteem and self-respect.

We must continue to strive for the dream Martin Luther King — the flame he lit must never be extinguished or forgotten.

The torch of freedom, justice and liberty has been handed down to another generation of Americans of all colors and creeds. It is for this generation to move on, forward and upward in the never ending struggle to bring peace and justice to the human race beginning with America.

Senator Bubba vs. Governor Kean

News reports indicate that State Senator Joseph Bubba of Wayne is disenchanted with the Kean administration. Bubba claims that the Kean administration promised it would end its political relationship with Democrat State Senator Frank Graves who also happens to be mayor of the city of Paterson. Republican Senator Bubba thinks the Kean administration should deal with Bubba to the exclusion of Senator Graves.

A state senator could not be more wrong than Senator Bubba is. Tom Kean and his administration believe they serve all the people. Governor Kean is not governor of New Jersey republicans — he is the governor of democrats, republicans and independents. As governor, he must serve, with justice, all people — and respect for all people — regardless of their politics. Governor Kean and his executive staff cannot ignore Senator Graves simply because he is a Democrat — as Senator Bubba would have it. The realities of life and simple justice require the governor of our great state to treat all senators with equal respect since each senator represents a segment of New Jersey residents.

Bubba's complaint is over the handling of patronage matters. Governor Kean has demonstrated time and again that his sole interest is in serving the needs of the people rather than in serving the needs of the political machine.

Recycling programs save neighboring towns money

To the editor:

A year-long study of recycling waste in Verona showed that if separation and sale of recyclable materials was put into operation "it could save that 2.7 square mile community from $24,400 to $114,000 on disposal fees per year. Verona has less than half the population of Belleville. Let us say Verona now throws twice the amount of waste into the garbage than Belleville does because there is less packrat syndrome among Verona residents. That would still mean Belleville can save the same amount on its hauling fee depending on what kind of great deal Belleville has gotten.

In order to do its recycling, Verona will construct a material recovery facility. Now let us say that they throw only half as much as shown by the studies and that the recovery facility is only half utilized. Here is the problem to be solved: what percent of Belleville's garbage could they process in addition to their own?

The answer is probably none. That is why our township should immediately when the appropriate fee feels up to it, begin to set up a committee, a council to study disposal savings. The related landfill problem should be considered. Or they might just assume there will be savings of around $20,000 annually which comes off the budget of the next fiscal year and finally begin a recycling program as have Caldwell, Millburn, Montclair, South and West Orange and Nutley.

Religious Viewpoint

An age of change

By the Rev. Robert Paul
Lutheran of Grace Baptist Church

We in this 20th century, are living in an age of change... rapid change. Perhaps the very fact that changes are occurring so quickly dulls our sense to realize actually what is happening in the world.

Most of the changes are not for the better and many change as an indication that the return of the Lord Jesus Christ is near, as to prepare us for Christ's second coming, which will include the rapture of the church (1st Thess. 4) and the awesome judgments in the Bible as noted in the books of Daniel and Revelation.

Whether or not one accepts the Bible as the infallible word of God does not alter the fact that the world is facing unimponderable problems. We are on an irrevocable course for world disaster.

In the Old Testament book of Daniel we learn that a world leader known as the Anti Christ will be successful in making vast world changes. He will be able to change laws and to change customs. Among the changes will be a shift from individual freedom to a controlled life. One will no longer be able to go to a supermarket and make purchases freely. It will be necessary for any individual first to swear his loyalty to Anti Christ and bear his mark of allegiance either on his right hand or forehead.

Changes in our spiritual standards are taking place. The way for the Anti Christ, such changes will take place involving his world religious leader to rule on the scene during the tribulation period and direct further allegiance to his leader. The Anti Christ. This man will be known as the false prophet.

We are in a crisis hour... a hour for more critical condition economically than in the days of St. Paul the Apostle. We have polluted our atmosphere and poisoned our bodies with the trappings of sophisticated living. Wars have become more vicious and more capable of carrying out mass destruction. The mention of Star Wars is frightening.

The nation of Israel, a God's time piece and they are now back in the land in part and have the property in which to rebuild the temple. Biblical scholars point out that the invasion of Palestine from the north by the Sultan of Russia is clearly taught in the book of Ezekiel chapters 38 and 39. Present day movements by Russia to Palestine is a matter of much concern. Rapid changes are taking place.

Since the Lord Jesus Christ could return at any moment, how important it is to change our lives. We have been taught by the Holy Spirit of God to "flee from idolatry and from all that is contrary to the Word of God and that is contrary to the Word of God."

Man's greatest fear

By The Rev. Gerald A. Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

The fourth edition of the Psychiatric Dictionary identifies and labels more than 200 different human fears common in our society.

A few of them are: teratophobia, the fear of giving birth to a monster; phagophobia, the fear of eating; gamophobia, the fear of marriage; heliophobia, the fear of needles; xenophobia, the fear of strangers; taenophobia, the fear of tapeworms; and phonophobia, the fear of work.

I was surprised to discover that the list did not include man's greatest fear — the fear of the unknown. This is the one fear which is universal to all mankind. As you travel through Mammoth Cave you will find a plaque at the depth of 300 feet which marks the point beyond which the Indians would not go. The area beyond it represented the unexplored, the unseen and the unknown. For 2,500 years, no man would pass this point.

All of us fear new and uncharted experiences. An air pilot in the U.S. Navy was involved in much enemy action during World War II. Again and again he risked his life with unusual courage in aerial combat. Nor did he fear to motorcycle across the continent at high speed to visit his home on furlough. But one winter, when invited by a friend to go skiing, he said with a shudder, "You wouldn't catch me on skis. They're too dangerous. A fellow could get hurt on them!" A fearless pilot afraid of skiing? Actually, he was afraid of the unknown as we all are.

Are we all helpless victims of fear? Only if we choose to be. When the 12 Apostles were unable to escape the onslaughts of a deadly hurricane, Jesus walked upon the sea and when he approached their small vessel he declared: "I am here, be not afraid." (John 6:20)

Nearly 60 years later, still remembering those words, the Apostle John wrote: "perfect love casteth out fear." (1 John 4:18)

The only safe way of traveling through unfamiliar territory is to follow an experienced guide. This is what David was thinking when he announced: "The Lord is my shepherd, though I walk through the valley to the shadow of death, I will fear no evil. For thou art with me." (Psalm 23)

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In comparative contrast, the front page stories relating to the proposed school budgets of Belleville and Nutley for the 1986-87 school year, manifests a glaring disparity when the projected increases in local taxes of the property owners of each town ship.

In Nutley, Board of Education President Charles Kuchinski called the budget one of the best ever presented for the Nutley school system. Business Administrator Secretary Arnold Rankland said the increase is the smallest he's seen during his 14 years in Nutley and abandoned the original increase of 4.8 percent to teachers, principals and other staff. He calculated the cost to the owner of a $50,000 home would be $36 more.

The Nutley School Board is presently negotiating with the local teachers union for a new wage contract. The budget as proposed has included an overall increase of 4.8 percent for teachers, principals and other staff, it is being operated by the Education Association of Nutley.

Board President Kuchinski said: "Obviously we are not planning on giving the teachers any outrageous increases in salary."

The total Nutley School Board budget proposed is $10,400,000 compared to the 1985-86 school year.

The Belleville Board of Education is presently negotiating with the local teachers union for a new wage contract. The budget as proposed has included an overall increase of 4.8 percent for teachers, principals and other staff, it is being operated by the Education Association of Nutley.

The budget as proposed has included an overall increase of 4.8 percent for teachers, principals and other staff, it is being operated by the Education Association of Nutley.

However, in some quarters concern with Belleville fear of future, there are reservations being raised as to whether the $1,593,444 school board budget increase over last year's school budget might not be close to a $3.4 tax point increase that would reflect a $390.40 tax increase on a Belleville home valued at $60,000.

This profile is replicated upon the January 1986 copies of recurring $4.00 increase reflecting one tax point. Thus $1,593,444 school board budget would more closely produce a $3.4 tax point increase.

What this staggering tax increase illustrates is a reality the citizen would be in jeopardy upon all Belleville property owners a home valued at $50,000 would be hit by a $177 increase. The school budget alone, not taking into account the municipal budget tax increase and that of the county.

The budgets of both Nutley and Belleville will be published in both town newspapers, get both and compare the figures... they don't lie.

The final budget approval awaits a decision of the voters of Belleville and Nutley at the annual board election and referendum scheduled for April 15. Be there and vote intelligently. The home you live in may be your own.

While we can't meet county and state municipal tax increases of modest amounts, it becomes obvious that the cumbersome school budgets are "complicated" the economy of the modest income family and those with fixed income.

Disastrous public school treasuries that stress educational proficiency without sufficient expense, trills and embellishments of ancillary nature, that provide little or basic fundamental educational instruction, must be excised from public school budgets in a dedicated effort to keep school disbursements within parameters of the average property owners of the community to pay.

Many a "good thing" has priced itself out of business — perhaps it's time we start thinking about getting rid of elected school trustees and go back to appointed school board that is devoid of politics.

That the election proved that Shapiro is a phenomenon is now history. He became a phenomenon because he established a new record for a defeated gubernatorial candidate. Nobody in this state can ever remember when Assembly candidates refused to mention their party candidate for governor. No Assembly candidate, to our knowledge, was willing to have Shapiro's name linked to theirs in any printed matter in any place in New Jersey. This is truly a phenomenon in New Jersey politics.

Now we hear that friends of Peter Shapiro are conducting a research poll to determine his standing among the people of Essex County.

Shapiro has signalled his campaign for re-election as county executive, and to bolster his claim for renomination, his friends are now going among the people of our county asking their attitude toward Peter. They are also seeking to learn the level of Peter's name recognition.

There are pertinent questions that current pollsters will never ask the people of Essex County. The true record of Peter Shapiro has never been challenged. In the gubernatorial campaign, Tom Kean did not make Peter Shapiro's record as county executive an issue.

Tom Kean ran a positive campaign, based upon his four year record as governor.

It remains now for others among us to address Peter Shapiro's eight-year record as county executive. In the next issue of this newspaper, we will review some of the questions that pollsters probably aren't asking voters today. They will be questions required to evaluate Shapiro's entire eight-year record.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

This week, the nation and the world celebrated the birthday of slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

History will record that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will rightly fully take his place alongside men like Christopher Columbus, George Washington, Abe Lincoln and World War II military leader, Dwight Eisenhower.

The goals that became Martin Luther King's agenda have yet to be achieved, although it's been 18 years since an assassin's bullet killed Dr. King. Dr. King's dream and vision for a just society remain on the nation's agenda.

It is for a new generation of Americans — of every color and creed — to begin anew the efforts sparked by Dr. King to bring to America the fulfillment of the dreams enunciated in his memorable speech at the Lincoln Memorial in 1963.

All members of the human race want personal dignity, self-esteem and self-respect.

We must continue to strive for the dream Martin Luther King — the flame he lit must never be extinguished or forgotten.

The torch of freedom, justice and liberty has been handed down to another generation of Americans of all colors and creeds. It is for this generation to move on ward and upward in the never ending struggle to bring peace and justice to the human race beginning with America.

Senator Bubba vs. Governor Kean

News reports indicate that State Senator Joseph Bubba of Wayne is disenchanted with the Kean administration. Bubba claims that the Kean administration promised it would end its political relationship with Democrat State Senator Frank Graves who also happens to be mayor of the city of Paterson. Republican Senator Bubba thinks the Kean administration should deal with Bubba to the exclusion of Senator Graves.

A state senator could not be more wrong than Senator Bubba is, Tom Kean and his administration believe they serve all the people. Governor Kean is not governor of New Jersey republicans — he is the governor of democrats, republicans and independents. As governor, he must serve, with justice, all people — and respect for all people — regardless of their politics. Governor Kean and his executive staff cannot ignore Senator Graves simply because he is a Democrat — as Senator Bubba would have it. The realities of life and simple justice require the governor of our great state to treat all senators with equal respect since each senator represents a segment of New Jersey residents.

Bubba's complaint is over the handling of patronage matters. Governor Kean has demonstrated time and again that his sole interest is in serving the needs of the people rather than in serving the needs of the political machine.

Letters to the Editor

Recycling programs save neighboring towns money

To the editor:

A year-long study of recycling waste in Verona showed that if separation and sale of recyclable materials was put into operation, it could save that 2.7 square mile community from $24,300 to $114,000 in disposal fees per year. Verona has less than half the population of Belleville.

Let us say Verona now throws twice the amount of waste into the garbage than Belleville does because there is less recycling and waste in Verona residents. That would still mean Belleville can "save" the same amount on its hauling fees. Depending on what kind of great deal Belleville has gotten.

In order to do its recycling, Verona will construct a material recovery facility. Now let us say that they throw only half as much as shown by the studies and that the recovery facility is only half-utilized. Here is the problem to be solved: what percent of Belleville's garbage could they process in addition to their own?

The answer is probably none. That is, why our township should immediately, when the appropriate of fees feels up to it, begin to set up a committee, a council to study disposal savings. The related landfill problem should be considered. Or they might just assume there will be savings of around $200,000 annually which comes off the budget of the next fiscal year and finally begin a recycling program, as have Caldwell, Millburn, Montclair, South and West Orange and Nutley.

An age of change

By the Rev. Robert Paul

Formerly of Grace Baptist Church

We, in this 20th century, are living in an age of change — rapid change. Perhaps the very fact that changes are occurring so quickly gives us a sense to realize actually what is happening in the world.

Most of the changes are not of the better and many changes are an indication that the return of the Lord Jesus Christ is near, as to prepare us for Christ's second coming, which will include the rapture of the church. These, and the awesome judgments in the Bible as noted in the books of Daniel and Revelation.

Whether or not one accepts the Bible as the infallible word of God does not alter the fact that the world is facing imponderable problems. We are on an irreversible course for world disaster.

In the Old Testament book of Daniel, we learn that a world leader, known as the Anti Christ, will be successful in making vast world changes. He will be able to change laws and to change customs. Among the changes will be a shift from individual freedom to a controlled life. One will no longer be able to go to a supermarket and make purchases freely. It will be necessary for any individual first to swear his loyalty to "Anti Christ and bear his mark" of allegiance either on his right hand or forehead.

Changes in our spiritual surroundings are also taking place. The world is now being changed by man's sin. Such changes will make it possible for a world religious leader to come on the scene during the tribulation period, and direct further allegiance to his leader. The Anti Christ, 12-6 man, will be known as the false prophet.

We are in a crisis hour — a hour in far more critical condition, spiritually than in the days of St. Paul the Apostle. We have polluted our atmosphere and poisoned our bodies with the trapping of sophisticated lying. Wars have become more vicious and more capable of carrying out mass destruction. The nation of Star Wars is frightening.

The nation of Israel, God's tribe, now and they are now back in the land in part, and have the majority in which to rebuild the temple. Biblical scholars point out that the invasion of Palestine from the north by the nation of Russia is being taught in the book of Ezekiel chapters 38 and 39. Present day predictions by Russia in Palestine is a matter of much concern. Rapid changes are taking place.

Since the Lord Jesus Christ could return any moment, how important it is to be ready that we have been born again by the Holy Spirit of God. (John 3:16). Many say that I am not sure. You must be born again.

Man's greatest fear

By The Rev. Gerald A. Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

The fourth edition of the "Psychiatric Dictionary" identifies and labels more than 200 different human fears common in our society.

A few of them are: teratophobia, the fear of giving birth to a monster; phagophobia, the fear of eating; gamophobia, the fear of marriage; belonephobia, the fear of needles; xenophobia, the fear of strangers; taenophobia, the fear of tapeworms; and phonophobia, the fear of work.

I was surprised to discover that the list did not include man's greatest fear — the fear of the unknown. This is the one fear which is universal to all mankind. As you travel through Mammoth Cave, you will find a plaque at the depth of 300 feet which says: "The point beyond which the Indians would not go. The area beyond it represented the unexplored, the unseen and the unknown. For 2,500 years, no man would pass this point."

All of us fear new and uncharted experiences. An air pilot in the U.S. Navy was involved in a much enemy action during World War II. Again and again he risked his life with unusual courage in aerial combat. Nor did he fear to motorcycle across the continent at high speed to visit his home on furlough. But one winter, when invited by a friend to go skiing, he said with a shudder: "You wouldn't catch me on skis. They're too dangerous. A fellow could get hurt on them."

A fearless pilot afraid of skiing? Actually, he was afraid of the unknown as we all are.

Are we all helpless victims of fear? Only if we choose to be. When the 12 Apostles were unable to escape the onslaught of a deadly hurricane, Jesus walked out upon the sea and when he approached, their small vessels were declared: "I am here; be not afraid." (John 6:20.)

Nearly 60 years later, still remembering these words, the Apostle John wrote: "perfect love" casteth out fear. (1 John 4:18.)

The only safe way of traveling through unfamiliar territory is to follow an experienced guide. This is what David was thinking when he announced: "The Lord is my shepherd, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me." (Psalm 23.)

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In comparative contrast, the front page stories relating to the proposed school budgets of the neighboring communities of Belleville and Nutley for the 1986-87 school year, manifests a glaring disparity upon the projected increases in local taxes of the property owners of each township.

In Nutley, Board of Education President Charles Kuensken called the budget one of the best ever presented for the Nutley school system. Business Administrator, Gregory Arnold Ramsland said the increase is the smallest he's seen during his 15 years in Nutley and determined the actual increase of $826,968 works out to 6.45 points while Kuensken's calculated the cost to the owner of a $50,000 home would be $36 more.

The Nutley School Board is presently negotiating with the local teachers union for a new wage contract. The budget approved has included an overall increase of 4.8 percent for teachers' salaries and other salaries being negotiated by the Education Association of Nutley.

Board President Kuensken said: "Obviously we're planning on giving the teachers an average 4.8 percent increase in salary."

The total Nutley School Board budget for 1986-87 is $11,314,444 compared to last year's $10,830,000.

The Belleville Board of Education has adopted a $10,593,444 school budget for the 1986-87 school year, which is a 3.5 percent increase over last year's school budget of $10,180,000.

School trustee Frank Sarnello, a member of the $25,000-a-year school committee, says his school budget reflects a 25.3 tax point increase. Such a figure, would tend to indicate a $121,800 tax increase on a Belleville home valued at $60,000.

However, in some quarters, content with Belleville's fiscal affairs, there are those who have raised as to whether the $1,593,444 school budget increase over last year's school budget might not be excessive. A 3.5 tax point increase, that would reflect a $21,840 tax increase on a home valued at $60,000.

That figure, predicated upon the historic accepted ratio of 3.5 percent, $1,593,444 divided by $45,000 should mean, theory produce, a 3.5 tax point increase.

Were this staggering tax increase to materialize as a reality, the effect would be devastating upon all Belleville property owners. A home valued at $50,000 would be hit by a $127 increase from the school budget alone, not taking into account the individual budget tax increase and that of the county.

The budgets of both Nutley and Belleville will be published in both town newspapers, yet both and compare the figures — they don't.

The final budget approval awaits a decision of the voters of Belleville and Nutley at the annual town election and referendum scheduled for April 14, 1986 and held intelligently, the home owners may be justified.

While we can expect equity and local municipalities in need of modest amounts, it becomes obvious that the cumbersome school budgets are crippling the economy of the modest income family and those with fixed income.

Drumming public school expenditures that stress educational proficiency with less importance upon expensive frills and embellishments of ancillary nature, that provide little in basic fundamental educational indoctrination, must be excused from public school budgets in a dedicated effort to keep school disbursements within parameters of the average property owners of the community to pay.

Many a good thing has picked itself out of business, perhaps it's time to get thinking about getting rid of elected school trustees and go back to an appointed school board, that is devoid of politics.

Saturday 'AT' program offered to third graders

Although fourth graders were added to the daily AT program following their Saturday program, Lally believes that third graders would benefit more if they remained in their home schools.

Other districts that we have modeled don't go below grade 3," Lally said. "I think it would be premature to remove a third grader from his home school, so we attempt to reach a third grader's creative spirit in his own school through individualized programs."

Lally also stressed the point that third graders invited to participate in the Saturday program are not automatically selected for the fourth grade program at School 7.

"We're a little more selective with fourth graders because they are older," he said. "Requirements for the fourth grade program are more stringent. Students' test scores, both ability (CAT) and achievement (IOWA), must be in the 90th percentile and students must submit an essay for review."

Approximately 100 students are being taught daily in a self-contained atmosphere at School 7, Lally said.

"These students are being taught in a centralized location with a departmentalized structure," he said. "They're going beyond normal curriculum."

Four high school students to attend workshops in Washington, D.C.

Three Belleville High School students will be attending workshops in Washington, D.C., this school year through partial funding from the board of education, while Hoffmann-La Roche of Nutley sponsors a fourth.

Frank Morrell, a junior, will attend a workshop in Washington free of cost thanks to the sponsorship of Hoffmann-La Roche. The costs incurred by the three other students—Maria Garcia, grade 12, and Meru Mathai and Tim Nielsen, grade 11—will be partially funded by the Belleville Board of Education. The students will be attending one workshop in either April or June.

The school board has awarded three students $295 each, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally, who added that monies are awarded yearly to students attending the Washington Workshops.

Belleville High School students have been attending the Washington Workshops since 1978, Lally said.

"Ann Schneider, a history teacher at the high school, recommended the program to the board," he said. "She found out about the program through her associations and acted as an initiator. She is the one responsible for generating the students' interest in this program."

The Washington Workshops, according to Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone, are a citizen education program for students who have expressed interest in learning about national and international issues. During the workshops, students are able to view their respective senators, representatives and departmental government personnel and engage in role playing situations which reflect the traits of our democracy, he said.

To be eligible for the program, students must have earned above average grades, a teacher's recommendation and parental consent. According to Michael Lally, one requirement of the board of education is that students submit an essay on why they want to attend the workshops and their importance.

"If a student takes the time out to put his or her thoughts on paper," Lally said, "then they are truly demonstrating their wishes to attend to the workshops."

"The Washington Workshops provide our students with the opportunity to actually see firsthand what they have been taught in class," he added. "They are literally seeing government at work."

"The most stimulating factor of the workshops is that our students have the opportunity to meet with students from other states and share information about their schools and themselves," Lally said. "It is a truly demonstrating their truly a well-rounded experience."

Belleville man charged with drunken driving

A 23-year-old Belleville man was arrested by Bloomfield police early Saturday morning and charged with drunken driving and possession of cocaine.

Police said they stopped a speeding driver at 1:54 a.m. on Bloomfield Avenue near North 11th Street in Bloomfield. The driver said he was unlicensed and admitted he had been drinking, police said. The officers observed a strong alcohol odor on the driver's breath, bloodshot, watery eyes and slurred speech, according to department reports.

When the driver was searched at Bloomfield headquarters, police found a gold colored spoon bearing a white residue, which testing determined was cocaine.

Enilio Cortez was charged with driving while intoxicated and possession of a controlled dangerous substance. A check also revealed three contempt-of-court warrants outstanding against him, one from Bloomfield and two from West Paterson, according to police.

Bail was set at $400 and a court date set for Feb. 5.

Presentation honors Martin Luther King

In commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, Belleville Public Library Assistant Director Adrea Cohen delivered a presentation on his life and contributions and showed a media demonstration to students of Schools 4, 7 and 9.

In her presentation, Ms. Cohen emphasized that "it has taken 15 years to pass the legislation, making Dr. King's birthday a national holiday. The legislation was signed by President Ronald Reagan on Nov. 3, 1983.

She mentioned that the theme of the King celebration, "Living the Dream," invites each of us to revitalize the work of Dr. King and the principles to which he dedicated his life.

According to Ms. Cohen, Coretta Scott King, as chair of the King Federal Holiday Commission, has emphasized that there is a spirit of unity and good sweeping the land where people of all races, religions and classes are coming together, putting aside their differences to make

Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday a day of great national unity and renewed patriotism consistent with the non-violent tradition of King.

Ms. Cohen, who holds a master's degree in library science as well as history, has presented a variety of programs on American history. For information on these programs, call her at the library at 759-9200.

The Belleville Public Library, in commemoration of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, has an exhibit of biographical material and information dealing with the life of Dr. King.

This year marks the first year's celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday as a national holiday.

In addition, the library presented a program on Martin Luther King this past Tuesday at School 9.

Jean Malizia

Malizia displays work at library this month

The works of Jean Malizia of Nutley are on exhibit this month in the meeting room of the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave.

Malizia, who has participated in numerous art shows and competitions throughout the country, is an active member of the Miniature Art Society, the Bloomfield Art League, the Nutley Art Group, the Art Center of the Oranges and the Chilpan Art Association.

Malizia, whose work emphasizes action and motion, is a graduate of the Trappagan School of Fashion. She studied further at the Art Students League and was once a fashion artist for Tote Fashion Consultants in New York. After raising five children, two of whom are artists, she resumed her painting.

Her works can be viewed during regular library hours.

Shirley's art exhibited at public library

The oils and watercolors of Gladys Ishop Shirley of Montclair are on exhibit this month at the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave.

A former schoolteacher for many years, Shirley has studied four years at the Art Student League under Alice Murphy, Thomas Fogarty, Mario Cooper and Ernest Fiege.

She has previously exhibited at the Montclair State College Summerfun Theater, the Bloomfield, Livingston and West Orange Public Libraries, Essex County College, Caldwell College and the University of Michigan.

The exhibit can be viewed on the second floor of the library during regular hours.

Ralph Edward shows graphics

The graphics of Ralph Edward Jr. of Belleville are on display this month at the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave.

Edward, who was inspired by Morton Birken, a former art teacher in Belleville, has studied with Don Brown, a teacher at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts.

In 1976, one of his drawings was on exhibit at the Kennedy Center of Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. He also won an award for his art at the Belleville Public Library's Indoor Art Show last year.

Children's Room begins two story time sessions

The James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room of the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., will begin its winter-spring sessions of "Baby Bookworm Story Time" and "Preschool Story Hour" next month.

Baby Bookworm Story Time, conducted for children ages 2 and 3, will be held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 9:30-10 a.m., beginning Feb. 18 through April 8.

The eight-week program for mother and child will feature stories, nursery rhymes, crafts, films and a puppet show.

Mothers of toddlers and children without previous preschool experience are welcome to register by telephone or in person at the Preschool Open House on Tuesday, Jan. 28, or Wednesday, Jan. 29, from 10-11 a.m. or 1-2 p.m.

The Preschool Story Hour, also an eight-week session, will be conducted for children ages 3½, 4 and 5, on Tuesdays or Wednesdays from 10:30-11:15 a.m., beginning Feb. 18 through April 9.

The preschool sessions will feature stories, creative dramatics, songs, crafts and puppet shows.

For more information, call the children's room at 759-9200 on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. or on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Essay contest focuses on career awareness

The Belleville Public Library, in cooperation with the Essex County Directors, Inc., the Kenilworth, Roselle, Roselle Park, South Brunswick, South River and Woodbridge libraries, is sponsoring an essay contest for Career Awareness Week.

The contest, open to junior and senior high school students, focuses on the importance of career planning and preparation for the jobs of the future. Students are being asked to write an essay of no more than 800 words on the topic, "My Career in Essays must be submitted to the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., for judging by March 1. Book prizes, certificates and ribbons will be awarded to the winners at a special program for National Library Week on April 9.

Each essay must have a bibliography of five sources and on the cover identifying information as required by the rules. Copies of the rules are available at the library.

The first prize winner from Belleville will have his or her essay submitted to the grand prize judging. First grand prize winners will receive a $25 check, second grand prize winner, a $15 check, and third grand prize winner, a $10 check.

For more information, call the library at 759-9200.

Special interest books are added to collection

The James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room of the Belleville Public Library has added new books of special interest to young children and their parents.

Fred Rogers of the television program, "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood," has written two books for children. Both of these books, "The New Baby" and "Going to Day Care," are available at the children's room and in the children's collection at the Silver Lake Branch Library.

Both children's collections have added the following books of interest to families with young children: "All By Myself," by Anna Hines is about a little girl who outgrows her need for nighttime diapers.

"Holes and Peeks," by Ann Jonas tells the story of a little girl who overcomes her fear of holes. "Sesame Streets 'I'll Miss You,' Mr. Hooper" and Hans Wilhelm's "I'll Always Love You" are gentle stories dealing with the death of a friend and death of a pet, and Barbro Lindgren's "Sam's Teddy Bear," Sam's Car and Sam's Bath are amusing stories about a mischievous preschooler.

For information on these and other new books, visit the children's room of the Belleville Public Library at 221 Washington Ave. or call 759-9200 on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. and on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

The Statewide Classified Ad Network (SCAN), set to begin Jan. 15, provides a special rate for a 25-word classified ad to be printed in all participating newspapers.

Nine daily newspapers and more than 35 weekly newspapers, including the Belleville Times, Bloomfield Life and The Nutley Sun, have joined the network, boosting total circulation to approximately 800,000.

Participating newspapers include: The New Jersey Herald, Newton; The North Jersey Herald-News, Passaic; The Press, Atlantic City; The Times, Trenton; News Publishing Co., Palisades Park; Somerset Press Newspapers, Somerville; The Times Newspaper Group, Upper Township; Suburban Trends, Butler; and The Mercer County Messenger, Trenton.

The classified program, with its 21-county coverage, makes this program one of the lowest per-reader advertising buys ever offered in New Jersey, according to the New Jersey Press Association (NJPA).

Advertisers may purchase the classified ad for $125 from any participating SCAN newspaper's classified advertising department or through the NJPA.

More information about the statewide classified program is available from participating newspapers and the NJPA at (609) 695-3366.

The Belleville Lions Club recently donated The Dictionary of Eye Terminology to the Belleville Public Library.

The reference book was dedicated in the memory of William C. Smith Sr., a former Lions member.

Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio takes oath for 2nd term

Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio of Nutley took the oath of office on New Year's Day and officially began his second three-year term as Essex County Sheriff.

Superior Court Judge Sidney Reiss administered the oath before a crowd of family, friends and elected officials, including Attorney General Kimmelman, State Senators Carmen Orechio and John Russo, County Executive Peter Shapiro and members of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

First elected sheriff in 1982, D'Alessio won reelection in the November General Election. He is a 12-year veteran of the Essex County Sheriff's Office, having attained the rank of Lieutenant before his first election to the office of sheriff.

In his inaugural address, Sheriff

D'Alessio commented that the past three years had brought growth, success as well as sadness to his office. He paused to mourn the death of two sheriff's officers, Sergeant Nathaniel Taylor and Officer Robert Walls, who died following a shooting incident in a Newark Tavern in November.

D'Alessio also noted that the Essex County Sheriff's Office serves New Jersey's largest and most urbanized county. "All the problems of our society find their way into the work of the Sheriff's Office — drug and alcohol abuse, domestic violence, missing and abused children," the Sheriff said. "Our officers deal with all of these problems as caring and compassionate professionals," D'Alessio said.

In announcing his priorities for the new term, the Sheriff pointed to his continuing commitment to public education programs, to a stepped up war against drug dealers, and to fostering cooperation between all the law enforcement agencies that serve Essex County.

Swearing in: Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio (left) is being sworn in by Superior Court Judge Sidney Reiss. Witnessing the ceremony are D'Alessio's wife, Suzanne, and father, James.

Rotary Club sells fruit to raise funds; Thomas Devine receives fellowship award

Fruity Fundraiser—The Belleville Rotary Club recently sold and delivered 400 cases of fresh Florida produce as a fundraiser for its annual scholarship program. Pictured unloading the fruit as it arrived are (l-r) Dominick Margiatta, Bob Gaccione and Tom Hunkle. The Rotary Club scholarships help Belleville graduating seniors who plan to attend a vocational or career school.

Fellowship Award—Thomas Devine Jr., a member of the Belleville Rotary Club, was recently presented with the group's Paul Harris Fellowship Award. Devine, past president and secretary of the Rotary Club, was given the award in recognition of his 23 years of service to the group. The Paul Harris Fellowship is Rotary's highest award.

Barbara Tuck is elected veteran's group president

The Belleville Veteran's Council recently conducted its annual meeting at the American Legion Post 106, Belleville.

Representatives from American Legion Post 105, American Legion Post 299 and Auxiliary 299, VFW Post 275, Amvets Post 26 of Belleville and Jewish American War Veterans attended the meeting.

At the council's next meeting, Sunday, Feb. 1 at 11 a.m., members will elect Barbara Tuck, Unit 299 of Belleville, council president and secretary and John Larec, Amvets Post 26 of Belleville, treasurer.

Tuck, past president of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 299, is also first vice president of Essex County American Legion Auxiliary.

Armando Di Villa

IN THE PARK

Armando Di Villa ranks as one of the finest restaurants in the area. From the maitre'd to the table lines, one word describes Armando's "class," and that is the atmosphere which prevails.

The menu features gourmet Italian specialties, more European style than Italian-American dishes. The appetizer list emphasizes vegetables and seafood, offering dishes such as the Antipasto Freddy Cavallini (home made cold marinated vegetables), Scampi alla Griglia (broiled jumbo shrimp in garlic sauce) and Spiedino Alla Romano (cheese brochette with wine and Anchovy Sauce).

A plate of traditional Italian Zuppa (soup) is a nice second course. Minestrone Piemontese, Pasta Fagioli, and Cappelletti in Brodo with meat filled dumplings are good choices to try.

Armando's has 15 pastas on its dinner menu, which can be ordered as either a main or secondary course. Traditional favorites like Marzotto, Fettuccine, Alfredo, and Ravioli are available, as well as more "exotic" pastas. The Paghia e Fieno (white and green noodles with onion, prosciutto, mushrooms, and peas in clam sauce) is absolutely delicious. The pastas are very thin and fresh, and the combination of ingredients is superb.

Several salads and vegetables are offered, and are far more sophisticated than those dishes in standard restaurants.

Veal, chicken, grilled meats, and fish are cooked up several different ways by Chef Armando. An interesting dish is the Costoletta alla Valdostana (stuffed veal chop with Fontina, Prosciutto, and truffles), and Pollo alla Marengo (chicken sautéed in butter with brandy and tomatoes).

The desserts are equally as elegant as the main fare. Italian pastries, cakes and gelato are classic items to end your meal with. Those with more exotic tastes can choose cherries jubilee, banana flambe, or fragole porrifino.

Friendly host Onofrio Pellegrini said that there are always daily specials, and if there is something you desire that is not on the menu, just ask him. There is also an extensive wine list, with both imported and domestic selections.

A separate room is available for functions including 10-15 people, a much larger room is available for larger groups.

Lunch (with a special menu) is served from 11:30 - 2:30. Dinner from 5:00 - 10:00 p.m., every weekday except Monday. Saturdays just for dinner, and Sundays 1:00 - 8:00 p.m. Reservations are recommended. Seating is for 100 persons.

Armando Di Villa is located at 800 Bloomfield Avenue in Nutley. Phone 667-8899.

Women suffer more frequently from irrational dread phobia

By Paul Weber, M.D.
The Carrier Foundation

One of the most common of all the phobias is agoraphobia and the great majority of those who have this disorder are women. Study of this phobia has given us new insight into its origin and an understanding of why treatment of this condition frequently fails.

First, a brief description of the disorder itself. In agoraphobia, the patient, usually a woman, develops an irrational dread of a particular situation, as for example elevators, and therefore avoids all elevators. Soon the dread spreads to other situations such as "supermarkets, restaurants, trains, busy streets and others. As avoidance expands to more and more situations, her area of activity continues to shrink until, finally, she will not go out of her house at all. In some cases, she may venture out of the house for brief periods and short distances but only if accompanied by a family member or friend. There are many cases in which the woman has not been out of the house for years, trapped, immobilized, cut off from the outside world.

A standard treatment for agoraphobia is "exposure therapy," which means reintroducing the patient, step by step, into the situation she has been dreading and avoiding. In the case of agoraphobia, the patient, accompanied by the therapist, might venture out of the house for a few minutes. The following day, the time outside the house and the distance away from the house would be increased. Later, she might venture out of the neighborhood on foot, then on a bus, then in an automobile, still accompanied by the therapist. She would proceed, in this fashion, to take steps of increasing difficulty until, ultimately, she would be able to venture unaccompanied into all the places she had gone to before, without experiencing any anxiety.

While this treatment will work in some cases, it will not work in others, and the reason for that, we have found, is that "exposure therapy" concentrates only on the symptoms that one must also look at the larger picture, at what is going on in the rest of the patient's life.

A woman's entrapment by agoraphobia often reflects an entrapment in her basic life situation. She may be a young woman wanting to break away from her parents, but unable to do so because she is so dependent on them. It may be a woman who has just had a baby, and although she loves the baby, still wants the freedom and carefree existence she can no longer have. It may be an unhappy married woman wanting to get out of the marriage, but unable to take the step because of religious beliefs and family pressures against the divorce. In each of these typical situations, the woman is caught in a conflict, entrapped, unable to make a move. That is when the phobia generally erupts.

Women in such situations are seldom aware of the extent of their unhappiness in the situation and become preoccupied with overcoming their phobia. They are likely to remain unaware of their underlying problem unless they enter psychotherapy. That is why, in our treatment program at The Carrier Foundation, we consider it basic in such instances to have the patient enter into individual and group psychotherapy, where she is not only helped to become aware of her conflict and her feeling of entrapment, but also to take steps to resolve it. The woman in an unhappy marriage, for example, might be helped to improve the situation within the marriage, or if that is not possible, to get out of the relationship. We have found, in such cases, that as soon as a decisive life change is made in one direction or the other, the agoraphobia will generally clear up. Where the phobia is very severe and of long standing, it may also be necessary to give exposure therapy, as an adjunct

Compassionate Friends meets next Wednesday at St. Paul's

The Essex County Chapter of The Compassionate Friends will meet 7:45 p.m. Jan. 29 at St. Paul's Congregational Church, Franklin Avenue at St. Paul's Place.

The Compassionate Friends is a self-help, non-denominational, non-profit organization offering friendship and understanding to bereaved parents. The group seeks to promote and aid parents in the positive resolution of the grief experience and to foster their physical and emotional health.

Guest speakers Therissa and Lisa Vasiladis, a mother and daughter team who work at The Center for Help in Time of Loss in River Vale, will discuss sibling grief. The Vasiladis have had first hand experience coping with grief and much experience working with both parents and children who have been faced with tragic and untimely death.

Their approach is based on the philosophy of Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, author of "On Death and Dying" and "To Live Until We Say Goodbye." Children and teenagers of families who have lost a child are encouraged to attend. Provision will also be made for parents who have lost an only child.

Anyone wishing additional information may call 877-2063 or write The Compassionate Friends, P.O. Box 153, Nutley.

Girls' team new challenge for Fuccello

She is now in her 14th year of coaching varsity basketball and, she says, coaching has never been more enjoyable. She says this, despite a slow start this year and a difficult, to say the least, schedule.

She is used to winning seasons' outstanding players and high rankings in Essex County. Yet, she won't have those luxuries this year but still enjoys coaching.

This unusual lady is named Karen Fuccello, and the 1985-86 basketball team at Belleville High is a new challenge to her. It's a challenge that she accepts with vigor.

"This years team is a pleasure to coach," Fuccello said. "They're nice kids who are eager to learn. I think there is a future with this team. The key, and I've said it all along, is the summer months. We have to get a commitment to playing in the summer and I think that this team is willing to do that."

Entering this weeks action, Belleville had an 0-7 record. Last week, the team lost two games by a total of eight points. Against Immaculate Heart, the girls fell behind early, trailing by 20 early in the third quarter. Then the team began to get mad. They were determined to get back into the game and made a strong second half run. Although the girls lost 47-40, the performance gave proof to the fact that Belleville can play effectively with other varsity teams.

Last Friday night, the girls lost a heartbreaker to Passaic 44-43. It was a game in which Belleville fell behind early, rallied in the late stages and nearly pulled it out.

Fuccello has been working with basically a freshman and sophomore based unit. There are three seniors on the team, Desiree Johansen, Tracy Delaney and Dina De Medici.

"I could write the entire column about Johansen. What we have here is a class young lady, who is a winner no matter what the scoreboards says."

"I can't fault Desi for any mistake she makes out there," Fuccello said. "She does so much for us, and has to be in so many places. She is just a great player to be around."

Johansen made the move to point guard this season after playing forward for most of her career.

Whatever will help the team is fine with me," Johansen said when asked about the move. "I'm not comfortable with it, yet, but I'll learn it."

It's that type of dedication that makes you admire and respect Desiree Johansen. She is respected by her teammates, coaches and friends. Indeed, she is a very unique athlete.

De Medici is another good team leader. She is a quiet individual who works hard every day in practice. While she does not score a lot of points, De Medici is a hard nosed defensive player and is never afraid to play under the boards.

Delaney suffered a badly sprained ankle in the Bloomfield game, but was back two games later. She can also help under the boards and is a very dedicated athlete.

Junior Laura Caruso has all the tools necessary to be an outstanding forward. She is strong, aggressive and easy to coach. She is battling a scoring slump now, but a player of Caruso's stature will overcome that. Once more, she is a tremendous prospect and will be the leader of next years team.

The young players that will mold the team over the next two to three years are sophomores Judy Nehila, Raquel Melsen and Sandy Brew. Freshman Simone Edwards, Laura Dondarski, Maria Longobardi and Danielle Pizzi have also shown marked improvement.

Nehila is beginning to establish herself as an offensive threat, hitting for 12 points against Immaculate Heart and a career high 17 versus Passaic. Melsen has excellent ball handling skills and the potential to be a good point guard. Edwards is an outstanding athlete. She scored 10 points against Passaic and will only get better. Dondarski is another talented back court player that will get better with experience. Pizzi, at 5'8" tall, is learning the trials and tribulations of playing in the paint. She is getting better and with hard work over the summer, will be a very important part of next years varsity team. Brew has the potential to light up the scoreboard and Longobardi could be an effective front court player with work in the off season. Once again, she has the tools necessary to be a good player.

"I'm involved with a lot of AAU programs, youth games and the Garden State Games," Fuccello said. "I have the resources to help the kids be the best players than can be. Last year, I coached an AAU team for 16 year olds and under, but no one from Belleville played. We need that type of dedication for the program to reach to the way it used to be."

Fuccello admits she has been rejuvenated by this years team.

"I'm really enjoying this year. This group is really fun to coach. They work hard and want to get better. What I'd like to do is revise the feeder program that I started a long time ago. We need the help of the physical education teachers in the elementary schools. The kids have to start at a young age and get to learn the game. Of course, they have to enjoy the game, but if the girls want to be introduced to the game, it's certainly a start."

Karen Fuccello is not hiding. Not by a long shot. While the current team struggles for recognition and that initial win, the future certainly looks promising. Next week, we'll talk to Debbie Meola, the assistant coach at BHS for the past ten years. Meola is doing a fine job with the junior varsity team this season. Also, we'll talk to Karen Portuese, the freshman coach, about the future stars on her team.

Last Weeks Quiz

The three teams who have not made the Super Bowl from the old AFL are Buffalo, San Diego and Houston. Houston has played in the 1978 and 79 championship games, losing both to Pittsburgh. San Diego played in the '80 championship game, but lost to Oakland. Buffalo played in the '66 AFL title game, but lost to the Kansas City Chiefs.

Athlete of the Week

This week it's Ted Sochaski of the boys' basketball team. He scored 33 points in two games last week and leads the Bucs in scoring with a 15.4 ppg average.

Winning streak ends

Paramus outduels Bucs

By Joe Picgrato

Belleville's streaking wrestling team was brought to a crashing halt by the Spartans of Paramus while suffering its first defeat of the season, 34-23.

To add salt to the wound, the Bucs looked terrible as they finished a woeful fifth in the Elizabeth tournament. Chased out of a field of only seven teams.

Although the Paramus' men were closer than the score would indicate, there were a number of starting bad habits which led to the defeat. For instance, Paramus scored the first takedown in seven of ten bouts on the varsity card, three of the Bue grapplers didn't score a single point in their respective matches, and all but one of the Belleville contingent could not escape from the defensive position, without putting themselves into more difficult predicaments.

In the Elizabeth tournament, things went from bad to worse as the bad habits from the Paramus match carried over as well as a slow lack of energy and team spirit. Not only did our Bucs wrestle with all the intensity of a bunch of returning veterans, they exhibited the enthusiasm of the mat of a totally disinterested group of conventioneers.

While this criticism may seem severe to some, those close to the team will admit to being shocked by the lack of togetherness shown by this year's varsity twelve.

At Paramus, Belleville's strong first four were no match for the Spartans' leadoff men. Mike Iuliano was beaten 15-0, John Stampone lost a 5-2 decision and Joey Cerreto was pinned with 11 seconds left in the bout. Mondo Nardone scored a 13-3 major decision to keep his perfect record intact.

Tim Buckley, wrestling all season out of his normal weight class, was overpowered by a 14-0 score. Phil Zamloti slowed the Paramus charge with a 11-5 decision over Mike Whippich but was denied a fall due to a slow moving referee. Phil had his man flat on his back for at least a three second count but lost his chance for a pin as the ref took too much time to get into the proper position.

Ernie Trione was a victim of the same fate as he whipped Rob Conky by a 10-2 score but was denied a fall, as was Zamloti, by a slow moving official. Trione had a cradle locked in tight for what seemed like an eternity, but improper positioning forced Carmine to settle for four team points instead of six.

The 147 pound bout was a study in futility as Dave Siletti and Greg Battafarano struggled to a rare 0-0 stalemate.

Mike Minichini, wrestling at 157 pounds, was the victim of the strangest fate of all in his 14-3 win over Jackish Hornidge. Minichini had Hornidge in the tightest cradle you ever saw when Hornidge claimed he had an injury to his left knee. It just so happened there were only eight seconds left in the bout and Hornidge had no chance whatsoever of avoiding a pin. After a miraculous recovery, Hornidge completed the bout and walked away losing four team points instead of six.

At 169 pounds, Lou Lucante took the mats for his first time ever and lasted until the third period before losing on a fall to Tom Lynch at 4:57. After forfeiting at 187 pounds, the Bucs sent Marc Criscione out to wrestle heavyweight. Big Marc overpowered Jimmy McGinly easily and recorded his fifth consecutive pin at 2:53 of the second period.

Lady Bucs scalped by Passaic Indians; suffer 'heartbreaker' to Immaculate

By Michael Lamberti

Playing its two best games to date, the Belleville girls basketball team lost two heartbreakers and saw its record drop to 0-7.

The girls face a tough week of action. On Tuesday, the team was in Nutley. This afternoon, the girls play host to Kennedy, starting at 4 p.m. On Saturday afternoon, the team will host Paramus, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, it's off to Clifton for a 7 p.m. start.

Head coach Karen Fuccello saw improvement in her team over the past week.

"We played with a little more intensity," the coach said. "We were a little more familiar with the offense and were able to create some opportunities. We played two games last week that we could have won."

The team lost to Immaculate Heart, 47-40 and Passaic, 44-43.

The later contest, played at Belleville High, was by far the most exciting game of the '85-86 season.

Versus I.H., the girls got off to a very slow start and then had to rally in the second half.

"If we had established any offense in the first half, we might have won," Fuccello said. "The second half, the girls picked up their game and played much better defense."

Immaculate Heart led 15-7 after one and 31-15 at intermission. The way the home team was 'shooting' the ball, the prospects for a Buccaneer rally seemed slim, at best. The Buccaneer offense in the first half was all Desiree Johansen, who had 10 of the 15 points.

In the third quarter, however, Judy Nehila began to find the offensive punch. The sophomore guard scored four points in the quarter, while Dina De Medici added two foul shots, Johansen a jumper and Sandy Brew, a jumper and free throw to cut the lead to 37-26 entering the final quarter.

Nehila made the fourth quarter her best, scoring seven points. The girls could not cut the deficit past eight points, however, until Nehila hit a free throw with :01 left in the contest.

Johansen led the way for Belleville with 16 points, her best of the season. Nehila had 12, Simone Edwards, Brew and Laura Caruso had three and De Medici finished with two points.

The Passaic game was a nip and tuck contest from the opening tip. Belleville and Passaic

Don Bosco's late rally edges 1-8 hoopsters

The Belleville boys' basketball team dropped two tough games to conference rivals Passaic and Don Bosco and fell to 1-8 on the season.

Belleville's team played host to Nutley last Tuesday and are in Paterson tonight to face Kennedy High School. Tip off is set for 7:30 p.m. On Saturday, the team will be in Paramus (1:30 p.m.) and next Tuesday, will travel to Clifton for an 8:30 p.m. tip.

Collucci, who has seen his club lose some close ball games this year, witnessed another difficult loss against Don Bosco.

"We stopped playing defense in the fourth quarter," the coach said. "We gave up 21 points in the final quarter, 11 of which were from the foul line. You can't play defense with your hands. You have to play it with your feet. Maybe we got tired, I don't know. Our foul shooting also hurt. They hit 17 of 21 and we were 10 of 16."

Belleville seemingly had control of the game, leading 14-12 after one and 33-30 at intermission. The two teams played evenly in the third and Belleville took a 48-45 lead into the final frame.

There, the roof caved in for the Bucs, as the visitors tallied 21 points, to Belleville's 14, and won, 66-52.

Ted Sochaski led the way for Belleville with 19 points. Leon Puentes finished with 17. Don Washington had ten, Loung La and Chris Goldrick finished with six. Frank Morrell had two and

Buc wrestlers suffer first loss to Paramus

The Elizabeth Minutemen Tournament was also a study in futility as the Buc wrestlers looked lethargic and disinterested. Notable exceptions were Mondo Nardone, Marc Criscione and Carmine Tirone.

Nardone won his second tournament title this year as he scored two easy decisions to run his season log to a perfect 11-0.

Criscione earned a silver medal as he finished second to Nick Kydonieus of J.P. Stevens. Criscione's record now stands at 9-2 with a team-leading seven pins.

Finally, Carmine Tirone finished third in the 140-pound division and extended his record for the year to an impressive 7-3.

Some observations and comments: Once again, the teams with the best seeds (Long Branch, Elizabeth and St. Augustine) finished 1-2-3. The teams with the worst seeds (Belleville, Neptune and North Bergen) finished 5-6-7. What ever happened to team-togetherness and unity? Instead of working as a unit throughout the tourney, the Buc grapplers were scattered all over the gym in half a dozen small cliques. It has become painfully obvious that this year's team is in desperate need of a strong leader, someone who will knit the team's personalities and talents into a smooth running machine.

Coaching can do only so much, the rest must come from the individuals. It may have become outmoded, with today's "that's not cool" generation, but there is nothing wrong with high school athletes showing a great deal of emotion at athletic events. Tim Buckley, Dave Silletti and Mike Minichini, are you listening?

Will someone please outlaw the front headlock as a move for Belleville wrestlers? This single move has turned an entire team into a stalling, reactive mob, instead of an aggressive, offense-minded wrestling team. Whatever happened to single- and double-leg take-downs or any of the other offensive strategies? Someone should inform this team that a front headlock will do wonders against Bergen Catholic, Don Bosco and Paterson-Eastside, but is a stall move against Paramus, Long Branch and St. Augustine.

Buc Notes: Answer to last week's Quiz Question — Al Henry was the Belleville wrestler who faced Passaic Valley's John Parr in his first ever varsity match. Henry, later to become a district champ for the Bucs, was pinned by Parr in the first period. Wrestler of the Week for the second time this year is Mondo Nardone for winning the Elizabeth tourney and running his record to a perfect 11-0. See you next week.

Don Bosco's late rally edges Buc cagers (1-8)

Craig Burden, two. For Don Bosco, Jack Perna finished with 18 and Doug Coughlin, 16.

Versus Passaic, Belleville was up against the number-15 team in the State, and had to play the game in Passaic where it's always difficult to win.

Despite the odds, the Bucs made the most of its chances in the first half. Playing inspired defense, Belleville led 15-11 after one and 27-25 at intermission.

We played a very good half, Colucci said. "We're up by two points, midway through the third quarter, and they put a little more pressure on us. We panicked, we took poor shots in the paint and turned the entire game around."

After leading 27-25, Belleville was outscored, 14-2 in the third quarter and trailed, 39-29 heading into the final frame.

The fourth quarter was all Passaic, with the Indians outscoring Belleville, 22-13 and winning, 61-42.

Puentes, who played a fine all-around game, scored 18 points; Sochaski finished with 14. Bob Hutchinson had four and Goldrick, Washington and La finished two points each.

Colucci emphasized that tickets are still available for the Belleville-Kearny basketball game at the Meadowlands Arena on February 11. The game will begin at 4:45 p.m. and is followed by the Nets-Pistons game at 7:30 p.m. Once again, a ticket for the Belleville game is good for the Nets game as well. If anyone is interested, they can contact Colucci or Belleville, A.D. Jim Silvestri at Belleville High.

NOTES: Sochaski continues to lead team in scoring with 15.4 ppg. Puentes is second with 12 ppg. At the free throw line, Sochaski leads the way with a 65 percent efficiency. As a team, Belleville is shooting 57 percent from the line. "I'd like to see that 57 turned around to 75," Colucci said. "We've lost a few games this year from the foul line." Belleville was 10 of 16 from the line against Don Bosco and 10 of 15 versus Passaic. Bucs have taken only 106 foul shots through nine games. "We're not penetrating the defense and not taking good shots in the paint," Colucci said of the low amount of free throws. "That's why we're not getting more foul shots."

Teams continue to play in rec basketball league

Ritacco Bros., led by Dave Long's 11 points, defeated Patricks, 32-21, in the Belleville Recreation Department's Senior Boys' Basketball League.

In other games, S & S defeated DeLorenzo, 23-19; Sylvestro's lost to Reeno, 35-29; Jam Session defeated Fairway, 44-22 with Ricky Stallone leading with 13 points. The Knights overcame Elge Travel, 22-21, and the Teamsters defeated the Misfits, 33-10.

In the Over Men's 30 League Barry's Go-Go easily overcame

DePiro's Realty, 51-24. Red Higgins' 17 points lifted Modern Millwork over Megaro, 53-44, while Sally's Auto Parts surprisingly defeated Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market, 53-41, and the Knights defeated Radio Shack, 40-29.

After the fifth week of action in the men's division, Gondola Ristorante defeated Plaza Travel, 59-53, despite Dan Borgo's 18 points. The Falcons easily overcame RLM Graphics, 45-29 and Ken Dobson's 18 points led Club 36 East with a win over the Raiders, 64-38.

In other games in the league, STS Tire Warehouse edged For Pete's Sake, 47-46; Nutley Pub defeated Nu Plas by a forfeit, and Veniero's Trucking defeated Corbo Marbach's by a forfeit.

Girls' team evens record at 2-2 in suburban basketball league

The Belleville Recreation Department's entry into the Suburban Junior Girls' Basketball League split a pair of decisions last week, evening its record at 2-2.

Belleville traveled to Millburn Jan. 9 and won 39-23 behind Stacey Johansen's 29 points.

On Jan. 11, the seventh-eighth grade Buccanettes sacrificed a halftime lead and fell to Nutley 34-32.

Nutley used a fullcourt press in the second half and double-teamed Johansen, limiting her to 20 points in the game.

Information was submitted by the Belleville Recreation Department.

always play tough, defensive minded games and this one was no exception.

The first two minutes were not good for the Bucs-Passaic scored six quick points before Tracy Delaney hit a layup. Johansen added two jumpers in the quarter and Belleville trailed 10-6 after one.

The teams battled evenly in the second quarter, with Nehila scoring six points. Edwards three and Johansen two. Belleville did not lead during the first half, coming as close as 10-10 early in the second. The score at halftime was 21-17.

In the third, Johansen hit two free throws to tie the game at 21 and moments later, a Johansen layup tied the game at 23. The Indians then scored six unanswered points, taking a 29-23 lead before Edwards hit a jumper and Nehila a jumper to cut the lead to 32-27 entering the fourth quarter.

The fourth started with a Nehila jumper, then four quick Indian points. Nehila came back with a jumper and Edwards, who played her best varsity game to date, hit a jumper and was fouled in the act. Her free throw tied Belleville, trailed 38-34. Minutes later, De Medici hit a jumper and Nehila a jumper to tie the game at 38. The teams then traded baskets and with the score tied at 43, Johansen stepped to the line with a one in one free throw attempt. The senior was short of her first shot and seconds later, Passaic hit one free throw with 08 left to win the game, 44-43.

Nehila finished with a career high 17 points to lead the way for Belleville. Edwards hit a career high 10 and Johansen scored 10. Delaney, De Medici and Caruso finished with two points each.

NOTES: Girls expected a tough game with Nutley, considered one of the best teams in the N.J.H.L. Johansen leads team in scoring with 10.4 ppg. Nehila now second at 8.7. Team shooting 43 percent from free throw line. The opposition has shot just 62 foul shots this year against Belleville, prompting Pucello to note that her team hasn't been aggressive enough on defense. Offense averaging 33.4 ppg, while defense is allowing 30.5.

Exalted Ruler D. Morgan attends Elks' conference

Don Morgan, Exalted Ruler of Elks Lodge 1123 of Belleville, recently attended the 1985 fall conference of the N.J. State Elks Association.

More than 360 delegates and association members hosted the Elks national leader, John T. Traynor of Devils Lake, N.D.

Those who attended the conference heard reports of the various committees of the state association, which covered subjects of community interest. Subjects discussed included the Elks contributions of more than $90,000 to the Statue of Liberty participation in the Drug Awareness Program which alerts youth to the hazards of drug abuse; plans for a new Elks camp for handicapped children; scholarship awards; and a "hoop shoot" basketball free-throw competition.

New Jersey's 56,000 Elks are active in 147 lodges throughout the state. The national membership exceeds 1.6 million and constitutes the oldest and largest fraternal organization of its kind in the United States.

The conference was chaired by Arthur Mayer Jr., president of the N.J. State Elks Association.

School 4 teachers create math board for students

Mrs. Camille Heaney, BSIP instructor, and Mrs. Diana Gonnello, fifth grade teacher at School 4, have put together a math super-solver bulletin board outside Mrs. Heaney's classroom on the second floor.

Periodically, one student from each class will be selected to have his or her 100 percent math paper posted on the bulletin board. At the end of the year, every student who had a paper on the bulletin board during the year will be recognized by receiving a Math-Solver Certificate.

Through such a project, both teachers are trying to create an incentive for students to improve their math problem-solving skills. The students are able to compete with each other at their own particular grade level.

William Waldron, 69; honored bomber pilot

William J. Waldron, 69, of Morris Township, recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross during World War II, died Jan. 15 in the Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Born in Belleville, he lived in Morris Township for many years.

Mr. Waldron was a manufacturer's representative in the electrical industry for many years. He was graduated from the University of Delaware.

He served in the Army Air Force during World War II with the 487th Bomber Group of the Eighth Army in Europe. During the Battle of the Bulge, Mr. Waldron, who was a captain of a B-17 bomber, had his plane shot down Dec. 24, 1944, over Belgium.

He managed to parachute to safety from the exploding plane and was the only pilot in his squadron to survive. Mr. Waldron then made his way back from enemy territory to his own lines. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Purple Heart. He was a member of the Caterpillar Club, an organization of pilots who parachuted safely during action.

Mr. Waldron was a member of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, the Essex Electrical League, the Spring Brook Country Club of Morristown and the Ocean Reef Country Club of Key Largo, Fla.

Surviving are his wife, Marie M., a son, William J.; two daughters, Mrs. Patricia A. Boxler and Mrs. Laura Lee Applin; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Anderson; and three grandchildren.

of the Cooley Lodge F & AM of Elmira.

For the past seven years, he and his wife resided with their daughter and The Rev. Howard Day of Belleville.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred A.; two daughters, Winifred Smith of Georgia and Eveline M. Day of Belleville; five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

DEMENTLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. M. from Bloomfield asks, "Is sugarless gum good to chew?"

Mrs. M. Although sugarless gum does not promote tooth decay as we've seen, other events happen. The jaw movements associated with gum chewing—sugarless or not—has been associated with frequent headaches in some people. In addition, gum chewing has resulted in fracturing teeth and grinding fillings. Also keep in mind there is no nutritive value in sugarless gum.

Chewing sugarless gum is a better substitute than overeating or smoking, but if you don't need to chew Mrs. M. then dentally speaking it would be better not to.

Thank you.
