Quiet Days Ahead - Miss Ethel Williamson faces quiet days ahead as she prepares to retire from her position as a guidance counselor at Belleville High School after 45 years in the system.

Ethel Williamson retires as BHS guidance counselor

By Michelle Jeannotte
Relating to young people growing up in a continuously changing society is sometimes difficult, but for Ethel Williamson, guidance counselor at Belleville High School, talking with students comes easy.

Miss Williamson has dealt with thousands of students during her 45 years as both a teacher and guidance counselor in the Belleville Public School System. She will officially retire from her position March 1.

She began her professional career as a teacher at School 5, White at School 3. Miss Williamson taught English and art to seventh and eighth graders.

When the district's seventh and eighth grade classes were moved to the old high school on Washington Avenue, Miss Williamson also made the move into becoming one of their guidance counselors. She stayed at the junior high for several years before making the transition to the high school.

Miss Williamson was more than comfortable working in the Belleville school system, having been a resident of the township and graduate of Belleville High School. She earned her bachelor's degree at Ursula College and a master's degree plus 32 credits at Montclair State College. The transition she made from being a teacher to a guidance counselor was easy, she says.

"I like working with students," she said. "When I first came to the high school, we went along with the students for the four years. We knew the students. Eventually, it became overbearing handling a large number of seniors, preparing recommendations for them and such."

"Back then we had four counselors for four grades," she added. "Today we have six counselors and a director and we break the students up alphabetically in two grades."

In her final year as a guidance counselor, Miss Williamson was responsible for approximately 250-300 students in grades 9 and 11.

Besides talking with students about their schedules and their future goals, she also talks with students about their problems and relationships with teachers and parents.

"If a student has a problem with a teacher," she said, "I usually call in the student, parent and teacher to work it out. It is often settled right here in my office. The problem usually arises when a student thinks he or she deserves a higher grade and believes the teacher's feelings about him or her affected the grading."

If a student has a problem or has a need to meet with a guidance counselor, he or she fills out a form and indicates whether it is a personal or school-related problem. If a student indicates a personal problem, they are not on the day's agenda, she said.

Students are given full circle. Miss Williamson said: "Back when I first started, we were considered the authority figure and we had more backing from the"

Construction slated for September New municipal complex will be triangular design

Plans and a model of the new municipal complex were presented to the Belleville Board of Commissioners at its meeting last Tuesday.

The presentation of the schematic design was the culmination of three months work, according to Frank Richlan of Herbert Beckhard Frank Richlan & Associates, the architectural firm contracted by the township.

During the three months prior to the presentation, Richlan and Beckhard met with Mayor Michael Martelli, Commissioner Ralph Dittuggerio and Township Engineer Neil Sciallano to discuss the township's needs for office space. In that time, Richlan and Beckhard interviewed people from each township department.

The result is a 64,000 sq. ft. building along with a 200-car out-side garage.

There were four different approaches to the new municipal complex, Richlan said. They were: 1) that the town hall be preserved as a community civic center so that activity would be generated along Washington Avenue; 2) that the new town hall face Washington Avenue; 3) that the lower part of the site (behind town hall) be an independent structure used for parking; and 4) that the cost remain within the monies budgeted (cost control).

The design chosen by the board of commissioners was one of four drawn up by Beckhard Richlan & Associates.

One design called for a flat structure with two floors up and two floors down. However, there was no civic plaza included in the design and thus, a poor civic image was presented, Richlan said. A second design, he said, called for six stories above which gave the appearance of an office building.

An L-shaped design with three floors above grade was the third possibility, he said. There was "something solid" with the design in that it was compatible with town hall, he said.

However, Beckhard Richlan & Associates and the board of commissioners selected the fourth design.

The new municipal complex will be a triangular design with two floors below Washington Avenue and three above built adjacent to town hall. According to Richlan, the triangular design provides an aesthetically pleasing backdrop for the original town hall and has all the advantages of the L-shaped design. (A picture of the structure was not available at press time.)

The building's design also improves access to the parking area behind the original town hall. Access will be from Belleville Avenue and Valley Street, he said. There will be no access from Washington Avenue.

The new municipal complex will have a free-lined courtyard with a front entrance leading into the ground floor which will consist of a large central hall or atrium. The atrium will consist of a stairway leading to all floors and departments. Elevators will also provide access to all floors, he said, adding that the entire building is accessible to the handicapped.

The ground floor will consist of a meeting room capable of holding 125 people, a municipal courtroom for 75 people and the Department of Revenue and Finance. Commissioners' offices will be housed on the second floor directly above the commission chambers, Richlan said.

Candidates file petitions for school board election

Four residents, three men and one woman, have filed nominating petitions for candidacy to the Belleville Board of Education in this year's April 15 election.

Incumbent Gabriel Nazzola, former school board member Tom Spillane, Daniel Borgo and Barbara Cicalese were the only candidates declared as of Tuesday, according to Board Secretary Edward Appleton.

Residents have until 4 p.m. today to file candidacy to the board. Petitions must be submitted to the board secretary at his office at 190 Cortland St.

The drawing of names for this year's election ballot will be conducted Friday at 8 p.m. at the school board complex.

Spillane, who was a former member of the board of education from 1981 to 1984 and vice president from 1982 to 1984, is active in a number of community and school organizations.

He is president of the Crew Parents and Alumni Association, a charter member, past president and secretary-treasurer of the Optimist Club of Belleville and is a member of the board of directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and the Community Mental Health Association of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley.

Spillane is also the purchasing agent for the Belleville Blue and Gold and was a Webelos leader with Cub Scout Pack 301. He is a member of the Belleville High School Home and School Association, the Organization of Parents and Educators of School 7, the Belleville High School Athletic Advisory Council and the Knights of Columbus Council 835 and a former member of the Home and School Associations of schools 4 and 8 and the Vocational Education Advisory Council of Belleville High School.

Spillane, assistant manager in the Inproffice Facilities Current Planning Center at New Jersey Bell, believes his years of experience in management will be an asset to the board. He has been employed at New Jersey Bell since 1959.

"As I see it," he continued, "no matter what happens, we lose. If the educational program is cut, the students lose. If the program is not cut and the money is made up by local property taxes, the taxpayer loses. In order to avoid this Catch 22, it is necessary that the budget be perceived as being as low as possible."

"But that work isn't done at budget time," Spillane said. "That work is the culmination of all the financial decisions made by the board during the previous year. As a member of the board, I'll consider the financial impact and resultant local property tax impact of every decision."

According to Spillane, he will continue the board's philosophy of putting quality education first.

Spillane, who believes the appearance of schools affects the appearance of the entire township, points out his views concerning the middle school.

"For a very long time the physical plant (school buildings, etc.) was sorely neglected by the board," he said. "For quite a few years now the board has been restoring the buildings. The job is not yet complete, but it must be finished as soon as possible. The last major job to be tackled is the middle school. It would cost a large fortune to replace the school, so it must be restored."

Spillane resides on Lloyd Place with his wife, Barbara, a teacher at the middle school, and their three children, Tricia, Thomas and Melanie.

A second candidate, Barbara Cicalese, is also involved in a

High school staff responds to Middle States' evaluation

By Michelle Jeannotte
Second of a two-part series
Each discipline of study was reviewed by the Middle States Evaluation Committee during its three-day visit to Belleville High School in November.

The commendations and the recommendations made by the committee in its written report have been reviewed by Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone and his staff. In a recent presentation to the board of education, Ciccone pointed out that each of the committee's recommendations has been addressed.

According to Ciccone, each recommendation made by the committee was classified in categories established by the Commission on Secondary Schools. They are: recommendation already completed, recommendation now in progress, recommendation planned for future, and recommendation found invalid, explanations.

"This process was done so that we would not let the report sit on the shelf," Ciccone told board members.

Each recommendation, he said, has a preliminary response and category to show the board what direction is being taken.

In 1990, five years after the initial evaluation and five years before the next, the principal of Belleville High School will be required to submit a midterm report to the Commission of Secondary Schools regarding the status of the recommendations contained in the evaluation report, Ciccone said.

The response report prepared by the staff is a preliminary report regarding the recommendations, he said. It is broken down in the same manner as the committee's evaluation. Each discipline is listed with the committee's recommendations and the high school staff's response and category.

For example, in the area of English, the committee recommended that a humanities course be instituted. The response was: if enrollment declines at the high school, the supervisor of the English and social studies departments will consider the implementation of a full-year course of humanities for the college-bound senior, etc. - recommendation planned for future.

Other recommendations made by the committee concern curriculum and class size. For example, in the area of health education, the recommendation is that consideration be given to reasonable class size in all health classes. The response is:

Tom Spillane

The most important topic in this year's election, according to Spillane, is the budget.

"The board is currently looking for a 26-point local tax increase to fund next year's program," he said. "But the state aid to the board has been slashed by about $207,000. The board is now faced with the choice of cutting more from the educational program or asking for more funds from the local taxpayer."

Township asked to adopt conservation measure

Belleville is being asked to adopt water conservation measures for a five-day period beginning Monday, Feb. 24, to facilitate emergency repairs of a water main leak at the Wanauque Reservoir. While repairs are being made to the 84-inch pipe leading from the reservoir to the Wanauque filtration plant, water will be diverted to a separate purification facility which treated all Wanauque water prior to 1981. Although water from the reservoir next week will bypass the filtration process, no detectable change in water quality, color or taste will occur according to Dean Noll, chief engineer for the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission. The older treatment plant is tested and used at regularly scheduled periods to ensure its effectiveness at times of emergency. Belleville purchases its water from the City of Newark, one of six governmental entities which own the Wanauque Reservoir. Newark, which also draws supplies from its own Pequannock Watershed in West Milford, is joining with the reservoir systems operated by Jersey City and Passaic Valley Water Supply Commission in helping make up any shortages which temporarily develop while the pipe repairs are made next week. The backup systems, however, have less capacity than the main aqueducts leading from Wanauque, and this therefore request for voluntary water conservation is being made, Noll said. The five-member North Jersey Water Supply Commission has awarded a contract to D'Annunzio Brothers, Inc., Scotch Plains, to make the emergency repairs. Belleville has applied for ownership in the new Wanauque South Project which includes construction now under way on the Monksville Reservoir in Ringwood and West Milford. As one of eight municipal owners, Belleville would be guaranteed supplies more than adequate to meet the town's water needs beginning sometime in 1987.

According to Cicalese, children are our most important product. "They are our legacy for tomorrow," she said. "We must give to them the best education possible for their future." Her concerns extend to the ongoing development and updating of curriculum from kindergarten through the 12th grade, with a smooth transitional consistency from elementary schools to the middle school to the high school. "This will ensure each student to achieve not only the new state-mandated High School Proficiency Test, but their own goals and dreams for the future," Cicalese said. Cicalese believes that it is up to the parents to ensure that their children receive a thorough and efficient education and calls for a renewal of community support and involvement in their schools. Together, with a positive attitude, the best can be achieved, she said. Through my involvement in the schools and community, I have come to know the people, problems and the needs of our school district," she said. "I want to bring to the board of education a voice of the citizens and parents of our township. We must address the needs of our schools and work toward a more effective school system." Cicalese, who resides on Fairway Avenue with her husband, Jim, and children, Lisa and Jimmy, will have a kick-off party on Sunday, March 9, 7 p.m., at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Bridge Street. Other candidates will be profiled in the weeks ahead.

Freeholders will conduct budget hearing

The nine-member Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders will meet at Nutley Town Hall 8 p.m. Feb. 26 for a public hearing on the 1986 county budget. The hearing is the only such gathering planned for the 6th District, which includes Bloomfield, Belleville, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair and Nutley. A budget for the coming year has been submitted by all department heads through the office of the county executive. After a series of public hearings, during which the county executive attempts to justify his requests, the public is asked to relate personal and group concerns," said Freeholder Arthur Clay of Glen Ridge, who represents the district. "Lured as many citizens who can attend this important meeting to do so."

High school staff responds to Middle States' evaluation

(Continued from page one) The Belleville High School Self-Evaluation Booklet denotes this recommendation on page 35 under Needs 2. The plan includes a request for smaller class sizes by scheduling two sections of each grade level of health at the same time during the school day as far as scheduling is concerned. However, we realize that lack of classroom space is the ultimate problem—recommendation already in progress. According to Ciccone, 99 percent of the recommendations made by the Middle States Evaluation Committee were noted by the high school staff in its self-evaluation booklet. One of the main areas in need of evaluation, according to the committee, is that of physical space. For example, one recommendation in the area of physical education is that serious consideration be given for an additional gymnasium, locker room and storage area. The response, The Belleville High School Self-Evaluation Booklet denotes this recommendation on page 52 under Needs 1, 2 and 3. The plans included in the 1983 update of the Educational Facilities Master Plan for Belleville High School, a statement is made that additional physical education space is required, and gymnasium addition is outlined recommendation planned for the future. Another recommendation is that a feasibility study be made of the cafeteria to consider enlarging it. The response is: An addition to the cafeteria is necessary to accommodate the total school population for a full day of classes and a termination of early release—recommendation for the future. Some of the recommendations made will be addressed in the future because of lack of funds and budget cuts, according to the response report. One, recommendation planned for the future, not affected by budget cuts, is the termination of the early dismissal policy which will increase elective courses offered to students, increase graduation requirements and decrease class size throughout the school day. One recommendation which is now in progress is that of the ongoing process of revision and evaluation of the curriculum, especially in the ninth grade course offerings in mathematics and English. The results of the HSPT will dictate, through evaluations, revisions of the curriculum, the response report states. Other recommendations made in the areas of student services, special education, student activities program, emerging and unique programs, and finance were also addressed. According to Ciccone, Belleville High School will be granted official accreditation from the Commission of Secondary Schools when it convenes this spring.

Washington Avenue

A major step has been taken by the Belleville Township Commission aiming toward the revitalization of Washington Avenue. As Belleville's "Main Street," the new Town Hall construction project should provide the magnet necessary to revitalize Washington Avenue, both north and south. The proposed construction project of Bigelow Motors should go far toward rehabilitating the Washington Avenue section south of Town Hall.

With these two projects in the pipeline, look for a renaissance to the north. There must be among us, one person, with the imagination to propose a plan for the rebuilding of northern Washington Avenue. It may involve the demolition of an existing building, or buildings, and the construction of an entire new city block. There are builders who would love the opportunity to give Washington Avenue a new face. To encourage investors to spend millions to redevelop Washington Avenue requires the cooperation of the Belleville Township Commission, the Planning Board, the Zoning Board and the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

The Belleville Redevelopment Agency could be the leader and the catalyst for more progress on Washington Avenue, without the necessity of going to the extreme measure to label an area as blighted. The visionaries on the Belleville Redevelopment Agency have already demonstrated innovation, imagination and dedication. What they need to do is return to the drawing board—and in cooperation with the Belleville Planning Board, produce a dynamic plan for progress on Washington Avenue.

The centerpiece is now in place — our new Town Hall complex. It is for the Belleville Redevelopment Agency and the other affected public bodies to take advantage of this great opportunity to bring to Belleville the long-awaited revitalization of the entire length of Washington Avenue. As with all worthwhile projects, they all take time—but then again—in our case, time is of the essence. The planned Meadowlands regional shopping centers pose a threat not only to the Washington Avenue business community, but also the newer business communities along the Passaic River.

Tylenol

"We can no longer guarantee the safety of these capsules." And thus, James E. Burke, chairman of Johnson & Johnson, called a halt to Johnson & Johnson's manufacturing of Tylenol capsules.

Tainted Tylenol capsules caused the deaths of seven people in Illinois in 1982 and was responsible for the death of a woman in suburban New York City February 8.

Mr. Burke said Johnson & Johnson made its decision to protect the public.

Investigative agencies of government have been unable to find perpetrators of these tragedies. There are many theories advanced as to how cyanide-contaminated capsules found their way into two Tylenol boxes. One theory advanced is the possibility of a disgruntled Johnson & Johnson employee trying to get even with the company. Concerning the suburban New York City episode, there is no plausibility to this theory. More probable is the possibility that the cyanide capsules were placed on a shelf by a person who needed the satisfaction of pulling off a major crime or was a little demented.

At any rate, Johnson & Johnson is not to be held accountable for these crimes against the human race. The company is a major producer of pharmaceuticals enjoying a fine reputation for reliability and service to the public.

Mr. Burke and his colleagues should be commended for the forthright manner in which they are handling this latest tragedy. Terminating the manufacture of Tylenol capsules best serves the public interest—and in the process, serves the best interests of Johnson & Johnson. We are switching to Tylenol tablets.

Lee Iacocca

United States Interior Secretary Donald Hodel fired Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lee Iacocca as head of the federal commission and foundation for restoring the Statue of Liberty. He claims he took the action because Mr. Iacocca had a conflict of interest as he was chairman of the Statue of Liberty fund-raising committee which collected $243 million from the American public.

To Mr. Hodel, we say "Bologna." Only three and a half months ago, Hodel reappointed Iacocca to the commission with great praise for the work that Iacocca had done. In retrospect, Mr. Hodel now finds Mr. Iacocca in a conflict of interest.

Mr. Iacocca's name has been banded about as a potential Democrat-presidential candidate in 1988. Obviously, with Iacocca being the star of the forthcoming July 4 Statue of Liberty celebration, he would be wrapped in the American flag holding high the torch of patriotism and freedom. This would be too much for Republicans interested in the 1988 presidential election to anticipate.

No amount of explanation will give credibility to the excuse that Iacocca was fired because of a conflict of interest. Many people see the firing of Iacocca as strictly political. We agree.

Letters to the Editor

Let citizens decide facts about our school budget

To the editor:

Recently, numerous letters to the editor, and editorial comments have been published in the Belleville Times regarding the proposed 1986-87 Belleville Board of Education school budget.

If one realizes that our Belleville Board of Education consists of seven members and not just the three-member Budget Committee, chaired by board member Gabe Nazzola, one would immediately see that the authors of these news items and letters criticizing the school budget appear to be suffering from "mental constipation and verbal diarrhea" or just seeking political opportunity through the press.

Why Mr. Spillane and Mr. Golden feel obligated to prejudice the 86-87 school budget before its public presentation in March, angers me. Somehow, I'm not convinced about the sincerity of their motives.

The 85-86 school budget as proposed by the administration to the Budget Committee (board member Nazzola was chairman) included a 14-point tax increase. After careful detailed analysis, the budget was cut by the Budget Committee to a 3-point tax increase. Subsequently, after numerous straightforward presentations to the public, the voters passed the budget (April 2, 1985).

This was only the second time in 22 years that the budget was passed. The first time was when there was no tax-point increase to either the educational system or township budgets and it was an election year.

The second time (14-2-85), the people believed the facts and figures presented by the Budget Committee in its public presentation and, even with a tax increase, passed the budget. Mr. Orechio, publisher of the Belleville Times, and Mr. Nardella, Belleville Superintendent of Schools, said last year and I quote, "Much credit for the passage of the budget is to be given to school board member Gabe Nazzola" and further said "There is no fat in this school budget (1985-86)."

As such as Mr. Spillane and Mr. Golden would like to cast aspersions on the Budget Committee and its ability to keep spending down, along with maintaining high standards for education, you must give credit where credit is due, gentlemen.

When this proposed 86-87 school budget was first presented by administration to the board of education Budget Committee, it included a 51-point tax increase. Again, after careful analysis, it was cut to a 26-point tax increase. Mr. Spillane would have Belleville Times' readers believe that state aid is up to the equivalent of full funding. But according to Belleville Board of Education Business Administrator Board Secretary Ed Appleton, Belleville will be getting some $225,000 less for the 86-87 school year.

I think the important question here for the taxpayers of Belleville is, why board member Nazzola has taken on the responsibility of chairman of the Budget Committee, once again, especially such a "controversial committee," and more pointedly, as he is running for re-election?

The answer is that three years ago, Gabe Nazzola made a commitment to give Belleville's youngsters and their tax-paying parents and grandparents the best possible education that a carefully watched budget could provide. Tell me, Mr. Golden, would a "politician" even consider putting himself in such a position during a re-election year? While Mr. Nazzola has been called a lot of things by people who don't like a man that asks the right questions and keeps asking them until he gets straight answers—a politician—he is not.

Mr. Spillane, the taxpayers of Belleville can rest easy with the knowledge that the board of education Budget Committee is watching their tax dollars just as carefully as they watch their own.

Mr. Golden, I attend board meetings on a regular basis. I guess I missed seeing you. If you attended board meetings regularly, you would see how Gabe Nazzola consistently tries to keep budget expenditures down, unfortunately, while other board members seem to want to give away money like it was not their own.

I also take exception to the use of adjectives "unfathomable and crippling" when you refer to educational budgets. Are you unaware that elementary school enrollment figures nationwide increased last year for the first time in 14 years, while federal support for public education has declined to its lowest levels in 20 years? Are you still unaware that the $18,500 minimum salary legislation has affected Belleville like other districts at the same time state aid is decreasing?

TA Washington Gallup Poll reports that 52 percent of the people polled would favor more funds for public education and teacher training—even if it means higher taxes. Board member Nazzola uses a phrase which I think gets directly to the point and that is, "if you think education is expensive, try ignorance."

Mr. Spillane and Mr. Golden, let's not prejudice our town's educational budget with political rhetoric. Let the citizens of Belleville decide after they have heard all the facts. And if you have something specific and constructive to offer, let's hear it. I believe the taxpayers of Belleville are intelligent enough to know the truth about the costs of education and will vote accordingly.

Junior varsity wrestlers deserve recognition, too

To the editor:

Belleville residents—yes, there's life before varsity—it's called freshman and junior varsity.

I think the time has come to start recognizing all the students of our high school on all grade levels who participate in their school's sports, not just the varsity.

Every child likes to get some type of recognition or he deserves by excelling in their chosen field. Okay, so maybe they shouldn't get noticed as much as the varsity does, that seems quite fair—but come on now, even once in a while would be nice, too.

Which brings us to our junior varsity wrestling team.

On Saturday, they traveled to Kearny to participate in the Kearny Junior Varsity Tournament. Nine schools came to compete with full squads of 12 boys, while Belleville, under the supervision of their coach, Mr. Chris Tremel, came to the tournament with seven boys—the Belleville High School Junior Varsity wrestling team.

How did they do? A team of seven boys against other teams with full squads—they came in first. That's right, Belleville took the first place trophy home.

Here's how they finished: Joey Perna and Dave De Notaris, first place in their weight classes; Nicky Kukuren and Eddie Okalack, second place; Eric Nazzola, third place; and Dawson Bloom and Mike Martinez, fourth place.

By the way, this same Belleville jayvee wrestling team took a second last month at the Elizabeth Tournament. At that tournament, Joey Perna and Eric Nazzola, both took first place honors in their weight class. As for Dave De Notaris, a junior at Belleville High School, we would like you to know that he took a second at that tournament (due to an injury), but did you know that he is legally blind?

Hats off to the fine coaches on the Belleville junior varsity wrestling team, Chris Tremel and Mark Zarro. The two tournaments they have competed in show how their hard work and practices turned out, especially with a limited squad.

Oh, by the way, only three families showed up to support the junior varsity wrestling team on Saturday, but their team spirit made it seem like a bleacher full of cheerleaders.

So, please, to whom it may concern, let the students know how great they're doing in their sport. A little recognition will go a long way, from freshman to junior varsity, all the way up to varsity.

Don't you think the students deserve to be given a fair shake?

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The Belleville Democratic Club is to be commended for sponsoring a board of education forum at which all members of the board had been invited to attend with one of the main topics to be addressed being the 1986-87 school budget.

Regrettably, such an early scheduled session seemed rather premature in view of the fact that the school budget had not yet been published in the local newspaper, as is required by law.

Under such circumstances all the advantages were in the hands of the board members who had already adopted the costly school budget which is considerably higher than the present budget, which means higher local taxes.

Without having access to the budget figures, it was impossible to make an intelligent evaluation of the appropriations inherent in the proposed school budget which will be voted upon on April 15. Therefore, with publication of the budget, we will learn the time, place and date of the public hearing on the school budget at which those disposed to comment on the budget or raise questions may be heard.

In view of the substantial increases outlined in the board's approved budget, it behooves all concerned taxpayers to carefully review this budget and formulate the effect it will produce upon the local tax rate.

It is unfortunate that so few citizens vote in these school elections which so often have a monumental effect upon the local taxes. If the budget is voted down in the April 15 election, it is sent to the township commissioners for review and amendment.

At times the school trustees appeal to the state Commissioner of Education to override or modify cuts imposed by the local governing officials. Study the published budget compare it with last year's and be sure to vote.

Many laid-off workers lost their unemployment benefits after Congress left for its Christmas recess, thinking it had passed a complete extension of the trade adjustment assistance program. USA textile, shoe and auto industries are among those that have been hurt by foreign imports.

Some in Congress thought they extended the unemployment aid for 26 weeks, but the Reagan administration says no.

Office of Management and Budget spokesman Ed Dale said "It's a bad program—we believe that workers hurt by foreign imports shouldn't be treated any differently than other unemployed workers."

Congressman Sherwood Boehlert, a Republican who represents the Utica area in upstate New York contends the administration is "clearly violating the intent of Congress."

The administration has tried to kill the program before and indicated it will oppose any effort by Congress to restore the cash benefits. Nevertheless, angry law-makers from districts battered by import-induced layoffs already have complained bitterly to the White House.

The Utica area Congressman says, "Given the many trade programs now plaguing the nation, it hardly seems right to cut off the heart of the only federal program specifically designed to aid workers who are losing their jobs because of a foreign onslaught," describing the coming fight over the issue as "a test of wills."

Piorello Henry La Guardia, former mayor of New York City serving from 1934 to 1946, who used to read the Sunday comics to the children on radio and chased fire engines, was extolled in song by being referred to as "a friend of the working man" they say, "an affectionate distinction that hardly would be expected to be bestowed upon the present occupant of the White House."

figure and we had more backing from the parents. They (students) were more rebellious then."

However, Miss Williamson fondly remembers the time when she first began teaching at School 5.

"We organized activities every Friday night for the students," she said. "They were a special group of students. They formed their own committees to work on dances and other events. It really drew us closer."

Although there have been many students over the years, Miss Williamson is able to remember most of them, particularly those she taught at School 5. In fact, she recently received a phone call from a former student who identified himself by description, not by name. After talking with the former student for a few moments, she said, "You're so and so." And she was right.

Most of the students who keep in touch with her after leaving Belleville call just to say hello and tell her what they're doing nowadays. Some of them, she adds, are very successful in their respective careers, a fact of which she is very proud.

Some of my former students have become very successful in a variety of careers," she said. There are so many opportunities out there. Even some of my students today are selling their sights on bigger and better things.

Back in the '60s, most of the students were going into teaching," she continued. "And now more so today we have male elementary teachers and female engineers. The times are changing and we're getting into their (male) careers."

Some of her students have chosen military careers because the Armed Forces pay for a college education, she said. Others have chosen the fields of medicine, engineering and computers.

"I never recommend college to students because of all the other opportunities there are today," she said. "We start preparing students for their lives after high school when they are freshmen. But it doesn't mean college. There are business or technical and trade schools."

"I have some freshmen who know what they want to do and have had some seniors who still didn't know what they wanted," she continued. "This is why we meet with them periodically to just catch up on things whether it's their confuses or thoughts about college."

Miss Williamson, as well as others, are easy.

the other guidance counselors are in the process of scheduling classes for next year. On the average, she sees 20 to 30 students per day - a day which begins at 7 a.m.

"I wake up at 5 a.m. and get to work by 7," she said. "If I know I have students coming in all day, I have to be prepared. I look at all the files and have them ready on my desk."

Besides missing the students, I think that's what I'll miss most, being regimented," she added. "But I have lots to do. I have a house that needs cleaning and property that needs gardening. I'll also have the time to travel in the fall, which I have never been able to do. I'm looking forward to that."

For Miss Williamson, transitions are easy.

will also be on the second floor as well as the Department of Parks and Public Property. The building's third floor will house the Department of Public Affairs, the engineering department, the Department of Public Works and a lounge for employees.

The two floors below grade (1/3 of the building) will house the police department. There will be a 24-hour lobby in the back of the existing town hall and an eight-hour lobby in the new building's front entrance, Richlan said. Police will be able to bring prisoners directly to the cells and control room at the lower level. A pistol range on the lower level will also be provided for members of the police department.

According to Richlan, a criminal justice consultant was brought in by his firm to offer advice on the floor plans for the police department.

The outside surface of the building will be a combination of limestone, which reflects a dignified look, Herbert Beckhard said, adding that it will be similar to that of the existing town hall.

Although the design plans have been finalized by the board of commissioners, the acquisition of adjacent property has not been completed. According to Mayor Marotti, the township is also looking to purchase property on Valley Street.

According to the mayor, the $10 million bond approved for the new municipal complex includes the acquisition of property. Furniture for each of the departments and the conversion of the existing town hall into a civic center are not included in the bond ordinance, he said.

An estimate cost figure for the new municipal complex has not yet been clarified, the mayor said.

Construction for the new municipal complex is slated for September.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mr. Y of Bloomfield asks: "If I should get a toothache at night is it okay to put aspirin or rub whiskey on the tooth?"

Neither rubbing whiskey nor aspirin is good for a toothache. Neither one directly works on the tooth and can cause additional harm. You see Mr. Y, if you rub enough whiskey on the tooth, eventually the alcohol becomes absorbed through your blood stream and you could care less if you have a toothache. You may not even remember your name. You might just as well drink the whiskey because it works the same way. Aspirin works through blood absorption also. In addition, however, aspirin often causes tissue burn through its acidic properties. So not only do you keep your toothache, but you have an additional first degree burn. So Mr. Y, take 2 aspirin and call your dentist. That's the best and safest advice. Thanks for writing.

Service News

Meritorious Service Chief Warrant Officer John F. Lynch, a 1963 graduate of Belleville High School, was recently awarded the Meritorious Service Medal by Brigadier General Dean at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. W4 Lynch was recognized for his outstanding meritorious service as the Chief Field Support Team of the Army National Guard Project Management Office and for his outstanding leadership, technical expertise and professional manner. In attendance at the ceremony were his wife, Susan, parents John and Kathryn Lynch of Belleville and members of the project management office.

Army Private Donald S. Gailling, son of Barbara D. Gailling of Belleville, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training, which included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

Completion of this course qualifies Gailling as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Gailling is a 1984 graduate of Woodbridge High School.

Marine Lance Cpl. Patrick R. Whelan, son of James and Mary Whelan of Belleville, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with Force Service Support Group, Red Bank.

A 1983 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1984.

Marine Pfc. William K. Doyle, son of Martin Doyle of Belleville, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 11-week training cycle, Doyle was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Doyle, a 1985 graduate of Centras Regional High School in Bayville, joined the Marine Corps in September.

Air Force Lt. Col. Michael E. Mahler, son of Edward J. and Madlyn C. Mahler of Belleville, has been decorated with the third award of the Meritorious Service Medal at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz.

The Meritorious Service Medal is awarded specifically for outstanding non-combat meritorious achievement or service to the United States.

Mahler, a personnel division chief with the 836th Combat Support Group, received a master's degree in 1972 from the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa.

Marine Lance Cpl. Michael P. Triano, son of Richard and Margaret Triano of Belleville, has also been promoted to his present rank while serving with Force Service Support Group.

A 1984 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1984.

Pvt. Albert J. Fasula, son of John A. and Mildred C. Fasula of Belleville, has completed the tactical communications systems course at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course, Fasula was taught basic electronics, receiver and transmitter repair for tactical communications.

He is a 1981 graduate of Nutley High School.

Army Pvt. Heinz P. Nordmann, son of F. Peter and Ursula M. Nordmann of Belleville, has arrived for duty with the 38th Signal Battalion, West Germany.

Nordmann, a telecommunications specialist, was previously assigned in West Germany.

He is a 1985 graduate of Belleville High School.

College News

Robert Dallariva of Belleville was among 73 students from the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) program at Rutgers University's Newark campus recently honored at a school ceremony.

The students were honored for achieving a 3.0 grade point average or better.

The EOF program serves students who are educationally and economically disadvantaged and who, under normal circumstances, would not be admitted to college. Students in the program are admitted based on their potential to succeed, testing and interviews.

Dallariva is an undergraduate student in the Newark College of Arts and Sciences.

Karen Lynn Ferrero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferrero of Belleville, has successfully passed the Uniform Certified Public Accountants Examination.

Ferrero, a graduate of Montclair State College, is employed by the public accounting firm of Ernst & Whinney.

Marigrace Veronica Valvano, daughter of Attonette and Michael Valvano of Belleville, has been named to the dean's list for the fall 1985 semester at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI) in New York.

To qualify for the dean's list, candidates must be full-time students, earn at least a 3.0 quality point average out of a possible 4.0 and have no grade below C.

Valvano is a senior majoring in biomedical engineering.

REYE SYNDROME

Reye syndrome is a rare but serious condition that can develop from the use of aspirin or other salicylate drugs in children under 16 and usually when they appear to be recovering. Patients should watch for signs of persistent vomiting, fatigue, confusion, and hyperreflexia in their children. If these symptoms are displayed, immediately consult a doctor. Some studies indicate that there may be an association between the use of aspirin or other salicylate drugs and the development of Reye syndrome. While further studies are being conducted, the U.S. Surgeon General's warning that you tell your child not to take aspirin, pain relievers, or other salicylate drugs is a good one. Your doctor should be administering any medication.

Maria Siclari married to Donald Tsouhnikas

Maria Siclari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Siclari, of Nutley, became the bride Jan. 10 of Donald Tsouhnikas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Demetrios Tsouhnikas of Belleville.

The Rev. Joseph Barbone of Northvale performed the ceremony in Holy Family Church, Nutley. A reception followed at Richfield Regency, Verona.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace fashioned with an illusion bodice and puffed sleeves. A wreath of pearls and flowers held her fingertip veil and she carried orchids, white roses, dextrorubrum and stephanotis.

Janice Kiernan of Nutley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Donna Vecchio, Jo Ann Lonero, Sally Ann Lonero, Donna Tsouhnikas, Janice Rieni and Renee Kuczek, all of Nutley. They were attired in red satin gowns accented with a bow at the waist and carried white calla lilies with red ribbons.

Charles Fanelli of Belleville was best man. Ushering were Tom Maoli, Albert Fanelli and John Kiernan of Nutley, Richard Cook and David Siclari of Belleville and George Cullen of Sparta.

Mrs. Siclari chose a fuchsia gown accented with silver sequins. Her corsage was of pink rubrum lilies. The groom's mother, in an aqua chiffon gown trimmed in silver, had a corsage of white cymbidiums.

Mrs. Tsouhnikas, an alumna of Nutley High School and Kean College, is a medical secretary.

Mr. Tsouhnikas, an alumnus of Belleville High School and Kean College, is a meteorologist with NBC-TV, New York City.

The couple honeymooned at Disney World and have made their home in Belleville.

Lisa Imperatrice — Vincenzo Siciliano

Imperatrice-Siciliano engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Imperatrice of Bloomfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lisa, to Vincenzo Siciliano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Siciliano of Florham Park.

The troth was made known Dec. 10 at The Manor. The wedding will take place Sept. 19

1987. Miss Imperatrice, an alumna of Bloomfield High School, is with Alexander & Alexander, Inc.

Mr. Siciliano, a graduate of Hanover Park High School, is a mason with Local 21, Morris Township.

Mary R. Sharkey to wed Robert A. Smith, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sharkey of Nutley announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Rose, to Robert A. Smith Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Bloomfield.

The troth was made known Aug. 16.

Miss Sharkey, an alumna of Nutley High School, is a secretary at ITT, Nutley.

Mr. Smith, a graduate of Bloomfield High School, is an electrician's assistant with Sam Minervini, Inc.

Suicide among adolescents prevalent and hard to accept

Suicide, the act of taking one's life voluntarily, is never easily understood. And in the case of adolescents, it is perhaps even less comprehensible.

Linda M. Rush, R.N., M.S., C.S., director of staff development at Carrier Foundation and Frank Calandra, Psy.D., assistant administrator of the Carrier Foundation Day School, address the issue of adolescent suicide.

Suicide is the second leading cause of death among adolescents, states Dr. Calandra, with the most common methods being shootings, hangings and poisoning.

Increased drug and alcohol use, overcrowdedness and competitiveness due to the baby boom generation and strained relationships with parents are three hypotheses presented by Mrs. Rusch, which may offer some explanation of the astonishingly high suicide rate among adolescents. Loss through death and divorce, the loss of a boyfriend girlfriend or the loss of an important ideal or goal are also significant events which often have a serious impact upon an adolescent.

Although it is extremely difficult to predict exactly who will try to commit suicide, both Mrs. Rusch and Dr. Calandra urge parents and teachers to be attuned to adolescents who are at risk. The feeling of hopelessness is perhaps the most common characteristic of such adolescents. Isolation, alienation, academic problems and school truancy, drug alcohol abuse, low self-esteem, previous suicide attempts, chronic illness, a family history of suicide, giving away cherished possessions and depression are other prevalent characteristics.

Depression, according to Mrs. Rusch, can be masked through various forms of runaway behavior, sexual promiscuity, homicide auto accidents, eating disorders and shoplifting, as such activities tend to alter reality. These kids are in tremendous pain, depression and turmoil, said Mrs. Rusch. They may use alcohol and drugs to mask their pain.

Suicide attempts may also represent the desire to gain control of the family situation. "Over 90 percent of attempted suicides report problems in family relationships," states Mrs. Rusch.

"Such evidence can be supported in a videotape in which Dr. Calandra discussed the topic of suicide with five high school students, three of whom had previously attempted suicide. The lack of support by family members was cited as the main reason adolescents contemplate suicide."

It is important to be able to go home and talk about what happened during the day, explained one student. Kids need to be supported, listened to and know they are loved.

What can parents, teachers and school administrators do to help alleviate the rapidly increasing adolescent rate?

Implementing courses on parenting may be one step, as well as the development of self-esteem and problem solving techniques among adolescents. Schools can also offer significant guidance and education about suicide.

Prevention methods, targeted to students, may include health education, psychology and humanity courses, as well as columns about suicide in the student newspaper. Teachers should also be aware of suicidal tendencies in their students. English teachers in particular should watch for signs of distress in journals and creative writing.

Postvention or aftercare is also critical as the remaining friends and faculty members often experience tremendous guilt and tend to blame themselves for the suicide. Dr. Calandra suggests that two to three days after a suicide has occurred, a meeting should be set up for those closest to the victim to discuss their feelings with a counselor or therapist. A similar opportunity should also be provided for the parents.

The surviving of a suicide are victims, agrees Mrs. Rusch. They do not understand why the suicide occurred and feel very much alone. They need to talk.

Carrier Foundation, located in Montgomery Township, Somerset County, is the largest private, non-profit psychiatric facility in New Jersey. Carrier has 269 beds and treats adults and adolescents with psychiatric illnesses, alcoholism and or drug problems. Also housed on Carrier's grounds are outpatient and family therapy services.

Boys' team wins big over Kards

A big step in the development of the Belleville basketball program took place last Tuesday afternoon. On a snowy day, the team took a bus ride to the Meadowlands Arena. The purpose of the trip was to play a game against the Kearny Cardinals, as a prelude to the Nets Pistons game.

While it was just another regular season contest, this game had special meaning. The Bucs and Kards were playing on a special court, where many NBA heroes did their thing on a night-to-night basis. While the large arena looked imposing, the Belleville basketball players certainly seemed at home.

"I had to call time out in the fourth quarter," said head coach Rocco Colucci, "to tell the kids to stop fooling around. Everyone was so loose—it was like they belonged here."

For the record, Belleville won the game, and did so with a resounding effect. The final count was 62-38 and it was a game that many players will remember for years to come.

There was Donald Washington, doing what few Belleville players have ever done in the past. Washington came through with a slam dunk in the waning minutes of the game. His dunk came on a fast break and was the caper to a tremendous afternoon.

How about Bob Hutchison, who led the Bucs in scoring with 16 points, 12 of which came in the first half when Belleville built up a big 32-15 lead.

There was Loung La, who scored the first two points of the game on a jumper that was all net. Frank Morrell scored the first time he touched the ball. Bobby Willis scored the final two points, at the buzzer, on a jump shot.

"This was the biggest win of the year for us," said Colucci. "It was one of the best moments this program has had in a while."

Not since the Bucs defeated Weequahic in the 1983 State tourney has Belleville posted such an impressive win. What made the game so enjoyable was that Belleville played with supreme confidence. They just didn't believe they could lose.

Ted Sochaski played a strong game, scoring 15 points. Leon Puentes scored six points and directed the Belleville offense. Pete Gerst scored a point late in the game on a foul shot. Chris Goldrick had three points. This was a special moment for all the members of the team, playing in the Meadowlands Arena and winning by 27 points.

"I want to come back here again," said Sochaski, making reference to the State championships in future years. The State finals are played every season at the Meadowlands Arena.

Colucci, who has endured a 4-14 season in which Belleville has lost a number of close games, could not mask his happiness after this game. It was such a positive moment in the program's history, and gives hope that this kind of effort can be repeated with more regularity in future seasons.

Certainly, congratulations are extended to coach Colucci, coach Donald Roll and the entire team for not only the victory, but the way in which it was accomplished.

Spring Sports

Can you believe it? The spring sports are just two weeks away. The baseball, softball, track, tennis, golf and crew teams will soon be out there, practicing in earnest for a busy spring schedule. The baseball team, under Ralph La Conte is expected to field a strong unit. Coach Carl Corino and his softball crew should also be strong again this year. Last season, in a "rebuilding" year, the team won 24 games and advanced to the finals of the counties and sectionals. This year, the girls are looking to bring home that county crown after losing in the finals for the past two years.

This could be a big year for the track team. John Tosato's crew appears to have the making of a winner. If so, it would be the first team since the 1975 group to post a winning season. The anticipation for the outdoor season is high and Tosato is expecting a strong turnout.

Can the girls team repeat its NNJL championship? Only the team and coach Rocco Colucci will know for sure. Last season was supposed to be a rebuilding season for the linksters, and it appeared to be just that for most of the campaign. However, the Bucs caught fire when it needed to be most and took the conference title by beating Nutley and Clinton.

The Belleville crew team, as usual, will be strong. Coach Sam Giuffrida loses his history making boat, the one that captured three national titles over the past four seasons. Those girls were graduated last spring, but the coach is optimistic about both the boys' and girls' teams this season.

The tennis team is looking for its first winning campaign in the programs history. Len D'Armento is entering his fourth season as head coach of the Bucs and is gearing for a tough conference schedule.

Athlete of the Week

It has to go to Judy Nehila of the girls' basketball team. The sophomore scored 78 points in three games last week, capped off by a 35 point effort against Montclair. She now leads the team in scoring with a 13.2 ppg average.

Some Observations

Kelly Tripucka of the Detroit Pistons has not forgotten his roots. While waiting to be lockerroom at the Meadowlands last Tuesday night, he stopped to sign autographs for about 50 kids. He did it with no hesitation and seemed to enjoy it. It's nice to see professional athletes making a good impression on the young kids. It wasn't that long ago that he was a young player, who looked up to the NBA heroes. Enough of this drug business. The professional sports have to crack down on drug abusers. That's all you seem to hear about in the newspapers these days. High salaries and drug abuse. Where does it end? How close is Seton Hall to respectability in the Big East? Based on their performance against Boston College last Saturday at the Meadowlands, they are one big screw away. Did you see the Celtics-Lakers game last Sunday? It should be interesting if they make it to the finals again this spring. Don't forget, the Celtics played without Kevin Mc

Record now 4-15

Buc hoopsters lose three; score victory over Kearny

When Belleville and Nutley met last Monday afternoon in a boys' basketball game, it promised to be a tough, physical game. What was not promised, however, was poor officiating that took away from a very exciting contest.

Rocco Colucci's Buccaneers took a 4-15 record into this week's action. Belleville will host Teaneck this afternoon, at 4 p.m. Tomorrow night, the Bucs travel to Ridgewood for a 7:30 p.m. tap. Next Tuesday, the team is host to Kennedy, at 4 and next Thursday, is host to Passaic starting at 7:30 p.m. The '86-'86 campaign comes to a close next Friday, with a game in Jersey City against St. Aloysius, commencing 7:30 p.m.

In addition to a loss at Nutley last Monday, Belleville was defeated by Newark Tech, 60-44 and Montclair, 71-50. The Bucs did defeat Kearny, 62-35 at the Meadowlands Arena last Tuesday afternoon.

Belleville's game with the powerful Raiders of Nutley last Monday was a typical Buc-Raidor encounter. That usually means close scores, aggressive play and good action. Unfortunately, the action was somewhat dictated by questionable, to say the least, officiating. A number of over the back calls and reaching violations were not whistled, thus taking away from a very exciting game and once again leaving the fans with a bad taste in their mouths when it comes to officiating on the road.

The Raiders, a team that could be a surprise in the Essex County tournament, took the lead late in the first quarter and did not relinquish it the rest of the way. Belleville's last lead came on a Leon Puentes layup for an 8-6 advantage.

Leon had a good game, for us," said Colucci. "It was a good sign, because he was in a slump. The only thing that hurt him was his foul shooting. (Puentes was 6 of 12 and the Bucs were 13 of 26 as a team). We committed some cheap fouls and missed defensive assignments. We also didn't clear the boards of a few instances and you can't do that against a quality team like Nutley."

After trailing by 12 in the third quarter, Belleville closed to within six in the final frame on two Puentes, free throws, a Puentes' jumper and a jumper by Loung La. Nutley, however, regained its composure and held on for a 86-55 victory.

Ted Sochaski led Belleville with 17 points. Puentes finished with 14. Bob Hutchison had 12. La finished with six, Donald Washington had five and Chris Goldrick, one.

Despite the sub par officiating, Belleville did have its chances to win. However, missing 13 foul shots, two of which were on the front end of a one in one, diminished the Bucs' hopes. Last Friday night, the Bucs traveled to Irvington Tech to face Newark Tech in the preliminary round of the Essex County tournament.

This was a game in which Belleville shot poorly from the foul line again and the quicker Newark Tech team took advantage of Buccaneer errors to pull away to victory.

"We shot poorly from the foul line," Colucci said of the Bucs 2 for 11 effort. "We played good defense, and caused turnovers, but we did not capitalize on the mistakes. We missed some layups and couldn't hit the some key jumpers. These things are going to happen during the season. You can't fault one thing. Once again, we had our chances."

Belleville trailed 13-12 after one quarter and 27-23 at intermission. Newark Tech opened the lead to 39-33 after three quarters, then blew the game wide open in the final frame to coast to a 60-44 victory.

Hutchison led the way for Belleville with 14 points. Sochaski finished with 11, Washington and La had eight, Goldrick scored two, Burden finished with one and Puentes was held scoreless.

Against Montclair, Belleville was up against a buzzsaw priming for the Essex County tournament. To make matters worst, Belleville was without Washington, its top rebounder. The results were not good.

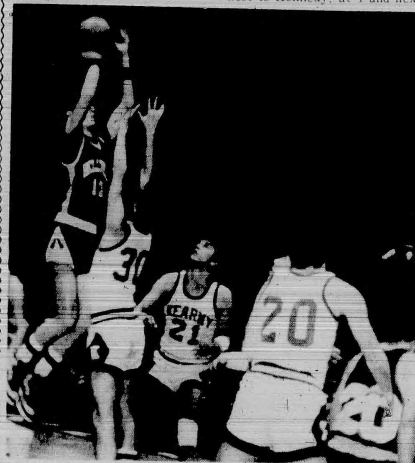

"They're (Montclair) number five in the State," Colucci said. "We made too many turnovers and against a team like that, you're in for a rough time. They are very strong and have to be a favorite to win the county crown again."

The Mounties established control quickly, outscoring Belleville, 20-10 in the first quarter and boosting the lead to 43-27 at intermission. Montclair kept the margin in the second half and cruised 74-51 to triumph.

Sochaski had 20 to pace the Belleville effort. Goldrick scored a season high 12 points, Puentes and Hutchison finished with eight each and La closed with two.

The biggest victory of the season, against Kearny, saw

Girls' team defeats Cardinals, 40-38, for second victory

While victories have been scarce this season, the signs continue to be positive for the future of the Belleville girls basketball program.

The team won its second game of the '86-'86 campaign last Monday, stopping Kearny, 40-38. However, the girls continued its winless drought in the NNJL, losing to Montclair and Passaic. For the season, Belleville is 2-15, 0-12 in the conference.

Belleville entered the week with just four games left in the season. On Tuesday, the team played host to Nutley. This afternoon, it's off to Teaneck for a difficult assignment. Against one of Bergen County's best squads, Garfield time is 4 p.m. Next Monday, the girls will host Ridgewood, starting at 4 p.m. and on Tuesday, the season concludes with a game at Paterson. Kennedy Tip off for that contest is 4 p.m.

Despite beating Kearny last Monday, head coach Karen Fucello was not dancing in the streets with jubilation.

"We didn't execute well," she said. "I was a little disappointed with the game. We were sluggish and we didn't close well down the stretch. It's a win and I'm happy about that, but I've seen us play better this season."

Judy Nehila, the sophomore that continues to improve her overall game, started off a phenomenal week by scoring 26 points to pace the way for Belleville. Nehila leads the team in scoring with a 13.2 ppg average, bolstered by the past three games, in which she scored 78 points.

Desiree Johansen, wearing down an impressive career, tallied eight, Laura Caruso had three, Dina De Medici, two and Laurie Dondargi, one.

Belleville led throughout the first half, taking a 16-9 advantage after one quarter and leading 25-23 at intermission. Nehila scored 14 points in the first quarter alone and had 18 at half time. In the third quarter, however, Kearny took control of the game, outscoring Belleville, 12-6 and leading, 35-31 entering the final frame.

It was in the fourth quarter that Belleville regained control, holding the Cardinals to three points and outscoring the visitors, 9-3.

The next game, against Montclair, saw Nehila lead the way with a career high 35 points. It was the first time a Belleville player had scored more than 30 points in a game since March 6, 1984, when Jennifer Apicella had 34 against Morristown in the semifinals of the Group IV, Section II tournament. Last season, Johansen had 30 in a victory over Passaic.

Judy can probably shoot as well as anybody on the high school level," Fucello said. "Her only short fall is that she doesn't see the entire court on the break. She has to work on her decision making. As far as her shooting is concerned, she is a pure shooter. When she's on, it's all net."

She certainly was "on" against Montclair. Taking up where she left off against Kearny, the sophomore scored seven points in the first quarter and ten more in the second to help Belleville to a 29-25 lead at intermission.

The first half was one of spurts for both teams. Montclair, which defeated Belleville 38-35 earlier in the season, took a 17-9 lead after one frame.

The Mountie height was one of the main reasons for the early advantage. In the second quarter, Fucello implemented her "22" pressing defense, the first time it had been used all season long.

Trailing 23-13 with four minutes left, Belleville pressed full court and outscored the

Indoor track team competes in states

The Belleville indoor track team competed at the State championships at Princeton University last weekend.

The team took part in the County championships earlier this week. The field events were last Tuesday at Columbia University and the running events were scheduled for yesterday, at Lawrenceville School, in Princeton. The Counties are the final indoor events of the '85-'86 season.

For the girls, three athletes took part in the States. Sandy Cotter, an athlete that has shown tremendous improvement all season long, threw a personal best of 27' 4 1/2" in the shot put. The throw extended her school indoor record.

"Sandy is in line to break the outdoor record soon," said head coach John Tosato. "She's only two feet short of that goal."

Sophomore Joyce Loung ran a personal best in the two mile clocking an impressive 13:01. Lizette Colone also came through with a personal best, running 65.5 in the 400 meters and coming back with a 2:36.1 in the 800 meters. "All the girls' performances were good," said Tosato. "Everyone is rounding into good shape for the outdoor season."

For the boys, Willie Chandler ran a personal best in the 400 meters, clocking 53.7. Chandler came back with an impressive 6.8 in the 60 meters.

J.R. Di Vincenzo, a senior, also doubled in the 400 and 60 meters, finishing with times of 57.0 and 7.1 respectively. The 57.0 in the 400 meters was also his personal best for the indoor season.

Nick Complitano, a senior, did a good job in the high hurdles, an event he excelled in last spring for the outdoor team.

The outdoor season begins on March 8, and Tosato is very optimistic about the turnout. A number of basketball players have expressed interest in running this spring and the overall performances should be good.

"So far, the talk has been positive," Tosato said. "But we'll see what happens on March 8."

Belleville hosts finals of basketball tourney

The semi finals and final round of the 12th annual Essex County girls' basketball championships will be held at Belleville High School this year.

Belleville is usually the host school for the semi final round of the tourney and Seton Hall University is the site for the finals. However, this season Belleville will be the host school for both games of what promises to be an exciting tourney.

The semis will be this Saturday, starting at 7 p.m., with Irvington and Nutley playing a rematch of last years semi finals. In 1985, Nutley held a slim lead in the waning minutes of the game, but Irvington rallied to win by three points, 48-45 and set the stage for the exciting final with Shabazz High. Shabazz won last years game by one point, capturing its fourth straight county championship in the process.

In the second game, Shabazz continues its drive for title number five when it battles East Orange, an up and coming team. The winners of Saturday's games will advance to the championship next Wednesday night, February 26, at 7:30 p.m. from Belleville High.

For Irvington, this is its fifth straight year in the semi finals. The Campers lost to Shabazz in the '82 semis and Clifford Scott in the '83 semis. In 1984, Belleville defeated Irvington in the semis. Last year was the first time that Irvington made it to the finals. After losing the county crown, the Lady Campers went on to win the Group IV State title. They are led by All American Tammy Hammond.

Before last season, Nutley's last appearance in the semi final round came in 1981, when East Orange, the defending champ, stopped the Raider Express. Nutley defeated Shabazz in the consolation game that year while Clifford Scott upset East Orange in the finals.

For East Orange, this is its first appearance in the semi final round since 1981, when, as mentioned, it defeated Nutley and lost to Scott in the finals. East Orange won it all in 1980, ironically the last time the finals were held at Belleville. That year, the Lady Panthers defeated Scott in the semis and upended two time defending champion Columbia in the finals. East Orange then went on to win the Group IV State title and finished undefeated and number one in the State.

Shabazz has a rich history in the tourney. This will mark the sixth straight year in which the Lady Bulldogs have advanced to the semi final round. In '81, they were defeated by Scott in the semis, but returned the favor by beating Scott in the '82 and '83 finals. Shabazz defeated Irvington in the '82 semis and Belleville in the '83 semi, final round, despite Jennifer Apicella scoring her 2,000th career point in the later game. In '84, Shabazz stopped Newark West Side in the semis and Belleville in the finals. Last year, Shabazz beat Montclair Carmel in the semis and Irvington in the finals.

The final round games of the past have been exciting. In last years final, Irvington built up a big lead in the first half, then fell victim to a vicious Shabazz press in the second half. The Campers, who led by as much as 22 points, finished on the short end of a one point game.

In 1984, Shabazz built a 12 point lead on Belleville, but the Bucs made a game rally in the second half, falling by a 48-45 count. In '83, Clifford Scott led by as many as 18 points in the third quarter, but Shabazz rallied to win by a point.

This years games look to be more of the same as Nutley, East Orange and Irvington look to wrestle the crown away from the Lady Bulldogs.

Hoopsters lose three; beat Kearny at Arena

Hutchison lead the way with 16 points. It was a game that Colucci and Co. wanted to win badly and a contest that Belleville dictated quickly.

The Bucs jumped out to a 14-6 first quarter advantage, scoring the first eight points. La started with a jumper, Washington hit a jumper and Hutchison added a pair of jumpers. After a Kearny basket, Hutch added a pair of jumpers, and Sochaski closed with a jump shot to end the quarter.

Belleville led, 32-15 at intermission, 45-24 after three quarters and went on to a 27 point win, 62-35.

In addition to Hutchison,

Sochaski had 15, Washington had nine, including a slam dunk late in the game. La finished with eight, Puentes scored six, Goldrick had three, Frank Morrell finished with two, Bobby Willis had two and Pete Gerst closed with a free throw for one point.

NOTES Sochaski leads team in scoring with 15.9 ppg average. Puentes is second at 9.4 and Hutchison is now third with 8.8. Hutchison leads team in free throw shooting, 75 percent, however he's only taken 12 shots. Sochaski leads team in free throws taken, 72, and is second in percentage, 60. As a team, Belleville is shooting 55 percent from free throw line.

Personal Fitness, 10-0, in rec volleyball league

Personal Fitness remains undefeated with a 10-0 record after 10 weeks of action in the Belleville Recreation Men's Volleyball League.

The league's leaders swept a pair of games by identical scores of 15-7 from Valenza Opticians (2-8). B.F.D. Heat (7-3) rallied from behind to defeat Mystery (3-7) by scores of 17-19, 15-13 and 15-8.

The Oldtimers Slams (3-7) defeated the Belleville Political and Social Club (2-8), 15-7 and 15-12.

M.D.A. & Co. (5-4) accepted a forfeit from Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market (7-3).

Mounties, 16-2 over the final four minutes to take a four point lead.

In the second half, Montclair made some adjustments in its offense and regained control, outscoring Belleville 16-11 to lead, 41-40.

In the final frame, the Mounties pulled ahead for good, outscoring Belleville by a 22-13 margin and winning, 63-53.

"I thought, we should have won," Fucello said. "We had a height disadvantage, but we shouldn't have lost the lead. We didn't keep the same intensity in the second half. They made adjustments to our press and took control."

In addition to Nehila's points, Simone Edwards finished with nine, Johansen and Caruso had four and De Medici tallied one.

At Passaic last Thursday, Belleville lost another contest that it had a good chance to win. In the first quarter, Passaic broke a 6-6 tie with eight straight points before Nehila hit a jumper at the buzzer to cut the lead to 14-8.

In the second quarter, Belleville closed to within three points, 16-13, but Passaic took advantage of some Buc turnovers and took a 28-17 advantage into intermission.

The Bucs closed to within seven points, 35-28, after three and then made a mad rush in the final quarter before falling short, 46-40.

A key moment in the fourth quarter came with two minutes left. The girls trailed, 38-36 and Dina De Medici had a one in one free throw attempt. Before the senior got the shot off, Belleville was called for a lane violation and Passaic took control. Nehila led the way for Belleville again, this time with 17 points. Johansen, after suffering an off game with Montclair, came back strong with 14 points. Ten of her points came in the fourth quarter and spurred the Belleville comeback.

Caruso finished with four, Edwards had three and Don-darski, two.

"Once again, it was a game we should have won," Fucello said. "We should have had three wins this week. The errors we made are youth mistakes, but we've been through 40 practices and 17 games. We have to learn to overcome these things."

Rec teams continue play

Veniero Trucking leads men's basketball league

After the eighth week of action in the Belleville Recreation Department's Over 30 Men's League, Megaro Memorial Home (14-8) hosted Barry's Go-Go (4-3), despite Pat Megaro's 10 points, while Modern Millwork defeated Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market, 45-30, with Fred Higgins' 18 points.

In other games, Sally's Auto Parts (5-3) defeated Radio Shack (2-6), 49-25, while Fred Kurash's 19 points lifted the Belleville Knights (6-2) over DelPro Realty, 26, 32-40, despite Vinny Chanca's 23 points.

After nine weeks in the Men's League, For Pete's Sake (6-3) defeated Nu Plus (4-5), 80-72, with Theo May leading For Pete's Sake with 23 points.

STN. Tire Warehouse (6-3) won by a forfeit over the Raiders Club 36 East (6-3), led by Robert Johnson's 19 points, defeated Nutley Club (4-3), 56-38.

In Division B, Corbo Marbachs (6-3), led by Ron Pennet-ti's 22 points, defeated the Valley Falcons (2-7), 64-60, in overtime.

H.M. Virapoulos (4-3) defeated Gondola Ristorante (5-4), 73-64, despite Wayne Hubert's 20 points and Veniero Trucking (8-1), led by Phil Colillo's 25 points, defeated Plaza Travel (2-7), 59-56, in overtime.

Buc wrestling team seeded fourth in state sectionals

By Joe Piegaro
Belleville's 10-3 wrestling team will have an opportunity to avenge last year's trouncing to Phillipsburg as the Bucs have once again been chosen to compete in the State Sectional Championships.

Phillipsburg has been seeded first in Group 4, Section 2, with Elizabeth High School second, Morris Knolls third and our Bucs fourth. The first match in the tournament was held yesterday at the higher seed's home gym. That means we get another chance to go down to Phillipsburg's pit '40 try and atone for last year's loss.

Congrats are in order for our boys as just last week it looked like curtains after a 30-26 loss to Kearny. However, Roxbury High School, which had been ranked just above the Bucs, was also beaten, but by a non-ranked school. Based on a complicated and very secret formula of point assessments, Belleville was awarded the final spot in the tourney.

While a pat on the back must be given to our team for making the playoffs, a note of anger must be directed toward the NJSIAA. Even though Phillipsburg is an overwhelming favorite against Belleville, what are they doing in a post-season New Jersey tournament in the first place?

All year long they reap the benefits of competing in a conference which is geographically suited to them, while all the Jersey schools must live with what they are given. Our own schedule forces us to travel some hefty distances to schools like Don Bosco, Bergen Catholic, Ridgewood, etc. Admittedly, Phillipsburg's Penn League schedule supposedly does not count in the state rankings. That probably explains why a team with three losses can be seeded first in New Jersey while wrestling less than 10 Jersey schools.

Another point to consider is how in the world Phillipsburg, nestled in the westernmost regions of the state, could possibly be assigned to Group 4, Section 2. Shouldn't we have the right to wrestle teams in our own area first, then go on to higher levels? Someone, somewhere has these answers, but it seems Phillipsburg only knows who they are.

Now on to other things. One of the fun things to do as a sports writer is to have the opportunity to voice your opinions on whatever happened during the season. Here is my list for the good and bad of the 1985-86 season—

First and foremost, please find a way to get Belleville High School out of the NNJIL and into a different conference. If that is not possible, what is wrong with being an independent? It is probably a headache for athletic directors, but wouldn't our kids be better off athletically competing against non-Bergen County schools? Since academics are not on a competitive basis in this conference, what does it matter if we wrestle Essex Catholic instead of Teaneck or Madisonboro, instead of Paramus?

Secondly, this writer has carried the flag against tournaments all year long. These events are scheduled to bring glory to the winners and frustration to the losers. It's a great feeling for the kid who wins a medal in his weight class, but how about the other fellow who lost in the first round and has to sit around all day? Think about it. There are many more boys who lose in the first round than there are medal winners.

As I have stated many times in the past, tri-meets and quads are worlds better for a team and give all the participants a chance to compete all day, rather than just the gifted athletes.

On the good side of the ledger, how about a round of applause for Joe Nisivocia in his first year as head coach? With basically only 10 wrestlers (Lou LuConte didn't start wrestling at 170 until the season was almost half over), Nis' has finished second in the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament, been selected to compete as one of four teams in the State Sectionals, and is the co-favorite to win the District 7 team title. Not bad for a beginner.

While pats on the back are being awarded, how about a big one for the Belleville Wrestling Parents and Friends Association? This organization has been the core of support for our wrestling team for the past 11 years and continues to be the leading association of its kind in the state.

At every match, every tournament, and most practices, somewhere nearby is a member ready to do whatever is necessary to help Belleville wrestling.

Buc notes: The junior varsity wrestling team won the prestigious Kearny Tournament with less than a full lineup. Full details will be in next week's article. A meet with Edison High School is scheduled for tomorrow evening tentatively. As soon as a time and a gym can be agreed upon, we should have another match to get us ready for the districts. See you next week.

Buccanettes end season with two wins

The seventh-grade Buccanettes completed their season with two wins in the Suburban Junior Basketball League.

In a nip-and-tuck battle against a second place Caldwell squad, Belleville edged the favorites on their own home court by a 57-56 tally.

The score at halftime was 27-27 and Belleville held a 40-39 advantage after three quarters.

The Buccanettes were led by the scoring of Stacy Johansen (39 points) and Toni Costa (10 points).

The girls' team also defeated South Orange, 59-24, in their season finale at home to finish with a 6-4 record.

Johansen and Costa led the offense with 39 and 10 points, respectively.

Stampone pins eight opponents in first varsity wrestling season

By Joe Piegaro

Only a handful of Belleville wrestlers have ever had the distinction of performing on the varsity squad as freshmen. Such memorable names as Dominic Cerreto and Nick DeDomenico went on to become members of the BHS Wrestling Hall of Fame. This year's squad, ironically, has three other such grapplers in the names of Joey Cerreto, Armando Nardone and Marc Criscione. And of course, there is John Stampone.

Johnny Dangerously, as he is known to his teammates, currently has a 9-7 record in his first varsity season. Of the nine victories, eight have come by pins with his other win a 16-0 technical fall in the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament.

As a recreation wrestler in the Belleville system, Stampone went his entire career undefeated until he lost a one-point decision in his last match. A leg injury had a great deal to do with that loss, but it could not dim three years of sensational performances.

Coach Joe Nisivoccia feels Stampone is destined for great things later in his wrestling career.

He is one of our harder workers in practice and it will pay dividends for him in his next three years on the team, Nisivoccia said. Without a year, he is destined to become a champion.

Stampone's older brother, Joe, was a regional champion for Essex Catholic High School a few years back, and it was feared the younger Stampone would follow in big brother's footsteps. However, Essex Catholic's loss became Belleville High School's gain as "Johnny Dangerously" chose to remain in the town responsible for most of his wrestling training.

With the District 7 Championships only a short week away, Stampone has an outside chance to become the first ever Belleville grappler to win a district crown in his freshman year. But whether he wins a gold, silver or bronze medal in the upcoming tourney, John Stampone has already laid the groundwork for a superlative career.

Applications available for baseball & softball

Applications for all recreation baseball and softball programs are available in all public and parochial school offices and at the Belleville Recreation Department, 407 Jaramelon St.

Applications for Peanut and Junior League baseball for boys, ages 8-12, must be completely filled out and returned to the Rec House by March 21.

Boys who are 8 years old before Aug. 1 and who will not be 13 before July 31 are eligible for organized baseball in either the Peanut or Junior leagues.

Applications for girls' softball and senior intermediate baseball are also available.

Girls 8 years old on Aug. 1 and whose 10th birthday falls after July 31 are eligible for Pee Wee League softball; girls 10 years old on Aug. 1 and whose 13th birthday falls after July 31 are eligible for Pigtail League softball, and girls 13 years old on Aug. 1 and whose 16th birthday falls after July 31 are eligible for Junior League softball.

High school freshman or javvie softball team players or Suburban League team players (seventh and eighth grade) are not eligible. All applications must be returned to the Rec House by March 21. Birth certificates must accompany applications.

Boys, ages 13-15, are eligible for the senior intermediate baseball league. All applications must be returned by March 21. Boys who are playing organized high school baseball are not eligible.

Registration for the softball or baseball programs will be conducted Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1-4 p.m. at the Rec House. The office will also be open one night a week for registration. Call 650-3422 for information.

On a recent visit, exotic dishes like baby shrimp with garlic sauce, hot and spicy chicken, chicken and broccoli, were on the buffet, as well as the standard oriental fare like pepper steak, egg rolls, and sparfish.

If you have any room left, after sampling all that, there is also a dessert table (not often found at luncheon buffets!).

Service was very attentive at lunchtime - there are plenty of efficient waiters who keep refilling teapots, and clearing used plates.

There is also a dinner buffet on the same days the luncheon buffet is served. On the other days, a regular menu is available for both lunch and dinner.

Clara Maass Medical Center offers free hearing screening

A free hearing screening will be conducted at Clara Maass Medical Center on Thursday, Feb. 27, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The hearing screening will be offered in recognition of the medical center's new Audiology Services.

The test will be conducted by the medical center's certified audiologist, Andrew Sperling.

M.S. Appointments must be made in advance by calling 550-2267.

The purpose of the screenings is to identify individuals who may have a hearing loss and to encourage them to seek medical attention. Sperling said. Hearing screenings, like the one offered by Clara Maass, will help people to identify the presence of a hearing problem and hopefully motivate them to take action.

According to Sperling, about 20 million Americans suffer from some degree of hearing loss, many of whom can be helped either through medical treatment or hearing aids.

The new Audiology Services will provide comprehensive hearing evaluations for patients of all ages, which include pediatric hearing assessment, hearing aid evaluations and special diagnostic tests required by physicians. The service also staffs a certified speech pathologist who evaluates speech and language abilities, plans treatment and provides appropriate therapy in group or individual settings.

The Audiology Services is provided by the Clara Maass Medical Center Rehabilitation Medicine Department.

Community Mental Health Services conducts seminars at adult school

Community Mental Health Services of Belleville will conduct four health seminars at the Nutley Adult School at the Nutley High School, Franklin Avenue. Admission is open to both Belleville and Nutley residents.

Anthony Lucibello, director of the partial care program at community mental health services, will discuss local adult rehabilitation of the mentally disabled, focusing on client needs, training techniques and planning. 7-9 p.m., March 6.

Judith Yurmark, ACSW, will discuss protecting children from sexual abuse. March 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. Yurmark directs the Outpatient and Family Life Programs at the agency.

She will discuss techniques parents can use in presenting the subject to children. The seminar will include a combination of lecture material and group discussion. Reading materials suitable for children will be available.

"The Why and How of Discipline" is the subject of a seminar being given from 7 to 9 p.m., March 20, by Dr. Elizabeth Callahan, Director of the agency's therapeutic school. Parents will have an opportunity to explore the meaning of their children's behavior, common problems and techniques for setting standards of discipline.

For information or to register for any of the agency seminars, call the Nutley Adult School at 667-2525. There is a $5 fee for each seminar. Information about Community Mental Health Services, which serves residents of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, can be obtained by calling 450-1100.

On March 24, from 7 to 9 p.m., Barbara Purnell, director of the agency's Friendly Visitors Program, will address needs, coping techniques and community resources in a seminar entitled "You and Your Aging Parent".

Library sponsors annual picture book contest

The Belleville Public Library will sponsor its National Library Week Picture Book Contest for 1986.

The contest is open to students, grades K-12, as well as adults. The books written may be fiction or non-fiction, should be illustrated with original drawings or pictures and should be made from construction paper, oaktag or any other substantial material.

Each entry must have on its cover the name of the book, the author's name, address, telephone number and school and teacher's name if the author is a student.

One of the main requirements for the contest is that the book must be original and not copied from another author. All entries in the contest must be brought to the library by Saturday, March 8, 1986, at 5 p.m.

Judging will be done on the basis of creativity, proper English usage and artistry. All entries must be legible or they will not be judged. Books with a mixture of handwritings, such as a combination of cursive and printing in the same paragraph, will not be judged. Correct paragraphing and margins should be utilized.

Judges for the contest include David Bryant, library director, Adrea Cohen, assistant library director, Cindy LaRue, reference and young people librarian, Kathleen Molleia, branch librarian, and Alice Norris, children's librarian.

Questions regarding the contest should be addressed to Adrea Cohen or David Bryant at 759-9200.

Children's book show features stories on cats

The second segment of the February program of "Celebrate Children's Books from the Belleville Public Library" features Alice Cronin, children's librarian, discussing books on cats, valentine friends and the space shuttle.

Among the books discussed are "ABC Cat" by Nancy Jewell, "George and Martha" by James Marshall, "I Loved Rose Ann" by Lee Bennett Hopkins, "Sarah, Plain and Tall" by Patricia MacLachlan.

The Search for Grissi by Mary Francis Shurtliff, "The Wonderful Mrs. Trumbly" by Sally Wittman and "The Valentine Cat" by Clyde Robert Bulla.

All these books are on display in the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room.

"Celebrate Books," which airs on WBHS Channel 34, is directed by Marilyn Mango, media specialist at Belleville High School, and produced by Assistant Library Director Adrea Cohen.

The medical center's program will specifically provide the emergency hotline number, emergency shelter to house victims of domestic violence and their families, emergency medical treatment, counseling, access to food, laundry and referral services, and access to information regarding legal aspects for the sheltered victims of domestic violence, and an instructional program addressing the issue of domestic violence for 100 percent of the medical center's emergency room staff.

Questions about the emergency shelter can be answered by calling (201) 759-2378, or the Clara Maass Medical Center Public Relations Department at (201) 450-2267, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

On display are her Fruit and Vegetable Stand, a Little Sweet Shop, the Den, the Witch's Kitchen, the Victorian Garden, a Christmas scene, the Attic and an Italian restaurant.

The exhibit can be viewed during library hours.

By virtue of the above stated writ of Execution, the undersigned Sheriff of Essex County, New Jersey, will on Tuesday, the 18th day of March next, at 10:00 A.M., in the County of Essex, State of New Jersey, sell at public auction, for cash, the premises situated at 180 Hudson Street, Newark, New Jersey, 07102, known as Lot 82, Block 240 of the Township of Irvington, County of Essex, State of New Jersey, containing approximately 50 feet wide by 100 feet long.

The Sheriff reserves the right to adjourn the sale from time to time as provided by Law. Newark, N.J., February 10, 1986. THOMAS J. DALESIO, Sheriff. William M.E. Powers, Jr., Attorney.

Approximate dimensions: 45 feet x 99 feet. Nearest cross street: Passaic Avenue.

A full legal description can be found in the office of the Register of Essex County in mortgage book 4799, page 487. A deposit of 20% of the bid price in cash or certified funds is required at the time of sale.

RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF BELLEVILLE, N.J., that:

WHEREAS, there exists a need for the appointment of a bond counsel to represent the Township of Belleville in connection with the construction of a municipal capital project to Township Ordinance No. 2210 passed June 25, 1985; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Commissioners deems it to be in the best interests of the Township that the financial firm, Douglas Scheriff, Hyland & Perrelli, be retained as bond counsel to represent the Township in this regard, and therefore recommends that the Board of Commissioners be authorized to execute and ratify the following application:

Application for the appointment of Douglas Scheriff, Hyland & Perrelli, as bond counsel to represent the Township of Belleville, New Jersey, in connection with the construction of a municipal capital project to Township Ordinance No. 2210 passed June 25, 1985.
