Tax point remains the same Changes affect school budget

By Michelle Jeannotte

A tentative 1986-87 school budget adopted by the Belleville Board of Education in January has changed as a result of recent developments, according to board secretary Edward J. Appleton.

One recent development came in a $224,751 reduction in state aid, Appleton said. Tuesday these monies are reduced throughout the $19.3 million budget in the areas of current expense, debt service and capital outlay, he said.

To offset the reduction, the budget committee—consisting of board members Gabe Nazzola, Ernest Zoppa and Dr. Joseph Cappello—reduced monies allocated for special projects by $7,653, making the total reduction in state aid $217,098.

According to Appleton, because the budget committee did not want to raise the 25.4 percent tax point increase, $178,913 appropriated by the state to cover salaries mandated by the Teacher Quality Employment Act will be put directly in the budget.

The Teacher Quality Employment Act, a second development affecting the '86-87 school budget, mandates an $18,500 minimum salary for teachers. According to a notice sent from the state, these monies must be included in the '86-87 school budget.

The budget committee then took $30,000 from surplus monies and added it to the $178,913, totaling the $224,751 state aid reduction, Appleton said, adding that the committee also appropriated $57,000 from surplus to the budget.

According to Appleton, $415,000 out of an approximate $500,000 surplus has been appropriated for the current expense portion of the budget to mitigate taxation. With these monies being used during the next school fiscal year, approximately $165,000 will be in the form of surplus. That figure is only 1 percent of the total budget, a figure which does not allow much cushion, Appleton said.

He added that surplus monies usually total 2 or 3 percent of a school board budget.

Revenues included in the '86-87 school budget are broken down into the areas of current expense, debt service, capital outlay, state aid and federal aid. The tax levy for the 1986 fiscal year is $10.60, an increase of $1.4-4.248 from the 1985 fiscal year, Appleton said.

State aid for the '86-87 school year totals $7,644,448, a 4.4 percent increase to be used for special projects, capital outlay and debt service.

Federal aid for the '86-87 school year totals $375,000, a 53.1 percent increase from this past fiscal year. The total percentage increase of the '86-87 school budget is 8.9, from $17,713,600 to $19,265,787.

According to Appleton, 73.8 percent of the budget is fixed in the form of salaries. Included in that are salaries for administration, instruction, transportation, operation of plant, maintenance and athletics. Another 7.5 percent is also fixed in the area of benefits, which include retirement funds, Social Security and Employee Insurance.

Included in the remaining 18.7 percent are operation of plant, heat and utilities, tuition, transportation, contracted services, equipment and supplies, textbooks.

According to Appleton, the 18.7 percent is the only area where reductions or additions can be made.

Although the '86-87 school budget reflects a 23.4 tax point increase, it is $698,423 below the maximum state cap, he said.

If the budget is defeated, Appleton said, reductions would more than likely be made in the capital outlay portion of the

Two incumbents and five newcomers file petitions for school board election

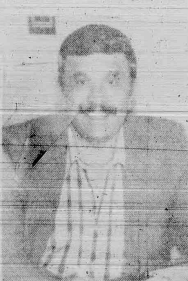

Nine candidates have filed petitions for three open seats on the Belleville Board of Education.

The nine-candidates vying for the three seats in the April 15 election are: board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino of Dorothea Terrace, board member Gabriel Nazzola of Van Reyper Place, Daniel Borgo, also of Van Reyper Place, Barbara Cleese of Fairway Avenue, Catherine Granger of Greylock Parkway, Michael Guardino of Valley Street, Mary Ann Rungel-Bioschack of Greiner Parkway, former board member Thomas Spillane of Lloyd Place, and Richard Yonuzzi of Greylock Parkway.

The third vacant seat belongs to board member John DiStasi, who has decided not to run for reelection. He is a two-term member who previously served as board president.

WBHS Channel 34 continues to air professional programs

By Michelle Jeannotte

WBHS Channel 34, a cable television station run entirely by students at Belleville High School, seems to be becoming more professional every year.

The station's programming, which airs over Suburban Cablevision, is produced and directed by Belleville High School students with the help of Marilyn Mango, media specialist. WBHS Channel 34's roots stem from a mass communications class re-instituted to the high school curriculum in 1980.

With the help of the late Michael Chieffo, students in the mass communications program produced, directed and starred in "Belleville In Review," a weekly news show which sometimes featured well-known personalities.

"Belleville In Review," as well as other high school shows and sporting events, were taped with a small black and white videocamera, according to Mango. Today, WBHS Channel 34 is produced with high fidelity equipment such as portable color videocameras, editing systems, mixers and special effects generators.

WBHS features original television programs and live radio shows, such as the "Captain Radio Show" and the "Rock n' Roll Revival," with student deejays. When WBHS Channel 34 is Nazzola, married and the father of three, has lived in Belleville since 1969. All of his children have attended Belleville public schools. His daughter, Janice Lynn Lefebvre, a graduate of Belleville High School, is now a teacher there. His son, Gabriel, is a graduate of Belleville High School where he currently substitute teaches. His other son, Eric, is a junior at the high school.

Nazzola, who has owned a State Farm Insurance Agency in Kearny for more than 23 years, is an 18-year member of the New Jersey State Farm Agents Association, Inc., a 13-year member of the National Association of State Farm Agents, Inc., and a 17-year member of

Divorced parents may benefit from change in new tax laws

By Bert Tobia
H & R Block District Manager
If you are divorced and have custody of a dependent child, you may benefit from a change in the tax law which took effect for 1985.

The parent who has custody is entitled to claim the exemption for the child on his or her tax return unless he or she has specifically waived this right by signing a form which the other parent must attach to his or her own tax return. Such a release must be attached each year that the custodial parent waives claiming the exemption.

One exception to this rule would be where a pre-1985 divorce decree specifically gives the exemption to the non-custodial parent as long as that parent provided at least $600 in child support.

For 1985, each exemption is worth a $1,040 reduction in taxable income. Either parent may claim any medical bills he paid for the child regardless of who has custody, but the custodial parent may also be eligible for the earned income or child care credit.

Another change in the tax law concerns alimony. The payer of alimony must now show the Social Security number of the recipient on his tax return or face a $50 fine.

Conversely, if a recipient refuses to provide his Social Security number to the payer, he is liable for a $50 fine.

Irene Decker elected board vice president

Irene Decker of Belleville has recently been elected second vice president of the board of trustees of the Family Service Bureau of Newark.

The Family Service Bureau, a United Way agency, provides counseling for people with personal, family and emotional problems. The agency recently celebrated its 100 year of service to the residents of Newark, Belleville, Irvington and West Hudson.

Mrs. Decker, administrative secretary for the Department of Public Safety in Belleville, has been a member of the board since 1977.

Howard Savings Bank raises $43 million from stock sales

The Howard Savings Bank has completed its public offering of common stock, raising some $43 million in capital, according to Donald F. McCormick, chairman and chief executive officer.

Our initial offering was for one million shares of common stock and was announced on Jan. 29 when our stock traded at 23 1/2. McCormick said. The offering met with such favor that we raised the amount of shares to 1.3 million and the stock was priced on Feb. 6 at its NASDAQ national market closing price of $5 1/4 per share.

The sale increased the bank's primary capital ratio to 7.53 percent from 6.43 percent at year-end 1985.

The formal closing on the sale of the issue to the underwriters was completed Feb. 13. Net proceeds will be used for general corporate purposes, including investment in loans and securities, McCormick said.

Co-managers of the public offering were Shearson-Lehman Brothers Inc. and Alex. Brown & Sons Incorporated.

Bonus Winner — Walter Borowski, center, will share a $2,500 bonus with his wife, Barbara, which he won in the New Jersey Lottery's "Pick-6 Lotto" bonus drawing Feb. 11 at the Trump Plaza Hotel and Casino in Atlantic City. Pictured with Borowski are Hela Young, N.J. Lottery drawing hostess; and David P. Hanlon, president of Trump Plaza Hotel and Casino. The Borowskis were among 170 finalists in the bonus drawing.

Copies of federal income tax returns from prior years not only serve as good financial records, but they can serve as guides for filling out future returns as well, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

A good deal of information may be utilized from old copies, especially for those taxpayers whose financial situations stay almost the same from year to year, according to the IRS.

Redevelopment Agency and the Belleville Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee and served as chairman to the Belleville Columbus Day Parade feast committee.

As a realist, I know that no matter how much I have to offer as a trustee, it won't do our educational system any good unless I am re-elected," he stated in a campaign brochure. "It is my intention to consult with anyone in the political arena with experience and expertise who is kind enough to offer their help in my bid for re-election because they believe in me as the board trustee who could do the most for our students and our taxpayers."

Our educational system should operate like a successful business, with a constant flow of new ideas, new people, new equipment for employees who perform above the norm and continuing efforts to maximize profits," he continued.

"Our profits" as taxpayer-stockholders in the business of education will be the best possible education for our children.

"If you think education is expensive, try ignorance," Nazziola said. "Either we, the parents and grandparents pay the price for quality education now or our sons and daughters, grandsons and granddaughters will pay the price for the rest of their lives."

Nazziola, who has served on the board's budget and transportation committees and the teacher contract negotiation team, kicked off his campaign last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Nazziola's name will appear on line 7A on the April 16 election ballot. The others are as follows: Spillane, 1A; Rungail, 2A; Cicciase, 3A; Horne, 4A; D'Agostino, 5A; Gianeruso, 6A; Yafuzzi, 8A; and Giordano, 9A.

Other candidates will be printed in the weeks ahead.

Tylenol bottles can be returned

Thomas J. Longo, health officer of the Belleville Health Department, informs all residents who possess Extra-Strength Tylenol that they may return the bottles with the unused portion to the parent company for an exchange or refund of following address:

Tylenol Capsule Exchange
P.O. Box 2000
Maple Plain, Mn. 55348

The company will either send a refund or, if preferred, replace the Tylenol capsules with Tylenol caplets or tablets.

A letter should accompany the bottle of capsules indicating whether cash or capsule replacement is preferred.

In accordance with an executive order issued by Gov. Thomas Kean, all stores must remove all Tylenol capsules as well as Tylenol-containing capsules from their shelves and must also cease selling these products immediately.

The Belleville Health Department will check stores to insure compliance with this order. In the event of non-compliance, the police department will be notified.

budget, which has more than $450,000 allocated for repairs at the middle school.

"I can't see the feasibility in reducing staff and consolidating classes," Appleton said. "If we had to make reductions in this area, there could be changes in the new transportation policy. After parents fought for a new policy, would they want us to go to a state-mandated policy?"

It would be obvious to make reductions in the capital outlay portion of the budget," he added. "We just would not be able to do as many repairs at the middle school as we would like to."

At this time, the 1986-87 school budget has been submitted to the county for review. A budget hearing will be presented to the public at the board of education's meeting March 24.

As of now, this is how it stands," Appleton said. "But there still could be some changes."

School 4 group sponsors 'Candidates' Night' March 4

The School 4 Home and School Association will sponsor a "Candidates' Night" Tuesday, March 4, 7:30 p.m., at School 4 on Magnolia Street.

The public is invited to attend.

School board appoints Saturday program staff

The Belleville Board of Education has appointed School 3 Principal Austin MacArthur, administrator of the Saturday Academically Talented Program for third graders.

MacArthur will oversee the 10-week program which begins March 1.

The board also approved a resolution at its meeting Monday night which appointed Donna Richards, language arts/writing teacher, and Louis Scanzillo, mathematics/computer teacher.

Christa McAuliffe remembered

National Teacher Day honors fallen astronaut

Communities across the country will be celebrating National Teacher Day Tuesday, March 4.

It is a day to say thank you for all the caring, dedication and concern teachers demonstrate in their classrooms every day.

This year, it will also be a day to reflect upon a very special teacher, Christa McAuliffe, the teacher whose life was lost in the ill-fated Challenger mission. In recognition of her efforts, this day will be named "Christa McAuliffe National Teacher Day."

For the Belleville Education Association and teachers throughout the country, a special sadness was felt: Christa McAuliffe symbolized what is best in the teaching profession—dedication to her students, love for education and determination.

To commemorate her pioneering spirit, the National Education Association has developed the Christa McAuliffe American Education Fund to enable other practicing teachers to explore their subject matter in new and innovative ways. The fund will also help high school and college students to fulfill their dreams of becoming teachers.

Contributions can be made to the Christa McAuliffe American Education Fund, American Education Bank, P.O. Box 0149, Washington, D.C., 20065.

School board budget

The proposed school board budget calls for an increase of approximately $1,600,000 or 8.9 percent over the current year.

The proposed increase amounts to 25½ points in the tax rate.

Anticipated state aid in the new fiscal-year budget shows an increase of approximately $250,000 over the current year, the total amounting to $375,000. Federal aid amounts to $375,000 in the projected budget, an increase of $130,000 over the current year, or 53 percent.

A 25½-point increase in the tax rate spells trouble for the proposed budget. Belleville has a history of rejecting school board budgets with some measure of regularity. This proposed budget requires salesmanship of the highest order to gain acceptance from a cynical voting public.

Everyone concedes that most voters desire to maintain a high quality of education for Belleville students. This costs money. Voters will have to be convinced that a 25½-point increase in the tax rate is necessary to achieve the goal of a quality educational system.

Approximately 74 percent of the budget consists of salaries — and those are mandated by wage contracts in place. Social Security, taxes and employee insurance and retirement funds add up to another 7½ percent, with property and liability insurance accounting for another 1½ percent — so in effect, 83 percent of the budget is frozen and board members cannot alter that fact. Of the remaining 16 percent, approximately 40 percent is set aside to purchase supplies and textbooks. Twenty percent more of the 16 percent is attributed to heat and utilities.

The area over which school board members can exercise personal judgment becomes minimal.

And you don't have to be a college graduate to understand simple arithmetic. The present school board is a responsible one. In common with most voters who visit the polls to vote on school-board matters, board members are also taxpayers. They have demonstrated a greater care over the expenditures of public funds than they give to their own personal funds.

There is no fat in this budget — but it's a hard sell because of the 25½-point increase in the tax rate. Candidates can argue over nickels and dimes, but none is able to change the basic fact that it costs money to produce a school system that provides students with the ability to obtain a quality education.

School board candidates

Due to the retirement of school board member John DiStasi, there are only two incumbents seeking re-election this year. Gabe Nazziola and President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino.

Joining the two incumbents are seven aspirants, among them former school board member, Tom Spillane.

It is an exciting turn of events in school board activities to observe that nine qualified, competent citizens are willing to sacrifice time away from their families to perform a great public service by volunteering to become candidates for membership on the Belleville Board of Education.

This abundance of candidates argues well for the school board, the school system and the taxpayers. The greater number of candidates can better articulate the problems that a future board must concern itself with in an attempt to continue the high standards of our school system.

We congratulate the candidates for making this sacrifice — for being willing to give up three years of private life and be willing to accept the criticism that one normally expects when holding a public office.

Only a grateful community will demonstrate its gratitude by visiting the polls in great numbers on Election Day, April 15, to show that they, too, care about the quality of education provided by our school system.

The Challenger tragedy

Throughout the hours preceding the disastrous explosion of the Challenger shuttle seconds after take-off, there was much debate between NASA engineers and engineers of the vendor who manufactured the rocket. So — the conversation went back and forth between and among engineers representing NASA and the vendor. Tragically, the missing link was the need to plug in with the pilot of the Challenger.

The final decision for any earth-bound plane to leave the runway is the sole authority of the pilot. In the case of our shuttles, the pilot has nothing to say — and yet he is responsible for his life and the other astronauts aboard. If the Challenger pilot was part of a conference call listening to the arguments advanced by NASA engineers and the engineers who designed the rocket, perhaps Challenger would never have left the launching pad.

Before any future shuttle leaves the launching pad, there should be an agreement between NASA and the astronauts to give the shuttle pilot the last word on whether or not the shuttle should be launched. It's the lives of the shuttle astronauts that are in danger and not the engineers at Cape Kennedy or Houston or some other distant place.

Letters to the Editor

Budget deficit threatens nation's financial stability

To the editor:

Everyone, including our leadership, made up of the members of Congress and the Senate, recognize that by far the biggest threat facing the financial stability of our nation is the atrocious budget deficit.

All agree that "something must be done" to bring revenues in line with spending. They agree that the federal household must do what all of us have to do, keep spending limited to income.

So what did they do for starters? Would you believe they quietly, as a last-minute measure, eliminated the scheduled 3.3 percent cost of living increase which was to take effect Jan. 1, for federal Civil Service and military retirees. The savings by this measure are estimated at $1 billion.

Joseph Oglesby, our AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) spokesman in Washington, immediately responded to the action, and called it "morally and legally unfair." We feel this is terrible and inequitable and stated that the AARP has filed suit challenging the congressional action.

I wholeheartedly agree with Mr.

Oglesby and would also add that it is flagrantly discriminatory. It is discriminatory suspending the COLA for federal Civil Service and military retirees, "enjoying" an average monthly pension of only $800 or a measly $450 widow's survivor benefit, while not at the same time suspending the COLA of those receiving Social Security.

AARP's suit challenging the congressional action is of course intended to reverse the suspension of the COLA. AARP missed a glorious opportunity, challenging the congressional action, by charging discrimination and insisting that Social Security recipients be permitted to do their part also, bringing the federal deficit under control. Including America's 36 million senior citizens receiving Social Security benefits would mean a contribution of around $12 billion to save our nation from bankruptcy.

With us as an example, our "four-legged" leaders in Washington would be longer have an excuse to shrink their number one responsibility and explain that all of us must do our part because "the party is over."

Resident hopes to persuade town to repair Meacham St.

(Open letter to Gov. Thomas Kean)

The purpose of this letter is to bring to your attention, once again the deplorable condition of Meacham Street in Belleville, particularly the section that runs from Newark Place in Belleville to Entwistle Avenue in Nutley.

Over the years, residents of the immediate area have complained about this street, but their complaints have fallen on deaf ears; there is little noticeable improvement in the condition of Meacham Street.

In the past, whenever the question of repairing this street came up, the stock reply from Town Hall has been to the effect that paving Meacham would constitute "beautification" and consequently not cost-justified.

What utter nonsense! This line of reasoning is absolutely specious for at least a half-dozen reasons.

The numerous potholes are constantly damaging cars.

Since the street is extremely narrow and there are no sidewalks to speak of, pedestrians, particularly older people, are forced to walk in the street and negotiate their way as best they can among the potholes and traffic.

In March of 1985 I fell in one of these potholes. The result was my going to the hospital and being out of work for one month. The pain and mental stress it caused me and my family cannot be measured. I am now in constant fear as I cross the street.

Why should I have to put up with a town where I pay considerable taxes and get none of the services due me? Does someone else have to fall and maybe be hit by a car as they lie in the street as I did at night hardly visible to the motorists negotiating this street?

The street is on a steep grade and during the winter the larger potholes fill up with water, freeze and make this thoroughfare doubly dangerous for cars as well as for pedestrians.

The street is constantly being used by bicycle and motorcycle riders. There is no need to tell you how hazardous a pothole or loose piece of pavement can be to this kind of traffic.

With all these reasons in mind, I hope that you can persuade the people who can authorize repair work on Belleville streets to do something very quickly about the sad state of Meacham Street.

Mother and son find trust in residents of Belleville

To the editor:

I thought you might be interested in the following, as we can be proud of our Belleville residents.

About a year ago my mother had her wallet returned to her, when it was lost in the A & P in Nutley by Mrs. Foh and her daughter of Belleville.

On Feb. 16, I went on several errands in the vicinity of DeWitt Avenue and Belleville Avenue and St. Peter's Church. On my return home I discovered my wallet was missing. My family and I prayed to St. Anthony and the Little Flower St. Theresa, also the Sacred Heart.

I backtracked the area and while doing so a call came into my home asking for me. While my mother was in conversation with the caller, I just returned, but no wallet.

Praise the Lord, the caller was a resident of DeWitt Avenue who found the wallet and she advised me to pick it up at her daughter's house in Nutley. Needless to say the wallet had some money in it, but most importantly license, registration and important identification cards.

When I picked it up shortly thereafter I thanked her and offered her a reward which she refused. I insisted and it was decided by her to give it to her grand daughter. My honest friend was Mrs. Patricia Morgera of DeWitt Avenue in Belleville.

The reason for this letter is that I would like to publicly thank God and Mrs. Morgera!

How fortunate we are to have people of such high integrity in our town.

Sincerely,
Anthony L. Deseri

Battalion company needs help in finding war buddy

(An open letter to Mayor Michael Marotti.)

I hope you are able to help me. I am looking for Sgt. James E. Redington, an Army buddy that lived in your city 42 years ago. He is a man that everybody liked and whom we would like to see at our reunion.

The above address "DeWitt Avenue" he gave me when we were in the Army in Germany. I have talked to the phone company in Belleville, but they have no one by that name. He probably has moved, but maybe has a relative still in Belleville.

We are having a reunion in June and would really like to see him. I realize this is a difficult task, but any help you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Spectrum news commentator Earl Caldwell on WCBS news sounded a strong note in stressing the paradox of President Ronald Reagan's policy of spending money for guns in Angola and for the Contras to resist forces he contends have communist support as indicated by his calling for a $100 million gift to the Contras yet, insisting he will veto any tax increases.

In 1981 when Reagan took office, the national debt was $60 billion, now it is $223 billion under the Reagan administration which has spent more than any peacetime administration on guns and armament in history. Yet, corporate taxes were reduced and now he proposes to reduce the top tax for the very rich by eliminating income tax deductions on real estate taxes and interest.

Foreign investments up to this point, have kept the country afloat because of high interest rates, but are now falling with the resultant loss of this income yet, as written in a recent Newsweek article, Gramm Rudman can be seen as codification of the Reagan conviction that government simply should be doing less. But up to now the president has remained aloof from the douse-the-deficit bill he originally endorsed and then reluctantly signed. That ambivalence is not surprising. Reagan is temperamentally ill-suited for austerity, especially when it applies to defense.

Reagan's America is filled with boundless horizons, not circumscribed limits. The president's soaring popularity naturally flows from his unshakable belief that he can continue to provide guns and tax relief, along with upwardly adjusted Social Security benefits.

That can do resolve was financed for five years by more than $1 trillion in federal borrowing. Now Congress has belatedly declared, "The buck stops here." Still the staggering interest payments to these investors and lenders must be paid and included in the budget.

Reagan's proposed way of eliminating tax increases would be achieved by a "hit list" which would include the outright elimination of many programs, deep cuts in others, increased user fees and the sale of some government programs to private industry. These cuts, if Congress foolishly goes along, will be felt in every community across the USA. It is estimated that tax hikes ranging from 3 percent to 12.5 percent, on average would be needed to compensate for these grants totaling $4.6 billion. 29,000 local governments, including Belleville, will be affected.

Mayors' warn loss-of-the funds, the last check set to arrive in October, will mean reduced services, higher taxes or a combination of both. Chicago Mayor, Harold Washington, who testified on Capitol Hill along with several other mayors, said the budget cuts being considered to cut the federal deficit would "tear the guts out of local government."

The paradox of Reagan's policy is found in the news item in USA Today, "Islands Expect Exemption from U.S. Budget Cutting." President Reagan is expected to recommend that $3 billion be authorized for the Compact of Free Association be protected from cuts, despite cuts here, for three small island republics.

We are pleased to report that Commissioner Joseph Grande is responding favorably to treatment and is expected back in harness shortly after a brief recuperative period from his recent illness. In the interim, his Public Works crew continues to the function efficiently under competent supervision.

With the municipal budget preparation under study, it is imperative that Commissioner Grande's knowledge and experience in management and maintenance matters be available to facilitate the molding of a prudent budget.

We join the host of friends of Commissioner Grande and also those of Tax Assessor Pete Torre, who underwent surgery, in supplicating their speedy and complete recovery.

The emphasis of the mass communications course is on television and radio broadcasting and is designed for students interested in all aspects of mass communication. Mango said.

According to its curriculum outline, the course enables students to become critical judges in the mass communications process, aids students' awareness of the nature of the mass communications process, develops students' evaluation of the artistic and cultural facets of the mass media and helps students understand the censorship process and the values that are shaped through the media.

Some of the skills which are taught to students in the course include gaining insight into communication theories and skills, gaining knowledge of present day broadcasting techniques and all Federal Communications Commission rules and regulations, developing proper utilization of the preventive maintenance of all equipment and the ability to view other productions with constructive criticism.

Students involved in the radio aspect of the mass communications course, according to Mango, learn to operate an audio system, including cassette, turntables, mixer and PA equipment, cue the music and eventually deejay a radio show.

Those students involved in the television aspect of the course learn to operate a camera, videotape recorder and editing equipment, perform in front of a camera, write a script and create special television effects.

Through the course, Mango said, students gain better self-awareness of his or her speech and appearance, learn to develop his or her personality and character on a radio production, create his or her own productions such as news, sports or comedies, and gain responsibility in himself or herself by accomplishing quality presentations.

According to Mango, students are graded on tests and quizzes, hands-on equipment and individual and group productions, which are aired on WBHS.

Nicastri tours Australia with Rutgers drill team

John Nicastri, of Belleville, will be among the members of the Rutgers University's national champion Queens Guard Precision Drill Team traveling to Australia to perform in a Military Tattoo Jubilee commemorating the 150th anniversary of the founding of the state of South Australia.

Led by Commander Douglas Galuppo of Woodbridge, the fast-stepping, bayonet-spinning, all-male squad will present its maneuvers in performances on Feb. 26, Feb. 27 and Feb. 28.

The internationally-known marching team is noted for its "silent" "suicide" routine, featuring the rapid spinning of 13-lb. 1903 A3 Springfield rifles affixed with knife-sharp 16-inch steel bayonets.

The drill is part of the unit's multiple series of marching formations that include such patterns as parallelograms, arrows, circles and the Rutgers sunburst.

The Queens Guard has represented the U.S. in festivities honoring the 40th anniversary of Allied landings in Normandy during World War II and has appeared in marching exhibits in Melbourne, Australia, and Edinburgh, Scotland.

Local dentist gives talk on brushing

Dr. Robert Ramer recently addressed a group of preschool mothers at the Belleville Public Library in recognition of Dental Health Month.

According to Dr. Ramer, the essentials of good health include brushing at least three times per day after meals, a good balanced diet with a minimum of sugar treats and regular checkups per year.

These principles apply to children as well as adults, he said, adding that early visits to the dentist allow children and dentists to establish friendly relationships that can lead to good dental habits.

Dr. Ramer, a Nutley dentist since 1969, received a B.A. degree in 1968 from Rutgers College and a D.D.S. from the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

Library Service - The Belleville Public Library recently honored Mrs. Connie Kelly (center) for her 20 years of dedicated library service at the Silver Lake Branch Library. With Mrs. Kelly are Mrs. Richard A. Shaffer, library trustee, and Miss Kathleen Mollica, Silver Lake Branch librarian.

Menstrual Cramps

Most menstrual cramps are caused by excessive contractions of a compound called prostaglandin. The newer, most effective, over-the-counter drugs for menstrual cramps come in the form of tablets containing 200mg. of ibuprofen. This ingredient is a prostaglandin inhibitor which effectively relaxes cramps. Take one tablet, three to four times a day, as needed. This drug should be avoided if you are hypersensitive. Although it does not contain aspirin, ibuprofen may have similar effects. Other drugs on the market, including aspirin, are also available. These tablets are available at the counter. They contain 200mg. of either acetaminophen or aspirin. Tablets are the maximum dose allowed in 24 hours.

Over-the-counter, as well as prescription medications can be found by coming to ROSSOVER PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 757-2356, 759-1966. The sale and rental of convenient side is available including coffee, wheel chairs, crutches and more. Times watches and watches are also available. We carry more than 1000 items daily. M-F 9am-9pm, Sat. 9am-5pm.

HANDY HINT: Ibuprofen products should not be used if you are pregnant or nursing, except at a doctor's suggestion.

Depression: a serious, lethal health problem

By Richard K. Kull, M.D.,
Deputy Medical Director,
The Carrier Foundation

Depression is a serious, ubiquitous and potentially lethal health problem in our society. Roughly one third of the population can expect to have a depression at some point in life. Depression is one of the most common problems seen by mental health professionals, yet few people recognize the magnitude of the problem or its devastation to affected individuals and their families.

Suffer in silence

Depression can occur in anyone, especially those with prior history of family backgrounds of depression. Depression often goes unrecognized as its symptoms are subtle and less dramatic than most medical and surgical emergencies. Those who suffer with it usually do so in silence and their families can become embittered and frustrated by behavioral changes which are hard to understand. The cost of the illness to depressed individuals and their families in terms of loss of productivity, motivation and hope is immeasurable, and the depression may go unrecognized until the individual attempts or completes a tragic suicide.

Most of us think of depression as a state of sadness that is a normal part of everyday life, but psychiatrists and other mental health professionals define depression in a very specific clinical way.

Alcohol, drugs can mimic depression

When individuals complain of sustained low mood accompanied by sleeplessness, appetite changes, loss of interest in usual activities and pleasures, low energy, helplessness, hopeless and worthless feelings, trouble concentrating and suicidal thoughts, feelings of guilt, the diagnosis of major depression is usually made. Professionals must carefully evaluate the condition to be sure that some underlying undiagnosed medical problem is not contributing to or causing the symptoms mentioned. Frequently, alcohol or drug use can mimic a depression. Those who are depressed often turn to drinking or substance abuse for temporary relief, only to find their state of despair intensified. Consequently, the diagnosis of depression must be made carefully, taking into account a number of potentially complicating factors.

Psychiatrists' debate about the causes of depression but most experts believe that depression can have many possible causes, often working simultaneously. Family, social, economic and occupational demands can challenge an individual beyond his ability to cope, and can result in ensuing helplessness and defeat. One can become increasingly fearful, dissatisfied, frustrated or angry over perceived losses, humiliations, life changes or events, any of which can serve as a trigger for depression.

Victims suffer pain

Regardless of the pressures experienced by an individual, or the events which trigger his depression, the illness becomes biological when the symptoms mentioned above are active and persistent. Once activated, these biological depressive responses can incapacitate the person, and severely hamper his daily functioning. Victims of depression consequently suffer an increasing pain which only they experience and bear, while the rest of us may fail to see their despair.

Once the diagnosis of depression is suspected, patients are frequently referred to mental health professionals, but more often seek assistance from family, friends or other familiar physicians. The patient may then be referred to a hospital setting for a complete and comprehensive evaluation. This is certainly the preferred treatment for those whose depression incapacitates them or renders them suicidal. Also, it may be prudent to initiate treatment on an outpatient basis, especially for those who are sensitive to available medications or have complicating medical problems. However, many depressed individuals are treated outside of hospitals by a variety of professionals who may use varied approaches to treat the depression. As a general rule, though, depression should be carefully evaluated and specific treatment should be tailored to the special needs of each individual. This is most important on an outpatient basis; there multiple professionals can assess the problems rapidly and quickly begin treatment in a supervised setting.

Options for treatment

Modern psychiatry has numerous options available to effectively treat depression. A number of antidepressants are in wide use and frequently cure the illness and prevent its return. Electroconvulsive therapy has advanced to a highly technical, specific and safe manner to treat extremely severe depressive conditions, and recovery can be dramatic and life-saving. Specific therapies involving the individuals and their families are likewise used. Modern methods of therapy educate, instruct and support victims of depression, and help them find ways of coping with their individual problems.

Because depression is both a common and treatable disorder, it is important to recognize and treat the disease before it progresses to the point of suicide.

This column was written by Richard K. Kull, M.D., a Harvard-trained, Board-Certified Psychiatrist who is Deputy Medical Director at Carrier Foundation, a private, non-profit psychiatric facility in Belle Mead, offering psychiatric and addiction recovery services to adolescents and adults.

Seymour Grossman, vice president of the Congregation, and dinner dance; Mrs. Frieda Berkowitz, dinner dance arrangements and treasurer; Leonard Miller, Samuel Panansky, Leona Schreier, ad journal; Mrs. Miriam Novik, special pages; Mrs. Clara Creditor, professional pages and publicity; Mrs. Hannah Fersko, reservations.

Rabbi Nathan Laufer is spiritual leader of Congregation Ahavath Achim. Leonard Miller serves as president.

World Day of Prayer service March 5 at Wesley Methodist

Belleville Church Women United will hold a World Day of Prayer service March 5 at Wesley United Methodist Church, 225 Washington Ave.

World Day of Prayer, a yearly event, joins Church Women United with women, men and children in 170 countries and regions in a movement of "informed prayer and powerful action." The worship celebration this year was written by the women of Australia around the theme: "Choose Life."

Rev. June Hewitt will deliver the message. A social hour at 1 p.m. will be followed by the service at 2 p.m. All are invited.

Fuccello is elected to Hall of Fame

It was ironic that in her worst season, record-wise, Karen Fuccello was awarded an honor that certainly is well deserved.

Fuccello was elected into the New Jersey Coaches Association Hall of Fame. She will be officially inducted into the Hall with a luncheon at Rutgers University on March 21.

Fuccello, entering the finale of the 36th season last Tuesday afternoon, has a career record of 172-123. Her best seasons came in the Jennifer Applella years, when her teams compiled a record of 74-27 during the four year period 1980-84.

It's always nice to receive recognition from your peers. Fuccello said last week that "if I should get a compliment and not can receive it, I feel that my kids appreciate the work I put into the program. It's a twelve month a year job."

Fuccello does a number of jobs in addition to the head coaching duties at Belleville. She has been running the Essex County women's basketball championships for the past ten years. This season, the semi-finals and finals are being held at Belleville High and last Saturday, there were two exciting semi final games that I'll talk more on later.

Fuccello also coaches an A-1 basketball team after the regular season is completed. Some of her previous teams have toured the United States in competition after winning in New Jersey.

In addition to her being named to the Hall of Fame, Fuccello received another honor when she was asked to be a floor coach for the tryouts leading to the prestigious Sports Festival. The Sports Festival is the feeder program to the 1988 Olympic Games.

The tryouts are at Rutgers University and Fuccello is very happy about that challenge.

I've always wanted to do something like that. She said. It should be a nice opportunity.

Perhaps the next Hall of Fame that Fuccello could be inducted to is the Belleville Hall of Fame. Certainly a coach with 172 victories and a winning percentage of .58 percent deserves recognition. Fuccello has put in 14 years of service to the basketball program and also is the head tennis and girls track coach. She has held the tennis coaching job since 1977 and the track position since 1982.

Congratulations to Coach Fuccello on this latest endeavor and continued Good Luck with her next project.

Essex County Tournament
The Essex County girls basketball semi-finals were held last Saturday afternoon at Belleville High with some surprising results. In game one Irvington and Nutley met in a rematch of last year's exciting semi. However, this season there was much suspense, except for the waning moments, when Nutley made a comeback. Irvington seemed to dominate the game with Tammy Hammond leading the way. The senior, who will attend USC, next fall, had 27 points before leading out mid way in the final frame. Without Hammond, Irvington became a little unglued and Nutley hit a 28 point second half over the final four minutes.

In game two, East Orange ended Sharaz High School's four year reign on the county crown with a 46 point victory. The East Orange team was very well coached. They handled the Sharaz pressure very well and dictated the action from the second quarter. Only a run by Sharaz held way through the third quarter kept it interesting.

When the fourth quarter began, I figured Irvington to be the dark horse. However, based on its performance against Sharaz, there is a vote for East Orange to win its first county crown since 1980.

Junior Varsity Success
The Belleville girls junior varsity basketball team won a basketball journey last weekend, defeating Cedar Grove and University High School. While the varsity struggles with a 17 mark this winter, the junior varsity is 11-5. Next week we'll take a closer look at Debbie Meola's team and the prospects for next season. For now, congratulations to Debbie Meola and her team for an outstanding job.

Athlete of the Week
This week it goes to Greg Morelli of the junior track team. The sophomore ran the mile and two mile at the county championships last week, finishing with times of 5:18 and 17:27 respectively. Besides also to jog Paul Lamoreaux who threw a personal best of 90'6" in the shot put at the counties.

Some Observations

Bob Hutchison has an outstanding jump shot. If he keeps working during the off season, the junior will be a player to watch next season for the boys' basketball team. If Leon Puentes and Ted Sochaski continue to develop, the boys' team of '86-87 will be a strong group. I don't know about you, but it seems to me that the officiating at the boys and girls basketball games has been dismal this winter. There have been a number of questionable calls and a lot of missed calls. This isn't the reason why our varsity teams are having off seasons, but it would be nice to see the kids receive a fair shot. The girls and boys' teams have had their chances, but have missed a number of ball shots. Speaking of officials, Roger McCann is one of the best. He seems to take an interest with the players on both teams and calls an excellent game. Hopefully, there will be more like him in future seasons. Don't you feel sorry for poor Wade Boggs. It was a crime that the major league baseball arbitrator ruled against him. That means he has to "accept" the Red Sox offer of $1.35 million for this year, rather than the $1.85 million he was looking for. How can the poor man make ends meet with a paltry salary like that? Don't be surprised if there is a players strike. After all, it must be tough to survive when the average salary is just $400,000.00 per year.

Wrestlers lose to P-burg in state sectional match

By Joe Piegario

Belleville's wrestling team took it on the chin as it absorbed a 42-6 loss in the State Sectional Championships. The loss to Phillipsburg leaves the Bucs with a 10-4 record for the year as they prepare for the District 7A Championships this weekend at Kearny High School.

The 42-6 score seems ridiculous, but fans at Phillipsburg "P-Burg" were right over which coach, rather than the score, would indicate the quality of the match. The Bucs were locked in a close match with Phillipsburg's referees only to have the bout stolen from them by a foul point or some other infraction.

Five Buc grapplers were victims of foul calls which led to eventual defeat. Joey Corio was penalized a point for "verbal abuse" and lost a highly controversial 8-7 decision to Jason Hawk. Additionally, Corio was penalized a total of three points in his bout with Hawk. That means the Phillipsburg wrestler scored only five points on his own; the rest were given from the referee.

Moinda Nardone was the new man in line. A victim to an illegal leg kick, Nardone was penalized a total of three points on foul and caution and lost a 9-6 decision to Darren Anthony. Although Nardone did not wrestle as well as he has all season, the match should have easily gone his way.

"Number three in the. Let's give it to Belleville," but parade was done silent. With the score 6-1 in his favor, and a foul in the making, Silvestri lost a point to his foe in the most ridiculous call of the night. After the official blew the whistle as the boys went out of bounds, Silvestri released his hold of Chris LaGullo. Evidently, the man in stripes forgot the blow the whistle and awarded an escape point to LaGullo. Thirty seconds later, Silvestri was warned for stalling and never recovered. Phillipsburg had intimidated another referee and dark lost an 8-6 decision.

Let's face it. Until Phillipsburg is forced to live by the rules, the same as the rest of New Jersey does, Belleville will never come close to winning a match in the "Pit." There is too much bias and too much rule bending in Phillipsburg's favor to ever get as far as that.

While it is an honor to be chosen as one of only four teams to compete in Group 4, Section 2, it is an embarrassment that it is treated as we were down in Maryland.

John Stampone lost a 5-2 decision to Mike Koss, but was the victim of the referee's errors of omission, rather than commission. Koss used a tight waist and a far ankle rule to neutralize Stampone's efforts. The problem there is that the high school rule book lacks that style of wrestling as "stalling." Phillipsburg won another close match on an equally petty lack of the rule book and Belleville for the dust one more time.

The only winners for the Bucs were Phil Zambrot at 135 and Cammie Etoune at 141 pounds. Zambrot was a 4-3 winner, while Etoune won by a 9-2 margin.

The rest of the lineup was evenly matched. Mike Iuliano made only one mistake, but he made it in the bout and was pinned in the close 6-4 decision to Jason Hawk and Marc Giosone proved totally disinterested as he lost a decision in the heavyweight bout. Belleville forfeited at 170 and 188 pounds.

The shame of the entire fracas is that no one did anything to stop Phillipsburg as it blatantly broke every rule in the book. Coach Rick Thompson did basically as he pleased, instructing his boys on moves when they were supposed to be receiving medical care for injuries on at least five different occasions. Additionally, Thompson held up bouts on three other occasions to issue instructions to his boys while Buc grapplers had to stand around and wait until he was done.

Let's face it. Until Phillipsburg is forced to live by the rules, the same as the rest of New Jersey does, Belleville will never come close to winning a match in the "Pit." There is too much bias and too much rule bending in Phillipsburg's favor to ever get as far as that.

While it is an honor to be chosen as one of only four teams to compete in Group 4, Section 2, it is an embarrassment that it is treated as we were down in Maryland.

Rec department forms women's softball league

The Belleville Recreation Department is forming a women's softball league which will play its games on either weekday mornings or nights.

The season will begin the week of May 5.

A maximum of 20 players will be allowed on each team roster, three-quarters of which must be Belleville residents.

No registration fee is required and each team will be provided with equipment. Teams must, however, supply their own shirts which must be of the same color with a number. Only the first eight teams which respond will be accepted into the league. Response deadline is April 11. A minimum of four teams will be needed in order to conduct the league.

Trophies will be awarded to league champions.

For information or to reserve a spot in the league, contact the recreation department at 450-3422. When calling in, please specify if you prefer a morning or evening league.

ren County. If BHS is ever matched up against Phillipsburg again as a visitor, we should decline the invitation. Our boys work too hard all year to wind up their season with such a black mark on their record.

Buc notes: Prospective matches with Edison and Harrison were cancelled due to red tape. That means our boys will be going into the district with fewer matches than everyone except Glen Ridge and Harrison. We'll have to wait and see how much that hurts us at the seeding table. The districts will be held this Friday and Saturday at Kearny High School.

Apologies to Betty Ann Buckley for omitting her name in the Tim Buckley spotlight two weeks ago.

Sure, Betty Ann! Good luck at Kearny, guys remember.

The Road To The States.

Buc hoopsters lose five straight games

After making some impressive strides two weeks ago, the Belleville boys' basketball team has hit the rough road losing five straight games. This past week the boys were stopped by Teaneck and Ridgewood in inter-conference games.

Belleville took a 4-17 record into the final week of action. The Bucs played host to Kennedy last Tuesday and will be host to Passaic tonight at 7:30 p.m. Tomorrow evening, the season will draw to a close at Jersey City, when St. Anthony's is the competition. Game time for that contest is 7:30 p.m.

Head coach Rocco Colucci is a man who does not make excuses. All season long, he has noted that his young team needs work. It hopes to be competitive with the NNJL powers in future years.

"We still have a way to go," Colucci said last weekend. "We started to see progress a few weeks ago; however, we've been sluggish lately. I don't know what to say. We're lacking the intensity we had earlier in the season and the kids know they have to be 100 percent in that department. We have to carry our intensity into the summer if we hope to be strong next season in future years."

The Bucs fell to Teaneck, 76-60, despite good efforts from juniors Bob Hutchison and sophomore Leoh Puentes. Hutchison and Puentes tallied 20 points each, with Puentes' points coming in an unusual way for Belleville. The sophomore was effective from the foul line, hitting 12 of 13 from the stripe and connecting on four free throws.

Teaneck, usually a strong team, took a 16-11 advantage after one quarter and extended that margin to 36-27 at halftime. The Highlanders kept up the pressure in the third quarter, outscoring Belleville by a 22-19 advantage and took a 58-46 lead over the final eight minutes.

The fourth quarter was the only frame in which Belleville outscored the visitors, taking the quarter 20-15 and falling by seven points.

In addition to Hutchison and Puentes, sophomore Ted Sochaski finished with 16. Chris Goldrick and Loung La had four each and Frank Morelli closed with two.

Last Friday night, the Bucs traveled to Ridgewood and lost 76-60.

In this game, Belleville took an early advantage thanks to some tremendous shooting by Sochaski.

The sophomore, who leads the team in scoring with better than 16 points a game, tore the net in the first quarter by scoring 13 points. The Bucs ran up a seven-point lead at one point in the first frame and settled for a 17-12 lead after one.

The Bucs boosted the lead to nine points, 21-12, as Puentes jumper and later, 23-14 on a layup by Puentes. However, Ridgewood made a comeback. The Bergen County team scored the next four points before Sochaski hit one of two free throws. Ridgewood then scored the next four, cutting the Belleville lead to 24-22 before Sochaski hit a jumper to give Belleville a 26-22 margin.

The Bucs never lost the lead for the remainder of the half, taking a 34-30 lead into intermission. Key down the first half was Goldrick, who was perfect from the foul line, 4-4, and added a layup at the buzzer.

Ridgewood forged its first lead since early in the game mid way through the third quarter. After grabbing a 41-40 lead, they did not relinquish the advantage for the remainder of the contest.

The closest Belleville got in the final quarter was eight points, 62-54, but Ridgewood had an answer for each Belleville comeback attempt.

Despite the loss, Sochaski played a marvelous game, hitting for 26 points. Puentes finished with 12. La, Hutchison and Goldrick had six and Mark Huamani finished with four.

NOTES Bucs are 1-11 in NNJL, 3-6 outside the conference. Sochaski has scored 345 points over the first 21 games this year, an average of 16.4 ppg. Puentes, after battling a scoring slump the past two weeks, brought his average back to an even 10 ppg with the strong games against Teaneck and Ridgewood.

Hutchison is third in scoring with 9.2 ppg. Hutch leads in free throw percentage, at 75 percent, however the junior has taken only 12 shots and has not had a free throw attempt in the past seven games. Goldrick is second in free throws, at 70 percent and Puentes has moved ahead of Sochaski into third place at 59 percent. Sochaski is right behind at 58. Puentes leads club in free throws attempted, 83. Sochaski is second at 81. Buc shooting 57 percent as a team. Bucs were worried about the services of Donald Washington for Teaneck and Ridgewood, but the senior was expected to return for the final three games.

Girls' basketball team (2-17) defeated by tough Ridgewood and Nutley squads

After a poor effort against Nutley, the Belleville girls' basketball team rebounded with a good performance versus Ridgewood. Unfortunately, it wasn't good enough for a victory.

Belleville took a 2-17 record into Tuesday's game at Paterson Kennedy. The contest marked the conclusion of the 85-86 season.

Head coach Karen Fucello, who is riding her worst season, record wise, in her 14 year career, was disappointed with the Nutley performance.

"Nutley was sluggish," she said, "and we should have taken advantage when we had the chance. We played a very poor game and couldn't get anything started."

For the record, the final count was 53-29. Nutley took command early, holding a 12-3 margin after one quarter.

The Lady Bucs did make some strides in the second, cutting the deficit to 23-13 at intermission. That's not included in that score was a number of missed layups and free throws. Belleville missed five free throws in the first half, two of which were on the front end of a one in one.

In the third quarter Belleville came as close as six points, 23-17 when Desirée Johansen connected on a jumper and 25-19 on a Judy Nehila jump shot.

However, the Maroon Raiders ran off six straight points before a Nehila layup reduced the deficit to 10-31.21. Belleville never came closer than 10 points the remainder of the game.

Johansen led the Bucs with 12 points. Nehila closed with six. Simone Edwards had five. Tracy Delaney finished with four and Laura Caruso had two.

The team played host to Ridgewood last Monday, falling 48-44. It was a good effort on Belleville's part, a sign that the girls can play effectively with the better conference teams.

In the first quarter, Belleville led, 7-6 on a Caruso layup, a Nehila free throw and a layup and jumper by Caruso and Johansen respectively. After a Ridgewood basket, Belleville took its final lead at 9-8 when Johansen hit for a layup.

Ridgewood took control over the final minute, scoring four of the last five points and molding a 12-10 margin after one.

In the second, Belleville forged a 14-11 tie on a Johansen jump, but after Dina DeMedici missed a free throw, Ridgewood hit for eight straight points to take the lead for good. A jumper by Caruso and a free throw by Nehila was all the scoring Belleville could muster over the final three minutes. Ridgewood led, 24-17 at intermission.

It looked as if Ridgewood was going to take control in the third quarter, opening a 30-19 advantage. However, Belleville fought back, scoring seven unanswered points. Johansen hit for two jumpers, Caruso followed a jumper shot and Nehila hit for a free throw, cutting the deficit to four points, 30-26. After four Ridgewood points, Caruso nailed a jumper to end the third quarter.

As has been her pattern in past games, Nehila went to work with a vengeance in the final frame. The sophomore scored 10 of her fourth leading points in the final eight minutes and ignited a Belleville comeback.

She started with a jumper, cutting the lead to 34-30. After a Ridgewood basket, Nehila came back with a jump shot, making it 36-32. To Ridgewood's credit, they did not fold. The Bergen County school tallied the next six points before Nehila cashed in on two free throws, making it 42-34. It was now time for freshman Simone Edwards to make her mark.

After scoring just two points over the first three quarters, Edwards hit on back to back layups, helping Belleville move to within six points, 44-38. It became even more interesting seconds later when Nehila hit a jump shot to make it 44-40.

The teams then exchanged baskets over the final minute, with Caruso and Nehila hitting jumpers to keep Belleville close.

On the day, Nehila scored 16 points. Caruso scored a season high 12. Johansen finished with 10 and Edwards had six.

The game marked the final home court appearance for the three game seniors on the Buc roster. Johansen, DeMedici and Tracy Delaney closed out their varsity careers on the home court last Monday and were presented roses for their efforts.

"If you hit your foul shots, you can win," said Fucello, noting her teams 6 of 13 effort from the stripe against Ridgewood. "Once again, mental errors hurt us. We just can't afford them if we expect to win on this level."

NOTES: Nehila continues to lead team in scoring with 12.9 ppg average. She should finish the season as the teams leading scorer and free throw shooter. The sophomore is shooting 53 percent from the line. Johansen is second in scoring, at 9.7 and is shooting 48 percent from the line. Girls are still shooting 46 percent from foul line. Johansen leads team in free throws attempted, 99. Edwards and Caruso battling for third in team scoring. Currently Edwards is at 5.7 ppg and Caruso, 5.1. Don-darski is second in free throw shooting with 52 percent accuracy.

Winter track team closes out season

Closing out the winter season in impressive fashion, the Belleville indoor track team took part in the county championships last week.

Next week, the Times will wrap up the 1985-86 campaign for John Tosato and Barbara Gaudry's crew. Also, we'll take a sneak preview of the upcoming outdoor season.

The runners and throwers did a nice job at the county championships last week, competing against some of the best athletes in the state.

Essex County has had some phenomenal performances this year. Tosato noted. The top five mile relay times in the state this winter were from Essex County. There have been some excellent performances from the County this winter.

Matched up against the good competition, Belleville came through with some good efforts.

Sophomore Joyce Loungo ran a 6:12 mile and came back with a 43:16 two mile. Another sophomore, Erica Towns, ran an 8:1 in the 60 yard dash and also took part in the quarter mile.

A junior, Latette Colon, ran the quarter and half mile, finishing with times of 35:0 and 2:32 respectively. Sophomore Greg Moriello doubled in the difficult mile and two mile, running times of 5:18 and 11:27.

Tosato was very happy with the performance of Moriello, especially his 5:18 mile.

John Junior Zorio ran a 8:25 mile and 2:19 half mile. Senior Willie Chandler, who had an excellent outdoor season last spring, appears in good shape for this year. He ran a 53.8 quarter mile last week and a 5:56 80 yard dash.

Senior J.R. Di Vincenzo ran a 7:0 in the 60 yard dash and a 57.0 in the quarter mile. Freshman Dave Rosamilia finished in 8:28 in the mile and freshman Michele Compitiano competed in the quarter, running a 7:0.

Rounding out the runners, freshman Dawn Cotter, ran the shot put in 80.6, junior Donna Lee Baudelin finished the two mile in 14:33 and senior Nick Compitiano ran the half mile in 2:21.

Compitiano, who is expected to have a good outdoor season this spring, is suffering from a pulled hamstring and has not been 100 percent.

For the weight men and women, Eric Monahan, a sophomore, threw 265 in the shot put and junior Jon-Paul Lenczuk had a personal best in that event of 30.3.

For the girls, freshman Dawn Cotter threw the shot in 21.5 and senior Sandy Cotter had a personal best of 28.3 1/2, also in the shot.

Boys' team wins two games in junior basketball league

The seventh-eighth grade boys' basketball team, sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department, finished its season with two victories in the Suburban Junior Boys Basketball League.

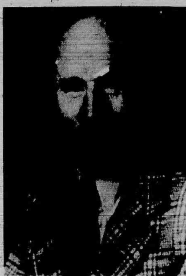

Belleville, led by Andy Duhaime and Doug Hoogendyk, defeated South Orange, 37-32.

In its second victory, Belleville defeated Verona at home, 55-37.

Football club honors J. Whelan on Sunday

St. Brendan's Gaelic Football Club of N.J. will honor James Whelan of Belleville, grand marshal of the Kearny-Harrison St. Patrick's Day Parade on Sunday, March 2, 3:30 p.m., at the Olde Sod Tavern in North Arlington.

James Whelan

Whelan, a delegate to the Newark St. Patrick's Day Parade for 30 years and the Kearny St. Patrick's Day Parade for five years, is a member and former vice president to the St. Brendan's Minor Gaelic Football Club of Kearny.

He is a member of St. Peter's Church and the Knights of Columbus Council 835, both in Belleville.

Whelan, who emigrated to the United States in 1949 from Ireland, is married to the former Mary Dempsey. They have five children.

Joey Cerreto keeps up family tradition

By Joe Piegaro

This week's spotlighted BHS grappler is sophomore sensation Joey Cerreto.

So far this year, Cerreto has compiled a 1-3 record with five wins, two technical falls and four forfeits. Earlier in the year, he was worried he would never get to wrestle another bout as team after team forfeited his weight class. It seems Cerreto's reputation for wrestling excellence preceded him wherever he went.

Now however, teams have no choice but to wrestle him as the District 7 Championships are upon us. As the overwhelming choice to win a gold medal at 115 pounds, Cerreto is looking toward the Regionals as his ticket to the States in Princeton.

The third of three sons, Cerreto has had the good fortune to learn from his brothers Carmine and Dominic. Carmine is now a Marine, stationed in Hawaii and Dominic is starting for Rutgers University as a standout 126 pounder.

The youngest Cerreto already has a solid foothold in the Belleville record books. As a freshman, he had a 20-4-1 record, best ever in BHS history. Coupled with this year's totals, he owns a lifetime 37-7-1 slate, good for 22nd place on the all-time list. Older brother Dom is the all-time win leader for Belleville with 80, but Joey is destined to pass that early in his senior year.

Cerreto's success if no flash in the pan. He is a year round wrestler as well as a member of the prestigious Edge Wrestling Club, owned and operated by the Monaco wrestling family. Cerreto's summers are spent on tournaments throughout the tri-state area and his off time from school almost always has something to do with wrestling.

Coach Joe Nisvoccia believes Cerreto is ticked for stardom. "He is probably the most naturally talented individual I have ever coached. Matched with his dedication to the sport, I can't see how he can avoid being a state-placed wrestler... maybe even this year. I'm counting on him to be one of my leaders next year, both on and off the mat."

With two years and a bit of this one not yet done, Cerreto will undoubtedly be a leader for his BHS team. Before his career is over, he will lead as a team captain, as the number one man in wins, as a district and regional champ, and with a break or two, Belleville's second state champion.

County softball league needs teams for roster

Teams are being sought by the Essex County Tavern Softball League to complete its eight, or 12-team roster which plays its games on Sunday mornings. The league will follow ASA rules and use an arc pitch. For information, contact Joe Piegaro at 748-3828.

Picture book contest open to students, adults

The Belleville Public Library will sponsor its National Library Week Picture Book Contest for 1986.

The contest is open to students, grades K-12, as well as adults. The books written may be fiction or non-fiction, should be illustrated with original drawings or pictures and should be made from construction paper, oaktag or any other substantial material.

Each entry must have on its cover the name of the book, the author's name, address, telephone number and school and teacher's name if the author is a student.

One of the main requirements for the contest is that the book must be original and not copied from another author. All entries in the contest must be brought to the library by Saturday, March 8, 1986, at 5 p.m.

Judging will be done on the basis of creativity, proper English usage and artistry. All entries must be legible or they will not be judged. Books with a mixture of handwritings, such as a combination of cursive and printing in the same paragraph, will not be judged. Correct paragraph and margins should be utilized.

Judges for the contest include David Bryant, library director; Adrea Cohen, assistant library director; Cindy LaRue, reference and young peoples librarian; Kathleen Mollica, branch librarian; and Alice Norris, children's librarian.

Questions regarding the contest should be addressed to Adrea Cohen or David Bryant at 759-9200.

Division on Aging hosts transportation meeting

The Essex County Division on Aging will convene a public hearing on Essex County's special transportation plan for fiscal 1987 on Thursday, March 6, 10 a.m., at the YWCA, 386 Main St., Orange.

The plan, developed under the Senior Citizen and Disabled Resident Transportation Assistance Act, describes the way the county will expand and coordinate services to the elderly and disabled through the Essex County special transportation system.

In addition, the plan describes how money from the casino revenue fund will be used to upgrade equipment for the county system and to purchase vehicles which are accessible to people in wheelchairs.

Summaries of the plan will be available after Feb. 24 at these locations: the main library in each municipality in Essex County; the Essex County Division on Aging, 86 Washington St., East Orange; the Essex County Division of Planning, 235 Franklin Ave., Belleville; and the Essex County Office on the Handicapped, 125 Fairview Ave., Cedar Grove.

For information, contact Roberta Schoenberg of the Essex County Division on Aging at 678-9700.

Proud of Mary's

For a restaurant with origins dating back to Revolutionary times Proud Mary's in Bloomfield does a fine job of keeping up with the times. This restaurant caters to two distinct appetites. Those who enjoy a traditional full course dinner to those who prefer a lighter, more novel style meal.

The first floor of Proud Mary's is the dining area, which is rich with wood, deep tones, and candlelight. The waiters and waitresses were all young, very friendly, and a mark of distinction had a full knowledge of menu and bar items. This was observed on several visits to Mary's.

The lighter menu features salads (including unusual items like Mary's bean and tuna salad, or the cold pasta salad), omelettes, oversized deli and club house sandwiches, and 12 different burgers, which are, according to Mary, the biggest and best ever tasted.

The appetizer menu is also varied, and can be ordered as an appetizer to a meal, or alone, as a snack with drinks. The Mexican pizza is a delicious, spicy combination of melted cheese, refried beans, tomatoes, and lettuce, served on a flat tortilla. It is definitely a unique and scrumptious new member of the currently vogue Mexican snacks.

The entree menu offers a variety of interesting meals, all served with that special Proud Mary's touch. Veal, steak, fettuccine, seafood, ribs, and four chicken dishes are on the dinner menu, which is served after 5 p.m. They are accompanied by a tossed salad, potato, and vegetable. The Chicken Terriaki is a delicious dish consisting of marinated chicken, snow peas, and rice, and one of the more unusual offerings.

On Saturday and Sunday, Proud Mary's has a special menu offering of complete prime rib dinners for two.

Homemade cakes, pies, and hagen dazs ice cream are the delicious finales for Proud Mary's meals. There is also a large bar menu, and a special lunch menu, also. On Fridays and Saturday nights, there is live entertainment in Proud Mary's piano bar upstairs, which is popular with both young and older adults.

Proud Mary's is located at 409 Franklin Street in Bloomfield. The phone number is 429-9246 and the hours are Monday through Saturday, 11:30 a.m. - 2 a.m., and on Sundays, brunch is served 10:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. and dinner 4 p.m. - midnight.

Fire Safety Tips:

Fire safety for senior citizens

What two things do the young and the old have in common? Frequent burns and fires.

Senior citizens represent part of the largest population segment involved in fire deaths and injuries annually. Due to age, some seniors experience losses in abilities to see, hear or respond quickly. But they still have their common sense and that, coupled with a knowledge of fire prevention, can help save lives.

The Belleville Fire Department advises seniors to exercise care around heat sources and follow these safety rules:

- Keep large, deep ashtrays handy for smokers. Smoking is a major cause of fire deaths, especially among the elderly.
- Check smoking areas and furniture for hot cigarettes and ashes.
- Do not empty ashtrays until the contents are cold. Try wetting them to make sure.
- Never smoke in bed or while reclining on any upholstered furniture.
- Keep robes, housecoats and other loose-fitting garments out of the kitchen while cooking. Clothing fires are the most frequent for seniors and many of them are due to careless smoking.

SHERIFF'S SALE
SUPERIOR COURT OF NEW JERSEY, CHANCERY DIVISION, ESSEX COUNTY, DOCKET NO. F-192-83; ROSEMONTE MORTGAGE INC., A New Jersey Corporation, PLAINTIFF vs. COLEY WILLIAMS, and NINA WILLIAMS, his wife, et al.; DEFENDANTS Execution For Sale of Mortgaged Premises.
By virtue of the above stated writ of Execution, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by Public Auction, in SHERIFF'S OFFICE, Essex County Court Building in Newark, on Tuesday, the 25th day of March next, at one-thirty (1:30) P.M. (Prevaling Time) all that certain tract or Parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of East Orange, in the County of Essex and State of New Jersey:
BEGINNING in the Eastern line of North 19th Street at a point distant two hundred ninety-one and fifty-eight hundredths feet Southerly from 4th Avenue thence Easterly at right angles to North 19th Street one hundred and eight feet thence South and parallel to said Street thirty feet thence Westerly and at right angles to said Street one hundred and eight feet to the Eastern line thereof thence along the same North thirty feet to the BEGINNING.
BEING the same premises known and designated as No. 190 North 19th Street East Orange, New Jersey. Also known as the Tax Map of the City of East Orange at Lot 34, Block 70.
The above description is in accordance with a survey dated December 11, 1967 made by William D. Marzro, Surveyor.
It is intended to describe the same premises set forth in Deed of Robert Rogers and Alfreda Rogers, his wife, to Coley Williams and Nina Williams, his wife, dated May 25, 1973 and recorded with the Register's Office of Essex County on June 1, 1973, in Book 4444 of Deeds for said County, at Page 935 et seq. A DEPOSIT OF 20% OF THE BID PRICE IN CASH OR CERTIFIED FUNDS IS REQUIRED AT THE TIME OF SALE.
The approximate amount of the Judgment to be satisfied by said sale is the sum of SEVENTEEN THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED FIFTY FIVE DOLLARS and THIRTY SEVEN CENTS, ($17,855.75), together with the costs of this sale.
The Sheriff reserves the right to adjourn the sale from time to time as provided by Law.

Copies of federal income tax returns from prior years not only serve as good financial records, but they can serve as guides for filling out future returns as well, according to the Internal Revenue Service.
A good deal of information may be utilized from old copies, especially for those taxpayers whose financial situations stay almost the same from year to year, according to the IRS.
