Public Works building ready for construction

By Michelle Jeannotte

The Belleville Board of Commissioners awarded a contract last week for construction of a new Public Works building.

A contract was awarded last Tuesday night to CSR Construction Co. of Nutley who bid $312,500 for the project. CSR was one of six construction companies bidding for the project.

Other bids were as follows: K. Weinberg Construction $328,000; Kelged Construction $349,800; Ridge Construction $372,000; N.A. Builders $375,400; and C.H. Construction $424,300.

According to Neil Siciliano, township engineer, CSR Construction Co. should begin construction of the one-story metal-frame building approximately April 1. A contract between CSR and the township has not yet been signed, he said Tuesday.

Once construction begins, Siciliano said, the new building should be completed within six months.

The one-story building will be built on the Cortlandt Street site which housed the two-story Public Works building destroyed by fire Nov. 12, 1984. The new structure will house administrative offices, a locker room, with showers and a storage area for township vehicles.

Two offices will be built on the site for the superintendent of Public Works and one for a radio dispatcher. The remainder of the building will contain an open office for assistant superintendents of the department and a storage area, Siciliano said.

Offices for the Commissioner of Public Works and department secretaries will be housed in the new municipal complex scheduled for completion within the next two years.

As of now, the Department of Public Works has its offices at 383 Washington Ave. Workers in the department have been working out of trailers on the Cortlandt Street site and will continue to do so until completion of the new building.

The new Public Works building will not be used for a maintenance garage, Siciliano added, noting that a maintenance garage remains on the Cortlandt Street site.

Siciliano also said that the new Public Works building will be constructed facing Stephens Street rather than Cortlandt Street because of easier accessibility, Stephens Street, he said, is wider and has less traffic congestion.

The building, Siciliano said, will also be constructed with the anticipation of extending it in the future, Siciliano said.

Two driveways will be installed on Stephens Street - one for cars and the other for trucks and sweepers traveling to the maintenance garage in the rear of the building. The original driveway on Cortlandt Street will remain, Siciliano added.

Empty Lot - All that remains as a result of a two-alarm fire is an empty lot at the intersection of Overlook and Washington avenues. The fire, which broke out early last Monday, destroyed two buildings containing business and apartments.

Fire officials investigate cause of second blaze

By Christopher Bifani
A two-alarm fire, which destroyed two Washington Avenue buildings and damaged a third, could have been caused by natural gas.

"We're pursuing the possibility of natural gas causes," Deputy Chief Walter Beresford, the fire official in charge of investigating the blaze, said.

As of Tuesday, Beresford said the fire is still under investigation. "We're still interviewing people," he added.

Beresford noted that some Belleville residents smelled gas and heard muffled explosions. He expressed hope that others might come forward with information concerning the fire.

According to a Belleville Fire Department report, gas had ruptured in the area of the gas furnaces and cleaning machines in the building owned by J.P. Cleaners.

"These flames were not extinguished until Public Service shut gas in the street," according to Deputy Chief Joseph Santiglia's report.

Although Belleville firefighters turned off the gas at the meter valve within the building, PSE & G Spokesman Neil Brown said the utility was not notified to turn off the gas at the street valve until almost an hour after the fire began.

"We received a call at 5:11 a.m. (Monday, March 10) and not before that," Brown said. The fire began at 4:17 a.m.

The blaze, which required the assistance of both Newark and Nutley units, was preceded by another fire in the same building seven hours before, but Deputy Chief Beresford said the fires are definitely unrelated.

He said a 13-year-old Belleville juvenile was charged with criminal mischief in the first fire and that firemen had initially shut off the gas at the meter valve in response to the call.

The first fire was extinguished with only minor damage and Deputy Chief Santiglia authorized a firewatch, which includes men on the scene and hooked up firehose to guard against a rekindling of the blaze.

When the officer in charge, Captain Robert Reed, was satisfied that there was no threat of a rekindling, he recommended to Santiglia that the firewatch be called off.

Santiglia responded by calling off the firewatch and between 11 p.m. and midnight (Sunday, March 9), the firemen left the scene.

According to Nutley Police, officers checked the fire site at 4:02 a.m. and "saw no signs of smoke or fire."

But by 4:17 a.m., the building was fully involved with fire and residents in adjacent buildings were evacuated.

The fire involved J.P. Cleaners and two apartments at 543 Washington Ave. "Gino's Pizzeria and two apartments at 545 Washington Ave. and a building at 547 Washington Ave."

Santiglia's fire report said that all firemen involved, including Capt. Thomas Nyswacker who collapsed at the scene, were possibly exposed to heated perchloroethylene fumes.

While the second fire is under internal investigation by Deputy Chief Beresford, there is growing public outcry for an independent investigation.

Twenty Belleville residents were left homeless following the blaze, most of whom are now residing with relatives.

Hicock & Quigley named to posts at First DeWitt

The Board of Directors of First DeWitt Savings & Loan Association has elected Robert K. Hicock to the post of president and Michael J. Quigley III to the post of chairman and chief executive officer of the 40-year-old savings institution.

Hicock, who succeeds the late Henrik Tyedt, was also elected a member of the board of directors. He has been associated with First DeWitt and its predecessors for 28 years, having served as treasurer, assistant secretary, secretary, assistant vice president, vice president, senior vice president and executive vice president.

A member of the board of directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, Hicock is also a member of the Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce and presently serves on the executive board of the Belleville Bloomfield Manufacturers Association.

Besides being active in the First Presbyterian Church in Caldwell and in the Boy Scouts Troop 1 in North Caldwell, Hicock is also a member of the Bloomfield Kiwanis Club.

He resides in North Caldwell with his wife Ann and their three children: Kimberly, 17, David, 15, and Andrew, 12.

In assuming his new position as president of First DeWitt Savings & Loan Association, Hicock has pledged a continuation of the conservative policies that have led to the "steady growth, security, safety and prosperity of First DeWitt."

"In the past year," he said, "our reserves have grown to more than $78 million and our liquidity has increased to more than $20 million. And more importantly, our earnings are now in excess of $3 million, a very substantial record for an association our size."

First DeWitt Savings & Loan Association has offices in Belleville, Bloomfield and four other North Jersey communities.

Michael J. Quigley III, who will assume the post of chairman and chief executive officer of First DeWitt Savings & Loan Association, has been associated with the institution and its predecessors for 23 years.

Quigley served as a board member of the Main Mutual Savings & Loan Association of East Orange, which ultimately merged with the First State Savings of Bloomfield and then, in 1976, merged with the DeWitt Savings & Loan of Belleville.

Quigley, who has a B.S. in business administration and a Doctor of Jurisprudence (JD) from Seton Hall, is chairman of the Executive Committee of First DeWitt, a member of the Insurance Committee, the Loan Committee and the Long Range Planning Committee of the association.

In 1980 Quigley was admitted to membership in the New Jersey Bar. Subsequently, he was admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court of New Jersey and later was admitted to practice before the 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals of Philadelphia.

Quigley, a partner in the law firm of Golden, Lintner, Rothschild, Spagnola & Difazio of Somerville, is a member of the American Bar Association, the New Jersey State Bar Association, the Morris County Bar Association and a member of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America.

He is a 1983 graduate of the Insurance Counsel Trial Academy of Boulder, Colo., and a member of the Defence Research Institute of Chicago.

For the past three years, he has been the Municipal Prosecutor of the Township of Greenback.

Quigley, a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve and a 1977 graduate of the U.S. Army Command & General Staff College of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, holds the U.S. Army Commendation Medal. In addition, he has been awarded the James F. Cantwell Trophy for outstanding Company Grade Officers in the New Jersey National Guard. He is a life member of the Essex Troop.

A graduate of Columbia High School, Quigley is a member of the board of trustees of the Philip Portnoy Humanitarian Association, a former member of the Newark Kiwanis Club and the Maplewood Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus Daniel L. McCormick Council 1331 of South Orange.

He resides in Morris Plains with his wife Marianne and their daughter, Kristen, 3.

John Bruno honored by managers' group

John R. Bruno, president of Bruno Associates, Inc., Bloomfield, was recently honored by the New Jersey Municipal Managers Association (NJMMA) for his part in funding an educational video production, entitled, "Building Bridges to the Legislature."

The show, which was aired for the first time at a NJMMA seminar, was produced for the group's convention last November.

Bruno was presented with a master copy of the tape for his personal library. The tape describes the municipal-legislative relationship when enacting ordinances and legislative law.

The production will be shown at the NJMMA's spring conference in May and will be available for general educational and instructional use upon request.

Bruno is both president of Bruno Associates, a public relations and grants consulting firm specializing in federal state and foundation funding research and grants writing, and Pragma Bio-Tech, a clinical and analytical drug testing company.

THE GLITTERING PILL

It may not be the long-sought-after silver bullet of medical lore. However, a golden pill has recently been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for relief of rheumatoid arthritis. For more than fifty years, gold compounds have been given by injection for joint pain and inflammation. Until now, however, there has been no gold compound that could be swallowed and absorbed for use by the body. This new gold medication is a twenty-five percent gold by weight. It must be stressed that patients need careful medical monitoring to safeguard against adverse reactions. Patients who formerly needed weekly injections may now only require once-a-month doctor visits.

When you need a prescription medication come to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1568, 759-1564. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Convenient aids including walkers, wheel chairs, crutches and canes are sold or rented. We also handle baby needs, greeting cards and Russell Stover candies. Open 9 am-10 pm daily, 9 am-9 pm Sundays.

after the crash to Hackensack Medical Center with a skull fracture. She died five hours later, according to a hospital spokesman.

Her mother, Kathleen, who was driving the car, was treated for possible neck injuries and released from the hospital.

According to Bergen County police, the mother was driving her car on Route 46 east in South Hackensack and was passing through the intersection at Phillips Avenue when the car was struck by a northbound minibus.

A Bergen County police officer said that after the car was struck by the minibus, it careened into a parked truck and a parked car.

The minibus, owned by R.V. Gagliano, Inc. of Wood Ridge, was driven by Nicholas Fatini of Rutherford, police said.

A Bergen County police officer said Tuesday that no charges have been filed.

Fund is set up for fire victims

To help the victims of the recent fire in Belleville, a fund has been set up in the First DeWitt Savings & Loan.

The township's residents, business communities and neighbors are all requested to help generously in this cause.

Donations may be sent to the above fund, c/o Avi Sehgal, Washington Liquors, 481 Washington Ave.

Giordano opposes tax increase in race for school board seat

Belleville Board of Education candidate Michael Giordano not only opposes an increase in school taxes, but believes it is unnecessary.

Instead of a tax hike, he said, Belleville could demand its share of money from the state.

"The State of New Jersey has our money, which is collected in income taxes for school funding," he said. "The fact that they refuse to release our money, which was intended to finance our schools, is cause for us to demand that they obey their own law on school funding."

Collecting more money from the residents, which the New Jersey Supreme Court said was unconstitutional, lies in the face of the thorough and efficient law," he added.

"I am strongly opposed to an increase in taxes," Giordano said. "There is no need to do that while there is a surplus in Trenton."

He elected to a seat on the Belleville Board of Education, Giordano said. "I will insist that the state use the income tax money for what it was intended," the funding of all our schools.

Michael Giordano was born in 1932 in Torrington, Conn. His family moved to Newark when he was 5 and he was educated in the Newark Public School System.

At an early age, Giordano joined the Civilian Conservation Corps and engaged in such duties as soil erosion prevention, road and cabin building, forestry and hunting forest fires.

After two years, Giordano returned to New Jersey and went to work as a heat treator for Breeze Corporation. When World War II began he enlisted and served for three and a half years.

Upon discharge from the service, Giordano married and raised a family. At this point he was employed by American Can Company and was "keeping abreast of world and local events."

As the times changed and the problems which affect neighborhoods began to mount, Giordano started speaking out on the issue.

"I fought to preserve our neighborhoods, our schools, our way of life," he said. "I fought against the new morals which encouraged fifth and illegitimacy."

"I made speeches in Belleville, warning that the fifth which engulfed Newark would soon spread to here," he added.

Today, Giordano considers himself "able to sit with the most knowledgeable on current issues."

(Giordano, a resident of 19 Valley St., appears on line 9A of the ballot in the April 15 school board election. He is one of nine candidates vying for three open seats on the board.

Also on that ballot are: JA Thomas Spillane of Lloyd Place; 2A - Mary Susan Ringan Bloch of Greylock Parkway; 3A Barbara Ciolek of Fairview Avenue; 4A - Daniel Borgo of Van Rye Place; 5A - Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino of Dorchester Terrace; 6A - Catherine Gangerson of Greylock Parkway; 7A - board member Daniel Nazziola of Van Rye Place; and 8A - Richard P. Yanuzzi of Greylock Parkway.

Religious Viewpoint Why to church?

By Rev. Robert Paul,
Formerly of Grace Baptist Church

Why go to church? The real truth of the matter is that many American people are not attending any church. Recent figures show that 68 million Americans have no church connections whatsoever. Thirty seven million of America's children have no religious instruction whatsoever.

Only 5 percent of the entire population of this country attends church on the average Sunday morning and only 2 percent of the entire population attends church services on Sunday evening.

No wonder our crime bill is over $20 billion every year and our correctional institutions are filled with capacity.

Why go to church when I can hear a good gospel program on the TV? No doubt that you can tune in a fine program but the Bible says, "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together" (Hebrews 10:25). It is true that you can worship God in the great outdoors, but I doubt if you really would do that very often.

The Lord Jesus Christ went to church. The Apostle St. Peter went to church. In all probability your parents and your great grandparents went to church and they lived out well, but how about you?

Going to church did not kill them and I am sure that if you went to a Bible preaching church it would help you to live better in life. Why go to church? There are enough hypocrites in the church now. True, but why not be a genuine believer in Christ and show up the hypocrites? One thing worse than a hypocrite is to hide in back of one. The Bible says, "Be thou an example of the believer" (1 Tim 4:1).

You should go to church because it is a testimony. The church bells calling people to assemble together is a testimony to the fact that the Lord Jesus Christ is alive. "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." (Psalm 122).

You should go to church because it works like a tonic, for they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; a churchless community, where men have abandoned, scoffed at or ignored their religious needs is a community on the rapid downgrade.

Bob Roe

Congressman Bob Roe is being elevated to the chairmanship of the permanent congressional committee on Aeronautics and Space Travel. With Bob Roe's elevation to the charmed circle of committee chairmen, New Jersey boasts three permanent committee chairmen.

A committee chairman has his own kingdom, and his favors are sought after by the other 434 congressmen throughout the United States.

Our town is fortunate to have one of the three most important congressmen in the United States represent us at the highest level of elective government. Bob Roe's new position brings greater prestige to him, and as a result, gives Roe the power to do things for his district and the people he represents.

It is the good fortune of the people of our district to be represented by a dedicated public official admired and respected not only by his constituents but equally so by his colleagues in Washington.

Fire investigation

The Belleville Fire Department is investigating itself. It appears that the fire department was called to extinguish a blaze, which it did.

Shortly after firemen left the scene, another fire rose from the ashes of the old. People are wondering if the firemen did an adequate job the first time around. To meet the inquiry, the fire department is conducting an investigation.

There are many citizens among us who think the fire department should not be investigating itself. Moreover, a blue ribbon citizens panel should be appointed to determine the facts around the second fire.

It's no big deal. The fire department should go out of its way to insure that it retains the confidence of the people. If it takes a citizens' committee to obtain that end, so be it.

Ferdinand Marcos

Former President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines lost a legal battle to bar the Philippine government from gaining access to documents that may detail his secret multi-million dollar investments.

That's the way it should be. The current Philippine government thinks that Marcos used Philippine government funds for personal investments. If such is the case, not only should the assets obtained with the government funds be returned, but Marcos should be tried as a criminal.

The Philippine government has established a special commission to recover the vast sums it believes Marcos has taken out of the country. The Reagan administration is cooperating with the Philippine government. Our government could do no less — even though Marcos maintained a personal, friendly relationship with President Reagan and his aides.

Dictators must be stopped

To the editor,

The headline of the March 13 issue of the Belleville Times screamed: "Citizen jam town hall to protest expenditure for municipal complex." I was at that town meeting. It was quite an experience. I came away with the impression: "While the rest of the nation enjoys government by democracy, Belleville citizens suffer under the dictatorial rule of a mayor and four commissioners, all of them part time. Also became convinced that taxpayer action must be taken and fast, to get our town back.

While one citizen after another protested the switch by the commissioners from a planned renovation (already substantially completed) and an addition to Town Hall for a much needed new police headquarters, in the construction of a completely new "state of the art," one of a kind in the nation edifice, they, the commissioners, paid absolutely no heed, making no bones about it, that their privately arranged plan was going to be executed, and "we don't care what you people say, there is nothing they are sure you can do about it."

The mayor, acting as their spokesman "explained," "You, the taxpayers have now been told we want the new municipal building and I won't repeat myself. The town hall is going next door and that is all there is to it." Baby Doc Frazier and Ferdinand Marcos have been deposed for being less direct, they did their self-serving thing surreptitiously.

During the course of last year, plans were finalized including architectural ones at a cost of $15,000 for renovation and the building of the addition. For this purpose, a $10-million bond issue was approved by resolution of the commissioners, the legality of which, in the absence of taxpayer approval, in the form of a referendum, is questioned by many of us.

This $10-million bond issue, the commissioners "explain," is now being used to "totally fund" the Taj Mahal, as one concerned citizen described it. To give you some idea of how totally misleading and deceiving their position is, consider, that a couple of weeks ago, the commissioners awarded a $694,000 contract for architectural plans to a firm from New York City (of all places) after weeding out and eliminating others.

In order to build, they have to acquire two properties. Would you believe they approved the payment of $2,200 to obtain an appraisal for one property, a vacant, ruin of the mill structure?

No, I did not say that this $2,200 was the cost of the appraisal. Everybody knows that figure is thousands away from the true cost of an appraisal. But that is what it cost the taxpayers to obtain this appraisal of $185,000, tens of thousands above what this particular property had been on the market for.

Like Mayor Ed Koch might say, "Something isn't quite kosher." Need I say more? Yes, the next meeting is Tuesday, March 25 at 8 p.m. We must stop the dictators from pricing Belleville "out of the market" with outrageous tax rates, which will surely follow, if their project is rammed through.

Risoli's integrity defended

To the editor,

I am writing to correct some falsehoods printed last week regarding the integrity of Belleville's Republican chairman, Angelo Risoli. He has served as town chairman for several years and should be praised for his efforts on behalf of our party in spite of some harsh treatment from the county organization.

Mr. Risoli's problems with some other members of the party come from the former County Chairman's refusal to recognize any of the Belleville Republican efforts in the 1983 and 1984 elections, even while candidates like Ralph Salerno ran far ahead of their showings in the "Republican" towns like Verona and Nutley.

His refusal to praise county leadership after poll workers and committee people were "stuffed" after working all Election Day, earned him the wrath of an angry Michael Francis, who decided to endorse an opposition slate and give them the right to run "on the line" as his "official" slate.

Those elected on the Francis line are the "large portion" of the committee that has no respect for Angelo Risoli. Mr. Blischak failed to mention that this "large portion" consists of no more than a third of the committee membership even though the Francis endorsed group got the privilege of running on the "Line H" slate with John Kelly and Marion Crecco, neither of whom took a position in the primary. While Mr. Risoli's loyalists were condemned to run on "Line I" with two unknown candidates for sheriff and county executive.

Each of the "Line I" candidates got only 18 percent of the vote, yet Risoli captured two thirds of the seats last June against the wishes of the county chairman and easily defeated the opposition. The "hard working" Republicans who opposed him couldn't drum up support even with Kelly and Crecco on the same line.

Angelo Risoli has proven his popularity more than anyone in this organization. He will continue to serve the interests of Belleville Republicans, and won't be a lackey to party bosses or special interests.

Pisano explains non-candidacy

To the editor,

I, Patricia Pisano, would like to explain to the people of our town the reason I cannot run for the position of the Belleville School Board.

I work for the Essex County Clerk's Office under a judicial budget, which under a N.J. statute makes me ineligible to run for any elected position. However, I will not let this stop me in concerns of our town. For in the future, I hope to be in a position to become a candidate.

to become a candidate.

I would like to thank all of the people who helped me. Since I cannot run this year as planned, I would like to ask all my supporters to please consider giving Thomas Spillane a vote. I feel confident as a homeowner, landlord and parent, that Thomas Spillane is responsible and qualified to be a member of the Belleville School Board of Education.

Who is he?

"All the city was moved, saying, 'Who is this?'"

Matthew 11:10

By Rev. Gerald Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

"When Jesus was come into Jerusalem," He made such a great stir that, as Matthew reports in his gospel account, "all the city was moved, saying, 'Who is this?'"

People did not realize they were asking the most vital question of all: life and death depends on knowing the right answer to it. When people prepare for church membership, if they can respond to that question rightly, they are ready. Everything in true religion depends on it.

A blind man, begging by the wayside, heard a voice speaking to him, felt the touch of a hand on his blank eyes when suddenly he could see the light, he wanted to know who it was that gave him sight.

"Do you believe in the Son of God?" the stranger asked. "Who is He that I might believe in Him?" And the answer, "You have both seen Him and it is He who has given you sight."

"Lord I believe."

That is the history of Christianity — the blind receiving sight and coming to faith in Christ as the Son of God and Savior of the world.

Persecutor Paul, struck down by lightning on the road, called out, "Who are you?" And the answer changed a hate-spouting bigot into a champion of the Christian faith.

Many people use His name, but not in reverence. Many say, "for Christ's sake," but not in prayer. Many have heard of Him, but do not bother to inquire, "Who is He?"

The hard-headed Pharisees could not see God in Christ. "Why, is this strange," said the reactivated blind man, "You who have eyes cannot see Him and I who was blind, I know."

Lord, touch our eyes that we may know who you are and believe.

Motorists Alert! The Ides of March brings forth the resumption of the alternate side of the street parking regulations for street cleaning purposes, so bear in mind that starting Monday, March 17 you had better have your vehicle parked on the proper side of the street to avoid getting a parking ticket violation.

Retired school No. 9 principal Joe Grosch is sure enjoying retirement in an enviable manner, travel is his forte. We came upon the popular local educator recently heading for the Belleville Travel Service office to pick up tickets for another junket.

Our relationship goes back to the days of Belleville High School athletics during the late twenties and early thirties. The retired school master related how on a recent trip to Florida, he came upon the Blue and Gold star football team to Art Leadbeater who was the end of all the fellows because he had a flashy Willis Knight roadster and captured the attention of all the beauties of the day, indeed marrying one of the charmers.

Mr. Grosch explained the old football hero was doing fine in the sunshine state and wanted him to tell all the old timers back in Belleville he wished to be remembered — much had been discussed by them on a cruise trip put together by the former Belleville as they traveled down the road of memorabilia while they rode the gentle swells of placid seas. Bon voyage Joe on your next trip. We know you like the sea, having been an "old salt" Navy officer in WW II.

Admonition: those who disdain prolonged waits in long lines, especially in banking institutions, should avoid banking on days Social Security and pension checks are received and the day after in the early hours. It is not unusual to wait in serried lines over 30 minutes.

It might be wise if speed lines were set up, as in shopping centers, for fast transaction to be processed. Perhaps the stand bankers might benefit from the super market manager's policies.

With the April 15 school board election looming to the forefront, a series of campaign rallies are being staged to enhance the activity of the campaign which represents a wide field of aspirants than in most past years.

While there is an undercurrent of rumors of support of various new aspirants from those having close ties to the school administration or activists who have, in the past catapulted newcomers to unexpected surprise victories, the early trend seems to favor the two incumbents and former Board trustee Tom Spillane whose kick off rally proved a huge success and bodes well for his victory.

Most voter reaction in discernible circles reflects concern over the prospect of higher local taxes resulting from higher school and town tax increases which have been projected by knowledgeable Board trustee Gabe Nazziola as being $131.50 for the school budget increase and $105 town increase caused by the $10 million bond plus interest payments for the new town hall totaling a $236.50 yearly increase on a property assessed at $50,000.

A conflict seemingly has been joined between a faction who preferred the less costly enlargement and refurbishment of the present town hall building and the plan of the incumbent governing body which requires acquisition and demolition of two tax ratable buildings north of the present building.

While it is problematical what the voter response to these projected tax increase predictions will have upon the school board election of the trustees, there is mounting likelihood that the school budget will be voted down because of the repulsive effect it could have upon increasing the local tax rate.

Whatever your sentiments, prepare your schedule so as to be prepared to vote at the designated hours on April 15. It's a matter of dollars and cents.

Rimgail-Bloschak says board places burden upon taxpayers

By Christopher Bifani

The Belleville Board of Education places an "undue burden upon the taxpayers of Belleville," says school board candidate Mary Susan Rimgail-Bloschak of Greylock Parkway.

"One of the many examples of fiscal irresponsibility is the approval and payment of legal fees by the Board to the board attorney in the amount of $95,000 for the year 1985 and $5,700 for January 1986."

Bloschak believes another qualified lawyer could replace Board of Education Attorney Larry Schwartz, "preferably a resident and taxpayer of Belleville," for less money.

The resulting savings, Bloschak says, could then be used to benefit Belleville's school children.

Mary Susan Rimgail-Bloschak is married to Andrew M. Bloschak, an active Republican coordinator. Although they have no children presently enrolled in the Belleville school system, they are expecting their first child in May.

Bloschak graduated from Harrison High School in 1972 and was a dean's list honor student. She furthered her education at Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School where she earned a degree in liberal arts and secretarial skills in 1974.

In 1982 Bloschak graduated from Union College with an associate degree in business administration and Dean's list honors. She is currently attending Seton Hall University where she is majoring in business.

Presently employed as a customer service representative for Celanese Corp in Chatham, Bloschak is also a notary public and a member of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., where she assists in research.

Bloschak says that if elected her first priority will be the best possible education for Belleville's children.

"I hope that you will join me in regaining control of a vital part of our community and making sure that our children receive the skills they need to become the future leaders of our community and our great nation," she said.

Bloschak appears on page 23 of the ballot in the April 4 election.

Essex County detective rescues man, boy from ice-covered lake

Essex County Detective Michael Curley of Belleville recently rescued two people from the Branch Brook Park Lake.

Curley, a member of the Essex County Sheriff's Fugitive Squad, was driving home from work March 4 through Newark's Branch Brook Park when he was flagged down by a woman who told him that two people were drowning in the Branch Brook Park Lake.

Curley ran to the lake and saw two people about 40 feet from the shore. He ran back to his car and got a rope and then waded into the ice-covered lake to waist-deep water and threw the rope to a man who was attempting to hold up a 12-year-old boy.

According to Essex County

Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio, the boy had been attempting to ride his bike across the ice and had fallen through and screamed for help. The man was passing by and attempted to help the youth and both were unable to get to safety.

Curley, with the help of several passersby, was able to pull them both to safety.

The detective kept them covered with coats and a blanket until the Essex County Police and an ambulance arrived. They were treated at the scene by emergency medical technicians and taken to Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

According to D'Alessio, Detective Curley will receive a commendation for this action.

Democratic Club hosts "Candidates' Night"

The Democratic Club of Belleville will host a "Candidates' Night" Tuesday, April 1, 8 p.m. at the Maroon Little League Fieldhouse on Montgomery Street.

The public is invited to attend.

Applications available for summer job program

Summer job applications for disadvantaged young people are now available, according to Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro. The deadline for applications is Wednesday, March 26.

The $1.1 million Summer Youth Employment and Training Program (SYETP) is funded through the federal Jobs Training Partnership Act and administered by the Essex County Division of Employment Training, which places 864 low income young adults in summer jobs or classroom training this year, Shapiro said.

Individuals between the ages of 14 through 21, who are residents of any Essex County municipality except Newark, and meet the JTPA income eligibility requirements are eligible for the program.

The City of Newark runs its own JTPA program.

This program provides young people with an income during the summer months and an opportunity to learn valuable job skills and business etiquette in productive work settings," said Shapiro. "I urge young people from low income families who want to work this summer to apply now for SYETP jobs."

The young people participating in the program will work a maximum of 25 hours per week for eight to 13 weeks and be paid the national minimum wage of $3.35 per hour.

The theme for Essex County's 1986 SYETP program is "Youth at Work: A Winning Combination." Young people will be urged to work for day camps, recreation centers, offices, hospitals, and other governmental and non-profit agencies.

The SYETP program proves that young people are eager and willing to work and work hard if only they are given a chance," Shapiro said.

Applications are available at the Belleville Board of Education, 190 Cortlandt St., the Belleville Middle School on Washington Avenue, and the Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Ave.

Mental Health Services presents training program

Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley presented an in-service training program on child sexual abuse held March 4. In addition to agency staff, representatives from other human service providers in the area were invited to attend.

The purpose of the training program was to define the scope of the problem and present intervention and treatment techniques to be used when sexual abuse is suspected or confirmed.

Susan Kunkel, a psychiatric social worker with the agency's Family Life Program, opened the training session with an overview of the problem including definitions, statistics, behavioral indicators, effects on children and families, and treatment issues. Her presentation was followed by a film titled "Finding Our Incest and Family Sexual Abuse."

The problems of assessing family dynamics when incest has occurred and working with an involuntary client were addressed by Margaret Fabb, ACSW, co-director of the Sexual Abuse Incest Consultation Project.

The training session closed with Matty Keogh, a Division of Youth and Family Services Training Officer, presenting current laws and treatment techniques suitable for young children who have been sexually abused.

The Family Life Program at Community Mental Health Services focuses on treatment of physical, sexual, and emotional abuse.

For further information call 450-3100.

Thirteen deadly myths about teenage suicide

Thirteen deadly myths surround teenage suicide, according to Dr. Arnold M. Kallen, professor emeritus of psychiatry at UMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School. The myths can be deadly because they prevent us from dealing with what is going on, rather than what we think is happening.

This is vitally important, says the Livingston psychiatrist, since teenage suicide is the third leading cause of death among 15 to 24 year olds, following homicides and accidents, some of which might also be masked suicide attempts.

The myths have grown along with the phenomenon of teen suicide. As contradictory as many of the myths are, they nonetheless deal with many of the feelings of the survivors and their sense of powerlessness when a suicide occurs.

The thirteen myths are:

1. Nothing can stop a person determined to commit suicide.
2. The person who fails the first time eventually succeeds.
3. People who talk about suicide never kill themselves.
4. A person who talks about suicide is just looking for attention.
5. Talking about suicide to a troubled person gives him morbid ideas.
6. Psychiatrists' patients rarely commit suicide.
7. Suicides often occur without warnings.
8. People who kill themselves are insane.
9. The shame and pain of an unsuccessful suicide attempt will prevent other attempts in the future.
10. A depressed and suicidal person is out of danger when the depression lifts.
11. My son/daughter isn't the type to commit suicide.
12. Most suicides are deliberate people.

Scide runs in families and there's nothing that can be done about it.

Jayvee team impresses Coach Roll

The Belleville junior varsity basketball team won just one game this past season, but head coach Don Roll was impressed with the team's overall improvement.

"At this stage," the coach explained, "we were just looking for individual improvement. Everybody had a chance to play in every game, whether we were ahead or behind. The main goal was to get the kids the necessary playing time."

Roll was most interested in seeing the players learn various defensive formations, learn the offense and understand the dedication it takes to become good basketball players.

"There was a good deal of improvement during the season," Roll said. "The kids came a long way from the first day of practice (on November 26)."

Almost 70 percent of the team was sophomores and a number of those players have a good chance of making the varsity next winter. There were two juniors and two freshmen on the team. Keep in mind that the freshmen have their own team. The two that saw junior varsity action have impressed their coaches at an early level.

The sophomores were Steve Schow, Chris Chatham, Ben Comfote, Jim Liar, Jeff Spillsbury, Henry Rivera, Angelo Sanchez and Eugene Dan Hicks. The two juniors were John Morrell and Mark Humann while the freshmen were Pete Gerst and Bobby Willis.

Schow showed good improvement during the season and gained varsity experience down the stretch. He has the size and strength to be a good forward next winter.

Chatham is a strong player who also showed good improvement in the second half of the season. He could be a legitimate varsity player next season.

Roll was also happy with the play of Humann, who played in some varsity games over the last month of the season. He could be a contender for a guard position on the '87 team.

Players who also showed improvement were Gerst, Willis and Morrell. Morrell split his time between varsity and JV this past season and could be battling for a varsity spot next winter.

While there was progress, Roll continued, "there is a long way to go. The kids have to play basketball, preferably in other towns against good competition. They should go to basketball camp, play in summer leagues and lift weights. We came close to winning a few more games during the season this year, but we just fell short. We have to start preparing for next year now, we can't afford to wait until next fall to begin. There is some very good competition out there and we have to work hard if we want to be effective."

An indication of the team's talent came late in the season, with a heart-breaking loss to Passaic, 81-79. In that game, Belleville was up against one of the better junior varsity teams in the NJHL, and the Bucs played the Indians tough throughout before losing by a basket. It showed the team has the ability to play with the stronger competition. Whether they can do it for an entire season will be determined next year.

NCAA Tourney

It's down to the final 16 as the NCAA basketball tourney heads into the Regional finals this weekend. By Sunday night, we'll know who the teams for the Final Four, in Dallas, will be. Who do you like? In the East Region, Duke is joined by three Cinderellas in De Paul, Cleveland State and Navy. Not too many people expected De Paul to get by Oklahoma, Cleveland State to advance past Indiana and Navy to upset Syracuse. Since Barbara Gundry reminded me that I picked Notre Dame as this year's sleeper, my picks don't seem to have much validity, but I'll try it again. I like Duke to defeat De Paul and Navy to soundly beat Cleveland State. The Midshipmen are too well disciplined and have too many guns (no pun intended).

In the Southeast, Kentucky should beat Alabama and Georgia Tech will stop LSU, handsly. LSU should not have gone past Memphis State, but the boring court was worth 15 extra points. In the Midwest, there are two excellent games with N.C. State playing Iowa State and Kansas taking on Michigan State. This could be the toughest set up, but I'll take N.C. State and Kansas. Out West, Auburn should outsmack UNLV and Louisville, perhaps the best team in the tourney, will end North Carolina's hopes.

As for the winners on Sunday, I think Duke will win the East, Georgia Tech will take the Southeast, N.C. State will upset Kansas in the Midwest and Louisville will take the West. The finals, Duke and Louisville. You heard it here first.

Next week, I'll put our varsity coaches on the spot with Iuliano - season's "most valuable"

Buc wrestlers defeated in opening state matches

By Joe Piegaro

The "Road to the States" ended abruptly for five of Belleville's finest as all the BHS wrestlers were beaten in their opening round matches at Princeton's Jadwin Gymnasium.

Mike Iuliano at 102 lbs. lost a one-sided 9-1 decision to eventual fourth place finisher Jim Yee of Dartmouth Regional. Later in the evening, Carmine Trione lost a 3-2 decision to Joe Mocco of Fair Lawn. Marc Criscione ended the evening with a loss to John Kurek of Denmar by a pin late in the third period.

Two days later, Joey Cerreto was beaten by the eventual state champ at 116 pounds, Sam Cole of Long Branch. The score was 11-0. Armando Nardone ended Belleville's hopes of sending a wrestler into the semifinals as he lost a 1-3 decision to Mike Holt, member of Point Pleasant Boro.

The final results for our boys for the 1985-86 season are as follows: 102 - Mike Iuliano, 20-6; 109 - John Stampone, 12-10-1; 116 - Joey Cerreto, 23-4-1; 123 - Mondo Nardone, 22-2-130; 130 - Tim Buckley, 8-13-136; Phil Zamboni, 12-10-142; Carmine Trione, 18-7-149; Dave Siletti, 14-8-1-159; Mike Minichini, 10-8-1; Lou Lucente, 2-7; and Marc Criscione, 20-6 at heavyweight.

Iuliano, Stampone, Cerreto, Nardone, Zamboni, Trione, Criscione and possibly Lucente will all return next year to form a nucleus of a state-ranked team. Siletti and Minichini will be graduating along with Tim Buckley.

Although the season ended without a state tournament placed wrestler, the year as a whole had to be rated as a solid success. With only three seniors on the squad, first year head coach Joe Nardone led his boys to a 1-4 record, good for a seventh place ranking in the Region 2 final ratings. Five boys earned the right to compete in Princeton, most even in the history of BHS.

Belleville also won the District 7 Championship for the eighth time in the last 10 years. On an individual basis, Joey Cerreto and Marc Criscione broke into the top 20 list for all-time wins. Cerreto, with 41 wins, is now in the 17th slot. Criscione has 39 career wins to place him in the tie with Brian Banda and Jim Meyer for 20th place.

Mondo Nardone led the team in winning percentage with a .917 win/lost ratio. Additionally, Nardone was the only Buc wrestler to win a gold medal in every tournament he entered. John Stampone became only the sixth grappler to break the varsity starting lineup as a freshman. And don't forget Carmine Trione. After transferring to BHS from Fair Lawn, he became only the second transfer in Buc history to go to the states. Ed Camuso transferred from Essex Catholic in the 1976-77 season and earned a trip to Princeton the same year.

Most of all, don't forget the outstanding senior, sophomore 102-pounder, Mike Iuliano. Had there been a great many "most valuable" this year, Iuliano would have been the most valuable. He won 23 medals with four Marc Criscione had the most pins on the squad.

But the "Most Valuable" wrestler belongs to Iuliano. He is the winter's choice as the MVP for 1985-86. The reasons for such a choice were simple. Iuliano led off each match and tournament with an energy level unmatched by any BHS grappler. His intensity level was constant throughout the season, during practice, or in a hard sick or heavy. He is the underdog image of Carl Atk. the undisputed king of 101 pounds in all of BHS wrestling history.

Iuliano is not the most talented boy on the squad. Nor is he the owner of the best record. He is just the "Most Valuable."

Giuffrida's crew team prepares for another optimistic season

Quietly, but effectively, the Belleville crew program has developed into a finely tuned machine. It seems that every year, head coach Sam Giuffrida is talking with optimism about the upcoming season and the young men and women that will determine the success of the team. Upon early investigation this season, the coach appears to have justification for optimism once more.

"The Bucs open the 1986 crew season on Saturday, April 5, at home, versus Kearny and Upper Merion High Schools. The following day, the team travels to Philadelphia to begin the first of the "Flick" races.

This is Belleville's third year in the Flicks and the team is hoping to match, or improve upon last year's success. For those who aren't familiar with the Flicks, they are a series of Sunday races in Philadelphia, against some sturdy competition. Coach Giuffrida enjoys the races because it gears his teams up for the tough Regattas in May.

As for this year's team, there is a different twist to the pre season predictions. During the four year period from 1982-85, the girls' team made a good deal of headlines, especially the junior and later, the senior four shells that captured national titles. The girls from 82-85 captured three national titles and the one year it lost, the girls took third in the nationals.

Now, the majority of that shell has been graduated and the boys' team appears to have the experience needed to match the talented crews that are located throughout the East Coast.

"Things are looking good," Giuffrida said. "Our varsity boys are gearing for a good season. Last year, they were the league champs and now, they have the experience and determination."

Giuffrida is looking to return to the eight shell this season, after a two year stint of mostly four shells. Why the change?

"We feel we have the strength and size to compete with the big teams," the coach said. "Our team knows what it takes."

Giuffrida hopes to field a varsity eight, a junior varsity eight, a novice boat and two freshman boats. A novice boat is made up of first year rowers, which can be a freshman through a senior.

The girls team, according to its coach, is in a rebuilding stage.

"We had a big turnout for the girls," Giuffrida said. "The turnout was especially big for the younger kids. We have some size and everyone has been working real hard. I don't know how far we'll go this season, but who knows with the way the team has been working."

Giuffrida hopes to field a varsity eight and two novice eights. Chances are, one of those novice eights will become a freshman eight as the season progresses.

The coach has also been happy with the elements this season.

"We've had good weather so far," Giuffrida commented. "The waters have been calm and we've been able to get a lot of work in. The first race is later than usual this season, which is fine with me. It gives our kids some more time to work and prepare for the season. The big races, as I've always said, come in May, with the Regattas, so this extra work now will hopefully benefit us down the stretch."

NOTES - The Regattas that Giuffrida speaks of are the Goodwill Regatta, which is the race for the boathouse championship between Belleville, Kearny and Nutley. Belleville has won it the past two years. After the Goodwill, the prestigious Stotesbury Regatta is the next test. The "Stotes" are the final races before the Nationals. Giuffrida is hoping for another chance to race in Canada this spring. The Bucs have been invited North of the Border the past two seasons and have done very well.

Girls' softball team led by five returnees

It's "Play Ball" for the Belleville Softball team, as the 1986 season commenced on March 8.

Under head coach Carl Corino, beginning his seventh year at the helm, the girls are looking to match, or improve, upon last year's impressive 24-6 record. Last season, the team went farther than most expected by advancing to the County finals for the fourth straight year and later, advancing to the Group IV, Section II finals. In both instances, the team fell short in the championship game, bowing to Livingston in the County and Westfield in the States.

The girls open the 1986 regular season with a contest against Queen of Peace on April 1.

Corino welcomes back five starters from last season's team. Senior Desirée Johansen leads the way.

Johansen, a four-year starter, will be the shortstop again this year and should provide a good deal of offense. She is a tremendous athlete and really gets up for the softball season.

Outfielder and senior, Sherri Santorillo is back for her third year. Santorillo should provide good defense and some power at the plate.

Junior Trish Trammittola should handle the hot corner, third base, this season. Trammittola did a very good job for last year's team and should be confident with the experience of playing last spring.

Catcher Laura Caruso, a junior, had a good season in 1985 and once again, her experience will be a big factor. Caruso has a good arm and should provide some strong offense for the Bucs' cancer bats.

Seniors lead boys' track team as opener draws near

By Michael Lamberti

In the 1985 season, the Belleville track team began to lay down the foundation for success in the future. Now, as the 1986 season rapidly approaches, head coach John Tosato hopes the "future" is ready to take shape.

The Bucs open the '86 campaign, on the road, at Bloomfield on April 1. The meet is co-ed and is set to start at 4 p.m.

In the meantime, Tosato is working diligently with the athletes and has taken advantage of good late winter weather.

"We have about 32 boys out for the team," the coach said. "I hope for a few more by next week, now that the winter sports are over with. We're off to a pretty good start this season because the weather has been cooperative and we've been able to work outdoors."

What has also helped the team is the indoor season. Because a great deal of the runners have the experience, they are in good shape and Tosato is able to do more complex work than in previous seasons.

"With the good weather, I'll be able to work with the sprinters a great deal. Because they've run indoors, I'm able to do some intricate work that normally could not be completed until later in the season."

There are four seniors on the team this season. Larry Boscano, J.R. Di Vincenzo, Willie Chandler, and Nick Complitano all return with experience and Tosato is looking for a good deal of leadership from the group.

Boscano is expected to lead the weight team this spring. He will throw the shot put, discus and possibly the javelin.

Di Vincenzo is a four year runner who excels in the sprints. He along with Chandler and Complitano will make up three quarters of the mile relay team. Tosato has not yet decided on the fourth runner.

Complitano will concentrate on the hurdles and sprints. He is coming off an injury during the indoor season and appears to be progressing well.

A number of juniors will be instrumental to the team's success. Craig Burden, coming off a good basketball season, is expected to lead the distance team. John Zurlo is a good middle distance runner. Louie La has tremendous talent in the long jump. Last season, he broke the 20 foot mark in the long jump. The only thing that could hinder him in the early going is a basketball injury to his leg.

Jon-Paul Lenczuk and Paul Santinelli will take part in the field events and a newcomer, junior Anthony La Vista, should also help. Juniors Mark Huanan and Chris Goldrick will vie for jumping assignments. Huanan is a high jumper while Goldrick, out for his first year, will work on the high and long jump and hurdles.

The coaching staff includes Tosato, Barbara Gundry, Karen Fucello, Karen Portuese and Richard Ruffalo.

Tosato will coach the sprinters and hurdlers, Gundry is in charge of the distance runners, Fucello, the head girls coach, will concentrate on the jumpers. Portuese will work with the girls in field events and Ruffalo, who has coached at Belleville High since 1974, will work with the boys field events.

An experienced coaching crew, along with some experienced athletes could be the formula the Buc track program needs to reach that elusive 500 record. The early signs are positive, but there is a long way to go.

Girls' softball team led by five returnees

Michele Calderone, a sophomore, made immediate news last spring with her solid pitching. Corino called her up from the junior varsity team in early May, when the team was struggling on the mound. All Calderone proceeded to do was establish herself as the number one hurler and helped the team, to its late season success. She posted an 8-3 record and had excellent control.

Another sophomore, Jeanne Luzzi, will see time on the mound. Luzzi was also impressive in her varsity performances last spring.

Two seniors, Tracy Delaney and Dina De Medici, will be vying for starting positions. De Medici played last season as the designated hitter. Corino expects her to be playing in the field this spring.

There are a couple of positions that are open, the coach said. "We lost two good outfielders, Donna Brooks and Sue Schuster, and a first and second baseman, Cherri Tillman and Cherri Marion. The positions are wide open and we have a lot of kids working for those spots. We'll know more after this week."

Corino noted that the weather has not been to the team's benefit thus far. The girls have been working indoors for the most part. The coach has scheduled four scrimmages for this week, which started with North Arlington last Tuesday. Yesterday, the team was set to face Verona. Tomorrow afternoon, at 4 p.m., the girls are host to Westfield at Clearmont Field. On Saturday, morning, at 10 a.m., the team will play host to Mendham High, the defending State champs from 1985. Mendham was 26-0 a year ago and Corino is looking forward to the challenge that that school will provide his team.

A CHRISTIAN TRADITION

Have you ever considered about the relationship of the egg to Easter?

In ancient times people were amazed by the fact that the egg could hatch. They wondered how something so small could carry something that was apparently dead. In these people the egg symbolized new life. Early Christians in Greece and Rome wanted to share their new experience with others. They had a hard time explaining the resurrection of Christ. So they decorated eggs with pictures of new life. It was then that the custom of giving decorated eggs to children began. For the first time, the egg was a symbol of new life.

THE CHINA GARDEN

The Best luncheon buffet in the area is at The China Garden. On Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays each week, a sumptuous selection of Chinese dishes is available. There are four appetizers and eight hot dishes, as well as fried rice and lo mein noodle, on the buffet. The luncheon special also comes with a choice of soup.

On a recent visit, exotic dishes like baby shrimp with garlic sauce, hot and spicy chicken, chicken and broccoli, were on the buffet, as well as the standard oriental fare like pepper steak, egg rolls, and spare ribs.

If you have any room left, after sampling all that, there is also a dessert table (not often found at luncheon buffets!)

Service was very attentive at lunchtime — there are plenty of efficient waiters who keep refilling teapots, and clearing used plates.

There is also a dinner buffet on the same days the luncheon buffet is served. On the other days, a regular menu is available for both lunch and dinner.

The China Garden is located at 306 Main Avenue in Clifton. The phone number is 773-7633.
