New DPW building to be erected soon

Work has begun on the site where a new Public Works building will be erected, Belleville Township Engineer Neil Siciliano said Monday.

CSI (construction of Nutey) began excavating land for the foundation of a new one-story building, which will face Stephens Street in the Valley section of the township. The new building will replace the two-story Public Works building which was razed in November of 1984.

According to Siciliano, the pre-engineered building should be delivered the last week in May and erected the first two weeks in June. It will be completed within a month, he said.

The new metal frame building will house administrative offices, a locker room with showers and a storage area for township vehicles. An office will be built for both the superintendent of Public Works and the radio dispatcher. The remainder of the building will contain an open office for assistant superintendents of the department and a storage area.

Offices for the commissioner of Public Works and department secretaries will be housed in the Public Affairs Buildings at 383 Washington Ave. where they have been since the 1984 fire.

Since that time, other employees of the department have been working out of trailers on the original Cortlandt Street site and will do so until completion of the new building.

The new Public Works building will face Stephens Street rather than Cortlandt Street because of easier accessibility - it is wider and has less traffic congestion. It will not be used for a maintenance garage, Siciliano said earlier, noting that a maintenance garage remains on the site.

The new building will be constructed with the anticipation of extending it in the future, Siciliano said. Two driveways will be installed on Stephens Street - one for cars and the other for trucks and sweepers traveling to the maintenance garage in the rear of the building.

Total cost of the new building is $312,540. CSR Construction Co. was one of six construction companies who bid for the project.

Parking spaces affected

Double buses spell trouble for township

By Christopher Bufani

Articulated double buses running along the 13 Broad-Clinton line threaten to spell double trouble for the Township of Belleville. In addition to eliminating dozens of shopping district parking spaces, the buses may also cause a reduction in the number of bus stops, since they are too long to stop at every corner.

The articulated buses, which are 60 feet long compared to 40-foot long conventional buses, require bus stops that are 155 feet or 50 feet longer than recommended stops for standard size buses.

New Jersey Transit (NJT) is planning to take away 23 parking spaces along Washington Avenue and 14 spaces on Jorammon Street. Belleville Captain Robert Russomano of the Traffic Division said, "That's really a burden on the taxpayers - some of their houses don't even have driveways."

At each stop served by the new, longer buses, 50 more feet of curb would have to be painted yellow, eliminating one to three parking spaces every time.

However, many of Belleville's bus stops fall short of the standard 105 feet length, such as at corners where buses stop, but where there are no bus stop signs.

We never really did have bus stop signs because the

Middle School participates in substance abuse project

By Michelle Jeannotte

The Belleville Middle School will be one of five schools voluntarily participating in a state pilot project on substance abuse.

According to Frank Catrambone, middle school vice principal and project team leader, Belleville applied to participate in the pilot project in July of 1984. In August of 1984, the district's pilot project application for the development of a comprehensive substance abuse service was accepted.

Since that time, a project team, comprised of guidance counselors, teachers and a nurse, was established to determine the needs of the district in relation to the pilot project. Assigned to assist the project team was Robert Goger, instructional specialist in substance abuse, State Department of Education.

In March of 1985, Belleville's project team attended the state's Substance Abuse Demonstration Project Workshop. The purpose of the workshop was to review each district's progress toward the development of a project model action plan.

One year later, Goger provided the entire middle school staff with an orientation on the nature of the current substance abuse problems among students, the rights and responsibilities of staff and the specific intervention program designed by the Belleville team in order to meet the needs of the middle school population.

According to Frank Catrambone, the middle school was targeted because it provided a better testing atmosphere. In relation to the high school, there are much fewer incidents of students using any type of drugs, Catrambone said. If the pilot project was targeted for the high school, staff members might not be able to deal effectively with the problem because they were only just becoming aware of how to handle certain situations, he said.

We would like to ease into the program," Catrambone said. "We don't expect flaming referrals. If we get five per year, that's a lot."

The referrals Catrambone mentioned are those which will be received from teachers who note differences in a student's behavior or believe the student

Property owner fined for home's condition

By Daniel Shure

Though hit with a $16,000 fine for not repairing his Mt. Pleasant Avenue home, the owner, a former college professor, was reluctant to accept a government grant for repairs.

Earlier this month, Municipal Court Judge Carl Sogio ruled on 86-day, $200-a-day fine, on Hollister Sugo, citing the condition of Sugo's yard and house. The fine may be reduced if Sugo moves ahead with house repairs and yard cleanup, Joseph Fornorotto, Belleville building inspector, said. The fine covers days prior to May.

Sugo's small, two-family house shows peeling paint. The front yard is overgrown with brush and saplings, blocking a view of the porch, which was cited as needing repairs by Fornorotto. Trees one more than 10 feet tall grow in the driveway.

Though Sugo has not repaired violations cited by Fornorotto in the past, he did not want to accept a grant arranged by Fornorotto. Sugo said he is not in need of public assistance and could make the repairs himself. But after Sugo levied the fine, Sugo accepted a grant of approximately $4,900.

The federal grant, obtained through Essex County Department of Home Redevelopment, will pay a contractor to paint the house, repair the roof and porch, and install 100 amp electrical service. "Because of the size of this fine, I was forced to acquiesce and accept this public grant which I feel should be reserved for needy folks and old folks and the disabled, who are not able to do their work themselves," Sugo said.

After this month, Sugo plans to meet with the municipal judge. Fornorotto said that the judge will likely reduce the fine, if Sugo

Boards give approval for new construction

Recent meetings of both the zoning board and the planning board resulted in the approval of new construction for two areas of Belleville long targeted for revitalization.

On Tuesday, May 6, the Belleville Zoning Board unanimously gave Bigelow Motors approval to erect a "83 foot by 111-foot two-story" warehouse, storage and sales facility at Washington Avenue and Quinton Street, three blocks from the Newark line.

On Thursday, May 8, the Belleville Planning Board unanimously approved Dommesina Construction Company's site plan for a two-story warehouse and office facility at Schuyler and Cortlandt streets in the heart of the Valley section of town.

In addition to the concerns of both boards over such technical details as ingress and egress, on-site parking, fire safety, and building specifications, the boards also shared a strong common interest in the aesthetics of the proposed projects and how they would improve their general areas. At the zoning board meeting, inquiry went beyond the specifics of the planned Bigelow addition, to general questions about the beautification of the entire tional government, with special attention to the concerns and activities of the United States Congress.

During their stay in the nation's capital, the students met with government leaders, White House staff and ambassadors and participated in a Model Congress.

The 20 Roche-sponsored students also attended a special luncheon on Capitol Hill where they met with members of the Senate and the House of Representatives from their respective districts.

In addition to his involvement in the Key Club, Foreign Language Club and the Leaders Club, Morrell is also a member of the varsity basketball and rowing teams. His interests include reading, lecturing, weightlifting and boating.

REBOUND INSOMNIA

Sleeping pills actually can cause insomnia. If a sleeping pill is taken right after night, mid-or on "higher" stage, rebound occurs, and then, shortly after, sleep. A severe withdrawal reaction may set in. This reaction is called "rebound insomnia." It is not even possible for sleeping capsules to develop when the user has been taking the drug for only a short time and then stops. Rebound insomnia can occur immediately after sleeping pills are stopped or several days later. It depends on which drug is being used and how long it takes to clear out of the body. If you have been taking sleeping pills for a long time, or have taken taking too much, talk with your doctor about a gradual reduction of the medication.

You know you can depend on us for complete prescription service. Have your doctor call us or bring your prescription to BOSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 755-1968, 755-1950. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved. Greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries, cameras, time-washer and transistor radios are available for quick non-gifts. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

Barbara Klotz named new BHS counselor

By Michelle Jeannotte

The Belleville school district is becoming known as one that offers staff members an opportunity to move up in ranks within the system. Mrs. Barbara Klotz is one such person.

Klotz, a teacher at Belleville High School for 18 years, was recently appointed guidance counselor, replacing Ethel Williamson who retired March 1. In her new position, Klotz will be responsible for approximately 300 students.

This year, Klotz oversees the freshman and junior classes. Next year, she will move with them as they become sophomores and seniors.

Klotz began teaching business education courses at Belleville High School after receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree from Trenton State College. She later earned a master's degree in student personnel services from Seton Hall University and an Ed.S. degree in vocational technical education from Rutgers University in New Brunswick.

In conjunction with teaching business courses, Klotz became supervisor of the Cooperative Office Education (COE) at the high school 10 years ago. The COE program helps high school seniors find jobs in the areas they would like to pursue after graduation, Klotz said.

Through the program, we get seniors involved in an office atmosphere," she said. "They take the course as a class and work in the afternoon. The program is career-oriented."

In talking about careers, Klotz said that she has wanted to become a guidance counselor but that there have been positions available until now. During the time she pursued her education, Klotz continued to teach business courses at the high school and develop what she terms a "constant contact" with the students. It is this aspect of being in the classroom that she will miss the most.

I've already thought to myself that this is kind of the end of the constant contact you experience during the day," Klotz said. "It's in the back of my mind a lot that I'm not going to see them in class every day. That's the part I'm going to miss the most."

Now I'll be dealing with students in a different way," she added.

One of the goals Klotz has set for herself is being able to help students with educational programs and career planning.

By integrating my goals, I hope to help students effectively, encouraging them to use guidance resources," Klotz said. "I hope to be able to help them with any personal or vocational problems they may be having."

The students have been very receptive to me," she continued. "They seem to be willing to come down and see me and use the department. I hope they continue to feel comfortable with me."

Klotz seems to be getting right into the swing of things, making changes in students' schedules and doing a lot of paperwork.

Right now I'm putting my energies to getting acclimated to the situation," Klotz said.

For someone who's been in the school system as long as she has, getting used to new situations shouldn't be hard at all.

Tax Collector's Office changes Monday schedule

Unexpected Change Quite a number of taxpayers, like this one here, were upset last Monday night when they went to Town Hall to pay their taxes only to find out that the Tax Collector's Office was closed. The tax office, usually open every Monday from 6:30-8:30 p.m., will only open four Monday nights a year in relation to each tax quarter. Photo by Michelle Jeannotte.

Property Maintenance Code enforced with fine to resident

allows a contractor to begin repairs.

"I get complaints from the whole block about Sugo's house," Fornorotto said. For some reason, Sugo insists on doing the repairs himself, but it is too much work for him, Fornorotto added.

Sugo said he could do the work without a contractor. "Even if I had to hire a couple of college kids for the summer," he said.

Though Sugo's yard is very overgrown, it is surrounded by a very neatly trimmed hedge. Neighbors said they often see Sugo trimming the hedge.

Though Sugo, who appears to be 30 to 60 years old, said he recently completed roof repairs, Fornorotto said additional roof repairs are still needed.

Neighbors who portray Sugo as eccentric, said that Sugo has been working on his roof for three to four years. Sugo does the work at night, he said.

Once I saw him fall through the roof," a neighbor said. "She did not wish to give her name, as she did not want to start a personal quarrel with Sugo."

Sugo's tiny house stands out at a back of neat, well-kept houses. It is a two-family flat. Sugo is the only resident. Neighbors said he has lived there for at least 30 years, Sugo said he inherited the house from his mother about 10 years ago.

"They should knock it down. It's an eyesore," a second neighbor said. "He sees us all working on our houses; you would think he would fix his."

Of completely repairing his home, Sugo said, "It's a matter of time."

Boards give approval for new construction

Bigelow Motors property.

The board asked Bigelow Motors' owner, Jerry Pfeiffer, about his willingness to improve the showroom of his dealership, which fronts Washington Avenue.

"I guess after 43 years of looking at the building, I've just gotten used to it," Pfeiffer said, adding that if the board felt Bigelow's existing structure needed to be spruced up, he'd be happy to consider their suggestions.

Zoning Board Secretary, Maria Lou Hood said the board's architectural review committee will inspect Bigelow's property, "as soon as Bigelow's plans are prepared."

Pfeiffer said the committee will work something out with the review committee that will be mutually satisfactory.

The dealership owner added, "I've watched the deterioration of Washington Avenue with a good bit of dismay. Now that the township wants to fix it up, I'm glad they did and I applaud them for it."

"I think my $850,000 investment rather vividly bespeaks my faith in Belleville," he added. "I really want to go all out."

Pfeiffer said his expanded facility will utilize fluted concrete blocks for a more pleasing appearance and added that "35-40 shrubs will be planted and that the site will be grassed wherever a needs a lawn."

Finished concrete and shrubbery will also be utilized to enhance the appearance of Dommesina Construction Co.'s facility.

The Dommesina building will definitely be an improvement to the area," Planning Board Chairman Joseph Doyle said. "It's taking an area previously used for dumping and turning it into a landscaped site with a modern structure."

Doyle said the landscaping of the area will feature Japanese black pine trees and arbor vitae shrubs. Along the back of the property, which borders Conrail, will be a hedge of Gold Coast juniper.

Planning board approval of the Dommesina project is conditional, pending the opinion of the board's lawyer, Thomas DiBiasi, who must determine if Robert Dommesina's interest in the Dommesina Construction Company constitutes a violation of the New Jersey Construction Code. Dommesina is Belleville's construction code official.

Zoning board approval of the Bigelow project is also conditional, pending the findings of the architectural review committee concerning proposed retaining walls, bulbs, fencing and other details.

The next meeting of the Belleville Zoning Board of Adjustment is Tuesday, May 20, 7:30 p.m. at 381 Washington Ave.

The Belleville Planning Board's next meeting is Thursday, June 12, 7:30 p.m. also at 381 Washington Ave.

Police appreciation

This week we celebrate National Police Appreciation Week - and how the boys and girls in blue deserve it! Our Police Department consists of blue uniformed members and the non-uniformed members of the Detective Bureau. Located as we are, with a big city to the south, with a crime experience that leads the state in such activities, it is a wonder that our Police Department is able to do as well as it has.

Last week we received public evidence that our people do indeed appreciate the work of the Police Department. An overwhelming majority of citizens, responding to a public survey, support the construction of a new Police Department building to house its personnel. During the past few weeks, hundreds of voices have been raised in support of our Police Department. The controversial new Town Hall plan has met with a great deal of opposition - but without exception - every opponent to the plan supported the idea of a new home for our police.

Sometimes we take the work of the Police Department for granted. It's time we paused in our daily labors to look about us and express thanks to our Police Department for keeping our town safe, for protecting our lives, and our property.

We know we express the overwhelming sentiment of our people in gratefully acknowledging the dedication of our Police Department personnel. Every day they risk their lives in an effort to save ours. One can ask no more from our fellow men - and women

The 'C.C.B.'

We have a new organization in town. The members call themselves "Concerned Citizens of Belleville." The group was born out of opposition to the original plans of the Board of Commissioners to spend $10 Million on a Town Hall project. A watch dog committee can be of great benefit to the community. Such a group can introduce a new dimension to debate on any public question - whether it be a new Town Hall - new senior citizens housing project - an updated master plan - or a stand-alone new Police Department building.

Most certainly, such a group

- acting in good faith, at the very least, can stimulate much public discussion on matters affecting the health and welfare of our people.

We welcome its birth - and we urge our readers, private citizens and public officials alike - to keep an open mind with respect to the group's proposals and, perhaps, even assist the members in finding their way through the maze of official red tape.

Responsible citizen participation in the public affairs of our community should be commended and supported.

Racial bias

Last week, the United States Supreme Court in a 7-2 decision dramatically curtailed the traditionally broad power of prosecutors to strike prospective jurors from trials by using automatic challenges.

The justices said the exclusion of potential jurors, from any criminal trial, because of their race, violates the equal protection of defendants and of those people excluded. Particularly is this crucial when focusing on the role of race in criminal prosecutions with defendants facing possible death sentences. They must be allowed to ask potential jurors about their racial views if the killing was inter-racial. History shows that when a black is on trial, the prosecutor almost always attempts to eliminate blacks serving on the jury.

The Supreme Court has finally come to grips with one of the most serious problems confronting the human race - a practice that was born out of bigotry.

Now that the Supreme Court has spoken loud and clear to eliminate racial bias in our court system, isn't it time that politicians who select nominees for possible office should do no less? Only recently in Essex County, incumbent Supervisor Judge Nick Amato - a 15-year veteran - charged that he was denied renomination because he is white. It is clear that if Judge Amato brought his case before the United States Supreme Court, the justices would find that Judge Amato was rejected for renomination on unconstitutional grounds.

Now we await the arrival of a puritan to lead the charge against racial discrimination as practiced by political leaders in 1986.

Gabe Nazziola states facts about his political career

To the editor

Three weeks ago I lost my bid for re-election to the Belleville Board of Education. Having just about recovered from the mental and physical trauma of that loss, there are things that must be said and with your permission I will use this column to do so.

My heartfelt and most sincere thanks go out to those 761 voters, out of the 2,906 who took the time to come out to vote, for voting for me. To those who were motivated by genuine educational concerns and who worked very diligently throughout my campaign, making telephone calls, allowing me to put signs on their lawns, and to speak in their homes, and made campaign contributions, I offer my sincere gratitude and appreciation.

To those 14,894 eligible registered voters, who did not care enough to bother to come out to vote for something as important as determining those persons who will direct the educational system of our community for the next three years, and left it to the "politically controlled clique," my sympathies for your apathy!

To those among the 2,906 who did vote, who are township or county employees and people in their circles of influence with a few glib exceptions who put educational concerns aside and let their political bosses tell them who to vote for, my sympathies for subordinating your integrity.

To Mr. Frank Orechio, my profound appreciation for recognizing the local commitment I gave to being a board trustee and giving me his endorsement.

To the commissioners of Belleville for putting politics ahead of education and joining with those having a financial interest at risk in the election outcome, and for reaching a "political deal" - and a supposedly non-partisan school board election - and further for sending "delegations" that as a public servant, I should not be appearing at either town ship board meetings asking questions, my contempt!

When I took my oath of office as a board of education trustee, I did not relinquish my constitutional rights and privileges as a citizen, even though you five think that is the way the game is supposed to be played.

On the matter of partisan politics, allow me to correct an obvious comment about why I lost the election. I have not been actively involved in partisan politics since my election. However, my wife has been. In this age of women's lib and self-determination and "doing one's own thing," such things occur. There were candidates for the board who attempted to distort that fact to my detriment, just to enhance their own political hopes. Candidates, who had never been to a township or board of education meeting - and they declared that "grandstanding" at these meetings might help their otherwise non-existent visibility.

The real reasons for my unsuccessful bid for reelection were more attributable to what I did rather than what I did not do. What I did was what other board members, because of their political friendship constraints didn't have the initiative, the desire, and mainly the guts to do!

For those who don't have any idea what I am talking about, I'll give you a few general examples: details may follow on these and other items in later letters.

When a parent's group thought that a principal was misapplying (not misappropriating) some of the monies they gave to the school over a 10-year period, only Nazziola took the time to investigate 10 years of audit reports and financial records to get the facts.

When a prior administrator tried to buffalo another parent group and the board to stop an improvement in the use of a building area by lifting the potential cost of alterations, Nazziola not only involved and brought it to fruition for a small fraction of the purportedly inflated cost.

When certain misguided persons tried to install a "dope room" in our middle school, Nazziola specifically defended the opposition and stopped it.

When two board members and two members of the public conspired to re-create a $55,000 administrative position that had been previously eliminated as unnecessary, Nazziola stopped this apparent advanced political favor waste of taxpayer money.

When a roofing contractor charged a ballooned job price and caused damages to school property in the process and the maintenance supervisor was aware of it and no one had asked the board or advised them, only Nazziola on the spot inspection discovered it and brought it to the board's attention.

When the board secretary asked to go out for bids to replace one vehicle and came back with bids that reflected only Nazziola's pick and choose.

When another parent group discovered 14 cases of food poisoning and 10 cases of a school building fire, Nazziola saved enough to assist and bring time to light after danger began pounding the door and the possibility of a major epidemic by one of the nation's reputable health departments, who use our facilities at night.

And, oh so many more of the same.

I did not play their political games and put politics ahead of education and take action from town hall. I did not become like the three monkeys - see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil. I have been said that even out of bad things, something good is derived. The good is that we have been forced to play more time to spend, possibly reducing the kind of municipal leadership and I use the term more very loosely that has retarded the growth potential of this "beautiful town" - Belleville in which we live.

Gabriel A. Nazziola

Taxpaying citizens are not hyenas as Kennedy calls them

To the editor

I have just completed reading the letter Mr. Kevin C. Kennedy put in the May 8, 1986 issue of the Belleville Times. I just wonder if Mr. Kennedy knows what a hyena is. Evidently, he does not. If he would have taken the time to look at the hundreds of people who were seated in the auditorium at Belleville High School, he would have seen that they were not hyenas but hard-working, taxpaying citizens of Belleville and the backbone of this nation - how dare he call these people hyenas!

I wonder if he is a property owner and pays taxes in this town. I also wonder what kind of work he does and if he has a growing family and bills to pay like those overworked and overtaxed people seated in the audience. I would suggest he opens his eyes and takes a good look around him.

Insofar as my property at 172 Washington Ave. is concerned, I was offered $125,000 over two and a half years ago.

People reject town hall & Kennedy

To the editor

Congratulations are in order for Mr. Kevin Kennedy. He has done it again. Just when the good people of Belleville thought they'd heard the last of him, he writes another letter to the Belleville Times.

This time Mr. Kennedy is fighting for the right of the commissioners to spend $10 million and tax us for it for the next 20 years. This is very generous of him, volunteering his time and energy, at tempting to ruin the ability of the town ship's taxpayers to pay the bills. If the commissioners and good old Kevin Kennedy want to spend and tax us into leaving Belleville, all they have to do is continue their plans to build the Taj Mahal.

As for the heckling, I've seen Mr. Kennedy heckled too. He sits in the front row or the last row and cheers in support of the big spenders.

In regard to Kennedy's comment about the school board elections, he finally found a subject in which he should have some expertise. He has run in so many elections that by now, he should be an expert. The people have been smart enough to always reject him at the polls, just as they are rejecting the ridiculous expenditure of $10 million.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The state is planning the overhaul of school practices governing the supervision and evaluation of classroom teachers. Robert J. Braun, Star Ledger Education Editor, writes, "Teacher reform likely to be an expensive lesson for Governor." He writes the plan "either could be one of the most remarkable sets of new ideas ever promoted by a state government - or a disaster. If history is its odds-maker, bet on disaster."

Mr. Braun explains Gov. Thomas Kean wants to transform the teaching corps into a profession by holding out the incentive of professional salaries, while insisting on some form of differential salary staffing. He says this must be done in cooperation with teacher unions.

He is asking, in effect, says Mr. Braun, for the unions to regulate themselves out of existence. The vision of the profession articulated by Kean is one that includes no necessity for the kinds of labor organizations that now represent the state's 100,000 public school teachers.

He continues, "The unions, of course, will not do that. They are, however, be interested in increased remuneration for their members. What's likely to happen is a major increase in instructional salary staffing, with no appreciable difference in how schools operate or teachers work."

Mr. Braun points out that New Jersey now has the highest minimum salary in the country. The $18,500 was promoted as a way of enticing young men and women into the profession. It ended up, however, as an undesired windfall for currently employed teachers. Kean's insistence that only those incumbent teachers who met new licensing standards could make $18,500 was dropped early on in debate. Teachers throughout the state those that deserved it and those that didn't obtained windfall raises.

Because of the $18,500 min. many strikers erupted throughout New Jersey early this school year as local unions pressed to adjust the salaries of the current teachers to the minimum. The state American Federation of Teachers, AFT-CIA, is pursuing in the courts what the New Jersey Education Association (NJEA) pursued last fall at the bargaining table and the pocket money is seeking a ruling establishing differential pay for veteran teachers and the new hires that reflect the "step minimum."

Eventually the salary guide will be wrenched upward to reflect the new starting salaries. The cost will be in the hundreds of millions. Because the Kean administration now no longer committed to the formula funding, the local boards will be borne by property taxes, the great killer of cities and real estate values. Mr. Braun writes:

He points out the unions will cooperate with the Governor in achieving the high salaries. They certainly will not cooperate in the dismantling of contractual and statutory protections. The unions, which will be a power long after Kean leaves State Street, will try to ensure high salaries and greater, not less, protections.

Mr. Braun explains, unions oppose the sort of differential staffing now urged by Kean. They view it as a veiled effort to introduce the merit pay system. The NJEA already has blocked merit pay under the guise of a "master teacher" program, winning instead, "teacher recognition" program that erodes bonuses among actually all teachers equally.

Mr. Braun in summation, outlines the danger of state intervention, through legislated salary guides, which will artificially boost the cost of schooling beyond that which would occur in the face of economic conditions - contending that the minimum salary already has done that with the results being very expensive.

The unions will seek to gain as much as they can from this season of reform rhetoric while maintaining hold on the loyalties of their members and the protections their members enjoy - the result will be very expensive.

Math Winners—Albert Leyson, Danielle Collett and Sal Taibi, students at the Belleville Middle School, received the three highest scores in a mathematics contest recently sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. A total of 21 eighth graders, all students in Mrs. Natalie Milano's Algebra I Enriched class, were challenged with problems that utilized skills from arithmetic, geometry, algebra and probability. Leyson will receive a certificate of achievement and an award pin. Collett and Taibi will be awarded certificates. Pictured with the students is their teacher, Mrs. Milano. ## Remedial summer school program begins June 26 for grades 7 to 12

By Michelle Jeannotte
A remedial summer school program will be offered to Belleville students, grades 7-12, who fail one or two of the basic courses.

The basic courses those of which students are required to pass for graduation, include social studies or history, English 14, math, physical education and science. Students who receive a grade below 85 percent (D) will be required to complete the course during a remedial summer school program. Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally said.

All the basic courses will be offered during the summer school program with the exception of science which will be offered only if the need exists, Lally said.

The remedial summer school program will be conducted for 30 days without charge to students accepted into the program. According to Lally, state statute requires that any summer school program conducted for remedial purposes must be subsidized by the school district. Prior to last year, students attending a remedial summer school program in Belleville were charged tuition.

"We have budgeted for this program," Lally said. "Our budget also determines the enrollment figure, however, we won't spend less than what is budgeted. We'll spend up to what our budget allows."

Everything is contingent upon enrollment, he continued. There must be adequate enrollment for a course to be offered. If there isn't, we may have to incorporate classes such as English 1 and 2. We just have to be sure we follow state guidelines.

Last year, 230 out of 239 students completed the remedial summer school program, Lally said, noting that the program was only offered to students in grades 8-12.

Last year we (the school district) wanted to allow our eighth grade students to enter the ninth grade by providing them with a summer school experience," Lally said. "Based upon input we received from parents and students, we decided to expand the program to grades 7-12. We believe the program would be more beneficial to the students if we expanded it."

Students accepted into the program must have a principal's recommendation (by state law) and receive approval from administration. They will only be allowed to enroll in two courses, despite the fact they may have failed a third, Lally said. Any third course a student fails must be completed during the regular school year.

Students needing to complete one course will attend the remedial summer school program for six weeks, five days a week, 120 minutes a day for a total of 3,600 minutes of classroom instruction, Lally said. Students needing to complete two courses will meet from 8:10 a.m. and again from 10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

According to Lally, although the time element of the classroom instruction is different, the content is parallel to what is taught during the year. A student who successfully completes a course will receive credit, he added.

During the course of the remedial summer school program, student progress reports will be sent home to parents, Lally said. Students will be allowed two absences which must be documented by a note from a doctor, parent or guardian. On the third absence, a letter will be sent to the parents.

While attending the remedial summer school program, students will be required to follow rules and regulations and a dress code, Lally said.

The staff for the remedial summer school program will include a director and approximately 14 teachers and a secretary. A director will be named by the end of this month, Lally said, adding that the director will be in charge of determining the needs of the students. The total number of students who will be required to attend a remedial summer school program will be determined by the middle and senior high school principals in June, Lally said. Once the needs are assessed, staff members will be selected.

The program is scheduled to begin June 26.

'Hairshow Extravaganza' Wednesday at high school

Belleville High School's Cosmetology Class of 1986 will present a "Hairshow Extravaganza" Wednesday, May 21, 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

All work will be performed by the students and will feature haircutting, styling, coloring, perming, makeup applications and nail art.

Donation will be $2. The public is invited to attend.

New double buses spell trouble for township's avenue parking

merchants wanted the parking. So even bus stops at 105 or 130 feet would eliminate meters," Russomano said, adding that at some corners, there's only 25 feet of yellow curb, so we have to extend 130 feet to meet the 135-foot minimum they want. I just don't see it."

According to Russomano, the bottom line is that the buses just won't be able to stop at as many corners as conventional buses, meaning less convenience for riders.

It will definitely be a problem for senior citizens, Russomano said. "It's going to be pretty hard telling a senior the bus can't stop by your house because it's not a bus stop avenue."

Russomano said he made a recommendation to Police Chief George Luster to approve the new buses.

Later in turn has recommended to the Belleville Board of Commissioners that it, too, oppose the double buses.

Luster said that NJT had come back with a revised plan that eliminated less parking by cutting back on the number of bus stops.

But the police chief said he was "on record" as opposed to the second plan too.

Articulated buses look like two buses with an accordion-like hinge in the middle. The buses actually bend around turns and over features.

The Belleville Times has learned that the articulated buses rarely run at more than 40 percent capacity, except during rush hour.

For residents' reactions to the New Jersey Transit double buses, see story on page 7.

Pre-kindergarten screening workshop today at School 4

The Special Services Department of the Belleville Public School System is sponsoring an all-day pre-kindergarten screening workshop Thursday, May 15, at School 4 on Magnolia Street.

The in-service training workshop, designed for speech language specialists, resource room teachers and learning disability teacher consultants, will be conducted by Mrs. Virginia Haskin, early childhood specialist.

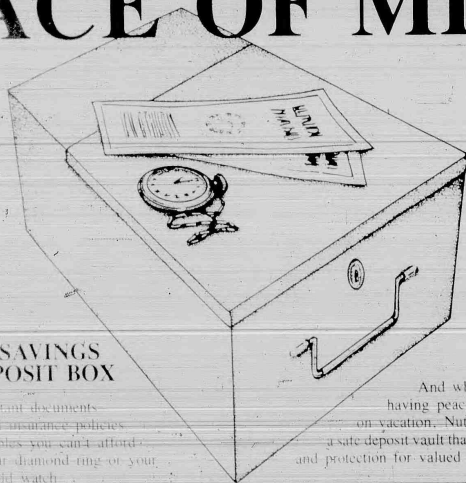

The purpose of the workshop is to prepare the pre-kindergarten screeners for the pre-kindergarten program which was established in the spring of 1979 by Dr. Anthony P. Chirico, director of Special Services.

One of the services offered by the Belleville school district is the pre-kindergarten screening which affords the educational experts an opportunity to assess a child's readiness for school entrance and success.

The pre-kindergarten screening is scheduled for May 19 through June 2 in each elementary school. Any child born in 1981 is eligible for screening.

Parents of students not yet registered may contact their neighborhood school or the Special Services Department at 450-3494.

may be involved with drugs in some way or another. The pilot project on substance abuse is actually a referral program whereby students suspected of using drugs can be referred to someone who can help them deal with the situation, Catrambone said.

The three main ideas of the substance abuse project are: prevention, intervention and treatment. Prevention is the part of the program handled by the middle school through its Drug Awareness Program and science and health classes.

Intervention is the part of the program which the state pilot project addresses. Intervention strategies will focus on the procedures for reporting the incident, examining the youngster, notification of the parents and recommendations for treatment.

"Because the school is a helping place, emphasis is placed on the remedial rather than the punitive side," Catrambone said.

Treatment is the part of the program whereby students receive help by attending clinics or counseling programs.

In developing a model action plan, the project became aware of the school's strengths and weaknesses in relation to dealing with substance abuse. According to Catrambone, strengths were found in curriculum, such as the Drug Awareness Program and science and health lectures, while the weaknesses were found in intervention.

The middle school project team developed a model action plan keeping in mind that the project would eventually move up the high school where it belongs, Catrambone said.

The project team attended numerous workshops dealing with state laws, policies and procedures for preventing and responding to student problems. chemical use, child abuse/neglect and discipline. Procedures were then set up for various incidents, including when a staff member of student observes behavior which may indicate a chemical use problem or when a student seeks help, when a student uses chemicals inappropriately or illegally.

while on school property or attending school functions, or notification to local county welfare department or law enforcements agency when abuse or neglect is suspected

A comprehensive approach, referred to as a Student Assistance Program, is designed to respond to referrals from teachers and other staff, assess the nature and extent of problems, make appropriate referrals to existing school programs or to community resources such as social service agencies, treatment settings, etc., provide follow up by monitoring the student's progress in the referred program; communicate to teachers, parents and administrators the progress of the student, while respecting federal and state confidentiality and right-to-privacy laws, and monitor the program's effectiveness with individual cases.

Once a student is suspected of using drugs, he or she is reported to an administrator, in this case, Catrambone, the vice principal. The student will then be evaluated by the school nurse who will review the student's past and current health history, observed for behavior excitability, agitation, hostility, talkativeness, tremors, speech and ability to respond to questions, checked for increase or decrease in vital signs, and perform a finger to nose test, and walk a straight line.

*BEA will honor
retiring teachers
May 20 at San Carlo*

The Belleville Education Association will honor four retirees Tuesday, May 20, 6 p.m., at the San Carlo Restaurant, Lyndhurst.

Honorees are Ethel Williamson, high school; Mary Hoey and Angela Immediato, School 7; and Marian Gurewitz, Special Services.

Tickets are $15 each and are available through Eleanor Arthur of School 8 at 450-3480. Mail orders will be filled promptly.

If the nurse's observation indicates the student may be under the influence of a drug, she der the influence of a drug, she will report her findings to an administrator, notify parents, request a urine sample from the student and arrange for a medical examination by a physician who will be required to send a report to the school. A student's locker may also be checked by the school at this time.

If a urine sample and examination determines a student is using drugs, he or she will be referred to an out-of-school agency, Catrambone said.

According to the vice principal, before this project was instituted, students suspected of using drugs were handled in a disciplinary way with little input from the guidance staff. Most times, incidents of students using drugs were not reported because teachers did not know procedures of handling such situations.

Teachers are obligated to report incidents to me," Catrambone said. "In fact, it's state law."

Although only one or two cases have been reported within the past few years at the middle school, Catrambone believes the project will offer insight to both teachers and students that there is more than one way to deal

"This pilot project may help prevent a subtle user or an experimenter from continuing the use of drugs," he said.

Despite problems faced by towns

Riders prefer new double buses; more room & better air flow

By Christopher Bitani

Recently the 13 Broad Chilton line serving Nutley and Belleville, was outfitted with new articulated "double" buses. Fifty percent longer than conventional buses, the 60-foot articulated vehicles actually bend around corners and over humps, aided by an articulation line huge in the middle. Riders of the new buses, ever-whimsically preferred them to the rickety buses they replaced, not so much for their larger size, but for their smoothness. When it comes to buses, it seems, new is almost always better than old.

Devon Cera of Nutley said, "I think it's a nice bus, but I think it's a little too long. Of all the times I've been on them, I've never seen them crowded. Maybe at rush hour they get filled."

"I like them very much," Sam Kluge of Belleville said. "They're bigger than the old ones, which sometimes got too crowded coming back from Newark. The longer buses don't get as crowded."

A Nutley resident who wished to remain anonymous said, "These new buses are far better than the old ones."

A Belleville resident who also wishes not to be identified added, "At rush hour it used to be standing room only—now everyone gets a seat."

Other local residents gave high marks for the bus's air conditioning. While NJT buses have a "reputation" for family air conditioning systems, these new buses built by Volvo of North America have an air conditioning system which works very well.

The bus seats, thickly upholstered and upholstered in a sturdy clothlike fabric, also get high marks from the riders. None of the new seats are a "far cry" from the orange vinyl padded plastic seats of the older buses and are "very comfortable." Some passengers said they were tired of sitting on the new buses.

However, the bus has reported a few problems with the air conditioning.

Every time the bus starts, an unsettling heavy vibration occurs. Although it went away when the bus got moving, it came back at every stop.

The driver, who gave a "thumbs down" gesture when asked his opinion on the new buses, said, "maybe it's the turbo" that causes the intense vibrations. He added that the big Volvo bus, on the road for less than a month, was due for a check-up.

"Belleville got the driver added. These buses are as slow as molasses."

During a mid-afternoon run through Nutley and Belleville, the front bus picked up a total of nine passengers while getting off three. Crossing into Newark, the bus was operating at about 10 percent of its capacity. Even in the city, the bus never got past 50 percent capacity.

New Jersey Transit has purchased 130 articulated buses at a cost of $2.4 million. According to Jerome C. DeMarco, Executive Director of NJT, the purchase and use of articulated buses will afford significant savings in operating costs for NJT since we are able to carry more passengers than with a conventional bus.

However, the longer buses require 50% longer bus stops, and plans call for the elimination of more than 100 parking spaces in Nutley and Belleville.

In recent weeks, officials of both townships have lined up in opposition to the longer buses.

Michael Antonacci, formerly of Nutley and now a resident of the Essex County Geriatrics Center in Belleville, celebrated his 100th birthday last month during a party in his honor at the county-run nursing home.

Antonacci, who was born on April 15, 1886 in the province of Montevideo, Italy, emigrated to the United States as a teen-ager and originally settled in Newark living with relatives. He later married and he and his wife Mary had six children, all of whom were born in Newark.

He and his wife moved to Nutley and later to the Jersey Shore following his retirement from the Bristol Myers Company where he worked for 40 years as a tinsmith. Mr. Antonacci moved back to Essex County following his wife's death in 1962.

He was admitted to the Essex County Geriatrics Center in December of 1973 and has lived there since that time, enjoying visits with his son and daughter and reminiscing with other residents.

County Executive Peter Shapiro and Freeholder Arthur L. Clay were on hand for Antonacci's birthday. Shapiro presented Antonacci with a proclamation declaring April 15 "Michael Antonacci Day."

Antonacci's party was hosted by Robert Hilsen, director of the Geriatrics Center, and the entire Geriatrics Center staff.

Bonomo Memorial Fund aids Mountainside Hospital

When Gerard V. Bonomo died last summer of cardiac arrest, his family requested that, in lieu of flowers, friends send contributions to The Mountainside Hospital in Mr. Bonomo's name. His daughter, Laura, says, "My father had established a similar fund at my mother's death years ago and my brother and I knew that, Dad would have been pleased to have this done for him."

Gifts poured into the hospital from all over the country and around the world. Mr. Bonomo had friends and business associates in many countries. A substantial fund was created from the more than 80 contributions received at the hospital in his name.

Laura Bonomo and her younger brother, Richard, met last fall with Mr. Bonomo's friend and personal physician, Dr. Walter Hasbrouck, to decide upon the best use for the memorial fund's money. They concluded that, adding several much needed pieces of equipment to the cardiac rehabilitation department would be a very suitable memorial to Mr. Bonomo. A cardiac defibrillator and two state-of-the-art pieces of exercise equipment were purchased. This equipment will be used by heart patients to improve their cardiac functioning.

At Dr. Hasbrouck's suggestion, Ms. Bonomo and her brother discussed the most appropriate use of the remaining memorial funds with Margaret J. McLean, director of development community relations at Mountainside. When the Bonomos decided to concentrate the balance of funds on educational materials for the hospital, Patricia Young, R.N., vice president for nursing, was consulted and with her help, the family chose to give the hospital a portable bedside video monitor that offers a selection of teaching tapes. This unit can be wheeled from one hospital room to another so that patients and family members can get current medical information on any one of a wide variety of medical subjects. Ms. Bonomo says, "Richard and I felt strongly that teaching aids would be a great benefit for patients. Dr. Hasbrouck agrees. He's devoted to preventive medicine."

The memorial fund will also be used to purchase tapes for another new program that the hospital is starting. An educational TV channel is soon to be installed at Mountainside over which patients will be able to view medical teaching programs on their own in-room television sets. An educational TV guide will outline the time and subject of the various medical education offerings.

Laura Bonomo concludes, "It's very gratifying to see this gesture from a lot of people who cared about my father turned into something to help people in the hospital. I'd like to encourage other people to create memorial funds like this. It feels great to see that there is a positive product coming from everything negative that has happened."

Sleep patterns change as part of aging process

By Frederick J. Evans, Ph.D.
The Carrier Foundation

Some elderly people who think they have a sleeping problem may actually be experiencing normal age-related changes in their sleep patterns. While there are wide individual differences in general, a number of definite changes take place as sleep patterns after the age of about 40. It takes longer to fall asleep.

There is a reduction in the total number of hours spent asleep during the night.

Brief nighttime awakenings become more frequent, increasing from one or two a night to as many as a dozen.

The deep, refreshing kind of sleep of childhood and early adulthood tends to diminish and then disappear with age.

Elderly people staying at home are more likely to prefer to nap for an hour, or so during the afternoon.

These changes are normal. They occur gradually, but become more noticeable after the 60th year. They should be accepted as part of the natural process of aging. Attempts to treat these changes with sleeping medications will probably only lead to further problems. The use of sleeping pills or tranquilizers is likely to cause sleepiness during the day. Further, repeated use of these particular medications may also cause memory loss, confusion, impaired thinking and other symptoms. Prolonged use may even produce problems that are confused with senility or Alzheimer's disease.

There is, however, one condition—excessive daytime sleepiness—that is not a normal part of the natural aging process. When it occurs, there are several possible causes that should be investigated.

Excessive sleepiness during the day can be a warning signal for a serious depression, especially when accompanied by melancholy, lack of energy and motivation, loss of appetite and withdrawal from contact with others.

Another possible cause of excessive daytime sleepiness is sleep apnea—the temporary cessation of breathing while asleep. The apnea can last from a few seconds to over a minute and it may occur several dozen times during the night in extreme cases. The sleeper is not aware of the problem even though the temporary loss of breath jolts the sleeper into semi-consciousness as he gasps for air, evidenced by bursts of loud snoring. The person to whom this is happening may have no recollection of his awakenings and wake up in the morning exhausted, not knowing why.

Sometimes elderly people experience or take a drink of wine or whiskey before going to bed in the hope of inducing sleep. Exercising too soon before bedtime stimulates the system and causes wakefulness rather than sleep. Alcohol may induce initial sleepiness, but it leaves the body quickly and the brief period of sleep will be followed by wakefulness. Neither exercise nor alcohol should be taken closer than four hours before bedtime.

Elderly people may experience dissatisfaction with their sleeping patterns as the inevitable changes related to aging cut down on the amount or quality of nighttime sleep. However, by being aware that these changes are usually normal and by learning ways to cope with these changes, improvements in sleep are possible. Taking short naps during the day or walking or doing light exercise several hours before bedtime may all help the person gain the maximum benefit from sleep. Only if the person experiences regular severe daytime sleepiness or has other symptoms which may indicate depression or a physical illness, need he contact a physician.

Josiah Hornblower was a clever escape artist

By Eddie O'Neil

Second River's ferry featured largely in at least one attempt made by the British to capture Josiah Hornblower who brought the first steam engine over to America from England.

By the time of the Revolution, he had acquired considerable property, was the father of a large family and had become a justice of the peace. He was an ardent patriot and though too old to carry arms himself, he served the Revolutionary cause with advice, financial aid and as a member of the Provincial Assembly.

The British regarded Hornblower as a very dangerous man and several times he barely escaped arrest. It was small wonder that he watched prudently from his porch as a rather large party of men was being ferried across the Passaic River by Robert Kip, his son-in-law. At first, the score of strangers seemed inoffensive enough to Kip. They were dressed as farm laborers and had a plausible reason for crossing, but in the middle of the stream, they pulled pistols from under their greatcoats, primed them and got ready for action.

Kip put two and two together but kept his peace until the ferry was near enough to the shore so that Hornblower, still seated on his porch, would hear his call. Then he dropped his oars overboard, rose to his feet and shouted, "Father, the British."

History holds no records of what the British did to Kip. By the time the British party reached the house, Hornblower had flown once more and his daughter, Kip's wife, had been able to hide the family silver. The foiled enemy searched the house thoroughly and even set fire to it, but neighbors and a providential rain helped extinguish the blaze before much damage was done.

An engagement fought on Belleville soil was the rear guard action of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne in the winter of 1779. Wayne's men were exhausted and starved. Many of them were without shoes and left bloody footprints in the ice and snow. But, undaunted, they stood off the pursuing British between Second River and Elwood Avenue. For many years afterward, the ditches that had been dug for shelter were shown to children.

Z-100 plays in benefit softball game

For the third straight year, the Z-100 softball team will travel to face the Cancer Awareness softball squad in a charity match.

The game is sponsored by the School 10 Home and Parents Association and a non-profit organization called Cancer Awareness, Inc. The contest features Z-100 radio personalities and will be played at Clearmont Field this Sunday, starting at 4:30 p.m. Tickets for the worthy event are $2 for adults and $1 for children. A number of prizes will be raffled and the event is always a big hit in town.

This game will be the "rubber match" of the hard fought series with Z-100. Both teams have won once. Kevin Smith, Jack Murphy and Jonathon Bell are expected to appear for Z-100 while Belleville will be led by Doug Jackson, Barry Dunleavy, Ralph Amiano and Allan Amiano.

Soccer Association

Good news continues to come from the Belleville Soccer Association. The Belleville Spirit ran its record to 10-3 with an 8-2 victory over Hamsey. The teams' other victories in 26 include shutouts over Lodi, 4-0; Clifton, 6-0 and St. James, Newark, 8-0. By far, the Spirit is the hottest team in the N.J. A this spring. The team has clinched second place in the Minolta Youth Soccer League and are heading for the divisional playoffs.

Offensively, the Spirit is led by Chris Ricci, Angelo Baginara and Chris Imperatrice. Frank Tafur, Bryan Capozucio and Mark Bianchini have also contributed to the offensive charge.

On defense, Pat O'Brien has preserved the three shutout victories in goal while Marcello Girolando, Kevin Davis, Dom Aquino and Joe Colucci have been steady. The team is coached by Jim Imperatrice and Gene O'Brien.

Junior Varsity Softball

Under the guidance of coach Tony De Aquino, the Belleville junior varsity softball team has compiled an 8-2-1 record through the end of April. The team closed the month with a rush, beating Livingston, 8-3, Hackensack, 19-11 and Bloomfield.

Liza Molinari has won all of the teams' games on the mound. Against Livingston, Molinari was supported by 12 Belleville hits, three from freshman Carol Morrison, and two from Giovanna Mallozzi. Sue Friend and Gail Davenport, Peg Liberti also had a key hit, driving in three runs for Belleville.

Versus Hackensack, Morrison and Sandy Brew had four hits each to pace the attack. Samantha Russomano had a big day, going 3 for 6. Defensively, Davenport made some impressive plays to insure the victory in the later innings. Against Montclair, Morrison went 2-4 and scored five times to lead the way. Friend and Brew had two hits each to help Belleville to the conference win.

With the varsity doing so well, the success of the junior varsity team shows the Belleville softball program should be in good shape for years to come.

Varsity Softball

For the fifth straight year and sixth over the past seven, the Belleville softball team is in the county finals, where it will play powerful Caldwell for the title this Saturday evening at Pulaski Park, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The girls took a 19-3 record into this week's action and, having a title wave, the team will win 20 games, or more, for the fifth straight season. All of this is a compliment to head coach Carl Corino and his staff for a tremendous job. The word consistency can best describe the softball program at Belleville in the 80's.

When you consider that the worst record compiled by the program in the decade was 18-8 in 1981, you have an idea of the talent that Belleville has on the diamond on a yearly basis. This is the first time that Belleville and Caldwell have played in the finals. Caldwell last won the title in 1981, the only year that Belleville did not advance to the finals. Corino made an interesting observation relative to Saturday night's contest.

"For the first time that I can remember, we're not the favorites," he said. "Caldwell is the team that everyone is shooting for. They're ranked third in the state and have the veteran team. It's nice that we will be the underdog for once. In previous finals, we've always been looked upon as the favorites."

There have been many heroes on this year's team. One girl who has shown tremendous ability is sophomore pitcher, Jeannine Luzzi. Entering this week, she held a 14-2 record and has been nearly untouchable over the past three weeks.

"She has developed into an excellent pitcher," Corino said. "For a sophomore, her composure is super. She has confidence and tremendous control."

Boys' Baseball

Let's not overlook Ralph La Conte and the baseball team, who after a slow start, is red hot. Entering this week, the Bucs won eight of the last nine and went from a shaky 4-5-1 to an impressive 12-6-2. Belleville is in the quarter final round of the Greater Newark Tourney where it will host Verona this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Also, the team is just one half game behind Bloomfield for the conference title.

Last season, the Bucs and Bloomfield Bengals tied for the conference championship.

Athlete of the Week

You can't say enough good things about senior Dave Long. He is on an incredible tear lately and should earn a number of post season honors for the '86 season.

Last Weeks Quiz

The Twins did make the World Series, in 1965, losing to the L.A. Dodgers in seven games.

For This Week

When Hank Aaron hit his historic 715th homer in April, 1974, it came off Al Downing of the Dodgers. Who was the on deck hitter for the Braves in that game? A hint: He is still involved with baseball, on the field, for a National League team.

Continue offensive pace

Bucs win 8 out of 9 games; boost record to 12-6-2

By Michael Lamberti

Continuing its torrid offensive pace, the Belleville baseball team won four more games last week, boosting its team record to 12-6-2.

The Bucs, winners of eight of its last nine games, started the week by playing host to Eastside last Monday and Bloomfield on Tuesday. Yesterday, the team was in Montclair and tomorrow afternoon, the Bucs are host to Passaic, at 4 p.m. On Saturday, the team will host Verona in the quarter final round of the Greater Newark Tourney. Next Monday, the team is in Nutley; next Tuesday, it travels to Paramus in a makeup game and next Wednesday, plays host to Kennedy. All those games start at 4 p.m.

Two weeks ago, Ralph La Conte's troops were struggling at a 4-5-1 pace. Then, after a tie with Montclair, on April 28, the team caught fire. Last week, the Bucs rapped Kennedy, 13-0 and Essex Catholic, 20-9 in the preliminary round of the GNT. After losing a shootout to Clifton 7-4, the team rallied to defeat arch rival Bloomfield, 7-5 and ended the week with an 11-1 win over West Essex in the second round of the GNT. The Bucs are 5-1-1 in the NNJL, just one half game behind Bloomfield for 16th conference rank.

"We know we have the offensive tools," La Conte said, "however our pitching got thin with all the games that are scheduled. In the game with Clifton, we hit the ball well, but we couldn't stop their attack."

For the week, Belleville scored 59 runs in five games, allowing 29 over that span. It all started with the 13-0 whitewash of Kennedy, a game highlighted by a no hitter from sophomore Ernie Brodie.

Brodie, who boosted his record to 2-0, received plenty of offensive support. The Bucs tallied twice in the first, once in the last six times in the fifth and four more in the seventh to provide a large cushion. Brodie, who beat Paramus Catholic in his first outing, was in control throughout the game.

In the first, Allan Ruopp got things started with a walk. Al Best doubled to put men on second and third. John Auremma reached on an error, scoring Ruopp and Jim Dunphy singled home Best for a 2-0 lead.

In the third, Ruopp, doubled and two outs later, Auremma singled him home. In the big fifth inning, Auremma had a two run single. Dumphy drove home a run and Dean Mauro had a run scoring single.

In the seventh inning, Mauro cracked a three homer with Dumphy and Dave McNeill on base to cap the scoring.

On the game, Mauro was 3-4 with four ribbies. Auremma had three hits and three runs batted in and Dumphy collected three

Track team captures 1st conference meet

Individual and team milestones were rewritten last week as the Belleville track team won its first conference meet and performed in the NNJL championships last weekend.

The Bucs were in Nutley yesterday and will take part in the county championships this weekend, at Columbia High School. The championships commence tomorrow afternoon and will continue through Saturday. Next Monday, the Bucs will conclude its dual race season with a meet in West Essex.

Last week, Belleville lost a close one to Clifton, 64-63, then came back to spend Bloomfield.

71-60. The last time Belleville defeated Bloomfield in a dual race, head coach John Tasato was a new born baby and the President of the United States was Dwight Eisenhower.

In some individual news, senior Willie Chandler won two events in the conference championships last weekend, taking the 100 and 200 meter races. For the day, Belleville placed sixth in the conference, with 14 points. The Bucs just lost fifth place with Clifton posting 13 1/2 points. Eastside took the crown, with Passaic a close second.

Needless to say, head coach

Golf team improves; posts .500 record

The Belleville golf team has been involved in some tight decisions this spring. Although the team has lost some of those decisions, head coach Rocco Colucci is very happy with his team's improvement.

The Bucs, who entered this week with an 8-8 record, defeated Kennedy last week 167-200, then fell to Montclair, 196-200 and Caldwell, 178-183. This week the team battled Nutley yesterday and will face Paramus Catholic tomorrow afternoon. Next Wednesday, the NNJL individual championships are held at Nobb Hill Country Club in Freehold. At press time, Colucci had not selected the players who will represent Belleville at the NNJL. Belleville has a match with Don Bosco that has to be rescheduled.

Against Kennedy, Belleville received some excellent performances. Tim Nielsen fired a 37 over nine holes, Joe Tower had a 42, Brian De Furia came through with a 40 and Joe Dente, a 41.

Against Montclair, Dente hit for a 46 to lead the Belleville effort. Mike Desorried-Bellied with a 41 in the loss to Caldwell, while De Furia had a 43.

We lost by six strokes to Passaic, one to Clifton, four to Montclair and nine in two matches to Caldwell," Colucci said. "That's five matches we've lost by a total of 20 strokes. That's a stroke a man. You can't get much closer than that."

Despite the tough losses, Colucci feels the younger players are benefitting by the tough play.

The kids have assured me that those scores will be turned around next season," Colucci said kiddingly. "I'm just happy with the way we've improved over the season. We're playing some good teams and keeping it close."

Nevertheless, the Bucs are 8-8 and have a chance to finish the year above .500, marking the fifth straight year the program has exceeded the .500 mark.

Lady Bucs compete for title Saturday

Having practically monopolized a position in the Essex County finals, the Belleville softball team is on its way back to Pulaski Park, once more, defeating Livingston, 3-0 in the semis last Saturday.

The girls, 19-3 entering the week, battled conference opponents Eastside and Montclair in earlier games this week. Tomorrow, the team goes to Passaic for a 4 p.m. start and Saturday, the big game with Caldwell, for the county title. Game time is 7:30 p.m. from Pulaski Park. Bloomfield Next Monday, the girls will host Nutley, at 4, in a key NNJL battle and next Wednesday, close out the conference schedule with a game in Clifton, also at 4.

In addition to beating Livingston, Belleville posted victories over Kennedy, Clifton and Bloomfield to run its winning streak to 11 games. Head coach Carl Corino likes what he sees with his young team.

"The turning point was Nutley," Corino said of a 3-0 win over the Raidersette two weeks ago. "Since that game, we've been playing very well. Our defense is strong, we're getting key hits and Jeannine (Luzzi) has been pitching very well. I can't say enough about this team. Everyone is contributing and it's a fun team to be with. They're a good bunch of kids."

Belleville started the week with an easy 18-0 victory over Kennedy. The game lasted just five innings. Luzzi started and went all the way for the victory.

We hit the ball hard and played solid defense," Corino said. "We don't get too many games like that."

The next game, with Clifton, was more like the games that Belleville is used to. A tight, nail biting affair, with Belleville falling behind early, then rallying in the late innings.

The contest started on a bleak note for Belleville. Clifton jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead before the first out was registered.

They have a very good team," Corino said of Clifton. "There are some very good athletes on their squad. We had a tough outing."

Luzzi, the starter, settled down after the third run and didn't allow a run the rest of the way.

hits and two ribbies.

In the next game, against Essex Catholic, Belleville won by 11 runs, but the game was in question until the final inning. Darkness interrupted the contest after six full innings, with Belleville leading. Although the game was played in Belleville, the Bucs were the visiting team, via a coin toss.

After Essex scored once in the first, Belleville hit for seven runs in the top of the second. Auriemma collected two hits in the inning and drove in two runs. Mauro had an RBI single. Dave Long walked home a run and Al Best was hit by a pitch with the bases full.

Lou Lucante started the game for Belleville, but the junior did not have his best stuff and left after three innings and Belleville's lead trimmed to 7-6. Essex Catholic regained the lead at 8-7 after four innings, but Belleville tallied three times in the fifth to regain a 10-9 advantage.

Dave Long's three run homer, with Mc Neill and Joe Perna on base, was the big hit to give Belleville the lead.

Bob Hutchison pitched the fourth inning and Dunphy came on to hurl the final two frames, shutting out Essex Catholic and picking up the win.

In the sixth, the Bucs exploded for ten runs, many of which came by way of walks. Mc Neill contributed two hits in the inning and Ruopp had a double and single for three ribbies in the big frame.

Versus Clifton, Hutchison started for Belleville, but the junior was met by some hot Clifton bats and left after two innings. The Mustangs tallied once in the first and four times in the second for an early 5-0 lead.

The Bucs answered with five runs in the third to tie the game. Mc Neill cracked a three run homer in the third to highlight the comeback. However, the Mustangs were equal to the challenge, scoring five more times in the third off reliever Jay Marchese to take a 10-5 lead, a lead Clifton never relinquished.

"We were thin on arms at that point," La Conte said. "Give Clifton credit, though, they had their hitting shoes on for that game."

Clifton collected 16 hits while Belleville had 10. Auriemma closed the Buccaneer attack with a two run homer in the fourth inning. Both Auriemma and Mc Neill had three ribbies on the day.

The Bucs had little time to dwell on the loss. Bloomfield was the next challenger, at Bloomfield, and the conference crown was lurking. The Bengals came in with a 1½ game lead over Belleville and a Buc loss would have put the team in trouble.

"It was a typical Belleville-Bloomfield game," La Conte said. "We've had some big games with them over the years."

Last season, the two teams tied for the conference championship. The Bucs and Bengals split its two regular season meetings, with both clubs winning by 5-4 counts.

In this game, Belleville jumped out to a 4-0 lead after an inning and a half, however, Bloomfield rallied off Ruopp to tie the game at four after four innings.

In the first, Long singled. Dunphy doubled and Mc Neill singled home Long. Dunphy scored on a throwing error for a 2-0 lead.

In the second, Perna walked. Jeff Spillsbury, a sophomore, singled, putting runners on the corners. Ruopp hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Perna and Best singly in Spillsbury to increase the lead to 4-0.

Bloomfield got back in the game, scoring four unearned runs off Ruopp in three innings to forge the tie. The teams traded runs in the sixth, with Spillsbury starting the Belleville frame with a single. Ruopp singled Spillsbury to second and Best singled to score. The sophomore Bloomfield tied the game at five in the sixth inning and the teams went to extra frames to decide the winner.

The Bucs tallied twice in the eighth for the win. Spillsbury, who had a tremendous day, started with a single. Ruopp singled and Best was hit by a reliable Dave Long then drilled a double, scoring Spillsbury and Ruopp and giving Belleville the 7-5 lead. Dunphy came in to save the game for Ruopp and the Bucs had taken a big game.

Finally, the team ripped West Essex, 11-1 in the second round of the GNT last Saturday. The Bucs scored twice in the first and exploded for eight runs in the third to put the game away.

In the first, Ruopp doubled and Long walked. Dunphy reached on a fielders choice, scoring Ruopp and three walks forced home Long with the second run.

In the third, Jaime Galioth had a run scoring single. Mauro had a run scoring hit. Ruopp had a two run double. Best, an RBI single and Mc Neill, an RBI single.

Dunphy went all the way for the victory, striking out 14. The junior has done the job on the hill both as a starter and reliever. On offense, Ruopp was 2-3, Long had two runs batted in, Dunphy was 2-3 with two ribbies and Galioth was 1-2 with two runs batted in.

NOTES: If Bucs beat Verona, it will mark first time since 1981 that team has been to GNT semis. Belleville could face Bloomfield in semis, if Bengals beat Millburn. The other quarterfinal games feature Columbia and Livingston and Irvington-Glen Ridge. Game with Paramus on May 20 is a make-up of an earlier tie. It's a game that La Conte certainly doesn't need in the height of the GNT and conference race. "It's an out of conference game and with our hectic schedule, we could use any time we can get." Belleville also has to make up a game with Montclair, at home, because the teams played in an eight all-tie back on April 28.

'Rowing for Gold'

BHS crew team lives up to expectations, winning five championships in regatta

There is a saying at the Belleville Boat House that says, "Rowing for Gold." Head coach Sam Giuffrida, a veteran of Regatta wars for over 20 years, has said that the month of April is a prelude to the big regattas in May. Last week, the Belleville crew team lived up to its mentors expectations by winning five championships at the prestigious Mid Hudson Regatta.

This weekend, the Bucs travel to Philadelphia to take part in the prestigious Stotesbury Regatta. The races begin Friday afternoon and finish Saturday.

"It was a super day," an elated coach Giuffrida said. "It's the best performance by a Belleville team in any regatta. Five championships in eight tries. That's pretty good."

The senior four girls began the gold rush by winning the championship, upsetting powerful Upper Merion by 13 seconds.

"All season long, Upper Merion has been our nemesis," Giuffrida said. "Beating them, after they had beaten us earlier this year, was a big lift. The girls did a very nice job."

Much has been said of the girls' teams from the past. This season not much was expected from the girls following the graduation of the legendary national championship shell last May. However, this team had different ideas.

Made up of coxswain Jill Lillis, Kathy Zamora, Sally Anne Dalton, Trish Spillane and Carolyn Giuffrida, the senior four girls did a tremendous job. It should be noted that Dalton and Lillis were members of last years national champion shell.

The junior four girls also took the title and the Midweight Boys shell pulled off a big win, defeating much bigger competition.

"The midweight shell has to average 150 pounds," explained Giuffrida. "Those boys were up against some big teams, racing regular junior four shells. They did a very good job."

A second junior four boys shell lost second place by 1-100 of a second, settling for third place overall.

The senior four boys placed third, losing a tough race to Upper Merion (three seconds) and Roosevelt High for second place by just 5-10 of one second.

The freshman eight boys continue to row very well, winning a championship in a come from behind effort. The boys rallied to defeat F.D.R. High School of Hyde Park, New York. The Lightweight Four boys also prevailed, beating Kearny by four boat lengths.

Finally, the novice girls finished a strong third, picking up steam over the last 200 yards and almost pulling out the race.

"I have to give a lot of credit to my coaching staff," Giuffrida said. "They've done an excellent job all season long. They're Belleville people and have been superb."

Don Roll and Bob Cassin are the assistant coaches while Scott

Fabian assumes his usual role as girls' head coach.

"We've been aiming for May," Giuffrida said. "I'm very happy with the way we've been rowing. The Stotesbury Regatta will be a very good test."

The Stotes will feature some strong schools from all over the Eastern Seaboard. Teams from Florida, Virginia and Canada will join teams from the Metropolitan Area and the New England states for the prestigious race this weekend.

"It we do well in the Stotes, we have a chance to compete in Canada," again, Giuffrida said. "We've been there the last two seasons and I'm hoping we can go back again."

The Stotes also determines the seeding for the National championships to be held on Memorial Day Weekend so a lot will be at stake.

"We're ready," Giuffrida said with confidence. "These kids have been gearing for this all season long."

By its performance in the Mid Hudson, it certainly appears as if the team is on the right track.

away at the deficit, scoring twice in the fourth inning. Luzzi's sacrifice fly scored Laurie Dondarski and Sherri Sorrentino brought home Trish Tramutola with the second run.

In the sixth, with Belleville trailing 3-2, the "Cardiac Kids" did its thing again. Danielle Walker and Dondarski drew walks. Cindi Ruggiero singled to load the bases and Desiree Johansen walked to tie the game. Laura Caruso then hit a sacrifice fly to score Dondarski and give Belleville the lead for good, 4-3.

Luzzi retired the side in order over the last two innings to insure the 4-3 victory and the lead in the NNJHL standings.

Last Friday, the team stopped Bloomfield, 5-1, with three big runs in the first inning. Bloomfield needed the contest because the Lady Bengals were nearing the cutoff point for the state tourney and were one game 3-9 under .500.

"They were looking to be the spoiler in the conference race too," Corino said. "Any time we play them, it's a big game."

Tramutola gave Bloomfield early fits with a bases loaded triple in the first inning, giving Belleville a 3-0 lead.

"We played an almost perfect defensive game," Corino said. "We're just playing real well this point."

Finally, the team blanked Livingston, 3-0 at Pulaski Park last Saturday evening. Luzzi went all the way for the victory against a good Livingston squad. The game was scoreless for five innings, but Belleville got things going in the big sixth inning.

Maryanne McArthur started with a single. Cheri Vallesse came in to run for her. Walker singled and Dondarski, the freshman second baseman, got the biggest hit of her young career by smashing a triple to score both Vallesse and Walker. Dondarski then came home on a key single by Cindi Ruggiero, who is having a tremendous season—both defensively and at the plate.

That was enough for Luzzi, who shut down the Lady Lancers and assured Belleville of its fifth straight county final, sixth over the past seven years.

"Our defense," especially the infield, has been super," Corino said. "Tramutola, at third, Johansen at short, Dondarski at second and Ruggiero at first have been very good. Caruso is doing a fine job behind the plate. Our outfield is getting better. Sorrentino is looking good in left and Walker has been the biggest improvement in center field. Vallesse has done a nice job in right. Luzzi has been superb on the mound. For a sophomore, she has excellent composure."

In Caldwell, Belleville will be facing a team with an 18-2 mark, entering this week ranked third in the state and loaded with offense. In the series last Saturday, Caldwell dismantled Verona, 25-2, scoring 15 runs in the fourth inning.

"They're a veteran team," Corino said of Caldwell. "They have a very good lineup. We have a lot of respect for them, but I think we can give them a battle. This is a great opportunity to play a team of Caldwell's ability. It should be a good game."

NOTES: Girls lead Nutley by one game for NNJHL title. Last time, the team won the conference crown was in 1983. Girls have qualified for state tourney, but first round game has not been set yet.

Crack at the Bat - A member of the Belleville High School girls' softball team takes a crack at the bat during a game against the Bloomfield Bengals last Friday. The girls won, 5-1.

Throw to First - Lori Dondarski, second baseman for the Belleville High School girls' softball team, makes a throw to first base during a game against Bloomfield last Friday.

Buc track team competes in county championships this weekend

John Tosato was very happy with the results. The Bucs had not defeated Bloomfield since 1959 and Chandler's individual performance in the conference championships gave the entire team a big lift.

"Willie is some kind of athlete," the coach praised. "I would have to say he is one of the best runners Belleville has ever had. He's been winning two or three races in each meet all season long. I think he's lost only two races all year."

Chandler, who is undecided on which college he will attend next September, competes in the 100 and 200 meters. He also runs the 400 meters and when not running the 400, takes part in the mile relay. He is also an excellent long jumper.

At the conference championships, held at Hingeliff

Stadium, Paterson, Chandler was up against some stiff competition. With speedsters from Montclair, Eastside, Passaic and Kennedy on hand, the senior had to be at his quickest to take individual honors.

In the 100 meters, Chandler won with a time of 11.0, lowering his own school record in the event. The senior then came back to take the 200 meter run with an impressive 22.4, breaking the old Belleville school record of 22.7, held by Roland Brown way back in 1959.

Ironically, the last time Belleville beat Bloomfield in track

"Willie had a poor start in the 100 meter finals," recalled Tosato, "but he keeps coming at you. He doesn't let up. He just wants to win. Rich Ruffalo, former Buc head coach and now assistant coach, said he never saw a sprinter with such a kick at the end of a race. In the 200, he held back at the beginning, then made his move at the right time. He has good awareness out there."

Chandler's victories marked the first time a Belleville trackster had won a major meet since Cecilia Graham took the county championship in the high jump back in 1981.

Chandler's teammates were also impressive in the conference championships. Junior Craig Burden was seventh overall in the 800 meters with a time of 2:03, by far his personal best. Burden came back with a sixth place finish in the mile with a strong 4:41, also a personal best.

Greg Moriello took personal bests in the 1600 and 3200 meters with times of 5:06.9 and 10:59. John Zurlo had his best mile time in 5:01.6.

Senior J.R. Di Vincenzo ran the 400 meters in 55.7 and the 100 in 11.9. The 11.9 in the 100 was a personal best for Di Vincenzo. Sophomore Leon Puentes ran a personal best of 55.2 in the 400 meters.

In the close loss to Clifton, Chandler was his usual steady self, winning four events. The senior took first in the 100, 11.2, the 200, 24.2, the 400, 57.1 and the long jump, 21 feet.

Burden was first in the 800, 2:13.9, the 1600, 4:56 and the 3200, 10:56. Junior Loung La won the triple jump with a leap of 38 feet.

Zurlo placed second in the 800, 2:21.5. Di Vincenzo was second in the 400, 57.4, Mark Huamani was second in the triple jump, 35'10", and third in the high jump, 5'4". Junior Chris Goldrick placed second in the high jump at 5'6".

In the big win over Bloomfield, Mr. Chandler took only three first place medals, with a second place showing in the long jump. Chandler won his usual 100, 200 and 400 meter races. Loung La won the long and triple jumps.

Burden captured a first place in the 800 meters and the mile relay team of Puentes, Huamani, Zurlo and Di Vincenzo won with a time of 3:52. Goldrick placed third in the long jump, giving Belleville a sweep in that event and assuring the victory.

Anthony La Vista was third in the shot put at 32'11". Huamani was second in the 400 hurdles and the high jump. Burden was second in the 1600 and third in the mile while Moriello was second in the 3200 and third in the 1600. Di Vincenzo took second in the 200 and third in the 400 while Goldrick added a second in the high hurdles and a third in the 400 hurdles. Finally, Bobby Chul-lanandana took second in the pole vault.

Certainly, it was a week to remember for the improving Buccanear track program. It will definitely be a week that Willie Chandler will not soon forget.

The Hansons just bought a great new house. Here's how.

Finding their dream house was easy. But the Hansons were afraid getting a mortgage would be a nightmare.

Until they came to the Howard and sat with their Howard banker.

First they explored all of the mortgage loan options the Howard has available.

• Fixed-rate mortgages with terms from 15 to 30 years for maximum stability.
• One and three-year Adjustable Rate Mortgages that take full advantage of current market rates.

• Bi-weekly mortgages that can save over 40% in interest payments over the life of the loan.

Then, with the help of their Howard banker, they selected the plan that made the most sense for them.

Like the Hansons, you can count on the Howard to be your bank for life. Because we understand the needs and concerns of home buyers today and the hopes and desires that will come tomorrow.

Junior Woman's Club hosts annual poetry contest

Seventh/Eighth Grade Winners - Seventh grader Heather Kane, left, and eighth grader Michael McGough, right, recently received first place honors in the Belleville Junior Woman's Club's annual poetry contest. The theme this year was "Tomorrow Means..." With them is Cathy Watson, poetry contest chairman. A second place honor was presented to Christine Donnelly, while honorable mentions went to Marino Rizzi, Vicki Jarman and Diane DiVincenzo. They are all eighth graders.

Tenth Grade Winners - Tracey Doyle, left, received first place honors in the Belleville Junior Woman's Club's poetry contest, entitled "Tomorrow Means..." With her are Antonia Zangari, honorable mention, and Jennifer Zarra, second place. Honorable mention also went to Anne Carlucci.

"Tomorrow Means..."

Tomorrow means a second chance to make the world a better place to be.
A possibility of the narrow minded learning how to see.

To tell the ones we love how much we really care,
To open up our hearts and lives to all, and to share.
To wake up to a fresh start and try to do our best,
It's not if we win or lose the game, but how we play it is the test.

To accomplish your goals as best as you can,
But not to look down on others, and help your fellow man.

To appreciate what we have and in what we believe,
It's what we give that counts not what we receive.
But out of all goals peace is the one for which we must all strive.

It is after all the determining factor of our future and how we can survive.

A chance for all the countries to put down their arms and extend out their hands.

The children and smiles of the world can unite the distant lands.

People take for granted their second chances, so try to use them well.

For how many second chances we have left only time will tell.

— By Tracey Doyle
Grade 10

"Tomorrow Means..."

Tomorrow is a brand new day,
Fresh with no mistakes.
To some tomorrow's real near by,
To some it's far away.

Tomorrow dreams are young and new,
Tomorrow starts fresh for you.
Tomorrow brand new dreams are born,
Dreams that can come true.

— By Heather Kane

"Tomorrow Means..."

When sadness fills my days,
It's time to turn away.
And let tomorrow's dreams,
Become reality.

I'd like to reach up,
And touch the sky.
I'd like to touch the sun,
But I don't need to fly.

For tomorrow is another day
Filled with new things for me
And if I try my best tomorrow,
A better person I will be.

And if my life now
Is very sad and gray,
I can look forward to tomorrow,
It is just a day-away.

Cocaine Bust - Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio, Special Agent Glennon L. Cooper of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), and Essex County Prosecutor George Schneider examine the 15 kilos of high-quality cocaine which were confiscated during early morning raids on May 6 throughout New Jersey and New York. The raids, conducted by officers of all three agencies, broke a major cocaine distribution network and led to the arrest of 48 persons.

Leading cocaine network broken in Essex County

Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio and the Essex County Sheriff's Bureau of Narcotics along with the Office of Essex County Prosecutor George Schneider played a major role in this week's raids which broke a leading cocaine distribution network headquartered in northern New Jersey.

Sheriff's narcotics detectives were part of a large federal-state joint task force that arrested 48 persons and confiscated more than 15 kilos of high quality cocaine. Weapons and cash were also confiscated.

Under the direction of the federal Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), the Essex County Sheriff's Bureau of Narcotics and the Prosecutor's Office made pre-dawn arrests on May 6, following a six month undercover investigation.

The drug ring, which was distributing multi kilogram quantities of cocaine each week, was led by members of one North Catskill family.

According to Sheriff D'Alessio, the ring leaders were identified as Franklyn Mitello, of 22 Amelia St., and his brothers in law, Anthony Russo and Vincent Tedesco of the same address. Those three, along with their wives, Teresa Mitello, Janet Tedesco, Mitello's sister, and Jennifer Russo, also Mitello's sister and other family members, "were among the first arrested in the raids." D'Alessio stated, "these court authorized wire taps were installed on telephones at all three residences. This helped investigators identify not only the network's major distributors but also its sources of supply."

In addition to the North Catskill well raids, a search team of Essex County Sheriff's Officers and DEA agents found more than 12 kilos of cocaine at the home of Norberto Salia, of Old Bridge. His name identified a major supplier to the network.

Sheriff D'Alessio noted that among the drug customers identified through the wiretaps were a group of Wall Street stock brokers. Four men were arrested the morning of the raid as they entered their offices to begin a day's work at the brokerage firms.

United States Attorney Thomas W. Greishel commended the Essex County Sheriff's Office for their participation in the six month probe with included wire taps, undercover purchases and seizures of drugs.

The entire operation was under the direction of the President's Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force whose goal is to combine the resources of federal, state, county and local law enforcement agencies in their going war against illegal drug traffic.
