Commissioners try again

Budget amended to reflect state cuts

By Christopher Blum

For the second time in a matter of months, the Belleville Board of Commissioners has amended its fiscal 1987 municipal budget in the wake of reduced state aid.

On Monday, June 16, the board voted to amend its fiscal 1987 municipal budget to reflect a 10 percent cut in state aid.

According to the Belleville Times, the board's decision was a result of the fact that the township expects to receive only $1,400,000 in state aid for fiscal 1987.

The budget of the police department has not been hit particularly hard by the roll-back. The department's budget was cut from $2,912,488 to $2,897,488, a cut of $15,000.

Belleville Police Chief George Lister said the money was coming out of a surplus fund which is earmarked for new replacements of retiring officers.

The $15,000 was money that set aside for replacement. Lister said the money was not needed for replacement of retiring officers.

The chief said that the department has a lack of qualified officers to take over the jobs of retiring officers, but that they will be able to fill the gap by the end of the year.

The chief added, "Hopefully we'll be able to put on a cash-out more than instead of less."

According to Lister, the department's action to cut $15,000 from the budget is a "very small" amount.

The reduction in state funding has been passed down to the various departments in the township.

While the salaries for the Township Attorney's office have been reduced by $10,000, from $87,900 to $77,900.

License fees for the municipal court were scaled back as well. From a higher of $37,500, to $30,000, Belmont took a $7,500 cut.

Most of the savings will go to a new fund for township officers. The township also has a new fund for the township officers. The township also has a new fund for the township officers.

Seniors have not been spared the budget-cutting axe. The senior citizens' coordinator saw a 40 percent budget cut from $15,000, the coordinator's share of the Belleville municipal pie is down to $1,500.

There's a natural resource not in abundance along many township streets was also a line item devastated by budget cuts. The original $11,000 funding for shade trees was cut in half to $5,500.

Maintenance of township parks and grounds also suffer under the second amended budget. The original $538,347, the amended new standard, just under $320,000.

All other cuts, the planning board, zoning board and tax assessment office all faced the axe in the amount of $2,000. That figure represents departmental cuts of approximately 30 percent in each instance.

The Health Department saw its budget cut by $15,000, from $258,000 down to $243,000. Meanwhile, its group insurance plan, which was suspended at $18,000, has been completely abandoned.

A complete copy of the amended Belleville Municipal Budget appears on page 13 of this edition.

Residents oppose proposed tool company parking lot

By Maureen Conway

A decision by the Elton Tool Company's resubmitted parking facility plans was delayed by the Belleville Planning Board pending a variance from the zoning board.

Original plans stated that parking facilities would be only in an industrial zone. However, plans submitted on July 10 planning board meeting called for additional lots located off a residential zone on Cortland Street.

Neighboring residents appeared at the meeting to fight the proposed action by the Cortland Street company. Many of them told the Belleville Times of concerns such as noise, fumes, safety and the devaluation of their property.

"This company wants to put the parking lots on either side of my house," said one resident who wished not to be named. "If I wanted to move, who would want to buy a house between two parking lots?"

There are at least 25 children in this neighborhood," Mrs. Gen. Cerca said. "We have enough in the area already. The constant traffic out of the lots could be dangerous for us and our kids."

Attorney for the tool company, Michael Casale petitioned the board to hear the case without a zoning board variance on the point that the empty residential board issue May 8 to finance the Wanaque-South project. The commission actually back in April had authorized Frank Orechio to complete negotiations for the bonds which had been essentially completed. Frank Orechio said Tuesday that newspaper headlines were not correct in suggesting that the commission was about to jeopardize state loans or lose favorable interest rates on the bonds.

Orechio was directed to complete the bond sale preparations. A detailed report, however, on the negotiations which also involve the N.J. State Treasurer and the Department of Environmental Protection will be outlined to the new water commission next month.

Concerned Citizens plan meet

July 22 at 8 p.m. is the date and time for the first open public meeting of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc., an activist group that has emerged at the forefront of the new town hall controversy.

The meeting will take place at the Elks Club, 254 Washington Avenue.

We're going to plan our next strategies," Vincent Frantantonio, group president, told the Times. He added that one topic in particular, the group plans to address concerns the board of commissioners recent amendment to their original $10 million bond ordinance, which was to finance a new town hall. That ordinance was amended to $5 million at the July 8 board meeting.

What the commissioners did that night may have been illegal," Frantantonio claimed, "it appears they can't amend an ordinance by resolution. Ordinances have to be amended by another ordinance."

The difference, Frantantonio said, is that citizens "can't petition resolutions, but they can petition ordinances."

The Concerned Citizens' President said his group now boasts "over 500 members right now," and that a membership drive is still going on.

Although the thrust of the group's activities have so far been devoted to bringing down the cost and scope of forthcoming municipal construction, the group's president said other items will be on the agenda in the future.

"Down the road we're going to see what we can save on the board of education budget," Frantantonio said, adding that the budget makes up "about 60%" of township expenses.

And what of the rumors flying around town of Concerned Citizens' leaders running for municipal office next May?

"We haven't thought about it as yet," Frantantonio replied. "Nobody's even discussed it."

But although "Frantantonio" neither confirmed nor denied the candidacy rumors, he told supporters to "beware, you're going to see different people running for office that are in the same camp as the commissioners."

The Elks Club meeting marks the first time that the Concerned Citizens of Belleville is meeting publicly in town. Previous meetings have been held in homes and have been closed to the press.

All members are encouraged to attend and anyone wishing to join are also encouraged to attend," Frantantonio said of the upcoming meet.

Orechios reinstated at Wanaque; water commission head replaced

A retired East Orange Army engineer was tapped as the new executive director of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission. The new director, Robert Jennings, replaced Frank Orechio, who had held the post the past five years.

The water commission meeting was the first to include new members appointed by Gov. Thomas Kean, the past month.

New executive director - Roscoe Jennings (third from right) was sworn in Tuesday as executive director of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission. He succeeded John Kinder, mayor of Bloomfield. Jennings, a retired Army colonel who resides in East Orange, is pictured with the five members of the water commission including (l. to r.) Robert Rubino of West Caldwell, Stanley Levine of Paterson, Chairman Carl Orechio of Nutley, Elton Hill of Newark and Albert Talla of Wayne.

Besides replacing Kinder, the board returned Nancy L. Carl Orechio as chairman and retired Frank Orechio as vice chairman of the new Wanaque-South project.

Kinder's replacement is Roscoe L. Jennings of East Orange, who has been with the N.J. Water Supply the past 22 years, most recently as superintendent of water treatment and chairman of the operational standards and procedures committee.

Jennings' appointment came by a 4-0-1 vote with new board member Stanley Levine of Paterson abstaining. Levine was sworn in as a new commissioner prior to Tuesday's meeting.

Much of Tuesday's action nullified personnel and organizational changes adopted by the commission on May 8, prior to Gov. Kean's new appointees taking office. The retiring commission replaced Carl Orechio as chairman, fired Frank Orechio, and others and retained several new appointees.

BELLEVILLE briefly...

Library show has strings attached

Puppets and puppetry have been popular with young and old alike for many, many years. So with this in mind, the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room of Belleville Public Library is presenting a number of puppet shows and puppetry programs for the children.

On Wednesday, July 16 and Wednesday, July 23, puppet making workshops will be held for children from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Paper-plate puppets, envelope puppets and paper cup puppets will be created.

On Monday, August 18, at 10 a.m., preschoolers will be making paper bag puppets.

Clara Maass blood drive needs donors

Belleville's Clara Maass Medical Center, in cooperation with the North Jersey Blood Center, will be sponsoring a blood drive on Thursday, July 24 from 10 to 4 p.m. which is open to all members of the community.

Donors are needed for the much in demand blood as the area's blood banks are low. The only restrictions for donors is that if they weigh below 110 pounds, have had hepatitis, are on certain medications, they can not give. Blood is needed desperately, so we ask all who can donate to do so. Irving Caplan, Director, Laboratory Services at Clara Maass, explained.

The blood drive is to be held in the Remondelli Room of the Continuing Care Center. Appointments can be made by calling the Clara Maass Public Relations Department at 450-2267. Walk-ins are also welcome. Questions about the requirements for donating blood can be directed to the North Jersey Blood Center at 676-4700.

Orechio legislation to fund palsy center

Senate President Pro Tempore Carmen Orechio (D Essex) has introduced legislation appropriating $276,000 to the Cerebral Palsy Center in Essex and West Hudson in Belleville.

According to an Orechio spokesman, if the legislation is approved, the funds will be used to provide needed repairs and deferred maintenance on the center's facilities.

Next stop for the bill, S.2257, is a review by the Senate Health, Institutions and Welfare Committee.

Programs at the center emphasize size early care for the multiply handicapped. Facilities for severely involved persons in need of school placement, prevocational training and adult services are also provided. The center currently serves 450 clients and their families.

"Since its creation in 1946, the Center has assisted over 3,500 children, teenagers, young adults and adults in need of its services," Senator Orechio said. "Their comprehensive programs provide continuous aid to the handicapped residents in our area," he stated.

Township priest is honored on Z-100 radio

Reverend John Dennyhy of St. Peter's Parish was honored July 10 by the WILTZ 100 Morning Zoo program as Human Being of the Day.

According to Jonathan Bo Community Affairs director, the radio station Reverend Dennyhy had been recommended by the Archdiocese of Newark for the work he has done with various groups in the community. However, the Archdiocese office of communications has no record of sending the letter.

Reverend Dennyhy has been at St. Peter's since 1981.

Lempert on WABC Radio

Philip Lempert, president of The Lempert Company and a highly regarded trends and marketing analyst, will make a guest appearance on WABC's Channel 7 Morning Show with Regis Philbin on Wednesday, July 16 at 9 a.m.

Blind Faith

Geeta Acharya of Belleville recently began a new job as a computer programmer at Drexel Burnham and Lambert, a New York City-based brokerage firm.

But this Essex County resident is different from most computer programmers employed by any company. She is legally blind and commutes independently to and from metropolitan New York City by both bus and train.

Acharya has a problem with deterioration of the retina in both eyes causing her to have low vision. With the assistance of the Department of Human Services' Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired rehabilitation services program, she has been able to find a job and work in the competitive work force.

A native of India, Acharya is a graduate of Bombay University where she studied accounting. Upon moving to New Jersey in 1980, she began taking classes in computer programming at Baruch College, New York.

Later, equipment and training were furnished by the Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired, with the commission's rehabilitation services program providing her with career testing and job search assistance and helping her complete computer training.

Lempert is a popular guest on the show and the July 16 appearance will mark the fourth time that he has been on the New York City based show. Lempert is also the publisher of one of the nation's fastest growing newsletters, "The Lempert Report," which covers marketing analysis, issues and trends in the food industry.

The well-known Belleville marketing expert will discuss microwave meals, the growing trend in America towards using microwave ovens, and how to prepare microwave food. Lempert said, "There is a real microwave food for every need occasion."

Microwaves now exist in 44 percent of all American households. That number is expected to rise to over 60 percent this year. It was not too long ago that microwave didn't even exist.

The popularity of microwaves is being credited to how easily the cooking devices fit into today's busy lifestyle especially for single working women and some senior citizens.

Lempert will give Philbin and Morning Show viewers an inside view of the growing microwave food market, discussing and sampling everything from microwave prepared soup to popcorn.

The Lempert Company of Belleville is an advertising, marketing and public relations agency specializing in the food industry.

Belleville banker receives award for 25 years of service

Robert K. Hucks, executive vice president of First DeWitt and a resident of Belleville, received a special award from the N.J. Savings League for 25 years of service in contributing to the growth and development of savings and loan business.

Michael J. Dugan, III, chairman of the N.J. Savings League Association, stated that the award was given to Mr. Hucks by Thomas V. Lavigne, Jr., President of the N.J. Savings League, for his long and distinguished service to the industry.

In joining the ceremony, Mr. Lavigne said that the association has been associated with Mr. Hucks and his family since 1961. He expressed his appreciation for the service of others through the promotion of savings and home ownership in New Jersey, thereby making a material contribution to the property and economic security of the community, state, and nation.

Mr. Hucks, who has a firm of 100 employees, has been associated with First DeWitt and its predecessor associations for 25 years. He joined the financial organization in 1961. In that period of time, he has advanced through the various ranks of assistant vice president, vice president, senior vice president and executive vice president.

Mr. Hucks resides at 4 N. Camden with his wife, Anna, and their three children, Kimberly, David, Jr. and Andrew.

AN ASPIRIN A DAY

In 1972, a well-known doctor looking at aspirin a day may reduce the likelihood of stroke and heart attack. Some doctors have subscribed to the aspirin-a-day plan for their heart patients in addition to other medical instructions. Four types of heart patients are said to benefit from a daily 325mg. five grain aspirin tablet. They are: those who have had a previous heart attack and whose condition is unstable; those who are chest pain with a high risk of impending heart attack; in extensive studies, aspirin taken daily reduced the number of heart attacks by 50 percent; and one-fifth in patients with unstable angina the daily aspirin reduced by half the risk of another heart attack or dying.

Everyone will benefit from our friendly, helpful service. In addition to prescription drugs, we carry over the counter medications at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1556, 759-1968. ### Man arrested for knife attack

A man was arrested July 16 after several witnesses observed a fight Sunday afternoon on North 11th St.

Police arrested Eric Pemberton, 19, of Newark after he was identified by the victim, who wished to remain anonymous.

Police recovered the knife and charged Pemberton with aggravated assault.

Local market is robbed

Two youths are being sought by police following a robbery at the Krauszer's Dairy Store on

Columbus Avenue

According to police, an employee was counting money early Sunday morning. When he put the money aside on the counter to help a customer, he noticed two youths, believed to be Hispanic, walk out of the store after not buying anything.

The employee looked for the money he had put aside, couldn't find it and chased the suspects through Belleville Park. The suspects subsequently escaped with over $200.

Police are seeking two youths, approximately 16. One was reported to be 6 feet tall with red hair, in a black hat and black Adidas running pants. The second suspect was reported to be 5 foot 8 inches tall, with black hair and wearing striped jeans and sneakers.

Not the first time

Krauszer's was robbed of $60 two days prior to the Sunday robbery. According to police, an employee was talking to friends away from the register, when a suspect—believed to be intoxicated—walked up, saying he had taken $60 from the register and then offered to split the money with the employee.

When the employee refused to take part in the crime, the suspect fled and was chased by the employee through Belleville Park.

Police are seeking a white male, about 25, with blonde hair and brown eyes. At the time of the incident, the suspect was wearing blue jeans and a lumberjack shirt.

Two men arrested in motor vehicle accident

Police arrested two males in connection with a motor vehicle accident Sunday evening.

According to police, a minor collision occurred at the intersection of Linden Avenue and Greylock Parkway July 13.

Two drivers, Angel Monroe Cardina and William Hekly Carter, were involved. Both are from Newark.

Police report that Cardina fled the scene, but was later apprehended. He was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving on a revoked license. Hekly, meanwhile, was

Dog owners without dog licenses subject to fine

Dog owners who do not get their dogs licensed by July 21 will be subject to a summons and a $20 fine, Belleville police chief George Lister told the Times.

Dog licenses expire in January and since the beginning of the year, dog census takers have been delivering notices to township dog owners who have not licensed their pets.

The price for dog licenses are $5.20 for neutered dogs and $8.20 for dogs that have not been neutered.

is a better electrician and gradually worked his way up through the ranks, culminating in the executive director's job. Lister said.

He talked at the water treatment and operating licenses, 1985, to his subjects in New Jersey. Among his duties the past three years, he, Lister, heading the Essex County Environmental Committee.

The N.J. Water Commission, Lister, also decided to hold an "open" State assessment for water-related expenses, from 1984 and negotiations with the Passaic Valley Water Committee.

strongly, such as installing a pump-out across the George Washington Bridge, prevented it. Lister said.

The problems from unemployment, the closing of industries and other steps which were being considered to conserve water would have cost thousands of jobs and money, would have cost the entire town millions of dollars, Lister said. Thus, the objection by the Water Committee to absorb costs which commissioners felt should be shared among all of the state.

Passaic Valley agreed but also maintained that during the drought, the agency itself was never short of water. Passaic Valley draws water from the Passaic River in Little Falls.

But he said this week, however, that both North Jersey and Passaic Valley workers be forced to pay the drought-related expenses.

Planning board news

lots are already used for parking. "That's a lie," said one Little Street homeowner. "Trucks were using the lot at one time, but we changed them out. My husband has a respiratory problem and the exhaust fumes from being next to a parking lot would irritate him. I don't know why they need the additional lots. My husband counted the parking spaces in front of the company. They have 16 spaces for tractor trailers and 16 car spaces."

Planning Board Chairman Joseph Dele, ordered a private meeting between Board Attorney Bernard Kanich and Grace Harris, consultant from the Planning Association of North Jersey. Harris told the board were cleared and the board moving to not hear the case until variance requests are decided upon by the Belleville Zoning Board of Adjustment.

Low income housing concerns

Concern about the amount of land available for construction of residential housing prompted the board to postpone housing approvals until all questions are cleared up concerning guidelines.

from the New Jersey Council of Affordable Housing. According to the report, by 1993 Belleville will be required to provide 162 low and moderate income housing units for the township population.

Nannina's to expand

Nannina's in the Park restaurant received approval for front and rear additions. According to Alan Goetz, owner of the restaurant, the front additions will be used to expand the bar and create a pizzeria room. The rear addition will be for storage and refrigeration.

Around town

Subdivision of property was approved by Alan Papp of Main Street. Postponements were approved for Richard DeMarco of Main Street and Agnes and Salvatore Fekeri of Franklin Avenue. DeMarco's attorney asked the board to postpone the case until he could update his information and the board postponed the hearing for the Fekeri's in order for them to gather all necessary information pertaining to their case.

The next Planning Board meeting is Thursday, August 14 in three offices located at 383 Washington Avenue.

Shapiro to hold meetings

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro is scheduling town meetings in local municipalities to discuss with taxpayers what he claims is an "unconscionable tax increase" passed by the Freeholder Board.

The budget, which was enacted by a 7 to 2 vote by the Freeholders, increases the tax levy by 22 percent over last year's.

"If I were a Freeholder I would have voted against it. If I had the power to veto, I would have vetoed it."

District IV Freeholder Monroe J. Lustbader and District V Freeholder Arthur L. Clay voted against passage.

The final adoption of the budget is by Freeholder Resolution, which means it is not subject to veto by the county executive.

Shapiro said once the state forced the county to add money to the budget, it was time to cut back on other expenditures all through the government.

Instead, they kept adding money to a few of their favorite agencies. The Sheriff's budget this year was increased by the Freeholders over 20 percent," he said.

In his budget proposal, made on January 14, Shapiro recommended a 4 percent increase for the Sheriff and all other constitutional and statutory offices. Shapiro had said he would hold all agencies directly under his control down to 3 1/2 percent increase.

The budget passed by the Freeholders now gives the Sheriff $12.6 million. Shapiro said that is more than double the budget of the Camden Sheriff who runs the jails. The Essex Sheriff's budget is almost four times larger than the budget of the Sheriff in Bergen County where the population is comparable to ours.

However, although the populations of the two counties are virtually identical, the crime statistics are not. For every single act of violent crime that occurs in Bergen County, 10 occur in Essex. While 27 murders occurred in Bergen last year, 149 occurred in Essex. Overall, the crime rate in Essex County is about 150% higher than in Bergen County.

Senatorial Courtesy

Since the beginning of time, New Jersey State Senators have developed a procedure that is commonly referred to as "Senatorial Courtesy."

In modern day language, "Senatorial Courtesy" gives to each member of the State Senate the right to veto a gubernatorial nomination by simply remaining silent—and by not "signing off" on a gubernatorial nomination.

It is an arrogance of power that serves no useful public good. Although Senator Carmen Orechio of the 30th District has the right to exercise Senatorial Courtesy, during his 13 years in the Senate, never once has he resorted to the practice. In fact, as Senate President, he maneuvered the Senate around the practice, when Governor Kean nominated Superior Court Judge Sylvia Pressler for a second term. Despite the opposition of her home county Senator, through the dedicated efforts of Senator Orechio, Superior Court Judge Sylvia Pressler was confirmed. "Senatorial Courtesy," notwithstanding.

At the moment, Chief Justice Robert Wilentz renomination by Governor Tom Kean may be hostage to "Senatorial Courtesy."

The New Jersey Constitution provides that certain nominations are to be made by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. It clearly does not speak of a Senator—it speaks of the Senate body as a whole.

There is a procedure for screening gubernatorial nominations. A standing committee in the Senate—the Judiciary Committee—has the obligation to interview, interrogate and cross-examine gubernatorial nominees. It is at the session of that committee that Senators have the absolute right to question gubernatorial nominees who are subject to Senate confirmation. That safeguard should be adequate to meet the requirements of our State Constitution.

Over the years, many gubernatorial nominations have been held up because a particular Senator wanted to throw his weight around—hoping for a "deal" from the front office. Other times, State Senators have been known to hold up nominees in order to send a message to the future public official that he or she is beholden to the home county Senator. And then, there were a few exceptions when the home county State Senator had a legitimate question of a nominee.

But whatever "Senatorial Courtesy" should be buried—once and for ever.

Now let's get on with it

The Belleville Board of Commissioners, by formal resolution, finally voted to cap the planned and long-awaited public safety building at $5 million. The move was expected and, as expected, was the resulting outcry from the Concerned Citizens of Belleville who maintain that the building should be capped at $2.5 million or less.

Lending credence to their argument is a 1983 plan which estimates the cost of an adequate building at far less than $2 million. Even a commissioner, Joseph Grande, believes the building can rise at half the capped price.

So why the delay? Vice President of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Gae Nazzola, called the excess a "hoax" and believes that if the money is there, it will inevitably be spent.

Commissioner of Public Welfare Michael Pizzi, however, insists that the project will ultimately cost less, and that any unused monies will be returned.

But in accusing the commissioners of fiscal mismanagement, before it even happens, the controversy focuses more on the cost cap than the cost itself.

Isn't it time the Concerned Citizens of Belleville and the board of commissioners got down to specifics? When are the bids going out? Where is the building going up? What will save more money—one contractor or several sub-contractors? Can a less expensive smaller building be constructed with room for future expansion? How long will it take to build?

Certainly both sides of the controversy agree that there is an urgent need to put the public safety building on the Belleville map, if not for the security of the township's citizenry, then simply because the sooner it goes up, the less it will cost.

In the last few months, the leadership of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville has emerged as experts in the field of municipal watchdogging. They have been successful not only in reducing the grantees' scope of the commission's plans, but in mobilizing the people as well.

We are confident that the citizen's group will carefully monitor the project as it moves from drawing board to completion. Nazzola, who is perhaps the most suspicious of cost overruns, has proven to be adept at cost analysis. We encourage him to add money saving suggestions to his scrutiny.

Further, we encourage the formation of a follow up citizen's committee, this one to agree on specifics, work out details, and especially to come up with cost saving ideas.

Vincent Frantantonio, President of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, would make a fine chairman for such a committee. A contractor by trade, perhaps he could be as effective a planner as he is an orator.

One final point: Acting on the public safety building now, instead of after the May, 1987 town elections (as some citizens demand) is counter-productive. Instead, let's use the building as a yard stick to determine the worthiness of our elected officials. It would be folly on the part of the commissioners to further erode their re-election chances by erecting a bloated pork barrel public safety building.

Let's also use the building's construction as a test of the Concerned Citizens' mettle. They've proved themselves at the podium—let's see how they fare at the drawing board.

Despite the catcalls and bickering, there is a tremendous pool of talent on both sides of the fence. With cooperation from officials and activists alike, Belleville will soon boast a new, efficient public safety building and maybe, just maybe, a lower crime rate.

Now let's get on with it!

Budget cut

Mayor Mike Marotti was quoted in the Newark Ledger this week saying that the municipal budget will be cut by over $700,000 in order to make up for anticipated funds that suddenly vanished. Mayor Marotti explained there would be no reduction in services and no layoff of personnel.

Wonderful! We now wonder why the Commissioner didn't make the cut before the budget was formulated?

Sherriff rebuts executive...

To the editor:

I would like to clarify some incorrect comments made by the County Executive in the Belleville-Times, regarding the use of Civil Service lists for hiring Sheriff's Officers.

The article implied that the Sheriff's Office was deliberately avoiding the use of a Civil Service list and was hiring on "provisional" employees by choice.

The list for Sheriff's Officers, which was in existence, was cancelled by the New Jersey Department of Civil Service on July 1, 1986. The Civil Service Commission based its determination to cancel all existing lists statewide on a finding that a physical performance test should be administered in order to determine suitability for appointment to the title "Sheriff's Officer."

This call for increased physical performance requirements has the support of all the Sheriff's in the state, who are actively seeking to upgrade the quality of law enforcement services we provide to the citizens.

A new open competitive examination for the title of "Sheriff's Officer" has already been announced in the July 1986 Civil Service bulletin. Until that exam is administered and graded, no new active list will exist for Sheriff's Officers. In the meantime, newly hired officers must be in the "provisional" category.

I am personally proud of the fact that, upon my election as Sheriff in 1982, I called for the first Civil Service entrance examination and the first promotional examination at the Sheriff's Office in more than 10 years. The use of Civil Service competitive tests has allowed the Sheriff's Office to appoint the first female and the first minority Superior Officers in the history of our Office.

At the Essex County Sheriff's Office, we are actively advertising the new examination for Sheriff's Officers through out the county. We are working closely with the Essex County Office of Affirmative Action to announce this opportunity to the public.

Applications for the examination for Sheriff's Officers are available at the Sheriff's Office and the State Civil Service Office, 110 Raymond Boulevard in Newark.

Sincerely,

Thomas J. D'Alessio
Sheriff

Citizens help fight crime...

To the editor:

The need to protect and communicate with its residents is the primary function of the Belleville Police Department. However, crime prevention is everyone's concern, and we should all participate in our Crime Prevention Program. A close working relationship between the Police Department and the citizens of the community is needed to effectively combat crime.

The program we are anticipating will be of value to all, and our townpeople should heed its advice. A highly publicized Neighborhood Crime Watch Program in itself, provides a crime deterrent.

In this day and age, when crime is so prevalent, we can assist each other by taking the necessary and suggested precautions. Come as capable with equal doses of awareness and prevention. The citizens who respond to this program are taking the offensive against the rising tide of crime.

The Belleville Police Department is ready to assist you at any time, but with the Crime Prevention Program being initiated as well, you can feel even more protected and secure.

Certainly, by showing an interest in and participating in this program, the entire community will benefit.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph J. DiBartolomeo
Commissioner

Nardachone's motive...

To the editor:

Several months ago a group of concerned parents formed a committee and petitioned the board of education to remove a coach from his position. We felt that this coach was unfair and unable to act or conduct himself properly.

We believe we have the right to petition. We also believe that anyone who wants to help, aid or defend that person, also has that right.

However, we must question Superintendent Emil Nardachone's reason as a motive for doing so. At a dinner for the team and parents, Emil Nardachone, after a short speech, implored the parents to go to the aid of the coach.

Emil, we and numerous people felt your speech and conduct was a disgrace! That was not the time nor the place to ask for support. Emil Nardachone, we would like to ask and more question: Why?

In case some people don't know why we would like to tell them, you (Nardachone) have contributed balls to the team, your firm has donated a banner and you have given legal advice to the association at no cost to the team.

Emil, you would not have our respect if your motive was simply that you believe he is a good student. However, to insure a position on next year's varsity for your son, you have made a "jassack" out of yourself.

A Committee of Parents
Belleville

Doctor's thank you...

To the editor:

Thank you very much for the excellent article recently appearing in the Belleville Times. I am sure the coverage of this story will be an aid in the image of Clara Maass Hospital Center and hopefully be a source of information for patients who may be in need of specialized reconstruction surgery.

I would like to thank you again.

Sincerely yours,
Vincent C. Giampapa, M.D.

Lesson in civics...

To the editor:

Did you ever wonder how minorities pass resolutions or introduce or amend ordinances that affect your tax dollars? Well, you should have been at Belleville Town Meeting, July 8, 1986, to witness a shameful abuse of power.

For over a year now, the citizens of Belleville have been protesting the outrageous and unnecessary expenditure of over $10 million to build a second Town Hall we neither want nor need. In June of this year, our commissioners finally received the message. The plan was downscaled to the construction of a 24,000 square foot police station only.

At the June 10 town meeting, Commissioner Pizzi violently introduced a resolution instructing the Town Attorney, Mr. Zinna, to track up the necessary papers to amend the $10 million bond ordinance to $5 million.

The members of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc. were puzzled at the $5 million figure since we had in our possession town documents that stated in June 1983, Mr. Neil Scialano, our consulting town engineer, had designed the same 24,000 square foot building and had priced it, complete with fees, landscaping, etc., at $1.6 million.

At the July 8, 1986 Town Meeting, Mr. Zinna was asked to read the resolution that modified the $10 million bond ordinance to $5 million. As he finished reading the resolution, Commissioner Pizzi began to protest to the Town Attorney that the content of the resolution was not exactly what he had proposed. After several minutes of debate between Commissioner Pizzi and Mr. Zinna, I asked Commissioner Pizzi how he had arrived at a $5 million figure.

"After several loud and abusive comments, Commissioner Pizzi answered, 'I opened my mouth and it fell out.'"

Enough said for how resolutions get introduced.

A while later, Commissioner Grande stated that he was going to vote on the resolution, but he knew nothing about it. He claimed the other commissioners had never informed him of what they were doing.

Commissioner McGreehey, meanwhile, had been stating for months that the citizens should have the final say in the matter. In fact, at the April 1, 1986 meeting at School No. 7, he vowed to put the issue to referendum.

Confident that Commissioner Grande and McGreehey would vote NO and certain no one could show how a $1.6 million building could be inflated to $5 million in three years, especially since inflation has been about 3 percent for the past three years, the citizens of Belleville were sure the resolution would be defeated.

But common sense does not always prevail in Belleville. The resolution was defiantly approved 5-0.

We now know why our taxes are so high! With this kind of leadership, we can count on bankruptcy. If this is an example of how our county, state, and federal governments operate, no wonder we have such tremendous deficits.

Come voice your disapproval at the August 12, 1986 town meeting at Town Hall. Once again we will pack the halls and continue our efforts to regain control of our township.

Vincent J. Frantantonio, Pres.
Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

There is more than a bit of hypocrisy in this bid for tax reform. After all, Senator Robert Packwood, who warned about the practice of lobbyists very high priced lobbyists, is the same Robert Packwood who accepted more than $6 million in campaign contributions, largely from special interests.

The bill will have a few loopholes—tucked away in its 1,489 pages are billions of dollars worth of special exemptions known as "transition rules." Somewhere in the fine print, for instance, are exemptions from the 10 percent excise tax and limits on foreign tax credits for any corporation that happens to have been incorporated on June 23, 1917, and have its principal place of business in Bartlesville, Okla. That may not help you with your 1040 tax return, but it suits Phillips Petroleum and Senator David Boren of Oklahoma just fine.

The Senate tax reform bill would in terms of after-tax income be most generous to the very wealthy and give the least help to those in the $40,000 to $40,000 class.

Computed figures by the Joint Committee on Taxation show that under the legislation, people in the top income class of more than $200,000 would receive the greatest increase in after-tax income—14 percent.

People in the $100,000 to $200,000 class would also receive a 10 percent jump in their after-tax income—the figures showed, although that would represent considerably less money per person.

Those in the $30,000 to $40,000 class would receive the lowest hike—0.4 percent according to the estimates. These figures are requested and released by Senator George Mitchell (D-Maine), a Finance Committee member, who used them to argue that the bill should be changed to give more help to the middle class and make the wealthy pay a greater share of the tax burden. He plans to push an amendment to change the measure's rate structure on the Senate floor.

Overall, the bill would curtail many popular tax breaks in return for lower tax rates. It would replace the present 14 individual rates—which have a top rate of 30 percent—with two rates of 15 percent and 27 percent.

For married couples, the 27 percent rate would begin at a $23,000 taxable income. For single people, it would start at $13,600. Senator Mitchell contends that the rate structure should be changed so that middle-income taxpayers and millionaires do not have the same top tax rate.

He plans to offer a sweeping amendment that would create a three-rate structure of 15 percent, 27 percent and 33 percent along with other changes that would include altering the bill's "break points"—the amount of income at which a taxpayer enters a higher bracket.

The House tax reform bill approved last year has four rates of 15 percent, 25 percent, 35 percent, and 38 percent. President Reagan's original plan had three brackets of 15 percent, 25 percent and 35 percent.

Supporters of the Senate bill, especially GOP leader Robert Dole of Kansas and Sen. Bob Packwood, the Finance Committee chairman, have contended that any change to the tax rates will cause the measure to crumble.

Senator Mitchell says, "This is a simple and fairer approach, the reinstatement of the three-rate structure of the President's proposal would make the entire bill more fair and permit real relief to the people who most need it—the middle income wage-earning people of this country."

We concur with the sentiments of the spokesman from Maine—Senator Mitchell.

Is your home burglar-proof?

Take the Belleville Times' Crime Buster Quiz and see!

The best way to fight crime is to prevent it before it happens, Belleville Police say. And the best prevention is a safe, secure home.

With crime rates rising throughout the state — and in Essex County especially — securing your Belleville home means more than simply locking doors and leaving a light on.

To find out how burglar proof your home is, check off each precautionary measure you follow and add up your score at the end. Score evaluations appear below.

Part 1 (Score two points for each)

1. You are on good terms with your neighbors.
2. You have a burglar alarm system.
3. You make arrangements to have mail picked up and the lawn mowed when you're away.
4. You have a dog.
5. You report any suspicious activity you see to the police.

Part 2 (Score one point for each)

1. Your basement windows are reinforced with grating or plywood.
2. You have timers which turn lights on and off intermittently when you're away.
3. You have theft insurance.
4. You keep an inventory of your valuables.
5. You lock all doors, even when you are home.
6. Your doors feature double locks, one of which is a dead bolt.
7. You keep an exterior light on all night long.
8. Your car has an alarm system.
9. You have locking windows which resist prying.
10. You belong in your neighborhood watch program.
11. Your emergency numbers are posted by the telephone.
12. You have a hidden safe or strongbox for your most valuable possessions.
13. Your property is fenced, or if you live in an apartment the main entrance is kept locked.
14. Your shrubs and trees do not reduce the visibility of your home, provide cover for potential intruders, or make second story access easier.
15. You have a "burglary door" window or "peep hole" to view visitors before letting them in.

HOW YOU SCORED:

23-25: Your home is a fortress. A crook would probably have a better chance robbing one of the town banks than your home. You take pride in the knowledge that your family and your possessions are as safe as they can be. Friends and neighbors should follow your lead.

20-22: Your home is secure. Crooks are likely to pass your home by in search of easier pickings, but if they do attempt to rob you, they'll probably be caught or at least spotted.

16-20: Your home is basically secure, but there are some holes in the armor. You are obviously concerned about making your home burglar proof so take stock of your situation and plug up those holes.

10-15: Despite a modest effort at burglar proofing your home, the result is a haphazard one. Your middle of the road score means you're just as likely to be robbed as the average Essex citizen, hardly a comforting thought. There are probably several precautions you could take immediately which would make your home more burglar proof. Do it!

5-9: This score indicates that your home is vulnerable to robbers. Criminals cruise down the street looking for homes like yours, and sometimes rob them again and again. Unless you're a closet philanthropist, you should definitely take action to secure your home, family and property now.

1-4: With a score this low, you may as well just spray paint the words "Please Rob Me" across the front of your house. In fact, why not store all of your jewelry on the front lawn?

Wise up! Your lack of precautionary measures not only encourages criminals to rip off your home, but it places the surrounding neighborhood at more risk as well.

Crime Breaker

Editor's note — This week the Belleville Times introduces "Crime Breaker," a new regular feature provided by the Belleville Police Department and coordinated by Detective Fred Puleo of the Crime Prevention Office.

The ultimate goal of this feature is to keep the citizens of Belleville safe and secure, and to bring our crime rates down.

As a final note, citizens interested in participating in the neighborhood watch program may attend the July 30 neighborhood watch meeting, which is being held at the Recreation House at 7:30 p.m.

What is the Belleville Neighborhood Watch Program?

This is simply a program of neighbors watching other neighbors' property during the vacation period, the working day, evenings or during any absence.

[It is important to note that officers who patrol neighborhoods on a regular basis may be called away from your neighborhood because of an emergency. Also, patrolmen may not recognize a stranger in your yard but your neighbors would.]

The Belleville Neighborhood Watch Program works through mutual aid — neighbors watching the property of other neighbors. This has several advantages, including the fact that the neighbors know who you are, in many cases, what type of car you drive and when you will be away. Your neighbor may be the first to notice a burglar at your window or door, or a strange car in your driveway.

What to report — How to report — What to do if you observe a crime being committed

What to report:

Anything which you believe to be suspicious should be reported to the police immediately. All reports of suspicious activity should be called in on 450-3333. All EMERGENCIES should be called in on 911. Remember, do not feel foolish or ashamed to call the police. If it warrants your suspicion, it warrants our investigation.

How to report a crime or suspicious condition:

Step 1 — Dial 450-3333.

Step 2 — Give the police your name, address, telephone number (All information will be kept confidential).

Step 3 — Tell the police the nature of the incident and the actual location of the incident.

Step 4 — If possible, stay on the phone until you see a police car in the area.

Step 5 — When the police leave the area, contact your Neighborhood Watch Captain at a reasonable hour.

What to do if you see a crime being committed:

Step 1 — Dial 450-3333.

Step 2 — Give the police your name, address, and location where the crime is being committed.

Step 3 — If you can observe the crime while you are on the phone, give the police a continual update as to the activity taking place. If you are unable to observe the act, give the police all the information possible. Do not add, subtract or assume certain information. GIVE ONLY FACTS!

Step 4 — If you are in your home observing criminal activity outside of your home, DO NOT, REPEAT DO NOT leave your home to investigate! If you can't see everything, don't worry. By leaving your home to investigate a criminal act, you are only putting your life in danger. Leave the investigative work to the police.

Tips to keep vacationers safe from burglars

1. Have lawns mowed — and yard work kept up in winter, sidewalks should be kept shoveled.
2. Put things away — Lawn furniture, bicycles, etc., should

3. Stop all deliveries — for have someone pick up deliveries daily. Notify police and a trusted neighbor of your planned absence and the length of time you will be gone.

4. Don't discuss your absence — in public and don't give information about your vacation to the newspapers — you can give details when you return.

5. Move valuables — so they can't be seen from porch windows. Be sure you have a list of small appliances and valuables.

6. Arrange inspection — by a trusted neighbor if you will be gone more than a few days — to be sure nothing has been disturbed.

7. Don't close blinds — pull shades down, or do other things that advertise that the house is empty.

8. Use clock-timer — or a photo-electric relay to turn lights on and off at certain times, giving the house an occupied look.

9. Alter lighting pattern — Added protection can be achieved if you have your neighbor re-arrange the timer controlled lights to present a different pattern for a part of your absence.

10. In case of a break-in — the neighbor should know your insurance agent — and should give this information to police when reporting suspected burglary.

What do you want of a preacher?

"Sir, we would see Jesus," John 12:21

By The Rev. Gerald A. Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

What does one come to church for?

Not pious platitudes, not homiletical bromides, not sleeping pills for sin, not political dissertations, not oratorical fireworks, not puritanical poppycock, not frantic financial alarms, not grapevine gossip.

The preacher amidst the Corinthian colossians said, "Christ sent me to preach the gospel."

Passing a corner in mid Los Angeles, one sees an odd building, striped like a reservoir with Greek buttresses, with a gold lettered nameboard: "Temple of Theosophical Science." To a common man, seeking a place to give his soul a lift, it has little appeal.

The Apostle of plain evangelism said: "My preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom. If I came to you speaking in tongues, what shall it profit a man? If a trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for battle?"

The effective herald of the Christian message is committed not to a gospel of gibberish, but clearly to Christ Crucified. As St. Paul said, "Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech. We speak five words with understanding, than ten thousand in an unknown tongue."

In a Detroit publication, when the preacher steps up to face the congregation, and looks down for a moment of silent prayer, these words, carved on the dashboard of the podium, meet his eyes: "Sir, we would see Jesus."

It is the dedication suggested in a prayer book by Ralph S. Cushman:

*I do not ask that crowds may throng the temple,
That standing room be priced;
I only ask that as I voice the message,
They may see Christ.*

"Where do you find joy?"

By Rev. Robert Paul
Brookdale Baptist Church
Pastoral Visitor

Joy is not found in unbelief. Voltaire, the French atheist, was an infidel of the most pronounced type. He wrote on one occasion: "I wish I had never been born." He is reported to have said: "It took centuries to build up Christianity, but I'll show how just one Frenchman can destroy it within 50 years." Taking his pen, he dipped it into the ink of unbelief and wrote against God's word, the Bible.

But twenty years after his death the Geneva Bible Society purchased his time and even used his press to print the Bible. His home later became the Paris headquarters for the British and Foreign Bible Society. The Bible is still a best-seller. An entire 6 volume set of Voltaire's works was once sold for just 90 cents. Voltaire never found the real secret of joy.

Joy is not found in pleasure. Lord Byron lived a life of pleasure if anyone ever did. He wrote: "The worm, the cancer and grief are mine alone."

Joy is not found in money. Jay Gould, the American millionaire, had plenty of money. When dying he said, "I suppose I am the most miserable man on earth."

Joy is not found in position and fame. Lord Beaconsfield enjoyed more than his share of both. He wrote: "Youth is a mistake, manhood a struggle, old age a regret."

Joy is not found in military glory. Alexander the Great conquered the known world in his day at the age of 33. Having done so, he went in his tent. Because he said: "There are no more worlds to conquer."

When it all boils down, the bottom line is that real joy is found in a person, and that wonderful person is the Son of God, none other than the Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, a good prescription for joy is found in the word "JOY."

The first letter of JOY is J, for Jesus. Because when Jesus Christ comes first in your life, he fills you with real joy. To make Jesus first, invite Him to come in to be your Saviour and Lord. St. John 1:12. Then, crown Jesus Lord of your life.

The second letter of JOY is O. This letter could stand for Others. Take a genuine interest in other people. Go out of your way to help them in any manner you can.

The last letter of JOY is Y. This could stand for Yourself. Jesus first, others second, yourself last.

Put it all together and it spells JOY. Have you found the secret to real joy? St. John 15:11.

Beatitudes

Blessed are the poor in spirit
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven
Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted

Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth
Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled

Blessed are the merciful for they shall obtain mercy
Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God

Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven
Blessed are ye when men shall revile you and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake Rejoice, and be exceeding glad for great is your reward in heaven for so persecuted they

Franklin Avenue apartments converting to condominiums

The conversion of Franklin Avenue apartments in Belleville to condominium ownership has received the go-ahead from state officials.

Govel Realtors of Belleville announced it has accepted contracts on all vacant units at the 30-unit Franklin View complex.

Govel Realtors, specializing in condominium sales and management, has been appointed exclusive sales and marketing agent. The Govel organization also served in that capacity for the recent conversion of the nearby Bridgebrook apartments.

We anticipate another busy season with Franklin View, said William W. Govel, president of the full-service real estate organization.

In addition to the sale of all of Franklin View's vacant units to outside purchasers, Govel said there was strong interest among tenants who have until mid-August to take advantage of special "insider" pricing on their apartments.

The one- and two-bedroom condominium apartments of Franklin View will range in price from the low $60,000s to the low $90,000s. However, current tenants now have the option of purchasing their own apartments at prices ranging from the high $50,000s to the mid $70,000s.

The conversion plan offers Franklin View tenants a unique opportunity to trade in rent payments for equity in residential real estate," Govel said. "And they can realize this equity investment and the resulting tax benefits at monthly costs not much more than what they're now paying in rent, thanks to the exceptionally low interest rates now being offered and special insider pricing."

Herb Greenhalgh, vice president of sales for Govel Realtors, currently is meeting on an individual basis with Franklin View tenants to explain to them their rights as tenants and the opportunities available to them.

After the "insider" pricing option expires in mid-August, Govel Realtors will offer the tenant occupied apartments for sale to investors.

"We expect a sell-out by the beginning of September," Govel said.

Union Glen condos under construction

Union Glen, the new luxury condominium development now under construction on 15th Avenue at the Belleville Valley townships.

Govel Realtors, exclusive sales and marketing agent for the new condominiums, said the first owners of Union Glen will be able to occupy their new residences during Spring 1987.

When completed, Union Glen will consist of 36 two-bedroom, one-bath condominiums, located at the new development on 15th Avenue.

The $15,000 to $129,000 range, including Union Glen in the luxury price category.

"We want to meet the demand for affordable luxury housing in Essex County," Govel said. Union Glen responds to this demand.

The condominiums are being built by the Union Glen Development Group through construction financing provided by the United Savings and Loan Association of Pennsylvania.

Pre-school registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties.

The children accepted will serve one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule.

School will begin on Monday, September 22, 1986 under the leadership of Mrs. Susanne Janini.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 430-3425 as soon as possible. Monday, Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Crecco legislation would cover coaches

Governor Thomas H. Kean signed a bill co-sponsored by Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-30 District) that would protect athletic coaches from most lawsuits.

The bill, which was merged with an identical measure sponsored by Dalton D. Cadden, S-1678, was approved by the Assembly on May 8 by a vote of 75-0.

The measure ensures that no immunity from a civil suit would be granted for any willful, wanton or grossly negligent act or omission committed by any coach.

The act will not apply to a school's athletic coaches.

"Coaches can now concentrate on the important task of promoting athletic and social skills in our children," said Crecco. "These volunteers will not have to worry that a play on the field will lead to a day in court. It is enough that men and women offer their time at no cost to help our kids pursue such beneficial programs as Little League. These volunteers should not be placed at financial risk as a result of their efforts."

Locals lauded at Delaware

Three Belleville students have achieved Dean's List honors at The University of Delaware. To qualify, a grade point average of 3.5 or better was maintained.

Jean Valerie Caruso of Dorothea Terrace, majoring in Journalism; Donna Rose Mannino also of Dorothea Terrace, majoring in biological sciences and Ramon Villa of Washington Avenue, majoring in business administration.

Caruso plans to graduate from the University in 1988. Mannino and Ramon plan 1989 graduations.

Gruhin Academic Excellence Award presented to rabbinical students

Eight students at the Rabbinical College of America in Morristown, New Jersey received the Robert C. Gruhin Academic Excellence Award for their thorough study and memorization of the entire Talmudic Tractate of Kesubos with commentaries. This tractate deals with the Jewish laws relating to married life, defining the privileges and duties of husband and wife in their mutual relationship. It contains 224 pages.

Gruhin, an attorney in Belleville, has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the college since 1967 when the college was housed in a one-family frame house in Newark. He was instrumental in the purchase of the 15.2-acre tract in Morristown as well as the recent acquisition of 66-acres adjacent to the present campus where construction is ongoing, and where the first apartments for married students will be completed in October. In November 1982 he was honored at the Mortgage Repayment Dinner of the college. Mr. Gruhin's children mentioned this Academic Excellence Award in honor of their father and his many years of active leadership at the Rabbinical College. Gruhin also serves as treasurer of the college.

The eight awardees are: Yechezkel B. Feinblum, Pretoria, South Africa; Yissroel Fried, Buffalo, N.Y.; Sholom B. Krinsky, Boston, Mass.; Raphael Ben-Chaim, Miami, Fla.; Eliezer M. Shusterman, Monsey, N.Y.; Noson N. Barber, David D. Feinstein and Aaron L. Raskin of

Brooklyn. A ninth student, Eli I. Kreiman, Brooklyn, received Honorable Mention for memorizing more than half of the tractate. Three of the above received the same award last year for memorizing the Talmudic tractate Bava Kama. Another one memorized additionally the tractate of Gittin.

At a ceremony marking this event, Rabbi Moshe Hershen, dean of the Rabbinical College, introduced Mr. Gruhin as one of the pioneers toiling for the dissemination of Torah and Talmud and as one who was successful in transmitting this spirit to his children, who are also active at the Rabbinical College. Mr. Gruhin's son, Stephen, also a Belleville attorney, is the youngest member on the Board of Trustees.

Combining drinking and driving kills a teenager every 14 minutes

By Phyllis Reilly

The facts are grim. Teenagers account for about 60 percent of people killed in drunken driving accidents. A teenager dies in a drunken driving accident every 14 minutes and drunken driving is the leading cause of death for young people ages 16-24.

The good news is that teenagers themselves recognize the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse and list them at the top of the many problems and fears facing teens today. In a recent Gallup survey, one third of the teenagers questioned said they would like to talk more with their parents about drinking problems. The survey further revealed that more and more teenagers are supportive of a national minimum drinking age of 21. They also favor stronger measures to counteract the dangers of drinking and driving.

The Gallup survey found that 53 percent support legislation written in 1984 that calls for withholding federal highway funds from states with a drinking age below 21.

What can parents do to help protect their teenagers from the tragic consequences of driving while under the influence of alcohol?

Set a good example. Alcohol has been glamorized in the media and to young people represents "adulthood." Anyone who has ever seen the victim of a drunken driver knows there's nothing glamorous about drinking and driving. So the old "do as I say not as I do" message is not enough — parents must set a good, responsible example.

Along with responsible behavior, parents should never allow alcoholic beverages, including beer, to be served to teenagers at parties in their homes. Teenagers should have a clear understanding of parental limits and behavioral expectations as far as drinking and driving are concerned.

Parents should be sensitive to and aware of the strong peer pressures experienced by their children to experiment with drugs and alcohol. According to the Gallup survey, the number of experiments with alcohol has grown to the highest level to date with 54 percent of the 16 to 18-year-olds using alcohol. Parents should make an effort to listen to their children and discuss with them their concerns for health and safety. These discussions should be just that — discussions, not angry lectures or arguments.

Parents can and should support local efforts to combat alcohol and drug abuse such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

MADD: Students Against Drunk Driving. SADD — safe ride programs and new school responses to alcohol and drug abuse such as the new Student Assistance Program initiated at Piscataway High School in the fall of 1985. The program strives to increase school and community awareness about alcohol and drug use and to eliminate alcohol and other drug use among those students who are abusing by educating them about the negative consequences of their use.

Parents should encourage their children to drive safely and responsibly and to stay out of cars if the driver has been drinking. Children should feel comfortable calling home for a ride if, in a drinking and driving situation.

Parents should be alert to signs of possible drinking and drug abuse in their children. Irritability, acting-out behavior, dull and bloodshot eyes, a change in friends, mood-swings, dropping out of extra-curricular activities and failing grades are just a few of the recognizable signs and symptoms of a drinking and drug problem.

Finally, parents can find help at the UMDNJ Community Mental Health Centers in Piscataway and Newark or be referred to an agency near their home. For information, call 463-4726.

Phyllis Reilly, M.A., C.A.C., a resident of Piscataway, is project director for the UMDNJ Community Mental Health Center at Piscataway's Center for Industrial Human Resources. (CHIR) — The center offers out-patient treatment, education and consultation services to individuals, families, groups and employers faced with the problems caused by alcohol abuse. Reilly is a certified alcoholism counselor.)

LEGION SHINERS

Quite often, local legion baseball brings out a new star who seems to shine the following season for Belleville High School. This summer, Anthony Rodriguez has been doing a fine job for the team, filling a number of roles and impressing his coach, Joe Papasidero, with hustle and determination. He'll be a sophomore at BHS this fall. Papasidero said of Rodriguez: "Anthony is playing against players much older but has dug in and done the job. Some of the players in the American Legion are college players, but he hasn't taken a back seat."

Rodriguez has played third and second base for the team this summer. He is regularly a third baseman but when Dean Mauro was injured earlier this summer, Rodriguez stepped in and did the job at a new position.

"I hope this doesn't jinx him," Papasidero said, "but Anthony hasn't made an error fielding or throwing this summer. In his first game at second base this summer, against Bloomfield, he made some good plays and was part of a double play. When Mauro came back, Anthony moved back to third base."

Papasidero describes Rodriguez as "baseball hungry." The upcoming sophomore will do whatever it takes to be in the lineup.

"He loves the game," Papasidero said. "He'll play anywhere he just wants to be in the game. He isn't deterred at the plate, either. By that I mean he gets his cuts at the plate. If he strikes out, he'll take a good whack at the ball. I think he has struck out looking just once this summer."

At the plate, Rodriguez is hitting a healthy .303, with one double. That double came on the road, at Newark, earlier in the season. Entering this week, he had 10 hits in 33 trips to the plate.

He respects his opponents, Papasidero said, he was taught to do that. However, he doesn't back down. Anthony has a lot to learn in the game, but he's a good kid and is willing to work. I think he has a good future in store."

By every indication, it appears he will be hearing a lot more about Anthony-Rodriguez before his playing days at BHS are over.

Boys Hoops

The Belleville boys' basketball team won its first game of the summer in the Elizabeth Summer league by downing St. Patrick's of Elizabeth, 62-46. Teddy Sochaski had 26 points and Leon Puentes, 12, to lead the way for the Bucs. It was good to see Belleville win against a good team, especially after the team had lost a tough decision to Elizabeth earlier last week. About the only negative aspect to the summer for the Bucs was the team had to forfeit a game last Monday night against Don Bosco Tech. A number of regulars were at basketball camp, but coach Dave Boyd was hoping to field a team for the game. He was hopeful of having a team ready for last night's game with Baringer. Next week, the regulars will be back in action for the Bucs as the team strives toward the playoffs.

Local Baseball Scene

Can you understand why the Yankees are keeping Dave Winfield on the bench? Here is a guy who has powered 13 homers and has 96 ribbies through the first half of the '86 season, and this is with limited action. His batting average is down, granted, but anyone with 56 RBI's through half a season doesn't deserve to be on the bench. Winfield joined the Yanks in 1981, the year of the split season. He has had 100 or more RBI's over the last four seasons, 1982-85, and is always around the 30 homer mark. This year, despite his continuous benching, Winfield could drive in 100 runs again. Besides, with the contract the Yanks are paying Winfield, you would think they would have him in the lineup, rather than benching a two million dollar a year player. The Yanks must be doing pretty well if they can afford to keep someone that productive on the bench. How many games are they in first place? What do you mean they're eight games behind Boston? Someone better remind Mr. Steinbrenner of that fact and start using Winfield on a daily basis. He'll get his hits and could lead the Yanks to the division title.

The Mets have to be the envy of every team in major league ball. Everyone has been contributing on that team. Last Sunday, Len Dykstra supplied the offense and defense to beat the Braves. On another day, Gary Carter did the job. Wally Backman is hitting .345. Dykstra, .344. Kevin Mitchell can't even crack the regular lineup and he's hitting .364 in reserve. Carter leads the league in ribbies and Ray Knight has been hitting the ball. Add to that, Darryl Strawberry, who I think hasn't tapped his potential yet, and Keith Hernandez and the possibilities are endless. That pitching staff is awesome. Gooden, Fernandez, Ojeda, Darling and now Aguilera are hitting great this season and take the division title by 20 games over the second-place team.

Can you imagine the excitement a Subway Series would bring to New York? Last year, the teams came close before finishing second in their respective divisions. An All New York Series, with Gooden pitching to Winfield, Fernandez trying to stop Mattingly and Ojeda looking to baffie Pagliarulo would send fans into a frenzy.

Last Weeks Quiz

The last two players who hit .300 at the age of 40 or over was Lou Brock in 1979 and Pete Rose in 1982. Brock was in his last season with the Cardinals in '79 and Rose was a member of the Phillies in '82.

For This Week

As mentioned a few lines back, the Mets have a chance to win 110 games this season. Name the last major league team to win more than 107 games in a regular season. A hint: That team somehow did not win the World Series.

4th of July Field Day is sporting good fun

The fourth of July athletic festivities took place on Friday morning with a good turnout of children and parents. Track and field events were the order of the day with the children being broken into three age groups: Junior ages 6-8, Intermediate ages 9-12, and the Senior age group ages 13-16. Various activities were run for each age group. In the 50 yard dash for the junior boys, Eddie Albanese was the winner, while for the junior girls, Heather Murphy took 1st place. The 100 yd. dash saw Kevin Johansen taking the Int. boys race and Darbi Luzzi winning the girls Int. race. Carl Harris and Simone Edwards were the boys and girls 100 yd. Senior boys and girls winner. The girls Junior relay team that took first place were Stephanie and Jessica Rotino, Lisa Jablonski, and Michelle Russomanno. The girls Intermediate relay team winners were Nikki Luzzi, Kristen Galindo, Triffani Lennon and Nicole Gibbons. The girls Senior division winners were Simone Edwards, Laurie, Dondarski, Linda Maroff, and Danielle Pizzi.

The Sack Race was won by Eddie Albanese in the Boys' Junior Division, Heather Murphy in the Girls Junior Division, Gerard Protomastro in the Boys' Int. Division, Nikki Luzzi in the girls' Int. Division, Marc Manara in the Senior Boys Division, and Laurie Dondarski in the Senior Girls Division.

The three legged race was won by Brian Dena and Frank Costanza in the Junior Boys Division, Lisa Jalria and Laurel Dunn in the Junior Girls Division, Anthony Fatch and Michael Dandone in the Int. Boys Division, Nikki Luzzi and Darbi Luzzi in the Int. Girls Division, Tim Cook and Carl Harris in the Senior Boys Division, and Laurie Dondarski and Simone Edwards in the Senior Girls Division.

The Tag of War was won by Michael Talbot, Carmen Scaperrotta, Luke Cardinale, and David Linfante was winners in the Boys' Junior Division, Michael Tynan, Tyrone Cagle, Jim Wandling, Robert Dena, and Frank Jablonski was the Int. Boy's winners and Tim Cook and Carl Harris were the Senior Boy's Division winners.

Megaro takes first in men's softball

Megaro Memorial Home, DeHavens and Wallace & Tiernan recently earned first place honors in their respective divisions of the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League.

Megaro (42-3) captured the Tuesday "B" League championship as they beat Belleville Political Club 7-3 and Rosell's Amoco 15-3. Belleville Sheds (10-5) topped Eastern Molding 6-1, before Eastern Molding 8-7 lost a 7-6 squeaker to Sal Bechino & Sons Trucking. Bocchios's 27-8 also bested Rosell's 16-7, and Belleville Sheds' rallied past B.F.S.C. 13-8.

DeBacco's (43-2) gained the Wednesday "A" crown by defeating Nico Construction 16-7 and D & M Printing 12-1. Rossmore Pharmacy (12-3) beat Mr. Dee's 9-6 and Rosell's Pub 14-2. Mr. Dee's 9-6 also lost an 11-8 decision to Nico (7-8) while D & M (4-11) topped Roschids 11-8.

Legion team takes two out of three

Aggressive base running and some key hitting propelled the Belleville legion baseball team to two victories in three tries last week.

Belleville, which took a 3-9 record into this week's action, closed out its regular season with games against Irvington and Millburn earlier this week. Despite a sub par record, Belleville still has an outside shot of attaining a playoff berth. Head coach Joe Papasidero reported that his team was just two points behind the final playoff contender.

"We finally got it going," Papasidero said of the two wins last week. "It was nice to get in the W column for a change. The team has been playing hard, but just missing on some victories. Hopefully, these games will carry us down the stretch."

Belleville posted victories over Nutley 7-3 and West Orange 7-1. In between, the team lost to Verona 8-5. Both Belleville victories came on the road last week while the lone setback occurred at Belleville High. The locals have won all three of its games on the road this season.

Versus Nutley, Belleville jumped out early, then closed the game with a flurry after Nutley began to creep back into the game.

Belleville scored once in the first. Alan Ruopp singled and stole second base. Jim Dunphy, perhaps the hottest hitter on the team this summer, then drilled a single, scoring Ruopp.

In the second inning, Belleville broke the game open with four runs. Jay Marchese singled and P.J. Grande walked. Dean Mauro lined a single, scoring Marchese with the second run. Ruopp then stepped to the plate and line a tremendous home run, giving Belleville a 5-0 advantage.

That was some shot," Papasidero said of Ruopp's blast at the Park Oval. "It went all the way to Franklin Avenue."

Nutley chipped away, scoring twice in the third and once in the fifth, cutting the gap to 5-3. Belleville then came back to score two runs in the seventh to put the game out of reach.

At best drew a walk to start the seventh and Dunphy drilled a long triple to right centerfield, scoring Best. Dunphy then scored on a suicide squeeze bunt by Anthony Rodriguez, closing the Belleville scoring.

Dunphy did the job on the mound, pitching a complete game, striking out 13. He allowed just three hits and on such a humid night like July 7 turned out to be it magnified the effort.

"It was a very nice outing," Papasidero said, "Jimmy came close to coming out of the game in the fifth inning, but he hung tough and did the job."

On the game, Ruopp was 3-4 with that big homer and Dunphy finished 2-4.

Belleville lost to Verona, 8-5 as the visitors scored five times in the third and three more in the fifth to account for all its scoring.

Belleville answered with four runs in the third and one more in the fourth for its five runs.

In the Belleville third, Grande walked and Dunphy belted a two run homer, cutting the Verona lead to 5-2. Best then singled and stole second. He scored on a single by Marchese. Marchese advanced to third when Mauro reached safely on an error. Jeff Spilsbury then reached on a fielders choice, scoring Marchese.

In the fourth, Rodriguez singled, but he was forced at second on a fielders choice by Grande. Grande then stole second and scored on a hit by Rodriguez, tying the game at five.

Lou Lucante started for Belleville and was relieved in the fifth inning by Dunphy. Lucante was credited with the loss and Dunphy finished the game, pitching 2-3 innings of scoreless relief.

Offensively, Dunphy and Spilsbury were both 2-3.

Belleville used the base hit and stolen base to near perfection in the victory over West Orange.

The locals tallied twice in the first, scored solo runs in the second, third and sixth innings, then finished the scoring with a pair of runs in the seventh. West Orange scored its only run in the first inning.

In the Belleville first, Ruopp singled and stole second base. Dunphy then singled, scoring Ruopp. Dunphy then, stole second base and scored on a hit by Best, giving Belleville a 2-0 lead.

In the second, Marchese drew a walk and stole second base. Ruopp then singled Marchese in with the third Belleville run.

The same scenario occurred in the third inning when Grande walked, stole second and scored on a single by Ruopp.

"We got ten hits, all singles," Papasidero said. "We were able to run well on the base paths and set up a lot of opportunities."

In the sixth, Ruopp was hit by a pitch, stole second then scored on a single by Dunphy. Finally, Belleville ended the game with two runs in the seventh.

Mauro walked, but was erased on a fielders choice, putting Rodriguez at first. Rodriguez stole second base and scored on a single by Grande. Guess what? Grande then proceeded to steal second base and be scored on a single by Spilsbury.

About the only member of the team who did not steal a base was coach Papasidero, but he was more than happy with the victory.

On the night, Ruopp finished 3-4, Dunphy was 2-3 and Spilsbury, 2-4.

Marchese pitched the entire game for Belleville, allowing just six hits and striking out two. The game would have made a good instructional film on how to take full advantage of a single.

NOTES: Papasidero will know more about the playoff picture by this afternoon. If Belleville does make the post season play, it will probably commence action this week. Belleville faced a difficult foe in Irvington last week, who was throwing its ace pitcher. Irvington had just two losses entering that game.

Belleville Recreation Fall Sports Applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1986 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation Department office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in Recreation Soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 7 by December 31, and who will be no older than 14 on December 31, 1986 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play Touch Football, if they so choose. Belleville boys who will be 8 by December 31 and who will be no older than 10 on December 31, 1986 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both Soccer and Touch Football, all completed applications must be turned in to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates no later than Friday, September 5, 1986. Children are limited to register in one fall sport only — therefore, boys cannot play in both these activities or in tackle football if they play Soccer or Touch Football.

Flashback!— '83 meant winning basketball

Flashback is a series of stories that appeared in past articles of the Belleville Times. It's purpose is to rekindle a little of the past and to remember some of the Belleville athletes who represented the school so well during their days at BHS. This week, a look at January 13, 1983, as the Belleville boys' basketball team played conference rivals Clifton and Montclair.

The one thing that the Belleville basketball team has brought back to the gymnasium at BHS is excitement. Another thing that the Buccaneers have instilled is something new to basketball in this town. Winning.

Put winning and excitement together and you can see why head coach Joe Papasidero and cast are extremely delighted with its 44 start, knowing quite well that if they scored 11 more points, they would be 7-1 now.

Last week, the Buccaneers won a thriller from Clifton, 46-44, then lost what Papasidero termed, "the best game we played all year long," to powerful Montclair, 68-62.

"We played a super game, even though we lost," said Papasidero of the effort against Montclair ranked tenth in the state and the defending county champs. "We had them in the first quarter and we were down by a field goal at half time."

Belleville jumped out to an 18-17 first quarter lead, but trailed, 36-32 at intermission.

The Mounties got some breathing room in the third quarter, outscoring the Bucs, 19-17 and taking a 55-49 lead into the final eight minutes.

Although Belleville whittled the lead to four points in the final frame, Montclair hit the key foul shots at the end to preserve a six point victory.

"This should be a big inspiration for us," the coach said. "It should give us the confidence to play against the powerful teams and do well. The entire team now believes it can win in this league."

Phil Colalillo played a simply inspiring game, scoring 36 points. For the season, the junior is averaging 24.5 ppg and leads the team in rebounding as well. John Borrello tallied 14 points. Joe Borrello had six. John Healy finished with four and Dave Grant closed out the scoring with two points.

Earlier in the week, Belleville won its first conference game, a downing Clifton by two points on the road. Once again, Colalillo had 18 points to lead the way. Joe Borrello played an outstanding game, scoring 13 points, all from the free throw line. John Borrello had seven points, Lenny Russo tallied five. Grant finished with two and Healy closed out the scoring with one point.

"Actually, we played only one quarter against Clifton," said Papasidero. "We were down by four at the half, outscored them by nine in the third quarter and then held on in the final frame."

The coaches words were accurate to the tee, as Belleville did the job when it had to, a mark of a good, maturing team.

BUC NOTES: Three of Belleville's losses have come by a total of 11 points. The Bucs lost to Montclair by six, Passaic Valley by one and Nutley by four points. All three of those teams will be opponents later in the season. Belleville is 1-3 in conference play thus far. Russo is playing very good basketball coming off the bench. The junior adds a good deal of muscle and determination to a squad that wants to win very badly.

EDITORS NOTE: The 1983

team went on to an 11-16 record, advancing in the state tourney to the second round. Belleville upset Weequahic in the first round, then lost to Plainfield in a hard fought game at Plainfield. The Bucs gave an excellent account of themselves in the Plainfield game, especially when you consider that Plainfield went on to win the Group IV title. Colalillo had an excellent year in '83, breaking the 1,000 point barrier in his career. Unfortunately, he suffered a ruptured appendix in the early stages of the '83-84 season and played just eight games. He finished as the second all team leading scorer in BHS history, with Abdel Anderson still the top mens scorer.

Boys' basketball wins and loses

After a promising victory over St. Patricks, the Belleville boys' basketball team lost by way of forfeit to Don Bosco Tech last Monday night.

The Bucs battled Barringer High last night and will face Columbia next Monday evening at 6 p.m. from the Dunn Arena. Elizabeth Play continues in the Elizabeth Summer League next Wednesday with Belleville facing Irvington in a 7:30 p.m. start.

Not counting the forfeit loss to Don Bosco, Belleville holds a 1-2 record. The reason for the forfeit was many of the Buccaneers regulars were away at basketball camp, however coach Dave Boyd was hoping to field a team to play Don Bosco.

"I was a little disappointed that we didn't play the game," Boyd said. "We would have been without a lot of our regulars, but I was hoping we could get the younger kids a chance to play. The kids need the chance to play, especially against a powerful team like Don Bosco."

With that aside, Belleville did post an impressive victory last Wednesday night, beating St. Patrick's of Elizabeth, 62-46. That victory came on the heels of a tough loss to Elizabeth back on July 7.

"I said after the Elizabeth game that St. Pat's would be a key game," Boyd said. "We made some strides in the Elizabeth game and I was looking to see if the team could continue its momentum. We came out and did a very good job, especially in the first half."

The Bucs took a 14-12 lead after one quarter and boosted the advantage to a commanding 32-18 at intermission. The teams battled even in the third quarter, with each club scoring 14 points. In the final frame, Belleville outscored St. Pat's 16-14, and went home a 16 point winner.

Ted Sochaski, an upcoming junior, tallied 26 points to lead the way. Sochaski, a forward, appears ready to make some big strides this winter. He has all the tools necessary to be one of the best players in the county. According to his coaches, he has been playing regularly and is currently at basketball camp.

Leon Puentes, another upcoming junior, finished with 12 points. Puentes, a guard, has been the play maker on the Bucs since his freshman year.

Frank Morel, who has been playing very well all summer, tallied eight. Mark Haamani finished with five. John Morel had four. Steve Schwed scored three and Chris Goldrick and Chris Chiaromonte scored two each to close the scoring.

"We've been practicing twice a week, in addition to the games," Boyd said. "You can see a number of the kids are there for business. They are playing hard and looking forward to the season. I'm hoping that we will be able to field a team for the Barringer game on Wednesday (last night). A lot of the teams are in the same situation as we are, but we should have enough players to field a team. Next week, everyone will be back."

All points bulletin! Coaches needed now

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently taking names of adult Belleville men interested in volunteering their time to coach in the Recreation football programs. Coaches are needed for both the Junior Bucs traveling tackle program and the Touch Football program.

The Junior Bucs compete against neighboring towns in three divisions - Midget, Junior Varsity and Varsity. The Touch Football program for boys ages 8-10 provides instruction to the children as to the fundamentals of football, while eliminating heavy body contact. Junior Bucs practices will begin in the evening during the week of August 11, while the Touch Football program will begin in September on Saturday mornings.

Those interested in coaching are urged to call the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays.

Ready to Roll - WOR-TV talk show host Joe Franklin (l.) Lyndhurst Mayor James Ijuda and State Senator Carmen Orechio (R.) 30th practice for the Sambuca Romana Bocce Tournament started for Saturday, July 19 in Landells Park. Lyndhurst Orechio, who is also a Nutley Township Commissioner, is chairman of the event. Registrations are still being accepted at the Department of Parks, Cleveland Ave., Lyndhurst. There is no fee to register.

Athletes beware - the dangers of modern eating disorders

By Lisa B. Green

Historically, there has always been the perfect desirable body type. In the eighteenth century, doctors complained that women who today would be considered obese, would not shed a pound even when their health depended on it. They feared losing the beauty of their rotund bodies offered them.

The trend we have been seeing over the past one hundred years has been toward a thin, more athletic body type. In the 1930's, Mae West conquered all as a sex symbol adopted by both men and women. By today's standards, a woman of Ms. West's proportions would be considered significantly overweight. Even Marilyn Monroe, the sex goddess of the 50's and 60's, would be considered overweight by today's standards.

In the 60's the trend toward thinness went further. Jawags, the British model, evoked a new ideal for women: thin almost to pubescence. With more and more women setting lower and lower weight goals, the trend continued throughout the 70's.

The 80's has brought with it a young Brooke Shields and more recently Ali, Sheedy to be used as standards for the "perfect" thin body our growing youth emulate.

Where has this trend to pursue the perfect body led? For thousands of today's young women it has led to eating disorders such as Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia.

Anorexia Nervosa is characterized by self-starvation related to a deep rooted fear of gaining weight, coupled with a distorted body image. Anorexics perceive themselves to be overweight despite the fact that they would weigh less than 10 percent of their "normal" weight. They see themselves as fat, while onlookers only see them as thin. emaciated. Estimates indicate that over 100,000 Americans suffer from this life threatening disorder.

Bulimia is the rapid ingestion of large quantities of food, followed by self-induced vomiting, the use of laxatives and/or diuretics, excessive physical activity or short-term fasting.

People will use the methods purging noted above to reduce or maintain their weight despite the excessive amount of food they will consume. Their eating behavior often takes on a compulsive quality demonstrated by an inability to control their eating, purging of preoccupation with food and weight. It is estimated that up to 10 percent of young women manifest some degree of bulimia symptomatology while up to 5 percent engage in such behavior regularly. Like anorexia nervosa, bulimia is related to a fear of gaining weight and a desire for a thin athletic body. For both, food becomes an obsession which produces drastic negative effects on the sufferer, both physically and on their day-to-day functioning.

Joseph Araneo Sr., 53, of Belleville died July 8 in his home.

A Mass was offered July 10 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield. Mr. Araneo was a sheetmetal worker for the James LaBruno Sheet Metal Co. in Belleville for 30 years. He was a member of the Moose Lodge 227 of Belleville.

Born in Newark, Mr. Araneo moved to Belleville 12 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Phyllis, two sons, Frank and Joseph J., a sister, Mrs. Margaret Diaz and three brothers, John, Frank and Leonard.

Cora E. Smith, 101; 70 foster children

Mrs. Cora E. Smith, 101, a lifelong resident of Belleville who had been honored for her dedication and service to foster children, died last weekend in her home.

Services were held July 15 in the Irvine-Costarelli Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mrs. Smith cared for more than 70 foster children in her home. In 1962, she was honored by the American Legion Post 105 of Belleville as "Mother of the Year."

Kenworthy, 85 engineer

Finco R. Kenworthy, 85, of Belleville died July 8 in the Kimball Medical Center, Lakewood.

Services were held Friday in the Wilfred Annange Funeral Home, Kearny.

Mr. Kenworthy was an operating engineer with the International Operating Engineers Local 825 in Newark for 45 years, retiring 18 years ago.

He was a member of the Carver Civic Club, Lodge 147 of Kearny for 20 years.

Born in Kearny, he lived in Belleville for 38 years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gail Taylor, a brother, Paul, and three grandchildren.

On November 26, 1984, her 100th birthday, Belleville Mayor Mike Marotti presented her with a township proclamation marking the day as "Cora E. Peterson Smith Day." President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan also acknowledged the occasion with a congratulatory letter.

Mrs. Smith owned the Cora Smith Caterers, operated out of her home, for more than 50 years, retiring in 1962. Previously, she was an inspector with Tiffany and Co. of Newark and New York City for several years.

She was past secretary of the Little Zion Church of Belleville, which recently celebrated its 100th birthday and was founded by her mother, Mrs. Hannah Peterson.

Mrs. Smith was also a member and past secretary of the Belleville Colored Women's Welfare Club.

She is survived by a foster daughter, Mrs. Donna L. Brown.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Angelina and Mrs. Mary Passerini.

Roe endorsed by teachers

Rep. Robert A. Roe (9th Dist.) has been endorsed for re-election to Congress by the New Jersey Education Association (NJEA). Roe represents the major portion of Belleville plus several other Essex and Passaic county communities.

NJEA President Dennis N. Giordano said his group's endorsement was based on Roe's "longstanding commitment to excellence in education."

Congressman Roe has a 100 percent voting record in the House of Representatives on key education issues. Giordano said. He has a longstanding commitment and sensitivity to the interests of education which has been proven by his outstanding voting record. Strongly urge all NJEA members living in Congressman Roe's congressional district to vote for him on November 4.

The NJEA has a membership of 120,000 teachers and public school officials throughout New Jersey.

Roe is seeking re-election to his 10th term in the House of Representatives.
