Police resume beats on Belleville streets

By Christopher Bifani

Foot patrols are back in Belleville. Following recent calls by prominent township merchants, citizens, and the urging of Public Safety Commissioner Ralph DiRuggiero, Belleville Police Chief George Lister, resumed police walking assignments last week.

Just before I went on vacation last week, I put the order out. Later told the Times, "We began foot patrols the week of September 8 after our heavy vacation period ended."

The chief explained that with most of the force back on the job, including men who were on leaves of absence, he had the manpower to resume the patrols. He added that a new recruit, Mark Mancini, has also been assigned to the long-awaited foot patrols. Mancini, a Belleville, comes to the force with previous experience in the Irvington Police Department.

Since Lister's order for walking patrols was released, several areas of Belleville have been covered.

The business district along Washington Avenue, Franklin Street and the Silver Lake district Union Avenue and Belmont Avenue south to 40th Street Avenue have all been included in the walking post, the chief said.

"The amount of men on walking assignments at any one time varies because of squad strength. Some nights we have three men on foot patrol, but we've had as many as six men out," he said.

Washington Avenue and Franklin Street priorities.

"We place the men where they are the most useful," Lister said, "but our priorities are Washington Avenue and Franklin Street."

When six men are out on foot patrol, the chief continued, all the areas are covered, but when squad strength dictates that only three men can be assigned, it's the Avenue and Franklin Street which gets the patrols.

However, Lister emphasized that the assignments are flexible. He said if a particular area suffers an inordinate wave of crime, patrols could be redirected to that area.

Apparently, the new commitment to foot patrols as a way of reducing crime — and making residents feel more secure — is a serious one.

The chief said that he's assigned men to walking posts seven days a week from 4 p.m. to midnight. But he added that hours can be changed — too, if township crime patterns.

Lister said he imagined that some members of the force are likely to be less than thrilled with the extra exercise, but added that he'd haven't heard any grumbles yet.

On the other hand, Lister continued, "I have several senior men who requested walking assignments and are now assigned to foot patrols."

BPD seeks Newarker in township slaying

The Belleville Police Department and the Essex County Prosecutor's Department are investigating the homicide of a 22-year-old Newark man who was "dropped off" at Clara Maass Medical Center at approximately 12:30 a.m. September 10.

According to Essex County Prosecutor Herbert H. Tate Jr., the victim, identified as Robert Diaz of Covenan Street, Newark, was pronounced dead shortly after arrival at Clara Maass.

The cause of death, Belleville Police Chief George Lister said, is believed to be a single bullet wound in the chest.

Belleville and Essex County detectives have established that the shooting occurred at 38 Florence Street, Belleville, which is the residence of two friends of the victim, a spokesman for Essex County said.

Suspect sought

A warrant for homicide has been issued for the arrest of Jose Soto 21, of 774 Mt. Prospect Ave., Newark. The motive for the shooting is still under investigation.

Lister said that although nothing has yet been ruled out, it was inappropriate to speculate publicly if drugs could be a motive.

The chief explained that "the final determination of the autopsy hasn't come back yet," so police do not yet know if traces of drugs are present in the body.

Since the suspect is still at large, it is also not known if Soto is, or was, involved with drugs.

Police have prime witness. Lister said that fingering Soto as the prime suspect was possible based on statements by a "prime witness" who "definitely heard a gunshot."

The chief declined to comment on whether the "prime witness" was present in the room at the time of the crime.

Hopefully, we'll apprehend (Soto) soon. We haven't been able to develop whether he left the area or not," Lister said.

The chief seemed troubled by the recent outbreak of murder and violent crime in the township, and noted that this murder is the third in 1986.

It's the third murder this year, but as far as police patrol goes, it's a spontaneous, unpredictable crime. It's difficult to prevent," the chief said.

In January, Belleville was the scene of a murder and suicide. Last month the township weathered the slaying of a senior citizen.

We're getting an awful lot of violent crime," Lister said. Prosecutor Tate said that Investigator Jack Murray is leading the murder probe from the county side. He added that Belleville detectives Joseph Rotunda and Joseph Tortorello are heading the township's investigation.

Both departments are working closely together to solve the crime, and to apprehend the suspect.

Free eye health screening at Clara Maass Medical center

If you are hesitant about having your eyes tested for free, close your eyes for a few seconds. All you will experience is total darkness — this is what a blind person sees — nothing.

Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville will sponsor an Eye Health Screening Program on Wednesday, Sept. 24 from 1 to 5 p.m. in conjunction with the 30th anniversary of the statewide program which begins the week of Sept. 22.

Philip Fichter, M.D., Chairman of the Eye Screening Program for 1986, stated, "All screenings at Clara Maass will be performed by an ophthalmologist, a licensed medical doctor who specializes in eye care. The purpose of the screening is to detect evidence of any eye disease, or any systemic disease reflected in the eyes, which should have treatment or follow up by a licensed physician."

"It should be emphasized that vision screening of this type is not a substitute for a regular complete eye examination by an ophthalmologist," Fichter explained further.

The eye screening is open to all members of the community who are over the age of 35 and who are NOT receiving ophthalmological care. The program will take place in the Hemmelschell Room on the ground floor of the Continuing Care Building at the Medical Center.

Other physicians participating will be Dr. Martin Fox, Dr. Eugene Chiappetta, Dr. Joseph Landolfi and Dr. James Parisi, all who practice in Belleville; Dr. John Favetta and Dr. Louis Marone, who practice in North Arlington; and Dr. Anthony D'Amato, Bloomfield.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Medical Society of New Jersey. Governor Thomas Kean has issued a formal proclamation declaring the week of September 22 "Eye Health Week" in New Jersey.

Along with members of the New Jersey Hospital Association, the other organizations cooperating with the Medical Society of New Jersey in this free public service program are: The New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology; the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired; the New Jersey State Department of Health; the National Society to Prevent Blindness and the Lions Club of New Jersey.

Eligible members of the community are urged to avail themselves to this opportunity to protect themselves against previously undetected disease conditions. Please take note that refractions for eyeglasses and contact lens fittings will not be included.

For further information on the Eye Health Screening Program, please contact the Clara Maass Medical Center Public Relations Department at 450-2267.

FACTS ABOUT IRON

Iron acts in the body almost entirely by combining with protein to create a complex molecule called hemoglobin. Hemoglobin is the Greek word for blood. Globin is short for "globulin," a type of protein. Hemoglobin is found in the red blood cells of the body. It is this molecule that allows oxygen to be picked up in the lungs for distribution to the rest of the body. Anemia, an iron deficiency, is characterized by the production of too few and malformed red blood cells. The result of this is the inability of the blood to carry an adequate amount of oxygen to the tissues.

Rent board gears up to summon landlords for rent registration

By Christopher Bilani

Landlords who have not registered the rents they've collected during 1985 will be subjected to a summons and fine, Rent Leveling Board Chairman Jack Reiley told the Times.

"We're gearing up toward the time of year where we're running out of patience with landlords," Reiley said.

He explained that landlords whose buildings come under rent leveling ordinance (3 families, or more) are required to register the rents they've collected with the rent leveling board, as per an ordinance passed by the board of commissioners in 1985.

The period which rents are supposed to be registered, Reiley said, is between November 1 and December 1. Landlords who do not register during that period will be summoned to court, with fines of up to $15.

Reiley said that although there are many landlords who have still not registered their rents, the amount of outstanding landlords going into the current enforcement period is much better than last year, the first time the new ordinance was enforced.

"Last year at this time we'll over 100 landlords were summoned," Reiley said. "This year only 35 landlords will be summoned if they don't register their rents promptly."

Reiley said that landlords seeking to register their rents may call board secretary Jeanne Scott at 459-3328.

In other Rent Leveling Board news, Board chairman Reiley submitted his resignation to the Belleville Board of Commissioners, read into the public record at the September 9 meeting.

"Why is Reiley resigning?" "I was recently married," he explained, "and I moved out of Belleville. Since there is a residency requirement I thought I'd hand in my resignation before any problems came up."

But Reiley said the commissioners have asked him to finish up his term, scheduled to expire in May of 1987.

"The board asked me to serve out my term, so I decided to stay on until such time as they replace me."

According to Reiley, finding a suitable replacement for his post or any of Belleville's voluntary board positions is not such an easy task.

"Most anybody can volunteer," Reiley said. "But finding somebody with competence, knowledge of the system and common sense, that's tough."

The Essex crackdown

More than four months ago this newspaper published an in-depth report on the growing plague of crack in Essex County. The report included many sobering comments from Essex County Sheriff Tom D'Alessio who stated that the crack epidemic would definitely translate into a higher crime rate.

Since then, Belleville and other Essex communities have endured a stinging increase not only in petty theft crimes, but in serious crimes as well.

Less than half a mile from Belleville's border there have been crack 'drive 'thrus' where the drug may be purchased without the user leaving the car.

As the epidemic spiraled, law enforcement agencies stepped up efforts to fight it, but it seemed like for every dealer that was arrested, two more were stepping in to take over the role.

Finally, the press jumped on the fight-back bandwagon and intense media coverage helped forge a loose coalition of church and civic groups, community leaders, police and politicians.

The tide appeared to be turning in the summer when a huge anti-crack rally in neighboring Newark mobilized thousands of Essex citizens, anti-drug activists and politicians.

From there the stepped-up efforts of police in Essex County evolved into an all-out crusade, culminating in last week's sweeping crack raids which netted more than 100 crack dealers.

The municipal police department and the Sheriff's office are to be commended for their efforts, but at the same time we must look to the next step in the crack-fighting process, the courts.

Here, a huge back-log of cases has bogged down the system and overcrowded our county's jail facilities. The result is that many of those arrested are back on the streets, and back on the job of selling crack.

Meanwhile, others are encouraged to enter this easy-money line of dirty work because the risks, they feel, are minimal when compared to the high profit.

What's the answer? The answer is to have the state take over the costs of courts and jails so that the burden of paying for these services is spread equally throughout the state.

This move is supported by both candidates for the Essex County Executive position, as well as by Senator Carmen Orechio and the Belleville Board of Commissioners.

Once crack dealers and users know that courts and jails are free to incarcerate the guilty for the length of time they deserve, then — and only then — will the epidemic level off.

One last point: The bulk of anti-drug education has been traditionally taught to school-children in the eighth and ninth grades.

We strongly urge the board of education to re-examine their anti-drug curriculum to see if more education in this vein (pun-intentional) can be directed to fifth and sixth grade children as well.

Shocking as it may be, here is where the drug abuse begins.

A bad deal

A deal which gave limited release to an American, held hostage by the Russians, for a similar release of a Russian spy, held by American authorities is damaging to American credibility.

Nicholas Daniloff is an American journalist who was set up by the Russian KGB — the secret police arm of the Russian nation — and jailed as an alleged spy.

Trading a free American for a Russian spy is outrageous. A firm stand by American officials for the outright release of Nicholas Daniloff should have been a stand-alone effort. It should not be tied to a swap deal.

Leaders of the free world and editorial writers were coming down on Russia for framing Daniloff. Before their influence could be felt, our country leadership capitulated and submitted to a Soviet plan that resulted in the exchange.

If America held its ground and insisted upon the immediate release of Daniloff, even at the risk of cancelling the pending Summit meeting, it's our guess Russian leaders would have succumbed to the pressure and would have unilaterally released Daniloff. It is not Reagan-like to compromise in a situation of this type.

Moscow only understands power — or else it takes advantage of any sign of weakness. In the instant case, Russia did exactly that, much to the regret of many Americans.

Editorial reply...

To the editor:

Let me begin by saying that in view of the inordinate one-sided publicity the Times has been given to so-called "leaders" I'd like this letter printed, giving my side of what's happening in Belleville.

Appropos, your editorial, "Tax business is money business." You mention the school assessments.

When I ran for member of the Board of Education, it was not with the real expectation of winning. My purpose was to get to the people the message, that under the State mandated "Thorough and Efficient Law" the state's income tax was dedicated to fund all our schools. I hampered at this theme over and over in an attempt to start a brush fire which would bring more of our paid in tax money to fund our schools.

This is money we had already paid, which was to be returned to us so as to keep property taxes from increasing. What has been the reaction of the people of Belleville?

Absolutely nothing, except to hear a few weak complaints about our taxes going up. Don't Bellevilles get what they deserve?

You go on in your editorial about how we should be more careful now about where the money is going. Do you think the people of Belleville are astute enough or care enough about high minded things such as this? The adage goes: "Fool me once shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me."

Bellevilles can be fooled all the time and are led by the nose by both elected and unelected officials. To be led by elected officials is one thing, but when people are led by the nose by arrogant, unelected bureaucrats, such as members of the Planning Board, it is more than I can stand.

At the meeting held last Thursday evening, I was appalled at the rough treatment given the public. The same tactic, which has been the hallmark of the going-on in Town Hall, was resorted.

Namely, the on the spot decision to prevent the public from speaking, even though our expectation was that this was to be a public meeting.

We were roughly handled by the president and told in no uncertain terms we were not to speak. Then began the round of "sotto voce" conversations which were barely audible. People were called to testify regarding the proposed new building but people in attendance could hardly hear what was going on. I thought this an affront and my anger began to rise, for this is the same old tiresome modus operandi that has been going on for years here in Belleville.

To see two bit, unelected bureaucrats apply this same tactic even more arrogantly was more than I could stand. The final straw came when charts were presented to the commissioners, as usual with the backs of the charts facing the audience. When I asked that the charts be presented so as the concerned citizens can also see them, I was brutally jumped on by the president, his hand slamming his desk. I then called him an ignorant man, and I was told so sush up by the leader of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville.

With that I got up and left.

I refuse to play this game over and over, ad nauseum. If people are too stupid to see through this play on the part of their so-called representatives, then they deserve everything they get. If they like to play, led by the nose, count me out. I refuse to play.

Elected people are supposed to represent the people, not keep them in the dark. They should be removed from office if they fail. Non-elected bureaucrats should be taken out and shot when they use the same tricks, figuratively speaking, of course.

Chosin vets wanted...

To the editor:

In a couple of months, the 36th anniversary of the Chosin Reservoir campaign in North Korea will be remembered by Marines and other servicemen and women who fought in this historic campaign. To be sure, the suffering and the struggle of the engaged First Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, and attached elements, as well as several U.S. Army Tenth Corps units has been compared with Valley Forge and the courageous soldiers under General George Washington.

A national organization, "The Chosin Few," is bringing together veterans of the legendary Chosin Reservoir battles. We are organizing a Northern New Jersey branch, and we are trying to get in touch with veterans of Chosin, November-December 1950.

"The Chosin Few" is open to Marines and other servicemen, including members of U.S. Air Force, Navy and any foreign allied armies, who participated in air cover or air assistance. Special U.S. Navy personnel (chaplains, corpsmen, etc.) are also welcome. U.S. Army veterans who were attached to First Marine Division, FMF, or in Tenth Corps and who fought in or near the Chosin Reservoir during the assault by the Chinese communist armies are also eligible to join.

Remember their names...

To the editor:

Folks, a brand new, $5 million building will be put up on Washington Ave. But don't try to look for it, it will not be easy to find, for it's hidden behind the existing old Town Hall. There will be no visible sign of any improvement of Washington Ave. In fact, everything will look the same. No visible sign of progress.

We must remember the names of those who are responsible for this outcome for if the future proves this to be the right decision, then we must praise them for their wisdom. If on the other hand, this turns out to be a bad decision, then those responsible must be signaled out and called into accountability.

For the sake of Belleville and the taxpayers, I hope this was the right thing to do.

Fix up Town Hall...

To the editor:

First off, let me tell you that I am against the $10 million town hall complex. We have a very nice town hall. It is actually a town landmark to be proud of. Fix it up, maybe, don't tear it down.

The police station is another matter. Let me tell you, good citizens of Belleville, what your police station is like.

First of all, you have three dirty, very disgusting jail cells that are not fit for human habitation. Even new paint jobs and cleaning can't fix the problem. Presumed innocent arrested persons deserve decent accommodations.

Number two: the Juvenile Bureau is in a separate building. This is inconvenient to say the least.

Number three: the police station itself is cramped and uncomfortable for the police to work. Don't our men in blue who protect our safety deserve much better?

Dear people of Belleville, go see for yourself the terrible conditions that exist at the police station. Our police deserve better than a basement hideaway to do their job. Your safety depends on them. Give them the best possible.

One last parting word, if you don't give our police a better building to do their job, then you, the public, deserve substandard police protection.

Yours truly,
Mona Santiago

There was a story of an Army recruiter scouring the Texas hill country seeking out young men for enlistment. He found one big fellow, considered him physically fit and submitted him to a casual mental test, asking him what he would do if he was standing beside the town's old rail track and saw a train coming from the north at 80 mph and on the same track another train speeding toward him from the south at equal speed? The recruit thought a few seconds, then responded, "I'd run home and get my brother." The recruiter had never heard that answer and asked what for. The young man said, "My brother's never seen a train wreck."

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In Washington there is a feeling we are standing at the side of the track to watch a big economic train wreck one of these coming days, and nobody seems to do much but ask his brother along for the spectacle. Dismal economic reports — slow growth, housing starts down, deficits increasing — highlight portentous forebodings.

Horace Bushy, a political analyst takes a pessimistic view. "Washington has retreated into a surreal world where values are so reversed that fantasy is fact, evasion is honesty and irresponsibility is a cause for pride," he says.

Washington, while professing a love of deficits, has made them mountainous. While talking tax cuts, the Federal Government last year took 19% more from the private sector than it did in 1982. Last year's farm bill, advertised as a cost saver by Democrats and Republicans, will triple to $28.5 billion, the cost of supporting crops over what we paid just two years ago.

The supposed target of budget cutters, military spending, always goes up. "It results from the continuing flight from reality," says Bushy, remembering the horrified reactions when it was first announced that the nation's military budget at the rate of $530 billion a year. "We've lived with that four years now, and these deficits no longer have any effect at all. Nobody pays any attention. We are numb."

Within close range of Ronald Reagan's White House office one exalted official worriedly said, "It could take a crisis before this country comes to grips with the economic problem it faces." On Capitol Hill, one of the few men who run the place said reflectively, "Democracies don't do what they ought to do until events leave them no choice." The White House blames Congress for not cutting spending, and Congress blames the White House for not raising revenues. With that kind of talk, you can hear the locomotives gaining speed.

An increasing number of Government experts suggest that if the American economy falls now, the consequences may be more disastrous than any other time in our history. "Reagan could go from the most popular President of these times to the most reviled," says Bushy. "A crisis now is apt to go beyond just economics. We would have a nation in social upheaval."

Strong stuff, even if it does come from outside the Administration. There, however, are indications from inside that some of Reagan's Cabinet have got a whiff of the same fear. Labor Secretary William Brock, Trade Ambassador Clayton Yeutter, Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige, Treasury Secretary James Baker and Secretary of State George Shultz now form an informal consortium alarmed about the ominous debt and convinced there must be a major effort to bring spending and revenue more in line.

The U.S. economy is not strong enough to carry the twin burdens of defense and social spending heaped so high these men believe. They have not begun to meet as a group, but their views are similar. Perhaps they are hearing the train coming.

By Richard Yanuzzi

Shakespeare once wrote of something rotten in the State of Denmark. One would wonder what the great playwright would make of the Township of Belleville. Any citizen who has attended even one of our town meetings could attest to the wealth of tragedy, drama and comedy present at each encounter with our commissioners.

I use the term "our commissioners" with some hesitation. While these five men who govern our town supposedly represent the will of the people of Belleville, why then don't they listen to the outcry of their bosses, the citizens who elected them?

During the last six months, genuine concern, and even outrage, has manifested itself in the form of hundreds of angry citizens questioning the actions of their elected officials at 69 months town meetings.

Blatant attempts on the part of the commissioners to discourage residents from attending these meetings have been met with failure. Citizens have been subjected to deliberate exclusions from Town Hall, organized intimidation, and even lies. As time mounts, the conduct of these five men gets progressively worse.

The tempers of those in attendance is often short and heated, but tension is often compounded by the lack of straight answers, arrogance, and downright rudeness on the part of the commissioners. Abuse of elected officials should not be condoned, but one must remember that this country was already established in 1776.

months, and the taxpayers are continuously angered at the lack of sensitivity and understanding that has been encountered.

Having been called "fools" and "idiots" by Mr. Pizzi, it is no wonder that an air of confrontation hangs over each meeting. It has become obvious that the commissioners have lost the trust and respect of a majority of Bellevilleites. Even those who advocate the construction of a new police facility argue that it be postponed until after the May 1987 municipal elections.

Citizens Forum

How can the confidence of the people be enjoyed by the comic actors when Mr. McGreevy, head of revenue and finance, takes two months to tell his fellow citizens what has happened to their almost half a million dollar deposit on the original ten million dollar bond, and which bank is holding their money?

How can the people be confident in knowing that Mr. Pizzi arrived at his figure of five million dollars for the new police complex by "opening his mouth" and "laying it" out? How can we, the citizens of Belleville, feel confident with the revelation made by Mr. Grande, during the middle of a meeting, that he knew nothing of what was going on in regard to the new police complex, and then casting his vote in favor of Mr. Pizzi's plan?

The only answer has to be that no confidence is present and that expending any money in such a climate would be at best unwise.

What then do we do with the present plans for a new police complex? Taking into consideration the fact that the original ten million dollar bond was never rescinded, that the new complex will not be built on Washington Avenue, thus adding very little to its revitalization, and given the extravagant size of the new complex, we must ask ourselves if we want construction to start under present circumstances. One must remember that the police force fights crime, not the police headquarters. Many officers live in Belleville and must be subjected to the same tax increases as every other resident. Wouldn't it make much more sense to get our own economic house in order before we put the township five million dollars more in debt?

Mr. DiRuggiero is a vehement proponent of both the now scrapped ten million dollar municipal complex and the new five million police building. As commissioner of public safety, will he be forced to lay off police and firemen to pay off the five million bond, or will the taxpayers be burdened for the next generation with this debt?

So many questions, and not many answers. Belleville deserves better.

The following is dedicated to the family and friends of Michael Pepek.

May they take heart and carry on, through their love...

Carry on

I look up to you and shed these tears
Oh Lord — and ask you why
I ache for an answer that never will be, now I know not to search in the sky.

Yes now I can see the truth in it this tear — it holds no worth for our friend who is gone watches over US to brighten our walk on this earth.

So even if my heart can't find rest and all the world seems not fair
I know I can face the most darkest of fears because true love will ALWAYS be there.

We just have to face it and let it go
Don't be afraid to let your feelings show
It's true — it's always darkest before the dawn
Just lift your head high — and CARRY ON.

I know things will never be the same laughter is less a good friend but we've got to stand tall and let the sun forth and put faith in our dreams through the end.

We're NEVER alone when we falter or fail to understand when the innocent find such pain in the world
I will listen — just reach for my hand.

Good byes bring no hurt now that love flows
Death frightens me no more cause I know if ONE star fades early in time the night will shine on like never before.

We just have to face it and let it go
Don't be afraid to let your feelings show
It's true — it's always darkest before the dawn
Just lift your head high — and CARRY ON.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Maglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. J. asks "What is an immediate denture?"

An immediate denture is a denture inserted right after the remaining teeth are extracted. The advantage of such a technique is that the patient can leave with a set of teeth. It must be mentioned in most cases an immediate denture is only an approximate fit of the jaw. It will be loose and needs to be relined periodically to adapt better to the shrinking gum tissue. This is due to the resorption of the bone that used to hold the teeth in place. Once the teeth are removed the body uses the mineral content of the tooth holding bone elsewhere. This shrinkage comes down after a six month span. Often another denture is recommended after the gums have healed which will be more accurately fitted and the previous immediate denture can be used as a spare.

Crimebreaker! Crime against the elderly

Belleville Police Department

Experts in the area of elderly victimization tell us that older persons have varying degrees of concern about crime. Some make important changes in lifestyle and even deprive themselves because of fears. Others worry needlessly about being victims, even when there is a statistically low probability that anything will ever happen.

Street crimes such as mugging, holdup (when a weapon is used) and purse snatch are usually of particular concern to the older person.

You should know that the street criminal is an opportunist looking for an easy mark. And everything you do to make it difficult for him to strike, reduces your chances of being a victim. You don't have to change your lifestyle or live in fear. But you should be "prevention conscious." Use caution and common sense.

When you go out

- Try to arrange to have a companion with you when walking.
- Plan your route in advance and be sure to use well lit streets if you must go out at night.
- Walk on the curbside away from buildings where an assailant could conceal himself.

- Older women are often victims of purse snatch. Our best advice is don't carry a purse if you can avoid it.

- If you must carry a purse, hold it close to your body with a hand on the clasp. Don't dangle it.

- If you have an armful of packages, tuck your purse in between the packages and your body.
- Don't carry or flash large sums of money.

- Never leave a purse on a store counter or sitting up the floor of a restroom.

- Be alert for suspicious looking persons when you enter a public room.

- When using the bus or other public transportation, sit near the driver. If there aren't many passengers.

- If a friend takes you home, or you take a taxi, ask the driver to wait until you are safely inside before leaving.

- Have your keys ready so you can get in the door with a minimum of fuss.

What if you are attacked?

If you develop good security habits, chances are slim that you will ever meet up with a street criminal. But if you are held up, don't resist. Give the criminal what he wants and try to get a good description for police. Never try to fight unless you are attacked. If you are attacked by an armed assailant, scream, call for help, bite, kick, struggle anything that will help you break away to safety.

Your home

Residential burglary is a serious problem everywhere. But since it's mostly a crime of opportunity, you can discourage the average burglar by making your home a tough target.

Use deadbolt locks on all exterior doors. Protect windows and other potential points of entry with good locks or other security devices. Keep the premises well lit at night. And make your home sound and appear occupied when you go out by using an automatic timer to turn on lights and a radio, and ask a neighbor to keep an eye on things when you go on a trip.

Practice these habits when you're at home

- Always keep your doors locked. Have a peephole in the door so you can see callers without opening it. And don't rely on security chains. They can be broken easily by a determined assailant.

- Never let a stranger in. Insist on proper identification. If he can't show it or you're still suspicious, call whoever it is represents for verification.

- If a stranger asks to use the phone, don't let him in. Instead offer to place the call for him.

- Never give out information over the phone indicating when you will or won't be home. And don't let a caller know you're home alone.

- Make sure you have a lock on your bedroom door. If you do not already have one, consider installing a shackle in the bedroom since it enables you to call for help if you wake up and hear an intruder.

- Be sure your outside house number is displayed prominently so that it can be seen easily from the street by police responding to your call for assistance.

Fraud...the con game

According to the American Association of Retired People, older citizens are victims of fraudulent schemes far out of proportion to their population numbers. Con artists are slick, so you've got to keep your guard up. Be skeptical.

- Be aware of what people are saying. Don't be rushed into any deal.

- Know what you are signing. Carefully read all "receipts" or "minor contracts."

- If you are being offered some thing for nothing, it's usually a phony deal. Allow yourself time to check things out.

- Stay away from secret deals and plans. For example, there's a "Bank Examiner" scheme where a phony bank examiner tells you he's investigating a dishonest teller and wants you to help by withdrawing money from your account to use a test. Don't fall for it.

- Never turn over any sizable amount of cash to anyone, especially strangers offering to help you "get rich quick."

Buc Shots

The annual Belleville Hall of Fame dinner will be held in late November, and applications for prospective Hall of Famers can be picked up at the main office of Belleville High School and at Nino's Confectionery Store, 548 Union Avenue, Belleville.

The completed applications can be dropped off at the same locations. The Athletic Council has elected its new officers for 1986.

Vincent Sorrentino is the President, Robert Cassin, the Council Vice President and Jim Silvestri, the Secretary. The Hall of Fame Committee Chairmen for this year are Thomas Landers, Russell Pagano, Michael Swinski and Michael L. Asale. The 1985 dinner was held at the Chandler in Belleville and was an excellent success. A large and enthusiastic crowd cheered on the 85 recipients and another large crowd will probably be on hand for this year's dinner. Date and time for that affair will be posted in a future edition of Buc Shots.

Oscar Valera

Oscar Valera, a junior at Belleville High, was selected to play on the New Jersey State Select Soccer team. The 15-year old was one of 21 players to make the squad.

Oscar is a member of the Nutley United Soccer Club. He helped the team to the indoor championships, played at Rockland County, New York, and second place finish in the Northern Counties Soccer League. While playing halfback for Nutley, he earned a starting berth as an outside fullback on the state team.

The state team has compiled an 11-1-3 record, playing against select All-Star teams from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut. Valera played excellent defense, which allowed just one goal per game.

Valera is the son of Lydia and Manny Valera of De Witt Avenue. The junior is hopeful of competing for the Buccanette varsity soccer team this fall.

Gymnastics

Head coach Ray Iannuzzi has a very young team this season. The coach reports that of the 22 athletes on the team, 17 are freshmen or sophomores. The coach is very happy with the performances of two freshmen, Nicole Pucciarella and Nicole Zelna. Unfortunately, Zelna has a back injury that could curtail her action for some time. The coach is hopeful that she can compete this season, but of course, her health is the most important thing.

The gymnasts are hoping to match, or improve upon last year's 4-4 mark, the best record in the program's history. Iannuzzi has returning stars in Joell Veltre, Danielle Lyman, Tina Charles and Alise Davies. The team also has a new assistant coach, Donna Richards, who Iannuzzi is very happy with.

Having Donna really helps the entire program," the coach said. "We had a large turnout this year and with the extra coach, everyone gets a chance to work. No one sits around, which is very important. The girls need the work and Donna and I compliment each other well in what we teach. I really like looking forward to working with her and she should help the entire program."

The team will open the 1986 season tomorrow afternoon, with a match against Clark, on the road, at 4 p.m. Clark is usual, is a very good team and Iannuzzi expects a difficult outing. However, the stiff competition should help the girls as the year progresses.

College Football

Did you see the Notre Dame-Michigan game last Saturday? Whether you like the Irish or not, you couldn't help but enjoy the game. Notre Dame played a helluva game against one of the better teams in the nation. A questionable call on what looked to be a touchdown catch and a bad pass by the Notre Dame quarterback that resulted in an interception in the Michigan end zone, cost the Irish valuable points. In addition, they missed an extra point. On an NJHL note, Brands Wells, a star football player for Montclair High, is now a starter in the Notre Dame defensive secondary. Once again, New Jersey talent is doing quite well in the college ranks.

Speaking of Jersey talent, Rutgers played another good game in tying Kentucky at 16. Tyrone Stowe, a former star at Passaic High, is a team captain for the Scarlet Knights. Another former Passaic star, Craig Hayward, scored a touchdown for the University of Pittsburgh as the Panthers tied N.C. State. Good luck to a former Belleville star, Dave Grant, as he continues his career at West Virginia. Grant has played very well at WVU over his first two seasons. Grant played high school ball at Belleville High from 1980-82 and was a star in the Bucs big 3-2 win over Passaic in the '82 season.

In the world of college soccer, Ricky Di Prizio, a former Belleville High School star, is entering his senior year at New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT). Di Prizio will play football. Ironically, he will be playing for a Belleville native, Efran Borja, the Associate Coach. Borja, the older brother of Chico Borja, the former Cosmos star, enters his second year as coach.

Junior Varsity

Once again, if anyone is interested in reporting Belleville junior varsity fall sports, please contact me at the Belleville Times. If you would like to call the results in to me by 9 p.m. on Monday night, they will appear in that Thursday's edition. If you would like to write up a small piece on the respective team, you can be assured that the results will be printed promptly.

Last Weeks Quiz

In 1969, the Minnesota Vikings scored 52 points against a Don Shula coached team, beating the Baltimore Colts, 52-14. Joe Kapp, now the head football coach at the University of California, was the Viking quarterback. Bud Grant, of course, was the Viking coach.

For This Week

In 1979, the Los Angeles Rams came out of no where to capture the NFC championship and gain its only Super Bowl to date. Who did the Rams defeat in the playoffs that year, who was the Rams coach and what was the team record for the regular season.

Belleville varsity football is getting down to business

With its opening game set for September 27, the Belleville football team got down to serious business last week, battling Bergen Catholic, West Orange and Columbia in a pair of scrimmages.

The Bucs open the 1986 campaign next Saturday, with a game in Paramus. Tomorrow night, the team will complete its pre-season with a contest at home, against Livingston. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. from Municipal Stadium. Earlier this week, the Bucs battled Morris Knolls in a home scrimmage.

"We're certainly improved from last year," commented head coach John Senesky. "We have a large number of seniors, back-and-forth now, we're working on depth. We're two deep in the offensive backfield right now, but at certain positions, we're still a little thin. We're trying to determine where our needs are right now."

Senesky is very happy with the play of the offensive line.

Coach (Don) D'Amola and (Russ) Pagano are working with the linemen," Senesky said, "and they're doing a super job. The kids are looking good and did a nice job in the scrimmages."

Belleville traveled to Bergen Catholic for a tri scrimmage that also featured West Orange High. While there, wasn't an official score in the contest. Senesky felt the Bucs came away with a strong performance.

The same can be said of the scrimmage with Columbia last weekend. The team certainly held its own and now the team will look to perform well against Livingston tomorrow night in the final tuneup to the regular season opener next Saturday.

The Bucs have been hit by a few key injuries, however. Joe Coviello, a senior lineman, is having trouble with his knee and is expected to miss about a week. Al Best missed the last scrimmage with Columbia, however the senior was expected back for last Tuesday's battle with Morris Knolls.

The offensive and defensive backfields are the teams biggest strength.

On offense, John View and Frank Montagna are battling for the fullback position. At halfback, Jay Marchese, Jim Dunphy, Lou Lucante and Craig Jackowski have been working. All the candidates for the running back positions have experience from the 1985 season and are in excellent condition.

The quarterback position is currently being contested by senior Dan Senesky and junior Jeff Spisbury. Both men saw extended varsity action last season.

In the defensive backfield, Joe Delle Monache and Spisbury are battling for the halfback position. Dunphy and Jaime Galito are working at safety and Marchese and Mike Di Biasi are seeing time at corner back. The rover back position is being challenged by Best, P.J. Grande and Joe Iommi.

The split end position will feature Galito, Best, Di Biasi, Doug Carroll and Joe Angelo. Valtieri are vying for the tight end spot.

The offensive line that will hopefully open the holes for the talented backfield features Carmine Iacullo and Dawson Bloom at center. The guards are Steve Reilly, Nick Cardillo, John Magi and JonPaul Lenczuk. The tackle position candidates are Gerard Corbo, Pat Kimble, Dominick Tucci and Paul Gleason.

On the defensive line, Senesky plans on a three man front. Potential nose guard candidates include Marc Criscione, Iacullo and sophomore Andre Graham. The tackles are Lenczuk, Dave McNeill, Tucci and Reilly. Corbo and Gleason are vying for the defensive end slots.

The linebacking corps, as usual, are strong. Magi, Jackowski, Montagna, Bloom, Lucante and Valerio are all looking good at the tough position. Lucante and Valtieri are working at outside linebacker while Magi, Jackowski, Montagna and Bloom will work at the inside and middle, linebacking slots.

If the team can avoid the nagging injuries and if Senesky and staff, can fill the void at a few positions, the end result could be success for the Buccanette football program. There is still a long way to go, but the early signs are certainly good.

NOTES: Senesky doesn't know that much about his opening day opponent, Paramus. "I know they have a good quarterback and a good receiver," the coach said. "I really don't know much about them other than that." The NNJIL certainly looks tough, with Nutley favored to win the crown in the pre season polls. The Raiders have a strong nucleus returning this season. Bucs battle Ridgewood on Thursday, October 2, in a 7:30 p.m. start for home opener. The team then hosts perennial power Montclair on October 10, also at 7:30. The team then travels to Eastside on October 18 at 1:30 p.m. and finishes the month of October with a home game against Bloomfield on the 24th, a Friday, at 7:30 p.m. On November 1, the team will host Passaic at 1:30 p.m., then the Bucs hit the road for games at Clifton on the 8th and Kennedy on the 15th, both 1:30 p.m. starts. The season ends on November 27, Thanksgiving Day, with a home game against Nutley. All told, the team will play five home games.

Buccanette gymnastic team opens tomorrow at Clark High

The Belleville gymnastics team will open its regular season tomorrow afternoon at Clark High and coach Ray Iannuzzi expects a young, talented team to hit the mats for BHS.

We have some good, young athletes," Iannuzzi said last week. "22 girls came out for the team and 17 of them are either freshmen or sophomores. Some of the freshmen will see some varsity action this year."

Iannuzzi also announced the addition of an assistant coach, Donna Richards. This is the first year that the program has had an assistant and Iannuzzi is very happy with the addition. "With the large turnout, we need another coach," he said.

Donna gives us a new dimension. She will be a big help to the team."

In a gymnastics match, there are four events: the floor exercise, balance beam, vaulting and uneven parallel bars. Iannuzzi has a good idea of who he will start in the various events against Clark.

In vaulting, Alise Davies, a senior and Joelle Veltre, a sophomore, lead the way. Three freshmen figure to see time in that slot as well, Alexandra Lukowak, Nicole Pucciarella and Nicole Zelna all figure to compete. As a matter of fact, Pucciarella and Zelna could compete in all four events this season.

Iannuzzi got a scare when Zelna went down with a back injury in practice, however the freshman is doing much better and could compete in the Clark match.

In the uneven parallel bars, Davies will lead the way, followed by Pucciarella, Zelna, Michele Quick and Samantha Cotter.

In the balance beam, Danielle Lyman, the team captain, and Veltre are the returning athletes to the event. Junior Renee Baron is a strong candidate in this slot and once again, Pucciarella and Zelna could see time.

Finally, Tina Charles and Veltre will lead the returnees in the floor exercise. Dina Cardinale, Davies, Lyman, Zelna and Pucciarella are also candidates here. The floor exercise has been a Belleville strong point since the programs inception in the Spring of 1980.

"The workouts have been pretty good," said Iannuzzi. "We have a tough match with Clark, but the kids should improve as the year goes on."

Iannuzzi has some young athletes on the roster who will represent the future of the program. Those girls are, Tina Frazczak, Mary Gibbons, Michelle Naso, Jennifer Aiello, Laura Nardone and Robin Layau.

Tennis squad drops opener to Paramus High, 4.5 - 5

The Belleville tennis team opened its 1986 campaign last Monday when it battled and lost to Paramus, 4-5.

Karen Fucello's troops will be in Clifton this afternoon for a 4 p.m. start. The team will travel to Bloomfield tomorrow for a 1 p.m. start and next Monday will host Eastside at 4 p.m. Wednesday, the girls will have a very difficult assignment when they travel to Ridgewood.

Fucello, entering her tenth season of coaching tennis at BHS, noted that her team is very young this year.

We're young and green," she said. "For the opener against Paramus, we didn't do too bad. The girls will get better as the season progresses."

Fucello's current lineup features senior Janet Reiman at first singles, sophomore Darlene Juliano at second and Renee Juliano, a sophomore, at third singles.

The doubles combinations are senior Laurie Tirrell and sophomore Sara Melinger at first doubles and freshman Maria Chanley and sophomore Kristina Bonacorsa at second. Rounding out the team are freshman Musumbi Parekh and sophomores Kirsten Ernst and Carol Morrison.

Fucello will most likely shift her lineup as the season progresses. With so many young players on the team, the coach will be looking to give the girls that valued playing time.

Against Paramus, Reiman lost, 0-6, 0-6 at first singles. Darlene Juliano lost a tough 4-6, 3-6 decision and Renee Juliano was edged out by a 4-6, 4-6 count.

In doubles, Tirrell and Melinger won their first set, 7-6 in a tie breaker, then lost the second set, 6-7, also in a tie breaker. Because of darkness, the third set was cancelled and the three teams were awarded half a point.

The second doubles team of Chanley and Bonacorsa were ousted by a 1-6, 1-6 count.

The girls will be up against a difficult schedule, especially the Bergen County powerhouses from the NNJIL. However, the team should show improvement as the year progresses.

Most of the players on this year's team did play in 1985, so the experience should be a factor in the later matches.

Brian Fitzgerald is leader in Queen of Peace lizak team

Queen of Peace High School has added Powerlifting to an already long list of varsity sports. After completing its first year in 1986 on the club level, Coach Robert Cerco has seen his membership swell to 35.

Leading the team will be Senior Captains Brian Fitzgerald and Mike Toocy. Fitzgerald, a Belleville native, who holds the school record in the deadlift at 420 lbs., at a body weight of 175 lbs., doubles as a fullback and defensive end on the varsity football team.

Toocy, an offensive tackle, defensive end on the football team, is not far behind at 410 lbs. deadlift.

Coach Cerco feels his team should do very well in only its first year in competition. Cerco explained, our weight room has grown to the point where we have plans to expand into a garage adjacent to the existing room. With the donation of 3 new olympic benches, a hyperextension bench and a sleeve rack, we need the room.

Skimming fish

By Christopher Bifani

In the summer of '81 jobs for teenagers were scarce. The economy was in a time of recession, and many young people were looking for work.

That summer I was fortunate. I thought, I secured a warehouse job which paid $3.75 per hour, forty cents more than the fast-food alternatives many of my friends were settling for.

It was a food warehouse, owned and operated by a father and son who had built up a flourishing business selling cases of canned goods and frozen seafood largely to Jewish nursing homes in the metropolitan area.

The cases were heavy and it was back-breaking work. Because the warehouse was too small to adequately serve their thriving trade, teenage workers had to carry and store this merchandise in the attic and basement of the building.

We grumbled a lot but we did not complain. After all it was a job, and jobs were scarce.

One day, the junior partner of this food selling firm brought me into the freezer where the frozen seafood was stored. A large shipment of 25 lbs. cases of fish filets had just come in.

The boss explained the work I was about to do.

First I had to take between three and four pounds of fish filets out of each case. He showed me how to do this by pulling filets from the side of the case, without breaking the seal. Next I had to take the filets I had removed from each case and point them into another box. From about every six cases of fish, I was to make an extra case of fish. Once the chore was explained, my boss let me in the freezer and went back to the office.

After carrying out my bosses orders for a few minutes, I got to thinking that something was "fishy" here. I don't know too much about the Jewish religion, but I realized what I was doing definitely wasn't kosher. I confronted my boss on the issue.

"I can't do this," I said. "You're making me cheat nursing homes by skimming off their fish."

The bosses laughed at me.

"I didn't know you were such an angel," the son said.

I would have quit right there, but they gave me another job to do and I finished out the day before resigning. The bosses instructed my co-worker to do the work I refused to do.

Religious Viewpoints

This kid had come to America with his parents from the Orient. In pursuit of the 'American Dream' he was attending a private college where he was a top student. He needed his job with this father and son food firm to help pay for his schooling. He was going to be an accountant. I recall, a money counter.

And so he did this fishy work. "How can you do this?" I asked him when the bosses had left. "Don't you know you're skimming fish — helping these people rip off nursing homes?"

He shrugged then, and continued with this work. He didn't look me in the eyes.

Five years have passed since the fish skimming incident in that food warehouse freezer. The senior partner of the firm, around 60 then, is now five years closer to the day he must face up to his life's deeds, and then meet his maker.

He will have to own up to the fact that he cheated the elderly, and that somewhere along the line he corrupted his son.

I imagine that his final hours he will be a very unhappy man.

No doubt this man began his career as a mere, ordinary "aggressive businessman," but in time greed, the devil's sharpest weapon, got the better of him. A fair profit on a case of fish filets was not enough. Not when skimming four or five extra cases could pay the wages of two teenage workers for a week!

Today, when I think about the material things I want, and the money I some day want to make, I stop to think about the greedy old food salesman and his corrupted son. And I realize what an evil, progressive disease greed really is.

It doesn't matter what religion we are, whether our prayers are to Jesus, God or Allah. Our readership, I am sure, includes followers of all three.

There will come a time, for all of us, when death is near and our faith comes face to face with our greed.

Yes, I was fortunate in the summer of '81 that I secured a job in that food warehouse, fortunate that my God saw fit to lead me into that scene.

Because those two greed consumed bosses showed me, in real life, what a thousand pastors, could never teach as well.

Paying the price

By Rev. Robert Paul

Some years ago a bridge was built over a great river in one of the western states. It was decided that once it was officially open to the public, a $1,000 prize, along with several other gifts, would be given to the 100th car to drive across the new span.

A crowd had gathered; and excitement was high. At last, the car that would be number 100 was seen in the distance. The crowd began to cheer as the car approached the other end of the new bridge. But then something happened. The car came to a halt, paused a moment, and then made a U turn in the middle of the road. It began heading back in the other direction.

A police car raced after the car. Once apprehended, the driver was asked why he turned around. "Oh," said he, "when I saw the sign about a $1,000 prize, I decided I didn't want to pay the price." Little did he know that that small price could have gained for him!

Many people lose out spiritually because what God asks of them looks like too high a price to pay.

Oh, but what they might receive in return for the small price God asks of them!

"I've hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered in the heart of man, the things which God had prepared for them that love him."

You'll never know what you are missing when you won't pay the price!

The biggest price one has to pay is to simply acknowledge his own sinfulness and swallow, his or her pride. The Bible states: "There is none righteous, no, not one!"

For there is no difference for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." See Romans Chapter 3.

After you acknowledge your own sinfulness, then invite the Lord Jesus Christ to come into your life and be your Savior and Lord. See St. John 1:12.

Don't be like the "foolish virgins" who refused to pay the $1.00 toll and lost the $1,000 prize. Jesus Christ avenges you and He paid the full price for all your sins — 1st Peter 2:24. Thank Christ for His love on your behalf, and call upon Him today. Romans 10:13.
