Four Newarkers arrested

Bellerive cop shot in the line of duty

For the first time in twenty-three years a Belleville police officer was shot in the line of duty.

At approximately 1:30 a.m. Thursday morning, Officer Alan McGinn was fired at twice, and hit once in the forearm, following a car chase which took McGinn and partner Frank Man no three blocks into North Newark.

McGinn is currently in stable condition.

The incident began shortly after 1:00 a.m. according to Belleville Police Chief George Lister. His men were assigned to the Silver Lake section of Belleville and were proceeding north on Belmont Avenue when they spotted a "suspicious" vehicle containing four males.

Chamber ends recess with an agenda-filled board of directors meet

By Christopher Bifani

The board of directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce ended a three-month summer recess September 9 with an agenda-filled meeting at the chamber office on Washington Avenue.

Among the topics covered during the afternoon meet was a welcoming of four new chamber members who joined during the summer: Spinosa Music, Personal Fitness Center, Max Finkelstein Tire Co. and Belleville Tee Party. Howard Halpern, Chamber chairman of the Board, told the Times, "We're proud to have four new members who believe as we do, that it's getting better in Belleville."

10K Race discussed

Much of the meeting's discussion focused on the Chamber's annual 10K race, Sunday, October 26. According to Halpern, the top runners from the state are expected to participate.

One snag the chamber was informed by Belleville Police that the force "did not have sufficient funds in their budget. Surely policemen needed to be motivated."

The Chamber hopes to enlist the aid of auxiliary police, hopefully Essex County Auxiliary Police volunteers. Board member Joe Danaro was charged with contacting Sheriff Thomas D'Alesio on this matter. Meanwhile, additional help has been volunteered by the Junior Women's Club of Belleville who will be pooling about one dozen of its members to help out.

On the same day as the Chamber's 10K race, the business group will also be sponsoring a flea market, as recently approved by the Belleville Board of Commissioners.

The flea market will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on the day of the race and will be located in the parking lot of Town Hall. Cost of setting up a table is $20 and all profits will be donated to the Chamber's scholarship fund.

High visibility suggestions made.

Board member Vincent Frantantoni, perhaps better known for his presidency of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville group, had two suggestions which appear to have earned the support of the board's chairman.

The first suggestion Frantantoni made was to have the Chamber's logo made into a decal for chamber of commerce members to display in their storefront.

Halpern, noting that many municipal chambers of commerce display decals or plaques said, "I support it. In fact, we talked about it." No date was given, however, for the production of the decals.

Another suggestion Frantantoni made, apparently one which has been brought up before, was for the reinstatement of a chamber of commerce late shopping night.

Although Frantantoni did not mention a specific date, Halpern told the Times later that this idea would be a good thing and that he "definitely" supports the idea.

The chairman added that most of the mall retailers in Belleville are already open late on week nights, but most of them aren't chamber members.

In other business, Rita Troise of the Troise Insurance firm discussed the possibility of having

Model citizen

Although professional modeling has been a life long dream for Diane Ariemma, it wasn't until her junior year at Belleville High School that she began to take up the craft seriously.

Beginning with the Elite Modeling Agency of Manhattan, Ariemma spent the next few years getting her portfolio ready and preparing. Two weeks ago her chosen profession began to pay off when she was paid handsomely for her modeling work at The Pret—a Manhattan fashion trade show that is among the largest in the world. Next stop is a lucrative catalog job where she will model high-fashion jewelry.

Ariemma, 20, of Mt. Prospect Avenue is a role model, too, advising young Bellevillites pursuing highly competitive careers to "stick to it."

Say Diane, "If you've got a goal to go for, you can't give up just because someone rejects you."

'Condo Town' rises

Zoning board passes condo over neighborhood objection

The Zoning Board gave its unanimous endorsement of a variance for a 10-unit three-story condominium at 204 Passaic Ave., Tuesday.

The decision brought protests from neighbors of the proposed structure, which will replace an existing one family building.

Some 20 persons were on hand to oppose the variance, with arguments ranging from "It's very inappropriate for the neighborhood" to "You'll never have peace at night."

The opponents argued that the population density of the neighborhood would be increased, along with traffic problems.

Board members responded by saying, "It will clearly make an aesthetic improvement," and "It's the best designed proposal I've ever seen."

One board member noted that the owner, James Landon, had the legal right to build two family houses on the plot, if he desired, without a variance.

Landon's attorney, Joel Pisano, said, "Mr. Landon is not a capricious bugger. He has typed her many, many years."

The vote climaxed a number of hearings on the matter.

When the protestor asked the board why the turnout of neighbors was not given more weight, a board member replied, "It is the quality of the argument, not the size, that counts."

Only one application for a variance ran into a snag.

The zoning board decided to make a personal inspection of the property owned by Manuel Marques, 170 Heckel St., where he wants to construct a two-car garage.

Marques' house and present garage cover almost 90 percent of the property, while the maximum lot coverage is 30 percent.

Marques said that he bought the property that way, and needed the garage to house his truck, which he uses in the food delivery business. He wants to have the new garage adjoin his house.

Suspects still at large

Two gas stations robbed at gunpoint

A pair of armed robberies struck two Belleville gas stations this past weekend netting less than $200 resulting in no injuries to the victims.

The Sunoco station at 95-97 Washington Avenue on the corner of William Street was the scene of a hold-up, according to Chau Liu Chin, the attendant on duty at the time of the incident.

Chin told police that a white male walked up to her at about 7:50 p.m. on Friday evening, September 19 with a small black handgun. She said he demanded money and made off with approximately $106 in cash.

The suspect is described as being 18-22, about 120 lbs. with brown hair, clean shaven, and wearing dark pants, and a tight-fitting green t-shirt.

Chin told police of an alleged accomplice, an undescribed man who worked as lookout from the sidewalk, and following the robbery, fled with the suspect.

On the next night, September 20, Ricky's Shell Station at the intersection of Belleville Avenue and Hornblower Avenue was the scene of an alleged robbery which netted $50.

According to Belleville police reports, a white male, described by the victim as being between 20 and 25, 5'5", with short dark hair, and a slight beard walked up with a small black handgun and demanded money.

No accomplice in this incident was reported, but the suspect, similar to the incident the day before, fled on foot.

Results in injury and death

Route 21 is scene of more accidents

A Belleville stretch of Route 21 was the scene of two major accidents last weekend, which resulted in severe injury and one death.

Orlacio Chang, of neighboring Kearny apparently lost control of his 1982 Ford Mustang at about 1 a.m. Saturday morning, causing the northbound vehicle to smash through the guardrail and plummet into the Passaic River.

Witnesses, who called Belleville Police at about 1:15 a.m., pulled Chang from the river and he was subsequently rushed to University Hospital in Newark, by an ambulance unit which arrived on the scene several minutes later.

Chang was described as having severe head injuries. He was bleeding profusely from a split in the back of his head, but was still alive, according to Belleville Police. The victim died later in the day, at the hospital.

Earlier in the evening, at 10:27 p.m. Friday, September 19, the same stretch of highway was the scene of another tragic accident which claimed two injuries, but, fortunately, no lives.

According to Belleville Police, driver Carlos Saguay of Grafton Avenue, Newark and passenger

Townpeople saddened

Belleville's First Lady dies

Esther Marotti, wife of Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti, died Monday evening, September 22, following a long bout with a serious illness.

Funeral visitation for Mrs. Marotti is scheduled at Zarro's Funeral Home, 145 Harrison Street, Bloomfield, for today from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Marotti was born in Belleville 62 years ago, where she met the Mayor, also a lifelong Bellevillite. They were married June 27, 1945 while he was in the service in Florida.

The Marottis raised three daughters, Cecilia, Rosemarie, and Michele, and one son, Rocco.

A funeral service for Mrs. Marotti will be held at the Silver Lake Baptist Church, Belleville, tomorrow morning at 10 a.m.

Many townspeople, who have already sent the Mayor and family their sympathies, are expected to attend both visitations and the funeral service.

Artists' rendering — Nuttville Jean Marotta is surrounded by her work currently on display at the Belleville Public Library.

BELLEVILLE briefly...

Pack 350 announces coming year events

Cub Scout Pack 350, sponsored by Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Avenue, has announced its program of events for the coming year, beginning with their Open House/Grandparents Night Pack meeting on September 26 at 7:30 p.m.

On September 27, the Pack will take a trip to Sesame Place. Other trips scheduled are a trip to the Bronx Zoo in November, an ice skating and pizza party in January and the Walter Kidde Dinosaur Park, Livingston in April.

The Pack has also planned two fund raisers for the year. One is a spaghetti dinner on November 15 and a pancake breakfast in the planning for the spring.

Pack 350 will also be participating in the annual Cub Olympics being held in October and the annual district-wide Pinewood Derby in March.

Dr. John A. Cece

Local doctor John A. Cece joins area specialty group

Dr. John A. Cece has announced that he has joined the Belleville and Clifton practices of Drs. Bruce Gordon and Arthur Lester, specialists in ear, nose, throat and facial plastic surgery as well as head and neck surgery.

Dr. Cece will be seeing patients at the specialty group's offices at 5 Franklin Avenue, Belleville and at 1001 Clifton Avenue, Clifton. Dr. Cece graduated summa cum laude with a bachelor's of science degree in biology from St. Peter's College.

He received his doctorate in medicine degree from Rutgers Medical School in 1981. Because of his scholastic achievements at Rutgers Medical School, Dr. Cece was one of only six future doctors in his class elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society.

Dr. Cece's longtime interest in diseases of the ear, nose and throat and in surgery of the head and neck prompted him to seek specialization in these areas. In 1986, he completed his residency training in ear, nose and throat, head and neck surgery and facial plastic surgery at the Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York City.

At Mt. Sinai Dr. Cece studied under Drs. Hugh F. Biller and William Lawson, two internationally renowned specialists in ear, nose and throat and head and neck surgery.

A highlight of Dr. Cece's residency at Mt. Sinai was his presentation of an original paper concerning tumors of the middle ear, during this year's convention for ear, nose and throat specialists in Palm Beach, Florida.

Dr. Cece's long-term interest in diseases of the ear, nose and throat and in surgery of the head and neck prompted him to seek specialization in these areas. In 1986, he completed his residency training in ear, nose and throat, head and neck surgery and facial plastic surgery at the Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York City.

Belleville Key clubber leadership conference is at Great Adventure

On Sunday, September 28, 40 Key Clubbers from Belleville High School will attend a Leadership Training Conference at Six Flags Great Adventure. This is an annual event for the New Jersey district of Key Club International.

The students will attend a general session at 9:15 where they will be introduced to district officers and learn about Key Clubbing. Bill Saunders will deliver the keynote address. Many clubs will be recognized for handing in their dues early, and will receive the "Early Bird" dues award.

After the general meeting, the students will have the opportunity to enjoy the rides, and to take advantage of all the theme park has to offer.

This is a K family event, and will be attended by members of Kiwanis Clubs, Circle K Clubs, and Builders' Clubs, as well as by the Key Clubbers.

John W. Stumpe art

On exhibit in the Meeting Room of the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Avenue, are the works of John W. Stumpe of Belleville. On display are oils, glass and works done in ink.

For the past fifteen years, he has exhibited an interest in art. He attended the Belleville Public Schools and the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art. He hopes to continue his education through scholarship funds.

In 1986 at the Belleville Public Library Art Show, John earned first place and Best in Show for his painting on stained glass. His exhibit can be viewed during library hours.

Fabrazzo, Sisto finish medical assist course

Maria Fabrazzo and Jodi Sisto, both of Belleville, have completed the medical assisting course at the Berdan Institute in Tintonia.

The nine-month program provides them with fundamental knowledge and techniques required to assist a physician in examining the patient, preparation of treatment rooms, sterilization and care of instruments, checking vital signs and performing laboratory procedures, as well as particulars of office management. Students are also provided with the theory and clinical techniques of limited chest radiology.

Fabrazzo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fabrazzo. Mrs. Sisto is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Sisto. They are both graduates of Belleville High School.

Accidents on Route 21

Rimco Buick of North 4th Street, Newark was proceeding south on Route 21 in a 1982 Plymouth.

The driver claims he was cut off by a van. Belleville Police Sgt. William Adelheim told the Times, "causing his car to flip over."

Both were injured. Adelheim said but added that no detail on the extent of the injuries were available at press time. They are, however, believed to be serious.

Following police and ambulance response, the victims were rushed to University Hospital.

Reporting and responding of fier for both accidents on Route 21 was Officer Arthur Connelly.

Clara Mass nursing grads get good grades on boards

Clara Mass Medical Center School of Nursing Class of 1986 secured a 100 percent passing rate on the New Jersey State Board of Nursing Licensure Examination. According to Mary Jo Candido, Director of the School of Nursing, this high achievement is due to the "expertise and dedication of the faculty, and their commitment to the 22-month program and our graduate nurses."

The newly certified nurses reflect the type of student the school is attracting in that they are both male and female, many of whom are married. Some have college backgrounds and degrees and have made mid-career changes.

The school is now recruiting students for January and September 1987 entrance for full or part time attendance. Interested persons may contact Mr. Candido at 450-2850 on registration requirements.

But the stage stays the same

Municipal construction drama brings planners into the act

By Christopher Bifani

The drama which has trailed the debate over municipal construction will resume on the high school stage October 2, only this time the players will be different.

Instead of the Belleville Board of Commissioners moving from the commission chambers to accommodate capacity crowds, it's the Belleville Planning Board, headed by chairman Joseph Doyle, making the switch.

What I wanted to do, and intend to do, is have a public hearing, not shut the public out. Doyle told the Times last week. He added that there is no law requiring his board to hold a public hearing on the controversial issue, that he could have simply reviewed the plan "with no public input at all" and then submitted the planner's report to the commissioners.

However Doyle was adamant in insisting that the public conduct themselves in a way that is orderly, apparently in a reference to the well-publicized shouting matches that have been commonplace at past town meetings where the issue of municipal construction has been debated.

"If we have people who are constantly disrupting meetings," Doyle warned, "We'll never get anywhere. We want the public to hold their temper. We want to conduct the hearings in an atmosphere that is fair."

Forty-five day timetable an issue

However, the planning board's forthcoming review of the public safety building plan has already come under fire from the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc. The activist group, which claims a membership of over 500 residents, charges that the planning board, by ordinance, has only 45 days to make recommendations on the proposed plan, but by the time the public hearing convenes at the high school, much of that period will have already passed.

According to both Doyle and the C.C.B., that timetable started taking on September 11, so the planners have until October 26 to make a recommendation. If not, the jurisdiction reverts back to the commissioners. As of the planning board's October 2 public hearing date, 21 days will have already elapsed.

Vincent Frantantonio, president of the Concerned Citizens, said his fear is that if the public's objections necessitate a second public hearing at the planning board level, there will be no time left to schedule one.

Another bone of contention which may arise at the planning board's high school meeting concerns just what it is the planning board is reviewing.

Doyle said it's neither a site plan review nor a complete architectural rendering. So instead, the board will be judging factors such as the "economic standpoint" of the proposal, as well as the "location" and other "essential ingredients," Doyle said.

In addition, the planning board will be hearing from both critics and proponents alike, in what promises to be one of the most revealing evenings thus far in the ongoing cost versus need battle that has been waged in recent months.

Belleville Police Chief George Laferla, consulting engineer Neil Scitiano, architect Frank Richlin, Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph DiRuggiero, and others on the government side of the controversy are all expected to attend the hearing, many of whom will take the podium to answer questions from the planners directly.

On the activist side of the controversy, many members of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville are also expected to attend. Vincent Frantantonio told the Times he will be at the meeting and his vice president, Gabriel Nazziola, and corresponding secretary, Corbin Vander Zwan, are also likely to attend.

Frantantonio, a contractor by trade, believes the public safety building can be built for under $3 million. Nazziola, however, has his own plan to give over most of the existing Town Hall to the police department while moving clerical offices to underutilized School 1.

Through all of the public hearings, Board Chairman Doyle promises to "consider public input" before making any decisions. Decisions, however, will not be made at the hearing.

"We're not voting October 2," Doyle said. "We'll get a preliminary report from Grace Harris, our planning board consultant, consider public input, and then make our decision."

Will Doyle and his board have a recommendation to make in time for the next regular meeting of the planning board, scheduled for October 9 at 383 Washington Avenue?

Zinna and Doyle don't jibe

Following the Concerned Citizens charges that the commissioners did not notify the planning board of the original project, Municipal Judge Frank Zinna, then Municipal Attorney acting on behalf of the board of commissioners, told the Times that the commissioners did contact the planning board "properly" before the original project was approved by the commissioners.

Doyle, however, told the Times again that his board was not contacted, and when asked why, said, "I don't know."

The planning board chairman added, "From a legal standpoint I believe we should have had that chance to review the plans."

However, Doyle, continued by saying he sincerely believes it was an oversight, and that Mayor Michael Marotti came before his board in February of 1986 and said he "was not going to ignore us."

Getting value for the money

Doyle said the purpose of his board's review was to determine whether the township will get value for the money it plans to spend, not whether the money is spending is too high or low.

He said the Board would probably not recommend cost cutting measures, although he would hear the public's comments on costs.

"I don't block the public out ever," Doyle said.

Whiz Kid — Although it's back to school for most children, Christian Lee of Belleville spent part of the summer participating in Caldwell College's Children Television Experience. The program, instructed by Caldwell College president, Sister Vivien Jennings (shown in photo), is designed to promote creativity in children ages 6-13. The "Experience" includes involvement in art, music, creative writing and performance to create student made videotape productions in Caldwell's television studio.

Irresponsibility charged

Freeholder blasts County Executive

Essex County Freeholder Arthur L. Clay has charged County Executive Peter Shapiro with "continued irresponsibility" by using the county budget to curry favor with special interest groups, citing in particular Shapiro's recent proposal to fund alcoholism services for an out-of-state gay and lesbian group.

Clay said the county executive proposed that the county enter into an agreement with G.L.A.S. Inc. of South Orange for the purpose of providing alcoholism services.

"G.L.A.S. Inc. is an acronym for Gay and Lesbian Alcoholism Services," said Clay.

"They are a corporation registered in Delaware, with offices in New York City. I went to their address at 303 Irvington Ave. and no such operation is listed on the door."

"This is totally unjustifiable," Clay said.

"There are many mainstream social service organizations, with roots in the community, and a history of delivering services that are deserving of our support."

"Who are these people? Who are the directors of this gay and lesbian program that Peter Shapiro wants us to hand $7,500 of taxpayers money to?" Clay asked.

"They're not even listed in the phone book."

Clay said legitimate services offered by the National Council on Alcoholism, United Labor Agency, United Community Corporation, Salvation Army, Catholic Services, to name a few, are more deserving of our attention.

"I really have to question the motivation and the rationale behind this request," Clay said.

"There are so many other worthwhile causes and other priorities like the plight of displaced workers, senior citizen services, the homeless and other unfortunate."

"This is ridiculous and an outrageous example of wasting taxpayers money," he said.

Excellent appointments

We congratulate the Township Commission for its appointment of three outstanding attorneys to public office. Newly appointed Municipal Judge Frank Zinna, a top-notch attorney, is a 14-karat appointment.

The additional appointments of two outstanding attorneys with excellent credentials — Frank Cozzarelli as Township Attorney and Legal Assistant Tom Zampino are a couple of cuts above the average appointments that we have been accustomed to reading about over these many years.

Judge Zinna will carry on in the tradition of the late Judge Ed Abramson — compassionate but firm — and from a judge, we can't ask for much more. The Township's legal interests are well protected with Cozzarelli and Zampino on board as Belleville's legal staff. We congratulate the appointees for the recognition bestowed upon them as well as the Township Commission for having the good sense to select qualified, outstanding, young, bright attorneys to fill vacancies at the highest levels of local government.

Grand Jury probe

This week, 35 temporary employees in the Essex County jail received their paychecks and stapled to the checks were $125 worth of tickets, with return envelope, if you please, to a fund raiser for County Executive Peter Shapiro.

Not too far back in our memory, we recall a Democratic County Chairman being indicted, unfairly, because county employees contributed 2 or 3% of their salary to their party. Fortunately, the indictment was dismissed; but here we have a different situation.

We have an Essex County Executive with the gall to intimidate employees without Civil Service protection by practically sending a message to the employees that they had better buy fund raising tickets if they want to keep their jobs. Well, this, at the very least, requires a Grand Jury investigation. County employees, temporary or permanent, should be free to make political contributions to whomever they choose — beginning with the assumption that they can afford a political contribution. The fact of the matter is that most public employees are underpaid and could ill afford the luxury of political contributions.

And while we're on the subject of political contributions, let's address the question of political contributions made to candidates by vendors selling to the governmental department. Should Peter Shapiro receive contributions from county vendors? We don't think so — but he has received contributions from vendors — and he continues to receive contributions from vendors. Is this a practice to be tolerated by anyone seeking clean government in public office — especially from one who came on the scene eight years ago as a crusader? Voters should send a message to Mr. Shapiro — and that message is that acceptance of contributions from vendors is morally wrong — and intimidating public employees to separate them from their money for contributions is just as bad.

A moment of pride

It was a historic moment when U.S. Senate elevated the first Italian-American justice ever to serve on the Supreme Court, the highest body of justice in the land.

For millions of Italian-Americans, especially older ones who remember the sting of ethnic prejudice, Judge Antonin Scalia's appointment as Supreme Court Justice is a source of great pride, and a reaffirmation of the indelible mark that the Italian wave of immigration has made on American society.

That the Senate immediately confirmed Scalia in an unanimous 98-0 vote is more reason for people of Italian decent to be proud.

Down the road there will be many decisions before the Supreme Court which will affect the very fabric of American life.

At least we may take heart in knowing that a man of depth, integrity and wisdom — Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia — will help shape those decisions.

The citizens' newspaper...

To the editor

I wanted to write to you last week, but I think that I waited. My intent was to thank you for giving The Belleville Times back to the citizens of Belleville. For so long I have been reading the paper and wondering what was going on.

I'd go to all the Town Hall meetings, and after reading the paper, I couldn't believe that (The Times) had been to the same meeting.

When you put your questionnaire in the paper I sent it back requesting that the meetings be covered more completely and reported in the paper quicker.

Well, you did it in the September 14, 1986 issue. What a beautiful job. Thank you very much and please keep up this kind of work. You gave the paper back to the citizens of Belleville.

My second reason for writing is the Citizens Forum in the September 18 issue. This was very well done. It gave us the facts and asked the proper questions. It was a citizen speaking out in a calm and proper manner. Please keep it coming.

One last request. Could you print the Police Blotter? We know there is crime around us, but we do not know what.

Again, may I say thank you and keep up the good work.

Tax hike unconscionable...

To the editor

I guess all Belleville taxpayers know the news would be bad when they received their tax bills late this year. The unconscionable tax increase ours to the tune of $630.00 over last year due in part to our local government and in part to the poor job done by our County Executive, Peter Shapiro, leaves us with several unanswered questions. The local issues may be addressed at the regularly scheduled town meeting. The other questions we'd like answered are:

1. Whose interests do our County Executive's have at heart when only two out of nine spoke out against the tax raise. Freeholder Jay, District No. 3 and East-bader, District No. 4?

2. Why does Essex County need an Executive? Up until eight years ago there was no such position — and since Mr. Shapiro has been in charge, absolutely nothing has been done to improve the lot of Essex County taxpayers. If anything, we're much worse off due to his mismanagement of funds and to add insult to injury, we're paying his salary.

3. What does the new category on our tax bill this year "Reserve for Uncollected Tax" mean? All we know is that it has cost us an additional $171.00.

The fact that all Belleville taxpayers are entitled to are satisfactory answers to these questions as well as to any others they may have concerning their taxes. After all, don't forget election time is just around the corner.

Letters to the Editor

Last hope for peace...

To the editor

The United Nations, humankind's last hope for peace faces its most severely financial crisis in history. The total annual budget for the UN was eight hundred and twenty million dollars. The UN contribution was dropped 25.0 percent from the current 25 percent beginning this October.

On July 17, the House of Representatives passed bill HR 5161 containing cuts which could result in a 40 percent shortfall in 1986 U.S. UN contribution.

The bill is now in the Senate. Nulley citizens argued to contact Senators Lautenberg and Bradley, US Senate Office Bldg., Washington, DC 20510, before October 3 adjournment to show there is a constituency for the UN in this country. These cuts violate US treaty obligations, including our obligations under the Charter of the UN. The crisis is so severe that even President Reagan is switching his position on the cutbacks, and is trying to reverse the Congressional budget cuts.

according to a front page article that appeared in The New York Times on September 14.

Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar, advises that the crisis is so bad that it is not clear whether the UN will remain solvent throughout the remainder of the year.

The Nulley administration has been very supportive of the UN and in the past has done more than its share to encourage its citizens to attend the annual UN celebration and has funded special bus transportation which is more than most any other town or its size in the state so please urge the Senate Appropriations committee to restore all funding.

Senator Bradley's Newark phone number is 929-4848. Senator Lautenberg's Newark phone number is 646-3030. Time is of the essence, so if you can't write, please phone the above numbers.

Thanks cops for foot patrol...

I would be remiss if I did not take the time to say "thank you" to our police department.

Last week I had the occasion to be at my place of business way after the normal closing hours and as I was working I heard my door being tested and the policeman's two way radio, and it was secure to know that the Avenue is being patrolled.

Thank you

Our Congressman Hon. Robert Roe (8th Dist. D) advises Congress was successful in mandating the current schedule of a maximum of $2 per month telephone access charge and agrees that individuals should not be charged for services they do not use. He points out that the Federal State Joint Board, a panel of Federal and State utility regulators, is studying the issue of whether the access charge is unfair to customers who do not use interstate long distance services. He indicates Congress will await the results of their study with great interest as Congress continues to consider this issue.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Assemblyman John V. Kelly's Sept. 13 picnic on a beautiful Saturday afternoon, at TIAI grounds in Nutley, a beautiful spot, was well attended by many notables of the political and business world as well as a host of his numerous friends. A pleasant time was shared by all amid great atmosphere of friends renewing acquaintances. Plenty good food, food with ample libations were on hand accompanied by games and music. Nothing is ever spared when John Kelly sponsors a program and he sponsors many of them — he is one of Nutley's outstanding citizens. Thanks John for a nice affair.

Reports that Newark may discontinue use of the reservoir on Jonicoenon St. in Belleville has fired thoughts of what disposal might be made of the present tax exempt property. Before anything is done, determination should be found if any peaks are present on the property which could be very costly to repair. Likewise, a study should be made to evaluate the topography of the land and soil tests made to determine if construction costs might be prohibitive. Would land fill be needed?

Whatever disposal the City of Newark may decide to do with the property the very first concern of the Township of Belleville and its governing body should be getting tax ratables on that land something the township badly needs to help keep taxes down.

We already have a beautiful park that is tax exempt which the people are afraid to use. We have the Recreation House playground a block away from the reservoir we don't need another one in that location. Two tax exempt playgrounds and a tax exempt profitable golf links occupies a major portion of the town's land which produce no revenues, we need no more.

What we should encourage is private construction that will provide tax ratables to help reduce taxes, not put another park in an area already having such facilities.

The potential of developing such a large tract of ideally located land in one of the choice sections of Belleville offers the prospect of opening broad new vistas for growth and expansion for a brighter future for the community. We should not permit this potential for improvement to be lost.

Belleville today, with an over worked and undermanned police department is not the place for another park or play area for children to hang out, places like school yards where "crack" peddlers ply their lethal wares.

Our Nutley neighbor had to pass an ordinance banning use of their parks after dark because of the inherent nocturnal disorders perpetrated in them which required additional police surveillance thereon.

The Belleville community must look forward to a progressive development symmetrically attuned to the changing mores and styles of the approaching 1990's. Times are aching and to keep up with them we must alter old patterns and form new ones compatible with surging trends, exhort!

Reverend Na brings his own history to historic Wesley Methodist Church

By Christopher Bifani

Jung Young Na, pastor at Belleville's historic Wesley Methodist Church on Washington Avenue, has an interesting story behind his calling — one which has taken him through half his lifetime and halfway around the world.

The story of Reverend Na begins on his native Korean soil during World War II. "His Methodist Christian family was one of millions in Korea, the most Christianized country in South East Asia."

But Na recalls that during the Japanese occupation, the emperor's fierce invaders were particularly cruel to Korean Christians.

"During World War II lots of Korean Christians were killed by the Japanese," Na said, "Just because they were Christian."

The Reverend continued, "My father was a very good Christian. I asked him why were we Christians if it made the Japanese persecute us more. I thought it was very unreasonable."

After Korea was liberated, the young Na concentrated on his studies, eventually earning degrees in science and business at a prestigious university in Seoul.

Na said that during this time, the sixties, he earned a great deal of money as an executive for a firm that exported steel around the world.

But in time, Na explained, he came to feel that "Money means nothing," and that he was beginning to yearn for greater fulfillment in his life, a fulfillment that wealth alone could not provide.

At the time, Na and his family were enjoying many of the finer things in life — nice cars, clothes, good food. But even then, the steel executive-turned-pastor wasn't totally materialistic. He was a volunteer at a local orphanage and the fulfillment he felt from his efforts there began to override his satisfaction with material wealth.

By the early seventies, Na said, "I decided to quit my job and work only for the orphanage."

He recalls with a fond chuckle that this decision was met "with great protest from my wife."

After all, Na's family — Jung, his wife Jean, Jean's daughter, and Samuel, his son — had to readjust from having "everything" to having "nothing."

His work at the orphanage involved the fathering of an additional 152 children. And although he felt he was helping to raise them well, he said, "I felt injured in my ability to lead them to Jesus Christ, our savior."

He decided he wanted to "learn more about God and the Bible."

Na's brother Koo Young Na, had already become a Methodist pastor and had already emigrated to the United States where he was pastor of United Methodist Church in Leonia, Bergen County.

Koo Young Na had studied at Drew University of Theology in Union County and introduced Jung to the school. As an aside, Jung Young Na points out that the New Jersey college also graduated Henry Appeneller 102 years ago — the first Methodist missionary in Korea, Na says.

"Appeneller was the father of Korean Methodism," Na states. "He died for the Korean people."

Following his religious studies at Drew in the early eighties, Na was ordained a deacon in 1984 and formed a Korean congregation at an existing Methodist church in nearby Passaic.

To this day, Na continues to give Korean language services at the church, which has an English speaking pastor for non Korean worshippers.

On June 15 of this year, Reverend Na was appointed pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, an institution which dates back to the 1700's.

Here, he offers services only in English, but he points out that his flock consists of people of all ethnic origins.

Today Reverend Na and his family are solid Belleville citizens. His wife Jung is active in the church and his two children attend Belleville schools. Jean is a sophomore at the high school with Samuel in eighth grade at the middle school.

Ahn-Matthai, secretary to Pastor Na, told the Times a fellowship luncheon is slated for September 28 at the church to officially welcome Reverend Na and his family to Belleville.

She added that there is no charge to attend and that those interested in coming or seeking more information on the church could call 759-0941.

Reverend Jung Young Na of fers services Sundays at 10 a.m. He said all are welcome to attend.

Stations robbed at gunpoint

The suspect was further described as wearing a black jacket, blue jeans, and a dark shirt.

Belleville Police Chief George Lister believes the incidents may be related.

Sgt. William Adelhelm also said the incidents may be related, but added that this is not certain.

Apparently, the modus operandi of the two crimes are similar, in that both alleged armed robberies involved suspects who fled on foot, used handguns, and did not cause injury

Description given by the victims of the two gas stations are similar as well, in that hair color, weapon, and age possibly match.

However, the suspects wore different clothes and while the first incident at the Sunoco station involved a clean shaven suspect, the suspect at the Shell station was described as having a slight beard.

Sgt. Adelhelm, however, pointed out that a slight beard could mean only a few days' growth.

In the Sunoco incident a weight 120 lbs. was given but no estimated height. In the Shell incident a height, about 5'5", was given but no weight.

No suspect in either incident has been apprehended at press time. Responding to the incident at the Sunoco station was Officer Anthony Weiner. Responding to the incident at the Shell station were Officers James DeGrosso and Glen McDonal.

Any information on either incident may be referred to the Belleville Police Department, 450 3333.

Fall subscription drive continues as Times welcomes subscribers

Nearly 100 new Belleville Times subscribers have joined the growing family of loyal Times readers, editor Christopher Bifani announced this week.

During the same period, Bifani said, newsstand sales of the Times have increased by 10 percent.

As a result of increased readership, the Belleville Times has been selling out early in the week at locations throughout the town ship.

"We're sending more papers to outlets on Washington Avenue, Union Avenue, and elsewhere in Belleville, but we still hear stories about readers who have had to travel to locations outside their own neighborhoods in order to purchase their copies," Bifani said.

The editor's reply? "Subscribe!"

two chairmen, one to head retail membership and the other to head manufacturing membership.

Chamber dinner dance

November 22

One of Belleville's most prestigious social events, The Belleville Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner Dance, was set for November 22 and will be held at the Branch Brook Manor in Belleville.

Halpern said more detail, such as price of admission and who the guest of honor will be, are to be worked out at a future meeting.

The Columbus Day ball, meanwhile is right around the corner. October 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Chandeler Restaurant. Tickets for this gala affair are $37.50 each.

The ball precedes the Nutley Belleville Columbus Day parade October 12, which the Chamber is expected to participate in.

Chamber may march in parade

Board member Dasaro, also known for his work with the Belleville Redevelopment Agency, said that a float is being donated to the Chamber so all that is needed is a sign and, presumably, some riders.

Present at the meeting were Shirlee Sherman, President, of Sherman's Clothing Shop; Howard Halpern of OBC TV; Mary Perry of Provident Savings; Marie Martino of First DeWitt Savings; and Tom Spillane of New Jersey Bell.

Also, Joe Dasaro of Belleville Travel; David Bryant of Belleville Public Library; Katherine Lewis of Peoples Bank; Susan Battary of Technion; and Gae Hoffman of Clara Mass Medical Center.

Also, Virginia Ng of Jovial Card and Gift Shop; David Worral of Belleville Post; Vinnie Frantantoni of Frantantoni Bros.; and Rita Troise of Troise Insurance. Susan Caponi, executive secretary of the Chamber was also present.

Speaker: Kathleen Orr Valenta, M.S., C.C.C., Intra Communications Services, Speech Language Pathologist Audiologist. Topic: Speech Reading.

Crime breaker! abused children

Each year in the U.S., an estimated 100,000 children suffer some form of sexual abuse. Most of them are girls, but boys can also be victims. Teaching "stranger rules" is smart, but not enough—in the majority of cases, the child sexual molester is known to the child and the child's family. That's why only a minority of cases is reported. The abuser is often a parent, "good old Uncle Bill," a babysitter, or a close family friend.

Children may give in to adults' sexual advances because they fear losing their love, or fear their punishment, so they're especially vulnerable to abuse by someone they know. Children are trusting and defenseless, and they'll often feel guilty, as if they caused an assault.

Children may not recognize sexual abuse when it happens or even know it's wrong, although they often instinctively know what "proper distance" should be kept between them and another person. They must learn what appropriate "touching" is, and if they're ever uncertain about someone's intentions, they should know it's ok to respond in a way that makes them feel safer and more comfortable. While it is always difficult to talk about sexual abuse, the only way to do something about the problem is to have the child tell someone.

Adults should remember that, while children often make up stories, they rarely lie about being the victims of sexual abuse. If a child tells you about being touched or assaulted, take it seriously. Your response is very important. It will greatly influence how the child reacts to and recovers from the abuse.

Sometimes a child may be too frightened or confused to talk directly about abuse. Be alert for any change in behavior that might indicate that the child has suffered a disturbing experience.

- Is the child suddenly quite withdrawn, than usual, refusing to go to school or afraid to be alone?
- Is the child having trouble sleeping, waking up with nightmares, or wetting the bed?
- Is the child complaining of irritation of the genital area?
- Are there signs of increased anxiety or immature behavior?

Has the child's attitude changed toward a relative neighbor or babysitter? Make sure you check carefully the references of babysitters, recreation leaders, and day care centers.

Abusers will continue until they're stopped. Abused children can be abusive—to themselves or others, when they become adults. It's a vicious circle that can be broken.

good food. But even then, the steel executive turned pastor, wasn't totally materialistic. He was a volunteer at a local orphanage and the fulfillment he felt from his efforts there began to override his satisfaction with material wealth.

By the early seventies, Na said, "I decided to quit my job and work only for the orphanage."

He recalls, with a fond chuckle, that this decision was met "with great protest from my wife."

After all, Na's family—Jung, his wife Jean, Jean's daughter, and Samuel, his son—had to readjust from having "everything" to having "nothing."

His work at the orphanage involved the "fathering" of an additional 152 children. And although he felt he was helping to raise them well, he said "I felt limited in my ability to lead them to Jesus Christ, our savior."

He decided he wanted to "learn more about God and the Bible."

Na's brother, Koo Young Na, had already become a Methodist pastor and had already emigrated to the United States where he was pastor of United Methodist Church in Leonia, Bergen County.

Koo Young Na had studied at Drew University of Theology in Union County and introduced Jung to the school. As an aside, Jung Young Na points out that the New Jersey College also graduated Henry Appenpeller 102 years ago—the first Methodist missionary in Korea, Na says.

"Appenpeller was the father of Korean Methodism," Na states. "He died for the Korean people."

Following his religious studies at Drew in the early eighties, Na was ordained a deacon in 1984 and formed a Korean congregation at an existing Methodist church in nearby Passaic.

This day, Na continues to give Korean language services at the church, which has an English-speaking pastor for non-Korean worshippers.

On June 15 of this year, Reverend Na was appointed pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, an institution which dates back to the 1700's.

Here, he offers services only in English, but he points out that his flock consists of people of all ethnic origins.

Today Reverend Na and his family are solid Belleville citizens. His wife, Jung, is active in the church and his two children attend Belleville schools. Jean is a sophomore at the high school with Samuel in eighth grade at the middle school.

Ann Matthai, secretary to Pastor Na, told the Times a fellowship luncheon is slated for September 28 at the church to officially "welcome Reverend Na and his family to Belleville."

She added that there is no charge to attend and that those interested in coming, or seeking more information on the church, could call 759-0941.

Reverend Jung Young Na of fers services Sundays at 10 a.m. He said all are welcome to attend.

Stations robbed at gunpoint

The suspect was further described as wearing a black cloth jacket, blue jeans, and a dark shirt.

Belleville Police Chief George Lister believes the incidents may be related.

Sgt. William Adelhelm also said the incidents may be related, but added that this is not certain.

Apparently, the modus operandi of the two crimes are similar in that both alleged armed robberies involved suspects who fled on foot, used handguns, and did not cause injury.

Description given by the victims of the two gas stations are similar, as well, in that hair color, weapon, and age possibly match.

However, the suspects wore different clothes and while the first incident at the Sunoco station, involved a clean shaven suspect, the suspect at the Shell station was described as having a slight beard.

Sgt. Adelhelm, however, pointed out that a slight beard could mean only a few days' growth.

In the Sunoco incident a weight, 120 lbs., was given but no estimated height. In the Shell incident a height, about 5'5", was given but no weight.

No suspect in either incident has been apprehended at press time. Responding to the incident at the Sunoco station was Officer Anthony Weiner. Responding to the incident at the Shell station were Officers James DeLuca and Glen McDonald.

Any information on either incident may be referred to the Belleville Police Department, 450 3333.

Fall subscription drive continues as Times welcomes subscribers

Nearly 100 new Belleville Times subscribers have joined the growing family of loyal Times readers, editor Christopher Bifani announced this week.

During the same period, Bifani said, newsstand sales of the Times have increased by 10 percent.

As a result of increased readership, the Belleville Times has been selling out early in the week at locations throughout the town ship.

"We're sending more papers to outlets on Washington Avenue, Union Avenue, and elsewhere in Belleville, but we still hear stories about readers who have had to travel to locations outside their own neighborhoods in order to purchase their copies," Bifani said.

The editor's reply: "Subscribe!"

"Subscribing to the Times not only assures readers of receiving

More features than ever

One reason why the Belleville Times is enjoying a sharp rise in readership is the inclusion of many new features geared to the Belleville reader.

Belleville Briefly, Crimebreaker Court Reporter, The Belleville Beat, Citizens Forum, Religious Viewpoint, and other regular and occasional features spotlight a lively body of hometown activity unmatched anywhere else.

The Times' letter section, perhaps the most active of any weekly in Essex County, is more evidence of a newspaper that not only serves Belleville, but is a part of it as well.

When filling out the subscription form below, why not include your comments and suggestions for making the Belleville Times even better?

The Belleville Times—More Belleville news, more Belleville readers. Since 1909,

An Orechio publication, their copies without hassle or delay, but also saves money in the long run," Bifani added.

Although the newsstand price at the Belleville Times is still only 25 cents, the yearly subscription rate, at $14, represents a 20 percent savings—about 28 cents a copy.

Seniors save even more

The Times especially welcomes senior citizens into its family of readers with a special money saving rate, only $5 per year.

"Our low rate for seniors, which work out to about 14 cents a copy, reflects our concern for the older people of Belleville, many of whom are living on fixed incomes," Bifani said, adding that seniors could save even more by taking advantage of supermarket sales and coupons which appear in the Times every week.

Crime breaker! abused children

Each year in the U.S. an estimated 100,000 children suffer some form of sexual abuse. Most of them are girls, but boys can also be victims. Teaching "stranger rules" is smart, but not enough—in the majority of cases, the child sexual molester is known to the child and the child's family. That's why only a minority of cases is reported. The abuser is often a parent, "good old Uncle Bill," a babysitter, or a close family friend.

Children may give in to adults' sexual advances because they fear losing their love, or fear their punishment, so they're especially vulnerable to abuse by someone they know. Children are trusting and defenseless, and they'll often feel guilty, as if they caused an assault.

Children may not recognize sexual abuse when it happens or even know it's wrong, although they often instinctively know what "proper distance" should be kept between them and another person. They must learn what appropriate "touching" is, and if they're ever uncertain about someone's intentions, they should know it's OK to respond in a way that makes them feel safer and more comfortable. While it is always difficult to talk about sexual abuse, the only way to do something about the problem is to have the child tell someone.

Adults should remember that, while children often make up stories, they rarely lie about being the victims of sexual abuse. If a child tells you about being touched or assaulted, take it seriously. Your response is very important. It will greatly influence how the child reacts to and recovers from the abuse.

Sometimes a child may be so frightened or confused to talk directly about abuse, he alert for any change in behavior that might indicate that the child has suffered a disturbing experience.

- Is the child suddenly more withdrawn than usual, refusing to go to school or afraid to go alone?
- Is the child having trouble sleeping, waking up with nightmares, or wetting the bed?
- Is the child complaining of irritation of the genital area?
- Are there signs of increased anxiety or immature behavior?

Has the child's attitude changed toward a relative, neighbor or babysitter? Make sure you check carefully the references of babysitters, recreation leaders, and day-care centers.

Abusers will continue until they're stopped. Abused children can be abusive—to themselves or others—when they become adults. It's a vicious circle that can be broken.

Belleville Chamber Board of Directors meet

two chairmen: one to head retail membership and the other to head manufacturing membership.

Chamber dinner dance November 22

One of Belleville's most prestigious social events, The Belleville Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner Dance, was set for November 22 and will be held at the Branch Brook Manor in Belleville. Halpern said more detail, such as price of admission and who the guest of honor will be, are to be worked out at a future meeting.

The Columbus Day ball, meanwhile, is right around the corner, October 3, at 7:30 p.m.—at the Chandeler Restaurant. Tickets for this gala affair are $37.50 each.

The ball precedes the Nutley-Belleville Columbus Day parade, October 12, which the Chamber is expected to participate in.

Chamber may march in parade

Board member Dasaro, also known for his work with the Belleville Redevelopment Agency, said that a float is being donated to the Chamber so all that is needed is a sign and, presumably, some riders.

Present at the meeting were Shirley Sherman, President, of Shermans Clothing Shop; Howard Halpern of OBC TV; Mary Perry of Provident Savings; Marie Martino of First DeWitt Savings; and Tom Spillane of New Jersey Bell.

Also, Joe Dasaro of Belleville Travel; David Bryant of Belleville Public Library; Katherine Lewis of Peoples Bank; Susan Battuary of Technion; and Gae Hoffman of Clara Mass Medical Center.

Also, Virginia Ng, of Jovial Card and Gift Shop; David Worral of Belleville Post; Vinnie Frantantoni of Frantahtoni Bros.; and Rita Troise of Troise Insurance. Susan Caponi, executive secretary of the Chamber was also present.

Belleville Deborah kicks off campaign

Volunteers of the Deborah Hospital Foundation across the nation are gearing up for the first multi-state fund drive set for October.

The Belleville/Nutley Deborah Chapter, representing members, patients and friends in Belleville and Nutley, will reach their neighborhoods through the mail program as part of the fund and membership campaign.

Contributions raised through this major program go to support the Deborah Heart and Lung Center, which treats adults with heart and lung diseases and children with congenital heart defects without regard to race, religion, national origin or ability to pay. Through the humanitarian programs, exceptional health care is provided without any cost to the patient or family.

"We can all make a difference if we work together," explained Irene Prezioso, Chapter Fund Drive Chairperson and coordinator.

This massive undertaking will reach the community through local chapters and the Deborah Hospital Foundation Regional Offices in New Jersey, Pennsylvania,

New York and Florida.

"Deborah counts on the support of compassionate people everywhere to insure that there can be no price on life," Prezioso said.

For more information contact Deborah Hospital Foundation, New Jersey Regional Office at 7 Center Drive, Suite 10, Jamesburg, N.J. 08831 or call 1-800-223-0135.

Realtor receives award

Reilly Realtors, located at 394 Washington Ave. in Belleville, has announced that they are the recipients of a Certificate of Merit awarded by American Airways, Inc., for their participation in a radio sponsored "Campaign for Public Health and Safety."

Jack Reilly, sales manager for the agency, noted that the award was the result of an ongoing effort by staff members of Reilly to support the community.

"We were contacted by a representative of American Airways," Reilly said, "who asked us if we thought it was important to make the community aware that school kids are back on the streets, and it just came together from there."

The Campaign for Public Health and Safety was a joint effort sponsored by WJDM radio which provided reduced rate air time for the participants in the campaign which stressed the message "Kids are back in school, drive safely."

"We tried to help raise the awareness of the public," said Reilly.

Undersheriff made U.S. Marshal

Arthur D. Borinsky, former Undersheriff with the Essex County Sheriff's Office, was officially sworn in as the U.S. Marshal for New Jersey.

Borinsky has served with the county Sheriff's Office for six years and was in charge of the training division which housed the educational programs which the Sheriff's Office provides for school children.

A. Marshall Borinsky will be responsible for security in the federal courts, the federal witness protection program, rounding up federal fugitives, and assisting in the investigation of acts of terrorism and the taking of hostages, in cooperation with the FBI.

Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio congratulated the new federal marshal and stated that the Sheriff's Office will miss his administrative abilities.

Arthur Borinsky worked side by side with the officers in our department, said the Sheriff. "He even volunteered to go out on pre dawn drug raids with the Bureau of Narcotics. I look forward to a continuing close working relationship between the Sheriff's Office and the federal marshal's office," D'Alessio said.

Policeman shot in the line of duty

Officers McGinn and Manno signaled the vehicle to pull over which they did, but Lister added that a truck was backing into a building farther up the road so the suspects could not have fled at the time.

However, as McGinn and Manno approached the car, the truck backed up enough for the suspect's vehicle to pass, and they subsequently fled the scene while the policemen approached.

What followed next was a car chase that took the officers north on Belmont Avenue, then east on Franklin Street, north on North 6th Street in Newark, and into a private road behind Branch Brook Park.

It was in this area, Lister said, that the suspects hit an object and fled their car on foot. Officer Manno chased three of the suspects, collaring one while Officer McGinn attempted to collar the driver, who was delayed when his pant leg got caught on the bumper of the police car.

Two shots fired

At this point suspect Willie Pryor, 20, of Montgomery Street, Newark, fired two shots from a .32 calibre handgun directly at McGinn's head and neck area.

One of the shots apparently missed, but the other shot aimed directly at McGinn's face hit. What saved McGinn from more serious injury, and possibly death, was his forearm which he used to protect his face by taking the bullet there.

When Officer Manno heard the shot, he let the suspect he had grabbed go free and ran back to assist his partner.

Lister explained that partner safety is the first priority, so it was normal procedure for Manno to let the suspect go free for the time being in order to respond to the gunfire.

Manno subsequently called for backup while all four suspects fled east into the Forest Hills section of Newark.

Police ring the area

What followed in the next few hours is an example of how serious policemen regard an incident which involves a shooting attack on a policeman.

According to Chief Lister, 10 on-duty Belleville policemen, 6 off-duty Belleville policemen, about 20 Newark police units and back-up by the Essex County Police Force all converged on the neighborhood in North Newark where the four suspects fled.

The result was a virtual sealing off of the area. Lister said, resulting in the arrest a short time later of shooting suspect Willie Pryor.

Prior was discovered hiding in a Forest Hills porch, with the alleged shooting weapon still in his possession.

Lister continued, "At this time police had reason to believe that the remaining suspects were hiding in a lumber yard in the area."

Irvington K 9

Squad summoned

Police authorities then contacted the owner of the lumber yard, who came down and opened the business — and also contacted Irvington police for assistance with their K 9 squad of trail sniffing German Shepherds.

By 5:30 a.m., just four hours after the incident, the massive manhunt which involved Belleville, Newark, Irvington, and Essex County police resulted in the arrest of 3 suspects, the latter two being snuffed out by the dogs.

According to Newark police, the suspects arrested in the lumber yard are Norman Hill, 18, of McCarter Highway, and a 17 year old male juvenile, also from Newark.

The fourth suspect remained at large until the next day. Carlo Alemar of McCarter Highway, Newark, was picked up by Newark police and like the three suspects arrested earlier, was charged with aggravated assault.

Chief Lister praised the efforts of his force, as well as all outside police forces who assisted in the shooting incident.

What is your treasure?

By Rev. Robert Paul

A missionary went to visit a young Indian who was dying. He was stripped of all comfort and was lying on a heap of dried leaves.

"My poor friend," said the missionary, "What can I do for you?" "Missionary," answered the Indian, "I am the happiest person in all the world and I need nothing."

"What do you mean?" the missionary asked.

"God is my Heavenly father, through faith in His Son, so now the Lord Jesus Christ is my Saviour and Lord, and heaven is my home. The Lord Jesus may soon take me to be with Him, as He may come at any moment. What else do I need?" St. John 14:1-6.

"How do you know this?" asked the missionary in order to be assured of the reality of his convictions.

"Do you see this book?" replied the sick man, showing him a well-worn used New Testament. "This is my best friend. It answers all my questions. I would not give it away for all the gold in the world."

"This word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path," Psalm 119.

The happy Indian pressed the New Testament in his heart and then added, "However, I must part from it one day, perhaps soon, but then I will not need it, for I will see my Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ face to face and tell the story saved by grace. Then I shall be able to talk directly with Christ. Then you will give this Bible to another that he may also learn to live and die in perfect joy."

"Friend, what are you doing with the Bible which you have in your home? Have you been using it?"

to salvation by faith in reading it time and time again? Has the Bible brought to you the peace and joy that filled the young Indian's heart?

Let's all do as the Bible says in Psalm 119:11. "This word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee." Begin today by hiding this verse in your heart, and it will bring real joy into your life. "Verily, verily, I say unto you. He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, has everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but is passed from death unto life." See St. John 5:24.

Belleville Assembly of God hosting community revival

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 9, 10 and 11, an interdenominational communitywide revival will be held at the Belleville Assembly of God, 174 Holmes St. The guest speaker for the three night revival will be the Rev. Frederick A. Trunk from Kenilworth, Georgia, formerly of New Jersey and president of the Metropolitan Organ Club.

Rev. Trunk has served for thirty-three years on church staff in various positions, including minister of music, minister to youth and associate pastor. In addition to being the guest speaker for the revival, Rev. Trunk will also present musical selections on the organ. Richard H. Deane from Harrison, Massachusetts, will be the guest soloist for the three evenings. He and Rev. Trunk have worked together for several years in music and evangelism. Two choirs will be featured, the Belleville Assembly of God Choir and the Faith Gospel Church Choir of Clifton.

Come and bring your Bible for a time of refreshing study and good gospel singing. Everyone of every denomination is cordially invited. The meetings start nightly at 7:45 p.m.

For further information, telephone 759-2527 or 667-6483.

Religious Viewpoints

Does success obviate prayer?

Revised as an annual observance by Congress in 1952, the National Day of Prayer has become a great unifying force for our citizens who come from all the great religions of the world. Prayer unites people. This common expression of reverence heals and brings us together as a nation and we pray it may one day bring renewed respect for God to all the people of the world.

From General Washington's struggle at Valley Forge to the present, this nation has fervently sought and received divine guidance as it pursued the course of history. This occasion provides our Nation with an opportunity to further recognize the source of our blessings and to seek His help for the challenges we face today and in the future.

To stand strong graciously to strive sincerely to love always, and to seek understanding — these are the worthy attributes of a life worth the living.

Contributions raised through this major program go to support the Deborah Heart and Lung Center, which treats adults with heart and lung diseases and children with congenital heart defects without regard to race, religion, national origin or ability to pay. Through the humanitarian programs, exceptional health care is provided without any cost to the patient or family.

"We can all make a difference if we work together," explained Irene Prezioso, Chapter Fund Drive Chairperson and coordinator.

This massive undertaking will reach the community through local chapters and the Deborah Hospital Foundation Regional Offices in New Jersey, Pennsylvania,

New York and Florida.

"Deborah counts on the support of compassionate people everywhere to insure that there can be no price on life," Prezioso said.

For more information contact Deborah Hospital Foundation, New Jersey Regional Office at 7 Center Drive, Suite 10, Jamesburg, N.J. 08831 or call 1-800-225-0135.

Realtor receives award

Reilly Realtors, located at 394 Washington Ave. in Belleville, has announced that they are the recipients of a Certificate of Merit, awarded by American Airways, Inc., for their participation in a radio sponsored "Campaign for Public Health and Safety."

Jack Reilly, sales manager for the agency, noted that the award was the result of an ongoing effort by staff members of Reilly to support the community.

"We were contacted by a representative of American Airways," Reilly said, "who asked us if we thought it was important to make the community aware that school kids are back on the streets, and it just came together from there."

The Campaign for Public Health and Safety was a joint effort sponsored by WJDM radio which provided reduced-rate airtime for the participants in the campaign which stressed the message "Kids are back in school, drive safely!"

"We tried to help raise the awareness of the public," said Reilly.

Undersheriff made U.S. Marshal

Arthur D. Borinsky, former Undersheriff with the Essex County Sheriff's Office, was officially sworn in as the U.S. Marshal for New Jersey.

Borinsky has served with the county Sheriff's Office for six years and was in charge of the training division which housed the educational programs which the Sheriff's Office provides for school children.

As Marshall, Borinsky will be responsible for security in the federal courts, the federal witness protection program, rounding up federal fugitives, and assisting in the investigation of acts of terrorism and the taking of hostages, in cooperation with the FBI.

Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio congratulated the new federal marshal and stated that the Sheriff's Office will miss his administrative abilities.

Arthur Borinsky worked side by side with the officers in our department, said the Sheriff. "He even volunteered to go out on pre-dawn rounds with the Bureau of Narcotics. I look forward to a continuing close working relationship between the Sheriff's Office and the federal marshal's office." D'Alessio said.

Policeman shot in the line of duty

Officers McGinn and Manno signaled the vehicle to pull over, which they did, but Lister added that a truck was backing into a building further up the road so the suspects could not have fled at the time.

However, as McGinn and Manno approached the car, the truck backed up enough for the suspect's vehicle to pass and the suspect subsequently fled the scene while the policemen approached.

What followed next was a car chase that took the officers north on Belmont Avenue, then east on Franklin Street, north on North 6th Street in Newark, and into a private road behind Branch Brook Park.

It was in this area, Lister said, that the suspects hit an object and fled their car on foot. Officer Manno chased three of the suspects, collaring one, while Officer McGinn attempted to collar the driver, who was delayed when his pant leg got caught on the bumper of the police car.

Two shots fired

At this point, suspect Willie Pryor, 20, of Montgomery Street, Newark, fired two shots from a .32 calibre handgun directly at McGinn's head and neck area.

One of the shots apparently missed, but the other shot aimed directly at McGinn's face hit. What saved McGinn from more serious injury and possibly death was his forearm, which he used to protect his face by taking the bullet there.

When Officer Manno heard the shot, he let the suspect he had grabbed go free and ran back to assist his partner.

Lister explained that partner safety is the first priority, so it was normal procedure for Manno to let the suspect go free for the time being in order to respond to the gunfire.

Manno subsequently called for backup while all four suspects fled east into the Forest Hills section of Newark.

Police ring the area

What followed in the next few hours is an example of how serious policemen regard an incident which involves a shooting attack on a policeman.

According to Chief Lister, 10 on-duty Belleville policemen, 6 off-duty Belleville policemen, about 20 Newark police units and back-up by the Essex County Police Force all converged on the neighborhood in North Newark where the four suspects fled.

The result was a virtual sealing off of the area. Lister said, resulting in the arrest a short time later of shooting suspect Willie Pryor.

Pryor was discovered hiding in a Forest Hills porch with the alleged shooting weapon still in his possession.

Lister continued. "At this time police had reason to believe that the remaining suspects were hiding in a lumber yard in the area."

Irrigation K 9 Squad summoned

Police authorities then contacted the owner of the lumber yard, who came down and opened the business, and also contacted Irvington police for assistance with their K 9 squad of trail-sniffing German Shepherds.

By 5:30 a.m. just four hours after the incident, the massive manhunt which involved Belleville, Newark, Irvington and Essex County police resulted in the arrest of 3 suspects, the latter two being sniffed out by the dogs.

According to Newark police, the suspects arrested in the lumber yard are Norman Hill, 48, of McCarter Highway and a 17-year-old male juvenile, also from Newark.

The fourth suspect remained at large until the next day. Carlo Alemar, of McCarter Highway, Newark, was picked up by Newark police, and like the three suspects arrested earlier, was charged with aggravated assault.

Chief Lister praised the efforts of his force, as well as all outside police forces who assisted in the shooting incident.

Buc Shots

When the Belleville football team takes the field this Saturday afternoon at Paramus High, a familiar figure will not be on the Buccaneer sidelines.

As most people of our Township are now painfully aware, a good friend and class act was taken from us on September 15, 1986. Bill "Doc" Ellis, for reasons only a greater force than us will ever know, passed on last week leaving many sad friends and fans, who knew and admired him to ponder the question, "Why?"

Why at the young age of 47 did "Doc" leave our earth? Why did such a good person, a man who loved the youth of Belleville and did nothing but nurture them over 30 years, depart our earth? We'll never know, but this man is being fondly and lovingly remembered by those in town who knew him well.

Head football coach John Senesky, who always seems to put things into perspective, was hardpressed to find an answer to Doc's sudden passing, but Senesky did remember the great things that Doc did while serving the Buccaneer football team.

For those who weren't familiar with Doc's role in town, he was the Buccaneers' official trainer. He taped the players before each game and would be at the framing table after the game, taking that tape off and quite often listening to a high school player look back on the game, saying what he did wrong or basking in the glow of victory.

It was a shock to all of us, Senesky said. "Doc was someone who put the youth of Belleville way ahead of himself. He gave 35 years to the program. He has been associated with the program since he was in high school."

He taped me when I played for Belleville High (from 1961-64). Back then, we used to get dressed for games at Clearman Field and then take a bus to the stadium. Doc was always there, though. He was a part of the team.

It was just recently that the Belleville Board of Education voted to pay Bill "Doc" Ellis for his services as team trainer. "Within a year or two, I feel that the state will mandate that each team have a trainer," said Senesky. "It has become such a vital role."

More importantly, Doc Ellis did a lot more than take care of the players. He listened to them. He was a genuine part of the team. There isn't a Saturday on record when he wasn't on the Buccaneer sideline. Doc lent his support in a quiet way. He didn't say much, vocally, but you knew he was there and lending his support and love to the team.

There's that word, love, again. In talking to various coaches this past week, that word came up a lot. "I don't know what to say," a grieved Grace Worley said last weekend. "He was the best man at our husband Wayne and her wedding. He's been a friend of the family for 25 years. There hasn't been a Saturday night that I can remember when we didn't get together with him for dinner or something. He was such a big part of our family. He never forgot our daughter, Debbie. He would send her flowers on her birthday and was always there. He assumed a special role in our lives."

Worley also noted that Doc had become a good friend of her volleyball team.

"The girls would always get on his case," she laughed. "It was all in fun and they had a very nice rapport with Doc. I remember him saying that he would rather work with 50 boys than 15 girls. It was too much work."

Tennis coach Karen Pucello had known Doc for 20 years. "This is a tough one to talk about," she said. "This one really hits home. He always gave of himself to the kids. There's a saying that goes, 'touch the future, touch the youth.' He had a legacy with the kids. Doc was one of the nicest, unselfish individuals that I ever met in Belleville sports. I respected and admired him."

Joe Papasidero played football at Belleville High School from 1969-71. Eight years later, he returned to BHS as a varsity basketball coach, assuming that role from 1979-84. He knew Doc from both sides of the coin.

As a player, I can remember him taping my ankles (before a game). Papasidero recalled. "When I came back as a coach, he was always there for my basketball players. I ever needed a special taping job for one of my players, I knew I could call him and he'd be there, no questions asked. Doc was just a phone call away. Doc was always there for you. I'm going to miss him. He was a special guy."

Shock waves have hit everyone who knew Bill Ellis this past week. I received calls at my job from former Belleville athletes, who couldn't believe the news. They wanted to know if it could possibly be true. Unfortunately, the answer was yes.

But wait a minute. Doc Ellis was a man who enjoyed life. He wouldn't want the people of Belleville to be sad. He would want them to remember the special things he did for Belleville sports and the good times and good memories he provided for those who were associated with him.

There's something else that has to be done for this man, Senesky said. "He just meant so much to the program. We've had many great players here throughout the years, but only one person has been at the games all those years."

To the Bill "Doc" Ellis will be remembered as the man with the white pants, Belleville football jacket and the scissors to cut the tape after the game. I'll remember him as the first man on the field when a player was injured. I'll remember him standing on the sidelines game by game, no matter what the score was. Because, you see, the score didn't matter. The love for the players and the pride in his town kept Doc Ellis coming back game after game.

When the season starts on Saturday, he won't be there, physically. But you can bet he'll be there in another way, and when that first touchdown is scored, or that first quarterback sack is registered, there will be a special smile of satisfaction coming from a special man.

On a personal note, to a man I respected and admired for ten years, Goodbye Doc. Rest well. And, thanks for all the memories.

Varsity takes Livingston in pre-season

Bucs ready for Paramus

The exhibitions are over. After five weeks of practice and four pre-season games, the Belleville football team will hit the gridiron for the real thing this Saturday, battling Paramus High School in its season opener at Paramus. Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. in this first ever battle between the Bucs and Paramus.

Belleville completed its pre-season with a very impressive performance against Livingston. The Bucs tallied four touchdowns to the Lancers' one and head coach John Senesky was pleased with the final tuneup.

"We did well," Senesky said. "Livingston has a good team and it was a good test for us before the season opener. Livingston has the basically the same type of team that we'll see in Paramus. Both teams have a good quarterback and excellent receivers."

Although Senesky was happy with the final pre-season game, he noted that a good pre-season is not indicative of a good regular season.

The game featured an outstanding performance by senior running back Jim Dunphy. He scored three touchdowns and according to his coach, played "an outstanding game."

Senesky is hoping to add depth to his ballclub.

"We want as little players as possible playing both ways," he said. "We would like to have separate squads for offense and defense. The team has a lot of seniors this year and we would like to see them get as much playing time as possible."

The Bucs of 1985 were loaded with experience. The Bucs of '86 will be just the opposite. The young players of 1986 have returned in excellent condition and the experience of varsity ball last year has put the players in a good frame of mind.

Senesky was undecided as to his starting lineup last weekend, but there are some good candidates battling for the starting positions.

On offense, the linemen battling for positions are Steve Reilly, Nick Cardillo, John Magi and Jon-Paul Benecuk at guard. The tackles are Gerard Forbo, Pat Kimble, Dominick Tucci and Paul Gleason. The center position is being contested by Carmine Taccuto and Dawson Bloom.

At split end, Jaime Gialoto, Al Best, Mike Di Biasi, Doug Carroll and Joe Angelo will see time. John Nardichone and Vincent Vullero are vying for the tight end spot.

The Buccaneer backfield is in very good shape. Dan Senesky and Jeff Spilbury are vying for the quarterback position. John View and Frank Montagna will see time at fullback. At halfback, Jay Marchese, Dunphy, Lou Lucante and Craig Jackowski have been working.

On defense, Marc Crescone, Lucullo and Andre Graham will be gearing for the nose guard slot. The tackles are Lenezuk Dave McNeill, Tucci and Reilly. Corbo and Gleason are vying for the defensive end slots.

The linebacking corps will be strong. Magi, Jackowski, Montagna, Bloom, Lucante and Vullero are going for the four available positions. In the defensive backfield, Joe Delle Monace and Spilbury are working in the halfback spot. Dunphy and Gialoto are at safety and Marchese and Di Biasi should see action at corner back. The tough tight back position is being contested by Best, P.J. Grande and Joe Durning.

The hitting has been good in the scrimmages," Senesky said.

We played four scrimmages against five teams and the work really helped the team. The offensive line has done a fine job and, luckily, we have no injuries to report.

The reports are certainly promising. Now, the real test will come on Saturday afternoon, when the 1986 season officially kicks off for Belleville High. It should be a good test for the Buccaneers, but the team will have little time to think about the game. The following Thursday, October 2, the Bucs will host Ridgewood in a rare weekday game, starting at 7:30 p.m.

NOTES: Big upset in the NN-JH last Saturday as Bergen Catholic defeated Montclair, 14-6. Nonetheless, Senesky is aware that Montclair is its usual explosive self and will be hard to beat. The Mounties are usually slow starters anyway. In 1984, it was blown out of an early season game by Ridgewood, 27-3, then got itself together and advanced to the Group IV, Section II final where it lost to Union, 34-13. Team was stunned by the loss of a good friend, Bill "Doc" Ellis, who died suddenly on September 15. There's more on this popular man in this weeks Bucs Shots.

Bucs volleyball loses to Paramus, 10-15, 5-15

The Belleville volleyball team lost its opening match of the 1986 season, bowing to a tough Paramus squad, 10-15, 5-15 last Friday.

Grace Worley's Wizards will face a busy week of action. The girls battled Clifton and Bloomfield earlier this week. This afternoon, the team will host Benedictine Academy, and tomorrow, will be in Paterson to face Eastside. Next Monday, the girls will host powerful Ridgewood and next Tuesday play host to Immaculate Heart.

"I was sort of pleased with the result," Worley said. "Last weekend, we played a good first game. Our offense and defense were good. We let a few easy ones drop through. They (Paramus) had a good hitter, but we gave up some easy points."

In the second game, we didn't do anything right. It seemed like we gave up. When you're playing a team with an edge to begin with, you can't give that team an additional edge. We have to be strong and not make those early mistakes that put us behind."

Worley was happy with the performance of Christine Mohr and Simone Edwards at the net. Mellillo, a senior, is a fine athlete with good leaping ability. Edwards, only a sophomore but already a leading player, can also pump well and has excellent potential.

Carolyn Guaffrida did a nice job as a blocker and hitter. Quynh Mar played an important role for the team as a hitter.

Trish Tramitola excelled in hitting and setting while Kathy Eng was strong in setting. Renee Paterno, as usual, was excellent on the backline.

We've been working with six or seven girls and they've looked pretty good," Worley said. "We have a varied attack. We're using the girls in different positions and it should work well."

On the junior varsity, Trisha Donnelly, Michele Compilano and Laurie Dondarski have excelled. Worley feels that some of those girls can move up to the varsity as the season continues. With such a busy schedule (the girls had 24 matches slated for this year), there should be plenty of time for the younger players to crack the starting lineup.

Bucs tennis team drops first meets

The Belleville tennis team dropped two matches last week, then rallied to win its first, beating Eastside, 5-0. The victory boosted its record to 1-3 on the young season.

The girls faced a busy and difficult week. Yesterday, it battled state powerhouse Ridgewood. This afternoon, the girls will compete in the rugged Essex County tournament and tomorrow, will travel to Montclair to face another state power. Next Monday, the girls host Passaic and next Wednesday, hit the road for Nutley. All matches are set for 4 p.m.

Last week, the team lost to Clifton, 4-1 and Bloomfield, 5-0 before rallying to shutout Eastside. Head coach Karen Fucello was pleased with her team's performance, but noted the girls are making some unforced errors.

We have to cut back on those—the coach said—"We're hitting the ball well, but we have to be a little more consistent."

In the win over Eastside, Janet Reiman won at first singles, by scores of 6-4, 6-0. Darleen Juliano posted a straight set victory, by scores of 6-1, 6-0. Renee Juliano did even better, sweeping by her opponent by scores of 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles play, Lori Tirrell and Sara Mellinger were victors by scores of 6-2, 6-2. In second singles, Maria Chanley and Maushumi Parekh posted a 6-1, 6-4 win.

In the loss to Clifton, Darleen Juliano was a winner for Belleville, beating her opponent 7-6 (7-1), 7-6 (7-4), in two tie breakers. It was a good performance for the sophomore.

Senior Janet Reiman lost a difficult match at first singles, 0-6, 6-3, 6-7 (4-7). In the third set, Reiman had a 5-1 lead, however her opponent rallied and won in a tie breaker.

"That was a tough match for Janet," Fucello said. "She played very well."

Fucello's team faced a very difficult week. Ridgewood is regarded as one of the states best teams—Montclair is a county and conference power and the Essex County tournament is always a tough outing. Certainly, the experience of playing these good teams should put the girls in good stead as the season progresses.

Numbers a problem for BHS soccer squad

By Chris Lawlor

If Belleville High School soccer coach Tony DeAquino ever had a full squad—oh what he might do with it.

Over the past few seasons the Buccaneers have been plagued with a numbers problem. That problem seems to stem from ineligible players, transfers and disenfranchised players. Well, back here in 1986, the Buc booters have yet to score a goal through their first two contests, but DeAquino feels he has a player who will break the scoring drought.

Last season Keith Woods was the smooth but fancy footed assist man in the Buc scheme of things. This year he looms as one of the most potent footers in Essex County and the NJHL. Yet Woods is surrounded with inexperience and this has been a problem for the Bucs.

Keith is the guy who has to take charge. When we take him off the offensive end of the field, we lose something, the same happens on defense," said DeAquino. At this point Woods has been a rover, wandering wherever the ball is. He has a nose for the play and DeAquino feels that his prize player will play "central-mid-fielder."

"I try to slip him out on offense as much as possible, he's a class athlete and we're going to have to get him the ball more," he said.

One player who might be able to help him out is junior winger Oscar Valeria. "He really didn't impress me last year but when practice started this year I noticed that he improved his game. I'm looking forward to his play," said DeAquino.

The Bucs opened their season with a pair of home games at Nutley. First, they tied Paramus 0-0 on Sept. 19 and then lost to Clifton 2-0 three days later. In both instances the Bucs ran up against good defensive clubs and played fine defense in their own right.

Recording the shutout against the Spartans was senior netminder Chris Goldrick. In the process he faced 13 shots and was forced to save 10 of them. Meanwhile, the Bucs peppered Paramus goalie Mike Zaccaro for 18 but were unable to find the mark.

"They [Paramus] were a much bigger team than us," said DeAquino. "They were aggressive and reminded me a lot of my team from 1983."

Playing a fine defensive game in both contests have been regulars Roger Real at sweeper back and junior stopper Gus Ligo. DeAquino feels that Ligo could become the next great player to don the blue and gold.

BHS gymnasts are impressive despite loss

Despite losing its opener to a very talented team from Clark, the Belleville gymnastics team put on quite an impressive show last Friday afternoon.

The girls battled Linden at home yesterday. Tomorrow, the team will host Ridgewood, at 4 p.m. and next Tuesday, will be in Hackensack, also at 4 p.m.

For the record, Clark posted a 94.277.9 win over the Lady Buccaneers gymnasts, but the team received some good news and head coach Ray Iannuzzi was very happy with the performance of his youngsters who saw their first varsity match.

The good news was the return of Kelli Glunk to the Belleville lineup. Glunk, who advanced to the state finals for the team in 1985, did not come out for the squad when school started in early September, but she returned last week and got a chance to compete in the match with Clark.

"I was very happy to get Kelli back," Iannuzzi said. "She was a big part of last season's team. She, along with some of our other talented girls should give us a very good squad this year."

Iannuzzi noted that despite his team's loss to Clark, Belleville improved quite a bit from last year's opening match.

We opened with Clark in 1985 on September 20," Iannuzzi said. "In that match, we lost 82.428.95. So you can see we improved our score by 18 points. The problem was, they also improved tremendously. Clark, as expected, is a very good team."

In the vaulting exercise, Glunk was second for Belleville, with a score of 9.05. Clark placed first and third in the event. Freshman Nicole Zaina, who competed in all four events, did a nice job in the vaulting, with a score of 8.8. Another freshman, Nicole Puciarelli, had a 5.5 in the exercise.

In the uneven parallel bars, Clark took first and second and Glunk placed third for the Bucs, with a score of 7.55.

In the balance beam, Glunk placed third for Belleville with a score of 7.0. Danielle Lyman did a good job in the balance beam, just missing the top three with a score of 6.7.

In the floor exercise, Joell Veltre, who advanced to the state sectionals as a freshman last season, finished third with a score of 7.9. Zaina, scored a 6.85 in the floor exercise.

All told, it wasn't a bad opener for the team. The girls should continue to improve as the season progresses and it certainly looks good for a second straight winning season in Belleville gymnastics.

NOTES: Veltre competed in three events against Clark. Puciarelli also competed in three. Iannuzzi is expecting a tough match with Ridgewood tomorrow afternoon. Last season, the girls lost to Ridgewood, but it was a close match and it put the team on the positive track for the remainder of the 85 campaign.

Planning for college?

September is generally the time that high school seniors are planning to apply to colleges. If you are a senior who needs help, the Belleville Public Library has several important reference books that can assist you. "Peterson's Guide to Four Year Colleges 1986" is a detailed profile of over 1,900 colleges, covering admission, aid, student-body, athletics, college life, 446 majors, college cost, and entrance difficulty directory, while "Barron's Profiles of American Colleges" contains descriptive data of schools in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico, with an important admission and selectivity ranking.

Going to College in NJ: A Guide to Undergraduate Opportunity provides a good overview of NJ colleges, curriculums, and admission officers' telephone numbers. Other helpful references include "Selective Guide to Colleges" by Edward B. Fiske, a directory of colleges you are most likely to consider with data drawn from a questionnaire formulated by the students, counselors, and admission directors, and "Insider's Guide to the Colleges" by the Yale Daily News, a guide using student input, matching one's personality to the personality of the school.

The Library also has college references that circulate. For further questions, call the Library's information desk at 759-9200.

quipped under subsection a of this Section. A developer shall be required to establish with the Township an escrow account prior to the issuance of any permits to cover the costs and expenses of inspections and supervision of improvements installed in connection with the proposed plans and/or subdivision application.

2. Escrow monies, when determined:

a. The escrow accounts to be established under Section 1 and 1b, above, shall be paid and determined as follows:

i. The zoning officer shall refer the development application, together with all maps and/or reports, if any, to the Township Engineer, the Construction Official, the approving authority, attorney, and the professional engineer, architect, and/or other approved authority.

ii. Within fourteen (14) days after receipt of the professional's report, the Township Engineer shall submit an estimate of the funds necessary to pay for the cost of the cost of review reports and other services they deem will be necessary in connection with the application.

iii. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

iv. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

v. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

vi. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate. The Township Engineer shall be required to submit a report to the Township Engineer, the Construction Official, the approving authority, attorney, and the professional engineer, architect, and/or other approved authority.

vii. No application for development shall be considered complete until the Township Engineer has given final approval and the amount of the application fee has been deposited with the Township of Belleville, New Jersey.

viii. The escrow monies to be established under Section 1, above, shall be paid and determined as follows:

i. The amount of such escrow shall be 5% of the total estimated cost of improvements which shall be supplied by the applicant and be subject to review and approval by the Township Engineer.

ii. The inspection of improvements may be conducted by the Township Engineer, Engineering Inspector, or other approved authority.

iii. Upon notice, the Township Engineer shall submit an estimate of the funds necessary to pay for the cost of the cost of review reports and other services they deem will be necessary in connection with the application.

iv. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

v. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

vi. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

vii. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate. The Township Engineer shall be required to submit a report to the Township Engineer, the Construction Official, the approving authority, attorney, and the professional engineer, architect, and/or other approved authority.

viii. No application for development shall be considered complete until the Township Engineer has given final approval and the amount of the application fee has been deposited with the Township of Belleville, New Jersey.

segregated from other escrow accounts, as established hereunder, but may be merged and used for any other purpose.

(V) After all inspections have been made, the Township Engineer, the Construction Official, if applicable, shall submit to the approving authority a detailed statement of services rendered and the cost of value thereof.

(VI) The approving authority shall review these statements and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

(VII) The Township Engineer shall submit an estimate of the funds necessary to pay for the cost of the cost of review reports and other services they deem will be necessary in connection with the application.

(VIII) Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

(IX) Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

(X) The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

(XI) The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

(XII) Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

AN ORDINANCE REQUIRING APPLICATIONS FOR DEVELOPMENT AND DEVELOPERS TO ESTABLISH DEPOSITS OF MONEY IN ESCROW FOR THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE TO COVER COSTS AND EXPENSES INCURRED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY.

Section 1. Escrow monies, when required in addition to required application fees, an applicant for development to be approved by the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Belleville, New Jersey, shall be required to establish a deposit of money in escrow for the Township of Belleville, New Jersey, to cover the costs and expenses of inspections and supervision of improvements installed in connection with the proposed plans and/or subdivision application.

Section 2. Escrow monies, when determined:

a. The escrow accounts to be established under Section 1 and 1b, above, shall be paid and determined as follows:

i. The zoning officer shall refer the development application, together with all maps and/or reports, if any, to the Township Engineer, the Construction Official, the approving authority, attorney, and the professional engineer, architect, and/or other approved authority.

ii. Within fourteen (14) days after receipt of the professional's report, the Township Engineer shall submit an estimate of the funds necessary to pay for the cost of the cost of review reports and other services they deem will be necessary in connection with the application.

iii. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

iv. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

v. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

vi. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

vii. The Township Engineer shall submit an estimate of the funds necessary to pay for the cost of the cost of review reports and other services they deem will be necessary in connection with the application.

viii. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

ix. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

x. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

xi. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

xii. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

xiii. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

xiv. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

xv. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

xvi. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

xvii. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

xviii. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

xix. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.

xx. Upon receipt of such estimate, the approving authority shall determine the funds that shall be required and necessary to pay for and/or defray the cost of all professional fee anticipated services to be rendered in connection with the application.

xxi. Upon notice, the applicant shall "cash" the required funds with the Township, which shall be deposited in the Township Engineer's account.

xxii. The funds so deposited shall be treated as escrow monies and shall be used for the purposes of the application.

xxiii. The approving authority shall review these estimates and approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the amount to be paid for and/or defray the cost of the Township Engineer's estimate.
