Municipal building debate targets Planning Board role

By Christopher Bifani

Proposed municipal construction in Belleville has been debated often bitterly in recent months.

First, the need was debated. A $10 million municipal complex put forth in February was reluctantly attacked at board meetings. Times letters, and in a town-wide questionnaire sent out by the Times last April. Township residents, activists, and finally the Board of Commissioners ultimately reached a consensus that the primary need was for a police station, public safety building only.

Next, the cost was debated. The $5 million price tag was too high in the view of the many citizens and activists, some who pointed to a 1983 plan— simpler in design—which estimated a cost of $1.8 million for a building that was also 24,000 square feet.

The cost is still being debated, and that debate is expected to continue right up until the still unfinished plans go out to bid some time next year.

Through it all, legalities have been debated. The Concerned Citizens of Belleville have repeatedly charged that the ordinance which amended the original $10 million project to only a $5 million project is not legal. Ordinances cannot be amended by a resolution, as the board did in July, they say.

An ordinance must be amended by another ordinance, so that citizens can, if they choose, petition for a referendum on the issue.

Role of Planning Board debated. The most recent focal point for debate in the embattled municipal construction project has been the role of the Belleville Planning Board.

What power, if any, does the Planning Board have over the planning of the project?

"They are to review and make recommendations," Township attorney Frank Cozzarelli told the Times. "They do not have veto power. They have the right to make non-binding recommendations."

The attorney said further that "The Board of Commissioners has ultimate authority and ultimate power over the scope of this project. The Planning Board does not."

And what does that power include?

"The choice of an architect, the style of the building, the size of the building, its needs and functions—the cost of the building—its budget," Cozzarelli replied.

When the original $10 million project never arrived at the Planning Board for their review and recommendation, the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, led by group president Vincent Frantantonio, charged repeatedly that this too was a violation of law.

According to a New Jersey State Statute, any project which falls under the master plan of a municipality must come before the planning board.

And although there is agreement among virtually all parties that the public safety project and ill-fated Municipal Complex project fall under the scope of a township master plan, the $10 million plan side-stepped a Planning Board review, and the $5 million plan, which did get sent to the Planning Board, arrived after

School board picks Rotino to replace board secretary

By Christopher Bifani

There was a new face at the board of education's table during their meeting at School 8 October 27.

His name is Augustino Rotino and he's scheduled to replace Edward Appleton, who resigned from his position as of October 22. The board, announced "with regret" Appleton's resignation at the Monday meet. Joseph Miele has been filling in during the two week interim until Rotino takes over.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello is enthusiastic about welcoming this newest member of the district's administration to the fold.

"I think he's a very capable individual. He knows budgeting extremely well. He also knows investments. The board does not spend all the money it allocates right away. The money is often invested in short term securities, certificates of deposit and the like to generate interest," he said.

Nardiello added that when

Rotino was the business administrator (the position is also known as board secretary) for the Lyndhurst school system, "he earned over $100,000 for the system through investments."

Previous experience.

The superintendent said that Rotino left Lyndhurst school system to take the same position at the Englewood Cliffs school system in Bergen County. Although he got more money for that move, Nardiello contends

Absences cause delays

Zoning board will hold special session Nov. 10

The Zoning Board voted to hold a special session on Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m., in the hope that enough members will be on hand to permit action on several pending applications.

Wednesday's special meeting drew five of the seven regular members and two alternates.

Since state law requires that a use variance be supported by at least five regular board member votes, none of the applicants chose to take the risk of seeking an unanimous vote.

Michael Casale, attorney for Hudson Heating Co., which wants to renovate its plant at 437 Cortland St. to light industry use, told the board, "We don't want to take the chance of getting five votes out of five."

He complained, "These delays are threatening the private. Tenants are losing interest. We started in 100 degree temperature, and we are going to finish in 10 degrees."

Casale, a Bloomfield lawyer and councilman, said that his firm had spent $900 on transcripts of hearings, kept expert witnesses at various meetings, and had been attending board meetings in August, September and October, without being able to complete the hearing. "We just can't wait until Dec. 2, the next regular scheduled meeting. Put yourselves in the place of the applicant."

The board members searched their calendars and came up with Nov. 10 as a good date. All the applicants present agreed to adjourn their cases to Nov. 10. One applicant, Dominic Guarnaccia, who wants to get approval of two four room apartments and the renovation of an auto repair garage at 19 No. 7th Street, had agreed to a Dec. 2 appearance, and left the meeting before the decision to have the Nov. 10 special session was announced.

Those due to appear at the Nov. 10 hearing include Modern Times Realty, which seeks approval of a 12 unit apartment building at Mill and Harrison Streets, and Power Electric Co., seeking a second story addition to its building at 10-22 North 7th St.

Present at the meeting were Chairperson Ray Saulino, Arthur Pellecchio, John Kelly, Alois Schmitt and Larry Cuomo.

Absent were William Cameron, Kenneth Nash, Frank Santisieri and Thomas Mack.

Testa urges speedy settlement

Teachers support custodians

By Christopher Bifani

Protesting custodians, maintenance workers, cafeteria employees and bus drivers received a strong show of support at Monday's Board of Education meeting when Belleville Teachers Association President Thomas Testa took the podium "respectfully urging" a fair settlement to the contractual stalemate between the school board and the district's blue collar workers.

"The Belleville teachers feel the custodians play a prominent role in the education of our children," Testa told the board in explaining the reason for his group's support of the Belleville Custodians and Maintenance Workers Association, who have been working without a contract for four months.

According to both board and union officials, negotiations actually began weeks before the workers contract expired June 30. However, no contract agreement occurred to end the deal.

The dispute was mutually agreed upon July 15, and a state mediator was called in to hammer out a settlement. The initial media session took place September 17 at the Board of Education offices on Cortland Street. That session proved to be fruitless, with the only developments being an agreement to meet again October 29 and a presentation of both sides' positions for the mediator to consider.

James Karmalegos, a member and spokesman for the union described initial negotiating sessions as being less than cordial.

"We were asking them to be fair and they tore up the contract we proposed right in front of our face," Karmalegos told the Times. "That's when we went into arbitration."

Karmalegos delivers speech. "For the last months we have been working without a contract, and at the same time we have alerted the public to our situation," Karmalegos said during the public hearing portion of the October 27 school board meet.

"If we have caused the public any inconvenience, we're sorry," he said.

Karmalegos, speaking on behalf of his union and union President

Morris Reina, went on to say that the board of education has abused the union in its negotiating procedure, holding fast as the union tries to reach a fair settlement.

The position of the union, according to Karmalegos, is that the union has avoided striking to effect a settlement because they "care about the kids," but he emphasized in his speech that "we are prepared to take any necessary measures."

Later, Karmalegos thanked teachers, students and the media for what he says has been a measure of support.

With the next mediation session scheduled for this past Wednesday, both sides entered the past week hopeful for a conclusion of the labor strife.

In past interviews with the Times, Belleville Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello said he was willing to work through the night to achieve a settlement. Union representatives have been this far positive sign.

However, Nardiello chose not to comment on Karmalegos' speech to the board—holding fast to his position of "confidentiality of negotiations" until a settlement is actually reached.

Further developments on the Belleville Custodians and Maintenance Workers Association contract will be reported in the next Belleville Times.

Belleville teen wins $20,000 in New Jersey Radio contest

Tina Montalbano, 17, of Belleville is a persistent person, and the trait helped her win $20,000 last week.

"Every morning," her grand father, Fred Montalbano, said, "She would listen to this radio station at 7:30, while she was getting ready to go to school."

As part of its "Incredible Free Money Birthday Contest," Newark and Secaucus based WHIZ-FM, popularly called Z-100, gives away prizes to the first caller with the announced birthdate.

The big money is given away Thursday mornings at 7:30 and last Thursday's prize of $20,000 would go to the first caller who could confirm a birthdate of, as the radio voice said, "One, eight."

Tina was born on Jan. 8, 1969 and the world changed abruptly for the Montalbano family.

Her grandfather, who is a veteran Essex County employee, taped the ensuing conversation with Z-100 air personality Scott Shannon, in which Tina confirmed that she was indeed born on that date, attends Belleville High School—where she is a senior—had a best friend named Lisa Bruce, and then had her mother confirm what she had confirmed.

"Is it okay to send a limousine over to your house with the check?" Shannon asked.

As it turned out, Lisa and her family went to the station in Secaucus to present her birth certificate, and the check was promised through other channels.

Tina, a slender brunette, is normally a quiet spoken type. But that morning, she tore through the house shouting, "I won! I won!"

She spread the word at school, where many had already heard the good news. Z-100 has its fans among the young, as well as among the householders.

Fred Montalbano is a carpenter, locksmith at the Essex County Courthouse. Tina's father, Carmelo, is a guard at the Caldwell

Twenty stores are planned

New mall south of the border may prove a mixed blessing

In nine months the retailers of southern Washington Avenue will have some new neighbors on the Newark side of the line — the tenants of a medium sized retail mall.

The development is seen as a mixed blessing by members of the Belleville retail community, since the mall is one way to check the spread of blight while at the same time increasing competition.

The Broadway Mall, a 20 store project that will be built at Washington Avenue and Grafton Street, Newark, has been approved by the Newark Planning Board.

Ground breaking for the project is scheduled for some time in February or March, with a target completion date in August 1987.

Schlott Realtors is the exclusive renting agent.

Plans call for the construction of a one-story building, with 40 parking spaces, plus on street parking. Each unit will have 500 square feet.

The owner of the property is Roberto Przetnorka Weisz of New York City.

Prospective tenants include a drug store, a dry cleaner and retailers. Emma Cubillos, sales associate for Schlott, will be in charge of rentals.

Ed Plaskon of Clifton, a sales associate for Schlott, put the deal together.

BHS seniors 'resuscitate'

Belleville High School seniors learned a little first aid last week.

On October 22, Marie Marinelli, the staff development coordinator for the nursing department at Chira Maas Hospital visited Ms. Meola's senior health class. The lecture and demonstration focused on Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation and the Heimlich maneuver. Marinelli explained each rescue method and then had the students attempt the methods on their own.

The class demonstrated the major steps to follow in order to save a choking victim:

1. If the victim cannot breathe, speak or cough, give 4 quick back blows.
2. If unsuccessful, give 4 upward abdominal thrusts with arms around the choking victim from behind.

They performed this method on each other which recently saved the lives of Mayor Ed Koch of New York City and Dr. Frank Fields of CBS.

The CPR lesson was much more technical with the students utilizing "Resusc-A-Ne" for the demonstration. The students were informed of the basic steps of CPR.

1. Place victim flat on his back on a hard surface, if unconscious open airway.

2. If not breathing, begin artificial circulation.

Paul Santinelli was one of the first volunteers to perform the CPR demonstration. Afterward he said "I really enjoyed the class. Now maybe I can perform a rescue method if I have to!"

It's an uphill fight for Zampino

By Pat de Perla

If an uphill battle results in victory November 4, a Bellevillite will be a congressional representative for the first time ever.

Thomas Zampino is the Republican Party candidate for the United States Congress in the 8th District.

Zampino, 38, has resided in Belleville for 16 years and is a partner in the Nutley law firm of Jackson and Zampino.

Zampino attended Scion Hall Law School while a teacher at Memorial High School in West New York, where he grew up. Zampino said he decided to go to law school because he wanted to be a teacher but didn't want to teach forever.

"I wanted to continue my education and then the opportunity came up for me to go for law school," said Zampino.

Zampino still keeps his hand in education. He teaches the final law course which is part of the skills course required of all law school graduates before they are admitted to practice. He visits the Political Science Club in Belleville High School as part of his campaigning because they were interested in law in a Congressional campaign works.

Concerned about drug awareness

Zampino says the portion of education that is important to the federal government is drug awareness.

"It's aimed at the young groups. You need to go into the fourth and fifth grades. The goal is to get the kids to say no. The drug education program should be in the high schools. It is necessary for the community not to treat the kids as criminals but to deal with the problems as they go along. The Federal Government should mandate a program to be adopted," said Zampino.

Says Roe caters to special interests

Zampino charged opponent Bob Roe with aiming legislation at special interest groups. Zampino cites the Tunnel Basin Plan proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers which Roe supports and which will build a 13 mile tunnel into Nutley and Belleville to prevent flooding in Wayne. The tunnel, comparable to the Lincoln Tunnel, will be 40 feet in diameter with dykes 30 feet high, and will prevent any view of the Passaic River. In addition, it will take 10 to 20 years to build, at an estimated cost of $1 billion with an annual maintenance cost of $20 million which the unaffected communities will have to share.

As alternatives, Zampino proposed buying the properties along the Passaic River, which never should have been built, dredging the river or building a reservoir system which would catch water and contain it in case of a drought.

Zampino charged, Roe with helping the water purveyors, those companies who sell water.

For 18 years, Roe's done nothing. Two people died in 1984 in the flood. This solution doesn't look into the long term effects. You don't help people by hurting them. Those homes could have been purchased," said Zampino.

Zampino charges that Roe, if he loses, or resigns, can keep the $250,000 in campaign money he got from corporations, and that by accepting contributions it makes him more responsive to the people who generate his election.

"It creates a conflict and he takes it every election," said Zampino.

Zampino said he is spending $15,000, $20,000 on his campaign and he is relying on individual contributions.

"It's a local community campaign. There are no mailings, no radio spots. Without the exposure, it is difficult to get people to listen. We are doing everything to win the election. Win or lose, we do our best. That's the obligation," said Zampino.

In Essex County Zampino is coattailing County Executive candidate Nicholas Amato and Surrogate candidate Earl Harris at events in the five Essex County communities in the 8th District.

As a result of working on the Governor's reelection campaign in 1985, Zampino was considered as a candidate for the United States Congress seat. He was the Republican Party's candidate in the June primary in which he won against Ron Ruise.

"Governor Kean asked voters to give him a Republican Assembly which brought about civil service reform and insurance reform. President Reagan wants a Republican Congress. The Democratic house votes against him. The Republican Senate brought about tax reform. The Democratic house increased the national deficit to $2.3 trillion, $154 billion this year. We can't just borrow and spend. The government can't live that way. By 1990, the national deficit will be $3 trillion at Zampino claimed another example of how Bob Roe is not working in the interests of his constituents, and how Zampino is, Belleville wanted to put in senior citizen housing, and Zampino called the Assistant Secretary of Housing to give a recommendation.

"Bob Roe never called or did anything," Zampino charged.

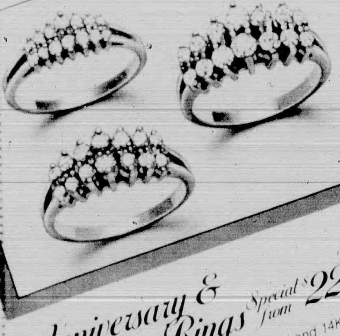

The shirt off my back — Despite encouragement and support from popular GOP Governor Tom Kean, Republican Congressional contender Thomas Zampino is an underdog in his bid to unseat incumbent Robert Roe

Letters to the Editor

Endorses Shapiro...

To the editor:

Policemen's Benevolent Association Local No. 157 has announced their endorsement of the candidacy of incumbent Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro in the November 4th election. As president of the 250 member local which represents Correction Officers at the Essex County Jail Annex in Caldwell, I cite several reasons why Peter Shapiro has earned our continued support. Additional officers have been and continue to be hired, a civil service exam exclusively for Essex County residents has been announced and long-awaited promotions have been made. New safety and security equipment is being provided, and we've entered the Computer Age.

The Shapiro Administration has demonstrated continued interest in developing procedures to alleviate the well publicized overcrowded conditions at the Jail Annex. The dramatic increase in the prisoner population occurred much more sudden than anyone anticipated. Mandatory sentencing laws and excellent enforcement of the law by local police departments in Essex County are priorities which residents desired. Now that these goals have been achieved, a facility to safely house large amounts of criminals is required.

It's ironic that most of the criticism concerning Peter's handling of the situation is from sources that have never before exhibited interest to even take a first hand look. Peter himself, his staff and advisors have been at the Jail Annex on a daily basis for several months now. Historically, in situations such as these, the "powers that were" in Essex would take a "whatever looks good on paper" approach to difficult situations and haphazardly address from afar. Peter's administration advocates hands-on management philosophy. This approach, coupled with reliance on input from those of us with expertise in the field, and genuine concern for the best interests of the residents of the surrounding community has instilled a spirit of cooperative integrity.

The Essex County Jail Annex has become a very real and integral part of the West Essex community. We are not in the Dark Ages any longer. With the continued efforts of Peter's administration we look for the renaissance to continue. We've been here for over a hundred years, with the prisoner population at its current level, the Jail Annex would have been a nightmare for everyone. Without Peter's compassion and concern for the overall aspects we may yet live that nightmare. With him at the helm we have a good chance at continued smooth sailing.

Louis Guardabascio, President
PBA Local 157

Endorses Amato...

To the editor:

Back in 1978, an affable, well-spoken young man ran for Essex County Executive promising that he would abolish old style political bossism and stop wastefulness in county government.

His name was Peter Shapiro.
But sadly, in just a few short years Mr. Shapiro turned into the type of politician that we voted to get rid of in the first place. Punishing opponents and unfairly attacking the Board of Freeholders for his own mistakes.

And now homeowners must bear the burden for the big deficits under his leadership with huge property tax rises. Eight disappointing years of Mr. Shapiro have shown that it's time for a change.

Judge Nicholas Amato has the experience and integrity to do the job for his native Belleville and for all of Essex County.

Edith Boydton

Teacher pushed my kid...

To the editor:

Don't let this happen to you.
As the parent of a student in the Belleville school system, I would like to know how and why a teacher feels he is justified in pushing a student into a wall. This happened in the high school.

As I confronted the teacher on this situation, he felt that he had every right to push this student. A teacher that does this should not be allowed to teach on our school system, and should be forced to resign.

I have requested that this matter be discussed by the Board of Education for a decision, and I urge the Board to ask this teacher for his resignation. If their decision is not satisfactory to me, then I will take whatever steps are necessary myself.

I urge any parent to pursue this further if this happens to their son or daughter.

Say goodbye to revenue sharing

As Belleville taxpayers, like those of other Essex County communities, groan under the steep local tax increases that have been brought down upon them; they now must prepare to absorb further additional tax hikes on the local level as a result of Reagan administration policies which have produced the elimination of revenue sharing, which this year provided $126 million to New Jersey cities and counties.

Golden Comments

James R. Golden

The elimination of revenue sharing constitutes the most severe and surely the most symbolic sign of President Reagan's desire to wean local governments from federal monies.

The harsh action will now cause local and county governments to scrounge and scramble to cope with the loss of these much needed federal dollars. The executive director of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, Jack Trafford, has said the loss of the aid will cause great concern and uncertainty among local officials in New Jersey.

He said, "We are now can-vassing our state-wide municipal membership to see whether they will respond by curtailing services and absorbing the loss of whether they will go to the property tax payers and ask for more money."

Saying his organization believes the only realistic answer is for the Legislature in Trenton to provide new funding for municipal and county governments to make up for the loss of the federal funds, he stated, "Nothing but a legislative response will resolve our problems."

The executive director of the New Jersey Association of Counties in Trenton, agreed the Legislature will have to step in and take up where Congress has left off. He, Mr. Gus Millard said, "A statewide solution must be found, a massive property tax increase to recoup these funds would be imprudent."

Revenue sharing was enacted 14 years ago during the Nixon Administration and was the only federal aid program for localities that came with no strings attached.

"While other federal programs are allotted for specific purposes, such as transportation or community development, revenue sharing has been doled out in unrestricted grants."

New Jersey municipalities, much like Belleville, have used the revenue sharing money for everything from salaries for policemen and firemen to road maintenance, library services and hot lunches for the elderly. Likewise, counties have used the funds for human services, corrections, bridge repairs and a variety of other county activities.

Revenue sharing was originally designed as a program for large cities that had suffered from riots and which had lost much of their tax base with the flight of industry and the middle class.

In recent years the political battle for federal dollars has heated up, the program's funding formula has changed to include money for a wide spectrum of localities.

While the program has been popular with local and county officials as well as their Congressional representatives, budget pressures made revenue sharing a prime target.

President Reagan this year called for its elimination; and the budget reductions mandated under the Gramm Rudman Hollings bill sealed its fate despite an intensive lobbying effort from local and county organizations.

We feel that if President Reagan gave more compassionate consideration to the strained plight and problems of the American towns and cities and their people than showering largess and grants to foreign governments, we'd all be better off.

Crimefighter license plates

Belleville's state senator, Carmen Orechio is sponsoring a bill which would provide special license plates for participants in local neighborhood watch programs.

"We should provide recognition for those who make the effort to help safeguard those around them," the senator said.

We agree. Here in Belleville the rising tide of crime has spurred a renewed interest in the township's neighborhood crimewatch. These new participants, in addition to those who have served in the crimewatch program all along, do deserve to be recognized.

Further, the special license plates may help to get more people involved in the program. As an extra perk for volunteering one's efforts, crimefighter license plates may do more for neighborhood watch membership than all the press we could give.

But most important, crime fighter license plates will make would-be criminals aware of just how many eyes and ears are on the block, looking out for the well-being of the neighborhood. Neighborhood watch signs alone do not indicate how many citizens are participating in the program.

There is an additional benefit to the crimefighter license plates. Away from home, drivers of vehicles with these plates would be recognized as caring, law-abiding citizens.

"This measure would provide a recognizable symbol for those who participate in these worthwhile programs," Orechio said.

The bill, which was released from senate committee without objection, now awaits action before the whole senate. From there the bill goes to the assembly and then Governor Kean's desk.

We encourage all members of Belleville's neighborhood watch program to write their assembly legislators, senator and Governor urging support for this bill.

It's a good one.

Harris and Amato

There are vacancies for County Surrogate and County Executive. A gentleman of vast public experience who currently is a top elected Newark official is seeking the Office of County Surrogate on the Republican ticket on Line B, No. 2-B. He is At-Large Councilman Earl Harris. Mr. Harris is about as fine and as able a public official that has ever sought election to the Office of County Surrogate. He has superior qualifications for the office and we urge our readers to elect Earl Harris by pulling lever B-2.

Judge of the Surrogate Court, Nicholas R. Amato, who served in elected office for almost fifteen years is seeking election as County Executive. His name appears on Line B, No. 3-B. Amato has completed a fifteen year record in public office which is superior to that of incumbent County Executive Peter Shapiro. Amato states that Essex County is a county in crisis, and there isn't anyone who has received a property tax bill recently who doesn't agree with him.

The contrast between the performance of Peter Shapiro and the commitment of Judge Amato is striking. Since 1982, Peter Shapiro has produced deficits every year including the current year. Amato is committed to eliminating deficit spending. The suburban Essex County Jail Annex in the North Caldwell/Cedar Grove area was built in the 1800's and expanded to accommodate 550 prisoners. It is now overcrowded and enjoying a population of approximately 880 prisoners.

It is understaffed, and the Shapiro administration is talking about renting trailers to place at the facility to accommodate more prisoners. Nick Amato has a better idea. Under construction near the Newark Airport is a new state prison. Within 24 hours after he is elected County Executive, Amato pledges to go to Trenton and attempt to renegotiate an expansion of the state prison to accommodate the inmates of the North Caldwell/Cedar Grove site. Amato faults Shapiro for failing to make such arrangements when the site for the state prison was selected three years ago.

The Shapiro administration has lost certification of the Essex Vocational School system. Amato pledges, during his administration, county school facilities will never lose their certifications.

During Shapiro's eight years as County Executive, he has done nothing to aid the County Bureau of Narcotics lodged in the Office of the Sheriff to help fight the drug problem existing throughout the county. In fact, Shapiro arbitrarily cut the Sheriff's budget by $2 million this year — thus damaging the effort of the Bureau of Narcotics to strengthen its fight to eliminate the drug problem in Essex County.

Only this week, Shapiro told a group of seniors that he worked for Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged during his tenure in the State Assembly a decade ago. He failed to make two other points when he mentioned his past Assembly experience. He failed to tell the senior citizens that there were 79 other Assemblymen who supported Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged. He failed to tell the senior citizens that he was the sponsor of Assembly Bill No. 432 which would legalize drugs, like marijuana. In contrast, Amato pledges to support the Sheriff's Bureau of Narcotics and the special efforts of the cities of Newark, East Orange, Orange and Irvington in their emergency fight to beat the drug traffic which is responsible for most of the crime committed in those cities.

Peter Shapiro has proposed to sell the Courthouse to raise money. Amato pledges never to sell the Courthouse which he looks upon as a county treasure. Shapiro supported the idea of selling the three county public golf courses, used principally by senior citizens. Amato pledges to oppose any such sale and commits himself to improving the quality of the public golf courses.

In truth, Essex County is a county in crisis. The high property taxes resulting from the Shapiro administration is driving many senior citizens not only up a wall, but out of house and home.

By any standard of measure, the reckless spending practices of Shapiro must be rejected Tuesday by electing Judge Nick Amato as County Executive. Indeed, there is a need and a time for change. The time is now.

going on "for the past two months."

A bargain

He indicated that at $46,000 per year Rotundo is actually some what of a bargain, since administrators in other Essex School districts are currently receiving over $48,000 per year.

Middle school renovation plans

In other Board of Education news, the board is to consider another plan for the renovation of the Belleville Middle School later this year, which includes a possible plan to get funding at low interest from private investors, Nardiello said.

The Superintendent was scheduled to attend a meeting October 28 to discuss the feasibility of this plan, which would combine loaned funds gained in this way with monies already allocated in the budget. The move would eliminate the need for a municipal bond, to finance the school's renovation, estimated two years ago to cost $3 million.

Thus far, no monies allocated this year have been spent on major Middle School renovations, Nardiello said.

Art teacher makes presentation. Janice Vitiello, art teacher for School 8 on Union Avenue, addressed the board during their October 28 meeting in a presentation which included an auditorium full of student art.

"I think it was a beautiful display," Nardiello commented. "Our art department is top draw."

He praised Vitiello as well as school principal Arthur Piro.

Nardiello said the selection of Augustino Rotino follows an interviewing process that's been going on for some time.

He had asked for upwards of $48,000 and we made a counter offer and he took it," Nardiello said. The new administrator/board secretary will also receive a $50 per month car allowance.

Susan Aschauer picked for Bucknell Chorale

Freshman Susan Aschauer of Belleville, has been selected as a member of the Concert Chorale at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Aschauer is the daughter of Joseph and Gertrude Aschauer of Van Rye, N.Y. She is a 1986 graduate of Belleville High School. Under the direction of William Payne, the Concert Chorale has performed in Illinois, Michigan and Ohio. In January 1987, the Concert Chorale will travel to Florida with performances in Miami and Orlando.

Bucknell University is a highly selective liberal arts institution with professional programs in engineering, management and education, school officials say.

Orechio Civic Association to host AT&T vice president

Dr. Herbert Spiegel, president of the Carmel A. Orechio Civic Association, has announced the next organizational meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. The meeting will take place at the V.I.W. hall, Washington Avenue, Nutley.

The Association will host a very distinguished guest, Dr. Seligman J. Buchsbaum, executive vice president of Customer Systems at

AT&T Bell Laboratories of Holmdel. Dr. Buchsbaum is responsible for computing technology and design engineering government systems and architectural framework for AT&T products, systems and services.

Dr. Buchsbaum has been honored for outstanding public service. Earlier this year, in a White House ceremony, he was awarded the National Medal of Science by President Reagan. As a nationally renowned scientist, Dr. Buchsbaum will present his views on SDI and Star Wars. In the wake of the recent meeting in Iceland between Reagan and Russian leader Mikhail Gorbachev during which the Star Wars issue was prement, Dr. Buchsbaum's presentation is extremely timely.

The Orechio Civic Association, whose purpose is to promote the welfare and betterment of the people and communities served by Senator Carmel Orechio, is delighted and proud to present a speaker of Dr. Buchsbaum's caliber. The officers and board of the non-partisan association cordially extend an invitation to the general public to attend this most worthwhile meeting on November 5th. The meeting will be followed by refreshments.

Halloween safety tips from Automobile Club

The frightening part of Halloween isn't ghosts and goblins, but the increased potential for automobile accidents involving young pedestrians. "Trick or treaters and motorists can have a safe and happy Halloween, if they take several important precautions," advises Matthew J. Berham, president of the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club.

Prior to Halloween, parents and children should review these safety tips.

- Try to trick or treat when it's still light outside.
- Wear a costume that makes it easy for you to walk, see and be seen.

- Make certain that your costume is light in color and use retro reflective tape so you can be seen by motorists in the dark.

- If you wear a mask, enlarge the eyeholes so you can see in all directions and be sure to take it off before crossing streets. Why not use make-up instead of a mask?

- Carry a flashlight to help illuminate the way.

- Always trick or treat with a parent, older sibling or group of friends. Never trick or treat alone.

- Plan your trick or treat route in advance, picking well-lighted familiar streets. Also determine what time you are to return home.

- Obey all traffic safety rules. Cross only at corners, walk on sidewalks or facing traffic when no sidewalk is available, and never cross the street between parked cars or in the middle of the block.

- Wait until you get home to sort, check and eat your treats.

The best advice for drivers on Halloween night is to be aware of the unexpected. Turn headlights on at dusk and drive carefully, limiting speed on residential streets to no more than 15 miles per hour.

between 5 and 9 p.m. Be on the lookout for children darting out from between parked cars and take extra care when backing out of a driveway or turning on red.

The AAA New Jersey Automobile Club reminds you that Halloween can be a fun time for every one, children and motorists alike. All it takes is a little extra caution.

Governor is keynote speaker at Amato-Harris rally Sunday

Governor Thomas Kean

Gov. Thomas Kean will be the keynote speaker at Sunday's breakfast rally for Republicans Nicholas Amato and Earl Harris, candidates for county executive and surrogate, respectively.

Sponsored by a bipartisan "Friends of Amato-Harris" group, Sunday's 9:30 a.m. event (Nov. 2) at the Quality Inn (former Military Park Hotel) in Newark will feature N.J. State Community Affairs Commissioner Leonard S. Coleman Jr. as toastmaster. Tickets are still available at $15 by contacting Nutley attorney James Pro at 661-0710.

Several other cabinet members along with Republicans and leading Democrats will participate in the breakfast rally, according to Carl Orechio of Nutley, general chairman.

Essex County Democrat mayors and councilmen who have endorsed the Amato-Harris ticket will be special guests at Sunday's event which is expected to attract more than 1,100 persons.

"The rally will be spectacular, complete with a band, convention style pole, banners and citizen delegations representing all 21 municipalities of Essex County," notes Al Clark, chief of staff for Harris.

Besides Gov. Kean, invited speakers Sunday include Congressman Dean Gallo and Matthew Rinaldo.

Tickets for the Newark breakfast are being distributed by both Republican and Democratic party organizations throughout Essex County.

Program sets prisoners free but maintains a close watch

In November of 1985, the Essex County Probation Department began operation of the first county-based intensive supervision program in New Jersey. The department recently issued its eight month progress report, and the results are very encouraging.

The program is known formally as ECLIPSE (Essex County Local Intensive Probation Supervision Effort) and it was developed to help relieve the severe crowding at the Jail Annex, the county's short term sentence institution. It is based on the premise that certain incarcerated offenders can be removed from the Jail Annex, and be safely supervised in the community under intensive probation supervision.

The ECLIPSE program builds on the success of the State Intensive Supervision Program, using proven procedures and techniques to select and supervise offenders. Careful screening is the first step. Violent offenders and persons convicted of sale of drugs are not eligible. An offender must have a minimum sentence of 90 days incarceration to be considered. ECLIPSE officers conduct a thorough investigation of each offender to determine suitability for the program. One of the first steps is a plan submitted by the offender showing what steps will be taken to live successfully in the community, should release be granted. This requires the offender to show a willingness to cooperate with the program requirements. Each applicant is required to have a community sponsor who will assist the ECLIPSE staff in carrying out the supervision.

If the offender is found to be suitable, a recommendation is made to the screening board, and ultimately to the superior court judge, who recommends the offender to ECLIPSE. Well over 100 applications were screened and evaluated to reach the current caseload.

Once under supervision, the offenders are required to abide by a strict regimen which includes curfew, urine monitoring for drug use, community service, payment of court ordered financial obligations, employment, and group counseling. The ECLIPSE officers maintain daily contact with the offenders—in person and by telephone.

ECLIPSE is fortunate to have the latest in electronic technology available in the form of passive electronic surveillance and a computerized telephone system for monitoring curfew compliance. This capability enhances the staff's ability to monitor the behavior of offenders in the community.

In the first eight months, 40 offenders have entered the program with 11 successful completions and three being returned to custody. This represents a total of savings of $138,440 to the County in incarceration costs. Over 1832 hours of community service have been completed. The employment rate for participants has been better than 70 percent, and more than $9,600 has been paid in State and Federal Income Tax. In excess of $7,000 has been paid in fines and mandatory penalties to the Violent Crimes Compensation Board.

Town policeman completes accident investigation course

Officer George R. Geyer Jr. of the Belleville Police Department has earned the distinction of completing the Advanced Traffic Accident Investigation Course co-sponsored by the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club and the New Jersey Office of Highway Safety.

In addition to Officer Geyer, 36 police officers from Essex, Morris and Union counties participated in and completed the 2 week course presented by the Institute of Police Technology and Management at the Essex County Police Academy.

The course is designed to provide police officers with the skills and awareness needed to properly conduct traffic accident investigations. Special emphasis is placed on evidence gathering technique and the importance of physical evidence in accident reconstruction and litigation.

Accident investigation courses are beneficial to all communities, says Matthew J. Derham, president of the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club.

BHS appoints Strollo office-ed coordinator

As of September 1, Lorraine Strollo has assumed the position of Cooperative Office Education Coordinator for the Cooperative Office Education Program at Belleville High School. This program was initially started over ten years ago and has been very successful each year, according to school officials.

Why are so many women talking about...

OSTEOPOROSIS

Because osteoporosis will affect 1 of 4 older women. Because every year, this loss of bone strength causes 1 million fractures and costs $4 billion. And because—at last—there's something we can do about it.

MEDICAL SERVICE is now preparing a new and improved program to help you understand and take control of your own treatment.

We are now able to measure bone density using a simple, painless procedure. Our new programs go beyond diagnosis of fracture risk. We offer education and counseling services that will help you understand and take control of your own treatment.

Bone loss affects peak strength at age 35. By detecting those women with low peak bone density, timely preventive measures can be taken to assess your physician in reducing the risk of osteoporosis. By measuring bone density again, the osteoporosis, these women's highest risk can be selected for estrogen or other therapy to slow the loss of bone that occurs in the following years. New therapies offer the promise of reducing bone already lost.

We look forward to serving our community in the years ahead. If you have questions about osteoporosis, call us. We have the answers.

Municipal debate targets planning board

the commissioners already approved it, argues Frantantoni.

Frantantoni based his allegation on township meeting agendas which show that the architectural firm of Beckhard-Richlan Associates of Manhattan was approved by resolution to be the project architect before the planning reviewed or even received his plans.

Frantantoni said that the firm's fee, nearly $300,000, is almost exactly 8 percent of the architect's $3.7 million estimated project construction cost. 8% is the agreed upon percentage on which the fee is based.

Using these figures, Frantantoni

further alleges that if the Planning Board were to review the project and recommend sizable cuts, the project is nevertheless already set at a cost of $3.7 million. He believes it won't be modified to achieve a lesser estimate because the board already voted to pay Beckhard-Richlan their 8 percent of $3.7 million, in a vote which took place before the Planning Board's review and recommendations have even been submitted back to the commissioners.

Township Attorney Cozzarelli agrees with the contention that the architect's fee was approved by the board, but he emphatically disputes that the plan was approved.

"The design has not been approved," he said. "It's still in the schematic stage. The plans are still in a state of flux as to whether this is an acceptable proposal. There's still a give and take between the township representatives and the architect at point."

The attorney said that Planning Board recommendations, even though they will arrive after the board has already hired and begun paying the architect's based on a $3.7 million price tag, can still be evaluated and possibly implemented.

Would this affect the architect's fee? The Times asked Cozzarelli if Beckhard-Richlan's fee would drop accordingly if the cost of the project dropped, should the Planning Board recommend cuts that the commissioners agree to.

"I don't know off the top of my head," Cozzarelli replied. "I'll have to get back to you on that, after I review the contract. I want to be accurate in my statement."

Thus, as the debate continues it is unclear whether the Planning Board's forthcoming input on the Police Station Project will have any bearing as to the final cost. With overall control of the project entirely in the commissioners' hands, as the township attorney contends, any modifications to the plan will be solely at the discretion of them.

Frantantoni, in a statement to the Times, pleaded with the Board of Commissioners to modify the plan so it will cost the taxpayers less in the long run.

Here's what we're saying to the commissioners," the CCB president said on behalf of his organization. "Although there's an obvious need for police facilities, the extent of such facilities should be dictated by our ability to pay for it. They (the Board of Commissioners) have failed to grow in a projection even as to next year's tax situation."

With federal revenue sharing drying up and state monies being pulled back and with the economy doing a downturn, we're looking at another huge tax increase," he said.

Cozzarelli refuted those charges.

"Actually the leading economic indicators published yesterday (October 27) show an upturn, not a downturn. That's number one. As for our ability to pay — the cost of this project is going to be in the vicinity of $50,560 per year (per taxpayer). That seems to be to be a relatively modest sum of money in exchange for what we will accomplish for that money — a public safety building that will meet the needs of our citizens into the 21st century," the lawyer said.

Orechio bill to expand senior care

Senator Carmen A. Orechio has co-sponsored a bill designed to expand home health care services for senior citizens.

The bill, S2132, is called the Home Health and Community Care Partnership Act. It would use Casino Revenue Funds to establish a statewide demonstration program providing funds to licensed and certified home health care agencies and accredited homemaker health aid agencies.

This bill's intent is to provide some assistance to the retired middle class, not poor enough to qualify for Medicaid and not rich enough to buy any services they might need," Orechio said.

There is a growing recognition that home care is the first choice of many impaired elderly and disabled individuals. Through a combination of resources such as federal and state funding, together with the efforts of family and friends, many of these people can continue to live in their own homes or with their families.

A nursing home must not be the only solution available for people with chronic health problems.

The bill has passed the Senate and is pending before the Assembly Senior Citizens Committee.

Mike Lambert's

Buc Shots

This Saturday, a big football rivalry will be renewed at Municipal Stadium when Passaic and Belleville battle it out at 2 p.m.

Since John Senesky took over the reins at BHS in 1977, the Bucs and Indians have played some memorable contests. Over the period 1977-85, Passaic holds a slim 5-4 edge, having won last years game by a 21-0 count.

Senesky feels that the Belleville-Passaic rivalry has become his teams biggest game. Most often, the games are low scoring and classified as "war" by both teams. Some of the games have been classics, especially the games during the decade of the 80's which have provided plenty of good memories for both schools.

In 1977 and 78, Passaic, the more established program, prevailed by easy scores of 36-12 and 38-13. The 78 game was a little closer than the final score would indicate, but Passaic, with its excellent quarterback Mark Stevens, was too much on the improving Buc career team. Belleville went on to a 6-3 mark in '78, but knew that it would have to beat quality teams like Passaic in future years if it would be among the states best teams.

From 1979-84, Belleville and Passaic would put together some very impressive teams. Over those six years, the teams were constantly in the Top 20 and were always ranked near the top in the Herald News rankings. The teams staged some impressive games against one another.

In 1979, the Bucs beat previously unbeaten Passaic by a 26-14 count. Over the next couple of seasons, Belleville had a knack for beating the previously undefeated Indians at one time or another. The reason why the game with Passaic is so big is because Passaic always fields a classy, hard hitting winning unit. If you beat Passaic, you've earned it, no question about it. The Indians don't give it away.

Anyhow, in '79, the Bucs won Ed Edulis guiding the offense and Bob La Bruzza running the ball well. Ralph, The Bear, De Pasquale did a nice job on defense and turned in a sterling interception of a Stevens pass in the Buc end zone that ended a threat.

In 1980, the teams played at Passaic High. This was one of many classics the teams played. Passaic came in undefeated while Belleville was 2-1, but struggling. The Indians were young, but powerful, with players like Melvin Ross, Tyrone Snowe, Craig Heyward and Mike Voipe leading the way. In this game, Passaic led 9-7 in the fourth quarter, but quarterback John Melillo found Paul Scheuplin with a 29 yard TD pass in the waning moments. The Bucs won, 13-9 with Frank Fazzini doing a whole of a job in the Buc backfield.

The win turned Belleville's season around as the Buc offense took off from there on, winning six straight before losing to West Essex in the state sectional finals.

In '81, it was back to Belleville and another classic game. This was unbeaten (as usual) Passaic, battling unbeaten Belleville before a packed house. Indian coach Tom Elisasser wanted this game badly and his team played that way.

The Indians scored early, when Melvin Ross went over in the first quarter. That was, however, the only score Passaic would register on the day. Belleville's defense, paced by Phil Cerza, regrouped and stopped the potent Indian offense.

Meanwhile, the Bucs, paced by John Borrello at quarterback, posed a few threats, but couldn't get it in the end zone. The biggest opportunity came in the fourth quarter. Borrello hit Eugene Cancelliere with a sideline pass that the Buc split end hauled in and raced into the end zone. As the fans rejoiced, the official closest to the sideline ruled Cancelliere had stepped out of bounds.

The Bucs moved the ball on that series to the Indian 9, with a first and goal. However, the drive stalled there and Passaic had won, 7-0.

You don't have to be reminded of the '82 classic. Belleville 3, Passaic 2. Passaic did not lose a regular season game since the '80 loss to Belleville, were ranked nationally and number one in the state. Belleville was a young team in '82, but had good talent and a lot of desire.

Hobbie Cancelliere kicked the Buc field goal and the Belleville defense held Heyward and Company the rest of the way. It was a tremendous win for the Bucs, who went on to an 8-1 regular season record and the co championship of the NNJHL with Montclair.

Passaic avenged the loss with a 28-7 win over Belleville in '83 at Passaic. Heyward, a senior, ran for a 75 yard TD and his brother, Nate, added a 99 yard score late in the game. Buc running back Mike Murphy scored the only Belleville TD. The game was tied at halftime, 7-7, but Passaic, who would finish 11-0 for the second time in three years, pulled away in the final half.

Two years ago, the series returned to Belleville and the result was a 7-0 Bucs career win. Quarterback Mark Walsh hit John Oliveri with a TD pass in the first quarter and Belleville held on with a stellar defense. It was a well played game by both teams and gave the Bucs a lot of confidence for the remainder of the year.

Finally, Passaic came back with a 21-0 win last year over a young Bucs career team. The Indians went on to another Group IV, Section 1 title and had an excellent team.

This Saturday, the 34 Bucs renew the rivalry against 4-1 Passaic. Belleville leads the NNJHL by one game over Passaic, Clifton and Montclair, so it's a big game for a number of reasons. It's also the Belleville Homecoming Game and should draw a big crowd.

Bring on Passaic!

Bucs blank Bloomfield

By Mike Lambert

It wasn't pretty and it wasn't overly impressive, but the Belleville football team got the job done, beating Bloomfield 14-0 last Friday night at Municipal Stadium.

Belleville, now 3-2 (3-0 in the NNJHL), sets its sights on arch rival Passaic (4-1, 2-1 in the conference) this Saturday at Municipal Stadium. Game time is 2 p.m. and it's also the homecoming game. More on the game and on the Belleville-Passaic rivalry in Buc Shots.

In winning its third straight game, the Bucs moved above the 500 mark for the first time since the 1984 season. With Montclair's victory over Clifton last Saturday, Belleville is now in sole possession of first place in the NNJHL. The three game winning streak is also the teams longest since the '84 campaign.

We played a conservative game, head coach John Senesky said of his teams effort. Bloomfield played us tough. This was a big game for them. It's a rivalry for them and they really wanted this game.

The loss brought to 26 the number of games Bloomfield has played without a victory.

The Bengals, now 0-4-1, did tie Kennedy back in week three, 7-7.

This is the type of game where a mistake on our part could really have picked them (Bloomfield) up. Senesky said. We didn't want to put ourselves in that position.

The Bucs scored once in the first and once in the fourth quarters to seal the victory.

In the first quarter, the Bucs scored following a recovery of a Bloomfield fumble. From the Bengal 47, quarterback Jeff Spilsbury threw an incomplete pass and Jay Marchese was hit with a three yard loss. On third down, however, Spilsbury hit Marchese with a 15 yard strike for a first down at the Bengal 35.

That was a good catch on Jay's part, Senesky said of Marchese's sideline show. He kept both feet in bounds. It was a good job.

The Bucs kept it on the ground, with Lou Lucante and Frank Montagna moving the ball to the Bengal 18. From there, Spilsbury went back to the air and found Marchese for a 16 yard gain to the Bengal 2. Two plays later, Lucante ran around left end for the first Belleville score. Dave Mc Neil added the conversion and the Bucs led, 7-0.

Belleville threatened fate in the first half, moving the ball from its own 24 to the Bengal 2. It was a long drive, with key contributions coming from running back Jim Dunphy and the passing of Spilsbury.

Dunphy gained 23 yards in the drive and Spilsbury hit Lucante with passes of 9 and 11 yards and Jamie Galoto with a 9 yard pass. Spilsbury also did some running, picking up 13 yards on a bootleg.

However, the Bengal defense stiffened when it had to, holding the Bucs on the 2 and taking over on downs. The half ended at 7-0.

Bucanor defensive back Joe Della Monache started the third quarter with an impressive interception at the Bengal 34. However, Belleville could not move the ball on offense as it was hit with a holding and clipping penalty in the drive.

The Bengals could not move the ball with any consistency against a tough Belleville. D and finally in the fourth quarter, the Bucs added an insurance score.

Starting from his 35, Spilsbury hit Dunphy with a nine yard pass. John View gained six yards on two carries and Spilsbury went to the air again, hitting Galoto with an 18 yard pass to the Bengal 32. View picked up seven to the 25 and three plays later, from the Bengal 19, Spilsbury hit Galoto with a TD pass, giving Belleville a 13-0 lead. Mc Neil added the conversion and Belleville had wrapped up its third win.

Jamie (Galoto) and Jay (Marchese) made some excellent catches, Senesky said. Spilsbury is gaining confidence at quarterback and our defense did a nice job. I think you'll see the team a little more fired up this Saturday. Passaic will be a big game for them.

NOTES: Spilsbury now has six touchdown passes on the season. Galoto has caught three TD passes on the year. Mc Neil has hit eight straight point after conversions, dating back to the Montclair game. In other conference games, Passaic beat Kennedy, Nutley stopped Eastside and Montclair won a big over Clifton. Belleville is 3-0 in the NNJHL while Montclair, Passaic and Clifton are all 2-1.

Can Soccer Bucs make states?

By Chris Lawlor

For the first 15 minutes of the Essex County boys soccer tournament, sat at Millburn, Belleville head soccer coach Tony DeAquino felt his team was attacking well but just could not find a goal.

When Millburn got the first two goals of the game it appeared that the Buc momentum was lost and that led to a 5-1 loss to the Millers in the quarter, finals of the tourney.

The game was originally scheduled for Oct. 26 but inclement weather cancelled the contest until the next day.

We had some good chances but we could not put the ball in the net, said DeAquino. After they scored the two quick goals you could tell that the momentum switched.

The only consolation in the game was senior Keith Woods goal off a direct kick in the fourth quarter.

The Bucs (8-3-3 overall), preceded the tournament game with a pair of victories over league opponents. They defeated Puterson Eastside 4-2 on Oct. 23 and then shut out Bloomfield 1-0. The shut out of the Bengals was the seventh on the year for netting Ch. Goldrick and the second time against the Bengals.

When the Bucs led 3-0 in the second half, it was only a matter of time that the Ghosts were going to go scoreless with the 1-0 of Dexter Lalley, Roberto Maldonado and Everton Dobbs. The Ghosts lived up to their quick scoring threat and narrowed the gap to 3-2. The Bucs put it away when Walter Capozucca tallied late in the fourth quarter.

According to DeAquino, the Ghost attack was one of the toughest he faced all year but it also was one that featured individual play.

Those guys are always dribbling the ball around and not trying to make a run. They are always trying to show what they can do with the ball, he said.

Playing well on defense was senior John Loiacono, Roger Real and stopper back Gus Ligo.

For the remainder of the week DeAquino has to work on what the Bucs did wrong in their loss at Millburn in practice. He'll stress ball control drills with players going 50-60 and teach them what he'll do in the end zone. We want to get our players to an open space, it doesn't matter if our attack goes diagonally just as long as we can create motion, said DeAquino.

The Bucs still haven't heard about state play but they should know where they'll be by the end of the week. Meanwhile, the B.C. boosters will host Montclair on Oct. 30 and then Nutley comes to Clearman Field on Nov. 3. Both contests are slated to start at 3:45 p.m.

Cross Country Bucs win one!

The Belleville cross country team won its first meet of the season, beating Arts High last week, 25-30. In addition, four Belleville runners were named to the NNJHL team for 1986.

The Bucs will take part in the Essex County championships tomorrow afternoon, at 4 p.m. from Branch Brook Park. The state sectionals are set for November 8, from Warnaco Park, Elizabeth.

Craig Burden led the way in the conference honors by gaining first team, NNJHL. Essex-Passaic division. Burden has had an excellent campaign this fall and did very well in the conference race, placing seventh in the division. Greg Moriello was named honorable mention. For the girls, Joyce Luongo earned second team honors and Donna Lee Daudelin was named to the honorable mention team.

In the conference race, held at Garrett Mountain, Belleville placed seventh in its division. Burden ran a time of 18:10, good for 28th overall, which included the teams from the Bergen Division of the NNJHL. As mentioned, he was seventh in the Essex-Passaic division. Moriello had a very impressive time of 18:41, good for 55th place overall.

John Zurlo, John Morrell and Dave Rosamilia also completed coming in with times of 19:15, 21:25 and 21:49 respectively. Eastside High, as expected, was the winner of the race, taking top honors in both Bergen and Essex-Passaic.

In the girls race, Luongo did a very nice job, finishing 23rd overall, tenth in Essex-Passaic with a time of 23:16. Daudelin also did well, clocking in at 28:12, good for 50th place. Gina Guarino was tenth overall in the junior varsity race and Diane Di Vincenzo tallied late in the freshman race and finished 14th.

I was very happy with the results and the four athletes who were named to the all conference team, said head coach John Tosato. It was our best turnout on the team.

The Bucs battled Arts and Nutley in a tri race, beating Arts, 25-30, but losing to Nutley, 23-37. Burden finished second overall in the race, losing to Raider Brian Healy by just .02.

Burden's time was 16:58. Moriello had a personal best time of 17:18 and was third in the race. Zurlo finished 11th in 18:40, Morrell was 14th in 19:26 and Bob Schiebel, just coming off an injury, placed 18th in 20:01.

In the girls race, Luongo did an excellent job, winning the race in 21:22, by far her best performance on the home course. It was an excellent race for Joyce, said Tosato. We've been looking for that kind of race all season long. She really did a nice job.

Luongo had times of 26:34 and 26:40 respectively.

Finally, the team lost to Livingston, 21-40. Burden was second in 17:07, Moriello, fifth with 17:51, Zurlo, 12th with a time of 18:54, Morrell right behind in 13th (20:21) and Schiebel, 18th in 20:44.

Frederick, 25, will compete in the lightweight class of the women's open division.

BHS gymnasts drop two meets to Clifton and Neuman Prep

Working with a younger lineup and facing two strong opponents the Belleville gymnastics team was beaten by Clifton and Neuman Prep to lower its team record to 4-7.

The girls battled Verona last Monday and took part in the NN-JIL championships yesterday at Montclair High.

"We went with a younger lineup last week," said head coach Ray Iannuzzi. "We knew we were up against some very good teams and figured it would be a good chance to get the younger kids in the lineup."

Actually, the scores weren't too bad for the Buccaneers. Against Clifton, the count was 97.46-66.8 and versus Neuman, the final tally was an incredible 106.61-15. Iannuzzi expected both Clifton and Neuman Prep to finish with very high scores.

"Neuman is incredible," the coach said. "They scored 106 points against us and they've done better than that this year."

Although Belleville did not have many athletes scoring in the top three per event, there were some good performances turned in, nonetheless.

Against Clifton, Nicole Zelna, a freshman, placed third with a strong score of 7.8. Clifton swept the other three events, but Belleville did have some good routines. Zelna had a 4.75 in the uneven parallel bars. Andrea Lemongello and Renee Baron had scores of 5.0 and 4.65 in the balance beam, respectively. Nicole Pucciarello scored a 6.75 in the floor exercise.

Versus Neuman Prep, Belleville was swept in its events and did not have Zelna's services. The freshman was outwith a virus.

Alise Davies and Pucciarello had scores of 6.15 in vaulting. Lemongello tallied a 4.85 in the balance beam. Pucciarello scored a 5.95 in floor exercise and Diana Cardinale had a 5.75 in the floor.

Iannuzzi had his regular lineup ready for the NNJIL championships last night. Kelli Glunk, Joell Veltre, Danielle Lyman, Davies, Pucciarello and Zelna were expected to be competing in the championships last season. Glunk was the overall conference champ and based on her performance this season, she has an excellent chance of repeating her '85 heroics.

The state sections will commence on November 15 and Glunk and Veltre have already clinched berths there. Glunk will compete in all four events and Veltre, the floor exercise.

Lady Buc spikers drop one, tied for first with Clifton

After posting easy wins over Montclair and Immaculate Heart, the Belleville volleyball team was upended by Passaic in three sets last Friday afternoon, moving the girls back into a first place tie with Clifton in the NN-JIL.

Belleville battled Paramus Catholic, Benedictine Academy and Nutley earlier this week. The girls are host to Neuman Prep this afternoon at 4 p.m. and will be at Paterson Kennedy tomorrow afternoon, at 4. Next Monday, Hackensack comes in for a 4 p.m. match and next Tuesday, it's Good Council, also at 4 from BHS.

Grace Worley's team, which took a 15-5 record into the weeks action, lost just its second conference game to Passaic last Friday, losing 16-14, winning 15-11 and bowing in the third and decisive set, 15-9.

We played excellent first and second games," Worley said. "In the third game, we stopped playing offense and reverted to a defensive game. We gave them too many opportunities and against a good team like Passaic, we can't expect to win like that."

Worley praised the play of Christine Melillo and Simone Edwards.

"Chris played one of her better games of the season. Simone did a nice job and Trisha (Tramutola) did well."

Worley did say that the game was well played on both sides.

"It was first class volleyball," she said. "Both teams did a very good job. Their Passaic's coach said after the second game that whoever wins the final game, it was an excellent match."

The other games weren't as exciting, but Belleville did win. Against Immaculate Heart, the scores were 15-10, 15-2 and against Montclair, it was 15-1, 15-1.

Against Immaculate Heart,

Worley said, "We made some four fups in the first game. It was a good match though, and the girls played hard. Simone and Chris had some good blocks."

In the conference standings, Belleville and Clifton remained tied for first place with 10-2 records. Passaic, which also defeated Clifton last week, boosted its NNJIL mark to 9-3. The conference is a three team race, with all three teams having two games remaining in conference play.

In the event of a tie, the teams affected would be co-champions. There isn't a tie breaking method in the league.

NOTES: Worley mentioned the need for an assistant coach in volleyball. Last Friday, the freshman team defeated Passaic and the coach noted that Passaic has a freshman coach.

"With more girls coming out and with J.V. and freshman teams, we could use another coach," Worley said.

Religious Viewpoints

I do not have time

By Rev. Robert Paul

Time. What a mysterious thing. So often it seems to get away from us before we know it. If you want to kill time, try working it to death.

Sometimes I have wanted to keep a detailed record of how I spend my 168 hours in a week. To see how I actually did use my time would be enlightening. I have a hunch that I would find that there is much wasted time that could be filled by doing those things I thought I did not have the time to do.

The truth of the matter is, that we all have the same amount of time. The question is, "What do we do with the time we have?"

Perhaps there are some truths we can learn from Jesus Christ. He was the busiest person in the world, feeding the hungry, teaching the disciples, and yet He never seemed to be caught up in the rat race. He never seemed to be a slave to the clock. He never had an appointment, but He always had time to stop and help a person along the way. His life seemed to be right on time, not a minute behind, not a minute ahead. What was His secret?

Jesus Christ received His signals from the Father. He came to this earth, not to do His own will, but the will of God: the Father who sent Him. So our lives must be lived by the signals we get from God. If the core of sin is trying to live on our own, then what does it say about our use of time? It should remind us that we will never be able to smoothly run anything about our lives on our own, including time.

What part does our Heavenly Father play in our use of time? How much do we listen for His signals? Someone said that he had so much to do today, that he was going to play an additional two hours. That is time in the right perspective.

When Jesus went to the mountains to pray, He was probably listening for those signals while praying for an ordered life in relation to time. He lived only thirty-three years and had just three years in public ministry. So much to do in so little time. But one of the most remarkable statements from Jesus was that He finished all that He came to do. (St. John 17:4)

"The clock of life is wound but once, and no man has the power, to say just when the hands will stop, at late or early hour."

May I encourage you to find time to read your Bible every day and also take time to pray? (2nd Timothy 2:15-James 4:4). Why not begin today with the Gospel of St. John and read it through at least five times? (St. Matthew 4:4)

Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

Dear Mr. Reilly:

What is the "Multiple Listing System" and why is it better than listing "exclusively"? — E.M., Belleville.

The term "Multiple Listing Service (MLS for short) refers to a service by which a group of Real Estate Agents share properties for sale with each other. There are many such services in New Jersey, each governing a specific geographical locality. In our area, the towns of Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge are served by a ML service which focuses on property for sale within the boundaries of those four towns. Any given MLS is independently controlled, so the rules for one may not hold for another.

In our area, the MLS is actually administered by a committee of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville. Their rules mandate that any residential property for sale within the borders of those four towns must be submitted as a multiple listing within 72 hours of receiving a signed listing contract. Infractions of this rule are greeted with stiff financial penalties as the integrity of the system depends on each member maintaining a strict sense of fairness so as not to have an undue advantage over the other members of the system.

In as far as your question and the subject of "exclusives", please note that, in essence, that type of listing is extinct, at least in New Jersey. Both the Real Estate Commission and the Attorney General's Office have mandated that every licensed broker in this state must share their listing with one another, regardless of whether or not that property has been multiple-listed.

In our area, should a home owner request that the broker take their house as an "exclusive," the broker is compelled to advise them against it, since it really is not in their best interest. The broker's primary duty is to obtain the highest possible price in the shortest amount of time for the seller. Certainly that goal is hindered should the property be held back from the eighty-plus offices which fall within the boundaries of the service area. The exclusive concept also violates the old real estate adage, "Untold—Unsold." If only one broker has knowledge of a property for sale, the seller has to hope that the buyer for that property is going to stumble into that real estate office.

The primary benefit offered by this area's Multiple Listing Service is that anyone looking to purchase residential property in Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield or Glen Ridge simply has to enter the real estate office of their preference and have at their disposal every piece of property available for sale in today's market.

Real Estate Briefcase is a weekly column which will be glad to answer topics suggested by readers. Please address correspondence to Real Estate Briefcase c/o this paper. Jack Reilly is a broker with Reilly Realtors in Belleville.

A special pull-out tab containing editorial copy submitted by you, the realtors geared to your local market. An interesting and appealing section that our readers will look forward to each week and keep as a handy reference guide. This section is the perfect advertising vehicle for you, the realtors.

If you believe that the only place to publish your listings is in the larger circulation dailies, or your town paper only, you're missing out on a market that is right at your finger tips. When a family is looking to purchase a home, they are willing to move outside of their town. If the price is right and the location near enough to meet their needs.

We all know that visibility opens the door to sales. What better way to be visible than to publish your weekly listing right here in the hands of the leadership with one of the highest degrees of purchasing power in Essex County?

Why take two when one will do?

All too often we may be impatient with our progress against an illness, or even actually be progressing well. With typical human impatience we may rationalize to our selves that one tablet is helping, two will help twice as much. If we extend this thought we can see the absurdity of it. If all the two tablets help then four will be even better. Why not eight or sixteen? Obviously because a drug overdose must result. What many people don't realize is that just the initial doubling of your prescribed dose could result in an overdose. The best attitude is intelligence. Use only the dosage prescribed by your physician, or follow carefully the directions on your over the counter package.
