Belleville police probe assault of cop in tavern

By Christopher Bifani

While Belleville's congressmen investigate a scandal of international proportions, Belleville's police department is investigating a tempert on a more local level-one which involves the reported assault of a police officer, the alleged misconduct of another police officer, and even the possible erasure of tape recordings at police headquarters.

The incident began December 21 at around 4AM at the Nu-Plas Tavern on Union Avenue. Charles Hood, 27, a five-year Belleville Police veteran and son of Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood, apparently heard loud noises coming from the tavern, two hours after the legal closing time.

Hood, who was off duty, lives across the street from the tavern and had crossed over to investigate sounds which were reportedly loud enough to hear from his home.

Pending the completion of a departmental hearing, Chief Lister said, full details of what happened next at the Nu-Plas will not be known. What is known now is that Hood, apparently accompanied by two uniformed patrolmen, was assaulted by one of the tavern's early morning inhabitants.

The suspect in the assault, Perry Meyer, was subsequently arrested without further incident.

Another policeman, Arthur Connolly, was in the bar at the time of the incident, and one part of the departmental investigation now underway is to determine just why he was in a bar two hours after all bars in Belleville are supposed to be closed.

Adding intrigue to the week-hours police story is the 'missing tapes' element. Either by erasure or mechanical error, all of the tape recordings for a 24 hour period including the time of the incident were blank.

Hood reportedly called for backup assistance two times, but since the tape is blank there is no record of this.

Following is a brief interview with Belleville Police George Lister on the Nu-Plas incident:

Belleville Times: Have you received any findings from your departmental investigation?

Chief Lister: It reached my desk yesterday (December 5).

BT: Who's in charge of the investigation?

CL: Captain Petrillo, who's in charge of internal affairs, was in charge of the investigation, but he got in an accident. Deputy Chief Kimball is heading it now. It's an ongoing investigation because there are conflicts in the report which I want clarified.

BT: What kind of conflicts?

CL: I can't comment specifically on that because the investigation is still ongoing. The case will probably be referred to a grand jury.

BT: Have any police officers been suspended?

CL: No.

BT: What about reports that tapes were erased at headquarters?

CL: There is no proof that tapes were erased. Our investigation proves that the tape for that day did not register. We do not yet know whether it was a mechanical failure or whether it was erased. We're not ruling either out.

BT: You mean the missing recordings could have been caused by equipment failure?

CL: Well, we've been having trouble with the tape machine lately. We've had occasions in the past when tape did not register. I think that last happened a few months ago. It's a problem with the heads, and tapes have been played too many times. We've used them over and over.

Essex County Executive Nicholas R. Amato

Former Belleville town attorney

Nicholas Amato sworn in as Essex County Executive

Nicholas R. Amato, 47, of Verona, formerly of Belleville, was sworn in to a four-year term as Essex County Executive on January 1, in ceremonies at the Gateway Hilton Hotel attended by New Jersey Governor Tom Kean and a host of state and local officials, following a 10:30 a.m. Mass at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, celebrated by Newark Archbishop Theodore E. McCarrick.

The noon time swearing-in ceremonies were held jointly for the new County Executive and Essex County Surrogate Earl Harris who was administered the oath of office by Superior Court Judge William H. Walls. Harris was sworn in to a five-year term.

New Jersey Supreme Court Associate Justice Marie L. Garibaldi administered the oath of office to County Executive Nicholas Amato prior to the introduction of Governor Tom Kean and the members of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Essex County Clerk Nicholas Caputo presented the certificates of election to both judges.

The Reverend Lawrence Roberts, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Nutley, delivered the invocation and the closing benediction was offered by the Reverend Msgr. John Petillo, Chancellor of Seton Hall University.

The ceremony was attended by more than 500 guests, including family, friends and dignitaries.

Amato, born in Newark in 1939, was educated in the public schools of Belleville and graduated from St. Peter's College in 1961 and Seton Hall University School of Law, class of 1964.

Pathmark traffic light discussed

Final town meeting of 1986 airs familiar citizen concerns

The seat of municipal government returned to Town Hall December 20 after a long stay at Belleville High School's auditorium.

Earlier in 1986, overflow crowds drawn to commission meetings during the peak of the municipal construction controversy necessitated the move to the large high school auditorium. Steadily waning crowds, however, after the original construction project was postponed, no longer required the larger room.

Red light, green light

The lack of traffic light on Washington Avenue at Pathmark was the subject of much concern at the December 30 meet. Several citizens complained bitterly that the intersection is both a pedestrian and vehicular hazard.

One citizen said, "Do we have to wait until somebody dies before we get a traffic light?"

According to Belleville officials, the New Jersey Department of Transportation has already investigated the site, and has determined that there is a need for a traffic light at the Washington Avenue Pathmark.

Belleville Police Chief George Lister, answering citizens at the town meeting, said that "the state agrees there is a need, but feels that the area businesses which would be served by the light should pay for it."

In addition to the Pathmark shopping center, which houses the supermarket and several shops, the proposed traffic light would also serve a busy McDonalds restaurant and bowling center on the west side of the avenue.

The topic was closed for the evening with Mayor Michael Marotti asking the chief to look into the cost of a traffic light, the idea being that the township might be able to finance the placing of the light and then recoup the money from area businesses at a later date.

Condo clampdown

Angelo Veneziano, who has emerged at town meetings as Belleville's leading critic of condominium development, called for a moratorium on condo construction at the December 30 meet.

Veneziano reiterated his charges that condos are glutting the town, adding to traffic congestion, and changing the look of the township.

He used the public hearing portion of the commissioners meeting to lambast the zoning board for approving what he believes are far too many condominiums.

But the Board of Commissioners defended the zoning board, and did not act on Veneziano's call for a moratorium.

Police station plans

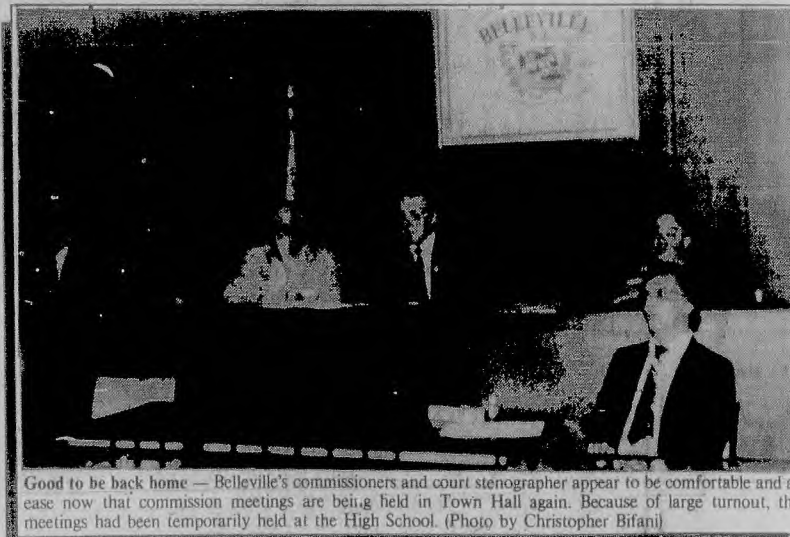

In other town meeting news, several members of The Concerned Citizens of Belleville inquired about the status of the Belleville

Public Safety Building plans

Mayor Marotti stated that the plans are on file at Town Hall.

A subsequent inspection by The Belleville Times revealed that the plans are, in fact, available for inspection in the Township Clerk's office, but there is no artist's rendering similar to the rendering of the original $10 million complex.

Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph DiRuggiero was not present at the December 30 meet. The next meeting of the Belleville Board of Commissioners is scheduled for Tuesday, January 13, 8 p.m. at Town Hall.

Good to be back home — Belleville's commissioners and court stenographer appear to be comfortable and at ease now that commission meetings are being held in Town Hall again. Because of large turnout, the meetings had been temporarily held at the High School. (Photo by Christopher Bifani)

Belleville would receive $534,976

Orechio bill to replace revenue sharing funds

Senator Carmen Orechio has co-sponsored a bill which would replace lost Federal Revenue Sharing to N.J. municipalities. Belleville would receive $534,976 under the measure for the 1987 budget year.

The bill, S2820, has passed the Senate and is awaiting Assembly consideration.

"Our communities are in a financial crisis," Senator Orechio said. "The loss of Federal Revenue sharing has compounded fiscal problems for municipalities which face added costs for liability insurance protection and garbage collection," he explained.

"Considering the size of the State budget surplus, it is essential that we work to return some of this money to municipalities to help hold the line on property taxes," Senator Orechio stressed.

BELLEVILLE briefly...

Attention student poets!

Poetry contest announced

Turtle Back Zoo, 560 Northfield Avenue, West Orange announces their fifth annual Valentine's Day Poetry Contest, cosponsored by Urban Voices, in cooperation with the New York Turtle and Tortoise Society.

The contest is open to Essex County students, grades two through eight and this year's topic is Turtles. Poems should be 24 lines or less and clearly written or printed. Entries should include the poet's name, address, phone number, school, teacher and grade.

Poems should be submitted to the zoo by January 20, 1987. Winners will be notified by mail. There will be an award ceremony on February 14, at 2 p.m. at the zoo.

Turtle Back Zoo is a facility of the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs.

Free course includes placement help

Skills training offered at North Ward Center

The North Ward Center, a non-profit, social service agency serving the greater Essex County area, is seeking applicants for its Business Skills Training program which will start a new cycle in January/February 1987.

The Business Skills Training Program has been in existence for more than 10 years and has placed over 825 individuals in jobs with blue chip companies and organizations. Prudential, Liberty Optical, the Newark Chamber of Commerce, the IRS and Crossroads HMO are just a sample of organizations that seek graduates from this program.

The program has certified personnel teaching typing, business English, business math, office procedures, stenograph and word processing.

Individuals who possess a high school diploma or GED, are 18 years of age or older, and have a desire to succeed in the corporate world are eligible for the program. The training program is free and placement assistance is offered after the 20-week program.

Stephen N. Aduato, executive director of the North Ward Center, called the program "one of the most important of the Center's programs."

"We have an excellent track record in this area, and this program is an excellent opportunity for an individual to get the skills necessary to get ahead in the corporate world."

Interested persons should contact Patti LaPolla at 481-0415 for further information on the program.

AARP meets January 8, 9

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) Chapter No. 2051 will meet on Thursday, January 8, 1987 at 1 p.m. in the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Ave. Belleville.

Executive Board will meet on Friday, January 9, at 1 p.m. at Fewsmith Church.

Guest speaker is David Bryant, Director of Belleville Public Library.

Hostesses for January are Charlotte Buck and Mary Shiffer.

Community Mental Health to sponsor housing forum

As part of the ongoing services for families of the chronically mentally ill, Community Mental Health Services will sponsor a special program Tuesday, January 13, 1987, at 570 Belleville Ave., Belleville. Ms. Barbara Ryan, Vice President of the New Jersey Alliance for the Mentally Ill, will speak on "Issues of Housing for Chronically Mentally Ill Adults in Essex County." Ms. Ryan is a parent as well as an advocate for the mentally ill.

What price, garbage?

Towns warned of dump hikes, recycling programs urged

New Jersey's six northeastern counties should be prepared for a severe garbage crisis in the new year that could result in a quadrupling of garbage disposal costs, unless the State takes immediate steps to prevent it, outgoing Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro said December 28.

He called the issue one of two or three of the most important ones facing citizens as he leaves office. Even though Essex County is the best prepared county for the coming crisis, its 22 municipalities will be hard hit if there is no change in current State and regional policies.

Starting at once, Essex County's municipalities are receiving notices from the County Division of Solid Waste Management warning them to prepare for steep increases this summer in the cost of garbage disposal when the nearby Hackensack Meadows landfill is scheduled to close.

In-state disposal capacity for most of northern New Jersey will reach its official limits during 1987, Shapiro said. Essex is working with neighboring counties and pressuring the state to secure interim landfill space within northern New Jersey.

Based on Passaic County's experience, disposal costs would quadruple if Essex garbage is sent to out-of-state landfills. Essex County municipalities currently pay about $25 per ton for disposal in the landfill in Kearny, operated by the Hackensack Meadows Development Commission (HMDC).

The HMDC has said it is closing the disposal site which has served this area throughout modern history, said Garret Smith, the county's solid waste division director.

"Given the State Department of Environmental Protection's (DEP) preference for closing down existing landfills rather than operating new ones, and the complete lack of cooperation by the HMDC, this is an uphill battle," Smith said. "If the HMDC had had its way, in fact, we would have lost our disposal rights there five years ago."

Essex, however, took the HMDC to court and was able to secure an extension of disposal rights. That extension ends on July 31, 1987, under a consent judgment agreed to in 1981.

In this letter, Smith said "Although Essex County is actually in a better position than other counties in New Jersey because we are so much farther advanced on resource recovery and recycling programs, we are not exempt from short-term problems."

Essex, along with other northern New Jersey counties, needs to bridge the gap between the closing of nearby landfills and the opening of resource recovery facilities.

"For us, the gap will be shorter than for others. With the opening of the county's energy recovery plant scheduled for 1990, we are faced with the need for interim disposal capacity for two to three years," the letter said.

The contingency plan, developed by Essex County's solid waste professionals and the Solid Waste Advisory Council, which is made of representatives from each municipality, calls for a small number of transfer stations to be built within the county from which garbage will be transported to out of state landfills.

Transfer stations are locations where ordinary garbage trucks used in collection are emptied and their contents transferred into larger long-haul vehicles with two to four times the carrying capacity. The increased capacity and the need for only one driver make the longer hauls logistically and economically feasible.

Essex is the only county to develop an interim disposal plan on its own. Four neighboring counties have had plans developed and implemented for them by the State DEP after the State determined that they were not making sufficient progress on their own.

While the State DEP has been willing to play an assertive role in assuring the counties adopt interim disposal plans, Shapiro said the State has failed to adequately prepare for the crisis.

"Northern New Jersey's problem has been looming for at least five years," he said. "The time-tables that the State has promoted for development of resource recovery plants have proved unrealistic. Even Essex, which is the furthest advanced, won't have its plant on-line for as much as another three years. There's still a chance for an interim solution that won't stick it to our taxpayers, but it will only happen if the State steps in and plays an assertive regional role."

Specifically, Shapiro advocated that DEP play a role in developing new landfill space in northern New Jersey for the next few years. He said this did not have to mean siting new landfills, which are always opposed by communities for them. There are going to be cutbacks in police, fire and recreation to make room for these outrageous increases in garbage costs.

"This crisis is coming upon us more swiftly than almost anyone realizes," he said. "Everybody seems to think this is just another false alarm like so many we've heard in the past about garbage. This time, it's the real thing."

The letter to Essex municipal officials recommended that direct actions be taken on the local level in addition to lobbying for State intervention. In particular, the letter recommended towns work to expand recycling programs and initiate leaf composting programs. Today, leaves collected by town crews are dumped along with ordinary garbage in the HMDC landfill.

Smith's letter emphasized that recycling and leaf composting make economic sense. "These costs should be offset by revenues and by the avoidance of the cost of transportation and disposal," he wrote. "Such comparative economics should be sufficient to spur every municipality to redouble its recycling efforts."

Garbage disposal costs are rising so rapidly, Shapiro said, that soon significant parts of municipal budgets will be sacrificed to pay

EAR CARE

Earwax helps to warm and protect the ear canal. It normally works its way out slowly and should not be removed with cotton swabs or other probes. The ears should be cleaned with soapy water and the little finger, and nothing else. On rare occasions, however, excessive wax does accumulate and needs removing. This is done by squirting warm water into the ear canal with a rubber syringe made for the purpose. The task can be made easier, especially if the wax is impacted, by first inserting an ear-wax softening agent. Look for a product with carbamide peroxide in glycerin. Use it strictly according to the instructions. If it causes irritation, do not use it again. If hearing impairment is noticed, do not try to treat it yourself. Consult your physician.

If you don't understand the directions on your prescription or over-the-counter medication consult our pharmacist at ROSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Our complete selection of items includes gifts, radios, watches, cameras, film, candy, baby needs and greeting cards. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

County harmony

The inauguration of County Executive Nicholas Amato and Surrogate Earl Harris was chock full of something that's long been missing in Essex County politics: Harmony.

There was harmony between county and state, as Governor Thomas Kean, a life-long Essexonian, showered Amato and Harris with praise. Amato, in turn, asked that the "special relationship" he has enjoyed with the Governor be continued during his term, for the betterment of the county.

There was harmony between Democrats and Republicans. On the dais were a host of prominent dignitaries from both political parties. It seemed like Amato and Harris were no longer being viewed as latter-day 'Benedict Arnolds' for their party-switching. On Inauguration Day, at least, they were symbols of bi-partisan unity.

Most of all, there was harmony between black and white. Standing side-by-side, Harris and Amato symbolized — and continue to symbolize — the coming together of all people in Essex County scarcely a generation after the vicious Newark riots, which erupted only a few blocks from the Newark hotel where the swearing-in ceremonies were held.

Looking back over the eight years of Peter Shapiro's administration, it appears that harmony had been the missing ingredient that stalled progress. There was little harmony between county and state, between county and city, or between Executive and freeholders.

But on New Year's Day 1987, at the inauguration of Nicholas Amato and Earl Harris, all the honeymoons were clearly in place.

For the first time in years, there is a real "opportunity to rebuild and revitalize Essex County. An opportunity for all sides to participate and to be included.

And when opportunity knocks...

From the Editor's desk

Amato and Kean... perfect for Essex

The New Year's Day inauguration of County Executive Nicholas Amato and Surrogate Earl Harris drew hundreds of distinguished guests. From Governor Thomas Kean and numerous state legislators to Mayor Michael Marotti and several Belleville officials, the dignitaries turned out in force to usher in a new era in Essex County leadership.

The lavish early afternoon affair was held in the Newark Hilton, in the heart of the city's magnificent gateway district. No doubt, MDNM/many guests who hadn't visited the area in a while were pleasantly surprised by the development that's going on. Gateway Four, a skyscraper, is rapidly rising to the west of the hotel, while the Newark Legal and Communications Center, another skyscraper, is ready to rise across the street to the north.

Against this backdrop of major construction — smack in the middle of Essex County's growing metropolis — comments by the Governor, the Executive and the Surrogate reflected a positive, charged attitude toward the county which they all call home. It is an attitude which encompasses a return to prominence, a revived metropolis, Essex as the gateway of America...

But County Executive Amato punctuated this hopeful vision of Essex with his "county in crisis" statement, actually a reiteration of his autumn campaign theme.

Amato pointed to overcrowding at the jails, a $10 million deficit, and waste disposal as three areas which have reached crisis proportions, and said he would move "with dispatch" to solve these problems.

But is Essex really a county in crisis? Or is 'county at the crossroads' a more apt description?

Those who took Route 21 down to the hotel saw two pictures of Essex County, New Years Day 1987. They saw the Essex of burned out slums, bumpy roads and hopelessly outdated interchanges like the Route 280/Route 21 crossing. They saw the Essex of litter, garbage and improperly maintained buildings.

And then, as they approached the gateway district, they saw the new construction sites, symbols of a new Essex County.

Obviously Nicholas Amato is well aware of both Essex viewpoints. Noting the special working relationship he enjoys with Governor Kean, the new Executive expressed his desire to continue that relationship, since so much of what is wrong with Essex County requires state action.

It is our hope that Governor Kean and County Executive Amato work hand in hand with Essex state legislators and Newark officials to devise a Gateway renewal plan. State roads need to be repaired right away in order to speed the flow of development capital to the Gateway area and adjacent districts, such as the nearby riverfront and the downtown retail area. Route 21 needs to be repaved and possibly widened. A better way has to be devised for the intersection of Route 21 and Route 280, a way which facilitates ingress and egress into the city. Maintenance of the grounds along the highway must be given at least as much attention as the grounds alongside state highways in suburban areas.

Perhaps Nicholas Amato will become the 'point man' who brings some of the brightest political minds in New Jersey together to revitalize and beautify the skyscraper district, for there is no other area quite like it in the State of New Jersey.

A revival is long overdue.

Mayor's no grinch...

To the editor:

I would like to reply to Mrs. Connie DePasquale who wrote to your newspaper to complain about Santa's arrival at the Belleville Municipal Stadium and how it was handled. She wrote of Santa Claus being whisked away before the children could shake hands or speak to him, and of how unhappy the youngsters were.

I would like to explain to Mrs. DePasquale as I have to all the other people who called my office to complain. The Board of Commissioners had nothing to do with Santa Claus coming to our township other than to give approval to the Chamber of Commerce for the helicopter to land at the Municipal Stadium; all the arrangements were made by them.

The Board of Commissioners were invited to be on hand at Township Hall to greet Santa and the children. I can assure you we would have waited until Santa made his rounds.

Generation at risk...

To the editor:

As a public service the Public Broadcasting System will air a documentary entitled, "Generation at Risk" at 8:00 p.m. on January 29, 1987.

The program will deal with some of today's most vexing problems such as, adolescent drug use, teen suicide, teen pregnancy and high school drop outs.

I ask that through your mediums we alert the groups at risk, their parents, their teachers and their counselors.

Thank you for your support.

Volunteers congratulated...

To the editor:

Each year Volunteer Services at Essex County Hospital Center is the hub of the Christmas Gift-Giving Program for patients. Hundreds of decorated cans are filled with homemade cookies, crochet hooks and knitting needles have stopped as hats, mittens, lap robes, and scarves are being delivered. Toiletries, make-up, socks, and sundries are adding up. Nimble fingers have finished making hundreds of candy favors.

All of these items were donated by members of the community for our patients. Gifts were then selected on a ward-by-ward basis for appropriateness. The next step was delivery to another building where the gifts were wrapped by volunteers. All of the gifts are then distributed to patients by Santa at parties held on each ward.

Every patient unwrapped a gift, donated by persons unknown to them, a symbolic gesture of friendship and concern. Over six hundred patients shared in the joy of Christmas, because of church groups, service clubs, volunteers, and private citizens, the Friends of Essex County Hospital Center.

Church groups invited some of our residents off grounds to partake of a specially prepared meal in celebration of this family time of the year.

On behalf of all of those who shared in your generosity, I thank you for your compassion.

Inez C. Walsh
Coordinator of volunteers

As always, our letters to the editor section is open to all, for topics in and out of town.

What greater gift could a newsmen hope for than to be on the scene of a significant breaking story, that by diligent pursuit became a series of announcements that will become a matter of great activity and animated concern during 1987 in Belleville?

It was at the annual Christmas party of the Michael V. Marotti Association December 20 at the Amvets Hall when Mayor Marotti, the standard bearer, at the termination of his welcoming address forcibly announced his candidacy for reelection in the upcoming May Commission election to the thunderous applause of the vast group in attendance.

Golden Comments

James R. Golden

Monday, December 22, Mayor Marotti played host to a cheerful Christmas party for his employees and friends from noon until 2 p.m. Santa was present in his gala costume of red while dignitaries from the fields of law, education, politics and business crowded the commission chambers to the accompaniment of viands and libations.

It was at this affair that Commissioner Pizzi stopped by and to a question we posed to him in respect to his candidacy in the forthcoming May local election, he, too, confirmed his candidacy for reelection to the office of commissioner.

At this point, it seemed fitting that we poll the rest of the commissioners. We did. A call to Commissioner McGreevy confirmed his candidacy to seek reelection as commissioner in the local May election.

A subsequent call to Commissioner DiRuggiero conclusively established his intention to, likewise, aspire for reelection to the commission post in May's local election.

Later in the evening Commissioner Grande called to advise that he, too, would run for reelection as commissioner in the upcoming local May election.

That made it a full house... all five incumbents will run for reelection to the township governing body for another four year term... a formidable political quintet sharing a host of friends.

With Mayor Marotti's early announcement of his candidacy for reelection, we deemed it appropriate to poll the incumbents for a final knowledge of their plans.

We commended them for their forthright candor in disclosing their intentions and their willingness to go public with their announcement of candidacy at this time.

At this point, any potential aspirant who may contemplate seeking a seat on the local governing body will be apprised of the type of opposition they will be confronted with.

All of which leads to the prospect of a very interesting year of politics in town. Attention School Board candidates: filing date is February 12, 1987. A note to board members, "Hold the line" on that school budget. Taxes are high enough.

Happy New Year to all.

Lord, keep my memory green

"Lord, thou has been our dwelling place in all generations" (Psalm 90:1).

In his gripping tale, The Haunted Man, Charles Dickens tells of a chemist who was tortured by unhappy memories. As he sat one night before the fire, troubled by the past, a phantom made its appearance and told the man that he could relieve him of his distress if he would permit the mysterious visitor to take from him the power of memory.

The unhappy chemist immediately accepted the offer and suddenly became a man who could remember nothing, either good or bad. But so great was his misery that he besought the phantom to restore his memory to him. It was done.

The tale closes with the prayer, "Lord, keep my memory green! This is a splendid prayer for the New Year.

The New Year is memory time, as well as a season for earnest resolutions. The changing years make us conscious of time's plodding and persistent passing. We pause and gaze back wistfully at the path we've been traveling ere we venture hesitatingly into the unknown future.

Of this experience Mary Brainert wrote:

*I see not a step before me
As I tread on another year;
But the past is still in God's keeping.*

The future His mercy shall clear.

As festive Christmas fades and persistent January fills the picture, in our sudden realization of time's inexorable passage we are retrospective, introspective, and prospective of the New Year challenges. Meditation is inevitable, and memory becomes a treasure-house where life's precious experiences are stored.

The older we grow, the richer should be our memories. Sad indeed are those who can conjure up little out of life's experiences to warm their aging hearts.

Make it a New Year

By Pastor Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

As the new year begins, what do you want most?

Our friends will very likely send us the usual greetings for a happy and prosperous New Year and the wish that the world's good will be our portion.

But think about it. God gave to King Solomon all of the riches he could wish for; yet it brought vanity and vexation of spirit.

We can receive many gifts of God's providence and enjoy them. But unless we discover God, the giver, we will end up drawing the same conclusion Solomon did. Material gifts don't last.

God wants to give us something more. He wants to give us new life through His Son. The greatest gift to all mankind was God's gift of His Son. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

This precious gift is ours for the acceptance, and with Christ Jesus as our Saviour we can truly look to the coming year with peace of heart, confidence and assurance.

However, the Lord Jesus Christ, according to the Bible, made it very clear when He said, "No man cometh unto the Father (God), but by Me" (John 14:6).

Start the new year with inward assurance that can be yours as you believe on Christ, the Son of God, as your Saviour and Lord.

Essex Junior Miss...

Annalisa de la Rosa, a senior at Nutley High School, will represent Essex county in the 29th annual New Jersey Junior Miss Finals on Saturday, January 10, at Cherry Hill High School East, Cherry Hills. She will be among 20 high school senior girls who will vie for cash and college scholarships, the title of New Jersey's Junior Miss for 1987, and the opportunity to represent the Garden State in America's Junior Miss Program next June in Mobile, Alabama.

A week of activities including tours, luncheons, parties, and daily rehearsals will precede the Finals night on January 10 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

Annalisa was named Essex County's Junior Miss last November in a local program sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josben de la Rosa of Nutley.

An active senior, Annalisa is captain of Varsity cheerleading, and a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, Future Business Leaders of America, Key Club, Human Relations Club, and the Youth for Age Club. Outside of school she participates in the Holy Family Playhouse, the Debbie McCann Dance Troupe, and the American Red Cross Youth Fund Drive.

Annalisa plans to attend Boston University and study Management.

1986 IRA CONTRIBUTIONS ARE STILL FULLY TAX DEDUCTIBLE

It's time to open an Individual Retirement Account, or add to your existing one.

The new tax law will limit eligibility for IRA benefits for tax year 1987 and beyond.

But for now you may still receive the maximum benefits on your investment. That means you can contribute up to $2,000 to your IRA and deduct the full amount from your 1986 tax return. Married couples filing jointly may deduct contributions of up to $2,250 and working couples may still take a full deduction of $4,000.

Nutley Savings has a variety of IRA plans which pay the highest market interest rates and are designed to meet your individual needs.

Remember, this may be the last year you have to receive the maximum benefits on your investment. Stop in and see one of our IRA experts. They'll show you how to make the most of your Individual Retirement Account.

SO, DON'T MISS THE BOAT. GET ON BOARD NOW AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS YEAR'S OPPORTUNITY.

January 1, 1987,

Nick Amato, 47, was born in Newark in 1939, educated in the public schools of Belleville and graduated from St. Peter's College in 1961 and Seton Hall University School of Law, class of 1964.

In 1971, Amato became the youngest person ever elected Essex County Surrogate, one of three constitutional offices in county government. He served three consecutive five-year terms, the only incumbent to ever win re-election to the post.

He resigned his position as Essex County Surrogate to campaign for the position of County Executive.

Amato founded, and until recently, was a partner in the Bloomfield-law firm of Amato, Salerno & Lunga. He is a former municipal attorney and prosecutor for the township of Belleville.

Amato and his wife, the former Barbara Simonelli, live in the township of Verona.

Swearing in — Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato (above, center) and Essex County Surrogate Earl Harris (below, center) take the oaths of their offices as their wives stand proudly by. Several TV, radio and newspaper media teams were on hand for the event.

Municipal Bonds still a good investment

With the passage of the 1986 Tax Reform Act, many taxpayers are finding it necessary to learn more about where to invest their money to avoid paying higher taxes. There are still a number of tax-deferred and tax-free investments available that taxpayers can take advantage of now, as well as under the new tax law. If you are looking for a way to save money for the future while earning tax-exempt interest, perhaps you should consider municipal bonds.

In comparison to investing in a particular stock where the return relies on the success of the corporation, the rate of return (known as the yield) on a bond is set when you buy it. Currently, the yields on municipal bonds are relatively high compared to many other investments, which means a good return on your investment.

Why should you consider municipal bonds? Because the interest is exempt from federal taxes and from state and local taxes if you buy bonds issued by the state in which you live. If you have a sum of money that you feel you can leave in an investment for five to 10 years, using it to purchase a bond will give you one of the highest rates of return with a minimum amount of risk. Because of this, municipal bonds are one of the best investments available right now.

To compare the yield on a municipal bond to taxable investments, use this easy formula. Subtract your current tax bracket from 100 and divide the tax-free yield by this number. For example, if a municipal bond has a yield of eight percent and you are in the 38 percent tax bracket, divide eight by 62 and you will see that you need a yield of approximately 13 percent for the other investment to be competitive with the municipal bond. There aren't very many other investments available with such high, after-tax yields.

How safe is your investment in a municipal bond? Every bond you buy is rated by its risk. Bonds issued by the United States government are considered the safest investments in the world. Keep in mind, a high rating is not a guarantee of a high return on your investment. It is merely a measure of worthiness on the credit of the issuer.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Malo

Diane K. asks, "What is root canal? Why does it have to be done and does it always hurt?"

Well, Diane, endodontics or root canal is performed when the blood supply and the nerve inside the tooth start to become infected, or if there had been an infection before and it is now abscessing. The blood supply inside the tooth is like a one way street; if the turn around inside the tooth at the top becomes infected, the blood cannot return to the bottom and outside the tooth. The cells inside the tooth die and then must be removed.

The removal of these dead cells is called "root canal". After the inside cells are removed, the inside space must be filled up so nothing can leak back inside the tooth. This procedure can be done under Novocaine. Once you are fully numb, there should be no pain.

Signs of the times

Service at Grand Union comes in many forms. It means everything from having us bag your groceries to giving you custom cuts from our butcher. We also believe it means taking a responsible position and informing you of health related issues as it pertains to food. For example, our customer research said the today's shopper wants to know more about the products they buy. We listened! And we responded by developing another service—a clear, concise, informational signage system that tells you things you want to know about the products we carry for you. It's just one of the many little things we'll do to make your shopping easier. Grand Union cares about you.

Mike Lamberti's

Buc Shots

Over the Christmas Holidays, three basketball players stood out for the Buccaneer basketball programs and their contributions helped their respective teams capture tourney titles.

For the girls' team, sophomore Simone Edwards was named MVP of the tourney for her outstanding work on both sides of the floor. For the boys' team, Bob Hutchison earned MVP honors for two outstanding offensive performances and junior Ted Sochaski did another super job on offense and in rebounding.

Edwards, Hutchison and Sochaski are the Athletes of the Month for December. Let's start with Edwards, a forward who has developed into a fine offensive performer.

The girls' basketball team captured the championship of the Tri County Holiday tournament, beating Queen of Peace in the first round and upending North Arlington in the championship game when it rallied in the final frame to force overtime. In that overtime, Belleville played a fierce defense and baskets by Edwards, Stacey Johansen and Laura Caruso helped the team to victory.

Edwards scored 32 points in the two games, scoring 14 in the Queen of Peace game and a career high 18 in the North Arlington contest.

She has the ability to draw a foul with her heads up, intense play under the boards. She has good leaping ability and has good court intelligence in reading opposing teams defenses.

"She's my best defensive player," head coach Karen Fucello said of Edwards. "We rely on her so much in the middle that sometimes she gets into foul trouble trying to help out someone else on an assignment. She is asked to defend the opposing teams best (offensive) player. Simone worked hard during the off season and it's paying off for her now."

Edwards is a fine all around athlete. She starred for Grace Worley's volleyball team last fall, helping the squad post its finest record in team history. In the spring, Edwards can be found on the track, keeping in shape and helping the girls' track team. In addition to her varsity sports, Edwards plays AAU basketball and is a good student.

In the girls victory over North Arlington, Belleville never led in regulation time. Edwards was saddled on the bench in the second quarter with two quick fouls and had to play cautiously in the second half. However, when Belleville fell behind by 11 points late in the third frame, Edwards and her teammates went to work.

With Belleville down 31-20, Edwards hit a basket to start the comeback and in the fourth quarter, the sophomore scored eight of Belleville's 17 points, including six straight points down the stretch to cut the North Arlington lead to three points.

Caruso's jumper and a Johansen free throw with :03 left in the fourth quarter tied the game and in overtime, Edwards nailed an insurance layup at the buzzer to give Belleville a 47-43 victory.

After four games, Edwards led the girls in scoring with a 13.8 ppg clip and was tied for the team lead with Sandy Brew in free throw shooting at 58 percent.

As a freshman last winter, Edwards began the season on the junior varsity level, but found a spot in the varsity lineup in mid January and never left. She ended up second on the team in free throws attempted, a sign that she can draw the foul in traffic under the boards.

Certainly, this young lady has a fine future in store and we should be hearing a lot more about her as this season progresses.

Hutchison, a senior, was a starter on last years team and was third in scoring with a 12 ppg average. When this season approached, he was expected to be one of the teams top offensive performers, with that deadly jump shot from 20 feet.

However, his season didn't start as expected. Hutchison scored seven points in the season opening loss to Ridgewood and was noticeably ticked off with his performance following the game. He spent most of the second half on the bench and knew he had to get his game back on gear.

He scored nine points against Clifton when the Bucs won its first game of the campaign on December 22, then ran wild in the holiday tournament.

He led the team in scoring in both games, a 69-55 win over Queen of Peace and a wild 81-66 win over Kearny in the championship game on December 27. In the Queen of Peace game, he popped home 20 points, hitting nine field goals and shooting 2 for 2 from the foul line. Against Kearny, Hutchison scored a career high 31 points, sinking 12 field goals and hitting 2 of 3 foul shots.

The two games raised his scoring average to 16.8 ppg, good for second on the team behind Ted Sochaski. He is shooting an impressive 85 percent from the foul line and seems to have his game back on the right track. The Bucs will need a good performance from Hutchison if the team hopes to do well in the tough month of January.

The best word to describe Ted Sochaski's play over the first four games is "solid". He is leading the team in scoring with a 22.3 ppg clip and is the clubs top rebounder. On the floor, you can see the confidence that the junior now has.

Sochaski tallied 22 points in the loss to Ridgewood, then came back with games of 25, 19 and 23 points in Belleville victories over Clifton, Queen of Peace and Kearny.

He stands a good chance of breaking the 1,000 career point mark in his junior year, a feat accomplished only once by a Belleville boys' basketball player (Phil Colalillo in 1983).

More importantly, Sochaski is becoming a team leader on the floor. His strong play on the boards and his smooth offensive performances make him a legitimate threat and already, many colleges have noticed his prowess. He is also well known to opposing teams' scouts and has become the man that has to be contained if a team has a chance to defeat Belleville.

All told, Sochaski has the tools necessary to be one of the best basketball players in Belleville history. If he continues to

After a rare week off

B-ball Bucs back to business

After a rare week off, the Belleville boys' basketball team got back to business last Tuesday when it battled NNJIL rival Bloomfield in a key battle at the Bengals' home court.

The Bucs will be home this afternoon for another critical test when powerful Eastside drops by for a 4 p.m. tip off. The pickings are no easier after Eastside for the Bucs. The team will travel to Teaneck this Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. tip off and will be in Montclair next Tuesday for a 4 p.m. start. Eastside, Teaneck and Montclair are expected to field powerful clubs, so the Bucs will find out how far they have advanced very quickly.

When we last left Don Roll and Company, the team had just captured the Tri County Holiday tourney, beating Queen of Peace in the first round and Kearny in the championship game to take home the trophy. The two victories on December 26 and 27 boosted the team record to 3-1, the Bucs finest start since the 1979-80 squad started off 3-0 and later were 9-3 in mid January.

Roll was not happy with taking a full week off from varsity competition, even though the team did get some good practice sessions in.

"When you're on a roll, you don't want to stop playing," the coach said. "The momentum we gained in the holiday tournament has subsided somewhat. We have been working in some new offenses, the North Carolina four corners and the Princeton slow offense. We've also been working on our motion offense and have been going back to fundamentals. However, I would have liked to play at least one game last week, I tried to line up a game, but most of the teams were in Christmas tournaments that extended into last week."

Belleville faced a critical early season test with Bloomfield last Tuesday. The Bengals are especially strong on its home court and this season, the team is playing its home games on the smaller floor at Bloomfield High because the main varsity court is under extensive repairs. Roll feels the small court is a definite advantage to the Bengals.

"We're going to practice in the junior high school a couple of days," the coach said. "We have to get used to playing on a small er floor, because it's a different type of contest. It's more up tempo and we have to be ready. Bloomfield is a good team."

The Bengals, who advanced to the Essex County Tournament finals last winter, have an experienced team back this season and are well disciplined on both sides of the floor. They are typical of the NNJIL teams that Belleville will face off with this January.

"Actually, we already have one conference win," Roll said, referring to his teams victory over Clifton in the second game of the season on December 22. "The next couple of games will be important."

Belleville has been receiving some good performances from key people in jumping out to the 3-1 start. Junior Ted Sochaski leads the team in scoring with a 22.3 ppg clip and is the clubs top rebounder.

Sochaski has looked very impressive in the early going and, believe it or not, doesn't have his offensive game in high gear yet.

Senior Bob Hutchison enjoyed a fantastic holiday tournament and raised his points per game average to an impressive 16.8, good for second on the team. Hutchison was named MVP of the tournament and has his outside shooting in high gear.

Junior Leon Puentes is enjoying a quiet, but impressive start to the season. The point guard is averaging nearly 14 points a game (13.8) and is shooting a sizzling 87 percent (13 for 15) from the foul line. As a matter of fact, the Bucs have been doing very well from the stripe in the early going.

Hutchison is shooting 85 percent (11 for 13), Sochaski, 74 percent (17 for 23), Chris Chiaromonte, 67 percent (4 for 6), Frank Morrell, 100 percent on 4 for 4 shooting and Chris Goldrick, 71 percent on 10 for 18. As a team, Belleville is shooting 69 percent from line, hitting 67 for 97.

On offense, Belleville is averaging 71.3 ppg and is giving up a little over 63 points (63.25) per outing on defense.

The next few games should give the Bucs a good idea of where they will fit in for the NNJIL schedule. There won't be an easy game on the slate, so the Bucs will have to be ready for some difficult assignments every game out.

Wrestling Rap

By Joe Piegario

Belleville's improving wrestling squad ran its record to 3-0 by beating two of the four major challenges on this year's schedule. A gut wrenching 30-28 squeaker over Edison High School was followed by a 41-20 knockout of a very good Roselle Park unit.

This year, the strength of the matmen has admittedly been the lower weights, notably 100 through and including 128. Against Edison's Eagles, the first three Buc grapplers were handled rather easily and Belleville found itself on the wrong end of a 10-0 score. Joe Perna lost a 4-1 decision, Mike Iuliano was beaten 6-2, and John Stampone suffered a 14-4 whipping. Joe Cerreto saved the sinking ship by scoring a 6-2 decision over Scott Gerba in the 121 pound bout. The comeback had begun.

Armando Nardone dominated Mike LaPosta for two periods before scoring an easy 16-1 Technical Fall victory. With the score now 10-9 in favor of Edison, things looked bleak for the Bucs. The 134 pound entry for the Eagles was Dave Snyder, fresh from winning the championship in the always difficult Warren Hills Christmas Tournament.

Eric Nazzola wrestled in his first full varsity season, scored the upset of the day as he used a tilt to score a near fall with 16 seconds left in the match to earn an exciting 7-6 decision.

Bucs squeeze by Edison then batter Roselle Park

140-pounder and co-captain Phil Zamloot manhandled Jeff Bond and ran up a 15-0 Technical Fall victory to stretch Belleville's lead to 18-10. Zamloot had Bond on his back on three separate occasions and was never challenged in the contest.

Edison's 147 pounder, Gerry Duhigg, is favored to earn a trip to Princeton in March to compete for a possible state title. It was no shock when he pinned Junior Nick Keykuran early in the second period. Duhigg's victory brought Edison back to within two points of the Bucs at 18-16.

What happened at 157 pounds however, was indeed a shock. Lou Lucante, last year's 170 pounder, has dropped to 157 this season with spectacular results. Lou used only 30 seconds in scoring a pin over Chris Lau and gave Belleville the lift it needed to win the dual meet.

Dawson Bloom and John Cerza were victims of first period falls, making the score 28-24 in favor of Edison going into the heavyweight match. In a style reminiscent of Hall of Fame heavyweight George D'Alesandro, current Buc heavy Marc Criscione brought the entire gym to its feet with a pin over Jack Lechelt 1:48 into the first period.

Criscione's pin stole a victory from Edison, capped a marvelous Buc comeback and sent the fans home with red faces, hoarse voices and elevated blood pressures.

Roselle Park, traditionally one of the top two or three teams in Union County, was expected to give Belleville as tough a time as did Edison High. What happened shocked the Bucs fans almost as much as it shocked Roselle Park's Panthers. Belleville was never threatened and waltzed away with an easy 41-20 victory. The win brought the home team's record to 3-0 and the Bucs should not be challenged again until they travel to Cedar Ridge on Jan. 30. As mentioned earlier, Belleville has only four real challenges on this year's regular season schedule. With Edison and Roselle Park out of the way, only Cedar Ridge and Bridgewater West block the path to an undefeated dual meet season.

Against Roselle Park, Joe Perna opened the proceedings with a hard fought 9-6 decision over Mike Siter. Now at 4-1 for the year, Perna is already the favorite to win a Dist. 7 crown in March.

At 107 pounds, Mike Iuliano rebounded nicely after his loss to Edison's Joe Duhigg by pinning Nick Florio at 2:36 of the second period. "Bulldog," as his teammates have called him for the past two years, still does not feel comfortable at 107 pounds. A few more second period falls should make him feel more at home in a short time.

John Stampone ran his season's log to 5-1 by pinning Paul Sweeney at 3:44 of the second period. Stampone also rebounded nicely from a decisive loss against Edison and should be one of Belleville's top winners by the end of the season.

The spotlight match of the day was between two star 121 pounders, Joe Cerreto of the Bucs and Scott Toy of the Panthers. The score was 8-3, the winner was Cerreto, but the outcome was never in doubt. Cerreto scored three takedowns and a near fall, while Toy's only points were scored on escapes freely given up by Mr. C.

By the way, Cerreto now owns a 5-1 mark for the season, but more importantly, he now stands 48-9-1 for his career, placing him in a tie for ninth place on the all time win list with Anthony Villano and Chris Tremel.

One of two undefeated Buc grapplers, 128 pounder Mondo Nardone looked bored as he scored another ho hum 16-1 Technical Fall, this time over Roselle Park's Joe Brady. Some of Nardone's matches are so one-sided, there may be a danger of overlooking how good he really is. With a 6-0 slate this year, Mondo is gearing his season for a better showing in the state tournament in Princeton.

Each season has someone who surprises the experts and pulls through with an important victory at the most unexpected time. This season, two such athletes are 134-pound Eric Nazzola and 157-pound Lou Lucante.

Nazzola is wrestling in his first full varsity campaign, although last year he made two brief appearances in the lineup, both pins. Eric is blessed with two assets that are impossible to teach, determination and courage. Determination has led him to be in the best condition of any member of the squad, save Mondo Nardone. His courage has allowed him to avoid two pins versus early season foes and to pull out a last second win against Edison. His 7-1 domination of Roselle Park's Rob Kinney only added to his already credible season.

Belleville's other surprise package is senior Lou Lucante, last year, Lou competed at 170 pounds, but was clearly overmatched against taller and heavier opponents. This season, he is at 157 pounds and becoming a force to be reckoned with. His 17-0 Technical Fall victory over Roselle Park's Mike Santora ran his record for the year to a gaudy 4-1 with three pins.

Co-captains Phil Zamloot and Marc Criscione both contributed to the Roselle Park massacre, but in different ways. Zamloot was forced to settle for a 1-1 tie against Phil Carpenter, but was clearly the victim of poor officiating. His bout seemed to give added incentive to the Bucs as Lucante soon followed with his 17-0 masterpiece.

Marc "the Bear" Criscione remained unbeaten at 6-0 by pinning highly regarded Joe Szewdo late in the second period. Big Marc has many challenges to face this season, but seems headed in the right direction. Already he has beaten three highly touted opponents (Szewdo, Nick Messina of Bloomfield and Jack Lechelt of Edison) and should continue his trek toward a Region 2 gold medal.

In other bouts, Nick Keykuran lost to Marc Casselli by a 16-0 score and Dawson Bloom lost a 15-0 decision to Chris Tokarski.

BUC NOTES: Last week, the Star-Ledger had the Bucs ranked 15th with a 1-0 record. High Point was 0-0 and ranked 19th. This week's rankings have Belleville at 2-0 and champions of the Bloomfield Tournament ranked 16th. High Point, which still is 0-0 and owns no tournament titles, is ranked 15th. You figure it out. Although Lou Lucante and Eric Nazzola wrestled magnificently and affected the outcome of both meets, Wrestler of the Week goes to Marc Criscione for his heart-stopping win against Edison and his demolition of Roselle Park's Joe Szewdo.

See you next week.

Columbia High snaps girls' b-ball streak

After posting one of its easiest victories in many seasons, the Belleville girls' basketball team had its three game winning streak snapped by Columbia High last Saturday afternoon.

The girls, now 3-3, looked to regroup last Tuesday when Bloomfield came to town for a 4 p.m. tip. This afternoon, Belleville will travel to Eastside for a 4 p.m. start and on Saturday, the girls play host to powerful Teaneck at 1:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, the team stays home to face a good Montclair team at 4.

Karen Fuccello's team breezed by Barringer, 49-6 on December 29, but fell to the Cougarettes of Columbia, 65-44 as the second half came crashing down on the locals.

"We ran into foul trouble," Fuccello said. "Four of our starters fouled out of the game. We played pretty well in the first half, but weren't able to carry it over."

Belleville did play well over the first 16 minutes, leading 13-12 after one and trailing by just two points, 27-25 at intermission. However, the second half proved to be an afternoon nightmare as Columbia outscored Belleville, 16-7 and 22-12 to pull away to a 21 point victory.

Stacey Johansen, the only starter not to foul out of the game, finished with 14 points. Laura Caruso, Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski all tallied eight. Carol Morrison finished with three, Maria Longobardi had two and Raquel Melson, one.

Once again, the girls were hampered by poor foul shooting. Belleville shot just 14 of 37 from the line, 23 points missed in a game where Belleville lost by 21.

The team was without the services of Judy Nehila, the leading scorer from last year. The junior swing has had recurring knee problems and could miss two weeks, or more, of action.

"Losing a player of Judy's calibre hurts," Fuccello said. "She was our leading scorer (last season) and knows what is going on out there. I really don't know how long she'll be out, but her knees have been giving her trouble, so it could be a while."

Earlier in the Christmas holiday, Belleville traveled to Newark and came away a very easy winner over Barringer, 49-6. Barringer, at one time, boasted one of the better girls' teams in Essex County, but it's definitely a rebuilding year at the school in 1986-87.

Fuccello played her junior varsity for most of the second half and a number of players got a chance to compete in a varsity game.

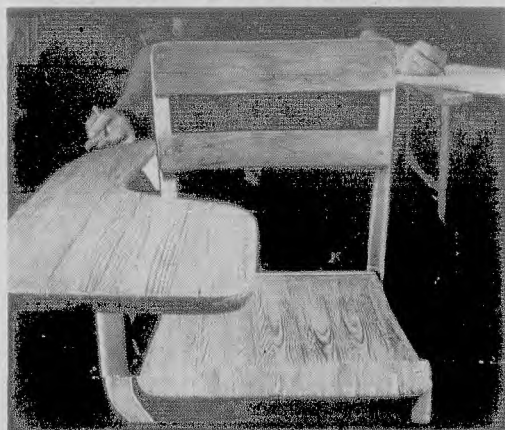

Once again, Johansen led the way, this time with 12 points. Edwards finished with nine, Longobardi had seven, Dondarski scored six, Caruso and Nehila tallied four each, Morrison, Thelina Espiritu and Shannon Corris had two points each and Melson closed with one.

After six games, Edwards leads the team in scoring with a 12.0 ppg average. Johansen now has her scoring average up to 10.0 and Dondarski is third at 7.1. In the free throw shooting range, Edwards has the team lead with 58 percent, followed by Nehila at 57 percent. As a team, Belleville is shooting just 42 percent from the line.

"We have to improve that stat," said Fuccello last Monday in practice. "I know I keep saying that, but we can't win a lot of games missing 20 to 25 foul shots. It's just a matter of concentration."

NOTHING IMPRESSES AN EMPLOYER LIKE DROPPING OUT OF SCHOOL EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE.

After several years of intense study, a lot of college graduates finally learn something. They're not qualified for the job they want.

Fact is, many graduates never find a career in their field of study. All their time spent in study. Not enough time in the field.

That's why there's a nationwide program for college students called Cooperative Education. It allows students to alternate studies at the college of their choice with paid, practical work experience in the career of their choice.

To participate in Co-op Education you don't need to fit into any particular socio-economic group. You don't need to be a straight "A" student either.

All you really need to be, is smart enough to leave school.

Track ends '86 on high note

The Belleville indoor track team ended 1986 on a positive note, competing in the Elizabeth Relays at the Dunn Center and performing very well.

The Bucs took part in the county relays yesterday at East Stroudsburg University and will be competing in the state relays on January 17.

Head coach John Tosato fielded a shot put relay, sprint medley, 880 relay and distance medley at the Elizabeth Relays, which were held on New Years Eve day.

"It was the first time we had a three man shot put relay," the coach said. "The kids did pretty well. We weren't able to field a girls team for the competition, however, because a couple of our girls were ill."

The shot put relay team combined for a throw of 107'6 1/2" with senior Gerard Corbo leading the way. Corbo threw 36'11" while Anthony La Vista finished with a throw of 36'5". JonPaul Lenczuk, another senior, placed third in the contingent with a strong toss of 34'2 1/2". For Corbo and La Vista, their performances were personal bests for the shot put.

The 880 relay team finished in 1:49.5. All four runners ran 220 yards for the Bucs. Jerry Padula, Mario Lemongello, Mike Di Biase and Jay Marchese were the competitors for Belleville.

The sprint medley, consisting of a quarter mile run, two 200 yard sprints and a half mile jaunt featured Di Biase, Marchese, Padula and Burden respectively. The foursome combined for a good time of 4:13.6.

In the distance medley, Burden ran the half mile, Rich Rummage the quarter mile, Dave Rosamilia the difficult three quarter mile and Bob Scheible finished with the mile run. The four men combined for a time of 13:47.0.

Tosato was planning to field the same medleys for the county relays and hopes his girls team will be back in the groove for the county and state meets. The coach has been happy with the performance of his athletes during the winter campaign and the remaining two months of work should put the team in good physical shape for the outdoor season which commences in early March.

Aries — March 21 to April 20
The re-evaluation time, the possibility of looking for a raise. A time for some local travel, within 200 miles. For those in business, this is the time to buy and sell. Wheel and deal time. Anybody in radio, television or advertising, this is the time when you shine the most.

Taurus — April 21 to May 21
Communications time. Being able to communicate long distance, and being successful. Your interest in the law is brought out here, reading about, or the possibility of looking at it from a standpoint of using it against someone. Also some type of vacation planning at this time.

Libra — September 24 to Oct. 23
The opportunity of visiting people, or people coming to see you. Getting in touch with family and friends, a possibility of a change of residence is here. A time for a change. You may also, if you're living with someone, get down to some serious business about your situation.

Scorpio — October 24 to Nov. 22
A lot of mental restlessness. A period of activity. Doing too many things at once. This is the time for going out to different places, clubs, meeting people, communications with the mind and other people's minds. It is a time when you gather up your thoughts, put them down on paper and work on them another time.

Dawn
on you

Horoscope for the week of January 8 to 15
By Dawn Weigl

Gemini — May 22 to June 21
This is the time that you are most accident prone, so stress to be very cautious. Watch out here for love letters, also very strange phone calls. This is the time when your mind and another person's mind can meet and have a tremendous effect on each other mentally.

Cancer — June 22 to July 23
The visiting of doctors or dentists at this time. Making sure you are in good health. If you have anything to do with the law, now is the time to take care of it. If you are having problems with your lover, this is the time when you can intellectually work them out. Again, anything to do with the body, now is the time to work on it.

Leo — July 24 to August 23
You're very concerned now with getting the body in shape. Dieting not necessarily to lose weight, but watching what you eat. New offers and opportunities to do with work can come to you at this time. Watch your health, make sure your body gets the rest and relaxation it needs.

Virgo — August 24 to Sept. 23
This is your time to move. Your mind is definitely on romance. The baby-making time. So if you don't want the little babies at this time take the precautions. You may also take a small trip at this time, with someone you like. This is the fun time, so relax and let yourself go.

Sagittarius — Nov. 23 to Dec. 21
Your ideas will float around money. This is going to have a lot to do with financial gains, the signing of agreements, the purchasing of goods, the collecting, sending or paying of bills. This is the time to enter into business deals. The starting time, the planning time.

Capricorn — Dec. 22 to Jan. 20
You're thinking of your image, your public image. You may find yourself jumping from one issue to the next, finding it hard to settle your mind. There can be a lot of nervousness and or anxiety at this time, so try to relax. Don't get caught up in doing things too fast. The problem at this time will be the tendency to overlook things.

Aquarius — Jan. 21 to Feb. 19
This is the time to get into both the body and the mind. Secret learning, secret conclusions. You learn things, but keep them to yourself, not wanting others to know just yet. Watch out for romantic entanglements, ones you do not want anyone to know about. People may come to you for help at this time.

Pices — Feb. 20 to March 20
This is the get-in-touch-with-people time. Possibly someone needing a favor. Getting involved with the community. You will be reflecting upon what has happened in the past. Meeting a lot of new people. Helping out the younger generation. Getting involved with charity, and the helping of others.

talk of the town...

Compiled by Christopher Bifani

STREET TALK: Belleville's biggest problem is...

By Howard Klausner

The new year still has most of its days and seasons ahead of us, and as the citizens of our town bundle up against the cold, count their blessings and look to the future, the question arises:

"What is the biggest problem, that faces our town this coming year?"

The question brought a variety of responses, and expressed people's feelings towards their community as well.

For some, there were defects to be corrected. For others, there were no serious problems at all.

These were some of the public's opinions, in the opening days of 1987:

Carolyn Holton, Smallwood Avenue: Taxes. I don't know how it can be resolved. I know they do not clean up the leaves or cut down tree limbs, and we're losing some beautiful trees.

Joe Denoia, Fairway Avenue: The taxes are too high. We're moving out. My mother is 70, and we have to move out because taxes are too high.

Adele Serritella, Belleville Avenue: Drugs. I know people who take it, and who know where to get it. I don't like it and I think it's getting worse. Even some of the parents sell it, I hear.

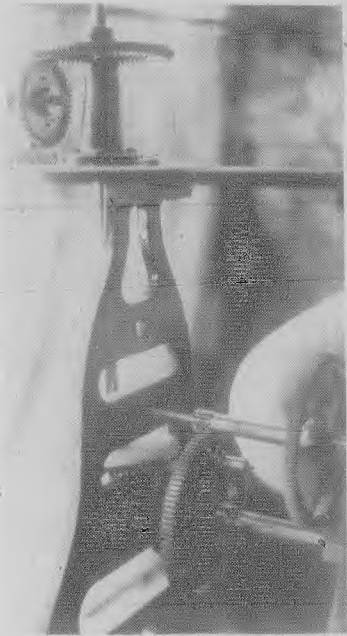

Hector Miranda, Cedar Hill Avenue: I don't see any problems. Everything in Belleville is fine.

Vito Andreola, Branch Brook Gardens: They need a 300-unit senior citizens development, so the elderly can live in Belleville.

Town Hall clock to tick again

Tick of the town...

Sometimes in October or November, say Belleville Town Hall officials, the old Town Hall clock stopped ticking. Getting it fixed, however, is not as easy as it seems. It turns out that very few people fix this century-old model of which less than 100 exist today. One company which does do the work is the Watch Clock and Jewelry Repair firm, headed by Andres Braun of Passaic. Braun told the Times the elaborate old fashioned machinery will have to be disassembled and cleaned piece by piece before it can work again. The old clock should again be ticking by the end of the month.

Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

"What is the difference between an appraisal and a market analysis?" — J. Vallo, Clifton.

Many times, homeowners want to get an idea of what their home is worth, for any of a variety of reasons. Perhaps they are thinking of moving, or refinancing, or perhaps they are just plain curious. In these instances, a real estate agent who knows the area will, in most cases, be happy to pay you a visit and perform a market analysis.

The market analysis utilizes one of the most commonly accepted approaches to determining value: the comparable sales approach. This method of determining value is basically a two-step process. First the agent will visit the subject property and make a detailed survey of it and the surrounding neighborhood. Secondly, he compares his findings with records kept in his office of recent sales of comparable properties. These records indicate to him what buyers have been paying for similar homes in the area. By analyzing this data, and making necessary adjustments for pluses and minuses, he can make a fairly close estimate of market value. In most cases this service is performed free of charge, with the hopes that you will conduct your future real estate business with that agency.

The real estate appraisal, however, is much more serious in nature. For one thing, the reasons for appraisals usually include: estate settlement, divorce, foreclosure, tax appeals, etc. You can see that when the motive for determining value shifts from a general interest to legal consideration, it becomes necessary to rely on professionally prepared documentation which accurately accounts for the opinions rendered by the appraiser as, in many cases, a court appearance may be necessary.

Also, appraisals are almost invariably performed on a fee basis, which demands of the appraiser a greater degree of care and expertise in rendering his opinion of value.

Some agents can perform both services, though in legal matters care should be taken to obtain a qualified professional appraiser.
