Rash of crimes near freeway

Couple robbed at gunpoint

By Christopher Bifani

The incidents are alarming. A couple is robbed at gunpoint in broad daylight in the Grand union parking lot. A young woman's car is hit and then stolen at gunpoint. A moving car is fired on. Another car is broken into and relieved of a $700 radio.

These are but a few of the crimes being perpetrated on or around Belleville's stretch of Route 21, known as "the getaway route" among area law enforcement authorities.

In the daylight incident, which occurred Saturday, February 7 at around 4PM, a Kearny couple told police they were carrying Grand Union groceries to their car when a male described as black, 5'10" and 150 pounds revealed a small, black handgun saying, "Don't run! Give me the chains and rings!"

Russell Harding, 38 and Pamela Harding, 41 said they complied with the gunman's demands and subsequently relinquished $80 in cash, an 18 karat gold chain and their wedding bands.

Despite Route 21's reputation as a getaway route, the gunman fled north onto Main Street and left on Little Street, in a waiting getaway car driven by an accomplice. The vehicle was described as a 1982 Oldsmobile Delta, grey. The gunman was described as wearing a light colored jacket and a cap.

Investigating the case are Detectives Edgar Panier and Vincent Cappetta.

The car theft incident occurred a week earlier, on February 2 at around 6PM.

Delia Fuenticilla, 25, of Nutley told Belleville Police that her vehicle was robbed at gunpoint after it was hit by the suspect's car and she had pulled over to exchange insurance information.

Near the intersection of Main and Little Streets, Fuenticilla reported, she stepped out of her car and was pushed aside by a man described as being black, 5'4", and weighing about 125lbs. She said the man carried a small black handgun.

The suspect then drove off in Fuenticilla's car, a beige 1984 BMW coupe. The suspect's car, believed to be a Toyota, was driven away by an accomplice.

The Commons Apartments near the Nutley border have also been the scene of crimes. Most recently, a $700 Nakamichi cassette deck was stolen from a 1985 Volkswagen Jetta.

The owner of the car, Cathleen Sheldon, 23, said the unit was taken on the evening of February 2, and that her passenger side door was damaged by the break-in.

It's about time — The town clock was out of commission for more than three months, but is now keeping time again following repairs by clockmaker Andres Braun of Passaic, his son Ruben and his son-in-law Scott Smith. Pictured above, Braun and Mayor Michael Marotti look out from the Town Hall balcony. Below, the ornate clock as seen from Washington Avenue.

It's "Doc" Ellis Field now!

Commissioners name H.S. field

By Christopher Bifani

The football field at Municipal Stadium is now the William "Doc" Ellis Field, following a unanimous vote by the Board of Commissioners at the February 10 town meeting.

William "Doc" Ellis was trainer for the BHS Buccaneers football team for many years until his untimely death late last year. After Ellis' passing, a move to rename Municipal Stadium was begun by the Belleville Varsity Club, a group of former BHS football athletes, and other friends of the "Doc."

However, there was opposition in town government circles to renaming the stadium in honor of Ellis, and a compromise was sought. Statues and monuments were discussed by those most endeared to the Doc Ellis Memorial cause, but many felt that these kinds of remembrances would not be significant enough to do justice to the devotion Ellis displayed on the field.

The compromise, which many "Doc" supporters feel to be the perfect tribute, was to name just the field in honor of William Ellis. So it's "Doc" Ellis Field in Municipal Stadium.

Buzz Voga, of Cortlandt Street, was perhaps the most persistent supporter of renaming the stadium to pay tribute to "Doc" Ellis. In the February 5 edition of the Belleville Times, Voga wrote, "Let's not forget all that Bill 'Doc' Ellis did for the youth of Belleville, over the many years he served as their trainer."

Then, Voga went on to suggest a compromise solution in case the commissioners and townspeople were against renaming the entire facility.

"A second suggestion," Voga wrote, "would be to put Bill 'Doc' Ellis Field below the Belleville Municipal Stadium, thus not completely changing the stadium name, and also giving recognition to one who really deserves it."

"What about it, Town Fathers," Voga concluded. Apparently, the town fathers thought it to be a good idea!

In other business, the Board of Commissioners voted unanimously to put the finished Belleville Public Safety Building plans out to bid, authorizing public notices to this end in local newspapers.

As with any new development in this ongoing municipal construction drama, the move to put the project to bid was not without controversy.

Vincent Frantantoni, president of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, asked about options in the bid specifications which might make the public confused about County politicians: are they 'Wessexist'?

Bifani on...
ESSEX

Last summer Governor Thomas Kean signed a proclamation announcing to the county and the state the rich cultural and historical heritage of West Essex, fondly called "Wessex" by the county's daily newspaper and, we suspect, by the county's upper crust.

Although there is certainly a west side of Essex, no one I've talked to is exactly sure where the east side of Essex ends and the west side begins. Suffice to say, however, that Belleville is definitely not among the lucky municipalities to be eligible for Wessex status. Montclair, despite its old money roots, is iffy and even Verona might have a hard time portraying itself as a true Wessex town.

Towns which would definitely qualify as real honest-to-goodness

Wessex municipalities would be Roseland, Essex Fells and Livingston, of course. Toss in a few Caldwells, and a Fairfield and that pretty well rounds out the list of Wessex sure-bets.

Now everyone knows that Livingston is Governor Kean's hometown. That makes him a lifelong Wessexonian. Wessexer? Wessexite? Whatever nametag this out-towner prefers, he's obviously, lovingly, 'Wessexist' (Wessexist! Now I've gone too far...) even though he's a pretty good champion of fair play at the state level.

But wait, it gets even 'wessier'. Wessexism, it seems, has now taken hold of our westerly mayors. Less than one year after the reinstatement of the Essex County Conference of Mayors, a new - and separate - group exclusively of Wessex mayors has launched. As a matter of fact, they held their first well-covered meeting last week.

While these Wessex mayors stress that the group "should not be construed as a withdrawal from the county-wide mayor's conference," it nevertheless smells like a snub. Informal or not, some mayors (like our own Mayor Marotti or neighboring Newark's Sharpe James) are automatically excluded from this rich town roundtable.

I guess on the surface it all seems quite innocent. So what if the Governor stresses the historical significance of one side of the county,

Belleville Reformed Church celebrating 290th anniversary

The Belleville Reformed Church is celebrating their 290th anniversary this year. The church is the oldest in the town of Belleville and was established in 1697. Settled by the Dutch it was the only language of the church until 1794.

The Old Church with its congregation included many prominent citizens of the town and created an interesting and colorful history in the town of Belleville.

Many programs are planned for this anniversary year. The first is a covered dish supper to be held on Friday, February 20 at 6:30 p.m.

Anyone wishing to attend may call Mrs. Wittlinger 759-2207, Mrs. Schwenk 751-2262 or Mrs. Davenport 759-4039 for reservations. Following the dinner there will be an exhibit of historical artifacts and pictures of Old Belleville and the church.

China bells and ironstone mugs with pictures of the church and year will be on display for purchase.

equalling 50 percent of the interest due. In addition, they could be criminally prosecuted and face stiff fines and prison sentences, upon conviction.

In addition to being assessed the tax they owe, these individuals will also be subject to a 25% late filing penalty, a 5% negligence penalty and an added-on negligence penalty.

This year the IRS expects to assess such New Jersey malingers about $70 million in additional taxes and penalties. Also, about 150,000 New Jerseyans will be assessed around $75 million this year for failing to include on their return all of the income that was reported to the IRS by payors of taxable income.

Persons who fail to pay the assessments are subject to enforced collection action, including the seizure of personal property and levies of bank accounts.

The IRS said that these procedures are undertaken after repeated written requests and personal contacts fail to gain voluntary filing and the payment of overdue taxes.

Building to be put to bid with the commissioners over the value of condominium ratables. When Mayor Michael Marotti replied to a citizen's query that recent condominium ratables will total at least $10 million, Frantantoni later stated that "10 million in ratables is not $10 million in income for the town." He said the actual income would be about $637,000 and added that from that gross figure would have to come the money for additional services these condo units will require.

Frantantoni wasn't the only Concerned Citizens leader who was at odds with the commissioners February 10.

Gabriel Nazzola, vice president of the CCB and also considering a bid for a commission seat, had a heated exchange with Mayor Marotti over the adequacy of The Belleville Redevelopment Agency, which was begun several years ago.

Marotti and the board, and Nazzola is a director of.

"You created the Belleville Redevelopment as a sham," Nazzola charged.

But Marotti was unfazed. "How many meetings have you had lately? How's the attendance at your meetings?" he asked. Nazzola responded that the Belleville Redevelopment Agency had not met "in the last four or five months."

The Belleville Redevelopment Agency is back in the township news for a meeting it has scheduled for March which is to bring potential big-time developers to Town hall to meet with the commissioners.

The plan is to build several more floors on top of the forthcoming public safety building, DiRuggiero said, which would house the town's elderly.

Nazzola explained that the developers would build the project for free, rent it to the town (and the elderly occupants), and then turn the building over to the town after all the depreciation allowances had expired.

Some townspeople in attendance openly ridiculed the plan, while others wanted to hear more about it.

Nazzola, who along with Redevelopment Agency Director Joseph Dasaro is sponsoring the developer's meeting here, did not express support nor disdain for the plan saying only that it's "an idea."

Richard Yanuzzi, a defeated candidate in last year's school board election, said "Get rid of the Redevelopment Agency. They don't have meetings. They shouldn't be meeting developers, especially at this stage." Other citizens echoed his sentiments.

"We're thinking about it," the Mayor said regarding the termination of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

Sam Papa, a citizen who has already declared his candidacy, took the floor to ask the commissioners what the procedure is to have a referendum put on the ballot asking voters to decide on adopting a mayor and council form of government.

According to the Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood, the first step is a petition and then a charter study commission, and then it can be put on the ballot.

Papa said he became endeared to the idea of a change in Belleville's government after reading "Golden Comments" by Jim Golden in the February 5 Belleville Times. In that column, Golden asserted that the commission form of government is outdated, and that the commissioners run their departments like "five little dictatorships."

Ironically, Golden is a former Belleville commissioner.

"Let's put it on the ballot," Papa said of a change-in-government referendum.

Snow removal was again a topic at a town meeting, as Frank Jablonski criticized Commissioner of Public Works Joseph Grande for having two men in every plow truck when "nobody in any town, the Parkway, or anywhere has two guys going out in one truck."

Grande replied that other departments in other towns do sometimes send two men out in a plow truck, and that it's safer if two men go out together. He added that one man once suffered a heart attack while plowing.

John Alati

Every executive should be as lucky and smart as County Executive Nick Amato.

This past week, County Executive Amato introduced his new Chief of Staff, John M. Alati.

Alati is uniquely qualified to discharge the awesome responsibility of his new office. Amato and Alati come to county government with years of experience between them. Alati has been a member of the Essex County Board of Freeholders, an executive staff member of the New Jersey Assembly, Executive Director of the Essex County Improvement Authority and held down the job of coordinating all fiscal activities of federal and state programs for Essex County. In that position, he was also responsible for the preparation of budgets, maintenance of financial records and development of reports to insure compliance with federal and state regulations.

A Villanova University graduate with a B.S. degree in business administration, John Alati brings to his new assignment professional experience in government — and with people — that will equip him to assist County Executive Amato in the difficult days ahead to resolve a budget that starts with a $10 Million deficit from last year and another $10 Million built into the present document.

John Alati has the expertise of government and business — a background which is tailor-made for his new job. The people of Essex County can go to sleep nights with the knowledge that Alati and Amato will produce no surprises for them in the morning. There will be no bills hidden in the lower drawer of a desk — away from the prying eyes of our taxpayers. With Amato and Alati, we are assured of government in the sunshine — what we see is what we will get. Alati will need the cooperation of all county employees in order to succeed in his job. Those among us who know him hold him in high esteem. A person of impeccable integrity, Alati is a county treasure — and it was a brilliant stroke for County Executive Amato to draft the services of John Alati. The people of Essex County are entitled to the best and in John Alati, we are assured of that fact.

Foil the Highwaymen

Talk spread through town like a high-speed police chase. Modern day highwaymen are terrorizing Route 21, people said, a Nutley guy was shot at... cars are being stolen... stay off of Route 21 at night.

This highway, which promises to bring to town more commerce and ratables when it is extended and renovated, is also bringing in riff-raff. It seems a few urban road rats are learning to work our lonely stretch of highway to their advantage. They probably know every ramp and access road inside out, switch cars often, and know full well that cops are hardly ever on Route 21.

Oh, we observed a late-night spotlight checkpoint near the Belleville Nutley line, but that was after the rash of highway crime caused public outrage.

Before that, police patrols on Route 21 have been far and few between.

The highway, in fact, has the reputation of being the Essex equivalent of a German autobahn. Through Belleville and Nutley the road surface is quite smooth and there are some motorists, with high performance cars or busy schedules, who welcome the scarce police coverage.

But public safety is the primary concern, and a plan must be implemented immediately to foil the highwaymen.

First, we call on all Essex officials to provide police patrols from all police branches our taxes pay for. Through state taxes we pay the state police. We call for steady state police patrols. Our freeway should be given the same quality of state police protection as the toll highways to the east and west.

Through county taxes we pay for county police.

Forget that Route 21 is a state road and not a county road. Crooks don't know the difference. The road is in Essex. And Essex taxpayers and voters are being terrorized.

With all the money we pay in county taxes, surely there is enough money to send an Essex police patrol (or two) running back and forth between Route 22 and Route 3. If not round the clock, then at least during the most important eight hours: 10PM to 6AM. We call on our elected and appointed county officials to work together toward implementing steady nightly patrols.

Finally, we call on our own police force to incorporate swings through Route 21 during regular patrols of that side of town. The frequent presence of local police patrols on or near the freeway may deter criminals from choosing this area as a crimesite.

If talk spreads through criminal circles that the town police are checking the highway out more often, that a county patrol (or two) is constantly going up and down the highway along with more state troopers, the would-be highwaymen will begin to get the picture.

But increased police protection, richly deserved thanks to our generous tax support, is only one part of the total Route 21 solution.

Our "21st Century Highway" must be maintained and prepared now to deter crime. Lighting must be improved, emergency phones must be strategically placed. Well-lit emergency pedestrian exits should be installed between vehicle exits.

At the very least, all the burned-out lights should be replaced and the emergency phones installed. Between Belleville and Nutley there are no phones for stranded motorists. But there are nearly fifty burned-out streetlight bulbs. This is intolerable.

Route 21, for better or for worse, is Belleville's only freeway and it can be the key to 21st century prosperity or the catalyst for a painful decade of rising crime.

People with heart...

To the editor:

My dear wife Dorothy Freid has the job (no pay) to get people to deliver meals to the shut-ins in Belleville. On the day when the snow storm hit our town nobody was able to get out to deliver the meals. My wife called forty five people and told them "no meals today."

A few days later the women who drive to deliver meals couldn't go out, their cars wouldn't start or they couldn't get out of the house.

My wife, bless her, took a chance on calling Jackie Rega and without another word said I will be glad to take the meals around to the people, so he picked up a friend named Jerry Nemminger and they delivered the meals not only that day but each day after.

My sweet wife has a hard job trying to get people to deliver these meals. Mr. Rega was a life saver, because if he didn't take those meals around the people would be eating toast and coffee or tea every day.

I work every day driving for a man who has multiple sclerosis. I am 66 years old and do the best I can.

So a big thank you again Jackie and Jerry — two people with a heart.

Temperatures rising...

To the editor:

Spring 1987 is just around the corner and in Belleville, more than the outdoor temperature will be rising. The patience and tempers of Belleville residents are once again being tested by our five commissioners.

In May 1984, the High School auditorium was packed with residents protesting a proposal to designate our town a "blighted area." The protest continued, leading to another "packed house" at School No. 7 in March 1985. The "blight" issue was defeated in May 1985, however, on that same night our commissioners had the arrogance to ram through a 10 million dollar bond ordinance that not only would have bankrupted our town, but it was also passed in violation of State Statute.

The citizens of Belleville continued to revolt in increasing numbers. Town Meetings were moved to the High School to accommodate the hundreds of citizens who came to voice their displeasure with the handling of tax dollars. The grandiose five story triangular folly was defeated and the project was reduced to a Police Station.

It was "temporarily" reduced to a five million dollar figure by a resolution. This was also illegal. State law requires an ordinance to be amended by another ordinance when "matters of substance" are changed. Certainly, when you switch from a Municipal Complex including a five story building, multi-level parking garage, and 10 million dollars, to a Police Station for 5 million, you have changed "matters of substance." The reason the Commissioners used a resolution instead of an ordinance, was to deprive the citizens of their right to petition. By the way, they never rescinded the 10 million dollar bond ordinance.

Over $400,000 of your hard earned tax dollars were wasted on their ill-conceived original plan. To date, about $200,000 has already been paid to Architects and Engineers for the new Police Station. All we have for all this money, so far, are plans and two lovely models. Expensive "hobby," these Commissioners have.

In December, we were told that plans were 90% complete and would be ready to go out for bids on January 5, 1987. We are now told that this date has been pushed up to March 12, 1987. Why the stall?

If our sources are correct, we believe our big spenders are having difficulty staying within the budget, as they add on parking decks, sewer lines, and mechanical equipment they may have under budgeted. Oh well, what's another 87 point tax increase.

It'll be an interesting spring as the picket signs may once again blossom with the tulips and the azaleas.

Vincent J. Frantantoni

Rightist ideology and Iranscam

To the editor:

It should be quite obvious, by now, that Ronald Reagan's preoccupation with "right-wing" political ideology has led to the Iranscam problems his administration is facing today.

The President can restore his credibility and the public's faith in his administration, simply by dismissing all of his right-wing advisers and replacing them with political moderates.

Political moderates tend to possess a sense of honesty and the moral responsibility, sadly lacking in Presidential advisers of the right-wing kind.

The hyperborean blasts of winter accompanied by deep drifts of snow, despite their inconvenience and discomfort of subfreezing temperatures, proved no match for the dedicated workers of the local Public Works Department in battling the sequence of heavy snows which left our streets impassable.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Under the guidance of Supervisor Jackie Gilbert, his gallant forces toiled through the night plowing and salting our streets repeatedly to keep them open for necessary traffic for pedestrians and emergency equipment.

This storm, the worse in four years, proved a real challenge to the men and equipment of Commissioner Joe Grande's Public Works Department and they were not found wanting, having performed in commendable fashion...a tribute to their dedication.

The transcending high point of exhilaration on what would have been a drab marooned Sabbath was the TV telecast of the football Super Bowl victory of our GIANTS stellar win over Denver and the Tuesday celebration at the televised presentation from the Meadowlands stadium.

Our bedraggled taxpayers are to be put on notice that legal taxes due Feb. 1, will be charged interest on all due bills not paid after Feb. 10. Despite the substantial hikes in local taxes in all Essex County communities, loss of revenue sharing plays havoc with New Jersey's municipalities confronted with double-digit property tax increases, the layoff of many employees and curtailment of services.

Municipalities throughout the state are threatened if state funds are not found to replace lost federal revenue sharing money. Most layoffs and biggest increases will occur in the state's larger cities, but, the problem also confronts rural and suburban towns.

Governor Kean's annual message included no proposals for improving the mounting financial problems of the state's 567 municipalities. He warned that "Cities must remain subject to the vagaries of state and federal budgets." His remarks evoked an outcry from many big-city mayors including Newark Mayor Sharpe James who said the speech left him "Disappointed and frustrated." He predicted, "We will see utter chaos in our cities in 1987 unless something is done by the state."

Bloomfield Town Clerk John Galvin predicted a tax increase of 17 points if new funds are not found to replace the loss of $760,000. In East Orange, where 1,200 employees have received layoff notices, Joseph Jenkins, the business administrator, complains that officials were "caught between a rock and a hard place not knowing what's going to happen."

The Governor wants repeal of the property tax credit (Ford Act) which relieves the average taxpayer of paying about $65 on state income tax. He thinks that would generate $154 million next year to cover the $67 million in revenue sharing money the municipalities lost.

Senate President John Russo (D-Ocean) rejects Community Affairs Commissioner Leonard Coleman's assertion that Kean has been committed to the repeal of the Ford bill and that a crisis is needed before the Legislature will act.

"This is bull, don't put the blame on the Legislature. Tell us, Governor, what you want," said Russo. Such an announcement is unlikely, because Kean's annual message included proposals which Russo claims could raise taxes $250 million. Russo charged that several years ago Trenton took charge of distributing the gross receipts and franchise taxes that formerly were paid directly to municipalities and he wants the revenue generated by surcharges on utility bills, once again be given exclusively to municipalities. We agree.

Essex budget is fat from years of excess

By Russell Roemmele

Most ordinary taxpayers have little knowledge of how county government spends the multi-millions federal and state aid it receives and the multimillions it receives in levies imposed on each property owner with Essex. To be sure, the county politicians, by and large, do not want the average taxpayer knowing what happens to the loot. Otherwise, battalions of disgruntled homeowners and businesses would descend upon High Street and Springfield Avenue in Newark and begin anew the Battle of Lexington right there.

County Executive Nicholas Amato, elected as a tax protest candidate, and the nine chosen freeholders, each of whom says he is "for the common man," are supposed to be examining the 1986 budget and the 1987 budget requests, apparently, although we have not heard a strong commitment to this end, in search of a diet program to reduce excessive county spending.

To explain each item in the county budget would take days of writing and reading. Essentially, the county budget has become so fat that ordinary diet programs will not work; this fatman needs instant surgery to remove the layers upon layers of excess built into the budget for years.

In my previous articles on the county budget, I wrote about a few examples of the federal and state money being pumped into the county. In this column I shall go over just a handful of the spending programs in county government. If you want to know more about them, you have to get the official county budget. Even the smaller printed budget is perplexing, however, for it does not designate salary and benefits, by individual jobs and it does not describe exactly what is covered by "other expenses," department by department. The freeholders have a more detailed copy, which I have seen, but from the statements of the freeholders themselves, I doubt they read the voluminous details of how the county spends our tax money.

Are you aware that in 1986 the county appropriated $116,548 for its Affirmative Action Office? Do you know the county freeholders needed for their office $941,667 in 1986 compared with $783,072 in 1985? The county clerk's office went up $81,000 in one year? Computers and CPR operators $337,000 higher? Public information (PR) up $17,000? Division of Treasury up $150,000? Department of Public Works from $18 million to $20 million (so why did it not clear snow from Broad Street)? Division of Roads and Bridges up by more than $1.3 million (and why is JFK Parkway always a mess)? And Department of Planning — get this! — from $525,000 or so to $899,000 or so (what the hell do they plan anyway)?

Insurance went up dramatically in the county. But, hold it, this is not designated for commercial liability, which rates have skyrocketed everywhere. No, the big increase in the county insurance budget, about $3.5 million in 1986, was designated as "Group Insurance Plan for Employees." It would be revealing to find out what this category covers, the sins therein.

Law enforcement, especially judges and prosecutors, are usually treated by the media with the reverence due sacred cows, but, having no crime in my life, I can rage against the $1.7 million in higher costs to run the Prosecutor's Office and the nearly $2 million more to satisfy the judges and their staffs. For some strange reason — that some young reporter should research — while these noble protectors of law and order got more money, the allocation set aside in 1986 for jurors fees went down! Fewer jurors? Fewer cases? What?

Although Essex County has a Sheriff's Department, the county freeholders believe we need still more protection than the sheriff's posse and the local cops. Therefore, in 1986 they spent $3,930,153 for Division of County Police — which police are not to be confused with the prison guards.

If you believe the liberal media, you will have a guilty conscience no doubt. You are, they say, an insensitive, suburban middle-class guy who works for a living. You do not do enough to assist welfare recipients, the homeless (when they are not in $1,000 a room for a month hotels), and the drunks and drug addicts whom you and Ronald Reagan have created. Yet, in 1986, the county budget to which you contribute in property taxes appropriated $5 million more than in 1985 for Health and Welfare, or $11,197,150... one-third of ALL county spending!

You heard how tough things were in the county in 1986, right? Wrong, because the county freeholders still managed to spend about $250,000 more last year than the year previously on the county parks. And look at what has been done to Branch Brook Park!

As I said, I could fill a complete issue of this paper with details of the county spending. For example, in 1986 the bite for the county bonds rose from $13,964,190 to $22,985,886? And THEY dare talk about the federal deficit! Remember, a bond is spending for today's needs (and luxuries), through indebted future generations.

Originally, I had hoped to reprint the page after page of gifts made by the freeholders to private groups for amounts ranging from $5,000 to $90,000. Some of these gifts are to a worthy cause (cerebral palsied children, for example), but many of them are earmarked for causes that individuals or groups should pay for (New Jersey State Opera, $50,000, for instance.) It is not that these causes — including opera, a love of mine — are undeserving of financial assistance; but it is questionable to use public funds for private ventures. Where do the politicians draw the line? Why should working middle-class folks be assessed for programs which, generally, are for select groups (like the Newark South Ward Y.M.C.A. or United Labor Agency of The Whole Theatre or La Casa de Don Pedro, whatever that is)?

Prediction for 1987: The biggest selling book on the market — maybe even a candidate for the Book of the Month Club — will be "How You Can Get Your County To Lose Weight." I fear, alas, it would be banned in Essex County.

Wessex elitism lives

and not the other? So what if people on the less fortunate side deem that to be one-sided, lopsided, and gee-whiz, maybe even shortsighted? Big deal, so a few west side mayors want to get together and discuss issues particular to their region? What the heck, right? Wrong.

Beneath the surface, these political stirrings amount to nothing less than a psychological secession from the county, and a disturbing elitism that's likely to reopen old rifts between east and west, poor and rich, black and white.

Wessex elitism was popularized by the classic Phillip Roth novel "Goodbye Columbus," which was set in the Essex County of the late fifties. As most readers know, the plot concerned a bittersweet romance between a poor Newark man and rich Short Hills woman. Short Hills, perhaps the finest neighborhood in Livingston, is the epitome of Wessex. Newark, on the other hand, is the epitome of what's not Wessex. In his novel, Roth used the difference between the two characters' environments as a wedge driven between them.

It is a wedge which still exists today; a wedge many say is driving deeper and deeper all the time.

It's an unwritten, uncharted but prevalent line which appears on no map, but is firmly rooted in the minds of Essexonians on both sides.

It's a tale of two counties. The distinction of Wessex as being separate from the poorer, urbanized east side of the county serves to lump Newark and its Essex neighbors (Bloomfield, East Orange, Irvington, and us) into a dirty little category of our own and leaves the first line of outer-towns (like Nutley, Montclair and Maplewood) as better but not quite the best.

I see this revival of Wessex elitism as a political time-bomb that can weaken this county at home and on the state level if it's not nipped in the bud now.

It can lead to infighting between freeholders, disagreement among our powerful state delegation, and one big headache for the fledgling Amato administration.

Here's a gentleman who wants nothing more than to lead with county-wide cooperation, and waiting in the wings is the spectre of Wessex elitism, threatening to create our own Mason-Dixon line, some mythical right and wrong side of the tracks, running down the middle of Essex County.

Last Week County Executive Amato and Freeholder President Thomas Giblin presided over a meeting which included all four Essex senators and all eight Essex assembly delegates. At meeting's end all twelve Trenton lawmakers agreed to support the Essex administration's call for more state aid to help the county through its current fiscal misfortunes.

This is the kind of unity which must be carefully nurtured and maintained as it is certainly more productive than proclaiming one half of the county to be 'more equal' than the other or branching off for country-clubby conferences.

Instead of branching off, the Wessex mayors would do better to rejoin their eastern colleagues and take a cue from the Essex legislators: Line up behind the new Essex administration for the good of the whole county, America's oldest county, the one that's slowly making a comeback and can't afford to play both ends against the middle.

CONTRIBUTIONS ARE STILL FULLY
TAX DEDUCTIBLE

It's time to open an Individual Retirement Account, or add to your existing one.

The new tax law will limit eligibility for IRA benefits for tax year 1987 and beyond.

But for now you may still receive the maximum benefits on your investment. That means you can contribute up to $2,000 to your IRA and deduct the full amount from your 1986 tax return. Married couples filing jointly may deduct contributions of up to $2,250 and working couples may still take a full deduction of $4,000.

Nutley Savings has a variety of IRA plans which pay the highest market interest rates and are designed to meet your individual needs.

Remember, this may be the last year you have to receive the maximum benefits on your investment. Stop in and see one of our IRA experts. They'll show you how to make the most of your Individual Retirement Account.

talk of the town...

Belleville's Master Plan has been in effect since 1976. It includes land use, community facilities, parks, recreation and circulation (traffic flow). It was updated in 1982 and is due to be updated again in 1988. The new element mandated in the Master Plan update is to show the type of housing being planned for Belleville Township, but it's aim is for communities to plan properly for affordable housing.

"We met the deadline of Sept. 3rd for filing our intention to comply with the Council on Affordable Housing's mandate that we have a plan for affordable housing," said Joseph Doyle, Planning Board Chairman, "but, we included an appeal to have an adjustment regarding the number of units all-located. We have appealed our allocation of 162 units."

"In Belleville, we have a developed community," continued Doyle, "there's no more room. But the Council on Affordable Housing will not accept that. We have started looking strongly at what the State requires of us. The Planning Board feels the allotment is unfair and we do have a figure in mind. A figure we think is fair."

Township officials were hoping for a grant to construct a senior citizen facility that would meet 100 units of the 162 unit quota placed on them. But, when the proposal was denied, they had to go back to the drawing board.

This time, they have decided to re-apply for the HUD (Department of Housing and Urban development) grant and will include the proposed site for the senior citizen housing complex, which is alongside the Firehouse on Franklin Avenue.

Three communities received the grants from HUD but Mayor Michael Marotti was not sure why they received grants and not Belleville. "The communities that they gave the funding to needed it more than we did, I guess," he said.

According to Doyle, the Planning Board will be working on the updated Master Plan in 1987 and implementing it in 1988. "We haven't decided what we will do," said Mayor Marotti. "It's up to the Planning Board and the Board of Commissioners who will be meeting soon to discuss the matter."

Essex opens pothole hotline

A 24-hour pothole hotline has been set up for motorists who want to report potholes on Essex County roads. The number is 239-0341.

"The Essex County Division of Roads and Bridges has started a frontal attack against potholes on its 220 miles of county roads," Essex directors Robert Jackson and Robert Turlington announced. Jackson is the county public works director, while Turlington is director of roads and bridges.

Recent severe weather conditions followed by the current warming trend, thaw frozen roadways and produce potholes. Since February 2, county roadway inspections have been intensified for pothole conditions and four road crews have been assigned to repair potholes exclusively, the directors said.

"Essex County is out there attacking potholes before they attack us," they stated.

Motorists are urged to exercise caution on all paved surfaces and to be observant and considerate of road repair crews.

MENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia
and Paul N. De Maio

Mr. G. of Belleville asks: "I had a root canal done and my dentist wants to crown it. Why can't I have him just fill it?"

Mr. G, the fact that you decided to keep your tooth and have a root canal rather than extract it shows that you are concerned about good oral health. Well done! In many instances, especially a back tooth, a root canal tooth will fracture if only a filling is put in. That's because a root canal tooth cannot resist shearing forces during chewing as well as a non-root canal tooth. A crown affords the tooth 360 degrees of protection - the kind of protection that's required during chewing. We've seen too often root canal teeth that just had a filling and subsequently within 1 or 2 years cracked so badly that it needed to be extracted.

If you make the decision to keep your tooth in the first place (the right choice) then follow your dentist's advice to maintain oral health.

Religious Viewpoints

Observe the rules, or else

Knute Rockne, famous coach of Notre Dame, wrote a series of articles in the Liberty Magazine on the subject of football, a short time before his death. Among other things, he said to his players:

"You fellows must do what you're told if you wish to play on my team. If you are not willing, you need not begin. I care not what your record has been, you must observe the rules or else you are disqualified. Should I find you violating the rules in one single instance, I will put you on the bench. Remember this, I can see father ahead than you, and there is a good reason for my insistence."

As I read the above words, I could not help but think of how God must say something of the same thing to everyone who desires to become a disciple of the Lord Jesus Christ. What God desires from us is unquestioned obedience.

"Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice..." God is not looking for followers like Naaman, who when told to go and wash in the Jordan River seven times, responded by getting angry and asking a lot of questions. Rather, God is looking for followers like Abraham, who, when he was called, went out not knowing where he was going, and when he was commanded to offer his only son Isaac upon an altar of sacrifice, rose up early and obeyed. The asking of questions and the hesitancy in obeying God's commands are evidences of a lack of real trust in God's word the Bible. Certainly God is patient with us and is sensitive to our immaturity, but if we will take the time to examine the facts we will discover that God's Word is absolutely trustworthy, and that God never issues a command without a good reason behind it. St. Mark 13:31. "You must be born again," St. John 3:7. Reason, "as by one man sin entered the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned," Romans 5:12. You must obey the rules or else be lost forever. Revelation 20:15.

Montgomery Presbyterian Church installs new deacons and elders

The Montgomery Presbyterian Church installed new Elders and Deacons at their Feb. 1, 1987 service. Installed Elders are Uno Anderson, Zigmund Gasiewicz, Frank Nicastri, Donna Kay Onjian, all of Belleville, Richard Jackson of Nutley and Margaret Tingolie of Orange, according to Martha Bowden Stickles, President of the Board of Trustees. Installed Deacons are Patricia Nicastri of Belleville, Barbara Coppola, Adelaide Flaherty and Michael Tingolie, all from Bloomfield.

The installation and ordination was performed by the Rev. Howard B. Day, Jr., pastor of the church, which is located at 638 Mill Street, Belleville. The congregation also honored Mrs. Bessie Cowan of Belleville for her many years of service to the Church and Church Choir, during the communion service.

Would participate in school decision making process

NJ State Board of Education supports plan to give teachers greater role

The State Board of Education adopted a resolution February 4 supporting New Jersey's Plan to Enhance Cooperative Relationships in School Districts.

Developed by the New Jersey State Department of Education with input from five of the state's education associations, the plan is intended to improve the professional environment of schools "by increasing the involvement of school staff in making key decisions related to their work."

"The cooperative relationships project is designed to help districts develop the capacity to resolve local concerns through a problem-solving committee structure," Commissioner of Education Saul Cooperman explained. "Both Governor Kean and the state board have called for greater teacher involvement and collegiality among educators."

As a member of the Carnegie Commission Task Force on Teaching, Governor Thomas H. Kean prescribed increasing the involvement of teachers in school decision making. In January 1985, the state board asked the Commissioner to explore a means of creating a more "collegial" environment in local school districts.

Because the cooperative relationships project will involve administrators, teachers and board members, the department's plan was shared with the state level professional associations representing these educators: New Jersey Association of School Administrators (NJASA), New Jersey

Education Association (NJEA), New Jersey Principals and Supervisors Association (NJPSA), New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) and New Jersey State Federation of Teachers (NJSFT).

"In an attempt to model at the state level the type of cooperation being sought in local districts, we invited suggestions from NJEA, NJSBA, NJPSA, NJASA and NJSFT," the Commissioner told the board. "The project was very much strengthened by their contributions."

All school districts in the state will be invited in March to submit applications to participate in the pilot program. Nine pilot districts will be selected and each will form a district level problem-solving committee representing its administrators, teachers and board of education members. The department will then engage consultants to administer a "climate survey" to all educators in the nine pilot districts.

"This self-assessment by local educators of their own professional work environment will identify areas needing improvement," explained Dr. Richard A. DiPatri, assistant commissioner of the department's Division of Educational Programs. "The climate survey will be designed to objectively assess the district's goals, management policies, communications and other factors that contribute to that environment."

According to DiPatri, survey information will not be made public, but will be used exclusively by the district problem-solving committees. With the help of a project coordinator from the department and the external consultants, district problem-solving committees will develop action plans to address the highest priority needs identified through the survey.

Such cooperative relationships among teachers, administrators and board members may already exist in many districts, while a more adversarial environment may prevail in others," DiPatri added. "We hope to develop a framework within which pilot districts can establish their own models for cooperation among educators, which other districts throughout the state may then replicate."

After district problem-solving committees begin their work, pilot districts are expected to form school level problem-solving committees. Climate surveys and planning similar to district level efforts will then begin at the school level.

Each pilot district will receive a one-time grant in the 1987-88 school year averaging approximately $10,000. The grants, to be used for staff training and administrative costs of the program, may vary according to the size of a pilot district. The state will also assign one full-time project coordinator to help train and advise all problem-solving committees, and will provide the climate surveys and other consulting services.

This summer, the nine pilot districts, consultant and project coordinator will be introduced to the State Board of Education.

To replace lost federal funding

New Jersey Senate president pushes municipal funding bill

Senate President John F. Russo last Tuesday urged mayors across New Jersey to pressure their Assembly representatives for action on a Senate bill to help communities hurt by federal aid cuts.

Senator Russo said he had sent a letter to every New Jersey mayor urging support for the measure, S. 2820, which would distribute $67.6 million in surplus state funds to 566 municipalities that used to receive funds under the now-defunct federal revenue sharing program.

The legislation, which is sponsored by Senator Russo and Senate Majority Leader John A. Lynch, D-Middlesex, was approved 32-5 on Dec. 18 by the Senate with Republican and Democratic support. The bill has not yet been posted for a vote in the General Assembly.

Senator Russo warned that unless the state provides municipalities with the financial help they need soon, homeowners will be facing stiff property tax increases when local budgets are adopted.

In addition, hundreds of police officers, firefighters and other municipal employees — many of whom have already received layoff notices — could be unemployed in just a few weeks, Senator Russo added.

"We could help avert this financial chaos, however, with quick approval in the Assembly of S. 2820, which would distribute $67.6 million in surplus state funds to municipalities," Senator Russo wrote.

"Time is running out for municipalities," Senator Russo told the mayors. "I urge you to write to your Assembly representatives and enlist their support to help pass S. 2820 for a vote in the General Assembly as soon as possible."

Senator Russo pointed out that there is no doubt that the State of New Jersey has the funds available to help municipalities devastated by the loss of federal revenue sharing funds.

The Kean administration had reported that the fiscal 1986 budget surplus for the year that ended June 30 is $520 million, which is $102 million higher than the surplus the governor originally said he needed when he signed the budget, the Senate President pointed out.

Copy machine at Shafter Branch

A copy machine for public use is available at the Mrs. Richard A. Shafter Branch Library, 30 Magnolia Street, from 1 - 5 p.m. daily. The cost is 15 cents per copy.

More large type books needed

Do you have any copies of large type books in excellent condition that you have already read and can donate to the Library?

The Belleville Public Library has begun a biweekly service of delivering books to the Essex County Geriatrics Center and could use new titles. Call Cindy LaRue at 450-3434, if you wish to donate books.

If your organization would like to make a monetary donation for large type books, call the Library Director, David Bryant at 450-3434.

New Historical Fiction

If you are looking for a historical fiction book to read, as February is American History Month, why not try some of these titles? They include "The Congressman's Daughter" by Craig Nova, a novel set against the beauty and isolation of the New England countryside of love and probing exploration of a successful American family; "High Hearts," by Rita Mae Brown, a story of love and women's liberation in the Civil War period; and "Last of the Breed" by Louis L'Amour, the story of a part-Sioux, part Cheyenne Indian, who fights the perils of a soviet prison camp.

Also, "Long Knife," a novel based on the life of George Rogers Clark, by James Alexander Thom; and "Nature's End" by Whitley Strieber, the novel of the horrors of technology.

Entry forms for the National Library Book Contest, the Libraries in Focus Essay Contest, and the National Library Week Show are available at the Library.

An exhibit fit for a queen

Currently on exhibit in the large display case on the reference level of the Library is a display of British Royal Commemoratives by Cindy LaRue, reference librarian. LaRue first began collecting when she went to England for the Queen's Silver Jubilee in 1977.

In the exhibit case are plates commemorating the coronation of George VI, the coronation of Elizabeth, and the golden jubilee of Victoria.

There is also a cup for Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, a cup for the coronation of George V in 1911, a mug for Edward VIII's coronation, which had been done in advance, although he never assumed the throne; a cup for the coronation of George VI in 1937, a cup for the coronation of Elizabeth II in 1953, a mug in honor of Prince Charles marriage in 1981 to Lady Diana Spencer, a mug for their first child in 1983, a mug for the 60th birthday of Queen Elizabeth, and a cup for the marriage of Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson in 1986. Enamels are also included in the display.

The exhibit can be viewed during library hours.

Celebrate Books spotlights Historical Library

The February program of "Celebrate Books from the Belleville Public Library," directed by Marilyn Mango, media specialist, WBHS, and produced by Adrea Cohen, features David Bryant in an interview with Sarah Collins, director of the N.J. Historical Society Library.

"Founded in 1845 as a private, non-profit library, the N.J. Historical Society Library contains 65,000 printed books, one million manuscripts, 2,000 maps, making it one of the largest repositories of New Jersey materials," Collins said. "We acquire materials for the 21st century and beyond. Both a budget and donations help build the collection," she added. She stated that publications are maintained in a temperature controlled environment and on acid free paper.

"Volunteers are extremely important to the Library and the Society," she emphasized. They are used for cataloging of materials, arranging tours and helping with preservation.

Located at 230 Broadway, Newark, the Library is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The Museum is open free to the public from noon to 4 p.m. Since 1976 is the nation's bicentennial, the Library has had use by many genealogists, exploring their family roots. In 1986, she indicated that 3,000 people visited the museum.

The program can be viewed weekly on WBHS, Channel 34, on Wednesday, at 4 p.m.

Kids TV!

In honor of American History Month, Alice Cronin, children's librarian, and Kathleen Mollica, branch librarian, will present a children's program for WBHS, entitled "The Fun of American History Month," for Celebrate Books from the Belleville Public Library.

The taping will be done on Feb. 12 at 2 p.m. on WBHS. Watch the electronic bulletin board on WBHS for times that the program will be broadcast.

New kids books

The following children's book have been added to the James J. Cozzarelli children's room. They include "Babe Ruth; Home Run Hero," by Keith Brandt; "Brave Irene" by William Steig; "A First Look at Owls, Eagles and other Hunters of the Sky" by Millicent Selsam; "The Josefina Story Quilt" by Eleanor Coerr; "Lou Gehrig, Pride of the Yankees," by Keith Brandt; "My First Puppy" by Rosemarie Hausherr; "The New York Jets" by James R. Rothaus; "Two Shoes, New Shoes" by Shirley Hughes; and "What Did You Leave Behind?" by Alvin Tresselt.

Investment seminar

A real estate partnership investment seminar with SouthMark Equity Partners, sponsored by Philips, Appel and Waldon will take place on Monday, March 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Library.

Call the Library's circulation desk to reserve space.

Gatekeeper program to aid the elderly

Public Service Electric & Gas Company joined with New Jersey officials January 21 in launching a new program to help ensure that vulnerable elderly residents receive help when they need it.

The effort, known as the Gatekeeper Program, involved people whose work brings them in contact with the public and puts them in a position to identify elderly citizens who may be experiencing problems that could be alleviated by already available community services.

Initiated by an electric utility in Washington State more than three years ago, the program is being introduced in New Jersey jointly by PSE&G and the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs Division of Aging.

"PSE&G is pleased to be able to participate in this cooperative program with the Department of Community Affairs," PSE&G vice president Louis L. Rizzi said. "We've been working hard to better meet our customers' needs, and we view the Gatekeeper Program as one more way of demonstrating our commitment of caring and concern for our customers."

Personnel from the state Department of Community Affairs presented a training overview of the Gatekeeper Program at PSE&G's Customer and Marketing Services Princeton District office to all PSE&G supervisors of meter reading and collection personnel. By hosting today's session, PSE&G became the first company in New Jersey to become actively involved in the Gatekeeper Program. It represents another step in the company's expanding senior outreach program.

The training overview was videotaped by PSE&G to assist the state in bringing this program to other organizations.

Under the Gatekeeper program, employees who work in the field are trained to recognize signs, symptoms or behavior in elderly people that may indicate a problem and report the situation to a social service agency.

These agencies don't always know about the people who need help the most, either because senior citizens often aren't aware of available services or, in other cases, are too frail or too proud to seek help themselves.

"We won't be asking any of the Gatekeepers, our meter readers and other employees, to become social workers," explained Jim Dieterle, PSE&G's manager of customer relations. "That's not what they are trained to do. Our employees who will be trained as Gatekeepers will be asked only to keep any eye out for possible problem situations and to pass the word along to professionals who will take it from there."

PSE&G Gatekeepers will maintain contact with county offices on aging in each of the 11 counties in the company's service territory. The PSE&G Gatekeepers will have the option of calling the county agencies directly or passing the information on to their supervisors who will forward it to offices on aging.

Initially Gatekeeper training was offered to more than 600 PSE&G Customer and Marketing Services field personnel including meter readers, collection personnel, and marketing representatives. Plans also call for the Gatekeeper training to be offered later to service personnel in the company's Electric and Gas Departments.

The Gatekeeper Program was developed in 1983 by the Puget Sound Power & Light Co. of Bellevue, Washington.

Medicare premium less for some

The basic premium for Medicare medical insurance went up $2.40 a month for the 12-month period starting Jan. 1, 1987, Catherine G. Christoff, Social Security manager in Newark, said recently. The new monthly premium is $17.90, up from $15.50 in 1986.

But not everyone had to pay the full increase in the premium, Christoff added.

Under the law, the increase in the basic premium was reduced if payment of the full $2.40 increase would cause a person's Social Security check to be lower after the annual cost-of-living benefit raise than it was before the raise.

Social Security beneficiaries received a 1.3 percent cost-of-living raise in the check they receive in January.

For many people who were getting a monthly check of about $169 or less before the 1.3 percent raise, the premium increase was reduced. Consequently, Christoff said, their net benefit check (the amount received after deduction of the medical insurance premium) did not decrease.

People who received a Social Security check of more than $169 before the cost-of-living raise generally paid the full $2.40 increase in the medical insurance premium.

Some people pay more than the basic premium, Christoff noted, because they enrolled late or because they cancelled their medical insurance protection and then re-enrolled.

Anyone who has questions about the medical insurance premium, or about Medicare in general, can get more information at the Newark Social Security office, located at 970 Broad St. The telephone number is (201) 429-8200.

Belleville-Nutley Hadassah will meet for brunch Mar. 1

The Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah will meet for brunch Mar. 1 at Dale's Restaurant, Bloomfield. Mrs. Bessie Denner, chairperson, Jewish National Fund, will sponsor the brunch in honor of her special birthday.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ruth Grossberg, chairperson of the Northern Region of Hadassah. She will speak on the work the National Jewish Fund is doing for Israel.

Reservations by members of the chapter must be made in advance by calling Mrs. Estelle Stein at 667-3971. Transportation will be arranged. Mrs. Ruth Linz is president of Hadassah with Mrs. Rosette Halpern, program vice chairperson and Mrs. Sylvia Hamburger, chairperson of the brunch.

Keep in the swim of things with new recipes for salmon

When you're in the market for salmon and other fresh seafood, there's no need to get green around the gills. Experts in the "Today's Catch" seafood department in your local Grand Union supermarket can help you select the whole fish, fillets and steaks that will keep you in the swim of things.

According to Grand Union, Americans are eating more fish than ever before. They have discovered that fresh seafood is not only easy to prepare and enjoyable to eat, but also rich in protein, vitamins and minerals. Seafood often appeals to dieters because of its low fat content. On average, a four-ounce serving of fish contains only 140 calories. Even relatively "fatty" fishes such as salmon are low in saturated fat.

With the exception of high-cholesterol crustaceans like shrimp, crab and lobster, many types of fish contain up to 50% less cholesterol than a comparable portion of meat. And since many varieties may be poached or steamed - without adding fat - they represent excellent choices for calorie-conscious consumers.

If you're hooked on the great taste of fresh salmon, you'll find that Grand Union carries fresh whole salmon suitable for baking, boiling, grilling, poaching or steaming. For your convenience, salmon is also available in fish steaks - thick slices cut across the grain of a large fish. Grand Union suggests that you select fish steaks that are cut 3 to 1-1/2 inches thick - with firm, moist and translucent flesh. When the fish is very large, Grand Union recommends that you buy a single thick steak and divide it into two or more portions, instead of buying individual, thinner steaks.

Salmon comes in several varieties including pink-fleshed Atlantic salmon, pink or white-fleshed King or Chinook salmon, red-fleshed Sockeye, pinkish silver Coho, and yellowish-fleshed, nearly fat-free Dog salmon.

After you've made your selection, make sure you take it home immediately and refrigerate it in the coldest part of your refrigerator until you're ready to prepare it - preferably within a day of purchase. To avoid washing away valuable nutrients, Grand Union recommends that you dip the fish in a bowl of cold water instead of rinsing it under tap water.

The following recipes for Fresh Salmon Mousse and Salmon Teriyaki, developed in Grand Union's own test kitchens, are sure to delight your friends and family. When you start with "real" fresh seafood from Grand Union, you won't end up having to fish for compliments.

FRESH SALMON MOUSSE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 small onion, diced
1/2 cup boiling water
2 cups cooked fresh salmon, trimmed of all skin and bones
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons minced fresh dill
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
1 cup heavy cream
Watercress

1. Combine gelatin, lemon juice, onion and boiling water in blender jar or in a food processor and blend until well mixed.

2. Add the fish, mayonnaise, dill, salt and pepper to the blender and blend until very smooth.

3. Add the cream in thirds, blending for ten seconds after each addition. Spoon mixture into a serving bowl or a mold and refrigerate until firm, at least four hours. Mousse may be unmolded for serving. Garnish with watercress. Makes four cups.

SALMON TERIYAKI

4 salmon steaks, about 1/2 pound each
1 tablespoon cooking oil
3 tablespoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons dry sherry or rice wine
2 tablespoons sugar
Lemon wedges
1. Place the salmon on a foil-lined broiling pan, brush with oil and broil in a hot, preheated broiler about 5 minutes.

2. Turn the salmon steaks. Mix the soy sauce, sherry and sugar together and brush the tops of the steaks with this mixture. Broil until the salmon steaks are cooked through, another 8 minutes or so. Brush with the sauce once or twice during the cooking.

3. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes four servings.

Junior Woman's Club invites Belleville women to join group

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville is recruiting new members during its New Year membership drive.

The club is open to women from 18 to 35. According to publicity chairperson, Karen Cozzarelli, it is "an excellent opportunity to make new friends while participating in enjoyable community service projects. Although the Juniors are primarily a service organization," she continued, "one of the best services it provides is a social outlet for its members. The club sponsors parties, picnics, and many social functions throughout the year."

"Single or married, with or without children, Juniors' offers opportunities for personal growth for all women. A busy schedule need not inhibit one's membership since the level of involvement in the club is as varied as its members. A Junior pledges to 'live each day trying to accomplish something, not merely to exist,' so find your Junior Spirit!" she concluded.

For more information, contact the membership chairperson at 759-6529.

Mike Lamberti's

Buc Shots

It's that time of year again, when the Essex County basketball tournament takes center stage in this area. For years, the ECT has produced some memorable battles, with some extraordinary talent putting their names in the record books.

This year, the ECT girls championships is a wide open affair. Unlike previous seasons, when Shabazz and Irvington were the front runners, 1987 looks to be any one's ball game. University High School of Newark was voted the number one seed and defeated our Belleville Lady Bucs in the second round last week. University had a date with defending champion Irvington yesterday.

Irvington should be a tough group to handle. The Lady Campers won the championship in 1986, stopping East Orange in an exciting final held at Belleville High. In 1985, Shabazz and Irvington hooked up in a classic final at Seton Hall University, with Shabazz winning by one point after trailing Irvington by 20 in the second quarter.

A second quarterfinal matches two good clubs in Columbia and Bloomfield. This is a tough game to call, with both teams possessing good size and the ability to advance to the semi finals.

Clifford Scott and Immaculate will meet in a third quarterfinal contest. The Scotties were perennial powerhouses in the early 1980's, but have been on the rebuilding path the past two seasons.

Scott won the title in 1981, stopping a veteran East Orange team. A year later, Shabazz began its four year dominance of the ECT by beating Scott in the final. In the 1983 final, Scott jumped out to a big lead over Shabazz, but the Lady Bulldogs came through with a heartstopping rally at Seton Hall University.

Scott was upset in the quarterfinal round of the '84 tournament when Irvington posted a big win.

The last quarterfinal game featured East Orange and Shabazz, two schools with rich tourney tradition. Last season, East Orange ended Shabazz's dominance with a 67-50 victory over the Lady Bulldogs at Belleville High in the tourney semi finals.

The winners of the quarterfinals will then journey to Belleville for the semi finals, to be held on Saturday, February 21. The first game will commence at 1 p.m. and the second, at 3.

The championship game will also be played at Belleville, on Thursday, February 26, at 7:30 p.m.

For the boys version of the ECT, the action figures to be just as exciting. Belleville High School was the host of two good early round games last weekend. Nutley and Irvington hooked up in the first game, with Nutley pulling out a 64-59 win after trailing by 11 points in the second quarter.

The Nutley attack was paced by junior Marty Higgins, the same young man who experienced a major scare last fall when a serious football injury put a snag into his career. Thankfully, Higgins rebounded well from the injury and has been outstanding on the hardwood this winter.

Higgins had 24 points, but more importantly, he ran the Raider offense and kept the attack potent. Irvington had some excellent talent, and plenty of height, but the Raiders compensated with a good game plan.

The second game matched our local heroes, Belleville, playing the defending ECT champions, East Orange. It was the first time the two clubs had played each other at Belleville since February of 1978, when Dan Grasso was the Belleville coach and the players included Tom Smith, Paul Donahue, Joe Salter, Dean Campana, Mark Veniero and Don Roll.

Back in '78, Belleville and East Orange were still a part of the old Big 10 Conference. In that Belleville-E.O. game nine years ago, East Orange won, 53-50, a game that Roll still looks back on knowing that Belleville should have won.

This time around, with Roll on the bench as Belleville's coach, the Bucs played a tough contest, but too much East Orange speed contributed to a 75-54 Buccaneer loss.

Throughout the years, there have been some great contests in the mens division. Bob Lester coached some super East Orange squads in the mid 70's, with the Panthers taking home the honors from 1974-77. In 1976 and '77, East Orange hooked up with Bloomfield for the championship game and both times, the Bengals were led by Kelly Tripucka. Although Tripucka was incredible, East Orange's balance prevailed in both games.

In the late 70's and early 80's, a small school from Orange, named Valley High School, played at the top of its game and won two straight titles. Valley was coached by Ted Fiore, who now is the head coach at St. Peter's College in Jersey City. Some of the players on the Valley teams included Mike Brown, Troy Webster, Andre Adams and Jerry Galicchio. Valley won the crown in '78 and '79, beating Shabazz and Orange, but lost in 1980 in the finals to Weequahic.

Next week, we'll take a further look back at the ECT, for the men and women. If you get the chance, stop by Belleville High for the womens' semi and final rounds. You will see some exciting games.

Athlete of the Week

Without question, it has to go to Ted Sochaski of the boys' basketball team. Sochaski played a marvelous game against East Orange last weekend, popping home 31 points. He was averaging 24.1 ppg entering this week.

Last Weeks Quiz

In the Mets miracle comeback in game six of the '86 Series, Gary Carter, Kevin Mitchell and Ray Knight singled to help propel the Mets. Mookie Wilson then got the game winning "hit", when Bill Buckner misjudged the ground ball and Knight came around to score. The Mets won, 6-5.

For This Week

In the 1981 NCAA mens basketball final, the game was almost postponed because of news outside the sports world. The game was not postponed, however, and two coaching legends led their teams on the court. Who played in that '81 final, who won and what event out of the sports world almost caused the game to be postponed.

Buccaner wrestlers win Essex Tourney by largest margin in county history

By Joe Piegara

The Buccaneer wrestling team won the Essex County Wrestling Tournament this past weekend, and in so doing, set a record for the most team points ever totaled in the tourney.

The Bucs amassed an outstanding total of 198.5 points to outdistance second place Caldwell by a whopping 57.5 point margin.

That wasn't the only record set by the Bucs. They had five individual champions, most ever by a team in the tournament. Additionally, Belleville had two second place finishers, one fourth and one sixth.

The field of entrants finished as follows: Belleville 198.5; Caldwell 141; Bloomfield 134.5; St. Benedict's 127; West Essex 114.5; Seton Hall 87.5; Millburn 73.5; Montclair 65; Livingston 64.5; Nutley 62.5; West Orange 61; Irvington 46; Montclair Immaculate 37; Glen Ridge 33; Columbia 29; Cedar Grove 20; Verona 2; and East Orange 0.

Joe Perna (101), John Stampone (115), Joe Cerreto (122), Armando Nardone (129) and Phil Zamlot (141) all won first place trophies for the Bucs. Mike Juliano (108) and Marc Criscione (HWT), were second place finishers in the 18 team extravaganza. Lou Lucante earned a fourth place finish and Eric Nazzola tied for sixth place in the 135 pound division.

Despite the relative ease with which the team dominated the tourney, one individual managed to shine above all the rest of his teammates. Joe Cerreto avenged his only loss of the season against Caldwell's Larry Pallante by scoring a 6-5 decision in yet another donnybrook in their personal series of matches.

Pallante had beaten Cerreto in overtime in the finals of the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament by the score of 1-0. In the finals of the ECWT, Pallante appeared headed for his second straight win over Cerreto as he took a five point lead into the final 35 seconds of the bout. That's when "Mr. C" caught fire. With older brother Carmine home on leave from the Marines shouting encouragement from matside, Joe went to work. First, he used a duck under near the out of bounds line to score a takedown. Pallante had just given up an escape to avoid possible danger and was still comatose ahead with 30 seconds left in the match.

With the score now 5-3 in favor of the Caldwell star, Cerreto applied constant pressure and forced a stall point from Pallante. With 11 seconds to go in the match, Joe used wrist control and a tilt to put Pallante on his back for two points and the final 6-5 margin of victory. The win earned Cerreto the award of "Champion of Champions" as voted by his fellow wrestlers in the tournament. Art Cuffari of Bloomfield was voted the tournament's outstanding wrestler by the coaches and officials, but this was clearly Cerreto's day in the sunshine.

The only other Buccaneer wrestler who experienced tough going was Phil Zamlot. The senior co captain breezed into the finals by scoring two pins and a 6-1 decision in the semis over Jim Dorey of West Orange. Bloomfield's Anthony Minervino gave Phil all he could handle before falling by a score of 7-5. Although the Cerreto/Pallante rivalry has gotten all of the headlines in the past two years, the Zamlot/Minervino wars have been every bit as competitive and hard fought. Last year Minervino won their first match on a convincing 9-5 decision. This year, Phil countered with a pin in the dual meet and the 7-5 triumph in the ECWT finals. Expect at least one more confrontation between the two grapplers as the District 7 championships are only two weeks away and both boys are the class of the 141 pound division.

All the remaining Belleville champions barely broke a sweat in the two day affair. Joe Perna scored two falls, one technical and one a pin. He also shut out Cedar Grove's Chris Avoletta in the semis by a 5-0 score and coasted over Seton Hall's Dante Caprio in the finals by an 11-5 margin.

John Stampone was the most stifling of all the Buc grapplers as he had three pins and a 5-0 decision in the finals over Caldwell's Steve DiTullio. After Cerreto and Cuffari, this vote for the tournament's outstanding wrestler would have gone to Stampone.

At 129 pounds, Mondo Nardone won his fifth straight regular season tournament as he ran his undefeated season record to 21-0. Mondo didn't have his best showing in the event, but still scored a pin, a Technical Fall, a 10-1 decision in the semis and a 6-2 decision over Bloomfield's Gary Foti in the finals.

The tournament was clearly the Bucs most impressive showing as a team in the last decade. They are truly the best in Essex County.

BUC NOTES: This week starts the State Sectional championships and preliminary seedings have the Bucs third behind No. 1 P-Burg and No. 2 Union. Morris Knolls was seeded fourth. In addition to the other records established in the ECWT, Belleville now owns the largest margin of victory in the history of the event with this year's 57.5 difference over second place Caldwell. This week's Outstanding Wrestler goes to Joe Cerreto for his heart stopping win over Larry Pallante of Caldwell. In addition to the Buc champs and Cuffari of Bloomfield, the remaining champions were: 108 Frank DeMary of West Essex; 148 Steve Fano of West Essex; 158 Brett Lockward of Caldwell; 170 Brian Martin of Caldwell; 188 John Stobie of Bloomfield; HWT Rafael Hackett of Livingston. See you next week.

Girl hoopsters win one, lose one . . .

The Belleville girls' basketball team played it even last week, defeating Paterson Eastside by 21 points after losing a 21 point contest to top ranked University High School.

Belleville took a 7-11 mark into another busy week of action. The girls were host to Montclair last Tuesday. Tomorrow afternoon, the team is host to Passaic in a 4 p.m. tip off. Next Tuesday, the Lady Bucs will host a good Hackensack squad in a 4 p.m. start.

Karen Fuccello's squad traveled to University High School last Wednesday for a second round, Essex County tournament game. In University, Belleville was facing an undefeated squad, which received the top seed in this years tourney. The coach was impressed with the Newark based squad.

"They have good size and have speed," Fuccello said of University High. "We were right in this game, especially in the first half. I was happy with our effort."

The game didn't start on a positive note for Belleville. University, with the comfort of its home court, jumped out to a 20-7 lead after the first eight minutes. However, Belleville stormed right back, outscoring the host school, 16-6 and climbing to within two points, 26-23, at intermission.

To its credit, University came back in the third quarter, pulling away to a 46-31 lead after three frames. Belleville battled hard in the final eight minutes, but University outscored the Lady Bucs, 18-12, and won by 21 points, 64-43.

For Belleville, Stacey Johansen enjoyed a good offensive game, leading the way with 14 points. The freshman had a good week, scoring 42 points in three games, including the Newark Tech county game held on February 1. Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski, both sophomores, tallied ten points each. Laura Caruso finished with six. Carol Morrison had two and Leslie Dowling scored one.

University was paced by Felicia Oliver and Kim Wright, both of whom scored 22 points.

Last Friday afternoon, the girls were back home to face conference foe Paterson Eastside. When the two teams met earlier in the season in Paterson, Belleville pulled out a tough one point victory in overtime. This time, the contest started off with the appearance of a close game, but the Lady Bucs took control in the second half.

Eastside led, 8-7 after one quarter, but Belleville came back with a 17-8 second quarter advantage and took a 24-16 lead into the lockerroom.

The Lady Ghosts of Eastside stormed right back in the third period, outscoring Belleville, 10-7, and cutting the Belleville lead to five points, 31-26.

Fuccello's team was not to be denied in the final frame. With Dondarski, Edwards and Johansen pacing the offense, Belleville outscored the Ghosts, 23-7, in the final eight minutes and came away an impressive victor.

Edwards led the Belleville attack with 18 points. Dondarski and Johansen finished with 14 points each and Racquel Melson had four, including some clutch free throws down the stretch. Caruso and Morrison finished with scoring for Belleville with two points each.

With the season beginning to wind down, it seems a good time for a quick evaluation of this years club. It's quite obvious that the team has improved immensely since last year, when the team record was 2-18. Fuccello has a young squad, with just one senior, Caruso, who will miss on next years squad.

The offensive power is centered around two sophomores, Edwards and Dondarski, and a freshman, Johansen. Fuccello is getting good play from Melson, whose knee appears to be in good shape after surgery last year. Morrison has been able to help out on offense in the past four games. Only a sophomore, she could be a starting forward on next years team.

If youngsters like Joanne D'Ambrose, Thelma Espiritu and Maria Longobardi can continue to improve, there will be plenty of reason for optimism entering next year. A setback to this years team was the loss of junior Judy Nehila, who had two knee operations during the off season and reinjured the leg in the early stages of this year. Nehila led the team in scoring last winter with nearly 14 points a game.

NOTES: Edwards continues to lead team in scoring with 13.7 ppg average. Johansen has her average up to 10.4 ppg and Dondarski is right behind with 9.8.

Hurdle to supremacy still too tall?

B-ball Bucs get beat in tournament

As the season has progressed, more have been signs that the Belleville boys' basketball team was ready to play and defeat the elite schools in the county and MNJIL. Last week, the Bucs despite some strong efforts, found out that the hurdle to supremacy is still a little too tall.

Don Hall's club took a 9-8 work into a home game with Montclair last Tuesday. Tomorrow night, the team is in Passaic and next Tuesday, will travel to Hackensack. The games with Passaic and Hackensack will commence at 7:30 p.m.

Last week, Belleville opened Paramus Catholic in an exciting game, then lost to two tough schools, Paterson Eastside and East Orange. The later loss came in the second round of the Essex County tournament, which was held at Belleville High.

"I was really optimistic about the game," Hall said after the East Orange loss. "We had scouted them and knew what they were going to do. They press you till court, and are strong underneath. They aren't very big, but get the job done."

The Panthers are also the defending ECT champions and are well coached.

The first quarter started well for Belleville, with the Bucs taking a 2-0 lead on a Ted Sochaski jumper. Sochaski hit a layup to make it 4-2 and seconds later, converted a jump shot to give Belleville its last lead at 6-4.

East Orange then took control, scoring the next eight points before a Sochaski free throw cut the lead to 12-7. The Panthers then tallied the next six points and led, 18-7 after one quarter.

Belleville closed the gap to seven points early in the second quarter on a Sochaski layup and a jump shot by Leon Puentes. However, East Orange exploded for six quick points before Sochaski could counter with a jump shot to cut the lead to 24-13. The Bucs played tough the remainder of the half and got some optimism when Sochaski converted a jump shot at the buzzer to cut the East Orange lead to 36-28 at intermission.

Belleville continued to play aggressive in the third quarter, but couldn't cut the lead lower than eight points. With the Bucs down 47-34 late in the quarter, Frank Morrell hit a jump shot and Sochaski converted a layup and was fouled in the process.

The junior hit the free throw, cutting the Panther lead to 47-39. East Orange then scored the final two points of the quarter and led, 49-39 entering the final eight minutes.

The early stages of the fourth quarter was a carbon copy of the second and third periods. Belleville stayed close, but could not cut the deficit past ten points. The turning point of the game came mid way in the final period.

Bob Hutchison had just hit his third straight jumper, cutting the E.O. lead to 60-49. Seconds later, Puentes, the Bucs reliable point guard who was handling the full court pressure very well, fouled out on a questionable call.

"I couldn't understand the last two fouls on Leon," said Roll. "Not one to usually question an official. Once we lost him, it hurt our chances to move the ball up court quickly."

The Panthers scored the next seven points to take a 67-49 lead before Frank Morrell hit two free throws. Belleville continued to battle hard, but ran out of time and lost, 75-54.

You can't say enough about the game Sochaski played. The junior forward played the entire game and scored 31 points. He was all over the boards on both sides of the court and was nearly impossible to stop. Puentes scored nine points, Hutchison had eight, Morrell scored four and Mark Huamani had two. For East Orange, Bill White had 23 points.

One of the keys to the game was the outstanding foul shooting by East Orange. The Panthers didn't miss a shot in the first half and were 25 of 28 from the stripe at one point. The team finished the game hitting 25 of 30 shots.

Belleville finished 16 of 26 from the line. More importantly, the Bucs missed the front end of six one in one situations.

Earlier in the week, the Bucs lost at Eastside, 72-57. Sochaski led the way for Belleville with 20 points. Hutchison and Puentes tallied 11 each, Frank Morrell had six, Steve Schwed scored five and Loung La and Chris Chiarmonte finished with two points each.

Belleville trailed, 16-10 after one quarter and 37-24 at intermission. The Eastside lead increased to 54-35 after three before Belleville outscored the Ghosts, 22-18 in the final frame.

Last Tuesday, Belleville won at home, defeating Paramus Catholic in an exciting game, 76-74.

This was a game of changing momentum as Belleville grabbed a 22-12 first quarter lead. Paramus Catholic came back in the second quarter and outscored the Bucs, 25-15. The third frame was Belleville's turn, with the Bucs turning on the burners and regaining a 10 point lead, 62-52. Paramus Catholic then came back in the last eight minutes and outscored the home team, 22-14. The rally wasn't enough, however, and Belleville won, 76-74.

Sochaski finished with 30 points to lead the Bucs. Puentes tallied 22 points, 15 in the second half. Hutchison had 14, ten in the first quarter. La closed with four points and Morrell, Chiarmonte and Schwed had two points each.

Paramus Catholic was led by Bill Shashaty, who finished with 36 points.

NOTES: Bucs are 5-5 in the conference, 4-3 outside the league. East Orange was scheduled to play Seton Hall in the next round of ECT action. Sochaski's scoring average is now up to 24.1 ppg. Puentes is second in scoring at 12.1 and Hutchison is third with 11.9. From the free throw line, Puentes leads with a 74 percent accuracy. Chiarmonte is second at 71 percent and Hutchison is third with 68. If there is a weakness in Sochaski's game, it's at the free throw line where he is shooting 58 percent. Bucs are shooting 63 percent from the line as a team. Belleville averaging 62.7 ppg.

Baseball/Softball applications

The Belleville Recreation Department announces that applications for all recreation baseball and softball programs are available in all public and parochial school offices and at the recreation office, as of February 9.

Bucs clinch league wrestling crown

By Joe Piegato

The king is dead! Long live the king! And with those sentiments, the three year reign of the Clifton Mustangs in the N.N.-J.I.L. came to a resounding halt. Belleville's Buccaneers captured the crown taken from them three years ago in grand fashion.

During that three year tenure by the Mustangs, names like Szott, Ceynowa, Piliore, Zurawa, Bonafede and Smith were names associated with greatness. Now they are all gone and new names of greatness have emerged. Names such as Perna, Iuliano, Stampone, Cerreto, Nardone, Zamloot and Criscione now occupy that lofty status of championship caliber wrestlers.

The Bucs lost only three of the 12 individual bouts in running up the highest Belleville score against Clifton in more than a decade.

As has been the case for most of the year, 101 pounder Joe Perna got the Bucs off to a flying start by scoring an easy 14-3 Major Decision over Brian Gilsenan. The Clifton grappler did not earn an offensive point in the entire bout as all three of his points came on escapes.

The domination continued as Mike Iuliano had Todd St. Laurent on his back five different times before ending the bout at 4:58 of the final period. Mike earned a Technical Fall victory and a 15-0 whitewashing of District 5 champ St. Laurent.

John Stampone was nearly as stifling as Iuliano as he scored a 5-0 decision over senior Spiro Papas. All of Stampone's points came in the first period as he used a takedown and a tilt to forge his five point margin. From that point on, he couldn't overcome Papas' stalling tactics and settled for the shoutout victory instead of a pin.

The only truly disappointing bout of the entire evening was a 0-0 tie between Joe Cerreto and Fred Goldbach in the 122 pound class. Neither boy seemed overly aggressive in the match as the scoreless three periods clearly indicates. It was Cerreto's second 0-0 tie in less than a week as he and Greg Marks of Cedar Ridge battled to a scoreless tie in the Bucs' only loss this year.

Junior Armando Nardone kept his undefeated record intact as he was given a forfeit in the 129 pound division. The move was especially puzzling to the fans as well as Mondo because the next two grapplers for Clifton were soundly beaten in their respective matches. It appeared to be a tactical blunder on the part of the Clifton coach and shocked everyone in the gymnasium.

Tom Zimmerman of Clifton was scheduled to wrestle Nardone at 129 pounds, but was moved up to 135 and lost a one sided decision to Eric Nazzola by the score of 8-2. Eric had already pinned Zimmerman earlier in the season in the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament.

The next move also backfired for Clifton as a bad situation became worse. Junior Steve Banya of the Mustangs was scheduled to wrestle at 135 pounds versus Nazzola, but was moved up to the 141 pound bracket. There, he was pinned at 3:42 of the second period by Phil Zamloot.

Nick Keykurun was the first Buc to lose a match as he suffered a close 4-3 decision to Bill Lahanas in the 148 pound class. Lahanas had been set to wrestle Zamloot, but was moved up a weight class in that disastrous series of coaching moves and was just plain lucky to walk away with a one point victory over Keykurun.

At 158 pounds, Lou Lucante got the Bucs back in the win column with a first period pin over J.C. Gouse. Lou used only 1:49 of the period to flatten Gouse and gave the Buccaneers an insurmountable 36-5 lead with three bouts to go.

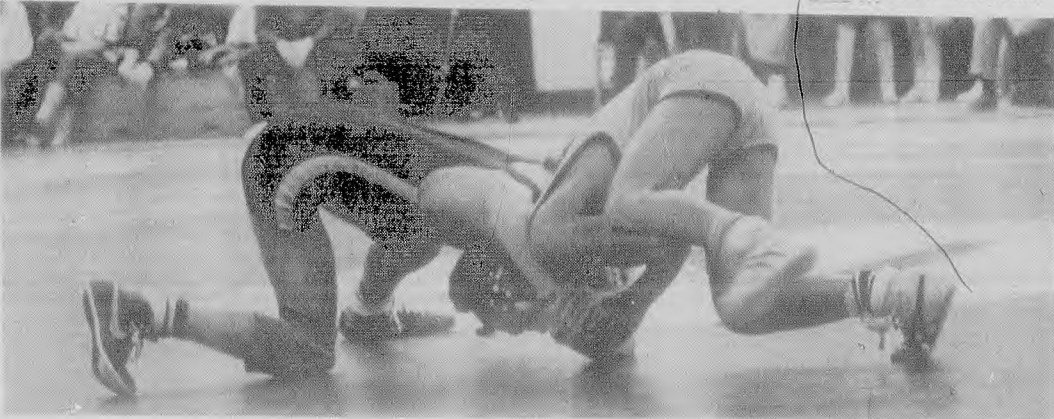

Mike Martinez was pinned in only 37 seconds in the 170 pound division as Clifton finally started to show a bit of fire in their eyes.

188 pounder Billy Chrisafinis of Clifton gave his team another six points as he overpowered Jason Silletti and scored a fall at 4:14 of the third period. As a point of observation, only Chrisafinis and 170 pounder Chris Schimenti appeared to have the desire and energy expected in such a heated arch rivalry. All the other Mustangs were full of energy on the sidelines, but calmed down dramatically once they started to wrestle.

The evening's wrestling was completed by a familiar sight at BHS matches: a pin by Marc Criscione. "The Bear" used only 1:20 to pin Cory Hefner and forge the final 42-17 score. The Bout, as was the entire dual meet, was strictly no contest.

BUC NOTES: Junior Nardone broke big brother Mondo's record in the rec league by scoring eight consecutive wins by pin. Congratulations Junior! Why couldn't you be a year older so we could see you wrestle next year on the varsity level? Clifton had beaten BHS the last three times they had faced each other, but the Bucs hold a commanding 15-5 lead in the all time series. Although Nutley is considered Belleville's traditional arch rival, one would have to go back a long time to remember when there was such competitiveness in the stands between Clifton and BHS student bodies. It was great to see and I loved it! See you next week.

Meditation

Beautiful music

by G. Ross Laidlaw
Pastor, Brookdale Baptist Church

The concert was being held in Philadelphia. One of the movements featured a flute solo, played off-stage as though coming from a distance. The Conductor had instructed and practiced with the flutist, who was to count the measures precisely in order to come in at the exact time since there could be no visual contact between the Conductor and the soloist.

During the performance, when the time came for the flute solo, the flutist began exactly. The beautiful notes floated out from the distance — but suddenly there was a sour note and the solo stopped.

The Conductor was outraged and at the end of the piece rushed to find the flutist. The player was prepared. "Maestro," he said, "before you say anything let me tell you what happened — but really you are not going to believe it."

You know I came in precisely when I should have and everything was going fine until suddenly this enormous stage hand ran up, grabbed away my flute and pushed me back saying, "shut up, idiot" — don't you know there is a concert going on out there?"

Sometimes we are doing our duty, carrying on without bothering anybody and somebody or something comes and destroys our plan or accomplishment. How do you react when that happens?

One can sulk, become angry and bitter or even have a nervous breakdown. In the midst of depression and hurt we cry, "Why Me! If there is a God why didn't He prevent this?"

There is no good in wasting energy trying to ask "Why" about the inevitable difficulties that life brings us. In fact, bitterness and anger does more harm to you than to the person it is directed toward.

Everyone one of us can ask God to give us the courage and inner strength to face life and even its trials with a spirit of trust and confidence, knowing that the words of Romans 8:28 are true, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose."

To know that we are in the center of God's purpose for our lives ought to be sufficient even though the way is tough. It is worth it to serve God and know that He will say "Well done" to His own.

ALCOHOL AS A DRUG

Whether regarded as a food or a drug, assume that alcohol does not go along with medication unless your doctor says otherwise. Alcohol dampens activity of the central nervous system. This means that it can increase the sedative effect of a long list of medicines that also act on the brain. Alcohol increases the potency of two of the most commonly prescribed of such medications, anti-anxiety and anti-depressant drugs. This means that when a tranquilizer is circulating in the body, one drink can have the effect of two or three. Swallowed on top of an anti-diabetic drug, alcohol can cause blood sugar to dip below target levels. Alcohol also interacts unfavorably with anti-coagulants and drugs that control high blood pressure.

If you have any questions concerning your medications ask your pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us". You'll still find a nice selection of greeting cards and Russell Stover candy for Valentine's Day. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Have a happy Valentine's Day.

HANDY HINT:
Even moderate doses of alcohol can cause birth defects in animals that simultaneously get 50,000 I.U. of vitamin A daily.

Governor releases report

Drug use declines among HS students

While drug abuse remains at unacceptably high levels in New Jersey's high schools, results of the most recent survey of 10th, 11th and 12th grade students offers evidence that prevention and intervention efforts can be successful, Governor Thomas H. Kean said today on releasing the report, Drug and Alcohol Use Among New Jersey High School Students 1987.

The survey, conducted by the Department of Law and Public Safety, in cooperation with the Department of Education and Health, shows substantial declines in student use of alcohol and drugs since the last survey was conducted three years ago.

In the latest survey, 49 percent of the students report some use of marijuana, down from 56.6 percent in 1983. The number of students reporting use of alcohol in the past year declined from 86.9 percent to 82.9 percent since 1983.

"This downward trend shows that our efforts to fight drug abuse can make a difference," Kean said. "We have a window of opportunity to develop and implement strategies to overcome one of the most critical problems menacing society."

At the same time, the Governor cautioned against putting too much emphasis on the decreases shown in the survey, which was conducted last October in 34 carefully selected public high schools, representing a cross-section of geographic, racial and socioeconomic characteristics.

"Even with the declines, the survey shows that use of drugs and alcohol by young people remains at unacceptably high levels," Kean said.

For example, the survey reveals that a majority of students (56 percent) have used drugs in their lives, and nine out of every 10 report using alcohol.

Most students who will ever use drugs begin to do so before the 10th grade, according to the survey, which was conducted by a team headed by Dr. Wayne S. Fisher, Chief of Research and Evaluation of the Division of Criminal Justice. The team conducted previous surveys in 1980 and 1983.

The latest survey indicates that 41,000 of public high school students in New Jersey, or 16.1 percent, are regular alcohol or drug users.

"This means that each year, more than 15,000 students with serious alcohol and drug dependencies leave our schools following the 12th grade," said Attorney General W. Cary Edwards.

"It must also be remembered that these estimates are conservative. The survey can only gauge use among those who remain in school. In all probability an even greater proportion of our high school dropouts are afflicted with serious drug and alcohol dependencies," said Edwards.

"Not only is drug use by our young people too widespread, we must realize we are talking in this survey about new drug users entering the illicit drug marketplace. Their numbers must be added to the thousands already using and abusing chemical substance," Edwards said.

Further, the survey showed that one in every four of those who ever use drugs will begin their use by the 7th or 8th grades.

"This survey tells us that every single student must make one of the most important decisions of his or her life — independent of any assistance from parents, guardians, teachers or other adults — at a very young age," Edwards said. "If we don't prepare them to make the right judgment, we will never win in the war against drugs."

Textbook theory comes alive

Town mental health counselors bring experience to students

Four Community Mental Health Services staff members who are teaching during Spring semester in area universities find their academic roles have a close connection with their fulltime professions.

Judith Yurmark said, "the theory of the textbook learning comes alive for students as I am able to bring to the classroom my practical experience."

Ms. Yurmark, M.S.W., director of Family Life and outpatient programs, is teaching "Human Behavior and the Helping Process" at Rutgers University, Newark. Kate Waldron, R.N., M.S.N., who is a psychiatric nurse at Community Mental Health Services, is a clinical instructor supervising psychiatric nursing students at Clara Maass.

Karen McCann, M.A., therapist, teaches "Psychology of Aging" at Fairleigh Dickinson University, and Norman Mosley, M.A., also a therapist, continues his teaching at Fairleigh Dickinson with a course in "Adolescent Growth and Development."

The Community Mental Health Services, a United Way agency, provides counseling services to families and individuals and maintains a daily program for chronically mentally handicapped adults. Also a part of the Community Mental Health Services is a therapeutic school for children ages 3-10, and a volunteer program to reduce loneliness and isolation for frail elderly.

For more information on all programs, call 450-3100.

School 3 Association hosts social security

The Home and School Association of School Three recently provided a special service for the parents.

Under the direction of Lois Neiman, president, arrangements were made to have representatives from the Social Security Administration appear at school, to process Social Security applications which had previously been sent home to the parents of any child not having a Social Security number.

The new tax laws mandate that, in order to claim a child as a dependent, children 5 years of age or older must have a Social Security number.

The project was a great success and parents are already starting to receive the Social Security cards, a school spokesperson said.

Macheska named to Upsala Honor List

Nine students from Essex County who are enrolled at Upsala College have been named to the Honors List for the fall 1986 semester.

David Michael Macheska of Acme Street in Belleville is one of the nine. He is a freshman who plans to major in art. He is the son of Alice and Wasil Macheska and a graduate of Belleville High School.

Free package makes tax time easier

Now that the holiday festivities have passed, we are officially in the new year. With 1987 comes a new tax law and under that new tax law, good record-keeping is more important than ever.

As we try to keep the resolutions we made a few weeks ago, there is one that will be easier to keep this year than the others:
the resolution to keep better financial records.

Your local H & R Block offices has a handy little set of items which makes this chore very simple and easy. And the valuable set is absolutely free.

If you are like most of us, your receipts are scattered all over, your cancelled checks are a massive jumble of paper and you have probably thrown out or misplaced a lot of receipts you wish you had handy at tax time. Perhaps the reason most of us dread filling our tax returns is because we have so much trouble assembling or reconstructing all the records we need. If only we had a painless, easy system.

Now, H & R Block offers a free package containing an easy-to-use Tax Record book and a large Tax-saver envelope. There is no longer any need to guess about what to save because the Tax-saver envelope has a simple checklist which tells you at a glance.

And there is no need to search all over for your records at the end of the year because the over-sized envelope is large enough for you to just toss your receipts in it on a regular basis. When tax time rolls around, just open the envelope and you are all set.

The Tax Record book also simplifies record-keeping and is especially useful for keeping track of rents, business or employee-related expenses, dividends, home improvements, medical and dental expenses and loads of other items which can help you save money at tax time.

For example, if you own a two-family home in Essex County and spent money to fix up the tenant's bathroom, you would just note it in the tax Record book and toss the receipts or cancelled checks into the Tax-saver envelope. No more guesswork at tax time. The more items you remember, the more you can claim and the more you can save. However, you cannot deduct things you cannot even remember. The Block package remembers for you while arming you with the documentation IRS requires.

The free H & R Block package is the best answer to the question of how to keep good financial records. Bert Tobia, District Manager of H & R Block, invites you to stop in or call any H & R Block office for more information about making tax time a happier time.

SHERIFF'S SALE

SUPERIOR COURT OF NEW JERSEY,
CHANCERY DIVISION, ESSEX COUNTY,
DOCKET NO. F-6998-85, GOVERNMENT
NATIONAL MORTGAGE ASSOCIATION, a corporation, PLAINTIFF vs. LEONARD THOMAS, et ux, et als, DEFENDANTS, Execution For Sale of Mortgaged Premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of Execution, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by Public Auction, in SHERIFF'S OFFICE, Essex County Court Building in Newark, on Tuesday, the 10th day of March next, at one-thirty P.M., (Prevailing Time)

ALL that tract or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the City of Newark in the County of Essex in the State of New Jersey;
BEGINNING of a point on the Southwesterly side of Honsbury Avenue which point is distant Northwesterly 100 feet along the same from the corner formed by the intersection of said line of Honsbury Avenue with the Northwesterly line of Bergen Street and from said beginning point running thence; (1) South 49 degrees 59 minutes West 100 feet; thence (2) North 40 degrees 1 minute West 50 feet; thence (3) North 49 degrees 59 minutes East 100 feet to the solid line of Honsbury Avenue; thence (4) South 40 degrees one minute East along said line of Honsbury Avenue 50 feet to the point and place of BEGINNING.

BEING known and designated as 60 Honsbury Avenue, Newark, N.J.

The above description is in accordance with a survey made by Trost Engineering Associates, dated 7/24/86.

ALSO KNOWN AS Block 3689, Lot 5.

THIS IS a purchase money mortgage.

TOGETHER with all materials, equipment, furnishings or other property whatsoever installed as of 11/19/70 and installed subsequent thereto and used in and about the lands herein described which are necessary to the complete and comfortable use and occupancy of such building or buildings for the purpose for which they are to be erected or were erected, including in part, all awnings, screens, shades, fixtures, and all heating, lighting, ventilating, refrigerating, incinerating and cooking equipment and appurtenances thereto.

A DEPOSIT OF 20% OF THE BID PRICE IN CASH OR CERTIFIED FUNDS IS REQUIRED AT THE TIME OF SALE.

The approximate amount of the Judgement to be satisfied by said sale is the sum of TWENTY-ONE THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED
FOURTEEN DOLLARS AND FIFTY-SIX CENTS, ($21,414.56), together with the costs of this sale.

The Sheriff reserves the right to adjourn the sale from time to time as provided by Law.

Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

I've heard that it is better to buy real estate direct from owners who have not yet signed with a real estate agent because I can save the real estate commission. Is that true? — R. Pressner, Clifton.

It may be possible, but highly unlikely. The fallacy of saving the commission by buying through a for-sale-by-owner is highlighted by the glaring discrepancy: they (seller and buyer) are both looking to save the commission. In more ways than one, this is rarely the case.

A for-sale-by-owner is usually a person who feels that they can handle the sale as good as any agent can. However, it is usually not too long before the pitfalls of being a real estate do-it-yourself suddenly reveal themselves to the owner's frustration and dismay.

Contract negotiations are the key to a successful sale. The agent serves as a buffer between buyer and seller, letting each make decisions concerning the negotiations in the absence of the other. Without personal contact, the chances of personality differences and egos getting in the way are greatly reduced.

When you remove the agent from this process, the channels of communication are greatly reduced. Should the buyer now approach the seller direct, and make an offer, one of two things will happen: 1. The seller will become resentful and uncooperative, refusing to budge on his price, or 2. The seller will accept the offer in which case the buyer hedges on putting it in writing because it was too easy. Perhaps he can get it even lower! (Now go back to No. 1).

And for those who would leave it to their attorneys to negotiate, I hope you can wait a few years. Besides, when an agent draws a contract and completes negotiations in a real estate transaction, the attorneys become involved in a review capacity. If someone were able to get a sale actually negotiated and a contract drawn and completed by an attorney, and motive of saving the commission is out the window. You've probably doubled it.

Last but not least is the expense factor. If you take a look at the costs of the average sale (when you're footing the bill yourself) it becomes clear that no one is saving a heck of a lot of anything. There is the cost of advertising (classified ads are quite expensive), the cost of safety (will you let just anyone in your home? How do you know which ones?), the cost of time (as long as you don't sell, you can't move either... unless you pay two mortgages, two tax bills, etc.)

So, can the commission be 'saved'? Do yourself a favor and visit your local broker.

DePiro Realtors selected to market Terry Lane Condominiums

Ron DePiro, president of DePiro Realtors, Nutley, is pleased to announce that his firm has been selected by developers/architects James Landon to be the exclusive broker for Terry Lane condominiums now under construction on Passaic Ave., Belleville.

Terry Lane is a 10 unit, contemporary style condominium development which offers 2 and three bedrooms condominium units. All units have a 1 car garage, laundry facilities, ceramic tile baths, large spacious rooms, gourmet kitchens, central air, balconies, and much much more.

James Landon, architect and developer states "Terry Lane offers a modern, contemporary look which will be a look and lifestyle no one else has ever offered Belleville residents, top construction by J. Kelly Inc., and a great design with stone and glass for a great look."

DePiro stated, "Terry Lane will be the standard that other condos will be measured by. We are pleased to offer top design, top construction, and top value in Belleville."

Terry Lane is now under construction at 204 Passaic Ave., Belleville. Please call DePiro at 667-0006 for appointment to see plans.

Govel handles sales of Belleville apartment building

An eight-unit all-brick Belleville apartment building has been sold as the result of a transaction handled by Govel Realtors.

The Florence Avenue building was sold by Michael Gintella to an investment client of Govel Realtors, which was represented in the transaction by Ralph B. Giordano, executive vice president of the Belleville-based real estate organization.

The 20-year-old building, which was sold for an amount in excess of $300,000, features five two-bedroom and three one-bedroom apartments. Among the building's features are ample on-site parking, modern kitchens and baths, hardwood flooring, air conditioning and an oil heating system.

"The Florence Avenue apartment building represents an exceptional investment opportunity for our client," Giordano explained. "Belleville, as contrasted with many other communities, still offers opportunities for viable purchases while elsewhere inflated prices for investment properties are the norm rather than the exception."

SWEET RED PEPPER STRIPS WITH ENOKI MUSHROOMS

4 large red bell peppers
1/4 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
1 garlic clove, minced
1/2 teaspoon finely chopped fresh basil or a pinch of dried

1 teaspoon finely chopped fresh cilantro or 1/2 teaspoon dried salt
1 freshly ground pepper
1 package (3 ounces) enoki mushrooms

1. Wipe the peppers clean with a damp cloth. Place them on a rimmed baking sheet and broil them under a low flame until the skins are charred on all sides. Put the peppers in a brown paper bag, close the end of the bag and set aside to cool for 10 minutes. (To make the bag, this will help loosen the skins. Set aside.)

2. Combine all ingredients except the red peppers and mushrooms in a small bowl and whisk until well blended. Leave at room temperature until ready to pour over red pepper strips.

3. Peel off the skins when the peppers are cool enough to handle. Remove cores and seeds. Cut the peppers into 1/2-inch-wide strips. Arrange on serving plate and distribute enoki mushrooms over peppers. Pour on oil and vinegar dressing and serve.
