The students are presently working on programming in Basic Language. It is a challenging experience that is most rewarding. The students look forward to their meetings with great anticipation. Only female commission candidate Carol Politz enters the fray

By Christopher Bifani
Belleville's field of commission candidates is growing by leaps and bounds. Of the 21 original aspirants seeking one of only five available commission seats, seven have already filed completed petitions and are eligible to run in the May 12 election.

As of March 17, they are: Mayor Michael Marotti of Holmes Street; Joseph Fornarotto of Union Avenue; Jim Messina of Brighton Avenue; Jerry Del Guercio of Grove Street; Nicholas Mazzola of Myrtle Avenue; Commissioner Joseph McGreevey of Cleveland Street and Carol Politz of Jorammon Street.

Politz is the only woman among the 21 citizens originally seeking petitions. Her reasons for mounting a candidacy are simple:

"I feel that there are things I can do and should be done for the people of this town, mainly the senior citizens and the youth."

In the area of senior citizens, Politz believes the township should assume more responsibility for senior home health care. Regarding youth, Politz says there should be more for the teenagers to do, activities and events that will keep them off the streets.

"Our teens have nothing to do with themselves. When I was growing up in Belleville there were dances every Friday night, and that's only going back to the sixties." Because Politz feels that hers is a people-oriented campaign, she said she would prefer a people-oriented post if elected commissioner.

"I'd like to be Commissioner of Public Affairs," Politz said of the position currently occupied by Commissioner Michael Pizzi. "But that doesn't mean I want Commissioner Pizzi out. As a matter of fact I like him." She quickly adds she would accept any commission post, however, and mentions the Parks and Recreation Department as another possibility that would be suited to her talents.

When asked what she perceives to be Belleville's biggest problem, the "streets in this town" are the first subject that comes to her mind.

"I feel that they shouldn't just be filled with tar, they should be repaved. However, until money is available to repave all the streets that need it, filling the potholes should be done."

Politz is also concerned with the condition of Belleville's underground aqueducts.

"Water mains are a problem," she asserts, "On Rutgers Street, for example, there is a leaking water main that's 75 years old."

But Politz says that her interest is in the well-being of the township as a whole, not just specific problems. "I have an interest in this town," (continued on page 9)

New school budget calls for elimination of 26 positions

By Christopher Bifani
Belleville's revised 1987-88 school budget is only $12,000 higher than last year's - but taxpayers are still facing a tax increase of more than 20 points, according to budget figures made available at a public hearing this past Monday at Belleville High School.

The dilemma, according to school system Business Administrator Joseph Atallo, stems from the state level, and the state's back-to-back funding reductions of more than a half million dollars each.

"There's basically two reasons for the tax hike," Atallo told the audience of some 100 parents and citizens, "the first is property valuation. The state formula assigns state aid based on property values. As property values go up, state aid goes down. Belleville's property values are up 27-28%. We lost $578,000 in state aid this way."

The business administrator said an additional $563,000 is not forthcoming from the state because

"the state decided not to fully fund education this year."

"So coming out of the gate," he continued, "the Board of Education was down 25 tax points. And this is not unique to Belleville." Atallo added that Bloomfield, for example, is faced with similar reductions in state aid.

School officials say group is not involved with children

CCB is barred from Expo '87

By Christopher Bifani
The Concerned Citizens of Belleville (CCB), an activist community group formed in April of 1986, has been denied permission to participate in Expo '87, the March 28 town and school presentation being held at Belleville High School.

Vincent Frantantoni, president of the CCB said his group will protest the group's denial by picketing the event.

"We probably have the biggest membership of any community group in this town," Frantantoni said of the CCB, "We're a non-profit group. We should be allowed to participate."

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, when reached for questioning on Monday, March 17, initially said the CCB had made its request "too late," but when asked when the deadline was for table requests by township groups, conceded that there was none.

Another reason Nardiello cited for the CCB denial was that there was no table space available. "All the schematics have already been set," the Superintendent told the Times.

The third reason given for the group's denial was less cut and dry.

Both Superintendent Nardiello and Board of Education President Phil Linfante said that the Concerned Citizens of Belleville is not a group directly concerned with children or the Belleville school system.

Said Linfante: "It was the consensus of the Expo '87 committee that the Concerned Citizens have not been directly involved with the children. I received their request yesterday (Monday, March 16) and the consensus was that we have to keep all the groups in the expo on a school-education framework."

Said Nardiello: "The Concerned Citizens of Belleville do not impact directly on education or children."

The decision was made by committee members not to accept them."

Late last year, the Concerned Citizens of Belleville released a multi-page report on the asbestos situation in general, and asbestos in the Belleville schools specifically. The Times asked Nardiello if such a report demonstrated a genuine interest in the schoolchildren of Belleville.

"I think the (CCB) report was made to deal with the asbestos situation. But the rest of the groups participating in Expo '87 have been involved with the children...in contests, scholarships, donations and contributions to the school system."

The decision to exclude the non-partisan, non-profit Concerned Citizens of Belleville from Expo '87 was reached not by direct vote of the Expo '87 organizational committee, but by "general assent" or a voiced consensus of the committee members, Superintendent Nardiello said.

Chamber of Commerce chairwoman named 'Outstanding Young Woman'

By Christopher Bifani
Belleville Chamber of Commerce Chairwoman Jaye Tarantino has been named one of the "Outstanding Young Women of America," in recognition of her "outstanding accomplishments, ability and service to the community."

"A woman of your character is truly an asset to her family, as well as to her community, state, and nation," wrote Margaret Long Arnold in her award presentation letter to Tarantino. Long Arnold is Chairwoman of the "Outstanding Young Women of America" advisory board, and is also honorary president of the Greater Federation of Women's Clubs.

In addition to a certificate recognizing her achievement, Tarantino will also be listed in the current edition of the "Outstanding Young Women of America" anthology. Tarantino's biographical sketch and list of accomplishments will be included in the book.

"I just made it," Tarantino said, commenting on her selection. She explained that she recently turned 35, and that only women who are under 36 are eligible for the award.

History of civic service

Tarantino, who is presently a resident of Passaic, has a long history of service on the Belleville business and civic scene. In 1981, while owner of Tarantino's Ristorante, she was elected president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, the first time in the chamber's then 23 year history that a woman served in that post.

"Jaye Tarantino is one of a kind," wrote Belleville Times Publisher Frank Orechio in an editorial shortly after her selection as chamber president. "Belleville merchants, commercial and industrial leaders should be grateful for this young lady's almost consummate desire to make the chamber more successful than ever."

Tarantino's other civic-minded activities include her contributions to the Belleville/Nutley Columbus Day Parade Committee, where she has been actively involved in both organization and publicity for the past three years.

Currently, Jaye Tarantino is the Chairwoman of the chamber's board of directors, and she presides over a chamber that is enjoying a revived interest among township businesses.

A graduate of Union High School, Tarantino was further educated at Los Angeles City College and the Professional School of Business. She also holds a license to sell real estate.

Jaye Tarantino currently works as account executive for The Belleville

Times and in 1985 was named a vice president of Orechio Publications, the parent company of the Times. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gorlin of Union.

While Ms. Tarantino is pleased with her selection as an outstanding young American woman, it is still the day-to-day challenges of the Belleville business world which get her adrenaline going.

"My goals for 1987 are to help the chamber of commerce - Belleville's business community - become more visible to the people of Belleville, and more receptive to the people's needs. I am fortunate to have a talented group of officers who are dedicated to making the chamber more dynamic, better publicized, and larger in number," she said.

Ms. Tarantino, who several years ago coined the chamber slogan, "It's better in Belleville," is one young woman who intends to keep it that way.

COSMETOLOGY CLUB - With the help of Belleville High School, the Fine/Arts program now has a Cosmetology Club sponsored by Mrs. Karen D'Amico at School Three. Three young ladies, Ms. Heather Dalton, Alise Davies and Cathy Coppola have been guest lecturers on "Nail Care" which included the correct manner in which to file, paint and massage the fingernails correctly.

A few simple hairstyles were demonstrated using various sprays and gels. During the coming weeks Mrs. Jeannie Towers, a parent and licensed cosmetologist will offer her services which will cover the application of facials.

A second parent, Mrs. Pat Slattery, will be lecturing the girls as well. The course is exciting and successful because of the guests who have demonstrated and lectured on the skills of their profession. Mrs. D'Amico, as sponsor, has done a marvelous job in the planning of the club.

CLEAR AND DRY

Histamine is found in every body tissue. It is released from the tissues into our systems in both the common cold and allergies. Antihistamines block the formation of histamine, and therefore prevent or relieve these allergy or cold symptoms. While some antihistamines are ideally suited for allergies, they may cause some problems with a cold. This is due to the fact that they produce a drying effect. In individuals with congestion, the antihistamine thickens and hardens the mucus. This makes it difficult to clear the upper respiratory passages. That is why many cold remedies contain both an antihistamine and decongestant. As the antihistamine has a drying effect, the decongestant keeps the sinuses open.

Homeowners right to self-defense

Belleville delegates hail deadly force bill

The Assembly on Monday gave final legislative approval to a bill (A-498) that would allow homeowners to use deadly force to protect themselves against intruders under certain circumstances.

The measure would change existing laws to allow persons to use deadly force in self-protection, the protection of others and in defense of their homes.

Assemblyman John Kelly (R-30) and Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-30) hailed passage of the measure.

No exception to ban

Sen. Orechio wants veto of steel jaw trap bill

Senator Carmen A. Orechio said legislation now before the Assembly to allow New Jersey trappers to display and collect outlawed steel jaw leg hold traps would destroy all our efforts to ban the use of these barbaric devices.

The bill, A3511, would allow possession of the traps for display and decorative purposes in private homes or commercial establishments.

Senator Orechio, who sponsored a 1984 law banning the manufacture, sale, and possession of steel jaw leg hold traps in New Jersey, said under the law all traps must be turned in to law enforcement officials by April 3.

"We fought for 10 years to stop the use of these traps and the ban was upheld in court. It would be a tragedy to allow the exceptions set forth in A3511," he said.

"If this bill is approved it will be impossible to enforce and will only open the door for potential abuse."

"This bill will guarantee and protect our basic right of self defense," said Kelly. "The rights of property owners to protect themselves and their families must be clearly defined, particularly in light of increasing crime rates."

Crecco stated, "People need to know what their rights are if a criminal breaks into their home. This bill clarifies those rights."

Under the measure, persons would be authorized to use force or deadly force against an intruder if the intruder has unlawfully entered the home and the property owner "reasonably believes" that force is necessary to protect against bodily harm or an intruder refused to surrender, leave or disarm.

Kelly explained that current state law broadly provides when the use of force is justifiable for the protection of the person and contains limitations on that use, including prohibitive language concerning the use of deadly force, with exceptions in certain circumstances.

Crecco noted the bill would amend the state criminal code, concerning the use of force in defense of premises or personal property, to provide that a person within a dwelling shall be presumed to have a reasonable belief in the existence of danger and that the use of less than deadly force would expose him or another person to substantial danger of bodily harm.

In order to rebut this presumption, the bill provides that the State must present proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Currently, a person accused of unjustifiably using deadly force is required to prove that such a belief is reasonable. This measure would require the prosecution to prove that no reasonable belief existed.

The bill now heads to Governor Kean for his consideration.

Joe McGreevey

For sixteen years, taxpayers of Belleville have placed their tax money in the capable hands of Finance Director Joe McGreevey.

Commissioner McGreevey is not only frugal — he is stingy. McGreevey has become a legend in his own time — and that's tough to come by.

We salute this kind and gentle man for his dedicated service to the people he has served so well. We are not surprised that McGreevey has accumulated an outstanding financial record as a public official. For — after all, he was taught by a great master — McGreevey is a protegee of former Mayor and Finance Wizard — the late, beloved, Bill Williams. In the last half century, there is no question that Bill Williams ranks with the best of our town commissioners.

Future historians will record that Joe McGreevey, the student, has outperformed the master. It is with privilege and respect that we endorse Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevey for re-election. McGreevey has well earned another term.

Belleville Ministerium

The Belleville Ministerium, a group of pastors from most of the township's religious institutions, has been recently revived through the efforts of Silver Lake Baptist Church Pastor Rev. Gerald Fortunato and Fewsmith Presbyterian Church Pastor Reverend Al Stone.

The revived group promises to bless the township in a variety of ways. First, the ministerium will be sponsoring non-denominational services throughout the Christian year, including Christmas, Eastertide, and Thanksgiving.

The group will also be hosting prominent religious leaders for speaking engagements open to churchgoers townwide.

Belleville Times readers are especially blessed by the revival of the Belleville Ministerium. On a rotating basis, the inspirational writings of all ministerium priests and pastors will be presented in the Religious Viewpoints feature of this newspaper, joining Pastor Fortunato who has provided readers with articles of faith for quite some time.

We welcome the literary talents of Belleville's clergy to our Religious Viewpoint page, and wish the ministerium the best of luck and God's blessing as they go about their good work.

Or vice-versa...

Good news - bad news

Good News — Bad News stories have been around for quite some time. Invariably the good news is given first billing. For example, "Have you heard the story about Cleopatra's oarsmen who were given the 'Good News' that they were to receive extra food rations that evening? The 'Bad News' was that Cleopatra wished to go water-skiing in the morning."

What a "downer" if you were one of the oarsmen!

Preferable, in my opinion, is to be aware of the "Bad News" first, so that one can anticipate the "Good News" with joy.

This Lenten season we hear much about Christ's suffering and death.

Jesus suffered the disciple's misunderstanding about His mission here on earth.

Jesus suffered the scorn of the people.

Jesus had disciples who could not even stay awake one hour to pray with Him.

Jesus knew Peter would deny knowing Him.

Jesus was humiliated by being placed on a cross like a criminal.

Jesus sensed the human feeling of being forsaken by God.

Jesus died.

Could there be any Good News? Any flip side?

That answer becomes evident on Easter Day when we attend our churches and hear the familiar greeting: "Christ is Risen" and the expected and expectant response: "Christ is Risen indeed."

This is the Good News. For being united with Christ in a death like His, we are also promised to be united with Christ in a Resurrection like His.

Thank God for the unbelievable gift to us of Eternal Life — Thank God this Good News has been saved for the last.

The Rev. Nancy S. Moore

Death's sting is gone

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" (1 Corin. 15:55)

We hear almost daily of friends or acquaintances struck down without warning. We are almost blasé about the violent deaths on the evening news. We may callously discuss and analyze the death of a prominent person. But we find it difficult to contemplate our own deaths.

Death seems such a final thing. It's an unknown; we don't know what to expect from it. And we know that death can't be cheated. It catches up with everyone.

Depressing? Not for the Christian! Death is not a subject to make us pull the covers over our heads. In fact, death is spoken of in the Bible as an event to be actually looked forward to!

Paul wrote, "To live is Christ, and to die is gain. . . For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better. Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh is more needful for you" (Philippians 1:21, 23-24).

Because of Christ's death and resurrection, because of what's waiting for me in heaven, I don't need to fear death. Christ has truly taken the sting out of death for me. Like an unequipped wisp, death can buzz around me and threaten me all it wants, but I won't fear it. The stinger is gone! Maybe that doesn't make me long for my last breath, but it certainly does calm my heart and comfort my spirit.

People, not politics...

To the editor:

Jim Messina is a fine upstanding man who has come to the foreground to declare his candidacy for commissioner of the Township of Belleville. His slogan "People not Politics" espouses so well the problems that have befallen the township in recent years.

Politics have taken precedence in Belleville for too long. It is time to change this trend and elect someone with new ideas: someone who is willing to change the present form of government in Belleville. I welcome the opportunity to vote for this gentleman; I wholeheartedly support him.

Petition thanks...

At this time, I would like to thank all the residents of Belleville who signed my petition for nomination of Commissioner of our township. These petitions will enable me to have your trust and follow through with a clean campaign and bring all the facts to the people. Also, the new registered voters who filled out forms to vote for the first time.

Your vote is your voice. Don't complain after the election is over. You can make the difference!

Linfante for school board...

To the editor:

I was a Belleville resident for more than 25 years, and still retain my interest in what's happening and the many friendships that were formed. Though I moved away a few years ago, I am still concerned with the town and its leaders.

I worked with Phil Linfante on many volunteer projects and found him to be highly qualified in many areas, enthusiastic and deeply concerned and committed to the youth of Belleville.

If I lived in Belleville now, I would again vote for Phil and would like to ask your readers to keep Phil on the Belleville Board of Education.

Thank you.

Pisano for school board...

To the editor:

On April 7, 1987, all of Belleville will have the opportunity to vote for two members of Belleville's Board of Education. I would like to ask all my friends and colleagues to come out and vote.

I have considered all the candidates and feel that Patricia Pisano is responsible and qualified to be elected on that Board.

Patricia Pisano is a mother of three children, and she will care for our children. We need another woman on the Board of Education. I feel confident in giving her my support. I hope you will too.

Angelo Risoli

To the editor:

April 7th is a very important day for the Township of Belleville for our School Board. Board of Education members are responsible for formulating and implementing policies that have a direct effect on our greatest resources — our children. It is not an election that should be taken for granted. The school board budget is also reflected in our total tax rate.

The persons we elect should be able to deal with all aspects of the educational system from budgets to books. Who better to represent us than someone who has experienced these problems first hand. Patricia Pisano as a mother of three sons in the system, a homeowner who must also adhere to a family budget is well qualified for a seat on the Board of Education. She has the children's best interest at heart.

If you feel it's time to put common sense back on the Board of Education, you will join us in our support of Patricia Pisano.

Expo '87, March 28 ...

To the editor:

"Good Things are Happening in Belleville Schools" is a slogan that factually describes how we feel about our educational system. The President of the Board of Education, Phil Linfante, decided to proudly exhibit our accomplishments to all. With this in mind "EXPO '87" was born.

At 11 a.m. on Saturday, March 28, educators, parents, residents, business people, service groups, students, town, county and state officials will come together at Belleville High School in a spirit of harmony and cooperation.

On behalf of the Board of Education I am extending an invitation to all. Come and share a day of enlightenment with us. From 11 a.m. through 4 p.m. you can visit exhibits, view visual educational productions and as a bonus our students will perform for you.

Won't you join us?

Reagan's speech...

To the editor:

I watched the President give his response to the findings of the Tower Commission Report. I think Mr. Reagan gave a positive speech, which should be a "shot in the arm" for our confidence in him.

What we fail to realize, I think, is that this President has been in office longer than any of his predecessors since Eisenhower. It doesn't seem like it's been six years since Reagan took office, and as unfortunate as this "contra-versy" has been, if this is the worst that happens under this administration, we are fortunate.

After all, how many corporate executives — just in this past week alone — have made mistakes.

The questions Kean missed

Much fanfare had been given in the local press to the visit of Governor Thomas Kean at Nutley High School, Feb. 26 attended by about 1,000 at which he deftly fielded questions posed by citizens from that community, along with many from those surrounding areas such as Belleville, Montclair, Kearny and Newark.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Although the home town newspaper (Nutley) only mentioned one Belleville, Vincent Frantantoni, who raised the question of over-development of the state, to the detriment of the environment, there was another speaker who was equally eloquent who hailed from Belleville, Mr. Joseph Celfo.

Celfo drew a resounding round of applause from the audience when he asked Governor Kean "When are we going to get our veteran's bonus?"

The plaudits of the many veterans in the audience was resounding. Bravo Joe Celfo... the significance of your question was more forceful to those veterans in the audience than all the eloquence of more polished speakers. They "loved" it!

We found fault with the selection of speakers to address the Governor. Forms distributed by ushers were passed out to those desiring to question the Governor on which the person's name and address and the question to be asked were cited.

With only one hour being allocated for the presentation of questions, and the time consumed by the Governor in answering same, it was patent that only a few speakers could possibly be permitted to get the opportunity to be heard.

How the selection process was determined was never explained. We found it to resemble a "grab bag" type of lottery at which chance more than the merit determined the selection of speakers.

Associates of Nutley's Mayor Harry Chenoweth noted that several questions they had hoped would be discussed never came up, such as the matter of replacing funds lost to the town with the ending of Federal Revenue Sharing, and the matter of remedial legislation involving the Mt. Laurel decision requiring every town to have low-cost housing, which is a problem for area communities because of lack of available empty building lots. Also, the "20-and-out" proposal, that would permit public safety officers to retire on half-pay after 20 years.

The lottery type selection of speakers at the Nutley visitation of the Governor Feb. 26 prevented discussion of a bill languishing in the Assembly Judiciary Committee sponsored by Nutley Assemblyman John Kelly which would allow persons 70 and over (with amendment) to exercise the option of either serving or declining to serve on Jury Duty (A-2771).

Bergen County Assemblyman Walter Kern, Chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, probably because of opposition of the Administrative Office of the Courts has "bottled up" his worthy bill, notwithstanding that they acknowledge "Whether 70 or 75 is the age at which this option occurs is a Legislative prerogative."

Assemblyman Kelly's bill, if enacted into law, would grant the option of any senior citizen over 70 years of age the opportunity to determine if they want to serve on the jury in New Jersey or not. The federal courts don't call anyone 70 or over, nor does the State of New York or many other states.

We feel a Governor considered as so aggressive and modern as Governor Kean should endorse and sponsor enactment of such a measure as submitted by Assemblyman Kelly and approved by the Assembly.

He should not permit himself to be "fettered" by the anachronistic prejudices of an outmoded hierarchy of ultra-conservative judicial minded men who might cherish suzerainty control of the New Jersey Court System.

Modern trends and big city crime and violence which characterizes our County seats, where courts are held, merits options of senior 70 and over the exercise their option to serve or not.

it's a good town, it's a nice town and it should stay that way," she said.

Carol Politz is married with two children in the Belleville school system. Her son Robert, 16, attends Belleville High School while her son Michael, 9, attends School 3.

Politz is a graduate of the Belleville school system and she continued her education at the Capri Academy of Hair Design.

In other Commission '87 developments, Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph DiRuggiero has decided not to seek reelection to another term. Sources say the commissioner's new job in New York will be too time-consuming.

So who's in line to become police and fire commissioner?

So far, two candidates have expressed an interest in this key commission post, both of whom have filed and are eligible to run.

The first, is Jerry Del Guercio who cited his experience as a security supervisor with the Essex County Jail as a qualification for the Public Safety commission post.

The second, is Mayor Michael Marotti who told the Times he would consider relinquishing his current post as head of the parks and recreation department in order to assume leadership of public safety.

The deadline for turning in completed petitions is tomorrow, Friday March 19. The polls will be open throughout Belleville on May 12 from 7AM until 8PM.

The last day to register to vote in the election is April 12, and information on registering is available by calling the office of the Town Clerk at 450-3310.

Look at the "good" things...

To the editor:

"Good Things are Happening in Belleville Schools," says Mr. Linfante and his Board of Education. Let's look at the good things.

New administrative positions were created last year. Administrators were given huge salary increases. Our superintendent of maintenance was given a large salary increase. Our Board attorney received a raise to $90 per hour. High priced consultants and architects are being hired to do redundant reports. "Good things"? Yes, they are, and look who is receiving these "good" things. And now for our children! Let's look at the "goodies" in store for them. If you were one of the 40 people in attendance at the Budget presentation at the High School, you would have learned the following. Mr. Linfante and his board of Ed are going to:

1. scale back on purchasing of computer software and services.
2. Reduce costs on product testing, (such as asbestos testing).
3. The reduction in force of instructional personnel would include 2 H.S. teachers, 3 middle school teachers and 5 elementary school teachers.
4. Elimination of summer school program.
5. Reduction in curriculum planning.
6. Elimination of faculty advisors for various student activities.
7. Reduce per diem salary to $45 and $65 for substitutes.
8. Reduction in force of two clerical personnel.
9. Reduction in force of teachers who help supervise lunch programs in elementary schools.
10. Postpone purchasing of updated textbooks.
11. Postpone purchasing of additional audio-visual equipment and related library resource materials, i.e. books and periodicals.
12. Reductions in teaching supplies and related materials.
13. Reduction in graduation expenses and standardized testing costs.
14. Reduction in force of one nurse.
15. Reduce costs of health supplies and related materials.
16. Eliminate courtesy busing for high school and middle school students.
17. Reduce number of extracurricular trips by 40 percent.
18. Reduce transportation costs to school district, by cutting back on bus fleet.
19. Eliminate 8 custodial positions throughout school district, including 2 from H.S.
20. Eliminate 5 maintenance positions.
21. Elimination of new equipment, i.e. furniture, audio visual, musical instruments.
22. Scale back purchasing of supplies for masonry, plumbing, electrical, carpentry vehicles, etc.
23. Reduce athletic supplies.
24. Cut back on clinics.
25. Postpone capital improvement projects district-wide.

These are some of the "good things" happening in our public schools. Our children and taxpayers are being raped right in front of our eyes and we sit home and watch T.V. Parents and taxpayers must get out and ask the following questions:

How do you justify an increase in administration when you are cutting back on every conceivable item that directly affects our students? How do you justify giving the Board Attorney a $5 per hour raise to $90 per hour, while at the same time you are reducing the substitute teacher pay by $5 per day, from $50 to $45? How do you justify additional administrative positions while you are eliminating nurses, teachers, custodial, and maintenance positions?

Why was $280,000 earmarked last year specifically for middle school renovations and only $80,000 was spent on repairs to this school?

Why has our school enrollment dropped 290 students over the past two years and 2000 students over the last decade, (we've closed two schools) yet our school budget has increased astronomically?

We are now beyond the point of simply being robbed of our tax dollars. Our children's education, health, and safety are now being compromised by the powerbrokers.

As you ride up Division Ave. you see that many good citizens were duped into putting up signs that read "This is Linfante Country." Someone should tell Mr. Linfante that he doesn't own the town yet. It still belongs to Belleville taxpayers and we will regain control of it.

Entitled to numerous deductions

Self-employed people can save

By Bert Tobia

"Self-employed people and business owners can save quite a bit on taxes," advises Bert Tobia, district manager for H & R Block, "if they know the numerous deductions they are entitled to take."

"Even under the new tax laws," Tobia continued, "self-employed people can reduce their taxes with careful planning."

"Most self-employed persons know they are allowed to deduct rent they pay on a business property. However, many of our self-employed clients use space in their home as an office. A painter from Nutley, who is our client, set aside a room in his basement where he stores his tools, maintains his files and does his billing. His business phone is in there, too and he uses the room only for business purposes. The room represents 10 percent of the total space in the house. Each year, he takes a deduction for 10 percent of his utilities, 10 percent of his maintenance cost and 10 percent of the house's depreciation.

"Another frequently overlooked deduction is for use of a vehicle. Some of our self-employed clients have business trucks. They must use their personal vehicles for business use, a client who is a car salesman in West Orange was able to save a lot of tax dollars. He works part-time for a company as an outside saleswoman and was able to take a deduction for the use of her car, too. H & R Block has a new Auto Expense booklet that records-keeping very simple. The booklet is available at convenient locations H & R Block offices. It is free of charge.

Provides legal aid for Medicare patients

Kelly L.A.M.P. bill signed into law

On March 3, Governor Thomas H. Kean signed into law A3140/S2484, which will provide Legal Assistance for Medicare Patients (LAMP) appealing decisions of denied reimbursements. The Assembly bill was sponsored by Assemblyman John Kelly (R-30).

"This program will bring New Jersey's poor and elderly an additional $1.1 million in Medicare reimbursements in the first year," Kelly stated.

The law appropriates $235,000 for the LAMP program which should be self sufficient within two years. "Such cost effective programs are few and far between," Kelly said.

The bill is a response to a reported increase in the number of claim reimbursements being denied by the Federal Health Care Financing Administration.

"Many claimants become intimidated by the process and do not pursue their full right to appeal. This law will provide assistance for those facing the appeal process."

It is estimated that 80 percent of those who appeal and reach the hearing stage win their appeals. "This program will allow those recipients entitled to benefits to receive the benefits they deserve," Kelly said.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. E. of Belleville asks: "If part of a molar breaks off, with some of the decay slightly BELOW the gum line is it still possible to save the tooth with a crown?"
Indeed Mrs. E. it is possible depending on the extent of the decay and the condition of the gum. If the gum is healthy and the removal of decay leaves enough healthy tooth left, then the tooth can be crowned (protected by a 360 degree casting) with excellent results. (Often the dentist reduces the tooth under the gum with or without decay present in preparing a crown for made. Please check with your dentist first for an evaluation. With so many new filling materials available removing decay and returning strength to the tooth enables many more teeth to be saved than ever before. Good luck and thank you for an excellent question.
A Reader asks: "What is the life expectancy of a toothbrush before it is considered non-effective?"
We advocate use of a softbrush with the rounded end brush tips at all times. When those tips fray or spread apart without returning to their original configuration then it's time for renewal. In general 3-6 months or brushing 2 to 3 times daily is an average life expectancy. Once the bristles stay spread out they are no longer brushing effectively. Thank you.

Belleville's Chevrolet. The dealer has been located at the Avenue strip for years, and its clientele that's been a source of repeat business for the GM cherishes. Abbracciamento said that unlike highway dealerships, which tend to be impersonal, his dealership cares about the customer...and this attitude spills over into service, an area where customer satisfaction is the ultimate goal. Abbracciamento is as proud of his car line as he is of his customer satisfaction philosophy. Alfalo explained that the came from unspent budgeted mon- in various accounts, and an unbudgeted windfall from the state to compensate for the minimum $18,500 teachers' salary imposed by Governor Kean. The bulk of this money is earmarked for the budget's cash reserve, "rainy day money" in the words of Superintendent Nardiello, which safeguards the district against liabilities or emergencies, and which is held in an interest-bearing investment portfolio.

Frantantoni, who also went out of his way to compliment the business administrator for his budget presentation, wanted to know why more than a quarter of a million dollars was budgeted for middle budget request, listed the total amount of anticipated state aid at $6,484,281, down almost $1 million from the $7,438,223 received from New Jersey last year. Ironically, federal aid is up slightly. Belleville received $375,000 from the federal government in 1986-87, and $390,000 is expected under the revised 1987-88 budget.

In urging voter approval of the revised budget come April school election time, board officials stressed that the budget is a compromise between the state mandate for a thorough and efficient education and the limitations of an already strapped tax-paying citizenry. The end result is a budget which goes to the polls in a far more Spartan form than originally hoped. Programs are slashed or eliminated. Educational, custodial, and administrative positions have disappeared. And there is no more cash available for free in-town summer school for remedial students.

But the district-wide asbestos clean-up program has been largely spared the axe's wrath and with an expected decline in student population the board hopes the staff reductions will not hurt the quality of education.

the 1987-88 budget. Noteworthy among is the line for new which $121,181 was allocated current year. The original requested for 1987-88 was $121,181, an initial cutback of some $16,000. Now, the school board is proposing an additional cutback of $15,119, leaving the revised for new textbooks at $90,000 even.

Library/Audio-Visual Equipment is another line in the revised 1987-88 budget that has been adversely affected by the budget-cutting axe. Whereas the money allocated for equipment under this line item was $51,015 for 1986-87, the original 1987-88 request called for scaling that back to $52,389. That amount has been further scaled back to only $7,389 under the proposed budget revisions, which reflects an 85% reduction over the current school year.

Chalk, erasers, pencils and other basic teachers' supplies are liable to be coveted by the staff in the 1987-88 school year, as they are being cut by almost $50,000 from 1986 levels if the revised budget, passes in April. $272,725 went to teachers' supplies in 1986-87, while a slight increase to $277,966 was originally proposed for 1988-89. The revised budget, however, calls for $52,966 to be axed from that amount, leaving a total of $225,000 for teachers supplies.

In all, the revised school budget served up by the Board of Education includes a savings of $1,411,622 over the original budget request, as well as a savings of $257,000 achieved by substantially scaling back capital outlay projects.

According to Superintendent Nardiello, all capital improvement projects are being put on the back-burner for 1987-88, except for the

the largest manpower reduction in the plant operations where eight custodians and five maintenance workers are to be removed. The savings expected by the removal of these 13 positions is more than $277,000.

The original proposed 1987-88 budget also called for the hiring of an athletic trainer at a salary of $27,000. In revision, the school board is now proposing only $6,000 to pay for part time athletic training supervision, for an anticipated savings of $21,000.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Anthony Zuzzio might have graduated from Belleville High School some 50 years ago, but his roots will forever be a part of our township.

Zuzzio is currently living in Humboldt, Kansas, where he is a retired high school vice principal. He still officiates volleyball and basketball games on the scholastic level and is very much a part of the sporting scene.

Zuzzio's outstanding athletic career goes back to the mid 1930's, when he earned nine varsity letters during his stay at BHS. He earned all state honors for varsity football and is a member of the Belleville High School Hall of Fame.

Upon graduation from BHS, Zuzzio attended Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pa., choosing that school over nine other prospective schools. While there, he played varsity tackle for three years and was selected as Little All American. He was then selected to play in the National Football League, chosen by the Detroit Lions.

By Mike Lamberti

Zuzzio explained that back in the early 1940's, there were no agents. The player, in essence, was his own agent.

"I was drafted by the Detroit Lions and was a holdout, because they wouldn't send me any transportation money from Belleville to Detroit," Zuzzio told the Market Place, a Humboldt Kansas newspaper. "So I played for the Newark, N.J. Bears, which is a farm club of the Chicago Bears."

He said the next season, George Halas, the longtime owner of the Bears, wanted to bring him to the big club, but Detroit would not release him from his obligation. The Lions finally sent him the transportation money that he requested and his NFL career began with the Lions.

Zuzzio remembers that tickets to a game were approximately $3 to $4 and players made about $125.00 per game, depending on what position they played. Players had to play on both offense and defense and if a player was taken out in the second quarter, he couldn't return to the game until the third.

Zuzzio played for the Lions for a year and a half, before being drafted by another team, the United States Air Force. After three and one half years in the service, Zuzzio was invited back to the NFL by Halas and the Bears.

"I told him I wanted to retire and get married, and he had me sign a contract in case I changed my mind," Zuzzio said. "As far as I know, I am still under contract."

Zuzzio's decision to leave the NFL directed him to a coaching career. He ended up coaching at Coffeyville Junior College, Edna High School, Chetopa High School, Elk City High and Humboldt High.

In addition to coaching, Zuzzio, an outstanding baseball player, served as a scout for the Los Angeles Dodgers. One of his picks, Jerry Adair, made it to the big leagues.

Although he played professional football and scouted major league baseball, Zuzzio does not have a favorite sport. Needless to say, he can be found in front of a television on a Sunday afternoon in the autumn, watching a game.

When the Lions and Bears play, however, his loyalties are split.

"Right now, I still sort of have a warm spot for Detroit and I always root for the Bears. But when Detroit and the Bears play, I'm neutral."

It's been a long time since he played for Belleville High, but Anthony Zuzzio's legacy will never end. His athletic accomplishments will forever be a part of our township.

Winter Sports

The winter sports scene officially ended for Belleville High last weekend when Armondo Nardone advanced all the way to the state finals for the Belleville wrestling team. Nardone is the first Belleville wrestler to make the finals since Chris Musmanno did it in the 1980 season.

The winter season can certainly be termed a success at Belleville High. The boys and girls' basketball teams showed marked improvements, with the girls winning ten games and the boys, nine. Both teams have a strong nucleus returning in 1987-88, especially the girls team, who loses just one senior to graduation.

Congratulations to Coach Joe Nisioveccia of the wrestling team, who led the Bucs to another outstanding campaign. In his second year as head coach, Nisioveccia led the Bucs to the sectional finals and to some impressive victories over the course of the year. There will be more on the winter sports just concluded in next week's issue.

High School Hoops

While we're extending congratulations, let's send some to coach Jim White and the Bloomfield girls' basketball team. The team made it all the way to the Group IV finals, where it lost to Hightstown. Nonetheless, it doesn't take away from a marvelous campaign for the team.

The girls won 22 games, captured the Group IV, Section II championship and will return a majority of the players next year. It's good to see our conference represented in the state championships.

Meanwhile, the Paterson Kennedy boys' basketball team made it to the Group IV finals, where it lost to Camden in the championship. In a "rebuilding" season, Camden finished 27-3 and won its second straight Group IV title and third over the past four years. I wasn't at the game, but the officiating was questioned by Kennedy coach, Tyrone Collins, and perhaps with some merit. Camden took 43 foul shots in the game, Kennedy, 18.

Next week, we'll interview the local high school coaches and get their picks on who will win the NCAA basketball tourney.

Last Weeks Quiz

UNLV did the make the Final Four once before, doing it in 1977. The Runnin' Rebels lost to North Carolina in the semis.

For This Week

This comes from Chris Lawlor, the astute sports editor of the heralded Nutley Sun. The question is, who was the last team to win the NCAA basketball tournament that was not affiliated with a conference.

Tri-county tournament was a high point

The good and bad times of BHS b-ball

The high points outweighed the disappointments for the 1986-87 boys' basketball team at Belleville High. Don Roll's team posted a 9-15 mark, the 9 wins the most by a Belleville team in four seasons.

"There were some good moments," Roll said of the past season, his first as varsity coach after three years as assistant. "Winning the (Tri County) Christmas Tournament was a big step for us. We had come close in previous years to winning a holiday tournament, but this year, we were able to take it home."

"Winning the first round of the Essex County Tournament, (a victory over Science in overtime) was big. Beating Montclair (for the first time in 20 years) was a positive step and beating Bloomfield twice was a high point."

The loss in the state tournament to Union had its good and bad points. Ditto the defeat at Kennedy. Versus Union, Belleville lost by one point, a disappointment, but the team did stage a marvelous second half rally. At one point of that game, the Bucs trailed by 19 points.

The Kennedy game was a five point setback on the road. Considering Kennedy finished the year with a 27-2 mark and advanced to the Group IV championship game last weekend, losing by five on the Knights home court was certainly a positive step.

"We could have taken that one," Roll recalled. "We missed a few easy ones and they (Kennedy) hit some tremendous shots."

Under the category of disappointment, Roll lists the inability of the team to win 10 games, the loss of some important seniors to injuries and the losses to Nutley and Passaic at home.

The Bucs ended the season on a slide, having lost its final nine games after getting off to a 9-6 start.

Injuries did take its toll. Senior Chris Goldrick went down with a knee injury and missed the last ten games. Seniors Frank and John Morrell suffered leg injuries late in the campaign. Both players made it back for the states, but their absence down the stretch did hurt.

Junior Chris Chiarmonte suffered a broken hand late in the season and missed the final three games.

The team will lose six seniors to graduation. The co captains were Goldrick and Bob Hutchison.

Goldrick played in ten games and averaged 6.2 ppg. More importantly, he played a key role to the team in ways the box score does not measure.

"He gave us about eight rebounds a game and was our best defensive player," Roll said of Goldrick. "He solidified our team. He did the job and when we lost him, it really hurt the club. People didn't realize his contributions to our team until after he got hurt."

Goldrick is a fine student-athlete. He is tops in his class, academically, and will earn three varsity letters this year (soccer, basketball and track).

Hutchison averaged 11.2 ppg, good for third on the team scoring list. He was second in free throw percentage with a 67 percent accuracy.

"He had a good outside shot and gave 100 percent everytime out," Roll said of Hutchison. "His defense improved tremendously from last year."

Hutchison was the MVP of the Tri County Holiday tournament and had a fine varsity career.

Senior Mark Huamani filled an important role for the team. "He didn't see much time at the beginning of the year," Roll said, "but when the injuries hit, he filled in very well. He was a good man to have on the team. He worked hard in practice and gave a good performance in the games."

Loung La, a four year player, was the off guard in Belleville's lineup.

"When Leon (Puentes) was out, Lou would handle the ball against the press," Roll said. "He did an excellent job in that role and performed well for us. He will be a tough man to replace."

Frank Morrell was a starting forward for the team this year and turned in a consistent performance.

"He never backed down from anyone," Roll said. "He was an excellent rebounder and was always battling for position. Frank always gave 100 percent."

His brother, John, also turned in a good effort.

"John had a bad ankle down the stretch," Roll said, "but he was a good sixth man off the bench. He could give us some offense played solid D."

There are some good players returning next year. Chief among them is junior Ted Sochaski.

He averaged 24.7 ppg this year, the team leader in scoring. Sochaski scored 593 points on the year and became the fourth player in Belleville boys' history to break 1,000 career points. He is the second junior in team history to reach the plateau and should become the all time leading scorer in Belleville boys' history halfway into the 1987-88 season.

"He could score over anyone," Roll said. "He usually played the toughest man in the paint. Ted was a good team leader and a fine all around player."

Those words could also be applied to junior Leon Puentes. The point guard was second in team scoring with an 11.95 ppg average. He led the club in free throw percentage with an excellent 74 percent accuracy.

"He is probably the most underrated guard in the county," Roll said. "Because of our record, he doesn't get the recognition he deserves. He takes away a lot from his game so that others can look good. He is an outstanding ball handler."

Puentes dribbled through some excellent defensive teams this winter and should be one of the better point guards in the area next winter.

Juniors Steve Schwed and Chris Chiarmonte saw extended playing time this year. Both men are strong and are good under the boards.

Sophomores Dominick Straface and Ray Zamloot showed marked improvement in the guard position. Straface led the junior varsity team in scoring this year and could earn the off guard slot that will be vacated by La next winter.

Zamloot, an excellent ball handler, could be the heir apparent to Puentes at point guard. He has a good outside shot and should see much more varsity time next winter.

Roll noted that a lot of the returning players are on spring sports now, but the coach is planning for the summer months and a strict regimen.

"After the spring sports, I want to see them on a weight training program," Roll said. "They HAVE to play everyday, and attend basketball camps. Our team will be playing in two summer leagues, the Elizabeth league and the Bloomfield league. The Elizabeth league will be mainly for the varsity while the Bloomfield league will be for the JV players. The key is, the kids have to play during the off season."

Team in good shape after first week of practice

Softball outlook is positive for Carl Corino and company

The Belleville softball team began its first week of practice in good shape and the signs look positive for coach Carl Corino and Company.

"It was a good week, we did as much as we could," Corino said. "We had a few good days (of weather) and were able to get outside. We have some experience come back from last year, but there are some question marks as well."

The team set a Belleville High School record for most victories in a season last spring, posting a record of 26-6. The girls advanced to the finals of the Essex County tournament for the fifth straight season and the sixth time over the past seven years. The team was upended in the ECT championships by Caldwell, 2-1, in a thriller that lasted eight innings.

Belleville made it to the sectional finals for the second straight season, but was defeated by powerful Westfield for the title.

The Lady Bucs did capture the NNJIL championship, posting a 13-1 mark, its only loss coming in the final conference game at Clifton.

This season, Corino expects the Lady Mustangs from Clifton to be one of the top teams in the conference.

"I look for Clifton, Nutley and Bloomfield to be right up there," he said. "They're usually the toughest teams for us, and it should be that way again this spring."

As for his team, Corino is confident, but isn't predicting a glory year like 1986. Not yet, anyway.

The team returns Laura Caruso behind the plate, Trisha Tramutola at third base, Cindy Ruggiero at first, Laurie Dondarski at second, Jeanine Luzzi on the mound and Maryanne McArthur in the outfield and designated hitter.

Caruso had an excellent campaign in 1986 and was strong defensively. She hit .410 last spring, with five home runs and 42 runs batted in. She also had a .695 slugging percentage.

The other half of the battery, the pitching corps, also appears to be solid. Luzzi, a junior, is coming off a 21-5 campaign last spring. She was the first player in Belleville history to win 20 games in a season and Corino reports that she is in excellent condition as the '87 season approaches.

Luzzi will get help in the pitching department from freshman Stacey Johansen. Much has been said of Johansen's ability in softball and Corino doesn't downplay the early fanfare.

"She's got it," Corino said of Johansen's athletic ability. "She can really throw the ball and is just an excellent all around player. We're working with her at shortstop, when she's not pitching."

It certainly appears that Belleville's pitching should be in very capable hands this spring.

Tramutola begins her fourth year at the hot corner. She has an excellent glove and can hit the ball very well. As is the case with Caruso, experience will be her biggest asset.

Over at first base, Ruggiero will look to repeat her 1986 heroics. The senior showed tremendous ability on both sides of the diamond. Her defense was a big plus to the team and her offense really came around as the year progressed. Playing in the leadoff slot, she hit .355, scored 34 runs, had 30 ribbies and drew 35 walks, a very important stat for a leadoff hitter.

McArthur came around with the bat last spring and will be used in the outfield and as a DH. The senior is also developing good leadership abilities, a quality that is always welcome on a contending team.

Dondarski, a sophomore, enjoyed a good basketball campaign this winter and reports in excellent condition. She has a fine glove and can hit the ball pretty well.

In the outfield, Racquel Melson returns after an injury plagued 1986 season. Melson got off to a good start last spring, but a recurring knee injury forced her season to end prematurely. She underwent knee surgery in the off season and looks strong this year.

Working with Melson and MacArthur in the outfield are Natalie La Bella, Giovanna Mallozzi, Denise Wsnia, Laurie Moyer, Sharon Corris and Carol Morrison. The team lost Sherri Sorrentino, a starting outfielder, to graduation last spring and another outfielder, Danielle Walker, who moved to the West Coast over the summer.

"We have some question marks in the outfield," concedes Corino. "Losing Walker really hurt. She had come around very well during the season (last spring)."

Another position where Belleville is looking to rebuild is shortstop, where Desiree Johansen played the last three years. Johansen was graduated last spring, but the last name could continue to dominate the position. Stacey Johansen is getting a look at shortstop and Cheri Valiese, a returning varsity player, could also gain the spot.

The girls opened its exhibition slate yesterday with a game at Verona. On Saturday morning, the team will be host to Cedar Grove in a 10:30 a.m. start. Next Monday, the girls are on the road to face a good Westfield squad.

The opening game of the '87 season takes place on April 1, when Belleville plays host to Hackensack at Clearmon Field. As usual, the girls home games will be at Clearmon.

Champions

Girls Division

In the first year of competition in the girls division first place went to the Clippers, coached by Belleville High freshman basketball player Denise Engdahl, who did an outstanding job. The Clippers were led offensively by Erica Valeri, Nikki Luzzi, Adrienne Walsh and Nicole Gibbons. Jeanine Gammara, Toni Ann Zoppi, Monica Fede and Maryann Farrara assisted the team both in offense and defense. The Clippers finished the season with a 5-1 record.

The Spurs, Rockets and Cavaliers provided the remaining field of competition in the girls division and deserve equal credit for their performance over the course of the season. The development of the girls division has surfaced many talented players, heading for an impressive future for girls basketball in Belleville.

The Spurs completed the season with a 4-2 record earning the girls a second place finish handing the division champion Clippers their only defeat. The Spurs were led by Elizabeth Ramirez, scoring 20 points in the division. Donnamarie Schettino, Danielle Cuomo and Kylie Duffy. Heather Murphy, Sarah Cummings, Michelle Bond, Tina Zarro and Kathy Lopez were the other team members.

The Rockets were led by Michelle Pszonka, Andrea Curran, Vanessa Purwin and Lori Spellman. Also by Tara Spellman, Erin DaCosta, Erin Calimiro and Kelly Hands. They were coached by Rich Pszonka.

The Cavaliers, coached by Carl Engdahl and Gatton Jannicelli were led offensively by Lisa DeSimone, Carrie Engdahl and Lauren Jannicelli. The team was led defensively by Deanna White, Louisa Bacon, Jill Percebi and Lavina Sanchez.

The Cavaliers faced a tough season, however their overall improvement of individual and team skills was second to none.

Division A

In Division A the Bullets, coached by Dennis Dework Sr., enjoyed an undefeated season with a 6-0 record. The Bullets offense was led by Troy Talmadge who shared the divisions high scorer honor with Mike Kimball of the Nuggets. Also leading the team offensively were Mike Liloia, Jim Wandling, Chris Marcantuno, and Dennis Dework Jr. Bobby Roselli, Marcello Hochreiter, Brian Davis and Talamini provided the additional offensive and defensive balance for the Bullets.

Division B

The Nets defeated the Hawks 33-32 in the division final earning the division title. The Nets were led offensively by Ken Johansen, Kevin Johansen and Mike Puleo. Kevin Davis, Tom Popowich, John Cummings, Jason Serritella and Caruso provided the team balance both offensively and defensively. The Nets were coached by Earl Wake.

Ken Johansen and Mike Mundy led the B Division in scoring during regular season.

The Hawks earned a final playoff position based on the teams performance of total teamwork over the course of the season, coached by Bob Travers. Team members were Jerry Turi, Robert Dean, Joe Berg, Marcese Beverly, Roger Hanos, Anthony Pace and Brian Travers.

Division C

The C Division title was won by the Knicks, coached by Mike Fede and Anthony Cosenza. They were led offensively by Brian Dena who also led in scoring. Team members of the Knicks were Dena, Mike Fede, Richard Roy, Kevin Davies, Mike Starr, Brian Tague, Tim Trott and John Francis. They finished the season with an undefeated 6-0 record.

Men's Volleyball Results

Jo-Lee Nursery (12-2) clinched the regular season title in the Men's Volleyball League last week by defeating Valenza Opticians (5-9) 15-7, 6-15, 15-6. Second place went to Personal Fitness Center I (11-3) who won by forfeit over BFD Heat (8-6) MDA & Co. (10-4) finished in third place after defeating the Oldtimers (1-13) 15-4, 15-7, and fifth place Personal Fitness Center II (7-7) got the best of BPSC (2-12) by scores of 9-15, 15-5, 15-12.

Men's Basketball Results

DeBacco's (7-3) rallied to defeat Mirage (6-4) 67-60 last week to claim the Men's Basketball A Division title. Third place Veniero (6-4) edged Nutley Pub (5-5) 64-61, and 4th place STS Car Service (5-5) topped Allans Place (1-9) 77-71.

The B Division title belongs to the Falcons (7-3) despite their last week to Peter Guerriero Painting (5-5) 60-50. Troise Insurance (7-3) finished second by virtue of a loss to the Falcons by a greater point differential during the regular season. Troise beat Plaza Travel (3-7) last week 70-56, and Nu Plas (4-6) edged Van Ness Dodge (4-6) for 4th place 40-39.

Over 30 League Results

Barry's Go Go evened the series with Nutley Pub when Barry's (8-1) defeated Nutley Pub (8-1) 54-38 in the Over 30 League last week. The Belleville Knights (5-5) topped Megaro Memorial Home (5-5) 46-38, and Radio Shack scored their first victory of the season, beating Modern Millwork (2-7) 44-38. Sally's Auto Parts (4-5) had a bye.

Washington Avenue — auto market hub sports cars to inexpensive, gas-sipping in-town runabouts like the Chevette.

Inbetween there are a vast array of models: The popular Celebrity mid-size sedans are priced in the ten thousand dollar range for value minded families, while the nine thousand dollar range Cavalier coupes appeal to singles and couples who want an affordable, but sporty, new car.

Another popular model offered by Crown Chevrolet is the Camaro, the number one selling sports car in the world. The Camaro is available in a host of option get-ups, ranging from inexpensive high-MPG four cylinder sport coupes to powerful V-8 IROC teeth-grashers. The used by the Ford Motor Company in such models as their Tempo, Thunderbird, and Taurus, and by the Chrysler Corporation in such models as the LeBaron GTS.

Although Chevrolet is a late entry into the euro-design trend that promises to win back domestic market share, Abbracciamento is confident his Beretta and Corsicas will carve out a sizable niche.

"Berettas and Corsicas will retail in the $12,000 range," a price which he believes is competitive against similar sport-luxury transportation.

John Abbracciamento's strong belief in Belleville as a hub of auto business is also evident in his civic-mindedness. In addition to serving as GM for the dealership, Abbracciamento also volunteers his time on the board of directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

On the chamber, he is a voice for all the dealers on the Avenue.

"You know, new car dealers have gotten a bad rap. Some people think we're sleazy or disreputable. But that's not the way it is here. Every dealer on this strip is honest and respected in the community. We're pillars."

Mr. Abbracciamento is currently supporting the cerebral palsy cause, and has announced that Crown Chevrolet will donate $25 for every car sold during the months of April, May and June. His dealership sells about 100 cars per month. More information on this appears in next week's edition of the Belleville Times.

Bigelow Motors

One sure-fire way to gauge a firm's commitment to its hometown is by the condition of the firm's property. If a company allows its property to decline, community commitment is probably not a high priority. But if a company is dedicated to expansion and rehabilitation, then community commitment is most likely a major factor.

Bigelow Motors, located at the south end of Washington Avenue, is a firm which is committed to doing business in Belleville, in the same location they've had for more than forty years.

This year, however, is a watershed year for the dealership. An $800,000 upgrade of the premises was approved by the township last year, and work is proceeding this spring on several improvements.

"Our showroom will be expanded from five cars to ten cars," said Stephan Mazula, sales manager at Bigelow. This improvement will give the Chrysler dealership one of the largest showrooms on the Avenue.

Other improvements, Mazula price ranges accordingly, however, with new Camaros costing anywhere from $10,000 to $18,000.

Sports cars aside, however, the trusty Chevrolet nameplate has had an image for building boxy-looking cars based on tired designs.

But thanks to the new Chevy Corsica and Beretta cars, the image is sure to be dispelled.

The Beretta sedan, and its two door Corsica coupe cousin, are a whole 'nother smoke for the tried-and-true Chevrolet company. These cars have the sleek, rounded, aerodynamic appearance that has been dubbed the "euro-look" by the automotive world.

This look has been extensively said, will include increased customer parking by knocking down Avenue storefronts currently used for parts storage, and the construction of a new giant parts warehouse in the back of the property.

"Right now Bigelow Motors is the third largest Chrysler parts supplier in the nation. Our new warehouse will make us even bigger."

However, its the townspeople of Belleville and surrounding communities which make for the lion's share of Bigelow's business.

"I'd say 80% of our business is local," Mazula explained, and he added that buying a new car locally saves $100 per year in the long-run, in gas, time, and effort.

Bigelow Motors, like most Chrysler dealerships, has been a flurry of activity in the wake of the company's Iacocca-engineered return to profitability. Chrysler was the first American auto maker to make extensive use of turbocharger technology, a development which increases the power of four cylinder automobiles to that of a six cylinder or eight cylinder vehicle.

This turbocharger technology is available in all of the new LeBaron models, which are now offered in two-door dress for the first time and which also feature a redesigned convertible.

"The new LeBaron convertible is the first American convertible built at the factory, from the ground up, as a convertible since the late sixties," Mazula told the Times. Priced in the $15,000 range, it has been described by automotive journalists as having an excellent ride and sports-car power.

Other new models, which sport the popular "euro-look", include the new Plymouth Sundance, an automobile which resembles a smaller LeBaron, and which is also available in a five-speed turbo-charged model.

One of the mainstays of the Chrysler-Plymouth branch is the Horizon-Turismo line. These popular workhorses sport large four-cylinder engines, five-speeds, and many available options to make for one of the best values in American automobiles, according to many car journalists.

The reason is price. A Turismo sports coupe, optioned with air conditioning, stereo, sun-roof, and a deluxe interior retails in the $9,000 range. Basic Turismos and Horizons can be had for around $7,000.

Bigelow Chrysler also markets the Mitsubishi Starion, a sports car which is marketed against Japanese sports cars like the Toyota Supra and the Nissan 300ZX. Starions, however, usually cost thousands of dollars less.

"The roads have been honoured with the titles of great names...therefore no sort of man of any dignity must desist from the construction and the reconstruction of our highways and bridges...

It is our will that all men vie in their zeal in repairing the public ways..."

Theodosius
Emperor of Rome
A.D.395

Season of the road

Springtime is upon us and with it comes the promise of renewal...the renewal of cherry blossoms, lush, green foliage, outdoor activity, warm sun and long daylight hours.

With spring, too, comes another road season, a time when our road commissioner's program of repair and resurfacing is to be implemented. Tappan Avenue, Malone Avenue, Little Street and Overlook Avenue are among the roads to be repaved...roads which are long overdue for the attention they are about to receive.

But what becomes of a road, of the immediate area the road serves, after it is repaired? What is the effect upon the citizenry whose cherished homes line these smooth, freshly dressed monuments to both progress and maintenance?

For the answer to these questions, I recall one road of my youth, in Bogota, a small, densely populated town in Central Bergen County.

This road, upon which my family still owns a home, is Oakwood Avenue. When we moved there in 1978 I was only a boy, but I remember vividly the condition of that road because it was cracked, potholed, gouged and lined with crumbling sidewalks...a victim of the roots of those mighty oaks from which the road took its name.

For me it was cause for adolescent embarrassment, because almost every friend who visited commented on Oakwood Avenue's sorry state.

The houses along the block ranged from meticulous to ridiculous. Some were as rundown as the road itself, sporting peeling paint, rotten wooden shingles and weed-choked lawns. The meticulous homes, on the other hand, stood out rather conspicuously - in sharp contrast with the rubbled roadbed in front. Our home was not the worst of the lot, but certainly not the best.

For a half dozen years, little changed on Oakwood Avenue. Most of the houses which needed improvement remained the same, while the road itself continued its decline.

Then, in 1984, Oakwood Avenue was renewed. Since it was considered to be the worst road in Bogota, it was the first to benefit when funds became available.

New asphalt, sidewalks and curbing replaced the crumbled old; the towering, but dying, oaks were removed and young saplings (with sidewalk-compatible rooting characteristics) were planted. A green mat of lawn sod was laid in the earth between the walkways and the curb. Suddenly, Oakwood Avenue was a showplace. The road was a stage for the homes which lined it, and those in disrepair stood out like big, fat sore thumbs.

My mother had wanted to renovate her piece of Oakwood Avenue since moving there. Unfortunately, a recession happened to get in the way, and we were one of those families which still felt the sting long after the recession was supposedly "over."

So that year, 1984, we were among the first to renovate and others soon followed suit. Since then about half of the homes have been improved in varying degrees. Their are new sidings, new additions, new landscaping and new paint.

There is new pride. Bicycling down freshly-paved Division Avenue and then down my block, Malone Avenue, I am struck by the difference in the landscape. The homes, as closely knit here as they are on Oakwood Avenue, seem to stand out more proudly on Division, on exhibit along this revitalized roadbed.

Ground Up Philosophy

The idea of road renewal as the prime catalyst for urban renewal forms the basis for an emerging school of thought which I call the "Ground Up Philosophy." Simply put, it is the belief that urban renewal is best begun from the ground up.

For me, this philosophy has already been proven...on the very road I travelled from boyhood to manhood.

For me, it is being proven once again, here in Belleville where I have made my career; and not just on a single street but a whole neighborhood!

When the project is complete, when Division, Tappan, Malone, Little and Overlook boast fresh coats of asphalt side by side, will the neighborhood be transformed?

Will there be the home improvements, the community spirit, the neighborhood pride?

Yes, I believe so.

All the leaders of Essex - from County Executive Nicholas Amato and his Board of Freeholders to the powerful Essex delegations we send to Trenton and Washington - would do well to closely watch this living, breathing experiment in urban renewal, because it should be tried elsewhere in the county.

What effect, for example, would freshly paved arteries have if driven through the decayed New-ark metropolis?

As a society, we have taken much from the Romans...their senate, their democracy, their republic, their eagle, their aqueduct flowing pure, life-giving water from the pristine countryside to the bustling city.

To this impressive list we must add the road, and the importance that our ancestors placed on the maintenance of these veins of life, these roads we curse or take for granted.

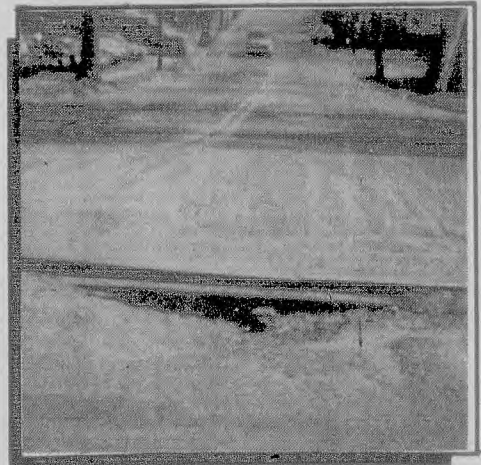

That old Roman Emperor Theodosius was right on the money when he declared that all shall "vie in their zeal in repairing the public ways."

Coming, as he did, during the decline of the Rome, the Caesar saw the painful symbolism:

As the roads declined, so too did the republic.

Smooth as silk — The new look of Division Avenue east of Union Avenue. (Photos by Christopher Bifani)

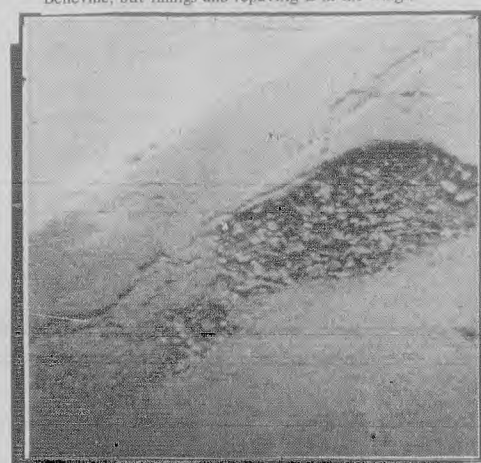

Ouch — A chassis-shaking chunk of Little Street is missing from this heavily travelled railroad crossing.

21st Century Highway — Major renovations are planned for Belleville's Freeway, Route 21.

Pothole blues — Craters like this are common in Belleville, but fillings and repaving is in the wings.

Belleville Times

"If you wish to know whether society is stagnant...learning scholastic...religion a dead formality...you may learn something by going into universities and libraries. You may learn something also by the the work that is doing on cathedrals and churches, or in them.

"But quite as much you may learn by looking at the roads.

"For if there is any motion in society, the Road, which is the symbol of motion, will indicate the fact.

"When there is activity or enlargement, or a liberating spirit of any kind, then there is intercourse and travel...and these require roads.

"So if there is any kind of advancement going on, if new ideas are abroad and new hopes rising, then you will see it by the roads that are building.

"Nothing makes an an inroad without making a road. All creative action, whether in government, industry, thought or religion creates roads."

What is meant by "No-Doc" Mortgage? — Fred Talbot, Bloomfield.

When a person applies for a mortgage to buy a home, the most exhaustive portion of the loan process is spent on the documentation of the information supplied to the lender by the applicant. That is to say, the lender does not presume accuracy or even honesty on the part of the applicant, so each and every verifiable detail of a person's (or a couple's) financial history is documented by way of tax filings, credit reports, employment verification, savings account and checking account history, etc. There are times when even a late car payment two years prior will result in the lender demanding of the applicant a written explanation of the tardy payment.

To top it off, if just one of the requested documents is lost or delayed (which, I assure you happens all too often) the entire loan package is withheld from the loan underwriters until the missing item is available. So you might imagine what happens when a transferee from Lubbock, Texas, is told five weeks into the loan application that proper savings and checking account verification has not been returned, and upon inquiry the bank in Lubbock indicates no such request received and so on ad nauseum.

Enter the "No-Doc" loan. (Short for no-documentation required.) A relatively recent entry to the mortgage lending field, the no-doc loan fills the void left by its all-too-restrictive predecessor. The no-doc loan offers the consumer the ability to borrow mortgage money without most of the traditional hassles. The purchaser simply fills out the loan application, and the bank accepts each and every detail as accurate and honest. But there's a catch. First, the no-doc lender will charge a higher rate as a premium for believing you. Secondly, your credit rating must be flawless. Thirdly, you must have at least 25 percent down on the purchase, and lastly, the property purchased must appraise to the full value of the purchase price by the lender's hired appraiser. Meet all four of the above pre-requisites and the bank will be happy to take your business — no questions asked.

No-Doc loans are not for everyone, and certainly bear no advantage to anyone who feels confident in obtaining the necessary documentation in a standard loan. The standard loan is usually offered at a lower rate and requires less of a down payment. Then again, for those who are self-employed or on a commission income, or are otherwise hindered in the standard loan application process, the no-doc loan is an alternative to being locked out of the housing market.

Moscara Realty - Quality and Service For Over 35 Years

It has been a banner year for Moscara Realty! 9 million dollars in sales for 1986 and 1987 is already off to a great start. A family business in existence for already 35 years, Moscara Realty has remained committed to serving the community in an era of a growing influx of the corporate realty franchise.

Located at 165 Franklin Avenue, Nutley, the business originally started and operated from the converted front porch of the Broker-of-Record Mike Moscara and his wife, Marie. Since 1975, the business relocated to larger quarters on Franklin Avenue and expanded its staff to fourteen, seven of which are family members. Outstanding achievement awards for 1986 went to Million Dollar Sales Club recipients Michael Moscara, Stephen Moscara, Ingrid Stefanski, David Moscara, and Dennis Moscara.

The Real Estate Business, like any other efficiently run service organization, should always place a strong emphasis on customer satisfaction. With the increasing number of real estate offices now open for business, prospective buyers and sellers might find it difficult to choose an office they can rely on for complete professional service. Moscara Realty firmly believes that their well-established family business offers the quality, assurance and consistency required to serve your needs.

Moscara Realty are members of two Board of Realtors — the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley, and Belleville Board of Realtors and the Montclair Board of Realtors. In addition to their extensive and long involvement in residential sales and rentals, they have also expanded into the commercial line of Real Estate sales.

To assist and advise the public in today's competitive market, we offer a complimentary Market Analysis of your home at your convenience. You are under no obligation and all information will be kept confidential.
