Commissioners mandate $200,000 in school budget cuts

By Christopher Bitani

The recent defeat of the proposed $19 million Belleville school budget led to a meeting between the Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education - with the commission subsequently mandating $200,000 in cuts.

The two boards met Tuesday, April 21st to discuss it, where, and how much the budget could be pared. School board officials, among them Superintendent Michael Gaudello and Business Administrator Joseph Altobello, argued that the budget was already cut as deep as possible without reducing the quality of public education in Belleville.

Commissioners, however, were not convinced. They said a top-heavy school administration was one area where further cuts could be made.

"I can't see why we can't get by with less administrators when we're laying off teachers," Commissioner of Public Safety Ralph D'Amico said. He added that this could be bad for teacher morale.

Administratively sophisticated

But Superintendent Gaudello argued that "this school system must be sophisticated administratively." He said this was a strength of the school system.

School board member Dr. Anthony D'Agostino echoed the Superintendent.

"It's not fair to see the quality of education go down, that's what will happen if we disrupt the supervision of education. The quality of education in Belleville has increased because of better supervision of instruction."

$13,000 increase

Board member Ernest Zoppi and Business Administrator Altobello both pointed out that the actual school budget has risen only about $13,000 over last year's budget. The reason for the 21 point tax hike riding with the original 1987 school budget, Altobello said, is a reduction in state and federal funding that amounts to about $1 million for this year.

"This," he said, "has to be covered through the tax levy."

The $200,000 which the commission ordered slashed from the original budget will shave 4 points off the proposed 21 point tax hike. But taxpayers should not expect to see much difference in their tax bills.

$10-$15 savings

According to Commissioner of Revenue and Finance Joseph McCreary, it will translate to about "a ten or fifteen dollar saving" for the average Belleville homeowner.

Yonnie is favor of ordering $200,000 in school budget cuts were Mayor Michael Marino and Commissioners McGraw, Pico and D'Amico. Commissioner of Public Safety Joseph Gaudello was supportive in meeting.

One item to be cut

Marino said the commission must now decide what items they want to cut and what the removal budget will be. The commission will be by the deadline of April 28.

Several school board officials, however, indicated they would appeal before the state secretary the commission's $200,000 budget cut order.

Pisano urges administration cuts

Freshman school board member Patricia Pisano, meanwhile, suggested that by merging the positions of business administrator and board secretary a big savings could be realized. She said she agreed with Police Commissioner D'Amico that administrative expenses could be cut.

Belleville woman makes assembly bid

Joining the 1988 District Democratic team led by incumbent Senator Eugene S. Quigley are Assembly candidate James Platted of Meridian, and Cynthia De Bona of Belleville.

Cynthia De Bona has been a teacher with Franklin Junior High School in Niles for 14 years. A lifelong Belleville resident, she is active with various educational organizations.

De Bona is president of the North Education Association and a member of the Essex County and N.J. education association. She is also a member of the Niles Special Young Adults, Academic Booster Club and Essex Association for Retarded Citizens and has been involved with numerous fundraising efforts for local charities.

Platted, an attorney with a Roseland law firm, spent nine years as an assistant U.S. Attorney. During that time he supervised the Fraud & Public Protection Division, which was responsible for prosecuting white-collar crimes and political corruption cases for the federal government in New Jersey.

In 1983 his efforts resulted in his receiving the Outstanding Professional Achievement Award from the N.J. State Bar Association. Platted is a graduate of Washington University Law School.

"I could not be more pleased to have such qualified, knowledgeable and experienced people as our running mates," Senator Orecchio said.

Bundle of joy is healthy, happy baby girl

Belleville Police make 'special delivery'

The phone call came in to Police Headquarters at 12:50 AM on Sunday, April 5 and by 12:54 AM Maissa Nicole, the daughter of John and Barbara Molnar, was taking her first breath of life and staring into the faces of Belleville Police Officers John Martucci and Tony Weiners.

There hadn't been time to get to the hospital.

Officer Weiners, who has had Emergency Medical Training, delivered the bouncing baby girl while Officer Martucci held onto one of Mrs. Weiners' hands. Once the baby was fully delivered, the Fire Department's ambulance squad took mother and daughter to the hospital.

Baby Molnar weighed seven pounds and nine ounces at birth. She was 20 inches long.

"I was tripping over toys on the porch," laughed Mr. Molnar, "and the guys were gone." He said the Belleville policemen were professional, courteous and concerned.

"It was really a heartwarming story to hear told," said one friend, "now baby Maissa Nicole has two additional 'uncles'."

John and Barbara Molnar reside on Van Houten Place with two more children, John Carl 7, and Sara Beth 5.

Candidate profile

Joseph Fornarotto: "Service to people"

Commission Candidate Joseph Fornarotto announced this week his platform as a candidate. When elected, he believes with his planning and the cooperation of the other commissioners, Belleville can move forward and out of the red.

Candidate Fornarotto said he has been more active than any other candidate in speaking for the residents of Belleville in county, school and township meetings. "We have a constant stream of letters on behalf of Belleville taxpayers."

Fornarotto, a former member of the Belleville Board of Public Works, has 10 years as an employee with the Township of Belleville in the Public Works Department and 17 years in the Housing Department. With 10 years in construction and maintenance, he believes his expertise makes him most qualified to serve on the Board of Commissioners.

The candidate says his veteran service and his South Pacific and time in Essex helping the Disabled Veterans and Seniors, establish him as a man who has feelings for people. He believes Belleville Senior Citizens should have a person who can direct all their programs and needs.

He believes services for residents should be done every day for priority, not because you are a friend. "He believes the problems can be resolved."

He further believes more revenue can be made by good public safety and economy. He says many of some departments can be a money saver. He believes more money can be on the streets, if supermarkets, fast food establishments and large businesses supply their own security.

Joseph Fornarotto, a 40-year resident, attended in Belleville attended Essex County College.

"I believe I can serve the people of Belleville with honesty, responsibility and integrity," he stated.

Joseph Fornarotto announced that there will be a campaign cocktail party in his honor at the Chandelier Wednesday, April 29. He said that a wide screen TV will be set up for the afternoon so that guests may view the candidate's forum which begins on OBC-TV Channel 36 from 7PM-9PM.

The right type...

The Belleville Chapter of the FBLA journeyed to Great Gorge to compete in the N.J. State Competitive Events. Lisa Corolla captured a first place in the area of Typewriting 2.

"We are all very proud of Lisa and the honor she has placed upon herself, her family, school and community," said Mr. Musmanno, Business Supervisor.

Lisa is now eligible to compete on the national level, if she chooses to do so. The competitive events will be held in California in July. Lisa will represent the State of New Jersey.

The FBLA, with Lorraine Strollo and Linda Montanino as co-advisors, has been a very active organization this year. Membership consists of motivated and dedicated business students.

Also competing at the state level were Lorjaean Hesse, Suzanne Murray, Sandra Ombolsky, Rita Ritacco, and Denise Strumolo.

Peanut Leaguers under 'contract'

By Philip B. Di Meo

Saturday morning, April 11, marked the first official day of practice for the Tigers Recreation Peanut League baseball team. The three returning players from last year's National League Championship team, along with the 12 "rookie" members of the 1987 Tigers, were greeted at the Belleville Rec House playing field by their coaching staff of Sue Citerella, Bob "Mr. B" Jarowicz, Phil DiMeo, and Frank Bravette. Before practice ended, the eager and enthusiastic Tigers were in store for a surprise — individual player contracts!

In a brief ceremony, each player, with his parents looking on as witnesses, was invited to sign his own Contracting Player Agreement with the Tigers. Adding their signatures were the members of the coaching staff. The kids had their first memento of the 1987 season.

The so-called Contracting Player Agreement was innovated by the Tigers at the start of the 1986 season to promote the many fun activities associated with playing Peanut League baseball. It gives these 8 and 9-year-old hopefuls a sense of playing in "the big leagues." They could proudly boast that they were under contract just like their favorite major league stars. Last year's Tigers enjoyed an added surprise when they received an extra souvenir copy of their agreement which had been autographed by the New York Mets players.

The 8-page document is designed strictly for fun. For example, the "Show Biz" clause allows that the agreement "... shall not prevent player from signing other contracts to appear or perform in commercials, product endorsements, motion pictures ... or as guest stars on TV shows ...". Other provisions include the "Practice What You Preach" clause, the "Players Union" and the "Equal Sweat and Thirst" clause.

But there is also another side to it. As paragraph 2 states: "... the primary objective of the coaches shall be to teach the fundamentals of baseball, to encourage team spirit, to instill a sense of good sportsmanship and fair play, and to make it all fun."

The next paragraph provides what is the player's responsibility: "... to learn the fundamentals of baseball as taught by the coaches, to develop team spirit, to demonstrate good sportsmanship and fair play, and to have a great deal of fun."

Rounding out the agreement are provisions addressing good safety habits and basic on-field and off-field responsibilities for the coaches as well as players.

"Under contract" with the 1987 Tigers are John Bravette, Joseph Ceres, Lucas Cucuccio, Tony DiCarlo, Tommy Dyer, Peter Henderson, Tristyn Kvetkus, Jon Paul Louis, Matthew Mulcahey, Robert Panos, Michael Quine, Brian Romano, Wesley Tashir, David Tirado and Christopher Zarro.

EASY TO SWALLOW

Sip water before, during and after taking a pill to moisten and lubricate the esophagus. Water is best, but any liquid is better than nothing. Try to take the pill while standing up, and remain standing for at least a minute after swallowing. The force of gravity will move the pill more quickly to the stomach. If a burning sensation is felt under the breastbone any time up to three hours after taking a pill, it may be stuck in the esophagus. Drink a few sips of water, or eat a bite of banana, to carry the pill to the stomach. If a great deal of trouble is encountered when swallowing pills, ask the pharmacist for the medication in liquid form.

When you have a question on your medication be sure to give us a call at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We're happy to give you the information you need. School 4 kids 'launch' National Library Week

Unidentified flying objects were reported to be seen in the vicinity above School 4 on Monday, April 6, at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It was quickly discovered that neither a bird, nor a plane nor Superman was flying overhead.

The students of School 4 struck again as they released 250 balloons to launch their celebration of National Library Week. Each balloon contained a self-addressed post card so that anyone finding the balloon could help the children chart its flight by filling out some information and mailing the card back.

Mrs. Cummis, acting principal, reported that by Wednesday several cards were returned and at least one came from as far away as Pennsylvania.

For the remainder of the week the boys and girls engaged in a number of activities to continue their celebration. Using the theme "Bone Up on Books," the classes competed to read for the most number of minutes outside of the classroom.

As each class completed reading for a minimum number of minutes, the group was able to add a section to the body of a picture of a very with a total of 4,750 minutes and the winning class in grades 4 - 6 was Mrs. Crawford's fifth grade class with a total of 4,516 minutes.

The celebration was completed by an assembly program presented by Alice Cronin of the Belleville compact dog. As the contest drew to an end on Friday, the dog had been transformed into a rather long dachshund.

Verified by parent signatures the winning class in grades K - 3 was Mrs. DiLuisi's third grade

Public Library. The children were treated to hearing the story "The Runaway Balloon" and to catching balloons which Mrs. Cronin released.

A wonderful time was had by all!

Township parish hosts famous gospel singer

Paul D'Angelo, national known Gospel recording artist, will be featured in a special concert on Sunday, May 3, 5 p.m., at the Belleville Assembly of God.

D'Angelo is a professional musician and a successful businessman who has "dedicated his musical talents to the glory of God." He has divided his time between his career in marketing and sales and his ministry as a singer. For a number of years he was featured soloist on "Outreach," a Gospel television and radio broadcast in the New York metropolitan area. He has also appeared in concert with several well known singing groups while touring the country.

As a businessman and recording and concert artist, he has shared his talents with thousands of people. He has inspired countless numbers of men and women to take a new look at their relationship with Jesus Christ.

This inspiring ministry of music is sponsored by the Belleville Assembly of God Church, 174 Holmes Street. The public is invited.

Trusty trustee...

Joseph Casale, President of the Belleville Public Library Board of Trustees has celebrated 20 years as a trustee and has served as Board President since 1968. Casale was first appointed to the Board by then Mayor Nuncio R. Pico. He was reappointed by Mayor Joseph F. McGreevy in 1972, and has been reappointed by current Mayor Michael V. Marotti in 1977, 1982, and 1987.

The Library Board of Trustees establishes library policy, meets monthly to approve library expenditures, and, according to Library Director David Bryant, "This Board has the library's best interests clearly tied to the needs of Belleville library users. This Board is very supportive of library activities and library improvement. Joe Casale leads the Board and the library with a calm, intelligent style that makes the staff proud and the library grow."

Casale lives in Belleville. He and his wife, Carol have two daughters, Tracey and Cheryl. He is a former member of the Belleville Board of Education and is active in the Belleville Varsity Club.

Freeholder Thomas P. Giblin

We are pleased to acknowledge Essex County Freeholder President Thomas P. Giblin's announcement that he will seek re-election for a fourth term.

Giblin is completing his ninth year as a member of the Board. It was largely through the efforts of Freeholder Jerry Greco and Thomas Giblin that the public became aware of former County Executive Peter Shapiro's financial shenanigans that have produced chaos for Shapiro's successor — County Executive Nicholas Amato.

The need for men and women of undisputed integrity, competence and dedication in public life has always been necessary — but now more than ever.

Superintendent Michael Nardiello

This Friday, April 24, Belleville Schools Superintendent Michael Nardiello is to be honored at the annual dinner of Community Mental Health Services to be held at the Chandelier restaurant.

In addition to serving as a trustee of Community Mental Health Services for five years during the seventies, Mr. Nardiello has given Belleville a long history of service, especially to those children with learning disabilities.

He was Belleville's first Director of Special Education, back in 1964. Before that he was a teacher of mathematics and physical education. After that, he was the principal of School 4 for 13 years, and from 1980 on he has worked within the Office of the Superintendent, cul-

Sign of the times

What a difference a sign makes.

We take them for granted, but when they're missing, or wrong, they can make driving quite difficult.

The many street signs that have disappeared from Belleville streets have long made local residents boiling mad, especially when they have to give directions to first-time visitors who are unfamiliar with Belleville neighborhoods.

Lately, the township's missing street signs have emerged as yet another campaign issue. Candidate Nicholas Mazzola has pointed to these empty signposts (the pole is usually still standing, it's the sign that's missing) as an example of the kind of neglect that makes Belleville less "beautiful."

We agree.

However, we wonder why citizens haven't made more noise about missing street signs, especially those who live in the blocks between Mill Street and Belleville Avenue, where several streetsigns are gone.

Why wait until election time?

It's the responsibility of municipal government to make sure that street signs as well as street lamps, stopsigns and traffic lights are all in place and at work guiding motorists and preventing accidents. Likewise, it's the responsibility of townspeople to alert the municipal government if there is a problem.

Some Bellevillites have stated that they have, in fact, told authori-

Tom Giblin's integrity is now a legend — and his experience is a valuable asset for Essex County taxpayers. Giblin is not a professional politician. His business is labor relations. He is in government because Giblin likes to serve people.

Giblin has proven that he can work with people. Even though the County Executive is of the opposite party, Democrat Giblin has had no trouble working with Republican County Executive Amato — and this working relationship is essential to insure that we continue to have a smooth and harmonious county government. We like Giblin. He has earned reelection.

minating in his current position of Superintendent of Schools.

Today, Mike Nardiello is still just as dedicated to giving township children, both handicapped and otherwise, the very best education he possibly can. His achievements can be measured by the rising scores of township children in state tests, and also in the many students he has helped educate during his 36 years with the Belleville School System, students who have gone on to be doctors, lawyers, accountants...even present and future leaders of this township.

The Belleville Times joins Community Mental Health Services and all of Mike Nardiello's friends, colleagues and students in saluting a super Super!

ies that streetsigns are missing, but that no action has been taken. To them we suggest a letter to the Editor of this newspaper, or better yet, a visit to Town Hall to attend a Board of Commissioners meeting. At every commission meeting there is a public hearing for citizens.

When signs aren't where they should be, it creates all kinds of problems. But when signs are where they shouldn't be, that causes problems, too.

On Washington Avenue, for example, there are still Route 7 detour signs even though the Belleville Bridge has been open without a hitch for months now. These signs are not made of some immovable, permanent alloy. These signs could, and should, be ripped down since they appear to no longer be necessary.

Not all signs are the domain of municipal government. Many commercial signs are badly weathered, cracked, crooked, and peeling. Simply put, many store signs are eyesores.

Signs have helped society since the dawn of civilized man. Whether we realize it or not, signs are what guide us down the road of life.

That so many signs in Belleville have been neglected, ignored, or forgotten is certainly unfortunate when one considers that this township is itself showing signs of renewal and redevelopment.

Maybe it's just a sign of the times...

Sets record straight...

To the editor:

In the January 22, 1987 issue of the Belleville Times, I related that the Planning Board approved an application for the construction of a Condominium project, over the most vehement objections of the residents on Passaic Ave., Janarone St., Park St. and Emmet St. with their backyards "abutting" (encircling) a landlocked piece of property.

I was wrong. It is not the Planning Board approving projects of this nature. It is called the Zoning Board. I learned this by attending a public meeting which was being held at the Dept. of Public Health building on Washington Ave. a week or so ago. I attended because I was told that a huge condominium project is being planned for the Walter Kidde property in the Valley. As it turned out, nothing relating to that was on the agenda that evening.

When I realized that I had "put the blame" on the approval of the Passaic Ave. project on the wrong Board, I went through the copies of the Belleville Times printed following my letter, to check if the Planning Board had made a statement to "set the record straight." I would have been unaware, because I had gone to West Australia for 6 weeks (to attend the America Cup Yacht races). While nothing was said to correct the error, I would like the public to know, that it was not the Planning Board, but the Zoning Board my criticism should have been directed at.

Grande, DiRuggiero served well...

To the editor:

I must echo your editorial in The Belleville Times 4/2/87, concerning the retirements of Commissioners Grande and Di Ruggiero. These fine gentlemen served Belleville well. In their strong support for the Belleville Public Library they helped us to achieve improvements that have boosted our use and services.

When we renovated our Children's Room, Commissioner Grande came to our aid and saved rental costs for a dumpster by letting us use a town truck parked for the purpose on Academy Street.

When our Washington Avenue addition was obscured by trees, Joe sent a crew which promptly removed the visual barriers. When we dedicated our Shafter Branch Library in School No. 4, Joe had his painter give our library a beautiful new paint job.

Commissioner DiRuggiero has consistently voiced his enthusiastic support for library programs and for the special events that have helped us locally and to win a statewide reputation.

Both Commissioners helped our library and helped Belleville with their quiet, professional approach as Commissioners.

To the editor:

Jackie Rega's (Jackie's Lemon Ice) help and guidance in past elections has made a difference in our town.

As caring wives, mothers, husbands, fathers — people who care, we must prevail upon him once again to help us elect another woman candidate. Her name is Mrs. Carol Politz, who is I-A on the ballot for Board of Commissioners.

You might consider us apolitical or better yet, the grass roots people in the town of Belleville. We've investigated other organizations in town but feel the leaders of some of the groups too political.

Rega has earned the respect of many of the people throughout the town of Belleville and we are certain that with his help and reputation we can have another political upset.

We all know Rega is open and unbiased and not backed by any political machine and because of this, we have complete confidence in his ability to help us in this regard.

Watch out on Watchung...

To the editor:

I am writing this letter to complain about the treacherous road conditions on Watchung Avenue, of which I am a resident.

The roads are in such poor shape due to potholes, some of which measure over 8 inches deep and over a foot and a half wide. The manholes look like menholes! The street resembles war-torn Lebanon.

How many front ends will have to go out of alignment? How many tires will have to be repaired? — before the town does something about these potholes??

I wish the town of Belleville would get off the pot and into the potholes to fix this problem.

Candidate...

To the editor:

By now, most people in town are aware that I am a candidate for commissioner. I have been asked on many occasions what I would contribute to this Township as one of five commissioners. In a letter last week, I outlined a proposal to bring open government to Belleville. Today, I will explain my plans to establish a committee whose members will be selected from businesses within town.

Elected officials have to be cost conscious with regard to the way they spend money. The Federal Government has amassed a staggering deficit because they have continually outspent more than what they took in. The long term effects of such careless spending could have a devastating impact upon the future of our country and the lives of our children. If we are to bring spending down and become productive in the public sector, we would be well advised to use the lessons and experience of our private sector.

I plan to form a committee of businessmen from the larger businesses in town. The members will be asked to volunteer their time in an effort to study the spending practices by our town government. They will be asked to make recommendations based upon their business acumen to enable us to cut spending without cutting down on services to our citizens.

We all know that big spending creates big problems. We also know that the more we spend, the less resources the citizen has to donate to his personal needs. The need to spend less is just as important on the local level as it is on the Federal level. With the Federal Government cutting down on the portion of revenues it shares with local government, we must become more prudent with our financial resources.

As a commissioner in this Town, I pledge to work toward that end.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Nineteen days from now the electorate of Belleville will be given the opportunity to determine whom among twelve Commissioner candidates will be honored to control the destiny of this community's governance for the next four years.

It is important that meticulous contemplation and care be given to the selection of those for whom you decide to vote for to fill the five offices available... will they be the best for Belleville!

The candidates have staged their candidacy announcement rallies and they have been well attended; having made known their views and objectives should they be successfully elected... It is the voter's responsibility to determine who wins.

Several candidate signs have appeared throughout the Township to bolster their campaigns, a practice frowned upon in many communities as being unsightly, especially since signs don't vote.

Editorially, this paper's publisher has endorsed and called for the reelection of Marotti, McGreevy and Pizzi, predicated upon their performance. His position having been taken, notwithstanding, the aggressive move espoused by officers of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville (CCB) group, who are also Commission candidates, who rail against rising taxes which have hit every municipality in the state because of lost federal grants and state school aid. Thus they create a voting bloc patently designed to unseat incumbents, predicated upon the assumption that they might do better.

It is to be noted that originally this presumed altruistic movement was designed to be devoid of politics and commitments were given that the prime organizers publicly stated that they were not political candidates in this Commission election. Could this not have been a cleverly conceived and hastily devised plan that has been orchestrated by hype and hyperbolic grandiloquence?

Recalling the fabled story of Daniel Webster's defeating the Devil by his voluble but magnificent attacks, it might be well to weight deeds against words when making a determination as to the quality of the product.

Down through the annals of Belleville's long and turbulent political history records show, with the exception of former Mayor William H. Williams, that native sons and daughters invariably fare much better than newcomers in being elected to the municipal governing body... seldom has that hometown nexus rubbed off.

To the date of this writing the election campaign has been dignified and conducted with appropriate respect devoid of personalities which is as it should continue. It is hoped that the closing three weeks of the campaign will spare us any "dirty tricks" or calumny.

The large field of candidates should bring out a larger number of voters which will reflect a clearer indication of the people's sentiments in regards to their choice of those they feel most confidence in being governed by.

As May 12 approaches we can expect intensified activity with newspaper ads, volumes of literature and exhortations from followers of the candidates to vote for their candidate. Policies and issues will be discussed, often with disagreement and a pleasant time will be had by all... except the candidates who must worry which way the votes will go.

Join in on the many facets and intricacies of the great game of American politics and be sure you, vote... the people you elect play a big role in this community which can affect the way we live, work and play. Your badge of freedom is your right to vote, don't neglect to use it!

Good morning — good morning — good morning. That's the pleasant way I start my morning walk at Highland Beach, Florida. An early walk up Ocean Boulevard is a very pleasant human experience. Strangers all — it's with a pleasant and gracious Good Morning that one is greeted.

The Belleville Commission Election has drawn twelve candidates, and though three incumbents are looked upon as sure winners by the professionals, those of us who have been around a while well know there is nothing certain in politics. Strange as it may seem — any one of the twelve candidates in the Belleville Commission race has a good chance of winning — each with his or her independent, different message.

Over the years, Bloomfield has been a pacesetter in different areas of life. Primarily, the Bloomfield football teams were perennial contenders for the State Championship. In this area, history was made last week when the Bloomfield Board of Education elected two females to lead it — Kathleen Hutchison was elected president and Annette D'Angelo was elected Vice President. Hutchison has been a member of the Board for eleven years serving as vice president from 1980-83. D'Angelo has been a member for six years, two of them as vice president. We congratulate the ladies upon their election and salute the Board members for recognizing talent.

Blue Shield of Pennsylvania has joined a growing band of insurance companies that will no longer pay for circumcision. The Prudential Insurance Company has already dropped circumcision from its individual policy benefits. The Georgia State legislature recently passed a resolution urging the State Medical Association to condemn routine circumcision for other than religious reasons. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists has stated that "Since this operation neither improves health nor prevents disease, routine circumcision is no longer justified." Well — that's the long and the short of it — boys will be boys with or without, and since no medical purpose is served with circumcision, perhaps, it's best to leave well enough alone.

Do you use Nutra Sweet? If you do, listen to what a correspondent wrote in the New England Journal of Medicine. The 31-year-old female stated she found that drinking Diet Coke triggered migraine attacks. Significantly, the artificial sweetener is made by chemically joining two substances, one of which, is known to trigger migraines. Nutra Sweet known professionally as Aspartame, has reported side effects that involve the brain, "a coincidence which strengthens the likelihood that Aspartame could also trigger migraine." "Healthwise" publications advises "victims of severe headache should bear this in mind and see what happens if they avoid products containing Aspartame."

The same publication suggests that "If we wish to be slim, we need to carefully limit the amount of salt we take in our food." The publication further states that salt "either benefits the digestion of food in the intestine so that more sugar is released from it, or it stimulates the intestine to absorb more. . . . Either way, salt makes more calories to become available to the body from the same amount of food."

Aids virus in swimming pools? The British Medical Journal reports there may be one possible exception to the rule, that "ordinary social contact is always safe," that is the sharing of swimming pools and whirlpools with persons harboring Aids virus. Although, the author uses the words "extremely unlikely" when discussing the possibility that the Aids virus could be spread in this way, it does, nevertheless, go so far as to suggest if a lot of people sharing public bathing facilities or if there isn't enough disinfectant in the water to kill the virus quickly, contamination is possible.

The editorial suggests that the danger of acquiring Aids Virus from contaminated swimming pools would be greater if you had a recent laceration (cut) or abrasion (scraped area) of the skin through which virus particles could gain entrance into the tissue. Also, it was suggested, since virus get into the body more easily through mucous membranes than through the skin, swallowing large amounts of water (as some small children do) could conceivably be dangerous. Although it has never been proven that Aids can be spread in swimming pools, the journal editorial does suggest that, at least theoretically, this is possible. The foregoing is the thinking of a learned man, Professor Arie Zuckerman, Chairman of Micro Biology, London's School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. Wasn't too long ago that I recommended don't fly Eastern Airlines. That recommendation resulted from a two-hour delay for a two-hour and twenty minute flight. Now, I have good news about Eastern Airlines. My flight to Palm Beach from Newark last week arrived twenty-two minutes early! One of the more valid reasons for this eventful occurrence is the possibility that the pilot must have had a heavy date. If that was the case, I hope every pilot has the same interest. At least, that will be one way of getting an airline to arrive on time.

I enjoy reading Karl Greene's column in the Nutley Sun. It is very interesting and at times spicy.

By the way, when you travel by plane, a passenger is able to order a special meal 24 hours in advance. Eastern provides thirteen optional meals, two of which are special for children. I exercised my option the last couple of trips, and I enjoyed fresh fruit with cottage cheese in place of the standard airline meal. On the return trip, I enjoyed a delicious seafood dinner.

FLIGHT 890

When you arrive in Palm Beach — and you don't like being a passenger in a cab that has a heavy scent of cigarettes or cigars, insist upon a "No Smoking Cab." Last week, I happened to be lucky and rode the No Smoking Cab without asking for it — and I was pleasantly surprised. From now on, it's the No Smoking Cab for me. Riding in a cab from Palm Beach to Highland Beach will never be the same again.

I hope your Easter was as joyful as ours. Edith and I had Easter dinner at the Breaker's Hotel in Palm Beach with our neighbor, Richard Tucker of Canada, who is nationally known for his Unicare hair and skin lotions.

Seeks fourth term Freeholder Giblin declares candidacy

Thomas P. Giblin

Thomas P. Giblin, president of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, will seek re-election for a fourth term.

In making his announcement, Giblin cited the development of a responsible county budget and continuing economic development of the county as his major goals.

Giblin, a Montclair resident, is president of Local 68 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, a 5,000-member statewide labor organization.

He previously served as treasurer of the Essex County Vocational Schools, a member of the N.J. Real Estate Commission, and treasurer of the Essex County Democratic Committee.

He has also been director of the Essex Unit for the N.J. Association of Retarded Citizens and trustee of United Cerebral Palsy of North Jersey, the Main Street Counseling Center in West Orange, St. Vincent's Academy, Newark and Community Health Care of North Jersey.

The freeholder president called this year "one of the biggest challenges in all of my years of public service. The board of freeholders has the unenviable task of drafting a budget that will be responsible, and yet provide necessary services for the residents of the county."

"We also need to be in concert with the private sector to continue the economic growth Essex County has experienced providing employment opportunities for its residents," he said.

"In the weeks and months ahead, I look forward to bringing my record of public service to the voters and conducting an issues-oriented, grass roots campaign."

DENTALLY SPEAKING By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Malo

Mrs. B. "I'm deathly afraid of dentists but I need work done. What shall I do?"
Mrs. R. statistically only 40 percent of the population seek dental care. The other 60 percent, it is thought, are too fearful. So you are in the majority. Believe me the entire dental profession is very sympathetic towards your feelings and you'd be pleased to know it has made great efforts to reduce fear.
The most significant is that the numbing substance (xylocaine) is a strong pain reliever. Also the method in giving an injection is more improved and in many instances patients don't even feel the injections. Another advance is the use of tranquilizers and/or gas to calm patients psychologically and prior to the anesthetic. Often patients may be asked to put stereo-head sets on, again in an attempt to make them relax. Of course the dentist knows one of his responsibilities is to calm you by his chairside mannerism, along with his staff.
I'm confident Mrs. R. that you should take that step into dentistry now. You'll be pleasantly surprised. Thank you.

WHEN MGM TRANSPORT WANTED TO SHIFT THEIR BUSINESS INTO HIGH GEAR, THEY CALLED THE HUNGRY BANKERS.

MGM Transport had an idea that would set them apart from their competitors in the transportation business. They saw a way to save their customers' time and money by picking up and consolidating inventory into one central warehouse, for easy access and distribution.

Their idea was right on target, but they needed money to turn their brainstorm into reality. That's why they called the Hungry Bankers.

At Midlantic, we specialize in helping all kinds of companies grow, and we have extensive knowledge in a wide range of businesses—including transportation. So when MGM Transport told us of their consolidation plan, we could see its potential. Our experienced loan officers designed an innovative package to give MGM Transport the financing they needed, and plenty of it.

With the help of the Hungry Bankers, MGM Transport built a fleet of trucks, equipment and terminals large enough to satisfy all their customers' needs, and gain an outstanding reputation in the transportation industry. Now, they're on the move—with a steady growth rate of 30% a year.

You don't have to be in the transportation business to have an innovative idea. But you do need a banker who understands your business, and knows how to get things moving.

That's why you should call George McDaniel, today, at 201-898-4885. We want to help make your business as big a success story as MGM Transport.

Participatory Democracy and the role of a town newspaper

Earlier this month, the first meeting of the Belleville Greenwich Street Art Fair committee was held in the Town Library. The goal: To bring an outdoor, high-caliber art show to the Town Hall area in September.

The committee chairman is Ed Brett, of Yudin's Art Supply on Washington Avenue. This affable gentleman is right in the center of things since the back parking lot of Yudin's is on Greenwich Street, the little Washington Avenue backroad that runs from Williams Street to Town Hall.

Greenwich Street and Yudin's lot put together make for a fine locale for an art fair, an idea Brett has held for quite some time.

Back in the fall of 1986, Brett told me about his idea, and I subsequently wrote an editorial endorsing it. Later, I brought the Greenwich Street Art Fair idea to the attention of the Mayor and Police Commissioner.

They seemed receptive to the idea then, asking for more information to draft a resolution from. Thus, the Greenwich Street Art Fair Committee.

Following the first meeting, this committee is working on various details to make a formal presentation to the Belleville Commission.

Developments, as they arise, in future columns.

petition between two weekly newspapers serving one community may also increase the quality of the local publications. Where there is competition, after all, there can be no room for complacency. This column, for example, began as a monthly but one reason I decided to go weekly with it was because it is a feature that the competition (daily or weekly) doesn't have.

Often, the principals behind town newspapers choose to get involved with the community. Because Commerce and in this capacity he is helping to revise that organization's by-laws. One of his reporters, Denise Sansone, is on the Greenwich Street Art Fair Committee. Come to think of it, I am too.

But beyond the pluses of having two newspapers in one community, the bottom line is still the bottom line. More advertising dollars are pouring into the weeklies than ever before, as local businesses increasingly turn to local media as a means of attracting local customers. The commentary in the third person may request to be presented in a Citizens Forum column. The Forum is open only to townspeople, and must focus only on township concerns. Length may be up to 1000 words.

Press release

This is the best way to ensure coverage of any given township event, group, issue, or other newsworthy concern. Press releases should be typed, double-newspaper. Second, close in on subject. Photos which have to be enlarged to show detail lose clarity. Third, send in more than one picture, if possible, so that the best may be selected or so that more than one may be published if space allows.

Direct coverage

The Times, like every newspaper, gets dozens of requests for direct coverage of events, affairs, etc., every week. Since no newspaper ules.

Phone "tips," on the other hand, are welcomed. Citizens can help town newspapers do a better job of reporting the news by providing the tips that lead to better stories. We've learned about, and reported on, eyesores, crimes, good deeds, and outstanding citizens all with the help of initial tips that got us started on the trail.

Business Desk

This feature, currently an occasional but soon to be weekly, is devoted to the newsworthy happenings emanating from the township's business sector. Who is expanding? Who got promoted? Who was honored at a retirement gala? Who just set up shop in town? These business press releases, taken together, help portray our community as a dynamic business hub. Thus, they are welcomed. Business managers should take care to avoid sneaking in advertising copy. "Just the facts, please," as the gravel-voiced fellow used to say on Dragnet.

When sending any correspondence to The Belleville Times, be sure to mark which department it is to go to ON THE ENVELOPE! Whether it's a letter, Citizens Forum, press release, business desk release, sports release, etc., we want to know beforehand so that we may stack the incoming mail accordingly.

The address for all incoming mail is: The Belleville Times, 155-A Washington Avenue, Belleville, N.J., 07109. Attn: Christopher Bifani, Editor.

Phone number for the Times is: 759-3200.

Remember: The Belleville Times is YOUR town newspaper, YOUR vehicle for participating in local democracy, YOUR voice and YOUR connection every week to the community in which YOU live.

of their positions, they are privy to first-hand knowledge of the problems facing a given municipality and are likely to be spurred to action that is above and beyond the call of a newspaper's "duty."

Belleville Times Publisher Frank Orechio, for instance, helped found the Belleville Chamber of Commerce many years ago and he is currently involved in the construction of one of the mightiest aqueducts on the east coast. Similarly, I have become involved in a few community betterment projects, including a drive to get Washington Avenue repaved as a means of spurring redevelopment in the township's primary business district. As an aside to this, Belleville Redevelopment Agency Executive Director Joseph Dasaro called me a "road scholar" (sic), while others have called me a "road warrior." Unofficial titles notwithstanding, the real pleasure I have derived from this road renewal advocacy stems from seeing Belleville's road conditions emerge as a major commission campaign issue. Several candidates, including Nicholas Mazzola, Jim Messina, Joseph Fornarotto, Douglas Cantarella and Mayor Michael Marotti have addressed the conditions of our roads during this exciting campaign year. Marotti informs us, by the way, that it will cost about a million dollars to redecorate "the Ave" with new blacktop. More on this next week.

The competition, meanwhile, has had the good sense to get involved as well. Belleville Post Publisher David Worrall is a director in the Belleville Chamber of Times, for example, features more Belleville advertising than ever before, and more than any other publication. Of course, having Jaye Tarantino, the best ad rep in Essex, doesn't hurt!

National advertising agencies have also begun turning to weeklies as a cost-effective way of reaching potential customers. As an example of this, many Essex publications were recently "invaded" by full-page tobacco ads, usually the domain of dailies and national magazines.

To the community-reader and citizen, the popularity and rising success of town newspapers like The Belleville Times indicate to this editor that a primer of sorts is needed so that more townspeople can take advantage of the participatory democracy "megatrend."

Following, then, are some tips for our readers to get the most out of The Belleville Times.

Letters

Letters to the Editor may address any topic from readers both in and out of town. They may focus on individual concerns, township concerns, county concerns, state concerns, nation and world-wide concerns...in short, just about anything that's on any readers' mind. Letters should be no more than 300 words. If they come in larger than that we are more likely to hold the letter than to edit it.

Citizens Forum

This is an occasional feature we run for guest columnists from within the community. Any Belleville citizen who can effectively write a spaced, and begin at least a quarter down from the top of the page, to make for easier processing.

The Times publishes several hundred previews of township events every year, and most of these come from press releases. Feature press releases, such as in-house coverage of an event or an in-depth report, are also acceptable and may be as long as desired. However, these are subject to editing for objectivity and length.

Photo release

Although Times photographers take and publish several hundred photographs per year, a very large percentage of the photos we run are supplied as or with press releases. Here are some tips to increase the chances of getting a photograph published:

First, try to use black and white film, as this reproduces better in the staff can cover everything, editors must choose based on priority. Thus, town and school meetings, for example, head the list of "must" coverage, and so on down the line. To increase the chances of a given event being covered directly, it is advised that the sponsoring organization send the information to the newspaper at least three weeks in advance.

Phone-in stories

Many times organizations seek to phone stories in, expecting to dictate details to a newspaper staffer at the other end. This is the WORST way to get something in the newspaper. First, facts may possibly get mixed up. Second, newspaper staffers are often very busy and would prefer a press release which they may deal with according to their own busy sched-

While at the meeting I noticed a bookcase in the Library's meeting room which contains hundreds of books for fifteen cents each. 15 cents! Even my comic books cost five times as much!

I snapped up a sixties treatise on the role of the press in shaping foreign policy (dated, but less naive than one would think considering the gung-ho-ism of the era), and also "Megatrends" by John Naisbitt, an immensely popular prediction book of the early eighties.

Naisbitt says that our type of government, especially at the local level, is moving from representative democracy (where we elect leaders to run things for us) to participatory democracy (where the citizens take a more direct role in the running of things). He cites the increasing use of public referenda as evidence of this "megatrend."

I tend to agree with Naisbitt. Here in Belleville there is more interest and public advocacy than ever before. But it certainly hasn't been due to a proliferation of Town Referenda!

Townspeople need only recall the bitter battle to get the police station bond issue on referendum, a battle that failed.

No, the best example of participatory democracy is not a town referendum. Week in, week out it's the town newspaper. Many, many organizations, citizens, government departments, businesses, etc., are utilizing town newspapers as a means of informing and/or influencing the public. Great debates, issues, problems and, sometimes, solutions are found in the pages of town newspapers every week. And, despite the nationwide decline of large daily newspapers (both in number and circulation), the town weeklies, with their inherent ability to focus on the needs of a specific community, appear to be proliferating.

Here in Essex, the weekly newspaper has emerged as an essential entity, in part because the county's only daily newspaper is far more concerned with Trenton, Washington, Moscow and Tokyo than Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. Sure, everybody in Belleville buys the Star-Ledger anyway (Lord knows, if I wake up too late on Sunday I have to drive all over town before I find one) but thousands of townspeople also buy The Belleville Times at a premium price simply because that's where the local news is.

Many Essex communities have even become "two paper towns," a situation which can be most beneficial for the community. In recent years, Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley have all seen rival newspapers come into town.

This development allows townspeople to digest two editorial viewpoints while giving them an additional outlet for exposure and that "participatory democracy" which Naisbitt extols.

Museum trek planned

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library have planned a chartered bus trip to be held June 18 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. The bus will depart the Library at 9:15 a.m., arrive at the Museum at 10 a.m., where participants will receive a guided tour of the Museum. After the tour, participants are free for lunch. The Metropolitan Museum has a cafeteria with reasonable prices, or perhaps a stroll down Fifth Avenue will be more to the traveler's liking.

The bus will depart at 3 p.m. and arrive back in Belleville at 3:45 p.m.

Cost of the trip is $18 per person, and limited to 45 people, with Registration possible at the Main Library or at the Shafter Branch. Proceeds for this event will be used for Library purposes. Please call 450-3434 for more information.

Winners in the Belleville Public Library book contest, grades 5-12 gather on the steps of the Library after receiving their awards.

Professional storyteller and Whole Theater Company actor, Gerry Fierst, delivers a children's tale to a gathering of Belleville youngsters during National Library week.

Italians in America

A program entitled "The Italians in America" will be presented by Adrea Cohen of the Library to the Belleville Kiwanis on April 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the San Carlo Restaurant. Organizations interested in a speaker from the Library, or a referral, should call David Bryant or Adrea Cohen at 450-3434.

New Audiocassettes

The following audio cassettes have been added to the collection of the Library: "Bach to Lennon," "Careers in Computers and other New Technologies," "The Courage to Change: a Personal Conversation About Alcoholism," and "Dress to Impress: The Poer Style." Also, "The Green Hills of Earth and Space Jockey," "How to Play the Power Game and Win," "Think Rich, Get Rich Money Love," and "No-Nonsense Management."

Winners in the Belleville Public Library book contest, grades 1-4 gather on the Library steps after receiving their awards.

This month on 'L-TV'

The April Libraries in Focus program takes a look at libraries and their accessibility to the handicapped. Highlighted is the Verona Library, which has recently undergone extensive renovations, including construction of ramps and a handicapped toilet facility. Excerpts from the Verona Civic Affairs Committee's annual wheelchair basketball game are shown.

Also featured on the program is a discussion of college guide books by Adrea Cohen of the Belleville Library.

Libraries in Focus, hosted by Jim Thomas of the Verona Library airs each Wednesday at 8:05 p.m. on Suburban Cablevision's Channel 32.

Kids poetry book available

The Children's Room of the Library announces that "Winterings," the collection of all poetry entries in the 1987 Winter Poetry Contest, including the 38 winners, is now available for $3 each.

School trustee says thanks...

To the editor:

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to all the people who voted for me, who helped me in any way with my campaign for the Belleville Board of Education. There are many names and faces that come to mind, when I think of this campaign. I thought that this would be a nice time to thank everyone for voting for me.

I sincerely hope I will be able to live up to everyone's expectations. I will devote time and energy which is necessary to be a good board member. I will need your help also to be a successful board member. My lines will be open to all your suggestions. I will be there for your questions and comments. Feel free to call at any time. Thank you again.

Your friend,
Patricia Pisano
Member of Belleville Board of Education

Cantarella speaks out...

To the editor:

As a candidate for the Commission, 3A on the ballot, I believe in active participation in government. Over the past 20-years, I have tried to make a positive contribution to municipal government.

I have previously served as Chairman of the Rent Leveling Board and Vice Chairman of the Belleville Planning Board and have voluntarily worked for the betterment of the Community.

As a citizen, I have been active in many parent organizations with the Little League and Crew Parents.

As the past President of both the Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee and the Middle School Home and School Association, I have been active in student development in the community.

As a commissioner, I hope to transform my past efforts into directing positive growth for the township.

Like many of you I have concerns for the future of Belleville due to increasing taxes throughout Essex County. Something must be done to avoid future tax increases as the result of lost federal revenues.

Planning for our future is the most important responsibility we face in this election. I hope to use my business manager experience and real estate appraising background to develop Belleville's future. I ask for you to Vote Cantarella - 3A on May 12th, 1987.

Thank you

Douglas Cantarella

21st Century candidates...

To the editor:

The Belleville Times is sponsoring an essay contest for our Township school children. These children are being asked to put forth their visions of Belleville in the year 2000, a mere 13 years away.

We, the adults of Belleville, have an obligation on May 12, to provide these children with leaders who are capable of making their visions come true.

As a candidate in the upcoming election, I believe over the past decade I have displayed my practical experience, dedication, and proven leadership. With your help, as Commissioner, I will continue to represent the people of Belleville so that our visions will become reality.

The incumbents, and the challengers who are aligned with them, are working very hard to protect their little Kingdoms. We, the people, must continue to display our grass roots efforts. Over the past few years we have shown the world that the people of Belleville "CAN" make a difference. Each of us must make a sincere effort to drag out at least ten more votes beside our own. Our message must be clear, the people want Belleville back. Thank you for your continued support.

Vincent J. Frantantoni 4A

That's Po-talian!...

To the editor:

In this age of mergers, some thought should be given to the merging of our two great parades, that are earmarked for the month of October: The Columbus and Pulaski parades.

The combining of the Italian-American tribute to the discoverer of America, with the Polish-American honoring of Revolutionary War Hero, General Pulaski, would create an ethnic pride-filled extravaganza, that would not soon be forgotten.

At parade's end, both, marchers and watchers could wind up the day's festivities by feasting upon huge portions of Pizza, Pasta, Kielbasa and Pierogi, amid toasts of — Salute and Na Zdrowie!

Tactics and affiliations...

To the editor:

I find it rather interesting that Jim Messina, the candidate, interpreted questions I asked of the Mayor at a township meeting back in March as "campaign tactics" and caused him to question my "political affiliations."

It is particularly interesting considering the fact that he was in attendance at that public meeting (the first one I have ever seen him at) and he offered no comment, no rebuttal or concern, but I did note that he literally bolted out of the meeting as though he had his car double-parked. His perceptions, brought out a month later in the press, and not at the public meeting when they occurred, about "campaign tactics" are even more interesting, especially since he signed his letter, "Jim Messina, Candidate for Commissioner, 6-A"!!!

While I had a feeling that the Mr. Messina of the Domessina Construction Company, and previously of the P.D.M. Construction, Inc., was related to candidate Messina, I did not know it was the latter's father.

After reading Mr. Messina, the candidate's comments about Mr. Messina, his father, regarding his contributions to the Township of Belleville, along with the several other gentlemen named in his letter, I would certainly agree that for those contributions they should be complimented on their civic-mindedness. I now know that Mr. Messina, the father, must be the same one that used to be an Asst. Building Code Enforce Officer under Building Code Enforcement Officer, Robert Domenick, who I understand is related to both.

My recollection is that's the same department of our municipal government that the Mayor found it necessary to transfer from the control of the Dept. of Public Works to the Dept. of Parks & Public Property, his department, for reasons that still escape me. I further understand that Jim Messina, the candidate, is also the God-son of the Mayor. So much for "political affiliations"!!!

If Mr. Messina, the candidate, had been at more public meetings he would have known me better, and would know without question that these questions were posed in the interest of the public good. My concerns were that history was not once again repeating itself wherein a public servant might be using his public position, and information acquired therefrom, for personal pecuniary gain in a statutory conflict of interest.

I was puzzled by a public notice that included a condition requiring the attorney of the applicant (Domessina Construction Co.) to put forth a legal opinion about his own client's possible conflict of interest. I would presume that such a determination would be within the scope of responsibility of the Planning Board attorney!

I do have one hypothetical question for candidate Messina. If you are successful in your bid for a Commission seat, what would be your view toward a public servant being paid for a full time job, but who spends 10 percent of his time in Belleville and 90 percent of his time overseeing construction projects of his own in other Essex County communities?

I'm sure that if you didn't know it before, you sure know now that the motivations for my questions were neither intended to degrade your father, and not "campaign tactics", nor related in any way to any "political affiliations"!

"OUR WORK IS NEVER NOTICED"

...It's not supposed to be!

Just like you I wanted my hair back. I wanted my confidence back, but where do I go? Other companies I went to were more interested in selling me than helping me. Then I discovered

Michelangelo

They really understood how I felt and were able to give me the most up-to-date styles and give me the look "I" wanted. From that time on I never looked back.

Thanks, Michelangelo

You really solved my problem. Give them a call for a brochure or an appointment. I know you'll be impressed, I was.

"Your Health Is Our Concern"

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goldstein

Ahavath Achim to honor Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein

Charles and Juanita (Nita) Goldstein of Bloomfield will be honored May 3 on the 50th anniversary of their membership in Congregation Ahavath Achim of Belleville.

The Congregation's 64th annual affair, a matinee theatre party and light supper, will be held that night. Following a performance of "Naughty Marietta" at the Paper Mill Playhouse, a supper will follow at the temple at which time the Goldsteins will be feted.

Charles Goldstein, a native of New York, became a member of Congregation Ahavath Achim in September of 1934 following his marriage to a local girl, Juanita Taffet. Her father, Frank, was one of the founders of the congregation and Charles later became a member of the board of trustees.

At his retirement from the U.S. Postal Service in 1973, after a half-century of service, Goldstein was director of operations of the New York Post Office, responsible for over 43,000 employees. During World War II, he served with the North Atlantic Search and Rescue Squad as a flight engineer in the U.S. Air Force. He was an active member of the National Association of Postal Supervisors, serving for 20 years as secretary of the New York City Branch and later as regional vice president for the area extending from New York State to the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

He is a 32 degree Mason and a former master of his lodge, a member of the Jewish War Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans. In 1964, he was honored as the Masonic War Veteran of the State of New York.

Nita Goldstein was raised in Indian Territory in the new State of Oklahoma. After several years, her father moved his wife, Fannie, and children to Belleville. They were the third Jewish family in town.

The first meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Achim was held in the Taffet home. Every female present, regardless of age, was immediately enrolled as a member. Thus, Nita claims membership of 65 years. She served in several capacities for the Sisterhood, is a past president of the Bloomfield Chapter of Hadassah and has been active on the board of the North Jersey Region of Hadassah.

Nita retired from Schering Corporation after a long period of employment that started shortly after the company was vested by the Alien Property Custodian during World War II.

An ad journal will be issued and distributed in conjunction with the Annual Affair. Mrs. Frieda Berkowitz and Mrs. Hannah Fersko are chairpersons of the event with Mrs. Leona Schreier handling the ad journal; Mrs. Miriam Novik, special pages; Mrs. Clara Creditor, professional pages and publicity; Mrs. Berkowitz, planning and treasurer and Mrs. Fersko, reservations.

Leonard Miller is president of the congregation. Rabbi Nathan lauffer is spiritual leader.

Woman's Club members garner several awards

Eleven members of the Woman's Club of Belleville met with 137 other women from 8th District clubs at the Spring Conference and Achievement Day at the San Carlo Restaurant, Lyndhurst. Mrs. Richard Drake, district vice president presided. Mrs. Jerry Loizeaux, president of the New Jersey Federation of Woman's Club was an honored guest and speaker.

Several awards were garnered by club members. Mrs. W. Douglas Clark won first place for oil painting. Miss Ruth Hogan took second place for her book review and another for her poetry. Mrs. Adrea Cohen received honorable mention for her essay; Mrs. Richard Shafter, first place beginners art; Mrs. Fred Wallace, first place for needlepoint; Mrs. James Ferraro, first for dressmaking; Miss Louise Kakubski, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Chancy Keeney and Mrs. Nicholas Todish, firsts for baking entries.

First place winners will compete again at the N.J. State Federation of Woman's Clubs Convention in May. The drama department of the Belleville club will enact a humorous skit and Mrs. Lorena Clark will present a monologue.

The club installed a new slate of officers Apr. 13. Mrs. W. Douglas Clark will serve as president; Mrs. Richard Shafter, vice president; Mrs. Stephen Kelemen, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Sanders, treasurer and Mrs. Chancy Keeney, Federation secretary. Mrs. Harry Winfield and Mrs. Martin Gaffney will serve as trustees.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Part 2 of a Three Part Series

There were many heroes on the 1982 Belleville softball team. Coach Carl Corino will tell you that the '82 squad epitomized the word "team", because everyone on the roster contributed to its success. You know the record, 24-2-2, the only losses coming to Kearny, 7-6 and Livingston, 8-6 in extra innings.

Let's talk about those two setbacks, because in each instance, the Lady Bucs came back to avenge the defeat, in a big way.

In late April, Belleville took a 7-0 record into a key game at Kearny High School. The Lady Kards were also undefeated and favored by many to be one of the states best teams.

The game was a classic, with Kearny jumping out to an early lead and Belleville rallying in the late stages to make the final contest close.

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

"It was a tough game," Corino recalled. "We knew they were a good team, but we felt we could beat them."

Truer words could not have been spoken. On a warm afternoon in mid May, the two teams met again, this time at Belleville High School. Back in the '82 campaign, Belleville was an independent school and usually played the Kards twice in a season. To this day, Corino feels his club should have had a third shot at the Kards. (More on that later in the story).

Anyway, Belleville came out ripping in this contest, taking a huge lead. The fans were anticipating a Kard rally, no offense to Belleville, but Kearny was still undefeated at the time and a club that good wouldn't go down without a struggle.

The Kards did attempt a rally, scoring three runs in the final inning, but it was too little, too late and Belleville had recorded a huge upset, beating Kearny, 10-5, which leads us to why Corino was hoping for a third game.

Belleville and Livingston had, and still possess, a tough rivalry in softball. The Lady Lancers had an excellent club in 1982 and battled Belleville in the semi finals of the Group IV, Section II tourney.

The fact that Belleville had advanced to the semis was somewhat amazing. In the first round of the states, Belleville battled a pesky Montclair team in not one, but two memorable battles.

The first game was tied, 2-2, after six innings before a fierce thunderstorm put a halt to the contest. It was decided that the two squads would play each other the following day, from scratch, at Belleville High again.

Since Dina De Aquino had pitched the previous day against Montclair, Corino decided to use Kathy Woods in the return match with the Lady Mounties.

The idea had good merit. De Aquino was a hard throwing sophomore and the youngster could use a day off after pitching six hard innings. Woods, on the contrary, was a softer thrower, who specialized in off speed pitching. The junior would offer the Mounties just the opposite of what they had seen the previous day.

The game went into the top half of the seventh inning, with Belleville down, 2-1. Even though the game was at BHS, Montclair, by virtue of a coin toss, was the home team. Thus, the Bucs were in big trouble. Three outs and Montclair would advance.

Belleville got some base runners on, and with two outs, Nancy Coffey lined a key single to drive in the go ahead runs and give Belleville the lead for good. Woods retired the side in order in the last half of the seventh to preserve the win. The final count was 5-2 and Belleville had scraped into the second round.

The game with Livingston looked easy, for four innings. Belleville had garnered a 4-0 lead and De Aquino looked solid on the hill. However, as Corino would later say, Belleville lost a little of its intensity and a few errors and some timely Lancer hitting suddenly saw the game tied at six, entering extra innings.

Livingston, the visiting team, threatened in the eighth inning. With two outs, and runners on second and third, a Lancer batter hit a ball to third baseman Coffey. The sure handed athlete made the grab, but had to hurry to the bag to get the force out. The Livingston runner from second base arrived at the bag at the same time as Coffey and everyone in the stands held its breath as the umpire made his call. It seemed like forever, but the ump spread out his arms, indicating the runner was safe. Livingston had gone ahead 7-6, because the runner at third had crossed the plate.

Corino came out screaming, mainly because the ump didn't seem sure whether Coffey made it to the bag in time or not.

"That's why I got mad," Corino had said after the game. "If he told me, 'look coach, she's safe and that's it,' I would have left it alone. But he didn't seem sure and in a game like that, you should be sure."

Anyway, Livingston tallied once more and took an 8-6 lead into the last of the eighth, a lead the Lancers held onto.

Livingston went on to win the Group IV, Section II title and battled Kearny in the state semis. Kearny won the game and eventually captured the state title. Corino feels his club could have played Kearny in the state semis that season.

A week later, Belleville and Livingston met again, this time for the championship of Essex County. This time, the results were different. Belleville left little doubt as to who was the better club in the ECT final, winning 8-0 as De Aquino hurled a masterpiece.

Next week, in the conclusion of this series, Carl and I will look back to the ECT of 1982, including the exciting win the semi finals. Also, a final tribute to the players who made that season so special and a look at who they're doing today.

This Weeks Quiz

Most baseball fans know that the Milwaukee Brewers tied the 1982 Atlanta Braves for most victories at the start of the season. Who managed the '82 Braves, what was the teams final record and how did the team do in post season play.

Oarsmen

The Belleville crew team had a rare week off from competition, but coach Scott Fabian had his team working hard in practice.

The Bucs were scheduled to compete in the Upper Merion Regatta this Saturday. Starting in May, the big regattas will be held, with the culmination being the national championships on the weekend of May 23.

Fabian noted that one regatta which might not be raced this season is the annual Goodwill race, featuring the boathouse rivals of Nutley, Belleville and Kearny.

"At this point, I doubt if it will be held," Fabian said. "We're scheduled for the City Championships on the only weekend we could have scheduled the Goodwill (the weekend of May 3). It was also doubtful if Kearny could have competed this year. Last year, Nutley couldn't race, so it was just Belleville and Kearny. This year, unfortunately, it might not be held at all."

Fabian expressed disappointment about the Goodwill Regatta because it's been a part of Belleville lore for over 20 years.

"Hopefully, it can be scheduled next season," the coach said. "We'll probably have to schedule the race earlier in the season, before the regattas in May."

Back to the business of the 1987 season, Fabian used last week for practice, giving the team last weekend off.

"It was nice to have the weekend off," the coach said. "The kids have been working hard. We won't be getting another weekend to ourselves until late May now. The kids, and the coaches, have been going seven days a week, with practice on the weekdays and races on the weekends. It was good to be off the water a few days."

Despite the reprieve, the coach had his troops back on the high seas last Monday, preparing for the prestigious Upper Merion race this Saturday. There will be about ten schools at the regatta.

"I'm very optimistic about the lightweight boys shell," said Fabian. "They've been rowing extremely well all season."

The schedule for the remainder of the season features the City Championships in Philadelphia on May 3, the Mid Hudson Regatta on May 9, the Stotesbury Regatta on the 16th and the Nationals, in Delaware, slated for the 23rd. The Bucs are hoping to compete in the Canadian championships, which are usually held on the weekend of May 30, but Fabian wasn't sure of those plans and won't be until the Stotesbury Regatta.

5-2 record going into this week

Errors spell defeat for

When the 1987 season started, Buccaneer baseball coach George Zanfini felt his team would have to excel in the following categories: A. Good Pitching, B. Solid Defense, C. Timely Hitting.

Unfortunately, the Bucs were under par in categories B and C last week and the results were two losses in three tries for the team. Belleville took a 5-2 record into this week's action.

The Bucs battled Paramus Catholic, Teaneck and Clifton in earlier games this week. Tomorrow afternoon, Belleville travels to Bloomfield for a 4 p.m. start. On Saturday, the Bucs are in Caldwell for a noon time game. Next Monday, Belleville plays host to Eastside at 4 p.m. and next Wednesday, the Bucs are in Montclair for a 4 p.m. start.

"We've played five very good games and two dingers," Zanfini said last weekend. "In our two losses, we had eight hits and made 11 errors. I've told the kids, we have to play good defense, especially against the tough teams. Hitting won't always be the answer. Our pitching wasn't bad, but we weren't able to make the key plays."

Belleville started the week with a 9-4 win over Paramus. However, the Bucs suffered its first loss of the year when St. Joe's dealt the team a 7-4 setback. Belleville then lost at Don Bosco, 5-1 for its second defeat.

Versus Paramus, Jim Dunphy pitched the first six innings to boost his record to 3-0. The senior struck out six, walked three and allowed seven hits. Michael Thompson hurled the final inning, striking out one and walking one to earn the save.

Paramus jumped out quickly, scoring three times off Dunphy in the first inning. The big hit was a three run homer by Howie Deas to give the Bergen County school a quick 3-0 lead.

However, Belleville tied the game quickly with three runs in its half of the first. Jamie Galloto started things off with a double. He scored on a single by Al Best. Best went to second on a throwing error and Jay Marchese walked. Dunphy then singled, scoring Best and Lou Lucante lofted a sacrifice fly, scoring Marchese with the tying run.

The Bucs took a 4-3 lead in the second with a solo run and in the third, Belleville took control of the contest, scoring three runs.

Vito Caprio started with a walk and was sacrificed to second base by Dean Mauro.

Meanwhile, girls streak to 6-0!

BHS softball squad travels 6-0

Solid pitching propelled the Belleville softball team to three victories last week, which extended the teams season record to 6-0.

Belleville battled Paramus Catholic, Livingston and Clifton in earlier games this week. Tomorrow afternoon, Belleville plays host to Bloomfield in a 4 p.m. start from Clearmon Field. On Saturday evening, the Lady Bucs hook up with a Lyndhurst, on the road at 7:30 p.m. Next Monday, the team plays at Eastside, starting at 4 p.m. and next Wednesday, the girls come home to battle Montclair, also at 4 p.m.

Head coach Carl Corino watched his team defeat Teaneck, Paramus and Queen of Peace by a cumulative score of 28-1. Belleville pitching accounted for one no-hitter and one one-hitter last week and has piled up some impressive early season stats.

"The pitching has been real strong," Corino said. "Both girls (Jeanine Luzzi and Stacey Johansen) are throwing hard and have good control. We've been hitting the ball well, too, and things have fallen into place so far."

Last week, Belleville pounded Teaneck, 20-0, upended a good Paramus team, 1-0 and breezed by Queen of Peace, 7-1.

Versus Teaneck, Belleville was in control early and Johansen, a freshman, hurled a no-hitter, the first no hitter by a Belleville pitcher this season.

"We hit the ball well," Corino said of his teams 18 hits. "They (Teaneck) weren't a strong team, but I was happy with our effort."

A number of Belleville players led the hitting brigade. Laurie Dondarski finished 3 for 4, Johansen was 2 for 4 with 3 ribbies, Laura Caruso finished 2 for 4 with 3 ribbies, Trish Tramutola had a big day, going 4 for 4 with 5 RBI's, Luzzi was 2 for 3, Carol Morrison finished 2 for 3 with 4 RBI's, Cindy Ruggerio had a hit and Mary Ann McArthur had a hit.

Belleville was without the services of junior Raquel Melson, who was sick. She was back in the lineup for the Paramus game.

Tramutola was the first to get on base, with a single. She scored on a throw from the pitcher to first and third and out. Tramutola fielded a ball at third base, made a great pump fake to freeze the runner at third and threw the batter out at first base.

That play saved a run.

under control."

Belleville pitching has been incredible. Johansen and Luzzi are both 3-0 and Luzzi's ERA is 0.00. Johansen has struck out 25 batters in three games and has allowed just two earned runs. The freshman has walked just two batters.

NOTES: Luzzi now has a mark of 26-3 in her varsity career. Girls were not ranked in the early state ratings, which didn't bother Corino in the least. Corino expected a tough game with Paramus Catholic last Monday. Lyndhurst should provide a good test this Saturday night. The Lady Bears are usually a difficult assignment at home. Back in 1982, Belleville and Lyndhurst played a classic in Lyndhurst, with the game ending in a 1-1 tie after ten innings.

Historical Society gets warm donation

The Nutley Historical Society Museum on Church Street in Nutley received a donation from Nutley Heating & Cooling Supply Co., Oilways Fuel Corp., and Weil McLain Co.

The donation was a new oil-fired boiler-burner unit and labor to install the unit. Oilways also removed the old boiler.

Anthony V. Cancelosi, founder of Nutley Heating & Cooling Supply, was born in Nutley in 1917. Originally the company was known as Nutley Oil Burner Supply & Tool Co. It was located at 10 Franklin Ave. until 1953 when it moved to 156 Chestnut St.

The company changed its name to the present one in 1981.

Cancelosi retired in 1984 and now enjoys his leisure time playing golf. His son, Richard A. Cancelosi, was and operates the company.

Oilways was founded in 1936 by George B. Harris Sr. It was passed on to George B. Harris Jr., who subsequently retired to Arizona. The company is now run by George B. Harris 3rd.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following Ordinance was passed on second and final reading at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Belleville held on Tuesday evening, April 14, 1987 having been read in its final form at least one week prior thereto and is hereby now a law and hereby published according to law.

Commissioner Ralph J. DiRuggiero
Commissioner Joseph A. Grande
Commissioner Joseph F. McGreevy
Commissioner Michael P. Pazi
Mayor Michael V. Moranti

Passed First Reading: March 10, 1987
Passed Second Reading: April 14, 1987
Adopted: April 14, 1987

STATEMENT

The bond ordinance published herewith has been finally adopted and the 20-day period of limitation within which a suit, action or proceeding questioning the validity of such ordinance can be commenced, as provided in the Local Bond Law, has begun to run from the date of the first publication of this statement.

Mary Lou Hood,
Township Clerk

"BOND ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE ACQUISITION OF A FIRE APPARATUS PUMPER IN AND FOR THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE, IN THE COUNTY OF ESSEX, NEW JERSEY, APPROXIMATELY $189,500 THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $180,000 BONDS OR NOTES TO FINANCE PART OF THE COST THEREOF."

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY:

SECTION 1. The acquisition of a fire apparatus pumper in and for the Township of Belleville, the County of Essex, New Jersey, is hereby authorized.

SECTION 2. It is hereby determined and declared by this Board of Commissioners as follows:

A. The maximum estimated amount of money to be raised from all sources for the purposes stated in Section 1 hereof is $189,500.

B. The estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes to be issued for the purpose stated in Section 1 hereof is $180,000.

C. An appropriation was or is contained in the capital improvement fund of the Township heretofore adopted in the sum of $9,500 for the purpose stated in Section 1 hereof, and there is not available in said appropriation said sum of $9,500, which sum is hereby appropriated as a down payment for the purpose stated in Section 1 hereof.

SECTION 3. The sum of $189,500, including the down payment authorized in subsection C of Section 2 hereof, is hereby appropriated for the purposes stated in Section 1 hereof.

SECTION 4. For the purpose of financing of the cost of the acquisition described in Section 1 hereof, exclusive of said down payment, the issuance of bonds of the township is hereby authorized in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed One Hundred Eighty Thousand Dollars ($180,000) pursuant to the provisions of the Local Bond Law, constituting Chapter 2 of Title 40A of the Revised Statutes of New Jersey. The rate or rates of interest, maturities, method of sale and other details of said bonds not determined herein shall be determined by subsequent resolution or resolutions adopted by this Board of Commissioners pursuant to law.

SECTION 5. Pending the issuance of the bonds authorized in Section 4 hereof, bond anticipation notes of the township may be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed One Hundred Eighty Thousand Dollars ($180,000). Such bond anticipation notes shall each be designated "Bond Anticipation Note (Issued for the acquisition of a fire apparatus pumper)". All bond anticipation notes issued hereunder shall mature at such times as may be determined by the chief financial officer of the township; provided that no note shall mature later than one year from its date. All such bond anticipation notes may be executed in the name of the Township by the manual or facsimile signature of the Mayor or chief financial officer or such other official of the Township as may hereafter be designated by resolution or otherwise as provided by law and such bond anticipation notes shall be under the seal of the Township affixed, imprinted or reproduced thereon and attested by the manual signature of the Clerk or Deputy Clerk of the Township. Such notes shall bear interest at such rate or rates and be in such form as may be determined by the chief financial officer. The chief financial officer shall determine all matters in connection with notes issued pursuant to this ordinance, and the chief financial officer's signature upon the notes shall be conclusive evidence as to all such determinations. All notes issued hereunder may be renewed from time to time subject to the provisions of N.J.S.A. 40A:2-8. The chief financial officer is hereby authorized to sell, part or all of the notes from time to time of public or private sale and to deliver them to the purchasers thereof upon receipt of payment of the purchase price plus accrued interest from their dates to the date of delivery thereof. The chief financial officer is directed to report in writing to this Board of Commissioners at the meeting next succeeding the date when any sale or delivery of notes pursuant to this ordinance is made. Such report must include the amount, the description, the interest rate, and the maturity schedule of the notes sold, the price obtained and the name of the purchaser or purchasers thereof.

SECTION 6. It is further determined and declared by this Board of Commissioners as follows:

A. The acquisition or purpose described in Section 1 of this bond ordinance is not a current expense; it is an acquisition or purpose of the Township may lawfully undertake as a general improvement, and no part of the cost thereof has been or shall be specifically assessed on property specially benefited thereby.

B. The average period of usefulness of the purpose described in Section 1 hereof, for which the bonds are hereby authorized to be issued, within the limits prescribed by the Local Bond Law, is approximately ten (10) years.

C. All bonds or notes issued pursuant to this ordinance shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed the maximum rate permitted by law.

D. The supplemental debt statement required by said Local Bond Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Clerk of the Township prior to the passage of this ordinance on final reading, and such statement shows that the gross debt of the township, as defined in N.J.S.A. 40A:2-43, is increased by this ordinance by $180,000, and the issuance of the obligations authorized by this ordinance will be within all debt limitations contained in the Local Bond Law.

E. The total amount of the proceeds of the obligations authorized by this ordinance to be expended and the cost of issuance of the obligations authorized by this ordinance, including printing, advertisement of ordinances and notices of sale and legal expense, and other expenses as provided in N.J.S.A. 40A:2-20 does not exceed $9,500.

SECTION 7. The capital budget is hereby amended to conform with the provisions of this ordinance to the extent of an inconsistency therewith and the resolutions promulgated by the Local Finance Board showing full detail of the amended capital budget and capital program as approved by the Director, Division of Local Government Services is on file with the Township Clerk and is available for public inspection.

SECTION 8. The full faith and credit of the Township is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on all bonds and notes issued pursuant to this ordinance, and as long as such bonds or notes are outstanding there shall be levied in each year ad valorem taxes on all taxable property within the Township without limitation as to rate or amount sufficient to pay principal of and interest on such bonds and notes maturing in said year.

SECTION 9. In the event moneys are lawfully received from the County of Essex, the State of New Jersey, the United States of America, or any agency of any of the foregoing for the purposes provided in this ordinance, such moneys shall be used for the improvements authorized herein and to reduce the amount of bonds or notes authorized to be issued by this ordinance by the amount so received, or if moneys are received after the issuance of the bonds or notes authorized by this ordinance, such moneys shall be used solely for the payment of the debt service on said bonds or notes as the same become due and payable.

SECTION 10. This ordinance shall take effect twenty days after the first publication hereof or after final adoption, in the manner provided by law.

THE 1987 SEASON

"Eastside and Montclair two very good teams," said "We were especially impressed with Montclair. They have an outstanding team."

Montclair won the prestigious Hudson County Relays last Saturday, a race that the Buccaneers competed in and did pretty well.

As for the Eastside battle, Belleville was paced by senior Gerard Corbo. He won the shot put with a throw of 40'3" and took second in the discus, with a toss of 110'8".

Senior Mark Huamani placed third in the 400 hurdles, with a time of 66.0. Huamani was third in the high jump with a leap of 5'4".

Junior Greg Moriello finished third in the two mile in 10:57. Senior Craig Burden was third in the mile at 4:58 and Jerry Padula placed third in the 100 meters, in a time of 12.3.

In the Montclair race, Corbo had another good day, taking second in the shot put, 39'0", and second in the discus, 110'10". Senior JonPaul Lenczuk was third in the shot and disc, with

Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

Dear Mr. Reilly:

Mortgages today are confusing, and I don't understand what points are or why banks have to charge them. Can you explain them for me? — A. Grafton, Belleville.

You are absolutely correct — mortgage financing today is confusing in contrast to the mortgage programs of yesterday. "Points" have become a permanent fixture on the home-financing landscape, and despite any hoopla which may surround them, points are really quite simple to understand. Perhaps the thing which is most confusing is the terminology itself. The term "points" lends itself to sounding lofty, sophisticated, and mysterious. This is no accident, as the banks have been in the word-play game for a long time. For instance, in bank talk, one does not "make a profit," rather, one would "show a yield." Well the same follows suit for points. Just replace the word points with the word percent and you've got the answer. Three points therefore translate into three percent of whatever loan amount you are borrowing. Simple.

Now that we've seen what points are, let's look at why they are charged. Again, the answer is quite simple; they increase the yield (profit) of the loan. Points represent interest on the loan, only the bank doesn't wait for it to come with the regular monthly payments. They take the interest up front in cash on the day that the loan is given. For instance, a person who borrows $100,000 and is charged three points will pay the bank $3,000 cash upon receiving the loan.

This way, before the loan is even an hour old, the bank has already realized a three percent profit on it. (In most cases the points charged are fully deductible as interest on your mortgage. Check with your accountant or tax advisor.)

Different lending institutions will offer different rates and different points, depending on the policies of the institution. One must be careful not to get sold strictly on low rates or low points. The combination of all loan factors (i.e., rate, points, application fees, term, etc.) must be carefully weighed to make the proper decision in choosing which loan is best for you.

REALTORS' Present AMERICAN HOME WEEK

April 26 - May 2, 1987

Let's Make Our Town a Family

American Home Week recognizes increasing value of home ownership

"Home ownership — a cornerstone of the American way of life — is thriving, making the investment and personal value of owning a home more attractive than ever," said Nick Yannuzzi, president of the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors.

He is urging that April 26 through May 2, which President Reagan has recognized as "American Home Week," be a time for reflection on the benefits of private property.

Yannuzzi noted that some benefits of owning your own home are:

- Greater personal savings. A recent University of Michigan study showed that homeowners save 50 % more than renters at the same income level.
- A higher standard of living with reduced reliance on government retirement programs. Among Americans 65 and older, homeowners amassed $21,600 in net assets while renters had only $100 in net assets.
- Better government through greater participation in community and government decision making. Homeowners vote in higher numbers than do renters.
- Home ownership creates an incentive for people to maintain their community's housing stock. This incentive helps prevent decay, decline and crime in neighborhoods.

"Private property rights, which Americans enjoy through the U.S. Constitution, the Bill of Rights and common law, are the foundation of our nation's free enterprise system and the quality of life which is unique to America," he said.

Private property rights consist of the right to use, enjoy, sell or freely transfer ownership of real property except for certain limitations to protect the rights of others. The Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Belleville and Nutley Board of Realtors, together with the National Association of Realtors, is dedicated to preserving real property rights for housing, agriculture, industry, commercial and other uses against unwarranted government actions.

"Policies in every level of government — federal, state and local — share responsibility for oftentimes hindering of home ownership," Yannuzzi said.

"The protection of private property rights is a top priority of the National Association and American Home Week is one way of focusing public attention on the need to preserve and protect private property rights and increase awareness of the active role Realtors play in their communities."

He urged citizens to join with the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Belleville and Nutley Board of Realtors in observing American Home Week.

Attention Realtors!

This special section was created for you and contains editorial copy submitted by you, geared to your local market. An interesting and appealing section that our readers look forward to each week and keep as a handy reference guide. This section is the perfect advertising vehicle for you, the realtors.

If you believe that the only place to publish your listings is in the larger circulation dailies, or your town paper only, you're missing out on a market that is right at your fingertips. When a family is looking to purchase a home, they are willing to move outside of their town — if the price is right and the location near enough to meet their needs.

We all know that...

visibility opens the door to sales.

What better way to be visible than to publish your weekly listing right here in this special realtor's page, where it will be seen by a select readership with one of the highest degrees of purchasing power and discretionary income in Essex County...
