School board is fined for asbestos violation

By Christopher Bifani

In terms of tax points it's not a lot of money, but a $2,500 fine charged to the Belleville Board of Education by the state Environmental Protection Agency for non-compliance with asbestos guidelines has some township taxpayers boiling mad.

"We can't afford $100, let alone $2,500 for a fine," said Ann Brave of Belleville.

Freshman Board of Education member Patricia Pisano said the fine came about because the school board "didn't follow through" with asbestos reporting procedures during the earlier part of the decade, and added that "it's a shame."

Board of Education President Phil Linfante said the fine is a result of past school administrations who "failed to comply with notification requirements since 1982 when they first learned of the asbestos problem." According to Linfante, the state guidelines for dealing with asbestos in the school system call for school administrators to "notify faculty, custodians and parents about the existence of asbestos in the schools."

Linfante called the EPA levy a "paper fine" that resulted because the documents detailing an early Belleville asbestos report were stored at the administration's Cortlandt Street headquarters instead of being posted in teachers rooms, custodians offices and distributed to parents.

Some citizens, notably former school board member Gabriel Nazzola, did not treat the imposition of a government fine so casually.

"It seems like a cover-up," Nazzola said, indicating that the documents detailing the presence of asbestos in the Belleville school system was a deliberate attempt to keep the knowledge of the early asbestos report from employees and parents.

Nazzola said that he had stated "all along" that the Belleville Board of Education was due to be fined, and added that only the amount of the fine had yet to be

Dozens of scholarships presented

Top township students lauded at BHS ceremony

More than 200 township students and wellwishers attended the 10th Annual Raymond O. Smith Scholastic Awards presentation, as dozens of graduating seniors walked away with scholarships, honors and recognition for their high school efforts.

The event was held in the auditorium of Belleville High School, Wednesday evening May 27.

Class of 1987 Valedictorian Veronica Valvano and Salutatorian Eric Nazzola reaped the most in the awards sweepstakes, with Valvano and Nazzola each being honored nine times.

Dr. Richard E. Benninger, Director of Guidance at BHS and coordinator of the event, had high praise for all students recognized at the presentation, particularly Valvano of whom he said had maintained a perfect straight-A average with the maximum load of classes allowed, no free periods, and an emphasis on extra curricular activities.

The guidance director added that this year there were more awards given than ever before, with about a half dozen new awards debuting at the event.

Mrs. Ann Marie Perna, President of the Belleville High School Home & School Association, welcomed the audience and awardees, and BHS Principal Joseph Ciccone presented the honor students. Valvano led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance and Nazzola led the invocation.

Following is a rundown of the awards presentation:

The U.S. Army Reserve National Scholar/Athlete Award was presented to Lori Tirrell and Eric Nazzola by Major P. Esposito.

David DeNotaris and Monique Omar each received $250 scholarships from the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, with chamber president Shirley Sherman presenting.

Nicki Trabucco received $50 as winner of the Century 21 Award Scholarship, also presented by Sherman. Additionally, Sherman presented the $100 First Jersey Bank Award Scholarship to Francine Pici and her own $25 Sherman's scholarship to Tara Murphy.

Joseph Ferricola was the recipient of a $400 scholarship given by the Belleville Crew Parents Association. Ms. T. Cassin presented.

Three township seniors were recognized by the Belleville Education Association. Anthony Iannini received a $1200 scholarship, Lisa Luongo received a $300 scholarship and Clara Lupo was recognized as well. Presenting the awards for the education association was Mrs. E. Arthur.

Robyn Rotella was the recipient of a $1500 scholarship presented by the Belleville Foundation Grant. Presenting the award was Mr. T. Devine.

Footballers Jon Nardachone and Daniel Senesky each received $100 awards from the Belleville High School Football Coaches group. Presenting the award was BHS Head Coach John Senesky.

The Belleville/Nutley Italian Fiorente Club presented a Senior Football Student Athlete Award to Joseph Coviello. Presenting the $300 award was Coach Senesky.

Anthony Iannini and Susan McTeigue each earned $500 scholarships courtesy of the Belleville

Assemblyman commends trustee Pisano

Belleville to receive funds for school asbestos removal

Assemblyman John V. Kelly, announced that the Belleville Board of Education will receive a $318,000 grant to begin the removal of asbestos from Belleville schools.

Joseph Atallo, Business Administrator to the Board of Education, received a letter from the State Department of Education, Bureau of Facilities and Planning, stating Belleville would receive the $318,000 as the result of a grant application filed by Board Secretary Charles Miele with the State Department of Education.

Kelly commented, "I must commend Board member Patricia Pisano for her initiative and persistence in this matter."

Pisano contacted Kelly's legislative office in March and requested information on possible funding sources for the asbestos removal in local schools. Kelly stated, "I was aware the State Department of Education had available funding for such projects and put Mrs. Pisano in touch with the director of the program. Mrs. Pisano received an application form and encouraged the Board to file for the funding."

The application included a plan of the necessary work that must be done in each of the schools to remove the asbestos. The state approved the plan and appropriated the funding for this important project.

Pisano commented, "I am very pleased that the Belleville application has been approved. However, most important is that removal will begin in the Belleville schools. Although I am a member of the Board of Education, I am also a parent with 2 children in the Belleville schools. I share the same concerns of each and every parent."

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello echoed Pisano's sentiments.

"We're very, very pleased that the state has made the funding available to us," he said.

DOT answers safety questions

Rt. 21 lights replaced with 'modern' lighting

The fatal accident last week of a lone motorist on Route 21 has raised questions about the safety of this freeway which snakes through Belleville mere feet from the waters of the Passaic River.

In last week's accident a 22 year old man driving north on Route 21 apparently did not bear leftward with the road and subsequently drove off the shoulder, over the guardrail and into the water, where he perished. Although this accident happened in daylight, complaints about night-safety have come to light as well.

Belleville Police report that both citizens and patrolmen alike have complained about lighting conditions on the freeway, primarily an extensive presence of burned-out lightbulbs.

In the days immediately following the fatal accident, an inspection of the road condition in the vicinity of the accident revealed that the guardrail was severely stressed at the point where the vehicle careened over it. Pilings were loosened for several yards in either direction, and the rail was in such bad shape that it could be moved back in forth by hand with moderate effort.

Cones were placed in front of the destroyed length of guardrail, but as of Monday, May 31, there had been no repair or replacement. This damaged railing is at the point in Belleville's stretch of freeway where the road curves the most, and where the potential for an accident may be greater.

Who turned out the lights?

A nighttime inspection of the accident site was even more revealing. All of the lights on the northbound lane of Route 21 were shut off in the vicinity of the accident, with only lights on the southbound side providing light for both sides.

"When Times reporters contacted both Belleville and New Jersey State Police of this condition, both said the jurisdiction lies with the New Jersey State Department of Transportation (DOT). State Police said patrolling the state freeway was the domain of town police, while town police said questions pertaining to the physical condition of the roadway are best fielded by the DOT.

The DOT was more than happy to shed some light on the subject.

"We have an upgrading lighting project on Rt. 21," explained DOT Assistant Commissioner of Operations Jack Friedenrich, "we're replacing the old, antiquated lighting and installing modern high-level expressway lighting."

Unlike the older lights that are as likely to be burned out as shining, these new lights illuminate twice as brightly for each 400 watt lamp, which means that lights only have to be placed on one side of the road, the southbound side, the commissioner said.

DOT Engineer Frank Realini echoed his boss' contention that the new lights are superior to the old.

"They're brighter, more efficient, and they enable us to replace two old 400W lights with one new 400W light (on the southbound side)."

But there were other questions which Realini, who is involved with the implementation of the project, could not answer; questions which had to be answered by the design engineering department. Questions like:

Why was it decided to place the new lights on the southbound side

I was looking over an old copy of our sister publication, The Bloomfield Life, and noticed a little announcement by Life's managing editor, Russ Roemmele. It said he was keeping office hours on Saturday mornings from 9AM to 1PM in order to better acquaint himself with the people.

It made me think of a similar comment made by Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli. While on the campaign trail, Risoli stated that he would keep office hours at Town Hall from 9AM to noon.

Seems like a good idea to me.

During the week, townspeople are usually working. Keeping office hours on the weekend is a way of gauging the pulse of the people. I got to thinking, and decided it would be an especially good move on my part to do this since I've only lived in Belleville since August, and I've got a lot to learn. Russ and Angelo, on the other hand, have lived in their respective communities for more years than I've been on this planet!

So this month, I'll be at our 155-A Washington Avenue office on the Saturdays of the 13th, 20th, and 27th. I'll be there from 10AM to 1PM (9AM on a Saturday is commendable, but too tough for me.) I'll have various elements of newspaper production on display, some back issues, and some hot coffee.

Bring down your questions, complaints, letters, suggestions, etc. I'm sure I'll be in for quite an earful, but I'm equally sure a better Belleville Times will result.

To paraphrase a famous quote, "There are no strangers here, only readers I haven't met."

Times to publish student ads

Belleville Times will publish free work wanted ads for high school and college students in special columns to run in the edition of Thursday, June 18.

SPOTLIGHT: Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto

Joseph Fornarotto

By Samuel Williams Jr.

Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto was no stranger to the Belleville political arena.

Having run for commissioner during the 1983 term, Fornarotto used the Genghis Khan method; keep your sword swinging until there are no more heads to roll.

"I went to council meetings and blasted commissioners by embarrassing them and putting them on the spot. I was what you could call abusive," said Fornarotto.

The only head that dropped however seemed to have been Fornarotto's. He didn't win a seat on the commission.

The difference between then and his successful 1987 berth to the Belleville commission came through advice from former mayor Michael Marotti.

"He told me I would never become a commissioner unless I stopped attacking public officials. He said I should take a low key approach," said Fornarotto.

Out with Khan and in with Dale Carnegie's approach (How To Win Friends And Influence People).

Was he surprised about winning? "No, I wasn't surprised. I heard the complaints about town hall, streets unfixed, water problems, I felt with my expertise in contracting, servicing and construction many of the townspeople would look to me," said Fornarotto.

Fornarotto was appointed director of Public Affairs which involves the health department, local assistance Board, welfare office, dental office, vital statistic office, collection of garbage and transportation.

"I want to continue the mini-bus program, keep our regular inspection schedule going, maintain our baby services, continue to provide dental care for the underprivileged plus we'd like to create more programs," said Fornarotto.

Though Fornarotto wanted Public Works, he has pledged full allegiance to Public Affairs.

"I have a well-run organization with experienced people. I don't plan on hurting anyone or taking anything away. I am going to serve the people first and foremost," said Fornarotto.

According to Fornarotto, the commission as a whole has pulled together and put behind them the differences that could potentially hamper Belleville.

"We are going to build this town to the position it should be in," said Fornarotto.

THE CHILD-PROOF LID

Although the introduction of child-resistant lids back in the early 1970's created frustration for some adults, this safety measure has dramatically reduced accidental poisonings among children. Pharmacists must put medications in child-resistant containers unless the patient specifically asks for "ordinary" lids. Child-resistant lids are designed to prevent children under the age of five from opening them. A "perfect" child-resistant lid, however, does not exist. In tests, 85 percent or more of the participating children must not be able to open them, while 90 percent of the adults involved must be able to do so. Of course, there will be some young children who can open these containers, and some adults who cannot.

Whenever you have a problem or need answers to questions concerning medications, call your pharmacist at ROSMARE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1948, 759-1956. "Your Doctor Knows About Us Too!" A fine selection of 2½¢ 1¢ are available for graduations and Father's Day. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

Theme is jobs for handicapped students

Belleville school officials present BHS program to national colleagues

Dr. Anthony P. Chirico, Director of Special Services, and Elyse S. Pepose, Job Placement Coordinator of the Belleville Board of Education were invited by the Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) to present their Job Placement Program for Secondary Handicapped Students at the CEC National Convention in Chicago.

The Council for Exceptional Children is the largest and best known organization in North America of its kind. It was founded to serve seven million handicapped and two million gifted children. An invitation to present at a CEC National Convention is regarded by professionals serving exceptional children as a great honor.

Belleville's program was selected and presented recently in Chicago. A summary of this fine Belleville program follows.

Job Placement Program for Secondary Handicapped Students

The Belleville Board of Education, utilizing funds from a Title VI Part B Grant, began a Job Placement Program in May 1985. This program is geared toward preparing handicapped students in grades 9-12 for employment. Students enrolled in the program receive vocational counseling and guidance to aid them in choosing a career. They are also instructed in resume writing, completion of job applications, preparation for an interview and independent living skills. Classroom activities culminate in job placement for students in the program.

The program is enjoying great success due, in part, to the fine response of local business people who are willing to hire students with special needs. Seventy percent of Belleville High School's 40 handicapped students, 16 years and older, were placed in jobs during the 1985-86 school year. All of the high school's 88 handicapped students, grades 9-12, received regular classroom instruction in job search techniques, self awareness and independent living skills during that school year.

Sixty percent of Belleville High School's 62 handicapped students, 16 years and older, have been placed in jobs during the 1986-87 school year to date. All of the high school's 90 handicapped students, grades 9-12, receive regular classroom instruction in self awareness, independent living skills, locating jobs, interview techniques, resume writing and job application skills through three courses offered through the Career Planning Curriculum. These courses are designed to offer students 2½, 5 and 15 credit hours respectively. The 15 credit Career Practicum combines classroom instruction and on-the-job work experience.

In the interest of placing more students in specialized positions, the Job Placement Program has researched course offerings in area vocational-technical schools. Thirteen sophomore classified students have been placed in the Bergen County Vocational Technical School in Teterboro, and six others are enrolled in the Essex County Vocational Technical

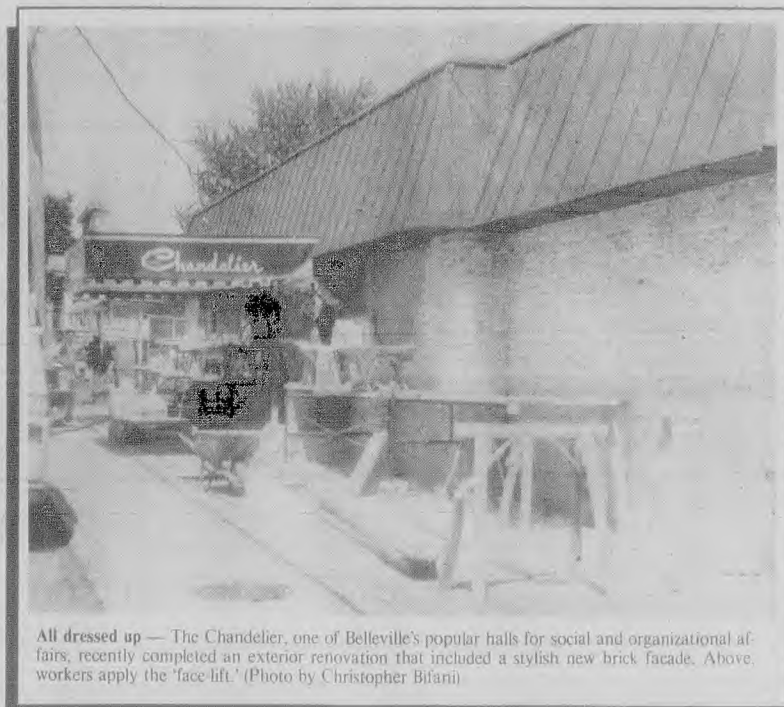

School in an exploratory program. Those students rotate through five different shops over a 40-week period of time. The student then chooses an area in which to "major" in, thereby spending the last two years of his high school career in that one shop. These students become better prepared to enter the world of work at a higher than "entry level" position.

Several classified students have recently been introduced to Project Mentor, a college program for learning disabled students, started by Jersey City State College. In the fall of 1986, Belleville had three classified students accepted to Jersey City State College and is looking forward to the possibility of five classified seniors being accepted into Project Mentor for the fall 1987 term.

Contact with Project Mentor is as a result of the combined efforts of the Job Placement and Resource Room Programs.

New lighting on one side of the freeway and not the northbound side? Is the lighting equally adequate on both sides of the road?

Are there any road situations, like sharp curves for example, which would still be better served by having lighting placed on both sides of the road?

Are the contours of the freeway better defined by having lights on both sides of the road?

Our inquiry led us to John Hayes, electrical project engineer overseeing the Route 21 lighting project, and his answers were quite illuminating.

"The lighting was designed to face the river," Hayes told the Times, "because there is a slight chance of having adjacent homeowners complaining about the glare." He added that he knows of no complaints regarding the existing lights on the northbound lane, which faced Main Street home and condominium dwellers, because the old fashioned fixtures do not have the same "throw" as the new ones, called "off site luminaires."

Hayes said the decision to replace the lights was threefold.

"First, we reduce energy consumption. The energy savings is equivalent to one barrel of oil per light per year. Second, we reduce cost. Third, we reduce maintenance time because there are less lights to maintain."

The old fashioned lights are known as "mercury vapor luminaires," while the off site luminaires use high pressure sodium vapors. Hayes said the sodium vapor lights used to burn out faster than the mercury vapor lights, but improvements have been made so that today both last for about the same length of time. He added that the sodium lights provide a yellowish color of lighting as opposed to the bluish lighting of the mercury lights.

However, Hayes conceded that the right-hand lane of Route 21 north, the lane closest to the river, would not be illuminated as well as it was when the now-disconnected mercury vapor lights were directly above it. He qualified that by adding that all lanes were illuminated to the minimum standards set by the DOT.

Hayes said that in risk areas, like the curve where last week's accident occurred, no purpose would be served by having lighting on both sides of the road since "the new lights curve with the road anyway."

And if motorists are more comfortable by having both sides of a freeway flanked with light in the contour of the road, Hayes said that's not the concern of his department.

"Lights are to illuminate the road. Where they are placed shouldn't really matter. Our job is to let them see the road," he said.

In addition to lighting concerns, motorists have also raised questions about the lack of emergency telephones and the perceived lack of police patrols on Route 21.

State Police rarely patrol the roadway and the sight of stranded motorists on the roadside awaiting assistance has become a fairly common one.

BHS business students given array of awards

Business curriculum and standards are geared to vocational competency and accomplishment.

"Our students are ready to compete for jobs in the business community," said Mr. Musmanno, Business Area Supervisor.

Word processing, data processing, and accounting enrollment have remained relatively constant because of the varied and diversified programs. The FBLA and Octagon Clubs, and the DECA and COE programs are progressing smoothly as always, he added.

"We have the equipment, the rooms, the students, and a dedicated business staff to do an effective job to help our students achieve to their highest potential. Parents are encouraged to participate and become more involved," Musmanno said.

The following students have excelled this year and the High School Business Department is proud of their accomplishments.

The Gift

If I can make it through the day,
The sun will shine much brighter.
And all the burdens I must bear,
Will be a little lighter.

There'll be joy within my heart,
And friendship with each giving.
I'll bow my head in silent prayer,
And thank God that I'm living.

— Frank Stokowski

Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio

Last Saturday, over 200 people attended a luncheon to pay tribute to New Jersey's most outstanding Sheriff — Nutley's Tom D'Alessio.

Sheriff D'Alessio is looked upon as the leading elected Democrat in Essex County. And there is a reason for this popularity. Tom D'Alessio is a compassionate individual, whose love of people is his daily currency. Tom D'Alessio is the kind of a friend everybody would like to have — and those among us who call him friend appreciate the privilege.

Sheriff D'Alessio has a great passion for perfection. When he undertakes a task, he wants it done right — and he'll settle for nothing less. When it comes to the people about him, Tom's first concern is their welfare and their problems. The Democratic Party is indeed fortunate to claim this extremely popular man as one of its own. We are privileged to consider him family.

November elections

The Primary Election is over and the most exciting events occurred in Hudson County — where political fireworks are always in style. The Hudson County action was all on the Democratic side — and that would be expected since there is no Republican Party to speak of in Hudson. Statewide, the legislative leadership is shared by both major parties. The Senate is controlled by Democrats and Republicans control the Assembly.

The Republicans won an Assembly majority when Republican Governor Tom Kean scored a landslide victory over former Essex County Executive, Democrat Peter Shapiro.

This November, there is no Tom Kean on the ballot to lead the Republican charge. The first name on the November ballot will be the State Senate candidate. There are more Democrat Senators than there are Republicans — hence, professionals predict a return of the Assembly to Democrat control with the obvious presumption of a Democrat Senate majority.

At the Essex County level, of the nine-member Freeholder Board, seven are Democrats and two are Republicans — and all seats are up for grabs. All Essex County Senators are Democrats, and few expect that representation to change.

Essex Republican Chairman John Renna, one of the most effective leaders to ever serve the Republican Party, has an almost impossible task. Renna has all the street smarts a leader needs to be a winner. However, the facts of life tell Renna that Essex County is overwhelmingly Democrat, notwithstanding pockets of Republican strength. The 30th District, which includes Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield, is represented by two Republican Assembly persons, Marion Crecco of Bloomfield and John Kelly of Nutley. The Senate seat for the past 14 years has been held by a Democrat, Carmen Orechio of Nutley. All three are up for re-election. In common with each other, they enjoy solid voting records and have been very responsive to the needs of their constituents. As good as their challengers are — they all face an uphill battle. John Kelly is entrenched in Nutley, Marion Crecco is entrenched in Bloomfield, what with her husband, John, serving as Mayor of that fine community; and Carmen Orechio has won re-election since 1968 as a Nutley Town Commissioner, and as Senator, every election for the past 14 years. These records speak for themselves — and the message seems to be that voters appear to be satisfied with their legislative representation they now enjoy.

Essex Democrat Chairman Ray Durkin also doubles as state boss of the Democrat Party, having been elected Democrat State Chairman in 1985. Ray Durkin is a savvy political leader — has won many elections and has lost a few. Only last November, he lost the County Executive seat when candidate Peter Shapiro was trounced by County Executive, Republican Nicholas Amato.

A couple of state Republican leaders have high hopes they will see Republicans elected in Hudson County. Anything is possible in politics, but no one should write off a Democrat candidate anywhere in Hudson County.

As for Essex County, County Republican Chairman John Renna is facing a scarcity of money and man/womanpower. And without both of these important ingredients, a political campaign suffers. As much as he wants to bring in winners across the board in November, Mr. Renna may have to settle for something less.

Give them time...

To the editor:

Several years have passed since I have been prompted to take any role in speaking or actively participating in efforts to improve or correct improper, inefficient, or illegal administration by government officials, regardless of what level of government they were elected to represent.

Presently, I intend to restrict my activities principally to the problems of Belleville and Essex County. For the time being I must comment the efforts of the Board of Freeholders and the newly elected County Executive for their efforts in avoiding a tax increase.

If these efforts continue they will earn the respect and silence of the taxpayers. As far as the newly elected Belleville representatives are concerned, we must give them time to "get their act together."

Comments on Golden...

To the editor:

My congratulations to Mr. Frank Orechio, the publisher of the Belleville Times. Congratulations on having the services of James Golden and his "Golden Comments." I mean this man is incredible. His political insight and savvy is unbelievable, it's downright uncanny! I mean, nobody, but nobody in Belleville could have foretold with such accuracy, which one of the successful candidates in the recent election would be the Mayor, and who would wind up as commissioner of what department, prior to the swearing in ceremony, seven days after the election.

After getting the results of the election, James Golden admittedly zonked out, dead to the world on May 12th and did not come to till Tuesday, May 19th, when he "composed his column" with his "predictions" of who would be Mayor, and who would be commissioner of what department.

He knew that Vincent Frantantoni garnered 611 more votes (a full 23 percent more) than his runner up, Michael Pizzi. As a matter of fact, assuming everybody voted for 5 candidates, Mr. Frantantoni received 63 percent of the votes!

While most Belleville citizens (logically) assumed Vincent Frantantoni would be the next Mayor, James (Jean Dixon) Golden accurately predicted it would be Michael Pizzi instead. We all know that Mr. Pizzi campaigned on the platform that if reelected, he wanted to continue what he had been doing so well, and be the Director of Public Affairs (popularly known as the Health Dept.) again. Forget this campaign rhetoric, Jim Golden told us, "Mr. Pizzi will be the Director of Public Safety (The Police Dept.), and he was right."

We know that, if elected, Mr. Frantantoni would have liked to be the Director of Public Works. James Golden knew differently and predicted that he would be the Director of Public Affairs (the department previously under Mr. Pizzi).

Mr. Risoli never expressed a preference for a particular department, his campaign was based on "slashing taxes." James (Jean Dixon) correctly told us he would be the Director of Public Works, putting him in charge of pot holes and some 800 dead trees. His prediction that Joseph McGreevy would continue to be "in charge" of Belleville's Finance Department was not a surprise.

Next he stated that "despite his highest vote, Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni would be the Director of Parks and Public Property," the department for so many years of the defeated Mayor Michael Marotti. Jim Golden is well known for his poor choice of words in "Golden Comments," but to use the definition "despite his highest vote" instead of "because of his highest vote" illustrates his total ineptness to describe a position. After all, he surely knows that Parks and Public Property is the choice department to be in charge of? The department represents Belleville real estate, the buildings, library, Town Hall, etc. etc., it's development and responsibility for the engineering/construction/inspection departments and lots more. That is a far cry from being responsible for the pot holes and Dial-A-Ride in my estimation.

The truth of the whole matter is, that on the Saturday morning, following the customary, traditional "private caucus" on Friday, May 15, just about everybody in Belleville knew what Jim (Jean Dixon) Golden was predicting in his "Golden Comments" on Tuesday, May 19. I mean, does he think we are stupid, gullible, or what!!!

Finally, his assinine comment that Vincent Frantantoni as the president of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville organization with his "running mate" Gabe Nazzola were more than 1000 votes apart is totally out of order, and I detect malicious intent with that remark. The C.C.B. organization is a non-political group of citizens, interested in promoting the well being of Belleville, especially as fiscal condition, meaning "holding the line" on future tax increases. Mr. Frantantoni, nor Mr. Nazzola campaigned as President, Vice President or as members of the C.C.B. There is no doubt that most, if not all of its members voted for them, because of their known position, which coincided with the organization's.

Fornarotto says thanks...

To the editor:

At this time I would like to thank everyone who voted for me, put a sign on their property, and thought of me to be one of Belleville's new commissioners.

I know people were very sure who they wanted for their new commissioners by going all the way to the right in the voting booth and voting 11 A.

I will not disappoint you — I care.

Thank you again,
Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto
Union Avenue

Vinnie's campaign worker...

To the editor:

I would like to thank everyone who assisted me in a successful campaign for a Commission seat.

In addition to the voters who elected me, sincere thanks are in order to all my volunteer campaign workers, the dozens of people who made phone calls, those who displayed lawn signs, the envelope stuffers, the sign makers, etc. Thanks also to the many people who hosted teas to provide me a forum in their homes. The many phone calls of support, encouragement, and valuable advice must be acknowledged, as well as the financial contributions.

While it was very gratifying to be elected, and being the front-runner by a large margin, more important are the many friends I have made during this campaign.

There is one campaign worker that must be singled out. Not only was she my campaign manager, but during the past three months she was a most gracious host, wife, mother, cook, housekeeper, secretary, and political advisor, while at the same time fulfilling her volunteer duties with Home and School and Cub Scout Pack 301. All of the above functions were fulfilled in her usual manner of dedication and excellence.

Sincere thanks and love to my wife and partner for the past 24 years, Phyllis. My three children must be thanked for their help and perseverance. Thanks kids, I owe you.

Thanks again to all who helped. I promise to give you my best and invite your input.

For forty years or more, the federal government's complex of nuclear weapons factories have operated hidden by a screen of top-secret security classifications, barbed-wire fences and machine-gun equipped guards. However, a recent series of safety lapses have proved embarrassing by laying bare what the government's own consultants are calling a pattern of mismanagement, complacency and obsolete technological practices.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In April, the Senate Armed Services Committee sent a strong message that the days of hiding are over; since last summer, the Department of Energy, which manages the production of plutonium and other raw materials for nuclear warheads, has been forced to shut down for safety reasons or cut back operations at seven of its eleven large reactors used for research or weapons production. "The Department of Energy hid behind a shield of national security... and health and safety problems built up," said Congressman Ron Wudenberg (D-Oreg.).

The major plutonium-producing reactor at Hanford, Wash., despite strong protests from the Department of Energy that the facility is vital to meeting defense requirements, was shut down permanently. This move is probably going to intensify debate over how much plutonium is needed for new weapons and why the Department of Energy has allowed its nuclear plants to deteriorate to the point that both safety and the plutonium supply have been jeopardized.

The problem about safety started last summer when cracks appeared in a reactor producing plutonium at the Savannah River, S.C., plant. Then, engineers discovered they had seriously miscalculated the ability of emergency cooling systems at three other reactors on the site to prevent a meltdown in the event of an accident, and they ordered the power cut back by 20 percent. In March, an independent panel at the National Academy of Sciences sent an urgent warning that the Department of Energy still hadn't figured it right. A further cutback to half power in all three reactors was ordered.

The biggest blow came in January, when the Hanford reactor was shut down for six months to correct safety problems identified by a panel of outside consultants. Only months earlier, an internal DOE review had given the plant a clean bill of health. In addition, decades of radioactive waste has accumulated at many DOE sites, including Hanford and Savannah River posing another bad safety problem.

Department of Energy (DOE) people now admit that their reactors don't come up to the safety standards of commercial plants, which are regulated by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The DOE is planning to restart the Hanford reactor in July after completion of $50 million in safety improvements.

Critics say the problems go deeper, noting that the reactors basic problem is uncorrectable: Like the Soviets' Chernobyl reactor, the Hanford reactor lacks a concrete containment dome to prevent radioactivity from escaping in the event of a severe accident. Recommendations have been made that the plant be permanently shut down unless "the requirements for defense material warrant accepting public hazards exceeding those of commercial reactors."

Should a reactor core overheat in an accident, unexpectedly large amounts of hydrogen could be generated that would cause an explosion and the Hanford reactor has no system to prevent or even detect hydrogen buildup.

DOE officials keep pressing for the manufacture of more plutonium needed for the nuclear arsenal. Experts calculate that plutonium output has dropped about two thirds with the shutdowns and power cutbacks, to 1 ton a year — enough for 250 nuclear warheads. U.S. present stockpile contains about 25,000 warheads.

The entire complex of plutonium facilities is aging, and the DOE has repeatedly put off a decision on building a new production reactor. Environmentalists fear that the past indecisiveness may lead to pressure to draw a line between civilian and military use.

CECLS is back

The Cooperating Essex County Libraries System, better known as CECLS, is back in business. According to Belleville Public Library Director, David Bryant, "The CECLS card, recognized in 28 libraries in Essex County broadens every Belleville library user's library horizons."

The CECLS card is available without charge to Belleville residents 18 years and older, who currently have a good borrowing record at the library. The card allows its owner to use public libraries of Essex County, as well as most of the colleges and some special libraries in the county.

Though briefly suspended in March of this year, the card is recognized once again, following a guarantee of funding in 1987, made by the Freeholders of Essex County.

New Non-Fiction

The library has added a variety of non-fiction titles to its collection on topics of current interest.

"Aids" by Alan Nourse is a generalized study of AIDS, dealing with its history, questions and answers, and what the future holds.

"Crack: What You Should Know About the Cocaine Epidemic" tells what the drug is, why it is almost instantly addicting, where to get treatment and counseling and how to recognize signs of crack use.

"The Fast Food Guide" provides all the answer one needs to make for healthy choices. Caloric and sodium content are given.

If there never seems to be enough storage space in your home, "78 Home Shelving and Storage Projects" by Percy Blanford gives easy direction. "79 Furniture Projects for Every Room" is also by the same author.

FLIGHT 890

By Frank A. Orechio

THE Supreme Court recently handed down a decision, with the Justices agreeing that the Civil Rights Act of 1866 embraced all ethnic groups, even those today considered Caucasian. It was during the Reconstruction era that the conscience of America was shocked because of discrimination against immigrant groups and blacks. What the court in effect said was that Jews, Arabs and Hispanics have been legitimate victims of racially motivated discrimination. Excluded from the definition are the Italian immigrants — and certainly, there were many more Italian immigrants during the last decade of the 19th and the first decade of the 20th century — and yet, the Italian ethnic is excluded from the Supreme Court's decision.

We applaud the Supreme Court in extending the protection of our laws to protect Jews, Arabs and Hispanics from discrimination — but we are left wondering why the Italian immigrants were not included.

We read about people promoting the name of New Jersey Republican Tom Kean for Vice President. They say Kean would be an ideal Vice Presidential candidate on a Senator Bob Dole for President ticket. Dole is a midwesterner, and N.J. Kean would give the ticket balance. And there are others who suggest Kean would be a good Vice Presidential candidate on a ticket led by Vice President George Bush of Texas. Tom Kean is qualified to be President of the U.S., so why shouldn't we think and talk Tom Kean for President? If he is good enough to be considered for Vice President, his track record as a public official in the legislature and as Governor well qualifies him to be President of the U.S.

Governor Tom Kean for President?

CONGRATULATIONS to Nutley-born Dr. Lynne Viola, daughter of Grace and Joseph Viola of Glenview Road, who authored a book entitled, "The Best Sons of the Fatherland: Workers in the Vanguard of Soviet Collectivization." Dr. Viola's book details how collectivization was brought to the Russian countryside in the 1930's by the First Five-Year Plan. The book was published by Oxford University press and reviewers say it's "a most impressive piece of work... a major contribution in terms of significance for the field and thoroughness of research." A copy of the book is available in the Nutley Public Library and at the Nutley High School library. Dr. Viola was in Moscow in 1981-82 and is the first westerner granted access to the Soviet archives. She is a 1973 graduate of Nutley High School and graduated Magna Cum Laude from Barnard College and earned her Masters and PhD degrees from Princeton. Quite an outstanding achievement, and we salute this fine American.

I WAS pleasantly surprised to greet our old neighbor and longtime friend Mike Liloia, formerly of 46 Washington Avenue, Nutley, and now a resident of Lakehurst. Before his retirement, for many years, Mike manufactured hats, but his heart always was on the golf course. In his retirement, every morning, he still takes to the golf course — obviously his first love in life.

THE year was 1938. Joe DiMaggio was playing for the Yankees — hitting home runs like they were going out of style and the neighborhood crowd would meet at Cousin Ben's Diner at the northeast corner of Washington and Park Avenue, diagonally opposite from Washington School. One night, there must have been a couple dozen guys occupying every stool in the diner, and the DiMaggio legend was the cause for a lot of talk — loud talk at that. Cousin Ben was upset because we left no stool for a customer. He begged us to please go outside and make room for customers. Obliging young boys that we were, we emptied the diner in no time, and gathered outside on the corner sidewalk. Within minutes, two police cars swooped down upon us — led by the late Captain Henry Hoch. And Hoch, in his usual coarse, rough anti-Italian voice shouted, "Either you damn kids get off the corner sidewalk in five minutes, or we'll slap you in the knicker." Prejudice against Italo-Americans flourished in those days, especially in Nutley, and a Wasp threat to jail us was enough to scare us. This incident made me angry and the following night was meeting night for the Nutley Town Commission. I was angry enough to appear before the Town Commission in my stumbling, stuttering way, and demanded the Commission assume the responsibility to take us off the street corners and put us in the unused, little school house across the street. On the spot, the late Commissioner Joseph Blum, the Director whose department included recreation, appointed me chairman of a committee to explore the possibility of opening the school, evenings. In ten days, I produced a report; and as a result, Nutley, for the first time, established a decentralized recreational program for the town. The opening of Washington School evenings led to the opening of other schools — and only the advent of World War II brought a close to the wonderful program.

AND ten years later, in 1948, Nutley was in the midst of a Commission Election. At Nat Simone's East Centre Street home where a candidates night was in progress, I demanded to know from the candidates how they felt about establishing a park in the only area of Nutley where none existed — and where one was badly needed — the Avondale-Big Tree section. Then as now, Nutley Commission elections are easy to predict. I had a gut feeling who the five Commission victors would be. I asked each to commit himself to vote to establish an Avondale Big Tree park once the election was over. It turned out that four of the five elected Commissioners committed themselves — the fifth reserved judgment. And — believe it or not — I was appointed to a five-member committee and designated to negotiate for the acquisition of parklands in the east end of town. The end result was a Nutley version of the Louisiana Purchase: I negotiated the acquisition of Glatzbach Park for $13,500 and the acquisition of Father Owens Park for $10,000. My vision of the parklands was to serve the neighborhood purposes of our young and our senior citizens. I visualized senior citizens walking, strolling down the garden paths of beautiful parks. And I visualized, the young and middle-aged of our neighborhood involved in athletic games. Well, we acquired the parks, it took some time to develop — but, unfortunately, the original intent to serve the neighborhood got lost somewhere along the lines, and now we have what some say is the second sports complex in New Jersey. Well — for what it's worth, that's the history of our neighborhood Avondale Park.

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia
and Paul N. De Malo

Mrs. K. asks: "Why are my teeth sensitive after I have fillings done?"
When decay is removed from a tooth the nerve inside the tooth is stimulated or woken up.
As teeth decay, the decay acts as a protective layer in between the nerve, and the outside. No pain is felt till the decay gets very close to the nerve.
When this "protective layer" is removed and a fresh filling is put in its place, temperature changes are felt more easily, at least for a few weeks afterward. After a while, depending on how large the filling is the nerve settles down and the sensitivity will go away.
If however, the sensitivity does not go away in a few weeks there may be a problem, so it is very important to contact your general dentist as soon as possible.
If there are any further questions that you're unsure of, just give us a call.

Would reduce state control

Assemblywoman for Taxpayer's Rights Act

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) of Bloomfield, said she is drafting legislation, known as the "Taxpayers Rights Act," that would eliminate state control over local school budgets.

Crecco said the legislation, still being drafted, would provide that if the voters of a school district defeated a school board budget, the previous year's budget, plus an inflation allowance, would automatically go into effect.

Under current law, if the voters of a school district reject a budget, the council may make reductions, but the school board can appeal the decision to the state education department.

"Taxpayers aren't represented under the current system," said Crecco, vice-chair of the Assembly State Government Committee.

"People who vote in elections for school board budgets do so with the expectation that their vote counts when it really doesn't. If we vote for something it should be the end result."

"The people who live and pay taxes in our towns know what's best for their children more than Trenton bureaucrats who do not live in our community, do not pay our taxes, and are not accountable to the voters," Crecco said.

"This legislation is needed to stop local property tax rates from being dictated by unelected officials."

Crecco said the legislation should be prepared by the middle of June, and asked local residents with comments to call her Bloomfield office at 338-7552.

Crecco named to Assembly Leadership

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) of Bloomfield has been named Assistant Majority Whip by members of the Assembly Republican caucus.

Crecco, serving her first term in the General Assembly, commented the appointment gives her an opportunity to "help shape the Republican Agenda in Trenton."

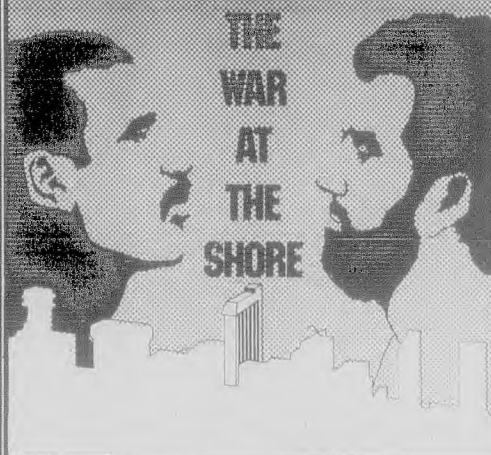

"I plan to use this position to promote the message that we must hold the line on taxes, bring government spending under control, and make the bureaucracy more accountable to the people," said Crecco, who will remain vice-chair of the Assembly State Government Committee.

She joins Assemblyman Jack Collins (R-Salem) as the only first-term members of the Assembly leadership from the 14-member freshman class.

A new career — Howie Halpern displays part of the new line of merchandise he is selling these days. It's a far cry from cold cuts or newspaper ads.

Howie Halpern reports on Florida 'retirement'

"I don't miss the slush and snow but I do miss the 'down to earth' people of Belleville," said Howie Halpern, former president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and, for many years, owner of Towne Deli.

Halpern and his wife, Joan, moved to Seminole, Fla. six months ago and are building a new home there which should be completed in early July. Retirement is the furthest thing from his mind.

"Me retire? Are you kidding?" he said on a recent trip up north. Halpern and a long time friend are now self-employed in a distributorship business, selling Bonneau sunglasses and auto shades to major retailers and jobbers throughout the state. "It's more fun than work. I feel I've been reborn, without changing my religion," he quipped.

"I'm on the beach almost daily, either doing business or just relaxing. It's great."

"I know everything that's going on in Belleville by reading the Belleville Times which is mailed to me every week. I certainly wouldn't want to miss reading about Belleville's unique politics."

Halpern says that Towne Deli and the Belleville Chamber of Commerce are permanently and pleasantly imbedded in his memory. He is permanently and pleasantly imbedded in the memories of all of us at Orechio Publications who had the pleasure of working with him.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Back on May 25, Carl Corino was trying to look ahead to the remainder of the season for the Belleville softball team. Two nights before, his club had lost to Caldwell, 3-2, in the championship of the Essex County Tournament.

It was a close loss, and as most fans know, a near devastating defeat. Belleville took a 2-0 lead into the last of the seventh, but Caldwell rallied to gain its second straight title.

Corino sounded as if he needed a boost. For the fourth straight year, his club had lost in the county finals and despite an impressive 23-3 mark, there seemed to be some emptiness attached to his remarks.

"We have the sectionals coming up and still a shot at the conference," he said.

"What about the sectionals, what are our chances?" I asked Corino. "Well," he said, "we're the third seed, Union is first, Barringer is second. We have to play Barringer on Tuesday (May 26) and if we win, we play the Union-Morristown winner at Whippany Park on Friday for the championship."

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

Having a shot at the sectional title isn't new for Corino. His team had played in, and lost, the last four sectional championship games. In 1983 and '84, the losses were to Union, in '85 and '86, the setbacks came at the hands of Westfield.

"It would be a big boost, if we could win the sectionals, wouldn't it, coach," I said to Corino. There was a moment of silence. Then, Corino said, "If we can win the sectionals, that would really make our season. It would put this game (the Caldwell loss) well behind us."

So, Corino and Company went to the business of playing for the sectional title. The girls upended Barringer, 7-0 and advanced to the sectional finals. Union, with a 25-1 mark, was waiting.

The Lady Farmers had already won the Union County Tournament and the Watchung Conference championship. They were the number one seed and favored to win a third sectional title in five seasons.

However, something happened to Union on its way to victory. The Lady Buccaneers of Belleville High School had a better idea, to win the championship and put to rest any of those silly notions that this team cannot win the big game.

For the record, Belleville won the state sectional crown, beating Union, 3-1, last Friday afternoon. It was the first state title in the history of Belleville softball and the first sectional title by a Belleville team of any sort since the 1964 baseball team.

The box score says that Janine Luzzi was the winning pitcher. She hurled a complete game. The box score will say that Carol Morrison and Trisha Tramutola scored fifth inning runs for Belleville and Laura Caruso scored an insurance run in the sixth.

What the box score will not indicate is the tremendous accomplishment of the 1987 Belleville softball team. It could have been very easy to pack it in after the county game.

Corino didn't practice his troops the two days between the Caldwell game and the Barringer state game.

"A couple of days off might help," he said. "They know what they're doing. We'll come back and play Barringer on Tuesday and see how it goes. I think we can bounce back."

Belleville did bounce back, and the team did it with Luzzi's pitching. In 1986, Luzzi was a sophomore who was on a roll. She posted a 21-5 record last year, the first pitcher in Belleville history to win 20 or more games in a season. She was one of the main reasons why Belleville posted 26 wins, a new school record for a varsity team.

This season, with the emergence of a freshman, Stacey Johansen, Corino knew he had a solid pitching corps. Both girls were pitching very well through April and mid May, before Luzzi went down with a knee injury.

It wasn't considered very serious, but it was sore enough to limit her usually effective throwing. With Johansen's continued improvement, Corino opted to use the freshman and rest Luzzi, playing the junior as the designated hitter.

Luzzi was ready by the state tournament to resume pitching, but in the first round, versus Livingston, she had a virus and missed the game. She battled back, however, pitching well versus Barringer and getting the assignment against Union.

"It's her journey," Corino said of Luzzi. "She's healthy and ready for the states."

Luzzi was slated to pitch against North Bergen last Tuesday in the state semi-finals. A Belleville victory would send the team to the state Group IV finals, where the Edison-Triton winner will be waiting this Saturday afternoon.

There are other stories to this years club. Senior Laura Caruso has done an outstanding job behind the plate.

"Umpires have come up to me after games and told me how well she handles a game," Corino said of Caruso. "She does such an outstanding job for us. She hits the ball well and is solid behind the plate."

First baseman Cindy Ruggiero continues her steady play, both offensively and defensively. Tramutola has been outstanding, playing both shortstop and third base. Corino has been very happy with the play of Morrison at third base and the outfield. Laurie Dondarski has been excellent in the leadoff role and at second base.

In the outfield, Racquel Melson has been excellent all year long. The junior has battled back strong from a knee injury and has hit the ball very well. Giovanna Malazzi has been good in leftfield and Mary Ann McArthur does a good job in the outfield and as a designated hitter.

So, the girls brought a 26-3 mark into this weeks action. The team was gunning for a conference title last Monday and were looking to continue the heroics in the states. Has it been a good season? Yes, I would say so. Congratulations to everyone in the softball program who have helped to make this year possible.

Tremendous season on the high seas

Coach praises crew

It was a tremendous season on the high seas for the Belleville crew team. With a revamped coaching staff, the team performed very well in the various regattas and raced all the way to the national championships.

First year head coach Scott Fabian, who didn't even think he would be coaching this season, was very happy with the results.

"Overall, I'm very pleased. The entire team did an outstanding job. The kids had a super attitude and were a pleasure to coach. I couldn't have asked for a better group to coach. They brought me in in fine style."

Fabian, an assistant with the Bucs for 13 years, was raised to the head coaching position when former coach Sam Giuffrida suffered a heart attack last fall. Giuffrida has recovered well, but he was forced to resign his position.

At the end of last season, Fabian had considered resigning so he could spend more time with his family. However, with Giuffrida's illness, the coach felt he belonged with the team.

The coaching staff this season consisted of Fabian, Bob Cassin, Maureen Russo and Dennis Villano. All the coaches are Belleville bred, who rowed crew during their years at Belleville High.

Villano coached the novice boys, who culminated their season by winning the Mid Hudson Regatta. Russo was in charge of the novice girls, who posted a win in the Upper Merion Regatta.

Bob Cassin coached the upper classmen boys. The lightweight four was the top boys shell. The team posted a mark of 42-5 and won the City Championships in Philadelphia. The team was undefeated in the Flick races and finished second in the prestigious Stotesbury Regatta.

The girls junior four, coached by Fabian, posted a 36-9 record. The team won a City Championship and a Mid Hudson title and finished second in the National Championships.

This was the first year that Belleville had two boats win titles in the City Championships. The only negative aspect to the '87 season was the lack of the Goodwill Regatta, the annual race that featured boat house rivals Belleville, Nutley and Kearny.

Fabian was hopeful that the regatta would be reinstated next year.

The Bucs had just five seniors on the roster, but Fabian admits that all five will be hard to replace next season.

Frank Morrell battled hard before a knee injury put a premature end to his season. Morrell was operated on for cartilage damage.

"He gave it his all," Fabian said of Morrell. "It shows the type of kids we have."

Joe Fernicola did a good job for the Bucs. He rowed for the lightweight and junior four shells.

"Joe was a strong rower," Fabian said. "He missed the last few races, but he did a nice job for us."

Patty McAlinden was a rower and coxswain for the team. She was the only senior girl on the squad and did an excellent job.

Victor Padwelka came out for the team in his senior year and did well for the novice shell.

"It's tough for a senior to come out," said Fabian. "But Vic did a good job for us. He rowed very well."

Finally, Mike Kane rowed for the midweight shell and was outstanding. Coach Villano praised his gutsy ability and hard work ethic.

"I would also like to thank the parents of the kids," said Fabian. "They were always there, they were very supportive and were a big part of our team. I can't thank them enough."

The parents, coaches and athletes will hold their annual Crew Picnic this weekend.

"I hope we have more kids come out next year," Fabian said. "We didn't have the numbers this year, but the kids we did have were outstanding. Hopefully, the turnout will be stronger next year."

BHS baseball season closes on a down note

The 1987 season ended on a down note for the Belleville baseball team, but the past week wasn't without its share of glory for the Bucs.

Belleville's season ended last Thursday with a 7-5 setback to Elizabeth in the quarterfinals of the Group IV, Section II state tournament. The loss closed the books on a very impressive 21-9 record, the second straight season in which Belleville posted 20 victories or more.

However, it was the game played the day before Elizabeth that had the Bucs smiling. Belleville upended arch rival Nutley, 8-5, and coupled with Clifton's loss to Montclair, the Bucs clinched the championship of the NNJIL for 1987. It's the first time Belleville has won an outright conference championship in baseball since the inception of the NNJIL in 1982. Belleville and Bloomfield tied for conference supremacy back in 1985.

"We're really happy about winning the conference," said head coach George Zandini. "A couple of weeks back, it didn't look too good, but we didn't give up on it. Considering the injuries this team had this year, we had a pretty good season."

Belleville appeared to be out of the NNJIL race two weeks ago. The Bucs trailed Clifton by two games with four conference games remaining. The Mustangs had swept the Bucs in the season series and Zandini felt that Clifton was on a roll and would be difficult to stop.

However, Belleville stayed tough, winning its final four conference games while Clifton dropped its final four. The Bucs finished 11-3 in the league and Clifton was 10-4.

The week started off with a 9-7 win against West Orange in the first round of the state sectional tourney. In this game, Belleville took a 4-1 lead in the first inning, then watched the Cowboys of West Orange rally for a 7-4 advantage in the third.

Bob Hutchison came out of the bullpen for Belleville to throw three solid innings to gain the save. Jay Marchese started and Frank Orrei relieved in the third inning. Orrei was credited with the win.

"Hutch was the key to the game," Zandini said. "He came in and did an excellent job."

Hutchison gave up just one hit and walked one in his three innings. Meanwhile, Belleville tallied once in the fourth and four times in the fifth to regain the lead for good.

In the Belleville first, Marchese launched a two run homer and Lou Lucante drilled a solo shot. Jim Dunphy, just returning to the lineup, had an RBI single in the frame.

"We missed Jimmy's bat," Zandini said of Dunphy. "He was able to pitch for us this season, but his injury (a pulled hamstring) kept him from hitting."

After Belleville fell behind 7-4, Dean Mauro hit a solo homer in the fourth to cut the deficit to two runs. In the fifth, Mauro worked a bases loaded walk and Galioto hustled out an infield single with the bases loaded to tie the game.

Jeff Spillsbury then gave Belleville the lead with a line single, scoring two runs.

The following day, Belleville entertained Nutley, knowing it had a shot at the conference crown. An added incentive was an earlier 10-4 loss to Nutley in which a disgusted Zandini pulled his entire starting team for the next game.

This time, Belleville was ready, and after spotting Nutley a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, the Bucs scored two times in the bottom of the frame to gain the lead for good.

Lucante continued his hot hitting with a two run homer in the first to give the Bucs a 2-1 lead.

In the third, Belleville boosted its lead to 4-1 when Lucante singled and Dave McNeil blasted a homer. Nutley trimmed the deficit to 4-2 in the top of the fourth, but Belleville pulled further ahead with four runs in the bottom of the frame.

Al Best, Marchese and Lucante accounted for run scoring singles and Lucante stole home on a double steal for the eighth Belleville run.

The Maroon Raiders scored two times in the fifth and once in the seventh to narrow the lead, but Belleville, behind another outstanding relief stint by Hutchison stayed in control. Dunphy pitched the seventh inning to record the save. Lucante, 4-2, was the winning pitcher.

"We found out that Clifton had

Despite 0-7 record BHS girl tracksters have strong future

The Belleville girls' track team finished the season with an 0-7 mark, however the girls have a number of young athletes who should be strong in future seasons.

Head coach Karen Fuccello, who has been involved in athletics for 19 years, noted that the program will be more successful with a concentrated effort on the lower levels in track.

"We need to stimulate interest on the lower levels," the coach said. "We have to get the grammar schools involved in the sport. We didn't have too many kids this year, and that's a problem. We're in a tough conference and track is a difficult sport. The interest has to come from the lower levels."

Fuccello did admit that the '87 team is very young, with the nucleus returning next year.

Junior Joyce Luongo led the team in scoring, with 40 points. Luongo runs the mile and two mile and was consistent all year long. She is quickly moving into the mold of some past Belleville female runners, namely Sue Smith, Dana Caruso, Barbara Gundry and Patty Bliss.

Look for Luongo to be a strong cross country runner next year.

Junior Erica Townes had a good season for the team. She ran the 400 meters and just missed the school record for that event. She has a good chance next season to meet, and surpass the mark.

Sophomore Michele Complitano had a good season in the hurdles. She did exceptionally well in the 100 high hurdles in the second half of the season. Another sophomore, Simone Edwards, led the team in the jumps. Edwards, an excellent all around athlete, plays three varsity sports at Belleville High School. Look for her on the volleyball court next fall.

Junior Kim Carrera excelled in the shot put and discus events. The captain of this years team was senior Carolyn Dingle. She ran the 100 and 200 meters and took part in a few relays.

Leslie Dowling, Thelina Espiritu, Sue Farina, Tina Farah and Maria Coviello were middle distance runners this season.

Jo Anne D'Ambrose, a junior, did a good job in the field events, mainly the shot put and discus. The team did well in the freshman and sophomore novice race.

"The younger kids did well against other athletes of equal ability," Fuccello said. "We were in a very tough conference and the weather was lousy until the last two weeks of the season."

Most of the girls will probably come out for the cross country team next fall. The track program at Belleville High is a full school year now, with cross country in the fall, indoor track during the winter months and then the outdoor campaign from March to May.

If the girls continue to get a good turnout and the athletes continue to work hard, the future could be extremely bright for the Belleville girls' track program.

Softball girls bring sectional title home to Belleville

This hasn't been the easiest of seasons for Janine Luzzi. After pitching a majority of the games last year, Luzzi was sharing the pitching chores with talented freshman Stacey Johansen this spring. The junior hurler then suffered a knee injury three weeks ago and had a stomach virus two weeks ago.

Despite it all, she never quit. Her coach, Carl Corino, had promised her she would pitch the state tourney and Luzzi was more than prepared. Last Friday, she pitched an unbelievable game, leading Belleville to a 3-1 upset of top seeded Union and the championship of the Group IV, Section II state tourney.

It is the first sectional title in the history of Belleville softball and comes just six days after the team had lost a heartbreaker to Caldwell in the county finals. For history buffs, it is the first sectional title of any kind for a Belleville sport since the 1964 baseball team.

"There isn't anyone happier than me," said an elated Corino last weekend. "I'm really thrilled. I'm so happy for the seniors. It was a tough loss against Caldwell and the kids bounced back. It's a big win for the program, too. For Luzzi, well, what can I say. She has had to battle hard this spring and she was up to the challenge."

Despite the hoopla attached to a state sectional championship, there is still some lofty challenges ahead. The girls took a 26-3 mark into a battle with Nutley last Monday in the final conference game of the season. Belleville needed to beat Nutley in order to gain at least a share of the NNJIL crown. Clifton, the team Belleville is tied with, was scheduled to play Bloomfield in the final NNJIL contest for the Mustangs.

If both teams won, then there would be a tie for the championship. Last Tuesday, Belleville battled North Bergen, the Group IV, Section I champ, in the state semi-finals. The winner of that game will face the winner of Edison-Triton on Saturday, at 2:30 p.m. from Trenton State College.

"We still have some work to do," Corino said. "There is the conference, and Nutley is going to be tough. If we lose that game, and Clifton wins, then we lose the conference, so it's a big game. I don't know a lot about North Bergen, but I've been working on a scouting report this weekend. I know they beat Clifton for the sectional title."

The win over Union was hard fought and well deserved. Union came in with a 25-1 mark and the number one seed in the section. The Lady Farmers are the Union County Champs and have wrapped up the Watchung Conference. Back in 1983 and '84, Union upended Belleville for the conference title.

"It's been a long time coming," Corino said. "We've lost the last four sectional finals. After a while, you begin to doubt your abilities. I keep wondering what I'm doing wrong. You get so close, then lose. This is a great feeling."

The game was scoreless until the fifth. Carol Morrison began a Belleville rally with a single. Trisha Tramutola laid down an excellent bunt, a ball the Union girls were hoping would roll foul. It didn't and Belleville had runners on first and second.

lost in the top of seventh of our game," Zanfini said. "It was a good feeling to win the conference."

In the Nutley game, Marchese was 2 for 4, Lucante was 3 for 4 and Mc Neil was 1 for 3. Mc Neil and Lucante had two ribbies each.

The season ended the following day for Belleville, with a 7-5 setback to Elizabeth. Dunphy pitched the entire game and took the loss. He closed with a record of 6-4 and an incredible ERA of

"It hit the chalk and stayed fair," said Corino of Tramutola's bunt. "We got a good break there."

Luzzi lined a single, scoring Morrison and moving Tramutola to third. On the throw to the plate, Luzzi broke for second, and when Union attempted to nab Luzzi at the bag, Tramutola headed home with the second Belleville run. Luzzi looked to steal another base, but she was nailed at third.

Union countered with a run in the bottom of the fifth to narrow the lead to 2-1, but Belleville regained a two run advantage in the sixth.

Laura Caruso singled and Racheil Melson worked out a walk. Jennifer Bridge came in to pinch run for Melson. Morrison then lined a shot which bounded off the third baseman's glove and rolled toward second base. An alert Caruso never stopped running and scored the third Belleville run.

Luzzi stayed in control the rest of the way and gained her 11th win over the season. The junior has lost just twice this year and has a career mark of 33-7.

"I told her, this would be her tournament," Corino said of Luzzi. "Johansen worked most of the county and if Janine was healthy, she would get the states. She did a good job."

Earlier in the week, Belleville blasted Barringer, 7-0, behind Luzzi, and ripped Montclair, 14-1 with Johansen hurling another solid game.

the top of the fourth, but Belleville tied the game again with two runs in the bottom of that inning.

Galioto reached on an error and Mauro lined a double, scoring Galioto. Spillsbury's single brought home Mauro. As it turned out, it would be the final runs of the season for Belleville.

Elizabeth went ahead with solo runs in the sixth and seventh innings and won, 7-5.

NOTES: Next week, Times will wrap up season for Bucs. Pitching records were: Dunphy, 6-4, Lucante, 4-2, Hultcaison, 5-3, Orrei, 3-0 and Marchese, 3-0. Dunphy finished with a career mark of 20-7 at Belleville, the second winningest pitcher in BHS history. Dan Borgo has the most wins, with 22. Dunphy went ahead of Hall of Famer Anthony Coco this season. Coco had 17 from 1979-81. Belleville's program continues to improve. For the fourth straight year, the team won more games than in the previous year. From 1984-87, team records have been 16-9-2, 18-8-2, 20-11 and 21-9. Ralph La Conte coached the Bucs from 1983-86.

School board fined for asbestos violation determined. He also said that while serving on the school board from 1983 to 1986, he was "kept in the dark" about the asbestos situation, and personally never got to look at the report that was kept from the mainstream of the school system.

While school officials pointed out that the violations were attributable to past administrations, citizens in attendance at the June 1 board meet, held in the hot, sweaty School 9 auditorium, claimed another "cover-up" was taking place because the resolution authorizing payment of the $2,500 fine was not listed in the meeting agenda.

"The fine could not be discussed before it was voted on, because nobody knew it was coming," said one disgruntled citizen. School board meetings have two public hearings, one before resolutions are voted on and one afterward. There were 18 resolutions listed in the agenda, and following the reading and voting of them Linfante announced that three more resolutions were to be acted upon that developed too late to be listed.

The first two additions involved the purchase of burglar alarms for the high school at $7,475 and the purchase of a food steamer, also for the high school, at $5,950. The third resolution authorized payment of the fine.

Linfate denied that the board's failure to print the fine payment resolution in the agenda was a cover-up.

"We just received the notice of the fine today (June 1)," the board president told the Times, "and it said it must be paid within 30 days. Since our next public meeting isn't until June 29, we had to include it in tonight's meeting."

In a related development, the Belleville School System was given a $318,000 grant to help pay for its two year asbestos removal program which is expected to cost about $1 million.

Belleville Schools Superintendent Michael Nardiello said he was pleased that the state awarded Belleville the money, and added that if all goes well he is hopeful that about $250,000 will be left over, to be either carried over into next year to offset the $500,000 needed for the 1988 phase of asbestos removal, or to help pay for deferred capital improvement projects to the school system.

Since the extra money can only be used for capital improvements, it cannot be transferred to help pay for budgeted items, such as the salaries of teachers. More information on the state's $318,000 grant to Belleville appears elsewhere in this week's edition.

In other Belleville School Board

news, the board agreed to study further a citizens' proposal to eliminate the winter vacation in favor of an earlier June school closing.

The citizen, Eileen Brown, who is this year's Consolidated Home & School Association President, said that the heat of the summer was not conducive to learning, and the steamy climate of the auditorium at School 9 seemed to lend weight to her argument.

Trustee Barbara Cicalese agreed with Brown's suggestion that winter vacation be eliminated, but Thomas Testa, President of the Belleville Education Association said that the township's teachers were strongly opposed to taking away the winter recess, and added that both teachers and students needed the break. He said teaching was highly stressful.

Cicalese later belittled Testa's contention that teaching is stressful, saying that policemen and firemen have more stressful jobs.

Reached for comment the next day, both Superintendent Nardiello and Board President Linfante said they are in favor of keeping the winter recess in the 1987-88 school calendar.

Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

"I've never bought a home before and I was wondering if you could give a few pointers on how and where to start." — J. Callahan, Belleville.

Home buying is basically a lot of fun, as long as you have done a little bit of thinking and planning to help you make decisions. After all, homebuying is nothing more than a long series of decision-making, one after the other, right up until the day that you move into your new home.

Sometimes the best place to start your decision making is by deciding that you DO want to buy a house. The difference between THINKING that you want to buy and WANTING to buy is having the ability to face realities almost every first time buyers face: you can't afford the you want or the neighborhood it's in.

The perfect home in your head does not exist. Compromises (decisions) must be made along the way which should reflect your experience from "shopping around" and determining the value of a purchase in relation to what else is available in the same price range.

(Side note: The time to buy is always NOW because an unfortunate fact of life in this area is that homes will never be cheaper than they are today, and, you most likely can not save money at a rate that keeps pace with the growth of housing prices. So "when to buy" is one decision you do not have to make.)

A partial decision list might go something like this: Whether to buy, when to buy, where to buy, what to buy, how much to spend (can we afford), when to look, with whom to buy, with whom to finance, with whom to inspect, what lawyer to use, which do I do first?

Jack Reilly

Easily, the first step beyond deciding that you want to buy is determining what you can afford. Once you know what you can realistically spend, all you need do is identify those towns (or sections of town) that have housing in your price range. It suits no purpose whatsoever to hang on to some dream that a super deal on a super home in a super neighborhood is just waiting for you to find it.

Accept the limitations of your purchase power, and spend your energy in a positive, constructive manner in a systematic search for the home which represents the best balance between compromise and value. Then buy it. In one short year you will look back and be amazed at the equity you have built. And in six short years, your home will most likely have doubled in value.

At this point, the decision making starts all over again. "Should I sell? If so, with whom? To go where?" etc. etc.

PRAYER OF APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT -
Holy Spirit you who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you eternal Glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor request will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor only your initial should appear at the bottom.
