Budget hearing set for Town Hall

Commission divided over next meeting site

It was a short honeymoon, and now it's over.

The five members of the Belleville Commission are split over the issue of moving town meetings out of Town Hall following last week's meeting, when too many people, apparently there to see the newly elected board in action, showed up - and dozens were refused entry to the 91 capacity chamber.

Belleville Mayor and Public Safety Commissioner Michael Pizzi believes that "running all around town to hold meetings is no way to conduct business."

However, Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto said, "There are important subjects coming up at the meeting (scheduled for June 23, 8PM) and they include the continued construction of the public safety building as well as a budget hearing."

Fornarotto said the budget calls for a 49 point tax increase, and that he estimates at least double what Town Hall can legally hold will show up for the meeting.

At the last meeting, Commissioner of Parks & Public Property Vincent Frantantoni introduced a motion to adjourn "so everybody can attend." However, only Fornarotto and Frantantoni voted in favor of adjournment, with Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli, Commissioner of Revenue & Finance Joseph McGreevey and Mayor Pizzi voting against.

Later, during the public hearing portion of the June 9 meet, chaos broke out when citizens complained noisily that a crowd of people outside were being "denied their right" to participate in the public session. Again the vote was taken to adjourn, and this time Risoli switched sides.

However, as of Tuesday, June 16 it was unclear just what the Commission had voted on. Was the public hearing of the June 9 meet to be continued at the next meeting? Was the resolution passed to hold the meeting at a larger locale? Or was the meeting still set for Town Hall?

A spokesman for Commissioner McGreevey said that "as far as he knows, it's still set for Town Hall."

Commissioner Risoli stated at the June 9 meeting that he was not opposed to changing the site, only changing the site to another for that same date. Risoli could not be reached for further comment on June 16.

Pizzi, however, interprets the June 9 adjournment motion to be only that - adjournment, with no provision for changing the traditional location.

"I'm not against people coming to the meetings, but there has to be some controls put on this stuff. I don't foresee this going on for the next four years."

When asked if he believed the budget hearing would bring another overflow crowd to the commission meet, Pizzi said "Possibly. But I think there are other forces at work that are causing this problem." The Mayor said he was referring to rabble rousers who are "just creating more of a confusing situation. He declined to elaborate.

Commissioner Frantantoni, who sent a letter to Pizzi again requesting that the meeting location be moved to larger quarters, said "I called up Board Secretary Joseph Miele and he said that School 10 is available."

Available, perhaps, but apparently not the site for next week's budget hearing.

Eleven cars stolen in 11 days

Summertime is prime-time for car crime

"People don't realize how serious this is!"

The woman had phoned the Belleville Times to complain about the car crime situation in the area. Unlike many of her township neighbors, however, her car wasn't stolen here, but in neighboring Kearny.

And in broad daylight at that, she said.

"I hadn't been aware of how bad the problem really is until it happened to me," the woman, who asked not to be identified, recalled. But in Belleville, especially, the car crime epidemic has hit hard this month.

Car crimes all over town

On Monday, June 1, cars were reported stolen on Heckel Street and Stephens Street. The attempted theft of cars was reported on Salter Place and on Watsessing Avenue. And that same day citizens told police their cars suffered criminal damage on Greylock Parkway and Washington Avenue.

Cortlandt Street was the scene of an automobile theft on June 2. In Branch Brook Park an attempted car theft occurred. Also, a citizen reported damage to his car on Greylock Parkway.

On June 3 no cars were reported stolen, but police learned of an attempted theft on Belmont Avenue. At other times during that Wednesday, cars were broken into and valuables taken at three township locations - Branch Brook Drive, Fairway Avenue and Carpenter Street.

June 4 and 5 were quiet, but the respite didn't last long. On June 6 Union Avenue, Mill Street and the Belmont Avenue Pathmark were all scenes for that all-too-familiar crime: Grand theft auto.

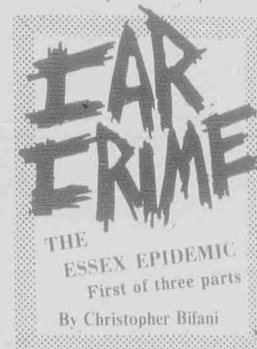

Also on June 6, thieves attempted to steal a Belmont Avenue automobile, but instead decided to rip off the valuables inside. Elsewhere in Belleville that day, Bigelow Motors employees told police that four wheels had been taken off one of the Chrysler dealer's cars.

Sunday, June 7, was apparently a day of rest for area car criminals. No crimes of this kind were reported, but on Monday it was back to work for the rip-off artists - with overtime. Cars were broken into on Belmont Avenue, Corner Place and Branch Brook Drive. And a 1981 Ford Escort was taken from the Belleville Motor Lodge.

Police apprehended two suspects in that case.

Tuesday, June 9 was a day for all kinds of car crime. There was a car stolen from a William Street resident... an attempted car theft on Hornblower Avenue... cars burglarized on Franklin Avenue and on Joralemon Street... and a car damaged on Greylock Parkway.

June 10 was a light day - just one car reported stolen by a man who walked into police headquarters with his sad tale. Over on Mill Street, crooks reportedly damaged another vehicle.

On Friday, June 11, both Division Avenue and Rocco Street were the settings for two more car thefts. Naples Street, meanwhile, was the scene of another attempt.

By the end of the day, June 11, just one third through the first month of what looks to be a long hot summer, 11 cars were reported stolen in as many days.

Thefts were attempted on seven more cars.

Ten cars were broken into and relieved of valuables.

And six cars suffered damage, either by vandals or would-be crooks.

Preventive measures

What can be done to stop the car crime spree?

Belleville Police recommend auto alarms and ignition cut-off switches as two devices which can reduce the risk. Police officials also stress the importance of Belleville's "Neighborhood Watch" program. The more people who participate in the program, the more secure the neighborhoods are likely to be.

Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Allesio recommends the free etching of car identification numbers on the window glass of vehicles. Call the Sheriff's Office or Belleville Police at 450-3333 for more information.

Many Essex police authorities believe the sustained wave of car thefts - far worse here than in any other Jersey county - is linked to professional and semi-professional "rip-off rings" who employ juveniles to steal the cars for a fee and/or free drugs. The rings then dismantle the cars to sell the parts on the black market, cops say.

It's a far cry from the juveniles of a generation ago, who were likely to steal a car on Saturday night for joyriding, only to dump the car on the other side of town at the end of the evening.

Now, if a car is stolen in Belleville on a Saturday night, chances are it will be stripped and in three different states by Monday. And this has been reflected in the cost of automobile insurance rates. Typically, car insurance runs more than $100 higher in Belleville than in Bergen County communities of similar population density, but where car thefts are not as frequent.

Geography has also been blamed for the avalanche of local car crimes in recent years. Some of the most crime-riddled municipalities in New Jersey are a quick cruise from Belleville... crime county capitals like Jersey City, Paterson and Elizabeth. And of course the county seat with the highest crime is right here in Essex, sharing a good piece of its border with Belleville.

Turnaround predicted

Some experts predict a turnaround.

They believe that if employment opportunities for poor people continue to increase, and if public education rises to meet the demand, lower street crime will be the result.

Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli has another idea: Stiffer penalties for juvenile offenders.

"These kids steal a car, they get caught, and the next day they're out on the streets doing it again," Risoli told the Times while on the campaign trail.

Risoli said that local crime had increased in every area in 1986 over 1985, but that car crimes had risen the most.

The public works commissioner, whose tough published stand on crime made him seem the heir apparent to the public safety department, says local elected officials should lobby together in Trenton so that tougher laws for car crimes

Bright red fire trucks and lessons in fire safety thrilled township school children this year, as Belleville firemen took school groups for tours of Fire Headquarters at Franklin Avenue. Pictured here, youngsters enjoy the various points of interest during their outing.

Belleville briefly...

Public good - Dennis Sedaille, Principal Engineer; Lori Diamond, Senior Account Clerk Typist; and Janet Biunno, Principal Planner of Belleville are congratulated by Essex County Executive Nicholas R. Amato (far right) and Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio (far left). These county employees received a Certificate in Public Management from Kean College of New Jersey through a program sponsored jointly by the college and Essex County. They completed four graduate courses in public administration to earn the certificate.

Town Girl Scout leader is honored for service

Belleville resident Mary Gomulinsky recently received an Outstanding Service Award from the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County at their annual meeting.

The award is given in recognition of adult Girl Scout volunteers who have through dedicated service, made continuous and outstanding contributions to Girl Scouting.

Gomulinsky has been a Girl Scout troop leader, consultant and committee member, special service volunteer, cookie chairman and service team member, and active in Belleville Girl Scouting since 1966.

Frank Morrell, Eric Nazziola, and Joe Rambaldi off to Stevens

Three Belleville High School seniors have been admitted to Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J. The students are Frank Morrell, Eric A. Nazziola and Joseph J. Rambaldi.

Stevens, established in 1870, offers undergraduate, masters, and doctoral degrees in engineering, science, management, and computer science. The Institute currently enrolls 1,400 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students from 27 states and 30 foreign countries.

High school students display educational artwork projects

Lisa Zecca, a senior at Belleville High School, completed a portrait (22"x28") of William Shakespeare as an extra-credit project for her English 4 class.

Lisa, along with her fellow classmates in Mrs. Ellis' English 4 classes, was offered the opportunity to improve her grade-point average for the year by completing a project which would enrich her as well as others. Lisa's portrait, a copy of one appearing on the First Folio, was done in colored pencil and was framed by Jeff Corio, a classmate, in the woodshop.

Other projects completed include a model of a Medieval Norman Castle on display in the library, created by John Enriquez and assisted by Isabel Renteria, and trips to the Metropolitan Museum of Art by five other students.

These trips were followed up with oral and written presentations to the class. One of these reports included a slide presentation by Charles Chirico, also a senior.

Foreign language students earn scholarship honors

Foreign language students at Belleville High School excelled in earning various important awards and scholarship during the 1986-87 school year.

Two of Mr. DiRenzo's students participated in an Italian National Contest, organized by the American Association of Teachers of Italian, receiving "honorable mention" at the second level of Italian. The best Italian language student of the year was Veronica Valvano. She received a beautiful plaque with a check of $100 from Nutley Unico. She also received an award certificate from the Belleville Foreign Language Department and a check of $500, raised by Mr. Palmieri and the Italian Club.

Second and third place went to Eric Nazziola and Enza Priore. Both received an award certificate and checks of $300 and $200 respectively from the Italian Club.

The best Spanish and French language seniors of the year were Hina Tailor and Meru Matthai.

Each received an award certificate from the Foreign Language Department and a check of $400, raised by Miss Kirsh, Mrs. Richter and the Foreign Language Club.

Tailor wins "main event"

The Foreign Language Department's main event was again the choice of the best foreign language student of the year. The department organized a contest involving the writing of composition and an oral performance in front of the foreign language staff. The goal was also the assignment of the top foreign language award offered by the F.L.E./N.J.

The winner of the contest was Hina Tailor. Born in India on March 1, 1969, she came to the United States when she was two years old. Living in Nutley for two years, she came to Belleville at age five. She attended School No. 7, the Middle School and Belleville High School. Hina is a success for the Belleville School system foreign language department.

Although she is not a native Spanish speaker, she earned the top foreign language award, given by the N.J. Foreign Language Teacher Association. Congratulations, Hina, and good luck with your future studies!

REFILL POLICY

Many times, the public is confused over policy concerning refilling prescriptions. Basically, a patient is entitled to as many refills as his doctor has authorized. There are exceptions, however. By law, prescriptions for drugs that may cause dependency such as amphetamines and morphines cannot be refilled under any circumstances. Other medications are refillable only within certain limits. Many sleep-inducing and pain medications containing codeine fall within this group. For instance, the doctor may indicate that a patient may have five renewals of his pain medication. This means that the prescription can be renewed five times or it can be refilled within a six-month period only, whichever comes first.

When your doctor gives you a prescription you'll be sure of prompt service when you come to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have a complete prescription department and provide free delivery. See our selection of greeting cards, toiletries, Russell Stover candy and gift items for Father's Day. "Supporting cast" opens in Essex with town men directing and acting

The Studio Players of Montclair recently opened their last play of the season with "Supporting Cast" by George Furth, directed by Gene Ciccone of Belleville.

This light comedy takes place at the Malibu home of a successful author whose wife is about to publish an expose about her friends, all of whom are spouses of celebrities. The author has invited her friends to her home to preview the tell-all book. The astonished friends immediately sit down to read and the results?

"you must come see it. A wonderful cast provided a fun filled evening," said Studio Players spokesperson Leslie Tegmeyer.

Director Ciccone is a relatively new member of Studio Players and has appeared in their productions of "True West," "Promises," and "Scrambled Feed." He has appeared with the Cabaret Playhouse and has directed "Wizard of Oz" for the West Paterson Performing Arts Guild.

Ciccone studies acting at HB Studio and the Gene Frankel Theater, and voice with Leslie Friedrich.

Ken Schactman, also of Belleville, plays the part of Arnold. He is no stranger to community theater, having played in "Gingerbread Lady" at Studio Players theater and has been in productions at Nutley's Little Theater and the Barn Theater. He is a graduate of the Neighborhood Playhouse.

"Supporting Cast" will run tonight, June 18, and on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except for Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $6 on Thursday and Sunday and $7 on Friday and Saturday and can be obtained at the box office.

The Studio Players location is at 14 Alvin Place, Upper Montclair, off Valley Road. Phone 744-9752. Visa and Mastercard are welcomed.

Helped rescue Haitians from overloaded boat

Coast Guard Commendation awarded to Arlotta

Coast Guard Lt. Donald S. Arlotta, son of Nettie Arlotta of Belleville, recently received The Coast Guard Commendation Medal.

Arlotta received the decoration for outstanding achievement on January 26, 1986 while serving as co-pilot of a Coast Guard vessel engaged in the rescue of 72 people from a Haitian sailboat which was dangerously overloaded, disabled and adrift southwest of West End, Grand Bahama Island.

Arlotta coordinated the on board navigation to locate the vessel riding hazardously low in the 12 foot seas, and the 72 people aboard who were panicking as sunset approached.

As the need for hoisting became imminent Arlotta calmly aided the pilot in his decisions and checklists, all the while maintaining the communication network between other Coast Guard aircraft, vessels, the Rescue Coordination Center, and the M/V Minerva to whom the survivors would be hoisted.

He is currently serving at Coast Guard Air Station Opa Locka, Fla.

A 1972 graduate of Essex Catholic High School, Newark, and a 1977 graduate of Montclair State University, Upper Montclair, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, he joined the Coast Guard in April 1985.

Orechio bill clears Assembly

Burn victims in line for more funding

The Assembly has given final approval to a bill sponsored by Senator Carmen Orechio providing funding to continue the services of the National Burn Victim Foundation of New Jersey.

The non-profit organization coordinates such support programs for burn patients as transfers to burn treatment facilities, crisis intervention for victims and their families, and burn awareness programs that educate children and parents about fire dangers in the home.

Working with the Division of Youth and Family Services, the foundation provides child abuse and neglect consultation and investigation services.

"The foundation, through the development of a disaster support system, has made us better prepared to respond to such incidents as toxic chemical fires, where large numbers of survivors are critically injured by burns or noxious vapors," said Senator Orechio.

The Senator explained the foundation's efforts, including training for fire and rescue personnel and mock disaster drills, are coordinated with the State Police, National Guard, Coast Guard and volunteer organizations.

"The efforts of the National Burn Victim Foundation have put New Jersey in the forefront of burn injury response," Orechio said.

The bill, S2027, now goes to the governor.

Down and out...

Public Works Commissioner Angelo Risoli points to Belleville's two street-cleaners which have been broken down for the past month. Many citizens have complained bitterly about the lack of street cleaning that has resulted. Risoli favors new machines, he says, because both township sweepers are past their expected life. (Photo by Christopher Bifani)

Officials seek tougher laws for car crimes

are enacted more quickly.

Apparently, he has an ally in Township Legal Assistant Thomas Zampino. Zampino was recently selected to the committee which will decide the Republican Party's platform for November. He plans to make use of his time there pushing for a tough anti-crime plank. Zampino opposes veteran Senator Carmen Orechio in the fall general election.

Sensor Orechio, who as police commissioner of Nutley takes an active role in battling crime, sponsored a bill last year which would provide active members of police supervised watch programs with specially-marked license plates.

The bill is currently working its way through the state legislative process.

In addition to publicizing the neighborhood watch movement and perhaps attracting more members, the Senator believes "crime-fighter license plates" would send a signal to would-be thieves: This block is being monitored.

Apparently, the car-less woman who phoned the Times is a strong supporter of keeping a look-out.

"This is insane now!" she exclaimed, "Let's all keep our eyes open."

Senior citizens

What do he young among us look forward to as they enter those pleasure filled senior citizen years? Young people are not prone to think that far ahead. For whatever reason, the young seem to think they will never grow old, and consequently, thought of utilizing nursing homes never enters the minds of the young unless their parent or parents are reaching that point in life when they look to their offspring for support.

Writing from personal experience, we know that most children would rather keep their aging parents home — in the household they have grown accustomed to over many decades.

Fear yes, but not enough thought is given to the future of aging parents by our middle aged group today. It's time for the young people in their 40's, wherever possible, to address this question of the aging and how best to keep them in their home environment. When we remove a mother or father from the only home they have ever known, it's like separating the heart from the body — a terrible traumatic experience — one that should be avoided at almost any cost.

Of particular importance regarding housing for senior citizens is the need for government to re-examine its program of creating human warehouses to accommodate our aging population.

Humanity is best served when the elderly are permitted to live out the rest of their years in the friendly environment of the place they call home, together with the joy and comfort of having relatives nearby.

There may be a point in time, in particular cases, where nursing home care is warranted. In order to make that determination, a health care team should assess the level of care needed for the individual and what kind of services — and combination of services are required. To evaluate these needs, the patient's physician, a psychiatrist, counsellor and a member of the family, at the very least, should be consulted. Such an important decision requires the attention and judgment of professionals in the field.

John Sena Foundation

An area gentleman, humble and with a deep sense of compassion for his fellow senior citizens, has established a fund to aid, in a small way, people less fortunate than he. The diminutive gentleman is a Bloomfield native, John Sena, who now calls Belleville home.

Recently retired, Mr. Sena approached the publisher of this newspaper for assistance in establishing a foundation to provide limited help to the senior citizen members of our community. His visit was very inspiring. Here was an untitled citizen who wanted to use his limited funds to aid his fellow senior citizens. We pause to admire the unselfish motivation of John Sena, the gentleman who is dedicated to help seniors of Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield.

Our tri-town area is populated by many John Senas. Once in a while, we are fortunate to learn the identity of benefactors like the John Senas. Who knows but that public knowledge of John Sena's commitment may lead others among us to follow the trail he has blazed. What must be underscored is the fact that Mr. Sena is not a wealthy man. He is an average person who wants to share with others the benefits of his lifetime savings. Through this effort, we have come to know John Sena, the man, a gentle and loving soul — Mr. Sena furnished tangible evidence that we live in a world of loving, caring people. God Bless the John Senas of this world.

Personality cults

Recent events have focused the public spotlight upon the television ministries. The Jimmy and Tammy Bakker episode has raised questions about the use of 'contributors' money by television evangelists.

Television ministries have a product that is superior to any other sold by other T.V. salesmen. Plain and simple — T.V. ministries package religion, wrap it around the body of Jesus Christ and use the name of the Lord to peddle their money-soliciting message.

We were shocked to learn recently that these money-grubbers take in many millions of dollars annually in $5 and $10 bills — without any accountability.

Many of them employ deceptive practices to steal from the poor, to line their pockets.

Contrast the ways of the T.V. ministries with the compassion, love and integrity of our local ministers, rabbis, priests and nuns. Any comparison leads one to the conclusion that the T.V.

ministries are phonies, and our local religious leaders represent integrity and truth. We would urge our readers — whoever and how many there may be — to reconsider their commitment to T.V. ministries and support our local religious leaders instead.

Here at home, our trust is not misplaced — and we have a good idea where our contributions go.

The ongoing expenses of the wrongful acts of television ministries should not turn us off from religion — but instead — should turn us on to our local religious institutions. We know there is no local religious leader who drives a Rolls Royce. We know there is no local religious leader who maintains a half million dollar residence. We know our local religious leaders are decent and loving human beings, sincerely committed to the work of God. God bless them and keep them in good health — and let's give them the support they need.

Belleville's bitter fruit...

To the editor:

Your refusal to print the truth about the candidates for commissioner here in Belleville bore bitter fruit at last night's Town Hall meeting. Belleville has been hurt beyond measure by the election of inferior, reactionary, opportunist, ignorant people now seated in Town Hall representing us. Much of the blame must fall upon you.

I knew this to be a critical time for Belleville. A time which demanded the very best in leadership. But you and your T.V. station and newspaper decided to play politics as usual and fell all over yourselves in praise of inferiority. You helped to inflict on Belleville what might be a mortal wound. And at last night's meeting chaos was supreme. It was a black night for Belleville, a black night for the people who wanted to express themselves. It was a black night for freedom. It was a black night for democracy. A black night for Belleville. Henceforth I suggest that you tell your amateur reporters and T.V. announcers to confine themselves to sports, community events and all other inane things of harmless import and to stop lionizing and worshiping people of little or no substance.

Some weeks back I met Mr. Golden at Mr. Marotti's kick off rally. This is what he said. "If any of those guys (people your paper called Knights in shining armour, or great orators) should get in, nothing will ever get done." I agreed with him.

Last night was visible manifestation of the correctness of Mr. Golden's remarks prior to the election.

Mr. Vincent and Mr. Bifani, you should refrain from politics until you are mature enough to realize the real world and the important issues.

Annual show had punch...

To the editor:

On behalf of the Veterans Boxers Social Club I would like to thank the many sponsors who helped make our annual boxing show a success. Also special thanks to Commissioner Joe Fornarotto and Commissioner Vincent Frantantone for their cooperation.

Sincerely,
Ray Spencer, President

Heartfelt appreciation...

To the editor:

June 11th, the 1987 Municipal Election is 30 days behind us and most of the political dust has fallen to rest. To the 2,170 Belleville citizens who voted for me, my heartfelt appreciation. To those property owners who allowed me to place my sign on their property, I really can't thank you enough, you're wonderful people. To those trusting and believing Belleville citizens who made contributions to my campaign, my everlasting gratitude. To those good Belleville citizens who worked so very hard as members of my campaign committee: collating, stapling, folding, stuffing, sealing, stamping, and mailing literature; stencilling, painting, stapling, nailing and installing signs; telephoning and talking to friends, fellow-workers and strangers alike; giving teas in their homes; walking with me door-to-door; serving as challengers and poll workers on election day and staying loyal to the end, I shall be forever in your debt, and I shall never forget!

Special appreciation and gratitude goes out to Anthony Nicosia and Albert Cardona who worked so hard I felt that I had suddenly gained two new brothers. To my family, my two sons, my daughter, my son-in-law, and most especially my wife who urged me to run, for their untiring efforts and moral support, my love and gratitude which words cannot express.

Not shocked at fine...

To the editor:

Recently, my family and I moved from Belleville to West Orange. Now, settling in my new home, my "Belleville Times" will also follow me. After many years of involvement in community affairs in Belleville, Belleville has and will remain very close to me.

When I received the June 4 issue of the "Times," I must admit I was not shocked to read, on its front page "Improper notification is cited: School Board is fined for asbestos violation." Well, Belleville's Board of Education — namely, Phil Linfante, president; Ernie Zoppi, Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, Daniel Borgo, Joe Cappello, Barbara Cicalese and legal counsel, Mr. Schwartz — what do you have to say now?

I told all of you, back in June, 1986, that I, then president of the OPE of School 7, along with the parents, that we were never told about the "Friable Asbestos" within our school building!

As I read the article further, I felt as though you, Mr. Linfante, felt this fine was just "a paper fine" of $2,500 — this carefree attitude — you, the rest of the board members and Mr. Schwartz, legal counsel are directly responsible for any fines levied against your educational district!

All of you, back in June 1986, should have taken the initiative to correct this situation and inform the parents in our school and the other schools and alleviate any misunderstandings! The New Jersey Department of Health in Trenton offers information and programs for such situations. But you, along with the Board of Education, must ask for this and arrange for the time, place and date offering such information to parents with school children.

But no — you obviously wanted to keep this "very quiet!"

Let me explain where this "paper fine" was levied from. The Environmental Protection Agency of the United States of America "slapped the hands" of the Belleville Board of Education!

Tell me, Mr. Schwartz, how could an attorney who is supposed to be well versed in school law, have allowed the Belleville Board of Education to deliberately disregard "The Law of our Land!!" I ask this because each and every time I presented, in public, information regarding "asbestos," you never opened your mouth, I believe because of your incompetence, these "bucks" now stop with you too!

This is the first part of my letter to the editor; I'll deliver the second part on Friday, June 19.

Gas tax blues

We've been carping about the clever way our tricky political representatives pull the wool over our eyes in solving the dilemma of deficits...they pass it off by raising taxes, but you haven't heard anything yet! You own a gas-eating buggy that keeps you broke filling the tank all the time? Brother and sister, you've got a problem.

You now pay Uncle Sam 9 cents in tax each time you buy a gallon of gasoline. The State of New Jersey takes eight more cents out of the pie, for a net tax total of 17 cents on every gallon of gas.

However, both New Jersey and Washington are in dire need for more money to operate in the fashion they're accustomed to, so watch out! You're it. Yeah, that's it! Soak the motorist...they're easy picking.

Nothing to it...Congress sees more tax revenue as the way to put the $185 billion budget deficit on a declining path. Both the House and the Senate are calling for around $18 billion in new receipts and they feel that raising the federal gas tax another 10 cents to 19 cents a gallon will help them resolve their problem.

Now Governor Kean and his transportation head have designs on getting their hands on some of this gasoline tax gravy also. After all, of the present 8 cent gas tax, only 2 1/2 cents goes for road improvement. So, if they can raise it another 5 or 6 cents, what the hell, let's do it!

New Jersey motorists won't mind paying the state government 13 or 14 cents extra for a gallon of petrol. The hell they won't!

So wake up, people! Will you consent to being robbed by paying 32 or 33 cents tax on a gallon of gasoline in the near future? What! A ten gallon trip to the gas station could cost up to $3.30 in taxes alone! We consider it outrageous...don't you?

The House Ways and Means Committee (all revenue measures must originate in the House of Representatives) plans to begin looking for ways to raise money. It proposes a variety of new taxes and fees to collect some $6 billion in new receipts.

Budgeteers in Congress figure they'll need at least $13 billion more to meet their goals. Their preferred fund-raising device? Excise taxes. Things like a possible doubling of the 16 cent per pack cigarette tax would bring in an extra $3 billion per year. Boosting the levy on beer (oh no!) and other liquors would raise $5 billion. Extending the expiration tax on telephones would reap $1 billion (we're already taxed by the FCC with a $2.60 per month access charge and a 3% tax on our phone bill, including the amount of the access charge, in a fashion DOUBLE TAXATION).

Congressional attention is also focusing on energy taxes. The options are a new fee on oil imports or an added tax on gasoline at the pump. Either a $5 per barrel fee on imported oil or an extra 10 cent per gallon tax at the pump would raise about $11 billion per year in new revenues.

An oil import fee could cause a rise in energy prices that would increase the cost of heating oil for the ensuing fall and winter seasons, and it is more inflationary than a higher gas tax.

Don't say you weren't warned...get ready for the big blow. Don't our great legislators know how to sucker us with finesse? Looks that way.

You be the judge.

HOW many times have you visited the White House? Well — during the Eisenhower years, I must have made a visit to the famous place at least 100 times. It was during that period of time that I was in charge of federal patronage for the Republican Party in New Jersey. New Jersey's Ben Shanley was Secretary to President Eisenhower. The state political leaders of the day were

THE Gary Hart episode reminds me of an incident in 1954 that occurred in my Alexandria, Nulley, home. It was during the month of February and there was an ongoing search for a Republican U.S. Senate candidate. The late Guy Savino, one of America's leading journalists of that day, Earl Mazo of the old Herald Tribune and New York Times and I were meeting with the late Clifford Case, who was anxious to become the candidate to replace incumbent U.S. Senator Robert Hendrickson. Mazo, in his

Come September, on a Friday night in Bergen County — at a Cliff Case rally, a Newark Ledger reporter approached me with the news that the following morning headline would carry a story that "Case's sister is a Communist." Shocking! It was unbelievable! Immediately following his speech, a nervous Clifford Case and his top executive team went to the New York office of our public relations consultants. We sat on the floor — if you will — at 10 p.m. — eight persons in all — and by 8:00 in the morning, we devised a strategy to meet the problem. All scheduled Case campaign appearances were cancelled for three days, and we announced the candidate would appear on television on Sunday, 2 p.m. to address New Jersey voters. The time came for interested New Jersey people to turn on their television and listen to Clifford Case. It was a fifteen-minute speech. At the very end, the punch line, which caught the imagination of New Jersey voters went something like this — "Do what you want to me, but leave my sister alone." Well, before election, the Newark Ledger predicted Cliff Case would lose the election by 200,000 to 400,000 votes. His opponent was the then Banking Commissioner, Charles Howell. By 3:00 in the morning following Election night, we were at the Robert Treat headquarters of Clif-

Sauchelli honored with four awards

Area medical college graduates Belvillites

Twenty-five graduates of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey-New Jersey Dental School in Newark were the recipients of special honors awarded by the school.

Dr. Kathleen Sauchelli, of Belleville, was honored with four awards, including the prestigious Robert E. Gillis Memorial Award, given annually to a graduating senior who has demonstrated a serious commitment to dental studies.

Sauchelli also received an Alumni Leadership Award for serving as the Student Government Association president, the Italian Dental Society of New York Scholarship and was accepted into the Fauchard Dental Society of New Jersey.

She was also inducted into Omikron Kappa Upsilon, a professional fraternity.

Three township students were graduated from the University's School of Health Related Professions, earning 1987 certificates.

Diane J. Dixon earned a certificate in medical technology.

Runda Daroy Esquillo earned a certificate in physical therapy.

Susan Ann Wiedaseck earned a certificate in nurse midwifery.

Graham, Siciliano listed at Johnson & Wales College

Johnson & Wales College has announced that a total of 1366 full-time students have been named to the Dean's List for academic achievement during the spring trimester. To receive Dean's List commendation, students must earn a cumulative point average of 3.40 or above.

Johnson & Wales College is a private, non-profit, coeducational institution offering undergraduate and graduate degrees in business, food service, hospitality, and teacher education. Based in Providence, RI, Johnson & Wales also maintains branch campuses of its Culinary Arts Division in Charleston, S.C., and Norfolk, Va.

Cecilia Graham of Little Street and Dawn Siciliano both earned Dean's List honors, and are majoring in culinary arts.

Lisa Farrow graduates from Katharine Gibbs

Lisa A. Farrow of Belleville is a June graduate of the Katharine Gibbs School of Montclair. She completed the One-Year Secretarial program.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Farrow, Ms. Farrow is also a graduate of Belleville High School.

The Katharine Gibbs School has educated secretaries for over 70 years and has established a worldwide reputation for excellence. One of a network of 11 private secretarial schools in the Boston-to-Washington corridor that comprise a subsidiary of Macmillan, Inc., the Montclair facility is located at 33 Plymouth Street, (201) 744-2010.

Donna Slonim is named

Donna Slonim, a graduate of Belleville High School, has been named to the Dean's List at Seton Hall University. Miss Slonim has been named to the Dean's List every semester in college. She is majoring in Business and will begin her senior year this September.

Rabbinical students honored for excellence in studies

Four students at the Rabbinical College of America, Morristown, New Jersey, received the Robert C. Gruhin Academic Excellence Award for their thorough study and memorization of the Talmudic tractate of Pesachim consisting of 241 pages.

The awardees are: Chaim Drizin, Nosson Barber, Eliezer M.M. Shusterman and Shlomo Neubort. Barber and Shusterman were awarded similarly last year for memorizing the Talmudic tractate Bava Kama.

Participating in the program were: Rabbi Yisroel Y.

Piekarski, Senior Professor of Talmud at the Central Lubavitcher Yeshiva in Brooklyn, who tested the students, Rabbi Moshe Herson, Dean, Rabbinical College of America, Rabbi S. Zalmen Wilschanski, Senior Professor of Talmud, Tomchei Tmimim - Rabbinical Ordination Program, Rabbinical College, Rabbi David Weichin, Senior Professor of Talmud, Tiferes Bachurim - New Direction Program, Rabbinical College and Attorney Stephen W. Gruhin, a Belleville attorney and son of the elder Gruhin, who made the presentations. He is the youngest member of the Board of Trustees and a resident of Clifton.

The Rabbinical College of America is an affiliate of the world-wide Lubavitch movement and serves as its headquarters for the state of New Jersey.

Joan Lukowiak earns doctors in educational administration

Former Belleville resident, Joan DiFazio Lukowiak, was recently awarded a Doctoral Degree in Educational Administration from Nova University. Doctor Lukowiak, a product of the Belleville school system, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DiFazio of Chestnut Street. She began her teaching career in Belleville as a special education teacher and then as a learning consultant before moving into administration.

A resident of Lincroft, she is currently the Principal of Hildale Elementary School in Montville Township. Before assuming the position she was the Director of the Department of Child Study in Boonton and the Director of Pupil Personnel Services in Lakewood.

Dr. Lukowiak earned her B.A. in Secondary Mathematics Education from Kean College in Union. Her Masters Degree is in Special Education for the Mentally Retarded and was also from Kean College. Additional graduate work was completed in learning disabilities and supervision from Montclair State College in Montclair.

In addition to her professional work as a member of the New Jersey Schoolmasters Association and as an I/D/E/AL fellow, she is Vice President of Program/President Elect of the Montclair State Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa.

New rules for dropping classes

Joseph Ciccone, Principal of Belleville High School, announces that a policy for class change procedures, developed during the 1985-86 school year, will become effective immediately.

The policy was developed with input from the Student Government Organization, the Home and School Association, and the Belleville High School faculty.

It is hoped that the class change procedures will improve the educational output of the school by introducing an increased level of stability into the program.

The students were informed in writing about the new policy earlier in the present school year. For more information call the Guidance Department at 450-3518.

Class Change Procedures

Students and parents have the ability to initiate schedule changes until May 31

When school opens, students have one week to notify their counselors of anything missing from their schedules that had been selected.

Semester course 1 - 22 days	Year course 1 - 22 days	Permitted action *

Video Revolution

According to an article that appeared in "The New York Times," March 3, 1985, experts state that the video cassette recorder has brought about the most fundamental change in the way Americans enjoy filmed entertainment, since the postwar expansion of commercial television. At the Belleville Public Library, the professional librarians are attempting to keep up with this trend with the acquisition of quality videocassettes.

Recently added to the library's video collection is "Baseball the Yankee Way," which includes pitching pointers from Whitey Ford, slugging secrets from Mickey Mantle and infield tips from Bobby Richardson. Also available is "Burglar Proofing Your Home," by Consumer Reports, which tells what kind of protection your front door really offers, locks and lock systems that work, what to do if one comes home and finds a burglar in the act, the pros and cons of home security alarms, and how to protect your car.

The video "Guinness Book of World Records" answers question pertaining to the biggest, the fastest, the tallest, the strongest, the smartest, as well as record breakers. "How To Really Start Your Own Business," goes from getting the idea to trusting your gut, to finding the money, to the business plan, and going for it. "Karate for Your Child" deals with developing confidence in your child, the methods used to turn the child into a winner, and choosing the right Karate School. "Secrets of Magic" shows how to perform over 30 magic tricks.

"The Power of Positive Thinking" by Norman Vincent Peale shows you how to create your own happiness, how to have constant energy, how to break the worry habit, mastering defeat, and faith and how it works.

In addition to these are "Light and Fresh Cooking," Aids Workshop, and "Travel Tips to Alaska and Hong Kong" by Laura MacKenzie.

Remember to stop at the Belleville Public Library for video, as well as books and cassettes.

Bicentennial Papers

In honor of the Bicentennial of the Constitution, the Belleville Public Library has added an original research paper entitled "John Locke's Influence on the Declaration of Independence" to the collection of the library, written by Bonnie Cohen. Because nothing is currently in publication on this topic in book form, this paper becomes an important addition to the library's political collection.

At the conclusion of her paper, Bonnie states that "It is evident that Thomas Jefferson had clearly read, admired, and learned from Locke's works on education, understanding, and on religion tolerance and like most of his contemporaries was willing to defer to the man's authority in politics without owing any specific debt to his treatise."

The research paper was presented to Harold Bontekoe, Wayne Valley High School, in partial fulfillment of the requirement for sophomore English.

For the past two years, Bonnie has been a class officer, a member of the school's Model UN, a member of the yearbook staff, a participant in the Student Athletic Association Show at Wayne Valley High School and the President of her Confirmation Class 1987 at Temple Beth Tikvah. She has also had an art exhibit at the Belleville Public Library.

Library Summer Loans

In the adult and young people's department of the Library, you may take out books for one or two months in the summer, providing they are not seven day books, or best sellers. No audio-visual materials circulate on this program. Up to ten books per patron may be taken out for summer loan in both hard and paperback titles.

The Library hopes to encourage summer reading and also convenience the Library patron who may be on summer vacation.

A Christian Father's "10 Commandments"

1. Thou shalt hold no other group more important than the family unit, in all thy ways being faithful it.
2. Thou shalt teach thy sons and daughters to love, respect, and obey their parents.
3. Thou shalt be a loving and considerate husband.
4. Thou shalt not speak in a manner unbecoming to a Christian gentleman.
5. Thou shalt make Sunday a day set aside for God and worship as a family.
6. Thou shalt provide for thy family — spiritually and physically.
7. Thou shalt promote and lead family worship in thy home.
8. Thou shalt be honest in all thy dealings.
9. Thou shalt respect the desires and freedoms of thy family as individuals.
10. Thou shalt be the head of thy household, while ruling it with love.

Thoughts for Fathers to Ponder

1. Acknowledge and try hard to understand your child's world.
2. Compliment and criticize your child's behavior — not the child.
3. Accept the fact that kids are kids.
4. Attend to and encourage the process of your child's life, rather than the content.
5. Teach your children that their experience is valid even if it differs from others' experiences.
6. Openly transfer your feelings, thoughts and belief about God to your children.

Chieppa earns degree

Wayne A. Chieppa, a 1973 graduate of Nutley High School, will receive the degree of Doctor of Podiatric Medicine from the Pennsylvania College of Podiatric Medicine, Philadelphia, June 6.

He is ranked 12th in a class of 117 students in the school's 21st graduating class.

Chieppa earned a bachelor of arts degree in zoology with honors from Rutgers University, Newark. A dean's list student for four years, he was a member of Alpha Phi Omega and was honored with the Richard E. Adler Scholarship, presented to the third year student who has shown outstanding achievement in the area of academics and community service.

In medical school, Chieppa was coordinator of the Tutoring Service and a class representative. Following graduation, he will begin a surgical residency at Metropolitan Hospital, Parkview Division, Philadelphia.

Son of Mrs. Ann Chieppa of Nutley, he is married to the former Barbara M. Francis of Jersey City and the father of one-year old Marc Anthony.

A citizens complaint over the Times' editing of a letter has led to a new set of rules for the submission of Letters to the Editor, and we're all confident that an even livelier Times letters page will be the end result.

Regular readers know that from time to time we run a little box on the editorial page which states that letters should be 300 words or less. Regular readers also know that there have been letters published that were double, triple and even five times over that limit.

There are lots of ways a newspaper can make sure the letters it publishes are under the word-limit it establishes. It can simply throw out the letters that are too long. Or it can edit them with the good intention to leave the "meat" of the letter intact, while trimming the "fat."

But is there another alternative? In the case of last week's over-the-limit letter, I chose to split it in half, running one part this week and one part last week. It was easy with that letter, which was written by past commission candidate Gabe Nazziola, since the letter dealt with two different topics.

Obviously, that's not always the case.

Belleville Times Publisher Frank Orechio thought about it a bit, and decided that the best way to keep the letters under the 300 word limit is to call any overly eloquent authors and ask them to make their own revisions.

For the record there were two letters, including Nazziola's edited version, which were more than 200 words over the limit. Admittedly, we have been lax with our policy.

The same day we received Nazziola's objection to having his letter split in half, we received another letter from Sue Cafone which was also more than triple our word limit.

Hers was the first letter subject to Mr. Orechio's new policy. I explained to her that she could either edit the letter herself, or run some of it this week with a follow-up next week.

Regarding the latter suggestion, newspapers often do that with articles if the space is limited.

Letters, BOY, do we get letters...

At any rate, this is all important news for frequent Times letter writers, as well as for the many readers out there who have considered writing a Letter to the Editor. Count up the words! Practice the art of brevity! Save some for next week!

To Sue: Sorry you had to abridge your work, but bear in mind that you're leaving room for other readers to share their views.

To Gabe: Sorry your letter came out as a two parter, I hate when they do that on TV shows. Different medium, same problem.

Other items in The Times Letter to the Editor policy also deserve reiteration here. They're supposed to be typed and double spaced, for one thing. The two local ladies who typeset the Belleville Times, Heidi Suchomel and Shirley Reid, get boiling mad when letters come through chicken-scratched on everything from personal memo pads to shopping list notebook paper.

And guess who takes the heat?

If you absolutely have no access to a typewriter, at least try to print as neatly as possible and to skip lines. And still, we reserve the right to favor a letter that is submitted in the proper form.

Letters must include name, street address, and phone number. If any of these are missing, your letter is likely to be passed by. Letters may address any topic, but we reserve the right to favor letters which address township issues and which are authored by townspeople.

Freeholder candidate plans party

Bob Russo of Bloomfield, candidate for Essex County Freeholder in District 5, has announced plans for a campaign kick-off on Thursday, June 25 at 6:30 p.m.

Russo is a history teacher at Belleville High School.

The kick-off celebration will be held "On The Lawn" at 396 Prospect Street in Nutley. Tickets for the event are $25.00.

In announcing plans for the upcoming celebration, Freeholder candidate Russo said, "Everyone is welcome to the kick-off. The theme of my campaign is participation by the average citizen in all levels of government. It is vital that we re-establish the right of every citizen — regardless of income level, gender, racial or ethnic background — to participate in the democratic process."

He added, "As a candidate, I intend to prove that an active resident of the North Essex community, with extensive experience in government and a solid background in volunteer service, can win an election to the important position of County Freeholder without excessive spending. I intend to win this election through the help of the average citizen — with hundreds of small contributions and good old-fashioned grass roots efforts."

Bob Russo is a former assistant to the NJ Public Advocate, Essex County Consumer Affairs Director, and an adjunct professor of Political Science and Public Administration at both Rutgers University and Kean College.

Thank you to all the Times readers who have submitted letters to me for publication.

Commission Commotion

Moving right along, the Belleville Commission meeting last week turned into a disaster because many townspeople, and rightly so, complained that they couldn't exercise their right to attend the public meeting.

Meanwhile, government officials had to bar entry to the meeting because the capacity of the commission chamber had been reached. It's government's responsibility to ensure the safety of townspeople, and rightly so. Too many people in one room is an obvious safety hazard.

However, throughout the meeting there was always at least 20 people over the limit. In the hallways there was also an overcrowding situation and even though Mayor and Police Commissioner Michael Pizzi ordered his men to remove the citizens from the hall, they remained and a sticky scene got stickier.

After all, the police couldn't just push the people down the steps, as one citizen put it.

In the days that followed I heard many comments from many townspeople. Some complained bitterly about Commissioners Risoli and McGreevey and Mayor Pizzi, even admonishing The Times for endorsing them. The first time the vote came around to adjourn the meeting, these three made up the bloc that nixed the idea.

Fans of former Mayor Michael Marotti were also upset. One citizen said that when this kind of situation occurred over last year's municipal complex debate, the former Mayor agreed to adjourn the meeting and reschedule it at the Belleville High School auditorium.

Meanwhile, others in town — and it's unclear just who they're the fans of — said that "rabble-rousers" had possibly planned the Town Hall pandemonium in advance, that the meeting was intentionally packed to cause havoc.

It didn't seem to me that there were any trained rabble-rousers at the meet, just alot of citizens who wanted to see the commissioners they elected in their first night of action.

And that seems like a reasonable request to me.

People learn from their mistakes, and it is my hope that all of the commissioners now realize that in order for local government to be effective, you have to get along well with the locals.

Just imagine if Belleville was a town down south somewhere. You can just hear some cantankerous old newspaper editor saying, "If the townspeople want the darn meeting adjourned so it can be held where everybody that wants to can attend, then BY GOLLY, adjourn the dang thing!"

My thoughts exactly...dagnab it!

Ford aims for Hemisphere

By Samuel Williams, Jr.

Model and winner — At 14, Kim Ford is a beauty pageant winner with ambitions to become an actress.

Wanted: Unserviceable flags

The annual Nutley Post 70 American Legion ceremony for disposal of "unserviceable flags" with appropriate public ceremony, will be held at the rear parking lot of its Post Home, 45 Franklin Ave. Saturday, June 13 at 2 p.m.

The ceremony will be conducted by Post Commander David McCarthy, assisted by co chaplain Betsy Newberry, officers and members of Post and Unit 70 Auxiliary.

Attending the ceremony will be officers of Elks Lodge 1290, VFW Post 493, Amvets Post 30, officers and color guard of Belleville VFW Post 295, state and local dignitaries, as well as local residents.

Those wishing to have their unserviceable flags destroyed in a proper manner, may bring them to the American Legion Post home.

Rev.Cembor leaves St.Mary's

Rev. Thomas M. Cembor, Associate Pastor at St. Mary's Church since his ordination in June, 1979, will leave Nutley for a new assignment June 20.

Father Tom has accepted an appointment as Parochial Vicar at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountsinide. His duties there will be similar to those at St. Mary's where he was director of Religious Education at St. Mary's School.

A former president of the Nutley Clergy Fellowship Group, he was also on the Board of Directors of the Nutley Family Service Bureau.

Father Tom is a graduate of Marist High School, Bayonne and Seton Hall University, with a B.A. in Sociology. At Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington, where he studied for the priesthood, he earned a Masters of Divinity degree and while assigned at St. Mary's, he attended Drew University, Madison, and in October 1985, he received a Doctor of Ministry degree.

In addition to his duties at St. Mary's Church he is an adjunct instructor with Felician College, Lodi, in the Religious Studies Certification Program hosted by the Metuchen Diocese.

Obituaries

Minnie Silvia, 79, was GOP leader

Mrs. Minnie Silvia, 79, of Belleville died June 7 in the St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston.

A Mass was offered June 10 in the Immaculate Conception Church, Newark, after the funeral from the Berardinelli Forest Hill Memorial, Newark.

Mrs. Silvia was a Republican district leader in North Newark

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marie DelPolito and Mrs. Frances Zoppi; three sons, Joseph, Robert and Dennis; a sister, Mrs. Gilda Tutela; a brother, Rocco Castellano; 10 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Thomas Farrell, 62, was veteran

A Mass for Thomas Farrell, 62, of Belleville was offered June 6 in St. Peter's Church, following the funeral from the Megaro Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Farrell died June 2 in his home.

He had been a block operator for 37 years with Amtrak in Newark before retiring three years ago.

Mr. Farrell received a Purple Heart while serving in the Army in World War II. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 493, East Orange and the American Legion Post 73, Nutley.

Born in Newark, he lived in Belleville for 23 years.

Surviving are his wife, Jennie; a daughter, Mrs. Christine Roberts; a brother, John; a sister, Miss Marie, and a grandchild.

Kim Ford, a 14 year old freshman enrolled at Nutley High School, is trying to carve a niche for herself in the entertainment world.

Ford won first place in "beauty" competition and second runner-up in "modeling" when she entered the Miss Hemisphere contest held at the Holiday Inn in Wayne recently.

As a result, Ford has qualified to compete in the state finals scheduled to be held at the Franklin Plaza Hotel in Center City, Philadelphia, June 27 - 28.

According to Ford, the winner will receive gifts and a scholarship to a course of choice at the Philadelphia Academy of Theatrical Arts.

Ford is preparing to enter beauty competition by putting rhinestones and glitter on her evening gown. She also plans to enter modeling competition by displaying sportswear.

"I learned alot about meeting new people in the Miss Hemisphere contest," said Ford.

"I like this type of competition because of the exposure, I eventually want to become an actress," said Ford.

Ford was a national finalist in the American Stars held in Atlantic City in January.

Likewise, she won the title of Miss Photogenic in a Junior Miss Pageant held in April of 1986 at the Somerset Hilton.

And like any other aspiring actress, Ford supplements her income as a part-time employee for Carvel Ice Cream in Belleville.

According to Ford, mentor Meri Rivers has been instrumental in the last few months in preparing her for the rigors of her chosen profession.

Legion team drops opener by one run

The Belleville American Legion baseball team suffered a season opener loss on the road against Livingston American Legion Post 201 Monday night in a tight 5-4 encounter.

Bob Hutchison was the losing pitcher though manager Frank Stanco said "he did a fine job."

Belleville scored first in the third inning when shortstop Jeff Spilbury blasted a homerun to give his team a 1-0 lead.

"Jeff had a nice all around game. He went 2 for 3 at the bat and had two put outs at homeplate," said Stanco.

Livingston answered with two runs of their own in the third inning and three in the fifth.

Belleville scored their remaining three runs in the fourth inning when Paul Grande blasted one of his two doubles and reached home off a single by Ray Caruso.

Spilbury, Jay Marchese and Dave McNeil reached base on balls respectively. Spilbury and Marchese scored on an infield error to pull within one run.

Like sand pouring through fingers however, so did the scoring opportunities for the Belleville contingent in the last three innings.

Even with the bases loaded and no outs in the fifth inning, Belleville was unable to cross the plate.

"I don't think we played that well. I was disappointed by our overall offensive and defensive performances," said Stanco.

Results of last night's home opener against Newark American Legion Post 10 were not available at press time.

Police Officer Robert Alves to investigate smash-ups

Officer Robert Alves of the Belleville Police Department recently completed the Advanced Traffic Accident Investigation Course sponsored by the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club and the New Jersey Office of Highway Safety.

In addition to Officer Alves, 28 police officers from Essex, Morris and Union counties participated in the two-week course, presented by the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club.

The training is continued in a more in-depth basis in the advanced program. This enables the course graduates to provide the courts and insurance companies with more detailed information relevant to traffic accidents.

The AAA New Jersey Automobile Club has provided annual sponsorship of the Basic and Advanced Accident Investigation Courses for the past four years.

Routine police escort leads to drug bust and extradition

When Belleville Police escorted an estranged spouse to remove her possessions from her former apartment, they got more than they bargained for.

A police spokesman said that when the woman opened the door with her key, and they accompanied her inside, they found what appeared to be a half-smoked marijuana cigarette in the ash tray and white powder believed to be cocaine on the dining room table.

Both substances were confiscated by police and sent to state labs for testing.

Meanwhile, Police arrested estranged husband Gerard DeVito, 23, of Greylock Parkway and two friends who were on the premises — Anthony Cagnini, 25, also of Greylock Parkway, and Michael Jenkins of Florida.

But Belleville Police got more than just an unexpected drug bust when they escorted the separated spouse back to her former apartment. It turns out that Florida has a warrant for Jenkins' arrest in Florida, where he is charged with passing a worthless check.

Police authorities said he is expected to have already been extradited to Florida by today.

The court date for DeVito and Cagnini is August 5.

"They did a nice job," a Belleville Police superior said of his men and their lucky break.

BPD Detectives investigating burglary spree on Mill St.

Belleville Police Detective Joseph Rotundo is investigating three house burglaries, all of which occurred on Mill Street on or around June 10.

The crimes were discovered in rapid succession that Wednesday, as Jaz Chaudry, 51; Richard Bechholdt, 30 and Hector Piza, 33 all related the same story: "I was robbed."

Piza was hit for an estimated $2,400 worth of jewelry. He told police that his front door has been knocked off its hinges. All the rooms had been ransacked, but apparently only jewelry had been taken.

Bechholdt reported that a window had been removed to permit the thief on his home, and his was ransacked too. Again, however, only jewelry was missing.

Chaudry wasn't so lucky.

"When he returned home from work at about 4:20PM he found three of his color television sets missing as well as the jewelry. He said the front door was locked when he left, but it was unlocked when he returned," the police spokesman explained.

Piza estimated the value of merchandise ripped-off was $6,000 — making the combined total reported value of Mill Street homes about $9,000 in one day.

Police believe the crimes were probably perpetrated by the same person or team, and said Rotundo was canvassing neighbors to find out if anybody had seen anything suspicious.

Anyone with information concerning the June 10 Mill Street burglaries should call 450-3333.

Crimebreaker!

LOCK UP FOR SAFETY!!

THE RIM-LOCK is a 1" deadbolt lock which is installed on inside surface of the door. It is less expensive than other types of locks, but equally effective for security.

THE "JIMMY-PROOF" RIM LOCK is another lock which is installed on the inside surface of the door. But this lock has vertical dead bolts, which is additional security approved locking device.

WITH SLIDING WINDOWS the primary objective is to keep the window from sliding or being lifted up and out of the track. There are many manufactured products available for security windows; here are some of the suggestions:

AUXILIARY DEADLOCK: 1" deadbolt, single cylinder with hardened cylinder guard, and thumb turn. If the glass is within 40" of the locking hardware, additional security provisions should be followed.

A DEAD LATCH is an inexpensive and attractive addition to your existing knob-lock set which keeps the burglar from simply slipping your door open with a credit card. This method of entry is common in many areas but very easy to prevent.

CANE BOLT: 1/2" in diameter by 12" high installed at top and bottom of the inactive door offer minimum security. Many homes with pairs of doors use half-barrel slidebolts on the inactive door; these are weak and inadequate.

ADDITIONAL SECURITY MEANS THE PREVENTION OF EXIT BY AN INTRUDER THROUGH ANY DOOR EXCEPT BY MEANS OF DESTRUCTIVE FORCE. This reduces the possibility of theft of large household possessions after the intruder has gained entrance through a window and is expecting an easy exit through a door.

WARNING: One window in every bedroom on the ground and second floor must be left available as a fire exit, particularly for children and guests in your home.

One of the biggest threats to your heart is right under your nose.

"Great," you say to yourself. "Here they come with more bad news." Okay, so we do have some bad news for you. But you need all the facts you can get when it comes to making a decision about smoking. Like the fact that if you smoke, you're twice as likely to have a heart attack as a nonsmoker. And if you do have a heart attack, you're more likely to die. Suddenly. But here's the good news. Regardless of how long or how much you've smoked, your risk of heart disease will begin dropping rapidly the day you stop. Which means that 10 years after quitting, it can be almost the same as if you had never smoked at all. So take the good with the bad, but take our word for it: it's never too late to quit.

"Serving The Community For 40 Years"

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. D. of Chilton asks: "My 7-year-old daughter's teeth are very crowded. Will her permanent teeth be crowded also?"

There's a very good chance, Mrs. D. that her permanent teeth will be crowded, due to lack of space. At about 7, there usually is a growth spurt which could alleviate moderate crowding. But if, as you say the teeth are very crowded, we feel she may need some help now.

There are measurements that the orthodontist and/or dentist uses to disclose the amount of jaw space needed. If there is not enough, then either a removable or fixed appliance can be constructed to measure the jaw space and alleviate the crowding. We feel it's best to get a diagnosis now, so if treatment is needed it may begin and possibly prevent the removal of permanent teeth later.

Please consult either your dentist or an orthodontist for their help. Thank you.

Belleville Times SPORTS

After a very successful fall season at Belleville High School in 1986, the focus of attention now centered around the winter sports. A new year was quickly approaching and the enthusiasm surrounding the winter sports was strong.

As usual, the wrestling team turned in another stellar year, while the boys and girls' basketball programs showed marked improvement. The indoor track team was getting into shape for the spring campaign and the bowling team was capturing conference honors for the first time in team history.

Nisivoccia's Grapplers are Outstanding

Winning seems to be synonymous with Belleville High wrestling. This past winter, Joe Nisivoccia's crew turned in another outstanding year, capped off by a District 7 championship. The Bucs breezed to the NNJIL title, holding off perennial rival Clifton. Overall, the team posted a 16-2 mark. The Bucs made it all the way to the Group IV, Section II championships, where it lost to Phillipsburg. In the sectional semi finals, Belleville posted a heartstopping 26-24 win over Union High School.

Belleville was up against one of the toughest schedules in its history. The Bucs faced five district champs, Phillipsburg, Cedar Ridge, Edison, Roselle Park and Clifton. The team also battled solid clubs in Bloomfield and Union.

Individually, Armando Nardone had an outstanding year. Nardone advanced all the way to the state finals, where he lost to Todd Young of Haddon Township. Nardone's performance marked the farthest a Belleville wrestler had advanced in state action since Chris Musmanno won the title in 1980. For the season, he posted a 33-3 record, including championships in the Bloomfield and Minutemen Tournaments and the Essex County crown.

His story is even more tremendous when you consider he finished third in the districts and regionals. However in the states, Nardone picked up steam, beating the best in New Jersey until the final round. Now for the really good news, Nardone is just a junior and will be back next winter to continue his quest for a state title.

Nardone's heroics certainly were credible, however, the Bucs had a number of athletes who did well. Joe Perna finished with a 27-5 mark. Mike Iuliano was 25-6-1 and John Stampone posted a solid mark of 25-8. Joe Cerreto was 25-3-2, Eric Nazzola finished with a mark of 15-13-1 and Phil Zamlot was 24-3-1. Nick Keykurun was 12-13, Lou Lucante posted a solid 23-9 record and heavyweight Marc Criscione finished with a 28-5-1 record.

Six Buc wrestlers made the state tourney, with four winning at least one match. The Bucs had seven grapplers with 20 or more victories, the first time that has happened in team history.

Needless to say, it was an outstanding year on the mats for Belleville High.

Fuccello's Team Makes Progress

When the Belleville girls' basketball team posted a 2-18 mark in the 1986-87 season, the bright spot was a strong nucleus returning for the following campaign. Head coach Karen Fuccello felt that if her team attended basketball camps in the summer and continued playing hard, there would be considerable progress.

The coach was certainly correct, as the team improved to 10-15 this winter. Fuccello was quick to point out that the team could have been 16-9 had it shot better from the foul line. Belleville lost at least six games with poor foul shooting. On the year, the girls shot just 48 percent.

However, the team won the Tri County Holiday tourney and upset a good Arts team late in the season. On the final game of the campaign, the girls battled one of the states best, Paramus Catholic, and led for a good portion of the game.

Players who did well this past winter were, Laura Caruso, Laurie Dondarski, Simone Edwards, Racquel Melson, Stacey Johansen and Carol Morrison. The team did not have the services of Judy Nehila, the leading scorer from the '85-86 year, because of knee injuries.

Edwards, a sophomore, led the way in scoring and Johansen, a freshman, was excellent in the second half of the year.

The team loses Caruso to graduation, however the remainder of the squad is back next winter, plus some talented athletes on the junior varsity roster who will look to break the starting lineup for the varsity.

Roll's Team Starts off 9-6, Stagers in Late Season

The boys' basketball team got off to a 9-6 start this year, but the Bucs hit a late season slump and lost its final six games. The 9-15 mark was still the best record in four years at Belleville.

Don Roll finished his first year as varsity coach with promise for the future. Ted Sochaski had an outstanding year, averaging over 24 points a game. The junior will be one of the most talented players in the league next winter.

Leon Puentes had a good year at point guard and senior Bob Hutchison was an excellent outside shooter. Frank Morrell was strong in the pivot and Loung La did well in the backcourt. The season ended with Belleville losing a heartbreaking, 73-72 decision to Union in the state tourney. It was an excellent ball game, one in which the Bucs fell behind early, then rallied in the second half before losing by one.

Early's Troops Take Home Title

The Belleville bowling team, under coach Mike Early won the NNJIL championship with an outstanding record of 96-16. The Bucs won seven straight matches to pull ahead for good in the race. Mike Di Benedetto, a senior, led the team in scoring with a 190 average. His season high was a modest 278. Junior Vinnie Orrell averaged 182 and junior Michael Roskiewicz was right behind with an average of 180. Sophomore Lou Bruno also averaged a 180.

Early will welcome back an experienced roster next winter. The junior varsity team also did well, so there should be more excitement on the lanes next year.

Magnificent!

There are many superlatives that could be used to describe the 1987 Belleville softball team. Outstanding, magnificent, unbelievable and tremendous would certainly be appropriate. The word awesome could have some validity. Whatever word you choose to use, you can't dispute that the past season was one to remember for the team.

Head coach Carl Corino saw his club post a mark of 28-4 this spring. Included in that record was a second straight NNJIL title (actually the team tied for the NNJIL crown with Clifton), a first ever state sectional crown, a sixth straight appearance in the county finals and an appearance in the Group IV championships following a victory over North Bergen in the state semis.

The 28 victories is a new Belleville High School record for wins by a varsity team in a season. The girls eclipsed their own record, set last year, of 26 wins. The girls are in line for the TV-3 trophy for softball supremacy in the TV-3 area, which encompasses a number of communities.

This past season now moves Corino's career record to an absolutely incredible 187-43 in eight years of varsity coaching.

"When I first started in 1980, we had some good young players," recalled Corino. "Kids like Rosie (Leonidis) and (Nancy) Coffey. I look back over the past eight years and see what has been accomplished and I'm really proud. We've been in the Top 20 in the state for the past six seasons and we have a chance to finish in the top 10, or even the top 5, this year. Our '82 club was ranked sixth for the season, so it would be nice to better that ranking."

"The trip to Trenton (for the Group IV championships) was a thrill. We certainly wanted to win the game, but it was nice just getting there. Who knows, maybe next year we'll win it, maybe the year after."

Corino admits that he still has the fire for coaching.

"I still have the drive," he said. "I'm enthused about the game. The kids seem to enjoy it. They didn't want the season to end. They really seemed to enjoy their high school years."

There were heroes galore this spring. Corino was quick to point out that it was a team effort this year, with everyone contributing. Below is a graphic on all the varsity members who helped to make the 1987 year one to remember.

LAURA CARUSO: The senior catcher turned in another solid year. She hit .340, with 3 HR and 28 RBI. Caruso was named by the Daily News to its all North Jersey team and will be honored at Yankee Stadium in late June. She has already been named to the first team, NNJIL and to the first team, All Area, as a designated hitter.

Caruso was an outstanding athlete during her years at BHS. She did an excellent job on the girls' basketball team and was outstanding as the catcher for the softball team. She continues the fine tradition of Belleville softball catching, started by Tracy Buono.

TRISHA TRAMULTOLA: The senior split time between her natural position, third base, and shortstop, this spring. She was excellent at both slots. Tramultola was named to the first team, NNJIL, and honorable mention, All Area. This year, she led the team in hitting with a robust .361 average. She hit 2 HR and drove in 25 runs. She led the club with 35 hits and scored 32 runs.

CINDY RUGGIERO: Ruggiero, a first baseman, hit .260 this year, with 13 RBI. She scored 29 runs and hit one triple. On defense, Ruggiero did an excellent job and as a leadoff hitter, she had an excellent knack for getting on base. Her talents this spring earned her a first team, NNJIL, berth.

MARYANN MAC ARTHUR: The senior had good power, tying for the team lead in HR's with 3. She hit .259, with 14 RBI. Mac Arthur had 15 hits, scored 13 runs and drilled three doubles.

JANET REIMAN: Reiman did not play this spring due to injuries, but the senior did the scorekeeping and helped the team in a number of vital areas.

RACQUEL MELSON: Melson, a junior, had an excellent campaign. She hit .281 and drove in 23 runs. Melson cracked 27 hits, scored 24 runs, had three doubles and five triples. She came back from a knee injury incurred in 1986 and was excellent in the outfield. Melson was named first team, NNJIL and honorable mention, All Area.

JANINE LUZZI: The junior hit .291, with 26 RBI this spring. Luzzi was a force at the plate, with 23 hits, 19 runs scored and three triples. Of course, Luzzi was an outstanding pitcher. She finished 12-3 this year in 103 innings pitched. Luzzi gave up just 49 hits, allowed 31 walks and struck out 66. Her ERA was a very effective 0.95.

Luzzi was named first team, NNJIL and first team, All Area for her work this spring. Her career record is now 34-8.

CAROL MORRISON: Morrison, a sophomore, did very well this year. She hit .354, with 29 RBI's. The 29 ribbies led the team. The third baseman and outfielder clubbed 34 hits, scored 23 runs and hit six doubles (leading the team). Morrison struck out twice the entire year, ironically the final two at bats of the year. Look for good things from her in the next two years. This year, she was named to the second team, NNJIL.

NATALIE LA BELLA: La Bella enjoyed a good year this spring. She hit .440, with 3 RBI. She had 11 hits and was named Honorable Mention, NNJIL.

GIOVANNA MALAZZI: Malazzi hit .200 this spring and drove home six runs. She scored seven runs and stroked eight hits. Corino noted that Malazzi showed marked improvement over the course of the season.

LAURIE DONDARSKI: The sophomore had another excellent year, batting .327 with 34 hits. She scored 45 runs and led the team with 27 walks. Dondarski was the leadoff batter for a good portion of the year and had an excellent on base percentage. She was named second team, NNJIL and Honorable Mention, All Area.

STACEY JOHANSEN: The freshman had a marvelous year. She hit .324 with 26 RBI. Johansen led the team with 8 triples and led club with 48 runs scored. She had 34 hits and led club in at bats with 105. On the mound, she was equally successful. Johansen posted a 15-1 record, in 106 innings of work. She allowed just 47 hits, walked 12 batters and had a streak of 49 innings without allowing a walk. Johansen struck out 124 batters and had an ERA of 0.46.

Johansen was named first team, NNJIL and Honorable Mention, All Area. Needless to say, you should be hearing some very good things about this talent for years to come.

Sandy Moyer was the final letter winner this year. She hit .338 this spring and did a good job.

The girls set team records for runs scored, 268, and runs allowed, 49 (21 of which were earned). If there was a down note on the team, it was the 3-2 loss to Caldwell in the county final, but the team more than made up for the defeat with its play in the states.

The girls defeated powerful Union in the sectional finals and upended North Bergen, 6-3, in the state semi finals, losing in the Group IV championships to Edison.

It was an outstanding year. Congratulations to Coach Corino and his staff for a job well done.

Christian Fellowship hosts champion day

The New Jersey Fellowship of Christian Athletes will sponsor its annual "Day of Champions Conference" for all junior and senior high school aged students, coaches and interested adults, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 20 at Upsala College Gymnasium, off Southbound Exit 147 of the Garden State Parkway. Registration is from 8 to 9 a.m. A $5 fee includes tuition, lunch and a conference t-shirt. Teens will take part in leadership training, Dogpatch Olympics, small group discussions and a special media presentation.

Speakers will include Joe Ward, leading scorer of the AMI Bulldogs; Madeline Manning Mims, member of four Olympic track teams and Reggie White of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Participants should wear jeans, sneakers, gym suits or a sweatshirt and bring a change of clothes. Also a Bible if available.

For more information, contact Bill Gorski at 464-3100 or John Theis at 273-2562.

Summer action for Basketball Bucs

It's time again to get out in the weather. Thousands of young people are looking forward to the summer months, and the basketball leagues are a big part of that excitement.

The Belleville boys' basketball team will take part in the summer basketball leagues. The Bucs will play in the Bloomfield Summer League and the Elizabeth Summer League.

The Bloomfield league will start in early July. The Belleville team will be competing in the Bloomfield and Elizabeth summer leagues, commencing June 29. The team will be in both leagues for six weeks.

The Belleville American Legion baseball team has already begun its season. The team will be playing in the summer leagues.

Leon Puentes, Steve Schwed and Chris Chiaramonte will be in the lineup. All four men have been playing summer ball for the past three years.

The Bucs posted a 9-15 record last winter. The team got off strong, but faded near the end of the season, losing its final nine games.

As usual, the Times will provide weekly coverage of the team in both leagues.

Cathleen Crawford, Clark and Belleville.

They, Bloomfield and Elizabeth, are both varsity leagues, said Roll. It would really be ideal for our kids to play in both leagues. It would give them a good deal of experience.

Roll and Tom Bianchi, the assistant coach, will share the coaching duties this summer. The leagues begin play on June 29.

The three point play, which is being introduced to the high school level this winter, will be in effect this summer. Both leagues will last approximately six weeks, with the playoffs in early August.

Most of the members of the varsity basketball team will take part. Seniors Ted Sochaski, Leon Puentes, Steve Schwed and Chris Chiaramonte will be in the lineup. All four men have been playing summer ball for the past three years.

The Bucs posted a 9-15 record last winter. The team got off strong, but faded near the end of the season, losing its final nine games. The team will certainly be looking for a good performance this summer in anticipation of the 1987-88 season.

As usual, the Times will provide weekly coverage of the team in both leagues.

BUC SHOTS

Indoor Track Concludes Busy Winter

The indoor track team, coached by John Tosato did well. The team does not compete in dual races, but takes part in invitational. The team basically gets in shape for the spring season and works on various techniques. Gerard Carbo, Dawn Carter, Anthony La Vista, Stacey Mc Carthy, JonPaul Lenczuk and Carmine Iacullo did well in the weight events. Craig Burden, Joyce Luongo, Greg Moriello and Mike Di Biase were strong in the middle and long distance runs. In the sprints, Jay Marchese, Jerry Padula, Craig Jackowski and Mario Lemongello excelled.

Bob Scheible ran the hurdles and Diane Di Vincenzo and Carter took part in the sprints for the girls.

Next week, we'll finish the years wrap up with a look at the just concluded spring campaign.

Last Weeks Quiz

The last team to lose the first two games of the NBA championship series, then win the title, was the 1977 Portland Trailblazers. Portland won the next four games over Philly and took home its only title.

For This Week

The Lakers and Celtics have been the dominant teams of the 80's, with seven championships between the two clubs so far. Who was the most dominant team of the 70's for winning NBA titles?

Safe tanning forum is held at hospital

Monique Davis, a Health Educator with the Clara Maass Community Health Resource Center, recently presented an educational forum on Sun Sense: Guidelines for Safer Summer Tanning.

Discussion included the positive relationship between unprotected exposure to the sun and the development of skin cancer, risk factors for cancer, and preventive measures to take while in the sun. Issues such as hours to avoid the sun and sun protection factor (SPF) ratings on tanning products were explored.

Participants also had the opportunity to discuss the "safety" of indoor tanning salons and home tanning booths. Community residents attending received literature on sun and skin cancer, as well as a step-by-step guide for safer sun exposure.

The Community Health Resource Center periodically offers a variety of health education programs for community residents and organizations.

Those interested in further information are invited to call the Center's office at 450-2119 weekdays after 8:00 a.m.

Times summer sports coverage

Although the school year is just about over, the Belleville Times Sports Dept. will be busy at work during the months of July and August.

The Belleville boys' basketball team will be competing in the Bloomfield and Elizabeth summer leagues, commencing June 29. The team will be in both leagues for six weeks.

The Belleville American Legion baseball team has already begun its season. The Times will be providing weekly coverage of the teams progress in this very important league.

The weekly "Flashback" column will start in the first week of July. Flashback is a sports story from a previous edition of the Belleville Times that is reprinted. It brings back a lot of memories for those former BHS athletes that might have forgotten about a big game, or a big moment. We have reached back to the archives as far as 1951 to remember the Belleville heroes of the past.

We will also begin a new series this summer, remembering outstanding Belleville teams from the past. The series will begin in early July with a look back at some outstanding freshman wrestling teams coached by the legendary Dennis Villano.

The weekly Bue Shots column and local little league coverage will continue throughout the hazy days of summer. We hope you will enjoy the coverage.

The rules of summer safety

Summer can be an enjoyable and beautiful season, but we must be aware of some of the hazards of boating.

What is safety? Safety is a full time attitude — safety is also common sense — safety is performing tasks without jeopardizing people or equipment.

Fire extinguishers

Learn how to use your fire extinguisher. The type of fire most likely to be encountered on a boat are oil, grease and gas. Extinguishers approved for motor boats are hand portable of either B1 or B11 classification. If possible two extinguishers approved by the Coast Guard should be placed in strategic locations. They should be in perfect condition and ready to use at all times.

Exhaust fumes are deadly

If you small fumes, you have half the ingredients for an explosion. Coast Guard research indicates the human nose is by far the best device to detect explosive vapors aboard. Most accidents can be prevented by closing the hatch when refueling and by putting the blowers on before starting the engine.

Weather conditions are most important for safety. Listen to your radio or weather stations. Do not venture out if foul weather is predicted.

Be sure you tell someone when you leave. When you'll be back, what your boat looks like, identification numbers, so that it will make finding you easier if the need arises.

Personal Floating Devices (PFD)

PFD's must be Coast Guard approved. They are classified by type, according to performance. Type One is most effective for all waters, especially offshore and ocean cruising. It has the greatest buoyancy and is designed to turn an unconscious person in the water from a face down position to a vertical position. Type Two and Type Three are similar. Type Four is an approved device designed to be thrown to a person in the water. Type Five is any PFD approved for restricted use.

All PFD's should be in good and serviceable condition. No child should be allowed to be on any boat without a proper PFD.

Each year, boating accidents claim over 7,200 lives and injure thousands. The Coast Guard and U.S. Congress recognize alcohol as a significant problem on the water. Research shows that 4 hours of exposure to noise, vibration, sun glare, wind and motion on the water produce a kind of "boater's hypnosis" or fatigue, which slows reaction time almost as much as if you were legally drunk. Adding alcohol to boating stress factors intensifies their effect — each drink multiplies your accident risk.

Alcohol isn't the sport. Boating is the sport. Enjoy it safely. There will be an exhibit and more information available at Meads Miller Floor Covering, 143 Franklin Ave., Nutley. Call 667-4305.

Commissioner issues guidelines

Dive into the summer...safely

With the advent of the summer season, Commissioner Joseph T. Fornarotto, Director of Public Affairs, and Mr. Thomas J. Longo, Health Officer, urge residents to observe rules for safe swimming (which were listed in the paper last week) and safe diving, and to see that their children follow these rules.

"Too often," says Mr. Fornarotto, "a moment of carelessness can lead to a horrendous accident, with the punishment far exceeding the crime. Some accidents can, in fact result in total paralysis, from the neck down (quadriplegia)."

The Health Department, issues the following rules for diving safely:

1. Never dive into any above-ground pool. Such pools are too shallow for this activity.

2. Do not dive from the side of any in-ground pool. Dive only from the end of the diving board. Otherwise enter the water feet first.

3. Dive with your hands in front of you. At the moment you hit the water, steer up. In this way, you will avoid hitting the bottom or sides of the pool.

4. Do not dive if you have been using alcohol or drugs. These can greatly slow down your reaction time.

5. If you use a slide to enter the water, always slide down feet first, NEVER head first.

Parents and guardians must exercise constant vigilance to maintain the safety of children in their care.

Computer superstars...

Miss Joanne Maiorca, Basic Skills Teacher at School No. 4, instructing at computer with Nicole Spanos, Gaspare Viola and Melissa McIntosh, first graders.

Miss Linda Bove, Basic Skills Teacher at School No. 4, seated at computers with Joseph Salvaneschi and Joseph Pochino, second graders.

School Four's Basic Skills Improvement Program teachers Miss Bove and Miss Maiorca, were trained in January to instruct their students in the Computer Assisted Instructional Program. Only a few months down the road, and the B.S.I.P. students are much involved and quite the experts at their computers, the instructors say.

The students type in their special identification numbers, they are greeted by name by their computer, and then they are challenged to successfully answer the problems that flash before them. Everyone works on something different, for they have been enrolled in programs to suit their individual needs and levels of instruction.

A special bulletin board has been set up as the students aim to become a "Computer Superstar." The students in each class with the most stars at the end of the school year will receive a special prize.

All the participants will be receiving special awards to commend their efforts and great success in this new and challenging program.

Letters to the Editor

Dedicated to Mom...

To the editor:

I did not find it an easy task to find the right words to tell about my mother. There is so much that can be said for a woman who celebrated her 80th birthday on June 12. To go back to her early years when she was one of almost 14 or more brothers and sisters.

To 1933 when she married the late James V. Cuzzo, having four children only to lose two of them — Jane in 1975 and her only son, Charles, this past January... working for almost 30 years with her husband at Peerless Tube Co. and finally retiring 12 years ago.

Always a fantastic cook and baker... the family table full of so many good tasting things although she never thought there was enough. So many hand-made meatballs on Sunday... enough to feed an army and at times there seemed to be that many people at the table.

Her eight grandchildren loving only grandma's ice tea and home-made macaroni. Friends stopping in to visit... having a cup of coffee and watching a t.v. show... always worried about a clean and spotless house that there was rarely enough time for herself.

Her family and house first and herself second.

Stricken with crippling arthritis about seven years ago, she struggles to get around and do whatever she can. Feeling that she is no longer capable of doing much makes it hard on her to accept the fact that she is doing more than most people her age.

Sometimes mothers are not appreciated because when you are growing up they become an enemy... someone always telling you what you can and cannot do. As time goes by you can appreciate why your mother was the way she was and then hopefully some of what she has installed in you will remain with you as you grow older.

I can be fortunate to have had a mother to give me a good background in what a family means.

Being close to all our aunts and uncles, cousins, nieces, nephews, and my own brother and sister have made my growing up full of wonderful memories. Needless to say it is hard to see my Mom now... not as active nor as happy as she once was but still she is here for us and even capable of yelling at us once in awhile... Oh, yes, there is so much to say about a mother but words could never express how all of us feel about her.

So to my Mom Angelina (Angie) Cuzzo from all your family, friends, neighbors and especially your daughters Grace and Angela happy 80th birthday and many many many more.

We all love you

Angela Zarro

Meeting denied Sunshine law...

To the editor:

On Tuesday, June 9, I attended a township commission meeting in Belleville as I had done many times before. This was the first public meeting for the newly elected commissioners. As expected, the room was overflowing with citizens, long before the meeting was called to order.

As the meeting hour approached, citizens were crowded in the hallway, unable to and prevented from entering the meeting room. Before the meeting was called to order, I arose on a point of personal privilege and advised the commissioners to adjourn the meeting to another place and time to allow all citizens their basic rights of attendance. This was a practice that was followed many times in the past.

Shortly thereafter, the meeting was convened and Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni made a motion to discontinue the meeting and refer it to a later time and place so as all citizens could be accommodated. Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto seconded the motion, which was defeated by a NO vote from Commissioners McGreevy, Risoli and Mayor Pizzi. The immediate response of citizens in attendance was a noisy, raucous, display of disapproval.

I arose at this time and stated that, in my opinion, this was an illegal, if not improper, denial of the Sunshine Law to the citizens of Belleville and left the meeting to join those who had been denied entrance. To my surprise, in addition to the citizens whom I had observed through the glass doors of the meeting room, the crowd flowed down the stairway, into the main lobby and out onto the sidewalk in front of Town Hall. I did not take an accurate count, but I would estimate that there were at least 150 citizens who had been denied attendance. This amounted to twice the amount of people that had gained admittance. Is this democracy in action?

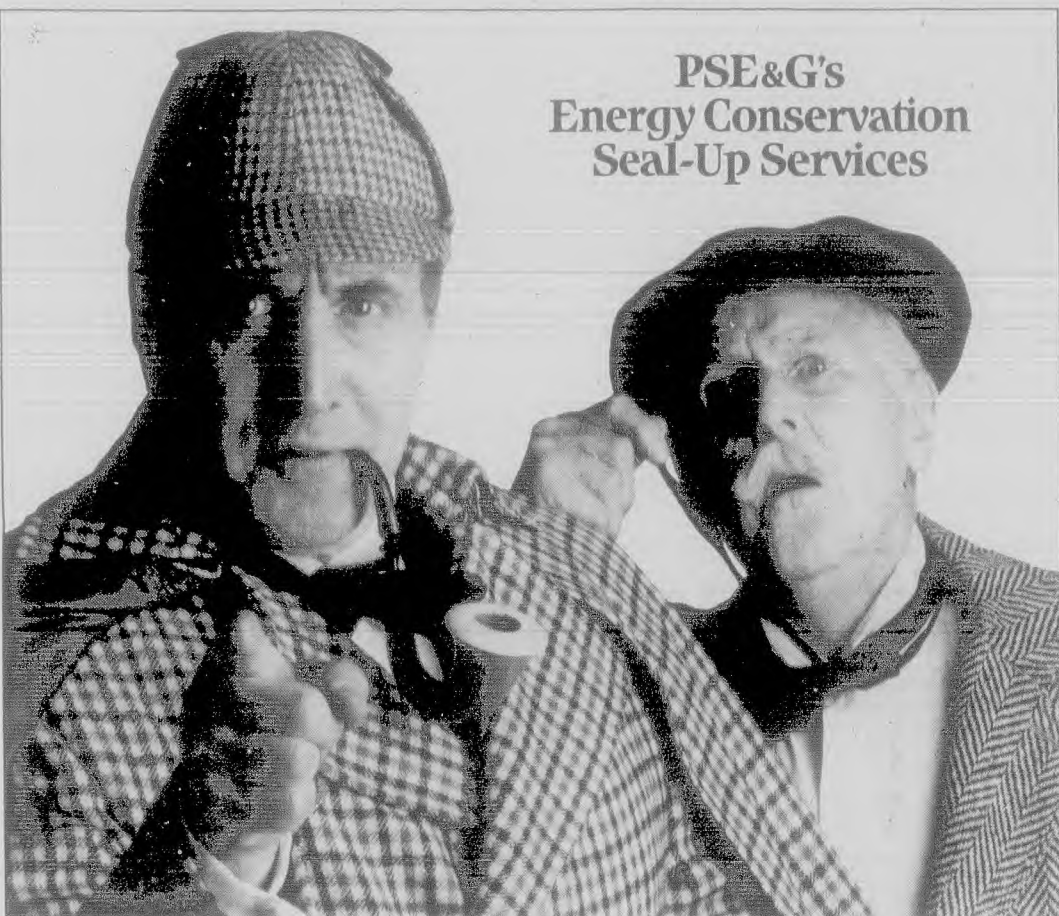

What can be done to prevent a recurrence of this nature?

I have heard many cries of "Recall" and "Change of government." However, whether or not I agree with those opinions, they would require considerable time to be accomplished, and even then, there is no absolute guarantee of their successful conclusion.

The best solution, for the time being, is to discontinue holding meetings in the small courtroom of the Town Hall. All future town meetings should be held either at Belleville High School auditorium or at School No. 7. There would be ample seating and parking facilities in either place.

In conclusion I wish to comment Police Chief George Lister and the police officers who were called to control and evict all citizens in the hallways and those not seated in the meeting room. They were ordered to do a very distasteful job, and they did so with complete understanding and courtesy.

Exec may get line veto

County executives would be able to veto specific language and appropriations contained in proposed county budgets under the terms of a bill sponsored by Assembly members John V. Kelly and Marion Crecco that was approved today by the Assembly.

"On the state level, the governor has the power of line item veto," the Republican Assemblyman noted. "It has proven to be an effective and efficient management tool."

Crecco, also a Republican, added that the line item veto has enabled the governor to keep the state budget under control.

"Similar efficiencies could be achieved on the county level if county executives had the same power," he said. "This bill gives the county executive the same power that Governor Kean and more than 40 other governors have to keep taxes down and control spending. It makes the government more accountable to the people."

The bill, A-3998, was approved by a vote of 53-7 and sent to the Senate for its consideration.

Crecco hails Gas Tax reform

Assemblywoman Crecco hailed the release of legislation by the Assembly Transportation, Communications and High Technology Committee, that would implement full dedication of the 8 cent gasoline tax for transportation purposes.

"When I heard that only 2 1/2 cents of the existing 8 cent gasoline tax goes towards transportation improvements, I said that we must have full dedication of these monies before we can even consider any gasoline tax hike. These bills provide a stable funding source for transportation projects in New Jersey, and that will continue our state's prosperity for future years," said Crecco in her testimony to the committee.

"There is no support for a tax increase, either before or after the election," Crecco added.

Crecco, vice-chair of the Assembly State Government Committee, said that "continued failure to dedicate the existing 8 cent tax amounts to a fraud on the taxpayer."

Delegate sponsors state spending cap

Assemblywoman Crecco last week signed on as the main sponsor of legislation that would provide for a state spending cap.

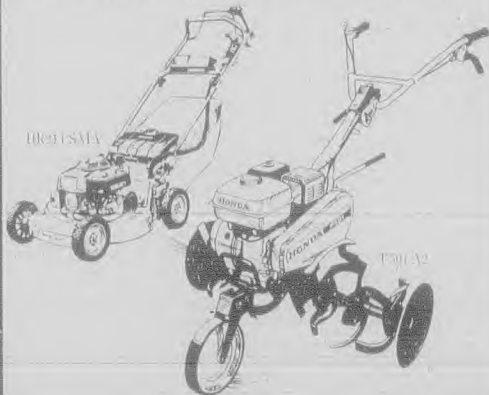

Crecco replaced Assemblyman Richard Zimmer who was elected to the State Senate in March.

"This bill is the most important legislation that can be passed if we are truly serious about getting government under control. I have called upon Assemblyman Robert Martin (R-Morris), chairman of the State Government Committee, to hold hearings on this legislation as soon as possible."

The legislation, if passed and approved by the voters, would limit the increase in state spending to the percentage change in personal income of the residents of New Jersey. The limit could only be exceeded by referendum.

Hospital School holds commencement

Forty-seven new nurses were graduated from the Mountside Hospital School of Nursing during the school's 93rd commencement on May 28. Bernard G. Koval, President of Mountside Hospital presided over the exercises, held in the Montclair State College auditorium.

Among the graduates in the class of 1987 were 15 students from the school's evening division, the first to graduate from this program.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of special awards and honors which were not previously disclosed. The first two awards, the LeBrun Scholarship and the Georgina B. Macaulay Award were presented by Mrs. Sherlock to Cheryl Diane Roth of East Orange. The Phyllis Lovas Surgery Award for excellence in surgical medicine was given to Nancy Ann Caswell of North Arlington. The Edit Conover Smith Award was presented by Carol Anshak, R.N., the president of the Alumni Association, to Christine Feuker of Nutley, the class president.

Mrs. Sherlock also awarded the George R. Read, M.D. Award to Anthony Daniel Slonim of Belleville.

Following the presentations,

Tigers squeeze by in 2 of 3

By Philip B. Di Meo
Head Coach, Tigers

In their last three outings, the Belleville Recreation Peanut League Tigers played their closest games so far this season, beating the Dodgers 18-16, the Astros 19-18, and losing to the Cardinals 22-18.

In each game the bottom of the fifth inning turned out to be a critical point for the Tigers.

With the score tied 6-6 in the top of the fifth against the Dodgers at Fairway on May 29, the Tigers slammed out 8 runs in the bottom of the fifth on RBI's by Bobby Panos, Mike Quine, John Bravette, Wes Tashir and Tony Di Carlo, to take the lead 14-6. Each team scored 4 runs in the sixth.

But the undaunted Dodgers rallied in the final inning of play for 6 runs, narrowing the Tiger lead to only two. The victory, belonged to the Tigers, 18-16.

The victory, Close Encounter No. 1, belonged to the Tigers, 18-16.

At their June 1 contest against the Cardinals, the Tigers took a quick 11-1 lead after two innings on RBI's by John P. Louis, David Tirado, Lucas Cueuccio, Panos, Quine, Bravette, Tashir and Di Carlo. Their lead widened to 18-7 in the top of the fifth.

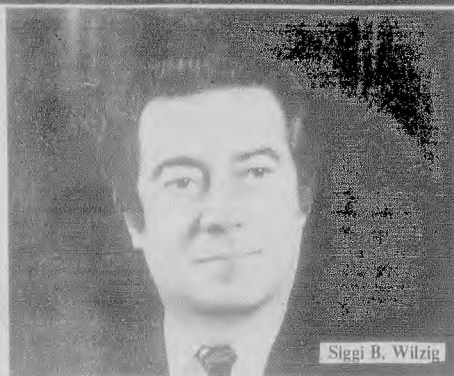

Then came the bottom of the fifth and the Cardinal's turn at bat. The Tigers were stunned when an 13-run Cardinal rally put them on the losing end of a 20-18 score.

The Cardinals added two more insurance runs in the sixth. Close Encounter No. 2, but the Tigers lost it, 22-18.

Town bank hikes dividends

Sigi B. Witzig, chairman and president of The Trust Company Bank of New Jersey, announced at its annual stockholder's meeting the company is raising its cash dividend to shareholders from $1.20 to $1.56 per share.

"The board raised the dividend by 30 percent based on the 43 percent increase in net income for 1986 and the additional 42 percent increase for the first quarter of this year," Witzig said.

Net income for the first three months of 1987 rose over the same period last year from million to $2.84 million.

The chairman told shareholders of the bank's major expansion plans, which include the opening of 13 additional branches.

Witzig also said based on earnings to date this year, net income for all 1987 is expected to rise substantially over 1986, when the company reported earnings of $8.8 million or $7.24 per share.

The Trust Company of New Jersey, headquartered in Jersey City, has branches in Nutley and Belleville.

Rotarians honor scholars — The Belleville Rotary Club recently honored outstanding students, graduating in 1987 and planning to further their education in professional schools. This Student Merit Award is presented annually by Rene Gabbari, President of P.N.C. Corp. of Nutley. The students plan careers in cartooning, nursing and computer science. Pictured are (l. r.) Real Estate Briefcase

By Jack Reilly, G.R.I.

Can you tell me when the attorney review clause took effect?
— T. Woodenberg.

The New Jersey Bar Association sued the New Jersey Association of Realtors some 15 years ago. The suit argued that every time a real estate broker prepared a third party contract of sale, he was practicing law without a license. The Bar Association felt that it would be in the best interest of the public if the courts would rule that only lawyers could prepare contracts of sale. They argued that due to the sensitive nature of the transfer of real property, and the large price tag often attached, the real estate agent was unable by way of education and experience to properly represent the concerned parties legal interests or to prepare the contract of sale.

On the other hand, the New Jersey Association of Realtors (NJAR) argued that the suit was self-serving. How convenient? Lawyers arguing that only lawyers could draw a contract of sale in real estate transactions. Real estate professionals, it was argued, had successfully prepared contracts of sale in well over 98% of residential re-sales state-wide for decades. Real estate professionals work often times late into the evening and on Sundays, during the hours when the rest of the working world has time to buy or sell real estate. If left to attorneys, the offer-counter process would become impossible drawn out and unproductive.

The battle raged ad-nauseum for 13 years. The solution became what is now known as the Attorney Review Clause (ARC). Both sides began to warm up to the idea of a clause that must appear in any contract that was drawn by a licensed real estate agent. It would leave intact the agent's right to prepare contracts of sale, yet give the parties in the transaction an opportunity to seek the advice of an attorney, who would be empowered, if necessary, to void the contract so as to relieve the client of any legal liability in the transaction.

In so many words, it works like this: the agent draws up the agreement between the parties to a transaction. That agreement is binding as written, subject to attorney review. Both parties have three working days to seek the advice of an attorney, if they so wish. The attorney then reviews the provisions of the contract, and takes whatever steps he deems necessary in accordance with the law.

The Attorney Review Clause is not without growing pains, as both the N.J. Bar and NJAR are reviewing alternatives to remedy problems that have arisen since the ARC went into effect. For the time being, it is a better circumstance than what some alternative consequences might offer.

Weichert welcomes Barbara Zage to Fort Lee office

Barbara Zage of Clifton has joined Weichert Realtors' Fort Lee/Residential office as a licensed sales associate. The announcement is made by David Kim, manager.

When coming to Weichert, all associates must complete an extensive, 120-hour training program which helps to prepare them for a successful career with Weichert. All associates must be fully knowledgeable of the services offered home buyers and sellers. These services include corporate relocation, mortgage assistance, insurance, real estate licensing, equity advance, plus more.

Ms. Zage, formerly a teacher, received a bachelor's degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University.

For answers to your real estate questions, Ms. Zage can be reached at 779-1900 or in person at Weichert's Fort Lee/Residential office located at 310 Main Street.

Weichert names Patricia E. Conti top producer for March

Patricia E. Conti, a licensed professional with Weichert Realtors in Clifton, has been named top producer of the month of March, 1987. The announcement is made by Gary Molner, manager.

Ms. Conti, who joined Weichert one year ago, attributes her success to "working for a supportive company with a large professional staff."

Ms. Conti is a member of the Passaic County, Meadowlands, and the Bloomfield-Essex Boards of Realtors. She has resided in Nutley for the past 27 years.

For answers to your real estate questions, Ms. Conti can be reached at 779-1900 or in person at Weichert's Clifton office located at 795 Clifton Avenue.
