HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS — Hanging wires are a familiar site to many police officers in town. Many violations have been corrected but some still remain.

Appointed Board secretary/business administrator

Appleton to return to Board of Education

By Pat Brightman

The Belleville Board of Education voted unanimously for the appointment of Edward Appleton as School Business Administrator and Board Secretary at its meeting last week.

With the approval, Appleton will be returning May 2 to the position he left in 1986.

"I talked to him last Tuesday (the day after the vote) and he was very happy it was an unanimous," said School Superintendent Michael Nardiello. "He feels good about coming home."

Appleton, who will earn $64,200 a year, will replace Dr. Leonard DiGiovanni, who served in the capacity for six months. Nardiello could not comment on why the switch is being made due to possible litigation.

Appleton was first employed as an accountant for the school system in December of 1979. In May of 1985 he was appointed Board Secretary and Business Administrator, and in October of 1986 he left to become Business Administrator of the Union County school system.

"I don't really know why he left, he may have received more money," said Nardiello. "This was also his first job, so he may have wanted to test the waters and see what else was out there."

"I was awfully sorry to see him go. He worked extremely well with myself and the board."

Joseph Atallo replaced Appleton, but he resigned after six months to take another business administration job in another district, according to Nardiello. On July 15, DiGiovanni was appointed.

Nardiello explained that school business administrators tend to be a close knit group, so while Appleton was in Union County, he was familiar with the goings on in Belleville. After a few informal discussions between the two, Appleton decided it was time to return.

"He's a local person, born in Bloomfield and he lived in Belleville for a few years before moving back to Bloomfield two years ago," said Nardiello.

The 35-year old appears well suited for his many responsibilities, he has a BS in Business Administration from Montclair State, a masters degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University and 30 graduate hours in computer science. With this education background, to work with his professional experience, it is easy to see why Nardiello said, "he has all the tools we were looking for."

The fact that Appleton worked for the school system only a little over a year ago is an added plus, for he is not really a new employee.

"He developed a lot of procedures that we have here," he said. "The accounting system we use now was developed when he was here."

"It's nice that he's coming back and he will make a contribution to Belleville. It's great for us."

By Pat Brightman

"To Serve and To Protect."

That's the motto of law enforcement across the nation. With the present conditions of the Belleville Police headquarters it may become increasingly more difficult to perform up to those words.

As it stands now, the efforts of the officers have overcome the deficiencies of the building, but for how much longer?

"Ten years ago they talked about a new building," said Police Chief George Lister. "We saw the fire department get a new building and the Department of Public Works move to a new site and we're still waiting. They told us to be patient, that we're going to get a building but we're still waiting."

It should be noted that each member of the Board of Commissioners feels a new police facility, or an addition to the present one, should be constructed, but costs are still a major stumbling block. Alternatives are being considered by the board for improvements that can be affordable to the town. Once an affordable alternative is approved, a new building will be constructed.

But until that time they will remain in a headquarters that was built with Town Hall in 1913. In those 75 years, an increase in the size of headquarters has not been done. Improvements have obviously been made, but the present facility is in dire straits.

On Sept. 9, 1987 the state Department of Labor sent an occupational safety consultant to inspect all of Town Hall, and when he was completed a list of 133 violations was reported. While not all violations pertained to the police station, many did.

Violations also varied in degree, from something as easily corrected as unlocking fire doors, to more substantial problems such as electrical hazards.

Commissioner of Parks and Public Buildings Vincent Frantantoni has received an extension from the state for the corrections, and has been working at making these corrections required by the state.

"Of the 133 violations we've corrected between 80 and 90," said Frantantoni. "We're formulating the estimates for the rest of them because they are items that cost money, such as putting in smoke detectors."

"These are things that should have been done 15 or 20 years ago, but weren't. I've found out that estimates to do these things were received but they were never carried out," he said.

But the main problem with the present police station is space, or lack thereof.

Records scattered

"Because of inadequate space the fifth holding cell is used for storage," said Lister, "but we can't use it for prisoners anyway because it's not equipped with toilet facilities."

"Our case load increases every year, and we develop more reports. The old vault for the town treasurer is being used for evidence storage, and the basement of the juvenile bureau is used for records storage."

"Public Service wants to change the gas meters but they can't because we have storage blocking the meters," he continued.

"We're just saturated."

Because there is no central location for records, Lister admitted it takes more time to look up and locate a case. As he said, an officer can not just walk into the records room and pull out a file, he has to search and remove many items before he can find the file he wants.

The 90 officers and three civilians who make up the police manpower have a locker room with 65 lockers. It has no shower facilities. There is no assembly room where the officers can gather to receive their assignments, nor is their a training room. Lister said to educate men on the recently passed drug law, meetings were held in council chambers.

Prison overcrowding

Another problem caused by space limitations deals with prisoners themselves. There are only four holding cells in headquarters, with one person per cell, but Lister admitted that on some occasions two individuals had to be put in one cell, and on one occasion, nine inmates were in four cells.

"That's not the town's fault, but the overall situation with prisons," said Lister. "Since there is overcrowding in the state prisons, the county prisons get overcrowded, and that trickles down to the local level."

"It's supposed to be for temporary holding," he said about the four cells in the station, "but last year we set a record, I think, by keeping someone 42 days."

"If we have someone over a week, we take them to the fire department for a shower, but we can only do that once a week because we need to send two men over with him, and we don't have the manpower to do it everyday," said Lister.

A major problem is there is too much integration between the public and prisoners. A police station should have three phases, one for officers, one for public, and one for prisoners. With the present system, prisoners are brought by the front desk, where a resident can be asking a question of an officer.

Home destroyed by fire

A woman was seriously injured early Tuesday morning as fire erupted, destroying her home on Belmont Avenue.

Rose Grecco, 69, was listed in serious condition in Clara Maass Medical Center, after she was saved by fire fighters and police officers who went in the smoke-filled house and brought her to safety.

While on patrol, police officers Tom Rossi and Robert Klein noticed a cloud of smoke at 277 Belmont Avenue, and immediately called the dispatcher and requested assistance from the fire department.

With flames coming out the front windows, the officers made their way to the back of the house where they saw John Grecco exiting the first floor. Grecco told the two his wife was trapped in the bedroom, and both attempted to crawl into the house and bring her out, but after traveling approximately 10 feet, had to turn back due to smoke.

Klein then went to the second floor to notify the people living upstairs, but as he arrived the residents were coming out the back door.

A fire squad arrived at the scene and fire fighter Robert Caruso entered the house, along with Rossi, and a few minutes later the two emerged with Grecco.

She was administered first aid at the scene and sent to Clara Maass.

At this time, cause of the fire is unknown.

Board of Ed election

Stanco feels more outside activities needed

By Pat Brightman

Board of Education candidate Frank Stanco, Jr., wants to give the schools to the children, allowing them to use the buildings for outside activities and clubs.

"I'm running because I think it's time that the Board of Education looked at the needs of the children, and then the taxpayers," said Stanco.

Stanco, who will celebrate his 28th birthday March 4, has been actively involved in extracurricular activities for children, specifically sports.

He has coached the Belleville Farm League, Little League, Senior League, and American Legion baseball teams. He has participated as coach for the recreation football league, and Junior Bucs Football, while also going out of town to coach Newark East Side High School's hockey club and Ironbound Hockey Club.

"Because of the alcohol and drug problems, we have to give the kids an alternative," he said. "There is nothing at night for the kids. We have to find ways to keep the schools open, maybe have a C.Y.O."

Stanco is a lifelong resident of town, living on Magnolia Street. He attended St. Anthony's grade school, Seton Hall Prep, and, for three years, Seton Hall University. For the past nine years he has worked for the town Department of Public Works.

While Stanco applauds some moves made by the present board, in particular the special education and academically talented programs, he feels other areas are being neglected.

"The school system is for all the children, not just some of them. While those programs are very good and needed I think more emphasis should be put on the C and D students and the athletic program could use improvements."

Parent involvement

An area that Stanco would also like to create more involvement from parents. He said school P.T.A.'s are a very good asset to the schools and that the board should listen to their ideas. He feels by having the children involved in more activities the parents will become more enthused and create a larger, stronger P.T.A. structure.

"I'm not saying I want to change everything around, but I'll do the best I can, and vote in the interest of the children, instead of passing things through for no reason," said Stanco.

"The present board has been good for improvements in the school, but it takes so long, that's why it has become so expensive," he said.

While Stanco understands the school budget must increase for the education system to improve, he feels more money should be spent on the children, and less on administration.

"The cost of education has skyrocketed. I realize you can't keep the $9 million budget they had in 1980, but its $21 million now. I'm not saying it's incorrect, but that the costs are more administrative than educational.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

Two juveniles were apprehended and charged with causing between $2,000 and $3,000 worth of damage to Belleville Middle School.

The juveniles, one from Newark and one from Belleville, were charged with burglary, criminal mischief, theft, and possession of burglary tools.

They entered the school through a window and did extensive damage, throwing eggs throughout the school, spraying fire extinguishers, throwing soap and detergent, and writing profanity on blackboards and desks.

The two were released to their parents, and the complaints forwarded to the county juvenile department.

Two Bloomfield residents were arrested by Belleville police on Feb. 24. Henry J. Roos, 19, was charged with possession of a controlled substance and paraphernalia and a 17 year-old juvenile was charged with possession of a controlled substance.

Police responded to a call of a suspicious auto on Ralph Street and when they observed the car, noticed two heads duck down. When the officers reached the car they noticed white powder in silver packets. Further investigation revealed the two had a bag containing a white, rock-like substance, a vile with the same substance, a straw, ceramic tile, and a pack of pipe screens.

A black, vinyl, briefcase, containing a pocketbook with credit cards and approximately $100, was taken from an apartment on Washington Avenue. The residents of the apartment were upstairs listening to the stereo and had their back door open to cool down the apartment.

A house on Harrison Street was broken into and burglarized Feb. 23. The owner came home from work and found his front door unlocked, he had locked the door when he left for work. When he entered he found a pillow case from his bedroom on the floor of his living room. Investigation revealed the actor had entered the house through a screen window and had taken a pair of gold cufflinks, a gold cigarette lighter and several dollars in quarters.

A witness told police he had scene two suspicious persons in the parking lot near the house and gave a description.

Arlene Salzillo, 42, of Heckel Street, was arrested and charged with shoplifting as she attempted to take five cartons of cigarettes from the Pathmark on Belmont Avenue. She has a $75 warrant on her from Jersey City.

A 1983 Datsun was recovered by its owner, after he chased the car on foot for blocks.

The owner of the car left it running as he went into Krauser's to buy cigarettes. When he came out of the store, he saw two white males in his car pulling out of the parking lot. He chased the car a few blocks and recovered it when the culprits abandoned it, not before taking his wallet from the glove compartment. The owner felt the two abandoned the car because they had difficulty releasing the emergency break, hindering their ability to drive at a fast speed.

February 28, 1963...Old Man Winter took a last swipe at Belleville last Wednesday when he dropped nearly 2 inches of snow on the area.

The newly reorganized Board of Education met Monday and approved a resolution calling for a school district bond sale of $2,982,000. Meanwhile, the Board unanimously elected Nicholas S. Juliano President of the Board and Earnest Arvidson vice president in an amazing nine minutes.

Belleville Town Council has some 30 applicants from which to choose for the post of town manager, said Charles B. Tedesco during their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, the Bellboys lost to South Side in the Essex County Tournament to close out a dismal 5-10 season. The score was 65-48.

kids and I don't agree with that," continued Stanco. "They're taking away clubs and activities. When seniors are applying to colleges, the colleges look at extracurricular activities, so we have to offer the children some."

He would also like to see research done on the night school, and see just how many Belleville residents attend. He admits it is an attractive program but believes if not enough town residents use the program it should be discontinued to save money.

"There is too much apathy by townspeople in regards to the board of education elections," he said. "On April 5 they have their chance to make two votes and voice their opinion. April 6 will be too late."

COMMENTARY

The evil of drugs

The recent passing of the state drug policy regarding schools is an excellent idea and a long time coming. It seems a pity that a law such as this wasn't passed before such addictive drugs such as cocaine and crack became prevelant in society.

If caught within 1,000 feet of a school, proclaimed a drug-free school zone, with drugs a person will receive a $500 fine, 100 hours of community service and lose his driver's license for six months. A mandatory prison term of three to five years may also come into play.

Laying down such stiff penalties can only help as by keeping drugs away from school, children will not be exposed to them. Youngsters take drugs for many reasons, most notably because of peer pressure and for escapism. By keeping drugs away from school, exposure will decrease and so will the pressure from classmates. Losing driving priviledges also will play a roll in that being able to drive is a status symbol in high school, and if a 17 or 18 year-old can't drive he feels lost. Driving around with the radio blasting is a great way to impress people is seems, when you're in high school, more impressive than taking drugs. So the student has to decide, drugs or driving, most likely he'll choose the latter.

Student Government President Joyce Longo hit the nail on the head when she said parents and teachers should say they love and are concerned about the children. Many young people are confused as to how people feel about them. They tend not to understand that when an adult is strict with them it is for their own good, not because they dislike them. If the adults didn't love the children they wouldn't waste their time trying to help them. But children may not understand this, and in an effort to rebel and escape they turn to drugs. By saying "I love you" or that they care about them, parents can make the children feel appreciated and the need to escape or rebel in no longer.

The drug law was a long time coming, but now that it is here, parents can rest assured that their children are safe from the evils of drugs.

Dr. Orsini honored

Elsewhere in today's paper there is a photo and story noting that Belleville oncologist Dr. James Orsini was selected by the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society to be the first recipient of its Ruby Lifesaver Award. That he happens to be chairman of the board of the society's Essex County Unit is only coincidental to the giving of this honor.

Our columns carry many stories about people in public life receiving awards, and sometimes they are richly deserved, sometimes not. In this case, Dr. Orsini is an excellent choice, because while he could elect to perform his lifesaving, pain-easing missions at Clara Maass and elsewhere and maintain a low profile all the while, he chooses to share his knowledge of cancer prevention with a wider world, being uncommonly generous with his time and energy in this direction.

He is a frequent speaker at public gatherings and even made a video, "Cigarette Smoking -- The Deadly Link," that is widely used in schools. We at Orechio Publications are very happy to extend our congratulations to this distinguished citizen upon receipt of this distinguished award.

A lesson to be learned...

There was a lesson to be learned from events in last week's fire at the 60-unit apartment building on Chestnut Street.

The fire began around the dinner hour in the basement laundry room and generated sufficient smoke to set off the AC powered alarms in the halls. Many tenants-looked outside but saw no smoke, and the alarms stopped after a short burst, so they went back to their evening meals or to watching television.

But, truth to tell, the alarm stopped because the flames spread quickly and severed the wires. In fact they spread in to tenant storage bins, where years of highly flammable materials had been accumulated, and with that heavy involvement, quickly started burning the wooden floor immediately above, and sent flames and smoke up the old fashioned pipewell that houses gas, electric and water lines going to upper floors.

By the time the fire department arrived -- and that was a very quick response because they only had to go a block and a half -- the halls were filling with dangerous, acrid smoke, and the only safe way of evacuating the tenants was via narrow fire escapes.

Many of the building's occupants are elderly and some are disabled, and that was a horrendous experience for rescued and rescuers. It was a miracle of good timing and good training that everything went as well as it did and no one suffered injury or death.

So, the lesson is that if you live in a multi-family dwelling and the hall alarms go off, regard the matter with the utmost seriousness. There must have been a reason, and seconds or minutes lost early could prove deadly later on. If it proves to be a false alarm, no great loss in the overall scheme of things taking a minute or two to check it out.

Those of us living in one or two family homes are accustomed to battery powered smoke alarms going off during certain kinds of cooking, and how often have we sworn at the offending instrument, taken it off the wall and laid it face down until the meal has been eaten?

But multi-family dwellings are altogether different situations. Individual occupants are not close to or by any means in control of the situation, and those alarms ARE there as a first alert. In the case of the Chestnut Street fire, they did precisely what they were supposed to do, but the occupants of the building, for the most part, did not follow through.

That put us thisclose to a major tragedy!

YOUR OPINION

Zoppi's platform

To the editor:

It is with deep pride that I seek re-election to the Board of Education. During my past tenure as a board member, vice president and president, I have acquired vital experience and knowledge in policy making procedures and the management of the school district.

Since 1978, when I was first elected to the Belleville Board of Education, we have accomplished many of the projects that I had set as my goals.

Belleville's image among the educational communities of neighboring school systems continues to grow. Our students are successful and becoming more and more so. Better than 60% of our students now go on to other education after high school.

Academically our students are generating scores well above the state department standards. Our sports program, both boys and girls, with the increased stature of winning and good sportsmanship have produced the highest standards of recognition and success for our youngsters.

My platform for re-election for this term is as follows:

- * An ongoing revision and review of teachers guides for instruction
- * Continuance of in-service education for the teachers
- * Curriculum revision and review on a continuing basis
- * An additional child study team for our Special Education Program
- * Plant maintenance and repair to continue as a priority.
- * Prudent planning to complete our 5 year facility plan

Sincerely
Ernest Zoppi- 3A

Pathmark needs guard

To the editor:

On Feb. 2, 1988 about 2:30 p.m. my friend and me, in the Pathmark-Belmont Ave. in Belleville, were putting our shopping bags into the trunk of our car, when suddenly a car came up from behind us, a young man reached out of passenger side window and grabbed my friend's strap of shoulder bag, car took off knocking her to the ground, dragging her along the ground until she let go of the bag. A witness took down plate number which turned out to be incorrect. All this happened in the Pathmark parking lot. There is no security guard at anytime yet the manager said they are not responsible for what happens in their parking lot.

So my friend, who was injured about the head and body, is now under doctors care, and getting the bills.

Maybe if this letter is published, it may put others on the alert.

P.S. All this is on record with the Belleville Police Recycling coordinator at no cost?

To the Editor:

I have been reading with great interest the conflict over our Town Hall complex.

The cost so far to the townspeople is already in the area of $800,000, yet we have seen nothing. We keep hearing about how we need a new Police Station, and I can't agree more, however, I also know how desperately our town employees, Mary Lou Hood, etc., need more room. Their dedication to our township is undying, yet they are made to work in a room which you and I probably refuse to do. The room is both overcrowded and unsightly and is a downright disgrace to our township. The people working in our Town Hall deserve better. "Please support them!"

I also read where Commissioner Frantantoni chose Joseph J. Scaperrotta to the post of Township Recycling Coordinator at a cost of $6,500 a year. I agree with Gabriel Nazziola, how can we justify paying $6,500 to Mr. Scaperrotta when our Commissioners make only $6,000. Why was it not advertised in the paper that we were looking for a coordinator. Why was a member of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville-chosen? Why could it not be made available to a senior citizen or a retired person who could use the extra money? Why not ask for volunteers, maybe someone would have volunteered at no cost to the Township.

I know I for one would do all I could for recycling and at no cost to the Township. Why was this job not offered to former Commissioner Joe Grande? He worked on recycling while he was commissioner and did not charge the Township one red cent.

The liberty family?

To the Editor:

Lady Liberty standing there on Liberty Island, all by her lonesome, depicts a melancholy scene.

Some thought should be given to the "familizing" of our cherished symbol of freedom.

We could petition that other Liberty loving nation, France, who gave us Miss Liberty, to come forth with a Mister and a Baby Liberty.

What a sight it would be! The Liberty Family! "Mama, Papa and Baby Liberty," standing side by side -- on Liberty Island.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Belleville is not unfamiliar with Charter Studies, we had one back in the 1953-54 era. The young men in government led by John J. Gibbons sparked the drive, today he is the principal jurist of the Third Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals, but, the effort failed. Belleville residents were cool to the suggestions.

In the early '60s the Citizens Tax Council succeeded in effectuating a change from the Walsh Act Commission type of government to that of Council Manager form, consisting of two wards and three Councilmen-at-large...it was faulted because of poor preparation by neglecting to specify the ward designations, thus, permitting the Town Clerk to set up the wards... By strong suggestion of the then commissioners, who would run in the then pending election, he was influenced to designate only two wards and in the case of one of them, the incumbents feared by his Silver Lake constituency strength, a line was drawn around his residence placing his district in the ward that would strip him of his strong Silver Lake voting strength... politics, pure politics.

Ethnicity played its strong role in the outcome of this election. Only one non-Italian won, although his wife was of Italian extraction. During the period of the interregnum, the period between the run-off election and the induction of the winners on July 1, 1962, a secret meeting was arranged by a prominent Nutley resident of considerable influence, of the four elected new Councilmen...the non-Italian elected Councilman who had garnered the highest vote in the first election was not notified of this clandestine gathering, which was advised and counseled by this influential Nutleyite that a non-Italian bus driver should never be designated Mayor of Belleville. He wasn't, notwithstanding that he had run at-large and the man chosen Mayor ran only from a ward.

Belleville political history keeps repeating itself; the new government of Belleville was riven with strife...a three man voting bloc made up of the new Mayor and two other councilmen amenable to the wishes of the influential Nutleyite soon fell in disfavor with Councilman Tom Greco, bolting from the political fold and a recall election deposed the then Mayor and another Councilman-at-large with Councilman Greco resigning in disgust and the disruption of a promising new local government thwarted by the outside political influence of external forces determined to "run," by indirection, the local government of Belleville.

Another election to replace the removed councilmen was held and two new councilmen were elected, one, the man who led the recall movement and the man around whom the ward designation line was drawn to keep him from running in his strongest political ball; wick, who running at-large won and became Mayor.

Discontent still smoldered and powerful Democratic politicians inspired by a strong and popular woman town chairlady, in collaboration with a powerful assemblyman hailing from Belleville, persuaded the State Legislature to change the statutes, permitting Belleville to hold an election at which they reverted back to commission type local government.

We've had six commission elections in town since then and now there is a current of clamoring for further study, when will it end? We believe as Senator Carmen Orechio states...no form of local government is any better than the quality, sincerity, integrity and competency of those the people elect.

If elections are to be predicated upon ethnicity, the color of the skin, religion or wealth, then the only alternative in the absence of innate ability to effectively rule, is to appoint a competent, well paid administrator to run the community, with the sanction of those elected who are popular and electable.

All kinds of studies will never alter the reality that patronage plums are the life blood of politics and that to the victor belongs the spoils. Apathy of the electorate is the greatest contributor to ineffectual government. Eternal vigilance is our greatest salvation against costly incompetent government.

IT HAS been some time since Nutley Finance Commissioner Jerry Amiano appointed Lucille C. Simonian, career employee, as Town Clerk. Traditionally, the Town Clerk's post was considered a matter of political patronage by practically every community in the State of New Jersey — Nutley was no exception.

It is to the credit of Finance Commissioner Amiano that he removed this important position from the patronage grab bag.

Lucille has been performing at a high level of efficiency, being complimented daily by outsiders who are required to do business with the Town Clerk.

ESSEX County Administrator Carmine Capone is proposing a 400% rent increase to the artists who are using an Essex County 48-acre art park facility. The premises was once an abandoned and deteriorating Nike missile base. Today, because of much blood, sweat, tears — and money — it is a thriving art community that has reached out to the public through open houses, lecture series, classes, art exhibits, studio demonstrations, concerts and theatrical performances held at the art park's outdoor stage. The artists have spent over $200,000 of their own money to convert the rundown premises into studios.

In exchange for the renovations and cultural enrichment they could offer Essex County residents, they have been charged rents more reasonable than those charged for outside studio facilities.

That able defender of the County interest, Joseph Parlavecchio, is leading the fight for the artists. We support Parlavecchio's efforts 100%.

The artists are more than willing to accept a moderate increase in rent which would cover the Art Park's operating costs. The Art Park administrator Ben Schaffer, makes a telling argument to support the case of moderate rents — "It's one hell of a hard life to be a professional artist. If you are a professional artist, you don't get a paycheck — you may sell a high-priced piece but you'll probably have to make that money last for three, four or five months." Schaffer further observes that a need exists to standardize studio rents; from the very beginning, the rents were calculated, in part, on the basis of the money artists paid out of their own pockets for renovations.

It's easy to decide this controversy. For the good of Essex County, it should be decided in favor of the tenants — with the County accepting a fair rent for a very valuable cultural asset.

The problem calls for quick affirmative action by Freeholder Director Tom Giblin and Essex County Executive Nick Amato.

POLITICS should be a contest of ideas. Judging from the names of the individuals who took out petitions to run for Township Commission in Nutley, unless a dramatic change takes place in campaigning techniques among the candidates, the campaign will end up what it always has been — a popularity contest. In my memory, the only time new ideas emerged in the Township Commission Election was in 1932, 1936 and possibly 1940.

To the everlasting credit of the late Nutley Town Commissioner John Lucy — a giant among men — for 25 years, he led Nutley's fight to obtain ownership interest in a water resource to insure for Nutley residents a guaranteed supply of water at a price that would eliminate a vendor's profit. In recent years — and even currently, we have one crisis after another — the latest being the garbage crisis — one that was foreseen some years ago, but no John Lucy around to father a solution.

There are problems facing the taxpayers of our community that should be addressed by candidates — incumbents as well as would-be commissioners. Just making the rounds of house parties with a smile creasing the cheek and money bags bulging from contributions will do nothing to help taxpayers. For the candidates who are not presently holding an office — the obvious question is how would they better serve the public. For the candidates seeking reelection, the obvious question is what are your new ideas to solve the problems that are on the horizon.

FOR those of you who follow the news in the financial pages, it's possible that we may have something in common. Almost daily, I pick up the financial section and read about stock rising six points because of anticipated takeover. And — I guess for a better part of a year, I have failed to read one word of encouragement that would make me feel better about the half dozen Blue Chip stocks that I own. The $6 and $10 rise in value in one day always seems to elude me — and I have yet to meet a person who is lucky enough to hit the jackpot. Maybe — our day will come.

MEANWHILE, back home at the ranch, let us pray contributors to television evangelists reconsider how they spend their money and give thought to mailing their contributions to any one of our fine local religious institutions. Lord knows the ministers, priests, and rabbis in the communities served by our newspapers could well use the dollars that are mailed out of town to some of these phony preachers.

One of our readers, John Lastfogel, concurs in my opinion that Jimmy Swaggart is a 14-karat phony, and he adds to that infamous list — and properly so — Jim and Tammy Bakker. However, John makes me aware that the Vatican which advises the laity not to practice artificial birth control, invests some of its funds in an Italian pharmaceutical company that produces the pill. And John asks me how would I characterize the Vatican's investment. If the facts are as John indicates, I would say it is hypocritical.

A RICH reservoir of facts concerning Nutley/Belleville is to be found in the latest edition of the Nutley/Belleville Yellow Pages catalogue published by Yellow Book of N.J. Corp. If you don't have a copy, you're missing an opportunity to learn a lot about both communities.

FOR a while Saturday morning, it looked like flights to West Palm Beach might be subject to cancellation due to weather conditions. Fortunately, north/south flights were not affected by national weather conditions, and as a result, my brother, Carl, and I were able to take Eastern Airlines Flight 893 from Newark to West Palm Beach. Not only did Flight 893 leave Newark on time, but it arrived at West Palm Beach about ten minutes early. The in-flight services were terrific. The cabin crew was led by Senior Stewardess Terry O'Connor, and she was more than ably assisted by stewardesses Linda Morehouse, Ilona Kahl, Anne Brennan, Debbie Wasy and Madeline Montanez.

The plane was oversold by 25. Volunteers who agreed to give up their seats and take another flight were offered free passage anywhere in the Continental United States, in addition to passage to Florida on the next available flight.

Believe it or not, only five people volunteered. Three were a mother and two children. I don't know what happened to the other 20 people who had reservations but no seats. It isn't easy to work a full load of passengers for the cabin crew, but Terry O'Connor and her team did a great job and Eastern management should know about the great dedication of these six employees.

At the present time, Eastern organized labor leaders are reaching an impasse with Eastern management and the likelihood of a strike on the horizon is very real. Eastern management claims it's losing hundreds of millions of dollars a year. Eastern employees over the last few years already have taken a 30% decrease in pay. One wonders how much more blood can you get out of a stone. At some point, Eastern employees are going to say, "Enough is enough." For most of the past 25 years, I have commuted between New Jersey and Florida forty times a year, and 99% of the time only with Eastern. I prefer Eastern, I like its people, and their efficient service. I don't travel any other airline between Newark and West Palm Beach/Ft. Lauderdale unless I have an emergency and Eastern flight schedules could not accommodate me. I am sold hook, line and sinker on Eastern Airlines. And this comes from 25 years of experience. Eastern today is synonymous with Continental Airlines, and any contemporary reference to Eastern includes Continental Airlines.

Russo fundraiser on March 6

"Citizens for Russo" will hold a fundraiser at Proud Mary's restaurant, 409 Franklin St., Bloomfield, on Sunday, March 6, 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., in order to retire over $4,000 in campaign expenses. The bills are from Russo's 1987 campaign for Fifth District Freeholder.

"I want to extend my thanks to the voters of the North Essex area who gave such strong support to my underdog candidacy, and also thank the many citizen volunteers and small contributors who made our grass roots campaign so effective," stated Russo.

"If our democracy is to endure, and if our Constitution is to have any meaning, the average citizen must have a fair chance at competing for public office," he commented. "Because the increasing financial resources required to run an effective campaign are making it more difficult for those without personal wealth to participate in our electoral process, I must ask for the help of those citizens who supported our campaign in order to eliminate our substantial debt," concluded Russo.

Anyone who can't attend the $30 per person fundraiser Sunday may send a contribution to: Citizens for Russo, 396 Prospect St., Nutley, N.J. 07110.

TEEN ALERT

By now, nearly every parent knows it is potentially dangerous to give a young child aspirin for the symptoms of chicken pox or flu. The reason is that aspirin ingestion for flu symptoms may lead to Reye's Syndrome. This rare disease is characterized by severe tiredness, vomiting, and personality changes. Such symptoms appear with aspirin use at a point when the youngster seems to be overcoming the flu, chicken pox, or other viral infection. Reye's Syndrome is a very serious illness. What may surprise some parents is the news that teenagers as well as children are susceptible to Reye's Syndrome. For this reason, it is important not to administer aspirin to any child with a viral infection up through his teenage years.

Christ has promised He will come again. Will you be ready?

A TV commercial once presented a group of people in an office setting, dropping everything and straining to overhear an important telephone conversation. A man in the office was receiving over-the-phone business advice from a well-known brokerage house. The point of the commercial was "When — talks, people listen."

In business, some voices generate more confidence than others. People listen eagerly to individuals who have proved their reliability. There is a parallel in the spiritual realm. Everyone should listen when Jesus Christ speaks, because He has proved His reliability.

For example, in Matthew 11:21-23, Jesus pronounced woe upon three Galilean cities — Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum. However, there was another city in the same area, Tiberias (see John 6:23), which had no judgment pronounced upon it. Today there is no trace of any of the three cities Jesus mentioned, but Tiberias is still a thriving city. Thus, we see the importance of the single word "woe," when used by Christ.

Also, Christ predicted the destruction of Herod's temple in Luke 2:16. "There shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down." Herod's magnificent temple was made of huge stones, some of which were more than 60 feet long, ten feet thick and eight feet high. Herod, a master builder, planned for his buildings to outlast the pyramids. But 40 years after Christ spoke, the Roman soldiers of Titus leveled the building.

In John 1:47-51, we have the account of Nathanael's conversion. He believed in Christ because Jesus miraculously saw him sitting under a fig tree. Jesus even knew what portion of scripture Nathanael was meditating on. Nathanael learned firsthand of the amazing reliability of Christ's words.

And, long in advance, Christ predicted He would be crucified and rise from the dead on the third day. Not only did He rise again, but He did it on the very day he predicted — the third day!

Dear friend, when He speaks, we had better listen. Listen to something else Jesus said, "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:3). He spoke these words to true believers, for they will be the only ones snatched out of this world and taken to a special place the Lord has prepared in heaven. At the Rapture of the Church, those who have not trusted Christ as their personal Saviour will be left behind to endure the wrath of God, otherwise known as the Tribulation.

Dear friend, Christ has promised He will come again. Just as all of His other statements came true, so will this one. Will you be ready when He comes again? The only way to be ready is to be saved. And the only way to be saved is recorded in Acts 16:31. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." To believe on Christ is the same as personally trusting Christ as your Saviour from the penalty of sin. In John 1:12 the Lord equated believing with receiving. "But as many as received Him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His Name."

Dear friend, the smartest move you can make in life is to listen when He speaks. Make that move right now.

FLOWERAMA
180 Washington Avenue
Belleville, 759-0012

Flowerama was established in Belleville in 1962 by John Iannuzzi. The current owner, Sal Melillo has continued the tradition of service, quality, and imaginative design at Flowerama. A fine location, 180 Washington Avenue, at the corner of Rutgers Street, has given this extraordinary floral shop the benefit of a front and side window display, that is beautiful during daylight and sensational at night. The shop is indeed a local landmark, and sometimes our local Chamber of Commerce members achieve, through their diligence and excellence a national reputation in the professional roster of florists.

Flowerama has ranked in the top 100 florists — nationally — in each of the six years of Sal Melillo's ownership. In 1987, Flowerama was ranked No. 37 in America, truly a proud achievement for a local business and a ranking that confirms the design capabilities of this Washington Avenue business. Flowerama has, in its individual and corporate roster of clients, a veritable who's who of people, agencies and companies that rely on the services and floral design of Sal Melillo and his staff of six to deliver the best in floral treatments.

Flowerama proves, with its local reputation and national stature, that the slogan of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is correct, "It's Better In Belleville."

Belleville Business Desk is a weekly column written by David Bryant, Executive Director of the Belleville Public Library and Vice President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Chamber, who are interested in promoting their business may address their information to David Bryant c/o Belleville Chamber of Commerce, 155A Washington Ave., Belleville, 759-4848. Anyone wishing to join the Chamber, please call 759-4848.

Recycling program picks up

Recycling coordinator Joe Scaperrotta in accordance with Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni has announced the township's volunteer recycling program is starting to pick up momentum and more people are taking advantage of the recycling program.

"The last two Saturdays have produced an above average turnout," said Scaperrotta. "Last Saturday was our most successful day ever and I'm impressed with the potential this program has shown," he added.

Frantantoni was equally encouraged, stating "I am pleased by the larger turnouts. We are now ready to step-up the program and encourage more people to recycle."

The recycling yard is located at 48 William St., Belleville and operates under the Department of Parks and Public Property. People may bring recyclable materials to the yard from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

"As the weather improves and the program is upgraded, I believe more people will bring their recyclable materials to the yard," said Scaperrotta. Frantantoni concluded, "recycling is everyone's opportunity to get involved and help reduce our solid waste dumping costs. I welcome volunteers to the program and I hope people will continue to get involved."

The department has also offered some tips for recycling: NEWS-PAPERS - Bring newspapers tied in bundles or in paper bags. No plastic bags, please. BOTTLES - Clean glass bottles and jars. Remove all caps, labels may remain on bottles. Please separate according to color: clear, green, and brown. ALUMINUM CANS - Separate all cans from all other materials. SCRAP METAL - Scrap metal, with glass removed is acceptable at the yard. Please keep this separate from other material. MAGAZINES - Magazines bundled and separated from newspapers are acceptable.

The recycling program is always looking for volunteers to assist the program. Individuals or groups wishing to volunteer may contact Commissioner Frantantoni or recycling coordinator Joe Scaperrotta at 450-3322.

Medically Speaking

Dan Marucci, M.D.

By Lou Citarelli, M.D.

Question No. 1:

Dear Doctors: Whenever I get a cold and my doctor prescribes an antibiotic, he always says "... and finish all the pills." Why?

Answer:

It is important to understand what happens to your body, how it responds, and what role antibiotics play when you have an infection.

Let us take an individual who has been seen by a physician and diagnosed as having "otitis media" or more plainly, a middle ear infection. The middle ear has been invaded by one of a number of organisms, "bugs" or "germs." These organisms grow and multiply through their normal reproductive and growth process creating a condition in the middle ear which is not normal for the human body. Our bodies respond by activating the immune and defense systems to clear out these organisms. Often, the number of organisms is too great for our own body's defenses to destroy, and this is where antibiotics come into play.

An antibiotic must destroy the foreign organisms without destroying human cells in order for them to be of practical value. Antibiotics work by inhibiting the organisms from being able to exist or by preventing an infected reproduction of additional organisms. Initially, the weaker organisms are destroyed. If the patient stops taking an antibiotic too soon, he or she has created a situation where there is a potential for having the more virulent or stronger organisms survive. The organisms could initiate a more severe infection and possibly a resistance to the antibiotic. The second important point is that an antibiotic should be taken long enough to kill enough organisms or interfere with enough reproductive cycles to allow the body's natural defenses to eradicate the entire infection.

It is essential to take your antibiotics and all medications exactly as prescribed as well as for the entire duration instructed by your physician.

Question No. 2:

Dear Doctors: A month ago I went to see my doctor for a check-up. She told me that I was retaining fluid and prescribed a medication for me called Lasix, which I take every morning with orange juice. The medication worked wonders and my ankles are no longer swollen. However, over the past several days, I have noticed weakness and cramping in my legs. Could this be related to the medication I am taking?

Answer:

Your ability to observe and correlate facts is obviously very good, but before I answer your question, let's talk about fluid and "water pills" briefly.

Numerous patients are seen every day by physicians who notice they have begun to retain fluid. Naturally, the physician performs the appropriate evaluation, including examination and other diagnostics which he or she deems necessary in order to determine the cause of the fluid retention. Quite often the treatment for this condition involves the use of a diuretic or "water pill." There are several types of water pills, working by different mechanisms, enabling the body to rid itself of excess water. In causing the body to lose excess water, many of these diuretics also cause the body to lose potassium, one of the many essential elements our body needs to function properly. Lasix is one of those diuretics which causes our bodies to lose potassium. Not all patients require potassium supplements while taking diuretics, and the orange juice you take your medication with is one good source of dietary potassium.

The cramping and weakness in your legs, in all likelihood, is due to a need for additional potassium. However, there are many things that can cause weakness and cramping of muscles. You should call your physician and discuss the situation with her as soon as you are done reading this answer.

As always, it is important to have your medical conditions followed closely by your doctor and discuss any problems which may arise so as to resolve them quickly.

Opera singer honored by state

Smiling and calling the honoree "a New Jersey treasure," Secretary of State Jane Burgio presented renowned opera singer Jodi Laski-Mihova with the prestigious Commemorative Medal of Honor from the American Biographical Institute.

Laski-Mihova is the artistic director and founder of the highly acclaimed New Jersey-based Lubo Opera Company. Secretary Burgio was chosen to present the award because she has attended many of Lubo's performances and is an ardent supporter of the arts.

Making the special presentation before a select group of colleagues and friends of the opera singer, Burgio said, "I am honored to present this award to Jodi and to be here celebrating with her today."

The presentation was made at the stylish American-gourmet restaurant, 40 Main Street, in Millburn. The owner, Daniel Cannizzo, is also an opera singer and has appeared in Lubo Opera performances.

Many of those on hand for the special presentation serenaded Laski-Mihova, singing some of the familiar songs from operas the dramatic soprano has performed in.

The special award means that Laski-Mihova will join an exclusive group of notables whom the American Biographical Institute has inducted into its International Hall of Leaders in Raleigh, N.C.

Laski-Mihova founded the Lubo Opera Company in 1975 after returning from a singing tour in Europe. "I felt we had a lot of talent in the United States and a lot of talent in New Jersey, but these people needed an opportunity to get started," the honoree said. She has dedicated her life to making the opera company a vehicle for young singers.

Yeoryia Megremis, now a well-respected opera star who will be appearing in an upcoming performance of Verdi's "Requiem" in New York City, said Laski-Mihova "gave me a chance - my break." Megremis added, "I never would have gotten a chance. She helps everybody. She really deserves this award." Megremis recalls that when she was a young struggling singer, she needed exposure, "I needed the experience as well, and I got both with Lubo."

The contralto added that Laski-Mihova is always happy "to see you make it. She wants you to make it. She wants your career to boom."

The Commemorative Medal of Honor recognizes Laski-Mihova's "distinguished lifelong achievements," according to the American Biographical Institute.

The Lubo Opera Company's next production will be a gala presentation of Kalman's "The Czardas Princess," a lovely operetta with a Hungarian flair, Saturday, April 30, in Parsippany Hills High School, Parsippany. For further information about the Lubo Opera Company, call 854-4524.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Year after year, the Belleville wrestling team continues a level of excellence that can almost be synonymous with the Los Angeles Raiders famous quote, "Just Win Baby."

Once again, our grapplers, under the guidance of coach Joe Nisivoccia have made it to the top of the District 7 standings, defeating arch rival Bloomfield for the district crown.

That Belleville won the districts isn't that surprising because the Bucs have just about dominated the division over the past 14 years. The fact they defeated Bloomfield this season has extra significance because the Bengals had beaten the Bucs for the NNJIL crown and Bloomfield was considered the favorite to win the district title, as well.

Belleville garnered 139.5 points to Bloomfield's 119 in winning the district crown. Once again, it was the lower weights which gave Belleville the necessary cushion to win the crown.

District champions for the Blue and Gold this year were Mike Iuliano at 119 pounds, John Stampone at 125, the awesome Armando Nardone at 130, Joe Cerreto at 135, Nick Keykurun, 145 and Ken Henry, 152.

Cerreto was named the districts outstanding wrestler and provided the most exciting match of the night when he defeated arch rival Gary Foti of Bloomfield in the championship match.

Cerreto also avenged his only loss of the year to Foti with the victory. Give some credit to our Joe Piegario on this match. He predicted in last weeks issue that Cerreto would win by decision.

Ralph Perna and Dave Hywell of Belleville advanced to the district finals, but were defeated in hard fought matches.

Belleville won four straight championships from 119 to 135 pounds and produced six champions in a seven weight class span. All told, the Bucs placed eight wrestlers in the district championships.

Getting back to Piegario, he did an outstanding job of picking the district champions, picking 11 of the possible 13 champs.

Our Buccaneers will now head to the Regional championships this weekend, with the states, in Princeton, just two weeks away.

Congratulations to Coach Nisivoccia and his staff for an outstanding job and another district championship. See Joe Piegario's article for more in depth coverage of the big match.

HOOPS

The Essex County championships for boys and girls were played last weekend, with Bloomfield taking home the girls' crown and Shabazz posting an upset over previously unbeaten Orange for the boys' title.

The girls championship was contested at Belleville High School last weekend and Bloomfield was simply awesome in posting a 65-50 victory over the defending champions, University High School.

A good sized crowd witnessed a workmanlike effort on the part of the Lady Bengals of Bloomfield, coached by veteran Jim White. White's girls began to take control of the game late in the second quarter and looked absolutely invincible for most of the second half.

Bloomfield led, 12-11, after one quarter, but extended its lead to 31-20 by intermission.

However, 11 point leads aren't much in ECT finals, as witnessed by some of Shabazz's heroics in previous championship games.

Bloomfield would not hear of any miraculous comebacks, however. The Lady Bengals, who never advanced past the quarterfinals in previous ECT years, took complete control in the third frame, outscoring University, 18-9.

Jennifer Lipinski was the offensive leader, scoring 23 points. Senior Dana Morton was also outstanding, hitting for 15 points and converting two driving layups in the second half that kept the momentum in Bloomfield's favor.

Carla Ward hit for nine points, but her value was most evident on the offensive and defensive boards. With Ward in the lineup regularly, Bloomfield will be very tough to contend with in state tournament action.

The Leacy sisters, Laura and Eileen, combined for 13 points and will have plenty of outstanding games ahead of them. Eileen is just a freshman, Laura, a sophomore. Laura's rebounding was a big key in the second half, as University was held to one shot on most of its attempts to come back.

Andrea Bonanno scored five points and made a diving pass to Lipinski, who passed to Ward for an easy layup in the third quarter.

Bloomfield, the defending Group IV, Section II champs, will lose one senior this year, Morton, and should be one of the better teams in the state for the next few years. The Bengals are favored by many to repeat as sectional champs this year.

Congratulations to Coach White and his team for the outstanding victory. And also, congratulations to our Karen Fucello, who put together an excellent tourney once again. There was excellent fan support from both sides and the game was well played.

For the boys, Orange was beaten by Shabazz, 61-56 last Saturday at Essex County College. The victory by Shabazz could be considered an upset, but the Newark school was the number two seed in this years tourney.

Belleville, of course, had played Shabazz in the quarterfinals and lost a tough ball game. The Shabazz team that beat Orange last Saturday looked very strong and seemed a little quicker than Orange.

STATE TOURNEY BEGINS THIS WEEK

Our Buccaneer basketball teams, boys and girls, will begin play in the state tourney this week. The girls battled Morristown last Tuesday and if they won, will take on Irvington, tonight.

The boys will battle Barringer tonight, on the road, at 7:30 p.m. A victory would set up a game with powerful Linden, on Saturday, from Westfield High School.

Good luck to both teams this week. It's been an excellent

Easily beat Bloomfield

Grapplers capture fourth straight title

By Joe Piegario

To truly appreciate what occurred this past weekend at Kearny High School, one had to be in the bleachers sitting among the Belleville fans. Ray Reboli, the all time No. 1 wrestling fan of BHS, put into words what everyone else was feeling at the time. He whispered in a voice hoarse from two days of chanting and screaming, "This one was the sweetest of them all."

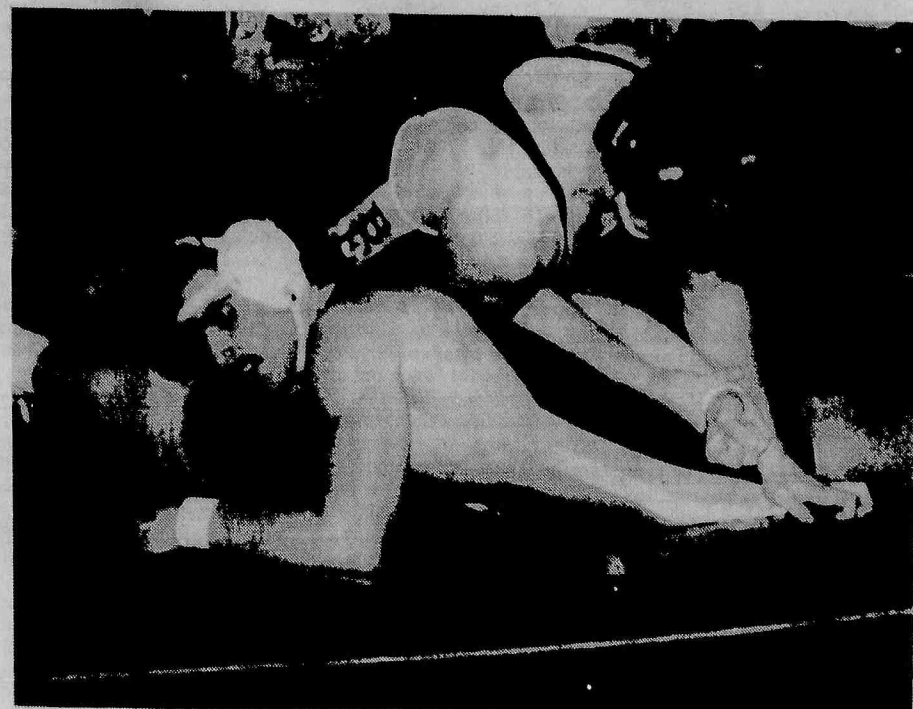

Mr. Reboli's summation was poetic and accurate, as the wrestlers of Belleville High School won their fourth straight District 7 team title in grand fashion. The Bucs won six individual gold medals and added two silver medalists to send eight grapplers into this week's Region 2 competition at Kearny High School.

The Bucs scored 139.5 points to lead the field of nine challengers. Bloomfield was a distant second with 119 points while St. Benedict's was third with 90.5 points. The rest of the pack was as follows: Kearny 81 points; Nutley 52 points; Glen Ridge 46 points; Essex Catholic 24.5 points; Montclair Immaculate 10 points; and Harrison with no points.

Mike Iuliano (27-0), John Stampone (21-4-2), Armando Nardone (26-0), Joe Cerreto (25-1-1), Nick Keykurun (20-5) and Ken Henry (17-7-1) all won gold medals. Ralph Perna (21-6) and Danny Hywel (15-11) added silver medals to end the team season on a positive note. Joe DeCeglie (10-9) placed fourth while Angelo Torromeo, Tom Eccles and Ed Oldak all were defeated in the first round of competition.

For Iuliano and Cerreto, it was the third year in a row that each grappler won a district title. Stampone and Nardone won for the second time in their respective careers. To add a bit of icing to the cake, senior Joe Cerreto was voted the Outstanding Wrestler of the tournament while Mike Iuliano finished second by one vote.

Ralph Perna led the medal brigade for the Bucs by pinning his first two opponents in less than a minute. The talented sophomore then lost a return match with Alan Cayan of Nutley by the score of 7-3 to place second in his initial entry in the districts. Perna will be in a difficult position this week in the Regions as Nelson Cruz of Ft. Lee will draw the top seed. Cayan of Nutley will probably be seeded second, which means Ralph will have to be at his best to earn a spot on the top three.

Senior captain Mike Iuliano scored three Technical Falls en route to his title and outscored his three opponents by the combined score of 50-1. Mike beat Steve Fox of St. Benedict's in the finals 16-0 to notch the 72nd victory of his varsity career to tie Mike Gibbons for the No.4 spot on the all time BHs win list. Iuliano will be seeded first in the Region 2 competition and will in all likelihood face Tom Toscano of Palisades Park for the regional championship.

Junior John Stampone breezed in his 125 pound division as he pinned his quarterfinal opponent, then scored a 14-1 decision over Willie Garcia in the semis. Tom Hynds of Glen Ridge was the opposition in the finals and he was decked early in the third period to give Stampone his second District 7 crown. Johnny has the most difficult weight class in the regions as Roberto Morales of Paterson JFK, Chris Janish of West Essex and Dave Cahill of North Bergen pose a formidable wall of opposition.

Mondo Nardone barely broke a sweat as he continued his quest for 100 career victories. After drawing a bye in the opening round, Mondo scored a fall in the semis before scoring a 16-5 Major Decision over Jamie Stanisci of Glen Ridge in the gold medal round. What made Nardone's victory impressive was Stanisci's refusal to wrestle aggressively at any time in the second and third periods. Once the bout had swung in Nardone's favor, Stanisci spent the remainder of the match avoiding a pin. Mondo now has 94 career wins as he continues to lead the all time victory win list.

Revenge was the prime motivating force for Joe Cerreto as he won the 135 pound crown over Gary Foti of Bloomfield. Cerreto's only defeat, a 6-3 loss to Foti only two weeks ago in the Belleville-Bloomfield dual meet, spoiled an undefeated season. The 5-4 victory for Cerreto earned the Outstanding Wrestler Award from the coaches and gave Joe 93 wins in his four year varsity career.

The Bucs won their fifth gold medal in the 145 pound division as Nick "the Turk" Keykurun scored a 9-4 decision over Dave Collazo of Kearny in the final round. Earlier, Nick had scored a 27 second pin in the opening round and an 11-7 decision over Bloomfield's Mike Volpe in the semifinals. Volpe had been targeted as the man to beat in this division and Keykurun was equal to the task as he beat Volpe for the third time in a row over a two year period.

The evening's most pleasant surprise was the gold medal performance turned in by sophomore Ken Henry. The likeable youngster decisively won Glen Ridge's Cain Dimon in the opening round, then overcame a series of grossly incompetent officiating calls to defeat Lee Herbert of St. Benedict's 8-7 in the semifinals. The championship round was Henry's easiest match of the tournament as Kenny beat Angelo Venezia of Essex Catholic by a 10-3 margin to earn his very first varsity gold medal.

At 140 pounds, freshman Dan Hywel showed his mettle by pinning his first two foes to earn a spot in the finals opposite Anthony Minervino of Bloomfield. Danny put up a valiant defense, but lost a 13-3 decision to the Bengal senior. Hywel will bring a 15-11 record into the region opening round this evening and will meet a third place finisher from either District 5 or 6 in his first bout.

Boys post first-ever win over Eastside

Add another first to this year of firsts for the Belleville boys' basketball team. Last week, Don Roll's club defeated Eastside, 81-69 at Belleville, and the team improved its season record to 15-9.

The Bucs lost to Nutley last Saturday night, 72-52 and will battle Barringer this evening, at Barringer, in the first round of the Group IV, Section II tournament. If Belleville wins tonight, it will play Linden, at Westfield High School, on Saturday evening, 7:30 p.m. If the Bucs lose, then the season will come to an end.

In beating Eastside last Tuesday, the Bucs posted its first victory, ever, against the Passaic County school. It was a very impressive showing for Belleville, who was led by senior Ted Sochaski's 38 points.

"We threw a 1-3-1 trap at them in the second quarter and they couldn't handle it," Roll said. "They weren't able to execute their offense and we were able to get a lot of layups off it. Steven (Schwed, a senior forward), did an outstanding job on defense."

The Bucs led, 20-14 after one quarter, then outscored Eastside, 16-5 in the second frame to take a commanding 36-19 lead into halftime.

The rout continued in the third quarter, with Belleville pushing its lead to a convincing 61-35 before Roll went to the bench for the final eight minutes.

Eastside staged a furious rally, scoring 34 points in the final quarter to cut the final deficit to 12 points.

Sochaski, who had an off game against Passaic earlier in the week, was back in top form against Eastside. Leon Puentes, the Bucs' senior guard, had a solid game, scoring 20 points.

Ray Zamloot, a junior guard who has looked very strong the past four weeks, had 12 points, Schwed finished with eight and

Girls basketball defeats Hackensack

All season long, Laurie Dondarski and Simone Edwards have paced the attack for the Belleville girls' basketball team.

Last week was no exception as the two combined for 85 points in two games as Belleville split two contests last week. The girls defeated Hackensack, 54-49 and lost to arch rival Nutley, 57-53.

Karen Fucello's crew took a 15-11 mark into a first round, state tournament contest last Tuesday with Morristown. If Belleville won, the girls were slated to play Irvington in round two of the Group IV, Section II tournament this evening, in Irvington. The Lady Campers of Irvington are the number one seed in the section this winter, with powerful Bloomfield rated number two.

If the girls lost to Morristown last Tuesday, then its 1987-88 campaign would be over.

Last week, the Lady Bucs downed Hackensack, a strong Bergen County school, 54-49 in Hackensack.

"I felt our running game would work against them," Fucello said afterward. "Simone

Dominick Straface closed with three.

For Eastside, Jay Mc Duffie had 18 points to lead the way.

The game with Nutley had a lot of hype attached to it. Earlier in the year, the Bucs and Raiders had staged a classic confrontation at Belleville, with the Bucs winning a thriller in the final seconds.

This time, Nutley had the upper hand, playing with renewed enthusiasm on its home court.

"We got one shot on offense, they got three," Roll said of the Nutley game. "We didn't have the balanced scoring that we need to win these types of games."

Nutley's Marty Higgins scored 24 points to lead the Nutley attack. He hit five three point baskets, and Roll felt that was the difference in the game.

"Marty played a very good game," the coach said. "His baskets were crucial, he hit them at key times of the game."

The first half was rather tight, with Nutley leading, 25-19 after one and 34-31 at intermission.

However, the Raiders came out firing in the third quarter, outscoring the Bucs, 16-8. Higgins tallied 12 of his 24 points in that key third quarter for Nutley.

"It was a lot closer than 20 points," Roll said of the game. "We just couldn't hit the baskets when we needed them most. By the fourth quarter, we had to foul to try and gain some time on the clock."

Sochaski had another good game for Belleville, scoring 25 points. Schwed also played very well, scoring 12 points and doing a good job on the boards.

Zamloot closed with eight, Puentes was held to five and Straface had two.

And so, it has come down to the state tournament, with the Bucs playing tonight at Barringer in a big first round contest.

SRATO' Belleville's "Season of Firsts" include the following. Defeating Passaic for the first time in 10 years, beating Nutley at home for the first time in eight years, advancing to the Essex County tournament quarterfinals for the first time in 22 years, beating Montclair at home for the first time in 20 years, beating Ridgewood for the first time, ever, (on record) and stopping Eastside last week for the first time ever (on record).

Bucs have not swept a season series from the Maroon Raiders in 11 years, dating back to the 1976-77 campaign when Tom Smith, Rich Baker, Ron Krych, Rick Thomas and a forward named Don Roll led Belleville to a sweep of the Raiders. Ironically, those games were Belleville's only victories that year in a 2-19 season. Bucs finished 8-6 in NNJIL this year, making that another first. It's the first time Belleville has had a winning season in conference play. Of course, Belleville has already clinched a winning season for the first time in 13 years, and its 15 victories are the most by a Belleville boys' basketball team in well over 20 years. The only team the Bucs did not defeat in conference play this winter was Paterson Kennedy. Nutley has gained the top seed in the Group III, Section II playoffs this season.

Girls' winning season

got into foul trouble (two fouls) in the first half, so she missed most of the second quarter. I thought once we got our game going, we could win."

Belleville did struggle in the first half. The girls led, 9-8 after one, but with Edwards on the bench in the second quarter, the Lady Bucs fell behind, 22-20 at intermission.

It was a different contest in the third quarter. Edwards tallied nine points in the quarter and Dondarski added five as Belleville outscored Hackensack, 20-14 and took the lead at 40-36.

Belleville held on in the final frame, outscoring the Comets, 14-13 and winning by five points.

Dondarski was the game high scorer, with 22 points. The junior guard has been very impressive throughout the campaign, as has her teammate, Edwards who finished with 17 points in the game.

"Laurie and Simone worked hard the entire summer," Fuccello said of the twos participation in the AAU. "You can see the work has paid off. They've both been consistent all year long."

Carol Morrison, a junior who has also improved steadily this winter, had six points against Hackensack. Maria Chanley, a 5'11" forward, scored five points and senior guard Racquel Melson closed with four.

Against Nutley last week, Belleville came out of the game very slowly and it was an uphill struggle for most of the contest.

The Raiderettes of Nutley grabbed a 10-2 lead after one quarter, but Belleville came back to tie the contest at 23 by halftime.

"That first quarter was terrible," Fuccello said. "We're not going to get by many teams scoring two points in a quarter. They threw a triangle and two on Laurie and Simone, but they were able to get their points nonetheless. We just couldn't get any consistent offense from the rest of our starters."

Nutley took control in the second half, outscoring Belleville, 11-9 in the third quarter and 23-21 in the final frame to post a four point win.

Once again, Belleville was not effective from the foul line, missing eight shots.

"There's the game, again," Fuccello said. "It's a matter of fundamentals, and it's cost us a few games this year. We lose by four points and miss eight foul shots."

Dondarski (24 points) and Edwards (22) combined for 46 of Belleville's 53 points, with Morrison scoring the other seven.

While the season has certainly been a success for the Lady Bucs, Fuccello sees plenty of work on the horizon.

"We have to get the others involved more in the summer months," Fuccello said. "You can see the effectiveness it's had on Laurie and Simone. The other schools in the area are dedicating a great deal of time to the sport and we have to do the same if we hope to compete and be tournament tough."

DENTALLY SPEAKING
By Drs. James D. Muglia
and Paul N. De Maio
Mr. K. asks: "Why don't some children smile?"
Children with protruding, unattractive teeth often try not to smile. They avoid social situations, avoiding other children and become loners, as they would rather avoid the teasing about their buck teeth from their playmates.
Teenagers, especially, are sensitive about their appearance. Poorly aligned teeth affect not only the way one smiles, but the shape of the mouth and chin as well.
Research has shown that young adults with misformed jaws or unattractive teeth exhibit a lack of self worth and self confidence. This carries over to their social and vocational lives as they continue to smile infrequently and avoid situations where others look at them on a face-to-face level.
Adults under orthodontal care are, in most cases, patients who should have had their teeth straightened as children.
Aligning teeth and jaws, even in adulthood, bolsters selfworth and creates a more attractive and happy person.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Lawmakers in Washington, trying to cut the budget deficit, have considered limiting the mortgage deduction that could be taken on first and second homes to the first $1 million in mortgage debt; others want to cut that to $100,000.

Hot-melt glue guns make easy work of reattaching ceramic tiles, repairing shoes and sports equipment, sealing leaks in gutters, joining wood and metal, even sealing cardboard cartons. Trigger type seems to be easier to use than the thumb-fed type.

Builders are using more metal and composite doors than wood ones in new construction. Why? They provide better insulation and can be made to look more like wood than wood does.

For best results, housepainting - even indoors - should be done when the temperature is between 50 and 80 degrees. If humidity is low, the paint will dry faster.

At the tip of Long Island in New York state, an art museum invited more than 50 architects to design bird houses especially for local species. The fanciful structures were displayed - and moved into, we trust - on a nearby beach.

There's a home somewhere designed just for your needs - and we'll help you find it. We'll make your dream home come true at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley 235-9000.
