Siciliano, J. Fletcher Creamer payments passed by Commissioners

By Pat Brightman

Resolutions authorizing payment to J. Fletcher Creamer & Son and Neil Siciliano were passed by the Belleville Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday night held in the high school auditorium.

Both payments dealt with Essex County Community Development grants for cleaning and relining watermain on Valley Street and Stephens Street. Fletcher Creamer & Son received $95,054.50 for repairs while Siciliano was paid $8,120 for professional services, mainly overseeing the work.

In a relatively smooth and quick meeting, the commissioners also approved a resolution designating a Municipal Supplemental Fire Services Program Coordinator, and to erect signs and install pavement markings on streets at the railroad crossings of the Conrail Railroad.

Two notices were announced during the meeting, one regarding the Board of Education election April 5 and on about flood control. The voting hours for the 5th were set between 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. and sample ballots will not be mailed for this election.

The United States Army Corps of Engineers Report on the flood protection feasibility for the main stem of the Passaic River recommended the construction of a flood control project and will be available for reviewing at various sites within the area.

A third notice announced a proposed increase in intrastate and interstate bus fares will be the topic of a public hearing that will be held Thursday, March 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the New Jersey Transit Headquarters, located on the corner of Market Street and McCarter Highway, Newark.

The commissioners listened to few comments by the public. One resident complained about the condition of the tennis courts at the high school, saying playing tennis on the high school courts was more dangerous than playing football.

Two residents addressed Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli regarding the street sweeper. The first told Risoli that he saw the sweeper run over a large branch and instead of getting out of the sweeper and removing the branch, jolted the vehicle forward and in reverse in hopes of jarring the branch loose. The second concerned the sweeper vacuuming up large rocks that would cause damage to the machine. Risoli replied by saying he has had men sweep the large rocks from the sweeper's trail.

D'Andrea feels more communication needed

By Pat Brightman

Nikki Ann D'Andrea, who has been actively involved in Belleville schools for years, feels there is a lack of communication between the Board of Education and the schools and students.

A lifelong resident who attended School No. 4 and Belleville High School, D'Andrea has been involved with the Home and School of School 4 for the past four years, the last three as president.

"There has to be more communication throughout the school system," said D'Andrea. "It has to filter down from the Board of Education, to the administration and faculty, down to the children."

"They're too far apart, I'd like to see the board, schools and parents closer together," she continued. "Maybe a committee should be formed where one or two board members get together with parents and children and discuss things."

D'Andrea said the board listens to the public but it takes too long to act on the comments and suggestions.

Her involvement with the Home and School has helped prepare her for a position on the board, as she has had to deal with school situations. The main purpose of the Home and School is to have fundraisers so they can purchase equipment for the children the board has not been able to supply, she said. They also have to help in the maintenance of the building and grounds.

"The building and grounds have come a long way since we had committees look into it," commented D'Andrea.

"We also hear the complaints of the parents and take care of any problems within the building itself."

A problem she sees with the Home and School is a problem with the school structure in the entire district, parent participation. There is an 18 member executive committee within the approximately 200 member Home and School.

"There has to be more involvement in both the Home and Schools and in the Board of Education," she said.

The lone woman candidate would like to see the return of a summer school program. She said the program was discontinued a few years ago in a cost-cutting move, but feels it should be returned, especially in light of the fact that 80 seniors from last year's class did not graduate on time.

"We have no summer school so children have to go out of town and pay money for classes," said D'Andrea. "We could cut administrative costs so we could afford summer school."

The mother of two girls, Gianna, 8, and Alexis, 5, believes the fact she has gone through the town school system and having her oldest daughter in the system is a benefit.

"When you have two daughters it hits home," she said about Board decisions. "I would make decisions for the whole district, not just for their schools, but it would still affect them."

The 28 year-old keeps busy with the Home and School, her job with the Department of Public Affairs, where she has worked for 11 years, running her business, Dance Depot, and as a C.C.D. teacher for St. Anthony's. Even with these outside interests, she feels she can devote the necessary time to the Board.

$20.7 million budget is proposed by Board of Ed

By Pat Brightman

A $20.7 million proposed budget, $1.6 million above last year's, was passed 5-2 by the Belleville Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

Board members Frank Caputo and Patricia Pisano cast the only negative votes on the proposal, which would increase taxes by 53.1 points.

Of the $20,700,773.50, $14,076,911 is expected to be collected through local taxes. The remaining $6,633,862.50 will come from federal and state aid, tuition, and miscellaneous accounts.

Daniel Borgo, budget committee chairman, and Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, asked the members of the audience to approve the budget on April 5.

"I'm feeling the tax increase just like everybody else," said Borgo, "and we could cut corners by dropping a teacher or two or eliminating something else but it will only hurt us and our children."

"The problem is not with the board but with the state and federal governments," he continued. "Our costs keep rising while our aid keeps dropping."

Nardiello said there has been a $1.8 million drop in school aid, creating an increase of 39 tax points, within the last two years. State aid will drop $619,731.50, from $6,590,093.50 for 1987-88, to $5,970,362.50 for 1988-89, while federal aid will increase $167,000, from $390,000 to $557,000.

"Belleville is right on the average," said Nardiello about the budget compared to other towns. "Our test scores are up, our curriculum is improving. We must afford our children the opportunity that students in other districts have."

Bloomfield's school budget is proposed at $28,379,647, an increase of $1,402,957 over last year and a tax increase of 41 points and Nutley has a proposed $19,521,968 budget, up from $18,480,000, creating a tax increase of 24 points.

Pisano disagrees

Pisano found difficulty with portions of the budget, particularly salaries. She questioned the pay increases of the teachers, saying the raises were above the 9 percent increase agreed upon between the teachers and the board.

Board President Phil Linfante and Ernest Zoppi, a member of the budget committee, explained that comparing the salaries for next year with salaries from last year's budget was inaccurate because a contract agreement had not been reached at that time. In order to come to the correct teachers' salaries for next year 18 percent would have to be added to the salaries listed in last year's budget, according to the two.

She also questioned allotting $195,000 for heat, noting only $80,000 has been spent this year. Pisano reasoned since winter is almost over, the heating expense will be under $195,000.

"The average over the last few years has been between $140,000 and $150,000," replied Linfante. "We've had costs over $200,000 three and four years ago. Just because we've had a mild winter this year doesn't mean we're allocating too much."

Nardiello said any money left over is transferred to a surplus fund, which has been used to make repairs on the Middle School.

Citizen response

All of the citizens who spoke to the board felt the budget was too expensive, and most felt it was due to salaries and administrative costs.

"This is a salary budget not an education budget," said Ann Brave.

"There was a tax levy of $9 million three years ago and it's risen to over $14 million, I'm afraid of what it will be three years from now," said Mario Drozd.

Linfante explained part of the reason for the tax levy increase is due to the decreasing federal and state aid.

Borgo said 90 percent of the budget is fixed and unalterable, with the remaining money being spent on supplies, textbooks, and maintenance.

Administration has a proposed increase of $37,300, from $785,700 to $823,000. Administration includes administrative salaries, contracted services, and other expenses, including administrative supplies, equipment and travel.

The biggest proposed increase, $1,475,805, is in instruction, which contains salaries for principals, teachers, secretaries and teacher aides, textbooks, library materials, and other teaching supplies. The proposal is for $12,915,581, compared to last year's $11,439,776.

Seek 5-year phase in of court cost relief

By Tom Sullivan

Members of both houses of the legislature are presently working towards a compromise bill that will create a five-year phase-in of a plan for the state to take over the financial burden of the court system, with almost $31 million in up-front funding worked in to assure some immediate tax relief to strapped counties.

The negotiating began Monday as the Assembly discussed Senate bill 1620, introduced by Senator Carmen Orechio, D-30th Dist., and passed in the Senate 39-1 last Thursday. It differed only slightly to a measure already put before the Assembly by Speaker Charles Hardwick, R-Union.

Orechio's bill noted that court costs for the state's 21 counties was $127 million for 1987 and projected that figure would rise to $196 million by 1992.

"The state takeover of county court costs is a major step in delivering real relief to the homeowners of New Jersey, who are burdened with growing property taxes," said Orechio after senate passage of the bill. "The state already regulates the operation of these courts, so this is a logical first step towards reform of a thoroughly inequitable system."

Orechio's bill requires that the state assume 25-percent of court costs in 1989, 50-percent in 1990, 75-percent in 1991 and 100-percent in 1992, and mandates tax cuts on the county level. Hardwick's measure used the five-year phase-in.

Even stronger

"Under the proposed compromise," Orechio said this week, "even stronger language has been produced than existed before in either mine or the Assembly version. Savings of property tax are specifically mandated in the compromise version."

"The bond of any agreement will be the goal of achieving the property tax relief that is so desperately needed, and now we must continue to work together for final draft, then legislative approval, and proceed to our ultimate goal of getting the measure signed in to law by Governor Kean."

After the Orechio bill passed the senate, Michael Cole, chief counsel to Kean, said it would be vetoed unless the legislature identifies the funding source. Orechio said "It will come from the state's $1.1 billion surplus, or any other fund the administration wants to use without the need for increasing taxes."

Orechio also said he believes that the changeover to state funding will result in a more efficient court system. We should be assured a better delivery of justice by eliminating the present disparity in caseloads from one county to another," he said.

He pointed out that Essex County spends $20 million a year on its court system while Salem County budgets only $750,000, adding that by 1992, the bill for running Essex County's court system would be around $30 million.

"Arbitrary and unfair."

"There is no reason why the suburban communities in certain counties should bear the cost of large court systems while similar communities escape their fair share," the senator said. "The present cost distribution is definitely arbitrary and unfair."

Except for locally elected officials such as sheriffs, county clerks and surrogates, the court employees would come under the full administrative jurisdiction of the state court system. Senator Orechio noted that this improved organizational realignment would lead to improved manpower and cost efficiencies.

He added that the recent endorsement by the State and Local Expenditure Planning Commission (SLERP) of the state takeover gives additional "credibility and impetus" to the plan.

As a result of the voter approved constitutional amendments in 1978 and 1983, the county courts were placed under state jurisdiction.

Annual blue and gold dinner

Cub Scout Pack 350's Annual Blue & Gold Dinner was celebrated at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church's Social Hall, for the 48th year in a row, on Saturday evening, Feb. 27. Scout officials, scouts, their families, and honored guests filled the hall on this night, considered to be the highlight event of the year.

The menu was varied, with each den planning their own dinner, and each scout's family contributing part of the meal that was served.

The evening had more in store for the more than 200 people in attendance. In addition to giving the invocation before dinner, Reverend Alfred W. Stone, Jr., Pastor of Fewsmith Church, shared his thoughts about the very special relationship between the Fewsmith Church and Cub Scout Pack 350. Other honored guests who spoke a few words were Jack Dante, District Executive; Kevin P. Slattery, District Chairman; Thomas S. Balsamo, District Commissioner and Cubmaster; Harold Ross, the first Cubmaster of Pack 350; Robert Fowler, Scoutmaster; David Hill, Sr., former Scoutmaster; David Haight, Jr., Institutional Representative, and Bob and Diana Bochantin. Various awards were given to well-deserving recipients.

Following dinner the crowd was entertained by the magic of David "The Magnificent" Hinchey. As well as being Assistant Cubmaster of Pack 350, he is an accomplished magician, who donated his services to entertain the crowd on this special occasion.

The next act was "The Barber Shop Quartet Plus Three," who sang many old favorites such as "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue." They ended their selections with a sing-a-long of "Babyface," MATH WIZARDS — Seventh and eight grade students from Belleville Junior High School took sixth place in the regional MathCounts competition recently held at NJIT. The event was part of a national program to encourage early interest in mathematics. Participants were: Front row - Mark Veneziano, Jihyun Le, Thessa Dala Merced, and coach Mavina Kohn. Back row - Mike Trupia, James Kiernan, and coach Jeff Brew.

Middle School math club is sixth in competition

On Feb. 27 the Belleville Middle School Math Club, accompanied by their coach, Malvina Kohn, and the district supervisor, Michael Lemongello, traveled to Newark to compete in the Regional Math-count Competition sponsored by the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

The Mathcount was a challenging experience since the competitors were the best performers in the preliminary New Jersey Math League Contest. The Belleville team accepted the challenge, worked assiduously and completed the contest in an honorable way, placing sixth in an eleven team competition. This commendable performance was rewarded with a trophy which is on display in the Middle School.

The contestants were: Jeff Brew, Theresa Dela Merced, Lee Jihyun, James Kiernan, Mike Trupia and Mark Veneziano, who finished 12th out of 60 students in the individual competition.

Pafainni joins police force in East Orange

Frank Pafainni, a 22-year old from Belleville, has been patrolling the streets of East Orange for almost two months.

Walking the streets has always been a dream of Pafainni's for as long as he can remember and that dream became a reality December 22, only one day after graduating from the police academy.

"I've always wanted to be a police officer, to help people," said Pafainni. "Just like they say, 'To Protect and To Serve.'"

His goal to become an officer of the law began on August 20 when he entered the police academy down in Trenton. For the next 18 weeks he was put through a grueling regiment of drills, both physical and mental.

"There was a lot of book work," he said, "especially training on how to handle situations on the street, particularly domestic situations."

For those 18 weeks, Pafainni awoke at 4 a.m. to make sure he was ready for training at 5:30 a.m. Part of the training was running an obstacle course and running up to 10 miles a day.

"We started at three miles and they would increase it a mile a day," he said. "Plus we had to shave our heads."

Before he attended the academy, Pafainni passed the Civil Service test, was put on a list, and then had testing, both physical and psychiatric, before being accepted for the academy.

He is on walking patrol, working on Central Avenue in East Orange. He is scheduled for an eight hour shift but, as he noted, East Orange is short of police officers so he has been working overtime.

Pafainni said most of his arrests have been for stolen cars and drugs, and while his parents admittedly worry about him on the night shift he said they are proud of him.

"Eventually I want to get on the Belleville police but East Orange had the first test so I joined."

He has the facts!

25 YEARS AGO

March 7, 1963...A recent study released by the Belleville High School Guidance Department indicated that some 43 per-cent of the 280 member class of 1962 were continuing their education. Office workers, trade, and industrial work claimed some 46 per-cent. Meanwhile, Driver Education for the students of BHS will cost $13,990 of the budget. However, this was deemed worth the cost because it was not only cheaper than a driving school, but the students received six hours on the road, as well as some thirty hours in the classroom learning road courtesy, etc.

Thursday morning ground was broken to mark the first steps in construction of the new People's National Bank at Joralemon Street and Franklin Avenue, scheduled

Musical dream being pursued by resident

There are few who would argue that Belleville is not a musical town. Home to an acclaimed high school music program, several emerging popular music bands, a thriving music store, and schools of musical instruction, the township is also the birthplace of singing stars such as Connie Francis.

This year, another township resident is striving to make his mark in music.

Christopher Bifani, of Malone Avenue, has begun recording sessions at Power Play Records in Newark, a state-of-the-art 24 track recording studio. The results of his work there will appear on his forthcoming record album, "Guilty of Jerseyside."

Bifani, who served as editor of the Belleville Times for the past two years, is taking a leave of absence from his post. The extra time will allow him to co-produce the record in addition to songwriting, arranging, singing and playing electric guitar.

Chief Engineer and co-producer for the project is Power Play owner Greg Furgason, better known to Bellevillites for his Power Play music show which airs every Saturday night at 8 p.m. on OBC-TV, channel 36.

Playing bass guitar is Joseph Campagna, owner of the Bass-mint music store in Hackensack and widely regarded as one of Bergen's best bassists. Assisting on backing vocals is another well-known Bergenite, recording artist Bobby Blondda, Tom Gwynn, from Teaneck, of the performing band Ladykiller, is assisting with lead guitar.

"It's extremely difficult to make it in the music industry on your first release," said Bifani, "but one way to increase your chances is to utilize the best professionals possible. Fergason, Campagna, Blondda, and Gwynn are the cream of the crop."

Besides a "solid supporting cast," Bifani hopes his name recognition in the business will help get his record noticed. For the past three years he has been the "Jerseyside" columnist for The Music Paper of New York, a giant-sized rock n' roll magazine. He is also president and founder of The New Jersey Rock Alliance, a non-profit musicians' support organization. He said he will continue in both capacities while working on the record.

But the 26-year old musician and writer knows there is a big difference between being well-known and well-received.

"My name may generate some initial interest, but if the songs aren't good it won't help me much," he said.

It's all rock n' roll

Bifani declined to "pigeon-hole" his music into one category, explaining various songs include elements of pop, new-wave, punk, and heavy metal.

"It's all rock n' roll," said Bifani, simply.

Themes for the songs, most of which were composed in his Belleville apartment, run the gamut from romance to socio-economic issues.

But what does he mean by the album title, "Guilty of Jerseyside?"

"That refers to the stigma that has been attached to New Jersey - and New Jersey artists - for years. Because we've been perceived as merely a suburban expanse in the shadow of New York. We've been overlooked for a very long time - we've been 'guilty of Jerseyside.'"

"But thanks to the Rock Alliance, success of stars like Whitney Houston, Bruce Springsteen, and Bon Jovi, and my column - which was the first Jersey music column in a New York publication - all that is changing. The media is beginning to do justice to all the good things in our state, and a wealth of musical talent is one of the good things," he said.

July release scheduled

July 4 is the scheduled release date for "Guilty of Jerseyside." The first single from the album, "My Ally," will also be released around the same time, said Bifani.

Following the release of the record, he is planning an array of summertime promotional activities, including concert performances, a video, and publicity appearance.

And if the end result isn't fame and fortune?

"I'd have no regrets. Life is filled with challenges and no one wins them all. I made a name for myself as a writer and that was a challenge. Win, lose, or draw, it's the challenges that make life worth living."

Tvedt becomes Assistant V.P.

Michael J. Quigley, III, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of First DeWitt Savings has announced the appointment of Henrik Tvedt, Jr. as Assistant Vice President of Operations. In this position, Tvedt will oversee Bank Operations at the Association's 11 branches throughout northern and central New Jersey. In addition, in his new post, Tvedt will act as First DeWitt's Data Processing Coordinator.

Prior to his appointment, Tvedt was First DeWitt's Assistant Vice President, Mortgage Servicing Manager.

Tvedt is a graduate of Seton Hall University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He has completed several bank related courses sponsored by the U.S. Savings League.

Tvedt is an active member of many community organizations and holds several administrative posts. He was most recently chosen to serve on the Product Advisory Board of ISC Systems Corporation, Spokane, Washington.

Cause of fire unknown

The fire that destroyed a house on Belmont Avenue started in the living room when a chair caught fire, spreading flames throughout the first floor of the home, according to the fire report.

The cause of the fire is still being investigated by the Belleville Fire Department.

Rose Greco, 69, who was saved from the burning house by firefighter Robert Caruso, passed away this past Tuesday in Clara Maass Medical Center.

The fire department received a call at 1:22 a.m. last Tuesday and dispatched one truck, three engines and one rescue truck to 277 Belmont Ave., home of John and Rose Greco on the first floor and Kathy Gould on the second.

Engine No.4 pulled in front of the house, attached hose to a hydrant and shot water with 150 pounds of pressure for three hours, before finally extinguishing the flames.

The fire caused heavy damage to the living room on the first floor and smoke and heat damage to the kitchen and hallway. Total damage was estimated at $45,000, $40,000 for the house and $5,000 for furniture and other items.

Caruso entered the house through the rear with protective gear, and found Mrs. Greco and dragged her out of the house and into the rear yard. She suffered third degree burns to her face and second degree burns on her shoulders, and smoke inhalation. John Greco suffered first degree burns on his forehead and smoke inhalation.

It was not revealed whether the injuries suffered by Mrs. Greco from the fire were the sole cause of death.

Caruso has been recommended to Mayor Michael Pizzi, Commissioner of Public Safety, by Deputy Chief Gabe Santuoso for an accommodation.

New Horizons honors Belleville resident

Some people may think receiving a trophy and certificate of achievement for courage and participation, and modeling self-designed clothes makes for a fairly busy life.

For Catherine-Gill-Joyner, of Cortlandt Street, she accomplished all of this in one evening, and in the process helped in the research for the deaf and hearing impaired, and AIDS research for adolescents and infants.

Joyner was one of seven models who participated in a benefit fashion show sponsored by New Horizons, held in the YWCA in Montclair last week.

"We started with 15 models but by the time we finished we only had seven," said Joyner.

It was not just a fashion show, it was tied in with black history month, as the show began with Joyner wearing an outfit from 1910, commemorating Mary Eliza Mahoney, who was the first black to vote, in Boston in 1921, and the first black graduate of a nursing school.

"I got a pattern from that time period and gave it to Catherine," said Cilque Brown, director of New Horizons, "and she put in her own interpretation of how it should look and made a dress."

The show continued through time, including the Harlem Renaissance of the 1920's, and even had futuristic designs of clothing for the year 2000.

"Everything I modeled I made myself, except the bathing suits," said Joyner, manager of a Buster Brown shoe store in Jersey City.

"It was something interesting to do," she said about the modeling. "My mother sent me to modeling school when I was younger, but I never modeled to the extent I did for this."

The 50 people in the crowd, who paid $10 a ticket, heard a variety of speakers, including Harold Sims, who was an advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr. and is a good friend of Colletta Scott King. Sims, who believes in non-violent change, spoke to the people about the problems still existing that prevent segregation.

"We wanted to do something for black history month," said Brown, "even though we don't believe black history should be taught during only one month. I just completed a film addressing that issue, urging teachers and administrators not to squeeze all of black history into one month, but to cover it at appropriate times."

OUR OPINION

What happens now?

The proposed school budget for 1988-89 passed by the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night has a proposed increase of approximately $1.6 million, from $19,045,134.50 to $20,700,773.50. If passed on April 5, it would mean a tax point increase of 53.1 points. Coupled with the tax increase due to garbage and another increase, possibly, so an improved, respectable police headquarters can be constructed, the taxes for Belleville will skyrocket.

Because of these factors, it appears the school budget has little, if any chance, of getting approved. Not a single citizen, when the floor was opened to the public, praised the budget. In fact many condemned it before the meeting began, glancing over copies that were available as citizens walked into the high school auditorium. But the board knew this going in, or so it seemed, as Budget Committee Chairman Daniel Borgo told the audience he was feeling the tax pinch just as much as every other resident of town and when Barbara Cicalese chuckled and said she knows it will be rejected after a member of the audience told the board he felt the public would turn thumbs down on the proposal.

Even with this feeling, the board approved it by a 5-2 verdict, with Frank Caputo and Patricia Pisano laying their vetos on it. The true colors of the board will come after April 5, if the proposed budget is rejected. What will they cut? Some members of the audience felt administrative costs were too high, that not enough of the $20.7 million was being spent on the children. A few citizens even said the total is not all that terrible, it's where the money is going that is the crime.

Will the board cut administrative costs after they know officially that the public will not stand for this budget? Or will the children be deprived of more activities, and better learning conditions? It should prove very interesting to see what the board does, if the public does what seems to be the inevitable, reject the budget.

They just said NO!

When voters across the state made it clear last fall that they wanted no part of a major league baseball stadium in the Lyndhurst meadows, we editorialized here that the rejection was their way of saying they want to see an end to further large scale development.

Our headline then was the same as today's.

As everyone knows who has occasion to drive on Route 3 or associated roads in either direction when there are events in arena or stadium, traffic has reached the point of no return. Until substantial and efficient mass transit has been added to the mix, it is sheer folly to add any more places of mass gathering, or even mass employment.

As anyone who has to travel to and from work or school anywhere in the state also knows full well, New Jersey's status as the nation's most densely populated state is very easy to grasp: we have to inch our way, bumper to bumper, most places we want to go.

You cannot live in urban New Jersey and be unaware that our comfortable way of life is being zapped at an accelerating pace.

All of which was borne out in last week's published findings of a special poll by Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute of Politics. According to poll director Cliff Zukin, the results indicate:

● Fifty-three-percent of the state's residents say too much development has occurred in New Jersey in recent years.

● Sixty-percent say that traffic congestion has become quickly and noticeably worse where they live.

● Fully 50-percent of the state's population wants to see a brake put on further growth.

● If growth is unchecked, respondents said, they feel New Jersey will cease to be as desirable a place to live as it has traditionally been or is now.

● The overwhelming majority of respondents made it clear that they do not favor further economic growth at the expense of the environment.

● Asked to choose between strict air pollution controls and easing such laws to create more jobs, 69-percent of the respondents said protect the air. That was dramatically up from the findings of a similar survey in 1977, when only 46-percent held that view.

● The impact on the individual of mounting traffic congestion is determined to be the influencing factor. Forty-percent of those responding said that they had changed their driving habits in order to avoid traffic problems.

"That figure is viewed as staggering in the polling business," said Zukin. "We rarely ever find 40-percent of the public has changed behavior for any purpose."

So, what does this all tell us?

That members of the public see the merit of a rigorous state master plan, with reins drawn tight on the developers, even if members of the legislature don't -- or choose not to.

Just in our immediate area, we have all seen the sorry results of turning developers loose. Route 3 eastbound becomes a parking lot every morning between Route 17 and Meadowlands Parkway as an incredible flow of traffic feeds glacially off the highway.

In the evening, Route 3 westbound is bumper to bumper from Giants Stadium to beyond the Route 23 intersection. Route 80 westbound during those hours can hardly be described as a freeway, and it is heavy going on the suburban sectors of the Garden State Parkway.

YOUR OPINION

Fornarotto's Town Hall decision

To the editor:

Before I made my decision to vote against spending over $5,000,000.00 for a new addition to our Town Hall for a new police facility, I made an extensive survey of where the enormous cost would come from.

After meeting with builders in our area who built police, fire facilities, office buildings, schools and additions to old buildings, I found out that construction for about 15,000 to 20,000 feet should only cost about $100.00 per square feet at a total cost of between $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

With the money crisis we have in Belleville this year, I feel the taxpayers only can afford at this time renovation of our present building and putting on an addition to east side of the building for new facilities for the police. The old building can be renovated for extra space for the use of our Town Clerk, the Finance Department and the Tax Assessor Department.

If we moved to another building we would have to renovate that building plus our old building would cost double.

With the coming increases of our garbage cost, county taxes, school taxes, I don't believe we can afford a new building at the cost of over $5,000,000.00 to the homeowner with over 120 tax points with no revenues coming into our township treasury.

I believe when your home needs larger living space for your children, you do not knock down your house and build a new home with larger rooms - you make additions and modernize at today's prices.

We must bring into our treasury new revenues by increasing fees of mercantile licenses where some businesses are paying no fees or very little. Some of these fees have not been increased in 40 years.

The homeowner cannot always pick up the brunt of tax increases. We should look into other areas where businesses are not paying their share.

Dirtier than Harlem?

To the Editor:

While engaged in photographing some unsightly sights along Washington Avenue, I was approached by a well known property owner, who owns four stores on Washington Avenue near Belleville Avenue, who lives in New York.

Gesticulating towards the curbs of Washington Avenue, he uttered this incredible quote:

"Harlem in New York — more cleaner than Washington Avenue."

I submit this to the Times as "The Quote of the Week!"

Saint Patrick's Day

To the Editor:

There is something inherent in the Saint Patrick's Day celebration, not found in our other great ethnic extravaganzas.

It is that Irish light-heartedness so beautifully expressed in the songs and folklore of ol' Ireland.

I'll wager — on Saint Patty's Day '88 — magical little leprechauns, with a bit of help from those who have kissed the Blarney Stone, will once again transform all non-Irish into "Irish for a day."

Chet Dobkowski

Highland Beach, FLA. — A math teacher promised a student better grades in exchange for homosexual acts in 1985. A science teacher turned a school girl's crush into a chance for fondling and kissing after class in 1986. These sexual advances have been charged to two teachers in the Palm Beach County system. Elected school officials state, "These incidents should cause no alarm."

But 6,000 teachers in Palm Beach County are alarmed. They think many teacher-student relationships might suffer for the two times teachers have traded trust for lust — and for the many accounts of improper behavior of child-care workers toward their charges. Where their innocent gesture of affection might be misread as a sexual advancement, the county teachers' union is telling its members to keep their hands to themselves. Their newsletter advises teachers, "No matter what your philosophical views are in this respect, the most well-intended gestures by you can be taken out of context — protect yourselves." A local psychologist suggests that if kids are deprived of touching, they develop a most awkward psychological view of their own body.

ALAS, without water, there is no life. It is a very precious commodity, and the cheapest product to buy — at least for Nutley, N.J. Compare Nutley with the water crisis in Delray Beach, Florida. Its drinking water source has been contaminated, and the city is obliged to buy water from neighboring Boca Raton and Boynton Beach.

Boca Raton is planning to charge Delray Beach the water consumer rate that the city charges its own customers, $530,000 per million gallons. By comparison, Nutley is paying $664 per million gallons, less $440 mortgage payment, producing an actual cost basis of $224 per million gallon.

SOME landlords will not rent to families with children or families with pets. There should be a law against this discrimination. A pet can be appreciated at any age — especially so for seniors who live alone. The company of a pet dog, in many cases, is more cherished than the company of a human. Through our own experience, we know and value the love of a pet dog. I wouldn't trade the love of our one year schnauzer for many human beings that I know. And I'm sure most other dog lovers have a similar experience.

HOW many of you out there remember the Depression days when we picked dandelions at the old Yanticaw Country Club (now IT&T, Nutley) and brought them home for the evening salad, mixed in with our garden tomatoes. Those were the days that tried men's souls and gave birth to newly discovered depths of character. In many ways, the Depression developed the man and woman in the young. For those of us that saw the Depression claim our youthful years, there are memories that bring sunshine into the heart and smiles to the face. I don't remember a single phony from those days. Everybody I knew talked straight from the shoulder. No fake smiles and no artificial embraces.

ABORTION is murder — and so is the illicit drug traffic. Drugs kill just as sure as abortions. The greatest menace facing today's youth is drug addiction. And it's incredible that New York City is distributing to drug addicts, free syringes for drug injection, hoping clean needles will not spread Aids. If this idea doesn't give government's blessings to the use of drugs, I don't know what other message a person can read into this government sponsored activity.

I HAVE a lot of respect for David Brinkley. But recently, this outstanding commentator made this observation of our presidential candidates, "At times, it seems they aren't running for president, they're running for water commissioner!" Well, what the hell is wrong with running for water commissioner, David? Water commissioners serve a very useful purpose in our society. They administer over the water needs of our population — and without water, not only would we have no candidates running for president, but we would have no people available to turn on their television sets on Sunday to listen to David Brinkley.

The federal government tells us that the illicit drug industry is meeting a $100 billion demand. I can't imagine how much cocaine and marijuana $100 billion will buy, but it represents a large enough amount of traffic that, if there was a strong enough government will to stop the traffic — and resources dedicated to adequately cope with the problem — we could win the war against drugs which has yet to be made by the federal government. And so — with limited resources, our local officials find themselves almost alone trying to deal with the impossible. Fortunate for us, in Essex County, the driving force leading the fight against drugs is Sheriff Tom D'Alessio — and for this effort, our voters should be eternally grateful to a public servant who has dedicated all of the resources at his command to prioritize the fight against drugs.

THE bad news is now public — the cost to mail a letter is going up — the cost of mailing newspapers is going up — and both of these events simply mean the cost of business is going up. Adding to these higher costs recently, news print manufacturers are raising prices 7½ percent. To read the financial pages of our daily newspaper, one would think we are heading into a depression. You can't tell it by these increases.

RELIGIOUS broadcasters recently met in Washington with one goal in mind — cleaning up their tarnished act. They've adopted a new theme for this year — Accountability to God and Man — 45 years of Service and Integrity.

Believe it or not, they have yet to decide if broadcasters should open financial records to the public and detail salaries and other perks. The Jimmy Swaggart disaster, coming on top of the Jim and Tammy Bakker fiasco, is having a telling effect upon the contributions mailed to television ministers. Perhaps, television ministries have a place in our society. We prefer contributing to our local religious leaders who could put our money to better use than the television ministry salesmen.

My recent commutes between Nutley and Highland Beach, Florida included sharing a few minutes with N.Y. Giant quarterback, Phil Simms, and his wife, Diane — with Phil Simms informing me that he recently spent an enjoyable day with my brother, Carmen. Another eventful EAL trip included my friend, U.S. Senator Frank Lautenberg. Because of a reported mechanical problem affecting our Eastern Airlines A300 jet, we were prepared to spend five hours at Newark Airport, waiting for the arrival of a replacement part from Miami. Much to our good fortune, the pilot was able to do a Rube Goldberg job, and within a half hour, we reboarded the plane, ending up with two First Class seats — contrasting with our first seat assignments — I drew a Coach seat — and Frank Lautenberg was standby. These unusual unforeseen occasions do happen — and sometimes, the commute involves added pleasure.

THE Nutley Jaycees are to be commended for their efforts in aiding youngsters interested in careers in recreation through their establishment of a scholarship memorializing the late Parks and Recreation Director, Tom Hanlon. The group is sponsoring a beef-steak dinner on March 24th at 7:30 p.m. at the Parks and Recreation Building. For reservations at $20 per, call 667-8503 or 667-7315. I urge all of you to honor the memory of Tom Hanlon by participating.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: Injury puts you below your enemy. Revenging one, makes you even with him. Forgiving him, sets you above him.

Shipmodels on display

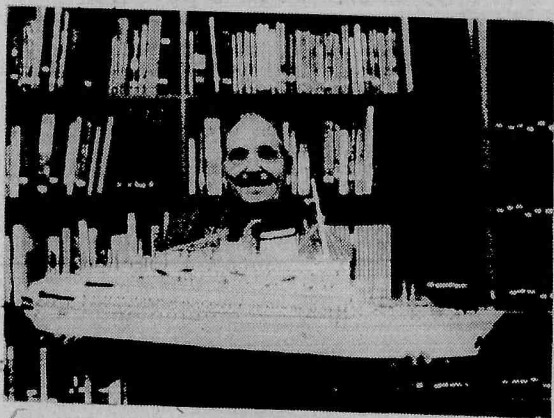

The craftsmanship of Dominick Bonfonte is on display at the Belleville Public Library for the month of March. Bonfonte makes cruise ships, incredible models of luxury liners he has neither seen close-up nor traveled on. Instead, he works from photographs and manages to construct pure examples of folk art.

Speaking of ship model kits "as both too perfect and plastic and too simple to construct," Bonfonte takes a very different artistic road. He starts with a photograph or two, decides on the length of his model version of the ship and proceeds to make a working drawing of the model. For the ship's hull, he puts balsa wood planks into building water, then bends them to subtle curves. He mimics smokestacks by modeling the soft wood to shape and makes lifeboats from scraps of soft drink cans. He adds tiny people, purchased by mail order, to the decks of his ships. Sometimes reclining, sitting or standing, these plastic travelers are glued under umbrellas, around pools, or dressed for a wedding, saying their marriage vows on the top deck.

His work as a laborer, handling steel and iron, installing fire escapes and railings, made Bonfonte a strong man whose physique and spirit make him seem decades younger than his age — 83. Born in Italy, and a Belleville resident for 70 years, he did not make his first ship model until 1979.

He saw the S.S. Michelangelo in a tabloid newspaper photograph, spanning 17 inches across both pages. "I say the boat and I had to build it," Bonfonte said, recalling his quick calculation: "Double every measurement and the model boat will be about three feet long."

Since that first example, which now resides in his son's home, Bonfonte has made nine more luxury liners in a loving and inventive style, relying on tweezers to manipulate small parts

Bellevillites make honors

Four Belleville residents made honors at their respective colleges last semester.

Anthony LaVista, majoring in political science under the pre-law program, was named to the dean's list at Seton Hall University for his 3.6 grade point average.

Elizabeth J. Vogel, received honors from Fairleigh Dickinson University's Saturday College for the fall of 1987, while Robert W. Hutchinson received honors from Dickinson's Edward Williams College.

Lorajean Hesse, a student in the Advanced One-Year Program, received honors from the Katherine Gibbs School in Montclair.

that his big hands, wracked with rheumatism, cannot move well.

Bonfonte's models are a tribute to his clear self-challenge: He wants to possess good copies, in miniature, of the big luxury liners that he will probably never experience as a traveler.

The display of these extraordinary ships can be enjoyed during regular library hours, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Wednesday, Friday and Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., until March 31.

PREPARING — Gil Lopez-Espina, president of the Tri-County Camera Club, getting ready for the Tri-County exhibit at the library. The opening reception is March 10.

Tri-County Camera Club

An exhibition of the Tri-County Camera Club is currently on display at the Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Avenue, during the month of March. The show consists of black and white and color prints, with an array of styles and subject matter, including sceneries, people, wildlife, patterns, and abstract. Opening reception will be held March 10 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Library and the public is invited to attend.

The Tri-County Camera Club consists of beginning as well as internationally recognized photographers, who meet the first Tuesday of every month from September to May at the Nutley Historical Museum, 65 Church Street. Meetings begin at 8 p.m. and new members are always welcome.

Mineralogist at Library

Well-known mineralogist Irving Folk of Belleville will show gemstones and answer questions concerning lapidary and mineralogy in a program March 15 at 10:30 a.m. at the Library. The same program will be held March 16 at 10:30 a.m. at the Shafter Branch Library.

His famous 6-foot gemstone exhibit has been seen by over 100,000 people. It illustrates gemstones before and after being cut and polished.

Folk will show some of his new experimentation in process.

Trees

"And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water" (Ps. 1:3).

Who shall be like a tree? The good man, any one who loves God, and loves his Bible and loves to do right.

How many kinds of trees are there? How many kinds of people are there? The sinner is a dead tree in God's great field of earth. He is in the way of those who teach the truth and of those who do good; his influence and example do much evil. But our text does not talk about the dead trees; it tells of the live ones. In the 104th Psalm it is said: "The trees of the Lord are full of sap"; they are not dead ones, they are all alive.

The trees can teach us many lessons:

1. Grow straight and beautiful. Live a life so you will have a good reputation; do not let any sin make you grow crooked and full knots and gnarls.

2. Be sound of heart. Some beautiful trees are rotten-hearted, hollow-hearted. They are dying trees, they are hypocrites, the lumber man cuts one down and it cannot be used. Be honest, be true and sincere, be what you want people to think you are.

3. Be strong. Do not let any little wind of temptation blow you over. Overcome evil with good. Sometimes the winds topple even with good. Sometimes the winds topple even live trees in the forest, but God is better to His children than trees. "Ye shall not be tempted above that ye are able."

4. Keep growing. Last winter was cold, last summer was hot, but every live tree grew a little; it added one more ring to the trunk, a few more twigs to the branches. Do not let trouble keep you from growing in faith; do not let hard work keep you from growing in love; keep growing every year.

5. Give help to others. All live trees are of some use — shade, timber, nuts or fruits. Every Christian can be of some use in the world. Find your work and do it well.

6. God cares for all. For every tree there is a place to grow, plenty of air, light and rain. There is also for you all that you need. God cares for all His children. He never has forgotten one; He will never fail you nor forsake you.

7. Be contented. No tree ever worries, fusses or grumbles. Does it grow in a wilderness? It may yet be a part of a city palace. Is your life lonely or sad? Some day death will transplant you into the great city of heaven.

The trees look in at your window, they smile down upon you along the streets. Learn the lessons that they teach, and you may be like a tree planted by the river of water.

Chamber of Commerce Business Desk

By David Bryant

Dr. Paul Stefanelli
567 Franklin Avenue
Belleville, N.J. 07109

Dr. Paul Stefanelli brings contemporary chiropractic care and the very latest treatments as well as instrumentation to his office in Belleville. A new Chamber of Commerce member, Dr. Stefanelli practices at 567 Franklin Avenue in Belleville. During a patient's first visit to Dr. Stefanelli, an analysis of the health history of the patient will be made. This will be followed by a consultation, then a thorough orthopedic, neurological and chiropractic spinal examination. This first office visit includes x-rays and advice on the need for other diagnostic tests.

A graduate of the Life Chiropractic College in 1986, Dr. Stefanelli has extensive training and has carefully researched an important chiropractic corrective procedure: the Gonstead Method. His skills as a clinician with the Gonstead Method have led to Dr. Stefanelli's teaching the approach and having many patients referred to his care for the implementation of the Gonstead Method.

With a full staff, including Mrs. Debi Stefanelli, who offers deep muscle massage to expand the offerings of his fully equipped office.

Dr. Paul Stefanelli brings the kind of state-of-the-art expertise to chiropractic, that finds his new office in Belleville an important addition to the health care possibilities in our community. Dr. Stefanelli is one of over 160 members of the Chamber of Commerce who believe, "It's Better In Belleville!"

Belleville Business Desk is a weekly column written by David Bryant, Executive Director of the Belleville Public Library and one of the vice presidents of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Chamber who are interested in promoting their business, may address their information to David Bryant c/o Belleville Chamber of Commerce, 155A Washington Ave., Belleville, N.J. 07109, 759-4848. Anyone wishing to join the Chamber... please call 759-4848 between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

OPEN UP AND SAY AAAH — That is not exactly the case when you visit Dr. Paul Stefanelli and wife Debi who have a chiropractic office on Franklin Avenue in Belleville.

Modeling career being pursued by town beauty

By Pat Brightman

One look at Anna Turano and you can see she belongs in front of the camera or on the runway of a stage, modeling the latest fashions.

That is quickly becoming a reality as the 20 year-old, 5'10", blonde-haired, blue-eyed beauty recently finished first runner-up in "American Stars Model and Talent Showcase Contest," held in the Showboat Hotel and Casino in Atlantic City, home of beauty pageants.

With this impressive showing in only her first competition, Turano advances to "The Model of the Year American Stars" pageant, March 20, at the Atlantis Casino Hotel.

"They had private screenings at school," said Turano, "and they had an interview and I gave them a tape of my voice. After a week they mailed me a notice saying I was one of the contestants."

So Turano, who graduated from Belleville High School in 1986, and 22 family and friends, made the trip to Atlantic City for the competition. Turano said the organizers of the event saw approximately 100 people a day for a month for the five divisions before narrowing the field down.

Turano was one of six for the Ms. Talent Division and received trophies for winning the showmanship and photogenic aspects of the competition. Unfortunately that was not enough as she lost by one scant point.

"They judged you on poise, showmanship, photogenic routine, on-stage presence, a lot of different things," said Turano.

"I'm satisfied with how I did but I'm a little disappointed because I only lost by one point."

Even with the disappointment she found time to go out with her friends and family and celebrate her finish in the casinos after the competition. She did not receive any money for her showing but she was awarded a number of gifts, including a gold ring and sterling necklace.

Her career may receive another boost on the 20th when she competes in the model of the year pageant, which is slightly different from the one she just participated in. Turano said this one will be strictly a modeling event, with posture, performance on the runway, and how a contestant can act, being the main components.

"I just hope I do as well in this upcoming competition as I did in this last one," said Turano.

She will graduate this week from John Casablanca Modeling School in East Orange, where she has been learning her trade for the past four months.

"I was into singing and acting, and because of my height, people said I should become a model," she said.

"I decided to get into modeling from there and I heard a lot of good things about Casablanca," she continued. "They're affiliated with Elite which is the top modeling company."

After graduation she plans on visiting New York City and look into modeling agencies. She has already been approached by one which was impressed by her showing in the competition last month and requested that she send them her portfolio.

Regardless of how she finishes later this month, it seems that her modeling career has gotten off to a promising beginning.

Two residents become state police officers

Two Belleville residents, Frank Bayo and John Gary Cappetti, were among the 88 recruits in the 110th Recruit Training Class which graduated Feb. 25 at the State Police Academy, located on the grounds of the United States Training Center, Fort Dix, according to an announcement by Colonel Clinton L. Pagano, State Police Superintendent.

Monsignor John J. Petrillo, Chancellor, Seton Hall University, was the principal speaker. The Honorable Cary Edwards, Attorney General, and the Honorable James A. Courter, U. S. Congressman, addressed the members of the class.

Lieutenant Colonel Joseph A. Flynn, State Police Deputy Superintendent, administered the oath of office, and Colonel Pagano presented badges to the new troopers. Captain Carl A. Williams, State Police Academy Training Officer, presented the class. Invocation and benediction was given by Reverend John J. Mannion, State Police Chaplain.

A training demonstration consisting of military drill, physical conditioning, and self-defense by the graduating class followed the formal indoor ceremony.

The graduation ceremony marked the end of the intensive pre-service training program which began October 18, 1987. The new probationary troopers were granted duty leave until Feb. 29, when they reported to their assigned troop headquarters for their respective station assignment.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

For a number of years, questions have been raised about the tardy filing and publication of Belleville's Registered Municipal Accountant's report of audit. Frequent extensions had been granted in the past by previous local governing officials which condoned these unwarranted delays, however, things are very much different now.

The Belleville Mayor and all the commissioners are now in receipt of correspondence from the Director of the State Division of Local Government Services, Barry Skokowski. He advises them that in a memorandum dated August 28, 1987, all Registered Municipal Accountants in the State of New Jersey on the advice of their Deputy Attorney General that this Division (Division of Local Governmental Services) could no longer grant extensions of time for completion of statutory audits beyond the NJSA 40A:5-4 filing date of May 31. Also, since both state and federal single audits are due at the same time as the statutory audit, the same submission date would apply.

Henceforth, all audits not filed by the above statutory date become delinquent. Accordingly this division is now compelled to impose appropriate temporary remedial action allowed under statute to cause such 1986 audits outstanding to be performed and submitted post haste.

In this regard, I must notify you (Belleville Mayor and commissioners) that unless the audit filing requirements of NJSA:5-6 are satisfied forthwith, you shall jeopardize review and approval of your 1988 annual budget pursuant to NJSA 40A:4-76 and 79.

The Director thanks the Mayor and commissioners for their anticipated cooperation in this matter of mutual concern and in assisting his department in carrying out their statutory mandate pursuant to NJSA 40A:4-77.

The Director concludes by suggesting that they (Mayor and commissioners) not hesitate to contact his office for further information and guidance if necessary.

We are more than pleased that this firm action is now being taken; for too long have Belleville's Reports of Audit been delinquent...to date, the last published Belleville Report of Audit was for 1985.

It would appear incumbent upon Mayor Pizzi and the Commissioners to call upon the Town Treasurer, the Town Attorney and the Town Prosecutor to look in upon these developments and to determine the reasons for the delayed filing and the cause and to assess responsibility; likewise, review of the Registered Municipal Accountant's services should be meticulously pursued and evaluated.

These costly, but essential services which examine and review the fiscal disbursements of the community are most significant, especially at a time of financial crisis such as beset this community with its multitude of harrying problems.

Even more threatening is the aspect of being denied review and approval of Belleville's 1988 annual budget which must meet state requirements, as pointed out in the director's letter to our Mayor and commissioners.

We still entertain the conviction that, until many accumulated vexing town matters are straightened out and resolved, Belleville is sorely in need of an experienced, well paid professional administrator to sort out and resolve the host of problems that plague our governing officials and our beleaguered taxpayers...this is no slight or reflection upon our Mayor or Commissioners...who are part-time men doing a part-time job.

PROBLEMS OF THE HEART

The most common symptoms of heart disease are angina and heart-beat irregularities. Angina is chest pain that is brought about by the heart's inability to receive enough oxygen-carrying blood. Heart-beat irregularities range from skipped beats to an accelerated heart beat. One family of drugs that's able to relieve and regulate these heart problems is the beta blockers. These versatile drugs not only relieve the pain of angina and restore a normal rhythm to heart beats, they also lower blood pressure. Extreme care must be taken, however, to see that a beta blocker drug is not taken concurrently with a diuretic drug. The result may be a severe drop in blood pressure upon rising from a sitting position. Seizure or shock may ensue.

Special care is taken in filling all prescriptions at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Personal service and attention is given to all our customers. Make us your family drug store. Bulk needs, greeting cards, cosmetics and toiletries are stocked. Hours: 9 a.m. - 10 p.m. daily, 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Sundays.

Boy Scouts participate in derby

Belleville scout troops participated in the Yanticaw District of Essex Council's 2nd Annual Klondike Derby, held recently at Garret Mountain Reservation, West Paterson. The Yanticaw district consists of Boy Scout troops in Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield.

Four Belleville troops participated in this years event which was won by Troop 147, Nutley. The Penguin team of Troop 307, consisted of captain Nick Tuliano and Ara Akion, Jared Nappi, Scott Mayers, David Hagedorn, Paul Madelena, and Damien Safante. The Icebergs team of Troop 301, captain Chris Talbot, Michael Sobanko, David Kohn, Sung-Bok Lee, and Ruben Scolavino. The Huskies team of Troop 350, captain Kevin Burbank, Anthony Rasczyk, Mike Kholer, Amol Shaka, Robert Talavera, Mike Watisifer, and Mark Lorig. And finally, the Valkyries team of Troop 306, captain Rocky Russo, Brian Doyle, Michael Bruno, Michael Nemec, Kevin Ernst, and Frank Nemec.

All participants agreed that the weather was perfect with hard packed snow and warm sunny conditions. This was a far cry from last year's Derby where low temperatures combined with freezing winds forced eleven of the fourteen teams to return to Headquarters before finishing the ten stations.

This year an effort was made to get first hand knowledge of the 1898 Alaskan-Yukon Goldrush by Scoutmaster "Klondike Al" Welenofsky who along with Scout Sean Reilly, hiked the 33 mile Chilkoot Trail From Dyea, outside of Skagway Alaska, to Lake Bennett in British Columbia this past summer. From Lake Bennett, the sourdoughs boated down the Yukon River to Whitehorse. Yukon, thence to Dawson and the goldfields. Welenofsky and Reilly hiked through fields of snow in July, passing relics and debris from the Goldrush times. The pair was assisted by Bela Schwartz who served as the road crew. The three also toured Whitehorse Yukon, which included a boat trip to Miles Canyon on the Yukon River, where many Klondikers lost their lives in the turbulent waters. The Whitehorse Rapids Dam makes the boat trip possible today.

At the Derby, the opening race at Dyea, on about six inches of untouched snow, resembled the snowy Yukon, the setting of the original Klondike goldrush. The Scouts pulled their heavy sledges through the snow, seeking high scores at the various "towns." From Dyea, each team went its own way, hoping to turn its map reading skills into extra points by going to a designated town first. Towns bore authentic Alaskan Chilkoot Trail names like Sheep Camp, Skagway, Lindeman City, Porcupine Hill, Bennett, and Canyon City. At each town the Scouts sought high scores by showing their skills and knowledge in first aid, care and safe use of knife and axe, building a fire with flint and steel, map reading and the use of a compass. They demonstrated knowledge of knots and lashings and answered a list of questions on Scouting history and principles. They also displayed and described winter preparedness. Each sledge was weighed to be sure it was enough of a burden to pull around.

The Derby was organized by District Activities Chairman Mike Groome Sr., Al C. Welenofsky, and Bela Schwartz. Each town was staffed by volunteer adult Scout leaders and older Scouts. Others provided support as starters, scorekeepers, first aid squad members and whatever else was necessary. The Mayors and staff tested the teams and reported their scores to Whitehorse, Derby headquarters, named for the capital of the Yukon Territory. When all scores were in and all sledges back, the final winner emerged.

The 14 troops that participated showed renewed interest as compared to the nine troops that participated in 1987. Each of the 101 Scouts in the Derby received a patch and a Certificate of Participation. All in all everyone had a great day, and everyone is looking forward to an even more successful 3rd Annual Yanticaw District Klondike Derby in January of 1989!

SHAKE ON IT — Robert R. Ferguson Jr., left, chairman of First Fidelity Bancorporation, and Harold W. Pote, president and chief executive officer, shake hands on the merger, which creates a $29 billion super regional banking company.

First Fidelity Bank merger

A $29 billion, New Jersey based banking giant, First Fidelity Bankcorporation, ranking among the nation's top 20 bank holding companies, has been created by the merger of First Fidelity Bankcorporation of Newark and Fidelity Inc. of Philadelphia.

The combination of the two organizations creates a new super regional interstate banking company, but will in no way affect operations at any First Fidelity bank or its affiliate Morris Savings Bank.

In Pennsylvania there are three affiliates: Fidelity Bank, Merchants Bank and Merchants Bank North.

Throughout the new First Fidelity

Bankcorporation system, there are now almost 500 banking offices in all 21 counties of New Jersey and the 14 easternmost counties of Pennsylvania.

The new parent company will be headquartered at a New Jersey location to be selected. Robert R. Ferguson, Jr., is chairman, and Harold W. Pote is the president and chief executive officer. Ferguson had served as president and chief executive of former First Fidelity Bankcorporation, and Pote was president and chief executive officer of Fidelity Inc.

Ferguson is succeeded in his former position by Edward D. Knapp, who will also serve as vice chairman of the new First Fidelity Bankcorporation.

Ferguson said the new company will have many opportunities to grow and prosper in one of the nation's best banking market areas. Pote stated "We expect to be able to provide benefits not only to shareholders who have now succeeded to the new corporation's ownership, but to customers who will have the advantage of its increased capacities in banking services."

The common and preferred stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, but the common stock symbol of First Fidelity Bankcorporation, FFB, will remain unchanged.

Ruffalo to represent U.S.

Richard Ruffalo has been selected to represent the United States in the VIII Paralympic Games to be held in Seoul, Korea, in October. Disabled athletes from the world over will assemble in Seoul to compete in the spirit of friendly competition and, for the first time in history, will compete in the same venues used by the world's able-bodied athletes.

Ruffalo will compete as a member of the 1988 United States Disabled Sports Team and will vie for a gold medal in shotput, discus and javelin.

In order for Ruffalo and nearly 500 other selectees to compete in these Games, $3,500 must be raised on behalf of each selectee. Tax deductible gifts may be made to the Richard Ruffalo/USODA Fund.

For further information, or to lend a helping hand, please contact Rose F. Ruffalo, who is the local Fund Raising Coordinator, at 743-8688.

Correction made

In the Feb. 11 issue of the Belleville Times, the article "Vander Zwan is elected to replace Nazzola" contained a sentence "Among the prominent members of the CCB who resigned with (Gabe) Nazzola were Ann Brave and Mario Drozd."

Brave has since told the Times she did not resign with Nazzola, she left the organization for her own reasons. Those reasons are, in her opinion, the recent CCB elections were "kangaroo elections" that were not democratic because a number of people walked out of the election and there was discrimination regarding potential new members, she said.

It is for these reasons, not because Nazzola resigned, that she left the organization.

"Your Health Is Our Concern"

NOT THE SKIM.

Some newspapers don't get read — they get skimmed. Readers skim the headlines, the pictures, the ads. Not in The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times or Bloomfield Life. They are not filled with "canned" material like many newspapers. No photos from Lebanon, no syndicated columns from Washington, no wire service stories from other far-off places. Our papers are filled every week with local stories and pictures about local people and local happenings. No wonder they're so well read. We give you the cream, not the skim.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becherer — nee Donna Giordano

Honeymoon in Poconos for the Becherers

Donna Giordano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Giordano of Belleville, and Charles Becherer, son of Mrs. Marie Becherer of Parsippany and the late Carl Becherer, were married Feb. 13 in Silver Lake Baptist Church.

The Rev. Gerald Fortunato performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Essex Manor, Bloomfield.

Escorted down the aisle by her son, Dean Nance, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a lace bodice and accented with sequins and pearls. A Juliet cap held her veil and she carried a cascade of red rosebuds and babies breath.

Diane Napurano of Belleville was matron of honor with Marcella Baglione of Newark as maid of honor. Flower girls were Darlene Becherer of Bloomfield and Jennifer Nance of Belleville.

The honor attendants were attired in tea length red satin and lace dresses. Headpieces were red silk flowers and they carried colonial bouquets of red rosebuds with babies breath. The flower girls, in red satin dresses, carried baskets of rosebuds and babies breath.

Michael Napurano of Belleville served as best man with Nicky Baglione of Newark ushering.

Mrs. Giordano chose a beige crepe dress and wore a corsage of silk gardenias.

Mrs. Becherer is a secretary with Precision Home Improvement Co., Belleville.

Mr. Becherer is a surveyor with Carco Inc., Port Elizabeth.

The couple is living in Belleville after honeymooning in the Poconos.

Belleville Times SPORTS

She first appeared on the scene as an unassuming freshman in the fall of 1985. While it was evident she had talent, it was also evident that that talent needed a good deal of refining.

Now, three seasons later, Simone Edwards has added her name to a very elite list. The junior forward scored her 1,000th career point for the Belleville girls' basketball team last week. She becomes only the second player in girls' basketball history at Belleville to score 1,000 points. The other player, of course, is Jennifer Apicella, who scored over 3,000 in a marvelous career from 1980-84.

"Simone is a prime example of a player who worked hard to get to where she is," head coach Karen Fuccello said. "This is a player who strives to be good. She has come a long way since her freshman year and the hard work is evident."

Edwards started her freshman season on the junior varsity squad, along with her good friend, Laurie Dondarski. The early times weren't easy. The 1985-86 club was 2-18 and many of the losses were lopsided. Edwards and Dondarski saw playing time, especially in the second half of the year, but learning a complicated varsity system wouldn't come overnight.

To her credit, Edwards is a tremendous all around athlete.

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

During the fall, she can be found on the volleyball court, where she has earned NNJIL honors the past two years for coach Grac Worley. In the spring time, she continues to perform for Fuccello this time as a member of the girls' track team.

As her athletic ability continued to blossom, her leadership qualities also took shape.

"She has emerged as a quiet leader," Fuccello said of Edwards. "She knows what has to be done and leads the team by example. She encourages the younger players to do well and has really developed into a fine all around player."

Edwards played a phenomenal game against Irvington in the Group IV, Section II playoffs last Thursday. She hit for 30 points, including her 1,000th career point, and nailed two foul shots in overtime that put Belleville ahead.

Irvington, the top seed in the section this winter, won the game on a layup in the final seconds. Although the disappointment was evident on the part of Belleville, the team has certainly made strides this season.

"Hitting those two foul shots in overtime against Irvington shows the type of player Simone is," Fuccello said. "She has risen to the occasion. Those shots were the result of hard work from last summer."

Edwards and Dondarski both played basketball throughout the Summer of '87. They took part in the Junior Olympics, various basketball camps and the AAU's, in Mississippi.

"If you're willing to work, you can achieve," Fuccello said. "I hope our younger kids will learn from what Simone and Laurie accomplished and work hard at the game this summer. You can bet the other teams in our conference will be doing that."

Edwards, an excellent leaper, does so many things on the court that people sometimes forget she is only 5'6" tall.

"If she were 5'10" or 5'11", she'd be all world," Fuccello said. "She plays well over her height. Quite often, she's up against players much bigger than her. She's a hard worker."

As Edwards has improved, so has Belleville. After the 2-18 campaign in 1986, the girls were 10-15 last winter and this year, the team just completed a 16-12 season, the first winning season at Belleville for girls' hoops in four years.

This year, the team narrowly missed further advancement in both the Essex County tournament and the state tournament. The girls lost by six points to University in the quarterfinals of the ECT, and of course, it lost that one point game to Irvington last week.

Thus, she will enter the 1988-89 campaign with 1,015 career points. Certainly, a lot will be expected from her, and Simone Edwards should answer the challenge. Right now, however, just a note of congratulations to a classy young woman on a marvelous accomplishment.

GRAPPLERS REMAIN HOT

The Belleville wrestling team enjoyed tremendous success in the regional championships last weekend. Joe Nisiovocia's team posted three regional champions at Kearny High School. Mike Iuliano, Armando Nardone and Joe Cerreto will advance to the state tourney this week as regional champs, along with Ken Henry, who finished third in the tough 152 pound weight class and John Stampone, who was third at 125 pounds.

Iuliano defeated Tom Toscano of Palisades Park, 6-0 in the 119 pound division championship. During the regions, he outscored his opponents by a combined 37-0. Iuliano will take a perfect 30-0 mark into the states, where he was scheduled to face the winner of the Chee Smtone-Brian Unkert preliminary match.

Stampone will take a record of 23-5-2 into a match with Jared Giordano of Hunterdon Central. If Stampone wins, he will face Paul Zawacki of South Plainfield in the second round.

Nardone, who advanced to the state finals last year, had a tough time with Joe De Pinto of Secaucus, but prevailed, 6-5 in the 130 pound regional final. Nardone, 29-0, drew a bye in the first round of the states, and was scheduled to face either Bill Conklin or Rich Gianetti.

At 135 pounds, Cerreto, 28-1-1, defeated Gary Foti of Bloomfield, 8-5, in the regional finals. Cerreto also beat Foti in the district finals and will get a bye in the first round of the states. He will battle the winner of the Steve Lilley-Pat Wall match in the first round of the states.

At 152 pounds, Henry will take a 19-8-1 record into a preliminary match against Chuck Dany of Garfield. If Henry prevails there, he faces a tough wrestler in Randy Eno of Ridge, who was 21-0 entering the states.

Good luck to all our grapplers this week at the state tournament. Perhaps one, or more, of them, can come home with a state championship and place their name next to Chris Musmanno, who won a state wrestling championship in 1980. Win, or lose, these athletes have certainly enjoyed a tremendous season and deserve the admiration of all our fans.

Edwards scores 1,000, Lady Bucs end season

Throughout the years, Belleville and Irvington have staged some classic confrontations in girls' varsity basketball. Last Thursday night at Irvington, the two renewed its rivalry after a four year hiatus and once again, the results were memorable.

For the record, Belleville lost a heartbreaking, 64-63 decision, in overtime, to the Lady Campers in the second round of the Group IV, Section II playoffs. The defeat closed the books on the 1987-88 campaign for the Lady Bucs. Earlier in the week, Belleville had set up the confrontation with top ranked Irvington by stopping another old nemesis, Morristown, 68-52 in first round, state action.

Head coach Karen Fuccello, who guided Belleville to a 16-12 season, felt her team should have won the Irvington game. However, one of Belleville's weaknesses, foul shooting, cost the club a shot at the sectional title.

"No doubt, if we hit our foul shots, we would have beaten Irvington," Fuccello said. "We lost by one point and missed 15 foul shots (the girls shot 16 of 31 from the line). They (Irvington) only took eight foul shots all night, so you can't blame the officiating. It was our game to win, but we couldn't do it."

Fuccello also felt a victory over Irvington would have been a ticket to the sectional finals, where Bloomfield is playing Irvington for the championship this week.

"If we defeated Irvington, I know we would be in the finals," the coach continued. "We would have won the second round (played last Saturday) and could have had a shot at Bloomfield. We've come a long way this season, and our kids know how close they came."

Irvington had jumped out to a 17-13 first quarter lead, but Belleville, behind the sharp shooting of junior guard Laurie Dondarski, gained an eight point advantage at halftime, 34-26. Dondarski scored 10 points in the second quarter, including two three point baskets.

Junior forward Simone Edwards was also outstanding, hitting for nine points in that quarter and a game high 30. Edwards also hit a milestone in the third quarter when she scored her 1,000th career point. She is the second player in Belleville girls' history to break the mark, the other being Jennifer Apicella, who holds the state scoring mark at 3,105.

Perhaps an omen of things to come occurred just before halftime. Belleville had forged an 11 point lead, 34-23, and the clock was winding down. Just before halftime, Tara Davis of Irvington nailed a three point basket to cut the lead to 34-26 at intermission.

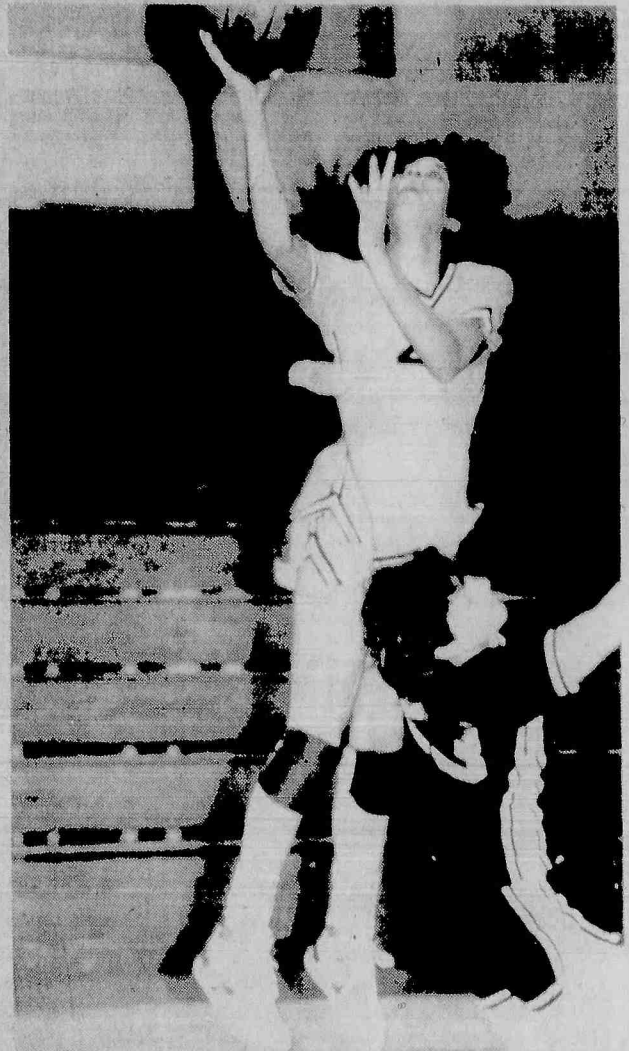

It was Davis who would eventually be the hero for Irvington when she hit a driving basket in the waning seconds of overtime to propel the Camper victory.

"It turned out that the three point basket by Davis was crucial," Fuccello said. "That cut our lead to nine points and gave them momentum heading into the third quarter."

Irvington did rally in the third frame on the heels of Davis' big score before halftime. The Campers outscored Belleville, 20-12 in the third and tied the game at 46 heading into the final eight minutes of regulation time.

In that third quarter, Irvington's offensive leader, Lana Thomas,

1,000 POINT SCORER — Simone Edwards going up for two points, a small amount considering she went over the 1,000 point mark against Morristown.

Bucs' season ends in double overtime; first winning season in 13 years

They came, they saw, and if the clock were operated properly, they would have conquered. Such is the case of the Belleville boys' basketball team, who saw its season come to an end in controversial form at the state tournament last Thursday night.

Don Roll's club lost to Barringer, at Barringer, 73-63 in the opening round of the Group IV, Section II playoffs. The game was decided in double overtime, but if you ask Roll, it should have never gone past regulation time.

"I'm looking at the film, now," Roll said last weekend. "There were nine seconds left in regulation time, and, easily, it took them eleven seconds to get up court for the basket. I can't believe it. Even the officials didn't know if it was good, or not."

The defeat ended the season for Belleville, who posted a 15-10 record, the first time Belleville boys' basketball had a winning season in 13 years. However, it will take Roll and Company a few days to get over the loss to Barringer last Thursday.

To bring you up to date with these turn of events, you have to start with Ted Sochaski's visit to the foul line at the :09 mark in the fourth quarter. Belleville led, 61-60 and Sochaski nailed one of two from the line to put Belleville up by two, 62-60.

Barringer had nine seconds to move the ball up the court and try for the tying basket. Nine seconds in basketball can be a long time, longer still when it translates to about 12 seconds.

"Their guy brings the ball up court, with Teddy covering him," explained Roll. "They set up a play, down screen, take a shot, miss, get a rebound and shoot again. While they're moving the ball up court, we notice the clock isn't moving for the first few seconds. I'm screaming at the desk to turn the clock on.

"They finally hit the basket, and the official underneath, the guy who is supposed to make the call, says 'no basket'. Then the other official rules it is a basket. They confer with the desk and the desk says it was a good basket. Now, there is a kid on the book and another kid on the clock. For a state game, why don't they use a JV official, or someone with more experience. I didn't really think that the kid would say the basket wasn't good."

That wasn't the end of the festivities, however.

"After they rule the basket good, the scorekeeper says that Barringer won," Roll said, "because they don't have us down for two points that we hit early in the fourth quarter. It took a few minutes to square that away."

Barringer's Dave Burgman, who scored 26 points, hit the tying basket in regulation time, and nailed another in the first overtime with time running out to once again tie the contest. Barringer pulled away in the second OT as Frank Felder scored nine points and the Bears outscored the Bucs, 12-2 to win by 10 points.

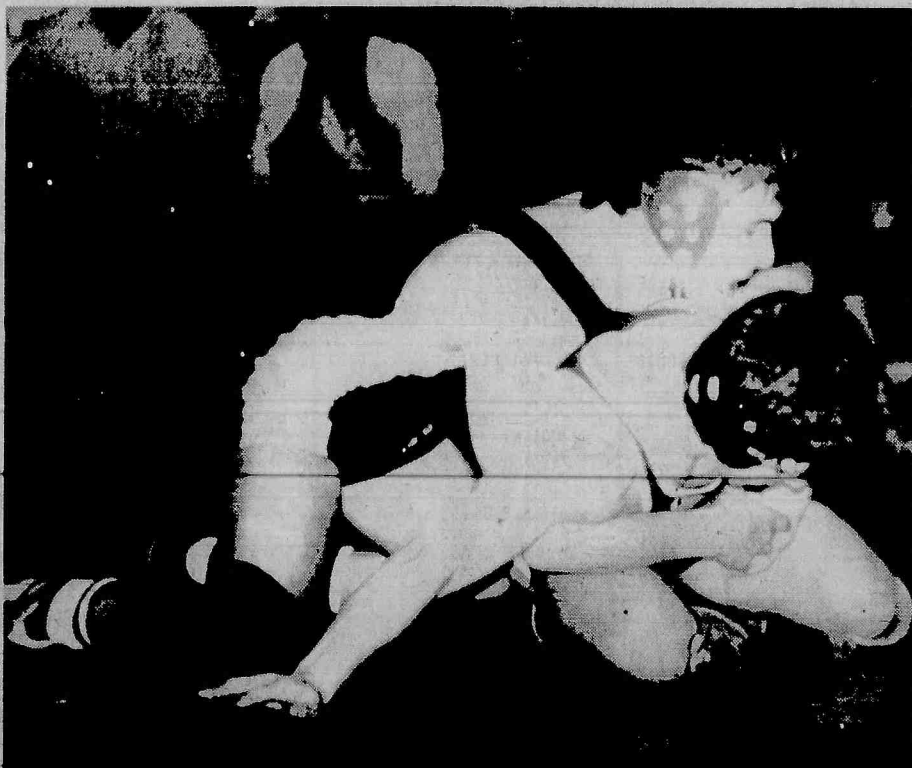

"We had our chances to win," Roll said. "We missed a few foul shots that could have decided it earlier on. We certainly had our chances, but it's a shame we had to lose a game we rightfully should have won, anyway. That final drive in regulation time was easily 11."

Senior Ted Sochaski, the all time leading scorer in Belleville mens' basketball, hit for 39 points in his high school finale. Sochaski, by the way, has been selected for the North-South All Star game later this year.

Leon Puentes finished his outstanding career with 13 points. Ray Zamloot had eight points, Chris Chiaramonte returned after from an injury and scored six, Dominick Straface had four, Steve Schwed had two and Steve Krupka closed with one.

For Barringer, Dave Burgman scored 26 and Frank Felder had 25.

Three wrestlers capture regionals

ONE OF THREE KINGS — of the mat from Belleville was Joe Cerreto, here trying for the pin against North Bergen's Jerry Maletta in a 135 pound match. Mondo Nardone, at 130 pounds, and Michael Iuliano, in the 119 weight class also brought home regional titles.

Lady Bucs close out season, finish 16-12

went to work, scoring 14 of her 25 points. Edwards popped home 10 points in the frame, including the magical 1,000th.

The two teams battled even in the final quarter, and the game went into OT.

In the overtime, both teams played strong defense. Belleville was limited to two Edwards' free throws and Irvington had been held to just a foul shot, with time running down.

Belleville had taken a 63-62 lead with :11 left in the first overtime, thanks to Edwards two foul shots. Irvington inbounded the ball and Davis drove downcourt. She found a wedge in the Belleville defense and drove hard for what would be the winning layup. The ball went in at the :03 mark, but Belleville couldn't get the timeout and the game, and season, ended.

Edwards led the Belleville attack with 30 points. She will begin her senior campaign next fall with 1,015 career points.

Dondarski finished the game with 13 points, Racquel Melson played perhaps her best game of the year and scored 12. Carol Morrison and Maria Chanley finished with four points each.

"Melson was spectacular," Fucello said of the senior guard. "Without question, it was the best game of her career. She made some excellent plays and some good steals."

Earlier in the week, Belleville had posted a 16 point win against Morristown. In this game, the Lady Bucs jumped out to a 16-13 first quarter advantage and never looked back.

Dondarski led the way for Belleville with 27 points and nine assists. Edwards scored 24, and she pulled down 16 rebounds. Nicole Wright and Melson finished with six points each, Morrison had four and Chanley closed with one. For Morristown, Lois Fyfe had 20 points, but she was held to just six in the second half.

"That really turned the tide, holding Fyfe in the second half," Fucello said. "We were able to pull away and Laurie and Simone both were excellent."

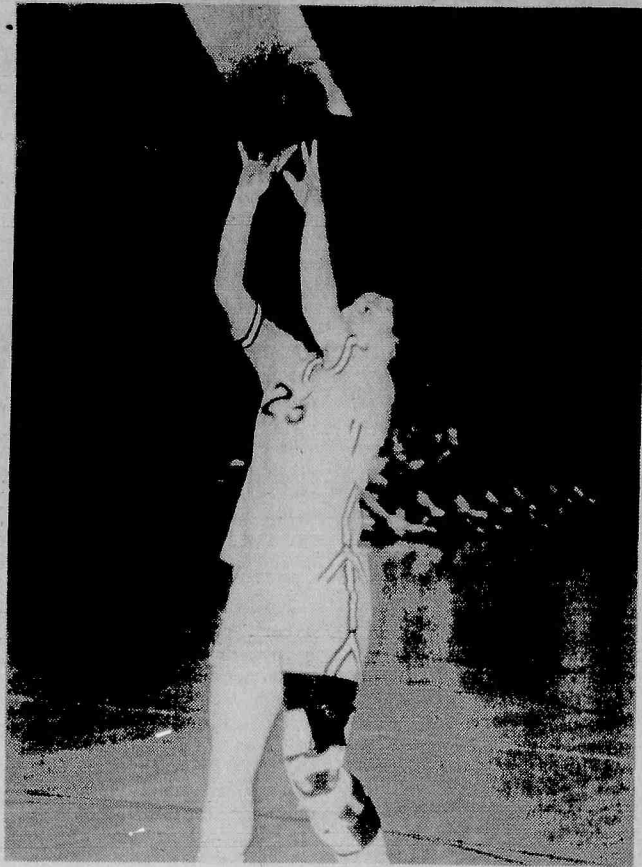

Thus, a good season for Belleville has come to an end. Next week, we'll take a look back at the first winning season in four years in BHS.

NOTES: Belleville and Irvington have staged some great games in the 80's. Back in 1981, Belleville took an 18 point lead in the second quarter, but Irvington rallied in the final frame and won by one point in a regular season game. In 1982, the teams met in the state sectional semi finals and Irvington won by four points at Elizabeth. In '84, Belleville upset Irvington by two, 56-54, in the semi finals of the Essex County Tournament. Cheryl Marion hit the winning basket for Belleville in the final seconds of that game. The teams had not played each other since that '84 GNT classic before last Thursday's game. Irvington and Bloomfield were slated to play for the sectional title earlier this week. Bloomfield is the defending sectional champion and was the favorite to win, however Irvington has its share of state heroics, too. The Lady Campers won the Group IV championship in 1985 and '86 behind the legendary Tammy Hammond.

AN EASY TWO — Racquel Melson goes up for an uncontested layup to score two points in the Lady Bucs' game against Morristown.

TAKING CHARGE — Laurie Dondarski handling the ball and waiting for a play to develop in the game against Morristown.

NBA championship series when Washington stopped Seattle in seven games.

FOR THIS WEEK

Let's go back to the old ABA days. Back in 1975, the New York Nets entered the playoffs as the defending champions and were favored to win the crown once more. However, the Nets were upset in the first round of the playoffs by an upstart team who finished well below .500 during the regular season. Who was that team, and who led that club in scoring.

Summer Playground Director

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that applications for Summer Playground Director positions are now available. Playground director positions are open to those who will have completed their first year of college by the summer of 1988. Preference is given to those majoring in recreation, physical education, teaching and psychology. There will be few positions open so those who desire summer employment are urged to apply promptly.

Persons wishing to apply should phone the recreation department office at 450-3422 weekdays to obtain an application. Interviews will be scheduled around Easter to accommodate college students who are home for spring break. Potential applicants must be residents of Belleville and must be available to work for seven straight weeks, from June 27 to August 12. All returning employees must also re-apply.

Mike Gibbons wrestles well

Michael Gibbons, a 1985 graduate of Belleville High School, won the New England championship wrestling in the 177-pound weight class for Central Connecticut State University.

Coach Ken DeStefanis said that Gibbons has outstanding knowledge and skills and has the ability to make All-American.

Rec league needs umpires

The Belleville Recreation Department is in need of adults and boys or girls, age 16 or older, to umpire games in the recreation baseball and softball leagues. Games are played on weekday nights and Saturdays during the months of May-June. For more information, or to apply, please call the Recreation Department office at 450-3422 or stop at the Rec House on Joralemon Street before 4 o'clock on weekdays.

Baseball/softball applications

The Belleville Recreation Department is proud to announce applications for all recreation baseball and softball programs are available in all public and parochial school offices and at the Recreation Department office.

Applications for Peanut and Junior League baseball for boys, ages eight through 12, must be completely filled out and returned to the Rec. House by March 25. Boys who are eight years-old before Aug. 1 and who will not be 13 before July 31 are eligible for organized baseball in either the Peanut or Junior leagues.

Applications for girls softball and senior/intermediate baseball are also available. Girls eight years-old on Aug. 1 and whose tenth birthday falls after July 31 are eligible for Pee Wee League softball; girls 10 years-old on Aug. 1 and whose 16th birthday falls after July 31 are eligible for Junior League Softball. High School Freshmen or J.V. team players, or Suburban League team players (7 & 8 grade) are not eligible. All applications must be returned to the Rec. House with birth certificate by Friday, March 25.

Boys ages 13 through 15, on July 31, are eligible for Intermediate/Senior League baseball. All applications must be returned with birth certificates to the Rec. House by March 25. Boys who are playing organized High School ball are not eligible.

In all cases, applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after the March 25 deadline will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. The Rec House, 407 Joralemon St., hours for registration are: Monday - Friday 8:30 a.m. - noon and 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. The office will also be open Monday nights from 7 - 9 from Feb. 22 to March 21 for registration.

HIGH GAME — Lou Bruno of Belleville is congratulated by coach Michael Early for bowling the high game of 267 in the state sectional championships.

Bruno bowls way to Atlantic City

Lou Bruno of Belleville High School earned individual highest game award with a 267 at the North II Sectional Bowling Championships, held recently at Astro Bowl Lanes, Clifton.

His team was not as fortunate as they finished third in the section, behind Union and Linden.

Bruno's 209 average earned him the silver medal and an opportunity to bowl for the N.N.J.S.I.A.A. State Championship at the Showboat Casino in Atlantic City.

Bruno led the Essex-Passaic division of N.N.J.S.I.A.A. Bowling League and was ranked number one on the league all-star team. His high game of 288 was second only to team-mates Vincent Orrei's 289.

In a statement, Bruno said, "This is very exciting for me. I'm sure I will do my best in Atlantic City. All my friends and parents are coming down to support me. The one thing that I'm down about is that my whole team isn't coming down."

Tournament Slated

The Belleville A.S.A. Umpires' Association will be sponsoring the "Al Porcello Memorial Softball Tournament" on April 9-10 at Belleville Park. The double elimination tournament will be open to all Men's Slow Pitch teams who apply before the April 1 deadline. Entry fee is $150 per team and there will be trophies awarded to the first and second place teams.

For further information or to register, please contact Dennis Buckley at 450-3422 between 9:00-4:00 weekdays or call Tom Ucci at 661-2948 in the evening.

James Conditto, youth director, Knights of Columbus Council No. 835, announced the spelling bee, essay, and free throw contest winners sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Belleville.

In the spelling bee contest, 8th grade students were: Regine Cultrara, first prize; Kristine Candura, second prize, and Jennifer Covert, third prize. All three attend St. Peter's Parochial School.

The essay contest, with the theme "Freedom of speech, how important is it?", had winners from Belleville High School: First place, Catherine Mai, 9th grade; second place, Joyce Burke, 10th grade, and third place Elizabeth Petrat, 12th grade. All were winners in local, District and State levels.

In the free throw contest, James Kiernan, Jr., was the local and District winner, which was held in Bayonne. The State finals will be held shortly, with the date to be announced.

Grand Knight Joseph Wolf announced all contest winners will receive awards, plaques, trophies, and money bands at a Family Supper and Awards Night to be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 94 Bridge St., Belleville, Friday, June 3.

TOWNSHIP ORDINANCE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following proposed ordinance was introduced and passed on first reading at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Belleville held on Tuesday evening, February 23, 1988 and further notice is hereby given that the second and final reading of said ordinance will be considered by said Board of Commissioners at a meeting to be held at the Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Avenue, Tuesday evening, March 22, 1988 at eight o'clock p.m. when all objections to the passing of the same will be heard and considered.

Mary Lou Hood
Township Clerk

PRIVATE SALE OF TOWN OWNED PROPERTY TO CONTIGUOUS OR ADJACENT OWNERS

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY:

WHEREAS, the sale of such lands is authorized to be conducted as a private sale under N.J.S.A. 40A:12-13 (b) (5) and;

WHEREAS, the fair market value of said property has been determined to be $3,312.00 and such price shall be the minimum bid as among contiguous owners;

NOW, therefore, be it ordained:

1. A private sale of lands or premises known as 16 Valley Street, Block 70, Lot 3 on the tax map of Belleville shall be conducted.

2. All adjoining property owners to said premises shall be given notice of such private sale by mailing to them a NOTICE TO BIDDERS or, CONDITION OF SALE by certified and return receipt requested.

3. That said real property shall be sold to the highest bidder among all such contiguous or adjoining owners and that any such sale shall be for less than the fair market value of said real property, which is $3,312.00 which is the fair market value for this lot as assessed.

4. That the property to be sold pursuant to this Ordinance shall be posted on the Bulletin Board or other conspicuous place in Township Hall and that a copy of this Ordinance shall be advertised in the Herald News or Belleville Times, a newspaper circulating in the Township of Belleville, within 5 days following enactment.

5. Offers for the property so listed shall be made to the Purchasing Agent for a period of 20 days following the advertisement herein required. Such offer must be for not less than the minimum price hereinabove set forth. The conditions of sale shall be as attached hereto.

CONDITIONS OF PRIVATE SALE

NOTICE is hereby given that the highest bidder from amongst all adjoining property owners all its rights, title and interest in the lands and premises in the Township of Belleville, described as follows:

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. P. of Nutley asks: "Is chewing gum OK?"

Dentally Speaking, Mrs. P. chewing gum has drawbacks. Firstly, the chewing process of gum is different and more exerting on your jaw muscles than the chewing process of foods. The kind of side to side, up and down, repetitions of your lower jaw is not conducive to the anatomy of your jaw hinge. It would be okay for cows and horse but not humans.

Also the amount of sugar and the length of time that gum stays in your mouth is not healthy either. For every 20 seconds sugar is in your mouth there is approximately an hour of decay process. So in summary if you must chew gum, chew sugarless and don't chew for long periods.

Thank you.

Chinese New Year at School No. 7

English As A Second Language students at School No.7 celebrated Chinese New Year last week by parading through the halls of school with a dragon, which is the Chinese symbol for this year, 4,686, according to the Chinese calendar.

Slightly under 50 students, dressed in oriental clothing, walked down the halls as other students sat and watched in astonishment. Teachers Leilani Gee and Lorna Blaska explained to the other children what the Year of The Dragon is expected to bring.

"The dragon is a symbol of good, and honor," said Gee. "It's not like the western interpretation."

The procession of children carrying posters of which animals were represented in recent Chinese years was accompanied by music performed by academically talented children. Carol Mateyka was the musical coordinator.

The end of the procession, and highlight of the presentation, was the dragon dance, performed by Phillip and Steven Chang, and Tuan Nguen.

"Usually a person teases the dragon to make the dragon come to their house to dance," explained Gee. "The dragon dance causes evil spirits from last year to leave the home, so the family can have a clean start."

Following the assembly, the children who participated were treated to chinese food and refreshments, according to Gee and Blaska.

"Children born in this year are said to be honest, and soft-hearted," said Gee, "so many children should be born this year."

The Year of The Dragon comes once every 12 years. Apples, oranges and tangerines are the fruits of the year and red and orange are the colors.

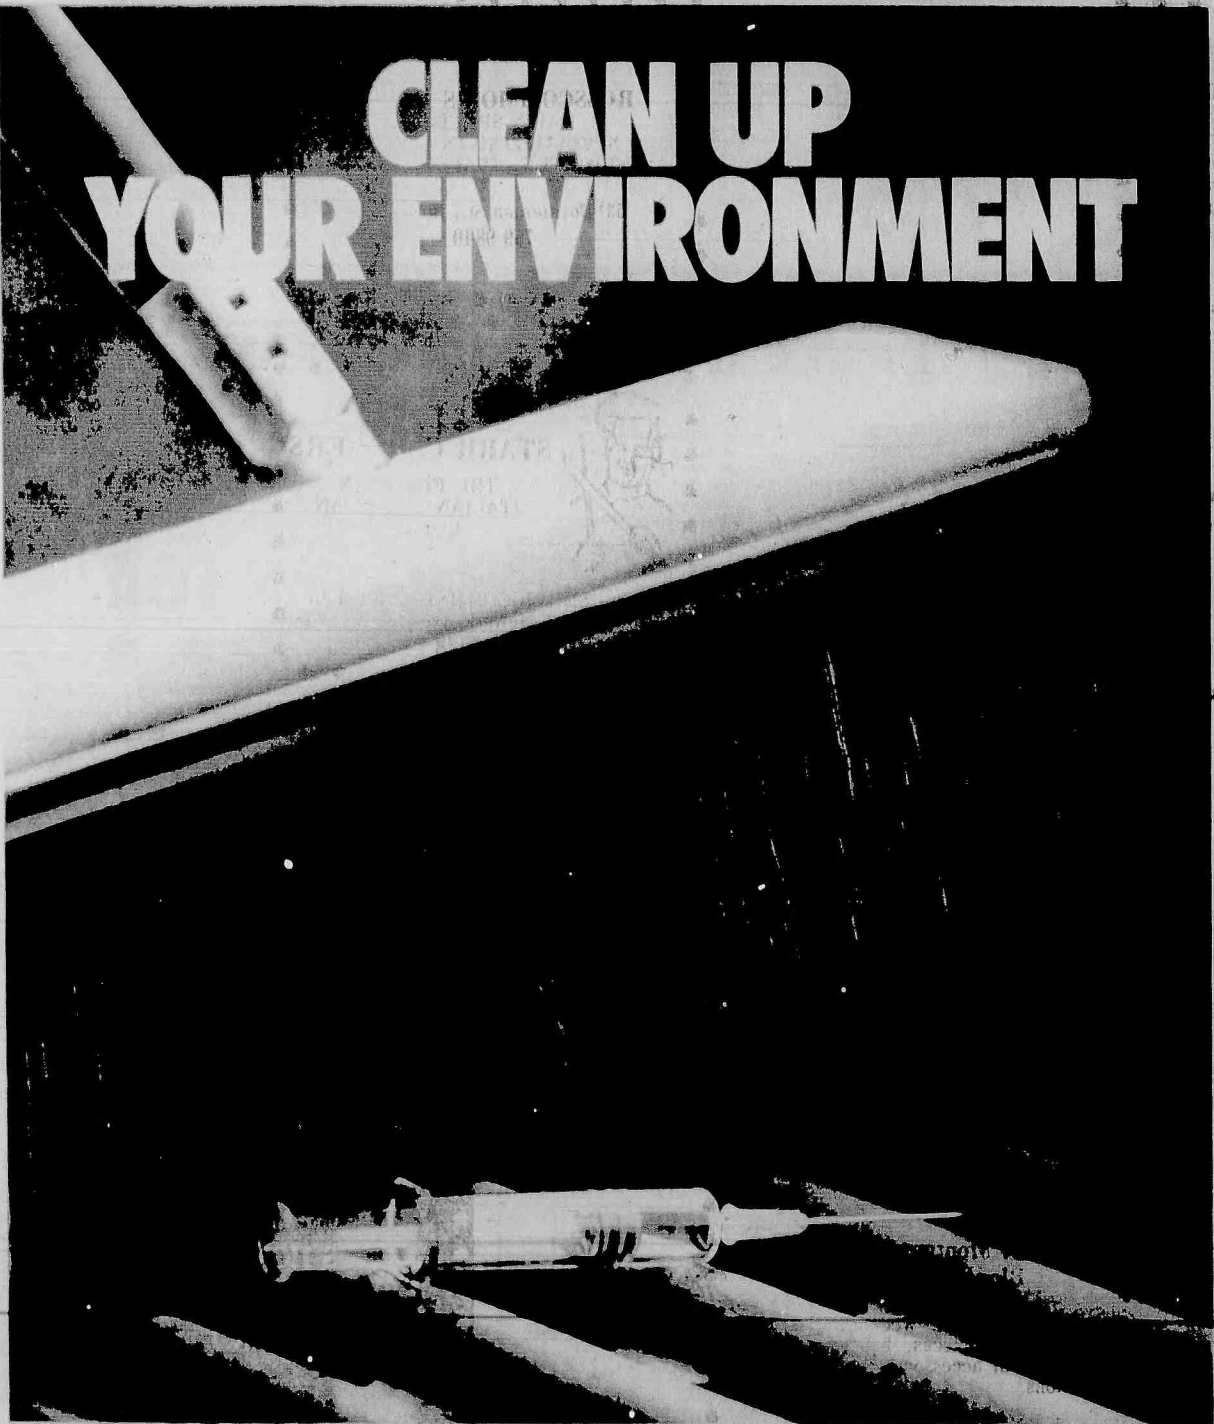

THE DRAGON DANCE — Three students, Phillip and Stephen Chang and Tuan Nguen, comprised the dragon who demonstrated the dragon dance, which is supposed to ward off any evil spirits lingering from the previous year.

THE YEAR OF THE DRAGON — Rena Silva from School 7 carrying the symbol for the new Chinese New Year, during the English as a Second Language classes celebration of the year, 4,686 according to the Chinese calendar.

DRUMWALL PLEASE — School 7 student Dhus Ncuwen prepares to play music that accompanied the procession that celebrated and symbolized the Chinese New Year, the year of the dragon.

TWO IS BETTER THAN ONE — English as a Second Language students Rizzlyn and Rosalyn Rayojo carry a sign during the explanation of the Chinese New Year and how animals represent years. The two are carrying a poster of the monkey, which had its year in 1980.

JUST TELL ME WHEN — This student has only been in the United States one month, coming over from Europe, but even he played a part in the celebration of the Far East's largest country's new year.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Many communities around the country are adopting building moratoriums while local officials review zoning ordinances. They are concerned about development bringing heavy traffic and straining local government resources.

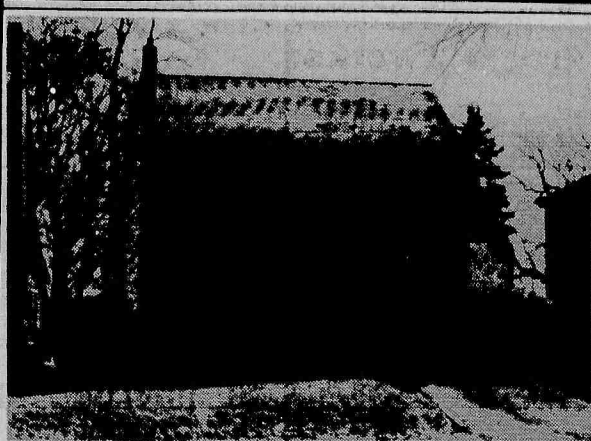

New windows feature "low-emissivity" - they prevent radiant heat from entering or escaping, thanks to an invisible metallic coating. Cost is about 20 percent over ordinary double-pane windows, but heating and cooling costs would be cut.

Give old favorites an up-to-date look: upholster period furniture with modern fabric.

Rule of thumb for insulation: the vapor barrier is always on the warm side. In the basement, put it on top of the batting against the heated floor above; in the attic, it goes under the batting and against the ceiling below.

Lots of money that used to be on Wall Street is moving into real estate, says finance experts. Buyers feel that realty is less volatile.

APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT-
Holy Spirit who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you eternal Glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor request will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor, only your initial should appear at the bottom.
