IT'S SPRINGTIME — It's April and that can only mean one thing, Spring is here. And with the warm weather that spring brings, come the Cherry Blossoms. Here is a view of Branch Brook Park and the beauty Cherry Blossome Trees bring.

Sale of land rejected by Board of Commissioners

A private sale of land on Valley Street was rejected by the Belleville Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday night.

The land is located on Valley Street and is considered substandard because there is no egress or ingress to the property. Ralph Risoli of 16 Valley St. had offered to buy the land for $3,300.

Following discussion, Mayor Michael Pizzi and Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni voted against the proposal while Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto and Commissioner of Revenue and Finance Joseph McGreevey voted for the ordinance. Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli abstained due to he is a relative of the proposed buyer.

"There's something going on around there," said Frantantoni.

"There's an application for condos or apartments right across the street from there."

Pizzi and McGreevey did not feel the relevance of construction across the street but Frantantoni had other problems with the proposed sale.

"$3,300 is ridiculous," he said. "It's much more valuable to us if we retain it."

McGreevey disagreed, saying the land is unbuildable and no use to anyone. Town Attorney Frank Cozzarelli said factual information was received from the building inspector that there can be no construction on the property.

The tax assessor valued the property, according to Frantantoni. He said the assessor stated the board of commissioners may reduce the price 175 percent but did not give any reason for a reduction.

Frantantoni also said he did not know why, after dropping the price 50 percent, 75 percent of that price had to be cut.

"The Parks and Public Property building is separated from that land by only one piece of property," said Frantantoni. "If we decide we need more land we can condemn the lot in between and have one large piece of land and we won't have to buy it back."

The commissioners passed resolutions authorizing payment for the Senior Citizens Recreation Center addition. Dan-Za General Contractors, Inc. received payment of $30,870 for construction and Neil Siciliano received $1,530 for professional services. The project is funded by Essex County Community Development. The cost of the entire project is estimated at approximately $127,000.

D'Agostino president, Pisano vice president of Board of Ed

By Pat Brightman

The Belleville Board of Education named Dr. Anthony D'Agostino Board President and Patricia Pisano Board Vice President and swore in new members Joseph Del Guercio and Joseph Papisidero at its organization meeting held Tuesday night in Belleville High School.

This will be D'Agostino's second term as president and Pisano's first as vice president. D'Agostino has also served as vice president during his nine year tenure.

In a prepared statement, former Board President Phil Linfante said while the past two years as president were an honor and privilege he felt the board was ready for a new president and nominated D'Agostino.

"I have no regrets," he said. "I have strived to make the right decisions."

"Last Tuesday the voters sent a message," continued Linfante. "It was clear they wanted a change, something different from the status quo. They are asking for a change in the system."

With that, he made the nomination, which was seconded by Barbare Cicalese and the board voted unanimously in favor.

Cicalese then nominated Del Guercio for vice president but he quickly refused it and in turn nominated Pisano. Fellow new member Papisidero seconded the nomination and she was voted in unanimously.

D'Agostino thanked Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello and his fellow board members saying, "I appreciate the heartfelt confidence my fellow board members have in me."

He listed his two major concerns as listening to the public with integrity and making a decision on School Number 1. He wants to evaluate the options to keep the building as is, housing the Board of Education and special education, sell it to an outside faction, or allow it to be used as a new police station or Town Hall.

"I'm sick and tired of sitting on this stage," D'Agostino said. "For the next meeting I suggest we move to ground level. I don't like performing on stage."

Swearing in of members

After Del Guercio and Papisidero took their oaths with Nardiello both had a few words to say to the board and the public.

"It's only through your hard work that I'm here tonight as a trustee," Del Guercio said. "I am your spokesperson and I will make my decisions with you in mind. We may not always agree but I will always listen to your concerns."

He felt it is imperative that public confidence in the board be instilled if the board is to have continued success.

"I want to give my heart felt thanks to the people," Papisidero said. "I'm looking forward to a successful three years."

Papisidero said he hopes he can continue to bring progress to the school system.

Del Guercio was elected board representative to the New Jersey School Boards Association, while Linfante was elected board representative to the Essex County School Board Association. Cicalese was elected as representative to the Essex County Educational Services Commission.

Volunteer recycling program is turning garbage into cash

Eventually, Belleville, like every town in New Jersey, will have to have mandatory recycling. In an effort to help ease the transition, a volunteer program has developed and, with its success, will clean up the problems that would occur if the process was delayed.

The program was instituted by Commissioner of Parks and Property Vincent Frantantoni in July as protection against the possibility of the statewide garbage strike.

Joe (Commissioner Fornarotto) had five extra dumpsters around town and we started a volunteer recycling program," said Frantantoni. "It worked out so well, we said, 'Let's make it an ongoing thing.'"

With the help of Joe Scaperrotta, who was named recycling coordinator, the program began with somewhat mixed results but it has slowly but surely improved.

"Commissioner Frantantoni asked me to give him a hand with it and I was able to help with the laws

The town receives $14 a ton for newspapers, up from $10 in July, and $20 a ton for glass.

"It may not seem we receive a lot for recycling but we save $102.50 on dumping fees," said Frantantoni.

Corrigate, cardboard, will be recycled shortly, according to Frantantoni. He said merchants will be asked to do their part and flatten and tie the cardboard and bring it to the yard. There is such a demand for this material that the town may receive up to $75 a ton.

The money collected, approximately $600 according to Frantantoni, is put in to a separate recycling account and the money will be used to purchase equipment for crushing the recyclables and vehicles for curbside pick-up.

"There will be an initial cost factor when we go mandatory but as it develops it will pay for itself," said Scaperrotta.

"The reason we've been slow on curbside pick-up is cost," said Frantantoni. "It is close to $40,000 for a truck. Even without curbside pick-up, the program has been piling up support, with tonnage increasing with each passing month. Frantantoni said opening the yard on Saturdays has had a definite effect on the program, considering most people work during the week and can't find the time to drop off the recyclables.

"When we first took over it was good but nothing stupendous," said being passed and state programs through the office," said Scaperrotta, who works for State Assemblywoman Marion Crecco.

Brought to yard

The recyclables, paper, glass and aluminum, are brought down to the Parks and Property yard six days a week, Monday through Saturday, and separated by groups. Frantantoni said when town employees clean grounds they pick up any metals and they too are recycled.

Legislature for real estate taxes

By Tom Sullivan

It has long been the lament of local government officials that the state mandates costly programs that run up real estate taxes but never helps with the funding. Now a new legislative proposal could change all that.

Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-Union, is the principal sponsor of the bill, known as ACR-97, which was the subject of a public hearing by the Assembly State Government Committee last week in Hackensack. After hearing many freeholders, mayors and other municipal officials, the committee voted 3-0 to release the bill for a vote.

"This actually calls for a constitutional amendment," explained Assemblywoman Marion Crecco, R-Bloomfield, who is a member of the State Government Committee and participated in the hearings. "It calls on the state to provide full funding to a county or municipality for every mandated program."

Mrs. Crecco, whose husband, John, is mayor of Bloomfield, has also reintroduced legislation which would terminate any local government obligation to the state to provide services or administer programs after five years.

"Over the years, the state has mandated numerous programs which place a direct tax burden on our residents," said Mrs. Crecco. "It is time for the state to realize that it is the people who directly pay for these mandated programs so, if the legislature thinks the program is essential, then the state should be prepared to pick up the costs."

Taxpayers unaware

Many of the municipal officials addressing the committee hearing explained that taxpayers invariably do not realize that local jurisdictions are constantly being given new state mandates that cause direct increases in property taxes.

Several lamented that the blame for these outlays is invariably placed on the freeholders or local governing body, and it was pointed out that when legislation is proposed for state programs, the sponsoring legislators have to describe the source of revenues, but no concern is given when it is a local mandate.

"Some of the mandated programs of recent years include sewer projects, recreation, drug enforcement, management planning, DEP regulations, water treatment, new Board of Health requirements, construction, and recently, recycling," Mrs. Crecco said.

"Recycling alone can cost a municipality hundreds of thousands of dollars in start-up costs," she went on, "and while I am certainly an advocate of recycling, I do feel that there should have been some help in there for overburdened taxpayers."

Corbiscello spoke

Bergen County Freeholder Nicholas Corbiscello, who is also mayor of Fort Lee, was one of the speakers, and he said that a so called sunset law would also be a vital part of this legislative package.

"Laws are passed and they go on the books and they stay there forever," Corbiscello said. "What we need is cutoff points for them, or renewal if they are absolutely necessary."

"You get no argument from me on that," said Mrs. Grecco. "I already have submitted legislation to do just that, A-1997, and it works

Belleville POLICE BEAT

A series of cars were vandalized over the course of a week throughout Belleville. On April 6, a 1987 B.M.W. parked in the Grand Union parking lot on Main Street was scratched, apparently by a key and the owner of a 1987 Nissan noticed her car had been scratched while it was parked in her driveway on Newark Avenue.

The rear window of a 1981 Buick was smashed while parked in the Belleville High School parking lot while the owner was in the school on April 4. On April 2, the owner of a 1986 Buick, upon returning from a Bingo game on Van Houten Place, discovered the rear window of her car had been broken.

Two juveniles from Newark were arrested for possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) on April 4. Officers Anthony Wieners and Kevin Smith observed four males sitting on a bench on the corner of Mill Street and Bridge Street. The officers noticed two of the males repeatedly put their hands to their noses and, when Wieners and Smith confronted the youths, the officers discovered a white, powdery substance and a small bag of marijuana.

The two youths, ages 16 and 17, were arrested, brought down to police headquarters and released to their parents. The other two youths were not charged.

A 19 year-old Newark man was arrested April 2 and charged with possession of a CDS and under the influence of a CDS.

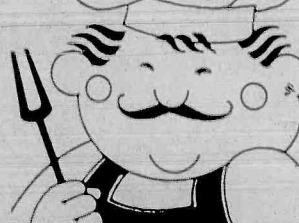

Sergeant Christopher Kondreck observed Diomedes Celleri banging on the window of "Belleville Typewriter" at 6:33 a.m. Kondreck then watched as Celleri staggered into Washington Avenue and scream and curse at a bus as it passed by. As Kondreck approached Celleri, he dropped a small bag and when Kondreck examined the bag he found a white, powdery substance. A further search of Celleri found more of the substance and vegetation believed to have been marijuana.

A West Orange woman who stopped in the "Krauser's" on Washington Avenue had her purse stolen from her car on April 6.

The woman said three youths approached her and began talking to her but she ignored them and continued into the store. When she came out of the store and returned to her car she noticed her purse had been stolen. Money and identification were in the purse.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

THE MAYOR is the official publication of the United States Conference of Mayors and is published bi-weekly. In its February 29, 1988 issue it published from The Washington Post editorial of Friday, Feb. 19 the following editorial, captioned "Budget Baloney".

There are two misleading aspects to the budget President Reagan sent to Congress yesterday. One has to do with the deficit, the other with the poor.

The fiscal sleight of hand is the more familiar. The President asserts that this budget will take the deficit down. Mr. Reagan is saying in his eighth year, undeterred, the same thing that he said in his first: you can, too, have your cake and eat it too. No matter that the national debt has doubled in the meantime as the numbers failed to add up. The claim is only slightly more modulated than in the past. "This budget shows that a gradual elimination of the deficit is possible without abandoning tax reform, without cutting into legitimate social programs, without devastating defense and without neglecting other national priorities," the President says.

In fact, the deficit goes down because of rosy economic assumptions and such games as asset sales. As the administration itself acknowledges, if the economy behaves instead as most economists and the Congressional Budget Office expect it to, and if there are no further tax increases or spending cuts, the deficit will go up next year. But by then the problem will be the next administration's.

As to the poor, the budget is fairly forthright about most of the changes that have occurred in the Reagan years. In real terms, meaning stripped of inflation, defense spending, interest on the debt and payments to the elderly and retired (mainly Social Security and Medicare) have all gone sharply up, while other domestic spending, including particularly grants to state and local governments, are sharply down. But then the budget document also says that "contrary to much popular discussion" spending on the poor has risen in this administration too.

In part that is true, but in larger part deceptive. In 1982 dollars, spending on the poor was $61.5 billion the year before Mr. Reagan came to office and $71.8 billion last fiscal year. But more than half that increase occurred in Medicaid, where the inflation rate was double that for the economy as a whole. What the budget presents as a real increase was extra inflation; Medicaid was in several ways CUT in the Reagan years. The rest of the increase came mostly in spending on subsidized housing, and is largely the delayed effect of spending decisions made in the Carter years. The Reagan administration has sharply cut future spending authority in this area.

There are other problems with these figures, not least the fact that, had the administration had its way, they would have cut much more. The Reagan administration has weakened the redistributive effect of government. In 1979 the combined effect of the federal tax code and spending programs for the poor was to reduce the poverty rate by 3 percentage points. In 1986 the same factors were reducing a higher poverty rate by only 1.5 points. The poverty population was 10 percent larger than it would have been had the federal law been left alone. The fiscal deficit is one part of the Reagan legacy. A fairness deficit is another.

"The Mayor" publication headline reads: "Federal Budget for 1989 would cut investments for 'National Priorities'." It cites the 37% cut in State and Local grants since 1980. Among the urban programs hardest hit include Mass Transit, Housing, Community and economic development and sewage treatment construction.

The Mass Transit cuts already have resulted in fare increases for New Jersey bus and train riders brought on by loss of federal grants. The federal budget for mass transit would drop from the current $3.3 billion to $1.4 billion. Transit discretionary grants would be terminated, as would transit operating subsidies to large and medium size cities.

Bonfante sails on with shipbuilding as hobby

Della Pella celebrates 107th birthday

Before electricity, indoor plumbing and any World War, Francesca Della Pella was alive and well and living in Italy.

This April 25, Della Pella will celebrate her 107th birthday, with family and friends gathering at the White House Nursing Home in Orange.

"We had a big celebration when she reached 100 at a restaurant," said daughter Rose Esposito, "but she doesn't like all that fanfare. So for the past few years we've just had small parties with family and a few friends."

Della Pella attributes her longevity to three things: faith in God; courage, and a well balanced diet. You can be sure that diet will take the day off on the 25th as she will indulge in some birthday cake and celebrate her birthday much like a woman half, or even a quarter, her age would.

"Believe me, she has all her facilities," said Esposito. "She can carry on a conversation freely, hear every word you say and she can still walk around along as she has her walker."

Born in Penne-Abruzzi, Italy, Della Pella sailed across the seas with two children to America in 1917 to be reunited with her husband, Justino. She and Justino bore three more children. After all the children were grown the two still enjoyed an active life until Justino died 12 years ago.

Della Pella remained in the apartment she called home for six years after his death before moving on to White House.

Because of her ability to live so long but stay so young, Della Pella has received certificates from a number of notables, including President Ronald Reagan and wife Nancy, and Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio.

"She received certificates when she was 100," said Esposito. "She's received one or two since then and she gets one just about every year from D'Alessio."

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER BIRTHDAY — Francesca Della Pella, celebrating her 106th birthday last April. Della Pella will celebrate one more on the 25th with family and friends.

Does Esposito feel since her mother has lived past the century mark that she will follow suit?

"I don't know if I have her genes," quipped Esposito.

We'll just have to wait and see but one never knows.

Belleville may not have a port but if Dominic Bonfante keeps going the town may have to build one.

Not a large one, in fact it would only have to be a miniature, one that could house Bonfante's growing fleet of hand-made ships, a hobby he came across in a most unusual way.

"In 1979 there was an Italian ship festival in New York City," said Bonfante. "As I unfolded the newspaper one day, I saw a picture of the 'Michelangelo' and the sister ship, 'Raffaello' and doubled the size of the picture and made the ships."

Thus was born a new hobby, something Bonfante did not expect to happen but did. He had no experience with carpentry or ships, in fact he was a construction worker for many years and then helped his son-in-law with a truck repair company.

"Have you ever seen a 10 year old boy and he sees something and he's got to have it, well that was me, I had to build the ships," compared Bonfante.

"I don't know much about ships," he continued. "I didn't even know what the front and back were called."

For those interested, the front is the bow and the back is the stern.

How he does it

The 83 year-old takes great pride in his work and uses a wide assortment of materials for his creations. He uses two types of wood for the ships, pine, for the bottom and foundation, and balsa for the body of the ships. He imports from Germany small models of people, uses upholstery tacks for beach umbrellas and tin and aluminum from soda cans for staircases and lifeboats.

Bonfante shapes the curves on the bow and stern with the pine, using the stronger wood for structure. He then places balsa wood in boiling water which loosens the wood and after it dries, forms the ship with the balsa. He glues the balsa to the pine and puts rubberbands around to ship to keep it taught is the glue is drying. The bottom of the ship is pine, because as Bonfante said, "it needs to be strong." Balsa, a much lighter wood, is used so the boats can float.

"I love making ships," he said. "I get it just from pictures, I don't use kits or anything."

"If I had a business, I wouldn't have the patience for it that I do for this," he said.

All the ships are approximately the same length, three feet, and the average cost to make, according to Bonfante, is $275. It takes approximately six months to complete a ship.

"I work on one for awhile, then go to another while I wait for the glue to dry on the first," said Bonfante.

"When I work, I get so interested I hate to stop. My wife, God rest her soul, used to say to me at 2:00 o'clock in the morning, 'Dominic when are you coming to bed?'" he continued.

Battery operated

As an added feature the ships are motorized with a nine volt battery and a second battery allows a light system to work inside the ships.

"I put the 'Michelangelo' in a neighbor's pool one time with the rudder straight and it went right across the pool," said Bonfante. "Then I put the rudder at a 10 degree angle and it just kept circling the pool."

Bonfante gave his first two creations to his children but he has six others. He is working on the "Titanic" presently, which he says is the most difficult to date because of all the detail. But it was not the "Michelangelo" or "Raffaello" which really made him obsessed with miniature ship building.

"I used to watch the 'Love Boat' on Saturday nights and I wanted to build the 'Pacific Princess'," commented Bonfante. "I had a connection in Los Angeles, Jane Riddle who was Director of Passenger Relations for Princess Cruises, and she sent me a brochure of the ship, and I built it from that. That's what really got me going. I owe it all to her."

He also credits Francine Adlon, his "talent scout," who lives in West Orange and has offered support and guidance to him during his new career.

Bonfante put it best when he said, "there's no stopping me now." He loves working on his ships and his fleet will only grow. It's growing so quickly it may be time to design that miniature port.

Among the most distracting and discomforting of all symptoms are those of itching, scaling, and swelling of the skin. Poison oak/ivy, dermatitis, and psoriasis are all skin conditions that have their sufferers fairly climbing the walls in search of relief. Very effective relief is available in the form of hydrocortisone. Available over-the-counter is a 1/2 percent concentration, this medication counters the symptoms of a variety of skin ailments. It does not, however, kill bacteria or fungi. Nor should it be taken internally or applied to the area around the eyes. Users should also guard against over-reliance upon hydrocortisone. If a skin condition persists after a few days, the advice of a physician should be sought.

OUR OPINION

Short end of the stick

It was released last week just how much, or how little in most cases, the municipalities of New Jersey will receive from the state in the form of aid. Belleville was similar to most of the 62 towns that applied; it received less than it requested. On the bright side, Belleville was not one of the 20 municipalities that received no aid at all.

Belleville will receive $396,304 from the state, which will bring a decrease of 8.4 tax points, nothing earth shattering but as the saying goes, every little bit help. There is a problem with the amount, however. For one, the town requested $1 million, now it is obvious every town can not receive the amount they requested; only $70 million was available and town's requested some astronomical figures, such as East Orange's 19.3 million, Elizabeth's $20 million and Newark's $40 million, which alone would use practically all of the money allocated for the whole state. That is part of the "game," request for more than you need because you know you're not going to get it all anyway. But why only $396,304? Where do they get the figures from? Newark and East Orange are Belleville's neighbors and they will receive $2,443,872 and $6,175,730 respectively. Granted they need more help than Belleville but that much more? At least they have updated Town Halls, which is more than Belleville can say. A system is used for the allocations but maybe it should be reviewed and altered so the money is more evenly divided.

Last year Belleville received $300,000, so the town received more this year. A step in the right direction, for sure, but still not enough. Community Affairs Commissioner Leonard Coleman recommended the aid program be doubled to $140 million but Governor Thomas Kean and Legislature have not been able to decide where to raise the money. How about the billion dollar surplus? They don't know what to do with all of that so instead of using it for loans, why not throw $70 million of it to the programs whereby the cities can use it to upgrade themselves. It would still leave plenty of cash in the surplus for loans and help all the municipalities. Considering Kean recently signed a bill expanding the Marine Police by some 78 new officers and two new stations at a cost of $4 million, he should be able to allow some other money to be used on the land itself.

So what do you say Governor, decide what to do with the surplus so towns who so desperately need it, such as Belleville, can receive some and put it to good use.

Voter apathy again

It was considered a good turnout for last week's Board of Education election, where, if you've been out of town, Joseph Del Guercio and Joseph Papisidero became new Board of Education trustees. All of 4,931 people went out and voted. That is less than 30 percent considering there are approximately 17,600 registered voters in town. It was a beautiful day, sunny, close to 70 degrees and all of 4,931 people went out to vote. Where were the others? What possessed them to say the heck with voting, I'm going to sit at home and watch television. Or go out to a movie that's been playing for months and is still playing, one week after the election.

What happens if the school system goes down the tubes? It won't but what if it does? We're sure more than 5,000 people will be upset and demand to know what happened. So if they want to know what happens the Superintendent of Schools and board members should just ask if the person voted, and if they didn't the board members and superintendent should answer them by saying it was the non-voter's fault because they didn't put the right person on the board.

And what happens if the school system begins to be showered with awards and the improvement brings about changes that other towns can only dream about? We're sure over 5,000 people will be proud to say they are part of Belleville, a town where education truly comes before anything. But only 4,931 people should say that, for the other 17,000 registered voters had nothing to do with the success. The close to 5,000 voters should walk with their heads high and be proud they made the right choice, a choice that has brought the town a greater standing.

As quick as they should raise their heads, most should drop it once again, however. Of the 4,931 who voted for their candidates, only 1,577 saw fit to vote on the school budget, a budget that would have raised taxes by 53.3 points. What where the remaining 3,254 voters think of? Sure, they deserve credit for coming out to vote but by voting in two new members they said they were unhappy with the board's actions. And what action can a citizen be more unhappy or pleased with than the school budget? It is not enough for the people of town to vote for candidates, they have to take it one step further and vote for the budget, whether it is a "yes" or "no" vote is somewhat irrelevant, that they voted, and voted their feelings, is what counts. Hopefully, next year their will be more than 4,931 voters. Rain or shine.

YOUR OPINION

Stanco says "thanks"

To the Editor:

I would like to take this time to thank all my supporters, who supported me in my bid to try to get elected to the Belleville Board of Education. I know that I could never repay all those who gave sign locations, tea parties, worked on polls, and especially the voters. I thank you ever so much.

I know that my campaign brought out some sincere problems with the school system, and my hope is that these problems will be addressed and discussed by the Belleville Board of Education.

At this time I would like to extend my congratulations to Joe Del Guercio and Joe Papisidero on their being elected to the Belleville Board of Education. And if I can be of any assistance to the Board of Education members in furthering the education and welfare of the children, please feel free to call on me as it would be an honor to serve the children of the township of Belleville.

And in closing I would like to give Ernest Zoppi, Frank Caputo, and Nicki Ann D'Andrea by best wishes and regards for their future endeavors. Sincerely yours,

Frank Stanco, Jr.

Belleville alive and well

To the Editor:

Dear Supporters:

I wish to thank each and everyone of you for your vote of confidence on Tuesday, April 5, 1988. Through your support a message was delivered loud and clear. That message is simply this, "Belleville is alive and well." I guarantee to make every effort possible to restore confidence and pride in our board and our school system. Thank you once again for licking stamps, making phone calls, standing outside, challenging inside, bringing out the vote and showing that you care. Sincerely,

Joe Del Guercio, Trustee
Belleville Board of Education

Congrats to members

To the Editor:

I would like to extend my congratulations to the two new members of the Belleville Board of Education, Joe Del Guercio and Joe Papisidero.

I would also like to express my sincere "THANKS" to all the people of Belleville who worked for and supported my candidacy.

In closing I wish the Board well in its continuing effort to maintain our educational values and high standards in a very professional manner. Sincerely,

Frank A. Caputo

A letter written by Jean Ruzanski published two weeks ago stated a letter opened by a neighbor was from the Zoning Board. The letter was from the lawyer of the Planning Board.

Wrestlers undefeated

To the editor:

To whom it may concern:

The Belleville Recreation Wrestling Team finished its most successful season ever, a 9-0 season, and the Essex County Junior League Title. They also won the Elizabeth Tournament Championship for the second time in three years.

With every successful season, there are people behind the scenes who need to be thanked. Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni for helping us to wrestle in the gyms and at the high school cafeteria. Recreation Superintendent Dennis Buckley for providing uniforms, t-shirts, bus rides to all the tournaments and the help when we needed it. The Board of Education, Athletic Director J. Silvestri and coach Joe Nisivoccia. This year, the Board let us use the middle school gym for our home matches. Mr. Silvestri also let us use the high school gym a few times. Coach Nisivoccia for all the help he gave us this season. A special thanks goes to Gus and Mario, the two high school janitors, who open doors when needed and let us stay late for our practices.

And most of all the boys who worked hard at practice and those who sweated to lose weight to make weight. Those sacrifices made us a winning team. The team says thank you all! Sincerely —

Jerry Patrizio

Anniversary of 'The Sage'

To the Editor:

Spring '88 marks the 32nd anniversary since the death of "The Sage of Baltimore," H.L. Mencken.

As a newspaper person, you might very well harbor some respect or admiration for fellow journalist, the late H.L. Mencken.

Though I disagree with his politics, I admired Mencken's honesty.

Unlike many prominent media people of today, H.L. Mencken did not "hypocritize" his beliefs and opinions — by not practicing what he preached.

Says Risolis are 'lovely'

To the editor:

However indignant over her misplaced letter, I feel Ms. Ruzanski does Ms. Mary Risoli a disservice by characterizing her as villainous and arrogant when she was merely forgetful! Mary and Ralph Risoli were my neighbors on Franklin St. for almost twenty years and are among the loveliest people I know.

Sincerely,
Anthony Forte

Highland Beach, Fla. — Former Undersheriff John Tully was honored at a brunch Sunday to mark the occasion of his recent appointment as Clerk to the Essex County Board of Elections. The testimonial brunch was held at Cryan's Restaurant in Caldwell. Some of the heavy hitters in attendance were Sheriff Tom D'Alessio, Essex County Executive Nick Amato, Newark Councilman Don Payne, Freeholders Jim Cavanaugh and Cardell Cooper, along with State and County Democrat Chairman Ray Durkin.

FREEHOLDER Cardell Cooper is expected to resign soon to become Business Administrator for the Republican Administration of Essex County Executive Nick Amato.

THE campaign for a smokeless fire department in Delray Beach, Florida has succeeded. Starting last week, signs denoting designated smoking areas in Delray Beach Firehouse/Rescue building came down. Smokers will be obliged to confine their smoking to outdoors — and they are prohibited to light up in staff cars.

Some members of the Fire-Rescue Squad are happy over the prohibition because they see it as an opportunity to quit smoking. Authorities have established classes for those who want to quit. Instead of a department where 18% of the 100 employees smoke, it is now down to 10%. Chief Curry Cohen has kicked the twenty-year habit, no one hassled him about the rubber band on his wrist that snapped when he felt the urge for a cigarette.

ILLEGAL dumping of waste and other garbage is increasing. Violation of our dumping laws should be raised to the level of a felony and the vehicle involved should be subject to seizure and ownership by the state. Most illegal dumping is being done during the late night hours. The illegal dumpers simply increase the cost of garbage disposal that taxpayers are being asked to fund. The contaminated waste, dumped illegally in remote areas of our communities, poses greater danger — and adds to taxpayer burden.

SENIOR CITIZENS BEWARE. It happened in Ft. Lauderdale, and it could happen in other communities. An 83-year-old widow was cunned out of $20,000 recently by a person who has preyed on the elderly for thirty years. A man knocked on the widow's door, three days after he was released after serving a 18-month prison sentence for grand theft, and told the woman who answered the door that he was looking for work. He said he wanted some garden work.

The compassionate, innocent widow felt sorry for the 61-year-old con artist and permitted him to do some garden work for her, like putting sand in the yard — that is, he promised to put sand in the yard. Although he never got around to it, the widow was giving him $200 checks — sort of an account. In less than two weeks, she had gone through $5,000 and was bouncing checks. The con artist then persuaded her to take out a $5,000 loan at the bank. A friend who took her to the bank noticed that her savings account had dwindled to $16,000. The friend contacted the police. The 61-year-old con artist was arrested and his rap sheet indicated that he was a career criminal. He was in and out of prison with several convictions for fraud and trickery. If this con job could happen in Ft. Lauderdale, it could happen in Nutley, Belleville or Bloomfield. We ask our senior citizens — especially the live-alones — to be wary of strangers who try to separate the seniors from their money with a glib tongue.

THE owners of ten Ft. Lauderdale beach hotels, frustrated by declining Spring Break tourist trade and unwilling to experience another bad year, put their property on the auction block. And all this because Ft. Lauderdale officials decided 30,000 youngsters at Spring Break were getting too much to handle.

STATE takeover of court costs, an effort initiated by Senator Carmen Orechio, passed by the legislature and vetoed by Governor Tom Kean a couple of years ago, is back on track and going through the process. This time, the legislature will approve it again, and Tom Kean is expected to sign the bill when it reaches his desk. The transfer of the court costs from the county to the state will save hundreds of thousands of dollars for the taxpayers of Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield.

IT'S incredible that a drug war zone exists within five minutes from Nutley's northern border. Monroe Street, Passaic, has emerged as the hot spot in the city's drug war. Residents charge the police with neglect — or "looking the other way." Police say it's impossible to curb the illegal drug traffic without the support of landlords.

I don't agree. The posting of a police detail at either end of the street should close down the drug operation, at least on Monroe Street. The proliferation of drug dealing and drug use in America is our number one enemy. The Reagan administration is not doing enough to stop the import of drugs. Acknowledging that fact, does not keep drugs off the streets of our surrounding communities. There are no drug dealers standing on Nutley corners peddling their illegal merchandise. That is because we have an anti-crime detail, under the leadership of Police Chief Sal Dimichino, working with Essex County Sheriff Tom D'Alessio's hard-hitting drug unit, that sends a message to drug pushers that Nutley is off-limits.

IT'S always a pleasure to drop in at the Eastern Airlines Ionosphere Club at Newark Airport and be welcomed by two of Eastern Airline's top goodwill ambassadors, Jean Kelly and Carmen Johnson. The ladies go out of their way to make members feel at home, catering to their every travel need. The Newark Airport Eastern Airlines staff is one of the most efficient in the airline industry — and it should be — it is led by a veteran, highly experienced, thoroughly dedicated Eastern employee, General Supervisor Bill Schultz. The Eastern top brass in Miami and Rockefeller Center are fortunate to have employees like Jean Kelly, Carmen Johnson and Bill Schultz daily working at the job of making their passengers happy, and this includes Joseph Vattiat, at the Palm Beach Airport. Vattiat is more than a Passenger Agent — he is a problem solver supreme.

Volunteers honored by balloon launch

In what may be the first nationwide balloon launch, the Great RSVP Balloon Launch '88 will take place April 20. The balloon launch is planned by the National Association of Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) Directors to honor the contributions of the 400,000 volunteers of the RSVP.

RSVP is a national program with 751 projects throughout the United States. RSVP volunteers, aged 60 and over, serve in non-profit and community service organizations.

Balloons are the theme for April 20 and plans range from balloon bouquets to hot air balloon ascensions. Hundreds of activities will take place at the same time across the county. In Essex County, with the largest RSVP in the state, a plane with a banner saying "Thank You - RSVP Volunteers" will circle the county between 1:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. At the same time, due to air restrictions, RSVP stations in Newark will display special RSVP balloons representing their volunteers.

Across the nation RSVP volunteers serve in schools, hospitals, libraries, museums, day care centers and many other organizations. They range in age from 60 to 103 years and they come from every kind of background: from people with no formal education to PHD's, retired truck drivers and teachers, executives, nurses...the list is as varied as our country, itself.

RSVP - Essex County sponsored by Senior Service, is funded by ACTION and receives support from the United Ways of Essex and West Hudson, Bloomfield and North Essex.

It seems like only Yesterday

A tabby with spunk

By Gregg Friedmann
25 YEARS AGO

The new $14,000 Acting Town Manager, John R. Burnett, took office yesterday morning with one major thought in mind—the development of a stabilized tax rate.

Robert E. Cook, superintendent of recreation, announced this week that the Recreation Department, with the aid of the Belleville Kiwanis, is embarking on an extended Bicycle Safety program. The purpose is to keep Belleville youth as injury-free as possible.

Alfred E. Giannetta, owner of the Bell Liquor Store, had the unpleasant experience of looking down the wrong end of a revolver. The robber made off with $192 in cash.

How to revive a cat "frozen stiff as a board" was the dilemma encountered by a U.S. Naval officer at Fort Meyer, Virginia. The cat, a house pet, was discovered deep-frozen in the family refrigerator. Luckily, with the help and advice of a veterinarian and his two assistants, the solution was discovered—a teaspoon of 100% octaine premium grade gasoline. Not only did the cat return to form, but also never had any more trouble with "engine knock."

Another interesting anecdote read: "Two mind readers met on the street. 'You're feeling great,' said one to the other. 'How am I?'

A "Get Acquainted" Tea was held at the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital School of Nursing Tuesday. Thirty-five women and the presidents of the groups they represented were guests of the local hospital Guild.

The Bellboy basemen found themselves in dire need of two things—their first victory and more importantly their first run of the new season. The team fell to Lyndhurst, 10-0, in the opener, and then to Bloomfield, 4-0.

It was a wild and whacky week for news...and it seems like only yesterday.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

A reader inquired whether there is a sugar free gum that a diabetic who has dentures can chew. The reader also indicated that he has tried every commercial product available but to no avail.

Aside from "Freedent" we have come to an obstacle as well. Chewing gum is not recommended from either a nutritional or dental health point of view. It does strain the jaw muscles and can weaken them. Chewing gum with dentures alters the "stickiness" ingredient to a removable prostheses. So if chewing gum is a "must" a possible thought would be to check the anatomy of the denture teeth, if there is a lot of grooves that gum could easily adhere to then those grooves should be rounded out or filled in.

Our 1st recommendation is to start trying sugar free lozengers. Thanks for writing

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunate, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Easter is over. So we celebrated it all with the true meaning, but do we continue to have Easter in our hearts? Do we continue to have the spirit of Christmas in our hearts? Some people have a cross made of metal or gold to be worn around the neck while others have a cross displayed somewhere in their home. Easter means new life. Did Easter really give us new life? The flowers which have been resting over the cold winter snows are blooming — new life.

I would like to think of Jesus in Heaven preparing a place for us. If we really believe in Him and make Him Lord of our lives, He is alive! He was taken down from the cross — He was buried — He did have victory over death — He lives!!! He has given us new life. He has forgiven our sins. He is in charge of our new life, a life to live for Him.

Where is Jesus in your life? Is He still on the cross? Is He still in the tomb? Or is He in your heart? Some people don't understand that question. One lady asked me how people know there is a Jesus. How does one know the Bible is true. What answer would you give? My answer was, "I know that the Bible is true and Jesus died for my sins and that He is in Heaven preparing a place for me because I know God lives within my heart. He guides me. He tells me when I do something wrong. I have faith in Him."

There is a story about a man who did not believe in God. He was a good man who tried to help other, to do what was right, but he did not believe in God. One night he had a terrible problem upon him and was afraid of the outcome. He decided to test the Bible teachings which he had heard from his family. "Lord, if you are out there, if you are real, please take this burden away from me and show me that you can give me the peace which you say is ours if we believe and trust you." From being very upset and very nervous, this man started to relax, to feel the presence of the Lord. He knew that the problem would resolve itself, and it did.

God loves His children. He will never let us down. Oh, yes, He will teach us and discipline us, but that is because He wants the best for us. So as we continue to trust Him, we will be given strength to do the things that are pleasing to Him.

Fire officers scholarship

The Belleville Fire Officers Association, Local 229, have created a scholarship fund for worthy Belleville High School seniors, according to President Joseph Santiglia.

Applications for the $250 Scholastic Achievement Award are available at the high school office, Santiglia said.

"We know $250 is not a lot of money for education these days but every little bit helps," he said. "Our membership felt we should do something and children are our future."

"What better thing to do than to help the youth."

Santiglia said the amount of the scholarship will go up as membership in the newly created organization improves and the treasury has more money. He also said the association will attempt other awards and honors they deem necessary.

Captain Robert Reed hand-carved a wooden plaque that will hang in the high school and have the annual recipients name and class engraved on a gold plate that will be on the plaque.

Santiglia said the committee, consisting of himself, Reed, Deputy Chief Walter Beresford and Captain Daniel Ward, will screen the applications shortly, as soon as all have been returned to them.

Santiglia said the scholarship will be based on academic achievement and community involvement.

Youths arrested in Bloomfield

By Karen A. Lynch

Two Belleville youths were arrested Friday morning on charges of burglarizing condominiums on John Street during a three-day period last week.

Ptl. Stephen Gerhauser was dispatched to the area 10:40 a.m. Friday on a report of two suspicious young people. At first unable to locate them, he observed youths fitting their descriptions on railroad tracks near Willet Street at 11:17, according to police reports.

On approaching the pair, Gerhauser observed them carrying a Toys-R-Us bag containing jewelry, change and an AM-FM stereo radio and arrested them, said Lt. Michael Sisco, who commands the Youth Aid Bureau.

Further investigation by bureau detectives Allen Johnson and Paul Pizzano revealed the youths also allegedly stole a remote control car and television Sigma box during burglaries at 30 John St. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sisco said.

He said one apartment was burglarized Wednesday and Thursday, the latter by a single suspect. The pair allegedly burglarized a second apartment and attempted entry into a third Friday, Sisco said.

Names of the youths, 13 and 14, were not disclosed because of their ages.

The 14-year-old was charged with three counts of burglary, three counts of theft by unlawful taking and one burglary attempt.

His companion was charged with two counts of burglary, two counts of theft and one attempt.

Articles stolen have been identified and returned to their owners, except for a small amount of cash still missing, Sisco said. He noted the investigation is continuing.

The youths, who were released to their parents, have been apprehended in Bloomfield on other occasions, Sisco said.

He commended Gerhauser, Johnson and Pizzano on the arrest and investigation, calling their efforts "good police work."

Recycling picks up

Scaperrotta. "With the public relations and a steady flow of people it's really increased."

More involvement

"People usually come down once or twice a month so it isn't an inconvenience," said Frantantoni. "We're finding once people get involved they become steady customers."

"For a volunteer program it's moving very well," said Scaperrotta. "I look at the surrounding communities and, in some respects, they're behind where we are."

"I think as the weather gets better it will grow even more," he remarked.

All municipalities are required to have a mandatory program when their county has a program approved by the state. Frantantoni said Essex County's proposed program was vetoed by the state and a new one is presently being worked out. When it is passed the state will require 15 percent of the weightstream, total garbage, to be recycled the first year of the program and 25 percent the second year. The first year begins the date the county plan is approved.

"We're not under the gun," said Frantantoni. "Actually we're ahead of the game."

Scaperrotta voiced similar sentiments, saying, "We're under no gun so we are able to investigate and do it properly."

S.A.D.D. recycling program

The Belleville Recycling Department has announced the Belleville High School chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.) has established a month long volunteer recycling program.

Under the supervision of advisor Marilyn McCabe, the students will be recycling newspapers, bottles and cans at the high school for the month of April. S.A.D.D. decided to get involved with recycling as a fund-raising idea for themselves.

All high school students, parents and faculty members are encouraged to get involved with the program. For additional information, please contact McCabe at Belleville High School.

Other non-profit organizations wishing to set up a recycling program should contact the department at 450-3322. The Recycling Department will assist in any way possible.

Residents are still encouraged to make use of the Recycling Yard at 48 William Street. The yard is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Saturday. The department has announced the collection of cans is moving very well, and activity has continued to increase over the last two months.

Medically Speaking

Dan Marucci, M.D.

Lou Citarelli, M.D.

Dear Doctor:

I am 62 years old and in good health. Recently I visited my physician for an examination. Prior to examining me he asked many questions regarding my health as well as my family's medical history. He told me that in view of my age and the fact that my mother had breast cancer, it was important that I have a mammography. I wish to comply with my physician's recommendations but I fear the radiation. How do you feel?

Answer:

Breast cancer is a major public health problem in the western hemisphere. Last year over 100,000 women were diagnosed in the United States to have breast cancer and it remains one of the principal causes of death for women.

As is the case with many cancers, breast cancer has been considered to be a multifactorially caused condition. A woman's age, her menstrual and reproductive history, family history and prior history of other breast disease have all been linked to breast cancer. Diet, hormonal intake, medications and radiation exposure are additional factors.

Great strides and advances have been made in the comprehensive care of women with breast cancer. Some of these advances include new therapeutic agents and surgical technique. However, the most essential factor contributing to decrease in the number of deaths from breast cancer remains early detection.

Early detection can be maximized by regular visits to your physician for complete examination and diagnostics he or she may recommend. Between visits it is important for women to perform self examination and report any abnormalities to their doctor.

Finally I would like to address your specific question regarding mammography. Radiation has been linked to breast cancer and this is obviously of concern to women having mammography performed on them.

The National Cancer Institute evaluated the risk of radiation and benefit of mammography for early detection and made the following recommendations. All women 50 and older should have annual mammograms. Women between 40-49 who are in the high risk group should have annual mammograms. The high risk group was defined as those who had prior breast cancer or who had a mother or sibling with the disease. Women younger than age 40 should have a baseline mammogram, the exact age to be strictly individualized based upon a detailed history and complete physical exam.

In view of the aforementioned facts and the history you have provided me, I believe that the potential benefit from a mammogram greatly outweighs the potential risk from the exposure to radiation.

Send inquiries to: Franklin Medical Associates, 14 Franklin St., Belleville 07109.

Crecco

very well with the speaker's initiatives. I will ask committee chairman Rob Martin (R-Morris) to quickly post the bill so we can have a complete package that will return accountability to state government."

One of the major problems confronting local governments currently is the garbage disposal crisis, with the state ordering landfills closed before resource recovery centers are operable. All of Essex County's communities and most others throughout the state face huge real estate tax increases for three or more years until the incinerators start burning refuse.

"It is absolutely shameful the way some of our people have to live because of ever increasing property taxes," Mrs. Crecco said. "Senior citizens on fixed incomes and young people just purchasing a first home are finding they cannot afford to live in the community of their choice."

"This is why property tax relief is so urgently needed."

Amendment procedure

In order for ACR-97 to become law, it must be approved by a three-fifths margin in both houses and then become a referendum question in a general election. Mrs. Crecco said she hopes it can be readied for next November's ballot.

"When local elected officials are constantly faced with state mandated programs that require substantial municipal funding, they can either raise taxes or forego some other local initiative," the assemblywoman said. "That means home rule has been steadily eroded. ACR-97 could signal a return to local determination."

"With that bill in place, maybe New Jersey can return to the Jeffersonian persuasion that the government that governs least governs best. It will get government off the backs of the people -- and keep it off."

With its release from committee, ACR-97 now gets a debate in the full assembly, while A-1997 is pending review in the State Government Committee.

Hospital's volunteer display

Clara Maass Medical Center Volunteer Services Department is currently providing a display for the Belleville Public Library during the month of April, which coincides with National Volunteer Week, April 17-23.

The display will honor those volunteers, who have knitted for the newborn infant cap project at Clara Maass. The project, launched by the Volunteers Department at Christmas, had delighted the new mothers who are recipients of the hand knit gifts. Also, the project has generated widespread enthusiasm in the community, as more and more women join the ranks of knitters.

The project was the brainchild of volunteer staff member and Nutley resident, Jane Rademacher, who heard of the success of a similar program at other hospitals. Since the project has begun, more than 40 knitters or yarn donors have joined the project. Belleville residents who are members are: Nancy Patterson, Theresa Legreid, Janet Daly, Dorothy Behan, Rose Iacullo, Winifred Graham, Marie Drake, Helen Dalconzo, Mary Nucci, Mary Kelly, Lillian Metcalf, Alice Bezalla, and Agnes Dodska.

Anyone interested in joining the knitters may call the Clara Maass Medical Center Volunteer Department for more information and knitting instructions, at 450-2150.

Seeing Eye needs youngsters to raise German shepherds

The Seeing Eye of Morristown has German shepherd puppies ready to leave the Scientific Breeding Station to be raised in 4-H homes.

In 1929, The Seeing Eye began from a small breeding farm in Switzerland named Fortunate Fields, where German shepherds were bred and trained for police work. There, a woman named Dorothy Eustis and an accomplished animal trainer named Jack Humphrey sought to breed working characteristics back in the German shepherd which had been bred primarily for the show ring. The first Seeing Eye shepherds were bred and trained at Fortunate Fields.

The Seeing Eye now maintains its own Scientific Breeding Station in Morris Township where German shepherds are still being bred for good working characteristics. They are healthy, intelligent dogs with gentle dispositions and have a great willingness to please.

Since 1942, Seeing Eye shepherds have been raised in loving families with youngsters from 9 to 19 years old. Would you like to raise a puppy? For more information, call your local 4-H office at 239-5704.

Your kitchen is dangerous

The kitchen of every home contains all the ingredients for a dangerous fire. The New Jersey Fire Prevention and Protection Association and the New Jersey Bureau of Fire Safety help you reduce your risk of kitchen fires by giving the following suggestions:

- Keep things that burn away from the cooking areas and appliances in your kitchen. Don't place towels, pot holders or paper bags on the stove or near hot appliances.
- Clean any grease buildup from the stove, oven or exhaust fan regularly. Cooking grease and oil ignite easily and burn rapidly. Use a lid or bigger pan to smother a pan fire. Do not use water or flour on a grease fire. It will make the fire bigger. Do not carry a burning pan. Keep a lid, baking soda or a fire extinguisher handy to smother fires.
- Avoid reaching over the stove for anything. Store frequently needed items in other areas of the kitchen. Don't store cookies near the stove. It might tempt little children to climb on the stove. Keep children away from cooking areas entirely.
- Keep pot handles turned inward, out of the reach of children and where you can't bump into them. Keep appliance cords up on counter tops too. Check cords for frayed or broken spots. Replace damaged cords or appliances.
- Dress for fire safety in the kitchen. Do not wear loose fitting clothing, like nightgowns or robes while cooking.
- Shield yourself from steam when uncovering food, especially microwave servings. Steam can cause serious burns.

Kitchen Quick Cuts

This delicious combo of hearty pasta, ground beef and Parmesan cheese is simple to make. With robustly seasoned pasta salad mix and a few have-on-hand ingredients, it's easy to create this one-dish fiesta.

Italian Pasta Bake

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 1 package (5.7 oz) Creamy Italian Salad Bar Pasta | 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese |
| 3/4 cup mayonnaise | 1 pound ground beef |
| 1/4 cup milk | 1/2 cup chopped onion |
| 2 eggs | 1 can (8 oz) tomato sauce |

Cook and drain pasta according to package directions. (Do not rinse with cold water.) In small bowl stir together seasoning mix, mayonnaise, milk, eggs and Parmesan until smooth. Belleville Times SPORTS

This is his ninth season as coach of the Belleville softball team, and during that time, his teams have been some of the best in conference, county and state play. This year, despite injuries and new players at key positions, the Belleville softball team is off to another good start.

The architect behind this success is Carl Corino, who took over the program in 1980 and has guided the club to 191 victories, counting last weeks action. Corino is just nine victories away from a phenomenal accomplishment and there is no end in sight.

While the coach acknowledges his success, he credits the record to his players over the years. Corino's clubs have captured three NNJIL titles, two county crowns and a state sectional championship. The 1986 team set a school record for most victories in a season, with 26. The '87 club eclipsed that mark, winning 28, including the first ever sectional championship for girls' sports at BHS.

This year, there are some question marks to be filled. First off, the pitching is not as deep as previous years. Secondly, there are new players at first base, shortstop, third base and catcher. That injury factor has also set in, but Corino has adapted well, making the necessary adjustments.

"We have some inexperience, no doubt," Corino said. "But this team has pulled through. We were hurt by Stacey's (Johansen) injury, but we have to go on. We lost some outstanding players to graduation last year. But we have some young kids that have filled the slot well. I don't know how well we're going to do. The county is loaded this spring. There is outstanding pitching all the way around."

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

Not that Belleville is lacking an outstanding pitcher. They have one in senior Janine Luzzi, who has pitched every inning of every game through the first five contests, four of which Belleville has won. Luzzi is a proven talent. She won 21 games in 1986 and came back with 13 last year.

"This is her senior year," Corino said of Luzzi. "She welcomes the challenge, I know that, but I want to give her help. Hopefully, Tricia (Donnelly) will be back shortly. She's had a virus, but I think we'll have her back this week. She can give Janine a little rest from pitching every game out."

Luzzi was the hurler in the state tournament last year and responded very well. She has been very impressive thus far in '88, and that's against some good opponents.

"We're not going to get many breaks with the schedule," Corino said. "Every game will be a battle. We've already played Lyndhurst, Union and Paramus. This week, we'll see Paramus Catholic and Caldwell. Then, the NNJIL action gets underway. It should be a tough schedule."

While Corino is trying his best to sound like Whitey Herzog, opposing coaches in the league aren't smelling a rat. They know of Belleville's reputation, and their ability to win tight ball games.

On offense, Corino is relying on his returning players. Laurie Dondarski is back at second base for her junior year. The talented athlete is the leadoff hitter and has excellent speed. She is also a good contact hitter and sets the table for the attack.

Carol Morrison, who started at third base last year, moves to first this season. The junior, who has already powered two homers in the young season, has adapted well to her new position and her experience in big games will be a factor.

In the outfield, senior tri captain, Racquel Melson, leads the way in centerfield. Another all around athlete, Melson will share the captains job with Luzzi and Natalie La Bella, who plays right field.

The new shortstop this year is sophomore Jennifer Bridge. Thus far, she has responded well to the challenge of shortstop, and the steady playing time should be a big plus when the tournament action comes around in May.

Over at the hot corner this year is senior Anne Carlucci. This will be Carlucci's first year of varsity competition and she has looked very steady thus far in '88.

The new leftfielder is Michele Milano, who, according to Corino, has been a big surprise, both in the field and at the plate. Behind the plate is sophomore Laurie Moyer, who takes over for the all state Laura Caruso.

Moyer has done well at the battery position. Belleville has developed a good reputation for outstanding catchers in softball. In the late 70's, Denise Zarra made all state for her work behind the plate. From 1981-84, Tracy Buono did the job, and did it tremendously, earning county and state honors.

From 1985-87, it was Caruso's turn, and she, too, made county and state teams.

Belleville has been without the services of Johansen, who went down with a knee injury in January and underwent arthroscopic surgery in March. She has been under rehab for the leg, but a date has not been set for a possible return. A knee injury requires special care, and Corino does not plan on rushing the Johansen's return.

The coach does feel he has some depth with Simone Edwards, a newcomer to the game, and Denise Lusnia, Diane Di Vincenzo and Melissa Marcuontono coming off the bench.

Belleville has already posted some impressive victories, having beaten Lyndhurst on the road, and stopping Paramus and Union. The win over Union was very big. The Lady Farmers were ranked fourth in the state and held a 3-0 lead over Belleville in the bottom of the seventh.

The Union pitcher, an All State selection, had struck out 12 over six innings, but control became a factor in the last inning. Union pitching allowed seven straight walks, accounting for four Belleville runs and a 4-3 Lady Buc victory. It might have been a bizarre ending, but it was a big win for Belleville and should provide a big confidence boost.

Thus, Belleville defeated a highly ranked state club despite just two infield singles. Many people say the sign of a good team is one who can find ways to win. Thus far, Corino's crew has answered the call.

It's still early, and a 4-1 start is not the barometer of a season, but things certainly look good for the Belleville softball team. It might not be easy, but you can be assured the Lady Bucs will battle to the end. It's a trademark of the Corino ballclub.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The last two times two teams from the same conference met in the NCAA basketball title game was 1976 and '85. In '76, Indiana beat Michigan and in '85, Villanova posted the miracle over Georgetown.

FOR THIS WEEK

Who was the last team to beat the Boston Celtics in the NBA playoffs, not counting the NBA finals.

Finally, hello to Cynthia Axiotes, a diehard Cincinnati Reds fan who graced Riverfront Stadium last Monday. See you at Wrigley Field, soon.

Lady Bucs win four straight games

When we last left the Belleville softball team, it was struggling to find its offensive shoes following a 3-1 loss to Queen of Peace in the season opener. One week later, all is well with the squad with four straight wins posted to the won-loss ledger.

The Lady Bucs downed Hackensack, Lyndhurst, Union and Paramus last week to improve its mark to 4-1. This week, the girls were scheduled to face Immaculate Heart and Ridgewood in earlier contests. Tomorrow, the girls are at Teaneck in a 4 p.m. start. On Saturday, Belleville travels to Caldwell for a 7 p.m. in a key early season game. Next Wednesday, the team faces Paramus Catholic, on the road, at 4 p.m.

Last week, Belleville got on the winning track in 1988 after a lackluster loss to Queen of Peace in the season opener. Head coach Carl Corino was certainly pleased with the strong effort by his team, especially on the offensive end.

"I was very happy with the week," the coach said. "We hit the ball well and won some close games. There aren't any easy games on the schedule this year. We'll have to work for each win. Last week was a good example of that."

Belleville started the week with a 7-3 victory over Hackensack. As was the case all week long, senior pitcher Janine Luzzi hurled the entire game for the Lady Bucs.

Luzzi allowed six hits, struck out four and walked three in pitching the first of four complete games on the week. Luzzi was assisted by 11 Belleville hits and some clutch hitting by some of her mates.

Belleville jumped out to a 3-0 first inning lead, but Hackensack came back to tie in the second inning. In the Belleville third, Jennifer Bridge, a sophomore shortstop, lined a single to score Racquel Melson and put Belleville ahead to stay, 4-3. In the fifth, Carol Morrison lined a solo homer to put Belleville ahead by two runs and in the seventh, the Lady Bucs added two more insurance runs.

With victory number one assured, Belleville went to Lyndhurst for what was expected to be a difficult outing with a good Bergen County school. However, Belleville put together a 14 hit attack and breezed to an 11-4 victory.

Luzzi hurled the entire game for her second win of the young season. The senior allowed six hits and struck out four. She gave up three runs in the bottom of the first when Lyndhurst opened a 3-0 advantage.

However, Belleville scored twice in the second and third innings, then scored three times in the fourth and four times in the fifth to pull away to a decisive victory.

There were many offensive heroes for Belleville. Laurie Dondarski, who has been enjoying a fine season at the plate in the early going, had two hits. Michele Milano was two hits and two RBI's. Milano, a senior outfielder, has fit in well in the starting lineup.

Morrison had two hits in the game, Melson had two hits and three RBI's, Luzzi pounded three hits and Natalie La Bella had two hits and two ribbies.

"We hit the ball," said Corino. "We fell behind early, but came back strong and beat a good club."

Last Saturday, Belleville and Union hooked up in another classic battle between the two schools. Over the past six years, the Lady Bucs and Lady Farmers have been two of the better schools in softball in the section and the two schools have engaged in some heated battles.

Union appeared to have the edge last week, leading 1-0 after six innings and 3-0 heading into the last of the seventh inning. Union's all state pitcher, Daniele Shanley appeared to be in total control, having struck out 12 Belleville hitters in six innings.

"It didn't look too good," admitted Corino of the Union game. "Here we were, down 3-0 to a state ranked team (Union was ranked fourth in the state last week and was undefeated). Their pitcher was hurling an outstanding ball game and we had just two hits going into the last inning (both of those hits coming from Dondarski)."

However, the old adage that it's never over till it's over held true in

Bucs lose to opponents, weather

The Belleville baseball team lost two games last week to interconference rivals Bergen Catholic and Paramus. The two defeats lowered the team record to 1-2. Nick Grande's club had two games cancelled because of the bad weather last week.

The Bucs battled Don Bosco and Ridgewood earlier this week. Tomorrow afternoon, the team is home to Teaneck in a 4 p.m. start. The Bucs were scheduled to face Hillside on Saturday at home, but Grande wasn't sure if the game would be played. Next Monday, the Bucs are at St. Joe's and next Wednesday, the team is host to Paramus Catholic. Both of those games commence at 4 p.m.

Versus Bergen Catholic, Belleville lost an 11-8 slugfest. This was a game where the Bucs once held a 4-1 lead, but B.C. used some potent bats to pull ahead to victory. The game lasted just 5 1/2 innings due to a Bergen County park rule that states a new inning can not commence after 6 p.m.

"Don't ask," said Grande of the new rule. "It was a park rule and that was that. The game ended with us hitting into a double play with the bases loaded. Their pitcher made a great play to start the double play, or we might have had a few more runs."

Bergen Catholic jumped out to a 1-0 lead after one inning, but Belleville tallied four runs in the third to gain a three run advantage. Bergen Catholic came right back, however, scoring three times in the third to tie matters at four against Belleville starting pitcher Frank Orrei.

B.C. tallied twice in the fourth to gain the lead, and after Belleville cut the deficit to one at 6-5 in the fifth, Bergen Catholic exploded for five runs to extend its lead to 11-5.

To Belleville's credit, it never let down. The team scored three times in the top of the six to narrow the margin to three runs and had it not been for a fine double play started by the B.C. pitcher, the game could have been even closer.

Anthony Rodriguez, who came on to pitch in the fourth inning for Belleville, was charged with the loss. Jay Marchese led the Belleville attack with a double and triple and four RBI's. P.J. Grande added a double and two RBI's to help the Belleville attack.

"I thought our kids did very well against Bergen Catholic," Grande said. "They (B.C.) had a very strong club. I wasn't too happy with the conditions up there, however. There's a running path in the middle of the outfield and the basketball court was in the deep part of the outfield."

Versus Paramus last Monday, Belleville suffered through a poor fifth inning that cost the team the ball game. The final count was 3-2, with Paramus scoring all three runs in that fifth frame.

Belleville jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning when Marchese doubled and Mike Finan singled him home. After Paramus scored three runs in the fifth (only one ball left the infield during the rally), Belleville battled back with a run in the sixth.

Jeff Spillsbury walked and stole second. Rodriguez reached safely on an error by the first baseman, putting runners at first and third. Finan then lofted a sacrifice fly, scoring Spillsbury.

Belleville was held scoreless in the seventh inning and lost a tough ball game. The loss went to Ernie Brodie, despite an outstanding performance by the junior hurler. He pitched five innings, allowing just four hits. Michael Thompson threw a scoreless sixth inning for the Bucs.

Offensively, Finan had two hits and two RBI's in the game and Gary Villano had two hits for the Bucs.

"I thought it was a game we should have won," Grande said of the Paramus game. "But it's one game and we don't have time to worry about it. There's a long season ahead and you can't dwell on one game. We had a good pitching performance by Ernie and Mike (Thompson), and that was certainly positive."

Thus, Belleville enters a big week of action, with the NNJIL Essex-Passaic games scheduled to begin next Thursday when Clifton will provide a big test.

Tennis team season start

The Belleville boys' tennis team opened its 1988 season last week, losing four straight matches to interconference rivals. Two of the setbacks came by 3-2 margins to Hackensack and Paramus while Bergen Catholic and Don Bosco were 5-0 victors over the Bucs.

Tony Salese's club faced Ridgewood yesterday and battle Elmwood Park this afternoon in a 4 p.m. match on the road. Tomorrow, Belleville is at Teaneck and next Monday, the Bucs play St. Joe's. Next Wednesday, it's off to Paramus Catholic. All of the matches begin at 4 p.m. and all of Belleville's matches will be on the road this year due to poor conditions on the tennis courts at Belleville High.

The Bucs have been led this year by senior Jonas Imprago, who plays first singles. Imprago had a 1-2 record after four matches and missed the Hackensack match due to an illness. Salese felt his team would have won that match had his club been healthy.

Playing second singles for the Bucs is senior Andy Cueva. This is his fourth year of varsity competition and Cueva should fare well against some good competition. Thus far, he has posted a 1-2 record. Like Imprago, Cueva missed the opener with Hackensack because of injury.

Playing third singles is a promising sophomore, Khol Pham. Thus far, Pham has not posted a win on the varsity singles level, but he should gain some valuable experience playing against some talented

Track opens with loss, gears for Bloomfield

Despite some strong individual efforts, the Belleville track team lost its season opener to Clifton, 91-39, last week.

The Bucs faced Bloomfield last Tuesday and are host to Eastside this afternoon at 4 p.m. from Belleville High. On Saturday, the team travels to Kearny for the annual Hudson Relays. Next Tuesday, the Bucs are at Montclair in a 4 p.m. start.

Last week, the Bucs received three first place finishes against Clifton. Charles Gerris won the pole vault with a jump of 8'. Mark Tonelli was victorious in the triple jump (34'6") and Ted Sochaski won the high jump in 5'6".

In the triple jump, in addition to Tonelli's victory, Doug Hoogendyke placed third in 32'1". Angelo Silva was second in the pole vault with a jump of 8'. In the throwing events, Dominick Tucci was second in the shot put with a throw of 36'1 1/2".

In the 800 meters, Tonelli placed third, in 2:19.3. Gaurva Nanjia had a good race in the 1600 meters, clocking in at 5:31.3. In the 3200 meters, Paul Parmenter was third in 11:31. Parmenter, just a freshman, has a fine career in store as long as he continues the necessary dedication to long distance running.

The Bucs were without the services of senior Greg Moriello, the teams best distance runner. Moriello has been sidelined with pneumonia, and head coach John Tosato wasn't sure when Moriello would be back in the lineup.

In other races, Leon Puentes was second in the 400 meters (56.2) and third in the 100 meters (12.7). Mario Lemongello had an outstanding afternoon, placing third in the 400 meters (58.2), 200 meters (25.9) and the long jump, 18'1".

Ray Zamloot finished third in the high jump, 5'6", and Roger Real closed the scoring with a second place showing in the 110 high hurdles. Real's time was 21.2.

Despite the loss, Tosato was happy with the effort put forth by his team.

"We had some good performances by three new athletes (Sochaski, Zamloot and Real)," said Tosato. "I was also pleased with the effort by our distance runners. When Greg is ready to come back, I think we should be able to score some points in the middle and upper distance races."

Lady Bucs on a roll, up mark to 4-1

this game. Belleville scored four runs in the last inning without benefit of a hit. A surprising wild streak by Shanley and some good eyes at the plate by some Belleville hitters accounted for seven straight walks and the four runs.

Luzzi, Bridge, La Bella and Simone Edwards scored the runs for Belleville. Edwards was a pinch runner in the game, but her speed on the basepaths wasn't needed since she walked the diamond en route to scoring the winning run.

"I couldn't believe it," Corino said. "She (Shanley) was in control, but lost it in the last inning. But she'll be back. Union is a very good club and will be there at the end. As for our kids, I can't say enough. They never quit and kept the game close heading into the last inning."

Lost in the zaniness of the final inning victory was another superb effort by Luzzi on the hill. Once again, she hurled a complete game, striking out seven, walking four and allowing six hits.

Versus Paramus last Monday, Belleville rallied once again from an early deficit and prevailed. This time, the score was 9-5 as the Belleville bats came back to life after the Union game.

"We had a lousy first inning," Corino said. "We gave up four hits and committed four errors and we're down, 5-0. But once again, we came back strong and got some key hits."

Belleville tallied seven times in the second inning to erase the deficit. Melson started the rally with a triple and scored on a Luzzi single. Luzzi and Bridge later scored to cut the lead to 5-3. Anne Carlucci, Dondarski and Milano reached base, setting up a bases loaded situation for Morrison. The junior first baseman did not disappoint, hitting a grand slam homer to put Belleville ahead for good. It was Morrison's second HR of the young season.

Once again, Luzzi turned in a workmanlike effort in the win. She hurled the complete game, allowing all of Paramus' runs in the first inning.

"She has been doing the job," Corino said of Luzzi. "We're not deep in pitching now, with Stacey (Johansen) out and Tricia Donnelly (the second varsity hurler) out sick with a virus. Hopefully, we'll have Donnelly back this week."

OTES: Game with Ridgewood yesterday was beamed by TV-3. Johansen's status is still week to week and Corino has no date when the sophomore could return to the lineup. More on the team in this week's Buc Shots.

"Hey Coach"

By Phil Esposito

I was reading the paper when I heard my son say "There's Little League tryouts and I'd really like to play." He handed me the form and asked me to sign. But I hesitated to put my name on the line. I love baseball and certainly love my son. But I wasn't so sure Little League would be fun. As he looked up at me with his big wide grin I told him "have fun don't worry if you win" Off he went with a smile on his face. Not having a clue what would take place. "Hey coach I'm ready, I'm rearin' to go. What do you mean I run too slow?" "Hey coach where do I go, give me a hand. Please help me, there's a lot to understand." "Hey coach where's shortstop, over here, where? Why are you yelling, don't you even care?" "Hey coach don't you see I'm giving my all I really want to learn how to hit that ball." My son returned home with a face full of tears. He sat down and told me a heart full of fears. Daddy, I'm afraid to really play this game. If I make a mistake, I feel so ashamed. If I can't catch the ball and can't get a hit. The coach just keeps yelling and tells me to sit. Daddy, you told me to go and have fun. I thought it didn't matter whether we won. When I try to learn, the coach doesn't teach. He says that winning is the goal we must reach. I think I'd rather go to the park and play. Just go with my friends and play baseball all day. No uniforms, no pressure, just a good time. And if we goof up it won't be a crime. No parents yelling, no coach to put you down. Just sunshine, friends and baseball, how does that sound? I hugged my son and gave him a kiss. This young boy knew what some coaches miss. Let the kids play, let them learn and enjoy. Don't take the fun out of being a boy. You're there to encourage, not just to jeer. Don't try to relive your baseball career. These kids look up to you, a hero in their eyes. Does it really matter if they can't catch those flies? Don't turn them off to this wonderful game. Think of these kids, don't worry about your fame. The three letters for FUN have been replaced by WIN. What has happened to sports is really a sin. Take that worried frown and let a smile beam. And maybe these kids will find self esteem. Realize that your goal should be very clear. You're there to help, not be "Coach of the Year."

players in the NNJIL.

The first doubles team consists of Dawson Bloom and Gus Lijo, both seniors. In the early stages of the season, Bloom and Lijo have combined for a 1-2 record. Both men are good athletes and the number one doubles position is usually crucial to winning close matches.

In the second doubles slot is freshman Mark Mellinger and sophomore Hao Ly. Also expected to see playing time are sophomores Ahn Bui and Albert Leyson.

The Bucs will face some very talented clubs in Ridgewood, Teaneck, St. Joe's and Paramus Catholic in the early going. Hopefully, the competition will get the team ready for the NNJIL Essex-Passaic action, which kicks off next week.

Democratic Club meeting

Monday, May 2, the Belleville Democratic Club will hold it's regular monthly meeting at 8:00 p.m. at the Little League Field House. After the regular meeting, a representative from the sheriff's department will speak on alcohol and drug abuse. All are welcome.

A.S.A. Umpire Tests

The Belleville A.S.A. Umpire's Association will be conducting the A.S.A. Softball Umpire's Test on Monday, April 18, 7:30 p.m. at the Rec House, 407 Joralemon Street.

Any adult, male or female, interested in taking the test should call 450-3422 for an application. There is a $15 fee.

Persons who register can attend the A.S.A. Softball Rules clinics, to be given on Wednesday April 13 and Thursday, April 14, 7 p.m. The clinics are designed to prepare for the test and will be conducted by Frank C. Ameo, Belleville's

NJIT baseball trains in P.R.

For the first time ever, the New Jersey Institute of Technology softball team spent spring break at a warm weather training site, and the results of the time in the sun have been significant.

"Right now," says Tech coach Bob Moran, "we're at the same level we were when the 1987 season ended, so our week in Puerto Rico was invaluable in our team's development."

Tech's trip to the Caribbean was no day at the beach.

"It was more life an afternoon at the beach," he explains.

"We worked on drills and skills every morning from eight until noon," notes Moran. "Then Tom Pitt, my assistant, and I would spend the afternoon reviewing videotapes of the morning sessions while the players too some time off."

"Of the 18 players on our roster, only two started in high school, so work on basics was a big item in Puerto Rico," he says.

As a result of that work, Moran heads into the 1988 season with a positive attitude. Part of that optimism is based on the right side of the Tech infield.

Adrienne Bujtas, a junior from Parsippany, is back at third. She batted .400 last season and was all-league in the Women's Independent Athletic Conference.

At short for the Highlanders will be Lisa Geraghty, a junior from Mountainside. Like Bujtas, she is a student in Tech's School of Architecture.

Lucy Gomez, a senior from Berkeley Heights who went 3-3 in 1987, leads the pitching staff.

Junior Liz Goldrick, who prepped at Belleville High School, and southpaw Linda Belenets, another junior from Mountainside, round out the Highlander's pitching rotation.

Jean Murray, the Highlander's MVP for the past two season, is back behind the plate, where her experience is a big item this season.

Tech went 6-8 (4-4 in conference) in 1987, and Moran is looking for more progress in 1988.

"We're shooting to break .500," says Moran, "even though our schedule isn't easy. We'll be playing good clubs like FDU-Madison and Bloomfield, but I'm convinced that competition like that will help our players to improve."

Umpire-in-Chief.

Registration deadline is April 14. A 70% passing grade will be required when taking the test. Successful applicants will be qualified to umpire A.S.A. softball, and will be responsible for securing their own work assignments.

Playground applications

The Belleville Recreation Department has applications for Summer Playground Director positions available. Preference is given to students majoring in recreation, physical education, teaching and psychology. Prompt application is advised, as only a few positions are open. Forms can be obtained by phoning 450-3422. Interviews will be scheduled around Easter to accommodate students home for spring break.

Potential applicants must be Belleville residents and available for seven straight weeks, from June 27 to August 12.

Umpires needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is in need of adults and boys and girls, age 16 or older, to umpire games in the recreation baseball and softball leagues.

Games are played weekday nights and Saturdays during May and June. Please call 450-3422 for more information or stop by the Rec House on Joralemon Street, for more information.

First League Championship

Rec wrestlers finish with a 9-0 record

By Jerry Patrizio, Jr.

The Belleville Recreation wrestling team finished with the best record in the Essex County Junior League. With a 9-0 record comes the first league championship in recreation wrestling history. However, the Rec. team didn't stop there. They wrestled in the Elizabeth Tournament by scoring a record 172 points and came in 7th place in the West Essex Tournament.

In the Elizabeth Tournament, Belleville captured its second title in three years. Emilio Nardone, one of the team co-captains, took his second title by winning the 112 lb. weight class. John Perna took his second title by 65. Marc Capizzi and Joshua Carinale also took first place titles. Second place finishers are Isiah Cardinale, Michael Citarelli and Carmine Tousto. Third place finishers are Carlo Ritacco, John Alvarado and Angel Marin.

In the West Essex Tournament, the Rec. team came in 7th in a field of 13 teams. Only four Belleville wrestlers entered, while most teams fielded 14 to 17 wrestlers as a squad. Vinnie De Simone, team co-captain, was first place winner with Marc Capizzi and Marin coming in third place.

The tournament had individual matches. John Perna took first place and Luke Carinale took third. The team of midget wrestlers also did well. Chris Zarro took second place, Frank Zarro and Joe Papisidero came in fourth.

In the Caldwell tournament Emilio Nardone took first place, Alvarado second and De Simone third. In the South Plainfield tournament, De Simone took first place, Alvarado and Aldo Sanchez came in third place, and Joshua Cardinale fourth.

In the Bloomfield Novice tournament, Luke Carinale took first place, Chris Zarro second, Frank Zarro third and Brian Cassera fourth.

In the League Tournament, the team did very well by taking eight medals. Captains De Simone and Nardone took first place, with Perna and Alvarado also taking first place medals. Second place finishers were Isiah Cardinale and Carmine Tousto. Marc Capizzi, Luke Carinale in third and Joshua Cardinale in fourth place.

The team had some fine wrestlers this year. The lead-off wrestlers set the tone for the outcome of match with four of the top kids in the county named "The Rat Pack." The rats are John Perna 16-2, Luke 17-2, Isiah 13-3, Joshua 13-5-2 Cardinale. In the league their record was 31-1-2, overall record of 59-12-2. The middle of the lineup was filled with an inexperienced group of boys led by Carlo Ritacco 9-6 and Bob Murano 4-5. Mark Johns 3-6 and Joe McNish 2-6 slit the season at 80 lbs. Paul Aliello and Jeff Rambaldi finished 2-5, while Mickey Paparazzo, who was in one of the toughest weight classes finished 1-11.

Most of these boys are one year or less in the sport. Co-captain Nardone, 19-0, was in top form with ten pins and five technical falls in 19 of his wins. Newcomers Citarelli 11-2, and Tousto, 12-5, combined for 23-7. Co-captain De Simone put together his best season, finishing with the team's most wins, 23-3. Alvarado finished with a 19-3 at 145 pounds.

With upper weights a problem at the high school level, not so at the Rec. level. Marc Capizzi 13-3 and Angel Marin anchor the squad at the H.W. position. Aldo Sanchez 0-2 and John Krug 1-2 complete the team.

The future of the team lies with the Midget program. Chris Zarro 5-2 and Frank Zarro 5-2 are the next brother combination wrestlers in town. Joe Papisidero 2-3 is on his way to be a tough wrestler. The rest of the midget team is: Graig Goldstein 0-2, Bobby Rossitti 0-2, Ricky Serriella 0-1, Tristyn Kvetus 0-1, Nicky Senatore 0-1, Derrick Zoppi 0-2, Jason Alfano 0-2, Chris Vallie 0-1, Brian Cassera 1-2. These boys are the blood line for next year's team. With coaches Louie Riccardi, Jerry Patrizio, Al Henry, Ralph Cardinale, the future looks bright.

The following wrestlers received awards at the Recreation awards party, given to them for reaching the goals set by the coaches at the beginning of the season:

Emilio Nardone, winner of the Outstanding Wrestler Award; Joshua Carinale the Most Improved Wrestler Award; Carmine Tousto the Most Pins Award; Angel Marin got the Fastest Pin Award; John Perna the Tournament Fastest Pin Award.

Vinnie De Simone won the Most Take Down Award. Vinnie also won the Joseph Nisivocia Award. The Coach's Corner Award was given to two sets of parents this year, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perna and Mr. and Mrs. "Shoes" Nardone.

Easy way to make dining chair pads: remove the chair seats and wrap each smoothly with squares of fabric. Staple on the back side and replace on chairs.

To remove soap scum from shower curtains, wash them by machine with a couple of towels. Use warm water and a gentle washing action, your regular detergent, and a cup of vinegar. Don't spin dry.

Skylights are available in clear glazing or tinted. Clear windows offer maximum light. Bronze tinting reduces summer heat gain and gives golden light similar to an incandescent bulb. Translucent white tinting gives a soft, diffused light.

Latex-base deck paint is the covering of choice for an outdoor concrete-slab patio. Make sure the surface is clean before painting; two coats are advised.
