Code enforcement cleaning up town

By Pat Brightman

In an attempt to clean up Belleville's appearance and insure its suburban flavor, instead of becoming an annex of Newark, the Code Enforcement Agency has continually issued warnings and notices to land owners to clean up their property.

Housing Maintenance Inspector Joseph Fornarotto recently forwarded to Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni copies of 77 notices that were sent out to business and homeowners on Washington Avenue alone.

"We're very forceful," said Fornarotto. "The intent is to pressure them (the land owners) to fix up their property. If they don't, we take them to court."

According to Fornarotto, the usual procedure is to issue two warning notices to property owners, and if no improvements have been made, a summons to appear in court is given.

"Judge Steir once fined a man for 200 days at $200 a day," recalled Fornarotto, "because he was ignorant to fix his property."

"He appeared before the Judge four times and he kept promising he'd fix it up but he never did so he fined him," said Fornarotto.

The ordinance, number 1996, states, "the exterior of the premises and all structures thereon shall be kept free of all nuisances and any hazards to the safety of occupants, pedestrians and other persons utilizing the premises, and free of unsanitary conditions." What this basically means is all structures must be kept up by the owner and free of any unsafe, or unsightly, conditions. According to Fornarotto, fines range from $100 to $500.

Relief available

Fornarotto said many people don't understand there is relief, in the form of grants with low interest rates, so homeowners can repair their homes. Through the town, businesses and homeowners can receive grants, up to $1,500 for a storefront on Washington Avenue, or aid through certain programs.

"We can lead them to that source if that's what they want," he said. "Some people are too proud, though. They don't want to come forward and ask for the money because of their pride."

This doesn't mean the Code Enforcement Office will stand idly by and wait. Fornarotto recalled a lien put on a house on Garden Street where the town paid for the repairs and the owner came up with the money and paid the town.

"If a person refuses to make repairs, we can call a contractor to do the job and put a lien on the property," said Fornarotto. "The town gets the money back either when the owner comes up with the money or the house is sold."

Fornarotto said the success rate has been very good, approximately 99 percent of those who receive notices make repairs. He said businesses had not been a major problem because, "you have to have money to go into business and you should have enough to make repairs." It's the homeowners who can sometimes be a problem because of finances.

"Notice has gotten out, word's gotten out that we're tough," said Fornarotto, "but we're considerate. We'll give the people time to fix it up."

Fornarotto estimated he is on the road 50 percent of the time, making spot inspections. He also said calls periodically come in about a problem they are unaware of and they go out and make an inspection.

"We go out everyday, including Saturdays and Sundays," he said. "We went out at 5:30 in the morning one Saturday to inspect a garbage disposal plant."

Sidewalk ordinance

Fornarotto said there is a sidewalk ordinance, which states sidewalks, curbs and gutters must be kept in a safe condition or the owner can be fined. Many sidewalks become uneven and unsafe because of root growth underneath. Fornarotto said the owners can remove the sidewalk and call the Department of Public Works, and the department will send a crew over to cut the roots and pour in cement for a new sidewalk.

"We have to keep the town in a prosperous condition because we live too close to Newark and East Orange," he said. "We are a suburban town and we should have that look."

Up-to-date facility

New oncology unit opened at Clara Maass Medical Center

The new oncology unit in Clara Maass Medical Center was shown to the public for the first time last week during an open house and luncheon sponsored by the hospital.

The unit, which is an up-to-date, improved facility, is located on the first floor of the Continuing Care Center. The old unit was on the third floor and once all the moving is completed will be renovated and used as an enlargement of the nursing home. The nursing home is on the second floor.

"This new unit will be creating an environment for healing," said Robert Curtis, president of the hospital. "We will have spiritual and medical healing for the most important people in the world, our patients."

Curtis said along with the renovations for the new unit, the hospital will continue to acquire new techniques and offer new services to cancer patients.

"I think Clara Maass is on the right track with the team we have," commented Henry C. Pfaff, Jr., chairman of the Board of Trustees. "I have seen the hospital grow and it has given us these beautiful rooms."

The floor was completely renovated, including the color scheme, which is bright and cheerful to help the demeanor of the patients. The opportunity arose to improve the facility over the course of the past eight to ten months.

"As far as thinking (about a new unit), it's been a long time," said Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialist Brenda Diaz. "It's now coming together. This is the beginning of what the oncology unit can be."

"The actual renovating has taken between four and five months," said Head Nurse Rosemary Inserra, R.N.

At-home atmosphere

The new rooms and dining facility create a more at-home atmosphere than the other rooms at the center. To assist patients psychologically family members have free rein on visiting and are encouraged to spend nights. The Pastoral Care

Antonio's addition approved

Addition to Clara Maass proposed

An addition to Antonio's Ristorante was approved and preliminary hearings on an addition to Clara Maass Medical Center was heard at the Belleville Planning Board meeting held last week.

The addition to the restaurant, located in Belleville Plaza on the corner of Franklin Avenue and Joralemon Street was approved by a 4-2 vote with one abstention. It will add approximately 650 square feet to the present building, which is 1,400 square feet. The addition will be where a 16 foot alleyway presently is and connect Antonio's with Plaza Pastry Shop.

Two problems the board found with the proposal were the ever-present parking problems in the plaza and the landlord of the plaza F. & P. Associates, which has repeatedly disobeyed conditions set down by the Planning Board.

Ronald Murphy, the attorney for restaurant owner Anthony Iovina, said the reason for the extension is to accommodate existing business. The added space will be used for and increased kitchen area, serving area, waiting area and storage. The architect for Iovina Victor Alexandro said the present restaurant is "very unfunctional, it's long and narrow."

"I want to make the place a little more comfortable," said Iovina. "It will be used for a waiting area primarily."

Joseph Staigar, a traffic consultant, said their are enough parking spaces to accommodate the addition but admitted the open spots are a few hundred feet away from the restaurant.

Clara Maass expansion

Beginning testimony on a one story out-patient building at Clara Maass was heard. Attorney Robert Gaccione said the 28,000 square foot addition, located in the northwest corner of the hospital, will be "ambulatory or same day care." The reasons for coming before the board are it is in a multi-family zone, site plan approval in necessary and variances are needed.

Robert Arnold, vice president of support services at the hospital, said the addition would be used principally for an emergency room, out-patient center and ambulatory surgery. Eleven thousand square feet will be used for surgery, 10,000 square feet for transportation such as hallways and walkways, 5,000 square feet for out-patient and 1,200 square feet for an addition to the emergency room.

"This will enable us not to have to, bring an out-patient into the hospital and stay," said Arnold. "Five years ago a hernia was an in-patient surgery, they would have to stay a few days. A cataract was two or three days. Now it can be done in one day. It's the phenomnom of medicine in the 80s."

"We feel it's critical for continued service of the hospital," he said.

Arnold said the addition would

Celebrities come out for S.A.D.D. launch at high school

Speaker guests Steve Mayer, Jonathan Bell and Karl Nelson helped the Junior Woman's Club and Students Against Driving Drunk (S.A.D.D.) members kick-off their balloon launch last week in Belleville High School auditorium.

The purpose of the gathering was to have the members of S.A.D.D. and their parents sign a "Contract For Life" that states any teenager who has been drinking and can not drive will call his or her parents for a ride. The parents agree to pick-up the children and find alternate rides if they have had too much to drink.

In what was a somewhat disappointing crowd, according to Co-Chairperson MaryAnne Lopreato, only 30 students signed a contract. Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone said no prom tickets will be given unless the student signs the contract.

"I'm only asking for two signatures, that's not much to ask for," he said.

Mayer, of TV-3, and Bell, of Z-100 radio, told the audience of personal experiences they have had with drunk drivers while Nelson, of the New York Giants, told of what alcohol can do to a person.

Mayer spoke of a friend, named Nancy, who he had met in first grade and were in fourth grade together. After going their separate ways in junior high school, they met up again in high school.

The girl with everything

"Nancy was the type of girl who had it all," recalled Mayer. "Captain of the cheerleaders, straight A's and she was a beautiful girl."

"After the football games there would always be a party. She never had a drink in her hand," he continued. "Then she started going with this guy who nobody knew, he was from out of town and was in college and we never saw her."

"Then on New Year's Eve one year, Nancy and her boyfriend showed up at a party. She wasn't the same and for the first time in my life, I saw Nancy with a drink in her hand. Her boyfriend was trashed. Little did I know later that night she'd be wrapped around a telephone pole."

"It's not worth it. Just give up the keys," Mayer told the crowd.

Bell had a similar story concerning his college years with a friend who played football and was nicknamed "The Mouse" because he only weighed approximately 160 pounds.

"We used to think partying was the way to go," began Bell. "One night I had such a 'good' time, if you want to put it that way, that I couldn't find my car and walked back to the dorm."

"I was awoken in the middle of the night by someone running down the hall, screaming that their had been an accident. Well, 'mouse' was paralyzed from the neck down for the next eight or nine years before he died. In those years he was in constant pain."

"None of us ever thought enough to tell 'mouse' he shouldn't have driven. Signing one of these life contracts is probably one of the smartest things you could ever do."

Nelson explained a person obviously does not intentionally plan to drink and drive but over the course of a night out many people may have too much to drink and not

Belleville POLICE BEAT

A 28 year-old Newark man was arrested and charged with fraud after he attempted to cash checks for his employer at the Trust Company Bank in Belleville on April 7.

Carl DePolito, an employee of Calli Carting, Kearny, stole bank checks in Kearny from Calli Carting and attempted to cash them in the Belleville branch after he had forged them.

The teller became suspicious and contacted the manager, and upon the manager's arrival, DePolito fled. He was found in Kearny and arrested for fraud.

The Trust Company was also involved in a forgery case as a business owner on Joralemon Street reported several of his checks had been stolen from his check book and cashed. The case is still under investigation by detective Bart Rossi.

Officers Anthony Wieners and Kevin Smith arrested two men April 10 for possession of marijuana. The two were on patrol and observed the two men roll what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette. Wieners and Smith saw the two light the cigarette, smoke it and pass it back and forth. As Wieners and Smith approached the two, one swallowed the cigarette but Smith found a bag of marijuana in the car that the two were driving. The two were a 29 year-old Newark man and a 29 year-old Belleville man.

A 26 year-old Bloomfield man was arrested and charged with assault and possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and a 20 year-old Bloomfield woman who was with him was arrested and charged with assault on April 8.

Officers Allen Ciccone and James DeGrosso observed a man and woman fighting in front of the Belleville Motor Lodge on the corner of Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street. Ciccone and DeGrosso separated the two and arrested both. A search of the man revealed a bag containing numerous white pills.

On April 13, St. Anthony's school was broken into and damaged by vandals who apparently gained entry through a window on the west side of the school.

Officers Frank Valece and Joseph Tramagline were detailed to the school and were told by the principal about the break-in and damage to several items. A cassette recorder was stolen and the school is taking inventory to see if any other items are missing.

A homeowner on Joralemon Street said Studio Carpets of Nutley cashed a check sent to them by the homeowner for several hundred dollars. The money was sent for a carpet and installation but Studio Carpets has done neither.

An AM/FM cassette stereo system, valued at $250, was stolen from a 1982 Audi parked on Mill Street after the vandal the right rear window to gain entry.

Two cars parked in front of the owner's house on William Street had tires flattened by vandals. The owner discovered her 1983 Chevrolet with three flat tires and a 1979 Buick Riviera had one flat.

A 30-year-old Belleville man was charged last week with unlawfully obtaining a prescription at a Belleville Avenue pharmacy.

Upon investigation Wednesday, Patrolmen Michael Frazzano and Lamont Barnes learned Anthony R. DeMaio had purchased 60 10-milligram tablets of Diazepam (the generic name of Valium).

A check list with the doctor showed he had not prescribed the drug, according to the head pharmacist.

DeMaio was released on his own recognizance.

Assisting with the arrest was Sgt. Vincent Barba.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

In a previous column we commented upon the writers of Time's Washington Bureau's long term proposal for a balanced budget which, among others, included the proposal that Social Security recipients with meager incomes thresholds of $12,000 for individuals and $18,000 for families be taxable. We rallied against it because we find it would reduce Social Security to a "means test" level of outrageous poverty levels...what individual, family or tenant could afford to live in Belleville with its pending local tax increases and then lose their homestead or rental reductions on the state income tax and then have to pay tax on all or even half of their social security checks?

Mr. Cornelis P. Vander Zwan, who apparently from the way he writes in his letter to the editor seems to indicate that he is a man of affluence who has no qualms about being taxed upon half of his Social Security payments, however, most of those in Belleville receiving Social Security are not in that fortunate financial situation, since we are not presently taxed upon any of our Social Security income simply because our income is beneath the prescribed levels that make it taxable.

The mere suggestion that the present threshold levels be lowered to $12,000 for individuals and $18,000 for families is more than disturbing because such a "means test" level would practically reduce everyone to a poverty level of living...perhaps even Mr. Vander Zwan also in our category he too would be concerned. Were the present threshold levels of making Social Security taxable lowered, no longer only higher income social security recipients would be taxed, only welfare cases would escape taxation on their benefits. That was not the intent of the original Social Security Act which was to have been free of any taxation on all benefits. President Reagan's policies contributed to changing that...and not to the advantage of Social Security beneficiaries.

Let the fact be known, that Jim Golden's complaint is not that those in the higher income bracket have half of their Social Security benefits taxed, but that they are now thinking about taxing Social Security benefits below the present threshold levels that would be unjustly unfair to those recipients with incomes below that level of income.

Now, if we may, let's look into Mr. Vander Zwan's hypothetical case of computing the tax of a husband and wife income of $32,000 and Soc. Sec. benefits of $14,196. He adds them for a total of $46,196, then using '87 tax tables he lists $5,207 tax on the $32,000. Then he adds 50 percent Soc. Sec. increasing their taxable income to $39,098 with taxes in the amount of $7,181 overall.

Had Mr. Vander Zwan done it that way, and the figures used been his own...he did it wrong...had he followed the Social Security Benefits worksheet on page 12 of the 1987 Form 1040 instructions or the Social Security Benefits worksheet on page 70 Chapter 14 of Publication 17 (which was most different from his computation method) he might have found that he had overtaxed himself $1344.

We find it difficult toathom Mr. Vander Zwan's vacuous obfuscation in arriving at conclusions which seem closer to fantasy than actual reality, such as the time he was unable to understand how we were able to name the Belleville Mayor and the offices the newly elected Commissioners in last May's municipal election would be assigned, he calling it disparagingly a "crystal ball" guess. It was no such thing; when people in high places have confidence in the probity and integrity of those of the fourth estate, they often repose confidence in imparting sub rosa information to them to facilitate their meeting a deadline.

Should Mr. Vander Zwan persist in "wearing a chip on his shoulder" he can expect to have it "knocked off" if it deserves to be.

Club meeting

Monday, May 2, the Belleville Democratic Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8:00 p.m. at the Little League Field House. After the regular meeting, a representative from the sheriff's department will speak on alcohol and drug abuse. All are welcome.

Middle School computer club

Students at the Belleville Middle School have organized to explore their interest in personal computers. The goals of the computer club, according to Mr. Scanzillo, the club advisor, are to: promote computer literacy; encourage an interest in, and the exploration of, computers; encourage the exchange of ideas, information and knowledge between individuals, and provide an environment that is conducive to exploring the computers' abilities.

Students interested in learning about computers are welcome to join the club. Current members include: Michael Bell, James Guarino, Ronald Hyams, Michael Jannicelli, Chris Paseka, Carlos Ramirez, Amol Shah and Lynn Stevens.

The club follows guidelines established by Apple Computer Clubs International. Members may choose to participate in areas such as: computer literacy, computers in society, word processing, graphics and BASIC.

Club members have access to Apple IIe computers, Okidata printers and a variety of software which includes: Printshop, Newsroom and Bank Street Writer.

High School blood drive

A blood drive will be held at Belleville High School on Thursday, April 28, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The drive, which will be held in the school library, will be conducted by professional staff members from the North Jersey Blood Center. High school students and alumni are urged to participate.

Blood donors provide blood for patients in local hospitals. There is no artificial or manufactured substitute for blood and blood products given by lifesaving volunteers. T-shirts will be available at this blood drive, to thank the blood donors for their selfless act of generosity. In addition, a lucky donor can win an autographed football, provided by the New Jersey Giants team.

Donors should be between the ages of 18 and 65, and in good general health. Seventeen year-olds can donate if they have a special permission slip, provided by the Blood Center, signed by a parent or guardian.

Blood banking experts continue to emphasize that giving blood is safe. You cannot contract any illness from the donation procedure. All materials are sterile, used only one time and then discarded.

Native ballerina to perform in New York

Little boys want to grow up to be baseball stars, firemen, or policemen. Little girls want to grow up to be nurses, models, or ballerinas. Most children do not usually join these professions even after countless years of training and practicing.

The effort and dreams can be seen at Daniels Universe of Dance and Gymnastics, where young girls begin their dream of dancing by taking classes; classes taught by individuals who have made the dream a reality. Brenda Daniels, a Belleville native, is one of those individuals.

"I think every little girl dreams of being a ballerina," said Daniels between teaching sessions. "Little do they realize how difficult it is."

Daniels said she always wanted to dance and began formal training when she was 14, attending the New Jersey School of Ballet in West Orange. Four years later she left Belleville for college, attending State University of New York at Purchase and majoring in dance. Daniels now lives in Queens and has her own dance company, appropriately named The Brenda Daniels Dance Company, which will perform an original production entitled "More" April 27-30 at the Merce Cunningham Studio, 55 Bethune St., New York City.

"More" will be Daniels fifth production that she has choreographed and encompasses dance, music, lighting and design. According to Daniels the show will take the audience on a journey from the simple to the grandiose.

"I get images for dance, music, props and costume," said the 27 year-old. "Then I just put them all together."

Daniels has been teaching two years at Merce Cunningham as well as at her parents dance studio in Nutley for many years. She was hired by Merce Cunningham after she had trained there for three years. "They asked me to join the faculty when someone was out sick and I stepped in."

European tour

Quite possibly the highlight of Daniels' career came last year when she toured Japan, Germany and the Netherlands with Dutch choreographer Tom Simons. Daniels, along with two other American dancers, six Dutch dancers and a New York City-based band performed an original production of Simons.

"It was great," she said of the tour. "I plan on going back to Germany and do a lot of my own stuff, as well as teach."

Many critics thought she was great as an Amsterdam newspaper stated, "in a sense this fragile but extremely strong dancer carries the piece with an astonishing performance. She is excellent." And Dance Magazine said she was "technically impeccable."

She also has ideas of choreographing a Broadway play, saying if her boyfriend, who is a playwright, gets a play produced she will choreograph it for him.

"I plan on dancing until my mid-40s," said Daniels, "that's about all the body can take. It's not a very long career."

Her dance career will not end there, however. She plans on teaching and choreographing for years after she retires from professional dancing. This way she can continue to make many little girls' dreams a reality.

realize it.

"After a few drinks your thinking is impaired and you feel you can drive," said Nelson, "but if your thinking is impaired then you will be impaired behind the wheel."

"It's something to take your own life," continued Nelson, "but think about killing somebody else. You have to live with that, knowing you killed someone in the prime of their life."

Club raising money

The Junior Woman's Club is in the process of raising money for a graduation party to be held in the Chandelier restaurant where there will be no alcohol. Presently there is between $1,500-$2,000 in the account, which recieved a boost from Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

"We try to get involved in community involvement," said Adrian Steingart, alcohol awareness coordinator in this area for Anheuser-Busch. Steingart, on behalf of the leading beer producer in the country, donated a check for $500 to S.A.D.D.

"The company has a full commitment towards a stance against alcohol abuse. We don't want to induce over indulgence. All of our beers should be consumed in a moderate fashion."

"The Chandelier said they would work with us with the money," said Branca. "They've been very, very cooperative."

The Belleville S.A.D.D. group is the first in the area and was the concept of Donna Branca, a member of the Belleville Junior Woman's Club who is co-chairperson of the organization.

"I was tired of Belleville getting bad reviews," said Branca. "I wanted to prove a point that something positive can come from town. It was done as a community awareness type of thing, too."

Branca said she thought of the idea in summer and wrote the national chapter of S.A.D.D. She credits the national organization and advisor Marilyn McCabe for the success of the program, which had over 300 students join when the first meeting was held in November.

"It going better than expected," said Branca, despite the lack of signed contracts. The contracts will be available in the Main Office of the high school.

Essex Hospital aid plan

A funding measure co-sponsored by Assemblyman John V. Kelly and Marion Crecco, R-Essex, which would provide $7.3 million for the Essex County Hospital Center, gained release last week from the Assembly Sub-Committee on Taxation and State Aid.

The release of the assistance plan, which would provide $15 million in all for five county psychiatric hospitals, followed a pledge Kelly received on Monday from Department of Human Services Commissioner Drew Altman to take whatever steps necessary to guard against a potential loss of accreditation at the hospital.

A loss of accreditation would cost the Hospital Center, the largest psychiatric center in the state, millions of dollars in federal funding and ultimately prompt its closure, forcing the state to relocate 617 mental patients at the state's four other county psychiatric facilities.

The assistance measure would also provide nearly $7.7 million for the state's four other county psychiatric hospitals, including: $3.93 million for Bergen County; $1.9 million for Camden County; $1 million for Hudson County, and $840,000 for Burlington County.

The bill, A-2767, which was released by a 4-0 vote, now advances to the full Appropriations Committee for further consideration.

Sad news for S.A.D.D.

The Students Against Driving Drunk (S.A.D.D.) group in Belleville held its balloon launch last week in the high school auditorium and the members were supposed to bring their parents so the they could all sign a "Contract for Life." What this contract says is if the child is too drunk to drive he or she will call their parents for one, and vice versa. The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville, who has lent a huge hand in the forming of the group, brought in Steve Mayer of TV-3, Jonathan Bell of Z-100 and Karl Nelson of the football Giants to speak on the dangers of drinking and driving and relating personal experiences of how they lost friends to driving under the influence. These three celebrities brought out a fairly good sized crowd, probably somewhere around 100 parents and students, but it was a far cry from what was expected. To make matters worse, only 30 contracts were signed.

This was a disappointment to many of the organizers, especially considering there are over 300 students in S.A.D.D. What has to be considered in that 300 figure is the senior count, considering they are the ones who would most likely sign the contract this year. How many do in the future is the big key, for both the S.A.D.D. organizers and the students themselves. No student will be allowed to go to the Senior Prom this year without signing the Contract for Life. Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone said as much at the balloon launch when the low figure was turned in.

It was obvious many of the people in attendance came only to see the three primary speakers, as more flocked to get the celebrities signatures than to put their signatures on the contract. So something may have been lost during the evening. The night was not so much a celebration, a time to see people many have wanted to meet, but it was to make a commitment to living and to have an understanding of the dangers of driving while intoxicated.

Belleville is the first town to have a S.A.D.D. program in the area and the Junior Woman's Club should be commended for that. However, many of the students and parents should be slightly ashamed at not turning out for such an important night. Maybe some were unaware it was happening that night, others may have forgotten, while still others may have had other commitments, such as work. Regardless, the turnout dampened what could have been an incredible event. There is hope in Ciccone's words of no prom tickets being given to students who do not sign the contract. Let's hope that inspires many more to sign and sign for the right reasons, not just to go to the prom but because they truly will not drive drunk. Let's hope so, so a Belleville High School student will not be a subject of a S.A.D.D. rally the way Mayer's and Bell's friends were subjects at the balloon launch last week.

The phone lines are full

Late night television is filled with commercials of them, all different types. There is one for teenagers, one for blacks, one for whites and one for anyone who's interested.

What we're talking about are partylines, the newest way to meet people. It seems to have no catch at all, just make a phone call, talk to a few people and if they don't appeal to you, just hang up. But there appears to be a problem with the lines after all. According to some, they can become addictive, which makes for an expensive phone bill.

A 23 year-old named Jack called recently explaining the difficulties he has, and what some of the people he has talked to on the phone have gone through. Jack recently received his phone bill, the first full bill since he began calling the service. His bill for using the phone line alone was $600, and that was cheap compared to some of his party line friends. More than a few had bills over $1,000 for one month. What some may say, even us, is that the people talked on the phone, they have to pay. It was their mistake.

But there is more to it. According to Jack, there are employees of the company who are paid to listen to conversation and disconnect a person if the conversation becomes vulgar. But they supposedly do not disconnect, in fact, they join the conversation and lure the people to call more often. If they do not hear from a person for a time, they call them, according to Jack. What's more, Jack took two of these employees out to dinner, and both times the girls said they were going to the phone, only never to return. The second dinner had a charge of $200. These employees also told Jack that once a person has a bill of $200 on the line, that person is disconnected, even if in mid-sentence. Unfortunately, that was not the case. He later found out the employees had told a second person the limit was $250 and a third $800.

Needless to say, Jack has learned his lesson and no longer calls the line but others obviously have yet to learn. What is the real story behind the phone line? The company which runs the line Jack used could not be reached because it has an unlisted number. How many businesses do you know have unlisted numbers? Not many. And how many businesses hire individuals who act the way the employees act that Jack has met. Hopefully it is a fad that will wear down, for while it is bad enough people get treated like Jack did, it is also somewhat sad that so many people use the lines to meet individuals. It does not say much for a society when hundreds of people are running up thousand dollar phone bills because they have no one else to talk to. It is a statement that shows our society has become a fraction of what it once was.

YOUR OPINION

April is Girl Scout month

To the editor:

April is a very special month for Girl Scouts, for it is when we recognize Girl Scout volunteers who over the years have invested their time and service in America's most valuable resource — its youth.

History has shown us that effective civic, business, and governmental leaders can move mountains for the common good. It has also shown us the adverse effect poor leaders can have on our lives. What insurance do we have that our leaders are prepared to make the right choices for all of us? Do we place enough importance on the training they receive before they assume such influential roles?

Girl Scouts recognizes the need to prepare youth for the challenges ahead. The values, self-confidence, and leadership skills gained through Girl Scouting will help girls make sound decisions on issues that effect all of us. An atmosphere of fun and friendship, combined with challenging activities, makes Girl Scouting the perfect training ground for tomorrow's leaders.

What kind of people are responsible for this vital learning process? Adults who are committed to youth and who know the importance of guidance during the early years. These adults are remarkable women and men who juggle full business, social, academic, and family lives and still find time to form partnerships with girls as Girl Scout volunteers.

As important role models, volunteers are in the ideal position to help girls gain a better understanding of the world around them. They offer the friendship and encouragement that help girls build self-worth and solid values. The efforts of our volunteers are helping girls to become responsible citizens and effective leaders. What could be more important than that?

April 22 is Girl Scout Leader's Day nationwide. As district chairmen of Girl Scouting in Bloomfield we would like to thank, on behalf of Bloomfield Girl Scouts and the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County, all of the volunteers in our community who have taken the lead in preparing girls of today to be the movers, shakers and leaders of tomorrow.

D'Andrea thanks supporters

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who supported me during my campaign for the Belleville Board of Education.

Although I lost, I feel that we still accomplished a lot by drawing attention to many areas that should be addressed.

I look forward to serving the children not only as a parent, but as a caring member of the Home & School Association.

I would also like to take this time to congratulate those who did win and wish them the best of luck in working for the betterment of our children. Thank you again for your support!

A new voting trend

To the Editor:

Attention all Belleville voters!

In several of the past Board of Education elections, Board members have been losing their seats, being repudiated by the taxpayers of Belleville. The reason for this should be crystal clear, that the taxpayers of Belleville no longer will tolerate these political shenanigans being played by some of the Board members.

The proof is in the pudding going back when Phil Linfante and Sy Grossman ran in their first election and won quite handily. Three years later, these two candidates Mr. Linfante and Mr. Grossman had occasion to run again for re-election. Despite the fact that their opposition was Patti Pisano, virtually unknown in political circles, she was instrumental in defeating Grossman.

Phil Linfante had won in his first election with a very impressive vote. In his second bid, despite the lack of formidable opposition, he had lost more than half the votes that he had received in his first election. In this most recent election, we had a repetition of the same thing. Two incumbents, Ernest Zoppi, a veteran politician and a newcomer (who was appointed to the vacated seat of Dr. Capello) was also defeated by two new young upstarts, Joe Del Guercio and Joe Papisidero. This newcomer immediately fell right in with the clique, resulting in his short-lived political career.

As a businessman, I find myself in constant touch with the public, and I seem to know what their real concerns are as far as Belleville politics go. The most paramount issue concerning these citizens of Belleville is the exorbitant amount of legal fees these board members are condoning and the creating of unnecessary administrative positions with enormous salaries.

The last election was just the tip of the iceberg. If you Board members desire to be re-elected, then I suggest that you clean up your act and stop using the Board of Education for your political stepping stone for other self serving purposes you may have.

I congratulate the Bellevillites! (Although it's still a small group right now, it's starting to fester.) Next year we have three incumbents running as candidates and unless they clean up their act of all this unnecessary spending and creating these high positions, they, too, can look forward to the same fate as their former fellow Board members.

Good luck to the newly elected candidates in all your endeavors.

Reagan speaks Iksbod's word

To the Editor:

C. J. Iksbod, in his book "Iksbod" wrote: "Mere presences are, at times, mightier than both, the pen and the sword."

The mere presence of American troops in Honduras has brought an end to the fighting in Nicaragua.

President Reagan, by sending troops to Honduras, proved the truth of Iksbod's pearl of wisdom.

Highland Beach, Florida —

THERE's nothing better I can think of to start the day off than with a prayer.

The Power of Prayer

The day was long, the load I had to bear
Seemed heavier than I could longer bear.

And then it lifted — but why I did not know.

Someone had knelt in prayer;
Had taken me to God that very hour,
And asked the easing of the load, and He

In infinite compassion, had stooped down

And taken it from me.

We cannot tell how often as we pray
For some bewildered one, hurt and distressed,

The answer comes, for many times its hearts
Find sudden peace and rest.

Someone had prayed — and Faith, a reaching hand
Took hold of God and brought Him down that day!

So many hearts are in need of prayer.

Oh, let us pray!

Don Heerwig, Chairman of the Nutley Planning Board, made a very valid point last week concerning vacant lot sizes.

Heerwig believes the Planning Board should be provided with computer printouts listing contiguous parcels that are under single ownership. In his own words, "The point I made to the Commission is that a person can own two or more adjacent vacant lots each 35 feet wide in a zone requiring 60 foot wide housing lots. He can sell them as separate building lots, and how could we deny the buyer without trying to correct the sins of the past?"

The Nutley Planning Board Consultant, Grace Harris, indicates there may be 400 merged lots. That's a lot of lots. Since there are two sides to the problem, a special study should be made of the subject with a public hearing to follow.

PHILOSOPHICAL THOUGHTS WORTH REPEATING:

There is no limitation to forgiveness; no injury so great that it could not be forgiven... Difficulties rather than ease extract the best that is in one... The great issues are decided either by the proponents or the opponents, never by the neutralists. The neutralists lose by default. Better it is to support one side, than do nothing and let another decide the issue for you — perhaps, in a way you disapprove... Probably the greatest need of the world today is reconciliation. In order to establish a good relationship with others, one must first admit his full share of responsibility; and if one has been wronged, then he must be willing to forgive unconditionally — for partial forgiveness is no forgiveness at all... Ability may enable one to get to the top — but it takes character to keep one there... If the whole world followed you — would it be a nobler world?... Anything that separates one from God is wrong and sinful.

THE New Jersey Council on Affordable Housing is demanding revisions in the Nutley Master Plan. Planning Board Chairman Heerwig indicates Nutley Commissioners will have to increase the projected budget by another $7,500 to accommodate the cost of the directive. Nutley's quota of low and middle income housing is established by the state group at 394. According to Planning Board Counsel Joe Thor, the Planning Board disputes the number of units requested. At any rate, a master plan with the inclusion of a projection for low and middle income housing must be promulgated by August 1st.

CONGRATULATIONS to Washington School 4th grader, Scott Morse. Scott won the Spelling Bee and received a $75 check and a trophy. Second, third and fourth place winners also ought to be commended. Sincerely Therese Therese received second place honors; third place honors went to Rachel Calisher, and Bijou Rose walked away with a fourth place trophy.

Therese and Calisher represented Lincoln School, and Morse and Rose represented Washington School. They also received a Lion's man-on-the-street transfer and a certificate of attendance.

BRITISH-BOUN Palestine became the Jewish-run Israel, which is currently celebrating its 40th Anniversary. Forty years ago, Israelis wondered if independence would last from week to week. If its neighbors have anything to say about Israel's future — there would be no future — the independent state of Israel would be wiped off the face of the earth.

To this day, the Arabs refuse to recognize the existence of the State of Israel. It was to the everlasting credit of the late President Harry Truman who immediately recognized the existence of the State of Israel and implied that the United States was committed to the survival of this new state. We are happy to congratulate Israel as it celebrates its 40th birthday. Unfortunately, the Promised Land has yet to know peace. It seems the destiny of Israel is to be in a perpetual fight for existence. For 2,000 years, the Jews have defended their right to survive. God bless them.

FLORIDA Democrats are seeking a constitutional amendment to strip party deserters of office. Democrat State Senator Pat Frank of Tampa says, "It's fraudulent to run for office as a member of one party and then switch parties." Taking pride in their ability to convert Democrats, Republican leaders charge the proposal is unconstitutional. Last week, the proposed amendment was referred to the Republican-dominated Senate Judiciary Committee. Strangely, the request was approved by the full Senate before Democrats realized what had happened.

Last week, two Jewish houses of worship were defaced. For the first time, Boca Raton's Torah Congregation will begin locking its doors during the daytime. A spokesman for the Congregation observed, "We have to lock the house of God — what did we do — what did we do to deserve this? As human beings, we will not tolerate this. It's the first time I've been scared in America." Scared in America? What a dreadful thought. And to think the incident occurred only a few blocks from my residence. Every once in a while, anti-Semitism rears its ugly head in one form or another. Today, it's in Boca Raton, Florida. Tomorrow, it could be anywhere in New Jersey. What a sad state of affairs. Here we have decent, patriotic Americans now scared to live in the U.S. Just think of it. How would you feel if you were in the scared man's shoes? Uncomfortable, isn't it? For years, efforts have been made to eliminate anti-Semitism. Maybe, it's disappeared from the lives of many, but you can bet your family

Happy Birthday, Bette!

Bette Davis' impact on American cinema cannot be exaggerated. In honor of her 80th birthday, the Belleville Public Library has added the following videos to its collection:

"The Corn Is Green," "Dark Victory," "Jezebel," "The Letter," "Marked Woman," "Mr. Skeffington," "Now, Voyager," and "The Old Maid."

A Belleville Library card is needed to take out videos and the fee is $1 over night.

Mentally retarded fund

Belleville Knights of Columbus again will sponsor its annual drive for funds to aid the mentally retarded and those with learning disabilities. The drive will commence Thursday, April 21 to Sunday, April 24.

Past Grand Knight Frank Corbo will again be General Chairman assisted by brother Knights and the Womens Auxillary.

The Belleville Knights, in a further expansion of their community activities program, are conducting a fund raising drive. This drive will give financial aid to Camp Fatima-Summer Camp for retarded children, the Belleville Boy Scouts for retarded boys, Mal Condon Canteen for retarded adults, State Council Programs for the Retarded, Belleville Special Olympics.

All of the above will be accomplished by financial contributions from people and by the Knights funneling them to a group or groups. Without brother Knights participating and many individuals who will volunteer their time it would be impossible to assist these organizations to meet their financial obligations.

All proceeds of this fund raising program will be distributed to state and local organizations involved in the care and training of special people. You can send donations to the Belleville Knights Retarded Citizens Drive, 94 Bridge St., Belleville, N.J. 07109.

Sandra Gottheimer, 36 was Belleville teacher

A Mass for Mrs. Sandra Gottheimer, 36, of Caldwell, a teacher with the Belleville school system, was offered April 20 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville.

Mrs. Gottheimer died April 16 in her home.

She was an English and remedial reading teacher at Belleville High School for the past 12 years. Mrs. Gottheimer recently was named Teacher of the Year at the school.

Born in Newark, she lived in Belleville before moving to Caldwell 13 years ago. Surviving are her parents, Thomas P. and Joanne Candura.

Maria Rivera, 97; survived by 215

A Mass for Mrs. Maria Rivera, 97, of Belleville, who is survived by two of her 12 children and a total of 213 grandchildren, was offered April 20 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, after the funeral from the Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville.

Mrs. Rivera died April 17 in the St. Michael's Medical Center, Newark.

Born in Puerto Rico, she lived in Belleville for seven years.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Natividad Vega; a son, Jose; 70 grandchildren, 140 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Otto Herman, 83

Services for Otto Herman, 83, of Belleville were held April 19 in the Dancy Funeral Home, Caldwell.

Mr. Herman died April 15 in the East Orange Veterans Medical Center.

He was a welder for Continental Electric, Newark, for a quarter century until he retired in 1975.

He was a World War II Army veteran.

Mr. Herman was born in Czechoslovakia and lived in Newark before moving to Belleville two years ago. Surviving is a brother, Emil.

Joseph Mastandrea, 76

Joseph L. Mastandrea, 76, of Belleville, died April 9 in Mountinside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

A Funeral Mass was held April 12 in Holy Family Church following services in S.W. Brown & Son, Nutley.

Born in Cold Springs, Mr. Mastandrea lived in Belleville 39 years after moving from Newark. He owned a series of businesses including Andrea's Grocery in Newark, Morano's Italian Foods & Specialties, Lyndhurst, and Joe & Laura Andrea Dance Social in River Edge and Hasbrouk Heights.

Surviving are his wife, Laura; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Goione and Mrs. Lorelei Kelly; two sons, Raymond and Joel; two sisters, Mrs. Frances Spagnola and Mrs. Pauline Canessa; 12 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

Manufacturers' luncheon

Patrick T. Clancy, M.D., associate ophthalmologist of The Eye Institute of Essex, will be the guest speaker at the April 28 luncheon meeting of the Manufacturers' Association of the Bloomfield-Belleville area, at noon, at the Glen Ridge Country Club.

Dr. Clancy, a graduate of New York Medical College and Manhattan College, is Attending Physician in the Department of Ophthalmology at Clara Maass Medical Center and Attending Surgeon, Eichler Sergeyev Center, in addition to his work in general ophthalmology at The Eye Institute of Essex.

Mabba is an organization of manufacturers and businesses that service industry in our area. Reservations for the April 28 meeting may be made by calling Lucy Grimaldi at 759-8000, ext. 647.

ANNUAL BANQUET - H & R Block Inc. staff members from Belleville pose during the 16th annual Employee Banquet at the Sheraton Hotel in Fairfield. The affair was hosted by Bert Tobia, district manager, in an effort to bring all employees from various offices together.

Partners in Care program

In honor of National Volunteer Week, April 17-23, Clara Maass Medical Center announces a new program for volunteers, "Partners In Care." To the satisfaction found in helping others, "Partners In Care" volunteers can add the shared commitment and pleasure of working along with a friend, husband or wife, parent or child. All assignments are at Clara Maass Medical Center, adjacent to beautiful Branch Brook Park in Belleville.

Volunteers working through "Partners In Care" are assigned to the same hours and day of the week. If they wish, they can work at the same volunteer assignment as well. All that is required is a weekly commitment of as few as two hours per week. There is no maximum number of hours a volunteer can work. Interested teenagers must be 14 or older.

An example of Partners In Care who volunteer at Clara Maass Medical Center are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McIntee of Newark. Betty McIntee, a retired health claims coordinator, has worked at the information desk since 1986. She answers questions for visitors, assists the public, and gives information by phone to patients' families and visitors. Bernie McIntee, retired from AT&T, works in the Lifeline Program, an emergency response system for homebound people. He regularly makes test calls to Lifeline subscribers to make sure the equipment is operating properly.

Volunteers are needed seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. They are individually matched with assignments they will enjoy — from clerical and reception positions to providing patient transport and simple patient care.

A volunteer can make the difference in the quality of a patient's stay and in facilitating the operations of the Medical Center. In return, the volunteer can expect to receive a warm welcome and to learn new skills, develop new interests, and make new friends. Those wishing information on becoming Clara Maass Volunteers, individually or as "Partners In Care," should phone 450-2150.

K of C raising money

One of the most favored charitable undertakings of the Belleville Knights of Columbus, Council 835, along with many other councils located in the State of New Jersey, is the annual drive to raise money for "Retarded Citizens."

Since you and I cannot personally assist each and every "Special Person" in God's select group, we sponsor this fund raiser to try and make their lives and the lives of their families happier and more comfortable.

Belleville Council sponsors four groups of "Special People" which are:

1. The Belleville Special Olympics.
2. The Mal Condon Canteen. This group meets in our council home two Thursdays a month.
3. A local Boy Scout Troop made up of retarded boys from the Essex County area.
4. Camp Fatima. This is a camp for retarded children staffed by qualified volunteers who give up their vacation time each year out of love.

The monies pledged, enable these youngsters to participate in field trips, camping, museum visits, and other activities too numerous to mention. In addition, these funds also help to refurbish the camp living quarters, and to purchase needed provisions. We have also donated to individuals in need of financial assistance, on occasion.

In the past, all of this has been accomplished through your generosity and benevolence in providing the much needed financial support. We are once again asking you for your help in supporting the 1985 Campaign. Won't you please consider sending a donation to help God's Special People? Any amount you give will be greatly appreciated. Remember, your donation is TAX DEDUCTIBLE!

Please send your donation to: Belleville Council 835 Retarded Children, 94 Bridge Street, Belleville, N.J. 07109

30 years of ministry celebration

Belleville Assembly of God Church, 174-178 Holmes St., is having a 30 years of ministry celebration in honor of their pastor, Reverend Anthony Di Quattro and his wife, Pauline, who have ministered at the church since April, 1958.

A special Sunday morning worship service is planned for April 24 at 10:45 a.m. featuring dynamic guest speaker, Reverend Edward Menaldino of Calvary Temple, Philadelphia, who will also be ministering in song. Calvary Temple is the home church of Reverend and Mrs. A. Di Quattro.

There will be selections by the church choir, a duet by Patrice and Gilbert Hermes, a children's presentation, as well as inspiring congregational singing. Everyone is invited to attend.

A celebration dinner will follow at 1:00 p.m. that same day at the Branch Brook Manor, 13 Washington Ave. Dinner is by reservation only. For further information, please call 667-6483.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

You can't make a monkey out of me

It is 1:30 a.m. I could not sleep so I came to the office to get some work done. I just heard a radio announcement that concerned me. It was an advertisement by the American Humanist Association. The announcement went something like this: "You've heard the saying: 'spare the rod and spoil the child.' Let me give you one to think about: 'Monkey see, monkey do.' Our children learn by what they see in us. The next time you raise your hand against your child, think. How can he keep from being violent when that is what he is seeing in you?"

What are the humanists trying to tell us? That we are nothing more than advanced monkeys? I doubt we can take their message that far.

Are they trying to stem the tide of child abuse? That is worthy motivation. There is no value — and great harm — anytime a person lashes out in anger. This is especially true when an adult takes out his frustration on a defenseless child. Aside from the physical injury, the emotional toll is unimaginable. The abused child will likely grow up to be an abusive adult.

But not all discipline — even physical discipline — is abuse. One difference between us and the animals is a level of discernment. Our children can understand more than just pain and pleasure — punishment and reward. They can understand the love of a parent which brings balance to discipline and praise.

Love is the difference between discipline and abuse. That is the reason Solomon wrote: "He who spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is careful to discipline him" (Prov. 13:24). And love is the key to understanding God's dealing with us. So Solomon also wrote: "My son, do not despise the Lord's discipline and do not resent His rebuke, because the Lord disciplines those He loves, as a father the son he delights in" (Prov. 3:11).

So, parents, if we love our children we will praise them whenever we can. Then when we have to punish them, they will know even discipline is a part of love. "Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord" (Eph. 6:4).

Subcommittee determines responsibilities should be turned over

By Assembly Speaker
Chuck Hardwick

A recent study conducted by an Assembly subcommittee indicates that the time may be ripe to affix "under new management" signs on the windows of many of the 54 branch offices of the state Division of Motor Vehicles.

The Assembly Subcommittee on the Privatization of the Division of Motor Vehicles, which conducted numerous public hearings and held scores of interviews with business leaders over a period of several months, determined that some of the responsibilities of the DMV should be turned over to experts in catering to consumers — the private sector.

The subcommittee report proposes establishment of two pilot programs which present an imaginative, ambitious overhaul of the current motor vehicle system.

The first would entail development of a partnership with one or more private businesses, such as department stores, retail outlets and supermarkets that would provide basic motor vehicle services to the public, including license renewal, registrations, title work, and applications for duplicate licenses. A second project would seek a contract with a mayor employer and fleet owner or university to operate an "in-house" field agency for its employees capable of handling motor vehicle services.

One obvious advantage to the first system is that the state's 5.2 million motorists would be able to have routine processing of motor vehicle paperwork while shopping at such retail locations. Major companies with an excellent track record of service to consumers, such as Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jamesway Corp. and Wakefern, have all expressed interest in the idea.

Retail involvement in motor vehicle operations could make lengthy trips to DMV branches a thing of the past. A person seeking to renew his or her driver's license could combine this now tedious chore with a trip to the shopping mall. In such a system, renewing a license would become a routine as purchasing a pair of shoes.

The second pilot project would provide in-house DMV services to companies with 5,000 or more employees, saving everyone involved time and money — two valuable commodities.

A brief walk to a DMV service window during a break or lunch hour should be sufficient to complete processing of an employee's license or other vehicle forms.

One of the primary arguments in favor of privatizing DMV operations relates to the issue of cost efficiency, something that profit-minded businesses must be able to achieve in order to remain competitive. According to the Office of Legislative Services, total DMV expenditures have more than doubled since 1984, and its spending now eats up more than a third of the revenue it generates.

In comparison, the private sector appears more sufficiently geared toward providing quality service, since established companies are typically able to offer the most efficient technology, better flexibility in workforce management and greater incentives that promote productivity.

Nor would private operation of DMV operations absolve the state of either its accountability and obligation to maintain an effective motor vehicle system. To ensure effective operation of the privatization process, the subcommittee proposed the creation of an advisory oversight panel to monitor both pilot projects. The panel would include members of the executive branch, the legislature and the public.

Privatization is not an untried concept. Eight states have successfully implemented motor vehicle operations along these lines.

Scout lunch Saturday

Tickets are still available for the second annual Yantacaw Boy Scout District Lunch-O-Ree Saturday at noon in Forest Hills Field Club, Belleville Avenue, Bloomfield, honoring a Good Scout from Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield.

Separate committees working in each town chose the honorees, Nutley Sun publisher Frank Orechio in Nutley, Police Chief Jack McNiff in Bloomfield, and businessman Harry Neugold Jr. in Belleville.

Sheriff Tom D'Alessio will be master of ceremonies at the event. Tickets can be obtained by calling Pat Verian at 450-3322, Linda Lazar at 680-4077, Dorothy Quigley, 235-1166, Ed Nejman, 661-2900, or Jack Dante at 622-2488.

make the hospital much more efficient, if it is approved. The remaining testimony will be heard at the Planning Board's next meeting, scheduled for May 12.

Pathmark subpoenaed

The board instructed its attorney, Thomas DiBiasi, to subpoena Michael Waxburg of Pathmark to discuss allegations that the Belmont Avenue Pathmark is not allocating security in its parking lot on Belmont Avenue. Planning Board Chairman Joseph Doyle said the board has retained jurisdiction over the property and will tell Waxburg security must be established for the parking area.

"A couple of years ago there were quite a few accidents and muggings over there," said board member Chris Albenese. "I personally met with Mr. Waxburg and the manager and requested from the police reports on the accidents and muggings in that area and there were two pages of incidents. I put my personal time in and they upped their security and it was brought down to six cases. Mr. Waxburg promised a car, camera and security, somehow it's gotten lost."

Waxburg should be before the board at next month's meeting.

Makeover techniques at high school

Belleville High School's cosmetology students learned the art of theatrical makeovers by Henya, who demonstrated techniques ranging from subtle to dramatic stage looks.

The senior cosmetology students are preparing for their annual "Hairshow Extravaganza" to be held at Belleville High School on May 3, by practicing their skills and learning various methods in all areas of hairstyling, cutting, makeup applications and nail art.

Henya is the proprietor of "Henya of Today." She is a professional makeup artist and demonstrator. She has added a dimension of flair to the educational techniques of Belleville's cosmetology program.

Clara Maass renovation

Superficial Hyperthermia Unit was added. Last year Clara Maass applied for a Certificate of Need to replace a ten year old linear accelerator with dual energy photon beam and multi-energy electron beam unit, which allows radiation to destroy a cancer clot without doing damage to healthy tissue. It has been accepted and the new unit is expected shortly.

The renovations to the new floor are the latest of the continued improvements the hospital plans in order to meet the needs of its cancer patients, which has been one of the center's major growth areas over the past few years.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

Some drugs are now being delivered into patient's bodies in such a way as to minimize side effects, target specific organs, and control their release. For instance, sustained-release tablets have a coating which slows the release of the active ingredient and controls the rate at which it is absorbed. Other active ingredients are delivered by way of transdermal patches. Worn on the skin like an adhesive bandage, a medicine-saturated patch releases controlled amounts of active ingredients over an extended period. There are also tablets that have coatings which resist absorption in the stomach. In this way, the medicine reaches its intended site, the small intestine, with all its medicinal power intact. These are but a few techniques used to make medicine-taking more specific.

We're easy to reach. Just call 759-1956 or 759-1958 or stop by at ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. Your Mother's Day cards and gifts can be found here. Our selection includes greeting cards, cosmetics, Timex watches, transistor radios and cameras. "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us." Free prescription delivery is provided. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, Sundays 9 am - 9 pm.

HANDY HINT:

A drug taken with a full glass of water will be absorbed into the system at twice the rate of one taken with a small swallow of liquid.

Scout Council honors 'Good Scouts'

The Yantacaw District of the Boy Scouts has chosen a leading citizen from Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield to receive its highest honor, The Good Scout Award.

Frank Orechio, publisher of The Nutley Sun, was chosen for his town; Police Chief Jack McNiff of Bloomfield and business executive Harry Neugold from Belleville. They will get the awards at the second annual Lunch-O-Ree, to be sponsored by the Yantacaw District in the Forest Hills Field Club on Belleville Avenue in Bloomfield April 23 at noon.

The event is expected to raise funds for the Essex Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Last year the Yantacaw Chapter honored Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio as "Good Scout".

This year, said Jack Dante, chairman of the event, they decided to open it up by selecting an honoree from each town.

"Frank Orechio, Police Chief Jack McNiff and industrialist Harry Neugold, have all been very good friends to scouting for many years. Mr. Orechio through his papers and cable station, Mr. Neugold, who is President of Wallace and Tiernan, a Division of Pennwalt, is always willing to help, and Chief McNiff is a man who renders services to scouts and scouting on an ongoing basis."

A three-man committee consisting of Mayor Michael Pizzi, and Commissioners Vincent Frantantoni and Joseph Fornarotto chose Neugold while Assemblyman John V. Kelly headed Nutley's committee and Bloomfield Mayor John Crecco led the Bloomfield Committee.

For additional information or tickets call Pat Verian at 450-3322.

Tom Sullivan, editor of the Nutley Sun and a vice president of Orechio Broadcasting and Communications, is a guest of "Cappy's Casino Corner" at 7:30 tonight on OBC's Channel 36. It is an unaccustomed role for Sullivan, who has spent 35 years as an interviewer. They talk about his experiences in journalism and television.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

BUSINESS DESK

By David Bryant

GOOD HEALTH PHARMANCY

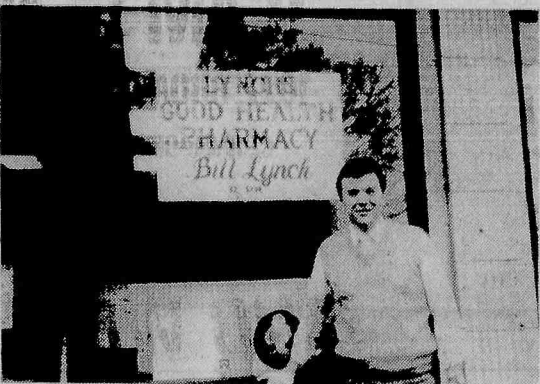

309 Union Avenue, Belleville

759-2761

The Good Health Pharmacy has been in Belleville for more than 40 years. Though the Belleville of 1948 differed in many ways from the Belleville of 1988, the Good Health Pharmacy is one of those strong, local businesses that has served area residents with a consistently caring spirit over those four decades. The Good Health Pharmacy offers its customers the kind of personal service that keeps families coming back for the careful and professional service that has been its tradition.

Customers wanting to transfer their prescriptions to the Good Health Pharmacy will have an easy time doing that, with the assistance of Bill Lynch, the Pharmacist and owner of Good Health Pharmacy. The national attention focused on drug abuse has found strong Belleville support in Bill Lynch's dedication to battling the drug epidemic. The Good Health Pharmacy has backed the "Just Say No" campaign and serves as an information center on this timely topic.

The Good Health Pharmacy specializes in the careful filling of prescriptions, assuring customers that the medication they are using is of the highest quality, with all side effects clearly explained. It is this commitment to satisfied customers, relying on the expertise of Bill Lynch and the Good Health Pharmacy team, that has made this neighborhood pharmacy, located at 309 Union Avenue, a Belleville landmark for 40 years. The Pharmacy can be reached at 759-2761. The Good Health Pharmacy joins more than 170 members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce in saying, "It's Better in Belleville."

Members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce interested in promoting their business, may address their information to David Bryant, c/o Belleville Chamber of Commerce, 155A Washington Ave., Belleville 07109; 759-4848. Anyone wishing to join the Chamber, please call 759-4848 between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Camp Hope counselor positions

Teenagers residing in Belleville are urged to contact the Association for Retarded Citizens of Essex County for Counselor-in-Training (C.I.T.) positions at Camp Hope.

Camp Hope for the retarded is an eight-week summer day camp program, located in East Hanover, New Jersey.

The C.I.T. volunteer position is available to boys and girls, 13 to 15 years old, for a four-week period. Daily hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and transportation may be available.

Applicants must be available for orientation the week of June 20 in the late afternoon. The Camp Season is June 27 to August 19.

Those interested can call Lee Bergman, 535-1181, to arrange an interview.

Welcome Spring With Double Good Walnut Bread

The grays of winter are giving way to the beguiling colors of spring. Now's the time to arrange a few fragrant flowers and to bake a quick loaf of Double Good Walnut Bread. It's chock-full of delicious Diamond Walnuts, toasted to heighten their rich flavor. Half of the walnuts are used bold and chunky, straight from the package. The other half are finely ground to provide a delightful contrast of textures throughout the loaf. Together, ground and chunky walnuts add that special "walnutty" flavor that is doubly good.

Double Good Walnut Bread is great for breakfast—it slices easily and toasts beautifully; but you don't have to wait for breakfast to enjoy it. Bake it ahead and take it on a spring picnic. You can store it, carefully wrapped, in the refrigerator or freeze it for later use.

Double Good Walnut Bread is the perfect accompaniment to luncheon salads or fresh fruit. It's especially delicious when spread with cream cheese or your favorite jam or jelly. For a light dessert, top a slice with strawberries and whipped cream.

DOUBLE GOOD WALNUT BREAD

1½ cups Diamond Walnuts	1 teaspoon salt
3 cups all-purpose flour	1 egg, beaten
¾ cup granulated sugar	1½ cups milk
3 teaspoons baking powder	½ cup butter or margarine, melted

Spread walnuts in a flat pan. Toast in preheated 350°F oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until very lightly browned. Cool. Finely grind ¾ cup of the toasted walnuts in food processor or blender; set aside. In a large mixing bowl, combine flour with sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir in ground walnuts. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted butter. Blend into the flour mixture just until dry ingredients are moistened. Stir in remaining walnuts. Turn into greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350°F about 65 minutes or until pick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from oven; let stand in pan 10 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool. Makes 1 loaf.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Like a bottle of fine wine, Richard Ruffalo continues to age with style and grace. Last week, the 35 year old super athlete traveled to Ottawa, Canada and added another notch to his long and impressive list of credentials. Ruffalo was victorious in the World Powerlifting Championships for the Blind, winning the 242 pound division for the United States.

This has become old hat for Ruffalo. The Belleville track coach has become synonymous with success on the lifting and throwing circuit. Ruffalo owns eight world records in throwing, and will try and increase that mark to 10 when he travels to Seoul, South Korea this October to compete in the Olympics for the Handicapped.

"I was pretty happy with the results last weekend," Ruffalo said. "These games were especially gratifying for me because two of the kids that I coached also won world titles. That means more to me than winning on my own. Coaching gives you that gratification that competing just can't give you. It's the feeling that you've given of yourself to help someone else."

Ruffalo's two prize students are Bellevilleite David De Notaris and Lisa Mullea of Harrison. De Notaris won the 132 pound weight lifting class and put together some impressive statistics.

He squatted 231 pounds, bench pressed 209 and dead lifted 352, for a grand total of 792 pounds. De Notaris has been active in weight lifting for five years now, and he continues to excell in the sport.

Mullea was simply outstanding in the 114 pound class. The 107 pound athlete won with a squat of 248 pounds, a bench press of 105 pounds and a deadlift of 265 pounds.

In addition to taking the gold medal, Mullea also was named the Best Lifter of the tournament, won the award for most total weight lifted and was named the Champion of Champions in the games.

"Yes, that meant a lot to me," Ruffalo said of the performances turned in by De Notaris and Mullea. "They're both outstanding athletes who worked very hard to get to where they are."

As for Ruffalo, his performances were unbelievable. The coach squatted 430 pounds, bench pressed a mere 348 pounds and finished with a dead lift of 452 pounds. On the day, Ruffalo totaled 1230 pounds.

"I really believe that I'm in the best shape of my life," he said. "I've never felt stronger, and I'm really gearing up for the Olympics in October. As of today (last Monday), I plan to start working out for the games. I'm planning to compete in all three throwing events (the shot put, discus and javelin). If I can stay healthy, I've got a shot to win all three events, and that would be the caper to my career."

On the weekend, the United States did very well, taking eight gold medals in 11 weight classes in the mens category and five gold medals in the womens section. Another local man, Kevin Szott of Clifton won the 220 pound class with some strong lifts.

Szott squatted 407 pounds, benched 352 and dead lifted an incredible 562 pounds.

Ruffalo feels his power lifting career is now concluded.

"It's Ted Williams, last game of his major league career," the coach said. "I finished it on top, and that's the way I want to remember it. The International Lifting Staff has asked me to be a part of their committee, and I think I would enjoy that. It would give me a chance to continue coaching young athletes."

As most people from Belleville and Bloomfield know, Ruffalo is a blind athlete who made prominence some six years ago by competing in, and doing very well in various games for the handicapped. As his career expanded, Ruffalo became well known, not only in the local area, but throughout the country.

Ruffalo was the cross country coach at Belleville High from 1974-81. When he first started his coaching career, his vision was good enough to drive a car. However, as his coaching career continued, his vision went downhill. By the early 80's, he was considered legally blind.

While that would deter some men, Ruffalo overcame those obstacles and decided to compete and work with the handicapped. His accomplishments more than speak for themselves.

Today, Ruffalo continues to coach the Belleville High School track team, with his specialty, of course, in the weight classes. During his high school and college days, "Roof" was a standout javelin thrower, first at Bloomfield High School and later, Montclair State.

While the man has had to battle some difficult odds over the years, he has never lost his sense of humor.

Back in the Spring of 1985, Jim Beck a standout runner for the cross country and track teams at Belleville in the mid 70's held a reunion of the 1975 track and cross country squads. Ruffalo, of course, was in attendance and he had the place rolling most of the night.

The man is also an accomplished singer, and has performed on stage in the past with such groups as the Lettermen and Johnny Maestro and the Brooklyn Bridge.

Thus, the man who is known for "Pumping it Down", "Bolting", "Trumpet", sub sandwiches at 7:30 a.m., 10 Egg Mc Muffins at one time and a host of other accomplishments, continues to set a path of athletic excellence. Having had the honor of competing for this man during cross country and track from 1974-76, I can honestly say that I'm proud to know Richard Ruffalo and wish him continued success in his endeavors.

LOCAL TEAMS FARING WELL

The Belleville softball team continued its winning ways by beating Immaculate Heart and Ridgewood last week. The Lady Bucs took a 6-1 mark into this weeks action. Head coach Carl Corino expects a tough game with Clifton tomorrow afternoon. The game should go a long way in determining how strong this years team is. The two wins last week increased Corino's grand total to 193 in this, his ninth year of coaching.

The Belleville crew team, under the guidance of coaches Scott Fabian, Bob Cassin, Maureen Russo and Dennis Villano, continued its strong performances in the prestigious Flick Races last weekend. The oarsmen and women are gearing up for the big regatta races which start in early May.

League opener vs. Clifton tomorrow

Batsmen lose two of three

The term hard luck can best describe the fortunes of the Belleville baseball team in the early going. The Bucs dropped two games in three tries last week, with both defeats coming by a scant run.

Nick Grande's troops took a 2-4 record into a game with St. Joe's of Montvale last Monday. Yesterday, the Bucs were host to Paramus Catholic and tomorrow, the team is in Clifton for a 4 p.m. start. On Saturday, Belleville is host to Caldwell in a noon time start. Next Monday, Bloomfield comes to town for a 4 p.m. game and next Wednesday, the Bucs travel to Paterson Eastside for an afternoon game.

Last week, Belleville lost to Don Bosco, 3-2 and Ridgewood, 6-5. The team salvaged the week by stopping Teaneck, 7-4. The victory over Teaneck snapped a four game losing streak for Belleville.

"The kids played tough," said Grande after the win against Teaneck. "Two big innings hurt us in the losses to Don Bosco and Ridgewood. I thought our pitching was pretty effective overall, but we just couldn't get the breaks."

The week started with the loss to Don Bosco. This was a well pitched game on both sides, as Belleville was limited to just one hit, and Don Bosco, three. The Bucs received an outstanding performance on the mound from Jay Marchese. The senior pitched seven innings, allowed just three hits, struck out six, walked two and allowed just one earned run. All three Don Bosco runs came in the top of the first inning.

Don Bosco recieved a lead off single, then benefited from a stolen base, a Belleville error and a bad bounce single to tally one run. A sacrifice fly scored a second run, and an error on the throw home allowed the third run to come across.

Belleville scored its two runs in the sixth inning. Anthony Rodriguez walked and George Speer cracked a mammoth home run, Belleville's only hit of the day, to cut the deficit to one run. Speer's homer went at least 385 feet.

"Jay threw the best game of his career," said Grande afterward. "He was hurt by a few bad plays in the first inning. It's too bad, because he threw very well."

The next game against Ridgewood was even more deflating. Belleville appeared to be in total command, leading, 5-1 after six innings. However, Ridgewood came back with five runs in the last of the seventh inning for a dramatic 6-5 victory.

For Ridgewood, the victory had to be extra special. In 1984, a powerful Ridgewood club led Belleville, 6-1 after six innings, only to see Belleville score six runs in the seventh inning for a dramatic 7-6 triumph. While the current Ridgewood team was in grammar school during that game, the win certainly was big for this years team.

As for Belleville, the Bucs did collect eight hits, with Marchese and Rodriguez collecting two each.

A big play in the game occurred in the first inning when Marchese drilled a shot that went some 370 feet and hit a light pole. The ball bounced back to the shortstop and the hit was ruled a double. Belleville did not score in the inning.

The Bucs gained a 2-0 advantage in the second inning, however. Rodriguez and Speer hit back to back singles, and both men advanced a base on a passed ball. Mike Thompson then hit a single that drove home both runners.

The Bucs increased the lead to 4-0, with runs in the third and fourth inning. After Ridgewood tallied a run in the fifth, Belleville gained what appeared to be an insurance run in the sixth, extending the lead to 5-1. However, the bottom of the seventh proved to be fatal.

Frank Orrei, Belleville's pitcher, was cruising along heading into the seventh, but he encountered some difficulty. Orrei hit the leadoff batter, then walked a man, bringing Grande off the bench and calling Rodriguez in from the bullpen.

Rodriguez allowed a two run triple, a walk and a double before he was replaced by Ernie Brodie. Brodie walked his first batter and then a blooper over the first baseman's head scored the final two Ridgewood runs and sealed the comeback.

Orrei was hampered by a sore back in the last inning, but he should be okay for his next start.

Belleville bounced back from the two defeats with an early barrage that lead to a 7-4 victory.

Belleville tallied five times in the first inning to put the game out of reach.

The first three runs scored on a three run homer by Marchese. P.J. Grande and Jeff Spillsbury were on base when Marchese blasted his homer. Later in the inning, Mike Finan reached base on an error. Rodriguez walked and both men advanced one base on a wild pitch. With runners on second and third, Gary Villano walked to load the bases. Thompson then reached safely on another Teaneck error, with Finan and Rodriguez scoring on the play.

In the Belleville second, the Bucs increased the margin to 6-0 when Spillsbury singled, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored when Finan reached safely on an error. After Teaneck tallied twice in the fourth to narrow the lead to 6-2, Belleville added its seventh run.

Grande walked, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on Finan's single.

Belleville was limited to just four hits, but made the most of its opportunities. The winning pitcher was Thompson, who hurled a complete game, giving up eight hits, striking out four and walking three.

Thus, Belleville ended a frustrating week with a victory, and hopefully, the Bucs can parlay that success to the beginning of the NNJIL, Essex-Passaic portion of the season, which begins tomorrow afternoon with Clifton.

Track team bows to Bloomfield and Eastside

The Belleville track team dropped two conference matches last week, bowing to Bloomfield, 79-43 and Eastside, 86-45. Despite the two losses, head coach John Tosato found a number of positive aspects to his teams' performance.

The Bucs battled Montclair last Tuesday and will not be in action again until next Tuesday, when it battles Passaic, at home, in a 4 p.m. start.

Versus Bloomfield, the Bucs recieved two first place finishes. Leon Puentes captured the 100 meter run in a time of 12.5 and Mario Lemongello was victorious in the 200 meters, with a time of 26.1.

Senior Ted Sochaski had a fine day, taking second place in the long jump, 110 high hurdles and the high jump. Sochaski cleared 17'9 1/2" in the long jump, ran the hurdles in 20.8 seconds and finished the high jump at 5'6".

In addition to winning the 200 meters, Lemongello was second in the 400 meters in 57.2 seconds. Roger Real was second in the 400 meter hurdles (69.0) and Greg Moriello returned to the lineup and placed second in the mile (5:29).

Mark Tonelli was second in the 800 meters (2:21.6) and Paul Parmenter placed second in the 3200 meters (11:56.4). Gaurav Nanjia was third in the 3200 (12:07) and third in the 1600, 5:21.

In the long jump, Real was third in 17'8 3/4". Dominick Tucci was third in the shot put with a throw of 38'4". In the 400 meters, Puentes came back with a third place showing of 57.5 seconds. Third place in the 110 high hurdles featured Real with a time of 21.2. In the high jump, Ray Zamloot was third (5'6") and Tonelli was third in the triple jump (33'2").

"I thought our kids did pretty well," Tosato said. "We didn't have enough first place finishes, though, to win the match. But I was pretty impressed with the effort by our kids."

Belleville faced a strong team in Paterson Eastside last Thursday, and for the first time in three years, the Bucs were host to a varsity conference match. Although the bottom line was a defeat, once again Belleville came through with a solid effort.

In the 100 meters, Puentes was second in 11.9 and Jerry Padula placed third with a time of 12.1. In the 400 meter hurdles, Real continued his strong season by taking second in 68.3. Lemongello won the 400 meter run in a time of 56.2 and Puentes was third in 57.4. In the high hurdles, Real took second in 20.4 and Tonelli was third in the 800 meters, 2:17.8.

Lemongello gained a third place in the 200 meters, with a time of 25.4. Moriello, recovering from a bout with pneumonia, competed in

Lady Bucs win two more, up record to 6-1

The big game with Caldwell was postponed due to bad weather, but the Belleville softball team did manage to post two victories in a short week of action.

Carl Corino's club took a 6-1 record and six game winning streak into this weeks action. Belleville battled Teaneck last Tuesday and was at Paramus Catholic yesterday. Tomorrow, the girls open the NNJIL season when they play host to Clifton in a 4 p.m. start. On Saturday, the team is host to Livingston in a noon time start. Next Monday, the club is at Bloomfield in a 4 p.m. game. Next Wednesday, the girls return home to face Eastside, also at 4.

Last week, Belleville blitzed Immaculate Heart, 15-0, then made surprisingly easy work of perennial power Ridgewood, 15-2.

Versus Immaculate Heart, Belleville needed just five innings to seal the victory. High school rules dictate that if a team is ahead by 15, or more runs, the game would be concluded at that point. Although Belleville won easily, Corino got the chance to play a number of girls.

Belleville banged out 13 hits in the contest. Laurie Dondarski had two of them and drove home two runs. Michele Milano had three hits in three trips to the plate and drove home two runs. Carol Morrison was 3 for 4 and drove home four runs. One of Morrison's hits was a homer, her third round tripper of the young season.

Racquel Melson was 1 for 2 with an RBI and Laurie Moyer was 2 for 2 with a ribbie.

The winning pitcher, as usual, was Janine Luzzi. The senior, who has been involved in every decision for Belleville this season, hurled the first four innings before giving way to Tricia Donnelly, who pitched one inning.

Against Ridgewood, Belleville jumped out to an early 5-0 lead, then exploded in the fourth and fifth innings to pull away to a very easy win. The game was televised by TV-3, and gave the viewers an early opportunity to see the Belleville bats at work.

"Ridgewood has a good club," Corino said. "They're very young, however, and we were able to hit the ball well. They're a well coached club, but they lost a lot from last years team."

Belleville had 15 hits in this game and once again, the heroes were many. Dondarski had three hits,

Crew team in Flicks

Five years ago, then head coach Sam Giuffrida decided to enter his crew team in the prestigious Flick races in Philadelphia. The Flicks are a series of races featuring some of the better crew teams on the Eastern seaboard. Giuffrida figured the strong competition would enhance his team when Regatta season came around.

Every year since entering the Flicks, Belleville has improved its performance in the races. This year, the team has been to Philly three times and have come away with four first place finishes. The Flick season will culminate on Sunday, May 1, when the City Championships take place.

In the meantime, Belleville will compete in a tri race on Saturday morning when Upper Merion and Kearny come to town for a 10:30 a.m. start on the Passaic River in North Arlington. On April 30, the girls team will battle the Peddie

Goldrick's a two-sport star at NJIT

Liz Goldrick, a chemical engineering major at New Jersey Tech, is enjoying a collegiate athletic career highlighted by versatility, leadership and achievement.

Goldrick, a graduate of Belleville High School, is off to a fast 2-0 start as a member of coach Bob Moran's 1988 softball pitching staff, and she was recently accorded all-conference honors in volleyball by the Independent Athletic Conference (IAC).

"Liz has to assume a lot of responsibility on our softball team," says coach Moran of his junior co-captain.

"She's one of the few women on our roster who had solid softball experience in high school, so we look to her to use her knowledge of the game to help our less experienced players."

"Liz is a good fielder," adds Moran, "and she's a respectable hitter. She plays in the outfield when she's not pitching, so we're able to use her in a lot of situations."

In the early games of the 1988 season, Goldrick has been hampered by a muscle pull that she first suffered during the recent volleyball campaign.

"It's just one of those nagging conditions that won't clear up until Liz can get some rest," says Moran. "The problem is that her push-off motion as a pitcher makes it tough for her to let the pull heal."

During Tech's 1987 volleyball season, Goldrick posted some impressive stats, muscle pull or no muscle pull: she registered 74 "kills" and 44 serving aces.

Indeed, those 44 aces helped boost Goldrick to all-conference status in the IAC for the second consecutive year.

"When volleyball coaches pick an all-conference team," explains Tech's women's volleyball coach Dave DeNure, "they'll remember a player who scored a lot of aces against them, and Liz has the kind of big serve that results in aces."

DeNure is quick to point out that Goldrick's contributions are not limited to her serve.

"Liz is also an excellent ball control player," he says, "and she's also a great passer. In addition, she has a great arm and she spikes well, even though she's not a 'big' person."

Liz Goldrick

And then there Goldrick's intangibles.

"Liz is a positive influence on our squad," says DeNure. "She's dependable and very competitive, and she's an athlete who overcomes a lack of great size with a lot of hustle and spirit."

The Tech athletic community has already taken note of Goldrick's contributions: her teammates elected her co-captain of the 1987 volleyball squad, and she's currently co-captain of the softball team.

In view of the fact that women's intercollegiate athletics are relatively new at New Jersey Tech, Goldrick's achievements take on an added perspective: in addition to boosting current women's teams to success, she's helping build a tradition of successful women scholar-athletes at New Jersey's technological university.

Media guide available

Everything you ever wanted to know about New Jersey's meeting facilities is now available in one comprehensive publication, "1988 New Jersey Meeting Planning Guide."

The guide, based on research and information gathered by the New Jersey Office of Business Tourism Development, is intended for use by corporate and association meeting planners wishing to use New Jersey as the location of their next meeting or convention.

Published by Bus Fac Publishing Co., Inc., Red Bank, the guide offers listings and background on meeting facilities, including hotels, restaurants, attractions and services.

In addition to listing meeting facilities and their services, the publication contains articles highlighting alternate meeting sites and offering tips on how to plan a meeting in New Jersey.

The guide is organized for easy reference into 13 convention and visitor bureau areas where clusters of hotels and other facilities and services are located. There are grid listings of facilities in each of the areas.

The convention and visitor bureau areas are described with specific details given on meeting facilities, such as the number of meeting rooms, amount of dedicated exhibit space, banquet capacity, overnight accommodations availability, price range and dining facilities.

Further information on the guide can be obtained from the New Jersey Office of Business Tourism Development, 101 Commerce St., Suite 204, Newark, NJ 07102, (201) 648-3129.

Cobras defeat Summit, 4-0

The Belleville Soccer Association Division I Cobras boosted their record to 3-0 last Sunday defeating the Summit Sounders 4-0.

The Cobras travelled to Summit for the game and did not have the home field advantage as they faced the formidable mid-Jersey team. The game started out as a volley contest with neither team penetrating too far into the offensive field. At the 26 minute mark, Paul Pena back-heeled a pass to Frank Ferry, who had beat his man coming up the right side of the field. Ferry slammed the ball into the lower right hand corner of the net to put Belleville on the board. Six minutes later, with the Cobras again on the attack, Ferry switched the ball to mid-fielder, Fab DiCarlo, who rocketed the ball past the Summit goalie from the 22 yard line. Half-time ended with Belleville in the lead 2-0.

The second half had just started when center halfback Frank Ferry took a throw in on the Belleville 35 yard line and with incredible speed broke right through the entire Summit defense. Ferry faked a shot to the right at the 12 yard line and then shot left, putting Belleville in the lead 3-0. Belleville came close to losing the shut out with 60 minutes into the game, as a questionable call by the official allowed a Summit penalty shot. The Cobra goalie, Joe Barreiro, who was enjoying his best game of the season, timed a left side dive perfectly and knocked the ball out. At the 70 minute mark, the frustrated Sounder's defense erred and committed a penalty in the box. Cobra sweeper John Tafur easily converted the penalty kick.

Belleville kept the team on the field fresh by substituting 15 times during the second half.

Pack 350's Pinewood Derby

The competition was fierce at Pack 350's annual Pinewood Derby, held at the Fewsmith Church

Social Hall, Friday, March 25.

It was amazing to see what the cubs created from just a small block of wood, four tires and four nails. The racing cars that emerged were sleek, colorful, beautiful crafted and fast.

There was much excitement as each heat was run, leading up to the finals where the first place cars from each of the five dens raced against each other to determine first, second, third and fourth place winners of the pack.

First place trophy and ribbon went to Jason Waldron, Webelos; second place - Adam Waldron, Den 9; third place - David Beck, Den 2; fourth place - Robert Callahan, Den 1.

The efforts of the other 41 entrants did not go unnoticed, each cub scout participating in the race received an inscribed trophy. Refreshments were served following the handing out of the awards.

School of Princeton, on the Passaic, in a 10:30 a.m. start.

Two weeks ago, Belleville came away with three first place finishes at the Flicks. The boys and girls' senior four and the midweight four were victorious.

The boys' senior four consists of Heather Apruzese as coxswain, Len Linfante, Gus Leming, Dale Watkowski and Vin Colaninno. It's a veteran boat that has endured the wars in the past and has been very consistent this year.

The girls senior four is made up of Laura Nardone, Joyce Burke, Carolyn Giuffrida, Kristine Villano and Kim Trefsgar. After winning its respective races two weeks ago, both the boys and girls senior four boats were second in close races at last weekend's Flicks.

The big story is the outstanding performance of the midweight four. Made up of Sue O'Donnell, Tom Eccles, Mike McGuire, Brian Villano and Jerry Russo, the boat has been outstanding thus far in 1988, winning the past two weeks at the Flick races. The shell has to be considered a favorite to win the city championships on May 1.

While the veteran shells have been the most successful in the early going this year, head coach Scott Fabian has been impressed by the performances of his younger athletes, too.

The boys novice eight has been progressing well and took a second place last weekend. The boys junior four, which was put together just five days prior to the Flicks last weekend, finished third in its race.

The junior four girls, after a sub par performance two weeks ago at Melson was 3 for 4 with three ribbies, Luzzi had two hits in four trips, drove in six runs and drilled a homer. Moyer also had two hits to pace the attack.

Luzzi improved her seasons mark to 6-1, allowing one walk and striking out just one. She hurled a complete game and was in command throughout the contest.

Belleville had a game with Teaneck postponed because of rain last Friday, and the big game with Caldwell, scheduled for last Saturday, was also postponed because of cold weather. This week, Belleville expected a tough game with Paramus Catholic, and Corino feels that tomorrow's contest with Clifton will be a big game.

"Clifton will be a big assignment for us," the coach said. "They have an excellent team this season, and it's the opener for the conference."

Saturday's game with Livingston should also be a tough test. Livingston, as usual, has a strong team and could be a difficult hurdle to county supremacy in May.

the 3200 and finished third at 12:14. In the discus, Chris Chiarmonte was third with a throw of 77'6". Tucci took a third in the shot put, tossing 35'1 1/2".

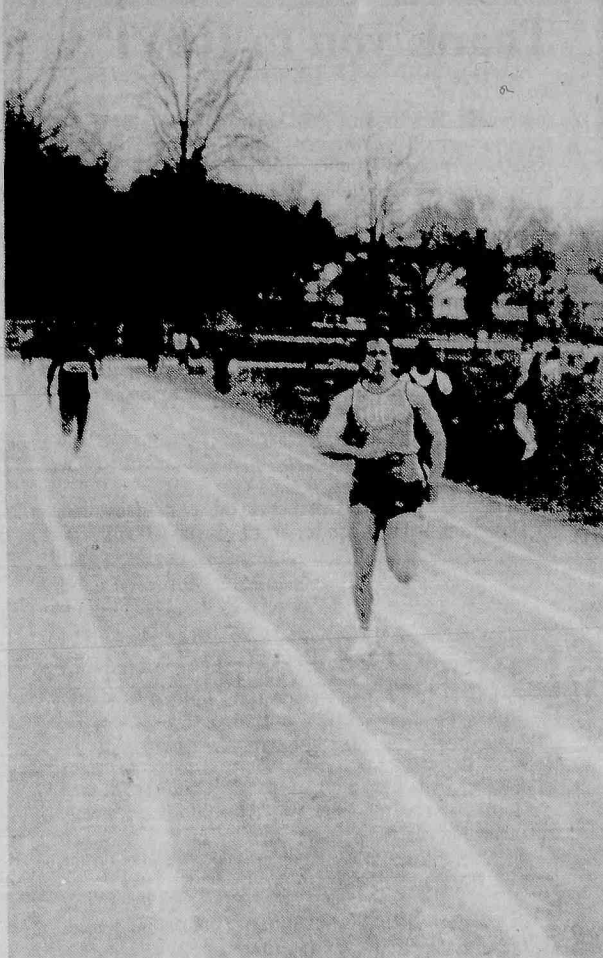

Over to the jumping events, Belleville took a first and third in the long jump, with Lemongello winning (18-11 1/2") and Sochaski placing third (17-11 1/4). Tonelli gained third place in the triple jump, 34-3 1/2" and the Bucs swept the high jump with Zamloot, Sochaski and Doug Hoozendyke leading the way.

The Bucs completed the days work with a first and second in the pole vault. Bob Chulanandana won the event with a jump of 8.5 feet and Charles Gerris was second at eight feet.

Last Saturday, Belleville competed in the Hudson County Relays at Kearny High School on a very cold day. A strong effort was turned in by the sophomore two mile relay team, which finished in 9:43.

The team was eighth overall and consisted of Tonelli, Nanjia, Farmer and Brian Drobish. Farmer and Drobish are just freshman while Nanjia and Tonelli are sophomores, so Tosato has to be encouraged by the strong showing.

As for the past week, the Bucs received some excellent performances from Sochaski, Real, Farmer, Tonelli and Lemongello, to name a few. With Moriello beginning to return to form after an illness, the team has to be optimistic about its chances for the remainder of the '88 season.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you to RSVP

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank and recognize our RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) volunteers in Essex County. The week of April 18th has been designated as National Volunteer Week. Over 1,750 senior volunteers in the county give over 400,000 hours of community service to over 100 agencies and organizations. The work they do is as varied as the agencies and volunteers themselves.

One factor remains constant, however. Our senior volunteers are taking action to meet critical needs in their communities. They see problems and they are part of the solutions. They are directly affecting the lives of those in need and become advocates for those who cannot act as advocates for themselves.

RSVP volunteers are proof that ability has no age limit. They are treasured by the people and organizations who are recipients of their services.

Thank you, volunteers, for making our community a better place to be! Thank you for caring! Thank you for sharing!

Papasidero says thanks

To the editor:

I'd like to take this opportunity to say thank you to the people of Belleville. I especially would like to convey my thanks to all of the supporters and workers who gave of their time in preparation for April 5th. Your efforts are greatly appreciated.

I sincerely thank you all for the privilege to serve on the Belleville Board of Education.

Baker and Bush?

To the editor:

I'm sure Nancy and Ronald Reagan are quite aware of the great debt of gratitude, they owe White House Advisor, Howard Baker.

Bringing Howard Baker to the White House, after the Iran-Scam shame was uncovered, probably prevented Ronald Reagan's crumbling, teflon-coated, deceitful administration from going down the drain altogether.

I believe, the Reagans will reward Howard Baker by getting him nominated for the second spot on a George Bush ticket.

I'm sure George won't complain. George knows he might very well be in need of Howard Baker's administration salvaging talents — sometime in the future.

Republican against Risoli

To the editor:

As a lifelong Republican I am proud to say that the township of Belleville has for the past several years elected Republicans to both federal and state offices. As we all know the township of Belleville is overwhelming democratic. One has to wonder how we have elected Republicans especially when we lack any leadership from our hand-picked chairman (Angelo Risoli).

Mr. Risoli has been at the helm for about 7 or 8 years. His leadership is a vacuum. In all of his years as chairman he has never called one meeting. The only meeting he calls is the organization meeting and he is compelled by law to do so. He has promised us on numerous occasions to have meetings, fund raisers and offer help to senior citizens and scholarships to our Belleville High School seniors, but to no avail. His workers never received one dollar for working the polls at Election Day. I ask one question, what does Angelo Risoli do with the money he receives from the Republican party?

On the organization day in June Mr. Risoli makes sure that his hand-picked person who chairs the meeting refuses to allow a motion for a close vote to take place, thus securing his hold on the party chairman. This year it will be a different story. We, (the Belleville Republican Party) intend to ask the State Republican Party to attend and we also intend to invite the press. I will extend to you, Mr. Risoli a challenge to reply to my charge (a closed vote) on re-organization day in June.

Others helped crew team

To the editor:

I noticed in the Belleville Times that a plaque is being given to Mr. Giuffrida for service to the rowing team, and rightfully so. There are also other plaques hanging there for good deeds that others have done.

But there has been one missing since the boathouse was built. You correctly mentioned in the write-up that it was partly due to Mr. Giuffrida's efforts that the boathouse was built. But if you look back in the library's archives, you will discover a photograph taken with me, Mr. Chapman and others the year the land was cleared and graded. The caption is self-explanatory. I donated over $800 worth of work in order to clear and grade the entire lot and riverbank. Mr. Chapman thanked me with the write-up and photo in the Belleville Times and said I would also be remembered on a bronze plaque. I believe that I was the only contractor to donate both my time and equipment. All the others were paid. Unfortunately, Mr. Chapman died. He was the force behind the building of the boathouse and the rowing team. At that time a benefactor who donated $100 or more of work was to be remembered on a bronze plaque.

It bothers me that bronze plaques are given to some and not to others. Some of the original founders and benefactors are forgotten. This letter is not being written in the form of a complaint but only in an effort to remind those presently rewarding benefactors that both Mr. Chapman and myself also helped greatly to start off the rowing team that now exists. The rowing team is a wonderful sport for our children and should be encouraged and supported by everyone.

But let's not forget those of us who were there when it began.

jewels there abounds in America bigots with hateful hearts, following in the footsteps of that notorious German of the Second World War.

A PROGRAM used in Palm Beach County that allows certain children to repeat Kindergarten has increased retention rates and makes five-year-old children feel like failures. This is the conclusion of the National Association for the Education of Young Children. Holding back children in Kindergarten for another year, creates at an early age, an obvious inferiority complex. Either the tests are asking too much of the children, or the children are starting school at too early an age.

THE rest of America is catching up with Essex County Sheriff Tom D'Alesio's war on drugs. Tom has been talking about drug abuse from the first day he was elected six years ago. His anti-drug unit is the best in the state. However, it is underfunded for the job it is asked to do. Fortunately, the triangle of Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield is generally free of drugs, but we can't say the same for the three cities of Newark, East Orange and Orange.

ESSEX County Republican Chairman John Renna is miffed at Essex County Executive Nick Amato for appointing a Democrat as Essex County Business Administrator.

Association celebrates its 40th anniversary

The Association for Retarded Citizens of Essex County, Inc. (ARC/Essex), a national pioneer in efforts to improve the lives of mentally retarded persons, is observing its 40th anniversary this year.

To help it mark the start of its fifth decade of service to retarded children and adults throughout Essex County, the Association has planned a series of special events that will spotlight the gains made by the retarded and the challenges still facing them.

ARC/Essex, a private, nonprofit organization, was one of the first groups in the country established to serve the needs of retarded persons. Many of its original members also were instrumental in the formation of the state and national retarded citizens' associations, which came into being in the early 1950s.

Julie Condon of Belleville is a Life Member of ARC/Essex.

"For the mentally retarded in our area, many things have changed for the better since ARC/Essex was found in 1948 as The New Jersey Parents Group for Retarded Children," said Stuart Applebaum, a Millburn business owner who is the president of ARC/Essex.

Joseph L. Dimino of Livingston, executive director, states that the activities of ARC/Essex "have touched the lives of thousands of retarded persons and their loved ones. Our 175 staff members and numerous volunteers provide vital services directly to the retarded individual, offering the opportunity for a fuller, more satisfying life."

The Association's pivotal role in meeting the needs of the retarded has earned many plaudits. The most recent honor was bestowed in mid-March by the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, which presented a commendation recognizing ARC/Essex as "a worthy, caring and compassionate organization serving the needs of a special group of citizens."

ARC/Essex runs a variety of highly regarded programs for mentally retarded persons of all ages. Among them are infant stimulation, pre-school, home assistance, adult training, community residences including supervised apartments, family respite care, social services, and recreational activities, including a summer day camp. The programs are housed in facilities located in all parts of the county.

The Association also is actively involved in educational efforts to further the public's understanding of the problems connected with mental retardation and the efforts being made to overcome those difficulties.

In addition, ARC/Essex provides information and referral services to parents, health and welfare officials and organizations, students and others interested in the well-being of retarded children and adults.

The events planned for the ARC/Essex 40th anniversary include an open house at the Association's new Day Training Center; an awards ceremony honoring community individuals and institutions for their efforts on behalf of the retarded; a picnic and carnival on the grounds of Camp Hope, the ARC/Essex summer camp in East Hanover; and a speakers' series in which noted authorities will address timely issues concerning the retarded.

Cerebral Palsy ethnic festival

The Cerebral Palsy Center of 7 Sanford Ave., Belleville, will be holding its annual ethnic festival Saturday, May 14 from noon to 4:00 p.m. Bring your friends and neighbors to the Center for this enjoyable day of delicious foods, entertainment and fun. This fund raiser, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher-Therapist-Association, provides parents, clients, staff and board members the opportunity to contribute by bringing foods from their cultural backgrounds, provide ethnic artifacts and in general just have an all-round good time.

With the support of the Center's families and friends, we know this festival will be even more successful than all the others. For further information, call the Center at 751-0200.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

What is an abscess? Inside every tooth there are nerves & blood vessels. They are used to form the tooth while it is growing inside the jaw when you are a child. When the tooth gets a large amount of decay and touches the nerve it then begins to die if the nerve is not removed from the inside of the tooth by root canal therapy. If not removed the nerve begins to decompose or rot, creating a pressure inside the tooth. There is no place for the pressure to go except out the bottom which is called the apex. A small cyst develops. As this cyst, which is inside the bone, becomes larger more damage is being done to the surrounding area. If the cyst becomes so large that it breaks through the bone and then the gum and reaches the outside, it forms what looks like a small pimple. This is what is primarily called an abscess.

ID cards for senior citizens

Legislation providing that persons 60 years and older without a driver's license may obtain a senior citizens identification card from their county clerk was introduced by Assemblyman John V. Kelly.

Assembly bill 2595 was introduced in response to a growing need of senior citizens to have valid identification.

This legislation will allow the county clerk to verify and investigate the age and identity of each applicant.

Assembly bill 2595 is pending before the Assembly Senior Citizens Committee.

Hardwick launches study on homeless

Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick said this week an Assembly legislative committee will launch a study of the state's homeless programs to determine whether some newly proposed regulations are overly restrictive and would result in a worsening of the problem.

Hardwick said the Assembly Housing Committee will begin holding hearings on the question of whether state regulations set up for bedding and dining space at the state's homeless shelters are unduly restrictive and hampering efforts to provide service to the state's growing homeless population.

Hardwick said homeless advocates would also be encouraged to testify at the hearings in hopes of identifying avenues for adapting state regulations to maximize efforts to increase the stock of short-term and permanent housing.

The Speaker said the Housing

Committee hearings complement a series of initiatives taken by the Assembly to help alleviate the homeless problem.

Initiatives recently taken by the Assembly include formation of a legislative task force dedicated to developing programs to aid the homeless and recent passage of a $13.7 million package to fund rent assistance and expansion of shelter space in combination with programs providing mental health counseling and referral services to help homeless people take control over their lives.

Municipal budget introduced by Board of Commissioners

They saved the best for last at the Belleville Board of Commissioners Tuesday night but in reality it was just a tease as a resolution making amendments to the school budget was forwarded to a meeting tonight and a resolution introducing the municipal budget was not very specific.

In an effort to reach an agreement with the Belleville Board of Education about the budget, the Board of Commissioners will continue Tuesday night's meeting tonight at 6:00 p.m. in an effort to cut the school budget without effecting education. A finalized budget must be completed by today.

Gabe Nazzola questioned whether the meeting tonight would be legal considering there would not be 48 hours notice in a publication, required under the Open Public Meetings Act. Board Attorney Frank Cozzarelli told Nazzola since it is a continuation of Tuesday night's meeting no notice is necessary.

The municipal budget for 1988 was introduced because it must be done before May 12 by law and the May 10 meeting has been canceled because Town Clerk Mary Lou Hood will not be able to attend. Three of the five departments have finalized figures but two, Department of Public Works and Department of Public Affairs, did not have completed budgets.

Angelo Risoli, Commissioner of Public Works, said he had submitted a budget but it has been cut so he is not sure what the exact figure is and Joseph Formarotto, Commissioner of Public Affairs, was expected to complete his department's budget by today.

Department of Finance, headed by Joseph McGreevey, will have a decrease of $35,044, going from $1,560,110 for 1987 to $1,525,066 for this year. Parks and Public Property will go from $991,757 in 1987 to $1,033,455 but the increase is due to an expanded department, accord-

Washington Avenue clean-up on Saturday

The first annual Clean-up Washington Avenue, sponsored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Code Enforcement Agency and Department of Public Works (D.P.W.), will begin at 8:30 this Saturday when at least 70-75 people are expected to arrive at the Chamber office, 155 Washington Avenue.

Boy Scout Troop 350 will volunteer 25 scouts and 10 adults, between 10 and 15 D.P.W. workers, 10 Chamber members and 25 other volunteers will then begin the clean-up on the corner of Mill Street and Washington Avenue. Public Works will supply bags, rakes, brooms and other cleaning materials while Good Health Pharmacy will supply rubber gloves for the volunteers and Chamber members have purchased 25 garbage cans which will be placed around town.

Lunch, provided by the Chamber, will be served between 11:30 and noon at the Department of Public Affairs building, 383 Washington Avenue. Anyone interested in participating in the clean-up should call the Chamber office at 759-4888.

On Sunday, the Department of Public Works will clean Washington Avenue with street sweepers.

Can't find a solution

Meeting tonight to decide what cuts on school budget

By Pat Brightman

After three hours of deliberation last Thursday the Belleville Board of Commissioners and Belleville Board of Education could not come to a workable solution to slash the school budget, which was rejected April 5 by the voters in town.

As a warning to the school board, Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni said, "you better sharpen your pencils and I mean with an ax not a pencil sharpener," at the close of last week's meeting.

A committee from each board was formed and met Monday in the hopes of reaching an agreement before the April 28 deadline of submitting a school budget to the state. The committees discussed the options available but no set reductions were made at this meeting. At the Commission meeting held Tuesday night the Board of Commissioners announced the two boards will be meeting tonight at 6:00 to reach an agreement.

As the meeting last week, D'Agostino said despite the constant decrease in personnel due to budget cuts the district is still striving.

"Cuts impede progress and fracture the upward trends of our students," said D'Agostino.

"We can make cuts," said Borgo, "if you want to abolish things like girl athletics, have classes with 40 students compared to 19 or 20, get rid of basic skills test. If we have to we can find a way but a large sum will directly effect the education of the town."

Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli asked the board if they thought any cuts could be made immediately but Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello said if the board thought any cuts could be made they would have been.

"I wouldn't know where to make any cuts without infringing on the district," said Nardiello.

Frantantoni noticed a severe increase in administrative costs and suggested cutting an administrator or two. Nardiello replied by saying the only addition has been Anthony Pico, who was already in the system as principal of School 8 and the pay increase was not substantial when he was given extra duties as assistant superintendent. Frantantoni noted that a teacher had to be added to School 8 when Pico was added to the administrative staff.

Middle School monies

"I see all these allocations for Middle School renovations but the work has never been done, why?" questioned Frantantoni. He pointed out a $280,000 allocation for Middle School work but no renovations were initiated.

Assistant to the Business Administrator Charles Miele replied by saying the money was spent on asbestos removal which is mandated by the state and has become very costly, approximately $500,000. "We knew the asbestos removal would be big bucks that's why we didn't spend the money on new doors and painting the school."

Frantantoni brought out documentation stating asbestos removal could have been done five years ago at a cost of only $40,000 but Miele said the author of the bid misunderstood the extent of the removal and it was before the state mandated asbestos removal.

Frank Cozzarelli, attorney for the Board of Commissioners, asked the Board of Education to concentrate on the revenue side of the budget not line items. Cozzarelli publicly thanked Gabe Nazzola, a former school board member, who suggested looking at the revenue side.

"You have an anticipated

Substance Abuse coordinator grant

A resolution accepting grant money for the creation of a Substance Abuse Coordinator was approved by the Belleville Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The board also passed resolutions for the construction of fencing and gates at the board complex and re-inspection of asbestos in town schools during the meeting which was interrupted twice by individuals who wished to speak at improper times.

The grant, $42,000, will be used to hire one full-time Substance Abuse Coordinator whose responsibility will be to create prevention and intervention programs. The money, filed for by the Board on November 2 of last year, has come from the Substance Abuse Coordinator Grant Program, sponsored by the New Jersey Department of Education.

A second grant, for $10,000, has been filed by the board, and if approved, will be used for materials for the substance abuse program.

Academy Fence Company, of Orange, was awarded the fence contract for their low bid of $2,545. Twenty feet of gate and fencing will be installed in the hopes it will reduce the vandalism to board property, specifically school buses, that has been happening at the Cortlandt Street parking lot.

P.M.K. Engineering, Inc., of Hillside will re-inspect all the schools in the district for non-fryable asbestos materials, such as tile floors and ceilings. The cost of the re-inspection will be $14,000.

Assistant Business Administrator Charles Miele recommended to the board three other projects that should be done. He requested permission to meet with Richard Becker, architect, to develop specifications for resurfacing and repointing of the roof on School 7. The roof is leaking and damaging recently completed plastering in the school.

Miele also recommended paving the play area at School 7 and parking lot at Belleville High School.

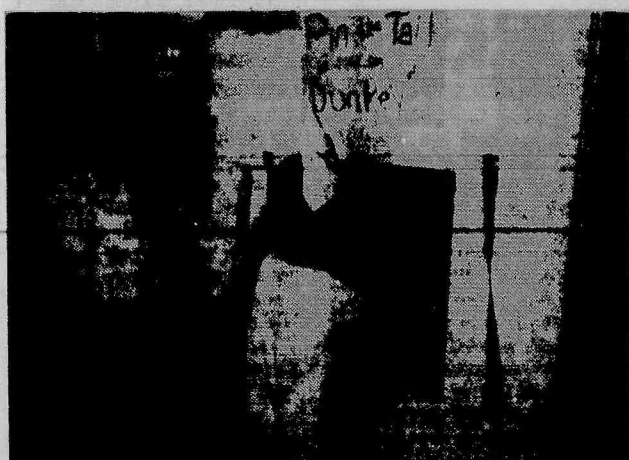

State monitoring

Assistant Superintendent Michael Lally made a presentation to the board regarding state monitoring, done every five school years and will be done this fall. Previous monitoring was done in January of 1984.

"The Committee on Education evaluates a district every five years to see if it meets the state code," said Lally. "Based on that evalua-

Community Mental Health celebrates 30th anniversary

WORK AND PLAY — A Community Mental Health worker, left, assists a visitor during playtime. The Mental Health Services are celebrating their 30th anniversary.

There has been much talk about the county owned property on Franklin Avenue in the past few weeks. Most of the talk has concerned Belleville acquiring the property and building a senior citizen complex but there is something else happening. The Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, located at the location, is celebrating its 30th anniversary.

Despite all the rumors the facility continues to offer care to all those who need it in the surrounding towns and 1,139 individuals were treated last year for a variety of reasons.

"People come for a variety of reasons," said Jean Libbey, director of the friendly visitors program, "counseling, how to get along with their family, children for therapeutic school."

"A lot of people think we're just mental health but it's plain untrue," said Executive Director

Alice Ricci. "There are some here but we have a lot of life adjustment individuals. Marriage problems, stress, children not up to par in school."

The service has grown since its inception in 1958, as the three towns and Glen Ridge came together to create a service that would not be practical if only one town had started. Shortly thereafter, Glen Ridge dropped out of the service.

Humble beginnings

The first three to four years the service was located in Clara Maass Medical Center but the program outgrew its space and moved into their present building, built by the Works Progress Association in the mid-1930s, and previously used as nurses quarters. In fact, under the building is a tunnel that leads to the hospital.

"The state Division of Mental Health and Hospitals required service areas," said Ricci, "and its been a common practice to put towns together. Our towns were united before the directive from the state because no one town could afford to provide necessary service."

It continues to grow and has branched out to educate the general public through seminars to make people aware of the programs the service offers, programs to help everyone.

"We work closely with the schools about teen suicide," said Ricci. "We react very quickly with that. Very often the person can't talk to their parents because of today's lifestyles, so it is a way to confront the problem," she said in regards to the psychiatric help offered.

Libbey talked about a recently concluded seminar she held in the Belleville Public Library concerning what to do with an older parent. "The seminar dealt with how to address the relationship and how to handle the problems and address the alternatives and maintain a feeling of self-worth.

Continues to grow

As the exposure has increased and programs added, a Partial Care unit was started in 1985 to go along with existing programs Outpatient, Therapeutic School and Camp, Family Life and Friendly Visitor. Ricci also feels the 80s lifestyle has led to the increased enrollment.

"We certainly see more people now (than when I arrived)," said Ricci, who has worked at the facility for eight years. "I've noticed increasingly severity. Eight years ago there were hardly any teen suicides. Problems in the family life are less but we are dealing with more foster homes now. Enrollment in the therapeutic school is greater."

The school, with an enrollment of 38, offers individualized curriculum, as well as speech, music, art, physical and occupational therapy.
