A gentle reminder

Because of confusion existing among home and business owners around town about their responsibilities, Public Affairs Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto this week sent out a press release containing section 11-2.2 of the Township General Ordinance, dealing with the repair of sidewalks:

"All owners or occupants of any parcel of land fronting on any improved street in the township are required to keep the sidewalks in front of such land in good repair; and if in any case, after thirty days (30) notice, such repairs are not done by such owner or occupant, further action will be taken."

"The future of Belleville depends upon the cooperation of property owners in keeping our community free from unsightly and distasteful conditions. Rewards gained by this will not only benefit individual homeowners, but give Belleville the facelift it so desperately needs," said Fornarotto.

Ponies and popcorn on Washington Avenue

Ponies trotting up and down Washington Avenue and the smell of fresh popcorn in the air.

No, not a flashback to 19th century Belleville but a celebration for Charles Jewelers as Lou Cicienia commemorates his 10 years as owner of the store with a good old-fashioned party this Saturday.

"We'll have rides for the kids and we'll have balloons. I'm not sure about the popcorn but we're working on it," said the always ebullient Cicienia.

The store has come a long way in the 10 years, especially considering Cicienia "didn't think it would last 10 minutes." But with innovation and friends lending support, Cicienia has carved an important niche for himself in town.

"I bought this store on a handshake," he recalled, "for $12,000. Now you couldn't give me a million for it. There's not a store like it in New Jersey. We have repairs, make loans, have a complete array and assortment of jewelry."

Charles Jewelers was founded 42 years ago by Aaron Cohen, "Mr. Chamber of Commerce." Cohen will be remembered for his commitment to the chamber and for being the first businessman on Washington Avenue to have lights for Christmas.

But his business was on the downside when Cicienia took over.

25 years of experience

Cicienia had 25 years of jewelry experience, working in Newark, and decided it was time to move on in 1978, so he bought the store. "This is a very good business area. I love the location and like the customers. Business has always been good even during blight."

A key to his success is his loan offering system. He had always had the idea but decided to establish the business before implementing the loans seven years ago. He said he is now one of only two pawnbrokers in the county and one of the leading in the state.

"I felt it was the modern way to go," he explained. "It's private, a mature way to raise money."

Another modern way to go is receiving an Essex County Block Grant, which Cicienia did. In fact, he was the first Belleville businessman to apply for funds. With the money he received from the county and another $250,000, Cicienia moved upward and outward, buying the vacant store next to him and adding a second floor to the building. All the renovations were completed two years ago and he and the other seven employees of the store are comfortable.

So comfortable, they may be ready for another 10 years, at least. — Brightman

Town adopts new budget

The Board of Commissioners approved a resolution Tuesday night to adopt the amended 1988 municipal budget of $22,986,488, down from $23,021,591.

Only Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni voted against the measure.

"I think there is still room for more cuts," he said.

Of that total $14,781,439 is to be raised by local taxes, down from $15,445,237 meaning a final tax rate of 7.92, the commissioners said.

The amended budget reflects an increase of $353,020 from $396,304 to $749,324 in the distressed cities line item.

In a related action, the board adopted a local finance resolution regarding the Special Municipal Aid Act which gives Belleville $800,000 in financial assistance.

"That will reduce taxes to a certain degree," said Mayor Michael Pizzi.

In other matters, the board referred a request for a zoning change of the corner at Stephens and William Streets to the Planning Board in accordance with municipal regulations. The request for the change was made by the Van Dyke Company.

The board also adopted a resolution (continued on page 6)

Two restaurant expansion plans on hold until July

Two municipal restaurants floating expansion outlines before the Planning Board had their variance applications put on hold until the July 14 meeting; Nanina's in the Park because of parking problems and Antonio's for discrepancies in lot lines.

Nanina's in the Park, on Mill Street will have to return with its parking siteplan redrawn, the board said.

Plans for Nanina's called for an addition of 100 seats to their proposed new banquet hall for a total capacity of 250.

But because there is an additional 69 seats in the lounge area not factored in by management as part of the overall seating capacity, they had not allotted sufficient parking spaces.

"Because there's no fixed seating in the banquet hall, we based our calculations on the square foot provisions in the zoning codes," said Nanina's attorney Jack Sariano.

But Grace Harris of the Planning Associates of North Jersey, Belleville's planning consultant, said the fixed seat provisions apply whether the seats are bolted to the floor or not.

Planners critical:

Poor security blasted at Pathmark center

By Alfred Cook

Angered at what they said was Pathmark's failure to meet its corporate obligations, Planning Board members lashed out last Thursday at company executives for failure to provide adequate security at its Belmont Avenue store.

In a frequently bitter pre-meeting special business session lasting over an hour, that saw Vice-Chairman Chris Albanese repeatedly score the food chain's executives, the two groups eventually hammered out a series of security measures they said should end the muggings and purse snatchings commonplace at the market's parking lot.

In addition to the Cushman patrol during business hours, 8 a.m. to midnight, there will be a walking patrol covering the entire parking area, said Myron Waxberg, Pathmark's attorney, after the meeting. An outside T.V. camera will also monitor activities, he added.

"You used to have a Cushman cart patrolling the area," Albanese said to Waxberg. "But when I was there four months ago all you had was a small guy walking in front. He was no bigger than me and he told me the T.V. camera hadn't worked in some time."

Different company

The company had a different security company under contract, Waxberg said.

At issue was one of the more recent muggings and purse snatchings that have plagued shoppers at the Silver Lake facility, an incident in late March when a female customer was accosted in the parking lot while putting groceries in the trunk of her car and had her purse grabbed by someone coming up abruptly in a car behind her.

"She was dragged along the ground when she tried to keep hold of it," Albanese told Waxberg. "And the woman said the manager told her there was no security."

"Police were in the lot at the opposite end when it happened," said Dennis McGraft, the store's manager.

"The security guard is on contract and wouldn't know if the camera was working or not," he added. "And the security guard that patrols does other things like helping customers."

'Not much security'

"Maybe he should just patrol. I know I don't see much security down there, said Board Member Marie Burke, "so I don't shop there."

"I know I don't, it's not safe," said Kevin Kennedy, a board member.

"We live here, you have to go with a golf club," Albanese said before chiding McGraft about the deplorable condition of the premises, "of the paper left in the lot to be blown around by the wind."

"We clean the lot every day," McGraft said.

"It doesn't look like it," Albanese said.

"The last time we were here we set up a procedure where you were supposed to call us if there was a problem, then suddenly we get a subpoena," Waxberg said.

"We sent you a letter in March," said Board Chairman Joseph Doyle.

"I never received a letter," Waxberg said. (continued on page 5)

Fornarotto will appeal

Public Affairs Director Joseph Fornarotto says he will be filing an appeal against his conviction last week on charges of disorderly conduct on the complaint of political activist Michael Giordano.

The charge arose out of Giordano's receipt of anonymous and harassing letters which were attributed to Fornarotto, and the case was heard by Judge Robert Scanlon in Cedar Grove Municipal Court in accordance with practices aimed at avoiding conflict of interest in an official's home town.

After a 10-minute proceeding Scanlon fined Fornarotto $100, with $25 in court costs and a $30 contribution to the fund for victims of violent crime. The municipal official made no comment at the time but said afterwards that within the 20-day period an appeal would be filed in the county court by his lawyer, Frank Pomacco.

"I regretted having to do this," said Giordano. "It is not my nature, but the harassment had to be stopped and I hope now it will cease."

First in a series:

Despite budget cuts school goals are met

By Pat Brightman

The educational system of Belleville has come under close scrutiny during the past month with the Board of Commissioners again cutting its budget.

Budget pruning is nothing new, but what effect such trimming has on the educational system is an interesting question for many parents, some of whom express concern over the state of Belleville education.

Every five years the New Jersey State Department of Education monitors school districts and this upcoming September it will again be Belleville's turn. Given the new development in state-municipal school relations with the current move to take over Jersey City's school system, such detailed evaluations are no longer regarded as just routine.

Forty-three conditions are looked over and the consequences of not meeting any one of them can be severe, with the ultimate penalty being a state takeover.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello expresses pleasure that "The curriculum is moving well. There has been nice upward movement."

"We take need assessments,"

SCHOOL'S IN...

explained Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael A. Lally. "We have staff meetings, review test scores. Then we determine what should be targeted."

Monthly meetings

The process of developing a curriculum involves everyone, including the individuals affected most, the students.

Lally said monthly meetings are held among administration, teachers, students and parents to discuss the needs and objectives of the school system. A curriculum program, as well as complete school objectives, are based on these discussions.

"Each subject area provides my office with specific programs they would like to see developed," he continued. "I'll review the plans and take those with the greatest priorities and implement those." Cost restrictions prohibit Lally from implementing all the programs requested.

"The state insists on a development of a five year plan," Lally added. "It provides a road map of what should be accomplished."

He said the district has exceeded the requirements set by the state, pointing to an in-house proficiency test for the third and sixth grades, a third year of history for the high school as well as a third year of science and math to come in the next two school years.

Books updated

"The elementary curriculum has been completely revised. We've upgraded the books, some of which were 10-12 years old. Now we're up to 1985 or 1986 editions," said Lally. Statistics back up Lally's claims as 15 curriculum guides have been updated and implemented for the elementary schools, 18 in the Middle School, while all the guides have been revised in the High School, as well as adding seven additional guides.

Hand-in-hand with the revised curriculum are test scores from such tests as SAT, Minimum Basic Skills and Tests of Achievement and Proficiency. With the improved curriculum has come improved test scores and with improved test scores has come a greater number of students furthering their educations.

SAT scores high

According to statistics provided by the Belleville High School Guidance Department, SAT mean scores for the last five years are as follows: 1982-83: 805; 1983-84: 798; 1984-85: 813; 1985-86: 813, and 1986-87: 821. The breakdown of last year's mean scores are: verbal - 390 and math - 431, with both being the highest figures over the five year period.

The Minimum Basic Skills Test over the five year span has also shown a noticeable increase. In the 1982-83 school year, 85.4 percent passing reading and 92.4 percent passing math. In 1985-86 the High School Proficiency Test became the test of record and during that year 95.9 percent passed reading, 87 percent passed math and 94.8 percent passed writing.

While the percentage in test scores increases, the number of students has decreased and with the decrease in students came a reduction in staff. In September of 1983, 4,492 students enrolled in Belleville schools; in 1984, 4,326 enrolled; 1985, 4,215; 1986, 4,025 and 1987, 3,739. Because of the lesser number of students, nine teachers have been let go over the period, from 314.5 in 1983 to 305.5 this past year.

Nardiello points out that while there has been a drop in teachers, the system has increased needed services, by increasing special classes from 23 in 1983 to 26 in 1987 and having one more academically talented class than five years ago, from four to five.

Nardiello said society has changed over the years, putting more responsibility on the schools. "Our demands are greater, we have to meet the individual needs and we can only do that by having smaller class sizes."

"They talk about increased class sizes," he continued. "If you have a two pound bag you can only fit two pounds of stuff in it. If you attempt to put more in it's going to rip. You can't do it (increase class size). When you pass approximately only two of the last 20 budgets it has a residual effect."

has implemented a Crisis Intervention Team and will implement a Substance Abuse Coordinator to assist students. Along with these, the school administration still offers outside activities, activities needed for a well-rounded education.

Nine clubs are offered at Belleville High School: The CLAMP Club, DECA, Foreign Language Club, Future Business Leaders of America, Italian Club, Key Club, National Honor Society, the school newspaper and Student Government Organization. This list does not include the many student government sponsored events run throughout the year, nor does it include the athletic programs. According to High School Athletic Director James Silvestri 589 athletes participated in 20 sports at 41 levels for Belleville High School.

In the Middle School, six sports programs are offered and 10 scholastic clubs and organizations are offered for students in the seventh and eighth grades.

The extra-curricular activities were a prime subject during the Board of Education elections this past spring and it appears it is on the upswing, but as the constraints on the budget continue, constraints on the educational system also occur.

Ballet classes

Fred Danieli of Nutley, director of the Garden State Ballet, has announced that there will be summer courses at its Rutherford School July 5 through August 12 for both adults and children, on beginner, intermediate and advanced levels.

Teenagers may register for ballet, toe and jazz dance, on all levels. Registration is now going on at 28 Glen Road, just off Park Avenue, or details can be obtained by calling 939-3398.

As Lally said, the school system has not only met but exceeded many of its goals, despite the budget cuts.

But where do they go now? What does the educational system in Belleville hold for the future? That will be discussed next week.

Summer music program

This summer Belleville schools will again offer a Summer Music School, open to all residents of town.

It will operate for five weeks, Monday through Friday, starting June 27 and continuing to July 29, with classes meeting daily between 8:30 a.m. and 12 p.m. at Belleville High School, located at 100 Passaic Avenue.

The school is divided into three programs, geared to meet the knowledge levels of the students. The three programs are preparatory, regular and the enriched art program.

The prep program is for the second and third grades. It is a set schedule, consisting of one period of recorder class, one period of rhythm class, and one period of singing and music theory. Students will receive a recorder and a music theory book.

The regular program is for grades four and above. This program is for students taking a band or orchestra instrument, as well as piano. All instruments will be taught. A student in this program will receive one lesson per day and at least one ensemble experience per day. Availability of instruments is on a first come serve basis.

The enriched program is for grades two and above. Last year's successful art program will be continued and expanded as the art class will meet every day this summer.

Six high school seniors given $600 scholarships

Two female high school seniors from Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley have been awarded scholarships and savings bonds by the Tri-Town Business and Professional woman's Club for academic achievement and business proficiency.

"We give $600 scholarships to young ladies attending college and a $100 savings bond to those planning to enter the business world," said Elsie Ciccone, co-chairman of the event, which took place at The Ramada Inn, Route 3, Clifton, last week.

Those receiving scholarships were Aisha Khadr of Belleville, who plans to study business administration at Rutgers; Shauna Hughes of Bloomfield, who expects to study optometry at Seton Hall, and Linda Sauter, who will be studying physics at M.I.T.

Those receiving savings bonds include Jeannine Sporacino of Bloomfield, Barbara MacDonald of Nutley and Donna Maino of Belleville, who was unable to attend the dinner because of a family emergency.

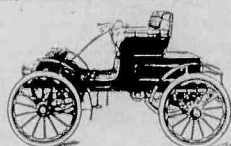

Gifts galore at Expo

Shop-Rite is hosting a free food fair at Byrne Arena Saturday and Sunday with a Father's Day tie-in.

Two-hundred food companies are participating, offering prepared samples of their products, and participants will have the opportunity to win a variety of gifts including $100 gift certificates for ShopRite stores, a year's supply of Coca Cola or Scott paper towels, NFL and "E.T." videocassettes, two 1957 Thunderbird pedal cars or a 7-Up gold wind surfer.

Hours are from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. As far as Shoprite is concerned, it's all free, but the Meadowlands folks will be collecting a $3 parking fee per car.

OUR OPINION

Nocturnal Dumpers

There is something radically wrong when the Department of Public Works finds itself facing bills of $500 to $1,000 for collecting and dumping individual piles of refuse placed at curbside by Belleville homeowners. At that rate a taxpayer could theoretically consume his or her entire property tax payment for the year just through these extra rubbish disposals.

Obviously such an arrangement is totally unworkable, and as reported in our news columns last week, at $200 per dumped load, the DPW can no longer accommodate the situation as it could in the days when it cost $25 or $30 to dump the same sized truck load.

What to do?

Obviously property owners are going to continue to have this debris to dispose of, and few will be able -- much less willing -- to pony up the fees if the town commissioners decide that each should pay his own costs.

They are almost certainly going to be just as unwilling to keep the junk on their premises, so we may well look forward to the totally undesirable nocturnal dumping that has become a fact of life in other communities facing the same problem.

The offending material is bagged or boxed and under cover of darkness, deposited on a street or sidewalk some distance from its owner's property. If vast amounts are involved, bags will go out one or two at a time, much the way prisoners in The Great Escape moved the soil they dug each night from their tunnel.

The clandestine activities may add a touch of adventure to the lives of the dumpers, but they will also add to the problems of the DPW, and create an offensive situation for the innocent property owners whose curbs and sidewalks fall heir to the mess.

Obviously there is a law against such actions, but the dumpers are hard to nail, so we can expect things to get worse before they get better.

Help Is On The Way

As we all know, the state has come through with another $664,798 in Distressed City funds, and not a moment too soon!

It allows the pending tax increase to be shaved by eight and a half points, which in a normal year would have sounded like a lot, but in 1988, is a drop in the bucket. The tax increase will still be on the order of 105 points.

But, without these additional funds, layoffs would have been necessary, possibly in the police and fire departments, and now, as a condition of accepting the money, the commissioners have had to give the state an assurance such a dire move will not be made.

Even so, it may still be necessary to eventually thin out the ranks of municipal employees, and it will certainly be obligatory on the part of every person in municipal government to do some belt tightening. At risk of sounding like a broken record, as we said in the editorial above, things are going to get worse before they get better.

Ratables and Jobs

At its time of fiscal squeeze Belleville is lucky to be able to welcome a substantial new investment into town in the form of a shopping center on the Walter Kidde site, and representatives of the developers say that some 400 new jobs will be created by that project, too.

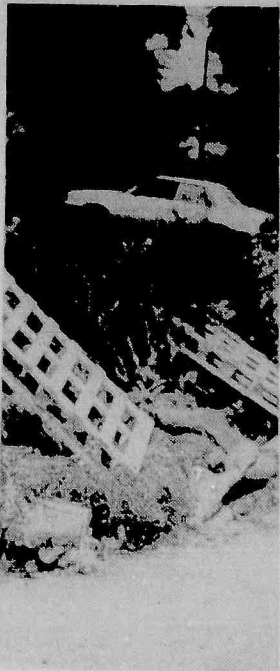

Its presence with a Pergament store among other new businesses will also be a splendid convenience for area shoppers, and according to expert testimony given at the zoning board hearings, the surrounding roads are more than adequate to handle any increased volume.

Members of the Board of Adjustment will vote on the proposal at their July meeting.

Fiscal Mismanagement

If Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis becomes the Democratic Party's presidential nominee, and it hardly looks at this moment as if he could lose out, as the campaign heats up he will have to answer some hard hitting questions about the state of his state's finances.

His current $11 billion budget is showing a $300,000,000 deficit, which could go higher, and his opponents on the local scene have been charging him with fiscal mismanagement. On the other hand, of course, fiscal mismanagement could well be a qualification for going to Washington.

YOUR OPINION

Rebuts Vander Zwan

To the editor:

This is a rebuttal for Mr. Vander Zwan. Mr. Vander Zwan you were very active against the prior Board of Commissioners and their spending ways. You are also adamant toward the Board of Education spending. However, you don't have the same zeal towards the new Board of Commissioners Administration.

Could this be because of your strong allegiance with Commissioner Frantantoni - that you seem to overlook the current administration's spending. While you so eloquently criticize the Board of Education spending you are obviously not concerned with the commissioner's spending. Specifically in the past year, at public meetings excellent cost saving measures have been proposed only to have fallen on deaf ears. Again specifically a central clerical pool, a central motor pool, consolidation of offices, a hiring freeze, consolidation of existing structures and staff reduction where overhiring has created a glut (political favoritism, political hiring, etc.) Why haven't you supported these cost saving measures as a concerned citizen. Where is your group of concerned citizens in requesting that the Board of Commissioners make budget cuts as currently being asked of the Board of Education.

It sounds like Mr. Vander Zwan you have a dim view of our education community which is Belleville's greatest asset. I wish you could have been at the Belleville High School Scholarship Awards (I am sad to note that only one commissioner, Mayor Pizzi, chose to attend this magnificent event) to see the more positive side and output of our educational system. Our youth in Belleville were honored by local businesses, universities and the military. Just to highlight how impressive our school is, a Rutgers University representative issued six awards for excellence statewide and Belleville students received four.

I recommend to you, Mr. Vander Zwan, that since you and your group are so very pro Belleville, you should make yourself more aware of our positive assets, such as education, and more aware of the negative assets, such as political overhiring.

Seven Deadly Sins

To the editor:

Recently Frank Orechio wrote of Mahatma Ghandi's "Seven Sins of The World."

1. Wealth without work. 2. Pleasure without conscience. 3. Knowledge without character. 4. Commerce without morality. 5. Science without humanity. 6. Worship without sacrifice. 7. Politics without principle.

It seems to me - Ol' Mahatma's remarkably insightful "Seven Sins," graphically describes the lifestyles of many politicians and evangelists of the nineteen-eighties.

For a cleaner shore

To The Editor:

Although Essex County has no shore communities, most of us enjoy a trip to the beautiful beaches of New Jersey. But, last summer, our beaches were forced to close several times when barges dumped hospital waste in our coastal waters, an inconsiderate act that is a violation against all the people who use and enjoy the Jersey shore.

That's why I am in full support of the Clean Ocean package of 25 bills that passed the Assembly last week. They are aimed at regulating sewage treatment, coastal dumping and litter, and mark an important first step that I am pleased to be a part of.

Assemblywoman Marlon Crecco.

A question of objectivity?

To the editor

Congratulations - You have brought to the Belleville Times an objectivity to Mr. Orechio's paper which should go down in the annals of journalism - you should go far! Especially your deliberate effort to avoid the cesspool behind 246-258 Washington Avenue in your photo.

Not for shopping mall

To The Editor:

On Tuesday night, June 7, the Zoning Board heard testimony to convert the old Walter Kidde factory into a shopping center. Route 21 Associates of Belleville is hoping for a use variance to convert 350,000 square feet of industrial space to a mixed use facility consisting of a retail commercial shopping center and a tire warehouse.

What is planned is a Pergament's, a Waldbaum's, 15 satellite stores and a fast food restaurant. Also, the owner of the land, Max Finkelstein, will retain 145,000 square feet for warehousing for his Goodyear Tire business.

Even with such a large project planned and the future of many stores in the balance, I was surprised to find myself only one of three residents in attendance at the meeting.

Where were the merchants who could lose business because of this project?

Where was the Chamber of Commerce?

If this shopping center is allowed to be built, it will be the final nail in the coffin for the merchants of the Township of Belleville.

The final meeting on this will be July 5, 1988, at 383 Washington Avenue. We must all be there, citizens and merchants alike, to voice our opinions.

Second wave of summer movies arrives

The second wave of summer movies has arrived, and it is still a very mixed bag, actually a bag of near misses.

Jim Abrahams ("Airplane," "Ruthless People") has stepped away from the Zucker Brothers for a solo act in "Big Business" for Walt Disney's Touchstone Productions, and it falls far short of those raunchy laughfests; "Poltergeist III" is an out-and-out bomb from MGM-UA, and only Orion's "Bull Durham" comes even close to hitting its target.

"BIG BUSINESS"

This one should have been cast in the mold of "Ruthless People," but it is hardly even a distant relative, despite the dynamic presence of Bette Midler.

Midler and Lily Tomlin play two sets of identical twins accidentally separated at birth, so that Rose (Midler) and Sadie (Tomlin) Shelton have been raised as sisters in a wealthy New York family and Rose (Midler) and Sadie (Tomlin) Ratliff have grown up in dirt poor surroundings in Jupiter Hollow, West Virginia, where the births occurred simultaneously in the small community hospital.

Rose Shelton is the ruthless, hard-driving chairman of the Moramax Corporation, which owns a small plant and 10,000 acres of land in Jupiter Hollow. She wants to unload it to an Italian entrepreneur, Fabio Alberici (Michele Placido), who plans to shut the factory and strip mine coal from the 10,000 acres.

The employees send a two-person delegation to New York to plead their case at the Moramax stockholders' meeting, and who should they choose but Rose and Sadie Ratliff.

Needless to say, neither set of 'sisters' knows the other set exists, but Fabio, arriving from Italy at the same time the Ratliffs reach Kennedy Airport from West Virginia, knows what the Sheltons look like from their picture in the Moramax annual report, and soon has a major case of mistaken identity on his hands.

Constant confusion

While the Sheltons search for him in the airport, he has the Ratliffs into the Moramax limo and on their way to the Plaza Hotel. Since the Sheltons are well known there, the Ratliffs are welcomed as them and installed in a suite in readiness for the stockholder meeting the next day.

Constant confusion results, because both sets of sisters are in and out of the hotel and its various public rooms, and near misses occur with more regularity than in the crowded skies of the north Atlantic. But not until far down in the picture do all four finally come face to face in a large and luxurious ladies' room.

It doesn't take an expert to know that a dreadful mixup occurred many years before in that tiny hospital, and the catharsis provides an opportunity for everyone to sort out their ongoing problems and plan themselves a happy future.

But, the script by Dori Pierson and Marc Rubel never quite reaches the heights that existed in the idea. The special effects men, however, do more than justice to the demands of showing the two leading ladies as a foursome. The results are quite awesome.

It's slight fun, overdrawn at the laugh bank. But enjoyable.

"POLTERGEIST III"

Towards the end of this film Tangina Barrons (Zelda Rubinstein) assures Carol Anne (Heather O'Rourke) that "...your nightmare is over."

At that point everyone in the audience is ready to holler "Can we have that in writing!" because if ever an idea was bled dry and the innocent viewer assaulted unmercifully, that is happening here.

It is a silly, hokey, outing that makes you cringe to think that several stuntmen's lives were placed in jeopardy executing it.

So you may know the guilty, Gary Sherman and Brian Taggart wrote the script and Sherman directed, setting the action in a high rise building in his home town, Chicago.

As you might expect, the forces of evil, through their man at MGM, Preacher Kane (Nathan Davis) are still trying to spirit Carol Anne away. They create all kinds of mayhem around the building before exorcist Tangina makes that promise.

It will come and go real quick.

"BULL DURHAM"

This is a movie for adult audiences, quite sophisticated in its humor, and with very good performances by Kevin Costner and Susan Sarandon.

If you think it's a baseball picture, you are half right. The relationships unfold against a minor league background in the Carolinas, but it's more appropriately a people picture, with Costner playing a slightly world weary player who has never quite grasped the brass ring, and Sarandon an almost over-the-hill groupie who follows the team and feasts sexually upon the player (s) of her choice.

Her choice is a dumb young stud with a million dollar arm, Ebby (Nuke) LaLoosh (Tim Robbins), who behaves in bed much the way he does on the field. It's broad humor, heavily sexual and with ample bad language.

It isn't a film for young people, and they wouldn't be likely to buy tickets, anyway.

But if you are a mature person who is turned off by car chases and explosions and would like a movie that calls for a bit of celebration, you've got it.

The Durham Bulls hire Crash Davis (Costner) to work with and season Nuke, Annie Savoy (Sarandon) has already singled Nuke out as her prey for the season, and does she ever create a monster.

It was written and directed lovingly by Ron Shelton, superbly photographed by Bobby Byrne, and scored by Danny Bramson with a veritable treasure trove of golden oldies.

It is not a movie destined for big box office success but, if you have been heard to say "They don't make movies like they used to," see it. It isn't a movie in the old style, but the fun and satisfaction it yields are definitely old style.

YOUR OPINION

He says debris must be picked up

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to the front page article "Lack of funds has stopped curbside pickup" in the June 9 issue.

I am interested in knowing if it is truthfully a lack of funds or if it is a lack of effort by the Public Works Department?

I do not believe that it is fair that some residents of Belleville have large piles of debris removed without any problems, while others who have lived in the town for twenty or more years cannot succeed in having their piles removed.

This lack of debris removal is unjustifiable, especially when the residents have not previously utilized the service. The residents have this service and pay for it through taxes, therefore they should not be penalized because others supposedly abuse it.

In the article it is stated that if the program were to be continued by July, 1989's funds would have to be used. I find this ironic that workers would be sent out to pick up the small piles of dirt in the second photo, since it could easily be put into a container for pickup by the garbage men, or put to use in a flower bed!

The program was designed to pick up piles of debris as the one shown in the first photo. Yet it is said that the pile has "...destroyed curbside pickup."

I believe that Commissioner Risoli's estimate of an approximate $1,000 cost to pickup the first pile in your photo is inflated. If the curbside pickup is not intended to gather material the garbage men cannot pickup, then what is it all about? If the service is discontinued, then what will be done?

Deputy Director Chester Green states that "...we have almost 10 years of road neglect." He also says that there is not enough manpower to repair those roads. I agree that something should be done about this, although I find it highly unlikely that a small town is so far behind in road repairs. But I disagree that the service of curbside pickup should be discontinued so the men can be used for road servicing. It is not the fault of residents that the roads have not been serviced, so why should we all be penalized.

If the Department of Public Works would direct its time, effort and energy to repairing the streets, removing debris and plowing the snow in winter instead of wasting time, effort and energy complaining about it, the town of Belleville would be vastly improved.

Your concern in this matter will be greatly appreciated.
Joseph A. De Stefano.

'Rocks in his head!'

To The Editor:

Because of his belligerent behavior, on and off the baseball field, some say Yankee Skipper Billy Martin has "Rocks in his head."

This may or may not be true.

However, one thing is certain. Every time Billy Martin walks out onto the playing field to talk to an umpire - Billy, most definitely, has "dirt" on his mind.
Chet Dobkowski.

ber replied.

"I wrote it and sent it myself," said Mrs. Burke. "You must have got it, someone from your company came to me about it."

"Not from us," said Rick Richmond, the company's security chief, who earlier said he had recently been put in charge of the problem.

"It was about the letter, he was a black man," Burke said.

"Maybe from Lansdale Security," Richmond said.

"I would have come voluntarily if I'd been called," Waxberg said.

"There's no need for this."

"I believe the spirit in which you left us last time - that I don't want to come back here again, is evident here tonight," Doyle said.

Joyia move approved

The Planning Board approved a conditional use variance submitted by George DeRose for an auto body shop at 21-49 Roosevelt Avenue last Thursday.

DeRose, who previously operated his business Joyia Refinishers from that location was forced for financial reasons to relinquish it 18 years ago and relocate across the street in smaller quarters, said Joseph Doyle, board chairman.

Two neighbors, who remember Doyle's earlier operation, supported his application.

Joyia manufactures and repairs trucks, tractors and trailer bodies. In its present location Joyia trucks park in the streets and block driveways while other trucks awaiting repair are parked in the side yard, said Grace Harris of the Planning Associates of North Jersey in her report.

"The only reason we went along is because they owned it before," said Chris Albanese, vice-chairman of the board. "He said he'd keep it neat, resurface it and keep the trucks inside."

Albanese explained the area was not kept up by the previous owner.

In addition, DeRose agreed to resolve a number of site plan objections listed by Harris.

Planners nix lot division

An application to divide a 75 foot by 110 foot lot into two lots each with a 37.5 foot frontage at 70 Gless Avenue was denied by the Planning Board at last Thursday's meeting.

The owner, Anthony Todaro, planned to erect a two family home for family members in the residential-business zone, said Joseph Pisano, attorney for the applicant. Todaro and other family members now live in the existing two family structure on the present lot.

Approximately 50 neighbors protested the plan stating it would create parking problems and be aesthetically detrimental.

Besides that, said Joseph Doyle, board chairman, several deficiencies existed, most notably, that two family homes require 50 foot by 200 foot lots.

"The board doesn't want to condone inadequate lots," Doyle said.

Hassle over number of seats

Board Chairman Joseph Doyle and other board members agreed with her interpretation, a view reinforced by an analysis prepared by Police Chief George Lister's office and submitted in a May 10 letter indicating 127 parking spaces were needed, but only 107 places were called for in the plans.

When at full capacity, the report said, it would mean moving four cars to get one out, there'd be no access to the rear, and it would create a problem for the handicapped.

"It will mean stacked parking," the report said.

Sariano argued they were not talking about a 319 person capacity as suggested by the combined numbers, but rather a total of 250 people when the banquet area is fully booked for an event. The cocktail lounge would act as a holding area until the banquet starts.

But Doyle said that while that may be the intention, the restaurant may be sold at a later date or the lounge might be booked separately when a capacity crowd is booked for the banquet hall.

"That's why the board has to go by the zoning codes," he said.

"Pass a resolution stipulating the capacity," Sariano said.

"There'd be enforcement problems," said Chris Albanese, board vice-chairman.

"All we can do is vote on the application," Doyle said. "It wouldn't pass. It would be better to redraw the plans."

Antonio's Ristorante

A plan to enlarge Antonio's Ristorante in the Plaza Shopping Center by extending it past the alley to the Plaza Pastry Shop was postponed due to a mixup in area maps.

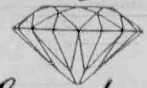

"The site plan showed one lot and the application form another," Doyle said.

Because of that other area businesses and residents within a 200 foot radius of the restaurant will have to be notified to comply with zoning laws, he added.

Thomas Murphy, attorney for the applicant, said the intended expansion, an approximate 10 feet by 40 feet, was not to increase capacity, but to make the facility more comfortable.

Services were held June 13 in the Spatola Funeral Home, Newark.

Mr. Roblejo was an assembler for Fischer Electronics in West Orange, retiring in 1978. He was a member of the Logia Esperanza Masonic Lodge, Passaic.

Born in Cuba, he lived in Miami and Newark before moving to Belleville three years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Josefa; three sons, Jose J., Jose A. and Rene E.; two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Jimenez and Mrs. Maria Luisa Fernandez; two brothers, one sister, nine grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Makeup program set

A summer school program for high school students in grades 9 through 12 who wish to make up academic deficiencies will be offered at the Essex County Vocational and technical school at its 91 West market street campus.

Frank Cancellieri of Belleville, basic skills coordinator for the school, said that there will be two sessions a day, one from 8:15 to 10:15, and another from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m.

Scheduled Monday through Friday, they will offer full academic instruction and basic skills in general science, algebra, typing, office practices and technical drawing.

The six-week program will begin July 1 and end August 12.

'Clown Around'

Pre-schoolers are invited to bring their parents to be part of an exciting local television program, "Clown Around," hosted by Mickey The Clown, at Channel 35 access studios in Bloomfield.

Bloomfield and Belleville children 3 to 5 are welcomed, and their parents can sign them up by sending a postcard with names, ages, address and telephone numbers to Blaize Visual productions, P.O. Box 2407, Bloomfield, 07003.

The programs will be seen locally on cable Channel 35.

AIDS on the job

Ann Sanders Randolph, director of community services at Clara Maass Medical Center, will be the guest speaker June 27 at the monthly luncheon of Belleville Chamber of Commerce, discussing "AIDS In The Workplace."

The luncheon begins at noon in Three Guys From Italy Restaurant next to Belleville Town hall on Washington Avenue. Guests are welcome.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

What is a Father?

Pastor Gerald Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

To his sons he is named according to the length of their pants; when the pants are three-cornered, his name is DaDa; when they reach their knees, he is Pop; when they finally get down to their ankles, he is Dad; and after that — well, for a while he is just the Old Man.

He makes his wife cry when she is happy and laugh when she is sad. If events transpire in their usual succession, he becomes to her a corsage, a box of candy, then a diamond ring, a fur coat, toast and coffee in bed in the morning and a baby bottle at night.

To the children he is the monster who spansk their bottoms, the spoiler who insists that they go to bed. He is an ice cream cone, a trip to the zoo, a ticket to the game, and the guy who supplies money for their dates.

In all seriousness, Father is mighty important in any home and unhappy is the family without one. For he is the one who wears the pants, who earns the living, who in general keeps a roof overhead.

Our effort is not merely to give human description but our particular subject is a special species of the creature — THE CHRISTIAN FATHER! Whether or not Dad considers himself to be the head of the home, God certainly does. "He (man) is the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of man" (1 Cor. 11:7). To wives, the Apostle Paul gives the injunction: "Submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord" (Eph. 5:22). God's order for the home, you see, has ever been: "But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is the man" (1 Cor. 11:3).

From these and other scriptures it would seem apparent that God's idea of a man is one who is a man. The Biblical father not only wears the pants, he wields the gavel. He directs. He leads. In God's program, he is the head of the home — though always under the Lordship of Jesus Christ. But the Bible also makes it clear that authority is not austerity. A leader is not a boss. He does not drive, he leads. And he leads in LOVE.

Dad, great is the authority which God has vested in you as the head of your home. Dad, yours is the authority before God. Yours is the responsibility to God. If your home is wrong, then very likely it is because you are wrong. If your home is godless, is it because you are godless? Are the house and car in your name but, the family religion in your wife's name? Is the hymn of your house: "Take my wife and let her be consecrated Lord to thee; help her now Thy will to see but, please dear Lord, don't count on me."

Dad, God holds you responsible for your home. Is your home in order? Blessed is the home whose Dad will say:

Take my life and let it be Consecrated Lord to Thee.
Take my will and make it Thine;
It shall be no longer mine.
Take my heart, it is Thine own;
It shall be Thy royal throne.

tion creating "Drug-Free School Zones" in the township in accordance with the Comprehensive Drug Reform Act.

A number of handicapped parking spaces were eliminated by ordinance following a police review, but another handicapped parking space ordinance was approved for 42 Maple Avenue.

An ordinance to amend Section 12 of the Codified Rent Leveling Ordinances was kept on the table until it could be reviewed by the Rent Leveling Board.

The board also defeated an amendment to an ordinance that would authorize supplemental compensation payments for township employees in "certain cases".

Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli recommended such compensation payments should be negotiated.

CONSIDER THE SOURCE

A vitamin by any other name is still a vitamin. A "natural" vitamin which is taken from a food source is no different from one that is synthesized in a laboratory. The only difference what the consumer is likely to see is in the price. As for the tissues of the body, they will perceive a vitamin in the same manner, regardless of where it came from. In addition, anyone taking vitamin supplements should check with the pharmacist, to be sure that they will not affect any medications also being taken. Although vitamins are not usually thought of as drugs, they do indeed interact with certain prescription and non-prescription medicines.

Teen Reading Program

This summer the Belleville Public Library will be running a teen reading program. For every teen, ages junior high through high school level, who reads 15 books and reports on them to either Adrea Cohen, assistant library director or Cindy LaRue, young people's librarian, a certificate will be earned and a paperback dictionary will be awarded at a special program Sept. 15 at 3:30 p.m. to which a book author will be invited. Registration is available now for the program by calling Cohen or LaRue at 450-3434.

Hawaii on exhibit

A Hawaiian exhibit is currently on display in the Library, on loan from the Newark Museum.

Displayed is a Hawaiian calabash, which is a coconut shell; a tapa beater, used for making bark cloth and a sample of tapa or barkcloth; a boar tusk, the trophy of the dangerous pig-hunting sport once popular; a coconut; a lei of feathers, worn primarily by the women of the ruling class; Kakala, polished sticks used with other musical instruments for native dances; and a Hawaiian whistle, called the Hokiokio.

Zatorski's art on exhibit

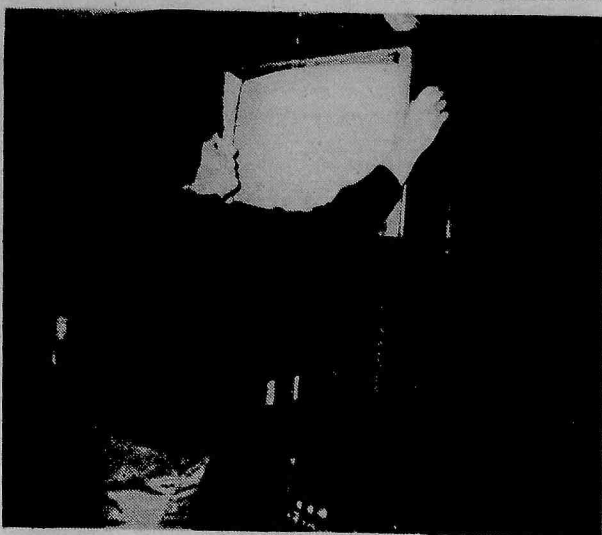

Currently on exhibit at the Belleville Public Library's meeting room are oil paintings by Michaelina Zatorski of Belleville. Zatorski has earned several awards in the annual Belleville Public Library art show. She also has provided some unique exhibits for the display cases at the Library, such as a display on Norman Rockwell and crocheting.

Among her works on exhibit are "Morning," "Indian Summer," "Mountain Village," "Morning Canter," "Spring Thaw," "Lake Louise," "The Desert," "Winter Sunrise," "Cabin in the Woods," "Still Life," "Roses," "Winter Snow," "Tranquility," and "Blossoms in the Park."

Summer of the Bookasaurus

Children ages 2½ to 12 years old may join the Bookasaurus Reading Club to last from June 20 to August 25. Children reading 15 or more books will receive a summer reading club certificate. Dinosaur stickers, bookmarks and other prizes will be awarded for books read.

Activities include story-time for 2½ to 4 year-olds, "D Day," which includes dinosaur activities and crafts, such as making dinosaur mobiles, a "Dimetrodon Dessert," and a dinosaur "Egg Eating" contest. Movies and popcorn, a special program, "Bruce Laird's Dinosaurs," including magic tricks, large dinosaur drawings and a slide show will also be held, both at the Shafter Branch Library and at the Children's Room.

MEDIA SPECIALIST — That is Marilyn Mango, the library's media specialist, who works cooperatively with the Belleville High School cable television facility producing "Celebrate Books From The Belleville Library."

Shaving paraphernalia on display

A unique collection of safety razors and related paraphernalia from the private collection of Paul and Barbara Ciccone is currently on display at the Belleville Public Library.

The Ciccones initiated their hobby after having acquired some old razors from relatives. Their exhibit is comprised of safety razors from around the world, dating back to the late 1880's with over 400 brands of single and double edge blades and 100 stropping and honing devices and reprints of old advertisements.

Also on exhibit are miniature travel razors, including collapsible styles; Gillette miniature travel safety razors; windup vibrating safety razors; injector or "repeating" razors, pioneered by Schick and patented in 1926; the valet "Autostrop" razors, produced from 1912 to 1946; and men's safety razors of assorted brands, both single and double-edged blades.

Seeking relatives

Investigators for the Essex County medical examiners office are seeking relatives of Charles A. Carroll, 74, of Belleville, who died three months ago.

Carroll's death was from natural causes, but the body has been retained at the morgue in the hope that family members can be traced to handle funeral arrangements. If not, burial will be initiated through welfare said Helen Accuosti of the medical examiner's office.

It is believed that the dead man has a son, Michael, who may be living in the Orlando area of Florida. He is also believed to have a brother, James. Anyone who can help is asked to contact the medical examiner.

Newark man acquitted on 1986 murder charge

After three days of deliberations a Superior Court jury found Carlos Rodriquez not guilty in the August 14, 1986 slaying of Belleville man Benjamin Sobotor.

Rodriquez was arrested shortly after the killing because he had been driving the dead man's car. He admitted to being a car thief but said he had found it on the street and knew nothing of the bludgeoning death of Sobotor in his apartment at 65 Lighan Street.

The defense attorney, Edward Peraino, contended that his client was the wrong man, and after extensive presentation of evidence, the jury believed him. Rodriquez had been in custody since his arrest.

WE GIVE YOU THE CREAM.
NOT THE SKIM.

Some newspapers don't get read — they get skimmed. Readers skim the headlines, the pictures, the ads. Not in The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times or Bloomfield Life. They are not filled with "canned" material like many newspapers. No photos from Lebanon, no syndicated columns from Washington, no wire service stories from other far-off places. Our papers are filled every week with local stories and pictures about local people and local happenings. No wonder they're so well read. We give you the cream, not the skim.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUSINESS DESK

By David Bryant

With a tradition of quality service dating back to 1945, Charles Jewelers, at 163 Washington Avenue, Belleville has built a long list of satisfied customers, spanning three generations of Belleville customers. Lou Cicenia, president of Charles Jewelers, is quick to describe several services that make his fine store unique in the area, and in some ways, unique among the nation's jewelers. On of these special services is quick jewelry repair, while the customer waits. Employing craftsmen, true jewelry artisans, Charles Jewelers can often repair necklace clasps, watchbands, and other damaged items while customers wait. Charles Jewelers can also design and craft one-of-a-kind jewelry, customized, personalized items that will become family treasures, full of memories of caring that find people giving custom gifts more that ever before. These special orders have helped to earn Charles Jewelers a large following of people who design their own gifts or use the artisans of Charles Jewelers to create special designs — for special people.

Charles Jewelers also offers a full range of watches, clocks, gifts, rings for many special purposes, and a variety of timeless gold and silver jewelry. Another unusual service offered by Charles Jewelers is the lending of money on fine jewelry. With imports of 18K gold chains from Italy and a large, beautifully displayed inventory of jewelry and executive gifts, Charles Jewelers retains its place as one of Belleville's key retailers— offering a tradition of excellence in jewelry and customer satisfaction, in a central Belleville location. As Lou Cicenia, who has made Charles Jewelers one of more than 180 successful members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, says, "It's better in Belleville."

Sara Mellinger participates in Scholars Day program at Rutgers

Sara Mellinger, a student at Belleville High School, was one of several hundred of the state's brightest high school juniors who attended Rutgers Scholars Days on May 19 and 20 at New Jersey's State University.

Nominated by their high school principals, the top-ranked students and their parents spent a day on Rutgers' New Brunswick campus, where they received a colorful introduction to the wide variety of educational options offered at the State University.

The students also competed, by written essay, for the university's merit awards — scholarships based solely on academic or artistic excellence without regard for financial need.

Scholars Days, coordinated by the Office of University Undergraduate Admissions, offered information about academic programs, student services and student life on Rutgers' campuses in Newark, Camden and New Brunswick.

Participants met with Rutgers students, faculty and staff and were luncheon guests of the university. A guided tour completed the day.

Each student who participates in a Rutgers Scholars Day is assured of admission to New Jersey's State University after high school graduation, and is considered for a number of scholarships.

Sara is the daughter of Martin and Janet Mellinger of Malone Avenue, Belleville.

She is a member of the Belleville

High School Key Club and its past president, treasurer of the student government organization, member of the National Honor Society and holds a varsity position on the girl's tennis team.

She will attend the Governor's School on Public Issues and the Future of New Jersey at Monmouth College this summer.

Chaplains minister to sick

A group of chaplain interns recently completed a 20-week program in Clinical Pastoral Education at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville. The program, one of five in northern New Jersey, is the only Clinical Pastoral Education program in Essex County.

Through Clinical Pastoral Education, clergy, theological students, members of religious orders, and qualified laypeople gain experience in ministering to people who are in crisis situations. Discussions with the Clinical Pastoral Education supervisor and the other chaplain interns are important aspects of the training, described by one intern as an opportunity to "confront yourself and analyze your actions," and by another as "a call to growth and to a relationship with God."

Pastoral work with individual patients and their families involving listening to them attentively and helping them to deal with their feelings about their experiences. The patient population at Clara Maass Medical Center, which includes Roman Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant, Jewish, Islamic, and Hindu patients, is a diverse population in which to practice and learn ministry. Chaplain interns, who are usually from an ecumenical mix of Roman Catholic and Protestant denominations, find that successful ministry with persons of other faith groups is possible.

The supervisor of Clinical Pastoral Education at Clara Maass is the Rev. Frederick T. Schmucker, a pastor in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. After a decade as a parish pastor in Texas, he worked in Clinical Pastoral Education at hospitals in Texas and Illinois before coming to Clara Maass.

Those completing the course were Marianne Boyle, a student in the master's degree program at Seton Hall Seminary; the Rev. Jacob T. David, vicar of the Church of the Resurrection, East Rutherford; Arlene Beth Dawber, a candidate for ordination in the United Methodist Church; Ann Eustace, a student in theological studies at Drew University Theological School; Kathleen Geelan, R.N., director of pastoral care, St. Mary's Hospital, Orange; and Sr. Thomas Mary Salerno, the chancellor of the Archdiocese of Newark.

Many denominations and seminaries require or encourage participation in Clinical Pastoral Education. Testifying to the value of the experience, one of the Clara Maass chaplain interns said she would recommend it "for all human beings."

Caribbean honeymoon for Mr. and Mrs. Metta

Teresa M. Petti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Petti of Belleville, and Anthony Metta, son of Mrs. Marie Metta of Bloomfield and Frank Metta of Farmingdale, exchanged wedding vows May 21 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville.

The Rev. Collins performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Wayne Manor, Wayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white mermaid-styled gown accented with sequins, lace and beading and fashioned with an illusion neckline, lace sleeves and satin train edged with lace and sequins.

A sequin and lace headband trimmed with flowers held her veil and she carried white roses, carnations, babies breath, freesia and stephanotis.

Susan Vallas of Union was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Teresa and Antonia Violante of Belleville, Linda Wilkie of Clifton, Margot Maiella of Wayne and Rosemarie Dowe of Bloomfield. Flower girl was Jessica Salzano of Belleville.

The honor attendant was attired in a mauve satin gown with mauve and silver lace bodice and chapel train. Her headpiece was a comb with silk flowers and she carried pink carnations, mums, spider mums, freesia and babies breath. The others were similarly attired in fuschia. The flower girl's crown was of silk flowers which also filled her basket.

Salvatore Garrone of Farmingdale was best man. Ushering were Dante Metta of Farmingdale, Bill Nagy of Clifton, Anthony DePalma of East Orange, Carl Salzano of Belleville and Frank Nasello of Belleville.

Mrs. Petti chose a pink satin sequin applique gown and short matching jacket while the groom's mother was in a silver crepe gown with beaded bodice. Wristlets were of pink cymbidiums and babies breath.

Mrs. Metta, an alumna of Montclair State College, earned a bachelor of science in nursing at Rutgers University. She is an operating room nurse at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville and is working for a master's in biology at Montclair State.

Mr. Metta served in the United States Air Force and is working for an electronic engineering degree at Kean College, Union. He is a biomedical technician at Clara Maass.

The couple honeymooned on a Caribbean cruise and have made their home in Belleville.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Malo

Mr. M. of Cedar Grove asks:

"When I eat sweets, I get a sensitivity around my crowned tooth. Why is this happening and what needs to be done?"

There are many possibilities, Mr. M. and here are a few:

1. If the crown has temporary cement, then possibly from not brushing the gum correctly, this may have caused a recession of the gums, exposing an area of the tooth not covered by the crown. This area is quite sensitive to acid produced from sugar in the mouth.

2. If the crown has a permanent cement, then possibly from not brushing the gum correctly, this may have caused a recession of the gums, exposing an area of the tooth not covered by the crown. This area is quite sensitive to acid produced from sugar in the mouth.

3. If the crown is interfering with your chewing process because of its shape, the extra pressure on the tooth could affect the nerve and cause sensitivity.

Thank you.

Foot Facts

HAMMERTOES

A hammertoe somewhat resembles a frightened cat that has its back arched. Because of shortened tendons and ligaments, the hammertoe is permanently bent up and back. This condition is most likely to victimize the fifth toe. Those people with either high or low arches are more apt to be stricken with hammertoe because of the way in which their ligaments and tendons are positioned. Over time, hammertoes may display more rigidity. Painful corns may also develop at the top of the toe, thereby accentuating the arched position of the toe. At this point, surgery may be indicated. One procedure calls for surgically lengthening the tendon so that the toe can be fully extended.

Hammertoe can be inherited or caused by a nerve abnormality. If you have hammertoe, wear shoes with a high toe box. Cushion pressure spots with adhesive foam pads, and see your podiatrist. For a consultation, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. Our office is at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. X-ray facilities available on premises. Office hours by appointment.

HINT: Arthroplasty is a surgical procedure which entails removing a small portion of bone to straighten hammer toe.

Belleville Times SPORTS

We continue our wrap up of spring sports by looking back at the 1988 Belleville softball team. Under the guidance of veteran coach Carl Corino, the Lady Bucs finished with a record of 21-8 and advanced to the county finals for a record seventh straight season.

The girls were set back by injuries this year, losing starting players in Stacey Johansen and Carol Morrison. Johansen started the year on the DL with a knee injury, then came back only to break her leg three games later.

Morrison went down with a serious knee injury that required major surgery. She is currently on the mend and under extensive rehabilitation.

Despite the setbacks, Belleville rebounded with strong play from Laurie Dondarski, Jennifer Bridge, Michele Milano, Anne Carlucci, Natalie La Bella, Simone Edwards, Laurie Moyer and Tricia Donnelly.

Of particular interest was the play of Moyer and Donnelly as the team battery. Both girls are sophomores and were asked to take over new positions. Moyer replaced the graduated Laura Caruso at catcher and performed very well. Donnelly assumed the pitching chores in its entirety after Johansen's injury and showed considerable poise.

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

Belleville defeated Good Council, Verona and Livingston in the county tournament to advance to the finals. Once again, Belleville faced Caldwell for the championship and once more, the Lady Chiefs were victorious. Caldwell has won the past three county crowns, all at the expense of Belleville in the finals.

The 20 plus victory season marked the seventh straight campaign that Belleville had broken the 20 victory plateau. On a personal note, Corino achieved a major milestone by earning his 200th coaching victory when Belleville defeated Good Council in the first round of the ECT. By seasons end, Corino had notched 208 victories against just 51 defeats. He has been at the helm of Belleville softball since 1980.

TENNIS TEAM IS LED BY IMPRAGO, CUEVA

The Belleville tennis team did well in NNJIL play, winning five matches. Overall, the Bucs were 7-20, but lost six matches by a narrow 3-2 margin. Belleville was led by some outstanding senior athletes.

Jonas Imprago led the way at first singles. The senior posted a winning record in a very difficult slot. He was 13-11 and 8-5 in conference play.

At second singles, Andy Cueva also performed well. He was 12-11 and 8-4 in NNJIL play. In addition to being an outstanding tennis player, Cueva excelled in the classroom. He will graduate fourth in his class this June. Cueva will attend the University of Pennsylvania next fall, where he will enroll in the prestigious Wharton School of Business.

Seniors Dawson Bloom and Gus Lijo played first doubles this season. The two did well on the courts, playing very competitive tennis.

Off the courts, the two also excelled in the classroom. Bloom will graduate eighth in his class and his headed to NJIT in the fall. Lijo will finish 17th in his class and will continue his education at Lehigh in the fall.

Head coach Tony Salese is optimistic about the future of freshman Mark Mellinger, who showed good potential at second doubles.

TRACK TEAM FEATURES STRONG INDIVIDUAL PERFORMERS

The Buccaneer track team was led by senior Mario Lemongello, who compiled 53.25 points. Also doing well were Ted Sochaski, Mark Tonelli, Greg Moriello, Ray Zamloot, Leon Puentes and Paul Parmenter.

Head coach John Tosato is enthused about the potential of his underclassmen, who came on strong in the second half of the season. The coach is hopeful for a good turnout this fall in cross country. The Bucs track program is made up of three seasons, cross country, indoor and outdoor track.

Overall, the spring sports featured two conference champs (golf and baseball) and one national champion in boys midweight crew. It certainly was a strong finish to what was a very successful sports season at Belleville High School.

Congratulations to all the coaches and athletes who helped make 1987-88 a very memorable season. For the remainder of the month of June, we'll look back at the entire sports season and remember some of the outstanding athletes who made this year special. In addition, the summer sports agenda will begin in two weeks.

BUC BASKETBALL GEARING FOR SUMMER LEAGUE

Belleville basketball coach Don Roll is getting his players together for the annual Elizabeth Summer Basketball League. This will be Belleville's fourth season in the league and the strong competition will be a big help to what should be a very young Buc basketball team next fall.

The head coach of the summer league team will be Ted Sochaski, who of course, rewrote the Belleville boys' basketball record book last winter. Sochaski, who is heading to either Upsala or Bloomfield College next fall to continue his basketball career, will get his first taste of coaching this summer.

The Elizabeth Summer League features strong teams from Elizabeth, St. Peters of Staten Island, Bridgewater West and Essex Catholic, to name a few. Belleville will play in the Tuesday and Thursday night brackets of the league. The team will not take part in Bloomfield's annual summer league this year. The Times will have weekly summaries of the Bucs performance at Elizabeth. As of press time, neither Roll, nor Sochaski, had the schedule for the summer competition.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL HEATING UP

Baseball is beginning to take center stage in the world of sports. Major league baseball is hot and heavy in the metropolitan area, with the both the Mets and Yankees playing good ball in the early going.

The Mets have hit their first slump of the '88 campaign after it looked as if they would run away and hide with the division title, a la 1986. Instead, the Mets have received challenges from Pittsburgh, St. Louis and now, Montreal. It could very well be a four team race into September. Who knows, maybe Chicago will

Bucs share conference crown with Montclair: 11-3 scores

A late season surge enabled the Belleville baseball team to capture a share of the conference championship in 1988. The Bucs shared the crown with Montclair as both teams finished 11-3 in the NNJIL. For Belleville, it was their second straight conference title. The Bucs won the crown outright in 1987. The conference co championship was the highlight of the '88 season for the Bucs and first year head coach Nick Grande. Belleville posted a solid 17-10 record this year, the fifth straight season that the program has enjoyed a winning campaign.

"It turned out to be a pretty good season for us," Grande said. "We lost some tough games early in the season, but as the year progressed, we turned it around. We tried to be aggressive on the base paths and make some breaks for ourselves. In the end, we did the job."

As a team, Belleville batted a very impressive .355. The Bucs had a slugging percentage of .493 and a base stealing efficiency of .875. The Belleville pitching staff had a stingy ERA of 2.47.

"We had a veteran team this year," Grande said. "We'll be a young team next season. But, I think we'll do pretty well. As long as we're aggressive, I think we'll be okay."

Grande also expects to be back as head coach next season. If so, it will mark the first time in four years that the program has had the same coach for two straight seasons.

"I hope to be back," the coach said, "if they want me."

Belleville received some excellent performances this year, with the seniors leading the way. The following is a breakdown of the individuals who made 1988 a successful campaign on the diamond.

JAY MARCHESE: When it's all said and done, Marchese will be remembered as one of the best athletes in Belleville High School history. The senior, in addition to being an excellent baseball player, also competed for the football and indoor track teams. Most gridiron fans remember his heroics for John Senesky during the past three seasons.

As a baseball player, Marchese enjoyed a phenomenal 1988 season.

He broke Frank Fazzini's single season batting average record. He led the team in most offensive categories and also was an excellent pitcher. Marchese hit a robust .595, breaking Fazzini's mark of .543 set back in 1981. Marchese had 47 hits, scored 28 runs and stole 31 bases. He had 5 doubles and 6 triples, powered 5 HR's and drove in 34 runs. Marchese drew 22 walks this year.

On the mound, he was 4-3, with 2 saves and an ERA of 2.83. He pitched 47 innings, allowed 86 hits and 37 runs (19 of which were earned). He walked 30 and struck out 37.

Marchese was named first team, NNJIL and should earn county and all area honors as well. An outstanding student, Marchese has not made a final decision on college, but is leaning toward Rutgers or Echert College. He will play baseball in college and will be missed on the Belleville sports scene. He added a great deal of class and character to the various programs he competed for. He was a true Belleville athlete.

JEFF SPILSBURY: All the things that were mentioned about Marchese can go ditto for Spillsbury. The senior was an outstanding football and baseball player for Belleville High School. In fact, it was Spillsbury and Marchese who were involved in that controversial play in the Ridgewood football game back in September. Spillsbury threw what appeared to be the winning TD to Marchese, but the official ruled the pass hit the ground first. A check of the game films indicates differently, but it's now water under the bridge.

As a baseball player, Spillsbury was tremendous. He hit .552 and was named first team, NNJIL. He scored 33 runs, had 48 hits and stole 24 bases. Spillsbury had 9 doubles, 2 triples, 2 HR's and 12 RBI. The shortstop drew 24 walks and, obviously, was a difficult out.

Spillsbury will be attending Iona next fall to continue his baseball career. Good luck to this fine young man, who gave the fans of Belleville many thrills for the past three years.

PAUL GRANDE: It wasn't men-

Top individual performances

The Belleville track team finished the season with no victories in the NNJIL, but the Bucs did receive some excellent individual performances.

Head coach John Tosato saw the seniors lead the way, but was very impressed with the performances of the younger athletes who should be the leaders of future teams.

"We had some good performances," Tosato said. "Our younger kids gained some experience and the seniors scored a majority of the points. I'm pretty optimistic about next year. Our cross country team should be competitive and our track program should continue to improve."

The point totals in track consist of five points for first place, three for second and one for third. The following is a list of the runners who scored points for the '88 team.

MARIO LEMONGELLO (53.25 POINTS): The senior, who is headed to NJIT next fall, competed in the 200 and 400 meters and was a long jumper and high jumper. Lemongello also anchored the mile relay team.

His best time in the 200 was 24.4 and the 400, 53.9. He had the best jump of the season in the long jump with a leap of 18'11 1/2". His high jump best was 5'2".

"Mario came on strong at the end of the year," said Tosato. "He gave us versatility and was very consistent."

TED SOCHASKI (30 POINTS): Sochaski made his mark in basketball during his career at Belleville High. Most fans will remember him as the all team mens scoring leader at Belleville, breaking Abdel Anderson's 13 year scoring mark.

However, the senior also did a good job on the track team, finishing second in points. He competed in the high and intermediate hurdles and the long and high jumps. He occasionally raced on the mile relay team, too.

Sochaski's best performances were a 20.8 in the high hurdles, 64.3 in the intermediates, which was a team best, 5'6" in the high jump and 18' 1/2" in the long jump.

GREG MORIELLO (24 POINTS): Moriello started the season on the disabled list and missed the first two meets. However, he came back strong and did well in the 800, 1600 and 3200 meters.

Personal bests for Moriello included a 2:16 in the 800, 4:57.2 in the 1600 and 11:05.4 in the 3200. His times in the 1600 and 3200 were team bests, too. Moriello will attend Stevens Institute in the fall.

MARK TONELLI (22 POINTS): A sophomore, Tonelli did very well on the varsity level. He ran the 400 meter hurdles, 800 meters and competed in the triple jump. His best times were 69.9 in the hurdles, 2:15.2 in the 800, which was a team best and 34'6 1/2" in the triple jump, which also lead the team.

Tonelli has a great deal of promise in store. Not many sophomores lead the team in two different events.

"He was a very consistent performer," Tosato said of Tonelli.

RAY ZAMLOOT (21 POINTS): A junior, Zamloot competed in the high jump and long jump, ran the high hurdles and 800 meters. He had the best time in the high hurdles this year at 19.2. His high jump of 5'8" was also tops on the team. Zamloot's best long jump was 17'10 3/4" and his 800 best was 2:28.4.

LEON PUENTES (20 POINTS): The senior, headed to NJIT in the fall, ran the 100, 200 and 400 meters this year. In all three events, he turned in excellent per-

Desiree Johansen was Muhlenberg standout

Muhlenberg College's softball team finished with a 16-6 record and won the Middle Atlantic Conference Southeast League title for the second consecutive year. The "Mules" lost an opportunity to capture their second straight MAC Southern Division championship when they lost to Franklin and Marshall, 7-6, in extra innings. Under fourth-year coach Brian Bodine, Muhlenberg is 56-27-1 since 1985.

Among the players, who made important contributions was Desiree Johansen, of Belleville, a 1986 graduate of Belleville High School.

Johansen, shortstop, collected 19 hits in 65 at-bats for .292 batting average. Hitting five doubles and driving in 13 runs, she tied for team leadership with 41 assists.

Her two-year statistics: 43 games, 135 at-bats, 25 runs, 37 hits, 9 doubles, 1 homerun, 32 runs-batted-in, .274 batting average, earned second varsity letter.

Muhlenberg College is located in Allentown, Pa.

Tennis team finishes 11 games of 3-2 scores

The Belleville tennis team enjoyed a competitive year on the courts in 1988. The Bucs were 7-20 overall and 5-9 in the NNJIL. Head coach Tony Salese was pleased with the effort put forth by his team and noted that the Bucs were involved a number of one point matches.

"We had 11 matches that finished with scores of 3-2," the coach said. "We won five of those matches. Certainly, if we were able to take those other six, our record would have been better. But these kids certainly gave it their best. They played very well and it was a pleasure to work with them."

Leading the way was first singles man, senior Jonas Imprago. He was 13-11 at first singles, traditionally one of the most difficult assignments in varsity tennis.

He faced some of the best players in the area and fared well. Imprago was 8-5 in NNJIL play and was a good team leader.

"Jonas worked well with our younger kids," Salese said. "He was a knowledgeable player who spent time helping our less skilled and younger players. He was a pleasure to have on the team."

Imprago and his family will be moving to Florida after Jonas is graduated from Belleville in a few weeks.

At second singles was the multi talented Andy Cueva. The senior served as team captain and posted a 12-11 record, 8-4 in the NNJIL. Cueva's talents also extend past the tennis courts. He is an excellent student, who will attend the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania in the fall.

"He is going to graduate fourth in his class," said Salese. "He just gave us a sterling performance all year long. I'll miss him. He was a good captain of this team and he should do very well in life."

The first doubles team of seniors Gus Lijo and Dawson Bloom also deserve special accommodation, not only for their court play, but their academic excellence.

Bloom, a fine all around athlete, will graduate eighth in his class and will attend NJIT in the fall. He was voted the Belleville High School scholar athlete for 1988.

On the tennis courts, Bloom posted a record of 10-18 and was 6-8 in NNJIL play.

Lijo will graduate 17th in his class

"George did an excellent job for us," Grande said. "He hit well and played a solid defense in the outfield. He'll be sorely missed, as will

FRANK ORREI: A junior, Orrei tallied some impressive numbers on the mound. He was 5-2, with an ERA of 2.41. He pitched 55 innings, allowing 35 runs (19 earned) and 52 hits. He struck out 42 and walked 35. His most impressive performance was the 8 2/3 innings of masterful relief in the Barringer marathon contest in the GNT. Orrei was the winning pitcher in the 9-8 classic.

GARY VILLANO: The senior had a solid campaign for the Bucs in '88, picking up some key hits and vital times. Villano hit .250, with 19 hits and 15 runs scored. He stole 5 bases, had 2 triples, 3 HR's and 17 RBI's. He also drew 11 walks.

Rodriguez has all the tools to become a very productive high school ball player in 1989. Look for him to be at the top of the offensive

Grande also gave credit to juniors Nick Turano and Steven Tice for a strong performance in limited action. Tice did pitch one varsity

Next week, we'll take a look at the junior varsity and freshman baseball teams.

PAUL PARMENTER (12 POINTS): Just a freshman, Parmenter stepped right in and did a good job in the varsity meets. He ran the 1600 and 3200 meters and

"Bobby was up against the worst conditions this year," said Tosato. "He could only practice about two or three days a week because of the bad weather, especially earlier in the year. He did well considering the obstacles."

JERRY PADULA (8.5 POINTS): Padula was the hard luck runner on the team this year. He ran well, but was up against some solid competition, both from his teammates and the opponents.

"He was a very consistent performer," Tosato said of Padula. "He never missed a practice and always worked hard. He was up against some good competition, but never gave up."

Padula had a personal best of 11.7 in the 100 meters and 25.0 in the 200 meters. The senior also ran on the mile relay team.

CHRIS CHIARMONTE (7 POINTS): The senior, who is headed to the Navy after graduation, competed in all three field events. He threw 34' 3/4" in the shot, 98'4" in the discus and 115'10" in the javelin. His throws in the discus and javelin were team bests in 1988.

Chiarmonte was an excellent basketball player during his high school days as well. Good luck to him in his future endeavors.

Tosato was also impressed with some youngsters who should do well for future teams. Angelo Silva (soph, mile, pole vault), Brian Drobish (freshman, 400 and 800 meters), Doug Hoogendyke (soph, 100 meters, long jump, triple jump), John Matos (soph, 800, 1600 and 3200 meters), Michael Toro (junior, shot put and discus) and Michael Gummelt (junior, 100, 200 and 400 meters) and Brian Doyle (freshman, 100, 200 and 400 meters) all gained experience this season.

Four freshman shot putters also gained the needed time on the varsity. They were, Jason Schween, Vin Strumolo, Phil Patuto and Andrew Hutchison.

Tosato noted that the team will be facing a new conference alignment, as will all the varsity teams in 1988-89. The coach feels that the Bucs should be more than competitive next season, providing the returning athletes continue to work hard during the off season.

The coach also extended praise and gratitude to assistant coaches Richard Ruffalo and Barbara Gundry.

In the Tuesday "B" League last week, For Pete's Sake defeated Belleville Political Club 18-11, but suffered their first loss to Eastern Molding, 9-7. Eastern Molding also defeated Roselli's Amoco, 13-4, while Roselli's forfeited to Andros Farms in the first game. Andros topped Five Bros. Carting, 10-7, and Five Bros. edged BPSC, 8-7, in eight innings.

The Aces swept a pair of games in the Thursday B League, beating Rosebud's Pub 9-0, and Bear Construction 4-3. Megaro drubbed Motorcycle Mall 8-1, and thrashed Eastern Sales, 14-3. Rosebud's and Motorcycle Mall played to a 14-14 tie while Bear forfeited the first game to Eastern Sales.

Rain pre-empted Wednesday A League action and the Monday League was off on Memorial Day.

Fall sports applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation Department office.

Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in Recreation Soccer. Nobody above 8th grade can play and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football.

For both soccer and touch football applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates. Registration dateline for soccer is Aug. 12 and for touch football Sept. 2.

Children can play in only one fall sport.

Junior Bucs Football

Registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's "Junior Bucs" tackle football program is taking place through Aug. 12 at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St.

Boys who will be 8 years old before Sept. 1 and not be 15 before Jan. 1 are eligible. Boys must weigh a minimum of 60 lbs and a maximum of 145 lbs. No one above 8th grade can play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific AGE/weight requirements set by the Metropolitan Junior Football League.

Completed applications with parents approval must be brought in with a passport size photo and a copy of birth certificate. All returning players must re-apply. Tryouts will begin August 8.

Night Registration

The Belleville Recreation Department offices at 407 Joralemon St. will be open on Tuesday nights, 7-9 p.m., for Soccer/Touch Football registration.

Soccer League director Bob Travers will register players who can't get to the office during regular office hours beginning Tuesday, July 12 through Aug. 9. Birth certificates are required and returnees must re-apply.

For further information call 450-3422. Registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 12 and for Touch Football Sept. 2 — No exceptions!

Soccer coaches needed

The Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching soccer in the 7 to 14 league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

Children will learn the basics of soccer and all attending regular practice sessions will play in all games. Games are played Saturday and Sunday afternoon, beginning late September.

Volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCA, before season begin.

Persons interested in coaches may call 450-3422 weekdays before 4 p.m.

Coaches sought

The Belleville Recreation Department has applications available for men interested in volunteering their time to coach in the recreational football programs.

The "Junior Bucs" tackle program consists of three traveling teams, competing in the Metropolitan Junior Football League, Midget Junior Varsity and Varsity divisions. The Touch Football program for boys ages 8 to 10 provides instruction of the fundamentals of football, while eliminating heavy body contact.

Interested candidates for coaching positions should have previous football playing experience or coaching experience and must have good organizational skills. All applications will be screened before the final selection of the 1988 staff is made. Returning coaches must re-apply. Coaches will also be required to attend the NYSCA certification clinics.

For further information or to obtain an application, call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays.

Persons interested in coaching soccer are also encouraged to call for more information.

third singles for the Bucs and showed steady improvement. Pham won two matches, one in conference play.

Salese is very encouraged with the performance of freshman Mark Mellinger.

"He picks up quickly and has a great attitude," the coach said of Mellinger. "In a couple of seasons, he could be one of the better players in the area."

Sophomore Hao Ly rounds out the 1988 roster. He played second singles with Mellinger and also has a good future with continued hard work during the off season.

Belleville battled hard in league and county action this year. The Bucs advanced in the county tournament, beating Glen Ridge before losing to Irvington.

The team had to play all of its matches on the road this year because of a lack of facilities at Belleville High School. Hopefully, the team can return to home matches for the 1989 campaign.

stay in and make things interesting too.

The Yankees have an awesome lineup, but injuries have been a problem in the early going. Nonetheless, the team was in first place as the week began and the pitching has been a big surprise. If it holds up, the Yanks could win their first division crown since 1981. If not, look for surprising Detroit to take charge of the race. Toronto might have dug itself a hole too big to dig out of this year. It's still early, but the Jays don't seem to have their game in gear.

The All Star Game, to be played in Cincinnati this summer, is just three weeks away. The annual predictions for major league ball will appear in early July.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

Back in the 1979 major league baseball season, the New York Yankees were gunning for a fourth straight American League title and a third straight world championship.

The Yanks trailed the Baltimore Orioles in early August, but were beginning to make a move in the standings. However, tragedy struck in early August of '79 when the team captain, Thurmon Munson, was killed in a plane crash. The Yanks played their first game after the Munson tragedy on a Friday night at Yankee stadium. The opponents were the first place Orioles. In a very emotional evening, the O's won, 1-0. Most Yankees fans will probably remember that game.

Now, who was the winning and losing pitcher that night and who was the Yankee catcher that very sad evening.

140 attend Columbus family supper

On Friday evening, June 3, the Belleville Knights of Columbus held a Family Supper and Awards night at their Council rooms with over 140 people attending.

General Chairman Frank Corbo and Grand Knight Joseph Wolf made the following awards:

Mary Ann Bergamini, representing West Essex Rehabilitation Center $3,836.00. Joseph Ruffalo, representing Belleville (SEPO) $1200.00. Peggy Cullari, representing Mal Condon Canteen $1200.00. Larry Dempsey, representing Troop 364, a local Boy Scout group made up of Gods special children, $1200.00.

James Conditto, youth director, made the following awards to contest winners:

Spelling Bee - first place - Angela Cultrara, plaque and $100.00. Bond by Essex County Federation of Knights of Columbus. Second place to Kristine Candura - plaque and Jennifer Cobert - plaque. Essay contest winners were as follows: 9th grade plaque and $150.00 Bond. 10th grade Joyce Burke - plaque and $150. Bond. Elizabeth Maria Petrat - 12th grade award - plaque and $150.00 Bond. The $150.00 Bonds were awarded by New Jersey State Council on the State level. Free Throw Contest - James Kiernan - Trophy and $50.00 Bond.

The Family Supper included a hot and cold buffet served with wine, beer, soda and coffee with cheese cake. The affair was catered by Suzanne.

The Belleville Knights of Columbus conducted its annual drive for funds to aid the mentally retarded and those with learning disabilities from April 21 to 24 inclusive and the moneys collected were distributed during this affair.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

How would your house look if you painted it pink? Added a wing? Planted bushes in front? New Computer imaging system was developed at the University of Miami School of Agriculture, gives designers an advance peek.

Sanding a floor creates a lot of fine sawdust. Remove everything you can from the room before you start. Open the windows and close doors so the dust doesn't drift. If there's no door, seal the opening with a plastic dropcloth taped to the wall.

For the home that has everything, there's now a waterproof songbook that can be hung in the shower.

If patching plaster dries too fast to work with, add a little vinegar to the mix.

Hundred-year-old ice house in Connecticut is being transformed into a family home. Keeping the place cool was no problem, but heating was a challenge; the drains once used to carry away the water from melting ice now hold the pipes for a hot-water radiant heating system.

So you want an unusual house! Just tell us what you have in mind, and we'll find it for you. We know what's where for sale at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley 235-9000.

Look who gives you the hometown advantage.
