Year-old question

Fornarotto's two town jobs under scrutiny once again

By Pat Brightman

A year-old question resurfaced at the last Belleville Board of Commissioners meeting, when Mayor Michael Pizzi instructed the town attorney to investigate whether a commissioner can also be a town employee, a situation that Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto feels was settled.

At the meeting June 14, Pizzi told Frank Cozzarelli to file for a declaratory judgement. According to Pizzi the reason he informed Cozzarelli was he feels he has given enough time for Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni to act.

"Last year an opinion was rendered that there was a conflict of interest," described Pizzi. "I've been waiting and waiting and nothing was happening. Since I'm the mayor and the mayor is the overseer of all departments, I thought it was time to take action."

Cozzarelli expressed his opinion, that there was a conflict of interest, in May of 1987, shortly after Fornarotto was elected commissioner. Cozzarelli said he based his opinion on a case held in Union City in 1971 where a public employee was forced to choose between the office he was elected to or his public job.

"There are two possibilities," explained Cozzarelli, "one, he will be told to relinquish one or both of his positions or he will be able to make a choice. The likely outcome is the second option."

Both Fornarotto and Frantantoni said they feel there are no problems with Fornarotto being commissioner and Housing Inspector. "It's been proven," said Fornarotto, feeling opinions of other officials stating no conflict are correct. He said he was surprised when Pizzi brought it up at the meeting "after it was settled a year ago."

"It's an old egg he (Pizzi) wants to hatch," Fornarotto said.

Frantantoni said he has received five or six opinions stating there is no conflict of interest and the only judgement saying there is a conflict is Cozzarelli's.

"A lot of people who did not like the results of last year's election are doing everything in their power to create havoc," is the way Frantantoni explained the reasoning for the reintroduction of the question.

Pizzi had said he wanted to have an answer by the next town meeting, June 28, but Cozzarelli was not as optimistic, saying it would "take weeks to months" before a decision is rendered. He also had a question regarding the entire situation.

"I don't know if it would be ethically correct," commented Cozzarelli when asked if he had filed for the judgement. "Since I gave my opinion I may have to give it to someone else in my office."

Fornarotto arrested for upsetting surveillance

Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto was arrested and charged with obstructing justice and burglary and theft Monday when he approached a Belleville Police surveillance vehicle and asked questions of the officers within the auto.

Fornarotto said he approached the vehicle because it was following him and taking pictures and he wanted to know the reason. He said he was troubled by the fact the investigators in the vehicle knew who he was and he did not know who they were. "When undercover cops are staking me out and taking pictures of me and following me I object very much," said the commissioner.

Belleville Police Chief George Lister said complaints were filed by Captain Michael Petrillo for obstruction of justice and Detective Peter Fraone for burglary and theft. Lister said Fornarotto had attempted, and succeeded, to enter the vehicle and remove the keys from the auto at approximately 8:20 a.m.

Fornarotto said he wrote down the license plate number to the vehicle and found it was unregistered.

According to Lister there was no assault charges filed and Fornarotto offered no resistance to the arrest. "There was no physical assault used by him (Fornarotto) or the arresting officers," he said.

He did not say what the officers what surveilling nor why the vehicle was on Union Avenue.

Fornarotto said he did not realize he was being watched until he was told by someone that pictures were being taken of him.

"I got a tip from a resident who called me and said I was being followed," said Fornarotto. "I was very shocked."

"I think I'm being harassed because I represent the people," he continued. "Whoever ordered the

New lamp flashes a different perspective on Town Hall

Lighting up the night on Washington Avenue is a new lamp used to enhance the architectural structure of Town Hall, a structure approaching its 73rd birthday.

Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni said the light was installed by Public Service Electric and Gas (PSE&G) without a fee and is the first action towards Belleville's 150th anniversary next April.

"It's brightened the area and has made the building a focal point," stated Frantantoni. "It's the center of our government, the Town Hall, and we used it to begin to celebrate our anniversary. Hopefully, it will instill pride in the town."

Frantantoni explained the lamp is an innovation by PSE&G that accents particular designs on buildings and he would like to draw attention to the almost 14,000 square foot structure, which was built over the course of three years, 1912-1915.

"I was always opposed to destroying this building," said Frantantoni. "I felt it should be preserved, it's a historic site. It should be preserved for our children and our grandchildren."

History of the Hall

The building is a historic landmark as it was built as the town was expanding in the early years of the century. As Belleville was growing in population a need for centralizing the town's agencies and offices occurred. In 1912 a committee, including Belleville's first Mayor, Charles Lyman Denison, formed to find a site for a Town Hall, concluding the intersection of Washington Avenue and John Street was the most appropriate location.

After purchasing the lot for $10,500, the town Council appropriated $60,000 for construction and appointed Charles Granville Jones architect. Jones was well regarded for his work and during his career would also plan the building of the Public Library, Wesley Methodist Church and some of the town's public schools.

Physical structures a question as system moves ahead

By Pat Brightman

Both Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello and Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally believe Belleville schools have improved despite the continuous rejections of the school budget, but that is not to say the constant vetoing of the operating costs have had no detrimental effects on the school system.

This September the New Jersey Department of Education will visit Belleville and evaluate the school district, and while the academic structure of the district is strong, the physical structures of the buildings have created concerns for administrators.

Lally explained 43 qualifications must be met for the school district to pass its examination. With improved test scores and updated curriculum, most of the 43 will be met. Others such as attendance, by both the teachers and students, should also meet or surpass the requirements. However, the conditions of the school buildings has been, and remains, a source of concern of both Lally and Nardiello.

"We're paying the price of letting go eight custodians and five maintenance people," said Nardiello. "That's now coming to roost."

Lally agreed, saying the layoffs of not only the custodians and maintenance workers but also a librarian and nurse were "a giant step backward."

All must be met

If the school system fails any one of the 43 requirements it will drop to a Level 2 district, which would lower the standard and reputation of the district. Once at this stage, the state sets a date by which the failed condition or conditions must be met and if it is not, it can be dropped to a Level 3 district. Ultimately, the district, if it continues to fall short, can be taken over by the state.

With that in mind, the Belleville Board of Education passed resolutions at its June 6 meeting for work to begin on the Belleville Middle School and asbestos removal from all schools. The work, though yet to get underway, should be completed by September, before school begins and the evaluation is done.

Despite these problems and the budget cuts, Nardiello claims the children are getting "a good educational beginning. You have to play with the team you have," noting how Belleville's cost per student is approximately $4,100, or almost $500 less than the state mean.

"Not only have we met the goals we wanted to meet, we've exceeded them," commented Lally about educational standards.

To continue to meet and exceed, district objectives and goals are designed, both long and short term. Lally receives and evaluates information received from teachers, students, parents and administrators and arrives with guidelines for upcoming years.

Five goals for 1988-89

For the 1988-89 school year, five goals have been established by Lally's office, varying from course offerings to how to help students think more constructively.

The first goal will be to continue to improve reading and math skills of all students in the district by implementing objectives and activities. Goal number two will focus on the continued improvement of communication skills, both oral and written, with special emphasis on writing compositions.

Exploration and investigation of ways to increase students' ability to think critically and precisely for academic success is the third goal. The fourth goal will be to investigate how students spend their leisure time and promote interest in spending that time more constructively. The final goal will review all course offerings to determine if they provide enough information for students to keep up with the changing nature of society.

Five objectives designed

Objectives for next year are more specific and deal exclusively with in-school improvements.

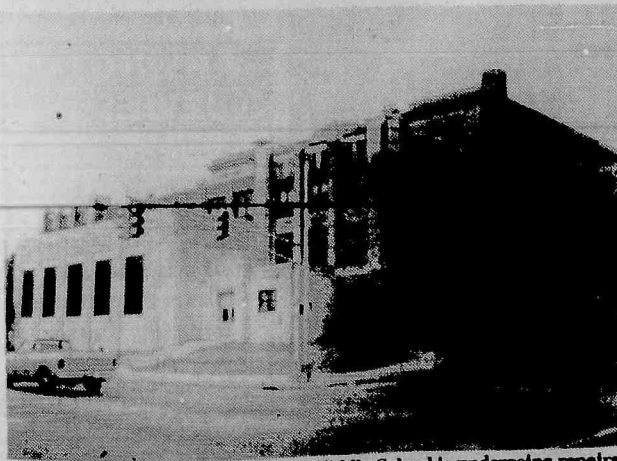

The first objective will continue to emphasize basic skills as a priority, with the hope being by June 1989, 80 percent of students will meet or exceed the state level.

Continued use of "The Process Approach to Writing" in all schools, with the expectations that it will assist in having at least 80 percent of the students in grades 4, 7 and 9 show continued improvement in writing is the second objective.

A third year of mathematics as a requirement in Belleville High School is the third objective, while the fourth is implementation of a revised promotion policy. The policy will assess many things, particularly students' reading levels as it impacts upon promotion. The final objective is by June 1989, students in grades 3 and 10 will demonstrate proficiency in reading, writing and math as measured by locally developed tests.

Both Lally and Nardiello, who have a combined 65 years in the Belleville system, Lally with 28 and Nardiello with 37, feel the district has, and is continuing, to move in the right direction. Each one expresses confidence in the system and its capabilities.

Come this September, both, as well as everyone else involved with the school, will know exactly where the school system stands.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

A rash of burglaries and thefts occurred throughout town earlier this month as at least seven homes or apartments were broken into.

On June 14, owners of a home on Maple Avenue returned from a weekend trip and discovered the back door had been forceably opened. The house appeared undisturbed but assorted jewelry valued at $434 was taken.

One hundred dollars was stolen from a garage on Rutgers Street June 14. As the owner opened the door he noticed one of the door panels had been kicked in and a cabinet, containing money used to buy soda and coffee, had been broken into.

Over two thousand dollars worth of equipment was stolen during a burglary on Cleveland Street June 14. Entry was gained by breaking a window on the side of the building and eight micrometers, valued at $200 each, and a job blocker, estimated at $1,000 were stolen.

An apartment on Wilson Place was burglarized June 13, with an estimated $960 worth of merchandise taken. The owner returned home from work and found his apartment door was locked from the chain inside. After gaining entry it was discovered the thief or thieves had managed to get into the apartment through the third floor balcony door. A Hitachi television, a Hitachi VCR, a microwave and $10 in quarters were taken from the apartment.

A Fischer VCR, with an estimated worth of $800, was stolen from a hotel room on Washington Avenue June 11. The person staying in the room and who rented the VCR said he left for work, returned home and found the back screen window had been cut and the videotape player missing.

Also on the 11th a VCR and acoustic guitar, valued at $500, were stolen from a person's apartment. There were no signs of forced entry and the complainant said the thief may have keys to the apartment.

Two Newark juveniles were arrested after being positively identified for stealing two bicycles on the corner of Franklin Avenue and Mill Street June 13. A patrol car was stopped by two youths who said four youths had knocked them down and stolen their bicycles. The officers saw two youths who fit the description riding bikes and when they pulled up next to them, the youths jumped off the bikes and fled. Both officers pursued the juveniles, apprehending one. Subsequently, the other was apprehended and both were charged.

Mailboxes at the new condominium complex on Watsessing Avenue were broken into by vandals but nothing was stolen June 14.

Resident named skills coordinator

Belleville resident Frank Cancellieri was unanimously appointed basic skills coordinator by the Board of Education for Essex County Vocational Schools at a special board meeting held at the district's headquarters located at 68 So. Harrison St., East Orange, Acting Superintendent James Southers announced recently.

Cancellieri, who has 24 years of teaching experience in both inner-city and suburban school settings, in his new post will supervise the district's basic skills program, including testing administration, and provide statistical data to the Essex County Superintendent's Office and the New Jersey State Department of Education.

Cancellieri joined Essex County Vocational Technical Schools in 1969 as a reading teacher, and has also taught at the elementary and junior high school levels. In 1986 he was appointed educational program coordinator of the Essex County Youth House in Newark, supervising the educational and skilled training programs for more than 100 juvenile offenders detained at the facility.

As the program coordinator at the facility, Cancellieri wore many hats and recounted how the youth looked to him for support. "On one occasion a student came to my office and just burst into tears," he said. "When he composed himself he confided that his parents had not come to visit him," said Cancellieri adding, "later I contacted the parents to let them know what had happened."

One of Cancellieri's first activities in his new position was to help the State Department of Education learn more about students' reactions to the state-mandated High School Proficiency Test (HSPT) and the HSPT summer school intervention program. On April 11th he accompanied two students to the Berkley Carteret Hotel in Asbury Park where they participated in an HSPT panel discussion and workshop.

Cancellieri was graduated from Jersey City State College with a master's degree in secondary reading education and a bachelor's degree in elementary education. Active in many civic organizations, he has served as a summer camp counselor, a varsity track coach and junior varsity baseball coach.

Crecco favors averaging

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco, R-30th Dist., says she favors the bill now before the legislature that would strike an average rate for garbage disposal around the state.

A co-sponsor of the bill, A-2086, with Assemblyman Harry McEnroe, D - Essex, and Assemblyman John V. Kelly, R-Essex, expressed disappointment that the bill was withdrawn from consideration by Democrats.

"This is a very important, cost saving measure," she said. "Currently, Essex County pays approximately $105 a ton to dump our trash. This rate averaging bill would have saved Essex $20 a ton, and taxpayers in Bergen, Morris, Union and Somerset Counties would also have benefitted.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

It is not the purport of this column to engage in verbalized discourse with Mr. Michael Capanear, however, despite his right to entertain views contrary those expressed in this column, he must be apprized that a columnist is not a reporter and does have much more latitude in giving vent to views and observations... that, however, would hardly allow the distortion of facts, as Mr. Capanear has written in a published letter over his signature in which he writes "and will continue to do so in the future." That borders on libel which often proves very costly.

Yes, we often report excerpts from the AARP News Bulletin, a very informative and responsible publication, which disproves the myth in its Special Report you allude to... "that Social Security currently is taking in more revenue than it's paying out in benefits, the program certainly is NOT contributing to the deficit. In fact, Social Security currently is building a huge long-term reserve... and that the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings budget balancing law passed in 1985, the annual Social Security surplus is counted each year in the calculation of the federal deficit. This inclusion of Social Security annual surpluses masks the real deficit by making it appear smaller than it actually is... another deception of the Reagan years in the White House.

We would find it probable that the manner in which Mr. Capanear computes his hypothetical $18,000 plus Social Security would hardly apply in most Belleville instances. Let us presume a married couple with a retired husband on a pension of less than $5,000 a year and a Form SSA-1099 showing the total social security benefits paid to in 1987 of for the wife $2,964 paid by check and $214 deducted for Medicare for a total of $3,178. For the husband $6,612 paid by check and $214 deducted for Medicare for a total of $6,826... a grand total of $10,006, but after deducting the combined $428 deducted for Medicare the actual total received in cash being $10,004.

So that adding the less than $5,000 pension and the $10,004 cash received from Social Security we have an income total of about maybe $14,600. In which case the Social Security benefits would not be taxable.

In extending to reality the probability of most Belleville cases we would find many actual cases of husbands and wives in the similar Social Security class of receiving benefits in amounts similar to those outlined above, but, what would happen had these thoughtful couples in preparing for a "rainy day" put aside savings or investment in taxable accounts which produced as little as $3,325 more income to put them over the $18,000 "means test" level making them pay income tax on half of their $10,004 Social Security benefits while their pension income was also taxable.

With Belleville taxes going up in August about $500 more a year on average and federal income tax of around $1,700 and state income tax near $100 for this year for people in this income level, we may conclude on paying $1,800 in both taxes and $3,400 in local taxes on real estate, on average a total of $5,600 or more... JUST $400 above what they would allow a single person to exist and not pay taxes on their social security benefits... what about insurance costs, food and clothing, supplemental health insurance, maintenance costs, etc?

And the worst tragedy of all, what happens when the widow who loses her husband and his pension and can't subsist unless she is forced to sell her home or turn it over to a bank who will take over and let her stay with the costs involved deducted from any estate which may exist?

NO! Mr. Capanear, I do not subscribe to the Reagan policies. His Administration has inflicted upon this nation the highest debt and deficit in the world's history and saddled our youth with a burdensome debt they should not have been obliged to pay.

The Amalgamated Transit Union states, "For over seven years, we have been forced to withstand assaults on our basic values and beliefs. Benefits and rights that took a lifetime to attain were scrutinized and subjected to legislative attack, and in many areas weakened. History may record the Reagan era as a uniquely anti-labor period"... We agree.

Steele a winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Kelly Ann Steele has been named a United States National Award winner in Business Education.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Kelly Ann Steele, who attends Wyalusing Junior and Senior High School, was nominated for this National Award by Mrs. Jean Reinhart, a Business Education instructor at the school. Kelly's name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official

Kelly Anne Steele

Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy. The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Kelly Ann Steele is the daughter of Jean B. Steele, Wyalusing and Henry B. Steele, Belleville. The grandparents are Mrs. Frances Bonfante and Mrs. Elizabeth Steele, both of Newark.

A member of the Class of 1986 at Wyalusing Valley High School, Kelly served as vice president of the FBIA and yearbook typist. She was also a member of the National Honor Society. To continue her education, she plans to attend Williamsport School of Commerce and study to be a medical secretary.

Narucki's singing performance prepares her for European audition

Not many people will confuse Belleville High School auditorium with some of the oldest opera houses in Europe but for Susan Narucki performing last week in her old high school was almost as much a thrill as singing in a German theatre.

The Coloratura Soprano fulfilled one dream by performing in front of approximately 300 people with one of her high school music teachers, Thomas Finetti. She hopes to attain a second dream in the next few weeks as she will audition in Graz, Austria for a tour of European opera houses.

"It prepares the young pro," described Narucki about the six week program beginning July 4. "It's like putting your entire life on the line for five minutes. It's very competitive."

Europe is a stepping stone used by many young opera singers because there are 53 full-time opera houses compared to only one in the United States, the Metropolitan Opera. "A lot of them (opera houses) are small but they employ many singers and it's a good way to get experience," said Narucki.

It was because of her trip to Europe that Narucki returned home from San Francisco to sing, as the approximately one hour performance was also a fundraiser. She said the crowd was very receptive, enthusiastic and generous.

"I was excited," recalled Narucki, "it was a different kind of feeling. It was a very warm feeling, I didn't have to win over the crowd."

As for her performance, she rated it average. "I was pretty good. No one's perfect and since I'm a perfectionist I'm never completely satisfied. It is nice to do something that brings so much pleasure to others and you have so much pleasure doing it."

Two-day preparation

Narucki and Finetti had two days to put the show together, which included selections from Opera

SUSAN NARUCKI — performed at the Belleville High School auditorium last week, which served as a fundraiser to assist her endeavors in Europe. WINNER — Michael Iuliano, of Lincoln Terrace, was the recipient of the $2,000 Marcella S. Geltman Scholarship.

Arias, Art Songs and pieces by Irving Berlin and Hoagie Carmichael. The musical numbers were sent to Finetti beforehand so he could become familiar with them, which made the two relaxed for the performance.

Narucki claimed she has always loved music and studied violin and double bass while attending Belleville schools. But she eventually strayed from the instruments and studied film at Syracuse University. After one year she lost interest in her studies.

"It was too late for me to start anything (musically) except train my voice so I took a few voice lessons on a lark and my teacher said I could develop a nice voice if I worked at it," she explained.

To further her singing education she studied in San Francisco and has called the Bay Area home for the past 10 years. Her hard work, practicing an hour a day, everyday, except the day after a performance, has led her to the opportunity in Europe.

"I know people who have gone four or five times before they were accepted," claimed Narucki. "I hope I don't have to go through that."

The auditions are for the 1989 season, so she will be returning to San Francisco for spring performances, regardless of if she is offered a contract.

If she doesn't receive a contract, she said she will remain optimistic. And she can always return to Belleville for a command performance in the high school auditorium.

Victory Village

Beginning July 11 a five-day vacation bible school to be known as Victory Village will take place at Little Zion U.A.M.E. Church, 154 Stephens St., Belleville.

Geared to all family members, it will feature creative learning activities and graded scripture discovery lessons, singing, craft projects and puppet shows.

The hours will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and details can be had by calling 743-8542.

That is Charles Coes, 4, of Montclair; Shaina Hernandez, 5, of Belleville, and Emmanuel Urquijo, 4, also of Montclair.

Board of Ed. passes budget cuts

Reductions to the Belleville School Budget made by the Board of Commissioners were passed by the Board of Education, only because a budget must be adopted by July 1, according to board members.

The Board of Education also passed resolutions for a change order for the re-roofing of the Middle School, awarding orders for athletic equipment and honored the golf, baseball and mid-weight four class crew teams which won championships this spring.

Winners of the "Just Say No To Drugs" poster contest, sponsored by the Belleville P.B.A., were announced and received savings bonds from Belleville P.B.A. President Anthony Wieners and Detective Joseph Rotonda at the meeting.

By a vote of 6-1, revisions to the school budget totaling $886,641 were approved by the Board but as a few members voted they voiced their displeasure with the cuts made by the Commissioners. Barbara Cicalese said her protest of the cuts was the "no" vote she cast.

Board members Joseph Del Guercio, Joseph Papisidero and Board Vice President Patricia Pisano all said the only reason they were voting for the resolution was because the New Jersey Commissioner of Education Saul Cooper-an requires a budget must be adopted by the first of next month.

A formal appeal to the New Jersey Department of Education about the budget cuts has been filed by the Board.

The Board of Commissioners also were brought up at the meeting when Board Secretary/Business Administrator Edward Appleton notified the board of the commissioners request to use the high school auditorium for their meeting next Tuesday night. Appleton said school will be out and because of that, if the meeting is held in the auditorium, maintenance personnel would have to be paid overtime and expressed the board's opinion on who should pay the personnel.

"If they have their remaining meetings at Town Hall for the summer just as we are moving ours to the board complex I feel we can pay for Tuesday's meeting," said Phil Linfante.

Other board members, particularly Del Guercio and Cicalese, disagreed. "I think we should charge them," said Del Guercio, "because it will take away money from our children."

By a vote of 4-3, the Board of Education will pay for the overtime.

A change order of $2,750 was (continued on page 8)

July Fourth activities

As many flock to the shore to escape the heat and chaos of city life at holiday time, many other Bellevillites will stay home to experience the traditional ceremonies of the Independence Day celebration in town.

To begin the festivities on Monday, July 4, the Recreation Department will hold its annual field day for youngsters in grades K-8 at the Municipal Stadium starting at 10:00 a.m.

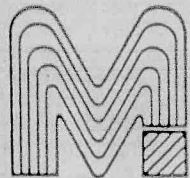

The events, which will be open to all young Belleville residents, will be divided into three categories: junior division, for kindergarten to second grade; intermediate division, third to fifth graders, and a senior division for sixth to eighth graders.

Events will include the 50 and 100 yard dashes, an agility race, a three-legged race, sack races, a girls' relay race and a boys tug-of-war.

All activities will be supervised by the members of the Belleville Recreation Department playground staff under the direction of Superintendent, Dennis Buckley. Patches will be awarded to the winners and all will share in slices of watermelon.

On Monday night a spectacular fireworks display will be presented at the stadium starting at sundown. The rain date for these events will be Tuesday, July 5. In all, it promises to be an exciting holiday and Bellevillites young and old are invited to share in the glitter of our country's historic day.

Foot Facts

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M.
IN YOUR CHILD'S SHOES

For the small child who is stumbling his way to learning to walk, a switch to leather shoes from sneakers may help. Excessive stumbling, however, may be due to a poor fit. Children's sneakers, for the most part, come in only a medium width. For the majority of children with wide feet, this means a compensatory move to large sneakers. The resultant poorer fit may well induce a child to stumble. By contrast, leather shoes provide a more precise fit and greater stability. While sneakers usually have rounded bottoms, shoes providing a child's foot with a flat platform for walking. A limited study of children aged eleven to sixteen months showed sneaker-clad children, on average, to be four times as likely to stumble as children in leather shoes.

Never use "hand-me-down" shoes. Even though the size may be right, every child's foot is different, and the shoes conform to the child's foot as they're worn. Check the child's shoes often. For a consultation, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. My offices, including X-ray facilities, are nearby at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Hours by appt. Most medical plans accepted. I am director of the Adult and Juvenile Diabetic Clinic, United Hospital, Newark.

HINT: Leather shoes also provide a child's foot with more flex than sneakers, making walking easier.

OUR OPINION

Public or private figure?

The recent trials and tribulations of Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto has brought to light one of the many glaring differences between a public figure and private figure.

Many people would not even know of, let alone care about, the recent harrassment charge filed against him or the incident last week where he was charged with obstructing justice and burglary and theft. But since he is a member of the Board of Commissioners, it has become a focal point when discussing Belleville, whether in town or in the nearby area. For this reason it is time for Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto to look in the mirror and decide whether he should be a member of the town government.

There is no questioning Fornarotto's work ethic or his true concern for the town and its people. He is always available to any citizen who needs him and is thinking Belleville every minute he is awake, or so it seems. It is his actions that bring about the question of his competency as public figure. Just as his fiery attitude has helped bring about his success as a commissioner, it is this attitude which may ultimately bring his downfall.

As a private citizen his actions would not be very newsworthy, and may even be tolerated by most people, but as a public figure he must learn to control his actions. In public life it is not only the end result that matters but how that end result is achieved, so it is up to Fornarotto to decide whether he can control his sudden inclinations so that he may continue his term as commissioner or realize his outbursts are not fitting a town commissioner and resign.

A parallel can be drawn between New York Yankees Manager Billy Martin and Fornarotto. Martin is considered by many to be an expert manager, one that gets the most out of his players and brings his team to new heights but his off-field behavior, most notably fighting in bars and an overall excitable nature, has led to him losing more than his share of positions. Fornarotto has provided services to the residents of town in a successful manner, as well as honestly attempting to keep the Municipal Budget within reason, but his "off-field" behavior may lead him to losing his position as Commissioner of Public Affairs.

Committee could use help

The work of the 150th anniversary committee is something that demands recognition. The group will work together to find the appropriate ways of celebrating such a monumental occasion. But the group can not do it on their own, it will take others to help, possibly others who do not even know they can lend a hand.

Instilling town pride is a big part of any town but particularly in Belleville. By creating an awareness into the history of the town, residents and others will realize what Belleville is all about. These individuals who make up the committee will only enhance the reputation and prestige of the town. Many of the committee members, all of whom have a great deal of town pride, may not know of some occurrences in town, if only because it was before their time.

People in town, one's who have lived in Belleville all their lives, may know of information the committee does not know of. By contacting the committee and relaying the knowledge to committee members, or joining the committee, individuals can not only help in the anniversary celebration next year but also help to instill town pride in a town in need of some pride.

The unsung heroes

The unsung heroes finally get some recognition as 11 police officials and a courageous citizen were honored for work well done. While some will attempt to trivialize the feats by saying they were only doing their job, we feel the risk of life all police must deal with while on the job must be commended.

Awards were put in stages, from a "D" award to an "A" award, with an "A" being the most difficult to achieve. No one received an "A" but that says more about the difficulty of the award than the competence and courage of those on the force. It gives one a safe feeling knowing these men are out there, protecting us and our families. Belleville can take pride in having qualified police as these 11, and all the others who serve and protect.

A special feeling must be bestowed on Gregory Prehodka, who offered assistance during an armed robbery. Many others may have turned their backs on the incident but Prehodka risked his life for the capture, and ultimate safety of others. His action is something that it not taught but instinctive, an action he should be applauded for.

YOUR OPINION

Chamber for growth

To the editor:

In response to a "letter to the editor" written by Ed Torti in last week's edition, June 9th, of the Belleville Times, asking "where was the Chamber of Commerce?" during a recent meeting of the Zoning Board (June 7th) hearing testimony on the issuance of a use variance to Route 21 Associates which would enable them to upgrade their property from currently being zoned industrial to an upgrade of commercial?

The constitution and by-laws of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce clearly define our purpose. "Article II. Purpose:" ... is organized for the purpose of advancing the commercial, industrial, and civic welfare of the Township of Belleville and trade area."

Our organization is striving to achieve the objectives as mandated by our charter, which are as follows:

"Preserving the competitive enterprise system by creating a better understanding and appreciation of the importance of business people and a concern for their problems; educating the business community and representing them in city, county, state and national legislative and political affairs; preventing or addressing controversies which are detrimental to expansion and growth of business and the community if they arise; creating a greater appreciation of the value of a more liberal investment of substance and self on behalf of the interests of competitive business (2) Promoting business and community growth and development by: promoting economic programs designed to strengthen and expand the income potential of all business within the trade area; promoting programs of a civic, social, and cultural nature which are designed to increase the functional and aesthetic values of the community; and discovering and correcting abuses which prevent the promotion of business expansion and community growth."

I would like to thank Mr. Torti for bringing to our attention that some people are unaware of exactly what the Chamber of Commerce represents.

Our membership of 180 plus (and growing) successful professional people recognize that the "free enterprise system," which translates into competition, works well. "Free Enterprise" defined in Funk and Wagnalls Standard Dictionary "... private ownership and operation of business with little or no governmental control."

Also defined in the above are:

1. "free-1. having personal liberty, 2. having civil political or religious liberty
2. "enterprise- any project, undertaking or task, especially when difficult or important, 2. boldness and energy in practical affairs
3. "competitive- to strive against another or others for some objective; rivalry, 2. A contest."
4. "entrepreneur- one who undertakes to start and conduct an enterprise or business."

These ideals are guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States ... Freedom of the pursuit of civil liberty, Freedom of speech, Freedom of religion, Freedom of the press ... etc.

I have personally polled our Board of Directors on this letter, and the answer to the question "where was the Chamber of Commerce?" is clearly stated in our by-laws. The Chamber of Commerce supports projects such as the issue in question, Walter Kidde Site, and expansion of Clara Maass Medical Center. We will be present at the next Zoning Board meeting to support the granting of an upgrade variance to commercial for the Walter Kidde Site.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce supports the efforts of those entrepreneurs and established businesses that recognize the potential of Belleville's future. The "atmosphere of competition" results in the best product at the best price. The people of Belleville certainly deserve this.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce believes... "It's Better In Belleville!"

Julio and Richard?

To the editor:

Singer Julio Iglesias has recently returned from a triumphant engagement in Communist China. Julio has promised to return next year and, at that time, sing his songs in Chinese.

I believe it to be an excellent idea for former President Richard Nixon (he who is credited with opening the door to Red China) to accompany our Spanish Sinatra, Julio Iglesias, on the crooner's next China-tour.

Just imagine! - Julio Iglesias and Richard Nixon in duet, singing (in Chinese) "Chinatown my Chinatown."

I'll wager - the accolades and applause for Julio and Dick might, very well, shake the foundations of that Great China Wall; and perhaps, eliminate that Bamboo Curtain, once and for all.

Boxing show a success

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Veterans Boxers Social Club of New Jersey, I would like to thank Commissioners Vincent J. Frantantoni and Joseph T. Fornarotto for the use of the Belleville Municipal Stadium and the presence of a physician at ring-side. The annual Boxing Show was a huge success and these officials really helped to make it just that.

Thanks again,

Ray Spencer, President

The Department of Deja Vu:

Procurement scandal in Lincoln County

By Tom Sullivan

WHEN THE F.B.I. last week unveiled details of its two-year investigation into widespread corruption among employees and ex-employees of the Pentagon and private defense contractors, it was another case for the Department of Deja Vu.

Deja vu is a French expression meaning we've seen it before, and the playing of footsie by those who handle procurement for the military with those who sell the government its supplies and equipment is something that has been almost commonplace since George Washington waged the revolutionary war on an expense account 200 years ago.

There were scandals in the Civil War, World Wars I and II, and intermittently in between, since those who seek an extra advantage feel less guilt when the nation isn't actually at war, though a hard-fought conflict is no barrier to chicanery on the supply side.

This latest scandal reveals among other things that specifications were drawn by corrupt bureaucrats that could only be met by their favorite supplier, and after getting one major defense contractor's approach to meeting a given military requirement, they promptly passed the data along to THEIR contractor of choice so he could underbid.

If you saw that memorable bit of videotape last week when Senator John Warner talked about what the congressional and Pentagon culprits were getting in return, without realizing that his mike was open and a camera had he and his confidante sharing their whispers with millions of viewers, you now have the full picture.

LATER THIS SUMMER 20th Century Fox will be releasing a new movie about Billy The Kid, calling it "The Young Guns," and news of its coming sparked the memory that Billy, who was born Henry McCarty on New York's lower east side, actually acquired his reputation as an outlaw after falling afoul of The Santa Fe Ring, a group of murderous businessmen in New Mexico, who were hand in glove with territorial and federal politicians, with the prize a $2.5 million contract to supply beef to the army, and hundreds of thousands of other dollars for supplying a variety of items to U.S. protected Indian tribes.

In the 1870's and 80's, those were big stakes, indeed, and in assuring themselves of an appropriate supply of livestock and a minimum of competition, "The Company," which was what the territorials called the far-reaching organization run by Jimmy Dolan and Jimmy Riley, gathered within its bounds every hood and gunman it could hire, and formed an unholy alliance with an outlaw band headed by Jesse Evans.

If trumped up legal documents were needed to take over some unwilling rancher's land and herd, the territorial governor and just about every other officeholder, could be counted upon to make it happen.

So they rightly smelled trouble when John Henry Tunstall, a young and handsome Englishman, scion of a wealthy family that still lives in the same baronial mansion today as it did in the 1870's, rode in to Lincoln County.

He fell in love with the beautiful mountain valley with its clean air, crystal streams and fertile soil that literally grows anything. He bought 4,000 acres and started ranching on quite a grand scale.

THE 18-YEAR-OLD Billy, who had already dropped both the McCarty and Antrim names of his father and stepfather, struck up an immediate friendship with Tunstall, because he was surprisingly well educated for the time, very well read and with a vocabulary that would be impressive in a teenager even today.

Tunstall hired him but their relationship was more than rancher and ranch hand, especially since the Englishman was only five years Billy's senior.

Anyway, to cut a long story short, when "The Company's" outlaws gunned down Tunstall, Billy swore revenge, and before long the Lincoln County war was in full blast.

Tunstall's lawyer sent a cable to the Englishman's father, who promptly visited with Lord Salisbury, Queen Victoria's foreign minister, who got off a chilly demand to U.S. Secretary of State William M. Evarts, that something be done to apprehend the killers and safeguard the Tunstall property.

New Mexico fell under the domain of Interior Secretary Carl Schurz, who met with Evarts and President Rutherford B. Hayes, and between them they formulated a plan to send a special U.S. attorney to Lincoln County to conduct a sweeping investigation.

Their choice was Frank Warner Angel of Jersey City, and he collected more than 300,000 words of depositions from those involved in the war, including a lengthy statement from Billy, and while it took some time, to run the gang to ground, eventually ordserc was restored, though not before Billy had been slain at the age of 21 by former bartender pat garrett.

It's a colorful chapter of American history with a central figure that everyone has heard of, and whose story has been more clouded with myth and falsehood than perhaps any other man of such tender years.

We put it in the Department of Deja Vu because it might never have happened but for a military procurement scandal. Today's scandal was our excuse for recapping these facts, many of which I personally dug out of the Public Record Office in London.

Retraction

The Belleville Times has further investigated the factual basis for the charges contained in an article published on November 25, 1987 entitled "School 3 mom complains of fear tactics," and the Times has determined that the statements actually uttered by Donna Nance have never been corroborated by any other source.

Based upon the total lack of corroborating evidence, it is this publication's view that the statements of Austin MacArthur, the principal, and the staff of School 3, in denying the truth of those allegations are worthy of credibility.

The Times regrets any embarrassment that the publication of the article may have caused the school authorities.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

The best friend you will ever have

How many real, true friends do you have? Not nearly as many as you think. You have a lot of acquaintances and different levels of friendship with different ones who you call true friends. But abiding friendships - we do not have many of those in life because it takes time to develop that kind of relationship.

To whom are you a real, true friend? Do you know what the real qualities of true friendship really are? All of us need deep, abiding friendships.

One day a fellow (much older than I) said, "I have a friend with whom I have been acquainted, and I have fellowshiped with him every week - sometimes several times a week - for thirty-five years." Suddenly I had this sinking feeling. I thought, thirty-five years with the same friend! I have missed something in life.

As I began to read and study about friendship, I began to realize that we men are not nearly as friendly as we think we are. In a survey leading psychologists and therapists were asked, "How many men in America really have a true friend?" The majority of them said, "About ten percent or less."

As I thought about friendships, it dawned on me that I have had one friend for forty years. The Bible says He "sticks closer than a brother" (Proverbs 18:24), and His name is Jesus Christ.

"Is Jesus Christ really my Friend?" I thought. I know He is my Savior, my Lord, my Master, my God. But most of my life I had never thought about Jesus Christ as being a Friend. In John 15:12-17 we have it from Jesus Himself: "This is My commandment, that you love one another, just as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that one lay down his life for his friends. You are My friends, if you do what I command you. No longer do I call you slaves, for the slave does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all things that I have heard from My Father I have made known to you. You did not choose Me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain, that whatever you ask of the Father in My name, He may give to you. This I command you, that you love one another."

150th anniversary committee plans first events meeting

Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni announced the first meeting of a committee to discuss events for the 150th anniversary of Belleville will be held Wednesday June 29 in Belleville Public Library.

Mayor Michael Pizzi and fellow Board of Commissioners members, the Belleville Historical Society, the Chamber of Commerce, Library officials and select citizens will discuss possible festivities for the special occasion.

Frantantoni also offers an open invitation to anyone who wishes to join the effort and be an active, working member of the committee. He also said anyone with historical information should contact him at his office at 450-3322.

for the laying of the cornerstone by Denison and before it was completed in 1915, the Council held a meeting, December 30, 1914. The meeting was the last for Denison's administration.

Even though the building has been completed for almost three quarters of a century, Frantantoni said many people are now noticing the artwork of the building because of the lamp. In fact, one citizen asked him if the statue in front of Town Hall was recently built.

The lamp, which has been lighting the night for over two weeks, costs very little to operate. Frantantoni said there was no installation fee and the town pays a monthly charge of between $28-30 and includes all maintenance and service work.

A 40 foot blue banner with a yellow inscription has been ordered and is scheduled to arrive next week. It will hang from Town Hall and will serve as a reminder to everyone of the upcoming anniversary.

Wesley names minister

Wesley United Methodist Church on the threshold its bicentennial celebrations in 1991 has reason to rejoice in the recognition and confidence placed by the Northern New Jersey Conference of the United Methodist Church at the appointment of Rev. Jung Yong Na as full-time minister at the annual conference held in Madison from June 3rd to 6th. This is in lieu of the grace of consecration and ordination of the Rev. Jung Yong Na as an elder of the NNJ Conference by Bishop

Neil L. Irons.

On Sunday, June 19th, the Rev. Jung Yong Na celebrated a Thanksgiving Service with greetings and fellowship from the congregation of Wesley on his new appointment as minister for one church - Wesley. Rev. Na was part time minister, serving two churches, Wesley UMC, from 1986 to 1988 and the Passaic Korean UMC for which he was founder and pastor for the past six years.

Born 1949 in Taejon City, Korea, Rev. Na is a graduate in physics from Sung Kwan University and attained his M.B.A. in 1971 after serving his country as 1st Lieutenant in the Air Force for four years. It was while working as sales engineer with Korean Tungsten Company, that the awareness and true meaning of his personal relationship to Christ started to be a revelation to him. His upbringing as a Christian, the faith of his parents and the untimely and cruel death of his father culminated in spiritual self assessment and in due time he responded to the call of service - selfless service. With opposition from family and friends he gave up the lure of material gains and started on the road that has brought him to this day.

On resigning from his job he volunteered his life and services to an orphanage to take care of 200 war orphans. This was the stepping stone for Rev. Na, the call to ministry, and he came to the United States to study at Drew University and taking his degree in Master of Divinity in 1984.

Now as a deacon of the church he continues to study and do his ministry.

Russo testifies on handguns

Senate President John F. Russo testified at a packed public hearing last week that prohibiting guns in homes will reduce the pool of weapons that criminals steal and use to commit crimes.

"Anyone with a criminal record cannot legally purchase a gun in New Jersey," said Russo. "Criminals get guns by stealing them from law-abiding citizens who cannot watch their weapons 24-hours a day."

The Senate President was the first of more than two dozen witnesses that testified at the Senate Law, Public Safety & Defense Committee's first public hearing on the Russo gun control legislation.

Additional public hearings on S.2282 will be held this summer in Camden and Hackensack before the committee will vote on the bill, according to Senator Frank X. Graves, Jr., the committee chairman.

Russo said guns kept in homes are used more often to accidentally or intentionally hurt innocent people than to stop intruders.

"FBI statistics show that it is 115 times more likely that guns kept for 'self-protection' will end up used in murders, suicides and accidental shootings than in self-defense against a criminal," he said.

Under the Russo legislation, private citizens would no longer be able to purchase handguns to keep in their homes.

People who already have legal handguns could keep them for the rest of their lives, but heirs would be required to turn the weapons over to authorities in exchange for financial compensation, Russo said.

"There are now an estimated one million legally owned handguns in this state," he said. "Over the span of a generation, this law will remove most of these weapons from circulation."

Russo emphasized at no time in the future would the legislation affect the sale or ownership of shotguns and rifles used by hunters, antique firearms kept by collectors or target shooting pistols that are locked and left at practice ranges.

Police officers and military personnel would also continue to be able to buy and own weapons under the terms of the legislation.

PAT CHANCE
According to the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, approximately one American adult in four has high blood cholesterol. Because of its link to heart disease, Americans have been urged to lower their blood cholesterol levels. Studies show that every one-percent reduction in blood cholesterol brings with it a two-percent reduction in the risk of coronary heart disease. The first step in this healthier direction is a dietary switch to less saturated fat. A loss of extra weight is also known to help. For people with very high levels of blood cholesterol, drug therapy may be called for. In this respect, a new recruit in the cholesterol battle has been approved as of August 1987. Lovastatin has an inhibiting effect on the liver's ability to produce cholesterol. This new drug requires administration under a physician's guidance.

Whenever your physician gives you a prescription to be filled bring it to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. provided and will encompass the repair of existing skylights and roof drains at the Middle School. Nine companies, ranging in location from Paterson to Riverside, California, were awarded contracts totaling $60,333.87 for athletic equipment and supplies.

Ten banks were approved as official depositories for the board beginning July 1. Town resident Gabe Nazzola questioned using so many different banks, suggesting money may be misplaced if so many are banks are used.

"We were looking for the most competitive rates," explained

Appleton. "It would be a disservice if we didn't. We were looking for the best possible return on our money."

Nazzola replied by saying he would rather see less banks used, saying a few extra interest points are not worth "misplacing" funds, as was the case in July, 1986 and July, 1987, according to Nazzola. Appleton said at no time were monies misplaced or the whereabouts unknown.

Presentations on the affirmative action program and the vocational education program were made to the board at the start of the meeting.

Don't like heat

To the Editor:

Summer is the time when New Jersey residents begin to enjoy the sun and surf. The Humane Society of the United States asks you to remember ... SOME DON'T LIKE IT HOT ... your dogs and cats.

Pet owners can protect their animals by taking a few basic precautions:

- NEVER leave a pet in a parked car during the summer, even with the windows partially open. The inside of the car can reach temperatures in excess of 120 degrees in just minutes, and pets can suffer heatstroke, brain damage and death.
- ALWAYS be sure that dogs have constant access to shade and shelter when out of the house. Cats should be kept inside year-round. All pets should have clean water available at all times.
- NEVER subject a dog to rigorous exercise during the hottest times of the day. Restrict walks or runs to early morning or evening.

If your pet does become overheated, it is vital to act immediately. Signs of trouble are excessive panting, labored breathing, rapid pulse, glazed eyes, tremors, vomiting or a deep red or purple tongue. If your pet is unconscious, you have very little time to lose.

The first thing to do is to try to lower the animal's body temperature by getting him into a cool, shady place and applying cool water, especially around the head and tail areas. Don't allow the animal to drink too much water, no more than a cup every thirty minutes. You can also give him ice cubes to lick. Then get him to your veterinarian as soon as possible.

The Humane Society of the United States has free posters and fliers warning pet owners of the hazards of leaving pets in cars. These are distributed free to veterinarians, humane societies, merchants and individuals as part of a nationwide campaign and can be obtained by writing "Hot Car," The Humane Society, 270 Route 206, Flanders, N.J. 07836.

Let's make it a safe summer for people and pets.

Displaying patriotism

To the Editor:

Dedication to the theme "It's Better in Belleville" is fast becoming the hallmark of Commissioner Risoli and his hard-working crew of bustling activity.

Recently, hooligans had stolen the Stars & Stripes from the front of Belleville's ONLY Nationally Registered Historic Landmark — The Reform Church (founded 1697).

The benevolent Risoli leaped into action by assigning top guy, Chester Green, to restore Old Glory's dignity. He was assisted by patriots William Newmeyer, philanthropist; Robert O'Connor, entrepreneur; Isabelle Whitlingler, preservationist; Mike Safer, bottler aficionado; Tom Devine, Commander American Legion Post 105; and Edward O'Neil, Historic Society President.

Their contribution of restoring the luster and glory to our emblem of freedom was unmistakably true patriotism. Volunteers are the backbone of civic pride and awareness.

Give it a try, fellow BUC's...

Alcoholism a disease

To the Editor:

As a Legislator who has served in the New Jersey General Assembly since 1982, as a Freeholder since 1979, as well as an activist for more than half a century, needless to say, I was shocked at the headlined article which appeared in the Atlantic City Press, as well as many other state papers, "Alcoholics Ineligible for VA Aid — Excess Drinking is Misconduct."

In this day and age wherein we have MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving), SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving), along with the thousands of alcoholic rehabilitation programs following the medical decision that alcoholism is a disease, I cannot understand why the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C. has not filed a protest against the Supreme Court decision, as well as demanding the repeal of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which does not force the VA to treat alcoholism as a disease.

Why then would almost every state government appropriate allocations in their budget for alcohol rehab clinics, counseling and all that goes to cure alcoholics and curb alcoholism?

Just as Governor Thomas H. Kean signed legislation creating a Council on Compulsive Gambling, so the Federal government should recognize that alcoholism is a far more serious disease than "compulsive gambling."

I am now in my third year serving as Vice Chair of the Veterans and Defense Committee for the General Assembly. No one knows better than my committee that military service, particularly the Vietnam War, has caused much of the alcohol and drug addiction our Veterans now suffer from, and whose rehabilitation we taxpayers and legislators are supporting heavily.

I have learned that Veterans Homes already have AA groups, counseling services and programs for families faced with the alcoholic Veterans because of the many emotional and physical issues involved.

Justice Harry A. Blackman said the VA should examine benefit claims by veterans on an individual basis rather than concluding automatically that the condition is a product of willful misconduct. The final decision should remain with a physician, not a bureaucrat.

I urge veterans and their families to send a letter to General Thomas K. Turnage, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, 810 Vermont Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20420, urging him to initiate an appeal against this unreasonable, recent Supreme Court decision.

General Turnage, above all, should be responding to the human beings who served this country, not the bureaucrats who sit on the Supreme Court bench, far removed from the realities of canes, crutches, drugs and depression.

No "green" cement

To the editor:

I would like to see Greylock Parkway with grass, trees and flowers - not "green" cement. Any chance? Other towns maintain such thoroughfares. Why can't we?

Seeking MS patients

To The Editor:

I am writing you in the hopes of reaching people with multiple sclerosis. I have been a patient at the Gimbel Multiple Sclerosis Center at Holy Name Hospital in Teaneck, and I want other people with MS to know about this outstanding facility. Patients go to the Gimbel MS Center from all over New Jersey.

My MS was diagnosed five years ago, and I have been hospitalized many times with complications from my MS. Medical care was always adequate, but no one really understood the frustrations and special concerns of people with MS. One of my concerns, for example, was how I could continue to feel challenged and worthwhile, knowing that I must give up many activities that had characterized a very active lifestyle.

During 1988 I became a patient at the Bernard W. Gimbel MS Comprehensive Care Center, and my life has changed. I still have MS. And not long ago, I was hospitalized again. But this time my health was monitored by neurologists at the center who specialize in caring for people with MS. The center referred me to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society of Bergen and Passaic Counties, which arranged a home health aide to help me when I went home from the hospital. This helped me enormously in regaining my health and strength.

The center staff urged me to become involved in volunteer work at the MS Chapter. I did this and now have a new circle of friends whose projects help keep my organizational and computer skills from getting rusty.

Please, if you know of anyone with Multiple Sclerosis, tell them about the Gimbel MS Care Center. It is the only non-profit facility for the comprehensive care of MS in the state of New Jersey. People with MS have special needs. The Gimbel Center can help them.

More questions for Risoli

To the editor:

I would like to have a few questions answered by our Commissioner of Public Works. How can he justify the filthy streets which are also full of pot holes when he buys a $14,000 car? He screams he has only one sweeper and needs money! He has hired three men (Grasso, Swartz, Trebuna) and he has given his deputy director the use of the $14,000 car and he also has given him an abundance of overtime. If you add up the total cost of the above he could probably buy 2 sweepers. Let's take a look at his deputy director. Civil Service has him classified as a truck driver. I believe he is being paid as a heavy equipment operator. Why? Why has Risoli not notified Civil Service of Chester Green appointment (director)? Why Risoli have you not given to Civil Service the names of the three men you hired? Why Risoli is the brand new car parked on Cedar Hill Ave.? Your director is not entitled to take the car home and use it for personal business. There is a resolution in the town of Belleville which states "no employee shall use or take home a town car." Your deputy is so brazen that on June 13, 14 and 15 he drove all over town with that new car with members of his family. He is so brazen that he went into town hall with his daughter on those same days. On June 7 he drove you Angelo around all day to each polling place with that new car and he was supposed to be at work. Why Risoli did you use a new car (town property) and a town employee to help you and your district leaders? Did your deputy call in sick? If he did he should be suspended. You can only use a sick day when you are sick.

Free Maass transportation

Free transportation and prior-night accommodations at a nominal cost will be offered to Same Day Surgery patients at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville, beginning June 20.

Same Day Surgery minimizes both the cost of medical care and a patient's time away from work and family by enabling the patient to return home after surgical procedures that do not require hospitalization. Such procedures might include breast biopsy, cataract extraction, hernia repair, and tonsillectomy.

Free van service is available for patients who live within the local area, and the convenience of low-cost hospital accommodations is available the night before before surgery at a fee of $25, which covers a room with meal service and television.

Same Day Surgery, Outpatient Surgery, and other Same Day Services are available at Clara Maass Medical Center for patients of Clara Maass physicians. Names of physicians may be obtained by calling the Clara Maass Physician Referral Service at 450-2345. Those who wish information about Same Day Surgery at Clara Maass should call 450-2133.

The wrath of Golden

25 Years Ago

June 20, 1963...Councilman James J. Golden continued his attacks on the Belleville hierarchy. As you may remember from last week, Golden caused quite a fuss when he questioned the activities of the Health Department and Magistrate Edward Abremson. Well, this week the feisty Golden accused the Town Council of being a "Star Chamber affair," a comment on their abuse of authority. His primary targets were Mayor Robert M. Laterza and Councilmen George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo, who Golden accused of banding together to seize control of the town.

Belleville Times-News publisher Frank Orechio took six Belleville High students, those who put together the "High School News" page, to New York City for a night of dinner and entertainment in gratitude for their work throughout the year. They first went to Mamma Leone's to dine and then it was off to the orchestra to hear a performance of "She Loves Me."

Seven Belleville kids, concerned with the numerous amounts of deaths due to cancer, held a miniature carnival to raise funds to aid the 1963 Cancer Campaign. The festivities were held in the backyards of two of the kids. They presented a variety show featuring twirlers, dancers and marchers and sold popcorn, potato chips and punch. The grand total — $10!

The Belleville American Legion opened the season with a win over Nutley at Newark Academy Stadium, 11-6. Several errors cost them a game against Caldwell later in the week, as Belleville was defeated, 5-4.

The Belleville Kiwanis Club gathered to hear Dr. Theodore Heineken speak on the topic of freezing ulcers. Dr. Heineken, the head of the Gastric Freezing section of Clara Maass hospital, said that the hospital has treated 25 patients with this technique, with no ill effects.

Gwen Gaudio, a 16 year old sophomore at Belleville High School, was chosen as a finalist in the Miss New Jersey High School pageant at the Open Air Pavilion in Asbury Park. Gwen was known throughout the Belleville school system for her dance performances and organization of various dance groups through the years.

2 cups halved strawberries
1/2 cup blueberries

Heat oven to 400°F. Combine 1/4 cup sugar and lemon peel. Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Gently press 2 biscuits together for each shortcake. Dip top only of each in margarine; then in sugar mixture. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 400°F. for 12 to 16 minutes or until golden brown.

Meanwhile, in medium saucepan, combine pudding mix, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup water and egg yolks; blend well. Stir in 1 1/2 cups water. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; stir in cream cheese until smooth.

Combine strawberries and blueberries. Split warm biscuits; fill with half of warm lemon pudding mixture and half of fruit. Top with remaining lemon pudding mixture and fruit. Serve immediately. 5 servings.

Eleven police officers and one citizen receive awards for bravery and valor

Eleven police officials and a citizen were awarded with certificates for valor during a Belleville Police awards ceremony held last week in Town Hall.

All the recipients were honored for actions above and beyond the call of duty last year. The awards varied, depending on the severity of the case, from an "A" award to a "D" award.

Receiving "D" awards were Officers John Hood, Nicholas Krentz, George Sheridan, Victor Linfante and Detective Vincent Cappetta. "C" awards were presented to Officers Paul Long, James Del Grosso, Frank Parrillo and John Martucci. Officer Vincent Celfo and Arthur Connally and citizen Gregory Prehodka received "B" awards for their efforts.

Hood and Krentz were honored for apprehending an armed robber April 30, 1987. The two were sent on a call of a woman who was placing groceries in her car at the Belmont Avenue Pathmark and was approached by a man with a gun. The two officers pursued the suspects car and apprehended the man.

Sheridan received his award for arresting a burglar who was attempting a break-in at an apartment complex on December 18, 1987, while Linfante earned his for arresting two armed robbers during a mugging.

Detective Cappetta apprehended a criminal July 15, 1987 when, responding to an assault and robbery, spotted the car, followed and made the arrest.

Long and DelGrosso received "C" awards for their July 17, 1987 apprehension of a burglar. The two observed the criminal inside an apartment and made the arrest.

On June 30, 1987, Parrillo and Martucci disarmed a woman who had a knife and threatened innocent bystanders and herself.

Celfo, Connally and Prehodka earned their "B" awards for capturing a suspect of an armed robbery October 1, 1987. Prehodka received the award for being a "very helpful witness" during the case. Celfo and Connally were sent on a call of an armed holdup at the Grand Union on Main Street. After receiving the description the two spotted the car used by the suspect and disarmed apprehended the man without firing a shot.

Celfo and Connally were honored by the Optimist Club last month for their fine work on the case.

Belleville Times SPORTS

When the 1988 Belleville baseball season ended a few weeks ago, head coach Nick Grande said without hesitation that the 1989 club was going to be young. The Bucs are losing a strong nucleus of seniors to graduation and it won't be easy to fill those shoes.

However, Grande is optimistic about the play of his junior varsity and freshman teams, both of which played well in the second half of the season after getting off to a slow start.

The junior varsity team was coached this year by Billy Cook, himself a former Belleville High School athlete. The JV's finished 8-10 this year, but Grande is quick to note that the junior varsity roster was a revolving door to the varsity field.

"Those kids had to be ready at a moments notice to come up to the varsity," Grande said. "Sometimes we needed a player to pinch hit, or pinch run, or play the field. They had to stay sharp all the time."

Like a minor league team, the JV entry rarely fields the same lineup for consecutive games. Players are being called up to the big club and filling particular needs. Sometimes that player will play in a varsity and JV game on the same day.

Nonetheless, the team did well. Grande is also enthused about some of the talent on the JV level that will be possible varsity candidates in 1989.

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

"It's a good situation for the kids," Grande said. "Next year, there will be some openings on the varsity and the kids will have a good shot at filling those slots."

The juniors who made up the 1988 team were, Chris Canarella, Ron Capriglione, Nick Turano, Scott Simonetti and Jerry La Vista.

"Those kids developed skills," Grande said. "We were pleased with their performances."

The sophomores on the JV roster included, Andy Duhaime, Mike D'Achille, Paul Auremma, Ken Sainz, Tom Klena, Phil Albanese, Rob Ricci, Mike Zaccarella, Rich Hess, Joe Mauriello, Chris Raimo and George Villano.

"I was pleased with their effort," Grande said of the JV team. "They are a good bunch of kids and they responded well to the challenge. I'm also optimistic about the freshman team. Right now, our main concern is pitching."

"We only have three pitchers (Frank Orrel, Steve Tice and Anthony Rodriguez) who will be back next year with varsity experience. We will need help from the younger players on JV and freshman in this category. I like the nucleus of kids coming up, but pitching could be a weak point."

FRESHMAN TEAM COMES ON STRONG IN SECOND HALF

As far as the freshman are concerned, Don Roll was the head coach this season. The Bucs were 8-9 in 1988 and played extremely well in the second half of the campaign. Roll's bunch got off to an 0-6 start before turning things around at Paramus Catholic.

The players on the freshman baseball roster were, Rich Ferrugia, Chris Talbot, Jason Nardachone, Mike Miele, Art Caruso, Joe Cocuzza, Ryan Wells, Carmen Spina, Bill Salvatore, Albert Balkewicz, Jim Cicalese, Manish Patel, Mike Chieffo, Jim Duhaime, Mike Capasso, Jason Galioto, Bill Grey and Joe Marino.

There is more on the freshman in a separate article in this week's edition.

SUMMER SPORTS HEATING UP

With high school graduation set for this week, the 1987-88 sports year at Belleville High is concluded. The summer schedule will begin in earnest next week, with coverage of our American Legion Baseball Team, Summer Basketball, Flashback and the feature on womens athletics at Belleville High as weekly stories. We'll also have recreation news and various little league reports.

If any fans have local sports news they would like mentioned, please feel free to mail the information to me, or call it in. Now is the time to do it, with the summer months not offering as much action as the school year.

I would especially like to hear from Belleville High School alumni who once competed in athletics for the Blue and Gold. If any parents would like to submit information on how their son, or daughter, is doing since graduation from high school, I would be more than glad to hear about it. Sometimes, we lose track of former Belleville athletes who have gone on to fine careers, in or out of the sporting world. Keep in touch!

A WORD OF THANKS

With the school year now concluded, I would like to take this time to thank all the coaches who were so cooperative during the past sports season. It goes unsaid most of the time, but they always make it an effort to get the information to me on a timely basis. The coaches are always interested in their young talents getting the necessary recognition.

I would also like to extend praise to our loyal fans. It seems every time I do a wrap up on a particular sport, the coach is quick to thank the parents and fans who attend a lot of the events and lend their support to the athletes. Belleville fans have always been big on sports and have made 1987-88 another memorable season.

Of course, the majority of praise has to be extended to our athletes, because without them, there would be nothing to write about. These kids put forth a tremendous effort, year in and year out. And, parents, you should know that in addition to being good athletes, these young men and women are also outstanding, respectful individuals. That strong attribute comes from the home and the parents certainly deserve praise for giving our town an extra touch of class.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Back in the Summer of 1979, the Yankee team captain, Thurmon Munson was killed in a plane crash. The Yanks first game after that tragedy was against the Baltimore Orioles. Baltimore won, 1-0, as Scott McGregor outdueled Luis Tiant. The Yankee catcher that evening was Jerry Narron. The Yanks later brought up a young catcher named Brad Gudden. The following season, New York traded for Rick Cerone, and he gave the Yanks a good season in 1980.

FOR THIS WEEK

This season, the NBA finals have reached a decisive seventh game. It hasn't happened that often in recent seasons. Before this season, name the last three times an NBA championship series has gone the full seven games.

21 matches an all-time high

18-3 mark, golf team's finest season results in second straight NNJIL title

1988 was certainly an outstanding year for the Belleville golf team. The Buccaneers captured a second straight NNJIL championship this season and finished the year with a 18-3 record. Without question, that mark is the finest in the history of golf at Belleville High School.

The architect of this fine team, head coach Gene D'Allesandro, doesn't like to take too much credit for the success. For instance, last season, his first at the helm, he gave much of the credit for the conference title to former coach Rocco Collucci.

This year, with the team familiar with D'Allesandro's coaching style and battling a much tougher schedule than normal, the Bucs were simply outstanding. And D'Allesandro, a coaching legend in the sport of wrestling for many years, is part of the reason.

"I have a great bunch of kids on this team," the coach said. "I'm still learning a great deal about this sport. I'll tell you one thing, though. It's a lot of fun working with the kids. They put in a lot of time to the sport and it showed this year. There isn't the pressure associated with other sports here, but the will to win and the competitiveness is certainly there."

D'Allesandro prepared a rigorous schedule for his team this season. The program usually scheduled about 12 to 14 matches a season. This year, the Bucs played in 21. And the competition was usually top notch, with powerful schools like Ridgewood, Caldwell, Bergen Catholic, Essex Catholic and Glen Ridge on the slate.

"The only way they'll get better," the coach said, "is by playing against strong competition."

Belleville's chief competitor to conference supremacy was Montclair High School. It was only fitting that the two teams met in the season finale, with the title on the line. Both schools came into the contest with 6-0 records in the league.

"Montclair qualified for the state tourney," D'Allesandro said. "They were a strong team. We knew what we'd be up against when we played them."

The Bucs were outstanding against the Mounties, winning the match by some 25 strokes and clinching a second straight conference championship.

conference championship.

In addition to winning the conference, Belleville put forth a strong effort in the county championships. The Bucs placed fourth in a very strong field, the highest the team has finished since the 1981 campaign, when the Bucs were second.

Individually, there were many heroes. At the NNJIL individual championships, Dominick Cerreto won the title, with a solid 79 over 18 holes. Finishing in a first place tie with Cerreto was teammate Michael Dasaro. Cerreto was awarded first place on the golf tie breaking procedure.

Nonetheless, for Belleville to have the top two golfers in the conference championships was certainly a reason for accolades.

"Those two did very well," said D'Allesandro. "I was very proud of their effort. It was certainly something special to have the top two golfers in the NNJIL."

Dasaro and Cerreto are both seniors and will be sorely missed on next year's team. Dasaro had the lowest score over nine holes this year. He fired a 36 when the Bucs defeated Paramus at the Paramus Country Club.

The third senior on this year's club was Jeff Apple. The name

Apple is synonymous with excellent golfing and Jeff certainly performed well this year. He played in the number four slot and was consistent all year long.

The man who should lead the Bucs in 1989 is junior Anthony Alvino. He was simply outstanding this year, qualifying for the prestigious state championships.

"Anthony is a very gifted golfer," said D'Allesandro. "He is breaking 80 consistently on some of the tougher courses in the area. I'm very confident about his chances next year. He's a blue chipper and has a great deal of potential."

Alvino's best score for nine holes was a 37, good for second on the team behind Dasaro's 36.

Junior Chris Duhaime did well in the number four slot. Actually, Duhaime and Apple shared the position this season. Duhaime will be back next spring and could vie for one of the top three positions in the Buccaneer lineup.

Freshman Vic Talamini battled in the number six slot and gained valuable experience for the future. D'Allesandro is quite optimistic about his younger golfers that will mold the future Belleville teams.

Also doing well this year and expected to be a big boost to the 1989 team are John Stampone, Jerry Mahoney and Anthony Papantonio.

Stampone, a junior, was hampered by injuries this season. Mahoney and Papantonio are freshman with potential for the future.

The Bucs three losses this year came to powerhouse schools in Bergen Catholic and Ridgewood and a strong team in Caldwell. The Bucs avenged the Caldwell defeat later in the season when the teams met for a second time. Bergen Catholic ended up the number one team in the state.

"We have some young kids with potential coming back next season," D'Allesandro said. "They have to work on their game during the off season, though. The only way to do that is by playing and learning the sport. Heck, that's what I'm doing as a coach. Golf's a tough game and requires consistent practicing."

With the realignment of the NNJIL next fall, the Bucs will face another tough schedule in the 1989 season. Teams like Don Bosco, Ridgewood, Paramus, Paramus Catholic and Bergen Catholic will be on the schedule. However, the strong competition doesn't worry the coach.

Sochaski takes summer basketball reins

It's official, the Belleville boys' basketball team is back in the Elizabeth Summer league for a fifth season. The Bucs will open the season on Wednesday, July 6, when it plays Irvington in a 6:15 p.m. start.

All games are played at the Dunn Arena in Elizabeth. Belleville will play on Monday's and Wednesday's this summer. Because of the July 4 holiday falling on a Monday this year, the Bucs will play a Friday night contest on July 8.

That game is against Berkeley Heights.

The varsity basketball coach at Belleville High, Don Roll, reports a large turnout for this year's team. While Roll coaches the Bucs during the winter season, he cannot coach during the summer months according to league rules.

Thus, the assignment has been turned over to Ted Sochaski, the most prolific scorer in the history of Belleville boys' basketball. Sochaski will be graduated from Belleville High this week and plans on taking his basketball talents to Upsala next fall.

"This will be good experience for Teddy," Roll said. "We have some young kids that will need the work this summer. The Elizabeth League has always provided us with very good competition. Hopefully, a lot of the kids will play and get that experience this summer."

Belleville, of course, broke a long dry spell last winter by posting a winning record in varsity basketball. Led by a strong senior contingent, the Bucs were 15-10, marking the first time since 1975 that a Belleville boys' basketball team exceeded the .500 mark.

"That was a good experience for us," Roll said about the 1987-88 season. "But it's over now. We've lost players like Teddy, Leon (Puentes), Chris (Chiarmonte) and Steven (Schwed) and we have a lot of young kids who are looking to fill varsity positions. This work in the summer league, and basketball camp, will give these kids an idea of where they stand."

Returning for their senior year are Ray Zamloot and Dominick Straface. Zamloot came on strong in the second half of last season and began to pick up on the offensive front. Next season, he will probably be the starting point guard and will be asked to help out a great deal in the scoring aspect of the game.

Straface is a swing man who can play the small forward or off guard position. He has played varsity ball the past two seasons and should be one of the leaders of next year's team.

The forwards for this summer's team include junior Doug Hoogen-dyke, sophomore Tom Gianella, junior Michael Trezza and sophomore Jim Duhaime. By the way, the players year in school is based on the upcoming school semester.

The center is Jim Krupka, who will be entering his junior year in

Freshman baseball finishes strong

After a slow start, the Belleville freshman baseball team rebounded well, winning 8 of its last 11 ball games. Don Roll's club posted an 8-9 record after starting the season 0-6.

"It took a while, but the kids started to come around in the second half of the year," Roll said last week. "We have some talented kids here, and I feel confident some of them could see varsity action next season."

After losing those first six games, Belleville won its first contest of the '88 campaign by downing Paramus Catholic in extra innings, on the road. Belleville also posted wins against Paterson Eastside (three times), Passaic, Montclair and Bloomfield (twice).

The freshman level is usually one of learning for future Belleville varsity hopefuls. This year, Roll had plenty of young talent that gained valuable experience by playing high school ball.

The first baseman was Rich Ferrugia. Backing up Ferrugia at first was Chris Talbot.

Roll feels that Ferrugia, who also pitched very well this year, has a good shot at gaining varsity time next spring.

At second base, Jason Nardachione was the starter, with Mike Miele also gaining necessary experience.

The shortstop for most of the year was Art Caruso. The freshman went down with a dislocated thumb near the end of the year, but his performance up to the injury gave Roll plenty of encouragement.

At third base was another promising player, Joe Cocuzza. Once again, with continued hard work in the off season, Cocuzza could see some varsity action in 1989.

In the outfield, promising Ryan Wells led the way in centerfield. Wells led the team in stolen bases and was amongst the team leaders in on base percentage. He also led the Bucs in batting with an average in excess of .400.

The leftfielder was Carmen Spina and the rightfielder responsibilities went to Bill Salvatore.

Other players who saw action in the outfield were Albert Balkewicz, Jim Cicalese and Manish Patel.

The designated hitter was Mike Chieffo. Perhaps the most versatile player on the team was Jim Duhaine, who saw action in five different positions, third base, first base, outfield, catcher and pitcher.

Leading the way on the mound was Mike Capasso, who compiled a 3-1 record. Jason Galioto also pitched well. Ferrugia posted a record of 2-2 when not playing first base.

Behind the plate, Bill Grey was the starter, with Joe Marino also getting playing time.

As mentioned, Wells led the team in hitting with an average above .400. Those who hit in the .300 range included Salvatore, Caruso, Cocuzza and Chieffo.

Playgrounds Open

The Belleville Recreation Department's summer playground program begins June 27 and will continue through August 12.

The four playground sites are at: School No. 10, the Municipal Stadium, the Recreation House and the Friendly House. The special education playground is set up at the Little League Field.

Playground are open daily to Belleville children ages 6 through 16, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

A college-student director will be at each playground to organize games, parties and other activities and an arts and crafts supervisor will travel from site to site.

Tennis lessons and special tournaments are planned throughout the summer. The playground sessions will end up with the annual decathlon.

Regrettably, there will be no "Open Swim" program in 1988, as there is no lifeguard available at press-time.

Tennis Lessons

The Belleville Recreation Department announces that Tennis Lessons will be provided free of charge to all Belleville youngsters ages 8 to 16.

Lessons will be given at the Municipal Stadium Tuesday and Thursday mornings beginning June 28 for 6 weeks (last day: Aug. 4). Participants must wear sneakers and provide own racquet and tennis balls.

The schedule is as follows:
Ages 8 - 11: 9 to 10 a.m.
Ages 12-16: 10 to 11 a.m.
Registration will take place at the courts.

Fall sports applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation Department office.

Boys and girls ages 7 - 14 may participate in Recreation Soccer. Nobody above 8th grade can play and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8 - 10 can play touch football.

For both soccer and touch football applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates. Registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 12 and for touch football Sept. 2.

Children can play in only one fall sport.

Junior Bucs Football

Registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's "Junior Bucs" tackle football program is taking place through Aug. 12 at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St.

Boys who will be 8 years old before Sept. 1 and not be 15 before Jan. 1 are eligible. Boys must weigh a minimum of 60 lbs and a maximum of 145 lbs. No one above 8th grade can play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific AGE/weight requirements set by the Metropolitan Junior Football League.

Completed applications with parents approval must be brought in with a passport size photo and a copy of birth certificate. All returning players must re-apply. Tryouts will begin August 8.

Soccer coaches needed

The Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching soccer in the 7 to 14 league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

Children will learn the basics of soccer and all attending regular practice sessions will play in all games. Games are played Saturday and Sunday afternoon, beginning late September.

Volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCLA, before season begin.

Persons interested in coaches may call 450-3422 weekdays before 4 p.m.

Coaches sought

The Belleville Recreation Department has applications available for men interested in volunteering their time to coach in the recreational football programs.

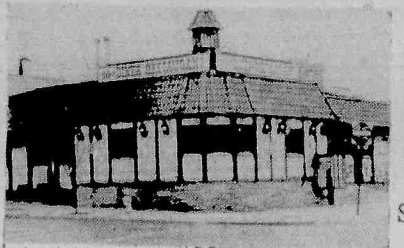

The "Junior Bucs" tackle program consists of three traveling teams, competing in the Metropolitan Junior Football League, Midget Junior Varsity and Varsity divisions. The Touch Football program for boys ages 8 to 10 provides instruction of the fundamentals of football, while eliminating heavy body contact.

Interested candidates for coaching positions should have previous football playing experience or coaching experience and must have good organizational skills. All applications will be screened before the final selection of the 1988 staff is made. Returning coaches must re-apply. Coaches will also be required to attend the NYSCLA certification clinics.

For further information or to obtain an application, call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays.

Persons interested in coaching soccer are also encouraged to call for more information.

Summer

September. At 6'5" tall, Krupka has the potential to be a factor in the pivot. He must continue to work at the game during the summer months and work with the weights.

Sochaski is loaded with guards this summer. In addition to Zamloot and Straface, the men expected to see action there are seniors Anthony Rodriguez, Mike Powers, Arnold Lumbao and Jerry D'Allesio. The junior guards are Chris Young, Mark Nakashian, Tom Klena and Andy Duhaime. Freshman Troy Talmadge is also expected to play guard this summer.

On Belleville's schedule this summer are strong entries from Elizabeth, St. Mary's of Elizabeth, Irvington, Berkeley Heights, St. Peters of Staten Island, Roselle Catholic and Academic High of Jersey City.

With the season set to start in two weeks, Sochaski has been practicing his team. Belleville has fared well in previous summers at Elizabeth, getting to the league semi finals last year. The young players will be facing some seasoned teams and the competition should give the athletes some valuable experience toward next November.

The Times will begin weekly coverage of the Buc's at Elizabeth in the July 14 issue, with a report of the first three games. Stay tuned.

Ethics code proposed

State Senator Paul Contillo (D-Bergen) the author of the recently enacted toughened ethics code for legislators and state officials is now proposing and sponsoring a new ethics code setting strict guidelines on employment, business interests and activities of local, county and independent agency officials and their families which outlines penalties for violations, with fines of up to $500, suspension from office up to a year, removal for "willful and continuous violations" and potential criminal prosecution.

This ethics bill (S-2579) deals with the municipality and if enacted, a Local Government Ethics Commission would be formed to develop a code for the elected and appointed officials and employees of the state's 567 municipalities and 21 counties as well as the counties agencies, authorities and boards that function on a local level, exclusive of employees of school districts.

"Real Estate Forum"

by Jim Farese

Q: We are in the process of selling our home. It was suggested we do some cosmetic improvements such as painting inside and out, landscaping, and repairing of the gutters. Are those economically sensible and are they tax deductible?

A: Exterior painting and landscaping have become major factors in what we in the business call "curb appeal," or in layman's terms, first impressions. Studies show that this type of cosmetic maintenance will return up to 71% of the cost on resale but most importantly, will appeal visually to many more buyers and eventually bring you a better sale price. However, these improvements are not tax deductible. Home improvements that are deductible include such permanent items as adding insulation, adding a deck or greenhouse, central air, etc. Ordinary repairs and maintenance are not deductible. Save all your receipts and check with your accountant next tax season.

Q: We just sold our house and should be closing in June. We are moving out of state and the $100,000 profit we made from the sale is just enough to purchase our new home. If we refinance this home at a later date, will the interest deduction still be deductible?

A: This may be a problem. For 1988 still yet another revision has been made to the Tax Reform Act. Your new first mortgage may not qualify as "acquisition indebtedness" because it was not incurred at the time of acquisition. It was incurred later. It may qualify as home equity indebtedness and not treated in the same manner as a first mortgage. The National Association of Realtors is pressing the IRS to preserve the mortgage deductibility in all-cash transactions as they have been. Please check with your accountant. This could be a crucial move.

Chestnut Place Condominiums are ready for occupancy

Rose Corso, sales representative for Century 21 Stanford Agency, and well-known former owner of the Charming Lady Beauty Salon, was given a two-family house on the corner of Chestnut St. and Chestnut Place to market. She came up with what she thought was a realistic price. What she didn't know was that there was structural damage and even though the price was reduced and it was shown to countless people, no one would buy. The sellers, Bill and Pat Smith, were anxious. They wanted an apartment and no more headaches.

As she usually passed the property every day, she naturally took this concern home with her. Her son, an architect, agreed to look at the property to see the extent of the damage. His opinion was to demolish the building.

She had many friends who often said to her, "Rose, if you could find me something smaller I'd sell my big house and move." She talked to her son about this too. At the time, he was working on Chestnut Street and would pass the property several times a day. He came up with the idea that a building with all the features of the Chestnut Place Condominium project would satisfy the needs of many Nutley residents.

The Chestnut Place Condominiums are now ready for occupancy, so please drive by to see the results. Rose will be holding Open House most Sundays.

Century 21 Stanford Agency, located on Union Avenue, Nutley, and Rose are proud to represent this development which they strongly believe is to the benefit of the Nutley community.
