Recycling department expands its program with new drop-off site

The Belleville Recycling Department has announced that their volunteer program is now expanding to place a greater emphasis on both individuals and businesses.

Tin now accepted The department has stated that tin cans are now accepted at the Recycling Yard, located at 48 Wil-liam Street. While tin does not offer a substantial amount of direct revenue to the township, it is a major source to receive extra tonnage figures which assist Belleville in obtaining grants from the state. Tin cans should be kept separate from aluminum cans and other materials. Labels may remain on the cans

Tin joins newspaper, magazines, cardboard, phone books, books, aluminum cans, scrap aluminum, and glass as materials that may be recycled at the yard between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Satur-

Businesses urged to recycle cardboard

The department has recently upgraded their facility for the purposes of expanding its corrugated recycling plan. Many businesses have alreay begun to bring their materials to the yard, and the program is looking for more business materials.

Cardboard provides an adequate price on the market, and offers a great deal of tonnage.

Every ton recycled, and not dumped in a landfill, saves the township $102.50 in fees.

The Recycling Department has stated that during June, figures in both revenue and tonnage sharply increased. The department is urging all township residents who plan to host Fourth of July cookouts, will remember to recycle.

Tin cans, aluminum cans, and glass are especially popular items on July 4th. Soft drinks, beer, and condiments are readily used on this day, and these items may be recyc-

Vandals strike at buses parked at Board of Ed

Vandalism to seven school buses, one being set on fire and six having windows broken, at the Belleville Board of Education complex on the corner of Academy Street and Cortlandt Street is still being investigated by both the Belleville Fire Department and Detective Bureau of the Belleville Police Department.

The fire, which occurred shortly after midnight June 18, began on the passenger seat directly behind the driver's seat, revealed an investigation. A side view mirror, which was ripped off the bus was forwarded to the Detective Bureau for fingerprints. According to Deputy Fire Chief Walter Beresford, there is little doubt the cause of the fire vandalism to buses, a six foot gate is presently being installed to enclose the parking area and the buses will be parked in the center of the lot, not by the fence as had previously

"We have to come up with a plan," explained Belleville Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello. "We're looking at a few things right now."

The damage to the vehicles was not as disruptive to the busing of students as it could have been, according to Nardiello, "We were allright," he said, "because we had half sessions for the final exams. We were able to get double duty, so we had no problems. Had it happened during the school year we would have had a problem.

Kenneth Watson, associate director of the Cerebral Palsy Center said he was very pleased with the grant but it did not come as a great suprise. "We were pretty sure we would get it when we made the request. The people realized the need when we made our proposal."

Applications for the grant had a deadline of December II and the library discovered it had been approved March 29, Bryant said. Spending can begin in July and Bryant said he has already ordered audio/visual equipment that should arrive shortly.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

Vandals struck at Belleville Middle School as well as the Board of Education complex on the same day, Friday, June 18.

The bus fire (see story on page 1) occurred in the early morning hours but the vandalism to the middle school happened that night. Youths were throwing rocks at the school but when police arrived the youths had already fled the scene. An investigation revealed a staircase window on the Holmes Street side was smashed but there was no attempted entry into the school.

A 23 year-old Newark man was arrested and charged with burglary, possession of burglary tools, criminal mischief and receiving stolen property in the early morning hours of June 21.

Daniel Curry was spotted putting a large, black bag into a van on Belmont Avenue. After being stopped by police it was discovered a garage in the rear of the house the van was parked in front of had been broken into by kicking out the panel. The vehicle inside the garage had its door open and contents strewn throughout the garage.

Curry was held on bail and a warrant for his arrest was issued by the Essex County Sheriff's Department.

On June 17 a burglary and theft on Birchwood Drive occurred when the thief ripped a screen window in the rear. Taken from the home was luggage with clothes, a small color television and a compact stereo. Total worth of the property stolen was estimated at $1,200.

Items with an estimated worth of $3,200 was stolen from a house on Forest Avenue June 16. The owner left his home for 45 minutes and when he returned he noticed the side window was opened. A search revealed the bedroom was ransacked and assorted jewelry taken.

Thursday, June 30, 1988

A family returning from a weekend trip discovered their house had been broken into when they returned June 14. There was no apparent forced entry and a search revealed the master bedroom had been ransacked with $434 worth of jewelry stolen.

The overhead emergency lights and bar and radio from a police car were stolen while the car was at Bigelow Motors on Washington Avenue June 16.

On June 20 a town-owned car, a 1985 Plymouth Reliant parked at the Department of Public Affairs, had the left front window smashed and the radio antenna damaged.

A car parked in a lot at Belleville High School had its four tires punctured June 20. The holes appear to have been made by an icepick.

Two Belleville residents were arrested, one for possession of drug paraphernalia and distribution of a controlled dangerous substance, the other for possession of drug paraphernalia June 15.

Police entered a house on Washington Avenue and arrested Nancy Croutch, who was selling valiums and marijuana. John Wasyliw was arrested for paraphernalia.

Quigley reports success at convention

Michael J. Quigley, III, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of First DeWitt Savings, reported an overall atmosphere of success and progress on the part of the delegates to the 79th Annual Convention of the New Jersey Savings League that recently met in Hamilton, Bermuda. The League is the trade group for the state's 139 savings and loan associations and federal savings banks. "Smooth Sailing Into The '90s" was the theme of the meeting.

The delegates from the S&Ls and the savings banks heard reports of continued financial advancement and greatly improved prospects for the coming year. "The profitability of S&Ls in New Jersey from 1985 through 1987 was twice of that of S&Ls in the rest of the country," Mr. Quigley stated.

tion's quoted by Edmund V. Lawlor, Jr., President of the League, and said that in many ways they paralleled the progress underway at First DeWitt and in other ways his Association even surpassed the averages.

Assets of the combined institutions increased by $3-billion to an all-time record of $53.2-billion. In addition, deposits were up by $1.3billion to $40.9-billion, and reserves reached $2.8-billion, up 13 percent.

Mortgage lending followed the pattern reaching a near record $19.7-billion just short of the 1986 record of $21.2-billion, according to Mr. Quigley.

In comparing First DeWitt's progress with the League's averages Mr. Quigley cited a 37 percent increase in mortgage lending at First DeWitt from $246-million in the first quarter of 1987, to $338-million in the equivalent quarter of 1988. Assets, he said, rose 15 percent from $343-million to $396-million in the same period of time. And net income for the first quarter of 1988 alone was over one-million dollars.

In another development, Mr. Quigley stated that he and First DeWitt's Directors fully supported the action by State Banking Commissioner, Mary Parell, in welcoming interstate banking for savings and loans. The new development is in effect for associations in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. The result is that any state chartered thrift in New Jersey can acquire a savings and loan in any of the other three states provided regulatory approval is obtained, and similarly any thrift in those states can enter New Jersey under equal conditions.

Mr. Quigley noted that speakers at the Convention said they could see no recession, sharply higher interest rates or increased unemployment ahead. Forecasts were made that the economic expansion begun in 1982 would continue through 1992. Lawrence A. Kudlow, Chief Economist with Bear Stearns Co., Inc., in addressing the delegates predicted that there would be no moves to increase taxes because that would disturb the steady dollar and steady economy that the administration has been creating through its monetary policy.

Senator Bill Bradley, in addressing the group through a video taped message, denied that the country is in any kind of decline and said that the new administration will need more revenues and less government spending to deal with trade and budget deficits.

The Convention was in session from Monday, June 6th until Wednesday, June 8th.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

A letter dated February 3, 1988 addressed to the Mayor and members of the Belleville governing body was received by Town Clerk Mary Lou Hood who sent copies to the Mayor, the four commissioners, the town council and to town treasurer, Isadore Padula.

The letter was signed by Barry Skokowski, Sr., Director of the Division of Local Government Services. It read: "In a memorandum dated Aug. 28, 1987, I informed all Registered Municipal Accountants that our Deputy Attorney General had advised this division that it could no longer grant extension of time for completion of statutory audits beyond the NJSA 40A:5-4 filing date of May 31. Also, since both state and federal single audits are due at the same time as the statutory audit, the same submission date would apply.

"Henceforth, all audits not filed by the above statutory date become delinquent. Accordingly this division is now compelled to impose appropriate temporary remedial action allowed under statute to cause such 1986 audits outstanding to be performed and submitted post haste.

"In this regard, I must notify you that unless the audit filing requirements of NJSA 40A:5-6 are satisfied forthwith, you shall jeopardize review and approval of your 1988 annual budget pursuant to NJSA 40A:4-76 and 79.

"I thank you for your anticipated cooperation in this matter of mutual concern and in assisting us in carrying out our statutory mandate pursuant to NJSA 40A:4-77.

"Please do not hesitate to contact this office at 609-292-4806 for further information and guidance if necessary. If you have, prior to receipt of this letter, submitted your annual audit to this division, you may disregard this notice. Very truly yours." signed.

Notwithstanding the explicit instruction of the letter, we observe that the published report of the Belleville 1986 audit was advertised in this newspaper only several weeks ago and that the 1987 Nutley Report of Audit has been published in the June 8, 1988 edition of the Nutley Sun. When will Belleville's 1987 Report of Audit be published? It should have been completed by May 31, 1988 pursuant to the instructions of the Director of the Division of Local Government.

Related Arts at high school continues Del Guercio moves up to build and grow beyond expectations to vice principal post the Belleville High School educational experience is that of the vocational offerings to the stu-ents, offerings that have taken on a new meaning in the past few years. It has taken on this meaning for many reasons, most noteably because of a growing need in the workplace for skills taught in the courses and because the department was expanded in 1981, according to Related Arts Supervisor

Victor DePauw. DePauw said the school looked into the possibilities of expanding the department and decided to use the opinions of the students, as well as their own research. After reviewing a catalog of trade schools to see what skills could be expanded upon at a higher level, a questionaire was administered to the students with the four most requested courses, commercial art, cosmotology, carpentry and construction, and automotive, being implemented

These courses are only part of the program, which is divided into three areas, Related Arts, Home Economics and Industrial Arts. These three areas are broken down further to give students specific

"The vocational program pre-pares the student for an occupation," explained DePauw, who has been in the Belleville School System since 1967. "It starts in the 11th grade, offering a two year program. There is no prerequisite.

"If a student, for whatever reason, has not taken any earlier classes, he or she can still have an option," he continued. "We don't freeze them out."

Freezing anyone out does not seem to be a problem as close to 625 students, out of approximately 1,200, have taken vocational classes. DePauw stated the number can be misleading as one student may such as carpentry and architectural

"We're seeing the vocational student more involved," in other school activities, Depauw explained, noting how state wrestling champion Armando Nardone and Senior Class President Antonia Zangari have taken related arts courses. "We see kids go on to college. We see kids go on to trade

A tremendous help in the growth and establishment of related arts has been grants from the government, which has allowed a wing to be built to the high school and for individual programs to be updated. They received $90,000 for the wing itself and $700,000 for the construction. Yearly entitlements are awarded to the school if a need is shown. Because of these entitlements, the school has been able acquire equipment such as the CAD system, an electronic drawing system for the architectural design class, that is used by many businesses.

"We isolate an area a year," said Depauw. "Instead of spreading it out, we find specific needs."

The courses have also offers other benefits. The furniture class has made counters in the print shop because a fire destroyed the previous one. The print shop does most of the in-school flyers and other printed materials, saving the school time and money by not having to go to an outside printer. Senior citizens receive discounts on haircuts by the cosmotology class, repair work by the automotive class and two luncheons by the home economics class are sponsored.

DePauw feels vocational education in Belleville will continue to be on the upswing, an upswing that will hopefully make the program unforgettable.

Belleville Board of Education member Joseph Del Guercio will become the vice principal of Cedar Grove Middle School July 1, leaving a similar post in the West Orange school system.

Del Guercio, who became a member of the Board of Education in April, applied for the position in April and was notified of his acceptance in late May. As he said, he is continueing "to climb all the way up the ladder."

A 1968 graduate of St. Peter's College with a Bachelor of Arts degree, Del Guercio received his Master's degree in Administration from Seton Hall University. He has been very active in both school and public activities, serving on the Athletic Advisory Committee, Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee, Zoning Board, Kiwanis Club, P.T.A. for School 5 and Home and School Associations.

Chandelier hosts party

After the formalities of graduation had transpired last week, with the degrees handed out and the speeches completed, all Belleville graduates were invited to the Chandelier restaurant for a "dry" graduation party.

Over 300 students attended the party, held from 9:00 p.m. to 1 a.m., and were entertained by a live band, "Pinstripes," and treated to a buffet. Many stayed for a short periods of time, while at least 75 stayed the entire evening.

While the party was sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville, chairpersons Donna Branca and Mary Anne Lopreato credited the Appicella family, owners of the Chandelier, for the success of the event.

"While we tried to raise funds for the party, we really couldn't cover the cost of feeding 300 kids," said Lopreato. "Tommy and Eileen (Appicella) really just about donated the entire party."

The party was in conjunction with the Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) program started at the high school this year. Marilyn Mc Cabe, faculty advisor, held one meeting per month to educate the students on the perils of driving while intoxicated. Guest speakers from AA and police addressed assemblies throughout the year and the program climaxed in April with a rally that included guest speakers Steve Mayer (TV-3), Jonathan Bell (Z-100) and Karl Nelson of the Giants. Students signed SADD's Contract for Life with their parents which guaranteed their parents that their child would not drink and

Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone feels the program was immensely successful and has already begun working with Mc Cabe on next year's "Project Graduation." Parents and local merchants are urged to lend sup-

"Any and all donations are most welcome," stated Branca, "since the burden fell on the Appicella family this year. Hopefully, next year the project's finances will be greater and the whole community can help keep our kids sober and safe on Graduation Night."

Local students in Co-op

Three Belleville residents are employed this summer as part of the Cooperative Education pro-gram at Montclair State College. They will be earning college credits, along with a salary and professional experience, through these Co-op positions.

The students are: Frank Tursi, a Math and Physics major, who is employed at Kenn Brinkner; Alphonse A. Veltri, and Industrial Studies major, employed at Wallace & Tiernan Div., and Yulia Efremova, a Biology major, employed at Becton Dickinson.

Cooperative Education is a flexible program in which students work part-time or full-time during a semester or two of their four year couriculum. It is popular with students because they can learn work environments as well as specific tasks. Employers benefit by the program, also, by having motivated students as employees for the sum-

IN YOUR CHILD'S SHOES
For the small child who is stumbling his way to learning to walk, a switch to leather shoes from sneakers may help. Excessive stumbling, however, may be due to a poor fit. Children's sneakers, for the most part, come in only a medium width. For the majority of children with wide feet, this means a compensatory move to large sneakers. The resultant poorer fit may well induce a child to stumble. By contrast, leather shoes provide a more precise fit and greater stability. While sneakers usually have rounded bottoms, shoes provide a child's foot with a flat platform for walking. A limited study of children aged eleven to sixteen months showed sneaker-clad children, on average, to be four times as likely to stumble as children in leather shoes.

OUR OPINION

The day after

As the Class of 1988 received their diplomas last week, it brought to mind a very special occasion, both individually and collectively. Parents and family members felt a certain pride, seeing their child or brother or sister walking up, receiving their diploma and expressing their emotions to it.

Congratulations to the Belleville High School graduating class of 1988 and while their is joy and happiness with finally graduating, there is also a certain sadness in that many of the people seen everyday in the hall will no longer be seen. Good friends will keep in touch, it is the acquaintances that will be missed and become memories.

For some the future is college, for others it is a vocational career or education but for all the future is filled with questions, questions that can not be answered at this time. There is a certain amount of anxiety that comes with graduation but most of all it should be a time of joy, relief and celebration. What the future holds should not become an obsession, it should be viewed as something that will take care of itself because a few years ago the future was graduating from high school and for 319 students the future is now.

There is another graduating class that has a certain importance, that of the graduates of kindergarten. The reason for the importance is that they are the high school graduating class of 2000. For many this may be hard to believe but it is true. Those youngsters who seem so cute and innocent now as five year-olds will lead us into the 21st century.

It is difficult to picture the 21st century, just as it is difficult to imagine these five year-olds as 18 year olds, walking up and receiving their degrees, that is after driving their cars that have been done up to celebrate the occasion. The next time you see a five year-old, either a relative or an unknown youngster playing in the neighborhood, take a look and realize the future is right there in front of your eyes.

Summer heat strikes

With the summer comes at least two things, heat and free time, particularly for students who do not have to go to classes or do any homework. For many, their part-time jobs will remain just that, parttime leaving more time to enjoy themselves, either by going to the beaches, hanging around with friends or for some, just relaxing.

Some people who have this free time seem to use it in less constructive ways. They create a different type of heat, heat created by anger and confusion. With free time and nice weather it is obvious more time is spent outside but some people use this to vandalize and degrade buildings, cars, buses, almost anything that can not strike back at them. The destruction of the school buses at the Board of Education complex is testimony to that fact. For some it may be they are trying to impress someone while for others it is a way to scream out for attention, or at least that is what many psychologists say. Others just have nothing to do and as people say, an unoccupied mind is the Devil's playground. But for whatever reason, the problem still exists and has existed for many

There is no surefire solution to such a problem. Police can patrol the areas where most vandalism occurs but some other section will suffer and no one knows what that will result in. By simply patroling the area, a routine may be figured by the vandals and the assault on the property will occur while the police are patroling another area. Security systems appear to be the best way to stop the situation but for many it is just too

Pressing charges, resulting in strong punishment, may be the most feasible solution. It will not stop all of those who vandalize but it may stop more than a few if they realize that when they are caught they will no longer receive a slap on the wrists. There is no sure fire way of * stopping this problem, a problem that exists everywhere, not just in Belleville, but taking a serous look at it will certainly help.

Not a New Idea

IF THE DEMOCRATIC Party should choose Reverend Jesse Jackson as running mate for Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis at its convention in Atlanta next month, it would not be the first time a black man was singled out for that honor.

In the campaign of 1872 the Equal Rights Party chose feminist leader Victoria Woodhull as its presidential candidate and she persuaded the convention to select Frederick Douglass as her running mate.

Douglass, then 56, was a giant of a man, with a great mane of hair, a booming voice and a rare gift for oratory. Far more colorful than Jackson, in fact, he was a freed slave, the child of a white father and a black mother, who married a black woman in 1838 "For my mother," and after being widowed, a white woman in 1884 "For my father."

As it happened, Douglass was a Republican, and he wanted to give Ulysses S. Grant a second term in the White House, so he spurned the nomination. Just as well, too. Mrs, Woodhull, who was waging an ardent campaign to get voting rights for women, was in jail on election day because of a spectacular libel suit, and her party got a very modest Douglass died in 1895 and Mrs. Woodhull in 1927, meaning she got the benefits of the 19th Amendment, which allowed women to vote as of 1920.

YOUR OPINION

To the Editor:

Keep family atmosphere

We are writing to publically express our appreciation to our Planning Board for its active interest in maintaining the peaceful suburban family atmosphere of Belleville and its firm stand against illegal subdivision in our town.

On June 9 the Planning Board heard a petition from an out-of-town builder (he testified under oath that he is a resident of Bloomfield) for variances to subdivide a 75 ft. lot with a home on it into two 371/2 ft, lots and build a three story, two family house. This would have been illegal on a multitude of counts, including area, density, width, number of stories, curb cut, etc.

Twenty-four people representing eleven homes on Gless Avenue and Newark Place attended the hearing to show neighborhood unity in seeking the support of the Board to preserve our quiet suburban, non-business environment our homes presently enjoy and protect us from exploitation by this Bloomfield builder who could build a profitable building and then leave us long-time residents with all the problems. The families attending have all been neighborhood residents for 15 to 65 years.

Residents voiced concern over the parking crisis, overcrowding, fire-hazard (the only hydrant on the block is frequently parked in), flooding, noise pollution, and a general deterioration of our sub-urban neighborhood into an inner

The Board are to be applauded for their courage and honesty in upholding the law by unanimously rejecting this proposal. We would like all the residents of Belleville to be aware of what a wonderful resource our town has cerned and dedicated Planning Board interested in suppor-

Our deepest thanks go to Chairman Joseph Doyle and members Frank Simeone, Edward Heibert, Chris Albanese, Kevin Kennedy, Alois Schmitt and Niles Monica.

"Thanks" to everyone

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Belleville Rescue Squad, the Paramedics, and also the police, for their fast and efficient service they gave my husband, all the times they were needed.

I also would like to thank the staff and all the nurses and doctors at Clara Maass Hospital. They did their best to make him comfortable and had so very much patience with him.

Many thanks and many blessings to all of these people. Again I say "Thank You."

Tired of taxes

Enough is enough! In reading last week's Belleville Times I was appalled to discover that the taxpayers of Belleville are going to be hit with another tax increase for the 1988-1989 tax

I was even more dismayed to read that 67 percent of the tax was for garbage pickup, a fact that should have every condominium owner who pays a maintenance fee for garbage pickup "up in arms."

Furthermore, in an informal survey, it was revealed that condominium owners are being penalized for their ownership in that they are paying higher taxes for a four or five room unit than for a bi-level house.

It appears that the township of Belleville has struck a goldmine in the building of condominiums in that it receives a great deal of income from it's residents without having to provide garbage or snow removal.

It is time that we and our surrounding neighbors unite and take a stand regarding the unjust practice of paying for services we do not receive.

'Who Framed Roger Rabbit?' a must-see

AT $50 MILLION "Who Framed Roger Rabbit" is the most expensive movie ever made by the Walt Disney organization so big, in fact, they are teamed with Steve Spielberg's Amblin' Entertainment and Silver Screen Partners, a public risk financing group.

But not to worry. Despite the shortcomings of its screenplay, it is such a brilliant technical achievment that it can only be described as awesome, and a must-see for all but the youngest filmgoers.

We have all seen commercials or movie sequences in which humans interact with animated figures. In fact the technique goes back to the early 1900's and the on-screen magic of Georges makers. But this is beyond anything previously attempted.

Melles and other pioneer French film

The characters who work in animated films are known here as toons and confined to a ghetto of Los Angeles called Toon Town, on the wrong side of the Pacific Red Car trolley tracks, where nice people seldom go.

Toons, in fact, are employed because their antics sell tickets and they can survive endless violence, but you wouldn't want your sister to marry one.

When the movie opens it is 1947 and Roger Rabbit (Voice of Charles Fleischer) is shooting a typically violent 1940's cartoon with Baby Herman. Brilliantly executed, too, with techniques the animators really didn't have that long ago.

But Roger is preoccupied and it shows in his work. The head of the studio, R.K. Maroon (Alan Tilvern), hires a typical low budget 1940's private eye, Eddie Valiant (Bob Hoskins), to follow Roger's sexpot toon wife, Jessica (Voice of Kathleen Turner), and see if she is having an

Murder most foul

She is having what passes for an affair between a human and a toon, with Marvin Acme (Stubby Kaye), the practical joke king, and when Maroon shows Roger the resulting pictures, the poor rabbit is totally distraught.

Pretty soon Acme is found dead, killed in typical toon fashion, with a 1,000-pound safe dropped on him. Naturally Roger is the prime suspect, and forced into hiding.

He appeals to Valiant to help clear him, even though Valiant has a strong aversion to toons, and it is cat-and-mouse, with a vicious head hunter, Judge Doom (Christopher Lleyd,) and his corps of toon weasels hot on the trail and determined to dispense brutal justice.

Toons, you see, are generally unkill-able, but since they are the product of an artist's handiwork, a mixture of paint removers, when heated and used as a dip, can cause them to permanently disappear, and Doom has a portable dip unit.

Valiant goes to work, with Hoskins doing a brilliant job, since he had to react to and talk with invisible or non-existent creatures as his scenes were shot. Needless to say, everything comes to a satisfactory conclusion, but not without a goodly measure of suspense.

The script by Jeffrey Price and Peter S. Seaman is built on a structure of cliches, but that's okay, because it is peppered with some very sophisticated jokes, and quite a few inside gags involving life in L.A. that may not play in Peoria. Betty Boop, Yosemite Sam, Mickey Mouse, Donald and Daffy Duck, Bugs Bunny, Goofy, Clarabelle Cow, Dumbo, Porky Pig and assorted other well known toons have cameo roles, but it is the technology that blows us all away

A piano duet by Daffy and Donald Duck is a highlight of the film.

Totally awesome, as the toons interact so wonderfully with humans, even down to throw-away bits that would be simple, commonplace and cost-free in an ordinary movie, but mighty costly given this style of production.

Bob Zemeckis, who started his directorial career under Spielberg's aegis with "I Wanna Hold Your Hand," a delightful (but financially unsuccessful paean to The Beatles), and went on to make "Back To The Future" and "Romancing The Stone," is the man who held all this together:

He is probably already firmly commited to there being NO "Part II," at least with him at the helm. After 14 months on this one, he was probably ready for the rubber room.

Even if the big laughs are few and far between in its 96-minute running time, and the story does have a rather feeble wrapup, this is nevertheless a rare movie experience. After a few minutes you are inclined to accept the toons as real people. It is playing at The Clairidge in Montclair and other area theaters.

'Red Heat' not cool

Mark Tri-Star's "Red Heat" as another miss in the early summer crop of movies. Some how it fails to come together despite a lot of good talents and one of writer-director Walter Hill's tried and true plot lines.

When Hill used a similar story line in "48 Hours" with Eddie Murphy and Nick Nolte, it worked to a fare-thee-well. But neither of his current stars (Arnold Schwarzenegger and Jim Belushi) is Eddie Murphy, and there isn't a whole lot of chemistry between them, anyway.

But that isn't even all that is wrong with this film. It is set in Chicago and the nation's second city is made to be unrelentingly grim, decadent and violent, photographed in a dark and gloomy fashion by Matthew Leonetti, creating the mood of a real downer.

How the Chicago Film Commission came to lend them as much support as it did, given the script, is something of a mystery, because tourist business it isn't going to bring in. They also got cooperation to shoot extensive sequences in Moscow, too, and if the Russkis have a film commission, it might also be having some misgivings right about now.

It's a manhunt

It starts out on a snowy night in Moscow when Captain Ivan Danko (Schwarzenegger) of the City Militia (the police) leads a raid on a cocaine ring and loses one of his colleagues in a bloody shootout. And lest you think that couldn't happen there, be assured it can and does, occasionaly. The Soviet union has not been spared from the drug problem that has swept the rest of the world.

The ringleader and a couple of his chums escape on false passports to the U.S. and the militia sends Danko, its own version of Dirty Harry, in hot pursuit

His chaperone in Chicago is Art Ridzik (Belushi), who is about as interested in rules and regulations as Danko is, and off they go, trashing the city and its underworld denizens.

Perhaps the most grotesque sequence of all (and there are plenty) is the climactic chase through heavily trafficked city streets in two huge buses. It is mindless mayhem that makes the strongest of us cringe.

It is grim, ugly, violent and hardly ever funny. Not recommended.

Thomas C. Gryczka, 84 (RELIGIOUS VIEWPOIN

One Nation Under God Pastor Gerald A. Fortunato Silver Lake Baptist Church

At the close of the solemn pledge of our flag, there is a small and simple phrase. Its words are often stated without much thought, but these words run deep into the founding and forging of our nation. This phrase is "...one nation under God." It is hard for us today, living in our routine and organized society, to imagine the struggle and sacrifices our forefathers made. A driving force that compelled them to carry on was their deep faith in God and close ties of their

As we look back to the first settlers of the continent, we find the basic principles of liberty brought over with them. These simple people journeyed to an unknown land to escape the oppression of their government and to worship their God as they wished.

As we follow the development of our nation, we see this spirit maintained throughout many trials. Even in revolution our faith was never broken, for the Declaration of Independence was concluded "with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence."

Today, I feel America's prosperity can be attributed to the hand of God. The greatest strength of American democracy lies not in its economics, but in the morals and ethics of her people. As people, we consider each other as God's greatest creation and not just an instrument to be used for the benefit of the government like Communism does. Communism is spreading throughout the world reducing its victims to mere puppets whose strings are pulled by the government.

The menace is attempting to enter American society, today. We must realize the importance of adhering to one's morality, for the primary goal of Communism is to convince the people to turn away from these basic principles. I do have faith in the American people and do believe as John Hancock stated before signing the Constitution — "The powers reserved by the people (under the Constitution) render them secure, and until they themselves become corrupt, they will always have able and upright leaders.

We should all take time to reflect on our good fortune and appreciate the fact that we are a great nation, and God is watching over us. With these principles in our hearts, I feel America will sustain liberty, justice, and greatness forever as long as she abides by God's great truth.

Higgings a perfect 4.0

For Rita Higgins, the road to a college degree was frequently detoured by work obligations, travel and independent study.

But once the 1988 valedictorian at Essex County College finally set out to continue her education, there was no stopping the lifelong Belleville resident. In June, Higgins graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade point average and an Associate in Arts degree in Liberal Arts.

In September, the 37-year-old Higgins will begin study for her bachelor's degree at either Rutgers University or Montclair State College. Not content to stop at the undergraduate level, she plans to pursue a doctorate in the humanities and then enter the teaching profession.

Higgins admits that her determination to excel was not always so clearly defined, describing herself as a "disillusioned" high school student with little interest in earning high grades. Following her graduation from Belleville High School in 1970, she opted for fulltime work interspersed with a few college courses and personal study that reflected her broad interest in the arts and philosophy.

Those interests took her to India for two visits during the 1970's to study eastern religion and metaphysics. In 1796, she also completed a one-year dental technician program at a college in California but after a hospital internship decided the field was not for her.

Throughout her varied work experience, which has included teaching astrology at a local adult school and jobs as a secretary, typesetter, and manager of an art kiosk, Higgins has always demonstrated an enthusiasm for learning. She enjoys dabbling in different art mediums, plays the flute, acts in local theater and enjoys writing poetry and drama. "So many subjects interest me," she says, "but I know I definitely want to teach."

Higgins credits ECC with helping renew her interest in returning to college and has nothing but praise for its faculty, staff and students.

When she enrolled at Essex two years, Higgins resumed an associa-tion with the county college that dated back to 1970. Her sister was a member of ECC's first graduating class and Rita attended classes briefly in 1972 and again as a parttime student in 1981.

"The teaching at Essex is excell-ent and there is a warmth and enthusiasm exhibited by faculty and students that I never found at the other colleges I attended," Higgins said.

At Essex, Higgins was inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa honor society for two-year colleges and became an active recruiter for the county college. "I wish ECC offered graduate degrees so I wouldn't have to leave," she said.

In presenting the valedictory address to the Class of 1988, Higgins praised her fellow graduates for the "unselfishness" and "for daring to envision a better world." "It is up to each of us to make our earth the way we really want it to be. Getting a good education is essential for setting the groundwork for effective action in the future." She also reminded her classmates that "although we have goals, let us not forget that it is the journey and the people we meet along the way that make up a person's life and not just the end product of one's own endeavors."

Higgins will now set out on yet another journey. She will continue her education inside and outside the classroom ... just as she's been doing for the past 20 years. And she doesn't doubt that she'll discover some new areas of study along the way to her next degree.

Kelly and Crecco have urged Speaker Hardwick to act promptly because there is a possibility that an additional surcharge will be levied upon insured motorists of the Garden State by

"We are aware of the opinion that no further increases in auto insurance be applied to New Jersey motorists and prompt passage of Assembly bill 3020 will insure this action," said Crecco.

Both Senate and Assembly leaders have promised round-the-clock legislative sessions to rectify the soaring car insurance costs currently imposed on New Jersey drivers. Both houses agree on a goal of reducing auto insurance costs by approximately $300.

Both Kelly and Crecco have previously stated that there has been a severe breakdown within the state's auto insurance system and that a restructuring of the current rates and regulations is absolutely mandatory.

Russo announces plan for garbage tax relief

Senate President John R. Russo and Senator William Gormley on Wednesday announced a bipartisan plan designed to reduce the use of nonbiodegradable plastic containers and provide direct tax relief to homeowners struggling to meet higher garbage disposal costs.

Under the proposal, a 2-cent tax would be imposed on all single-use plastic food containers as well as nonbiodegradable plastic containers that are 6 ounces or larger.

Styrofoam coffee cups, fast food hamburger containers, and plastic bleach bottles and milk jugs are just a few examples of the thousands of everyday items that would be affected.

Of the $120 million raised during the first year of the program, $100 million would be targeted to communities for property tax relief to cover spiraling garbage disposal costs that have increased 300 percent or more in some New Jersey municipalities in the past year.

Another $5 million would be dedicated during the first year of the program for research on plastics recycling. The remaining $15 million would be set aside for low-interest loans to communities to defray costs of constructing new solid waste disposal facilities.

"The growing consumer reliance on throwaway plastics is a major cause of the garbage crisis," Senator Russo said. "This plan will reduce the amount of plastic waste generated in the future while providing the property tax relief that residents are demanding today."

"The real winners in this compromise are the taxpayers of this state who have been hit with huge increases in garbage costs," noted Senator Gormley, R-Atlantic. "This legislation will help us put the solid waste crisis behind us."

The program represents a compromise combining aspects of separate bills already introduced by Senators Russo and Gormley.

Senator Gormley's proposal, S. 2460, and Senator Russo's bill, S. 126, which are pending before the Senate Energy & Environment Committee, will be combined to specify that funds raised by the tax will be dedicated to the Russo rate shock relief program, research and low-interest loans for solid waste facilities.

Specifically, the program would allocate $100 million from the plastics' tax for property tax relief in the first year, $50 million in the second year and $25 million in the third year. The goal is to cushion the property tax burden caused by higher trash costs over the next three years until alternative solid waste disposal facilities open.

Under the program, the state would reserve the option of doubling the tax to 4 cents per container in 1992 if it is determined that the plastics tax is not doing enough to discourage retailers and consumers from purchasing products in non-

If that action is taken, the plastics revenues would continue to be used to support solid waste programs identified by the Legislature.

Senator Russo's garbage rate shock bill, S. 2281, which would distribute $100 million to communities using a per-capita formula was scheduled to be voted on by the General Assembly on Thursday, June 22. The legislation specifies the state aid must be used for property tax relief.

"Now that we have bipartisan support in the Senate on a funding source for the garbage rate shock legislation, I would hope the Assembly would act favorably on this important consumer measure," Senator Russo said.

A calculator for Jim?

With reference to Jim Golden's "Golden" comments of 23/88...He may not need a Personal Computer like myself, but definitely a calculator to add and subtract. However, that is not what I primarily want to comment on Just his (negative) viewpoint expressed as a columnist in the last paragraph, regarding the Reagan era, quoting comments from the Amalgamated Transit Union. I guess he belonged to that union during his days as a bus driver for PS&G and perhaps still is getting their publications.

From Mr. Golden's quote, they apparently are of the opinion that the Reagan era was a uniquely anti-labor period Jim Golden agrees with them. What do you expect. He wouldn't THINK different. Anything put out as "anti Reagan' he is 100% in favor, even if the FACTS dispute the position. Well, as he says, that is a columnist's perogative. And that also has a good side, because it gives me as a "columnist" the opportunity to give my viewpoint in rebuttal (for Jim's information, before I "retired" a few years ago, my commentaries were published in a major daily newspaper, distributed nationally)

The Reagan "anti-labor" era started off with his firing of the air traffic controllers, holding the public "hostage," the favorite tactic of unions, totally disregarding the economic havoc they are inflicting on their fellow citizens, not to mention their safety in the air, and all this in defiance of federal laws we live by. It is my viewpoint, President Reagan is not the primary cause of the tremendous drop in union membership. It is the public at large, finally turning their backs on the unions, denying us a most basic freedom, the individual freedom of choice, in this case the individual freedom of choice to accept a job offer or to refuse.

After 5 years of active submarine warfare to protect also your freedom, Jim, my freedom of choice was denied when I came to this country to join my family, with some union goons telling me I couldn't work because my employer didn't want to fatten their coffers with our hard earned dollars. And I certainly didn't want to do that. Talk about rude awakening in this land of the free and the home of the brave! It sure made me THINK, Jim.

Against recall

Rumors are out they are starting a recall movement against our newly elected commissioners. Joe Fornoratto and Vinnie Frantantoni are doing a good job and making many improvements that had been neglected by past administrators.

There are a few rabble rousers, looking for revenge because they were not elected, starting trouble for their own political gain. We can put them in the same category as Reverend Sharpton.

If we lose Fornarotto or Frantantoni it will be a hell of a setback for this town. I'm sure the taxpayers of this town will not allow this to happen.

To the Editor:

Mr. James Golden, columnist, This is the last time I promise! May I steal a line from you, Jim? I shall not use the word "distorted," because you do

Belleville "For Sale"

For the last month, we have read in your "Letters to the Editor" many letters, and the majority have had nothing to do with the welfare or the good thinking towards our town. When is this going to stop!

No question, there are many serious problems effecting our town and by fighting each other, won't solve any of these problems. One serious problem I have noticed is a serious one — and should be looked into. Have all of us noticed the "For Sale" signs on each block. Houses have been put up for sale all over town. Why, some street blocks have from two to four homes for sale and no one, absolutely no one, is doing a thing about this tragic situation.

Wouldn't it be a good idea if the Mayor and Commissioners each individually visited these properties for sale and try to find out and give us true feelings and answers as to why! why! Of course, the main reason is high taxes, but perhaps in one of their people-on-people visits they might be able to help give suggestions on how to help these people.

Let's read about this situation by having our politicans call for an interview by all the local newspaper reporters to give good reasons as to why so many families who have lived in this town for many, many years, have suddenly been forced to sell their homes, due to unfortunate circumstances beyond their control.

Remember — if each commissioner has an interest in this problem, please, give your interview to the newspapers and not send an article to "The Editor" page. We have serious problems in this town, and let's address ourselves to these problems, instead going astray to a lot of

Belleville Times SPORTS

One season is over, but another has just began for Belleville baseball. Instead of the Belleville Buccaneers, it's the Belleville American Legion baseball team that will take to the varsity diamond during the summer months. The Legioneers opened the 1988 campaign back on June 13 and have played well in the early

The head coach is Frank Stanco, Jr., a Belleville native. He is assisted by Jim Landon and Michael Thompson, Sr. Landon was formerly the head coach of the legion team, running the show back in the Summer of 1985.

The team has a number of players who just completed varsity ball at Belleville High School. This past season, the Buccaneers were 17-10 and won a share of the NNJIL championship for the second straight season. In addition to the varsity players, there are some former Belleville stars and a Barringer High School standout who should add additional strength to an already strong

The returning varsity players are Jay Marchese, Jeff Spilsbury, Michael Thompson, Michael Finan, Vincent Orrei, Frank Orrei, Paul Grande, Anthony Rodriguez and Steven Tice. A junior varsity player, Chris Canarella is on the summer roster.

Finan, who will be a senior this fall at BHS, went down with a thumb injury late in the varsity season and he is still on the mend. Stanco is hoping that have his bat and defensive prowess back in two weeks.

Art Caruso, Rich Ferrugia and Jason Nardachone, three freshman players this past season, will see action this summer on the legion team. Former Belleville High School standouts Jon Nardachone and Jamie Galioto will add their experience and talent to the roster.

Rounding out the team is Albert Maldonado, a Barringer High School standout who earned All County and All State honors. Maldonado will be a senior at Barringer in the fall and has a bright future in store. He is an excellent all around athlete who has fit in well with his new teammates at Belleville this summer.

Heading into this week, the team had a record of 6-2-1. They were 2-2-1 in their division of the American Legion, Last Monday, Belleville was defeated by Nutley, 5-4 in an exciting game at Nutley. Marchese drilled two homers for Belleville, but it wasn't enough to gain the victory.

Belleville's wins in their division have come against Cedar Grove, 3-0 and Caldwell, 10-7. The victory over Caldwell was especially gratifying because Caldwell is the defending legion

Belleville's other defeat in division play has come to Bloomfield. According to Stanco, Bloomfield might be the best team in

This weekend, Belleville travels to Secaucus to compete in the Meadowlands Invitational, a prestigious statewide legion tournament. Belleville's first round opponent is Secaucus, and the game is scheduled for tomorrow night at Kean Stadium at 6:30 p.m.

Good luck to Coach Stanco and his team this summer in legion play. The Times will carry weekly coverage, beginning in this

MARCHESE, SPILSBURY HEAD POST SEASON HON-

Jay Marchese and Jeff Spilsbury led the way for Belleville High School in post season accolades for their fine seasons in varsity baseball. Marchese earned first team All County, All Area and All Group IV. He was named second team, All State. Marchese was recognized for his fine season at third base. The just graduated senior will move on to Rutgers University in the fall. He will join former Belleville High standout Jim Dunphy, who had a good year at Rutgers this past season.

Spilsbury finished second team All County, All Area and All Group IV. The shortstop played three years of varsity ball for Belleville High. He will attend Iona College next fall.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

In two weeks, we will begin a 15 years of womens athletics at Belleville High School.

In the early 1970's, there weren't many opportunities for women to compete in varsity athletics on the high school level in this area. The basketball program had just begun to take shape and the softball team was active in Big 10 play. However, as most of you know, a lot has changed from the early 70's to the present.

Today, high school women can compete in volleyball, gymnastics, tennis, cross country, basketball, indoor track, bowling, softball, outdoor track and crew. Obviously, it has come a long way, and there has been a ton of success on the local level from our

How did the programs become so successful? Will the future be as good? These are questions we'll ask to those coaches and players who helped to shape those first 15 years.

If you, the reader, has anything to add to this feature, I'll be more than glad to listen. Once again, feel free to call me at the Belleville Times, 759-3200, or drop me a line.

HEADLINES

Two headlines filled the sports pages last week. Billy Martin was fired, again, as Yankee manager and Michael Spinks earned $13.5 million for :91 of work. Both headlines are kind of sad. The Martin issue has become so tiresome and so boring that it's not even worth mentioning, except that the hope is the Yankees will stop embarrasing themselves and stick to the business on the field. Lou Pinella is a manager who knows the game thoroughly. Leave him alone and let him do the job.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Before this past season, the last three times the NBA finals went the full seven games was in 1984, 1978 and 1974. In 1984, the Celtics beat the Lakers, in '78 it was Washington over Seattle and in '74, it was the Celtics defeating the Milwaukee Bucks.
FOR THIS WEEK

We now know that the L.A. Lakers are the dominant team of the 80's in terms of championships and the Boston Celtics were the team of the 60's for winning NBA titles. Which team won the most NBA crowns in the 1970's.

American Legion looks to continue early success in Secaucus tournament

It's been a busy summer thus far for the Belleville American Legion baseball team. Last week, Belleville defeated Cedar Grove, 10-7 and lost an exciting game to rival Nutley, 5-4 last Monday. Belleville took a 6-2-1 record into this weeks action. The Legioneers battled a powerful team from South Orange last night. This evening, the team is at West Orange in a 6 p.m. start. Should Belleville win the game with Secaucus, it would play a second tournament contest on Sunday. Should it lose, it would play on Saturday afternoon. Next Tuesday, Belleville battles Milburn on the

The head coach of the team is Frank Stanco, Jr. Also on the coaching staff is Michael Thompson and Jim Landon, Landon managed the club back in 1985 and did a solid job.

"We've been pretty busy so far," Stanco said last week. "The kids have played well. We have a talented team this season. There are four kids on the roster who made All County honors this year and two of those kids were also on the All State team. There are some good ball players here."

The roster has a number of familiar names on it. A number of players on the team were mainstays on the 1988 Belleville Buccaneer team that won a share of the NNJIL championship.

Those players are Jay Marchese, Jeff Spilsbury, Mike Thompson, Vin Orrei, Mike Di Biase, Frank

Orrei, P.J. Grande, Steven Tice, Anthony Rodriguez and Michael Finan.

Former Belleville standouts Jon Nardachone and Jamie Galioto are on the legion roster this summer. Chris Canarella, a fine junior varsity player in 1988, is on the roster. Players who competed on the freshman roster this past spring at Belleville include Jason Nardachone, Rich Ferrugia and Art Caruso.

Rounding out the roster is all state hurler, Albert Maldonado. While Maldonado didn't attend Belleville High, his name is some-what familiar to Belleville baseball

It was Maldonado who pitched against Belleville for Barringer in a memorable GNT game last May. Belleville won the game in 13 innings, 9-8, but Maldonado's perThe junior struck out 19 batters and pitched the entire ball game.

"We're glad to have Albert on the team," Stanco said. "He is certainly a tremendous athlete and the kids really enjoy having him here. He does so many things well out on the field. He's a great kid to work with, too."

Belleville battled Nutley last Monday and lost a tough game, 5-4. "We had our chances," Stanco said. "We got the hits, but couldn't group them when we needed them most. Jay (Marchese) played a tremendous game. I can't say enough about him. He just does a solid job every time out. He's a super talent.

Marchese drilled two mammoth homers for Belleville. His first shot came in the first inning and gave

First season of fall volleyball has big results in 1982, girls post 16-6 mark

We officially begin the summer season with the return of "Flashback". This is a series of articles, run during the summer months, which looks back at some of the biggest moments in Belleville High sports history. It's a chance to remember some of the former BHS greats and some of their accomplishments.

This week, we start with an article that appeared in the October 7, 1982 issue. The topic is the Belleville volleyball team. Led by coach Grace Worley, the team was beginning its first season of fall volleyball. The program began in the spring of 1980 and played spring ball until the 1982 season, when Belleville entered the NNJIL and left its independent status. The girls had limited success in the spring of '80, '81 and '82, but the move to fall volleyball had big

Some of the girls who couldn't play spring volleyball because of committments to other spring sports were able to play fall volleyball and the program at Belleville High began to gain momentum. It was the 1982 team that began the fine tradition of winning that currently exists at Belleville High in volleyball today.

After getting off to a slow start, the Belleville volleyball team regrouped to down conference rival Bloomfield and in the process, boosted its team record to 4-0.

It was a tough week of action for Worley's Wizards. On Monday, Paterson Kennedy was in town and yesterday, the girls traveled to Nutley. This afternoon, it's off to Benedictine Academy and tomorrow, the girls return home to face Passaic in a 3:45 p.m. start. For Grace Worley and her team, things got off to a very shaky start against the Bengals of Bloomfield.

"We were beaten pretty badly in the first set," the coach said, referring to the 6-15 pasting the Bengals administered the local girls. "We were down 8-12 in the second set, but we toughened up and won that

The girls rallied for the last seven points of the second set to win, 15-12. The third set was much easier as Belleville used its talented lineup to the maximum in a 15-4 win.

"We should have done that in the first set," commented Worley about the third set win. "We made some adjustments in the offense and defense after the first set. Basically, we were just flat, but it was good to see the girls come

As has been the case all season players throughout the game.

"I've been going with them all year long, I don't want to change the formation now," she said. They adjusted well after we fell behind and worked well together."

Faith Adams and Debbie Worley were the key players in the third set clincher. Adams did a strong job in the hitter position and Worley, playing at the setter position, made two marvelous plays, "body slide dig," according to Worley. Allison Burden made a key play in the third set and Donna Chirico "took charge of the third game, she did a strong job.'

Kathy Wood and Tracy Buono, two first year players, rounded out the girls' starting rotation.

We have a tough week coming up," Worley said about this weeks schedule. "We're going to have to be up and ready for all four matches. The key to volleyball is good serving. If we get tha from our players, and I think we can, then we'll do okay.

Net Notes: The JV team is also undefeated, with a 4-0 record. The girls play a "bumping" game, according to their coach, and are led by Cheri Phelps, a freshman whom Worley has high hopes for. "She has been our main hitter and long, Worley stayed with her top six has a good defensive and offensive

Phelps has abeen mentioned as a possible varsity player this season, but Worley does not want to change her very successful lineup. A big game to circle on your calender will be the Montclair contest on October 14 at BHS. Don't forget, the girls opened the season with a stunning upset over the powerful Mounties, "They haven't lost since that match," said Worley. "I understand they made some adjustments since playing us and are vastly improved. It should be a battle."

EDITORS NOTES: The 1982 club ended the year with a 16-6 mark. The girls finished second in the NULL to The second in t the NNJIL to Paterson Kennedy. Since '82, Belleville has posted some phenominal records. In 1985 and '86, the girls advanced to the state semi finals before losing. The team has been at the top of the NNJIL for the past two seasons and Worley should have another strong entry come this September.

For the remainder of this summer, we'll back back in time to look back at past heroes and great teams of Belleville sports history. We'll go as far back as the 1940's to Congratulations to all the players who earned post season honors at Belleville this spring.

Nutley tallied twice in the bot-tom of the first to gain a 2-1 lead. Belleville came back with a run in the second when Vincent Orrei singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Rodriguez.

when Galioto grounded out to second base,

In the top of the seventh, Belleville staged a rally by putting runners on second and third base with one out. However, Marchese was struck out and the final out was recorded on a ground out. Against Caldwell last Friday, Belleville won a wild game, 10-7. Thompson was the starting pitcher, but Rodriguez got the victory in relief. Marchese led the offensive attack with a home run.

Stanco was expecting a tough game with South Orange yesterday.

"They have a veteran team," the coach said. "They will be tough, but I think our kids will respond. We'll go with Frank Orrei in the game and take it from there."

Stanco is also optimistic about his team playing in the Meadowlands Invitational Tourna-

"This is an honor for us to be in the tournament," Stanco said. "It's the first time we've been invited. There will be some real good teams

Kiwanis Club annual picnic

The Belleville Kiwanis Club held its annual picnic at the Cerebral Palsy Center in town last week and despite the threat of rain it was once again a tremendous success.

All patients of the facility and faculty members were treated to hamburgers, hot dogs, potato chips, ice cream and soda. Added attractions included a clown who painted faces and balloons for the patients donated by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

It was the fifth year for the Kiwanis-sponsored picnic as the local chapter picked up the event after Essex County dropped the event. According to Kiwanis mem-ber John Ianuzzi, the county discontinued the gathering as a cost-cutting move when the county budget was being cut. Since the Kiwanis Club has always lent a helping hand to the center, the club decided to keep the picnic alive.

"They have always been friends of the center," said Director Kenneth Watson.

"I painted the fence in 1962 when I first joined for my initiation, explained Ianuzzi. Along with the picnic and small chores the local chapter also sponsors a Christmas Party for the center.

Pizzi said Police Chief George Lister voiced concerns about the feast because last year there were fincidents described as "life threatening." A new master plan

Members of the Planning Board and Zoning Board of Adjustment, along with consultant Grace Harris from The Planning Association of North Jersey, discussed with the Commissioners the plans for updating the master plan of the town during the pre-meeting.

Harris and Planning Board
Chairman Joseph Doyle explained the Municipal Land Use Law states every six year an evaluation and update of the master plan must be done. Total cost of the update was estimated at $15,000.

Frantantoni asked if the update, creating new land usages will be based on what the situation is, or how the town administrators would like the town. Harris said both boards would express ideas to the her and she would tell the results to the town if those ideas became

Asbestos workers picket

Striking asbestos workers picket-ing outside at least one school in town should not delay the removal of the substance from Belleville Schools, according to Belleville Business Administrator Edward Appleton.

Non-union employees worked in School 4 in Silver Lake Tuesday as union workers from Local 32 picketed outside. The company hired for the removal, L & C Europa Inc., will do four other town schools before the summer is completed.

"Not to my knowledge," replied Appleton when asked if there would be a delay. "I spoke to their consultant and he said there is a representative on the site and there should be no delays."

Appleton said equipment was moved in last Friday and picketers did not arrive until Tuesday. George Zorovich, the business agent of International Association of Heat and Frost Insulation Asbestos Workers, said it was a community strike, to make people aware.

"We are the recognized people for doing this," said Zorovich. We've been doing this for 80 years. We want to make sure the work is being done properly.

Appleton said L& CEuropa had given him a proposed time schedule for the work on all the schools to be completed. "They may take a little longer on one (school) and less time on another," but work is expected to be completed by the end of July or early August, he said.

L& CEuropa, a contracting firm located in Garfield, was one of three seperate companies awarded bids for the removal of asbestos in Belleville schools. They are being paid $108,149 for the work, while Duall Inc. made a bid of $42,250 and Niram Inc. $155,420.

The asbestos removal was state mandated and must be completed by September when the school district will be evaluated by the New Jersey Board of Education.
