AT THE BREAKING POINT — The owner of this car has had two cars hit by drunken drivers within the past year. To help get the message across to everyone about the dangers of drunk driving, he put the sign, which reads: "This is the second time my car has been ruined by DWI" on the car. ## Sewage pipeline repairs approved by Board of Commissioners

A resolution to repair sewage pipeline on Essex Street was approved by the Belleville Board of Commissioners at a special meeting held Monday night in Town Hall.

The board withdrew a resolution applying for funding to repair four streets, passed a resolution for a bike auction and postponed a decision on a renewal of a liquor license for "Alberta's" on Washington Avenue.

Work on Essex Street is needed because of cracks in the 250 foot pipeline. Videotape was taken of 75 feet of the line and showed damage but it is uncertain if the entire pipe will have to be replaced. An agreement was made stating if the pipe does not need repair at a certain point it will not be done.

Thirty thousand dollars was allocated in an emergency appropriation for the work, with between $600-700 being for professional engineering services from Neglia Engineering. The remaining money will be used for the work. Commissioner of Public Works

Angelo Risoli and Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni said the money allocated will be enough for the entire 250 feet to be redone.

A resolution which would have approved making an application to the New Jersey Department of Transportation (DOT) for funds for improvements on Malone Avenue, Overlook Avenue and Tappan Avenue was withdrawn for fear it would affect another application.

At the August 9 meeting the commissioners passed a resolution requesting funds from the DOT for three streets, Joralemon Street, Greylock Parkway and Rutgers Place. Joralemon Street was broken down into two sections, from Union Avenue to Passaic Avenue and Passaic to Morce Place. Greylock is from Washington Avenue to Union Avenue and Rutgers is from Washington to Hornblower Avenue.

"Since we are well over the amount allowed already and I don't want to jeopardize the other four, I withdraw the resolution," stated Risoli. He said they may be able to acquire money for the streets through Community Development Block Grants.

The town received approximately $350,000 this year from the DOT and the four projects approved will cost $479,000. The other three streets would bring an extra $216,000 to the request.

"Do we jeopardize getting any money because we're too greedy? I

Judge gives option

Inspector Fornarotto takes leave of absence

By Pat Brightman

Belleville Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto has taken a leave of absence from his position as Belleville Housing Inspector after a Superior Court Judge gave him the option in a hearing Tuesday in Newark.

Judge Charles Villanueva gave Fornarotto the choice of giving up his commission seat or his inspection job after finding the two incompatible.

Fornarotto's attorney, Marvin Waxman, said they would comply with the order and said he had not discussed appealing the decision with the commissioner.

Neither Waxman nor Fornarotto gave a specific date as to when he would leave his inspection position, saying they wanted an "orderly transfer." Waxman said it was subject to Civil Service stipulations as to how long Fornarotto could take a leave of absence.

"The people elected me and I will continue to represent the people," stated Fornarotto after the decision. "The people need representation."

Fornarotto was elected commissioner last year and has been a housing inspector since 1985.

Villanueva issued a 19-page judgement last week after the hearing July 29. At the end of testimony from Waxman and Belleville Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli last month, Villanueva said he wanted more time to review the case before coming to a decision.

Cozzarelli was not present at the hearing Tuesday as Villanueva stated in the judgement Mayor Michael Pizzi had no right to call for a filing for a declaratory judgement as mayor but he did as a private citizen. Pizzi was present Tuesday with his own attorney and is responsible for Cozzarelli's legal fees, according to Villanueva's ruling.

"The mayor should be as dilligent towards all the other incompatibilities in town as he was with this one," commented Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni. As housing inspector, Fornarotto worked under Frantantoni.

Villanueva felt there was no bad faith by Fornarotto, considering he had requested and received opinions before he ran for office stating their was no conflict. Because of this, Villanueva said Fornarotto could keep the salary and benefits he had accumulated as inspector while in office. He was offered his choice because there was no bad faith.

"The reason he made the choice was that he had run two or three previous occasions (for commission) and he felt he had a duty to his supporters," explained Waxman. "Also, the political makeup of the commission would be sharply altered if he left."

Judgements stats reasons

In the 19-page judgement, Villanueva stated incompatibility is determined by the character of the offices, not good or bad faith on the part of the individual. It also stated incompatibility is not the same as a conflict of office. Incompatibility involves a conflict of duties between two offices or positions. A conflict can exist when only one office or position is held, read the decision.

While stating there is no statute expressly permitting or prohibiting a person from holding the office of commissioner and code enforcement officer, Villanueva issued

Health officials look into possible hazards

By Pat Brightman

A potential health hazard caused by debris in the Third River on the Bloomfield-Belleville border is being investigated by Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto and health departments from both towns.

According to Fornarotto and Belleville Health Officer Thomas Longo, rodents are building nests in the river because debris, including garbage, is falling in the water, creating a dam-like structure which blocks the water. The two patrolled the river area Saturday and saw a rat and the owner of a house on the river's edge found a dead rat in a "kiddy" pool in their backyard.

"If it (the river) flows freely there's no problem (with rodents)," suggested Fornarotto.

He said they would "go through the proper channels" and contact the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection for assistance to help rectify the situation. He said it is up to the state to keep the river clean but the Belleville Health Department makes an annual check of the area but it has become "too big a problem."

Longo contacted Bloomfield Health Officer Richard Proctor who said his office had done an investigation a short time ago and sent an inspector out Tuesday to check the situation. He refused to comment on what the first inves-

Age-old problem

Silver 'Lake' has had enough of the water

By Pat Brightman

Solutions to a flooding problem in the Silver Lake section of Belleville are being examined by the Belleville Board of Commissioners after a spokesman addressed the board at its last meeting.

Dennis Qualtieri, of Belmont Avenue, asked the board for some help during the pre-meeting August 8 and both Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli and Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto said they will work to find an answer to a question that has been around for years.

"It's ruining us," said Ann Queltieri, Dennis's mother. "Do you know how we spend our summers? We don't go on vacation, we stand guard." She said whenever anyone in the neighborhood hears thunder they run out of their houses and move their cars. Dennis had a pick-up truck damaged because he left it parked in the driveway during a rainstorm.

Marie Olivio, of Magnolia Street, said she did not have flooding problems until the street and sidewalk were re-done approximately six years ago. "I've had two sets of washers and dryers destroyed. My son had a surfboard which actually floated in our cellar."

"Something will be done," promised Risoli. "How we'll do it I don't know." Risoli said the idea of having a piping drainage system may work but it would cost more than the money Qualtieri suggested. "Fifty thousand dollars is not enough, it'll be more like a half million," he said, citing a study done by Neil Siciliano in 1983 calling for the larger figure.

"I'm on top of it," stated Fornarotto, noting how he's from the area and recalls swimming when he was a child. "There are state funds available." Fornarotto said he wrote to both New Jersey Senator Carmen Orechio (D-Essex) and United States Senator Robert Roe, saying he should be hearing from Roe shortly.

Funding available

Fornarotto showed Dennis Queltieri a newspaper article which stated Governor Thomas

Kean had signed into law a bill allowing grant money for municipalities to deal with flooding and sewage problems. Risoli said if federal money could be used, it would be most beneficial.

"Wednesday morning I called Bill Caterman (head of applying for grants) to look into it and he has the information and is looking at it," said Risoli. "If this could be done to take care of it, let's do it but for a municipal government to spend a half million, it would be difficult."

Risoli also said if money can not be acquired through the sewage program, next year there is a possibility to receive money for the project from Community Development grants.

Fornarotto has suggested constructing a pipeline to a manmade lake in the park so the water can be transported to a different area. "All the new condos and blacktop, there is no place for the water to go."

"We're going to put our heads together to fix it," commented Fornarotto.

While Dennis said they will give the commissioners time promises have been given before but the problem still exists. "We will show these commissioners some respect, we won't go over their heads. When we call they do come," saying the Belleville Fire Department and Department of Public Works help remove the water from the streets.

"It's been going on for 70 years," said 73 year-old Mariam Veniero. "We've been going from commissioner to commissioner."

Almost received help

The group of neighbors said it appeared help was on the way with Commissioners Joseph Grande and Mary Senatore who looked to, and apparently were going to receive, assistance from then Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro but the unseating of Grande and Shapiro and the death of Senatore brought an end to their hopes.

"Mary Senatore gave it a good shot," said Dennis. All the neighbors said other commissioners told them to make sandbags but Dennis refuses. "I filled enough sandbags in Vietnam."

"For years we would go to the commissioners and finally we said we were going over their heads to the governor," recalled Ann. "They said they would get him down here and he came. Tom Kean came down here but nothing ever hap-

FILLING UP — This is an all too familiar scene for the residents of Belmont Avenue and other residents of Silver Lake. Many streets in the area become flooded after heavy storms.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

A 40 year-old woman was found dead in her apartment on Washington Avenue Monday night. Angela Gaccione was last seen early Sunday morning and was killed with a blunt instrument in her apartment sometime between that time and 6:00 p.m. Monday, when she was discovered in her apartment.

The Belleville Police have requested that anyone with information about the case contact the detective bureau.

A series of controlled dangerous substance (CDS) arrests were made in Belleville earlier this month.

On August 12 a 29 year-old man from Jersey City was arrested for Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) and CDS after he was stopped for a traffic violation by police.

Police stopped the car the man was driving after he drove through a red light. After arresting the man for DWI they discovered a white powder believed to be cocaine.

Two people from Bloomfield were arrested for possession of CDS and drug paraphernalia August 11. At 9:56 p.m. police stopped a car on Mill Street and Union Avenue and discovered the illegal substance and equipment. A driver was stopped on the corner of Little Street and Ralph Street and charged with DWI August 7. A subsequent search revealed a clear plastic bag with green foliage believed to be marijuana.

Officers were detailed to Union Avenue in the early evening August 6 and found a man lying on the sidewalk. The man, a 31 year-old Bellevillite, was arrested for being under the influence of CDS.

Two juveniles were arrested for attempting to steal a car and possessing a stolen vehicle August 12. Police received calls stating two individuals were attempting to break into a Pontiac Firebird. One of the juveniles was in the car and was immediately apprehended. The second youth attempted to flee but was tracked down in a backyard a few blocks away.

On August 14 a bomb scare at the Washington Avenue Pathmark was reported. Pathmark recieved a call with a person saying there was a bomb in the frozen food section. Police and fire personnel were sent to the store but nothing was found.

Hospital raises homeless funds

Employees at Montclair Community Hospital participated in a "Summer Olympics" to raise funds for the homeless. The event, for the young and young-at-heart, was held in the hospital parking lot to "celebrate summer and friendly competition." A check for $1,200 was presented to Reverend Hargrove of HomeCorp, Montclair, to help in their endeavors with the homeless.

Lisa Hertel, R.N., of Glen Ridge, nursing supervisor, was general chairman of the project. She gave special thanks to the "generous people who donated their resources in support of this event" and to the committee members, including Lynn Dancy of Belleville.

Three teams, with eight people per team, and sporting yellow Olympic T-shirts, competed in such games as "Let's Play Doctor" - each person had to don complete operating room garb, assisted by other team members, then run up to, and around, a hamper, and return. Other games included "Hoops and Hampers," "Let's Share Syringes" and "Siamese Sprint." Hot-dogs, hamburgers and soda added to the picnic-like atmosphere.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Senior citizen groups opposed any funding measure that put the whole cost of catastrophic Medicare coverage on the beneficiaries themselves, but the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) backed-down and knuckled under.

Senior citizen advocacy groups originally opposed any funding measure that put the whole cost of catastrophic coverage on the beneficiaries themselves, but some, led by the AARP, eventually accepted the progressive surtax.

The National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare remained adamant and opposed the final legislation which for the first time in Medicare's history, enrollees will pick up the entire tab. James Roosevelt, chairman of the group and son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, consoled himself after the defeat with the hope that the fight would be an investment in the next battle, overlong-term coverage.

He said, "Our membership served notice on the Congress that 'user fee' financing is going to mean a fight and very well may cost them votes this November," in the presidential election. Remember what they did to you! Nov. 8th. VOTE!

It's on the revenue side that Congress made the biggest changes from the early versions of the new legislation...Instead of putting most of the burden on the Medicare premium, with a series of basic and supplemental premium increases tied to income, the new law goes right to the income tax for most of its funding.

To be sure, it's still called a premium increase, with supporters explaining that the levy will be found on the income-tax form just for "administrative convenience." But it works like a surcharge on the income-tax paid by the elderly who will be unfairly called upon to subsidize Medicaid and Medicare for those with incomes of $10,000 or less.

Those who pay more than $150 in federal income tax - about a third of Medicare beneficiaries who are single and about half of the couples - will pay an extra amount equal to 15% of their tax, beginning on their 1989 tax returns. The sur-tax rate rises each of the next four years, hitting 28% in 1993. The flat-rate Medicare premium charge for the catastrophic coverage is phased in, too, at $4 a month in 1989 and $10.20 in 1993.

The federal catastrophic coverage is mandatory and the law bars private insurers from offering the same coverage. The plan involves a two-tier payment system. All enrolled will pay a flat premium and those with higher incomes will also pay a surcharge on the income taxes they owe.

About 60% will pay only the flat premium - $4 a month in 1989. That amount will be added to the Part B monthly premium - now $24.80 and projected to go to $27.10 in 1989. That will bring the combined monthly total in 1989 to $31.10. The flat premium is scheduled to increase in stages and reach $10.20 in 1993.

Costs will be higher for 40 percent of Medicare beneficiaries who have taxable federal income, putting the greatest burden on those with the highest income. Rising in stages each year, the surcharge will reach 28% of tax liability in 1993 and a maximum of $1,050 for a single enrollee and $2,100 for a couple.

The tax rises sharply because lawmakers built into the plan a wide range of projected costs, including a higher-than-anticipated inflation rates to build up reserves.

We feel AARP has done a disservice to its members in its acquiescence to an inequitable and unconscionable bill which "rob" senior citizens of what little savings they may have "put aside" for a "rainy day" so that the federal government can subsidize Medicaid and those living in penury, at the expense of those who husbanded their funds, while the government gives away billions to foreign governments...Reagan's folly, tax the elderly and lower taxes for the rich...22%.

Amato pushes for three questions on ballot

Essex County Executive Nicholas R. Amato has urged the Board of Chosen Freeholders to place three questions on the November ballot concerning rate averaging of garbage disposal costs, the state assumption of Superior Court costs, and State Mandate, State Pay.

Amato made the request in an August 12 letter to Freeholder President Thomas P. Giblin.

"I want to send a message to Trenton," Amato said. "I want our present governor, our aspiring governors, and all 120 members of the legislature to know how the nearly 400,000 voters in Essex County feel about these important issues. I want them to know that Essex County residents are demanding tax justice."

"While these questions will not be binding on the state, I'm sure that our state leaders will understand the message that is being delivered," Amato added.

Amato urged Giblin to treat his request for the ballot questions as an emergency issue because "the election is rapidly approaching and because these questions are so vitally important to the taxpayers of Essex County."

"I've asked for these three questions because they all seem to have stalled in the process," Amato explained. "State assumption of Superior Court costs, which drain in excess of $35 million per year from the pockets of Essex County property taxpayers, was included in the state budget, but neither implementing legislation nor a long term solution have been formulated."

"Rate averaging was passed in the Assembly, but is being blocked in the Senate. I'm most interested in this question because it would mean garbage rate relief to all Essex County residents. Additionally, it would mean substantial host municipality benefits to the City of Newark."

"Finally," Amato continued, "the concept of 'State Mandate, State Pay,' under which the State would be limited in its ability to pass the costs of its programs onto the backs of local taxpayers, deserves to be placed on the ballot so that next year it may be included across the state in the form of an amendment to the State Constitution."

Amato said the entire package of ballot initiatives could be termed "The Essex County Tax Justice Questions."

Geriatric Center under a new director with Lamberti

By Pat Brightman

Supervising approximately 400 workers, who in turn oversee close to 300 patients is a demanding job that takes many qualities, least of all experience, hard work and intelligence. It is not a job for anyone but for one person it is just what the doctor ordered.

Marilyn Lamberti will be using all her skills as she was recently named Acting Division Director of the Essex County Geriatrics Center on Belleville Avenue. After 19 years at the facility, it seems Lamberti knows as much as anyone about the center, which in 1970 became a skilled nursing care center.

Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato and Director of Health and Rehabilitation Victoria Keller evaluated the position and decided Lamberti, a Ph.D. in Nursing Administration and the first nurse to be certified in Gerontology, was the best suited.

"I'm thankful," said Lamberti. "Having been here a long time and having one of our own staff members chosen is special." She also feels the Family Council officials, who have been very supportive of her. "I have to compliment my staff, you can't have any better. With that much support you can't go wrong."

Lamberti also credits her family, saying she could never have advanced so far without her husband, Elias, and son, Michael, giving her support. In fact, family loyalty played a part in her working for the Geriatric Center. Nineteen years ago they moved to Belleville and in an effort to have a career while still keeping up with the family, she applied to the center.

Climbing the ladder
Starting out as a nurse, Lamberti has worked her way up the ladder, becoming a supervisor in 1974, Associate Director of Nursing in 1975 and Director of Nursing and Assistant Director of Administrative Duties of Nursing in 1976. Despite her success and corporate climbing she never anticipated being in the position she is now.

"Having been here 19 years I have a sense of history," she explained. "I'm aware of staff and patient requests. Knowing everyone on staff helps. I visit all the patients and believe in an open-door policy, everyone has an equal opportunity to see me."

Lamberti has ideas and concepts for the Center, in an effort to always look for improvements. She has said Keller and Amato have been "most receptive" to the few ideas she has already implemented. In her position, and with her experience, Lamberti said she hopes to foresee potential problems and possibly avoid them before they happen.

"I think you can always improve," explained Lamberti. "If you're satisfied things become stagnant.

Everyone strives to improve."

With someone like Lamberti having come in, the Center should see some improvements in a short time.

Embraced A
New Family Tradition.

On May 3, at 3:17 p.m., little Donna Garibay swam into her mother's arms. And a new tradition was born.

Donna's birth was a momentous event at Clara Maass, marking the first underwater delivery at any hospital in the Eastern United States.

For the Garibays, this special delivery seemed a unique way to carry on the family tradition — baby Donna is their fourth child to be born at Clara Maass.

This little wonder is living proof of The Birthday Suite philosophy: giving expectant parents the caring support they need to develop a personal birth plan. It's all offered within a safe, medically advanced environment, complete with a Neonatal Nursery.

For 120 years, we've been delivering babies with our special touch. And that's a tradition worth holding on to.

Clara Maass overlooks Branch Brook Park, at One Franklin Avenue in Belleville. For information, call The Birthday Suite at 201-450-2929.

OUR OPINION

Town Hall sunshine

For the first time in a long time it appears the town government has made a step forward, a step towards working together for the betterment of the community.

Seeing the five commissioners on the auditorium stage at the high school at the last meeting working together and discussing matters in an orderly fashioned was a sight for many sore eyes. Seeing that was as refreshing and as big a relief as Noah seeing the clouds splitting open and the sun shining one morning as he stepped on the deck of his ark.

This came on the heels of two cancelled meeting because of a lack of a quorum, which, in a way, made it even more amazing. With this meeting out of the way, let's hope future meetings can be conducted in such an orderly, efficient manner. Many in the crowd seemed genuinely shocked, and pleased, with the meeting's proceedings. If future meetings are conducted in the same manner as this past one, Belleville will definitely improve, as will its reputation. Pertinent work to upgrade the town and make everyone proud can now get done if meetings are continue this route. By not having to fight amongst themselves and with certain citizens, the commissioners can get down to what they were elected to do, run the town and improve where necessary.

Webster's dictionary describes a meeting as "a coming together." At the last board of commissioners meeting they did just that. And because of that the town and each of them are better because of it. The sun appears to have begun shining on Belleville after a very long rainfall.

A natural pool

Most people would love to have a pool in their backyard but for the many people in the Silver Lake section of town would love to have their "pools" taken away. It seems the have a water problem, not a lack of it, but in excess, and it is not the water that would make a person want to put on their bathing suit and jump in. It is a serious problem that needs to be alleviated and hopefully will.

The people of the section, which includes Belmont Avenue, Watchung Avenue and Cross Street, have been in need of help for a very long time, over 30 years and it appears they may finally get some. They held similar hopes a few years back but it turned out to be a tease as a change in the political makeup, not only of Belleville but of the Essex County Executive position, meant it became a problem that was forgotten about.

Everyone in the section could never forget and now are holding their collective breath, not because the water has gotten too deep but because this board of commissioners have promised to do something. It is extremely difficult to forget something that damages, or destroys, your property and decreases the value of your house to the point where you could not sell it even if you wanted to. As with so many things these days, the overlying factor is money, and where to get it.

Grant money is available for municipalities who need it to expand and improve the sewer systems in towns. The main reason for this appears to be for the cleaning up of our shores but lack of a quality drainage system is the reason for this problem.

The commissioners have said they will work on it and hopefully a solution will be discovered in the not too distant future. The people of Silver Lake are hoping it will be done and they may be able look out their doors or windows during a storm and be able to see their lawn. Or even just their steps.

Victim of the System

The decision of the Superior Court this week that disallowed Joseph Fornarotto's two town positions is a good sampling of the judicial system. While the court seemed to agree that Fornarotto was an honest, hard-working individual, it felt he should not hold both a commission seat and a housing inspector job.

Many of the people who arrived for the judgement were pro-Fornarotto and were upset by the decision. But these people took the human nature approach. They know Fornarotto, who he is, what he stands for, and what he has done, and felt there is no possible way he would be found to have incompatible offices. He would never use his commission seat to benefit him as a housing inspector. And they are probably correct. Anyone who has seen Fornarotto in action can not deny his desire to do what he feels is good for the town. The fact that the judge said there was no bad faith on Fornarotto's part speaks leaps and bounds for what he felt about Fornarotto the person.

The fact Fornarotto chose his commission seat over his housing inspector job also shows what he is about; a man who looks after those who support him. He could have kept the much higher paid position of inspector but he felt that he would have let his voters down. That is not what he is about.

But the court did not look at these things when coming to the all important decision, whether there was an incompatibility. To the court it was not Joseph Fornarotto, it was a case of two offices, with anyone in the seat of both. Because of that, the judge found Fornarotto guilty of incompatibility. It is the judicial system, looking out for the majority, not the singular. It appears to be similar to what Fornarotto did by keeping his commission; he did what was best for the majority, not the singular.

YOUR OPINION

C.C.B. primary interest Losing outstanding servant

To the Editor:

The primary interest of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc., a non-political organization is to promote good, affordable, efficient government for the Town of Belleville. The members constantly monitor the Township's governing body, many of them regularly attend the public Town meetings, speak out publicly, praising the commissioners for accomplishments they have become aware of, at other times criticizing their actions, and often make positive recommendations to promote a more efficient administration.

When the matter of Commissioner Fornarotto surfaced at the instigation of a few dissident residents, for reasons best known to themselves, alleging a conflict of interest, because the Commissioner is also employed by the Town of Belleville (albeit in a different department than the one he is in charge of), the issue was debated at one of the regular meetings of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville. It was argued that before deciding to run for a seat on the Board of Commissioners, he obtained an opinion from the N.J. State Dept. of Community Affairs, stating that they did not perceive there would be a conflict of interest. Following his election, several declarations from various N.J. State authorities, concerned with these matters were obtained, in addition to the legal opinions of the law firms of Robert Gruhin and Marvin Maxwell, all confirming that no conflict existed.

In view of this "evidence" the C.C.B. adopted the position of "finding no conflict of interest with the dual position" and especially noted the dedicated service of the Commissioner during the time he already has been in office.

One could assume that in view of all of the above, the citizens of Belleville can rest easy in the knowledge they are not being ripped off because of an imaginary conflict (of interest) Right?? Wrong!! Along comes Gabe Nazziola, Belleville's "truly" concerned citizen, obtaining Judge Charles Villanueva's 19 page opinion, which, in brief stated that, "while there was no alleged impropriety, the positions of housing inspector in the Dept. of parks and public properties, and as a Commissioner of Public Affairs are incompatible...

Gabe Nazziola was unsuccessful in his bid for a seat on the Board of Commissioners defeated, one may conclude by the successful candidate, Joe Fornarotto. With the judges ruling, Commissioner Fornarotto will have to choose between his job at great personal sacrifice, or his position as Commissioner. Well either way, the citizens of Belleville will suffer a great loss, Gabe Nazziola's heart is jumping for joy. Incidentally, this "truly" concerned citizen, so anxious to serve the Town as a Commissioner, is now actively laboring to change this form of government. You people figure it out. I already have.

Thanks to coaches

To the Editor:

I would like to take this time to thank the coaches Bob McGough and Mike Schmidt, for the time they spent with my son and the other boys who wished to play baseball after the season in town was over. They took the time to get them into the Rick Cerone Tournament in Newark. It gave them a few more weeks of playing baseball. They got to meet kids from another town and watch other kids play ball. My son enjoyed playing baseball with all the kids on his team. A special thanks to Bob Jaworowicz who got them started and got their uniforms for them.

Thank you

To the Editor:

The State of New Jersey has lost the services of one of its most outstanding public servants, Dr. Richard Dewling. As Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection, Dr. Dewling has led a tireless campaign to ensure our environment is a safe place to live, work and play.

Dr. Dewling has spearheaded projects and initiatives to clean our waters and search for alternatives to the problem of waste disposal. While some of the solutions have been viewed as politically unpopular, New Jerseyans should feel confident that all the facts have been presented and solutions offered without pointing a finger of blame to others.

As Dr. Dewling enters the private sector, I sincerely hope he will continue his service to our state so we can build on his foundation and see to it that his vision for the future becomes reality.

Sincerely,
Noreen G. Bodman

The mayoral procedure

To the Editor:

Apparently G. Urski isn't aware of the procedure of electing a mayor of our township.

The position doesn't automatically go to the one getting the most votes on commissioner's election day.

The newly elected commissioners vote amongst themselves and determine who is the mayor.

And the inquiry of the word "caliber" that appeared in my letter of July 28th — That most definitely was a typographical error!!

My Random House Dictionary is my closest friend - and is always near me that I refer to at all times.

Respectfully,
Anna Rosa Mazur

Greylock needs grass

To the Editor:

I have lived in Belleville for over 20 years, and I have never seen the condition of the median on Greylock Parkway as deteriorated as it is now. The greenery that was once there was covered with cement which was painted green, I suppose, to give the appearance of grass. Unfortunately, as on any "grass" that is not cared for weeds have come through the cracks and are growing wild. It is extremely unpleasant to look at and worse, it gives Greylock Parkway a shabby and rundown appearance. I think the cement should be replaced by "real" grass or better yet shrubbery or flowers. If given occasional care both of these will add some beauty to this area and replace the look of neglect the street now has.

I'm sure Mr. Risoli can take some time to attend to this matter.

Dukakis' new deal?

To the Editor:

Some political conservatives have voiced their fears of another "Rooseveltian New Deal," should Michael Dukakis be elected President.

As one who has "survived" that Rooseveltian New Deal of the 1930s, I would inform and assure concerned conservatives that - "There is nothing to fear, but, fear itself!"

'THE YOUNG GUNS':

A good western, poor history

By Tom Sullivan

As modern westerns go, 20th Century Fox's "The Young Guns" isn't bad. As history, it's a bust, which is something of a disappointment, because this would have been a great opportunity to finally tell, after 20 or more distorted screen fictions, the real story of probably the best known of all western figures, Billy The Kid.

Since it has been drawn from "The Gunfighters" volume of James D. Horan's awesome trilogy, "The Authentic Wild West," screenwriter John Fusco had access to the full story, but probably in the interests of a more commercial movie, he elected to use a factual skeleton with the traditional fictional meat.

Audiences do learn that Billy's real name was Henry McCarty, and the myth that he was left handed is dispelled, though in a throwaway line that most viewers will probably miss. But he is presented as he invariably has been in the past, as a giggling, crazed psychopath, who kills for the love of killing. A great role for Emilio Estevez, but yet another blight on the truth.

But the most hilarious historical bloop-er comes in the depiction of British rancher John Tunstall and his relationship with Billy and the other adolescent ranch hands.

Like every film maker who has ever touched this story, producers Joe Roth and Christopher Cain present Tunstall as an older man, in this case Italian actor Terence Hill, a fiftyish fruitcake who sits at the head of the dining table with a white napkin tucked under his chin, trying to teach the ranch hands good manners, and later, how to read.

Tunstall was a young gun IN REALITY, the university educated John Tunstall was also an adolescent, a mere five years older than Billy, 24 when he was murdered, and 8,000 miles from his English home, he was drawn to the teenaged Henry McCarty because of the boy's intellectual development.

Billy was well read, had a remarkable vocabulary and, as his surviving letters and depositions show, a command of the English language and penmanship that would put any modern American teenager to shame. As incredible as it may seem, Billy actually owned a book he carried and often quoted from, the slim first volume by Karl Marx, who had distinguished himself as a reporter in the civil war.

That Tunstall would have invited his teenaged ranch hands to a well set table and given them lessons in deportment is a concept worthy of the Monty Python troupe. Also, in assembling the story line, Fusco changed around the chronology, and added lots more killings so that Estevez could cackle it up as he wastes the villains to the delight of adolescent ticket buyers.

The killing of Tunstall, which brought the wrath of Queen Victoria's foreign secretary down on President Rutherford B. Hayes and resulted in the breakup of The Sante Fe Ring, is also taken out of context.

Here it takes place on New Year's morning. It actually happened on February 18, and at Los Feliz, 7,000 feet up in the Capitan Mountains, and on either day, that is an area under several feet of snow, as ski enthusiasts who flock to the nearby luxury resort of Ruidoso can readily attest.

Does it entertain?

ALL THE BLOOPERS aside (no one really expects historical accuracy in a pop movie, anyway), does "Young Guns" entertain?

It certainly does.

We don't know where director Cain comes from, but he is obviously a fan of the late Sam Peckinpah, and handles himself well here. He just might, have a background in music videos, because his climactic shootout has an MTV look to it, albeit a grim and bloody one!

Estevez is excellent as Billy and is, perhaps, the closest in age actor ever cast as the legendary outlaw, who was just 21 when he died. Jack Palance chews up the scenery in delightful fashion as one of the arch villains, and Lou Diamond Phillips stands out as a fictional Indian character, Chavez Y. Chavez.

The real stars, though, are production designer Jane Musky and cinematographer Dean Semler, who married an otherwise superb job by shucking his tripod and shooting several scenes in wobbly, hand-held fashion.

It is violent, has some strong language, but is a good entertainment, and it is all over the neighborhoods.

LAST WEEKEND'S TOP 10 at the box office, as computed by Exhibitor Relations Company, were:

1. 'Young Guns,' $7,011,000 for its opener.
2. 'Cocktail,' $86,227,000 for $38,660,000 in three weeks.
3. 'Die Hard,' $5,743,000 for $38,415,000 in three weeks.
4. 'A Fish Called Wanda,' $5,256,000 for $16,694,000 in five weeks.
5. 'Who Framed Roger Rabbit,' $4,350,000, for $113,042,000 in eight weeks.
6. 'Tucker,' $3,710,000 for its opener.
7. 'Coming To America,' $3,611,000 for $106,688,000 in seven weeks.
8. 'Midnight Run,' $2,782,000 for $25,562,000 in four weeks.
9. 'Big,' $2,225,000 for $88,900,000 in 11 weeks.
10. 'Clean and Sober,' $2,026,000 first week.

DRUG'S SUNNY SIDE

The medical community has done a very good job in making the public aware of the danger associated with exposing the skin to the sun. The cumulative effects of sun exposure upon the skin are accelerated aging of the skin, and an increased risk of skin cancer. The public has been quick to seize upon this information to prompt the use of sunscreen products. There is one circumstance, however, under which a sunscreen may not give adequate protection. Certain prescription medications carry a photosensitivity reaction which leaves the skin especially vulnerable to the sun's light. Certain oral antibiotics, for example, may cause the skin to burn, blister, and peel with just moderate exposure to sunlight. When taking any prescriptive drug, be sure to ask the physician about possible side effects.

Our pharmacist can also give you information concerning side effects of prescription drugs. Stop by or give us a call at 759-1956 or 759-1968. ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. Walkers, wheel chairs, crutches, canes and other convalescent aids are rented or sold. Free prescription delivery is provided. ### Newest x-ray equipment installed at Clara-Mass

A new linear accelerator for X-ray treatments has been installed in the Radiation Oncology Department of Clara Maass Medical Center. The Clinac 1800 Linear Accelerator, according to Clara Maass radiological physicist Ken Kopecky, delivers a choice of 6 million electron volts (6 Mev) or 18 MeV. Diagnostic X-rays, in contract range from 80 to 110 thousand electron volts.

In a linear accelerator, electrons are accelerated — or speeded up — and directed to a copper target in order to produce X-rays. The beam of X-rays is shaped by lead-alloy blocks to treat the area of the patient's body specified by the physician, in order to kill tumor cells while sparing normal tissue as much as possible.

The new linear accelerator at Clara Maass can treat patients with fewer side effects. Its X-rays, by penetrating deeper, can treat deep-seated tumors in such organs as the lung, prostate, or uterus more effectively, while sparing superficial tissues. It also has the capacity to treat skin cancers and breast cancer recurrences superficially with electron beams so that deeper tissues are spared. In addition, it is used in Clara Maass' experimental treatment of chronic progressive multiple sclerosis with total lymphoid irradiation, a technique with promising initial results.

With the new linear accelerator, according to Dr. Corinne Devereux, director of the Radiation Oncology Department, "Some patients that in the past had to be referred to other hospitals can now be treated at Clara Maass. Our Radiation Oncology Department is now one of the best equipped in the state."

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Tapping the reservoir of God's power

And He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace." (Mark 5:34).

Jesus felt at home in Jerusalem. Among the crush of people surrounding Him, He never forgot His mission. He never lost sight of the lost men and women...the busy, distracted crowds...the lonely and hurting people jostling for space around Him.

In Mark 5, an unnamed woman is immortalized. She had learned how little it takes to get the Savior's attention when faith is your motive.

Let those who are conscious of the ravages of evil in their hearts - which are destroying their strength - establish a connection with Christ as slight as the finger's touch of the garment hem, and instantly His power will enter and heal their inward disorder.

His power is always going forth, and faith receives as much as it desires. The reservoir of power is always full, but very few have learned the secret of tapping it! Crowds throng Him, but only one touches.

Proximity to Christ does not necessarily imply the appropriation of Christ. But where there is the faintest touch of faith, there is an instantaneous response.

There may be great weakness. The fingers may be too nerveless to grasp; they can only touch. But the slightest degree of faith saves, because it is the channel by which Christ enters.

You cannot experience the Savior's power by standing on the sidelines. For that power, a personal step of commitment is needed - a personal touch of faith. Faith for salvation. Faith for service. Faith for strength. Faith for healing.

Simple faith in a great God. It's not something you will learn by watching the crowd. But then, praying in faith has never been a spectator sport.

Belleville High School Student Dress Code

It is the purpose of this Dress Code to promulgate a positive self-image and pride in school among our students. Their health, safety and educational well-being are the primary objectives of this code which bears a reasonable relationship to the goal of fostering an environment conducive to discipline and to education.

Specifically, clothing which is ripped, holey and/or soiled is inappropriate school attire. Undergarments are required. Shirts must be buttoned. Shoes which grip the toe and heel must be worn at all times.

The following are considered inappropriate school attire:

1. Clothing that is too tight so as to inhibit movement and/or cause classroom distraction.

2. Off-the-shoulder, strapless and spaghetti-strap tops, dresses or jumpsuits.

3. Mid-riff (cut-off) shirts that expose the chest and/or abdominal area(s) of the body.

4. Garments with pornographic messages.

5. Skirts shorter than mid-thigh or longer than mid-calf lengths.

6. Shorts of any description or style.

Students who commit dress code infractions will be referred to their appropriate vice-principal for administrative action.

Appeals Procedure:

A Dress Code Appeals Committee, comprised of parent, faculty, student and administrative representatives will convene several times during the school year for the purpose of reviewing specific garments presented by students for approval as appropriate school attire. However, administrative decisions will prevail pending all Appeals Committee rulings.

Notification of scheduled appeals hearings will be made via school announcements one week prior to appeals hearing date.

Attendance Philosophy and Supporting Regulations

The administration and staff of Belleville High School adhere to the New Jersey State Commissioner of Education's philosophy on attendance which "requires pupil participation in all regularly scheduled classroom learning activities in each area of study in order for each pupil to receive the maximum benefits of a thorough educational program."

The New Jersey Statutes Annotated (18-A: 38-25) reads in part: "Every parent...having custody and control of a child between the ages of six and sixteen years shall cause such child, regularly to attend the public schools of the district."

The statute also defines the days when children are required to attend: "Such regular attendance shall be during all the days and hours that the public schools are in session in the district (18-A:38-26).

Acceptable Reasons for Absenteeism:

1. Medical or dental excuse - note required.

2. Death in the immediate family - note required.

3. Religious holiday - note required.

4. Court appearance - subpoena or note from court clerk.

5. Driver test - note required; suggest P.M. appointment.

1) Based upon a school year of 180 days, absence of more than 16 days in a full year course or more than 8 days in a half year course will not be permitted, and will possibly result in a loss of course credit and/or course removal.

2) The parent/guardian and student will be informed of the student's absence after the fourth absence in a half year course and the eighth absence in a full year course. No other formal attendance notification shall be sent to the parent. The parent/guardian, however, is further alerted of his child's attendance record by the way of report cards and progress reports.

3) Upon receiving attendance notification of his/her child's attendance record, the parent/guardian is urged to contact the respective guidance counselor so that all options and consequences may be explained. The parent/guardian is also urged to schedule a conference with the respective administrator.

4) On the eighth absence in a half year course and on the sixteenth absence in a full year course, a registered letter to the parent/guardian will be sent by an administrator. This letter shall so inform the parent/guardian that his/her child, because of unacceptable attendance, shall be placed in a non-credit status and/or be removed from all classes. The parent/guardian shall also be informed of the appeals procedure and is requested to meet with school officials at this time.

5) Extenuating circumstances resulting in prolonged absences may be brought before the appeals board, i.e. lengthy hospitalization or prolonged illness at home when under a doctor's care would be considered as extenuating circumstances. Medical excuses are required within five (5) school days of the 16th absence if medical excuses have not been previously submitted. Also, pertaining to a semester course, medical excuses are required within five (5) school days of the 8th absence if medical excuses have not been previously submitted. Failure to comply with this policy will result in the application of the attendance policy.

6) When a student exceeds the pre-determined number of school days absent, a certified letter is sent to the parent. An Appeals Board Hearing may be requested within five (5) days of receipt of certified letter.

7) When a student is placed on a non-credit status, he/she will continue to attend all scheduled classes. If the student demonstrates disruptive behavior in the judgement of the classroom teacher, he/she will be reassigned to study halls. At this time, the option of summer school will not be permitted.

8) Student participation in a co-curricular or extra-curricular activity on the day of his/her absence will not be permitted.

Special circumstances should be brought to the attention of the appropriate vice-principal for any exception to this policy.

Tardiness

(Late arrival to school or class, not exceeding 15 minutes)

1) One to four (1-4) tardies will result in the teacher issuing detention. At the fifth (5) tardy, notice shall be given to the appropriate administrator. A tardy notice will then be sent to the parent/guardian and counselor.

2) Five to six (5-6) tardies will result in administrative intervention. A second notice will be sent to parent/guardian, counselor.

3) Seven (7) or more tardies will result in suspension and parent/guardian notification (Saturday detention will be explored as a possibility).

4) At the tenth (10) tardy, an out of school suspension will be invoked. Parent/guardian conference is required for student readmittance.

Class Cutting/Tuancy

1) Tuancy and class cutting results in the student's inability to make up work issued in class from which he/she was absent.

2) Accumulation of two cuts in a half year course and/or four cuts in a full year course will result in the student's removal from the course and full loss of credit.

ALL IN THE FAMILY — Gabe Nazz, Janice Lynn and Eric Nazzlola, are a brother-sister-brother part of the "Red, White and Blue Revue" at Great Adventure. Lynn is also a teacher at Belleville High School.

Teacher's summer job

What do teachers do in the summer? Well one of Belleville's teachers is performing for some 3,000 people a day at the home of New Jersey's longest seasonal employer, who also happens to contain the largest animal safari outside of Africa - Six Flags Great Adventure.

Just a "song and dance" brings Janice-Lynn Leffebine to the American Music Hall Showcase Theatre in a dazzling patriotic family show called "The Red, White and Blue Revue." A company of 10 performers, including Leffebine, a Belleville High School mathematics teacher, entertain in an air-conditioned 1,500 person capacity theater six shows a day, Sunday through Wednesday.

The park features free concerts and shows, new rides and attractions. All shows run daily until Labor Day and weekends to October 9.

Foot Facts

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M.

PROPER AND FITTING

Many foot problems arise out of a patient's attempt to fit into ill-fitting shoes. One thing is certain — a shoe that pinches or rubs during the trying-on stage is likely to cause problems later on. Therefore, make sure that a shoe fits well from the start. Do not be deluded into thinking they can be "broken in." Nor should a person simply buy shoes by their size designation alone. Feet grow with age, and sizes vary among manufacturers. A shoe should extend about a half-inch beyond the longest toe. Buyers should be aware that one foot may well be larger than the other. Lastly, either wear or bring your own hose to the shoe store for the fitting.

Women are especially prone to purchase badly fitting shoes. Cramped toes and awkwardly high heels may be fashionable, but it's hard to look truly glamorous when your feet hurt. Don't buy shoes unless they fit well and are comfortable. When you need a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. My office, including surgical facility and x-ray, is nearby at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Office hours by appt.

HINT: Orthotic devices, which are custom-made arch supports, do require an initial break-in period as the feet adjust to corrective treatment.

It seems like only Yesterday

By Eric Quinnones

What a pretty baby

25 Years Ago

August 15, 1963...The Joseph J. Carbat American Legion Post 299 held a fair outside its headquarters at 118 Belmont Avenue. The fair was first in a series of events to raise money for Legion Orphans Fund to benefit the children at St. Anthony's Orphanage.

The possibility of a new park in Belleville became a reality with the announcement of a conditional approval by the state of an eight-acre park facility north of Joramalemon Street.

Donald W. Stack was appointed principal of School 3 by a unanimous vote of the Board of Education. Chosen from 29 applicants, Stack was given a $10,304 salary.

Hundreds of New Jersey's prettiest children were scheduled to compete in Olympic Park's 47th annual "Baby Parade." The contest was open to all children under age seven. Trophies were to be given to blonds, brunettes and redheads, while another division awarded achievement in the areas of decorated carriages and floats.

A group of enterprising Belleville children held a two-day backyard carnival, raising $25 for those less fortunate than themselves. The seven young girls who put together the carnival were inspired by a television show in which an appeal was made to aid sufferers of muscular dystrophy.

Clara Maass Hospital conducted a series of radio programs over station WNJR. The program, designed to acquaint the audience with hospital activities other than those of the nursing service and medical staff, featured members of the hospital staff as panelists.

Planners approve building extension

An addition to Lombardi Door Sales on Belleville Avenue was approved and a 21 unit condominium proposal and an ambulatory care center at Clara Maass Medical Center were postponed at the Belleville Planning Board meeting held last week.

The attorney for the developers of the condominium complex, to be located on Bridge Street if approved, requested a postponement due to the late hour, it was 10:30 p.m. and the fact he had four witnesses to go before the board. Representatives from Clara Maass made their request because they were scheduled to present their proposal after the condominium complex. Both are scheduled to be heard at the September 8 meeting.

A one-story 867 square foot L-shaped addition at Lombardi was approved after the board provided a series of conditions, including an engineering review and shielding lights from neighbors that were proposed.

The addition will be on the easterly side of the 7,559 square foot property and will be used for storage, Michael Lombardi told the board. The space used for the addition is "basically not used" except for a few items that can be stored outside he said.

It will be a drivethrough storage facility which would eliminate outdoor loading of pick-up trucks Lombardi uses for business. Because of this, the area would be more aesthetically pleasing to the area. Lombardi said he has also removed a canopy and re-sodded the lawn in an effort to make the business fit in with the residential surroundings.

Lombardi had planned to close up two driveways by installing curbs on Pleasant Avenue but both the board and its consultant, Grace Harris, felt one driveway should be maintained for safety and convenience reasons.

Lombardi explained the reason he had proposed removing the driveways was because drivers use it to make U-turns. The board suggested to put a gate up to deter people from using it for that reason.

Benjamin Samuel, the next door neighbor of Lombardi Door Sales, said there is a problem backing out on Pleasant Avenue but that is due to the area, not the business. He also requested a new fence be installed between the properties, which Lombardi agreed to do.

Board Attorney Thomas DiBiase told the board he had sent a letter to the representatives of the Grand Union shopping mall on Main Street and they responded by saying they would do whatever the board felt should be done. DiBiase said they were "very cooperative" and said if the town were to by the signs requested they would reimburse the town.

A resident of the area, Joan Current, said there were no signs and the hedges were cut but it is still difficult to see because of a car parked in a spot by the exit.

THE LONG-AWAITED DAY — Marina C. Perna, daughter of Anthony and Clara Perna of Belleville, received her juris doctorate degree from Seton Hall University of Law. While at school Perna served as a member of the prestigious Law Review. Presently with the International firm of Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edleman and Dicker in Newark, she will serve a one year term as the judicial clerk to the Honorable Charles E. Villanueva, J.S.C. of Essex County.

Gillick named director

Phyllis A. Gillick of Kearny, formerly of Bloomfield and Belleville, has been named director of continuing education at The Berkeley School of Garret Mountain in West Patterson.

Gillick will oversee operation of a Continuing Education Division that offers Associate degree and diploma programs, as well as courses that can be taken on a nonmatriculated basis.

Gillick graduated from St.

Helena's Business High School in the Bronx and continued her education at Montclair State College.

Mother of two children, she previously employed in the business field as an officer manager and as a senior sales representative. She is a former secretary of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club and has been active in volunteer work for Cub and Girl Scouts.

Surrey International enters catering business

Surrey International, a New Jersey based natural foods company, has entered the catering business and its first clients are some well knowns in show business.

"Our reputation as natural foods cooks throughout the New York metropolitan area followed us home to North Arlington and we'll be catering the cast and crew as they shoot a feature film in Hudson County this summer," said Lalita Surrey. She and her husband Tarun since 1982 have distributed their home cooked specialties, taught vegetarian and macrobiotic cooking and demonstrated their famous recipes on television.

More and more people today are eating for optimum health, energy, and to counteract the elements of our environment, Surrey said. "The more stamina their lives and jobs require it seems the more insistent they become on only putting natural foods in their bodies," she added.

The cast of "In A Pig's Eye" filming this summer in Jersey City consists of Tony-award winner Marian Seldes and two-time Emmy Award winner David Canary (Stuart and Adam Chandler of 'All My Children') widely known as "Candy" on the long running TV series "Bonanza." The movie is a satire on the tobacco industry.

The Surreys, self-taught, world traveled chefs, have become known for their creative meatless buffet salad bar served at their North Arlington store on 77 Ridge Road. It includes items like stuffed cabbage primavera with brown rice, artichokes stuffed with protein-rich millet, and zucchini cous-cous.

Is catering to the stars in the stars for the Surreys? "It seems more and more people in general and in show business as well are pronouncing themselves vegetarians and if that's the case we're delighted to serve them," Surrey said.

No longer the best kept secret in the state, Surrey International has announced plans to expand its creative catering to include private parties, weddings, holiday lunches and dinners including but not limited to Italian, Mexican, Oriental, Indian dishes. The Surreys offer 25 varieties of dishes for your party planning needs... "plates to suit every palate."

Prices begin at $15 per person for soup, appetizer, entree and dessert and for simple cocktail parties, hors d'oeuvres $6 per person. Complete menu consultations and more information is available by calling Surrey International at 991-1902.

Freeholder A. Clay discusses convention

By Arthur Clay,
Freeholder for the Fifth District

NEW ORLEANS — The New Jersey delegation is scattered through four hotels, The Royal Orleans, where my son, Arthur, my wife, Heather, and I are staying; the Bourbon Orleans, The Holiday Inn and the Garden, which is outside the city. But somehow, everyone seems to be staying in close contact.

Marion and John Crecco, Freeholder Monroe Lustbader, former Community Affairs Commissioner Leonard Coleman, Essex County Republican Chairman John Renna and Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick are also staying in this hotel, but at every turn you see a familiar face, regardless of which hotel they are quartered at.

It is very hot, but this summer we've all become used to that, and there is so much excitement crackling in the air that you seem to notice the heat less. We arrived at 7 p.m. Saturday and have been caught up in non-stop activities.

It reminds me of the 1980 convention, because gubernatorial hopefuls are all trying to generate support. Senator Gerald Cardinale of Bergen County is throwing his hat into the ring, and hosted a brunch at Arnaud's, one of the best restaurants in town. Chuck Hardwick hosted a riverboat party after the convention Tuesday night, and Bo (Joseph) Sullivan threw a very lovely party, mindful of the one he threw in 1980.

We witnessed President Reagan's triumphant arrival Sunday, and what a reception he was given. That night the entire New Jersey delegation attended a party in the Grand Salon of the Royal Orleans. One thing I can say without fear of correction: everyone loves the choice of New Orleans for the convention.

First Fidelity Bank and New Jersey Bell have each hosted receptions, very nice affairs, with Governor Kean and Republican State Chairman Bob Franks in attendance. Kean has been a very popular figure around the convention all week.

Senatorial candidate Pete Dawkins was also well received Monday morning when he addressed the convention. Those who have watched him since he first announced as a candidate are pleased with the way he has loosened up, and he seems to be stressing action on crucial problems rather than more talk, presenting well thought out programs.

Of course the big question on everyone's lips all week has been

'Who will George Bush choose to be his running mate.' By choosing Senator Dan Quayle of Indiana he answered that question early.

But everyone seems to be agreed that the betting and guessing has built up suspense and that is never a bad thing at events such as this.

Over the weekend the Louisiana Times published its poll of potential vice presidential candidates, with Senator Robert Dole getting the most support, 29-percent. There seemed to be a lot of sentiment for him, not only because of his standing in Washington, but because he did so well in the primaries.

Howard Baker polled second with 18-percent, then Jack Kemp with 10-percent and Jeanne Kirkpatrick with 7-percent. Other names that have been mentioned are Alan Simpson of Wyoming, who has also said he didn't want to be considered; Senator Pete Domenici of New Mexico and former Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole.

Needless to say, we were all surprised by the announcement from George Bush Tuesday night.

Freeholder Clay, who was chosen by Governor Thomas Kean to be a special delegate to the Republican National convention, will also be heard on OBC's six o'clock news with telephone bulletins from New Orleans, and next week's papers will contain pictures he brings back from the convention.

Raymond Pizzano gets his medals

By Alfred Cook

Not the least of Napoleon's military innovations was his decision to award valor with bits of ribbon and metal. And if there was a Napoleonic medal commemorating this achievement, among the first in line for the award would be Mrs. Theresa Pizzano (nee Citro), her 13 year old son Carmen and Congressman Robert Roe.

Theresa, with dark brown hair and darker eyes, enlisted the aid of her son in an effort that would retrieve for her husband Raymond the medals he should have received 20 years earlier while serving with the 7th Marine Division in Vietnam; first and foremost the Purple Heart earned while on a twisting road to Danang when three of the ten men he was with were killed in an ambush, the others - like himself - seriously wounded.

Having completed work on the new forward base camp, the four outposts 50 yards on either side with listening posts out further still, Raymond and nine others left for Danang on a supply run in a deuce-and-a-half, a half hour drive away.

Bomb blast

"About a mile outside the city, a command detonated mine exploded beneath the truck, killing the two men in front and one of those in the truck bed. Machine guns barked from in front and automatic rifles from the sides as they scrambled beneath the remains of the truck. Somehow, the wounded helped each other. A few did what they could to return fire from there," Pizzano said.

But Pizzano was unconscious and remained that way for three days in the Danang Naval Hospital after being medivacced from the field.

From there he was sent to a hospital in Japan where he spent a month, then on to St. Albans in Queens, N.Y.

They had to remove the spleen and operate to re-inflate one lung.

It was Theresa Pizzano's lament that for all that pain, the medals due her husband were never awarded and with her son she contacted Congressman Robert Roe's office in Bloomfield for information.

Roe, in turn, contacted the Department of the Navy and found Pizzano was entitled to the Purple Heart and 10 medals, two of them foreign, for his service.

Theresa planned to surprise her husband with a private ceremony and called a number of friends, among them State Senator Carmen Orechio. The Senator convinced her to make the affair public and arranged for a Presentation of Medals Ceremony at Marotti Little League Field on Montgomery Place in Belleville at 4 p.m. August 28.

"There will be a full Marine Corp. colored guard," Theresa said, "everyone's invited. Sgt. Maj. Robert L. Hampton will make the presentation."

Napoleon would have applauded that.

Raymond is a 1967 graduate of Bloomfield High School. He and his wife Theresa were married May 12, 1974 and now have two children, Carmen, 13 and Raymond, 5.

They now live in Belleville. Raymond is a corrections officer at the Essex County Jail in Newark.

Crecco statement

In a statement from New Orleans Assemblywoman Marion Crecco, a delegate for Bush, praised him for his strong stand on national defense and commitment to continued economic growth.

"George Bush has been a loyal vice president to the best administration this century," she said. "It is with great pride that I endorse him as our next president. He is a man of great character, unique experience in private industry, congress, as an ambassador and director of the C.I.A."

"Under the Reagan-Bush Administration the U.S. has experienced the longest period of economic growth in our history, and if George Bush is elected, I am sure this strength will be continued."

Dawkins is campaigning constantly across the state

By Tom Sullivan

When former U.S. Army Brigadier General Peter M. Dawkins announced his candidacy for the senate seat held by Democrat Frank Lautenberg and started making appearances around the state, time and again the complaint was heard that he seemed aloof, even distant, not warm and personable as a candidate should be.

If those complaints were true in the early days, they certainly are not now, as a very direct, obviously well informed Pete Dawkins campaigns almost continuously to get his name, face and message before the voters.

"People are very conscious of the diminishing quality of life," Dawkins said during a visit to The Belleville Times.

"I have been campaigning for 18 months now," he explained, "and I have talked to people in all walks of life, from one end of the state to the other."

"I find that people are informed and they are concerned. The property tax hikes because of garbage disposal costs has hit everyone. They want resource recovery siting accomplished, but they can't get over NIMBY (Not In My Back Yard)."

"They are appalled by what has been happening along our shore, which through its traditional tourism, has always been the state's third largest industry. Just when our image had been rebuilt, when our joke quotient on the Carson Show was down to just about zero, that whole perception that something good was happening in New Jersey is being undermined by the newspaper and television stories about hospital waste and fecal coliform on our beaches."

"I live in Monmouth County and I walk the beaches. I know that business is down 30-percent or more, and in other parts of the state people say they have stopped going to the shore."

"Everyone wants to know what is going to happen. They want leadership and I believe I can supply it."

11-point plan

Dawkins says he has an 11-point plan developed that attacks the whole problem of waste and sewage sludge at the source, and he acknowledges that the system of accountability already proposed is a good one, where those who produce the medical and toxic waste must be able to account for its being passed to a licensed contractor, who in turn must be able to fully account for its safe disposal.

"The lack of responsibility by those who actually generate the waste and improper disposal methods by those who pick it up must be corrected by better policing," Dawkins said.

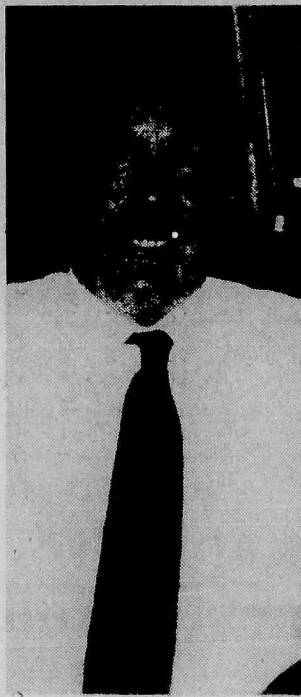

Disposal of sewage sludge from the state's almost 8 million persons is a tougher nut to crack, and the current approach of basic treatment then dumping hundreds of thousands of tons of sludge in shore waters can no longer be tolerated, Dawkins says.

"We have never applied our technology to this problem," he says. "We are the nation that put men on the moon and brought them back safely to earth, so surely we can dispose of this sludge by either composting or burning as an energy source?"

"Right now it is costing $4.04 per wet ton. I propose tripling that to $12.12 and giving the excess back to the authorities to develop alternate and safe means of disposal. The incentive has never been there, so the technology has never been developed or applied. It must be, and it must be done immediately."

Attacks Lautenberg

Dawkins is not averse to attacking his incumbent opponent, saying that Democrat Frank Lautenberg has not come up with any sound ideas for dealing with environmental issues and, in fact, compounded the problems by voting to reduce the Coast Guard budget.

"When it comes to off-shore dumping, the Coast Guard has a vital role," Dawkins said, "But Senator Lautenberg went along with drastic cuts that reduced its efficacy there and, no less importantly, in the war on drugs. The Coast Guard is one of our first lines of defense against large-scale smuggling."

One of Dawkins' first position papers was a multi-pronged attack on drugs, and next to concern for the environment and diminution of New Jersey as the great place it has always been to call home, the drug problem is the one voters most often bring up when he meets them around the state.

Since he has been living in the state he has made it his business to learn about every facet of life here, and says that creation of jobs is another top priority.

"We all see the help wanted signs on stores and fast food restaurants, and we know that a lot of positions at the lower end of the scale are going unfilled," he said. "But, I have discovered that New Jersey has a $5 billion a year export industry that accounts for 200,000 jobs, and it is on this level that we have to be concerned about turning out skilled persons to fill the jobs and keep the impetus going."

"It is full employment in the export industry that has given New Jersey its economic strength so we have to encourage the location of industries here and help those already here to operate efficiently," he added, "creating more jobs, even when it appears for the moment that we cannot fill the jobs we already have."

Encourage investment

"To encourage entrepreneurship and get America back as the industrial and manufacturing leader of the world, I have proposed a reduction in capital gains taxes from 28-percent to 15-percent."

"Without those persons willing to risk their money, to invest in new ideas and new ways of doing things, we have to slip back," he said. "I want to give the people with ideas and the risk takers the incentive to put up their capital."

"My opponent, on the other hand, says that my proposal creates a loop hole for the rich, which is patently absurd."

Dawkins says that while an incumbent often has a decided advantage over a challenger, he believes his challenge can be successful because Lautenberg has no strong identity and no association with any of New Jersey's salient issues.

Lautenberg suffers in comparison to Senator Bill Bradley and Governor Tom Kean, the two most popular politicians in the state, Dawkins believes, and describes his record as bland and predictable.

"Frank Lautenberg simply hasn't used his incumbency well," he sums up.

Well financed

Lautenberg is a wealthy man, able to finance a strong campaign. But Dawkins is attracting ample financial support, too, fully expecting to have to spend up to $6 million before election day.

He had $1 million in his treasury by October 1 last year, and as his presence has been felt around the state, contributions have increased, including a great many smaller ones, he reports, from voters who have liked his message and his personal approach.

Dawkins turned 50 in March. He is the son of a Michigan dentist, and raised in Royal Oak. At age 11 he contracted polio but lifted weights to build up his weakened right side and arm, and played football against the advice of his doctor.

He was an altar boy in the Episcopal church, earned a scholarship to the Cranford School, and was graduated in the top 10-percent of his class, winning honors in creative writing, art and craftwork. He played eight instruments in high school and favored jazz, starred on the football and baseball teams, and was appointed to West Point.

There, his football prowess stood him in good stead. He became co-captain of the army team, which stood undefeated, was a consensus All-American halfback, won the Maxwell Trophy and the coveted Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding college football player.

In hockey, he was the highest scoring defenseman in the east but with all those achievements, still managed to finish in the top five-percent, graduating 10th out of the Point's class of 499.

Rhodes Scholar

Like Bill Bradley, Dawkins became a Rhodes Scholar, going on to Oxford University to study politics, philosophy and economics, winning three coveted Oxford Blues at the brawling British game of Rugby while there.

From 1968 to 1970 he studied at Princeton, receiving a master's degree and Ph.D. in international politics from the Woodrow Wilson School, and in 1973 was selected as a White House Fellow and served as military assistant to Secretary of Defense William P. Clements Jr.

He served in Korea, then two tours of duty in Vietnam and earned a number of decorations in the process.

"During my military career we had 21 homes in 24 years," he recalled. "But I had strong ties to New Jersey, and Judith and I decided it was a good place to live and raise our two children, Noel and Sean."

He had thought that his opponents would try to make an issue out of his not being a native New Jerseyan, but that has never been a problem.

"I have gone from one end of the state to the other, spoken to thousands of voters, and no one has ever mentioned residency," he said.

All summer long he has been out at events large and small, and as the campaign picks up, he says he has no doubt he will get his message across successfully to an electorate that is in search of leadership and new ideas.

Resolve the dilemma of kids' afterschool snacks

Summer is over, the kids are back in school, and parents are faced with the same dilemma—what to serve for after-school snacks.

For parents concerned that their children eat healthy and nutritious snacks, cholesterol-free peanut butter, whether simply spread on a cracker or used as a versatile recipe ingredient, proves that "good-for-you" foods don't have to be boring.

Kids, and adults, will love these anytime peanut butter pick-me-ups:

• Chunky Apple Wedges—Spread both sides of apple slices with Skippy peanut butter; roll in granola.

• Peanut Pita Pizzas—Spread mini pita rounds with Skippy peanut butter. Top with fresh or dried fruit and flaked coconut.

Next time you face the afterschool snack dilemma, don't settle for just delicious. Make the kids tasty super snacks like "Up-and-At 'Em Muffins," "Peanut Butter Raisin Crunch" or this "Sunrise Yogurt Shake."

SUNRISE YOGURT SHAKE

This fall, fashion-minded kids will be "mad for plaid"

This fall, look to see today's kids headed back to school in a variety of updated classics. Tartan plaids, houndstooth checks, oversized argyles and great new denim looks will be at the forefront of kids' fashions for fall, 1988.

"We are particularly excited about the fall fashion lineup our stores are presenting. The plaids, denims and novelty tops trimmed with buttons, bows, suspenders, etc., are sure to be big sellers in the girls' area," explained Sandy Emde, Vice-President Girls Division at Kids Mart Stores.

Kids Mart, the nation's largest children's specialty chain, will carry these and other classic styles for boys and girls.

The girls' lineup includes lots of exciting bright colorations, combining black with gold, aqua, magenta, purple, olive drab and red.

Bold colors, patterns

Bright colored floral prints will also have a strong presence this fall, as they move forward from a spring '88 dominance.

Black and white cows on humorous and novelty screened backgrounds will be an especially hot trend for girls, as they will be used on woven tops and skirts, and paired with coordinated solid leggings.

Jumpers are returning to today's back-to-school wardrobe for girls, along with double breasted jackets and matching skirts. The ever-popular circle skirt is slated to remain a favorite for this fall.

According to Emde, "Color will be especially important for back to school '88, in these updated classics, and even more exciting is our fabulous collection of matching jewelry, hair ornaments, hosiery, backpacks and bags, which provide a sure way to jazz up every back to school outfit."

What's in store for boys

Style and fashion for back to school will not be limited to girls' sportswear. According to Paul Lowry, Vice-President, Boys Division, of Kids Mart stores, "Boys' sportswear in our stores is an ever-increasing fashion business. For example, this fall, we'll carry a large selection of aviator theme garments."

"The aviator/look will include bomber jackets with sherpa collars, cotton pants and cotton sheeting shirts screened with nostalgia prints, all tying together for an aviator look."

The boys' fall collection at Kids Mart will also include texture prints with key colors of turquoise, black and gun metal grey shown on cotton pants and shirts. Navy and khaki will also represent important fabric colorations.

Fleece, an important element in kids' fashion, will be paired with novelty sports and aviator screen designs.

Significant trend

Houndstooth check prints for boys will be an important trend. These vivid black and white checks add to a "dress-up" casual look that is becoming increasingly important to boys' and men's fashion.

Not to be underestimated is the continuing importance of denim for boys this back to school season. Black, acid-washed and other washed denims will be very popular with boys.

Styles may come and go, but one thing is certain—fashion is more important to school-age children than ever before!

Orechio calls for water session

Legislators who supported Assembly bill 1912 aimed at forcing a reduced level in the Wanaque Reservoirs as a flood reduction problem are invited to an on-site explanation next week as to why the idea is folly and unfairly costly to owner communities of the North Jersey District water Supply Commission.

The invitations went out this week from Carl Orechio, commission chairman, who has made it clear to legislators that he and his colleagues on the commission are disappointed at the action. The bill has passed the Assembly and is awaiting senate action which, if successful, would then require the governor's signature.

Based on findings of a study prepared at New Jersey Institute of Technology, the measure suggests that a 5-percent reduction in water levels would alleviate flooding in certain communities in the Passaic River Basin.

"The study was actually prepared by a student, one commissioned by the Department of Environmental Protection, which expected it to confirm the findings of several earlier studies dealing with flood control in the basin," Orechio explained.

"What happened is that a student went back and checked weather records, times of rainfall, dates of flooding and concluded that had the reservoir been lowered to 95-percent at a certain hour on a certain day, flooding would have been alleviated somewhat downstream.

"It is flawed in two ways," he went on. "First, there is no way to predict exactly at what hour rain will fall, how much rain will fall, and when it will stop. Second, in theoretical study, those statistics and exact times can be created. In the real world there is no way anyone could lower the reservoirs with the exact timing called for in the NJIT study."

The invitation, which is for a 10 a.m. program at Wanaque, has gone to legislators, state officials and mayors and other local officials in owner and affected towns.

Commission meeting

The auction of the bikes is tentatively scheduled for September 1. The board had thought of offering the bikes to children living in town but Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli said it could not be done.

"Alberta's" request for a liquor license renewal was postponed until September 19 when the owner and attorney could be present. Edward Appling told the board he was part owner but Cozzarelli noted the documentation the town has state Appling's wife, Alberta, is the sole owner.

Spring Lake flooding

Another problem is the overflow of water brings human waste out on the street and in the yards during the floods, according to Dennis, who is a plumber. He said the sewage lines should be larger to accommodate the increased flow.

Part of the problem, according to the residents, is the construction of an apartment complex on Watchung Avenue. Before the apartments a farm was at the location and the soil would soak the water but with the apartments the water has no where to go but on the streets and in cellars.

"I want to build a deck for my dad," said Dennis, "but you think I'm going to build it with this problem."

The group plans to form a committee to voice their concerns and to possibly find assistance. Until then, they are hoping for a dry summer and fall.

A BACKYARD POOL — An unwanted one at that. This backyard on Belmont Avenue floods at least two or three times a year because of the drainage problem in the area.

Government change

A second meeting of the committee to change the government in Belleville will be held tonight in the Chandelier restaurant at 7:30, according to the chairman Joe Desaro.

Desaro said he was pleased by last week's meeting, when approximately 45-50 people attended. "Given such short notice, I thought it was a good exchange," he said. Ideas were discussed with the mayor or topic being a council manager with a weak mayor form of council.

He also feels the group will have very little problem raising signatures from at least 20 percent of the registered voters in town. "We need between 3,200-3,300 but we're looking for 4,000 to make sure." He felt the 10 volunteers who came up to him after the meeting was a "very healthy response."

Actual petitions will be sent to the printer by Friday he said with 25 lines for signatures on each sheet. Desaro said one of the most encouraging aspects has been the "talk on the street." He also said the movement is not a condemnation of the people in office but the form of government itself.

Under the form of government described by Desaro, the council members would not be paid. "We're looking for public servants, not politicians."

New elementary times

There will be new elementary starting and ending times starting this September for the new school year. They are:

8:30 a.m. - Students enter building
11:30 a.m. - Lunch begins
12:20 p.m. - Lunch ends
3:10 p.m. - Student dismissal

River health hazard

tigation revealed because of possible legal action but did say they found problems.

"We have witnessed some of the things Mr. Longo has said exist," said Proctor. "He's definitely not imagining them."

The tour conducted by Fornarotto and Longo discovered plastic containers that appeared to have come from Forest Hill Field Club but Golf Course Superintendent Jeffrey Wetterling said the culprits are probably kids taking the containers from the garbage, using them for something and then throwing them in the stream.

Wetterling said employees are instructed to throw the containers in a bin at the clubhouse and the Field Club would like nothing more than for the river to stay clean.

"If there's an inch of rain today we'll be flooded to that street," said Wetterling, pointing to a path between 50-75 yards away. "It doesn't stop the golfing but it ruins this section and you can't put a price on that."

A ride through Glendale Cemetery showed piles of dirt used for fill to protect the burial ground but also bottles, plastic flowers and plastic bags of garbage.

Fornarotto said he has also received complaints about soap suds in the river and said that would also be looked into by both towns.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mr. J. of Belleville writes: "Once a tooth is crowned, can it still get decayed?"

As you know, Mr. J., a crown covers 360 degrees of a tooth and often goes under the gums. If your dental hygiene is good and you keep your gums healthy, the possibility of decay under the crown is very small. If your crown ends above the gum, again your tooth will not be decayed if your hygiene and diet is good.

So, Mr. J., once a tooth is crowned it's very well protected but if that tooth is neglected it can become subject to the same problems as an uncrowned tooth. Keep up good daily hygiene and you'll be fine. Thank you.

Belleville Times SPORTS

I spent last weekend in a little Ohio suburb called Chautauqua. Now, while I'm sure everyone in Belleville is just thrilled with that piece of news, I'm getting to something that should interest most of our sports fans.

Chautauqua is about 50 miles outside of Cincinnati, 25 miles outside of Dayton. Thus, Cincinnati Bengal football is big there, and last weekend, the Bengals and Buffalo Bills battled in an exhibition game in Buffalo.

The Cincinnati T.V. station aired the contest, and, thanks to a very special lady named Cynthia Axtotes, I got to watch a very special athlete named David Grant play nose guard for the Bengals.

This was the Bengals third exhibition contest of the summer. The team had opened the '88 season by playing the Los Angeles Rams in the annual Hall of Fame game in Canton, Ohio a few weeks back. The Bengals beat the Rams, 14-7 in Canton, but lost to Kansas City in week two.

Thus, it was an important game, with the regular season looming closer. Cincinnati opens the 1988 regular season on September 4, when it plays host to the Phoenix Cardinals.

David Grant, of course, is a Belleville High School graduate, class of 1983, who went on to a stellar career at West Virginia University. Last April, he was selected in the fourth round by the Cincinnati Bengals and has been seeing extended playing time for the Bengals.

The Cincinnati Bengals appear to be an exciting club this year, and David is quickly fitting into the Bengals plans. He started the game against Buffalo last week and saw a good deal of playing time in the first half.

He appeared to more than hold his own against NFL top flight offensive lineman. The Bengals won the game at Buffalo and will now work hard toward its next exhibition game, set for this weekend at home against Detroit. The final game of the pre season is August 26 at New England.

The Bengals are hoping to come back after a poor 1987 season. They were just 5-11 after a 10-6 campaign in the '86 season. Cincinnati has an explosive offense and if the defense continues to improve, they could be a factor in the AFC Central. Right now, Cleveland appears to be the team to beat, with Houston and Pittsburgh right behind. The Bengals will be hard pressed in this very competitive division, but anything is possible.

As for Ms. Axtotes, I have to thank her because she cancelled dinner plans we had so that I could watch the Bengals and Bills play on her television. Instead of a fancy dinner, we had pizza and watched a pre season football game in her living room. It was fun watching a Belleville High grad on the big screen doing so well.

Certainly good luck goes out to David as he continues his quest to make the Bengals 45 man roster.

NFL SEASON GETTING CLOSER

As mentioned, the NFL regular season commences September 4, with the Giants and Redskins set for a September 5 nationally televised opener. The exhibition season hasn't produced too many surprises. In the NFC, the Skins appear the team to beat, with the Giants and Philadelphia not too far behind. Dallas could make a move and Phoenix could be the cellar dweller.

In the Central, the Chicago Bears look to be the team to beat, but a lot of experts feel it's the Vikings year. Detroit, Tampa Bay and Green Bay could be in for long campaigns.

Out in the West, San Francisco continues to be the class of the division, but the Rams and Saints should be close. Don't be surprised if that division produces as many as three teams in the NFC playoffs.

In the AFC, Buffalo and Indianapolis are the new powers in the division, although New England will probably stay close. The pick here is Indy, because of its potent running game.

Until someone beats them, Cleveland is the best in the AFC Central. Houston has developed a tough reputation and Pittsburgh has Chuck Noll which is good for an additional victory or two each year. Cincinnati hopefully will have Dave Grant, and maybe that will be good for a victory or two.

In the AFC West, the Raiders have a great corps of receivers, but their quarterback situation is in shambles. San Diego lost Dan Fouts to retirement and replacing a man of his talents won't be easy. Kansas City should be improved. The class of the division looks to be Denver and Seattle, with a good possibility that Seattle could dethrone the Broncos this season.

A note about the L.A. Raiders. On Monday, they released one of the all time greats, Jim Plunkett. This man had been with the Raiders since 1979 and led them to two Super Bowls, in 1980 and '83.

Before playing for the Raiders, he had less successful stints with the New England Patriots and San Francisco 49ers. He broke in with the Patriots as a Heisman Trophy rookie in 1971. His first game, ironically, was against the Oakland Raiders and he led the Pats to victory in that game.

To me, Jim Plunkett was the story of class. He played 17 years in the NFL and took more than his share of hits. He was a winning quarterback in every respect. It's nice that he finally got his just respect as a quarterback with the Raiders. Personally, I felt he could play at least one more season with the Raiders, but obviously it wasn't meant to be. Hopefully, the Hall of Fame committee will see fit to install Plunkett into their club in about five years.

Power index time

Football season is around the corner

You would never know it from the intense heat outside, but the high school football season is just around the corner. Starting next week, our Belleville Bucs will begin preparation for the 1988 campaign and head coach John Senesky and his staff are in the midst of final preparations.

The Bucs will kick off the preliminaries of practice next Monday, when the annual power index ratings are gaged. The power index measures a players overall strength in a number of weight lifting categories. Those ratings will be compiled August 22-24.

After the power index, the popular decathlon takes center stage on August 25. The decathlon is a measuring stick of what kind of condition a prospective player is in. It gives the coaches an idea of who is in good shape and which players will need additional conditioning work once practice begins.

Usually, the decathlon is a barometer of how the team will do. The better conditioned the athletes, the less time the coaches need to work on repetitions. Less conditioning time means more time in skill work and hopefully, give the players an edge toward the start of the season.

Belleville will be looking to improve on last years 3-6 campaign.

The Bucs played a solid defense in 1987, but weren't as productive on the offense. The Bucs were also up against a very difficult schedule. The NNJIL was one of the best conferences in the state last season, with Kennedy, Eastside, Montclair and Clifton leading the way.

This year, Belleville's schedule has been revamped, with the NNJIL realigning for the third time in seven seasons. The Bucs will battle old foes Passaic, Nutley, Bloomfield and Montclair, but will also see new opponents in Paramus Catholic, Teaneck and Hackensack.

Senesky will be entering his 12th season as head coach this fall. His career record at BHS is 62-36. He has led four Belleville teams to the Group IV, Section II playoffs. The 1980 club prevailed in a first round state game over Morris Knolls, but lost in the championship game to West Essex.

In 1979, '82 and '84, Belleville lost first round games to Union High School. The 1979 and '82 games with Union were thrillers that went down to the wire. Union won in '79, 15-12 at Giants Stadium despite a brilliant effort from Lenny Mendola, Frank Fazzini and Phil Cerza. Fazzini and Cerza, both members of the Belleville Hall of Fame, were sophomores in '79.

Flashback

East Orange football rivalry remembered

This weeks Flashback takes us to the Fall of 1964. As was tradition, Belleville and East Orange opened the football season against each other. This game was played at Belleville High, and the Bellboys pulled a big upset by beating the defending state champs from E.O., 14-7.

This game became very significant a few weeks later. Belleville was forced by the NJSIAA to forfeit the game when one of the players, Walter Phipps, was declared ineligible because of residence. The '64 Bellboys would finish the regular season with a 4-4-1 record, although in their hearts, the Bellboys were 5-3-1 under coach Tom Testa in '64.

Where were you back then? A copy of the Belleville Times cost .10. The 1964 Rambler was a big seller in the auto business and Wolf Rambler in Nutley was the place to buy one in this area. Houses cost about $22,000.00 in the Belleville-Nutley area.

The article on the Belleville-East Orange game appeared in the October 1, 1964 issue. It was written by Steve Charen.

A great team effort by an inspired Belleville High football team upset top rated East Orange, 14-7, before a capacity crowd Saturday at Municipal Stadium. The Bellboys started like champs, piling up a 14-0 halftime lead. In the first half, Belleville outrushed East Orange 153 yards to 36. Halfback Joe Cervasio led the way, piling up 112 yards rushing.

East Orange won the toss and returned the kick 12 yards to the their own 42 yard line. With a fourth and two, East Orange punted to the Belleville 12, but the kick was called back for a 15 yard roughing the kicker penalty. The Panthers didn't do much with their second chance, moving the ball five yards to the Belleville 30 on the first three downs. With a fourth and five, East Orange tried a double reverse, but quarterback Ryland Powell was hit for a three yard loss.

Belleville took over on the 33 and the Bellboys didn't waste any time showing who was boss. On the first play from scrimmage, Len Luongo opened a hole and Joe Cervasio rambled 44 yards to the East Orange 27. Fullback Joe La Falce carried to the 18, before halfback Walt Phipps got the first down on the eleven. Len Luongo and Ed Carney then opened a hole for Cervasio, who scored standing up. Russ Mattoon kicked the point making it 7-0. The 67 yard drive took just four plays.

After failing to move the ball, East Orange quick kicked from their own 35 on third down. Belleville got the ball on their own 27. On second down, a holding penalty pushed the Bellboys back to the 14. Cervasio went 20 yards to get Belleville out of the hole, but Belleville punted on a fourth and one situation.

The Panthers returned the kick to their own 30. On second down, quarterback Powell rolled out and ran 11 yards and the first East Orange first down as the quarter ended. On a fourth and five, East Orange punted.

The Bellboys got a bad break when the punt took a crazy hop and was downed on the two yard line. Belleville made it out to the 10 before a penalty pushed them back. A fourth down punt was called back on a holding penalty, but Bill Di Biase got the second punt off from the end zone.

East Orange returned it to the Belleville 34 yard line. Tailback Monroe Mosely took it to the 27, before fullback Tom Blue went to the 23 for a first down. After getting no where on two runs, Powell passed to Will Davis for a first down on the Belleville 13. Here the Belleville defense tightened. On first down, Powell was hit for a loss of two yards. On second down, when his receivers were covered, Powell carried to the 11. On third down, Powell went back to pass, but a hard rush caused a hurried incomplection. With a fourth and eight, East Orange tried a reverse and again was hit for a loss of three yards.

Belleville took over on its own 14. Cervasio opened with a 13 yard sweep to the 27, but then with a fourth and nine, the Bellboys were forced to punt. This turned out to

Puentes to continue career at NJIT

Leon Puentes of Belleville will continue his impressive academic and athletic career when he enrolls as a freshman at New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) next month.

Puentes, who ranked 14 in Belleville High School's Class of 1988, was a member of the National Honor Society. He plans to major in electrical engineering at NJIT.

Puentes' academic attainments were matched by all-star achievements on the basketball court. He was a 1,000 point scorer during his prep career, and as the senior point guard on coach Don Roll's 1987-88 Belleville squad, Puentes keyed the Bucs to a 15-10 record and berths in the Essex County and state Group IV tournaments.

In his senior season, Puentes averaged 15 points and eight assists a game; he was accorded first team honors on the NNJIL's all-conference team and on the Herald-News' all-area team.

"It's especially exciting for me to bring in a student athlete from Belleville High School," said Tech Head Coach Jim Catalano, who graduated from Belleville High School himself in 1967.

"We scouted Leon for three years," added Catalano, "and he impressed us with his willingness to work and improve his game. Leon exemplifies the kind of student-athlete who has always made great contributions to New Jersey Tech, and I know he'll do a great job in the classroom and on the court."

Catalano's 1987-88 squad went 22-7, and NJIT won its third ECAC Metro Division III tournament in the last seven years.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Pre-school leader needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently seeking an adult woman to conduct its popular Pre-School Play Program. The program, which is open to four-year old children, runs Monday-Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. The Fall season is slated to begin on Sept. 19.

The ideal applicant will have completed two full years of college work, including 15 college credits in early childhood education and 4 or child development and have one year of teaching experience in a group program for children under six years of age, which may include student teaching. Additional experience may be substituted for college course work. Persons with other experience in serving children of this age category may also apply.

This position entails leadership of games, stories, arts & crafts and outside activities, as well as singing, playing and organizing special events/parties for the children. If interested, please contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 to arrange for an interview.

Pre-School Registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children.

The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties, especially designed for pre-school children.

Sessions are held from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. five days a week, with class size limited to 25 children. Cost of the 15-week session is $45. The mothers of the children accepted will serve one duty day about every 8 or 9 days, according to a published schedule.

School will begin Monday, Sept.

19 under the leadership of Susanne Iannini.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Dept. at 450-3422 as soon as possible.

Touch football

registration continues

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1988 Touch Football program are still available at the Recreation Department office. Belleville boys who will be 8 years old by December 31, 1988 and who will be no older than 10 on December 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply and all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department at 407 Joralemon Street before the September 2 deadline date.

The registration deadline for recreation soccer has also been extended to Friday, August 26, 1988.

Coaches sought

The Belleville Recreation Department is looking for men interested in coaching the football programs. The "Junior Bucs" tackle program consists of three traveling teams, who compete in the Metropolitan Junior Football League, the Midget, Junior Varsity and Varsity Division.

Touch Football for boys ages 8 to 10, instructs the children in the fundamentals of football, while eliminating heavy body contact.

Applicants should have previous football playing or coaching experience. All coaches will be required to attend the NYSCA certification clinics.

For further information or applications, call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays.

Persons interested in coaching soccer are also encouraged to apply.

be turning point of the game. Doug Gordan fumbled the punt and speedy Richie Del Russo recovered for Belleville on the East Orange 40 yard line.

With a first down draw play, Cervasio brought the Bellboys to the 20. La Falce then carried to the 16. Quarterback Frank Mineo attempted to run when his receivers were covered, but made no gain. He was shaken up on the play and Ron Tomaszewski replaced him. Tomaszewski threw an incomplete pass before Mineo came in for the fourth down play. Frank faked beautifully, rolled out, and hit right end Tony Sorrentino, who was all alone in the end zone with a 16 yard scoring strike. Mattoon added the point. The 40 yard drive took five plays.

East Orange completed one pass and missed on two attempted long bombs as the half ended with Belleville leading, 14-0.

EDITORS NOTES: Belleville and East Orange continued to open the season against each other until 1969. In the '69 game, Belleville once again upset the favored Panthers in the season opener, this time at East Orange. The victory would stay on the books this time, but the rivalry ended. After the game, a riot broke out in the stands and went into the streets. It caused many a scary moment for the fans, parents, school officials, athletes and coaches from Belleville who were trying to get to the busses and cars.

The Belleville Board of Ed decided it was in the best interest of both schools to cancel the football rivalry between the two schools. Belleville and East Orange have not met since that day in 1969 in football.

On a happier note, Joe Cervasio enjoyed a tremendous season in 1964. He rushed for over 1,000 yards. Belleville defeated Bloomfield the following week, then tied the powerful Maroon Raiders of Nutley, 6-6 in week three. It was after the Nutley game that the NJSIAA decided to have Belleville forfeit the East Orange victory.

Finish 2-6

Basketball finishes summer season

By Pat Brightman

Despite its 2-6 overall record, Head Basketball Coach Donald Roll felt the summer team which competed in the Elizabeth League accomplished what was necessary to get a leg up on next season.

Roll said an ankle injury to Raymond Zamloot, which sidelined the guard for five games, was a big reason for the sub-.500 record.

"The wins were good if we got them but we were concerned with other things," he said noting how the team improved towards the end of the year. "We're dealing with young players. A lot have never seen varsity time before."

"We played against good competition and we worked on some of our set offense," he continued. "It won't be as hard to adjust this winter, plus they played together. It's hard to get them to play together in the summer."

Roll could not coach the team due to league rules so recently graduated Leon Puentes took the reins and Roll said he did a good job for his first time out. By looking at the summer team, Roll can evaluate what he can expect from his team come this winter.

Raymond Zamloot — Roll will be counting on the 5'11" senior a great deal this winter. He averaged about 20 points per game in his limited duty. He can, and most likely will, see action at both guard positions. Roll said he has "very good outside shot."

Dominick Straface — Another player who averaged close to 20 points a game. The six-footer can play either forward position and is a good rebounder. "He plays bigger than he is," said Roll. He also has a very aggressive shot, according to Roll.

Mike Powers — The point guard missed a couple of games during the summer season. Roll said he has made big strides on his ball handling this summer, after spending last winter on the junior varsity.

Jim Krupke — The junior will be called upon to man the middle next year for the Bucs. Roll said the 6'6" center has "improved a great deal," according to Roll. He is very aggressive and can rebound well. According to Roll he has to improve his strength and inside moves. "He has to work on the weights," said Roll. "He only weighs about 170 pounds."

Doug Hoogendyk — At 6'3", this junior can play both the power and shooting forward spots. Roll said he has been to camps all summer, has a good outside touch and is a consistent free throw shooter.

Chris Young — The point guard hits the outside jumper, Roll said. "He's learning how to play varsity," explained Roll, noting it is a jump from junior varsity, where Young played last year, and varsity.

Jerry Dalessio — A senior swingman, he can play either shooting guard or small forward. At 5'10" he's a good defensive man, is aggressive and plays at 100 percent, according to Roll.

Andy Duhaime — Because of the 3-point shot, the 5'8" off-guard will be counted on next year. Roll said he is excellent from the outside.

Other players who will be counted on next year include seniors Anthony Rodriguez and Chris Cantarella, both guards, who did not play much in the summer because they played American Legion baseball.

Roll thinks next season will be similar in that he expects his team to improve over the course of the season. "I think we'll take our lumps early because we're young but by the end of the season we'll be very competitive. I'm looking forward to it."

Multiple sclerosis treatment

A new treatment for a serious form of multiple sclerosis has been developed and tested at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville. According to the Clara Maass Department of Radiation Oncology, results have been positive and the study will be continued.

It is generally believed that multiple sclerosis is an autoimmune disease. Lymphocytes, a type of white blood cells, attack the myelin sheaths of the body's nerve fibers, causing the symptoms of multiple sclerosis.

Since radiation is effective in destroying these lymphocytes, treatment of multiple sclerosis patients with total lymphoid irradiation (TLI) was proposed by Dr. Devereux, who had used TLI in the treatment of Hodgkin's disease, Dr. Stuart Cook, chairman of the Department of Neurosciences at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ), Dr. Robert Vidaver, a psychiatrist at UMDNJ, and Dr.

Raymond Troiano, a UMDNJ neurologist.

One group of patients with chronic progressive multiple sclerosis were treated with the Clara Maass linear accelerator, which targeted X-rays to their lymph nodes. A control group of patients received no radiation. The 25 percent of patients who had the lowest levels of lymphocytes after treatment were found to have significant relief from further progress of their disease.

Calls have been received at Clara Maass from patients in all parts of the United States, since the Medical Center is the only facility providing the treatment. Those who wish to discuss participating in the ongoing study are asked to call 456-6462 or 456-5208 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. A number of physicians have made inquiries because of interest in providing the treatment at other locations.

PIONEER — Corinne Devereux, M.D., director of Radiation Oncology at Clara Maass Medical Center and co-investigator of a new treatment for multiple sclerosis.

Dangers of swimming pools

The health officer of the Town of Belleville, Thomas Longo, warns parents and guardians of small children that they must be ever aware of the dangers associated with swimming pools during this season. Some safety tips Longo offers are:

Never leave a child alone out of eye contact supervision; young children should never be considered water-safe despite their swimming skills; access to the pool should be limited by locked doors or gates; teach your child good pool safety habits - no running, no diving or jumping in shallow water or "dunking;" do not rely solely on plastic innertubes, inflatable arm bands or other toys to prevent accidents; keep toys, particularly tricycles or wheel toys, away from the pool and do not allow anyone of any age to swim without a "spotter" nearby.

Other tips are: during social gatherings, be certain that someone has the major responsibility for watching the children and swimmers at all times; do not permit playful screaming for help which might mask a real emergency; teach your child the most effective way to get out of the pool quickly; do not allow your child to swim immediately after eating a heavy meal; do not allow swimming during thunder or other storms; do not allow glass in the pool area, and do not allow the use of drugs or alcohol by persons using the pool.

Hardwick discusses disposal costs

By Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick

The ever-increasing cost of solid waste disposal has affected everyone across New Jersey.

Five counties, in particular, have felt the costly impact of spiraling garbage rates. The residents in these counties - Bergen, Essex, Morris, Union and Somerset - are shouldering a heavy financial burden with disproportionately higher rates than some of their neighbors.

One of the Assembly's goals entering the present term in January was to pass legislation to bring waste disposal assistance to the entire State, especially those hit unnecessarily hard by the garbage crunch.

My Assembly colleagues and I feel strongly that we accomplished this aim by passing three important measures in recent months. The three-part legislation would create a loan fund, grants to all municipalities and a rate averaging system to create fiscal parity of disposal fees. These measures have the potential to provide sufficient waste relief to taxpayers, especially those in the five forementioned counties.

The first bill released creates the Solid Waste Rate Shock Relief Loan Fund, which would spread $450 million in low interest loans among all the counties. The loans from this bill, which I sponsored, would reduce present garbage fees to $96 per ton.

Essex County would receive a loan of $36 million to use toward lessening the burden of trash costs on its residents. Morris would receive $15 million; Bergen, $36 million; Somerset, $10.7 million; and Union $27 million.

The bill is awaiting action in the Senate Energy and Environment Committee.

The second bill, released by the Assembly on June 23, calls for a total of $100 million in grants for all New Jersey municipalities to help reduce the impact of trash costs. The money to each municipality would be allocated according to population.

The amount of money communities in each county will receive are: Somerset $2.7 million; Morris, $5.5 million; Essex, $11.2 million; Union, $6.7 million; and Bergen, $11.1 million.

The third piece of legislation was passed by our House on June 27 and directly affects the five counties. It is the rate averaging bill.

Residents performing in play

The Studio Players, which includes two Belleville residents, will present a preview of Neil Simon's "Chapter Two" August 25 and 26 at the Studio Playhouse on Alvin Place in Upper Montclair.

This is not a part of their scheduled season but rather a part of a cultural exchange with their sister city in the London Borough of Barnet. In May, 1988, Montclair's Friends of Barnet welcomed performers from the Entena Theatre Company in England to present "Private Lives" at the Studio Playhouse. This was the first step in a theatrical exchange between the two cities.

Karen L. Cressman, of Belleville, will play Faye in the production. Cressman has aspirations of becoming a TV and film actress. She has studied acting at Drexel University and H.B. Studios. With the Studio Players she was seen as Alais in "The Lion in Winter" and as Kathy in "Having a Wonderful Time, Wish You Were Here." At Seton Hall she played Wendy in "The Uninvited" and was Corie in "Barefoot in the Park" at Nutley Little Theatre.

Joseph V. Dowd, the owner of a computer consulting company, will be Leo. Dowd became involved with theatre four years ago when he played Teddy in "Arsenic and Old Lace" at the Incandescent Theatre in West Orange. He appeared as Paul in a production of "You Can't Take It With You," and at Nutley Little Theatre was seen in "A Taste of Honey." At the Studio Playhouse, Dowd has been in several casts, including "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," in which he played the weary Erronius, with outstanding makeup which he designed.

Curtain will be at 8:00 p.m. for the August 25 and 26 previews, and all seats are $5. Reservations may be made by calling the Studio Playhouse at 744-9752 between 1:00 and 4:00, and 7:00 and 9:00. The limited seating capacity of the theatre and the two nights only run makes it advisable to make reservations early.

Overcharge protection provided by state

By Cary Edwards
N.J. Attorney General

One of the Department of Law and Public Safety's newest licensing boards can protect you against overcharges and loss of your possessions when you hire a moving or storage company in New Jersey. It is especially important to be aware of this protection at this time, since 80 percent of the moving and storage business is transacted from May to September.

The State Board of Public Movers and Warehousemen in the Division of Consumer Affairs has regulated companies that transport or store household goods within the state since 1982. During its relatively short life, the agency has restored to consumers more than $100,000 in refunds from movers and warehousemen for overcharges alone, and has obtained for consumers at least 10 times that amount in negotiated insurance settlements. At the same time, the board has licensed 475 public movers, which had not previously been required to meet state-imposed standards.

The board consists of three moving industry representatives and two consumer representatives, who are appointed by the Governor to serve as advisors to the Director of the Division of Consumer Affairs. Carrying out my mandate to provide maximum protection to the public, Division Director James J. Barry Jr. and board Executive Director Diane Romano have set up a consumer information service at the board offices in Newark.

New insurance program

Comprehensive insurance services are now available to homebuyers through participating Century 21 franchises in New Jersey.

The new insurance program will simplify the process of arranging appropriate property coverage to satisfy lender's requirements.

"We intend to expand the services we offer to homebuyers to make the road to closing a smooth one," said Robert Sperte, regional director of Century 21 in the northeast.

"For most buyers, purchasing a home is a major financial decision and a stressful, taxing process. Our franchises are now becoming automated and will be able to provide mortgage review services and comparative cost analysis which will ease financing decisions," he said.

"If our brokers can also help the buyer to arrange insurance, that's one less headache. Real estate firms offering such ancillary services are better equipped to satisfy the homebuyer's needs and to make the process of purchasing a home an easier one," Sperte added.

Nearly half involved

Nearly half of the 585 Century 21 franchises in the four-state Northeast region, which includes Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Rhode Island, are participating in the new insurance program.

Trust Company honors two 60-year employees

Two employees of the Trust Company of New Jersey set a record in the banking industry when they celebrated the 60th anniversaries of employment with the bank, according to Sigi B. Wilzig, chairman and president.

Senior vice presidents Irene Miller and Al Frech were teenagers when they joined the bank.

Miss Miller started as a messenger in 1928, earning $600 per year and advanced through various positions in the bank's Hudson County branch offices. She was promoted to the position of assistant manager of the deposit transactions department in 1965, where she has risen through corporate ranks to her current position of senior vice president.

Frech began the same year in the bookkeeping department with a salary of $700. He progressed through such departments as the business development and operation departments and is currently working throughout the bank's 35 branch network as senior vice president of special product development.

Wilzig gave each a rare gold clock of a Swiss collection and an all-expense paid trip to any destination of their choice within the United States.

H & R Block offers tax course to college students

Almost everyone wants to earn a little extra money. H & R Block teaches a tax course that has given many people an opportunity to do just that.

"Tax season lasts from January 2nd to April 15th, and if you know how to prepare income taxes, it could mean picking up some extra income during that time," said Bert Tobia, H & R Block District Manager.

And, according to Mr. Tobia, that's what a lot of college students have done. "We get a lot of students in our Basic Income Tax Course because it doesn't interfere with their college requirements, and it teaches them a skill they can put to use immediately to make extra money they need."

One important aspect of Block's tax course is that job interviews are available to top graduates of the course. The company has almost 8000 offices throughout the country and employs more than 40,000 tax preparers during the peak of tax season. "There is no obligation on the part of the student to accept employment, and by the same token, H & R Block is under no obligation to offer employment. However, we do hire a lot of tax school graduates each year, for both part-time and full-time hours," explained Mr. Tobia.

He also explained that the course requires no special experience in accounting nor prior tax knowledge. "The major requirement is simply a desire and ability to learn," said Mr. Tobia.

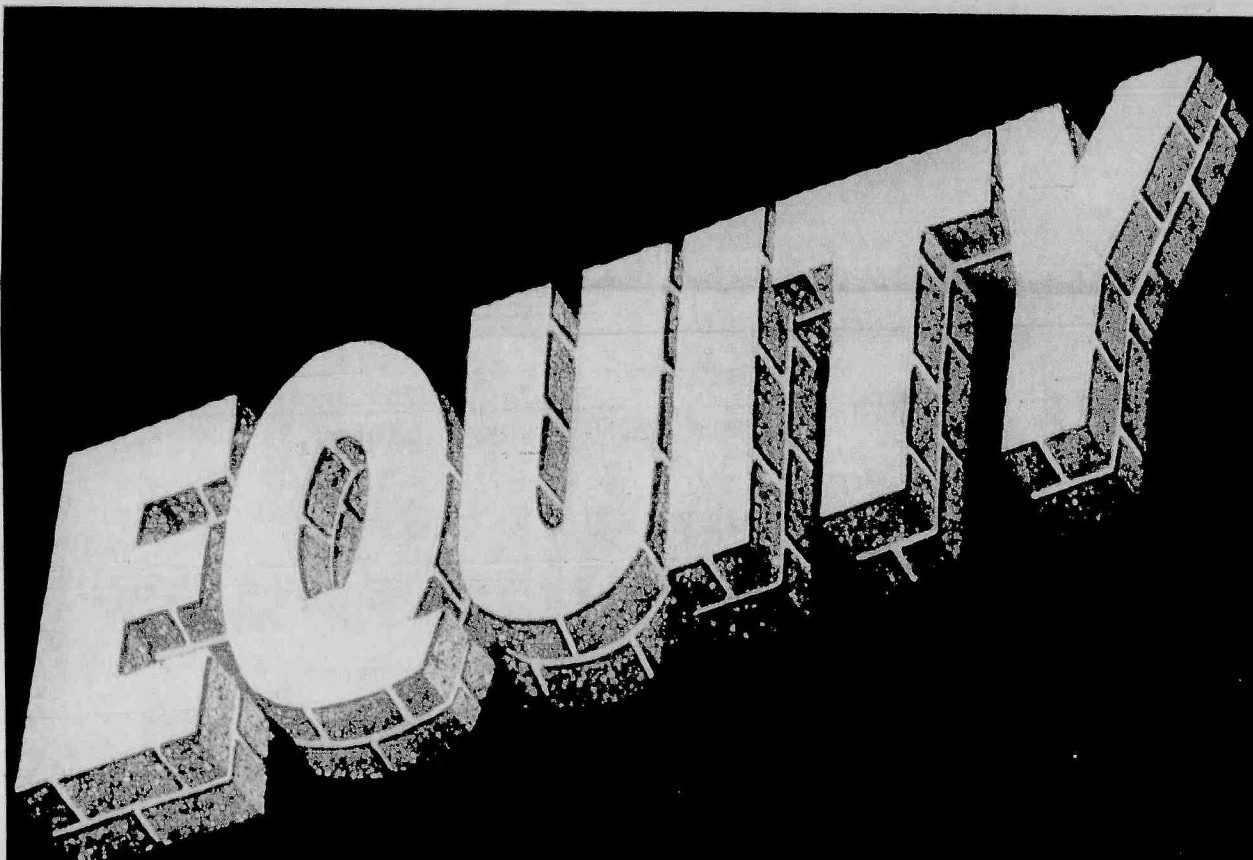

Unlike college courses, which have extra fees for labs and books, the cost of the Block course covers the cost of all materials, including the textbooks and reference materials. The cost of the course is very reasonable compared to tuition for many college courses, and H & R Block has an easy installment payment plan.

Classes start in the fall, coinciding with the opening of most colleges, and are offered in the morning, afternoon and evening for additional convenience. Graduates are awarded 7.5 continuing education units.

The classes meet for 13 weeks before the Christmas holiday, and cover topics such as filing requirements, itemizing deductions, income averaging, farm returns, rental properties and business returns. "By tax time, students are ready to start preparing income tax returns," said Mr. Tobia.

College students interested in enrolling in the tax school may obtain additional information by contacting the H & R Block Registration Center at 155 Franklin Ave., Nutley, N.J. or by calling 235-1000.

DePiro Realtors to handle remaining Union Glen sales

"Only a few left," that's the word on Union Glen. Belmont Builders, the developer of Union Glen, has selected DePiro Realtors of Nutley to market the site. Union Glen offers 2 bedroom, 2 bath condominiums on Union Avenue, Belleville, with balconies, individual air conditioners and heating. The brick and cedar buildings are in an area convenient to all transportation to New York and other employment areas.

The view of New York is unbelievable and the units are now being offered at $139,900 to close out sales.

"We are proud to market this site and offer a good price to the public. Quality has shown to be what the buying public wants — along with price. Quality is there and now the price is too at $139,900," stated Ron De Piro, president of De Piro Realtors.

Union Glen can be viewed every day except Monday from 12 to 4 p.m. A De Piro agent is on site and can assist with financing information, floor plans and viewing of available units.

For further information call DePiro Realtors at 667-0006.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q: I am thinking of selling a rental house I own. I'd like to buy a similar home in the shore area. The real estate agent said I could trade it for a house he is listing after the summer; in this way avoid paying tax on the sale. It sounds too good to be true, or illegal. Could you clarify?

A: This is a viable and legal possibility. It is referred to as an IRC 1031 Starker delayed tax-deferred exchange. Here is how it works. First, neither property can be your personal residence. Secondly, you must trade up to a more expensive "like kind" property for investment. You can sell your rental house now, and have 45 days to designate a property to be acquired and close the second purchase within 180 days. Note that this only defers the tax and does not eliminate it.

Q: If a business has received a letter of non-applicability from ECRA, does that mean the property is free from hazardous waste and can be transferred?

A: No. It just means that the property is not subject to the ECRA process. ECRA is the Bureau of Environmental Protection. This applies to business and is subject to their SIC number (Standard Industrial Classification) which means if the seller has a letter of non-applicability, the buyer should still investigate if he suspects contamination. Even though the seller can convey title without going through ECRA, the buyer may find that when he goes to sell, he is subject to ECRA process because of a different SIC number. Check with the Department of Environmental Protection. You can call 1-609-292-7172 for assistance.

ADVERTISE!

Rambaldi salesperson of the month

Century 21 Stanford Agency has announced Barbara Rambaldi as salesperson of the month of July.

Rambaldi is sincerely dedicated to the needs of her clients and understands the emotional factors involved in selling a home as well as those of the first time buyer.

"It takes cooperation and the development of rapport, trust and patience to work effectively with all people. I feel that this is the basis for my past success in the real estate business," Rambaldi said.

Local realtors exchange ideas at Trade Center

Carole Viola and Jim Farese, prominent Passaic Realtor-Owners, attended the President's Advisory Board Meeting for the Northeast Region of Century 21 held at the World Trade Center, New York City, June 15.

Held twice yearly, the Advisory Board Meeting provides an opportunity for Century 21 brokers, Northeast Regional staff, and representatives from the International Office and Metropolitan Life-Century 21 Insurance Services to share ideas about the current trends in the real estate industry and to develop business strategies for the coming year. Leading Century 21 brokers in the four-state region, which includes Connecticut, New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island are invited to participate in the day-long event.

"The session affords a valuable opportunity to hear from the prominent brokers about competition in their market places. Their contribution enables us to better serve our consumers in the Northeast Region," said Robert Sperte, regional director, Century 21 of the Northeast.

Enhancement of services offered to consumers, modernization of facilities, Century 21 Insurance Services, and a major new national advertising program were topics highlighted at this June's meeting. Current financial and real estate trends were also discussed.

"A principal goal for the Region continues to be enhancing the number of quality services Century 21 franchises provide homebuyers and sellers," said Viola.

Their CENTURY 21 A CV Clifton office was one of the top-ranked franchises in the state during the 1st quarter of 1988.

DID YOU KNOW??

Embroidered and ruffled hems are a real plus when you're using sheets for curtains, dust ruffles and such. Plan the project so the sheet hem becomes a decorative border.

Spackling putty dries faster than joint compound, so it's easier to use, especially for small wallboard repairs. Whichever you choose, be sure it's still moist; crumbly putty or compound doesn't work as well.

Decorative molding is increasingly popular to add architectural interest to a room, especially as a cornice just below the ceiling.
Classic styles are available in wood, pressed metal, or high-density polymer that doesn't warp.

If you must store gasoline for your mower, don't bring it inside the house. Keep the container out of direct sunlight and in a cool place. Heat encourages vaporization.

Christmas in July — tiny white Christmas lights, attached on the underside of steps, indoor or out, seem to float in darkness, adding a touch of glamour. Actually, they're extra-sensible, increasing safety underfoot.

It could be Christmas in July if your "gift" to your family is a wonderful home of their own. We'll help you find a house that meets your needs and your budget at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley 235-9000.
