Local band wins on MTV

By Pat Brightman
The United States rock-nroll public has spoken, or at least those who watch M-TV, and they have decided that Belleville's own "Faces In The Crowd" is worth

Last Thursday the band appeared on the music video station in an hour long show called "Basement Tapes" and defeated three other bands and will be seen on the cable channel throughout September on a show called "120 Minutes," which is on Sunday nights at midnight. They may also be played on "Night Flight," a video music show on the USA

The half-hour long show, aired at 1:00 a.m., features bands that do not have a major record label but have original music. The videos are played with viewers calling in who they feel is the best band out of four finalists. "Faces In The Crowd" received 58 percent of the vote, or 1,721 calls, while the closest runner-up only tallied 25 percent.

Their video is of a song entitled "Love Without Fiction," from their debut EP simply entitled "Faces In The Crowd," It is a concept video with a woman remembering a love lost. The video stars bass player Kevin Mostillo and his wife. Pouls who is the load. and his wife, Paula, who is the lead singer of the band and was shot in New York City by Greg Paine of Paine Video Productions, located in New York City.

"I was at my mother's house with my brother," recalled Mostillo, "and she doesn't have cable. My wife called up screaming that we won." Kevin's brother, Joe, plays the drums while the remaining band members are guitarist Nick DeStafano and keyboardist John Peccarelli.

"Hopefully things will start to roll," commented Mostillo the day after the victory. He said the band was to meet and put together press dts and prepare flyers. "It's good that we won but we have to broadeast it to the max.

"The monster must be fed," he continued. "The media monster." Mostillo also said they may (continued on page 2)

Child I.D. program sponsored by Columbus Day committee

The Belleville-Nutley Columbus Day Committee will be sponsoring a free pre-school child emergency I.D. program this year. On September 10, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., parents can bring their pre-school children to the Nutley Recreation House, Room 201 on the second floor, located at 44 Park Avenue. According to Committee Chairman Mario Drozdz, the photo and fingerprinting session is voluntary and parents must sign a permission slip for this service.

The child's photo, personal description and thumbprint will be placed on an I.D. card the size of a credit card and then laminated. Neither the committee nor any law enforcement agency is keeping any information; the card is for parents to take home and put in a safe place. Then, in the event of an emergency, such as the disappearance of a child, the child's card can be given to the police to aid them in their location efforts.

VIEWERS OF OBC'S six o'clock news tonight are going to get their first glimpse of Essex County's aborning resource recovery center adjacent to the New Jersey Turnpike in Newark. By Tom Sullivan

With construction on the county resource recovery in Newark on schedule, taxpayers can expect a drop of about one third in the cost of garbage disposal when the unit comes on line in about three years says County Executive Nicholas Amato.

Amato made the statement at the construction site adjacent to the New Jersey Turnpike, where engineers profess themselves well pleased with progress on the incinerator which will have 18 truck bays to receive refuse from all over the county.

"Unlike Passaic County, which has indulged in trick financing to hide the true costs of its current Pennsylvania dumping program, Essex will be free and clear of

We're A Constitutional City

Belleville will be the town to be in if your in the mood to celebrate as the town may be chosen as one of the towns across the nation to participate in the Constitutional Bicentennial Commission of New Jersey's sclute to the document.

The events planned to honor the U.S. Constitution will be an added feature to the town, which has many other events scheduled for Belleville's 150th anniversary.

"It's really an honor. We'll be recognized nationally," said Bernard O'Conner, who is the Bicentennial Chairman for Belleville.

O'Conner said he first heard about the program from a person in Rutherford while he was trying to assertain information for the town's 150th celebration. Included in the proposed events are flag plantings, memorial services for Revolutionary War veterans, a display of various Bill of Rights materials, an essay contest. A parade is also in the discussion stage and would have parade walkers in colonial attire.

We'll have a memorial service at the Belleville Reform Church since it is the oldest building in town," explained O'Conner. People will be dressed in colonial (continued on page two)

Police officer saves lives while vacationing

Belleville Police Officer John Martucci rescued one woman and assisted in the evacuation of others from a burning building while vacationing in Wildwood Crest, Martucci, who has been on the force for 10 years, noticed a structure fire at 116 East Cresse Avenue August 27 and took heroic actions in saving lives, according to Borough of Wildwood Crest Police Chief Robert J. Frederick, Jr. Frederick wrote a letter to Belleville Police Chief George Lister commending Martucci and conveyed "deepest gratitude...for a job

According to Frederick, Martucci, without regard for his own safety, rescued the woman and returned to help evacuate other occupants from the structure while it was in flames. Martucci suffered a foot injury during the evacuation. Lister said the first he heard of Martucci's heroics when he received the letter last week. The chief was understandably pleased upon reading the correspondence.

"I'm elated that we get recognition of another police depart-ment for how one of our officers performed," said Lister. "It proves the old adage that a policeman is on duty 24 hours a day."

In the letter, Frederick said
Martucci is a credit to his profession and the Belleville Police Department, and his efforts should not go unrewarded.

Martucci could not be reached for comment.

hings you never knew about car insurance

If you own and drive a car in New Jersey you know that maintaining adequate insurance coverage is costly -- very costly. If you are under 25, even with a good driving record and no claims, you could be contributing the first $50 of your weekly earnings to an insurance

New Jersey's automobile insurance premiums are at or near the top in the nation, yet many underwriters say they lose money doing business here, and some major companies have actually ceased to write policies in the state.

Perhaps more than any other problem besetting the state this one prompts the angriest reaction from residents, because everyone feels the pinch, and in response to complaints from constituents, separate bills have been drafted and passed in the Assembly and the Senate but thus far, there is no indication that the differences will be resolved anytime soon.

Senator Carmen Orechio, D-30th District, who was involved in preparation of the senate's measure, says that New Jersey's unwelcome status as the state paying the highest premiums is not caused by the insurance companies, but rather, they are reacting to the state's unique status.

"New Jersey is small in area," the senator explained, "but it has a very large population, creating the highest residential density in the nation; we have more highway miles per square mile than any other state and more vehicles per square mile than any other.

More cars, more claims

"We have a very high incidence of accident claims and when the insurance conmpanies pay to settle these, our high cost of living makes both the auto repairs and the medical bills higher than in most other

"New Jerseyans also are very litigious," Orechio went on. "There is a heavy volume of lawsuits for pain and suffering, and on top of all this, we have a very high incidence

"As we all know, insurance companies operate on an experience basis. If they pay out more in claims than they take in in premiums, they lose money. Not too many years ago, a new car cost $4,000 to $6,500. Today, $7,000 to $18,000 is a more realistic range, with some luxury cars costing two or three times those figures

"If an expensive new car is smashed, it can cost two or more times the driver's premium for the repairs, and if personal injuries are involved with the driver or passengers, the payout can skyrocket.

FIRST IN A SERIES BY TOM SULLIVAN

"When the insurors study the statistics, they find that younger drivers are involved in a majority of the accidents so, as a group, their premiums are made higher. The companies discover that some drivers are so accident prone or perhaps even downright irresponsible, that there is no practical way to insure them within the normal operating system. "They have to be separated

entirely, and to ensure that their actions do not create severe financial burdens for persons they injure, or whose cars or other property they damage, the state has had to set up a special fund financed by surcharges on every driver to meet those bills," Orechio explained.

"Many of us can remember a uninsured or underinsured drivers were left without any redress. Now the means exist to meet such claims but, unfortunately the charges on that fund have been running so high that a $2 billion deficit resulted.

"Everyone was shocked when the surcharge was increased recently, but as the system presently operates, there was no alternative. Often my constituents tell me that such bad drivers ought to be kept off the road altogether. Well, that will happen, because as they pile up bad records, they are pricing themselves off of the road," the senator added. To a far lesser degree, what seems like a natural instinct in some persons to cheat their insurance company when a claim becomes necessary, or gouging by repairmen, or by arranged thefts by some individuals who claim full reimbursment for their vehicles, add to the problem.

To counter this Attorney General W. Cary Edwards has formed an Insurance Fraud Task Force, combining the resources of the fraud division within the Department of Insurance, and the division's of Criminal Justice and Law within the department of public safety.

result of this squad's efforts, a state grand jury has returned indictments against eight New Jersey residents on charges related to the theft or attempted theft by deception of over $67,000 from several insurance companies place an ad in the East Coast Rocker, a trade magazine, promoting the fact they are "Basement Tapes" winners. Their EP will be distributed to three local record stores, Mickey Music and Spinosa Music in Belleville and Giovine Music in Nutley. They are hoping for some radio play on major rock stations in the area, such as WNEW-FM and WDHA-FM and will have an interview on Montclair State's radio station, which has been plaing "Love Without Fiction" for some time.

While the band was confident, Mostillo admitted some nervousness over the show, particularly after he found out the other three bands were all from California. 'We were a little worried because it was only 10 o'clock out there but my brother and I started going to town on the phones and reminded everyone to stay up and call in."

He said they were "campaigning" up to midnight and then went out to dinner, returning home for the show. Paula would call the Mostillo's house with updates of the tally and Kevin said when she called up screaming he knew they

Despite the success on "Basement Tapes," the band has taken nothing for granted, "Now is when the work really begins," stated Mostillo. "We're going to try to make as much out of this as possible." He said the band will try to saturate the area with material, hoping to enlarge their audience and use it as a launching pad" for success all over

They have a tentative date to play at "The Stone Pony" in Asbury Park and there is a possibity they will play at "The Ritz." Mostillo said they already have a financial backer for another video and are working on a second EP. They have even established a "Faces In The Crowd" hotline of 661-3848 for anyone who wants more information. "It's time we start cooking," exclaimed Mostillo.

The band knows they could not have won and had this type of success without the support and help of many friends and family. Mostillo made it a point of voicing appreciation to those people and expressed thanks to Greg Mormom, who recorded the EP.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

As an aftermath of our recent commentary regarding our dissatisfaction with the action of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) over its having backed down and knuckling under in accepting the progressive surcharge which will put the whole cost of Medicare on beneficiaries themselves; we were amazed and startled by the revelations brought out in an article written by David Pauly with Bob Cohn in the Washington and bureau reports department of Newsweek in its

August 15 issue.
Captioned "The Big Gray
Money Machine" disclosing business ventures of the American Association of Retired Persons have aroused a host of critics...It sites its mailing list of 28 million members with the pickings of the nation's graying consumer market. A public relations man for the senior group says, "We're not in the business of the making money."

The disclaimer, however, the article points out, is more than a bit disingenuous, since AARP is, in fact, a money making machine that peddles everything from discount drugs to vacations. Last year, twothirds of it; revenues came from business ventures and only onethird from Cues.

AARP clings to its nonprofit status (derived from its "promotion of social wolfare"), although it manages to take in $32 million in tax-free earnings in 1987. New businesses keep sprouting up and it is concluded that AARP won't sell its mailing list only because it wants to beat the competition.

AARP is twice as large as the AFL-CIO and is the nation's second largest organization after the Roman Catholic Church. The specter of the group using its increasing bankroll to become more formidable has aroused a host of critics. The Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service want AARP and some other nonprofit organizations to start paying taxes. They and business groups complain that taxexempt AARP competes unfairly with taxpaying enterprises. Some say that AARP's business interests conflict with its role as an advocate support for federal catastrophiccare insurance was only "luk-ewarm" because the organization itself sells insurance to help fill that need.

The article points out that AARP made its shrewdest marketing decision in 1983 - it lowered minimun age requirement from 55 to 50, opening the ranks to millions who aren't even retired. That, combined with more and more perks, increased the enrollment by 77 percent.

The group's biggest commercial business is health insurance. Members buy coverage that supplements either Medicare or private policies. The Prudential Insurance Co. of America provides the actual insurance; AARP collects the premiums and keeps four percent of the take to cover its administrative costs. Last year, that share of the premiums came to $67 million.

In addition, Prudential gives AARP 40 days to remit the premiums; last year that allowed the organization to earn $15 million in interest on the float. AARP's total revenue of $82 million from health insurance in 1987 actually exceeded the amount of dues it collected by $1 million.

AARP members also buy auto and homeowners insurance, mutual funds, travel service, discount drugs and enrollment in a motor club. On the services, AARP merely acts as a cosponsor — and collects royalties. The Hartford Insurance Group paid AARP $17 million in royalties last year from writing casualty-insurance policies. The other ventures earned much smaller amounts. In the case of hartford, AARP, in effect, supplies the customers. Since selling through the mail is cheaper than through agents, the company can offer low rates.

Presently, AARP stands as a model of tax avoidance. Its health insurance business presents a double barrier to the tax collecter. Under one part of the code, this income is tax free because it is 'substantially related" to AARP's purpose and the other reason is that AARP only administers its program, Prudential provides the insurance. Last year, AARP made a $32 seniors' lobby, says AARP's recent million tax free profit.

OUR OPINION

A heartwarming story

THE STORY OF Raymond Pizzano as reported on our front page last week by Pat Brightman is a heartwarming one, indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Pizzano

Today, he is a correctional officer at the Baser County Jail, but two decades ago, in must seem like another life for him, he was a young anstine of duty in Vietnam, and came close to death on a fatal day in July, 1968.

I was on my way to Danang with seven other members of the 7th Marine Division," he recalls, "when our supply truck ran into an ambush.

"We struck a landmine and Viet Cong attacked from three sides with machine guns and

"I heard the mine go off and started to jump, but the Cong got us all in their crossfire," he remembers.

Two of his buddies lay dead, Pizzano had a wound in the lower back and shrapnel in his left hand and right leg. For the next three days he lay unconscious in in the Danang Naval Hospital before being shipped to Japan for treatment. In a series of maneuvers of a type the military routinely makes and in which the participants and their families can see not a whit of sense, he later was sent to Hawaii, Alaska and New York City, before being returned to active duty in late September.

He served out the remainder of his tour of duty at Guantanamo, Cuba, said no to a $5,000 re-enlistment bonus, and was discharged in April, 1969.

Pizzano knew he was entitled to some official military recognition for his service and his wounds, but nothing was forthcoming from the USMC, and since Vietnam vets were not looked upon all that kindly by a large and vocal segment of society, he neither said or did anything about it.

He wouldn't be human if he didn't feel some bitterness, however, and Raymond Pizzano is a very human being.

With the 20th anniversary of his nearly fatal experience at hand, his wife, Theresa, decided to do something about those long forgotten decorations. She called upon Congressman Robert Roe to determine what her husband was entitled to, and asked him to make whatever arrangements he could with the USMC to get them. She had planned a private little surprise for Father's Day, handing them over with just herself and their two sons, Carmen, 13, and Ray, 5, on hand.

The marines saw it differently. They pointed out that it was illegal to award medals without an active sergeant major and an honor guard present, so Mrs. Pizzano called Senator Carmen Orechio, who put his organizational skills to work, and that is how her husband got his due after 20 years, in a short but very moving ceremony on August 28, in Michael Marotti Little League Field, Belleville.

And what a chest full of decorations it was!

The Purple Heart, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal with three bronze stars, Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal, Republic of Vietnam Meritorious Unit Commendation (Civil Actions Medal, first class color with palm); Republic of Vietnam Meritorious Unit Commendation (Gallantry Cross Medal color with palm); Presidential Unit Citation Ribbon; Meritorious Unit Commendation Ribbon, and the Marine Corps Marksman Rifle Badge.

Pizzano had a speech prepared but he never did get it spoken. After 20 years the bitterness had faded. He thought it would be easy. But it wasn't. He said the smell of death came back to him.

His family and friends understood all too readily, and were happy to share the moments with him, someone they always knew was a true American hero, even if he had been forgotten.

It is quite a story, and we are happy to pass along our congratulations to this quiet man and his happy family.

WE ARE HAPPY to put to rest another nasty rumor, specifically, that crew, the graceful and elegant rowing on the Passaic River, would no longer be part of scholastic sports in Nutley High School.

Its demise has been whispered around for quite a while and gained new life when the sports pages of August 25th Nutley Sun carried the list of coaching appointments for the 1988-89 school year, with crew

When a present truly Selicons comething, he has a right to become upont or disturbed about that belief becoming distorted. I believe Jesus Chaint was the Son of God. He came into this world and was frampsed but DSD NOT sin. He fired a perfect life and died für the sint of all men that we would be recepients of life

The Bible declares this truth and the Bible is the infallible and inspired Word of God. This belief has changed my life and has made me a different person as it has many Christians.

When a movie is made that changes the biblical account of Christ it needs to be challenged because it rips the most sacred experience and belief that one possesses. I find this an insult and a sacrilege against our God and Saviour.

This is how Carlot is portrayed in this movie...even to the extent that Christ had become must be endersies and decires. It is also that Christ had homosexual tendencies and desires. It is also disturbing to me that countless numbers will go see the movie but never read the Holy Bible. How encouraging to see that Catholics and many Protestant persuasions are woicing their objections to this flick. Remember, THERE IS ONE GOD, ONE FAITH, ONE LORD, ONE BAPTISM AND ONLY ONE HOPE!

Put it this way...

The analogy that comes to mind for people who are disturbed with Christians protesting the film is somewhat like this:

How would you like a movie portraying your mother as an adulterer, and so many other scenes that were not even vaguely true, even if it were only in a dream?

Everyone and anyone may believe as he or she desires and see any movie that they care to see. This is what makes us as a people and our country the "land of the free." However, the Christian community who find this film anti-God, anti-truth and anti-righteous must be granted the same freedom of expression.

It is time that we STAND UP AND BE COUNTED..."Ye shall know the Truth and the truth shall set you free.

She's a long way from Belleville

I just could not resist another letter, even if not printed. I still receive the Belleville Times at my new address.

I am one person that left the township of Belleville. I want to say that I have many good memories. I am also grateful for the help of some "public servants" when I needed it. I especially want to say thanks to the policemen and emergency squad personel that treated me with courtesy and compas sion when I hurt my foot badly. Some government employ ees are decent, caring human beings.

Belleville — as is — does have a reasonably good school system. I feel that my three big kids got the chance to get a GOOD education.

However, for all the good, I moved because of the bad. I will NEVER forget (or get over) the night when three plain clothes policement arrested my (ex) husband in his underwear. If the man did not resist arrest, they could have had the common decency, to my ex and his family, to allow the man to put his clothes on! (Another letter-writer also complained about his arrest.)

I will never forget that my (ex) husband was forced to go before the judge in the Belleville courtroom WITH NO shoes or socks. A friendly policeman told me that he could

The local property taxes are outrageous! I would be paying $2,400 (est.) a year if I was still in Belleville. I owned a one-family house in a not-so-exclusive neighborhood. I don't even want to guess the tax that the more affluent pay. I pay approx: $400 a year for a two-family house in a comparable neighborhood in my new location. I will be the first to admit that the (public) services are similar to Newark and the local wages are low, but still the taxes are reasonable (or even cheap) for the area. Belleville's taxes are NOT!

One last thing: The teens (and often younger kids) are turning into holy terrors. Of course Belleville is NOT alone. The entire area is suffering. Maybe someday somebody will realize that adults have rights too!

Even though I moved for personal reasons, I am glad that I made the move when I did, before I was priced out of my house anyway. Most ordinary working people can NOT keep paying more and more in taxes each year without a comparable increase in wages!

I really loved Belleville and I personally tried to be a good

To the Editor

The following letter was sent to Commissioner Hazel Gluck, Dept. of Transportation, Trenton, by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Commissioner Gluck

On behalf of the members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, we urge your assistance in completing the maintenance on the Route 7 interlink bridge between Belleville and North Arlington.

It has puzzled many merchants, why, after a shut-down of over two years, must additional repairs be made whereby closing the bridge again...until October 15th.

We are still picking up the pieces of the business community created from the last closing. Not only were businesses affected by the loss of traffic and reduction of sales, but some businesses actually closed permanently.

Because of the serious consequences, as witnessed once before, we urge you to give this matter your prompt attention in order to expedite the repairs.

A 20-year-old dream suddenly came back to life for Russian emigre

A couple of months ago Paul Levin, 26, of Nutley, got a phone call from a friend suggesting that he find that day's New York Times and look in the entertainment section.

"They have the same photograph there that you have in your photo album," said the friend.

Levin quickly got a copy of the paper and found a picture of himself at the age of six, a still from Uhe Commissar," a film made in his native Russia and banned from exhibition there - or anywhere else for that matter - because it cast a rather harsher light on truth than was accepta-ble in the Soviet Union until the advent of Mikhail Gorbachev and his glasnost and

The film was about to open in New York so I called the newspaper to get more details," he said. "They referred me to the distributor, and they were surprised to find a cast member right here in the metropolitan area."

They took advantage of his offer to help promote the release, however, and before too many days had elapsed, he had been interviewed by the Times, the Newark Star Ledger and other papers and magazines.

"It all brought back to life my 20-year-old dream of having a career in acting," he said. "Especially because the film was booked for the San Francisco Film Festival, and they paid for me to fly out and make an appearance.

"I got to meet two Russian brothers who live there now, film makers, and they promised to help me. At my own expense I went on down to Los Angeles and met many more people in the film business, so maybe I can get a foot in the door."

Mastered English "The Commissar" was the only movie he had made, and he landed the part from a mass casting call to which his mother had been alerted by a neighbor who was a cameraman at Gorky Stradios.

The story takes place in 1922 during the civil war between Red and White Russians, and the commissar, who happened to be a lady and a pregnant one at that, takes refuge with a Jewish family in order to have her baby away from the roar of

Perhaps because of his appearance, Levin was cast from hundreds of other boys as one of the children in the Jewish family, and took to acting like a duck to water. He also recalls fondly to liking the fuss made over him during the weeks of

Today, Paul has almost perfect English - though he hasn't lost any of his Russian - and he has a great deal of enthusiasm, which could well prove infectious when he is out trying to land a job in show

"I had studied English for seven years before we left Russia," he explained, "and was in the upper percent of my classes in school."

His own story might even make a theatrical movie, or at very least, a television movie.

His family is Jewish and within the limitations of the traditionally repressive Soviet government, had tried to keep their Judaism alive. In fact Paul had an informal bar mitzvah in a temple in Moscow just about the time the government granted he and his family exit visas to emigrate to the west.

"My father, Michael, was a very suc-cessful architect," Paul explained. "He worked for the Government Bureau of Standards and had been given the job of designing many important structures, including the headquarters of the Space Exploration Center in Moscow. Of course once he applied for the visa, he was asked to step down.

asked to step down.

"Fortunately we only had to wait for a year, so our hardship wasn't as great as many others who lost their jobs but had waits of several years."

Give up town cars!

I would like to respond to a let-ter from Cornelis Vander Zwan in the Aug. 18, 1988 edition of this paper. Since you and your fellow CCB members are such strong vocal supporters of Commissioners Frantantoni, "The Voice of the People," and Fornarotto, let's review their accomplishments in their 16 months in office.

First, Commissioner Frantantoni who for many years attended town meetings and argued about taxes. What has he done to prevent tax increases? At town meetings I have heard him several times brag about fixing the bathroom in the Recreation House and how his men polish light bulbs. When the Board of Education budget was rejected, the only cuts that he originated was the cutting of teachers. He indicated to me that his decision was partly based on the opinion of retired teachers. He had asked them how many students they could teach in a classroom. All possible budgetary cuts without reducing the number of teachers had already been prepared by former Board of Education member Gabe Nazziola to the tune of some $750,000. Mr.

Nazziola had worked with the Township Attorney, hoping to give direction for the commissioner's responsibility of cutting the budget through his expert educational budget advices.

Commissioner Fornarotto made a statement at a Board of Education meeting, that when he was in school teachers didn't get paid ex-tra for supervising extra activities, like school plays. I think if you want to get good results in extra curricular activities you must pay to get the job done. Our High School plays have been successful due to the professional choreo-graphy and drama coaching from Mr. & Mrs. Leffelbine.

May I suggest, Mr. Vander Zwan, since taxpayers have been given an average of $600 increase, you can suggest to both commissioners to give up their town cars as an example of saving taxes. After all, Commissioner Frantantoni did claim to be "The Voice of the People," to save tax dollars! He and Fornarotto both criticized the commissioners with town cars.

Mr. Vander Zwan, concerning Commissioner Fornarotto's resig nation. In your letter, you stated that the citizens of Belleville were suffering a great loss due to the judge's ruling. How could they lose what the citizens never had? He has been an embarrassment with so many complaints and charges against him. I, unlike the CCB respect our judicial system. When a man is found "Guilty As Charged," I have to believe the evidence against him and the testimony had to leave the Judge without any reasonable doubt, in order for him to deliver such a verdict. I also commend Mayor Pizzi for seeking the declaratory judgement regarding the two positions being held by Commissioner Fornarotto, since it was not acted upon for over one year by the Commissioner whose responsibility it was.

In my opinion, I feel the only chance Belleville has to survive in these hard times is to have a change of government. We need a professional business manager to manage the business of our town and prepare our budget. It is obvious most of the commissioners had not fulfilled their campaign

In conclusion, Mr. Vander Zwan, if there is another open meeting for the Change of Government, and you decide to attend, please don't insult the intelligence of other attendees by assuming that putting a lens cap on a video camera on the table, means that we don't know that you are taping the sound anyway.

August 28 lives in our memories

To the Editor:

To all the people who cared:

The day August 28, 1988 will live in our hearts and minds for eternity. The Vietnam War was a very confused war for so many young men and women.

For me myself, this day was filled with so many emotions. Some joyful, some sad. My two sons, Carmen and Raymond were very proud of their father, to be so honored and awarded with ten medals for his valor in the Vietnam War. My husband volunteered in 1967 in the United State Marine Corps to serve his country either home or away. It might have been 20 years late, but the United States Marine Corps has rectified their mistakes

MERIT

First and foremost: My thanks and appreciation to United States Congressman Robert Roe, in all his efforts in obtaining the medals my husband has received.

Many Thanks: Mr. Joseph Puz-

zo who I was in constant contact with him, and his secretary Jane, who always let me know what was being done in the Naval Dept. in obtaining the medals.

Many Thanks: To the U.S. Marine Corps Major Sifford, Sergeant Major Hammond, Staff Sergeant Arnold Pasillas, Staff Stacy Reeves, Sergeant Staff Sergeant Sibly Sylbariya. These gentlement presented themselves with dignity and honor while representing the United States Marine Corps and their country.

BY THE THROAT

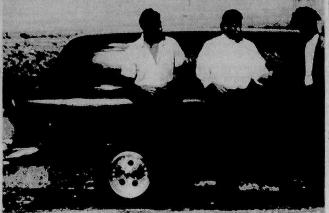

A sore throat may be brought on by a wide variety of causes, ranging from yelling to cigarette smoke. In fact, so many causes exist for a sore-throat symptom that it is the leading complaint cited during visits to the doctor's office. Those who do not take their sore throat to the physician usually reach for over-the-counter relief of sprays, gargles, mouthwashes, lozenges and drops. While these forms of self-medication are fine for a mild sore-throat symptom, persistent sore throat warrants a look by the doctor. A severe sore throat accompanied by high fever, headaches, nausea, and/or vomiting may indicate a serious condition. When a person exhibits these symptoms, he/site should set aside the self-medication strategy for some professional help. sional help.

Standing By Faith

Jesus said to them, "Be of good cheer! It is I; do not be afraid."

It's not really unusual when someone drops in unannounced for a meal. But when that "someone" turns out to be five thousand hungry guests, then you are facing a crisis.

Twice the desciples faced overwhelming challenges. Once beside the sea, and later on the sea, they ran out of resources long before they ran out of problems.

Ponder these words of Jesus: "Only believe." As long as we are able to trust in God — holding fast in our heart the knowledge that He is able and willing to help those who rest on the Lord Jesus for salvation, in all matters which are for His glory and their good the heart remains calm and peaceful. It is when we let go of faith in His power or His love that we lose our peace and become troubled. This very day if you are going through a great trial, your soul can be calmed and quieted by the remeberance of God's power and love and the result is peace in your soul.

The very time for faith to work is when sight ceases. The greater the difficulties, the easier for faith.

Everything about the disciples' circumstances encouraged them to give up. Yet Jesus wanted them to "be of good cheer" even as hungry stomachs growled and angry winds blew. That's faith...standing strong in the crucible of crisis. Where faith begins, anxiety ends. It won't make sense to others around you that you can maintain your peace and composure when everyone else is losing theirs.

Perhaps it will make them curious enough to ask you how you do it. What will you tell them?

Cheerleader joy nipped

in the bud by our director of recreation, Dennis Buckley, our commissioner Vincent Frantantoni and last but not least Audrey Roll, the cheering advisor. Our daughter was "cut" from the squad, after being good enough to compete the past years.

She was sent an idiotic letter stating her skills were in need of sharpening and to go to a clinic once a week for about 30 minutes and try again next year. That letter and the whole situation is a lot of bull - Dennis and you know it. After receiving a second letter stating that all girls who tried out would be cheering for the squad, she was shot down again at an unscheduled meeting called by Dennis at the High School on 8-31-88. My daughter and the other girls were told by these adults who are running our recreation department that they had changed their minds for a third time, and were told that only 18 girls were "allowed to compete" for each team (3 squads).

This is a fine way to mess with the minds of our children. Our football program, on this level, also known as the Belleville Jr. Bucs, has a no cut policy as well as all our town-run recreation programs. What happened to the cheering squad? Do they have their own rules and regulations? All boys who tried out for football made the team and must play in every game no matter what. Why, Dennis, do you only single out the cheering teams involved with this program? This is not enough to understand about "cuts." These are 10, 11, and 12 year old young and innocent children you are dealing with. At the meet-ing our daughter was told she would cheer for the recreation soccer games. Fine but there is one catch folks, there are no coaches available to advisocoach our children. Dennis told us the details woud be worked out, I doubt it very much. In fact, I know it was a "copout" on your part Dennis to save your butt...Maybe this letter won't change anything and maybe it will open the townspeoples eyes for once to see how their towns recreation run sports program are all "politics", in other words, it's not what you know, but who you know I for one feel as a taxyaper my child was cheated. She was not allowed to cheer for this team. True, she may be cheering in some respect, but not for the Jr. Bucs program.

Come on Belleville, wake up and smell the coffeel!! No child at this age can cope with this type of rejection. I can't and I'm' a grown

Please print this letter so all the townspeople are aware of the adults we have controlling our childrens future.

I would give up my whole years salary to see if Dennis Buckley, Vinnie Frantantoni or Audrey Rolls children were rejected like ours were. I doubt that would happen in our lifetime.

Podiatrists often custom produce shoe inserts, called orthotic devices, which perform a variety of tasks. Those made of firm materials are called rigid or-thoses. Fabricated from molds of the patient's foot, these devices are usually worn inside everyday shoes. They are often used to correct such symptoms as leg pain or lower-back pain by controll-ing the motion of the foot while walking. Softer orthoses, on the other hand, are used primarily to absorb shock, increase balance, or relieve pressure from sore areas. Because they are made of bulkier, compressible materials, soft orthose sometimes require additional room in the shoe. Lastly, semi-rigid orthoses are custom made for athletes to help improve their performances Orthotic inserts can provide almost nmediate relief from many kinds of foot immediate renet from many kinds of foot and leg pain. They must be custom fitted, and may need to be remade after a few weeks, as the foam compresses under your weight. When you need a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. 25 Years Ago September 5, 1963...Three Belleville college students-Robert Gleason, Gerald Uttrachi and John McWilliams-took part in the Newark College of Engineering's Professional Development program. The program involved 200 of NCE's sophomores and juniors with a 3.0 or above grade point average. The students received onthe-job training on the professional level, with ratings from their employers deciding whether they would be eligible to return to the program the following year.

Peter J. Paglia became the fifth man to enter the race for the vacant council seat. Paglia, a Newark elementary school teacher, stated that he was politically unattached, but was opposed to the drive to recall Mayor Robert M. Laterza and Councilmen G. George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo.

Two more groups of Belleville children put on performances to raise money for charities. "Show Time on Liberty Avenue" was held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Magistro, raising $18.25

Work has started on Essex Street leak

Work on Essex Street is scheduled to begin this week to repair cracked pipe that has caused sewage and water to leak into the Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli said an outside contractor has been hired to do the job. Big Boot Construction Co., of Woodcliff Lake, was one of three companies who bid on the project and were hired based on their low bid of $22,395. Because of the severity of the problem, an emergency appropriation of $30,000 for the work was passed by the Belleville Board of Commissioners at an emergency meeting August 15. Neglia Engineering will be overseeing the project for approximately $600.

Risoli explained the reason for the discrepency in the allocated money and the actual pricetag is because Neglia advised the town to estimate $100 for each foot for underground pipework but Big Boot gave an average of about $93. "It's better to allocate too much and then give it back than to not allocate enough and have to look for money," reasoned Risoli.

A videotape was taken of the piping and it is believed 250 feet of the eight-inch pipe will have to be replaced, from the manhole on Linden Street to the manhole on Washington Avenue. Along with a new pipe, 12 new laterals for homes on Essex will be installed. Peter Kiernan of the Belleville Engineering Department said this will be the first time in 60 years the pipes will

"Clay, tile pipes after this period of time will crack and the joints will give," he explained. He said tree roots also are a problem, soaking up the leaking water and latching on to the pipes. "All the joints are leaking sewage and the waste is escaping, actually deteriorating (the pipes)."

Risoli said Neglia advised the town to hire an outside contractor because Public Works does not have the proper equipment to do the work. On February 4 of this year on Mill Street, Public Works attempted to do a similar job and an employee, while working in a 12 foot deep manhole, was buried up to his waste.

'Neglia told us that any job with 10-11 foot holes or deeper that it would be better to get a company that specializes in this kind of work," stated Risoli, who said the manholes on Essex Street are approximately 12 feet.

Both Kiernan and Risoli said work on the piping has been done two or three times by Public Works but because of improper equipment and not having personnel that specializes in the type of work, it was decided to hire an outside company. Risoli said it would not be economically feasable to purchase the necessary equipment because this type of work is only done once or twice a year.

Risoli said the problem has existed for approximately 15 years but it has become uncontrolable, creating the emergency appropriation. Big Boot will begin once they have completed a project in Bergen County, but Risoli was confident work would begin this week. It is estimated the street will be closed between one and two weeks while the project is being done.

"Even though these indictments focus on individual cases involving relatively small dollar amounts, such acts repeated over and over premiums for insurance," Edwards

"I have set a goal for the Insur-ance Fraud Task Force to reduce this volume of fraudulent acts that will eventually cost the public tens of millions of dollars a year in higher insurance rates," Edwards

He added that in each case, the task force was aided by the National Automobile Theft Bureau, and that quite a thorough investigation was completed to get hard evidence for presentation to the grand jury. Insurance Commissioner Ken-

Belleville Times SPORTS

It has become a tradition in Belleville High School football. Outstanding linebackers, year in and year out have worn the Blue and Gold with tremendous proficiency.

Over the past ten years, the Buccaneers have seen ten outstanding linebackers spear head the defensive charge. Is this coincedence or does the Belleville coaching staff have a knack in developing linebackers?

A man who would know, assistant coach Joe D'Ambola, offered his views on this subject last week.

"We've had tough kids," the veteran coach said. "To play linebacker, you have to hit and get hit. It's the heart of the defense. In addition, the linebackers we've had were very smart. They had the ability to read the opposing offense and get to the ball.

Head coach John Senesky took over the reigns in 1977. The Bellboys were 2-6-1 in Senesky's rookie year, but a lot of young players began to learn the system that would turn this program

In 1978, the Bucs were 6-3. More importantly, the program began to take shape, and the linebacking position was an important part of that success.

Buc Shots By Mike Lamberti

Playing linebacker in '78 was Angelo Santinelli, Tom Henry and a sophomore named Rick Racioppi. Santinelli and Henry were both seniors on the '78 squad and their guidance was important to the team. Racioppi, on the other hand, was a young, strong player who had tremendous potential.

Santinelli's defense was hard nosed, intense play. He was the spiritual leader of that '78 squad and never let down. Henry had those same qualities, however he was a smooth athlete who did the job in a quiet manner.

In a game with Clark High School in week eight, Racioppi's career as a football player almost ended. He suffered a broken leg while making a tackle. The break was quite severe and Racioppi was in a cast for four months. Racioppi worked long and hard toward recovery and was back in the lineup on opening night, 1979. The junior showed no signs of let down and was now one of the defensive leaders. Ricky was joined at linebacker by a sophomore named Phil Cerza. By seasons end, Racioppi and Cerza were fixtures on the defense.

The two men led Belleville to playoff seasons in 1979 and '80 and have since been inducted into the Belleville Hall of Fame.

The next man to shine at linebacker also faced a serious injury early in his career. In the fall of 1980, Craig Mack went down with a ruptured spleen and spent many weeks in the hospital. Belleville dedicated the 1980 game with Seton Hall Prep to Craig and it was questionable whether Mack could ever play varsity football again.

However, Mack, like Racioppi before him, never gave up. By the Fall of 1981, Mack was teaming in Cerza to form a solid linebacker corps. In 1982, Mack was the senior on a defense that was outstanding. Mack, along with a lineman named David Grant guided Belleville to an 8-2 record and playoff appearance.

As Mack prepared to graduate, another man was ready to take the lead. Enter Dave Mozelka, who was one year younger than Mack. He led the way in the 1983 season and was joined by sophomore Dave Long, a versatile player who worked at tight end

As Long matured in the '84 and '85 campaigns, another man began to learn the trade. This time it was John Magi, who came into his own in 1985 and excelled in 1986. Also in 1986, Craig Jackowski began to develop at linebacker and he was solid in '87

As Jackowski played his senior year, another Cerza began his quest at linebacking excellence. John Cerza, a junior in '87, did a marvelous job at middle linebacker. John is Phil's younger brother and according to D'Ambola, has a world of potential.

"He has all the tools," D'Ambola said of Cerza. "John's brother was probably the best of the linebackers we've discussed, but John could be right there with Phil. He's big, strong and very smart on the field. He understands the position very well.'

And so it continues. Senesky is optimistic about some of his younger linebackers, who could continue this linebacking excellence well into the 1990's.

School is back in session and with it, the return of the fall sports scene at Belleville High. The regular season starts on September 16 for the cross country, volleyball, soccer, tennis and gymnastics teams. Football begins on September 24, so there isn't much time before our athletes are back on the fields.

Once again, if anyone is interested in covering some the junior varsity games for the fall sports, please feel free to contact the Belleville Times at 759-3200. All you really have to do is call me on a Monday evening with the results, and I promise they will be in the paper for the following Thursday.

NEL SEASON KICKS OFF

The 1988 NFL season began last Sunday, with a few surprises. Buffalo could be a viable power in the AFC this season, after the win over Minnesota. The Jets didn't look too good in the opener, but don't forget, the Jets haven't fared well in openers before, but have come back with good campaigns. In 1981, the Jets lost at Buffalo, 31-0 in the season opener. The '81 Jets then lost games to Cincinnati, 31-30 and Pittsburgh, 38-10 to fall to 0-3. The team then regrouped and won 10 of its last 12 games to advance to the playoffs as a wild card team.

In 1985, the Jets lost its opener to the L.A. Raiders, 31-0. The team then came around and finished with an 11-5 record, its finest mark since the '69 club. The Jets went to the playoffs as a wild card

Don't feel too bad, Jet fans, history may be on your side.

Senesky concentrating on the offense

With the decathlon and power index completed, the Belleville football team is now preparing for the opening game of the 1988 season. The Bucs began practice last week and head coach John Senesky knows it isn't a long wait until the season opener on Septem-

"No, we're not ready for Passaic yet," the coach said on Labor Day about the Bucs season opening opponent. "Right now, we're getting ready for Wednesday's (yesterdays) scrimage with West Orange and Bergen Catholic. Then on Saturday, we'll play at Columbia in another scrimage."

The scrimage with Columbia on Saturday commences at 10 a.m. On Saturday the 17th of September, Belleville will play host to Livingston in the final tune up before Passaic. The date with Livingston hasn't been finalized, however and could be moved to Friday, the 16th.

'We'll know a lot more about the younger kids after this weekend," Senesky said. "Defensively, we've got some kids in excellent shape. We're concentrating more on shoring up the offense and deciding who will play where."

The Bucs lost 22 seniors to graduation last June. There are nine returning senior letterman on this years team and they will form the nucleus of the squad.

Heading the way are John Cerza and Andre Graham. Cerza, a linebacker, appears to be in excellent shape. He continues that fine tradition of linebacking at Belleville High (see Buc Shots for a more in depth piece on linebacking at BHS) and should be a tremendous force on defense.

Graham, a lineman, is in out-standing shape. He fared very well in the power index ratings this season and has looked very sharp in practice. Graham should line up at nose guard this fall.

Other returning senior lettermen are John Napolitano (roverback), Nick Turano (defensive back who was injured for most of 1987), Vito D'Alesio (offensive guard), Jason Silletti (defensive tackle and offensive center), Gus Leming (offensive guard, defensive and fullback) and Michael Senesky (running back). The graduation of players like quarterback Jeff Spilsbury, run-ning back and linebacker Craig Jackowski, running back and defensive back Jay Marchese and wide receiver Doug Carroll should to ve the offense wide open to vew candidates this fall.

tackle), Tom Wolfe (defensive end

"We're just trying to get to ges together now," Senesky said. Aft-er this weekend, we'll be able to get a better handle of where we

Flashback!

66 baseball season starts with big with to the Spring of 1966 and the Belleville High School baseball team. The Bellboys are off to a quick start in the '66 campaign, after a big win over Irvington. Belleville, under the direction of coach Nick Petti, had a phenominal year in 1965, winning the sectional championship and Big 10 Crown (see last weeks Flashback about the '65 squad).

Belleville now looks to repeat, or possibly better, '65's success. This article appeared in the April 14, 1966 issue.

Continuing their slugging antics, the Bellboys ripped through their third foe of the week Saturday by routing Irvington, 12-1 in their most impressive performance to date. While annexing win number five, the hometown squad launched a 13 hit attack and received a combined three hit mound effort.

Nick Petti's well balanced Bellboys never left any doubt in this contest as they rolled to a 5-0 lead before the Camptowners could manage their only tally from Art Sheridan, Belleville's pitching ace, and then erupted for five more runs in the sixth inning to tie it. Six extra base knocks, including two doubles by the Big Ten Conference hottest hitter Rich San Fillipo, a triple by Charley Cuomo and the seasons first Belleville home run by George Debrowski highlighted the contest.

In winning his second straight outing, Sheridan didn't have his usual pinpoint control and went to 3-2 on a half dozen battles in his six innings. The Bellboy righty did manage to befuddle the Campers though, as he allowed just one unearned, tally and two hits in lowering his ERA to an eye open-ing 0.47 after 15 innings. With duty during the week in view, Sheridan returned after six rounds in favor of lefty reliever Mike Welsh, who further enhanced his standing with three more shutouts on only one hit, the seventh inning was mop up work. Meanwhle, San Fillipo walked in the first inning and doubled in the third to extend his batting streak to 6 for 6 over three games and his on base string to nine straight successes. In the fifth, "Flip" was retired via a roller to second as he failed to make a safety for the first time in Gymnasts anticipating season opener Sept. 16

Under the direction of second year coach Gina Lemongello, the Belleville gymnastics team began practice on September 1 in anticipation of the season opening match on September 16.

The girls will travel to Clark on the 16th to kick off the '88 campaign and Lemongello is optimistic about her teams' chances.

"We're hoping for .500, or better," the coach said. "The winning record would certainly be nice, but we have a very difficult schedule. Our girls have worked hard during the off season and we had a good turnout from the freshman class."

Lemongello reported that 12 freshman came out for the team. In addition, the coach has seve seniors on the squad, although one of the girls, Melissa Muscara, could be lost for the year due to a knee

"We have to wait and see with Melissa," Lemongello said. "Right now, it doesn't look too good. She had surgery on the knee a while back and until the doctor gives her the go ahead, she can not compete."

Many of the girls trained at the Perfect 10 Gymnastics School in Belleville, which is run by former Belleville gymnastics coach Ray Iannuzzi.

"The girls worked at Mr I's school during the off season. Even some of our freshman have come in with gymnastics experience."

The senior contingent is led by Joell Veltre, who will work in the all around competition, meaning the balance beam, uneven parallel bars, floor exercise and vaulting exercise. Veltre has performed very well during her varsity career at Belleville High.

In her freshman and sophomore campaigns, she advanced to the prestigious state sectional championships. Veltre will be the team captain this fall.

Other seniors on the team are Andrea Lemongello, Georgina Marano, Michele Naso, Michele Alessio, Muscara and Nicole Alfan-

There are two juniors on the team and both girls have outstanding talent. Nicole Pucciarello and Nicole Zelna both enjoyed outstanding seasons in 1987 and should be strong this fall.

The sophomores are Renee Coppola and Danielle Groeling. Those two athletes gained varsity experience in '87 and should add much needed depth to the roster. If the new freshman athletes continue to improve, they might see some varsity action.

As Iannuzzi stated, the schedule will not be easy. Clark is usually a strong team and the NNJIL has solid entries in Montclair, Ridgewood and Clifton. Also on the schedule is Brearley High School, traditionally one of the states best squads. The Brearley team usually breaks the 100 point mark in a gymnastics match, which is not an Donna Richardi is back as the assistant coach, marking her fourth year in that capacity.

Lemongello, of course, is not a stranger to Belleville High gymanstics. She was co captain of the 1984 Belleville team and was graduated from Belleville High in the spring er double and walk made the string 12 for 13 as the junior veteran's batting average climbed to .643.

Debrowski's fifth inning four bagger was Belleville's first coming after six near attempts resulted in triples. The two run drive gave Debrowski eight runs batted in for the past three games. Going 3 for 5, Jim Serritella joined the hitters clique as his average climbed to .555. Dave Rothwell, Frank Mineo and Cuomo also had outstanding days at the plate.

What proved to be the winning rally came to break a scoreless tie in the third round. Sheridan started the inning with an infield safety. Rothwell then hit a low liner to right, the ball skipping past the fielders as Sheridan scored. At out later, San Filippo's first two bar ger delivered Rothwell.

Later in the outing, the Blue and Gold managed their second five run inning of the season while pounding two hurlers. Tom, Trill had replaced Irvington statter Andy Milewski to start the round. Krill proceeded to walk Cuonic on a 3-2 pitch, he was greatest on a single by Serritella. After an out, Rothwell drew a 3-2 pass to fill the

Looking for some good men/women

Track team openings

Belleville High School cross country coach John Tosato has put out the Marine call. He's looking for a few good men, and women, to run for the Belleville cross country team this fall. The requirements are fairly simple. The applicant must be a student at Belleville High School and be willing to run distance. Experience is not necessary, but certainly helpful. See Coach Tosato at the High School if you're

"We have some new faces this fall and a very young squad," Tosato said. "We might not have any seniors on the team this fall. I really won't know until the first day of school (which was yesterday) where the team stands for this fall.'

Practice began on September 1, but some of the prospective runners were still on vacation, so the coach didn't have a definate idea of who is out for the team.

"We can use more runners," the coach said. "There will be a lot of positions open this year, so if kids want to come out, they should contact me at school as soon as possible. Returning for the boys' team will be sophomore Paul Parmenter and junior Garuav Nangia. Both men competed in all three track programs at Belleville High last fall (cross country, indoor and outdoor track). Diane Di Vincenzo, a junior, leads the girls' team.

The Bucs lost a valuble runner in David Rosamilia, who is a senior this fall. The problem is Rosamilia will be doing his running in Farsippany this year, as he transfe from Belleville High last May.

The Bucs open the season on September 16, when it races Don Bosco and Bloomfield in a tri meet at Don Bosco. All the conference meets will be in a tri set up this fall. The Bucs will race its home meets at Nutley Park, where it has run since the 1983 campaign.

Belleville Nationals win Rick Cerone tournament

The Belleville National Little League All-Stars, after finishing second in the District 8 Little League All-Star tournament, continued playing baseball by entering the Rick Cerone Tournament sponsored by the Boys and Girls Clubs of Newark.

Losing to Kearny, 7-1, in the opening round did not discourage nor dampen the spirits of the National team. Coached by Earl Wake and Juan Rodriquez, the All-Stars came back with successive wins over Montclair, 13-2, Hillside, 14-3, South Orange, 13-1, Kearny, 4-2, and then Cerone twice, 8-3 in the first game and 5-4 in the second to win the tournament.

The total offense was 58 runs while giving up 22 in the seven games. Leading the All-Stars with hot bats were Joe DePeri (.63) and Jerry "Mighty" Turi (.550) in hile pitching well were Jim Land (2-1), Anthony Pace (2-0) and Mark DiBenedetto (2-0). The winning of this tournament was a total train effort including great defens by Mark Bruzzio, Pat O'Brien, 2 son Ventola, Jim Napolitano and clutch hitting by B.G. Denna R. Rodriquez, Tom Escot and even an inside the park home run by 1 like Morgan.

With the winning of the Rick
Cerone Tournament, Belleville Little League concluded a great season. In addition to winning the Cerone Tournament, Belleville finished first and second in the District 8 Little League Tournament and the 10 year-old team won the Tom Hanlon Nutley Tournament.

Flashback!

Plump John Rhodes then took the hill and was treated with a two run double by Mineo. Debrowski then lined a wicked hard hit shot right to the third sacker to slow the rally.

And so it went as the Bellboys combined light pitching and slugging to out play yet another foe.

EDITORS NOTES: The '66 team easily won the Big 10 champlonship. The team then lost in the sectional finals to Morristown, 1-0 and the GNT finals 2-1 to Union and Al Santorini. Santorini later went on to be a major league pitcher. At the time he beat Bellevile, he had already been selected in the first round of the major league amateur draft by the Atlanta Braves.

The losing pitcher in the Union came was Sal Taibi, who was 8-1 in 1966. San Fillipo hit a home run for Belleville's only run off Santorini. Belleville finished the '66 campaign with a 23-5 mark, which was the finest season in BHS history to date. After the Union game, Petti announced his resignation as head coach of Belleville baseball. In his four year coaching career, Petti was 78-30 and had a 55-10 mark the last two years of his coaching tenure.

The 23 wins by the '66 team held as a team record until ten years later, when the '76 squad posted a 24-4 mark. That record has yet to be topped. Irvington had a pitcher named Tom Krill in 1966. Nine ears later, a pitcher named Ron Krill led Irvington to a phenominal season. Krill was perhaps the best pitcher in the state in 1975. He and Greg Petite of Belleville hooked up in that classic '75 game at Belleville High, which went 14 innings. The Campers, then the number one team in the state, won 4-L Neither Krill, nor Petite, were involved in the decision. Krill pitched six innings and Petite hurled the first 11 innings.

Amato pointed out how a giant scrubber will cleanse smoke from the incineration before it is vented, and said that a team of on-site inspectors will go over every truck load of garbage that is dumped, to make sure that no prohibited materials are included.

"Under the system we will employ, it will be possible to pinpoint from just where every load originates," he said, "and if recyclable materials, medical waste or other prohibited substances arrive, the hauler will face action. A repeated offender could lose his license and have his vehicles seized. You have to give them an incentive to abide by the laws, and that's our incentive!"

Amato explained his reference to Passaic County's financing by saying that the $58 million in longterm bonds it used to secure dump-

ford Agency wishes to announce that we are very proud of the professional attention Rose Corso extends to each and every one of her real estate clients. The following letter was mailed to our office, thanking Rose for her assitance in marketing this client's home.

Dear Rose

Tanya and I want to thank you for the truly professional services you provided in the rapid sale of our home on 285 Nutley Avenue,

We decided to purchase another home in Massachusetts and complete the move before putting our house in New Jersey on the market. It was a tremendous comfort knowing that we had listed with an agent who not only had complete knowledge of her profession, but also was willing to devote the time necessary to handle the many related details that occur when selling a property from out of state. It was a case of trusting you completely to see to our best interests, and you performed remarkabley well.

Our property was sold the weekend it was shown. Partly we feel, due to the extensive coverage you had already given it. However, we were well aware of the longer term sales strategies you had planned if things had not moved so fast. The house would not have just sat there, as it might have with some less caring realtors. Not only did we have a rapid sale, the terms and amount of the contract met all of our expectations

Your knowledge, professionalism and personal attention to our business transaction is greatly appreciated. Your assistance helped smooth out a situation that could have developed into a very trying experience. We will always remember you for it.

Sales associates of A CV played the sales associates of Century 21 Centenial of Pompton Lakes in the charity game at Goffle Brook Park in Hawthorne on August 21.

Contributions from Century 21 will enable the Easter Seal Society to continue offering physical, occupational, vocational, speech and hearing therapy, as well as home sheltered employment, camping, recreation and transportation for handicapped children and adults.

Last year more than 350,000 disabled persons received help, plus an additional 200,000 nondisabled persons who fit the Easter Seal criteria for assistance. More than 80% of all contributions are returned in direct services to the communities where the funds are raised

According to Jim Farese of A V, "The Easter Seal softball games are a huge success. The monies we contribute to Easter Seals are our way of giving back to the community. We are very proud of our long standing relationship with Easter Seals and the thousands of people that are

REAL ESTATE FORUM

Q: In your column of April 6th, you mentioned some proposed changes to the mortgage interest deduction laws. What are those changes and are they in place? Also, I am having a house built. Can the interest on that mortgage be deducted during construction?

& transportation. Offered at $129,500.

A: Changes are still being made and modified. Most recently, the IRS has clarified that if a home is purchased for cash and then mortgaged, the loan would qualify for mortgage interest deduction up to the cost of the house if it is done within 90 days. Over 90 days, it would not be considered a home acquisition ex pense and would fall under home equity debt with a $100,000

Be prepared for more proposed changes. The government, in an attempt to raise more revenues, has a bill pending that would limit total interest deduction to $20,000 a year. This could devastate the market for second homes. As far as your new home is concerned, a home under construction can qualify as a residence, and the mortgage debt can be deductible for up to 24

Q: My mother will be retiring next year and she would like to know how to go about finding senior citizen housing. Could you suggest some places for her to live? We would like to keep her in Clifton.

A: Senior citizen housing is a major problem in our area of high rents and costs. Clifton currently has two senior com-munities. The Evergreen Senior Citizen community off Van Houten Ave. and The Daughters of Miriam on Hazel Street. You should apply directly to each as there is a waiting list. For a complete list of housing and services, call the Passaic County Office on Aging, 881-4950. There is also a Rent Subsity Program for Senior Citizens, contact your local Housing Division of Community Development for guidelines and details. In Clifton the number is 470-5853.

(Some of the questions may contain legal or accounting matters. Mr. Farese is not an attorney and advises you to consult the proper authority before any decision is made.)
