Wording change needed

Mandatory recycling is put on hold for now

By Pat Brightman

An ordinance calling for mandatory recycling was rejected because of wording by the Belleville Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday night.

The board also rejected an ordinance mandating litter disposal for the same reason but did pass an ordinance changing a section of the town zoning ordinance.

Both the recycling and littering ordinances are expected to be rewritten and passed at the next town meeting, scheduled for September 27. Both had been passed on first reading but an ordinance must be passed twice before becoming law. The zoning change was read and passed on its second reading.

The major change in the zoning ordinance is a reduction of density from 24 units per acre down to 16. Other requirements made included limiting the longest measurement of a townhouse or garden apartment to 120 feet, creating a minimum distance between structures of 30 feet, an area of 800 square feet be established as recreation space, and if there are 20 or more units in a complex, the developer must establish at least 20 percent as low income housing.

An ordinance establishing a historic preservation commission was passed on second reading and will establish a seven member committee that will promote and protect various historical features of Belleville. Prior to passing the ordinance, Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni discussed with Town Attorney Frank Cozzarelli and the other commissioners the process of preserving the reservoir and what actions must be done with the city of Newark to establish the site as a historic landmark.

A resolution authorizing the advertising of bids for a fire apparatus pumper was approved after the board rejected all the bids received on February 23 for an apparatus. Many citizens expressed concern over the resolutions, noting how a few years ago the apparatus was considered an emergency and how

Anniversary committee is moving smoothly

The 150th Anniversary Committee met last Wednesday evening in the Belleville Public Library and aspects are beginning to fall into place, according to General Chairman David Bryant.

"I was very pleased with it," exclaimed Bryant, who is the library director. "Tangible things are happening."

Thirty-two people attended the meeting and Bryant said he was pleased with a large turnout from the Belleville Historical Society. After a brief general meeting, which Bryant described as "very effective, a lot of brain storming," everyone broke into the five sub-committees and discussed ways to celebrate the town's birthday.

Bryant said souvenirs will be sold at the dinner, scheduled for February 18 at the Chandelier Restaurant. Bryant said among the ideas expressed were selling American flags and small banners signifying the 150th celebration. Because of these sales, it is believed the $100 a plate price will be reduced.

A 35-page booklet, complete with historical pictures, that will trace Belleville's history is coming along well, Bryant said. He said Barbara Spillane, a teacher in the school system is doing much of the writing.

"Things are moving along," said Bryant while saying the next meeting will be Wednesday, October 5. He said that meeting will be of the same flavor of last week's, a brief, general discussion to inform everyone what each of the five sub-committees are discussing and then breaking down into the sub-committees.

Each of the five, public relations, Belleville beautification, research/publications, events, and fundraising have meet between each general meeting and will continue to do so, according to Bryant.

Board of Education rejects secretary for Special Services

By Pat Brightman

A secretary for the Special Services Department was rejected by the Belleville Board of Education at its meeting Monday night despite the fact the head of the department had said he was understaffed at the board's last meeting.

A resolution appointing Heather Mann as a 10-month secretary at a salary of $13,362 was voted down by a 4-2 vote with Barbara Cicalese and Felix Linfante approving the measure. Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, Board Vice President Patricia Pisano, Joseph Del Guercio and Joseph Papasidero voted against the appointment. Daniel Borgo left the meeting before the vote because of religious reasons.

At the board's August 22 meeting Dr. Anthony Chetico, head of Special Services, addressed the board about the present condition of the department and expressed concern, partly due to a lack of secretarial staff. He said when the district is monitored beginning September 20 the evaluators may find the department sub-standard and having only one secretary was part of the reason. Dr. Chetico even said he had lent a typewriter to a person to do some work but the person soon gave up.

Many board members expressed concern at the state of the department at the time but also said the problem may not be because of the number of staff members but the organization of that staff.

The board did pass a resolution (Continued on page 9)

Things you never knew about car insurance

By Tom Sullivan

The Chinese have an old proverb that says 'A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step.' In as many words, members of the legislature were saying that about the assembly compromise automobile insurance reform bill signed into law by Governor Thomas Kean last Thursday, that it is a first step in a journey that is just beginning.

The voting went along strictly party lines, as debate and action on auto insurance bills has gone in recent months. Forty one Republicans voted for it and 33 Democrats were opposed. The Democrat controlled senate has already passed its own compromise measure which contains some of the same proposed reforms as this one.

A major difference is that Governor Thomas Kean agreed to sign this one with its promise of reductions of around $120 in premiums. But both supporters of the measure and its detractors were agreed that it is only a first step, and may actually increase premiums for some motorists on an interim basis until operations of the controversial Joint Underwriting Association (JUA) are brought under control.

The assembly passed at the same time by a vote of 67 to 0 a second bill that toughens the excess profits regulations. That measure also has full senate support.

One of the primary elements of the new measure is a requirement that insurance companies resume writing policies for many good drivers who have wound up paying exorbitant premiums in the JUA because many underwriters just gave up on new policies, forcing them into the pool.

Its structure calls for a four-year program of phasing these good drivers out of the JUA and raising the ante for the uninsurables for whom it was created in the first place.

Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-Westfield, said that he had four more bills to complete the Republican package, but could not get support from the Democrats to bring these to a vote, so he called the Assembly in to with fraudulent and unnecessarily high claims.

- Prohibit for two years additional surcharges on good drivers to finance the deficits of the JUA, which are said currently to be anywhere from $2 billion to $2.7 billion.

Fines for insurance fraud boost the JUA

In the first eight months of 1988 the Department of Insurance has collected approximately $630,000 in fraud fines, a startling jump from its $19,900 total in all of 1987, and the money is going to boost the Joint Underwriting Association (JUA).

Commissioner Kenneth D. Merin says the increase is due entirely to a law enacted last January that strengthens the department's Division of Insurance Fraud Prevention, and adds that he plans to further enhance the division's investigative abilities by installing a toll free hotline for citizens to report cases of suspected fraud.

"Until that 800 number goes in," he says, "We welcome calls at 609-292-8637."

session again last Thursday and got them passed.

These bills would:

- Appoint a special prosecutor to investigate the operations of the JUA, which is said to be riddled

- Restructure the JUA completely.

- And place a non binding referendum on the November ballot to get voter opinion on claim levels before the right to sue can be invoked.

Democrat opponents said that the bill contains many clauses that give the insurance industry too many advantages and at the same time, reduce benefits to motorists without any guarantee that substantial and lasting savings will be achieved.

One of the most outspoken critics, Assemblyman Thomas Foy, D-Mount Holly, said the bill is "...sausage, made up of viscera and entrails."

"The JUA was a great idea five years ago when it came in to being," said Assemblyman Ralph A. Loveys, R-Morris Plains, who is chairman of the insurance committee, "but doctors, repairmen and others, even the motorists it was designed to help, have taken advantage of it."

Assemblyman Foy said that there is no provision in the bill to require restitution of overcharges that have occurred in the immediate past, and too many good drivers will continue to be victimized.

Governor Kean is yet to announce a time for its signing.

When the JUA came in to being, it was estimated that 800,000 high-risk, accident-prone drivers would be covered. Today there are more than 2 million in it.

But the operation of the association is unique, because while the insurance industry writes policies for the drivers who will be carried in it and receive commissions at a higher rate than they do for regular insurance customers, the money amassed by the JUA actually pays its claims, not money taken in by the insurers.

It has been claimed that doctors, repair men, lawyers and motorists have all regarded the JUA as fair game and inflated or fraudulent claims have run up the deficit.

Nelson D. Ealey, its general manager, said that his staff has conducted 60 investigations of underwriting claims since 1984, and audited 15 private insurance companies that write policies for JUA, and where fraud has been uncovered, the companies have been required to make restitution.

But he believes that a first step to cleaning up the situation will be legislation to limit the fund to the 800,000 drivers it should house.

NEXT WEEK: The insurance industry provides some answers as to why New Jersey motorists pay so much for coverage, explaining the mystifying no-fault system.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

An attempted arson was snubbed September 4 when a Molotov Cocktail failed to break when thrown at a parked car on Franklin Avenue.

Police were contacted when an individual observed something burning next to a 1980 Buick LeSabre. When the officers arrived the wick leading into the six ounce bottle was burning but the officers extinguished it before it could do any damage. It is being investigated by the arson squad.

On September 8 a woman, while leaving her apartment, left her pocketbook on a chair in the building hallway while she returned to her apartment for a short time. When she returned the purse was gone. It was later recovered in the backyard but $450 was taken.

A man had $340 taken from his house on Bridge Street September 6. While he was in his house he heard his basement door open. When he went to investigate he saw a girl with a big dog in his cellar and when he asked what she was doing, the girl said the dog had run down and she was bringing it back outside. After the girl and dog left, the owner discovered the money missing from his desk in the basement.

A 25 year-old Belleville man was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana September 7.

Police were detailed to the Washington Avenue Mall on a report of a man under the influence. When they arrived they observed Robert Dent drinking a quart of beer and as they approached Dent, noticed him put a plastic bag in his breast pocket. A search revealed the bag contained a substance believed to be marijuana and half of what is believed to be a marijuana cigarette.

A Bloomfield woman was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct after she refused to leave the Belmont Avenue Pathmark, saying she did not receive proper change.

Elizabeth Szikszai, 52, bought grocery items and paid for them with a $100 bill. When the cashier gave Szikszai her change, the woman said she gave the cashier a $1,000 bill and demanded the appropriate change. After creating a disturbance the store manager checked the cash register and found a $100 bill but not a $1,000.

Police arrived two hours later, after Szikszai refused to leave and was pounding her hands against the counter and screaming. Police attempted to reason with her for one half hour but she refused to leave without the change.

Augustine receives scholarship from Saint Peter's College

Belleville resident Stacey M. Augustine was one of two Essex county residents to be awarded scholarships from Saint Peter's College, Dr. Richard Petriello, dean of enrollment management, announced.

Augustine plans to use a four-year, 25 percent tuition scholarship to study at Saint Peter's in preparation for a career in secondary education. The Queen of Peace High School graduate participated on the varsity volleyball team, and was a member of Students Against Drunk Driving. She was also a eucharistic minister and taught classes in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Program.

Petriello estimated that Scholastic Aptitude Test Scores for this year's freshmen are the highest in a decade. The class includes six Garden State Distinguished Scholars, 10 honorable mentions, and nine Urban Scholars. The college posted a 76 percent acceptance rate for the Class of 1992 - the first year since 1970 that figure dipped below 80 percent.

In addition to tightening standards, Saint Peter's, New Jersey's only Jesuit college, instituted several new programs to help freshmen and their parents adjust to college life. For the first time, freshmen were required to participate in an overnight orientation program for two days on the Jersey City campus. In addition to aptitude testing usually administered at orientation, freshmen attended luncheons and barbecues, met with upperclassmen, faculty, and administrators, and participated in a scavenger hunt to locate key offices on campus.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

With an assist from Henry Charzewski who supplied the salient facts from Business Week, we concluded we'd ring down the curtain on the Social Security issue predicated upon a commentary by Paul Magnusson captioned "we are plundering the Social Security till."

Now, after reform and a hike in payroll taxes, the numbers make it look as though the Social Security Trust Fund is not only solvent but also piling up trillions of dollars for future retirees.

Or is it? The sad truth is that a quiet hoax is being perpetrated on the American public, and most people don't realize it. The U.S. government is spending the funds to make up for revenue shortfalls elsewhere. On paper the old-age, Survivors & Disability Trust Fund (OASDI) ran a $20 billion surplus in fiscal 1987. But those funds weren't actually saved. Rather, the surplus was used to reduce a $170 billion budget deficit to $150 billion. And by fiscal 1993, Social Security will be cutting some $97 billion, or 42%, from the deficit.

That may seem to be a blessing, but it's not. What's happening to the Social Security Trust Fund surplus is bound to have some far-reaching consequences. In the near term, lawmakers are absolved from real budget-cutting by the appearance of fiscal restraint. Lower and middle income taxpayers are stuck with a disproportionate share of the higher Social Security tax bill. And in the long term, today's use of the surplus means that one day, around 2019, when the government has to start paying out more in Social Security benefits than it's receiving in taxes, the funds won't be there. Then the government will have to make a choice: raise taxes, cut benefits, or borrow.

Confused? That's not surprising. Social Security was conceived, born and nurtured in confusion. Soon after the system was created in 1935 President Roosevelt is alleged to have said, "That amount is there so that those sons of bitches up on the Hill can't ever abandon this system after I'm gone."

The surplus serves to delude the people into believing that a pool of retirement money is being set aside. But it exists only on paper, a glorious accounting fiction. It's invested in nonmarketable government securities that pay interest, but that's an accounting fiction, too — both the surplus and its "income" are spent as soon as they're recorded. Still, today the surplus is loudly heralded, supposedly reassuring prospective retirees that their individual nest eggs are safe. Meanwhile, Congress raids the nest, takes the eggs, and leaves a note.

It wasn't supposed to be this way. For years retiree benefits were paid entirely from current workers' taxes. But following the recommendations of a 1983 commission headed by Alan Greenspan, now chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Congress raised taxes, reduced benefits, and projected a surplus — one that optimists say may reach $12 trillion by 2030, or more than $2 trillion in 1988 dollars. How the system really works: As Social Security payroll taxes are collected by the Treasury Dept., they're used to pay current retirees. The excess, by law, must be used to purchase government securities. In practice, the money is simply spent on other government activities. Then an entry is made on the government's books that the OASDI Trust Fund is owed that amount, plus interest. No marketable security, either government or private, has been purchased that can later be sold to pay benefits. No investments have been made that would foster capital formation and productivity gains. Instead, the Social Security Administration gets an IOU.

This IOU takes the form of a "special issue" marketable Treasury security, with "interest" pegged to average market rates. But this interest also exists only on paper as a claim against future taxpayers. "If you were to try to design a bad system, you couldn't do worse than this one," says a senior Treasury official who tells his children not to expect a cent from the plan.

The next generation will find its income taxes raised to replenish the Social Security surplus the government already has spent.

Fruncillo completes training

Marine Private Luigi Fruncillo, a resident of Belleville, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

During the 11-week training cycle, Fruncillo was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1985 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps Reserves in November, 1987.

It seems like only Yesterday

Clean up the streets

25 Years Ago

September 12, 1963...The Department of Public Works and Affairs lodged a campaign against debris in the Township of Belleville. Ralph Vara, director of public safety, said the lack of cooperation between the residents of Belleville was one of the major reasons for the unsanitary conditions and that action must be taken immediately to clean up the streets.

Plans were underway for the annual Veterans Day parade, scheduled for November 10. Veterans Council of Belleville Chairman James LaMotta said that contact would be made with bands, bugle and drum corps and that several floats would be on display during the parade. Since 1963 was the 45th anniversary of World War I, the council wanted to make this parade very special.

John Bass took out petitions at Town Hall and became the sixth man to enter the race for the council seat vacated by Thomas Greco. Bass was a candidate for the Second Ward council earlier in his political career, but was defeated by Mayor Robert Laterza. He was also an organizer and former president of the Rutan Estates Homeowners Association and a chairman for the Transportation Committee.

Belleville High School's football coach Thomas A. Testa's search for a quarterback was still going on, with a senior and two sophomores battling for the position. Aside from his quarterback difficulties, Testa was also having problems with the rest of his offense, saying that the defensive unit was far ahead of the offensive unit. He was considering moving more of his defensive lettermen into dual roles.

All hunters preparing for the Bow and Arrow Deer and Bear Season, beginning October 5, had to, for the first time, complete a course in bow safety. Licenses would only be issued to hunters who had certificates from the course.

By Pat Brightman
Not many people have lived in a house that they build themselves. And not many people live to be 100 years old. But William Baker can make both those claims to fame this Sunday, when he celebrates a very special birthday.

Baker has seen the dawn of the 20th century, complete with all of its amazements, including electricity, the automobile and television. During his lifetime many things have come and gone but he has remained a constant, a proud man who just takes life one day at a time. "I've been around a long time," understated Baker. "I don't think much about it. I figured I'd live as long as I could. It's quite a surprise (to reach 100)."

Baker still lives in the house on Terrace Place that he helped build in the early part of this century. His nephew and niece take care of him but while his physical skills may have slowed down with age, he is still quick as a whip with names and dates, recalling how many friends helped him throughout the years. He was born in Wilson, North Carolina back in 1888 and started working at a very early age. "I worked on a plantation from four years old, growing corn, tobacco. People ask, 'what can a four-year-old do on a farm?' Well I did a lot." He only went to school on rainy days because when it was sunny he worked long hours, cutting down corn stalks and planting tobacco. "School wasn't important (back then)."

Moved to New York

In 1912 he left the farm life and eventually made his way to Brooklyn, New York, where he tried to put another trade to work, carpentry. He eventually made his mark in the city, getting hired as a cabinet-maker but it took some persuading on his part. He wasn't going to be hired because he was told he was a carpenter, not a cabinetmaker. "I said wait a minute, I build houses and if the people want a cabinet in it, we build it, so I knew how to make cabinets. I convinced him I could make cabinets."

"My whole family were knocked off their feet when I told them I was starting work (the next day)."

He started work and put in a solid week, 60 hours, 10 hours a day. And every week he brought home a total of $7.50. He eventually saved and built a house for himself, for $600. Adding the cost of the lot he bought and he paid $750 for his house.

"I thought I would go to school and get an education but I had a family," said Baker. "I went to night school because I had to work during the daytime to pay the rent, buy clothes and food."

His career appeared to be taking off as he and three friends began drawing blueprints and building houses in the 1920s. He drew the blueprints to another house on Terrace, two on Ralph Street, one or two on Stephens, eventually taking part in the construction of 19.

"We were doing fine," he recollected, "then the Wall Street crash came in 1927. We got washed away."

As you can imagine, anyone who can reach the 100 year mark learned a thing or two about persevering and he continued to do what he did best, living day by day. He says now he doesn't worry about anything, knowing he is in good hands with his family.

"It makes me feel good that he appreciates what I do and that I'll take care of him," said his nephew Ginus DuPree. He also said there is nothing he wouldn't do for his uncle, including making sure he doesn't spend a day in a nursing home. "I'm so happy to see him. I promised him I'm not going to put him in a home."

It is that kind of love, which he also receives from many members of the Second Baptist Church, that may have helped Baker throughout his long and eventful life. This Sunday afternoon, at the Church, everyone will show their appreciation to him. In a church that he helped build.

OUR OPINION

With crossed fingers

AFTER SEVERAL months of at times acrimonious bickering between assembly and senate, and all too regrettably, in each house along strict party lines, the assembly finally passed a compromise auto insurance reform bill and Governor Thomas Kean signed it last week.

Everyone from the governor down seem to be agreed that it is not the complete answer, and he and any legislator who was in Trenton when the last compromise reform bill became law in 1983, remember how that was hailed as a means of reducing the average insurance bill by $200 to $300, and actually led to an average increase of $400 in five years.

The bill is of Republican origin and was passed by 41 members of that party, with 33 Democrats voting against. Assemblyman Thomas Foy, D-Mount Holly, described the new bill as "...sausage, made up of viscera and entrails." Not a pretty description. Assemblyman Ralph A. Loveys, R-Morris Plains, was no less plain spoken: "Our constituents will be clamoring for our defeat in the next election if we don't do something about premiums, and it won't matter who was right and who was wrong."

Next year the full assembly is up for re-election. By that time we will all know whether this new measure does as its proponents claim, reduce premiums by $120 to $200. Members of the assembly aren't the only ones with their fingers crossed, however. Every motorist is doing the same thing.

A crucial meeting Sept. 28

IN CONNECTION with that billion dollar tunnel project, we have to commend Nutley's Public Works Director Peter Scarpelli for taking the initiative and arranging a meeting of elected and appointed officials from area communities that will be affected if and when floodwaters from the central Passaic basin are dumped downstream.

"As a united body we can be very effective (in fighting the tunnel)" Scarpelli said in his letter of invitation to the September 28 meeting, which will take place in the Parks and Recreation Building at 44 Park Avenue. "We have to unify our thoughts and make plans to fight this project that will adversely affect all our areas."

Nutley and Belleville are involved, of course, because the tunnel would emit its millions of gallons into the river at Nutley's northern border. So Clifton and Passaic will be impacted, as will Garfield, Rutherford, Lyndhurst, Kearny, Harrison and North Arlington.

On June 4, 1987, the mayor and council of Harrison passed a resolution condemning the project, and sent copies to local, county, state and federal officials. The text of that resolution could and should be adopted and passed by the governing bodies of all the other towns and the boards of freeholders in Essex, Passaic and Bergen Counties. It is to the point, it is powerful and its logic is unassailable.

One suspects that the engineers at the Army Corps of Engineers are primarily motivated in this project by the urge to do something that has never been done before. Boring a deep tunnel of substantial dimension and deviating millions of gallons of water from a traditional flood zone.

Monumental incompetence

Thousands of Manhattan bound motorists had another disastrous Monday morning at the Lincoln Tunnel last week, with a trailer truck disabled early on and one tube closed for the entire peak eastbound travel period.

By 9:30, there was still an hour delay for commuters, hundreds of whom were trapped on buses like a gigantic circus train stretching to the Hackensack River, and thousands more in their cars, unable to even inch forward. Not only were most of these unfortunates late for work, but doubtless many missed trains and boats and planes or other crucial appointments, and there couldn't be too many among them for whom this was an unusual occurrence.

Truth to tell, the incompetence of the Port Authority from its highest management to its lowliest employe in managing the Hudson River crossings boggles the mind. That with three tubes, six lanes and sufficient money to allow for the purchase and training on the state of the art equipment for vehicle removal, there is no excuse for an hour's delay. But then, as any regular user of the crossings can attest, it takes 15 to 20 minutes for the removal of a compact car, half that often elapsing before some snoozing employe awakes to the video screen indicating that the blockage has occurred.

The tunnel staff, in particular, has never demonstrated any ability to quickly realign traffic patterns to compensate for these inevitable disabilities, and upper management either never realizes what incredible dislocations occur on occasions such as Monday, or doesn't care, because the evidence continues to be readily visible that there is no planning and personnel are poorly equipped and inadequately trained.

This is a logical outcome of a situation where a bi-state agency answers to no one and has no competition in strategic services such as the Hudson crossings, which, in fact, are operated by its upper management purely and simply as a means of raising money.

Can no longer refrain

To the Editor:

I have refrained from answering several letters to the editor attacking me, which bore Ann Brave's signature, for a few reasons.

First, I do not believe that Ann Brave wrote at least this last letter that appeared in the September 8, 1988 issue of the Belleville Times. Secondly, Ann Brave was a volunteer who helped in my campaign and knows my positions and what I stand for. And finally, I still consider her a friend despite her attacks.

Because I count her as a friend, I will answer her with facts so she doesn't continue to embarrass herself. Ann asked what I had done to prevent tax increases. If she will ask her "budget expert" to examine the budget, he will be able to show her that for the 1987 budget which I inherited, I had a surplus at the end of the year. My department's budget for 1988 had no increase. So for my 16 months in office, by budget reflects a 1 1/2 point tax decrease. In spite of this tax decrease, my department has provided increased services.

Miss Brave's statement referring to "fixing" the bathroom at the Rec House is not true. The fact is, entirely new bathroom facilities were installed for our pre-school program, on the first floor, where none had existed before. The entire interior of the Rec House was painted. A new sliding board was installed, along with two new toddler spring toys, and replacement of all missing swings. All playground equipment was repaired and painted and an entirely new backstop was built at the baseball diamond. New sidewalks were installed along the entire length of the east side of the Rec House property. All this work was done with township employees, and the equipment and materials purchased within the current budget.

With regards to her comments on the Board of Education cuts, Miss Brave is wrong again. I never told her I talked to retired teachers. All the budget cuts were made from information and memos submitted to the Commissioners by the Board of Ed. Ann, when did your "budget expert" acquire his "expert educational budget advises"? If this "expert" could prepare budget cuts of $750,000 from this year's budget, how come he couldn't do it when he was a Board of Ed trustee and member of the budget committee? For the three years he sat on the Board he produced budget increases.

Miss Brave continues to attack the use of town cars. I am using the 1985 Plymouth I inherited when I assumed office. Why aren't you attacking the Commissioner who didn't like his 1985 Plymouth and purchased a 1988 Caprice which he uses to travel daily to his full time job, out of town? I use my vehicle for town business and if you care to check the mileage I have put on this vehicle, I think it will speak for itself.

I can provide you with more facts but perhaps I will wait for you to pose the questions or fabricate the attacks. If you saved any of my campaign literature, you should review same and see how I have fulfilled my campaign promises.

You also stated, in your opinion we need a change of government and a "professional business manager." Ann, last year we had a "real" change in government and a lot of the old politicians don't like it, that's why they are fumbling for a change of government.

Mark Twain once wrote that "Man is the only animal that has found the true religion . . . several of them." Maybe we can relate that comment to "professional business managers." If we look at our own Board of Education as an example, over the last few years they have found the "true business administrator" . . . several of them.

Ann, please don't stop sending letters or attending town meetings. You know I believe every citizen should do that, as it is the only way to get good government. But please check out your facts before you sign anything and think for yourself.

Commissioner Vincent J. Frantantoni

Sit back, don't show grief

To the Editor:

Last week there was a letter in this column written by a very disturbed yet arrogant parent by the name of Annette De Riggi.

This particular letter was directed towards Belleville's Recreation Departments leader Dennis Buckley. In this bogus letter the author (or parent) hit Dennis with quite a few unnecessary shots below the waist.

Tell me Annette, what give you the authority, except possibly freedom of speech, to write about Belleville's efficient and hard-working leader who has done nothing but develop and improve the department for the past 8 years or so. Tell me Annette, why should an individual with Mr. Buckley's credentials and superior background be put down by someone who was blowing out hot air due to the fact that her daughter did not meet the requirements to participate on the cheerleading squad. So Annette, do you feel if a child passes English in the 4th grade, that that same student should pass automatically in the 6th grade. You must remember the older your child gets, the better the competition will be.

So my suggestion to you Annette, is to sit back and enjoy your child's youth, there will be many memories to cherish due to your child's success, however there will also be times of sadness due to disappointment and that's when your daughter needs you. So rather than writing a letter and showing your grief, you should sit down with her, and hug her from head to feet.

Sincerely, a disgruntled taxpayer.

Anthony Lombardi, Jr.

Yankee astrology

To the Editor:

Perhaps Yankee owner George Steinbrenner should appoint an astrologer or two, to assist Lou Piniella in making on-field managerial decisions.

The employment of star-gazers seems to have worked for Ol' Ron at the White House and could very well, "do it" for poor Lou in the Yankee dugout.

N.J. veteran chapter

To the editor:

I am a World War II veteran who is trying to organize a New Jersey Chapter of our Ninth Infantry Division Association. Many of our men came from New Jersey, but since there is no New Jersey Chapter, they all belong to the New York or Philadelphia Chapters.

I hope you will see some merit to my endeavor and grant the item space in your newspaper.

Is the King dead?

To the Editor:

A recent newspaper cartoon depicted old King Neptune, himself, washed ashore; done-in by our pollution of his kingdom of the seas.

Should such an unthinkable happening come to pass, one thing will be for sure:

Cries of "The King is dead!" we might hear, but alas, that follow-up call "Long live the King!" will never reach our ear.

Sleazy Murdoch-style journalism makes its way to Channel 5

WE'VE ALWAYS thought Channel 5's 10'clock news with anchorman John Roland to be the quintessential New York newscast, bringing the vitality of the city to its screen each night with streetwise reporters, and doing it with flair and good taste.

Many may even remember that last year, when Roland stepped out of line and was directly rude on camera to Billy Boggs, management suspended him for a few days without his considerable pay.

Sad to say, the channel has fallen in to the clutches of Australian media tycoon Rupert Murdoch, and there are many signs that his notoriously low standards of journalism, print and broadcast, are taking over.

This was brought home with a jolt Monday night when the bright and happy, newly crowned Miss America was presiding over her New York press conference.

Someone asked if she had a boyfriend. She said no, not at the moment.

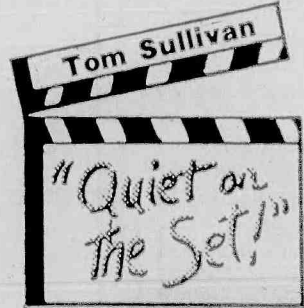

Then, up spoke Channel 5's reporter with the question "Have you tried sex?"

She was booed

To the credit of the New York press corps, which isn't noted for its decorum, they booed this newcomer to their ranks, and to ease her embarrassment, she took her camera crew out on the sidewalk and did a person on the street segment asking if Miss America should be given such a question.

Now we all know that you could shoot 20 such respondents and cut out any or all whose views don't coincide with your own. The real tragedy is that Channel 5 newly installed Murdoch management let the sleazy little episode go on its air.

This woman, whoever she is, should go the way of a Channel 7 reporter of a few years ago who asked Mayor Edward I. Koch on camera during a mayoral campaign "Isn't it true you appear in public with Bess Myerson, to conceal the fact of your homosexuality?"

That reporter very soon disappeared from the scene.

But, Murdoch has put on the payroll at Channel 5 the Australian specialist in yellow journalism who did his dirty work at the New York Post, he has brought from Down Under the concepts for "A Current Affair" and "The Reporters," which are the television versions of those sleazy, totally incredible tabloids at supermarket checkout counters which tell of Elvis Presley living in a Toledo, Ohio, motel, making nocturnal phone calls to radio shows or aliens arriving from outer space and mating with pubescent girls.

Those tabloids are considered marginal press here but in England and Australia, Murdoch puts that kind of thing out on a daily basis and does very well with them.

Sheriff's tape

Not too long ago "A Current Affair" purchased the video cassette a hapless southern sheriff left in a rented camcorder after shooting a simple minded little R-rated game with his wife, and not only put it on the air, but recruited Stewart Klein, the usually tasteful film reviewer of the 10'clock news, to review it as art.

If you never knew what the word sleaze meant, now you do: that was sleaze!

A couple of weeks ago "The Reporters" ran an interview by an Australian with Paul Hogan, who actually used the occasion to berate Murdoch's low standards. That never stopped the tasteless interviewer, however. He raised the matter of reports published in Murdoch's English papers and picked up in Australia about how many times a night or a week Hogan has intercourse with his "Crocodile Dundee" co-star Linda Kozlowski.

It may be recalled that Murdoch switched citizenship at a moment's notice to be able to become licensee of U.S. television stations, aliens not being allowed that privilege. Eventually he will be up for a license renewal hearing, and we can only hope he is brought to book for this sleaze and loses those licenses.

We remember the Emma Lazarus poem on the Statue of Liberty, but perhaps in an era of mass communication we as a nation should be a little more discriminating about just what wretched refuse we accept from other teeming shores!

HERE ARE THE top 10 movies at the nation's box office last weekend as compiled by Exhibitor Relations Company:

- 1. "Moon Over Parador," $3,269,000 for its opener.
- 2. "Elm Street Part IV," $3,200,000 for $38,365,00 in a month.
- 3. "A Fish called Wanda," Still surprising.

Driying each other crazy

Even in the most ideal home environments, family members have a unique way of 'driving each other crazy.' Here are a few frequently-voiced family peeves, provided in a humorous tone.

WIVES SAY:

1. Husbands can never find their car keys, sunglasses, aspirin, or a jar of mustard in the refrigerator.
2. Husbands bring home the wrong items from the supermarket, and spend money on gourmet snacks while forgetting to buy the milk.
3. Husbands buy them chocolates when they're dieting, flowers that wilt in a day and clothing that's two sizes too small.
4. Husbands leave their shoes in the living room, throw their T-shirts into the laundry wrong-side out and toss their dirty socks under the bed.

HUSBANDS SAY:

1. Wives, at laundry time, lose their socks and don't turn T-shirts right-side out.
2. Wives are late for every occasion — except lunch with the 'girls' and hair-dresser appointments.
3. Wives cut coupons from the newspaper before they get a chance to read it.

PARENTS SAY:

1. Teens prefer toiletries, hair-care products and freshly-ironed clothes belonging to other family members.
2. Teens can hear the phone ring from a distance of 5,280 feet, but can't hear a call for dinner from the next room.
3. Kids keep whatever they borrow — be it tools, scissors, calculators or money.
4. Kids can never be found when it's time to mow the lawn, run an errand, or take out the trash.

KIDS SAY:

1. Parents make them wear sweaters because their parents are cold.
2. Parents won't allow them to breakfast on Cherry Coke and leftover pizza.

What can family members do about the family crazies???? Before you reach your boiling point, find a quiet spot, kneel down and ask God for His help — JUST FOR TODAY ... There's no sense in worrying about tomorrow. Take things one day at a time ... Remember one day at a time. God is in control of ALL situations.

HEAD LICE

Millions of children of school age get head lice (pediculosis), a condition signaled by intense itching of the scalp, behind the ears, and along the hairline on the back of the neck. Head lice are non-disease-carrying insects, about one-eighth inch long, that are transmitted directly from body to body or indirectly via personal items, clothing, or household surfaces. Although lice are not dangerous and have nothing to do with cleanliness, they present an annoying problem. The itching results from irritation produced by the bites. Adult lice can live on a human for about a month, with female lice laying nits (eggs) on the hair shaft. To rid the hair of lice, use an over-the-counter treatment to kill the lice and a specially designed comb to remove the nits.

If you need information on the proper type of medication for treating lice or other simple problems, come in and talk to our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Wheel chairs, crutches, canes and other convalescent aids are rented and sold. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved with a full prescription department. A full selection of cosmetics, toiletries, gift items and greeting cards are handled. Open: Daily 9 am - 10 pm, Sundays 9 am - 9 pm.

HINT: Linens and towels exposed to lice should be dry cleaned.

Spill Fund monies bill is passed

Legislation sponsored by Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) which would allow a portion of interest collected on Spill Fund moneys to finance additional types of research was approved by a 72-0 vote in the Assembly.

Crecco also hailed the passage of legislation which would create a special prosecutor to investigate and prosecute automobile insurance fraud.

The Spill Fund bill, A-1988, is designed to allow research to be conducted on removing the toxicity from hazardous substances.

Methods to be researched under the bill include the recycling of hazardous substances and altering the molecular structure of toxic material thus transforming them into safe by-products.

"As it is written now, the Spill Fund Act only allows money to be taken from the fund to finance research on the prevention of spills in the marine environment and on improved cleanup and removal operations," said Crecco. "My bill expands research to help develop ways of reducing the amount of hazardous waste that is generated and to remove toxicity from waste that is produced."

The bill does not change the existing requirement of the Spill Fund Act which states money used for research can not exceed the amount of interest earned by the fund in any given year.

"In the past two fiscal years approximately $850,000 per year has been allocated to research," added Crecco. "The Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) supported this bill by stating that although private enterprise has started this type of research, it is lacking and is of great importance."

This measure now heads to the Senate for consideration.

The special prosecutor bill, A-3703, sponsored by Assemblyman Gerald Zecker (R-Passaic) passed the Assembly by a 41-24 vote. The bill also appropriates $500,000 for these purposes.

"Several legislators have stated there has been a great deal of fraud in the insurance industry," said Crecco, assistant majority whip. "This bill will allow us to find out how much fraud there is."

Crecco added some Assembly members have alleged there has been over $2 billion in fraud. "If that is the case, then the public should know about it and those who are guilty must be made to face up to these charges," she said.

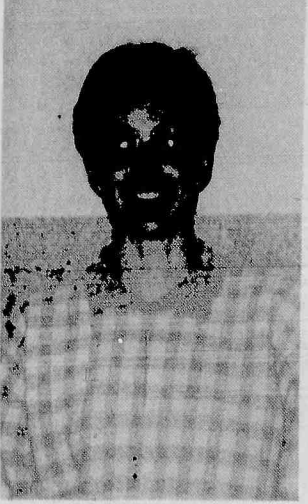

The bill now heads to the Senate for consideration.

Fairman sworn as advocate

Belleville resident Patricia Fairman has recently been sworn in by family court Judge B. Thomas Leahy as a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA).

A CASA volunteer is a special advocate for a child in foster care and ensures that his right to a safe and permanent home is acted on by the court in a sensitive and expedient manner.

There are nearly 9,000 abused, neglected and homeless children in out of home placement in New Jersey. One third of those youngest-ers reside in Essex County. Many of them have been bounced from home to home, continually making adjustments to new families, schools, neighborhoods and friends. Buffeted by countless rejections and severe stress, they are often confused, depressed and angry.

CASA volunteers investigate the case, interviewing pertinent people, make independent evaluations of what is in the child's best interest and monitor the case until the child is settled in a permanent home.

After a careful screening process, prospective volunteers attend training sessions to prepare them for their role. They receive ongoing support and supervision throughout their appointment.

The next training session will take place in the fall and prospective volunteers are currently being interviewed. The hours are flexible and requirements are a care and concern for a child's future. Any adult interested in becoming a child's voice in court should call the CASA office at 621-6344.

The CASA pilot project is being co-sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women, Essex County section and the Junior League Montclair-Newark, both non-profit organizations committed to protecting the rights and needs of children.

Hulin joins A. Schwartz

Howard Hulin of Belleville, a former residential real estate executive in Essex County, has joined the Archie Schwartz Company as a sales representative in the Bergen-Hudson industrial and office space division of the East Orange-based realtor.

Before joining Schwartz, Hulin sold residential real estate in the Montclair area for several years. Before entering real estate, he was an executive in the food service industry.

Hulin studied real estate at the Professional School of Business in Millburn.

The Archie Schwartz Company, with a staff of more than 175, is New Jersey's largest real estate brokerage firm specializing in industrial real estate and corporate office space and is currently interviewing applicants for sales representative positions in its expanding territories.

STAMP OF APPROVAL — Dr. Phillip Eichler, medical director of the Eye Institute of Essex, left, is congratulated by Dr. David McIntyre, a committee member of the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care, Inc. as Eileen Beltramba, head nurse at the Eichler SurgEye Center and Dr. Kenneth Burns, also a committee member, look on. The Eye Institute was awarded a certificate of accreditation by the AAAHC, undergoing a series of on-site surveys to meet the nationally recognized standards for quality health care set by the Chicago-based organization.

Mandatory recycling delayed

the town still had not purchased one. Others asked why it had to be done considering a company had come under the bond order for the pumper of $180,000.

Cozzarelli explained two bidders had come under the figure but one had aluminum specifications while the town had advertised for stainless steel and the other had an initial bid of approximately $175,000 but other specifications asked for by the town brought the actual price over $200,000.

The board approved a resolution urging state agencies facilities funding for the management takeover of Wallace and Tiernan Company. Mayor Michael Pizzi said he submitted the resolution because the Department of Commerce in Trenton needed documentation from the town.

"I was told there was a possibility of the sale of the parent company and if it closed up approximately 160-200 jobs would be lost. I said the town would do whatever it could to keep it in town," he said.

Members of Community Mental Health of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley attended the pre-meeting to discuss the services offered to the town. Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto said he had no problem with giving the non-profit organization the same allotment as last year but he saw no reason for an increase. He also wondered why Bloomfield has not paid since 1981 and said services were "lax."

Alice Richey of Community Mental Health explained Belleville receives extra services and that Belleville and Nutley pay approximately one tenth of the service's total budget. She disagreed with Fornarotto's accusation of "lax" situations, saying the incident brought up by Fornarotto was a "goof" and Community Mental Health was not perfect.

The commissioners tabled a resolution authorizing payment to Community Mental Health into the matter and possibly take a tour of the facility.

Parlavecchio re-elected to National Conference Board

Essex County Freeholder Vice President Joseph C. Parlavecchio was re-elected to the Executive Board of the National Democratic County Officials Conference at the 52nd annual meeting of the National Association of Counties (NACo) held last month in Anaheim, California.

"The support I received from the Essex County delegation was the key factor in the success of my candidacy," said Parlavecchio, who was re-elected along with Essex County Registrar Larrie Stalks.

Parlavecchio said he intends to work closely with other board members throughout the country in their collective efforts to insure priority status for the issues of general revenue sharing, tax exempt financing, retention of state and local tax deductibility, housing employment, health and public safety and community development programs.

"Working together, Democratic county officials are pledged to bring about a reversal of some of the 'backward looking' domestic policies of the last seven and a half years," Parlavecchio said.

The freeholder also said two members of the executive board will be seated as delegates to the Democratic National Conference. "This representation will insure that the concerns and goals of all Democratic county officials will be addressed at the national level," added Parlavecchio.

Foot Facts

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M.

HIGH HEELS AND TENDONITIS

The most common victims of Achilles tendonitis (an inflammation of the Achilles tendon) are women between the ages of twenty and forty-five. This is because some women begin wearing shoes with high heels when they are still growing teenagers. As the years go by, these young women develop shortened Achilles tendons because the tendon no longer has to stretch down to enable the foot to sit comfortably in a regular-heeled shoe. As long as a woman continues to wear high-heeled shoes exclusively, she will avoid the tendonitis. If she steps into running shoes for exercise, however, she will not have the tendon length required to allow her foot to sit properly in the low-heeled shoe. The tendon stretches and becomes inflamed, possibly leading to a chronic problem if help is not sought.

If you feel that you must wear high heels for part of the day, switch to flat shoes at other times. We can also show you easy exercises to stretch your Achilles tendons. Daily stretching will prevent tendonitis, or keep it from recurring. For a consultation, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. Our office is at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. X-ray facilities available on the premises. Office hours by appointment only.

HINT: The Achilles tendon attaches at the heel bone and runs up the back of the leg to the calf muscle.

Fraud fines boosting the JUA

The fraud division investigated 3,440 complaints through mid August and 85-percent of the total involved auto insurance claims and 76.4-percent or 2,650 cases related directly to the JUA, Merin said.

"But fraud comes in all lines of insurance," he explained. "There were 17 investigations involving commercial insurance fraud, including 14 arson cases, another 103 involved health insurance claims and 43 more involved fraud by insurance agents."

Through mid-August consent agreements were signed with 244 persons who had attempted to defraud insurance companies of $1.6 million, and of that total, $1.3 million was fraud against the JUA.

A consent agreement resolves a case with a first time offender who pays a fine without admitting guilt. If the claim payment has not been made, it is halted. If it was paid, restitution is required or the defendant can be sued for triple damages.

"The message we are sending out is whether it is $5 or $5,000, we will go after you," said Louis Parisi, director of the fraud division. And his results seem to bear that out:

- Twelve physicians and three chiropractors have been fined for insurance fraud.

- A man who was collecting disability insurance but was able to play softball was nabbed. So was a woman who inflated a claim for theft from her car by $50.

- Nine indictments representing a total of $67,000 in frauds against automobile insurers have been handed down (reported in chapter one of this series). Another 155 cases involving $1.5 million have been referred to the Attorney General for civil action and a further 118 cases for criminal prosecution.

Each day the division receives about 33 fraud complaints, Merin said, but he adds he and his staff will be happy to see that volume go up once the hotline is in operation.

Board of Education rejects secretary for Special Services

tion accepting a Vocational Education Grant of $18,941 that will be used for equipment for the department. Among the other resolutions passed were the reclassification of 21 teachers who had taken courses towards Master's or Doctorate Degrees and accepting bids for a variety of supplies including printing supplies, lumber, music supplies and new custodial uniforms.

Building concerns

Del Guercio said he had visited schools since the opening of school and had concerns with the Middle School and School 7. He said he had walked on the roof of the middle school with Principal Mario DiMaggio and said "it felt like walking on a water bed." He said the section of the roof he walked, over the gymnasium and part of the science wing, had been repaired in 1982 with a tarp-like coating and had a 10 year warranty, but he noted the company that did the installation is out of business. He suggested contacting Goodyear, the maker of the coating, and have them correct the problem.

Board Secretary/Business Administrator Edward Appleton said he was aware of the problem and had attempted to contact Goodyear. He said he is trying to have a Goodyear representative come and inspect the area and have them hire a contractor to make the repairs.

Del Guercio said he had a "major concern" with the condition of School 7 because of the recent asbestos removal, noting that tiles were coming up and five classrooms were without light Monday. Appleton said by the end of the day three classrooms had no light and that the major cause was because of a back order, creating a supply problem.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello said he understood the concerns but said to "bear with us" until the problem was solved. He said he would speak to the principal of School 7 to make sure the conditions did not have an adverse affect on schooling.

Nardiello also relayed a letter he received from the Essex County School Board commending Belleville for their participation in the Essex County Art Display being held at the county office. Nardiello said he was at the county office and had seen some of the work and was amazed by it.

The board also heard about a request from freshmen girls for the establishment of a Freshman Cheerleading Squad. Nardiello said reports about the feasibility of such a squad will be done and forwarded to the board with his recommendation as soon as possible.

A note from the social editor:

A few weeks ago, Fay Patro of our Classified Advertising Department asked if she could share some of her favorite recipes with our readers. Having tasted Fay's goodies on many occasions and knowing what talent the lady possesses in the kitchen, I readily agreed.

When other members of our staff learned of Fay's request, they also began leaving recipes on my desk and this new column was inaugurated. Here is the first of what I hope will be a long list of fantastic recipes.

RECIPE

From the Kitchen of:

Fay Patro
(Classified Advertising Dept.)

Whole Wheat Date and Nut Bread

110 oz. package dates	1 tsp. baking soda
1 cup raisins	1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 1/2 cups boiling water	2 beaten egg whites
2 cups whole wheat flour	1 tsp. vanilla
	3/4 cup nuts (any kind)

Cut up dates. Pour boiling water over dates and raisins and set aside to cool.

Stir together flour, baking soda, baking powder. Pour egg whites, vanilla and nuts into cooled date mixture.

Add flour mix to date mixture and stir well. (Mixture will be thick.)

Spread in loaf pan.

Bake 50 minutes at 350 degrees.

(Fay says this is easy and elegant with an important bonus: no sugar and no cholesterol.)

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

After a long and very hot summer, the fall sports are ready to take center stage at Belleville High School this week. The regular season began yesterday when the soccer team battled Don Bosco in its season opener and the tennis team faced Paterson Eastside.

The cross country, gymnastics and volleyball squads all open tomorrow afternoon. John Tosato's running Buccaneers open the regular season with a match against Bloomfield and Don Bosco on the road. The cross country team will be running tri meets this year, as opposed to the traditional dual matches that were run in previous seasons.

Volleyball, under the guidance of coach Grace Worley, will have a tough match to open 1988 with. The Lady Bucs face Clifton, whom they have battled for conference supremacy the past two seasons. Because of the new league realignment, Belleville and Clifton aren't in the same division, so this is an intra divisional match up. Nonetheless, it should be a good one and exciting way to open the year.

Worley will face a very difficult slate in 1988. Teaneck and Hackensack will be tall assignments and Belleville plays them twice each in the regular season. Also on the schedule is Paramus, Paramus Catholic and Ridgewood.

Gina Lemongello's acrobats will open the gymnastics season at Clark High tomorrow afternoon. The schedule is quite competitive but certainly attainable for the Lady Bucs. The girls are gunning for a winning season and beating good teams like Clark are important toward reaching that goal. Belleville will have some tough matches with Ridgewood, Montclair, Clifton and the Brearley Bears.

Karen Fucello will lead the tennis team for the 12th season this fall. The girls opened up the season yesterday with a match against Paterson Eastside. The usual tough matches are on the horizon against Teaneck, Hackensack, Paramus Catholic and Immaculate Heart.

Soccer has a new mentor this fall in Gino De Pinto, and the rookie head coach has a young team to work with this fall. Thus far, De Pinto has just one returning letterman on the roster, but the coach is hopeful that his young players will respond to the varsity challenge.

The football team is the last varsity entry at Belleville to begin regular season action. The Bucs face arch rival Passaic on Saturday, September 24 at Passaic in a 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

It should be an interesting confrontation between the Bucs and Indians. Both teams boast solid reputations in gridiron action and have staged some epic battles in the past. Passaic is coached by the talented Ray Mc Crann, who always puts out a very talented and prepared team.

Speaking of Passaic, the Indians certainly have to be proud of their football program. Two former Passaic players are on NFL rosters and have earned starting positions. Most fans know about Craig Heyward, who ran at Passaic from 1980-83 and later starred at Pittsburgh. Heyward was a number one draft pick of the New Orleans Saints in 1988 and has been starting in the Saints backfield.

A note of interest about Heyward and something for the Belleville football fan to be proud of. Heyward scored just one touchdown against Belleville in his four year varsity career. That came in the 1983 game at Passaic on a 75 yard run.

The other Passaic Indian to make the pros is Tyrone Stowe, who is a linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Stowe was graduated in 1983 and was a tremendous player at Rutgers University.

Another former NFL player who starred at Passaic was Jack Tatum, who was a standout defensive back with the Oakland Raiders.

BELLEVILLE'S NFL STAR

While Passaic has two players in the NFL, let's not forget the exploits of our David Grant. The Belleville High graduate has made the Cincinnati Bengals roster and was a part of the goal line stand Cincinnati used against the Phoenix Cardinals on the opening game of the regular season. The Bengals are off to a 2-0 start, having upset the Philadelphia Eagles last weekend.

Cincinnati could be a team to watch in the AFC Central this year. With the Browns off to a slow start, the Bengals could gain ground quickly. The Central looks to be a real tough division, with Houston and Pittsburgh both playing well. If you get a chance to watch the Bengals play, look for number 98 on the defensive line with the letters GRANT spelled on the back of the jersey.

RAY IANNUZZI

For three years (1984-86), Ray Iannuzzi coached the Belleville gymnastics team. He led the '85 team to its first winning season in school history. Iannuzzi loved coaching, but he also wanted to open a school for gymnastics. He had hoped to run a gymnasium school and continue coaching at the high school.

"I couldn't do both," he said the other day. "So I decided to put everything into the school and help the program at Belleville in that regard. Since I'm not the varsity coach, I can work with the kids during the off season, where if I was the coach, I wouldn't be allowed to work with the athletes after the gymnastics season."

Iannuzzi's school, the Perfect 10 Gymnastics School, has gained a lot of attention.

"I'm real excited about it," the former coach said. "It's really picking up and gaining a lot of interest. The high school athletes can work all year long at gymnastics and when the season starts, they are in good shape. They can work more on technique and less on conditioning."

Iannuzzi is also happy about the large influx of young gymnasts, ages 5 to 10, who have begun to learn the sport.

"If those young kids continue to work, they'll be something by high school," the coach said. "There's some good talent out there."

The classes at Perfect 10 are one hour a week with no more than seven students in each class. Classes are held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 3:45 to 8:15 p.m. and Saturday afternoons.

"The kids are getting some good coaching," Iannuzzi said. "They get the work at the school, then on the high school level they practice compete for Gina (Lemongello, the varsity coach) and Donna (Richard, the assistant coach)."

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The '82 New York Jets beat Cincinnati in the first round of the playoffs, 44-17 and the Los Angeles Raiders, 17-14 in the second round to gain the AFC title game with Miami. The Jets were coached by Walt Michaels in 1982.

FOR THIS WEEK

When the New York Mets won the National League Eastern Division title in 1986, they won it at Shea Stadium. Who did the Mets beat to clinch the title in '86 and who did they beat to clinch the divisional title in 1969.

League realigned

Tough schedule is obstacle as volleyball team opens

For six years, the Belleville volleyball program has been one of the best in the area. Grace Worley's teams have posted six straight winning seasons, two conference championships and three straight seasons of 20 victories or more.

This year, Worley is once again optimistic, but warns that the 1988 Belleville team is a bit inexperienced and the schedule will be demanding.

"We have a schedule and a half," the coach said. "There are no pushovers in the league. Paramus, Paramus Catholic, Teaneck, Hackensack, they're all good. We open on Friday against Clifton, and that's going to be a tough match."

For the past two seasons, Belleville and Clifton battled for conference supremacy. Last year, the teams tied for the conference title. In 1986, Belleville was victorious by one game in the standings.

With the realignment of the league, the Lady Bucs and Lady Mustangs are no longer in the same division, but the rivalry should remain strong nonetheless.

Belleville had a tremendous campaign in 1987. After an 0-2 start, the girls went on a 20 match winning streak. Unfortunately, the streak ended in the first round of the state tournament when Paramus Catholic upset Belleville and ended the Bucs season at 20-3.

It was an experienced club in '87. It won't be so experienced this season. True, the "familiar" names are back in the lineup, outstanding athletes like Simone Edwards (the team captain), Laurie Dondarski and Kathy Eng. However, graduation last spring meant the loss of Racquel-Melson, Carolyn Giuffrida and Quynh Mai, three seasoned veterans.

"Replacing those three won't be easy," Worley admitted. "We lost some good players there, although I'm quite optimistic about some of our younger kids coming up. They have good athletic ability, however they haven't seen much varsity competition."

Of the three open positions on the varsity, there are four candidates. Junior Tricia Donnelly saw some action on the court last fall for the varsity. Most of her season was on the JV level and Worley is hoping she can make a smooth transition.

Sophomore Judy Krych has displayed a good service game. She worked hard at the game during the summer months and has been impressive in practice. Once again, the lack of varsity experience is the only downfall.

Another soph, Cristen McCarthy, like Krych, played JV ball last fall and is hopeful of landing a varsity position in 1988.

Maria Ribon, a sophomore, is new to the game, but has shown good potential, according to Worley.

The returning players are outstanding athletes who will be expected to carry the team in the early going. All three girls are seniors and have been through the wars for three years now.

Edwards has an excellent hitting game and can do many things on

"Laurie (Dondarski) will be our only setter," Worley said. "I know she can handle the job. Simone has good leaping ability and we'll need her strong hitting ability. Kathy has also shown talent in the hitting department."

As Worley mentioned, the season opens anew tomorrow afternoon when Belleville travels to Clifton for a 4 p.m. match. Next Monday, the girls will be home to Paterson Kennedy.

"We'll do the best we can," Worley said. "We didn't have a big turnout this season, but the kids we do have are in good shape and are anxious to get going."

Youth, injuries are keys to football success

The last thing John Senesky needed now was an injury problem with a young football team. However, that's exactly what Senesky is facing as his Bucs prepare for Livingston in the final pre season game of the '88 season.

Belleville opens the regular season on September 24, when it travels to Passaic for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff. This Saturday, the Bucs play host to Livingston at Municipal Stadium starting at 7 p.m.

Senesky has lost the services of three valuable players, at least in the early going. Nick Turano (groin injury), Chris Young (knee) and Gus Leming (knee) have been sidelined and it's unknown when they'll be back in the lineup.

"Right now, we're looking for depth," Senesky said. "Nick, Chris and Gus were all two way players, so we've essentially lost six positions. The kids have been practicing very well and we're very happy with the attitude of the team."

The Bucs opened the pre season on September 7 when it played Bergen Catholic and West Orange in a tri scrimmage. Last Saturday, the team battled Columbia High School.

Offensively and defensively, most positions are still up for grabs. At the quarterback position, Steve Tice, Ken Sainz and Art Caruso are the candidates. Tice is a senior, Sainz a junior and Caruso is a sophomore.

The fullbacks are John Napolitano, Tom Wolfe and Dennis Britt. At running back, Senesky has been working with Turano, Sean Kimball and Carmen Spina. The wingbacks are Michael Senesky, Kimball, John Sternik and Scott Apple.

The offensive line is beginning to take shape. The centers are Jason Silletti and Mike Zaccarella. The guards are Vito D'Alessio, Matt Goldrick and Leming. However, due to Leming's knee injury, which required micro surgery, it is not known when he will be available to

DePinto is ready to lead soccer team

It will be a young team that hits the soccer field for Belleville High this week under first year coach Gino De Pinto. The Bucs opened the 1988 campaign yesterday with a game against Don Bosco Prep. The team will travel to Montclair tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m. and next Monday, faces Bloomfield in a 7:30 p.m. start from Foley Field.

De Pinto, who assisted Tony De Aquino for four seasons, took the number one job at Belleville High when De Aquino stepped down after the '87 campaign. The Bucs were 10-5-2 last year, but only one player from that squad will be back this season, at least in the early going.

Returning for his senior campaign is Joe Barrero, the goalie and team captain. A second varsity player from the 1987 team failed the physical because of a hernia. He was operated on earlier this week and his status is doubtful for returning this season.

Although De Pinto has a few seniors in the starting lineup, most of them are traveling out for the varsity for the first time. The Junior Varsity team will be compiled strictly of freshmen, De Pinto expects about 14 boys out for the JV team.

The defense in front of Barrero will be senior Tim Cook, freshman Alex Moreno, freshman Frank Crocco and junior Angelo Silva. Cook has some experience on the varsity level while Silva will be playing varsity ball for the first time.

De Pinto plans on four players in the midfield. Robert Ricci, a junior, will play center halfback, Frank Citarella, a first year senior player, junior Mark Tonelli and freshman Franco Vitello round out the midfield.

On the front line is Marcelo Di Giano, a junior and Fred Gruz, a senior. Both men are first year varsity players.

De Pinto is also optimistic about two freshmen, Darren Lewis and Steve Vogel and sophomore Masoud Es-Haq. Lewis and Es-Haq are forwards and Vogel is a defender.

The JV team is coached by George Tortoriello, and as mentioned, will be made up of freshmen. There are no sophomores on the entire varsity or junior varsity roster.

De Pinto expected a tough match with Don Bosco, whom he says will be one of the teams to beat in the league. The coach also feels that Nutley will be a force in the Pacific Division of the league.

The tackles feature Andre Graham, John Cerza, George Wallace, Mike Toro, Gerard Tucci and Steve Caponi. At tight end, Bruce Melson, Hilary Debelak, Michael Trezza and James DuHaime have been working.

The split end position features Brian De Meo, Phil Albanese, Paul Auriemma and Chris Raimo.

The defense is spearheaded by two seniors, Graham and Cerza. Graham will play nose guard, and according to Senesky, will be tough to handle.

"Andre is a force," the coach said. "He's strong and will be real tough in the middle."

Cerza is an exceptional linebacker who will spearhead the always strong Belleville linebacking corps.

At defensive tackle, Melson, Silletti, Toro, Wallace, D'Alessio and Vincent Strumolo are competing.

The defensive ends are Caponi, DuHaime and Debelak. At outside linebacker, look for Richard Rizzolo or Goldrick.

The inside linebackers feature Cerza, Mike Zaccarella, Wolfe and Richard Ferruggia.

At roverbak, Napolitano leads the charges, with Senesky and Carmen Spina also expected to see action.

At defensive back, a host of

The game with Livingston this

Saturday will be played under regular game conditions and gives the coaching staff one last look before the regular season begins on September 24.

Gymnasts aim to open season with a win

The Belleville gymnastics team will open its 1988 campaign tomorrow afternoon against a traditional rival in Clark High School. The match will be at Clark and commences at 4 p.m.

Next Thursday, Belleville travels to Fair Lawn High School for a 4 p.m. start.

Belleville opens each gymnastics season with Clark and 1988 is no exception. Head coach Gina Lemongello expects a competitive match with Clark, whom Belleville has never beaten.

"I think we have a shot at beating team," the coach said. "Last year, we didn't fare too well. It wasn't their score being so high but our scores were very low. I think we have a little more experience heading into this match."

Lemongello has pretty much decided on her starting lineup for the four events. In the floor exercise, Joell Veltre, Nicole Zelna, Nicole Pucciarello and freshman Laurie Aiello will compete.

Veltre, a senior, and Zelna, a junior, will take part in all four events.

In the balance beam, Andrea Lemongello, Veltre, Zelna and Michele Alessio are slated to compete. The vaulting exercise will feature Veltre, Zelna, Pucciarello and Nicole Alfonso. The uneven parallel bars will see Veltre, Zelna, Danielle Groeling and Giorgia Marano.

Tech earns second place

Belleville freshman Roger Real blasted a goal from four yards out against Manhattan College and senior tri-captain Brian Cook registered a 2-0 shutout in the concluding round of the Ironbound Bank Soccer Classic as New Jersey Tech placed second in the four-team tournament held at Wasson Field in Newark.

Cook, who chalked up eight shutouts in his senior year at Belleville High School, whitewashed the Division I Jaspers, who got off five shots on goal and the same number of corner kicks.

Real, a newcomer to the Newark campus, scored at 17:02 of the first half on a five-yard pass from Phil Murphy as he pounded the ball into the net to score the game winner.

On Saturday, New Jersey Tech opened the Ironbound Classic, suffering a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Classic champion United States Merchant Marine Academy. When the Mariners from Kings Point, New York defeated Stevens Tech 3-1, the Highlanders garnered the second place trophy.

Pre-School registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for four year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. five days a week with class limited to 25 students. The cost of the 15 week session is $45. The mothers of the children accepted will serve one duty day about every eight or nine days, according to a published schedule.

School will begin, Monday, September 19, 1988. For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible, Monday - Friday 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Adult day care week at Grotta

The Salzman Medical Day Care Unit of Grotta Rehabilitation Center, West Orange, will open a week-long series of special programs, Monday, Sept. 19, with a poetry workshop on the theme of this year's observance of National Adult Day Care Week, "Caring is Sharing."

Led by Sylvia Kramer of West Orange, a member of the National Association for Poetry Therapy, participants will explore their own views on "caring" while creating a poem to be shared with others at the Center.

Throughout that week, the facility, a United Way beneficiary, will be sharing with the public information about its programs and services and will be open for visitors. Anyone interested in visiting is asked to call the Unit Director, Carol Shepard, at 736-2000, ext. 331.

Medical Day Care at Grotta, now in its 11th year, is open five days a week from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., with wheelchair-accessible vans providing transportation. Physical therapy in Grotta's Outpatient Rehab unit is also available to participate in the day care program.

The Medical Day Care director will be at Grotta Rehabilitation Center's booth at the county-sponsored Senior Jamboree at South Mountain Arena, Sept. 15, to provide further information.

Free vision screening set

Clara Maass Community Services, in conjunction with the Medical Society of New Jersey, will conduct its 1988 Eye Health Screening Program on Wednesday, September 28, from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville.

The screening will include a test of visual acuity, physical examinations of the eyes, and a test for glaucoma. Persons over the age of 35 who are not under the care of an eye doctor are encouraged to attend. Although prescriptions for lenses and medications will not be given, recommendations for further evaluation will be made where indicated. Those who wear corrective lenses should bring them to the screening.

The free screening program is limited to residents of Belleville, Bloomfield, Nutley, North Arlington, and Kearny. The program will operate on a first come, first-serve basis, with no appointment necessary. Those interested should come to the lobby of the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center, entering from the visitors parking lot. Participant numbers will be distributed beginning at 1:00 p.m. For information, call the Community Service office, 680-8800, weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Medical Center provides haven

Since 1986 The Safe House, a domestic violence shelter operated by Clara Maass Medical Center, has sheltered over 700 women and children in an Essex County location that is never disclosed. It provides temporary housing in a supportive environment, together with services to help women get established on their own, including counseling, group meetings, and assistance with welfare, child care, and educational and job opportunities, as well as advocacy in police and court proceedings.

The Safe House is the only hospital-administrated domestic violence shelter in New Jersey, and one of the first in the United States. According to Safe House Director Patty Lue Boff, advantages of operation by a medical center include the cooperation of the Medical Center's Emergency Room personnel in providing referrals, the availability of medical attention, and the institutional support of the Medical Center and its community.

The Safe House was established as part of Clara Maass Medical Center's mission to meet the needs of the area surrounding Belleville and Newark. Although the rate of domestic violence in Essex County is three times the rate in any other New Jersey county, there is only one other shelter in Essex County. The Safe House's capacity of 12 women and 24 children makes it the fourth largest in the state.

The Safe House is supported by private donations and by grants from the United Way and from state and federal governments. Admission at any time of day or night is through the Emergency Room at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville. The Safe House hotline number is 759-2154.

Iuliano a scholarship winner

Michael Iuliano, a graduate of Belleville High School who is attending Rutgers College, was one of 10 recipients of the 1988-89 Marcella S. Geltman Scholarships, it was announced by Rutgers University.

The awards, covering full tuition and fees at New Jersey's State University, are renewable annually as long as the scholars remain academically in the top half of their classes.

The scholarship fund was established in 1984 with a $1 million gift in his wife's name from Samuel Geltman, president of Samuel Geltman & Company, a Hasbrouck Heights real estate management firm. Geltman also serves on the Board of Overseers of the Rutgers University Foundation.

The scholarships are awarded each year to talented, needy public high school students in eight New Jersey communities that have personal significance to the Geltmans. These are Barrington, Belleville, Edgewater Park, Fort Lee, Hackettstown, Hamilton Township, North Arlington and Teaneck.

Geltman said his motives for establishing the fund were "to grant young men and women access to a college education that would otherwise be beyond their means; to give something back to communities where we have lived, where our children went to school and where we have business interests; and to create an enduring tribute to my wife." Mrs. Geltman died in October, 1987.

Dukakis-Bentsen headquarters open

The Mike Dukakis-Lloyd Bentsen presidential campaign has set up its Essex County office at 234 Washington Avenue in Belleville. The office will function as a coordinated headquarters for the campaigns of Senator Frank Lautenberg and Sheriff Tom D'Alesio.

The office phone number is 759-6909. The campaign staff is in place and functioning now, waiting for the official opening for later next month.

The official opening of the statewide headquarters at 90 Woodbridge Center Drive in Woodbridge is set for this week. Questions about the campaign may be directed to State Campaign Director Doug Sosnik or Press Secretary Nancy Nusser at 750-1109.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. H. asks: "Are white fillings better than silver fillings in the back teeth?"

Answer: White fillings or composite fillings are used primarily for esthetics. The composite fillings are made up of glass particles and a glue material that hold these particles together. The problem with the composite material is that it washes out or is soluble in the mouth. When placed in the back teeth where they rub together, they have a greater chance of dissolving. This then causes a space between two teeth where food may get lodged causing additional problems or the teeth may drift together causing a change in the bite. In addition, the American Dental Association has not yet approved of white filling in the back teeth as being ideal treatment. If there are any further questions, please contact the office.

Amato welcomes 32 new recruits to police force

The last wave of Essex County police recruits to be trained out of county facilities were welcomed to the force by County Executive Nicholas R. Amato.

In the future, police recruits will be trained at the Essex County Police Academy, which opened in August.

"I am very excited about the opening of Essex County's Police Academy," Amato said. "Essex County's police recruits will no longer have to train at facilities located in other counties. Our police academy will be the best training facility in the state."

Peter Bordino, former chief of police instruction at the Bergen County Police Academy, will serve as the director of the Essex County facility.

The academy was previously operated by the Essex County Police Chief's Association, but the academy was shut down last August when the chief's association could not obtain affordable liability insurance.

First grade students in smoke-free class of 2000

It will be a different kind of "back-to-school day" next week for thousands of New Jersey youngsters entering the first grade: they will not only begin a new life experience, but also be enrolled in the Smoke-Free Class of 2000 by a New Jersey coalition of the American Lung Association, American Heart Association and American Cancer Society.

Officials of the three statewide agencies said the action was taken to launch a 12-year education and awareness campaign in response to the U.S. Surgeon Genral's call for a smoke-free society by the year 2000. The children entering the first grade this year will be the high school graduates of the Year 2000.

The New Jersey campaign is part of a nationwide effort. The American Lung Association, American Heart Association and American Cancer Society have asked the new first grade students to become the ambassadors of a whole new generation, a generation of children who are free of cigarettes.

As "good health" ambassadors, the students are being asked to promise that they will not smoke; to ask their brothers and sisters not to smoke, and to ask their parents and teachers not to smoke.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q: I am over 55 years of age and I am selling my house. My profit will be approximately $100,000. Since I have never used my one-time deduction, will I still be able to use the remaining $25,000 of allowable deduction at a later time?

A: The answer, quite simply, is no. The over 55 exclusion, as stated in tax code section 121, states that a person 55 years of age or over may exclude up to $125,000 of gain. This is a one time exclusion; it cannot be a rollover and you can never be taxed on it. If your gain is less than $125,000 and you elect to use your exclusion, all of your gain will be excluded. However, there is no balance of "unused exclusion" to carry over.

Q: There is a "handyman special" house that I would like to buy. My problem is that after my down payment and closing costs, I won't have the funds to make the needed improvements. How would you suggest I finance the repairs?

A: There are several ways to approach this. The most common would be a construction loan from a bank. You could borrow up to 80% of the value of the house for acquisition. You will then need estimates for the improvements and architectural plans if necessary. The bank will then lend up to 80% of the cost of improvements. The money will be dispersed as the work is being done. Only monthly interest payments need to be made on the portion of the loan you are using. After completion, the loan is converted to a conventional loan.

Another route to consider is a program available now through the state. The rate in urban areas is 8.15% for 30 year loans. Now urban areas are at 9.32% for 30 year terms. Down payments are as low as 5%. Call me at my office for a brochure on this government loan: 365-2122.

The people's choice is obvious

Century 21 Stanford Agency, located at 86 Union Avenue in Nutley, is one of the highest producers of sold homes in this Board of Realtors area (Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge). In a market which is considered slow, they not only kept up with the times in the sales of residential property, but actually out-performed last year's production, after the first and second quarters of this year. A letter of commendation was received by Century 21 Stanford Agency from the Century 21 franchise headquarters for this region.

Among their many accomplishments the letter stated that Century 21 Stanford Agency has earned the ranking of 19 out of 236 Century 21 offices in New Jersey and is among the top 8 percent producers of sold homes in the Northeast region, which includes 568 offices in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

When asked how they were able to do so well, Mike Parrillo, training director, replied:

"Service, team work, internal support and training. We always do more, therefore we sell more. Almost any realtor can multiple list a property but few can market it as effectively as we can."

"Our success stems directly from our philosophy of taking great care to extend thorough service coupled with teamwork. Each individual in our office has a special interest in all the properties we market. This is supported by monetary incentives, moral support, contests and parties offered by the full-time management staff consisting of broker, sales manager and myself, the training director.

"We are always available to aid the sales agents as well as our clients and customers since we are not in competition with the sales people in selling real estate. We all spend our time directing the business. When you combine this with the Century 21 Stanford Agency's exclusive high intensity in-house training programs, you have a formula that can only spell SUCCESS. Success for each member of our office and success for the community we serve."

If you are in need of real estate services, the right choice is obvious! Simply call 235-9000 and a professional real estate agent from Century 21 Stanford Agency will be at your service.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

Contrary to popular opinion, most senior citizens stay put, and fewer than 5 percent pack up and move to a retirement haven. Result: much of the Midwest and Northeast is "grayer" than the Sunbelt states. Florida is the exception, with the oldest population in the country.

To remove the residue left by double-sided tape, use rubber-cement thinner on a rag.

Small pictures look more important if you frame the grouping with molding.

If grease spots won't wash off walls, apply a sealer/stain killer before repainting or papering.

"Smart-House" systems were displayed at a home builder's convention. Dishwasher can "ask" water heater for hot water at certain temperature; lights can be turned off automatically if no one is in a room; appliances can be turned on by phone; security is built-in. By 1995, 25 to 30 percent of homes are expected to have automated home control; more than a million homes already have some form of it.

Smart house sellers save time and energy — they list their property with the experienced, efficient marketers at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley. 235-9000.
