Everybody learns! Friendly visitors experience American education and life

By Pat Brightman

Exhausting, entertaining, and quite a learning experience, for both sides, would be the best way to describe the four-day visit of 22 Japanese educators to Belleville.

Squeezing visits to all of Belleville schools, along with trips to Montclair State College, as well as learning about different cultures into the short stay took a lot out of everyone involved but, to a person, they all believed it was worth it.

The trip was planned so the Japanese educators could see how similar district operated in the United States, but to say that was all that happened would be a gross understatement. Seeing a small group of the educators gather around a television in hopes of seeing the space shuttle lift-off and the attempted conversations during a dinner at The Chandelier restaurant proved that.

During the dinner, the Far East visitors made wonderful gifts from simple colored paper, as well as presenting Belleville Superinten-dent of Schools Michael Nardiello with a designed racket. Seeing Japanese Chairman Hidemoto Taniguchi show how the racket is used is something everyone who attended the night will not soon forget.

A performance of Japanese songs and dances was carried out by elementary students led by Carol Mayteka, elementary school music teacher. The Belleville High School Chorus also sang a number of songs, much to the delight of the 22 visitors.

Series of school visits

Even with this, it was a study of the educational system which took center stage during the three full days the guests spent in Belleville. They visited the elementary schools to see public education at work, Montclair State to study a college which graduates a number of teachers, and St. Peter's and Our Lady of Peace High School to see private sector schools.

"All the teachers know the children very well. They try to develop each one individually," said Taniguchi, through his inter-pretor Kazuyo Yamaguchi. "Inoticed that teachers emphasize the development of basic skills. We agree that basic skill ability is very important.

After we go back (to Japan) we will think again how to develop our children with basic skills."

A major difference in the learning procedures of the two countries is while the U.S. has a variety of curriculums and teaching ideals from town to town, Japan has one standard learning system, said Eiji Hashimoto. Another slight difference is students in Japan must wear uniforms while in the U.S. children wear a variety of clothes.

Hashimoto also said students are "very free," able to express their opinions more so than in Japan. " think we have to combine the learning in the United States with the learning in Japan," he commented

Different levels of learning

Tanguchi explained through Yamaguchi teaching procedures are similar in many ways but in Japan kindergarten is not considered as imperative as in this country. Yamaguchi also said a visit to School 7 gave insight to another difference between the two countries' educational systems

"(Here) the schools apply three classes, talented, regular students and slower students. In Japan all the students take the same classes, we don't separate depending on ability," she said. "Of course, we have special classes for the handicapped and the very slow.

Yamaguchi explained in her rainaguent explanated in her-native country, class sizes are approximately 40 students but in the U.S. the largest classes are about 25. "We envy you very much." The contingent had lunch with Consolidated Home and Consolidated Home and School Association and discussed the relationship and avenues of communication between the school administrators and parents of students. They also paid a visit to the Recreation House, inquiring about the programs offered to children.

Certainly, the 22 will take home with them knowledge they did not know of before they arrived, both about education and life in American. Undoubtably, anyone who had contact with them learned much about the Japanese way of life and education. It was truly an experience that will be etched in many memories for a time to come.

Local officials gird for fight against flood tunnel

By Alfred Cook

The controversial billion dollar, 13.5-mile flood control tunnel proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers to solve periodic inundation of upstream towns on the Passaic and Pompton Rivers, came under severe attack here last week from elected officials in the lower Passaic River towns, who claim the project is just flood transferrence.

Coincidentally, the Essex County Board of Freeholders had conducted its business session in Nutley town hall that same night, so the flood meeting in the Parks and Recreation Building got some unexpected support.

"We're calling for the Army Corps of Engineers to go back to the drawing board and come up with something more palatable," said Freeholder Art Clay as he read a resolution he and Freeholder Thomas Giblin co-sponsored a short time before.

The resolution, adopted by an eight vote majority with one abstention, calls for an alternative that would not do the tremendous damspected of the funnel," he added.

of Engineers know these options exist," said Glay. The major elements of the alternative proposal as detailed by mem-

buy-out of the remaining properties that would return the area to a 15 or 25 year flood plain. While these phases are being implemented, "an analysis should be completed as to the need for structural elements to complete the project," she said.

The precedent setting tunnel pro-ject is designed to end flooding in the Upper Passaic River Basin by diverting Pompton River flood waters from a number of communities in Passaic and Morris counties to the lower Passaic River on the Nutley-Clifton border.

When they presented the plan representatives of the Army Corps said that clearly the project would raise water levels substantially in the lower river, and included a concept for land acquisition for construction of floodwalls and levees.

Affected towns

Communities with waterfront likely to be affected are Nutley, Belleville, Clifton, Passaic, Garfield, Rutherford, Lyndhurst, Kearny, Harrison and North Arlington. Representatives from each had been invited to last week's gathering and many were among the 250 participants.

One alternative to the tunnel being pushed by the Passaic River Coalition and the Harrison town council is the buyout of residential and business properties in the upstream flood zones, relocation of their occupants to adjacent safe areas, and the restoration of the riverbanks to a sylvan state that can be enjoyed as recreation areas when the river isn't in flood.

"That's an excellent proposal, and we have to let the Army Corps bers of the Passaic River Coalition progress through three phases; the first encompassing a priority buyout of flood-prone properties, wetlands and watershed acquisition, road improvements and stormwater management.

Houses would be demolished and the land left as open space to return to a wetland state, said Ella Filippone, the executive director of the coalition.

Studies needed Phase Two calls for an extended

Retaining walls in urban areas and an evaluation of storm sewers and their maintenance should be a part of this study.

While the Corps sponsored plan is designed to protect the Passaic River Basin from a 100-year flood as well as from a 500-year-event

Testimony on an apartment complex and condominium units was completed but a vote was not taken of the Belleville Zoning Board in either case because only five members of the board were present Tuesday night.

The attorney for each application requested a vote be taken when a full board is present, with transcripts being sent to those who could not make this week's meeting.

The first application is to construct two three-story buildings totaling 29 units from 7-33 Cortlandt Street. The property is in an industrial zone and the applicant, Richard DeMarco was only seeking a use variance, with site plan approval being granted at a later date.

A request was made by the board for a map showing the uses of surrounding property and DeMarco's architect, Chuck Lee, presented one and explained the lots across the street on Cortlandt were single family homes, a commercial use at the corner of Mill Street and Cortlandt and present construction on Schuyler Street.

Lee further answered a flooding question by explaining the units will be one foot above the 100 feet flood plane elevation, which would mean each first floor unit would range from eight feet to 10 feet above ground. He also noted that if an industrial use was carried out they would only have to meet the flood plane not exceed it by at least one foot.

"If I put in an industrial building it would get wet and flooded, so I would have to build up," com-mented owner Richard DeMarco. 'I don't know of any industry where you can build up in this area.

DeMarco further described he originally had planned to use the property for commercial use but he heard of legislation which removed rent control and decided to build apartments.

The board had remaining questions about the flooding and instructed Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood to contact the board's consulting engineer company, Storch Engineering, to do a report.

A 24-unit condominium complex was proposed by Jolly Roger Motor Court and Salvatore C. Inc. at 191-213 Stephens Street. The property is presently a paved lot used by Cerami Construction for storage and is non-conforming because it is in a two-family zone.

Charles Cerami, who is president of Cerami Construction, is also the head of Jolly Roger and

A mailing scheme which resulted in a Belleville woman receiving merchandise intended for others, was broken up by Belleville Police and an agent from United Parcel Service (UPS) Security.

Michele Druther, 21, was arrested and charged with receiving stolen property after UPS Officer John Turi, and Belleville Police posed as UPS workers and delivered merchandise to Druther at her home on Watchung Avenue. As soon as she accepted the items, she was arrested. An employee of UPS was also arrested but not by Belleville Police.

The UPS employee would overlabel items, thereby changing the destinations of them to Druther's residence.

Police arrested a 25 year-old Newark man September 29 and charged him with robbery and possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) after a citizen had held the suspect until police arrived.

John Fernando Cascalheria was arrested by police when they arrived outside a house on Mill Street and found Cascalheria being held by the robbery victim. According to the victim, he was visiting a friend and when he went to leave and approached his car he saw Cascalheria walking towards him carrying the spare tire from the car. When the victim asked what Cascalheria attempted to flee but the victim chased him down and tackled Cascalheria, holding him until police arrived.

When Cascalheria was brought to police headquarters and searched, police found a folded dollar bill containing a white powder believed to be cocaine.

Three Newark residents were arrested and charged with possession of CDS September 27 when the hotel room they were in was searched by police.

Thomas Cole, 18, and two 17 year-old juveniles were arrested when police found marijuana in their room at Belleville Motor Lodge on Washington Avenue. All three were charged with possession and Cole was also charged with giving false information, as he attempted to give police a different name.

William Vansyckle, 18, and two 17 year-olds, all from Belleville, were arrested and charged with possession of stolen property October 1. Police were detailed to Adelaide Street and Malone Avenue on a call of three, white males attempting to enter several vehicles. When police arrived they saw the three walking from the scene and when police approached the three, a cassette tape fell from the pockets of one of them. A search of Vansyckle and the juveniles revealed a number of cassettes and buttons. When police discovered an opened car, they asked the owner if the cassettes and buttons were his and he verified they were.

A roofrack, valued at approximately $300, was stolen from a 1986 Ford stationwagon which was parked at Mead Ford sometime between September 19 and September 28.

Golden Comments By Jim Golden

A letter dated February, 3, 1988 signed by Barry Skokowski, Sr., Director Division of Local Gov't Services, a copy of which was submitted to each Belleville commissioner, the town attorney and the town treasurer, which advised that "no longer extensions of time for completion of statutory audits beyond the NJSA 40A:5-4 filing date of May 31," indicating all audits not filed by that date became delinquent.

The Nutley published 1987 Summary Report of Audit and Recommendations was published in June of this year; the last Belleville published report of audit was for the year 1986 published a few months ago ... what has happened to the 1987 report? It hasn't been published yet. WHY? "The political disarray and dissen-

•The political disarray and dissension which characterizes the climate of Belleville's local government is not only alarming, it is shameful ... Discord and animosity bordering contempt precludes efficient administration of the community's needs.

Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra points out that the township has waited nearly 18 months for a fire pumper truck, but now will have to wait at least another 12 to 18 months for the much-needed piece of fire apparatus, stating "The town needs the truck; it's urgent enough, it wasn't bought because of something political." The Town Hall still has 44 out-

The Town Hall still has 44 outstanding safety violations for which it was cited in a state inspection in March. The police department is still housed in an unsavory basement without likelihood of early construction of much needed new modern facilities because of lack of funds being available.

Acrimonious discord and acerbity between the two fighting factions on the Board of Commissioners continue to stalemate harmony or progress. The exorbitant amount of overtime pay some town employees have received over the past few years provoked the editorial comment of this newspaper to adversely criticize this practice and recommend its correction. From the opinion page of the Times the well phrased letter to the editor of Victor M. Canning says it best in quoting Alexander Pope "For forms of government, let fools contest. What e'er is best administered, is best." This student of government correctly asks, what will be accomplished by changing Belleville's form of government? He sums it up nicely by calling the key players behind the move for a change "professional Belleville pol-iticians" not newcomers to town and defines them as "a wide array of former township officials, which includes former commissioners, former and possibly present board of education members, former planning and zoning board members, unsuccessful candidates and members of several committees that accomplished 'nothing but spending taxpayers dollars. In addition, one of these individuals fought tooth and nail in 1967 to change Belleville from a council/manager form to a commission form of government." Mr. Canning reminds us these people were in power for the past two decades and the present condition of Belleville is the result of their incompetence. He asserts this group is trying to change the form of government not to help Belleville, but rather to return the power to heir court. He exhorts the people not to let this group "pull the wool over your eyes," stating Belleville doesn't need a change of govern-ment, claiming that "what it really needs are a few good leaders not out for their own self-interests or small factions." He also brings to the attention of his readers the cost expenditures of a special election. It is a thought provoking letter which deserves study and rumination. Consider it carefully ... the punch line is "it's not the form of government that is important, it is the individuals that administer

A crowning achievement

Queen for a day. That is something many woman, young and old, dream of at least once in their life. For Trecia Ann Dattoli Donnelly the dream will become a reality Saturday night as she will be crowned Belleville's Bella Signorina for the Sixth Annual Belleville-Nutley Golumbus Day Parade.

The 16 year-old Belleville High School junior will be a main attraction during the October 16 parade honoring the discoverer of America, riding on a float with Nutley Bella Signorina Donna' Marie Tamburri. Donnelly offers an impressive resume for anyone, let alone a young girl who just turned 16. She is a member of the high school Key Club, Foreign Language Club, Student Government, Students Against Driving Drunk and the Ski Club. She is also member of the Varisty Softball and Volleyball squads at the high school.

"I was surprised, I didn't expect it on Friday," she exclaimed. "I figured if I was going to find out it wouldn't be until at least the weekend."

The announcement of the Bella Signorina came at a perfect time, as Donnelly's family had something special scheduled. "We had planned a surprise "sweet 16" party for her Saturday night and it turned out to be that and a Bella Signorina party," explained her father, Michael. "My wife and I are very proud of her."

Donnelly has also been a member of the Girl Scouts and has been a volunteer summer counselor from 1984-88 in the Bippy Program. She is an instructor at St. John's Church in Newark, teaching preschool C.C.D. classes.

Even though she has almost two years of high school left, Donnelly already knows she wants to attend college and study Speciat Education. With all her activities it is difficult to find free time but when she has some she enjoys listening to the radio and riding her bike.

Donnelly was chosen over nine other girls for the honor. Nicole Pucciarello, a 16 year-old gymnist and cheerleader at Belleville High School, and Diane Michele DiVincenzo, 16, a member of a number of organzations including the Belleville High School Chorus, Concert Choir, and Orchestra and Student Government, were selected as Ladies in Waiting.

The Grand Marshall of the parade is Nicholas DePace, M.D. DePace was raised in Nutley and is presently is a practicing cardiologist and professor of medicine at the Medical College of Pennsylvania.

Approximately 175 business leaders, local political luminaries and friends and family attended Sunday night's Belleville Chamber of Commerce Dinner which honored Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone and Barbara Spillane for their achievements with the youth of the town.

Both Ciccone and Spillane work authorities and spillane work authorities at the event, held at the Gondola Restaurant, choosing to give credit to others for their achievements.

"Any success I have had is due to my outstanding staff, my family and the kids," stated Ciccone, born and raised in Nutley, after a slide show presentation which showed various pictures of him at work while an audio tape of student thoughts was played.

Spillane gave similar thanks to her seventh grade middle school students and her family for the support they have given her over the years. She also credited the Belleville Junior Woman's Club (JWC), which she helped establish, and asked all former and present members of the Club to stand and be recognized. She summed up her acceptance speech with a quote Spillane's husband, Thomas, a member of the Chamber, introduced Barbara to the audience, giving background of her achievements and concluding by saying the smartest thing he had ever done was ask her to marry him. He then presented her with a bouquet of roses.

Chamber of Commerce President Jaye Tarantino presented both Spillane and Ciccone with plaques and framed copies of an article in the Belleville Times announcing they would be honored. Tarantino and Chamber Chairman of the Board Shirlee Sherman were also honored with plaques by the organization for their work with the Chamber.

Among the luminaries in attendance were Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato, New Jersey Senator Carmen Orechio, Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio, Belleville Mayor Michael Pizzi and Belleville Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto.

GUEST EDITORIAL:

Decade of Decision

Pastor Gerald Fortunato Silver Lake Baptist Church

The 1990's could be the world's decade of decision. What our elected leaders decide about the critical issues of environment, economics, and human ethics will have profound effect on each of us. This election is one of the most crucial our nation has ever faced. As we enter this decisive phase of history, we need more than ever to pray for the wisdom and guidance of God.

I wish I could convince all of you that your vote counts - not only your political ballot, but the vote of your life and conduct. In a world that might say one vote does not matter, I say it does matter because each person is of infinite worth and value to God.

Your vote is a declaration of importance as a person and a citizen.

I saw a sign the other day on a bulletin board that said: "Bad officials are elected by good people who don't vote." It echoed the wise words of Edmund Burke: "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing. But if this election follows recent patterns, as many as half the eligible voters in the United States won't cast a ballot on Election Day

Some cynics say that elections are controlled by money and media, but I believe that Americans will still expend the time and effort to make intelligent, knowledgeable decisions. As we look beyond the catchwords and images, we can accurately assess those running for office. Then we can vote for the candidates whose political aptitudes are matched by moral qualities and personal integrity.

It will take courage and personal sacrifice to forgo the "bloc voting" that supports only a political party or a special-interest group. We need to approach the polling booth with unselfish motives, willing to consider what is best for all the people.

Remember, your vote counts. So often on the local level, we criticize those who sit on governing boards. We complain about their performance, decisions, comportment, etc. Yet, we fail to realize or take into account that there is no justification for said criticisms if we have been negligent in not exercising our God given privilege to VOTE. As American citizens, we have the right and the responsibility to vote. But what a privilege it is to step into that booth, pull a curtain of privacy around us, and mark the ballot according to our conscience and without fear of harassment or reprisal.

When we vote, we vote for ourselves, for our nation, for our children and grandchildren, and for people around the world who look to the United States for leadership. The ballot box is not an obsolete weapon. It can still be prayerfully and properly used as a deterrent to war, an instrument of peace and a means of continued prosperity.

Your vote counts. Back in 1948, President Truman won the election as he carried the key states of Ohio and California by less than one vote per precinct. Some time ago, a senator from North Dakota was elected by a margin of less than one vote for every two precincts. Again, your vote does count. I believe it is our duty to register and vote, no matter which candidate you choose! I am not suggesting who you should vote for. I am just urging you to register and vote. Your one vote does count.

Too little, too late?

As reported on the page 1, local leaders and concerned citizens from Essex County gathered in Nutley to voice their displeasure over the projected Army Corps of Engineers flood tunnel which would alleviate the flooding problem on the Passaic and Pompton River towns but increase the flooding potential of other towns, particularly Belleville.

Among those in attendance were Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto and Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni, from the local level of government, Freeholder Arthur Clay, and Assemblyman John V. Kelly. These four, along with veryone else in attendance e are strongly against the proposal, which, in a sense, does not solve the problem but spreads it out across a larger part of the state. Towns such as Wayne may have a lessening of their flooding problem but towns such as Belleville may possibly have a monumental problem. This does not sound like a solution to us. Alternatives were aired at the meeting and the meeting may be an attention-getter to make the Army Corps of Engineers conscious of just how feeble a plan the tunnel is. There are two major questions that stem from last week's meeting. Are the alternatives proposed a more effective solution? And even if they are, is there enough time to stop what appears to be a costly, poor-planned solution? It appears the opposition, which has been voiced for some time, but not be such large masses, may be too little, too late. To completely abandon a billion dollar project this late appears to be too much to expect, even though it should. Only time will tell.

YOUR OPINION

The facts according to Brave

To the Editor:

I would like to respond to Commissioner Frantantoni's letter of Sept. 15, 1988. Vinnie, it is really sad to note that people who were then on the opposite side of the podium just before being elected, were constantly offering criticism from the podium, and now that they are being criticized, they cry that they are being singled out, picked on and harassed. In reality, if they were attentively listening instead of making their redundant "I did" speeches, they would know that ALL commissioners have been subjected to criticism. You seem to want to respond with so called 'facts,' but it is you sir that should check your 'facts,' when my so called "budget expert" served on the board of ed, he came to an all but financially bankrupt surplus account of the board of ed, because it's previous board (late 1982) made 'an arrangement of convenience' with the town commissioners to achieve a no increase budget for both the board of ed and the township for the 1983 election year. (The year that Mr. Nazziola was elected.) How they did this was to take $935,000 out of the surplus account that had been built up to $1,200,000 over a long period. So the first year my "budget expert" served on the board it was a zero increase budget. It was also the first time in over 20 years the budget was approved by the voters at the polls. The next year's budget was presented by the board of ed's administration to my "budget expert" and as budget committee chairperson he faced a 14 point tax increase. When my "budget expert" got finished

The problem is commission

To the Editor:

I am responding to Mr. Canning's letter of September 29, 1988. First of all, his title is very appropriate, "It's the people, not the system." The people who are running the current system are totally unprofessional, inefficient, and disorganized. The negative publicity that Mr. Canning refers to has been the Board of Commissioners themselves. Our commission body has been criticized by the press and the majority of the towns people as being "circus like." Town people have been offering positive suggestions (Mr. Canning obviously did not hear them) such as consolidation of services. Centralized motor pool, hiring freeze, centralized clerical pool, consolidation of town property, etc. These proposals have fallen on deaf ears as these commissioners are self serving. Since they didn't propose these attempts themselves, they are disinterested.

The commission body was all too quick to cut the Board of Education budget. However, they made no attempt to streamline services (similar to Montclair, who off-set the high tax increase of the recent garbage hikes by selling off unused town property). Belleville Commissioners made no attempt to off-set the high increase we recently received in our taxes.

I am proposing a change of government because the com-mission form of government has created five separate departments with overlapping and duplicate services and throws politicians into the roll of administrators for which they have not been trained. It is quite obvious by their unprofessional conduct, which has blackened the good reputation of Belleville, that the commission form of government has created the problem.

analyzing past audits and budgets, he reduced that 14 point increase to a 5 point tax increase, saving each and every homeowner $45.00 on their tax bill.

Vinnie, you criticized Mayor Pizzi for including in his budget a 7% increase based on pending negotiations, at the same time your budget had salaries included for 4 positions (correct that, 5 now) who have no men working in them. I'm sure you have a terrific explanation for why you have disguised that 'hidden padding' while you brag about a no increase budget for your department.

I do agree with you Vinnie, that I have caused myself embarrassment; especially when I have to admit that I was a volunteer worker in your campaign. I also find it amusing and humorous that you ever have or still do consider me 'your friend.

I came to the conclusion a long time ago that I was never considered a valued friend, I was just a convenient instrument that you used at the time as a campaign volunteer! Let me refresh your memory regarding you telling me about the opinion of retired teachers for cutting the budget, by reducing the teaching staff. I should be insulted by you inferring that I lied, however, only insecure people allow themselves to be insulted. What you told me was said in front of a witness. You said this while showing us one of your famous 'documents' after a meeting at which the budget was being discussed. Both of us stand ready to clarify your recollection of your statement if you feel it necessary.

Regarding the town cars, and your campaign promises, the issue is not the year, make, or the mileage of the car but the fact tlast you promised not to accept a carl Fortunately, I found good use for your campaign literature. While making repairs in the apartment I rent, I found that crumbling your literature and stuffing it in holes in the wall it makes good backing for spackling over the holes. While you doubt my ability to write my own letters I would remind you of what you said to me once, that "Tm never shy for words." As Teddy Roosevelt once said "The facts can not be debated." These are the facts, NOT 'The facts according to Frantantoni'l

Come drive a Chevrolet

To the Editor

It is amazing Commissioner McGreevy just went out and spent $14,000 on a new Chevrolet Caprice and took his "old" 1986 or 1987 Plymouth and just parked it behind Town Hall. I am glad my father's taxes went up to keep Joe McGreevy and others in new cars they don't need and a certain woman in the Treasurer's Office in $8,000 - $10,000 a year in overtime when she never is there

Keep up the good work, Joe!!

Kevin G. Kennedy P.S. What's going to happen to the 1986 Fury? Anyone need parts??

'Memories of Me' is a gentle movie with very winning ways

GIVEN THE success of "Moonstruck," the powers-that-be at MGM must feel very good about "Memories of Me," which opens all over the area tomorrow. It is the same unlikely kind of movie with many of the same winning ways

A movie for adult viewers, its relationships offer a real slice of life that most discerning people will find some identification with.

It also represents a labor of love for the principals, since its co-stars, Alan King and Billy Crystal, co-produced with Michael Hertzberg, Crystal co-wrote the script with Eric Roth, and they allowed Henry Winkler, a very kind and humane man, to make his directorial debut with their baby. As "Moonstruck" was Italian ethnic, so this one is Jewish, but it would work as well with any rambunctious father-son relationship, and it has many a rich laugh planted along its way Confronts mortality] It opens in a busy New York hospital where heart surgeon Abbie Polin (Crystal), discovers midway through an operation that HE is having a heart attack. The time and the place are actually fortuitous, because there are others who can take over the ongoing surgery as he falls to the floor, and there are skilled technicians to follow the instructions he gives to save his own life. When he is eventually released from hospital, he and his live-in lover, an attractive pediatrician, Lisa (JoBeth Wiltiams) find he must confront his own mortality. She is quite surprised to learn that his father, Abe (King), is still alive, living in Los Angeles and as far as Abbie is concerned, "...a total embarrassment." But he does represent a loose end in the young doctor's life, and when he starts dreaming about the troubled relationship he had with his father as a child, he decides to go off to L.A. to come to some kind of terms.

But he does represent a loose end in the young doctor's life, and when he starts dreaming about the troubled relationship he had with his father as a child, he decides to go off to L.A. to come to some kind of terms.

Abe is a movie extra, but not just any extra, he assures his son. He is "The King of The Extras," having brushed against, danced near or rubbed shoulders with every great name over four decades of film making.

No aspirations

To Abbie, his father is a "putz," but the irascible Abe will have none of that. He knows he is good at what he does, he is on nodding terms with hundreds of big stars. (as Sean Connery demonstrates in a brief cameo), and he has no aspirations to do speaking parts.

When Lisa arrives unexpectedly for a short visit, Abe charms her, and she finds its amusing to visit the studio where a cheap science fiction film is being made with the King of The Extras dressed in an outlandish lobster suit.

Abe brings proceedings to a shattering halt by introducing a speech from "Inherit The Wind" where no speech was called for, and at that point Abbie decides it is time he went back to being a doctor and gave his father a thorough workup.

In the meantime, relations haven't improved, but Lisa has been regaled with many tales about father-son antics before Abe divorced Abbie's mother.

Ending a secret

To find out how it all comes out, you will have to see the movie. Suffice to say, it is bittersweet.

It represents excellent work by Crystal, King and Williams, and an auspicious directorial bow by Winkler, who in another life was known as "The Fonz," though that is hard to believe, given his success as a producer in recent years.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT Gerald Fortunato, Pasto

Silver Lake Baptist Church

What way are we to follow?

"Whosoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me" (Mark 8:34). When Jesus spoke to His own about the demands of discipleship, the words were strong and foreboding. "Forsake...de-ny...take up your cross...follow me." Those are the words of Jesus. "Pamper yourself ... indulge ... grab the gusto." Those are the words of the world.

As Christians, let us be reminded that servanthood involves both a privilege...and a price. You must choose which drumbeat you will follow. It is good to follow Christ. But we must see by what way we are to follow. For when the Lord spoke the words of Mark 8, He had not already risen from the dead. He had not yet suffered, not yet come to the cross, not yet felt the dishonoring, the outrages, the scourging, the thorns, the wounds, the mockeries, * the insults, the death. Rough may be the way, but follow on. Where Christ has gone is worn smooth.

Who would not wish to be exalted? Honor is pleasing to all. But humility is the path to it. The two disciples disliked taking this step of humility. They sought exaltation, one at the right hand and the other at the left. They did not see the cross.

Christ's invitation to discipleship is an invitation to die. Die to self. To the world. To personal ambition. It is a call to follow Jesus in His life. In His death. In His resurrection. It is a reminder that exaltation and elevation in God's sight are the byproducts of humility. Small wonder there is so seldom a crowd gathered at the cross. For few are willing to pay the price that discipleship demands. But it's a price well worth paying. For a life of discipleship is the most fulfilling life of all.

Will you pay the price?

Mrs. B. asks: "Pve heard that my headaches can be related to my bite. Is this true?"

Yes, Mrs. B., this is very true. Some headaches are caused by muscle spasms very similar to "charly horses" that you get in your legs. What happens to a muscle after extended use is a lactic acid build-up inside the muscle, prevent, ing it from functioning properly and then it begins to hurt. When something causes the bite to change, either loss of teeth, a fractured jaw, or arthritis in the i feetin, a tractured jaw, or artifitios in days joint, the feeth begin shifting to adapt to the change. When teeth shift, some may strike before others. To compensate, the muscle remains tight, always under stress, to avoid hitting the premature tooth. These muscles begin to hurt, and the pain is felt as a headache. If you are experiencing headaches that you cannot explain, check with your dentist. Perhaps he can help you

Belleville Band making new music

By Jennifer Best

Another season of high school football has commenced in Belleville and while the football team is intensely practicing for their performance in the games, another show is also being prepared for your halftime enjoyment.

This show, performed by the Belleville High School Marching Band, has proven to be a spectacular display of musicianship that the majority of Belleville has yet to see. Residents are encouraged to attend those football games hosted by the Bucs to witness this unique presentation of music.

In the past two years, the band, under the direction of Joseph Kraemer, has continually gained recognition through various competitions and performances. Kraemer's great enthusiasm, along with the aid of an experienced staff of instructors, has inspired the band to achieve an even higher standard of excellance. No longer is the band considered an accessory to the football team but rather a unified team itself.

Last year, the Belleville Band was awarded third place in their category at the Wayne Hills band competition, second place at the Linden band competition, and second place at the Bayonne band competition. The marching band has also been invited to perform at several music festivals.

In May, 1987, the ensemble toured Quebec, Canada, and just this past May travelled to Walt Disney World and exibited their talent in EPCOT Center before thousands of Disney tourists.

This year the marching band starts another slate with high hopes of an even more successful season. In addition to the football games and the usual holiday parades, some scheduled performances include Ramsey and Wayne Hills band competitions, a competition at Giants Stadium October 15, and a guest performance at the Brendan Byrne Arena for the New Jersey Nets - Chicago Bulls basketball game. The band is also planning to attend a music festival in Charleston, South Carolina next May.

This year's repetoire includes a wide variety of songs, including "Mack the Knife," which features four soloists: Albert Balkiewicz, trumpet; Juliey Pedalino, clarinet; Mark Tonelli, guitar; and Albert Leyson, saxophone. Kraemer's staff includes Glenn Van Benschoten, assistant director, Gabe Nazziola and Michael Baron, percussion instructors, and Mark Revell and Maryann Tirinato, flag instructors.

The 47 musicians of the Bellev-ille High School Marching Band are: Ara Akian, Margaret Akian, Christine Alfaro, Balkiewicz, Jennifer Best, Eddie Cammarato, Daniel Civinski, Aristidas Cruz, Robert Curcio, Chris Darcey, Lorraine DeBenedetto, Vinnie DeBenedetto, Emilio Degula, and Billy Doyle.

Also, Fatima Figuereo, Erika Gomez, Evelyn Gonzalez, Lee Grzywinski, Ben Guadaloupe, Niz-Guadaloupe, Desen-Guadaloupe, Desen-Damon Hernandez, Kane, elle Guarino, Ramon Micheal Idended, Heather Kane, David Kohn, Judy Krych, Albert Leyson, Cosmeric Leyson, Stacy McCarthy, Thomas Mutch, Dave Nixon, Joseph Ofiero, and Jose Oliva.

The remaining members are: Julie Pedalino, Carlos Ramirez, Rosemary Russomano, Christine Sabatino, Sabatino, Amol Shah, Pete Spirock, Lynn Stevens, Mark Tonelli, Jerry Toppeta, Elizabeth Torez, Danielle Utter, Anthony Vitella, Keith Woodward, and Michael Woodward.

An Orechio Publication Belleville Times——9 Officials gather against tunnel

But there are other benefits, according to Filippone.

There will be an increase in water quality and supply, added habitat preservation and restoration as well as greater recreational opportunities.

Unlike the tunnel project, there will be minimal maintenance and operating costs. Some presently non-existent authority will have to be established to operate the tunnel, which will require a budget in to the millions each year for maintenance and operation, so that it does not become blocked with debris at flood time, causing the same upstream devasattation it would be designed to prevent.

Little local cost

"Municipal budgets will not require major outlays and flood insurance repayments will be at a minimum," according to Filippone, who added "approval of the plan is not limited to the lower basin area. We got 10,000 signatures from the Central Passaic area--the heart of the flood plain--collected at Willowbrook Shopping Center," she said. "These are people from Wayne and Lincoln Park"

"You have a good man here, well placed to help," she said. "Contact Sen. Carmen Orechio, who sits on the Natural Resources Committee, to block state funding of the project

Municipal officials from the lower basin area expectedly greeted the three-week old alternative proposal with the same enthusiasm exhibited in condemning the tunnel.

"The Passaic River Coalition has formulated a practical, economic and enviornmentally sound alternative," said Dorothy Baker, reading a prepared statement from the Concerned Citizens of Nutley. "This plan includes a fair market buyout of the affected properties leaving the land as open space forever

Assemblyman John Kelly, R-30th Dist., covering towns to be affected by the tunnel, said, "I think it's about time to get all the municipal officials together to oppose the 'tunnel and voters shouldn't vote for anyone-Republican or Democrat-who supports it."

"I'm dead set against the tunnel as an assemblyman, a mayor and a resident," he said.

Senatorial support The state's two U.S. senators, Frank Lautenberg and Bill Bradley, have voiced support for the tunnel. Lautenberg is running for re-election. Congressman Robert roe, D-9th., of Wayne, is also a supporter, though lately he has been pushing for a six-mile, $300,000,000 extension to Newark Bay.

"The most cost effective solution is the buy-out plan," said Freehold-er Clay. "It will cost one-tenth the amount of the tunnel.

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-30th Dist.) who, like Kelly, represents a number of towns affect ted by the proposed tunnel, echoed the sentiment frequently voiced, that the Corps plan would merely transfer the flood problem from one set of communities to another, and adversly affect the lower basin eco-system.

Mayor Glenn Elliot of Rutherford said, "Nature's way of dealing with a flood is a flood plain and the most sensible way is buy out property and return it to a flood plain state"

Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni of Belleville, commenting on recent proposals by Roe to extend the walls to Newark Bay said, "I don't think it's a useful alternative. All our towns are fully developed. We keep looking for 10 square feet for a parking space", Nutley Public Works Commissioner Peter Scarpelli, who called the meeting and acted as a master of ceremonies for the evening, said ... there is nothing in the plan to say where they're going to put the earth that comes out of a tunnel this long and this large. We are talking about millions of tons of soil.

On the record

"You have to contact Congressman Robert Roe," said Jerry DelGuercio of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville. "He's the first or second ranking member of the House Public Works Committee, so it can only go through with his say. Tell him there's more votes down here than up there. DelGuercio also urged residents to contact tunnel supporters Lautenburg and Bradley and Governor Thomas Kean, making plain their objections.

"Lautenburg is on the Senate Public Works Committee," he said, " let's call him and ask him to go on the public record if he's for it or against it"

The 930 square mile water shed basin is 126 miles long and 56 miles wide. It is drained by the Passaic River and its seven tributaries covering eight counties in North Jersey and two in New York. More than two million people reside in 112 municipalities within the basin, which has 40,000 homes and businesses.

Flooding has been recorded as a major problem in the Passaic River Basin since the nineteenth century. New Jersey first initiated an effort to find a solution in 1870. Record floods in 1902 and 1903 prompted additional efforts, but nothing was developed. Federal disaster declarations were proclaimed in 1968 1971, 1972, 1973, twice in 1975 and again in April 1984. Three people died in that year's flood, which caused $350 million in damage.

Gave impetus That flood and the damage it caused gave impetus to the Army Corps of Engineers proposals which received final approval from the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors June 30.

"It was a significant hurdle," said Robert Pietrowsky, chief of the corps" Passaic River branch, that day.

At that time too, Rep. Dean Gallo (R-11th Dist), whose district includes flood-prone areas in Morris and Essex counties, endorsed the Energy and Water Appropriations Bill for the 1989 fiscal year that contained funds for three area flood control projects, including $750,000 for the study phase of the tunnel project, $300,000 for revitalization of Beatties Dam and $200,000 for stabilization of the east bank of the Passaic River from Fairfield to Lyndhurst.

Gallo said he and Congressman Roe sent a letter to Governor Kean urging him to contact the Army Corps of Engineers to reiterate his support for the project in behalf of the state.

25 Years Ago

September 26, 1963... The annual law enforcement seminar sponsor-ed by County Prosecutor Brendan T. Byrne honored five members of the Belleville Police Department. Chief Charles McGinnis was given the Certificate of Merit, while four of his co-workers, Deputy Chief Donald Smith, Captain Harry Tepe, Sergeant John Dean and Detective Nicholas Mariano, were also given awards.

Assembly speaker Elmer M. Matthews said Belleville would receive more than $1.7 million in school aid from the state for five years upon the approval of the New Jersey Turnpike referendum. He said that 22 municipalities in Essex County would receive $72 million in school aid and that the county would be the beneficiaries in an overall $250 million program if the legislature was approved. The Belleville High School football team was readying itself for their season opener against the powerful East Orange. Coach Tom Testa's squad would be led by senior Frank Pomaco at quarterback. Supporting Pomaco in the backfield were seniors Tome Greco and Joe Cervasio at halfback and the team's "bread and butter" runner, John Senesky, at fullback. These three would also anchor the defensive unit, along with Rich Bennechi.

Two satellites were used in the same communication circuit for the first time to carry a voice conversation between Nutley, South America and a U.S. ship anchored in Lagos Harbor, Nig eria. The satellites, Relay I and Syncom, were linked by NASA. Involved in the three-continent, 20minute conversation on technical matters were Howard Miller of the NASA-based ship, Joao de Fonseca, chief engineer of the satellite ground station in Rio de Janiero and Richard B. McClure, assistant manager of ITT

Pride in Belleville bookmarks available

"Take Pride In Belleville! We Dol Everyone Should!" This brief but highly significant message appears in bold silver print on attractive dark blue vinyl bookmarks. The bookmarks are being offered to Belleville residents free of charge by Kingdom Associates, a member of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

According to Barbara Ciccone, sales manager for the firm, the message may be simple, but the problems it refers to are far more complex in nature. "We feel that Belleville lacks community pride," she explained. "You can't have community pride without individual pride. This means taking pride in We realize that the individual. 'Take Pride In Belleville' effort on our part is only a small step in that direction, but we hope it represents a beginning. Perhaps others will start taking it to heart."

The "Take Pride In Belleville" bookmarks are available free, from various locations throughout Belleville. These include Frade's Deli & Caterers, Union Ave.; V. ### Assembly approves bill for county mental hospitals

A bill providing a supplement-appropriation of $15 million to county mental hospitals was approved by the Assembly by a 77-0

The measure, A-3779, which is sponsored by Assemblyman John Kelly and Assemblywoman Marion Crecco was merged with an indentical Senate bill, S-1981, before it was sent to Governor Thomas Kean for consideration.

Second legislation sponsored by the Kelly and Crecco which would amend the "Sheltered Workshop Act" of 1971 won approval from the Senate Labor, Industry and Professions Committee.

The assembly members said the additional hospital funds are needed to provide adequate care to the increasing number of mental health patients seeking outpatient programs on the local level.

"In it budget request for this year, the state Department of Human Services asked for an increase of less than two percent for these county-based institutions," observed Kelly. "That's just not enough. Local services are becoming financially overburdened."

"Over the past several years, at the advice of experts in the psychiatric field, more and more mentally disabled people have been deinstitutionalized," noted Crecco. "The state needs to take a more active role in ensuring that these people receive adequate care on the local level." If the bill becomes law, each of the existing five county mental hospitals would benefit. The funds would be used to upgrade direct patient care staff levels, including salary increases to nursing staffs.

Additionally, the money would be used to begin capital improvement projects and to purchase much-needed equipment.

The bill stipulates the counties may not use the additional funds to reduce overall financial support to. the hospitals.

Specifically, the bill would appropriate $7,320,000 to Easex County, $3,930,000 to Bergen County, $1,905,000 to Camden $1,005,000 to Hudson County, County and $840,000 to Burlington County

The Workshop bill, A-1612, requires the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services to pay the full costs of services provided to severely handicapped persons und-er the state's Extended Employment Program.

"Under the program, private non-profit sheltered workshops contract with the state to provide job training services to eligible clients," noted Crecco. "The workshops have not been fully reimbursed and this bill provides for the full funding they need."

Crecco also noted in 1987, these institutions received about 88 percent funding.

Crecco bill aims at derailing the tunnel

Following up on discussions at last week's flood tunnel meeting in Nutley, Assemblywoman Marion Crecco, R-30th Dist., has filed a bill supporting the home buyout proposal advanced by members of the Passaic River Coalition.

A-3806 calls for the allocation of $102 million to purchase 192 homes in Lincoln Park as the first stage of a plan proposed by the coalition to demolish structures in the flood plain and restore the river banks to a sylvan setting that can serve as recreational areas when the river isn't rampaging. "I am proposing this plan as an alternative to the flood tunnel," cost as much as $1.3 billion and have heavy ongoing maintenance costs for the rest of time. Since the state is committed to paying 25-percent of the tunnel costs or $325 million, I believe we must act immediately to head off this disastrous and ill conceived plan."

She said it was a mistake to build homes and businesses in the flood mplain in the first place and an even bigger mistake to allocate such a huge amount of funds to transfer the floodwaters to the lower river where they will have a potential to wreak havoc.

Mama Ferragamo's Broccoli and Cavatelli

2 heads fresh broccoli 2-3 cloves garlic 1 lb. cavatelli

2 tbsp. olive oil 1/3 cup grated parmesan cheese Salt and pepper to taste

Dice garlic and brown in olive oil. Wash and cut broccoli into approximately 11/2 inch pieces.

Saute al dente in garlic and oil. Do not overcook. Add salt and pepper to taste. Prepare cavatelli according to package directions.

Drain cavatelli and combine immediately with broccoli.

Mix in parmesan cheese.

(This dish is a "must" at any parties at Orechio Publications and there are never any leftovers. Heats up good as new in a microwave. Just add a little butter before heating. Add some Italian bread and feast!)

Drug, alcohol panel at Belleville High

According to Joseph Pariso, director of Alcohol and Drug Education for the Essex County Sheriff's Office, the beginning age of pattern drinking is 12 years.

This startling fact is one that will be considered when a panel addressing the topic, "The Impact of Alcohol and Substance Abuse on Family Life" will convene 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at Belleville High School. 100 Passaic Ave. The presentation is free and open to the public. Planned by the Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, the program will feature Riley Regan, director of N.J. Division on Alcohol, as principal speaker. Joan Whitlow, medical editor for the Star Ledger, will serve as moderator.

ard'the public, as well as profession-als in social work fields. There is hardly a family which has not felt the effects of the use of alcohol or drugs by one of its members, sometimes with devastating results. The presenters will bring a variety of perspectives to the topic, ranging from concerns about elderly to youth experimenting with a number of drugs.

Drug, alcohol panel at Belleville High

According to Joseph Pariso, director of Alcohol and Drug Education for the Essex County Sheriff's Office, the beginning age of pattern drinking is 12 years.

This startling fact is one that will be considered when a panel addressing the topic, "The Impact of Alcohol and Substance Abuse on Family Life" will convene 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Ave. The presentation is free and open to the public. Planned by the Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, the program will feature Riley Regan, director of N.J. Division on Alcohol, as principal speaker. Joan Whitlow, medical editor for the Star Ledger, will serve as moderator.

Belleville Times——15

Belleville Times SPORTS

It's been a part of Belleville sports for well over 40 years, but now the Belleville varsity club is in danger of extinction. According to the clubs current president, Wayne Worley, the varsity club has diminished in membership and interest has gone down a great deal.

"We're down to eight members," Worley said. "Everyone in the club has been the president at one time or another. There's no new blood coming into the club. I wouldn't be surprised if there isn't a varsity club in another year or two. "We'll be around for this season, and hopefully next, but after that, I really don't know. The same group of people puts together the dinners for the fall and spring, sells the programs and sends letters about the various functions. We just don't have that many members left."

The varsity club coordinates the fall sports dinner and the winter and spring sports dinner each season. In addition, they print and sell the programs that are available at Belleville home football games and run the 50-50 raffle that is held at halftime of all Belleville home football games.

Worley mentioned that there are applications for enrollment in the club in the football program. The club also sends letters to prospective members about joining the varsity club.

Worley encourages anyone who is interested in joining the varsity club to contact him through the Belleville High School Athletic Department

FOOTBALL TEAM PLAYS HARD AGAINST MONTCLAIR

The Belleville varsity football team played an outstanding defensive game against Montclair last Friday night. The Bucs gave up two fourth quarter TD's and lost to the Mounties, 14-0. However, the loss didn't diminish the excellent effort put forth by the Belleville players

John Cerza was playing a phenominal game on both sides of the line before he injured his knee and ankle early in the fourth quarter. Without Cerza at linebacker, the Mounties were able to penetrate the Belleville defense and hit paydirt.

John Napolitano left everyone in Municipal Stadium speechless early in the fourth quarter when he was taken off the field in a stretcher and rushed to the hospital with what appeared to be a serious leg injury. Preliminary indications were Napolitano had ruptured, or torn, his calf muscle. He was in obvious pain on the field and the concern for his health was quite evident.

However, Napolitano was back on the field before the end of the game. The calf muscle had popped out of place, but went back into place without any serious damage. Thankfully, Napolitano was a little sore, but he should be okay for this weekend. He played a fine game as a running back and rover back last week.

Cerza's injury is of chief concern to the Belleville coaching staff. The senior linebacker was hobbling on the sidelines in the waning moments of the Montclair game. X Rays taken last weekend revealed no fracture, but a bad sprain can take time to heal.

Head coach John Senesky didn't know if Cerza would be ready for tomorrow nights game with Paramus Catholic. Knowing Cerza's determination, you'll probably see him on the field tomorrow night.

Mike Senesky turned in an outstanding game against Montclair. The senior running back, who stands 5'3" and weighs all of 145 pounds has no fear on the football field. He runs with reckless abandon and was a very difficult target for the Montclair defense. As usual, Andre Graham was the subject of double team blocking. Graham is a force on the defensive line and many teams will try and avoid running the middle when he is at nose guard. When Graham and Cerza are both in the lineup, the Belleville defense is very difficult to penetrate.

You can't say enough about the play of Nick Turano. As a junior, Turano broke his wrist early in the season and saw limited action. He's back at full strength this fall and has performed very well on offense and defense. He made a key tackle that saved a breakaway TD against Montclair and looked good in the offensive backfield.

Steve Tice played well at quarterback for the Bucs last week. The senior had more time to throw the ball and Tice appears to be gaining confidence with the Belleville Wing T offense.

The Bucs are hoping that Gus Leming will be able to return in a few Belleville runners fall more weeks. He has been hobbling the sidelines since arthroscopic knee surgery during the pre season. He hopes to be back by the sixth game of the seaso

Fall to 0-2 Two fourth quarter scores lift Montclair past Bucs, 14-0

Despite a gritty performance, the Belleville football team was defeated by a strong Montclair club, 14-0 at Municipal Stadium. The Mounties tallied two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to snap a scoreless tie.

The Bucs spent this week preparing for Paramus Catholic. The Bucs and Paladins will face off tomorrow night at Belleville in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff. It's the first meeting ever between the two schools in high school football. Paramus Catholic is 1-1, having defeated Eastside on opening day and then losing to the Bengals of Bloomfield last Saturday. Head coach John Senesky was very happy with the effort generated by his young team.

"The kids played very well," he said. "They showed a lot of enthusiasm and fire. I couldn't fault the effort. The final score wasn't indici-tive of the type of game it was." Indeed, the final tally of 14-0 didn't give the Belleville defense the credit it deserved. The Bucs played a solid game, holding the potent Mountie offense scoreless for three quarters and the early stages of the fourth.

However, Belleville lost the services of two starting defensemen, John Napolitano and John Cerza during a Montclair offensive posession in the fourth quarter and the Mounties capatilized.

Napolitano and Cerza went down to leg injuries two plays apart in the fourth quarter and the defen-se wasn't able to continue the surge. Napolitano's injury appeared to be the more serious. He was taken in an ambulance with what appeared to be a torn calf muscle.

The senior roverback was in obvious pain as his calf appeared to be seriously damaged. However, late in the game, Napolitano was back at Municipal Stadium with only a slight limp. The calf muscle popped back into place at the hospital and there was no serious damage.

Cerza, the senior linebacker who anchors the defense along with Andre Graham, suffered a sprained ankle and knee. It isn't known how long he will be out.

"He (Cerza) said if felt better over the weekend," Senesky said. But walking on it and cutting on the football field is two different things. We're hopeful he'll be ready, but I'm not making any predictions of when he'll be back." Although the Belleville offense was held scoreless for the second straight game, there were some positive signs. Quarterback Steven Tice appeared much more confident at the helm. Five of his passes were dropped, negating possible Belleville drives.

"Steve looked much better this time," Senesky said. "He seems more confident. Our blocking schemes were better and we were able to give Steve more time to throw the ball. We started two sophomore tackles (George Wal-lace and Steve Caponi) and both did very well."

Nick Turano turned in an outstanding game on both sides of the ball. On offense, he ran well in the backfield and on defense, he showed tremendous speed. He made a TD saving tackle in the second quarter when a Montclair runner broke into the secondary and appeared to be unstoppable.

"Nick is a very good athlete," Senesky said of Turano. "He did an excellent job in the game, on both offense and defense.

Michael Senesky turned in some outstanding runs out of the Buccaneer backfield. His-longest jaunt of the day was a 32 yarder from the Buc 32 to the Mountie 36 late in the first quarter.

That drive had started at the Belleville 19 after a Mountie punt. Turano gained 13 yards and Senescy broke loose for 32. From the Mountie 36, Napolitano rushed for eight yards to the 28, setting up a second and two. However, a fumble lost two yards and a holding penalty moved the ball back to the Mountie 45.

Belleville was forced to punt and got a break when the Mountie receiver fumbled on his 22. The Bucs recovered on the Montclair 23, but couldn't captatilize on the score.

Tice's pass two plays after the fumble recovery was intercepted by Dhahrah Satterwhite at the Montclair 7

Belleville got no closer than the Mountie 22 yard line the remainder of the game.

With Napolitano and Cerza out with injuries in the fourth quarter, the Mounties finally penetrated the very stubborn Belleville defense. The second tally, in the waning seconds of the game, appeared to be a Belleville break.

The Mounties fumbled at the Belleville 5 and a mad scramble was made for the ball as it rolled into the end zone. A Belleville

'Worley's Wizards' remain undefeated

Belleville volleyball coach Grace Worley predicted that last weeks opponents would give her team a good test. The coach was right. Two of those teams captured a set against the Lady Bucs, but no more, Belleville captured four more matches, winning two in straight sets and two in three sets and boosted its team record to an astounding 10-0.

The Wizards of Worley battled Paramus Catholic last night and will face Nutley tomo-row afternoon in a 4 p.m. start at Belleville High. Next Tuesday, the girls battle Hackensack, at home and next Wednesday, play host to Bloom-field. Both of those matches commence at 4 p.m. While Belleville remained undefeated by beating Immaculate Heart, Paterson Eastside, Paramus and Teaneck last week, its string of straight set victories ended at 13. Belleville lost the second set against Immaculate Heart before rebounding to win the third and the match, 15-5, 8-15 and 15-9.

The girls easily defeated Eastside, 15-5, 15-0, then stopped Paramus in the match of the year thus far, 9-15, 15-7, 15-13. Last Monday, in what had to be an anticlimatic match, Belleville breezed by Teaneck, 15-0, 15-9.

The story of the week was the win against Paramus last Friday. Let's set the stage for this match. Paramus is a state power and with the realignment of the NNJIL this fall, is also a conference rival of Belleville. Worley knew her team had to give a maximum effort if it were to win.

"The kids were up for the match," the coach said. "They gave a super effort against a very good team. We never gave up. We lost t but the second and set up a big third set. The match lasted 90 minutes, third in 16:46, Garauv Nanjia finishwhich is considered lengthy for a ed fifth in 17:22, Brian Doyle was high school volleyball match. eighth with a time of 18:26 and Those who attended saw a first class Diane Di Vincenzo finished 12th battle between two top ranked schools. Paramus Catholic was domi-

As for Paramus Catholic, Senes-

Bengal win that snapped Bloomfield's 40 game winless streak) and they showed a strong defense.

We'll have to establish the passing game if we hope to open it up against them."

Trish Donnelly, Judy Krych, Chris Mc Carthy and Chris Bonacorsa all played outstanding volleyball in rounding out the winning lineup

As a matter of fact, it was Bonacorsa who had the game winning serve in the final set

"It was a beautiful serve," Worley said of Bonacorsa's winner. "It wasn't hit very hard, but she put it exactly where they couldn't hit it."

Versus Immaculate Heart, Belleville was extended to three sets. Worley felt her team could have won in two, but said her team let up on concentration in the second game.

"The Immaculate Heart match was a good prelude to the Paramus match," the coach said. "Playing three games takes a lot out of you. It got us ready for Paramus. It was the first team we had played three sets this season."

Against Teaneck, Worley experimented with different lineup formations and used Denise Lusnia in the varsity attack. Lusnia responded with a good service game and Belleville won in two sets, posting a shutout in the first game.

Last nights game with Paramus Catholic should have been a good test for the Lady Bucs. Volleyball fans will remember that Belleville defeated P.C. in regular season play last fall, then lost to the Paladins in the first round of the state tourney.

"We have some tough ones coming up," Worley said. "We still have to play Paramus at their gym later in the season. My kids are giving a tremendous effort, though. The net play with Simone and Kathy has been excellent and I can't say enough about Laurie's work as a setter. The younger players are coming around and we are continuing to improve." When you're 10-0 and improving, there's no telling how far this team may go. NOTES: Belleville is 3-0 in its division of the NNJIL. Dating back to the third match of the 1987 season, Belleville has a phenominal record of 30-1. The girls started 0-2 last fall, then won 20 straight matches before losing to Paramus Catholic in the states. Worley expects a tough match with Bloomfield. The Lady Bengals defeated Paramus Catholic last week. Earlier in the season, Belleville defeated Bloomfield in straight sets.

WORLEY'S WIZARDS ROLLING ALONG

What more can you say about the Belleville volleyball team? Grace Worley's club was 10-0 entering the week. Last week, the girls won a huge game when it defeated Paramus in three sets at Belleville High. Paramus is one of the states best clubs and is a chief rival to Belleville for conference supremecy. In addition to Belleville's 10-0 mark this season, the Lady Bucs have won 30 of its last 31 matches, dating back to the third game of the 1987 season. That's an amazing statistic. What makes this years mark even more incredible is Belleville's lack of experience.

The girls have three outstanding athletes in Simone Edwards, Laurie Dondarski and Kathy Eng. All three girls have been a part of the varsity program for a number of years.

However, the team lost three starters to graduation last spring and Worley is working with youngsters who are playing varsity ball for the first time. First year players like Judy Krych, Trish Donnelly, Chris Bonacorsa and Chris Mc Carthy have more than responded to the challenge of the 1988 season.

Good luck to Coach Worley and her crew as they continue to meet the tough opponents in the NNJIL.

LAST WEEKS OUIZ

The two players who hit homers for the Boston Red Sox in game five of the '86 playoffs against California were Jim Rice and Dave Henderson Rice's homer came with Spike Owen on base and Henderson's shot came with Rich Gedman on first base.

FOR THIS WEEK

With Jim Plunkett now retired, there are only two Heisman Trophy winners from the 1970's who are still active NFL players. Who are the two players and which schools did they play for when they won the Heisman. Also, which NFL teams originally drafted these players.

BASEBALL PLAYOFFS

Since I predicted the Tigers and Dodgers in the World Series back in June, I'll alter that somewhat and say the Dodgers will still upset the Mets while Oakland should take care of Boston, setting up an all west coast series. Of course, the way I'm going, you'll probably see a rematch of the '86 series between the Sox and Mets. Either way, both series should provide plenty of excitement. The Mets and A's appear to be the best teams on paper, but in a short series, anything can happen. Stay tuned.

short against Nutley

They've been racing each other for as long as people can remember. Belleville and Nutley maintain a close knit cross country rivalry, similar to the intensity the two towns have in other high school varsity sports. Nutley has dominated the rivalry over the past 23 years, with Belleville last winning in 1965. Last week, the teams met again, and although Nutley won, Belleville served notice that it was ready to battle.

The Raiders beat the Bucs, 27-30 at Nutley Park in a tri meet. Paramus Catholic dominated the race, shutting out the Bucs, 15-50. Belleville and Nutley both race at Nutley Park, but the two schools use a different course in the park as their "home" course. Last weeks race as a Nutley home race

Belleville battled Hackensack last Tuesday and will face Bergen Catholic next Tuesday in a 4 p.m. start at home.

Belleville started the 1988 campaign on a down note. The Bucs were forced to forfeit its opening tri meet of the season because the team didn't have enough runners. Thus, the Nutley meet was important because Belleville had a starting five and the team could prove itself on the cinders.

Paul Parmenter of Belleville was second in the Nutley race, with a time of 16:29. John Matos finished

"Many of the coaches and fans who saw the match said it was one of the best they've ever seen," Worley said. "I couldn't argue with them too much."

The team was led by the senior contingent of Simone Edwards, Laurie Dondarski and Kathy Eng. Edwards showed her usual outstanding hitting ability at the net. Dondarski was the setter who kept the offense in gear and Eng played a solid offensive game. Meanwhile, Worley was rotating her younger players, using them in

Morriello running for Stevens

Freshman Greg Morriello, of Belleville, helped Stevens Institute of Technology Cross Country finish 11th out of 20 teams at the Kings Invitational held September 24.

"We placed higher than last year and our five man average time was also faster," related Head Coach Al Alonso. As expected, Mike Tamkutonis, a junior, set the pace for the Ducks with a 28:32 clocking, 22nd overall. Morriello came in second for Stevens, being clocked at 30:33. Seniors Mike Brigante and Jorge Rivera placed third and fourth, respectively and Cliff Smyth, a freshman, wound up fifth.

"Our goal was to get all our runners under 35 minutes. We accomplished that," explained Alonso. "Hopefully, our good start will bring better things.

About Morriello, Alonso said, "Greg has shown good strength and speed in our mile runs. He'll be one of our best runners."

Sheriff's school programs

With the beginning of the school year teams og specially trained officers from Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio's office are back presenting a series of educational programs in classrooms and for parent-teacher groups.

Programs currently available include drug and alcohol abuse prevention, prevention of child abuse, prevention of sexual assault, safety rules for latchkey children and crime prevention techniques.

An addition to the schedule this year, D'Alessio said, is a presentation on the dangers of Acquired immune Deficiency Syndrome, which is presented by registered nurses. Like all the other programs, it is prepared for varying age groups, and makes use of films and other visual aids.

"We also have a supply of sturdy, plastic coated book covers for distribution to students, emphasizing the 'Just say No To Drugs' message," D'Alessio said.

According to Dr. Franklyn Gerard, director of Cardiovascular Surgery and Vascular Laser Surgery at Clara Maass, in selected cases vascular laser surgery can replace bypass procedures currently performed to treat blocked arteries. In some cases, the only incision required is needle penetration. As a result, hospital stays are greatly

In the uneven parallel bars, Veltre scored a 5.7 and senior Georgina Marano saw her first varsity action of the season.

Zelna finished second in the balance beam, 6.15 and Lemon-gello scored a 5.25 in the event. Veltre led the way for Belleville in the floor exercise, tallying a 7.1

and finishing second in the event. Freshman Denise Wujciak scored a 5.2 in the floor exercise, a very good score for a first time varsity performance.

The match with Bloomfield next Tuesday is for the annual Belleville-Bloomfield gymnastics trophy, awarded to the winner of the match. Belleville is hoping to keep the trophy in the Belleville High showcase for another season.

Altgelt makes Dean's List

Junior psychology major Joan H. Altgelt, daughter of Mrs. Joan Altgelt of Belleville, was named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at The King's College, Briarcliff Manor, New York.

The King's College is an accredited four year denomination-ally unrelated Christian liberal arts college and offers a curriculum leading to the bachelors degree in over 20 areas of concentration and a two-year degree in pre-dental, pre-nursing, and pre-therapy. Students are enrolled from 28 states, 36 foreign countries and 35 religious affiliations. Dr. Friedhelm Radandt is the president of the institution which was founded in 1938.

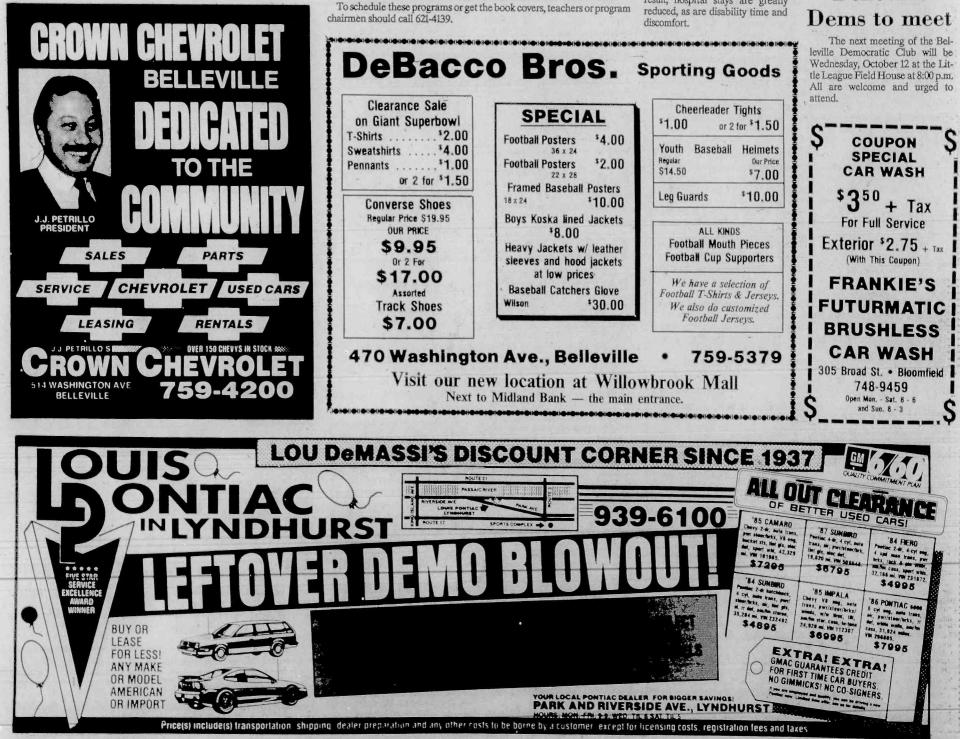

The vascular laser team at Clara Maass consists of Dr. Gerard, Dr. James A. Heimann, invasive radiologist and Associate Director of Radiology, and Dr. Mark Forman, thoracic cardiovascular surgeon.

Those who are interested in learning more about the procedure are advised to discuss it with their physician.

Where is the concern?

To the Editor:

I recently attended the Concerned Citizens of Nutley Flood Tunnel meeting and returned home quite disturbed. Bloomfield's mayor spoke, Nutley's mayor spoke as did the mayors of Lyndhurst, Clifton and North Arlington. Where was our mayor? Where were commissioners McGreevy and Risoli?

I was under the impression when people were elected to public office they were to work for the betterment of that town. Thank goodness for commissioners Frantantoni and Fornarotto. They both spoke about the devastating pro-blems this tunnel would create for Belleville. These two com-missioners were also at the Rutherford Flood Tunnel meeting. Again a no show for the Mayor and our two other commissioners

When something of this importance is scheduled, every one should have attended. This tunnel is something Belleville does not want. All elected officials should have been there to express this. A lot of people at this meeting asked where was Belleville's mayor? I would also like to ask where was our mayor for these two important meetings? Thank you, commissioners Frantantoni and Fornarotto. You really care about Belleville all the time, not just at election time. Joan Current

P.S. Where were all the people who are interested in changing our form of government for the supposedly betterment of Belleville?

A path of oblivion

To the Editor:

I read Mr. Canning's letter in the week of September 29, 1988 and it seems to me all he wants to do is keep the town on a path to oblivion.

As for a change of government, in his letter he states former town officials, former commissioners, former and present board of ducation members, planning and zoning officials, etc. If Mr. Canning is so sure of these people, why doesn't he state who they are? He's like a present day commissioner who states the former Mayor was a crook but never backs it up with hard facts. Mr. Canning talks about incompetence in the last two decades. How about just in the last seventeen months? Weren't you a Frantantoni supporter? Weren't you appointed to the zoning board by Frantantoni and "Slash Taxes" Risoli?

In fact, aren't you a Republican District Leader in which Mr. Risoli is the so-called chairman? Didn't Commissioner Frantantoni hire Marc Dante in his department for $18,000-$22,000 and just now call for the test for that job?

Didn't Commissioner Frantantoni hire Mr. Scaprotto as a part-time clerk at $6,500.00? Didn't they both work on Frantantoni's campaign?

Also, you say this change of government will cost $70,000-$90,000 for the election. Can you please prove this?

When you call a commissioner most of the time their famous words are "It's not my department."

Mr. Canning, you are right in one respect. Government is only as good as the people we elect and these five stink. I support the change and I think a lot of Belleville people will too. Raymond Barretto

King telecast perfect

To the Editor:

FOX TV's Channel Five should be commended for telecasting the movie "King of Kings," just eight weeks prior to the Presidential Election.

Channel Five's story of Jesus could very well cause thinking Christian viewers to ignore the deceitful rhetoric, being bandied about in this Presidential campaign; and allow themselves instead to be influenced by the truths found in the teaching of that - "King of Kings.

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M. GETTING THE MESSAGE ACROSS

One of the more pleasant aspects of a wisit to the podiatrist that may be over-looked is the foot massage. At the very least, a foot massage leaves the patient feeling relaxed and wonderful. At most podiatrists recognize that foot massage stimulates circulation, eases tense muscles, and soothes ligaments and tendons. In fact, an entire system of foot-zone therapy, called reflexology, is bas-ed on the premise that zones at the bot-tom of the foot correspond to various organs of the entire body. Reflexology holds that, by rubbing the appropriate "reflex points" on the feet, a stimulative effect can be sent via the nerves to particular areas of the body. Whether one agrees with the precepts of fellexology or not, nearly everyone agrees in the benefits of foot massage.

Agrees in the benefits of 1001 massage. Your feet deserve a standing ovation for all the work they do. In a lifetime, they carry the average person 70,000 miles. Because 4 out of 5 adults even-tually suffer foot problems of one kind or another, your podiatrist can be your feet's best friend. For a consultation with a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. My offices, in-cluding X-ray facilities, are nearby at cluding X-ray facilities, are nearby at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Hours by appt. Most medical plans accepted.

HINT: Patients suffering from from foot massage as it may dislodge a blood clot

Natural Gas... The Modern Alternative

Times change. Lifestyles change. Products and services change. Something better always comes along. That's life.

Just as oil came along years ago to replace coal as a home-heating fuel, natural gas-with its lower cost and higher efficiency-is now replacing oil. In one year alone, 30,000 PSE&G customers converted from oil to gas heat.

No doubt about it. Oil heat is going the way of the dinosaur. And for basically the same reason: a changing environment. Natural gas is the modern fuel that fits into our modern way of life. That's why it's the nation's No. 1 home heating fuel. It's clean. It's convenient. And it's dependable. Did you ever hear of any homeowner running out of gas?

If your oil heating system is old, convert to gas heat before it starts to break down. You may be surprised at how little it may cost. And the money you save with economical gas heat will eventually pay for the conversion.

Send for our free literature that tells you how to convert quickly and easily. Or if you don't want to chance being the last one on your block to convert to gas heat, skip the coupon. Call 1-800-223-0509, Ext. 990.

FRANKLIN BUILDING CORP.

A. Under Clifton rent control and lending laws, you are well protected. The landlord cannot raise your rent arbitrarily. He may raise it at the expiration of a period not less than 12 consecutive calendar months following the effective date of the last previous rental increase. The increase shall not exceed 75% of the percentage difference between the consumer price index in effect for the 3rd month next preceding the month during which the rental increase is to take place, referred to as the base month, and the consumer price index in effect 1 year prior to said base month. Simply put, this has been averaging 4% and may not exceed 5% increase.

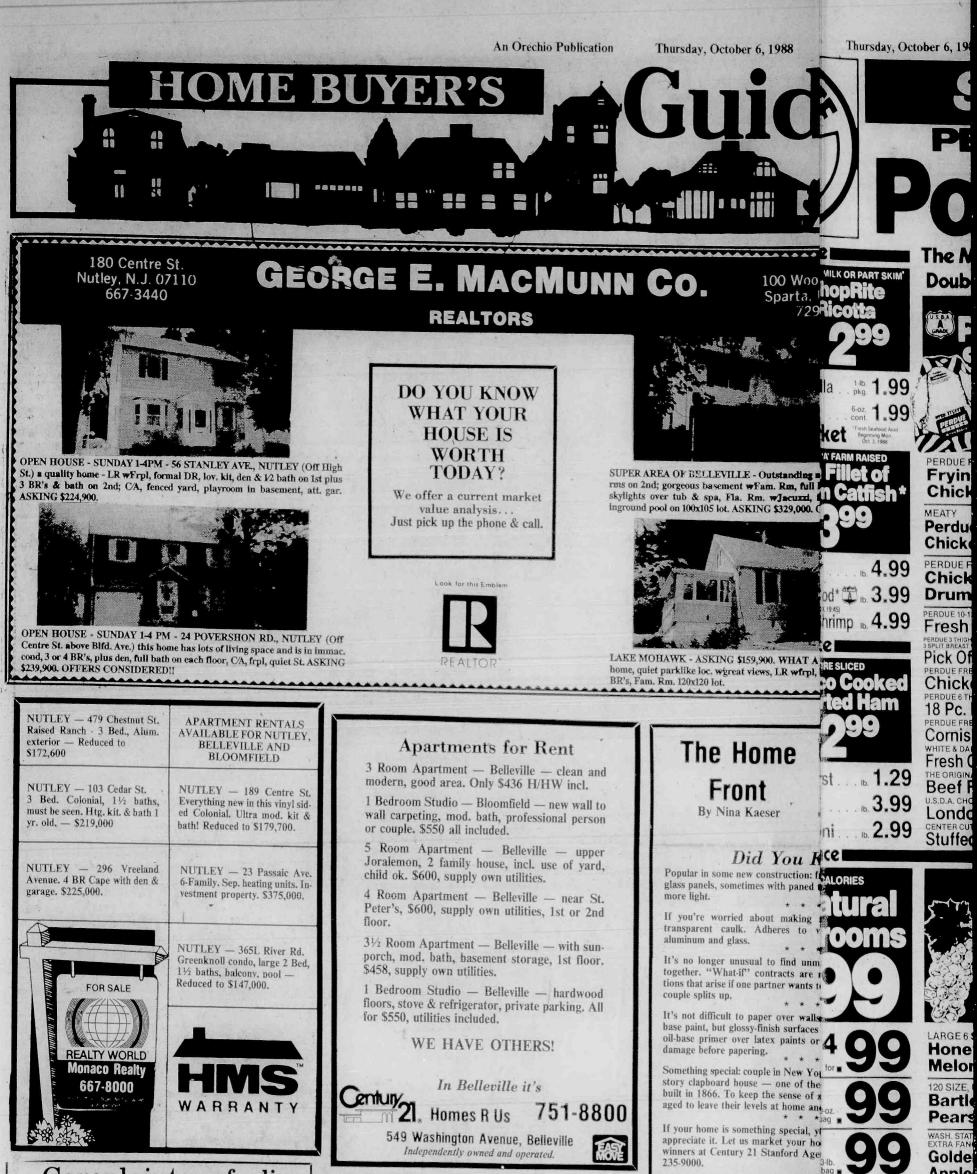

As for a "hardship" rental increase, this is very difficult. The law states that you may apply for such an increase only if operating expenses exceed 60% of the total gross rents. Mortgage expense is not allowed. It would be rare that a building would fall into such a category. I will send you a copy of the Clifton Rent Control Ordinance.

Q. If I purchase a Four Family home in Clifton, is it true that I can not get one apartment vacant for myself at closing?

A. That's correct. In Clifton, rent control applies to buildings of 4 families and over. If this Four Family home is completely occupied, the tenants, regardless of whether they are on a month to month or lease tenancies, do not have to vacate just because the new owner wants to reside in one of the units. For more information on Clifton Rent Control Laws, contact the Rent Leveling Board, Mondays between 4 and 6 p.m. at Clifton City Hall or call 470-5818.

(Some of the questions may contain legal or accounting matters. Mr. Farese is not an attorney and advises you to consult the proper authority before any decision is made.)
