Belleville goes Bush, Lautenberg, D'Alessio

OUT TO VOTE — Lori Vaccaro leaves voting booth at School 10 after casting her votes for candidates in Tuesday's election. (Photo by Pat Brightman)

A high voter turnout in Belleville registered victories for George Bush, Frank Lautenberg, Robert Roe and Thomas D'Alessio according to election returns as of Tuesday evening.

In the presidential campaign, Bellevillites turned to Republican George Bush for leadership by a 7,298-4,673 margin over Michael Dukakis. The 11,971 votes registered for the election was from 16,799 registered voters in town.

Incumbent United States Senator Frank Lautenberg held off the challenge of GOP candidate Pete Dawkins in Belleville by 801 votes, 6,025-5,324. Democrat Robert Roe ran unopposed for the Congressional seat, receiving 4,540 votes. For Essex County Sheriff, incumbent Thomas D'Alessio easily defeated challenger Charles Cefalu, 7,027-3,853.

Apparently, there was a problem with voter registration throughout the county, including Belleville, and disgruntled potential voters were forced to go to the Essex County Hall of Records in Newark.

Questions approved

Six questions were up for public vote and all were approved fairly easily in Belleville.

The first question, "Jobs, Education and Competitiveness Bond Issue," was approved 2,365-1,215. Passage of this act would allow sale of $350 million in State general obligation bonds to be used to construct, reconstruct, develop, improve and equip school facilities.

"Filling Vacancies in the Legislature" passed in town, 2,271-1,222. This will allow members of the county committee of the political party of which incumbent was a member to choose a successor within 35 days.

Question three, "Allowing

Thomas D'Alessio

Deduction and Senior or Disabled Citizens Deductions to any Eligible Shareholder of a Cooperative or Mutual Housing Corporation," was approved 2,574-983. This will allow those who qualify a property tax deduction.

A Constitutional amendment creating a submission of statewide public questions at least 70 days following final action and be published in newspapers at least 60 days prior to the election was approved in Belleville 2,545-838.

The question asking if the Essex County Executive and Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders should actively encourage the State Legislature to enact legislation which would establish a uniform averaged rate for solid waste removal among all counties in certain regional areas was also approved by local voters, 2,642-665.

By a count of 2,115-756, the voters approved the question, "Should the State of New Jersey assume the full cost of the operation of the Superior Court system in Essex County?"

The final question, which asked if the State should provide funds needed to carry out all new or expanded programs that the State requires and local property taxes could not be raised for these new or expanded programs was approved

Planning Board approves ambulatory care project

By Pat Brightman

An ambulatory care building, with a two-deck parking garage for Clara Maass Medical Center was approved by the Belleville Planning Board at a meeting last week.

The vote was 6-0 providing the hospital met conditions set by the board including speed limit and pedestrian crossing signs, specific employee and doctor parking lots, and the parking deck not be built until the parking area being constructed for the Continuing Care project being done presently is completed.

The Planners had rejected the first proposal with a 3-3 vote for these additions on May 12 because of parking. The new application added parking which satisfied the board.

John Kish, one of two architects to testify for Clara Maass, said the present area, a large, flat, asphalt lot, is "fairly inefficient." A 4.5 percent increase in lot coverage, or an additional 28,570 square feet, is going to be added with the addition.

"We're very happy with the way the aesthetics came out," said Kish. He also said added shrubbery and grass would be at the site which would create less runoff for the storm and sewage systems.

The second architect, Jerry Spencer, concurred with Kish regarding less probability of flooding by saying an additional trench drain will be installed at the low point of the property. Spencer said the key plus for the project was the lot coverage. "It's totally consistent with the use. It's an improvement (to the present site)."

Drainage a concern

Board Member Chris Albanese questioned the drainage plans, fearing the existing flooding problem in that area of town would become worse. "I know the (flooding) problem is not their (Clara Maass's) fault, it's been there since before they came, but I hope it just doesn't make it worse."

Spencer reiterated the additional holding basin which will be installed and said the problem may be improved because of the basin and more green area.

Parking was also a major concern of the board, both once the project was completed and during construction. Spencer said there would be an improvement in the existing parking plan and there will be less demand because the School of Nursing has moved from the complex.

"Absolutely," he replied when asked if there were enough parking spaces.

Traffic expert Joseph Staigar said while 146 spaces will be added to the Franklin Avenue area there is only an overall increase of 26 spaces because the lot is to be rearranged and less cars will be at the rear of the complex.

"The Sanford Avenue location is access for residents primarily and secondary for Clara Maass," he said. "There will be better service for an existing entity, so there will be a zero increase (in traffic). The net effect is there will be additional parking provided for a present demand."

Nothing is certain

Albanese said everything "sounds nice on paper" but no one is certain what will happen. Robert Gaccione, attorney for Clara Maass, said Staigar has various expertise in these situations.

"All the numbers seem to jive but it will be broken up during the construction," added Board Chairman Joseph Doyle. "Any disruption could be a problem."

Doyle also expressed concern over the fact that for the four to six months when there will be construction of both the Ambulatory Center

Linfante steps down from Board of Ed

A drug education curriculum was approved by the Belleville Board of Education at its meeting Monday night, a meeting which was the last for five-year trustee Felix Linfante.

The board also heard presentations on the Vocational Advisory Committee and the need for an athletic trainer.

In a letter Linfante sent to Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, he stated it was with mixed emotions that he tender his resignation. He gave the board his best wishes and stated the board will continue to give the best educational possible.

Linfante said he had a prepared statement but didn't think he could make it through without showing too much emotion. "Even though my residency will change Belleville is the place I will always call my home."

"I feel comfortable because the system is better today than five years ago," he continued. "I have a quick message, let's start talking about the positive things that happen in Belleville schools."

Linfante then thanked every-

one involved in the school system, from Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello through the administration down to the teachers and students. He also thanked the people who voted for him, his family members and fellow board members.

Board members expressed their mixed emotions over Linfante's leaving, saying he will be

Sun shines brightly on Veterans Day Parade

As bleak as it appeared Saturday, as winds gusted and rain poured down, Sunday turned out to be a beautiful day for the Veteran's Day Parade down Washington Avenue.

And just as the sun's rays can beaming down on those watching the parade and participating in it, the parade was a ray of hope to the POWs and MIAs for which the parade was in honor.

The theme was brought home by the black flag with white POW/MIA lettering which flies in front of Belleville Town Hall and the similar flags carried by parade walkers. Some participants even had jackets symbolizing those who fought for our country but whose whereabouts are unknown.

"It's very important that we remember them for their sacrifice in combat," stated Grand Marshall

Raymond Pizzano. "They can have some solace if the fact that the country didn't forget them. And their families can take pride and honor in them and how they fought."

Pizzano was named Grand Marshall because of his service in Vietnam, a 10 month-duty which resulted in Pizzano getting shot in the back and shrapnel in his hand. After 20 years, and a tremendous effort of his family and State Senator Carmen Orechio and United States Congressman Robert Roe, Pizzano received 10 service medals, including a Purple Heart. The medals presentation was held in September.

"It's definitely an honor to be named Grand Marshall," confessed Pizzano. "I'm taking a little bit at a time so I can enjoy it."

With that, Pizzano took his spot leading the parade down the approximate mile trek down Washington Avenue, from the Belleville American Legion Post 105 Hall to Belleville Town Hall.

"It was very good, one of the best we've ever had," commented Parade Chairman Nicholas Raimo after the festivities had been completed. Raimo was also quite pleased with the crowd turnout, saying it was one of the largest ever for a Veteran's Day Parade.

It was almost a perfect day, a day everyone seemed to be proud of and pleased with. The memory of the parade should linger for some time. Hopefully, the memory of the POWs/MIAs also will linger on.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

An attempted suicide was thwarted by Belleville Police November 6 when headquarters received a phone call and two officers disarmed the victim.

After receiving the anonymous call, Officers Arthur Connolly and Craig Mack responded to the scene. The front door was locked, leaving the two no other alternative but to kick it in. Connolly and Mack discovered the victim in the bathroom but that door was being held closed by the victim. The two eventually forced the door open only to be threatened by the victim with a razor blade. Connolly and Mack talked to the victim and when the opportunity presented itself, disarmed the victim.

The victim was transported to Clara Maass Medical Center for treatment because she had slashed her right wrist prior to the arrival of Connolly and Mack. The injury is not considered serious.

A man was thrown to the sidewalk and robbed while walking on William Street October 30. The man had parked his car on William Street and was walking towards Washington Avenue when a male, described as white, in his 20s, between 6'0"-6'3" and about 200 pounds, with blonde curly hair, threw the victim to the ground and said he would smash his head if he did not give the suspect all his money. The suspect took $25.

On October 31 a burglary in an apartment on Davidson Street was thwarted when the suspect saw the occupant of the apartment. The occupant heard the noise made by the suspect and when she investigated the suspect fled. The suspect was described as a white male, between the ages of 25-30 with a mustache and brown shoulder-length hair. He was wearing a brown jacket and dark pants.

The Tactical Narcotics Team (TNT) arrested a 20 year-old and charged him with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) October 31.

The squad observed a car speeding southbound on Washington Avenue, eventually forcing the driver to pull the car over on the corner of Floyd Street and Overlook Avenue. At that time the squad searched the car and driver, John Missaggi, and discovered marijuana.

A juvenile was arrested and charged with possession of CDS and possession of drug paraphernalia October 31 when he was stopped and questioned by police.

Officers Jack Hood and Nick Krentz were detailed to the Jorammon Street and Passaic Avenue area on a call of property damage. They located a 17 year-old who fit the description given of the vandal. The officers stopped the juvenile, questioned and searched him. During the search they discovered a white powder, believed to be cocaine.

On October 30, police arrested a 32 year-old Belleville man for outstanding warrants. James Cox was stopped at the Washington Avenue Pathmark and was arrested for failing to appear in Belleville and Nutley courts. He was fined $200 by Belleville and $100 by Nutley.

On October 30 it was reported that the rear window of a 1982 Nissan was smashed while parked on Essex Street. The value of replacing the window was unknown.

Alternate side parking

Effective November 14, 1988, the Police Department of the Township of Belleville will resume enforcement of the alternate side of the street parking ordinance.

Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli, asks residents to obey the signs posted, so the public works crews can clear the streets of leaves and snow.

Alternate side of the street parking will be in effect until further notice.

ADDICTIVE DISCUSSION — Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley sponsored a program on alcohol and drug abuse held October 27 at Belleville High School. Pictured are, left to right: Riley Regan, director of N.J. Division on Alcohol; Joan Whitlow, medical editor, Star-Ledger; Joyce Love, director, National Council on Alcoholism in N.J., Newark office; Michael C., a recovering alcoholic; Patty Luo Boff, director of Safe House. Italian-American dinner

The Belleville Italian-American Civic Association will be holding its 22nd anniversary dinner Saturday evening at the Wayne Manor, Route 23, Wayne.

Approximately 300 people are expected to attend the dinner, which will honor long-time Congressional Aide Joseph Pouzo, Channel 2 "Troubleshooter" Roseann Coletti and 20 members of the association. Also, Mario Lemongello, this year's recipient of the association's scholarship award, will also be honored.

Music will be provided by Charles Anthony and Orchestra featuring Marty De Rose.

Borgo receives scholarship

The Berkeley School of Garrett Mountain in West Paterson has announced it will match a $1,000 scholarship awarded to Jennifer Borgo of Belleville by the Elks National Foundation.

The matching grants are part of a $2 million package of direct tuition aid which Berkeley annually makes available to its incoming students. Other scholarships include Achievement Awards in the amount of $300 per quarter to students in the top ten percent of their high school graduating classes or those graduated with a 3.2 average; Access Grants available to students 23 years or older, the Alyea M. Brick/Mary Frances Melcher Cobb Scholarship named in memory of Berkeley's founder and an early Berkeley instructor respectively, and the Berkeley Men's Club scholarships available to qualified male students.

Borgo, a graduate of Belleville High School, began her studies in July. She is enrolled in Berkeley's business administration program, which leads to an Associate in Applied Science degree.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Coming down to the wire in the Nov. 8 Presidential election there are many daunting issues on the home front to put the lie to the idea that this is an issueless election for the voters with the budget deficit only the most obvious concern. Without the deficit the next President will have to spend a lot more energy and money to keep radiation and toxic wastes out of the water supply and he will spend more than time to control medical costs.

The candidates may not want to talk about the real issues, however, that doesn't mean voters shouldn't think about them. We should consider the new Chief Executive agonizing over the impossible test of reducing the deficit without raising taxes or cutting promised new programs. He will get messages from his cabinet secretaries like "much worse than we thought," "urgent action needed," "or — worst of all — "will require extra billions to avert extra billions to avert crisis this fiscal year."

No matter who wins, Bush won't have the money for Star Wars, nor Dukakis for his conventional arms initiative. There's not enough money for weapons already in the Pentagon pipeline, charged on the installment plan as part of the $2 trillion Reagan buildup. After the splurge, Casper Weinberger budgeted for 3 percent real annual growth in defense spending. But Congress promises to do more than keep pace with inflation, or zero real growth. That could mean no START treaty with the Soviets, because the Joint Chiefs of Staff almost certainly won't agree to a treaty without more nuclear-force modernization. In other words, if the new President kills new weapon systems, he may also kill arms control. If he doesn't kill them, the Pentagon over the next five years may be some $200 billion short of what it needs to fund programs already in the pipeline. And where will that come from? Can we remain defense-less?

Leaking nukes: The secretary of energy will tell the President that $100 billion will be needed to modernize the Department of Energy (DOE) facilities that produce plutonium used in nuclear weapons. Problems at Hanford, Wash. (where radioactive ground water is leaking into the Columbia River), and Savannah River, S.C. are known, but they scratch the surface. There are 50 nuclear facilities in the DOE complex, many of them 40 years old, and more than half will be closed or fixed in the next few years. At least $20 billion is required almost immediately just to avoid safety and production problems. According to the General Accounting Office (GAO), the department has often disposed of hazardous nuclear waste "in a manner that allowed it to enter the environment."

The bailout of 500 insolvent savings and loan banks could cost as much as $100 billion; it will soon be the largest corporate bailout ever (more than Chrysler, Lockheed and New York City combined). Medicare is now the fastest growing segment of the budget. It will grow from $78 billion to $143 billion in 1993, surpassing social security by the year 2000. NASA says its proposed space station will cost $16 million, but outside experts put the cost at twice that. By 1992 the number of AIDS cases may increase fivefold to 365,000, with many patients living longer. Some estimates put the cost as high as $8 billion. The Third World Debt Bomb is still ticking. Fifteen nations, led by Mexico, owe an impossible $400 billion worldwide, including $90 billion or so to the 20 largest American banks, many of which will go broke (and require a massive bailout) if they don't get some of the money back. The Federal Aviation Administration's air-traffic system needs a major overhaul. Estimates are this will cost $24 billion by the year 2000, making it the largest civilian technology project since the Apollo space program.

This awesome heritage of the Ronald Reagan's two terms in office has left to the next President and the American people, offers food for thought as to whom thinking voters should consider voting for in the Nov. 8th election. The man (Reagan) who came to Washington to dismantle the edifice of the welfare state seems instead to have cleared the way for construction of a second story.

Into The Mouths of Babies
So-called "flavored" medications may be just as hard to feed to a child as the unflavored types. It is the recommendation of many physicians that a parent should not lie to a youngster, pretending that the medicine tastes good when it does not. By using such subterfuges, a parent may get the first dose into the child, but he certainly will not get another dose in, no matter what! Instead, a parent should explain that the stuff may not be the best tasting in the world, but it is medicine and it will make him feel better soon. Many parents find that offering a small treat after the dosing will take away the bad taste. Such honesty is usually rewarded by the child having more faith in his parent, and in the medication.

We offer full prescription service at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Walkers, wheel chairs, crutches, canes, and other convalescent aids are sold or rented. 'Cherry Blossom Sunday' is discussed by committee

A potential blockbuster event was discussed by the Belleville 150th Anniversary Committee at its monthly meeting last week at the Belleville Public Library.

The event, a "Cherry Blossom Sunday," was a culmination of ideas, as Committee Chairman David Bryant and Mayor Michael Pizzi thought a somewhat spectacular event was needed. Bryant described the day-long extravaganza as the "the biggy" that the committee has been looking for to enhance the year long celebration.

Bryant conceded other events, such as the dinner and ceremonies at the Dutch Reformed Church, were special events but thought the spring celebration of cherry blossoms could involve everyone in town.

The day will be a montage of art, music, performances, costumes, and food. It will also include the crowning of the Miss Cherry Blossom Queen and possibly antique cars. It will be held at Branch Brook Park.

Area artists will be encouraged to display their work, with local musicians performing to add atmosphere to the park. People will be urged to dress in earlier styles, to give an "Olde Belleville" look to the day. Dancers, jugglers, magicians, a mimists may also be entertaining onlookers throughout the day.

Printer's proofs of the memorial calendar were available for viewing at the meeting. The calendars, which have pictures of Belleville throughout the 150 years of existence, will be available November 15 for $3. Bryant mentioned the support 12 local businesses gave by advertising in the calendar which made it a reality. "It should be an easy item to sell," suggested Bryant. Eight hundred eighty calendars will be printed.

Belleville
150th

"Personally, I'm very proud of it. It's something the entire committee should be proud of," said Bryant.

Available for sale immediately are American Flags, which can be purchased for $10. American Legion Post 105, on Washington Avenue, will be selling the flags as long as they are available.

Honorary Co-Chairman and Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni said the 10,000 tulip bulbs will arrive either November 11 or 12 and plantings will begin as soon as possible. Frantantoni said there are quite a few sites for planting and anyone interested in volunteering can contact the Parks office. He also said if the planting is done successfully, the bulbs will bloom year after year. "We'll have the town blooming every year," he said.

Barbara Spillane said a book on the history of Belleville "is in the works." She hopes to have the manuscripts completed by next month and then apply for a grant for the cost of printing. Spillane said it is a long process and did not expect the books to be ready until the latter half of next year.

The book will be used in Belleville schools and available to the public.

The $100 a plate, black tie optional dinner to be held on January 28 at the Chandelier. The dinner will have a live band and a guest speaker, possibly a member of the Giants football team or U.S. Senator Bill Bradley.

A breakfast for early February at the Chandelier is also in the planning stage.

OUR OPINION

The Difference

I got up early one morning and rushed right into the day;
I had so much to accomplish that I didn't have time to pray.

Problems just tumbled about me,
and heavier came each task.
Why doesn't God help me? I wondered.
He answered, "You didn't ask."

I wanted to see joy and beauty,
but the day toiled on, gray and bleak;
I wondered why God didn't show me.
He said, "But you didn't seek."

I tried to come into God's presence;
I used all my keys at the lock.
God gently and lovingly chided,
"My child, you didn't knock."

I woke up early this morning and paused before entering the day;
I had so much to accomplish that I had to take time to pray.

Garbage relief in sight?

The ugly smell of garbage has hit the air once again only this time it appears it may be a somewhat sweet aroma, an aroma in the form of funding to aid communities having difficulties with the ever increasing disposal costs.

Belleville's trash situation has been well documented, paying close to $900,000 this year for removal, a cost so astronomical the town has done more than simply discuss the feasibility of hauling its own garbage. In fact, forms have been filed by the town to Essex County Community Development for funding so the town can purchase trucks and employees for garbage removal. That appears to be approximately two years away because of the contract with Haulaway and the bid process for trucks. But on the immediate horizon appears a ray of hope; a bill in which $100 million would be provided and distributed based on population to every municipality in New Jersey. Using this equation, Belleville would receive $477,052.

The legislation, sponsored by Senate President John Russo, was vetoed by Governor Tom Kean but late last month the Senate voted to override the veto. The bill is now pending in the Assembly and 54 votes are needed to enact the law without Kean's approval.

Russo has stated the State has a projected $165 million surplus and $248 million "Rainy Day Fund" that could be used to finance the first year of the garbage rate shock program. We can not think of a more intelligent way to spend the surplus money, though stronger enforcement of the shoreline to ensure clean, safe beaches runs a close second. The increase in taxes, mostly due because of garbage costs, has been felt, and felt hard by everyone. A board of commissioners meeting, or for that matter, any town meeting does not go by without someone commenting on the skyrocketing increases in taxes and how it is becoming increasingly more difficult to live on a fixed income.

This appears to be a solution to the garbage problem. Of course, it is not the cure-all solution, since the State will not have a surplus for eternity, but it is a way to relieve tax payers of the crunch for the time being.

Up in smoke?

It is that time of year again. When leaves come down and cars go up. Up in flames because people park on curbside leaf piles. The incidents are already occurring, reports of cars going up in flames because the catalytic convertor is red-hot, and after the car is parked, the convertor is literally in the pile of often times dry leaves, easy to burn leaves that will erupt into flames in the matter of seconds.

Even more tragic than the loss of the automobile is the possible loss of the driver and passengers of the car, who unknowingly are in a type of "deathmobile" in which they may never get out. Everyone should be cautious of the situation, and steer clear of parking on, or near, leaf piles. We realize the parking situation in Belleville is poor to begin with, but the safety of yourself and any who drives with you is worth an extra half-block or block of walking. The feeling of safety should ease the extra steps taken.

A watered down heart

To the editor:

When is the town of Belleville and the Zoning Board going to come out of the dark ages (?) by allowing inground swimming pools on small lots along side of other people's houses so the water gets into people's hearts and causes heart attacks for which an operation has to be performed, if caught in time to take the water out of their heart. Lots of people who have breathing problems and these heart attacks and possible strokes ruin their health and they have to take medication all of their lives. These zoning boards should be abolished if they are not out to improve the quality of people's lives. It is money thrown down the drain and they do more damage than good if they destroy people's lives and homes.

N.J. is surrounded by water, the ocean, lakes galore, public swimming places, YWCA, YMCA, Sutan Lake, Greenwood Lake, and many other lakes. On the west side we have the Delaware River. In our town alone we have the 2nd river, 3rd river. A pool could be made on the Walter Kidde property and an amusement park, as there aren't any houses too close, for adults and children. We need a place to keep the kids out of trouble and off the streets. At the high school at the corner of Passaic Ave. and Division Ave., in Belleville Park by the golf links, and the end of Chestnut St. near Franklin Ave. There is no need for pools on tiny pieces of property and it should not be allowed to destroy other people's health. Which is more important people's lives or pools. God made people but he did not make pools.

Expresses appreciation

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude for the wonderful show of support that was given to me last Friday evening at the Chandelier in Belleville, where a testimonial dinner was given in my honor.

I would especially like to thank Camille Nazzola, who served as chairwoman of the event, and the entire dinner committee who worked so hard and produced such a great evening.

I would also like to thank my family and all of my friends who took time out to attend and to make the evening such a success.

It is times like these and people like you that make it all worthwhile.

Michael P. Pizzi, Mayor

Robin Hood a hero

To the editor:

Many long years ago, a fellow named Robin Hood, every time he could — robbed from the rich and gave to the poor.

Statistics show — that in America, today, the rich are getting richer, and the poor are getting poorer.

I would warn — if this trend (of rich getting richer, and poor getting poorer) is not reversed — Ol' Robin Hood might, very well, become a hero and leading role-model for many an impressionable, concerned, poor youngster of tomorrow.

• THIS COLUMN is being written without knowledge of Tuesday's election returns. If Bush scores a solid win in New Jersey, credit the result to N.J.'s Turnpike Chairman Bo Sullivan, who has been an aggressive, dynamic state chairman for George Bush.

If the GOP political activities in Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield are any indication of what's happening around Essex County, both the Republican County Chairman and the Democrat County Chairman failed to provide the necessary leadership to get the adrenalin flowing in the troops at the grass roots. In our three communities, there has been an almost total lack of partisan political leadership in either major party.

Bush should carry Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield, but lose the County to Dukakis — and that result would be based upon the voter profile which predominates in Essex — no thanks to the leadership.

George Bush should be the President-elect Tuesday.

President Bush will probably provide us with more Reagan years — relative prosperity with a maximum number of people working — acceptable interest rates — larger deficit spending — and an increase in the national debt.

It is clear when the choice comes to increasing the national debt — or levy taxes on the voters, George Bush will choose to increase the national debt. It will be a simple, straight-out political decision. Bush is promising no new taxes — and he will be a president who will keep his word — so — we folks down at the grass roots better get our ducts in line with George Bush's philosophy, for the future belongs to those who prepare for it.

• THE N.J. ASSEMBLY'S State Government Committee has given its approval to a complicated bill that would lengthen the terms of state legislators. Beginning in 1991, an Assembly member would be elected to a four-year term, a two-year and a four-year term.

All members of the Senate stand for election in 1991, but half would serve six-year terms and half four-year terms. Thereafter, half of the Senators would be elected to six-year terms followed by four-year terms, and the other half, four-year terms followed by six-year terms. The purpose behind the bill is to have fewer legislative elections. The result of the bill would be to have incumbents serve longer terms.

Supporters of the legislation argue that the change is needed because present terms are too short, and legislators begin campaigning for the next term the day after they are elected.

We support the proposal. After all, we do elect a president for four years — and there is no reason not to elect an assemblyman for four years.

• THE NEW JERSEY State Planning Commission is completing its blueprint for a future New Jersey. One of its objectives is to keep New Jersey green. Already, the Commissioners spent nine months studying various recommendations affecting the quality of life in New Jersey. The full Commission is expected to vote November 14th on a draft presented to it by its staff. The Commission has a selling job to do. We agree that open space is rapidly disappearing much to the distress of the environmentalists. We agree that traffic congestion is a major issue — especially for north Jersey. We agree that rebuilding and rehabilitation of housing, stores and offices in older areas where infrastructure is already in place must be a priority for New Jersey planners. Rebuilding has made a poor Hoboken, very wealthy. Large cities like Newark need rebuilding. There is evidence that the rebuilding of Newark is on its way. This is good news for Essex suburbs — for as Newark goes, so go our suburbs. Newark is a big player in our county tax rate. The higher the Newark ratable, the lower the county tax rate burden for our suburban community taxpayers. If Newark needs help, the suburb communities should offer an extended hand.

• SENATE Appropriations Committee Chairman Lawrence Weiss recently accused the New Jersey Assembly Republican leadership of a blackmail effort in holding the proposed Camden Aquarium hostage to a Republican proposal for a dedicated gas tax.

Assembly Republicans want to dedicate the gas tax income for the specific purpose of repairing and rebuilding our highway system. Senator Weiss thinks the $32 million appropriation to build a Camden Aquarium should stand on its own. We agree. We believe the proposed $32 million aquarium should be defeated and gas tax revenue should be committed to state highway repair, rebuilding and expansion.

• LAST WEEK, I mentioned that the Haunoch Weisman law firm has made an acquisition which gives it a leadership role in the New Jersey legal profession. Heading up the larger firm is Bernard "Buddy" D'Avella, Jr. D'Avella's rise to the top is a Horatio Alger narrative.

• WE'RE DISAPPOINTED to learn that an experimental program to provide after school care for Bloomfield's school students has been discontinued for lack of participation. The program proved to be not self-sustaining. A minimum of 15 participants was needed for the program to pay for itself. The most it attracted was 11 students. Credit should go to principal Adelaide Palmer for making the effort.

• POLITICS has reached a new low. During the current week, we have seen presidential candidates throw mud at each other. We have seen New Jersey United States Senatorial candidates throwing mud at each other. The candidates all involved themselves in negative campaigns that included intellectually dishonest comments.

We think the time has come for a Citizens' Fair Play Committee to be appointed by Governor Tom Kean to make an investigation of recent campaign trends and, maybe, lead to a changing of the libel laws to cover some of the outright lies uttered by candidates over television and distributed by the written word.

We personally believe a candidate who begins and ends a campaign with a singular positive note would be a winner in any election. A candidate never needs the negative to accent the positive.

• TWENTY-TWO Japanese educators recently visited Belleville schools to learn about our culture and compare our educational process with the one back home. The Japanese educators also visited Montclair State College to study a college which graduates a number of teachers. They also visited St. Peter's and Our Lady of Peace High School to see how the private sector schools worked. Belleville was selected because its educational characteristics are similar to a Japanese school district.

• MANY meaningless words have been uttered by public officials who oppose the proposal of the Army Corps of Engineers to construct a 13.5 mile flood control tunnel to divert flood waters in the Passaic Valley to the lower Passaic River.

For the past four years, public officials at every level in various communities have expressed opposition to the construction of the billion dollar flood tunnel. Nevertheless, the proposed flood tunnel has received the support of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection. What needs to be done is to get the negative word to Governor Kean. He should be made aware of the violent opposition to the proposed flood control tunnel and the adverse effects it would have upon communities bordering the Passaic River on the west and east. The route of a proposed flood control tunnel should go direct from the confluence of the Passaic and Pompton Rivers to the Newark Bay. One of the most respected environmental groups in the state has gone on record opposing the present flood control tunnel proposal. It is the Passaic River Coalition under the leadership of Dr. Ella Filippone, a lady who is one of New Jersey's bright treasures. Additionally, Assemblywoman Marion Crecco should be commended for her work on Assembly Bill 8306 which offers an alternative proposal to the construction of the flood tunnel.

• BY THE TIME this column goes to press, Sheriff Tom D'Alessio, our favorite public official, will have won a landslide victory — and deservedly so. A professional law enforcement official, Tom has served Essex County well by taking the lead in the fight against drugs. He doesn't think it is a losing cause. Sheriff D'Alessio has confidence that ultimately, the battle will be won. Education in the elementary grades is one of the parts in a winning formula. D'Alessio is making vigorous attempts to drive home this point with educators throughout the County of Essex.

• CONGRATULATIONS to those among us who have taken the leadership in sponsoring a testimonial dinner for that outstanding educator, Nutley's School Superintendent Jim Fadule. Not only is he a great educator, Jim is a very fine human being who practices the gospel of helping our fellow man/woman. Nutley is fortunate to have an educator like Jim Fadule to head its school system. At whatever salary — Jim Fadule earns every penny of it. God bless him, and may he be with us for a long, long time. Dr. Fadule is an inspiration to his staff and the people lucky enough whose lives have been touched by his presence.

Resident drummer hopes to change doctor's tune on his pro career

"Two steps into oblivion" is the way Joe DeNoia explained the beginning of his ordeal that may have destroyed another person's dreams and aspirations but not DeNoia's.

DeNoia was enjoying life and his career as a drummer in some of the best bands in the country until that fateful day, June 3, 1985, when he was crossing a street in Los Angeles and struck by a car going 40 miles per hour. The result was numerous fractures, torn muscle at the hip, partial loss of hearing, and forced to wear eyeglasses and an ongoing battle with insurance companies.

"They (doctors) didn't think I'd walk again," recalled DeNoia. "I just prayed to my father in heaven and said 'daddy let me walk and play the drums again.'"

He's doing both now and has a great opportunity on November 21 as he will be recording a tape to send to The Tonight Show in the hopes of becoming part of the late night talk show's band.

"I'm a fighter. Getting hit by the car was the easy part," explained the 33-year-old. "I've worked too hard. I can do more now than ever. I just don't let it (the injury) affect me. My leg hurts when I play, but I press it. I just hurt more after (playing)."

DeNoia explained a friend of his called The Tonight Show, explaining his ordeal and the fact he has come back. "The guy (one of the show's representatives) said he didn't care who I was or played with but I better be good." And DeNoia is sure he is.

Started out in Belleville

If he is successful, DeNoia's career will have gone full circle since his early days in Belleville. Carl Wolf was his first drum teacher and he credited Wolf with being an influence before Wolf took up golf. From there he joined his first band called Natural High, while in Belleville High School during the early '70s. He moved around and joined another local band, Parkway, before getting his big break, joining the Buddy Rich Band.

"He was known as the world's greatest drummer," said DeNoia. "He was known as the best of all time. He influenced everyone."

He stayed with Rich for three years, leaving to join Sal Forelli and playing before 49,000 at the Brendan Byrne Arena and then with Andre Cirella in Atlantic City. In 1984 he joined up again with Rich. "We lived in an amazing apartment in New York City. It was gorgeous," commented DeNoia. Then came the accident and nine hospital stays. "I was stuck for four weeks there (in Los Angeles) while the band was giving a command performance for the Queen of England."

With the accident came the insurance representatives and their assessment of what career choices DeNoia had because of the effects of the accident. They gave him three opportunities, a taxidermist, a cashier, or a video salesman on a corner in New York City. Obviously, DeNoia was not thrilled with his choices.

Set high goals

"You don't go on the road for 15 years and go out with Buddy Rich and then have someone tell you all you can do is stuff animals," said DeNoia in a bitter tone. "This (the audition) is a real slap in the face to those who told me all I could do was be a taxidermist."

That is just one of the reasons he is looking forward to the taping with 11 other musicians at the Family's Pub in the Plaza 46 Caldor Shopping Center on the 21st. "The real reason I'm doing this is for all the disabled people who get sucked by doctors and insurance people and who tell them they can't follow their dreams anymore."

DeNoia plans on following his dreams. Even if it takes him back to Los Angeles.

A LIGHTER MOMENT... Drumming legend Buddy Rich (right), pinches cheek of local drummer Joe DeNoia.

TNT to light fire in drug enforcement

By Pat Brightman

Exploding on the scene in an effort to crack down on drugs is a special narcotics squad has been instituted by the Belleville Police Department. Based upon the first month of the squad, it has been an effective method in having the drug traffic in town go up in smoke.

A Tactical Narcotics Team, nicknamed TNT, was established by the force October 3. This three-man squad's main objective, obviously, is to concentrate on making narcotics arrests and it has burst on the scene to the tune of 25 in October alone. This is just Belleville's way of meeting the requests of the state regarding drug enforcement.

"There have been directives from the Attorney General to increase drug patrols," explained Police Chief George Lister. The Attorney General offered suggestions but Belleville's finest came up with the TNT and decided it was best for the township.

Prior to the creation of TNT,

Detective Joseph Rotunda was the exclusive narcotics officer, according to Lister. After careful evaluation, among Lister and squad leaders, Officers James Del Grosso and Kevin Smith, both seven year veterans, were chosen to join Rotunda.

Three month trial

"It is our intention to evaluate their performance and all future performances," said Lister, explaining how officers will be on the team for three month intervals. "In the future if we get our manpower back up to 91 we can give two officers permanent assignments."

Presently, the entire police department has 86 members and the state mandates a certain number of uniform officers or the force will lose grant money from the state.

Drugs are nothing new to Belleville or the police department as there has been an increase of drug arrests even before the creation of the TNT. In 1987 171 narcotics arrests were made and as of July of

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Deliberate love that plays for keeps

And I will very gladly spend and be spent for your souls; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I am loved (2 Cor. 12:15)

Paul didn't know when to quit loving people. They might stop loving him, but he would never stop loving them. The Corinthians found this out. Paul loved them enough to reprimand them and set them straight. And when they protested by criticizing him, he did not turn away. After all, they didn't ask him to love them; God did!

God's loves is like that — seeking even those who spurn it. When the Spirit of God has shed abroad the love of God in our hearts, we begin deliberately to identify ourselves with Jesus Christ's interests in other people — and Jesus Christ is interested in every kind of person there is.

We have no right in Christin work to be guided by our affinities; this is one of the biggest tests in your relationship to Jesus Christ. The delight of sacrifice is that I lay down my life for my Friend — not fling it away, but deliberately lay my life out for Him and His interests in other people, not for a cause.

Paul spent himself for one purpose only, that he might win people to Jesus Christ. Paul attracted others to Jesus all the time, never to himself. "I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some."

You may not like the people you are called to love. But you have Someone to fall back on when you find it difficult to respond with smiles and warm feelings. Paul was willing to "spend and be spent" for the Corinthians, though his love was seldom returned.

Are you willing as Paul was to pour out your life for another. It doesn't have to be done with trumpets and fanfare. It must never be done for temporal reward. Let it be between you and your heavenly Father, an act of worship through selfless obedience.

Helen McGodrick, 83

A Mass for Helen McGodrick, 83, of Belleville, was held November 2 in Holy Family Church following services from Biondi Funeral Home, Nutley.

Mrs. McGodrick died October 30 in Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Mrs. McGodrick was lived in Brooklyn for 68 years before living in St. Petersburg Beach, Florida. She lived in Belleville one year.

Surviving are two brothers, Vincent Clarke and James Clarke; a sister, Winifred Otskey, of Belleville; three grandchildren, and eight great grandchildren.

Sarah DiLauri, 72

Miss Sarah DiLauri, 72, a lifelong resident of Belleville, died Nov. 2 in her home.

A Mass was offered Nov. 5 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, after the funeral from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

TNT established

this year, 171 arrests have been made. With the new team, these figures should continue to rise.

"Drug arrests take a lot of hours and surveillance," noted Lister. He continued by saying a representative from the County Prosecutor's Office announced at a meeting of crime enforcement leaders that Belleville was fourth in the county in drug arrests, behind only Newark, Irvington, and East Orange. "This is not to say we're fourth in drug activity but that our enforcement is pretty stringent," commented the chief.

"I don't think our drug problem has gotten any larger," he continued. "All towns have a problem. Any community which says they don't have a drug problem is a liar."

Generates positive effect

Lister also views TNT having a positive affect on uniform patrols, saying the three month intervals on the squad gives the uniform officers an incentive. "It's had a snowballing effect. A lot (of the drug arrests) is due to the two added officers on TNT but also everyone in patrol has stepped up their drug awareness in the hopes of being chosen."

According to Lister, Mayor Michael Pizzi, who is also the commissioner of public safety, has been anxious for the creation of something to increase drug enforcement and is pleased with the success of TNT. The most important aspect of the squad is what it holds for the future of Belleville.

"We want the word to get out that Belleville is toughening up on drug enforcement and that we won't stand for it," offered Lister. "Hopefully drug traffic in Belleville will decrease because of this enforcement."

Planning Board

er and the Continuing Care Center there will not be ample parking or traffic circulation.

The Continuing Care Center was approved by the board last year before the original Ambulatory Center application. The two were not on the same application because the hospital needed a Certificate of Need for the Ambulatory Center which did not arrive before the Continuing Care Center proposal was heard.

Gaccione explained the client was Clara Maass not an outside contractor and because of this, they are as concerned as the board about all the inconveniences and said the hospital would handle them as smoothly and quickly as possible.

Albanese also asked what the citizens of Belleville will receive by all the work at the hospital. He suggested having free parking at the parking decks for Belleville residents and waving the condition of free parking for all visitors for the first two years.

Doyle reminded Albanese and the board that the reason the board had set down the two-year free parking was so there would not be an overflow of cars parking for free on the streets in the neighborhood.

Record earnings for Trustcompany

Siggi B. Wilzig, chairman and president of The Trustcompany Bancorporation (O.T.C.), parent of The Trust Company of New Jersey, announced that earnings were up a record 30 percent for both the third quarter and for the nine months ending September 30, 1988. Wilzig further announced the Board of Directors declared an extra year-end dividend of 10 cents per share payable December 1, in addition to the regular dividend. Over the last two years, the annual dividend payout to shareholders has increased by 100 percent.

The Bank's net income for the quarter and for the nine months ended September 30 rose sharply to $4,517,000 and $13,010,000 respectively, up 30 percent over the same periods last year.

On September 30, the Bank's deposits reached $1.43 billion, up 16 percent, and assets reached $1.6 billion, up 16 percent, as compared to the same period last year.

"The significant increases in net income, deposits, and assets were achieved entirely through internal growth, and not by costly mergers or acquisitions," stated Wilzig. "These increases in all categories have established a solid foundation for an excellent fourth quarter and for 1989."

The Trust Company of New Jersey, headquartered in Jersey City, has 35 branch locations throughout the state.

High turnout on Election Day

1984 election results
In the 1984 election, 18,427 were registered to vote and even 13,000 actually voted. The Republicans won in Belleville in '84, with the Reagan/Bush ticket receiving 8,671 votes compared to 5,048 for Mondale/Ferraro. In the U.S. Senate race, Democrat Bill Bradley defeated Republican Mary Mochary, 8,322-4,657 in town. Roe also won four years ago in Belleville, over Marguerite Page, 4,895-4,504.

In the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, Republican incumbent Art Clay defeated Democratic challenger Charles Kucinski, 5,590-5,522. The four winners of the Freeholders At-Large Seats were: Marion Crecco, 6,222 votes; Incumbent Freeholder President Jerome Greco, 6,137; Sam Angelo, 5,751, and Charles Cumming, 5,482.

The other candidates were: John Collin, 5,309; Thomas Giblin, 5,205; Adrienne Davis, 4,826, and Cardill Cooper, 4,784.

...And the younger generation chose

The presidential and senatorial races weren't even close at Belleville Middle School as the seventh and eighth graders voted overwhelmingly for the Republican candidates during a mock election last week.

Totals of both grades showed George Bush handily defeating Michael Dukakis, 397-123, more than a 3-1 margin. The seventh grade went 206, or 72 percent, for Bush and only 80, or 28 percent, for the Democratic candidate. The GOP nominee had an even larger victory in the eighth grade, 191, or 82 percent, to 43, or 18 percent.

The seventh grade did not participate in the U.S. Senate race but the eighth graders voted 3-1 in favor of Pete Dawkins over Frank Lautenberg, 176-58.

The results paralleled the response given when asked if the children considered themselves

Republicans or Democrats. Two hundred thirty-seven students stated they were Republicans while only 88 stated they were Democrats. Ninety-nine felt they were Independents and 20 felt they were with a different party.

Five questions were also asked on the ballot presented the students, questions regarding drug enforcement, taxes, homeless, nuclear arms, and the Contras. Eighty-nine percent, or 349, voters were in favor of tougher penalties for drug possession. Eleven percent, or 22, opposed the measure, while 25 were undecided.

The majority of students were against raising taxes to reduce the federal budget, by a 66 percent to 11 percent. Two hundred eight opposed the measure while only 34 were in favor, with 73 undecided.

New government programs for to help the homeless was a concern as 317 students favored the concept compared to 54 who were against the idea. Forty were undecided.

A nuclear treaty between the U.S. and Soviet Union met with a favorable response with the young voters; 230 voters approved the treaty while 105 voters disapproved. The undecided vote was 79.

The majority of students were undecided as to whether the U.S. should support the Contras in Nicaragua, as 162 students did not have an opinion. Ninety-six students supported aid, compared to 99 against. This was an interesting result, as the seventh graders favored aid by a 53-25 count but the eighth graders opposed the measure, 74-43.

"Time" magazine sponsored the elections, which was done nationwide by the news publication. In the seventh grade students portrayed the presidential and vice presidential candidates and their wives. After researching the candidates the students gave speeches to their classmates. The eighth-graders heard general party platform speeches from students.

Those who presented speeches in the seventh grade were: Michael Matoon - George Bush; Elizabeth Raimenz - Barbara Bush; Michael Iderden - Dan Quale; Marianne Fearera - Marilyn Quale; Cesar Rodriguez - Michael Dukakis; Monica Gomez - Kitty Dukakis; Jason Modren - Lloyd Bentsen; Michelle Woodward - Mrs. Bentsen.

Others were: Adrienne Walsh, Keith Devoric, William Adnis, Frank Jablonski, Paul Thomas, Roseanne Renda, Maria Perez, Danielle Despatto, Tiffany Frances, and Joe Tuminelli.

Pico wins council seat

25 Years Ago

November 7, 1963...Former commissioner Nuncio R. Pico captured about one-third of the popular vote to edge Bernard O'Connor in the race for the vacant at-large Council seat, 2,430 votes to 1,978. Joseph Sooy finished a suprising third of the eight candidates seeking the office. Republican C. Robert Sarcione garnered 5,300 votes and was elected to the State Senate, topping Democratic candidate Elmer M. Mathews. Both questions concerning the $750 million bond issue were defeated. 7,491 Belleville residents voted on this Election Day.

The annual Veterans Day Parade was one week away. James La Motta, a member of the American Legion Post 105, was chosen as Grand Marshall for the parade, which would feature a big group of bands, floats, marchers, and an appearance by Miss New Jersey of 1963. George X. Mitchell of the Veterans Committee urged town residents to come out and honor the 45th anniversary of the end of World War I.

Denise and Mary Jean Potenzone and Karen Nahimny captured the three first prizes in the $25 Halloween Window Painting Contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Town Recreation Department. The Potenzones' painting was done on the window of Abbott's Drug Store. Karen's was on display on the ShopRite window.

The BHS Bellboys marched into Garfield and won their third straight game, 7-6. After three quarters of strong defense and flat offense from both teams, the Bellboys' Lou DiBella ran for 23 yards on three downs and Joe LaFalce took the ball for the remaining eight yards into the end zone. Captain Joe DelGuercio kicked the point after, the winning margin in the game. Garfield scored two plays after the Belleville kickoff, but their fullback was unable to gain the two-point conversion. The junior varsity squad lost to Garfield, 8-6. The deciding factor in this defensive battle was a Garfield safety. Next week, Belleville faces off against West Orange.

Board of Education

missed and he had done a very sound job during his tenure and wished him the best in his future endeavors.

Linfante had announced his resignation at the board's October 24 meeting because he is moving to a "nearby community."

D'Agostino explained anyone interested in filling the vacant position until April when the next Board of Education election will be held should send a letter to the board. These letters will be reviewed and interested applicants would come before the board for a type of interview. If four affirmative votes can not be reached within 60 days Essex County Superintendent of Schools Elena Scambio will make the appointment.

Drug curriculum

The drug education curriculum is State endorsed and is entitled "Here's Looking At You, 2000." It includes kindergarten through grade 12 kits and teacher's guides, at a cost of $7,220. The funds will come from the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Grant/Chemical Health Curriculum Grant 1988-89.

Along the same subject, the board approved a resolution allowing Jeffrey Thaxton to conduct three drug presentations at Belleville Middle School and Belleville High School April 25, 1989. The three presentations will cost $600, which will come from the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Grant.

Nick Grande of the Vocational Advisory Committee explained to the board how the cooperative program works. Grande said a student receives 15 credits for his or her on-the-job duties, which are preceded by a class related to the work. "It's a part-time learning experience. The children benefit from the experience they gain in employment," said Grande.

Board member Barbara Cicalese asked to Grande to explain what work the children can do. Grande responded by saying some can be in maintenance, custodial and those who are taking agriculture courses may be able to work with the grounds crew. He also said secretarial services are offered by students to the Board of Education as well as Hoffman-LaRoche, Mutual Life Insurance and various law firms in town.

Nardiello stated an athletic trainer had been appropriated by the Board of Education for the past three years but each year it was part of the budget cuts which became necessary because the budget was rejected by voters.

Athletic Director James Silvestri showed statistics claiming 37 percent of athletes who play football suffer injuries, 30 percent in wrestling, 27 percent in boys basketball, and 24 percent in girls basketball. He said there is a doctor at games but other statistics show 60 percent of injuries occur at practice when no doctor is immediately available.

Silvestri also said the majority of game injuries happen in the second half and a trainer will condition the athletes, reducing the chance for injury. He also predicted within five years an athletic trainer will be mandated as a doctor is now.

Hospital volunteers give of themselves by helping others

Volunteer services are an instrumental adjunct to hospital staff nationwide. Some of the reasons motivating volunteers are the following: the need of accomplishment, of feeling productive, a social outlet, of testing a career decision, or of following their doctor's orders, said Marlene French, director of volunteer services at Clara Maass Medical Center.

Many of the above-mentioned reasons were shared by four Clara Maass women volunteers living in the tri-town area.

"I was bored at home, and I enjoy being with people," said Lucille Gasiewicz of Belleville, a retired music store manager who returned as a Clara Maass volunteer last January. Ten years ago she volunteered at the information desk. In addition she emphatically pointed out that she felt she had something to give as opposed to people who have a need.

"I like it very much. It pleases me to please someone," voiced Fannie Conurso of Bloomfield.

"I feel I've accomplished something," voiced Kay Daly of Nutley, a retired Hoffman La-Roche employee.

Josephine Pieszak of Belleville added, "I have met so many nice people." Pieszak is an excellent example of the following doctor's order reason cited by French. A victim of arthritis, she said that in 1969 her physician recommended volunteer work as an emotional therapeutic outlet. She confessed it worked, "When I come here, I forget my problems."

Based upon her experience and feedback from her participants, French said that volunteers fall into two classifications, those that want to work with patients and others who, although they don't desire patient interaction, wish to be in a hospital environment because they find the activity exciting.

Gasiewicz assists in the emergency room. Her functions include feeding patients, consoling patients' families who are upset in the waiting room, assisting with x-rays, paper work, and in the transportation of blood samples to the laboratory. She works five hours per week. "I love it very much," she added.

Conurso, who has been affiliated with the hospital's volunteer staff for the past eight years, currently spends four hours daily escorting patients from their rooms to the laboratory. "When you come here, you try to forget your own problems. I like being nice to people," said the retired seamstress in speaking of her satisfaction with her work.

Some volunteers, however, fall into both classifications as in Pieszak's case. A Clara Maass volunteer for nearly 19 years, she currently puts in 18 hours two days per week at the information desk. She comes in at 5 a.m. and leaves at 2 p.m. She processes the paper work pertaining to patients' conditions, discharges, transfers, new admissions, and distributes visitor passes. A former secretary at a detective agency, Pieszak said the diversity of her work experience there enabled her to adjust to the multitude of responsibilities at the hospital. At the same time she looks forward to interacting with the traffic flow of people, both hospital personnel and the general public.

The second classification applies to Daly, who handles pharmaceutical repackaging. She joined the volunteer staff approximately a year and one-half ago. A former 35-year employee at Hoffman La-Roche where she held a similar position, she definitely has brought and shared her skills to the hospital. She works in the pharmacy one day per week.

As volunteer director, French said that she has acquired support staff from all types of professions and occupations men and women alike. Her roster ranges from business executives, teachers, professors, nurses, industrial workers to the traditional retiree and teenager. Many come in after work and on weekends during their spare time. As to the younger participants, she said, the hospital has steered away from the traditional label "candy striper" to "junior volunteer."

In determining placements, French said she spends considerable time interviewing her candidates. "A good interview and good placement are the keys to success in keeping a volunteer," she said, emphatically, adding that no placement is final. A successful volunteer program must consider the contentment of its people. With the fierce competition among non-profit agencies, a candidate can select a position from numerous agencies, French added. "Consequently, when I assign a volunteer to a department, I want that department to integrate that person into the staff. The volunteer becomes a part of that department, which is responsible for training, supporting, and thanking them."

Often a volunteer also feels his or her services signify a means of giving something back to either society or the hospital, French pointed out. Looking at it from both sides of the spectrum, the time spent can be an avenue to counting one's own blessing that he or she is in good health or conveying personal thanks to the hospital for treating past sicknesses.

The last point can best be summarized by Gasiewicz, who spoke from her own experience. "I was ill, and I wanted to give something back. God has been good to me."

David Grossman addresses Tri-Town BPW Nov. 17

"Social Security and Retirement" is the topic at Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's organization dinner-meeting Thursday, November 17, at and preserve our natural environment.

Designed with ample space for appointments, the calendars offer lists of special dates and miscellaneous information. They can be easily mailed for holiday gifts and the sale is a major source of income for the individual troops.

If a Girl Scout does not come to your home, call 746-8200.

Tips for kitchen decorating

If you are moving into a new home or apartment and thinking about either modeling a kitchen or re-modeling your present one, you may be asking yourself the following questions? How should I go about decorating the room? Where do I begin?

Some helpful hints have been suggested by local experts in the decorating field.

Lighting and color schemes are first considerations. Joseph Cucuzza, an interior designer on Florence Avenue, likes to start with the wall papering. "It's the most important aspect in decorating a kitchen since it is the paper that projects the color scheme," Cucuzza suggests selecting light colors for a small room while, conversely, dark colors should be used for a larger room.

Size and physical mobility were other key factors brought out. Choosing either a rectangular or round table, for instance, would depend upon the amount of space available. "You don't want a table too big," Cucuzza pointed out. Although this is a common sense consideration, it is amazing how many people do not think of this fact, he added.

On the subject of space, Joseph Cozzarelli, an interior decorator on Washington Avenue, added that the type of movement and the number of people involved are important. Analyzing the work tasks are just as important as creating an ambience. Do the husband and wife share the cooking? If so, the installation of additional appliances might be vital, he added. Also the size of the family and whether or not the room is intended for formal dining or for eating-on-the-run should also be considered.

As to what the trend is for the 1980s, Cozzarelli said that the hi-tech European signature look comprised of fantasy design with a sleek hard finish is coming of age. Overall, both experts agreed that there is a turning toward the natural look with extensive use of wood, butcher block, and oak for tables and chairs. Cucuzza added that such material is being applied as a finish on table tiles.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

The name Karen Fuccello and womens sports have become synonymous in this area. Fuccello has been named to the Belleville Hall of Fame, to numerous post season basketball coaching awards and coaching positions in AAU national tournaments.

On October 2, however, Fuccello received an award which she considers the most prestigious in her illustrious career. Fuccello was one of five coaches selected nationally by the Womens Sports Foundation and Sporting Goods Manufacturers of America as recipient of its prestigious award for contributions to womens athletics on the "grassroots" level.

You couldn't find a more deserving person. Fuccello first started womens basketball at Belleville in 1969. Her first varsity team played in 1971-72 and finished 10-2. Her next two teams were 12-4.

After a one year leave of absence, Fuccello returned to Belleville basketball for the 1975-76 campaign and has been going strong ever since. Her teams have won 198 games heading into this season. Perhaps her best team was the 1983-84 club that posted a 22-7 mark and advanced to the Essex County championship game and the state sectional title game.

Fuccello received her award at the Javitz Center in New York City. In conjunction with the award, she was invited to the Mariott Marquis in New York on October 17, for a black tie affair honoring the women who have competed in the Olympic Games.

"I brought some of my young athletes to the affair," Fuccello said. "The entire night was very special. I was very honored to be invited and to be around some of the greatest athletes in the world."

Among those who attended the affair at the Mariott were, Mary Lou Retton, Olga Korbut, Brian Boitano, Jane Paoli (of the Today Show, one of the Master of Ceremonies), Kathleen Sullivan (of CBS News), Gregory Hines, Billy Crystal, Jackie Joyner Kersee and Florence Griffith Joyner.

All of the celebrities were very gracious with the kids who were in attendance," Fuccello said. "This is what it's all about. It's what you work all your life for. The kids should be motivated, because all of these athletes who made it to the olympics did so with a lot of hard work and sacrifice. It didn't come easy to any of them."

However, Fuccello is coming down off the cloud quickly. The girls' basketball season commences on November 25 at Belleville, and she is beginning preparations for what should be a pretty exciting campaign.

On a personal note, she is just two victories away from a prestigious milestone, victory number 200. Her team is coming off a 16-12 mark a year ago and should do well this season, even though the schedule will be tough with teams like Teaneck, Hackensack and Paramus Catholic scheduled twice each.

Congratulations to coach Fuccello on yet another marvelous accomplishment.

BELLEVILLE SOCCER GAINING POPULARITY

Professional soccer in the United States lost the battle, but it appears it has won the war. You might remember that soccer in the United States took off big on the professional level back in 1975, when a player named Pele came over from Brazil and enlightened a nation on kicking a black and white ball.

For the next six years, professional soccer drew big, especially at Giants Stadium as the Cosmos dominated the North American Soccer League. They won championships in 1977, 1978, 1980 and 1982. In the late 70's and early 80's, the Cosmos drew big crowds, sometimes in excess of 70,000 fans to games at Giants Stadium.

However, the games popularity began to fade drastically. The decline began early in the 1982 season and by 1984, it was apparent that professional soccer was no longer the big boon it once was. Poor marketing and management was blamed, however the sport had caught on very big with the youth of America, which was the plan when Pele first arrived in the U.S. in 1975.

Today youth soccer leagues are prevelant throughout the country. Right here in Belleville, the Belleville Soccer Association (BSA) has developed quite a strong reputation. There are six divisions in the BSA for various age groups.

Belleville varsity soccer coach Gino De Pinto is enthusiastic about the future of soccer in our town. He feels that with the BSA, youngsters are playing the game at a very early age. By the time they arrive at high school, they have been schooled on the fundamentals and can work on their skills and techniques quickly.

In addition to the BSA, which travels to neighboring cities to compete, Belleville also has a recreation soccer program which is quite popular.

"The kids who play varsity and junior varsity soccer have plenty of opportunity to play during the off season," De Pinto said. "Our season ends in November, but the BSA plays from December until June."

De Pinto is also optimistic about the future of the game in the United States because of the decision to hold the prestigious World Cup in the U.S. in 1994. The World Cup is Soccer's Super Bowl and welcomes teams throughout the world to compete for the championship. The United States plans to field a team for the 1990 Cup, which will be held in Italy. The World Cup is contested once every four years.

The Italian team won the championship back 1982 and Argentina captured the Cup in 1986. Soccer in the United States is beginning to make a comeback, and it's doing so with a strong youth movement. The NASL might be folded, but the sport is here to stay.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

The Belleville High School Athletes of the Week are Vito D'Alessio of the football team for the men and Simone Edwards of the volleyball team for the women.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

In the 1981 Belleville-Seton Hall Prep football game, Seton Hall won by a 27-7 count. Jeff Walsh scored the only TD for Belleville on the day.

FOR THIS WEEK

Let's see how many Cosmos fans we still have. Who did the Cosmos beat in the 1980 NASL championship game and where was it played.

A LOOK AT NEXT WEEK

We'll begin to profile the newest members of the Belleville Hall of Fame, who will be honored at the Chandelier later this month.

Seesaw contest

Last minute touchdown lifts Teaneck by Buccaneers, 16-12

Call it heartbreak in the deluge. The Belleville football team battled Teaneck High in genuine duck weather last Saturday afternoon and lost a heartbreaking 16-12 decision on a last minute TD.

The Bucs will take a 2-5 record into a game at Bloomfield tomorrow night, in an 8 p.m. start. Originally, this game was scheduled for Saturday evening, but it has been moved to a Friday night start.

Last Saturday afternoon, Belleville ventured to Teaneck for the first time in team history and for the first meeting with the Highwaymen since 1983. Although the day had started out as a sunny one, by 11:30 a.m. it was obvious that a steady rain was the order of the afternoon.

By the 2 p.m. kickoff, the rain was falling very heavily and the field was muddy, but it didn't dampen both teams enthusiasm. This was a hard hitting affair from the outset, with very little penalties on both sides of the line.

"It's the old adage that a poor field pretty much neutralizes a game," head coach John Senesky said. "Our kids played a good ball game, but we weren't able to run our misdirections and our guards couldn't pull because of the wet field. It also hurt them (Teaneck) because they have some kids who have the ability to run well in the open field."

The Bucs scored first in the game after Rui Andre recovered a Teaneck fumble on the Highwaymen's 28 yard line.

Nick Turano, who turned in another solid performance, ran 20 yards for the TD on the Bucs third play from scrimmage after the fumble recovery. The point after kick was wide and Belleville led, 6-0.

Early in the second quarter, Teaneck gained a 7-6 advantage after recovering a fumble deep in Belleville territory and adding the point after conversion.

Before the end of the half, the Bucs began a sustained drive, with the running game eating up most of the yards. Belleville received some excellent runs from Turano, John Napolitano and Michael Senesky and moved the ball from its 31 to the Teaneck 27.

From there, quarterback Steve Tice went to the air and hit split end Ken Sainz with a TD pass. It was an excellent pass and an outstanding catch and it put Belleville back in front, 12-7.

The score remained that way until midway through the fourth quarter. The Bucs were pinned deep in their own territory and were forced to punt. Turano, the Bucs punter, was ordered to run out of the end zone for a safety, rather than risk a poor punt deep in Belleville territory.

The safety cut Belleville's lead to 12-9, but the Buccaneer defense appeared to have the game in hand.

They held Teaneck on downs and with less than three minutes remaining, the Bucs took over and looked to be in good shape.

However, the wet ball came back to haunt the Bucs. On their second play, they fumbled and Teaneck recovered at the Buc 32.

"It was a strange play," Senesky said of the fumble. "We heard the whistle blow before the fumble occurred, but they (the officials) ruled it a fumble anyhow."

This time, the Highwaymen converted. Behind its talented quarterback Chris Brantley, Teaneck drove to the Buc 5 yard line, where it had a second and goal.

Brantley took the snap, fumbled it, picked it up and ran the remaining five yards for the game winning score.

"Brantley is their game breaker, we knew that coming into the game," Senesky said. "When he fumbled the snap, we thought we had a chance to come away with the ball, but he picked it up and ran in for the score. It was a tough way to end the game."

Senesky described the loss as very difficult to take.

"The Hackensack game was easier," he said. "We didn't play well in that game and we knew we didn't deserve to win. But the kids really came through with a solid effort this time and lost a tough game."

Belleville did receive some excellent performances. Returning to the offensive line was senior Gus Leming. He had gone down with a knee injury during the pre season and underwent micro surgery. Leming worked hard to get back into the lineup and his presence certainly enhanced the offensive line.

Once again, Vito D'Alessio was outstanding at defensive end, coming through with some key tackles. Senior Michael Toro also played very well on the defensive line.

Jason Silletti continued his outstanding play on the defensive line with some tough hits on the Teaneck running backs. Rounding out the strong defensive line was Gerard Tucci, who once again turned in a solid game.

At linebacker, John Cerza was once again outstanding. The Bucs had just limited service from senior Andre Graham, who is still hampered by an ankle injury incurred in the Don Bosco game.

Rui Andre continues to do well in the defensive secondary. He had some big tackles and is playing well on pass defense.

Paul Auriemma continues to play strong pass defense and has developed into a solid hitter.

On offense, John Sternik came through with some good kickoff returns. Turano, Senesky, Napolitano and Carmen Spina all ran well out of the backfield.

The offensive line of Leming, Cerza, Silletti, Mike Zaccarella and Steve Caponi also was outstanding.

As for Bloomfield, Senesky expects a very tough outing. The Bengals are 3-4 this year and are gunning for a winning season. Bloomfield snapped a 40 game winless streak earlier this season under second year coach Chet Parliavacchio.

"They're a hard hitting team," Senesky said. "They believe in themselves and have a good attitude. It's going to be a very tough outing."

As for the remainder of the season, Senesky is optimistic.

"We finish the year with Bloomfield and Nutley," he said. "You couldn't ask for a better ending. Our kids don't need any motivation for those two games."

NOTES: The Belleville-Bloomfield rivalry was reinstated back in 1982 after a six year hiatus. Belleville has not lost to Bloomfield since the 1976 campaign, when the Bengals won, 33-7 at Bloomfield. Bloomfield lost to Don Bosco, 5-0 last week. Nutley continues unbeaten with a 6-0-1 mark. The Raiders defeated Hackensack last weekend and are practically a shoe in for the sectional playoffs.

Seven athletes to be inducted into Hall of Fame

Seven stand-out athletes from Belleville will be inducted in the Belleville Athletic Hall of Fame during the Hall of Fame Dinner, sponsored by the Belleville Athletic Council, Friday, November 18, at the Chandelier Restaurant.

The inductees are: Michael Tortorello, Craig Mack, Brian Woods, Ramiro Borja, James Corino, Angelo Santinelli, and David Grant. The speaker will be Joe Cervasio.

Tortorello was a two year varsity basketball player, for the 1945-46 and 1946-47 seasons, and was the team's co-captain during his first season. In his senior year, he was the leading scorer for the Bucs during the Essex County Tournament and was picked to start on a team in the First All-Metropolitan All-Star Game, which had players from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. He was named the New Jersey All-State team by the Star-Ledger in 1947 and a Group 4 All-State by the newspaper in 1946-47.

Gymnastics team stays at .500

The Belleville gymnastics team dropped a tough match to powerful Ridgewood, 84.85-71.4, then came back to upend Hackensack, 75.5-73.1 last week. The two decisions improved Belleville's season mark to 2-2.

Gina Lemongello's crew battled powerful Brearley High yesterday and will face Bloomfield next Tuesday in a 4 p.m. match. The girls were supposed to face Teaneck tomorrow afternoon, but the match was cancelled because Teaneck didn't have a team ready.

In Belleville's victory over Hackensack, the girls tallied their highest point total of the '88 campaign thus far. The team scored 75.5 points and needed just about every point to beat the Bergen County school.

In the vaulting exercise, Nicole Zelna finished second with a score of 7.5. Joell Veltre finished in a third place tie in vaulting with a score of 6.8. Lemongello was also pleased with the performances of Nicole Pucciarello (6.6) and freshman Kim Dullaghan in vaulting.

In the uneven parallel bars, Zelna was second with a good score of 6.0. Senior Michele Naso also competed in the bars and turned in a good performance.

The balance beam event was won by Veltre, with a score of 7.1. It was the first time this season that a Belleville gymnast finished first in an event.

Zelna was second in the beam ment and was picked to start on a team in the First All-Metropolitan All-Star Game, which had players from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. He was named the New Jersey All-State team by the Star-Ledger in 1947 and a Group 4 All-State by the newspaper in 1946-47.

Tortorello has been married for 38 years to his wife Nancy, has four children and two grandchildren. He has been vice president for Construction Service Company of Bloomfield for the last 35 years.

Mack was a standout on the gridiron for three seasons, from 1981-83. In 1982 and 1983 he was an All-Conference selection and in 1983 he was named to the Herald

News First Team All-Area squad, and the Star-Ledger chose him for First Team All Essex County and (continued on page 16)

Team North Jersey, All Groups, Second Team All-State, Group 4 and was selected Most Outstanding Player in the North-South All-Star Game.

Borja played two seasons at Rutgers and was drafted by New England of the Professional American Soccer League. His career also includes seasons with Wichita, Memphis, Los Angeles and he is presently with Memphis of the AISA. He was also a teammate of Woods on the 1980 champion Gunners.

Corino achieved seven varsity letters during his high school career, three in football, two each in basketball and baseball. He was captain of the 1965 varsity football squad and recipient of American Legion Award his senior year.

He moved on to Trenton State College and was captain of the football team in 1969. He was All-Conference Honorable Mention at Quarterback in 1969 and received the Claudius Hammond-Anthony D'Erico Award. He was also a member of the golf team his senior year.

He has been assistant basketball coach (1970-72), freshman football coach (1970-74), assistant varsity football coach (1975-78), varsity basketball coach (1972-1984) and Director of Athletics (1979-86) at Lyndhurst High School.

Santinelli earned five varsity letters, three in football and two in wrestling, from 1976-79. He was captain of both squads during the 1978-79 seasons.

In 1979 he was awarded the Belleville Varsity Club MVP in 1979, Belleville Bronco Football Organization MVP 1979, and selected to the Star-Ledger All-Essex County, Herald News All-Area, and First New Jersey North All-Star teams. He was also awarded the Newark Unico Brian Piccolo Award for Outstanding Scholar Athlete of Essex County, the Italian Tribune News Scholastic Athlete Award, Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Awards in Territory of Chapter and Big Ten Conference.

On the mat, Santinelli finished in third place in District 7 Championships in the 1977-78 season and was District 7 Champion the following season.

Grant's achievements have been well documented over the past few months. After having a successful football career in Belleville, he moved on the West Virginia University, compiling All-East honors along the way. He was drafted in the fourth round by the Cincinnati Bengals and has seen considerable action in his rookie year.

Cervasio was born and raised in Belleville, and was selected to The Newark News All-Essex County Football Team after leading the county in rushing with over 1,000 yards. He also was named to the All-State Team and co-captain of both the football and baseball squads his senior year.

Cervasio moved on to the Ivy League and Cornell University where he lettered in football his junior and senior seasons. He led the team kickoff returns in 1968. He was named to the Belleville Hall of Fame in 1983.

Future looks bright for Buc soccer

Although the Belleville soccer team finished the 1988 campaign with a 2-12-2 record, first year coach Gino De Pinto is quite optimistic about his teams future.

De Pinto played a number of freshman and sophomores this year and the players got a good deal of varsity experience.

"We had some very young kids," the coach said. "I'm looking forward to next year. If the kids dedicate themselves to the game and begin to use the new weight room, we should really improve. Most of the kids will be active in the BSA (Belleville Soccer Association), playing either Division 1 or Division 2 soccer." (More on the future of Belleville soccer in this week's Buc Shots.)

While the emphasis is on youth, De Pinto wanted to first extend his thanks and praise to two seniors who meant a great deal to the program.

Goalie Joe Barerro and defenseman Tim Cook were both team leaders who helped the younger kids a great deal.

"Both of those guys contributed a lot to our program," De Pinto said. "Right now, they're beginning to work with our younger players for next season. I can't say enough about their abilities and their leadership."

The juniors on this years roster who should be the leaders of the 1989 club include Robert Ricci.

James Corlino

Angelo Silva, Mark Tonelli and Marcelo Di Giano. De Pinto called Ricci the most improved player on the team this season.

The sophomores include Rich Pretto and Enzo Vian. Both men showed signs of improvement in the later stages of the season.

The freshman are Frank Crocco, Franco Vitello, Darren Lewis, Steve Vogel and Alex Moreno.

"I'm really hoping that the young kids will get into the new weight room," De Pinto said. "They were pushed around somewhat this season. They need to get some muscle because soccer is a pretty physical game."

"The town has the BSA and the recreation leagues, so there is no reason why the players can't be competing throughout the year. We have some good kids coming back, but they have to work hard to achieve success."

Cross country ends season

Although the Belleville cross country team did not win a match this year, head coach John Tosato has to be optimistic about his 1989 club. The Bucs will return the top five runners next fall and all five men improved tremendously this year.

The Bucs competed in the NNJIL and County championships last week. The Bucs were 7th in the NNJIL meet and placed 18th in the county race.

At the conference meet, junior John Matos was the first Buccaneer to cross the finish line. Matos finished in a time of 19:36 for the 3.1 mile course at Garrett Mountain. He was 31st overall in the division.

Sophomore Paul Parmenter was 35th in a time of 20:02 and junior Garuav Nangia was 39th in 20:30. Sophomore Brian Doyle finished 45th with a time of 21:01 and freshman Carmen Di Biase was 51st with a time of 23:55. Rounding out the field in the mens category was senior Paprop Ratansoontorn, who clocked in at 24:23.

In the womens race, Diane D. Vincenzo was the only Belleville entry, finishing 37th with a time of 30:03.

At the county race, the course was also 3.1 miles, but the Branch Brook Park course is much flatter than that at Garrett Mountain, thus the times were a little quicker.

Matos finished first for Belleville in a time of 18:37. Parmenter and Nangia crossed the line one second apart with times of 18:51 and 18:52 respectively. Doyle's time was 20:35, Di Biase finished in 23:25 and Rattansoontorn crossed the line in 23:50.

For the girls, Di Vincenzo ran the course in 29:55.

Renda to release guitar teaching book

Jackie Gleason threw his ample arms around the tiny shoulder of Sandy Renda and cried out to his audience, "Come on, let's hear it for the kid!" The roar of the studio audience was deafening as the TV super-star Gleason and young Sandy strolled off to stage right. That was on Feb. 22, 1957.

It has been some thirty one years since Sandy Renda, from Belleville, practically stole the show away from Audrey Meadows, Art Carney and Jackie himself. As Tony the Shoeshine Boy, a warm and touching character on one of the rarest musical Honeymooner episodes, entitled the "Honeymooners in Rome!" little Sandy, then 9 1/2 years old, sang and acted his way into the hearts of both the Gleason cast and the huge audience that sat glued to its TV screens on those Saturday nights when Jackie Gleason's shows ruled the airways.

Chosen from among over 500 youngsters for the part, Sandy was no newcomer to TV shows and the world of show business. He had started out as a child actor on a number of popular TV programs and his singing voice was an added blessing. He opted, however, not to travel with the world as another entertainment star-to-be, but to remain at home in Bloomfield (and later Belleville), raise a beautiful family of three children, keep his wife Vera busy taking phone messages and spend his mature lifetime as the most respected guitar instructor in all of Essex County, besides being the leader of his own popular orchestra called Sandy and the Wanderers. This aggregation plays for every kind of event one can imagine and also supplies back-up for the "Elvis Show" starring Tony Liguori. Sandy, his band and Tony have just cut some very hot original country songs and their company is shopping around to place the tunes with a major record label. Renda is aided in his efforts by long time friend and colleague, Walt Gollender from Irvington, who is always ready, willing and able to pitch in when necessary. Together, this dynamic duo have over 50 years of show biz experience.

Sandy is also presently awaiting the release of his new guitar-method teaching book, written in collaboration with popular guitar teacher Joe Signorella, to hit the music shops around the country. The two master guitar teachers have come up with a new and fresh way to teach the instrument, sufficiently innovative that it caught the attention of the "big guys" at Warner Publications. In fact, the book might be rolling off the press even as you read this.

Sandy has also done his share of song writing, arranging for many other music performers, and keeping his popular orchestra, the Wanderers, up-to-date with all the new hit songs that are heard on the radio and TV. Always a true professional, Renda holds weekly rehearsals in his cavernous, finished basement to finely hone the group's sound and also invites future brides and grooms to be present in the event the couple should happen to want to "book" the Wanderers for their special event or occasion. If this were not enough to keep the once-famous, Honeymooners child-star busy, Sandy manages to keep his Sundays free to spend time with his lovely family. Besides his wife, Vera, Sandy Renda has three little music fans scampering around the house: Santo, Roseanne and Lisamarie. They don't have guitars in their tiny hands as yet, but who knows what the future holds? Music fills the happy household from morning till night, except Sundays.

Just this past week, Sandy was a special guest star on the Tony Vincent Cable TV show, seen weekly on Channel 35, during which time he discussed his most treasured memories of show business, his present activities and plans for the future, which has to be bright. Sandy proudly stated, over the air, that his once "lost" Gleason Musical Honeymooner episode is now, officially, catalogued and on file at the Museum of Broadcasting in New York City. Thanks to the tireless and persistent efforts of Walt Gollender, the Museum has added the "Honeymooner in Rome" one-hour show to its prestigious Gleason viewing library.

Tango album dances back to Bonfante

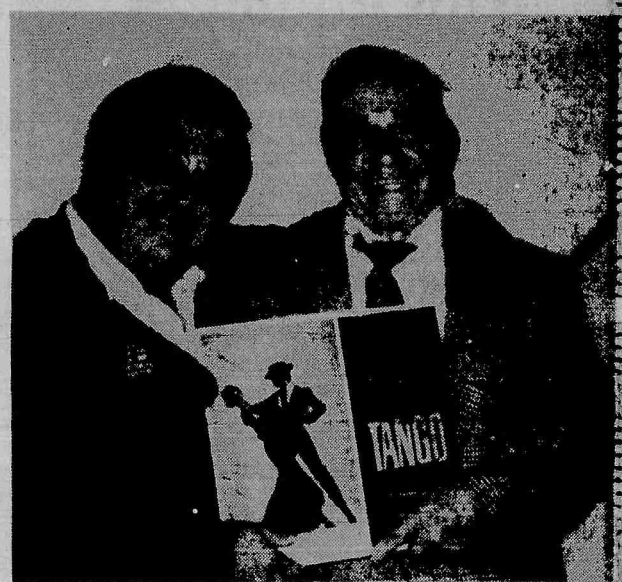

"It's a miracle!" exclaimed Belleville's famous model-shipbuilder, Dominick Bonfante, as he holds the record album of Rudolph Valentino tangos in his hands. The album, once owned by Bonfante, was lost long ago. However, through a chance meeting of the talented ship builder and Walt Gollender, veteran music promoter and talent scout from Irvington, the super-rare lp was replaced, at long last! Truly a miracle!

Bonfante had treasured the album of Valentino tangos until he lost his precious copy some time ago. However, Walt Gollender, wearing one of his many theatrical hats, called upon his I.R.S. (Irvington Record Service) to begin an international search for a replacement copy of the desired tango album, to once again bring joy into the life of Bonfante. The Belleville resident had given up any and all hope long ago.

Gollender states, with great pride, that he has "never failed to find any record or album" as the result of his relentless world searches. "I maintain contacts all around the musical world," adds Gollender, "and there is always someone who can find a desired and very rare 45 rpm disc or album." Through numerous ads, constant phone calling and letter writing, Walt Gollender has always located lost or desired records for customers. "If the record or lp was ever in existence," emphasizes Gollender, "we can find a copy!"

He has even obtained multiple copies of one-of-a-kind records and lps that clients had thought to be gone for all times. Interested persons, seeking to obtain any old single record or album, in any category, any field or from any date in history, are invited to contact Walt at his I.R.S. in Irvington. The number is 373-6050 and Gollender will proudly supply callers with a number of delighted and satisfied customers who "can't believe" that a certain piece of plastic could ever be found. Walt Gollender has proven otherwise. "They are out there, and we can find them, even if it takes months." Dominick Bonfante is another "believer"!

A JOINT DECISION

Two conditions which sometimes accompany a bunion are "hallux limitus" and "hallux rigidus." Both terms refer to a limited range of motion in the big-toe joint as a result of wear-and-tear. The joint can suffer from a "limited" range of motion, or can become completely "rigid." In either case, the wear-and-tear exerted on the cartilage in the joint is the result of a biomechanical fault, with excessive pronation that brings excessive weight to bear on the big-toe joint. As the cartilage deteriorates, irritation and inflammation set in, causing the patient to experience pain and limited motion. If caught early enough, the podiatrist may treat it with non-invasive therapy. However, once rigidity sets in, the surgical option may be necessary.

Hallux rigidus is characterized by pain, redness and swelling at the base of the big toe. Unlike a bunion, there's no angling of the joint. Local heat, cortisone injections and oral anti-inflammatory drugs may provide relief, or the joint may need surgery. When you need a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. Offices at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Office hours by appt.

HINT: The rigidity of hallux rigidus is the result of fusion of the two bones at the big-toe joint where cartilage once existed.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. J. asks: What is an immediate denture?

An immediate denture is a denture inserted right after the remaining teeth are extracted. The advantage of such a technique is that the patient can leave the dentist's office with a set of teeth. It must be mentioned in most cases an immediate denture is only an approximate fit of the jaw. It will be loose and needs to be relined periodically to adapt better to the shrinking gum tissue. This is due to the resorption of the bone that is used to hold the teeth in place. Once teeth are removed, the body uses the mineral content of the tooth holding bone elsewhere. This shrinkage comes about over a six month span. Often another denture is recommended after the gums have healed, which will be more accurately fitted and the previous immediate denture can be used as a spare.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q.: We have been trying to sell our home for almost a year. Now we are so discouraged that we are considering staying in our home and improving it. Our entire house really needs to be renovated, plus we would like to add a garage and extra bedroom. Is there any kind of guide or rule of thumb as far as costs and the value that it will add to our house?

A.: You are not alone in your dilemma. In today's market, many people are changing their plans and improving rather than moving. There really is no exact science for estimating improvement costs but I have compiled some averages from builders and statistics from recent sales.

Here are some of the most common improvements, their cost and the return they'll bring when the house is sold:

New garage	$10,000	80%
Room addition	$20,000	65%
Fireplace addition	$ 5,000	50%
Deck or patio addition	$ 5,000	50%
Bathroom addition	$10,000	60%
Kitchen remodeling	$20,000	50%

Q.: I'm considering purchasing investment real estate. If I obtain a home equity loan to finance the purchase, can I deduct the interest if the loan proceeds aren't actually spent on my home?

A.: Yes, as long as total debt secured by the home is less than the purchase price plus cost of improvements. The deductibility of interest on a home equity loan in excess of the purchase price plus cost of improvements generally depends on the characterization of the ultimate use of the funds borrowed. For example, if the funds are used to purchase investment real estate, the interest on the portion of the home equity loan in excess of the purchase price plus cost of improvements is deductible as an expense of operating the investment real estate rental.

Bloomfield Board of Realtors computerizes services

After four years of careful consideration, the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors elected to computerize their Multiple Listing Service and Board procedures.

John Gomez, broker/owner of Century 21 Homes R Us in Belleville, chairman of the Computer Planning Committee, and the committee members investigated various computer systems and decided the system sponsored by the National Association of Realtors would best suit the local Board of Realtors' needs.

Realtor members are now able to search for available multiple listed properties for their customers according to their needs, computer qualify them for a mortgage, and provide current homeowners with a comparable market analysis on their property within mere minutes.

Why not stop by your local Realtor's office and utilize the new services available to you, the public, through the ever progressive Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley & Belleville Board of Realtors.

Jim Farese completes Century 21 investment course Century 21 A CV Real Estate of Clifton announces that Jim Farese has completed the Century 21 Real Estate Investment Counseling and Marketing Course, according to Carole Viola, broker and partner in the firm.

"Century 21 is committed to achieving a position of leadership in commercial real estate as it has in residential real estate. I look forward to contributing to this growth at Century 21 ACV," Farese said.

Find Out How You Can Cut Your Homebuying Costs and Increase Your Buying Power!

On November 15th, Schlott Realtors® Montclair office is sponsoring a Homebuyers Seminar to show how our exclusive Power House Program® can benefit you. You'll discover how this unique program gives you more purchasing power by making homebuying less costly.

The Power House Program® saves you thousands of dollars because through an exclusive arrangement with our Home Mortgage Network and with the cooperation of the seller, qualified buyers pay no points.

A real estate and tax attorney, a home inspector and real estate professionals will be on hand to answer all your questions about today's real estate market. Plus, it's a great opportunity to discuss building wealth through real estate.

So, come join us. It may be the most profitable seminar you'll ever attend. For additional information, call our Montclair office at 783-5100.

Did You Know??

Three cheers for houseplants! NASA scientists have found them useful for cleaning pollutants out of the air. Spider plants can remove a lot of carbon monoxide; philodendron can absorb formaldehyde as well as benzene and carbon monoxide.

* * *

What do you do when paint gets lumpy? Cut a circle of window screen just a little smaller than the paint can and insert it. Screen will sink to the bottom, holding the lumps there.

* * *

Good-looking make-over for an old chest: cover with layers of sheet music from days gone by and coat with polyurethane.

* * *

Repair asphalt driveways promptly, before water makes damage worse. Most repair products work best in over 50 degree weather and need a day without rain to set.

* * *

The FHA is raising loan-guarantee ceilings in certain high-cost areas. In specified counties in 16 states and the District of Columbia, the FHA will insure loans up to $101,250. In Hawaii, the new limit is $151,850.

When houses are easier to buy, it's a good time to sell, too. Put your property in the hands of the expert real estate marketing people at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.

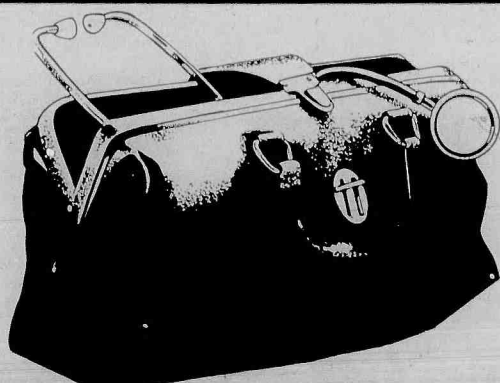

REALTORS

We do our Homework

A student. A researcher. An explorer.
These terms describe today's Realtor.

Today's Realtor studies home buying trends, researches housing information, and explores current financing packages. Why? To give you the most up-to-date information about the real estate market, so you can make educated buying decisions.

WE STILL MAKE HOUSE CALLS

We'll cure your space 'aches' and help you find your dream home. Our licensed realtors will take you on 'house calls' to the area you want to live in and show you beautiful homes in the size and price range you're looking for.
