Reports deemed confidential

Cause of K-Mart crash under investigation

Results of tests performed on the automobile which smashed into K-Mart last week will not be revealed because of their potential to be used as evidence to a Grand Jury, according to a spokesman for the Essex County Prosecutor's Office.

Ray Weiss said reports conducted by specialists on the 1985 Cadillac Eldorado which, according to driver Louis Prosperi, 72, of Bloomfield, ran out of control, killing a woman and injuring 13 more last Tuesday, have not been completed.

"Those reports, and there will probably be more than one, are evidence and will be brought before a Grand Jury, if it is decided the case will go before a Grand Jury," explained Weiss, who said there is a strong possibility a Grand Jury investigation will be held.

According to Weiss, all the tests will be completed shortly and formidable experts are being used in an attempt to decipher what actually happened last Tuesday afternoon.

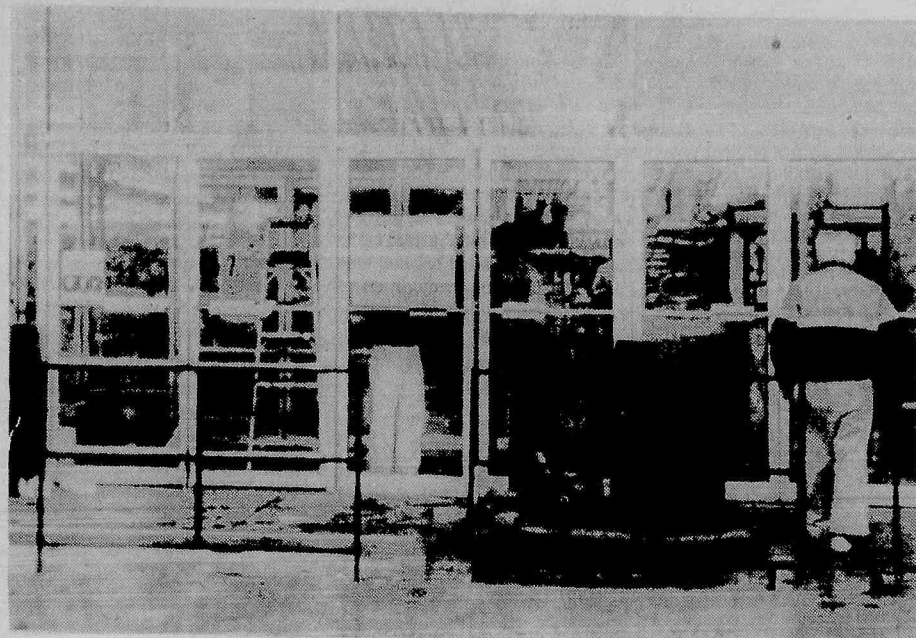

Weiss also refused to release any information regarding Prosperi's statement to Belleville Police immediately following the incident. "It's all part of an investigation being done jointly by the Belleville Police Department and the Essex County Prosecutor's Office."

He did not wish to speculate on the what, if any, charges will be brought against Prosperi. "That depends on what conclusions the Grand Jury comes to," stated Weiss.

Prosperi has claimed he was driving to pick up his wife and sister-in-law who were shopping at the store, located at the corner of Joralemon and Main Streets when the car suddenly accelerated, causing the accident which killed 37 year-old Barbara Urbanovich of Nutley.

Belleville Police have been quoted as saying they have received numerous calls from Cadillac owners who have experienced similar problems since the accident.

Urbanovich's mother, Dorothea Becker, 65, was treated at University Hospital, Newark, while the remaining injured were cared for at Clara Maass Medical Center.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS — Workers put finishing touches on repairs to the front doors of K-Mart Thursday morning. The store reopened that afternoon for holiday shoppers, less than 48 hours after a car had smashed into the store, finally stopping 100 feet inside the building, killing one and injuring 13. Investigators are still looking into cause of the accident, with a grand jury expected to be called.

Lopsided victory

Third term comes easily for D'Alessio

The election may have been three weeks ago but the results of the Essex County Sheriff's race are still newsworthy for the substantial margin of victory for incumbent Thomas D'Alessio.

Prepared to begin his third term, D'Alessio lost in only six of the 22 municipalities in Essex County, defeating Republican challenger Charles Cefalu by a resounding 97,798 votes, 166,172 - 68,374. The Democrat's only defeats came in North Caldwell, West Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Fairfield, and Millburn.

Locally, D'Alessio had no problems, registering a 7,201 - 3,884 victory in Belleville, 9,949 - 6,238 in Bloomfield, and 7,643 - 3,974 in Nutley. Cefalu did not even register a victory in Newark, where he is a police sergeant, coming up on the short end of a 48,309 - 7,862 tally.

Cefalu's largest margin of victory in a single municipality was a scant 1,044 votes in Millburn, 5,048 - 4,004. His other victories were by 2,549 - 2,539 in Cedar Grove, 801 - 325 in Essex Fells, 1,627 - 1,490 in Fairfield, 1,616 - 1,152 in North Caldwell, and 2,573 - 2,358 in West Caldwell.

D'Alessio's other victories came in Caldwell, 1,817 - 1,489; East Orange, 16,068 - 1,177; Glen Ridge, 1,803 - 1,550; Irvington, 9,948 - 2,192; Livingston, 7,352 - 4,946; Maplewood, 5,934 - 3,688; Montclair, 10,887 - 4,837; Orange, 6,093 - 968; Roseland, 1,276 - 1,274; South Orange, 4,538 - 2,064; Verona, 3,973 - 2,823; and West Orange, 11,513 - 5,172.

Another Democrat, Senator Frank Lautenberg, also fared locally, registering victories in Belleville (6-238 - 5,562), Bloomfield (9,494 - 8,496), and Nutley (6,473 - 5,973). Republican George Bush reversed the trend in the presidential election, defeating Michael Dukakis, in Belleville (7,485 - 4,981), Bloomfield (11,208 - 7,583), and Nutley (8,115 - 4,918).

WINNING EASY — Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio has reason to smile as he had no difficulty in this month's election, easily defeating his Republican challenger, Charles Cefalu.

School budget cuts compromise reached

A resolution approving a compromise of school budget cuts of $443,000 between the Belleville Board of Education and the Belleville Board of Commissioners was passed by the board of education at its meeting Monday night.

The board also approved the audit recommendations, awarded a contract for re-roofing at Belleville High School and discussed the security of students while at school.

The compromise on the cuts was informally agreed between the board of education and the commissioners Monday afternoon, according to board of ed attorney Frank Pomaco. A similar resolution was expected to be passed by the commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night. The figure represents almost half of the $886,641 the commissioners had recommended by cut in May.

All of the money will be placed in the current expense account, creating a total current expense of $20,467,597. The total tax levy of the school budget is $13,633,270. Because of this result the appeal made by the board of education to the New Jersey Board of Education has been dropped.

Eastgate Construction company will re-roof approximately 3,800 square feet of the high school for a fee of $25,055. The area is over the music rooms and behind the stage area of the auditorium. Seven thousand, eight hundred dollars of the bid will go to skylights which had been installed but covered up some time ago.

Plantings continue

The planting of flower bulbs for Belleville's 150th anniversary continued this past weekend as volunteers became gardeners throughout town.

Five members of St. Mary's confirmation class volunteered their labor as part of their community service obligation. Five Belleville Middle School students, John Engdahl, Robert Cetrulo, Brian Harvey, Michael Jannicelli, and Billy Zigmond assisted Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni, Cornelis Vander Zwan, Michael Capanear and John Pignatella in creating and planting flower beds in front of the Middle School.

Diane Tynan, president of School 7's Organization of Parents and Educators, began planting at School 7, assisted by parents, students and school custodians.

Senior Citizens Albert Walker, Lee and Vinnie Carlo, Motty Genovese, Alex Nucci, Marie Chenoweth, Peggy Bergman, and Sam Zuozzo were among those who did fine work in front of the Senior Citizen Building on Franklin Avenue.

Still on the agenda to be planted include the Disabled American Veterans (D.A.V.) building on Washington Avenue, under the supervision of D.A.V. Commander Cupo, Belleville High School and the Franklin Avenue Fire Station, with firemen doing the planting when they are off duty.

Can council-manager work in Belleville?

1962. That was the year when Belleville underwent a governmental change, from the commission form to a council-manager form.

1967. The year Belleville reverted back to the commission form of government after the council-manager system was deemed a failure.

1988. The year a change of government committee forms and attempts to once again create a change in the local governmental structure. The group is attempting to bring the council-manager format back from the ashes of the mid-60s, just as the Phoenix rises from its own ashes to live again.

"It worked 25 years ago," offered committee member Mario Drozd, "It just didn't work to the politicians advantage."

"Twenty-five years ago it was immediately under fire," agreed Bruce Morgan. "They didn't give it a chance. It was never given an opportunity to work."

In 1962, there were a number of groups who pushed for a change in government and that, said Morgan, was an underlying reason for the failure of the council-manager system. "They had a competition drive, people were cutting each other's throats. They were trying to beat each other out. The losers attacked the council-manager."

Seven-person council

Under the council-manager proposal, the town would be divided into four wards, with a representative from each, and three at-large council members, creating a seven member board. The mayor would be chosen by the elected council. There would be staggering terms, creating an election for council seats every year, not an election every four years for commission. Each of the seven would have an expense account of $750, they would receive no salary, under the proposal.

"(Council-manager) guarantees all the people with the same viewpoints will not be elected," claimed Morgan. "Each section (of town) has different needs."

After the council is formed, a business-manager would be hired at a fee somewhere between $60,000-$70,000. According to Morgan and Drozd, there are hiring agencies that specialize in the field of council-managers and would select a few candidates, who would be interviewed by the council and then a decision reached.

"Yes, there's going to be an initial cost," admitted Morgan. "But by having a professional you eliminate duplication and inefficiency. By eliminating waste we're going to save costs dramatically."

Drozd said the cost of the town manager would be almost outweighed by the elimination of the commission salaries and benefits. Each commissioner receives a yearly salary of $6,000 with the mayor receiving an additional $1,500, creating an overall figure of $31,500. Drozd feels this figure added to the expenses of commissioners and use of a car would balance out the town manager's salary.

"The commission is not an easy job," said Morgan. "There's too many responsibilities for a part-timer."

If the committee receives the approximately 600 more signatures needed for a referendum (the group has almost 2,700 signatures and 3,360 are needed) they plan on bringing in speakers to lecture interested citizens about the pros and cons of the council-manager system.

Will it work?

What makes this committee feel the council-manager form can work when it didn't in the 1960's? Well, there are a number of reasons, according to Morgan and Drozd.

"Back then the political power was much stronger than it is today," opinionized Drozd.

"Today people are more well-versed in politics so they will not allow to happen in 1962 to happen now. Plus there are laws which prohibit what happened then," said Morgan.

Five councilmen took office in the spring of 1962, Jim Golden, Robert Laterza, Thomas Greco, Vincent Strumolo and George Addonizio and on September 1 of that year hired the first Town

Creating town pride

25 Years Ago
November 21, 1963...Mayor Robert M. Laterza announced that a contest, open to all young people in town, would be held to design a Belleville flag. The prize was a $50 war bond. The mayor said he felt the contest "would create a civic interest among students in Belleville and build pride for the town in which they live."

A long legal battle appeared on the horizon of the Belleville political scene over the recall movement aimed at Mayor Laterza, Deputy Mayor G. George Addonizio, and Councilman Vincent T. Strumolo when Town Manager rejected the For Recall Committee's resubmitted petition. Robert Wespy, head of the recall committee, said he would seek a writ of mandamus in Superior Court of Newark. The petition was rejected because the committee added new names but did not make any changes on the names voided on the original petition. Burnett based his decision on a section of the Faulkner Act, which stated that only corrections to original names could be made when a petition was resubmitted.

The Recreation Department announced that the very popular girls' fencing program would start this week. Walter Hauber, a former international fencing champion who had been teaching the sport to Belleville boys and girls for five years, was the instructor. According to Superintendent of Recreation Robert Cook, fencing's popularity was due to the fact that it was one of the few sports that girls could continue through college and possibly into Olympic competition.

Plans for the Fairway Park project were submitted by the Belleville Committee for Playgrounds and Parks to the Town Council. The following were the main goals of the program:

- Redecorate the interior of the Friendly House.
- Finish the project by April 15, 1964 in time for the anticipated dedication.
- Construct a Peanut League baseball diamond, a storage shed, a bocce ball court, toilet facilities, and a drinking fountain.

• Paint the fences and hang an identification sign at the entrance of Fairway Court.

The Bellboys faced Kearny this week, and the Cardinals came away with their second scoreless tie in two weeks. The Belleville offense was plagued by penalties and interceptions as the team's record dropped to 5-2-1. This year, Belleville's Thanksgiving opponent would be Orange, for the annual games with crosstown rival Nutley became too out of hand, forcing administrators to rearrange the schedule.

Pre-schoolers staying active

Eight children from the Belleville Recreation Department's Playschool Program have been very busy this fall. The children began the month by observing Fire Prevention Week when they visited the fire station on Franklin Avenue. Captain Joe La Min gave the children a tour of the station as well as an informative talk on the role of a fireman.

Later in the month, the children went over to Jo-Lee's Nursery to pick pumpkins and culminated the Halloween season with a parade in their costumes. The youngsters participated in the Veteran's Day Parade.

The program is under the direction of Recreation Department Superintendent Dennis Buckley and provides the children with guidance and supervision over play activities, arts and crafts projects, field trips and holiday parties.

The program is currently taking enrollment for its January session. Participants must be four years old and reside in Belleville. The Play-School leader is Mary Anne Lopreato.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Are there ties between some members of Congress getting financial contributions and favorable legislative treatment for those offering those contributions? You betcha! there are... especially in the waning days and hours concluding a session of Congress... according to written reports.

Just hours before the 100th Congress adjourned sine die the oil industry quietly persuaded Congress to repeal the "windfall-profits" tax, which generates billions in tax revenue when oil prices are high. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, stands to benefit through his interest in a petroleum-distribution company, yet he spearheaded the repeal effort, saying the tax was too burdensome for the oil industry. Bentsen received $101,052 from industry PAC's. Total PAC dollars to Congress: $2.35 million.

A measure inserted in the defense-appropriations bill will waste hundreds of millions in defense dollars, according to Pentagon sources and internal memos, by eliminating most competitive bidding for spare parts on military aircraft and ships. Allison Gas Turbine, an Indiana-based defense contractor, was the chief supporter of the measure, the Pentagon memos say. Indiana Senator Dan Quayle, the GOP vice-presidential nominee, and Indiana Representative Frank McCloskey (D) pushed the measure, claiming that it doesn't gut the bidding process. Quayle has received $8,500 in PAC contributions from General Motors, of which Allison Gas Turbine is a division. McCloskey got $1,600 in GM PAC money. GM and its affiliates gave a total of $468,119 in PAC donations to members of Congress.

By allowing several multinational companies, such as Bechtel Group and Monsanto, to continue to deduct a large portion of their research expenses, Congress effectively gave them an additional $211 million in tax breaks this year on top of approximately $1 billion in annual benefits they have received in previous years. This was much more generous than incentives proposed by the U.S. Treasury. In addition, Congress extended an additional $703 million in potential research tax breaks for the same corporations. Bentsen, who chairs the Senate Finance Committee, and Representatives Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.), who chairs the House Ways and Means Committee, endorsed the tax breaks. Representatives Beryl Anthony (D-Ark.) pushed especially hard for them, arguing that corporate-research incentives are crucial. Bentsen has received $51,250 in campaign contributions from the PAC's of the affected companies. Rostenkowski got $10,000 in PAC contributions and $7,500 in speech fees, and Anthony got $19,000 in contributions and $5,000 in speech fees. Total industry PAC dollars to Congress came to $2,627 million.

Legislation spearheaded by Senators Dennis DeConcini (D-Ariz.) and Frank Lautenberg (D-N.J.) gave Warner-Lambert, a New Jersey-based pharmaceutical concern, exclusive rights to market the cholesterol-reducing drug Lopid, which helps prevent heart attacks. The 3 1/2-year patent extension will further delay distribution of cheaper generic versions of the drug. Spokesmen for DeConcini and Lautenberg say Warner-Lambert has not yet been adequately compensated for developing the drug. Warner-Lambert has paid a total of $22,000 to the DeConcini and Lautenberg campaigns. In all, it has contributed $108,400 to congressional campaigns.

Although 19 states have sued recently, charging that the insurance industry's exemption from certain federal antitrust laws has let major underwriters fix prices, a bill to cancel the exemption died under intense pressure from insurers who argued they are unique. Representative Peter Rodino (D-N.J.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, was instrumental in killing the initiative by failing to schedule a vote on it. Rodino has received $21,500 in insurance-PAC money. And since he is retiring this year, he is entitled to keep the money for personal use. Insurance industry PAC's have given a total of nearly $3.2 million to members of Congress.

One lobbyist agreed to cover a lawmaker's travel expenses to the West Coast for a speech, but on learning the Congressman's important reason for the trip was to visit his girlfriend, he canceled his offer.

Isn't it about time this egregious congressional boondoggling was ended?

Town recycling stays strong

The Belleville Recycling Department announced the town's volunteer program is still strong and viable. More and more residents are bringing their recyclable items to the depot at 48 William Street, between the hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The department also acquired a new vehicle for the recycling of aluminum cans. The method of storing cans in fifty gallon drums has been replaced by a new mesh type trailer. This will give a neater appearance to the yard and the cans will be easier to store. The department has had many compliments on the yard's appearance and renovations will continue and should be completed by next spring. The new trailer will also add efficiency to the department by lowering the number man-hours needed to store and transport the cans.

Belleville's Veteran's Day Parade afforded the department the opportunity to debut its new trailer. It was placed in the parade to show the department is still expanding.

The department also issued reminders for recyclers of cardboard and newspaper. Cardboard should be bundled and tied, and newspaper should not be left outside the gate after closing as a safety precaution.

Times continue to change but St. Peter's will remain

Part of the celebration of Belleville's 150th anniversary will be a historic trail which will wind through town with stops at integral sites in town. One of those sites will most certainly be St. Peter's Church as the parish is also celebrating its 150th birthday.

The kick-off for the parish's anniversary was Saturday, November 12, when a dinner was held at the Atrium West with other events planned in the near future.

"The parish has a sense of pride," explained Msgr. John Byrne, pastor of St. Peter's. "At Saturday's event a lot of fond memories were remembered. There is a good spirit. We're looking forward toward the spiritual highlight."

That highlight will be December 4 at 11:30 a.m., when a Mass of Thanksgiving by Archbishop Theodore McCarrick will commemorate the 150th anniversary. The Mass will be similar to the 100th anniversary celebration, which the church held in December, 1938.

Byrne noted how a committee of approximately 30 people have made preparations for the anniversary celebration. He also contributed the success of the church to his fellow priests and the almost 2,500 parish families.

"The composition of the parishioners is changing, there is a large influx of Asian and Hispanic members," said Byrne, who arrived at the William Street parish in 1978. "I think the people are very comfortable with the liturgical changes in the new church since the Vatican II Council."

First Mass in 1938

The first Mass in the church was held December 2, 1938 and was celebrated by Bishop John Dubois. In 1853 the first resident pastor, Father Hogan, was welcomed and he eventually installed a bell to call the parishioners to Mass. That bell continues to ring out to the faithful of the church.

The present church was under construction in 1914 and the rectory which stands today was built in 1927. But not all the memories are pleasant. On March, 24, 1976, fire gutted the roof and interior of the church. With support of the Parish Council and parishioners, the church was rebuilt and was reopened for services in 1978.

An added aspect to St. Peter's is the parochial school located directly across the street from the church. The first school was constructed in 1890 but classes were held years beforehand. In 1936 the existing school opened its doors.

"A Catholic education is integral to any parish. Any parochial school adds to any church," stated Byrne. "It fosters involvement."

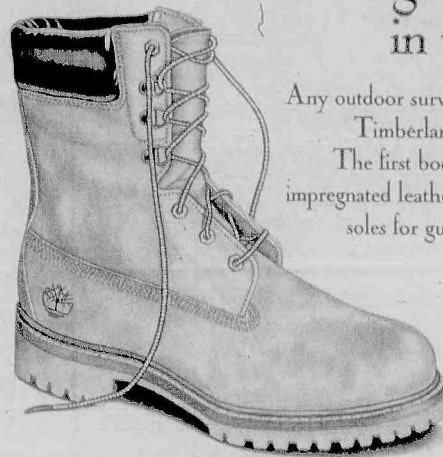

Byrne has an optimistic outlook on the future of the parish, noting how several hundred people have some role in the church, using working in the rectory or being an usher as examples. "There is a healthy sign of the future. People are taking more responsibility."

"As the community changes, the parish must adapt," he continued. "There is a certain sense of stability. We're ready to meet the needs of the people for the coming century."

OUR OPINION

FILL YOUR HEART WITH THANKSGIVING

Take nothing for granted, for whenever you do
The "joy of enjoying" is lessened for you —
For we rob our own lives much more than we know
When we fail to respond or in any way show
Our thanks for the blessings that daily are ours...
The warmth of the sun, the fragrance of flowers,
The beauty of twilight, the freshness of dawn,
The coolness of dew on a green velvet lawn,
The kind little deeds so thoughtfully done,
The favors of friends and the love that someone
Unselfishly gives us in a myriad of ways,
Expecting no payment and no words of praise —
Oh, great is our loss when we no longer find
A thankful response to things of this kind,
For the joy of enjoying and the fullness of living
Are found in the heart that is filled with thanksgiving.

What price safety?

It has become an alarming scene. Or, more appropriately, a scene that needs an alarm. Or a dozen of alarms. The security systems, or lack thereof, in Belleville schools, has reached the point where there are concerns by parents about their children, not only to and from school but while they are learning about the three R's.

The school administration has been aware of this discrepancy for some time now, if they hadn't they became fully aware when a contingent of parents and representatives from Home and School Associations attend the Belleville Board of Education meeting to voice their worries to the board. The response of the board was that of concern and that they are presently working on a solution to the problem by looking into what security needs are appropriate, and financially feasible, for the district.

Over the past two months at various intervals, the board has discussed installing security systems consisting of bells at the doors to gain entry and camaras to see who is entering and leaving the building. The problem, once again, cost. These systems, which would be the most reliable and effective systems, cost thousands of dollars per system and when that is multiplied by the ten schools within the district, the money just is not available.

The Consolidated Home and School has mentioned raising half of the funding for the security. Another idea was to investigate into the possibility of state reimbursement of funds allocated for security. This is in the process presently and a future meeting between the Consolidated, members of the Board of Education, and School Business Administrator Edward Appleton to reach an accord on a safe, effective system. In the meantime, increasing hall monitors, to patrol the halls and at least give children the feeling of safety, would be a commendable idea. Specific individuals hired for the extent purpose of watching unlocked doors, suggested at the Board of Education meeting Monday night would also be a wise idead in the interim. Because there really is no pricetag on the safety of children.

It's the holiday season

'Tis the season. The season for holiday shopping. And crime. Belleville Police have said this time of year is the busiest for thieves, be it pursesnatchers or individuals who have a fetich with taking automobiles which do not belong to them.

Already the figures are up from last month, in almost all categories. There are a few reasons for this unfortunate scenerio. One, law of averages. With more people out doing shopping because of the holidays, it is only natural to assume there will be more cars and purses and the like taken from unsupsecting victims. Two, thieves have families, too, and they need money to buy gifts. The quickest way for them to acquire money is through taking other individuals money. It is a distorted Robin Hood tale, in a sense, instead of stealing from the rich and giving to the poor, the snatcher steals from strangers and gives to family.

The most suitable way to alleviate the potential "holiday blues" because you've become victim to thievery, is to be aware at all times. Plan everything in advance so you are not more concerned about what you have to do than what is happening around you. Whenever possible park under a light or as close to the store you will be doing shopping as permitted. For once, it will be beneficial to be stuck holding the bag, particularly if it is your purse or a potential gift.

Did Bush really win one for the cheater?

To the editor:

Any kid on the street will attest to the accuracy of the following definitions:

GIP — cheat; GIPPED — cheated; GIPPING — cheating; GIPPER — Ronald Reagan

At August's GOP convention, Ol' Ron called upon George Bush to "win one for the Gipper."

I would remind those who would aid George Bush to "win one for the Gipper," to reflect a bit, upon the extraordinary amount of "gipping" that went on within the Reagan-Bush Administration — during the "Gipper's Presidency.

Meter maid tickets while streets are dirty

To the editor:

The week of November 7 to 11 our famous, Miss Meter Maid came to Mt. Prospect, posting violation notifications on the cars parked on this street, stating that beginning Nov. 14 once again street cleaning would be in effect. Monday and Wednesday side street parking only will be permitted. It's about time, and this notice several days later was published in the Belleville Times.

For your information Monday and Wednesday — absolutely no street cleaner was cleaning on this street. But you were here at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday putting stickers on the cars parked on my side of the street — you noticed and saw that the street was loaded with garbage and fallen leaves — on both sides of the street. Wasn't it really your duty first to notify the cleaning dept. that Mt. Prospect Ave. on Monday and Wednesday was not cleaned? Why did you have to put stickers on the cars — at 3:45 p.m.? Perhaps the street cleaning machine must have gotten clogged, due to the tremendous amount of leaves in the streets. So perhaps for the first week you could have a little heart and not spend your time to ticket these cars. For all our increased property taxes this is the service we get. I imagine the easiest thing for you to do is find time to ticket the cars parked, no consideration. This is one of the reasons why you see so many for sale signs on dozens of homes in Belleville. By the way for the past 35 years, if I am correct, isn't this the time of year (winter) when this parking cleaning situation is discontinued — the same thing happens on Washington Ave. Go into a store and if you're just a few seconds — our meter maid is there ticketing cars, even if she sees you running to the car, and you happen to be kind of old in age. Forget it, nothing in the world will stop our meter maid. She will post that ticket on the car. That's why many of us do not shop on Washington Ave. Doesn't a little compassion, understanding and mercy please you in the least?

After 40 years, it's a farewell for Rodino

To the editor:

A fond "farewell!" to retiring Congressman Peter W. Rodino. For forty years Pete Rodino has served his country well.

Congratulations also, to Rodino's successor, Congressman-elect Donald Payne.

Donald Payne's post-election statement, that he fully intends to consult with, idol, Peter Rodino in the future was most gratifying, indeed.

Advice from Peter Rodino, during the Bush-Quayle administration, most certainly, would be of benefit to New Jersey and the Country.

Where are Peanut League and Brownie pictures?

To the editor:

Why aren't there pictures of the Peanut League when they play? We were looking to make a scrap book and didn't find one article. My grandson is disappointed. Also, pictures of Brownies when they marched in the Veterans Day Parade, only pictures of politicians. Brownies are going to sing for Senior Citizens around Christmas... this makes a better Belleville. Just got a chance to write.

Fire, police, medics thanked for response

To the editor:

My family and I would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to the Belleville Fire Department, Police and M.I.C.C. for their immediate response to our home on Nov. 3, 1988.

We appreciate everything that they did and wish to acknowledge their fine services to our community.

D'Alessio thanks voters for election support

To the editor:

I want to thank the citizens of Essex County for their overwhelming support in last week's general election. It is an honor to once again accept their trust as sheriff of Essex County.

As I campaigned for re-election to a third term in office, I attempted to clearly show the record of my six years as sheriff. I am very proud of the accomplishments of this office and of the outstanding professional service provided by the men and women of the Essex County Sheriff's Office.

As we have in the past, our top priority will remain the fight against illegal drugs in all our communities. The Sheriff's Office will remain committed to school-based educational programs about substance abuse as a necessary part of any enforcement efforts.

As sheriff, I have worked to provide new and innovative services to keep pace with the changing needs of our growing county. I invite the input of all our citizens to help us evaluate and improve the services we provide. Please feel free to contact me anytime at 621-4105.

I look forward to the continuing challenge of providing the best law enforcement services possible to all our citizens. Again, on behalf of all the men and women of the Sheriff's Office, we thank you for a tremendous vote of confidence.

Thomas J. D'Alessio
Essex County Sheriff

Is it the 'whole story' or only the other side?

To the editor:

Wow! After reading Mr. Vander Zwan's letter in the November 4, 1988 Belleville Times, I wonder if he has enough hot air left for his next balloon trip to Europe. Is this the same man who asked why Commissioner Frantantoni hired an outside Hudson County lawyer for a Board of Education appeal? Oh no, I forgot he's Vinnie's friend. Is this the same man who asked about Ralph Risoli's $12,000 in overtime? No, I forgot he's Joe Fornarotto's friend. Is this the same man who asked about Mrs. Barbara Metz's $10,000 in overtime? Oh no, I forgot she's friends with the President of the C.C.B. I wonder why Mr. Vander Zwan would come to the defense of all these people.

I found out they are all members of the C.C.B. Then I found out that Mr. Vander Zwan was Commissioner Frantantoni's campaign treasurer. Now here's a real interesting thing. Mr. Frantantoni spent almost $9,000 to get elected and no one anywhere gave him a donation. It may be true but very hard to believe.

Mr. Vander Zwan, you missed the point with my letter. I didn't say that people weren't qualified but when Vinnie got elected he took care of certain people so don't have people write and say that former officials did this or that when the new ones do it too. I know it's only politics.

Also, Mr. Vander Zwan, how about some of my other points in the letters. I wonder why you attack the school part but not the spending of thousands I pointed out. One Town Meeting you came home from Australia, now Holland. You seem to be well-heelcd. Oh yes, you worked for an insurance company which gives all motoring public cheap rates. You should go door to door with a change of government petition and see what the "grass roots" people are saying about the Commissioners, all five, the former Police Building, etc. You would be very surprised, sir.

The letters you do write are more fiction than fact. I also like the way you ask stage questions for Commissioner Frantantoni and he then answers them. Nice show!

Raymond Barretta

P.S. Sorry I ruined your vacation but the truth sometimes hurts. So have a nice Thanksgiving instead. Also the letter from the Superintendent of Schools you refer to, let Vinnie show you the "whole letter." At the end it states these cuts are to be made as a "last resort only." Tell the whole story not parts.

Thanksgiving is for all kind of birds

To the editor:

To most — our great autumnal holiday, Thanksgiving, is a day for wining, dining, football and parades.

To some — Thanksgiving Day is a holiday meant for sharing, prayer, and the giving of thanks.

One thing is for sure, though — to the fowl of America, the turkeys, chickens, ducks and geese — Thanksgiving is a holiday, most definitely, strictly "for the birds."

Chet Dobkowski

Ticket remembered but last street cleaning isn't

To the editor:

On Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1988 my car was given a ticket for street cleaning, for what reason I don't know because the streets have not been cleaned for the last 7 months.

Act One Holiday Program

Sponsored by the Friends of the Belleville Public Library, Act One Theatre Productions opens its third annual Holiday celebration on Thursday, Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. with a one-act play about the homeless, entitled "Annie Lives Here!" The play by Japer Oddo will be accompanied by live music, holiday songs, refreshments and surprises for all.

Although "Annie" is a humorous play about the homeless, where the contrast of lifestyles is brought to the fore, the underlying theme is that understanding the problem comes from involvement and doing something about it. Act One will show the audience a variety of ways to help the homeless.

Diane Sunrise and Isaac Distis play the "homeless" and the "elite" respectively, with some surprising results.

NJLA Media Association Conference

The Belleville Public Library was part of a workshop on school-public library cooperation, emphasizing the library's videotape production in conjunction with Marily Mango, as well as the library's coordination with Belleville public schools. The workshop took place November 15 at the New Brunswick Hyatt Hotel.

"Cream of the Crop," presented by Adrea Cohen, assistant library director, consistend of handouts of projects that had taken place throughout the years and press releases on educational material available for students, teachers and the general public. A VCR showed the many videotapes produced to the conference audience.

New Jersey public school librarians were particularly enthusiastic with the handouts on the book contest, the Martin Luther King bibliography, and the joint grant between Belleville High School and the library for vocational material expansion. This cooperation between Belleville public schools, St. Peter's Parochial School and the Belleville Public Library was enthusiastic received by participants who stopped at Mrs. Cohen's tables at the "Cream of the Crop" section at the NJLA Media Association conference.

The PTA of School 5 has been very busy providing its children with an activity-filled fall schedule. The children and their families were invited to a Family Square Dance where a professional caller was hired to provide a fun-filled evening for all. Mary Ann Lopreato, PTA president, said approximately 100 family members participated in the square dance.

Later in the month the children were treated to a Pumpkin Patch as the association set up a simulated patch and each child "picked" their own pumpkin. The children were treated to cider and munchkins and decorated their pumpkins in their art classes under the direction of art teachers Ken Burde and Fran D'Agostino.

Mother/Daughter night opened up the month of November where the girls and their moms participated in races and dexterity events under the supervision of Ann Calabrese, the physical education teacher. Upcoming events include: Pizza with Santa, a Design-A-Shirt party and a Children's Chinese Auction.

TO THE BEST OF HIS ABILITY — Judge Richard Newman (first from left), gives the oath of office to Lawrence Cuomo (center) as Cuomo is officially sworn in as the Director on Aging for Essex County. Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato, Michele Cuomo and Rose Cuomo also participate in the ceremony.

Cuomo named director of division

Lawrence M. Cuomo, a lifelong resident of Belleville, was officially sworn in as Essex County's Director of the Division on Aging last week.

Cuomo has served as acting director of the agency since January, 1987.

The swearing in ceremony took place at the Hall of Records building in Newark with Judge Richard Newman officiating the oath of office.

Cuomo was born and raised in Belleville and has been with the Division on Aging under the department of Citizen Services since 1977. He currently resides in Belleville with his wife, Michelle, and their two children, Laurie and Maria.

Essex County Executive Nicholas R. Amato, who appointed Cuomo to the directorship, said, "Larry's effort and dedication has assisted us in providing Essex County's senior citizens with the types of services they need. He is truly an outstanding professional."

Crecco co-sponsors bill to reduce tipping fees

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) announced that she is pleased with the decision of Essex County voters on three non-binding referendums in the Nov. 8 election.

Question seven on the ballot asked whether Essex County should enter into an agreement to average its solid waste dumping costs with other counties. Question eight asked whether or not the state should pick up the cost of the county court system and question nine asked the voters if the state should pay for programs mandated by them on a municipality or a county.

"All three proposals were overwhelmingly approved," said Crecco. "This will send a message to Trenton that property tax relief is needed in Essex County."

Crecco added that all three measures are currently pending before the state legislature. She is sponsoring a bill with Assemblyman John Kelly (R-Essex) that establishes a rate averaging system of solid waste dumping costs between Essex, Passaic, Bergen, Union, and Hudson counties. "This will lower Essex's tipping fees about $26 a ton creating a substantial savings to municipalities," Crecco added.

Crecco is also a cosponsor of two other bills aimed at the state takeover of county court costs and "state mandate, state pay" which requires the state to fund all mandated programs.

"These bills bring about real tax relief to the overburdened residents of Essex County," Crecco concluded. "Hopefully, the legislature will listen to the people and pass the bills it has been presented."

Crecco, Assistant Majority Whip, is serving her second term in the General Assembly. She also serves as vice-chair of the State Government Committee and as a member of the Independent Authorities and Financial Institutions Committees.

Assemblywoman Crecco went on record as being opposed to a 10 cent toll hike on the Garden State Parkway. She also pitched once again for legislation creating a study commission to examine the feasibility of removing the tolls from the Parkway.

"The Governor is due to make a decision on the toll hike at the end of December," said Crecco. "It is in the best interests of the motorists for him to veto this increase and support a study commission to determine whether the tolls can be removed."

Under Crecco's bill, AJR-39, also sponsored by Assemblyman Gerald Zecker (R-Passaic), an 11 member commission would be established to study financing, management, and operations of toll road authorities and the desirability and feasibility of eliminating the tolls.

"I have written Governor Kean and urged him to veto this increase," Crecco continued. " Rutgers University has determined that traffic would be sped up by the removal of toll booths, and I would like to see my bill considered as an option."

AJR-39 was introduced on Jan. 12, 1988 and is still in the Independent and Regional Authorities Committee where Assemblywoman Crecco is a member.

Crecco, Assistant Majority Whip, is serving her second term in the General Assembly. She also serves as vice-chair of the Assembly State Government Committee and as a member of the Financial Institutions Committee.

Italian Club has big plans

Belleville High School's Italian Club has begun the year with a fervor which promises to make the club one of the most successful in the school. Under the leadership of President Chris Cantarella, Vice-President Gina Goergen, Treasurer Donna Del Guercio, and Secretary Christine Smith, the club has expanded its membership of over 70 participants.

Students from ninth to 12th grade have been busy during the month of October selling stuffed animals in order to raise funds to be used for senior scholarships. Programmed for December is a three-day bake sale which will be conducted December 1-3 during the presentation of the drama club's production of "The Best of Broadway."

The club's officers are emphatic in their insistence that this year's scholarship will exceed those of all previous years. "Our goal is to raise over $1,500 to honor those students who distinguish themselves in the study of Italian," stated Secretary Smith.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Thankful to whom?

I read a truly insightful definition of Thanksgiving the other day. It went like this: Thanksgiving is the spontaneous expression of gratitude exhibited by persons who have a deep religious faith. That definition is not unlike the understanding I have always had and yet the thought struck me anew that Thanksgiving, in its very essence, is a religious holiday.

The day was first kept by the Pilgrim Fathers to thank God, publicly, for what He had done for them. They had endured serious problems and great dangers. They had experienced privations and indignities of every sort. Life itself was fragile and uncertain. But through it all, God had blessed them abundantly.

These folk understood, and experienced, the truth that Paul had shared with the Christians at Philippi. Phil. 4:7 And God's peace, which is far beyond human understanding, will keep your hearts and minds safe in union with Christ Jesus.

The promise had little to do with material blessings or financial security. The Pilgrim Fathers understood that. They also knew that, in a very special way, God had blessed their lives and their efforts. There is no doubt that the first Thanksgiving Day in the New World was a religious festival.

Today, however, the religious aspect of Thanksgiving will be forgotten by most. To them the day is merely another holiday, another long week-end and a chance for the family to get together for turkey dinner. The ritual will then conclude with most of the family gathering around the TV to watch the football game.

What has happened to our religious festival called Thanksgiving? The answer is simple and it is found in our definition. In order to be truly thankful, one must have a deep religious faith. Without that faith, there is no one to whom a person can be thankful. Thanksgiving then becomes an idea, a concept, rather than an experience. A 6 hour football marathon is probably as appropriate a ritual as any if what we are celebrating is only an idea.

The Pilgrim Fathers, however, were not celebrating an idea. They were experiencing a profound gratitude to the God of their creation and redemption. It was a notable and totally appropriate celebration. If we are to continue in its meaning and purpose, we must also continue in the faith that made it possible.

Celebrating the idea of Thanksgiving is just not good enough. Not any more.

In our busyness it is terribly easy for us to fail to express our gratitude to others. We thoughtlessly fall into the ranks of the lepers whom Jesus once healed; of the ten who were cured only one came to say "thank you." In reality our thanksgiving to God is incomplete until we have expressed appreciation to our fellowmen.

Is council-manager system effective?

Manager in Belleville history, William A. Sommers, at a salary of $15,000. At the time of Sommers hiring, Mayor Laterza stated the town had saved $10,000. But the honeymoon was short lived, as Sommers and the council came at odds over a number of issues, including an investigation of the Revenue and Finance Department which Sommers termed a "witch hunt." This situation ultimately cost Sommers his job, and the fact he attempted to make a deal, saying he would relinquish his desire to have Town Registrar Ralph Risoli removed if the council agreed to drop the investigation, according to articles in the Belleville Times during that period.

Morgan and Drozd feel however, the main reason Sommers was ineffective and ultimately dismissed was because he was forced to sign his resignation the day he was hired, putting him at the mercy of the council. But Golden explained it was not Sommers who had to sign his resignation but his successor, John Burnett, who signed.

"He was honest," offered Golden, who said Sommers is the town manager of Englewood today. "They (certain council members) couldn't force him to do political bidding. They couldn't boss him around that's why they got rid of him."

There were also disagreements amongst the councilmen themselves, according to Times articles, similar to the situation many complain about today with the commissioners and a contingent evolved calling for a return to the commission form of government.

In the January 26, 1967 edition of the Belleville Times two front page articles discussed the council-manager and commission governments. One story stated the council over a period of four years spent over $1 million more than the commission had over a similar period. The other article stated that in the five years of the council-manager, there was an increase in the town budget of $228,890, from $1,501,467 in 1962 to $1,730,357 in 1966. From 1957-61 the commissioners raised the budget $407,387, from $1,179,565 to $1,586,952.

When the election returns were counted, it was a landslide for the commission form, 5,054 - 2,411. Burnett was the last town manager in Belleville.

The committee admits there are flaws in the council-manager system, saying every system has its drawbacks as well as benefits. And both those who favor the change and those who tend to disapprove of it seem to feel, it is not the system that gauges success or failure, it is the people within the system. The change of government committee has an overriding feeling that, under the present conditions of Belleville, a council-manager system would best suit the township. Whether a majority of voters in town agree has yet to be seen.

C.C.B. opposes change

The Concerned Citizens of Belleville (C.C.B.) have announced their position on an issue of vital importance to the taxpayers of Belleville, according to President Jerry Del Guercio.

The C.C.B. at its last general membership meeting opposed the proposed change of government in the township. According to Del Guercio, "after the organization examined present commission form of government versus the proposed council-manager form, it was decided if the proposed change is made to council-manager, the town's taxpayers would suffer from negative effects."

It was pointed out that under the present commission form of government, whenever a citizen has a complaint he can go directly to a commissioner, who is an elected official. "Under the council-manager form, the town would be in control of a town manager not directly elected by the people of the town, nor accountable to them" stated Del Guercio.

He further explained township managers are appointees of the town council and responsible only to them. "The council is elected by the people, but under this form of government, it becomes a political buffer to use the town manager as a scapegoat whenever an adverse situation occurs and leaves the council to take credit for routine matters accomplished by the manager," he said.

"Simply put, if the town is operating efficiently, the council takes the credit. If something goes wrong, the manager is there to take the political heat."

Del Guercio also said the proposed form can lead to more back-room deals. "One of the most common complaints of the commission form of government is the mayor is not directly elected," he said. "Under the council manager form of government, one at-large position can be designated as a directly elected mayor. However, the group leading the call for a change has decided to leave the choosing of the mayor among the seven councilmen. This means a ward councilman elected by only one quarter of the town can be appointed mayor by his fellow councilmen."

Del Guercio commented more administrative positions could also be created under the council-manager form without public debate because of the New Jersey Open Public Meetings Act's stand on personnel matters.

Spencer named top performer

Charles R. Duess, president of Spencer Savings Bank SLA, has announced the over $800 million institution has recently been named a "top performer" in a nationwide review of savings institutions insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC).

The review, conducted by the U.S. League of Savings Institutions, was detailed in the October issue of its publication, "Savings Institutions," and examined common financial indicators in capital, profitability, and risk to determine the handful of institutions that "truly excel" as the "best" in the business.

"I'm proud to report that Spencer was among only 32 of the 3,117 FSLIC-insured institutions across the country that met the criteria of high standards of the U.S. League's final selection," said Duess. "I thank the League for this distinguished recognition and congratulate the dedicated, professional staff at all of our offices for helping make Spencer a top performer."

Foot Facts

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M.

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

The plantar fascia is the long, sturdy ligament running from the heel to the ball of the foot. Overuse and inordinate stretching of the plantar fascia can lead to inflammation and swelling, or plantar fasciitis. If the abnormal stress exerted on the plantar fascia is allowed to continue, a bony spur may gradually appear on the heel bone. Pain can be felt when pressure is applied to the base of the heel, and when the entire foot is subjected to weight bearing. Pain is usually most severe in the initial formation stage of the spur. To treat this condition, the podiatrist may first prescribe the use of an orthotic to take pressure off the central position of the heel. If this is not effective, surgery may be indicated to relieve the stress that causes the problem.

An x-ray doesn't always reveal the presence of a bone spur on the heel. One treatment often successful involves injecting cortisone directly into the painful spot to help relieve the inflammation. When you need a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. Offices at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Office hours by appt. Happy Thanksgiving to all!

P.S. Jumping and pushing off the ball of the foot can lead to a stretched plantar fascia and bone spurs.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. B. of Nutley asks: "My 2-year-old daughter sucks her thumb. What can we do to stop her?"

At 2 years of age, Mrs. B., I wouldn't be too concerned. She could be using her thumb as a pacifier or exploring her mouth, as baby teeth are still coming in. I would simply show her what she looks like in a mirror or imitate her to show her that sucking her thumb doesn't look good. Hopefully, the gentle suggestion will lead to her stopping before age 4 or 5.

Beyond that point, sucking her thumb would cause the permanent teeth to come in "BUCK" and require orthodontists assistance.

Good Luck, Mrs. B. and if these imitating methods do not help, she may need some reinforcement from your dentist.

Thank you.

BABY STEPS

When an infant under the age of five months needs to be administered medication, it is best to take advantage of the innate sucking action. Babies of this age have a tongue action geared toward receiving nourishment from a nipple. To attempt to feed medication with a spoon is sure to be met with rejection. Thus, the best route to follow is administration with a dropper or syringe. Simply by placing the end of the dropper in the middle portion of the tongue with the baby's head elevated 45 degrees is almost sure to elicit the sucking response. As for taste, the infant's ability to discern taste is not as highly developed as it will be later on. The most highly developed region of the tongue is the tip. Avoid it if the taste of the medication is objectionable.

Take advantage of our friendly, helpful service when you have a prescription to fill. A complete selection of medications can always be found at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved. A full stock of other items is also handled, including Russell Stover candy. Open: 9 am - 10 pm daily, 9 am - 9 pm Sundays. We hope you have a happy Thanksgiving.

HINT: The best time to administer oral medication to an infant is just prior to feeding time.

Safe House residents need help

The Safe House is a shelter for women and children who have been the victims of domestic violence. Many families and businesses in Essex County and the surrounding area have included Safe House residents in their plans for holiday giving.

The Safe House, a member agency of United Way of Essex and West Hudson, is affiliated with Clara Maass Medical Center. It is one of the largest domestic violence shelters in New Jersey, and one of only two in Essex County.

Since most of the residents have left their homes under hurried circumstances, they can make use of donations of new or second-hand children's and women's clothing, especially winter coats and jackets and hats, boots and mittens. Toys and children's books are also welcome.

For information about the needs of Safe House residents and how to make deliveries, phone 759-2378 during business hours.

The Safe House staff urges those who experience family difficulties of their own during the holiday season to call the Domestic Violence Hotline at 759-2154, 24 hours a day.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

The state of New Jersey has produced some tremendous high school football rivalries. Games like Montclair-Bloomfield, East Orange-Barringer and Passaic-Clifton exude tradition and style. It doesn't really matter what the records are, it's a game of pride and remembrance for the rest of ones life.

The same can be said of the Belleville-Nutley football rivalry. These two towns have been playing each other on the gridiron for well over 50 years. There have been some tremendous games. Over the past ten seasons (1978-87), Belleville has won seven times, but the Raiders have turned the tide somewhat, winning three of the past four games.

Heading into this year, Nutley is the heavy favorite. The Raiders will come to Municipal Stadium on Thanksgiving morning with an 8-0-1 record and a victory over Linden in the Group III, Section II playoffs last Saturday. Belleville has a 2-5-1 mark, having tied Bloomfield in its last game on November 11.

For many seasons, Belleville and Nutley played on the third week of the season. Then, in 1983, it was moved to a season opener. That format lasted just one season, because in 1984, the contest was moved to a Thanksgiving Day finale. Hopefully, it will stay at Thanksgiving, because that's when the true rivalries should be contested.

This week, we'll take a look back at the past ten Belleville-Nutley games, beginning in the 1978 season.

1978: It was a sunny afternoon at Municipal Stadium in Belleville when the Raiders and Bucs got together. Belleville was 1-1, having defeated Livingston and losing to Montclair. There was a feeling on the Belleville sideline that this would finally be the year that the Raider jinx would be broken.

Belleville had not beaten the Raiders since the 1971 contest, a 7-6 verdict in which Joe Lotriglio scored the only TD for the Bellboys. Since then, Nutley had posted a mark of 5-0-1 in the series, with the '75 game being a scoreless tie.

Belleville had not scored a point against Nutley since the '74 game, a 7-3 Raider win. Furthermore, Belleville had not scored a touchdown against the Raiders since the '73 encounter, a 21-6 Nutley win.

All those streaks went out the window as Belleville won big, 31-0. Mike Nicosia paced the offense and quarterback Ed Aulisi used a good mix of running and passing. The game was capped by a long TD pass from backup QB John Norton to split end Mario Colombrito. Belleville went on to a 6-3 season in '78.

1979: Belleville came to Nutley with a 1-1 record, having once again beaten Livingston and losing to Montclair. This time, Belleville was a big favorite, but the Raiders weren't going to give up without a struggle.

The game was scoreless at halftime. Early in the third quarter, Aulisi hit Len Mendola with a 41 yard TD pass for what proved to be the only score of the sunny afternoon. Gabe De Fabrizio added the point after kick and the Bucs won, 7-0.

1980: In a rare night contest, Belleville battled the Raiders at Municipal Stadium. The Bucs were 1-1, this time losing to Livingston but beating Montclair. Belleville was favored to extend its record to 2-1, but once again, Nutley was not going out with out a battle.

The Bucs scored early when Eugene Cancelliere crossed the goal line in the first quarter. Nutley came back to tie the game in the second quarter and it remained a tie ball game late in the final frame.

Belleville quarterback John Melillo found a seam in the Nutley defense and ran 35 yards for the go ahead TD, giving Belleville a 13-7 advantage.

The Buc defense held on the rest of the way and Belleville won by that 13-7 score. The Bucs went on to the state finals in '80 and finished 9-2.

1981: Belleville came to Nutley with a 3-0 record and used a strong running attack to beat the Raiders, 26-0. Frank Fazzini, Angelo Centanni and Jeff Walsh led the way offensively. Tom Apicella suffered a broken leg which ended his season prematurely.

1982: Both teams joined the NNJIL and met in the fifth week of the season. Belleville was 3-1 coming in, having lost to Montclair, 22-2 the previous week.

The Raiders were under the guidance of first year coach Pete La Barbariera. The new coach brought leadership and confidence to the Raiders and Nutley arrived at Municipal Stadium anxious to break its four game losing streak to Belleville.

The Bucs scored first, when Mike Murphy ran 82 yards off scrimmage for a TD. Belleville used a solid defense to limit Nutley to a field goal the rest of the game. A late safety for Belleville closed the scoring at 10-3 and improved Belleville's record to 4-1.

1983: For the first time, Belleville and Nutley met in a season opener. The contest was played at the Oval and Belleville won, 12-6 with Murphy and Mark Walsh leading the way. The Bucs would go on to a 6-3 regular season.

1984: After a season opening game in '83, the series was moved to a season finale for the '84 campaign. Belleville came into the Thanksgiving Day game an injured team. It had lost two straight games, including a 42-0 defeat to Union in the state playoffs just four days before.

The Bucs scored first, when Walsh hit Steve Kimble with a 42 yard TD pass. However, Nutley came back strong, taking a 13-6 lead by intermission. The Raiders played solid defense and won, 19-6, snapping Belleville's winning streak at six games.

The loss cost Belleville the NNJIL crown as the Bucs finished one half game behind co champs, Montclair and Clifton. The MVP of the game for Belleville was Walsh.

1985: Nutley won for the second straight year, 14-0 at the Oval. The Bucs were 2-7 in '85 and were shut out in its last five games. The MVP for Belleville was David Long, who was excellent as the Bucs punter and linebacker all year long.

1986: Belleville won a big game, 27-16 at Municipal Stadium and in the process, clinched the NNJIL championship. Jim Dunphy was tremendous in the Buccaneer backfield, scoring two touchdowns. Quarterback Jeff Spillsbury guided the offense and the Buc defense, paced by John Magi and Gerard Corbo shutout the Raiders until late in the fourth quarter. Belleville finished 6-3 on the season and Dunphy was named the MVP of the game.

1987: Nutley came back for its third win in the past four years with a 14-0 win at the Oval. The Bucs twice drove to within the Raider five yard line in the game, but fumbled and Nutley recovered. Ironically, the Raiders drove the length of the field after the two fumbles and tallied TD's.

The MVP for Belleville in last years game was John Cerza, the junior linebacker who played an excellent game.

Good luck to Belleville coach John Senesky and his team as they look to finish the year on a positive note.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

USC and UCLA have been to three Rose Bowl's during the 80's. With USC winning last weekend, the Trojans will now be in four Rose Bowl's during this decade. Their other appearances were in 1980, '85 and '88.

Thanksgiving game

Bucs look to make turkeys out of Nutley in annual clash

Tradition takes center stage tomorrow morning when the Belleville Bucs and Nutley Maroon Raiders hit the gridiron for the final regular season game of the 1988 campaign. Kickoff is 11 a.m. from Municipal Stadium in Belleville.

Belleville comes into the game with a 2-5-1 mark and this game will mark the final contest for some 16 seniors. Head coach John Senesky, a veteran of these Buc-Raider wars expects another tough game and has nothing but praise for the Raiders of 1988.

"They are just a tremendous football team. They're so well balanced and do so many things well. They have running backs as big as the linemen. They come after you and just wear you down. There's nothing fancy about them. They're just an awesome football team."

Senesky has been the head coach at Belleville since 1977. He was a player for Belleville from 1961-63 and has seen plenty of Belleville-Nutley battles. He regards this years Nutley team as the best, ever.

"I've never seen a better Nutley team. They just have so many weapons."

Nutley comes to town with an 8-0-1 mark. Included in that record is a 20-10 win against Linden last Saturday in the first round of the Group III, Section II playoffs. Does Senesky feel that Nutley might be down after playing just four days ago?

"No way," the coach said. "They'll be playing Randolph in the state finals (December 3), but I don't think that Randolph will be on their minds on Thanksgiving Day. They'll have a week and a half to prepare for Randolph. You don't have to motivate kids from Belleville or Nutley for this game."

While Senesky speaks in volumes of praise about Nutley, he isn't writing off his teams chances, either.

"Our kids will be up for this game, no question," he said. "It would make our season if we can beat them. Our kids have done a good job all year long. We've worked with a lot of inexperience when the season started. The younger kids have gained a good deal by playing this year. We're trying to avoid using alot of two way players."

Booters earn post-season All-Star team

Three members of the Belleville soccer team were named to post season honors, according to head coach Gino De Pinto.

Junior Robert Ricci was named to the second team, NNJIL and the third team, Herald News, All Area.

Senior Joe Barerro was selected as Honorable Mention, NNJIL and Honorable Mention, All Area. Another senior, Tim Cook, was selected Honorable Mention, All Area.

Ricci, a defenseman, should be one of the leaders of next years team. Barerro turned in an outstanding performance for the Bucs this year. His goaltending kept the Bucs in a number of games. Late in the season, when injuries began to take its toll, Barerro was used in the mid field because he was one of the few players with varsity experience.

Cook was also a very valuable defenseman. He led the Belleville defense, which played tremendously all year long.

It was the offense that was limited in 1988. The Bucs never scored more than one goal in a game, but De Pinto is quite optimistic about next season.

"We used a lot of young kids," the coach said. "If they begin to use the weight room and continue to play in the BSA (Belleville Soccer Association), we should be much more competitive next season."

"I am very happy for the kids who made the post season," the coach continued. "Because our record wasn't too good (2-10-2), we didn't have many kids on the post season teams. Next year, I think we'll see a better turnout."

"Our defense has carried us this year, but I think our offense has improved a good deal. We're very happy with the kids progress."

There were just two games this year where Belleville played poorly. In the opener, the Bucs were blasted, 27-0 by Passaic and in week five, it was dominated by Hackensack, 26-0 in a lackluster performance.

In the other six games, Belleville has played very well. It had Montclair, a state ranked playoff team, shutout in the fourth quarter before two varsity players, John Cerza and John Napolitano, went down with leg injuries. Montclair scored twice in the last six minutes to win, 14-0.

Belleville held Paramus Catholic to ten points, Paramus to nine in a 12-9 victory, it shutout Don Bosco, 7-0, dropped a heartbreaker to Teaneck, 16-12 and tied Bloomfield, 6-6.

The defense has been led by Cerza, Andre Graham, Vito D'Allessio, Rui Andre, Paul Auriemma, Tom Wolfe, Jason Silletti, Michael Toro, Gerard Tucci and Bruce Melson.

On offense for Belleville, the running game is led by Napolitano,

Michael Senesky, Nick Turano, Carmen Spina and John Sternik. Quarterback Steven Tice has opened up the passing game by finding Ken Sainz and Melson with medium to deep passes.

The offensive line is paced by George Wallace, Cerza, Graham, Silletti, Mike Zaccarella, Steve Caponi and Gus Leming. Leming returned to the lineup in week seven at Teaneck after recovering from a knee injury during the pre season.

Spikers enjoy successful campaign, finish at 19-5

The Belleville volleyball team enjoyed a tremendous season, posting a record of 19-5. Grace Worley's team advanced to the second round of the state tourney and lost in the states to the eventual Group IV champion, Paramus Catholic.

"Well, if we're going to lose, it might as well be to the eventual champion," Worley said. "It was a good season for our kids. We played well and we finished with a good record."

Three girls were named to the post season NNJIL team. Simone Edwards and Kathy Eng earned first team honors and Laurie Dondarski was named Honorable Mention.

Belleville finished second in the league, with Hackensack winning the Pacific Division of the NNJIL. Belleville loses four seniors to graduation this spring and Worley will have a very young squad next September as the Lady Bucs look for its eighth straight winning campaign.

A look back now at the members of the team and their contributions.

SIMONE EDWARDS: Worley could go on all day about Edwards. The senior was first team, NNJIL and the coach feels Edwards can play collegiate volleyball on the Division I level.

"There is no question in my mind, she's that good," Worley said of Edwards. "I would say without hesitation that Simone is one of the best players in the state. She's a tremendous all around athlete and she ranks as one of the best players in Belleville volleyball history."

Edwards is considering a number of colleges next fall, including UCLA. Worley feels she can play to the level that UCLA demands.

"She was a marvelous spiker," Worley said. "She was one of the few players who could hit behind the ten foot line with accuracy of 90 percent. In front of the line, she's good almost 99 percent of the time."

It seems like Simone has been playing here for so long. She played varsity for four seasons. Her improvement during those four years was incredible. You could see in her freshman year that she had the athletic talent. Through the years, she just improved to the point where she can change her mind in the air and come up with a different hit."

KATHY ENG: Eng, the co captain with Edwards, played two years of varsity ball. Her skills improved vastly this year and Worley feels the senior can play volleyball on the collegiate level next fall.

"I wish she had come out as a freshman," Worley said. "She started to learn the game as a sophomore and began to show signs of excellent play last year. She's come a long way with her net play. Her blocking and hitting skills are excellent. She just gives everything she has on the court."

"Kathy is a very coachable player who wanted to improve. With hard work, she did so and was a vital part of our offense."

Eng is considering schools both local and outside of the state. Locally, she might end up at Rutgers, or possibly NJIT. She ranks in the top 10 percent of the senior class academically.

LAURIE DONDARSKI: Dondarski is a pure athlete. She, like Edwards, plays three varsity sports, volleyball, basketball and softball. Her volleyball career featured two years on the varsity.

"Laurie is very athletic," Worley said. "She was our setter this season and did a tremendous job. She worked well with the younger kids and got the passes to Kathy and Simone on the front line. Laurie has a tremendous sports sense. She picked up the game very easily and knew what she had to do out there."

"She made some good saves on defense and her serve improved tremendously when she learned the floater."

Dondarski will take her talents to the basketball court where she is an excellent point guard. She plans to attend college in the fall, however she has not made a decision at this time of where she'll further her education.

CHRIS BONACORSA: A senior, Bonacorsa was a starter on this years team. This was her first year of varsity competition and Worley had nothing but praise for her effort.

"I would like to have six players like her," the coach said of Bonacorsa. "She played a solid defense for us. She did her job in a quiet manner and you really never knew she was out there. Chris was a very consistent performer on the varsity."

"She's a very smart player on the floor. She knows the game and she knew her assignments. It was a team effort that led to our success this year and Chris was a big part of that success."

Bonacorsa is a tremendous student, ranking sixth in the senior class.

Some of the players coming back next year include, Trishla Donnelly, Judy Krych, Chris Mc Carthy, Kim Krug, Maria Ribon, Debbie Pedone, Pat Slsto, Melanie Bonacorsa, Tara Marcantuono and Jackie Warnock.

Donnelly, Krych and Mc Carthy saw a good deal of playing time this past season. All three girls showed good play at the net and improved their defense tremendously as the year progressed.

"We'll have mostly sophomores and juniors on next years team," Worley said. "All positions are open. We'll need setters, blockers and hitters. A lot of kids got a chance to play varsity and J.V. ball this year. If they go to camp and continue to play the game, we should be in good shape next fall."

Belleville Hall of Fame inducts seven

The entire staff of the Belleville Athletic Council stands tall at the Chandelier. Once again, the Hall of Fame dinner was a big success.

Jim Corino, a graduate of Belleville High School in 1965, was inducted into the Hall of Fame. Corino is also a member of the Lyndhurst Hall of Fame and is principal at Lyndhurst High School.

Paul Santinelli accepts congratulations for his son, Angelo Santinelli, who was inducted into the Belleville Hall of Fame last Friday. Santinelli was a standout football player and wrestler in the late 70's.

Michael Tortorello addresses the large audience at the Chandelier last Friday, after being inducted into the Hall of Fame.

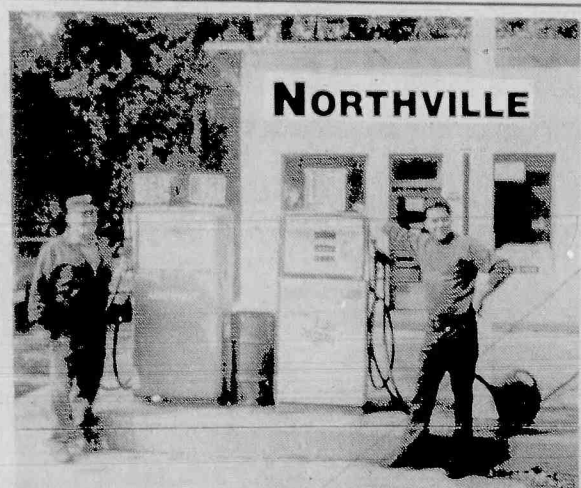

John Grant accepts the Hall of Fame induction for his son David last Friday evening. David, a 1983 BHS graduate, is a rookie lineman with the NFL Cincinnati Bengals.

Ramiro Borja was inducted into the Belleville Hall of Fame. Here, his brother accepts the award for Ramiro, who was unable to attend the banquet.

Craig Mack, a standout football player for Belleville in the early 1980's, was inducted into the Hall of Fame last Friday night. Mack is a Belleville Police Officer today.

Future looks promising

Cross Country started slow before finishing with sprint

Considering the way the 1988 season started for the Belleville cross country team, it's safe to say the year was quite successful for coach John Tosato and Company.

Two months ago, Tosato wasn't sure if he would have a full varsity team. The Bucs had lost four seniors to graduation and a fifth runner would have been a senior this fall transferred to another school. The 1988 campaign started with just three runners and the Bucs had to forfeit the opening tri match of the season.

"It didn't look too good," admitted Tosato about the early days of September. "But the kids started to come around and we have some promising runners who will return next year. They're optimistic about the future now."

After the poor beginning, Belleville ended the '88 campaign with six varsity runners on the boys' team. One of those runners, Paprop Rattansontorn, will be graduated this spring. The remaining five, however, will be back for the 1989 campaign.

The top runner, point wise, on this years squad was junior John Matos. He compiled 26 points and earned Honorable Mention, NNJIL. Matos has been an outdoor track runner since his freshman year, but this was his first season of cross country running.

His best time of the year came against West Essex on Bucs home course. Matos ran the 3.1 mile course in 18:10.

The second highest point scorer was sophomore Paul Parmenter. He tallied 23 points on the year and his best time was 18:19, also against West Essex.

Parmenter is a member of all three track programs at Belleville High. He runs cross country during the fall, indoor track in the winter time and outdoor track in the spring.

Sophomore Brian Doyle scored 11 points this year. His best time came on a very tough course at St. Joe's, Montvale. Doyle ran 19:16 on the 3.1 mile course. He will now concentrate on the indoor campaign and also runs outdoor track.

Junior Garay Nangla scored eight points in limited action this season. Nangla ran in six of the Bucs nine races. His best time of the season came in the county championship race when he ran 18:52 at Branch Brook Park. Against West Essex, he finished with a strong time of 18:56.

Freshman Carmine Di Biase showed vast improvement during the course of the season. He came through with a time of 21:21 in the West Essex meet and Tosato was quite pleased with Di Biase's progress over the past month.

gress over the past month.

Rattansontorn ran cross country for the first time this fall and caught on to the sport quickly. He was the number five runner on a couple of occasions when Nangla could not compete.

For the girls, Diane Di Vincenzo was the only varsity runner. She earned Honorable Mention, NNJIL, and had a personal best time of 24:55 in the Nutley race. Di Vincenzo has the talent to become an excellent runner. Belleville High School has had some outstanding female runners throughout the years and Di Vincenzo could add her name to that list before her career is concluded.

The team manager this fall was Andrew Hutchinson, who assisted Tosato and the team in many ways.

Belleville finished seventh in the league championships this year and 18th in the tough county championship race. The Bucs came close in two meets, losing to arch rival Nutley by three points and bowing to West Essex by one point. Considering the top five runners are due back next fall, the future looks good for Belleville cross country.

Varsity Club sports dinner

The Belleville Varsity Club will be honoring the senior participants of all Fall sports at their annual Fall Sports Dinner to be held Thursday, December 8, 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne Manor, Route 23, Wayne.

Anyone wishing to attend at $20 per person, may contact Grace Worley at 450-3454.

Special Olympics basketball tryouts

The first and only Essex County team to participate in the New Jersey Special Olympics basketball league begins its second season Monday, Dec. 5. Tryouts and practice begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Carteret grammar school in Bloomfield. All men and women from ages 13 and up are welcome to come and try out for this year's team. Last year's team went all the way to the playoffs and included special olympians from Caldwell, West Caldwell, Montclair, Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley.

Charlie Trapani from Caldwell, the team's coach and program director, has been a certified Special Olympics coach for over two years. Trapani, a graduate of the University of Vermont, played on the varsity basketball team for four years and played professionally in Europe. He is currently director of marketing for Area Lighting Research Inc. in Hackettstown. Trapani says, "Nobody gets cut from this team. The emphasis of the program is on developing the individual's skill level and to give him/her an all-round appreciation for the game. We are not that concerned with how much basketball experience a person has — we work with all levels and we have fun."

Volunteers are needed to help out during practice and to help raise money for uniforms and warm-up jackets. People or organizations interested in helping out in any way are asked to call Charlie Trapani after 7:30 p.m. at 228-5907.

Annual Thanksgiving game

erback Mike Higgins is a major cog on the Raider offense.

"He's important to the game plan, because he does so many things well. He can run for big gains and has excellent receivers to throw to. You can't just key on him, because of their potent running game, but he really makes that offense go."

Other key players on the Raider roster are Marty Rizzolo, Joe Piro, Joe Vecchio, Vito Mielnicki, Derek Hughes and Jim Florio. The Raiders head coach is veteran Pete La Barberia.

It's a very talented team that Nutley will bring to Belleville tomorrow morning. Senesky hopes his team is ready for the challenge.

NOTES: Nutley won last years game, 14-0 at the Nutley Oval. Over the past ten years (1978-87), Belleville has won seven of ten games, but Nutley has won three of the last four (1984, '85 and '87). Nutley's last victory at Belleville came in 1984, a 19-6 win that denied Belleville the NNJIL title. Belleville's last victory in this series came in 1986, a 27-16 victory that clinched the conference crown. There is more on the Buc-Raider rivalry over the past ten years in this weeks Buc Shots.

Nutley will face a formidable foe in Randolph in the sectional title game on December 3. Randolph has the state's longest unbeaten streak to date and has won the past two sectional titles. In Group IV, Section II playoffs last weekend, Union was upset by Morris Knolls and Montclair was ousted by Elizabeth. Morris Knolls remains undefeated and Elizabeth has just one loss.

Haynes wins in art show

Richard William Haynes, a Belleville artist, has recently won Best of Show for the third consecutive year in the 55th Annual International Miniature Art Exhibition in Washington, D.C. The exhibit is presented by the Miniature Painters, Sculptors, and Gravers Society of Washington, D.C. at the Arts Club, November 29 - December 21. Miniaturism is an art form enjoying a resurgence of interest among art patrons today. It is fine art in small scale, and was originally small enough to hold in the palm of one's hand. Before the advent of photography, the portrait miniature enjoyed great popularity in Europe and the United States. Today, artists portray all subjects in miniature using many media and generally rendering the subject one sixth or less of its actual size.

Haynes currently exhibits his miniature art in Gallery Americana, Carmel, Ca.; Colorworks Gallery, Hilton Head, S.C., and locally at the Essex Fine Arts Gallery, Montclair.

The New Jersey Miniature Art Society is pleased to announce their Annual International Miniature Art Exhibition presented by the Society is coming to Nutley next May. In a release a spokesperson for the society stated, "we hope the patrons we garnered at the Papermill Playhouse will follow us home to the Nutley area where we grew from a local art society to an international show involving hundreds of artists and thousands of paintings."

Wallace & Tiernan celebrate with giant cake

A huge birthday cake, the largest ever by Meyer's Bakery, marked one of the highlights of Wallace & Tiernan's 75th anniversary celebration earlier this month.

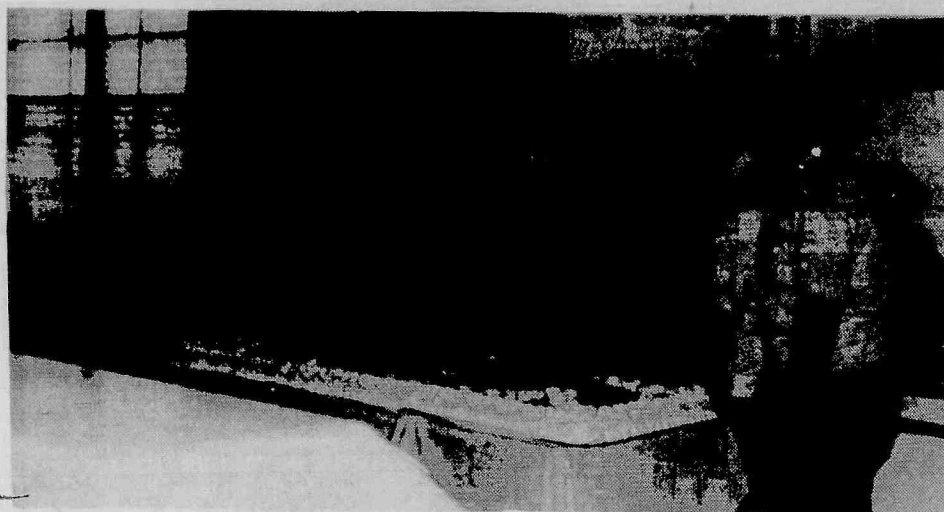

The six-foot cake, decorated in Wallace & Tiernan's blue and white colors, was adorned with a large 75. It yielded almost 600 pieces, one for each employee who had lunch in the Wallace & Tiernan cafeteria on November 10.

While Wallace & Tiernan's official founding date is November

13, 1913, the company is actually some nine months older. On February 22, 1913, Charles Wallace and Martin Tiernan installed their initial gas-feed device, which they called a "chlorinator," at Jersey City's Boonton reservoir. They had contracted to design, build, and install a "chlorine-gas-feed apparatus" for $150. Before that time, water treatment technology had not advanced beyond hypochlorite liquid. As a liquid, its application to water supplies required cumbersome and often-unreliable apparatus.

This historic chlorinator, which the company calls its "Old Number One," has been carefully preserved. It is on permanent display in the Belleville plants third-floor lobby. It's remembered as the first commercial gas chlorinator to operate successfully. As such, it got the multi-million dollar water-treatment-equipment industry off and running.

Board of Ed approves cuts

uel Klein and Company completed the audit of the board of education's financial records and made six recommendations. The first was Adult School records be updated to include a receipts journal and stubs. Two, certain outstanding checks of the Net Payroll Account be reviewed and determine which should be reissued or cancelled. Three, copies of comments on various internal schools be forwarded to responsible officials for corrective action. Four, a monthly cash reconciliation of the Athletic Fund be prepared. Five, a separate set of records be maintained independently by the Treasurer of School Monies, who is Town Treasurer Isadore Padula. Six, fixed asset inventory be reviewed and appropriate adjustments be made.

Florence Ravalese addressed the board about school security, saying she was concerned because her daughter had almost been abducted by a man last week while she was in Belleville Middle School. Ravalese's daughter had arrived late and was walking up a flight of stairs in the school when the man grabbed her. He fled when the girl screamed and people came to her aid.

Board Secretary and School Business Administrator Edward Appleton said initial proposals on specifications on security systems for the school is being done and additional proposals will be included. After specifications are decided, a meeting with the Consolidated Home and Schools will be held to come to an agreement. Consolidated has tentatively agreed to pay for half of the cost of the systems.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello said principals and staff of each school will be notified to be aware of potential dangers.

Epilepsy awareness month

Governor Thomas Kean has declared November, 1988, as National Epilepsy Awareness Month.

The proclamation signed by Governor Kean recognizes the increasing number of cases of epilepsy throughout the state. Approximately two million Americans presently suffer from Epilepsy.

Assemblyman John V. Kelly, who contacted Governor Kean, urging him to declare November as Epilepsy Awareness month was pleased with the statewide recognition of epilepsy. Kelly stated, "the Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey, and particularly the Essex Chapter, are waging a public education forum to educate the general public about epilepsy. This is the first step in allowing people with epilepsy to lead normal active lives."

Epilepsy is a physical condition caused by sudden, brief changes in how the brain works. Epilepsy is sometimes known as a seizure disorder. The condition affects people of all ages and races.

Home Appliances Offer Convenience And Savings

Save energy by only using as much hot water as the need calls for.

If you're shopping for a new kitchen appliance, you probably know that the new features are great for saving time and for making cooking a whole lot easier, but did you also know they'll lower your energy bills as well?

While you're looking for that perfect color, be sure to also look for the federal "Energyguide" label; it will tell you how much your estimated annual operating costs will be each year. Use it to compare with other brands and styles.

When looking for a new refrigerator or freezer, you can save money by buying one that's just large enough for your family's needs. Any larger and you're wasting energy. And if your new refrigerator is equipped with a power-saver switch to prevent "sweating" on the outside of the refrigerator doors, try turning the switch off and see if condensation is a problem; if not, turn the switch off, and you'll save money.

With your current kitchen appliances, you can save energy too. Always match the size of the cooking utensil to the heating element, and use lids to keep the heat in the pots and pans. If your oven has a self-cleaning cycle, use it only for major cleaning jobs—a few times a year. Whenever possible, use your microwave oven instead of your conventional range or oven. You'll use less energy.

When it's time to clean up, remember that your dishwasher uses the same amount of hot water to wash a half load of dishes as it does for a full load. Also, if your dishwasher has an "air dry" setting, using it to dry your dishes saves you about 10 percent of your total dishwashing energy costs. In the winter, turn the dishwasher off when it reaches the drying cycle, and open the door. You'll add humidity to the dry air, and save money by air drying your dishes naturally.

You can also cut your energy bill while washing and drying your clothes. For big savings, use warm or cold water whenever possible. And always use cold water for rinses. When drying clothes, don't overdry them, and clean the lint filter thoroughly after each complete drying cycle.

There you have them, simple energy-saving steps that when practiced regularly, will go a long way in lowering your home's monthly energy bill.

Wall And Ceiling Texture Creates Dramatic Patterns

Quik 'N Easy® Ready-To-Use Wall and Ceiling Texture, from United States Gypsum Company, offers home builders an easy one-coat application with a variety of texture possibilities.

Designed to create dramatic textured patterns while covering minor cracks and defects, USG® & Easy™ Ready-To-Use Wall and Ceiling Texture is formulated to provide an easy, one-coat application. The product may be used directly out of the pail for dimensional designs of up to 3/8" stipple height.

This wall and ceiling texture, available in a 3.5 gallon pail, may be applied with a brush, roller, trowel or spray equipment. The product dries to a hard white finish and then can be painted.

A brochure pictures several new design ideas like swirls, burlap, waves and stucco, but many more creative texture finishes are possible with the product. For a copy of J-583 brochure, write to United States Gypsum Company, Dept. 122-ZZ, 101 S. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Illinois 60606.

United States Gypsum Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of USG Corporation, headquartered in Chicago.

Gas Home Of Future

A house featuring innovative natural gas appliances, systems and equipment is serving as a proving ground for the home of the future.

The house is designed to use a completely new delivery system for energy, information, communication, security, safety and entertainment, according to the American Gas Association.

Billed as the most revolutionary development in home design since indoor plumbing, the "SMART HOUSE," built and operated by the National Association of Home Builders Research Center, uses a multifunction cable that combines power, communications and control signals. Gas and electric appliances, telephones, televisions and other equipment can be plugged into any outlet and controlled from locations throughout the house.

Built on a 51-acre tract in Bowie, Md., the laboratory house showcases natural gas technologies for the household of the 1990's, such as residential cogeneration, natural gas outlets for appliances with quick connections and disconnections, zoned heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems, and remote appliance control systems. Special focus has been given to semirigid natural gas piping that provides convenient gas outlets in every room of the house as well as outside the home for using gas grills. The house is designed to provide gas to areas where it is needed, only when it is needed.

Gas appliances can be programmed to function for authorized persons only, and have a built-in safety feature that automatically interrupts energy flow should the equipment malfunction or a gas leak be detected.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q: I am 52 years of age and would like to sell my house. I feel it might be worth $200,000 conservatively. I only paid $17,000 for it. During the past 27 years I have added a room, garage, finished the basement and added a patio with a brick BBQ. I recently remodeled the bathroom and kitchen. Total improvements cost me about $40,000 over the years. I plan to move to Florida and rent, as I don't know if I want to buy another house. Could you briefly explain my tax bite on this sale?

A: Well, first of all if you don't buy another residence within 2 years of the sale, you are in real trouble. There is a one time $125,000 profit exclusion which you are not taxed on but it applies to persons 55 years of age or older. Only you would not be able to take advantage of this crucial tax break unless you roll the gain over and buy another home, condo, townhouse, etc. Personally, I can't understand why you would prefer to rent, but if you did not buy another residence within the allowed 2 year time frame, here is basically how you would be taxed.

You net $200,000 from the sale of your home, after selling costs & fees. Your cost basis is the original price, $17,000, plus improvements of $40,000, which should be verifiable (keep accurate records). Your total taxable gain is $200,000 less $57,000 or $143,000. This is added to your yearly income and taxed as you would ordinary income, possibly as high as 33%. If you waited until you were 55, you could deduct $125,000 from that taxable figure. Talk to an accountant and rethink your move carefully.

Q: I am thinking of starting a small retail business. I've been looking in the papers for a small store front. How is the rent figured when it is listed as a price per square foot, say $10 or $12 per square foot?

A: The total rentable space is multiplied by the price per square foot. This is a yearly figure. Divide by 12 for your monthly rent.

Did You Know??

We'll say this for a coat of white paint: it looks light and airy and, better yet, it makes disparate pieces of furniture look as if they really match. Spray-paint for an easy, almost perfect result.

Cedar siding may mildew and turn dark. Wood sealer with water repellent can protect it. Clear sealer will keep the fresh, clean look; for the silver-gray look of weathered cedar, choose a weathered-gray shingle stain.

Condo prices are moving back up on average, now that the oversupply in some parts of the country is disappearing, according to the National Association of Realtors.

Need to remove grease stains from wallpaper? An old trick is to use white bread to absorb the grease.

The average United States household dropped to 2.66 persons last year, continuing the shrinkage of recent years. Two reasons are given: more households headed by over-65s, and more couples without children (DINKS, for "double income, no kids").

Happy Thanksgiving — the home, sweet home holiday — from your friends at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 84 Union Ave., Nutley. 235-9000.

HOLIDAY MAKE-UP TIPS

By Ilana Harkavi

More women wear make-up during the holiday season than at any other time of the year. Since many of them are not accustomed to wearing make-up, there is a tendency to apply either too much color or an overabundance of sparkle. Ilana Harkavi, author of I'll Make You Beautiful (NAL Books) and Creative Director of Il-Makiage, offers the following make-up tips to make your holiday more beautiful:

- *1) To perk up eyes with telltale lines from too much partying, apply an eye cream beneath the eye area before applying your concealer.
- *2) To add subtle sparkle to your eyes, apply iridescent pigments to the inner corner of the eye. Your eyes will appear larger and more luminous.
- *3) For a plumper, more sensual lip, apply a streak of iridescent lipstick down the center of the lips, either beneath or over a matte shade.
- *4) Iridescent shades are beautiful for the holidays, but also more drying. Use moisturizer over the face and lip balm over lips to hold in moisture.
- *5) Use face powders with a hint of iridescence to add subtle shine to your holiday face.

- *6) For just that hint of glitz, apply a thin line of glitter gel as an eyeliner. Use also to highlight hair, shoulders and lips.
- *7) Carry an all-around make-up kit for quick changes during this party season. A great one is Il-Makiage's I'll Make You Beautiful Kit, complete with brushes, lipstick, mascara, concealer, pencils, and nine shadows and rouges. Retail price: $50.00. Available through mail order at 1-800-722-1011, and at the Il-Makiage salon located at 107 E. 60th St., New York, NY 10022. Phone 212/371-3992. Change your look from office to party in less than five minutes!

For more tips on make-up you can do throughout the year, read I'll Make You Beautiful (NAL Books) by Ilana Harkavi, now available in paperback at bookstores. Make-up artist to such luminaries as Diana Ross and Cher, Ilana Harkavi shares her knowledge of make-up techniques and trends through an easy to read text complete with color photos and specific illustrations.

For unusual, yet practical gifts, think automotive this Christmas

When you do your Christmas shopping for those special someone this year, try shopping in the automotive department rather than rushing straight to the casual clothes department, suggests Car Care Council. A new muffler or fan belt could be "just what they've always wanted" or at least something they really need but haven't taken the time to buy for themselves.

Automotive gifts for Christmas are not a novel idea, but they can offer some interesting possibilities.

An updated sound system could be the perfect gift for someone whose old radio and eight track tape deck are outmoded.

Budget-wise gifts

For tighter budgets, what about fog lights, a portable CB radio, tires or a pair of winter wiper blades that flex off ice and snow?

There are also auto books, illuminated compasses and ice scrapers with fleecy protective mitts.

Speaking of fleecy, how about sheepskin seat covers? Or, looking toward spring, consider a gift certificate for a sunroof.

Depending upon how much of a "buff" or mechanic he/she is, you might want to give tools or some electrical testing equipment, perhaps a set of jumper cables, a battery charger or a new battery.

Double-purpose gifts

Auto parts and repairs can be great gifts for people whose cars need attention. For that friend or relative who's been "bumming" rides because the car won't start, a tune-up would be a double-purpose gift; for someone worried about his or her brakes, a brake job for Christmas offers peace of mind as well as safety.

Fun for the whole family

SPRING THESE ON YOUR FAMILY: Make your holiday festive by involving everyone in the fun and games. Sproing, around $10.00, Uno Dice, around $8.50, and Top That, around $4.00, are new this year and can be played by the entire family. All by International Games.

Storytelling toy provides safety lessons

©Safety is a practical holiday gift that will both delight and help protect children all year long. Children have a new ambassador of safety education this holiday season, and he's cuddly, furry and adorably eloquent.

Teddy Ruxpin, the animated storytelling bear who has charmed millions with his tales of trust and friendship, is now using his unique communication abilities to educate children on safety through new book and audio tape sets.

Now available, the "Teddy Ruxpin Safe 'N' Sound Series" is a collection of three book and tape sets, sold separately, that feature Teddy Ruxpin and friends learning and teaching safety tips in original new stories and adventures.

A special friend

"Over the last three years, Teddy Ruxpin has shown that he is a trustworthy and special friend who really cares," said Paul Rago, vice president of marketing for Worlds of Wonder, Inc.

"Because children relate so well to him, he is the perfect character to communicate safety messages in a manner that children understand and remember."

The three topics now available are water safety, fire safety and home safety. The stories were developed in conjunction with national safety organizations and are endorsed by the United States Lifesaving Association and the National Child Safety Council.

Each storybook features colorfully illustrated original artwork with key safety tips printed on the inside cover. Dialogue of the corresponding audio tape is printed on each page so children can follow along as Teddy and friends tell the story.

Since his introduction in 1985, Teddy Ruxpin has been effective at communicating important information to children in a non-threatening and caring manner.

He has served as "spokesbear" for several prominent safety organizations, including the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, the United States Lifesaving Association and the National Association of Fire Chiefs.

A notable first

The series is the first time Teddy Ruxpin's safety messages will be available to consumers at retail. Each book and tape set sells for about $10. Worlds of Wonder, Inc., maker of Teddy Ruxpin, may produce additional safety tapes in the future.

For more information about Teddy Ruxpin, call (800)342-5969.

A CHRISTMAS TALE

The bells above the door at my little shop jingled delicately as the bearded stranger pushed his way in from the icy air. As the door opened, I could hear that a commotion was brewing near the Municipal Lot, the likes of which this peaceful town of Rutherford had never seen. People were scurrying everywhere and pointing, with looks of amazement on their faces. The cause of their animation I do not know to this day for I was preoccupied with the heavy-set stranger in clothing I had never seen before (except maybe in Greenwich Village) save on... No, it couldn't be!

It must have been bitter cold indeed for this little man's cheeks were as crimson as apples in the fall. It all seems as a haze to me now, this strange person walking about my humble shop inspecting my Christmas dresses with a very knowing eye. Who was this fellow, I wondered, as he strode up to the front desk with a slight twinkle in his eye. "I'll take six dozen of this style and three of that," he said in utter seriousness. "Lots of little girls to please," he mumbled almost inaudibly, "and those helpers o'mine are way behind this year." With that, he left just as quickly as he entered. Again, the rush of air, the tingling of the bell, and the citizens of this good town straining their necks skyward to catch a last glimpse.

Who was the little man? Dare I think what I am thinking? Or was it perhaps all a dream? I'd be most grateful for any information pertaining to the subject at hand. If you saw what I saw, or even if you only believe it possible, please stop by, won't you?

THE FIRST TREES

"Oh, Christmas Tree..." Thousands of years ago people in Egypt, Rome and England decorated trees to celebrate the beginning of winter. But, according to Ranger Rick magazine, it was not until 400 years ago that people in Germany decorated the first trees to celebrate Christmas.

Then, on Christmas day in 1747, some German settlers in Bethlehem, Pa., decorated trees for their children. These were probably the first Christmas trees in America. HL880024

REINDEER FACTS

Santa Claus sure knew what he was doing when he chose reindeer to pull his sleigh. While reindeer are quite small—usually around three-and-a-half feet tall—they have great strength and endurance.

Ranger Rick magazine reports that a healthy reindeer usually weighs about 150-250 pounds and can pull its own weight in cargo on sleds across the tundra—or the rooftops! HL880027

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF SANTA CLAUS

Santa Claus began his career as Saint Nicholas. A fourth century bishop from Lycia in Asia Minor, St. Nicholas was credited, after his death, with many acts of selfless generosity and good will, some of them miraculous.

On one occasion, St. Nicholas brought back to life three small boys killed seven years earlier by a cruel butcher.

Another time, he saved a town from famine by diverting a shipment of grain to it. The grain then miraculously reproduced itself, so that the merchant to whom it belonged lost nothing.

A famous legend

The most famous of the legends about his good deeds tells how St. Nicholas bestowed dowries on three sisters who were destined, because of their father's poverty, to lives of privation and possible slavery.

On three successive nights, St. Nicholas secretly tossed a bag of gold down the chimney of the girls' home, providing them with the means to marry.

In commemoration of this good deed, in the Netherlands three oranges were traditionally left out in a dish on St. Nicholas' Day, December sixth, to symbolize his golden gifts.

By the 14th century, St. Nicholas Day was an occasion for giving gifts. Over time, because of the gift-giving tradition and the proximity of his day to Christmas Day, St. Nicholas became associated with Christmas.

Thomas Nast, an American illustrator, popularized the name Santa Claus (which is probably derived from the Dutch Sante Klass, or Saint Nicholas) in the 19th century.

Nast's illustrations depicted Santa as we know him today: A fat, jolly man in a fur-trimmed red suit. Nast also was the first to locate Santa's home at the North Pole.

Warm up winter with accessories

THE FINISHING TOUCHES of your holiday wardrobe may do well to include knit accessories like these. The classic, solid topper is embraced with a patterned scarf and extra long gloves...all very new. For an added fashion statement, this scarf reverses to a second chic pattern, on a choice of white, voguish black or mocha grounds that match the hat and gloves. The double-banded hat sets the color theme for patterns on the scarf, as well as the birds' eyes on the gloves, and is selected to go with most outerwear. Available from Hansen* in 100 percent Creslan* acrylic fiber, the topper sells for about $23, while the reversible scarf commands $18.50, and the gloves, about $10. ©

Handy tips for the holiday videotaper

©The holidays are filled with priceless moments. Fortunately, today's lightweight and easy-to-use camcorders make it simpler than ever to capture family memories forever.

"Although camcorders make it easier than ever to record holiday gatherings, practice is the best route to top quality home tapes," says Thomas P. Friel, group vice president, Electronic Industries Association/Consumer Electronics Group (EIA/CEG).

To help consumers get the best results from their camcorders this holiday season, Friel offers a few handy home taping tips.

1. Get to know your camcorder! If you have just received your camcorder, read the manual from cover to cover. Then, a few days before the holidays, take an evening to experiment with a few practice tapes before you try to capture the magic of Christmas morning.

Record under a variety of lighting conditions and practice using the zoom lens. If you don't have an automatic focus camcorder, get accustomed to using the focus ring.

2. Inspect and service your equipment before the holidays. If you have owned your camcorder for any length of time, it is a good idea to start the holiday season with an equipment inspection.

Friel says: "Camcorders are sophisticated pieces of equipment, and a little preventive maintenance can save you a great deal of money in the long run. If you decide to give your camcorder a professional checkup, make sure that your dealer is certified to service it."

3. Stock up on top quality tape. When you are recording special moments, it just doesn't make sense to cut corners on tape. Buying and using premium shooting indoors, fill the frame, avoid long shots and stay close to the action.

9. Use the zoom selectively. Beginners often make the mistake of over-using a zoom lens. On tape, the results can be distracting, not dramatic.

10. Keep it steady. Quick camcorder movements turn tapes into a visual jumble. Stand in one place while shooting and take care to make your "pans" slow and steady. If possible, use a shoulder harness or a tripod for a steady, jitter-free picture.

11. Label and date your tapes. After recording, it is a good idea to remove the tape from the camcorder to prevent damage to both the tapes and the delicate recording heads.

Also, make it a practice to label your cassettes with the date, the place and even the names of the people in the tape immediately after you finish shooting.

Store your tapes like books, standing on end in their sleeves, away from moisture, sunlight, heat, dust and household appliances. Also, break the small tab on the spine of the tape cartridge to prevent accidental erasure.

If you set your camcorder down for a moment, make sure it isn't near a TV, stereo loudspeaker or an electrical appliance, or you may inadvertently erase your tape.

If you are traveling out of town for the holidays, Friel also advises carrying extra tape, a battery charger and batteries.

He also offers a word to the wise: "If you fly, checking your camcorder with the luggage is one of the easiest ways to lose your equipment. Passing tapes and equipment through the airport x-ray may erase those holiday memories."

quality videotape are among the easiest steps you can take to preserve the life of your camcorder and make better home productions.

4. Check the light in the room. If the lighting is inadequate, you may have to provide additional lighting, manually adjust your aperture, or even rethink your angles.

Directly photographing a light source, such as a lamp, may leave a white flare in your picture. Heavy backlighting may obscure your subject's face in shadows. Some camcorders have a backlight compensation switch.

5. Do a pre-shoot test. Before you tape, check your equipment. Is the camcorder functioning? Is the lens clean? Are the batteries fresh? Do you have extra batteries? Is the lighting sufficient? Do you have enough tape on hand? Are you using top-quality tape?

6. Plan your shots. Before you tape the holiday reunion, take a moment to plan exactly what you expect to shoot. Perhaps you want to catch the look on the children's faces when they open their presents, or the family's arrival for Christmas dinner.

Visualize the scenes you wish to record and plan your angles. Occasionally change your perspective and shoot from different angles for more variety and to produce more interesting shots.

7. Set the mood with an "establishing" shot. The pros know that a scene's impact is greater if a mood is first set by a good opening shot. Perhaps you may wish to start with a shot of the Christmas tree, the dinner table setting, or an exterior of your brightly lit home.

8. Tightly frame your shots. Video is ideal for capturing the intimacy of a moment through closeups. If you are
