'Superb' school system

'Best kept secret' passes state monitoring

By Pat Brightman

Calling Belleville's school system "superb" and "the best kept educational secret in the county," Essex County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Elena Scambio gave her approval of the district, at the Belleville Board of Education meeting Monday night.

"Based upon my monitoring I am recommending to the State supervisor that Belleville be certified for the next five years," said Scambio.

Those words were music to the ears of school administrators and board members who had prepared for months for the month-long monitoring session held in October by a 14 member staff.

"It is quite apparent the Belleville school system is on the move," declared the county superintendent after publicly commending Belleville's administration for their professionalism before an audience which included many principals, teachers, school administrators, and Mayor Michael Pizzi. "If you had a yardstick to measure where the curriculum was five years ago and where it is now, the yardstick wouldn't be long enough."

Scambio explained 10 elements were examined by the staff members, including financial bookkeeping, condition of facilities, staff and student attendance, state mandated programs, state mandated test scores, special education, equal opportunity, basic skills, and curriculum. While Scambio did find room for improvement in some areas, she was very satisfied with the overall educational system in Belleville.

Self-assessment a benefit

"The real benefit (of monitoring) is self-assessment of the staff," explained Scambio. "In preparing you have to look at everybody. You look for ways to lessen the gap from where you are and where you want to be."

Curriculum revision was considered "very thorough" by Scambio and the in-service training program was "outstanding." Student attendance was at a recorded rate of 92.3 percent and staff attendance was 96.9 percent. Physical structures received a passing grade because the five year maintenance plan was carried out despite insufficient funds, claimed Scambio.

"Even though many of the buildings are at least 50 years old there was a high degree of building maintenance. They were very clean," claimed Scambio. "As I look ahead I must caution that you should allocate additional funds so maintenance may be done properly."

Ninth-grade test scores on state achievement tests "far surpassed" state requirements. In reading, the results were 93.9 percent passing, math, 85.9 percent, and writing, 95.8 percent. Both Basic Skills and Bilingual English as a Second Language met state standards and were followed in a manner consistent with their design.

"When I looked back at the financial reports prior to last April I had very serious concerns," admitted the county superintendent. "Since April, every single financial report has been submitted with no errors and on time. I don't know how Mr. Appleton did it but he should be commended."

Some concerns

Scambio had concerns with Special Education, and admitted it only marginally passed. She said the 90 day timeline requirement of placement was not always met and written letters for appointments with parents of special education students was not always done. She also had concerns about graduation requirements for special education students, resource rooms and the pre-school handicapped program.

A 90 page report, containing recommendations on Special Education, was given to Superintendent.

Police officials refute charge of 'top heavy' department

Belleville Police officials have called statements made by Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto that the police department is "top heavy" incorrect, particularly when compared to similar departments in surrounding communities.

Fornarotto made the statements in an article regarding a new, three-year police contract passed on first reading by the Commissioners at its November 22 meeting. Fornarotto, who heads the Public Affairs Department, has said the ratio of officers to patrolmen is too high.

"By no means are we top heavy," claimed Mayor Michael Pizzi, who is commissioner of Public Safety, of which the police department falls under. Pizzi pointed out the department has 86 men, five under the allowable number. "I've been holding off on the sergeants due to certain budgetary reasons but there is going to be a time when they're (appointments) going to have to be made."

A breakdown of the 86 men reveals there is one chief, two deputy chiefs, five captains, six lieutenants, six sergeants, 14 detectives and 52 patrolmen. According to figures provided by Belleville Police, towns similar in department size have more officers per patrolman than Belleville.

To use as a comparison only towns within 20 men, either more or less, of Belleville are used in the examination. Orange, with 88 men, have one chief, one deputy chief, four captains, 11 lieutenants, 18 sergeants, 23 detectives and 31 patrolmen. Montclair, with 94 men, has one chief, two deputy chiefs, four captains, eight lieutenants, nine sergeants, 10 detectives, and 60 patrolmen. West Orange has one chief, two deputy chiefs, five captains, eight lieutenants, 20 sergeants, 10 detectives, and 50 patrolmen. Paramus, with 102 men, has a chief, a deputy chief, four captains, 12 lieutenants, 11 sergeants, 27 detectives and 56 patrolmen. Hillside has a chief, three deputy chiefs, four captains, five lieutenants, 10 sergeants, 15 detectives, and 32 patrolmen.

Fornarotto said he is waiting on his own list of neighboring towns' police breakdown but still maintains the number of officers is too high. "Belleville's only 2.5 square miles, excluding county land. It's a small area. There's too many," he said, "but it's only my opinion."

Back to the drawing board for expanded police station

An addition to Belleville Town Hall to expand Belleville Police Headquarters was brought up for discussion once again by the Belleville Board of Commissioners last week, almost 11 months after they rejected a $5 million proposal of a new public safety building.

During a special meeting the commissioners discussed an addition to the existing town hall, but no concrete plans were agreed upon. "It was an effort on our part," said Mayor Michael Pizzi, "to show that we are in need. We will continue until some kind of plan" can be approved.

Pizzi said an official building committee meeting has not been held regarding a new plan but the committee will come together to discuss alternatives before the holidays.

At the building committee meeting, the group will decide on what exactly will be proposed and chose an architect and engineers for the potential project.

The saga of the police headquarters has been well documented, from the concept of an entire new municipal building, which would house all the local government subsidiaries and provide for a new, larger police station at a cost of $10 million to the rejected public safety building by a 3-2 vote at the January 19 meeting earlier this year. Despite these previous rejections, Pizzi, who voted in favor of the new building in January, remains optimistic.

"On the basic premise we agree," explained Pizzi. "Most of my colleagues agree we need some type (of addition), whether it be in back of town hall or wherever. I see it (the meeting) as a vote of confidence."

"We approved a concept," detailed Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni. "There was a lot of confusion the last time."

It is a general feeling among

24-unit condominium complex approved by Zoning Board

A 24 unit condominium complex was approved by the Belleville Zoning Board of Adjustment at its monthly meeting held Tuesday night.

The board also approved construction of a two-family structure on a vacant lot on Mill Street and advised the board attorney to notify two members in writing, requesting they resign so new members can be appointed.

The 24 unit complex, located at 191-213 Stephens St., was approved by a unanimous 6-0 vote. It had been on the agenda for approximately nine months and the summation and vote had been postponed for two months because the applicant, Jolly Roger Motor Court, did not want a vote with only five members present. Five affirmative votes were needed for approval.

Jolly Roger Motor Court's attorney, Robert Gaccione, said due to the extensive period of time that the applicant had been waiting for a vote, they would accept a vote despite the fact the board was still short one member.

"But for a use variance, we have met all township ordinances," claimed Gaccione as he said the complex would be an improvement to the area.

The complex will contain two, three-story buildings, each housing 12 units on a 1.44 acre lot. There will be a 52 percent green area, the largest percentage of green area on a housing complex in Belleville, according to architect Edward Centenni. There is also less than 15 percent lot coverage, less than half the allowable 30 percent and 56 parking spaces.

Presently, the lot is a storage area for Cerami Construction, used for housing building and construction equipment. Gaccione stated the present use, industrial, is non-conforming and the applied use is more closely related to the two-family zone the property. Testimony revealed the condominium complex is better suited for the lot than two-family, allowing for more green area and less traffic problems, while being a more attractive real estate investment.

A three-story, two family house at 706 Mill Street was approved unanimously, 5-0, by the board. The newest member of the board, Thomas Fuscaldo, did not vote on the application.

Charles Cerami, of Cerami Construction, said his construction company will purchase the vacant lot from Newark Service Corporation and will build the structure.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

A gas attendant was arrested after an investigation revealed a robbery of the gas station was designed by the attendant and an accomplice.

Innocenzo Rivera, 18, of Belleville, was charged with theft, false police report, and conspiracy, and Pedro Lebron, 18, of Newark, was charged with theft, conspiracy, and possession of drug paraphernalia after Detective Joseph Tortorello discovered the report given by Rivera about an armed robbery was fabricated.

On December 1, patrol cars arrived at Ricky's Shell Gas Station on Belleville Avenue on a report of an armed robbery. After Tortorello's investigation it was revealed there was no armed robbery; Rivera had given $332 cash to Lebron earlier that evening and reported an armed robbery later that night to cover-up the theft.

An attempted car theft was thwarted when the owner of the car surprised the suspect, forcing the suspect to flee the scene, December 3.

After shopping in the K-Mart, the owner of a 1976 Datsun and her son walked up to the car parked in the lot. As they approached, they noticed a hispanic man in the car. When the suspect noticed the mother and son, he pulled a knife, told the two to move away, ran to a nearby car, and fled the scene.

The suspect was described as approximately 35 years old, with a beard and mustache, about 5'8". The car which fled the scene was a Datsun 280Z.

While on patrol December 3, officers Ciccone and Bamgartner noticed a broken window at School 5. After investigating the scene, it was determined nothing was taken from the school. The case was turned over to Detective La Vista of the Juvenile Department, and two juveniles were apprehended.

A trailer on Stephens Street was broken into and four checks, totaling $4,600 were stolen November 30. All the checks were cancelled before they could be cashed.

Four vending machines located in the Domestic Linen building on Cortlandt Street were broken into and an undetermined amount of money stolen December 5. Fingerprints were taken and the case is being investigated by the detective bureau.

A Newark man was arrested for possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after being stopped at the corner of Union Avenue and White Oak Terrace by the tactical narcotics squad November 30. The squad noticed Anthony Hernandez acting suspiciously during the early morning hour, stopped him and after questioning, discovered he was in possession of the CDS and paraphernalia.

On December 4, an attempted burglary on Newark Avenue was

Two Belleville men were arrested at 3:30 a.m. Dec. 3 in a fight at a Centre Street restaurant in Nutley, police said.

The suspect fled the scene as soon as the woman noticed him.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

A recent study of income growth by conservative critics has concluded that many Americans were left out of the Reagan, so-called recovery, by pointing out that "real income" has declined for about 40 percent of families since 1979, and only an increase in the number of working wives prevented more families from falling behind inflation.

Annual gains in average per capita income, adjusted for inflation, fell from 2.1 percent in the boom years of the 1950s and 1960s to 1.2 percent in the 1980s, the study shows.

The report, by Seattle economist Stephen Rose and David Fasenfest, director of the University of Louisville's Urban Studies Center, is the latest attack in the political battle over the nature of recent changes in U.S. incomes and distribution of wealth...the dispute boils down to an assertion by liberals that the wealthy have benefited at the expense of the poor and middle class during President Reagan's administration.

The feud heated up two years ago when economists Barry Bluestone of the University of Massachusetts and Bennet Harrison of Massachusetts Institute of Technology claimed evidence of a "shrinking middle class," stagnant income growth, and a widening gap between rich and poor.

Few dispute that the share of income flowing to the richest 20 percent of Americans has increased during the 1980s, reaching a record 43.7 percent last year...In contrast, the amount of income going to the poorest one-fifth fell from 5.2 percent in 1979 to 4.6 percent last year, a shift conservatives attribute to the rising number of families headed by unmarried women who don't work full-time.

The results tend to show that even by conservative measurement, family income growth is stalled and uneven compared with prior years and in previous post-war decades.

Said President Jeff Faux of the Economic Policy Institute which conducted the survey, "This study leaves little doubt that, even granting the objections of conservative critics, American families have been under greater economic pressure in the past decade than in any decade of the post-war period."

The study shows husbands' salaries fell in 80 percent of married-couple households from 1979 to 1986, and the decline was steeper in low-income families. Wives increased their worktime by 18 percent from 1979 to 1986. "If they had not worked longer, family incomes would have grown by one-third less," Rose and Fasenfest said.

Since these families include 72 percent of the population, "the increased work effort of wives was the main reason many families have maintained living standards in a period of declining wages," they said. "Without this extra effort, over 60 percent of the population would have been worse off in 1986 than they were in 1987."

The modest income gains came at the cost of increased child-care expenses or foregoing having children, lost leisure time, "and the need to purchase services that were previously provided by family members," the study indicated.

All of which the above casts doubts on the intimation of family income gains under the Reagan Administration.

An interesting observation taken from the recent November election tallies for Belleville indicates Belleville has 16,799 registered voters, that may be a most important issue in determining if sufficient valid signatures are submitted on petitions seeking to change the form of Belleville's municipal government. Proponents for the change indicate only 3,360 valid petitions are needed to present a referendum election on the town ballot. They have indicated that they hope to acquire 4,000 such signatures.

Police, Public Works solve leaf dilemma

The Belleville Police Department and Belleville Department of Public Works have come in conjunction in hopes of clarifying the leaf situation in town.

Police Chief George Lister has agreed to post no parking signs on streets which may have leaves picked-up by public works employees. These signs will remain posted until all leaves in the area are removed.

Because of this, parking tickets will not be given to those who do not obey alternate side of the street parking outside of the posted area, according to Lister.

Numerous complaints have been voiced by citizens who claim tickets are falling on to their cars almost as often as leaves have fallen on their lawns since alternate side of the street parking was reinstituted November 14. The parking regulation is being enforced so that the D.P.W. can pick up leaves left on the road but citizens have inquired why they receive tickets when public works employees do not even pick up on their street.

"We don't know how far we'll get in one day," explained Commissioner of Public Works Angelo Risoli when asked why he can not inform the police which streets the D.P.W. will be on. "This year has just been crazy with the leaves."

Risoli pointed out his department has picked up more leaves this year at this time than last year and last year was considered one of the best for leaf removal. As of December 2, 1987, 485 yards of leaves had been picked up. Over the same period this year, 625 yards had been collected and approximately another 450 yards are in the public works yard and still must be delivered. The problem, according to Risoli, is this year leaves from backyards are also being placed on the street. "There are about 34,000 trees in Belleville, that makes for a lot of leaves. We're running, on the average, about three hours behind a day."

Along with the posted signs, public works will change its leaf removal system. Prior to this week, the 14 man leaf removal department was broken down into two teams of seven and sent to different sections of town. Under the new system all 14 will work together on one section and will remain in that section until it is completed.

"If people would go over their leaves with a lawn mower they can do their own mulching," offered Risoli. "After going over it a couple of times it will be ground up and it makes great fertilizer. That would at least take care of the backyard leaves."

Risoli claims this year will be an aberration for leaf pick-up, as he claimed next year will be similar to last year, quick, effective removal. Bids have been accepted for a leaf machine, one with a vacuum and built-in mulcher which will allow the town to dispose of leaves more effectively.

Bulb plantings completed

Approximately 800 tulip, narcissus, and daffodil bulbs, the last of 10,000 donated by Dutch Gardens, Inc., were planted December 1 in front of Belleville School 1, the Belleville Board of Education complex.

The flower bulbs were donated by Dutch Gardens to assist in the celebration of Belleville's 150th anniversary, to be celebrated next year.

The Parks and Public Property Department, under the direction of Vincent Frantantoni, provided a backhoe, an operator, and two employees to prepare the 22 feet by eight feet flowerbed, with assistance by Cornelis Vander Zwan. Coffee was served by Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, and was greatly appreciated, according to a statement from Vander Zwan.

Added to the list of volunteers previously recognized are members of the American Legion Hall on Washington Avenue, and Ervin Berkowitz and Martin Resnick, members of the Congregation Ahavath Achim. According to the statement, the plantings were very successful.

When bursting forth in bloom, the flowers will help create a festive atmosphere for the town's 150th anniversary. Plans have been made to keep the flower beds in bloom for the summer and fall. It is hoped many residents of Belleville will want to join the effort on an individual basis, planting flower beds in the spring at their homes.

Drug raid nets three

Three persons were arrested and between 50-60 grams of marijuana, drug paraphernalia, and over $1,000 in cash seized when the Tactical Narcotics Team raided a Belleville apartment December 2.

Arrested were Joseph Marino, 23, of Belleville, Teresa C. Deriso, 29, of Nutley, and a juvenile after police entered Marino's apartment at 103 Belleville Avenue.

Marino was charged with possession of controlled dangerous substance (CDS), possession of CDS with intent to distribute, conspiracy to violate narcotic law, employing a juvenile in a drug distribution, and possessing CDS with intent to distribute within 1,000 feet of a school. Deriso, of St. Mary's Place, was charged with possession of CDS, and conspiracy to violate narcotic laws. The juvenile was brought in for distribution of CDS, possession of CDS, and conspiracy.

The apartment was under surveillance after the narcotics team had received information that drugs were being sold. Armed with arrest and search warrants, the narcotics team seized 40 bags of marijuana, drug paraphernalia and $1,092 in cash.

All charges were forwarded to the Essex County Prosecutors Office.

New Protection for Vaccines

Until October 1, 1988, parents of a child disabled by a normal childhood vaccination suffered doubly. The pain of the injury to their child was compounded by a lengthy court battle over damages. However, as of the aforementioned date, the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act took effect. This law, supported by the American Academy of Pediatrics, says that any liability claims taken against a vaccine administrator or manufacturer must initially be routed through a specified compensation system. Claimants with legitimate cause receive an annuity that covers medical expenses, pain and suffering, and projected loss of income. Not only is the new system viewed as fair, but it will provide settlement of claims within a year's time.

• Sheriff Tom D'Alessio recently visited a dress manufacturing plant and reports hearing the following dialogue: The president said to his assistant, "Well, Tom, my business is bad now; I just can't afford to give you a raise." Tom, the ever faithful employee responded, "I am doing three men's work, and I always have." The president replied, "Three men's work! Tell me who the other two men are and I'll fire them."

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Why not come home for Christmas?

Everybody's heading home for Christmas — at least — it seems that way. Airline terminals and bus depots are jammed, but everyone agrees it's worth the time and expense just to get home for the holidays.

And no one tries harder than Mom and Dad to bring the brood together. They affectionately maneuver, plead, promise an overflowing supply of yuletide delight and a house full of warmth and love — and if necessary pay the way.

In one sense, this is what Christmas is all about. God, who loves us so very much, went far beyond the limits of human comprehension to bring us to Himself. Because of our sin and disobedience, we were separated from God who is perfect and just, and were unable to find (or even desire) a way back to fellowship with Him. But God cleared the way for us through His Son, Jesus Christ, whose coming into the world we celebrate at Christmas.

Jesus said, "I have come to give my life." And the Bible goes on to explain that "...we have been forgiven and made clean by Christ dying for us once and for all" (Heb. 10:9-10, TLB).

Because He died, the Bible promises that "to as many as receive and welcome Him (Jesus Christ), He gave the right to become the children of God" (John 1:12, Amp.).

Christmas is a time of gift-giving. But the most important gift of all is the one that God gave when He sent His Son so that we might have our sin removed and be brought into fellowship with Him.

This holiday season, if you have never responded before, why not accept God's gift to you? Why not receive Christ as your personal Savior?

Why don't you "come home" for Christmas?

After 17 years Nino calls it quits

To the average onlooker walking down Union Avenue, Nino's Candy and Cards store may seem inconspicuous, but once inside the small establishment, one immediately reverses that feeling.

It carries with it a homey, friendly atmosphere that is so often forgotten in this day and age of bigger is better. Almost everyone who enters the store and takes a seat at the counter is greeted with a "hello" or "how ya doin'." There is a very close knit group of people who gather at the old-time candy store.

"I rebuilt it when I came in," recalled Nino Bucciarelli about the early days of his ownership over 16 years ago. "It only had six stools, so I put in 18 stools and made a horseshoe counter. It made for a lot of comradery?"

It worked, as last Wednesday was his final official day at the store and a party was held, a party which was a bit larger than Bucciarelli expected. "It was a sad day for me because all my friends wished me well but I was happy I had all these friends. Even the children. The children brought tears to my eyes, they said good-luck to my future life."

Bucciarelli said all the long hours of opening the store at six o'clock in the morning and closing at 8 p.m. seven days a week were worth it because it allowed him to take care of his family, wife Edie, son, John, and daughters Camille and Lori. "My kids were small when I started. As they grew older they became a part of it. It did them a lot of good, working here made them more outgoing. All three finished college. I know their life is taken care of."

He did admit the beginning was difficult, attempting to get established and creating the steady clientele who frequent the store. After working for Bonn Bread for 20 years he "saw the writing on the wall" and looked for a new career. "I would go to stores (to deliver bread) and I saw them doing well. I knew I could do better."

With that he ventured out to look for an established building, but one which he could improve upon. Three months after buying his store, the building went up for sale. "I had to buy it because I knew if I didn't, I'd be out on the street. I had to mortgage my house, my business, nobody wanted any part of me. Nutley Savings saved me."

With that he established his business, a business which has allowed him to see the many changes in retail business. "One change is when I first started, $50 would be like a diamond but now money is so free, it's like $20 bucks. I was one of the first five stores in town to have a pick-it machine. Nobody wanted to take the gamble.

Prices too," he continued. "Candy is about eight times as much as it was then. The only thing that hasn't changed is the Sunday papers. They're still 35 cents."

Bucciarelli doesn't regret his retirement move, saying he's only doing what any other person who is approaching 65 does. "I'll be around," he said. "It's not what I'm going to do now, it's what I'm not going to do. I'm not getting up early and getting out of work late."

He will be able to do one thing which he has not been able to for the past 16 years. "On Sundays, when my wife makes gravy, I'll be able to steal a meatball."

Santa's Mailboxes, 1988

Belleville boys and girls are encouraged to get out their pens, pencils, crayons and start writing their lists to Santa Claus now.

Special mailboxes have been set up to accommodate the expected heavy mail. One is at Town Hall on Washington Avenue and the other is in front of the Silver Lake Fire House on Franklin Street.

Children can't miss the mailboxes. They're bright red and clearly marked "Santa's Mail" so no one has an excuse for not writing early.

By very special arrangements made between Mr. Claus and the Belleville Recreation Department, all letter writers are guaranteed an answer. No stamp is necessary and this special mail box is for Belleville residents only.

If children are too young to write, they are urged to draw a picture and Santa will get the message. Be sure to have someone print the child's name and address so Santa can answer the letters.

Crecco resolution wins release

A resolution sponsored by Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) urging Congress to establish the official poverty level each year based on the effective date of the Social Security program's cost-of-living adjustments was released from the Assembly Senior Citizens Committee this week.

"The time lag between the cost-of-living increase in Social Security benefits and the revision of the official poverty level jeopardize the eligibility of senior citizen and disabled recipients in our state," said Crecco, Assistant Majority Whip.

"People who depend on Social Security to live should not be penalized because of something Washington fails to take into account," added Crecco.

The Assemblywoman explained the most recent cost-of-living increase in Social Security Benefits took effect December 31, 1987. The official poverty level was not revised, however, until April 1, 1988, meaning those eligible for additional benefits were denied until then.

The resolution, AR-126, was released by a 3-0 vote and sent to the full Assembly for consideration.

Crecco, serving her second term in the General Assembly, also serves as a member of the Financial Institutions and Independent Authorities Committees.

Life on the street:

The homeless: a national problem spills over

By Alfred Cook

This early December day found Carol Mastrogiovino, a homeless woman with only tenuous ties to several area towns, relaxing at a mid-town restaurant. She sat at a corner table in front of a large window eating a chicken sandwich. Blue-gray clouds hung over the building across the street while gusts of a north wind sent brown, brittle leaves scuttling along the brickwalk. Outside, a woman clasped the blue collar of her coat about her throat. Store windows were festooned with colored lights and Christmas bunting above shelves of toys and jewelry.

But later in the month, when she's exhausted her funds, she'll ask people for money to get her through the days or go to various restaurants she's patronized, in the hope they'll give her credit. Sometimes they do, but one manager ejected her, anyway.

She carries her clothes are carried in a gray vinyl bag, with smaller items in a white plastic shopping bag.

She had been to the Family Service Bureau, she said.

"I thought they weren't going to help me, so I walked out", she said. Policy prevents Robert McDonald, director of the Family Service Bureau, from mentioning particular cases, but he said anyone seeking shelter can come in and get transportation to a Salvation Army shelter in Montclair or a walk-in shelter on Fulton Street in Newark.

"There's also the Family Service Center two doors down on Fulton Street," he said. "But some people don't want to cooperate and part of the problem is some people tend to wander".

Some years ago, in the late 1960's and early 1970's, people with such problems would be in institutions.

At about that time, plans for de-institutionalization were developed, for the purpose of sending people back to their communities to group homes, said Anne McDonough of the Nutley Welfare Office.

"You can see the fruits of de-institutionalization in New York, Newark, Belleville, Paterson, almost anywhere, she said. "It's a sad, sad thing for those with mental problems".

The Newark into which Carol was born 37 years ago was changing, getting meaner, more unsettled, and the Orange where she grew up and attended Catholic school was going in the same direction. Later, her parents moved to Belleville. When she was 19, she married a man who made false teeth.

"He was really good too," she said. "People were proud to show them. He could do anything with his hands".

But she couldn't get along with him. Problems began from the first days though the marriage lasted six years. They had no children.

Sometime in early October, she was at the Marlboro State Hospital for the Mentally Handicapped in Monmouth County. On Oct. 19, she had a baby girl at Long Branch Hospital. She named the girl Theresa, after the saint, but doesn't know where she is now, only that she's in foster care and she misses her very much.

"See, here's her picture," she said, holding out a small locket on her neck. "Can you help me find Theresa?"

After the baby was born, she returned to Clifton where the child's father, her ex-boyfriend, lived. She stayed there two weeks.

On Nov. 4, she picked up her government disability check, then went to a nearby bank, deposited most of it, and kept some.

But on this early December day when she went to the bank, the teller told her she couldn't cash it.

"She said she couldn't without an open account," she said. "I thought, when I woke up, something would happen. Then like the bank there; I've cashed my check for two years now. No, about a year-and-a-half".

She had withdrawn the last $4.01 from her account Nov. 18 and the passbook was cancelled.

The teller had told her she would have to return in the afternoon and open a new account when the manager was there.

"As many times as I've been there," she said, turning her head to the side. "Today's the first time they refused".

Later, the manager would take her aside and open a new account. He'd give her an identification card, explain about keeping an open account, then guide her again through the process she had been through many times before.

Mastrogiovino won't say where she slept the night before, only that there was no roof. And she won't say how she ate between Nov. 18 and now.

"People might bother me, you know, do things to me," she said.

But for part of the night she was at a fast food place in Clifton.

"I went there to get warm," she said. "Then later, my ex-boyfriend came in, asked me if I missed him. I said no. He tried to follow me out."

For her, it was a rocky affair which began some three years earlier. She had a son who is now two and lives with his grandfather in Clifton. But she couldn't get along with her boyfriend, so she returned to her parents home in Belleville.

"He used to come there to try to get me to come back, but he used to beat me and I wouldn't. He's a big man," she added. "I had to get a restraining order to keep him away from me."

"I tried to tell him things he wouldn't accept," she said. "I wanted to break up."

Nor does she get along with her parents.

"My father would give me the check like it wasn't mine," she said.

That was before she moved in with her boyfriend, who, she said, was working as a plumber for his father.

Before that, she lived here, and worked at a fast food restaurant from which she is now banned.

"I think I lived in Nutley in 1983," she said. "About a year-and-a-half. But I had a nervous breakdown."

Eight apply for vacant seat on Board of Education

Appropriations from the Belleville Board of Education and Belleville Board of Commissioners agreement on the school budget cuts in certain accounts were approved by the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The board also announced eight candidates for the vacant board seat and a number of scholar recipients from Belleville High School.

The $443,000 compromise reached between the two boards November 21 regarding the school budget was returned to the Current Expense Account, creating an amount of $13,633,270. Five accounts within Current Expense received portions of the agreed money, Supervisor of Instruction, Contracted Transportation, Custodians, Maintenance, and Insurance.

Supervisor received $53,000, for a total of $712,960. Fiftythousand dollars was returned to Transportation, for a revised amount of $350,000. Custodians received $60,000, creating a total of $860,000, Maintenance, $20,000, for an amount of $280,567, and Insurance was allocated an additional $260,000, for a total of $1,486,500.

Board Secretary/Business Administrator Edward Appleton announced eight individuals had filed applications to fill Felix Linfante's unexpired term as a member of the board. The eight are: Seymour Grossman, Frank A. Caputo, Thomas J. Spillane, Gabriel A. Nazzola, William R. Idenden, Raymond A. Kenney, Kevin G. Kennedy, and Michele Picone Wurzel. Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said each of the candidates will be given a 15 minute interview by the board at its December 19 meeting, with a decision coming shortly thereafter.

Linfante stepped down from the board at its November 7 meeting because he was moving out of the district. The term is up for election this April.

Scholar winners

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello announced six students are recipients of the Distinguished Scholars program for the 1989-90 school year. Eleven other students received recognition from the Garden State Scholars program, according to Nardiello.

The six Distinguished Scholars are: Michael Gummelt, Eric Faragi, August Leming, Sara Mellinger, Jean Na, and Rupal Patel. The six winners represent the highest number of Belleville High School students to achieve the honor since the inception of the program.

Garden State Scholars winners were: Kristina Bonacorsa, Ronald Capriglione, John Cerza, Michele Clarizio, Narinder Dhodi, Katherine Eng, Kirsten Ernst, Karen Haug, Raymond Herschell, William Morgenthien, and Danielle Pizzi.

A computer program enhancement site license - logo writer, at an estimated cost of $1,550, for School 8 was approved by the board. Also approved was ratification of an agreement between the Belleville Custodian & Maintenance Association and the Belleville Board of Education.

Three awards of order were approved by the board, for an electric hydraulic lift and wheel balancer, video cameras, and computer supplies.

The electric hydrolic lift will be purchased from Auto Test, Fairfield, at a cost of $17,840.20. Policemen, firefighters 'battle the bulge'

Policemen and firefighters from Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield battled their bulges and lost weight for charity in a weight-loss contest to benefit the National Burn Center.

Contestants were under the supervision of nutritionist Joseph Garafolo of Diet Pros of Belleville, who designed a nutritionally balanced diet for persons whose jobs place them under undue stress.

"Each department had sponsors who matched each pound lost with a donation," explained Garafolo.

"The public safety departments competed for 11 weeks. Their goals were to win 655 points cumulatively."

The contest ended the day before Thanksgiving.

Diet Pros' program was originally designed for professional athletes. Its success has been enjoyed by men and women from construction workers to housewives, as well as police and firefighters of Essex County, Garafolo said.

School costs rise

25 Years Ago

December 5, 1938...The Board of Education reported that $200,000 was added to the construction costs of the new high school, upping the estimated costs to $2,930,000. The Board was expected to seek a referendum early in 1964, authorizing a bond issue to pay about $50,000 to $100,000 of the costs. The remainder of the expenses would be financed by state capital aid funds, interest earnings, and a surplus in the Board's debt service account.

The Board of Adjustment was expected to make a decision on the proposed $1 million single-family garden apartments project on an eight-acre tract of land off Fairway Avenue. The Board was slated to cite its approval or disapproval to the Town Council on the variance filed by a Clifton realty firm.

Residents were urged to join with members of the Belleville Patrolmen's Benevolent Association in contributing to the J.D. Tippit Fund. Tippit was a Dallas patrolman who was shot by the suspected slayer of late President John F. Kennedy when he attempted to prevent the suspect from leaving the scene. The fund was initiated by Detective Michael Mar-

Sufficient grounds for the recall of Councilman James R. Golden were reported to the Belleville unit of the Essex County Veterans' Ticket Committee, but the group voted to take no action until the current recall movement to oust Mayor Robert M. Laterza and Councilmen G. George Addonizio and Vincent T. Strumolo from office was completed. The committee wanted to recall Golden because of the "obstructionist tactics used during his term and his abusive language, unbecoming of a public official."

The BHS Bellboys whipped Orange, 30-0, in the traditional Thanksgiving Day showdown. This win ended the Bellboys' season at 6-2-1. Belleville, led by Frank Pomaco, scored a whopping 23 points against the Tornadoes' defense in the third quarter, after both teams went scoreless in the first half.

C.C.B. meeting scheduled

The Concerned Citizens of Belleville (C.C.B.) will conduct a general membership meeting December 15, at 8 o'clock at the Elks Hall, Washington Avenue, Belleville, for the selection of its 1989 officers.

Only members in good standing will be allowed into the meeting and participate in the election.

Members in good standing must have paid their dues for 1988 and be registered as a member in order to participate. Members are encouraged to attend.

MAKING THE ROUNDS — Santa Claus stops at Jackie's Lemon Ice to see what Jackie and his customers want for Christmas.

K-Mart brings Christmas to underprivileged

K-Mart stores across the country will bring Christmas in America to at least 42,000 underprivileged children. The stores will open their doors at 8:00 a.m., Saturday, December 10, for its fourth annual children's Christmas shopping spree.

As part of a national Good News Program, each K-Mart store will allow 20 local children to pick out $20 worth of merchandise of their choice. The children will also be treated to breakfast at K-Mart and receive a gift-wrapped present from Santa Claus.

K-Mart stores across the country have worked with local civic organizations to obtain the names of needy children from the community.

"K-Mart associates spread their caring to the local communities through this special shopping spree. They volunteer their time to support this program by assisting the children with gift selections and staying within their budget. But more importantly, our associates enhance the spirit of Christmas across America by their commitment to the program," said Joseph E. Antonini, K-Mart's chairman of the board, president and chief executive officer.

Over 2,100 K-Mart's are participating in this national Good News Committee program to help over 42,000 children in the U.S. Good News Committees, organized by employee volunteers in each K-Mart store, are actively involved in year-round outreach programs in the communities surrounding their K-Mart stores.

This special shopping spree accents K-Mart's 1988 holiday marketing theme, "Christmas in America." Designed to celebrate this special holiday season, merchandise, advertising, employee relations and special promotions will be tied together to promote "Christmas in America," a new book by Collins Publishers featuring photos from the 1987 yuletide spirit.

K-Mart Corporation, the world's second-largest retailer, posted 1987 sales of $25.6 billion. The company operates nearly 4,000 retail outlets in all 50 states in the United States and in Puerto Rico and Canada.

Tripucka featured tonight

Frank Tripucka, a Bloomfield native and star football player, will be featured on "Senatorially Speaking" tonight and next Tuesday night.

"Senatorially Speaking," with Sen. Carmen A. Orechio (D-30th), is a provocative half-hour interview show every Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m. on OBC-TV, channel 36.

Tripucka, an All-American athlete at Notre Dame, played with the Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals. His career included a stint with the Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Canadian League and the Denver Broncos.

Tripucka, who received such honors as the Hall of Fame Man of the Year award, will speak about drugs and big money in professional sports.

Longo advises safe toys

Thomas Longo, health officer of the Belleville Health Department, has advised parents to exercise great caution when buying toys for their children at Christmas. "Last year," said Longo, "toys caused 105,000 injuries to children under 15."

In a release, Longo states two types of toys to avoid are baby walkers and crib gyms, the walkers can tip over while the gyms have been responsible for one dozen deaths and 662 injuries over the past five years. Though there are not any specific defects in the walker, accidents occur when doors are not closed or stairways are not blocked. As far as gyms are concerned, they become dangerous when a child learns to stand - usually about six months of age, according to the release. The baby can be strangled by the toy which stretches across the crib. The gym should be removed once the child becomes active.

Parents may receive two pamphlets - "Which Toy for Which Child," and "A Consumer's Guide to Selecting Suitable Toys" - by writing to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Office of Information and Public Affairs, Washington, D.C., 20207.

Pre-School registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school program for four-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods, and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., five days a week with class limited to 28 students. The cost of the 15 week session is $45. The mothers of the children accepted will serve one duty about every 8-9 days, according to a published schedule.

School will begin Monday, January 23, 1989 under the leadership of Mary Anne Lopreato.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible, Monday - Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Every dollar counts contest

Employees of The Mountaintop Hospital were recently invited to enter an "Every Dollar Counts" Contest, which was designed to help the hospital examine ways to cut unnecessary expenditures and/or waste of resources.

Of the nearly 40 employees who submitted suggestions to the contest, there were five whose ideas met the criteria of proving to save at least $500.

Police building discussion

the commissioners whatever project is approved will be to the rear of Town Hall. Frantantoni, who voted against the building in January, said there is less chance of the project being "bogged down" now because the town has purchased a lot behind Town Hall and is in the process of buying a second parcel.

"It's not really an addition," explained Frantantoni. "It's a separate building for the police in the rear of Town Hall with a common elevator or bridge connecting the two." He estimated the new building to be between 14,000-24,000 square feet.

The cost, which has been the primary stumbling block, appears to be in a range where the commissioners are satisfied. There is approximately $4.1 million left in the $5 million bond issue and Frantantoni has said he feels the project can be kept within that financial framework. Commissioner of Public Affairs Joseph Fornarotto feels the project should cost between $2 - $2.5 million.

"I figure we can do it for about $100 a square foot, I've met with contractors who have done similar work," said Fornarotto, who rejected the public safety building proposal. "Not a new building but an addition."

Fornarotto also said the addition should be part of a list of priorities, and the commissioners should decide from that list which should be done next year. He said he does not feel everything can be done next year because the tax burden would be too great on the citizens in town.

WILL IT GROW? — There may be more to Town Hall if the Board of Commissioners agree on an expanded Police Department.

Zoners approve condominiums

Attorney Gaccione said the "unique" shape of the property would make it "almost impossible" for every aspect to comply.

Both Cerami and Centenni called the property "pie-shaped," with Centenni explaining the lot as 7.5 feet at Harrison Street and 68 feet in the back on Mill Street.

The structure will have the a two-car garage under the living portion of the house, with two additional parking spaces outside the garage. Because of the irregular shape, the application called for only a seven foot frontyard, five feet sideyard and the backyard varying in depth from 15 feet to 32 feet.

Total square footage of the lot is 7,872, while the minimum required for a two-family is 5,000 square feet. Lot coverage is only 19 percent, well below the maximum allowed, 30 percent.

Board Attorney Jon Campbell said he will convey the board's desire to have two board members resign so the Belleville Board of Commissioners can make two appointments to the board so that seven members will attend the meetings.

Continuing Care Center expands

After its first ten months of successful operation, Clara Maass Continuing Care Center has doubled its capacity, with 60 new beds available for individuals in need of long-term skilled nursing care.

Michael A. Hotz, vice president and administrator of the Continuing Care Center, said, "Our goal was to create a modern, 120-bed nursing home on the Belleville campus of Clara Maass Medical Center. We accomplished this through renovation of an existing building instead of new construction, which meant a significant saving in time and expense. The first 60 beds were opened at the beginning of 1988 and were quickly filled. We anticipate that the new beds will also fill quickly. There's a need for quality nursing home care in northern New Jersey, where much of the population is over 65."

The Continuing Care Center is one of the units of JerseyCare, the corporate family that also includes Clara Maass Medical Center, Clara Maass Community Services, and Premium Health Systems. "We're the only free-standing nursing home in Essex County to be located on the campus of a major medical center," said Hotz. "The advantage is that our residents have access to a team of medical experts, on-site, around the clock, and to all of the Clara Maass attending physicians. If a patient requires transfer to the hospital, there's no need for exposure to the outside or for an ambulance ride, which can be a traumatic experience in itself.

"At the same time, we were able to create a totally new facility — new furnishings, new equipment, new staff. Everyone who works here is committed to the Center and knows that he or she plays a part in deciding what needs to be done. Our focus is not just on quality of care, but on quality of life."

The emphasis on quality of life is carried out by the entire staff, according to Pat Meyers, director of nursing services. "Our nursing staff is committed to gerontology and they get to know the residents very well."

There is a large enough staff of nurses and nursing assistants to provide a great deal of one-on-one and two-on-one care, which is necessary for the Center's program of rehabilitation through activity. Residents have improved dramatically under the program, becoming actively involved in their own daily care, leaving their beds or wheelchairs, and improving in mood or orientation.

"The improvement in the residents' daily lives and independence is what keeps the staff motivated," Meyers said.

The Recreation Department provides entertainment as well as individualized assistance with daily life skills. Programs run seven days a week with two or three programs each day, ranging from arts and crafts, "sittercize" groups, and visits from members of the community, to special trips to parks and other sites. A full range of therapy services is available as needed, including speech, physical, and occupational therapy.

A family council meets quarterly so that residents' relatives will be fully informed and involved. Inter-generational programs are emphasized, with groups of children from the community visiting the residents frequently.

Those who wish information should call Suwadee Labelle, director of social service and admissions, at 450-2900.

Mental health hospital legislation becomes law

Legislation sponsored by Assemblyman John V. Kelly (R-30) which would provide additional state aid to county mental hospitals was signed into law by Governor Thomas Kean this week.

Under the provision of the law, Essex County Hospital Center would receive $7.3 million to upgrade patient services, including nursing staff salary increases. The bill also allows the hospital to undertake capital improvements and to purchase needed equipment.

"The Essex County Hospital Center is the largest psychiatric center in the state," commented Kelly. "The hospital recently lost millions of dollars in federal funding. The facility must be upgraded or Essex County residents will lose vital services provided through the hospital."

This legislation also provides assistance to county mental hospitals in Bergen, Hudson, Burlington, and Camden counties.

"It is unfair for the state to fund state-operated mental hospitals while neglecting the financial needs of county-based mental hospitals," said Kelly.

The law stipulates the counties may not use the additional funds to reduce their overall financial support to the county hospitals.

Career night a success

On Tuesday, November 22, the Belleville High School Guidance Department hosted over 80 representatives from colleges and career schools which have proven popular with students in past years. The event was culmination of weeks of planning by the entire Guidance Department.

Much interest was displayed by the parents and students. It was estimated over 500 people attended to speak to the representatives and to gather brochures and information from the various schools and colleges.

Refreshments were served by the Home and School Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Arancio — nee Karan Rodano

Mr. and Mrs. Arancio honeymoon in Mexico

Karan Marie Rodano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodano of Belleville and Peter Gerard Arancio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Arancio, also of Belleville, were married recently in Third Presbyterian Church, Newark.

The Rev. J.S. Lonsinger performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Bethwood, Totowa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a satin and lace gown fashioned with a cathedral train and accented with sequins and pearls. A sequin and pearl headpiece held her veil and she carried white roses.

Margo Rodano was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Laura Iacobucci of Nutley, Donna Reed of Clifton, Marybeth Rosa of Paterson and Louane Arancio of Belleville, sister-in-law of the groom. Flower girl was Kristen Corra, cousin of the groom.

The honor attendant was in a sea mist satin gown. She carried pink and mint carnations and wore the same color flowers in her hair. The others, in teal green, carried pink and teal green flowers. The flower girl, in a white lace dress, carried a basket of pink, teal and mint flowers.

Frank Arancio of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushering were another brother, Larry Arancio of Belleville, the bride's brother, Dominick Rodano of Bronx, NY, Jackie Morrison of Belleville and Anthony Rosania of Bloomfield. Ringbearer was Nicholas Rodano, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Rodano chose a rose satin and velvet gown while the groom's mother was in a gray chiffon gown accented with rhinestones. Corsages were of orchids.

Mrs. Arancio, an alumna of Belleville High School, is in customer service at United Photo, Totowa.

Mr. Arancio, also an alumnus of Belleville High School, is self-employed in Nutley.

The couple honeymooned in Acapulco, Mexico, following the Sept. 30 wedding and have made their home in Belleville.

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Dolores C. Bowie of Belleville, a records clerk for New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in Newark, has marked 30 years' service with the company.

Foot Facts

by Paul A. Caputo, D.P.M.

The Inside Track on Running

Foul weather or membership to a new health club can induce joggers to take their running indoors. While running on an indoor track may keep joggers warm and dry, it can represent a turn for the worse for ankles. The joints and muscles of the feet and ankles must adapt to the new surface. This alone can lead to strains in these areas. More importantly, subjecting the ankles to the sharp turns of an oval track may subject them to strain as well. They may find adapting to these turns difficult. One way to pre-empt potential injuries is to choose the more forgiving wood indoor track with banked turns. It is also best to reverse direction every five minutes, and to take turns as wide as possible.

It is especially important to warm up your feet and legs with stretching exercises before you run on an indoor track. Increase distance gradually and stop running if pain develops in your feet or legs. When you need a podiatrist, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. My office, including surgical facility and x-ray, is nearby at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Office hours by appt.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Let's go back to October 10, 1986. The Belleville football team is home to Montclair High School in a crucial early season contest. The Bucs are 0-2, having lost to Paramus and Ridgewood. Furthermore, the team has not won a game since the fourth game of the 1985 season and has been shutout in six of its last seven games.

The team was sorely in need of a lift. In the October 10, 1986 issue of the Star Ledger, the Montclair-Belleville game was predicted as Montclair 28, Belleville 0. It was the motivation the players needed.

The Bucs came out fired up that evening. Junior quarterback Jeff Spillsbury opened up the passing lanes that evening, and his favorite target was a senior receiver named Jamie Galioto. Spillsbury hit Galioto with four passes on the evening. Two of those tosses were for touchdowns.

Belleville won the game, 21-20, as Spillsbury threw three TD passes (he also hit Jay Marchese with a scoring strike). More importantly, Belleville had snapped a seven game losing streak spanning 12 months. That '86 club would win six of its last seven games and capture the NNJIL championship.

The Spillsbury to Galioto combination became a very effective offensive tool in 1986 as the Bucs posted a 6-3 record.

Spillsbury is now a freshman at Iona, having earned a baseball scholarship. Galioto is continuing his football career at Hudson Valley Community College in Troy, New York.

Galioto was graduated from Belleville High in 1987. He began his collegiate career in January of 1988 and just completed his first year of college football.

He led the team in receptions with 26, total yards with 450 and touchdown receptions with five. Hudson Valley played a wishbone offense in 1988 and Galioto provided solid blocking skills, which are essential to an effective wishbone.

The head coach at Hudson Valley is Richard Stipano. One of his assistants is Bruce Bochette and last week, Bochette spoke of Galioto's accomplishments on the junior college level.

"We're really counting on Jamie for next season," Bochette said. "We feel he has a good chance of catching on with a Division I school, especially because of his punting abilities. Some schools have already taken notice of his talents."

As mentioned, Hudson Valley is a junior college. Students attend the school for two years, then move on to a four year college for their final two years of studies. Thus, Galioto will have two years of college football remaining after next fall.

Galioto was a top notch punter at Belleville High School, also. His punting on the collegiate level has garnered plenty of attention from big college football schools.

"We play a tough schedule and some of our players end up in big time programs," Bochette said. "We had a player move on to West Virginia University a year ago."

Hudson Valley posted a record of 4-6 this season and won its final three games. Some of the opponents on its schedule included the junior varsity teams of Holy Cross and West Point.

"We had an asesome schedule this year," Bochette said. "But we did win our last three games and knocked one team out of a bowl game."

Hudson Valley defeated a powerful team in Westchester Jr. College in the season finale, 19-6. Galioto punted nine times in the game for a 41 yard average. Two of his punts were for 60 and 63 yards and three others were punted inside the opponents ten yard line, keeping Westchester in poor field position for most of the day.

Galioto had a big day against Potomac State of West Virginia. In that game, he caught at 42 yard TD pass. Later, he caught a 32 yard pass that set up the game winning TD for Hudson Valley. Galioto was named as the player of the week in that contest. He also earned player of the week honors for his outstanding effort against Westchester.

Bochette is hopeful that Hudson Valley will go to the passing game more in 1989. He feels that Galioto has the ability to have an excellent season as a wide receiver. He is also hopeful that the Belleville native will continue his outstanding punting skills.

Galioto is also an excellent baseball player and did very well for the Legion team last summer. Good luck to Jamie in his college football career.

HALL OF FAME MEMORIES

As you probably know, the Belleville Hall of Fame inducted new members two weeks ago at the Chandelier. Once again, it was an excellent evening and was carried out with a lot of class.

I have some favorite Hall of Fame memories and would like to share one of those this week. It goes back to the 1985 Hall of Fame Dinner and the induction of the 1976 Belleville Crew team.

This was a special evening for many reasons. First off, it was the first time an entire team was inducted to the Hall. Secondly, it was a memorable evening for that teams coach, Sam Giuffrida, who always speaks with high regard of that team.

I remember the Varsity Club dinner in the spring of 1976, when Giuffrida bid farewell to these talented athletes. It wasn't an easy moment for the coach and he always spoke of that team for the years after the '76 season.

Nine years later, the team was being inducted into the Hall. Mike Davis, one of the rowers from that team, attempted to speak for the entire team. He explained the pride that the rowers had in being inducted and what it meant to row for Coach Giuffrida.

It wasn't an easy moment for Davis, who was never known to be soft. Perhaps that's why it was an extra special evening. I'll never forget Davis' speech because I understood the pride he spoke of. I graduated in the class of 1976 and knew those rowers well.

One year later, Coach Giuffrida suffered a heart attack. He has since made a full recovery but no longer coaches crew. He will, however, always have the memories of the great teams, and an extra special memory from that evening in 1985.

THIS WEEKS QUIZ

Referring to that 1976 crew team, name the entire shell that was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1985.

FOR NEXT WEEK

A look at the upcoming winter sports schedule. Also a preview of the holiday sports schedule. Also, I'll explain why this Friday, December 9, will be such a special day in my life.

Young squad gains experience

Despite poor record, Bucs are optimistic about future

Despite a 38-13 loss to Nutley in the season finale on Thanksgiving Day, the Belleville football team is looking to the future with confidence. The Bucs finished the 1988 campaign with a 2-6-1 record, but head coach John Senesky has some talented underclassmen who should rise to the forefront in '89.

"We'll be losing 16 seniors to graduation this spring," Senesky said. "There were some very good players in the senior class, no doubt. Replacing them won't be easy. However, we have some good young players, who gained a good deal of experience this year, returning next season. It's a large sophomore class this year and not a very large junior class."

"When this season started, we had five players who had some type of varsity football experience. When next season begins, we'll have about 15 players who have varsity experience."

Belleville did show marked improvement over the course of the season. In the finale with Nutley, the 13 points scored by Belleville were the most by the Bucs in a single game this year. In 1985 and '87, when Belleville finished with sub .500 records, the team faded in the stretch. In 1985, it was shutout in its final five games. Last season, it was blanked in its final two contests.

The ability not to score points from one campaign tends to carry over to the following year. Early in the 1986 season, the Bucs lost its opener to Paramus, 9-6, then were shutout by Ridgewood, 14-0. At 0-2, Belleville finally found the right ingredients when it upset highly regarded Montclair, 21-20 at Belleville. After that win, Belleville went 5-1 the rest of the season and won the NNJIL championship.

This year, Belleville was shutout in its first three games. It snapped the streak at Paramus, but the following week, the team hit rock bottom with a loss to Hackensack.

That game seemed to get the Bucs moving. The team responded four days later with a spirited effort and a victory over Don Bosco. It lost a heartbreaker to Teaneck in the rain, then tied Bloomfield in a hard fought game. The season ended with the Nutley game, a contest that Belleville once had the lead in and trailed by just nine in the fourth quarter.

"The kids have to learn how to the season, beginning with the opener at Passaic.

September 24: The Bucs opened the season at Passaic with a very inexperienced team. It was obvious from the outset that Belleville was an aggressive group, but it lacked the varsity experience. Passaic, a quick club, took advantage of some big wic," Senesky said. "We began to make some strides this season. We'll have players coming back next fall who want to win consistently. The kids will have the added advantage of the new weight room this year. They'll be able to be together throughout the year and workout together. It will be a big plus."

A look back at the nine games of plays and won, 27-0.

September 30: Belleville played its first home game at Doc Ellis Field and battled a powerful team from Montclair. Through three quarters, the game was scoreless as the Buccaneer defense played a spirited game. However, early in the fourth quarter, John Cerza and John Napolitano went down on successive plays and Montclair finally wore down the young Bucs. The Mounties won, 14-0. Fortunately for Belleville, neither Cerza nor Napolitano were seriously injured.

October 7: On a miserable Friday night at Belleville, the Bucs were beaten by Paramus Catholic, 10-0. In a freezing rain, the Belleville offense was once again stymied. Paramus Catholic scored a field goal in the first half, then hit for the games only TD late in the fourth quarter. The 0-3 start by Belleville was the teams worst since the 1977 campaign.

October 15: On a beautiful afternoon at Paramus, the Bucs won its first game of the season, beating Paramus, 12-9. Napolitano and Nick Turano scored the TD's for Belleville. Quarterback Steve Tice threw for over 100 yards and the Buc defense made the key plays to secure the victory.

October 24: This was a rare Monday afternoon contest because of steady rain that hit the local area the previous weekend. Senesky later admitted that the Bucs never showed up in this game. Hackensack ripped Belleville, 26-0, dropping the locals to 1-4. It would be the low point of the 1988 season.

October 28: Just four days later, on a Friday night at the Stadium, Belleville bounced back to beat a good Don Bosco club, 7-0. The Bucs were determined to make up for the poor effort and played a solid defensive game. Tice hit Bruce Melson with a TD pass in the third quarter for the only score of the evening.

November 5: At Teaneck, Belleville dropped a heartbreaker, 16-12. This game was played in a driving rainstorm, but featured excellent play from both clubs. Belleville led, 12-9 late in the game with Turano and Ken Sainz scoring TD's. Teaneck won the game in the final :30 when its quarterback ran five yards for a TD. It was by far the toughest loss of the season for the Bucs.

November 11: Despite the heartbreaking defeat against Teaneck, Belleville came back strong against Bloomfield. The Bucs took a 6-0 lead on a Tice to Sainz TD pass. Late in the third quarter, Bloomfield tied the game when it intercepted a Tice pass and ran it in for a score. Jason Silletti blocked the point after kick for Belleville. Bloomfield attempted a game winning field goal at the final gun, but the Bucs blocked the kick and the game finished in a tie. It was Belleville's first tie since the Kearny game in 1977 and it was the first time the Bucs and Bengals had tied since the 1972 contest.

Hoopsters gear for season opener

There were many memorable moments to the 1987-88 boys' basketball season at Belleville High. For starters, how about Ted Sochaski breaking Abdel Anderson's career scoring mark. Or how about Belleville's stirring win over Nutley before a packed house at Belleville High in mid January.

There was Leon Puentes breaking the 1,000 point career scoring mark. The Bucs defeated Glen Ridge in the Greater Newark Tourney and then nearly upset the eventual county champion, Shabazz. The Bucs posted a winning season in the NNJIL and won the Tri County Holiday Tournament for the second straight season. It also defeated Ridgewood, Eastside and Teaneck for the first time on record and beat Montclair at home for the first time in 20 years.

To top it all off, the Bucs posted a winning record, something it hadn't done since head coach Don Roll was a freshman at Belleville High School in 1974-75.

However, that was last season and the Bucs have new faces to work with this winter. Sochaski and Puentes are now in college and Roll is working with youngsters who will face a tough schedule this year.

"It's definately a rebuilding year," Roll said. "We have some good kids, but it will take time for the team to come together."

The Bucs open the regular season next Friday when it plays at Clifton in a 7:30 p.m. start. The Bucs will battle Barringer and Perth Amboy tomorrow afternoon in a scrimmage at Barringer. Game time is 3 p.m. Next Monday, the team is home to Columbia in a 5:30 p.m. start. Next Tuesday, the Bucs will play St. Mary's of Elizabeth at Edison Tech in the final scrimmage before the regular season opener.

Returning to the varsity will be seniors Ray Zamloot and Dominick Straface. Both men have varsity experience behind them and played very well in the summer league.

Zamloot came around in the second half of the varsity season last winter. He played very well in the ECT game against Shabazz at Essex County College. An ankle sprain last summer held him back in the summer league, but Zamloot appears ready for a strong season.

Straface will begin his third year of varsity play and will be a swingman this year. He can play the off guard position or a small forward slot.

Other seniors who are vying for jobs are, Mike Powers, Jerry D'Allesio, Arnold Lambao and Lance Bannister.

The juniors who figure to challenge for varsity positions are, Jim Krupka, Doug Hoogendyke, Andy DuHaime, Tom Klena, Mark Nakashian and Mike Trezza. Sophomore Francesco Ferman, a 6'2" 190 pound transfer from Weehawkin, has been very impressive in the early going.

Tom Bianchi returns as the assistant coach this season. The freshman coach is Jim Sickinger and the seventh and eighth grade mentor is Nick Coffari. Jim Shea is a volunteer assistant this year.

Roll was looking forward to the scrimmages this week, where his young players will get a chance to play against some talented teams.

Lady Bucs face rebuilding campaign

Having lost three starters from last years 16-12 squad, head girls' basketball coach Karen Fuccello finds herself in the early stages of a rebuilding season.

The girls began its pre season schedule by playing Bayonne last Friday. The team has games scheduled with University, Glen Ridge and Orange this week. The regular season commences next Friday, with a game at Barringer.

"We have a lot of work to do," Fuccello said. "It's nothing I didn't know before the first scrimmage last week. We have two established starters back and a number of junior varsity players that we're hopeful can make the transition to varsity."

The two returnees are Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski. Both girls are seniors and both enjoyed excellent campaigns last winter.

Edwards will be at center, or forward if Fuccello uses a three forward offense this year. She is the second all time leading scorer in Belleville girls' basketball history. In the state game with Irvington last March, she broke the 1,000 point career mark.

Dondarski is the teams point guard and has explosive offensive capabilities. This will be her fourth year of varsity ball.

The remaining three starters and the reserve players are yet to be determined by Fuccello.

"It will be a baptism under fire," the coach said. "Getting the fundamentals down is a must. The younger kids have to start with that and then work up. We'll be looking to the freshman players, too, for help. I won't hesitate to use them if I feel they can help us. It's a big step, however, from the suburban league to varsity basketball."

The girls who played JV in 1987-88 who hope to move to varsity this year are, Mia Hanos, Amalia Fabiano, Thelina Espiritu, Jennifer Bridge and Maria Longobardi.

"The scrimmages will be an important testing ground for the younger kids," Fuccello said. "The season is just ten days away, so we need all the work we can get before it begins to count."

NOTES: Belleville will be in a tough conference this fall. The Lady Bucs will play Paramus Catholic, Teaneck and Bloomfield twice and all three of those schools boast outstanding programs. Bloomfield is the defending Essex County champion and two time state sectional champ.

Fuccello has 198 career victories and is starting her 17th season as Belleville's coach.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Women volleyball players needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently taking names of individuals who would like to play in its adult Women's Volleyball League. The league plays on Tuesday nights at School 3, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Several already-established teams which now play in the league are in need of additional players to fill their rosters. If interested, please call the Recreation office at 450-3422 weekdays.

Men's open basketball

The Men's Open Basketball program began on Saturday, Dec. 3 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Middle School - Girls' Gym. Belleville resident men, over age 18, can participate by showing the gym supervisor proof of residency.

Gymnastics program starting

The Belleville Recreation Department again offers its always popular gymnastics program for girls on Saturdays at the Friendly House. This activity began Saturday, Dec. 3 and will continue through March. Girls in grades 1-6 will participate from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at the Friendly House on Frederick Steet. If there is sufficient interest, seventh through twelfth graders will meet at 1:00. There is no fee required but girls must be Belleville residents. Interested participants should wear sneakers and sign up for the program with the instructors when they arrive.

Pack 350 Cubs busy

Another year has started and the boys of Cub Scout Pack 350 have been very busy with a wide range of activities.

In August, some of the cubs, parents and cubmasters went camping, bringing home new experiences, stories and pictures. September saw the boys move up in rank and award presentations, as well as selling items from Tom Wat as a fund-raiser, which was successful. In October the troop marched in the Columbus Day Parade, and cubs received awards at the pack meeting and held their Halloween Party.

The Webleo Father-Son Over-nighter was held in November and the boys marched in the Veterans Day Parade. At their meeting those who went on the overnighter received awards as did other boys.

December will be another busy month, as a spaghetti dinner was held December 3 and a Christmas Party for adults is scheduled for December 9. For more information on the party, call Tom Balsamo at 751-3551. January has a pizza-skating trip in store for all the boys.

Cub Scout Pack 350 would like to wish everyone a very happy holiday and a healthy new year.

team and lost, 38-13. The Bucs had a 7-6 lead in the second quarter on a Tice to Sainz TD pass. However, Nutley regained the lead and built it to 22-7 midway through the third quarter. Turano gave the Buccaneer fans something to cheer about when he ran back a kickoff 82 yards for a score, cutting the Raider lead to 22-13.

Nutley, however, was too much in the final quarter and won going away. Nonetheless, it was a good effort for the Bucs, and something the team can build on for next season.

As Senesky mentioned, there are 16 seniors who will be graduated next spring. These seniors contributed a great deal of leadership and talent to the 1988 team. If future Belleville teams are successful, they can look back to this years team as the springboard to that success and to the seniors who guided that team.

The seniors who were honored by the NNJIL for their outstanding efforts were, Turano, Napolitano, Silletti, Andre Graham, Vito D'Alessio, Michael Senesky and Cerza.

Turano was named second team, NNJIL for his work in the offensive backfield. He did an excellent job on both sides of the line and on speciality teams. He was named the MVP of the Nutley game and of course had that electrifying kickoff return.

"Nick got hurt early in the 1987 season," recalled Senesky. "He came back and did a superb job this year. He helped us in so many ways."

Napolitano was selected second team, NNJIL, for his play in the defensive backfield. He was also outstanding in the offensive backfield and had some big plays. He suffered an early season leg injury against Montclair and was wheeled off in an ambulance.

Thirty minutes later, he was back on the field, on his own power and the following week was playing again. He was a solid player and class competitor.

Silletti also had an early season injury but regrouped for an excellent season. He was selected second team, NNJIL, for his play on the defensive line.

In the season opener at Passaic, Silletti went down with a shoulder injury. He reinjured his arm against Paramus Catholic and missed the second half of that game. However, he was back in full gear for the Paramus game and was outstanding for the rest of the season. He had the key block of a point after kick against Bloomfield that saved the day for the Bucs. Silletti also played very well at center.

Graham was named first team, NNJIL, for his stalwart performance as nose guard. The strongest player on the team, Graham was a force on both sides of the line.

"He couldn't be moved," Senesky said of Graham. "Andre was power, no question about it. He spearheaded the line."

Graham suffered a leg injury in the Don Bosco game but didn't miss too much action. He will be very difficult to replace next fall.

Cerza was an awesome linebacker. He was a unanimous first team, NNJIL selection. Belleville has had some excellent linebackers over the past ten years and Cerza has to be considered at the top of the list. He was the MVP of the 1987 Belleville-Nutley game and is also an excellent student. He should continue his football career on the collegiate level.

D'Alessio was named Honorable Mention for his work at defensive end. He was also a talented offensive guard who never backed down. A true Belleville player, he gave new meaning to the word tough.

Michael Senesky was an inspiration to his teammates. Although he stood just 5'3" and weighed all of 125 pounds, this man was a handful to tackle. A strong runner and determined athlete, Senesky gained the respect of all his opponents and played the game with heart and desire.

Other seniors on the team were, Tom Wolfe, Jeff Caruso, Richard Rizzolo, Brian De Maio, Gus Leming, Michael Toro, Bruce Melson, Scott Dominowski Steve Tice and Hilary Debelak.

Wolfe played linebacker this season and turned in an excellent performance. Caruso was a special teams player who played the "ball hawk" position.

Rizzolo had an excellent year at defensive end and was a very pleasant surprise. He was a good tackler and made some big plays. Perhaps his biggest play was stripping the ball from the Paramus quarterback and setting up Belleville's first TD.

De Maio, a split end, made some good receptions this year. Leming was also an inspirational story.

On September 10, in a scrimmage, the offensive lineman went down with a serious knee injury. He was operated on two days later and began a rehabilitation program. On November 5, less than two months after the injury, he was back in the starting lineup, playing at Teaneck despite the rain.

Leming turned in a solid performance in the three games he played. He is an excellent student who is considering the Ivy League next fall.

Toro played nose guard this year and filled in very well when Graham got hurt. He was a good tackler and made some big hits on the defensive line.

Melson had an outstanding year at tight end. The senior had the game winning TD in the Don Bosco game and was a big surprise to Senesky.

"Bruce came along very nicely," Senesky said. "He didn't have much varsity experience heading into the season, but he picked it up quickly this year."

Tice did a superb job at quarterback. This was his first year on the varsity level and Senesky was quite impressed with his mechanics.

"I wish he was coming back next year," the coach said. "He improved so much during the course of the year and had excellent throwing mechanics. He was a pleasure to coach, also."

Dominowski went down with a broken leg during the pre season and didn't play this year. Debelak overcame injuries in his junior year to play well on the specialty teams this year.

As for the returning players, Sainz earned first team, NNJIL, for his play at split end. The junior also played in the defensive backfield and will be one of the quarterback candidates next fall.

Sainz caught 20 passes for 200 yards this fall and scored three touchdowns.

Other juniors who earned letters this year were, Phil Albanese, John Sternik, Paul Auriemma, Rui Andre, Chris Young, Michael Zaccarella, Matt Goldrick and Gerard Tucci.

Albanese played split end this year and had good hands. He could be a quarterback candidate for next year's team. Sternik has outstanding speed and showed it on some kickoff returns.

Auriemma turned in an excellent season in the defensive secondary. He had a number of tackles and saved what could have been game breaking plays by the opponents.

Andre also played in the defensive secondary and was excellent. He earned second team, NNJIL, for his effort. Like Auriemma, Andre is a good tackler and has a nose for the football.

Young is coming back from a serious knee injury. Senesky is optimistic about his chances next fall.

Zaccarella, an offensive guard, can also play center and linebacker. He has good speed and possesses good size.

Goldrick played offensive guard this year and Tucci, at 6'2", 220 pounds, should be one of the more feared linemen in the conference next fall.

The sophomores who lettered were, Carmen Spina, Sean Kimball, George Wallace, Steve Caponi and James DuHaime.

Spina is a running back with a world of potential. Kimball, a defensive back, gained varsity experience this year and should be a part of a very talented secondary next fall.

Wallace, an offensive lineman, had some injury problems this fall, but played very well. Caponi, another offensive lineman, also did well in his first year in the trenches. Finally, DuHaime, a tight end and defensive end, should be a big factor in next year's squad.

"Our motto next fall is 'Back to the Future'," Senesky said. "We feel we're on the way to what could be a very good season. We have some talented players who should get better with work in the weight room and we certainly have the facilities to get the job done. We can't wait for the '89 season."

Letters to the Editor

Conflicting statements

To the editor:

This controversy of a change of government in Belleville produced a lot of conflicting statements.

To quote Vincent Frantantoni in his front page column... "That a year ago we had a change of government." He should get his facts straight. We didn't have a change of government. We still retain the same commissioners form of government — only a change of commissioners.

Or did Vincent Frantantoni mean that there is a change in the government for the better — and a lot is being accomplished — is it? Our unswept streets are atrocious, leaves clogging the sewers, slippery leaves causing cars to skid and wreck on Forest Street.

And personally, I didn't receive any help to my problem. After contacting one commissioner who "passed the buck" to Vincent Frantantoni's department — I called and I was told he wasn't in. He was to call me — never did — oh well! I dropped out of a certain organization he founded, so I don't rate any help, I guess. . . partiality prevails. That's a common practice in Belleville — some people rate — others do not. But we all pay taxes on the same level, don't we? So, it wasn't a change for the better as he stated.

But, a change to the Manager-Council form of government can be favorable for the taxpayers here in Belleville.

For instance: We'd have a manager with a degree in that specific field to handle the budget. Not an elementary school "drop out"?

Would anyone entrust an elementary school child to their household finances? It's the same difference.

There should be a requirement of education to hold a commissioner's position and responsibilities. Not to be elected by popularity, but by qualifications and intelligence.

School teachers must have a college degree to teach. And many other positions require proof of degree of education. So why shouldn't the commissioners be required to at least have a high school diploma or better? To be competent of handling a budget and his department.

And about Vincent Frantantoni's statement that people signed the petition but later called him to state they didn't know what they were signing.

In my opinion, that was hearsay. Would these people be admitting their ignorance to make such a statement?

Imagine, anyone signing without being aware of what they were signing. This is hard to believe!

Also — why is it always stated that the losers of the past election were initiating this action for a change — when it's very obvious that the ones that didn't get their way of how a Mayor is elected in the last commissioner's election, are downing this action and attempting to distort the facts of a better form of government in Belleville.

I hope the people of this township think carefully, use their own judgment and stick to their decision as to what form of government would be best for Belleville.

A few will be brain-washed for to an extent there exists a "Reverend Jim Jones Syndrome" here. I recall how people were easily led to their destruction in that tragedy in Guiana. Let's not make Belleville a tragedy.

A final reminder to Bellevillites — Now is our chance to make a "Better Belleville" — Do it!!! Or forever hold your complaints.

Appreciates support

To the editor:

Thanks to your generous support, I was fortunate enough to win a gold and silver medal at the Paralympics Games in Seoul, Korea in October. I placed fourth in the javelin, second in the shotput, and took the gold medal in the discus, setting a new world record.

Thanks for making my dream come true. I sincerely feel that this gold medal is not only mine, but yours as well.

Without your sponsorship, I would not have been able to stand on the victory platform representing the USA.

Currently, I now have world titles in indoor shotput, javelin, discus and power-lifting. In addition, I hold nine world records, three in the javelin, one in indoor shotput, one in discus, and four in power-lifting.

As a result of my athletic accomplishments in 1988, as well as my professional and community achievements, I have just been selected by the United States Olympic Committee as Blind Athlete of the Year for the USA.

What else can I say, but thank you for helping me to achieve these goals. I consider them our achievements, and you as part of my team! God Bless You.

Rich Ruffalo

P.S. If you need me to help you, don't hesitate to call.

Against proposed change

To the editor:

I do not believe the proposed change to council/manager government would be in the best interests of Belleville taxpayers.

My reasons are:

1. Belleville is one town with one budget. Its needs are common: good schools, good roads, good parks etc.

To fragment it into four (4) districts competing for funds would result in projects being prioritized politically by district rather than functionally, as needed, for the common good.

2. The leading vote-getter in the general election, "the people's choice," could be politically negated by a coalition of lesser vote-getters.

In fact the top 3 vote-getters, accounting for maybe 70 percent of the popular vote, could be out-voted in committee on any issue.

This would effectively destroy the democratic concept that majority rule is determined by the results of the general election.

3. A manager, hired by a committee of 7, would have 7 bosses. It would be like managing the Yankees with 7 Steinbrenners for guidance.

I think the petition for change in government reflects the public's dissatisfaction with the current turmoil. However we should be sure that a change is for the better — not one that would make a difficult situation more difficult.

DENTALLY SPEAKING By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mr. J. of Belleville writes: "Once a tooth is crowned, can it still get decayed?"

As you know, Mr. J., a crown covers 360 degrees of a tooth and often goes under the gums. If your dental hygiene is good and you keep your gums healthy, the possibility of decay under the crown is very small. If your crown ends above the gums, again your tooth will not be decayed if hygiene and diet is good.

So, Mr. J., once a tooth is crowned, it is very well protected, but if the tooth is neglected it can become subject to the same problem as an uncrowned tooth. Keep up good daily hygiene and you'll be fine. Thank you.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT.

Come in and let the Hungry Bankers fix you up with an investment that can't lose—even in this uncertain economy.

We'll set you up with our Midlantic Prime CD. It's a one-year CD with a variable interest rate that's only 1.50% under our Prime Rate! If you open a Prime CD right now, you'll start off with an interest rate of 9.00%.

And every time the Prime climbs, so will your interest earnings! That's the best part of Midlantic's Prime CD!—there's no limit to how much you can earn!

Plus we'll give you the security of a solid rate floor. This means your interest can't go below 7%—even if the Prime does.

Then, as if that weren't enough, there's the Midlantic Interest Bonus. When you deposit the minimum $5,000 or more into a Midlantic Prime CD from any other financial institution, we'll credit $10 to the interest you earn. Deposit $20,000 or more and we'll make it $25. Deposit $50,000 to $100,000 and get a $50 Bonus.

And a Midlantic Prime Rate CD is risk-free because, like all of our CD's, it's FDIC insured.

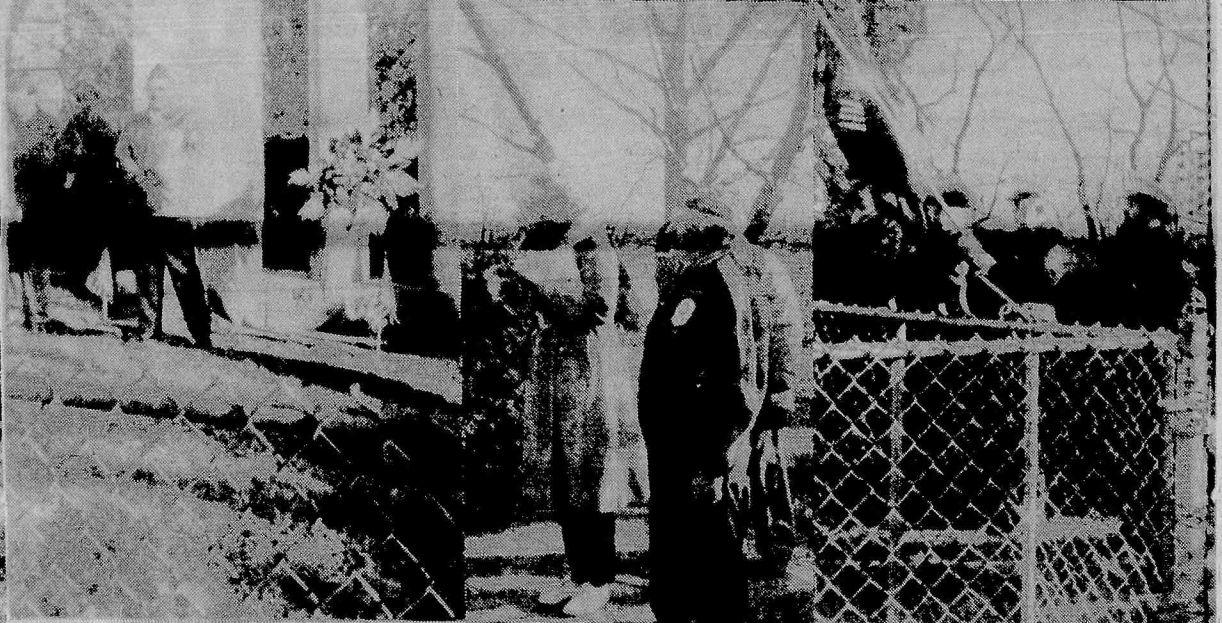

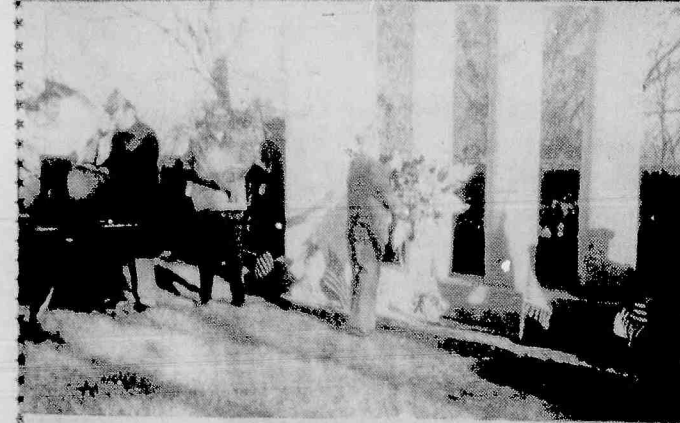

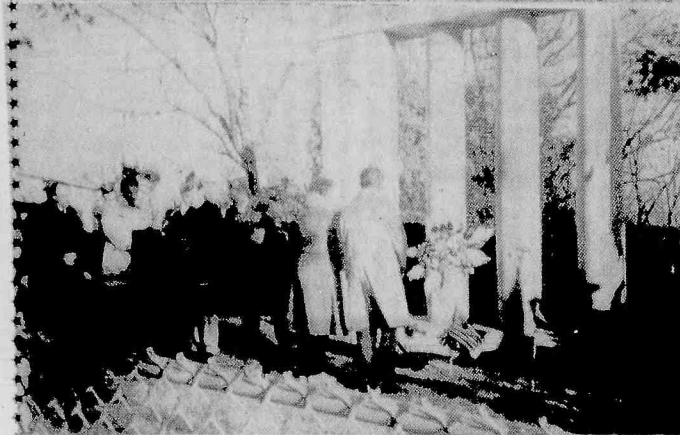

Besides the Prime CD, Midlantic offers you a whole range of fixed market rate investments. So come in and talk to the Hungry Bankers—chances are they have the right investment for you. Or give us a call at Silver Brook is a nine-unit development, the mastermind of builder John Kelly. Exclusive marketing in pre-construction will be handled by DePiro Realtors.

"My intention is to build a quality lifestyle at a very affordable price needed in today's market," said John Kelly at a recent DePiro marketing meeting.

Did You Know??

Classic decorating trick is to use vertical stripes to make a low ceiling look higher. Did you know you could make a high ceiling look lower with dark walls and a wide border where the walls and ceiling meet?

Easiest moneysaver when you remodel a kitchen or bath: keep the plumbing and gas lines in the original position.

Fiddling with the furnace wastes fuel. It's smarter to choose a comfortable temperature setting and leave it. You can reap real savings if you can set your thermostat to drop 10 degrees automatically at night or during the day when you're out.

Liquid dishwasher detergent does a first-class job on windows, because it's designed to clean glass without spotting.

Who's moving? "Young" senior citizens, under 75, often stay put in their homes, according to a Census Bureau study. It's the old-old who are likely to move out.

Who's moving? If you're ready for a home of your own, you'll like the helpful service you get from the real estate pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley. 235-9000.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q.: What is the tax treatment of closing costs if I purchase an investment property?

A.: There are several expenses incurred when purchasing an investment property or vacation home. These will include:
a. Purchase Commissions; b. Legal Fees; c. Recording Costs; d. Survey; e. Title Insurance; f. Transfer Tax.

You can add these costs to the cost basis of the property, allocating those proportionately between the land and the building for purposes of depreciation. If there are points or origination fees, these costs must be written off over the period of the loan.

Q.: What is a Capitalization Rate?

A.: The Capitalization Rate or "CAP" rate is expressed as a percent and represents a rate of return expected by an investor. To arrive at the "CAP" rate: Deduct the total annual operating expenses (do not include mortgage payments) from the total annual gross income to arrive at a "net operating income."

Then divide the net operating income by the purchase price to determine the "CAP" rate. This is very desirable in comparing investment opportunities. The higher the rate, the better the return. Example:

Annual Expenses:	Annual Income:
Real Estate Taxes$2,400	$24,000
Insurance1,000
Maint. & Repairs1,500
Utilities2,000	Gross Annual Income:
Total Operat. Expens. $6,900	$24,000.
$24,000 - $6,900 = Net operating income $17,100.

Purchase price of building No. 1 - $250,000.

$17,100 ÷ $250,000 = "CAP" rate of 7%.
