Fire destroys 3-family house; occupants rescued by firemen

Fire destroyed a three family house at 425 Greylock Parkway last Thursday shortly after 6 p.m. Two men trapped on the third floor were rescued by firefighters who entered the burning building from a truck ladder.

Official reports stated that William and Robert LaMorte were trapped in the third floor after all the other occupants were safely outside. Captain Caruso and firemen Rob Wille and James Zaccari entered the house to rescue the LaMortes. One victim was reported conscious and the other unconscious.

Two firemen, Paul Melchione and Peter Journey reported minor injuries and were treated at Clara Maass Medical Center and released.

Two policemen were turned back by intense smoke when they tried to enter the building to search for an elderly man believed to be inside. Officers Victor Mesce and Rory Scheumeister were treated for smoke inhalation at CMMC and released.

The fire was under control within 45 minutes of the call. Fire officials reported that the legal three family house was not equipped with hard-wired smoke alarms as required by law. Residents reported they had battery operated smoke alarms but were not sure if they were operational.

Senior citizen housing urged for vacated Geriatrics Center

By Anthony Buccino

Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato said that whatever development takes place on the 35 acre site of the former Essex County Geriatrics Center at Belleville and Franklin Aves. it will address the need for senior citizen housing.

Amato said Friday that rumors circulating about the conversion of the facility, a former isolation hospital, are "totally without merit."

The site will not be used for a drug rehabilitation center or a jail, he said, especially because of its location across from School 10.

What will become of the site, Amato said, is "restricted only by our own imagination." He said, "There are many, many options," and the development will be handled in a "delicate way with no adverse impact on the community."

Amato said, the community cries out for senior citizens needs. Their housing and health care must be addressed, and the seniors must not be forgotten, he said.

Belleville will now be able to address senior citizen housing, Amato said. It's not a political issue, it's a people issue. We have to try to help people. Belleville is one of the last townships in the county to provide senior housing.

"What other use is more appropriate?" He said, pointing out the area around the county property. Belleville's fire headquarters is located on the site. Hendrix county golf course is across the street — that's being renovated now. Belleville and Branch Brook parks are diagonal. The site is just minutes from both Mountainside Hospital and Clara Maass Medical Center. The site is also convenient to the City Subway, the Garden State Parkway and area shopping centers.

"Whatever develops will include senior citizen housing, possibly a complex and a recreation center," Amato said. The county administration is taking a "strong look at the idea of senior health care" in the form of a continuing health care center incorporated into the site. Amato would like to look at the development as part of a total senior citizen complex, from health care to housing.

The Community Mental Health Services operation will stay in tact, Amato said. It may not remain in the building it is in.

Funding for development of the property will depend on which proposal is developed, Amato said. It may come entirely from the private sector developer. Amato said the county will have a strong say in what goes, who goes, and how it is done. It may be a contracted arrangement between the county and a private developer. Amato said, whatever it is it will be the result to turn out right.

The original building was built in 1905 and the large familiar structure in front was opened in 1932. It served as an isolation hospital until it was converted to a geriatrics center in 1970.

The main building is separated physically by towers into east and west wings. Amato said the facility was cost inefficient. It had no air conditioning, and was cold in the winter and hot in the summer. There was no water pressure to reach the top floors. And because the building was built for isolation, it was life threatening to nonambulatory patients. The building has only one central elevator.

The Essex County Geriatrics Center was relocated to the newly renovated Wright Pavilion in Cedar Grove December 11-14. The county moved 211 patients "without a hitch." The county was able to consolidate the whole staff onto the 325 acres complex. The move increased the nursing ratio to patients when they went from 13 wards in different buildings to 4 wards all on one floor.

At this time, the laundry operation is the only remnant of geriatrics center.

School budget tax levy depends on state aid

Belleville's school tax levy will increase only 3 1/2 tax points this year if full state aid entitlement is received, according to Edward Appleton, board secretary/business administrator.

The school board voted in favor of submitting to the Essex County Superintendent of Schools a tentative budget for $25,168,322.

The budget breaks down to Current Expense: $25,042,657; Capital Outlay: $36,727; Debt Service: $88,168,938.

Trustee Joseph P. DelGuercio submitted a letter to township residents explaining that the financial impact on the township will be minimal if the Governor Florio fully funds the district as per the state's educational aid formula.

DelGuercio's letter urged the township residents to write the governor to ask him to fully fund the educational aid formula.

According to Appleton, the $25 million tentative budget comprises 31% state aid. This is a 41% increase in state aid from 1989-90.

Appleton said the board will know how much state funding to expect early next month after Florio adopts his state budget.

If the governor does not provide the anticipated state aid, the board will have to decide where cuts will be made in the budget.

DelGuercio's letter noted Belleville has cut 37 positions in five years. Additionally, Belleville spent $337 less than the state average per pupil in 1989-90. The district's per pupil allocations for textbooks, other books, subscriptions, A.V. supplies, teaching supplies, workbooks, office supplies, computer hardware, etc, and misc. instructional expenses were $80 in the elementary, $100 in the middle school, and $160 in the high school.

Drug Education

Belleville Alliance of Substance Education (BASE) spokesperson Pat Taibi asked the board of education Monday night to contribute about $8,500 towards the purchase of a focused drug education curriculum called Here's Looking At You 2000.

Taibi said the group expects equal participation in the curriculum purchase program from home and school groups and businesses and organizations. She said BASE would like to see each segment of the community contribute one-third to the cost of placing the curriculum in the school.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally explained that the board has budgeted for one complete kit in its tentative budget. He said the middle school and high school each have the Here's Looking At You 2000 curriculum kits.

Lally said the amount budgeted is $6,400 for a K-6 kit. He said he may try to use a portion of the Drug Free Schools Grant to make up the shortage between what the school has budgeted and what the kit costs.

The Drug Free Schools Grant is not as comprehensive, Lally said. The grant is a three year plan, but Lally agreed that working with BASE, each school may be able to have its own kit.

Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said that this type of education program is a "top priority" from pre-kindergarten on up. He explained that the priorities of this board would not be binding on a board of education that could consist of new members after the May election. It is at that election,

Commissioners again table wage freeze resolution

Township commissioners Tuesday night again tabled a resolution to limit job titles to those already existing, and restrict pay raises for employees to those negotiated under contract or granted through civil service increment policies.

Present at the professional, low-key meeting were Mayor Michael Pizzi, Commissioner Joseph McGreevy and Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni. The commissioners learned that they needed more than a simple majority to transfer budget moneys into various accounts. The resolutions to transfer the funds were tabled.

The commissioners defeated a resolution requesting a Handicapped parking place in front of 179 Floyd Street. The police investigation did not recommend the second application by the resident. Two other requests for Handicapped parking were approved at 207 Greylock Parkway and 76 Holmes Street.

Resident Angelo Veneziano asked the commissioners to look into adjusting the agenda at town meetings to include more detail regarding specific resolutions.

Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood explained that a folder with all the resolutions is available for inspection by residents. It is on the same table as the agenda for inspection by residents, she said.

A resident whose rent increased $90 to $725 from $635, in December after 30 days notice, was told that three family houses are no longer under the township rent control regulations. The regulations were changed last April.

Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli explained the background behind the change in the rent control. He said that most three-family houses in town were owner-occupied. Most rent abuses were found in multiple family houses starting with four-family houses and up. The commissioners met with the rent control board before changing the regulations in April.

The commissioners suggested the resident contact the rent leveling board.

New buildings, alterations and updates of residential property for December, 1989 was valued at $221,855. There were four new buildings or additions, 29 alterations and 8 updates.

Alterations, and updates of non-residential property for December, 1989 was valued at $216,920. There were eight alterations, and three updates.

Assessment searches collected by the Department of Public Works for 1989 amounted to $3,168.

The township payroll of January 5, 1990 was $203,906.71. Payment of the payroll is provided to employees prior to approval at the regular meetings of the Board of Commissioners.

Fatigate gets award from Essex County

Essex County Executive Nicholas R. Amato recently honored Belleville resident Annette Fatigate for implementing an innovative program in the county.

Fatigate, head nurse at the Essex County Geriatrics Center, was one of two county employees to receive the honor. She received a $250 savings bond and a county plaque, naming her "Third Quarter Employee of the Year" for her development of the restorative nursing program.

The program features a commitment to improving patient mobility, a family counseling program and the reassembling and reconditioning of wheel chairs for patients. The county has saved $15,000 through Fatigate's program.

Belleville resident Annette Fatigate receives a savings bond and plaque from Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato. On hand for the presentation are D. J. Amato, Fatigate, Victoria Keller, director of county Dept. of Health & Rehabilitation, and Marilyn Lamberti, acting division director of the Geriatrics Center.

Board of Education budget tentative where if the budget is defeated, the newly elected board will be called upon to make cuts.

In other board of education news, the board approved an easement agreement with New Jersey Bell Telephone Company to locate a cross connect box on middle school property. The board will receive $5,000 for the easement which will be put into the general board funds. Trustee Pat Pisano noted that the funds could not be earmarked specifically for the middle school.

Resident Frank Montagna asked the board for more information regarding a voting contest run in the homerooms during last year's board election. Montagna wanted to know why the address for the sponsors listed a vacant lot on Liberty Avenue. He also said that the literature was done on school time with school material using the school computer.

Belleville Education Association Vice President Carol Pignatello said the Committee to Pass The Budget literature was funded solely by private funding. Printing and other work was done at the BEA office, she said. She said the incorrect address was her mistake because she did not remember that Liberty Ave. is not the continuation of Division Ave.

She said the committee was concerned about cuts in library personnel, and the reduced number of elementary school nurses. She said there are presently three nurses for seven elementary schools.

The board also approved the purchase of approximately sixty light fixtures for use at School from Galaxy Lighting, Union City. The fixtures from Galaxy at $33.19 each were 25 less than the per fixture price received from Newark Light, Belleville. The board is bound by state law to award the bid to the lowest bidder.

Christmas party letter

The Christmas party announcement sent by the Concerned Citizens of Belleville to the board of education does not state that the "member" they were honoring for her outstanding volunteer work was a student at Belleville High School.

The CCB criticized board of education members at the Dec. 19 meeting for not attending their Christmas party or showing support for the student.

At the board meeting, CCB members demanded to know why board members did not attend. CCB member Florence Pentol said at the meeting that she delivered the letters in person to the board office.

Board members said they had no knowledge that the party was to honor a Belleville student for her volunteer work. Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said that the Christmas party seemed to him to be a political event.

Pentol said that D'Agostino had the CCB confused with the Citizens for a Better Belleville, the CBB. She said that her group was not political.

The CCB letter announcing the Christmas party includes the date, the musicians and the menu. The last paragraph of the letter states: "At this Xmas Party we will honor one of our members...for her outstanding volunteer work." No where in the letter does it state that the "member" is a school district student.

Board trustee Richard Yanuzzi was the only member to attend the party. The board voted 5-2 at the December meeting not to reimburse Yanuzzi $20 for his ticket.

FEELING AT HOME

A recent Louis Harris survey lends statistical backing to the notion that Americans are trending toward medical self-diagnoses. According to the poll, nearly five out of ten U.S. adults showed an interest in using home medical tests. Of those surveyed, 24 percent had already turned to home-testing methods to measure their blood pressure or blood sugar, detect infection, screen for colon cancer, or check for ovulation or pregnancy. The age group most interested in self-diagnoses consisted of those between 40 and 54 years of age. Those aged 18 to 29 also showed a strong interest, while nearly two out of every three people indicated interest in home blood-pressure testing. It seems that the age of home testing has arrived.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The transcript of recorded proceedings in the Municipal Court of Glen Ridge New Jersey September 26, 1989 in the case of State of New Jersey vs. Joseph Fomaroito Defendant represented by attorney Dennis J. Oury, Esq. appearing for the defendant on page 27 shows Mr. Oury stated to the Hon. Joseph T. Connolly, the local Magistrate, "The only problem I have, Judge, I don't think the proper charges have been filed for the testimony." The Court responded: All right. Let me take a look at the statute.

Mr. Oury responded: That's all I would ask, Your Honor. "The two (2) statutes involved are 2C:17-3 and - The Court: Yes, I have them. Just give me a moment please. All right. The first charge I have is 2C:17-3a (2), right? Mr. Oury: Yes.

The Court: Let me read that all right 2C:17-3a (2), disorderly conduct. "A person is guilty of a petty disorderly person's offense if with purpose to cause public inconvenience, annoyance, or alarm, or recklessly creating a risk thereof, he creates a hazardous or physically dangerous condition by any act which serves no legitimate purpose of the actor." Now, what's -

Mr. Oury: Your Honor, I'd like to address my first argument to the 2C:17-3. It's my understanding that the statute requires an injury to property. Looking at some of the note decisions, Your Honor, in the statute, there is in fact a graduation in the statute of 4th degree, 3rd degree, depending upon the amount of the loss, but there must be proven some type of a tangible loss. Assuming for the moment, Your Honor, as at this point you should, that everything that is being proffered to you is true, the best situation that you have is that someone put a nail underneath a tire, but there was no damage to any property, because there is no testimony that the car ever moved, causing a flat tire; nothing of that nature.

The Court: The best testimony that I have is that not only someone, but your client, placed a nail under this tire. Mr. Oury: Okay, fine. Let's assume -

The Court: Do you agree with that? Mr. Oury: Yes. Let's assume that you accept the idea of the client placing the nail under the tire. That is not a violation of this particular statute, because it requires there be damage to property. There are cases that talk about, you know, if you can't prove the value of the item, you have to assume it's minimal, but there has to be some damage to personal property, and we don't have that in this case at all, Your Honor.

The Court: All right. What's your next argument? Mr. Oury: The next argument, Your Honor, is on 2C:33-2. At best what we have is an attempt to commit a disorderly person's offense. There is a case, an Appellate Division case, State versus Clark, which clearly says that an attempt is not a violation of the statute. The other point, Your Honor, is that the statute talks about with purpose to cause public inconvenience, the public being defined in the statute, if it's true, if all the allegations are true, this was not what we would call a public inconvenience. If you look at the history of the statute, I believe it makes it clear that we're talking about different types of acts that the statute prescribes.

The Court: "...the record will indicate the charge that remains is the first charge, which is 2C:17-3a(2). I granted defense attorney's motion to dismiss charge number 2 as being a charge that doesn't really match the facts in this case. I'm going to enter a finding of guilty on the first charge, offering some time to set this matter down specially for sentencing - Mr. Oury: No, I would just - The Court: Have a pre-sentence report? Mr. Oury: I don't think it's necessary in this case. I would just indicate to the Court that I'll seriously discuss, with all due respect to the Court's decision, an appeal, and you can stay any sentence, I suppose, on an application.

The Court: I'm not persuaded that I should come to a decision on sentencing right now, I think I should have some time. I think I should order a pre-sentence report, and whatever it shows - So the Probation Department conduct the usual pre-sentencing when I receive that report... I'm going to make it part of the order right now on the record that the pre-sentence report goes to you.

Drug Awareness Week observed at Middle School

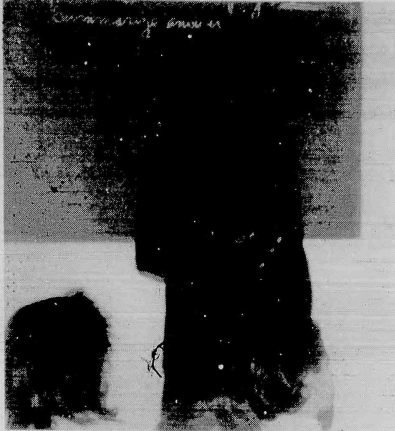

Emphasizing the belief that our national substance abuse problem can be conquered by education, Belleville Middle School students are observing Drug Awareness Week.

The program, which is run through the science department, includes several days of concentrated anti-drug curriculum, various student projects and guest speakers.

This year, the students were visited by Bill Woody from the Council of Alcohol and Drug Education, Detective Good from the Essex County Sheriff's Department, and Belleville Board of Education legal counsel Frank Pomaco.

Board of Education attorney Frank Pomaco discusses drugs and the law with Middle School students.

Detective Good from the Essex County Sheriff's Department addressed Middle School students on the innocent victims of substance abuse.

Loehwing is broadcasting producer

Belleville high school graduate Rudi C. Loehwing arrived from London to welcome the new year and celebrate his recent success in establishing the first United States/United Kingdom/European radio broadcasting program. The new program features unknown rock, pop, jazz and country music bands from 10 countries. The 1974 Belleville graduate went to New York City and became the nation's youngest commercial radio producer. He worked in Hollywood where he established American Culture Entertainment and produced and hosted hundreds of radio programs throughout the country.

Loehwing recently launched a project on the British Broadcasting Company where his show will give thousands of bands their first break in the music business.

"During my years in broadcasting, I found that commercial radio can make or break the music business," Loehwing said. "If a band's music gets enough airtime, it becomes a hit. People buy the records and so forth. If the music isn't on the radio, the records don't sell."

During recent interviews on British radio, Loehwing said that most Hollywood producers "just aren't willing to take the chance on an unknown, commercially unknown, band and most often, very good bands split up after touring clubs and bars for a few years."

Area musicians who would like to have their music reviewed for broadcast on Loehwing's international program should send demo tapes to American Culture Entertainment, The American Scene, Box 85219, Hollywood, CA 90072.

Three additional programs under production by Loehwing include, The American Scene, Brits in the Colonies, and the International Country Top 10. These three shows air on independent radio in Europe and the United Kingdom.

Low radon risk in town

Belleville township health officer Thomas Longo informs us that the State Department of Health has placed Belleville in the category of Tier 3 in respect to radon contamination.

This means that Belleville is not at high risk for such contamination. Nevertheless, the state recommends that, when possible, testing for radon be done.

Mr. Longo also says that the state will lend a video on radon testing to any group interested in viewing it.

For further information about the video or about radon testing, call the health officer at 450-3389.

Scholarship recipients

Sixteen students were honored for their scholastic achievements at the Board of Education meeting Jan. 8.

Four students selected as Distinguished Scholars will receive a $1,000 annual scholarship. In order to receive this award, a student must be in the top 10% of the class and have SAT scores of 1200 or above. Belleville's Distinguished Scholars are Christopher Kriock, John Matos, Gaurav Nangia and Joseph Ombalsky.

Selection as Garden State Scholars requires a student must be in the top 30% of the class and have SAT scores of 1000 or above. Belleville's Garden State Scholars are Susan Aufiero, Joyce Burke, Danielle Collett, Peter Dorizas, Kimberly Fraene, Stacy Johansen, James Krupka, Albert Leyson, Marc Nakashian, Maushumi Parikh, Marguerite Ryan, and Salvatore Taibi.

Trips to roller rink planned

Belleville Middle School Students have a safe, healthy way to use up their boundless energy. Several roller skating trips have been scheduled at the Skater's World Roller Rink in Wayne.

The students board buses at B.M.S. at 5:45 p.m. and are returned by 10 p.m. Bill Hollis, who teaches Spanish at the school, has been arranging extra activities like this for almost 15 years, according to Principal Mario DiMaggio.

The students enjoy the skating, the music and the social interaction which a trip of this type gives. They 'wheely' get into it.

OUR OPINION

*Light the lamps up, Lamplighter
The people are in the street —
Without a light they have no sight,
And where will they plant their feet?
Some will treat in the gutter,
And some in the mud — oh dear!
Light the lamps up, Lamplighter,
Because the night is here.*

*Light the stars up, Gabriel,
The cherubs are out to fly —
If heaven is blind how will they find
Their way across the sky?
Some will splash in the Milky Way,
Or bump on the moon — oh dear!
Light the stars up, Gabriel,
Because the night is here.*

A clean, well-lighted place

A clean well-lighted place is all they ask. A clean, well-lighted place in which to work, in which to do their best for the community. It's the little things in life that make them happy.

You see them, then, on duty. Ready always to risk their lives for you. Always at the ready for your call. They are human, as are you. They have good days and bad days, as you do also. Their day's concerns and their personal problems fly out the window when you call. And they're there in minutes to help you.

Our police and firemen do their best for us. They risk their lives for us. They answer our every call, unselfishly. Unfortunately, lately they've had to work under less than desirable conditions. How those conditions came about, is not the issue here. The time to name names and point fingers has come and gone. The point is today. Today is what these people who serve us face every day.

The firemen got their new headquarters in 1978. It was a beautiful building. You'd be saddened to see it today. We've spoken to the powers that be. They say the conditions will be corrected. They say it will be soon. We'll see. The whole point in making something livable today, is to take care of it today, and it will be there tomorrow when to enjoy again.

When the doorknobs are replaced and the doors are replaced and the place in general is cleaned up, that's when the people who work there everyday have to take responsibility for its condition. We can correct the unsightly conditions, but there will have to be some effort involved and some cooperation offered to help keep it up. It's an inherited problem that's not too late to deal with. Perhaps if more people visited the fire headquarters, just to say hello, perhaps the gloom will wear away.

Perhaps because it is off the beaten track, no one stops by anymore. That's a shame. Where are the grandfathers of yesteryear who took their grandchildren to see the firehouse and the big bright machines that sparkled? There is a museum of fire memorabilia in the headquarters. But sometimes the museum is filled with storage. Perhaps if more people stopped in to say hello, where's the museum, perhaps that would provide the motivation to keep it up. Not as part of the job, lord knows the job is hard enough, but to keep it up just for the pride of saying this is where we work, and we're proud to work here in this clean, well-lighted place.

No one disagrees that the police need a new headquarters. No one wants to pay for it, either. Fortunately, most of us never have reason to stop by at the police station. But if you did, you'd surely agree it's time that these brave people caught a break.

Both departments are well known for their response time, usually within minutes. And they are to be commended for their commitment to this town, in spite of all the politics that must stab a knife in the back of pride.

The new public safety complex with its 24,000 square feet of usable space and its sheltered prisoner drop off, is just the type of revitalization this township needs. This will spur more new businesses to give their growth a chance in Belleville. And that will make people proud to live and work here.

You see, the new public safety building is not just a building. It is a sign of hope for our township. It's a sign that people still care about the people who work here, and the image we project. It's a good thing for the betterment of Belleville. Some people here have made it a political issue. You are or are not popular based on your stand for the public safety building. For some people, any money you spend is too much. For others, they can see the benefits it will bring to town, and realize that you've got to spend money to make money.

The next time you're in town hall, stop in at the police station. Take a look around. Ask yourself, would I want to work here? Visit your nearest firehouse, take a look at the equipment, then ask yourself, would I want to work here?

We've always agreed that what goes around comes around. And when it comes around again, have a seat in a clean, well-lighted place.

YOUR OPINION

6 Million Dollar Man

To the editor:

Last night, Dec. 28, the Belleville commissioners field a township meeting at a different time and day than usual. I did not see you seated at the press table (though you might have had a representative in the audience), so I presume you didn't know about the change in time and date.

Let me tell you what you might have missed. You missed another performance of Belleville's version of the Mort Downey Show. The meeting began with the customary shouting matches between officials and the usual prompted audience group responses.

There was the usual small group in the audience who perform like a "gaggle of geese" quacking in unison at the prompting of "the head goose." Their conduct would make even Mort Downey's audience blush. And, as usual, it drove the rest of the interested citizens out of the room in disgust as the night wore on. Much of the four hour meeting dealt with questions about the proper procedure for authorizing and presenting various types of legal bills for payment, as though our township government just started yesterday.

But, what went without notice by the "gaggle of geese" (because they were so busy quacking at other citizens in defense of their "paper hero"), was that in all discussion about who slipped what bill under their noses, no one heard about the additional 8,000 sq. ft. of building space added to the Public Safety Building project, without the benefit of any resolution or ordinance.

Mario Drozd, past chairman of the Citizens For A Better Belleville Committee, asked Commissioner Frantantoni about a Star-Ledger report that referred to the Public Safety Building project as a 32,000 sq. ft. building. Frantantoni responded that the newspaper reporters sometimes don't understand, they get confused and make mistakes. This is a typical Frantantoni response, when he doesn't have an answer, or he doesn't want to answer, or the full truth might embarrass him or expose his vacillating.

The fact of the matter is that without a public resolution or ordinance authorizing it, Mr. Frantantoni added a fourth story to what was supposed to be a three-story, 24,000 sq. ft. building, making it 32,000 sq. ft. And, the 2,000 sq. ft. of space for a firing range that had been deemed unnecessary and removed from the previous plans has now been added back in, as additional office space. That, of course, will mean additional furniture, more jobs, and more expense for the taxpayers. Don't take my word for it, go down to the town hall and look at the paper model of the project. The additional 8,000 sq. ft. is a completely enclosed garage, mechanical rooms, and elevator entry for prisoner drop-off.

Now, here is the guy who got himself elected on the basis of his repeated and repitious filibustering at township meetings against the $10 million "Taj Mahal" complex, and the $5 million 24,000 sq. ft. Public Safety Building. He constantly said the costs were too much and the people could not afford the tax increase.

Now that he is on the money-controlling side of the spending, it's o.k. for him to create a $6 million "Pork Barrel." He knew then, and he knows now, that the cost of the original plans for a 24,000 sq. ft. Public Safety Building was $1,666,000. And, he knows now that same building would cost $2,099,160, by applying recognized construction inflation factors to the 1983 cost.

I, and most of the citizens of Belleville believe in and support the police department's need for larger and more modern facilities in order to continue to operate effectively. The police department now operates out of less than 10,000 sq. ft. Suggestions for a 10,000 sq. ft. police annex addition to the rear of the present town hall with an outside elevator/stairwell connection were ignored; as well as the idea of moving all other offices out of the town hall and down to old School No. 1. This would have left the entire 13,800 sq. ft. town hall for police use exclusively. Why were these suggestions ignored? Simply because they weren't Frantantoni's ideas, and his ego doesn't permit him to get past his compulsive need to say, "I did it, I did it, I did it alone!"

The real mystery is how he continues to delude that "gaggle of geese" who follow him, when he has come 180 degrees around on the spending of Belleville taxpayer's money. How does he justify, or explain away the fact that he is primarily responsible for the spending (or should I say wasting) of $800,000 in architectural and engineering fees for the prior projects which were abandoned because of his opposition? And, we don't have a single brick to show for it. Don't these people ever open their eyes and ears and stop following blindly?

Yes, Belleville has its own version of the 6 Million Dollar Man. Commissioner Frantantoni... he just put us in 6 Million Dollars of Pork Barrel Debt!

Anniversary success

To the editor:

The success of the 150th anniversary celebration of Belleville Township was made possible by our very competent chairman, David Bryant, director of the Belleville Public Library.

As a member of the committee, I looked forward to attending the meetings which were well planned. Mr. Bryant was very helpful with his suggestions — never negative to our ideas — always willing to give his time to listen to our plans of events.

The library staff was cooperative also. The town fathers, Mayor Michael Pizzi and Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni, honorary co-chairmen, did whatever they could to make the events run smoothly.

I met a lot of nice people who worked together harmoniously. To me it was a pleasurable experience.

On behalf of myself and the members of the Belleville Historical Society, we were happy to be part of the 150th anniversary of this historical year.

Let's take inventory

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to totally and without reservation commend the editorial "Feathers in the air" that appeared in last week's edition.

The editor could not have said it better... and to quote the words of the "good book" those of us who have eyes and ears let us heed what the "spirit" is saying to our town.

We have become our own worst enemies... it is time to take inventory. Where are our priorities???? Is it really for the good of the town... or is it self-aggrandizement... a magnifying of the "self"... I am appalled at some of the rhetoric that one hears at the town meetings. Endless litany of "when I took over this department... I had to do this, and I did that, and I had to do the other... I, I, I... to imply that nobody ever did anything productive until they came along to take the role of the great "Saviour."

Thank you editor... Let us write it on every household... "If everyone we know in town told one good tale about one good thing that happened in our town, the good word would spread, and our tarnish would start to fade."

I am a candidate... who will join me.

Gratefully,
Rev. Gerald Fortunato
Pastor, Silver Lake Baptist Church

'Personal vendetta'

To the editor:

After attending last week's Board of Commissioners meeting at town hall, you can tell that the Election for Councilmen is just around the corner. It seems that Mario Drozd and Gabe Nazzola had their campaign kick-off by attacking commissioner Frantantoni needlessly. Here is a man who is doing so much to save the taxpayer's money.

He was the only commissioner to vote against the absurd salary increases for the fire officials. Frantantoni fought against the police raises. He kept his budget down.

Look around town and see all the improvements he has made. How about giving a guy credit when he deserves it. Let me ask you a question Mario and Gabe: Where were you when the issue of the police and fire officials' salary was discussed?

Where were both of you on the school budget? You had nothing to say about the 66 point tax increase.

It is very obvious that you have a personal vendetta against Commissioner Frantantoni. Why is it you never have anything to say about the other commissioners?

Joseph Celio

Praise for 'Joe'

To the editor:

One cannot help but wonder what has happened to our town in the last couple of years. A look at the letters from the people of Belleville, the headlines on the front page trying to discredit anyone desiring to be helpful, show a change in the attitudes of those in charge.

In a recent issue of the Belleville Times, a question was raised as to why Commissioner Fornarotto seemed out of place without divulging his thoughts. I can relate to Joe's actions and those of you who know me, know why. If you were Joe, what would you have done?

Joe is many things. He is antsy and excitable. He is high-strung and skittish. He has every reason to be all these things and more. He has begun calling everything under the sun — but when dusk begins, one thing is certain, we can sleep a little better because we know he's been out sticking his neck out for us.

Joe is perfect, but some do try more than others and some have to work harder at it, but let's be fair — we all know — Joe Fornarotto is out there for the people of Belleville and it's time we let him know.

We care about him and about the town. How's about that? How about some feedback? Just a few little words like: "Go for it, Joe!" or even just a plain ole "Thanks, Joe, for caring." And, my favorite, "Joe, God bless you."

Egg-shaped pigskin

To the editor:

It seems to me — it is high time, indeed, we stopped referring to that egg-shaped inflated pigskin, that is used in the game we know by the name of football, as a "ball." It most definitely is not a "ball."

As Yogi Berra might say — "If it ain't round, it ain't a ball."

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. R. of Nutley writes: "I'm concerned about oral cancer. Is there any self-examination I can do?"

Excellent question, Mrs. R. The self-examination you can and everyone should do is as follows: Tilt your head and feel around your neck area for any unusual lumps. Grasp your upper lip between your thumb and index finger and moving along your lip feel for any type of mass. Then do the same on the lower lip. Using the same technique grasp your right cheeks between the two fingers and again feel for any lumps. Do the same on your left cheek. Finally grasp your tongue, again feel for any lumps.

Look at your gums and mouth area for any discoloration or unusual marking. Observing these areas follow by feeling for any lumps that may be under the skin's gum surface. This technique requires some supervision initially so have your dentist go over this self-examination technique with you.

Food freezing tips

Thomas Longo, Belleville health officer, has found some very good tips on freezing food, published in Mountaineer Hospital's brochure "For Your Good Health."

He believes they should be very helpful to consumers.

1. Find the number of cubic feet of your freezer and then: a) freeze no more than 4 lbs. of food for every cubic foot, no more than 2 1/2 lbs. of meat, and no more than 3 1/2 lbs. of vegetables.

2. Don't put too many unfrozen packages of food into the freezer at one time.

3. Don't put hot food in the freezer — allow it to cool enough to touch.

4. Wrap food properly, seal it, then put type of food and date on package.

5. Use most foods within several months.

6. Refreeze partially thawed food only if ice crystals are present.

7. Do not refreeze partially thawed fish or shell fish. Cook immediately.

8. Cook completely thawed food as soon as possible, then serve it, refrigerate or refreeze it.

9. Store frozen food at zero (0) degree F. Buy a freezer thermometer if your freezer does not have one.

10. Rotate foods to use the oldest packages first. Put new packages at the rear or bottom. Keep a check list with names of items and dates frozen.

11. Defrost freezer when frost on the inside walls builds up to 1/4". You can temporarily store frozen packages in a cooler with dry ice in an insulated ice chest, or in another freezer. Use gloves to protect your hands.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Hope for a New Year

The hope for your new year can be as bright as the promises of God. The Bible offers you confidence for the future — not based on your own ingenuity or determination, but on the love and mercy of God. Nothing in the coming year — rising prices, unemployment, family problems — yes, nothing can change this solid hope.

The prophet Jeremiah knew the secret "Blessed (happy) is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is" (Jeremiah 17:7). God, the all-powerful Creator and Sustainer of the universe, who cares about your every problem, this God alone can build a secure future for you.

The person who has never trusted Jesus Christ may see life as hopeless. And, in the final analysis, he is right, for without Christ, he "has no hope, and is without God in the world" (Ephesians 2:12).

But Jesus Christ offers what you could never purchase and no one can take from you...

...love that is not based on your feelings or merits but on the never-ending mercies of God (Romans 5:8).

...freedom to know and enjoy God because Jesus Christ has taken the punishment for your sins (1 Peter 3:18).

...friendship that will never disappoint you because Jesus promised, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee" (Hebrews 13:5).

...a reason for living because following Christ gives true meaning and purpose to life (John 14:6).

...an unshakeable future firmly based on Christ's promise: "I will come again" (John 14:3).

...an eternal home where the kiljoys of earth — selfishness, hatred, death — will all be gone (Revelation 21:4).

As you enter this new year, you can depend on yourself and wish for the best, or you can put your hope in God. Through faith in His Word you can be filled with hope that will never fail and life that will never end.

"Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord His God" (Psalm 146:5).

The Belleville town council approved by a 5-0 vote an ordinance to prevent loitering on streets, in parks, and in public places. The council also passed a companion resolution, instructing the police force to enforce the law with vigilance.

The new ordinance was spelled out clearly, with the term "loitering" explained as the following:

- Obstruction of the free unhampered passage of pedestrians or vehicles.
- Obstruction, molestation, or interference with any person lawfully upon any street, park, or public place.

- Remaining idle in essentially one location without being able to establish having a legitimate business or purpose in doing so.

- Refusing to move when required by a peace officer, provided the peace officer exercised discretion reasonably under circumstances in order to promote public peace and order.

Meat ordinance approved

The long awaited amendment to the town's sanitary code controlling the type and quality of ground meat sold in local stores was adopted, 5-0, by the town council.

The ordinance was prepared by a special committee headed by Councilman Robert Westpy. It was a substitution for the controversial ordinance of several months back that would have required merchants to grind meat in view of each customer.

Belloy's trounce Nutley

A 34-point, 18-rebound effort by Bill Rush spurred the Belleville varsity basketball team's win over cross-town rival Nutley, 67-49.

The lead constantly changed until the second quarter, when Rush's hook shot put the Belloy's ahead, 19-18, and began a seven-point run.

Ken Fulmore added 15 points for Belleville, which upped its record to 3-3, good for third place in the Big Ten Conference.

SINUS DISEASE

- Q: What is sinus disease?
- A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air-containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.
- Q: What are the symptoms of Sinus Disease?
- A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.
- Q: How is sinus disease treated?
- A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and allergy therapy.
- Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?
- A: In more severe cases, with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.
- Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?
- A: Yes. With fiberoptic examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.
- Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?
- A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopic techniques with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

As we continue our look back at the 1980's, I would be remiss to not mention three items that were big news in the early 80's.

In 1981, senior runner Dana Caruso rewrote the record books for the Belleville girls' track team. Caruso set records in the 800, 1600 and 3200 meters. After graduation from Belleville in 1981, she attended Montclair State College and continued her fine running career.

Caruso eclipses some of the records set by Sue Smith in the late 1970's. Caruso, Barbara Gundry, Patty Bliss and Joyce Luongo are standout female runners for Belleville High School over the past decade. The girls excelled in cross country, indoor and outdoor track.

In the fall of 1981, head track and cross country coach Rich Ruffalo resigns after six seasons. He is replaced by John Tosato and Tosato's first assignment is to get the new indoor track program off the ground in the winter of 1982.

Next week, we'll get a little more in depth with the Belleville track teams during the 1980's.

Another event in 1982 that was not mentioned in last week's column was the Belleville-Passaic football game in October. In that game, Belleville was ranked to the powerful Indians, ranked number one in the state and host to the top ten in the nation.

Passaic had a runner named Craig Heyward, who would be one of the best runners ever in the state.

The Bucs would not be denied, however. A Robbie Cancelliere field goal in the first half held up and Belleville won a game no one gave them a chance to win. The final score was 3-2 and the scene at the end of the game was one of emotion and excitement.

A player I forget to mention last week, but who was instrumental in that victory was Ray Kimball. Kimball was a standout defensive end for three years for the Bucs.

Three future NFL players played in that Belleville-Passaic game. For the Bucs, Dave Grant, now with the Bengals anchored the defensive line. For Passaic, Heyward is today a running back for the New Orleans Saints and Tyrone Stowe is a linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The third item occurred in early 1981. Senior Wayne Bubet of the Belleville boys' basketball team became the second player in school history to surpass the 1,000 point mark.

"The Train," as he was called by his teammates back then, broke the record in a game against Weehawkin on January 21. I remember his excitement at breaking the record, then running into the stands to give his parents the basketball. It was especially touching, because a few years later, Wayne lost his mother to cancer. I remember how happy and proud his mother was that evening.

To make matters even better, Belleville won the game by ten points.

That week in January (the 19th to the 23rd) was the famous week when the boys' basketball team played three games. The Bucs lost two of those games by one point each. Both losses came as the final buzzer sounded. In the Nutley game, Dave Siepert of the Raiders hit a driving layup at the buzzer. In the St. Benedict's contest, Belleville rallied from an early 14 point deficit to tie the game with 40 left in regulation time. However, St. Benedict's was awarded two foul shots and after the player missed the first shot, he nailed the second as the buzzer sounded. In between, the Bucs beat Weehawkin on Bubet's historic day.

I've always said that the 1980-81 Belleville boys' basketball team was one of the most exciting teams in recent memory. In addition to Bubet and Ronnie Wittman, other players from that team included Anthony Coco, Sam DeCapua and Rich Wilkes.

Okay, we now continue our look back at the 80's by remembering the year 1983.

1983: In national sports, North Carolina State wins the NCAA mens' basketball title at the buzzer over Houston. The Redskins win the Super Bowl, the Jets lose in the AFC title game, the 76ers win the NBA crown and the Islanders win a fourth straight Stanley Cup, beating Edmonton in the finals. This trio captures the World Series, beating the Phillies.

Locally, Jennifer Apicella continues her outstanding play for the Belleville girls' basketball team. Apicella, a junior, eclipses the 2,000 point mark in a semi final round Essex County tournament game. Belleville will lose the contest to Shabazz, but the Lady Bucs enjoy a great year, finishing 20-7.

It's the first time a Belleville girls' basketball team reaches the 20 victory plateau.

The boys' basketball team enjoys a good campaign, playing in both the county and state tourney for the first time in four years. Coached by Joe Papasidero, the overachieving Bucs take eventual state champ Plainfield to the wire before losing by ten points.

Phil Colalillo breaks the 1,000 point barrier, the first time in boys' basketball history that a junior eclipses that prestigious mark.

Others who played well in the '83 season include Kimball, Joe Burchell and Dan DeGruen.

The basketball team enters 1983 with a new leader. George Zanfani resigns after the '82 campaign and his long time assistant, Ralph LaConte takes over. The '83 season is a tough one for the Bucs as it loses 17 of 25 games. However, there is promise on the horizon for the Bucs as LaConte builds up a young team. Also, the return of the American Legion program in the summer of '84 is a big step for the Bucs.

The softball team enjoys a marvelous year. Carl Corino's team finishes 23-4 and wins a second straight Essex County championship. The Lady Bucs also win the NNJIL title. In both the county and conference title games, Belleville stops Bloomfield.

Dina DeAquino, Tracy Buono, Desiree Johansen, Donna Brooks and Kathy Woods all excel for the Lady Bucs.

In the fall of '83, the football team starts out strong, but a rare two game losing streak in the middle of the season puts a damper on any hopes the team had of making the playoffs. The Bucs finish 6-3 and Mike Murphy surpasses the 1,000 yard mark for rushing for the second straight season.

The volleyball team, led by coach Grace Worley has another standout season. The girls are led by Buono, Brooks and Debbie Worley. The soccer team has its finest season in team history and advances in the state tourney. The Bucs are beaten in a heartbreaker by arch rival Bloomfield, 1-0 in the state tourney.

I was hoping to get further along with the decade this week, but we'll jump into the years 1984, '85 and '86 in next weeks issue. Also, look for a story by Joe Piegario next week regarding the Belleville wrestling machine of the 1980's.

Bucs pound Mounties, 50-19

By Joe Piegario

The Belleville - Montclair wrestling rivalry started way back in 1963 when the then Bellboys couldn't buy a win over the Mounties. The boys from Montclair won the first nine contests and ten of the first 11 meetings between the schools. Since that time, Belleville has turned things around, winning the last 14 matches and holding the edge in the series, 15-10. Last Saturday's 50-19 blowout was one of the biggest in the series.

There was some concern entering this dual meet as Dan Hywel was nursing a bad cold and could not compete at his usual 152 pound level. After some juggling, Coach Joe Nisiovica came up with a satisfactory lineup to face the tough Mountie squad.

Phil Albanese was elevated from 145 to 152; Hywel was inserted in the 160 pound slot; Ken Henry was pushed up to 171 pounds; and junior Jimmy Mastropalo was brought up from the jayvee squad to wrestle in the 145 pound division.

All the moving around paid off with big dividends as the Buc machine accounted for seven pins while losing only three bouts in the dual meet.

103 pounder George DeGrande started a run of six consecutive pins by flattening Jamal Troupe in only 37 seconds. Mike Miele followed that victory with a pin of his own over Keith Rodgers in only 42 seconds. Not to be outdone, senior co-captain Ralph Perna decked Jason Hines in the scant space of 25 seconds.

Junior Nardone certainly didn't want to be left out of this party, so he did his part by pinning Damon Heards in 39 seconds. When 130 pounder Joe Omalsky pinned David Thomas in 3:42 seconds of the second period, the score had reached a lopsided 30-0 margin in favor of the Bucs with no relief in sight for the Montclair grapplers.

At 135 pounds, Lee Hands kept the ball rolling by pinning Pat Cincinotto at 1:38 of the first period. Montclair finally stopped the landslide by earning a draw in the 140 pound class with Vinnie DeSimone and Joshua Falaise battling to a 9-9 standstill. Montclair's Dwayne Greene scored the first real points for Montclair by pinning Mastropalo at 2:31 of the second period. Jimmy was up against one of the premiere 145 pounders in North Jersey and put up one heckuva fight before he succumbed to Greene's great talents.

The 152 pound bout saw Matt Kalmanson score an 18-3 Technical Fall victory over Albanese as the six minute buzzer sounded. Hywel, wrestling one of Montclair's best in Dusty Harmon, nonetheless recorded a pin with 17 seconds left in the match. Ken Henry drew Carl Leitz at 171 and worked hard for a 12-3 Major Decision to up his season's record to 6-1.

Nikki Kemp of Montclair pinned Angel Marin in 2:27 as his older brother Lee of Hall of Fame credentials looked on. George Wallace ended the massacre by scoring a 9-7 upset over Len Watkins in the heavyweight division. Watkins had come into the bout as a distinct favorite, but big George was prepared for the test and beat the Montclair heavyweight in every phase of the match.

BUC NOTES: Junior Nardone, Joe Omalsky and Dan Hywel all remain undefeated with identical 7-0 records. Hywel has pinned every opponent he has faced this year...Bruce Moran of the Star Ledger has ranked the Bucs No. 19 in his weekly poll, up one notch from last week...This weekend the BHS 13 will be entered in the Elizabeth Minuteman Tournament where they will be challenged by the host team's strong lineup and a super team from Somerville. Also in the event are North Bergen, Neptune, Piscataway, J.P. Stevens and Long Branch. Wrestler of the Week goes to Ralph Perna for pinning his foe in only 25 seconds, the fastest pin by a Buc this year...See you next week!

Bucs lose to P. Catholic and St. Al's

Hoopsters drop 4th straight

It's been a disappointing season thus far for the Belleville boys' basketball team. Don Roll's club lost two more games last week it could have won. The Bucs were stopped by Paramus Catholic, 65-48 and St. Al's of Jersey City, 57-49. The two losses dropped the team record to 1-6.

The road doesn't get any easier for Belleville. The Bucs battled Teaneck earlier this week and will be at Hackensack tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Bucs are at Don Bosco, also in a 7:30 p.m. tip off.

In the Paramus Catholic game, Belleville trailed by four points with three minutes left, but poor shooting down the stretch proved costly.

"Our shot selections were not good," Roll said. "We commit too many turnovers in the final three minutes, then get hit with an intentional foul. We made only one shot in the final three minutes of the game. It's a snow ball effect after a while. We just couldn't get anything going down the stretch."

The poor finish took away from a good effort the Bucs had for most of the game. Belleville trailed, 13-8 after one quarter but came back to tie the game at 22 by halftime.

Paramus Catholic nudged ahead 38-35 after three quarters and led, 46-42 when it pulled away in the final stages of the game.

Jim Krupka led Belleville with 15 points. Andy DuHaime finished with 11, Doug Hoogenyde scored nine, Michael Trezza finished with six, Art Caruso had five and Mark Nakashian closed with two. Belleville was without the services of Troy Talmadge, who had a back injury.

Belleville was limited in its time at the foul line. The Bucs shot just eight foul shots, converting on three. Paramus Catholic was much busier at the line, hitting 18 for 22.

Last Saturday night, Belleville battled St. Al's of Jersey City and lost an eight point game.

Once again, the difference at the foul line was noteworthy. St. Al's shot 27 times from the stripe while Belleville was limited to just seven foul shots the entire evening.

"I'm not using that as an excuse," Roll said, "but we're not getting many calls, that's for sure. We just have to learn how to win these games down the stretch. We could have won the last two games."

"Roll noted that his team shot poorly once again from the field. The Bucs hit just 36 percent from the floor and committed 21 turnovers.

"On top of the turnovers, we didn't rebound well," Roll said. "Their (St. Al's) biggest player was 6'11" tall. Yet, we only had 25 rebounds the entire evening."

The Bucs also failed to convert on fast breaks following steals. The team missed out on a possible six points on fast break steals in the first quarter alone.

To make matters worse, Krupka, the Bucs' biggest player and leading scorer, was bogged down with foul trouble early on. He had three fouls in the first quarter, although Roll wasn't quite sure about some of the calls.

"Of his three fouls, maybe one of them was legitimate," the coach said.

The Bucs jumped out to a 6-2 first quarter lead, but by the end of the frame, St. Al's had a 19-6 advantage. Belleville narrowed the margin to 33-32 by halftime and the third quarter was even, with each team scoring eight points.

Once again, it came down to the final eight minutes and for the second time last week, the Bucs fell short. St. Al's outscored the Bucs, 16-9 in the fourth quarter and came

Girls basketball team looking for first win

The Belleville girls' basketball team dropped two more games, losing to Columbia 66-31 and Paramus Catholic, 67-44. The defeats dropped the Lady Bucs record to 0-7.

Belleville battled Teaneck last Tuesday and will be home to Hackensack tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, the girls play host to Immaculate Heart at 4 p.m.

Versus Columbia, Karen Puccello's troops fell behind early, trailing 21-5 after the first quarter. The lead was extended to 36-13 by intermission and 50-22 after three frames.

"We couldn't stop their big scorer," Puccello said, referring to Columbia's Laura Wilkes who tallied 25 points. We just fell behind early and couldn't mount a rally."

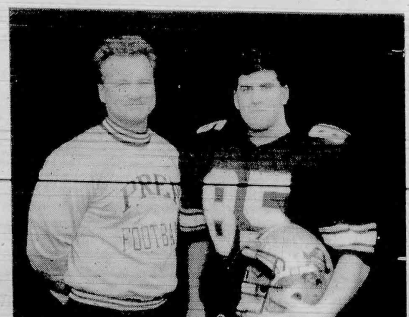

Mia Hanos led the Belleville attack with 13 points. Danielle DeWork finished with 12, Thelina Espiritu and Zulay Fiallos had two points each and Amalia Fabiano and Jennifer Bridge scored one point each.

In the Paramus Catholic contest, Belleville gave a good account of itself in the first half. The Lady Bucs stayed tough against the perennial Bergen County power. Paramus Catholic led, 16-9 after one quarter and 35-25 by intermission. The lead steadily increased in the second half, with P.C. leading 53-36 after three quarters and going on to a 23 point victory.

Hanos once again led the Belleville offense, this time with 12 points. Espiritu finished with seven, Fabiano and Colleen Mannion had six points each, Nina Calvi and DeWork scored four each, Bridge finished with three and Fiallos tallied two.

"I'm happy with the play and effort from Espiritu and Hanos," Puccello said of the two seniors. "They're giving 100 percent all the time."

The girls season doesn't get any easier, with tough games expected from Teaneck, Hackensack and Immaculate Heart.

Belleville resident Kevin Burbank (r) was a key contributor to the success of the 1989 St. Peter's Prep (Jersey City) football team, which won the Parochial "A" North state championship. Kevin, a senior at the Prep, was considerable at the line, a shutdown tight end, defensive tackle and long snapper. In addition to the state title, the Jesuit school finished the season with a 10-1 record and successfully defended its Hudson County championship. Burbank is pictured with head coach Rich Hansen.

away with an eight point win.

Talmadge was back in the Belleville lineup, hitting for 12 points to lead the way. Tom Klein finished with nine. Krupka was held to eight. DuHaine scored seven. Trezza scored five and Caruso and Hoogendyke finished with four points each.

As mentioned, the season gets tougher now for the Bucs. Teaneck and Hackensack are regarded as the premier teams in the Pacific Division of the NNJHL.

"We've got to take better shots and run our offense more efficiently," Roll said. "We're better than a 1-6 team, but we've got to start playing smarter, and soon."

D'Amico's career is recalled

By Joe Pegaro

All too often in today's athletic world, the early stars of a sport are forgotten, or worse yet, never heard about. Most of the warriors on the current BIS wrestling team have never heard of Mark D'Amico. Yet D'Amico was the leader of the wrestling squad in the first years of Belleville's Golden Age in the sport.

Mark wrestled only two varsity seasons and one match in a third. Still, he accumulated 44 wins against only six losses and a tie for a winning percentage of .880, fifth best on the Blue Honor roll. His mates of 1977 and 1978 won District 7 titles twice, County and Region titles, Bloomfield Tournament gold, and were ranked 11th and 8th respectively in the state. Additionally, D'Amico's win total currently has him ranked no. 20 on the all time list, this despite wrestling far fewer matches than today's athletes.

On a team that had stars like Ed Lijo, Mark DeGiacomo, Bob Racloppie and George D'Alessandro, Mark D'Amico stood out as the undisputed leader, the guy other teams feared and avoided. Wrestling at 122 and 129 pounds, D'Amico had the perfect wrestling body, and combined that with a style that blended smooth technique with great strength and leverage.

Twice a Bloomfield Tournament champ and twice a District 7 winner, Mark also won the County title as a senior and earned a trip to the states that same year. His accomplishments on the mat were unmatched in his time.

Mark and his family were always involved in athletics, almost on a fanatical basis. Older brother Jay was a star on the gridiron and captained the BHS squad in his senior year. His father Jay Sr. was a staunch supporter of both boys in all their endeavors and mother Susan was one of the founding members of the Belleville Wres-ting Parents and Friends Association.

Mark D'Amico

For all of his victories and all of his trophies, the thing that elevated Mark D'Amico from his peers was his phenomenal courage. In his senior year, Mark's dad passed away at home while D'Amico was a participant in the Essex County Coaches' Tournament. On one of the most touching moments in Belleville sports history, Mark overcame his grief to win the gold medal in the 129 pound weight division.

After graduation, Mark attended Bergen County Community College before moving to Clay, New York with his brother Jay. There the D'Amico boys purchased a franchise in the Dunkin' Donuts chain in North Syracuse. Eventually, Mark would like to expand his business interests to real estate purchasing. He still attends an occasional high school match in Clay or Syracuse to evaluate the local talent.

For those of you who know Mark D'Amico, you are truly blessed. For those of you who haven't met him or have not seen him wrestle, you missed a great deal.
