Community Mental Health Services provides outpatient program, more

By Anthony Buccino
The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield provides diverse services to the people in town. Alice Ricci should know, she's been with the CMHS of Belleville-Nutley-Bloomfield since 1980, and has been its executive director since 1982.

Last year, the CMHS Outpatient Program treated 610 Belleville residents. That added up to 4,827 contacts, according to CMHS figures. Not all patients visit the facility every day, Ricci said, some show up once a week, others more frequently.

The Outpatient program is for Belleville residents only and is subsidized by the township. Prior to 1989, the contract for services was paid quarterly by the township. In 1988, the township contracted for services at $59,291.02.

However, the 1989 Outpatient bill of $63,436 was not approved by the commissioners, and remained unpaid until the end of the year.

At their December 28 meeting, the commissioners told Ricci she could have the same amount the town paid in 1988, or she could wait for them to straighten out the billing.

Ricci decided to cut her losses by the $4,145 difference. She took the money. If you were starving and someone offered you 1/2 a loaf of bread, she asked, wouldn't you take it?

Fortunately for the patients in the program, the CMHS doesn't wait for the township to pay the bill before they offer treatment. The CMHS bills its patients on a sliding scale. Generally, the fees run about $10, although the actual cost of the service is $70. Sometimes, the CMHS is able to bill patients through third party insurance programs.

"We never told anyone not to come if they couldn't pay," Ricci said. The sliding scale fee is based on ability to pay. Some fees have gone as low as $0, she said.

It's important that the people in the program visit us, she said. The staff can then ask about meals, medication, and view the patient's condition.

The Outpatient Program provides psychosocial assessment, counseling, play therapy, substance abuse counseling, parenting skills, psychological testing, psychiatric evaluation, medication monitoring and administration of prescribed medication.

The facility opened in 1958 as the Essex Child Guidance Clinic, and was housed in Clara Maass Hospital until 1962 when it was moved to the former nurses' residences on the grounds of the Essex County Geriatrics Center at the corner of Belleville and Franklin Aves.

Ricci said CMHS has a $15 million budget, but almost all of that is restricted funding. Restricted funding is provided by state and charitable organizations for specific programs. The funds cannot be switched from one program to another.

The United Way funds the Friendly Visitors Program, Ricci said, and the New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services funds various family life programs. The CMHS also receives funds from the

Commissioners to submit actual budget in March

Operating budget passed, other money transfers held

By Anthony Buccino
Township commissioners last week approved a temporary 1990 budget of $5,720,259.51. The actual budget will be submitted in March. Prior to the final adoption of the new budget, the commissioners must pass a current operating budget to meet the salaries and every day expenses of the township.

The commissioners also approved appropriations of $327,842.77 for the Dedicated Water Budget.

The township's temporary operating budget is calculated based on one-quarter of the 1989 budget, and is necessary to allow the township government to function. The actual 1990 budget will reflect state aid and grants if any are forthcoming.

The resolution was read as the "Temporary 1990 current fund budget and 1990 temporary dedicated water budget." However, few, if any of the nearly sixty people present were aware that more than $6 million was being approved in the temporary budget.

This resolution was introduced and passed by Mayor Michael Pizzi, Commissioners Joseph McGreevy and Vincent Frantantonio.

Earlier, during the meeting, resident Angelo Veneziano questioned the limited information found on the agenda provided to citizens in attendance. Veneziano asked that the agenda give more detail about the ordinances and resolutions being considered by the commissioners. Veneziano said that the board of education agenda includes the full resolution.

At that meeting, Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood explained that a folder with all the resolutions is available for inspection by residents. The folder is on the same table as the agenda, Hood said.

The commissioners presented two ordinances and three resolutions that were not on the published agenda. The two ordinances and two of the resolutions could not be acted on because the only three commissioners were present and the laws required the majority of four votes to pass them.

At the December 28 commission meeting, the commissioners directed Hood not to put any resolutions on the agenda unless directed by one of the commissioners. At that meeting, Hood had placed several

PBA Gala Ball will honor four with silver cards

Detective Tony Wieners, Police Benevolent Association Local 28 President, announced that two 25-year veterans of the Belleville police and two private citizens will be honored at the PBA Gala Ball next month.

The event will honor Belleville Township Attorney Frank J. Cozzarelli and Yoshio Sugawara with lifetime honorary silver PBA cards for their support of the association.

Captains Albert Koelsch and Joseph Osse, both 25-year veterans of the township force will each receive lifetime honorary silver PBA cards in recognition of their service and dedication.

The gala ball will be held at Nanina's In The Park, February 16, at 7 p.m. with a cocktail hour, dinner, music and open bar. Formal attire is optional. Tickets are $80 per person and can be obtained from Captains Salmon or Escott, or Detective Wieners.

engineering bills that had been floating through town hall unpaid for months.

The resolutions and ordinances that were not voted on last week, were not tabled because they were never actually added to the agenda.

They are to be scheduled for the next commissioners meeting, January 23.

Pizzi ready fourth time, court case moved again

By Steve Balkin
The alleged assault charge against Belleville Mayor Michael Pizzi was adjourned, Jan. 11, until early March when a new attorney for the plaintiff requested additional time to review the case.

Resulting from an incident last April, Pizzi, during his occupational role as director of security for Essex County, is being charged with allegedly assaulting Gregory Smith, 13th Ave., Newark, who at the time was an employee under his supervision.

Court records substantiate this is the fourth time this case was postponed. In all times Pizzi and his attorney, Robert Giordano, of Belleville have been ready to argue their case.

At the first appearance Smith's attorney requested additional time for review. At the second and third appearances Smith appeared without counsel and the judge instructed him to retain an attorney.

Curbside newspaper pickup started in town

Last Saturday, the Township of Belleville began curbside collection of newspaper. Papers are to be tied into bundles no more than 12" high and placed at curbside no earlier than 5 p.m. on the day preceding your scheduled collection day.

Collection schedule will be as follows: Residents who receive garbage collection on Mondays and Thursdays shall have their papers picked up on the second Saturday of the month. Tuesday and Friday routes shall be picked up on the third Saturday of the month. Wednesday and Saturday routes shall be picked up on the fourth Saturday of the month.

Compliance is mandatory by local ordinance and fines will be levied for non-compliance. For residents who wish to continue to bring their papers to our voluntary drop-off sites, they may do so Monday through Saturday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 48 William St., or seven days a week at the Senior Citizen Recreation Building parking lot at 125 Franklin Ave.

Commissioner Vincent J. Frantantonio is asking all citizens to cooperate so we may reduce dumping costs by eliminating paper from our waste stream. In addition to newspapers, residents may include magazines, junk mail, telephone books, and computer paper.

Further information can be obtained by calling Recycling Coordinator, Joseph Scaperotta, at 450-3322.

The stock boyingly dropped Rocco Jr. to the world Jan. 3, at 12:46 a.m., where he gently landed at Clara Maass Medical Center and checked in at a fighting weight of 7 pounds, 10 ounces, an overall height of 20 inches and a head of black hair that Vidal Sassoon would love to style. When queried about the newest Genovesi's hair, Mom, made a fist, put it to her mouth, her chest heaved and she said, "a lot of heartburn." (Photo by Steve Balkin)

Belleville POLICE BEAT

The owner of a 2-door, red 1989 Jeep Wrangler valued at $2,000 reported the vehicle stolen from Watessing Avenue January 1. It was recovered the next day in Newark.

Police charged Jozef Louis Stamps, a 50-year-old Newark man with possession of a weapon and several motor vehicle violations after they stopped his car Jan. 3. The driver became belligerent and antagonistic, and during questioning became violent. A routine pat-down search of the suspect revealed a 5" folding knife. A court appearance is scheduled Feb. 21.

Police arrested George L. Helman, a 24-year-old Toms River man and charged him with driving with a revoked license at 1:53 a.m. Jan. 9, at the corner of Smith St. and Belleville Ave.

Four wire wheels valued at $582 were reported stolen from an automobile on Fairway Ave. Jan. 9.

Yvette Maree, a 24-year-old Newark woman was charged with shoplifting when she attempted to leave a store with 6 cartons of cigarettes valued at $83.46. She was released on her own recognizance and a court appearance is scheduled Feb. 14.

Oswaldo Morales, a 29-year-old Newark man was charged with shoplifting when he tried to leave a store with 2 pairs of blue jeans under his jacket. He was released on $200 bail and a court appearance is scheduled Feb. 7.

A juvenile was turned over to the Juvenile Bureau after being detained for shoplifting 2 cartons of cigarettes valued at $13.91 from a Washington Ave. supermarket.

An anonymous letter received at the Board of Education office criticizing certain financial and book-keeping records is being investigated by the detective bureau.

The Belleville American Legion Post 105 delivered 10 baskets of food to the needy at Christmas. Post 105 thanks all who purchased a total of 288 American Flags to help celebrate Belleville's 150th Anniversary. Post 105 donated $446.40 from the flag sale to the 150th Anniversary Committee.

Rotary Club citrus sale benefits local students

The Rotary Club of Belleville is pleased to announce the results of its Annual Citrus Sale.

The club sold nearly 600 cases of fresh oranges and grapefruits. Profits from this sale will go toward scholarships for deserving Belleville High School seniors, graduating in 1990.

The remaining cases of the original citrus delivery have been donated to the Belleville Welfare Department for distribution to needy local families. Other cases were donated to St. John's Church in Newark for its program of helping the homeless. A dozen cases were donated to Eva's Kitchen, a Paterson based group devoted to feeding the homeless.

According to Rene Gabbai, who oversees the project and has been a Belleville Rotarian since 1974, "We think this year's fruit sale was our best yet, helping Belleville people and the needy who are less fortunate."

School board election notice

Edward J. Appleton of the Belleville Public Schools has issued an advisory to local citizens reminding them that the deadline to file nominating petitions for local school board vacancies is Feb. 8. Petitions are available for candidates seeking election to the full three year term (2 seats) and the one year unexpired term (1 seat).

At the same time, Appleton announced that the New Jersey School Boards Association has supplied the district with information booklets to assist candidates seeking seats on the local board. The pamphlets are titled "Be Part of a Great American Heritage: Serve on Your Local School Board." They contain sections on the role of the school board member, legal requirements for serving, campaign procedures, and services available to local school boards through their State Association. The pamphlets are free to anyone considering school board candidacy.

Interested citizens may obtain copies of the pamphlets by contacting Appleton or by telephoning the Communications Department of the New Jersey School Boards Association at (609) 695-7600, Ext. 209.

Temporary operating budget

(continued from page 1) budget appropriation accounts from the public safety and public affairs departments to another area of public safety will be resubmitted.

Also slated to be resubmitted is an ordinance authorizing bonds to be issued for $28,500 towards the reconstruction of Cross Street - Silver Lake drainage between Watching Avenue to Magnolia Avenue.

Another ordinance that will be resubmitted authorizes the issuance of $266,000 bonds for the improvement of Joralemon Street and the appropriation of $280,000. The appropriation amount includes $199,000 expected to be received from the New Jersey Department of Transportation.

Mayor Pizzi said later that many towns have neither an agenda or a scheduled portion for hearing of citizens.

Street cleaning suspended on two county streets

Police Chief George J. Lister announced that Essex County has suspended street cleaning on Union Avenue and Franklin Street until the end of March. Township police will not enforce street cleaning parking regulations for those two streets until the county resumes its clean-up operations.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Back in 1865 the Vatican had adopted an entirely different position than it does today when asked to turn over one of the suspected conspirators in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, John H. Surratt Jr. when agreeing to turn him over to the United States, although the Holy See maintains it cannot now surrender ousted strongman Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega from its embassy in Panama.

Surratt, a devout Catholic, a young Confederate spy who had conspired with John Wilkes Booth to abduct Lincoln in 1864, fled after Booth shot Lincoln on April 14, 1865. He changed his name to John Watson and joined Pope Pious IX's Zouaves Regiment in late 1865 or early 1866. The unit was part of the army that defended the Papal States, at that time an independent country about the size of West Virginia, against claims by Italian nationalists.

Surratt was located in 1866 with the help of an informer who recognized him and reported to U.S. authorities, whereupon Secretary of State William Seward notified Secretary of War E.M. Stanton. "As we have no treaty of extradition with the papal government, it is proposed that a special agent be sent to Rome to demand the surrender of Surratt," Seward wrote Stanton on May 28, 1866.

Accordingly, the U.S. envoy to the Vatican, Rufus King, sought a meeting with the Pope's foreign minister, Cardinal Antonelli, to tell him about Surratt.

"His Eminence was greatly interested by it, and intimated that if the American government desired the surrender of the criminal, there would probably be no difficulty in any way," King wrote Seward on Aug. 8.

Several months later, having ascertained that Watson was indeed the fugitive Surratt, Seward instructed King to ask the cardinal

"whether His Holiness (the pope) would now be willing, in the absence of an extradition treaty, to deliver John H. Surratt upon authentic indictment and at the request of this department, for complicity in the assassination of the late President Abraham Lincoln."

So eager was the Vatican to help the United States that it did not even wait for an official request and ordered Surratt arrested immediately.

The Surratt and Noriega cases are similar in that the Vatican still doesn't have an extradition treaty with the United States — or Panama — but the two incidents differ in another significant way.

In the present instance, the Vatican says its embassy can't, under international law, give up an asylum-seeker to a third country — the United States. It can only give up Noriega to Panama, the Vatican says, if it decides Noriega doesn't qualify as a political asylum case.

Surratt's case didn't end with papal cooperation, however, for the fugitive proved to be wiler and more agile than the six men sent to escort him from his regiment to Rome on Nov. 8, 1866 — the arresting officer reported to his superiors that Surratt, alias Watson, "leapt from a height of 23 feet on a very narrow rock," landed on a garbage heap, and disappeared.

Surratt eventually was tracked down in Alexandria, Egypt, and a U.S. warship brought him back to the United States.

Surratt's mother, Mary, who ran a boarding house that Booth and his co-conspirators had used as a meeting place, was hanged along with three other group members.

Surratt was tried by a civil court in Washington in 1867. He was freed by a hung jury.

The above is a revised re-print of a Washington (AP) date line story which is timely and informative.

CMHS outpatient program

Much of the CMHS budget goes to staff. In the Therapeutic School and Preschool, Ricci said, there is a high staff to pupil ratio. Including art, music and physical occupational teachers, and the consultants, there are 26 teachers to 48 students. Retaining staff is one of the constant problems Ricci faces.

CMHS funding cannot match the professional salaries paid at state facilities and hospitals. As a result, there is an almost constant staff turnover and staff training. The CMHS has become a training ground for young professionals. Ricci speaks proudly of the notes she receives about many of her former staff members who have moved on to other facilities in the state.

The Belleville residents' Outpatient Program is not the only service provided by CMHS. Other programs are provided at no additional cost to the township.

According to CMHS literature, these services are available to the community:

The Therapeutic School and Preschool is a private, non-profit, fully accredited day school for children ages 3-10 with emotional and developmental delays.

The Partial Care Program provides support and skill training to individuals with chronic mental illness. The program operates daily with a regular evening group.

The Family Life Program eases family tension and teaches alternatives to family violence.

The Friendly Visitors Program trains volunteers who bring friendship, understanding and support to homebound senior citizens.

Middle school math club meets for contests and competition

The Math Club is open to all students of the Belleville Middle School. It attracts students with enhanced aptitude and love for problem solving. The club meets weekly prior to contests that we choose to participate in and twice a month thereafter.

A typical Wednesday morning club meeting consists of the following:

Anthony La Rocca, club president and Malvina Kohn, club advisor, prepare the activities constituting the agenda for the meeting. The other club officers, Michael Idenen, vice president and Michael Mattoon, club secretary, are busily involved in their activities such as handing out assignments and recording the minutes of the meeting.

In spite of the early hours, every club member is not only fully awake but enthusiastically participating in the club activities which are geared towards the sharpening of problem solving skills.

During some meetings we engage in a friendly and interesting game of chess. I feel that the chess game develops good strategy skills necessary for problem solving and at the same time, it develops good sportsmanship.

The club is now preparing for several contests such as the Math Counts, sponsored by the New Jersey Institute of Technology and Junior League Contests. The Math Counts topic for this year is "Problem Solving", thus avoiding any possibility of a narrow focus accusation in setting the theme. As we prepare for these contests, we practice on various approaches and strategies of problem solving. Kohn encourages individual and group effort in searching for solutions to the problems.

"Sharing of Ideas" is the motto of the club. Kohn hopes to surpass the 1988 achievement of the club when we brought home a trophy for placing sixth in a very tough competition.

Through the Math Club, Kohn developed a "Helping Hands" program where the students who need extra help in math are being assisted by the club members, and feel more comfortable in accepting help from their peers.

Mr. DiMaggio, Middle School principal, visits occasionally and seems to be pleased with the Math Club and has expressed laudatory remarks that have boosted the enthusiasm of the club members and Kohn, the club advisor.

Kohn feels that the club members will have a very fulfilling, busy year with lots of accomplishments and fun for all.

PEP-C seeks new members

Recognizing the influence that young people have on each other, the Peers Educating Peers Club, PEP-C, has been formed to reinforce a positive self-image to the middle and elementary school students.

PEP-C consists of high school students who are trained to educate students in the lower grades by enhancing the concept of self and to discourage the use, misuse, and abuse of drugs and alcohol. PEP-C members are committed to displaying a positive influence which can affect changes in developmental behavior and viewpoint of the younger students.

PEP-C members will receive in-service training of such topics as decision-making skills, coping skills, values clarification, self-image development and alcohol and drug information.

High school students interested in joining PEP-C must receive recommendations from two of their subject matter teachers and their guidance counselor; attend 10 hours of in-service training; make a commitment not to use any drugs or alcohol; and maintain school and homework as a priority, plus other requirements. For more information on PEP-C, contact Debbie Meola, Substance Awareness Coordinator, 751-0418.

High schoolers collect food for shelter

While most of us were running around the malls for those last minute presents, a group of students and teachers at Belleville High School were preparing to make the December holidays a little bit brighter for others.

Science teachers and students of the BHS community collected food for the Shelter for Battered Women in Belleville which provides temporary shelter for battered women and their children. Turkeys, canned goods and cookies were among the many items donated. Some students provided toys and stuffed animals for the children at the shelter.

This is the second time that students have helped out the shelter. A similar project was undertaken before Thanksgiving which had been inspired by the Food and Nutrition Unit in the General Biology curriculum at the high school.

The individuals who participated in this effort included science teachers Richard Ruffalo, Dennis Villano, Bruce Kemnitz, Susanne Kemnitz and Bess Elfstathou, Science Department Supervisor and their students.

OUR OPINION

Coal for the children

In olden days, children went to the one-room schoolhouse during winter with a piece of coal in their hand. Walking through the arched doorway of knowledge, they handed the chunk of coal to the teacher, who put it into the stove. The children who brought the coal were allowed to sit near the stove. The children who had no coal sat across the room, away from the heat and the center of knowledge.

Here, in the last decade of the twentieth century, that picture of the one-room schoolhouse seems so distant, but much of the old way of thinking tends to crowd its way into the daily lives of our school-children.

The education of our children is determined by the chunks of coal our town voters and our town fathers deliver to our nine schools.

Coal today is new textbooks, computer hardware and software, teaching supplies, office supplies, pencils, paper, crayons and so on.

And what good is a book if no one can understand it? So, of course, you need someone to teach what all those ink stains on those pages mean. And you need someone to watch over the teachers, and tell them which books to teach, and check that they are teaching when they should be and planning their lessons when they should be, and that they are earning the right to look you in the eye when they collect their paychecks.

Then you need someone, a staff, of course to keep an eye on the supervisors and the directors, and the spiral continues up and down.

It's the way all these people share the heat from the coal in our schools' that reflects the education in our children's eyes.

The recently submitted tentative current expense of $25,042,657 is a rather deceiving figure. It's not etched in stone. It is a tentative budget that the school district had to send to the county office by January 15.

State aid entitlement has a lot to do with the final budget the public will vote on in a few months. The $25 million tentative budget is based on full funding of state aid. The last time the state fully funded its entitlement program was 1985-86. That was a gubernatorial re-election year.

Last year, 25 percent of the total budget came from state aid entitlement. The tentative 1990-91 budget reflects a 41 percent increase from last year's state aid. If full funding comes, the local tax levy will increase about 3 1/2 points.

The board of education had an unusual dilemma. They had to get a tentative budget into the county, and they had to figure in phantom state aid entitlements as if they would be tangible parts of the budget. But there is no guarantee that any state aid entitlements will be forthcoming. The only thing the board can count on from the state are more mandates for this program and that program.

In other words, there won't be much coal coming from Trenton.

On the other hand, the local voters, i.e., you, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, will see a 'final' budget after the state decides how much coal, or money, it will send here. By the time you see the budget, most of you will have heard so much hype about tax points, that that's all you can concentrate on. After all, it's your money.

It's all quite natural to feel that way. The two-edged sword cuts both ways. If you have no children in school, you surely feel you've paid enough over the years to support the school. If you have children in school, you want your children to receive the best possible education for your tax dollars.

In the unlikely event that the state comes through with full funding, the school budget faces a tough hurdle in voter approval. Last year, the budget was defeated by about 50 votes. The last time the budget was approved was, well, who can remember back that far? It's safe to say that it did pass once in the last twenty years.

So, the procedure becomes all too familiar. The voters turn it down, the commission requests cuts, the board makes the cuts, and the children end up with less. Last year, the cut amounted to about $443,000.

That seems like a lot of money, and indeed it is, but we have to look at where it was cut. Looking at this year's tentative budget, about 78 percent is fixed.

Where does the 22 percent of the budget that can be cut come from? Try drug education, try maintenance and improvements, try new and better curriculum, new books, advanced programs and the like.

The board can close a school, as long as it's not the one in your neighborhood because that would decrease your property value. The board could cut some athletic programs, but not the one your child is hoping will bring in a scholarship. The board could cut the vocational program, but then your child won't be 'work force ready' when handed that sheepskin in June.

The board is stuck between a clump of coal and a hard place. We could talk about averages and say that the board spent $337 less than the state average per pupil last year. But which of your children is average?

Our children are like the piece of coal under a million pounds of pressure for a million years that becomes a diamond. In all this coal we shovel while we crunch numbers and juggle figures, the main thing we have to consider is the sparkle from the diamonds buried under the coal.

Frantantoni responds

To the editor:

Gabe Nazzola signed his last "novel" in the Belleville Times issue of Jan. 11, 1990 as, "A citizen whose concerns are constant and consistent. He may be right. He is constantly talking and consistently negative."

Gabe's letter sparked scores of phone calls asking why he was always attacking me. The answer is quite simple.

Gabe Nazzola has failed as a public official and I was his adversary on many issues. Consider the facts. Gabe was part of the past administration serving as a member of the Redevelopment Agency. After two years, and after spending almost $40,000.00 of taxpayers money on "studies", Gabe decided we had to "Bright" Washington Avenue. The proposal met rejection from citizens, businessmen, the Planning Board, and ultimately the previous Board of Commissioners voted not to accept their proposal.

Gabe talks about "Pork Barrels". He is serving his second term on the Board of Education and he has members of his family employed by the school system. (Wouldn't it be a conflict of interest if he voted on pay raises?)

Last year, in a front page story, Gabe said he knew how to cut $750,000.00 from the Board of Ed budget, before he was elected. After he was elected, the projected $3 point increase in the Board of Ed budget jumped to a 66 point increase. The 1990-91 school budget was just introduced and it carries a 2.5 million dollar increase. Just who is "deluding the gaggle of geese", Mr. Gabe.

Gabe is also bitter because I refused to run on a ticket with him in the 1987 election. I had a commitment to the people of Belleville only.

It was Gabe Nazzola who ran a negative campaign in 1987, attacking a candidate who had close ties with the former Mayor and Building Inspector. And then, after the election, Gabe joins hands with this individual on a change of government committee. Who has come 180 degrees, Mr. Nazzola?

It is sad to stoop to Gabe's level with this response, but sometimes you have to fight fire with fire. The derogatory venom that spews from Nazzola's mouth cannot go unanswered or unchallenged.

In spite of the negative atmosphere created by Nazzola and his cohorts, (for political reasons only) the present administration has created a positive direction for the Township. We have an economical, practical plan for our new Public Safety Building which includes addressing needs of our existing Town Hall as part of the budget.

The 36 empty stores that existed during Nazzola's "Bright" days have been rented, leaving six or less vacancies on Washington Avenue. Dozens of renovations have taken place in the past three years. Several roads were repaved last year, and as soon as the weather breaks, Rutgers St., Overlook Ave., Wallace St. and Joramelon St., are all funded and will be paved as soon as weather permits. We have received a grant to plant trees on Washington Ave., with the first plantings to begin in the spring. There are new decorative concrete litter receptacles being placed around our Township. Property is being acquired to create more parking in our Town Hall area. Our public buildings are being restored and our recreation areas have received major restorations. Belleville is being revitalized, in spite of Mr. Nazzola's vicious attacks and failures.

Perhaps someone should tell Gabe he accidentally got elected to the Board of Education last year and for the good of our Township, he should devote his energies to controlling their runaway budgets.

Another view of Joe

To the editor:

Open letter to Ann M. Donatiello.

Concerning your letter of January 11, your praises for Joe was nauseating mush!

According to your "mushy-gushy" letter, you were extending supreme thanks for his caring and sticking his neck out.

But there is no evidence in this town that he did anything above and beyond the call of duty. He didn't do anything more than what he was elected for. His job is dedication to the people — of course he did land in court a lot — much to our chagrin.

One thing he could have done though was to obtain a more comfortable senior citizen bus. That "bucket-of-hots" can wreck any senior citizen's pacer — or shake out the hairpins of any woman's hair.

You claim he did so much for Belleville — how about pride? Can the taxpayers be proud of a Commissioner that is constantly in Dutch with the law?

About your question "If you were Joe, what would you do?" A lot of Belleville residents agree — what he should do alright — and that is step down from his post as commissioner — resign! as requested by our Mayor. What does he need a "ton of bricks" to fall on him to realize a hint, or live up to a request?

As you stated, he is antisocial, excitable, high strung and skittish. That is he. But in my opinion it would be much better if he were reserved and had an abundance of wisdom to execute his elective office with dignity!

Your favorite feedback is "God bless you, Joe." My daily prayer is "God help us who reside in Belleville with leadership such as his!"

Thanks firemen, EMT

To the editor:

Please print this letter of appreciation.

Dear Belleville Firemen and E.M.T. Members,

Christmas Eve you answered an emergency call at 7 Irving Street. The speed, efficiency and skill your members used impressed us very much. Although they were doing their job, they also had a way of relaxing family members and showing compassion for everyone.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you and let you know you made our Christmas merry and gave us a very thankful New Year.

YOUR OPINION

Goal — a drug free NJ

To the editor:

As the head of a countywide law enforcement agency deeply involved in the drug abuse problem, I want to strongly endorse the strategies being offered by the new Florio administration.

Our new Governor's initiatives are right on target when he calls for expanding education as well as rehabilitation and treatment for drug users. We in law enforcement have long recognized the fact that enforcement efforts alone will not solve the drug crisis. At the Essex County Sheriff's Office we have been conducting school based educational programs for years that reach thousands of students, parents and teachers.

Our office recently participated in a strategy session with Governor Florio and representatives from law enforcement, treatment and rehabilitation agencies. Some of the initiatives discussed included "boot camps" as an alternative to jails for first-time offenders. Another new idea was the revoking of professional licenses (lawyers, teachers, etc.) for first time drug offenders.

Our new administration seems to clearly recognize the current crisis in jail overcrowding, the need for more affordable treatment facilities, and the need to coordinate the many agencies now involved in different aspects of the drug problem.

I am personally encouraged by the high priority Governor Florio has placed on New Jersey's drug related problems. His idea of creating a "drug czar" with power to coordinate efforts statewide would indeed be welcomed.

Jim Florio has pledged to maintain constant communication between law enforcement, treatment, rehabilitation and education leaders. His commitment will keep us all working together and focused on one common goal — a drug free New Jersey.

An irate dog-lover

To the editor:

I am writing to express my outrage over the handling of a situation that occurred on the morning of January 5 of this year. Because of a careless repairman who left the gate to our yard open, our family dog ran out of our yard and shortly thereafter was struck by a car and killed only a short distance from our home. Thankfully the woman who hit her stopped and notified the police.

However, I feel that the police officer who arrived on the scene acted in a thoughtless and unsympathetic manner in the situation. When my father arrived at the scene moments after it happened, he was only told by the officer that the animal could not be left there, he would have to dispose of it himself and it must be done immediately. He did not offer to call anyone in regards to the removal of the dog's body, he did not offer to notify me at work to come and pick them up nor, did he offer to bring them back home.

My father, a 73-year-old man with a heart condition, already distraught over what had happened, was left with no choice but to literally drag the dog's body the two block distance back home because she was too heavy to carry.

I feel that as a taxpayer of this town, he deserved better than that. The police officers' motto is "To Protect and Serve" but my father was neither protected from further grief nor was he served with any regard to the dignity and feelings of a human being at that difficult time. I want you to know that we are totally disappointed in the type of men that make up the Belleville Police Force.

Donna M. Spilnik

Editor's note: This report is currently being investigated by the Mayor's Office and the Police Department.

Questions 'new math'

To the editor:

I have just one question! How do the Commissioners plan to pay $5.6 million to maybe $6.0 million plus for a new police station when they have less than $4,000,000.00 of the bond money left????

Kevin G. Kennedy

Realistic look at drugs

To the editor:

During the 80's there was extensive media coverage which I believe glamorized addictions such as alcoholism, drug abuse and eating disorders. Stories about celebrities such as political wife Betty Ford, athlete Dwight Gooden and actresses including Elizabeth Taylor and child star Drew Barrymore, focused on how wonderful their lives became after they stopped abusing alcohol and drugs.

As someone with nine years of recovery from both an alcohol and food addiction I know this is not the whole story. What we've been shown as a happy ending to a problem is really just the beginning of a lifelong struggle to maintain sobriety and there isn't always a happy ending. We've seen tragic effects of addictions in the 80's epitomized by the deaths of people like athlete Len Bias, pop singer Karen Carpenter and comedian John Belushi.

I hope the media in the 90's will take a more realistic look at this epidemic problem. We should offer support instead of criticism for people who are still fighting addictions such as Kitty Dukakis. For help and information on alcoholism, drug abuse, and eating disorders, people can call the New Jersey Substance Abuse Hotline at: 1-800-624-2268.

Celebrity '90 books available

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library are pleased to announce a special reduced price on their fundraising coupon book, Celebrity '90. This book of reduced price coupons for dining and entertainment throughout Northern New Jersey, New York City and Atlantic City normally sells for $25, but the Friends have announced a special sale price, beginning immediately, of $19.

With Celebrity '90, purchasers will find that coupons will pay for the purchase of the book in only one or two uses. The Friends of the Library assist the library in adding to its book collections as well as upgrading public facilities at the Main Library and Shafter Branch Library. Celebrity '90 is a good way to help the Friends and to enjoy fine dining and entertainment at a reduced cost.

Please call 450-3434 during regular library hours for more information about this fundraiser.

Library Friends visit 'Gigi'

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library are pleased to announce another in their series of popular cultural tours. The Friends will be going to Neil's New Yorker Dinner Theater in Mountain Lakes, to enjoy a luncheon and theater program of "GIGI" on May 1. The Friends' chartered coach will leave the Belleville Public Library at 221 Washington Avenue, at 10:30 a.m. The Friends anticipate returning to the library at 5 p.m. that day.

Tickets for this performance of "GIGI" and the luncheon at Neil's

New Yorker are available at the Belleville Public Library and Shafter Branch at 30 Magnolia Street during regular library hours. Tickets are $38 each. The Friends suggest an early purchase of tickets because luncheontheater programs at Neil's New Yorker, sponsored by the Friends, have sold out quickly before.

For more information please call 450-3434 during regular library hours. Telephone reservations will not be accepted.

Belleville Scout receives Eagle Scout award

Joseph M. Gibaldi and Christopher P. Wentworth of Troop 147, Nutley, received their Eagle Scout awards at a Parents' Night held recently at Franklin Reformed Church, the sponsoring organization of Troop 147. Gibaldi and Wentworth were the 101st and 102nd Eagle Scout in the 68 years Troop 147 has been meeting and were Scoutmaster Al C. Welensky's 52nd and 53rd Eagle in his almost 25 year tenure as Scoutmaster of Troop 147.

Gibaldi, a Nutley High School graduate, is currently attending New York University planning to major in Theatrical Design and Technology. While at Nutley High School, he was the stage crew foreman for 3 years, vice president of the Industrial Arts Club, and served as a lighting designer and technical director for the Drama Club. In 1988, he became a National Merit Scholarship Commended Student. He also served as a lighting and set designer for Nutley Little Theatre.

As a member of Troop 147, Gibaldi served in various leadership capacities including Patrol Leader, Instructor, Scribe and Junior or Assistant Scoutmaster, earned the three year perfect attendance pin and served as co-captain of the First Place Klondike Derby team in 1984. For his Eagle Scout project, Gibaldi led a group of scouts in the construction, repair and rebuilding of storage facilities at the Nutley Chapter American Red Cross.

Chris Wentworth, a resident of Belleville and a graduate of St. Peter's Prep in Jersey City, is currently attending Jersey City State College planning to major in Criminology.

This past summer, Wentworth served as an Assistant Scoutmaster for one of Essex Council's scout troops attending the National Scout Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia. A Vigil member of the Order of the Arrow, Wentworth served as Chief of Meechglanme Lodge No. 178, scouting's brotherhood of honor campers. Having transferred into Troop 147 from Troop 350 in Belleville in 1983, Wentworth served as Patrol Leader, Den Chief, Instructor, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader, Senior Patrol Leader and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Prior to being elected Lodge Chief, he served as Chapter Chief of the Yantacaw / North End-Ironbound Chapter of Meechglanme Lodge. He earned the Ad Altare Dei Catholic scout award and has a four year perfect attendance award.

For his Eagle Scout project, Wentworth led a group of scouts in the renovation and beautification of the Vincent Methodist Church Cemetery along Passaic Avenue in Nutley. Specifically, he rebuilt a utility cart and did extensive brush clearing and leaf raking. Chris in the second Eagle Scout in the Wentworth household as his brother Scott had previously achieved the honor with Troop 350 in Belleville.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

I just can't stand it any longer

Someone told the story about a man in rumpled clothing, needing a shave, and with bloodshot eyes, who came into a certain preacher's study and announced, "Preacher, I'm going to kill myself. I just can't take it any longer."

The preacher asked the man to sit down, handed him a sheet of paper and a pencil, and said, "Draw a line down the center of the page. Up at the top of the left column write the words, Things that are wrong. At the top of the right column write, Things that are not wrong."

The man looked puzzled, but did as directed. "Now," continued the preacher. "In the first column write, I have neither food, clothing nor shelter." But, I have all of these," the man confided. "Wonderful!" replied the preacher. "Then you can write it in the right-hand column. Now, put down in the left column, My children are in reform school." "That's ridiculous," the man shouted. "My boy and girl are fine youngsters. I will match them against anyone's children!" "That's great," answered the preacher. "Write it down in the right column."

They had not gone very far until the man began to smile at himself, at how foolish he had been. Life had not been a long day without some disappointment; but he had forgotten the sunshine while searching the heavens for possible clouds.

Each one has those times in his life when it seems everything has gone in reverse. Too frequently, these situations can cause despondency to the point that one may well decide he does not want to live any longer.

The Christian is not promised a life free from heartache and disappointment, but we are promised strength sufficient to withstand. Paul assured the Corinthians, "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Corinthians 10:13). We can praise our Heavenly Father that sorrows and disappointments are not meant to disfigure, but to transform us.

Prepare for flu season

Flu season is here and will continue until spring. About 20 to 25 percent of Americans will suffer, estimates the Center for Disease Control (CDC), and many of them will visit their doctor seeking a cure that simply does not exist.

"Flu, which is short for influenza, is caused by a virus. Essentially, there are no medications that kill viruses; antibiotics are only effective against bacteria," explains Robert Eidus, M.D., medical director for U.S. Healthcare, a leading operator of health maintenance organizations.

"Someone with the flu simply has to wait for the illness to run its course, though rest and fluids should help. Aspirin should only be used by adults with the flu, because of the risk of Reye's syndrome in children. If the illness becomes severe, a physician should be contacted," Dr. Eidus said.

Like its response to chickenpox, measles and some other virus-caused illnesses, the body, after being infected with the flu, does build immunity. But in the case of the flu (and colds), the immunity is not permanent and reinfection may occur. Complicating the matter is the fact that so many strains of flu exist. This year, three strains are expected to cause illness in North America.

The flu is considered a minor illness but each year is responsible for billions of dollars in medical expenses and lost workplace productivity.

Flu symptoms, which typically begin abruptly and linger about a week to 10 days, usually begin with chills, fever (up to 103 is normal in adults, higher in children), headache, muscle aches and sore throat. Later, these symptoms may be accompanied by dry cough, running nose and nausea. After the fever drops, the flu victim can expect to feel weak, and possibly depressed, for about one week or more.

Cold symptoms, on the other hand, usually begin gradually, and often clear up in three to four days. A runny nose is often the first symptom. Later, the nasal discharge thickens, affecting the sense of smell and taste. Other common cold symptoms include sneezing, sore throat, coughing and watery eyes. Fever is not as common with a cold, and if one is present, it is usually of a lower grade than seen with the flu.

Though most people experience only minor discomfort and recover quickly from the flu, in some individuals the virus can lead to serious and sometimes fatal secondary infections, such as bronchitis and pneumonia. According to the CDC, people at this high risk include those age 65 or older and those with chronic lung or cardiovascular problems such as asthma, emphysema, heart disease, kidney disease, diabetes or sickle-cell anemia.

Experts recommend that these individuals get a flu shot annually and see their doctor at the first sign of flu symptoms. The flu shot is as much as 90 percent effective in protecting the patient against the strain of flu or flu for which it is intended to protect.

The ideal time to get the vaccine is in October or November, before the flu season begins. However, flu season peaks in January, so getting the shot later can still pay off, particularly for high risk individuals.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gall — nee Suzanne Gambino

St. Maarten honeymoon for Mr. and Mrs. Gall

Suzanne Gambino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gambino of Freehold, became the bride Oct. 21 of John Gall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gall of Nutley.

The ceremony in St. Mary's Church was followed by a reception at the Chandelier, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and cathedral train and accented with sequins and pearls. A pearl and sequin headband held her veil and she carried roses, carnations and orchids.

Barbara Padilla of East Windsor was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Lisa Danski of Jackson, Toby Broman of Marlboro, April Lerman of Old Bridge and Donna Giorgio of Nutley.

They were in black velvet and emerald green taffeta gowns, wore emerald green silk flowers in the hair and carried white roses and carnations.

Michael Giorgio of Nutley served as best man. Ushering were Joseph Paton of Belleville, James Danatos of Nutley, Peter Gambino of Jackson and Gerald Gambino of Manahawkin.

Mrs. Gambino chose a silver gray gown while the groom's mother was in champagne.

Mrs. Gall, an alumna of Marlboro High School, is an executive secretary with Commercial Life Insurance Co., Piscataway.

Mr. Gall, a graduate of Union High School, is an engineer with S&A Concrete, New York City.

The couple is living in Nutley after honeymooning in St. Maarten.

Anna Gencarelli bride of John Muzzicato Jr.

Anna Maria Gencarelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giuseppe Gencarelli of Belleville, and John Muzzicato Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Muzzicato Sr., also of Belleville, exchanged wedding vows in St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

Rev. John Denchey performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Wayne Manor, Wayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a summer satin gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and cathedral train and applied with pearls, crystal and sequins. A rosebud wreath held her veil and she carried long stemmed white calla lilies, roses and babies breath.

Margaret Gencarelli of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included another sister, Lisa Gencarelli, Rita Ritacco and Ann Marie Dorey, all of Belleville, Melissa Gencarelli of Nutley, Maria Gencarelli of Bloomfield and Pira Gencarelli of Belleville. Flower girl was Valerie Bender of Clifton.

They were attired in black strapless sheath gowns, accented with black lace, with pink sashes and pink bows. The honor attendant wore a comb of babies breath and pink roses in her hair and carried long stemmed calla lilies and pink roses. The others had combs with babies breath and carried calla lilies. The flower girl was in a pink summer satin gown accented with a black sash and bows.

Nicholas Muzzicato of Belleville served as best man for his brother. Ushering were another brother, Jude Muzzicato of Belleville, Jimmy Miele, Cosimo Lupo and Tommy DiNardo, all of Belleville. Jason Lazare of Trenton and Lorenzo Gencarelli of Bloomfield, Marco Gencarelli of Italy was ringbearer.

Mrs. Gencarelli chose a rose crepe gown covered with beads and had a corsage of rose roses and white mini-carnations. The groom's mother, in a teal crepe gown accented with beads and sequins, wore a corsage of teal roses and white mini-carnations.

Mrs. Muzzicato is a graduate of Belleville High School and Citronne Institute. Mr. Muzzicato, also an alumnus of Belleville High School, is a longshoreman in Port Newark.

The couple honeymooned in Hawaii following the Aug. 20 nuptials and have made their home in North Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. John Muzzicato Jr. — nee Anna Maria Gencarelli

STORK CLUB

Nicole Lee Salamon

Mrs. Salamon is the former Mary Ann Giannone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Giannone of Belleville. Mr. Salamon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Salamon of Nutley, is a truck driver with Inter-Boro Disposal, Hoboken.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

SINUS DISEASE

Q: What is sinus disease?
A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air-containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.

Q: What are the symptoms of Sinus Disease?
A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.

Q: How is sinus disease treated?
A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and decongestant therapy.

Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?
A: In more severe cases with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.

Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?
A: Yes. With fiberoptic examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.

Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?
A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopic techniques with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

An interview with Mayor Pizzi

By Anthony Buccino

"The bottom line is people," Mayor Michael Pizzi said, "regardless of the type of government, if the people are negative, non-progressive, it's not going to work no matter what you do."

"From the beginning, I was never against the change of government," Pizzi said. "The commission is the best, most receptive. The commissioners can respond quickly to a particular concern," he said, because they administer a department. The business administrator will oversee the daily operations, and will have to answer to the council.

With "relatively a short time in term," Pizzi said, he'd like to see the commission "be as productive as possible."

In the dispute over Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto, Pizzi said, "Based on what people in town asked me, I asked (Township Attorney) Frank Cozzarelli for his opinion."

The attorney rendered his opinion, Pizzi said. Pizzi is not sure if anything will be done.

The attorney's opinion is basically correct, the mayor said, but he wouldn't say how far it will be pursued.

Cozzarelli's opinion was delivered to the commissioners December 28, one month after a judge in Glen Ridge found Fornarotto guilty of "damaging tangible property" and "malicious mischief."

Cozzarelli said that the commissioners had 30 days from the judge's ruling to appoint a replacement for the forfeited term.

Fornarotto refused to yield his commission seat based on Cozzarelli's opinion and has retained his own lawyers who contend that statutes cited by Cozzarelli do not apply.

Pizzi said his "basic objective in the remaining months is to not get sidetracked with a lot of nonsense."

The commission meetings go on "week after week," Pizzi said, "and we're not getting anything done."

People come to the meetings for their "own personal reasons, it's election time and they're coming to campaign to try to get some leverage."

This is "a positive time, a time to progress," Pizzi said.

People at the meetings should suggest ways to "help the town," Pizzi said, "positive criticism is good."

The commission meeting agenda has been updated, Pizzi said. We give "remarks of residents some time." But to have a more detailed agenda would mean at least a 20 page agenda for each meeting, he said. "We could never get it ready."

A copy of each resolution is available, Pizzi said. It's "not that we're trying to hide anything."

If a citizen has a question on a particular resolution, the commissioners will explain it, he said. "Some towns don't even have an agenda."

"To explain everything is non-productive," Pizzi said.

Passing the temporary operating budget was a "formality," Pizzi said, it's "mandatory."

Geriatrics site development

Pizzi said he looks forward to a commitment from the county this year on the proposed use for 13 acre site of the closed Geriatrics Center.

In the beginning, the mayor wanted to get some property for senior citizen housing. "We're the only town without a senior citizen housing complex," Pizzi said.

The county property at the corner of Franklin and Belleville avenues is "a good location," he said. But, the mayor has received no commitment from anyone about development on the site.

The mayor said he would be receptive to some type of office park or light industry that would not hinder traffic. He doesn't favor another shopping center or more condominiums. He said a jail would be a deficiency in such a heavily populated area.

Whatever it is, the mayor would like something with on-site parking that would not congest the area.

New ratables

Although there is no department in town whose function it is to attract new ratables, the mayor said his office receives calls from developers interested in what is available.

The mayor's main focus for development is Washington Avenue. In addition to providing more municipal parking with the public safety complex, the mayor said the commissioners try to buy up available property along Washington Avenue and in the Valley, so customers will be able to shop the avenue.

"Welcome to Belleville" signs provided by the Kiwanis will be put up within the next month, the mayor said. The signs will be installed all at once, he said, when the weather is suitable.

Pizzi said, it is "more than likely" that he will seek a council seat.

Court case postponed

that Smith was gaining the reputation of being a "discipline problem," said Pizzi.

"I did not come to this conclusion by myself. I had no direct confrontations with this man. I was getting reports from freeholders, attorneys and his co-workers that this man was verbally abusive and had what was called an attitude problem," added the mayor.

The mayor stated that he decided to take a personal interest, in his supervisory capacity, when he received a call from Security Supervisor Captain Patrick Lombardy, that Smith had used obscene language while verbally assaulting a female attorney.

During a meeting in Lombardy's office, Pizzi informed Smith that he was suspended pending the outcome of an administrative hearing and requested his issued equip-

Pizzi further stated that Smith refused to hand over the equipment and told him, "if you want the equipment take it off me."

"I realized that this man was hostile and decided my best course of action was to call the county police. Before I could make the call Smith bolted for the door, hit me with his stick and fell down trying to crash his way thru Lombardy and myself. At this time Lombardy and I were able to put the handcuffs on him and detain him for the county police," said Pizzi.

Pizzi, who originated the assault charge against Smith, reported that the counter-charge against him is standard procedure as a defense against his original charge.

Smith has since been terminated from his security position because he did not complete the mandatory 30 day probationary period.

FEVERISH RESPONSE

When taking a child's temperature, remember that body temperature in a normal child can vary 1.5 degrees F. during the course of a day. In general, a child's temperature will be lowest in the morning. When a child is running a fever, it is most likely caused by an infection. While high fever is not necessarily a danger sign, there are certain guidelines. If a child less than three months old experiences a fever in excess of 103 degrees F., the pediatrician should be called. The doctor should also be called when a child between the ages of seven and 24 months has a fever greater than 103 degrees F. So, too, should a parent call the doctor when a child of any age has a fever greater than 103 degrees F., or when the fever persists for more than five days. Any of these cases could indicate a serious underlying infection.

Call on us when your doctor prescribes medication. We have a full prescription department at ROSSMORI PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Greeting cards, gifts, cosmetics and Russell Stover candies are available for Valentine's Day gifts. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sundays.

HINT: Temperatures taken rectally generally run .5 degrees F. higher than taken orally.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We continue our look back at the decade of the 1980's by starting with the year 1984. On the national sports level, the Los Angeles Raiders won the Super Bowl, beating the defending Super Bowl champs, the Washington Redskins.

In basketball, the Boston Celtics won the NBA title, beating the LA Lakers in seven riveting games. The Detroit Tigers were one of the most dominating teams of the 80's, beating the San Diego Padres in five games. The '84 Tigers finished 104-58 and had the division clinched by early September. The Islanders dynasty ended as the Edmonton Oilers beat the Islanders in five games for the Stanley Cup.

Locally, the year 1984 belonged to Jennifer Apicella. The senior became one of the most looked at athletes in New Jersey in '84 as she rewrote the record books for scoring. In February, she broke the girls state scoring record of 2,745 points. Three weeks later, in the state tourney, she surpassed the 3,000 point mark, becoming only the second basketball player in New Jersey history to do so.

Despite breaking the record, Apicella had to overcome some obstacles. First, she broke her wrist on a flagrant foul when she was pushed into a wall during a fast break. She returned to the lineup with a soft cast after missing just two games.

In Apicella's first game back, she suffered a badly sprained ankle in the closing minutes of the game. Two days later, she was back in the lineup and scored 51 points to lead Belleville past Passaic.

Late in the '84 season, Belleville retired Apicella's number 22. Her career ended in the state sectional finals, where Belleville lost to Plainfield.

The Lady Bucs basketball team finished with its best record, ever, posting a 22-7 mark.

Others who excelled for that team were Dina DeAquino, Tracy Buono, Cheryl Marion and Loreli Wells.

In the county semi finals in '84, Belleville played a nailbiter with Irvington at Elizabeth High. In the closing seconds, with the game tied, Marion hit the winning basket that put Belleville in the county finals for the first time, ever. In the finals, Belleville lost a heartbreaker to Shabazz, 45-42.

The boys' basketball team finished 6-17 in head coach Joe Papasidero's last season. The Bucs lost the services of its top scorer, Phil Colallo to early in the year. Colallo suffered a ruptured appendix in early January after leading the Bucs to a 4-3 start.

Danny Ward had an excellent season for the Bucs.

The girls' crew team won a second national championship, this time winning in the four shell. Diane Black, Stephanie Aiello, Jackie Mele, Maureen Russo and Elaine Glidway were the members of that team.

The baseball team, led by second year coach Ralph LaConte finished with a 16-9-2 mark.

The boys' track team was paced by Robert Hutchinson, Billy Huamann, Frank Trupia, Luong La, Craig Burden, Dennis Bogden, Mike Silletti and Tim Daudelin.

The softball team had another outstanding year, finishing 24-5. The only disappointing note to the season was the teams loss to Cedar Grove in the county final. The girls had won two straight county championships and were favored to make it three in a row. However, Cedar Grove won by an 8-5 count.

The '84 softball season marked the ends of some phenomenal careers, mainly DeAquino and Buono. Last November, those two were inducted into the Belleville Hall of Fame.

The football team provided some thrilling moments. The Bucs finished 6-4 and made it to the Group IV, Section II playoffs. The Bucs were bounced by Union in the playoff, 42-0. However, there were some good moments, mainly the victories over Passaic, 7-0 and Clifton, 7-3.

Mark Walsh, John Apicella, Mike Gibbons, Don DiPaolo, John Olivieri, Anthony Gizzo and Ralph Chimento paced the way for the Bucs. Belleville jumped out to a 64-0 record in '84, but injuries decimated the team down the stretch.

The volleyball team made it to the semi finals of the state tourney before losing to Fair Lawn. The gymnastics team had a 2-9 record with a new coach, Ray Iannuzzi. The girls received some good performances from Gina Lemongello and Linda Wylicak.

1985: On the national sports level, the San Francisco 49ers won its second Super Bowl of the decade, ripping the Miami Dolphins, 38-16. The St. Louis Cardinals were robbed in the World Series by the Cardinals in game six. A bad call gave the Royals a victory when the Cards should have won the Series in six games.

The Los Angeles Lakers regained the NBA title, beating the Celtics in six games. The Edmonton Oilers won its second straight Stanley Cup, beating the Philadelphia Flyers.

Locally, the basketball teams were rebuilding. The boys, under first year head coach Rocco Colucci won just twice, but the foundation was being laid for the future.

Colucci went with a young team, with players like Ted Sochaski, Leon Puentes and Bobby Hutchison.

The girls finished with a 9-13 mark in the first "Post Apicella" campaign. Desiree Johansen led the way for Belleville in the scoring department.

The baseball team continued its development, winning 18 games. The softball team did very well, finishing 24-6 and advancing to the county finals, where it lost a 5-4 decision to Livingston.

The girls' crew team continued its dominance, winning a third national crown in four years. The team, under the direction of coaches Sam Giuffrida and Scott Fabian were determined to win it again.

The members of the '85 team included Black, Aiello, Mele, SallyAnne Dalton and Jill Lillis.

The boys' track team enjoyed a solid year. The 3:41.1 members team broke a ten year school record with a time of 3:41.1. Members that year were Willie Chandler, Mike Silletti, Nick Compilano and J.R. DiVincenzo. That relay team also placed seventh in the tough Hudson Relays.

Chandler set a school record in the 100 meters with a time of 11.1. Silletti ran the intermediate hurdles in 56.7, setting a school record.

Chandler lost just one dual meet in the 100 meters in '85. He finished third in the 200 meters at the conference meet and fifth

Nardone and Hywel remain unbeaten

Bucs soar to Minutemen title

By Joe Piegaro

Belleville High School added another trophy to the already bulging case, as the 1990 wrestling squad easily won the 6th annual Elizabeth Minutemen Tournament. The Bucs also whipped Clifton 50-13 last week to increase their season record to an undefeated 5-0.

Coach Joe Nisovicca was a proud man indeed, as he sent seven Bucs into the finals at Elizabeth. BHS ended the day with four firsts, three seconds, one third and two fourths, amassing a team total of 146 points to win its second Minutemen trophy in the last four years.

The runners-up were: 2nd Somerville, 122 points; 3rd Piscataway, 100; 4th No. Bergen, 97; 5th

Elizabeth, 92.5; 6th Neptune, 50; 7th Long Branch, 37; 8th J.P. Stevens, 36.5.

This is the second time in less than a month that Belleville won a tournament over the top ranked team in its respective county. In the Bloomfield Holiday Tournament, Belleville finished first, while Passaic Valley finished third. Then, as now, Passaic Valley, 7-0, ranked as the No. 1 team in Passaic County. At Elizabeth, the Bucs outpointed Somerville, currently 7-0, and ranked as the top team in Somerset County. At Elizabeth, 10 Bucs wrestlers advanced to the semifinal round, making it an easy task to pile up so many team points. Only Winnie DeSimone (40) and Mike Costa (17) were eliminated in the first round. Belleville did not enter a wrestler in the 189 lb. class.

Junior Nardone (125) was the first BHS wrestler to gain the gold as he drew a bye in the first round, then won decisions by scores of 7-3 and 12-7. He also won the event last year, competing in the 119-lb. division. Junior was last year's Outstanding Wrestler in the tournament, the only freshman ever to win the award in this particular competition.

135 pound Lee Hands won his first ever varsity tournament after drawing a lowly No. 3 seed in the lower bracket. Lee opened up with a pin over Brian Goodstein of Piscataway in 1:51, then flattened Jeff Beckman of Neptune in only 25 seconds. The time of the fall matches Ralph Perna for the fastest pin so far this year. Lee won the gold medal by recording a 8-4 decision over top seeded Mike Parrott of J.P. Stevens.

Dan Hywel won his title in the 152 lb. division in dominating fashion. After a bye in the opening round, he pinned Gary Boesch of No. Bergen in only 41 seconds. The championship bout saw Danny score his 10th fall in 10 mat ches as he decked Willie Carrillo of Elizabeth at 4:14 of the final period.

Finally, Ken Henry brought home another first place trophy for the Bucs, winning his first tournament since his sophomore season. He opened with a bye, then pinned Jerry Plum of J.P. Stevens at 4:39 in the semifinals. Ruben Guevara of Elizabeth gave Henry a tussle in the finals, but he won a little too much and won a 8-7 thriller.

Mike Miele (112), Joe Omalsky (130), and George Wallace (HWT) earned second place trophies, while Ralph Perna (119) finished third, 103-pound George DelGrande and 145-pound tenant Phil Albanese placed fourth for BHS.

The dual meet last Wednesday versus Clifton was little more than a practice for Belleville. The Bucs won 10 of the 13 bouts, all but one easily. Clifton, starting ten underclassmen, will be a formidable foe next year, but this time around they were simply out of their league.

Lady Bucs lose to Hackensack, 54-53

Sometimes a loss can be considered a moral victory. Such was the case for the Belleville girls' basketball team last Friday night, when the Lady Bucs lost a 54-53 decision to Hackensack at Belleville High.

The loss dropped Belleville's record to 0-9 on the season. Earlier last week, the Lady Bucs lost a 78-25 decision to powerful Teaneck.

Belleville battled Immaculate Heart last Tuesday and will be at Bloomfield tomorrow evening in a 7:30 p.m. start. Next Tuesday, the girls take on Paramus in a 4 p.m. game.

The game with Hackensack last Friday was Belleville's closest thus far this season. The Lady-Bucs played a strong offensive game with Hackensack and led by as many as eight points in the first half.

"I thought we were the better team," head coach Karen Fucello said. "We made some mistakes on offense, however, and we weren't able to convert on some of our fast break opportunities. I wasn't happy with our defense. I felt we could have held them well below the 54 points they scored."

Belleville led, 12-10 after one quarter and 28-27 at halftime. It was 42-38 after three quarters before Hackensack used a 16-11 fourth quarter advantage to win by one point.

A questionable call occurred late in the Hackensack game, Belleville had trimmed the margin to 54-53 and pressured the inbound pass. The Hackensack player threw the ball the length the floor in an attempt to gain a quick basket or at least cut the last few seconds off the clock.

The recipient of the pass tripped the ball and it went out of bounds underneath the Belleville basket. Fucello questioned whether the ball was hit by the player before the player actually went out of bounds. If not, then Belleville would have possession underneath the Hackensack basket with two seconds left.

"If we have the ball underneath their basket with :02 left, we have a much better chance," the coach said. "Instead, we have to go the length of the floor in one second. It's not an easy task to score."

Belleville did get a shot off at the buzzer, but it fell short and the game ended with Hackensack winning by one point.

Colleen Mannion and Amalia Fabiano led the Belleville attack with 12 points each. Taelina Espiruth had nine, Mia Hanos and Jennifer Bridge scored seven each and Danielle DeWerk finished with six.

"Colleen has the ability to score consistently on the varsity level," Fucello said of Mannion, a freshman. "This game was a good experience for the entire team. They need to play in close games and learn what it takes to win those close games."

Against Teaneck, Belleville fell short against one of the stronger teams in the NNJHL. Teaneck jumped out to a 19-6 first quarter lead and extended the margin to 44-12 by intermission. It was 68-16 after three quarters, with the final count winding up 78-25.

Hanos and DeWerk scored eight points each for Belleville. Espiruth finished with four, Fabiano and Mannion scored two each and Laurie Abrams finished with one point.

NOTES: Belleville faces the class of the NNJHL Pacific Division tomorrow night when it travels to Bloomfield. The Lady Bengals are 7-1 and defeated Teaneck two weeks ago in a battle for first place.

Lady Bucs missed eight foul shots in the one point loss to Hackensack.

115-26-2 mark for 1980's

Belleville wrestling dominated decade

By Joe Piegaro

The 1980's ... wow, what a decade! Everything happened, from the crumbling of the Berlin Wall to an actor becoming President; from the beginning of a football dynasty in San Francisco to the end of one in Pittsburgh; the passing of the old was replaced by the growth of the new. Very few things remained the same. Except in Belleville, wrestling carried the championship banner from the start to the finish of this memorable ten years. Here is a recap of sorts.

1980 ... Then the Bellboys, wrestling had its worst season in 20 years with a 9-7 record. Chris Musmanno became the first BHS wrestler to win three District 7 and two Region 2 gold medals. One week after that, he became the first ever Belleville grad to win a state championship and finished with a perfect 32-0 record.

1981 ... Wrestling rebounded nicely by zooming to a 13-1 record and winning the District 7 title. Jim Lombard was the top grappler this year, finishing with a record of 17-5-

1 and winning a district title at 129 pounds.

1982 ... An 8-21 record earned Belleville an invitation to the young State Sectional Championships, the first of eight consecutive offers, making them the only school in Essex County to be so honored.

First place trophies in the County and District 7 tournaments spiced a great year. Dom Cerreto became the first BHS freshman to win a county gold medal, while George Riggano was the star of the team, finishing with a 20-6 record and a District 7 title at 170 pounds.

1983 ... A record of 11-2, a second invitation to the Sectionals, and a third District 7 title. Dom Cerreto was 22-3 and Mike Gibbons 18-4-1 as both sophomores starred for a very young team.

1984 ... The Bucs had their only undefeated season at 14-0-1, won the Region 2 title but lost the District 7 crown to St. Benedict's. The team was again invited to participate in the State Sectional Championships, but Head Coach

Gene D'Alessandro declined the offer, at first for New Jersey schools. Dom Cerreto (23-3), Jim Meyler (25-4) and Mike Gibbons (25-2) led the grapplers to another great season.

1985 ... A 4th District 7 title, an 11-2 record, and Gene D'Alessandro's final year as head coach. The gentleman from Essex Catholic fame fashioned a 99-18-3 record for a winning percentage of .846 in his nine year tenure. Again an invitation to the Sectionals where BHS lost to state champion Phillipsburg.

Two young freshmen, Joe Cerreto and Armando Nardone made their debuts in the blue and gold. Mike Gibbons was the star of the team, finishing at 29-2 and placing fourth at Princeton. Dom Cerreto and Ralph Zarro joined Gibbons as Region 2 gold medalists.

1986 ... Armando Nardone wins the Outstanding Wrestler award in the Bloomfield Holiday tournament and pairs with Joe Cerreto to form the most deadly 1-2 punch in North Jersey. Head Coach Joe Nisovicca has a successful rookie year with a 10-4 record, District 7 gold and a fifth straight Sectional invitation. "Murderer's Row" is born as Mike Iuliano finishes at 20-6-10 and John Stampone goes 12-10-1 at 108 pounds. Nardone and Cerreto win Regional championships.

1987 ... The "Everything Year". First place honors in the Bloomfield Elizabeth, County, District and Region tournaments. A sixth straight invitation to the Sectionals and a memorable 26-24 upset over Union in the opening round. Marc Criscione earns the nickname "Bear" and leads the team as MVP.

Armando Nardone finishes second in the state while eight of the 11 starters post 20 or more wins. The team finishes at 16-2 and is ranked No. 9 in the state.

1988 ... One more District 7 championship, one more Sectional invite, a 12-3 record and three more Regional champs (Iuliano, Nardone, Cerreto). Iuliano finishes at 31-2 and has the greatest district and regional performance in BHS his-

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking coaches for its boys' baseball and girls' softball leagues. Men or women interested in coaching a baseball or softball team in youth leagues for ages 8 through 14 are urged to contact the Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible.

Sportsmanship, basic skills and fun are the objectives of the leagues. Every player on each team who attends required practices will play in every game. Come volunteer your time and share your interest and knowledge with the youngsters in town.

All potential coaches will be required to attend a training & certification course given by the Recreation Department.

Participants at these clinics will be given instructions on psychology of youth sports, first aid, maximizing performance and organization of practice, as well as tips on specific coaching techniques in the sports of baseball/softball. Participants will be certified by the National Youth Sports Coaches Association upon completion of the clinic. An attractive benefit afforded to all Certified Coaches is a $500,000 liability insurance coverage. The exact dates of the clinics will be announced in late February.

For further information or to register, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 between 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Men's Volleyball results

tory...six wins by a combined score of 86-1. John Stampone finishes at 23-2 as the second cog in Murderer's Row. Armando Nardone goes 33-0 and wins the state title at 130 pounds. Joe Cerreto finishes at 32-31 and earns a fifth place medal at Princeton. Nardone ends his career with 101 victories. Cerreto with 100.

1989's. Head Coach Joe Nisivocchia is voted District 7, Region 2 and State Coach of the Year by his peers. The Bucs finish 11-3, win District 7 for the 8th time, win Region 2 for the third time and finish as the No. 19 team in the state. An 8th invitation to the Sectionals allows the Bucs to pull a 39-24 upset over Westfield in the opening round. John Stampone leads the team with a 29-4 record while frosh sensation Emilio "Junior" Nardone winds up at 28-5-1 and wins Outstanding Wrestler awards in the County and Elizabeth tournaments. Ralph Perna and Danny

Recreation softball clinic

The Belleville Recreation Department will again be sponsoring a Girls' Softball Clinic for resident Belleville girls who are students at Belleville High School or Belleville Middle School. This program will be held on Fridays at Middle School Boys' Gym from 6 to 8 p.m. on the following dates: Jan. 19 and 26; Feb. 2 and 9; and March 2. The intent of this clinic is to prepare girls who plan to try out for the Suburban Girls' and/or the High School girls' softball teams.

Each session will be supervised and an aspect of the game will be demonstrated and practiced. This clinic will provide all interested girls with an opportunity to better learn the game of softball. Participants must provide their own gloves and must wear sneakers. No advance registration is required.

Men's Basketball results

(From Jan. 4): Rudy's Pub (5-0) over Printing Techniques (3-2), 71-46. P.S.E.G. (4-1) over Nutley Pub (4-1), 56-48. Burelew's (4-1) over Forlenza Tile (1-4), 55-50. Absolute Asbestos Abatement (3-2) over Ritacco Bros. (0-5), 50-42. Chandler (1-4) over Aces (0-5), 47-42.

Over 30 League results

(From Jan. 3): Rudy's Pub (5-0) over Wiggles (4-1), 63-51. Belleville Knights (4-2) over Perineta (2-3), 42-37. Megaro (3-1) over TCBY of Nutley (0-5), 39-37. J. Kuhn Painting (0-5) - "Bye."

Women's Volleyball results

(From Jan. 9): Jammers (6-0) over Spiked Punch (4-1) 15-5, 15-4. Gino's Pizza (5-1) over Reunion (4-2) 15-8, 15-12. Volleyball Busters (2-4) over New Beginnings (1-5) 15-8, 15-12. Followers (2-4) over Ladies of the Net (0-6) 15-8, 15-1.

Hywel win Region 2 crowns.

The statement that BHS is the Essex County team of the 80's is not just an idle boast. Consider these stats:

- 2 State Champs - Most in Essex
- 13 Region Champs - second only to West Essex' 14
- 42 District Champs - most in Essex
- 27 County Champs - most in Essex
- 8 District team titles - most in Essex
- 3 Region team titles - most in Essex
- 2 County team titles - tied with Columbia for most in Essex
- 8 Sectional invitations - most in Essex

115-26-2 record for a winning percentage of .816 - best in Essex

The 80's, the most memorable era in BHS wrestling history. Here's the 90's and hopefully the continuance of athletic excellence as shown by the mighty matmen of Belleville High School.

pions at Elizabeth is as follows: 103, Vinny Zullo of Piscataway; 112, Don Barone of Somerville; 119, Mauricio Rios of Elizabeth; 125, Junior Nardone of Belleville; 130, Osvaldo Ramos of Elizabeth; 135, Lee Hands of Belleville; 140, Steve Vetrano of Neptune; 145, Steve Carranck of Somerville; 152, Dan Hywel of Belleville; 160, Ken Henry of Belleville; 171, Wayne Loggia of Piscataway; 189, Travis Allie of Somerville; HWT Shawn Malavenda of Somerville; Bruce Moran of the Star-Ledger has raised the Bucs two notches to No. 17 in his current Top 20 poll.

The ranks of the undefeated has dwindled to two as Junior Nardone and Dan Hywel sport identical 10-0 records. Nardone has four pins while Danny has pinned everyone he has faced this year. A note of congratulations to head coach Joe Nisivocchia. He is the only coach in all of Essex County to be chosen as Coach of the Year by his peers in the last decade. Can anyone remember a coach from Essex winning the award before? If you can, write the Times and send me the info. Tonight's dual meet will be against Hackensack High School at home, starting time 7 p.m. Wrestler of the Week was a toughie this time around: Junior Nardone and Dan Hywel both won all their matches easily last week, but they were supposed to. Ken Henry won all his matches too, but he struggled somewhat in Elizabeth. That makes Lee Hands the man this week, with a 12-1 decision in Clifton, and an impressive three matches in Elizabeth. Congrats Lee! See you next week!

Puentes shines for N.J. Tech

Leon Puentes, a 1000-point scorer at Belleville High School, is back in the scoring groove, this time at New Jersey Tech.

A sophomore guard, Puentes earned his first start Dec. 13 vs. Southampton University and proved he hasn't missed a beat.

Puentes led New Jersey Tech in scoring with 25 points in the 92-77 victory, the Highlander's sixth victory in eight games.

"We needed a change and Leon was perfect for the new style we wanted to employ because it was conducive to his abilities," New Jersey Tech coach Jim Catalano said.

"Leon's a long-range shooter. He runs the floor well and views the court well in an open game."

Puentes, who came into the game averaging three points per game, connected on 7-of-12 shots from the floor and 3-of-7 from three-point range. He also popped in 8-of-10 free throws, had two rebounds and three assists.

"We'll put more emphasis on running the ball to get the shots because we're best in a transition game," Catalano said. "So we'll be looking for Leon to play a major part in that style of play."

Last season was one Puentes would rather forget, as he missed more than half the season through injury and illness. But the 5-foot-10 guard returned this season with more resolve and a confident attitude.

A first-team All-Area and All-Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League performer at Belleville, Puentes was a four-year starter for coach Don Roll.

"Leon is a very smart, heady player, a fine passer and an excellent free throw shooter," Catalano said of the mechanical engineering major, who is a fan of the New York Knicks and guard Mark Jackson.

"Leon has shown us what he can do and we expect him to keep improving and helping us win," Catalano said.

Resolution for 1990: Kick the smoking addiction

If you are addicted to nicotine, see "no way off" the smoking merry-go-round, but want to stop using cigarettes and begin the final decade of the century with a new approach to life, the American Lung Association of New Jersey — The Christmas Seal People — can help you through its Freedom From Smoking Cessation program.

Smoking is behavior fired by addiction to nicotine, a drug that affects the brain and nervous system. The Lung Association has produced a brochure, "Nicotine Addiction and Cigarettes," which contains all the facts related to smoking and suggests steps to take toward cessation.

To obtain a brochure, contact the American Lung Association, 1425 Plaza Road, Fair Lawn 07410. Information about Freedom From Smoking cessation classes is also available.

People who smoke develop a tolerance to nicotine. As the craving for nicotine increases, the smoker "smokes more" to achieve the same effect. However, smokers do find a number of cigarettes that enable them to maintain a certain level of satisfaction.

This pattern of increasing the nicotine dose to help the smoker maintain a stable plateau is characteristic of the dependence people have who are addicted to alcohol, sedatives, stimulants and narcotics.

The addictive nature of nicotine makes it difficult for smokers to withdraw and quit. About 70 percent of smokers who quit are likely to relapse in the first three months. Relapse can be part of the eventual quitting process. Most people who want to stop smoking and make a decision to do so can achieve lasting freedom from tobacco. It all depends on the "the want" to quit and change lifestyles.

The American Lung Association of New Jersey (201.791.6600) can and wants to help all smokers kick the habit. The choice to begin the 1990's in a healthy manner is yours.

Sr. Girl Scouts to receive gold award

Senior Girl Scout Troop 952 members Genny Andrews, Jennifer Cerca, Heather Kane, Alexandria Lukowiak and Jennifer Salmon each receive a Gold Award at a reception January 27, 7 p.m., at the Fewsmin Church, 444 Union Avenue. The Gold Award is the highest achievement award in Girl Scouts. Only about 10% of members nationwide earn this award. The five Belleville High School students maintained their school work and completed all their patches and merit badges in order to earn the Gold Award. The girls have been active in the scouting program for eleven years.

in the conference in the 400 meters.

Sillett led the Bucs in scoring with 139 points and placed fifth in the league in the intermediate hurdles.

The Buc's big win of the season comes in an 85-42 upset over Livingston.

The golf team captured an NNJIL championship, winning the crown in the final match of the year. The Bucs were coached by Colucci.

In the fall, the football team finished with a 2-7 mark. The Bucs were unable to get the offense in gear and were shut out in their final five games. The team did manage victories over Eastside and Bloomfield in '85 and played a strong defense all season long.

The gymnastics team had its first winning season in team history. The girls, paced by Kelli Glunk and Joell Veltre, made tremendous strides. Glunk was marvelous, winning the all-around championships at the NNJIL's and advancing to the prestigious state sectionals.

At the Belleville Hall of Fame inductions in November of '85, the entire senior eight shell of the 1976 boys' crew team is inducted. Michael Davis gives an emotional speech during the induction. Without question, the proudest guy in the crowd that evening was Sam Gluffrida, the coach of the team who was inducted along with his athletes.

1986's The Chicago Bears trounce the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl, 46-10. The Montreal Canadiens beat Calgary in five games for the Stanley Cup. The Boston Celtics win the NBA title, beating Houston in six games. The big surprise of the NBA playoffs is the elimination of the L.A. Lakers by Houston in the Western Finals. In baseball, the New York Mets win a thrilling seven game World Series from Boston. The league championship series area also memorable, as California loses in seven games to Boston after leading three games to one and the Mets beat Houston in six tough games.

Locally, the Belleville girls' basketball team posts a 21-8 record, but strong play from freshman Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski give the girls hope for the future. Desiree Johansen, Judy Nehila and Laura Caruso also play well for Karen Fuccello's team.

The boys' basketball team improves on its 21-9 record of a year ago, finishing 5-17. Sophomores Schacki and Puentes continue to improve. The team also receives good performances from Hutchison Donald Washington and Chris Goldrick.

At the end of the boys' basketball season, Colucci announces he will step down to assume a new coaching position at Rahway. Don Roll is named the Bucs new coach.

The softball team has a phenomenal year, finishing 26-6. The girls set a Belleville High varsity record for most wins by a team in a season. The girls are beaten in a memorable county final by Caldwell, 2-1 in extra innings. Janine Luzzi, a sophomore pitcher, hurl a marvelous game for Belleville. Dondarski and Johansen also provide solid performances for the Lady Bucs.

The baseball team goes all the way to the GNT finals before losing a 9-8 heartbreaker to Columbia. Jim Dunphy and Jay Marchese star for Belleville, who finishes the season with a 20-11 record.

The track team enjoys a good season. The boys beat Bloomfield, 71-60, the first time Belleville beats Bloomfield in track in 20 years. In that meet, Loung Lu, the wins the long jump and triple jump and Craig Burden captures the 800 meters.

Chandler breaks his own school record in the 100 meters, running it in 10.9. He also sets a school record in the 200 meters with a time of 22.2. Chandler also excels in the long jump, with a personal best of 21'7", just missing out on the Belleville High record for that event.

In the fall, the Belleville football team has a solid year, finishing 6-3. The Bucs start out 0-2, but rally to win six of its last seven games, just missing out on a playoff berth. Belleville does win the NNJIL title.

Jeff Spillsbury, Jamie Gallito, Gerard Corbo, Marchese and Dunphy kick the Belleville resurgence. The Bucs biggest wins come against Montclair, 21-20 and Nutley, 27-16.

Sad news hits Belleville in the fall of 1986 when Bill "Doc" Ellis, the long time trainer for the football team, dies suddenly. His passing leaves the entire township in shock. A year later, the football field at Belleville High is named in his memory.

The volleyball team advances the state semis for the second time. Trisha Tramulola and Christine Melillo lead the way for the team.

The gymnastics team receives strong performances again from Glunk and Veltre.

The soccer team enjoys a solid season paced by Keith Woods, Roger Real and Goldrick. The girls' tennis team is paced by Janet Reiman, Renee Juliano and Darlene Juliano.

Next week, we'll wrap up the remaining three years in the decade.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

False. The NBA team now known as the Los Angeles Clippers did make the playoffs. At the time, the team was known as the Buffalo Braves. The last time the Braves made the playoffs was the 1976-77 season. Jack Ramsey was the Braves' coach.

FOR THIS WEEK

Only three teams from the NFL's "old guard" (teams that joined the league before 1960) have never been to the Super Bowl. Name those three teams and name how far they advanced in the playoffs.

Epiphany party advances culture in town

An Epiphany Party commemorating the visit of the Magi to the Christ child was held Jan. 6, at the home of James Cozzarelli Jr. The purpose of the party was to share a gift of thought or creativity. The goal of the party was to develop interest in the advancement of cultural arts in Belleville. All the guests had familial and/or business ties in the community. They shared some original poetry, prose, original music and friendship. Tara Cozzarelli and her brother Jimmy III shared their artwork with the gathered adults. James Cozzarelli Jr. is listed in Baron's Who's Who for Interior Design.

Hosting the party, Betty Ann, Tara Ann, James Jr. and Jimmy III.

Businesses recycle cardboard

The Belleville Recycling Department has issued a reminder to all local businesses that the recycling of all corrugated cardboard is now mandatory in the township of Belleville.

Businesses are reminded that cardboard will be picked up weekly in accordance with the township's new garbage contract.

All cardboard must be bundled and tied and may be left at the curb. Cardboard which is not bundled and tied will not be accepted.

Businesses are urged to comply in order to avoid fines which are incorporated within the township's recycling ordinance. Anyone needing further information or who has any questions may contact the department at 450-3322.

Newspaper recycling to start

Starting in January, 1990, newspaper recycling will be available curbside in Belleville. Newspaper pick-ups will be once a month. The schedule is as follows:

Residents who have Monday-Thursday pick-ups: 2nd Saturday of each month.

Residents who have Tuesday-

Friday pick-ups: 3rd Saturday of each month.

Residents who have Wednesday-Saturday pick-ups: 4th Saturday of each month.

Newspapers should be tied in bundles no more than 12 inches high and placed curbside no earlier than Friday evenings.

Clockwise: Emil Nardachont, Jack Gurrera, Nina and Andrew Colaninno, Ed and Rachel Danilano, Thomas Zampino, Angie Gurrera, Annabel Nardachont, Sandra Zappino.

New legal tandem

25 Years Ago
January 14, 1965... Longtime town official Charles B. Tedesco was named acting town attorney, and Emil B. Wuster of Hackensack was named special counsel by a 3-2 vote of the town council.

Town Attorney Walter Finch presented the town council with a letter of resignation effective Feb. 1. The council was planning a formal resolution at its next meeting to thank Finch for his service.

Several candidates' names were tossed around by the councilmen before they decided upon Tedesco and Finch.

Civil Rights appointments
Mrs. Walter P. Brown of Ralph Street was appointed to the Belleville Commission on Civil Rights by a 5-0 vote of the town council. Rev. Benedetto Pascale of the Silver Lake Baptist Church was appointed to the commission, also by a 5-0 vote.

Both Mrs. Brown and Rev. Pascale were appointed to three-year terms set to expire Dec. 31, 1968.

Hoopsters, wrestlers fall
The Belleville High School basketball team dropped a pair of games to East Orange and Montclair, falling to fourth place in the Big Ten Conference with a 4-4 record.

Against East Orange, the Bellboys cut a 14-point deficit to one point, but the EO defense held Belleville in the final seconds to preserve the win.

Montclair held off Belleville, 60-58, in a game in which there were 13 different scores and 18 lead changes. Several Belleville defensive lapses helped the Mounties earn the victory.

Bellboys' star Bill Rush led the team with 19 and 22 points in the two games.

In the first match of the wrestling season, the Bellboys opened up a 15-3 lead on Montclair, but dropped the contest, 21-15.

Power 36 Review

By Yokave Parker

Power-36 — The Sports & Entertainment Network will be giving away free tickets to the "Ice Capades" and has just begun coverage of the Rutgers-Newark men's basketball team home games.

The Ice Capades 50th Golden Anniversary Edition is coming to the Meadowlands Arena from Jan. 30 to Feb. 4.

This year's program is highlighted by the exclusive tour of Barbie, the most famous doll in the world, and Nintendo's Super Mario Brothers, the video game characters.

Power 36 wants to send you and a friend to the Ice Capades, so be sure to watch our regularly scheduled programming for information on how to win free tickets.

Coverage of Rutgers-Newark men's basketball team home games began last week with Rutgers playing against Montclair State College.

The remaining schedule is: Jan. 20, Rutgers vs. Stockton State College; Jan. 24, Rutgers vs. Glassboro State College; Jan. 31, Rutgers vs. Kean College; Feb. 3, Rutgers vs. Rutgers-Camden; Feb. 10, Rutgers vs. William Paterson College; Feb. 14, Rutgers vs. Ramapo College.

Check the Power 36 programming schedule for air dates and times.

Bradley to chair MS walk

Natalie Peck, Committee Chairperson, announced that Senator Bill Bradley has agreed to serve as Honorary Chairman for the Northern New Jersey Multiple Sclerosis Chapter's Super Cities Walk at Liberty State Park on April 1.

"As-a Rhodes Scholar, sports figure and Senator from the State of New Jersey, continued Peck, "his participation will enhance the patriotic theme of this event. In addition, he has the opportunity to join his constituency in serving the community in this worthwhile cause."

The Super Cities Walk will feature an international theme with rest stops representing foreign countries. After an all-American lunch, walkers will take a Circle Line cruise to the Statue of Liberty.

Every mile walked will earn pledge dollars that will help to support local services in the counties of Essex, Hudson, Morris, Sussex, Union and Warren, as well as research funded by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Ms is a disease of the central nervous system that affects over 250,000 Americans. It strikes almost 200 new people between the ages of 20 and 40 each week. And it has no known cause or cure.

Essex County Executive Nicholas Amato congratulates (from left) Belleville residents Fedele Nicolaro Jr., William Pador, Erik C. DeHoof and Dominick Palmieri upon their graduation from the Essex County Police Academy. The new officers will serve in the East Orange, Montclair, Glen Ridge Police Departments and the Essex County Sheriff's Department respectively.

BARBIE... The most famous doll in the world, comes to life in her exclusive live tour, celebrating Ice Capades' 50th anniversary show at the Meadowlands Arena.

Dr. Everett E. Kunkel honored for service

Over 100 people recently gathered at the Pennington Club in Passaic to honor Dr. Everett E. Kunkel on the 50th anniversary of his affiliation with Spencer Savings Bank SLA as a charter member of the Board of Directors.

Chartered in September 1939, the then Spencer Building & Loan Association was formed as a result of the merging of several Building & Loans, which collectively had assets of $350,000. The original office was located on the corner of Passaic Street and Spencer Place in Garfield, thus the name Spencer.

Today, Spencer Savings Bank headquartered in Garfield, boasts 14 offices with total assets over $800 million.

Dr. Kunkel has served on many of the Association's committees during his fifty years of service and is presently on the Finance and Executive Committees. In addition to Spencer's Officers and Directors, people from various trade groups, members of the financial community and Dr. Kunkel's family and friends were present to honor him.

Century 21 Agencies sponsor Real Estate Career Opportunity Week

Century 21 Award Agency and Stanford Agency are participating in Career Opportunity Week, January 15-21.

Throughout the week, individuals with real estate experience, as well as those considering a career change, are encouraged to contact Angela II Grande, broker at Award Agency, or Nina Kaeser, broker at Stanford Agency, to learn more about real estate careers. There is no fee or obligation, and everyone is welcome.

The two brokers will be available all week to meet with persons considering a career in real estate, or who are already in the field and are considering a move to a different company.

Call Angela II Grande, Award Agency, at 661-3808 or Nina Kaeser, Stanford Agency, at 235-9000 to make an appointment, or stop by the offices at 125 Franklin Ave., Nutley, or 86 Union Ave., Nutley, respectively.

"There is always a need for real estate professionals," said the brokers. "Although we actively recruit new associates year-round, Career Opportunity Week offers people a chance to find out how they can realize their professional, financial and personal goals in a flexible work environment."

"A real estate career gives you the chance to be paid what you are worth; not what someone thinks you're worth," they added.

As the industry leader, the Century 21 system has many resources to provide comprehensive training programs; a nationwide referral system, and marketing support to help people build an exciting, rewarding career.

The Century 21 system attracts people from virtually every kind of educational and professional background. Some already have residential real estate experience, but many of the system's most successful sales associates are former nurses, teachers, retired military, homemakers, college students, as well as experienced professionals from other areas of sales.

"Last year, thousands of people participated in Career Opportunity Week," the brokers said. "Many of them are now enjoying successful careers, as Century 21 Award Agency and Century 21 Stanford Agency can provide information about pre-license training courses to fulfill this requirement."

Century 21 Real Estate Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, is the largest real estate sales organization in the world with nearly 7,000 independently owned and operated offices. Approximately 11 percent of all residential real estate transactions completed in this country in 1989 were handled by Century 21 offices.

Collectively, an estimated $60 billion worth of real estate was sold last year by the Century 21 system.

REAL ESTATE FORUM

By Jim Farese

Q: I have just purchased a home. Could you explain how I can apply for a Homestead Rebate on my taxes?

A: The State of New Jersey offers a tax rebate for property owners. To qualify, you must have owned and resided in your dwelling as of Oct. 1, 1989. The form must be filed with the Division of Taxation on or before Dec. 1, 1989. The rebate will be paid on or before July 15, 1990.

To receive a form or assistance, contact your local tax assessor or the Division of Taxation at 1-800-323-4400 or 609-292-6400.

Q: I've heard of a situation called Equity Share whereas the buyer, with little or no downpayment, can buy a house with Equity Share. Can you explain?

A: Simply put, an Equity Share is a partner. Someone can put up a cash downpayment for someone else to purchase a home and then will share in the profit when the house is sold or refinanced.

The contract between the equity partners can be spelled out in many ways and percentage of ownership. Generally, one person puts up the downpayment and the other pays the mortgage and uses the home for his principal residence.

Q: Dear Mr. Farese: I'm in extreme debt, have many mortgages, a heavy IRS tax lien and am in the process of fighting a foreclosure. If I sell my house, after paying my extreme debts, there will probably be very little, if nothing left. What happens to capital gains, if there aren't any?

A: Unfortunately, you are still liable for the gain you would have received prior to debt which was unrelated to the cost or improvement of your home. Personal debt, tax liens, etc., although paid at closing, are considered to be paid out of the gain on the sale. All you can do is deduct penalties and interest on next year's tax return.

Q: What do the initials R.E.I.T. and R.E.M.I.C. stand for and briefly, what are they? I've been reading some literature and these terms come up frequently. I feel I should know at least what they stand for?

A: R.E.I.T. stands for Real Estate Investment Trust. Briefly, it is a corporation or association which invests in real estate to hold or eventually liquidate. R.E.M.I.C. stands for Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduit and is an entity that holds a fixed proof of mortgage and issues multiple classes of interest in itself to investors.
