Planning board lawsuit cites 'illegal' vote reversal meeting

By Anthony Buccino
Two Belleville businessmen have filed suit in Superior Court against the township Planning Board, the township itself and Walgreens Stores, Inc. claiming that a sign permit was issued following an illegal, or closed meeting, of the planning board.

The planning board at their Feb. 8 meeting approved a building permit for Walgreens to construct a proposed sign with dimensions of '4x14' by 21' on its property located at 325 Washington Ave. The planning board first voted at that meeting to deny the permit. Then a closed meeting was held away from the general public. Following the closed meeting, the planning board returned, their attorney declared the earlier vote null and void and then the board voted in favor of the Walgreen's sign request.

The suit was brought against the planning board, the township of Belleville and Walgreen's by Raymond and Vincent Cozzarelli, brothers and co-owners of Rossmore Pharmacy Inc. located at 338 Washington Ave.

A pre-settlement hearing is set for noon Friday, May 11 before Superior Court Judge Marilyn Loftus. The pre-settlement hearing before Loftus is the second step in the legal process, according to Louis Mangano of Elmwood Park, attorney for the Raymond and Vincent Cozzarelli.

A show cause order from Superior Court sent April 18 to the township restrained Walgreens from constructing the proposed sign.

According to the complaint, on Feb. 8, the planning board members made a motion to deny the Walgreen's request. The motion was seconded. The planning board voted and the application was denied.

Shortly after the vote was taken, the complaint states, "a private conference was held" by the planning board. After the private conference was held, the planning board's attorney Thomas DiBiasi informed the audience that there "was some confusion on the wording of the resolution to deny. The said attorney declared the vote null and void. The action of the Planning Board to convene a private meeting was not for any recognized exception under the Open Public Meetings Law and thus, was illegal" according to the complaint.

The suit also states that the

Perna, Noonan and Drozd win in new era

Voters select all new faces

By Anthony Buccino
Township voters turned out in force Tuesday when 46.15% of the 15,782 registered voters cast 7,284 votes in favor of all new people in the new council form of government which takes effect July 1.

Marina Perna led the at-large candidates with 3069 votes. Dr. Frank Noonan placed second in the at-large race with 2898 votes. Mario Drozd took the third at-large council seat with 2772 votes. These three candidates locked up the three at-large council seats.

Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto came in fourth with 2427 votes. Board of Education trustee Gabe Nazzola was fifth with 2400 votes. Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni was sixth with 2196 votes. Michael Giordano was seventh with 1366 votes. Andrew Bloshak was eighth with 1149 votes.

In the first ward race Jim Messina outpolled Commissioner Angelo Risoli almost 2-1, 1100-583.

In the second ward race Frank A. Caputo captured the seat with 957 votes. Richard Yanuzzi placed second with 872. Jerry Del Guercio was third with 348 votes.

In the third ward, Tom Spillane won with 694 votes. Kevin Kennedy took second place with 533 votes. Cathleen Modesta Noonan took third place with 243 votes. Michael

Board of Ed approves holiday, considers suing for state aid

By Anthony Buccino
Schools

Superintendent Michael D. Nardiello informed the Board of Education Monday night that schools would be closed May 25 according to the contractual agreement with the teachers' union. The decision to close school was agreed to last year when the board approved the 1989-90 school calendar.

According to the approved school calendar, "if by April 30, two or more emergency days remain, schools will be closed on May 25. Remaining emergency days will be taken off the end of the school year." No emergency closing days were used in the school district this year, thus three more than the state required 180 exist in the current calendar. The approved calendar also states that "make up days for emergency school closing will be at the discretion of the board of education."

Nardiello added that school would end June 19, the day of senior graduation and that would be contingent on having faculty agree to show up for the graduation in the event of inclement weather.

Assistant superintendent of schools Michael A. Lally reported that Belleville's 5th grade Academically Talented team competed against North Caldwell in the Academically Speaking tournament sponsored by Essex County Gifted and Talented Educational Steering Committee. Belleville's team won by a score of 580-435. Lally reported, Lally thanked Mrs. Annette Woglom the AT teacher and coach and Camille DeJannet, Belleville's representative to the county program.

The winning team consisted of Henry Aro, John Paul Louis, Michelle Morgan, Louis Pallante, Blaise Pittman and Sean O'Hagen. The group's next competition was scheduled for May 9 in Bloomfield Middle School.

The board approved continued in-service workshops for district teachers who will work with the "Here's Looking At You 2000" drug curriculum. So far, 78 staff members from schools 3,5,10 and the Middle School have participated in the program.

Residents questioned the E.C.I.A. Capital Lease program entered into by the board. The lease, approved February 26, allows the board to provide needed improvements in the district without the $1,000,000 bill being paid in one year. According to the agreement, the district will pay $200,000 towards the lease program over the next five years.

However, the school system will have the benefits of the improvements immediately.

Included in the capital lease program are six 54-passenger school buses at a cost estimated at $210,942; one 14-passenger wheelchair bus at an estimated cost of $26,375; gas burner conversion in 8 buildings at an estimated cost of $227,183; re-roofing of Schools 3,4 and the Middle School at an estimated cost of $185,000; electronic ballast conversion in the High School at a cost of $52,000; window replacement at schools 3,7,8,10 at an estimated cost of $256,000; and various maintenance equipment at about $42,000.

Board Secretary and Business Administrator Edward J. Appleton explained that the high school electronic ballast conversion is being done through a department of energy matching grant. The DOE, he explained will match Belleville's $52,000.

Board critic Dan Ippolito asked, "Are these replacements necessary? Are the roofs leaking? Are they in bad shape? I'd like to see why judgement was passed on the roofs."

"The projects are most certainly necessary," Appleton told him, "that's why they were recommended to the committee and the committee recommended them to the board."

Joseph Celso, president of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, who had also accompanied board members at their rally to Trenton April 25, asked what the results were from the trip.

Nardiello said the board had received several responses from legislators including a 2-page personal note from Senator Carmen Orechio. Nardiello said that the letters followed along partisan lines with democrats backing Gov-

Milano celebrates 100th

A VERY SPECIAL BIRTHDAY - Angelina Milano recently celebrated her 100th birthday April 5 with family and friends gathered to celebrate the occasion. A Belleville resident for 67 years, Ms. Milano came to America in 1911.

The momentous occasion of Angelina Milano's 100th birthday was proudly celebrated by family and friends April 5. Her immediate family consists of 7 children, 12 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Angelina Milano immigrated to the United States from Southern Italy in 1911. She arrived in Newark and settled in Belleville where she has resided for the past 67 years.

Although her achievements are not of a scholarly nature, and they are not represented by any awards or trophies, they are far greater because she has accomplished the most important thing in life, and that is to raise a family based on traditional values through hard work and sacrifice.

Her family is rightfully proud of her quiet accomplishments and showered her with love and respect at her birthday because of her truly unselfish gift of proud heritage she passed on to them.

Narcotics squad follows beeper, arrest four in "reverse sting"

The Belleville Narcotics squad arrested four local men on drug charges Friday night after they paged a fifth man on his electronic pager which was in police possession, following his earlier arrest.

Following a tip, police stopped John Spencer, 25, of Belleville, Friday night at about 7:30 p.m. at the corner of Belleville Ave. and Cortlandt St. Officers found him in possession of marijuana and about $500 in cash.

Spencer was charged with drug possession, possession of drug paraphernalia, and possession with intent to distribute in a school zone. During his processing, Spencer's electronic beeper began to sound. Detective Sgt. Joseph Rotonda said.

The Belleville Narcotics Squad returned six calls that came in to the beeper, and set up "reverse stings" to meet the callers to sell them marijuana at different locations in town, Rotonda said.

Four potential buyers who showed up were arrested by members of the detective and narcotics squads, Rotonda said.

Charged with conspiracy to violate narcotics laws were Joseph Rivera, 20; David Owens, 29; and Michael Davis, 23. A fourth suspect was not identified.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

Jesse Tucker, 54, of Irvington, was charged with D.W.I. May 5 shortly after 5 p.m. Police observed Tucker hunched over his steering wheel in a lane of traffic on Franklin Ave. When asked to step from the car, police noticed a strong odor of alcohol on his breath. He was held on $250 bail.

Police charged Edwin Montalvo, 23, of Belleville, with shoplifting at a Washington Ave. supermarket May 5. Montalvo was observed trying to leave the store with $55 worth of merchandise when he was detained by store security. He was held on $200 bail.

Stephen Schultz, 19, of Belleville was charged with driving with a revoked license May 5 at 2:30 a.m. A citizen reported to police that the front door of a Washington Ave. business was shattered at about 3 a.m. May 4. Police called the owner to the scene, but it appeared that entry had not been gained into the store. The owner reported that nothing had been stolen.

Following a call to police that someone was selling drugs, Belleville officers set up a surveillance in the area of Mill and Union sts. Police observed a suspect walking in the area and when they stopped him, he placed an object, believed to be cocaine, in his mouth. Police then charged Carmine Caruso, 24, with being under the influence of C.D.S. He was held on $1,000 bail.

David Font, 30, of Newark was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance May 3. Officers noticed the suspect swaggering away from an apartment window. When they stopped him, police noticed a strong odor of alcohol. During a pat down search, they found white powder, believed to be cocaine, in his pocket. Font was released on his own recognizance.

A 1984 Chevrolet Caprice reported stolen from a parking lot on Mill St. May 2 was recovered by Orange police later that day. Belleville police recovered a 1987 Chevrolet Monte Carlo stolen from Irvington May 1 in the same parking lot. Police charged Gerard Tasco, 39, of Nutley with lewdness May 2 following a complaint at about 1:45 p.m. from two females who gave police a description of the male and his license plate numbers. Tasco was held on $1,000 bail.

Police were informed that a person was distributing political literature without the correct "paid for by" endorsement. Police notified the person of the discrepancy and advised the prosecutor's office.

A car stereo was stolen from a 1987 Mitsubishi parked on Belmont Ave. May 6.

A damaged steering column was reported in a 1987 Pontiac Firebird parked on Bloomfield Ave. May 6.

The passenger side window was smashed and a car radio and other personal items were reported stolen from a 1984 B.M.W. parked on Cortlandt St. May 6.

The owner of a Chevrolet van parked on Rocco St. reported the right front window was forced open and the following items stolen: a depth finder, a case of garden hoses and an electric sewer snake.

A Main St. church was reported broken into May 6 when the door to the pastor's study was forced open. Nothing was reported stolen.

Belleville police responded to more than 345 calls from April 30 to May 6. Eight auto thefts were reported in the same period of time.

Daudelin named 'Sales Hero' for local volunteer efforts

Belleville resident Leo Daudelin, a 15-year member of the Frito-Lay route sales force, has been named a "Sales Heroes" award recipient for his volunteer efforts in working with the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts of America.

Frito-Lay, the snack foods company, initiated the "Sales Heroes" award program to honor route salespersons for significant community contributions and good deeds.

Daudelin's interest with scouting developed from his wife's involvement as a Girl Scout leader. He now serves as an assistant advisor to Troop 364 for handicapped boys and as an advisor to Boy Scout Troop 305 which he helped organize about 15 years ago.

"It's all my wife's fault," Daudelin said. "She asked me to help out with her Girl Scout meetings and before I knew it, I was a leader, too."

For awhile, Daudelin served as a Senior Girl Scout leader and scoutmaster of Girl Scout Troop 305 at the same time. "And I wasn't even a Boy Scout when I was young," he said.

Daudelin now assists Troop 305's current scoutmaster, Louis Heibert, with his first Eagle Scout. "That's really neat," Daudelin in said, "to watch a young man who learned scouting from you teach others."

For Daudelin, his involvement and love for scouting starts and ends with the kids. "I do it for them," he said.

Daudelin's duties with Troop 364 for handicapped boys includes working with them on a weekly basis. He even takes part of his summer vacation to serve as a camp counselor.

"I think there should be more people involved with handicapped kids," he said. "It's difficult. It's frustrating sometimes, but the rewards are so great."

He told a story about Joey who went on a trip last year to the Rockin' Horse Ranch. "Joey had never been out of his wheelchair, and we got him on a horse. Believe me, that was the highlight of the trip for everybody," Daudelin said.

"These kids have fears just like other kids, and we show them they can do a lot more than they think they can."

Daudelin has been a route salesperson for Frito-Lay for 15 years. His love for sales began with his father who worked for a home-delivery bakery business for 42 years. "I used to go out with him, and now I have routes of my own," he said.

A resident of Belleville for 24 years, Daudelin and his wife Gloria-Ilean have two children — a son now serving in the U.S. Marine Corps and a daughter in her third year at Montclair State College in New Jersey.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Changing times might best describe the prevailing times besetting the trends of government on all levels throughout the United States ... Tax-like fever hits all over ... The courts have stepped into heated local battles to resolve matters which best government bodies on all levels.

While Washington dithers over capital-gain taxes, the real tax action is under way in state capitals, city and town halls. Revenue shortfalls amid sagging economies, combined with unrelenting demands to boost spending for big-ticket items like schools, police, prisons, health and welfare are certain to raise levies of all kinds.

Governors in 21 states, including New Jersey, have proposed an unusually broad cornucopia of new taxes that would generate nearly $5 billion annually, says Harold Hovey of Virginia-based State Policy Research, Inc., and legislators in more than half the states may end up raising taxes in some form this year. Taxpayer complaints, especially in some suburbs, will likely force compromises that will lower the final tab, but millions are sure to receive higher tax bills.

Belleville and Nutley apparently will be among them.

The latest source of pressure is the courts. A few weeks ago, the U.S. Supreme Court set the stage for Kansas City school officials to raise property taxes above state limits to pay for a desegregation plan. The unexpected $4.5 ruling from a conservative Court came on the heels of state-court decisions demanding overhauls of school finances in three states and pointing the way to more tax increases.

In the words of Prof. Geoffrey Miller of the University of Chicago Law School: "We're seeing the use of the judicial branch to achieve political results."

Texas is now struggling with a brand of judicial-inspired taxation. Last fall, the state Supreme Court gave the state until May 1 to fix "glaring disparities" in budgets of rich and poor school districts. Last week, the state's House of Representatives voted to increase sales taxes to bring in an extra $440 million, a sum critics complain is inadequate. Outgoing Governor Bill Clements has vowed to veto any tax increases, but he may be forced to sign a higher levy or face a statewide shutdown. Kentucky recently hiked its sales tax 1 percent, mostly to finance a court ruling last year ordering classroom equity. Oklahoma legislators last week enacted a $212 million package of sales, personal and corporate tax increases to raise teacher salaries.

In the Kansas City case, the Justices allowed a federal court to require the school board to raise taxes to improve schools. The decision gives powerful new leverage to civil-rights interests. For instance, it is certain to be cited by prisoners who have been successfully pressing dozens of suits demanding improved conditions but who often have found lawmakers unwilling to pay for changes.

Another lawyers' target is California's famed Proposition 13, the 1978 referendum that sharply limited state taxes. Critics have filed suit against the measure, arguing that it creates inequities by basing taxes on the date property was purchased. If the law is voided, Californians could be in for yet another big and unwanted tax increase, complaints of the courts.

New Jersey residents are, even now, in the throes of this vexing problem which is being viewed by the state's highest Court concerning the equity of public school funding.

Newly inducted Governor Jim Florio anticipating the need for increased tax income to retain a mandated balanced budget and a court ordered increase in aid for education, especially in the cities, has already outlined substantial increases in taxation and elimination of several rebates and tax deduction which will raise both local property taxes and state taxes (income and sales).

There are too many inequities being imposed upon low income people which should be compensated for by the wealthy who could better carry the load.

Spencer Savings ready for 90's

Spencer Savings Bank, S.L.A. has entered its third half century of service "more solid than ever" according to Charles R. Dues, president of the $800 million plus financial institution.

"Our net worth ranks as one of the highest in New Jersey and in recent years we have received national acclaim as one of America's top 32 federally insured savings institutions," Dues said. "In fact, there is probably no safer or more solid place for people to put their money these days," he added.

Having celebrated a successful 50th Anniversary last year, Spencer reported another 12-month period of healthy growth and progress at year-end 1989 and continues to attract sizeable deposits from its growing customer base as a result of a proven track record of strength and stability guided by sound and prudent management policies. In addition, all accounts are FDIC-insured to $100,000.

"We at Spencer Savings Bank are well positioned to meet the challenges of the 90's and pledge a constant effort to provide excellent banking products, while unconditionally protecting the best interests of our depositors through the guaranteed safety and security for the funds entrusted to our care," Dues said.

Wards: Messina, Caputo, Spillane, Cook

McGreedy placed fourth with 156 votes.

In the fourth ward Bill Cook outpolled Victor Canning 972-755. "I'm sure the people made the right choice," Perna, the top vote-getter said Tuesday night. "I don't feel a personal victory, it's a victory for the township. They elected seven people that can work together, who could work towards a goal to perpetuate change and bring back pride and common sense to Belleville. Belleville needs to regain its reputation as a municipality. Tomorrow marks a new beginning."

Dr. Noonan, who polled second in the at-large race said, "We've got a good, solid team of educated, reasonable people that can work together as a group. We have a real chance for improvement in Belleville."

Noonan said his first priority is to get together and pick a manager. "Once the manager is picked, we'll have the entire council discuss each and every board and evaluate them."

The doctor cited bringing his 35 years in business and the success he has had investing on his own to the township council.

Mario Drozd, the third highest at-large vote-getter, said, "The first thing tomorrow, we've got to start towards finding a professional town manager by July 1."

Drozd said he has already been in contact with the League of Municipalities and the International City Managers Association for guidelines and criteria in hiring a township manager.

"I'm happy," said first ward councilman Jim Messina. He said the election "symbolizes something successful. What happened a year ago, the people wanted a change. This is a requirement for the past administration."

"I'm proud to be a citizen of the town of Belleville," said second ward councilman Frank Caputo. "I look forward to serving the townspeople and bringing back pride and dignity deserving of the town. I look forward to serving with unity."

Caputo said his first goals will be working towards a revitalized Washington Ave. and addressing senior citizen housing. "Today the voters have spoken. I look forward to the chance for a healthier township."

"It feels good to win," said third ward councilman Tom Spillane. "Now, I've got to get busy filling the promises I made. We're going to try everything we could to make the people of Belleville proud to live in Belleville. I expect to start tomorrow morning."

"Of course, I'm very happy," said fourth ward councilman Bill Cook. "I want to compliment my opponent Victor Canning for a positive campaign. Our campaigns being positive is a step forward for the town." Cook said the first job of the council will be to find and hire a township manager.

Cathleen Modesta Noonan, who placed third in the third ward race said, "I'm actually very happy for the victory. I'm very happy that Tom Spillane got it."

The council-manager form of municipal government was instituted last year by voter referendum. The new form of government operates under the Faulkner Act. The township manager administers the day-to-day activities of the township, members of the council have no authority to direct township employees. All policy making power is concentrated in the council. The mayor is a member of the council and simply presides over its meetings with no separate policy making power. The manager is appointed by the council and is fully accountable to it.

Under the expiring form of commission government, which was regulated by the Walsh Act, each of the five commissioners was responsible for one of five municipal departments.

approved by the majority of the Planning Board."

He admitted in the court papers that the second vote "was taken so quickly that I was unable to voice objection in accordance with my constitutional rights. I was so confused by this vote that I was uncertain as to what the Planning Board was voting on."

The application for the Walgreen's sign was noted at PB-47 Washington Avenue Associates-Walgreens, and was adjourned from the January planning board meeting to their February 8 meeting. It was the third case heard Feb. 8 following a Belmont Ave. subdivision approved with restrictions and an application from One error James Florio and republicans agreeing the state aid should be restored.

"I don't believe that any one legislator on the appropriations committee sat to hear us during our presentation for more than ten minutes," Nardiello added. They seemed to be going behind a curtain, Nardiello said, and return chewing a sandwich, this during the board's presentation to the committee. "I don't even know if they listened to us."

D'Agostino said the board is considering options. He said he had read of other towns in New Jersey taking Governor Florio to court for discriminatory tactics in the state aid funding formula. D'Agostino said the board would never consider hiring an outside attorney, and the lawsuit against the governor, if instituted, would not cost the district "one penny more" even though the board attorney would incur much more hours.

D'Agostino also went on the record to dispel a comment he heard at last week's council forum. D'Agostino said the board has saved much money on its attorney fees by placing the attorney on a retainer, and only having him present at special board meetings where his presence could be required. The board's total compensation to its attorney has been less than $45,000 for the current school year.

Board of Education President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino asked for traffic studies at three elementary schools. He said his request for the studies at schools 3, 7, and 10 were being done as a "preventative tactic." The board had received several complaints about traffic at the schools during drop off and pick-up time morning, noon and afternoon.

Nardiello agreed to speak with School Crossing Guard coordinator Belleville Police Officer Greg MacDonald and ask for a study. Nardiello said the board office received a lot of fallout when tickets were issued in the elementary school areas recently.

"We're dealing with a serious situation," D'Agostino said. The board scheduled their next meeting May 15 at School 7 at 8 p.m. due to a conflict in scheduling at the high school.

OUR OPINION

Government earns nothing

Read carefully the following editorial comment from our brethren on the Journal of Commerce.

"Ethanol producers...won a small incentive to develop a new crop-based gasoline additive. The cost to the Treasury: $170 million over five years. Small business owners were awarded a new way to avoid estate taxes, at a five-year cost of $878 million. Oil companies were promised better tax treatment for developing 'tight sands' formations, saving them $685 million by 1994. Even formal-wear stores got a break. The Finance Committee determined that tuxedos for rental should be depreciated over two years rather than five. That's another (sic) million a year out of the government's coffers."

The basic error, the inconsistency in this attack on several tax reductions, is in the Journal editor's opinion that tax money somehow or another belongs to government as fact, and not to the people. Individuals, families and businesses pay taxes on earnings, while the government itself earns nothing. Government lives on its imposition of taxes, fees and tolls.

Therefore, as in the case of capital gains taxes, when the percentage of the federal tax is decreased, government is giving away nothing; rather, it is the people retaining a portion of that which Uncle Sam wants to spend on one program or another. Income tax credits, deductions and tax shelters — whatever form they may be for individuals, families or for businesses — should hardly be thought of as if the "government" is supplying manna from heaven. On the contrary, government takes. Tax credits, deductions and tax shelters are devices individuals, families and businesses use to avoid the greedy hands of government.

So rather than becoming angry because petroleum companies produce oil in America from most different sources ("tight sands") or because a formal dress shop can now replace its rented tuxedos more rapidly, we should rejoice that at least a few other Americans have obtained small tax deductions. Of course the liberals never point out how much in total taxes oil companies and formal-wear businesses pay the government, after the deductions.

Ah, after the deductions, there's the rub!

Will Florio do as Kean did with taxes?

Tom Kean did it! The former Republican governor created the state budget crisis. Kean in eight years doubled the state budget, from $6 billion to $12 billion. It was Tom Kean, after all, who increased the sales tax to six percent, and let us not forget to mention the other increases in taxes, tolls and fees advocated by the Kean Administration.

Unfortunately, some Republicans went along with Kean's spending and taxing mania. So did most Democrats, it should be noted. As a matter of record, some Democrats wanted to spend even more money and raise taxes even higher than Kean got away with. Neither Republicans nor Democrats monitored state spending. They did not provide the fiscal network for ongoing economic push. They did not encourage new avenues of investments.

Democratic and Republican legislators are, after blaming one another, still faced with a decision: Should spending be cut or should taxes be increased? That is the question; that is the rub.

So far, Governor Jim Florio wants to do a little of both: reduce some state programs, lay off a few hundred state employees, tighten up a nickel there and a penny here. He also wants to hike taxes and fees, enough probably to retard even more the investment rate in the private sector in the state.

The answer to this crisis is simple, but too simple for most politicians to heed: too much state spending. The Florio Administration should phase out each spending program initiated by Tom Kean, and let the special interests shout all they please. If the special interests persist in their unhappiness with the reduced state handouts, they may parade up to Madison at Drew University to visit the former governor and cry into him.

Governor Florio has a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to separate himself from the big-spending, high-taxing wing of his party, to assume the high ground against his Republican critics, and to join with other Democrats around the state trying to escape the left-liberal wing of the party.

For goodness sake, if Tom Kean could in eight years spend with the same abandonment of fiscal responsibility as the most radical in the Democratic Party, Jim Florio could in eight years economize with the same dedication to fiscal responsibility as the most conservative in the Republican Party!

YOUR OPINION

Wake up Belleville!

To the editor:

Wake up Belleville citizens! Forget about the trees and the bickering between town officials. Crime in Belleville is rampant. Something must be done about it immediately. Cars in Belleville are stolen daily. In the month of April there were 60 cars stolen, not to mention auto break-ins, vandalism, and all the other crimes occurring.

We have lived in Belleville three months. So far, our garage was broken into when the windows were smashed and our property inside it destroyed. Then to make matters worse, our 1988 automobile was stolen from in front of our house last week. It was found the next day in Newark stripped of everything. The statistics in the newspaper never tell what shape the cars are in when they are finally recovered. The condition of our car made us sick.

We never realized Belleville was such a victimized town. I grew up in this town and for awhile lived in another town nearby. When it came time to buy our house, we decided to move back to Belleville. Little did we realize how much things have changed. We must all work together with the police to put an end to the most serious problem Belleville has, the crimes committed here.

Shirley Reid

Thanks squad

To the editor:

I just want everyone to know what a fine Emergency Squad 911 we have in Belleville.

Saturday night I was caring for our 7-month-old granddaughter, when I dropped her. Not knowing how badly she might be hurt, my husband called the baby's parents in Nutley and I called 911.

Whoever answered the phone was so nice and patient and said the ambulance was on the way. By the time I got downstairs to the door with the baby, the ambulance was here. The two young men were kind and thoughtful, patient (though making every second count), efficient and calming. They took us to Clara Mass and on their way out met the baby's parents and their other two little children on their way in and assured them all was going well.

Thanks to God and His helpers at 911 I am able to say baby Stella is fine.

Drug education

To the editor:

As the Substance Awareness Coordinator for the Belleville Public School District and a member of the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education, I would like to thank all of the Parent Teacher Associations and Home and School Associations in Belleville. Each organization has announced a commitment to donate $1,000 towards the "Here's Looking At You...2000" Drug and Alcohol Education Curriculum for all Belleville Public School students.

Research indicates that drug and alcohol use among children is 10 times more prevalent than adults suspect. Our nation has a substance abuse dilemma. In order to combat this problem, there must be a bonding of home, school, and community. Thank you once again for supporting the educational component of this bonding, which will have a long term effect on our students.

Deborah Meola, SAC

Earth Day activities

To the editor:

For the past several weeks, the Belleville Health Department has been cooperating with the Belleville public schools in a joint effort to celebrate Earth Day. Flower seeds, donated by the Health Department, have been distributed to all the elementary schools so that children may plant them in their classrooms; students of the fifth grades, middle, and high schools are participating in a poster contest and students of the middle and high schools in an essay contest.

A committee made up of five members of the Health Department will judge the contest entries and winners will be awarded prizes. First prize a $50 Bond will go to the poster winner in each of the elementary schools, and to poster and essay contest winners in the middle and high schools. Second prize, a camera, will go to the poster contest runner-up in each elementary school.

I want to thank the donors of the awards, The Kiwanis Club of Belleville for providing eleven $50 Bonds to 1st prize winners, and Joseph T. Fornaro, Commissioner of Public Affairs, who donated the seven cameras to second prize winners. We are all very grateful for their generosity and for the interest they have demonstrated in the welfare of our town.

I also extend my thanks to Mr. Michael Nardiello, Superintendent of Schools, as well as to the staff of the participating schools. Their willing cooperation has made our task a very pleasant one indeed. In addition, I am grateful to the Health Department Committee which has helped to plan the activities of Earth Day, and serve as judges of the contest entries. They have performed a valuable service. A special thank you to Mrs. Mary Springer, Health Educator, whose devoted service, time and effort brought the Earth Day celebration together.

Thomas J. Longo
Health Officer

Bill of goods

To the editor:

Poor Belleville. This council-manager form of government leaves much to be desired. After receiving my sample ballot I found out I can't vote for someone outside my district. Sounds un-American to me.

Then I found that 2 of our officials in Belleville receive about $70,000 per year. What kind of salary is the new manager going to get? Based on the other side, the new manager should get about $90,000 per year. After all, he is their boss.

I think, and other people in Belleville do, that the committee who changed the form of government in Belleville sold the people in town a bill of goods.

It's not the form of government you get, it's the people you elect to run the town.

George Mitchell

BOE nonsense

To the editor:

Our nonsense board of education does it again, budget defeated. It is high time that the members of this board sit down and come up with a sensible budget that fits the needs of the children and deals fairly with the taxpayers of this township who have to pay the education bills through their taxes.

This board gave no consideration to the economy of the state when they adopted a budget that would saddle the taxpayers with a tremendous increase. They were so eager to pass a resolution that School 9 should remain open because their thinking was that they would gain voters to help them with their ridiculous budget.

And it was the voters at School 9 who gave the board the boot by rejecting the budget in no uncertain terms.

One of the big items is the fact that the enrollment of children in this township has been going down every year. But you never hear any word from these board members that this situation demands research, study, review and economy meaning a reduction in the budget. At their board meetings, there is an occasional reduction in the teaching staff. And the attempt is made to show that the budget is being reduced but no real reduction ever takes place because the budget is increased in other ways and the lowly taxpayer takes it on the chin year after year.

It is high time that this board takes the proper steps to prepare a budget that deals with reality. Forget about laying off that occasional teacher or custodian. Let's have an intensive review of each and every department and then evaluate what the needs are in accordance with the reduced enrollment.

They can start by assigning one principal to cover two elementary schools. If a department needs less teachers, what about reassigning the department head. Do we really need two vice principals at the high school?

These are just starter suggestions because I am positive that a realistic evaluation will come up with sizeable economies. Of course this type of evaluation will not make any friends for any board member that decides to propose that this evaluation should be done properly but it does take courage to see that the taxpayers of Belleville are receiving proper treatment for their education tax dollars.

Question: Would a board member treat his own business in the same manner that he spends taxpayer dollars? I doubt it.

George Turturiello

Thanks to coach

To the editor:

On behalf of the Belleville Soccer Association, our coaches and many talented players, I would like to publicly thank Mr. "Gino" De Pinto (head soccer coach) Belleville High School for his continuing support and cooperation over the past two years. He has shown a genuine interest in our club's growth and development.

We have approximately 150 players ages 6-17 playing in our club. Mr. De Pinto has taken the time to cover and watch many of our teams play on weekends, at times he has even been called on to referee a game when a ref would not show up on time. He has also attended team practices and offered his knowledge of the game.

During the summer months we offer a free clinic to new players and Gino is always there to talk to these future players. Our club holds general membership meetings once a month, we can always count on Gino being there. With people like Mr. De Pinto and the dedicated coaches in our club, soccer is "alive and well" in Belleville.

Jim Imperatrice, President
Belleville Soccer Association

Backs Balaban

To the editor:

I am writing to address the issue I have been reading about for the past few weeks in both Belleville papers regarding the cutting of trees to pave streets and sidewalks in town. I fully support those who are behind the effort to save their trees and there should be more people like them.

I am absolutely shocked at the total lack of awareness the town seems to have concerning environmental issues. To think that there would be people who would want an entire street of trees taken down for an even sidewalk is beyond comprehension. There are methods of dissolving tree roots from sewers. Sidewalks can be built around trees. There is evidence of that in every neighboring town. Don't these people realize that by destroying the trees, they are contributing to the pollution of the air they breathe? Can sidewalks provide oxygen or absorb carbon dioxide?

It's very surprising to me that residents on Overlook Avenue appeared the least bit upset about losing their trees. It tells me that people who care about trees and environmental concerns are few and far between in Belleville. I feel it is a good sign that there are people in this town who are willing to stand up and fight for the environment. I don't think the commissioners in this town think very progressively or have their priorities straight.

There is a movement in this country and in every nation on the globe toward more careful consideration of our environment. We don't need nicer looking concrete. We do need trees. My hat is off to those behind this effort. Lots of luck to Ms. Balaban and everyone behind her. It's a noble fight. It's just too bad that those of us who do care are in the minority. If people really understood the repercussions of this destruction, they would never have done what they did already. Do we really want our grandchildren and great grandchildren to be walking around with oxygen masks on? They'll have beautiful sidewalks though and unfortunately that seems to be what matters to most people.

Partial Care program available now

A colorful wall mural directs people down the stairs to the Drop-In Center, a part of the Partial Care Program, at Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley.

Once inside the door, participants are greeted by a receptionist from the Partial Care Program and join in socialization and recreational activities in the two days the Center is open from 9-11:45. The coordinator of the Drop-In Center, Doris Boyd, reports current attendance of 12, a small number by some figures, represents more than a 200% increase since the Center first opened 1-12 years ago.

Participants, who are 18 and over and have a history of mental illness, can choose among pool, ping-pong, listening to music, playing table games and visiting with each other. Becoming a part of the group helps reduce feelings of isolation, give them more self-confidence and enables them to support each other in listening and in sharing their experiences. A Partial Care staff member is available throughout the program time to attend to individual's needs.

Doris, a mental health worker with the Partial Care Program for 7 1/2 years, says the Drop-In Center helps those adults who are unable to take part in the more structured Partial Care program. For many who have difficulty attending a prescribed program each day, the Center offers a more flexible schedule and program with less stringent attendance guidelines. Participants who have missed a few sessions at the Drop-In Center receive a phone call and a letter encouraging their return to the Center.

The Partial Care Program serves Area 1 and Area 3, which includes Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley.

The Community Mental Health Services is a United Way agency. To learn more about the Drop-In Center contact Tony Lucibello at 450-3100.

The Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley has provided this article to highlight the fact that May is Mental Health Month.

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) has announced that the Township of Belleville has been awarded a grant by the State of New Jersey Department of Community Affairs for a neighborhood preservation project.

Crecco explained that the township was awarded $350,000 for a neighborhood preservation/balanced housing project. "This money is for the acquisition and rehabilitation of twenty units located in the Valley section of Belleville," said Crecco.

Crecco explained that the project is known as "The Belleville/Valley Neighborhood Rehabilitation Grant." "I'm pleased that the citizens of Belleville will be able to benefit from this program. This is a very worthwhile project," she continued.

Crecco is serving her third term in the General Assembly, representing Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Nutley, and Verona.

Sandra Zampino and Barbara Fischer, staff of the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room are actively involved in checking out books for children and assisting them during a recent story hour. Visit the James J. Cozzarelli Children's Room this spring and summer and enjoy the pleasure of reading.

Friends request auction gifts

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center are requesting gifts for their Fourth Annual Fun Auction on June 6 at the Main Library from 12-2 p.m. New items, such as jewelry, small appliances, trays, mugs, glassware, cologne, works of art of high quality, and antiques will be accepted. The Friends' Auction Committee, consisting of president, Dorothy Charen, David Bryant, library director, Adrea Cohen, assistant library director, Lillian Wescott, treasurer, Isabel Wittling, president-elect, Eleanor Keleman, first vice-president, and Heidi Wong, active member, are hoping that local merchants will support the auction with donations of gifts and gift certificates.

Please call David Bryant, library director, if you have a major gift to offer at 450-3434, or Adrea Cohen.

Gifts should be brought to the library no later than June 1. Charen, has stated that you should come, even for an hour on your lunch, have some fun, and purchase an interesting gift too. There will be the opportunity to pay as you go, rather than waiting until the end of the auction.

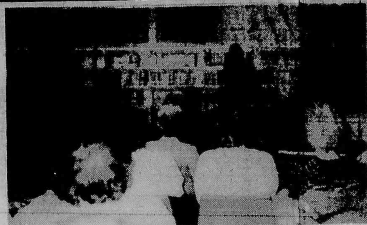

Monies raised by the Friends is used for the purchase of equipment for the library, such as the bookcases in the Main Lobby, and for cultural programs for the community.

Just returned

Have you tried these titles that were just returned by patrons to the Belleville Public Library and Information Center: "Allergies," by Edward Edelson, "The Day Christ Died," by Jim Bishop, "Dr. Atkin's Nutrition Breakthrough," by Robert C. Atkins, "Freeze With Ease," by Marian Fox Burros and Lois Levine, "The Humor of Christ," by Elton Trueblood, "The I Hate to Cook Book," by Peg Bracken, "The Macrobiotic Approach to Cancer," by Michio Kushi, and "The Quick and Easy Vegetarian Cookbook," by Ruth Ann Manners and William Manners. These books are located on the second floor, non-fiction section of the library.

For the business community

Want to improve your business skills? Try the following audiocassettes, available at the library: "The Closing of the American Mind," by Allan Bloom, "Do's and Don'ts of Delegation," by Dr. Gary Fellows, "How To Succeed As An Independent Consultant," by Herman Holtz, and "Managerial Courage," by Harvey A. Hornstein, and "One Minute for Myself," by Spencer Johnson. There are many other titles like these available at your local library.

Professor of English at Trenton State College, Dr. Jane Brown delivered a lecture on and discussed "The Good Earth" to a large audience in the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room, for the Book Discussion Series, "The Pursuit of Happiness: America's Nobels in Literature Weaving a Universal Thread," sponsored by a matching grant from the New Jersey Committee for the Humanities. The next lecture is May 9 at 1 p.m. and others to follow in the fall.

Compact disc collection

The compact disc collection of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center is growing. Among the 105 titles available are "Beethoven Festival," "Carousel," "The Concert Sinatra," "1812 Overture," "Favorite Waltzes," "Gershwin," "Gone With the Wind," "Hooked on Classics," "Horowitz in Moscow," "Mattiata (Pavarotti)," "Mozart Festival," "My Hair Lady," "Night To Remember," "Phantom of the Opera," and "Walt Disney Fantasia."

Request your compact disc at the Circulation Desk of the library.

Fostering a love of reading

According to the book, "Children's Toys and Books," by Doris McNeely Johnson, studies have indicated that children who begin to read as soon as possible maintain significant gains in verbal intelligence throughout the elementary school years. Why not visit the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room and see if your children might be interested in the following new titles that are in the process of being added to the collection: "Al's Blind Date," by Constance Greene, "The Animal Rights Controversy," by Laurence Pringle, "Celine," by Brock Cole, "The Cutups at Camp Custer," by James Marshall, "The Lady Who Put Salt in Her Coffee," by Amy Schwartz, "The New Baby," by Fred Rogers (Mr. Rogers), "Sayonara, Mrs. Kacklemann," by Moira Kahn, and "When A Pet Dies," by Fred Rogers. Try to encourage not force your child to read.

Mary Springer, Belleville Health Educator, Department of Public Affairs, conducted a lecture on Stress Management recently at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center for mothers of preschool children.

Volunteer Mary McGrath is teaching in Paraguay

Mary McGrath of Spring Lake Heights, NJ, will be spending National Volunteer Week in much the same way that she's spent the last year and a half. She will be going to the school in the small town in Paraguay where she teaches children with communication disabilities. Margaret McCoy of Hamburg will be working with the network of savings and loan cooperatives around her village in Costa Rica to improve the quality of housing in the area. Joshua Fries of East Brunswick will be working on his reforestation project in the Philippines.

As the country uses the occasion of National Volunteer Week to recognize the millions of Americans volunteering in thousands of ways every day of the year, the United States Peace Corps will be using the last week of April to remind people of the 6,200 Americans from virtually every community currently serving as volunteers in 68 countries around the world.

Today, there are 32 residents of northern New Jersey spending two years of their lives teaching English in Thailand, working on crop protection projects in Mali, or building schools in Nepal.

During the course of the year, over 3,000 Americans of all ages and backgrounds will expand their skills and education by joining the Peace Corps. For two years, they will share what they know with people in towns and villages throughout Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, Latin America, and the Pacific. The first group of volunteers ever will be going to Central Europe this summer when new programs begin in Hungary and Poland.

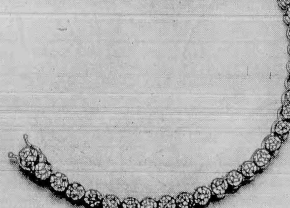

In exchange for their two years' spent helping others develop the skills and abilities to combat hunger, disease and poverty, they will receive valuable work experience as well as an increased maturity in their ability to make decisions, solve problems, and manage resources.

Now more than ever, the Peace Corps is looking for highly qualified applicants to fill its burgeoning international development program.

For more information on this priceless career opportunity, contact the New York Peace Corps Recruitment Office at (212) 264-6981, or write Peace Corps, 90 Church Street, Room 1317, New York, NY, 10007.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

WHAT IS A MOTHER?

Do you know that Webster defines a mother as "a female parent"? This is the understatement of all time, and I would like to tell Mr. Webster why his description should be revised.

A mother is a walking encyclopedia who is expected to know Stan Musial's batting average, how to tie a half hitch, and where somebody left last Sunday's comics. She must answer unhesitatingly such questions as where the sun goes at night, how jet propulsion works, what the principal exports of Thailand are, and where baby kittens come from.

A mother is a master mechanic who can get a trouser leg out of a bicycle chain, and can fix anything with cellophane tape and a hairpin. She is a plumber who knows that the water will not run out of the bathtub because the tissue-paper sails have come off the children's boats and are clogging the drain. She is an electrician who can make the electric train back up without blowing a fuse.

A mother is a practical nurse who knows how to make a splint for a bird's broken wing. She must also be able to remove splinters and loose teeth painlessly, stop an earache in the middle of the night, and cure a case of measles before the fourth-grade picnic.

A mother is a detective who finds the missing mate to every sock. When her scissors and flashlight disappear, she can recover them long before the culprits feel guilty.

A mother is an untiring seamstress who sews on Scout badges, designs tricky patches for jeans, replaces lost buttons, and lets down and takes up dozens of pairs. She must also be able to make such a beautiful halo and hem of wings that the school-play audience will never notice that the angel's two front teeth are missing.

She is a sage who is wise enough to know when her son has reached the stage at which he would rather die than be kissed in public, and when her daughter's best friend has won the admiration of the only boy in the world. Yet she is also an innocent who never ceases to wonder at the miracle of life when the first crocus peeks through the snow and the first blue egg appears in a robin's nest!

A mother is an heiress! Although she may not feel wealthy when she is trying to stretch the family budget to include braces on teeth, she is rich in rewards. She is rich in the pride that engulfs her when her teenager offers to mow the neighbors' lawn while they are away on vacation, or her Little Leaguer insists on pitching with a sprained finger rather than let his teammates down. She is rich in investments: As she watches her small daughter tenderly tucking her doll into bed, she hopes her child will grow up to know the happiness of being a mother. It is then that she knows, Mr. Webster, that a mother deserves the longest definition in the world!

Theresa Smith, 63

Mrs. Theresa Smith, 63, a lifelong resident of Belleville, died May 6 in her home.

A Mass was offered May 9 in the Holy Family Church, Nutley, following the funeral from the LaMonica Memorial Home, Bloomfield.

Smith had been the owner and operator of Towns Best Beauty Salon in Bloomfield for 11 years. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Women's Auxiliary of Lodge 788 of the Elks in Bloomfield.

She is survived by five brothers, Andrew, Benjamin, Anthony, Salvatore and Richard Ippolito, and two sisters, Mrs. Angela Maestos and Clement Ippolito.

R. Dominguez, 70

Services for Reinaldo Dominguez, 70, of Belleville will be held in his native Guayaquil, Ecuador. Arrangements are by the Biondi Funeral Home, Nutley.

Mr. Dominguez, who died May 2 in Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville, had been an airplane mechanic with the government of Ecuador for 20 years before retiring 10 years ago.

He moved to Belleville from Ecuador 10 years ago. He is survived by his wife, Carmen; four daughters, Mrs. Maria Antonieta Castillo, Mrs. Amada Kuman and Mrs. Carmen Lizano; two sons, Luis and Jose; two brothers, a sister, and 11 grandchildren.

Parental leave: An issue for the nineties

As a new mother—or any mother for that matter. If she's like most mothers today, she has a good job in the workforce. Chances are she needs that job to help make family ends meet.

If she is expecting another child, she may need parental leave. New babies need care, feeding, love and attention. The mother also needs a bit of a rest to reinforce her strength and spirit.

But she also needs her job which may be kept open for her for a limited time, but not for the months which she would like to spend nurturing her newborn.

Parental leaves for all mothers are now being scripted as a design for the future. Knowing that her job is waiting for her at the end of three or four months will give the new mother peace of mind.

This amount of time is not unreasonable. Canada assures parental leaves of 41 weeks and Italy goes up to five months. Over 100 countries offer new parents some parental leaves.

The policy of parental leave for Americans is now in the hands of our politicians. The needs of families must be properly addressed because, as a nation, we want to assure ourselves that current and future generations enjoy parental leave.

The concern transcends mothers. It also involves fathers, who more and more, help share the responsibility of raising their young ones off to happy lives.

As Mother's Day draws near, the focus is on mothers and their right to rear their families while being provided with some measure of job protection.

It's already been proven that to have and care for children, women often accept lower wages in exchange for part-time or flexible working hours, jobs close to home or those with limited travel demands.

Having accepted these limitations, mothers, most of whom are between the ages of 25 and 45, have a real need for parental leave. It seems to be the only humane solution.

Less work for mothers

It's happening outside the home in the working place and inside the home. And it's not a bit too soon! With about 70 percent of the mothers of the country with children still in school, running their homes and holding down responsibilities in society, time is at a premium like never before.

Help can't come too soon. For the 50 percent of the modern mothers with children under five, a quick fix must be found. The typical American mother gets up a dawn, rushes up breakfast for her brood, takes them to day care or school and then undertakes her own commute to the office. By the time she gets home at night, it's time to make dinner and if there's any energy left, do a few house chores before the rat race starts over again the next day!

There have been many labor saving appliances developed since the first Mother's Day 80 years ago. But in those less frantic times, only a scant five percent of the mothers were working outside the home! Times and needs have changed.

Over the years we have seen the proliferation of such labor savers such as vacuum machines, electric refrigerators, automatic mixers, blenders, food processors, can openers, frozen foods and microwave ovens. And now come prepared foods that mom just pops into the microwave and presto—there's a hot meal!

Now is the time to expand the options for less work for the working mother! Now is the time for us to prepare the next generation of mothers for their complex roles. A 24-hour day is just not enough anymore unless we look to ways of lightening their burdens with less toil, both in the home and in the work place. We're well on our way.

So, this Mother's Day, don't forget how hard your mother works. She will appreciate that you notice!

There's a card for every mom

There are about 80,000,000 mothers in this land of about 250,000,000 U.S. citizens. We will send out more than 125,000,000 greeting cards to make Mother's Day, May 13, 1990, another "day to remember."

The concept of sending our mothers greetings started with Anna Reeves Jarvis, who urged that children mark Mother's Day with a special note or letter. That was in 1908 when people lived less complex lives and letter writing was not yet an endangered art.

The greeting card has filled the void. Cards of every type and description are now available wherever people shop. There is a large variety to choose from:

Accessories are great gifts

If you don't quite trust your sense of your mother's size or if you're in apparel, then you can take refuge in any of countless accessories that "dress up" or "dress down" her every outfit when looking for a gift this Mother's Day.

A scarf or kerchief of the right proportions, pattern or color can make an outfit look "serious" or "playful."

A handbag can convey a sense of formality, a businesslike purpose or a "devil-may-care mood."

Lightweight gloves can be for dressier occasions or just to cover up rings, bracelets and other jewelry worth protecting from prying eyes and hands.

For the hair, there are flowers, combs, barrettes and ribbons. And they serve the double purpose of fashion and function by stylishly doing the job for which they were designed.

How about a pair of one-size-fits-all house slippers? Not only practical and fashionable, but very, very soothing for the working mom—and what mom doesn't work, whether at home or in the workplace!

All you need is a little imagination and knowledge of your mom and the lifestyle she leads. As for cost, you can fit your idea of a "different gift" into just about any budget or pocketbook.

On Mother's Day, Make Your Feelings Clear.

Better yet, make them crystal clear. Choose a special gift from the Swarovski® Silver Crystal® collection. Like a beautifully crafted butterfly or an open shell with pearl. All cut exclusively from 30% Swarovski full lead crystal. Come in today and select one that says it all.

DINING GUIDE
KHIVA
Mongolian and American cuisine in Montclair

When the Mongols invaded Europe in the 13th Century, the Europeans should have let them stay and open restaurants. Mongolian specialties at the Khiva restaurant and the novel way in which you design your own meal deliver a delightful and savory dining experience.

The restaurant's most striking feature is a five-foot diameter steel grid encircled by a marble serving counter and presided over by an oriental chef. Your Khiva Mongolian barbecue chef cooks there—specialty of the house—is an adventure you create for yourself.

From a lavish refrigerated buffet of fresh diced and shredded vegetables, and thinly sliced chicken and lean beef, diners are invited to fill deep bowls as generously as their appetites desire. We helped ourselves from an array of broccoli, celery, mushrooms, scallions, carrot, bok choy, chinese cabbage, zucchini, bean sprouts, and oriental noodles, to which we added sliced beef and chicken. Barbara ordered the deluxe version which augments the beef and poultry with seafood.

Then, from an assortment of ten savory sauces (teriyaki, soy, a cooking wine, sweet & sour, oyster, Mongolian barbecue, garlic, hot chili, ginger, and the restaurant's own "Khiva" sauce, we ladled our choices over our meat and vegetables. A sign above the sauces suggests which you wish. The chef takes from there, stir-frying your personal barbecue on his giant steel skillet, and it reaches your table steaming, fragrant, garnished with sesame seeds, and accompanied by white rice.

Our appetizer selection from an offering of seven was tempura, which at Khiva is served in morsels more robust than in a Japanese restaurant. A knockout starter that Paul enjoyed was Mongolian Gorgonzola Bread, a sliced garlic loaf served on top of a sauce of Gorgonzola cheese, fresh herbs, white wine, and cream. Both our barbecues included either soup or a fresh salad of crisp greens and rice noodles with a diced chicken and chopped peanut dion vinegar dressing.

And all this was only lunch! At dinner we could have refilled our barbecue bowls as many times as we wished, and could have chosen grilled specialties including boneless breast of Peking duck.

Khiva goes beyond Mongolian cuisine for inspiration. You can enjoy pastas that include tortellino alfredo or marinara, or tuck into a 16-ounce prime cut steak marinated and grilled to your preference. And if the tastes of your teen-agers run to burgers and fries, Khiva's resourceful menu can please them.

KHIVA, 486 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair, 509-0660. Lunch M-F 11:30-2:30; Dinner every evening 5-10 PM; bar menu 11:30-5 a.m. and after 10 PM, private parties to 65 accommodated. Street and municipal garage parking. There's another KHIVA at 11 South St., Morristown, 267-4427, with the same help-yourself fun.

Student at Holy Family School in Nutley held a Science Festival April 26. The festival's theme was "Earth: The Ocean Planet."

For weeks before the festival, students in grades K-8 learned about different aspects of our ocean environment.

Some students studied sea mammals, others studied life in a coral reef or an ocean food chain, and still others learned about different areas of oceanography.

Each grade chose a special ocean topic and, guided by their science teachers, the projects for the science festival developed.

Students made diaramas of seashore life, chose their favorite fish, produced miniature stores selling sea produce, and planned campaigns to save endangered ocean animals.

The Science Festival was a sharing experience so that all students and visitors could learn more about our earth's oceans.

Arbor Day celebrated

The children and staff of School 9 celebrated Arbor Day on April 27 with the planting of a Japanese Cherry Tree donated by the Essex County Parks Department.

Third graders Rebecca Price and Doug Mills read compositions entitled "What Arbor Day Means to Me."

Sixth grader Mindy Schmitt read an essay detailing the history of Arbor Day and its importance to our environment.

Tiffany Parker and Desiree Bernat, also sixth graders, read poems to commemorate the occasion.

Teachers Recognition Day is proclaimed by Mayor

Teacher Recognition Day was May 8 in Belleville according to a proclamation signed by Mayor Michael Pizzi. This proclamation was presented to the mayor for his signature by the Belleville Education Association (BEA).

This day has been set aside to remind everyone that teachers "build bridges of learning" from our generation to the future and challenge our young people to become life-long learners.

The teachers in Belleville schools reach out to every student in excellence of ability, social or economic background, religion or ethnic origin each and every day.

"We have all profited by having good teachers who fostered our interest in learning," said BEA President Martin Lang. "Your teachers are providing instructional opportunities that help prepare your children — the children of Belleville — for the demands of the changing workplace."

The teachers in Belleville are hard at work with children who try, but find reading a tough job, or who struggle with physical limitations. They encourage students whose world seems upside down and enforce tough classroom rules. Teachers are an investment in excellence that pays big dividends for everyone.

Teacher Recognition Day — the day we officially recognize the challenge of being a teacher.

EVERY TREE NEEDS GOOD SOIL TO GROW - Second grader David Browne helps out the tree planting effort commemorating Arbor day at School 10. Principal Nicholas Petty looks on during the ceremony.

Journalism students sell pizzas on May 19

By Danielle Italiano

Belleville High School Journalism students are pounding the pavement in search of customers for their semi-annual Pizza Factory to be held on May 19. This truly excellent product composed of the finest ingredients will be double checked for quality control. The pizzas will be boxed and ready to be baked or frozen for future use.

The goal of 2,000 pizza sales can only be accomplished with your help. The purpose of the fund raiser is to defray publication costs for the school newspaper and the yearbook. The excellent quality and high standards of these publications are made possible by your continued patronage.

To place an order please be receptive to an enthusiastic journalism student who may be ringing your doorbell, or call Mr. Salese, 751-4463 between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Monday through Friday. All pizzas will be personally delivered on Saturday, May 19.

LIBRARY AWARDS PRESENTED AT ST. PETER'S - Archbishop Theodore McCarrick of the Newark Archdiocese presents a certificate to 2nd grader Elke Hupalo at St. Peter's elementary school in Belleville. Twenty-one students at the school received recognition for their literary efforts in the National Library Week contest.

BHS Vocational Council scholarships available

The members of the Belleville High School Vocational Advisory Council are reaching out to the business community and individuals for assistance in helping our graduates achieve their career goals. We are all well aware of the high cost of post high school education and training.

In past years, businesses and individuals have helped to provide scholarships to vocational students who have demonstrated a genuine interest and the potential to successfully complete advanced education and training. In May of each year, a Scholarship/Scholarships Awards Dinner is held at Belleville High School in order to formally present and acknowledge scholarships and other academic awards.

Contributions to the Vocational Scholarship Fund will help a Belleville High School vocational student to achieve his or her career goals. Contributions may be given in the name of your company or individuals. Donations received will be placed in the general Vocational Scholarship Fund and given out in May to deserving students.

Should you wish to establish a separate scholarship or contribution, please contact the Vocational Advisory Council — Scholarships Committee through Victor De Pauw, Related Arts Supervisor, at 450-3464. All checks should be made payable to the Belleville High School Vocational Scholarship Fund. The deadline for all donations is set for May 11, 1990.

The Vocational Scholarship Fund has been in existence for three (3) years. In the past two (2) years, the committee has been very successful in soliciting funds from the business community and individuals alike.

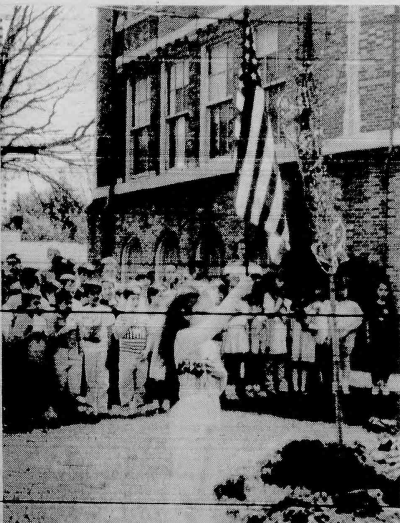

This year, the committee is run by Mario Drozd, Chairperson, and Joanne Sabatino, Co-Chairperson.

The Vocational Scholarship is aimed primarily at vocational education students who plan to continue their education in a vocational field.

Applications for this year's scholarship are available to interested students from Dr. Richard Benninger in the Guidance Office at the high school. All vocational education students who are graduating are encouraged to apply.

Parents are reminded to tell their children that they should apply for all available scholarships. All students should be aware that they can apply for more than one (1) scholarship. The deadline for returning the completed Vocational Scholarship Applications to Dr. Benninger in the Guidance Office is May 11.

Prepared by: Anthony J. Iannini, Publicity Committee Chairman.

LEADING FLAG SALUTE - Jody Eccles, a 2nd grader at School 10, leads the flag salute at Arbor Day celebration.

Wedding vows exchanged in Holy Family by Marianne Scarpelli, John W. Patchett

Marianne Scarpelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scarpelli Jr. of Belleville, became the bride recently of John W. Patchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Patchett of Sarasota, FL.

Deacon Louis Acoella performed the ceremony at Holy Family Church, Nutley. A reception followed at Branch Brook Manor, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white silk gown accented with pearls, sequins and beads. A pearl and sequin headpiece held her veil and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies.

Carol Pelati was maid of honor and Janice Miekowski was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Cheryl Scarpelli, Patricia Conditto, Valerie Zajac, Denise Patrick and Suzanne Giangrosso. Flower girls were Megan and Carolyn Cooney.

They were attired in red taffeta gowns, wore matching pearl trimmed headpieces and carried arm bouquets of red and white flowers.

William Patchett of San Diego, CA was his brother's best man. Ushering were Frank Scarpelli III, brother of the bride, Steven Cornelia, Mark Ventura, John Wilkins, Jeffrey Maher and William Miekowski.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patchett — nee Marianne Scarpelli

Mrs. Scarpelli chose a pale pink gown accented with beading. Her wristlet was of pink tea roses. The groom's mother, in a two piece silver and white gown, wore a wristlet of white and pink tea roses.

Mrs. Patchett, a graduate of Belleville High School and Lyons Institute, is a dental assistant to Dr. Michael Sutton, Bloomfield.

Mr. Patchett, an alumnus of Bergen County Vocational & Technical High School, is with Norman Roth, Moonachie.

The couple honeymooned at Montego Bay, Jamaica, following the Nov. 18 nuptials and have made their home in Belleville.

Iuzzolino-Spagnuolo troth is told; wedding next year

Ms. Sunday Iuzzolino of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Iuzzolino of Florida announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Robert W. Spagnuolo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Spagnuolo, also of Nutley.

The troth was made known Feb. 14. The wedding is planned for Sept. 21, 1991.

Miss Iuzzolino, an alumna of Nutley High School and Artistic Academy of Hair Design, Fairlawn, is with Goy Anthony's Hair Care, Clifton.

Mr. Spagnuolo, also a graduate of Nutley High School, is a carpenter with Local Union 1342, Bloomfield.

BERKELEY AWARD — Kimberly Kalena of Belleville, a student at Belleville High School, was honored recently for achievements in studies by Berkeley College of Business. She is pictured with James McNama, admissions representative with Berkeley's Garret Mountain campus in West Paterson.

Clara Maass needs volunteers to work with elderly patients

If you are between the ages of 14 and 80, willing to volunteer two to three hours one day a week and enjoy people, you can make a difference.

Volunteers are needed at Clara Maass Medical Center to assist elderly patients and nursing home residents at mealtime.

Volunteers are needed for breakfast, lunch and dinner time. They are also needed to help set up the dining room of the nursing home as early as 10:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

People interested in sharing with and caring for this very important senior population can expect to develop warm friendships and experience personal satisfaction from seeing the difference they do make.

If you would like to make the difference in the day of a senior citizen, call the Clara Maass Volunteer Office at 450-2150.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out... STOP! and try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better... and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath and another. Then remember you are the adult.
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10, or better yet, to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age!
5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry. Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
6. Phone a friend.
7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
9. Hug a pillow.
10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2886, Chicago, IL 60690.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

HOARSENESS

- Q: What is hoarseness?
A: Hoarseness is an alteration in the normal production of the voice by the vocal cords.
- Q: What are the causes of hoarseness?
A: Most cases are caused by infection (laryngitis). Some others are related to voice abuse, environmental exposure, or smoking, which can cause vocal cord nodules and polyps.
- Q: Who should have an examination by a throat specialist?
A: Anyone who has hoarseness persisting for two weeks.
- Q: Have there been recent advances in the diagnosis of hoarseness?
A: Yes. With the FLEXIBLE FIBEROPTIC LARYNGOSCOPE, a complete examination of the voice box can be done in the office without discomfort.
- Q: What if I need surgery?
A: Surgery can be done under general anesthesia on an outpatient (same day) basis. All removed tissue is sent for a biopsy study. Modern techniques such as the OPERATING MICROSCOPE and, in indicated cases, LASER, allow accurate and precise surgery. Recovery is rapid with patients able to resume most activities the next day.

BUCC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Crew team wins two titles at Upper Merion

The Belleville crew team began its "second season" on the high seas by performing well at the Upper Merion Regatta last weekend.

Bob Cassin's team captured two championships in the junior four category. The boys and girls junior four shells were victorious against a very strong field.

"All the kids did a good job at the regatta," Cassin said. "We're looking forward to this weekend now. Hopefully, we can continue what we started last weekend."

The "second season" in high school crew refers to usually the last weekend in April and the four weekends that make up May. That's when the regatta season kicks off, with championships races scheduled for each weekend. In late April, the Bucs took part in the City Championships, which is the culmination of the "Flick" races. The Flicks are a series of races, held Sunday's in Philadelphia, which features some of the top crews on the eastern seaboard. Cassin feels the Flicks are invaluable toward his teams success.

"The Flicks really got us into good shape," he said. "Sometimes we don't enjoy all the travel to Philadelphia on Sunday's, but the consistently strong competition is a big plus for us."

After the City Championships, the Bucs take part in the Upper Merion Regatta, then move on to the Mid Hudson Regatta, scheduled for this Saturday morning.

The Mid Hudson is a night owl's delight. Because of the rough waters on the Hudson River as the day progresses, it is necessary to begin the regatta at 7 a.m. Consequently, the team has to leave the boathouse in North Arlington at about 4 a.m. for the two hour plus bus ride. The good part about the race is it usually is over about noon and the team gets home about 2 or 3 p.m.

After the Mid Hudson comes perhaps the most prestigious of all the regattas. The Stotesbury Regatta is slated for the weekend of May 19 in Philly. I'll never forget the years that I covered crew when then head coach Sam Giuffrida raved about the Stotesbury Regatta. He often felt that the Stotes sometimes overshadowed the Nationals. The Hall of Fame 1976 boys senior eight shell won the Stotesbury Regatta.

The crew season concludes on Memorial Day weekend with the Nationals. This year the Nationals will be held in South Jersey, so the travel shouldn't be as demanding on the Bucs as it has been in previous years.

Belleville, of course has had some marvelous memories from the Nationals, especially during the 1980's (remember girls' crew, class of '82, '84 and '85).

Anyway, getting back to the Upper Merion, the girls' junior four shell of Kristine Villano, Danielle Groeling, Justine Ernst, Sharon Trefsgard and Kelly Coscar took home the gold medal.

The boys' junior four "A" team of Lee Hands, Sean Kimball, Jim Mastropolo, Dale Watkowski and Heather Apruzzese took top honors in the final.

The boys' junior four "B" team placed third in the finals. That boat is made up of Kharim Ileviat, Joe Morris, Angel Marin, Jason DeMeo and Sal Minardi.

"I was very happy with the performance of the 'B' boat," Cassin said. "That team has been working real hard all season long. They've taken ten seconds off their time from the start of the season."

The senior four boys team, which is made up of four sophomores and one senior, also did well advancing to the finals. That boat is made up of Anthony Mastropolo, Ramon Hernandez, Mark Geissen, Leon Koski and Tom Pontrella.

"That boat was up against teams with a lot more experience," Cassin said of the senior four. "It should help the kids in the next few seasons."

The senior four girls team also made it to the finals. That boat consists of Jessica Nappi, Susan Auferro, Liz Morris, Joyce Burke and Laura Nordone.

"That team has endured a lot of injuries and illnesses throughout the year," Cassin said of the girls' senior four. "They're just starting to come around after a slow start."

Also doing well were the boys and girls novice eight shells. The boys team advanced to the finals, where it finished fourth. In the qualifying race, the team won an exciting race against Holy Spirit. The girls team placed second in the qualifying race, then finished third in the finals.

Cassin gave a good deal of credit for the teams success to his outstanding coaching staff.

"Dennis (Villano) has done a great job with the girls' varsity teams. Maureen (Russo) and Joe (Pericola) have been working with the novice teams and those teams have had good seasons. It's been a real enjoyable season with the coaches and the kids."

Hopefully, the best is yet to come. Good luck to Cassin and his team as they move on to the Mid Hudson.

PRO SPORTS

I've been a die hard Cardinal fan since 1967 and I've hardly ever questioned Whitey Herzog's trades in the past. However, it's beyond me how he can deal one of the few legitimate power hitters on the team in Tom Brunansky to the Red Sox for Lee Smith, an aging reliever. Herzog insisted that the Cards needed a right handed closer to save ball games. How can a pitcher save games if the team he plays on doesn't score any runs? Without Brunansky in the lineup, the Cardinal attack is paltry. Now, there will be no power hitter to bat behind Pedro Guerrero in the lineup.

Other than the Keith Hernandez deal in 1983, this has to rank at the top of the list of bad Redbird deals. Of course, there were circumstances supposedly surrounding Hernandez' sudden departure. With Brunansky, it was said he probably wouldn't have signed after the season ended.

I hate to say it, but the way the Cards are playing now, (they haven't won a game since Bruno was traded), they could easily finish last in the NL East in 1990. (Don't forget, I said the Cardinals and A's in the '90 World Series).

Does anybody know which teams lead their respective Stanley

Team drops three games last week

Buc baseball team struggling

These are difficult times for the Belleville baseball team. The Bucs are in the midst of an horrendous slump, one that has seen the team drop nine straight games.

Nick Grande's club took a 3-12 record into a game last Monday with Bloomfield. The Bucs played Don Bosco last Tuesday and Hackensack yesterday. This afternoon, the team was scheduled to play Bloomfield should last Monday's game have been cancelled by wet grounds. Game time at Belleville is 4 p.m. Tomorrow, the Bucs are home to Paramus. Next Monday, the team is at Teaneck and next Wednesday, it plays at Paramus Catholic. All games start at 4 p.m.

Last week, Belleville lost to Bloomfield in a preliminary GNT game, 11-7, then were beaten by Nutley 12-2 and Paramus Catholic, 12-1.

"We played a good game against Bloomfield," Grande said. "The kids played hard, but we fell apart in the last inning. I don't know what to say. They're a great bunch of kids who try hard, but we're just making too many errors at critical times."

Such was the case against Bloomfield. The Bucs took an early lead, fell behind, rallied back to tie the game heading into the last inning, then committed three errors that led to five Bengal runs.

The Bucs scored once in the bottom of the first. Carmen Spina lined a triple and scored on a double by Joe Cocuzzo. In the second inning, Rich Ferruggia singled and went to third on a single by Jason Nardachone. Both runners scored on a long hit by Art Caruso.

Trailing 3-0, the Bengals erupted for four runs in the top of the third, then tallied two more in the fourth to take a 6-3 lead. Belleville didn't quit, however, scoring twice in fifth and once in the sixth to even the score at six.

In the fifth, Spina walked and scored on a triple by Andy DuHaim. Ferruggia then grounded out, scoring DuHaim in the process. In the sixth, Nardachone singled. Mike Kimball came in to pinch run and stole second base. Caruso grounded to the shortstop who threw to third in an attempt to force Kimball. The throw was late and the Bucs had runners on first and third. Spina then grounded out, scoring Kimball with the tying run.

Bloomfield broke it open in the seventh with five runs off of starting pitcher Mike Capasso. The Bucs came back with a run in the seventh when Mike Melham singled home Cocuzzo, but the Bengals held on for a four run win.

Capasso hurled the entire game for Belleville. He allowed six earned runs and ten hits. Capasso struck out two, walked five, threw one wild pitch and hit one batter.

Nardachone led the Belleville offense with two hits in two at bats.

The next two games were disasters for the Bucs. Versus Nutley, the Raiders jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the second inning and were never headed.

"As sharp as we were against Bloomfield, we were just as flat in the Nutley game," Grande said. "We just made too many errors and we fell behind early."

Andy DuHaim pitched the first four innings, allowing six earned runs on ten hits. He struck out four and walked two but was hurt by (continued on page 16)

Three more shoutouts for softball team

Not since 1982 has the Belleville softball team gotten off to such an incredible start. Following last Monday's 1-0 victory over Bloomfield, the Lady Bucs had a record of 16-1. The team was riding a 12 game winning streak heading into this weeks action. Also, the girls are in the "Final Four" of the Essex County tournament for the ninth straight season.

Belleville battled Immaculate Heart and Hackensack earlier this week. Tomorrow, the girls are at Paramus in a 4 p.m. game. On Saturday, Belleville takes on either Cedar Grove or Livingston in the semi finals of the ECT. Game time is 5 p.m. from Pulaski Park in Bloomfield. Next Monday, the team is host to Teaneck and next Wednesday, it plays host to Paramus Catholic. Both games at Clearman Field begin at 4 p.m.

Last week, the pitching machine of the Lady Bucs stopped Paramus Catholic 3-0, Nutley 3-1, Montclair 3-0 and Bloomfield 1-0. In the first 17 games of the season, Belleville pitching has allowed eight earned runs and 48 hits. That's an average of less than one run a game and a little under three hits a contest. Also, the staff has hurled 12 shutouts.

Head coach Carl Corino, a veteran who keeps things in perspective, praised his team for its good play.

"The pitching has been outstanding. You can't ask for anything more," he said. "Both Stacey (Johansen) and Trecia (Donnelly) have been throwing the ball very well. Our defense has also done the job. And I've got to credit our hitting. We're not scoring a lot, but we're getting the key hits."

Against Paramus Catholic, Johansen pitched a one hit shutout. The senior struck out ten and walked one. She also had two hits in the game.

Belleville scored twice in the first. Jennifer Bridge walked and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Mia Hanos. Johansen doubled to score Bridge and Laurie Moyer singled to score Johansen.

The 2-0 lead lasted until the top of the seventh, when Belleville scored an insurance run. Carey Woodruff singled and scored on a series of throwing errors.

Also getting hits in the Paramus Catholic game were Colleen Mannion and Melissa Marcantano.

Versus Nutley, the Raiders scored a run, however it was unearned against Donnelly. The senior improved to 6-0 and has yet to allow an earned run this season. Donnelly allowed seven hits, struck out six and walked none in six innings of work. Belleville scored once in the first inning when Bridge walked and moved to third base on a steal and sacrifice. She then scored on a ground out by Johansen.

In the fourth, Belleville increased its lead to 3-0 when Johansen and Mannion hit solo homers. The scored remained at 3 zip until the seventh, when Nutley staged a rally.

The Raiders scored a run and had runners on first and second with no one out. Corino brought Johansen in to relieve and the senior did a good job, retiring the final three batters to record a save.

Last Saturday, Belleville blanked Montclair 3-0 in the quarterfinal round of the ECT. Johansen got the win, pitching a three hitter for her ninth victory of the season. She struck out seven and walked one. It was also the seventh shutout of the year for Johansen.

Linksters now 15-0 following wins over Montclair, Clifton

It's been quite a ride for the Belleville golf team so far in 1990. The Linksters have compiled a 15-0 record and recently placed fifth in the Essex County championships.

Gene D'Allesandro's team will face Kearny this afternoon at Forest Hills Country Club. Next Monday, the team will compete in the regional championships. Next Tuesday, the Bucs face NJJL rival Bloomfield at Forest Hills and next Wednesday, the team faces Don Bosco in a key league match. The match will be contested at Hendricks Field in Belleville.

At the county championships, the Bucs did a good job, taking fifth place overall. Newark Academy won the championship, followed by West Essex and Seton Hall. Millburn placed fourth and Belleville finished just two strokes behind Millburn in fifth.

"The kids did a good job at the counties," D'Allesandro said. "I figured Newark Academy and West Essex would be the teams to beat." The team has done a nice job all season long. We lost four matches last year and we've beaten two of the teams (Caldwell and Bloomfield) who beat us last year this season. I hope we can continue our good play down the stretch."

At the county championships, Sal Taibi led the way with an 82 over the 18 hole course at Greenbrook Country Club in North Caldwell. Mike Escott fired an 89 at the counties.

The teams last eight victories this season have come against Hackensack, Montclair, Bloomfield, Paterson Eastside, Clifton, Glen Ridge, West Orange and Caldwell. The West Orange match was the closest during that stretch, with the Bucs winning by seven strokes (182-189).

Jerry Mahoney led the way in that match with West Orange by firing a 42. Mahoney has lowered his average from 47.3 to 45.5 over nine holes.

P.J. Taibi leads the Bucs this year with a 43.3 average. Sal Taibi is right behind with a 44 average over nine holes. Escott and Vic Talamini are averaging in the high 40's to low 50 range and Anthony Papantonio continues to improve his game, lowering his score to the low 50's.

D'Allesandro said the league championship should come down to matches with Bloomfield, Nutley and Don Bosco.

"We beat Bloomfield in a non conference match a few weeks ago, and we'll be playing them in a league match (next week). The Don Bosco match will be a real tough one. They have an excellent team. We're also expecting a tough match with Nutley. There should be some very exciting matches coming up."

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Cheerleading registration

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that applications for tryouts for the Junior Bucs Cheerleading squads are now available at the Recreation Department office on Jarameno Street. Three squads will be selected according to the girls' grade in school, one each for the Midlet, JV and Varsity traveling football teams.

Cheerleading clinics will begin May 29 with the registration deadline for tryouts being May 25. Birth certificates will be required of all applicants and everyone intending to tryout must register by the May 25 deadline. Girls who will be in grades 3-8 during the 1990-91 school year are eligible, and all returnees must re-apply.

For other information, contact the Recreation office at 450-3422.

Men's softball results

(through April 26): The Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League threw out their respective "first pitches" last week as the 1990 campaign began. First, in the Monday "A" League, Printing Techniques shocked Burles 8-5, Ritacco Bros. dubbed Park Ave. Chiropractic 13-1 and Belleville Construction topped Aardvark Farm 9-4 in eight innings.

In the Tuesday "B" League, Roselli's defeated Palmer Video 6-1, Larry's Park Service won their first game in two years by besting BPSC 20-5, and Wallace & Tiernan rallied to win 10-9 over Five Brothers Carting.

In the Wednesday "A" League, Michael's Roscommon House beat Draperies Plus 6-3, Wiggles edged Rossmore Pharmacy 5-4 and Megaro outlasted the Aces 4-3 in nine innings.

In the Thursday "B" League, Philmore Associates thrashed AB-Tech Printing 18-1, Bellwood Kennels beat Veniero Trucking 20-6 and Assembly Point defeated the Chandelier 5-3.

Umpires needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is in need of adults and boys or girls, age 16 or older, to umpire games in the recreation baseball and softball leagues. Games are played on weekday nights and Saturdays during the months of May-June. For more information or to apply, call the Recreation Department office at 450-3422 or stop at the Rec House on Jarameno Street before 4 p.m. on weekdays.

Twelve earn NJIT degrees

A dozen Belleville residents were among the nearly 600 students who received degrees during the New Jersey Institute of Technology's first winter commencement.

Po-Wen Chuang earned a master thesis in organizational social science. Jiu-Ying Huang, Te-Ming Wang, and Jyh-Ming Wang each earned a master degree in computer and information science. Rajesh N. Patel earned a master of science degree in mechanical engineering. Jiabing Pang earned a master of science degree in electrical engineering. Sangeeta Bhowmick earned a master thesis in transportation.

Lana Marie La and Peter Gerard Ferns each earned a bachelor of science degree in computer and information science. Pingchang Yeh earned a master of science in computer and information science. Shanying Chiou earned a master of science degree in chemical engineering. James Pica earned a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering.

The university bestows certificates and bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees through its four colleges: Newark College of Engineering, School of Architecture, School of Industrial Management and College of Science and Liberal Arts.

Bucs stopped by Nutley

three wild pitches. Jim DuHaime pitched the final 1 2/3 innings for Belleville, allowing five hits and six earned runs.

Belleville scored its only runs in the sixth inning. Ferruggia was hit by a pitch and went to third when Ryan Wells reached safely on an error. Both men scored on a single by Caruso.

In the Paramus Catholic game, Belleville was limited to just one hit and committed nine errors.

"Paramus Catholic has a very good team," Grande said. "But our kids seemed in awe of them early and we played very sloppy baseball early on."

Girls in county semis

"Montclair has a real good ball club," Corino said. "We expected a tough game and it was."

The game was scoreless until the fifth. Woodruff walked to start a Belleville rally. Judy Krych then hit an infield single, putting runners on first and second. Marantano sacrificed the runners to second and third and then Bridge lined a single to score Woodruff with the first run.

In the sixth, the Lady Bucs scored two more. Hanos singled and scored on a triple by Johansen. Mannion then hit a bunt single that scored Johansen with the third run.

Bridge, Hanos and Johansen all had two hits for Belleville. Mannion had one hit and drove in a run.

Last Monday, the girls continued its winning ways by beating Bloomfield 1-0. It was the second time this year that Belleville had beaten the Lady Bengals by a 1-0 count.

Johansen won her tenth game of the season, pitching a three hitter. She struck out four and didn't walk a batter. Belleville threw its only run of the game in the fourth inning.

Johansen reached on an error to start the inning. Once on, her aggressive base running was instrumental in scoring the run. Mannion, on a hit and run play, grounded out. Johansen, who was off with the crack of the bat, attempted to go from first to third base. Bloomfield threw to third in an attempt to get Johansen but the throw was wild and Johansen scored the only run of the game.

Bloomfield threatened in the fifth. Jodi Worrell and Sally Ann LaMorte Belleville's only run scored in the third. Caruso got on by a bunt single. He went to third base on a throwing error and scored when Mike Alfano grounded out.

Nardachone pitched the entire game for Belleville. Because of all the errors, he only gave up four earned runs. He allowed ten hits, struck out three and walked three.

"We took ourselves out of the game early," Grande said. "We left two men on base in the second and a runner on in the third. Maybe if we had gotten a few runs across early, we might have been more competitive. I know our kids can play better than this. Hopefully, we can make some progress this week."

singled, putting runners on first and second. The next Bengal hitter successfully sacrificed, putting the runners in scoring position with two outs. However, Johansen struck out the next Bengal hitter to end the inning.

Bridge, Hanos and Woodruff contributed the only hits for Belleville in the game.

The victory moved Belleville's record to 7-0 in the NNJIL. The Lady Bucs have a two game lead over Immaculate Heart in the league standings.

As for the county semi final, the opponent will either be Livingston or Cedar Grove. Those two teams were scheduled to play earlier this week in the quarterfinals. Verona is in the semi finals this year and it will play either Caldwell or Columbia in the other semi this Saturday at Pulaski Park. That game should begin at about 7 p.m.

Advantage wins at Bloomfield

The Belleville Soccer Association's Division II Advantage Team traveled to Bloomfield this past Sunday to play the Bloomfield Bengals II. Prior to this game, both teams were undefeated and unless they played to a tie, only one team would remain undefeated. It was a beautiful day for a soccer game and tension filled the air. The game started and as indicated by their record, this was going to be a good one.

The first half was full of numerous offensive opportunities for both teams, but it was Advantage's speedster, Stan Saja connecting on a difficult angle shot from 16 yards to give Advantage a 1-0 lead at the half. The 2nd half proved to be even more exciting as Bloomfield's "No. 7" took charge using several screens to free himself from a hawking Brian Travers, but to no avail as the shots were stopped in goal or were wide of the net.

The tension grew as both teams continued their offensive maneuvers but when Stan Saja and Daren Lewis scored in the middle of the second half, the Belleville Squad seemed relieved but didn't hold back on offense on Manny Arrajo, Jim Wandling, Greg Delmonte, Pedrag Pruvlovic, Lew DePasquale and Luis Pereira continued to mount charges against a tough Bloomfield defense. The final score was 3-0, but these two teams were so evenly matched that the outcome could have been different.

The Belleville defensive unit of Frank Crocco, Tony Silva, Chris Rieci and Brian "Shadow" Travers played a tremendous game while goalies Chris Mazurkiewicz had numerous saves to give the Advantage its 6th straight win against no losses including 5 shutouts.

ROUNDING THIRD — Buc's Carmen Spina attempts to score during last week's game at Nutley. Spina was called back on this play because ball was foul. Looking on is head coach Nick Grande.

FIRING HOME — Starting pitcher Andy DuHaime of Belleville throws one in during second inning of last week's game at Nutley.

Sicari goal in second half ties Vernon 2-2 for Bulls

The Bulls of the Belleville Soccer Association rallied in the second half to tie the Vernon at two last Sunday in Division four play.

The Bulls played the first half short one player and fell behind 2-0. However, the team came back in the second half. Victor Mesce passed to Ernie Sicari, who beat the Vernon goalkeeper for the first Belleville score. Later in the second half, Sicari, a left wing, scored his second goal of the game, again on an assist from Mesce.

The second goal was a header by Sicari off a perfect pass from Mesce. Mesce just missed a third Bulls' goal late in regulation time when his shot hit the right goal post and bounded away.

The entire team deserves credit for the tie. Team members are Nick Andreutola, Ryan Brady, German Galindo, Joe Goglia, Robin Guevara, Lee Kenworthy, Mesce, Ricky Racines, Nick Thatcher and Sicari.

Buc Shots

Cup playoff semi? How about those Knicks? Did anyone give them a chance to beat the Celtics? I said last week that Phoenix could be the surprise team in the NBA playoffs this year. Now the Suns get the Lakers in a best of seven series. Could an upset be brewing?

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

Back in 1982, the Atlanta Braves set a major league record for most wins at the start of the season. How many games did the '82 Braves win to set that record. How did the Braves end up in '82? When was the last time the Braves had a winning record? Who was the Braves manager in 1982?

It seems like only Yesterday

By Eric Quinones

25 Years Ago

May 13, 1965... Three new supervisory positions were created by the Belleville Town Council, despite the objections of Councilmen William H. Cullen and James R. Golden.

The positions created were foreman of the streets and sewers and recreation maintenance departments, plus assistant police and fire signal systems for the three-man department.

A proposal for another new position, a supervisor for water meters, recommended by Town Manager John R. Burnett, was defeated.

In addition to the high-salaried new positions, the council voted raises not included in the budget to the municipal magistrate, water foreman, and police force.

Bellboys tame Bengals
The Belleville High School varsity baseball team managed to hold its slim lead in the Big Ten Conference by nipping the Bloomfield Bengals, 1-0, in a 12-inning marathon.

Rich Puciarello went the distance for the Bellboys, letting up only five hits. He upped his record to 3-0 and lowered his ERA to an outstanding 0.46 with the win.

Tony Magistro led off the 12th frame with a bloop single. Rich San Filippo and Len Luongo followed with bunt singles to load the bases. Frank Mineo came to the plate next and drove a 1-2 pitch to left field. Despite a sparkling catch by the Bengal fielder, Magistro was able to score the winning run.

Letters to the Editor

Looking for letters

To the editor:

Can you please let me know why my letters were not printed in your letters to the editor column? I was told you stated they were too far fetched is that what you said? Is the truth far fetched. I believe they should be printed unless you think the truth should not be heard!

You can contact me anytime to let me know why you thought they were far fetched. I would really like to hear from you. She made a wrong, late decision and the people should know!

The truth will come out even if you try and suppress it Mr. Buccino! They were no worse than Ms. Current or Ms. Noonan's articles. I protest you keeping them out!

Vo-Council seeks funds

To the editor:

The members of the Vocational Advisory Council are reaching out to the business community and individuals for assistance in helping our graduating vocational students achieve their career goals. We are all aware of the high cost of post high school education and training. In past years, businesses and individuals have helped to provide scholarships to vocational students who have demonstrated a genuine interest and the potential to successfully complete advanced education and training. In May of each year, a Scholarship/Scholastic Awards Dinner is held at Belleville High School in order to formally present and acknowledge scholarships and other academic awards.

Your contribution to the Vocational Scholarship Fund will help a Belleville High School vocational student to achieve his or her career goals. Contributions may be given in the name of your company or individuals. Donations received will be placed in the general Vocational Scholarship Fund and given out at the end of the year to deserving students. Should you wish to establish a separate Scholarship or contribution, please contact our committee through Mr. Victor De Pauw, Related Arts Supervisor (450-3464). All checks should be made payable to the Belleville High School Vocational Scholarship Fund.

Mario Drozd
Committee Chairperson

No minimum balance CONVENIENCE CHECKING

If you like to handle finances on a "pay as you go" basis, The Provident's Special Checking account is just for you. You need maintain no minimum balance and you can write as many checks as you wish for a low $2 monthly service fee and 30¢ for each check written. Obviously, if you write no checks during the month, the cost for maintaining your account is negligible. A good, basic way to handle your bill-paying.

Now you can choose the checking account that best suits your financial needs.

If you prefer an interest-earning, high yield checking account, The Provident also offers you a choice of checking accounts that will fit your financial style admirably. Your options are shown at the right. Why not have your Provident representative explain how you can best take advantage of these innovative financial services. Stop in or call us toll-free in New Jersey:

1-800-624-2806

Money-making options for you.

Preferred Checking It's free of charge with a $500 minimum balance.

If you normally maintain a balance of $500 or more, then you can have the advantage of a checking account free of monthly service charges. You can write an unlimited number of checks, and there are no charges for deposits or check cashing. A small monthly service fee of $4.00 is applicable only if your daily balance falls below the $500 level.

N.O.W.

Checking An account of great interest to you.

If you maintain a minimum balance of $1,000 in your checking or in a related statement savings account, there is never a fee. If your balance falls below $1,000, you pay a small monthly charge of $5.00 and you still continue to earn 5 1/4% annual interest on the daily balance, compounded daily and paid monthly.

Super N.O.W. Checking For those who want higher yields on checking balance.

Maintain a minimum daily balance of $2,500 in Super N.O.W. checking and earn a "Super" high interest rate. Additionally, if you have a related Money Market Account at The Provident, an extra monthly bonus will be credited to that account at the end of each month if your Super N.O.W. balance is maintained.

Convenient Overdraft Protection

Were you to write a check for more than the balance in your checking account, your overdraft protection will ensure that your check doesn't bounce. To obtain this checking account feature, just apply for an overdraft line of credit from $500 to $7,500. Once approved, you have the ability to write yourself an instant loan at regular personal loan rates. Overdraft protection costs you nothing until you use it.

Williamson to be honored

Pharmacy Footnotes

RATING GENERICIS

In order for a generic drug to gain FDA approval, it must demonstrate "bioequivalence" with its brand-name counterpart. That is, the generic must get into the bloodstream in the same amount, and at the same rate, as the brand-name version. According to the FDA's own test, the average variation in bioequivalency between approved generic and brand-name drugs is 3.5 percent. However, there are some generic drugs on the market which do not pass the FDA bioequivalency test. Such drugs may not be unsafe, but they may have an effect on a patient who switches to one from another version. In light of this fact, consumers should ask the pharmacist for "A-rated" generics, as denoted by the FDA's "Orange Book" listing.

When your doctor gives you a medication, ask if there is a generic equivalent. This is a safe way to save money on prescriptions. We have a complete prescription department at ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1168, 759-1956. Check over our fine selection of greeting cards, cosmetics, cameras and other gift items for Mother's Day. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 10pm Sundays. We hope your Mother's Day is a happy one.

HINT: According to the FDA, the only substantiated problems with generic drugs stem from the substitution of non-equivalent drugs.

Thanks supporters

To the editor:

I would like to thank all the people of Belleville who supported me in the Board of Education election held on April 24. I would also like to thank the people who invited me to their homes, placed signs on their lawns, the workers on committees and at the polls. Your time and effort made my victory possible. I will do my best to live up to your expectations by providing the assistance and cooperation necessary in giving our children the best education possible.

Disputes Barney

To the editor:

In response to a letter from my longtime friend, Bernard "Barney" O'Connor, I commend my friend for his concern for the environment, and what he believes to be a just cause. But his letter to the newspaper on April 26th contains some statements that don't hold water.

First, I doubt if Joyce Kilmer ever heard of Belleville. As a matter of record, the tree called "the Joyce Kilmer tree" that inspired Mr. Kilmer to write the poem "Trees," was located on the New Brunswick campus of Rutgers University, a short distance from U.S. Highway number one. I had the pleasure of sitting under the magnificent branches of that wonderful old oak tree. It was truly majestic to behold, but unfortunately the tree became diseased some time ago and had to be cut down. That's right, cut down. Probably, the best known tree in the entire world, had to be cut down.

In matters such as these, we cannot let our hearts rule when cool heads must prevail. The same holds true for the trees on Wallace St. The problems that they cause, far outweigh the environmental issues at stake here.

I have written a poem to express my feelings in the matter. Tongue in cheek and stealing a few lines from Joyce Kilmer's poem, it begins:

I think that I shall never see
A thing as lovely as a tree
With graceful branches or cool green shade
Surely, one of the nicest things that God has made.
A tree is pleasing to the eye we know,
In summer's heat and winter's snow
But when it's roots creep in my drain,
And cause my budget much disdain,
It's time to call in the town,
And ask to have my tree cut down.

Christopher Veniero

Letters to the Editor

Arrived too late

To the editor:

In your April 19 issue there was an article written on the Board of Education Candidates' Night. In this article there were comments made that require a response so that no false impressions are left to chance.

There was a reference made by Richard Yanuzzi that "a little more respect" should have been shown towards the Consolidated Home and Schools Organization which I take exception to.

First of all Mr. Yanuzzi was evidently not aware that I telephoned Mrs. Perna early in the day and explained that due to a work commitment that required my presence, I would be late in arriving, but every attempt would be made to get there as soon as possible and I did arrive for Candidates Night at 8:45 p.m., only to discover the forum was over prior to my arrival.

Secondly, as an Officer and Branch Manager of my bank there are occasions where my presence is required, however, this requirement is on a Thursday night which is not a scheduled board meeting night. On a normal Thursday evening if there is board business scheduled and my presence is not expressly required at work, I will be available.

Preapproval has already been granted by the senior executives of my bank for flexibility in my work responsibilities to accommodate my obligation to the board of education, however there will be instances where this flexibility will not be possible due to my position in the bank.

It may seem unfair to some that I do have a job that requires commitment on my part, however I have chosen to work for a living rather than be a leech or financial burden to my family.

I hope this satisfactorily explains why I was not present at the start of Candidates' Night and that I did show respect by my telephone call and subsequent arrival.

In closing I want to say this letter is in no way an apology to Mr. Yanuzzi for my actions nor an explanation to him, but rather to let you, the people (who count), know the circumstances. I know you will understand a conflict due to job commitments is not a disrespectful action and is sometimes unavoidable. Perhaps one day Mr. Yanuzzi may find himself in an employment situation where his services will result in a scheduling conflict.

Vincent Marrone

Even more on trees

To the editor:

I feel compelled to respond to a letter printed on the 3rd day of May entitled "More on the Trees." Ms. Balaban made several points I would like to address. Point one and two discuss the amount of time she has lived on Wallace St. and she has no tree on her property. The previous owners of her home took down the tree in front of the house for the same reasons I want mine removed, roots.

Point 3 discussed the "Town Ordinance, Section K. Owner to Pay Costs." It is for this reason precisely that I want the grant funds to remove the tree. I believe I am in the same situation as most residents of this town, I am in no financial position to have this problem eradicated myself. Also, does this town have an ordinance for homeowners paying the costs of fixing dangerous sidewalks? Some residents named as plaintiffs in the recent law suit should look carefully into that.

Point 4 suggested the trees are not diseased. Need I point out what happened on Beech St. as a result of not cutting? I would also like to state, although my forestry background is not as extensive as Ms. Balaban or her expert, I am fighting for the removal of a sycamore tree in front of my home and not a maple as the suit suggests.

Point 5, if Ms. Balaban believes the only thing I feel is worth fighting for is the Amazon rainforest, this is too ridiculous to even discuss. I feel I am in the position as most residents of this town, I am a working wife helping my husband make ends meet. Time does not permit me to join as many crusades as my neighbor but my major concern is my home and the damage that sycamore is doing to it.

Point 6, let's not forget who brought up Ms. Balaban, yes the issue is trees not trucks but your letter was untrue and this needed to be set straight.

Good God, let the men do their job! We have waited for a long time for these improvements. I implore this town not to let the construction stop because of these 5 people. This town must ban together because these 5 people are not going to stop at Wallace St.! You may be next!

Gloria J. Brown

WE WELCOME LETTERS of interest to our local area. They should be short and to the point, they must be signed for attribution and contain the address and telephone number for verification.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
SEALED proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the Township of Belleville, County of Essex, New Jersey, at its Administrative Office Complex, 190 Cortland Street, Belleville, N.J., in accordance with the specifications prepared by the Board Secretary/School Business Administrator, for the INSTALLATION OF GAS BURNERS, in the Belleville Schools, on May 29, 1990, at 1:00 pm prevailing time. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids and/or to accept the bid that in its judgement will be best for the School District of Belleville, and to waive any informalities. If only one bid is received, the Board reserves the right to reject said bid without opening the same. No bid will be accepted unless accompanied by a certified check or bid bond for 100% percent of the bid, drawn to the order of the Belleville Board of Education. The bidders are required to comply with the requirements of P.L. 1975, C. 127, N.J. Law Against Discrimination, and C. 33, Laws of 1977. No bid will be considered, regardless of the postmark unless in the hands of the Secretary/School Business Administrator prior to the time set for the opening of the bids.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,
TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE,
COUNTY OF ESSEX, NEW JERSEY

PERSONAL NOTICES

Prayer to St. Jude
This Novena has never been known to fail. This novena must be said for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised.
O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and call you to be invoked. St.
Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen
Say 3 Our Father, 3 Hail
Marys and 3 Glorias. DRF

Century 21 A CV welcomes John Sass

The management of Century 21 A CV Real Estate recently announced the affiliation of John Sass with the agency. He is a most welcome addition to the staff with superior credentials in residential real estate and management.

John has been a resident of Little Falls for 26 years and resides there with his new bride, Tina. He is a graduate of William Paterson College and has been a fulltime real estate professional for over six years.

As sales manager with his prior affiliation, John's background is extensive and varied. His duties included recruiting, training, sales and management. Sass's accomplishments and designations are many. He holds a New Jersey Broker license and has been a Million Dollar Club member of the NJAR every year since 1986. This recognition is awarded to those in the real estate industry that excel in production each year.

Sass holds several designations bestowed by the Century 21 system which encompass extensive education and production requirements. These include the VIP Sales Associate, VIP Relocation Director, the prestigious Residential Specialist and the recent completion of the management specialist program. Sass is also a graduate of Tom Hopkins and Floyd Wickman's Sweatshops Program.

Century 21 A CV is honored and proud to have John Sass as staff member. He will continue to provide the most professional of services to both past and new clients.

John can be reached at the Century 21 A CV office at 1170 Broad St., Clifton until June 1, 1990, after which the agency will be located in spacious new quarters at 931 Clifton Ave., Clifton. The office phone number is 365-2122.

Essay contest winners announced

High School juniors or seniors Diane Di Vincenzo, Paul Parmenter, and Jodi Prosperi wrote the winning essays in a contest co-sponsored by the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors and Orechio Publications, board community service chairperson Nina Kaeser, announced today.

This year's topic was "What Your Home Means To You."

Diane Di Vincenzo, a student at Belleville High School, won first place. Her prize will be a $250 savings bond.

Paul Parmenter, a Belleville High School student won second place. His prize will be a $100 savings bond.

Jodi Prosperi, also a Belleville High School student, won third place. Her prize will be a $75 savings bond.

All savings bonds were donated by Orechio Publications & TV, Nutley.

"The first place winner, Diane Di Vincenzo will represent the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors in a statewide contest sponsored by the New Jersey Association of Realtors," Nina Kaeser added.

The Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors is one of more than 1,860 boards in 50 states that comprise the National Association of Realtors. This Professional Trade Association represents nearly 800,000 members involved in every phase of the real estate industry.

Did You Know???

If roof shingles start to curl, that's a signal for repairs. You can get an idea of the severity of the problem from the ground by using binoculars to get a closer up view of the shingles. Only the most minor roof jobs are do-it-yourself projects, and then only if you're skilled in working in high places.

Garden accessories add a special touch to indoor rooms. Top a birdbath with a circle of sturdy glass, and you've got a distinctive table for lunch, for parties, or just for an accent.

Hot-melt glue guns make a lot of home-repair jobs easier. The glue only works while it's still liquid, so you must work fast. Have all parts ready before gluing, so no time is wasted.

First step toward buying a first home is getting the financial house in order. Lenders will pay close attention to your debt load, often requiring the total payments each month, including the house, are less than 36 percent of income.

First step toward buying a home is an interview with the helpful real estate pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
