New council set for change, meets to outline goals, paths

By Anthony Buccino

The township government won't come to a grinding halt at noon on July 1 when the new township council is sworn into office, but it will certainly be changing from then on.

The council-elect has formed two committees who will look at a transition between the present commission form and the incoming council, according to spokesman second ward councilman Frank Caputo. One committee is dealing strictly with the transition, and the other committee is working on formulating the administrative code the council will introduce.

The administrative code establishes the procedures and parameters of the government.

The purpose of the committees working now, as they have been since the election, is to "be able to review and fine tune the elements of government the township will need to be effective," Caputo said.

"The major issue is putting the government together," Caputo said. "If there is something good, we will strengthen it, if there is something weak, we will try to improve it. We will continue to make it better."

Caputo said that the council agreed to have one person speak for the group until they take office, however, that in no way limits the ability of any council member to speak on their own behalf. He said the council has been meeting regularly to enlighten itself on the activities and structures of the township.

"There are a lot of things to be done," Caputo said. "The group is very well unified, and they have been able to gain insight from each other and tap each other's resources. The council's goal is to plan ahead very carefully."

"The changes are not going to happen overnight, he said. "First, we must lay down a solid foundation of government, one that will hold the structure of Belleville and will hold anything place on top of it for years and years to come."

One of the first steps is developing the criteria for selecting the new township manager. "The selection of that key person, the manager, who will have the input to operate the township in an effective and efficient manner, is receiving a lot of the council's attention. The selection process is being aided by professional associations to help establish the criteria."

For now, the council is learning about each other, seeing where each other's strengths lie, and from there, they will "plan ahead very carefully."

Auto thefts ahead for year, jails are far too crowded

By Joe Sklar

These are not the times when a person could be hanged for stealing a horse.

These days car thieves have it pretty easy. They rarely spend time in jail because the jails are so jam-packed with criminals guilty of 'violent' crimes.

"The fact that car theft is considered a non-violent crime and that prisoners are filled to the brim with perpetrators of violent crimes like homicide, armed robbery, and aggravated assault, allows convicted car thieves to get off scot free. This can be frustrating for police as well as car owners."

"We don't appreciate it when the courts let them (car thieves) go with a slap on the wrist," Belleville Det. Joseph Tortorello said.

The only ways these thieves can get caught is if they're stopped by the police while driving the stolen car. Then there is the danger (especially in the case of juveniles) that they will crash the car if pursued and either they or innocent people will get hurt.

Some juveniles just like stealing cars for the fun of it. "They like to steal cars just to take them for a joy ride," said Belleville Detective Peter Fraone. If caught, they are usually released the same night. Youth houses are overcrowded, he said, and often the same teenagers are back out on the street stealing cars the same day.

It is recommended by the county prosecutors not to chase stolen cars. The reason for this is that it is too dangerous. Since car theft is considered a non-violent crime—as is shoplifting—letting the thieves go is considered better than risking the dangers involved with retrieving a stolen car.

Tortorello points out that house burglaries are dealt with as violent crimes. Since people in their homes can be endangered by the entering burglar, these criminals can be chased by police. Tortorello said that car theft reaps a much greater profit each year than house robbery.

The problem, according to Fraone, "has gotten out of hand. It's a big business." The cars are often sold for $10,000. Sometimes parts are sold to "chop shops." People don't realize, said Fraone, that this business brings in "about four million dollars a year." Un-taxed and under the table, of course.

Car theft has increased this year in Belleville, he said. Last year the number of car thefts averaged 33 per month, with a total of 392 stolen that year. This year the average number of stolen cars jumped to 45 cars per month.

In Nutley, the detective said, the problem is not so severe, with an average of three cars stolen per month. This may be due to Belleville's proximity to Newark. Most of the arrests, he said, are made against residents from Newark and most of the cars are recovered in Newark.

Last year there were 52 arrests for car thefts in Belleville. Of these, 39 were adults and 13 were juveniles. There were 28 arrests that came from Newark, or 53% of the total arrests.

"People are going to have to take more of their own initiative," according to Tortorello. "They should put in some type of alarm system that has a cut-off switch." Such a switch can be hidden in the car so that only the owner of the vehicle knows where it is. It cuts off the fuel to the car thereby deterring theft.

The only way around this kind of alarm is by opening the hood of the car and connecting the proper wires.

Car thieves are pretty smart these days, said Fraone. Not even car alarms can stop them. If they need to sell a red Corvette, they'll (continued on page 15)

Three different raids

Narcotics squad nabs 5

Belleville's Narcotics Squad charged five men with drug violations in three separate incidents this week, according to Det. Sgt. Joseph Rotonda.

The Narcotics Squad was alerted May 15 of an individual attempting to sell drugs in the area of N. 8th St. An undercover officer approached the individual, Julian Kane, 18, of Newark, who was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and possession with intent to distribute within 1000 feet of a school zone. Kane was found to be in possession of 20 vials of cocaine at the time of his arrest.

Two Newark men employed at the Hess gas station at 24 Franklin St. were arrested Friday night by officers of Belleville's Narcotics Squad. Rotonda said the two men were selling drugs from the Belleville gas station. "It was a drive-in cocaine business," he said.

The arrests followed a week-long Narcotics Squad investigation. The two Newark men, Emir Davis, 18, and Robert D. Williams, 20 were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, intent to distribute C.D.S., and distribution within 1,000 feet of a school.

Police found Davis in possession of 20 vials of cocaine and confiscated a portable cellular telephone.

Also on Friday night, two other Newark men were arrested for having more than 100 stolen prescription slips in their possession, Rotonda said.

The prescription slips, according to Rotonda, had been taken from the Newark Health Department, the College of Medicine and Dentistry and other doctor's offices in Essex County.

The two Newark men, identified as Farad Abdullah, 37, and Douglas Tyler, 33, were caught while leaving a Belleville pharmacy Friday evening. The suspects had tried to pass the stolen prescriptions before the pharmacist alerted police. Following a routine search, officers also found the suspects in possession of a small amount of cocaine. The suspects were held on $2,500 bail.

Zoners deny variance, suggest alternate

By Joe Sklar

The zoning board of adjustment at their May 15 meeting denied an application to permit construction of a two-family house on a plot of land at the corner of Chestnut St. and Passaic Ave. The area is zoned for one-family houses.

Fred Austin, of Passaic Avenue, said he does not want any newly constructed buildings to be taller than his house. Leaning on a cane he said, "Or they will stick out like a sore thumb."

Mary Montesano, another local resident, is concerned about the construction of driveways that could increase traffic. "There were already six accidents there already," she said.

Property owner Mark DiMaggio application sought a variance that would allow him to demolish an existing one-family house and construct two two-family houses on the property. DiMaggio said the plot of land is large enough to build two two-family houses.

Fire Dept. discussed

Chief Beresford's challenge

A lot of kids dream of becoming firemen. Walter Beresford never did: he wanted to be an FBI agent.

Beresford became the fire chief this April 30. At the age of 41, he laughs as he admits he looks young for a fire chief. Having grown up in Belleville he began his career as a firefighter at the age of 24.

Firefighting is the "most dangerous occupation," he said.

Beresford made the decision to enlist in the department after the death of the former fire lieutenant Jack Baldwin, who had been a next-door neighbor.

The Chief, who studied sociology, and got his B.A. degree at Montclair State College, had his heart set on working for the FBI or the DEA (Drug Enforcement Agency). When he came back home after serving in the army overseas he finally took Baldwin's advice and took the fire department's exam.

Beresford is grateful to the town where he grew up. "They gave me a lot of opportunities to further my career," he said. One thing Beresford likes about his work is, "You always had the feeling you were helping someone."

Bringing enthusiasm and a friendly disposition to his work, Beresford said, "I want to increase services with an awareness to both economic restraints and citizen expectations."

Things have changed a bit since his grandfather was the fire lieutenant in the 1930's, Beresford explained.

"Traditionally," he said, "the philosophy (in fire departments) has been that changes (within) have to happen slowly, but today things are more dynamic." Twenty years ago, he said, the firemen didn't have to contend with burning plastic and toxic gases. These days, unlike the past, firemen cannot work without wearing Scott masks. These are self-contained breathing apparatus. Often a fire will emit dangerous fumes from burning chemicals. Inhalation of these fumes can cause chronic lung diseases.

Within the department there are different agencies, he explains. For example there is the hazardous materials response team. These men are specially trained to deal with industries that use hazardous materials.

Also, there is a division of fire investigation, which specializes in arson. These men have completed the NJ division of criminal justice course and have the power to arrest arsonists.

Beresford said: "Our primary mission is to safeguard the residents of Belleville. The world of high tech has made firefighting more dangerous. The only way we're to avoid these dangers is stay ahead of this." He adds: "Water is the firefighting panacea of the past."

Included in the new equipment

Each firetruck has binoculars on board which enables firemen to see a label attached to part of a burning truck or building. On the label is a code which tells what kind of chemicals are inside. The firemen then flip through a code book called the Emergency Response Guidebook to immediately know vital information about the chemical such as whether it is poisonous or not.

Another noticeable change, Beresford said, is that arson is far more prevalent than before.

Last year in Belleville the fire department responded to 1240 fire calls and nearly 3000 ambulance calls. Part of Beresford's plan is to see that the fire department "gears up and goes high tech" to keep up with the modern hazards of firefighting.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

New Jersey's next State Commissioner of Education John Ellis has stated that his aim would be to combine "inspiration with inspection" so that local educators take responsibility for their success or failure. He wants those who run schools to consider how they can be changed, especially in urban areas, to meet the needs of what he called, "the overwhelmed parent" who has been unable to help children succeed in school.

Ellis said he would reach for a "balance" between state power and local enthusiasm. "You have to have a floor, and that's a matter of state regulation," he said, "But you also have to be able to release the creative energies of the people in the classrooms so they forget about the floor and try to go right through the ceiling." He assured the state would be careful not to overregulate.

"We don't want to nippick people to death," he said. At the same time, he added that protecting the educational rights of children is a state responsibility, and he "would not think" from using his ultimate power — the state takeover of failing school districts. "I am not going to waste too much time with people who believe their lives are going to be made easier. You can observe an awful lot of things just by looking."

He wants to "interrupt the terrible cycle of failure" by more remediation in later grades and "a lot more enrichment and services at the beginning years." He said schools should not be allowed to blame failure on the conditions in large cities, but "we do not have to step back at the policy level and consider what we can do about problems in the cities."

The newly designated commissioner pledged to keep his office free of interference from lobbying organizations. Ellis said he believed in "communication" with organizations like the New Jersey Education Association (NJEA), the state's largest teachers' union. "But that doesn't mean I'm going to do what they want me to do." Despite Gov. Florio's close ties with the teacher's union, Ellis candidacy apparently was not cleared with the union. In fact, Ellis still has not met with the leadership of the organization that once had virtual veto power of the selection of education commissioners in the state.

There were indications that the apparent snub of the union was the cause of its refusal to issue a pro-forma statement last week welcoming Ellis to the state. All other major school organizations issued such statements — and the NJEA traditionally has done so.

Ellis said he believed many good things are happening in New Jersey, and he would not change policies simply because of a change in leadership. "My standard is whether it's good for kids, if it is, then I don't believe in changing it unless I can come up with something better."

"I don't want to create the idea that teaching is so easy anyone can do it. I believe in high standards for certification — but not necessarily conventional standards," Ellis said.

The new commissioner said he is interested in "school-based management," an idea never fully endorsed by Cooperman, but promoted by Elena Scambio, Cooperman's appointee as the state district superintendent in Jersey City.

Ellis pointed out that in Austin, Tex., 14 schools have been designated for local management — and that he fought with his local school board to try it as an experiment. Under school-based management, schools are given greater autonomy from central control.

"That doesn't mean they can do anything they want, but you give them goals and then set them loose." He conceded some schools might make mistakes, but said the idea was worth the risk because of the enthusiasm and energy it engendered.

Ellis was known in Austin for his ability to attract business interests in the schools. IBM is working closely with city educators in developing new plans and in studying the future use of educational technology. He said, I am really excited about the possibilities in New Jersey.

Look To This Day

Look to this day, for it is life,
The very life of life.
In its brief course lies all
The realities and verities of existence,
The bliss of growth,
The splendor of action,
The glory of power...
For yesterday is but a dream
And tomorrow is only a vision.
But today, well lived,
Makes every yesterday a dream of happiness
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day.

A tribute to Jim Henson 'It's not easy being...'

Last week saw the deaths of several celebrated people: Sammy Davis Jr. and Jill Ireland, both victims of cancer, and the sudden unexpected death of Jim Henson, creator of the Muppets.

Henson himself may not be familiar to everyone, but most are sure to recognize names like Kermit, Miss Piggy, Big Bird, Bert, Ernie and a troupe of colorful muppet-like puppets known as the Muppets. Henson was the creative genius behind Sesame Street, the Muppet Show, Fraggle Rock, Ghost of Faffner Hall, several movies, television specials and cartoons.

Of the hundreds of Henson creations, Kermit the Frog is probably the best known. Kermit was Henson's first Muppet and was said to be Jim Henson's alter ego. Even his voice is true Henson with little variation or disguise. The little green frog with ping-pong ball eyes is known for his honesty, his kindness and the lessons he teaches.

It was Kermit the Frog who first sang the now-famous Joe Raposo song "It's Not Easy Being Green." That song has since been recorded by no less famous singers than Ray Charles, Lena Horne and others. The song is Kermit's lament about being green and blending in with so many other ordinary things. He wishes to be a different color, but then considers big green oceans and important green mountains and tall green trees. By the end of the song, Kermit has resolved himself to the fact that being green really isn't so bad. This has come to be the theme of a generation of young people.

The students of Belleville Middle School cover many areas in the class called English including writing, grammar, spelling and vocabulary. As part of the weekly writing lesson, and as a tribute to the creative genius of Jim Henson, the seventh grade students in Mrs. Dawn Buccino's classes tackled the question of "What does the song mean?" "It's Not Easy Being Green" and what does Green stand for?"

Mrs. Buccino is one of six B.M.S. English teachers who struggles with the difficult problem of how to get young people to write. English is a very dry course and coming up with topics to pique interest and arouse creative juices can sometimes be close to impossible.

"At first the students were hesitant to admit any knowledge of Jim Henson and the Muppets," Mrs. Buccino said. "They didn't want to admit they watched Sesame Street or the Muppet Show and risk ridicule from peers. To prove the point that we all were Muppet fans at one time or another, I began to sing parts of songs from Henson shows. Then I would stop in mid-verse. Inevitably, several students would chime in and finish the song. That was all it took to break the ice. Before you knew it, we were having a rousing discussion about what children learn from Sesame Street, what was the favorite Muppet, and I even had a few who could do Muppet impressions."

Then the classes took to the task of writing. Some of them saw "green" as being plain and boring, while others felt green was "different" thereby making children feel like outcasts.

Some of the most interesting responses included a young person who felt being green was like being Oriental. "People treat me differently. They think I should be able to speak Chinese and only eat Chinese food. They forget I'm just a person with feelings."

Another student offered, "Being green is like being too tall for your age. Everybody calls you 'stringbean' and asks 'how's the weather up there?'" People expect me to be a good basketball player but I don't even like sports."

The seventh graders did agree that Kermit's lesson about being green taught young children to accept themselves for what they are. One student wrote, "Maybe a little kid is short or fat or has big ears or can't catch a ball, but all of us have problems, and all of us are special in some way. It just takes time some time to like yourself."

We congratulate the seventh grade students of B.M.S. and the B.M.S. English teachers who strive daily to be innovative and up-to-date, and teach a great deal more than writing to this nation's most precious commodity, our children and our future.

Jim Henson is gone, but not forgotten, and he leaves behind a legacy which can have no price tag. Even grown-ups have learned a thing or two from a little green frog with ping pong ball eyes.

Memorial Day

To the editor:

There is no single holiday on the calendar that touches the lives, the emotions and remembrance that most of us have undergone and have lived through.

At the rate things are going, the next time "Johnny comes marching home" from overseas, no one will care.

Somewhere on Memorial Day, a widow kneels in prayer above a grave. Somewhere a child is raising a flag, somewhere a veteran of some long past war is bowing his head in tribute.

Yes there are those, there are multitudes, who know the meaning of Memorial Day. The irony is that for others the meaning has been lost. To them it is merely a day for the beach, the ball park, a picnic, an auto race.

That's very sad because that wasn't the case for more than 50 years when residents filled the streets at the Memorial Day Parade. Floats and marching bands coursed through the towns and cities.

The names of war dead were read out loud, one by one, heroes who fought and died for their country in two world wars and the Korean and Vietnam wars. Patriotic speeches were delivered.

Each year some towns and cities have turned their annual John Philip Sousa's style march into a dreary Memorial Day dirge.

Needless to say there are those who served in the military service who paid the supreme sacrifice. Those who carry the mental scars and physical wounds of battle, those who are still in pain and agony in Veteran's hospitals, also those who survived and are in the mainstream and in productive lives. It's all been said before, we all know this, but my appeal is to remember, observe and honor.

It's not only a sad day for our country's war heroes, it's sad for all of us.

Pete Mackiewicz

BASE acknowledgments

To the editor:

On behalf of Belleville Alliance for Substance Education, (B.A.S.E.) committee we would like to acknowledge and thank the Belleville Board of Education for their contribution of $13,500.00 which has been set aside for the curriculum "Here's Looking At You 2000".

Also, we would like to thank our parent groups (Home and School Association, Organization of Parents and Educators & Parent and Teachers Associations) for their generous $1,000.00 commitment. Without your generosity and support, we could not go forward in our endeavor to acquire the curriculum kits for each school.

This is a total community effort, and we are proud to acknowledge that our entire community is working to fight the war against substance abuse, through education. We also express our thanks to Debbie McVola, our substance awareness co-ordinator. She has given this committee her constant guidance and support.

We would like to take this opportunity to extend to your readers an invitation to join our B.A.S.E. committee which will be meeting on Thursday, June 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

In the coming weeks we will be instituting our donation drive to our service organizations and business community. If anyone would like to send a donation please mail to: Belleville Alliance for Substance Education, P.O. Box 368, Belleville, N.J. 07009. Last, but not least, we would like to thank Anthony Buccino for his constant support of our B.A.S.E. committee through this newspaper.

Thanks voters

To the editor:

I would like to publicly thank all my committee workers who labored very hard during my campaign, giving up a good amount of their personal time to assist in the many duties required in running an organized effort.

I would also like to thank the citizens of the fourth ward who have placed their confidence in me, by electing me to the position of councilman.

There is a substantial amount of work to be done before the new government takes effect on July 1st. My fellow council members and I have already embarked on an effort to make the transition a smooth one. Based on our meetings to date, I can honestly say that the citizens of Belleville will be served well by the group of new officials they have chosen.

William P. Cook
Councilman-elect
Fourth Ward

Appreciates support

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to all persons whose hard work and support throughout the council election made our victory possible. I pledge to continue working towards our goal for a better Belleville.

Correction

In last week's YOUR OPINION section, two headlines were inadvertently transposed. The headline for Jean Perario's letter should have read "Pleased with educators." The headline for Michael Giordano's letter should have been "Work together." The Times apologizes for any confusion the transposition may have caused. — Editor

About 'Baby Lou'

To the editor:

On Saturday, April 21, 1990, a benefit was held for Baby Lou Riccardi. The money raised will go towards the great financial needs of his parents, Louis and Jane Riccardi, of Nutley.

Baby Lou was born with spina bifida, a congenital defect of the spine. In the seven months since he was born, Lou has required an operation, numerous tests and doctor visits, as well as countless days in physical therapy. Baby Lou has the love of many people, but his convalescence will require a lot of money.

Throughout Nutley, many businesses have donation boxes. Please be generous because any donation, no matter the amount, is appreciated. To contact the Baby Lou Fund, please call 661-2246 or 667-7993.

We greatly appreciate the volunteers at the benefit and especially the businesses who donated their services: Belleville Amvets Post No. 26, Bella Casa Caterers, Delgen Press, Meyer's Bakery, Vitiello Bakery, and Just Cookies of Belleville.

Planner pleased

To the editor:

As a member of the Belleville Planning Board, I am pleased that the Belleville Times followed up its May 10 article relating to the Board's decision on Walgreens with a more balanced perspective on May 17.

In the first article, readers might have had the impression that the Planning Board deliberately held an "illegal" closed door session, reversed its vote and approved a sign for Walgreens.

That May 10 article was comprised almost entirely of portions of an actual complaint filed by the attorney for Raymond and Vincent Cozzarelli. The complaint, consequently, is composed of heavily persuasive language and tone to convince a judge of impropriety.

Thus, it appeared to Times' readers that the Planning Board was, at least, in violation of the state's Open Meetings Act — the Sunshine Law.

The purpose of the Sunshine Law is to prevent collusion and secret decisions. Therefore, business must be conducted before the public. But exceptions are allowed, and they must be properly used.

The Planning Board also must remain within the context of the New Jersey Municipal Land Use Law and local ordinances. Board members must be aware of legal parameters that protect the town, the applicant and objectors.

Should we exceed limits, Planning Board Attorney Thomas Di Biasi must provide counsel, especially should he anticipate that the board may precipitate a lawsuit.

In the case in question, Mr. Di Biasi did his job. At Mr. Di Biasi's suggestion, I announced a legal conference and then, members discussed only legal issues. I feel that the conference was necessary and fully within the intent and purpose of the law.

The Planning Board was striving for a correct and fair outcome. While the discussion resulted in a reversal of a decision to deny, it certainly was not for improper motives, nor I believe, in violation of the Sunshine Law.

Not every discussion is clear cut; nor will they please everyone. Even with our collective experience, there are times when something as simple as a sign can cause problems.

During the hearing we scaled down Walgreens original proposal in a major way. And, before allowing the Feb. 6 hearing I was in touch with the tax assessor's office and had the applicant pay the township more than $20,000 in delinquent taxes. Payment of those taxes in no way implied approval.

The Cozzarelli Family is sincere in bringing its lawsuit. They have a disagreement over an issue. With business and personal investments in the area, they are interested in seeing them protected. We understand.

On the other hand, the Belleville Planning Board works hard for our township. We are volunteers dedicated to upholding, not betraying trust.

When choosing to report on such a matter, therefore, it is extremely important for the media to present a balanced viewpoint.

I am pleased that Anthony Buccino, in his May 17 follow-up, gave Tom Di Biasi a chance to offer the Planning Board's side.

Joseph E. Doyle, Chairman
Belleville Planning Board

Personal thanks

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank you for your support and confidence in electing me as your 2nd Ward Councilman.

As your councilman, I will look through a collaborative and open approach to our government and work to bring about improved life for the citizens of our town. I will work professionally with other officials to handle the problems and challenges that face our town, and attempt to anticipate and provide for other problems related to Belleville, that will eventually occur in years to come.

I know and realize that we are faced with certain problems, that are far from solved, yet today Belleville stands on an exciting threshold, "A New Beginning", with a bright, new future ahead.

To you, the people of Belleville, I will try to provide you with the dignity and respect deserving of our town... A town that we can all be proud to say is our home.

Frank A. Caputo
2nd Ward Councilman Elect

Yanuzzi says thanks

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all who supported my candidacy for second ward councilman on May 8th.

Although we came up a few votes short, we ran a clean campaign, and I had the opportunity to meet many new people and make new friends.

I congratulate Frank A. Caputo on his victory in the second ward. Mr. Caputo was and is a gentleman who ran a positive campaign. I wish him all the best for a productive term and wish him success.

I would also like to thank the best campaign manager a candidate could have, Francine Pasercchia. She has my respect and my love.

Flag pole rededication

Residents who were involved with the Belleville Improvement Association are invited to attend the 50th anniversary of the rededication of the School 9 flag pole May 29 at 1:30 p.m. For more information, call 450-3490 during school hours. Refreshments will be served.

Dancers observed

"A World of Difference Through Dance" was enjoyed by students at School 9 on April 24 when dancers from around the country visited the school.

Dancers from Mexico, New York, Japan, Brazil, Panama, and Jersey City created a climate of respect and appreciation for diversity by exposing the students to classical ballet.

The main objective of this multi-ethnic company is to relay the message to the children and their families that there is no place for prejudice in the home, community, or nation.

The students who observed this program at School 9 thoroughly enjoyed it and indicated they would like the group to return for another performance.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

~"You're always welcome!"

Many clubs have stringent entry requirements. Applicants failing to meet the standards are barred from membership.

Certain organizations such as one formed for a particular service or ministry must understandably limit membership to those whose interests and beliefs are in accord with the association's purpose.

Stipulations regarding entrance to some clubs or societies, however, often reflect the aloofness and elitist mentality of the members, who welcome only a certain type of person — their own type.

In contrast to such subtle snobbery are the sentiments echoed in the lines of the sonnet:

"...Give me your tired, your poor,

Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.

The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.

Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me:

I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

In that poem, America is depicted as "the mother of exiles," who welcomes the persecuted, rejected, and disadvantaged to find a haven in a new homeland.

In many ways, that is a faint depiction of God's attitude toward everyone. He is not an austere autocrat who holds people at arm's length with impossible stipulations for admission to his presence.

Quite reverse!

Jesus clearly enunciated our heavenly Father's "open door" policy:

"I have come to urge sinners, not the self-righteous, back to God" (Matthew 9:13).

"Sick people need a doctor, not healthy ones! I haven't come to tell good people to repent, but the bad ones" (Mark 2:17).

"My purpose is to invite sinners to turn from their sins, not to spend my time with those who think themselves already good enough" (Luke 5:32).

In spite of such clear words, we are apt to fall into the trap of imagining that before we dare to approach God we must make ourselves 100 percent presentable or, at least, improve a great deal. Otherwise, we feel that we dare not approach him.

But that attitude is self-defeating. We can never earn his approval. The reality is that he welcomes us in spite of what we are. In fact, only those who deeply sense their need will repent of their sins and trust Jesus Christ, who died to save sinners.

"Come to me and I will give you rest — all of you who work so hard beneath a heavy load" (Jesus Christ, from Matthew 11:28).

It seems like only Yesterday
By Eric Quinones

25 Years Ago

May 27, 1965...Pitcher Art Sheridan tossed his second one-hitter in four days as the Belleville High School varsity baseball team won its eighth straight game with a 4-1 victory over Kearny.

The win raised Sheridan's record to 5-1 and the team's log to 16-13. Sheridan had a no-hit shutout going into the last inning before giving up a leadoff homer in the seventh.

The Bellboys scored a pair of runs in both the first and second innings. In the first, Frank Mineo and George DeBrowski contributed RBI singles. Nick Grande hit his second home run of the year in the next inning, a two-run shot.

Sheridan had shut down Nutley on one hit in his previous outing.

Council action
Three new supervisory posts were created, and the salaries of the town magistrate, water foreman, and detectives were increased at a meeting of the town council.

The measures were approved by a 3-2 margin, with Councilmen James R. Golden and William H. Cullen opposed and Mayor Nuncio R. Pico and Councilmen Robert Westpy and Ralph Casale in the majority.

The creation of the three new positions — foreman of streets and sewers in the Public Works Department, recreation maintenance foreman, and assistant superintendent in the Signals Department — was the focus of much criticism by the many Belleville residents in attendance at the meeting.

ABSORBING READING
Since 1980, when 890 cases of toxic shock syndrome were reported, studies have uncovered a link between tampon absorbency and the likelihood of contracting this potentially fatal condition. The higher a tampon's absorbency level, the more likely a woman is to develop menstrual toxic shock syndrome. This rare disease causes a sudden high fever, vomiting, diarrhea, dizziness or fainting, and a sunburn-like rash. Until now, a woman's search for the lowest absorbency tampon that is convenient for her has been complicated by a labeling inconsistency among manufacturers. However, since March 1990, the FDA has standardized tampon labeling so that "junior," "regular," and "super" designations exhibit the exact same absorbency levels for all brands. This should make tampon selection easier.

We maintain a wide selection of prescription and over-the-counter drugs as well as other items at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved and provide free delivery. See us for your graduation and Father's Day gift needs. In the upcoming weeks we will feature many different topics on health and medications. Watch for these various subjects in our column.

HINT: Although there were only 86 reported cases of menstrual toxic shock syndrome in 1988, the disease may be vastly under-reported.

DINING GUIDE

TAJ PALACE

A Magical Dining Experience

That Indian cuisine is becoming immensely popular is proof that a little knowledge is a delicious thing. Luckily for both novice and expert, Montclair's Bloomfield Avenue is the home of Taj Palace, which offers superb Indian cuisine in an atmosphere as soothing and charming as a tinkling temple bell. The furious tandoori, an 800 deg. clay oven, produces charcoal-perfumed meats of incomparable succulence and flat, blistered breads that melt in your mouth.

Begin your meal with pakora (mixed vegetable fritters), samosas (crisp turnovers filled with spiced potatoes and peas), or deep fried fritters of chicken, shrimp or cheese. We enjoyed the assorted appetizers for two, which included a variety of the aforementioned as well as a large disc of papadum, a thin, brittle bread with a tang of ash. A cooling mint yogurt chutney flavored with ginger and coriander made for wonderful dipping.

Please order at least one tandoori specialty as an entree. Lamb, chicken, or shrimp marinated in yogurt, fresh ginger and 15 other spices is seared to perfection within minutes in the tandoori. (The meat will be utterly lean for this method to work, as any fat will prevent the meat from adhering to the oven wall.) The resulting morsels are hauntingly fragrant and juicy. We loved the chicken tikka, which was served with sweet slivers of onion and lemon slices.

Beef, chicken, lamb, shrimp and vegetarian dishes are also offered. We enjoyed chicken murtani, tasty bits of boneless chicken cooked in a sauce of cream, eggs and nuts, and a very assertive lamb vindaloo, in which tender lamb chunks swim in a fiery, tangy sauce. Of the vegetarian dishes, we especially liked the matar paneer (mild, homemade cheese cubes, fried and presented with peas in a mildly spiced sauce), and the aloo gobi, a brightly flavored mixture of potatoes and cauliflower. Biryani, mixture of fragrant basmati rice with meats, herbs, and nuts are also delicious and combination dinners are available.

Desserts at the Taj Palace are exotic and on the light side. Try kulfi and Indian nut ice cream, or firni, a fragrant custard with pistachios and almonds, or rasmalai, sweet homemade cheese balls flavored with rose water. Lassi, a refreshing drink of sweetened yogurt and rose water, makes a delicious sipper dessert, as does a mango shake.

Taj Palace recently received $\star\star\star\frac{1}{2}$ stars from the Star Ledger, very good from the Bergen Record. The food and service is the closest you'll come to being treated like royalty. Dinner is served 7 days a week from 5 til 9:30, and lunch every day Sunday.

Clara Maass Auxiliary's dinner, show raises funds for nursery, emergency

There were oohs and aahs and exclamations of delight recently at the Clara Maass Auxiliary dinner and fashion show at the Chandelier, Belleville. The event was attended by more than 250 people who were treated to fashions from Mande Shops of Nutley.

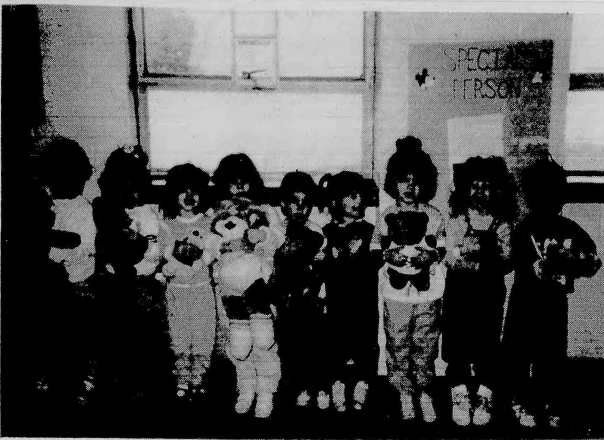

Local businesses and individuals donated a wide variety of gifts including a table top television, an evening for two in Atlantic City, including overnight accommodations, a designer handbag, gold herringbone bracelet, crystal bowl and much more.

The Clara Maass Auxiliary, comprised of volunteers, works to raise funds for the medical center. Proceeds from the dinner and fashion show will be used to purchase new equipment for the medical center's emergency room and infant nursery.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUCK SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville crew team spent last weekend in Philadelphia, competing in perhaps the most prestigious of crew races, the Stotesbury Regatta. According to head coach Bob Cassin, over 2000 rowers competed from 120 schools throughout the nation and Canada.

"Every year, this regatta gets bigger," Cassin said. "I was happy with our teams performance. The kids were happy, too, and now they're looking forward to the nationals this weekend."

The Bucs will travel to Cooper Park/River in Camden tomorrow to compete in the national championships. Like the Stotesbury Regatta, the boys begin Friday afternoon and conclude late Saturday afternoon.

The boys' junior four "A" shell won its qualifying heat, placed second in the semi finals, then finished third in the final round to capture a bronze medal. The boat came within four seconds of second place LaSalle High School of Philadelphia, a team that Belleville has been battling all year long.

"We've been rowing against them since early in the season," Cassin said. "We've cut the gap from 17 seconds to just four seconds in this weekend. The kids are hoping they can cut off those final four seconds this weekend."

A team from Canada won the race, but Canadian teams normally do not race in the nationals.

Members of the "A" team are Dale Watkowski, Jim Mastropolo, Sean Kimball, Lee Hands and Heather Apruzzese.

The junior four "B" squad made it to the semi finals and finished fifth overall. Among the schools the "B" team defeated at the Stotesbury were Marietta High School from Ohio and Washington and Lee out of Virginia.

The girls lightweight four shell "B" version, coached by Dennis Villano made it to the finals in a very difficult heat.

Members of that boat include Dana Nelson, Deanna Casella, Stephanie Vaccaro, Eric Ravalese and Jim Schmidt.

The boys senior four shell was forced to use a different boat than the one they are normally accustomed to.

"That team was using a 190 pound boat for most of the season," Cassin explained. "Because of some ruling, the team had to use a lighter boat, one they weren't used to."

The coach admitted that the team did not use the change of boats as an excuse for its performance. The boys senior four did make it to the semi finals this weekend, the Bucs will compete at the nationals, hopefully in its own shell.

The girls junior four team found itself in a crowded race. 27 boats were slated to race in the girls junior four race, thus the top two boats from each qualifier advanced to the finals. Belleville placed third in its heat. The girls will have another shot this weekend at the nationals, however.

The girls senior four shell won its qualifying heat and advanced to the semi finals. At the semis, the top two teams in the races advanced to the finals and Belleville just missed again, placing third, just one second away from second place.

Cassin was very happy with the performance of the freshman boys' eight team.

The kids got a good opportunity to race against some strong competition," the coach said. "They were up against boats from Chicago, Philadelphia and Virginia. If those kids continue working together, they could be a real strong team for the next few seasons."

The freshman eight made it to the semi finals before being eliminated. That team will not race at the nationals, because freshman teams do not compete on the national level.

Cassin plans to enter the junior four boys "A" and "B" team this weekend at Camden. Also going will be the boys senior four, the girls junior four and the girls senior four.

EARLY RESULTS FROM BELLEVILLE LITTLE LEAGUE

In the American League, Rotary has jumped out to an early 3-0 start. J.P. Cleaners, BIACA and the Elks were all at 1-2, but it's still early. In the National League, FMBA was 2-0 in the early going. Amvets trailed by just 1/2 game, while K of C was 1-1 and PBA was off to a slow start.

Some of the highlights of the early games was the Elks edge JP Cleaners, 2-1. Ram Rakkeh led the Elks with a masterful pitching performance. He struck out 14 (out of a possible 18) batters.

Nelson Perez of JP Cleaners had a double in the game. FMBA rallied from an early 4-0 deficit to defeat PBA, 5-4. Mike Capozzi had three hits to lead FMBA. One of Capozzi's hits was a double. FMBA scored once in the first, once in the third, then scored three in the fourth to win. PBA scored all its runs in the first inning.

Mike Schmitt was the winning pitcher.

In a wild game, JP Cleaners came back from a 7-0 deficit to beat BIACA, 9-8. Brian Conway won for JP with a hit in the last of the sixth inning. For BIACA, Carl Pisciowski had two doubles and Justin Mohren collected three singles.

FMBA and K of C finished in a 4 all tie. The game was suspended after four innings and will be completed when these two teams meet later in the season. Capozzi and Schmitt had doubles for FMBA and Brian Dana collected a 2-bagger for K of C.

Rotary breezed by BIACA, 22-0. Gerard Del Tufo was 4 for 4, with four RBIs and four runs scored. Rotary pitching limited BIACA to just one hit.

Amvets and K of C went back and forth before the Amvets won, 5-4. Jason Dunn and Domenick Raimondo led the way for the Amvets. Chris Rotondi was the winning pitcher. Rotondi and John Floria had doubles in the game and Raimondo added a triple.

NATIONAL SPORTS

Last October, it appeared that Andre Dawson of the Cubs was finished after a terrible NL championship series. Don't bury Dawson quite yet. He's having an unbelievable year, leading the NL in homers and RBIs.

How in the world did Dwight Gooden mess up his toe? The story was Gooden was barefooted in the clubhouse. Mackey Sasser came up with a chair, put the chair down on Gooden's toe, then sat down.

It's amazing that Gooden didn't realize somewhere between the time the chair was placed down on his foot and the time that Sasser sat down that something wasn't normal.

Oh, if you're a Mets' fan, don't worry. Howard Johnson called a team meeting in LA and the Mets will now win 25 games in a row.

Did you see where Larry Holmes will be joining the senior circuit of the boxing scene. What a farce. First Aaron Pryor, then Jerry Cooney, now Holmes. I honestly thought Holmes would go out on top, but he's destined to do in 1990 what Muhammad Ali did a decade earlier, fight once too many times. Holmes was a great champion. But

Lady Bucs beat I.H. 6-0 for clincher

CONFERENCE CHAMPS!

For the second straight year, the Belleville softball team has captured the NNJIL Pacific Division championship. The Lady Bucs clinched the title by blanking Immaculate Heart 6-0 last Monday afternoon.

Carl Corino's team took a 21-3 mark into last Tuesday's Group III, Section II semi final game with Linden. Should Belleville win that game, it would play for the sectional championship this afternoon against the winner of Cranford-Morris Hills at Madison. Yesterday, the girls took on Paramus Catholic. Should Belleville lose the game with Linden, then yesterday's game with Paramus Catholic would be the season finale.

Last week, Belleville regained its winning touch after a rare two game losing streak. The girls stopped Teaneck 6-0, Nutley 11-1 and then beat Immaculate Heart last Monday. The victory over Nutley was especially gratifying because it marked the ninth straight year that the Lady Bucs have won 20 or more games.

"It's been a very good season," head coach Carl Corino said. "I really wasn't sure how well we would do when the season began. But to win 20 is really a big accomplishment. The win also clinched a tie for us in the league."

Stacey Johansen pitched for Belleville. The senior won her 12th game of the season, hurling a two hitter. She struck out nine and walked just one. The run that scored for Nutley was earned.

Belleville broke the game open early, scoring four runs in the first and four more in the third. It was one of Belleville's stronger offensive performances of the season.

Jennifer Bridge was 1 for 3, Mia Hanos was 2 for 4, with an RBI double. Johansen was 2 for 3, with two runs scored and one RBI. Colleen Mannion had 2 RBIs and Judy Kych, in her first varsity start in right field, was 2 for 4 with two RBIs.

However, the offensive performance of the day had to go to Laurie Moyer. The senior catcher was 4 for 4, with three RBIs and three runs scored. One of Moyer's hits was a triple.

In the Immaculate Heart game last Monday, Johansen pitched a shutout, allowing just one hit. She struck out 11 and walked just one in boosting her record to 13-2. Belleville scored two runs in the first, third and fifth innings.

Johansen hit a two run homer in the fifth that scored Hanos, who had walked. Johansen and Mannion each had two hits for Belleville. Bridge and Carey Woodruff had the other Belleville hits.

"It's nice to win the conference again," Corino said. "We're hoping to move on to the state tournament. We've got a tough game coming up with Linden now. Our conference was really strong this season. Immaculate Heart and Paramus Catholic are playing for the Archdiocesan title. Bloomfield is still in the states (in Group IV) and Paramus has really come on strong in Group III, Section I. There's a possibility we could face Paramus if we win our section and they win theirs."

In the Teaneck game, Treja Donnelly earned her eighth win against just one loss. The senior hurled a one hitter, striking out four and walking none.

Belleville had nine hits in the game. The girls scored once in the first when Bridge singled, stole second base and scored on a hit by Johansen.

In the fourth inning, with the score 2-0, Woodruff singled and Amalia Fabiano doubled. With runners on second and third and two outs, Kych hit a key double that scored both runners and put Belleville ahead 4-0.

Hanos had an RBI double in the sixth inning that closed out the Belleville scoring.

Bridge, Johansen and Fabiano all had two hits in the game.

NOTES: If Belleville wins the sectional title this afternoon, it would play in the state semis next Tuesday. The state championship game will be June 2 at Princeton. Belleville won the Group IV, Section II title in 1987 and advanced to the state title game, where it lost to eventual champion Edison. Caldwell won the county championship for the fourth time in the past five years, beating Livingston last Saturday.

Record falls to 5-16, Galioto hurt

Bucs lose close ones to Nutley, Teaneck

The Belleville baseball team dropped two tough games last week, falling to Teaneck 5-3 and Nutley 7-5. The two losses dropped the Bucs' team record to 5-16.

Nick Grande's club was scheduled to close out the 1990 season this week. The Bucs battled Don Bosco last Monday and faced Paramus yesterday.

"We played two pretty good games," Grande said about last week's conference battles. "But we fell short on both occasions. Once again, errors hurt us. But I can't fault the effort by our kids."

Against Teaneck, the Bucs fell behind by a 5-1 count after four innings, then rallied for two runs in the fifth to cut the deficit to two runs.

Jay Galatioto started for Belleville. He hurled the first four innings, allowing seven hits, striking out two and walking three. Although five Teaneck players crossed the plate during Galatioto's stint, none of the runs were earned. The Bucs committed six errors in the game.

Galioto was forced to leave the game after the fourth inning. He was struck in the kidney area by a line drive, and although he finished the frame, the pain was quite evident by the beginning of the fifth.

"He really gutted it out," Grande said of Galioto. "He tried, but our concern was a possible broken rib, or a kidney injury. You can't take chances. He says he feels okay and thankfully, there were no broken bones."

X rays were negative and as of last weekend, there did not appear to be any kidney damage to Galioto.

Jim DuHaime pitched the final two frames for Belleville. The junior allowed just one hit, struck out one and walked one.

Belleville scored once in the first inning. Carmen Spina singled and went to second on a passed ball. He scored when Rich Ferruggia reached on a throwing error by the third baseman.

After Teaneck went ahead 5-1 in the fourth, Belleville scored twice in the fifth. Bill Salvatore walked and Ryan Wells reached on a throwing error, putting runners on first and third. Spina grounded out, scoring Salvatore and Joe Cocuzza grounded out, scoring Wells.

The Bucs were limited to just three hits in the game.

Versus Nutley, the game was a pitchers duel for four innings, with Belleville holding a 1-0 lead. The Bucs scored in the first when Spina singled, stole second base and moved to third on a fielding error. Andy DuHaime walked and Mike Mel-ham hit a sacrifice fly to score Spina.

Although Belleville was the home team in the game, the contest was held at the Nutley Oval because the Bucs' home field was wet from the continuous rains last week.

Ferruggia pitched for Belleville and hurled four innings of shutout ball. However, Nutley scored three times in the top of the fifth to take its first lead of the game. The Bucs scored once in the last of the fifth to narrow the Raider lead to 3-2.

Mike Capasso, Spina and Wells all walked to lead the bases. Andy DuHaime then hit a sac fly to score Capasso.

Nutley scored three more runs in the sixth off Ferruggia. Jim DuHaime relieved in the sixth and finished the game for the Bucs.

Belleville narrowed the lead to 6-5 in the last of the sixth. Mike

Tennis team playing hard in NNJIL action

Undaunted by a winless conference record, the Belleville tennis team has been playing well against some very strong teams. The Bucs were 4-6 overall entering this week's action and were 0-10 in NNJIL Pacific Division play.

Belleville concluded its regular season yesterday with a match against Becton Regional High School.

Head coach Tony Salese has seen a lot of good in this year's performance.

"We've faced some very good teams in the NNJIL," the coach said. "We were only shutout once so far this season, which is encouraging considering we were shutout in our last nine conference matches last season. Troy Hickey has played very well at third singles and Sam Na has done well at second singles. The entire team has played well. We've been pretty competitive."

Hickey, a senior, was 15-5 heading into the final week of the performance.

Murphy, Italiano, Pizzi, Puleo named cheering captains

Cheerleading advisor Carol Russo has announced her captains and co-captains for the 1990-91 school year. The four girls were selected after some very competitive tryouts were held at Belleville High School.

Seniors Jenna Murphy and Danielle Italiano were named captains and Michele Pizzi and Ceryll Puleo were selected as co-captains.

The tryouts were held a few weeks ago. The judges are not associated in any way with Belleville High School. There are many attributes to being named a captain or co-captain and all four girls seemed proud of their accomplishments.

"The tryouts were pretty tough," Pizzi said. "We took turns being captain during the tryouts. The (judges) looked for a lot of things, such as leadership qualities."

"Grades were real important, too," Italiano, a four year member, said. "You have to have at least a 'C' average to be on the team. If you get a 'D' in any subject, you're suspended and have to get note signed from the teacher to get back on. If you fail a course, you're off the team."

During the captain tryouts, the girls were required to make up their own cheer.

"We were all a little nervous," Murphy, a four year member of the squad said. "There was a lot of hard work involved with the tryout. Sometimes, I don't think people realize the amount of time that goes into cheering."

The four new leaders were anxious for their first team meeting, which was held last Friday afternoon.

"We want to tell all the girls what's expected," Puleo, another four year member, said. "We have to choreograph a new dance for the fall and there's a lot of cheers to learn. We'll be starting practice pretty soon for the football season."

The dance, which is performed either before the game or at halftime, is something the girls take a great deal of pride in. As Puleo mentioned, the captains and co-captains are in charge of choreographing the routine.

There are 20 girls on the '90-'91 squad. Sixteen girls will cheer, with two serving as alternates. Another two girls will miss the fall campaign due to commitments to a fall sport, then will return for the winter campaign.

By far, football is the favorite sport of the four senior leaders. Although the girls do not see much of the game while cheering, "we're facing the stands during the game, so we only get a few glances at the field," Italiano said, they follow the results carefully.

"We should have beaten Nutley last year," Puleo said, referring to the Bucs' 6-0 defeat to the Raiders on Thanksgiving Day, 1989.

"It makes it so much better when we win," Pizzi said. "All the games are fun. Hopefully, the team can win a few more this season."

"Football is enjoyable because there are big crowds at the game," Murphy said. "The night games are especially fun. The crowds are usually bigger. I remember the Bloomfield game last year (played at Belleville at night). It's always a big game when we play a rival like Bloomfield or Nutley."

The girls explained that before they become cheerleaders, there is an extensive rule book, written by Russo, to read. Their parents must

Wandering leads Advantage with two goals slipping in

The Belleville Soccer Association's Division II Advantage played at Caldwell Sunday, May 13, and came home with another victory, as the weather played havoc with the spectators and players.

The Advantage squad took 25 minutes to score the first goal with Jim Wandering breaking away from double-team coverage, netting his 11th of the season. Both coaches and fans knew that a 1-0 score would not win this game, because both teams were quite adept in efficiently using their wings to get the offensive plays going.

The 2nd half had some fine slide tackling by both squads as the showmen quickly turned into a downpour. Slippery field conditions caused Caldwell to commit a foul in the box in the 5th minute. Belleville's premier penalty kicker, Frank Crocco, stepped to the line for a shot from the "12" and made the 2-0 score. Several minutes later, Caldwell managed to get on the board with a well-placed shot from 20-plus yards over heavy traffic, making the score 2-1.

The Advantage was somewhat stunned as this was only the 2nd goal the team has given up all season. After re-grouping, the defensive unit of Crocco, Chris Jaworski, Manny Araujo, Greg Delmotte, Tony Silva and goalie Chris Mazurkiewicz went to work and shut down the on-going offensive drives of Caldwell. Belleville countered offensively with Jim Wandering scoring his 2nd of the game on a fine combination of assists from Daren Lewis and Stan Saja.

Several minutes later, Saja scored his 8th of the season, giving Belleville a comfortable 4-1 lead. The offensive unit of Brian Travers, Lou DePasquale, Luis Ferreira and Pedrag Pruvlovic continued to move the ball into Caldwell territory and did a commendable job of keeping the pressure on Caldwell.

The game finally ended at 4-1. Belleville has outscored the competition 32-2 and is looking to take the Division title with two games left to play.

Advantage players tie New Providence Harriers

Belleville Soccer Association's Division II Advantage team continued on the unbeaten track as it tied the New Providence Harriers 2-2 at the Belleville Municipal Stadium. Both teams were undefeated going into this game and both were trying to gain sole possession of 1st place and a possible flight championship.

New Providence muscled its way onto the scoreboard with a fine shot 25 yards out at the 20th minute of the 1st half. This was the first time that a Belleville opponent scored first. The Advantage came back strong with a well-placed corner kick by Brian Travers for a perfect header by Jim Wandering to notch the score at 1-1. The 2nd half was played with aggressiveness as both teams mounted numerous charged, with Belleville going on top on a fine pass from Wandering to Stan Saja.

The Harriers did not give up and put pressure on Belleville's scrambling defense which was playing without sweeper Frank Crocco. Midway through the 2nd half, New Providence brought the ball down the left side and was trapped, but the ball managed to get into the right side of the goal area and was rolled in by an open Harrier player to tie the score at 2-2.

Fine performances were turned in by Daren Lewis, Luis Pereira, Chris Ricci, Lou DePasquale, Javier Suarez, Pedrag Pruvlovic, Greg Delmotte, Manny Araujo, Tony Silva and Chris Jaworski. Chris Mazurkiewicz recorded 11 saves including a stop of a penalty kick and broke up several one-on-one situations.

The Advantage has one game remaining against Westfield. If the team can record a win, a playoff game would have to be played against New Providence in order to determine the flight champion.

Wants drug profits used for rehabilitation

Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio, in a letter to New Jersey Attorney General Robert Del Tufo, asked for legislation that would allow monies confiscated from drug dealers to be used for drug rehabilitation and treatment programs.

Currently, state law allows money and assets confiscated by law enforcement agencies to be used for general law enforcement purposes.

"Our legislators had the for-sight to give us the tools to go after the tremendous profits and assets acquired by drug dealers," said Sheriff D'Alessio. "This revenue has proven to be a boom for law enforcement as the search continues to find new ways to fund the fight against drugs."

"However, the time has come to take a more direct role regarding the medical and societal causes of drug addiction and look at new avenues of research for treatment and prevention of drug abuse," D'Alessio stated in his letter.

"Successful narcotic rehabilitation programs will help to significantly reduce the number of compulsive and casual drug users," he added.

"I am convinced that a redirection of funds in this area will pay great dividends," the sheriff said.

take it. They can get into a car and in 30 seconds cut the wire on an alarm system." Even with a steering wheel lock, which many people use to protect their cars, they can just break the steering wheel column, Fraone said.

The most popular kind of cars to steal seem to be 1989 Camaros. The hardest kind of cars to steal are the new Fords as they have a steel plate covering the steering wheel and cannot be turned on without an ignition key, said Fraone.

"It comes down to drugs. Most teenagers steal cars to buy drugs," Tortorello said.

Beresford discusses dept.

Beresford anticipates his department will need a Quint, which is a multipurpose aerial ladder. Such an addition he calculates will cost anywhere from $300,000 to $400,000.

One thing Beresford likes about being chief is that there are many resourceful men working under his direction. Each fireman is knowledgeable about how to deal with different kinds of problems that arise. Some of the men are plumbers or electricians and can be used to handle different problems. Sometimes an oil burner will malfunction and fill a house with smoke. In this case a fireman with plumbing skills can go into the house and correct the problem with that boiler. "I can always call on one of the men if I get into a jam," says Beresford.

Beresford, who has 72 men working under him, says fire fighting has become more dangerous.

Beresford says his wife and two children are excited about his new position as fire chief, for two reasons: Now he will not have to confront the everyday dangers firemen face at every fire; and also, his new job will be "strictly 8 to 5," rather than the rotating shifts of the past 17 years. It's a change they will all get used to rather quickly.

Zoners' alternative

allow the owners to erect two-family houses on their property they did pass a resolution which allowed for the sub-division on which the applicant could build two one-family houses.

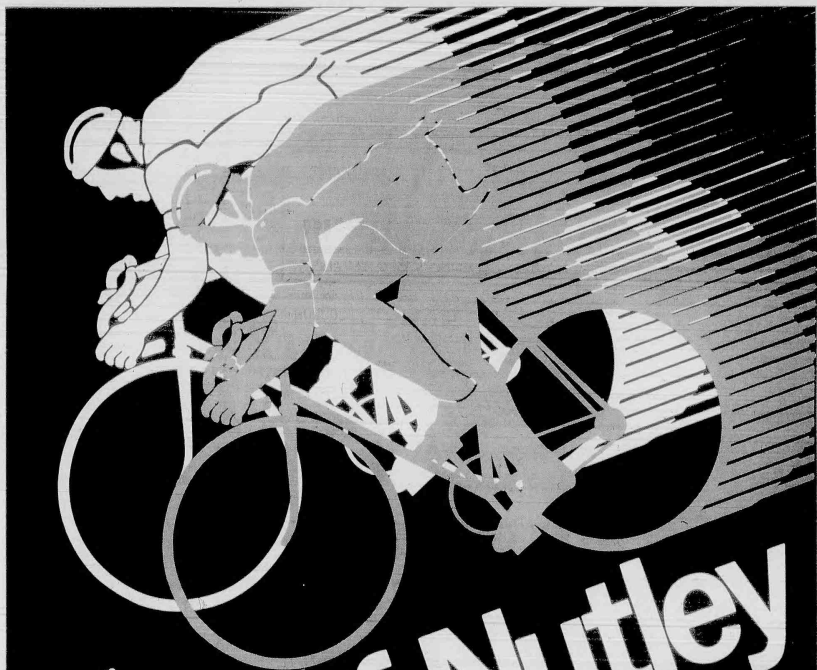

Had the variance to build the two-family houses been approved, it would have granted the builders "special permission" to construct houses in an area of Belleville that is zoned for only one-family houses. The board questioned the building's height. DiMaggio stated that although he did not know the exact height, it would not exceed 35 ft.

Fred Austin objected that the new structure might dwarf other houses in the neighborhood, including his own. Austin approximated that his own home did not exceed 25 feet in height.

In order to permit such a variance, the zoning board would have needed to discern "special reasons" for doing so. In this instance, there were not sufficient reasons, according to the board's lawyer, John Campell. The board's decision was based, in part, on a concern that the area was already too congested with too many cars on its roads. According to the application, the proposed two-family houses would have had two separated garages with driveways for several families.

In other business, the board referred the Mobil convenience store application back to the planning board.

PRAYER OF APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit who you solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you in Eternal Glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor request will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor, only your initials should appear at the bottom. G.L.T.

Realtors plan fundraiser for cancer-stricken girl

The Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors is planning a benefit softball game on June 24 at 2 p.m. at Owens Field in Nutley.

The Realtors will play the WNEW FM all-star football team. Food will be sold and there will be plenty of fun and games.

All monies raised will be donated by the Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville Board of Realtors to the Tishna Rollo Fund.

Tishna is a resident of Glen Ridge suffering from a rare form of cancer, called Wilms' Tumor.

Be sure to listen to WNEW FM radio, as the date approaches. For more information about the event, or to purchase admission tickets, contact the Board of Realtors' office at 743-5114.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

Keep receipts and cancelled checks for all home improvements and remodeling jobs. These capital improvements are added to the basic price of your home and can save on income taxes in the future.

If holes in wallboard are more than a few inches wide, it's best to repair them by cutting a new rectangle around the hole and then filling in the space with a scrap of wallboard cut to fit.

Homes look more spacious when areas flow into one another. Color can do the trick if, for instance, wood floorboards are stained to match carpeting or tile flooring in adjoining rooms.

Squeaking in wood floors occurs when floor or subflooring has worked loose. Renailing with threaded nails that hold better should help. Drive them into the beams or joists, not just the subflooring.

"Closing" or "settlement" is the last step in buying a home. That's when you sign for your mortgage, make the down payment, and actually take title to the house.

We know the language of real estate, and we're happy to translate for you. Whether you're buying your first house or selling the family homestead, you can count on our knowhow at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
