Veteran police officers retirement party tonight

Two 32-year Belleville Police Department veterans will be honored at a retirement party being held tonight, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus on Bridge St. Deputy Chief Hank Oliveri and Officer Carmen "Coke" Pedalino were appointed to the Belleville Police Department at the same time on January 5, 1958.

Deputy Chief Hank Oliveri was one of the first two original members of Belleville's first narcotics squad in the early 1960's and received numerous commendations for his work. He was promoted to sergeant June 2, 1969, then lieutenant March 20, 1973.

Oliveri was also a member of the Belleville pistol team and a firearms instructor. He was promoted to captain October 28, 1975, and then deputy chief April 4, 1983. He retired January 1.

Police officer Carmen "Coke" Pedalino retired March 1. He had served in the patrol and traffic division and received numerous commendations for his quick police work. He was a U.S. Army veteran.

Pedalino's roused 11 people from an early morning fire at a Van Renessler apartment house in 1967. In 1970, he rescued a young woman from a vehicle submerged in the Passaic River.

"Coke", as he was commonly known, was well-liked and well-known along Washington Ave. during his tour in traffic enforcement.

Tickets, which are still available for tonight's dinner, are $20. For more information, contact the Belleville Police Department at 450-3333.

Gift of information stretches across generations of learning

By Anthony Buccino
When John and June Petro graduated Belleville High School in 1941, little did they dream that nearly 50 years later they would be sitting in their old high school library after gifting their private collection of almost 200 years worth of National Geographic Magazines to the Belleville Middle School Library.

"It's amazing, the wealth of information in these magazines," said BMS librarian Miriam Chesner. "We push the use of magazines at the early age," she said of the 7th and 8th grade middle school, "as adults they will rely on a awful lot on magazines for information. Here, they're learning how to get the most from a magazine."

The library acquired accompanying National Geographic article index books to enable the students to find the subject and articles from among the nearly 250 back issues donated by the Petros. It will help them locate information for their many reports.

Each department will use the magazines for different sources," said Vincent D'Antoni, a 22-year veteran science teacher at the school. For instance, he explained, if a history class is studying Iran, they can look in the index and find articles and maps about Iran.

"These magazines will be very useful when the students write reports about drug awareness," D'Antoni said. For that separate report, the students can use these magazines to learn about the different countries that export drugs and the problems they cause internationally, he added.

"Right now, these students," D'Antoni said pointing to his class visiting the library, "are researching the ecology and writing reports about saving the earth. These books provide a monthly history of our efforts not only in America but world-wide."

John Petro studied mechanical engineering in the basement of what is now the middle school. He went on from there to the Newark College of Engineering, now NJIT, and worked for Westinghouse until his retirement three years ago in 1987.

June Petro was surprised that he has been retired only 3 years. "It seems like 30 years," she kidded. She, too, worked after high school, then became a "home engineer" maintaining their house and raising their two children.

"I've always hated to throw things out," she said, and the magazines are in great condition.

"I read them, then stack them in the bookcase in the basement," John Petro said. "It's a great place for all my books because I've always got a dehumidifier going."

"I've got a road map from one of the gas stations, back when they used to give them away, it's from 1939. The funny thing about it is that there are hardly any roads on that map. There's the Bloomfield Ave. and Route 46 to Pennsylvania, and Route 23 to High Point, and Route 17 up to New York. The only roads to the shore are back roads," Petro said.

"When we were freshmen here, the boys' gym addition was just 2 years old," he added.

"John can remember his homeroom," June Petro said, "I can't. I couldn't find my room when I was going to school here."

"There was a homeroom here in the library," John said, "we didn't use the library very much, we always went to the public library."

"Whenever we had a vacation trip planned," John said, "we would always dig out the National Geographic that had an article about the country. We've been to Italy, England, and Scotland, and before we went, we read up on the countries and looked at the maps. It made the trip much more enjoyable."

"These magazines have information on almost any subject," John said, still amazed at the mountain of knowledge he and June were able to pass along to the students at Belleville Middle School.

"I've kept the last year's worth of magazines at home," John confessed, June nodded. "I've promised that if I don't read them in the next year, I will bring them down here to the library for the students."

"You've all heard President George Bush talking about 'a thousand points of light'?" D'Antoni asked his class. "Well, here are two points of light, two people who are sharing their beacon with you with their generous gift of the knowledge and information stored in these classic magazines."

More parking included

Construction to begin on Public Safety Bldg.

The township will begin its second 150 years with a new Public Safety Building Complex at a cost estimated at $5,395,000 following the official groundbreaking ceremony held May 31. The town has received $181,400 in community block development grants to provide an elevator and handicapped accessibility in a link between the existing Town Hall on Washington Ave. and the new Public Safety building.

General construction of the project is expected to get under way in a few weeks according to M. Jockers Vincentsen of Vincentsen Consulting Inc., the company hired by the commissioners to supervise the construction project.

Vincentsen said that the asbestos removal must be completed from the Town Hall and an oil tank removed. Once those current projects are completed, construction is imminent, he said.

He said he is working with police chief George Lister to resolve some of the parking problems before they develop on the site.

Lister said he has been in contact with several local businesses to provide parking for township employees in order to keep the shoppers' metered parking available.

Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni pointed to two properties the township is in the process of acquiring across from the location of the new complex. He identified the properties as 69 Belleville Ave. and 31 Valley St. He said it was up to the township attorney to close on the two properties.

Township attorney Frank Cozzarelli said that June 15 had been set as a closing date on the property located at 69 Belleville Ave. The closing date for the other property was yet to be determined, he said.

Frantantoni said that final arrangements were being made to tear down a garage behind the Juvenile Hall on Belleville Ave. The demolition would make room for the construction trailers and heavy equipment that will be needed during construction.

In addition to the parking on the east side of the new building, Fran-tantoni said, the township has received a $105,000 grant from the county to repave and widen Valley St. from Belleville Ave. to Rutgers St. He said that would add approximately 20 more parking spaces.

When all construction is completed, he said, the parking area on the north side of Town Hall will be an ingress only and will exit onto Valley St. This will relieve much congestion on Washington Ave., he said. Neglia Engineering is working on the project now, he said. When they finish their engineering work, the project will be ready to go out for bids, he said.

In a release issued by the commissioner's office, Frantantoni indicated that as the police vacate the existing town hall, the intention is to incorporate the town's engineering and construction code departments into the renovated building.

Father Ward celebrates ten years in priesthood

Father Gary C. Ward, formerly of Belleville, will observe his 10th anniversary in the priesthood with a concelebrated Mass of Thanksgiving at noon on June 10 at St. Stephen's Church, 676 Kearny Ave., Kearny.

A Belleville High School Graduate, Father Ward was ordained May 31, 1980, after studies at Seton Hall University and Immaculate Conception Seminary.

Rev. Ward in the coordinator of 7th and 8th grade Religious Education Program and Confirmation Program. He is also the moderator of the Elementary Religious Education Program and High School Youth Group.

As chairman of St. Stephen's Liturgy Committee, Father Ward coordinates all parish liturgical services. He also serves as director of the parish Pre-Cana Program and as an advocate for the Archdiocese's Marriage Tribunal.

Father Ward graduated Holy Family School in Nutley in 1968, then attended Essex Catholic High School for one year, and graduated from Belleville High School in 1972.

He served his first year as a priest in Holy Trinity Church in Westfield, he then moved to St. Michael's Church in Cranford, and then served at Madonna Church in Ft. Lee. He has been at St. Stephen's for four years.

A reception is scheduled in the church hall following the Mass.

Father Gary C. Ward

PBA Golf Outing Monday

The fourth annual Belleville PBA Local 28 Golf Outing will begin at 10:30 a.m. Monday, June 11 at the Forest Hill Field Club in Bloomfield, according to PBA President Tony Wieners.

A barbecue lunch starts at 11 a.m. and duffers will take the course with a "shotgun" start at 12:30 and hit 18 holes before dinner.

Donation for the fall-day affair including the barbecue, golf, carts, lockers, cocktail hour and dinner is $150, dinner only is $75.

For more information, contact Belleville Police headquarters at 450-3333.

VOLUMES OF KNOWLEDGE SHARED - BHS grads, class of '41, June and John Petro recently donated more than 200 back issues of National Geographic Magazine to the Belleville Middle School Library. Here, June and John, left, discuss the many ways the resource material will be tapped with BMS librarian Miriam Chesner, science teacher Vincent D'Antoni, and 8th grader Keith Dovicic. ## Belleville POLICE BEAT

Eric Poole, 40, of Newark was charged with shoplifting a K-Mart last Friday evening. Store security reported that they observed Poole concealing 10 tubes of tooth paste and 16 packages of men's underwear on his person. The estimated value of the merchandise was $114.62. Poole was brought to police headquarters and charged, then released on his own recognizance. He is scheduled to appear in municipal court August 1.

A 1989 Chevrolet Celebrity reported stolen June 1 from in front of a Union Ave. address was recovered later the same day by Belleville Police.

A 14-year old Newark youth was charged with shoplifting from a Belmont Ave. supermarket June 1 at about 10 p.m. Store security observed the youth attempting to leave the store without paying for a carton of cigarettes. The youth, described as 153 lbs., and 6' tall was turned over to Belleville Police. After being charged, the youth was later released to his parents.

A Belleville youth was relieved of his bus pass by a suspect described as a black male, 20 years old, with a slim build, wearing an Afro hairstyle, a white shirt, blue pants and a tie. The youth told police that the man approached him at the bus stop and asked to see the boy's bus pass. The suspect then confiscated the pass and told the youth it was bogus. Belleville police have contacted the supervisor at the Big Tree NJT garage, and transit officials are investigating.

An Academy St. resident reported that she left her pocketbook on a chair near an open door in her apartment and when she returned, she found it missing. The bag contained assorted personal property including various credit cards.

Employees at the Krausz's store on Franklin St. reported a shoplifter June 3. Employees said that a white male, about 6' tall, wearing blue sweat pants and a shirt, walked to the freezer and took a frozen cheeseburger and cheese and stated he wasn't paying for it. The suspect then exited the store and got into a vehicle being driven by a female and headed north on N. 8th st.

A Franklin St. Krausz's employee reported a robbery June 4. According to the report, the suspect, described as a hispanic male, took a gallon of milk and said he wasn't going to pay for it. He then picked up assorted cakes and pies and threw them at the store employee. The suspect was last seen in a 1982 or 1984 Oldsmobile Cutlass heading east on Heller Parkway.

An attempted burglary was reported at Star Caterers on Newark Ave. June 2. According to the report an attempt was made to force open the rear door of the business. The door sustained damage but no entry was reported.

A portable word processor was reported stolen from a car parked on Brighton Ave. June 1. The owner observed the passenger side door had been vandalized and the word processor missing.

The owner of a 1986 Ford Bronco parked on Washington Ave. reported his stereo radio was stolen May 23.

A 1985 Dodge Lancer reported stolen from a Watchung Ave. parking lot May 22 was recovered in Newark May 23.

A circular saw and a screw gun valued at about $400 were reported stolen from a pickup truck on Prospect Ave.

Sirrow Johnson, 18 of Newark was held on $500 bail after he was charged May 22 with operating an unregistered vehicle.

Belleville police announced new, tougher penalties for drivers who pass a stopped school bus or illegally park in a handicapped designated space. The minimum mandatory penalty for first time offenders convicted of passing a stopped school bus while its flashers designate it is loading or unloading, is a $100 fine and 1-15 days in jail, plus 5 points on the driver's license.

The penalty for illegally parking in a handicapped designated space is $25 under the town ordinance and $50 under state law for the first offense. New, increased penalties are impending for illegally parking in handicapped spots.

County executive candidate meets with senior citizens

Sheriff Tom D'Alessio, Democratic candidate for Essex County executive, recently met with more than 20 of the county's senior citizen leaders to find out how, once elected, he can provide more efficient services for this segment of the community.

"You comprise the fastest-growing segment of our population," D'Alessio said, according to a press statement.

"That is why I've asked for you to share with me the concerns and issues that confront our elderly population today. Your needs have changed over the years, and the services you now receive must be reviewed, expanded and updated."

Senior Chester Bryant, who traveled by bus from Newark to the Bloomfield Civic Center, where the forum was held, said he had several concerns: exploitation, mobility, business affairs, and loneliness.

County assessors install officers

The Essex County Assessors Association installed their new officers at a luncheon meeting held in Newark, May 17.

Robert Gaccione, Essex County Tax Board Commissioner, issued the oath of office to all incoming officers. Beginning their two year terms are: President James Gibbs of Irvington; Vice President Joseph Frisina of Newark; Treasurer Edward T. Coll of S. Orange; Secretary George Librizzi of Cedar Grove.

Outgoing president John Murray of Milburn and past secretary Evelyn Lacitello were presented with plaques for their dedication to service to the association.

Edith Wayne, a Bloomfield resident for 35 years, said senior programs in her town were limited. She would like to see them expanded.

"We have to visit other towns for activities," she said.

A Verona resident said seniors' needs include housing, home care, and more security.

D'Alessio told the seniors of his awareness of the need for more security, and described ongoing activities of his department. He shared with them ways they can increase safety at home and on the streets.

D'Alessio said he would give senior concerns priority attention.

"The next county executive must bring an efficient and cost-effective system of delivery of services to you. We will cut duplication of efforts and spend less on the administration of programs," he said.

"We will look at senior health care, day care, transportation, housing, recreation, safety and companionship."

In addition, the candidate said, "With leadership, we can create public/private partnerships that will benefit our older residents. And we can help one another."

D'Alessio cautioned the seniors as to future program funding, saying, "The hope of increased funding for all services is if dim."

"We will take a fresh look at home and family structures and support. We will look at old policies and design new ones," he promised.

"I want to communicate to the public a sense of obligation for seniors. They have made numerous contributions. They have taught us, raised us. I want Essex residents to respect your accomplishments."

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The great debacle of the savings and loan scandal had been looming for years without touching unsuspecting depositors. Banking rogues and swindlers paraded across the business pages and through the courts, accused of looting large sums. Lax state and federal regulators failed to figure out what was happening, and casual politicians indifferently looked the other way, while accepting millions in campaign contributions. Like the sums involved, the scandal was too big and abstract for most people to grasp or understand.

In recent weeks an uneasy chill of a spreading slump in housing prices suggests that the S&L (Savings and Loan) problem had a great role in this huge loss in real money, and how can it be repaid? There is talk of a credit crunch, maybe a recession? How is it going to affect all of us?

The answers are depressing, and getting worse as the price tag ratchets up. The scandal was by any measure the worst in U.S. history, a 10-year loss of $250 billion that was stolen or wasted and must be repaid. That's $1,000 for every man, woman and child in America, not counting the interest that we will go on paying for the next 40 years.

It is an unfair drain on honest citizens to pay the piper for knaves and fools, and it will hit the young and poor harder than the old and rich. The bill will be a drag on the economy and could trigger recession. It will curb our standard of living. We will feel it most in choices we must forgo: roads and clinics unbuild, educational programs untried, job retraining that won't happen. And the victims are all of us, from the low-income residents evicted from a Phoenix housing project to the unborn children who will still be paying the tax bill four decades hence.

The S&L scandal is only part of a mountain of bad debt that lawmakers have allowed to pile up in recent decades. There is an additional $100 billion to $150 billion to be written off in government-guaranteed loans to millions of private interests. Worst of all, the nation's commercial banks may be next in line. Like the $945 billion in S&L deposits, their $2.5 trillion deposits are unconditionally guaranteed by Uncle Sam. Many banks are playing out a script remarkably like the follies of the S&Ls, to much the same official indifference. If their watchdog, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., were to close all the ailing banks it is now permitting to operate, its $14 billion insurance fund might be exhausted overnight. Official Washington scoffs there's nothing to worry about — "The FDIC is not in question," a Treasury aide suggested, but outside experts dispute that.

Ray Dan Brumbaugh, the Stanford economist who first predicted the S&L collapse, says, "The administration and Congress just don't want to acknowledge the problem. This is deja vu all over again. You can't believe it's happening, but there it is."

The huge sums destined to be sucked down the drain by the S&L crisis ($250 billion) could easily fund some of the country's biggest wish lists. As follows: Defense: Cover cuts slated for the next five years or buy 132 B-2 bombers, 40 Aegis cruisers and 100 Seawolf submarines. Education: Fully fund every existing government program from preschool through college — for the next four years.

Health care: Provide universal insurance and long-term care for the elderly and disabled for nearly four years. Environment: Fund a 20-year coast-to-coast project to tackle the country's mounting hazardous-waste problem. Infrastructure: Overhaul the nation's water systems, repair all bridges and have money left over to start fixing the highways.

Operators wreaked the damage: Taking advantage of permissive rules, inept regulators and trusting depositors, S&L wheelers-dealers prospered by sinking other people's savings into high-risk real-estate speculations.

The government's bailout agency is still having trouble selling and closing S&L's and peddling foreclosed real estate and the Resolution Trust Corp. got permission to mark down some 30,000 properties by up to 20 percent.

Craig Wagner to preach at Belleville Assembly of God

Evangelist Craig Wagner will be on hand for revival services being held Sunday, June 10 through Thursday, June 14, at the Belleville Assembly of God church, 174-178 Holmes St. Two services will be held Sunday, one at 10:45 a.m. and one at 7 p.m. Weeknight services will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Wagner is an anointed minister who has served as an evangelist to more than 150 churches throughout northeastern United States. He appeared recently as a guest on the 700 Club television show, and is now the 1990 Northern New England District Evangelist for the Assemblies of God churches.

Wagner is a graduate of Valley Forge Christian College, Wheaton College Graduate School and currently is matriculating at Temple University for his Ph.D.

"Rev. Wagner ministers as a uniquely qualified speaker from both a theoretical and practical perspective," according to Rev. Anthony Di Quattro, pastor at the Belleville Assembly of God church. "Friends, come and experience an encounter with Christ through the dynamic ministry of evangelist Craig Wagner."

For more information about the evangelist's visit, call 759-2527 or 667-6483.

'Repair the earth'

Repair the earth. It's as simple as planting a tree. That's the advice Mrs. Waldron's third grade class at St. Peter's School has taken to heart, with the enthusiastic encouragement of principal Sr. Pat.

The class planted a 5 ft. Dogwood tree April 27 at the front of the school building as its contribution toward Global Releaf, a national tree planting program.

The tree planting was made possible through the generous cooperation of Mr. Bob Young, president of Young Landscaping in Fairfield.

OUR OPINION

The $119.99 shovel

Following last Thursday's official groundbreaking ceremony for the Public Safety Complex addition to Town Hall, Mayor Pizzi, who had about 30 days left in office stood holding the shining spade. What got our attention was not how brightly the spade glistened after the ceremony, but a sticky piece of paper just below the handle.

We thought we were reading wrong. Sometimes, we thought, we can mistake an item's inventory number for a price tag. That happens on fruit, like 2249 on oranges, $22.49 is a lot to pay for oranges; we wouldn't buy them for that much money. The oranges would rot before we spent our money on them. But we are usually able to find the price of oranges in big numbers above the carousel, out in the open and easy to see.

That's all fine for oranges, but what we saw on that spade in the mayor's hand, bothered us. It looked like a price tag for 11999. That would be a lot of money to spend for a shovel, even one as shiny as the mayor held. Could it be that the shiny spade the mayor held had cost $119.99?

If we figure that the spade is as expensive as the rest of the complex, then what's $119.99 when compared to $5,395,000. Oh, let's not compare apples and oranges.

When we asked the mayor if that was actually the price, he said it was, but that it wasn't an ordinary shovel. This is a special shovel, he told us. It goes in a display case we're going to have built in Town Hall, he said. We're going to put all our names on it, you know, the names of the people who put this whole thing together, he said.

We were relieved that the township didn't squander $119.99 for a shovel for our parks department people to dig holes, even though the parks department people are probably deserving of the best quality material to dig the best possible holes to plant some trees or other such important job. They could probably buy quite a few shovels for $119.99.

But, (there's always a but) one thing bothers us about this $119.99 shovel business, it's that none of the present commissioners will be in office when the public safety complex is completed in a year or so. Their terms expire in less than a month, you know. But as for people in power to order a $119.99 spade engraved with names on it of people who contributed, we wonder who will type out the list when the engraver calls for it.

Do the commissioners plan to have it engraved now and store it in some secret cavity in town like the Dead Sea Scrolls, then amazingly surface with the shovel already engraved with their names in when the project is complete?

Well, as most people know, a new council will be sitting in Town Hall as of noon July 1. And those people don't wax lightly the thriftless spending taking place in the last days of Pompei. Oh, you could point to the savings they sought when then limited the invitations to the groundbreaking. Seven new council people were not invited, nor were they notified of the groundbreaking, except through idle rumors. Look at the postage and fax money saved there!

We asked a few of the new council people why they were not at the official groundbreaking of the $5,395,000 public safety complex, and we were told that they were not invited.

They were more polite than we would have been. They didn't go where they were not invited. They weren't paying for the shovel, and nobody bought coffee or doughnuts, so why show up where you're not welcome. It's not their bag of nickels yet.

Perhaps, on July 2, we'll see the new council parade to the garden center where the spade was purchased, and ask for our money back.

Oh, the council will be reasonable, they'll allow for depreciation for nicks and scratches, but with a little luck and some smart talking, they ought to be able to get our tax money back.

Then, next year, if anyone wants his name on a spade in a display case in Town Hall, he should donate the shovel and the cost of engraving, and the plaque should read something to the effect, Belleville Public Safety Complex, paid for by the taxpayers of Belleville.

Thank you very much.

Continue funding

Alice Ricci, executive director of the Community Mental Health Administration, recently used the forum of Mental Health Month of May to call attention to the problems of the dually diagnosed youth, i.e. young people suffering from both substance abuse and emotional disturbance.

We wish to echo her concern before the month ends. There is after all no end in sight for the problem.

One problem she notes is there are few programs designed to help those people.

Many of them, because their requirements are complex and serious, become involved in the criminal justice system: There, their problems are compounded.

More research is needed in this area, but as Ricci points out there will be the temptation to withdraw support because of the difficult economic problems about to surface.

We trust the state government will not yield to that temptation and continue to fund mental health at anyway its present levels.

YOUR OPINION

'I am what I am'

To the editor:

Please accept this as an open letter to the good citizens of Belleville, as well as to you, as editor.

May I extend my sincere personal thanks to those 2,400 citizens who believed in me and who cast their votes for me on May 8th. To those most gracious property-owners who allowed me to place a campaign sign on their property, my deepest gratitude. To those campaign workers who stayed loyal to the end, my heartfelt appreciation. To those friends who stayed loyal as true friends always do, my everlasting friendship. To my family who have stayed by me and supported me, and tolerated me through these six campaigns now, my love beyond words. You have demonstrated what 'family' is all about.

The Belleville voters, that approximately 40% of the eligible voters who actually voted, spoke out for 'change', loud and clear. Some political Monday-morning-quarterbacks have suggested that any 'family name' didn't stand a chance because the desire for 'change' was so complete.

To that extent, the election was a success since none of the incumbents who ran for re-election were re-elected. Belleville has rid itself of its recent three year embarrassment, Belleville now has its change!

Belleville now has a chance for a newer and brighter future. Hopefully, the seven newly elected council persons will put service beyond self and make that brighter future a reality. I wish them their best possible success potential.

I have lost again. I am down, but don't you even begin to think that I am OUT. I am very much IN, IN as the conscience of the would-be wheeler-dealer politicians. IN, as the outspoken friend of the underdog, and critic of self-serving dictatorial so-called 'public servants' who bring disdain to the name.

The political experts tell me, that my kind of personality will never get elected, you must be a 'go-along' to get 'along' person to succeed in Belleville politics. Well, I am what I am. Honesty and integrity are not just words to me, they are my life!

Gabriel A. Nazzola

Keep an eye on gov't.

To the editor:

My family and I extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our supporters who assisted us in my recent campaign for Councilman-at-Large. Although we were unsuccessful, we can all be proud of the fact that we ran a clean and honest campaign.

As a private citizen, I will continue to keep a vigilant eye on our municipal government and board of education, and I urge all our residents to do the same.

Best wishes to our new Town Council, to whom I pledge my support and offer my assistance. I will be looking forward to their fulfilling their campaign promises, especially the appointment of an outside, highly qualified, professional Town Manager.

Vincent J. Frantantoni

C.C.B. says thanks

To the editor:

At this time I want to take the opportunity to thank all those that were involved in making our Annual Dinner & Dance for the Belleville High School scholarship fund a success.

My committee, the people that attended and the Branch Brook Manor staff for their services.

Again I say thank you.

Joseph Celfo
President of Concerned Citizens of Belleville

The Archetypal man of the nineties

By Anthony Buccino

One Saturday, not too long ago, I helped my dear wife around the house. I didn't have much else to do, (forget about sleeping in, once the kids arrive, the honeymoon's over). I went something like this:

By the time I caught up with her, she had already, what she called, "stripped the bed" down to the mattress. I saw odd little designs in the quilt stitching I had never noticed before. We piled up the linen to bring it down to the washer.

"Okay, partner," she said, since I was helping out, "I'll get these dirty sheets downstairs and start the wash. While I'm gone, you can turn the mattresses over. Please be careful." She shook her head for some reason, "try not to knock over the lamp or the table."

Before I knew it, I had the mattress back on the box spring with all its lumps redistributed. I was admiring my work when she came in with the clean sheets. I recognized them immediately as the ones which, only the Saturday before, with the aplomb of a novice navy flagman, I had folded myself. As she unraveled them, I could quickly tell from their neatness that she had refolded everything after I had gone to sleep.

Getting the clean sheets to lie placidly on the bed was the real challenge of helping out. I've remodeled basements and cleaned the winter muck out of our house's leaders and gutters — but those chores are a Saturday afternoon nap compared to making a bed.

"Fold it over...no, flip it...no, that side comes to me — and that end goes down at the bottom." The kids in "Cabbage Patch" were doing handstands and head stands until I could get the sheet going the right way.

"Stretch the elastic part onto the corner."

Hmmm, that's easy enough, I can see it's not because I'm so much stronger than my wife; I just saved her manicure and now her fingernails won't have to be wrapped.

"Next comes the top sheet," she said, as she flipped my half of the sheet across the bed. We tried to get our corners to billow in sync. It took the utmost coordination on my part. I wondered how she could ever do this alone.

"Over again, you've got it upside down," she said. "No, that dull side faces up. THAT is the bright side. Do you have enough there to tuck in?"

"Sure do," I muttered, this work was getting to me.

"Send some back here, I can't tuck any in. Now fold over the top, about this much. No! Don't start tucking the bottom. Wait a sec! Finish the fold on top. Now, we can do the bottom. Tuck in the bottom all across...yeah, that's it. Then fold it in like this, see? It's a hospital corner."

Whoever invented it, I thought, should be in a hospital.

"NO. No, like this. Watch. Fold it out, over — then tuck. Yeah, that's sort of it. Now, fold — no, tuck it in. That's it. You've got it! Great job! Now, reach behind you and grab the corner."

"The what?" I couldn't begin to imagine what I should be grabbing.

"To you, it's the bedspread." Now, SHE was beginning to mutter. "Not to anyone else...to anyone else, it's a comforter."

"Gotcha!" As I tried to sort out my corners from hers, I asked, "which way to these Cabbage Patch faces?"

"Towards the door."

"Won't the sun be in their eyes?"

"Don't give me a hard time, okay? I thought you wanted to help."

"I can't learn if I don't ask questions," I said as I thought of yet another question. "Are those stuffed animals well trained?"

"What are you talking about?"

"If this was MY job, I'd have those bears and — uh, whatever THAT is — trained to jump back on the bed when it's ready."

"That's very nice, dear, maybe with a lot of practice, you can do this job every day." She made the final tuck on the COMFORTER and said, "Now, let's to the kids' bed."

Making the bed got easier by the end of the morning. My wife was so proud of me, she was ready to rent me out to the other wives on the block. I was ready for lunch, then a nap. During lunch she suggested it would be a good day for me to caulk the tub, mow the lawn, fix the gutters and downspouts and tune up her car. I offered to read the classified section of the thin Saturday paper, to find myself a job from sun to sun on Saturdays — one that might last at least until the kids can help their mom around the house.

From the Governor's Desk

By Jim Florio
Governor

April ended with a spate of stories about my first hundred days in office — a tradition that dates back to Franklin Roosevelt. Some people compared my level of activity to FDR's, which was flattering.

But I know that the real test comes after the first hundred days. I will be judged by whether I've helped New Jersey to continue to be the place of opportunity for our children that it has been for us. FDR once said, "The people want action and they want action now." That was true when he took office 57 years ago and it's true today in New Jersey.

For too long we've put off dealing with major challenges. So I've put into effect a tough, new law to reform an unfair car insurance system that charged drivers too much and demanded too little from insurance companies. I've appointed the nation's first environmental prosecutor to crack down on polluters who endanger our drinking water, our air and our beautiful Jersey shore. And I've set out to cut out waste in government. Calling back state cars was just one step I took to make sure hardworking men and women get a dollar's worth of value for every dollar they send to Trenton.

And now I'm trying to put our state's finances in order. You can't spend what you don't have. Anyone who has put together a family budget knows that. But that's exactly what the state has been doing.

I've ended the runaway state spending spree by slashing two billion dollars from the budget. The budget I proposed is actually smaller than last year's. Every department is feeling the pinch and we've reluctantly had to cut some programs that, really, help people.

That has to happen so we can get our state back on sound financial footing; so we can maintain New Jersey as a state of opportunity.

At the heart of my proposal is a way to bring real property tax relief. High property taxes are forcing hardworking people out of the homes they built up over a lifetime. I want to change that.

Under my plan, families that earn less than $65,000 a year can get up to $300 in property tax relief, if the property tax they pay is more than five percent of their income. We'll finance this by increasing the state income tax for those most able to pay. For four out of five families in New Jersey that earn $70,000 a year that will mean no income tax increase at all. They won't pay a penny more.

This plan has led to another comparison: with Robin Hood. That's one with which I'll have to disagree. My proposal is not about stealing from the rich and giving to the poor. It's about helping the families squeezed in the middle, which happens to be most of us.

For too long, our state has made the middle class people pay the freight of out-of-control spending. It's time we cut the middle class a break.

Gov. Jim Florio

William M. Thompson headed print company

A Mass for William M. Thompson, 86, of Belleville, retired as the head of a printing firm, was offered May 31 in St. Mary's Church, Nutley. Services were held at the S.W. Brown & Son Funeral Home, Nutley.

Mr. Thompson, who died May 28 in his home, had been president of the Thompson Printing Co. in Belleville for 20 years before his retirement in 1983.

Earlier, he had been an advertising production manager with the Shell Oil Co. in New York City. Mr. Thompson served as a major in the Army during World War II.

He was a member of the Forest Hill Field Club in Bloomfield. Born in New York City, Mr. Thompson lived in Jersey City before moving to Belleville 42 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Genevieve; a daughter, Mrs. Janice McCarthy; a son, Gilbert; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Carroll; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

W. Vallance, 79

Services for William H. Vallance, 79, of Mantoloking, formerly of Belleville, were held May 30 in the All Saints Episcopal Church, Belleville. Arrangements were by the Weatherhead Young Funeral Home, Brick.

Mr. Vallance died May 25 in the Bethesda Memorial Hospital, Boynton Beach, Fla.

He was the owner and operator of the Sheffield Tool Manufacturing Co. and the Sheffield Precision Ceramic Inc., both in Kearny. He also was vice president of the Stewart Engineering Co. in Newark.

He was a member of the Wilkins Eureka Lodge 39 of F & AM and a charter member of the Kearny Rotary Club.

Born in England, he lived in Belleville before moving to Mantoloking.

Surviving are his wife, Barbara; two sons, Geoffrey and William; a daughter, Mrs. Elaine Pfoff; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Ida Rossi, 57

A Mass for Mrs. Ida Rossi, 57, of Belleville was offered June 5 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Rossi died June 1 in the Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

She worked for the Franklin Dry Cleaners in Belleville for 12 years before retiring in 1979. Prior to that, she was a machine operator of the Peerless Tube Co. in Bloomfield for eight years.

Born in Newark, she lived in Belleville for most of her life.

Surviving are her husband, Edward T.; two daughters, Mrs. Phyllis Giangrande and Mrs. Anna Hensley; three sisters, Mrs. Natalie Plino, Mrs. Janet Nisozio and Mrs. Geraldine Sesta, and three grandchildren.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Who's Spiritual

What does it mean when one says, "I'm spiritual?" What are the marks of true spirituality? How do we become more spiritual? Spirituality has been a misunderstood concept throughout the entire scope of God's dealings with mankind. The Pharisees purposed to be spiritual by their showy religious acts. They prayed loud and long on the street corners. They banked their money into the coffers. They dressed in black and painted their faces with ashes to appear spiritual. The sad part is that this was hypocrisy, not spirituality.

The saddeuces tried to be spiritual by long faces that shunned every pleasurable and enjoyable experience. Such depressive living was not spirituality. It was pure misery.

One strand of Christianity tried to achieve spirituality by cloistered monastic living. They tried to be spiritual by ascetic ways. Some forbade marriage because it was non-spiritual. Others slept on nails to prove that they were spiritual. That is not spirituality.

The question of spirituality is still in debate today. Many stress legalism whereas others stress the use of Christian liberties as the mark of true spirituality. Being spiritual is not the length of your prayers or the frequency of your fasts. Just because you shut out the world and spend all your time praying and reading the word of God is not spirituality.

I have been told by people that they could not come to church because they had to stay home and pray. Bible reading and fasting are the roads that lead to true spirituality. True spirituality is the ability to temper all of your activities with spiritual principles. Jesus spent most of his time on earth dealing with people.

A spiritual man is one that does his work well and allows it to reflect Christ. He does not neglect his family to become spiritual. As a father he loves and cares for his children. He sees that they enjoy life and Christian activities. I know a husband and wife that raced to church every night and left their children home with babysitters. In their quest for spirituality they raised up heathen children. That is not spirituality.

True spirituality is reflected by regularity in your service to God. Attending church regularly and giving your offering consistently is a mark of spirituality. It isn't in itself, but it is the fruit of a spiritual person. He who can apply Christ to everything he does is a spiritual person.

Carol Yacavino, 32, middle school teacher

A Mass for Mrs. Carol Yacavino, 32, of Toms River, an elementary school teacher in Essex County, was offered today in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, after the funeral from the Porter, Chickene & DelPresto Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Yacavino died June 3 in the Westchester Medical Center, Valhalla, N.Y.

She was a reading teacher at the Belleville Middle School for four years and then for one year taught second grade at the St. Thomas the Apostle Grammar School, Bloomfield.

She was a 1979 graduate of Kean College in Union, where she earned a master's degree in elementary education in 1983. Mrs. Yacavino was a Girl Scout Troop Leader at St. Anthony's Church.

Born in Belleville, she lived in Toms River for nine months.

Surviving are her husband, Kenneth J.; a daughter, Diane Marie; her parents, Joan and Columbia Uzzolino, and a sister, Barbara Mary Uzzolino.

Mary Butch, 81

Mrs. Mary Butch, 81, of Belleville died June 2 in Columbus Hospital, Newark.

Arrangements are by the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Helen Noll

A Mass for Mrs. Helen Noll of Lake Mohawk, formerly of Belleville, retired as a registered nurse, was offered June 1 in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield, following the funeral from Frank Halpin's Brookdale Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Noll died May 29 in the Lincoln Park Nursing Home.

She had been a private duty registered nurse for many years.

She was graduated from St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing, Orange, in 1924. Mrs. Noll was a member of the American Red Cross and the Women's Club of Belleville.

Born in Bloomfield, she lived in Belleville for 35 years before moving to Lake Mohawk 25 years ago. She is survived by a son, Louis 3d; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Ryder, and a brother, Joseph Lally.

Peter E. Rossi, 71

A Mass for Peter E. Rossi, 71, of Belleville was offered today in St. Michael's Church, Newark, following the funeral from the Megaro Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Rossi, who died June 3 in the Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville, had been a plumber for 20 years with the maintenance department of St. Michael's Medical Center, Newark, before retiring three years ago.

Born in Newark, he lived in Belleville for seven months.

Surviving are his wife, Nancy M.; two sons, Jerry S. and Nicholas J.; a daughter, Mrs. Virginia A. Landos; a brother, Salvatore; two sisters, Mary and Mrs. Rose Napolitano, and two grandchildren.

Benevides Cerca, 86

Benevides Cerca, 86, of Belleville died June 4 in Mountside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

Arrangements are by the Irvine-Cozzarelli Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Cerca had been a longshoreman for both Sealand, Elizabeth, and the American President Line, Port Newark, for 31 years before retiring.

Born in Lisbon, Portugal, he came to the United States in 1919 and settled in Newark. He had been residing in Belleville for the past 33 years.

He is survived by his wife, Elvira; two sons, Manny and Stephen, and three grandchildren.

DINING GUIDE

SUKEROKU

"The only REAL Japanese Restaurant in the area"

I can always tell when "Himself" is truly enjoying his meal. Intelligent adjectives like "delicious" and "terrific" give way to more primitive sounding "ummm-mm-mmms" and "ahhh-ahhs" with an occasional fork pointed at his plate, for emphasis.

So it went the night we dined at SUKEROKU. This spacious, traditionally-appointed Japanese restaurant elicits expressions of sheer pleasure, from both Western- and Oriental-inclined tastes.

On this particular evening, our palates were seduced by an introductory offering of asparagus prepared in what appeared to be a peanut- and sesame flavored sauce of exquisite delicacy. The HH (Handsome Husband) then fed his calorie- and cholesterol-defying appetite on Tatsutaage, scrumptiously deep-fried seasoned chicken, followed by a generously portioned, meltingly tender steak prepared teriyaki style and served to sizzling perfection with accompanying crisped potato sections.

Undaunted by his obvious Occidental bent, I began my meal with a small sampling of simply wonderful sushi — moist, delicate morsels of smoked salmon, lightly steamed shrimp, marinated mackerel and other sea-spawned tidbits, each draped gracefully over its own small mound of finely textured rice. (The proprietor's American born wife corrected the popular misconception that all fish in sushi is served raw, and cautioned not to try home preparation without expert training.)

My main course was Sukeroku Nabe, a mouth-watering selection of fresh scallops, shrimp, salmon and lobster, cooked with crunchy vegetable slices in a clear, savory broth and served in its own cast iron kettle.

It would be more correct to speak of SUKEROKU's menus rather than menu, for there are several: a sushi menu for tastes ranging from tentative to authoritative; a seasonal menu, carefully annotated, of highly authentic dishes for the expert Japanese diner to enjoy and the novice to explore with assistance from the helpful staff; a modestly-priced, well-chosen luncheon menu; and a full dinner menu ranging from familiar to exotic selections, plus daily lunch and dinner specials.

Besides the main dining rooms, SUKEROKU boasts a small cocktail bar, a sushi bar, traditional tatami rooms and accommodations for private parties up to 50 persons. The restaurant also performs off-premises catering, a service enjoyed by many local businesses in the area. Traditional bento complete lunches and dinners are available for take-out or delivery!

SUKEROKU, at 68 Pompton Ave. (Rt. 23) in Little Falls, is easily reached and provides ample parking. Open for lunch Mon.-Fri. 11:30 - 2 pm; dinner Mon.-Thu. 5:30 - 10 pm; Fri./Sat. 5 - 10:30 pm; Sun. 4 - 9 pm. For reservations call 785-0479. GENERIC SAFETY

Last year, concerns were raised over the quality and safety of generic drugs when it was learned that some manufacturers falsified data and/or were cited for violations in their manufacturing processes. In response to these allegations, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) launched an investigation of 13 generic-drug firms accused of irregularities, analyzed 30 widely-used generic drugs, and inspected 20 major producers of generic drugs. It was found that some generic drugs were recalled and a few companies had their operations suspended. Three FDA employees also pleaded guilty to accepting illegal gifts. However, when thousands of samples of 30 most-prescribed generic drugs were analyzed, no significant differences in quality between them and name brands were found. The public has no grounds to fear for the quality of generic drugs.

Whenever you have a question about any drug, generic or brand, come in and talk to our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 358 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. A fine selection of Russell Stover candies, toiletries, greeting cards, cameras, Times watches and other items are available for Father's Day and graduation gifts. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sat. days.

HINT: As a result of its investigation, the FDA plans to upgrade its Office of Generic Drugs and speed the approved process for new drugs.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

HOARSENESS

- Q: What is hoarseness?
A: Hoarseness is an alteration in the normal production of the voice by the vocal cords.
Q: What are the causes of hoarseness?
A: Most cases are caused by infection (laryngitis). Some others are related to voice abuse, environmental exposure, or smoking, which can cause vocal cord nodules and polyps.
Q: Who should have an examination by a throat specialist?
A: Anyone who has hoarseness persisting for two weeks.
Q: Have there been recent advances in the diagnosis of hoarseness?
A: Yes. With the FLEXIBLE FIBEROPTIC LARYNGOSCOPE, a complete examination of the voice box can be done in the office without discomfort.
Q: What if I need surgery?
A: Surgery can be done under general anesthesia on an outpatient (same day) basis. All removed tissue is sent for a biopsy study. Modern techniques such as the OPERATING MICROSCOPE and, in indicated cases, LASER, allow accurate and precise surgery. Recovery is rapid with patients able to resume most activities the next day.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Now that that the spring sports season is complete, this seems a good time to look back at the 1989-90 school sports season. Our athletes gave us plenty of excitement this year and the future certainly looks promising.

This week, we'll begin our look back with the fall sports season. Next week, we'll review the winter campaign and in two weeks, the spring season.

Let's go back to last September. Six varsity entries, the football, soccer, cross country, gymnastics, volleyball and tennis teams began practice in late August. All the coaches had the same predicament in '89. There was a small contingent of senior athletes on the teams; and experience was at a minimum. Although the teams would struggle, optimism reigned for the future.

The Buc football team won its opener, 21-0 over Paramus Catholic on a sunny Sunday afternoon. However, injuries began to take its toll after that victory and the Bucs would not win another game for the rest of the year. The team lost close games to Don Bosco 18-12, Paramus 26-17, Hackensack 14-6, Eastside 12-6 and Nutley 6-0.

The game with Nutley went right down to the wire as the Bucs and Raiders played three and one half quarters of soccer football on a cold Saturday afternoon. The game had been postponed from its traditional Thanksgiving Day kickoff because of a holiday snowstorm.

Head coach John Senesky praised his team for its never say die attitude. Strong performances were turned in by Carmen Spina, Rui Andre, Paul Auriemma, Art Caruso, Ken Sainz, Mike Zaccarella, John Sternik and Phil Albanese.

Senesky played a large contingent of sophomores and juniors this past season and the coach is hopeful that those players will take that experience as a positive this fall.

The gymnastics team, coached by Gina Lemongello, finished its season at 1-7. Outstanding performances were turned in by Nicole Zelina, Nicole Pucarello, Lori Aiello, Lori Aiello, Danielle Groeling and Linda Wujciak.

Gino DePinto's soccer team finished 1-13-2 in the fall of 1989. However, the team played good defense and the younger kids showed some good offensive skills in the second half of the season.

Senior goalie Michael Parachini did a good job in the nets for the Bucs. Other seniors who played well were Mark Tonelli, Dale Watkowski and Massimo De-Hag.

The two juniors on the varsity were Enzo Vian and Richard Preto. A large sophomore class was paced by Frank Crocco, Franco Vitello, Alex Moreno, Victor Guevara and Steve Vogel. Vogel missed most of the season to an injury but should be okay for this fall.

Some of the freshman who played well were Emanuel Arujo, Alex Alexandre and Matt Kastner.

The volleyball team had a rare off season, finishing with a record of 4-20. Grace Worley's squad lost some talented seniors to graduation in June of '89. However, the returning players battled hard and Worley was happy with the effort.

Mia Hanos, who played three varsity sports this season, led the way. She had an exceptionally good second half of the season. Also playing well were Kristin McCarthy, Sue Auliero, Melanie Bonaccorsi, Maria Ribon, Judy Krych and Trecla Donnelly.

The JV team played well last season for the Wizards of Worley and the 1990 campaign could be pretty promising.

The cross country team competed in the tough NNJIL and fared pretty well. John Matos turned in a stellar performance for the Bucs, leading the team in scoring with 25 points. He came on strong in the second half of the season and fared very well in the county championships at Branch Brook Park.

Diane DiVincenzo had a solid campaign, capped by a super performance at the NNJIL championships.

Runners who will return this fall include Paul Parmenter and Brian Doyle. The team was coached by veteran John Twesto.

The girls tennis team won five matches in NNJIL competition. Leading way for coach Karen Fucello were Karen Tirrell, Justina Ernst and Maushumi Paruch.

The fall also brought the annual Hall of Fame affair at the Chandler. Among those inducted were Jennifer Apicella, Dina DeAquino, Tracy Buono, Ed Berlinski and Worley. As usual, the affair was well run and provided great memories to all the fans and

Cassin's team looking to future

Rowers conclude fine season

In the first year of the "Cassin" era, the Belleville crew team continues the fine tradition that marked the Giuffrida and Fabian eras. The Bucs enjoyed a solid campaign with a young crew, giving head coach Bob Cassin and his staff a great deal of encouragement for the 1991 season and beyond.

"We're very encouraged by the performance of our younger kids," said the coach. "There's a lot of talent out there. If the kids continue to work hard and stay in condition, they should be very good in the upcoming seasons."

"We encourage them to participate in other sports. It's good for crew, because it teaches competition. We found in some of our most successful boats this year that the kids were members of one or two other varsity sports."

Cassin spoke highly of his seniors, who have established a tradition of winning, that hopefully will carry over to the new decade.

"I can't say enough about their careers," he said. "In crew, once the season is over, there isn't much opportunity to compete outside of high school or college. It's not like softball or baseball, where you can play in various leagues."

The girls' senior four shell, made up of Sue Auliero, Joyce Burke, Liz Morris, Jessica Nappi and Laura Nardone, turned in a stellar five-year career. Most of the girls rowed in eighth grade too, which meant their first year of competition was Sam Giuffrida's last season as varsity coach. Scott Fabian coached the team from 1987-88, before stepping down and turning the reins over to Cassin.

"Injuries and illness held them back this year," Cassin said. "But it doesn't take away from what they accomplished. They won plenty of medals during their careers and they rowed away, as ninth graders."

The boys will be losing two seniors to graduation. Leon Koski, who rowed in the senior four, and Dale Watkowski, a member of the junior four shell. Both epitomized the hard work ethic of the Belleville rower.

"Leon moved up from a novice rower to the leader of a young senior four shell," Cassin said. "He had an excellent career here."

"Dale was a standout rower on a very good junior four team that went all the way to the nationals. He too will really be missed next season."

"The boys junior four 'A' team will return next season, except of Watkowski. This year, the team advanced to the national finals where it lost to eventual champion La Salle High School of Philadelphia."

"Those guys were really tough," Cassin said. "They had that certain 'game face' about them. They reminded me of the midweight four team we had in 1988 that won the nationals. It was that same type of determined attitude."

The boys senior four shell actually was made up of three sophomores and Koski.

"Those kids were thrown right in there against the top schools in the nation," Cassin said. "They will be in real good shape next season."

Equipment breakage hindered the Senior 4 team in the Stotesbury and Nationals.

The junior four "B" shell started the year off trailing its "A" counterpart by 15 to 20 seconds.

"By the end of the season, that boat was within five to ten seconds," Cassin said. "In crew, you look to shave tenths of a second off your time. These kids were knocking off five to ten full seconds off their time."

The girls junior four enjoyed an excellent season. They were cruising along in the nationals until a "crab" caught the girls in the finals. The team had won its first two races in convincing fashion.

"They'll be up for next season."

Baseball Bucs paced by Spina, Caruso

Although the record wasn't too impressive, the future looks pretty promising for the Belleville baseball team. Nick Grande's team posted a 5-18 record for the 1990 campaign, but a strong nucleus is due back next spring.

"No question, it was a tough season," Grande, who just finished his third season as head coach, said. "But we weren't that far away from being a decent team. There were about eight games that we could have won this year. We just didn't get the big hit, and we all know about the errors. That's something that has to be stopped if we're going to be successful next season."

Grande has a great deal of respect for the two seniors on the roster. Andy DuHaime and Ken Sainz provided a strong leadership role and the coach hopes that carries over to next season.

"They knew their role," Grande said of DuHaime and Sainz. "I couldn't ask for anything more from those two guys. They played hard in every game and were a big help to the younger kids. I'll miss guys like that."

ANDY DU HAIME: The senior hit .267 for the Bucs in 1990. With runners in scoring position, DuHaime's average ballooned to .391. He led the team with 16 RBI's and also led the club with six triples. DuHaime had a slugging percentage of .556 and struck out just nine times. He had seven sacrifices and hit one double.

On the mound, DuHaime pitched pretty well, even though his record was 0-4. He hurled 20 innings, allowing 24 earned runs and striking out 12. DuHaime gave up 41 hits.

When he didn't pitch, DuHaime played third base and some shortstop. His fielding percentage was .704 and he had 12 assists.

KEN SAINZ: A talented performer both on the field and in the classroom, Sainz was a catcher for the Bucs this year. He hit .235 and had a slugging fielding average of .914. Sainz had seven assists and 57 putouts. He also picked off six would be base stealers.

"Kenny accepted his role well," Grande said. "He helped with our younger catcher and did a nice job in giving advice and guidance."

Sainz, a solid football player, is a top student who recently was honored as an Essex County scholar-athlete.

There's a large contingent of talented juniors due back in 1991.

"The returning players have already said they will be playing legion ball," Grande said. "I'm also hoping they'll be attending camps during the summer, too."

Members of the junior class are: ART CARUSO: The junior was slowed by mononucleosis in the later stages of the season. However, his numbers were excellent. Caruso hit .327 for the year, .391 with runners in scoring position. He led the team in stolen bases with 18. Caruso, the leadoff hitter, walked 18 times and scored 14 runs.

As a shortstop, Caruso had 32 assists and played his position very aggressively. He and Carmen Spina are the fastest players on the team and should form a solid 1-2 punch in the lineup next spring.

MICHAEL CAPASSO: The junior was 2-4 as a pitcher this season. He hurled 38 innings, allowing 51 hits and 22 earned runs.

Capasso's ERA was 4.05 for the season. He struck out 16 batters and walked 12.

When he wasn't pitching, Capasso played in the infield. At the plate, he had seven hits, including two doubles. Capasso had one RBI and scored four runs.

JOE COCUZZA: Cocuzza was hampered by a shoulder injury, so he had to play mostly in the designated hitter role. The junior hit .250, however, with 8 RBI's and four doubles. Cocuzza had a solid

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Playgrounds open

The Belleville Recreation Department's summer playground program will begin June 25 and will continue through Aug. 10.

The four playground sites are located at School 10, the Municipal Stadium, the Recreation House, and the Friendly House. The special education playground is set up at the Belleville Little League Field.

The playgrounds will be opened daily to all Belleville residents ages 6 through 16 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m. Playgrounds are closed 12 to 1 for lunch and when it rains.

A college director will be on hand at each playground to organize games, parties and other activities and an arts and crafts supervisor will travel from site to site.

Tentatively, tennis lessons, "Open Swim" and special tournaments are planned throughout the summer. These programs are all pending the hiring of qualified instructors/supervisors.

Summer "Sports Camps" in 1990 will tentatively be held as follows: Soccer Week - week of July 2 and 23; Stadium Basketball - week of July 9 and 30 at Rec. House; Football - week of July 16 and Aug. 6 at Stadium.

These sports camps will be offered free of charge and transportation is not provided. Boys and girls ages 8-11 can attend camps between 9-12 daily, while ages 12-15 can attend afternoon sessions from 1-4 p.m.

Applications for all summer program participants must be completed and signed by a parent. Registration forms are available at the Rec. House office and at all playgrounds.

Soccer & touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1990 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer. Belleville resident children will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football, if they so choose. Belleville boys who will be 8 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 10 on Dec. 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 10 and the deadline for touch football is Aug. 31. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since tackle football, soccer and touch football game and practice schedules conflict.

Pre-school registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4 year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. five days a week with class limited to 25 students. The cost of the 32 week session is $100. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule.

Schools begin Sept. 17 under the leadership of Mary Anne Lopreato, and will run through May 1991.

Children born between October 1985 - September 1986 who will enter kindergarten in September 1991 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come - first served basis only!

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible - Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Junior Bucs' football

There will be registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1990 Junior Bucs Tackle Football Program at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon Street, now through Aug. 10. Boys who will be 8 years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 14 before Sept. 1 are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a minimum of 60 pounds and a maximum of 130 pounds, and have one above 8th grade on play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific age/weight requirements as set by the Suburban Twin County Football League.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the recreation department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 10, with two passport size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply. Tryouts will begin around Aug. 6. Players who choose to participate in tackle football cannot also play soccer or touch football in the same season.

Reds continue winning ways, Crescenzi, Russo, Rotino star

In the major leagues, the Cincinnati Reds have dominated in the early going. The Reds are also doing a job in the Pigtail League here in Belleville, winning consistently.

Versus the Mets, the Reds pulled out a heartstopping 13-12 decision. The game went into extra innings and the Mets took a 12-10 lead into the bottom of the eighth inning.

The Reds came back when Lauren Cummings hit a double and Natalie Campolito walked. Christina Crescenzi then lined a triple to tie the score at 12. Susan Donnelly hit a single to score Crescenzi with the winning run.

The victory improved the Reds record to 5-1. Johna Giordano was 4 for 4 for the Reds.

The Reds had an easier time against the Mets in a later game, winning 22-10. Crescenzi scored four runs and went 4 for 6 in the

Cassin praises seniors

Cassin said of the girls junior four. "With the novice girls doing so well, we should have some strong junior and senior four shells next season."

The novice boys and girls eight shells enjoyed outstanding success right away.

"With the new kids, we teach techniques early on," Cassin explained. "Thus, they start off slow, but the technique factor comes in to play later in the season. The off the water conditioning and the things we teach them later help down the stretch. Some teams are taught power rowing early on, but it doesn't teach them the proper way to row effectively."

The novice girls and boys both won the Kearny Invitational. The boys also captured the titles at the Mid Hudson and Upper Merion Regattas and also rowed in the Stotesbury Regatta, which is almost unheard of at the novice level.

"The boys have a good com-

Bulls, Spirits gain finals Sicari, Groeling lead way

The Belleville Bulls, member of the Belleville Soccer Association, stopped Newton 5-2 in the semi finals of the Jersey Hills Soccer Spring tourney in Pompton Lakes.

Belleville started quickly, scoring four first half goals. Ernie Sicari scored twice in the rally and Nick Colucci and Robin Guevara tallied once each.

Newton closed the score to 4-2, but the Belleville defense, paced by Joe Goglia, Guevara and Nick Thatcher, along with the middle defense of Joe Emmolo and Victor Mese kept the game in Belleville's favor.

Mese scored the final Belleville goal to make the final score 5-2.

Softball game will benefit Nicole fund

A benefit softball game for the Nicole Fund will be held at Pulaski Field in Bloomfield on June 9 at 6 p.m.

The Essex County Correction Officers (PBA 153) will take on the Belleville Police Department (PBA 28). The donation is $3, and it may be paid in advance or at the gate.

For more information call Ray Pezzano at 751-4543, or Angelo Guarino at 751-6677.

She also turned a double play. Jessica Rotino went 5 for 6, including a home run. She also scored four times. Giordano was 5 for 6 and Christina Jimenez drew three walks in the game.

Donnelly, Rotino and Crescenzi all pitched for the Reds in the victory.

The Reds continued its winning ways by stopping the Royals, 19-15. Once again, the Reds won it in the later innings.

With the scored tied at 15, Cheryl Russo clouted a grand slam homer in the seventh inning to win the game.

Crescenzi was 3 for 3 and walked twice. She scored five runs. Rotino went 5 for 5 and scored three times. Cummings was 2 for 4 and started the game winning rally in the seventh inning.

bination of size and strength," Cassin said. "The girls are small but tough. Both teams have outstanding futures."

Cassin, as usual, praised his coaching staff for putting together this fine crew team.

"Maureen Russo and Joe Fernicola did the job with the novice teams. Dennis Villano coached the girls varsity boats and did an outstanding job."

"This was Dennis' first year as coach of the varsity girls and the teams really came around. Also, we had excellent coxswains in all our boats and I attribute that to Dennis. He was a coxswain in college and his experience helped our kids. It's like having a second coach in the boat."

Overall, it was an excellent season for the high seas for the Bulls. In two-weeks, we will have a complete listing of all the rowers who competed for the varsity and novice boats. That listing will appear in the "Year in Review" section of Buc Shots, set for the June 21 issue.

family that attended.

Next week, we'll continue the look back with the winter sports. NATIONAL SPORTS

If Andre Agassi is the future of American men's tennis, then we're in big trouble. If Agassi's antics at the French Open are supposed to remind people of Jimmy Connors and John McEnroe, then Agassi is wasting his time.

You see, Connors and McEnroe could back up their words by playing championship tennis. The only reason why Agassi has made it to the semi finals of the French Open is that many of the top men players opted not to play on the clay court this year.

In one of Agassi's earlier matches at the French, he put on a temper tantrum and slammed a tennis ball into the back of his opponent. (Of course, his opponent's back was turned when he slammed the ball.) Could you imagine if he pulled that stunt on a guy like Connors?

Also, Agassi's clothing at the French leaves a lot to be desired. I'm not one for total tradition, but he's making a mockery of a classy game. It will be interesting to see how his guy fares at Wimbledon when Ivan Lendl and some of the other top players compete.

On the other side of the coin, you've got to like the style and charisma of Jennifer Capriati, the eighth grader who has taken the tourney by storm. She's already made the semi finals, where Monica Seles awaits. The women's game has some tremendous players right now, but it's going to be tough to beat Steffi.

Which player on the Mets will call the next miracle team meeting? The experts were right, however. The Mets and Cards will be battling at seasons end. For last place that is.

My Cards are destined for big problems unless they find a power hitter. I'll be in Montreal this weekend to see the Redbirds first hand and get an idea of how bad they'll do this year. In late June, I head to California for my traditional west coast trip. I'll see the Cards play in Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego. Hopefully, the weather will be nice.

Will Bucky survive this weekend? Who's Davey Johnson's travel agent? If you know, see if Davey has booked a trip to New York anytime soon. Oh, by the way, Portland will do in 1990 what it did in 1977. It will lose the first two games of the NBA finals, then win the next four and take the NBA title.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

Movie actor Frank Vincent selected as Columbus Day Grand Marshall

"Lights! Camera! Action!" "Hollywood" comes to the 1990 Belleville-Nutley Columbus Day Parade this year by way of the choice of Grand Marshall from the entertainment field.

The Belleville-Nutley Columbus Day Parade Committee has announced that "Italian-American character" movie actor Frank Vincent will have the "starring" role as Grand Marshall in the Columbus Day Parade on Sunday, October 14. Many people in the Belleville-Nutley area can easily recognize the smiling face of this debonair actor strolling down the main avenues where he spent much of his teenage years.

"I am very proud to be of Italian heritage. My father, Frank Gattuso lived in Belleville for many years...had businesses here...and I am very happy to be able to participate and "give back" a little to the communities where I grew up," said Vincent.

Vincent said he was introduced to show business by his father who encouraged him to become active in his field of performing and playing drums. Vincent travelled with various championship drum and bugle corps.

"We marched in EVERY PARADE there was! And now to be selected as the Grand Marshall, it is truly an honor!" Vincent said.

Frank Vincent has performed in such feature films as "Raging Bull," "Wise Guys," "Baby, It's You!," "Easy Money," "Pope of Greenwich Village," and most recently in Spike Lee's controversial movie, "Do The Right Thing."

Just released this month, "Last Exit to Brooklyn" has Vincent cast in the role of a priest. The film is now showing in area theatres.

Even with his busy film schedule, Vincent has expressed his desire to "become involved" in all the year long activities of the parade committee, such as the upcoming "Father's Day Picnic" fundraiser being held Sunday, June 17, from noon to 6 p.m. at the Nutley Parks and Recreation complex at Fr. Glotzbach Park on Park Ave. in Nutley.

"It should be a great day, not only for fathers, but for all to enjoy," Vincent said. "My father would have been very proud!"

For picnic tickets and information, contact Bob Ruslingmoole at 661-3081 or any parade committee member.

Public Library rededicates trustees room on Sunday

The Belleville Public Library will dedicate the renovated Trustees Room meeting room and art gallery on June 10, from 2-4 p.m. at 221 Washington Ave.

More than seventy Library Trustees have served on the Board of the Belleville Public Library since 1903, according to library director, David Bryant. "By creating this beautiful new public meeting place in Belleville, we honor those Trustees and their dedicated service to the community."

"Closed to the public for several months while renovations were completed, the resulting Trustees Room is true to the neo-classical design of Belleville's original Carnegie Library," said Bryant.

Belleville's first public library began in a storefront on William St. in 1902. The current library has a modern addition completed in 1981. The James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room, dedicated in 1985 represents Belleville's first public, neo-classical space.

First DeWitt rated 5-star

Bauer Financial Reports, Inc., a Coral Gables, Fla. research firm, announced First DeWitt Savings has been awarded a five-star rating.

The rating is an indication that First DeWitt Savings is one of the safest, most credit-worthy savings institution in the United States, according to a press statement.

The award is based on a zero-to-five-star rating based on Bauer's analysis of the December 31, 1989 financial data as filed with federal regulators.

A five-star rating indicates First DeWitt Savings tangible capital exceeds 6.0 percent of tangible assets, that there are no excessive delinquencies or repossessed assets, and First DeWitt Savings is not heavily invested in "esoteric" assets, like junk bonds, according to the statement.

"Historically," said Bauer president Paul A. Bauer, "the five-star rating has been awarded to traditional savings institutions, institutions that write conventional single-family mortgages, serve the local community, and watch their bottom line."

First DeWitt Savings, a First State Financial Services company, is headquartered in West Caldwell, with 10 offices serving northern and central New Jersey. First DeWitt Savings has been serving the communities of New Jersey since 1885.

Suggested titles for all-age summer reading

By Paula Cummins
Reading Superhero
Belleville Public Schools

In just a few short weeks school will end and summer vacation will begin for hundreds of Belleville students. Parents and teachers are often concerned about maintaining children's reading development over the summer months.

Since people learn to read best when they read, and one of the major goals of reading instruction is to produce students who not only can read but will read, it is important for parents to continue to accept the role as "Partners in Reading." This can be accomplished best not only by providing time for reading and sharing at home, but also by making reading materials available for the children.

The following list of paperback books contains a number of professionally recommended titles, should provide parents with some initial direction for giving their children some enriching and enjoyable reading experiences.

The titles were selected to span a wide-range of reading interests and abilities. Parents should remember that children often get hooked on an author, a series or topic. Primary children enjoy classification and rhymes, while older children enjoy reading about characters who are about the age and have similar concerns of the reader.

The following paperback books probably will be found in bookstores and in the local library. So turn off the T.V., at least for part of the day, and encourage but don't push your children to use the time for reading.

Fusaro earns award

Sam Fusaro, a 1978 Belleville High School graduate now teaching health and physical education at Bloomfield Middle School, received the Governor's Teacher Recognition Program Award.

Fusaro, a Seton Hall alumni, has taught for seven years in Bloomfield. According to Bloomfield Life Sports Editor Paul Smith, Fusaro is known for his magnetic personality and enjoys working with youngsters. He is known for his commitment and involvement. Last year his efforts as Assistant Wrestling Coach for Bloomfield High School were recognized when he was named Assistant District Coach of the Year.

Fusaro said he intends to use the $500 Governor's Recognition Award to purchase an exercise bike or life-cycle for his students.

"I like meeting kids when they're young," he told Smith, "and watching them grow into adulthood. If I can make a positive impact, I'm satisfied and happy."

Fusaro has introduced a "15-50 Club" where a small group of his youngsters perform pull-ups and sit-ups prior to the start of school. "If someone does 15 and 50, they get a t-shirt," Fusaro said. "In three years, only six have earned a shirt," he added, while pointing out a few might have a shot this year.

Sam Fusaro is the son of Beatrice and Sam Fusaro of White Oak Terrace. On a personal note, he and his wife Gail, recently became parents with the birth of their daughter Daniela.

Pica named to President's Circle

Bloomfield — Samuel H. Pica, Jr. of The Prudential (Leo, Diaz, and Pica Realtors) has been named to the President's Circle of The Prudential Real Estate Affiliates, Inc. for his outstanding achievement in residential sales in 1989.

The award was presented by Jerry Cole, President of The Prudential Real Estate Affiliates, Inc., during The Prudential's Second Annual National Convention at the Mirage Hotel in Las Vegas, Jan. 29 to Feb. 2, 1990.

The presentation followed an address by former President Ronald Reagan, who was keynote speaker at the gathering which attracted more than 3,000 Prudential real estate professionals from across the country.

Samuel H. Pica, Jr. who is a sales associate for The Prudential Leo, Diaz & Pica Realtors, entered the real estate field in 1963 and his organization joined The Prudential Real Estate Affiliated in May 1989.

The Prudential Real Estate Affiliates, Inc. is a subsidiary of The Prudential and began awarding franchises in late May, 1988. Since that time, it has become the fastest growing franchisor in real estate industry history. Nearly 25,000 sales associates are members of The Prudential real estate network.

Century 21 A CV Agency moving to new location

In keeping with plans for major expansion, Century 21 A CV Real Estate is taking the first step towards this goal, by moving its office, to a spacious new location at 991 Clifton Avenue in Clifton.

"Our move is targeted for the end of May," according to partners Carole Viola and Jim Farese. "We are dedicated to the growth and quality of services our agency can provide and our new site will allow for the accomplishment of this goal."

The new location will triple the present space and will offer distinct residential and commercial-investment divisions, as well as a rental department, insurance services and mortgage placement assistance. Century 21 A CV is in the process of extensive renovations creating a facility which will be professional and extremely comfortable and refreshing for clients as well as agents. The office is highly visible, easily accessible and offers ample parking.

"The Century 21 System provides instant recognition," states Farese, "with very favorable perception by the general public. Century 21 A CV has always built upon the reputation with enhanced services and creative programs for both buyer and seller." The 10 Point Plan of Action is Century 21 A CV's latest program, designed to maximize services for the client.

Century 21 A CV was founded 5 years ago by broker Carole Viola. Two years later Jim Farese became a partner in the firm and concentrated on obtaining maximum education in the area of commercial-investment real estate. He was elected state president of the prestigious Commercial-Investment Marketing Group in January which is a marketing group for Century 21 commercial properties throughout the country.

Ms. Viola has focused her energies on the residential marketplace, creating programs and services that are designed to demonstrate awareness of the delicate, and sometimes, traumatic experience of selling or purchasing a home. "Planning, marketing strategy and an extremely personal touch provides a happy and satisfied client," Viola remarked. "We aim to make the process of selling or buying a home as smooth and rewarding to our clients as possible."

The Century 21 System provides access to a referral network second to none. Century 21 A CV has membership in the Homeowner's Marketing Service, the Easy Move Program, the Century 21 Preferred Client Club, as well as having access to several Multiple Listing Services and the state Commercial Real Estate Listing Service. Several staff associates are members of the prestigious Million Dollar Sales Club and many hold the Century 21 designation of VIP Sales Associate. The office itself holds the VIP Office designation awarded by Century 21 which places it on a level of highest standards.

Confidence prevails at this agency, encouraging it to make this major move at a time that the real estate atmosphere is negative in nature. "We endeavor to enlighten and guide our clients," claim the partners. They stress the fact that there are many good values in the marketplace, mortgage money is available and reasonable, plus the first-time buyer is back in the market.

Through May, services are available at the present location at 1170 Broad St. in Clifton. Agents interested in learning more about the Century 21 A CV advance are invited to call for an interview at 365-2122.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

Kitchen planning: When you're designing from scratch, you can locate the flatware drawer conveniently near the dishwasher and the spice storage cabinet near the cooktop.

Wet white mold on the soil surface of houseplants is usually caused by overwatering. If it's dry, it's the encrustation of fertilizer salts and you can scrape it off. Best bet: repot with fresh soil.

Chisel-edged paintbrush is designed for precise work. Because bristles taper toward the top, it's possible to produce very fine lines and clean edges.

Many lenders don't keep their mortgages; they sell them to another lender. Under recent rules, the old lender must tell you when the loan is transferred and to whom, when the first payment is due, and whom to contact at the new mortgage-holder.

The advantage of a larger down payment is not just a smaller total mortgage; extra cash may improve your bargaining power in negotiating terms with the lender.

The advantage of working with a top real estate agency: we can help you zero in on the kind of house you really want. See the experts at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
