'MOBIL MARTH SITE' - This gas station is the location for the proposed retail sales area where customers can purchase snacks while they fill up their gas tanks. The proposed "retail sales area" is scheduled to back up against fence next to two-family brick house in background. The gas station at the corners of Franklin Ave. and Joralemon St. has been previously a BP gas station, an Exxon station and an Esso station. With the BP conversion, the station was converted to gas-only.

'Mobil Mart' change proposal to Planning Board tonight

By Anthony Buccino
The owners of the Mobil gasoline station at 389-397 Franklin Avenue are scheduled to appear before the Planning Board tonight, Thursday, for site approval to add a "Mobil Mart" retail sales area to their corner business renovation. Mobil Oil Corp. of Linden is proposing the renovation which includes demolishing a kiosk, reconstructing a pump island, and adding a new building including a retail sales area and one new 11.3 sq. ft. "Mobil Mart" sign, according to their application.

The station redesign includes a retail sales area to be built on the north end of the lot in a RA-1 residential building zone.

The oil company is proposing to construct a 24x38' building on the north end of the property. The overall lot size is 141,257.04'. The station is presently located on two lots. One lot is in a B-B, business zone, and the other lot is 40x100' and zoned RA-1, residential.

The larger lot is in the BB, general business zone, and, according to Section 23-2.3 of the township zoning ordinance, when a zone boundary divides a lot, the zoning of the property goes along with the larger portion of property. In this case, the gas station and retail sales are permitted uses, but Mobil requires site plan approval from the Planning Board. In a rider to the plan review application, Mobil's attorney Susan E. DiMaria of Henry Ramer Professional Associates in Hawthorne, wrote, "The retail sales area will feature beverages, snacks and other impulse-type items commonly sold from gas station vending machines... Rather than dealing with often bulky vending machines, motorists would gain the advantage of purchasing the items from a retail clerk who could also make change when necessary."

The rider continued, "The proposed facility will not be a convenience store... no on site cooking or eating, lottery tickets, check cashing or recycling... The proposed facility has only about 465 square feet of actual retail selling space."

Community Development, located at 120 Fairview Ave. in Cedar Grove, or to contact Case at 509-9887.

The Rental Rehabilitation Program plans to rebuild 85 units in five towns, Belleville, Orange, Montclair, South Orange, and West Orange. Owners of multi-family apartment buildings in the Valley section who qualify can receive up to $8,500 per dwelling unit with an equal match from the owner. Contact Case at the number above for more information. Residents of certain sections of the Valley will be eligible for portions of a $20,000 crime prevention grant to be used for the purchase and installation of security hardware.

"It's a community development grant of $20,000 to help homeowners install better security devices, such as new locks," Belleville Chief of Police George Lister said.

Lister added that the project will start in September, when most families are home from vacations. For more information concerning who qualifies, contact the Belleville Police at 450-3333.

Additionally, the rider addresses off street parking requirements. For the gas station, one space per employee (on maximum shift) is required. For the retail sales area, one space is required per 200 sq. ft. of gross floor area. Mobil will supply 5 spaces while 8 are required.

The company contends that the retail sales area will not generate a need for additional parking because, "virtually all the customers of the store will be patrons already in the station purchasing gas, and it is expected that they will leave their cars at the pumps while filling, enter the store, make purchases and return to their cars without using traditional parking spaces."

In concluding, the attorney's rider stated that the "proposal will merely provide greater ease to the motorists in making purchase."

Mobil was initially denied permission December 12, last year, by township Construction Code Official Robert Domenick, who referred the applicant to the Planning Board.

The proposal was scheduled for an April 12 Planning Board hearing, but the matter was deferred to the Zoning Board of Adjustment for a jurisdictional hearing after Domenick sent a letter April 3 to Mobil stating, "I was not informed verbally or by letter that a retail sales area featuring beverages, snacks and other impulse type items would be sold on the premises. A use of this nature is considered prohibited."

Domenick's letter quoted Ordinance 2027, Article V, Automobile Service Station - An area of land, including structures thereon, that is used primarily for the retail sale and direct delivery to motor vehicles of gasoline and lubrication oil."

Another township ordinance defines a gas station as "any building, structure, place or location designed primarily to supply motor vehicles with gasoline, oil, grease and supplies and for the inspection, testing, examination and repair thereof and maintaining gasoline pumps and oil pumps for the purposes of selling gasoline and oil."

The ordinance also orders all gasoline services stations to be closed from midnight until 6 a.m.

The Planning Board will meet tonight, Thursday, at 383 Washington Ave. second floor. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Crackdown begun

Junk autos on private property targeted by town inspector

Township maintenance inspector Joseph Fornarotto has stepped up efforts to identify abandoned, unlicensed, uninspected vehicles parked on private property in residential districts. Once identified, the property owner is given five days to answer the letter or remove the vehicle from his property before receiving a summons to appear in court.

Fornarotto estimates there are 400-500 unregistered cars on private property in town. "We have to clean the properties, it's getting out of hand," he said. "Everybody has to maintain his property."

In July alone, he said he cited between 25-30 abandoned cars in the Valley section of town. He estimates there are at least 100 cars in violation in the Valley, the east section of town between Washington Ave. and Route 21.

"A continuous violator will get a summons," Fornarotto said. "We're so close to Newark, we have to maintain our image. In some areas, Newark is better kept than Belleville."

According to township Ordinance 1996, "unregistered, and/or uninspected motor vehicles shall not be parked on any property in a residential district."

The ordinance also prohibits the vehicle to be in any state of major disassembly, disrepair or... being stripped or dismantled. In addition, the ordinance states, "at no time shall any vehicle of any type, undergo major overhaul, including body work in a residential district."

"If everybody, all the departments, do their job, I'm sure we'll clean up town," Fornarotto said. "The people have to work with us."

Abandoned cars left on the street, not private property, are subject to removal by the police department.

Fornarotto also stressed that the township's maintenance ordinance will be enforced.

The maintenance ordinance requires that structures "be kept free of all nuisances and any hazards to the safety of occupants."

In general, the ordinance addresses overhangings, storm water runoff drains, foundation walls, chimneys, flues and vents, and porches, landings and balconies.

Under the ordinance, which continues to be enforced by the code enforcement agency, foundation walls have to be structurally sound... and capable of bearing imposed loads safely. Porches, landings, balconies, etc. have to be properly designed and maintained to minimize the hazards of falling.

Fornarotto's letter to violators states, "The future of Belleville depends on your co-operation in keeping our community free from unsightly and distasteful conditions. Rewards gained by this will not only benefit you as a homeowner, but give Belleville the facelift which it so desperately needs."

Project Clean Sweep
In an unrelated development, Councilman Martin Drozdiz announced Project Clean Sweep which will begin on Washington Ave. and spread throughout the township.

Drozdiz said that he and at least three other council members intended to visit all stores on Washington Ave. this Saturday and personally ask the storeowners to sweep the front of their premises at the end of business each day. He said it's such a small gesture that can make a large difference in the way Belleville is perceived.

Drozdiz said he intended to ask the storeowners to spray weed-killer on weeds growing through cracks in the sidewalk.

He said he intended to leave each merchant with a copy of the town ordinance restricting placing trash on the street far in advance of Monday morning pickups. The councilman said that he wanted to be sure all merchants knew the trash restrictions before any violations were cited.

The councilman said he and three other councilmembers had decided to start with a walking tour of Washington Ave. because that is most visible to outside visitors. Drozdiz said he and the other councilmembers intend to carry Project Clean Sweep to other business areas of the township.

For more information on the property maintenance code, call the code enforcement agency at 450-3409.

Nutley youth arrested in fight at Mobil station

Belleville Police charged Christopher Domaleski, 18, of Nutley with assault and possession of a weapon at the Mobil gas station on Franklin Ave. at 11:45 p.m. July 30.

Police responding to a report of a disturbance found that Domaleski and a service station attendant had been hushed around and Domaleski pulled the victim on the hood of a car. When the victim broke loose, Domaleski pulled out a blackjack and struck the victim in the hand.

According to the police report, Domaleski and his brother went to the station to visit the attendant. No other charges were filed in the incident.

Christopher Domaleski was released on his own recognizance. A hearing has been set for October 10 in Belleville Municipal Court.

Rotary Club installs new officers

The Belleville Rotary Club installed its 1990-91 officers at the Forest Hill Field Club. Immediate past-president Joe McGuire thanked members for their participation in such projects as the Gift of Life, the Belleville Rotary/Clara Maass Foundation Annual Golf Tournament and many fundraising activities that benefited local and international projects.

Tony Chirico outlined his objectives while he included increased fundraising for Belleville projects and greater publicity for the good things that Rotary International does for people throughout the world.

The installation dinner included club members, spouses, friends and former Rotarians. Shirley Sherman was installed as vice-president, Bob Williams continues as club treasurer, and George Lister was named secretary.

Grants available for Valley section homes

Several different programs are offering grants to low and moderate income homeowners who live in the Valley section of Belleville.

Grants are available for making necessary home improvements and for installing crime prevention equipment.

The Neighborhood Preservation Balanced Housing Program will provide grants up to $15,000 for making "essential repairs" on the house, said Director of Property Improvement Jack Case.

"The program is designed to fix up that area of town," Case continued. "The grants are not given for cosmetic repairs. For example, if a homeowner wanted to fix a bathroom that is out-of-style but perfectly workable, he wouldn't qualify. There'd have to be a certification that there's a problem with the plumbing."

There is $350,000 in funds available. Case hopes the program can help 20 units this year.

Grant eligibility requires that homes must be 1-4 family and owner occupied. Potential applicants are asked to contact the Essex County Division of Housing and

Belleville POLICE BEAT

Two Belleville men were arrested August 2 after police stopped the car in which they were riding. Raymond Driggers, 21, and Nicholas Anthony Wendling, 22, were both charged with theft of a motor vehicle, theft of movable property within the vehicle, and criminal mischief to the vehicle. The owner of the car reported to police that someone had taken his keys while he was at a local tavern. Police while on routine patrol, spotted the 1981 Buick Skylark and stopped it at the intersection of Howard Pl. and Dow St. The suspects had removed the AM/FM radio and damaged the dashboard. Both suspects were valued at $10,000 bail/$10,000 bond.

An eleven year old girl reported that she was walking along Washington Ave. with two other juveniles July 31 at 7:50 p.m. when they were approached by two white males. One suspect pulled two gold chains from the victim's neck and fled on Washington Ave. One suspect was described as 20 years-old, 5'5" tall, with brown hair, blue jeans and a white shirt. The other suspect was described as between 18-20 years-old with brown hair, wearing a brown shirt. No value was given for the gold chains.

A Washington Ave. resident reported that her home had been ransacked between August 4-5. She reported that several pieces of jewelry and $5,000 in cash had been taken. The estimated value of jewelry was not known.

The manager of a Washington Ave. video store reported that he emptied two cash registers and placed the proceeds in an envelope near a third register at 8:15 p.m. August 5. The manager said he then proceeded to assist several customers, and when he returned, he found the envelope, reported to contain $358 in cash, missing.

Belleville police apprehended a shoplifting suspect who had fled a Main St. clothing store August 1. Police arrested Wanda Rose Fields, 30, of Newark, and charged her with shoplifting. She was held on $2,000 bail and a $250 outstanding Belleville warrant. Police received a report of a female shoplifter fleeing from a store with merchandise. Store employees gave the police a description, and while on routine patrol, saw a person who fit the description on Main and Holmes sts. Police brought the suspect back to the store where she was positively identified as the suspect. Police later found the proceeds, two pairs of socks valued at $25, in a garbage can in the area.

Police arrested Dwayne Johnson, 32, of Newark, for shoplifting at a Washington Ave. supermarket. Johnson had been observed by store security attempting to conceal a nose spray valued at $10.99. Store security approached Johnson as he left the store, the suspect fled west on Washington Ave. Police were given a description of the suspect, who was later observed at a bus stop. The suspect was returned to the store where store security identified him, he also had the nose spray on his person. He is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court September 5.

The owner of a 1990 Jaguar reported that while he was shopping at 4:15 p.m. on July 28, at a Main St. mall, someone had taken a sharp instrument and put deep scratch marks on the fender and door.

Belleville police recovered a 2-door 1981 Toyota reported stolen in Newark. The car was recovered on Branch Brook Drive August 1.

A Columbus Ave. resident reported that his garage door was forced open and property valued at $2,500 was missing. Stolen were 5 bicycle and two automatic nail hammers. The incident was reported July 31.

William Bradley, 18, of Newark was released on his own recognizance August 1, after he had been charged with shoplifting at a Belmont Ave. supermarket. Bradley had been observed by store security attempting to leave the store with meat, cigars and candy valued at $12.88. Also charged with shoplifting in the incident was a 14-year-old juvenile. The juvenile was turned over to the juvenile bureau.

Luc Maria Rivera, 43, of Newark, was released on her own recognizance after she was charged with shoplifting at a Main St. department store. Rivera had attempted to leave the store while concealing a pair of sneakers valued at $57.98 on August 2. She is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court September 9.

Note: Police Beat is a representative sample of police calls in Belleville. The department responds to hundreds of calls each week and it is impractical to list every call.

Crecco supports elimination of Parkway directors jobs

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) announced this week that she supports the elimination of two deputy directors' posts by the Garden State Parkway.

The two $93,000 a year jobs were created last year, and also gave each director a state car and a personal secretary.

"These positions should have never been created," said Crecco. "From the outset, I voiced my opposition and stated the creation of these jobs was just another example of Parkway mismanagement. I sympathize with the individuals involved. They are respected professionals in their field and they did make a commitment to their posts. However, the functions they were hired to perform can be handled by the executive director. This is no time to create high paying positions considering our budgetary crisis."

Crecco also stated that she credited the commissioners for their decision to eliminate these jobs and for the elimination of cars to Parkway employees as a cost-cutting mechanism.

"I have been openly critical of the Parkway operations and their management," Crecco said. "However, the Parkway Authority has made two wise decisions and taken a step in the right direction."

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Will we have a 51st State? Puerto Ricans wonder if they can join the United States and retain their cultural identity. President Bush wants it to happen. Spurred by rallies and parades, an increasing number of islanders tell pollsters they support it, too. Two bills designed to pave the way for a 1991 referendum on the great event are now making their way through each house of Congress. Nothing, it would appear, could stop the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico from finally becoming the 51st star in the American flag. Nothing, that is, except a strong anti-statehood movement fighting the economic advantages of remaining a dependency, and the island's nearly 500 years of identity with Spanish and Caribbean culture. "Puerto Rico is a Latin American nation...except for political expression of the fact," says Fernando Martin, a member of the Puerto Rican Senate, who favors a third option: total independence.

Under the existing arrangement, Puerto Ricans are quasi citizens of the United States. Though they cannot vote in national elections and send only a shadow representative to Congress, they are free to migrate to the mainland, can serve in the armed forces and pay no federal income tax. The success of the partnership, dating from 1898 when Spain ceded the island after the Spanish-American War, can be a matter of perspective. Among Caribbean islands, Puerto Rico is prosperous, with its skyscrapers, clean streets and 88 percent literacy rate. But compared to the 50 states, unemployment stands at 14 percent, higher than any state, and the annual per capita income of $5,287 is less than one half that of Mississippi, the poorest state.

The key to the debate, say those who oppose statehood, is Section 936 of the U.S. tax code. Under the provision, U.S. companies with operations in Puerto Rico do not have to pay federal income tax on profits made on the island, where the minimum wage is only $3.35. The commonwealth government also gives the companies a big break by exempting 90 percent of island-earned profit from taxes.

A recent study by the Congressional Budget Office concluded that with statehood, the loss of tax incentives might cause some U.S. companies to pull out, costing the island 100,000 jobs by the end of the century.

Statehood advocates reject the idea that the island's economy would suddenly sink because American businessmen lost their tax shelters. "Where are they going to go?" says former governor Carlos Romero Barcelo, leader of the statehood movement. "To the Dominican Republic, where there's no electricity? To Haiti, where that's even worse?" Romero uses another kind of economic appeal to make his case. According to the CBO study, as a commonwealth, Puerto Rico will receive only $1.8 billion for food stamps, Medicaid and other social-service programs in 1992. As a state, the benefits would jump to $5.1 billion in 1995. Even opponents of statehood like Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon acknowledge that this is a powerful lure. "One half of the electorate in Puerto Rico would stand to gain economically and personally from a vote for statehood," he has stated.

Before islanders can vote on statehood Congress must resolve an equally controversial issue: will the 2.5 million Puerto Ricans living on the mainland be allowed to vote in the plebiscite? Jose Serrano, a Congressman from the Bronx, introduced an amendment to the House bill that would grant the vote to any U.S. resident who was born on the island or has one native Puerto Rican parent. But back in Puerto Rico, political leaders from both sides have objections, arguing that the logistics of such an election would be cumbersome, or that mainlanders made their choice by migrating. "I never thought the leadership was so out of touch," says Serrano. "Our relatives want us to vote."

Ultimately culture, not economics, could decide the issue. The prospect of a state in which English is a second language might give some Congressmen pause before approving a referendum. The Quebec independence movement stands as a cautionary tale on the dangers of embracing a region with a national identity that runs deep. Though only 5 percent of Puerto Ricans support independence, pride in their Spanish heritage is strong — and few islanders would tolerate any attempt to anglicize their basic culture. But even if the statehood movement fails, it has already left a lasting benefit: a boon to people who believe they are too often seen as second class Americans.

While deodorants suppress bacterial growth and mask odors under the arms, anti-perspirants actually reduce underarm perspiration. However, many people avoid using anti-perspirants because they contain aluminum compounds. High levels of aluminum have been found in the brains of some Alzheimer patients. In 1987, the FDA addressed this issue when it concluded that "the amount of aluminum that might be absorbed through the skin from an anti-perspirant would be insignificant." Further study has since brought forth no conclusive evidence that aluminum in the diet, medication, or cosmetics increases the risk of this disease. Consumers should certainly avoid the use of anti-perspirants or deodorants if they irritate the skin or initiate allergic reactions.

County care to state tab

Governor Florio has signed legislation, sponsored by Senator Carmen A. Orechio, D-30th, which will help save Belleville taxpayers more than $2.7 million (1992) by having the state pay for the county costs related to welfare, psychiatric care and other social services, according to a press statement.

"These new laws will help Belleville property taxpayers by having the state pay for a state responsibility," Sen. Orechio said. "These expenses have rightfully been removed from the backs of the property taxpayers."

The bills signed by Gov. Florio, S-2724, sponsored by Senator Orechio, and S-2725, sponsored by Sen. Paul Cantillo, D-Bergen, provide Belleville with a combined county property tax relief of $2,724,283. The entire 30th District will save more than $20 million from the new laws.

"This legislation will save the average Belleville property taxpayer $239 from the county share of his or her tax bill," Sen. Orechio said.

Orechio said he is particularly pleased that Florio signed the legislation because as chairman of the County and Municipal Government Study Commission, Orechio has been working on the tax reform effort for nearly 10 years.

The new laws require local governments to apply the savings to property tax relief instead of spending the funds on new programs.

"It's a true example of state mandate, state pay," Orechio said. "It's only proper that a state responsibility be paid for by the state."

Senator Orechio said he was confident that the legislation would ensure the maintenance of quality mental health facilities and the delivery of needed social services while helping property taxpayers.

"State resources rightfully should be used to ensure that all of our state residents who require psychiatric care receive it on a timely basis," Senator Orechio said.

H & R Block offers income tax course

Thousands of people learn how to prepare income tax returns from H & R Block and then earn money as income tax preparers. H & R Block offers its Income Tax Course starting Sept. 10. Morning, afternoon, evening and weekend classes are available, according to Bert Tobia, District Manager.

"Experienced instructors teach law, theory, and application," Tobia added.

Classroom discussion and practice problems provide students with a thorough understanding of each tax topic included in the course. Students learn how to handle increasingly complex income tax situations as the course progresses.

It is ideal for people who want to increase their tax knowledge. The course teaches students how to save money on their taxes and also prepares them for a rewarding career. The affordable fee includes textbooks and supplies. Graduates receive Certificates of Achievement and continuing education units (CEU's).

Qualified graduates of the course may be offered job interviews with H & R Block but are under no obligation to accept employment. Those interested in more information about the H & R Block Income Tax Course may contact the H & R Block office at 155 Franklin Avenue, Nutley or call 235-1000.

Spill funds targeted

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) has introduced legislation which would allow a portion of the money collected from the state's Spill Fund Tax to be used to finance additional types of research.

The measure authorizes the use of monies in the New Jersey Spill Fund Compensation Fund for research in the methods of source reduction, recycling, and detoxification of hazardous substances. "As it is written now, the Spill Fund Act only allows money to be taken from the fund to finance research on the prevention of spills of hazardous substances in the marine environment and on improved cleanup and removal operation," said Crecco.

Crecco further explained that the bill would not change the existing requirement of the Act which specifies that the money used for research can not exceed the amount of interest earned by the fund in any given year.

"Allowing Spill Fund monies to be used for additional types of research may enable the state to develop a way to reduce the amount of hazardous waste that is generated and reduce or remove the toxicity of the waste that is produced," Crecco concluded.

The bill, A-1293, is under consideration in the Assembly Energy and Environment Committee.

OUR OPINION

Bring back the chlordane

Most "health" foods may, in the long run, be beneficial to one's belly, but they also may be most unbeneficial to one's wallet. For example, organically grown produce is, most recent time we looked, more than 100 percent more expensive than fruits and vegetables that grew with help from pesticides.

Most pesticides are mixtures of chemicals. Sure, if you drink it as Gatorade with your eggs and toast, you will succumb quickly. But when properly applied, chemicals do get rid of the diseases spread by viruses and insects. Among the reasons Americans have more food — food to give away to other nations, to be sure — is the highly skilled use of pesticides by agricultural businesses and by family farmers.

In Utopia, that never-never world of 100 percent self-righteousness, pesticides would be banned. Rather, biological enemies of the pests of fruits and vegetables would be drafted into action. To some extent, every pest has its natural enemy. But then what do we do with the "good" pests who have done away with the "bad" pests? And, again, the spread of "good" pests may have unforeseen consequences.

Oh yes, the use of biological agents to do away with other biological agents to protect our apples, pears and red currants would increase the price of apples, pears and red currants — and spinach, too — by the aforementioned 100 percent, minimal.

If we permit activist environmentalists to have their way, no chemically-manufactured pesticides would be usable. In time, we would be confronted with hordes of insects attacking our produce, just as gypsy moths attack their favorite leaves when spraying has been disallowed because of hasty and stupid over-reaction from exaggerated worries about chemical sprays.

A recent page one article reports that termites are having a field day in New Jersey, among other places, because the federal government — again reacting to uninformed activities out to close down the American chemical industry — prohibited the application of chlordane by termite-control companies and by homeowners. So getting rid of said termites has doubled in price (to about $900 a home, depending upon their penetration into that tasty wood).

As it turns out, other than through chemicals — government approved or otherwise — termites can be terminated. They, too, have a natural enemy: the aardvark (Orycteropus capensis) and the ant bear (Myrmecophaga jubata). These anteaters are native to Africa and South America respectively. Whether they would fill up on the termites under your porch, that is another question.

Oh yes, ask your local environmentalist big mouth if you may store your aardvark in the garage — or rent him out to the neighbors.

Good heavens, bring back the chlordane!

Mandatory AIDS tests for rapists

In a number of rape cases recently, victims have sought to have their attackers (when apprehended) submit to tests for AIDS. Although most rape victims have been women, victims of homosexual rape (and parents of boys who have been assaulted) have also sought tests for AIDS in the attackers.

Any kind of rape, with or without penetration, is horrifying enough. Now, with the threat of AIDS being transmitted by rapists, the horrible brutality is intensified and prolonged, physically and psychologically.

Because of this terrorizing threat, the criminal code must be rewritten. The penalties against rape — including homosexual rape in which boys are usually the victims — must be increased markedly, without chance of parole after a few years and without release after so-called sexual rehabilitation (for those attackers who claim they did not really want to abuse their victims).

Furthermore, the state legislature should immediately write new criminal code procedures so that rape victims can more easily obtain results of AIDS from their attackers. Nor should it be necessary for prosecutors to scale down rape charges in exchange for the right to test rapists for AIDS. The AIDS tests should be made mandatory.

Why should a victim of a rapist suffer even more from the fear that her (or his) attacker may have AIDS?

This is one instance in which civil liberties must be waived. Dear Lord, life is at stake here!

YOUR OPINION

Senator responds to BOE charges

To the editor:

In the Belleville Times issue dated July 26, 1990, School Board Vice President Patty Pisano characterized a letter that I had sent to Township residents to explain school aid funding as "shady."

I would like to set the record straight on the issue of increased school funding for the Belleville Schools. Based on numbers provided by the Department of Education and sent to the Belleville School District, Belleville's aid for next year will increase from $8,305,700 to $10,622,393 next year. That is a $2,316,693 increase or a 27.9% increase over this year.

The fact that Belleville was a big winner under the new school aid formula was one of the major reasons why I supported the new formula. Many Belleville citizens have written to me complaining about the drastic under-funding of the old funding formula that occurred this year. Department of Treasury analysis suggests that had we not acted in the legislature, Belleville would have lost another $897,000 next year below this year's drastic underfunding. In a letter to the citizens who wrote me, I explained that we have responded to their concern and greatly improved Belleville's educational funding next year.

It is unfortunate that a member of the Belleville Board publicly questioned the integrity of my letter and the Department's figures. I understand that this funding formula is new and may cause some confusion to individuals because of its complexity. I understand the confusion, I do not understand the basis for questioning my integrity.

To clarify, the new formula and the old system require that a district make a certain level of local effort to receive the maximum aid. In the case of Belleville the increased effort by Belleville is less than a 1% tax increase. If Belleville simply continues its current tax rate, it would get less than 1% reduction in its projected aid increase — it would still get a projected $2,248,843 increase in aid.

Belleville does not have to raise taxes to benefit from this program, in fact, it could lower taxes next year based on the increased aid. The Department of Education's figures project a total budget increase for Belleville of over 15%. If the Belleville Board of Education chose to increase their budget only 8%, they could do so. They would not receive the maximum foundation aid, but they could reduce taxes by over 7%.

The best news is that Belleville education aid will continue to grow by over 8% a year. These are not my projections, but those of the Department of Education. I do not understand how an individual can characterize an 8% gain as a loss. It is true that if a local Board chooses to increase its aid by 9% or 10%, they, of course, will have to make up the difference locally. But that is a local choice.

Certainly, a sound 8% increase a year based on a sound and predictable revenue base is far superior to the bankrupt old system that had been underfunded by 8% and 16% in the last two years and which was heading for a 40% underfunding next year.

As I stated in my letter to the public, this new school funding system is good for the taxpayer, the teachers and the children of Belleville.

I offer my services to the Belleville Board of Education to help them understand the program and to help make it work.

Senator Carmen A. Orecchio

Councilmen thanked

To the editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the town council, and most especially Jim Messina and Dr. Frank Noonan, for the help given to our church. The recent road work on Wallace Street caused our church several problems, including the forced cancellation of several services. As the sidewalk was being done, we realized a new planter strip was being put in front of the church. This would have been a terrible and unnecessary inconvenience, especially during weddings and funeral services, and also cause a problem for our elderly parishioners getting in and out of cars. We spoke to the foreman on the job, but didn't seem to get anywhere.

We then contacted council members Jim Messina and Dr. Frank Noonan and received assurances that the concrete would be replaced as it was before. The two councilmen took care of the problem, the concrete was replaced and our services could go on as scheduled.

Our church members are very grateful for the consideration and assistance. God bless you both.

Pastor Victor Lombardo,
Board of Trustees
Christian Apostolic Church
77 Wallace Street

Wild promises

To the editor:

We all know that people make wild promises while seeking public office. The people realize and accept these "lies" as part of the political game. Fraud, however, is a far different matter.

Fraud, as defined by Thordike and Barnhart Dictionary says, 1. Deceit; cheating; dishonesty; 2. Any intent to deceive; 3. done by fraud; obtained by trickery.

Promises were made by all the candidates who were elected not to seek a salary. Was this just a trick, which comes up as fraud, according to my dictionary, just to win office?

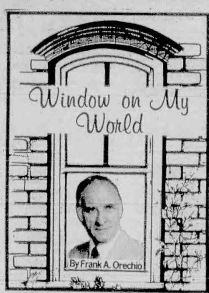

The actions of the newly elected councilpeople have left a bad taste in the mouths of the voters already.

This was not the fulfillment of a new beginning as envisaged by me, the people who opted for "change."

During the recent campaign, a well known business person, who sells world wide famous Lemon Ice, predicted that within a year, there will be a recall of these newly elected people. I scoffed at him. I thought he was way off. Now I am not so sure that he was wrong.

Why can't the voters discern the difference between honest and misleading, self serving people? Michael Giordano (Editor's Note: Mr. Giordano unsuccessfully ran for a seat on the new Council).

• LAST WEEK Howard Savings Bank announced that it suffered a second quarter loss of $15.7 million. The deteriorating real estate market was the culprit. Problem loans reached a record level.

Non-performing loans — those that haven't paid interest for ninety days — increased by $100 million to a total of $503 million, or 13 percent of the savings bank loan portfolio. Howard's reserve for losses is now at $123 million. Wall Street specialists are of the opinion that Howard Savings Bank is unlikely to turn itself around unless the real estate market turns around.

The resignation of Howard's former chairman and chief executive Donald F. McCormick was traced directly to the negative performance of Howard Savings Bank. The financial institution has entered into an informal agreement with regulators, under which the savings bank promises to keep above-average levels of capital and reduce expenses.

Howard has $5 billion in assets and 74 branches in 11 New Jersey counties.

• THE following appeared in a recent edition of the Personal Finance Magazine. Maybe, some of you people out there dream of becoming a billionaire. This story is about a man who did. J. Paul Getty...

J. Paul Getty was one of the richest men who ever lived. He died 14 years ago at the age of 83, he owned an elegant Tudor mansion in southern England and had amassed one of the world's great art collections. His personal fortune was worth about $3 billion.

What did Getty know about building wealth and investing for spectacular gains that his contemporaries didn't?

Several years before he died, Getty shared his "secret." In his autobiography, he explained that whenever he made an investment, he tried to apply this simple principle: If you want to make money, really big money, do what nobody else is doing.

In Getty's own words, "Buy when everyone else is selling and hold until everyone else is buying. This is not merely a catchy slogan. It is the very essence of successful investment."

In Wall Street circles, this principle has come to be known as "contrary investing." It is probably the simplest, sanest, most powerful and reliable money-making technique ever devised to buy low and sell high for maximum profit. It works in any market, from gold and silver to stocks, bonds, currencies, real estate, collectibles or any other market that interests you — because human nature is the same everywhere.

You don't need special academic training to profit from it. All you need is an independent mind and an ounce of courage. If you want to buy low and sell high, you must train yourself to buy when everybody, including yourself, is feeling discouraged — when the news is bad. That's likely to be the bottom. And, you should sell when everybody is excited and the news is good because that's likely to be the top.

Unfortunately, too many people do just the opposite; they buy high and sell low. They're trend followers or, to put it more bluntly, they are crowd followers.

The successful investor is a trend setter, not a trend follower. He tries to get in — and out — ahead of the crowd.

• NOW that summer has heated up, here's what you can do to keep the house cool.

— If you have central air conditioning, clear the shrubbery away from the unit's outside vents so the air can flow freely over the condensing coils.

— Clean or replace your air filter once a month. If you have pets, it might be wise to check the filter every two or three weeks. Pets shed during the summer and your filter will catch their fur.

— If you have a unit air conditioner, direct the vents upward. Cool air tends to fall, so it's best to start it as close to the top of a room as possible.

— Don't wait until the hottest part of the day to turn on central or unit air conditioning. It's best to cool your home for a short time before the heat intensifies. If you turn up the system full blast, you'll end up using it longer and wasting energy.

— Shield the interior of your home from direct and indirect sunlight. Close drapes, blinds, or shutters. If you don't want to block your view with drapes, consider adding window film. A good window film will block the heat generated by direct sunlight and radiant heat produced by reflected sunlight.

— Examine your home's air leakage. Homeowners often think of weatherstripping around doors and windows only as a winter precaution. If you have air conditioning, weatherstripping may also be necessary during the summer.

— During the hottest part of the day, don't use appliances that produce heat. Don't run the dishwasher or do laundry. Not only does this heat the house, but it also puts a strain on the area's electrical supply.

• THE WOMAN'S Club of Nutley is asking its friends and neighbors to kindly give it a helping hand in preserving the Vreeland House, which is 288 years old. It is a non-profit organization which has served the community since 1912. A primary responsibility of the organization is to maintain and preserve Nutley's historic landmark, the Vreeland House (circa 1702) adjoining the Public Safety Building on Chestnut Street. President Audrey Hollenstein is making a desperate plea for financial support. In a recent communication, Audrey states, "Despite our best efforts, we are faced with overwhelming financial problems which are beyond our ability to meet. Deterioration of some of the structure, along with flood damage, termite/car, painter ants are a few of our many problems." Nutley's successful efforts to maintain its ties to a cultural past distinguishes this community from many that surround it. Our cultural ties to the past sustain the high quality of life which Nutley residents enjoy. Maintaining historic landmarks is one dimension of this quality.

For the business minded

On the second floor of the library are a number of books for the business-minded. Among them are "Be Your Own Boss; a Step-by-Step Guide to Financial Independence With Your Own Small Business," "Effective Meeting Skills; A Practical Guide for More Productive Meetings," "How To Measure Managerial Performance," "In Search of Excellence; Lessons from America's Best Run Companies," "Managing Disagreement Constructively; Conflict Management in Organizations," "A Passion for Excellence; the Leadership Difference," "Publicity Power," "Professional Selling," and "Up the Organization; How To Stop the Corporation from Stifling People and Strangling Profits."

Getting the most out of reading

Clifton Fadiman, in discussing how to get the most out of reading, recommended reading as rapidly as you can, as much as you can, chucking a book that bores you and trying another, reading above yourself on a level that requires a little effort and understanding, building a personal library, and starting the habit of regular, continuous, and miscellaneous reading.

The Belleville Public Library and Information Center is offering a summer reading program called READ for teens and adults, in line with Clifton Fadiman's concepts. If you would like to join, see Adrea Cohen. The program will conclude Sept. 15, but you still have time to register and report on the books that you have read. Ten books earn a certificate; twenty, a free book. Remember, today, in our changing, complicated world, the well-read individual is respected and needed!

Results. Nutri/System.

Nutri/System clients rated Nutri/System more effective than dieters rated other weight-loss programs.

"I lost 92 lbs. with Nutri/System. So I know it works. And I know why it works, too. It's a comprehensive program. Counselors who give you lots of support. A huge variety of delicious meals and snacks. A light activity program that's so easy I was able to do it with my 5-year-old son. Best of all a maintenance program to help me keep the weight off. And believe me, I'm going to keep this weight off forever!"

Summer safety precautions for sunning, swimming, more

As the temperature rises, many residents seek relief at one of the area's many beaches. But a day at the beach is no picnic when you overdo it in the sun and surf. Using common sense and moderation are often all you need for a safe day at the shore.

Dr. Michael Doyle, a family physician in Neptune, notes that many beach accidents are easily avoided. "The sun, sand and water are there for you to enjoy. However, they bring with them certain health risks."

To avoid many of those risks, review the following first-aid and safety tips. And, when packing for your next beach trip bring them along, so that your next outing will be fun as well as safe.

Safe sun tanning
Apply sunscreen 15 to 30 minutes before sun exposure. Reapply every two or three hours throughout the day.

On extra sensitive areas, eyes, ears and nose, use a balm or block with a SPF (sun protection factor) of at least 15.

Slip into lightweight, light-colored clothes. As much as 85 percent of the ultraviolet burning rays can penetrate clouds even on overcast days.

Wear a wide-brimmed hat and bring sports caps for the kids to protect the scalp and face from sunburn.

Make sure that all exposed skin is protected with a sunscreen, as the sun reflects off many surfaces such as sand, water and concrete.

Slather on the sunscreen — rain or shine. As much as 85 percent of the ultraviolet burning rays can penetrate clouds even on overcast days.

For beachwear, only wear sunglasses that have been rated for "general use" by the Sunglass Association of America. Eyewear which falls into this category have darker lenses than fashion or "cosmetic use" sunglasses, and block at least 95 percent of UV-B rays.

Oral contraceptives, diuretics, and antibiotics can cause the skin to be extra sensitive to the sun. If you're taking medications, consult your physician before sunbathing. Beach overdoes and antidotes

Sunburns
Stay cool. Take a tepid bath and/or lie down in a dark, well-ventilated room.

Drink lots of water and eat a few saltine crackers to replace fluid and salt loss.

Watch for signs of heat exhaustion and/or sun poisoning.

Heat Exhaustion
Symptoms of heat exhaustion include nausea, lack of perspiration (even under the arms), and flushed skin. If unconsciousness occurs, consult a physician immediately.

Avoid strenuous outdoor exercise during the warmest hours of the day and sudden changes of temperature, e.g. going from an air conditioned building to car parked in the sun. Days of high humidity increase susceptibility to heat exhaustion.

Wear loose, lightweight, light-colored clothing which reflects the sun and allows sweat to evaporate.

Stay out of the sun and drink lots of water or non-alcoholic fluids.

Sun stroke is considered a true medical emergency that can result in permanent injury and death.

Symptoms include a high fever and unconsciousness resulting from the body's inability to regulate its temperature.

Medical personnel should be alerted immediately.

Until medics arrive, get the person out of the sun. If possible, bring the person indoors, or shade them with an umbrella.

Try to lower the body's temperature. Make cool compresses by soaking beach towels, then place them on the individual.

Swimmer's Ear
The symptoms of swimmer's ear include tenderness and a feeling of fullness in the ear which can be accompanied by a burning or itching sensation. Wiggling the outer ear will cause pain.

To prevent swimmer's ear, clear water from the ear by tipping the head from side to side until the water has drained from the canal. Absorb the excess water from the ear with the twisted corner of a facial tissue.

If discomfort persists, look with a penlight to be sure there is not an insect or other foreign particles in the ear.

Consult a physician if pain and irritation persist for more than 24 hours or if symptoms include a bloody or pus-like discharge.

Bee stings/insect bites
If the stinger is embedded in the skin, remove with a pair of tweezers, taking care not to squeeze more venom into the skin.

If the bite appears puffy and red, use cool compresses to relieve swelling and pain.

Cover area with a topical antibiotic cream.

Should symptoms include hives, shortness of breath, or difficulty in swallowing, consult a medical professional immediately.

Cuts and scrapes
Determine the cause of the abrasion or cut.

Rinse with fresh, clean water. Remove any debris.

Deep lacerations, caused by shells or broken glass should be treated with an over-the-counter topical anti-biotic ointment until evaluated by a skilled medical person.

A physician should be consulted immediately if a cut is the result of contact with needles or rusted metal items.

Food poisoning
Keep all food cool, below 40 degrees Fahrenheit, and clean.

Minimize all food handling during preparation, which is the main source of bacterial contamination. Proper menus should include lots of fresh fruit, raw vegetables, dry processed meats like salami, and hard cheeses.

Foods to avoid are chicken and fish, as well as dairy products. Symptoms of food poisoning such as diarrhea, vomiting and fever, can result in severe dehydration. Consult a physician if symptoms persist over a 24-hour period.

OBITUARIES

Maurice J. McEligot, 86, was Essex engineer

A Mass for Maurice J. McEligot, 86, of Belleville, retired as assistant superintendent of the Essex County Department of Public Works, was offered Aug. 6 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville.

Mr. McEligot, who died Aug. 2 in his home, retired in 1978 after working for 41 years with the Essex County Department of Public Works.

Mr. McEligot was a 1937 graduate of the Newark College of Engineering and earned a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken.

He was a member of the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers and was a past trustee of the Essex County chapter of the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers.

Born in Nutley, he lived in Belleville for many years. Surviving are two sons, Donald M. and Keith J.; a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Moore; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rita Lally, 65

A Mass for Mrs. Rita Lally, 65, of Nutley was offered Aug. 6 in St. Clare's Church, Clifton, after the funeral from the S.W. Brown & Son Funeral Home, Nutley.

Mrs. Lally died Aug. 1 in the Hospital Center at Passaic.

Born in Newark, she lived in Belleville before moving to Nutley 30 years ago.

Surviving are her husband, Robert M. Jr.; a son, Robert T., and two sisters, Mrs. Edna Burns and Mrs. Ellen Laugel.

Ethel Stunis, 87

Services for Ethel Stunis, 87, a lifelong resident of Belleville, were held Aug. 6 in the Prout Funeral Home, Verona.

Mrs. Stunis died Aug. 3 in the Mountainside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

Surviving are two sons, John and Richard; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A Mass for Mrs. Sarah Hood, 84, of Belleville was offered Aug. 7 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville.

Mrs. Hood died Aug. 2 in her home.

She had worked for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. in Newark for 42 years before retiring in 1968 as a long distance operator. Mrs. Hood was a member of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Pioneers and the Rosary Confraternity of St. Peter's Church.

Born in Newark, she lived most of her life in Belleville.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Annamare O'Connell and Mrs. Lorraine Mullany; a son, Joseph LAMIN; two daughters-in-law Mary Lou Hood and Marian LAMIN; a son-in-law, Robert Mullany; 25 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Walter Smith, 75

Walter Smith, 75, of Belleville died Aug. 6 in his home.

Services were held Aug. 9 in the Irvine-Cozzarelli Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Smith owned Garden Liquors of Belleville for 17 years, retiring last year. Before that, he was a draftsman for Curtis-Wright in Teterboro for many years. In the late 1930's to early 1940's, Mr. Smith worked as a lab technician for Public Service Gas & Electric, Newark.

He was a pitcher in the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system from 1936-1938. Mr. Smith had played semi-pro football for the Hawthorne Eagles from 1932-1936. He played on the baseball teams of the Curtis-Wright and Public Service teams.

He had an 11-year coaching career in baseball and football with Federal Industries Little League Football in Belleville, Belleville Little League Baseball and the Belleville Babe Ruth League. Mr. Smith was also assistant coach for the Belleville American Legion baseball team.

He was founder and owned the Institute of Practical Drafting in Newark from 1954-1959.

Mr. Smith taught Sunday school at the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Newark for 10 years. He was a member of the Paterson Masonic Lodge and the Belleville Masonic Lodge No. 108 F&AM.

Born in Paterson, he lived in Belleville since 1940.

Surviving are two sons, Walter 3d and Charles; three brothers, Robert, William and David; a sister, Mrs. Ida Pugliese, and five grandchildren.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Real Joy

The one thing all young people are constantly looking for is happiness. Sadly, I find that many people looking in all the wrong places. Some believe if they have things such as clothes, a car or some other material object, this will make them happy. Others believe that if they can be popular among their peers or excel in athletics and gain fame, then they will find real happiness.

After discovering this to be false, disappointment sets in and they become disillusioned, even to the place of becoming distraught. I hope you will discover that real happiness is found in the joy of Christ — John 15:11: "These things have I spoken unto you, and that your joy might be full."

When Jesus Christ saves one, He moves into that individual's heart and life and brings real joy with Him. However, as one goes along in life, many times different things are allowed to enter the heart and steal the joy, Jesus said, "...that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full." Real joy comes through a right relationship with Christ, John 15:4: "Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine, no more can you, except ye abide in Me." The "abiding" which Jesus is referring to is a description of our fellowship in Christ, in our daily walk with Him.

The most important thing you do in your young life is to make sure you are right with the Lord and that there is no unconfessed sin to hinder. I John 1:9: "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Develop a daily walk with Him where you share your burdens and ask Him to guide you continually. Look to Him for every problem you may face and every need you may have.

Real joy also comes through a right relationship with the Word of God. Once you rid yourself of any burden of sin (through confession), then you can stay cleansed daily through His Word. A daily reading of God's Word will help you overcome every temptation presented by Satan and your flesh. The Word will strengthen you through the day for every testing that may cross your path. It will give you wisdom for every decision, guidance for everyday living, and help you know what the Lord has for you in the future (Eph. 5:15-17).

Finally, you have real joy through a right relationship with the world. I am afraid that most of our young people allow the world to influence them rather than their influencing the world. Do not let the things of the world grip your life and destroy your testimony. Rather, be an influence for Christ, winning the lost to Him and glorifying our Father ... John 15:8: "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples."

Wedding vows were exchanged in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, by Brenda Lee Yurkanin, daughter of Mrs. Frances Yurkanin of Belleville and the late Daniel Yurkanin, and Frank Joseph Bambo, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bambo and grandson of Mrs. Regina Fabio of Belleville.

Rev. Patrick Wilhelm performed the May 19 ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Chandelier, Belleville.

Escorted by her uncle, Robert Yurkanin, the bride wore a traditional gown of satin and lace, trimmed with pearls and sequins. A matching headpiece held her veil and she carried a cascade of white florets and roses and pink babies breath.

Barbara Yurkanin of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Toni Lyon of Seaside, niece of the groom, Joanne Sabatino and Judi Bowers of Belleville and Virginia Carnovale of Nutley. Flower girl was Joelle Hoban of Howell, niece of the groom.

They were attired in jade green gowns with matching floral headpieces and carried cascades of light pink roses and white gladioli with jade and pearl bows.

Barry Bambo of Lyndhurst, nephew of the groom, was the best man. Ushering were John Yurkanin of Belleville, brother of the bride, Michael Bambo of Saddlebrook and Gary Bambo of Belleville, nephews of the groom and Richard Bowers of Belleville. Ringbearer was Ricky Bowers of Belleville.

Mrs. Yurkanin chose a mauve gown trimmed in silver while the groom's grandmother was in a lavender gown. Corsages were of pink cymbidium orchids and babies breath.

Mrs. Bambo, a graduate of Belleville High School, is with Supermarkets General Corp., Patmark, South Orange.

Mr. Bambo, also a Belleville High School alumna, is with Supermarkets General, Union.

The couple cruised the Caribbean and have made their home in Belleville.

Honeymoon in Hawaii for Mr. and Mrs. Oliver

Wanda Posada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mariano Posada of Newark, and Frank Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Oliver of Belleville, exchanged wedding vows in St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at Wayne Manor, Wayne. Escorted by her father, the bride wore a long sleeved satin gown accented with sequins and pearls and fashioned with an illusion neckline and chapel train. A headband of sequins, pearls and sprayed roses held her veil and she carried silk calla lilies with lavender netting.

Violet Noda of Newark was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sister-in-law, Nancy Posada of Laguna Hills, Calif., the groom's sister, Tracey Baker of Newark, Noemi Rodriguez of Newark, Sonia Gonzalez of Newark, Bettina Freire of Newark, Cindy Christiano of Bloomfield and Maria Belmonte of Union. Flower girl was Michelle Romano of Bloomfield.

They were attired in lavender satin gowns trimmed with sequins. The flower girl was in a white satin gown and carried a bouquet of roses, freesia and babies breath.

Emil Oliver of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushering were the bride's brother, Al Posada of Laguna Hills, the groom's brother, Greg Oliver, of Belleville, his brother-in-law, George Baker of Newark, his cousin, Anthony Oliver of Belleville, Leo Visentin of Newark, John Visentin of Newark and Glenn Berchold of Secaucus. Ringbearer was Jason Slater of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Posada chose a light pink lace length gown accented with rhinestones. Her corsage was of pink and white roses. The groom's mother, in a royal blue lace tea length gown accented with rhinestones, had a white and blue rose corsage.

Mrs. Oliver, a graduate of East Side High School, Newark, is a data processor in the research department of Buck Consultants, Secaucus.

Mr. Oliver, an alumnus of Belleville High School, is with Rowe International, Whippany.

The couple honeymooned in Hawaii following the Feb. 18 nuptials. They are living in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oliver — nee Wanda Posada

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

SINUS DISEASE

Q: What is sinus disease?

A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.

Q: What are the symptoms of sinus disease?

A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.

Q: How is sinus disease treated?

A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and allergy therapy.

Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?

A: In more severe cases with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.

Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?

A: Yes. With fiberoptic examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.

Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?

A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopic techniques with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville Little League All Stars began action in the Rick Cerone Tournament. All games are played at Branch Brook Park in a double elimination set up.

Belleville is managed by Earl Wake, Juan Rodriguez and Michael Schmitt. The tourney began on August 1, when Belleville battled the Montclair All Stars.

Brian Dena pitched a phenomenal game against Montclair. He faced the minimum 18 batters and struck out an amazing 17 of those hitters. The only base runner against Dena reached by way of a walk, but he was erased on an attempted steal of second base. Belleville catcher Nick Iannitelli, threw to second baseman John Bravette to catch the would-be stealer.

Belleville won by an 8-0 count. A recap of the scoring saw Mike Schmitt lead off the first inning with a long triple. Carl Piscatowski followed with a double to score Schmitt.

In the second inning, James Constantino walked and went to second when Ram Parekh walked. Constantino then stole third and home for the second Belleville run.

In the third inning, Jason Dunn tripled in two runs for Belleville. Bravette walked and stole second. Iannitelli then singled, scoring Dunn and Bravette and increasing Belleville's lead to 6-0.

In the fourth inning, Schmitt walked and scored when Dena lined a triple into the gap in centerfield. In the fifth, Constantino walked and went to second when Iannitelli was hit by a pitch.

Constantino then put on another running exhibition, stealing third and home for the second time in the game.

The victory moved Belleville into the second round, where the opponent was the Newark Ironbriand Giants.

Manager Wake chose Dunn to pitch the game and he hurled a complete game. Dunn allowed just four hits. He struck out eight and walked one. Belleville won the game by a score of 8-2.

Parekh played a solid defensive game. In the third, the centerfielder made a perfect throw to third baseman Piscatowski to nail a Giant runner and end the inning.

A key double play was turned in in the fifth inning. Second baseman Bravette fielded and threw to shortstop Dena for the first out. Dena then completed the DP with a throw to Constantino at first base.

The offensive attack was led by Danny Montalvo, who had three hits, scored three runs and drove in three more.

The Giants led 2-1 after three innings. In the Belleville fourth, Bravette walked and Constantino singled, putting runners on first and second. Don Raimando then singled to score Bravette. With runners on first and second, Montalvo singled to score Constantino and Raimando. Schmitt then collected an RBI single, putting Belleville ahead 5-2.

Dena then hit a long drive to right centerfield that was good for a triple, scoring Schmitt and increasing the lead to 6-2.

Belleville scored two more in the sixth inning to make the final count 8-2.

The team will continue action in the Rick Cerone tournament this week. Good luck to Coach Wake and company.

SPORTS SCRAPBOOK '90

"Sports Scrapbook '90, a half hour review of the 1989-90 high school sports season, will air on Suburban Cablevision, TV-3 on Thursday, August 23 at 7 p.m.

Hosted by Bob Mattola, the show will highlight local teams in football, basketball, baseball, soccer, hockey, wrestling, lacrosse and field hockey. The show will also pay tribute to some of the outstanding athletes of the year and whose those athletes will continue their careers this September.

Among the athletes to be featured is Stacey Johansen, who enjoyed a stellar softball career at Belleville High School. Johansen capped off a phenomenal senior season by earning all county and all state honors.

A fine student, Johansen will be taking her talents to the Ivy League in September, attending Brown University.

The show will be repeated on TV-3 on Friday August 24 at 8 p.m., Sunday August 26 at 7:30 p.m. and Friday August 31 at 6:30 p.m.

SPORTS NEWS

The Belleville Junior Legion team will begin action in the state tournament this weekend, playing Roselle on Sunday at 7 p.m. The game will be played in Linden.

According to coach Jim Lewis, the tournament is single elimination. The Junior Bucs have been practicing for the states by playing a series of scrimmages. This week, Belleville played at the Oval on Monday and Wednesday against Nutley and last Tuesday, the team traveled to Secaucus for a game.

The latest rumor in WFAN's "Mike and The Mad Dog" show is whether Doug Drabek of Pittsburgh or Dwight Gooden of the Mets would be the choice to pitch a crucial game. Based on 1990 performances, I've got to agree with Russo that Drabek is the choice, so far. The NL East crown could come down to one game in early October between the Mets and Bucs.

Jack Buck, the Hall of Fame Cardinal broadcaster can be very proud of his son, Jim. Although he's only 22, the younger Buck has developed into quite a broadcaster. He worked the four games of the recent Cardinal-Mets series on WFAN radio and was really outstanding in a play by play role.

The Cardinals still have a shot to win the NL East. As of last Tuesday afternoon, the Redbirds were 50-59 and still in last place in the division. The way I figure it, if they go 44-19 the rest of the way, they would finish 94-68 and that could be good enough to win the NL East. Maybe even 42-11 would be good enough to win. That's not too unrealistic, is it?

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

During the George Steinbrenner era, the Yankees won 100 regular season ball games in 1977 (100-62), 1978 (100-63), which included the one game playoff with Boston) and 1980 (103-59). The '77 Yankees were managed by Billy Martin, the '78 Yankees were led by Martin and Bob Lemon and the '80 Yankees were led by Dick Howser.

The '77 and '78 Yanks won the World Series. The '80 Yankees lost to Kansas City in the ALCS.

FOR THIS WEEK

"Terp" Walsh enjoys standout career

From the fall of 1982 through the fall of '84, he gave Belleville football fans plenty of cheer about. On offense, he played quarterback and was a dangerous player due to his tremendous athletic ability. On defense, there weren't many better. He anchored a defensive backfield that was very stingy during those three years.

After a standout high school career, he moved on to the University of Maryland, where in his senior year, he was named defensive captain of the Terrapins. By now, almost all Belleville gridiron fans know that the man in question is Mark Walsh.

Walsh played for Maryland from 1986-89, having been "redshirted" in 1985. During his high school days, he played in the defensive secondary. Once he arrived in Maryland, the coaching staff there felt Walsh would be an effective inside linebacker due to his good size (6'4" tall, 220 pounds) and excellent speed.

"I really enjoyed my career at Maryland," Walsh said. "I have absolutely no regrets about playing there. I just wish that I had the chance to play strong safety a little more there. When I first got to Maryland, the coaching staff decided that it safeties would be no heavier than 195 pounds, so they decided to move me to defensive end or inside linebacker."

"However, when my college career ended, the NFL scouts told me that I was about ten pounds too light to play linebacker. My speed and strength was good, but I'm a little light. Because I hardly played safety in college, I didn't have the experience for the NFL to give me a shot there."

Walsh would like to continue his football career, ultimately in the National Football League. He would like to play strong safety there. However, he knows he needs to be seen at that position before some NFL club will take a chance on signing him.

"I'm hoping to catch on with the new World Football League," Walsh said. "I think the league which will begin play in the spring of 1991. If not there, then maybe the Canadian Football League (CFL) next season."

Walsh was hoping to have a shot at the CFL this year, but because of the early start of that season and his not knowing about the NFL, he opted to wait until the World League starts next spring.

During his college days, Walsh went up against some of the best in the nation.

"Blair Thomas (the Penn State running back and number one draft pick of the Jets this season) had tremendous speed," Walsh said. "When we played them last fall, it was my job to cover him coming out of the backfield."

"That game was probably the most satisfying of my college career, because I was able to stay with him and we did well against Penn State."

According to Walsh, Penn State had never lost to Maryland in football prior to the 1989 meeting between the two schools. Although the Terps didn't win in '89, the team didn't lose, either. The game ended in a 13-13 tie, which was nonetheless quite a victory for Maryland.

"That game hurt Penn State's chances for a major bowl game," Walsh said. "It was a big game for our program."

Walsh also remembers some key matchups with powerhouse Miami over the past few years.

"We played them in the Orange Bowl in '86. Miami had (Alonso) Highsmith (now a running back with the Houston Oilers). They were just so talented. I remember covering a back coming out of the backfield and making a good hit. I didn't even know until later that it was Highsmith."

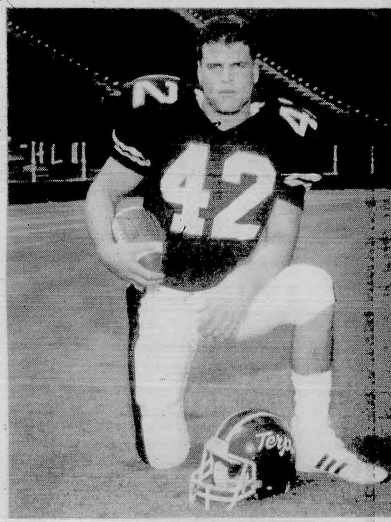

Maryland played Miami tough in '86, trailing by just three points at the half. However, in the second half, the 'Canes pulled away and won by three TD's.

Some of the ACC matchups were also memorable.

"We tied Clemson (in 1986) in a wild game," Walsh said. "That was the game when both the head coaches had to coach from the press box because of a brawl between the two schools the previous year."

But perhaps the best games for Walsh were when Maryland played against West Virginia. The Mountaineers had a huge lineman named David Grant, a former high school teammate of Walsh's during the Belleville days.

"It was weird playing against Dave," Walsh said. "I would usually go against him on specialty teams. One time, it was my job to block the nose guard on a punt. Dave was the nose guard. I managed to block him and we were jawing at each other as we ran down the field. He was saying 'you're not going to do that again" and things like that.

MARK WALSH — enjoyed a standout college football career at the University of Maryland. He played inside linebacker and some strong safety there. Walsh hopes to continue his football career on the professional level.

"The next time, I went to block him again and he stepped out of the way. I fall and he just lays on top of me. That's 280 pounds on top of you. Dave's laughing at me half the time during the game. It was really enjoyable seeing a guy you played with in high school."

Walsh also went up against former high school opponents in college, too. Most notable, Quintus McDonald, who played high school ball at Montclair and then moved on to Penn State. Today, McDonald is a defensive end for the Indianapolis Colts.

"We were playing Penn State on a 'real hot day,'" Walsh said. "There's a time out and we have our helmets off. I'm standing across the line from Quintus and we say hello to each other and talk about whether we've been home lately. But as soon as the whistle sounds, it's back to business."

Walsh was recruited to Maryland by Bobby Ross. However, after 1986, Ross moved on to coach at Georgia Tech. It was also in 1986 that the University of Maryland made national headlines when Len Bias died of a drug overdose.

"I got to know Len in college," Walsh said. "I remember the morning he died. The entire campus was in a state of shock. It was a very difficult time at Maryland and the entire sports program was under scrutiny."

Although Walsh has many memories of his college days, it's the high school days that he really cherishes.

"The memories from high school are more vivid than college," Walsh said. "Maybe it's because I've been out for a while. I can go on and on about some of the high school days."

Next week, we'll continue this article with a look back at Walsh's high school career. Make sure to read this week's Flashback, which remembers a 1982 game in which Walsh and Dave Grant both excelled.

Flashback! '82 Bucs battle Union in playoffs

This week's Flashback coincides with our feature story on Mark Walsh. The year is 1982. Walsh is a sophomore for the Belleville Bucs and Dave Grant, who now plays for the Cincinnati Bengals, is a senior defensive lineman.

Belleville and Union are playing in the first round of the Group IV, Section II playoffs at Municipal Stadium. It's the first time a high school football playoff game is played at Belleville.

Both Belleville and Union come in with a 7-1 record. The teams had an epic playoff battle in '79 at Giants Stadium, with Union winning in the final seconds, 15-12. This article appeared in the November 24, 1982 issue.

Once again, the Bucs came close to a state title and for the second time in four years, Union shut the door on them. Two Union touchdowns in the second quarter proved to be the difference as the Farmers scored a thrilling 12-7 victory over the Belleville Buccaneers before a large crowd at Municipal Stadium last Saturday in first round action of the Group IV, Section II playoffs.

"Our kids did a great job," said an emotionally drained John Senesky. "They (Union) were much bigger than us, but our kids took the challenge. We were very glad to be a part of the playoffs. We lost 25 kids to graduation last year and have a very young club this season. The offense was rebuilt this year, but we came through with a good year. Union is a fine ball club. They are well coached and well drilled."

Union coach Lou Rettino shared the same sentiments as Senesky. "It was a great game," Rettino said. "Belleville is a class club, they are so well coached and gave us a great battle."

It was an exciting game in the second half after Union dominated the first half with its three fine running backs, Rick Peace, Curtis Jones and Quincy Brooks. The three tore through the Belleville defensive line like no team in 1982 could. After a scoreless first quarter, the visitors struck quickly in the second frame.

Following a 24 yard Robbie Cancelliere punt, Union took possession on the Buccaneer 28 yard line. After three plays gained nine yards, Brooks took a handoff and scooted 41 yards for the games first tally. The conversion failed and Union led, 6-0.

It took the Farmers just three minutes to hit score number two. Starting from its own 20, Union covered the length of the field in two plays, taking a 25 yard run by Brooks and a 55 yard scoop by Peace who was virtually untouched after making contact at the line of scrimmage. The conversion failed once more. Murphy was then sent back for a two yard loss, setting up a third and 32 from the 26.

Enter Cancelliere, who then hauls in a short pass from Walsh and scoots 32 yards for a first down at the Farmer 42. From there, Billy Baber gained two yards to the 40 and Cancelliere gained nine more for a first down at the 31. The Union defense and a Belleville penalty sent the Bucs to a desperate fourth and seven from the Union 35.

Once again, Mr. Walsh came through with flying colors. Fighting a big Farmer rush, Walsh found Cancelliere for 22 yards and a first down at the Union 13. Cancelliere gained four yards to the nine and Baber finished the job with a nine yard run, cutting across the grain and diving into the end zone.

Cancelliere added the conversion and it was anyone's game at 12-7.

The Buccaneer defense came back to shut down the Farmers on three plays, and Belleville took over following a Farmer punt. From his own 47, Murphy gained six to the Farmer 47 and Cancelliere another ten to the 37. Murphy added three yards to the 34 and the fans, by this time absolutely exuberant, were anticipating a big score.

It wasn't meant to be. On the next play, the Bucs fumbled and Union recovered. The Farmers ran the clock down and held on to a big 12-7 win.

Union did not complete a pass on the day, a statistic that did not surprise Rettino.

"This is the third time that's happened this year. Our running game did the job for us. It was a tough game, between two of the states best teams."

Unfortunately for the Bucs, they finished second on this day.

Editors' Notes: Union went on to win the Group IV, Section II title, beating Montclair in the finals. Union and Montclair played for the sectional crown in '82, '83, '84 and '85. Union won every year except for the '83 campaign. Union then beat Roxbury for the '86 and '87 championships and stopped Morris Knolls for the '88 crown. Union's string of titles ended in '89 when the Farmers missed out on the playoffs for the first time since 1980.

Belleville went back to the playoffs in '84, where it lost to a potent Union club again. This time the score was 42-0.

Belleville beat Kearny on Thanksgiving Day in 1982 to finish the year with an 8-2 record.

Walsh's first possession, he was sacked for a 20 yard loss. The Buc 28. Murphy was then sent back for a two yard loss, setting up a third and 32 from the 26.

Enter Cancelliere, who then hauls in a short pass from Walsh and scoots 32 yards for a first down at the Farmer 42. From there, Billy Baber gained two yards to the 40 and Cancelliere gained nine more for a first down at the 31. The Union defense and a Belleville penalty sent the Bucs to a desperate fourth and seven from the Union 35.

Once again, Mr. Walsh came through with flying colors. Fighting a big Farmer rush, Walsh found Cancelliere for 22 yards and a first down at the Union 13. Cancelliere gained four yards to the nine and Baber finished the job with a nine yard run, cutting across the grain and diving into the end zone.

Prayer of Application to the Holy Spirit
Holy Spirit who who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. Who give me the Devine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor request will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor, only your initials should appear at the bottom.

of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance.
Help me in my present urgent petition. In return
I promise to make your name known and cause
you to be invoked. Say 3
Our Father, 3 Hail Mary
