Contract impasse

Mediator called in for BOE-BEA talks

By Anthony Buccino

Belleville's more than 300 teachers are not happy with progress being made during negotiations with the school board. In fact, after their ninth negotiation meeting Sept. 17, the Belleville Education Association and the Board of Education declared an impasse and agreed to call in a mediator. The teachers have been working without a contract since June 30.

School Superintendent Michael A. Nardiello said Monday night following the board of ed meeting that a mediator could come into the picture "within a month or less."

No teachers showed up for the school district's first Open House scheduled for Monday night at School 4, but Principal Mike Harvey conducted the assembly of parents despite their absence. The usual format for Open House is for the parents to be welcomed by the principal, meet the teachers in assembly, and then visit the children's classrooms and view the textbooks and curriculum.

At School 4, Harvey had all the parents, about 60, in the auditorium where he addressed them and explained the school procedures. He told the group "this is going to be brief." Harvey could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

A letter sent to Mary Ann Lopreato, president of the Consolidated Home and School Associations from B.E.A. President Martin Lang, the B.E.A. Executive, Negotiating and Action Committees was made available Tuesday afternoon. The teachers regretted not being able to participate in any of the Open Houses scheduled this week, the letter stated. "The teachers in this district are working, we are in our classrooms despite the fact that we again have no contract."

"We are doing our professional best under some very difficult circumstances," the letter concluded.

Lang could not be reached for comment Tuesday before deadline. One Union delegate said Tuesday the "teachers are indeed anticipating a job action," although other Union leaders said they would have no comment at this time.

Nardiello said Monday "when the board adopts the school calendar for the year, it becomes a part of the contract." Whether the current school calendar applies even though the contract has not been struck, he said, would require a legal opinion.

Items under negotiations between the board and the teachers and the board and other bargaining units have been kept out of the press, according to both parties. Other negotiations continue for administrators, supervisors and secretaries.

Tax assessor quits, town seeks interim

Interim township manager Charles Burns said Tuesday that he was preparing to hire an interim tax assessor following Friday's walk-out of Thomas Salzano.

"He left Friday afternoon," Burns said, "I understand he turned his key in. If he doesn't show up for work, he's retired or resigned."

Burns said township finance officer Isadore Padula was in the process of providing Salzano with an assistant. Salzano has handled the assessor's office alone for 7-1/2 months since March when his former assistant retired.

According to Salzano, the former government did not provide an assistant, and on July 2 he approached interim manager Burns for an assistant. Additionally, beginning in August, the tax assessor's computer - which is tied to the county tax office, was down for nearly eight weeks before being replaced and going on-line.

Salzano said Tuesday, "The assistance I required was critical."

He said he was unable to visit nearly 250 improved properties to review their added assessments. "I did a portion of the valley area," he said. He also brought in an associate to audit the new professional building on Clara Maass property.

In 1989, Salzano said, the added assessment of improved properties represented about $2.5 million in added assessments.

Salzano, a life-long Belleville resident, said he tried to keep the office flowing and remain within the 20-day moratorium on sales and deeds under the state mandate.

"I try, I try as best I can to be available," he said, referring to the nearly constant flow of inquiries to his office for tax information from residents, real estate agents, banks, attorneys and others involved with real estate values.

Fourth ward councilman Bill Cook said Tuesday that under the new form of government, none of

Blue goo leads to arrests of illegal waste dumpers

An anonymous phone call to police headquarters Saturday afternoon led to the arrest of two men who were charged with illegally dumping hazardous waste. Daniel J. Zazzarino, 66 of Newark and Billie Larry Sousa of Valletto, CA were each held on $100,000 bond or $10,000 cash bail following the police investigation at the Greenwich St. garage Sousa rented.

Police received a report at about 2 p.m. that a neighbor observed blue liquid running down the street with the rain water. Officers detailed to the scene observed Zazzarino with six steel drums on their side. The drums had holes in their tops which appeared to have been made with an ax, and blue liquid was running from the drums into the street, according to the reports.

The officers had Zazzarino stand up some drums and roll over others which appeared too heavy to lift.

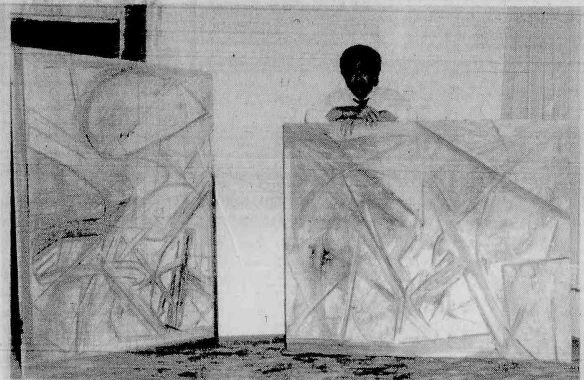

Captain Rich Triano who heads the Belleville Fire Dept. Haz-Mat team arrived on the scene with a contingent of firemen. The firemen spread absorbent to stop the liquid from running out of the garage. They also up-righted the balance of the opened drums.

Triano said that tests performed by the Department of Environmental Protection proved that the contents of the drums were true to their labeling. The DEP representative identified the contents of the drums as copper pyrophosphate, a chemical used as a cleansing agent for metals, Triano said. Some of the drums were labeled for original shipment to printing companies in Florida, Virginia and Arkansas. he said, but it still being investigated as to whether the drums actually came from those locations or had been reused at some point.

Additional drums were found in a trailer at the garage. Six of the total 16 drums had been punctured and spilled, a spokesman said, although it was undetermined how much of the liquid had been dumped during Saturday's heavy rains. The garage on Greenwich St., at the rear of 118 Washington Ave., is residential. Triano said the DEP officials believed the chemicals posed no serious threat to the area.

Illegal dumping in the state carries fines of up to $10,000. A Belleville township ordinance is designed to recoup the town's expenses in answering the call to the spill, Triano said.

FOR ART'S SAKE - Belleville resident Anthony Mercogliano, whose work has spanned three decades and enjoyed world renown, will exhibit his most recent paintings at the public library Oct. 3-29. Above, Mercogliano proudly displayed his huge pieces recently in his Belleville studio.

Local artist's abstract works on tap for showing at library

By Joyce M. Steel

Anthony Mercogliano, a Belleville resident and prominent artist, will show some of his most recent works at an exhibit in the Belleville Public Library in October.

Mercogliano, who began his artistic career in the late fifties, has used a variety of styles in his work, ranging from early impressionism to surrealism and cubism. He now uses a technique he calls "abstract gigantism," noting that many of his works are six feet long and weigh as much as 75 lbs.

Mercogliano's earlier surreal works were shown at the library in 1987, and an exhibit of his impressionist paintings is planned for 1991. The current exhibit will feature a collection of abstract works Mercogliano is quite proud of.

"I have been successful at exhibiting with the new abstracts, and I feel I'm breaking new ground where my work is concerned," Mercogliano said.

One of the artist's first attempts at abstract painting resulted in an internationally renowned work. In 1981 Mercogliano created "The Italian American Flag," a four-by-six foot work dedicated to the memory of his father. The following year, the state Senate officially recognized the work, and soon after residents and officials from Italy, the United Kingdom and California were requesting copies of the painting.

Mercogliano often refers to his father as his spiritual mentor, and said he received support from him at a very young age. Mercogliano decided to work as an artist after he won an award at ten years old for a silhouette he drew of Abraham Lincoln. His greatest enjoyment as an artist, Mercogliano said, is "the ability to create something where before there was nothing."

"My father, even though he wasn't an artist, was my greatest influence. He always encouraged me," Mercogliano said. The painting he dedicated to his father was the culmination of nine years of research, and features bold strokes of blue, green and red, with three white stars in the center, representing Columbus' three ships.

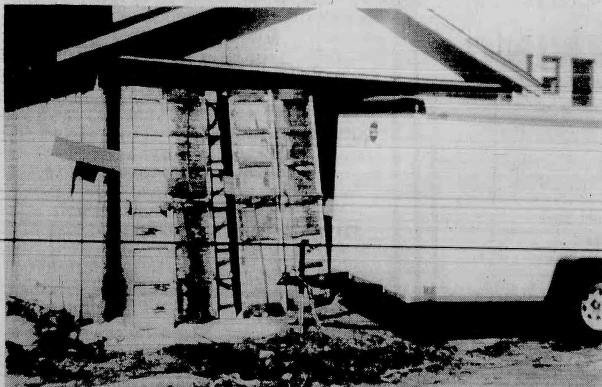

Mercogliano has exhibited his work in recent years at Caldwell College, the Garden State Arts Center, the New Jersey State Senate at the state house, and the Italian American Civic Association in Nutley.

Tax office open Monday evening

Belleville's Tax Collector's office at 152 Washington Ave. will be open for payment of taxes on Monday, October 1, from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

The additional evening hours for the Collector's office were made available to accommodate payment of third quarter 1990 taxes which were extended from August 1 to October 1 because of unsettled budgets at the county level.

Tax Collector Stephen Vogel said that Fourth Quarter taxes will be due on their original due date of November 1. Billing inquiries should be made to the tax collector's office.

SPILL SITE - Two men were charged in conjunction with dumping blue liquid from drums at the site of a garage on Greenwich St. at the rear of 122 Washington Ave. into the street during Saturday afternoon's heavy rains. The blue liquid reportedly ran along with the rain water south on Greenwich St. to William St. Police discovered a total of 16 drums of hazardous materials at the site including some in the trailer pictured.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

Luz Maria Rivera, 43, of Newark was charged with shoplifting a pair of jeans from the K-Mart on Sept. 19. She was also charged with incriminating another person by giving police a false name at the time of her arrest. Rivera was scheduled to appear in Belleville Municipal Court the same day as the arrest for an August 2 shoplifting arrest. A record check by court personnel revealed at least five prior shoplifting convictions. "The court does not appreciate people who break the law," said Municipal Judge Frank J. Zinna, who then sentenced Rivera to one 180-day jail sentence for each of the two Belleville shoplifting offenses. The terms will run consecutively. She was also ordered to pay $60 in fines to the Violent Crimes Fund, and other fines and court costs were suspended in lieu of the jail sentence.

Rexford Willet, 37, of Belleville, was charged with D.W.I. Sept. 20 at about 5:30 p.m. Willet told police that he hit two parked cars after swearing to miss another car. Police then asked him to step out of the car, but he was unable to do so without assistance from the two officers. In addition to the D.W.I. charge, Willet was also charged with operating an unlicensed vehicle, and held on $1,085 bail because of several other outstanding warrants.

A burglary into an auto was reported on Washington Ave. Sept. 17 shortly after 10 p.m. The owner of the car, which was left in a parking lot, reported her AM/FM radio was missing and the glove box damaged.

A thief made off with a Fax machine and a calculator valued at about $700 Sept. 18 from a Cleveland St. business. The proprietor reported that a garage door had been broken and entry was probably gained through a side window. The victim also reported finding a cooler which did not belong to anyone on the premises. The incident is being investigated by Belleville Police.

Karin Omar, 22, of Montclair was arrested Sept. 18 and charged with driving while on the revoked list. He was held on $250 bail and is scheduled to appear in municipal court Oct. 3.

Alterek Thomas, 19, of Newark was charged with shoplifting Sept. 18 after he tried to leave the Belmont Ave. Pathmark with merchandise valued at $419. He was stopped by store security and turned over to Belleville Police. Thomas was released on $200 bail. Thomas pleaded guilty to the charges and was fined $255 in Belleville Municipal Court. He was also placed on probation for one year or until the fine is paid.

A Homblower Ave. resident reported that someone threw a rock through a large front window on his house.

Car I.D. Program Oct. 13

Residents of Belleville will once again be able to make use of a new crime prevention service offered by the Essex County Sheriff's Office and the Belleville Police.

Known as the "VIP" (Vehicle Identification Program) it is designed to cut down on automobile theft and to help return stolen vehicles to their owners. The service involves etching the vehicle identification number on the windows of an automobile with a special indelible chemical. The vehicle window will also display a decal stating that the auto has been registered with the VIP program.

According to Sheriff D'Alesio and Chief Lister, the program is of special value to owners of new and high priced autos. Cars of this type are often the targets of professional car thieves who use them in "chop shop" and "salvage-switch" operations.

Essex County Sheriff's Officers will etch the vehicle identification number on the car windows of any Belleville resident on Saturday, Oct. 13 at the Police Station at 152 Washington Avenue from 9 to 11:30 a.m. There is no fee for the VIP service. For additional information contact Det. Puleo at 450-3300.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Despite some qualms, Russia abandoned a client state. Saddam Hussein was Moscow's principle surrogate in the Mid-East; most of the Iraqi tanks that rolled into Kuwait were Russian-made; many of his soldiers' weapons were Red Army issue. A few years ago, the United States could not have sent 100,000 soldiers into the Middle East without risking open confrontation. For now, the Kremlin has in effect ceded control of the Persian Gulf region to U.S. forces.

This is a redrafting of the geopolitical map. Future differences will be economic, not socialist versus capitalist, but poor versus rich. Therefore, regional instability will become more likely in the next few years with First and Second Worlds joining to preserve order in the Third.

Russia may be a potential ally against emerging new threats to the West, such as economic assaults from Asia, militant Islamic terrorism from the Middle East and drugs from Latin America. Others view the Grand Alliance of World War II all over again, with the same spirit of cooperation and ideological tensions.

The Soviets are not about to become a permanent ally like Britain, bound by tradition and shared values as well as mutual interests. While they share a general desire to preserve order, the United States and the Soviet Union seem better matched as partners of convenience for specific, limited goals.

The Middle East is not the first place where the United States and the Soviet Union have abandoned rivalry for cooperation. Moscow has already used its leverage to get Cuban troops out of Angola and Vietnamese troops out of Cambodia. Last month Moscow joined the United States, France, Britain and China in approving a U.N. peace plan to end the Cambodian civil war. Earlier this year, the Kremlin joined Washington in pressuring the Sandinistas to allow free elections in Nicaragua, which led to the downfall of a Marxist regime.

Moscow hasn't yet sent Washington a bill for its help in the gulf, but it badly needs Western technology. They need financial expertise. They need cash and basic commodities as grain and the need for Western technology and modern methods of production and agriculture.

The Soviets already belong to the permanent five-nation U.N. Security Council — for the past 45 years a forum in which superpowers hurled vetoes at each other. Now the United Nations may start to look like the international policeman its founders intended.

Washington's real ally is not the Soviet Union, but Gorbachev himself. The Soviet Union, riven by nationalist conflicts, could fall apart. Gorbachev's new spirit of cooperation is driven in large part by his need to cope with domestic problems.

In the long run, the new rapprochement between old rivals relies on personal diplomacy — which makes it fragile.

Today George Bush IS the government of the United States. Gorbachev isn't certain that the apparitions and generals will always follow his lead.

President Bush imagines a new world order — but will Moscow play along?

Caballeros in Columbus parade

In announcing that the National Champion Hawthorne Caballeros Drum & Bugle Corps will be participating in this year's event, the Belleville-Nutley Parade Committee has indicated that final arrangements are now being made for its eighth annual Columbus Day Parade, which will be held Oct. 14.

Parade off time is set for 1 p.m. from the Belleville High School auxiliary field. The line of march will be along Passaic Avenue and Joralemon Street to Franklin Avenue, then north to just past the reviewing stand, which will be located in front of the Nutley Savings Bank.

Parade General Chairman Bob Rusignuolo encourages all interested parties who wish to participate in the parade to contact the committee as soon as possible. The deadline time is in two weeks.

Rusignuolo went on to say that, as recent parades have been getting better and better, the committee has reached out this year in many ways to surpass previous parade successes. "We intend to bring a high quality event to Belleville and Nutley and to all who attend. To date we have approximately 15 bands, including the local high school marching bands."

Also parading will be a variety of color guards, numerous marching units, floats, antique and military vehicles, youth groups, etc. Leading the parade will be a large contingent of Fourth Degree members of the Knights of Columbus in full regalia. Parade Grand Marshal Frank Vincent, actor, Italian Vice Consul Antonio DeSantis, UNICO National President Michael D'Armino, and many state, county and local elected public officials will be in the line of march.

The Parade Committee is proud to bring the Hawthorne Caballeros to local viewers for the first time. The Caballeros are in their 44th consecutive year of competition and have amassed a truly incredible list of victories. They have won the American Legion National Title 15 times, the World Title 7 times and the N.J. State American Legion Title 41 times; and have completed 4 undefeated seasons, two of which were consecutive.

OUR OPINION

You're a Winner

You were born to be a winner,
There's no way that you can lose,
You just hang in there and whistle,
When you're bothered by the blues.
When a best friend disappoints you,
And you're crying deep inside,
You just somehow grin and bear it,
And your heartaches always hide.
You don't run to catch a rainbow,
But the pot of gold you find,
When you stop to smell the roses,
You're a winner, every time.

Who speaks for the victims!

Overwhelmingly, New Jersey residents and their elected representatives believe that capital punishment for those convicted of willful murder is justice. Seven justices of New Jersey Supreme Court believe otherwise. So, in 23 consecutive appeals brought by lawyers for persons convicted of willful murder, the court has found "technical" reasons to set aside sentence by execution.

Our state government and its constitution are modeled on the Republic and the Constitution of the United States. Yet six men and one woman have arbitrarily decided that capital punishment, as justice, should be over-ridden. When did our state system of government and its constitution (as amended in 1947) give this authority to only seven people, without the expressed wish of the governed?

Yes, let us protect the rights of anyone accused of murder or of any crime. But these murderers, with the law already bent a hundred different ways to protect their rights, had been convicted by a jury under the impartial eye of a judge. Why do we have trial by jury if the sentence of the jury, in this instance capital punishment, is summarily rejected time and time again by seven former lawyers?

We have no desire to denigrate the seven justices. Yet, not one of them has been or is known for scholarship, for understanding, for rulings that will be read and appreciated for decades. The seven justices are intoxicated with their righteousness, with their opinions, with their authority. Seven politically well-placed former lawyers presume to speak for the people and the representatives of the people!

The people and the representatives of the people are ignored, and so an even more terrible disservice has been carried out. Who then speaks for the victims, the willfully murdered victims? Who speaks for slain? Where are their rights? Were they given a second trial? The slain cry out for justice. But they cannot be heard by seven former lawyers!

And what of society? How long can we hope to endure when we care not for the victims, the slain, the murdered? Call it revenge; call it vengeance; call it what you will, but the murder of the innocent must not be forgotten. How can each of us dare to call ourselves human when we permit seven former lawyers to rule that the lives of the slain are of less value and dignity than the lives of their murderers?

Capital punishment is demanded because it is the only way each of us can uphold the value and dignity of the innocent who were willfully murdered. Even life sentences — such as are served today with seemingly unlimited sex, drugs, pornography and ice cream for supper every night — even life sentences to murderers cannot be measured against the value and dignity of the slain.

We call for the departure of this cabal of seven former lawyers who have usurped not only the will of the people and their elected representatives but who also have attempted — and seem to be able to get away with — the overthrow of the foundations of our state government and its constitution.

How many more of the innocent must die, and their willful murderers let off from capital punishment, before the people rise up in defense of one another?

Let us close with the words of a most profound writer, Albert Camus, who knew of the conceit of the self-appointed elites and who preached on behalf of the victims of self-appointed elites:

"There are crimes of passion and crimes of logic ... We are living in the era of ... the perfect crime. Our criminals are no longer helpless children who could plead love as their excuse. On the contrary, they are adults, and they have a perfect alibi: philosophy, which can be used for any purpose — even for transforming murderers into judges ... slave camps under the flag of freedom, massacres justified by philanthropy ... in one sense a crippling judgment. On the day when crime does the apparel of innocence through a curious transportation peculiar to our times — it is innocence that is called upon to justify itself."

Seniors' club house

To the editor:

Mr. Marco Splendoria's response to the editorial of September 6th, "The state of our educators," insinuating that Belleville's senior citizens were responsible for the defeat of the school budget was right on the money! However, giving credit where credit is due, prompts me to state that Mr. Splendoria's impression: "It was only through the efforts of former Mayor Marotti that the seniors have a clubhouse," is not correct, to say the least.

The Belleville Senior Citizen Clubhouse was a project of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, under the guidance of then president Lawrence "Larry" Gonnello.

Mr. Gonnello and the Belleville Kiwanis Club were honored as the Number One President and the Number One Club in the Nation, as voted by the Executive Board at the convention of Kiwanis International.

It should also be mentioned, to give credit where due, that Mr. Michael Marotti was a member of the Belleville Kiwanis Club at the time, and having a member elected as the Mayor, as such was a tremendous help in getting the job done.

The clubhouse was completed in a total "volunteer" effort in the spirit and motto of Kiwanis International: "We Build".

Before writing this statement, I called Marco, regarding these facts, and he confessed complete ignorance of the true circumstances regarding our senior citizen clubhouse, as many other Belleville citizens may very well have been.

Child I.D. a success

To the editor:

I would like to publicly thank all those who have made the 5th annual child I.D. program a success, once again. Saturday, Sept. 15, approximately 170 children were processed, by having their personal description, fingerprint and photo taken. This program could not have been a success without the interest of the parents who brought their children, and the volunteers who donated their time.

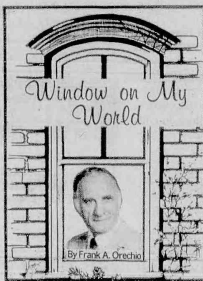

I must thank all of the following: Det. G.G. Foushee, Essex County Sheriff Dept. Det. Scott Sims, Belleville Police Dept., Sheriff Tom D'Alessio and Chief George Lister for their continued support in providing the officers annually, Lt. Courter and Det. Reinhardt, from the Essex County Crime Prevention Officers Association, who donate the use of the equipment every year. Kathy Drozd, Carol Politz, Joe Kovacs, Sal and Carmella Coo, Pescheria family, Angelo, Angie, Carl and Fran.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Belleville Times for the publicity given us for the Child Fingerprinting Program, at the Belleville Little League.

The program was most successful and we feel your assistance helped to make the citizens aware of this very worthwhile endeavor.

Again, thank you.

Mario Drozd, Councilman

• NUTLEY AMVETS POST 30 Commander. Anthony Capriglione, has been nice enough to furnish me with some historical notes on the proud history of Post 30.

The post was chartered in 1945 and has a present membership of 335. It owns a well maintained clubhouse at 184 Park Avenue, Nutley. For the past 45 years, the organization has participated in numerous community events and, additionally, has conducted on its own, or in concert with other organizations, veteran programs at the East Orange Veterans Hospital, the Lyons Veterans Hospital, Menlo Park and Paramus Veterans Hospital.

Throughout the years, its membership has assisted veterans' widows and families.

To expand its promotion and respect for the American flag, the organization has purchased and donated to Nutley Township, American flags which are displayed on Franklin Avenue. The co-chairmen of the Flag Appreciation effort are Anthony Capriglione and Jack Magnifico. The Flag Appreciation program's motto is: "Be proud, show your colors — it belongs to you."

In this morning's mail, there was a letter from Eastern Airline's trustee, Marty Shugrue, bringing good news. Book full coach fare and fly first class. Eastern's first class cabins now offer increased capacity, new leather seats, a fresh color coordinated interior, additional flight attendant staffing and upgrading of food service.

For the past quarter century, I have had a bias in favor of Eastern Airlines. Time and destination permitting, I have always flown Eastern — and will continue to do so, with total confidence in its people and equipment. Eastern is as safe, efficient and courteous an airline, as any that serves the eastern corridor of the United States.

We're arranging to send complimentary subscriptions to the Nutley Sun, Belleville Times and Bloomfield Life to assure Stewart he is also on our minds. To both Rego and Stewart, we commend the following prayer: Dear Lord, Help me to remember that nothing is going to happen to me today that you and I together can't handle.

• CBS News medical correspondent Dr. Robert Arnot summarized research on the effects of unresolved anger in these words: "Now we know that anger is a killer. 'When you lose your cool, you lose time, energy, your health, maybe even your life,' observes Dr. Robert K. Cooper, who reported in a recent 15-year study by the University of Michigan School of Public Health which measured the effects of expression of anger, suppression and 'cool reflection.' The researchers discovered that ineffectively-managed anger was linked to 2.5 times greater risks of death from all causes. The key issue, say the researchers, is not the amount of degree of your anger, but how you cope with it."

Mismanaged anger is one of the elusive stress-related causes of many sud-

Authentic journalism

To the editor:

Channel Thirteen's recent two-part profile of the late legendary broadcast-journalist, Edward R. Murrow, was an excellent piece of TV programming, and most informative. Edward R. Murrow deserved the adulation heaped upon him during the program, by those who knew him. As a broadcast-journalist Ed Murrow, most definitely, was in a class by himself. Truly a genuine journalistic rarity.

Many of our ideologically biased newspaper columnists, the likes of Patrick J. Buchanan, and William F. Buckley Jr., would be wise to study the career of Edward R. Murrow. They might, very well, discover what "authentic journalism" is all about.

Bicycle auction

To the editor:

A word of caution to parents whose children are bicyclists: If you're allowing children to ride in the streets, please be sure they're familiar with bicycle safety techniques and that they know they, like cars, must obey traffic signals and signs.

In the past month, I've seen a number of "close calls" that could have resulted in tragedy had motorists not been so alert. While it's true that drivers bear most of the responsibility for looking out for children on bikes, it's also up to those of us who are parents to teach our child how to be safe on a bike.

Please, for your child's sake, make sure he or she stops at red lights, uses hand signals, obeys stop signs and rides with traffic and not against it. Encourage your children to ride near the curb, and not two or three across, obstructing traffic. Help children to understand that they shouldn't "play tag" with cars, or try to dart across lanes of traffic trying to "beat" a car. A several thousand pound machine is not something a child on a bike should take chances with.

A bike can be a wonderful toy, or a dependable mode of transportation for a youth, as well as an excellent tool for exercise — used properly. However, when operated unsafely, with disregard for the rules of the road, it can be a sorrowful contributor to a needless death.

Letters Welcome

The Belleville Times welcomes letters, preferably 300 words or less, from readers. To be considered for publication, letters must be typed or legibly handwritten and must include the writer's address and daytime telephone number. Unsigned letters will not be published and names will not be withheld, unless publication would jeopardize the writer's personal or job security. We reserve the right to edit for length and clarity.

den heart attacks and life-threatening illnesses. Dr. Robert S. Eliot, a noted cardiologist and stress researcher, explains that stress can actually destroy the heart muscle. Each time you start to feel the surge of anger, ask yourself: Is my anger useful? Does it support my integrity and help me achieve my goals — or does it hurt others, waste my time, or defeat me? The events of life don't make us angry — it's the "hot thoughts." Dr. Cooper advises that when you begin to feel angry, pause for a moment to reason with yourself, gently laugh at yourself, forgive others, put yourself in the other person's shoes, and find ways to keep things from getting blown out of proportion.

• SENIOR CITIZENS now can reach out for a "hotline" on Medicare rules. A new statewide toll-free telephone service began operating last week to begin answering senior citizens' requests about new Medicare rules. The federal government has ordered dramatic changes in the way Medicare Part B claims ought to be filed. Physicians and other medical providers must now prepare and submit claim forms themselves in order to obtain reimbursement. Heretofore, it was the patient's responsibility to do the paperwork and send it in. Part B of Medicare pays for physician's services, lab and diagnostic tests, ambulatory services and medical equipment. Part A pays for hospitalization. The special hotline phone number is 1-800-648-MTIS. It's open from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, five days a week, and is accessible from any location in New Jersey. You don't have to identify yourself by name.

• FROM OTHER PENS: Never shoot at a king if there's a chance of missing ... Don't put yourself down — a lot of people will do it for you ... Sin is a condition before it is an action ... There is no "shelf life" or "expiration date" on evidence pertaining to a man's character ... If there is something you need to know, tell me — and if I don't know it, then you don't need to know it. Streets have been named after people we undoubtedly have met at one time or another through our lives — Dead End, One Way, No Entry, Bear Right ... There are those of us who remember when legal meant lawful — now it means loopholes ... A wise man learns from the mistakes of others — nobody lives long enough to make them all himself.

Accunzo exhibit

Currently on exhibit in the Trustees' Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center is the artwork of Michael Accunzo, a Belleville artist. Accunzo has served for many years as a judge in the Belleville Public Library and Information Center's yearly art show and has lectured numerous times at the library on his hand-made armor and wood carving.

Born and bred in Newark, Accunzo graduated from Central High School in 1927. He has drawn since he was a child and always was the teacher's pet in art class. Early in the 1950's, he began painting in oils, inspired by an exhibit at Siegel's Art Gallery in Newark. Before World War II, he enjoyed doing pen and ink drawing. He has also done sculpture and is currently doing wood carving.

Painting realistically from life, a seacoast, trees, bird, railroad tracks, Michael gives the viewer an opportunity to feel and touch his art.

The exhibit can be viewed during library hours during the month of September. Accunzo's art of Belleville is also permanently on display at the Shafter Branch Library, 30 Magnolia Street.

SUPERFICIAL TREATMENT

It is estimated that up to 90 percent of all American teenagers develop acne to some degree. This is a particularly cruel and disconcerting event in the lives of young people who are beginning to develop themselves. Fortunately, most cases of acne respond to increased attention to hygiene. In the small minority of cases where acne is a severe problem, a relatively new prescription drug may be effective. Isotretinoin, when taken orally, has proven to be up to 90 percent effective in reducing acne by lowering the activity of all glands in the skin. However, this drug may carry such side effects as: decreased blood, decreased levels and eye irritation. It is only approved for use in cases of cystic acne.

Our customers are given the extra attention needed to be sure they are completely satisfied. For prompt prescription service see us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. "Your Doctor Knows Us - Your Doctor Trusts Us." Greeting cards, Russell Stover candies, baby needs and gift items are stocked. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sundays.

HINT: Treatment with isotretinoin often takes months before cystic acne shows signs of improving.

McNally commended for service

Belleville resident Patrick McNally was commended by the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders at a retirement luncheon held Sept. 11 in South Orange.

McNally was employed for more than 12 years by the Essex County Dept. of Citizen Services, Division on Aging where he worked as an Information and Referral Specialist.

In 1977, McNally originated "Information Central" a program

sponsored by the division to provide full-time information to countless senior citizens in the county.

The county's resolution noted that McNally reached the senior citizens through thousands of private interviews, home visits, speaking engagements, health fairs and telephone requests. The commendation said that many of the services were provided by McNally on evenings and weekends "due to the dedication and concern for older persons."

McNally has been active in Belleville where he coached basketball for more than 20 years, and also coached a handicapped boys' team for five years. Patrick lives on Jorammon St. with his wife Marge.

The county resolution was sponsored by Freeholder Michael Delahanty and Freeholder President Joseph C. Parlavecchio.

Parlavecchio kicks off campaign

Essex County Freeholder Board President Joseph C. Parlavecchio, candidate for re-election in the Nov. 6 general election, announced plans for a gala headquarters opening on Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. to kick-off the fall campaign.

"Our campaign staff is preparing a wonderful evening at our headquarters in the East Ward (Newark) Democratic Club at the corner of Nichols and Adams street and I would like to extend an invitation to everyone to join us for the festivities," said the Freeholder president.

Parlavecchio said Democratic candidates on the state, federal and county level are expected to join with campaign supporters for the evening and U.S. Senator Bill Bradley has been extended a personal invitation by Parlavecchio to deliver remarks to the assemblage.

Parlavecchio, first elected to the Freeholder Board in 1978, is serving his second year as president of the 9-member Board of Freeholders.

He is principal of Newark's Dayton Street School and he was first elected to a three-year term as Freeholder in 1981 and re-elected in 1984 and 1987.

He holds a bachelor's and master's degree from Jersey City State College and has completed post-graduate work at Kean College and Seton Hall University.

Currently he represents the First Freeholder District which includes the North, East and parts of the West Ward of Newark.

Girl Scout recruitment underway

The Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County announced that recruitment is now underway for Belleville girls ages 5 to 17.

Girls interested in becoming members may contact the Main Service Center, 746-8200, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Girls who enter Girl Scouting can find themselves open to a world of choices regarding their lives and activities. Opportunities exist to travel, make new friends with similar interests, help others, go camping, share good times, and learn skills. In essence, a child's experience in Girl Scouting can be "as great as she wants to make it."

Membership in Girl Scouts costs $4 and includes insurance. Adults are also needed as troop leaders and support volunteers.

RETIREE HONORED—Patrick McNally (center) was honored recently for his twelve years of service at the Essex County Division on Aging. Here, McNally is flanked by Essex County Freeholder at large Michael L. Delahanty and Dolores Critchley, director Division on Aging.

WINNER HONORED—Mayor Marina Perna congratulated 11-year-old Karen M. Auerbach who was named Miss New Jersey American Pre-teen Hostess at the annual state pageant held July 7 in Cherry Hill.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Rev. Gerald Fortunato

Down but not destroyed

We are hard pressed on every side, yet not crushed ... struck down, but not destroyed. (2 Cor. 4:9)

These bodies of ours truly are "earthen vessels" (2 Cor. 4:7). They are fragile and weak and susceptible to injury and disease. But physical limitations need not limit the spirit. Many believers have learned that to be "struck down" does not mean "destroyed."

Leon Wood was an example of that during the closing years of his life. While this brilliant Old Testament scholar was in his prime as an author and as the dean of a seminary, he contracted Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis — Lou Gehrig's disease. Bit by bit, it struck down Wood's body. When he could no longer run, he had to give up tennis. Walking became difficult as he grew weaker and weaker. Finally he became confined to his bed. But as his body weakened, his faith and resolve strengthened. He continued to study, to teach, and to write. Some of his most significant books were written in the latter stages of his illness. The last seminary class he taught met at his bedside. His spirit remained strong to the end. He was not destroyed.

Perhaps you too are struck down by some disease or crippled by some serious setback in life. Don't let it destroy you. Choose to hold fast to God's goodness. Trust Him. Obey Him. In so doing, you will demonstrate the power of God and bring encouragement to others, but you will not be destroyed.

Nothing is more depressing to a human heart than the feeling that no one cares. It is still worse if one succumbs to the mistaken belief that even God has no interest in what happens to him.

Jesus reminded us that God cares for birds and flowers. Why then should humans spend their energy worrying about having their daily needs met? Peter must have finally absorbed this lesson, for he later wrote, "Casting all you care upon Him; for He careth for you" (1 Peter 5:7).

No matter how cloudy life's skies become, never doubt for a moment, God cares!

Lifestyle banking offered seniors

A local banking firm is offering a Lifestyle Plus Banking program to individuals 55 years and older, said a spokesman for the institution.

First DeWitt Savings has designed a single, comprehensive, money management program offering a group of financial products and services that address specific financial needs, said Michael J. Quigley, III, Chief Executive Officer of First DeWitt.

It's a mistake to assume that the senior population is not "savvy" about financial products and services, he added.

Because of their keen interest in financial products, their years of experience and the types of investments they have been involved in, this population segment is often more knowledgeable about financial matters than many people realize.

A market study conducted by the banking firm revealed that people this age tend to have five basic financial needs: to maintain liquidity; to conveniently coordinate finances; to obtain the highest possible yield on accounts and investments; to learn how to live on a reduced income and a tighter budget; and finally, to preserve their assets for their heirs in the best possible fashion.

Lifestyle Plus Banking features

free, high interest checking; free introductory personalized checks and gift checks; bonus rates on certificates of deposit; free consultation on tax free investments, estate planning and discounts on car rentals and eyewear.

While other financial institutions offer preferred banking programs with large minimum deposit requirements, First DeWitt Savings has made many of the same banking privileges and discounted services available for only a nominal $100 opening deposit requirement and an average daily balance requirement of $1,000.

The inclusion of the word "banking" in the product's name reflects its all-inclusive nature. Lifestyle Plus Banking efficiently covers all of the aspects of a customer's checking, credit, and long- and short-term investment needs. These services have been combined with convenience in mind, allowing customers to manage their accounts without even entering a branch office. They can withdraw, transfer, and deposit funds electronically or by prepaid, bank-by-mail envelopes.

"These individuals have expressed the need for efficient control of their money, especially when active lifestyles leave little time to visit the bank," Quigley said.

"Consequently, when selecting banking services, the majority of individuals 55 and over, look for opportunities to reduce the time and cost necessary to coordinate their finances."

The flexibility created by automatic tellers, bank-by-mail services and having personal banker addresses the changing lifestyles of this segment.

"This market is very active, traveling for both business and pleasure. They require a greater amount of flexibility. Lifestyle Plus Banking eliminates the frustration caused by uncoordinated finances," said the CEO.

"The range of free financial services perfectly complements the program, providing an excellent value."

More information on Lifestyle Plus Banking is available throughout First DeWitt Savings branch network by calling 1-800-537-0079.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Rev. Gerald Fortunato

Down but not destroyed

We are hard pressed on every side, yet not crushed ... struck down, but not destroyed. (2 Cor. 4:8,9)

These bodies of ours truly are "earthen vessels" (2 Cor. 4:7). They are fragile and weak and susceptible to injury and disease. But physical limitations need not limit the spirit. Many believers have learned that to be "struck down" does not mean "destroyed."

Leon Wood was an example of that during the closing years of his life. While this brilliant Old Testament scholar was in his prime as an author and as the dean of a seminary, he contracted Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis — Lou Gehrig's disease. Bit by bit, it struck down Wood's body. When he could no longer run, he had to give up tennis. Walking became difficult as he grew weaker and weaker. Finally he became confined to his bed. But as his body weakened, his faith and resolve strengthened. He continued to study, to teach, and to write. Some of his most significant books were written in the latter stages of his illness. The last seminary class he taught met at his bedside. His spirit remained strong to the end. He was not destroyed.

Perhaps you too are struck down by some disease or crippled by some serious setback in life. Don't let it destroy you. Choose to hold fast to God's goodness. Trust Him. Obey Him. In so doing, you will demonstrate the power of God and bring encouragement to others, but you will not be destroyed.

Nothing is more depressing to a human heart than the feeling that no one cares. It is still worse if one succumbs to the mistaken belief that even God has no interest in what happens to him. Jesus reminded us that God cares for birds and flowers. Why then should humans spend their energy worrying about having their daily needs met? Peter must have finally absorbed this lesson, for he later wrote, "Casting all you care upon Him; for He careth for you" (1 Peter 5:7).

No matter how cloudy life's skies become, never doubt for a moment, God cares!

McNally commended for service

Belleville resident Patrick McNally was commended by the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders at a retirement luncheon held Sept. 11 in South Orange.

McNally was employed for more than 12 years by the Essex County Dept. of Citizen Services, Division on Aging where he worked as an Information and Referral Specialist.

In 1977, McNally originated "Information Central" a program

sponsored by the division to provide full-time information to countless senior citizens in the county.

The county's resolution noted that McNally reached the senior citizens through thousands of private interviews, home visits, speaking engagements, health fairs and telephone requests. The commendation said that many of the services were provided by McNally on evenings and weekends "due to the dedication and concern for older persons."

McNally has been active in Belleville where he coached basketball for more than 20 years, and also coached a handicapped boys' team for five years. Patrick lives on Joramelon St. with his wife Marie.

The county resolution was sponsored by Freeholder Michael Delahunty and Freeholder President Joseph C. Parlavocchio.

Parlavocchio kicks off campaign

Essex County Freeholder Board President Joseph C. Parlavocchio, candidate for re-election in the Nov. 6 general election, announced plans for a gala headquarters opening on Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. to kick-off the fall campaign.

"Our campaign staff is preparing a wonderful evening at our headquarters in the East Ward (Newark) Democratic Club at the corner of Nichols and Adams street and I would like to extend an invitation to everyone to join us for the festivities," said the Freeholder president.

Parlavocchio said Democratic candidates on the state, federal and county level are expected to join with campaign supporters for the evening and U.S. Senator Bill Bradley has been extended a personal invitation by Parlavocchio to deliver remarks to the assemblage.

Parlavocchio, first elected to the Freeholder Board in 1978, is serving his second year as president of the 9-member Board of Freeholders.

He is principal of Newark's Dayton Street School and he was first elected to a three-year term as Freeholder in 1981 and re-elected in 1984 and 1987.

He holds a bachelor's and master's degree from Jersey City State College and has completed post-graduate work at Kean College and Seton Hall University.

Currently he represents the First Freeholder District which includes the North, East and parts of the West Ward of Newark.

Girl Scout recruitment underway

The Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County announced that recruitment is now underway for Belleville girls ages 5 to 17.

Girls interested in becoming members may contact the Main Service Center, 746-8200, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Girls who enter Girl Scouting can find themselves open to a world of choices regarding their lives and activities. Opportunities exist to travel, make new friends with similar interests, help others, go camping, share good times, and learn skills. In essence, a child's experience in Girl Scouting can be "as great as she wants to make it."

Membership in Girl Scouts costs $4 and includes insurance. Adults are also needed as troop leaders and support volunteers.

RETIREE HONORED—Patrick McNally (center) was honored recently for his twelve years of service at the Essex County Division on Aging. Here, McNally is flanked by Essex County Freeholder at large Michael L. Delahunty and Dolores Critchley, director Division on Aging.

WINNER HONORED—Mayor Marina Perna congratulated 11-year-old Karen M. Auerbach who was named Miss New Jersey American Pre-teen Hostess at the annual state pageant held July 7 in Cherry Hill.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

HOARSENESS

- Q: What is hoarseness?
A: Hoarseness is an alteration in the normal production of the voice by the vocal cords.
- Q: What are the causes of hoarseness?
A: Most cases are caused by infection (laryngitis). Some others are related to voice abuse, environmental exposure, or smoking, which can cause vocal cord nodules and polyps.
- Q: Who should have an examination by a throat specialist?
A: Anyone who has hoarseness persisting for two weeks.
- Q: Have there been recent advances in the diagnosis of hoarseness?
A: Yes. With the FLEXIBLE FIBEROPTIC LARYNGOSCOPE, a complete examination of the voice box can be done in the office without discomfort.
- Q: What if I need surgery?
A: Surgery can be done under general anesthesia on an outpatient (same day) basis. All removed tissue is sent for a biopsy study. Modern techniques such as the OPERATING MICROSCOPE and, in indicated cases, LASER, allow accurate and precise surgery. Recovery is rapid with patients able to resume most activities the next day.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Our Junior Buc Football team enjoyed a clean sweep last weekend as all three clubs prevailed over its Manchester opponents.

The Bucs will play at Doc Ellis Field this Sunday afternoon against West Paterson. It will be the first home game of the 1990 campaign for the Junior Bucs. The "C" team will kickoff action at noon. The "B" team plays at approximately 1:30 p.m. and the "A" team will conclude the afternoon with a 3 p.m. start.

"C" TEAM WINS SECOND STRAIGHT, FARINA SCORES TWO

Coached by Bob Haug, the "C" team won its second game in as many starts, 13-0.

Belleville took advantage early, recovering a Manchester fumble at midfield. Two plays later, John Farina took a handoff and ran 49 yards around right end for the first score. Key blocks on the play were turned in by Greg Sheridan and Marcus Talmadge.

Dan Rafferty ran for the extra point, giving Belleville a 7-0 lead. In the second quarter, Farina did the job again, running 34 yards off right tackle for the second Belleville score. Paul DiSporo and Joe Chesser threw key blocks that sprung Farina.

Talmadge, Sheridan and Anthony Conte paced the defensive effort. The three men combined for 15 tackles, one fumble recovery and one blocked punt.

Belleville finished with a combined 141 yards of total offense. The defense held Manchester to minus 27 yards of total offense.

B TEAM WINS 13-7, PLACENTE 2 TD'S

Joe DeRiggi's team won its first game of the 1990 campaign by stopping Manchester, 13-7.

Belleville scored the first TD in the opening quarter. Damon Placente a halfback, ran 45 yards on a counter play to give the Bucs the lead.

The extra point was converted when quarterback Ken Bolhardt passed to Robert Romano in the end zone.

The Bucs led 7-0 at halftime, but Manchester came back in the third quarter, taking advantage of a blocked Belleville punt. Manchester tied the game at seven and it stayed that way until midway in the fourth quarter.

There, with 7:00 left in the game, the Belleville defense held on fourth down, giving the Bucs a first down at the Manchester 35.

Placente did the job once again, running 35 yards for the game winning score.

DeRiggi credited Romano with a strong game on defense. David Vargas, a cornerback, made a key play on the fourth down situation that gave the Bucs a shot at the game winning score.

The offensive line, paced by tackles Al Fuso and T.J. Sasso, guards Dan Kirk and Ricc Bello and center Scott Rafferty did a great job in opening holes for the running backs.

BERARDI LEADS "A" TEAM TO 26-6 ROMP

Sal Berardi scored three touchdowns to lead the "A" team to a 26-6 win over Manchester.

Berardi started the scoring with a 45 yard sweep in the fourth quarter. He then kicked the extra point, which in the Suburban Twin County Football League, is good for two points.

Later in the first quarter, Berardi intercepted a pass and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. The conversion failed, Belleville led 26-0.

In the third quarter, Berardi, the quarterback, threw a 40 yard touchdown pass to Jason DiCosta, increasing the Buc lead to 20-0. The final Belleville score came on a five yard counter run by Berardi.

Manchester scored late in the game on a kickoff return following Belleville's fourth touchdown.

The Buc defense held Manchester to just three first downs. Belleville also recovered four Manchester fumbles.

Head coach Bob Abrams credited Art Settembrino, Frank Tortorella, Kevin Vogel and Jason Salamone with solid games on defense.

The offense was led by Berardi, who rushed for 98 yards on 11 carries. Tom Escott gained 40 yards in seven tries and Settembrino gained 29 yards on four attempts.

DiCosta led the receiving corps with two catches for 60 yards, including his touchdown catch in the third quarter.

"We put everything together and played well," Abrams said after the game. "The kids came to play. There was some good hitting out there."

Good luck to the Junior Bucs as they play their first home games this weekend.

THIS WEEK'S NFL PICKS

It was a great week for picks in week three. We hit 11 out of 14, with the only losers in Detroit, Green Bay and the Jets. (The Jets were certainly a disappointment after playing well the first two weeks).

For this week, Giants 23 Dallas 17, Jets to rebound and beat New England 24-20, Buffalo 20 Denver 10, Detroit 17 Green Bay 16, Philadelphia 28 Indianapolis 14, Pittsburgh to break out of its doldrums and beat Miami 27-16, Tampa Bay to upset Minnesota 24-23, a great game in Los Angeles with the Raiders beating the Chicago Bears 20-17, Kansas City 24 Cleveland 10, San Diego 21 Houston 13, Phoenix to upset Washington 23-20 and on Monday night, Seattle to win its first of the year over Cincinnati 26-20. Don't forget, the NFC West teams have the week off this week.

For the week, 11-3. For the season, 26-16.

LAST WEEK'S QUIZ

In 1967, the Baltimore Colts were 11-0-2 after 13 weeks of the season. In the final week of the season, the Colts played the 10-1-2 Los Angeles Rams. Since the Colts and Rams had tied earlier in the season, the winner of the game would be the Coastal Division Champ. Los Angeles beat Baltimore, 34-10 and won the Coastal Division with an 11-1-2 record. Although, even though it also finished 11-2, missed out on the playoffs entirely because there was no wildcard format in '67.

The Green Bay Packers eventually won the NFL title, beating Dallas in the famous ice bowl, 21-17. The Packers won Super Bowl II over Oakland in January of '68, 33-14. By the way, the Colts coach was Don Shula. The following season, the '68 Colts went 13-1 and went all the way to the Super Bowl. There, of course, the Jets pulled a major upset, beating the Colts 16-7.

FOR THE SPECTRUM

From the top of the spectrum to the bottom. Name the last NFL team to go through an NFL season without a victory. What year did it happen? When did this team next make the playoffs after having that winless season?

Bucs stopped in speed trap

Blanked in season opener, Tackle Bloomfield Sunday

Veteran Belleville football coach John Senesky described his teams plight in the season opener last Friday evening to a ride on a highway.

"Did you ever see the signs on the highway that read 'Speed Kills'?", Senesky asked. "That's true not only on highways, but on football fields, too. Hackensack's speed was the difference. There is just no way to coach speed. They used it to full advantage."

Hackensack cruised past Belleville 34-0 last Friday evening at Doc Ellis Field. Although the Bucs were routed, Senesky saw some bright spots in the game and hopes to apply them to this Sunday's game with Bloomfield.

The Bucs and Bengals will battle at Foley Field this Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. Bloomfield will also come in with an 0-1 record following a 22-9 setback to powerful Monmouth.

"Hackensack had a good ball club," Senesky said. "Their quarterback (A.J. DeRosa) threw the ball very well and ran the offense almost perfect. Their running game was outstanding. Their two ends were excellent. It was a good effort and they deserve credit."

The Comets, coached by first year man Greg Toal, return 15 senior starters from last years 4-5 club.

"Bill Roca coached Hackensack last year and he had told us over the summer that they would be strong this season," Senesky said. "Our kids played hard, but we just couldn't contain the speed factor."

Belleville took the opening kickoff and started from their own 20. The Bucs picked up two first downs on the drive, thanks to some good running by Carmen Spina and Billy Salvatore and a key screen pass to tight end Jim DuHaine.

The drive stalled at the Hackensack 41 and DuHaine got away a strong punt that put Hackensack inside their own 20 yard line. Before the Bucs had a chance to get ready on defense, DeRosa struck quick, hitting Randy Neal with a 76 yard pass to the Buc five yard line.

Only Spina's excellent speed prevented a touchdown as the senior safety caught Neal and forced him out of bounds.

From the five, the Buc defense stiffened and forced Hackensack into a field goal attempt, which was good from 23 yards out.

On the ensuing kickoff, Spina fielded at the 10 and nearly broke it to a touchdown. He was tackled near midfield and the fine return gave the Buc offense some much needed momentum.

Quarterback Art Caruso drove the Bucs to the Hackensack three yard line, thanks to some good running by Spina, Salvatore and Sean Kimball. The key play on the drive was a 27 yard run by Spina that gave the Bucs first and goal.

However, this turned out to be the turning point of the game. Hackensack adjusted defensively and the Bucs weren't able to punch in the score.

"We wanted to get the score right away," Senesky said. "We saw something on the sideline that we felt would work for the score. We tried the play, but Hackensack read it and they took away some of the momentum."

Hackensack's defense took a first and goal at the three situation and turned it into a fourth and goal at the Buc 25. A running play on fourth down netted only two yards and the Comets took over.

with Hackensack's total of 333 total yards.

"Our kids will get better," Senesky said. "They are not discouraged by this loss. This is a good group of kids that stick together and we'll improve because of this game."

"I told them that ten years ago, we had a team that lost its opener pretty bad," Senesky said. "That team came back and had a good season. This is a team that will improve with games played."

As for Bloomfield, Senesky expects a tough game.

"They are a big, strong team," the coach said. "We'll have more time to prepare for them than we did for Hackensack. Plus, we know more about Bloomfield than we did about Hackensack."

NOTES: Bloomfield ended a long drought by beating Belleville 24-0 last season. The Bengals had last beaten Belleville in 1976 before last years victory. The rivalry had Belleville football players gather in circle before start of the second half of last week's opener. Bucs lost tough game 34-0 to Hackensack.

Strikers, Devils, Rays are victorious in BSA

It was another good week of action for the Belleville Soccer Association. The team captured two games while tying a third.

The Strikers, sponsored by the Jr. Womens Club of Belleville, are now 3-0 after a 5-2 win over Wayne. Ivan Martin led the offense with two goals. Nick Colucci, Steve Dueque and Santiago Salme had a goal a piece.

Wayne was kept in check by a strong Striker defense, led by Joe Colucci, Mike Guzman and Steve Colucci.

The Devils, sponsored by Bill Murray Auto Parts, played a strong game against Wayne, ending up in a one all tie. John Diaz scored the lone goal for the Devils.

In Division 6, two Belleville teams played. The Sting Rays, sponsored by Dr. Seuss Shara, won a 7-0 decision against the Spit Fires, sponsored by Bedrock Stone.

The scoring included two goals from Gary McDonald and Mike Fitzgibbon. Single goals were scored by Joey Martin, Larry Critchley and Nick Maddaloni. The Spit Fires played a gutsy game against a more experienced opponent.

Other BSA games included a 4-1 loss by the Bobcats to Wayne. The Bandits dropped a 2-0 decision to Vernon and the Bears lost an 8-0 game to Pompton Lakes.

The Bandits are sponsored by Nardachone and Calavito and the Bears' sponsor is Supreme Olds.

Belleville assistant coach Joe D'Ambola gives defensive signals during second quarter of last Friday night's opener. Head coach John Senesky (with earphones), checks playcard.

Buc soccer team wins first game of season 3-0

The early signs are quite positive for the Belleville soccer team. The Bucs won its first game of the '90 season last week, beating Good Council, 3-0. The victory matched the victory total for the entire 1989 season.

Belleville took a 1-2 record into this weeks action. The Bucs faced Paramus and Teaneck earlier this week. Next Monday, the team is at Paramus Catholic in a 4 p.m. kickoff.

Gino DePinto's squad, which finished 12-2 last year, has scored seven goals in the first three games this year. Last season, the team tallied eight goals for the entire campaign.

"We're definitely playing more offensively minded," DePinto said. "We've been very competitive in every game we've played so far."

The Bucs started last week by dropping a 4-2 decision to Hackensack, the defending Bergen County champions.

Belleville fell behind 3-0 in the first half, but got back into the game with two goals from Richard Preto, a senior defenseman.

"Preto has played very well," DePinto said. "He is our leading scorer so far and he's a defenseman."

Preto's first goal was unassisted.

His second, which cut the Hackensack lead to 3-2 came off an assist from Greg Groeling, a freshman.

Hackensack scored an insurance goal in the fourth quarter to salt away the victory.

Rocco Constantino worked as goalie in the first half and Emanuel Arjuo took over in the second half.

In the victory over Good Council, the Bucs received a solid defensive game and good goaltending from Constantino and Arjuo, who once again split time in the nets.

Preto scored the first Belleville goal, his third of the season, in the first quarter. Preto's goal was assisted by Franco Vitello.

The second tally came from Groeling, who scored his first varsity goal. Assisting on the play was Enzo Vico.

The third goal was scored by junior Robert Dugan, off an assist by Frank Crocco.

DePinto is hoping his team can have a shot at the state tourney. The cutoff for the states is October 15 and the team has to be at .500 by that date in order to qualify.

In the JV game against Hackensack, Belleville lost a 2-0 decision. Goalie Michael Percio continued his excellent play for the Bucs. The JV team did not play against Good Council.

Athletes of the Week

We're starting a new feature this week, with the Athlete of the Week being taken out of Buc Shots and given its own section in the Belleville Times Sports Section.

This week, we honor Richard Preto of the Belleville Buc Soccer team and the members of the Belleville cheerleading squad.

Preto, a senior, scored three goals last week in two games. He scored twice in a 4-2 loss to a good Hackensack squad. In a 3-0 Belleville victory over Good Council, Preto scored the first goal. For the season, Preto leads the Bucs with three goals. That's especially noteworthy considering Preto is a defenseman, and doesn't get to play in many scoring opportunities.

We are also honoring our fine varsity cheerleading squad this week. The girls, led by advisor Carol Russo and co captains Jenna Murphy and Danielle Italiano and co captains Cheryl Puleo and Michele Pizzi, showed that hours of hard work can lead to tremendous success.

The team did a tremendous job last Friday night in the football opener, cheering from kickoff to final gun and not missing a step. The girls started the night with a dinner and then drove the streets of Belleville and Nutley with the traditional "beeping" exercise.

At halftime, the girls were scheduled to do a three minute dance, something the team has practiced for the last six months. After the bands performed at the half, the girls took the field, only to find out that the microphone suddenly was not working.

The end result was no dance and about 16 very disappointed girls getting ready to start the second half.

"They have worked a number of months on that," Russo said after the game. "I can't believe they couldn't get the dance in. They did it at the pep rally and let me tell you, I had goose bumps. It was a super routine."

Amazingly, the microphone was working as the second half started. Perhaps it was the tape for the song the girls dance to that malfunctioned. Perhaps it was bad timing on the part of the powers to be that ran the football booth.

Nonetheless, this was opening night. Hopefully, the girls will get a chance to do the dance at a later game. For six months of hard work, the girls deserved three minutes of time.

There were no injuries in the Hackensack game. Senesky credited Spina with a fine all around.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

Maps as decor? Sure — they look good, fill large spaces, and cost less than paintings. Prices for good-looking sea charts, town plans or antique views of the world can range from $25 to $5,000.

Dormant season is a good time to prune dogwoods and other landscape trees. When the leaves come down, it's easier to see the shape of the tree itself and the pattern of branches.

Enclosing the front stairs with a greenhouse addition paid off in double benefits for one family. Not only is it easier to climb upstairs without worrying about rain or snow, but the enclosed space is now lush with beautiful plants.

Good-quality paste wax will add a shine to cultured marble or the real kind. Apply wax sparingly to a clean surface, then buff thoroughly.

Lending standards are being tightened around the country. National lenders like Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac led the way; now even local lenders are looking closely at the finances of would-be borrowers.

The right loan and the right house for your pocketbook still exist — if you know where to look for them. We help prospective buyers find both at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
