Flood tunnel passes despite missing study

By Joyce M. Steel

With each step closer to its approval, the Passaic River Flood Tunnel proposal in the past has spawned a cascade of objections from its adversaries, and the leap it took through Congress last week was no exception.

Following the federal green light for the 20-mile, $1.2 billion project, members of the countless environmental activist groups opposed to the plan began reading the fine print of the legislation and looking for loopholes.

Ella Fillipone, chairwoman of the Passaic River Coalition, was one of the first to question the environmental impact of the tunnel on northern New Jersey. According to Fillipone, the impact studies conducted in the area by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers were based on the assumption that the tunnel outlet would be located near the Nutley-Clifton border. That proposal was replaced by the newly passed bill, authorizing a six-mile extension to discharge into Newark Bay.

According to Robert Pietrowsky, Army Corps spokesperson, legislators are working with a 1987 environmental impact statement prepared by the Corps. Because the state indicated its major interest was in the Nutley/Clifton outlet plan, that plan was the focus of the study. Pietrowsky said the Army Corps could not initiate further studies without directive from the federal government.

"We do not have design engineering, a flow model or studies based upon the Newark Bay discharge," Fillipone said. The Passaic River Coalition, which has contested the tunnel resolution for more than ten years, contends that the Army Corps has not taken into consideration the effect of another similar project underway in the Saddle River, which empties into the Passaic near Garfield.

The tunnel legislation features two components designed to improve its environmental desirability; however, Fillipone has questioned each for different reasons. The first, an amendment sponsored by Rep. Robert Torricelli (D-9) to prevent flood wall construction in Bergen and Essex Counties, specifies that the Army Corps must guarantee those walls aren't necessary.

"That brings me right back to the point that the Corps never conducted a study to find out whether or not walls and dikes will be required," Fillipone said. However, Pietrowsky said the need for floodwalls or other preventive structures in Bergen and Essex Counties is "nonexistent" under the Newark Bay proposal.

Another component of the measure, put forth by Rep. Robert Roe (D-8), provides a network of wetlands landbanks to be managed by the state. But Fillipone called the plan "a joke."

"We already have wetlands in the flood basin, but nobody's home," Fillipone said, explaining that no specific agency was designated to manage the bank. According to the plan, the state will decide which department will oversee the project if and when it gains approval. The bank will include both established and newly-acquired wetlands in the flood plain.

The PRC, along with the Audubon Society and other activist groups, has advocated a buyout plan for residents and businesses located in flood-prone areas, claiming it would "take less time and money" than the construction of a tunnel. She developed a plan wherein 744 homes in the floodway would be purchased by the federal government and razed at a maximum cost of $150 million.

A second phase of the plan would include further demolition, relocation services, floodproofing for structures left standing in a flood-prone area and social programs. However, Roe spokesman Phil Steffan said such a plan could take much longer, and would be less effective, than predicted.

"You're talking about people's homes, but what about the roads and bridges? What about the sewers and infrastructure? You'll still have a flooding problem," Steffan said. He added that 56 flood-damaged homes were purchased by the government several years ago, but the deals were just recently completed and those displaced had difficulty purchasing homes in the area for what they were paid for their property.

US will pay for tunnel if Congress compromises

By Joyce M. Steel

After several months of relative quiet on the Passaic River Flood Tunnel front, Congress last week passed the plan, which calls for a 19.5 mile underground channel to collect excess water from the northern flood basin and dump it into Newark Bay.

The late-night congressional action came Sept. 26, a day after some sources speculated that the issue would be tabled indefinitely. Under the Water Resources Development Act, the proposal to build the $1.2 billion flood tunnel, along with several other national water-related projects, gained approval in a 350-55 vote.

However, thanks to an amendment introduced by Rep. Robert Torricelli (D-9) and adopted as part of the bill, the prospect of flood walls, dikes and levees blocking access along the riverside in Bergen and Essex counties is theoretically extinct.

An additional aspect of the legislation, included by its sponsor, Rep. Robert Roe (D-8), provides New Jersey with credits toward its share of the cost, and puts the financial responsibility for maintenance and operation in the hands of the federal government. But some opponents to the tunnel believe such a measure could prove harmful in the long run.

"All the people of the United States are going to be paying for the maintenance and operation of our tunnel," said Ella Fillipone, chairwoman of the Passaic River Coalition, which has publicly opposed a tunnel solution for more than ten years.

"It seems good for us now, but it sets a bad precedent. It means that down the road we could be paying for other states' water resource projects," Fillipone said. In addition, a 1986 Water Resources bill stipulates that funding for maintenance of state projects must be provided by the state, which contradicts the new legislation.

President Bush has indicated that he will not consider signing the bill until differences between the House version and that of the Senate, which passed the measure several weeks ago, can be ironed out. According to Roe spokesman Phil Steffan, both parties will address the issue at an upcoming conference.

Even though the wheels seem to be turning more and more quickly toward full approval and actual construction of the tunnel project, the Passaic River Coalition has vowed to halt it at the state level.

New Jersey's portion of the tunnel tab is expected to reach about $310 million by the project's completion. Although Gov. James Florio has not indicated his stance on the issue, state officials are doubtful that the majority of taxpayers, in light of the huge budget deficit and explosive tax increases, will support construction.

Teachers dissatisfied; kids' test scores rise

It's business as usual in classrooms all over Belleville despite the fact that the Belleville Education Association is in the second week of a job action. "The rank and file are dissatisfied with the present state of negotiations," said B.E.A. president Martin Lang.

"We're trying to have job actions which do not interfere with the present quality of education but point out to the board the present dissatisfaction," he said. "We stand ready to go back (to the bargaining table) if the board wants to open negotiations before the mediator, but something (in the proposals) has to change."

Lang said the union is "not trying to hurt the kids" yet still get its point across to the board. He said the union is responding to the "voice" of the rank and file. "We all want to get on with it and get over with it (the contract) and get back to normal."

The B.E.A. president said the union didn't want to "hurt the quality of education which is reflected in our H.S.P.T. scores."

Results from the Spring High School Proficiency Test taken by eighth graders in the township pointed to the board-pleasing results of the students who attended Belleville Middle School.

In the Reading test taken by Grade 9 students, 98.1% passed, with a mean score of 94.7. Assistant Superintendent Michael A. Lally said at the board's Sept. 24 meeting that other school districts may have a higher percentage of passing students, but their mean scores could be just slightly above passing.

Lally told the board they should be pleased with the high mean scores students from Belleville Middle School attained on the statewide test.

In the Mathematics test, 94.9% passed, with a mean score of 83.6. In the Writing test, 98.6% passed, with a mean score of 88. Lally told the board the percentage of locally educated students "compares favorably to the district's total grade nine class taking the spring 1990 H.S.P.T."

The teachers' job actions taken by the more than 300-member association have been felt in every school where teachers are no longer staying after school for any unpaid duties. These include faculty and department meetings, detention, extra help sessions and any committee work for which the teacher does not receive pay.

The B.E.A. members also agreed not to attend any Back-to-school or Open-house functions. So far, School 4 and Belleville Middle School held their evening Open-house nights for parents although no teachers were in attendance. An Open-house was scheduled for Oct. 3 at the high school.

School Superintendent Michael D. Nardiello said following the recent board of education meeting that the Open-house nights were on the calendar adopted by the board in April. He said that the calendar becomes a part of the teachers contract. He added that the calendar also includes a provision that if

Tax assessor returns will handle appeals, more

By Joyce M. Steel

After more than a week-long absence from his post as tax assessor, Thomas Salzano returned to his office Tuesday.

Interim Town Manager Charles Burns said he met with Salzano on Monday, and the two had "a lengthy discussion" regarding Salzano's position. He walked out of his office Sept. 21, citing health concerns. He had lodged consistent complaints with the town manager and other officials for several months prior to his departure.

"I tried my best...but the assistance I required was critical," Salzano said after leaving of his requests for a clerk or assistant. Burns said a number of people were placed in the assessor's office over the past few months, but "none were to Mr. Salzano's satisfaction."

According to Burns, Salzano apologized for his actions and asked for his job back. In return, Burns agreed to provide a qualified assistant in the tax assessor's office. Salzano could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

According to Burns, Salzano's priorities will include handling contentments of residential and commercial assessments, maintaining the state-mandated moratorium on sales and deeds, review assessments of improved properties and replying to tax information inquiries.

BHS band rallies behind troops by wearing yellow ribbons at game

By Joyce M. Steel

As tension continues to rise in the Middle East, so does the awareness of students at Belleville High School.

The hundred members of the marching band Sunday showed their support of the U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia by tying bright yellow ribbons to their uniforms, an idea spawned from the "yellow ribbon campaign" of family members across the nation, who have tethered ribbons to trees on their property as a symbol of hope.

"Hopefully, the enthusiasm of the band will spread to the rest of the school," said Drum Major Heather Kane. The band members also initiated a letter-writing campaign to the military stationed in Saudi Arabia during a week-long clinic in August.

"The children enjoyed writing to the soldiers over the summer, and this is another way for them to show their support," said Lucille Cammarato, president of the Belleville Music Parents Association, of the ribbons supplied to the band by Prudential Insurance Co.

Band director Joseph Kraemer said he still has postcards available for any student who wishes to write to the military troops overseas. The band will continue to sport the ribbons on their uniforms until U.S. forces in the Middle East return home.

Despite the high spirits of the band and team members alike, the Belleville Bucs fell Sunday to Bloomfield, 17-7. For complete game coverage and more photos, turn to page 13.

TIE A YELLOW RIBBON...Belleville High School marching band members donned yellow ribbons for their performance during Sunday's game against Bloomfield. The band wore the ribbons as a show of support for troops in the Middle East.

On Golden Comments

By Anthony Buccino

As usual, our columnist Jim Golden has brought to light several questions he perceives should be answered, either by the editor, or by the township council. Mr. Golden has written his column for several decades and it has been a bouncing block for many discussions throughout town for many years. Like any good columnist, it doesn't matter whether the reader agrees with him or not. Mr. Golden's voice is a lightning rod for reaction in our town. Mr. Golden's columns range in topics from the Mid-East to New Jersey to mostly, our town.

In his current column, virtually unedited from his typewriter to the newspaper in your hands, Mr. Golden quotes the First Amendment, and mentions the following, an unbelievable tax increase, the council's "giveback" to the Board of Education, pictures of Mrs. Buccino, local political know-it-alls, the editorial, the "gag-rule" and restless Belleville natives.

There's not much sense in explaining our production schedule, except to say that the editorial, Climb over the ruins, which so riled Mr. Golden, was written by the editor (me) following the council's Sept. 11 meeting. Had Mr. Golden attended the council's Sept. 25 meeting, he may have noticed a big difference.

At the latter meeting, the mayor read the "riot" act regarding conduct at public meetings. She also repeated the council's meeting and agenda, reminding townfolks that they would be allowed five minutes to address the council, and everyone would go once for the first hour. Everyone would be given a chance to address the council once, but after an hour there would be no repeat speakers, only people who had not spoken to the board.

The council's Sept. 25 meeting was very orderly. The citizens spoke in an encouragingly helpful manner. Some, in order to try to maximize their five minutes, asked for no comments from the council until they were finished. The point is, that everyone who had anything to say to the council had their chance to say it.

I don't believe that anyone in Belleville had their real estate taxes increase "more than $1,000 or more per quarter" as Mr. Golden says. For real estate taxes in Belleville to increase $1,000 per quarter, that would be $4,000 per year, the home would have to be assessed at $400,000. The average assessed value of a one-family home in Belleville is about $40,000, and the real estate taxes for the YEAR are less than $4,000.

The council's board of ed giveback, it has been explained at several council meetings, but here goes, one more time. Follow closely, this is so obvious, it is simple. A committee from the commission met with a committee from the BOE. The mediator was County Schools Superintendent Peter Carter. Through Carter, both groups at that meeting agreed to cut $210,000 from the defeated school budget. At the commissioners' next meeting, they increased the school budget cut they had agreed upon from $210,000 to $1,043,527. The school board appealed the decision.

At about this time, the new council took office and looked at the pile of lawsuits waiting for them. In that pile was the school board's appeal. The council decided to try to negotiate its way out of many of the pile of lawsuits and get the government underway. One of the lawsuits they settled was the school board's.

If Mr. Golden had taken the time to visit or call Town Hall, he would have learned that each of the two council members "with wives on the board of education payroll" had abstained from the "giveback" vote. And as for any "wonder" if Mrs. Buccino might be the spouse of the Times editor, a visit to Belleville Public Library to view the December 28, 1989, issue of the Times clearly states that the editor's wife is an English teacher at Belleville Middle School.

As for the "gag-rule," Mr. Golden, I've found that the only township employees who wouldn't talk to me, were people I wouldn't quote anyway. I've earned my stripes here by weeding out the scoundrels and knowing who's who. If I were to write everything I know, instead of everything I know I could write, certainly the paper would be much different, but then, I'd spend so much time in court I wouldn't have time to write editorials.

Surely, Mr. Golden, you know so much more about the change of government from the time you were a councilman in Belleville in the 1960's. Of course I was just a little boy walking to Holy Family School then and you were doing your loop-de-loops in your bus. In those days, my older sister bragged about her schoolmate's dad, yes, my own sister was proud of "Jeanne Golden's father". That doesn't mean we have to agree now. After all, it's 1990. I do appreciate the opportunity to clear up some misconceptions. Mr. Golden, if you are confused by the actions of our government, I'm sure there are many readers who are equally confused. Until we meet again, remember, the pen is mightier.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Characteristically the editorial pages of a newspaper reflect the views and opinions of its publisher or its editor, who enjoy broad latitude in expressing their views on various current matters, many of which are controversial.

The Belleville Times goes to bed (is printed) Tuesday evening generally, except in a few isolated instances such as holiday dates, the Sept. 20, 1990 issue conformed to such a schedule which suggests that the "Climb over the ruins" editorial was written subsequent to the September 11, 1990 Town Council Public Meeting reflecting the editor's views.

The first amendment of the Constitution of the United States states: Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and petition the government for a redress (to set right or remedy) of grievances.

The perverse, arbitrary Draconian policy of the new Council-Manager incumbents, with the full knowledge that large groups of citizens want to attend and participate in matters approp to township matters, adamantly refuse to change the venue of their meetings to larger facilities, such as schools, as was the policy in the past under the previous local municipal governing bodies; ergo, depriving the citizenry of Belleville the right to assemble peaceably, as the Constitution of the United States provides.

The temper and anger of Belleville taxpayers over the more than $1,000 or more per quarter new tax bills under the new type government, after the old type commissioners had come up with a no tax increase for Belleville, and now been brought about by the new Council's "giving back" over $633 thousand and a half to the school board after the voters had turned it down with two of the new Council members with wives on the Board of Education payroll, voting for the "giveback." Also, some readers of the local TIMES having seen the picture in the paper, wonder if the Mrs. Buccino might be the spouse of the TIMES editor and an employee also of the local school board?

The editorial is wrong when it reads, "The point is that the majority of people in town elected the council to represent them." That is not so, there are many more registered Belleville voters, while a scant 6,000 or less voters cast ballots in the referendum election. In fact, had more people in town taken the trouble to have voted with intelligence this grave error might have been averted.

"Boss" Rega, a great vote getter, goaded his customers and friends who are legion to sign petitions for the change and to vote for it promising a utopia... They did... today, those individuals, lamenting their taking his counsel with the resulting increased tax bills are angry, resentful and consider themselves badly misled... figuratively, they could kill him... Come on, Jackie you owe them all an amende honorable (an apology). And also to those you told to vote for Councilpersons who had pledged to serve, if elected, for $750 per annum, but, oh how they lied.

We respect the right of the author of the editorial to voice his views, but question his wisdom in suggesting anyone "to step aside"... in politics the race is never over and, at times, the best people don't always win. There will be other races and in view of present developments, it might be much sooner than many might want it to be and with a much different outcome. Upstart politicians seldom with arrogance and domineering flaunting of authority ascend to the pinnacle of greatness.

The "gag-rule" policy "shutting people-up" and the decree of an amazon ruler summarily demanding a speaker be seated and silenced at the rap of a gavel, smacks of an attempt to infuse despotic tyranny in the conducting of the Council Chamber style of running the meetings in a Star Chamber format that the rank and file citizenry find unacceptable and will not long tolerate.

Tis-said that coming events cast a shadow afore them... the Belleville natives are restless... it could happen sooner than one might think.

Teachers' pay ranks low in county

two or more emergency days remain as of April 30 of next year, schools will close May 24, and additional emergency days will be taken at the end of the school year.

Neither Nardiello nor Lang would comment on whether the unused snow days on the school calendar could be affected by the no-shows at the Open-house nights. Nardiello said that the calendar becomes a part of the contract when it is adopted by the board, but the teachers have no contract.

The teachers are unhappy about the B.E.A.-B.O.E.'s failure to provide them with a contract. They have been working without a contract since June 30. Both sides agreed to call in a mediator following their declaration of an impasse.

Sept. 17. According to all reports made public both sides are far apart. Belleville teachers claim they are unhappy because a teachers' pay ranking in Essex County's 23 school districts places B.E.A. members 18 from the top with a pay scale that is $2,500 below the county average.

The teachers' position and their resolve was strengthened by a report by the New Jersey School Boards Association ranking Belleville among comparable districts.

* Teachers' salaries, 31 from the top of 35

* Administrators' salaries, 21 from the top of 35

* Principals' salaries, 12 from the top of 35

* Supervisors' salaries, 5 from the top of 35

All of this despite the fact that

Belleville spends only $4,890 per student, far below the N.J. average of $8,439, according to a National Education Association report. The only other schools which spend so little per student in N.J. are in some rural districts. Belleville's spending ranks within the nationwide estimated spending per-pupil which averaged $4,890.

According to the same report, average teachers salaries in the state rose 8 percent last year from the year before. New Jersey ranked eighth in the country in teachers salaries.

In 1989, a first-year teacher with a B.A. degree had a starting salary of $22,470 while a teacher with the same degree and 18 years of teaching earned a salary of $38,125. Teachers with credits beyond their bachelor's, masters degrees and credits beyond earned somewhat more.

Lang, in an address to the B.O.E. negotiating team asked them to heed Japan's business strategy, and learn the value of a contented worker. "Teachers who are presently working hard to improve scores and to help our students will eventually join the ranks of the disenfranchised."

"You cannot with a clear conscience watch our teaching staff leave for other districts, or industry or simply lose interest in quality education," he said.

Board of Education trustee Gabe Naziola, reached Tuesday, did not comment on board-teacher negotiations.

As the job action enters its second week, the question being asked around town is "What next?" Will Belleville teachers go out on strike as has been done in other towns, including most recently Maplewood-South Orange?

Are the Belleville teachers unhappy enough to take such drastic steps? The last two B.E.A.-B.O.E. contracts, in 1984 and 1987, were passed by only about 40 votes altogether. So far, all job actions have been organized and mild, according to veterans on the scene. The BEA had no comment on future actions in keeping with their policy of not negotiating in the newspaper.

Pathmark-Silver Lakers reach security agreement

By Joyce M. Steel

Representatives of Silver Lake Pathmark, the Belmont Avenue store implicated in residents' complaints of rising crime and vandalism, conceded to make several changes at its site during a meeting with town officials and community leaders Monday.

According to Councilman Mario Drozd, a member of the committee formed to seek solutions to the problems, Pathmark will add fencing, improve lighting, augment cleaning efforts and stiffen security at the facility.

The fencing, which Drozd said will be constructed within the next several weeks, is slated to span the length of the store and its parking lot along the front property line, leaving open space at the entrance. A guardrail will be placed against the fence inside the lot, so that motorists cannot damage the fencing.

Pathmark has modeled a new lighting plan from its sister store at Colony Plaza in Jersey City. "It's called an urban package, and it will apparently light the lots and surrounding area much better," Drozd said. In addition, Public Service Electric & Gas is expected to upgrade street lighting in the area sometime next year.

Responding to residents' complaints that trash collectors often pick up large amounts of garbage from the facility before 6 a.m., creating a disturbance, Pathmark agreed to advise its contractor of a new 8 a.m. deadline.

Regarding security, the residents' focal complaint, Pathmark pointed out that it employed an in-house force from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. daily, and often employs off-duty Belleville police officers to patrol the area on certain evenings. Representatives agreed to extend that policy to every evening, between the hours of 6 p.m. and midnight, if the department can provide the manpower.

"I doubt very much that Pathmark will renege on anything," Drozd said after the meeting. "I feel confident there will not be a need for any more meetings."

OUR OPINION

Civility returns

We may be going out on a limb with our optimism, but we have to say that the township council meeting September 25, was a welcome respite from the previous meetings the township has had to endure.

The meeting began with the mayor reading the state statutes as to what constitutes a disorderly persons offense. The statement was quite clear, as was the point that any disorderly persons at the town meeting would be subject to arrest and prosecution to the fullest extent of the law. That could include a $1,000 fine and/or 6 months in prison.

Our sources tell us that 7 days in the Belleville jail is worse than six months in county prison. Certainly prisoners need not receive air conditioning and cable tv at the township's expense, but the conditions there are certainly not very pleasant.

That is only to point out the wisdom expressed by those at our township meeting last week. They were orderly, they said what they had to say, they asked their questions.

The townspeople didn't always receive the answers they sought immediately. The council stumbled on a few answers they should have not attempted to answer in the first place. Members of the council began to contradict one another, then they decided not to try to answer at all one or two particularly sticky questions.

But the council listened patiently while seventeen citizens addressed their concerns. The big switch here was that the citizens were offering to work with the council, to inform them of problems in their own areas, and to work with the council on solutions.

For the most part, the citizens presentations were made without theatrics. More than one asked not to be interrupted by the council with answers, less the allotted five minutes would be used up before all the material presented.

We still hear the same complaint that five minutes is not enough time for a citizen to be heard. The council's adamant stance towards the five minute limit has forced the citizens to discipline themselves, to focus their comments and make the most of their allotted time.

At first some citizens complained that they couldn't speak on the resolutions before the council voted. Then the council moved the citizens' participation to the beginning of the meeting. Last week's meeting was typical of the citizen's comment direction, only one of the seventeen speakers addressed any of the resolutions.

We were, however disappointed that the council could not get their answer straight on when the new town manager would get his 5% 1991 raise. That is something they should know, and not have to contradict each other with answers.

Another thing the council members should have known was when the taxes were due. Everyone in town who got a tax bill also received a note telling them when their taxes were due. It should have been no surprise. The council, if they weren't sure, should not have guessed. They should have referred the question to the interim township manager, and if he didn't know, the council should have had the tax collector contact the citizen the next day.

Fortunately, in other township matters, the council is moving ahead. Perhaps if their talents aren't wasted on fending off innuendos and various other theatrics, they could get on with the business of running the town. After all, that is why they sought their offices in the first place.

The format of the council meetings is livable. The people can live with it and the council can too. As long as the people act in the proper manner and conduct themselves as fellow citizens, not riotous mobs, the council will hear everyone who wants to be heard, they will get on with the business of running the town. And Belleville will prosper for it.

Nice delivery

One thing has to be said, that the vast size of the U.S. Post Office doesn't make it so clumsy that it cannot meet a conspicuous need when the time comes, and do it frankly with some grace.

Someone high in that organization had the good sense to understand that many parents and relatives would want to send packages; cookies, taped messages, gum and hard candy to those now serving in Saudi Arabia.

As a result, a series of "tips" were developed to make sending such items fairly easy, so they drafted them.

But the neatest touch, was that instead of passing the information down through some far-away bureaucrat, they localized the delivery of the information and had it passed out by the local post office manager.

Thus, locally, Kenneth Benaquista, the manager of the Belleville-Nutley delivery area, became the messenger.

YOUR OPINION

Structure failing

To the editor:

Open letter to the Mayor, Councilmen at Large, Councilman and Board of Education elected officials in the township of Belleville.

The only way to decrease the town's expenses is to control the town in which we live, and we the taxpayers are not doing that. Let us implicate a policy (head count of the employees, what they do and their functions) to control the township size. Let us stop the rise in taxes in the township of Belleville by cutting "the fat", let's start with the budgetary cuts approximately 10-15% or more (lay offs, demotions).

Occasionally we read letters on how the local government and Board of Education are doing wonderful. I am criticizing the local government and the school board on how inefficient the jobs are being done and poorly managed, that is the truth in this township. We the taxpayers will find out the hard way.

I am the owner of a one family home in Belleville. When I purchased the house in this township my taxes were going up from approximately $2,600 three years ago to approximately $3,400 and then to $4,400, and now you are saying we could afford another increase of $200 or more this year. How about next year? How much more money?

I have never seen so many houses for sale in this township, if you look around all you will see is signs "For Sale". Why? Because we can't afford the exaggerated increases in taxes every year, and what do we get for the taxes we pay in this township? (Barely nothing).

Senior citizens and young couples have a big problem obtaining a home or keeping their homes, due to the rise in taxes. Let the taxpayer hold on to their homes; help them by stabilizing taxes.

Instead of putting such a burden in taxpayers and homeowners you could cut down on other unnecessary expenses. For example since school enrollment is down why not closing one school or two? Larger classrooms, less staff, department merges, less spendings more savings.

Where is our solid foundation? I believe our structure is failing badly and it is the new elected township governments' duty not to let this happen.

Hot dogs needed

To the editor:

I am a hot dog vendor here in Belleville. I have worked for nearly five years on Jorammon Street. I have enjoyed serving the public. Recently, the local government issued an ordinance banning the use of hot dog trucks on private property.

I feel this is an unfair law and is biased against those who only seek to make an honest living. I don't ask for favors on the taxpayers money, only the right to earn an honest dollar. With all the problems local government has, it's ironic that the ordinary working man should be singled out for punishment. Without warning my livelihood has been taken from me, along with the other vendors in town.

I appeal to the conscience of all people, especially those in authority to restore our rights as Americans who practice the work ethic.

We vendors are performing a service, which I feel is needed and are harming no one. If anyone can help, I would appreciate hearing from them.

Seeking classmates

To the editor:

I graduated from Belleville High School in 1945 and have lost contact with old friends and classmates. I would like to hear from them especially if any class reunions or events are planned now or in the future. Your printing this letter in the paper would be appreciated.

Candidate's pledge

To the editor:

The record setting tax increases imposed on the hard working citizens of our state by Governor Jim Florio have overshadowed developments in Essex County which I consider to be as outrageous as the Governor's actions. I am referring to the $7.7 million county tax increase which was approved by the Democratic controlled Freeholder Board at a meeting in which the public was not allowed to speak.

As a candidate for Freeholder-At-Large on the Republican line, I simply can not believe that right here in Essex County, the people's right to participate in their government has been circumvented.

Even more disturbing is the fact that it is the suburban taxpayer who will pay these tax increases, while urban areas will benefit. I firmly believe that it is time to stop "tax and spend" government and replace it with accountability.

What is most shocking is the Democrat Freeholders had the opportunity on several occasions to adopt a county budget without a tax increase. This was proposed by the County Executive and presented a second time by Republican Freeholders Art Clay and Monroe Lustbader. Unfortunately for the taxpayers of Essex County, Clay and Lustbader being the only two Republicans on the Board were outvoted. This means towns which would have received tax breaks are now being forced to pay even more. This is true in towns like Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Nutley and Verona.

If elected Freeholder, I pledge not to support tax increases without first examining every line item in the budget and cutting away the waste. Unlike the current Democrat majority, I will look for alternatives to tax increases. I know it's people like you and me who pay for these whimsical tax hikes.

This November, the voters of Essex have a chance to say "enough" to tax and spend politics and a chance to say "no" to the Jim Florio Democratic machine in Essex County. Essex County can vote Republican for county offices.

It's almost un-American for the Democratic Party to control the Freeholder Board for more than three decades. It's time for a change, and I believe I am the alternative.

Freeholder-At-Large

Chill out, council!

To the editor:

While Communists Bloc countries all over the world are finally gaining freedom of speech, right to assemble, and free travel, the residents of Belleville are being denied these same rights by the new Township Council.

One of their first actions was to eliminate public participation at Town meetings. At their first few meetings, they passed many resolutions affecting Belleville residents without public input. The Council then put a gag order on all employees, prohibiting them from speaking to anyone, including the press.

On August 30, 1990, a Municipal Budget Hearing was held, which by law was advertised as a "Public Hearing." Belleville police were ordered to look out all residents who exceeded the seating capacity of approximately 70. Dozens of citizens were denied access to this "Public Hearing" including at least one member of the press. The Council refused repeated requests to recess or adjourn the meeting and reconvene at larger quarters, as had been done many times in prior administrations. At this so-called "Public Hearing," the Council then proceeded to amend the previously approved 1990 budget with a whopping $869,000 increase or approximately 18 tax points. As residents questioned the Council on the need for this dramatic increase, and when they could not or would not answer the questions, the Mayor ordered police to escort the residents from the meeting.

And now, on September 16, 1990, the Herald and News reports that Mayor Perna and Deputy Mayor Caputo intend to fail anyone who does not abide by their five minute limitation, even though they (the Council) have been unable to answer the questions in five minutes. Is this the "New Beginning" they promised us? Or are there certain things they don't want the public to know?

Are they concerned about the fact that Vincent Nuzzi provided legal assistance to certain Council members associated with the change of government movement and has been appointed Township Attorney? Are they afraid the public will find out the new Administrative code provides compensation for the Township Attorney as an annual retainer, "and in addition to such retainer, he shall receive other compensation for legal services as he may be directed to perform during the year by the Council, upon presentation of a voucher sworn to as required by law?"

Do they want the public to know that on August 14, 1990, they approved a resolution to pay $25,000 to another attorney who assisted with the change of government? Do they want the public to know that after a "nationwide search" the Town manager they hired at a salary of $83,607, plus a $3,400 expense account and a town car, is the same gentleman who was a speaker at the forum at Belleville High School to "explain" the change of government to the people?

The new Council is attempting to blame the prior Board of Commissioners for the increase in taxes. NOT TRUE! The new Council must stand up and take responsibility for their actions. They wanted this Council-Manager form of government, now they must admit to the people that it is an extremely more expensive form of government. History has proven that, when any government replaces a bureaucracy, it becomes more expensive, less efficient, and less responsive.

We are willing to give the new Council a chance, but please Council-people, CHILL OUT! Instead of attacking the Board of Commissioners, sit back, plot your new course, and enjoy all the Township improvements that will take place this year and next as a result of the efforts of the prior Board of Commissioners.

The Commissioners were successful in finally commencing construction of the new Public Safety Building. Rutgers St., Jorammon St., Overlook Ave. and Wallace St. will be repaved with grants secured by the Commissioners. The Municipal Parking lot will be expanded and Valley St. will receive new sidewalks and pavement as a result of grant funds received by the Commissioners. The Municipal Stadium will be renovated with Green Acres funds applied for and received by the Board of Commissioners.

The road has been paved for the new Council's smooth journey. If they choose to deny citizens their rights, and raise taxes for patronage or political motives, it will spell certain disaster for our Township and the new form of government.

Manager's salary

To the editor:

The Mayor and her Council are definitely "Masters of Deceit"... For the benefit of the "Silent Majority" referring to those relying on news accounts of the Town Council meetings, here is what transpired last Tuesday, Sept. 25.

The issue of the hiring of the Town Manager with subsequent salary increases was raised. After conferring with the Council, the wording in the local papers simply stated that "a 5% raise would be given to the Town Manager in 1991, followed by another 5% increase the following years". To illustrate this "play of words" with this simplistic response to the reporter and several citizens to obscure the true facts, this is what happened. Pressed on this subject by me, Councilman Caputo "explained" "No, he does not get the raise on January 1, 1991, he gets a raise only after the budget is approved", (which would be around this time of the year). But wait, there is more...after prodding, councilman Caputo acknowledged "the raise then becomes effective retroactive to Jan. 1, 1991. After much hemming and hawing, we finally learned that in effect the Manager picks up a raise of about $4,150, after only 7 weeks in office. How many of you out there were ever so "lucky"? After one year and 7 weeks he will be earning, without all his "perks", a minimum of $91,000. To think the Governor of the State of New Jersey earned all of, I believe, $90,000 for 1990.

Peter Palmieri, 76

A Mass for Peter Palmieri, 76, of Parsippany was offered Sept. 28 in St. Ann Church, Parsippany, after the funeral from the Par-Troy Funeral Home, Parsippany.

Mr. Palmieri died Sept. 24 in the Morris View Nursing Home, Morris Plains.

He had been the owner of Peter Palmieri Jewelers in Newark for 53 years before his retirement in 1984. Born in Newark, Mr. Palmieri lived in Belleville before moving to Parsippany in 1987.

Surviving are his wife, Trusana; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Yannuzzi; a son, Peter; two sisters, Mrs. Carmela Colucci and Mrs. Florence Castro, and four grandchildren.

Angel Gomez, 74

Angel Gomez, 74, of Belleville died Sept. 26 in the Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

A Mass was offered Sept. 29 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville. Arrangements were by the Megaro Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Gomez had been a machine operator with Nesor Alloy in Caldwell for 20 years before retiring 12 years ago.

Born in Aguas Buenas, Puerto Rico, he lived in Belleville for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Mariana; two sons, Angel J. and John A.; a daughter, Mrs. Maria M. Peterson; five brothers, Luis, David, Ramon, Juan and Bautista; four sisters, Mary, Marcelina, Gladys and Gloria, and 10 grandchildren.

Clara F. Scott, 87

Mrs. Clara F. Scott, 87, of Belle Mead died Sept. 25 in Mountaintop Hospital, Glen Ridge.

A Mass was offered Sept. 27 in Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament Church, Roseland, after the funeral from the Quinn-Hopping Funeral Home of Livingston.

Born in Schenectady, N.Y., Mrs.

Scott lived in Belleville for 30 years and in Princeton for 10 years before moving to Belle Mead several years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Joan Kennedy and Mrs. Patricia Migon; a son, Robert J.; nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Louise Stefanelli, 92,

Mrs. Louise M. Stefanelli, 92, of Glen Ridge, who donated land and buildings to allow for the opening of the Columbus Memorial Hospital in Newark, died Sept. 20 in the Newark hospital.

A Mass was offered Sept. 24 in St. Francis Xavier Church, Newark, following the funeral from the LaMonica Memorial Home, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Stefanelli and her husband, the late Louis, founded Columbus Hospital in 1931. They donated the two original brick buildings with furnishings and surrounding land to start the hospital. She served as hospital superintendent until 1935. Mrs. Stefanelli and her husband were honored with a bronze plaque by hospital officials in 1935, recognizing their work in setting up the hospital. The plaque is still located in the hospital.

She also organized the hospital's women's auxiliary at the hospital and served as the auxiliary's honorary president for more than 50 years. She also was treasurer of the hospital's hospitality shop for four years.

She had been the youngest member of the Newark Welfare Federation, which sponsored the building of the Silver Lake Community House in Belleville. Mrs. Stefanelli was voted Woman of the Year by the John I. Creco Foundation in Bloomfield in 1980 and the UNICO in Maywood in 1981.

Mrs. Stefanelli was a member of the Rosary Society of the St. Francis Xavier Church, the Friends of Caldwell College, the Bayley-Seton League of Seton Hall University, the Glen Ridge Women's Club and the Bloomfield Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Coleman and Louise E.; a son, Louis A.; a brother, Jerald Maorian; two sisters, Mrs. Clementine Lally and Mrs. Edvige Anselmo; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Rev. Gerald Fortunato

Love someone you hate

"I just can't stand that woman!"
"That guy gives me the creeps!"
"He'd do the human race a favor by evaporating!"
Have you ever said or thought things like that? People show great lack of love toward others for a thousand reasons: "they use the wrong deodorant, they sing off-key, they talk too much, or they slurp their soup." Sometimes we try to sound "good" by saying, "I love her, but I don't like her," or, "I usually love her, but I don't today," or "I'd love him if he'd change."
Jesus, however, commands us to love one another unconditionally — "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you" (John 15:12). Jesus loved each of us enough to die for us while we were still sinners, deserving nothing from Him. If I honestly hate Sue and God says I should love her, I can't just say I love her, that would make me a hypocrite. However, I can love by FAITH. I can obey God's Word literally, knowing that if Jesus commanded me to love everyone, He'll give me the power to do it. I must act on that belief and love that person by faith. If I've ever done anything wrong to Sue, I apologize and make it right — even if Sue has done ten times as many things bad to me — and I don't word my apology in such a way as to expect one in return. I simply say, "Sue, I borrowed your blouse without asking you and I'm sorry. It's washed and pressed now, will you forgive me?"
I can also do nice things for Sue, such as buy her flowers, help her with homework, and invite her to go with my friends and me to the basketball game. I don't do it by gritting my teeth and whispering under my breath, "I'm going to love Sue if it kills me," but rather, I pray, "Jesus, what I'm doing for Sue, I'm doing for You, and I'm asking You for the love I don't have." If you obey God's command to show love, sooner or later the right emotions will come tagging along behind.
"If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same... But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High; for He is kind to the ungrateful and the selfish. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful" (Luke 6:32-36).

Maria Tibaldo, 101

A Mass for Mrs. Maria Tibaldo of Newark, who celebrated her 101st birthday on April 23, was offered Sept. 27 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the Kierman Funeral Home, Belleville.

Mrs. Tibaldo died Sept. 24 in the Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Born in Italy, she lived in Belleville before moving to Newark in 1950.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Mary Ossetto; a son, Angelo; seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Edward Kasper, 63

A Mass for Edward F. Kasper, 63, of Belleville was offered Oct. 3 in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, after the funeral from the Megaro Memorial Home, Belleville.

Mr. Kasper, who died Sept. 27 in Riverside Hospital, Secaucus, had been a bartender at Ron's Pub in Belleville for many years. Mr. Kasper, who served in the Navy during World War II, was born in Scranton, Pa., and lived in Belleville for several years.

Surviving are his wife, Jeanette; two brothers, Michael and Joseph, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Papa.

For those who prize safety and assured growth.
Our 151 year pledge...

Established in 1839, The Provident was the first mutual savings bank in New Jersey—the first bank to be operated for the benefit of its depositors—the first bank to pay dividends for the monies placed in its safekeeping. In effect, we started New Jersey saving and have been imitated ever since.

In that time, The Provident has paid 293 consecutive, uninterrupted dividends and not one depositor has ever lost a penny at "The Old Beehive." It's a record no other bank in New Jersey can equal.

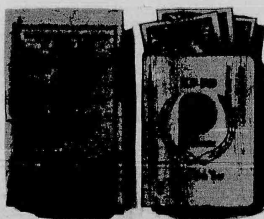

Plymouth and Washington Streets—Provident's first office (1844-1890) and the keys thereto... a far cry from the sophisticated security systems which protect Provident savers today.

highest degree of safety and pay the highest dividends consistent with that aim."

Today, at each Provident office throughout New Jersey, you have a wealth of opportunities to make your money grow in checking, savings, money market accounts and certificates of deposit with varying maturities—all in absolute safety. You also have access to tax-advantaged mutual funds, annuities and even trust advisory investment accounts. Add to these The Provident's mortgage and personal loan services and you have every banking service necessary to manage your finances intelligently.

That's modern banking—with The Provident difference. It includes our pledge "to maintain the highest degree of safety and to pay the highest dividends consistent with that aim." That means if you bank in New Jersey, you can bank on The Provident. And you should.

Passbook No. 27318 dated 1872. The legend on the face declares, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves." New or old, passbooks have one thing in common—they grow steadily with The Provident's uninterrupted dividends.

BHS Challenge Team chosen

By Cynthia Rodriguez
Melanie Bonacorsa, Jennifer Best, Vincent De Benedetto and Marc Mellinger have been chosen as this year's Challenge team for Belleville High School. The decision was announced last Thursday.

To select these students, Ms. McGrath, the students' vice principal, asked faculty members to submit the names of students who are academically talented and socially aware. McGrath then invited the students to participate in the selection process by answering a series of questions. The students who answered the most questions correctly were invited to become Challenge Team members. McGrath will meet with these students two or three times a week to prepare them for competition against other schools.

Their first competition will be on October 16, at 4 p.m., against Millburn High School at TV 3 studios in East Orange. The competition will be televised at a later date on TV 3.

'Pizza Factory' will raise money

By Kristen Brauer

Belleville High School will hold its annual Pizza Factory on Oct. 27 to help subsidize the ever-rising costs of newspaper and yearbook production. Students will be making up tantalizing pies to be cooked immediately or frozen for later meals.

The students in Mr. Salese's journalism classes will be taking orders during the week of Oct. 1, or orders can be called in at 751-4463. The pies will be made to order and delivered by students on Oct. 27. Prices range from $5 for a small cheese pie to $10 for a large deluxe pie.

Receipts can lead to computers

Belleville High School will participate in the Shop Rite "Apples for Students" program. Our "Apples for Students" program began Sept. 30. Please send your Shop Rite register tapes to Belleville High School.

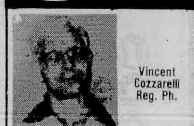

Last year, the "Apples for Students" program was very successful. The high school received one Apple II E computer system, two Apple Image Writer printers and five pieces of software. This year, Belleville High School students hope to improve upon last year's success.

Midirected Self-Medication

Over-the-counter laxatives are intended to help those who suffer from occasional bouts with irregularity. However, according to research presented recently to the American College of Gastroenterology, nearly 15 percent of Americans use non-prescription laxatives on a too-frequent basis. Many of those who abuse laxatives are concerned with more than mere bowel regularity. There are those (mostly women) who take the preparation weekly in an effort to keep their weight under control. So-called laxative abusers risk developing such side effects as diarrhea, cramping, and vomiting. Once the laxative abuse stops, they are vulnerable to "rebound edema," in which a temporary weight gain of up to 15 pounds (mostly water) is possible. With any over-the-counter medication, it is wise to adhere to package directions.

If you don't understand the direction on your prescription medication, take the time to call our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 388 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Cameras and film, Timex watches and transistor radios are available. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HW: Any chronic problem, including constipation, is beyond the scope of self-medication and should be brought to the attention of a physician.

Hispanic heritage exhibit

In honor of Hispanic Heritage Week, which was Sept. 10-16, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center had on exhibit the art of Celia Rodriguez, now deceased, who came to New York from Bayamon, Puerto Rico, when she was 21 years old. She and her daughter, Sally Roth, who paints under her maiden name of Sally Diaz, arrived in New Jersey about 25 years ago.

In 1983, Ms. Rodriguez earned the "Soles De Jayuya" award from the Executive Board of the Puerto Rican State-Wide Parade of New Jersey. Each year the executive board awards different distinguished Puerto Ricans for their outstanding achievements in categories, such as politics, art, economics, communications, and education.

The family's creative talent continues in the third generation: Sally Diaz Roth's oldest daughter, Sally Roth Hahnes is an expert in embroidery and crewel work; daughter Lynnis, a textile designer; daughter Joanne is a graphic artist. Daughter Karen is a nurse. Thus far David has not shown any interest in art, states his mother.

Mrs. Rodriguez works in acrylics and oils, preferring to produce landscapes, seascapes, and floral still life paintings. She had begun to paint at the age of 60.

Belleville residents and those in the nearby environs are actively involved in the New Jersey Committee for the Humanities and Belleville Public Library Book Discussions, coordinated by Humanities scholar Frank DeLisi and Assistant Library Director Adrea Cohen, not shown. "The book discussions have resulted in a rekindling of interest in reading and discussion on the adult level," states Library Director David Bryant. For the past three years the library has been providing varied book discussions on unusual themes, generally with humanities' scholars.

On May 22, 1989 Sam Giuffrida, history teacher and crew coach at Belleville High School, passed away suddenly. The town of Belleville knew him as a teacher, coach, mentor, role model, neighbor and friend. Now after 25 years of service to Belleville and its youth, a scholarship fund is being established in his memory. To help get this fund started, Jiffy Lube will donate $2 for every car serviced with this coupon to the Giuffrida Five Mile Run scheduled for October 21 at 10 a.m. This race will benefit the Giuffrida Scholarship Fund. MEDICALLY SPEAKING

SINUS DISEASE

- Q: What is sinus disease?
- A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.
- Q: What are the symptoms of Sinus Disease?
- A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.
- Q: How is sinus disease treated?
- A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and allergy therapy.
- Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?
- A: In more severe cases with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.
- Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?
- A: Yes. With fiberoptic examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.
- Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?
- A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopic techniques with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Future Belleville High School stars excelled last week in football and soccer. The Junior Blue football teams won on the "A" and "B" levels while the Belleville Soccer Association (BSA) captured four games last Sunday afternoon.

First, let's start with the Junior Bucs. The "A" and "B" teams have been playing quite well after losing their season openers three weeks ago. Both teams are now 2-1 after winning at Doc Ellis Field last Sunday afternoon in the home opener.

"A" TEAM ROMPS 31-0, BERARDI SCORES TWO
Sal Berardi scored two touchdowns and passed for a third to the lead the "A" team to a 31-0 rout of West Paterson. Berardi also kicked three extra points. The "A" team is made up of boys 12 and 13 years old.

Berardi, a halfback, started the scoring with a 46 yard counter run for a touchdown in the first quarter. Berardi kicked the extra point, which in the Tri County Football League is good for two points.

In the second quarter, he threw a 40 yard option pass to Jason DiCosta for the second touchdown. Berardi kicked the extra point to give Belleville a 16-0 lead.

Art Settembrino scored the third Belleville touchdown early in the second half to extend the Buc lead to 22-0. Berardi kicked the PAT to make it 24-0.

The final touchdown came on a 42 yard sweep by Berardi. Tom Escott ran for the conversion, which is good for one point.

"This was a good win for our team," head coach Bill Abrams said afterward. "The kids are beginning to believe in themselves. This was a total team effort and this kind of thing will help us as the year progresses."

Abrams credited the offensive line for a tremendous job. The ends are Anthony Frantantoni and DiCosta. The tackles are Doug DeLuca, Kevin Vogel and Louis Camacho. The guards are Mike Prosperi and Carl Piscatowski and the center is Jim Cotugno.

On defense, Prosperi recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass. Frank Tortorello had ten tackles and Tom Escott had an interception.

Mike Tynan played well in the defensive secondary. Dave Chulandana led the defensive line. The defense held West Paterson to four first downs and came through with good gang tackling throughout the afternoon.

"B" TEAM WINS ON PLACENTE'S SCORE

Damon Placente continued his excellent season by scoring two more touchdowns as the "B" team won for the second straight week, 13-6 over West Paterson.

All the scoring came early in the contest. On Belleville's first offensive possession after the kickoff, Placente ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Ken Bolhardt passed to Robert Romano for the point after conversion.

West Paterson cut the deficit to 7-6 on its next offensive series, but Belleville responded when it got the ball back.

Placente took a handoff and ran 55 yards on a counter play for the second Buc score.

The remainder of the game was a defensive struggle. Late in the game, West Paterson threatened, moving to the Belleville five yard line with 1:29 left in the fourth quarter. With a first and goal at the five, West Paterson was held in check as the Buc defense met the challenge.

Romano made the key tackle in the series, stopping a West Paterson runner short of the goal line on fourth down.

"It looked like their runner was going to score," head coach Joe DeRiggi said after the game. "But Romano came through with a big tackle for us."

The total defensive effort was led by Bobby Carsella, Damon Battle, Danny Danzik and T.J. Sasso.

The Bucs will be in action this Sunday afternoon at Doc Ellis Field. The opponents this week will be from Butler. Game times are 12 noon for the "C" team, 1:30 p.m. for the "B" squad and 3 p.m. for the "A" team.

BSA PREVAILS AGAINST LINCOLN PARK

The Belleville Soccer Association won four games last Sunday afternoon, three against Lincoln Park.

The Bobcats played a strong game against Lincoln Park, winning 2-1. Goals were scored by Lou Scanzillo and Pat Honsinger. Malorie-Clark Cameron put pressure on the opponents with aggressive midfield play. Defensively, Derek Jarr and goalies Mike Biase and Mike Porocco play well defensively.

The Strikers, sponsored by the Junior Womens Club of Belleville, shutout its Lincoln Park opponents, 2-0. The victory kept the Strikers unbeaten.

Solid defense by Frank Toledo, Steve Collett, Joe Sabatino and goalie Vic Messee kept Lincoln Park scoreless.

Joe Colucci and Ivan Martin led the scoring for the Strikers with a goal each.

The Devils, sponsored by Bill Murray Auto Parts, came back from a two goal deficit to beat Lincoln Park 4-3. Ernie Sicari and John Diaz scored a goal and Lawrence Martin had two goals to lead the Devils.

Sicari and Joe Goglia did an excellent job in midfield. On defense, David Auerbach, Joe Emmolo and goalie Justin Mohren played well.

In a rematch of last week, the Belleville Stingrays, sponsored by Dr. Samuel Shara, beat the Belleville Spit-Fires, sponsored by Bedrock Stone, 3-0. Mike Fitzhugh scored two goals and Gary McDonald added one goal.

The young Spit-Fires have shown marked improvement in each week of play.

Other games included a 5-1 loss by the Bears against Jefferson. The Bears are sponsored by Supreme Olds. Nick Tetolaid scored the Bears first goal of the year.

The Bandits, sponsored by Nardachone and Colavito, lost to Wayne 5-0.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Because of a shortage of space this week, we had to move this feature back to Buc Shots. Hopefully, it will have its own section next week.

Anyway, this week we recognize John Alvarado of the football team and Linda Wujciak of the gymnastics squad.

Alvarado played a tremendous game on defense for the Bucs

Bengals 'rush' past Bucs, 17-7

By Mike Lamberti

This was a neighborhood football rivalry at its best.

It was the story of two teams that battled hard throughout the game, giving yards grudgingly. And even though the Belleville Bucs lost, 17-7 to Bloomfield last Sunday, the team and coaching staff left Foley Field with a good feeling for the remainder of the '90 season.

The Bucs will battle Paramus Catholic this Saturday, on the road. Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m.

Head coach John Senesky saw a lot of good things in the game last Sunday.

"It was a good effort on the part of our kids," Senesky said. "Bloomfield is a big, strong football team. They are well coached and very well drilled. We gave it a good effort, but they wore us down in the second half."

The Bengals won the coin toss and began a steady drive downfield. The talented backfield, with quarterback Jason Schneider and running backs Jermain Johnson and Chris O'Leary, penetrated the Buc defensive line consistently, moving the ball as close as the Belleville 25 yard line.

There, the defense stiffened and a key penalty moved the Bengals out of field goal range. Bloomfield was forced to punt and as the Bengals got the ball away, Belleville's Jim DuHaine was trying to run off the field as he was the 12th man on the field. He didn't make it and Belleville was called for a five yard penalty.

Belleville partially blocked the punt and since the ball didn't gain much yardage, Bloomfield opted to take the penalty and re punt the ball. It turned out to be a big play for Belleville, because on the next punt, Belleville's John Alvarado blocked the kick. The ball rolled toward midfield where Alvarado picked it up and ran the distance for the Bucs first touchdown of the season.

Mike Kimball added the extra point and Belleville led 7-0.

Running game dominates Alvarado scores 1st Buc T.D.

You could see almost instantly what the lead meant for the Buc defense, especially against a good team like Bloomfield. Tentative in yards, which Schneider converted as the first half ended.

The strategy on the Belleville side at halftime was simple. The count proved to be too long and Belleville was flagged for a delay of game penalty.

"We wanted a longer count, but we were supposed to snap the ball," Senesky said. "But we waited too long and the official hit us with the penalty and that forced us to punt."

DuHaine got off a good punt, pinning the Bengals at their own 10 its loss to Hackensack last Friday night, the Bucs were blitzing throughout the first half and the defensive secondary, which was snake bit in the Hackensack game, was much more effective this time around.

The Belleville offense had trouble penetrating the huge Bloomfield line, however. The Bucs were limited to 119 total yards in the game, 76 of which came in the air as quarterback Art Caruso played a solid game.

Late in the first half, Bloomfield threatened when Schneider hit Johnson with a long bomb against a prevent Belleville defense. The pass set up a field goal attempt of 32

Bucs were hoping to establish the offense in the third quarter and run time off the clock in the process.

The plan seemed to work as the Bucs took the second half kickoff and gained two first downs into Bloomfield territory. The combination of good Caruso passing and running and some good runs by Bill Salvatore, Sean Kimball and Carmen Spina moved the ball to the Bengal 32 yard line, where a turning point of the game occurred.

Belleville had a fourth and inches at the Bengal 32. A running play was called from the bench, with a long count to possibly draw the Bengals offside. However, the yard line. But the Bloomfield offensive line did a good job in opening holes for Johnson and O'Leary and the solid line began to wear down the Belleville defense, which was playing a marvelous game.

Belleville was hit with a critical 15 yard unsportsmanlike penalty in the Bengal drive, that moved the ball into Buc territory.

"From what I heard, one of our kids said something to one of their kids and the officials flagged us," Senesky said. "Nothing was said to the officials. I didn't understand it."

Young tennis team finds road difficult early on

The Belleville girls' tennis team has started the 1990 season with one victory in its first seven matches.

The Lady Bucs, under first year coach Tony Salese, had a busy week of action. The team faced Teaneck yesterday and will play at Caldwell this afternoon at 4 p.m. Tomorrow, the girls are host to Paramus.

Next Monday, the team plays at Immaculate Heart and next Tuesday, it travels to Newark Eastside. Next Wednesday, the road show continues at Hackensack. All matches commence at 4 p.m.

"We're a young, beginner team," Salese said. "The girls' enthusiasm is very good. We have two seniors on the team and many of the girls never picked up a racket until this fall."

"The good thing about a young team like ours is that the kids pick up the game fast. We should see a lot of improvement as the year goes on."

Belleville's lone victory thus far this fall came against Barringer, 5-0. Senior Justina Ernst won first singles 5-7, 6-1 and 7-6 (8-6 in the tiebreaker).

At second singles, Carmelita Arceo, a sophomore, prevailed in straight sets 6-3, 6-1. At third singles, Sima Tailor, a senior won in shutout fashion 6-0, 6-0.

The first doubles team of Justina Nguyen and Kathy Pham won 6-0, 6-0. Both girls are just freshmen. At second doubles, sophomore Angela Trinh and freshman Suzanne Dam won by forfeit.

The remainder of the roster features Rakhi Tailor at third singles, sophomores Amita Parekh and Manisha Tare, junior Antonia Marzulo and freshman Ashley Shah.

The team manager is Edeha Reyes, a senior.

This is Salese's first season as head coach of the girls' team. For 12 years, Karen Fuccello held the reins, but when Fuccello was named Athletic Director and Director of Physical Education at Belleville this fall, she gave up some of her coaching responsibilities.

Salese has been the boys' tennis coach at Belleville High since 1987.

M.L.

Running away from the crowd is John Alvarado (16) with the Bucs' first touchdown of the 1990 season. Following Alvarado for Belleville is Abdel Heiwat (48), John McAlon (9) and Jim DuHaine (81). Alvarado's score put the Bucs ahead 7-0 in first quarter at Foley Field.

Wujciak leads Lady Buc gymnasts to first victory

A pair of first place finishes by Linda Wujciak propelled the Belleville gymnastics team to a 65-25-63.8 victory over NNJIL rival Hackensack.

The victory was the first of the season for Gina Lemongello's crew. Earlier in the week, Belleville was on the short end of a 92-10-64.85 decision to Ridgewood.

The girls took a 1-2 record into a match with Brearley High School yesterday. Next Tuesday, the team is home to rival Bloomfield in a 4 p.m. start. Annually, the winner of the Belleville-Bloomfield match is awarded a trophy which stays in the winners trophy case for the next year.

In the Hackensack match, Wujciak finished first in the balance beam, with a score of 5.9. Kristin Galioto was third with a score of 5.55. Also doing well in the beam event were Nancy Matthews (4.55) and Renee Coppola (4.5).

In the floor exercise, Wujciak won with a score of 6.55. Mary Anne Ferrara took second in the event at 6.15 and Christina Ferrara scored a 4.85.

In the uneven parallel bars, Danielle Groelling placed second with a score of 4.65. Dawn Simonetti finished with a 4.0. Renee Coppola tallied a 3.7 and Jennifer Kastner scored a 3.45.

In the vaulting, Groelling led the way with a 6.55. Matthews finished at 6.5, Wujciak scored a 6.3 and Kim Piscatowski did well with a score of 6.05.

"It was nice to get a win, especially in the league," Lemongello said. "It's a tough division and we're happy to get the victory."

In the Ridgewood match, Belleville didn't place in any of the four events, but did well individually.

In vaulting, Lori Aiello scored a 6.55, Groelling 6.5, Piscatowski 6.4 and Vanessa Rodriguez 6.0.

Coppola led the way in the uneven parallel bars (4.6). Also competing in the event were Groelling (4.5), Simonetti (4.35) and Kastner (4.35).

In the balance beam, Wujciak scored a 5.7. She was followed by Coppola (4.55), Galioto (3.95) and Matthews (3.85).

Finally, the floor exercise was led by Wujciak, with a fine score of 7.0. Mary Anne Ferrara finished at 6.2 and Christina Ferrara scored a 4.55. Aiello suffered an injury in the event and could not finish.

Volleyball squad falls to P. Catholic in straight sets

The Belleville volleyball team is off to a 3-8 start this fall, having beaten Nuliy, Paterson Eastside and University.

Grace Worley's team battled Montclair and Clifford Scott earlier this week. The girls will face Paramus this afternoon at 4 p.m. at Paramus. Tomorrow, the team is host to Teaneck. Next Tuesday, University comes to town. All matches start at 4 p.m.

Last Monday, the team was beaten in straight sets by Paramus Catholic.

"They had a real strong team," Worley said of P.C. "Our team has shown signs of coming around. We're young and the varsity experience will help us as the year goes on."

Worley has made some adjustments in the lineup, moving Judy Fiallos to setter and Melanie Bonaccors to the backline.

Colleen Mannion, the only sophomore on the team, has shown good offensive skills. Maria Ribon continues to improve, and co-captain Kristin McCarthy adds much needed varsity experience. The same is true of co-captain Judy Knych, who has been with the program since her freshman year.

"We need to become more offensive minded," Worley said. "But I'm really happy with our work ethic. The team continues to work hard and is showing improvement. We've played some good games, we just need to be more consistent."

 especially in the heat of a game." Johnson culminated the 90 yard drive with a six yard run late in the third quarter to put Bloomfield ahead 10-7.
 Despite the Bengal drive, the Bucs were determined to come back. A poor Bengal kickoff gave Belleville the ball in excellent shape, near midfield. The key play in the drive was a pass from Caruso to Jason Nardachone. After Nardachone caught the ball, he pitched out to Spina who almost broke it all the way. The play was the old "hook and ladder" and gained good yardage. Spina was caught at the 22 yard line and the Bucs had a first down and momentum on its side.

 Belleville got as close as the Bengal 14, where a fourth and two situation arose. Salvatore took a pitchout from Caruso, but the Bengal defense held its ground and stopped the fullback short of the first down.

The stalled drive took some steam out of the Bucs and late in the game, Johnson finished his outstanding day by running 40 yards with the game clinching touchdown.

The Bucs were without the services of starting center Rich Ferrugia, who cracked a bone in his shoulder during practice last week. Ferrugia will be out at least four weeks. Anthony Papantonio replaced Ferrugia on the offensive line and did a solid job.

"We have to take the same intensity we had against Bloomfield and use it in the upcoming games," Senesky said. "We hit well, we did a good job in gang tackling and the kids responded. I think the newspaper prediction (Bloomfield was favored 35-0 in the Saturday paper) also got the kids attention. It was a good effort. Now, we have to move ahead and use this experience positively."

NOTES: Paramus Catholic was impressive in beating Teaneck last Sunday, so the Bucs will have its hands full again. Bucs beat P.C. last season 21-0 in season opener at P.C. In 1988, Paramus Catholic won, 10-0 at Belleville in a steady rain.

Hackensack continued to roll, beating Nutley last Sunday 41-7. Don Bosco was also victorious. The top teams in the NNJL Pacific Division appear to be Don Bosco, St. Joe's of Montvale and Hackensack.

Johnson, a marvelous all around back, gained over 200 yards in total offense. Last season Johnson played quarterback for an 8-1 Bengal team that made the Group IV, Section II playoffs. This year, he will be a terror as a ball handler.

Bloomfield will be very tough to beat for the remainder of the season. Bloomfield has a rock solid line on both offense and defense. The running backs rarely fumble and the team has that important experience factor.

Historic site restored with classic facelift

Sept. 7-9 marked another milestone in the historic lifetime of a grand old building located on Bloomfield Avenue at Grove Street, Montclair.
 Lackawanna Station Shopping Center hosted three days of celebrity appearances, specials and fun for all.

Superhero Michaelangelo, the reputed leader of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, appeared. Hundreds of children and parents alike greeted, shook hands and posed for pictures with the reptilian do-gooder.
 Also appearing was New York

Giants All-Pro Kicker Sean Landeta. Enthusiastic fans brought banners, programs, trading cards and balloons for autographing.

Mayor Clifford Lindholm assisted on the official end of things with the ribbon cutting ceremonies.

"A lot of hard work and planning has gone into this project to restore this old building to its original beauty. We would like for anyone and everyone to feel comfortable shopping here. It's a family center — a restored classic," said Bob Ambrosia, president of ARC Properties, owner of Lackawanna Station Shopping Center.

COWABUNGA DUDES! Michaelangelo, the leader of the famous Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, was on hand to help celebrate the grand opening of Lackawanna Station recently.

How to get the most from an "Open House"

Attending open houses can help prospective buyers get a feel for the types of homes they like and an idea of the homes that are currently on the market.

Prospective buyers will have a unique opportunity to do this during the "Discover Homeownership Open House Event," scheduled for the weekends of October 6-7 and 13-14. The Open House event, sponsored by the New Jersey Association of Realtors, its 34 member Boards and more than 4,000 local Realtors, will feature more than 10,000 open houses statewide.

To help prospective buyers get the most from this opportunity, NJAR provides the following guidelines for visiting an open house:

1. Pre-plan. During the week prior to visiting homes, note the addresses of interesting homes you see that feature open house signs. By doing this, you will be sure to view those homes on the following weekends during open house hours (usually 1 to 4 p.m.). Also read through the Thursday real estate section of your local paper, clipping and saving the advertisements for the homes you are interested in seeing.

2. Make a list. Make a list of the homes you want to see and prioritize them according to distance. While you may be interested in that fascinating four-bedroom estate on the hill, it really won't serve your needs to visit the home if it is out of your price range, so try to visit only those homes that are realistically within your financial reach.

3. Schedule a route. It would be a good idea to attend the open house farthest from your home first and work your way back home. Schedule at least a half hour per home and remember to leave time to attend any open houses you may see that weren't on your list.

4. Take notes. If you are attending a "Discover Homeownership Open House," the sponsoring Realtor will provide you with a Captain's Log which will guide you in your note taking. If your Realtor does not provide this information, you should take along your own pad of paper and a pen and make notes on special features you like about the home. Also note any questions you may want to follow-up on later. If the Realtor provides a fact sheet on the house (which usually lists things like the number of rooms, the asking price, taxes, etc.), staple your notes to the fact sheet. This will make it easier to remember what you saw when you discuss the home at a later date.

5. Ask questions. The sponsoring Realtor at the open house can take you on a tour of the home and answer any questions you may have. Take advantage of his or her knowledge while you are there by asking questions.

While attending open houses is a good start, serious buyers should also work with a Realtor. A Realtor can show buyers other homes currently on the market and help narrow down their needs so they can make the best home choice.

Realtors extend offer for free Home Guide

As part of its "Discover Homeownership Open House Event," scheduled for the weekends of Oct. 6-7 and 13-14, the New Jersey Association of Realtors (NJAR) and its 34 member Boards statewide have extended their offer for free copies of the New Jersey Home Guide.

The New Jersey Home Guide is a 32-page booklet that explains how to buy a home—from saving for the downpayment to choosing the right style—and lists referral numbers for local Realtor Boards and financing information. To date, more than 10,000 New Jersey residents have requested copies of the guide, first offered as part of NJAR's "Yes You Can Buy a Home in New Jersey" campaign last March.

Coupons for free copies of the guide may be available at local open houses sponsored by Realtors participating in the event. The guide can also be obtained free of charge by calling 1-800-YES-IN-NJ Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The "Discover Homeownership Open House Event" provides a unique opportunity for New Jerseyans to view the many types of homes currently on the market in all price ranges. More than 10,000 houses are scheduled to be open on the "Discover Homeownership" weekends.

The "Yes You Can Buy a Home in New Jersey" campaign is a public awareness program designed to call attention to the many types of homes and financing programs available to homebuyers in New Jersey. It is sponsored by NJAR, its 34 local Realtor Boards and its more than 40,000 members statewide.

Old home versus new: Which one is for you

In today's real estate market, especially in New Jersey, prospective buyers have a wide selection of both new and old homes from which to choose. Making the right choice depends on the buyer and the particular home.

As part of its "Discover Homeownership Open House Event," scheduled for the weekends of October 6-7 and 13-14, the New Jersey Association of REALTORS (NJAR) offers the following suggestions to help buyers make the right choice.

Older homes tend to offer established neighborhoods with a history you can learn about before deciding where you want to live. There are usually no major construction projects going on with the loud noises they bring. The lawns and landscaping are mature and often require little of the owner's time. Public services have probably developed as the area has grown up. Many older homes have drapes and other amenities added by the previous owners. The yard may already be fenced.

But there can be disadvantages as well. Older homes may need repairs or remodeling to better suit you and your family. You may be stuck with the decorating choices made by previous owners. You may want some modern amenities not yet added.

On the other side of the coin are the advantages of new construction. You can usually select the floor plan that suits you from several offered by the builder. You can sometimes pick which lot the home will sit on. In addition, carpet color, counter tops, tile, light fixtures and exterior colors can be your decisions. Builders often have a fashionable assortment of materials reflecting current trends.

The latest developments in construction are incorporated into new homes, including energy efficiency packages designed to hold down the utility costs. There are many better insulation materials in use today that have been developed in recent years.

New homes come with new appliances with warranties. New gadgets like ground fault circuit interrupters, programmable thermostats and smoke detectors are being used. Many builders offer favorable financing.

The disadvantages of new homes exist as well. Most need lawns and at least some landscaping work. Most do not have fences or drapes. All of these items cost new home buyers money at a time, right after the downpayment and closing costs are made, when they cannot easily afford them. New homes are often built further from the central business district and nearby public services may not be available.

New homes often mean longer commutes to work. These new areas may not yet have any history for buyers to consider in their buying decisions. And you really don't know how the overall development will age or what it will look like later. Unfortunately many new homeowners have been disappointed to find that commercial and/or apartment projects spring up around the area. There is no resale home history for the area so buyers can't see how marketable homes are should they later decide to sell.

New homes and older ones both offer tax advantages through deductible mortgage interest and property taxes. They both offer an improved quality of life. Which one you should buy is really just a matter of personal choice.

Free Guides for Buyers

The new Realty World "Buyers Guide" and "Seller's Guide" are now available free from Northern New Jersey Realty World Brokers. The pocket-size guides each contain more than 40 pages of easy-to-read, comprehensive information on buying and selling a home.

"These two free booklets are absolute necessities for anyone who's thinking of buying or selling a home," said Kenneth Cibroski, Realty World Corporation president.

The "Buyer's Guide" suggests how to determine what price range you can afford, the pros and cons of different types of financing, how to look for a home, how to make an offer, and what to expect at settlement.

pect at settlement.

The "Seller's Guide" features information on how to prepare a house for sale, what's involved in marketing a house, how to handle offers and negotiate the contract, how to plan your move, and what to expect on settlement day.

The guides also explain special programs the Realty World System created to make buying and selling a home easier, including the Real Safe home protection plan.

For a free copy of the "Buyer's Guide" or "Seller's Guide" contact Realty World Monaco Realty, 507 Franklin Ave., Nutley, 667-8000.

Century 21 Stanford Agency to participate in statewide Discover Homeownership Open House Event Oct. 6 - 7 and 13 - 14

Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley, will participate in the New Jersey Association of Realtors' Discover Homeownership Open House Event the weekends of October 6 and 7, and 13 and 14. The firm's open houses will be among more than 10,000 open houses to be hosted those weekends by NJAR members.

The Discover Homeownership Open House Event provides a unique opportunity for homebuyers to view the many homes available to them. The statewide open house weekends are part of NJAR's "Yes You Can Buy a Home in New Jersey" campaign.

In conjunction with the Discover Homeownership Open House Event, NJAR has extended the offer on its New Jersey Home Guide, a 32-page color magazine that contains information on buying a home — from saving for a downpayment to selecting the right style house.

Century 21 Stanford Agency will offer a free coupon for the Guide at local open houses. The Guide can also be obtained by calling 1-800-YES IN NJ, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information on the open house weekend or on buying a home, please contact Century 21 Stanford Agency, 235-9000.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

It doesn't take new furniture to create a new look in a room. One designer made a drastic difference by changing color, replacing lots of flowered chintz with neutral stripes and solids.

Before painting a wall of cement blocks, it's wise to apply a coat of masonry bonding sealer. Then use two coats of latex masonry paint.

Redoing the kitchen? There's a move away from ceramic tile for countertops because of the cost for the tiles themselves, plus the installation. Ceramic is likely to chip or crack, too, and glass and china break too easily against it.

Metal patio furniture will look better next spring if you coat it with liquid car wax before putting it away for the winter.

Energy-saver: window glass coated with a thin layer of metal oxides helps keep heat in in winter, out in summer. Low-emissivity glass also blocks ultraviolet light that fades fabrics, but permits most visible light to come through. Utility savings should pay back cost.

Another energy-saver: letting our real estate pros handle the marketing of your property. See us at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
